estly will not face gun charges

By MIKE TYREE

Former Northville Township Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty will not be charged by the Wayne County Prosecutor's office for his role in a gun transaction, according to a Michigan State Police official.

"The prosecutor determined that there was not necessarily an intent to violate the law," said Lt. Jack Moulik of the Northville Post. "We're done with it," he said.

Moulik said the state police received documents on Hardesty's alleged sale of a Glock 19 semi-automatic weapon to township Clerk Thomas L.P. Cook from Ernest Essad, the attorney who conducted an investigation of the incident for the township.

The attorney's report was then forwarded to the prosecutor's office, Moulik said.

Hardesty resigned his post Dec. 12, four days after he met with Essad and the township Board of Trustees in a special closed door session.

The board offered Hardesty an opportunity to resign with a severance package at that time, according to township officials.

Moulik said the prosecutor determined that the administrative action taken by the township was a suffi-

Ward asks for dismissal

By MIKE TYREE

Attorneys for Ward Presbyterian Church yesterday (Jan. 24) filed a motion to dismiss an appeal lodged by local residents opposed to a zoning variance granted the church by a township board.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Richard C. Kaufman was to decide if an appeal filed by Northville Township residents against the township Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) warranted further court action.

The decision was to come after the Record went to press Wednesday.

According to court documents, Ward — as intervening defendant in the case — was to ask Kaufman to rule that the plaintiffs, headed up by residents living near the proposed church site on Six Mile and Haggerty roads, do not have sufficient standing to appeal the ZBA's decision.

By a Sept. 18 majority vote, the ZBA agreed to allow Ward Church a variance in the township's new 48-foot structure limit.

The variance would allow Ward to construct a 107-foot "sanctuary" on the church property.

The residents said the church should be required to conform to township height restrictions and filed an appeal Oct. 6.

Ward Church entered the case as an intervening defendant Nov. 15.

The church is basing its motion to dismiss on the claim that none of the six individual plaintiffs own property

CadyCentre proposal denied by city planning commission

By STEVE KELLMAN

Though Singh developer Michael Kahn expressed confidence that his company's latest development proposal is compatible with the city's future plans, the Northville Planning Commission expressed its doubts, declining to grant preliminary site plan approval to CadyCentre.

"We're very confident that our proposal is harmonious and compatible with the city proposal for the Cady Corridor development," said Kahn, vice president of the Singh Development Company, at last week's commission meeting.

"We want this to complement what's happening across the street," added George Erdstein, vice president of Siegal Tuomaala Associates in Farmington Hills, designers of the proposed CadyCentre.

But Kahn failed to convince the commission that Singh's latest proposal for a four-story retail and office complex on Center Street would be compatible with the city's own Cady Corridor proposal, though the commission did approve the basic concept of a CadyCentre development.

The CadyCentre design calls for a streetscape including on-street parking spaces like the company's MainCentre development across the street, and a recessed colonnade with columns on the first floor. The center would have an office lobby on the northwest side and loading facilities to the south.

Terraces are incorporated into the middle of the building at the third and fourth floors "to break up the facade on Center Street," in Erd-stein's words.

The center would use brick, limestone trim, glass and metal banding for accents. Erdstein said the center also would use a different color or brick than MainCentre so that the two buildings would not appear too similar.

The proposed 23,605-square-foot project would house 4,600 square feet of retail space on the first floor, and three floors of office space above. The second floor would measure 6,100 square feet, the third 6,175 square feet, and the fourth 5,930 square feet. Office sizes would vary from 1,650 to 3,400 square feet.

The first round of questions of the proposal came from planning consultant Don Wortman, who prepared a list of eight findings on the proposal.

Said Wortman, "we propose that some relationship with the MainCentre project be graphically depicted." Wortman also recommended moving the office lobby to the south side of the structure.

Wortman also recommended physically connecting the center into the proposed Cady Corridor development to the east. "We don't know what's going to happen there," he admitted, "but I think it would be nice to provide some sort of connection or the possibility of future connection."

Commissioner David Mielock disagreed with several of Wortman's points, including his recommendation that the office lobby be moved to the south to emphasize the corner of Cady and Center as the primary entry to the city. "We should make this viable to the downtown district," he said of CadyCentre, "and any Cady Street development should conform to this development."

Commissioner Don McCulloch questioned whether approving the project would prevent the city from relocating Cady Street — a suggestion made during the Cady Corridor study. "We can't ask the developer to sit tight until something happens," Wortman said. But as McCulloch pointed out, "If we approve this thing, we might not have a choice. This thing is going to call the tune."

Commissioners then debated whether or not they should let Singh's proposal "call the tune" for the rest of the Cady Corridor development, and whether approval would really set the tone for whatever followed it.

"I like the proposal," said Greg Presley, the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) liaison to the planning commission. "But if you look at the five alternative concepts that were developed by the DDA," he said, "this eliminates one of them totally and two in part." The five concepts are included in the draft of the city's request for development proposals for the Cady Corridor.

"It does place some restrictions on the development of Cady Corridor, not to mention the location of Cady Street," he said. "How you provide parking for all these developments is a real issue that has to be dealt with," he added.

While the Singh Development Company has proposed buying parking credits from the city for the parking spaces needed by the development, City Manager Steven Walters ques-

County land sold for $32 million

By MIKE TYREE

A group headed by Plymouth Township developer R. A. DeMattia has purchased 933 acres of county land in Northville Township for almost $32 million.

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara yesterday announced that the selection of the DeMattia group was the culmination of two years of intensive negotiations for the property.

The land is located between Five and Six Mile near Sheldon Road.

DeMattia said the site will be developed in roughly equal portions of residential, open space/recreation area and light industrial.

Northville Township Supervisor Georgina Goss said she was very excited at the sale of the property. "This will be an asset to our community. I am delighted with the project," she said.

In addition to the purchase price of $31.75 million, the developer will pay in excess of $4 million to prepare the site, including the demolition of existing buildings.

The DeMattia group was selected over Oakland County developers Holtzman & Silverman.

Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville, said she was pleased at the sale.

"It's the most exciting project I've been involved with since I've been here," said Heintz.

The developer announced that building would commence as soon as the township adopts a Planned Unit Development (PUD) ordinance. Township planners indicated Tuesday that the PUD ordinance could be ready for adoption in two months.

The $32 million will be paid to the county after the township adopts a PUD ordinance. The sale is contingent upon approval by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Robert DeMattia said that his group would move quickly to develop the site. "We plan to be moving dirt in a year," he said.

DeMattia said housing would be available in 1½ years. A public golf course of approximately 250 acres would be operational within two years, he said.

City mulls over joint service pact

By STEVE KELLMAN

While Northville township continues to plan for the Haller Library, city officials are continuing to hammer out an agreement with the township on the city's participation in the project. At the same time, city council members are reviewing the community's joint services agreement as a whole.

Mayor Christopher Johnson and City Manager Steven Walters presented their proposed revision of the joint services agreement with Northville Township, to take into account the city's participation in operation of the proposed 44,800-square-foot Haller Library.

The revision would take effect upon occupancy of the library, with the township responsible for its construction. Among the major changes proposed in the revision are:

- an equal millage cost-sharing formula between the city and the township for all joint services;
- city contribution towards the costs of a 25,000-square-foot equivalent portion of the Haller Library;

- encouragement of community orientation in cooperative service boards, with controversial issues decided between the Township Board and the City Council rather than by voting blocks within the boards.

The township has scheduled a meeting for tomorrow, Jan. 26, to discuss possible ratification of the city's proposal. If the township does make a decision on the proposal, Walters said after Monday's meeting, the city council could vote on the proposal as soon as their next meeting, scheduled for Feb. 5.

City officials also agreed on the need for a public hearing on the proposal, possibly as early as Feb. 19.

Under the current shared services formula, 45 percent of the cost of shared services are split evenly between the two communities, while 55 percent are split based on the communities' tax bases.

Township seeking library support

By MIKE TYREE

An organizational meeting will be held Feb. 7 for groups and individuals wishing to support Northville Township's plan to build a community library.

Township trustees James Nowka and Thomas Handyside said Tuesday that the meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Forum at Northville High School, will also enable officials to answer questions about funding, taxes and other issues pertaining to the proposed Haller Library.

The township is planning to build the 44,800 square foot facility on the site of the 72 acres of land donated by former resident Frieda Haller.

The main purpose of the meeting is to solicit volunteers to staff committees in preparation for a May 1 library vote, Nowka said.

"We need interested people," he said. "We've made a lot of commitments toward the library and there are a lot of things happening now, so we would like to get people involved in the process."

Handyside said the township would like to incorporate "200-300 people" into library committees. The desired result, he said, would be a grass roots campaign in support of the library.

Liaison role debated by planners

By STEVE KELLMAN

As Northville's planning commission continues to review the city's Master Plan and the other plans which come before it, a more immediate issue was debated at last Tuesday's meeting — the role of the liaisons from other boards in planning commission meetings.

Commissioner Don McCulloch raised the issue by asking whether Greg Presley's comments on the Master Plan at a previous commission meeting made him a "de facto" member of the commission. Presley is the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) liaison to the commission.

McCulloch suggested that liaisons like Presley be given a set time to speak at the start of commission meetings.

Commissioners David Totten and Chris Gazlay agreed with McCulloch's suggestion, with Gazlay saying that unsolicited comments by liaisons "muddled" the independence of the two bodies.

City Manager Steven Walters questioned whether such a rule would amount to a "gag order." "It seems that what's being suggested is that the Master Plan is being discussed by the planning commission with the audience there to answer questions only if they're asked," he said.

Jerry Mittman, the city council liaison, also disagreed with the commissioners' stance, saying that the DDA liaison should be allowed to speak on matters relating to the DDA. When McCulloch objected on the grounds that members of one board are not allowed to serve on other boards, Mittman pointed out that liaisons have no vote on another board, so their voice does not count in the end.

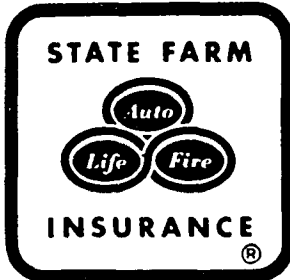

Commission member Kathleen Otton said that limiting the liaison's role as the commissioners suggested would give them less of a voice in meetings than other members of the audience. "I sit in on city council," she said, "and I speak up if I feel strongly about something even though I'm not a liaison."

Commission Chairman John Hardin was also criticized for not taking a stronger role in the previous meeting. "It kind of falls on you on how you run your meeting," Commissioner Stephen Ball told him. When it was suggested that he run his meetings more formally, Hardin replied, "some of it will be formal and some of it will be open discussion."

The commission finally voted to include a segment early in each meeting's agenda for liaisons to speak formally before the board, with the chairman to decide how to handle their comments later in the meeting.

Abortion bill promises to be hot legislative topic in 1990

By TIM RICHARD

LANSING — The parental consent abortion bill will be a legislative issue in 1990, though many politicians want to be rid of it.

"I don't like to get involved in abortion from a political standpoint," said Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, "but we had to take it back to committee."

Dillingham chairs the Senate Human Resources Committee, which early in February will deal with the so-called "parental consent" issue.

House Bill 5103. It would require girls 17 and under to obtain parental or probate court consent before getting an abortion.

"The House made a major change in that bill, and did it in the last hours of the (1989) session," said Dillingham. Senate Democrats wanted an immediate vote on the House version on Dec. 12, at the end of the session. But majority Republicans voted to send it to Dillingham's committee.

Right to Life of Michigan objected to the so-called "suicide amendment." RTL lobbyist Ed Rivet explained, "It would allow a minor to have an abortion without parental consent if she presented the abortionist a note from a certified psychologist or psychiatrist saying she was suicidal."

RTL still supports the bill but has strong reservations about the suicide amendment, Rivet said. So do Senate Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, and Dillingham, who said it was "an attempt to circumvent the bill."

"We've seen this in other states," said Rivet. "When Colorado and Oregon were liberalizing their abortion laws (in the 1960s), they allowed it cases of rape, incest, or for the physical or mental health of the mother."

"A woman would be referred to a sympathetic psychiatrist. It can all be said and done in 15 minutes. The potential for abuse is there."

"If a child is suicidal, then there's a serious dysfunction that the parents should know about. Letting her have a secret abortion is not going to solve it."

Dillingham said one hearing should be sufficient to report the bill back to the Senate floor for a vote by mid-

February.

The Senate passed a similar bill in October. But for political reasons, the House chose to deal with its own bill, sponsored by Michael Griffin, D-Jackson, rather than the Senate version.

"There was a strong feeling Mike Griffin was a better person to be sponsor because he's a Democrat," Dillingham said. If Gov. James Blanton chard, a Democrat, vetoes the bill, as expected, the attempt to override his veto would start in the House, the chamber of origin.

"If we can get the votes to override it in the House, we can easily override it in the Senate," Dillingham said. The Senate gave the bill far more than a two-thirds majority, but the House's majority was eight votes short of two-thirds.

Township planners meet to discuss ethical matters

By MIKE TYREE

Northville Township Planning Commission members met Jan. 16 in a special session to review the commission's ethical and legal responsibilities.

Township attorney Ernest Essad, Jr. told the planners that pressure from developers opposed to tougher local zoning ordinances could lead to increased numbers of court cases.

He said developers are beginning to unite in an effort to challenge local environmental safeguards such as woodlands ordinances.

"You are facing out there people who are wealthy, who are organized, who are not afraid of spending $100,000 (for attorneys to fight zoning restrictions)," he said.

Essad said many builders contend that zoning ordinances violate their right to develop their property as they see fit.

"The value of the land is so immense multi-million dollar projects may depend on seven people, regular citizens, making decisions on their land," he said.

Essad discussed the planning commission's legal responsibilities, legal impact, and ethical responsibilities.

He told the planners that their job was to oversee the orderly development of the community, to enforce zoning ordinances and make recommendations to the Board of Trustees.

"Basically, it comes down to your decisions," he said.

The township is steadily evolving from a traditional single-family bedroom community to a more diverse development area, Essad said.

He said the township is faced with builders who want to emphasize condominiums, apartments, and congregate care facilities to reflect the changing demands of the 1990s.

The attorney told the planners that their decisions are usually defensible in court but he advised them to enhance their public record system.

"(You) need to put in the record the reasons why you're voting," he said. "If you make a motion to reject (a proposed development plan), you need to have a justification on record."

"If not, it can be fatal (in court)."

Essad said some builders use suits and appeals as a strategy, hoping to win settlements from local governments, but judges generally side with decision-makers.

"If it (proposed development) doesn't represent the spirit of the ordinance, it is the assumption of the courts that you have acted rationally," he said. "Typically, the burden of proof is going to lie with the person filing the appeal."

Essad advised the commission to choose their wording carefully when reviewing zoning ordinances and said words should be given their ordinary meaning.

"A tennis ball retaining device is a fence," he said. "Call it what it really is."

The planning commission should take special care to avoid potential conflict of interest violations, Essad said.

"There's an untold number of watchdogs these days," he said. "As far as this tribunal, land deals have always interested the press."

Most problems arise from commissioner's unwitting involvement in a proposed development, Essad said. He said an example could include the recent planning commission move to increase lot sizes.

"Builders could say that by voting to increase lot sizes, you are in effect attempting to make your property more valuable," he said.

He recommended that commissioners excuse themselves from voting on issues that could present a conflict.

He said situations that could be construed as a conflict included a commissioner or family member that is in the construction business, or a commissioner who holds vacant for-profit land, or is a Realtor or other type of businessperson who could profit from a planning decision.

"If you find yourself in a situation where you've got a potential conflict, abstain," he said.

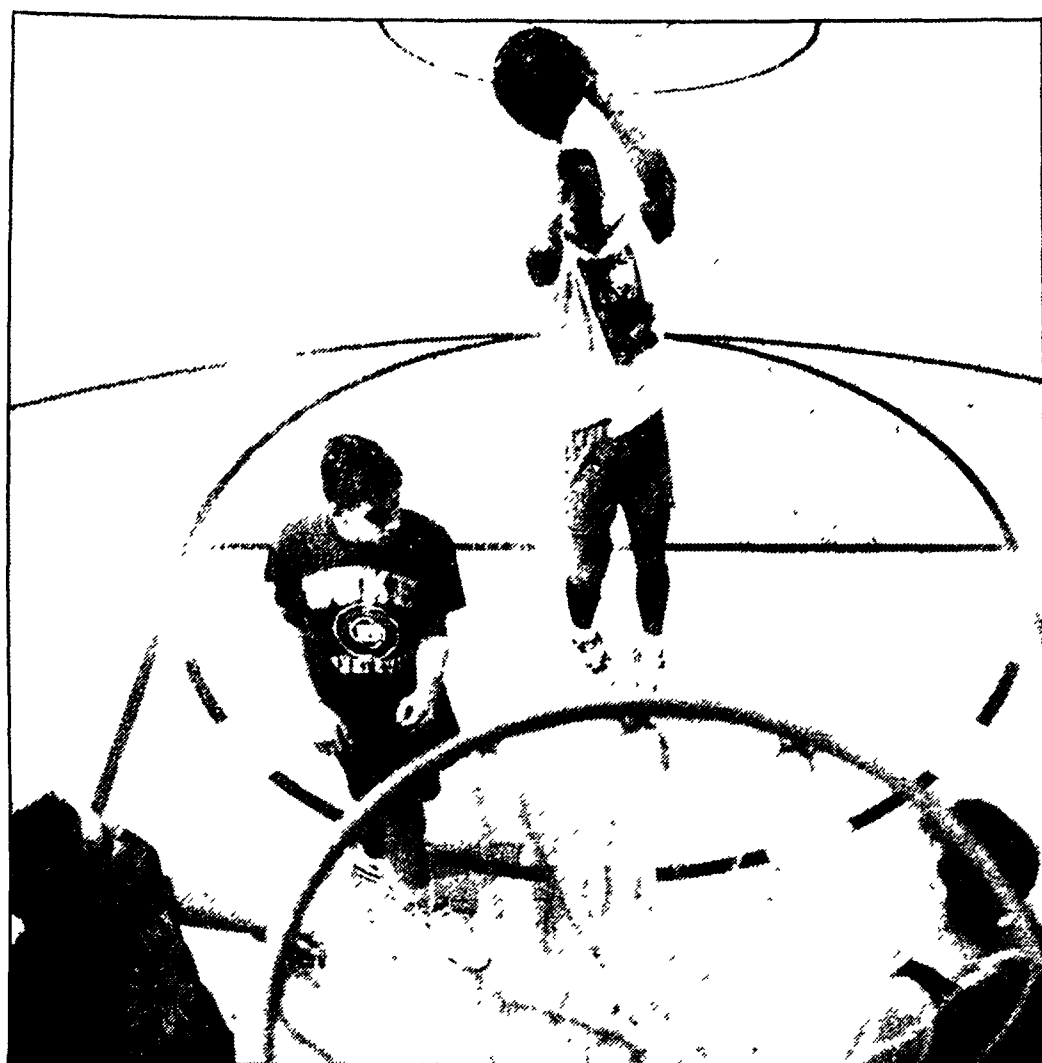

"In an 18-square mile township, there's only so much room," he said. "Businesses and relationships are sure to occur (and overlap)," he added.

Commissioner John Leinonen asked the attorney to outline the boundaries of the planning position.

"Can you excuse yourself as a planning commissioner and go out (in the audience) and bring up pertinent points as a member of the community?" he said.

Essad recommended against that scenario, but said he saw no problem with planning commissioners becoming involved with citizens groups.

He also warned the planners about speaking before organizations and boards as the voice of the entire commission.

Johnson announces city appointments

Mayor Chris Johnson announced the Northville city council appointments early this month, having appointed the council members to various board and commission liaison positions.

Council members Carolann Ayers and Paul Folino topped the council in number of appointments, having each been signed up for five positions. Ayers has been named to the personnel committee, library board, library advisory committee, Wayne County community development council and housing commission. Folino was named to the economic development corporation, recreation commission, Rouge Rescue committee, Senior Citizen Alliance and as an alternate to the Wayne County community development council.

Johnson is in the middle of the pack with four committee appointments, as a member of the board and commission selection committee, Conference of Western Wayne, Downtown Development Authority and Historic District Commission.

Council members Jerome Mittman and G. Dewey Gardner each had three appointments. Mittman will serve on the board and commission selection committee, personnel committee and planning commission, while Gardner will serve on the 35th District Court Authority, Youth Assistance and Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Youth Assistance seeking volunteers

By MIKE TYREE

An hour or two a week of friendship is all it takes to make a positive impact on a young person's life, according to Northville Youth Assistance (NYA) Director Mary Ellen King.

King is looking for local residents to volunteer to be role models for young people with special needs in the Northville community.

"We all need support in our lives," King said. "I think a program like youth assistance is a support system that can help build self-esteem. It's a system that says 'you're okay'."

King said NYA will be looking for adult volunteers to attend training sessions during the latter part of February to work with troubled youths.

The NYA is a program funded jointly by the city and township which seeks to provide an environment of caring and concern for young people who may have come from broken homes, had scrapes with the law, or who just might need a friend, King said.

She said NYA volunteers are matched with young people based on compatibility, with the idea that having someone to talk to will bring out the good in a child who too often is burdened by problems.

Those problems are not necessarily brought on by drugs and alcohol, King said.

"We're getting the word out that it's not just the problem kid, the juvenile delinquent," she said. "A parent might say 'I think my kid could be happier — I'd like to bring him in'."

King said that many of her young clients feel less threatened by NYA volunteers than they would with other adults in authoritative positions.

"It's commonplace not to be able to talk to your mom and dad," she said. "Here, they can come meet with someone who will not be judgemental, who can be a friend for a few hours a week."

Twenty-five young people from Northville are presently matched with volunteers, King said. She said NYA has received 130 referrals since it was established in December 1986.

Youths can be referred to the program by schools, law enforcement, juvenile court, families, churches, and by young people themselves.

The young clients must have the permission of their parents to participate in the program, King said, and volunteer adults are screened throughout a training period.

"We do everything to make sure the child is going to be in a safe environment," she said. "So far in three years, we've had no difficulty with a volunteer."

"We check their motivation to see why they want to be a volunteer."

King said NYA should not be confused with the Student Assistance Program at Northville High School. She said that program deals primarily with young substance abusers and not with many of the problems that may have caused the abuse.

"Drug abuse is not the only problem young people go through," she said. "The difference between NYA and the school program is that here the kids have gone through rehabilitation and have to re-acclimate themselves to society."

"The volunteers can help them feel that they are important, that someone does care for them."

Currently housed in Cooke School, NYA's residency status is up in the air. The school district is refurbishing Cooke and will reopen the facility as a middle school next fall.

King hopes to maintain her office space at the school, but Superintendent Dr. George Bell was non-committal about the organization's home base at a joint meeting of township, city and school board members last week.

"It is possible to have youth assistance (at Cooke), but I hesitate to offer the space," he said. "It deals with the same age group... and confidentiality may be a problem."

Bell did say the school district would continue to provide support for the NYA.

"The Board of Education has financial responsibility for youth assistance," he said.

If you would like more information on the Northville Youth Assistance program, contact Mary Ellen King at 344-1618.

City not convinced by proposed CadyCentre plan

tioned that possibility. "At this point, the (city) council's policies indicate that there are not parking credits to sell," he said.

The city has proposed shifting some of the MAGS building parking currently allowed in the parking lot north of that building to the lot south of MAGS, he said, to allow more customer parking in the north lot and the possibility of future development like the proposed Long project across from MAGS on Main Street.

"There might not be the cost-sharing opportunities that were available on the west side of Center," Walters said, referring to the city's agreement with Singh to help develop the parking deck south of MainCentre.

As Commission Chairman John Hardin suggested, "you won't have any parking until the Cady Street development occurs."

Hardin also criticized the "sheer massing on the south face" of the project, and the possible "canyon effect" resulting from it. Hardin worried that people driving into the city from the south would be faced with a view unlike the rest of Northville. "I think that entry into the community is something which you should be concerned with as much as we are," he told Kahm.

"People come here because they want to walk through the community," he added, "not because they see something they like in a window while driving by."

"You're married to the Cady Street proposal like it or not," Hardin said, "and I don't see any way of getting a divorce."

Commissioner Stephen Ball had mixed views of the proposal as well. "I like what you're doing," he told Kahm, "but I'd like to see you do something else." Ball warned that the CadyCentre proposal, together with the MainCentre development and parking deck, could detract from the rest of the city. He suggested a different design approach, such as a change to the brick pattern or window treatment, to differentiate it from MainCentre.

As Singh Vice president Michael Kahm explained, his company's primary interest in developing CadyCentre was to protect their investment in MainCentre, by continuing to develop Center Street south of its present commercial development. As he said of the Cady Corridor proposal, "we realize we're going to be part of that plan, but we just want to make sure that our interests are protected."

"My problem with the request for proposals (RFP)," Kahm said, "is that it in every case turns its back on Center Street. So we're bringing this as a site plan as a concept to be used in the development of Cady Street."

Presley pointed out that several of the preliminary designs seen during the Cady Corridor review did take Center Street into account, though the final five designs included in the RFP may not have. He also praised the idea of multiple developers for the Cady Corridor, suggesting that the proposed CadyCentre could be worked into an eventual overall development.

Kahm also questioned the ability of a developer to handle development of the entire Cady Corridor. "My concern from a developer's point of view is, is the market at a single stroke ready to handle that amount of development?"

As for his own proposal, Kahm said that even under the quickest possible timetable, CadyCentre would not be ready for occupancy for another three years. "I would say we probably wouldn't start construction on this for two years," he added.

When asked for his comments, City Manager Steven Walters pointed out that Singh Development was just one of several property owners in the Cady Corridor, and said that such owners had several options; developing their properties themselves, developing in conjunction with a larger builder, or selling their property to a larger builder. "We can't make anybody include their properties in the (Cady Corridor) plan if they're not willing to," he said. "On the other hand, developers wanting to have a viable development have to take these projects into account."

Council member Jerry Mittman added, "if it does meet criteria, I think you should grant approval subject to him finding parking somewhere

"At first I didn't want to talk about our funerals. But, now I'm glad we did."

We chose Forethought<sup>SM</sup> funeral planning

It's one of those things that's so easy to put off, put out of your mind. And I guess that's what I was doing. But, once he started asking me questions about how I wanted my funeral to be, I realized how important it is for the people we leave behind to know these things. He had no idea that I wanted a simple eulogy, and just that discussion alone started us on all sorts of other topics. I found out he doesn't like organ music. We even had a few laughs.

Forethought is funeral planning... before the need arises

I thought planning our funerals together would be a terribly sad thing. But, actually, it brought us both a great sense of relief. Now we know neither one of us has all those decisions facing us in the future and we won't have to second-guess whether we did the right thing. We did what the other one would have wanted. It's all planned and even paid for with the Forethought life insurance policy designed and approved specifically for Forethought funeral planning. And, there's a policy available to anyone up to age 100. There's a real peace of mind that comes with having it taken care of ahead of time with Forethought.

Omnicom study shows local cable rates to be average

By STEVE KELLMAN

While Northville residents are now paying a higher rate for their cable service than last year, an Omnicom executive presented the Northville city council with a report showing the company's rates to be about average for the area.

Lisa Boland, general manager of Omnicom of Michigan, appeared before the city council this week to present her study of cable companies in southeast Michigan. The study was done in response to a request from council member Jerry Mittman for a comparison of cable rates in the region.

According to Boland's study, Omnicom's rates are just six cents over the average basic cable rate for southeast Michigan. Basic monthly rates in her study varied from $16 for cable service in Detroit to $22 for service in Saline. Northville residents are now paying $18.50 a month, under a rate increase passed by the cable company for Jan. 1.

Installation charges for the various services varied from $20 in Westland to $50 in Dearborn according to Boland's report, with Omnicom's charge being below average at $29.95.

After her presentation, council members thanked Boland for her study and praised the thoroughness of her report.

OTHER CHANGES

Boland also informed the council of several issues that may affect cable service. Omnicom is exploring the possibility of converting its network to an "addressable" system, she said, in which services like premium movie channels and pay-per-view stations can be turned on at a central cable office. Presently, Omnicom technicians must travel to a subscriber's home to install such services.

The problem with current addressable systems, Boland said, is that subscribers must order a converter box when subscribing — even if they don't plan to order premium channels. Boland suspected this would cause complaints by many Omnicom subscribers — 30 percent of whom she estimated do not use a converter box because they have cable-ready televisions, and many of whom have their own remote controls and don't want to use another. Boland said a new technology is being studied which would allow a system to be addressable without requiring subscribers to use a converter box. The technology would use "addressable traps" located outside a person's house rather than a converter box to allow premium services to be provided without a visit to the subscriber's home.

Lisa Boland, general manager, in Omnicom's control room

Boland estimated that her company would convert to the new addressable system by 1991.

Another change in cable operations — Syndicated Exclusivity or Syndex — was enacted by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) the first of the year. Syndex is a new FCC regulation that broadcasters have asked for which gives local broadcasters the exclusive rights to a program, Boland said. In effect, it prevents other stations within a cable company's service area from showing a program that a local broadcaster has the rights to — no matter when that program runs or how old a repeat it is.

"Remember how you used to be able to watch MASH three times a night?" Boland asked. "Well, no more."

Though some cable companies have had to "black out" programs on competing channels, Boland did not foresee many such cases happening on the Omnicom network. "I don't think we'll see much from it," she said.

"But some of the cable companies to the south of Michigan that get Toledo stations will have a lot of holes in their programming," she added.

REASONS FOR RATE INCREASE

In justifying the company's proposed $1.50 monthly rate increase last year, Boland cited increased programming costs as the major factor.

She has since estimated that programming fees — including the fees paid to premium channel companies by Omnicom — account for more than half of the company's total costs. While the subscriber cost for basic cable services have increased, though, the rates for premium channels have not changed substantially.

In 1979, Omnicom's first year of operation in the city, the basic monthly rate was $7.95 and Home Box Office was offered for an additional $6.95 a month.

According to Boland, premium channel costs to the cable company are not rising as fast as other channel costs. Even so, Omnicom is not passing the premium rates on as fast as the rates are rising. "Because the percentage of the revenue that gets distributed to the programmer is very high in the case of premium services," she explained, "in order to make up that I would have to hit the people getting premium services very hard."

Different premium channels charge Omnicom different amounts,

Boland added, but to avoid having different costs for individual channels, those costs are kept the same. "After a few years, if the costs continue to go up, that would be reflected in the premium costs," she said. Current premium channel costs are $8.95 monthly, with one channel costing $9.95.

Omnicom's rate increase was the subject of several complaints from Northville residents and city council members. But because of current FCC regulations, local governments have little recourse to change cable rates.

Prior to the Cable Act of 1984, local governments had the right to disapprove any annual basic rate increase of more than five percent. When the Cable Act finally went into effect in 1986, those local units lost that power. Communities like West Bloomfield, which pays $18.75 monthly for basic cable service, have protested the rate hikes by passing a resolution calling for increased local control over rates.

LOCAL REVENUE

In 1978 Omnicom was largely owned by Capital Cities, the national corporation that also owned radio stations including WJR in Detroit, newspapers like the Oakland Press, magazines like Women's Wear Daily, and several television stations.

Since January, 1986, the company has been owned solely by Encom Holding Company. Because the company has no publicly-traded stock, its financial records are unavailable.

But Omnicom pays an annual franchise fee of three percent of its local gross subscriber revenues to Northville under its contract, and those payments amounted to $1,187.68 in the city last October according to city records. City records also showed Omnicom's gross total revenue for the month as $39,589.48. This adds up to $475,073.76 annually in local city revenue to Omnicom, or about $334.80 yearly per city customer.

In Northville Township, the latest payment received by the township was $2,996.68 for November gross subscriber revenues. This adds up to $1,198,671.90 for annual township revenue to Omnicom. At that rate, each subscriber ends up paying $331.21 annually.

Omnicom serves 1,419 in the city and 3,619 people in the township, according to Boland. Nationwide, cable companies typically reach about 50 percent of their potential audience.

Omnicom also services Plymouth, Canton, Hamtramck, Romulus and Van Buren. The company entered into a 15-year non-exclusive contract with Northville City on Dec. 27, 1979, and with the township earlier that year.

You'd pay $26.00 at the newsstand for one year.

Officials air local issues

By MIKE TYREE

Eighteen local officials and approximately 40 spectators wedged themselves into the board room at Old Village School Jan. 17 for a meeting between city, township and school board representatives.

Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz (R-Northville) was also on hand for the meeting, which was called in an attempt to enhance communication between the assorted branches of local government.

The evening's agenda included the status of community programs housed at Cooke School, the impending sale of approximately 1,000 acres of county land in Northville Township, and an update on the proposed Haller Library site.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. George Bell said at least two of the programs at Cooke School — Civic Concern and the Senior Citizens organization — could be displaced when Cooke reopens its doors to a middle school population next fall.

He said the status of Northville Youth Assistance (NYA) is still up in the air, though he did give assurances that the school district would continue to provide the program with financial support.

Bell said the Early Childhood Development Center is scheduled to move to space in the Main Street School building on West Main after vacation by the local branch of the Department of Natural Resources.

Northville City Manager Steve Walters said the city council recently agreed to relocate the senior citizens group in the former boy scouts building on Cady Street west of Wing.

Civic Concern, Senior Citizens and the NYA are funded jointly by the city and township. Northville Mayor Christopher Johnson stated that relocation of the groups may necessitate budget increases for those programs.

Heintz discussed Wayne County's long-awaited sale of nearly 1,000 acres of township land located between Five and Six Mile roads near Sheldon Road.

She said the county had trimmed its list of bidders for the property to two — development teams headed by R.A. DeMattia of Plymouth Township, and the Holtzman/Silverman group of Farmington Hills.

"I call them the 'masters of the universe,'" she said. "They're both very dynamic development groups."

Heintz said a recent environmental study conducted by the developers indicated that underground storage tanks on the site would not be "an impossible job to clean up," though the tanks, asbestos-lined tunnels in some of the structures, and the presence of oil in the ground there may have reduced the price the county can get for the property.

Still, Heintz said she expects the developers to pay in excess of $20 million for the property.

Heintz said the county was to meet with the potential developers Jan. 23 for further discussions.

She said she felt encouraged that a decision on a developer would be reached soon.

"The process has dragged on too far," she said. "I think we're closer now than we ever have been."

He made the district's position clear when Heintz informed him that one of the bidders was proposing approximately 400 acres of light industrial development as opposed to around 100 acres of the same type industry by the other bidder.

"We are very concerned about the tax base (in the school district)," he said. "We need a (broader) tax base to take pressure off the individual taxpayer... and I don't know what 100 acres of industry could do."

He said the developer proposing the 400-acre industrial tract would be more beneficial to the school district because the schools could add revenue without adding more students.

Township Planning and Zoning Administrator Carol Maise said the township does not have a say in the final determination between the two developers. She said the chosen firm will have to abide by township zoning ordinances, however.

She said the township was in the process of adopting a Planned Unit Development (PUD) ordinance to provide guidelines for the county land sale.

"The Planning Commission is attempting to get as much control as possible," she said.

"It doesn't hurt to let you know where we stand," Bell said, reminding township officials that the school district advocates light industry over residential development.

Township Supervisor Georgina

Goss discussed the proposed Haller Library — the final agenda item of the evening.

She said former resident Frieda Haller's donation of 72 acres of property on the northeast corner of Six Mile and Sheldon roads was "a very pleasant gift, not only to the township but to the whole community."

She said she looked at the donation as a boon to the township, city and schools.

Goss also introduced Don DiComo as the architect that will develop the plans for the proposed $4.5 million 44,800 square foot Haller Library.

DiComo said schematic designs for the library will take 12-18 weeks to complete. He invited the public to make suggestions on the proposed library.

Goss said the township is preparing a strategy for a grass roots campaign to support a May 1 library election.

"We want to involve the whole community," she said. "We do know we need everyone's help."

Township Manager Richard Henningsen said the township was "going to put together a good package" for the library.

He acknowledged that the location would be inconvenient to some who might want to walk to the library, but he said bike paths will be connected to the site.

Johnson said he and Walters had been authorized to work with the township on contract negotiations for the library site. He said the city was discussing its options under a proposed joint services agreement.

"An analysis on where the city is at has been developed," he said.

Henningsen said an election for a library bond would be held May 1 only in the township. If the library proposal passes, he said the township would pay the library construction costs and the city would share operating costs under the joint services agreement.

Township trustee James Nowka spoke about the importance of the proposed library.

"A lot of decisions have not been made," he said. "(But) this must succeed."

"We have the opportunity to put footprints here that are not going to vanish and it's going to be a benefit for those people that come after us in the Northville community."

Smockers delight

Record/CHRIS BOYD

The Michigander Smockers group which includes residents of Northville, Novi and the South Lyon area, get together regularly to share tips and to do a little smocking. Above, Sue Ackman of New Hudson shows the Pony Bead scarf which the group made at a recent meeting at the Novi Library.

Library costs to be discussed

Though the meeting will not be a formal public hearing, Handyside said he feels residents will receive enough information to persuade them to join the township's campaign network.

He said the township is hoping to form and staff committees for plan implementation, election day strategies, a media and information group, and a structure group.

Volunteers are also being sought to serve as precinct, subdivision and block leaders.

Handyside said the library strategy includes handing many of the decision-making powers over to residents.

"We want to extract ourselves, as elected officials, and give duties and responsibilities to the people," he said. "No one on the board is doing this to feather their personal cap. It's not for our own benefit."

"The library's not going to be at the Fish Hatchery or at the Ford Plant (sites previously considered as suitable for a new library)," he said.

"The Haller site has been selected and that's where the library will be built."

Joint services agreement reviewed

The proposed revision was the subject of a memo and presentation by Walters at Monday's city council meeting. The growth of the township in proportion to the city causes the imbalance in the formula to grow more and more severe over time," Walters told the council. Population growth implies service demand growth.

While this has been reasonably tolerant in the past, it will reach a point where the city will not be able to afford joint services under the current formula," he said.

Walters made the same point in greater detail in his memo, when he wrote "The City has recognized for some time that the current formula, with its 45 percent 50/50 factor, results in the City taxpayers contributing a larger equivalent millage rate than that contributed by Township taxpayers. This has been tolerable in the past, with the total cost of the cooperative services being relatively small compared to the overall City operating budget, and the commitment being short-term not exceeding the next fiscal year."

"However, with the prospect of the Haller Library significantly increasing the total cost of the cooperative services, and the library bond issue requiring a long-term commitment by the City to the Township of at least 15 years, the City must consider long-term impact of the current formula versus an equal-millage formula. It appears that the City would not be able to afford to participate in the cooperative services over the period of the library bond-issue commitment, as the Township population and taxbase increase in relation to the City's."

Walters went on to illustrate the different city costs under the current and proposed formulas. In 1992, given a December, 1991 occupancy, Walters figured that the city would pay 38 percent of the costs for joint services like the library, recreation, senior citizens and youth assistance programs under the current formula. The total cost for all the programs would be $591,640, with the library representing $487,520 of that amount.

Under the proposed formula, the city would pay 13.6 percent of the operating costs of the library — an estimated $251,500 — and 28.1 percent of the cost of the other shared services. The total amount would be $328,495, a difference of $159,025.

The difference between the city's share under the current and proposed formulas would grow more uneven over time, Walters added.

Council members agreed on the need for a change in the joint services agreement. "I think the change in the formula is necessary regardless of what happens with the Haller Library," added council member Carolann Ayers. "If it's fair to have equal millage in one circumstance, I think fair is fair, regardless."

Council member Dewey Gardner worried aloud that council approval of the proposal might be viewed as tacit approval of the Haller Library proposal. "When we agree to the joint services agreement, we're in effect agreeing to the library project," he said.

Though this was technically true, Walters said, the city council was merely being asked Monday whether or not the proposed revisions were adequate, and not being asked to vote on the proposal. "The library by itself is only part of the picture," he said. "The terms under which we cooperate are an important part of the picture from the city's perspective."

As Johnson pointed out, the agreement is still tentative. "I would expect the city's position would be made sometime in March or April," he said. "Again, there hasn't been a decision made by the city council."

Added Walters, "I'm not asking you at all for any agreement."

The council also expressed concern that they were being asked to vote in the city's stead on an issue that township residents would get a chance to vote on at the May 1 election. "I will in effect be voting for city residents the same kind of thing that township residents will be asked to vote on at their election," said Ayers. "We've always given our citizens a full financial picture. My concern is that those figures will not be available at the March 12 meeting."

"I would like to have all the information that they're going to be giving their voters," she said.

Walters assured the council that the township would be asked for financial information like bonding and construction costs and operating expenses.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTIONS 61 010 AND 61 210 OF CHAPTER 61, AND TO ADD SECTIONS 61 600, 61 610, 61 620, 61 630, 61 640, 61 650, 61 660, 61 670, 61 680, 61 690, 61 700, 61 710 AND 61 720 TO CHAPTER 61 OF THE CODE OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, TO PROHIBIT CERTAIN DISCHARGES, TO ESTABLISH INDUSTRIAL WASTE CONTROL CHARGES, PROVIDING CONDITIONS FOR THE USE OF PUBLIC SEWERS, PROVIDING FOR THE REGULATION AND CONTROL OF WASTEWATER, PROVIDING FOR DISCHARGE PROHIBITIONS, PROVIDING FOR THE PRETREATMENT PROGRAM FOR INDUSTRIAL WASTEWATER DISCHARGES, PROVIDING FOR FEES, PROVIDING FOR INDUSTRIAL WASTEWATER DISCHARGE PERMITS, PROVIDING FOR CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION, PROVIDING FOR THE ENFORCEMENT THEREOF, PROVIDING FOR THE SEVERABILITY OF THIS ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE REPEAL OF ALL OTHER INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR THE SAVINGS CLAUSE OF THIS ORDINANCE, AND PROVIDING FOR THE PUBLICATION AND EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE ORDINANCE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCES

Section 1. That Sections 61 010 and 61 210 of Chapter 61 are hereby amended, and Sections 61 600, 61 610, 61 620, 61 630, 61 640, 61 650, 61 660, 61 670, 61 680, 61 690, 61 700, 61 710 and 61 720 are hereby added to Chapter 61 of the Compiled Ordinances to read as follows:

61 010 Definitions. This section adds definitions relevant to establishing an industrial pretreatment program, and amends certain relevant existing definitions. In particular, "Control authority" is defined as an entity designated by Michigan to administer industrial pretreatment programs, the "Director" is the head of a Control Authority, an "indirect discharge" is from an "industrial user" who discharges "industrial waste," which may or may not have "Pretreatment requirements," into a sewer which discharges to a "Publicly owned treatment works" or "POTW." "Significant users" are defined as certain industrial users who discharge either large quantities of wastewater or wastewater with special problems, such as heavy metals. In addition, "infiltration" and "inflow" are defined.

61 210 Prohibitions. (p. 10) This section is amended to make it unlawful to introduce new inflow sources to the separate sanitary sewer system in the Township, to construct combined sewers in the Township, and for any new building sanitary wastewater connection to contain footing drain and/or roof leader wastewater contributions.

SUBCHAPTER E — INDUSTRIAL WASTEWATER

61.600: Discharge Prohibitions. (p. 10) This section provides no user shall contribute to a POTW, directly or indirectly, any pollutant or wastewater which will cause interference or pass-through.

Industrial users shall not contribute listed substances to a POTW. These are generally substances, whether liquid, solid, or gaseous, which may injure people, obstruct the sewers, interfere with operation of a treatment plant, pass through the plant untreated, or pollute the plant's sludges. Industrial users are further prohibited from discharging wastewater containing specific compatible and non-compatible pollutants in excess of stated limitations. The director may grant a variance from these in accordance with rules adopted by the Control Authority.

National Categorical Pretreatment Standards and Requirements shall be met by affected dischargers provided that a more stringent standard applicable under this ordinance, state law, or regulation shall be controlling. Should the Control Authority obtain authorization for, and implement, a removal credit program, applications will be received for removal credits.

No user shall dilute a discharge to substitute for adequate treatment to achieve compliance. Unloading liquid or solid waste from hauling vehicles directly into a POTW is prohibited unless a permit has been received from a Control Authority for unloading such waste.

Each industrial user shall provide protection from accidental discharge of substances regulated or prohibited by this ordinance, and shall provide documentation of same to the Control Authority.

Industrial users are required to immediately notify the Control Authority of a discharge into a POTW which appears to be more than twice the allowable concentration, and promptly submit a report describing the cause of the discharge and the measures to be taken to prevent recurrences. Such notification shall not relieve the industrial user of liability for damage from such discharge, but shall not be used against any individual in any criminal case, except a prosecution for perjury or for giving a false statement. Notice must be prominently posted advising a user's employees whom to contact if an actual or potential excessive or prohibited discharge occurs.

The Township reserves the right to establish different or more stringent limitations or requirements on discharges to a POTW.

61.610: Fees (p. 16) This section provides for the recovery of costs from industrial users of a POTW through charges and fees, which may include fees to cover the costs of the Control Authority's industrial waste control and pretreatment programs, user fees based on volume and types of waste, and other necessary fees related to the requirements of this ordinance.

61.620: Wastewater Discharge Permits (p. 16) This section provides it is unlawful for significant users to discharge into the POTW without a wastewater discharge permit from the Control Authority except as authorized by the Control Authority or in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

All significant users must apply for a wastewater discharge permit, if required, before connecting to the sewers. Existing significant users, and existing industrial users who become significant users must also apply for a wastewater discharge permit within certain specified periods of time.

The application must include certain information such as: name, location, name of the authorized representative of the industrial user; wastewater constituents and characteristics for specific parameters; data and information regarding plant processes, wastewater, and the pollutants associated with each process, drawings of sewer connections and sampling manholes, and a flow schematic, spill containment information, and detail on pretreatment facilities and their operation.

After receiving an adequate application, the Control Authority shall determine if a discharge permit is required, and, if so, issue a proposed permit, which may contain certain terms and conditions. The user may contest terms and conditions of a proposed permit.

Permits will be valid for periods from one to five years. Existing permittees shall apply for permit reissuance a minimum of ninety (90) days prior to permit expiration. Permits may be modified as conditions change, whether in regulations or within the user's facilities.

Wastewater Discharge permits cannot be assigned without the written approval of the Control Authority.

Industrial users who have small maximum Daily Discharges of specified amounts of listed pollutants may be exempted from limitations set forth in this ordinance for each such pollutant, but must comply with specified poundage limitations.

61.630: Monitoring Facilities (p. 26) This section requires significant industrial users to maintain sampling structures, such as manholes, for use by the Control Authority in determining compliance.

61.640: Inspection, Sampling and Recordkeeping (p. 27) This section requires the Control Authority to have ready access to the industrial user's premises and records for compliance monitoring. Inspection activities shall be accomplished in a reasonable manner. Industrial users shall maintain records of all information from monitoring activities required by this ordinance or by 40 CFR 403.12(n).

61.650: Confidential Information (p. 28) This section provides that information obtained from an industrial customer will be available to the general public unless the customer specifically requests confidentiality and demonstrates such information constitutes trade secrets of the customer. Trade secrets will not be available to the public, but will be available to governmental agencies in many circumstances. Wastewater constituents will not be recognized as trade secrets.

61.660: Statutes, Laws and Regulations. This section states that unless otherwise provided, any reference to a non-Township document or law will apply only to such document or law as existed on the effective date of this Ordinance.

61.670: Enforcement. This section establishes how the Control Authority will enforce the Ordinance. It is a violation of the ordinance for any industrial user to misrepresent, refuse access for compliance monitoring, fail to comply with a discharge permit, fail to comply with this ordinance except where an industrial user acts according to a compliance schedule in the user's discharge permit. An upset of a pretreatment process is an affirmative defense if filed properly, the user must show steps being taken to prevent recurrence. The Control Authority may suspend wastewater service or a permit where necessary to stop or prevent certain hazards.

Except in the case of hazards, the Control Authority shall initiate an enforcement action by written notice stating the nature of the violation. The Township shall be notified by the Control Authority of any enforcement activity taken within its boundaries.

When the director reasonably believes violations are occurring, the director may, except in extreme cases, attempt to have the user eliminate or remedy such violation by conferences, show cause notices and hearings, or cooperation. Procedures and conditions are established for such efforts.

After a show cause hearing, an order may be issued to the industrial user by the Control Authority directing compliance, pretreatment, reports, Control of Discharge quantities, payment of costs for inspection, monitoring, and administration of the industrial user's activities by the Control Authority during compliance efforts, and any other appropriate orders, including, but not limited to, termination of sewer or wastewater treatment services.

A list, summarizing certain enforcement actions taken against industrial users must be annually published by the Control Authority in a daily newspaper.

Violation of this ordinance is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred ($500.00) Dollars for each violation per day or by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days or by both. Prosecution shall be through the Township. Discharge violations relating to this ordinance may be enjoined in Circuit Court or other appropriate court. The Control Authority (or the Township) may seek additional relief and may recover attorney fees, court costs, court reporters' fees, and other unusual expense related to enforcement activities or litigation against a violator.

61.680: Review and Appeal (p. 35) This section provides the procedures for reconsideration and appeal to the Control Authority regarding this ordinance. To be used if informal methods have not worked. Generally, this involves a written request for a hearing, a hearing before the Director of the Control Authority. An appeal from the Director's decision can be made to the Board of the Control Authority.

61.690: Delegation of Authority (p. 36) This section commits the Township to delegating by written contract administration and enforcement of the industrial pretreatment program provisions of this Ordinance to a state approved control authority.

61.700: Industrial Waste Control (I.W.C.) Charge: (p. 36) This section authorizes a monthly charge on non-residential customers for industrial waste control surveillance based upon the customer's motor size.

61.710: Industrial Surveillance Permit Fee. (p. 37) The annual Surveillance Permit Fee is determined according to a stated formula based on the amounts and types of wastewaters discharged.

61.720: Industrial Waste Surcharge (p. 38) The industrial waste pollutant strength surcharge shall be computed in accordance with a stated formula based on the volume and strength of waste discharged in the billing period.

In accordance with the basic Service Agreement between Township and Wayne County, users discharging wastewater into the sewer system must comply with the standards, rules and regulations controlling the quality or quantity of discharge of wastewater into the system as established by the County.

Section 2. Severability. The Ordinance further provides that any unenforceable sections can be severed from the rest of the Ordinance.

Section 3. Repeal. The Ordinance provides for the repeal of all inconsistent Ordinances to the extent of such inconsistencies.

Section 4. Savings Clause. The Ordinance provides for a savings clause for the balance of Chapter 61.

Section 5. Publication. The Township Clerk will arrange for the requisite publication of this Ordinance.

Section 6. Effective Date. The Ordinance becomes effective immediately upon publication of this summary.

This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Northville at its special meeting called and held on the 18th day of January 1990 and was ordered given publication in the manner required by law. Copies of the complete ordinance are available for inspection from the Township Clerk at Northville Township Hall 41600 Six Mile Road Northville, Michigan.

Getting ready

The return of Cooke School to active status as a new middle school for Northville Public School children means a fair amount of business for work crews. Above, Greg Ewbank, a central maintenance II worker at Cooke School, mortars a crack near the gym. Work continues on bringing the former junior high into line for a September opening as a middle school.

City traffic flow rerouted during construction work

By STEVE KELLMAN

Northville city's main north-south corridor will be closed soon, as far as north-bound traffic is concerned. The city is planning to reroute north-bound traffic around the MainCentre project while the city's water mains are being replaced.

North-bound traffic is scheduled to be rerouted east along Cady Street to Griswold Avenue. The water mains, many of which are currently four and six inches in diameter, will be replaced with pipe as wide as eight and 12 inches to provide increased water flow.

The expansion will be the first major repair in more than 10 years, and may be the first time some of the pipe has been seen in half a century. City engineer Bob Warner estimated that many of the existing mains are 50 years old. Warner is an engineer with McNeely & Lincoln Associates.

Water mains from Center to Cady, Wing, Fairbrook and back to Center Street are scheduled to be enlarged, as is a section of mains near the corner of Main Street and Hutton.

"Much of the city is what's considered smaller pipe by today's standards," Warner said. "The maximum size is eight inches for most pipes now." The enlargements are intended to provide increased water flow to the St. Lawrence condominiums, Northville Downs and MainCentre, he said, primarily for adequate fire protection.

Water flow requirements are set by the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, subject to approval by the state's Department of Health.

Warner explained that the city used its own water system until 1968, and joined the Detroit system largely for economic reasons. According to figures from McNeely & Lincoln, city residents and businesses used more than 435 million gallons of water in 1989 alone.

One stretch of pipe in particular, along East Main, has been a constant source of water leaks and work for the city's Department of Public Works (DPW). "It's got a bad history of leaks," said Warner. Said DPW supervisor Ted Mapes, "we've had several breaks there and when we've had them, we've observed the condition of the main." The DPW's observations led to recommendations that the stretch of pipe be replaced.

Warner estimated that the Center Street construction would take at least 10 days, depending on the MainCentre construction schedule. "I would expect everything to be wrapped up in May," he added. As soon as the water mains are replaced, he said, the city's road contractor could begin repaving the roads where the water main work has been done. "Basically all these streets have been left unpaved until the water mains were replaced," he said.

"We want to have Center Street done before MainCentre gets going," Mapes added. "Anything uptown is always a problem," he added.

The city has undertaken several renovations of the existing mains, including the replacement and addition of water valves in the 1950s and the addition of new mains during the MainStreet '78 project, according to Mapes, but he said those projects were "not as much as we'll be doing now."

Bids for the overall water main construction were received Nov. 28, and a bid of $559,304.20 from S.D.I. Construction of Farmington Hills was the lowest signed bid. The lowest bid overall, $448,432.50 from Pacer Contracting Corporation of Troy, was rejected because it was unsigned. Other bids ranged in amount from $560,470.60 to $701,774.78.

The city council is expected to act on the bids soon.

The water main improvements are among an estimated $6 million in bonds the city is planning to sell in the near future.

Township bond sale to fund water, sewer projects

By MIKE TYREE

The Northville Township Board of Trustees has approved the sale of more than $4.7 million in bonds to fund local water and sewer projects.

At a special session Jan. 18, the board voted unanimously to sell $4,746,249 worth of bonds.

The bonds will be repaid through the establishment of seven special assessment districts in the township and by a $220,000 contribution by the township water and sewer fund.

The location and costs of the special assessment districts are:

- Ambrose Estates Sewer — $279,500
- Ambrose Estates Water — $149,426
- Meadowbrook Estates Water — $373,350
- Six Mile/Haggerty/Seven Mile Water — $548,112
- Haggerty Road Sewer — $3,086,523
- Gerald Avenue Water — $144,610
- Gerald Avenue Sewer — $165,960

The bonds were purchased from Comercia Bank, the Limited Term Bond Fund and the Dreyfus Bond Fund.

Finance Director James Graham said the township will initially pay the cost of the projects through the bond sale and collect the money from the special assessment districts over a 15-year period.

He said the board's approval of the bond sale culminated a long and involved process of hooking township residents up to water and sewer systems.

"They all started out as individual projects and were stop and go for various reasons," Graham said. "To help save administrative and project costs, we tried to coordinate them to the same timetable."

Deputy Clerk Eunice Switzler said the Haggerty Road projects date back to 1984.

"At one time, there was far and away more interest in getting this done," she said. "We thought we had the state and other groups waiting to get involved."

But those plans dissolved, she said, and the emphasis changed to structuring the water and sewer districts for the demands of development.

By packaging the bonds at one sale, Graham said the township was able to get a lower interest rate than would normally be expected.

Construction on the water and sewer projects will begin March 1 and is scheduled to conclude Aug. 1, said Abe Munkfakh, township engineer.

Graham said the water districts would be connected to the City of Detroit and the sewer projects would be hooked up to Wayne County.

He said the water and sewer systems would take the place of ground wells and septic tanks and could have a positive environmental and financial impact on taxpayers.

"It's obviously a benefit for the people," he said. "The township is providing a service by coordinating the process and it would be very expensive to do on an individual basis."

Graham said the cost of the special assessment districts would automatically be added to the tax bills of the affected residents.

Larger cars the ticket — police

By STEVE KELLMAN

In their latest attempt to trim the city budget, council members considered purchasing a mid-sized patrol car for the Northville Police Department rather than the typical full-sized car. But according to Police Chief Rod Cannon, a mid-sized car could end up costing more.

"Unfortunately, there's only one actual mid-sized car that has the police package," Cannon told the city council Monday night. "That's the Ford Taurus." He also presented the council with a study analyzing the use of mid-sized cars like the Taurus by other police departments.

As Cannon reported in his study, the Northville Township Police Department have also tested the Taurus, but decided to stay with the full-sized cars for patrol purposes. City police also obtained a Taurus for test purposes, but because the car did not contain any emergency equipment, it was not used for patrols.

While Cannon admitted that some figures show the Taurus to have substantially better mileage, he pointed out that Northville City police use their cars for a variety of purposes, many of which would be prohibited by the smaller size of the Taurus. City police often use patrol cars to transport other officers to court cases, found items like bicycles, prisoners, and citizens involved in accidents or with disabled cars, he said.

"The bottom line is the actual size of the car," he said. "We have the radar unit, mobile data terminals, shotgun racks, rear screens. The Ford Taurus simply does not provide adequate space."

"In my case, I couldn't hardly get in the darn thing. There's simply no room," he said.

Outfitting the car with police and emergency equipment could also render the passenger seat unusable, he said, and the rear seats have little leg room. Also, because of the cost of modifying or replacing the police department's equipment to fit in a mid-sized car, Cannon said, the city could end up spending more to purchase a smaller car.

Cannon recommended that the city buy a second Chevrolet Caprice through the Oakland County Purchasing Department, and the city council agreed. The motion to authorize the purchase of a second full-sized car was approved.

The cost of that car will be $13,157.87.

Light problems signal change

No, the corner of Main and Center streets is not being changed to a four-way stop. But people passing through Northville City in the last week may be under that impression.

It seems the traffic light that hangs over the city's main intersection has been acting up lately. City police have responded to three problems with the light since Friday. While the light began working again on its own after the Friday incident, it was on the fritz again on Saturday.

The latest malfunction, on Monday night, was reported to police just before 8 p.m. An officer directed traffic around the recalcitrant light until police set up a four-way stop at the intersection, using portable stop signs and flares.

City police have used that strategy in the past, according to Police Chief Rod Cannon.

The traffic light is under the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Signal Bureau, according to Cannon, and technicians from the bureau had the traffic light repaired by 10 p.m. "We just hope that's the last of the problems," Cannon said.

or reside within a half mile of the proposed church site.

The church also states that the variance granted by the ZBA will not subject the residents to any "special damages" or interfere with the use or enjoyment of their property.

Ernest Essad, attorney for the defendant, Northville Township, said his approach would differ from the angle taken by Ward.

"We'll ask that depositions be taken from the people that filed suit as plaintiffs," he said. "Ward would ask questions to see what their (interests and concerns in the case) are," he said.

Essad said that the township had not come to the same conclusions as Ward at this time.

"We don't know for sure (about the motives of the residents)," he said. "We think the court should take depositions."

Richard Poehlman, attorney for the residents, said he was not surprised by Ward's motion to dismiss.

"It's just a move to question the standing of the residents," he said. "It's not unexpected."

Poehlman would not comment on Ward's contention that none of the plaintiffs lived within a half mile of the church, but he said he felt Kaufman's decision would favor the residents.

"I expect the judge will deny the motion," he said.

Poehlman said if the motion to dismiss is denied, the next step in the case would be the settlement of the record.

The filing of briefs would follow, he said.

"The judge will probably set a briefing schedule of 60-90 days," he said.

Libraries to host annual luncheon

A Livonia writer whose newest book has been named an alternate selection by the Book of the Month Club will speak at the fourth annual book and author luncheon on Tuesday, March 6.

S.K. Wolf (a.k.a. Sarah Wolf), whose international spy thriller "The Harbinger Effect" has been selling briskly since its publication by Simon and Schuster in November, will discuss the topic "Is Anybody Out There?"

The luncheon will take place at noon at the Novi Civic Center, 45175 W. Ten Mile Road. The meal will be catered by Novi's Home Sweet Home Restaurant. Tickets will be available at $10 each at the Northville and Novi libraries beginning Feb. 1. None will be sold after March 1.

Groups of six or seven who wish to sit together may reserve a table by purchasing tickets at the same time. The event is sponsored by the Friends of the Northville, Novi, Plymouth and Canton libraries. This is the first year the Friends of the Canton Library has sponsored the event.

Wolf's newest book also will be published in Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Japan and Brazil. Scheduled for 1990 publication by Simon and Schuster is "MacKinnon's Machine."

She has been a resident of Livonia for 20 years, broken by three years in Greece and two in Turkey where her husband Kent Shoemaker taught math as a Fulbright Scholar. Wolf has traveled widely, including a trip to Africa where her daughter served with the Peace Corps.

The mother of three and grandmother of four is also the author of "Long Chain of Death," published in 1987 by Walker and Co., which specializes in mystery books.

cient response to the incident, which occurred in October.

"Since the transaction was voided, the prosecutor decided it was a moot issue," Moulik said. "They decided justice was served by the township's administrative action."

Supervisor Georgina Goss said last week that the settlement reached with Hardesty included a six month severance package.

She would not quote a monetary figure, but half of the former chief's $39,950 salary would amount to $17,975.

Captain Phillip Presnell was named acting chief by the board after Hardesty resigned.

The township is now contacting consulting firms in an effort to find a permanent replacement for Hardesty.

The township is also discussing the possibility of hiring a public safety officer to handle the administrative chores of the police and fire departments, according to township officials.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE OF INTENT TO ISSUE BONDS SECURED BY THE TAXING POWER OF THE CITY AND RIGHT OF REFERENDUM THEREON

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the City Council of the City of Northville, Counties of Wayne and Oakland, Michigan, intends to issue special assessment bonds of the City, in total principal amount of not to exceed $700,000, for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of water, sidewalk and parking improvements in certain special assessment districts in the City. The City Council also intends to issue general obligation bonds of the City in total principal amount of not to exceed $500,000 for the purpose of defraying the City's portion of the cost of the same improvements. The bonds shall mature serially in not to exceed fifteen annual installments with interest payable on both series on the unpaid balance at a rate of not to exceed the maximum rate permitted by law at the time of sale.

SOURCE OF PAYMENT OF BONDS

THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS shall be payable primarily from collections of an equal amount of special assessments and the bonds shall also pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Northville.

In the case of insufficiency of the special assessments, the principal and interest on the bonds shall be payable as a first budget obligation from the general funds of the City including collections of ad valorem taxes levied upon all taxable property in the City, subject to applicable charter, statutory and constitutional limitations.

THE PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF THE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS shall be a first budget obligation of the City payable from the first taxes collected each year, not limited by law to other purposes, or from any other general funds of the City. The levy of taxes for payment of the general obligation bonds is subject to applicable charter, statutory and constitutional limitations.

In case a petition requiring an election with respect to either series of bonds is filed, as described below, and issuance of the bonds is approved by vote of the electors, the obligation of the City to levy ad valorem taxes, if necessary, for payment of those bonds shall be without limitation as to rate or amount.

RIGHT OF REFERENDUM

THE BONDS will be issued without vote of the electors unless a PETITION requesting an election on the question of issuing either or both series of bonds, signed by not less than 10% OF THE REGISTERED ELECTORS in the City, or 15,000, whichever is the lesser, is filed with the City Council by depositing the petition with the City Clerk WITHIN FORTY-FIVE (45) DAYS after publication of this notice. If such a petition is filed, the bonds affected cannot be issued without an approving vote by a majority of electors voting on the question.

ALTERNATE SOURCE OF PAYMENTS IN THE EVENT BONDS ARE SOLD TO MICHIGAN BOND AUTHORITY

IN THE EVENT THAT THE CITY COUNCIL DEEMS IT DESIRABLE TO SELL SAID BONDS TO THE MICHIGAN MUNICIPAL BOND AUTHORITY, THE CITY MAY PLEDGE FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE BONDS MONEY RECEIVED OR TO BE RECEIVED BY THE CITY DERIVED FROM IMPOSITION OF TAXES BY THE STATE AND RETURNED OR TO BE RETURNED TO THE CITY AS PROVIDED BY LAW, except for money the use of which is prohibited for such purposes by the State Constitution. The City may enter into an agreement providing for the payment of taxes, which taxes are collected by the State and returned to the City as provided by law, to the authority of a trustee, and such funds may be pledged for the payment of bonds.

THIS NOTICE is given pursuant to the requirements of Section 5(g) of Act 297, Public Acts of Michigan, 1909, as amended. Further information concerning the matters set out in this notice may be secured from the City Clerk's office.

The Northville Record

Our Opinion

Ethics discussion is a positive step

Northville Township attorney Ernest Essad's recent chat with the planning commission on the legal and ethical responsibilities of a planner was a positive — and welcome — step for township government.

The commission has been neck deep of late in a sea of development proposals and is attempting to formulate a planned unit development (PUD) strategy as well.

The planners are busy people — their calendars are marked with four consecutive Tuesday evening meetings in January and February — but the Jan. 16 get-together with Essad was timely because of the nature of the discussion. Too many important issues are facing the township for the commission not to have a handle on the do's and don'ts of the job.

Yesterday's announcement of the sale of 933 acres of county land in Northville Township points out the urgency of expediting the PUD ordinance, but the commission cannot lose sight of the full agenda of development proposals which face them.

Essad warned the planning commission that ordinances designed to increase lot sizes and protect woodlands may be construed as too restrictive by developers. He said groups such as the Builder's Association are amassing war chests to fight tough local ordinances and will not be afraid to beat a path to the courtroom.

Though he said judges usually side with local governments in zoning issues, the attorney advised the commission to spell out their reasons for votes on specific proposals. He said the chances of a successful lawsuit are dampened considerably when proper documentation is on the public record.

This advice makes sense and not just in a legal way. Planners and all appointed or elected officials owe it to the residents to give full reasons for their votes on specific issues. Also, the boards and commissions should have open discussions prior to voting on issues — discussions that give the pros and cons of an issue and show that decisions were reached at the table, not prior to the meeting.

Essad also said commissioners should not be afraid to abstain from discussions and votes on issues that hit too close to home.

Each planner should give real thought to that advice. Frankly, we've had questions about the way some commissioners voice opinions on proposed developments which may affect their respective neighborhoods. It is hoped that his words struck a chord and conflict of interest is not a phrase bandied about when the topic turns to the local planning commission.

Essad has been directed to draft an ethics code for the township and we eagerly await its release. The time is now to put down in black and white strict guidelines governing the professional conduct of local officials.

With issues such as the Haller Library vote, Ward Church litigation, and negotiations with the developers of the county land facing the township, there is no room to get bogged down in battles with the press or developers over ethics questions.

Public expression need not be stifled

What began as a full-blown debate on the role of liaisons at Northville city planning commission meetings became little more than a tempest in a teacup last week, as the commission voted to designate a time for liaisons to bring the commission up-to-date on matters of mutual interest.

But for awhile Tuesday it looked like a personality clash might get in the way of basic common sense.

The problem seemed to be a dispute between commission member Don McCulloch and Downtown Development Authority liaison Greg Presley. Several commission members agreed that comments made by liaisons like Presley could slow down the commission's meetings, and agreed with McCulloch that such liaisons should "speak their piece" at the beginning of a commission meeting rather than throughout a meeting.

The suggestion, probably made without a good deal of thought, was quickly withdrawn amid protests from other city officials and liaisons. While the commission agreed to provide a specific forum for liaisons at the beginning of meetings, the question of how to handle their input at other times during a meeting was left to the chairperson to decide.

While the Record is not condoning an open forum at every city meeting, liaisons and citizens should be given the opportunity to speak their mind if what they have to say is pertinent to the subject at hand.

We would expect that the input from liaisons in particular would be helpful to a board or commission, given their personal selection for the post.

Perhaps the role of liaisons — particularly the role of the DDA liaison since the position was appointed by the mayor — should be clarified by the city.

But in the end, it's up to the chairperson of any board or commission to determine how his or her meeting is run. That entails walking a thin line to prevent needless interruptions in the workings of a board and at the same time allowing citizens to speak their minds. As a newspaper — we would suggest that it is better to err on the side of free speech than to stifle public expression.

Barbie's birthday

By Jan Jeffres

I must have slept through 1989. I never noticed that Barbie turned 30 until my sister brought that essential fact to my attention recently. The least I could have done was buy the girl a pair of essential gold lame toreador pants or a pink, waltz-length tulle garden party dress. In my defense, it is easy to forget your friends when you keep them in a shoe box on the top shelf in your closet.

Naturally, the birthday girl is Mattel's trademark doll, the one the company has been trying to pass off as a 16-year-old since 1959. You don't need a calculator to realize that Barbie is really 46, just four years shy of the big 5-0, when her age will finally equal her bra size. The silicone has held up well.

You do have to give Barbie and all her injection-molded plastic friends credit for the essential impact they've had on the U.S. economy, by drilling several generations of girls in the virtues of no-holds-barred consumerism. I know I learned my lesson. Years spent with Barbie taught me the necessity of a never-ending supply of clothes. Case in point. After college, some friends and I traveled to the Pacific Northwest to spend the summer as migrant workers — and I bought a new wardrobe for the occasion.

I loved Barbie and Midge and Skipper. And their designer dresses. I spent hours plotting their intricate careers as secret agents and astronauts and movie stars. I would never sell the crew downriver to a greedy doll collector. To be frank, Ken bored me because he had unfashionably short hair and weird clothes that made him look like a major dork. So I made an administrative decision and sent him to Vietnam, where with any luck he was promoted to Major Dork.

As a bit of hardcore journalistic research, I went to a toy store recently and had a look at the fashion filly. In her third decade, she looks a little more like a teenager. She's less aloof now, flashing her teeth. As a concession to the allegedly changing role of women, there's now a Doctor Barbie. But under her white coat, she's wearing a halter top and she comes with a metallic boa for after-hours. She'd be a hit in Vegas. I wouldn't let her near my tonsils.

I know that doll. I know her real well. I lived with her. She used me like a serf. I changed her clothes. I brushed her hair.

So I would never be catty enough to suggest that all is not as it seems when a young lady without any visible means of support has a wardrobe big enough for ten starlets, dozens of transparent negligees, tons of jewelry, furs, a convertible sports car, two dream houses and beyond that is physically incapable of standing up. I would not dream of suggesting that maybe a figure was missing from the constellation of Barbie groupies, that maybe beyond Ken, Midge, Alan, Francie, Skipper, Skooter, P.J., Tuttle and Todd, there was another doll — a much older, much, much richer male doll. Look, anybody who has a new pair of shoes for each outfit is all right by me — and Imelda Marcos.

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

Hugo likes me best. And it's driving her crazy.

Longtime readers know my wife is something of a cat fancier. We've got five of them right now, and she's threatening to adopt a couple more. By the time she's 80, I suspect the Northville Record will be sending reporters out to the house to interview the eccentric old lady with the hundreds of cats.

Her love of cats is mutual; her feline buddies shower almost as much affection on her as she does on them. Which is why it's so difficult for her to accept the fact that Hug (short for Hugo) likes me best.

Hugo got his name because he arrived at our house during the hurricane that ravaged the Atlantic coast last fall. And ever since his arrival, Hug has shown a decided preference for good ol' Mr. Phil.

"He gets up and runs to the door when you come home at night," she told me recently. "He doesn't do that for me. Even when he's sound asleep, he runs to the door when he hears you coming up the walk."

What really gets her is the way Hug stands on his back legs and reaches up to me with his front paws when he wants me to pick him up and carry him over my shoulder.

"He doesn't do that with me," she moans whenever he does it. "I feed him. I give him his medicine. How come he likes you best?"

Unfortunately, her jealousy is beginning to develop a nasty side. "I think I know why he likes you best," she announced recently when Hug was trying to get me to pick him up. "It's because I'm thin — and you're not. When he sees me coming, I look like a hard-backed wooden chair. But when he sees you coming, you look like a well-upholstered easy chair. That's the only logical explanation I can think of."

I was going to respond in kind, but I held my tongue instead. I figured she was suffering enough already.

Readers Speak

Who hikes to a library these days?

To the Editor:

This letter is a response to that of Stephen Calkins and Joan Wadsworth in the Jan. 11th issue. The writers object to a new library not within walking distance for them and feel that the proposed library at Six Mile and Sheldon is "in the middle of nowhere."

First of all, according to library sources, the overwhelming majority of taxpayers who fund the library cannot walk to it. They drive and cope with a very bad parking situation besides.

Secondly, if the library is to provide services and materials to carry us into the 21st century, it must have the space to expand — an impossibility anywhere close to the present location.

Thirdly, daytime library users find there is too much competition for parking. They have to compete with shoppers, recreation and special event users of the Recreation Building, buyers at the MAGS Building and the many browsers from other communities who find our specialty shops particularly attractive.

As Northville improves as a good restaurant town and the Cady Street Development comes into being, it will become even worse. Complicating the situation for the next year or so are the construction workers on the MainCentre building who come from other communities and need parking. Granted, this is a temporary situation but what they are building will house new residents, new merchants with goods for purchase and businesses with employees.

One can only draw the conclusion that adequate parking is a high priority for the majority of Northville Library patrons.

Ideal though it may be to have the library within walking distance for all its users, it is a fact of life that today's libraries are making sufficient parking a high priority and that means going outward. Witness the new libraries in Canton, Lake Orion and Rochester Hills. The Bloomfield Township Library on the corner of Telegraph and Lone Pine practically defies those users west of Telegraph to walk across that speedway. Six Mile and Sheldon will start looking pretty good as time marches on.

Library lash-out

To the Editor:

Last week's joint hearing on the proposed Haller Library was enlightening in this aspect. That any hope of a completely objective analysis of this project will not be forthcoming from the governors of our community. The deck is now being conveniently stacked so as to provide the best possible hand for the pro-library forces. The project is being designed so that every special interest group will have a small piece of this gargantuan monument. Yes, let's tell it like it really is. Mrs. Haller would like a monument to her deceased husband. But should the taxpayers of Northville be asked to erect it?

In accordance with our statement of principles, and our desire to provide a balanced debate on this issue, Citizens for a Better Northville will be issuing opinions and research on the following subjects.

1. Dispelling the myth that additional space is needed.
2. The effects of user fees to fund further library expansion.

3. Detailing the horrendous "real" cost to the taxpayers of such a project.

4. Provide information on how other communities have privatized their libraries, to actually reduce the tax burden.

5. The true legitimate role of government in providing services.

We encourage all individuals of a like mind to join us in our quest to bring sanity back into this debate.

Rights observed

To the Editor:

In response to a letter written to the editor last week by Oieg Z. Zaleski concerning the Ward Presbyterian Church, wondering why so much attention was being paid to the "tax free church" and stating "... If it should catch fire. . . I would just let it burn." Then Oieg went on to say that they should "Put up a sign stating, essentially, this property has no fire protection — enter at your own risk." This is ridiculous!

Come on Oieg, you can't be serious! First of all I don't know what "... not paying taxes. . ." has to do with this issue. Secondly, no bonafide church in Northville, or anywhere else in the United States, has to pay taxes. Yet they have a legal right, and do, receive fire and police protection. Why should Ward be any different? Churches are made up of members that pay taxes, and maintain the church with donations. Churches usually give back to the community much more than monetary contributions and offer many good services.

Now I am not a member of this church, nor am I Presbyterian, but I am a resident and taxpayer of Northville and a concerned homeowner, as are many others. The issue here is not about a particular religion or church, nor the taxes they don't or will not pay. The issue here, is what is best for the community and area overall. It's about the residents that are opposed to the church's plans and those that are for them. I don't want to defend or attack either side but state that I do believe Ward has a right to build a church on their property, and I believe the township has a right to regulate the structure to meet the township's codes. And I believe the two sides will have everything compromised and it will work out in the end for the good of everyone.

Dear Oieg, there will always be controversy and a great deal of attention paid to such important issues, but they will be resolved by the people and usually the majority. Our great country and this press has given you (and me) the right to exercise one of our First Amendment rights, the freedom of speech, but next time Oieg please try and remember this is only one of "our" rights. Let us respect others rights as well.

Mystery plaque

To the Editor:

Where is the plaque?
The citizens of Northville were asked to contribute money several years ago to construct the downtown band gazebo. A plaque was to be placed on the gazebo naming the contributors. My question is: Where is the plaque?

Psychiatric problems traced to drugs

This is another in the continuing series of columns by Northville Public Schools' Student Assistance Program Coordinator Charlie Stilec.

"To achieve all that is possible, we must attempt the impossible; to be as much as we can be, we must dream of being more."

"Many of today's psychiatric problems among American youth — depression, suicide, decreasing intelligent achievement, can be traced to heavy drug use," Dr. Robert Gilkesan, a nationally known psychiatrist believes. "Much of the so called burnout of our youth can be directly attributed to drugs." Dr. Gilkesan started his research in the 1960s especially around the effects of marijuana, involving his patients who were from St. Lukes Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio where he headed the child and adolescent programs.

"Roughly the results showed that 50 percent of those using marijuana had brain damage. Marijuana works so potently on the human body, the drug in the human body involves the cell membranes of the brain and also buries itself in the membranes of the lungs and the bloodstream."

Marijuana is still by far the most extensively used illicit drug. According to the latest survey by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, almost 62 million Americans have tried marijuana in their lifetime and 29 million used the drug the past year. Starting in 1979 there has been a gradual decline in its use at least among high school seniors. Marijuana use peaked in 1978 when almost 11 percent of high school seniors reported daily or almost daily use and has gradually declined to 3.3 percent in 1987.

Significant progress has been made recently by several NIDA grantees in determining how marijuana works on the brain. Several animal studies have focused attention on the hippocampus, the major component of the brains limbic system that is crucial for learning, memory and the intergration of sensory experiences with emotions and motivation.

Researchers have found that THC, the psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, changes the way information is received and exerts an action directly on a part of the brain that may underlie memory. Two other studies found evidence that chronic THC exposure damages and destroys nerve cells. The loss of cells appears to be similar to the loss seen with normal aging. This places long term marijuana users at risk for serious or premature memory disorders as they age.

Scientists at the University of California, Los Angeles found that the daily use of 1 to 3 marijuana joints appears to produce approximately the same lung damage and potential cancer risk as smoking 5 times as many cigarettes. The study results suggest that the way smokers inhale marijuana in addition to its chemical composition, increases the adverse physical effects.

Recent findings indicate that smoking marijuana while shooting up cocaine has the potential to cause severe increases in heart rate and blood pressure.

The first controlled study in women on the acute effects of marijuana has shown that smoking a single marijuana cigarette after ovulation decreases the plasma level of one of the hormones essential for normal reproductive functioning. Chronic use of marijuana may adversely affect reproductive functioning in women.

A recent study examined 1,023 trauma patients admitted at the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services in Baltimore. This study found that one-third of all admitted patients had detectable levels of marijuana in their blood, indicating use of marijuana within two to four hours prior to admission. The study also found that four of every 10 persons age 30 years or younger were under the influence of marijuana at the time of the accident.

A series of indepth studies by a research team at the center for Psychosocial Studies in New York City found that adults who smoked marijuana daily believed it helped them function better. In reality the drug served as a buffer enabling users to tolerate problems, rather than make changes that might increase their satisfaction with life. The study indicated that these subjects used marijuana to avoid dealing with their difficulties and the avoidance inevitably made the problems worse. Users of marijuana believe that the drug enhances understanding of themselves while it actually serves as a barrier against self awareness.

If as parents or concerned others you see the following symptoms you may need to consider contacting the Student Assistance Program Coordinator — Charlie Stilec 344-1825 at Northville High School; The Community Commission on Drug Abuse 261-3760 or your community mental health facility for support and direction.

Symptoms: lying may begin, sudden change in friends, suspicion of new friends, lack of motivation in school, irresponsible at home and outside jobs, become more and more withdrawn and secretive, whereabouts often unknown by parents, stealing from family or friends, family may begin to find drug paraphernalia, negative attitude, behavior more and more aggressive, argumentative, blames others for problems, changes in physical appearance and hygiene, disregard for rules.

In my opinion the sooner we can hear from you the quicker we can impact and intervene into the users addiction cycle which I believe begins with first use and progresses rapidly. The alternatives are often time sad and longterm.

Awed by autos

By Steve Kellman

As a recent visitor to the Detroit Auto Show — oh, excuse me, I meant the North American International Auto Show in Detroit — I must say I was overwhelmed.

I had no idea how much of a production the show was, coming as I do from New England. The nearest thing we have to Detroit's extravaganza there, is a boat show in Boston. And Vanna White's cousins don't turn out in nearly the same numbers there to showcase the latest dinghy. I'll tell you.

And the other stars of the show — the cars — did justice to the automotive capital of the country with their latest bag of automotive tricks. One van had a detachable rear section — the perfect device for fooling rapidly-approaching police cars. Another had doors with no handles — the perfect device for those road-side Cassanovas. "Gee, honey, the handle must have fallen off on that side. I guess you'll just have to climb over my lap."

But despite the huge helpings of eye candy — both human and automotive — I felt bad for the marketing geniuses trying to sell the latest in automotive technology to the masses. From some of the comments I overheard during the show, they've got their work cut out for them.

Standing in awe in front of Ferrari's latest fantasy machine, the Mythos, I had visions of the German Autobahn dancing in my head when my thoughts were rudely interrupted by the keen observation of a man behind me.

"Gee, isn't that neat?" he said. I looked at him. He seemed normal enough, just another thirtysomething executive in a three-piece suit. But "Neat?" A card trick sure, a compact car maybe, but a bright-red Ferrari with side air scoops big enough to swallow whole flocks of sparrows while traveling at triple the double-nickel? "Neat?" Never!

Of course, that comment was soon topped by another off-hand remark made by a man on the edge of the admiring crowd. "How would you fit it into the garage," he asked in all seriousness.

With buyers like these, is it any wonder that the Ford Escort was the world's best selling car for so long?

Owner William Micol displays some of the merchandise at the Nature and Man Gallery

'Nature and Man' Unique gallery focuses on art in nature

By PHYLLIS STILLMAN

Have you ever had an extra $275,000 lying around and wondered where you could purchase a dinosaur skeleton for your family room?

Search no more. William Micol, owner of the Nature and Man Gallery in the Village Center Mall at 400 North Main Street in Milford, can get one for you.

"I'm one of the few people in the United States who can sell you a complete dinosaur," Micol said.

What else can you find at Nature and Man Gallery? Micol's business card describes the type of merchandise the gallery carries: "When the hand of man and the beauty of nature entwine, the spirit of the one enhances the beauty of the other."

"It's basically a store that deals in earth-science materials, things from nature, minerals, fossils, some archaeological materials, Indian artifacts. Occasionally I have pre-Columbian art," Micol said.

The scope of the merchandise is hard to describe, but includes such items as petrified-wood and agate bookends, naturally colored sandstone slabs, decorative wooden boxes with stone inserts on the lid, and Chinese soapstone sculptures, one of which Micol describes as "the best of its type I've ever seen."

He also stocks scores of unusual stones and gems displayed in large cabinets with lots of tiny drawers, left open so customers can see the pieces.

"I deal in very rare and unique objects. If it's common, if it's everyday, I don't want anything to do with it — it doesn't have anything to do with my business. I have many things here that people haven't seen before, and I'm here to open their eyes," Micol said.

Some of the pieces at Nature and Man Gallery are what Micol calls "world-class quality." He explained: "People often use the term 'museum quality.' Museum quality is a good way to describe something that is very good and very rare and very unique. I use the term 'world class' to indicate that, to my knowledge, that's the best specimen in the world. There's not a museum in the world that has one better. And I have several specimens in my shop that are in that class — 'world class'."

However, Nature and Man Gallery stocks items in all price ranges. "I have lots of major pieces in here and I intend to bring more in. But I have literally thousands of specimens. All quality specimens, for the beginner, for the young children."

"There's no junk in here. There's no tourist-trap minerals in here. This is all good crystal specimens, rare fossils, and yet it's reasonably priced. My endeavor and my guarantee is that I'll get it for you at the best price," Micol said.

Micol thinks his shop itself is as rare and unusual as the merchandise he sells. "This type of shop you've probably never seen before in your life. There are other shops like this, but they're usually on the west coast. They're usually in areas where you get a lot of traffic. That's the only

It's worth your while to organize messy closet

It's been weighing on your mind all day — heavily. Should you or shouldn't you? "Okay," you think, "it can't be put off any longer."

So you gingerly turn the doorknob as beads of perspiration begin to form on your forehead. Your heart picks up its rhythm as you anticipate the inevitable.

You open the door with one jerky pull. Suddenly, you're dodging flying photo albums from 1967, tumbling wool sweaters that you haven't worn in years, old pointed-toe pumps you're hoping will come back into style — and a host of other soaring objects which seem indistinguishable.

The closet — that nightmarish dark hole found in many homes today.

For many, closets mean utter terror. Therefore, the only solution is never to open them. Right?

Wrong. Someone, somewhere has recently latched on to this all-American plague called "closet disorganization." In simplest terms, this type of closet is nothing but a mess.

So several companies have taken this problem to heart and now offer complete closet organizers.

Of the 17 Church's Lumber Yards, only one — on Grand River in Brighton — offers the Stanley Steel Plank Closet Organizer.

"This is brand new to us," explained John Follick, manager. "They're moving really good."

So good, in fact, that Follick anticipates that Stanley Closet Organizers will soon be featured in other Church's stores.

"They (closet organizers) make a better use out of the closet because of the different options you have," he added. "You can buy the complete set or just pieces of it so you can tailor it to your needs."

The Stanley Closet Organizers are constructed of furniture particle board and come in either white or oak laminates. They are designed for easy installation and the storage of anything from coats to clothing to linens.

An "Easy Track" is the backbone of the entire organizer. By screwing the Easy Track into the closet wall, all the other components — hanging rods, drawers, shelves — just fall into place.

"They're pretty easy to install," explained Follick. "The hardest thing is screwing (the Easy Track) into the wall."

Steel plank shelves and hanger bars are especially advantageous because they will not warp. In addition, the shelves have holes in them which provide ventilation but do not crease clothes.

Hanger bars also come seam- and barrier-free, which means that there is nothing on the bar to trip the hangers. These continuous, one-piece bars allow hangers to slide freely.

Also, there are no sharp edges, burrs or splinters which would threaten to snag or catch clothing. Although screws are used for installation, none are visible upon completion of the organizer.

Bilevel hanger bars serve to double closet hanging space. "Instead of wasted space, you double storage capacity," Follick emphasized.

Shelves in the system are adjustable, providing added flexibility. In addition, these shelves can be adjusted to lower heights, providing access for children.

Drawers which have actual doors attached are also available for the system.

"You can even make it like a dressing area," suggested Follick.

For $89.95, a starter kit can be purchased, and this includes two 48-inch Easy Tracks, four 48-inch vertical panels, two 24-inch shelves, four 36-inch and one 24-inch wardrobe rods/ends.

For $149.95, an organizer featuring twin shelf towers can be purchased. This more deluxe model offers two bilevel hanger bar units and one full-length hanger bar. These three bar sections are separated by the twin shelf towers.

Examples of prices include 36-inch doors for $37.95 and four 24-inch shelves that sell at Church's for $27.95.

Although Church's offers this kit, some choose to create their own closet organizer using whatever type of wood they wish. This may seem to be the most difficult way to organize your closet, but for the handyman it may be the perfect project.

But no matter how you choose to get organized, that closet terror can be vanquished forever.

Around the House: Designs for Living

A cottage and house in one

By James McAlexander

The Siskiyou is essentially two different houses in one.

The left end is practically a self-contained cottage, with two bedrooms, bath, kitchen and eating area.

The other half of the house contains a living room and dining room and a master suite positioned over the two-car garage.

This arrangement guarantees independence for teen-agers or roomers who occupy the two smaller bedrooms and privacy for the occupants of the master suite.

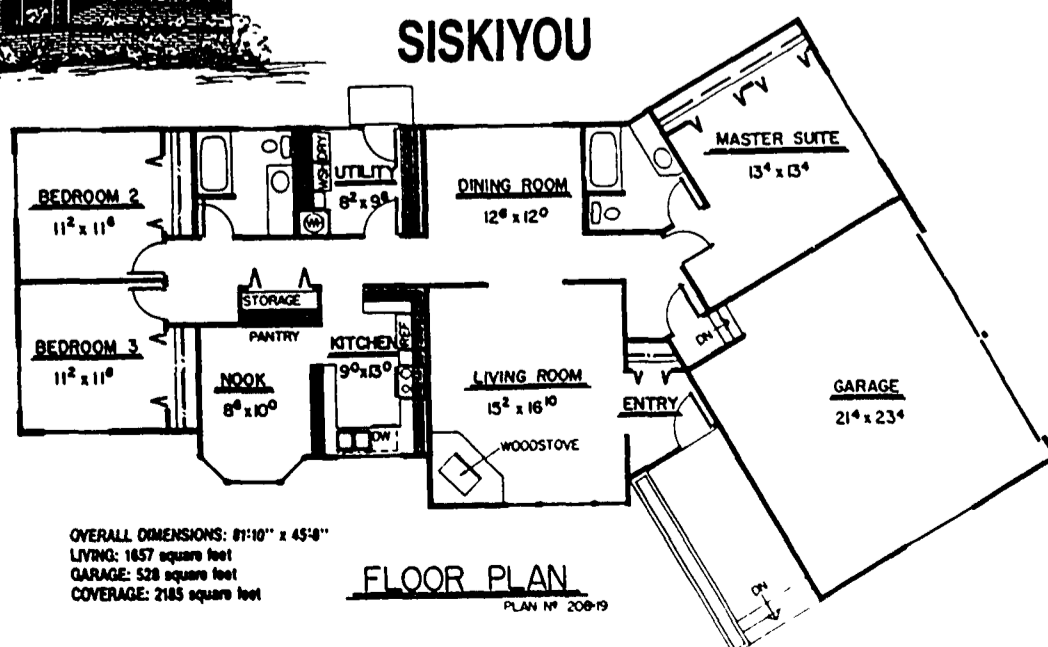

The dining room is down the hall and two steps below the kitchen, so the breakfast nook will receive a lot of use. The space is enlarged by a bay window and is served over an eating bar from the kitchen.

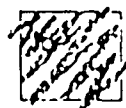

The utility room across the hall houses the washer and dryer and serves as a pantry for the kitchen. The Siskiyou's master suite contains its own bathroom.

The Siskiyou is designed to fit a narrow sloping lot with the garage facing a street or driveway at the lower end of the property.

For a study plan of the Siskiyou (208-19), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

Creative Living

How can you make efficiency functional?

By Rose Bennett Gilbert

Q: I have what is essentially a one-room apartment (with a tiny separate kitchen) that has been created from the former front parlor of an old Victorian house.

The room is nice and big—I even have a fireplace and a bay window—but I want to be able to entertain without bringing my guests into the "bedroom."

A: Any hints will be appreciated.—M.M.

Think "formal" when you furnish and decorate. By that, I mean treat your bed as if it were a sofa. Dress your bay window as if it were still the parlor window.

Avoid "bedroomy" furniture, such as bedside tables and boudoir lamps.

Opt for more formal wall coverings, rugs and accessories.

You will have to look twice at the photo we show here to realize it's actually a bedroom, so cleverly has New York designer Michael Love handled its design.

She has centered the room around the bed, which is upholstered, head to foot, to camouflage its after-hours function. And she has used formal—and nicely eccentric—patterns on both the wall and floor to make the place feel more parlorlike than bedroom.

Several other ideas worth emulating:

• Her bay window has been given a window seat topped with cushions to provide extra seating room for guests.

• The round table works for dining. When it's pulled close enough, the window seat serves as a banquette, with the extra chairs brought up to the other side of the table.

• The heavy, rod-mounted draperies divide the area visually without eating up valuable floor space.

• All accessories are "living room-worthy." Tuck away the bed pillows and who would guess it's actually a room for sleeping?

Q: One window in our living room looks directly over the neighbor's new deck, so we always feel as if we're spying on each other.

I hate to cover the window completely with draperies or shutters that would block out the light, as well as the view of their barbecue. What would you suggest?—M.T.

A: Thanks to modern blind technology, you have some splendid choices.

A number of new miniblinds are designed to be translucent, that is, light and the merest hint of the view can get through but you can't really

You also could cover the screen with mirror squares, or—more elegant—with strips of mirror cut to fit and beveled on all edges.

Q: I've always insisted that we eat together as a family in the dining room with candles and the good silver. But the kids are at that really messy age, and my dining room chairs are getting unfit for company.

I can always recover them—the fabric staples over the seats—but isn't there some way to keep them clean longer?—Stained in Maine

A: Your commendable taste for elegance rules out plastic slipcovers for your chairs, thank heavens. But there are a number of alternatives that are almost as effective and certainly prettier.

First, be sure that any fabric you choose comes pre-treated to a stain- and soil-repellent finish, such as Scotchguard or Teflon. They do help.

But your answer may lie in fabrics that actually can be wiped clean with a damp cloth: consider leather or a leather look-alike, such as breathable Naugahyde.

Or for really luxelooks that can also shrug off spills, give some thought to UltraSuede HP. It's a heavy-duty version of the manmade suede you wear, and it's available now in patterns and textures, as well as plains. It's almost affordable, too, since you might be able to get more than one chair seat cover per yard.

Good luck. It will all be worth it when your children grow up to appreciate gracious living and invite you to dinner.

Around the House: Sew Easy

Bows dress up your photos

Bows can make any picture grouping more attractive

By Madeline Hunter

Q: Catalogs and magazines have recently been showing decorative bows hung on walls with pictures. Can you tell me how they attach and approximately the dimensions of these, as I think I'd like to make some for my house.

A: What kind of fabric is best to use and how much would I need? Also, this may seem silly but how are the pictures hung, on the wall or the bow?—Thanks.

A: Picture bows are certainly indicative of a more decorative trend in home furnishing. The bow is attached to the wall by means of a ring at the center back and the long tie ends hang down.

When fixing the bows on the wall, notice that the pointed ends of the long ties are placed facing each other, with the points to the inside. Pictures are then hung directly on the wall with picture hooks, centered between the long ends.

Before hanging bows and pictures, it is a good idea to lay them all out on a plain surface, like the floor, to determine and measure the spacing that looks best.

You can hang one bow with one picture or several if the tie ends are long, or several bows in a row. Make the bows from simple cut paper first to determine if the sizing works for you.

As for the selection of fabrics, the choice is really up to you, although simple solid poly/cotton is fine. You may want to try a plaid, especially if your pictures are black-and-white prints. Or, if your home is very formal, use silk for a luxe look.

If the fabric you use is very lightweight, a lining or light-weight fusible should be used to give the bow some body so that it doesn't sag.

To make a standard size 3-inch bow with 36-inch-wide tails, approximately 36 inches long, you will need 1/2 yard of 36-inch or 45-inch fabric. Cut two lengths of fabric 36 by 7 inches on the crosswise grain for the tails. For the bow, cut a piece 7 inches long by 17 inches wide. You will also need a piece 2 1/2 inches wide by about 3 1/2 inches for the center bow.

Fold the two long pieces along their long sides with right sides facing. Using a 1/4-inch seam, sew along the edge. Three inches up from the edge of each piece sew a diagonal from the seamed edge to the bottom of the points. Clip the point, turn and press the tail. Turn under open edges of one straight end, place over second and slipstitch together forming one long tail.

Make bow by folding long sides together as in tails and sewing, using a 1/4-inch seam. Turn right side out and press. Fold under ends of one open end and place over the other. Slipstitch together forming a ring. With seams in back, pinch together to make bow shape.

Place seamed middle of long tail at center back of bow and catch around with band made from smallest cut piece. Stitch on a ring for hanging.

Are there ways to rid house of pigeons?

By Gene Gary

Q: We have a relatively serious problem concerning the overpopulation of pigeons in our area.

A: I would be grateful for any information about how to decrease, if not eliminate, the presence of these pigeons. They are an absolute nuisance to all of the residents in our development—G.J.F.

A: Birds can cause considerable property damage and present a health hazard, and discouraging them from perching on railings, gutters and other structures around the home can be a very frustrating problem.

One of the first steps to discouraging the birds is to prevent people in your area from feeding them. Some cities have even passed ordinances making it unlawful to feed pigeons, because they are known to be disease carriers.

There are several steps you can take to discourage these birds, but none is foolproof.

Tanglefoot is a sticky substance that can be applied to eaves, gutters, fence tops, etc. While it does not entangle the bird's feet, it does discourage them from alighting.

Tanglefoot, which is manufactured by Tanglefoot Co., 314 Straight SW, Grand Rapids, MI 49504, can be found at nurseries or hardware stores. It is available in tubes or one-pound cartons.

Unfortunately, this product is not long-lasting and will have to be reapplied periodically. One other drawback is that the sticky substance attracts dust and dirt and becomes discolored and dirty over a period of time. However, short of killing the birds, it is one of the most effective control methods.

Another method of discouraging these pests is to permanently install metal strips of sharp prongs to prevent birds from alighting. Usually these are made of spring-tempered, rustproof nickel, chromium, stainless steel or aluminum.

Most of these products are provided with ample means of attachment to a variety of surfaces and come with complete instructions and diagrams for installation. However, they may not be readily available. Check with your lawn and garden supply outlet, a large hardware store or a building supply firm. Often this type of product is not available in stock and will have to be ordered.

Other deterrents include the use of rubber snakes or owl decoys. It is a good idea to move these fake decoys periodically for more effective results. Birds become used to these non-moving decoys and will frequent the area despite their presence.

One other suggestion is to contact your local government animal control center or agricultural office to see if they have any recommended repellents for this pest.

Q: Can you tell me how to control silverfish?—G.M.

A: The best method of stopping such infestation is to eliminate the original source of the problem.

Silverfish can enter the home in several ways. Often you carry them into the house in secondhand books, cardboard boxes or old papers.

If your home is new, they may have come with the wallboard and green lumber and found a feast of wood shavings, sawdust and wallpaper paste. Humidity from newly poured cement gives them the dampness they need.

The problems of animal abuse just get bigger...and bigger...and bigger.

On the morning of February 18, 1986, a 40-year old Dearborn man became annoyed at the barking of his sister's 9-year old German Shepherd, Toro. So annoyed, in fact, the man fashioned a spear out of an 8-inch knife taped to a 5-foot length of pipe and stabbed the dog repeatedly until he dropped to the floor. The stabbing was so severe, Toro later had to be destroyed.

But the cruelty didn't end there.

Just 10 months later, the same man approached a 56-year old Dearborn woman outside a local shopping center. Throwing her to the ground, he attempted to gouge her eyes out and choke her. He proceeded to stab a responding Dearborn police officer and had to be shot twice before being apprehended.

Disturbing? Yes.

Coincidental? No.

A recent study by Dr. Alan R. Felthous, M.D. of the University of Texas and Stephen R. Kellert, Ph.D. of Yale University concludes "a pattern of substantial animal abuse may conceivably be associated with a pattern of recurrent violence against people."

Granted, every case of animal abuse doesn't lead to human abuse. But too often, evidence shows that those who commit crimes against another human being have abused an animal in the past.

One such example is a 10-year old Boston youth who took perverse pleasure in trapping puppies and kittens in orange crates and shooting arrows into the box. The young man's name? Albert DeSalvo, later known as "The Boston Strangler."

Unfortunately, such animal abuse is usually unreported or ignored until it escalates.

The problem is that violence inflicted upon an animal, especially at the hands of a child, isn't always considered a problem. It's dismissed as a childish prank or rationalized as an error in judgment.

At the Michigan Humane Society, we do consider it a problem. Because animal abusers all too often grow into human abusers. That's why the MHS, as the only defense against animal abuse, is the first line of defense against human abuse.

That's why we continue to battle for stronger legislation, vigorous prosecution, tougher punishments and mandatory counseling of offenders.

The fact is, normal people don't abuse animals. Such actions are an early sign of deviant behavior. Recognized, it can be corrected. Ignored, it gets worse.

If you want to help prevent animal abuse, support the MHS with a generous contribution. If you're concerned about the increasing violence in our society, support the MHS.

Because if we can allow someone to commit an act of violence against an animal, we shouldn't be surprised when that individual strikes out against another human being.

The hard truth is, left unchecked, the next victim could be your pet, your child or even you.

Studies show
animal abuse can lead to human abuse.

COMMUNITY GROUPS OFFER SCHOLARSHIPS

NORTHVILLE AWARDS

Very few young students, if any, make it through their college careers without some type of financial aid.

More students are looking to scholarships to fund or supplement their educations. Locally, several groups make it a goal to provide scholarships to students who choose to further their education. And students are responding to their generosity.

Gladys Cohen, a Northville High School counselor since 1982, noted that about eight students applied for local scholarships during her first year on the job.

In 1985, the application process was changed to encourage more students to apply. A common application is now used and consists of a form that lists all of the available local scholarships. Applicants simply fill in the pertinent information and check off the scholarships they are interested in.

The applications are then forwarded to the groups that award the scholarships. Committees within each local group review the applications and make the final determinations.

In a drastic change from 1982, 20-30 students applied for each local scholarship offered in the community last year, according to Cohen.

High school counselors are still hard at work finalizing plans and details for this year's scholarships. Because most of the scholarships are provided by local groups who conduct fund-raisers throughout the year to support them, monetary amounts of the scholarships are not yet available.

Following is a list of local scholarships awarded to Northville students last year. There may be additions or deletions to the list. Contact the Northville High School counseling office for more information.

American Association of University Women: Offered by the Northville branch of this group.
Northville Mothers' Club — Life Members
Northville Junior Baseball Scholarship
Northville Woman's Club — Grant in Aid
Women's National Farm and Garden Association — Country Girls Branch

First Presbyterian Church — Women's Association
First United Methodist Church of Northville
Edward Patrick Bergstrom Memorial Scholarship: In honor of a student who was killed in an automobile accident. This scholarship is supported by his parents.

Robert W. Niemi Scholarship
George Berryman Music Scholarship — NEA
Diana Lance Memorial Scholarship — NEA
National Honor Society Scholarship: This group offers small monetary awards to several students.

Northrop-Sassaman Scholarship: Provided by John B. Sassaman, owner of Ross B. Northrop and Sons Funeral Homes. For eligibility requirements and more details about the scholarship, see page 7.

Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship: Offered for the first time last year.

Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarship
Nancy J. Soper Memorial Scholarship: In honor of a former Northville school administrator who died of cancer.

Richard Lewis Memorial Scholarship: In honor of a Northville sailor who was killed in an explosion aboard the USS Iowa.

In most cases, scholarship winners are not announced until spring. Each scholarship includes certain eligibility requirements. See a high school counselor for a list of these rules.

Cohen offered the following advice to students planning to apply for scholarships:

1. Be sure to apply — don't take the requirements too literally. If eligibility requirements state that a student must have a 3.5 grade point average, apply even if you have a 3.4 grade point average. There's room for flexibility in some cases, Cohen said.

2. Write an essay explaining why you are seeking a particular scholarship. "A lot of students don't want to take the time to write anything, but this is an important step and could make a difference in the final outcome," Cohen added.

NOVI AWARDS

Five years ago, 10 students sporadically trickled into the Novi High School counseling office to submit applications for local scholarships.

Nothing to get excited about.

In 1985, the number rose to 89 applicants.

Since then, the interest in applying for local scholarships has soared, according to Novi High School Counselor Mary Jane Baird. Last year, for example, 505 students applied for the local awards.

In turn, the number of community groups offering scholarships to students is growing.

"Groups within the community are providing more and more scholarships," Baird said. "The groups have expectations of doing so."

Last year, $17,950 was awarded to students through local scholarships, in the form of 37 awards.

The process of applying for the scholarships is rather simple. Students can pick up a common application from the high school counseling office. The form lists all of the local scholarships available to them, as well as the criteria used to determine the winners. Students can check off the scholarships they would like to be considered for.

Applications for local scholarships will become available to Novi students March 26. They must be turned into the counseling office no later than April 12.

Baird offered helpful hints to students applying for local scholarships: Keep grades up, develop talents and get involved in extra-curricular activities. Also, be sure to apply to colleges early in your senior year and work with that college in pursuing other scholarships.

"Scholarship opportunities are vast," Baird said. "Keeping on top of the financial aid field is a full-time job — that's what financial aid offices are for."

Another piece of advice Baird recommends to students is to look at less well-known colleges and schools.

"If you go to the University of Michigan, there's a slim chance of receiving financial aid," she said. "If you choose a popular school, they're not likely to provide financial aid."

Figures included in a Michigan College Guide show that 38 percent of the students attending the University of Michigan receive financial aid from the school. At smaller colleges such as Northern Michigan University, 51 percent of the students receive financial aid. And at Wayne State University, 60 percent of the students receive financial help.

"Look at schools that are recruiting because they want to attract you," Baird said.

Following is a list of local scholarships awarded to Novi students last year. This year's list may contain additions or deletions. Also, monetary amounts may vary from year to year. See your high school counselor for more details.

Rotary Scholarship: Awarded for academic merit. Last year's amount was $1,000. This scholarship is to help Novi High School students toward the achievement of a college education. To be eligible, the student must have attained at least a "B" or better average, be of good moral character and be enrolled as a student in a college or university. The student must show cause for financial assistance.

Rotary Vocational Scholarship: Offered to students who have experience in vocational education classes. The scholarship is new this year.

Novi Jaycees Scholarship: Criteria for selection includes academic merit and financial need. These two scholarships are offered to Novi High School seniors who have maintained a "B" or better average while in high school and are in need of financial aid. Last year's amount was two scholarships for $500 each.

Business Professionals of America: Criteria for selection includes an interest in business, BPA membership and an essay. Amount last year was $250.

Novi Police Officers' Association: Established in 1985 to recognize a Novi High School senior who has been an outstanding citizen. The recipient of this award would be a model of community involvement and moral behavior. Amount last year was $1,000.

Q:

Does the super bowl live up to expectations?

Three said: "Yes"
Seven said: "No"

"It was good last year but it's usually boring."

"There is too much hype, not enough action."

"Usually I feel the teams have peaked by that point."

Volunteers

Grossman volunteers

By DOROTHY NASH

If you want to do something that is pleasurable diverting for yourself and for others, too, get into the kind of volunteering that Marci Grossman is in — little theater work with the Novi Players.

Grossman, who is a CPA, has been volunteering there since last February when she got a part in "Ten Little Indians."

"I tried out," she said, "and got the part of Toni Marston, a reckless, crazy sort of person." And she added, "It was a lot of fun, playing a wild character."

She hadn't necessarily had her sights on this one part, she said. Like most people trying out, she read for various parts — she and 40 others.

In the summertime the Novi Players produced "Cinderella" two weekends for children. Grossman was music director.

What does a CPA know about music? This one plays a variety of musical instruments away from the office — bassoon, piano, guitar, clarinet and saxophone, for example.

"I arranged the music for 'Cinderella,'" she said, "and I auditioned singers for two evenings."

"I played the piano — went through scales — and tried them out for voice quality and range."

Then at showtimes, she said, "I counted from the pit" and played the appropriate instruments, too.

But that's not all that Marci Grossman has been doing for the Novi Players. She's also worked on set design — and that included construction and painting — and she's worked on lighting and sound, too.

Why volunteer like this? "It's fun," she answered. "It's something different from sitting behind my desk all day."

And she invites other people to volunteer with the Novi Players. "We can always use more. There's something to do for teenagers on up."

For more information inquire at the Novi Civic Center or call 348-2181.

Resident to travel with delegation

Northville resident Betty Lennox has been selected to join the Delegation for Friendship Among Women in its upcoming journey.

A U.S. non-profit organization dedicated to furthering international understanding by personal meetings with outstanding women leaders in developing countries, the group will depart Feb. 2 for a visit to North Yemen, Oman and Morocco.

Among the leaders that the delegation will be meeting with will be First Lady Mrs. Haider Abubaker Al-Aptas of Yemen. Her Royal Highness The Mother of his Majesty Sultan Quboo Ben Said of Oman and Her Attesse Royale, The Princess Latta Fatima Zohra of Morocco.

Local resident sings in quartet

Dr. Francis Durham of Schoolhouse Road in Northville was among a group of international and district officers of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA) which attended a recent informational meeting at the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita.

The institute is a national residential school and referral source for children with multiple disabilities and has been the SPEBSQSA's national service project since 1964. Since then, the barbershoppers have given more than $9 million to the institute to help children with communication disorders and multiple disabilities, including autism, cerebral palsy, seizure disorders and mental retardation.

Durham has been a member of SPEBSQSA since 1966 and has held a variety of offices within the organization. He is currently serving on the International Logopedics and Service Committee.

Woman's Club plans meeting

Northville Woman's Club presents "Mastering the Mix" by Bonnie J. Neuman, an interior designer for the J.L. Hudson Company. Friday, Feb. 2 at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, at 1:30 p.m.

This topic reflects Dayton Hudson's home sale theme and the popular trend of eclectic furnishings for the home.

A typical assignment for a new client from interior designer Bonnie J. Neuman would be to list adjectives that the client wishes the finished space to reflect — such as quiet, dramatic, romantic, cozy, or as one husband added, "cost-reflective." Neuman will share some of her decorating ideas and schemes with the Woman's Club.

She studied interior design and marketing at Eastern Michigan University and has worked at McLaughlens in Southgate. She is currently employed by the J.L. Hudson Company.

Chairperson of the Feb. 2 meeting is Judy Beyersdorf. Guests are reminded that this is also a guest day.

Woman's Club sells dinner tickets

Tickets are now available for the Northville Woman's Club Annual Dinner Feb. 16 at the First United Methodist Church of Northville. This is also guest night for members.

Dinner begins at 7 p.m., followed by entertainment by the University of Michigan's Gilbert and Sullivan Association, a group of singers that sing Gilbert and Sullivan selections.

Cost is $13.50 per person. The dinner is catered by Chef Bedson of Schoolcraft College. Menu selections include a buffet of flaming beef, boneless breast of chicken Florentine, fetticini or linguine, mixed vegetables, red skin potatoes with dill butter, Caesar salad, rolls, butter, tea, coffee or milk and assorted pastries.

Geraldine Mills, president of the Northville Woman's Club, encourages all members to attend the dinner. She said if the event is not supported by members this year the dinner probably won't be held next year.

Members may request to sit with friends when making reservations to attend the dinner.

Update on residents offered

It was announced at the Friday, Jan. 19 Northville Woman's Club meeting that Norma Vernon and Carmen Kuckenbecker are recovering from surgery.

Northville resident Wilma Cushing also is reportedly ill.

Woman's Club program book updated

Northville Woman's Club membership chairperson Rosemary Guard is accepting any requested changes as she updates the group's annual program book.

These changes may include the way names of members are listed in the book, new addresses or others. The Woman's Club Board of Directors asks that all requested changes be submitted to Guard in writing so that the alterations may be appropriately made.

Northville Players to perform

The Northville Players presents "Said the Spider to the Spy," a comedy-mystery in two acts, in three upcoming performances.

Showtimes are Saturday, Feb. 10, Friday, Feb. 16, and Saturday, Feb. 17. All performances will be held at the Northville Community Center at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 each.

The Feb. 10 performance is sponsored by ERA Rymal Symes Realty. Proceeds from this show will benefit Jerry's Kids Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Tickets for this show can be purchased at the ERA Rymal Symes Northville, Novi and West Bloomfield offices.

The Feb. 16 performance is sponsored by the Women's Republican Club of Oakland County, while the Feb. 17 performance is sponsored by the Northville Players.

Director is John Hall. Tickets for all performances are available at the Bookstall on the Main, 116 E. Main St., Northville.

The Northville Players also will hold open auditions for a melodrama to be presented in May and again at the Victorian Festival in September. Auditions will be held Feb. 26 and 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Northville on Eight Mile Road.

For more information call Judy Kohl at 348-2678.

Base Line Questers to meet

The Base Line Questers antiques study club will meet today (Thursday, Jan. 25) at the Cady Street home of Ruth Mary Atchison. Co-hostess is Georgianna Chase.

The program is "Antique Valentines." Jeanne Lorenz of St. Clair Shores will bring her collection of old Valentines and discuss the history of the exchange of sentimental verses. She is president of Cady's Corners Questers in St. Clair Shores. A retired teacher, she is a longtime collector.

Base Line Questers, chartered in 1965 with the National Questers in Philadelphia, is continuing plans to celebrate its 25th anniversary in December. David Beyer shows members of the Northville Woman's Club a copy of a written jewelry appraisal

Discussing diamonds

Jeweler visits Northville Woman's Club meeting

By BRENDA DOOLEY

Everyone has a friend in the jewelry business.

Following a presentation Friday Jan. 19, members of the Northville Woman's Club can now boast such a connection.

The group welcomed David Beyer of Orin Jewelers in downtown Northville to its most recent meeting. Beyer spoke to an interested crowd on "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend."

Beyer accompanied his presentation with a short film — shown despite a few minor technical difficulties — about the mining and making of diamonds, first discovered in Brazil.

When shopping for diamonds, Beyer recommended looking for the "Four C's" — cut, color, clarity and carat weight.

A diamond's cut is determined by trained gemologists and varies from gem to gem; the best grade of diamonds have no color at all; a diamond with good clarity should be free of imperfections; and carat weight refers to a diamond's size — there are 142 carats to an ounce. Beyer estimated the cost of a 2-3-carat diamond at $5,000 to $25,000, depending upon the grade of the stone.

"The four C's are a good reason to go to a certified, reputable jeweler," Beyer advised.

He also strongly urged diamond owners to procure a written appraisal of any jewelry worth $500 or more. The appraisal includes a description of the jewelry piece and backs up the jeweler's word in writing. Appraisals also are good to have when insuring jewelry, Beyer noted.

Written appraisals are usually available for a fee of $25 to $35.

When asked to comment on diamonds as investments, Beyer remarked: "The main investment of any piece of jewelry is the pleasure of wearing it... They (diamonds) do increase in value but only benefit you if you decide to trade them in."

of precious gems, Beyer recommended bringing diamond rings and earrings to a jewelry store for professional cleaning every eight months to a year — mainly to check the prong strength.

"If you prefer to do it (clean the ring) at home, soak it in a jewelry cleaner overnight and rinse in lukewarm water," he added. Most commercial jewelry cleaners, by the way, consist of ammonia and water.

Electronic cleaning also is effective in restoring a diamond's luster.

Although known as one of the hardest, most resilient substances, diamonds may chip around the edges over time if hit hard enough, Beyer noted. Sometimes these chips can be polished out of the stone by a professional jeweler at a cost of $100 to $150, he added.

Elementary schools plan activities

AMERMAN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Amerman students are very lucky. At our Jan. 9 PTA meeting parents were able to see a video sponsored by The National PTA and Keebler Company which helped parents learn more about their child's self-esteem. This meeting was well attended and very informative. A big thanks goes to Mary Ellen King, project director for Northville Youth Assistance and Sue Borchert, Northville Public Schools social worker, who were on hand to answer the many questions from the audience. Amerman parents really DO care!

Our noon hour programs are well underway with students able to choose their noon activities from videos in the library to board games in the game room to computer activities. This is done on a rotating basis so everyone can have a chance at the fun.

Our students will enjoy a half day of school on Feb. 6 due to a curriculum inservice day. Dismissal will be noon.

JES has scheduled for our students on Feb. 8 a program "Mathemagic." This is not a magic show but a clever series of events showing the fun and fascination of manipulating numbers. Students will rediscover the "finger calculator." Mathemagic explores the world of logic puzzles, simple geometry and number tricks. We will be shown the secrets of speedy arithmetic without a calculator. Everyone who finds math fun will want to see this one!

Valentine's Day parties are scheduled for Feb. 14 in the classrooms but a very special party is set for Feb. 16 in the library. This day celebrates "Love of Books Month." Anyone wishing to participate in this program will be helping to enhance our library. Borders Book Shop of Novi is offering a 15 percent discount to Amerman parents. Each book purchased will have the students' signature inside to per-sonalize this gift. The festivities will take place during lunch hour and heart-shaped cookies and drinks will be served. Mr. Jacob will also be on hand to read a few selections. Watch for fliers to come home the end of January.

Spelling bee judging is set for Jan. 31.

The "Reflections" program sponsored by PTA has its judging set for Jan. 29-Feb. 2. Each grade will be judged separately.

Everyone is looking forward to the mid-winter break beginning at the end of the day Feb. 16. School resumes Feb. 26.

Our next PTA meeting is set for Feb. 6 at 9:30 a.m. in the Media Center. We'd love to see you there.

MORAINE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Students viewed a special assembly last week brought to Moraine by the Junior Enrichment Series and sponsored by Detroit Edison entitled S.A.F.E. (Safety Awareness for Electricity.) The children were entertained, educated and enlightened on safety issues relating to electricity. They were each given a pamphlet to bring home to remind them of the safety with electricity issues.

The Campbell Label drive chairpersons, Joan Julow and Jan Weickel report that we need approximately 3,000 more labels by March 1 to bring us to the 15,000 needed to purchase the library and playground supplies we hoped to obtain.

Maureen Pizzuti and Val Corbin expect to obtain any day the newest art prints ordered for the Art Appreciation Committee. They are still looking for a few more parent volunteers to visit the classrooms and discuss the prints with the students.

Mark Feb. 1 on your calendars for the all-Moraine roller skating party at Skatin' Station at 7 p.m. Bring the whole family.

The noon-hour program is full-steam ahead with two 20-minute sessions each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, providing videos, board games, puzzles, computers and plenty of moms to assist. Donations are still being accepted for Battleship, Checkers, markers, paper, etc. For further information contact Shelly Gregerson at 348-3492.

The MEAP test scores were interpreted and explained by teacher Barbara Sixt at the January PTA meeting. Information on what we as parents can all do to improve our children's reading performance was forwarded as requested by those attending the meeting.

The next Moraine PTA meeting will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 9:30 a.m. in the media center.

SILVER SPRINGS ELEMENTARY

Silver Springs students were able to do their holiday shopping the first week of December at the Holiday Shop chaired by Pam Pinkerton, Yvonne Kochoian, and Karen Langham. The smiling faces let us know it was a successful PTA project.

The PTA is holding the second Roller Skating Party at the Skatin' Station in Canton on Sunday, Jan. 28, from 5-7 p.m. We hope to see everyone there.

Our Junior Great Books program is off to a great start. Meg Coponen, Bill Phillips, and Diana Stadtmiller, parent volunteers, are working with fourth, third, and second grades respectively. Media specialist, Marcy Aller is working with the fifth graders.

The Campbell label contest winners for the month of December were Judy Higbee's fourth and fifth grades.

Student Council sponsored a "Stuffed Animal Day" on Jan. 22, when students brought their favorite stuffed animal to school to enter in various events. Student Council election of officers took place on Jan. 23 at their scheduled meeting.

Under the direction of Paula Stachura, parent volunteers are working with first through fourth grade students to write and illustrate original stories. This year the students are publishing their works through the "Once Upon a Time" software series.

Students and staff are looking forward to an assembly on Feb. 9, with the Metro-Clinton Park Naturalists.

The annual Silver Springs Talent Show, co-ordinated by Vivian Henderhan and Kathy Elick, will be held on Feb. 16, at 9:45 a.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies at Silver Springs will be selling Girl Scout cookies until Jan. 29. You may place an order with any scout. The girls are planning a Father-Daughter Dance.

The Cub Scouts held their first Space Derby on Jan. 10. Winners of the derby were: first place—Andy Biddle, second place—Chad Schaffer, and third place—Jason VanWormer. The boys are planning their Blue and Gold Banquet for Feb. 8.

Our Fun Fair and Pizza Supper is coming on March 2. More information will follow next month.

Our next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 13, at 9:15 a.m. in the music room. Please note the date change of the meeting to the second Tuesday. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Super Bowl Sunday

Suggestions offered for football celebrations

By SHEILA PHILLIPS

The third Sunday in January is circled in red ink on calendars across the nation.

In the Novi/Northville area, it's the day when traffic actually ebbs on I-96. When every lane at the super-market is express. And finding a parking space at Twelve Oaks doesn't mean a mile long hike.

No, it is not sale day at Highland Appliance. It's Super Bowl Sunday — the national holiday for pigskin fans everywhere and Christmas for the bookies.

For many Americans, the Super Bowl is the ultimate. The two best teams in football, a bag of cheezy-wheezy, a dish of extra salty beer nuts, a 40 inch screen, and a six-pack — translates into paradise for avid television jocks. After all, what more could a fan want? Except maybe an extra case of his or her favorite beverage.

But if the idea of vegetating in front of the tube and reverting to something that resembles primordial sludge doesn't seem appealing, don't despair.

Even if reruns of the Beverly Hillbillies seem more palatable than watching football, the Super Bowl is the perfect excuse to throw a bash.

The most important step in throwing a party fitting of this sports extravaganza is garnering the proper staples. After all, it is important to have a wide variety of edibles to avoid Monday Morning quarterbacking on the part of the guests.

Pepperoni pizza or six-foot subs are popular choices. But be sure to call the order in early because area carry-outs tend to resemble Grand Central Station on game day.

The standard selection of munchables is also a must. But remember, quantity counts more than quality in this category. The general rule is keep the troughs full in order to keep the couch cows pacified.

To ensure that every guest has front row seats, renting or borrowing an extra television or two is also a good idea. Securing a big screen TV is even better. It allows the guests to enjoy the intrinsic qualities of the game — to feel every crunching thud and actually see the sweat on John Elway's brow as he faces the 49ers defensive onslaught.

Video rental stores typically deliver and hook up these mammoth screens with 24 hour notice. However, there are a couple of glitches.

The best models are already booked. But call around because stores always get cancellations.

Furthermore, this option is definitely not for those with light wallets because one day rentals run around $1,000 for the largest projection models.

However, 46 inch screens typically run about $400 a day and 25 inchers can run as low as $50 to $85 a day.

If the budget doesn't allow for a big bowl bash, many local bars provide a rowdy ambience, complete with brew, munchies and a big screen TV. In addition, many bars offer drink discounts during the game.

Some of the local bars offering Super Bowl festivities, include:

Mr. B's Farm on Novi Road in Novi, which has a big screen TV, will be offering $5 pitchers, $6.50 New York Strip steaks and half price pizzas all day; And Whispers Lounge at the Novi Hilton, which is planning a big bash complete with prizes, drink specials, hot dogs, chicken wings and bratwurst. The bar also has a 10 by 7½ foot screen TV to catch all the action.

The newly opened Shield's Restaurant Bar Pizzeria on Grand River in Novi will feature two 8-foot TVs in addition to several 27" screen TVs, "Happy Hour" prices with touchdown specials, and several Super Bowl games with prizes.

Other area pubs with mega-screen TVs are:

The Starting Gate Saloon on Center Street in Northville; Getzies Pub on Main Street in Northville; And Sheehan's On the Green on Five Mile in Northville.

The Northville Record

Northville Wrestlers top Canton

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville grapplers have taken it on the chin in three meetings with Kensington Valley Conference teams, but the Mustangs continue to dominate the WLAA Western Division and are cruising toward a second straight division crown.

The latest victim was Plymouth Canton, who outscored Northville by a half-point at the Belleville Invite back on Dec. 9, but fell to the improved Mustangs 60-4 on Jan. 18. It was quite an outing for the locals, who were victorious in 12-of-13 matches and added six pins in the process.

"Canton's had some injuries and, I believe, some discipline problems, and it's really hurt their team," Northville Coach Bob Boshoven said. "They certainly weren't as strong as they were earlier in the year. Up and down the line-up, we really wrestled well against Canton."

The Mustangs were victorious in the first 10 bouts. Matt Allison (103) pinned Andy Strahan in 41 seconds; Kevin Khashan (112) decisioned Dave Yack 18-5; Dave Kovacovich (119) downed Jerry Flynn 4-1; Brandon Mardossian (125) clobbered James Carnes 17-1; Jamie Ryder (130) stopped Chris Zelek 2-21; Jarrett Beer (135) took down Kevin Pavlov in 1:55; Kevin Delaney (140) pinned Joe Hunter in 5:50; Garnet Potter (145) outpointed Jim Yack 9-2; Curt Cureton (152) pinned Brian Bogater in 22 seconds; and Bob Townsend (160) turned back Nick Purzer 4-1. The remaining Northville wins came from Jason Vertrees (3:03 pin against Dan White) and Stefan Filkin at heavyweight (void).

The Mustangs are now 3-0 in the division with remaining meets against Livonia Franklin (Jan. 25) and Walled Lake Western (Feb. 1).

"I'd say we're the favorites (for the Western Division title) because we are the returning champs, but we can't take any meet for granted," Boshoven said. "We can't let up."

SOUTH LYON 39, NORTHVILLE 24: The Mustangs went to 0-3 against the KVC on Jan. 20 with a 15-point defeat versus the Lions.

Rocks, Hawks fall to 4-0 volleyballers

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Don't look now but the Northville spikers are unbeaten, tied for first place in the WLAA and playing some solid volleyball.

The latest Mustang victims were Farmington Harrison on Jan. 15 and Plymouth Salem on Jan. 17. Both are Western Lakes League opponents and both fell in straight games last week.

The match with Harrison was an intra-division clash, but the 15-13, 15-8, 15-13 win over Salem was the most impressive. According to coach Paul Osborn, it was Northville's finest outing of the season.

"I was very, very pleased," he said. "The girls played well as a team. They did an excellent job."

In game one, the Mustangs fell behind 4-3 after one rotation, still trailed by a point (9-8) after two rotations, but made a run down the stretch to pull it out. Senior hitter Kristi Turner keyed the comeback by serving for five straight points — including an ace — to give Northville a 13-9 advantage.

The locals dominated game two. The lead was 4-2 after the first rotation and 11-7 after the second. Junior Amanda Parke keyed the final push with two aces as the Mustangs scored four of the game's final five points.

Northville closed out the win in game three, but it wasn't easy. Osborn put two reserves into the line-up and after the Mustangs had built a 10-3 lead, he emptied the bench. The move backfired, however, as the Rocks went on a 9-0 run and eventually tied the score at 11-11. After a series of side-outs, Northville finally scored the final two points on serves by Turner.

"The girls really hung in there and I was very proud of them," Osborn said.

The statistical results were very good for the winners in areas like serving (75-of-84 with five aces), hitting (59-of-76), setting (78-of-82) and serve reception (42-of-56). Individually, Turner connected on 13-of-13 serves with one ace, and added 11-of-12 hits for one kill, while Karen Vogt was 9-for-10 at the service line, with two kills. Middle blockers Colleen Hesse and Jenny Urbahns were an intimidating duo at the net with 19 solo blocks and five kills combined.

NORTHVILLE 15-15, FARMINGTON HARRISON 7-8-11: In all three games, the Mustangs found themselves trailing early but managed to come back and beat the Hawks in straight games.

"I was pretty pleased," Osborn said. "(Harrison) has come a long way and they were tough. All three games were pretty close early, but we did a nice job of coming back."

In the opening game, the Hawks jumped in front 7-4 but Northville scored the final 11 points on serves from Vogt and Parke.

A 4-2 Harrison lead vanished quickly in game two. By the second rotation, the Mustangs were ahead 10-6 and Ashley MacLean closed it out by serving for three straight with the score 12-8.

In the third and final game, the Hawks had a 5-3 advantage early. Northville tied the score at 8-8 after two rotations and then won it by outscoring Harrison 7-3 the remainder of the way. Shannon Price won the final four points at the service line.

The Mustangs served at an 84 percent clip (65-of-77) and missed only two of 70 sets (97 percent) against Harrison — according to Osborn, that's where Northville won the match. The hitting (77 percent) and serve receptions (66 percent) numbers were down comparably.

Turner had another fine outing with 14 hits (in 14 tries) and six kills. Urbahns and Vogt combined for 26 hits and five kills. Parke notched four service aces and MacLean had two aces and two kills.

The Mustangs (4-0 overall, 3-0 in the WLAA) will host Livonia Franklin on Jan. 29 in another important division battle.

Cagers edge Chiefs, 56-55

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville basketball squad trailed Plymouth Canton for all but four seconds in a WLAA Western Division clash on Jan. 19, but a four-foot baby hook by Mike Lang gave the Mustangs a one-point lead and eventually a hard-fought 56-55 victory over the visiting Chiefs.

The win averted what could have been a disastrous week for Omar Harrison's cagers. Northville dropped a road game to Livonia Churchill three days earlier and were in danger of dropping further back in the race for the division title.

With the win, the Mustangs move to 5-3 overall and 2-1 in the Western Division — good enough for a second place tie. It's not a bad position to be in, especially if you consider that Northville has been on the road in six of the first eight outings this season.

"We finally got a home game and maybe that helped us get luck on our side," Harrison said. "We were down the whole ballgame until right at the end when it really counts."

According to Harrison, his cagers played a very poor first quarter at the offensive end. The Mustangs turned the ball over on its first four possessions, and needed some tough defense to keep it close. Canton pulled ahead by 10 points on several occasions in the second quarter and held a 30-23 advantage at the break.

Northville pecked away at the lead in the third and cut the margin to two with under a minute remaining in the third quarter, but Geoff Allen nailed a three-pointer at the buzzer to push the lead back to five (42-37).

"That took a little starch out of us, but we never gave up," Harrison said.

With time running out, the Mustangs narrowed the gap to one on two occasions — on buckets by Scott Meredith and Joe Kaley — and that set up Lang's game winner. Canton tried a desperation half-court shot at the buzzer that wasn't close.

"If we wouldn't have pulled out of the win, we would be in the hole," Har-risson said. "I think the kids deserve a lot of credit for hanging in there. It wasn't pretty, but it was a win."

Lang led Northville with 12 points. Kaley added 10 and Meredith nine. Allen scored a game-high 15 for the Chiefs.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 67, NORTHVILLE 61: The road-weary Mustangs fell to the Chargers on Jan. 16, and a third quarter run by Churchill proved to be the difference.

"It's always tough to win over there at Churchill," Harrison admitted. "They have a very spacious gym and sometimes it's hard to adjust. But I can't take anything away from (Churchill), they are a good ballclub."

Northville held a narrow two-point lead after one quarter and at halftime, but the Chargers went on a 19-11 rally in the third and the Mustangs never really recovered.

"Our history is that we come out after halftime and have trouble in the third quarter," Harrison said. "That third quarter seems to hurt us an awful lot."

Northville did pull to within three a number of times in the fourth, but shot only 67 percent from the free throw line during the game, and it prevented the locals from mounting a serious comeback bid. Churchill, on the other hand, hit on 79 percent from the charity stripe, including 8-of-12 in the final eight minutes.

"We never seemed to get over the hump," Harrison said. "We didn't play very well and we waited too long to make our run. It was one of those nights where things weren't falling in a close ballgame."

Meredith had a fine outing with 18 points and 10 rebounds, but the Mustangs had to play the game without starting point guard Ryan Huzjak, who is out with a case of the flu. Bill Kelley added 13 points and Joe Kaley chipped in 10 points, four assists and five steals. Kevin Hanigan led everyone with 20 points for the Chargers.

Northville tankers turn back North, remain undefeated

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Can the Northville swimmers perform much better?

It's hard to imagine a team — with 44 personal best efforts in the last two dual meets — getting much better, but coach Mark Heiden believes his team is on a steady course toward improvement, with a late-season peak as the main objective.

The Mustangs increased their unbeaten string to four on Jan. 18 with a convincing 51-32 triumph over an always-solid North Farmington squad. Coming off an impressive win over Plymouth Salem, Northville managed to win eight of 11 races against the Raiders — and 19 personal best efforts (including relay splits) didn't hurt.

"I always have confidence in the guys, but they seem to give me several pleasant surprises each week," Heiden said. "We continue to see faster swimmers and we're moving forward at a steady pace. We are right where we want to be at this time of the season."

Junior Eric Newton had another outstanding meet with a win in the 100-yard backstroke (personal best 58.98), a second in the 200 freestyle (1:52.29) and a hand in the victorious 200 medley relay squad along with Matt Hanna, Brad Cook and Andy Wayne. The foursome had a time of 1:44.0, which was just one-hundredth of a second away from making a state meet qualifying cut.

The rest of the Mustang firsts came from Cook in the 200 IM (2:09.02) and the 100 butterfly (57.62), Larry Osiecki in diving (personal best 263.35 points), Bob Holdridge in the 500 freestyle (5:21.4) and the 400 freestyle relay team of Chris Handyside, Matt VanHorn, Holdridge and Wayne (3:30.08).

The runner-up finishes included Handyside in the 100 freestyle (personal best 51.65), Holdridge in the 50 freestyle (23.54), Steve Lang in diving (258.55), Jim Fee in the 100 butterfly (personal best 58.9) and Hanna in the 100 breaststroke (1:06.79). The thirds came from Hanna in the 50 freestyle (2:15.76) and Wayne in the 100 backstroke (1:02.08).

"(North Farmington) is a solid team," Heiden said. "They are always one of the four or five toughest teams in our conference, so it was a nice win for us."

Northville is now 4-0 overall, 3-0 in the WLAA.

BACKYARD BATTLE: When Novi and Northville hook up in athletics, you can count on a spirited, highly competitive battle. But when Novi and Northville go at it on Jan. 23 (after News deadline) in boys' swimming, it has the potential to be a classic.

The meet, held at the Novi High School Pool, promises to be a dandy between two teams ranked among the top 10 Class A squads in the state. The undefeated Mustangs are 4-0 and ranked sixth by the Michigan Swimming Coaches Association. The 'Cats are 4-1 and ranked ninth.

"It will be a good meet. I expect it will come right down to the wire," Novi Coach Mark Winter said. "Individually, we should do well, but (Northville) is strong in diving and in the relays."

Novi's only loss this season was a seven-point decision to Salem — a team that Northville beat by 14. But remember the 'Cats didn't have either Cohen or Rudy Speersneider — two All Staters — in the line up in that loss to the Rocks.

Mark Heiden has extra incentive in the meet because in three years as the Mustangs' coach, he has yet to beat the Wildcats.

"This is the first time in three years we have a real good shot at getting the win," he said.

Megan Graham scored a 6.0 in the uneven parallel bars event versus Canton

Gymnasts score 129 in loss to Canton

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville gymnasts tell at home 137 3-129 25 to Plymouth Canton on Jan 15 — but Mustang Coach Michelle Charniga couldn't be happier with her team's performance

That's because the Northville point total was a season-high As a matter of fact, the team is closing in on last year's school record of 134 2

Charniga and her gymnasts knew that beating the powerful Chiefs was not a realistic goal, so they used the meet as an opportunity to improve, and they did — by 14 points since the season-opener seven days earlier

"It went pretty well," Charniga said "(Canton) will probably be league champs They are very strong and they have great depth But my kids are improving by leaps and bounds We still have room for improvement, so if we keep getting better, we may be able to challenge our school record from last year

"We really didn't have a chance to win, but I was pleased with our effort A 129 is pretty good for the third meet of the season "

It was another outstanding meet for sophomore sensation Mia DeHart, who paced Northville in all four events and grabbed first-place honors in the all-around for the second straight outing with a career-high 35 0 score That averages out to 8 75 per event

"It's the second meet in a row where Mia took the all-around with a 35 0," Charniga said "It's especially outstanding because it came against a solid team like Canton Mia's uneven parallel bar routine is the best I've seen in the state this year "

DeHart grabbed first-place in bars with a 9 05 effort Lee LaChance (8 55) was third with Becky Carney (7 1) and Sue Okasinski (6 95) also competing The Mustangs scored 31 65 as a team, but Canton had five girls in the high eights, and scored 33 95

Northville set a season record with a 33 05 team effort in vault and DeHart was second overall with an 8 6 She was followed by Melanie

"My kids are improving by leaps and bounds. We still have room for improvement, so if we keep getting better, we may be able to challenge our school record from last year."

— Michelle Charniga
Mustang Gymnastics Coach

Apligian (8 35), LaChance (8 15) and Liz Torok (7 95) The lowest Mustang score, in six tries, was a 7 65

In the balance beam, DeHart was again the team leader, with an 8 65, but no other Northville gymnast placed in the top six The other top scores came from LaChance (7 9), Torok (7 45) and Megan Graham (6 8).

In the final event — the floor exercise — the Mustangs reached another high-water mark for the season, with a 33 75, but Canton countered with a 35 2 DeHart was third (8 7) as the top four Northville scores were 8 3 or better The remaining competitors included LaChance (8 4), Tracie Surdu (8 35) and Torok (8 3)

The Mustangs (1-2 overall and in the WLAA) are not scheduled to get back into action until Jan 29 at Walled Lake Western In all, it will be a two-week layoff

"In some ways it's good because the girls want to work on new tricks and it takes about a week to put them into their routines," Charniga explained. "I just hope we don't lose our momentum "

Mustangs of the Week

ANDY WAYNE

The Northville swimmers are undefeated, and a lot of the credit goes to seniors like Andy Wayne who are leaders of the team — both in the water and out In a crucial 51-32 win over North Farmington on Jan 18, Wayne registered a pair of personal best efforts and had a hand in two victories, and that's why we think 'Mustang of the Week' accolades are appropriate Wayne had a record split (22 37) in his leg of the winning 200 medley relay race, added another personal best while finishing third in the backstroke (1:02 08) and anchored a win in the freestyle relay "Andy is a solid swimmer and a great leader," Mustang Coach Mark Heiden said "He's very valuable to have on the team "

KRISTI TURNER

The Northville spikers are off to a 4-0 start — including wins against Farmington Harrison (15-7, 15-8, 15-11) and Plymouth Salem (15-13, 15-8, 15-13) last week — and senior hitter Kristi Turner has been a big part of that success That's why she is one of our 'Mustang of the Week' recipients Against Harrison on Jan 15, Turner was good on 14-of-14 hits, including six kills Two days later versus Salem, Turner served for five straight points, including an ace to key a Northville comeback, and ended up connecting on 13-of-13 serves and 11-of-12 hits with one kill "Kristi has been playing very well," Northville Coach Paul Osborn said

Exercise program offered at Mall

"Put more life in your years"

That's the message of Fitness Over 50, a free one-hour exercise program which is held Monday and Wednesday mornings at Twelve Oaks Mall. It takes place 9:10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor corridor near the east entrance.

The program, conducted by The University of Michigan Division of Physical Education, is particularly aimed at older people and others who would benefit from an invigorating but non-strenuous exercise program.

"The format consists of carefully guided warm-up and stretching exercise followed by light aerobics and a cool-down period, all synchronized to music," according to Prof. Phyllis E. Weikart, director of U-M's Adult Lifestyle Program. "Our objective is to improve the participants' strength, flexibility and energy level through activities which are safe and enjoyable."

Weikart and her staff have been leading the popular Fitness Over 50 classes for 12 years on the U-M campus and for the past two years at Ann Arbor's Briarwood Mall, where it regularly attracts some 125 participants.

By expanding the program to Twelve Oaks Mall, they have made it more accessible to residents throughout Livingston, Wayne and Oakland Counties.

"Twelve Oaks is open an hour before the stores open (at 10 a.m. daily and noon Friday) to accommodate people who want to use the mall for walking," notes Twelve Oaks marketing director Elaine Kah. "This exercise program adds a new dimension to this activity. We are pleased to be a part of the program."

Fitness Over 50 welcomes all interested persons, regardless of their age and current activity level. Call the Twelve Oaks Management Office, 348-9438, for further information.

Twelve Oaks is a major regional shopping center located in Novi on I-96 and Novi Road. The center hours are, Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday noon to 6 p.m.

Requests should be made at least three weeks before the intended speaking engagement. There is no charge for the service and participants will give valuable information about how this service

The Sisters of Mercy Health Corporation is the largest healthcare provider in Michigan.

AEROBICS PROGRAM: Northville Parks and Recreation is offering an aerobics fitness program. The one hour program is held from 9:15-10:15 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 7-8 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, or 8:30-9:30 a.m. on Saturdays.

The fee for two classes per week is $33 — $45 for three classes per week. For more information, call 348-1280.

MERCY CENTER CLASSES: The Mercy Center, located on Eleven Mile between Middlebelt and Inkster Roads in Farmington Hills, is offering a wide variety of swimming and fitness classes in 1990.

Mercy is offering open swimming daily from 6:30-8 a.m. and on Saturday's from 7:30-9 a.m. in addition to several fitness classes: like the 'Trim-Gym-Fitness Class', the 'Pool and Gym Class' and the 'Co-Ed Trim and Swim Fitness Class'. For information, call 473-1815.

WALKING AT THE MALL: People who enjoy walking are invited to use the climate-controlled corridors at Twelve Oaks Mall. Walkers are welcome Monday through Saturday at 8 a.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m.

All walkers must register at the Twelve Oaks security office.

The lower level track is five-tenths of a mile, while the upper level track is eight-tenths of a mile. A complete lap around the mall is one and one-third miles.

Fitness Tips

Wash hands often to prevent catching a cold

The only good thing you can say about a cold is that you usually don't develop serious complications. However, it can cause you discomfort and make you miserable for days. Colds are also known as upper respiratory infections and their symptoms usually include a sore or scratchy throat, sneezing, hoarseness, coughing, a runny nose, muscle aches and pains and fever. Fever is more common in children than adults. In adults, temperatures may run between 99 and 100 degrees, but rarely greater than 101 degrees.

The most effective way to prevent catching a cold is to wash your hands often with soap and warm water and avoid putting your fingers to your nose and eyes. Cold viruses are most commonly picked up from an object a cold sufferer has handled. These cold viruses can live outside the nose for up to three hours. If a healthy person touches a contaminated object and then touches his nose or eyes, the virus can take hold and spread.

While megadoses of vitamin C have been rumored to prevent colds, no clinical trial has ever shown it to be more than marginally useful. Megadoses of vitamin C can cause diarrhea and other problems. Also, no over-the-counter cold preventative has been shown to work.

Researchers have not been able to find a link between cold viruses and the weather, even though colds occur most often in September, October and early spring. Rapid weather changes or getting chilled will not make you catch a cold.

While your doctor can't help your cold, there are some symptoms which may indicate something more serious than a cold is taking place. Seek professional care if you have a fever of 103 degrees or a fever of 100 degrees lasting for more than three days, fever above 101 degrees combined with sore throat lasting for more than 24 hours, severe pain in the chest, head, stomach, ears or enlarged neck glands, or a severe cold that is not better in seven to 10 days. For a child, seek medical advice because of an earache, difficulty in breathing, marked irritability and/or lethargy.

Antibiotics cannot cure, alleviate or prevent a cold. There is little you or your doctor can do to cure a cold and it usually subsides within a week or two. Here are some things to do while waiting for it to pass:

- Fluids ease a dry throat but there is no evidence that forcing fluids does anything but make you urinate. Hot drinks, particularly tea with honey, are comforting. Hot alcoholic beverages or a shot of brandy may sound tempting but alcohol dilates blood vessels and may produce more nasal congestion.

- Aspirin or a substitute can help relieve sore throat pain. Salt water gargle (1/4 teaspoon of salt to eight ounces of water) is also helpful for a sore throat. The same recipe may be used as saline nose drops to clear your nasal passages.

- There is evidence that smoking may increase the risk of getting a cold and lengthen recovery time.

- Bed rest will not cure a cold or alleviate symptoms but may be warranted if you feel exhausted or if your symptoms are distracting painful.

- Exercise if you feel up to it but remember it is not possible to "run a cold off" or sweat it out of your system.

- Increased humidity can sometimes relieve symptoms. Humidifiers can harbor molds (tanks need cleaning daily) and hot-water vaporizers can cause scalds or burns. Use a cold mist vaporizer if you use

- one at all.
- Over-the-counter medications may help to relieve your symptoms. Decongestants help relieve a stuffy nose, pain relievers which include aspirin, acetaminophen (Tylenol, Panadol), or ibuprofen (Advil, Nuprin, Mediprin) can relieve fever and muscle aches. Children under 16 should not take aspirin, which may cause Reye's Syndrome, an anti-stomach can relieve some cold symptoms but can make you drowsy and can increase congestion, cough syrups can relieve a cough but remember coughing serves a useful purpose by clearing secretions from your throat. So cough suppressants (Delsym) should not be used for a wet productive cough unless the cough prevents sleep. For a dry, unproductive cough, suppressants may help you get a good night's sleep.

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

Deal Directly with window factory to save money, trouble

Naturally, it costs less to buy factory direct, but there is another benefit to buying from a factory the service is faster and better

Sometimes when you buy windows from a dealer who doesn't make his own windows, you can get caught in the middle

The dealer may claim that the problem is with the window, while the manufacturer cites poor installation

When you deal with Great Lakes you only have to call one number, because we both manufacture and install your window

Here's what our customers say about Great Lakes:

"I like the windows because they keep the cold air out and we can enjoy the downstairs in the winter" - Sharon Brenton

"Great Lakes windows are easy cleaning, easy opening and nice looking we love them!" - Mr. & Mrs. Hosner

"An economical Consumers Power Bill, thanks to Great Lakes windows. No frosted windows in winter." - Patricia Lindstrom

"I was very impressed with your workmen, they did a very professional job. I'm very pleased!" - Charlene Shelton

One of America's largest retailers is here to serve you

Great Lakes is listed as the 16th largest remodeling firm in the country, according to "Qualified Remodeler" magazine

Take advantage of dealing with the largest window company in this area.

We are the only window firm in mid-Michigan with a full-time service department and a toll-free 800 number just for service.
