City keeps Word as manager choice

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Gary Word, city administrator of South St. Paul, Minn., has been chosen as Northville's new city manager.

The city council unanimously agreed to offer Word the position at a special meeting Monday morning, May 20.

Word was one of seven finalists the council culled from 95 applications for the position. He was interviewed by council members Tuesday, May 21, and then accepted the position. Word will take his place July 1, with Assessor Mark Christiansen serving as acting manager until Word's arrival.

Tomorrow, Walters leaves the Northville post he held for 17 years. Word will take his place July 1, with Assessor Mark Christiansen serving as acting manager until Word's arrival.

The council selected the South St. Paul candidate as its favorite during late special meeting Saturday, May 18. He was one of six of the four top choices, along with Alle of Huntington Woods, Robert Herron Jr. of Belleville and Ronald Lee of Grand Ledge. Word was the only out-of-state applicant of the seven who made it to the interview process. An eighth finalist, who withdrew before his interview, was from Nebraska.

The council was unanimous in its praise for Word Saturday morning. Council Member Dewey Gardner said he was impressed by the candidate's comments on administrative techniques at last Tuesday's interview, while Jerry Mittman praised his qualifications and experience. Carolann Ayers cited Word's education, experience and personality, and his outlook for Northville, as factors in her decision.

Johnson negotiated a contract with the candidate over the course of several weekend phone calls and presented it to his fellow council members at their 7:30 a.m. Monday meeting, during which they unanimously approved it.

The contract provides Word with a $58,000 annual salary, a $275 monthly car allowance, and an estimated $3,700 in "reasonable documented moving expenses" for he and his family. The council also agreed to pay Word and his family "reasonable documented travel expenses . . . to travel to Northville one time to look for housing."

Memorial Day ceremony set

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The annual Memorial Day commemoration returns to the streets of downtown Northville Monday, May 27.

Jim VanHauter, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the main speaker at this year's ceremony. Honored guests include Gold Star Mother Clara Genitti.

This year's ceremonies are hosted by local American Legion Post 147, which alternates each year with VFW Post 4012.

Grand marshals for this year's Memorial Day parade include representatives of each of this century's major conflicts, with Anthony Belanger representing World War I, Marjorie Sommers from World War II, Casey Lada from the Korean War, Dick O'Hare from the Vietnam War, and Jim Phillips from the Persian Gulf War.

Belanger, who was ill as of press time Tuesday, is not able to attend the parade.

The procession will begin promptly at 10 a.m. on Griswold Street south of Main Street and follow its traditional route, winding west on Main, turning south on Wing and west on Cady, and stopping for a brief ceremony at the Cady Street Cemetery.

The parade will proceed south on Rogers to the Rural Hill Cemetery, stopping at the bridge there for a wreath-tossing ceremony and gun salute, and finish with the speech in the veteran's area of the cemetery.

Another Memorial Day tradition continues this year: Ray Casterline II, last year's parade grand marshal, will provide free Guernsey Farms Dairy ice cream at the Casterline Funeral Home, 122 W. Dunlap St., following the commemoration.

Parade participants include the VFW and American Legion and their auxiliaries, Salvation Army, Civil Air Patrol, local Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops, Masons, and the Northville High School band.

Guests include local city and township dignitaries, State Sen. Robert Geake, 35th District Court Judge John E. MacDonald, and former Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz.

Prison ushers in female inmates

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Continued transfers of female prisoners to Scott Correctional Facility in Northville Township will boost the prison's female population to 280 by week's end.

State Department of Corrections officials moved about 120 women to Scott Correctional earlier this week. The prison began accepting female inmates May 15, a day after the last of the prison's male population left the grounds, said Lance Shuhmacher, administrative assistant to the warden at Scott.

Transfers will cease when the female population reaches 336, Shuhmacher said.

Most of the male inmates were moved to state facilities in Detroit or Adrian, Shuhmacher said. A select few were sent to other prisons based on special medical needs, he said.

State Corrections officials decided in January to convert Scott to an all-female facility to decrease overcrowding problems at Huron Valley Correctional in Ypsilanti. Scott was selected because it is a newer facility and was deemed more adaptable to a female population.

The switch in inmate gender will not prompt security changes, Shuhmacher said.

Hospital walkaways alarm township

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Dangerous patients walking away from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital are causing alarm among township officials.

And officials worry that an influx of patients from an Ypsilanti mental institution has created security woes in Northville.

The township will investigate a recent spate of walkaways from the 41001 Seven Mile state hospital site, Supervisor Georgina Goss said Tuesday.

The township will ask the state to provide classifications and numbers of mental patients at NRPH, and to provide security staff-to-patient ratios, Goss and police Chief Chip Snider said.

"We're very concerned about the safety of the residents," Goss said. "We're going to take whatever action is open to us."

Goss also said the township may ask the state to construct a fence around the front of the hospital, a move that state Department of Mental Health officials have long resisted.

An additional 100 mental patients were placed at NRPH after Ypsilanti Regional State Hospital closed in March, said state Sen. Robert Geake. Included in the transfers were patients with criminal backgrounds, he said.

"Those who came from Ypsilanti include some who (had been) charged with crimes," Geake said. "(But) they are not categorically different from those presently at Northville."

Northville and Ypsilanti hospitals both have housed patients who could be considered dangerous to themselves or others, Geake said.

Goss said township concerns were heightened after walkaway incidents involving a pair of dangerous hospital patients.

A Detroit man walked away from NRPH May 9 and injured a 72-year-old Northville man before stealing his car in the Northville Plaza parking lot.

The walkaway, classified by hospital security as "assaultive and hos-

Flowers return in show/sale

Eastern Market returns to downtown Northville this weekend for the fourth annual Northville Flower Show and Sale.

The streets of Northville will be in bloom with a variety of plants from greenhouses and related businesses from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. The event, which brings many vendors who also show at Eastern Market in Detroit, is sponsored by the Northville Merchants Association.

Sellers will include Riverbend-Evergreen Nursery, Coy Kendall Greenhouse, Sparr's Greenhouse, Prielips Farms, Dinser's Greenhouse, Brainer's, Brickscape, Willows Greenhouse, Smith's Nursery, Evonski Greenhouse, Whirligigs, and Posie Pouches.

In addition, in the park by the bandshell, several companies will be on hand to answer questions and offer demonstrations. They include Pakizer Construction (decks), Ard & Son (sprinkler systems), B & B Pools and Spas, and Brickscape (interlocking brick patios).

Last year's flower sale brought crowds to Main Street.

Officials worry about walkaways bative," returned to the hospital May 12. Police recovered the stolen car in Highland Park May 15 and hope to obtain a warrant against the man this week.

The injured Northville man was released from Botsford General Hospital late last week after treatment for head lacerations and a fractured elbow.

A second hospital patient, a Taylor man who reportedly has threatened to kill his mother and children, escaped three times in less than 24 hours May 16-17 and escaped again Tuesday morning.

He had not returned to the hospital by press time Tuesday.

NRPH Director Walter Brown blamed a security lapse for the escape that led to the Northville man's injuries.

Brown said "appropriate action" would be taken in the security slip-up, but Brown did not return a reporter's calls Tuesday to respond to questions about the Taylor man's repeated walkaways.

Snider said his department has stepped up patrols around the perimeters of the state hospital grounds since hospital population levels increased.

"We will saturate residence and business patrols, especially in light of the 72-year-old victim (incident)," he said.

'Dangerous' patient escapes again

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A man security staff labeled "dangerous" walked away from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital three times in less than 24 hours last week — and walked away again Tuesday morning.

The Taylor man, who reportedly threatened to kill his parents and children, attempted to escape from the state facility on Seven Mile Road at approximately 8:23 p.m. May 16, at 2:39 p.m. May 17 and at 3:41 p.m. that same afternoon. He left hospital grounds again Tuesday morning at approximately 11:30.

The patient was returned to the state hospital property shortly after each escape last week, police said, but had not returned by press time Tuesday.

The man's longest stint outside the hospital was 25 minutes, according to township police records.

The three walkaway attempts came a week after another dangerous patient walked away from NRH grounds.

Terrance Jenkins, 27, of Detroit, allegedly walked away May 9, injured a Northville man and stole his car.

Jenkins returned to the hospital May 12 and the vehicle was recovered late last week in Highland Park, police said.

Jenkins' 72-year-old victim suffered head injuries and a fractured elbow. He was released from Botsford General Hospital last week.

Police on Monday said Jenkins confessed to unarmed robbery and car theft. Police hope to obtain a warrant for Jenkins, but said prosecution may hinge on results of a competency hearing.

NRPH Director Walter Brown blamed a security lapse for Jenkins' escape.

Driver killed at intersection

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A Plymouth Township woman died at the intersection of Five Mile and Ridge roads Monday when a semi-truck and trailer struck the compact car she was driving.

Winifred Sinclair, 73, was pronounced dead at the scene shortly after the 9:50 a.m. accident, said Plymouth Township police Sgt. Robert Antal.

Police said Sinclair was northbound on Ridge and apparently drove through a stop sign at the Five Mile intersection.

An eastbound semi driven by a Detroit man struck the woman's Ford Pinto broadside and pushed the crumpled vehicle into a ditch on the northeast corner of the intersection.

The semi appeared to be traveling within the posted 45 mph speed limit, police said.

"The semi did have the right-of-way," Antal said.

A witness said Sinclair ignored the stop sign.

"She just came flying through," said Bill Hale, of Garden City.

Hale, who was westbound on Five Mile, said the driver of a pickup waiting at the southbound corner of the intersection "waved his hands and tried to get her to stop" before the collision.

An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death, Antal said. He said it did not appear that either driver was under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

Police will submit results of their investigation to the Wayne County Prosecutor's office by the end of this week. The prosecutor will determine if charges are to be filed against the semi driver.

Monday's fatal accident is the second serious collision to occur at the Five Mile/Ridge intersection since the end of April.

A Plymouth man who failed to stop at the same intersection was injured when his vehicle was struck by a semi-trailer westbound on Five Mile April 30. The Plymouth man suffered lacerations and fractures when the impact knocked him from his pickup.

Spray-painters leave their mark on schools

Spray-paint-wielding vandals caused an estimated $150 damage at Cooke School, 21200 Taft Road, sometime between 10:30 p.m. May 18 and 5:30 p.m. the next night, painting messages on brick walls and sidewalks.

City police believe the same group spray-painted similar messages at Northville High School, 775 N. Center St., some time between 10:30 p.m. May 18 and 7:10 a.m. May 20. The messages included initials, a name, and taunts directed at police.

MAN ARRESTED ON OLD WARRANT: City police arrested a 35-year-old Livonia man May 16 after discovering an 11-year-old warrant for his arrest.

The man had been stopped for speeding on Nine Mile east of Taft Road at 2:07 p.m. when a computer check turned up the 1980 warrant, for failure to appear in court on a charge of operating a vehicle while alcohol-impaired. The warrant had been issued by the Wayne police department. The man was released on $60 bond.

TIRES PUNCTURED AT SCHOOL: Two tires on a car parked at Amerman School, 847 N. Center

St., were punctured some time between 8 p.m. and midnight May 17. The car was parked at the west end of the school's parking lot.

FENDER DENTED: City police received a report of malicious damage to a car parked at Fish Hatchery Park, 726 Seven Mile Road, between 7:30-9 p.m. May 10. An estimated $150 in damage was done to the vehicle's right front fender.

WINDOW SHATTERED AT McDONALD'S: Township police suspect a thrown golf ball shattered a window at McDonald's, 39700 Five Mile, late May 19.

Witnesses told police the restaurant's front window shattered after they heard a popping noise at approximately 10 p.m. May 19. Police found nothing inside the restaurant, but a driving range golf ball was found outside the building.

Damage was estimated at $150.

BASEBALL DAMAGES CAR: A Parklane resident told township police that someone hit the spoiler on his 1991 Ford Escort with a baseball May 11 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Damage was estimated at $250.

FENDER BENDER: City police reported one accident last week. A 58-year-old Northville woman driving south on North Center May 18 at 8:30 a.m. struck a northbound car when she attempted to turn east onto Dunlap. She was cited for failing to yield.

MEIJER LARCENIES: A 36-year-old Detroit woman was charged with larceny after she attempted to steal cigarettes from Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, May 14.

A 19-year-old Detroit woman was charged with larceny after she attempted to switch price tags on items at Meijer May 16.

A 17-year-old Farmington Hills woman and a 17-year-old Farmington woman were charged with larceny May 13 after they attempted to steal almost $450 in clothing, electronics and personal items from Meijer.

OUIL: A 23-year-old Northville man was charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol after his arrest on Six Mile, west of Haggerty, early May 16.

Township police said the man's preliminary breath test indicated a .20 blood-alcohol level, which is twice the legal limit in Michigan.

Female prisoners file in to Scott Correctional Facility

"Security levels will be the same; minimum, medium and closed," he said. "Except for some physical plant changes, it will be pretty much the same."

In fact, needed modifications at Scott were minor, Shuhmacher said. Urinals are out — an additional number of sinks are in, he said.

For the most part, an inmate is an inmate, in the eyes of prison administrators, Shuhmacher said.

"I think everybody's received the same training (on how) to deal with all prisoners," he said. "Some of us that have worked with females before (will conduct) in-house training."

Scott officials have not received final word on a proposed plan to double-bunk female prisoners, but do not foresee problems with that scenario, Shuhmacher said.

Cells are large enough to handle increased population and staff will "just put a bunk bed in," he said.

Additional security staffing will be required if the double-bunking strategy is implemented, but Shuhmacher did not know how many more guards would be needed.

Northville Township and the state recently cut a complex deal that would allow the state to double-bunk inmates at Scott.

As part of a provision to allow modifications to a consent judgment against the state, the township received a packet of concessions and incentives, including 16 acres of state land on Seven Mile Road, a mortuary on prisons in the township, the razing and eventual sale of Phoenix Correctional, and the open-market sale of approximately 50 acres of state land on Seven Mile east of the state hospital.

Engineers pondering solid waste proposals

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

If you said last week's opening of bids for the township's solid waste and recycling strategy was confusing, you'd be right.

If you felt bids from five prospective hauling firms were little more than a jumble of disjointed numbers, you'd be accurate.

If you determined that no one in attendance — bidders, township and city officials and the press included — had any clue about what the individual bids meant, you wouldn't be far from the truth.

But if you think it will be impossible to decipher the bids and recommend a firm to handle the Northville community's solid waste and recyclable materials collections, you're just not looking closely enough.

So says Abe Munfah of Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May, the township's engineering consultant.

Munfah's firm spent the week mulling and researching bids from five companies hoping to land contracts for recycling, composting and solid waste collections with the township and city.

"It's a complicated procedure," Munfah said Tuesday, when asked to unscramble the bid-opening puzzle. "Until lately, this was not done this way."

(But I'm shooting for Tuesday or Wednesday of next week to make a recommendation," he said.

Alas, the winning bid may not come from the lowest bidder. An involved proposal package that covers the gamut of city and township solid waste and recyclable material needs must be adequately addressed, Munfah said.

"Sometimes the apparent low bidder is not the low bidder," he said. "We have to determine who is proposing to provide services that we feel are best for (the community)."

Bidders were asked to respond to seven proposals, including:

- Collection and disposal of residential solid waste;
- A residential recycling program;
- Servicing of a stationary recycling center;
- A residential composting program;
- Commercial units;
- Northville Downs solid waste;
- Special events.

Competing firms could also make bids on a mix-and-match basis, which further skewed the process to those who may not understand bidding wars.

Some firms declined to bid on specific items on the list.

Township engineers also must weigh a bevy of variables, including individual bidder's landfill space and future landfill sites and capabilities, future landfill costs, and length of bid proposals, Munfah said.

And the recommendation must also be based upon what plan or plans work best for both communities.

No clear winner in the bidding process had emerged by Tuesday afternoon, but patterns arose which placed some of the hauling firms ahead of their competitors, at least on cost, Munfah said.

But the bottom line is to find the most economical — and realistic — way to handle the community's solid waste, recyclable materials and compostable materials, Munfah said.

The township and city must adhere to Wayne County's solid waste master plan, which requires individual communities to develop and implement solid waste and recycling strategies by specific, county-ordered dates.

The township must in theory adopt a solid waste ordinance by July 1 to comply with Wayne County guidelines. Officials are eyeing Sept. 1 as the plan's actual implementation date.

Firms that presented bids included: Painter & Ruthenberg, Inc. of Inkster; City Management of Detroit; Waste Management of Michigan of Southfield; Laidlaw Waste System Corp. of Southfield; and Browning-Ferris Industries Inc. of Wayne.

TIPS FROM TUCKKLAPER
Novi Dental Center
A. Allen Tuchklaper D.D.S.

A BAD BITE
A bad bite can cause a lot of trouble for children and parents. In dentistry, we call this malocclusion, the improper contact between teeth and jaws when biting.
There are lots of causes, including loss of teeth through decay or accident. Bad mouth habits can cause it, too, such as thumb-sucking, tongue thrusting, or breathing through the mouth.
The best thing to do is pay close attention to your child's teeth as soon as they grow into place. First teeth or baby teeth have a big effect on permanent teeth. By looking for wear marks and other signs a dentist can tell if crossbite or other problems are beginning. As the baby teeth are replaced with permanent teeth, sometimes the new tooth may come through crooked or push other teeth out of line.
The earlier problems are handled, the better chance your dentist has to correct them and keep your child's teeth healthy. Major corrective treatment, such as orthodonture, can often be avoided with proper early dental care.

New city manager leaves supporters

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville City's incoming manager will leave a few fans behind at his current post in South St. Paul, Minn., according to people there.

Gary Word's current associates praised the city administrator for his openness and ability to get things done.

"Gary is very easy to work with and a very fair person," said Branna Lindell, executive director of the city's Housing and Redevelopment Authority. The authority is similar to Michigan's housing commissions.

Lindell described Word's management style as "participatory," saying,

"He involves his department heads in making decisions."

She said he is "very willing to listen to what you had to say, but ready to make his own decisions based on all the information he receives."

Word was South St. Paul's first city administrator, after years of operating under a city coordinator form of government where the coordinator had little authority and department heads worked directly with the city council. "He brought a lot of organization to the city," Lindell said.

Lindell's role as head of the Housing and Redevelopment Authority gave her a different relationship with Word than more traditional department heads, she said. "We're a separate agency, but I worked closely with him on a number of projects... We were able to develop a good working relationship. He's a person you can trust to follow through," she said.

One of those projects was Port Crosby, she said. "A proposed marina/housing project on 87 acres of land, it was a $70 million project... with fairly complex financing."

The project is still in the developmental stages, Lindell said.

Lindell described Word as "an all-around great guy," saying "We like him here a lot. I'm sorry he's going, but it sounds like it's a good opportunity for him there in Northville."

"I really think the employees will think a lot of Gary... they couldn't have done any better," she said.

Deborah Barkley, the economic development director of South St. Paul's Chamber of Commerce, said she worked with Word while putting together a business retention program for South St. Paul and a neighboring city. The program included a survey of businesses within the community, seeking information on the labor force, business atmosphere, and relations between businesses and the city. The idea was to find "red flags," potential problems faced by the businesses, and head the problems off before they became critical.

Barkley described Word as "very cooperative" throughout the process.

"Gary was very helpful, and assisted in actually writing the program," Barkley said.

"He's been real helpful with any kind of expansion or relocation of companies within the city, and he's been real easy to work with," she said. "We're sorry to see him go."

Word will become the new Northville manager July 1, taking the reins from Assessor Mark Christiansen. Christiansen has been appointed to act as city manager after Steve Walters' departure tomorrow.

City offers post to Minnesota administrator

The council had set a negotiable salary range between $50,000-$60,000 for the manager position. Walters earned $61,380 in salary and longevity pay in Northville this year, with a $250 monthly car allowance. He'll be paid $66,000 in annual salary and $400 in monthly car payments in Plymouth.

Word, 40, currently lives in South

St. Paul with his wife, Denise, and their three daughters, between ages 5 and 10. A native of Minnesota, he taught at a high school in Missouri for five years before entering the field of city administration. He served as administrative assistant in Gladstone, Mo., and St. Louis Park, Minn., before becoming Delano, Minn.'s first city administrator in 1979.

Word served as city manager of Three Rivers, Mich., between 1981-1988, eliminating a $200,000 general operating fund deficit and establishing a budget stabilization fund while he was there. He went on to become the first city administrator for South St. Paul, a St. Paul suburb with a population of 21,000. While there he revised the city charter, streamlined government service operations, and initiated a city-wide curbside recycling program.

A graduate of Evangel College in Springfield, Mo., Word went on to receive a master's degree in education administration at the University of Missouri and another in public administration at the University of Kansas.

The council kept track of all 95 candidates through a numerical scoring system. Applicants were awarded between one and five points each — for a potential top score of 35 — for their years of experience, quality of job experience, general management experience, financial management, personnel relations, community planning and development, and intergovernmental relations.

The scores for the seven finalists ranged from Alex Allie's 29.8 points to 24.8 for South Lyon City Manager Rodney Cook. Word scored the third-highest of the seven, with 27.4 points.

FOOD LOVER'S DIET

To introduce a new approach to dieting, free diet pills were given to 50 people. With The Omicron Diet, one man lost 14 pounds in 5 days and one woman lost 18 pounds in 10 days. The average weight loss was over a pound a day for women and over 2 pounds a day for men. The Omicron Diet is a revolutionary new concept for unbelievably fast weight loss developed and clinically proven by National Dietary Research of Washington, D.C. This significant breakthrough in metabolic weight control was made possible by the utilization of biological information overlooked by other diet programs. With a formulation of natural enzymes along with real food, you shed unwanted pounds extremely rapidly and safely.

Maintain your new weight forever without dieting!!!!!!

With the special enzyme formula Metabolase, it is now possible to reduce your usual weight by up to 10% or to maintain the weight loss after dieting, without changing your normal lifestyle or eating habits. Available through physicians since 1982, the enzyme formula is now available in pharmacies without a prescription. Start enjoying the foods you love to eat without fear of gaining weight. Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to root your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at:

Blitz scheduled

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville police hope their upcoming "blitz" will score big points for traffic safety and save motorists' lives.

The local law enforcement agencies are cooperating with a national campaign to increase the usage of seatbelts to 70 percent by 1992.

The program, dubbed "The Blitz," will include a crackdown on motorists not wearing seat belts or using car seats on six dates this year. On those dates, known only to police, state seat belt laws will be strictly enforced and violators can expect a $50 fine. Officers will also hand out mock tickets at all traffic stops, warning that "it could cost you dearly . . . not to buckle up."

Sergeant David DeLauder of the Northville City Police said the special enforcement dates will be timed to coincide with peak traffic. "It's going to be done around the holidays when more people are using the roads," he said. DeLauder is a traffic officer and accident investigator for the city.

The nationwide crackdown has been endorsed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and is being made in cooperation with Michigan State Police and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

In Michigan, according to the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use in Pontiac, statistics show that 51 percent of the state's drivers use seatbelts, up from a mere 19 percent in 1984. The jump followed the passage of the state's mandatory seat belt law in 1985.

In Northville City, police believe the percentage to be slightly higher.

"We had done kind of a spot survey two weeks ago in the city, and we found we had 54-percent compliance," said Police Chief Rod Cannon.

Talma Cato, a spokesperson for the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use, said the increased use has had several benefits.

"There's been a savings as far as dollars, and, of course, lives," she said.

The new state law was estimated to have saved 300 lives in its first year alone.

The 1985 law requires drivers and front-seat passengers to wear their seat belts. State laws also require children under one year to be in a child car seat, children between 1-4 to be in a child car seat up front or a seat belt in back, and children 4-16 to wear a seat belt in front.

Township Police Chief Chip Snider said his department will continue to use discretion when officers encounter seat belt offenders.

"We are currently enforcing the law in regard to seatbelt usage," he said.

Snider said officers have handed out tickets for those ignoring seat belt laws, but citations generally accompany other traffic violations.

Township officers will observe the seat belt campaign by "issuing verbal warnings, for the most part," Snider said.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out - STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult.
2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet to 20.
4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry. Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
6. Phone a friend.
7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
9. Hug a pillow.
10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 28866, Chicago, IL 60690.

Commission seeks input

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Should the township planning commission seat nine or seven members?

Township residents may voice their opinion at a public hearing prior to the township board's June 13 session.

Township officials have mulled the possibility of reducing planning commission membership since former vice chairperson Karen Woodside resigned in January.

At that time, Supervisor Georgina Goss sought to fill Woodside's slot by seeking resumes from planning hopefuls.

But the commission has since operated with eight members and quorum problems helped shift the focus to reduction, instead of replacement.

Two meetings in the past three months were scratched at the last moment due to commissioner absences and lack of quorum.

With an eight-member commission, five commissioners must be present to make quorum. Four members would constitute quorum with a seven-member commission.

Township Trustee Richard Allen, who also sits on the planning commission, supports the membership cut.

"I've been concerned that we haven't had a quorum," he said. "From an efficiency standpoint, I think it's the thing to do."

Efficiency certainly has been an issue with the planning commission.

Commissioners are scheduled to meet once a month to discuss and vote on planning and zoning issues. Regular meetings routinely run from 7:30 p.m. until approximately 11 p.m.

Before a recent move to hold spillover meetings, some sessions dragged on past midnight. But spillover meetings have been scheduled on more of a regular basis of late, even with an economic downturn that has slowed the building business.

Some township officials feel seven members may be less ponderous than nine when reviewing site plans. Goss has approached the issue in a cautious manner.

"My sentiment is to hear what the public has to say and what the planning commission has to say," she said. "My feeling is (the board) wanted public input before making a decision."

Planning Commission Chairperson Charles DeLand has publicly stated his support for the move from nine to seven members, as have board members James Nowka and Thomas Handyside.

"(We should) make it known that the board would really like to move in that (direction)," Handyside said.

If the board does move to cut membership to seven, the reduction is not expected to cost a current commissioner his or her position — for the time being.

Board sentiment is to reduce membership through attrition, either by resignation or appointment expiration.

Appointments for commissioners Allen, Jerry Chisnell, Barbara O'Brien and Pat Wright expire by the end of 1991.

The planning commission's current lineup also includes DeLand, John Leinonen, Larry Sheehan and Karen Baja.

The public hearing on the proposed membership reduction is slated for 7 p.m. The board is expected to take action on the issue during its following session.

Police link Plymouth scam to Farmington home

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Plymouth Township police have found a connection between a Plymouth home that served as the site of an alleged psychic scam and a home in Farmington Hills. The police are investigating a 35-year-old Novi woman's complaint that she and her mother were bilked out of $4,549 earlier this month by a self-proclaimed psychic in Plymouth.

The woman told police she had responded to an advertisement in the April 1 issue of HomeTown newspapers' Green Sheet, a classified advertising section that runs in the Northville Record and Novi News. The ad, which ran for several days, billed a woman named "Rita" as a "reader and advisor (in) psychics, crystal, tarot cards, palm reading."

Police noticed a similar advertisement in the May 13 Green Sheet. That ad offered "crystal and tarot card reading by Elizabeth," and gave a Farmington telephone number. The complainant went with police to the Farmington house, where she identified several of the people there as former occupants of the Plymouth home.

"My complainant did positively identify some people in that house as being in the house in Plymouth Township," said police investigator David Hayes. "But the suspect we were trying to locate was not at the house."

The Novi woman told Plymouth Township police that she and her mother were bilked out of $4,549 for psychic services. The woman told police she called Rita, who had business cards bearing that name, after reading the April 1 ad. She said she first met with the psychic May 1 and was charged $90 for the session. A second session cost $249.

As part of a psychic ceremony May 7, the woman was instructed to place $2,700 in $100 bills, in three stacks of nine, on an "altar" at Rita's rented Plymouth Township home. The woman's mother was told to leave an additional $1,500 in a money belt on the altar, after having been instructed to wear it around her waist.

The ceremony was supposed to "clear the dark cloud of bad luck that has been happening to (the woman's) family," according to the police report.

Rita told the women to leave both the stacks of $100 bills and the money belt on the altar and return the next day. When they returned, the psychic and her entourage had moved out. The owner of the home told police that they had been evicted for not paying their rent.

The self-proclaimed psychic is described as a short, overweight woman of European descent in her 30s.

Hayes said he hopes that publicity about the case will encourage other victims to come forward. But he said such cases often go unreported.

The problem with these kinds of scams is that a lot of times people don't want to report them, because they're embarrassed that they were taken in," he said.

HomeTown Newspapers' classified advertising manager, Grace Perry, said the newspaper chain takes steps to avoid potentially misleading advertisements, but cannot automatically refuse all ads for psychic services.

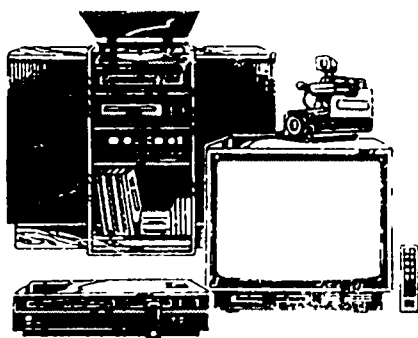

"We have the right to refuse advertising that we feel is misleading," Perry said. "Psychic ads must be prepaid, which will deter some advertising, but we can't say all psychic advertisements are bad. . . . We do have the right to pull advertisements, which is what we're doing with these two ads."

"Our main concern is our readers. We don't want anyone to be taken," she said.

Mill Race Matters

On Thursday, May 16, members of the Northville Historical Society were introduced to the newly created Long Range Five Year Plan and expanded society mission statement at their annual meeting. Now implementation of the plan begins.

The five goals each contain a number of objectives to expand the membership, increase member involvement and to enhance the image and visibility of the organization. The goals, simply stated, are: to increase the use of society facilities and resources, to increase involvement in educational and social programs, to become an advocate for the preservation and protection of historical resources in the Northville region, to reorganize the management structure of the organization to address the changing needs of the society, and to promote public awareness of who we are and what we do.

The new board is enthusiastic to begin work on all areas. It is an ambitious plan and will need the support of large numbers of members. If you wish to become involved in any or all phases of the plan, contact Sally at 348-1845. The entire plan will be printed in the next issue of Mill Race Quarterly due out in late June.

Also at the annual meeting the new board was introduced. Officers for 1991-92 are Art (Rocky) Rockall, president; Mary Jane Cryderman, vice president; Jan Juhasz, secretary; Steve Ball, treasurer; Greg Presley, Tom Swigart, Fran Gazlay, Earl Bryant, Susan Lapine, Carolyn Stuart, Jane Murphy, and Ann Willis. All would welcome your suggestions and offers of assistance. Each will handle a specific area of responsibility with regard to Mill Race Village and Northville Historical Society activity.

Another major accomplishment was the first phase of the village replanting which took place on Saturday, May 11. A large number of members and friends spent most of that hot Saturday planting and weeding. Activities like this can involve us all.

The village will begin Sunday openings on June 2. This year the hours are 2-5 p.m. All buildings will be open to the public, the only fee is a donation. If you would like to become a docent or learn more about the program, call the office at 348-1845 between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Remember to join us after the parade on July 4 to experience our traditional afternoon at Mill Race Village. Bring your picnic and enjoy... restored Victorian buildings, an early 1800s encampment, Michigan 21st Infantry, Novi Concert Band, dulcimer music, craft demonstrations, hot dogs, cotton candy, lemonade, ice cream, and much more. Parking is limited so traditional foot travel or arrival by trolley are recommended. We suggest temperance beverages only.

Schools must file annual report

By TIM RICHARD and SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writers

For the first time in history, officials of every local school building in Michigan must give the public a written annual report on how they are trying to improve.

The report is required under Public Act 25, the massive school quality improvement law passed in 1990. With its statistical tables, it will be like a corporate officers' annual report to shareholders, comparing last year's performance to this year's.

In Northville, public meetings will be held in every school building to discuss that school's report. The next meeting will be May 30 at Amerman Elementary School.

Meetings at Meads Mill Middle School, Northville High School and Cooke Middle School will follow on June 3, 5 and 6 respectively.

The elementary and high school meetings are scheduled to begin at 6:40 p.m. except for Amerman which will have its meeting at 7 p.m. Cooke will hold its meeting at 7:40 p.m. and Meads Mill at 7:45. Each meeting will take place just prior to a scheduled school event.

Moraine and Winchester Elementary schools held meetings in April.

A synthesis of the individual reports will not be presented at a school board meeting, said director of instructional services William Hamilton.

He added that the requirements of the act are "nothing new" to Northville schools.

"It's helpful to a certain extent. It really hasn't provided us with a whole lot of new information," he said. "It's always helpful when you put it all together and look at it as a whole."

PA 25 has teeth. Schools can lose 5 percent of state aid if they fail to produce a report.

The law requires that the report be sent to the State Board of Education and the intermediate (county) school district. Public copies must be distributed in each school building's area.

Reports are to spell out the building's goals, core curriculum, student achievement measurements, student retention rates, accreditation status, and measurements of parental involvement.

"It will make people aware of what is really happening in their schools, what they're trying to do, what some of the obstacles are and what some of the successes are," said Dorothy Beardmore, president of the State Board of Education.

July 31 is the deadline for producing the annual report. State school officials say that's too early because some statistical material will be unavailable. Next year's school aid act is likely to push the date into late summer.

Some districts already do such reports. This year is the first time the report will be mandatory and must cover seven specific areas. Here is the state Department of Education's outline of what the reports must contain:

School Improvement: Three- to five-year plans must cover mission, goals oriented to student outcome, staff development, building-level decision-making and input from school people, students and the public.

This section should describe how the school intends to use the core curriculum to achieve its goals. The staff development section should show evidence of training and in improving the school.

Core Curriculum: Student achievement outcomes are to be defined. Courses, units of study, instructional materials and assessment strategies will be listed.

The State Board of Education has produced a "model" core curriculum. The local school may vary from the state model but must tell the public why.

Student Achievement: Results of local student competency tests, state and national tests will be reported. Where possible, there should be three-year comparisons.

Examples: MEAP (Michigan Educational Assessment Program) results for math and reading in grades 4, 7 and 10; MEAP science results for grades 5, 8 and 11; American College Testing results; Scholastic Aptitude tests.

Student Retention: The law defines this as the proportion of students who enter ninth grade and complete 12th.

The data should include not only graduation rates but transfers in, transfers out and transfers to adult ed. The state wants details on dropouts in order to target assistance.

Accreditation Status: Since this is the first year of state accreditation of buildings, no comparisons will be possible.

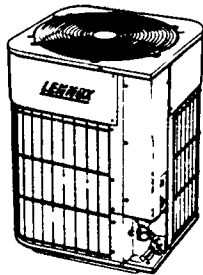

Many high schools have dual accreditation from the University of Michigan and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Schools in a "warned" status — in danger of losing accreditation — must report the status and steps they are taking to maintain accreditation.

Specialized Schools: A district which operates specialized schools must describe them, indicating their purpose, enrollment numbers, procedure for enrolling and how well goals are being met.

Parent Conferences: The report should show the number and percentage of parents (or guardians) who attend conferences with teachers.

Research shows student achievement improves with regular parent-teacher communication.

ANNE GERRINS

Anne M. Gerrins, 92, of Northville Township died in her home May 15. Mrs. Gerrins was born May 23, 1898, to Susan Wain and Richard Webb in Calumet. She was preceded in death by her husband Wesley in 1972.

Surviving her are her daughters, Evelyn Zeuner of Northville; Shirley Glover of Detroit; and Lila Joyce Wratten of Mt. Vernon, N.Y.; as well as seven grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Gerrins' family would appreciate memorials to the Salvation Army, 26700 W. Warren, Dearborn Heights, 48127, or to the American Heart Foundation.

Funeral services were held May 19 at the Salvation Army Headquarters, Major Marvin Dahl officiated at the 11 a.m. ceremony. Arrangements were made by the Casterline Funeral Home in Northville.

HARRIET NEUMANN

Harriet A. Neumann, 82, of Northville Township died May 6 at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

Mrs. Neumann was born in Williamsport, Ill., to Tillie Draper and Chester McAfee on March 3, 1909. She was a teacher and a restaurant owner.

Mrs. Neumann's husband preceded her in death. Surviving her are her daughter, Gail Sweaney of Northville Township, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday, May 11, in Mt. Pulaski, Ill. Interment was in Irish Grove Cemetery, Middleton, Ill.

Arrangements were made by the Casterline Funeral Home in Northville.

EDWARD RILEY

Edward H. Riley, 85, of Northville died May 15 at Plymouth Court in Plymouth.

Mr. Riley was born May 23, 1905, to Zada Simpson and Claud Riley in Milbrook. He lived most of his life in the area, was a Northville High School graduate and was retired from Burroughs Corp.

Surviving Mr. Riley are his wife, Ann; his sister, Mrs. Luella Hammond of Northville; his brother, Ward

Riley of Northville; his daughter, Holly Rollinger of Illinois; and one grandchild.

Funeral services were held Saturday, May 18, at the Casterline Funeral Home in Northville. Fr. Michael Newhouse officiated at the ceremony. Interment was at Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville.

Arrangements were made by the Casterline Funeral Home.

DIANE SPADE

Diane E. Spade, 50, of Northville died May 20 at Glacier Hills Nursing Home in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Spade was born May 28, 1940, to Ruth Basse and Fred Clements in Indianapolis, Indiana. She owned Calico Touch, a Northville-based craft business, and in 1973 moved here from Plymouth. She was an active member of the Lakepointe Garden Club in Plymouth and of Ward Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Surviving Mrs. Spade are her husband, Thomas, of Northville; her son, Thomas Jr. of Sunnyvale, Calif.; her daughters, Debbie Lawton of Farmington Hills and Kristy of Northville; and her mother, Ruth Clements of Indiana.

Services for Diane Spade will be held at 1 p.m. today, May 23, at Ward Presbyterian Church, 17000 Farmington Road in Livonia. Visitation will be at the church from noon until the service begins. Dr. Bartlett L. Hess of Ward will officiate. Interment will be at Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville.

Memorials to the Arbor Hospice, American Diabetes Association or neurological research at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, would be appreciated.

Arrangements were made by the Ross, B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home in Northville.

CLOIE BELL TAYLOR

Cloie Bell Taylor of Florida, 95, a former Northville resident, died May 20 in Venice, Fla.

Mrs. Taylor was born June 3, 1895, in Greendale Township to Ellen Julia Gibbs and Willard D. Conrad. She lived in Northville from 1933 until 1984, and was retired from Maybury Sanitarium. She was also a former member of the First Baptist Church of Northville.

Mrs. Taylor's husband preceded her in death in 1943. Surviving her are her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Ernst of Venice, and her son, Carl Taylor of Brighton, as well as six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. today, May 23, at the Casterline Funeral Home, 122 W. Dunlap in Northville. Pastor Stephen Sparks of the First Baptist Church will officiate at the service. Interment will be at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

Arrangements were made by the Casterline Funeral Home.

Council wastes no time in choosing a manager

In a procedure remarkably free of complications or setbacks, the Northville City Council has found a successor to City Manager Steven Walters.

And the council completed its hunt with an ease that made it hard to believe nearly 18 years have passed since its last city manager search.

When Walters was named manager in 1973, Northville was a very different place. Voters had recently turned down a proposed unification of the city and township, the Northville Square retail area (which eventually folded and was taken over by the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen) was preparing to open its doors, and Main Street '78 was not yet a gleam in the new city administrator's eye.

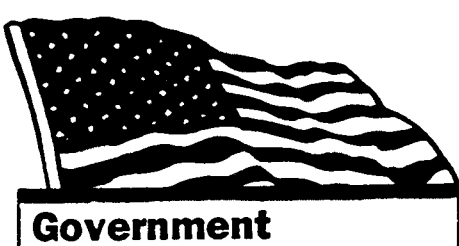

Walters has overseen a renaissance of works in the downtown since then, as the driving force behind the downtown renovation that breathed new life into the business district. He also helped guide city hall to a new level of professionalism, hiring quality staff members to direct city operations and implementing a sophisticated computer system for the financing and assessing departments.

But in the process, the manager relinquished little of his own oversight responsibilities, burdening himself with 60- to 80-hour work weeks and a backlog of unfinished goals and objectives.

He never complained, but city auditors Plante & Moran warned that such a burden could result in "crisis management," where only the most pressing needs are met.

Incoming manager Gary Word is known in South St. Paul for his "participatory" management style, and his efforts to streamline local government. He emphasized Northville's reputation for professional management, a reputation largely due to Walters' expertise in that area, as one of the factors behind his interest in coming to Northville.

Word's qualifications and experience seem to make him a fitting successor to Walters. He had extensive experience working with the planning commission in Three Rivers, a Michigan community similar to Northville. He was also involved in a Main Street renovation program and historic preservation efforts while there.

In South St. Paul, Word directed the implementation of a county-ordered curbside recycling program, much like the one Northville is now contemplating. He is currently helping to create a historic district commission to protect structures of historical significance there.

Like Walters, Word said he believes in hiring qualified people and is dedicated to providing city employees with continuing education to keep honing their skills.

In order to keep his staff informed, Word said he typically holds weekly department head and staff briefings after city council meetings. That may be one way to spread the burden of responsibility around, and create an even more efficient city hall.

The council should be commended for the way it went about the manager search. Council members resisted the temptation to which Plymouth succumbed last year, by deciding not to turn the search over to an outside consultant. That move alone saved the City of Northville thousands of dollars.

Consultants do provide a measure of impartiality and to bypass a potential partisan feud, and can throw larger resources behind a candidate search. But a determined body of local officials can be just as effective, as the city council showed.

The council also completed most of its manager search while working through one of the toughest budget seasons in recent memory. Council members met 10 times in May alone, five times in one week, to wrap up the budget, weed out the weaker candidates and interview the finalists.

We congratulate the council on its successful search, we salute Steven Walters as he heads south, and we wish Gary Word a long and productive stay in Northville.

Northville, Mich.: arts mecca

Okay, so I happen to be among the bleeding hearts who think that it's a mistake to cut off state funding for the arts. Even so, I don't buy the dire predictions being tossed around about the complete death of the arts in Michigan. Anyone who makes such a prediction hasn't spent much time in Northville lately.

The local arts community appears to me to be mushrooming at an amazing speed; I'll bet it's never been healthier. Think about it:

- The Northville Players, which didn't even exist as a unit within recent memory, have established themselves as a popular and vital organization. Judy Kohl, one of the group's guiding lights, said their most recent production (Her Fatal Beauty) drew excellent crowds to their performance space in the New School Church at Mill Race Historical Village. If (like me, unfortunately) you couldn't make it to the show, it will make a return engagement at the American Legion Hall during the Victorian Festival this September.

- Also on the theater front, John and Toni Genitti have received a tremendous response to their offerings of Murder Mystery Dinner Theater (from three different production companies!) and Verdi Opera Dinner Theater. The Marquis Theatre keeps offering up its unique blend of works for children and adults; the theater just extended its latest kids' show, Alice in Wonderland, for an extra couple of weeks. Even the Plymouth Wonder Guild now makes its home in Northville, at the Water Tower Theater on the campus of the state hospital.

- Local poet Kathleen Ripley Leo, she of Town One South fame, just published a new book, The Old Ways, and she holds an editorial position on a new literary magazine, The Bridge.

Edith Dunbar, another local writer, continues to find success too. She is the newly elected president of Detroit Women Writers, an areawide group formed in 1900. (Leo is an officer in the same group.) Dunbar's radio play "Crawford's Hour" was read at a special program in Southfield a couple of weeks ago.

- Local artist Julie Giordano's studio keeps evolving into something bigger and better, with more emphasis on operating as a gallery with full-fledged showings. A new exhibit of pencil drawings by Jorge E. Galvez kicks off with an opening from noon to 4 p.m. this Saturday in the gallery's newest home, 332 E. Main.

Linda Banks Ord has also been quite active lately. And, of course, they join Caroline Dunphy, whose work is very well-known and shows up all over town.

- The Northville Folk and Bluegrass Festival celebrates its 15th anniversary this July 28 with a still-developing lineup of top-quality musical talent — local, regional and national. Confirmed as the headliner is John Hartford, who you may remember from Glen Campbell's or the Smothers Brothers' variety shows on television. Perhaps a bigger claim to fame, though, is that he composed "Gentle on My Mind." Festival organizer Tom Rice commented that, in spite of recent past appearances by very well-known figures like Tom Chapin, Michael Smith, and Dan Crary, Hartford is probably the biggest name ever to play the Northville festival.

The Folk and Bluegrass Festival, of course, comes in the midst of a music-filled summer in town, thanks to the Northville Arts Commission's popular concerts on Friday evenings at the bandshell. This year the commission returns with its usual strong schedule, running the gamut from hammered dulcimers to brass bands, starting June 7.

That's pretty healthy.

This is the first of several columns on local arts.

School reports provide chance

Ever wanted to complain about your child's school? Now's your chance.

Ever wondered if the quality of your grandchild's schools will improve? Here's the way to get the answer.

Ever attended a parent-teacher conference and wondered just what was going on in your child's school? Here's the way to find out.

Every public school building in Michigan is required by law to give the public a written annual report on its educational progress by July 31. Some schools will be offering the report now, some later this summer.

Like a corporation's annual report to shareholders, with statistical tables showing annual results and management's plans for the future, these reports must contain sections on current educational performance as well as a "school improvement plan."

On page 10-A of today's newspaper you will find information about where and when the annual education report will be presented for your child's school. (Note these reports are not for an entire district; they are specific to each individual school in Michigan.)

The notion of a series of annual reports containing statistical indices of educational achievement together with three-to-five-year school improvement plans is simple. Setting out achievements and plans for future improvement in public is a way to put the pressure on from the people that count: the parents of children attending that school as well as taxpayers in the district.

It's a fine idea, and I hope it works. But it will work only if two things happen.

First, school officials actually have to make an effort to get people to the school improvement meetings. Second, people actually have to come, ask questions and get involved.

A few school administrators already are nervous about their reports. They'll try to keep them in the dark unless you call up and demand to know when and where they will be presented. If you can't find out or officials won't tell you, complain or call this newspaper and ask us to find out and run the story.

Other, more responsible school officials are anxious to have maximum public involvement, because they know that's the way to get the support they need. Some are scheduling their school improvement meetings after school concerts or after ice cream socials. Others are sending notices home to parents with school news letters.

Once you find out where and when your school's meeting is, please attend it. Ask questions. Make comments. Write a letter to the principal or to this newspaper. Whatever — just so long as you register your input.

One big reason our schools have fallen behind is that we have tolerated it.

Businesses have accepted new employees who haven't write or spell or do simple math. Then the businesses haven't screamed bloody murder to the schools.

Parents have wondered why Johnny can't read. But parents don't raise holy hell with the school board or principal. In some communities, it's even hard to persuade sensible and able people to run for the school board.

That's terrible. In a democracy, when people don't know, they don't care. And when they don't care, things go to pot.

The logic of public meetings on school achievement and plans for progress is to provide a way for all of us to get involved, to review what's going on and to make our views known.

Only in this way will anything be done about the crisis in our children's schools.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This newspaper welcomes letters to the editor. We ask, however, that they be issue-oriented, confined to 400 words and that they contain the signature, address, and telephone number of the writer. The writer's name may be withheld from publication if the writer fears bodily harm, severe persecution, or the loss of his or her job. The writer requesting anonymity must explain his or her circumstances. Submit letters for consideration by 4 p.m. Monday for that Thursday's paper. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity, label, and taste.

The week prior to an election, this newspaper will not accept letters to the editor that open up new issues. Only responses to already published issues will be accepted, with this newspaper being the final arbiter. This policy is an attempt to be fair to all concerned.

Model review unsatisfactory

To the editor:

OK. Now let me get this straight. The administration and school board asked the committee who recommended the Michigan Model in the first place to evaluate the concerns of a group of parents. And, after spending 332 hours looking at the thing, they couldn't find anything wrong with it. What did we expect them to do, get up in front of the community and say they were wrong about maybe a few things? This is a hard thing to do — kind of goes against human nature.

Then, did I understand correctly that all future requests concerning the Michigan Model will not be addressed by the administration but will be passed on to (Wayne County's) Regional Educational Service Agency? Does that mean that our own administration has put a curriculum into place and that they are taking no further responsibility for it?

I have been following this issue as a parent and a citizen. I obtained a copy of the objections from Kraft Bell's group and decided that, if I wanted to know the truth, I would have to go to the library and look into this myself. I have nearly finished checking all of the objections in the context of the lesson (and often previous and subsequent lessons). This will have taken me a total of 10 to 12 hours.

In all the time I've spent in the library I have never seen anyone else looking at the Michigan Model manuals. I hope this isn't the case all the time. The Michigan Model is controversial. It is available at the library. And, parents owe it to themselves and their children to look into it. Even people with no children in the schools need to remember, this is our tax dollars at work!

What have I found? First, I don't agree with all the parent group's objections, but out of 227 objections, there are some that I think are valid.

For example, in a third-grade optional AIDS lesson the students are shown a video which apparently gives the students the impression that "a lot" of kids will die of AIDS. In the discussion after the video the teacher is told to "correct two misconceptions that the video may have given students: one, some kids will die from AIDS but not 'a lot' as was said in the video." Isn't this a little confusing and frightening for an 8-year-old? (Third grade, page 135a.)

Or a fifth-grade lesson on sexual abuse which informs the students that "one out of four girls, and probably an equal number of boys, are likely to experience sexual abuse by the time they grow up." This seems a pretty frightening statistic to be handled by a 10-year-old. (Fifth grade, page 19.) By the way, this wasn't on the parent group's list.

There are other valid objections. This is not a perfect curriculum. If it were the state wouldn't have the need to keep "updating" it (for example, see the seventh grade manual, page 260.)

Maybe some teachers aren't using all of this stuff but, how do I, as a parent, know what will be used and what won't?

Finally, in lessons on negotiation in the Michigan Model, students are told to "negotiate your best trade and try to make sure both of you feel like you have won." At the school board meeting where the objections were addressed all of the power was on one side. They chose how the issue was to be handled with their own committee and basically said to the parents group — we win, you lose. Perhaps our administration should spend some more time studying this curriculum.

Pollack's letter reveals incorrect views on issue

To the editor:

On 6 April I wrote letters to state legislators concerning my views on the proposed elimination of $900,000 for police and fire support for Northville Downs. Yesterday I received the first response from Sen. Lana Pollack. She intends to introduce legislation for a tax on tickets or the gate to provide revenue for fire and police protection for all cities with major entertainment centers. She also made some comments about Northville which I'd like to share with you. What follows is a direct quote from her letter.

"At the same time you, in Northville, will be receiving police protection paid for by the state others will be suffering the effects of program eliminations including emergency needs money, foster care support, and money for artificial limbs, respirators and wheel chairs. At this point in the process, Northville is doing better than many cities. Institutions and individuals who have come, like Northville, to depend on state assistance." I have to take issue with her comments and what seems to be an underlying message.

I do not believe I should feel guilty about living in Northville, nor will I. Senator Pollack's comments that "... Northville is doing better than many cities, institutions and individuals ..." make me feel as though she believes I should keep quiet and be thankful for what I have while the state continues to squeeze cities like Northville.

Living in Northville does not eliminate the need for me and my wife to each hold a job and raise two children, and I keep up with rising property assessments. I will not stand by as the investment we have made in Northville is being slowly whittled away by legislators who believe that just because I live in a certain community I can afford to sacrifice more than my fair share.

Sen. Pollack's comments reflect a perception about cities such as Northville which I believe we need to change. I do believe we do need to address our fiscal problems and help those who need assistance, but not with a "Robin Hood" approach of taking from the rich and giving to the poor.

If we, as Northville residents do not work to change these perceptions, then we deserve everything we get from Lansing. Please, let's all get off our butts and become more proactive in our legislative process. Just thought you would like to know what I found out after I did.

Be aware of the problems facing the earth today

To the editor:

I wrote this following for a class project. I hope this will make more people aware of our Earth.

The earth is totally falling apart. Pollution from our cars and trucks is traveling throughout our earth's atmosphere. We're wasting water everywhere, especially at home in our bathrooms. To save our earth, everybody should start recycling, saving water, cutting down on electricity, and riding our bikes to save gasoline.

Companies like fast-food restaurants should use paper products and then recycle these waste products. The recyclable containers could be sold and made into reusable hamburger holders. Another way to save the earth is to ask people to mulch their leaves instead of bagging them. People should think first before throwing away any glass. Do you know that glass bottle in a land fill take over 1,000,000 years to disintegrate? If you aren't helping the earth, start NOW!

Eliot passage recalls country's vice president

To the editor:

President Bush's recent health problem has focused the nation's attention on Vice President Quayle and his qualifications to function as president. Fortunately, the country need not consider such a prospect seriously at this time.

I am saddened by the Quayle-bashing that has been taking place because of his malapropisms and apparent callowness.

President Bush can be faulted for selecting him as his running mate, as can Quayle be faulted for accepting the call to run for the office. In re-reading T.S. Eliot's "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock," a passage leaped out that, in my opinion, could well be mouthed by Dan Quayle; it goes like this:

No! I am not Prince Hamlet, nor was meant to be. Am an attendant Lord, one that will do to swell a progress, start a scene or two, advise the prince; no doubt, an easy tool, deferential, glad to be of use, politic, cautious, and meticulous; full of high sentence, but a bit obtuse; at times, indeed, almost ridiculous — almost, at times, the fool.

Asking what if on Memorial Day atomic bomb first? What if the Cold War had turned hot? What if, what if, what if ... ?

One story I've yet to see done is, What if the South had won the Civil War? I've often heard that historians say the Civil War was the most important conflict ever fought by the United States. I've never quite understood why. But my what if wondering helped me understand.

This mental exercise was prompted by the feature story on page B1 by special writer Mark Reitenga, which details the involvement of Northville soldiers in that conflict, published in today's Northville Record as a commemoration of Memorial Day.

If you haven't read it, I'd encourage you to take a look. It's a fascinating account of how local soldiers participated in several of the Civil War's most important battles and events — Gettysburg, the Battle of Wilderness, the defeat and death of southern Gen. J.E.B. Stuart and the capture of Confederate President Jefferson Davis.

It isn't hard to imagine that the South might have won the War Between the States. The Confederate strategy was a purely defensive one, aimed solely at repelling the northern troops and achieving independence.

The North had to suppress the rebel army to win. And as it was, the casualty rate among Union troops was nearly three times what it was for the Confederates. Both sides, and especially the North, had expected quick victory at the outset of the war. So when they learned in early battles like Gettysburg that even the cost of victory would be high, it is quite conceivable the North might have lost its will to fight and decided to let the South go.

Those willing to play what if with me will recognize that the most obvious impact would have been the survival of the institution of slavery in Southern states. Yes, emancipation would not have taken place, but historians also point out that slavery as an institution was waning even in those days. Advances in technology probably would have put an end to slavery eventually anyway.

The more important impact, as far as I'm concerned, would have been that our country would have entered the 20th Century looking a great deal more like Europe, with at least two relatively strong and potentially hostile military powers located on the North American continent. I say hostile because I can't imagine that the two countries would not have been quite competitive in their efforts to expand westward and add new states. And the new states would have had their choice of which to join. Such competitiveness, it seems to me, would have likely led to more hostilities later.

I say at least two, because it also seems to me that the idea of total independence for new states, aligning with neither the North nor the South, would have been more possible. History tells that Texas at one point considered independence. Further secessions from the Union would also have been more thinkable.

When our country originally won independence, individual states were thought of more like little independent nations. In fact, the word "state" is often used to refer to nations. One thing the founders of our country wanted to avoid was the continuing hostilities between small nations that made life so miserable almost continuously in Europe. That's one of the reasons they banded together as a single nation known as the "United States."

Even as late as the Civil War, most Americans pledged their strongest allegiance to their home state rather than to the nation as a whole. Gen. Robert E. Lee, you'll remember, was a veteran in the Union army before the Civil War but joined the Confederacy, he said, solely because his home state had. And that was part of the mentality that led to the Civil War in the first place.

Much of the safety and security we in America feel today comes from the fact we are isolated by oceans from most of the nations of the world which are hostile and would pose us a serious military threat. Much of the openness of our society is a reflection of that security.

How much different would our lives be today if the South were a separate country, and if a few of our western states were independent nations? How much differently would the 20th Century have turned out if the United States, a major player on the world scene all during that time period, didn't exist in the form we know it?

We owe a great deal to the Northville men who sacrificed during the Civil War — men like Pvt. John S. Ryder, who died at Gettysburg; Cpl. Charles Pinkerton, who died in the Battle of Wilderness; Pvt. Alfred Anderson, who died helping to defeat Stuart; and Pvt. George Goodell, who spent 15 months as a prisoner of war in Andersonville, Georgia.

I wonder if they had any idea what their sacrifices would accomplish, what their deaths and suffering would help to achieve?

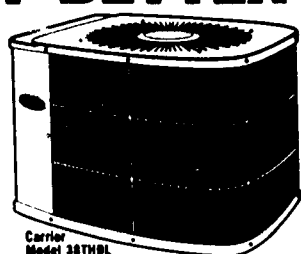

Memorial Day, this Monday, is the day we should keep in mind those kinds of sacrifices, and what they have gained for us.

Determined to preserve the Union, Michigan soldiers fought bravely during the Civil War. Volunteer regiments gathered from cities such as Detroit, Grand Rapids, Adrian, Flint, Dearborn and a young town called Northville.

Northville sent over 200 volunteer soldiers southward throughout the war to help to defeat the Confederate army, or "Johnny Reb" as they were known in the North. The 200 represented 10 percent of all the people who lived in the area in 1862.

Little known is that local soldiers participated in some of the war's most memorable moments: The battle of Gettysburg, the defeat and death of Confederate Cavalry Commander Gen. J.E.B. Stuart, and the capture of Confederate President Jefferson Davis.

Most of Northville's veterans lived obscure lives during the war and very little has been written about them specifically. But they were certainly there when history was made.

Several Northville regiments fought at the battle of Gettysburg in Pennsylvania. But the most historically celebrated regiment was the 24th Michigan Infantry, which included several local men and was a member of the Iron Brigade. On the first day of the battle, July 1, 1863, the 24th engaged the enemy at Seminary Ridge. The battle produced some of the most horrifying casualties of the war.

Historian Frank B. Woodford described the opening moments of the battle, which proved to be very successful for the 24th, in the book Father

Brothers Cpl. Oscar N. Loud and Pvt. James M. Loud were two of the few lucky soldiers who survived the battle and the war without a wound. But Cpl. Charles Pinkerton, son of one of Northville's founding fathers, Thomas Pinkerton, would not be so fortunate.

Abraham's Children. The 24th stormed across Willoughby Run and swept away Confederate Gen. Archer's brigade, capturing him in the process. But that was where the regiment's luck ended. Left unprotected by the rest of the federal army, the rebels charged the 24th's unprotected left flank, causing severe casualties.

The 24th made six gallant stands against the rebels before withdrawing to Cemetery Ridge, but suffered tremendous losses.

According to The Twenty-fourth Michigan of the Iron Brigade by John Austin, over 80 percent of the regiment would be killed or wounded after one hour of fighting. One such casualty, Northville's Pvt. John S. Ryder, was killed in action and buried on the battlefield.

Brothers Cpl. Oscar N. Loud and Pvt. James M. Loud were two of the few lucky soldiers who survived the battle and the war without a wound.

But Cpl. Charles Pinkerton, son of one of Northville's founding fathers, Thomas Pinkerton, would not be so fortunate. Having been wounded once before in battle, he was killed at the Battle of the Wilderness.

Another unfortunate local member of the 24th, Pvt. William Herrinden, was also wounded and then captured by the Confederates. He died later in a Confederate prison.

Although the 24th suffered greatly for the ultimate federal victory at Gettysburg, they would be eulogized by President Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address: "The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here."

Michigan regiments were praised throughout the union for their efforts at Gettysburg and saw much action for the duration of the war. Soldiers in Gen. George Armstrong Custer's Wolverine cavalry brigade would figure prominently at the Battle of the Yellow Tavern in Virginia. The battle featured the defeat of the Confederate cavalry and the death of its great leader Gen. J.E.B. Stuart.

The Wolverine brigade was made up of the 1st, 5th, 6th and 7th Michigan cavalry regiments, and Northville boasted members in each of these. But one regiment, the 5th Michigan cavalry — which consisted of 104 Northville members in Company D — would prove to be the heroes of the battle.

Custer marched his brigade of Michiganders across a rugged Virginia trail, hoping to invade the Confederate capital, Richmond.

The Union cavalry confronted Stuart and his Confederate cavalry near an abandoned inn called the Yellow Tavern. A tremendous duel emerged with the Confederates protecting their homeland and the Federals seeking to attack Richmond. According to The Killing Ground: From Wilderness to Cold Harbor, the 5th charged the Confederates, hacking away at the opposition with their swords, and Gen. Custer yelling, "Come on, you Wolverines."

The tide of the battle changed frequently from Federal to Confederate advantage, displaying marvelous charges. During one of those charges, Pvt. Alfred C. Anderson was hit by a miniball that cleared through his back and thigh.

The July 1979 edition of the Mill Race Quarterly, the newsletter of the Northville Historical Society, says he was rushed to a hospital, but he died in Boonesboro, Md., and was buried in an unmarked grave.

The battle itself ended in a slight federal victory, but the Confederacy lost much more than the battle. During a Union retreat, an Armada, Mich., native — Pvt. John H. Huff of Company E — spotted the colorful uniform of Stuart, aimed, and shot the general in the chest. Stuart's men pulled him from the battle but he died later that night in Richmond.

Most historians say this loss hastened the collapse of the Confederacy. Not only was Stuart one of the Confederates' finest generals but he was beloved in the South.

Northville cavalrymen saw plenty of action at the Yellow Tavern and returned to tell the story. Lt. Henry M. White wrote several articles about his unit's adventures and they are recorded for posterity in the Mill Race Quarterly.

Two members of the 5th became leaders in government in Northville after the war. Capt. Eli K. Simonds, who commanded Company D for the duration of the war, was elected president of Northville in 1880 and 1881. Sgt. James K. Lowden, who was captured by the Confederates, spent five months in the Andersonville, Savannah and Millen prisons. He was released, probably because of his rank, and returned to Northville where he became justice of the town government in 1880.

Local cavalry members were hardly through making history. The last, and perhaps most famous, Michigan occurrence of the war was the bizarre capture of the Confederate President Jefferson Davis by the 4th Michigan cavalry. Thirty-four members of Company D were residents of Northville, Novi and Plymouth. Capt. John MacFarland, a future mayor of Plymouth, led the company.

The event itself actually took place after the Confederate surrender at Appomattox Court House and the death of President Lincoln in 1865. Communication at this time was very slow and much of the Confederate nation did not receive word of the surrender. Jefferson Davis used this confusion to his advantage, making his escape. Hoping to head west to Texas, he assembled his family and aides and formed a wagon train moving westward. But the Union army caught on to the plan and set up blockades in the West. Davis was forced to try to reach the Florida coast and make Texas by ship.

The capture of Davis is described in Jack Hoffman's book Northville: The First 100 Years. Alerted to Davis' flight, Col. Benjamin F. Pritchard, commanding officer of the 4th Michigan cavalry, led his regiment in pursuit of Davis. In a small town in the Georgia wilderness called Wilcox's Mills near Irwinville, lookouts for the 4th spotted a ragtag assembly of refugees camped on the outskirts of the town. When Pritchard questioned the refugees, a frightened figure dressed in a petticoat made a quick attempt to escape the soldiers on foot.

After a brief chase, Cpl. Munger of Company C caught the fugitive — Jefferson Davis in woman's clothing. Upon his arrest, he was taken to Fort Monroe in Virginia and the 4th Michigan cavalry were proclaimed heroes. The Detroit Free Press wire service immortalized the accomplishment on May 15, 1865.

MARY BAUGHMAN

Baughman gives the gift of reading

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

The fact that even high school graduates in Michigan are often illiterate, Mary Baughman said, made her respond to a television appeal for volunteer tutors.

She was put into a training class last October at the Starkweather Adult and Community Education Center in Plymouth. Sixty men and women, varying in age from late 20s to 60s, she said, met for an evening session of three hours and a daytime session of six hours.

"We were given two teacher's manuals," she said. One of them is concerned with consonants. The other is about vowels and differentiating between, for example, the "A" in apple and the "A" in name.

Upon completion of the course, Baughman said, they were assigned students. Her student is a young fellow who graduated from high school but could read only basics."

"He's employed," Baughman said, "but he wants to be able to read and write."

As for her, she admitted, "Sometimes it's discouraging. It takes patience. I find that if we go over something too much, he gets confused. So we drop it for 10 minutes and then go back to it."

"There's homework for him to do in a manual which he has been given," she said, and each week she goes over what he's done to make sure he understands it.

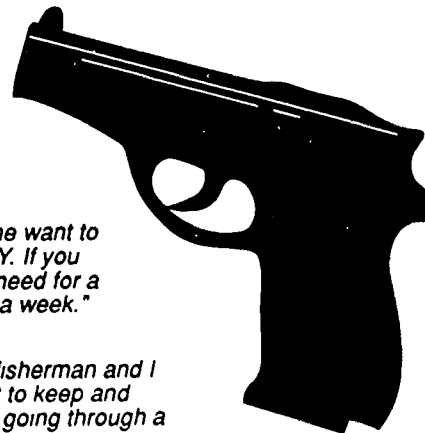

Baughman said she meets with her student for one hour each week in the daytime at the Starkweather Center in a classroom designated for tutoring.

If you want information about the next training class, call Carolyn Burns at Starkweather Center. Dial 451-6555 or 451-6473.

Taweel earns Freemasonry honors

Atallah T. Taweel of Northville was one of 43 Masons from 11 southeast Michigan counties who received Scott's 311th Rite Freemasonry's 32nd Degree at the conclusion of Detroit Valley's 311th Reunion Saturday, April 27 at the Detroit Masonic Temple.

The class was named the "Desert Storm Class" in honor of the men and women who served in the Middle East military campaign.

Schoolcraft Honors

Schoolcraft College recently recognized employees and volunteers for their service.

Clarence Drouillard was honored for 25 years of service at the college's physical plant. Adelard Raby, vice president for business, and James Rexus, geology professor, were honored for 10 years of service.

Live and Silent Auction

Northville First Presbyterian Church is planning a Live and Silent Auction Saturday, June 1 at 7 p.m.

Up for bids will be such items as an airplane ride, wallpapering, a dinner certificate, trips and much more.

Hot dogs, chips, ice cream and pop will also be for sale at the event, which will take place at the church. All donations go to single place ministries and community outreach programs.

Single Place

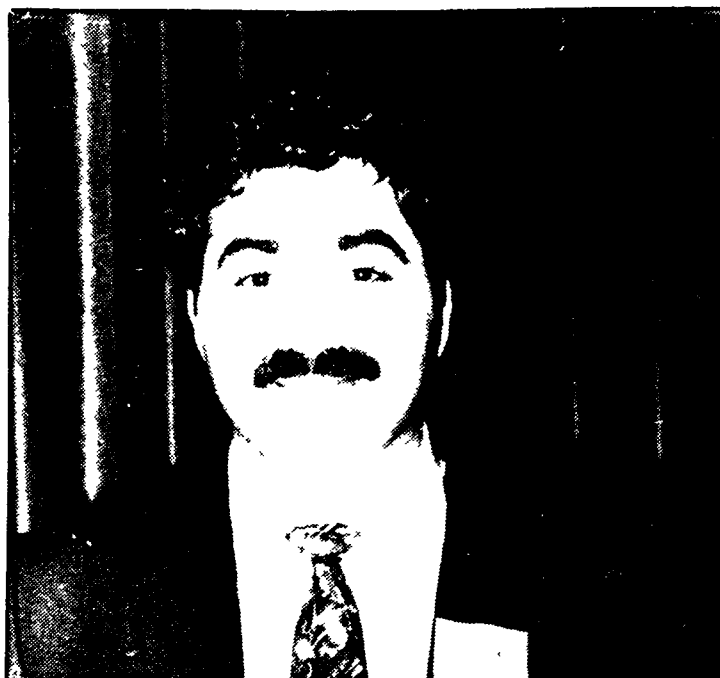

Single Place Presents will offer a program called "Light and Lively" Wednesday, May 29 at 7:30 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church.

Musician Anne Shaheen will present an evening of folk singing. Do you remember the days of Simon and Garfunkel, Peter, Paul and Mary, or the Mamas and the Papas? Shaheen will lead in a songfest including classic folk tunes made famous by these groups and others, as well as a few contemporary Christian melodies.

After the songfest, ice cream sundaes will be available.

Canoe trip planned

Northville Community Recreation will sponsor a canoe trip for sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders on Friday, May 24. The fee is $12 per person for Northville residents.

Students need to arrive at the Community Center by noon and will return at approximately 5 p.m. Upon arrival at Heavner Canoe Rental the group will receive a short lesson in canoeing. Lifejackets are required and will be provided to the group. Adult supervision will accompany the trip and refreshments will be provided.

Registration began May 1 at the Community Center, 303 W. Main. For more information, call 349-0203

Used Book Sales

Plans for a used book sale by the Friends of the Northville Public Library have been changed and a new date set for the popular fund-raiser to benefit the library.

The new date is Saturday, Aug. 3, when the sale will be held in conjunction with the annual Summer Sidewalk Sale.

Engagements

Valerie Lynn Salvatore/Steven Craig Tucker

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Salvatore of Northville announce the engagement of their daughter Valerie Lynn to Steven Craig Tucker of Northville. He is the son of Barbara Tucker of Northville.

The bride-elect is a 1985 graduate of Northville High School and a 1991 Schoolcraft College graduate. She is currently employed as a cosmetologist at Charisma Salon in the Laurel Park Mall in Livonia.

The bridegroom-elect is a 1982 Northville High School graduate, and is currently an apprentice moldmaker.

A June wedding is planned.

Linda Ann Shott/Mark Alan Gowans

Mr. Donal Frank Shott and Mrs. Marlene Helen Holsington of Northville announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Ann to Mark Alan Gowans of Novi. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony and Carol Gowans of Novi.

The bride-elect is a Northville High School graduate and in 1988 graduated from Central Michigan University. She is currently employed at Botsford and Oakland General Hospitals as an exercise specialist in testing and cardiac rehabilitation.

The bridegroom-elect is a Novi High School graduate. In 1985, he was drafted as a goalie by the Detroit Red Wings. He currently plays in the East Coast Hockey league, receiving his team's Most Valuable Player Award last year. He hopes next year to make the move to the NHL or another hockey league.

A May wedding is planned.

Births

Richard Joseph Lind

Richard Joseph Lind was born to Kathleen and Richard Lind of Hudsonville on March 25.

Kathleen is the daughter of Maureen and Don Settles of Northville and is a 1978 graduate of Northville High School. She is employed by Ralph Nichols.

Richard is the son of Dorothy Lehman of Walled Lake and the late Richard Lind of Northville. He is a 1975 graduate of Walled Lake Central and is employed by Digital Corporation.

The baby weighed 7 pounds, 5 1/2 ounces and measured 20 1/2 inches long upon delivery.

Zachary James Maxwell

Zachary James Maxwell was born to Mary Beth and Jim Maxwell of College Station, Texas, on April 26. He is their first child.

Grandparents to the new baby include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gross of Kerrville, Texas, Mrs. Marilyn Leinweber of Mountain Home, Texas, and Mr. E.A. Maxwell of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tremor of Kerrville, Mrs. Doris Caldwell of San Antonio, Texas, Mrs. Mildred Maxwell of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gross of Okemos.

Vacation Bible School slated at First Presbyterian

"Share God's Blessings" is the theme of vacation Bible school at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The community is invited to attend the classes for children ages 3 1/2 to 11. Vacation Bible school is in session from June 17 to June 21, 9 a.m. to noon each day. The cost is $10 per child or $25 per family. The church is located at 200 E. Main St.

"Alice in Wonderland" stars (left to right) Christine Price as the Cheshire Cat and Lory Bird; Katie Bondy as Alice; and Stephanie Unger as the White Rabbit

'Alice' is at the Marquis Theatre

The Cotton Candy Theatre Kids presentation of "Alice in Wonderland," now extended through June 15 at Northville's historic Marquis Theatre, is a rousing musical version of a classic nonsensical story.

The production is designed for the enjoyment of young and old alike as Alice meets the White Rabbit, the Mock Turtle, the Queen of Hearts and a host of other strange and wonderful creatures.

Members of the cast, much of which is drawn from the Northville and Novi area, include Angela Austin as Tweedle Dum/Card Soldier; Katie Bondy as Alice; Ann-Marie Bondy as the French Mouse; Keith Bablasz as the Mad Hatter; Amanda Benish as a Card Soldier; Julie Egner as the Red

Queen; Kara Fagnani as a Cook/Sister/Card Soldier; Christina Farrar as the Mock Turtle; Carla Freshwater as The Duchess; Laura Genitti as the Queen of Hearts; David Langham as the Frog/Knave of Hearts; Patrick Lokey as the King of Hearts; Valerie Lonigro as the March Hare/Card Soldier; Beth Patterson as the Dodo Bird/White Knight; Janet Patton as the Caterpillar/White Queen; Christine Price as the Lory Bird/Cheshire Cat; Lydia Rayburn as a Card Soldier; Allison Soranno as Tweedle Dee/Card Soldier; Natasha Switalski as the Door Mouse and Stephanie Unger as the White Rabbit. Performances are scheduled for Saturdays, May 25 and June 8 and 15, 11:30 and 3 p.m.; Friday, May 24 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, June 1 at 11:30 only.

PTA News

Schools, kids start winding it down

AMERMAN ELEMENTARY

As activities begin to wind down at Amerman, thoughts are of a relaxing summer ahead.

Lorraine Stanton, our librarian, will be retiring this year and we all wish her well as she begins a new chapter in her life.

Jack Wickens, one of our fifth-grade teachers, is getting married this summer. He'll be doing many things, but NOT relaxing. Best wishes, Jack.

The event everyone has been waiting for is just around the corner. Our annual Ice Cream Social will be held June 7. Back by popular demand is the dunk tank. Come see staff members take the plunge. Of course, the pizza, pop, games and more will be available for all to enjoy. Join us.

Our Honors Assembly will be June 12 at 9:30 a.m. in the gym.

Our last PTA meeting for the school year will be June 4 at 9:30 a.m. With a new board taking over next year, it's a good opportunity to stop in and meet everyone.

Last day of school is June 13 which will be a half day of school.

On behalf of Amerman staff and students we wish all a safe and restful summer. Many have joined together to help make our school the best it can be. Thanks.

— Mary Mattis

MORAINES ELEMENTARY

The first week in May was Teacher Appreciation Week. We were glad to see so many parents and students bring flowers, goodies and thank-you notes to school showing the teachers how much they are appreciated.

The Book Fair, which was held during conference week, was very successful again this year. We showed a profit of over $600, which was donated directly to the Media Center.

Thanks to all the parent volunteers who worked at the Book Fair. And a special thank you to fifth-grader Alex Moray for all her help.

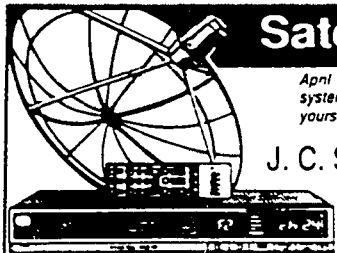

We are looking forward to the Fun Fair which is scheduled for Friday, June 7. The committee has planned lots of food, games and fun for everyone. Old sheets, bandages and other medical supplies are needed for the Emergency Room Booth. In case of rain the Fun Fair will be held at Cooke Middle School.

At the May PTA meeting, members voted to adopt a resolution presented by parent George Patak concerning ambulance service in Northville Township. George informed parents that the two ambulances which service Northville Township are currently stationed in Plymouth. Frequent train delays, traffic and distance could create inadequate service to Moraine in the event of an emergency. The resolution requests one ambulance to be stationed in Northville Township. The PTA feels this is an important issue and hopes it can be resolved quickly.

Due to frequent requests for evening meetings, the board has decided to schedule evening PTA meetings every other month next year. Hopefully, this will meet the needs of parents who are unable to attend daytime meetings.

Another school year is almost over. Students are excited about the last day of school on June 13 and parents are again wondering how to keep the children entertained all summer. As the school year ends, the PTA would like to thank president Cheryl Spinazze for organizing the

Northville elementary schools are ready for summer

PTA "from the ground up" when Moraine reopened two years ago. Her leadership has given the Moraine PTA a strong base to grow on. Thanks Cheryl! Also, a special thank you to all the committee members who volunteered so many hours of their time. These are the people who make all the special programs possible.

Remember the upcoming millage renewal election on June 10. Become informed and vote. There will be no PTA meeting in June. Have a great summer.

SILVER SPRINGS ELEMENTARY

On May 7, a breakfast honoring one student from each classroom for their artistic abilities was held in the multipurpose room. Food was prepared by our Partner in Education, McDonald's at Eight Mile and Haggerty. Each student received a Certificate of Achievement and a coupon for one free Happy Meal.

A Parent Appreciation Tea was hosted by the Silver Springs staff on May 8. Parent volunteers were given a Silver Springs travel mug while PTA officers received a plant. All of the teachers brought delicious desserts to share with the parents.

Plans are under way for an end of school celebration for our fifth-graders who will be going on to middle school. A June 5 field trip to the Howell Nature Center and breakfast prepared by McDonald's on June 13 will be featured.

Our second annual pet food drive was held from May 1 to May 10. Students donated pet food, old blankets and old towels for bedding. Donations were used to help the many homeless animals at the Anti-Cruelty Shelter. Mrs. Higbee's fourth-grade class brought in the most food/shelter supplies and was treated to a popcorn party and a free Junior Scoop ice cream cone compliments of Baskin Robbins on Seven Mile.

Health and physical education activities are being featured during the next month for all students beginning with Field Day on May 21 and ending with our Fun Run on June 11.

Our Kindergarten Parent Orientation is scheduled for May 23 at 7 p.m. in the Silver Springs gymnasium. Kindergarten roundups will take place in the afternoon of May 30 and the morning of May 31.

WINCHESTER ELEMENTARY

Good news and bad news. The bad news is that vice president Ann Del Totto's family has been transferred. We are losing a terrific asset to our school but want to wish all the best to Ann and her family. The good news is that Ann's vice-presidential candidate for next year has decided to step into the presidency. We are proud to announce the PTA officers for 1991-92: President, Karen Kremer; Vice President, Susan Brattina; Secretary, Kathy Wheeler; Treasurer, Marianne Miller. Congratulations to you all.

Part of celebrating "Michigan Bunk" this year will be a JES-sponsored program called "Bunyan and Banjoes." The assembly will be on May 23.

The Mileage Club has started again. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays students are encouraged to run or walk laps on a course around school grounds and record their efforts on a chart. This year the invitation is extended to all staff and parents who would like to join. It will be good preparation for the Winchester Fun Run, scheduled for May 24. A one-mile course will be runned out through the surrounding neighborhood. Parents are welcome to join. The Memorial holiday break gets a jump for students due to an in-service half day on the 24th. School ends at noon that day. Classes resume on Tuesday the 28th.

Some upcoming dates and events are: May 31, fifth-grade student orientation at Meads Mill. All fifth-graders involved in safety patrol will be taking a trip to Bob Lo. Other trips for classes include the Kindergarten students going to Ann Arbor's Hands-On Museum, all third-graders going to the Wash Oaks school in the Mill Race Village and a trip to Camp Ohyessa for the fourth-grade classes.

Winchester's ice cream social will be held on Thursday, June 6, from 7:30-9 p.m. This is a community event and everyone is invited.

The fifth-grade awards assembly will be on Wednesday, June 12, at 3 p.m.

On June 13, the third, fourth and fifth grade classes will go roller skating to celebrate the last day of school, which is a half day.

Please join us for the next PTA meeting on Wednesday, June 5, at 9:30. Babysitting will be available.

Area yields massive number of Civil War veterans

Unfortunate Northville soldiers spent terrible periods living in Confederate prisons. At least 20 Northville men were forced to live several months in rotted, disease-infested cells at horrible places such as Andersonville Prison in Georgia.

"Official bulletin from the war department/ Glorious news from Gen. Wilson/ Jeff Davis captured/ Together with his staff, and Postmaster Reagan/ They are all to be forwarded to Washington, under strong guard without delay/ All the honor belongs to Michigan/ The capture effected by the 4th Michigan/ At Irwinville, Irwin County, Georgia."

An unofficial count recorded in the "Our Soldier Dead" states that 55 Northville soldiers lost their lives in battle, from wounds, disease and in prison during the Civil War. Many of these men were brought back to Northville for burial but some were buried on the battlefield or in open fields.

Northville and Novi cemeteries now house the remains of some 90 Civil War veterans.

Lincoln may have said it best. Upon viewing the first Michigan regiments to reach Washington, D.C., in 1862, with their impressive marching style and colorful uniforms, Lincoln said, "Thank God for Michigan."

Local teen featured in 'Bravo!'

Robyn Davis will perform solo pointe

Northville's award winning Piazza Dance Company will soon be holding its 10th anniversary production of "Bravo!"

According to studio directors Marilyn Piazza Esper of Farmington and Gina Piazza of Livonia, "Bravo!" will feature six exciting segments including scenes from "Dick Tracy" and the smash hit musical "Bye, Bye Birdie." Also included will be a children's segment entitled "Grandma's Bedtime Stories" and will feature actress Sue Schuler playing the grandmother.

"We are very excited about this year's show, not only because it's our 10th anniversary production, but also because it features so many outstanding routines that we produced this competition year," said Gina Piazza.

The studio walked away with over 20 top awards for its groups, duo/trio and solo acts that competed in several state competitions this past year.

Robyn Davis, 16, of Northville took home two of those awards for her contemporary pointe routine, "Aquarium," choreographed by

Piazza Dance Company instructor Mary Ann Focht. Davis was also a member of the first-place-winning trio "Dance of the Reed Flutes," with dancers Erin Belloli, 17, of Northville and Michelle Esper of Farmington Hills completing the trio.

Other Northville dancers competing with the Piazza Dance Company and capturing several top awards include Courtney Armstrong, 11; Brooke Albright, 10; Lauren Bethell, 10; Tiffany Coullais, 11; Natalie Dickinson, 10; Daphney Dudek, 11, and Dana Hedke, 9 — all petite division dancers. Junior dancers from Northville competing in the top overall scoring jazz trio, "The Little Mermaids," include Amanda Napolitano, 12; Angela Bardon, 11; and Meghan Rooney, 12.

Tickets for "Bravo!" are now available. The performances will be held on June 21 and 22 at the Birmingham Groves Auditorium on Thirteen Mile and Evergreen Roads.

Reserved tickets for "Bravo!" can be purchased in advance at the studio or will be available at the door. For more information call 348-3720.

Northville Community Recreation will be sponsoring a canoe trip for sixth, seventh and eighth graders on Friday, May 24. The fee is $12 per person for Northville residents.

Students need to arrive at the Community Center by noon and will return at approximately 5 p.m. Upon arrival at Heavner Canoe Rental our group will receive a short lesson in canoeing. Life-jackets are required and will be provided to the group. Adult supervision will accompany the trip and refreshments will be provided.

Registration begins May 1 at the Community Center, 303 W. Main. For more information, call 349-0203.

KARAOKE: The Novi Hilton's Whispers Lounge is looking for a few good singers. It will be holding Karaoke-assisted auditions on Friday and Saturday evenings. Singers are asked to reserve performance times. Phone 349-4000 to do so or for more information. The Novi Hilton is located on Haggerty Road just north of Eight Mile Road.

COOKBOOKS: The First Presbyterian Church of Northville will soon be sponsoring a fundraising drive. It will be selling community cookbooks which will feature favorite recipes from contributors of Northville and the surrounding area.

The price of the cookbooks will be $6.50 each. Order several. These community cookbooks make great keepsakes and gift ideas.

The sponsoring group is anticipating a great demand for these books. They ask that you reserve your books now to guarantee one for yourself. The cookbooks will go on sale April 28. You may purchase them at First Presbyterian Church. If you would like further information, please contact Debbi Bostwick, First Presbyterian Church, 200 E. Main St., Northville.

DSO FLUTIST: Ervin Monroe, principal flutist of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will be playing a free concert at the band shell in downtown Northville on Wednesday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m. The concert is being sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission and the Flute Centre Plus, located in the J. Giordano Gallery, 332 E. Main St., Northville.

This year marks Monroe's 24th as the DSO's principal flutist. He has appeared as a soloist and clinician throughout North America and internationally. He has performed with the Mozarteum Orchestra (Salzburg, Austria), the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, the Royal Ballet, the Royal Danish Ballet and the Bolshoi Ballet.

Mr. Monroe has also served as musical director and conductor of several Michigan orchestras and is an applied music studies teacher at Oakland University and Wayne State University. He authored numerous musical publications, including original compositions, and several solo albums, chamber music albums, and orchestral recordings of the Symphony Orchestra featuring his playing.

PTG BENEFIT: The Plymouth Theatre Guild will host a benefit show, Lovers, Dreamers and Madmen, to raise money for a new sound system. The one-night-only performance will take place Saturday, June 1, at 8 p.m. at the Water Tower Theatre located on the campus of the Northville Regional Hospital, 41001 W. Seven Mile Road in Northville, west of I-275 between Haggerty and Northville Roads.

The PTG's own multi-talented James Morrison and Cheryl A. Bubar will be performing musical scenes from a variety of theater shows in a departure from the standard duet format with more contemporary, dramatic and challenging material.

Scenes include perpetual dreamers, lovers, middle age couples struggling to cope, skid row losers finding strength in each other, and characters swallowed up in madness.

Musicals featured will be favorites such as Sweeney Todd, A Little Night Music, Phantom of the Opera and Les Miserables. In a lighter vein, there will be Pippin, Little Shop of Horrors and Mame. Among the relatively unknown will be material from the new Broadway hit Miss Saigon, Grand Hotel, Baker's Wife and many others.

Tickets are $5 if purchased or reserved in advance and $6 at the door. An afterglow will immediately follow the performance. All those in attendance are welcome to join us for dessert and hors d'oeuvres!

For reservations or for additional information, please call 349-7110.

CROSSROADS

Sharon and Lawrence Churchill will celebrate a quarter century of married life next fall, and they would like to do it in a nice warm place.

"We would like to take a trip somewhere different, possibly tropical. We have been to Hawaii. I am a little reluctant to go someplace tropical because of 'monsoons.' Do you have any suggestions?"

The word "monsoons" startled me because I associate it with childhood stories about the mysterious east. I looked the word up in my dictionary and read "the seasonal wind of the Indian Ocean and southern Asia, blowing from the southwest in summer and the northeast in winter."

Another definition was "any persistent wind established between water and adjoining land."

Look at it from that point of view and you get the word "storm" which quickly leads you to "hurricane," a very scary word indeed. Surprisingly, very very few travelers are ever caught in hurricanes, no matter how much their stormy path dominates our evening news broadcasts when they happen.

Some cruise ships will give you your money back if you have the bad luck to sail during a bad storm. I talk to a lot of travelers, but only one or two have ever complained about bad weather in the Caribbean.

Where should you go?
My favorite island discovery of the last year is St. Lucia, a mountainous island in the eastern Caribbean where you can stay at a variety of resorts and enjoy sand, sea, sun and too much good food. Definitely not for those who like casinos and evening entertainments.

My favorite place in Mexico is San Miguel de Allende, northwest of Mexico City. This was once the heart of Spanish colonial Mexico. You can stay in an old Spanish mansion converted into a small luxury hotel. You can shop, eat and tour the surrounding area. You cannot stretch out on the beach; no beach.

Your destination will depend a lot on what you enjoy, what you mean by "somewhere different." If you go early in October, and want to go that far, you will find something different on the Balearic Islands of Mallorca and Ibiza off the coast of Spain. That is where the Europeans go in the fall.

I suggest you spend some time in your library and at a travel agency. Check out Margaret Zeller's guide book on the Caribbean. Her observations are very personal and reliable. Use the Reader's Guide to Periodicals or just browse through past magazines like Conde Nast Traveler and Travel & Leisure. Pick up handfuls of brochures at a travel agency.

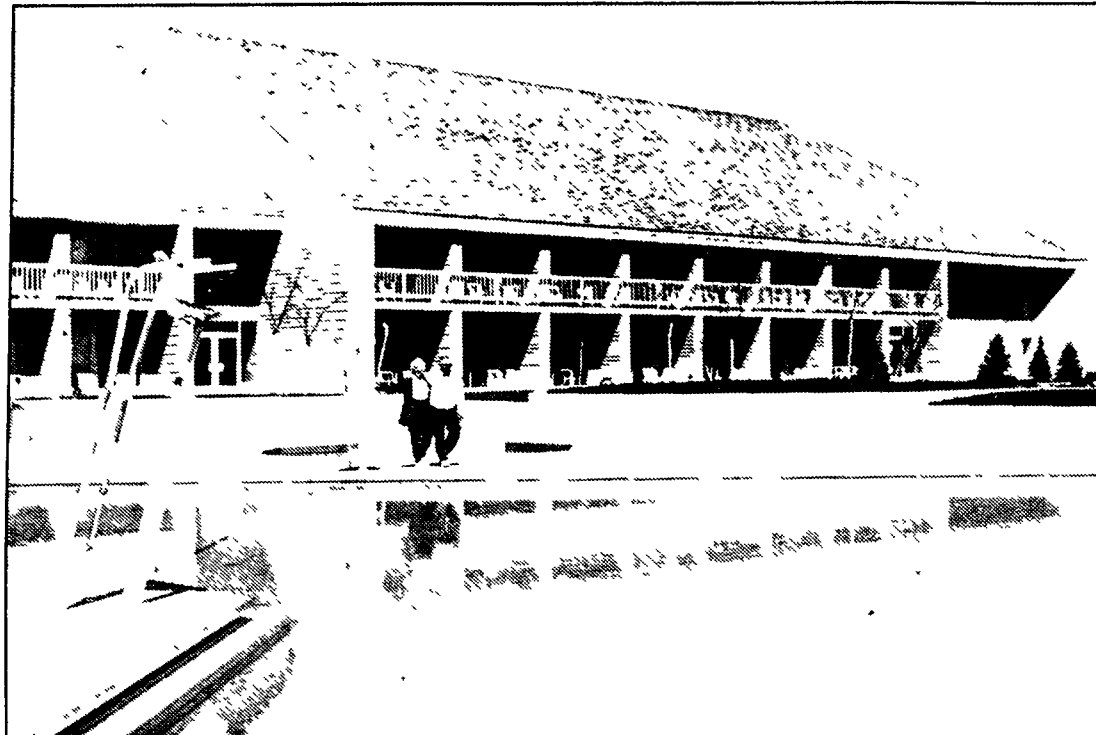

Half the fun of travel is exploring the possibilities. When you have narrowed your choices down, write to me again and we'll refine your itinerary. Meantime, we invite other readers to send us their suggestions for a tropical celebration of a 25th anniversary.

Sea World opens summer season

Sea World of Ohio has opened its summer season in Aurora, Ohio, near Cleveland. Shamu and Namu are back, but don't be surprised if they don't answer when you call them by name. Shamu and Namu are character names; this year's killer whales are new.

Sea World has been breeding whales for years and now has a pod of 12 whales. When they have been playing around in Sea World pools long enough, they are put into the breeding program.

Tickets are $18.50 if you are more than 12 years old, $14.50 ages three to 11, children under three are free. Season passes are roughly double those one-day prices, so they are worth considering if you plan to go more than once. Parking is free.

The Maumee Bay Lodge features both a lodge (left) and contemporary cottages (above). In addition to a large outdoor swimming pool, the lodge includes a heated indoor swimming pool with saunas; courts for racquetball, basketball and tennis; and a fitness center — all available free to guests.

Close-to-home getaway

Ohio State Park Lodge near Toledo opens to rave reviews

By IRIS SANDERSON JONES
Travel Writer

Maumee Bay Lodge, Ohio's 10th state park resort, opened May 1 on the shore of Lake Erie, 15 miles east of Toledo. It has been getting rave reviews.

The lodge is a great close-to-home getaway for Michigan travelers, with fine resort facilities at moderate prices, but you will have to book early to get what you want.

The 120 lodge rooms are available for all seasons, but the 20 cottages, which rent only by the week during the summer, are already fully booked from Memorial Day to Labor Day, although cancellations are always possible.

The cottages rented within three hours after reservations became available in January. The park will be taking cottage reservations for 1992 on June 1, 1991.

You reach Maumee Bay by the Highway 2 exit of Interstate-280. Drive through the town of Oregon and turn left between farmhouses on Maumee Bay Park Road. Campers have been using the adjacent campsites at Maumee Bay State Park for several years.

Maumee Bay Lodge appears ahead of you, a contemporary sprawl of sawn planks, stained fawn grey and rising in the center to a weathered cedar-shingled roof. The lodge, low on the ends and high in the middle, is set against the shore of Lake Erie, but you don't need to limit yourself to the sand beach (to be completed by July 4) or to the 1,500 feet of inland beach on the 57-acre sailing lake.

The lodge includes a large outdoor swimming pool; a heated indoor swimming pool with saunas; courts for racquetball, basketball and tennis; and a fitness center. All are available free to guests.

If you look to the right as you approach the lodge, you see contemporary cottages in the same grey planks, scattered in singles and doubles across the slightly rolling prairie landscape and tucked into groves of trees.

Most cottages are set on widely-separated knolls beside the golf course, which looks ready for play but is still digging its grass roots into the ground for a fall opening.

The cottages are built on a square foundation under a squared shingled roof, but what happens between roof and foundation is truly innovative architecture. Two corners have been cut away to create an open deck and a screened deck. Another small porch has been created off the main bedroom.

We followed a long private driveway to our own parking area and walked across a small bridge to the door of our two-bedroom cottage. As you enter, you can go directly upstairs to a loft that contains two single beds separated by a partial wall under skylights that open at your touch.

Or you can circle the stairs on the main floor, past a full bathroom, a bedroom with an upper and lower bunk, a second bedroom with a double bed, and a living-dining area with large table, living room furniture and a gas fireplace.

The cottages are a good buy, especially for a family or small group. Lodge rooms cost $69 for one person, $79 for two, $109 for a loft room or a suite. The two-bedroom cottages are $89 a night or $425 a week. Four-bedroom cottages are $120 a night or $465 a week. Don't forget to add Ohio's 12 percent tax to those rates.

The management staff at the resort is trained, the service staff is mostly new to the hospitality industry, so things were a bit slow during that first week. Untrained or not, we found the staff cheerful and helpful, ready to open any door or run any dining room errand.

By mid-summer, these greening fields will be busy with bicycles, T-shirts, baseball caps, cars, golf carts and the other trappings of a summer resort. For this brief off-season month it is quiet, with hawks and seagulls spreading their wings wide against the sky as they fly over the resort and the lake.

Maumee Bay is only one of 10 Ohio state parks, spread across the state. For reservations or information call toll-free (800) AT-A-PARK.

Dart leads kickers past Churchill, 2-1

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

It took a while, but the Northville kickers proved to themselves that they can, indeed, beat a top-five team.

The No. 7 Mustangs edged No. 4 Livonia Churchill 2-1 on May 13, giving the locals the season's biggest win — and it came on the road. Northville ends the regular season with a 11-3-1 record and a share of the WLAA Western Division crown along with Churchill and Plymouth Canton (all are 4-1).

"The Grand Blanc and Farmington wins came against quality teams and that built our confidence," Mustang Coach Bob Paul said. "We felt good heading into the Churchill match because of our work rate and our confidence."

Northville had to overcome an early surge by the Chargers, however, who scored the game's initial goal just two minutes into the first half. Michelle Brazen was credited with the tally.

Eight minutes later, the Mustangs tied it when Amy Goode delivered a perfect crossing pass to Marcie Dart and she converted. The score remained 1-1 at halftime.

"Marcie has been our inspirational leader all year and she was phenomenal," Paul said. "Her work rate is unbelievable."

At the 26-minute mark of the second half, Northville took the lead for good, and again Dart was the hero. She took a pass from Michelle McQuaid, eluded two defenders and fired a shot from about 25-yards out that found the back of the net.

"She really laced the shot and it was an amazing goal because it was from such a severe angle," Paul explained.

The Mustangs closed it out from there with a stifling defensive game plan. Northville had a 12-8 shots-on-goal advantage.

"We outplayed (Churchill), especially in the second half," Paul said. "In the big games, Dart really stands out. She always plays well, but against Churchill she was one of the key differences."

NORTHVILLE 1, FARMINGTON 1: In the WLAA cross-over game on May 16, the Mustangs were missing four starters and had to settle for a draw against the visiting Falcons.

Three key starters — Ashley MacLean (stomach ailment), Goode (fractured elbow) and Cindy Tolstedt (broken leg) — were unavailable, and it showed.

"These injuries — except for Tolstedt's leg — aren't real serious and they should all be back soon," Paul said. "As for Cindy, she is out for the season and we'll miss her. She is an emotional player."

Farmington scored its only goal six minutes into the contest. Northville responded at the 12-minute mark of the first half — on a goal by Valerie Schuerman, assisted by Laura Whiteley — and that rounded out the scoring. The Mustangs outshot the Falcons 13-12 for the match.

"Compared to our prior three or four games, this one wasn't even close," Paul admitted. "Losing the starters hurt and we weren't able to put them away. But I don't want to take anything away from Farmington."

In a rematch of the regular season finale, Northville was to host Livonia Churchill in the MHSAA District semifinals on May 22 (after Record deadline) for the right to face top-ranked Livonia Stevenson in the finals on May 25 at Northville.

"I feel now that the girls are a state contender," Paul pointed out. "I feel comfortable with the way we match up with Churchill. If we can get by them, we'd love to get another shot at Stevenson. We are a different team from the one that lost to Stevenson 3-1 back on April 15."

DIVISION TITLE: Northville's share of the WLAA Western Division title is the first since Paul took over the program in 1989.

"This one is our first in my three seasons here," he said. "We've been to the state final, but this is our first. I still maintain that it's harder to win our division and our conference than it is to win the state title."

Golf team going to state meet

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

Those amazing Northville golfers — who have exceeded all expectations in a dream-like inaugural season — are now heading to the prestigious MHSAA State Meet.

The Mustangs qualified as a team on May 17 by placing in the top three at the 18-team regional, held at Brighton's Oak Pointe. The State Meet will be held on June 1 at Michigan State's Forest Akers Golf Course.

"The girls are so excited," Northville Coach Trish Waldecker said. "We knew it would be a tough meet. I told them that we needed to break 400 in order to have a chance to qualify, and they shot 401. That's right on the money."

The Mustangs placed third, 27 strokes off the pace set by Ann Arbor Pioneer. Team medalist was Kristen Woodsum, who fired an 18-hole score of 42-50 — 92 and placed sixth overall. The rest of the Northville scores came from Kelli Woodsum (52-46 — 98), Kelly Casterline (53-52 — 105) and Diane Vogt (51-55 — 106).

WLAA MEET: The Mustangs placed second out of eight teams at the first-ever WLAA Meet on May 15 at Huron Meadows. Northville registered a score of 436, which was 14 strokes off the pace set by Plymouth Canton — the only team to beat the Mustangs in dual-meet action.

"The course was very tough, so everybody's scores were a little high," Waldecker said.

Kristen Woodsum was 15 strokes out of first place, but did grab third overall with a 54-49 — 103. The rest of the Northville competitors included Kelli Woodsum (50-54 — 104, fourth place overall), Vogt

Diane Vogt carded a 106 to help propel the Mustangs at the MHSAA Regional Tournament

(53-60 — 113) and Courtney Casterline (58-56 — 114).

The Mustangs (8-1 overall) already have a practice round planned for May 31 to get a closer look at Forest Akers.

"We are very happy to be in the State Meet, but this is all really icing on the cake," Waldecker said.

The Northville baseballers may be turning the corner, but the race is almost over and most of their WLAA rivals are already on the home stretch, approaching the wire.

The Mustangs notched the season's first WLAA victory in game one of a May 18 doubleheader against Walled Lake Central, 4-1. The problem is that it took the squad a dozen tries to get that elusive win and the regular season is now history.

The victory made a winner of pitching ace Mike Lang for the first time and broke the team's eight-game losing skid. The 6-foot-6 hurler was in danger of going winless despite an impressive sub-2.00 earned run average.

"We played the best two games of the season against Central," Northville Coach Bob Frellick said. "That's why I think we've turned the corner."

Lang hurled a one-hitter and allowed just one run (unearned) in the first inning. The Mustangs took the lead with two runs in the third on a two-run double by George Smojver, and then added a pair of insurance runs in the fifth and sixth.

"I think the kids are still making some errors but we are recovering better from them," Frellick said.

Eric Shaw (2-for-2) was the only Northville batter with more than one hit.

The Vikings came back to take the nightcap, 3-1, in a classic pitcher's duel.

"We ran up against a hot pitcher and only got four hits," Frellick said. "But Smojver pitched a strong game. He allowed only four hits, but (Central) made the most of their hits. It was a battle between two evenly matched teams."

out when Steve Christenson blasted a solo homer in the fifth inning. Smojver (2-for-3) also had a productive outing at the plate.

PLYMOUTH CANTON 6, NORTHVILLE 0: Canton clinched a tie for the WLAA Western Division title on May 13 behind another solid pitching effort by Scott Kennedy. Kennedy hurled a one-hitter, struck out 16 Mustang batters and walked only two.

"It was an awesome game for Canton," Frellick said. "Kennedy just shut us down. If he's not the top pitcher in the state, he's one of the best."

The Chiefs took a 2-0 lead in the second inning off Northville starter Steve Christenson, and then added four more in the third Ben Hendricks smashed a two-run triple in the rally.

Northville's only hit was a sixth inning single by Danny Walsh. Kennedy fanned 16 of the 24 batters he faced, and he struck out the side three times.

Northville (4-16 overall, 1-12 in the WLAA) will host Detroit Redford in an MHSAA Pre-District clash today (May 23).

Schwagle wins conference and regional crowns

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

Northville tennis superstar Mark Schwagle is well on his way to another appearance in the state title match.

In tournament action last week, the Mustang sophomore notched his second straight Western Lakes No. 1 singles title and then added his first-ever MHSAA Regional crown several days later. Schwagle raised his season record to 17-0 and will probably enter the MHSAA State Tournament on May 31-June 1 at the Midland Tennis Center as the No. 1 seed.

Schwagle scored half of his team's eight points at the regional on May 17 in Ann Arbor. As a result, Northville placed fourth in the 14-team field, well behind first-place Ann Arbor Pioneer (27 points).

"I was very pleased," Mustang coach Dick Norton said. "I thought if we could come in fourth or fifth it would be a good tournament for us."

At No. 1, Schwagle cruised past Noah Bens of Adrian and Brian Schmidt of Plymouth Canton in straight sets in the first two rounds to advance to the finals, where he edged Peter Pusztai of Pioneer 3-6, 7-5, 6-3. Pusztai and Schwagle were the co-No. 1 seeds.

"That was the first set Mark's lost this season," Norton said. "This match could very easily be the forerunner of the state title match. I would assume that Mark will be the top seed at the state tournament and that Pusztai will be No. 2."

"To be honest, I don't think Mark played particularly well, but he did play a smart match."

The rest of the Northville points came from four first-round wins at No. 3 and 4 singles, along with No. 2 and 3 doubles. Brad Telepo — a No. 2 seed at No. 3 singles — beat Partha Mukhopadhyay of Ypsilanti (6-2, 7-5) in round one before falling to unseeded K.C. Kirkpatrick of Plymouth Salem. At No. 4, Jason Deglilio topped Quan Nguyen of Ypsilanti before dropping a 1-6, 1-6 decision to the No. 1 seed from Ann Arbor Pioneer, Brian Messner.

The No. 2 doubles team of Jeff Lower and Eric Black turned back a team from Brighton in round one, but were eliminated in the next round by an Ann Arbor Huron squad that was seeded third. Shaun Linderman and Chris McCreedy also scored a point for the Mustangs. In the No. 3 opener, they beat Joe Felice and Jeff Tabor of Belleville (6-1, 6-1), but then fell to the No. 2-seeded duo from Huron.

WLAA MEET: Just as at the regional, Northville placed fourth as a team at this 12-team tournament on May 14 in Livonia. The Mustangs scored 11 points, which was 10 behind first-place Plymouth Canton.

"I was happy with fourth," Norton said. "We were close to third."

Schwagle went 3-0 on the day, including a routine 6-1, 6-2 win over Farmington's Manoj Trivedi in the No. 1 singles final. Schwagle reached the final with a pair of 6-0, 6-0 victories against Mike McCormack (Livonia Franklin) and Fred Staten (Plymouth Salem).

"As usual, Mark was very businesslike," Norton said.

The long-anticipated rematch with North Farmington's Seth Hoffman never materialized.

"Hoffman was dropped from the (North Farmington) team," Norton explained.

The only other Mustang to advance to the championship round was Telepo at No. 3. He was seeded No. 1 but fell to K.C. Kirkpatrick of Salem (6-3, 1-6, 2-6), the same player who knocked him out of the regional competition three days later.

"I thought we should have gone a little further in doubles," Norton admitted. "All of our doubles teams won their first match, but only one team (Linderman and McCreedy) made it to the semifinals."

With the exception of Schwagle, the 1991 season is over for the Mustangs, who finished with a respectable 8-4 overall mark, and placed second in the WLAA Western Division with a 4-1 record.

Athletes of the Week

MARK SCHWAGLE

Northville tennis superstar Mark Schwagle is well on his way toward another appearance in the state title match, and we think "Athlete of the Week" honors are certainly appropriate. In tournament action last week, the Mustang sophomore notched his second straight Western Lakes No. 1 singles title and then added his first-ever MHSAA Regional crown several days later. Schwagle raised his season record to 17-0.

MARCIE DART

Northville Soccer Coach Bob Paul usually has nothing but praise for Marcie Dart, his star midfielder. Last week, Dart scored both Mustang goals in a 2-1 victory over four-ranked Livonia Churchill, and we think "Athlete of the Week" accolades are well-deserved. "Marcie has been our inspirational leader all year and she was phenomenal," Paul said. "In the big games, Dart really stands out. She always plays well, but against Churchill she was one of the key differences."

Recreation Briefs

HIGH SCHOOL PHYSICALS: Physicals for all Northville High School athletes will be given on June 3 at the main gymnasium. Girls' physicals will start at 5 p.m. and the boys will follow at 6 p.m. Fee is $10.

All athletes who want to compete during the 1991-92 school year must have a physical on file to try out. For more information, call Athletic Director Dennis Colligan at 344-8403.

CYO DAY CAMPS: The Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) will be offering a series of instructional basketball and cheerleading day camps during the coming summer. These camps are designed specifically for boys and girls of junior high and elementary school age, and are open to all children.

The cost for the week-long basketball camps—which include a T-shirt and awards—is $55. The three-day cheerleading camps cost $25.

For more information, call CYO Athletic Department at 963-7172.

COLTS LOOKING FOR PLAYERS: The Northville/Novi Colts varsity football team is looking for competitors to play this fall. Anyone 12-14 years of age and between 110-140 pounds are encouraged to join.

Safer baseball becoming popular

Orel Hershiser of the Los Angeles Dodgers "tests" the RIF baseball on his son, Quinton

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

The great American pastime, baseball, has always been known as a non-contact sport. Parents usually view it as one of the safest games their child can play—certainly much safer than football or hockey.

According to the Consumer Product Safety Commission, however, baseball is responsible for more childhood deaths than any other organized sport. Many of these baseball-related deaths occur after a batter is hit in the head or chest with a pitch.

In a sport and industry that has largely ignored the safety issue of children injured with a traditional hardball, Worth Sports Company is taking several bold steps. Worth discontinued production of its traditional yarn-wound youth baseball and has introduced a new, safer RIF (Reduced Injury Factor) ball—which is getting some use in Northville.

Unlike other safety baseballs, such as the 'Incrediball' and 'Kenko' balls, the RIF ball is approved for use by every major national youth baseball association and is just like a traditional nine-inch baseball, and 11- and 12-inch softballs, in respect to liveliness, weight, size, leather cover and stitching.

According to Traci Gottschalk of the Northville Recreation Department, some leagues in the Northville Junior Baseball program use the "softer" balls, and others don't.

Three of our leagues—T-ball, Eight-ball, and H-League—use the softer balls, but the rest of the baseball leagues and the softball leagues still use the traditional balls," Gottschalk said. "This year is the first season the H-League has gone to the softer ball."

As for the Novi Youth Baseball League, the issue was discussed at a board meeting but never acted upon.

"As of this season we are using the traditional baseballs," said Sten Sahlberg, NYBL publicity director. "We have gone to batting jackets for safety purposes and we are trying to teach the kids how to avoid being hit, and if they are, how to turn away from the pitches. The jackets are lightweight and absorb 60 percent of the impact."

The one significant difference between the RIF ball and the traditional ball is safety. Children hit with the RIF ball are 70 percent less likely to sustain a serious head injury than a child hit by the traditional ball, according to its manufacturer.

The RIF ball is made of a polyurethane core that compresses on impact, reducing the chance of injury. Its inventor is Worth President Jess Heald, an aerospace engineer.

The good news is youth baseball and softball leagues using the Worth RIF balls are safer now than they were one year ago; the bad news is most children continue to play with the higher risk traditional baseball. Heald said. "Children continue to be placed at risk when safer equipment exists but isn't used because of ignorance, coaches concern with tradition over safety and governing leagues and associations not mandating the use of safer equipment."

According to Worth, sporting goods dealers and consumers have shown a positive response to its traditional ball ban. Since the ban, sales of the RIF balls have risen from six percent of the youth baseball market to represent 12 percent of the market.

Further information is available from Worth at (615) 455-0691.

Fitness Notes

Open swimming offered in Northville

Northville Community Recreation will host open swimming at the Northville High School pool on Tuesday nights 8-9 p.m.; Wednesday nights 7:15-8 p.m.; Thursday evenings 8-9 p.m.; and Saturday afternoons from 12:30-1:30 p.m. There are also lap swims following open swimming.

Large groups are encouraged to participate, but must notify the recreation department at 349-0203 in advance. A $1 fee is payable at the door.

WATER FITNESS CLASS: The Northville Community Recreation Department is offering a seven-week water fitness class for adult swimmers and non-swimmers who want to lose excess pounds and inches without the strenuous exercise of aerobics.

The Monday and Wednesday class begins on June 17 and runs through July 31. The fee is $20.

For more information, call 349-0203.

NEW ATTITUDE AEROBICS: Northville Community Recreation is offering a fitness program designed for you: low- and high-impact aerobic alternatives with toning and shaping floorwork, fun and easy-to-follow workouts, morning and evening child care.

New Attitude Aerobics' spring session began in early April. The one-hour classes are year-round at the Community Recreation gymnasium on the following days: Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 a.m.; Monday and Wednesday at 5:45 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m.; and Saturday at 8 a.m.

For registration or more information, call 349-0203 or 348-3120.

AEROBIC FITNESS INC.: A fitness program called "Aerobic Fitness Inc." is now being offered. The one-hour program is designed to stretch, trim and tone. Six-week classes run continuously throughout the year.

Fee is $33 (two classes per week), $45 (three classes), and $55 (unlimited). For more information, call 348-1280.

YMCA ANNUAL RUN: Plymouth YMCA's 12th Annual Run will be held on Father's Day, June 16. The first event will be a Junior Jog for 6-8 year olds at 7:30 a.m.; and a Tot Trot for 3-5 year olds will follow at 7:45. A one mile walk/run and a 5K run will be held at 8 a.m. with a 10K at 8:45. For more information, call 453-2904.

HEALTH CLUB: If you're thinking of joining a health club, Schoolcraft College has something for you.

The Livonia Junior college is offering a Health Club and a Gym and Swim program. The health club is designed for families to enjoy unstructured activity in a modern, fully equipped physical education facility. A nominal fee of $3 is charged per visit and you will have the use of gyms, racquetball courts, weight machines and saunas. The club meets on Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

The Gym and Swim program is offered on Thursdays and on Saturdays from 8 a.m.-noon. This program costs $3 per visit on Thursday and $2 on Saturday, and uses facilities including: the pool, weight training equipment, handball/paddleball courts, gyms and saunas.

Call 462-4413 for more information.

STOP SMOKING CLASS: A stop-smoking/weight-control class, sponsored by the Plymouth YMCA, is scheduled for May 23 from 6-8:30 p.m. at the Plymouth City Hall in the Commission Chambers.

David Rowe, a nationally known hypnotist and motivational speaker, will conduct the seminar. Cost is $49 and includes a video tape.

Please call 453-2904 to register.

RENT A POOL: For those who like to keep fit by swimming, the Novi High School Pool is available for rent. Groups may rent the pool on Fridays from 7:30-9 p.m. If interested, call the Novi Community Education office at 348-1200 at least one month prior to date requested.

HEALTH SCREENING: The Novi Parks and Recreation Department offers a variety of health screening events each week.

One is blood pressure screening for senior citizens. This free service is offered each Wednesday in the Novi Civic Center from 11 a.m.-noon.

FITNESS OVER 50: A one-hour exercise program called "Fitness Over 50" is held Monday and Wednesday mornings at Twelve Oaks Mall. It takes place 9-10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor corridor near the east entrance.

The program, conducted by the University of Michigan Division of Physical Education, is particularly aimed at older people and others who would benefit from an invigorating but non-strenuous exercise program.

Fitness Over 50 welcomes all interested persons, regardless of age and current activity level. Call the Twelve Oaks Management Office, 348-9438, for further information.

YOGA CLASSES: Seven-week yoga classes are being offered in Northville this winter. Diane Siegel-Divita, past president of the Yoga Association of Greater Detroit, is the instructor.

The classes will be offered on Thursdays (7-8:30 p.m.) or Sundays (10:10-11:40 a.m.) at the Northville American Legion Hall.

Cost is $28. For more information, call Siegel-Divita at 344-0928.

WEIGHT WATCHERS: Weight Watchers, the internationally recognized weight loss program, meets every Wednesday at the Northville Community Center at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Registration fee is $17 plus a weekly fee of $9. For more information, call Diana Kutzke at 287-2900.

Myrna Partrich/Fitness

Necessary nutrients keep bodies healthy

Dear Myrna: My teenage daughter has horrible eating habits. She never drinks milk and only drinks soda. I have osteoporosis at the young age of 43. My mother also had osteoporosis. By the time she was 65, she could hardly straighten up. This eating habit of my daughter's worries me. When I was young, doctors didn't know much about nutrients and osteoporosis. With modern medicine and good nutrients, it really helps. Can you suggest something?

Well, let's try to scare her a little. Maybe the facts will do it. Teen-agers who forgo milk for soda may face a higher risk of osteoporosis as adults. Recent studies have shown that typical diets of young women, low in calcium and high in phosphorus from consuming soft drinks, may deplete their bone density.

Genetics also plays a role in this. Osteoporosis has been known to be handed down from generation to generation. However, diet and exercise can influence whether or not we reach full potential.

Dr. Mona Culva, who leads a research team at Mayo Clinic, studied primarily young women between the ages of 18 and 25. The researchers compared hormone and mineral levels in healthy women who were on two different diets. The first diet contained recommended amounts of calcium and phosphorus. The second diet contained half of the calcium and more than twice the phosphorus of the recommended dietary allowances—levels that more closely matched teens' typical diets.

"After four weeks on the low-calcium, high-phosphorus diet researchers noted persistent changes in hormone and mineral metabolism," Culva explained. "When calcium intake is too low, your body normally compensates for the shortage in triggering mechanisms that conserve calcium and boost calcium absorption. These actions work to bring blood calcium levels back into balance."

"But this study shows that some of the normal regulating mechanisms failed to kick in, suggesting long-term consequences that are unfavorable to achieving maximum bone mass."

We know so much more now in this generation of young women. If your daughter dislikes milk, there are other calcium-rich foods. I think what we have learned is that phosphorus is extremely important. Sodas and diet sodas have become major liquid intakes. I do see a trend toward designer water.

Myrna Partrich, co-owner of The Workout Company of Bloomfield Township and a recent appointee of The President's Council on Physical Fitness, is happy to answer any questions readers may have regarding exercise. The Emerald togetherness and privacy

Family

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

Satisfying the needs for both family togetherness and privacy, the Emerald 2 is third most popular for 1989. The master suite is a world unto itself on the home's second floor. Yet the main level of this home is an assemblage of activity centers where a family with the most diverse of interests can come together.

Up a few steps to the entry deck, through double front doors, sits a tiled foyer. Open to the second story, it creates a formal introduction to the home.

On one hand is a sunken living room with skylights in its vaulted ceiling, a corner fireplace and a symmetrical arrangement of narrow and wide windows in a modified bay. On the other is a den made airy by a bay window.

Up a few steps and handy to all living areas is a half bath. A full utility room is found near the steps leading down to the garage. The prize here—a laundry chute feeding down from the second story.

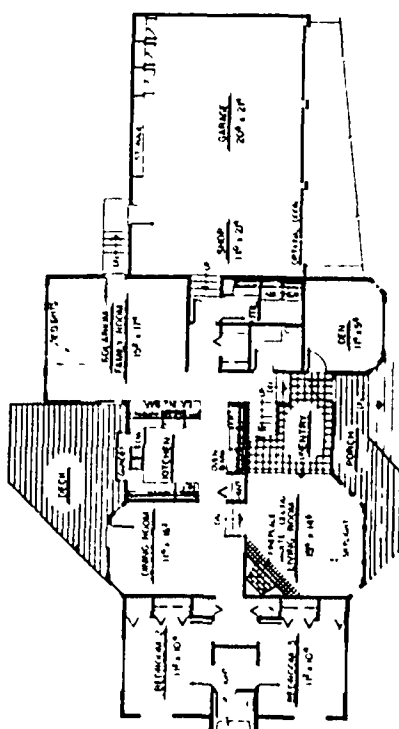

Around a corner is a family room measuring more than 15 by 17 feet, plenty of room for casual relaxation. Sliding glass doors open to a rear deck, and the adjacent kitchen is clearly visible, keeping the cook in touch with the crew.

The kitchen itself brims with such bonuses as a sunny garden window over the cleanup station. A side counter open to the adjacent dining room can double as an eating bar with the addition of a few stools.

Isolated from the home's activity centers are the main floor bedrooms, guaranteed to keep the kids from fighting over whose is bigger—they are identical twins separated by a shared bathroom. Both feature step-in closets and built-in shelving, vaulted ceilings and a pair of generous windows.

The second story is completely given over to a high-ceilinged master suite and adjacent study, which boasts a fireplace and bay window. The sleeping area, with its sliding glass doors to a private balcony, measures a generous 11 by 14 feet.

A step up leads to the grand bath, equipped with a combined spa/tub on a low pedestal, double sinks and a separate shower. The walk-in closet has all that's expected: single and double poles; built-in shelving; plenty of turnaround and storage area and a laundry chute to the downstairs utility room.

OVERALL DIMENSIONS 34'-0" x 42'-0"

BAR-B-Q CLUES

By ROXANN STEC
Staff Writer

There are certain sights, smells and sounds distinctive of summer, but none more pleasing than seeing thick, juicy steaks, dogs and burgers sizzling on an open grill, creating a mouth-watering aroma.

Barbecuing is a favorite summer activity of many and there are grills of all sizes and types available.

And consumers won't get raked over the coals when shopping for barbecue grills this summer if special attention is paid to sales at area stores.

There are two basic kinds of grills—gas and charcoal. Which is better? It depends on who you ask.

According to Mike Miller, a clerk at the Brighton Meijer store, many people do not like the mess or the wait of a charcoal grill and prefer the neater and quicker gas grills. The store's top-selling grill is gas-powered.

"Some people have said that they don't like waiting for the charcoal to heat up when you can light a gas grill and be ready to go," Miller said.

When asked if taste is adversely affected by a gas grill, Miller said no, because there are hickory chips available to provide the smoked flavor to food.

Craig Skalski, assistant manager of the Grundy's Ace Hardware store in Howell, said that his store's tabletop charcoal grill is the most popular.

"We don't have a real big selection but we usually have grills here," Skalski said, "and we have more coming in."

Meijer has quite a selection of barbecue grills available, with prices ranging from $3.47 to $249.97.

The least expensive grill—a round, metal, tabletop charcoal grill with attachable metal legs that measures 12 inches—is perfect for one or those who only occasionally barbecue.

But for those serious barbecuers or large families, there's the deluxe rectangular-shaped gas grill complete with cart, 915 square inches of cooking space in a triple-level area, a 20-pound propane gas tank, a broil-view window, side shelves with towel bars, a front condiment rack, and a 12,000 BTU side-burner.

There are many other varieties available at Meijer, including:

- A lightweight, tabletop charcoal grill with a steel body measuring 10 x 17 x 9-1/2 inches, selling for $7.97.

- An electric tabletop grill with steel body, temperature control and 187 square inch cooking area, selling for $44.97.

- A cast aluminum gas tabletop grill with 189-square-inch cooking area for outdoor use, at $43.97.

- A 14 x 14 inch iron hibachi with one grid for $19.97 and a 10 x 17 inch hibachi with two grids for $12.97.

- Several steel, tabletop kettle grills with lids, three-leg stands and a bottom vent, ranging from $24.97 to $54.97 depending on size.

- A full-size steel kettle grill with a 22-1/2-inch diameter for outdoor use at $69.97.

- A round, 24-inch outdoor grill with four adjustable grid positions on a tripod for $19.97.

- And several larger gas grills with cart.

Whether it's burgers or brochettes with gas or charcoal, grill cooking is a wonderful summer activity.

various BTU capacities, cooking areas and individual features ranging from $97.97 to $249.97.

Meijer also has many grill accessories, including shish kebab skewers, spits, charcoal and hickory chips.

Grundy's carries steel, tabletop kettle grills with a 14-inch diameter and a height of 19 inches for $19.99; a rectangular, 21-1/2-inch grill with 362-square inch cooking surface at $29.97 and a large gas grill with dual shelves, cart, 326-square-inch cooking surface, side shelves and front condiment rack for $99.95

REAL ESTATE

U.S. resorts appeal to Japanese Investors

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

The reverse mortgage—a lending instrument that pays a senior home owner a specified tax-free amount every month—is reviving in popularity.

During the past couple of years when real estate sales were slow and values actually declined in some areas, lenders backed off from entering into reverse mortgage contracts. Now that the market is showing healthy signs of renewed activity, more lenders are taking a positive view of these special loans.

The concept is very good for some seniors — bad for others. With a reverse mortgage, a lender pays a home owner over age 62 an agreed-upon sum of money each month, usually for the life of the senior or until he no longer owns or resides in the home.

These are actually advance payments on a mortgage loan, secured by equity in the home.

There are several plan variations. The most popular reverse mortgage plan allows the senior home owner to own and reside in the home for life. And the payments continue until the senior sells or permanently moves from the residence, or dies.

Typically, a widow in her mid-70s will contract for a reverse mortgage to supplement her monthly income. Those payments may be from $200 to $1,000, depending on how much equity she has in her home and how much of the property's appreciated value she is willing to pass along to the lender from her estate.

About 15,000 reverse mortgage loans have been made in this country. It's a relatively new concept, launched in the early 1980s. About 20 banks and insurance companies now offer these mortgages.

Also, about 10,000 FHA-approved lenders were recently authorized to make FHA-insured reverse mortgages, according to a report from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

For information about the availability of reverse mortgage loans in your area, contact one or several local mortgage lenders. Or for a free fact sheet on reverse mortgages and a list of companies offering these loans, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: National Center for Home Equity Conversion, 1210 E. College Drive, Suite 200, Marshall, MN 56258.

Q. Where is the most relocation activity taking place?

A States in the Southeast attracted 32 percent of all relocation activity during the first three months of 1991, according to the most recent figures provided by member companies of RELO, a relocation network.

Meanwhile, Western states received 22 percent and Northeastern states 20 percent of all incoming relocation activity during the first quarter months of January, February and March, according to figures reported by the RELO network.

Q. What is the prognosis for real estate sales activity and the recession in coming months?

A The prognosis is good on both counts. Economic indicators suggest the recession is near its end and the recovery should be in place by midsummer. But in order to sustain long term growth, increased investment is necessary, the National Association of Realtors said in its most recent outlook report.

According to NAR, the recent burst of home sales and construction activity will help end the recession and start the economy back on a growth track.

"Increased consumption spending will help restore the employment losses that were the immediate cause of the slump," said NAR Chief Economist John A. Tuellio.

Tuellio predicts that the first quarter of 1991 will be the last for any significant declines in gross national product growth for quite awhile, and the second quarter will mark the end of the downturn, with healthy growth returning in the second half of the year.

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a vase. It is 14 inches tall, 6 inches in diameter and is marked "Victoria Carlsbad."

I know that it is at least 75 years old. Could you please tell me something about its age and value?

A. Your vase was made in Carlsbad, Austria, by the Victorian porcelain factory between 1900 and 1915.

It would probably sell for about $125 to $135.

Q. This mark is on the back of a blue and white 9-inch plate. Can you identify the maker and estimate the value of my plate?

tify the maker and estimate the value of my plate?

A. "Scinde" is the name of a Flow Blue pattern; it was made by Minton & Co. in Stoke, England, during the mid-19th century.

Your plate would probably sell for $75 to $85.

Q. We bought an old coffee grinder at an auction for $110. It has two wheels and is marked "Landers, Frary & Clark No. 20." It is over 2 feet high and I think it was used in a store.

Did we get a bargain? When was it made?

A. You got a bargain! Your countertop coffee grinder was made about 1900 and would probably be worth $365 to $385 in good condition.

Q. We have a Mettlach 1/2-liter stein; the number is 1028. It looks like a tree trunk and has a grotesque face on the lid. Below the handle is a picture of

ANTIQUES

8 man and an inscription in German.

Can you tell me anything about its vintage and value?

A. This stein was made in Mettlach, Germany, by Villero & Boch, during the late 1800s. It would probably sell for $325 to $335 in an antique shop.

Q. I have a "Blue Diamond Vacuumatic" and is green with a black stripe.

I would like to know when it was made and its current value.

A. Your Parker fountain pen was made about 1940 and would probably sell for about $35 to $45 in good condition.

Q. The mark on my plate is a picture of the world with the monogram "J.H." It is 8 inches in diameter and is decorated with a brilliantly colored bird against a background of varied greens and blues.

Can you tell me anything about its origin and value?

A. The mark you describe was used by the Joseph Hildcroft Co. in London, England. It appears to be typical of the majolica they made in the late 1800s.

Dealers are selling plates similar to this for $75 to $85.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1 per item to James G. McCollam, P.O. Box 1087, Notre Dame, IN 46556. All questions will be answered but published pictures cannot be returned.

McCollam is a member of the Antique Appraisers Association of America.

This vase was made by the Victorian porcelain factory between 1900 and 1915.

Pesky pet odor problems put out

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

Q. Help! How can we get rid of the lingering odor of a couple of major cat boo-boos? The cat urinated in a basement apartment, in an area of heavy carpeting over cement.

The affected carpeting has now been removed and the cement scrubbed several times with commercial cleaners. The smell has lessened considerably, of course, but there is still a residual odor that we would like to clear up before going to the expense of recarpeting.

A. We have had numerous requests recently regarding the problem of pet stains and odors. So we feel it's appropriate to repeat our advice concerning this problem.

Last year at the recommendation of a pet store, we tried a fairly new product called Nature's Miracle (manufactured by Pets & People Inc., 5312 Ironwood St., Rancho Palos Verdes, CA 90274).

It is effective in the treatment of organic odors and stains. It is available at pet stores, sold in pints, quarts or gallon containers and can be used for spot treatment on carpets and furniture as well as the entire foundation.

For hardwood flooring, the old finish will have to be stripped and this solution applied to the bare wood to neutralize the disagreeable materials that have penetrated the wood. After treatment the floor should be refinished by sanding and applying a new varnish or polyurethane finish.

Pet urine can stain wood flooring permanently. A commercial wood bleach used prior to refinishing can be helpful in diminishing the staining. Be sure to follow manufacturer's directions carefully.

If the foundation is concrete, the problem is a little more difficult because of the porous nature of concrete. Saturate the entire area with Nature's Miracle. It sometimes takes up to a week to achieve results. Even though the surface may appear to be dry, it will take longer for the moisture level inside the concrete to dissipate and odors can remain during this period. It may even take more than one application to correct the problem.

If you still have pets around during this type of treatment, it is best to cover the area with heavy aluminum foil (perforated with holes for ventilation). When the odor is still present, pets are attracted to the area and are inclined to repeat the offense. Placing a dish of food on the foil is an added deterrent, as pets rarely contaminate an area where food is present.

Once the treatment has removed the offensive odor, seal the concrete with a good masonry sealer prior to the installation of new padding and carpeting.

Q. My bathroom sinks are made of synthetic marble and are white.

Recently I left a burning cigarette on the edge of the sink and forgot about it. When I noticed it the burned-out cigarette left a yellow stain on the edge which I have not been able to remove.

Do you have any suggestions?

A. Cultured marble sinks are made of a polyester resin, which normally has a clear gel coat or onyx resin on the top surface. Often minor scratches and staining can be removed with rubbing compounds found at your auto supply dealer.

Apply a medium-cut rubbing compound and buff with an electric buffer (a buffing pad on an electric drill is sufficient). Rinse with clear water and then apply a good quality paste wax (those approved for use on the fiberglass bodies of Corvettes). Buff to a high-quality luster.

If this does not remove scratches and staining, you can lightly sand the surface with 600 grit wet-dry sandpaper, used wet. Test in a small inconspicuous area first to make sure that you are not damaging the surface.

Or you can have a professional sand the top and coat it with a catalyzed acrylic urethane. When the surface is restored, use only non-abrasive cleaners on it. It is also wise to buff your cultured marble with a paste wax at least once a year.

"The more things change, the more they remain the same."

Alphonse Karr, 1849

Like our commitment to outstanding community newspapers for example.

It was only a couple of weeks ago that we changed our name from Sliger/Livingston Publications to HomeTown Newspapers. But you've probably noticed that nothing else has changed. We're still bringing you the same excellent community newspapers that you've learned to depend on for everything you need to know to live in your home town.

The Michigan Press Association (MPA) hasn't noticed much difference since we changed our name either. In fact, the MPA acknowledged our continued commitment to excellence by awarding us a total of 21 awards in the recent Better Newspapers Contest. That makes HomeTown Newspapers the most honored newspaper chain in the state. Here's a look at how we did.

The South Lyon Herald: 1st place - Use of Graphics; 1st place - Special Sections (Neighbors), 2nd place - Local News Reporting, 2nd place - Editorial Pages, 3rd place - General Excellence

The Milford Times: 1st place - General Excellence, 1st place - Local News Reporting, 1st place - Sports Coverage

The Northville Record: 3rd place - Sports Coverage, 3rd place - Lifestyle/Family Section

The Novi News: 2nd place - General Excellence, 2nd place - Feature Stories (Bob Needham), 2nd place - Sports Coverage, Honorable Mention - Lifestyle/Family Section

The Livingston County Press: 1st place - Lifestyle/Family Section, 2nd place - Special Sections (Neighbors)

The Brighton Argus: 2nd place - Use of Graphics, 2nd place - Lifestyle/Family Section, 3rd place - Use of Color, 3rd place - Feature stories, Honorable Mention - Sports Picture (Scott Piper)

To rent or buy a home? It depends on your needs

Deciding whether it is better to rent or buy a home has always been a difficult choice for some people. But it's becoming even more difficult now that some of the long-standing benefits of homeownership are being put to the test.

Not too long ago owning a home was considered a guaranteed hedge against inflation. But today's lower inflation, slower economy and sagging real estate market mean you can no longer assume a house will increase in value, particularly in the short term. The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants suggests that prospective home buyers take the time to consider housing alternatives before taking the plunge.

ADVANTAGES OF HOMEOWNERSHIP

Owning a home still carries significant financial benefits and, for the majority of Americans, homeownership still makes good financial sense. In addition to the opportunity to realize a profit when you sell, there are significant tax advantages available to homeowners. Homeowners can deduct real estate property taxes and interest on home loans. This can provide a substantial savings for taxpayers, particularly during the early years of a mortgage when the greater share of the monthly mortgage payment goes toward interest.

Uncle Sam gives homeowners the opportunity to shelter capital gains when they sell a house and reinvest in a more expensive home within two years before or after the sale of the old residence. Owning a home also means you can borrow money against the equity you have built up in your home. And, if you live in your home beyond the term of your mortgage, you own your home free and clear, an important consideration for those who expect to be living on a fixed income during retirement.

For most Americans, the benefits of homeownership extend beyond the financial. In spite of changing economic conditions and personal values, owning a home remains an American dream. Many individuals long for a certain deeply rooted satisfaction that comes with owning a home. Then there are more practical advantages of homeownership. Owning a home generally means you have more space, more privacy and, often, more luxuries. When you own your own home, you have the freedom to improve or redecorate your residence as you please (within local zoning and building codes).

DISADVANTAGES OF HOMEOWNERSHIP

Homeownership does have disadvantages. First, the costs associated with homeownership are high. You will only need a sizable down payment, but also additional funds to cover closing costs, legal fees, insurance and ongoing maintenance. Second, a loss on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible.

In addition, securing a mortgage has become more difficult. As a result of bad real estate loans and pressure from regulators, lending requirements have become more stringent. What's more, many of the costs associated with owning a home are variable, making it difficult for some new homeowners to plan and budget accurately.

Aside from a financial commitment to years of monthly mortgage payments, owning a home requires that you devote a great deal of time and money to the upkeep of your home. Consider the ongoing maintenance and repairs, from trimming the lawn and cleaning the gutters to replacing a leak. You also have to expect the unexpected — the potential need for a new roof, furnace or plumbing.

WHEN IS RENTING RIGHT?

If the myriad responsibilities or the financial requirements of homeownership make you wary, take another look at renting.

On the plus side, renting allows you more flexibility. When you rent, your commitment is generally limited to the term of your lease. If you expect that a job change, marriage or simply wanderlust may result in your needing to relocate, renting may make more sense for you. Because you can just pick up and move when your lease is up, you do not have to worry about property values declining or significant changes in the neighborhood.

Additionally, renting often gives you more control over your living expenses. You know exactly how much your rent will be and how often to expect increases. Renters also have the luxury of calling someone else when the roof leaks or the air conditioning fails. If you rent a house, you may be responsible for general repairs, but you won't have to invest a large sum of money in repairs or maintenance.

But renting has its down side as well. Keep in mind that renting has absolutely no investment value. While you can certainly invest any funds you save as a result of paying less in rent than you would in mortgage payments, you cannot build equity in the property. You also miss out on the tax advantages reserved for homeowners.

Aside from the financial considerations, renting means you may have to forego some of the space and privacy that your own home could bring you. And remember that finding good rental housing is not always easy, particularly if you have children or pets.

Historically, the financial benefits of long-term ownership outweigh those of renting. If you need additional help in determining which course to follow, consult your CPA. He or she will be able to steer you in the best direction.

Novi's Century 21 West manager, Barbara Pietron, recently returned from Century 21's 20th anniversary international convention, held in Las Vegas. The convention was attended by over 10,000 agents and brokers from all over the world. Century 21 East, West and Northwood, all owned by William Eldridge, were invited to attend a special lun-

Whether you trek the uncharted wilderness for two weeks or take a day trip on marked trails, hiking is a great way to enjoy the outdoors. Caving takes you down under, while rock climbing is a challenge to all the senses.

To the newcomer, however, the idea of battling the elements on a camping trip is a daunting prospect. What do you pack in a backpack? Where do you go? What do you do if it rains? Is a Swiss Army knife really an essential do-it-all item?

Fear not. There are a number of ways to acquaint yourself with the wilderness. Camping and outdoor outfitters offer the latest equipment (it's lighter and more efficient than ever).

Local college extension programs, as well as outdoor outfitters, offer classes on everything from rock climbing to how to pitch a tent. And they organize trips to help you enjoy the great outdoors under the tutelage of experienced guides.

HIT THE TRAIL

Whether you plan a day hike into the woods or a month long trek across Nepal, the same backwoods safety tip applies, according to Outside magazine: "Never walk over anything you can walk around. Never step on anything you can step over."

If you're new to hiking, start with short trips on maintained trails. Always get a trail map (usually available at ranger stations and park information centers) and stay on the trail. Shortcuts can cause accidents and are harmful to the environment.

Some items to take with you, whether your hike is long or short, include a bandanna, hat and sunglasses for protection from the sun. Invest in a pair of hiking boots (they offer sturdy ankle and foot support on the trail). Bring extra clothing to layer in case it gets chilly.

As an added safety measure, bring a flashlight and a small first-aid kit.

Backpacking equipment is, like everything else, getting lighter, stronger and more efficient. One new development is backpacks sized for men and women. Other items to look for include brightly colored accessories and sturdier, more comfortable hiking boots.

PITCH A TENT

Every true outdoorsman likes to camp, and that's probably because true outdoorsmen know the importance of preparation.

Copley News Service outdoor columnist Rolla Williams suggests pitching your tent in the backyard before making the first camping trip of the season. Not only does it reacquaint you with the routine, but it gives you a chance to inspect the tent for tears or missing pegs and poles.

Try sliding down a mountain or some quick rapids around the states.

In consideration of the National Park Service ethic, "Take only pictures, leave only footprints," choose camping equipment that is reusable. Burning paper plates is bad for the atmosphere, say environmentalists. Also carry away non-biodegradable items such as foil.

Sleeping bags should have at least 2 1/2 pounds of natural or man-made down. Shapes to consider include the basic rectangle, which can be used as a comforter in an RV or car, and the mummy, which tapers at the feet and requires less body heat to stay warm. Mummy shapes are more compact for backpackers to carry.

Other camping must-haves, says Williams, include an emergency fire kit consisting of wood shavings, a flattened milk carton, dry scrap wood and a candle. For light, bring a Coleman lantern; for cooking, a small stove. A Swiss Army knife performs a variety of tasks on the trail.

FOUR-LEGGED FRIENDS

Horse- or mule-packing is another way to enjoy the outdoors. If you go on a guided trip — and there are many outfitters in the national parks, from Grand Canyon to Yosemite, who organize trips from a day to a week—you don't have to be an expert on horseback.

And mule trips are becoming more upscale. Whereas riders once were required to pack basic provisions, they now have only to bring personal items — everything else is catered.

There are even mule trips with a theme. Some focus on fishing; others emphasize photography or nature study.

OF ROCKS AND CAVES

Go to Yosemite, and it's not unusual to see rock-climbers scaling the sheer face of El Capitan. In other parts of the country, you see people donning helmets with carbide lamps and gleefully crawling into the dank caves to see the wonders under the surface.

Rock-climbing is a fast-growing sport (indoor versions are catching on fast, and are a good way to learn) that requires strength, agility and lots of concentration.

Cavers, who used to be known as spelunkers, brave cold, damp and bat guano to photograph rare mineral and rock formations. Some cavers enjoy cataloging and mapping the caves they explore. Aficionados, however, say that caving is not for the fastidious.

MOVABLE FEASTS

Whether you're hiking, caving or camping, it's important to bring along something to eat and plenty of water or juice to drink.

Most of us, however, choose filling but nutritionally deficient snacks. Opt for energy-boosting snacks that are high in carbohydrates: bran muffins, fruit cocktail or a trail mix of fruit, raisins and carob.

For camping trips, include a few packets of freeze-dried food, powdered milk, chunks of cheese and peanut butter. Instead of bread, pack bagels, tortillas or pita bread, which hold their shape in a crowded backpack. Or try this recipe.

FIRE-BAKED APPLES

2 apples
1/2 cup granola
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons butter

Yields 2 servings.

Preparation time: 25 minutes

Cooking time: 45 minutes

Cut apples in half and scoop out core, including stem and seeds.

In mixing bowl, blend granola with honey. Break butter into four pieces and place butter dot into each apple half. Then spoon granola mixture into halves.

Wrap each half in aluminum foil. Place wrapped apples directly into white ash coal of fire with tongs. Cook 45 minutes.

When ready, take apple out of coals with long-handled tongs. Cool 5 minutes, then carefully open foil. Scoop apple halves out of foil and place on serving plate. Then spoon out any granola mixture that may cling to the foil and add to apples. If you have any milk or yogurt in your cooler, spoon some onto baked apples.

Games, activities furnishings for everyone

By Alison Ashton
Copley News Service

It's a gorgeous afternoon outside. The flowers are blooming; the birds are chirping. But you're enjoying the not-so-great indoors.

Perhaps that's because sitting in your back yard is a little too much like roughing it in the wilds. There isn't a comfortable place to sit, nothing is where it should be.

If this sounds like your yard, it's time to bring some of the creature comforts of the house outdoors and turn it into a seductive haven where you'll want to spend time.

Small touches, such as outdoor games and entertaining accessories, or big improvements, such as building a new deck, make your back yard a place to live. Home improvement centers have do-it-yourself kits for everything from decks to lighting.

FEATURE COMFORTS

Warm breezes call for a comfortable place to lounge. But how comfortable is that folding aluminum chaise you bought at the convenience store on the way to the beach last year?

Start by refurbishing what garden furniture you do have. Quality garden furniture shouldn't wear out, but a new finish or a set of new cushions will make it more inviting.

If new furniture is in order, put comfort at the top of your shopping list. Chaise lounges should be roomy and adjustable. Adirondack-style chairs are sturdy and have a high back.

Chairs and lounges should be accompanied by a small table for books, games, drinks and suntan lotion.

If the deck needs refurbishing, consider adding built-in seating, which can hide storage for pool accessories or towels. Spread pillows around to enhance the feeling of luxury.

Hammocks offer unbeatable lazy-day lounging — just make sure to hang them in a shady spot. A comfortable bench in a secluded spot offers privacy. Or hang an old-fashioned swinging bench on the porch.

Half the fun in the back yard is having a comfortable place to lounge on warm afternoons.

Roofed patios, also known as outdoor rooms, make a nice compromise between indoors and outdoors. A garden gazebo is another kind of indoor/outdoor haven.

Because enjoying your back yard shouldn't stop when the sun goes down, beef up the outdoor lighting. Create a dramatic ambience by backlighting trees and shrubs; include practical spot lighting if you plan to entertain al fresco.

Complete the mood with garden statuary, ranging from traditional cherubs to funky wooden Holstein cows. And spray the plants with mild insecticide to keep bugs at bay.

IN THE SWIM

Pools, as Hollywood stars have known for decades, are the ultimate outdoor must-have. A dip in the pool cools you off on a hot day, and it creates a wonderful feeling of outdoor luxury.

If you plan to install a pool, the choices are limited only by the size of your yard and your imagination. Lap pools are elegant and functional.

Reflecting pools create a sense of serenity. Hot tubs are ideal for limited space.

Full-size swimming pools can be enhanced by unique tile designs, brickwork, waterfalls and lighting.

Outfit your water wonderland with lounging rafts and trays worthy of Cleopatra floating down the Nile.

Paddle boards, Aqua Joggers and water wings make it easy for you to exercise on a hot day. Or string up a net and play a game of volleyball in the water.

What if a pool is out of the question? On a hot day, treat yourself to a small inflatable wading pool (the kind used by little kids) to dip your tootsies or lounge in.

GARDEN GAMES

One way to start enjoying your back yard is to bring favorite indoor games outdoors. Backgammon, chess, checkers, Monopoly all take on an added enjoyment when played in the shade.

Other outdoor games are more active. Volleyball, played beach-style with two-man teams, is a favorite. You can leave the net up and play a game of badminton, which can be as fast and challenging or slow and relaxed as the players want.

Pingpong tournaments on the patio can become quite competitive. And a lot of players take their croquet seriously, too. Croquet's Italian counterpart, boccie ball, which combines the skills of croquet and bowling, offers new challenges. Or follow George Bush's lead and try your hand at throwing horseshoes.

Pitch a tent in the back yard for a civilized camping trip. On a clear night, take a chart of the sky and do a little stargazing.

If the beach is far away but you still like the idea of sun and sand, follow a suggestion in Sunset magazine and create your own seaside oasis.

"The sandy sites offer many of the pleasures of a weekend trip to the shore — without the crowds and long, hot commutes," say the editors of Sunset.

This low-maintenance warm-weather gardening option is completed with trees or large umbrellas for shade, a hammock for lounging and, of course, beach toys for the kids.

Boating pleasures, ranging from quiet canoes to fast power boats, offer new fun on the water.

Sail, power and paddle mobiles

By Monica Perez
Copley News Service

So, what's the big deal about boating? Just because in a boat you can fish, hunt, raft, water ski, cruise, dive, explore, sun, bird watch and party, so what?

Yes, indeed.

Unless you're terrified of water boating can easily become the most addictive leisure time activity you could get involved in. Maybe you've been thinking about jumping into this exciting realm, getting your feet a little wet. Here's a brief primer for embracing H2O.

BIG BOAT, LITTLE BOAT

Try ski boats, bass boats, patio boats, custom boats, runabouts fishing boats, offshore performance boats, pedal boats, portabotes, sloops, yawls, ketches, schooners, cutters, catamarans trimarans, canoes, rafts, cabin cruisers. Dinghies, even.

"So, what have you in mind?" the salesperson will ask. If this is a bit overwhelming, it's better to begin by asking yourself how you see your time spent on a boat.

Ask your family members; sure, maybe Mom's a champion flycaster, but the rest of the clan is more into anchoring and swimming. Make a list of water-based interests, and the number of people you'll have aboard.

The boating industry is wonderfully specialized -- how embarrassing it would be to get caught casting for bass from a ski boat, for instance. Unfortunately, it's a bit overwhelming for the first-timer.

Start educating yourself. Decide that you won't make the decision quickly-- you have hundreds of options and you should view as many as possible.

You probably already know whether you're going to sail or power, so that's a start. Now visit boat showrooms, telling the salesperson you're just gathering information. Try to talk with boat owners, see what they like and dislike about their craft.

A boat show is an excellent "school," because you can see dozens of new models and all the accessories. Dealers often put together special show prices and packages, too. Call your town's convention center or meeting halls to see if any are scheduled in your area.

STAYING AFLOAT

Price is of course a consideration. Since few buyers walk in and plunk down a wad of cash, financing is available. Again, a boat dealer is one source of information; so is your bank.

Because a boat is no longer a tax break, consider a home equity loan, the interest on which is deductible

Because a boat is no longer a tax break, consider a home equity loan, the interest on which is deductible. (Remember, though, an equity loan is a second mortgage on your home; is that boat worth the risk?)

What about the cost of keeping and operating a boat? Dozens of factors will impact the bottom line, and of course the cost is relative to how often you use it. A boat that's kept in a marina and taken out once a month is a very expensive boat.

Conversely, one that's "docked" at home and trailered to the lake every weekend is a bargain.

The cost to run a typical family boat is about $47 per outing, according to the National Marine Manufacturers'

Association. (That figure is based on the popular boating package of a 17-foot powerboat with a 165-horsepower, stern-drive engine that is trailered, and used an average of 100 hours per year.) The highest cost is fuel, so if you use your boat for sunning rather than waterskiing, your cost will be lower.

When shopping, keep in mind insurance, upkeep and accessories.

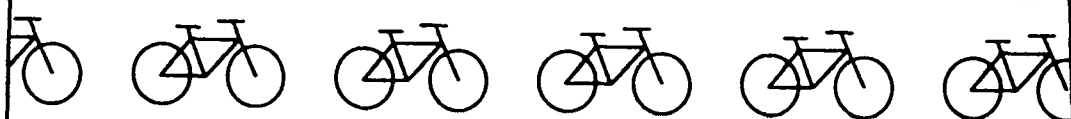

WHAT ACCESSORIES?

Personalized nags and monogrammed seat cushions aside, there are a number of things you're required by law to carry: personal flotation devices, fire extinguisher, visual distress signal, backfire flame arrester, anchor and anchor line, paddle or oar, and pump or bailer.

Swimming lessons are the best safety investment of all.

Again, a boat show is where you can view all the necessities and frivolities. You also can get valuable safety information. The Coast Guard Auxiliary offers free boat inspections and classes in safe boating; courses also are available through the U.S. Power Squadron, Red Cross and YMCA.

The adventure doesn't begin on the water, but way before, when you step up into the sleek craft that could, just maybe, be yours.
