FIFTY CENTS

Fest attracts thousands to downtown

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Neither wind nor rain nor tornadoes to the north could dampen the spirits of the thousands who came to Northville last weekend for the city's second annual Victorian Festival.

"I guess if we were going to have turbulent weather we couldn't have asked for better timing, because it didn't affect the event," said festival co-chair Greg Presley. "We couldn't have asked for a better-orchestrated storm."

The stormy weather and the festival took turns dominating local attention Friday through Sunday, with the storm claiming the first news coverage. A tornado destroyed a Novi home and damaged other homes, the Novi Civic Center and the Novi police station Friday afternoon, while strong winds tore down tents being set up on Northville's Main Street for the festival.

One tent anchored with cement blocks was actually blown away, Presley said. It flew east along Main Street before hanging up in a guy wire for the Great Wallendas' swaypole act.

Festival co-chair Laurie Marrs said Friday's heavy winds scared off several of the festival's artists. "Unfortunately, a lot of the art booths were blown over and a lot of the artists didn't come back Saturday," she said.

But the sun made a brief reappearance early Friday evening, just in time for the start of the Victorian Parade.

The Great Wallendas — Enrico and Rietta — were crowd favorites, drawing gasps from the hundreds of people that gathered in the streets for their events.

"They added an element to the event that was lacking last year," Presley said.

Marrs attributed much of the Wallendas' popularity to the nature of their acts. "Everything was up in the air so the crowds could gather around and see it all."

About 150 people in Victorian garb were transported by horse and carriage to the annual Costume Ball at Mill Race Village. "It matched last year's event in charm," Presley said.

Done deal on land?

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

The 926-acre swath of property that stretches between Five Mile and Six Mile on either side of Sheldon Road in Northville Township has long been known simply as "the county land."

After today, that moniker — and the face of the township — may change forever.

On Tuesday, the Wayne County Commission's Committee of the Whole unanimously approved a $31.75-million sale of county property to Huntington Falls Limited Partnership, a team headed by local developer R.A. DeMattia.

Final sale approval is expected to come this afternoon during the Wayne County Commission's regular 2 p.m. meeting.

DeMattia left town immediately after the committee meeting and was not available for comment. An aide said he will be present at the commission meeting today.

Eleven of 15 county commissioners were on hand for the Tuesday meeting and the unanimous vote bodes well for DeMattia's group, the county and the township, Commissioner Susan Heintz said Tuesday.

"I'm very excited; I think the end is in sight," Heintz said. "I feel very pleased and confident that the commission will approve (the deal) Thursday."

County approval would signify the conclusion of nearly 20 years of on-again, off-again bargaining for the sprawling property.

The deal includes an up-front, non-refundable cash payment of $300,000 to the county, with the balance due after a seven-month grace period, during which the developer will attempt to gain township zoning approval.

If the developer cannot get zoning approval, it may elect to drop the project, according to terms of the deal.

Group will not oppose school millage

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Citizens For a Better Northville has taken a stand — of sorts. They're neither for nor against the school district's Sept. 27 millage hike request.

The local group that waged war, and won, recent millage proposal skirmishes — including a city recreation request, the Haller Library plan and the August township fire millage proposal — emerged from a Sept. 12 meeting with school officials with an invitation to join the district's Strategic Planning corps.

That invitation — along with a pledge to allow the district an opportunity to develop a more comprehensive parental involvement plan — was enough to keep the group from actively opposing the schools' 1.28-mill request for the 1990-91 school year.

"We're not coming out in direct opposition to the millage, but it doesn't mean we will support it," said Citizens For a Better Northville's Jeff Hampton. "We will be watching very, very closely the developments in the next few months."

The school district is requesting the one-year millage increase in response to the state's "recapture" of approximately $885,000 in district employee FICA funds and other state aid.

FICA — or social security payments — traditionally is returned to the schools, but this year's state school aid act redirected those funds to poorer school districts.

Hampton said last week's meeting with school officials "left more unanswered questions than we went in with." But he said four proposals tendered by the group "take time to implement."

Those proposals include a temporary freeze on teachers' wages; out-source employment; empowerment; and a voucher system for parents who place their children in private schools.

School Superintendent George Bell, other administrators and members of the school board attended the meeting with Citizens For a Better Northville.

"Your suggestions are well-taken," he said at the meeting. "We invite you to get involved with us (and) help us get through this dilemma."

"If you just want to save taxes at the expense of the school, we are going to be at odds," Bell said.

Hampton and his associates repeatedly questioned pay hikes for teachers. He asked the administration to go to Northville teachers to ask for a wage freeze or a renegotiated teacher contract.

Maples selected to replace city's diseased sycamores

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

City officials agreed last week to replace Northville's sick sycamore trees with healthier maples.

Many of the sycamores, those large-leaf trees with the mottled green and grey bark, are suffering from a fungus called anthracnose. The relatively common disease appears first as round dead spots on the leaves and can eventually defoliate an entire tree.

The fungus also weakens the tree, leaving it vulnerable to insects and other diseases.

More than 25 percent of the city's trees now suffer from the fungus, according to Public Works Director Ted Mapes. The city has some 200 sycamore trees, most of which were planted in subdivisions north of Eight Mile during the 1950s.

Most of the sycamores are located off either side of Taft Road. The trees line Springfield Drive and Springfield Court, Morgan Circle and Morgan Court. Others are scattered alongside roads including Ely Drive, Debra Lane, and Langfield Drive.

Manager Steven Walters recommended that the city replace the dying sycamores with more disease-resistant maples over the next ten years. The replacement program would cost an additional $8,000 a year over the city's existing tree maintenance program, he said, about the same as the cost of a fungicide program for the sycamores themselves.

He pointed out that fungicide spraying would probably be more offensive to residents and could provoke environmental concerns.

Walters added that residents have complained about the existing sycamores for years because they are "dirty trees."

"During the 10-year planting program, we would not cut down any sycamores unless they died and needed to be removed under the normal maintenance program," Walters wrote. "After the replacement maples got established, a sycamore removal program could be implemented based on the condition of the trees at that time."

Walters also recommended that a tree-spraying program be implemented for the city's locust trees, at a cost of about $10,000 a year. He argued that the locusts are an average of 10 years younger than the sycamores, and that their younger age and greater value justified the spray program.

The locusts are also less susceptible to anthracnose than sycamore trees.

Walters told the council that the recommendation was based on a review of the policies of other cities by the public works director, and the recommendation of the city's tree company, Mountain Top Green Ridge Tree Service.

"This is a value judgement here as much as anything," he said. "We could spray the sycamores if they were desirable."

The council unanimously approved his recommendation.

Name to change — product to remain the same

The Northville Record will continue to be the Northville Record, but the name of the company which publishes The Record is being changed from Sliger/Livingston Publications to HomeTown Newspapers.

"We're changing our name, but we're not changing the way we publish our newspapers," said Rich Perilberg, general manager of HomeTown Newspapers, which publishes The Record and five other weekly newspapers in Wayne, Oakland and Livingston counties.

"We think the new name more accurately reflects our approach to publishing community newspapers than did the name Sliger/Livingston Publications," he added.

In addition to The Record, HomeTown Newspapers publishes The Novi News, Livingston County Press, Brighton Argus, South Lyon Herald and Milford Times.

HomeTown Newspapers is a division of Suburban Communications Corporation, which also publishes the 13 Observer & Eccentric Newspapers in Wayne and Oakland counties.

HomeTown Newspapers has a paid circulation of almost 50,000. Together with the Observer & Eccentric, the two suburban newspaper groups have a combined circulation of approximately 200,000.

Perilberg said the new name was chosen in part because it is more descriptive of the company's philosophy about newspapers and in part because it better reflects its position in the suburban market.

"As far as the reader is concerned, nothing will change. We will continue to emphasize local coverage of local people, places and events," he said. "We will continue to be true 'hometown' newspapers."

"But the new name also will enable us to better explain to advertisers the advantages of advertising in our papers."

"Nobody delivers to as many people in our communities as we do," added Perilberg.

The name HomeTown Newspapers replaces the name Sliger/Livingston Publications, which has been used since 1980, when The Milford Times and Livingston County Press were purchased by Suburban Communications Corporation and merged with the Sliger Home Newspaper chain, formerly owned by William C. Sliger.

Sick sycamores to get the ax — so says city

Mapes said that maple trees would be planted between existing sycamores which are already declining from the disease. "We feel the money would be better spent in this fashion," he said. But he admitted that the city's decision could cause some debate.

Mapes argued that ridding the sycamores of anthracnose is no easy task. "Spraying them is not just a quick fix," he explained. "It takes an injection first, and that must be followed up with a spray, and yearly spraying afterwards."

"I think the odds of coming out ahead with a spraying program are not good," Walters added.

"A lot of people like (sycamores) because they look artistic," Mapes said. "A lot of people just don't like the looks of them, but that's a very debatable thing."

County set to okay sale?

If zoning approval is not granted during the seven-month time frame, the developer may continue with the project, but will be obligated to pay the county the balance of the $31.75 million.

The Huntington Falls group proposes to build roughly equal portions of research and development facilities, residential housing, and open space — including a public golf course — on the site.

The proposed 10-year project is expected to add over a billion dollars in property tax revenue to Northville Township's tax rolls.

Township Supervisor Georgina Goss attended Tuesday's county commission session.

"I'm very grateful that the process is coming to a conclusion," she said. Goss said the township planning commission may begin reviewing Huntington Falls site plans "within the next two months."

Novi Dental Center

WHEN WISDOM TEETH CREATE PROBLEMS

If all of your wisdom teeth have erupted without causing discomfort and other concerns, you're one of the lucky ones. Wisdom teeth may cause serious dental problems if left to fend for themselves.

They usually erupt or come through the gums between the ages of 16 and 30, one in each of the rear four corners of your jaw. Not everyone develops all four wisdom teeth, however, and there are even some people who don't develop any wisdom teeth at all. But most people do, and the complications can be painful as well as detrimental to your dental health. Sometimes wisdom teeth become impacted because they don't have enough room to break through the gums (our ancestors had bigger jaws to accommodate wisdom teeth). When this happens, they can throw your other teeth out of alignment. Sometimes they become infected, resulting in a painful and potentially hazardous abscess.

If your wisdom teeth are not causing any problems, perhaps they will not need to be extracted. But they should be checked carefully by your dentist and treated as needed to protect your dental health.

News Briefs

ART LECTURE CORRECTION — The first program for the Northville Arts Commission's 1990-91 Art Lecture Series will be at 7:30 this evening in the Northville High School Forum.

Contrary to the information printed in Monday's Record, ticket information can no longer be obtained from local merchants. Due to concern over late mailings not being received in time for this evening's program, all information flyers were removed from local stores with the closing of the Victorian Festival Art Market.

The NAC and the Record regret any inconvenience incurred because of the misprint. Season tickets for the series of six slide-illustrated lectures presented by Michael Farrell will be sold this evening only at the door. The cost is $30 for the series.

ADDITIONS — In an article about a European trip by Northville students, organizers included teachers Cheryl Gibbs, Elaine Prestel, Steve Romba, Emily Serafa Manschot, Judith Kamerood, Gail MacDonald, and Pat Stebbins; and spouses David Prestel, Peter Kamerood and Peter Manschot.

In addition, an article on a committee reviewing the township woodlands ordinance should have said that Will Gertz from the beautification commission assisted the committee.

BLOODMOBILE — An American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Northville for donations on Saturday, Sept. 22.

The unit will be at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 201 Elm, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information call Jan Paver at 349-7404.

HONEY HARVEST — Maybury Farm will hold its annual Honey Harvest from 1-4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 22-23.

The farm staff will show how the bees store honey in a hive and demonstrate how the honey is extracted. There will also be honey available for sale.

The farm is located within Maybury State Park, on Eight Mile west of Beck.

SOCIAL DANCING — Have you envied the couple that looks so good on the dance floor? Now you can be that couple.

Be ready for that special dance occasion or wedding. Learn the foxtrot, swing, polka, couples disco, and waltz. Learn the secrets of lead and follow. Instruction sheets will be provided for the 10-week class.

Class is at the Northville Community Center, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Mondays beginning Sept. 24. Registration is now being taken at the community center, 303 W. Main St.

FRIENDS DINNER — Tickets are now on sale to the general public for the Friends of the Northville Library Annual Benefit Dinner. The event is to be hosted by John and Toni Genitti at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24.

This year's speaker will be mystery writer William Kienzle, author of "The Rosary Murders" and, most recently, "Masquerade." Tickets are $20 and are expected to go quickly.

This event won a national award for the local Friends chapter as "best perk for members." The dinner has been a sellout since the first one, seven years ago.

For more information call Geraldine Mills at 349-1648.

Developer hopes for bridge

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Singh Development is still hoping for a pedestrian bridge between MainCentre and the proposed Cady Street parking deck. Singh Vice President Michael Kahn said recently.

The company is now retooling the bridge design and rethinking its use to make it more palatable to the city.

"We hope that there's some acceptable compromise ground we could reach which would be compatible for both of us, and we're working on that now," Kahn said.

"The biggest one still is the pedestrian bridge. Our impression is still that it's not completely dead."

Kahn suggested that the problem with the bridge might be its design. "Maybe it was just too heavy and too overpowering," he said. "Maybe there's a better way of doing it which isn't so imposing."

But his suggestion overlooked the Historic District Commission's refusal to act on the company's latest bridge design, despite compliments of the design itself by several commission members.

The commission appeared opposed to the very concept of a pedestrian bridge over Center Street, rather than any particular design.

Kahn said Singh officials are also exploring the possibility of opening the bridge up to public use. In its original form, the bridge was to be restricted to MainCentre residents to allow them secure access to their apartments.

"There's been some concerns expressed about having the pedestrian bridge not be just a private bridge," Kahn said. "We've said we don't have any problems conceptually with that."

But the company does have two concerns, namely safeguarding the residents and keeping the bridge from becoming an attractive nuisance.

"We're certainly not ruling that possibility out," Kahn said. "We don't see any way to do it but there may be one that we haven't thought of."

Singh and city officials met two weeks ago to try and find an acceptable alternative to the pedestrian bridge, but met with little success.

"We weren't able to reach any conclusions," said City Manager Steven Walters. But, he added, "We're not really talking about things that are negotiable here so much as things that are feasible or not from an engineering/architectural standpoint."

Walters said those things included options like an elevator to upper-level apartments to allow MainCentre residents access to their apartments.

Two elevators are already scheduled to be installed in the southeast southeast corner of the building, to allow apartment residents access to the ground floor.

Police run for Special Olympics

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Law enforcement officials are often thought of as stern, unfeeling and forever eager to spring the coils of a speed trap upon unsuspecting motorists.

They're cops. The man. The heat. Oftentimes, the names are worse.

But the heat will shine ample light on a worthy cause, part of which takes place in Northville Township this afternoon.

Members of the township police department will participate in the 1990 Law Enforcement Torch Run, a fund-raising event to benefit Michigan Special Olympics.

Township police will join runners from the Michigan State Police Northville Post, Plymouth Township Police Department, and correctional employees from Scott, Wayne and Phoenix correctional facilities in the local leg of a six-day, 700-mile, statewide law enforcement run.

Local law enforcement and correctional employees have raised $4,000 this year to contribute to the run, according to Lance Schuhmacher, administrative assistant to the warden at Scott Correctional.

Funds will go toward Special Olympics, the sports training and competition program for children and adults with mental retardation, Schuhmacher said.

Torch runners will wind their way from the Detroit area through Livonia and into Northville Township shortly after 1 p.m. today. If all goes according to schedule.

A staging area for the run will be in the parking lot of Scott Correctional. A Plymouth Township police escort will give way to a Northville Township police escort at approximately 1:10 this afternoon.

Runners from the fourth leg of the run will leave Scott at approximately 2 p.m. and proceed west on Five Mile through Western Wayne Correctional before turning back to take Beck Road north.

An additional staging area is located on the east shoulder of Northville Road at Seven Mile in Northville Township. Runners will continue to Little Caesar's on Seven Mile, where they will be met by Special Olympics for a brief ceremony, said Sgt. Ray Garbarino of the township police department.

Runners will leave Little Caesar's shortly after 3 p.m. for the final local leg and finish at Northville Picnic Area.

The Law Enforcement Torch Run was founded in Michigan in 1985 and has become an annual event. State organizers hope to raise $250,000 for Special Olympics this year, Schuhmacher said.

Woman arrested in cigarette heist in the township

A 34-year-old Saline woman was arrested and charged with larceny after attempting to steal 10 cartons of cigarettes from Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, township police said. Police said the woman attempted to hide the cigarettes in her pants.

A 26-year-old Detroit woman was arrested Sept. 9 at 11:23 p.m. after attempting to steal assorted knives from Meijer, township police said.

VEHICLE DAMAGED IN MEIJER LOT — A 1989 Ford Fiesta received an estimated $200 damage while parked in the Meijer lot Sept. 8, according to township police records. The victim said the incident occurred between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Police said approximately 10 scratches covered the entire vehicle.

LARCENY FROM VEHICLE — A freezer box stored in the bed of a 1991 Chevrolet S-10 was broken into sometime between 11 p.m. Sept. 12 and 8 a.m. Sept. 13, according to township police records. Police said a Jamestown Circle resident told them someone stole $860 worth of frozen food from the freezer after breaking a padlock on the freezer door.

LARCENY — A jackhammer, hammer drill, tool box and a water heater were reported stolen from a trailer on Blue Heron West off Beck Road late Sept. 10 or early Sept. 11, township police said. The equipment was valued at $2,950.

CAR WINDOWS BROKEN — Two cars parked in McDonald Ford's used car lot were damaged sometime between Sept. 14 and 17, according to city police reports. The driver's side window of a 1988 Cadillac was smashed by a quart beer bottle, while the windshield of a Ford Tempo was cracked by an unknown object. Damage was estimated at $300.

DRUNK DRIVING ARREST — A Garden City man, 24, was charged with driving while intoxicated Sept. 15 by city police. The man was reportedly speeding west on Eight Mile about 2:47 a.m. and swerved into the eastbound lane, forcing a police officer driving east to take evasive action. The man was arrested and his blood alcohol level was measured at .17 percent, well above the state's legal limit of .10.

FENDER BENDERS — City police reported two accidents last week. A 48-year-old Northville woman heading north on Wing Street the afternoon of Sept. 14 ran into a Northville Public School bus at the Dunlap Street intersection. She was cited for failing to stop.

A Northville man, 66, ran a red light while driving west on Main Street the afternoon of Sept. 17, and was struck by a car heading south on Griswold. He was cited for disobeying the traffic signal.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Crash cracks gas line at high school

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A Northville High School student escaped injury Sunday after the vehicle he was driving crashed into a high school wall and ruptured a natural gas line.

The 17-year-old driver, reportedly lost control of a 1986 Ford Bronco II while turning a corner at the high school, city police Sgt. Dave Fendele said.

The vehicle jumped a concrete curb and struck the school's main gas line on the northern face of the building, he said.

The driver reportedly was attending a morning football meeting. He told police wet pavement caused him to lose control of the vehicle.

Natural gas fumes leaked inside and outside the building, but City Fire Department personnel were able to shut off the gas flow approximately 10 minutes after the 11:29 a.m. accident.

High school Principal David Bolitho said gas leaked into the building through boiler room vents, but the building was aired to clear the fumes.

"It was the main gas line supplying the school," Bolitho said. "The people from Consumer's and our maintenance department worked very hard and fixed the line by three or four in the afternoon."

The driver was not injured and was not ticketed, Fendele said.

Meijer target of bomb threat

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A caller described as "mad" and "serious" directed a bomb threat at Meijer stores in Northville Township and Westland early Aug. 23, according to township police records.

No explosive devices were discovered during a search of the 20401 Haggerty store in Northville, but shoppers apparently were oblivious to the threat.

Police records indicate that shoppers and employees of the retail store were not evacuated during the bomb search.

A Meijer spokesperson at corporate headquarters in Grand Rapids would not divulge details of the company's actions during the bomb threats.

"We're not comfortable discussing it in any detail," said Jennifer White, public and consumer affairs coordinator at Meijer. "Absolutely, safety is a concern for employees and shoppers at Meijer."

"Corporate procedures are very thorough and professional," she added. "(But) we don't want to be the focus of a bomb-threat story."

According to a report compiled by a Meijer employee, a Meijer operator stationed in Grand Rapids received a call about a bomb threat at 12:46 a.m. Aug. 23.

The Meijer operator said the caller was a man and estimated his age in the 40s-50s range. The operator said the man sounded "mad, serious and his words were not slurred."

The man directed the threat at the Northville store and said "You were messing with Joe Fellini," according to the operator.

A police computer check of the name Joe Fellini was negative.

At 12:50 a.m., the caller lodged a similar threat with the Meijer store in Westland.

Meijer personnel conducted a search of waste baskets, restrooms, the perimeter of the building and customer service areas, including the mail and boxed returns, according to the Meijer report.

The report said the caller did not mention the location of the bomb or when it was supposed to detonate.

Township police were contacted by store officials at 1:22 a.m., based on police records. Police acted as a liaison and did not conduct a search of the store, township Police Chief Chip Snider said.

"Very seldom will you see a large corporation (evacuate a building)," Snider said. "Absent of any intelligence . . . that decision is up to management."

Snider said bomb threats against large businesses are not uncommon. He said police would have taken over the search if information indicated the bomb threat was legitimate.

A spokesperson for K mart said threats aimed at their businesses are turned over to police.

"If there's any kind of hint or threat, we notify local law enforcement or the fire department," said Mary Lorenz, K mart manager of public communications. "Generally, we turn it over to them and follow their guidelines."

"If they tell us to get out, we do," she added.

Township police have closed the bomb-threat case, citing a lack of information necessary for continuance.

Mill Race Matters

Fall is back. Soon the leaves will be turning their brilliant hues and with crispness in the air it's a perfect time to visit Mill Race Village, still open every Sunday afternoon from 1-4 p.m.

Next weekend the Northville Historical Society's annual Tivoli Fair will be held at Northville Downs. Tivoli Fair, the primary means of supporting Mill Race Village, has been a Northville tradition for almost 20 years. Stop by and view the crafts by juried artists, Friday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. In addition to supporting Mill Race, fairgoers will have the opportunity to view what is recognized as one of the best arts and crafts shows in Michigan.

Party store owner fined for fireworks

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A Northville Township party store owner was fined $250 Thursday after pleading guilty to a charge of possession of fireworks.

Fares Saleem Lirato, 29205 Nottingham, Warren — owner of Lirato's Party Store, 41106 Five Mile Road — was cited by township police June 26 after illegal fireworks were discovered in his store. According to 35th District Court records, township Assistant Fire Chief Rick Rosselle was conducting an inspection at the party store when he found three boxes and one bag of Class C fireworks.

Township police confiscated the fireworks — valued at $700 — and ticketed Lirato for possession with intent to sell.

Budget reviews set by township committee

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Tuesday's inaugural session of the Budget Review Committee marked the first step in a process to cut up to $400,000 from Northville Township's Preliminary 1991 Budget.

The Budget Review Committee — comprised of Chairperson Betty Lennox, Frank St. Louis, John Sassaman and Wes Henrikson — met Tuesday to review proposed budgets of the planning department, planning commission and the police department.

The review committee's job is to examine budget submissions from all township departments and make budget cut recommendations. Ultimate budget decisions will lie in the hands of the township board.

The committee will reconvene today (Sept. 20) to discuss budgets of the library (1:30 p.m.), finance/debt service funds (2:30 p.m.) and fire department (3 p.m.).

The committee will then go on hiatus until Oct. 9, Lennox said. On that date, recreation and the seniors tour will be reviewed (1:30 p.m.), followed by the supervisor and trustees (3 p.m.).

Youth Assistance (1:30 p.m.), the treasurer and revenues (2:15 p.m.) and hall and grounds, administration and capital outlay (3 p.m.) will be scrutinized Oct. 10.

Also scheduled for Oct. 10 is a Water and Sewer Department budget review (7 p.m.).

The following day will bring reviews of a pair of shared services programs — recreation and senior citizens (1:30 p.m.).

Also on Oct. 11 are reviews of the township manager, constables, and the auto theft grant (2:30 p.m.) and building department (3 p.m.).

An overall review of the committee's work will be discussed at an Oct. 15 meeting (1:30 p.m.), followed by budget recommendations (3 p.m.).

Supervisor Georgina Goss directed the committee to pare up to $400,000 from a preliminary $3.7-million budget tendered by Finance Director James Graham Aug. 30.

Goss told the committee to offer the township board a balanced budget proposal by the Nov. 1 budget adoption deadline.

Lennox encouraged residents to attend the public Budget Review Committee hearings.

"They are open to the public," she said. "Hopefully, somebody will come."

Lennox said hearings will be held in the township board meeting room.

Theater lot redesigned

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

As part of its ongoing quest for more parking, the city council plans to add 33 spaces to the parking lot north of Main Street's Marquis Theater building.

The modified plan will add 33 spaces to the 144-space lot. The spaces arise largely from a more efficient layout, in which longer rows of parking cross the lot from west to east.

City Manager Steven Walters said the lot should be repaved and reconfigured this fall, to relieve the parking burden in what he called the city's most congested lot.

A curb cut onto Dunlap Street just west of Hutton would also be eliminated under the plan.

The new plan also retains some of the current lot's landscaping, while adding landscaping in other areas. "In terms of total area, there's more added than subtracted," Walters said.

Walters estimated the total cost of the reconfiguration at between $60,000 and 70,000. He said he would have a more accurate cost estimate and the position of relocated light poles and utility boxes at the next council meeting.

The project will be funded through general obligation bonds sold last week.

The plan is a variation of one of six plans included in a Downtown Development Authority parking plan for the lot. The council accepted the plan and referred it to the beautification committee for their input on landscaping of the new traffic islands.

Rates are rising down at Rural Hill Cemetery

The cost is rising for eternal rest in Northville, as the city council approved rate increases at the Rural Hill Cemetery.

Grave plots and grave openings and closings cost $50 more under the new rates. Adult grave plots cost $350 for residents and $500 for non-residents, while openings and closings will cost between $300 and $475 depending on the time of the week.

Cremation openings and closings — which used to cost a flat $75 — will go for between $85 and $125 depending on the time of the week.

Council members also suggested increasing several other fees to cover the cost of maintaining the cemetery. Jerry Mittman asked if opening and closing costs could be made more expensive for non-residents than residents, but the council postponed a decision on such a move.

Mayor Chris Johnson asked if the portion of the costs which go into the maintenance trust fund set up for Rural Hill would generate enough interest to pay for its upkeep after the cemetery was full. "Right now we get $3,000 to $4,000 a year just on what we've accumulated," said City Manager Steven Walters.

Mystery writer to speak at dinner

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

Question: What do you get when you combine 20 years in the priesthood with a passion for murder mysteries and a flair for writing that keeps readers up all night?

Answer: William Kienzle and his "Father Koesler" mysteries.

Kienzle, a former Catholic priest who's found great success as a mystery writer, will be the featured speaker at the annual Northville

Friends of the Library dinner this Monday, Sept. 24.

Kienzle, who currently lives in West Bloomfield, is the author of 12 Father Koesler mystery novels, with nearly two million books in print. Kienzle's latest tale of intrigue and suspense, "Masquerade," was released last spring.

According to Geraldine Mills, coordinator of the Friends of the Library event, tickets are still available for Kienzle's speech and the seven-course dinner at Genitti's restaurant, which is completely donated by the Genitti family and staff. All proceeds from the $20 tickets go to the Northville library.

"William Kienzle was our first speaker, the second year we had the dinner," Mills explained. "He is just an outstanding speaker."

Cocktails are scheduled from 6:30 to 7 p.m. Dinner is at 7 p.m., and Kienzle will speak following dinner.

"Masquerade" is a novel that circles around a mystery writer's conference at Marygrove College with the Reverend Klaus Krieg (a popular televangelist and publisher of sleazy books) as the main speaker.

In the novel, Father Koesler has agreed to serve as a consultant for the event and winds up with another real-life murder mystery on his hands when Krieg meets an untimely demise.

Kienzle himself is a native of Detroit and an alumni of Sacred Heart Seminary and St. John's Seminary in Plymouth. He became a priest for the Archdiocese of Detroit in 1954 and was editor of The Michigan Catholic. Kienzle left the priesthood in 1974 and moved to Minneapolis to work as editor of MPLS, a city magazine. He then moved to Kalamazoo to work as assistant director of the Center for Contemplative Studies at Western Michigan University.

In 1979 Kienzle published his first novel, The Rosary Murders.

Since then, he has written a novel every year. Each of Kienzle's novels features Father Koesler, who solves a murder mystery involving Detroit's Catholic community.

Voter registration will be Saturday in atrium

Two local League of Women Voters chapters will mark the beginning of National Voter Registration Week on National Voter Registration Day, Saturday, Sept. 22 by providing a voter registration table in the atrium of the shops housed in the old Schrader Building.

Access to the atrium is available through any of the shops fronting on Center Street or through the parking lot entrance. The table is a project of the LWV of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novl and the LWV in Livonia.

Members of the local league will be available to answer questions as well. The voter registration table will open at 10 a.m. The league hopes to keep it staffed all day.

National Voter Registration Week, Sept. 21-28, 1990, is the focus of the League of Women Voters. Local leagues throughout the country have targeted Saturday, Sept. 22 as National Voter Registration Day, aiming to register many of the 50 million eligible citizens who remain unregistered.

The nonpartisan voter registration campaign coordinated by the league is supported by public officials, many government organizations, and businesses.

A proclamation creating Michigan Voter Registration Week has been signed by Governor James Blanchard as requested by the League of Women Voters of Michigan.

Local leagues will provide nonpartisan voter guides focusing on local candidates and local issues. The state league will also publish a voter guide providing information on candidates seeking state and United States offices. Voter guides will be available in public libraries and in local government offices. Some Voter Guides will be published in local newspapers.

For further information on how and where to register to vote, call the state League office of the League of Women Voters of Michigan at 1-800-292-5823 or contact the local League of Women Voters representative, Diane Rockall, at P.O. Box 603, Northville 48167.

Third-graders go Victorian at the festival

and MATT HOWIE
Special Writers

The Winchester third-graders were antsy during the walking tour of Northville's Historic District.

They were visiting the Victorian Festival. The students were asked to dress in clothing of the period and partake in activities a Victorian youth might enjoy.

Tour guide Marion Zayti led two classes on a tour of Northville's historic homes; however, the children could not wait for the other activities planned for the day.

The suspender-sporting students next visited "Dr. Rudy Randolph's" mobile laboratory, where the doctor demonstrated his Remarkable Roundies, a guaranteed cure-all. (The roundies remarkably resembled M&Ms.) Using secret Tibetan herbs, he demonstrated how he made his potion.

The third-graders traveled the streets of Northville by trolley car. The tour highlighted different periods in Northville's history, from Dunlap Street's century-old homes to the soon-to-be-completed Main-Centre complex.

monies. The students also were treated to a performance of the melodrama "No, No, a Thousand Times, No."

The students carried their lunches in self-decorated cloth sacks, like children of the Victorian age. Most had Victorian-type lunches featuring sandwiches and fruit with the occasional Twinkie thrown in for modern-day spice.

Although they had mixed feelings about dressing in bow ties and long skirts, and groaned at the statement that Victorian children did not have Nintendo, the Winchester third-graders enjoyed their journey back to the Victorian era.

Festival success

Mayor Chris Johnson cited Sunday's old-fashioned box lunch picnic at Mill Race Village as one of his favorite events. "I think all those involved with putting it on deserve to be commended," he said.

Local merchants reported huge profits from the festival. Some store owners actually had to close their doors during the festival to allow the crowds inside to clear out, before allowing more patrons to come in.

Presley said that the food booths set up by the area's non-profit groups had great success at the festival. "They had made their quotas by the end of Saturday, and Sunday was icing on the cake," he said.

Marrs said the 22 non-profit groups who participated in the festival made more than $25,000 in proceeds during the festival. "In fact," she said, "the Northville Parent/Teacher Associations' Coordinating Council made about $2,400 on the box-lunch auction alone."

But one figure that remained up for debate was the number of people who came to the party. While Marrs estimated total attendance for the three-day event at between 40,000 and 50,000, Police Chief Rodney Cannon's figures were lower. "They were hoping for 20,000 and I think they got half that," Cannon said. "I think we'd be generous saying 10,000."

But most agreed that this year's festival was a worthy successor to the first. "We didn't think that we could top last year's event coming in, but I think we did," Presley said.

Judy Kohl, this year's Queen Victoria, also had high praise for the festival. "Even with the weather not cooperating, there was a good turnout," she observed. "The queen had a wonderful time." And being the queen, she had a superior vantage point over the crowd from her royal carriage.

"It brings everyone together," her highness said. She said the festival helps bridge the gap between local merchants, politicians and other residents.

"My thought is, if we keep doing it, we'll get the weather right one of these days," she said.

Teen trespasser

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A Northville teen-ager pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of trespassing and malicious destruction of property.

Ross Northrop, 19, was fined $100 and placed on probation for a year by 35th District Court Judge John E. MacDonald, for trespassing at the Northville High School Jan. 30 with two other teen-agers.

While leaving the building, the three reportedly tore down a 10-by-50-foot Valentine's Day poster constructed by high school students. Northrop had been warned previously to stay off school grounds.

A 16-year-old Northville male who accompanied Northrop that day pleaded guilty to trespassing in the Juvenile Division of Oakland County Probate Court May 1.

A third person, a red-haired male thought to be about 16 years old, was never identified.

Fictitious license

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A Northville man pleaded guilty in court Tuesday to a charge of carrying a fictitious driver's license.

Steven Thomas Nigro, 20, was fined $75 by 35th District Court Judge John E. MacDonald after entering his plea.

Nigro was arrested by city police early on the morning of June 10 after being stopped for erratic driving. Police found a 12-pack of beer and a

New Jersey driver's license with Nigro's name on it in the car.

According to the city police report, Nigro admitted that the license was a forgery at that time.

Nigro also told police that he had "connections" with a Detroit person who sold forged licenses for $35 each, but he would not give police the name of the alleged forger. He also refused to tell them where he bought the beer.

Judge MacDonald dismissed another charge against Nigro, of open intoxicants in a motor vehicle.

Burglary tool case

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A Farmington Hills teen-ager charged with possession of a burglary tool by city police was granted a bench trial in 35th District Court Tuesday.

Jeffrey Allan Martin, 19, was charged with possession of a lock-out tool known as a "slim-jim," often used by police to enter locked vehicles.

A Northville City police officer had stopped Martin on Taft Road early on the morning of June 2 and noticed the tool on his seat, police said. The officer also found three radar detectors in the car; one on the dashboard and two in the back seat.

After his arrest, Martin told police that two of the radar detectors belonged to his friends.

The case goes to bench trial Oct. 16 at 9 a.m., in front of Judge John E. MacDonald.

Engler visit

The gubernatorial campaign trail wound through downtown Northville during the early stages of the Victorian Festival Friday. State Sen. John Engler, front, was accompanied through town by his

Headlee tax cut bill raises questions in state house

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

If majority Democrats in the state House of Representatives have their way, the Headlee property tax cut bill won't go on the ballot until 1992.

"How long can you expect homeowners to tread water among the tax-eating sharks? The question is not 'if' but 'when,'" said Rep. David Jaye, R-Utica, as he sought to move the measure to this year's ballot. Jaye's effort got 46 votes, 10 short of a majority.

Richard Headlee of Farmington Hills and Taxpayers United last Tuesday filed 223,000 signatures with the Secretary of State for a 20 percent property tax cut.

The petitions ask the Legislature either to pass the measure or put it before voters, preferably this Nov. 6. Lawmakers this week will battle again over the "if" versus "when" question.

The House Thursday rejected Jaye's effort to force a proposed constitutional amendment with Headlee's language out of the Taxation Committee. It is known as House Joint Resolution X.

"There are no—zero—signatures gathered to put X on the ballot," countered Rep. Lyn Jondahl, D-Okemos, chair of the Taxation Committee. "Those 220,000 signatures were not enough to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot."

Jondahl added that the 60-day limit for placing HJR X on the ballot had passed.

Local representatives followed party lines on the motion to discharge.

Voting yes were Republicans Gerald Law of Plymouth and Willis Bulard of Highland, who represent Northville; David Honigman of West Bloomfield; and Susan Munsell of Howell.

Voting no were Democrats Kirk Profit of Ypsilanti, whose district includes Salem, and Francis Spaniola of Corunna.

Jaye said he will try this week to discharge another measure—House Bill 5919, with wording identical to the Headlee language—from Jondahl's committee.

If that fails, lawmakers could seek to put the initiative on this year's ballot, which would require amending the election law since the 60-day time limit has passed.

"We could have a special election (in 1991) that would cost $7 million," Jondahl added.

Jondahl contradicted the $600 million figure given by Taxpayers United as the cost of the Headlee measure to the state. The Headlee measure would reduce property assessments and require the state to reimburse local units for lost revenue.

Total lost revenue would be $1.86 billion, said Jondahl—20 percent of the more than $7 billion in property taxes.

The state wouldn't have to pay about $350 million in rebates to homeowners whose property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of income. That would reduce the net cost to the state to $1.5 billion, or about 20 percent of the current state general fund budget of $7.6 billion.

Jondahl said homeowners in Macomb County—biggest source of support for the Headlee drive—would get a better deal from a House-passed assessment freeze bill. Under it, assessments could rise no faster than the rate of consumer price inflation, while under the Headlee measure, the reduced assessment would begin to rise with real estate inflation.

The Headlee measure would apply to all property—commercial, industrial, residential, agricultural and mining. The House bill would apply to homes.

RICHARD HEADLEE

Advisors sought

The state Department of Mental Health is soliciting nominations for membership on Citizens Advisory Councils at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital and Wayne Community Living Services in Northville.

Both are state-operated mental health agencies. Councils are voluntary groups which meet at least quarterly to advise facility directors Walter Brown and James Dehem, respectively, on administrative policy and programs, and to monitor programs, recipient right issues and the operating budget.

Northville is a psychiatric hospital for adults, and WCLS is a placement agency for adults with developmental disabilities. Both serve adults from Wayne County.

Membership is restricted to persons who reside within the service district of the respective facilities. Department of Mental Health employees are ineligible to serve. The department encourages broad representation on councils, to include consumers of mental health services, their parents, relatives, guardians and family members; local elected and community mental health officials; and other interested persons.

Council members are appointed for terms of one to two years by state Mental Health Director Thomas D. Watkins Jr.

For further consideration, interested persons should forward a letter of interest and biographical information by Oct. 15 to Lois Brennan, staff liaison, Mental Health Advisory Council, Michigan Department of Mental Health, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing 48913.

For further information, contact Brennan in Lansing at (517) 373-6594.

Who's the best?

The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce Activities Committee is seeking nominations for the chamber's "Citizen of the Year" award.

The honor will be presented at the chamber's annual dinner at the Novi Hilton on Oct. 12.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors selects the Citizen of the Year according to the following criteria. People nominated for the award should:

- Be involved in and actively support (with time, talents and/or money) organizations that improve the community.

- Be a resident of Northville.
- Show concern for community environment and family. Be involved in plans to implement changes for these three areas.

- Be a role model for community youth and citizens.

All nominations must be received in the chamber office by Oct. 4. Qualified nominees will be notified, but the winner of the award will not be announced until the annual dinner.

Nomination forms are available from the chamber. Anyone with questions may contact chamber Executive Director Laurie Marrs at 349-7640.

Townships consider Canton composting site

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

An agreement between Canton Township and a composting firm is among four composting plans under consideration by members of the Western Townships Utilities Authority.

WTUA Executive Director Ann Bollin last week said sites in Salem and Canton townships head a list of prospective compost collection centers under review by the WTUA, executive board.

None of the proposed sites is in Northville Township, Bollin said.

Canton Township's recent lease agreement with Composting Systems Inc. of Ypsilanti on a 40-acre township land site off Michigan Avenue near Sheldon Road does not mean a composting site is imminent, Bollin said.

But things are looking up for residents of the WTUA communities, she said.

"We don't have a site yet, but we're closer than we were," she said.

WTUA members had hoped to open a composting site at Beck and Geddes roads in July. Those plans were quashed when residents complained that the collection center posed threats to the environment.

The Canton Township Board of Trustees then dropped the Beck/Geddes site from its plans and focused upon the Michigan Avenue site.

A composting collection center is integral to the WTUA communities—Northville, Plymouth and Canton townships. Bollin said WTUA has one year to comply with DNR guidelines under terms of a $250,000 grant awarded WTUA.

The grant mandates a compost operation. If those terms are not fulfilled, WTUA could lose the funding, Bollin said.

"We don't have a site yet, but we're closer than we were."

Ann Bollin
WTUA Executive Director

A composting site would serve as a collection center for leaves, grass clippings, branches and other natural lawn debris. Residents of the WTUA communities would be able to take compost materials to the center at no charge, according to WTUA bylaws.

Bollin said all composting site proposals must pass specific criteria. The question "How soon can you accept yard waste?" tops the list, she said.

Proposals must also include copies of site leases, ordinance reviews and state Department of Natural Resources approval of a revised composting site plan.

Bollin does not anticipate problems with the DNR.

"It's one of the hoops we'll have to jump through," she said. "I think if the DNR has awarded the permit . . . the end results will still be the same."

Bollin would not say when a composting center might be on-line.

"We have one year (from August 1990) to implement," she said. "We are working very hard to proceed and we have to have a guaranteed site."

"I can tell you I have three communities that want to proceed," she said.

Illegal parkers pay in township

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Watch where you park it in Northville Township. You may pay dearly if you don't.

A newly adopted township ordinance has created a parking violations bureau and sets guidelines and a fine schedule for those who stray into restricted parking areas.

After Sept. 20, the fines for illegal parking or standing in Hines Park will be $205. Other fines include $75 for parking in designated handicapped parking areas; $35 for fire lane violations; and $20 for prohibited/posted sign violations.

The fines are an attempt to align violation fees in the communities served by 35th District Court in Plymouth, said police Capt. Philip Presnell.

"The fine schedule was way behind," he said. "I believe it now will be exactly the same as 35th District Court."

The ordinance also provides for a township-based parking violations bureau. The bureau will process all civil infractions involving "the parking or standing of a motor vehicle" in Northville Township, according to the ordinance.

The violations bureau operates out of the township hall.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 95 PARKING VIOLATIONS BUREAU ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING THE AUTHORITY, ESTABLISHMENT AND SUPERVISION OF A PARKING VIOLATIONS BUREAU; PROVIDING FOR THE LOCATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF A PARKING VIOLATIONS BUREAU; PROVIDING FOR DEFINITIONS THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR THE SERVICE OF VIOLATIONS TO THE REGISTERED OWNER, ESTABLISHING THE FORM OF THE NOTICE OF VIOLATIONS; PROVIDING FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF SAID VIOLATIONS, PROVIDING FOR THE PROCEDURE IN ALL CONTESTED OR UNRESOLVED VIOLATIONS; PROVIDING FOR THE SCHEDULE OF FINES; PROVIDING FOR THE SEVERABILITY OF THIS ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE PRESERVATION OF ALL PENDING ACTIONS, AND THE REPEAL OF ALL CONFLICTING ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR THE EFFECTIVE DATE THEREOF. THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS.

Section 1. Authority, Establishment and Supervision of the Parking Violations Bureau

Pursuant to Section 8395 of the Revised Judicature Act, State of Michigan, as amended by Public Act 67 of 1979, being MCLA 600.8395 and Public Act 74 of 1984, as amended, being MCLA 257.742, the parking violations bureau is hereby established for the Charter Township of Northville. The parking violations bureau shall be under the supervision and control of the Township Supervisor.

Section 2. Location and Administration of the Parking Violations Bureau The Supervisor shall, subject to the approval of the Township Board, establish a convenient location for the parking violations bureau, appoint qualified Township employees to administer the bureau and adopt rules and regulations for the operation thereof.

Section 3. Definitions

As used in this ordinance:

a. "Parking violations notice" means a notice, other than a citation, directing a person to appear at the parking violations bureau and to pay the fines and costs, if any, prescribed by the ordinances of the Charter Township of Northville for the parking or standing of a motor vehicle in violation of said ordinances.

b. "Parking violations bureau" means the bureau established by this ordinance for the processing of all civil infractions involving the parking or standing of a motor vehicle within the Charter Township of Northville.

Section 4. Service of Parking Violations Notice

In a civil infraction involving the parking or standing of a motor vehicle, a copy of the parking violation notice need not be served personally upon the Defendant but may be served upon the registered owner of the motor vehicle by attaching the copy to the vehicle. Such parking violation notice may be issued by either a police officer of the Charter Township of Northville, or by any other Township employee duly authorized by the Township Board to issue such a notice.

Section 5. Form of the Parking Violation Notice

The issuance of the parking violation notice shall be deemed an allegation of a parking violation. Such parking violation notice shall set forth the nature of the offense, and the date, time and location of the offense. In addition, the parking violation notice shall also indicate the length of time in which the person to whom the same was issued must respond before the parking violations bureau. It shall also indicate the address of the bureau, the hours during which the bureau is opened, the amount of the penalty scheduled for the offense for which the parking violation notice was issued, and advise that a civil infraction citation will be sought if such a person fails to respond within the time limited.

Section 6. Settlement of Violations

No violation may be settled at the parking violations bureau except at the specific request of the alleged violator. No penalty for any violation shall be accepted from any person who denied having committed the offense, and in no case shall the person who is in charge of the bureau determine, or attempt to determine, the truth or falsity of any fact or matter relating to such alleged violation. No person shall be required to dispose of a parking violation at the parking violations bureau, and all persons shall be entitled to have such violation processed before a court having jurisdiction thereof if they so desire. The unwillingness of any person to dispose of any violation at the parking violations bureau shall not prejudice him/her or in any way diminish the rights, privileges, and protections accorded to him/her by law.

Section 7. Procedure for All Contested and/or Unresolved Violations If a parking violation notice is attached to a motor vehicle, and if an admission of responsibility is not made and the civil fines and cost, if any, for the violation are not paid at the parking violations bureau, a citation may be filed with the court having competent jurisdiction thereof and a copy of the citation may be served by first class mail upon the registered owner of the vehicle at the owner's last known address. The citation shall consist of a sworn complaint containing the allegations stated in the parking violation notice and shall fairly inform the Defendant how to respond to the citation. Thereafter, the citation for the parking or standing violation shall be processed in the same manner as provided in Public Act 510 of 1978, as amended.

Section 8. Schedule of Fines

The amount of fines for parking and standing violations processed by parking violations bureau shall be as follows:

a) Prohibited/Posted Sign Violations	$20 00
b) Handicap Parking Violations	$75 00
c) Hines Park Parking/Standing Violations	$205 00
d) Firelane Violations	$35 00

Section 9. Severability

If any section, subsection, clause, phrase or portion of this ordinance is for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate, distinct and independent provision, and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion hereof.

Section 10. Repeal of Conflicting Ordinances

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect.

Section 11. Savings Clause

The repeal provided for herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending litigation or prosecution of any right established or occurring prior to the effective date of this ordinance.

Section 12. Effective Date

This ordinance shall take full force and effect upon publication thereof. (09-19-90 NR)

County announces free lunch plan

Wayne County Regional Educational Service Agency announces the policy for free and reduced-price meals and free milk which will be followed by all schools (public and non-public), pre-schools, child care centers, Head Start programs, and residential child care institutions in Wayne County participating in federally reimbursed Child Nutrition Programs during the 1990-91 school year.

These programs include the National School Lunch Program, School Breakfast Program, Special Milk Program, Commodity School Program and the Child Care Food Program.

All public school districts, non-public schools, child care agencies, Head Start Programs, and residential child care institutions must use the following household size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

FOR FREE MEALS OR MILK

Household size	Income/year
1	$8,164
2	$10,946
3	$13,728
4	$16,510
5	$19,292
6	$22,074
7	$24,856

FOR REDUCED-PRICE MEALS

Household size	Income/year
1	$11,618
2	$15,577
3	$19,536
4	$23,495
5	$27,454
6	$31,413
7	$35,372

Each Additional Household Member (Free): +$2,782

Each Additional Household Member (Reduced): +$3,959

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced-price meals or free milk. Organizations participating in the Child Care Food Program may make meals available at no separate charge.

Application forms will be sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) monthly source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc) or the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on foodstamps or receives AFDC, (2) names of all household members; (3) social security number of head of household or primary wage earner; and (4) the signature of an adult household member or primary wage earner.

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced price meal or free milk benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced price meals or free milk for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy, each public school district, non-public school, preschool, child care agency, Head Start Center, and residential child care institution determines an official or officials to review applications and approve or disapprove eligibility. A parent or guardian dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the hearing official whose name and address is in the letter to parents. Each district, school, center or agency's main office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If any member of a household believes that the household has been discriminated against, he/she should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Township buys new computers

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

The township board Thursday agreed to spend $3,770 to purchase a pair of new personal computers for the finance and treasurer's departments.

Speed and accuracy necessitated the purchase, Finance Director James Graham said in a letter to the board.

Graham said current computers used by the treasurer and finance departments operate at approximately half the speed of the new 286/12 Mhzdorf Personal Computers he requested.

"The current computers have had a lot of down time and don't work with certain applications due to hard disk problems," he said. "With the purchase of the new computers, both departments will be able to work with increased efficiency."

Other brands of computers were not considered, Graham said, because the township uses and is serviced by Nixdorf.

The computers were items included in the 1990 budget, Graham said.

Part V, Section 2 contains amendments to CABO One Family and Two Family Dwelling Code, 1989 Edition. Part V, Section 2 contains various amendments to the CABO One and Two Family Dwelling Code, 1989 Edition, which have been deemed appropriate to meet the particular needs of the Charter Township of Northville.

Part V, Section 3 contains various amendments to the BOCA National Property Maintenance Code/1990 which have been deemed appropriate to meet the particular needs of the Charter Township of Northville.

Part V, Section 4 contains various amendments to the BOCA/National Plumbing Code/1990 which have been deemed appropriate to meet the particular needs of the Charter Township of Northville.

Part V, Section 5 contains various amendments to the BOCA Basic National Mechanical Code/1990 which have been deemed appropriate to meet the particular needs of the Charter Township of Northville.

Part V, Section 6 contains various amendments to the NFPA National Electrical Code, 1990 which have been deemed appropriate to meet the particular needs of the Charter Township of Northville.

PART VI — TOWNSHIP ELECTS TO LOCALLY ENFORCE BUILDING CODES

Pursuant to Section 8 of Act No. 230 of the Public Acts of 1982, as amended, being Section 125.1508 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, the Township of Northville hereby elects not to be governed by said Act, known as the "State Construction Code Act of 1972", and the code for which provision is therein made.

PART VII — REPEAL OF PRIOR ORDINANCES

Ordinance Nos. 82 and 88 and all of their amendments are hereby repealed as of the effective date of this Ordinance.

PART VIII — PENALTIES

(1) A person or corporation, including an officer, director or employee of a corporation, who commits or who has managerial responsibility for the commission of any of the following acts shall be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned for not more than ninety (90) days or both:

(a) Violates a provision of the 1990 Building and Mechanical Code Enforcement Ordinance of the Charter Township of Northville or a provision in any of the Codes adopted by reference by that Ordinance.

(b) Constructs a structure or building in violation of a condition of a building permit.

(c) Fails to comply with an order issued by the Department of Building and Code Enforcement of the Township of Northville or the construction Board of Appeals.

(d) Makes a false or misleading written statement or omits required information or a statement in an inspection report, application, petition, request for approval or appeal to the Department of Building and Code Enforcement of the Township of Northville or the construction Board of Appeals.

(e) Refuses entry or access to an inspector lawfully authorized to inspect any premises, building or structure pursuant to this Ordinance.

(f) Unreasonably interferes with such an inspection.

(2) With respect to subdivision (c) of sub-section (1), a person is guilty of a separate offense for each day that he fails to comply with a stop construction order validly issued by the Department of Building and Code Enforcement of the Township of Northville and for each week that he fails to comply with any other order validly issued by the Department of Building and Code Enforcement of the Township of Northville. With respect to subdivisions (a) and (d) of sub-section (1), a person is guilty of a separate offense for each violation of any provision of this Ordinance or rules promulgated hereunder and for each false or misleading written statement or omission of required information or statement made in an application, petition, request for approval or appeal to the Department of Building and Code Enforcement of the Township of Northville or the construction Board of Appeals. With respect to subdivision (b) of sub-section (1), a person is guilty of a separate offense for each violation of a condition of a building permit.

PART IX — PENDING PROSECUTIONS

Any prosecution arising from a violation of Ordinances repealed herein which prosecution may be pending at the time this Ordinance shall become effective, or any prosecution which may be commenced in the future for offenses committed before the effective date of this Ordinance, may be instituted, tried and determined in accordance with such provisions of such ordinances in effect at the time of the commission of the offenses.

PART X — SEVERABILITY CLAUSE

If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstance, shall be for any reason adjudged by a Court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance and the application of such provisions to other persons, firms, corporations, legal entities or circumstance, but said judgment shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of the Ordinance thereof directly involved in the case and controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered to the person, firm, corporation and circumstance then and there involved. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of the body that this Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not been included in this Ordinance.

PART XI — EFFECTIVE DATE

This Ordinance is declared immediately effective on the date of publication which shall be on September 20, 1990

PART XII — ADOPTION DATE

This Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Township of Northville, Wayne County, Michigan, at its regular meeting duly called and held on the 13th day of September 1990 and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Kids Club now at Winchester

By MAUREEN NASZRADI
Special Writer

The Northville school district's before- and after-school program has been expanded to Winchester Elementary School.

The 13-year old program, called Kids Club, already existed in Moraine and Silver Springs elementary schools. All three programs are underway for the year.

Kids Club is held 7-9 a.m. and 3:30-6 p.m. Mondays through Fridays during the school year.

The program provides a relaxed environment for elementary students to pursue individual interests and/or participate in group activities, field trips and projects, said Mary Kay Scullen, the district's early childhood specialist.

Scullen said Kids Club meets the child-care needs of dually employed and single-parent families.

"Without this (type of) program, kids would be at home alone," Scullen said. "That's not safe."

Kids Club provides a safe, fun place for kids, she said.

"We're geared toward parents who work full- or part-time," Scullen said. "There's a great deal of flexibility in the Kids Club program."

Parents may enroll their children on a fixed or variable schedule. However, Kids Club does not allow for drop-ins. Careful attention is paid to attendance for the children's safety, Scullen said.

Some parents enroll their children in Kids Club because there are not a lot of children in their neighborhood, Scullen said.

"It's an opportunity for them to interact with kids their age," she said.

Scullen said the response to the Winchester program has been greater than expected. Fifty pupils are enrolled, with 25-30 attending on a daily basis, she said.

Winchester pupils previously had been bused to participate in the Silver Springs program. A similar arrangement still exists for Amerman Elementary School children, who are bused to Moraine.

The Moraine program's daily average attendance is 65-70 children, Scullen said. At the Silver Springs Kids Club, 35-40 pupils attend daily. Adding another Kids Club decreased the number of children at Silver Springs, Scullen said, although overall enrollment is expected to continue to increase.

The early childhood specialist said she hopes eventually a Kids Club will be formed in all the elementary buildings.

"That would be ideal," Scullen said. "A Kids Club in each school would eliminate transportation between schools, the kids could be in the same building they attend school in, and parents like the idea of the neighborhood concept."

Adding the Winchester program reduces some transportation of pupils between schools, Scullen said.

The new program also reduces the number of different buildings some kindergarten children attend. Previously, a Winchester kindergarten could attend A.M. Kids Club at Silver Springs, kindergarten at Winchester and Wondergarten at Main Street School.

Wondergarten is the district's half-day child care program designed for kindergarten children. The program complements the kindergarten program and is offered in the morning or afternoon.

It is better for the children when building rules are the same during the school day as well as before and after school, Scullen said.

Activities include games, dramatic play, dancing, gym play, reading and listening, block building and outdoor play, Scullen said. More structured activities include crafts, baking, planning meetings, stories and movies.

"There's always a place they can do homework or a place to read," Scullen said. "Our goal is to provide a range of materials so we meet the needs of a wide range of ages."

Equipment and supplies suitable for kindergarten through fifth-grade level children are provided.

The Kids Club program is self-supporting and operated through the Northville Public Schools Early Childhood Center. The program is open to district and non-district residents.

College cooks

Cooking with Style is a four-week course being offered by Schoolcraft College Continuing Education Services beginning Saturday, Sept. 22.

The class will meet from 1-3:30 on consecutive Saturdays, and will be taught by Chef Mary Brady, whose column and recipes appear in the Northville Record and Novi News.

The course is designed for the novice or seasoned home cook to learn new ways to prepare nutritious meals. Three different dishes will be demonstrated each week, with tastings at the end of each session.

Areas to be covered include poultry, seafood and fish, vegetarian and American regional cooking. Recipes will be shared.

The fee is $50 for most students, $34 for senior citizens.

Additional information is available by calling 462-4448. Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

Only choice: passage of school millage plan

"Between a rock and a hard place" pretty well sums up the position of the Northville School District — and, by extension, Northville voters — with regard to the current school financing mess.

As you may know, earlier this year the state legislature — determined to do something to equalize school funding across the state — "recaptured" some state aid money from more well-off school districts. It then gave that money to the less well-off districts.

Northville was not financially prepared for the size of the loss. The district quickly put together a proposal which will appear on the ballot next Thursday, Sept. 27: a 1.28-mill tax increase for one year, specifically to make up the money the state took away.

There is action on other fronts. The Northville district is involved in a lawsuit against the state, arguing that the recapture of funds was illegal. And state Sen. Jack Faxon, doing a passable imitation of Don Quixote, recently introduced a bill to repeal the act effecting the recapture.

In the meantime, Northville faces a big budget crunch if it does not find some money fast. The school administration's list of looming budget cuts includes the layoff of 23 teachers, significantly larger class sizes, deep slashes in athletics and outright elimination of many other co-curricular activities.

While 1.28 mills will further increase an already heavy tax burden, turning the proposal down is an unacceptable alternative. The proposal deserves passage.

It may be tempting to play Monday-morning quarterback with the school board and district administration: Didn't they see something like this coming, and couldn't they have better prepared for it? Set aside more money to get over the rough spots, like Novi, Plymouth and other districts managed to do?

Well, maybe they could have. But the district's budgets have been tight for several years. The lack of a larger rainy-day fund has been a concern in budget discussions, but school officials have been at a loss over what to do about it. Higher taxes or budget cuts would have been the only options, and the officials decided instead to stay the course. We would be at a loss to point to what specific $900,000 worth of cuts we would have made over the last year or two to avoid the current problem.

It's easy now to look back and say that some budget cuts over the past few years might indeed have been prudent, but that time is past. Voting against the millage proposal as a statement against the schools' lack of foresight would be an unfortunate mistake, because such a vote would punish only the students. They of all people hold no blame for the muddled state of Michigan school funding.

Denial of this proposal would have an enormous negative impact on the Northville schools, undeniably an exemplary and successful district. Particularly worrisome is the potential loss of co-curricular activities, without which schooling loses much of its value. Teacher layoffs and larger classes would further erode education in Northville.

Of course, the depth of the cuts weighs against the impact of the proposed tax hike. While in today's world, and today's Northville, any increase will be hard to bear, the 1.28-mill figure remains a relatively small share of the total tax burden. Figure your added tax under the proposal: for every thousand dollars of assessed value on your property, you'd pay an additional $1.28 this year. Is education worth it?

And remember, this proposal is only for a single year. Next year we can all expect another near-crisis in school finance, but this is today's situation, and it must be resolved.

Support the tax increase next week. The depth of the cuts a denial would cause — and the short term of the proposed increase — make a yes vote the only real option.

Solution for Black's: leave the stuff outside

So now the City of Northville and Black's Hardware find themselves with yet another temporary resolution to the ongoing dispute between the two. Two city representatives will now meet with people from the store to try to hammer out a more permanent solution. One simple answer springs to mind: Let Black's Hardware win.

The ordinance prohibiting outdoor storage — while giving the city council the right to grant exceptions — sprang from good intentions about maintaining an attractive face for downtown. Robert and Donna Black's repeated requests to the city clearly go beyond the limits in the ordinance. Yet just as clearly, the things they ask for are not unreasonable. If the Northville City Council and the Board of Zoning Appeals can't or won't provide a permanent variance, then it's time to rewrite the ordinance.

Outdoor storage at Black's heated up as an issue back when the store was at its old location on the same block. Back then city officials expressed different concerns: everything was more cramped, both inside and outside the store, and the parking lot behind the store was trickier to navigate. This issue came up season after season, with road salt, topsoil, flower pots or whatever.

Now everything is a great deal less confined and outdoor storage really does not cause any problems. It doesn't look bad, either; the casual passer-by probably doesn't even give it a second glance. Whenever the city has granted Black's some kind of temporary permission for outdoor storage, the store has maintained the area very well. The Blacks' recent suggestion for a screening fence shows they're willing to compromise, and the city should not reject that idea without some more thought.

Different downtown stores have different needs and opportunities for outside storage, and the city needs to find a way to address this. Even the head of the BZA told the council the ordinance needs clarification.

Whatever the resolution, it should permit Black's to store outdoors permanently. It would be a tragic mistake for Northville if a regulation like this ended up driving away a business like Black's. The city would be unreasonable to disallow outdoor storage at the current location, and it shouldn't have to come to that.

Michael Malott

"I realize some people are saying I'm a hero, but that doesn't matter — I'm just glad we are all okay."

Cindy Vockler

Cindy Vockler said that Friday only hours after she quite possibly saved the lives of a neighbor, the neighbor's 2-year-old son, and her own 20-month-old daughter. Vockler pulled her van into the driveway of Linda Knockart's home, at 45567 Amherst in the Yorkshire subdivision of Novi, only seconds before a tornado struck the house.

A total of ten homes in the area suffered some damage as a result of the tornado, but none were hit quite as hard as the Knockart house. It was completely demolished.

And it is quite possible that Knockart, who was standing at the window checking out the weather to see why the sirens were sounding when Vockler pulled up, and her son, who was in the living room of the home watching television, could have been seriously hurt or killed when the house came down.

What saved them from suffering anything more than property damage and a good fright was Vockler's quick action. Vockler had spotted the funnel cloud approaching, grabbed her daughter, ran in and warned Knockart. The four of them just managed to get under the basement stairs when the twister hit.

There were others who exhibited heroism:

• Det. Jerry Walker, of the Walled Lake Police Department, and three unidentified construction workers. Walker was on White Plains Drive in the Yorkshire subdivision investigating a police matter when the tornado came through. According to the account of the incident given by Novi's Deputy Chief Richard Faulkner from a report submitted by Walker, he spotted the tornado before it touched down. Rather than heading for cover, he paced it. So when the twister hit the Knockart residence on Amherst, Walker was able to immediately notify Walled Lake dispatch of what had happened.

Collapsed buildings are far from the safest place to be. There is always the possibility of further collapse, fire, gas leaks. Nonetheless, it was Walker, with the help of the three unknown construction workers, who pulled the women and their children from the basement.

• Julie Kaufman, Orchard Hills fourth-grade elementary teacher. Kaufman was escorting her class of fourth-graders, who had been at Novi High School for swimming instruction in the pool, out a back door of the building to their bus when the tornado struck. But the back door of the school locks when it is closed and Kaufman and her class could not re-enter the building. With the funnel cloud and flying debris in sight, Kaufman had to make a choice, none of them ideal — search for an open door (could take too long), keep them outside (too much debris in the air), or load them on the bus (not typically the recommended place to be during tornadoes).

Kaufman chose the latter. She knew it was a calculated risk. She had students hide under the seats and the bus shook as the twister passed by. But it turned out to be the right choice. Other than a good scare, the children were unharmed.

• Novi High School assistant principal Jennifer Cheal and biology teacher Don Crockett. The two are credited with being the first to spot the funnel cloud as it approached the high school. Their alertness in watching the weather and quick action to inform the school's front office, thereby allowing the principal of the school to call back students who were departing to go home, may well have saved lives.

Like Vockler, most people who exhibit heroism don't think of themselves as heroes. They didn't think about their actions, they just saw that something needed to be done in an emergency situation and did it. And that's all the more reason we should applaud their actions.

The power of nature

Bob Needham

The artists have packed up their work. The Queen no longer roams around town. Dr. Rudy Randolph and his medicine-man show are nowhere to be seen. And, alas, they removed the beer tent from in front of The Northville Record office.

The second Northville Victorian Festival has come to a close.

In spite of less-than-ideal weather throughout the weekend, the festival has to be considered a success on all fronts. Exact attendance at this type of thing is tricky to guess — actually, even a ballpark figure is tricky to guess — but there were some number of thousands of people in town all weekend, and everyone seemed to be having a good time. My feeling wandering around the streets was that, overall, more people showed up this year than last — and I think the weather, overall, was worse this time around.

It was a great party once again, and everyone involved deserves congratulations. The weather was unfortunate — let's hope it's not getting to be a tradition — but in spite of it all, people showed up in droves. This is a real testament to the attractions of the festival.

And there were attractions. The parade Friday evening was a nice kickoff, and got things underway on a positive note after the storm blew through. Then Northville got its first look at the Great Wallendas — and Northville was basically awestruck by the daring swanpole routine. (People were saying the Great Wallendas were better than Jon Oliver, the escape artist who served as last year's centerpiece entertainment. I'd rank them about even; they were both great.)

The storm scared off some of the Art Market exhibitors, but enough remained to put on a terrific display. Everyone had fun with the games and food booths, and the box lunch auction raised a lot of money for the PTA Coordinating Council. My wife and I were lucky enough to attend the Victorian Ball on Saturday evening, and it seemed, impossibly, even nicer than last year.

Am I going overboard here? I can't help it. The Victorian Festival is establishing itself as a real focus of community activity and involvement, and doing a great job at it. By the time Sunday evening started to approach, and the festival was being put to bed, the streets were still full of people enjoying themselves. I heard more than one comment about something someone planned to do, or somewhere they planned to go, "the next time we come to Northville." And that may be the festival's biggest success of all.

Letters

Support school millage request

To the editor:
Through the capricious actions of the state Legislature in July, Northville is faced with a school budget crisis. After the 1990-91 budget was approved by the Board of Education, the State decided to "recapture" or take back funds, leaving a deficit of $885,000. This shortfall has a direct impact on the quality of our educational endeavors, from kindergarten through 12th grade.

The Northville school system enjoys both a state and national reputation and is a major reason why Northville's growth in the 1980s was unprecedented. We cannot afford to reduce the quality of our educational services through the elimination of teaching positions, certain sports activities and enrichment programs. These positions and programs are what separate an outstanding school system from others. The impact of any cuts, especially the layoff of teachers, would carry well beyond the 1990-91 school year.

The request for 1.28 mills, for only one year, to cover the deficit, is both prudent and reasonable given the alternative of reducing educational opportunity in Northville. A home with a market value of $200,000 is assessed at $100,000. The 1.28 mills, therefore, will cost us $128, or around $10 per month, the cost of one large pizza. This amount is not too much to ask.

We all are frustrated by recent state actions but the state has little sympathy for affluent school districts. A negative vote on the millage not only will reduce educational opportunity for Northville students, it will have little or no impact on state legislative attitudes concerning education funding.

There is little doubt that an outstanding school system benefits the entire community and has a direct impact on property values. All voters are urged to vote yes on Sept. 27 for passage of the one-year millage so Northville can sustain the high level of excellence in its school system.

Lynda A. Baca
Richard H. Brown Jr.
Co-chairs, Citizens for Quality Education

To the editor:
I am a sophomore at Northville High School and I am very concerned about the millage. I know 70 percent of Northville doesn't have children in the district, but their votes are going to affect our lives both now and in the future. They are going to fire around 20 teachers, which means more people to a class; less personal help.

They are going to cut cheerleading, middle school, freshman, and JV sports. Only varsity sports are going to be kept running. Sixth-graders and elementary school students are going to be affected most by this. If they want to try out for a sport they'll make it, if they're lucky. In junior or senior year. Our sports teams are going to be worse and people who were expecting scholarships for college might have to give that hope up, especially if that's the only way they can go to college.

They are going to cut all after-school activities including the substance-abuse chapter. This chapter really helped us a lot. We would be worse off without it. Also, you can't really get into a college without extracurricular activities. If you apply to a college and it's between you (with no after-school activities) and another person (with a lot), they'll pick the other person.

They are going to have less class variety and we'll have to switch around our schedules in the middle of the semester. We might have to switch out of a class if they don't have it anymore. I am asking all of you to think twice about voting no because of what it will do to us, the students of Northville.

Flag column was very offensive

To the editor:
I found your (Bob Needham's) column "Consider putting out a flag" very offensive.

Obviously, you are new to the Novi-Northville area or you would realize that although we are a small community, we are full of pride. Pride of our neighborhoods, our town, our country and THE FLAG.

Many of our local boys have gone to foreign battlefields to defend our flag — some never returned. Some of our local boys are in the Middle East now.

Obviously you have never had to put your life on the line for your country, i.e. flag, or your mockery and sarcasm about the flag would not be so evident.

I am proud to be an American and I am proud of the flag, as a lot of people in our community are. I praise that woman who called you on the phone. I hope this town is filled with more people like her, and less like you.

Have you ever attended a Memorial Day parade and service at Rural Hill here in Northville, or don't you comment on affairs like that?

Your phrase about the purpose of your article is your own personal "flag of sorts" STINKS. The two previous editors, Jean Day and Ann Willis, had more patriotism, and were willing to write about it, in their little fingers than you seem to have in your whole body.

Maybe you ought to talk to a veteran who has served in a war, or a Gold Star Mother who has lost a son in a war, and see their feelings about the flag.

I have enclosed a poem that I would love to have you publish. Maybe it would make you and other skeptics see why flying our FLAG is important.

"Long May it Wave"
by Loretta Sage

Some think it's just a piece of cloth
That hangs upon the walls;
They see it with their eyes alone, and care not if it falls.

They easily forget its past, its value they deny.
They turn away and block the sound of every soldier's cry.

They use the first amendment
To justify their deeds;
They burn, they tear, they trample,
To satisfy their needs.

But I, for one, see something else
Each time our flag goes by.
I "see" the graves of soldiers past,
Who wept, and fought, and died.

I hear the echoes from the past,
I see the brave men fall,
I read the names in Washington
Engraved upon "The Wall."

I feel the stirrings in my heart
Each time its colors fly;
How could anyone harm our flag,
I cannot fathom why.

I stand up tall, with pride and joy
Each time I see it wave;
I feel a chill, I shed a tear,
These moments we must save.
Two hundred years of struggle,

Have made our country great;
Now time has come to hear our voice
No longer can we wait.

It's time that we as citizens
Display our national pride;
Let's stand up and be counted,
Don't be ashamed and hide.

We must protect our precious flag,
The cost is not too high;
And even though it sounds real true,
Long may Old Glory fly!

Melodrama video?

To the editor:
Did anyone out there take a video of the melodrama performed by the Silver Springs fourth-graders in the bandshell on Friday morning of the Victorian Festival?

If so, would you please contact me at 348-1261, as I would like to make a copy.

Thank you.

Good suggestions

To the editor:
Mary DiPaolo's recent column, which dealt with hiring free-lance writers, offered some solid basic suggestions to companies looking for help in that area. By following her suggestions, business people will be able to ensure quality written communications, however many of the services she advised businesspeople to request are likely to add a great deal to the cost of their project.

Just as I do, most professional writers charge $30-$50 per hour for the time spent on a project. Most clients understand that these charges are relatively low when compared to those of other consultants and professionals, and are satisfied if the overall cost of producing a finished project seems reasonable. The hours that must be spent on the extra services she suggested — outlines, rough drafts, and unlimited rewrites — can push the total cost of a writing project out of the realm of reasonable before it can even be started.

Rather than requesting these extra services, business people would be wise to spend some time planning their project before contacting a professional writer. They will find that it saves a great deal of money and many headaches if, prior to the first meeting, they have written some notes about the following items:
□ Audience to be addressed by the communication.
□ Information that must be communicated in the finished piece.
□ Results they expect from distribution of the piece.

Often this bit of planning can eliminate the need for costly extra services.

Simple answers may be the best

I took my eight-year-old son down the driveway to wait for the school bus. He's in third grade this year in a public school that seems to be challenging his mind and nourishing his spirit.

As he climbed aboard the bus, I had the proud/scared feeling most of us experience when our children do something big by themselves like going to school or camp for the first time. Fall is like that. You feel sad/happy at the end of summer and turning of leaves; children go off to school; summer is over; the work year is coming.

Since schools are likely to be a big topic in this election year, a quick tour of the educational horizon might be in order.

• Internationally, kids going to schools run by our competitors — Germany, Japan, England, France — learn more, work harder, go to school longer and contribute more to the work place than our kids. With European economic integration coming in two years, we'll have even a harder time competing with their educated, skilled work force than we have for the past 10 years.

• Nationally, George Bush said he wanted to be the "education president." It's hard to see what, if anything, has come of it. He had to be pushed into setting concrete goals at the national education summit this year. Today the word from the White House is that his political operatives are scared of setting tough national standards for fear they'll be accused of nationalizing education and scuttling local control.

• In Michigan, things are no better. A national report released last week gave Michigan a "C" for attempted school reform, while a national survey by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching found one-third of Michigan's 78,000 teachers would grade the state's reform attempts from "D" to "F." This is not encouraging, especially since school reform has been one of the burning issues for at least 10 years.

Why the lack of progress?
Both main reasons stem from the fact that people have been concentrating on the wrong thing.

First, a disproportionate part of the debate has focused on finance — on how much money should go to which school districts and on what kind of taxes should be levied to pay for education. But school finance is one of the biggest "no winner" issues in all of Michigan.

Gov. James Blanchard and the House have been fighting with John Engler and the Senate about what to do and whom to blame for lack of action. Business lobbies have looked on education finance reform as an excuse for a big tax cut. The Michigan Education Association has looked at it as a chance to get more money for its members. Suburban districts have looked on in horror as more money has gone to poorer areas.

In politics there is a rule of thumb: Don't concentrate on issues that are a zero-sum game — that is, where any result involves a winner and a loser with no possibility of mutually beneficial compromise. School finance is such an issue. As long as everybody concentrates on this part of the problem, nothing will happen.

Moreover, the evidence is that the amount of money spent by a district has little to do with the kind of education kids actually get. The average salary of a Michigan elementary teacher ranks sixth in the nation, and our secondary teachers place ninth.

Second, much discussion of school reform has concentrated on process, not outcomes. There is no end to the list of ways to improve the process by which schools are managed, and all assume the inevitable consequence will be better learning by the kids.

"Schools of choice," chant the free marketers, while some even argue for vouchers.

"Empowerment of teachers," claim some in the teaching profession, while others want fundamentally to change the ways teachers are trained.

The State Board of Education urges concentrating on learning outcomes, then puts into place a complex and bureaucratic way of defining just what is to be done.

Spouting endless rhetoric sounds good but doesn't get much done.

Maybe I'm simple-minded, but it seems to me there is a way to get something done. It was suggested by the report of the Commission on Skills in the American Workforce, on which I was happy to serve.

The commission suggested employers be asked what skills they felt were needed for entry level jobs. Literacy; numeracy; ability to read a paragraph and write two or three sentences expressing the main ideas; ability to work with other people.

Next, the commission proposed that a body independent of the school system be asked to create a way of examining accurately whether people had mastered these basic skills. The commission argued that it seemed senseless to ask schools to judge their own work, especially when a high school diploma has come to have no meaning at all.

Give those who show they have mastered the basic skills a "certificate of initial mastery," to validate to employers — and themselves — their skills level.

Last, let the market work. Employers confronted with two applicants will hire the one with the certificate of initial mastery. Schools faced on one hand with employers who demand skills, and on the other with children and parents who expect skills, will have to figure out how to teach them.

Simple-minded? Radical? Maybe the times call for simple-minded radicalism.

To the editor:

Tonight I had the opportunity to attend a meeting at the Northville Board of Education. The purpose of this meeting was to answer questions raised by a small group in our community regarding the upcoming school millage election. Present were Dr. Bell, Dr. Knighton, Dr. McMaster, Mr. Street (Director of Business and Finance), Mr. Petrie and members of the Board of Education, Mike Tyree of your paper as well as four members of the "Citizens for a Better Northville."

After listening for over two hours, I left with some very strong feelings. First, I was very impressed with the caliber of leadership and skill reflected by the representatives of our school system. I feel confident that we are in fact getting a great value for our tax dollar.

The scope of the curriculum as well as the progressive direction of the educators is impressive. They solicit community input as is evident by Strategic Planning and are responsive to the community. Results speak for themselves — our students score high on standardized testing and are well-prepared to compete with any district following graduation.

Second, it is abundantly clear that a handful of opportunistic individuals calling themselves "Citizens for a Better Northville" are captivating far more attention than they merit. This small group of misdirected, negative people is given too much credibility and press coverage based on what I have seen. They have great energy for fighting tax proposals regardless of their merits, without providing any viable alternatives to better our community.

I was disappointed with how poorly these "concerned" citizens listened to the answers to their often, pointless questions. Of those present at this meeting, only one had two children in Northville Schools (for a total of seven days as of today), and none had any grasp of the operation of the schools, the curriculum, the citizens/community advisory panels, or even the PTA. They had no realistic solutions, nor did they leave me with the feeling that they understood the issues. However, we will certainly hear about their opinions in your paper over the next few weeks. I only wonder what it is that they really want for our community?

Third, we chose to live in Northville because of the schools and what we perceived to be the high values placed on things like education, libraries and recreational facilities. The high taxes we all complain about are happening everywhere — not just Northville. This current problem was dumped on us by the state and needs to be corrected in Lansing. Failure of this millage will hurt all of us. Our schools are a reflection of our values and priorities. I do not want my children in inferior schools and I will not live in a district where the citizens do not place a high value on education.

Finally, I hope that the Northville Record will do more to inform our community about issues that require their input. Do some real investigative reporting of the facts. All too often I read (on pages one through three) the views of the candidate that lost, or the next crusade of the anti-tax mavericks, along with their pictures. Tell me about the people we elected or the people that we hired. I want to know what they are doing and what they are thinking. Take a strong stand to support vital projects that will determine the direction of our growth and development. When your paper is ready to make these commitments to Northville, we will have a better community.

In 1990-91, the difference between being a first-rate school district and a mediocre one will be 1.28 mills.

Edward G. Sarkisian

To the editor:

The future leaders of this community and country are in your hands, we are what you make us. If the millage does not pass, Northville High School will be compelled to relieve 12 teachers, many after-school activities, and a very special counselor at NHS, our drug counselor, Charlie Stilec.

Mr. Stilec has contributed to such activities as SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) and many other supportive groups which help make Northville High School what it is. After-school activities keep us out of trouble and off the streets. Taking away 12 teachers from our staff would be like taking the big toe on one of your feet — without it you can't walk. Without these teachers neither can we. We are the future, the learners, the teachers and the decision makers. Please vote yes to pass the millage.

Kim Decatur

To the editor:

It was recently brought to my attention that if the millage, which will be decided upon Sept. 27, was not to pass, that many cuts would be made of valuable staff at Northville High School. Being a Northville High School alumnus in the class of 1990, I feel I reached my maximum potential through being a student, but mainly through the many extracurricular activities available. It is my understanding that the student assistance program could be the first of many programs to be cut.

Speaking as former student congress president, former SADD vice president, and member of Northville Action Council, I am very aware of the progress and extremely valuable contributions made by this program to NHS and the Northville community.

During the past four years I saw the Northville SADD chapter increase from a mere five students to 75 committed members. These students, under Charlie Stilec, student assistance program coordinator, were willing to fight for change, to spend hours raising money, to do drug awareness skits, to support MADD and to spread the message about drinking and driving.

None of this would have been possible without the excellent direction and counseling of Charlie Stilec. His dedication has changed lives and this community as a whole. I do not feel I or many of my peers could have survived or reached success in high school without him.

If the millage does not pass, cutting this program could have detrimental effects on the Northville community. Please consider the options. The accomplishments over the past four years would not have begun without this department. Please don't let long hours, enthusiasm, and perseverance go to waste.

Please let the millage pass.

Lee LaChance

To the editor:

On Sept. 27 the residents of Northville will be voting on a school millage issue that is of monumental importance. I urge all voters to approve this important millage. The quality of education for Northville's youth is at stake. The failure of this millage will result in the cutback of teachers, athletic opportunities, and various programs that are vital to our children's physical and emotional well-being.

The program I am most concerned about that would be eliminated is the student assistance program, coordinated by Charlie Stilec. This excellent program offers students evaluation, intervention, support and follow-up when the pressures of life are difficult to deal with, and especially when chemicals are involved as part of the total picture.

We need to give some serious consideration to the needs of our youth when we approach the voting booth. Please don't sell them short; they need us more now than ever.

Patricia Gilberg

To the editor:

Despite my efforts in opposition to the additional "recapture" imposed upon out-of-formula school districts, the 1990-91 State Aid Act withholds significant funding from the Northville Schools.

I have always been proud of the achievement level of the Northville Public Schools' students, as well as the sound management of resources by the board and administration. I am pleased that the board has initiated legal action against the state for the reduction of funding, but I can assure you that such litigation will not have short-term results impacting the current fiscal crises.

I will vote yes on the 1.28 mills to make up lost funds and urge Northville voters to do likewise.

Someone Is Taking Lots Of Money Out Of Your Checking Account.

Your Bank.

At Standard Federal, we think that you — not your bank — should take money out of your checking account. So we have low minimum balance requirements and no checkwriting fees, no matter how many checks you write.

As the chart shows, our minimum balance requirement for free Regular Checking is just $250.00. That's lower than the average of five other major area banks. They also charge you more — and we save you more — if you dip below the minimum. And we offer you a variety of other ways to enjoy free checking, too.

The bottom line: The most you can pay annually for Standard Federal Regular Checking is $36.00. Our five competitors' average fees are $177.60. What more can we say?

Plenty. We offer free ATM use at over 150 locations including select Standard Federal branch offices and participating 7-Eleven stores. And right now, we'll pay you up to $10.00 for your unused checks from another bank when you open any checking account with us — Regular, Interest-Bearing or Money Market.

Care for your skin with earth-friendly solutions

By PATRICK KEATING
Special Writer

The Body Shop skin care store at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi has proven that there is a middle ground between maintaining profits and being environmentally friendly.

"We opened a store in Novi because the mall is strong in terms of sales and a customer base," says Pat Korosi of the Body Shop.

Only open a month, the Body Shop in Novi is already the top selling store of the three in the Detroit area. The other two, also recently opened, are at Lakeside Mall and the Fairlane Town Centre.

According to Korosi, director of Canadian operations in the U.S., the Body Shop offers head-to-toe skin and body care products including shampoos, sunscreens, shower gels, and facial cleansers.

According to Korosi, the Body Shop was founded in the United Kingdom 15 years ago by Anita Roddick, who felt there was a limited choice in skin-care products. Roddick offered bottled products in five sizes with prices which average about 50 percent less than other skin-care companies. She also wanted to keep the skin care products simple, so the ingredients are very basic such as aloe, honey and cocoa butter. No animal by-products are used, nor are animals used for testing.

"We feel animal testing is unnecessary," Korosi says. "There is already enough information on the subject." All products are made in the U.K. by the Body Shop, which carries their own products exclusively.

Today, the Body Shop is a worldwide franchise operation with stores in the U.K., Belgium, the Middle East, Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Scotland, Canada and the United States. There are plans to open stores in Japan in the fall.

The Novi store is part of the Canadian franchise, which is headquartered in Toronto. Other U.S. stores in the Canadian franchise are located in Wisconsin, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York State (outside New York City) and Chicago. The franchise is owned by Margot Franssen.

The car wash industry's annual awards for outstanding performances and excellence were presented at the recent summer convention/exposition of the International Carwash Association in New Orleans.

An Award of Merit for outstanding cooperation with the car wash industry and the International Carwash Association was presented to Bud Belanger, of BELANGER INC., headquartered in Northville, Michigan. With his father and his brother, Belanger has built one of the leading equipment manufacturing companies in the car wash industry.

Belanger has served on the ICA Board of Directors and was the ICA's Manufacturing vice president. During his tenure on the board he helped initiate ICA affiliation with the March of Dimes and established methods for all sectors of the industry to participate in the fight against birth defects.

He is very active in civil affairs and numerous car wash industry projects.

The National Association of Accountants, Detroit Chapter, will feature Thomas Borg of THOMAS BORG & ASSOCIATES speaking on "Customer Service" at its 6 p.m. dinner meeting today at the Marriott-Livonia. The Marriott is at I-275 and Six Mile Roads. Cost of the dinner is $20 per person, and guests are welcome. For reservations or more details, call Mary Newland at 522-6711.

Bud Belanger is honored by the International Carwash Association

Money Management

If you have been wading through the pre-approved credit applications flooding your mailbox without a clue as to how to distinguish between the offers, you need a lesson in the ABC's of selecting credit cards.

But first, consider that credit now costs more than ever. According to the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, only 10 percent of personal interest is deductible against income taxes in 1990. Next year, the deduction will go the way of the Edsel. Keep this in mind when you are signing the dotted line for a credit card charging 19 percent interest.

DECIPHERING THE FINE PRINT

In the past, the best way to find out the true cost of a credit card was by taking out a magnifying glass to read the fine print on the back of the application. There, in microscopic letters, you could discover the facts about such clever traps as hidden transaction fees and two-tier interest rates. Last September, all of this changed. The Federal Reserve Board now requires credit-card issuers to state clearly and conspicuously their methods for calculating balances as well as their annual percentage rates, grace periods, annual fees and other related information previously tucked away in the fine print.

With the terms of a credit card carefully laid out before you, selecting the right card for your purposes should be easier than in the past. That is, if you know just what the terms mean.

ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE

One of the least understood, but most important factors to consider when selecting a credit card is the annual percentage rate (APR). The APR is the rate of interest a bank charges on your credit card balance. Obviously, different issuers charge different rates. What is not so obvious is that the banks may also use different methods of calculating the interest. And some methods cost you more than others.

The first method, and the best for you, is the adjusted balance method. With this system, the interest charge is based on the amount you owe after subtracting your payment from the previous balance. Say your card has an APR of 18 percent, or 1.5 percent a month. If your previous balance was $500 and you pay $400 on the account, the 1.5-percent interest on $100 yields an interest charge of only $1.50 for the month.

The most costly way to calculate interest is the previous balance method, in which you receive no credit for payments made during the billing period. Instead, you are charged interest on your balance at the end of the previous month. So, using the same example as above, your interest cost for the month would total 1.5 percent of $500 or $7.50 — 500 percent more than you would pay under the adjusted balance method.

Another way to calculate interest is known as the average daily balance method. In this case, the bank adds your balance for each day in the billing period, and then divides the total by the number of days in the billing period. So, if you make that $400 payment on the 15th day of a 30-day billing cycle, your total balances for the month are $9,000 (15 days at $500 plus 15 days at $100). Dividing the $9,000 by 30 days, you arrive at your average daily balance: $300. As a result, your interest cost for the month is 1.5 percent of $300, or $4.50.

As you can imagine, the differences in interest costs can add up quickly if you tend to carry substantial balances on your credit cards. For this reason, CPAs urge you to pay special attention to the method of calculating interest used by any credit card company to which you apply. THE GRACE PERIOD

The term grace period refers to the period starting when an item is posted to your account and ending when the interest is first calculated against it. As with interest rates and calculations, the grace period will vary greatly between card issuers.

Some credit card companies start charging interest as soon as an item is posted to your account. If it gets posted on the first day, you will be charged for a full month of interest before you even get a chance to pay your bill.

Your best choice is a credit card that allows at least a 25-day grace period. That way, you can pay your account in full each month without being charged interest.

ANNUAL FEES

At one time, only travel and entertainment cards charged an annual fee, but no more. Generally, bank credit cards charge from $15 to $50, or more, for the use of their cards. On occasion, you will find a card advertising no annual fee. Just make sure that the offer is real. One gimmick to watch for is the card with no annual fee that mysteriously converts to an annual-fee card in the second year — without the issuer notifying the card holder in advance.

SELECTING THE RIGHT CARD FOR YOUR NEEDS

Unless you can find a card that combines a low annual fee with a low interest rate and a long grace period, you must be willing to compromise a bit. If you consistently carry a balance on your card, you should concentrate on finding a card with a low interest rate. After all, at 18 percent interest, debt can double in only four years. On the other hand, if you tend to pay your balance in full each month, your best bet is a card with a longer grace period and a lower annual fee. The interest rate should be of little concern to you since you generally will not incur interest charges.

In either case, be sure you review any credit-card promotional materials as closely as possible. What sounds like an unbeatable deal may turn out to be an unscrupulous gimmick. For example, a company may advertise a credit-card interest rate far below that of competitors without making it crystal clear that the low rate applies only to balances above a certain point — perhaps $3,000 or higher. CPAs also advise you to look out for unreasonable late payment fee, elevated cash-advance charges and over-limit penalties.

Remember, before you apply for any credit card take time to read the entire agreement, including the fine print.

Twelve Oaks store cares for skin, earth

According to Korosi, the Body Shop tries to arrange trade with the country that needs it the most. In the near future, the Body Shop plans to start a rain forest range of products using seeds, berries and nuts from tropical rain forests. These products can be offered safely without endangering the ecosystem of the rain forest countries and at the same time provide revenue to citizens of those countries.

Korosi says the Body Shop is very environmentally aware and often uses window displays to promote information on subjects such as acid rain.

"We're trying to use the store to educate people about environmental concerns," she says. All chemicals used in the Body Shop's products are safe and non-toxic. They don't leave resins or have long-term effects on the environment.

Additionally, customers can return their plastic bottles for refills and receive 5 or 10 cent refunds for their efforts as well. While this policy began because Roddick couldn't afford to buy new bottles when she first started out, it continues because of the company's environmental concerns. It would be less expensive to recycle glass products, but more dangerous to customers in slippery bathroom conditions.

All products have a complete ingredients list on the label. Additionally, there is a product information manual which lists all the products and their ingredients. With it, a person with allergies can see which products are safe and which are not for her particular needs.

The Body Shop carries a small line of men's skin care products including after-shave and deodorant and is planning to begin a mother and baby care range next year. The shop also carries its own perfume oils which customers can wear individually, or blend to achieve a special aromatic effect.

There are, however, no plans to expand into other areas, such as selling bathrobes and towels, preferring to concentrate primarily on skin and body care products.

"We don't want to dilute our image by carrying bathrobes and towels," Korosi explains. "Even though they are bath products."

Customers are able to sample products in the store. They can also place their comments and suggestions into a suggestion box.

The Body Shop has been open in the United States for two years and has about 25 stores in this country. They've been open ten years in Canada and have 82 stores there. Since they've only expanded as far west as Chicago, there is still a lot more U.S. territory to cover.

Korosi believes that in five years there will be Body Shop locations throughout the world and the company will be one of the leading retailers of skin care products. In the U.S. alone she estimates there will be some 500 stores.

Korosi encourages people to visit the store, saying they may find it to be a different experience.

Employees move more than ever

Economic expansion, changing market conditions and corporate takeovers all played a part in the relocation of 550,000 U.S. employees in 1989 at a cost to U.S. companies of more than $18 billion, according to the Employee Relocation Council and Runzheimer International, based on a study commissioned by Century 21 Corporate Relocation Network.

The average cost per employee was $37,000 and ranged from a low of $4,000 to a high of $100,000. The majority of employers hired third-party corporate relocation firms and national real estate networks to help the relocating employee sell the current home, move the family and buy another home.

The study named the traditional U.S. business centers — New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Washington, D.C. — and the more recent additions to the upper echelon in corporate relocation — Atlanta, Dallas, St. Louis, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Orlando and Pittsburgh — as the top 10 markets for corporate relocation.

Although a few high-profile corporations recently moved from higher-priced Manhattan headquarters, most companies simply prefer to stay put. Consequently, the New York City area and other major business centers on the list should continue as major centers for corporate relocation.

These cities combine well-earned business reputations with civic and cultural amenities still unmatched by the smaller markets. Employers are also successfully luring employees to the larger markets with comprehensive relocation benefit packages that more than compensate for cost-of-living expenses.

The research showed similarities about the smaller markets on the list. All are growing transportation hubs and have lower relative costs of living and housing. Commercial real estate is substantially less expensive than in larger cities. For example, Class A office space in Plano, Texas, lists for $10-$16 per square foot, compared to $27 per square foot in White Plains, N.Y. Many of the smaller markets offer tax incentives and liberal zoning codes.

The Lewiston Contemporary home that's cozy and classy

Think of the Lewiston as a Rolls-Royce with a luggage rack—stylishly elegant but practically appointed.

Designed to entertain, this sprawling contemporary home forms a palatable sandwich of usage, with liveability at both ends and formality in the middle. The successful marriage of cozy and classy begins outside, past a twin-gabled front and down a wood-posted, stone-lined entryway. Beyond the double doors, angled beams produce a dramatic, spiral effect while skylights bathe this view-lot home in soft sunshine.

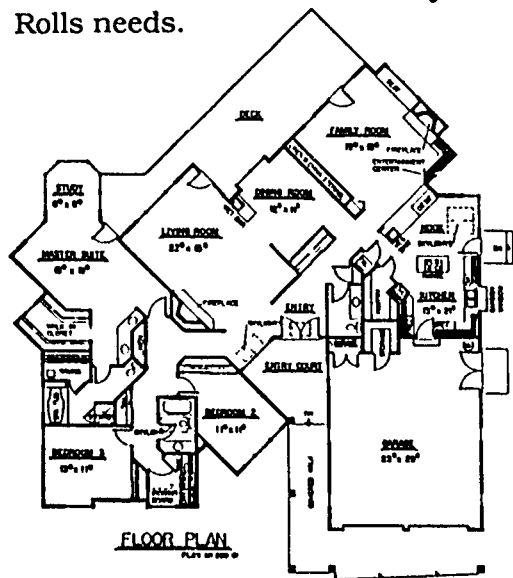

Off the foyer, a crackling fireplace beckons from the living room. In the adjoining dining room, a wet bar stands ready for a good cheer. Like a mountaintop cathedral, both window-lined rooms boast panoramic views of an expansive deck and points beyond.

Past the public area, exchange the tie and evening dress for jeans and slacks, succumb to the creature comforts of the family room as it swallows you like an easy chair with fireplace, entertainment center and deck access.

The informal mood continues to a country kitchen designed for cooking and conversation. Meals come easy with a full freezer, island range, pantry and a second vegetable sink that looks across a breakfast bar into the family room.

At the other end of the house, a master suite fit for any penthouse embraces the breadwinner in well-deserved space, luxury and repose. For quiet times, a study banked with seven bay windows extends from the king and queen's room and offers sanctuary. Another stress reliever, the sauna, sits just beyond the walk-in closet on the way to the spa-tub, shower and double vanity.

Even the two-car garage goes above and beyond; a private golf cart entrance. Just what every Rolls needs.

For a study plan of the Lewiston (208-01), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

Your end-of-the-summer garage sale was a success. The few things you didn't sell you plan to toss.

There's that cracked St. Francis birdbath, for instance. And that tattered U.S. flag.

But don't be too hasty in heading for the trash. Etiquette, tradition, local ordinances and common sense guide the way you can clean up and clear out. Here are a few tips:

No thunderbolts and lightning please

The book is old, tattered, no longer legible and also the Bible. Normally you'd simply toss it but you wonder what the author would want done with such heavenly prose.

The Rev. Roland Preisler, pastor of Fellowship Bible in Troy, gives his old Bibles away or tosses them out in private.

"We tend to make objects like Bibles sacred, and in the process we miss the message. The important thing is what's on the pages, not the page itself," he said. "I see no reason why you couldn't just throw it out, although I can understand that some people may not be happy about that."

R.I.P. Rover

The shoe box casket is ready. The neighborhood kids are beginning to arrive for the funeral. The shroud, made from an old kitchen towel, holds the family's pet gerbil.

Is it OK to turn the backyard peony bed into a grave?

A spokesman from Birmingham's animal control division said state laws regulate burial of large farm animals, such as cows and horses. Smaller domestic pets are permitted in backyard graves if the animal is interred four feet underground.

A spokeswoman for Gasow Veterinary Hospital in Birmingham said pets should be wrapped in a tarp or other cloth and then placed inside a box or other container to prevent animals from digging up the deceased. The hospital charges a cremation fee for pets it collects and sends to a Taylor pet crematorium and cemetery.

Be still my beating heart

The letters are written on manila paper in Crayon and are tied with shoe laces. Still, they're from your first love and you're afraid your spouse will see them. Should you dramatically fling the letters into a roaring fire or bury them under a full moon?

"As a hopeless romantic I'd probably keep them as long as they meant something for me. I'd probably just toss them in the waste basket," said Linda Lang Brtelli, Troy romance novelist. "I don't have a fireplace."

How about the hibachi?

"The more dramatic you are about disposing them, the more emotion you have attached to them. I've seen people toss them into fireplaces in movies and I've read it a few times, but the heroine usually does that in anger. It's final because you can't get the letters back."

Maybe the stove pilot light?

"I tend to think that fireplaces were used in movies because people used fireplaces to dispose of trash."

Bartelli said she doesn't have any love letters, but kept a silver and pearl necklace from her first boyfriend in a box. She recently gave the memento to her daughter.

Say goodbye in a soup or pie

Remember how you carted home pounds and pounds of blueberries and cherries from the U-Pick Farm last summer? And that generous next-door neighbor kept you in ratatouille heaven with home grown zucchini?

If your memory needs a jolt just open the freezer. Most of those quart bags are still in there waiting for a supertime thaw.

You're ready for another U-Pick spree, but you can't bring yourself to throw out last year's bounty. And you can't find your recipe for "Shriveled Bean, Dried Zucchini And Blueberries Like Little Rubber Balls Casserole."

Silvia Trietman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, said don't head for the compost pile just yet.

"You won't die from it or get sick from it after a year," she said. "It's just that they get dried out and the quality suffers. And they may lose nutrients the longer they stand."

Trietman suggests dumping the vegetables in a soup or stew that will cook a few hours to soften them and mask poor taste or quality. Blueberries and some other fruits may be OK in a cake or muffin if you add moisture. Crushed pineapple added to a zucchini cake batter, for example, makes it more palatable.

"A year might be fine for some fruits and vegetables. I had someone call about a roast. It was in the freezer for 10 years. I wouldn't take a chance on that."

Hello, you must be going

You extended an invitation for a summer visit, a night out, a quick lunch.

Your guests thought you meant Indian summer, all night out and dinner to boot.

How does a gracious host say goodbye?

"The first thing that occurs to me is to set limits and boundaries. If you extended an open invitation, you're setting yourself up," said Clare Berkowitz, a Troy psychotherapist with offices in Rochester Hills. "You've got to assert yourself without being hostile. State what your feelings and needs are."

Something like, "We really need to have time to ourselves to do what we want before fall begins and we were counting on this next week to have some time alone," Berkowitz suggests.

What about guests who linger after a party or get-together?

"Again, be clear about your needs. 'Gee, I really need to go to bed now. I'm ready to call it a night.' Say it like a broken record."

Traditionally, when coffee is served, that is also a subtle hint that says "Here's one for the road before you hit the road."

Oh say can you see by the flag's burning light

Take a match to those tattered and torn stars and stripes.

Candace O'Dess, owner of Heritage Flag Company in Lakeville, consulted two flag etiquette booklets to determine the preferred way to dispose of the American flag. Burning should be done in private and without ceremony.

What about Michigan's flag, with its state seal on blue background?

"I imagine it's the same as the U.S. flag. It should be burned," said Vita Fraser, a spokeswoman in the office of management and budget.

And Oakland County's flag of oak tree on a field of green?

Dick Chartier, who supervises security at the county complex in Pontiac, said a private bonfire probably isn't necessary.

Was there a St. Dispositia, patroness of rummage?

Don't just trash that Virgin Mary lawn statue, said the Rev. Chris Schneider, a friar with Dun Scotus Seminary, in Southfield. Smash it up and bury the pieces.

He's also of the mind that Bibles should be torn up and burned before disposal.

And blessed water?

"We call those sacramentals. There's nothing superstitious about holy water. Just because you use it, doesn't mean everything's going to go right," the Rev. Schneider said.

New hope for first time home

By James M. Woodard

Problems in the Middle East could result in even tougher challenges for first-time home buyers.

However, creative and innovative methods to purchase that first home will continue to emerge as long as the motivation to buy remains strong and healthy. And that basic desire has never been stronger.

I delivered a talk at a service club meeting recently on the subject, "First-time Home Buyers—New Hope." After the session, a gentleman described how his son and fledgling family managed to acquire their first home.

His son had tried for nearly a year to find a plan that would allow him to purchase a home. Nothing seemed to work. The primary problem was lack of sufficient funds to cover the down payment and closing costs.

Finally, a successful plan was worked out. The father provided half the funds for the down payment and costs—and a quarter of the monthly payments for a two-year period.

This made it possible for the son to handle the other expenses of acquiring and owning a home. And it qualified him for a favorable mortgage-financing package.

In return for the use of his money, the father will receive all of his invested funds plus half the appreciation (increase) in value when the home is sold.

A minimum interest rate of return was also built into the contractual agreement. If the appreciation in value is not enough to reach a minimum rate of return, the interest rate amount kicks in.

This type of plan, which is becoming increasingly popular in the current market, is often identified within the real estate industry as "equity-sharing with a built-in equity kicker."

This plan concept is very flexible. It can be structured in any way that is acceptable to all parties. The investor participant is often a relative friend, but can be an unknown third-party investor.

In fact, the plan is becoming so popular an increasing number of firms is specializing in matching home buyers with equity-sharing investor partners.

Such home-buying techniques become increasingly important as the squeeze on first-time buyers tightens. Rising interest rates, sparked by the Middle East crisis, will add to problems encountered by all home buyers, but particularly the young first-time purchasers.

Today, young families, between 25 and 44 years age, only have 72.9 percent of income (on average) needed to qualify for financing a typical starter home, according to a recent report from the research department of the National Association of Realtors.

That proportion has been dropping in recent months. And it will probably drop more when the international crisis impacts the local market generally, expanding from gasoline prices to mortgage interest rates.

By comparison, the median income of all home-buying families is 104 percent of income needed to qualify for a loan to finance the purchase of a national median-priced home, according to the NAR report.

To put it into a dollar-amount perspective, the median income of first-time home buyers rose $245 during the second quarter of this year—to $23,368. But the buyer would need an income of $32,061 to qualify for conventional financing of 90 percent of a home priced at $81,800—the median starter home price.

Fortunately, there are viable programs now in the works designed to help first-time home buyers. An example is the Affordable Housing Initiative, a program organized jointly by the National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae).

This progressive program includes the new construction and rehabilitation of single-family homes and multiple-unit housing projects. Innovative low-cost building-development techniques, materials and creative financing are being combined to push prices down to affordable levels.

Developments are now planned in five "demonstration" markets, strategically located in all general regions of the country. Most of those projects will be under construction by early 1991 and will be ready for occupancy during the summer.

Most of the housing units will be available for purchase, with exceptionally favorable financing terms arranged by Fannie Mae. One of the projects—in Orange County, just south of Los Angeles—will create studio-type rental units. Qualified buyers of the single-family homes will have some unusual options, such as the use of a lease-purchase agreement. And requirements to qualify for a Fannie Mae-approved mortgage loan will be less rigid and restrictive than with normal conventional financing.

The lovely aster is September's flower

The flower of the month for September is the aster, a plant name that brings with it an almost inevitable confusion.

To many home gardeners, aster means the common annual or China aster, a versatile flower widely popular for its spectacular effects in flower beds and cut arrangements.

But this aster is not, properly speaking, an aster at all. It is Callistephus chinensis, the China aster. Still, I don't expect that this will dissuade too many home gardeners from using the familiar "aster" for these useful and charming annuals.

Its remarkable range of flower form and plant size, and its lovely array of colors, make the China aster a never-ending floral adventure. There are China asters just eight inches tall for pots, planters and edging, and bushes three feet tall for background plantings—and varieties that offer just about every size in between.

Among these asters are blooms like tight little pompons. There are elegantly single blooms with button centers, and large, fully, double blooms with long, curly, ribbonlike petals or with needlelike, quilled petals.

China asters rarely fail to put on a glorious show of color in various shades of pink, red, blue, lavender, white, salmon and yellow.

China asters flourish in a sunny site with a rich, well-drained soil that is not acid.

Medium-size and tall types yield wonderful bouquets of flowers for the house, and though it is said that China asters tend to stop blooming when they are cut, in my experience a carefully judicious harvesting of the blooms does not reduce the outdoor display disastrously.

The true asters, botanically speaking, make up a group of more than 250 perennial species. Here are the main types that one is most likely to encounter in garden outlets.

The alpine aster, Aster alpinus, is the first to bloom, during May and June, with daisylike flowers in blue or rose pink. These are low, mounding plants suited well to the rock garden.

Aster tongolensis is a mat-forming plant that yields large blue flowers with orange or yellow centers on 18-inch stems in July and August.

But probably the most well-known among the true asters are those that bloom in late summer and autumn. These are commonly referred to as Michaelmas Daisies for their flowering period surrounding Michaelmas, the feast of St. Michael on Sept. 29.

Among these, Aster dumosus, the dwarf Michaelmas Daisy, blooms during August and September on 12-inch-tall plants. A sampler from this group: Alert, with deep crimson red flowers; Melba semi-double rose pink; Royal Opal, icy blue with a yellow eye; and Snow Cushion, a sparkling snow white.

Aster amellus blooms August to October on plants that range from 16 to 24 inches tall. Pink Zenith sits at the taller end of this scale, with blooms of the clearest pink. Professor Kippenburg forms a 16-inch cushion of clear, bright blue flowers.

Probably regarded as most traditional among Michaelmas Daisies are the taller sorts of fall aster in heights ranging from 30 to 48 inches. To obtain colors that are sure to please, it probably is best to make your selections this month from plants in flower. The colors are very lovely, ranging from white through pale to deep pink, crimson, purple and many shades of lavender blue.

Fixing door bulges and toilet tanks

Q. We had some new closet doors (not the sliding type) installed. Over several months, the doors have begun to bulge in the center. Unfortunately, the carpenter who did the work is no longer available.

Do you know what could cause this, and is there any way to straighten the doors? I hate to go to the expense of replacing them.

A. The best way to straighten warped doors is to remove them from their hinges and place them horizontally on supports (you can use stacked bricks or sawhorses). Be sure that the bulging side is face up. Then apply pressure by stacking bricks or heavy books on top of the bulged side. Leave the weights on until the door is straightened.

If the bulging is minor, you might try this technique first: Add a third hinge at the spot where the door is bowed. With time, this can straighten out the curves.

To help prevent warping, make sure that the wood is properly sealed, including all of the edges as well as the sides. Raw edges can be treated with shellac or a penetrating resin, assuming that the door side panels are already finished properly. If painting, use a good primer before applying finish coats.

Q. We purchased a vacation home in the mountains. All summer long, I have had trouble with the toilet water tanks, which sweat so much that the floor is always wet.

I imagine that this is caused by cold water coming in from our well during hot summer days. Is there any inexpensive way to correct this problem?

A. Warm, humid air coming in contact with the cold porcelain surface of the tank is the cause of the sweating.

One of the most effective methods of eliminating condensation is to raise the temperature of the water before it reaches the flush tank.

A specially designed mixing valve is available that can be installed in the cold-water line supplying the flush tank. This temperature valve allows you to connect a hot-water line to the cold line so that the water delivered to the tank will be approximately room temperature.

If the surface of the tank is no longer colder than the surrounding air, condensation will not form.

Another solution is the installation of a tempering tank. Designed to accomplish the same thing as a tempering valve, a tempering tank is simply a reservoir in the cold-water line supplying the flush tank.

Theoretically, water allowed to stand in this tank will be warmed by the surrounding air. However, this won't work if large amounts of water must pass through the tank within a short time.

Also, condensation will form on the tempering tank so this type of installation simply changes the location of your problem.

One of the simplest solutions to a condensation problem involves no plumbing modifications. An electric immersion heating unit with self-contained thermostat will keep the water in the flush tank at a sufficiently high temperature to prevent the formation of condensation. Just hang the unit in the tank and plug it into an electric wall outlet.

When replacing old fixtures, give some consideration to installing a dripless tank featuring two walls with an insulating sealed air space between.

Another solution to your wet floors is the installation of a drip tray mounted underneath the tank. This won't stop the condensation, but the tray will catch the moisture and collect it in removable cups or a drain into the bowl of the toilet. The metal or plastic trays can be installed in a matter of minutes.

Catholics sprinkle the water on the sick, bless their children or themselves.

"Most people use it up. If you have some left, you might want to pour it on the roots of a tree," he suggests. "That might symbolize the tree of life. And it adds to the life of something else."

Mother Earth

doesn't use aerosols

Darrell Middlewood, Birmingham's public service director, suggests recycling oil and mixing old paint with sand or kitty litter, allowing it to dry before disposing.

Kevin Mills, staff attorney for East Michigan Environmental Action Committee, Birmingham, offers these other tips:

- Donate old paints to theater groups or high schools. Dry up latex paint with sand.

- Urge your city to sponsor hazardous waste recycling days. Paint thinners and other solvents, oil-based paints, aerosol containers, pesticides and some cleaning products should be disposed of through a hazardous collection day.

- Paint solvent and old gasoline may be filtered and reused.

"The best thing to do is to avoid the problem in the first place," Mills said. "There are alternatives to household hazardous waste."

For a list of recycling centers, and alternatives to help you reduce your use of hazardous materials, contact EMEAC at 21220 W. 14 Mile Road, Birmingham, Mich. 48010.

Cast iron bank and B & O railroad

Q. I have a cast-iron bank consisting of a bear stealing honey from a beehive. It is marked "Sydenham & McQustra, England."

I would like to know when it was made and what it would sell for.

A. This is a choice collectible made in the early 1900s.

It probably would sell for about $175 to $200 in good condition.

Q. I have a fairly large bisque doll. It is lying on its back with its toe in its mouth. There is a monogram on the bottom that is either "HG" or "GH".

Can you identify the maker and tell me how much it might sell for?

A. This is a Plano Baby made in Koppelsdorf, Germany (Heubach Brothers).

This is a rare type and probably would sell for about $500 to $600. It was made about 1900.

Q. Perhaps you can tell me something about my antique plate.

It has a picture of trains on a hill. It is labeled "The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad." On the back it is marked "Enoch Wood & Sons, Burslem."

A. Your plate depicts the method used to haul coal up an incline with a stationary engine at the top. The cars on one track were full of coal going up and the cars on the other track were empties going down.

Your plate was made in Burslem,

England, about 1828 and probably would sell for about $500 to $600.

Tradition with style.

In 1927, when Burroughs Farms recreation area was established, there was a real sense of tradition, of elegance and style. That tradition of classic elegance has been updated and transformed into Oak Pointe. Condominiums and single family homes reflecting contemporary style and taste have been skillfully placed within the natural landscape.

Two excellent Golf Courses, including the Arthur Hills designed Honors Course, weave their way through protected wetlands, mature trees and gently rolling hills.

A Beach, Private Marina and community picnic areas are at the disposal of Oak Pointe residents. There are Tennis Courts and paved paths for jogging or for evening walks through secluded nature trails.

This tree died of a heart attack.

Carving hearts on trees seems harmless enough.

But the fact is, it cut short the life of this majestic oak.

By gouging into the bark, vandals crippled the tree's vascular system. So, like thousands of other innocent victims each year, the tree slowly died.

But the fight against vandalism is gathering strength from the example of Lynn Brauer and Carol Eichling.

When vandals girdled a 300 year old Chinquapin Oak near their Marthasville, Missouri home, they wrapped the wound in sphagnum moss and tended the tree daily, despite blizzard conditions.

If not for the severe winter, arborists feel the Chinquapin might have survived.

We believe miracles can take root. When people care enough.

Tiny, little DETAILS

Historic bed and breakfast is now complete

Story by Cristina Ferrier Photos by Bryan Mitchell

When people visit Northville, they may wish to stay awhile. If they do, they might stay at the Atchison House — a Victorian-era bed-and-breakfast that, as of August, was completely restored to its original design, complete with those homey touches for which the Northville area is known.

Built in 1882, the house was eventually converted to a medical building. Don Mroz and Susan Lapine, who are husband and wife, bought the house in 1988 with a dream of restoring the old home to its original glory and converting it to the bed-and-breakfast operation it is today.

"We really enjoy being of service to our guests," Lapine said. "And for being open such a short time, we've had really good fortune in our occupancy rate.

"We get great reactions from people, either who used to be here when it was a medical office or are here for the first time," she explained. "People from all over the world have told us this is the most beautiful and elegant bed-and-breakfast they have ever stayed in."

The downstairs section of the home first opened in August 1988. Mroz and Lapine lived in the five upstairs rooms while they worked on that section. It was finally completed last month, and Mroz and Lapine moved downstairs.

"We were our own general contractors," Lapine explained. They hired a team of electricians, plumbers and other workers, but "we did all the tear-down ourselves."

The couple's hard work has resulted in a Victorian home that is completely authentic, right down to the furniture and light fixtures.

Even the kitchen, which had been moved to another part of the building, was moved back to its original place.

"About the only thing that is a reproduction is the faucets," Lapine confessed.

Restoring an old home is bound to lead to a few surprises, and Lapine said their home had a big one.

"We didn't find a bag of gold, but we found the original back staircase," she said.

The steep, narrow staircase had been impractical for the medical building, which at different times had housed a hospital upstairs. A modern, wide staircase had been built around part of the old staircase, while a medical records cabinet had hidden the rest of it.

"But because the staircase has such narrow steps, we only have it for looks," Lapine said. It goes up the wall, but ends at the ceiling.

The staircase is in the gallery space of the building, and guests see it as they walk in. The steps act as shelves for medical memorabilia donated by the Atchison family, tiny straw flowers, and little Victorian details.

Volunteers

Jack Canfield

Caring for horses is his specialty

By LESLIE PERIERA
Special Writer

The word "work" has no place in Jack Canfield's vocabulary, but not because he doesn't do any.

Rather, Canfield, a retired man who now fills his days with volunteer activities, can find fun in most of those actions that most people consider work.

Even shoveling manure. "No matter how distasteful some people think a job can be, you can make it fun," says Canfield.

And he should know. As "Commodore of the Compost Pile" at Tollgate 4-H Educational Center in Novi, Canfield spends many of the 30 hours he is there each week cleaning up after the farm's 13 horses.

Canfield wears his "Manure Movers" shirt the staff gave him with pride. "I have a lot of fun here," he says.

In addition to doing much of Tollgate's "dirty work," Canfield has been one of the master builders around the grounds, putting up wooden fences and electric wires to graze the area for the horses to graze.

"At the time the corral fences were in pretty bad shape," says Canfield of the fences scattered around the 60-acre parcel of land.

While fence-building has been Canfield's main project, he also walks with the handicapped children when they ride horses and helps them to mount the horses.

"Hopefully they will get the money to build an arena to run the program year-round," says Canfield.

However, the one aspect of volunteering that Canfield considers "work" and prefers to stay away from is Tollgate's fund-raising drives.

"After I retired from Edison, I thought, 'If I don't keep busy, I will vegetate,'" says Canfield, who is 65 years old. "Now that I am retired, I don't know how I had time to go to work."

Weddings

HOLLY SELLEN AND JAMES L. CRACRAFT

Holly Sellen and James L. Cracraft were married July 14 in a double-ring ceremony at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The bride is the daughter of A. Robert and Joan Sellen of Northville. The groom is the son of E. Scott and M. Elaine Cracraft of Albion.

Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain and Rev. Jacob Andrews officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception for 180 guests at the Dearborn Country Club.

The bride wore a white summer-weight taffeta with pearls and sequins on the bodice and short, ruffled sleeves. The bodice of the dress was of alencon lace with a basque waistline and full skirt with a cathedral train. She wore a two-tiered illusion veil attached to a pearl headpiece and carried a loose English garden bouquet of various colors.

Maid of honor was Laurie Sellen of Livonia, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Trish Simon of Lansing and Jeri Kay Thomas of Brighton. Callie Taylor of Albion was a junior bridesmaid and Jessica Cracraft of Albion was acolyte.

Best man was William Zerfas of Springport. Groomsmen were Andy Merrild and Lee Worden, both of Albion and Chris Sellen, brother of the bride, of Northville. Scott Cracraft, brother of the groom, of New York, was usher.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Albion College and is currently working on a master's degree at Wayne State University. The groom is a 1988 graduate of Albion College and works at Starr Commonwealth Schools as a counselor and teacher.

Following a honeymoon in Florida, the couple will make their home in Dexter.

MR. and MRS. MARTIN JOHN REDILLA

Donna Lee Wojchowski of Plymouth and Martin John Redilla of Sterling Heights were married May 19 at St. Blase Catholic Church in Sterling Heights.

The bride's parents are John and Yvonne Wojchowski of Sterling Heights. Parents of the groom are Lorraine and Cuyler McCutchan of Northville and Frank Redilla of West Palm Beach, Florida.

Fr. Joseph Killeen, pastor of St. Blase, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which was followed by a reception for 200 guests at The Sterling Inn in Sterling Heights.

Matron of honor was Cheryl Horneck of Goodrich. The bridesmaids were Lori Stec of Orlando, Fla., and Karen Wojchowski of Newport, R.I. Laura Toth of Sterling Heights was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was Eric Price of Kalamazoo. The groomsmen were Gary Wojchowski of Sterling Heights; Greg Harper of Northville; Kerry Steele of Detroit and John Wojchowski of Newport. Matthew Toth of Sterling Heights was junior groomsman.

The bride wore a white silk gown detailed with alencon lace, pearls and sequins with a sweetheart neckline, short puff sleeves and a full train. She wore a diamond white veil with clusters of pearls attached to an alencon lace and pearl headpiece. She carried a pear shaped bouquet with fresh pink roses and lily of the valley.

The groom is a 1977 graduate of Northville High School and attended Western Michigan University. He is the owner of Marty's Pit Stop, an automotive repair business in Hamburg, Mich.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Oakland University and is employed by Delta Dental Plan as a supervisor.

MR. and MRS. TIMOTHY CHARLES CONDER

Sheri Ann Owens of Atlanta, Ga., the daughter of James Owens and Mrs. Janet Owens of Columbus, Oh., married Timothy Charles Conder of Atlanta, Ga. on March 17, 1990. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conder of Northville.

Father Donald Franks officiated the double-ring ceremony which was held at St. Joseph Cathedral in Columbus, Ohio.

The bride wore a dress of white silk taffeta which featured a sabrina neckline with an alencon lace bodice and cathedral length train were adorned with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white lilies, stephanotis and tulips, accented with ivy.

Matron of honor was Deborah Sgriccia of Dublin, Ohio, who is the sister of the bride. She wore a jade green tea-length dress with a cotton brocade and carried a hand tied bouquet of white tulips and freesia.

Bridesmaids were Andrea Bridges of Mission Viejo, Calif., who is a sister of the groom; Katie Cox of Houston, Texas; Shirley Rake of Owensboro, Ky.; and Suzanne Friedman of Houston. All wore dresses and carried bouquets like the matron of honor.

Best man was Robert Wirthlin of Annandale, Va. Groomsmen were: J. Daniel Conder of Long Beach, Calif., who is brother of the groom; Keith Bridges of Mission Viejo, Calif., who is brother-in-law of the groom; Kenneth Killian and William Siegel of Dallas, Ohio; Matthew Barbour of Toledo, Ohio; Stevan Brigante of Richardson, Texas; and James Owens of Milton, Vt., who is a brother of the bride.

A reception for 240 guests was held after the ceremony at La Scala in Dublin, Ohio. Almost 200 of the guests were from out-of-town and they came from 25 different states. A highlight of the reception was when the bride and groom were ushered in by an Irish bag-piper.

The couple took their wedding trip to Italy where they visited Rome, Capri and the Amalfi Coast.

The couple originally met while living in Dallas.

The bride earned a bachelor of science degree from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, in 1985. Currently, she is a bank officer at First Union Bank in Atlanta, Ga.

The groom earned a bachelor of science degree from Miami University in 1981. Currently, he is a director at Equitable Real Estate Investment Management Inc. in Atlanta. He is a member of the social fraternity Beta Theta Pi.

The couple will reside in Atlanta.

Church Notes

BIBLE CLASSES—The New Life Ecumenical Bible Studies are beginning the fall classes on Thursday, September 20, 9:30-11:30 a.m.

Classes are held at the First United Methodist Church of Northville on Eight Mile Road at Taft Road. Classes being offered are: The Book of Acts, Conquering Stress, and Discovering New Life. Everyone is welcome. Babysitting is available. For more information call Sybil Beutler, 349-0006 or Lee Ann Schanne, 349-6873.

RENEWAL OLV—Our Lady of Victory Parish, a community of 4,000 persons, was urged Sunday, Sept. 9 to become a "community of communities" in October when they begin gathering in homes to renew themselves, their families and their neighborhoods.

Modeled on the early Christian communities who met regularly to share faith, pray, and support each other this program called Renew is starting in 37 Archdiocesan of Detroit Catholic churches.

A small Christian community is a group of people who share faith; mutually support each other; read the Bible and pray together; learn sound teachings; and reach out to others through some form of ministry. Ministry is the "hallmark" of small Christian communities.

Sr. Gail Singel, core group co-chairperson with Bob Dunn, said, "I would hope that small Christian communities would just simply deepen people's spiritual lives. In such a large impersonal context faith cannot be shared and mutual support felt. It is hoped these groups would make the faith much more personal, much more intense, much more integrated in their daily lives."

The theme for this season of Renewal is "Empowerment of the Spirit." Sign-up for these small groups will take place Sunday, Sept. 23 in the tent that will be set up in the parking lot. Cider and donuts will be available and the Core Committee will be on hand to answer questions.

ATTENTION CRAFTERS—Faith Community Presbyterian Church of Novi is planning its annual arts and crafts fair for November 3. Registration for space is being accepted now through Oct. 1. Call Paula Alpert at 474-8715 for more information.

CHRISTIAN CONCERT—Detroit First Church of the Nazarene will host Christian Song Writer and Vocalist Steven Curtis Chapman, Friday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m.

Chapman has been honored with the Gospel Music Association awards for Artist of the Year, Vocalist of the Year, Songwriter of the Year, Inspirational Recorded Song of the Year and Southern Gospel Song of the Year for 1989.

Tickets can be obtained at the church for $5. The church is at 21260 Haggerty Road, north of Eight Mile. Call the church office for more information at 348-7600.

WARD RETREAT—Women's Ministries of Ward Presbyterian Church will host an In-House Retreat on Saturday, Oct. 6 from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The day-long program will include guest speaker Donna

Alberta and mini-sessions on Teen Talk, Trials of Life, Women in Leadership, Home Schooling, Weight Control and more!

Tickets are now on sale. The ticket cost of $8 includes a catered lunch. Registration is required before Thursday, Oct. 4.

This is the final day to buy art lecture series tickets

Tonight is your last chance to buy season tickets to the Northville Arts Commission 1990-91 Art Lecture Series.

This season the NAC is again featuring Micheal Farrell in a series of six slide-illustrated lectures. Farrell, associate professor of art history at the University of Windsor, has many additional credits that distinguish his authority on the subject of art history. His knowledge as well as his wit and captivating style have made him a popular speaker in the Detroit area.

All lectures begin at 7:30 p.m. and are held in the Northville High School Forum on the corner of Eight Mile and Center Street. The last chance to buy tickets is at the door, just before tonight's lecture. The cost for the season tickets is $30 for the series of six lectures.

Lectures will be held on the following dates: Sept. 20, Oct. 18, Nov. 15, Feb. 14, March 21 and April 18.

Hoedown

Grab your favorite guy or gal and join the Northville Newcomers for a couples "Hoedown" Saturday, Sept. 22 from 7 to 11 p.m.

The event will include a full evening of square dancing and hayrides at Sugarbush Farms in Ypsilanti. Hot dogs, pop and beer will be provided and everyone is encouraged to bring a dish to pass.

Cost for the event is $20 per couple. Hurry, because the event will sell out at 25 couples.

To make a reservation, contact Penny Junk at 344-4502.

A star is born

A Northville teen, Kerri Pomaroli, was recently part of a summer theater production offered by the Stagedoor Manor Camp for the Performing Arts. The Stagedoor is located in Loch Sheldrake, New York, in the heart of the Catskill Mountain Resort entertainment belt.

Kerri played a supporting role in the production of "Leader of the Pack," a musical tribute to New York songwriter Ellie Greenwich whose prolific creative efforts resulted in millions of record sales in the '60s ("Leader of the Pack," "Chapel of Love," "Baby Oh Baby," "River Deep Mountain High"). In the role of one of Ellie's original vocal group members (The Jivettes), Kerri had the opportunity to solo on the number "Today I Met the Boy I'm Gonna Marry," as well as participate in several dance and group vocal numbers.

Kerri is starting her junior year at Northville High School and plans to pursue her interest in music and theater as the focus of a college major.

Author dinner

Friends of the Northville Library Annual Benefit Dinner will be hosted by John and Toni Genitti on Monday, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. This year's speaker will be mystery writer William Kienzle, author of "The Rosary Murders" and most recently "Masquerade." Tickets are $20 and are now on sale to the public.

This event won a national award for the local Friends chapter as the best "perk for members." The dinner has been a sellout for the Friends each year since its first effort seven years ago.

This entertaining event, including a wonderful seven-course dinner, is the main fundraiser for the Friends organization, and is very important to the group now that they are no longer able to hold the used book sales. For further information, call Geraldine Mills at 349-1648.

'Up With People' travels make world a smaller place

By LESLIE PEREIRA
Staff Writer

During the course of a year, Mandy Olgren traveled to 40 different states and eight different countries. No, she is not an airline stewardess. In fact, most of her trips were made by bus.

"This year really opened up the world for me," said Olgren.

A 1986 graduate of Northville High School, Olgren toured as a cast member with the international group, Up With People, to perform in musical shows, help with community services and meet more people in 12 months than she ever thought possible.

"By the end of the year we stayed with between 80 and 90 different host families," said Olgren.

Up With People was founded in the heart of the '60s during the era of peace and free love. The original purpose of the organization was to "encourage understanding among people of all nations," said Olgren.

One highlight of her trip was 10 days she spent in the Soviet Union, Olgren said.

"My host mother in Leningrad was great," said Olgren. "She would just rattle off in Russian and I wouldn't understand a word she had said."

Despite the differences in language she sometimes encountered, Olgren said it was surprising how many people spoke English and how well she could communicate even with those who didn't.

Olgren managed to teach her entire Russian host family a card game despite the fact only the daughter knew even a little English.

"They treated us like kings even though they didn't have much," said Olgren. "They were so giving and caring."

Up With People attracts young people, mainly students, from most states and many countries, to take part in the unique traveling show intended to spread good will and bridge the cultural gap between people of different countries.

"We had a couple of really great discussions on stereotypes," said Olgren of the six weeks training all cast members received before beginning to tour.

A large part of Up With People's aim is to break down racial and ethnic stereotypes existing between people of different countries, and to show cast members, host families and people in the audience that everyone is basically alike.

"Everyone thought Sweden was basically blond and blue-eyed," said Olgren. And after talking with several of the Swedish cast members, Olgren laughed, "But I really think it was like that."

However, Olgren warned against holding potentially misleading and harmful stereotypes.

Headquartered in Tucson, Ariz., Up With People trains each new cast at the training center before their tour begins. Cast members learn routines for the spectacular show, the long list of original songs, and they develop an awareness of cultural differences as cast members themselves come from around the world.

According to Olgren, American citizens made up slightly more than half of the 650 participants at the training camp students and the other half was comprised of young adults from 23 different countries.

Up With People not only tries to attract people with performance skills but also with specialties in marketing, education, finance, and many other areas of study useful in its daily operation.

"You don't have to sing or dance or anything like that. I wouldn't be in it if that was the case," Olgren laughed.

Olgren, a junior studying marketing at Michigan State University, was able to put her practical skills to good use on the year-long tour.

"The contacts I made through the media were very exciting," said Olgren who worked as part of the group's promotional crew.

The promotional crew was responsible for going ahead of the full cast to the cities next on the show list to set up living and eating arrangements for the entire cast.

Up With People accepts 650 new cast members each year and is open to anyone. An interview with a cast member and a little paperwork are all that is required.

Up With People is a nonprofit educational organization and receives much of its funding through private donations. Cast members are expected to pay a tuition of about $9,200 for the full year which covers all the costs of travelling and living expenses.

"It (the travelling) makes you able to see that there are so many types of people in the world, but when it comes down to it we are pretty much all the same," said Olgren.

Northville Woman's Club to begin 98th year in October

An afternoon of fun is in store for members of the Northville Woman's Club when the club opens its 98th year at a luncheon Friday, Oct. 5 at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The program will feature Lila Green, who will deal with humor, laughter and playfulness in a light-hearted program titled "The Queen Meets Lila Green."

Woman's Club members are invited to get in the spirit of the occasion and come wearing a hat, dowdy or otherwise, and carry an "ugly purse."

The opening meeting of the club traditionally honors past presidents and honorary members. Members may bring a guest.

A social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m. with a cash bar. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 a.m.

Northville Woman's Club was formed in 1892 and is one of the oldest women's clubs in Michigan. It was organized as a literary study group by Lucy Stout Dowd, the first president.

Mary E. Lapham, the second president, provided the club with a home when she presented the old library building (now at Mill Race) to the Ladies' Library Association for a library with the stipulation that the Woman's Club could meet there as long as members desired.

The club now meets at the First Presbyterian Church, except for one meeting a year at Mill Race.

The club's original purpose remains: It is a cultural group with programs at each meeting and no fund-raising activities. Each year a donation from members' dues is given to the city and township for civic improvement.

The club gives a graduating Northville High School senior girl a scholarship each spring. This is grant in aid based on need as well as scholarship.

The club also sends a girl to Girls' State each year in cooperation with the Northville Business and Professional Women.

Weight Loss Mystery Baffles Scientists

WASHINGTON—Scientists are baffled by a natural food ingredient that causes people to lose weight even though they don't change the way they normally eat.

A study published in The British Journal of Nutrition says that the ingredient, often used to thicken ice cream, can cause significant weight loss. Although several explanations for the weight loss are suggested, the most likely according to scientists in a Finnish study, is that the ingredient seems to decrease the intestinal absorption of calories.

National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, along with consulting scientists, have successfully isolated and incorporated the ingredient into an improved method that greatly enhances the potential for weight loss over the ingredient alone. Called Food Source One, the significant breakthrough in nutritional weight control provides a three-way scientifically designed method to help prevent calorie absorption.

The mechanism by which Food Source One works to decrease body weight is a complicated process called nutrion-bonding. When chewed and swallowed immediately before meals, high calorie fats are replaced with lower calorie nutrients, thereby providing optimum nutrition and a minimum number of fat calories as explained in an instruction sheet that accompanies the tablets. The instruction sheet should be followed for optimum results.

Food Source One is unlike any other product on the market and is available immediately because it is not a drug and only contains natural ingredients already known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising Food Source One as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity.

"Driving Miss Daisy" stars Dorry Peltyn and Dean Harper

'Daisy' charms small audience

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

"Driving Miss Daisy," one of the most successful off-Broadway plays in history, is currently at Northville's historic Marquis Theatre for seven more performances Sept. 21-23 and 28-30, with a special matinee next Tuesday afternoon.

It's a great chance for area residents to experience the play that earned its creator, Alfred Uhry, the 1988 Pulitzer Prize for drama and inspired the movie version that won four Oscars last year.

It's also a chance for area residents to experience the talents of Dean Harper and Dorry Peltyn, two professional actors who deliver fine portrayals of characters much older than their actual ages.

"Driving Miss Daisy" is based on the real-life story of Uhry's cantankerous Jewish grandmother and her prickly relationship with the black chauffeur hired to drive her around after she steered her own car into a ravine.

The play centers on these two radically dissimilar people who begin their association in mutual suspicion and mistrust and gradually, over many years, developed a profound but almost completely unacknowledged love for each other.

Harper in particular is stellar as Hoke, the chauffeur hired to drive Miss Daisy. The sign of a truly fine actor may be the ability to become absorbed in a character — so much so that there is no sign of that actor's own mannerisms.

Harper is an example of this type of actor. His performance of Hoke is so fine-tuned that the audience can believe he is Hoke. From the beginning of the play to the end, his portrayal of Hoke — who is much older than Harper — is consistent and unquestionable. His reactions to others, his demeanor, his laugh, even his gradual aging through the play reflect exactly what the audience would expect from Hoke.

Peltyn's performance is also a treat. She embraces her role with unbounded enthusiasm and love for the character that comes through with energy and independence that would make Miss Daisy proud.

Other notable aspects of the production include the makeup design by professional makeup artist Roger White — which ages the actors by as much as 30 years; some interesting background lighting effects by David Nelson and fine direction by Art Rizzo.

The only disappointing thing about Saturday's production was the fact that the actors were playing to a house that was only half-full.

Engagement

JANEL ELIZABETH TAGUE AND WILLIAM J. ABRAM JR.

Rosemary Tague of Northville announces the engagement of her daughter, Janel Elizabeth, to William J. Abram Jr. of Walled Lake.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Abram Sr. of Southgate.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of the late Raymond W. Tague Jr., is a 1980 graduate of Northville High School. She is employed by Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit and is attending Oakland Community College.

The future bridegroom is employed by 7-Up of Detroit and is a 1976 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

A Sept. 22, 1990 wedding is planned.

What makes a good hotel?

Hotel owners expanding services to meet demands of modern travelers

By Mary Augusta Rodgers

Bob Hope, that constant traveler, knows just what he wants when he's staying in a hotel. "Cranberry juice, windows that open, soft pillows and a hard mattress," he said in a recent interview. "Give me that and I'm happy."

Other travelers are more demanding, and these days the hotel industry is trying to please everybody.

Many hotel offer so many special services, they sound like a welfare state: executive floors, health clubs, personal computers, free cable TV and supervised activities for children that may range from scavenger hunts to kite flying classes.

There's something for every taste. The Jules Undersea Lodge is underwater near Key Largo, Florida, and popular with scuba divers.

The Anderson House, in Washaba, Minnesota, near Minneapolis, has cats available for guests who like pets.

The Townsend Hotel, in Birmingham, Michigan, serves an elegant English-style tea from 3-5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday.

The Hilton hotel in McLean, Virginia, puts yellow rubber ducks in every bathroom.

The Charles Hotel in Cambridge, Massachusetts, will pick up books for guests ordering from a nearby book store. At the new Peninsula Hotel in New York City, telephone messages are delivered on a silver platter by a bellman wearing white gloves and a pillbox cap.

Have you heard anything yet that makes your heart beat faster? What do you look for when choosing a hotel?

Speaking personally, I'm fond of small, distinctive hotels, like the Algonquin in New York City and the Pontchartrain in New Orleans.

I also like large traditional hotels with elegant lobbies and marble stairways and grand ballrooms, and I'm delighted to see some of these—the Palmer House in Chicago, the Willard in Washington, D.C. and the Brown Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky, for instance—restored to their former glory. They provide a needed alternative to the new-style hotels that seem to be designed for Rima the Bird Girl with their soaring open spaces, splashing fountains and jungle plants.

Even newer are hotels like Morgans and the Royalton in New York City, where snob appeal is raised to an art form. These hotels are so "in," there's no marquee out front; if you don't know it's there, you don't belong, the idea is.

(Let's hope this trend doesn't catch on.)

Recently a hotel executive described a new hotel as if he were promising paradise. "A hotel with no equal . . . a European-flavored accommodation . . . where patrons will never hear the word 'no.'"

This hotel, he said, would have 24-hour room service, telephones in the bathroom, terry cloth robes in the closet and flowers in every room. A concierge would be on duty in the lobby. "A maid will unpack luggage and another will turn down sheets, discreetly slipping a chocolate truffle onto the pillow . . ."

The Mayfair Regent Hotel in Chicago has a reputation for excellent service and accommodations

"We want people to view this as their hotel," the executive concluded. Right there, he lost me. The last thing I want to feel, as a hotel guest, is that the place is mine. I want to be uninvolved, unconcerned when I hear a distant crash, free.

But what about the other details—or "amenities," as hotel people like to say? Considering the fact that there's no munificent Mummy running the show, and the hotel guest will be charged for everything, what's important and what's not?

There's an attractive lobby, a good restaurant, a cozy bar and a bright coffee shop. (Nothing is more depressing than eating breakfast in a dark, cave-like room.)

The employees are pleasant and helpful, but they do not continually exhort you to "enjoy your stay," "enjoy your meal" and "have a nice day!" (The Four Seasons Hotel in Austin, Texas, is a model of good service; the staff is quick, cheerful and unobtrusive.)

I prefer "European-flavored accommodations" to be in Europe. Here I can do without a concierge, continental breakfasts or a bidet in the bathroom.

The dining room at the Pontchartrain Hotel in New Orleans

Speaking of bathrooms: I don't want a telephone there, but I would like a scale. A terry cloth robe is nice, but not essential. The objects lined up like toy soldiers on a bathroom shelf—bath gel, shampoo, a shower cap, etc.—are okay, if you need them. Usually, you don't. (A thrifty woman who travels a lot on business is trying to think of something creative to do with 37 tiny sewing kits.)

I often wonder who thought up the idea of having the hotel maid fold the lead piece on the toilet paper roll into a point (do you feel pampered, seeing this? Does anybody?).

The maid can forget about unpacking my luggage. I don't want anyone criticizing my packing technique, or my underwear. Besides, when I unpack, I know where everything is. And unpacking is easier with plenty of sturdy, removable hangers in the closet.

It's important for the room to be comfortable and quiet. This means soundproof walls, so you're not privy to other guests' conversation, TV programs and love life; a basic requirement often forgotten in the rush to provide first run movies on TV, mini bars, personalized match folders, chocolate mints on the pillow at night, and so on. (I'd trade the mints for extra pillows.)

The right room has pleasant, restful decor, plenty of drawer space and a desk with a supply of stationery and a working pen. There are individual reading lights by the beds, which are made with percale sheets and wool blankets—not sheets so permanently pressed, they feel like waxed paper, and blankets made of something that feels like a sponge. Down pillows add another luxurious note.

Good room service is an asset, and it's reassuring when some satisfying food and drink can be provided at any hour. (But to insist, as some do, that things like rack of lamb and almond souffle be available at 3 a.m. strikes me as silly.)

It's wonderful to have windows that open, and a scenic or interesting view.

No-smoking rooms are a new luxury, and important if you've ever been trapped in a room redolent of El Ropo cigar smoke.

Finding a newspaper by the door in the morning is a nice touch. So is a rack of current newspapers and magazines in the coffee shop.

On the other hand, I've never understood the excitement about having the bed turned down at night. I'd gladly forego that, complimentary cocktails and fresh flowers in the hope of having the best amenity of all, an affordable room rate. (It's fun to buy your own flowers when you're in the mood.)

The last, and most important element of a good hotel is its character. Its style. And that its people, who alone can provide the moments that make a place memorable.

For example: the desk clerk of a country inn greeted a late arriving guest on a stormy night by saying, with evident sincerity, "Oh, Mrs. Jones, we've been so worried about you!" (Five years later, Mrs. Jones still remembers that remark.)

The Algonquin Hotel has this kind of style, in my experience, and a unique history. It was an important part of New York literary life in the 1920s and 30s, when Dorothy Parker was making all those witty remarks to Robert Benchley, or vice versa, at the famous Algonquin Round Table in the Rose Room restaurant. The lobby and the Rose Room restaurant are now listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

It's still a gathering place for writers and actors.

The lobby, a little dark in the daytime, is part stage set and part welcoming refuge. I've seen Woody Allen there, and Mikhail Baryshnikov and Tom Brokaw. And some unknown promoters who were much more entertaining to observe.

I remember some nice people; a desk clerk who rescued me from an embarrassing scene with a loud, demanding (and drunk) relative by having me paged and then saying, in a sympathetic whisper, "Don't worry, everyone understands. Do you want me to help get her in a cab?"

And an elevator operator, whose greeting brightened up a trying day. "I forget the floor," he said, smiling, "but I remember the perfume."

Leaving the Algonquin, I often think of Robert Benchley's famous exit. "Get me a cab," he said to a uniformed man at the door.

"Sir," the man said, haughtily. "I am an admiral in the U.S. Navy!" Benchley didn't even blink. "Okay," he replied. "Get me a battleship."

It's 'senior time' in Williamsburg

September is Senior Time in Williamsburg, Virginia, offering special rates and value-added programs at area hotels, motels, attractions, restaurants, campgrounds and other businesses to senior citizens.

The Williamsburg Scottish Festival will be Sept. 22 in Williamsburg with activities related to Scottish heritage including games, contests, pipe bands, dancing, food, crafts, and vendor tents.

Tapawingo, a well-known restaurant in Ellsworth, Michigan, is one of the restaurants featured in a new book entitled, "The Best of the Midwest: Recipes from Thirty-two of America's Finest Restaurants" by Linda and Fred Griffith (Viking Studio Books; August 10, 1990; $24.95).

This collection of 150 recipes includes dishes such as Beer-Battered Duck Appetizer, Mosaic of Wild Maine Salmon and Osetra Caviar en Gel and Fiddleheads and Asparagus, all designed to appeal to both the novice and experienced cook.

Yankee Schooner Cruises is offering special vacation packages during September on the 137-foot tall ship Schooner Roseway in Penobscot Bay, Maine. Special interest cruises include the Artists and Photographers cruise, Stargazers cruise and Fall Foliage cruises.

Prices range from $300 to $615 per person for half-week or six-day cruises. For more information, write to Yankee Schooner Cruises, P.O. Box 696L, Camden, Maine 04843 or call 800-255-4449 or 207-236-4449.

The beautiful — and petite — muntjac deer is just one of 29 species of exotic hoofed stock dotting the sweeping landscape of Tampa's Busch Gardens' 60-acre Serengeti Plain.

The smallest of the true deer species, muntjacs weigh less than two pounds at maturity. Muntjacs are closely related to the small musk deer of northeastern Asia and China.

The muntjacs' range includes India and southeast Asia and the islands of Java, Borneo and Taiwan. Their habitats are densely vegetated, hilly areas from sea level to medium elevations.

Muntjacs may make a barking noise when alarmed, and are often in pairs and are always near water. Both males and females will scent mark using to pairs of glands, one pair directly in front of the eye (able to open almost as large as the eye itself) and another which forms the familiar "V" on their forehead.

Tigers and leopards are the muntjacs' chief predators but they have also been hunted by man for their meat and hide.

Visitors to Tampa's Busch Gardens may see muntjacs among the collection of over 3,300 animals.

Keith Prowse offers two New York theater and performing arts packages. "Broadway Lights" includes one best-available theater ticket to the musical, play or comedy of one's choice, accommodations for two nights at any of 19 centrally located New York hotels, service charges and taxes at $174 to $345 per person, double occupancy, through March 31, 1991.

"Lincoln Center Plus Broadway" is a three-night package with two best-available tickets of a choice of a performance of the New York Philharmonic, Metropolitan Opera, New York City Opera, New York City Ballet or American Ballet Theatre; and a Broadway show.

It also includes a tour of Lincoln Center, one pre-theater table d'hôte dinner at Tavern on the Green, health club privileges, American breakfast daily and accommodations at the Empire Hotel, service and taxes. Prices, in effect through June 30, 1991, range from $460 to $485. For information and reservations, call 800-669-8687.

EAT YOURSELF THIN!

Lose Weight The Easy Way

The Healthy Way, The Malsovit Way

Yes indeed you can eat yourself thin. For the past eight years Europeans and Americans have used the Malsovit Diet Plan for successful and healthy weight loss. The diet plan promotes balanced nutrition, weight loss (2-6 lbs per week) and weight loss maintenance. Malsovit Bread is the main ingredient of this easy to follow and inexpensive diet plan. Simply eat Malsovit Bread in combination with easy to prepare nutritious menu suggestions. Malsovit Bread is a special all natural bread which was originally formulated as a health bread. Following the initial introduction consumers discovered its usefulness for weight loss and weight loss maintenance. And it is still a health bread, providing all the vital nutrients. It contains no sugar or cholesterol. Locally baked Malsovit Bread is made the old fashioned way without added preservatives or artificial additives.

'Up With People' features performers from around the world

The world will come alive in Novi High School on Saturday as the international cast of Up With People brings its new show, "Face to Face," to Novi.

The two-hour musical extravaganza, featuring a cast of 150 young people from around the world, is being sponsored by Agape Smiles Foundation as a benefit for its work serving the elderly.

"Face to Face" is the "silver celebration edition" of the Up with People show, featuring a new set, costuming and lighting. This year marks the 25th anniversary of the group performing around the world.

The Up with People show is a musical variety performance with an international theme. Music includes rock, gospel, folk and traditional, rhythm and blues, '60s pop, rap, and contemporary ballads.

In an Up with People show, it's sometimes difficult to tell where the stage ends and the audience begins. The aisles become flooded with dozens of people representing countries from around the world.

The international flair is important to Up with People. The group's aim is to encourage understanding among people of all nations through a program of intercultural education, musical performance and public service.

Each year more than 600 young adults, divided among five international touring companies, spend 11 months traveling to many countries, performing and becoming involved in community activities.

Up with People began with the idea that music is an effective way to communicate a message. The two-hour show is the medium through which the group communicates its message of bringing people together.

The group was founded by J. Blanton Belk to provide a focus for the energy and idealism of the student movements of the '60s. It incorporated as an independent, non-profit educational program in 1968.

The local performance by Up with People is a benefit for the Novi-based Agape Smiles Foundation. This organization is a non-profit group that provides music and humor programs for residents of nursing homes and senior housing throughout Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The Up with People show is the annual benefit concert for the Agape Smiles Foundation.

Tickets for the Novi performance — at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Novi High School — are $10 for adults and $7 for seniors and children in advance. Tickets at the door will be $12. Ticket donations are tax-deductible. To order tickets or for more information, call 473-1172.

Local artist returns from France

LOCAL ARTIST — Award-winning Northville watercolor artist Caroline Dunphy recently returned to France twice during the past months to paint not only in Monet's gardens, but also to paint her impressions of the countryside of the champagne and wine areas as well as Paris. In addition she spent two weeks touring England, and has captured some of that country's charm in her watercolors.

These watercolor impressions will be shown in a major one-person show in Northville.

The show will open on Sunday, Sept. 23 at the Aitchison House and will continue at Painter's Place, 140 Center Street, Northville, from Sept. 25 to Oct. 7. Painter's Place will be open to the public from noon to 5 p.m. each day, or by appointment.

TOWN HALL — The Northville Town Hall Series will be starting back up again with some exciting speakers for the 1990-91 season. The first speaker, actress Eileen Fulton, will be on Oct. 11. She will be followed by:

In Town

Col. Charles Scott, a former hostage in Iran, on Nov. 8; on March 21, former Miss America Kaye Lari Rae Raiko (this has been changed from the original date of March 14); and on April 11, veteran NBC news person Jack Reynolds will speak.

A season ticket to hear all four speakers is $30. Checks should be made payable to Northville Town Hall and sent to Ticket Chair Bonnie Dewan, Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville 48167. Please mark the outside of the envelope with ticket orders "Attention Ticket Chairman."

A ticket for the four luncheons, one served after each speaker is $44. Please make the check payable to Northville Town Hall and send to Virginia Kaiser, Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville 48167. Please mark the outside of the envelope with orders for luncheon and speaker tickets "Attention Ticket and Luncheon Chairman."

Also, anyone ordering tickets for the speaker series or the luncheons is asked to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the ticket chairpersons to return your tickets in. The committee is non-profit and has been spending too much money on return postage for those forgetting to do so.

MAYBURY MADNESS — A Haunted Forest walk at Maybury State Park will be held the evenings of Friday, Oct. 26, and Saturday, Oct. 27.

The walk, Maybury Madness, will be a guided tour along a path where participants will experience spooky Halloween events. The event will be offered to provide a unique, fun activity for the youth of Northville in a drug-free environment. The Haunted Forest is sponsored by Northville Community Recreation, the University of Michigan M-Care Health Center and the Northville Students Against Drunk Driving.

Free cider and doughnuts will be available to all participants. A waiting area will be available for parents not wishing to enter the forest. All age groups are welcome to attend but children under sixth grade must be accompanied by an adult. Ticket sales will begin October 1 at the Community Recreation Center, at the M-Care Health Center on Griswold in Northville, or through SADD members.

Anyone interested in participating in the Haunted Forest by hosting a booth or assisting with set preparation should contact Traci Gottschalk at 349-0203.

"In Town" lists upcoming entertainment events happening in the Northville/Novi community. To have an item listed in this column, write to: In Town, Northville Record, 104 W. Main Street, Northville, Mich., 48167. Photos or other artwork welcome.

AIA tour to focus on Grosse Pointe

The Detroit chapter of the American Institute of Architects will hold a tour of some of Grosse Pointe Park's finest homes this Sunday, Sept. 23.

The tour will take place rain or shine, beginning at 11 a.m. and running through 5 p.m.

Cost is $12 per person. Children under 12 are prohibited. The bus will depart from the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo, Grosse Pointe.

For further information or ticket pick-up call 965-4104.

BAND PERFORMANCES — The 30 member Fifth Michigan Regiment Band, based in Novi, will give four half-hour performances at the third annual Camp Oakland Fall Festival from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23 in Oxford, Michigan.

Led by Lt. Col. Guy Smith of Novi, the band is made up of volunteers from both Michigan and Ohio. It is a recreation of the band of a Civil War regiment that lost three-quarters of its men at Gettysburg and other battles.

Admission to the family-oriented festival is $1, with parking and children under 8 free. For more information call 628-2561.

LITERARY DISCUSSION — Noted Michigan author and lecturer Russell Kirk will discuss "The Reason and Imagination of T.S. Eliot" at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24, at St. Mary's College in Orchard Lake.

Kirk, who knew Eliot personally, will share his insights when he addresses the first fall session of the college's Aquinas Academy.

Author of the critically acclaimed "Eliot and His Age: T.S. Eliot's Moral Imagination in the Twentieth Century," now in its third edition, Kirk is widely regarded as an expert on one of the best-known literary figures of our time.

ART FESTIVAL — The fourth annual Detroit Festival of the Arts (DFA) will paint the town magenta on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21 and 22 from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday, Sept. 23 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sponsored by the University Cultural Center Association, Wayne State University and various corporate sponsors, the DFA will paint the ideal fun-filled weekend. With a variety of activities available, some of the main features are an artist market, entertainment, food extravaganzas, a children's fair, poetry readings, a family kite festival and dance performances.

A DFA button will be available for $3 and will entitle the wearer to a 5 percent discount on purchases of artwork, festival souvenirs and admission to selected performances.

MOSCOW ON ICE — As a part of its first-ever tour of the United States, the internationally-acclaimed Moscow on Ice will appear at The Palace of Auburn Hills Thursday, Oct. 11 through Saturday, Oct. 13 for seven shows.

Tickets at $17.50, $15, $10 and $7.50 reserved are on sale at The Palace box office and all Ticketmaster outlets, including Hudson's, Harmony House and Great Stuff stores.

Tickets may also be charged by phone to Visa or MasterCard by calling (313) 645-6666.

Direct from the USSR, the two-hour show features a cast of more than 60 performers, many of whom are Soviet and international champions, with a total of 80 Olympic and other medals on their long list of credits. These skaters are current members of a Moscow troupe which has been dazzling audiences throughout Europe since 1957.

CRAFTS — The Schoolcraft College Foundation is hosting a Craft Show featuring over 140 exhibitors, from Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 6-7 from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Exhibitors from across the state will be selling a wide array of hand-crafted items. Proceeds will be used to fund student scholarships. A $1 admission fee includes a chance at winning hand-crafted items. Winners will be selected each hour. Food will be available.

The show will be held in the College's Physical Education Building. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road, between Six Mile and Seven Mile roads. Free parking is available. For further information about the craft show, call 462-4417.

FALL FESTIVAL — Mimes, magicians and a midway for kids will be among Fall Festival events geared to family fun Sunday, Sept. 23 on the 320-acre grounds of Camp Oakland Youth Programs in Oxford.

Rain or shine, the third annual Fall Festival is slated from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Honorary chairperson Joe Weaver, editorial director of WJBK-TV2, and wife Angela, will be on hand at 2 p.m.

Lucky Mustangs edge Franklin in OT

Big plays key 28-27 triumph

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

When you are outplayed the way Northville was last Saturday (Sept. 15) at Livonia Franklin, you need all the luck you can get.

Fortunately, most of the breaks did go the visitors' way and the Mustang gridders took advantage of them all to carve out an exciting 28-17 overtime win against the Patriots.

After the game, Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher was very grateful for his team's good fortune. The win gives the Mustangs their third win in as many outings this season.

"(Franklin) really outplayed us, but we got lucky," he said. "Some-where along the line you have to get some luck and this was our lucky game. I've been on the other side before, where you dominate the game and still lose, and I can tell you it's much better to be on the winning side."

Franklin beat Northville in all the statistical categories — except, of course, in the one category that matters the most: the final score. The lead changed hands three times during regulation, but was tied 21-21 after four quarters. In the overtime, the Mustangs successfully executed a fake field goal, while the Pats failed to convert a fake extra-point attempt. Amid the confusion, Northville ran off the field with a one-point triumph.

"It was a great high school game for the spectators," Schumacher said. "We hurt ourselves again with a lot of mistakes, but we got three big plays and that was the difference. Franklin did all the things they wanted to do — except win the game."

The first big play came on Northville's second possession. Mustang quarterback Ryan Huzjak — who leads the area in rushing yards, passing yards and scoring — got loose on the option and scrambled 63 yards for the score.

Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher has a discussion with an official "Ryan is very capable of breaking the big play," Schumacher said.

But early in the second quarter, Franklin came back with a 63-yard drive of its own. It took 16 plays and was capped off by a one-yard plunge by Wilfordo Vargas. The point-after attempt, however, was blocked by Bill Kelley and Northville hung on 7-6.

It didn't last long, however, as the Patriots put together another extended march in the second quarter. The drive covered 62 yards in 15 plays, and the touchdown came on a 17-yard pass from Mike Gieger to Jonathan Drabicki. A two-point conversion by Drabicki made it 14-7.

Franklin had a late scoring chance after recovering a Huzjak fumble deep in Northville territory, but Mike Hillinger picked off a Gieger pass to end the threat just before time expired.

A few seconds into the third quarter, the score was knotted again, and this time Bill Kelley provided the big play with an electrifying 97-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

"We've been anticipating a long kick return because we've been so close a number of other times," Schumacher said. "It finally happened and it couldn't have come at a better time."

With a sudden jolt of momentum, the Mustangs quickly got the ball back and made it 21-14 on a 30-yard toss from Huzjak to Jamie Miller. The mini-scoring drive took just three plays and covered 33 yards.

From that point on, Franklin put on an impressive display of ball-control offense. Much of the final period was gobbled up by an 18-play, 70-yard scoring march that tied the

Netters fall 4-3 to Hawks

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

For the first time since 1988, the Northville netters were beaten in a Western Lakes Activities Association dual meet.

The Mustangs, in essence, entered their Sept. 12 meeting with Farmington Harrison down 1-0 and needing to win four of the remaining six matches to pull out the win. Northville won three of the six and fell 4-3.

"It was our first dual meet loss within the conference in quite some time," Mustang Coach Uta Filkin said. "It was our fourth meet in six days, so I think we were a little tired."

Question: Who gave the Hawks an automatic 1-0 lead heading in?

Answer: Kori Davidson.

"Kori is the National Indoor runner-up this season, and we don't have anybody that caliber," Filkin explained. "Northville's No. 1) Karen Vogt actually played a good match against her, but we knew there really wasn't any chance that we could win it."

As it turned out, the Mustangs managed just one single victory. It came from Kaviha Stramann at No. 4, who edged Cheryl Berringer in three sets (6-4, 0-6, 6-4). The other Northville winners were at No. 1 and No. 3 doubles. The top team of Melanie Apligan and Rebecca Bellamy turned back Kristi Cornwall and Jody Whitehead (6-3, 6-4) while the third team of Stacey Green and Kelli Woodsum topped Alisa Barnbarek and Jill Rosenthal (6-1, 6-0).

"Our loss in doubles really hurt because Harrison is not known for fielding strong doubles teams," Filkin said. "I guess they have improved in that area, but we had our chances."

Northville cagers secure fourth straight over Novi

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

It was a typical Novi-Northville girls basketball battle: intense, competitive and at times not very well played.

The two neighboring schools met on Sept. 11 for their annual early-season battle, and for the fourth straight season the host Mustangs came out on top, 51-39.

"I thought at times we played very well, but then at other times we played poorly," Northville Coach Ed Kritch said.

The first quarter was very encouraging for Kritch as his team hit its first four shots and built a comfortable 18-8 lead after eight minutes of play. But the tide turned a bit in the second quarter as the Wildcat defense allowed just one Mustang field goal, and the gap narrowed to 28-19 at the intermission.

Kritch decided to feed the ball exclusively to All-Area forward Kate Holstein in the second half, and that strategy worked. The senior scored 10 points in the third quarter alone and helped the Mustangs build the lead back to 13 (44-31).

"We decided to go to Holstein because we thought if we got it to her, she'd either score or get fouled," Kritch said. "We didn't think (Novi) could stop her."

The feisty 'Cats got back into the game, however, by scoring the first six points of the final period to pull within seven, but never got any closer. Northville wrapped it up when a frustrated Tammy Snider was whistled for a flagrant elbow foul with just over two minutes remaining. It resulted in a five-point Northville possession that included three free throws and a field goal.

"That took the lead from seven to 12 and it fed it for us," Kritch said. "Until that time, we just couldn't seem to put them away."

bounds. Kara McNeil added 11 points and Karen Pump dished out five assists. Snider and Joanna Pascucci paced Novi with 10 apiece.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 44, NORTHVILLE 33: The Mustangs outscored their hosts 13-11 in field goals, but left Livonia with a disappointing 11-point defeat to the unbeaten Spartans on Sept. 13. Stevenson was granted 24 more free-throw attempts in the game, but surprisingly enough, Kritch had no complaints about the officiating.

"To have 29 fouls was completely unacceptable," Kritch said. "I don't think the refereeing was slanted at all — I have no complaints about that. We just didn't play anywhere near our potential."

After the dust had cleared, four Mustang players had fouled out and the Spartans had a relatively easy victory, despite a couple of Northville runs. One Stevenson player actually had more free-throw attempts (16) than the entire Mustang squad (13).

The locals got off to a horrendous start, falling to score a single point in the first 13 minutes of the game. In the first quarter, Northville had just one offensive rebound and zero free throw attempts, but the defense limited Stevenson to just nine points.

"We dug ourselves a very big hole," Kritch admitted. "We had some good inside scoring chances and we had zero success. But it was only 9-0 after one quarter — it could have been much worse."

The Spartans upped the lead to 12-0 before Karen Cavanaugh broke the streak with three minutes left. The Mustangs then scored the final four points of the half (all by center Stacey Nylund) to make it 14-6.

Northville played a very inspired third quarter and actually took the lead several times — including 21-20 with two minutes on the clock — but Stevenson scored the final four points to pull ahead 24-21 heading into the final eight minutes. Then the Mustangs fell apart.

In what seemed like an endless procession of players to the charity stripe, the Spartans hit 16 fourth-quarter free throws to run away with the victory.

"We played a very poor fourth quarter," Kritch admitted. "The only player that handled their pressure defense was Cavanaugh, and then after she fouled out, we were in trouble. That's what won the game for Stevenson."

McNeil and Holstein led Northville with nine points apiece. Teresa Sarno paced all scorers with 17. The Mustangs (2-2 overall, 0-1 in the WLAJ) hosted powerful Plymouth Salem on Sept. 19 (after Record deadline).

Soccer: Arsenal falls 5-2

BOYS UNDER 10: Plymouth No. 5 topped Northville Arsenal 5-2. P.J. Schlosser and Kip Szostek scored for the locals. David Handley scored a goal but it wasn't enough as Plymouth No. 2 stopped the Northville Express 4-1. Alex Lucas was the defensive MVP. . . The Northville Hot Spurs suffered a 5-0 shut-out loss to Plymouth No. 1. The local standouts included Chris Arvina and Kevin Wood. . . Mike Peters and Greg Rankin combined to score four goals as the Northville Sting edged Livonia No. 2, 5-4. Jeremy Herodan was the defensive star. . . In a cross-town battle, the Northville Stompers nipped Northville United 2-1. The Stompers' goals came from Brendan Green and Greg Braz. United's lone goal was scored by Keith Sebastian. . . Matt Schlanser scored twice but the Northville Cosmos fell 9-2 to Plymouth No. 9. Marshall Knapp was the defensive MVP.

GIRLS UNDER 12: Owen Osborne, Carla Polatelli and Kristina Stachura all scored as Northville Sting '79 beat the Michigan Hawks 3-1. The MVPs included Lisa Tolstedt and Jill Dart. . . Troy '79 then turned back Sting '79 5-1. Lori Car-bott scored the only goal. . . Northville United topped Northville Arsenal 2-1 thanks to goals from Blakely Barry and Jackie Rompel. Lauren Gugala was the top player for Arsenal. . . The Northville Express relieved goals from Jessica Hullman, Gina DeTatto and Allison Murphy en route to a 3-1 win over South Lyon. Rebecca Roberts was the defensive MVP.

BOYS UNDER 14: Despite some fine goalkeeping by Ryan Rettman, Northville Arsenal dropped a 4-0 decision to Farmington No. 1. The MVPs were Chuck Davis and Jeremy Sweet. . . Chip Reece scored twice to lead the Northville Express to a 4-0 win. Dave McCulloch and Paul Medonits were the standouts. A goal by Justin Schlanser was the difference as Northville Sting '78 nipped Northville Sting '79, 1-0. Chad Gulchist and Chris Bohm were the MVPs. . . Plymouth No. 3 trounced Northville United 7-2.

GIRLS UNDER 14: The Northville Rowdies suffered a 1-0 loss to Livonia No. 1. Christine Kapusky and Hannah Jakob were the defensive standouts. . . Brie Nelson scored but Northville United fell 5-1 to Plymouth No. 1. Kara Cundari and Adrienne Browne were cited for their fine play.

GIRLS UNDER 16: Kristi Rhoads, Krista Howe and Julie Holmes each tallied goals to pace Northville Arsenal past Farmington No. 1, 3-1. Christina DeWitt and Kelly Berger were the MVPs.

BOYS UNDER 12: The '78 Northville Sting select squad snuck past the '79 Sting select team 1-0. Nate Goebel and Ben Romine led the '79 team. . . Joe Hall scored the only goal as Northville Arsenal slipped past Farmington No. 1, 1-0. Matt Schlosser, Jeremy Abbey and Robert Smith were the defensive standouts. . . Goals by Todd Smith and Gabe Cristof enabled Northville United to get past Plymouth No. 3, 2-1. Danny Schultz was the goaltender for United. . . Plymouth No. 3 blanketed the Northville Express 5-0. Scott Gregerson and J.D. Robinson were the MVPs. A goal from Sam Vida wasn't enough as the Northville Rowdies fell to Plymouth No. 5, 2-1. Geno Peters was the defensive star.

JEFFREY S. BAINBRIDGE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Bainbridge of Northville, was the recipient of the Knoechel Family Award, given to a senior male member of the swim team at Kalamazoo College in recognition of demonstrating excellence in both intercollegiate swimming and academic performance. Jeff was the captain of the Kalamazoo team last season and as a two-time All-MIAA swimmer. . . Former Novi football and wrestling star BRETT KEIR, a junior lineman at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan., was voted team captain of the football team by his teammates. Keir played two seasons at Grand Rapids Junior College before accepting an athletic scholarship to Washburn. . . BOB DUDLEY and GREG PRICE are members of the 1990 Bowling Green State University football squad. Both were 1989 graduates of Northville High School and former Mustang football stars. Dudley will be playing defensive line for the Falcons and Price is a quarterback. . . Twenty-six year Northville resident LEWIS MOON, 69, will be inducted into the Albion College Sports Hall of Fame later this month. Moon, who was an All-MIAA basketball player in 1946 through 1948, is a member of the second group of inductees. The ceremony will be held on Sept. 28. Moon, who worked at Lawrence Institute of Technology many years, was also the MIAA MVP in 1948. . . Former Northville football standout MIKE HALE has earned a starting position along the defensive line at Saginaw Valley State University. Hale, a 6-foot-1, 260-pound redshirt-freshman, is No. 1 on the depth charts at right defensive guard for the Cardinals. In the first two games of the '90 season, Hale has amassed six solo tackles and two assists and is sixth on the team in points with 14.

game again. With 4:40 left, Aaron Shakarian scored from a yard out and Robert Johnson's kick made it 21-21.

"Basically, they controlled the football on us for half of the third and all of fourth quarter," Schumacher said. "They had the ball twice as much as we did during the game."

In the overtime, each team is awarded the ball on the opponent's 10-yard line. Northville promptly regained the lead thanks to a four yard run by Huzjak on a play often called a "Swing Gate" or a "Farmer Jack." The Mustangs lined up for a field goal, but Huzjak (the blocker) executed the take

The Apligian/Bellamy duo trounced Lisa Anderson and Amy Howie 6-1, 6-2 at No. 1 doubles; Jenny Lower and Vicki Eppers outlasted Jana Bockrath and Natalie Thurman 4-6, 6-4, 6-2 at No. 2; and Green and Woodsum needed three fumble from behind the line of scrimmage.

"I don't know if it's possible to have a closer game. And to end on a play like that — it was unbelievable."

The star of the game was Holloway, who was all over the field on defense. The 6-foot-1, 200-pound linebacker registered 14 solo tackles, added nine assists and two sacks. It may have been the best single defensive performance by a Mustang player since the Tony Briningstool days.

"Bob played an outstanding game," Schumacher said. "There were times where it looked like Tony was back on the team."

Huzjak paced the offense with 96 yards rushing (on eight carries) and 78 yards through the air on 8-of-13 completions.

"Overall, I am upset about the way we played — except for our special teams," Schumacher admitted. "We're always happy with a win, but we can't play like this next week if we want to win. You can't count on luck."

GAINING RESPECT: The Northville gridders are gaining respect with every victory. After his team was beaten 21-14 by the Mustangs, Plymouth Salem Coach Tom Moshimer said: "Northville came to play and they deserved to win. I think that Western side of the conference had better look out."

sets to put away Margie Lifsey and Janny Kristan (5 7, 7-5, 6-2) at No. 3.

"Both of our losses were in tough three-set matches," Filkin said. "(North Farmington) has beaten us in the past and they are very competitive, so it was a good win."

Mustang harriers nip North, 28-30

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

The Northville harriers got their dual-meet season off to a nice start with a narrow 28-30 win over North Farmington on Sept. 11 at Oakland Community College.

According to Mustang Coach Ed Gabrys, the unsung hero was senior Mike Connery, who passed several opponents in the final 200 meters to place sixth overall.

"Heading in, we knew it would be close," Gabrys said, "but we thought we could come away with the victory."

That task was made more difficult when Northville's No. 4 runner — Karl Goerke — was held out of the competition with a blister problem.

"That definitely made it more challenging, but a guy like Mike Connery filled in very well," Gabrys said. "It was his best run so far this season and we needed it to seal the win."

The Mustangs placed four runners in the top six and were led by Steve Coon in first place overall (18:00). He was followed by Andy Haas in third (18:30), Jamie Groves in fifth (18:58) and Connery (18:59). The rest of Northville's top seven included Parag Parikh in 12th (20:15), Dave Borg in 13th (20:39) and Doug Huntington in 14th (21:00).

SCHOOLCRAFT INVITE: In what has become a great opportunity to get a look at the rest of the WLAA, Northville placed fourth in this 19-team event on Sept. 15.

"We did real well," Gabrys said. "We were thinking maybe we'd place around seventh. All 12 WLAA teams were there, so we got a good look at the competition."

At the half-mile point, Coon was way down in 20th position, but he started picking off runners and ended up placing fifth overall in a time of 16:58. The other Northville runners included Haas in 28th (18:20), Groves in 39th (18:40), Parikh in 50th (18:56), Goerke in 54th (19:04) and Connery in 60th (19:09).

"It was a well-run race by our guys," Gabrys said. "From our No. 2 to No. 6 finishers, we packed in under 50 seconds, so that's a good indication."

The Mustangs, 1-0 overall, will get back into action this weekend at the Walled Lake Invite.

Golfers win event for first time since '73

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

It may be a fun outing, but everybody wants to win the Plymouth Best Ball Golf Outing.

The Northville golfers made that task an impossibility for everyone else — at least this year — by grabbing first-place honors in the 19th annual event held on Sept. 11 at Brae Burn. The Mustangs placed in front of teams like Ann Arbor Pioneer — the top-ranked Class A team in the state — to grab the school's first title in this event since 1973.

"It's a lot of fun to play in this, but everybody wants to win it," Northville Coach Don Morgan said. "And since we haven't won it in such a long time,

The Mustang "A" and "B" teams combined to fire a three-under-par 141 in this scramble format to take the title by one stroke over Pioneer. Northville's "A" team of Chris Lemmon and Jason Sherman also notched individual honors as the top two-man duo in the field. Together, the two seniors shot a three-under 69.

"I thought they played up to their potential, but they were mumbling afterwards because they had three bogies," Morgan said.

The "B" team of Mike Fischer and Kevin Krupansky shot an even-par 72 to tie for fourth overall, and then won the three-hole playoff against Pioneer's "B" team and Plymouth Canton's "A" team. The event was played on Canton's home course.

NORTHVILLE 159, SOUTH LYON 179: There was no home course advantage on Sept. 13 in this non-conference battle because both teams play at Salem Hills. And despite a sub-par round by Lemmon, the Mustangs still managed to wipe out the Lions by 20 strokes.

"We played the back nine at Salem, but I don't think it's any easier or tougher than the front," Morgan said. "We are starting to get very consistent scores, so I don't foresee us reverting back to a really bad outing like we had against Novi."

Sherman carded a 38 and tied for medalist honors. He was followed closely by Lemmon (40), Krupansky (40) and Matt Telepo (41).

"I was surprised that Lemmon didn't shoot quite as well as he has been, but everyone has off days," Morgan said.

Northville (3-1 overall, 1-0 in WLAA) will host Plymouth Salem on Sept. 24 at Salem Hills.

Swimmers dunk Salem, 62-31

The Mustang swimmers registered victories in all 12 events and cruised past a respected Plymouth Salem squad 62-31 in the 1990 home opener on Sept. 13. It was also the first WLAA dual meet for the Mustangs (2-0 overall).

The two-time winners included Claire Cryderman (in the 200-yard freestyle and the 100 breaststroke), Pam Wesley (in the 200 IM and the 500 freestyle), Megan Holmberg (in the 50 and 100 freestyle events), and Pam Holdridge (in the 100 butterfly and the 100 backstroke). As you can see, the team's big guns provided most of the damage.

The only other individual winner was Beth Frayne in diving. The 200 medley relay team (with Wesley, Teri Juhasz, Holdridge and Holmberg), the 200 freestyle relay team (featuring Kathy Lang, Cryderman, Sheila Osborne and Susan Kowalski) and the 400 freestyle relay team (with Holmberg, Juhasz, Holdridge and Wesley) were also winners.

The seconds came from Allison Sieving in the 200 freestyle and the 500 freestyle and Juhasz in the 200 IM. The thirds included Brenda Newton in the 50 freestyle and Lang in the 100 butterfly.

WLAA RELAYS: The Mustangs tied with North Farmington for third place in this 11-team relay event held on Sept. 15 at Salem. Plymouth Canyon finished first and the host Rocks were second.

Northville's only first place finish came in the 200 medley relay with Wesley, Juhasz, Holdridge and Holmberg.

NORTHVILLE 121, REDFORD THURSTON 68: For the second time in two dual meets, the Mustangs grabbed all 12 victories against the host Eagles on Sept. 11.

The visitors also set 30 season-best times.

COACHES NEEDED: Novi High School is looking for a new boys varsity swimming coach. Any interested candidates must be available from 2-6 p.m. Monday through Friday for a season starting in mid-November and continuing through March.

Anyone interested should apply in writing to: Dr. Robert S. Youngberg, Principal, Novi High School, 24062 Taft Road, Novi 48050.

FREE ROWING CLINIC OFFERED: The Ann Arbor Rowing Club will be offering a free, formal rowing clinic at Gallup Park Canoe Livery on Sept. 23 from noon-3 p.m.

The clinic is for anyone 15 years of age or older and includes dry land rowing instruction and on-the-water rowing practice.

Pre-registration is suggested as class size is limited. Call 761-3210 for more information.

GRAND SLAM LEAGUES: Grand Slam Leagues: Grand Slam USA, located on Ten Mile Road in Novi, is offering little dribblers and rookie baseball leagues this fall.

The little dribblers basketball league, for kids ages 7-9, will start tomorrow (Sept. 21). Games will be held at 4, 5 and 6 p.m. and cost is $25 per player.

The leagues include six weeks of slamball, baskets at 8 feet, team shirts, officials and an intermediate-sized basketball.

Rookie baseball for ages 7-9 will start today (Sept. 20). Games will be played at 4, 5 and 6 p.m. and fee is $25. The leagues include six weeks of baseball, team shirts, pitching machine, fenced-in diamond and umpire. Call 348-8338 for more information.

SOCCER TRYOUTS: The Michigan State Youth Soccer Association is holding tryouts for the girls Olympic Development program soccer teams.

Tryouts will be held at Bicentennial Park in Livonia on Sept. 21 from 5:30-8 p.m. Ages eligible to try out are girls born in 1973-1978, and on-site registration is $50. For more information, call Kathy Coyne at 522-0296.

PUNT, PASS AND KICK: The sixth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition in Novi is scheduled for Sept. 30 at 2 p.m. All interested football enthusiasts ages 8-13 are encouraged to compete.

Winners from each age division will advance to the Regional Meet, held in October. Regional winners will compete at the State Finals at the Silverdome.

Pre-register by calling 347-0400 by Sept. 28.

BOAT SAFETY CLASSES: The United States Coast Guard is offering Auxiliary Boating Safety Classes. The cost is $13 for the first person and $7 for each additional member of the family. Cost covers the Boating Skills and Seamanship book and any other materials needed.

The classes will be held on Thursday evenings from Oct. 4 to Nov. 8 at Maltby Middle School in Brighton. Any questions, call 663-6192.

U.S. DIVING CLUB: The U.S. Diving Club of Novi has been formed for those interested in competitive diving.

Students must be 8 years old or more, and able to swim the pool width.

To join, call Northville Swim Coach Mark Heiden at 478-0775.

METROPARK PERMITS: The 1990 Huron-Clinton Metroparks annual vehicle-entry and annual boating permits are now on sale at Kensington Metropark near Milford as well as the other 12 Metroparks in the five-county area.

The costs will be the same as in 1989: regular vehicle entry permit — $10 ($5 for senior citizens); regular boating permit — $13 ($6 for senior citizens). Daily permits went on sale Jan. 1, 1990, and are $2 for vehicles and $3 for boats.

No permits will be sold by mail. For more information, contact the Huron-Clinton Metroparks at 1-800-24-PARKS.

MOTORCARS ON DISPLAY: Historic racing vehicles and exhibits honoring the Motorsports Hall of Fame inductees are on display daily at the Novi Civic Center Atrium. Admission is free.

Currently featured are Barney Oldfield's first and last cars — the "999" and the "Golden Submarine" — as well as the 1965 "Novi Special" Indy Car driven by Bobby Unser.

Bronze plaques and other displays honoring 17 Hall of Fame inductees are also on display. The charter class includes Cannon Ball Baker, Jimmy Doolittle, A.J. Foyt, Don Garlits, Phil Hill, Bill Muncey, Barney Oldfield and Richard Petty.

Assistant coach guides kickers past former team

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

Northville's 4-0 soccer victory over North Farmington on Sept. 12 was definitely a significant game for assistant coach Henry Klimes.

With Mustang head coach Bob Paul out of town on business, Klimes filled in to guide the team. But what really made the situation unique was the fact that Klimes was the Raider head coach last season.

"It was a tough situation because I know all the kids on the North Farmington team," Klimes said. "I wanted to win the game but I didn't want to shell them. I have a beef with the new coach there (Kris Galczyk), not the kids."

The Mustangs held a narrow 1-0 lead at the half, but exploded for three goals in the second and totally dominated the play. Goalies Larry Osiecki and Gordie Collins shared the shutout.

Dave Smith broke the scoreless tie with a goal about 25 minutes into the game. The assist went to Steve Lang as his shot was bobbled by the North keeper and Smith was there to put it away. Northville had many other scoring chances in the first half, including a shot by Clay Cutchins that hit off the cross bar, but couldn't convert.

The Mustangs opened the second half with a flurry. Ten minutes in, Steve Moore made it 2-0 on a feed from Ed Petit, and that seemed to break the Raiders. Soon after that, Dave Smith scored off the corner post on a free kick and then with about eight minutes remaining, Matt Osiecki tallied the final goal on an assist from Steve Lang.

"It was a tough situation because I know all the kids on the North Farmington team. I wanted to win the game but I didn't want to shell them. I have a beef with the new coach there (Kris Galczyk), not the kids."

Henry Klimes
Assistant Soccer Coach

"After the second goal, we just dominated," Klimes said. "North Farmington rarely crossed midfield."

Klimes praised defenders Petit, Chris Walker, Brent Garner and Greg Bernardo for their solid play.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 5, NORTHVILLE 1: The Mustangs scored in the first minute of this Sept. 10 game against the powerful Spartans, but that was the lone highlight. "Stevenson is outstanding — they have a lot of talent," Paul said. "We put on a good defensive game, but we still felt like we were just hanging on the first half."

Lang's unassisted goal at the 30-second mark put the locals on top, but Stevenson scored the equalizer with 12 minutes left and it remained tied 1-1 at halftime. But the Spartans took control in the second half with a goal at the 12-minute mark and then three more in the final 10 minutes.

"I think we just got wore down in the second half," Paul explained. "After they scored the third goal of the game, we kind of lost our composure. It was definitely a learning experience for us."

NORTHVILLE 1, MILFORD 0: Playing in its fourth game in six days, the worn-out Mustangs somehow managed to slip past the host Redskins on Sept. 13.

"I was thinking, 'Who is this team on the field?' — I didn't recognize them," Paul said. "It looked like everyone was very worn down. Soccer is a game to be played once or twice a week, not two times in two days. And that's not to take anything away from Milford — they are an improving program."

The only goal of the game came midway through the second half on a header by Lang off a crossing pass from Smith. Osiecki notched the shutout.

"The field at Milford was real small, so it tends to even out the talent a bit," Paul said. "Ball movement becomes much more difficult."

Northville, now 3-1-1 overall and 2-1 in the WLAA, is trying to recover from some nagging injuries. Senior forward Matt Rossing and Lang are both nursing sore knees, while Petit has a deep thigh bruise. All three are expected back in action this week.

Golf Notes

LIGHTHOUSE GOLF OUTING: Tee off with Pontiac Area Lighthouse as it sponsors its first annual Golf Outing on Sept. 27 from 11 a.m.-8 p.m. at the Bogie Lake Golf Course in Union Lake.

Packages are available for golfers and non-golfers. The $75 package includes 18 holes of golf, cart, lunch, open bar, steak dinner and door prizes. The $35 package includes dinner, open bar and door prizes. Lighthouse, founded in 1972, offers free food and clothing and provides emergency funds for medical, rent, utilities and transportation for the needy.

For more information, call Charlotte Jones at 355-2462.

NORTHVILLE ALUMNI GOLF OUTING: The Northville High School Alumni Golf Outing for the 1964, 1965 and 1966 graduating classes will be held on Sept. 22 at Bogie Lake Golf Club in White Lake Township.

The event, started six years ago, will get under way at 1 p.m. and will use the Texas Scramble format. Cost is $36 for 18 holes of golf, power cart and dinner. (Dinner only is $14; golf only is $22).

For information, call Howard Ambinder at 548-1773 or Tom Bingham at 624-1531. Checks can be sent by mail to: Tom Bingham, P.O. Box 156, Walled Lake 48390.

MORE KENSINGTON TOURNAMENTS: There are more tournaments in store for area golfers this fall at the Kensington Golf Course. Last year, the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority sponsored a series of golf tournaments at Kensington Metropark in Milford. The series included six different tournaments including both team and individual competitive formats.

The objective in sponsoring these tournaments, according to tournament director Doug Curry, is to offer the golfing public well-run tournaments using USGA rules and handicaps at a low cost. The tournaments are designed to challenge tournament veterans and first-time tournament players alike. The formats allow players with a wide range of skill levels to have a successful tournament experience.

Entry fees are kept low ($3-$4 per player) and prizes are modest (usually trophies and free greens-fee certificates). That places more emphasis on participation and enjoyment.

USGA handicaps are required thus allowing players at all skill levels an opportunity to be successful. Curry also said that establishing and using a USGA handicap makes the game more enjoyable.

Last year, the tournaments generated a great deal of interest. Over 850 entries were accepted for the six tournaments. This was highlighted by 240 entries in the Individual Championship held in September. At least 75 percent of the golfers entered had never played in a USGA-style tournament before.

This year, the program has been expanded. There will be a playoff among at least four of the HCMA courses for the Individual Championship.

The Individual Championship will feature the Course Championships on Sept. 23. The HCMA finals will be on Oct. 7.

For more information on Kensington or HCMA tournaments, call Doug Curry at (313) 849-2025 by day, or at (313) 437-1835 in the evenings.

Getting a grip on your anger

By JAN JEFFRES
Staff Writer

Only through lightning reflexes and skillful driving do you maneuver your car to safety when a speed demon cuts you off on I-96.

Your heart pounds. Your shoulders and neck tense up. You hiss choice obscenities through gritted teeth. You go home and kick the dog.

Is this any way to act? Not according to Sandra Baumann, who will be speaking about "Making Anger My Friend" tonight at the Novi Public Library at 7 p.m. Baumann is program coordinator for ElderMed, a senior program at Botsford Hospital and is also a wellness instructor at Madonna College's Continuing Education Program.

Sometimes anger is wasted energy. You must decide if the event really merits a strong reaction, she advises.

"If somebody cuts in front of me in the grocery line, I say that's their problem. Don't assume they're out to get you. They could be having a bad day. I think anger's always a choice. I can choose to be angry."

Besides making you feel crummy, rage handled in a self-defeating style can ultimately make you sick. All that tension, all that anger and hostility can lead to heart disease and arthritis, Baumann said.

"Anger as an emotion is neutral, she explained, but how it's handled can be bad — or good. Neither permitting tension to slow simmer to a boil nor flying off the handle and feeding the anger by ranting and raving is constructive behavior. Daily anger could even indicate that professional counseling is advisable.

Learn positive ways to handle the emotion. As a role model, Baumann suggests the character Claire Huxtable in "The Cosby Show," who talks out her feelings, communicates her needs and makes it perfectly clear when her "line of respect" has been violated.

"We could get angry with someone and describe our feeling, what we wanted, what we didn't get. Then we have a possibility of a better relationship," Baumann said.

"Anger tells you you're having emotional pain. Someone has crossed your boundaries. If people don't defend their boundaries, their boundaries are going to continue to be violated and their problems will continue."

Baumann advises someone to take a few minutes to sort out their bruised feelings and then discuss the issue by using "I messages" such as: "I'm angry when you don't clean your room." Instead of "you lazy slob." This enables you to express yourself without putting the other person on the defensive.

Anger's energy can be used to fuel positive behavior. Historically, it has provided the push for many humanitarian causes, such as Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

One useful trick is writing out your anger in a detailed letter which can be edited and mailed to the offender or simply tossed away, Baumann said.

Ultimately, forgiveness and compassion are healing for your health as well as your interpersonal relationship, she added.

Water fitness class offered locally

For adult swimmers and non-swimmers who would like to lose excess pounds and inches without the strenuous exercise of aerobics, a water fitness class is being offered in Northville.

The 10-week class will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays (6:30-7:15 p.m.) at the Northville High School pool from Sept. 24 to Nov. 28. Fee is $24.

Water workouts use the resistance of the water to firm and tone your muscles. For more information, call 349-0203.

YOGA CLASSES — Seven-week yoga classes are being offered in Northville this fall. Diane Siegel-DiVita, past president of the Yoga Association of Greater Detroit, is the instructor.

The classes will be offered on Thursdays (7-8:30 p.m.) or Sundays (10:10-11:40 a.m.) at the Northville American Legion Hall. Yoga effectively trains the body to develop strength, flexibility and balance.

Cost is $28. For more information, call Siegel-DiVita at 344-0928.

WEIGHT WATCHERS — Weight Watchers, the internationally recognized weight loss program, meets every Wednesday at the Northville Community Center at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Registration fee is $17 plus a weekly fee of $9. For more information, call Diana Kutzke at 287-2900.

AEROBIC FITNESS INC. — A fitness program called "Aerobic Fitness Inc." is now being offered. The one-hour program is designed to stretch, trim and tone. Six-week classes run continuously throughout the year.

Fee is $33 (two classes per week), $45 (three classes), and $55 (unlimited). For more information, call 348-1280.

ASK-A-NURSE REFERRAL — "Ask-a nurse," the new 24-hour health information and physician referral line sponsored by five Mercy hospitals in Southeast Michigan, is offering a new speakers bureau to community groups. Program director Linda Hintze, R.N. and registered nurses who man the telephone lines seven days a week, 365 days a year, will be available to speak to groups of 15 or more about the calls they receive and how they help callers locate physicians and health or community information.

Requests should be made at least three weeks before the intended speaking engagement. There is no charge for the service and participants will give valuable information about how this service can help them day or night. For more information or to make a reservation, please call the ASK-A-NURSE office at Catherine McAuley Health Center toll-free at 1-800-526-MERCY (1-800-526-3729) or in the Ann Arbor area, (313) 572-5500.

"Ask-a-nurse" is a free community health information and physician referral service of five Sisters of Mercy Hospitals — Catherine McAuley Health Center-Ann Arbor, Mercy Hospital-Port Huron, Mercy Hospitals and Health Services in Detroit which includes Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital and Samaritan Health Center, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital-Pontiac. The Sisters of Mercy Health Corp. is the largest health care provider in Michigan.

MERCY CENTER CLASSES — The Mercy Center, located on Eleven Mile between Middlebelt and Inkster roads in Farmington Hills, is offering a wide variety of swimming and fitness classes in 1990.

Mercy is offering open swimming daily from 6:30-8 a.m. and on Saturdays from 7:30-9 a.m. in addition to several fitness classes — like the Trim-Gym-Fitness Class, the Pool and Gym Class and the Coed Trim and Swim Fitness Class.

CPR CLASSES — Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills is offering adult CPR classes and infant/child CPR classes.

The adult program is offered the first Thursday of every month in the Administration and Education Center from 7-10 p.m. Pre-registration is required.

The infant/child program is offered the first Monday of every month in the Administration and Education Center from 7-10 p.m. Pre-registration is also required.

Fee is $5 for each class. Call 471-8090 for more information.

A cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class is also offered by Schoolcraft College on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6-10 p.m.

An American Red Cross CPR certification card is issued upon successful completion of the course. Cost is $18. For more information call 591-6400, Ext. 410.

FREE HEALTH SPEAKERS — Catherine McAuley Health Center is offering health care professionals to speak to clubs, community groups and schools interested in learning more about health care and other medical issues through McAuley's Speaker's Bureau.

"Speakers are provided free of charge to keep audiences up to date on the latest in medicine, technology and the rapidly changing business of health care," said Liz Peterson, director of community relations.

Just some of the topics the speakers can address include — "Eating Economically and Nutritionally," "Superwoman Syndrome," "AIDS," "Stress," "Heart Disease — Treatment and Prevention," "Alzheimer's" and "Characteristics of Chemical Dependence."

Speakers are available for groups of 15 to 200 and will adjust their presentations to the needs and time requirements of organizations.

For more information, call community relations at 572-4033.

FREE SCREENINGS — Botsford Hospital's Health Development Network will offer free blood pressure and vision screening the second Monday of every month from 1-4 p.m. The screenings take place in the main lobby of Botsford General Hospital at 28050 Grand River in Farmington Hills. For more information call 471-8090.

Fitness Tips

Early detection key to preventing cancer

BREAST CANCER:

Of the 150,000 women who are diagnosed with breast cancer each year, 75 percent will survive five years or more — and that rate continues to improve. Early detection is the key, so look for these warning signs:

- A lump in the breast.
- Thickening, swelling, puckering, dimpling, redness or skin irritation that persists.
- Distorted breast shape.
- Inverted nipple, breast or nipple discharge.
- Breast pain and tenderness.

If you detect any of these signs, see your doctor immediately.

RISK FACTORS:

Following is a list of risk factors associated with breast cancer that you should be aware of:

- Age — approximately 75 percent of breast cancers occur after age 50.
- Onset of menstruation before age 12.

- Older than 30 years at birth of first child.
- Never giving birth.
- Obesity — 40 percent above normal weight for your height.
- Late menopause.
- History of breast cancer in close family members (mother, sister, grandmother, aunt).

WHAT YOU CAN DO:

The cure rate for breast cancer is nearly 100 percent when the cancer is found at the earliest possible stage, so early detection and prompt treatment are critical.

SOME GUIDELINES:

- Women under age 40
 - Examine breasts monthly.
 - Have a breast exam by a doctor at least every three years.
- Have a baseline mammogram beginning at age 35.
- Women age 40-49
 - Examine breasts monthly.
 - Have a breast exam by a doctor every year.

- Have a mammogram every one to two years.

Women age 50 and older:

- Examine breasts monthly.
- Have a breast exam by a doctor every year.
- Have a mammogram every year.

TESTICULAR CANCER:

Testicular cancer is the most common cancer in males age 20-34. The five-year survival rate for all cases of testicular cancer is 68 percent, but the most common form is nearly 100 percent curable if detected and treated early, said David Schottenfeld, M.D., director of Cancer Epidemiology, Causation and Prevention at the U-M Cancer Center. Schottenfeld recommends that men perform testicular self-examination every month to check for any small lumps or changes in the size of the testes. Other symptoms include a dull ache or heavy dragging sensation in the groin, scrotum or lower abdomen. While the rate of testicular cancer incidence among young men increased 85 percent between 1950-1985, mortality has declined 60 percent.

"Recent advances in chemotherapy have significantly improved the prognosis for patients diagnosed with advanced testicular cancer," Dr. Schottenfeld explained. Other cancers most prevalent in this age group are Hodgkin's disease, melanoma, brain cancer, thyroid cancer and non-Hodgkin's lymphoma.

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

Everything you need to close down a crackhouse.

The Case of The Stanton Park Stand-off

When crack moved into a row house on a quiet block of Stanton Park in Washington, D.C. folks decided to serve an eviction notice.

They met with police to find out what they could do to keep drugs out of their neighborhood.

The cops told them to keep an eye out — to let police know whenever something suspicious happened. They began to notice faces.

They wrote down license numbers of strange cars. They noted the times of odd behavior. They worked with each other. They worked with the police. Armed with field glasses, note pads and telephones, folks kept track of the neighborhood.

Within one month enough evidence had been gathered. Police moved in. Crack moved out.

Citizen participation beat crime in D.C. It can do the same for you. For more success stories write The McGuffey Files, 1 Prevention Way, Washington, D.C. 20539-0001.

Police become even more responsive when their people are their partners. Together we can help.

WHY PAY FOR THE WHOLE PIE WHEN YOU ONLY WANT A PORTION?

WHY PAY FOR THE WHOLE CAR WHEN YOU ONLY WANT TWO YEARS' WORTH?

You don't buy a whole pie, when you only want a piece. Why do any different with a car? Why buy the whole car when you only want a few years' worth? Now you don't have to with Ford Credit's Red Carpet Lease. Here's how it works. We take the total cost of the car, then deduct the guaranteed future value. Your payments are the difference, plus a lease charge based on the total cost of the vehicle. So your monthly cost is much less than with a conventional purchase financed over the same period of time. The benefits go on and on.

STEEL POLE-TYPE BUILDING PACKAGES $1799

24'x 24' STEEL ROOFS & SIDEWALLS
Package includes: Helpful blueprint, premium 29 gauge painted Fabral roof & sidewall steel, 1 piece gable steel, 2 rows of 2"x 6" treated splash, painted gable and corner trim, engineered roof trusses, 4' o.c.-4 1/2" pitch, 4"x 6" treated posts. Quality National brand door track.

Fabral Grandrib III made of 29 gauge "full hard" grade E steel offers greater load bearing capacity rigidity and spanning property than soft steel. Full 36" coverage panels with 1/4" deep ribs every 9" provide exceptional rain carrying capacity and anti-siphon side lap makes it virtually leak proof. All painted panels are color coated for a durable long lasting finish with a full 5 year warranty. All panels can be custom cut in lengths up to 40 feet. ALLOW 2 WEEKS FOR DELIVERY.
