Superintendent George Bell tallies election results Monday.

Millage approved 2-to-1 Ragan win seats on boards

By SUZANNE HOLLYER

Northville voters Monday approved 2-to-1 a request to renew 22.63 mills.

The proposal garnered 1,881 yes votes and 856 no votes, for a 69-percent approval. The 2,737 voters who cast ballots Monday were approximately 14 percent of voters registered in the Northville School District.

Retiring Superintendent George Bell said he was pleased with the results, but would have liked to have left the district in a state of financial certainty that will be impossible with pending state funding cuts.

Bell officially retires on June 30. He said the millage proposal's success is a good vote of confidence for the district to use in its superintendent search.

"We won't this one, and we won't 2-to-1. That's great politics in anybody's vote," Bell said. "I think we're getting this down to a system."

Bell had a few words of wisdom for the new school board and the incoming superintendent. He recommended the district hold a millage election in the spring so it can plan its budget earlier. Northville taxpayers finance 95 percent of the school's budget. The state provides little additional revenue because the district is out-of-formula, which means it is considered property-wealthy by state guidelines.

Bell said school districts will need more funding from the state if educational needs are going to be adequately addressed. "It's going to have to be determined that if you want quality education, you're going to have to pay for it," Bell said.

Bell attributes the votes against the millage to frustration with the federal and state taxes.

"School millage issues are the only way people can express frustration with the taxing structure in the state of Michigan," he said. "This is the one where they can vote every year."

The millage passed in every precinct. In precinct one (city hall), voting was 194-124; in precinct two (Silver Springs), 215-117; precinct three (Winchester), 468-196; precinct four (Amherst), 472-115; precinct five (city hall), 146-94; precinct six (Moraine), 386-210. Five ballots were damaged and not counted.

In other election news, two unopposed candidates won school board seats. Incumbent Robert McMahon got 1,889 votes, while newcomer Richard Brown polled 1,827. Six write-in candidates received votes: Leland Haines, Judy Swancutte, Reginald Gerlica, Barbara Flis, Horace Mann and William Cornelius.

In the Schoolcraft College races, Northville resident Jeanne Stempien was returned to her six-year seat with 7,301 votes, including 1,924 in Northville. Stempien and her husband are partners in a Livonia law firm. She has a law degree from the Detroit College of Law and a bachelor's from the University of Michigan.

The other incumbent, Michael Burley of Canton, was also returned with 5,905 votes, including 1,652 from Northville. Subramanian Ramamurthy was challenging the two, and he got 1,184 votes, 296 from Northville.

Eight candidates were competing for one four-year term on the Schoolcraft board. Steve Ragan, a Plymouth resident, won the seat with 3,179 votes out of 9,651 cast.

Ragan beat Ronalee Bowman, 1,339 votes; Willis Brauer, 433; Paulette Cebulski, 665; Robert Gordon, 510 votes; Bruce Patterson, 2,445 votes; M. Andrea Taylor, 373; and Patricia Wilson, 707.

Ragan also was the top vote getter in Northville winning 637 of 2,108 votes. In Northville, Bowman received 210 votes, Brauer received 80 votes, Cebulski received 121 votes, Gordon received 92 votes, Patterson received 590 votes, Taylor received 111 votes and Watson received 267 votes.

Graduation set for tomorrow

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Northville High School seniors will say their final farewell to their alma mater Friday.

Commencement exercises for 262 seniors are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. on the high school football field, weather permitting. In case of rain, the ceremony will be in the gym.

Seniors had their last day of school June 7, when they rehearsed for graduation, participated in a senior breakfast and received their caps and gowns.

Commencement exercises will begin with music performed under the direction of Michael Rumbell.

Senior class officers will welcome the audience, introduce the class and reflect on the last four years.

Eight valedictorians and four salutatorians will give speeches, as will Superintendent George Bell.

A distinguished alumna award will be presented by class Vice President Charles Hugener before assistant principal Laura Wiener presents the class.

Board President James Petrie will present diplomas as one of his last official acts on the board. Petrie's term expires June 30.

David Bolitho also will complete one of his final acts as high school principal at the commencement exercises. Bolitho, who will give a farewell speech to the class, has been promoted to the position of assistant superintendent.

Concluding remarks will be made by Timothy Kerns before the event is finished.

After graduation, the fun is not quite over for Northville seniors. An all-night party will be held in the school's cafeteria following graduation.

1956 NHS grad honored Friday

As an adult she created Tony the Tiger, a mascot for Kellogg's Frosted Flakes cereal.

As a Northville High School student, Dolores Marie Teshka won school art awards and scholarships, and designed the seal for the City of Northville, winning a City Council-sponsored contest.

Teshka, a 1956 graduate who died of cancer in 1989, on Friday will receive another award from her alma mater: Northville High School will honor her as a distinguished alumna at the school's graduation ceremony.

Dolores' sister Sharon will accept the award.

Sharon remembers Dolores not only for her professional accomplishments, but also for her personal qualities.

"The legacy she left is that life is wonderful in the worst of times and the best of times," Sharon said.

Dolores and Sharon were raised with Dolores' twin brother, Darwin, in a house that was home not only to the Teshka family, but also to Northville city government. Their parents were employed by the city and "took care of the place," Sharon said.

From 1942 until the old house was torn down in 1963, the family lived in city hall. The present city hall build-

Parties' future at stake

Parents of recent graduates or other prospective underage drinkers take heed: Before you roll out the barrel, it's best to know the law.

Especially a new law on tap in Northville Township.

The township board this evening will consider and is expected to approve an ordinance that would place legal clamps on adults who sponsor house parties for underage imbibers.

The so-called house party ordinance is aimed at keg parties common during the weeks surrounding high school graduations.

The idea is to get parents to accept responsibility, said township Police Chief Chip Snider.

New teams introduced

The Northville Record today introduces two new "all-area" teams, and Northville High School is well-represented on both.

On page 1-B is the first-ever HomeTown Newspapers All-Area Academic Team. Using a numerical formula, students from five high schools — Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Milford and Lakeland — were eligible for the team. Northville placed four scholars on the 10-member squad.

On page 9-B is our first all-area team for girls soccer — on which Northville really cleaned up, placing 10 players on either the first or second team. Star midfielder Marcie Dart, considered to be among the best soccer players in the state, earned Player of the Year honors. Her coach, Bob Paul, is Coach of the Year.

City mulls effects of state budget

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The ongoing budgetary feud between Gov. John Engler and the Michigan State Legislature shows no sign of letting up, and local officials are worried that Northville City will continue to suffer for it.

The city is still awaiting payment of about $575,000 in racetrack revenues from the state, money that was allocated to the city in the 1990/1991 state budget but has since been withheld.

Assessor Mark Christiansen, who was named acting city manager until Gary Word takes his place July 1, said the matter is out of the city's hands for the moment.

"The whole issue is really being held hostage to the deliberations between the governor and the Legislature as to the current year's state budget," he said.

"We are still operating under the theory that there is a legal appropriation that we're entitled to, minus the 9.2-percent cut by executive order." The city closed on a $600,000 tax anticipation note Tuesday, to pay expenses until the racetrack funds are released by the state. "With the size of our budget, to sit without $600,000 for any length of time is pretty significant," Christiansen said.

But the assessor added that the $600,000 note only provides a short-term solution to the city's budgetary problem.

"From a cash standpoint, it's not a problem now with the tax anticipation note, but that's just a delaying move and not something we like to do," he said. "If it's done too many times it could potentially, in the long run, have an adverse effect on our bond rating."

Selling tax anticipation notes repeatedly may cause investors to question the city's financial stability, and result in poor interest rates for bonds for other projects.

Christiansen said he has discussed the city's concerns with state treasurer Doug Roberts and other state officials but the concerns were not well-received. "They've all fallen on deaf ears," he said.

"All I've heard is that it's a budgetary issue that needs to be addressed between the governor and the Legislature," he said. "They're being very close-mouthed on what is going to happen, or even whether it's legal."

"We won't know probably for another month or two what the governor's going to do, and I don't think anybody's going to give us the answer in the meantime, not even the governor. . . . We're going to be right back in this crunch again on Oct. 1, when this tax anticipation note is due."

The city is considering legal action against the state for the money. "It's one thing to be told by the Legislature that the expense is unjustified," Christiansen said. "But to have the

"It's primarily targeted at adults who want to be friends, as opposed to parents," Snider said. "It places an adult responsible should he or she supply alcohol."

But the proposed ordinance could ensnare more than just parents. Anyone 17 or older who sponsors a beer bash involving minors is subject to penalties up to 90 days in jail, or a $500 fine, or both.

That means police are likely to crash if mom and dad are away and the teen-age kids throw a party.

The thought is sobering — and meant to be.

"It's a good deterrent," said Snider, who said a similar Farmington Hills ordinance has proven effective. "If enforcement (does not) stop it, liability (will)."

Northville community groups are the driving force behind the house party ordinance, said Charles Stilec, a member of the Northville Action Council and Northville High School Student Assistance Program coordinator.

"Every week I hear about parties from kids whose parents are away for the weekend," Stilec said. "A lot of kids have houses, hotels, motels and limousines available to them."

That availability can foster drug and alcohol abuse, Stilec said.

"We can do something about it and prevent tragedies from occurring," he said. "I believe anything we can do is another piece of the puzzle."

Snider said his department has not received a rash of complaints about house parties. But an infamous, destructive bash in a township home last winter pointed out the potential for house party woes.

Up to 300 local youths attended an unsupervised house party in January. When the unsuspecting parents returned to the home, the damage — estimated at more than $40,000 — was done.

The homeowners in that instance would not have been charged under the proposed ordinance because, as

Snider said: "They had taken all reasonable steps and had done all the things parents are supposed to do."

The proposed law could have far-reaching consequences to adults who do not take proper preventive steps. In addition to graduation parties, wedding receptions also fall under the ordinance web.

But officers will not resort to police-state tactics to drag away offenders.

"It has to be measured case-by-case, and we have to have some reasonable cause to go on someone's property," Snider said. "But if we had a complaint that young adults were attending a party that had alcohol . . ."

Snider's message is clear. The ordinance will be enforced.

And that suits Stilec and the Northville Action Council just fine.

"This will help parents be parents," he said. "And parents can't afford the legal and social embarrassment."

bug pulled out from under you after you've already expended the funds is a whole different issue."

Sen. Bob Geake (R-Northville) agreed that the state's withholding of the city's money is unwarranted, but he was uncertain whether the money would ever be released to the city.

"The governor has impounded it along with all the other racetrack monies to the cities," he said. "I'm very discouraged; I'm not sure we'll ever see it. The state is broke, and as a result has been reneging on a number of its obligations . . . I feel we're entitled to the money and the state has no right to keep it, but they're doing it anyway."

Geake is currently reviewing the state racing law that specifies the percentage of racetrack revenue to be returned to cities with racetracks, he said. "To see if there's some way the cities could intercept the money before it ever goes to the state."

Cities may be able to collect a percentage of the handle or place a surcharge on ticket sales, he said.

The City of Pontiac collects a $1.50 surcharge from every ticket sold at the Pontiac Silverdome, Geake said,

"so there may be a precedent there."

The Michigan statute governing state-returned racetrack revenues has been in effect for 34 years, though the state has paid cities less than the statutory amount several years since 1981.

ing was constructed on the same site.

The family's history in Northville traces further back than 1942. Dolores' grandmother owned two businesses in downtown Northville. Their father, Arnold, was born in Northville, and their mother, Helen, was raised here.

Dolores and Darwin graduated from Northville High School in 1956. Sharon, the older sister, graduated in 1954. A half-brother, Louis Herrick, also graduated from Northville High School.

Today the family is scattered from Grosse Pointe to Santa Barbara, Calif. Sharon lives with her mother in Harper Woods. Dolores lived with them before she died. Arnold Teshka died in 1980.

The career that led to the creation of Tony the Tiger began at Northville High School. Following graduation, Dolores continued her education at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit.

She graduated from the center in 1960 and won a Fulbright Scholarship in 1964. Thanks to the scholarship, Teshka studied at the Kosschka Institute of Fine Arts in Salzburg, Austria.

Some of Dolores' work has been seen in advertisements for products sold by Franco American, Detroit Diesel, Rockwell Standard, American Airlines, Fruehauf and Unistrut Corp. (a developer of geodesic domes). She has done work for all of the big three automakers.

And the year the Detroit Tigers won the World Series, Dolores designed a poster featuring their "purr power" logo.

She owned and was the art director of A & H Graphics, Advertising and Design Specialists, until cancer made it impossible to work, Sharon Teshka said.

From the time she was diagnosed, Dolores lived three years, far longer than doctors had predicted.

"She outsmarted them and lived quite a few more years," Sharon said.

During the time when Dolores was sick, many friends and former classmates from Northville High School visited her, Sharon said.

"They came down constantly to see her, not just once in a blue moon," Sharon said. "So often with sickness, people stay away, but Dolores made people feel very, very at ease. She had a tremendous sense of humor and she made people laugh during her darkest time."

During her battle with cancer, Dolores fought paralysis and loss of speech.

"She got up three different times after operations when they said she would never walk again," Sharon said.

Dolores also regained her ability to speak after suffering a stroke caused by the cancer and continued to work as a consultant to local advertisers.

"People came to consult with her about their art business. I'm not saying one person; I'm saying people," Sharon said.

Dolores was a professor at the Center for Creative Studies, an instructor at South Macomb Community College and a lecturer for several art groups, her sister said.

"There is not one major advertising firm in the Detroit area that does not have one of her students," she said.

The distinguished alum award has been given since 1983 to recognize the achievements of Northville High School graduates. A panel of staff, students and community members chooses a recipient of the award based on information submitted by the nominating party.

Ten nominations were considered this year.

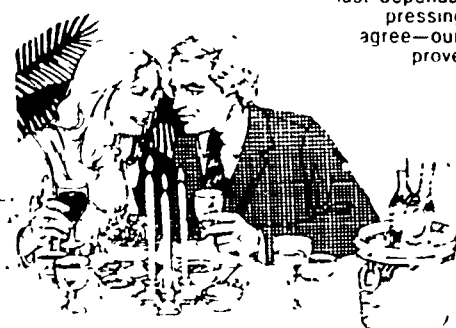

Helen Teshka, Dolores' mother, is not expected to attend the graduation, but Sharon will speak at Northville High School's graduation and accept the distinguished alumna award for Dolores.

"I'll never get over Dolores not being here. She was our best friend. We miss her every single day," Sharon said.

"As I'm talking to you, I can hear her laughing."

Township investigates series of auto part thefts

Township police investigated several thefts of auto parts during the past week. Included in police reports were the following incidents:

The right taillight was stolen from a 1989 Ford Mustang parked in the lot at Gerald's, 41012 Five Mile, between 8:30-8:40 a.m. June 7. The vehicle's left tail light was damaged.

A radar detector reportedly was stolen from a 1989 Mercury Cougar parked on Aqueduct Court late June 7 or early June 8, township police said. Police said thieves smashed the driver's side window to enter the car.

A radar detector also was stolen from a 1991 Lincoln parked on Woodcreek Blvd. south of Eight Mile late June 7 or early June 8. Thieves also broke a window to enter the vehicle.

An employee of Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, told township police someone stole an AM/FM cassette player from his 1986 Dodge Omni while it was parked in the store lot June 6. The radio was valued at $300.

A Gregory, Mich., man told township police that thieves broke a window and stole a pair of sunglasses and cassette tapes from a 1990 Audi while it was parked in the township late June 7 or early June 8. The stolen items were valued at $150.

A radar detector reportedly was stolen from a 1991 Eagle Talon parked on Norwood Court late June 7 or early June 8, township police said.

Police said thieves smashed the driver's side window to enter the vehicle. The radar detector was valued at $200.

OUIL: Township police recorded the following arrests for operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol last week:

A 26-year-old Plymouth man was charged with OUIL June 7 after his arrest on Haggerty north of Five Mile. Preliminary breath tests indicated the man's blood-alcohol level was .14. The state considers a person intoxicated at .10.

A 22-year-old Northville man was charged with OUIL early June 8 after township police arrested him on Eight Mile west of Meadowbrook.

Preliminary breath tests indicated the man's blood-alcohol level was .204.

A 30-year-old Plymouth man was charged with OUIL early June 6 after his arrest on Five Mile near Sheldon.

A 33-year-old Plymouth man was charged with OUIL early June 9 after his arrest on Five Mile east of Haggerty. The man's blood-alcohol level was .184, township police said.

A 19-year-old Troy woman was charged with OUIL early June 9 after her arrest on Eight Mile east of Silver Springs. The woman's blood-alcohol level was .20, township police said.

A 36-year-old Pinckney man was charged with OUIL late June 6 after his arrest on Five Mile west of Ridge.

Police said the man's blood-alcohol level was .174.

VEHICLE DAMAGED: A 1988 Chevrolet parked at 19478 Silver Springs was damaged sometime between May 25 and June 5 when someone scratched the vehicle's hood, township police said. Damage was estimated at $100.

HANG-UP CALLER: A Northvalley Drive resident told township police his family has received repeated harassing calls for two years. The caller never speaks and usually hangs up when the complainant answers, police said.

MALICIOUS DESTRUCTION: The passenger window of a car parked at Treetop Apartments, 957 Novi Road, was shattered sometime between midnight and 11 a.m. June 8. Damage was estimated at $120. The car was parked in the south parking lot near Northville Park at the time.

LARCENY OF LAWN ORNAMENTS: Three plywood sheep were stolen from the front lawn of a North Center Street home sometime between 9:30 p.m. June 8 and 8:30 a.m. June 9. The sheep, valued at $65, were made of black plywood covered with wool and decorated with black ribbons and brass bells.

LICENSE PLATE STOLEN: A license plate was taken off a vehicle stored in the main barn area parking lot at Northville Downs.

Accused flasher nabbed by police after leaving Meijer lot

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Township police are seeking a warrant against a 20-year-old South Lyon man who allegedly exposed himself to a woman in the Meijer parking lot.

The victim, a 40-year-old Northville woman, told police she was placing groceries in her vehicle in an isolated portion of the 20401 Haggerty lot at approximately 8:15 p.m. June 5.

The woman then noticed a man drive slowly by with his vehicle's window down. The woman was standing at the rear of her car and the suspect drove within 10 feet, she said.

The victim told police she glanced at the man, who reportedly was not wearing pants and was fondling himself.

The woman finished loading her vehicle and went into Meijer to report the incident.

The suspect continued to cruise the Meijer lot, the woman said.

Township police responded to the call and noticed a 1991 Chevrolet Cavalier matching the description of the suspect's on Haggerty near the Eight Mile intersection.

Police stopped the Cavalier in the parking lot at Big Boy and told the driver they were investigating an indecent exposure complaint.

The suspect denied knowledge of the incident, saying he had just spent 10 minutes in the Meijer lot looking for his ex-girlfriend, who reportedly works at the store.

The victim then arrived at the scene and positively identified the suspect, police said.

Police said they will charge the man with indecent exposure/disorderly conduct as outlined by township ordinance.

Police team foils suicide plan

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

For the better part of an hour early Monday, township police Sgt. John Sherman teetered eight stories above busy Michigan Avenue in Wayne.

With one foot on a bed and the other on a window sill, Sherman clutched a rope slung around his waist and waited for the cue.

When the signal crackled across his police radio, Sherman jumped, and with cat-like quickness bounded two stories down and pounced through a three-foot-by-two-foot apartment window.

A host of police officers simultaneously burst through the apartment's front door and subdued a suicidal 23-year-old Wayne man who had spent the evening perched on a sixth-floor window ledge.

The Wayne man, who police said was in the throes of a two-day cocaine binge prompted by a recent divorce, was angered that his plan had been foiled.

But Sherman and the 11 other police officers in the Western Wayne Special Operations Team viewed the incident quite differently: It was another wildly successful mission.

Sherman helped found, and now serves as tactical officer-in-charge of, the Wayne County consortium. Police from Northville, Canton and Van Buren townships — plus Plymouth city — form the SOT, which handles emergency cases ranging from jumper incidents and barricaded gun men to hostage situations.

In short, when the task looks dirty, the SOT pulls on its boots and wades through the mud.

The SOT's latest adventure began just after 10 p.m. Sunday evening with a call for assistance from the Wayne Police Department, Sherman said.

Sherman and fellow township police officers Capt. Philip Presnell and Sgt. Ray Garbarino were at the scene a scant half-hour later and began to piece together a strategy to rescue the despondent Wayne man.

The SOT understood the situation could be explosive, Sherman said, when word came down that the man had earlier attempted to kill himself.

And now the man swayed far above the pavement, waving a kitchen knife, with some in a growing mob below hurling taunts and challenges to jump.

If they wanted to save the man, the SOT had to come up with a precise plan.

"He had a view of the surrounding area," Sherman said Monday. "And if entry to his room was made, it could have compelled him to jump."

Negotiators including Presnell attempted to communicate with the man as Sherman and his tactical squad prepared a rescue strategy.

Sherman and three other officers — Mark Gejeski, Todd Mutchler and Craig Bauldry of Canton Township — entered an eighth-floor apartment two flights directly above the man and tied a rappelling rope to a bed frame.

The officers quietly removed a window and waited, making sure to avoid the man's line of sight.

"If he had seen a police officer up there, the probability of him jumping was pretty good," Sherman said.

Negotiators were able to draw the man away from the window just before 1 a.m., and on cue, after hours of breathless anticipation, the SOT burst into action.

Sherman fell backward from the eighth-floor window, hit and pushed off the outside wall on the seventh floor, and swung through the sixth-floor window "to block it so he could not jump out."

Other SOT members then grabbed the startled man.

"He had no idea we were there," Sherman said.

Sherman confessed concern that the man might attack him while he dangled so vulnerably outside the apartment. But the 20-foot jump and entry was not much more than a blur that reportedly prompted a cheer from the crowd of onlookers below.

In the end, SOT members shook hands. They had pulled off another in a string of successful operations.

"It went well and we were very fortunate," said Sherman, who honed his jumping skill through extensive military and police training. "The primary concern was to keep the subject from hurting himself."

Wayne Public Safety Director Art Morton was duly impressed with the SOT's performance.

"They were very professional; things went off without a hitch," he said. "They made a very positive impression on me and saved a young man's life."

And Morton said Wayne may want to join the SOT consortium.

"We certainly are going to look at it," he said.

Petrie wins tie-breaker for county seat

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Lady luck smiled on Northville School Board President James Petrie.

Petrie won a position on the five-member board of the Wayne County Regional Education Service Agency in an election held June 3. The agency is funded by federal, state and local taxes and serves as an intermediary between Wayne County school districts and the state board of education.

Wayne County has 34 school districts within its boundary, but only 32 sent representatives to cast their ballots in the county election Monday.

Challenger Petrie and incumbent Charles Akey of Canton each won 16 of the votes.

The tie was broken by a random drawing in accordance with the law, Petrie said.

"The pressure was on," he said. But Akey, a former Northville resident, drew the losing piece of paper. "It was an absolute cliff hanger," Petrie said.

Petrie was chosen by the Northville school board to serve as the district's elector. The board also gave its support to Petrie in the election, allowing Petrie to cast his vote for himself.

Petrie's term will begin July 1. Petrie will not seek re-election to Northville school board when his term ends on June 30.

Petrie credits his success in a campaign against an incumbent with his history in the county. He is a past president of the Wayne County Association of School Boards. Petrie also spent the last month visiting eight school boards in the county.

He said he won the votes of six of the eight districts he visited.

Northville Superintendent George Bell said Petrie's success will not only be a benefit to Northville.

"I think it's good for all of the local school districts to have somebody with eight years experience on a local board," Bell said.

Petrie's experience with strategic planning also will serve him well at the county level, Bell said.

"I think he will be a good board member. He was for us, and he will be for them."

JAMES PETRIE

Summer school programs scheduled in Northville

The Northville Public Schools present a summer school program for 1991 which will encompass many areas of learning.

Schools set to ponder budget

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

District administrators were ready with a budget proposal at a Monday school board meeting, held the night of a millage proposal.

Officials said they waited before bringing a budget proposal to the board because failure of the millage would have made a budget unnecessary. The millage passed by more than a two-to-one margin.

The $23,785,582 budget is based on the estimated revenue the district will receive. The budget is an 8.7-percent increase over last year.

Of the total revenue in the budget, nearly 95 percent comes from local property taxes.

As with the current school year, state "recaptures" of social security payments will cost the district about $850,000, up from recaptures of $100,000 a few years ago. Recapture refers to a situation where the state does not provide money to certain districts considered property wealthy by the state's funding formula for certain categories of a budget like social security payments or transportation.

Despite the expected cuts, the budget's fund balance will be $724,000, including $235,000 set aside this year.

The fund is intended to be used to get the district through times of financial crisis. Including the additions this year, the fund balance will be 3.5 percent of the budget.

The district's strategic plan requires the district attempt to increase the fund balance by 1 percent until it is at 5 percent of the total budget.

"That is progress compared to our $24,000 we had a few years ago," Superintendent George Bell said.

Director of Business and Finance John Street said working toward a 5-percent fund balance becomes more difficult as the budget increases each year.

The budget reflects percent changes in costs for specific line items from the current year.

Salaries increased by 8.5 percent, according to the budget. The rise in salaries includes increases in regular pay plus incremental step changes.

Because of recent growth, many teachers are newly hired and are not at the top of the pay scale. Besides receiving cost-of-living pay increases, they earn additional money for having spent an extra year in the district.

Other areas of the budget have increased 5 to 7 percent, except for benefits which have been raised by 10 percent.

Medical insurance is increasing faster than inflation, Street said.

Capital outlay is $75,000 of the budget with $25,000 each going to operations, transportation and curriculum.

Cutting capital outlay can be "extremely dangerous," said Vice President Jean Hansen.

Bell agreed.

"You don't want to let yourself get in the position where you've got a bus with 100,000 miles plus," Bell said.

A 1989 bond issue is still providing money for bus replacement and maintenance, Bell said.

City firefighters seeking funds for life-saving tool

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The Northville City Fire Department wants to add another device to its supply of life-saving tools.

But rather than ask the financially strapped city hall for the funds, the firefighters are taking their cause to the streets.

The department is kicking off a fund-raising drive to buy a Heartstart semi-automatic external defibrillator. The drive begins Saturday, June 15 between 9 a.m. - 3 p.m., with a car wash at the Fire Station at 215 W. Main St.

The department also plans to ask local businesses and organizations for donations, and include a donation request in residents' water bills.

A sign in front of the Fire Station will track the fund-raiser's progress. The $7,000 defibrillator is designed to shock the heart of a person in cardiac arrest, to re-establish a regular heartbeat.

The fire department funded the $10,000 purchase of Jaws of Life, a mechanical extricating device, through a similar fundraising drive several years ago.

Fire Chief Jim Allen said the Heartstart device will give the department a valuable tool during medical emergencies.

"We feel it's another life-saving piece of equipment," he said. "When we get to the scene we can save someone's life before the ambulance gets there."

The device is common among fire departments with first responder programs like the city's, he added. Heartstart units are already being used by the Northville Township and Novi fire departments.

Allen said several firefighters now with the Northville City fire department have used a defibrillator on patients when they worked with other fire departments.

"There are people who are still walking around today because they used a Heartstart," he said.

Firefighter John Kahler said the device is virtually foolproof, and uses a voice synthesis device to direct the operator.

"The machine analyzes the patient's heart rhythm and there are only two rhythms it will shock, ventricular tachycardia and ventricular fibrillation," he said. "If one of these two rhythms come up it will charge up and prompt the rescue personnel to shock the patient."

Fibrillation is a rapid, uncoordinated series of contractions of the heart muscle that cause weak and irregular heartbeats, while tachycardia is an abnormally fast heartbeat.

The machine will also give rescue personnel a valuable diagnostic tool, Kahler said.

"You'll be able to see the heart rhythm on the scene," he said. "Paramedics coming in behind us can look at the screen and see what the patient's heart is doing."

Firefighters will be trained on use of the machine by Emergency Education, Inc. of Westland. The company, which provides Emergency Medical Technician training to the city, is donating the Heartstart training to the department.

CAUSES OF TMJ SYNDROME

Many jaw problems are the result of a condition known as TMJ SYNDROME (temporomandibular joint syndrome). Symptoms include aches and pains in or near the joint (just in front of the ears), muscle spasms, headaches, stiff neck, and popping or clicking when opening and closing the mouth.

What causes this problem? In most cases it is a combination of two factors: a bad bite and stress. The bad bite may be caused by a high filling, a twisted or tilted tooth, a missing tooth, an unerupted or overerupted tooth, or a poor arrangement of several or all teeth when you close them together.

As the jaw deviates from a symmetrical arrangement, the muscles and ligaments on one side of the joint may be overly stretched, and they tend to compensate by contracting. A struggle is set up between the teeth and their desired closure position, and the ball-socket arrangement of the lower to upper jaw. This struggle may induce muscle spasm, leading to pain.

Official led drive for cityhood

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

John Canterbury, the former city council member who led the drive for a city manager form of government in Northville, died unexpectedly June 7 in Port Charlotte, Fla.

Canterbury, 74, had moved to Florida 13 years ago from Ada, Ohio, where he had lived since moving from Northville.

Canterbury was deeply involved in Northville politics as a city council member and mayor pro tem. He was an outspoken proponent of the city manager form of government, and served on the Citizens Committee on City Incorporation that led to Northville's incorporation in 1955.

He acted as a one-man search committee during the selection of Northville's first city manager, John Robertson, and also headed the committees that found the next two managers, Bruce Potthoff and Roger Rehberg.

Canterbury served on the city council from 1955 to 1967, and on the Northville Area Development Corporation from 1975 to 1977.

Former Mayor Mike Allen recalled his council tenure as an effective one: "He helped in a lot of projects. . . He helped acquire the property where the (Mill Race) historic village is. "He was a good citizen for the Northville community."

Canterbury is survived by his wife, Pauline; son John; daughter Emily; brother Robert; sister Jane Messmore; and a granddaughter named Hayley.

An executive director of supply staff for Ford Motor Co. before his re-irement in 1978, Canterbury oversaw inventory control for the auto giant's assembly plants.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Ada, Ohio, Elks Lodge, American Legion, National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors and Phi Mu Delta of Ohio University. He also served on the Board of Trustees for Ohio Northern University.

ESTHER CARTWRIGHT

Esther C. Cartwright, age 87, died June 8, 1991 at Windemere Care Center in West Bloomfield after a long illness.

She was born on Oct. 1, 1903 in Calumet to the late Herman Gustafson and Helmi Nyman. Mrs. Cartwright was a resident of Northville for 15 years prior to moving to West Bloomfield.

Mrs. Cartwright was a homemaker. She was preceded in death by her husband Harry Cartwright, who died on May 8, 1965.

Services for Mrs. Cartwright were held at the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home Tuesday, June 11, the Rev. Christopher Dodge from St. Matthews Lutheran Church of Walled Lake officiating. Interment was in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Surviving Mrs. Cartwright are three daughters, Louise Hyde of Saginaw, Delphine Raukar of West Bloomfield, Margaret Zingelman of Copemish; eight grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Elin Sauer of Novi and Minnie Heisten of Walled Lake.

Memorials to the Michigan Cancer

Foundation would be appreciated by the Cartwright family.

Arrangements were made by the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

JOSEPH HANANIA

Last Wednesday's fatal accident on Eight Mile Road claimed the life of a man familiar to the Northville/Novi community and his Livonia brother-in-law.

Yusuf Hanania of Novi, known to his friends and co-workers as Joe, served as Singh Development's Vice President of Management and Development for the past six years. His latest project was overseeing the leasing of MainCentre's 15 commercial and 74 apartment spaces in downtown Northville.

Singh Vice President Michael Kahn described Hanania's death as a tragic loss to the company and its employees. "Joe was responsible for leasing, managing and operating all of our residential, retail and office units — about 2,000 in all," he said. Hanania's position was a central one in the company, as he supervised a staff of about 30 employees.

The majority of the staff in our company worked for him because management is the most labor-intensive part of our company," Kahn said.

Kahn, who described Hanania as "a real smart guy and very dedicated to his job," said, "We're obviously not going to be able to fill his shoes for some time to come, if ever. . . He's going to be very, very sorely missed by us, both professionally and personally."

Hanania was a certified professional engineer and member of St. Mary Antiochian Orthodox Church in Livonia, the Michigan Builders Association and the Ramallah Club.

He had lived in Novi with his wife, Angela, for the past four years, after spending 11 years in Redford. His children, Andrea, Elise and Ibrahim, attend Northville schools in grades one through six, at Moraine Elementary and Cooke Middle School.

Hanania's brother-in-law, 44-year-old Albert Abdelnour of Livonia, is survived by his wife Laila and their children; Al, Tanya, Jeffrey and Teresa. Abdelnour owned Meadow Pharmacy in Farmington.

A funeral for the two men was held Saturday at St. Mary Antiochian Orthodox Church.

Mill Race Matters

July 4 is almost here. There's not much time left to sign up to become involved in the traditional Fourth of July at Mill Race Village. Non-profit groups who might wish to sell beverages, snacks, or other items should contact Tom Swigart at 328-2947 or Jan Juhasz at 420-0703. Craft demonstrators, musicians and other interested parties are also encouraged to become involved.

All members of the community are invited to join the Northville Historical Society after the parade until 5 p.m. and enjoy a traditional Fourth of July celebration. Bring your picnic lunch; enjoy the buildings, all of which will be open all day; watch craft demonstrations; listen to music of a bygone era; and share in the fun of this community. Temperance beverages only are encouraged. Also, due to the limited parking availability, guests are invited to partake of traditional foot travel or use the trolley from town (it plans to operate all day.)

The village reopened for the summer on Sunday, June 2. This year, all buildings will be open from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Come out any Sunday to enjoy a restful look at our past. There is no charge, but donations are always accepted.

The Northville Historical Society thanks William Wernett for his donation of two May 30, 1919 Decoration Day in Northville Celebration framed photographs.

Summer kids' programs begin

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Parents and kids have some long, summer days ahead, but Northville Community Recreation and the Northville Public Library want to make them full of fun.

● Recreation Department programs include a DAY CAMP AT MAYBURY STATE PARK, beginning June 17 with activities offered like fishing, crafts, sports, games, nature awareness and field trips filling the summer days for participants.

The program is for kids from 6-12 years old. The camp will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Four sessions costing $68 each will run this summer. Run by educators, the program has a 1-to-6 ratio of instructors to kids.

Field trips include a visit to Kensington Metro-park and a trip to the Northville High School pool. Other activities include a bicycle rodeo, a silkscreening day when kids will make shirts, and a goldfish eating contest where campers will eat goldfish crackers.

The day camp will also have theme days like a survival day when the emphasis will be on ecology. Campers need to bring a lunch and beverage every day and dress according to the weather. Inside activities are planned in case of rain.

Camp dates are June 17-28, July 8-19, July 22 to Aug. 2, and Aug. 5-16.

More information is available by calling or visiting Northville Community Recreation, 303 W. Main St., 349-0203.

● The Recreation Department is also sponsoring three trips this summer for kids beginning at age 9.

A trip to FOUR BEARS WATER PARK in Utica is offered for those 9 and older.

The trip costs $16 for Northville city and township residents and is scheduled for July 2. The cost includes transportation, admission and a hot dog lunch. Participants should bring a swimsuit and towel.

Adult supervision is provided, although participants will not be under constant watch by adults.

Registration is being accepted at the Recreation Department.

A trip to TIGER STADIUM is scheduled for July 13. Participants must be at least 10.

The cost is $19 for city and township residents, $21 for others living in the school district and $24 for all others. The cost includes transportation and tickets, participants should bring additional money for food.

Registrations will be accepted until July 12, or until all seats are sold. Seats are limited to 20 people.

The trip leaves from the Community Center at 11:45 a.m. and returns at 4:15 p.m.

Call the Recreation Department for more information.

A trip to BOBLO ISLAND AMUSEMENT PARK is scheduled for July 29. Participants must be 12 years old or older.

The fee is $25 and the trip is available for city and township residents only. The cost includes transportation, a boat ride and admission to the park.

Registration will be accepted until the 40 available spaces are filled. Adult supervisors will go on the trip.

Call the Recreation Department to register.

● The Northville Public Library also is anxious to help local kids fill their summer days.

Registration begins tomorrow, June 14, for the SUMMER READING PROGRAM.

The program, with a theme this year of "Read on the Wild Side," includes special materials for readers, puzzles, games, a scavenger hunt, prizes and programs every Wednesday afternoon.

Those not yet reading can enroll in a "Read to Me" program that requires kids to find someone to read them 10 books.

Those already reading will be challenged to read 10 or more books between June 14 and July 31. They will record the books' names and have their parents sign or initial a reading record.

Five books will bring a reader a sticker. Ten books will bring their reader a sticker and another prize. They will also receive a certificate to be awarded at the Final Fling Party held July 31.

July 29 is the deadline for having reading lists checked.

The Wednesday programs, called "Summer Safaris," include musical presentations by high school music teacher Mary Kay Pryce, story tellings by storyteller Ardith Laskowski and lessons on the wilderness.

Visit or call the library at 349-3020 for more information.

● The library also has a program for teens. COMPUTER PIX is designed for kids who have completed grade six.

Participants are given a book list after completing an interest survey.

Teens in the program may also compete in a guessing contest. The winner will receive a gift certificate to Harmony House.

The program began June 1 and runs to Aug. 15. Call the library for more details at 349-3020.

● AUTOMOTIVE HISTORIAN JAMES WAGNER will visit the library June 27 at 7 p.m. He will show visitors automotive innovations of the 1930s to 1950s through slides and discussion. Wagner wrote Ford Trucks Since 1905.

No word on investigation

If a decision has been reached on an investigation involving a Livonia police officer, Wayne County prosecutors are not revealing the results.

Repeated inquiries to the prosecutor's office concerning a brick-throwing incident in Northville Township in April have been fruitless to date.

Northville Township police investigated an incident involving Livonia police detective Sgt. James Prokes after Prokes, his wife, and a Sterling Heights building contractor reportedly engaged in a shouting match that escalated into a more damaging confrontation.

According to police reports, Prokes climbed atop the building contractor's 1989 Lincoln and threw a construction brick through the vehicle's windshield. The contractor reportedly had refused to move the vehicle from Prokes' driveway in front of his rented house on Sunbury. Damage to the Lincoln was estimated at $1,000.

Township police later said both parties refused to sign complaints, but the matter was passed on to the prosecutor's office for final determination.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Dan Less said on May 1 that his office was investigating the issue. He hinted then that lack of complainants probably meant that no charges would be filed.

Less has not returned numerous calls since that date.

Karate competition kicks in for Fourth bash

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The karate was fast and furious — and a financial windfall for this year's Fourth of July celebration. Northville resident Bob White and his local Okinawan Karate Club sponsored a competition at the Recreation Center Saturday to raise funds for Operation Welcome Home, the Fourth of July celebration being coordinated by the West Side Chapter of the Michigan Military Family Support Group.

The benefit raised an estimated $2,200-$2,500 for the Fourth, White said.

The entire celebration is estimated to cost $20,000, and the money will fund an expanded parade, a day's worth of entertainment and activities in and around downtown Northville, and a fireworks display near Northville High School.

A special ceremony will be held at either the Main Street bandshell or Northville Downs to honor military veterans and troops returning from the Persian Gulf.

More than 230 competitors attended Saturday's karate tournament, from as far away as Windsor and Ohio. An estimated 450 spectators witnessed the excitement between 10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Omnicom Cablevision even sent a film crew to cover the action.

"We had Super Tots all the way up to Seniors," said White's daughter Linnea, a karate expert herself. "We had kids as young as six years old there."

The oldest competitor, in the 35-and-over Seniors division, was in his 50s.

Many area businesses donated funds or services to the effort. Copy-Boy Print Centers of Northville provided the first batch of posters to promote the event, Fuentes Trophy of Allen Park donated the five Grand Champion trophies, and the Northville Jaycees and Northville Merchants' Association also gave to the cause.

Salvatore Scallopini, Universal Sights & Sounds, Phyllis Barber Styling, Bob Evans Restaurant, Jack's Meat Market and attorney James Harrington III, all of Novi, as well as McDaniel B. Gun Smith of South Lyon, the South Lyon Hotel and State Farm Insurance Agents of Northville also contributed to the effort.

For more information on the Fourth of July events, call Support Group Co-founder Ginny Hathorn at 348-0996 or Parade Chairperson Bob Cummings at 349-4528.

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SYNOPSIS MAY 6, 1991

Mayor Johnson called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order in the Council Room at 8:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL:
PRESENT: Mayor Christopher J. Johnson, Mayor Pro-Tem Carolann Ayers, Councilmen Paul F. Folino, G. Dewey Gardner, Jerome J. Mitman, arrived 8:05 p.m.

ABSENT: None
ALSO PRESENT: City Manager Steve Walters, City Clerk Cathy Konrad, Police Chief Rod Cannon, Assessor Mark Christensen, Public Works Superintendent Ted Mapes, Finance Director Bev Morrison, Bob Cummings, Mary DiPalo, Ginny Hathorn, Mr. Hubert, Keith Mannisto, and Northville Record Reporter Steve Kellman

3. APPROVAL OF COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES:
The minutes of the regular meeting of April 15, 1991; the special meetings of April 22, 1991, April 25, 1991, and April 29, 1991, and the executive sessions of April 23, 1991, and April 29, 1991, were approved as submitted and placed on file.

4. CITIZEN COMMENTS:
Carol Strauch, asked for an update in the acquisition of the Ford Plant.

5. ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA & APPROVAL OF THE CONSENT AGENDA:
Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the agenda as amended and the consent agenda A, through J.

6. FOURTH OF JULY PARADE & CELEBRATION:
Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to request the Michigan Military Family Support Group organize the parade and related activities; and approve use of the City "Welcome to Northville" signs to advertise the 4th of July celebration from June 20 through July 4, 1991; close Main Street from Center Street to Hudson Street between noon and 9:00 p.m. and Center Street from Cady Street to Dunlap Street between noon and 3:30 p.m.; use of the band shell and town square, fund raising activities and merchandising related to the 4th of July celebration; and fireworks subject to providing insurance certificate.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to appropriate $500.00 for the July 4 celebration (not limited to the parade), in accordance with Northville Township's contribution.

7. CALL PUBLIC HEARING TO AMEND MISCELLANEOUS LICENSE & FEES:
Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to call a public hearing for June 3, 1991, at 8:00 p.m. to hear public comment on amending Arcades Sec. 3-1103; Business Registration Sec. 3-102 & 3-105, Dogs Sec. 4-402 and 4-403, Dry Cleaners Sec. 3-704; Restaurants Sec. 3-404d, and Flammable Liquids Sec. 4-1405a.

8. 1991-92 CITY BUDGET REVIEW:
Walters noted the up-date (5/6/91) of pages 11y-111z, and reviewed same with Council. The revised budget is different from the budget hearing notice because of the reduction of DPW labor, due to refuse, from the Major Streets, Local Streets and Equipment Fund where the labor is distributed, the contribution of the Public Improvements Fund reduced to those funds and an increase in the General Fund. Walters will provide a description of the remaining funds, as well as the new Solid Waste Services Fund which will start now in July and has to be adopted, will have the same dollar figure as projected for the current service.

9. REFUSE SERVICE:
Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve participating with Northville Township in bid specifications and bid addendums incorporated into the bid document to provide alternative bids for a single contractor.

SPRINGFIELD DRIVE BARRICADE:
Mr. & Mrs. Hubert, 1025 Coldspring, objected to the barricade in sight of their property on Coldspring. The barricade has been an eyesore for two and a half years. He provided pictures for Council. They requested the barricade be improved.

Council will review and a specific time will be determined for removal of the barricade. In the meantime, the area will be cleaned up and the barrels painted one color. Chief Cannon was requested to contact the School District regarding whether this street would be used as a bus route in the Fall.

10A. CALL SPECIAL MEETING FOR TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES:
Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to call a special City Council meeting for Tuesday, May 28, 1991, at 6:00 p.m. to award the Tax Anticipation Note bid.

Mayor Johnson adjourned the regular meeting of Monday, May 6, 1991, at 9:20 p.m.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON—A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named product Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a prescription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced study are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 Postage & Handling for each request.

Geake idea for track shows glimmer of hope

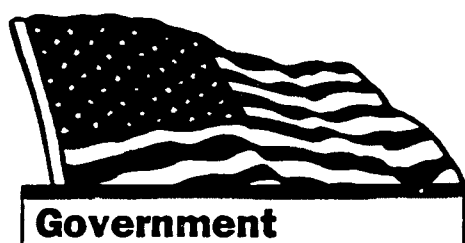

Northville city officials still hoping to get nearly $600,000 from Lansing probably felt their spirits sag last week when the governor opened up an empty wallet on television to symbolize the state's financial plight.

The issue — as it has been all year, and as it has been for several years — is returned money from state racetrack taxes. The state heavily taxes betting at horse-racing tracks like Northville Downs, and then returns part of the money to the cities which house the tracks. The reasoning is that the local cities must spend a great deal of extra money on the tracks for things like police and fire protection and refuse collection. The track's property taxes, high as they are, don't pay its freight as far as the city is concerned.

It makes sense to tax the tracks extra for their extra needs. In essence, the state has collected money for the cities and then passed it on to them, but the state has historically done a poor job of it. The arrangement is spelled out in a 34-year-old state law, but several times in the last decade the state has not paid fully what the law says it should pay.

This year things got far worse. Money was budgeted, then the budget was cut by 9.2 percent. Still the City of Northville was in line for close to $600,000. Northville is not a large city, and that's a great deal of money. But the check has not come, and it's not even in the mail.

All the signs from Lansing are negative. It's significant that the state insists on referring to returned racetrack money as "grants" or "subsidies," words which are loaded and inaccurate. In this fiscal climate it's easy to refuse writing a check for a grant or a subsidy. It's a little harder to justify withholding a debt payment or a reimbursement for services already rendered, which are more appropriate terms.

Government

It may be too much to hope that next year's state budget includes the racetrack money, even though the city is legally entitled to it. But this year's money is another matter. The city counted on it, and had every right and every reason to do so. Even a delay of this long has forced the city to sell a "tax anticipation note," to be repaid by forthcoming tax revenue, which must be paid off by October. We have said before in this space that a lawsuit against the state, an idea being considered by the city, may be in order.

Good news may be on the horizon. State Sen. R. Robert Geake — whose district includes Ladbroke DRC as well as Northville Downs — may have a long-term solution to the problem.

Geake's latest approach, after failing to get anywhere with logic and persuasion, is to return to the basics, in this case the state racing law which requires these payments. He hopes that the city can grab its share of the money before it ever goes to Lansing, by collecting a share of the bets or adding a surcharge somewhere.

We fully back the senator's efforts to find a creative solution to this budgetary problem, probably the most serious issue facing the city. This may well prove to be the way to avoid playing financial shell games with the state in the future.

But as far as this year's revenues are concerned, legal action may remain the only alternative.

Arts another service to share?

Lately I've written a lot about recent success and heightened activity in Northville's arts community, on several different levels — professional, amateur and strictly appreciative.

Funding for the arts has not been the issue in Northville that it has been in Lansing. But it does take public money to accomplish what's being done locally, and it's worthwhile to think about that for a moment.

The Northville Arts Commission for years has led the major arts undertakings in the community. Most people, I think, know of the commission; far fewer probably know exactly what it is.

The commission is a unit of city government, and it gets its own little slice of the city budget pie. In the fiscal year which ends in two weeks, that slice totaled about $7,600, according to the city budget. Next year's budget includes that same figure.

The newly formed Friends of the Arts, although organized by the Arts Commission, will become a completely separate entity. It is not a unit of government, and it has its own treasury and the power to spend its own money. There is a little seed money already in place, but projects, fund-raisers and individual dues will probably bring in most of the new group's operating capital. Perhaps corporate sponsorships may even pay for some of the Friends' activities.

Personally, in spite of its budget trouble, I hope the city council can continue to reasonably fund the Arts Commission. Public support for activities like the Friday concert series is a worthwhile commitment to make, especially when the public expense is relatively small.

But to me it doesn't seem right for the city to fund the Arts Commission by itself. I wonder if this isn't another appropriate arena for the city and township to share services.

In one sense, paying for public arts is exactly the kind of thing townships aren't supposed to do. They're organized to be more bare-bones government than cities, providing fewer services and charging lower taxes.

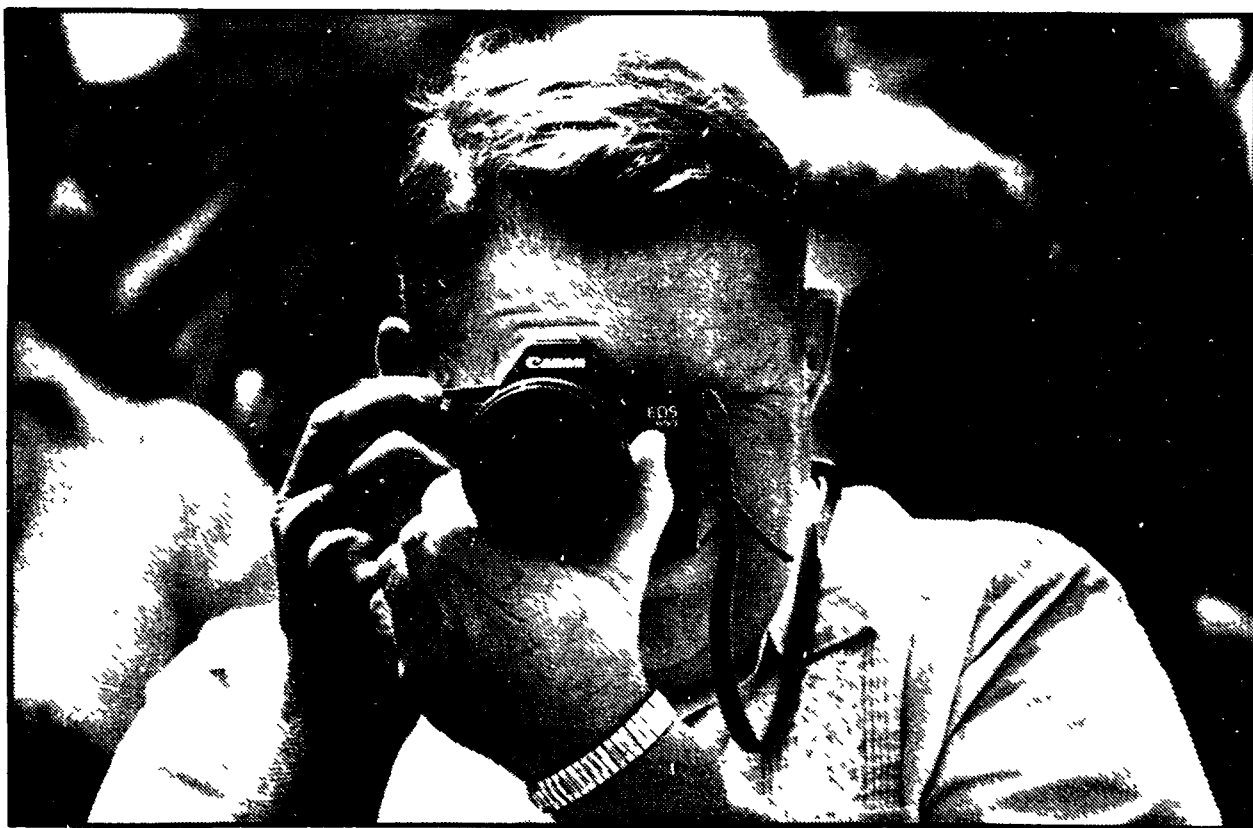

In Northville, however, the precedent is already in place with the library and the Recreation Department. Arts are not far different from those services, and a joint city/township arts commission could form, and be funded, in the same manner. The time may be right, since we seem to be in a climate of increasingly shared services — or at least a willingness to talk about them, in areas like police dispatching and trash collection.

Besides, the services provided by the Arts Commission already are largely shared by the two communities. It's just the funding and the governmental oversight that isn't.

This is the last (for now) of several columns about the arts in Northville.

New team highlights the good

You've heard the rap — "News-papers only publish stories about the bad things kids do . . . they never write about the good things."

I'm sensitive to that criticism, but I also believe it's unjustified, at least as far as The Northville Record is concerned.

The truth of the matter is that I think we do a pretty respectable job of recognizing the positive achievements of the young people in this community. Virtually every edition contains at least a handful of stories chronicling the successes of our young people.

There is one area, however, where I believe we have been remiss. Fortunately, it's a shortcoming which I think we have resolved this week.

What I'm talking about is our all-area teams. We've got tons of 'em . . . all-area teams for football, basketball, softball — several of the high school sports.

But it has always struck me as being something of a shortcoming to have all-area teams for everything except academics. And so, this week, on the front page of the Our Town section, you will find our first-ever HomeTown Newspapers' All-Area Academic Team.

An all-area academic team may be new to us, but it's not a new concept. Several other papers do them as well, so it only took a couple of phone calls to find out how to select the team members.

The method of selection is entirely mathematical. There are two parts to the formula — half the score is determined by the student's grade point average; the other half is based on his or her performance on either the SAT or ACT.

The numbers are tabulated; the team is selected. There are no extra points for being captain of the basketball team or having the lead in the school play. Members are selected strictly on the basis of academic performance.

In selecting our own all-area academic team, we invited the five high schools in HomeTown Newspapers' East Division (Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Milford and Lakeland) to nominate five graduating seniors.

The ground rules were that each school is guaranteed at least one member of the team, and that nominees who do not make the all-academic team will receive honorable mention recognition.

And that's pretty much it.

Frankly, we're very proud to have initiated the all-area academic team concept in The Record this year. We hope you like it, too.

Further, we hope to make it an annual feature, selecting an all-academic team each year from now on to focus attention on the importance of education and to recognize the achievements of the bright, intelligent graduating seniors in Northville, Novi and neighboring communities.

We would like to thank the principals of all the participating high schools for their cooperation in helping us select this team.

We congratulate the outstanding men and women who are the inaugural members of our very first All-Area Academic Team.

And we encourage you to turn to the Our Town section to read about their accomplishments.

We think you'll be as impressed as we are.

Schools need different approach

To the editor:

As I am aware that this may not be printed in The Northville Record in time to change any votes about the millage, I still feel an urgency to be frank about the millage vote this year and in years to come in hopes that we can wade through all the politics and understand financial dealings clearly.

While some know of my stand against the Michigan Model curriculum and our board's political attempt to suppress anyone challenging their choices for our children's education, I have restrained myself in resorting to the unprofessional tactics used by our board, prompted by our administration to discredit parents that question them. These same tactics are being leveled against CBN during the millage battle.

How is it that everyone else's integrity is questionable but George Bell and his entourage are always on the up and up? I see George Bell wheeling and dealing the public through such political mumble jumble again, that it is very clear what he is trying to gain our tax dollars for. It's time we all "woke up and smelled the politics," and believe me, it stinks! The mills going to administration in proportion to all the other needs of the school district is way out of line, and to assume that Northville residents, of primarily professional background, are so naive as to believe millage dollars really go to our children's schools is an insult to our intelligence. Even the threat of closing the schools if George Bell doesn't get his money (our money) is a threat George doesn't have the power to carry out.

If we continue to allow poor administrators our money to treat symptoms rather than diagnose a cure, we will continue to scramble for quick fixes each and every year.

In attending one of the superintendent search meetings (another waste of tax dollars) all I heard was a push for another George Bell; someone who could convince a child to give him their sucker so gracefully that we'd offer to pay him the candy store. What is going on? Maybe I'm too innocent to witness such blatant politics, but where's the justice here?

Since everyone in authority is more concerned with scratching each others' back, I challenge the public to take a stand. Write your representatives — it really does work — as local control is non-existent. Or maybe it's time to remove our children from the public school system as in Europe. Any community that operates on an "all or nothing" theory doesn't understand negotiation, compromise, or even problem solving tactics, therefore becoming the problem.

Karen Lemieux

School millage deserves support of the voters

Editor's note: The above letter and the following letter were received too late to include before the election.

To the editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to ask the citizens of the Northville Public School District for a yes vote on the upcoming June 10, 1991, millage election.

This millage is a renewal millage only and is necessary to continue the exemplary program of the Northville Public Schools. The school district has worked hard to maintain high standards for students and continues to offer the best program possible for kids in Northville. Northville High School has been recognized as an Exemplary Secondary School by the state of Michigan, the middle schools have been recognized for excellence on a state and national level. The elementary schools have been recognized as centers of excellence by the National Council of Teachers of English. In addition to having the highest science scores in the state on the 1989 and 1990 MEAP tests.

I ask you to renew the current millage rate of 22.63 mills for one year to continue the exemplary program of the Northville Public Schools. I am proud of the record of our school system.

State Sen. Robert Geake

Always plan on a primary vote in August

To the editor:

It is unfortunate that The Northville Record felt it necessary to remove an important sentence from my letter published last Thursday without first consulting me regarding its accuracy. This was done even though The Record was furnished with both my work and home telephone numbers. I was notified of the alteration by a third party, after The Record's press deadline.

The omitted sentence, referring to Dr. George Bell, read, "He knew, long ago, that you could count on a primary election in August." Apparently, The Record was concerned because Dr. Bell claimed he was unaware of an August primary until he heard of it in The Record. Having been a citizen of this great nation for little more than four years now, even I know that more often than not, you can count on having a primary election in August. Dr. Bell has been playing politics long enough to know the same.

To set The Northville Record editorial staff at ease for next year's millage campaign, and as an open

COUNT ON A PRIMARY ELECTION IN AUGUST 1992.

That said, in the spring of 1992 there will be no reason for the Northville School District to once again hold our children hostage with the threat of schools not opening in September. Having just received 11 months notice, they should be able to schedule an election which will allow for a second vote, if necessary, before the August 1992 primary.

Veterans thank community for Memorial Day

To the editor:

On behalf of the American Legion No. 147, Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 4012 and their auxiliaries, we wish to thank the community of Northville for joining us in honoring the memory of our departed comrades on this most recent Memorial Day. We wish to thank all of you for your support.

To all participants, it was an honor to have your enthusiasm and help. We were happy to have Tony Belanger, Marty Sommers, Casey Lada, Dick O'Hare and Jim Phillips as our grand marshals, Merle Hoag as master of ceremonies, Betty Flanders, Alicia Holbrook and Jerry Mahammad, Mike Rumble and the Northville High School band, Knights Templar, Salvation Army, community leaders, law officers, veterans organizations from other communities, wreath carriers, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub and Boy Scouts, Bob Hock and Jerry Olson for putting up the flags around town, Bob Hock and Laura Faulkner for planting flowers in the cemeteries and Omnicom for filming the parade and ceremonies.

Again, a special thank-you to Mr. Ray Casterline for providing ice cream for all and to Guernsey Dairy for distributing it.

We would also like to thank the entire staff of The Northville Record for the coverage of our parade and memorial remembrances.

Jerome's column makes light of a very serious issue

To the editor:

I normally enjoy Phil Jerome's column in the Monday edition of the Record, but he really blew it in his recent column of June 4. I am referring to his use of the term "wo-manizing" in conjunction with the recent rape allegations against a Kennedy family member in Palm Beach. I consider it an insult to rape victims and their families to trivialize rape allegations as "womanizing." Rape is a serious crime of violence, NOT sexual passion, and his use of the phrase helps to perpetuate old stereotypes about this type of assault and battery. The Kennedys' "womanizing" has led to a woman's death in Chappaquiddick and now this allegation of rape in Florida.

I am disappointed that a journalist of Mr. Jerome's experience and caliber could show such blatant insensitivity.

Fire department goes above and beyond the call

To the editor:

This letter may be late in coming, but is nonetheless sincere. At 2:30 a.m. on April 8th, our home was nearly completely destroyed by fire. It is currently being almost totally reconstructed which brings me to the point. If it had not been for the professional and caring attitude of the volunteer fire department of Northville Township, my loss would have been much greater.

After the fire was extinguished, I thought their job was over, but much to my relief, these exhausted men took time to take out of harms way every picture and breakable accent piece I had, and put the rest together and covered them with tarps to ensure that more damage was not done to my belongings. A short time later, my entire living room ceiling collapsed, but very little was ruined thanks to their efforts.

I have already expressed my sincere thanks to the chief, but I thought the residents of Northville Township should be aware of the dedication of their volunteer fire department.

We can learn from political truths

"There is great disorder under Heaven. The situation is excellent."

So said Mao Tse-tung, contemplating China's breakdown and looking forward to building anew out of the ruins. Generations have learned this political truth: Things have to get pretty bad before anything serious can be done.

The same in Michigan: Even after contentious budget cuts, the state faces a deficit of $300 million to $664 million, depending on whose numbers you pick.

There is a political breakdown. Republican Gov. John Engler waves an empty wallet, saying Michigan is out of cash. House Democrats sue, claiming he violated the state constitution, and they may win in court.

So partisan is the debate that both sides are exerting every effort to set up the other for blame when disaster hits.

Disaster is near. Payments to schools, universities and cities are late, and future ones are in doubt. A repetition of the payless paydays of the 1950s is possible.

The governor and Legislature are so preoccupied with partisan advantage that there is no hope they will do much more than fuss at the edges of the problem.

That brings us to another old truth of political philosophy: The American political system of separated powers is magnificent at accommodating contending pressures at the margins, but usually hopeless at doing anything significant unless facing a catastrophe.

When that happens, the political system tosses the problem to another institution, usually the courts. Two examples:

- For generations, legalized segregation was the shame of America. The political system was unable (unwilling) to do anything. It took the U.S. Supreme Court to declare segregation illegal and set the country on the remedial path.

- Abortion couldn't be handled by political devices. Legislatures pass laws; governors veto them; politicians fume. The problem can only be resolved by the Supreme Court ruling one way or the other.

Is there a way out of Michigan's grave financial problems? I believe there is.

Read these words: "Leaders in both the Executive and Legislative Branches of Michigan state government recognized that further steps would have to be taken to cope with the serious economic problems of state government brought on by the forces of inflation, unemployment and recession."

Sound like today? These words were written in 1975. They led to the creation of the Michigan Efficiency Task Force, a nonpartisan group of our most distinguished and able citizens. They were to examine the workings of state government and recommend ways to reduce waste and expense and increase efficiency.

Chaired by retiring General Motors vice president Oscar Lundin and including people like Alan Schwartz, Martha Griffiths and Doug Fraser, the task force analyzed more than a year. Of its recommendations, 155 were adopted. Total benefits: more than $155 million each year and serious streamlining of state government.

I believe the time has come for both the governor and Legislature to jointly convene a similar task force. Only in this way can the best minds of our state come together in a nonpartisan atmosphere to resolve the significant problems of structure and finance of our state government.

"The very spring and root of honesty and virtue lie in good education."
- PLUTARCH

For years we have been honoring the area's top athletes with our various all-area athletic teams (football, basketball, soccer, etc.).

This year we add another dimension to our focus on the achievements of local young people by turning our attention to those students who excel in the class room.

As you read on you will be introduced to the 10 graduating seniors who comprise our first-ever HomeTown East All-Area Academic team.

Five local high schools (Lakeland, Milford, Northville, Novi and South Lyon) were asked to nominate five students for the team. The 10 members of the team were selected strictly on the basis of a mathematical formula which incorporates grade-point-average and national test scores. Nominees who did not finish in the top 10 have been selected to receive honorable mention recognition.

It's a very impressive group of young people. We hope you like our newest "all-area" team and enjoy reading about the individuals on the HomeTown East All-Area Academic team

CHRISTOPHER DOMKE

South Lyon High School

Christopher Domke maintained a perfect 4.0 grade point average during his South Lyon High School career. The son of Harold and Joyce Domke is a co-valedictorian, and has been active in the National Honor Society, wrestling, Spanish Club, Science Olympiad, Academic Games Club and the Computer Club.

Domke plans to attend the University of Michigan in the fall to study chemical engineering. He ultimately hopes to work as a chemical engineer for Dow Chemical or Upjohn.

Domke said the South Lyon teachers have most influenced his academic career by always expressing confidence in him.

He recently received two academic scholarships: an IIT College Scholarship and the U-of-M Groesbeck Engineering Award. He is also working at Cattails Golf Course this summer to earn extra money for college expenses and keeping busy playing softball in the South Lyon Men's Competitive League.

KEELY HARRIS

Novi High School

Keely Harris had her choice of schools.

A class valedictorian, she received scholarships from Michigan State University and Indiana University.

The daughter of Rod and Nina Harris, she plans to accept the scholarship from Michigan State and double major in psychology and English in the MSU honors college.

Harris spent much of her time in high school in music-related activities. She has been involved in school musical productions, the marching band, the color guard and the symphony band.

Harris said her parents have had the most influence on her academic career by encouraging her to do her best. She said they were successful with their encouragement.

"I've always tried to do my very best at everything — not worrying about the actual grade, but what I was learning," she said.

MICHAEL HAYDEN

Northville High School

Michael Hayden thanks his father for pushing him to "go the distance" and make the most of his Northville High School education.

That education has brought him membership in the National Honor Society, the honor of being a class salutatorian and big plans for the future.

The son of William and Nancy Hayden, he plans to get a bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Michigan.

Although he has not yet started college, he already knows he wants to attend Cornell University to get a master's degree and possibly Harvard University for a master's degree in business administration.

Hayden said reading as well as his father, has helped him academically.

He said that "reading a lot and trying to actually think about things" are what has helped him succeed. "I don't just memorize things, but I actually think about them."

DEREK HOGLAND

South Lyon High School

Derek Hogland earned a perfect 4.0 grade point average to share valedictory honors at South Lyon High School this year.

The son of Keith and Joanne Hogland, he plans to attend the University of Michigan in the fall to study business and engineering. His career goal is to become part of the management team for a high-tech company.

A member of the National Honor Society, Hogland has participated in a wide variety of extracurricular activities: Boy Scouts of America, Youth Ministry at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Model United Nations, Academic Games Team, Science Olympiad Team, Math Team and Speech Club. He also earned a varsity letter in golf and a junior varsity award in baseball.

Hogland credits his parents as being the biggest influence in his academic career. "They have stressed the importance of education and encouraged me to do my best," he explained. "I wasn't pressured, but I knew going to college and getting good grades was important to them."

KRISTA LANGE

Lakeland High School

The daughter of Elroy and Beverly Lange of White Lake, Krista Lange is a co-valedictorian at Lakeland High School and a 4.0 student.

She has been active in the Color Guard, National Honor Society, Symphonic Band, Science Club and Writers Club. She also served as captain of the Winter Guard and treasurer of her church youth group. Lange's academic honors include honor roll, Student Activity Award, 100 Percent Math MEAP Award, National Merit Finalist and Phi Beta Kappa Award.

Lange plans to attend the University of Michigan in the fall and major in electrical engineering and music. She said she will probably try to obtain a job as an electrical engineer with a major company.

"I didn't want to give up either," said Lange. "I'm not sure how I will use the two degrees yet."

Lange credits her parents with helping her achieve her goals. "My parents have influenced me most by never letting me settle for anything less than my best," she said.

CHERYL MITTMAN

Northville High School

Cheryl Mittman plans to take her Northville education to Duke University next fall. She plans to major in engineering, but has not decided what career path she will follow. She is the daughter of Jerome and Teresa Mittman.

While at Northville, Mittman was a member of the National Honor Society, as well as the track and cross country teams.

She said teacher Nancy Brown most influenced her academic career, asserting that Brown was the first teacher to challenge her.

It did not, however, take a teacher's influence to convince her to do her best.

"It just never occurred to me to do anything but my very best," Mittman said. "What's the point of doing something if you're not going to do your best?"

KEVIN MITZEL

Novi High School

The road to college already is paved for Novi High School valedictorian Kevin Mitzel, the son of Raymond and Linda Mitzel.

Mitzel has earned a full-tuition scholarship to Washington University in St. Louis. He plans to major in electrical engineering and possibly physics, earning bachelor's and master's degrees to prepare for a career in research and development.

Mitzel recently won $500 for having the highest score in southeast Michigan in the American Chemical Society's Chemistry Olympiad. Last year, he won $500 when he finished second in the competition.

Although he is class valedictorian, Mitzel said he avoids comparing himself to other Novi students.

"All the way through school, I haven't compared myself to others," he said. "I've worked toward my own goals. I've just set my own standards and tried to follow them."

THEO MORENO

Milford High School

Milford High School senior Theo Moreno plans to study engineering at the University of Michigan.

The son of Juan Moreno and Carol Schramm, Moreno is the youngest of four children. The decision to attend Michigan is based on tradition. His parents, several uncles and sister, Anna, are Michigan graduates.

Moreno recently was awarded a four-year tuition scholarship from Michigan. He had a 3.571 grade point average.

Moreno is also considering obtaining a doctorate degree in nuclear energy from Michigan. "First of all I want to make money," he said. "But I also want to do something for society."

Moreno said he would like to work as a nuclear engineer for the United States government or a utility company.

SHIRLEY NAGY

Northville High School

Sibling rivalry was not uncommon between Shirley Nagy and her brother Steve, but her brother's departure for college last year taught the Northville High School valedictorian a thing or two about life.

When he left for college, she was afraid their bond would weaken. Instead, she found a learning experience in the separation.

"Do not upset yourself with sad good-byes and loneliness, but anxiously await your reunions," she wrote on a college application.

The daughter of George and Marilyn Nagy, she will attend the University of Notre Dame this fall and hopes eventually to obtain a master's degree in business administration that will lead to a career in business.

She credits her academic success to her activities outside of school.

"I'm involved in a lot of after-school activities and I also work, so I've had to learn to budget my time," she said. "Being involved in so much forces you to be organized, which has led to good grades."

STACEY SEGOWSKI

Northville High School

Stacey Segowski said her parents, Edward and Dorothy Segowski, never pressured her to bring home straight-A report cards, but they have supported her.

"I've always believed in myself, and so has my family," she said. "They've always been very supportive."

Segowski plans to major in civil engineering and minor in art at the University of Michigan.

She eventually may work toward a master's degree in architecture that she hopes will lead to a job at an architectural firm or car company.

She may even own her own company if everything goes as planned.

A Northville High School salutatorian, Segowski is vice president of the student congress and is involved in basketball, track, drama and art.

She also works after school and keeps statistics for the boys basketball team.

In Our Town

John Genitti is 44 years old

John Genitti of the famed Genitti's restaurant in downtown Northville celebrated his 44th birthday Monday, June 10 by attending Race Day at the Detroit Yacht Club. Word has it he blew out all 44 candles on his cake.

Other birthdays at Genitti's: Babe Vermiglio, Toni Genitti's mom, celebrates her birthday June 18. Genitti's employee Cathy McLeod celebrates hers June 23.

Another employee there, Kathy Toy, is leaving to spend more quality time with her family.

How do we know these things? We'll never tell.

Rummage Sale

Holy Cross Episcopal Church in Novi will feature its first-ever rummage sale on Saturday, June 15 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The event will feature a variety of goods to appeal to rummage sale aficionados. In addition, such fund-raising efforts go a long way toward keeping the church a success.

Used Book Sales

Plans for a used book sale by the Friends of the Northville Public Library have been changed and a new date set for the popular fund-raiser to benefit the library.

The new date is Saturday, Aug. 3, when the sale will be held in conjunction with the annual Summer Sidewalk Sale.

Because an insufficient number of books have been contributed to offer a large selection, it was decided by the Friends board to move the date to late summer.

Contributions are still needed of all kinds of books with the exception of textbooks for grades K-12, encyclopedias more than 10 years old and Readers Digest Condensed Books.

Contrary to past policy, picture magazines are now welcome, including National Geographic.

Used book sales were discontinued 18 months ago because a storage and sorting place in Cooke School was no longer available. A new place was found in January and the Friends expect to resume their former pattern of three or four sales a year.

Garden Club

The Northville and Country Girls branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association were hosts to garden clubs from all over the country last month. The clubs converged on Northville for a tour of Mill Race Village and downtown Northville, followed by dinner at Meadowbrook Country Club. Pictured above is Phyllis Slattery, organizer of the event.

NHS ends a busy academic year

As the week of final exams comes to a close, so does an exciting school year. A lot of growth and changes took place this year. We would like to wish the seniors the best of luck as they proceed on their journey in life. May all of your challenges be met with success.

We would like to wish the same success to Mr. David Bolitho, a man who has made a wonderful difference in our school. His dedication, enthusiasm, and his capacity to command respect helped to make NHS what it is today. We are glad you are not going too far, Mr. Bolitho. Best of luck.

Congratulations to the following students, who did a great job at the Wayne County Writing Contest.

Senior High Essay: second place, Stephanie Shimpf; third place, Jeff Pheley; certificate of merit, Justin Ord, Wendy Simpson.

Junior High Poetry: certificate of merit, Jennifer Pollock.

A great job was also done by our terrific Special Olympics team. Congratulations to the following students:

Danielle Danielson: first place gold medal in 50 meters and 1st place gold medal in softball throw.

David Carpenter: third place bronze medal in 50 meters and second place silver medal in standing long jump.

Christopher Brandon: fourth place ribbon in 50 meters and second place medal in softball throw.

The boys' varsity track team won its first Western Division championship.

Lawrence Technological University Mathematics Competition Honorable Mention winner from Northville High School was Vinay Mohta.

We would like to wish our Northville family a safe and happy summer — Helen Ghanoun

The future bridegroom graduated from Northville High School in 1980 and is presently employed by BRW Engineering as a Sales Representative.

Volunteer

VPO helps others straighten out

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

As a Volunteer Probation Officer (VPO), James C. Cutler, Realtor, counsels eight to 10 probationers the first Monday of each month in his office.

The Probation Department of the 35th District Court, for which he volunteers, he said, "has allowed me to have them come here to my office."

They are men and women aged 25 to 70 — and some juveniles — who have been arrested on a variety of charges not serious enough to warrant their being sent to jail. "But if they violate their probation," Cutler said, "they can be sent to jail."

The charges can be for things like petty theft, indecent exposure, or driving under the influence of liquor.

Cutler meets with each probationer for 15 minutes to a half-hour once a month. "I try to counsel them," he said, "help them straighten out their problem — to keep them on the straight and narrow."

Also, each probationer pays Cutler the court costs — "not in cash, but by check," he said. And he turns the check over to the 35th District Court, along with a written report on the offender.

But just meeting with probationers one day a month isn't all there is to being a Volunteer Probation Officer, Cutler said.

There are initial training lectures to attend — three to four hours in two or three sessions — and after that there is continual ongoing training, which is compulsory.

There are changes in court procedures, he explained, "and you have to keep up with the current level." Also, "if you don't keep training, you forget things you need to know."

It takes time, being a VPO, but it's worth it, Cutler said, "I get a satisfaction out of helping, and I'm giving something back to the city."

Interested? Call the Probation Department of the 35th District Court at 459-4749.

Schoolcraft offers employment reentry training

Schoolcraft College's Women's Resource Center is offering a Displaced Homemaker Program funded through grants from the departments of Education and Labor.

Project HERS (Homemaker's Employment Reentry System) offers career interest assessment, assertiveness training, resume writing and interview techniques.

Displaced homemakers are people who have worked in the home most of their lives and who have lost their source of income due to death, disability, desertion, divorce or separation from the person on whom they have been dependent.

Financial aid is available to cover the cost of tuition for those who are on public assistance, displaced homemakers, homemakers or single parents who lack adequate job skills as well as recent, skilled, full-time work experience.

Project HERS meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m. For more information on registration and financial assistance, call 462-4443 to arrange an appointment.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Rd., in Livonia.

Towns, villages, cities, townships

Town, village, city and township: what's the difference and how did they come about?

Townships have existed in Michigan for over 200 years. As the state's first form of government, townships were originally run by appointed officials who were eventually elected to their positions.

A township is a political organization which encloses a group of towns and villages, along with the countryside that surrounds them, performing the functions of local government. Villages may be a part of a township, but cities may not. According to "A Manual for Township Government," neither a city nor a township may have the authority to govern one another.

A township can cover an area of just a few acres or a dozen or more miles in each direction.

By the mid-1950s, Novi Township included only the towns of Novi and Wixom. Then, when the unincorporated community of Wixom moved up in the municipal hierarchy by incorporating as a village, Novi followed suit shortly after and also became a village. The Village of Novi eventually swallowed up all of Novi Township's 36 square miles — except for one lone subdivision.

Brookland Farms Subdivision, located near Novi Road between Nine Mile and Ten Mile roads, with a population of 150 people, makes up all of today's Novi Township. At the time of Novi's incorporation, this section chose to remain among the smaller townships in the state. The population, though low in numbers, has remained constant for more than 10 years. Novi attained city status in 1969, but the township has remained intact.

On the other hand, Northville Township is considerably larger in both area and population than the incorporated city. Originally part of Plymouth Township, Northville was joined with the towns of Plymouth and Canton from 1827 through 1834. That year, Canton broke away from the group to form its own township.

By 1867, in opposite corners of Plymouth Township, two tiny town centers had incorporated as villages, Plymouth in the south and, appropriately, Northville in the north.

Resentment between the two villages eventually gave rise to a movement to split the township, and by 1898 the two communities were officially divided.

Northville became a city in 1955. Unlike Novi, Northville's village government had been established long before Northville Township even existed, and voters chose to keep the new city boundaries the same as those of the earlier village.

Later annexation of Novi Township property, north of Base Line Road, increased the City of Northville's boundaries.

It's been a long time since the heated debates and jealous rivalries of nearby communities, and Northville and Novi — both cities and townships — continue to co-exist in neighborly synchronization.

Hunt completes U of M Law School studies

KATHLEEN D. HUNT has just completed her third year at the University of Michigan Law School, where she has earned a Juris Doctor degree. She plans to take the Michigan Bar Exam in July.

In the fall, she will begin a one-year clerkship for the U.S. Court of Appeals, Judge Ralph Guy of the 6th Circuit. Her office will be in Ann Arbor.

Kathleen and her husband, Jarvis Hunt, have lived in Northville's historic district since 1987.

MICHAEL HARMON, a Northville resident, was named to the dean's list at Lawrence Institute of Technology for the winter term 1990-91 school year. This requires a minimum 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

The following Northville residents received degrees during recent University of Michigan commencement exercises:

KRISTINE AJROUCH, SUZANNE AUSTIN, ROBERT BARNES, RICHARD BELANGER, KENNETH BOOTH, DANIEL BOYLE, CHARLES BULLOCK, RICHARD CADICAMO, JANE CASSADY, ALAN CATALLO, ELLEN CLARK, MARNE CUNDIFF, EDWIN ELLIOTT, KATHLEEN FAGAN, NICOLE FALSETTI, JANICE GALL, CHRISTINA GEYER, WILLIAM HARVET, LAURA HEPLER, DENISE HESS, ROBERT ISOM, VERONICA KALAS, CAROLYN KLEY, JEFFREY KOPPY, SUZANNE LA CHANCE, ERIKA MUIR, JANET NEYER, CAROL

OLSEN, GREGORY OLSON, STEPHANIE PAPPAS, CLAUDIA PAQUETTE, CHRISTINA RODRIGUEZ, PATRICIA SCHWARTZ, GREGORY STOECKEL, LYNN TAYLOR, JOAN WADSWORTH, TEREZA WEN, ERIC WHEATLEY.

Among the record number of 949 degree recipients participating in Grand Valley State University's (GVSU) recent commencement ceremony, many were placed on the dean's list for the Winter Semester.

Among those honored were KIMBERLEY MACDONALD, RONALD MCDONALD and LORI OSBORNE of Northville. To be placed on the GVSU dean's list, a student must maintain at least a 3.5 grade average while enrolled in a minimum of 12 credits.

More than 4,600 Purdue University students were awarded degrees during commencement ceremonies conducted recently at the West Lafayette campus.

Among those graduates were RICHARD LOREN RUTSON and THOMAS EDWARD URBAN, both of Northville.

Nearly 13 percent of the undergraduates at Purdue University made its distinguished student list for the 1991 spring semester.

On the list was Anne Merriman Griffith of Northville.

Among those receiving degrees at Michigan State University's spring

Nancy Joslin makes movies. She may never win an Oscar, but she might be rookie of the year.

In her two years as a student in The University of Michigan master's degree program in communication and film, the 1980 Northville High School graduate has wasted no time in racking up awards.

Last year alone, Joslin garnered the Christopher College Video Award, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences' John H. Mitchell Production Management Intern appointment, and the Mickey Luckoff Scholarship for management careers in electronic journalism. The $650 Luckoff award was instituted in 1986 by Luckoff, a U-M graduate with a long executive career in broadcast management. Mitchell was also a U-M graduate.

This year, Joslin was named best local filmmaker and her experimental film "Date" won the Marvin Felheim award at the Ann Arbor Film Festival.

Joslin, who received her U-M degree in May, had no experience in communication production before enrolling in the master's degree program. After earning a bachelor's degree in business from the U-M, she worked as an assistant buyer for the May Co. and as a manager for the U-M Career Planning and Placement service.

Joslin suggests that being a novice had its advantages. "If you know you know nothing," she says, "sometimes you are in a better position, because it makes you work harder to learn everything right."

One of Joslin's first productions, "Art and Aging: Better Living Through Drama and Poetry," won the Christopher award for expressing the theme "one person can make a difference." The four-minute documentary was shot on location at two retirement centers, Gilbert Residence in Ypsilanti and Glacier Hills in Ann Arbor, and shows a social worker using art to make a difference in residents' lives.

Joslin discovered that producing not only requires management and creativity skills, but also necessitates grappling with ethical issues concerning what to show and how to do it. During filming of "Art and Aging," Joslin says, some residents began to cry. At such moments she had to decide whether it was appropriate to share the person's emotional feelings with the public.

"Some very ill patients were moved to tears; it wasn't right to show it," Joslin says. "I decided they were personal moments and shouldn't be shared with the world."

Last summer she learned firsthand how the experts work at NBC studios in Burbank, Calif., when she was one of 28 John H. Mitchell production interns selected from 440 applicants.

While working on such shows as "Fresh Prince of Bel Air" and Danielle Steele's "Fine Things," a made-for-TV movie, Joslin found herself rehearsing lines with actors, keeping track of time sheets and arranging scenes for filming. Actively contributing to televised shows, on less than a year's experience, was eye-opening for Joslin. "I was overwhelmed," she says. "At the same time, the people were very nice, very creative, very funny and very committed."

Rubbing elbows with the likes of Quincy Jones, Cloris Leachman and Michele Lee and assisting production professionals in action taught Joslin a lot, especially the importance of networking. "The two most important things were making contacts and reaffirming this is what I want to do."

Eventually, Joslin says, she wants to produce television shows. Specifically, she is interested in using entertainment as a tool to portray women in positive roles.

Pointing to the successes of such shows as "M*A*S*H" and "Murphy Brown," Joslin wants to effect social change through humor.

"There is value in making someone laugh, cry or escape, especially when you're teaching them something at the same time," she says.

People are more willing to deal with serious issues when they are presented in a humorous way, Joslin says. She adds, "Through humor you can take serious problems and suggest positive change in subtle ways and people are more likely to remember comedy."

Joslin recently finished a 25-minute documentary titled "Lock Your Doors, Hide Your Women," a film set at the U-M that examines issues of date rape on college campuses. And she recently finished a screenplay, "Baby Inc.," a romantic comedy about surrogate mothers.

As to the future, Joslin intends to relocate in Los Angeles. "In entertainment, I believe you have to do your time in L.A.," she says. "If you wanted to make cars, wouldn't you move to Detroit?"

Township resident volunteers for beautification, more

By STACEY LANG
Special Writer

Catherine (Tina) Sellas spends at least 10 hours a week doing what she likes best — working for free.

Sellas, a 15-year Northville Township resident, has spent those years volunteering for the Township Beautification Commission as well as the National Board for Medical Organizations and Wayne County Osteopathic Association Auxiliary.

"I have always felt my whole life that if you live on this earth you have to put something back into it," Sellas said.

So she has put back something by being chairperson of the 10-member Beautification Commission for the past five years. Sellas enjoys taking an active part in the commission and said that if everyone actively volunteered just a little, so much more would get accomplished.

The Beautification Commission conceived the Woodlands Ordinance and also revised the sign ordinance for smaller signs which are more sensitive to the environment.

One project that the commission just finished was the semiannual judging of all township businesses for overall appearance.

"Businesses are aware that nice surroundings promote good business," Sellas said.

Besides judging local businesses, the commission members also distributed seedlings to township residents in April to encourage tree growth and to promote Arbor Day. They also developed a promotional pamphlet about the commission, and handed out biodegradable care trash bags. All this was done with their $1,500 budget.

"We rely heavily on donations and area groups who volunteer their time," Sellas said.

Sellas spends her volunteer hours working on these projects because she enjoys it.

"I've always enjoyed looking at nice, aesthetic areas and projects," she said.

Even though Sellas volunteers regularly, she thinks it's important to have dinner on the table for her family each night. The entire family encourages her volunteering and even gets involved as well.

At their home, the Sellas family has a developed landscape which they feel is comfortable and relaxing.

"We've always enjoyed trees and the country-like feeling that comes with the yard. That is one of the reasons we moved to Northville many years ago," Sellas said.

"Volunteering is becoming a thing of the past because more women are joining the work force," Sellas said.

But she continues to give her time because she finds it rewarding.

The commission has been rewarded as well. It has received the Keep Michigan Beautiful award, which was given to the commission for beautification of the township, and was also awarded the Tree City USA award. Only a few cities receive the award and the township was one of the few that met all the criteria.

"I am a person who enjoys people and enjoys doing things," Sellas said; "that's why I'm so involved."

Exhibit offers space answers

How can people survive in the airless, weightless environment of space?

What is it like living in space? What are the ways in which a spaceship might be powered? The Cranbrook Institute of Science, 500 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, has the answers.

Cranbrook will host an outer space museum exhibit titled "Destination: Space" beginning July 13. Headlining the exhibit opening is the Spaceflight Academy, where visitors may learn about the challenges one would face while living and working in outer space.

The Spaceflight Academy allows visitors to understand the unique and hostile environment of space. Visitors may learn what it takes to get into space and survive once they are there.

Upon graduation from Spaceflight Academy, participants can enter the spaceship Explorer on a mission of discovery.

Eating, sleeping and personal hygiene are all very ordinary activities on Earth, but are very different in the weightless environment of space. Visitors can see for themselves what it takes to set up housekeeping outside Earth's gravitational field and how specialized zero-gravity equipment helps reduce some of the unpleasant effects of long-term space travel.

The primary mission of the Explorer is to investigate the planets and moons of our solar system. Because visitors won't be able to see these worlds in person, robot probes must be used as eyes and hands. In the Exploration Module one may operate remote probes that return important scientific data for study.

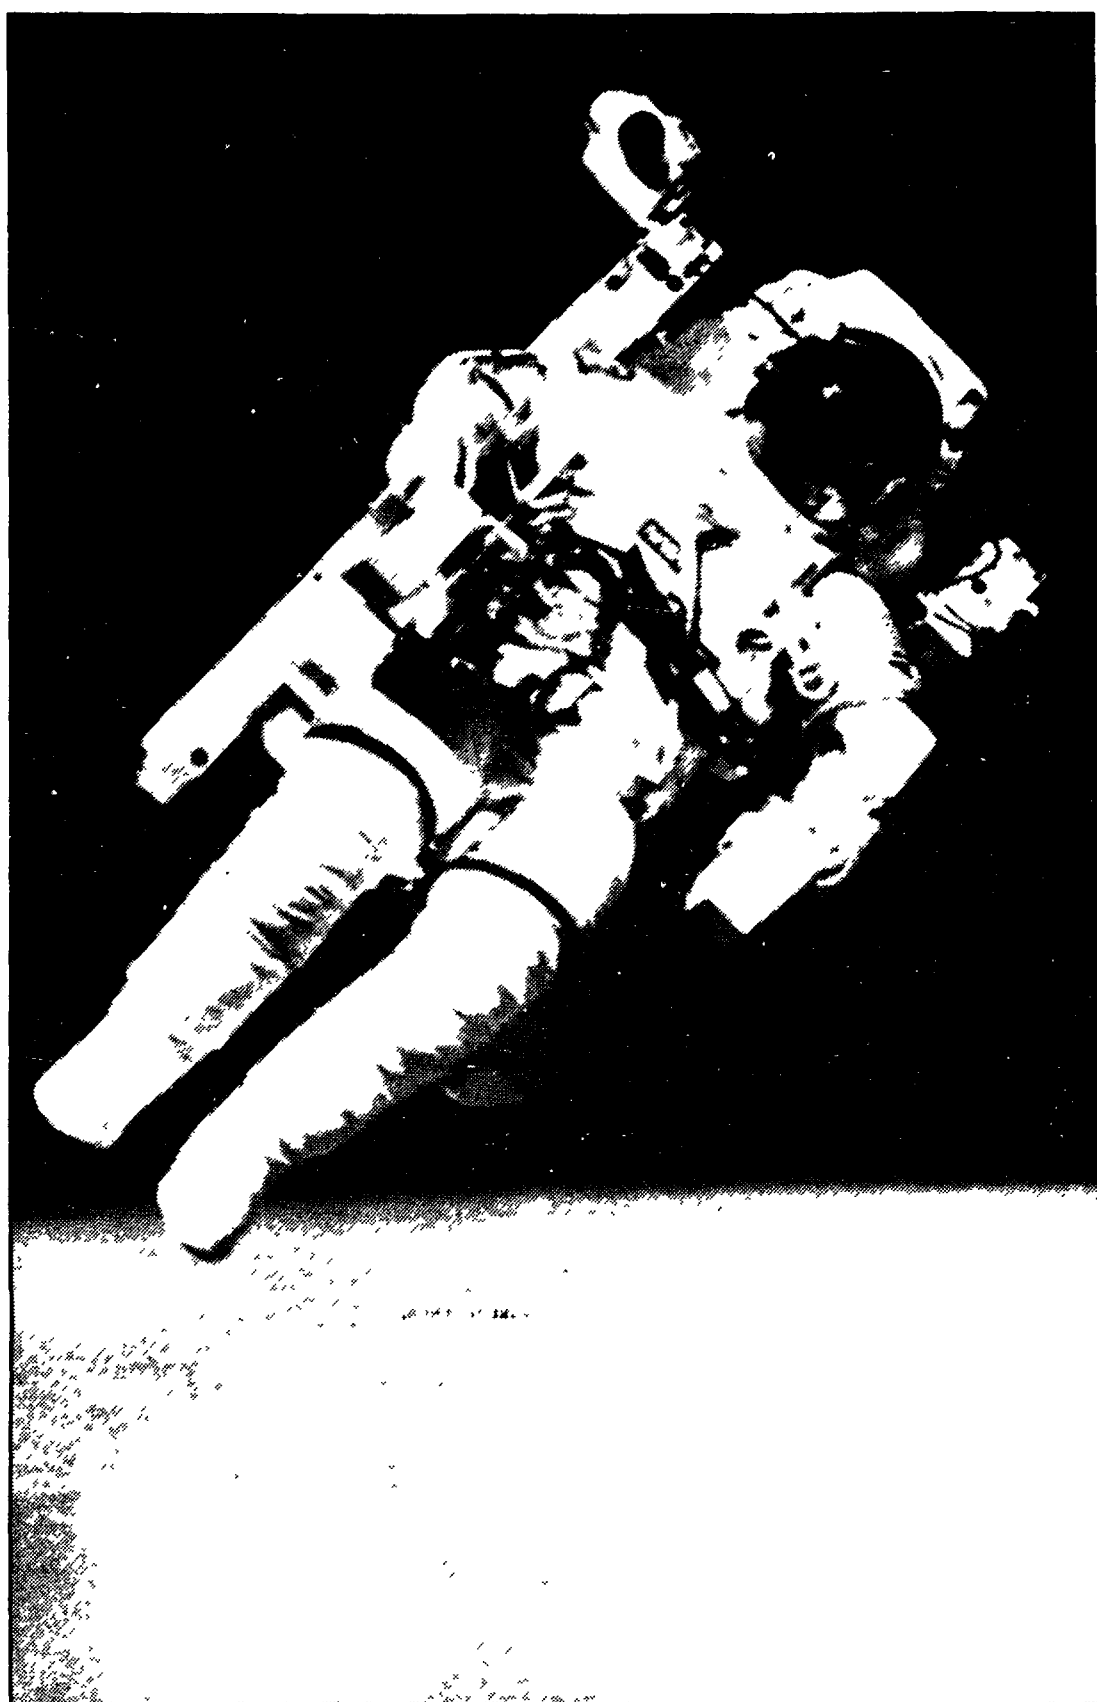

In the flight control module, one can step onto the bridge and witness the awesome beauty of space through panoramic viewscreens as you approach the planets and their moons. Here in the control center of Explorer, you may watch the progress of the flight, monitor navigation and oversee operations throughout the spaceship.

Space navigation is no easy chore. Visitors may take an extravehicular walk outside the ship to learn more about the difficulties of moving, navigating and working in an environment without air and gravity.

Destination: Space visitors may also learn about astronomy in the planetarium, enjoy a dazzling laser light show, and use a telescope in the observatory.

Museum hours for Destination: Space are: Monday-Thursday 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 10 a.m.-10 p.m.; and Sunday 1-5 p.m.

The museum charges a nominal admission fee.

The space walk is part of Cranbrook Institute of Science's space exhibit

In Town

'Natural' exhibit comes to gallery

A one-woman show by Norma McQueen, "Natural Images," opens June 22 at the G. Jordano Gallery at 332 E. Main Street.

An opening reception to meet the artist and discuss her work will take place from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 22. The exhibition continues through July 12. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday; and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

The artist has been a resident of Garden City for 27 years. She has won several local art awards. For more information call 348-0282.

ATRIUM EXHIBITS: The Atrium Gallery is hosting a show of selections from Marilyn Blinder. Blinder is a gifted Southfield artist showing watercolor monotypes and multimedia pieces. She has recently exhibited at the DIA during the Juried Michigan Fine Arts Show.

In 1990, she won the national "Watercolor USA" award. Exhibited with Blinder is John Martin, a highly acclaimed raku artist. Martin is a resident of Northville and teaches fine arts at the University of Arizona during the winter months.

His work is shown at the Tucson Museum of Art and several southern galleries. His pieces are highly sought-after by raku collectors. This show will take place at the Atrium Gallery, 113 N. Center. The gallery's hours are 10-5, and Thursday until 7 p.m. The show will run through July 15.

MUSIC AT THE BANDSHELL: The Northville Arts Commission presents a series of magnificent evenings of music at the bandshell in downtown Northville every Friday. All shows start at 7:30 p.m.

The schedule includes:

- June 14: Giffelder.
- June 21: Reed Works.
- June 28: Silver Strains Dulcimer Society.
- July 5: Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble.
- July 12: Plymouth Community Band.
- July 19: Giffelder.
- July 26: Detroit Brass.

- August 2: Novi Concert Band.
- August 9: Spirit of America Band.
- August 16: Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble.

"Rascals in Paradise."
I love that name. I have occasionally threatened to send my kids to paradise during a summer vacation; sometimes to a hotter destination.

I called the toll-free number that goes with that great name—(800) U RASCAL—and got one of the founders, Deborah Baratta, in San Francisco. Debbie and Theresa Detchemendy both worked in the tour wholesale business for a dozen years before they started traveling with kids of their own and learned the terrible truth.

Traveling with kids requires a little expertise. They combined their travel and parental experience when they decided that parents "need somebody to sort out the vast array of options available for families."

• Who pays? They are regular travel agents earning commissions from resorts and hotels, so their services are free. They charge a consulting fee if you want them to research a house in France for a month or something else that is not commissionable.

• They'll recommend a resort for families any time, but they also arrange specific weeks at specific resorts as family weeks and send an escort along to organize children's activities. If it's in Mexico, for example, the kids can visit a tortilla factory or Mayan ruins.

"Rascals in Paradise" also produces free guides. Call for their free catalog or a guide on a specific destination or tour. They also organize family reunions, grandparent trips, everything that has to do with families.

This is definitely not economy travel, but if you want to explore a 15-night African safari ($2,495 per adult, $1,725 per child 5-16 years) or a cottage in the Abacos for $500 and up, call (800) U-RASCALS and see what you get.

We would like to correct an error made in our May 20 story about Maumee Bay State Park Lodge, the newest of Ohio's 10 park lodges.

Lodge rooms are still available at the park but the cottages were very quickly booked from Memorial Day through Labor Day 1991.

Our story stated that Maumee would begin taking cottage reservations for 1992 on June 1, 1991. On June 1, they began to take cottage reservations for June, 1992. On July 1 and Aug. 1 they will take cottage reservations for July and August 1992 respectively.

Nickelodeon Studios in Orlando enables visitors to see how the largest kids network creates its television programs

Have you ever been 'slimed?'

By IRIS SANDERSON JONES
Travel Writer

Can you eat the Gak on Double Dare?

Can you name the dragon on Eureka's Castle?

Have you ever been slimed?

If you can't answer these questions, you are more than 15 years old, you have no children at home and you don't watch the Nickelodeon network on cable television.

You can still tour the Nickelodeon Studios in Orlando, Florida, but only if you are accompanied by a child aged two to 15. Adults can watch the shows being filmed and participate in the insanity of Game Lab . . . but only the kids can get slimed.

Nickelodeon celebrated its 12th birthday as the nation's favorite children's television network this year, which makes it about the same age as most of its viewers. The cable company's brief early attempt to uplift and educate children met with the scorn of kids nationwide, so now the program schedule is divided into three parts.

There is gentle fun for the little kids, '60s sitcoms for the kids to watch with their parents during Nick at Nite and berserk gross-out humor for the after-school crowd, kids who know all about Gak and love to be slimed.

If Dad wants to know whose fault this is, tell him that Nickelodeon president Geraldine Laybourne, a former schoolteacher, has a round desk and lots of slime in her New York City headquarters office.

She taught at poor schools and rich schools before she took time off to raise her own two sons and found out just how bad daytime television really was. That's when she started developing original television programs under state arts council grants.

Nobody told her what to do when she joined Nickelodeon 11 years ago, so she tried everything—including things you can't do on television. That's the name of one of Nick's favorite programs: "Things You Can't Do On Television."

Gerry celebrated Nickelodeon's 10th birthday by opening a working studio on the grounds of the Universal Studios in Orlando, where they tape their television shows and issue daily television reports from the blue-and-orange studio building.

The studio is easy to find, because of the giant Green Slime Geyser that sends "the planet's only known source of slime" up in a fountain 17 feet high and 25 feet wide.

You might have to stand in line up to an hour for the tour, or any other popular attraction at Universal Studios on a busy day in high season, but at least you line up in the shade. It's hot in Florida in the summer, so wear your coolest clothes and prepare to walk a lot.

A Nickelodeon guide takes you up the stairs and along corridors that they call "tubes," where you can look down through glass to the sets of your favorite shows. They tape shows like "Eureeka's Castle," "Welcome Freshman," "Make the Grade," "Family Double Dare" and "Think Fast."

If you want to participate in "Game Labs" or be in the studio audience for any of the shows being taped, ask at the entrance to the theme park about Nickelodeon tickets; sometimes they bike around the theme park, handing out tickets.

Tickets are free, but the first people who ask for them get them, so come early. If you get tickets to be part of the audience at "Game Lab," held every half hour after July 1, you have a good chance to be slimed. If chosen, you are taken to your own dressing room, which has your name on the door, where they give you a pair of baggy pants and an orange Nickelodeon shirt to wear while you're being slimed.

Even if you don't get picked, you get to see the Gak Kitchen and to taste a little slime and gak on a throwaway stick.

If one of you adults is still reading and don't know what gak and slime are, ask your kids. Slime looks like liquid green jello and tastes okay but not terrific. Gak looks like orange pudding and tastes terrific. They use so much of this stuff around here that they have a special Gak drainage system.

"Game Lab" is a fun half-hour performance for people touring the studios; it is not taped for television. There are four tiers of wooden bleachers on four sides of a square. The kids sit on two of the tiers of wooden seats and the adults sit on the other two. It's a standoff and the kids always win.

A 12-year-old from New York was the slime victim when I watched "Game Lab." She sat in a small plastic swimming pool and waited for the inevitable. The first time the Professor brought the slime it was jelled too hard and wouldn't come out of her bucket. Boo. Hiss.

The second time the Professor brought the slime it was too dry and came out like torn paper. Boo. Hiss. He finally got it right and down it came, green, gooey, pouring across her head, down her long dark hair, over the orange Nickelodeon T-shirt and onto the baggy pants.

That's more like it! The kids screamed and clapped and stomped their feet with delight.

Warning: Your parents will probably think this is really gross, and it is. But you get to wash the slime out of your hair and to put your own clean clothes back on, so what do they know?

If you want a chance to go to Nickelodeon Studios and get slimed, you'd better have the facts and here they are. You pay regular admission to Universal Studios: $30.74 a day for 12-years and older and $24.38 for kids three to 11.

Once you are on the grounds, all attractions are free, including the Nickelodeon Tour. Call ahead if you want to know what is being filmed the day of your visit. For more information, call Universal Studios at (407) 363-8000. Ask to hear the Nickelodeon recording of the day's events.

First All-Area soccer squad unveiled

Northville boasts six on team

For the first time ever, HomeTown Newspapers presents it's All-Area Girls' Soccer Squad as selected by the sportswriters of the Novi News, Northville Record, Milford Times and South Lyon Herald.

Our 1991 squad has a strong Northville flavor with 10 Mustangs on the first or second teams — but for good reason. Northville finished the season ranked sixth in the state, had two wins against top-five opponents and tied the eventual champs from Troy Athens. You won't find a better midfielder in the state than Marcie Dart.

Lakeland, Novi and South Lyon boasted winning records, and placed second, third and fourth respectively in the Kensington Valley Conference this spring. The Eagles lost just three times in 17 matches and were paced by the Dinverno sisters. Holli Kendra is one of the top midfielders Novi's ever produced and South Lyon's Connie Wattawa is solid.

Even though Milford struggled at times, it is a relatively new program and has developed into a competitive team. The Redskins' top player — Dee Lorenz — can play with anybody in the area.

Here's a closer look at the first team:

BETHANIE MacLEAN, goalkeeper, Northville: Just a sophomore, MacLean took over in net after developing under All-Stater Kristi Turner and turned in a fabulous season for the sixth ranked Mustangs. She was credited with 6½ shutouts and allowed an average of .81 goals per outing against some of the best teams in the state. "Bethany MacLean did an outstanding job — she has really grown this season as a keeper," Northville Coach Bob Paul said.

RENEE ANDROSIAN, forward, Northville: One of the top freshmen in the state, Androsian showed the kind of poise and execution you only see in a veteran. In the first week of the season, Androsian debuted by scoring five times and adding two assists. She went on to score a team-high 16 goals along with four assists for the season. Androsian was second in team points with 36. "Renee showed a lot of composure for a freshman," Paul said.

VALERIE SCHUERMAN, forward, Northville: This sophomore forward was a key factor in Northville's offensive attack. Schuerman — who comes from a family of outstanding soccer players — scored 11 goals (second on team) and chipped in with 11 assists (third on team). She has a nose for the ball and was always a threat to score. Her older sister — Jennifer Schuerman — was a star forward for the Mustangs several years ago.

BECKY DINVERNO, forward, Lakeland: Dinverno, a senior captain, was Lakeland's primary scorer, racking up 39 goals and eight assists for 86 points. "She had an excellent season," said Coach Mike Braden. "Many of the goals she got she earned. Some of the balls she went after, others would have given up on. She really led by example." Dinverno's strength, Braden added, was her determination. "She came in with more determination after not making the all-league team last year."

DEE LORENZ, forward, Milford: Lorenz scored 14 goals and chipped in with four assists. "Dee is a tough, tenacious player with good skills and a strong leg," Milford Coach Nancy Sharp said. "She'll put 100 percent into every position she plays. She was a spark that ignited our offense and she had the ability to make that deep pass from the wing. Many times, Dee was double-teamed and often had to fight her way through several defenders for the goal. She also anticipated well where her teammates would be. She was a real presence on the field in all but two games when she was ill."

HOLLI KENDRA, midfielder, Novi: Novi's only first-team selection, Kendra was the Wildcat's quarterback both offensively and defensively. The senior scored nine goals and added six assists, but according to coach Nick Valenti, Kendra's contributions included much more than statistics. "Hollie did an absolutely wonderful job at midfield for us," Valenti said. "She controlled and supported our offense, and was solid on defense. She was involved in a lot of areas that you can't see by looking at stats. I can't say enough about her." Kendra was second on the team with 24 points.

MARCIE DART, midfielder, Northville: The HomeTown East Player of the Year and one of the most respected players in the state, Dart has already decided to continue playing collegiately at Michigan State. "I wouldn't trade any other midfielder in the state for her," Paul admitted. "She will be remembered, I'm sure, as one of the top players ever to play at Northville." Dart led her team in scoring with 10 goals and 17 assists (38 points). She was a unanimous All-Conference selection and is a likely All-Stater. "Dart is one of the better midfielders in the state," Novi Coach Nick Valenti said.

CONNIE WATTAWA, midfielder, South Lyon: Wattawa, a co-captain, was named the team's most valuable player after scoring six goals and four assists for 16 points this season. "She's a good strong player. She's an experienced player and has a very strong kick," said Coach Bill Stevanovic. "Connie has good control of the ball and is a fundamentally sound player. She comes in strong with a good shot. I was very pleased and the team loved her."

MICHELLE McQUAID, defender, Northville: Like Dart a first-team All-WLAA pick, McQuaid was a leader of a Mustang defense that registered 10 shutouts and allowed just 19 goals all season. "Michelle was a great leader on our team," Paul said. "She was the only returning starter in our defensive unit and I thought we improved from the season before." Anchoring a young defense, McQuaid scored three goals and assisted another while helping Northville blank seven of its first eight opponents.

KAREN CAVANAUGH, defender, Northville: Two years ago, Cavanaugh was recognized as one of the best forwards in the state, but a knee injury threatened her career. Despite losing a step or two, Cavanaugh maintained the same determination as a defender in '91 that propelled her to All-State status in '89. "Karen's work rate is tremendous," Paul said. "She overcame a lot and was a very valuable member of our team." Cavanaugh managed just three assists, but was part of a defense that gave up an average of just 1.03 goals per contest and allowed more than two goals on just two occasions.

MEGAN EVANS, defender, Lakeland: Evans, one of the team's tri-captains, scored three goals and added one assist. She was voted the third best player in the Kensington Valley Conference. The first two were offensive players. "Megan sees the field and reads the game better than anyone else on the team," Braden said. "Many times we'd make a mistake and she'd get to the ball and turn it upfield behind everyone. That's something that someone who's played enough and takes great pride in the game will know. She takes the game more seriously. She'll do anything for the team."

Mustangs re-establish soccer power

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

During the 1991 season, the Northville girls soccer team re-established itself as one of the premier programs in the state.

The Mustangs finished the season as the No. 6-ranked Class A team. Northville sported a fine 12-4-2 overall record — despite facing an extremely demanding schedule — and grabbed a share of the WLAA Western Division title for the first time since head Coach Bob Paul took over the team in 1989.

The Mustangs accomplished all this despite losing an All-State goal-tender and three-fourths of the starting fullbacks to graduation from last year's 10-4-4 squad.

"I think we improved quite a bit from last season," Paul said. "We had some marginal games last year that we should have won. This season, we minimized that. We played — for the most part — terrific soccer."

Northville got off to a fast start, winning three in a row and seven of the first eight — including seven shutouts. The only loss was a 3-1 setback to No. 1-ranked Livonia Stevenson. The Mustangs dropped two in a row to the powerful Plymouth schools, Canton and Salem, after that but then regrouped to win or tie the next seven against respected opponents like Grand Blanc and Farmington, as well as state-ranked teams like Troy Athens and Livonia Churchill.

"We've been trying to get more high-caliber teams added to our schedule," Paul said. "This year we added Athens, who was ranked third when we tied them 1-1."

The two biggest wins of the season came against Churchill at the tail end of the season. Northville edged the Chargers 2-1 both times, the second meeting coming in the MHSAA District semifinals. The Mustangs bowed out of the state playoffs when Stevenson registered a 3-1 rematch win in the district finals.

"Beating a top-five team like Churchill twice and tying the No. 3 team put us in a strong position," Paul said. "We just couldn't find a way to get past Stevenson."

In all, Northville registered 10 shutouts, and gave up more than two goals just twice — in the two Stevenson defeats.

"It was a great tribute to our goal-tending and defense," Paul said. "I'd say that was the biggest surprise of the season, especially considering all the new defensive starters. We basically rebuilt our defense with only Michelle McQuaid (All-Conference senior) back from last year. We came on and were solid on defense."

Sophomore Bethany MacLean and junior Aurahyn Method teamed up in goal for Northville and had goals-against averages of 0.81 and 0.22 respectively. Newcomers Angle Snyder (freshman) and Tracy Jambor (junior) proved to be solid full-backs, and senior Karen Cavanaugh developed into a top-notch defender. She was a former All-State forward before suffering a knee injury.

The team's top individual player was senior midfielder Marcie Dart, who was named the HomeTown East Player of the Year as well as a first team All-Conference pick. Dart led the team in scoring with 38 points on 10 goals and 17 assists.

"Marcie has a different personality once she steps onto the field," Paul said. "Her attitude and will to win made her a great leader. I wouldn't trade any other midfielder in the state for her. She will be remembered, I'm sure, as one of the top players ever to play at Northville."

The top scorers included freshman Renee Androsian and sophomore Valerie Schuerman. Androsian burst on the scene and wound up with 16 goals and four assists while Schuerman added 11 goals and 11 assists. Schuerman joined Cavanaugh and senior midfielder Amy Goode (six goals, 14 assists) as All-Division selections.

"Androsian showed a lot of composure for a freshman," Paul said.

Next spring, Paul will have to fill gaping holes left by the graduation of starters like Dart, McQuaid, Cavanaugh, Ashley MacLean and Goode.

"A lot of people will say next year, will be a rebuilding year for us, but we don't look at it that way," Paul predicted. "We'll have a young team but we will have talented players."

Paul, who has a three-year record of 35-12-10 at Northville (70.1 winning percentage), was named the HomeTown East Coach of the Year. He guided the Mustang to the Class A championship game during his rookie year in '89.

League Line

SOCCKER: Lightning top Plymouth

BOYS UNDER 10: Northville Lightning topped Plymouth No. 5, 3-1. The Lightning goals came from Tyler Sedam, Connor Sedam and Adam Melvin. The defensive MVPs were Joe Rumbley and Brett Allen. Tyler Sedam and Greg Rankin scored goals to help power the Northville Lightning past the Northville Express 2-1. David Walsh scored for the Express. Eddie Scharf scored twice but the Northville Rowdies suffered an 8-3 defeat against Plymouth No. 2. Armand Samoulian also scored for the Rowdies. Kip Szostek and P.J. Schlosser combined for five goals as Northville Arsenal trounced Plymouth No. 7, 6-0. Andy Ganfield was the star on defense. Keith Sebastian registered the hat-trick and Brian Boyes added two goals to pace Northville United to a 5-3 win over Livonia No. 5. Matthew Lopiccolo and Rob VanSlyke were the MVPs. Eddie Sharf and Ryan Cochrane scored goals but the Northville Rowdies fell to Livonia No. 9, 5-2. Keith Sebastian's four goals powered Northville United to a 6-2 win over Plymouth No. 4. Joe McDonald was the defensive MVP. Northville Arsenal blanked the Northville Stompers 5-0. P.J. Schlosser scored three times and Travis Bliss added two goals for the winners. The MVPs included Lodewijk Van Holsbeek and Brendan Greene. Northville Express nipped Livonia No. 6, 2-1 thanks to goals from Dave Handley and Eric Anderson. Nick Colanti was the defensive standout. Dan Scapattici scored twice to lead the Northville Hot Spurs past Plymouth No. 5, 8-1. Marshall Knapp and Doug Smith were the standouts. The Northville Lightning clobbered Livonia No. 11, 9-0 and Marc Olin caused much of the damage with three goals. Brett Allen and Connor Sedam added two goals each.

GIRLS UNDER 10: Emily Howland's two goals paced the Northville Express to a 2-1 victory against Northville United. Stephanie Myers scored United's only goal. Plymouth No. 2 shutout Northville Arsenal 3-0. Colleen Thompson and Leah Voytal were the MVPs.

BOYS UNDER 12: Farmington No. 5 topped Northville Arsenal 3-1. Mike McBride and Chris McLaughlin were cited for their fine play. Arjun Srinivasan scored two goals as Northville United battled Livonia No. 2 to a 2-2 draw. David O'Leary was the MVP. Despite the fine play from Austin Curtis and George Kaouyas, the Northville Express fell to Farmington No. 8, 3-0. Goals from Matt Ferrara and Jeff Husak helped the Northville Rowdies turn back Novi, 4-1. James Moffitt was the standout.

GIRLS UNDER 12: Northville Arsenal and Plymouth No. 4 tied 2-2. Jamie Tharp and Annie Obrecht scored for Northville. Northville United battled Plymouth No. 3 to a scoreless tie. Blakely Barry, Lisa Jouboulain and Karen Hough were the MVPs. Allison Murphy and Erin Bowdell tallied goals and the Northville Express turned back Livonia No. 1, 2-0. Becca Roberts and Abby Mascheck were the MVPs.

BOYS UNDER 13 SELECT: Northville Sting 78 slipped past Northville Sting 2-1. J.R. Graff provided strong midfield play and Matt Carroll was outstanding in goal, including a penalty shot save.

GIRLS UNDER 14: Lindsay Petrie scored two times but it wasn't enough as Plymouth No. 1 edged Northville United 3-2. Katie Rompel and Adrienne Browne were the standouts. Amy Petricca and Lindsay Peelman each scored twice as the Northville Express blanked Plymouth No. 2, 6-0. Sara Wood and Marsha Keller were the MVPs. Adrienne Browne (2) and Tammy Cooke scored goals to lead Northville United past Plymouth No. 2, 3-1. Amanda Spence was the defensive star. Amy Petricca registered the hat-trick as the Northville Express downed Livonia No. 1, 4-1. Courtney Hamilton and Erin O'Leary were the MVPs.

GIRLS UNDER-14 PREMIER SOCCER: Three Northville girls helped lead their Plymouth Lightning '77 Little Caesars Premier soccer team to the title in the recent Canton Invitational Soccer Tournament. Jessica Jones, Katie Kohl and Marissa Spinazze joined their teammates in winning the girls Under-14 division of the tournament over the Memorial Day weekend. The team played three games on May 25 against opponents from Taylor, Clawson and Maumee, Ohio. The next day, the Plymouth-based team beat Royal Oak in the semifinals and Perrysburg, Ohio in the finals. Jones, a goalkeeper, was unscored-upon during the tourney while Kohl and Spinazze combined to score five goals from their forward positions.

BOYS UNDER 17: Northville United got goals from Anthony DeBenedet and Jay Tharp en route to a 2-1 win against Livonia No. 1. Marc Chaisson was the MVP. Farmington No. 3 ripped Northville No. 1, 5-0. Plymouth No. 1 edged Northville United 2-0. John Kovalak was the standout. Anthony DeBenedet scored twice as Northville United blanked Farmington 4-0. Marc Chaisson and Rich Bell also scored for the winners.

BASEBALL: Locals win tourney

NORTHVILLE CYO TOURNAMENT: The Northville Pee Wee Reese 'A' team had a record of 3-0 and placed first at the 1991 Northville CYO Invitational Tournament over Memorial Day Weekend. The Northville team defeated Shrine of the Little Flower 6-2, St. Robert 17-5 and St. Albert 6-1 for the title. In the championship game against Shrine, Northville pitchers fanned 15 of the possible 21 batters. Offensively, the team hit at a .432 clip.

H LEAGUE: The Indians clubbed the Angels 21-10. Brent Zak had two hits, including a homer, and Aaron Cole went 2 for 2 and knocked in three runs. Brandon Davis paced the Angels with two hits and three RBIs. The Indians got a strong performance from Justin Walneo en route to a 7-3 win over the Padres. Walneo hit a grand slam and also pitched well, striking out the side in both the fifth and sixth innings. Anthony Marra registered two RBIs for the Padres. The Pirates defeated the Expos 15-8 by pounding out 10 hits, including a pair of two-run homers by Evan Edwards. David Whitbeck also had two hits. Brett Allen and Frank Galanis were the hitting leaders for the Expos. The Pirates powered past the Giants 16-4 on the home run strength of Brian Kolasa and Evan Edwards.

SOFTBALL: Libs down Sunbirds

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE: The Liberties topped the Sunbirds 6-1. The Liberties scored five times in the first to take a 5-1 lead and then the game turned into a defensive struggle. Megan Gross led the way with a shoestring catch on a screaming liner. A see-saw battle resulted in an 11-9 win for the Travellers over the Liberties. Renee Olin and Jessica Black had two hits each for the Liberties. Four days later, the Travellers thumped the Liberties 7-1. Michelle Hagan and Katie Krupanski led the Liberties at the plate. Jenny Sheehan pitched a strong game as the Liberties topped the Aztecs 11-6.

It's
To Do What
The Simpsons,
The Waltons,
And The Cleavers
Do.

At the Simpsons house in Plymouth, the kids often complained there was nothin' fun to do. While the Waltons in Clawson couldn't agree on a fun thing to do. The problem over at the Cleavers in Westland was there wasn't much time to do anything fun.

Clearly, there was only one thing for them all to do — get a family pass to Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village and have some fun.

There are 93 acres of American history to explore here, plus lots of special events and celebrations throughout the year. Now with the family pass, the Simpsons always have something new to do. The Waltons can each do their own thing. And the Cleavers can do as much or as little of the museum and village as time permits.

People like the Simpsons and the Waltons and the Cleavers are always looking for family fun. That's why it's a prime time to get a family pass to Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Visit or call us at 313-271-1620.

PREMIER SOCCER TRYOUTS: The Michigan Wolves (boys) and Michigan Hawks (girls) will be conducting open tryouts for all age groups this month. The program is sponsored by the Livonia "V" Premier Soccer Club.

Teams offered include: under 19 boys and girls; under 17 boys and girls; under 16 boys and girls; under 15 boys; under 14 boys and girls; under 13 girls; under 12 boys and girls; under 11 boys and under 10 boys. All tryouts will be held at Jaycee Park in Livonia and will be conducted from June 15 through June 23, depending on age division.

Call 427-3336 for more information.

BASKETBALL CAMP: Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem High Schools will be offering a three-day basketball camp on July 25-27. The camp is for boys and girls age 7-17.

Islah Thomas and Joe Durnars from the Detroit Pistons will be on hand to provide daily instruction. All camper will also receive a T-shirt. Fee is $150.

For more information call 451-6600 ext. 247.

SUMMER TENNIS COURSES: Schoolcraft College in Livonia is accepting registrations for their summer tennis courses. Classes are available for children and adults.

For further information, call 462-4413.

SOCCER REGISTRATION CORRECTION: The fee for Under-10 and older players is incorrect on the forms mailed by the Northville Soccer Association to current players. The correct fee should read $41.50, reflecting the fall uniform charge.

Fall registration continues through June 21. There will be a $5 late fee. Call the Northville Recreation Department at 349-0203 for details.

SPONSORING NORTHVILLE SOCCER: The Northville Soccer Association is once again offering its team sponsorship to local businesses for the 1991-92 seasons.

Sponsors will receive a schedule and picture of their team when they become available. The team sponsored will receive patches with the sponsors' name on their jerseys.

For more information, call Sponsorship Coordinator Leanne Michaels at 349-5344.

HANDBALL, RACQUETBALL, PADDLEBALL: If you enjoy handball, racquetball or paddleball, open court time is being offered by Schoolcraft College. Courts can be scheduled for doubles play. Gloves, paddles, racquets, balls and lockers are furnished.

For more information, call 462-4413.

Waldecker examines golf campaign

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

What started out as just another first-year program getting its feet wet turned into one of the biggest stories in girls high school golf.

The Northville golf team did what expansion teams everywhere dream about: surprising everybody with a great inaugural season. It rarely, if ever, happens, and that's what makes the '91 campaign so special for coach Trish Waldecker and her players.

The Mustangs came within a whisker (three strokes) of an undefeated dual-meet season, grabbed second place in the WLA, and then qualified for the prestigious MHSAA State Tournament along with a dozen of the top girls teams in the state.

"It's funny looking back because we just wanted to win half our matches before the season began," Waldecker said. "I had no idea we'd go as far as we did."

Despite the regular-season-ending loss to Canton, Northville boasted a fine 9-1 record (6-1 in the WLA), placed second (to Canton) at the WLA Meet, and then earned a trip to the state tournament by placing third at the 18-team regional in Brighton. The Mustangs wound up placing 11th overall, not bad when you consider there are 75 high school golf teams for girls in the state.

"The girls were somewhat disappointed when we lost to Canton and missed out on being undefeated, but the ultimate was qualifying for the states," Waldecker admitted. "That's where the pressure is on and just being a part of it was great."

Sisters Kristen and Kelli Woodsum were the team's top performers. Kristen, a senior, was the team medalist seven times and had a nine-hole average of 45.8. Kelli, just a junior, medaled the other three times and had a 49.0 average.

"The Woodsum sisters were real instrumental both on and off the course," Waldecker said.

Senior Shannon Price and sophomore Kelly Casterline each boasted a 53.0 average and junior Diane Vogt was fifth on the team at 56.0.

"Having girls like the Woodsums and Casterlines — who had prior golfing experience — really helped," Waldecker said. "All the girls were eager to get in on the ground level of the program because they knew they'd be setting a precedent."

"This group really wanted to play golf and prove to themselves that they can be competitive."

Despite losing three of the team's top six golfers to graduation next season (Kristen Woodsum, Price and Courtney Casterline), Waldecker is looking ahead with optimism.

"I'm real optimistic," she said. "We have a lot of dedicated and committed golfers. Kelli (Woodsum) is solid and I'm sure she'll get better. Kelly Casterline will be outstanding, and Diane (Vogt) was real consistent and she came through for us."

As for Waldecker, her first year as a varsity coach couldn't have been more rewarding.

"It was a wonderful experience for me as a coach," she said. "I couldn't have asked for a better group of kids."

POST-SEASON AWARD: Kristen Woodsum was given honorable mention status on the Academic All-State Team. Woodsum carries a 3.88 grade point average.

Faletti relishes first division track title

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

As a coach, you know your team had a great season when you have a hard time finding any disappointments.

That's the way Northville boys track coach Dennis Faletti feels about the '91 campaign. His Mustangs registered an 8-1 dual-meet record just one year after breaking a 12-year drought between winning seasons.

But perhaps more importantly, Northville went 5-0 against WLA Western Division opponents and grabbed the program's first-ever division crown.

"Earlier in the year, I wasn't sure what to expect," Faletti said. "After a couple meets, it became apparent that we had a pretty good team."

After dropping the dual-meet opener to a strong

Novi team, the Mustangs ripped through eight straight opponents, including traditionally tough teams like Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton.

"We scored 80 points in every dual meet after the Novi loss," Faletti explained. "We beat Churchill for the first time since 1968."

Along the way, Northville placed third in the prestigious Observerland Relays and then fourth in the WLA Meet — both were the program's highest finishes ever.

"We performed about as well as we could each week," Faletti said. "We improved each week and we tackled each meet one at a time. We did really well at the Observerland, and that's a high-powered meet."

"But the biggest boost was winning the division. It should really help our program to get more kids to come out and compete."

Due to graduation, Faletti will have to replace a half-dozen seniors who were key contributors. Bill Kelley (200, long jump), Mike Hillinger (400), Mike Negri (800), Pete Byersdorf (high jump), Kevin Gill (discus, shot put) and Bob Holloway (discus, shot put) were all premier performers, but Faletti believes he can find replacements.

"I feel we'll have a stronger team next year," he said.

All season long, the Mustangs excelled in the four relay events. It was appropriate that the only school record that fell this spring came in the 400-meter relay. The team of Bob Oiler, Matt Hemp, Jamie Miller and Kelley set the mark of 45.0.

Poor weather hampered Northville's effort at the MHSAA Regionals, and as a result, no Mustangs qualified for the state meet.

Michigan became a leader in the use of protective vests this year when the Senate passed Concurrent Resolution 59

Vests make little league debut

On March 18, 1990, 10 year old Ryan Wojcik, a Garden City native, was hit by a ball pitched by a 9-year-old in a Little League game in Odessa, Fla. Despite immediate CPR, and subsequent helicopter airlift to treatment at a nearby hospital, Ryan died. Yet this accident and others like it could have been prevented.

A 1986 United States Consumer Product Safety Commission study found that baseball is the most dangerous sport for children ages 5 to 14. It identified 51 children who died as a result of being struck by a baseball. Twenty-three of them were killed due to a blow to the chest.

Children are especially vulnerable when hit in the chest. The bones are still pliable in the developing body and may not provide the protection needed to safeguard against the pitched ball. When hit with extreme force, the "traumatized" heart may go into ventricular fibrillation and, possibly, cardiac arrest.

In Ryan's case, the Hillsborough County (Florida) coroner contends that he would have survived had he worn a protective vest. Since Ryan's death, at least three other children have been struck in the chest and killed by thrown baseballs during organized games.

For the first time ever, the Novi Youth Baseball League (NYBL) is using these vests this spring, while the Northville Junior Baseball Leagues are not — yet.

"We've gone to the jackets for safety purposes and we are trying to teach the kids how to avoid being hit, and if they are, how to turn away from the pitches," said Sten Sahilberg, NYBL publicity director.

In Northville, 'H' League is using the safer Reduced Injury Factor baseballs, but none of the leagues are using the vests at this time.

"The baseball board has instituted a safety committee and they are studying these issues," Northville Recreation Director John Anderson said.

For young players, lightweight protective vests usually cost between $29 and $59. A team may only need three or four; in a game, only the batter and the on-deck player may wear them. Some teams require use of the vests for the pitcher and the infielders.

Michigan became a leader in the use of protective vests this year when the Senate passed Concurrent Resolution 59, introduced by Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, urging the use of safety equipment by youth baseball leagues.

The City of Mt. Clemens has mandated the use of the vest on all of its baseball diamonds. Little league programs in Union Lake and Walled Lake, and the American Little League in Ypsilanti, have recently mandated its use. Tim Kellman, League agent for the Ypsilanti program, said, "The vests will cost the league about the same amount as the trophies did last year. It seems like a good investment."

Protective vests are available through: IPASC, 31900 Utica Road, Fraser, 48026, 1-800-472-7299, and Theradom Inc., 501 Village Trace, Bldg. 9, Marietta, Ga. 30067, (404) 952-3415

Northville Community Recreation is offering a fitness program designed for you: low- and high-impact aerobic alternatives with toning and shaping floorwork, fun and easy-to-follow workouts, morning and evening child care.

New Attitude Aerobics' summer session will begin on June 17 and registrations are now being accepted. The one-hour classes are held year-round at the Community Recreation gymnasium on the following days: Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 a.m.; Monday and Wednesday at 5:45 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m., and Saturday at 8 a.m.

For registration or more information, call 349-0203 or 348-3129

OPEN SWIMMING: Northville Community Recreation will host open swimming at the Northville High School pool on Tuesday nights 8-9 p.m., Wednesday nights 7-15 p.m., Thursday evenings 8-9 p.m., and Saturday afternoons from 12:30-1:30 p.m. There are also lap swims following open swimming.

Large groups are encouraged to participate, but must notify the recreation department at 349-0203 in advance. A $1 fee is payable at the door.

WATER FITNESS CLASS: The Northville Community Recreation Department is offering a seven-week water fitness class for adult swimmers and non-swimmers who want to lose excess pounds and inches without the strenuous exercise of aerobics.

The Monday and Wednesday class begins on June 17 and runs through July 31. The fee is $20. For more information, call 349-0203.

AEROBIC FITNESS INC.: A fitness program called "Aerobic Fitness Inc." is now being offered in Northville. The one hour program is designed to stretch, trim and tone. Six week classes run continuously throughout the year.

Fee is $33 (two classes per week), $45 (three classes), and $55 (unlimited). For more information, call 348-1280.

YMCA ANNUAL RUN: Plymouth YMCA's 12th Annual Run will be held on Father's Day, June 16.

The first event will be a Junior Jog for 6-8 year olds at 7:30 a.m.; and a Tot Trot for 3-5 year olds will follow at 7:45. A one mile walk/run and a 5K run will be held at 8 a.m. with a 10K at 8:45.

For more information, call 453-2904.

NOVI ROTARY RUN: The Fourth Annual Novi Rotary Run, previously held in late July, has been moved up to June 29 this year. The event will start at 8:30 a.m. at the Running Fit store in the Novi Town Center.

There will be a 5-mile run ($9 before race, $12 day of race) and a 3-mile walk ($8 in advance, $10 race day). Entry fee includes one raffle ticket to win a 1959 Corvette.

Check in time is 7-8:20 a.m. For more information, call 349-3960 or 347-4949.

HEALTH CLUB: If you're thinking of joining a health club, Schoolcraft College has something for you.

The Livonia Junior college is offering a Health Club and a Gym and Swim program. The health club is designed for families to enjoy unstructured activity in a modern, fully equipped physical education facility. A nominal fee of $3 is charged per visit and you will have the use of gyms, racquetball courts, weight machines and saunas. The club meets on Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

The Gym and Swim program is offered on Thursdays and Saturdays from 8 a.m.-noon. This program costs $3 per visit on Thursday and $2 on Saturday, and uses facilities including, the pool, weight training equipment, handball/paddleball courts, gyms and saunas.

Call 462-4413 for more information.

RENT A POOL: For those who like to keep fit by swimming, the Novi High School Pool is available for rent. Groups may rent the pool on Fridays from 7:30-9 p.m. If interested, call the Novi Community Education office at 348-1200 at least one month prior to date requested.

HEALTH SCREENING: The Novi Parks and Recreation Department offers a variety of health screening events each week.

One is blood pressure screening for senior citizens. This free service is offered each Wednesday in the Novi Civic Center from 11 a.m. noon.

FITNESS OVER 50: A one hour exercise program called "Fitness Over 50" is held Monday and Wednesday mornings at Twelve Oaks Mall. It takes place 9-10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor corridor near the east entrance.

The program, conducted by the University of Michigan Division of Physical Education, is particularly aimed at older people and others who would benefit from an invigorating but non-strenuous exercise program.

Fitness Over 50 welcomes all interested persons, regardless of age and current activity level. Call the Twelve Oaks Management Office, 348-9438, for further information.

YOGA CLASSES: Seven week yoga classes are being offered in Northville. Diane Siegel DiVita, past president of the Yoga Association of Greater Detroit, is the instructor.

The classes will be offered on Thursdays (7-8:30 p.m.) or Sundays (10:10-11:40 a.m.) at the Northville American Legion Hall. Yoga effectively trains the body to develop strength, flexibility and balance.

Cost is $28. For more information, call Siegel-DiVita at 344-0928.

WEIGHT WATCHERS: Weight Watchers, the internationally recognized weight loss program, meets every Wednesday at the Northville Community Center at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Registration fee is $17 plus a weekly fee of $9. For more information, call Diana Kutzke at 287-2900.

The Primrose 1

Empty-nest design with modern appeal

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

Lofty brick columns flank the high, gabled entryway of the Primrose 1, giving a stately and spacious feel to a contemporary home that is actually on the small side.

The brick facade and cultured stone on the front positively exude solidity and permanence. The arched garage doors and window, as well as the round window, add grace.

Designed primarily with empty, or nearly empty, nesters in mind, the home is compact and easy to care for. Once inside there are no difficult flights of steps to negotiate, and, if desired, the entry steps could be replaced by a gently sloping walkway.

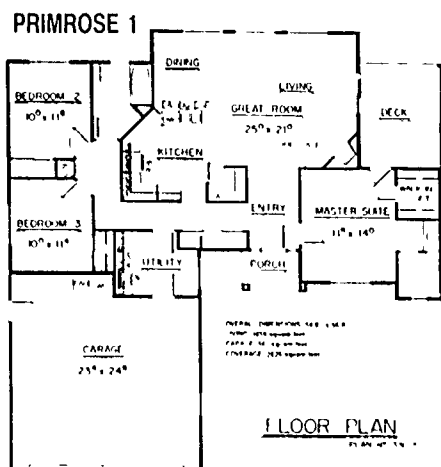

Inside, the sense of spaciousness carries over dramatically. Windows, which arch over and around the front door, flood the 1-1/2-story, vaulted entry area with warm, natural light. More windows form most of one wall of the wide, open great room, which combines the kitchen, dining and living areas. Had the designer walled each room separately, following the traditional norm, this home wouldn't be nearly so inviting.

A covered deck, accessed from the great room by sliding glass doors, invites outdoor living when the weather is mild. The master suite also opens onto the deck.

An angled extension on the eating bar creates more seating while giving a unique shape to the basically U-shaped kitchen. And the placement of the sink and dishwasher in the eating bar ensures that those doing clean-up tasks need not be cut off from activities or discussions going on elsewhere in the room. Ample storage is available in cupboards and pantry.

For increased privacy, the master suite is located on the opposite side of the family living area from the other two bedrooms. Each sleeping area has its own bathroom.

A utility room is tucked between the garage and bedrooms. Those who like to sew will quickly realize that the light by the window makes it a perfect place for a sewing machine.

For a study plan of the Primrose 1 (330-51), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, c/o HomeTown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

BUYER

'Tis the season for home improvement scams, so be careful out there

STORY BY CYNTHIA TARCHINSKI
ARTWORK BY ANGIE PREDHOMME

A man knocks on your door and says he has some leftover supplies from a big project up the street and he'll fix your roof for a price you can't beat.

Buyer beware.

According to area law-enforcement officials, home maintenance con artists thrive in the summer months and their main targets seem to be senior citizens. Some of the services these traveling criminals peddle are landscaping, painting, roof repair or driveway paving.

Michigan State Police Trooper Kriste Etue from the Brighton post said that June, July and August are the busiest months for the traveling con artists.

"People go door-to-door offering a chance of a lifetime relatively cheap," she said. "Basically, it's a consumer beware kind of deal. If you do it, there's no guarantee. Sometimes the first rain washes it away."

About two years ago, a Pinckney woman was cheated out of $400 when a man offered to pave her driveway. Pinckney Police Chief Bill Smith said. The man's story was that he'd been working on a big project and had some materials left over. For $400, the man would make the repairs on her driveway.

The woman had been considering the project and knew that it could cost her at least $1,000, so she jumped at the chance, Smith said.

"She made out a check payable to cash and she never saw him again," Smith said.

According to the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association, traveling criminals usually leave their customers with a driveway that will eventually reveal poor work. Problems may not appear for several weeks or months, and by that time, the person is long gone.

Some criminals are so well prepared for the crimes that they will use the name of a reputable local asphalt supplier in order to win customer confidence. They may use business cards and trucks that appear legitimate. Addresses and telephone numbers are frequently those of only an answering service in another city.

Smith talks to seniors in his area, warning them about the home-repair con artists. He said an elderly man he met was ashamed to admit that he paid $150 for a patching job on his garage roof.

The man felt secure about the deal because he could see that the workers were putting the shingles on his roof. He learned that he'd been cheated about two weeks later when it rained and the shingles came washing off the roof.

"It destroyed the paint on the man's garage and it killed his wife's flowers," Smith said. Nearly every law-enforcement official in the area has at least one story like Smith's. While there haven't been many reports of traveling criminals hitting the area yet this year, area authorities said that they could come back again.

Livingston County Undersheriff Richard Winsett said that experienced criminals usually stake out the homes of unsuspecting senior citizens and then make their pitch. Often they will travel in groups of two or three. If a group is let into a home, the others might steal things while the homeowner is distracted with a sales pitch, Winsett said.

"The best thing to do is to go through the phone book or go to the chamber of commerce when you want to make home repairs," Winsett said. "If they

The man felt secure about the deal because he could see that the workers were putting the shingles on his roof...later when it rained, the shingles came washing off the roof.

People swap homes for inexpensive vacation

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

The benefits of owning a home are many—pride of ownership, equity buildup, tax advantages, security for equity loans, etc.

It can also cut your vacation costs dramatically. An increasing number of home owners are discovering this opportunity as they participate in home exchanging.

This process is simple. Typically, a home owner first lists his house with a home exchange network. When he decides to spend some time in an area, he contacts a network member in that locale and works out mutually agreeable dates to exchange their residences.

Normally, no rent or other fee is paid by either party. A large chunk of money is thereby saved, particularly for families with children.

Many home exchanges are taking place domestically and internationally, according to Lori Horne, owner of a regional operation of Intervac US, the nation's largest home exchange network. Currently, 22 regional Intervac US companies are independently owned and operated.

The network now lists about 8,300 home owner members in 28 countries. The United States has the greatest number of listings of any single country—1,700 home listings. France comes in second, followed by Britain.

"Now that the war is over and tension is eased, more U.S. home owners are again seeking an exchange abroad," Horne said. "But many exchanges are within the U.S."

Two types of household groups most actively participate in home exchanges, she pointed out. These are families with children and retired couples. They usually stay at their destination point for periods of a week to a month.

Horne's network operation, based in San Francisco, has doubled its number of members during the past three years. The regional network roster added 2,000 listings last year alone.

The network charges a flat $45 for new listings. A 20 percent discount is given to senior home owners.

In some cases, the exchange even includes use of the family car. In at least one case, use of a boat was included. Any type of arrangement can be worked out by the exchange participants.

Q. Are sales of previously owned homes picking up?

A. Markets throughout the country are inconsistent. But generally, sales activity is up and prospects for continued improvement look good, according to a recent report from the National Association of Realtors.

"The overall increase in resales indicates the housing market is improving and should pick up by the third quarter of 1991," the NAR report stated.

Q. In what areas are home prices appreciating most rapidly?

A. In recent months, only eight cities (metro areas) recorded double-digit increases in the price of homes, compared to the same time period one year ago. Four of those areas are in the Northwest.

The most dramatic appreciation in home prices was experienced in Boise, Idaho. Here, prices surged 22.5 percent. The next most rapid increase was Tacoma, Wash., where prices jumped by 14.5 percent.

Removing tile and getting steamed in the bathroom

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

HOW TO

Q. I had a 30-tile picture mural mounted with glue onto a board. Now I want to remove the tiles. How can this be done? I would appreciate any information you could give me.

A. Often heat is helpful in softening the adhesive for tile removal.

I would recommend a hair dryer, which is a fairly safe way to apply heat. However, you can also use a regular iron over a dry, soft cloth for heat application.

Once the adhesive has been softened, pry the tile away from the wood mounting.

An alternate method would be this tip one of our readers provided for the removal of wall tiles or mirror tiles. Use regular fishing line approximately 50-pound to 80-pound test. Work with another person and seesaw the line between the wood backing and the glued tiles. The line tends to cut through the glue and sever the bond.

Q. I am tired of looking into a foggy mirror while shaving in a steamed-up bathroom every morning after my shower. Do you have any suggestions?

I have tried a number of antifogging products with no luck.

A. Added ventilation is the best way to eliminate the problem.

Installing an exhaust fan, vented to the outdoors, will quickly draw off the excess vapor and moisture in the room. Leaving a window open slightly or a door ajar during showering will also help.

You may have already tried chemically treated anti-fog cloths and creams that are recommended for use on automobile windshields and mirrors. If not, these are available at many housewares, hardware and auto accessories stores.

Send inquiries to Here's How, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190. Only questions of general interest can be answered in the column.

Buyers beware of home improvement quick-fix scams

don't live in your county. I wouldn't even bother with them."

Joyce Rogers, executive director of the Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce, encourages any person with a question about a contractor to call the local chamber of commerce.

Rogers said that the phone book is the best place to start when questioning a firm's credentials. If they're not listed, don't bother, she said.

"I definitely do not think that you should even talk to them," Rogers said.

Homeowners should be on the lookout for people who just drive up and have solutions to all of a homeowner's problems. Smith said "Ask where they have done other jobs before." Smith said "If they're legitimate, they'll have them. If they're not, they'll back right down."

Some of the people may travel with women or children and ask homeowners if they can use the bathroom or get a drink of water. While the person is getting the child a drink of water, the parents are stealing from another room, he said.

"There's as many scams out there as there are people that want to pull them," Smith said.

"They're bold and brazen. Anything to get in the door."

He said that for the most part, the people have not been violent. If a homeowner is suspicious and is not interested in what's being offered, then they should just lock the door and walk away, Smith said.

Carmel Weems of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit and Eastern Michigan said that typical complaints heard at her office concern firms that did not do satisfactory work. When the office tries to check the firm out, they learn that it does not exist. If a person has questions, they can phone the bureau at (313) 644-9100.

"I don't care if you're doing a large job or a small one," Weems said. "The first thing to do is to get a list of service contractors. Get a complete address."

Any person who is doing work that will cost more than $600 will have to have a license, she said.

There have been reports of companies that started a project and never finished, Weems said.

Smith said that the main thing for consumers to remember is to think it over before writing out a check or handing over cash.

"If it sounds too good to be true, then it's not," Smith said.

Heirloom is 19th French revival

By James G. McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a chair that has been in the family for several generations.

Can you identify the period, the style and tell us the probable value? It is in very good condition.

A. This is a Victorian French Revival side chair that was made in the second quarter of the 19th century. It would probably sell in the $500 to $600 range.

Q. Can you tell me anything about a bronze statuette of a man with a hunting dog straining at his leash. It is about 19 inches tall and signed "Mene."

A. The original from which this was modeled was sculpted by Pierre Jules Mene in the late 1800s. This was probably made about 1900 and would possibly sell for $3,000 to $3,500.

Mene was a famous French sculptor.

Q. This mark is on the bottom of a teapot decorated with a picture of a rural scene.

and tell me when it was made and its value?

A. This mark was used by A.E. Gray & Co. Ltd. in Stoke, England, from 1934 to 1961. Your teapot would probably be worth about $35 to $45.

Q. We have a porcelain wall mask of a young girl wearing an orange and green scarf. It is marked "Goldscheider-Wein."

Can you identify this and estimate its value and age?

A. This was made in Vienna by the Frederick Goldscheider Co. during the mid-20th century.

Similar items are selling for $150 to $175 in good condition.

Q. I have an unusual lamp; the shade is shaped like a box and consists of leaded glass depicting bunches of grapes with leaves. The shade makes a 9-inch cube; the overall height is 13 inches.

I would like to know when it was made and its current value.

A. Your lamp was probably made between 1910 and 1920. I have seen similar lamps sell in the $500 to $600 range.

BOOK REVIEW

"Spode's Willow Pattern" by Robert Copeland, Sterling Publishing Co. Inc., 387 Park Ave. S., New York, NY 10016, $19.95 at your local bookstore.

Book provides the history of the famous Blue Willow pattern and other designs inspired by the ancient Chinese blue-and-white china. It is profusely illustrated with color and black and white.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1 per item to James G. McCollam, P.O. Box 1087, Notre Dame, IN 46556. All questions will be answered but published pictures cannot be returned.

We're still looking

We are looking for interesting or unusual homes to feature in our Creative Living section, and we need your help.

Are you particularly proud of your home? What makes it unique? What makes it of interest to your neighbors?

It could be a creative solution to a difficult problem. It could be a special room — an exercise room, sewing room, attached green house or an electronic video center. What makes your home special may be a particularly creative job of interior decorating. Or, a particularly nice job of landscaping with gardens and flowers.

Whatever it is, we'd like to hear about it. If you live in Northville or Novi, call Bob Needham at 349-1700. If you live in South Lyon or Milford, call Matt Valley at 437-2011 (South Lyon) or 685-1507 (Milford).

We won't be able to feature everybody's home, but there are a lot of creative people out there with good ideas, and we think your neighbors would like to read about them.

Vet's service is just Dandy

By LAURIE O'DELL
Special Writer

Dr. Robert Hott, owner of Dandy Acres Veterinary Clinic, may have the latest in high-tech veterinary equipment, but he's retained some of the good old-fashioned qualities that keep clients coming back.

He's friendly and he tries to explain to clients exactly what's wrong with their pet and gives them options in regard to treatment.

"I try to provide the best possible care to take care of the problem," explained Hott. "But I let them make up their mind if they can afford it. I try to incorporate them into the decision-making process."

These are a few of the reasons Dandy Acres was named the South Lyon Area Chamber of Commerce's business of the month for April.

If a client can't afford an expensive surgery or procedure, Hott will often try other options. He said it's very important to be up front about the costs and risks involved with each procedure. Hott said he always gives clients a written estimate so there's no surprise.

Dr. Hott and his wife, Karen, live in Plymouth Township. They have three children: Christopher, 9, Genevieve, 6, and Elisabeth, 4. And, not surprisingly, a family pet completes the picture. Candy is a 3-year-old Shetland sheepdog.

The clinic, at its present location at 56560 W. Ten Mile Road, was opened in 1976 by Dr. Carl Welti. Hott moved to Michigan in 1986 to work with Dr. Welti and his partner Allen Balay, and a year later Hott purchased the practice.

Hott chuckles at the name Dandy Acres. He said the name has been passed down from the first owner who started the practice at the end of World War II. The man owned a horse farm called Dandy Acres, which he named after his quarterhorse stud

Cathy Luke helps Dr. Hott clip a bird's wings

Jim Dandy.

When he started his veterinary practice on the farm, it seemed to be the logical name. Even after the practice was sold and moved to the new location the name followed.

"The name just seemed to stick," explained Hott. "I'm the fourth owner and I don't have any intention of changing it."

Dandy Acres is a full-service veterinary clinic which offers many services, including radiology, endoscopy, vaccinations, dentistry, orthopedic and soft tissue surgery.

The facility actually has two businesses under one roof. Hott's practice is a clinic for dogs, cats and birds. Oakland Equine Center, a full-service inpatient horse hospital, is also located in the building.

Hott employs a second veterinarian, Dr. Janet Warner, two veterinary technicians and two receptionists. Technicians Deanna Goley and Cathy Luke are the equivalent of registered nurses in human medicine. Hott diagnoses illnesses, prescribes medication, conducts surgeries and examinations and administers vaccines. The technicians do all the lab work, x-rays, anesthesia, and monitoring of the animals.

"A lot of veterinarians hire technicians and they end up doing receptionist work," said Hott. "I let them do what they're trained to do. This keeps things working efficiently and keeps things moving."

Hott said he tries to put the clinic's profits back into the business by purchasing the most up-to-date equipment available. He recently purchased a new anesthesia machine and upgraded his intensive care cage. This piece of equipment is used for oxygen and supplemental heat. The old one was only big enough to handle a 15-pound dog. The new one can handle larger dogs up to a 40 or 50 pounds.

One of the time savers in the office is a new blood chemistry machine. It can do 12 blood tests at a time in 20 minutes flat.

Another item Hott said he couldn't do without is the computer system he bought five years ago. He uses the computer to print appointment reminders, mailing labels and mailings about new vaccines or products.

"It's a real time saver," said Hott. "There's very little paper work involved. It keeps good patient records and updates them on a daily basis."

Legible prescription labels are another big benefit. Doctors are notorious for having bad handwriting and the computer eliminates uncertainty.

"They're complete and easy to read," explained Hott. "Clients can easily make out warning labels."

Dr. Hott is also pretty proud of his automatic film processor.

"It takes minutes, where it used to take a half hour to develop x-rays by hand," said Hott.

The only "old" piece of equipment in the clinic is a 20-year-old human x-ray machine. Hott has it checked yearly and has been told it works better than the new machines.

Along with maintaining quality service, Hott said he strives to keep his charge fair.

"Most MDs make four times as much as veterinarians," said Hott. "I charge about $45 on average for an office visit. This time of year it might be a little more because clients are bringing in their pets for heartworm shots. I think clients get a good bargain for what they get."

FINANCING AND OPTIONAL EXTENDED WARRANTY AVAILABLE

Examine your mortgage options before buying

Which would be best for you? A 10.5 percent fixed-rate mortgage with a 15-year term and two and a half points or a 9 percent adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM) with two points and a 2 percent a year rate cap? Or how about a seven-year extendable balloon mortgage at 10 percent with guaranteed refinancing?

If you don't have the slightest idea, take heart. The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants has provided this brief guide into mortgage options.

FIXED-RATE MORTGAGES

A fixed-rate mortgage is a long-term (15 to 30 years) mortgage with an interest rate that remains stable for the life of the loan. With a fixed-rate mortgage, you know in advance how much your monthly mortgage payment for principal and interest will be for the life of the loan. However, this peace of mind comes with a price tag. Fixed-rate mortgages usually have a higher interest rate and monthly payment than adjustable rate mortgages.

If you plan to stay in your home for many years and want to lock in a favorable rate, a conventional fixed-rate mortgage is usually a wise choice. What's more, you always have the option of refinancing the mortgage if interest rates drop significantly.

ADJUSTABLE-RATE MORTGAGES

An ARM is a loan with an interest rate that increases or decreases at specified intervals. Interest-rate changes are generally tied to the rate on Treasury securities or some other cost-of-funds index. Most ARMs come with an interest rate cap that limits interest increases to no more than 2 percentage points a year to six points over the life of a mortgage.

Since ARMs present a lower risk to lenders, banks are willing to offer these loans at a lower interest rate than fixed mortgages. This means you may be able to qualify for a larger loan. But remember that your interest rate—and monthly payment—will change over the term of the loan. In fact, at the first adjustment date, your interest rate and monthly payment will usually move up to the non-discounted level.

Before you select an ARM, you need to weigh a number of factors:

how much you can afford to pay each month, what your future earning prospects are, how long you plan to stay in your home, how you feel about fluctuating payments and where you think interest rates are headed.

The case for ARMs is strongest if you plan to remain in your home for a relatively short period since a lower initial rate usually saves money over the short term. ARMs are best suited to home buyers who can afford the risks that come with an adjustable interest rate and for borrowers whose income is likely to keep pace with inflation.

If your only decision was whether to choose a fixed or adjustable mortgage, selecting a mortgage would be a lot simpler process than it is.

Here's a quick run-down of some of the other options you may encounter.

OTHER MORTGAGE OPTIONS

● Fifteen-Year Loan: To dramatically reduce the amount of interest you pay over the life of a mortgage and to build equity rapidly, consider a 15-year loan. Monthly payments are roughly 20 percent higher than those on a 30-year mortgage, with more of each payment going toward the principal. A 15-year loan may also carry a slightly lower interest rate than a 30-year loan, but you will need greater income to qualify.

Of course, if a traditional 30-year mortgage does not contain a prepayment penalty, you can basically reap the same benefits by making extra payments toward the principal. Just add the amount you wish to apply toward the principal to your regular payment, and add a note to the lender stating your intention.

● Biweekly Mortgage: This type of mortgage is similar to the standard 30-year fixed-rate mortgage, except that the lender requires a payment every two weeks. For example, instead of making a $1,000 payment each month, you make a $500 payment every two weeks. When you pay your mortgage biweekly, you make the equivalent of an extra month's payment each year. Surprisingly, that extra payment means you can pay off your loan in 21 years instead of 30 years.

● Seven-Year Extendable Balloon Mortgage:

Balloon mortgages have a series of equal monthly payments and a large final payment. The interest rate is set lower than a conventional 30-year mortgage and monthly payments are calculated as if you had a 30-year mortgage. When the mortgage comes due in seven years, you can pay it off, or extend its term for 23 years at the market rate, or re-finance with another bank. These balloons have no rate caps so if interest rates soar in seven years, so will your monthly costs if you don't pay off the loan. This loan is best suited for buyers who expect to move before the balloon payment is due or for those who expect to collect a large lump-sum retirement benefit in time to pay off the loan. In general, these types of mortgages are most common with buyers of commercial properties, such as shopping malls.

● Graduated Payment Mortgages: These mortgages are designed for buyers who cannot afford a conventional adjustable rate mortgage, but who expect to be able to make larger monthly payments in the future. During the early years, payments are relatively low. Later payments are structured to rise over a set period, say five or 10 years and then remain constant for the duration of the loan. The principal balance grows during the early years of the loan resulting in negative amortization. Negative amortization means you actually owe the lender more than you originally borrowed.

● Convertible ARMs: These adjustable-rate mortgages can be converted to a fixed-rate mortgage during a specified period. These loans combine the advantages of adjustable rate mortgages with the opportunity to convert to a fixed rate if interest rates drop. Normally, convertible ARMs carry higher initial rates and conversion conditions must be met to qualify.

CPAs point out that the right mortgage for you depends on your personal circumstances. But with the many variations that are available today, most lenders can help you tailor a mortgage to fit your needs.

Vet offers Dandy service

Hott said he has to strike a balance between reasonable fees and making ends meet.

"It's still a business and we have bills to pay," said Hott. "The people are supportive and they send their friends here. We estimate we have a 23 percent rate of growth per year."

Health insurance plans for pets are one way clients can minimize costs. But according to Hott, the idea hasn't caught on yet because vet bills haven't reached the point where they can wipe a family out financially.

"I would hope it doesn't become necessary to purchase insurance policies," said Hott. "I don't want things to get that bad."

If there is one aspect of the business Hott can improve, he said it's cutting the waiting time.

"This seems to be the one complaint I hear," said Hott. "And we're trying to remedy this by not booking as heavily."

If an appointment runs over Hott says he never tries to hustle the next client out the door to keep on schedule.

"I give them my full attention," said Hott. "Clients can help by coming on time. Even being 15 minutes late can screw up the schedule."

Hott said another challenge for all veterinarians is getting good staff and keeping them.

"I pay a better-than-competitive wage to keep my staff," said Hott

"That philosophy seems to be working. April and May are the busiest times of year and this is the first time everyone has been here over a year going into our busy season. Usually I have to deal with trying to train someone during the busy season."

Hott said the veterinary business can be very rewarding, but tough at times.

"We know how to do more than many people can afford," explained Hott. "We have the medical knowledge and capability to do more. But that's changing a little bit. The trend seems to be the pet is becoming part of the family. People get very attached to their pet. For some, pets are a child substitute."

GARAGE SALE: The Northville Merchants' Association announces a local garage sale in conjunction with its annual sidewalk sale Aug. 2 and 3.

Residents of Northville and Northville Township are invited to reserve a space for this big event by stopping in at one of the stores listed below. $3 of each $10 collected for spaces will be donated to a local charity. Spaces will be on a first-come, first-served and will be in one of three locations in the downtown area. For more information or to sign up come to Traditions, 111 N. Center; Mountain Rags, 109 N. Center; or the Shipping Station, 136 N. Center.

DR. SVEN ZETHELIUS, has joined Psychotherapy and Counseling Services Inc. as the psychiatric director. Zethelius is a resident of Northville.

He is board certified in psychiatry and he is a member of the American Psychiatric Association, the American Medical Association, the Michigan Psychiatric Society and the Alliance for Mental Health.

In his new position, he will supervise staff, perform psychiatric evaluations, prescribe treatment for psychiatric disorders, as well as provide ongoing psychotherapy for patients. Zethelius completed his residency at Detroit Psychiatric Institute in Detroit and is an associate professor in Wayne State University's department of psychiatry. He is also on staff at Ardmore Hospital in Livonia.

In addition to Zethelius' role as a specialist in the mental health field, he brings to the clinic his experience an expertise in the field of substance abuse and chemical dependency.

Psychotherapy and Counseling Services Inc. is a Northville-based outpatient clinic providing psychological counseling and substance abuse treatment services. The clinic is licensed and accredited by our state's Office of Substance Abuse Services. On-site services include assessment; individual, marital and group counseling; psychiatric consultation and psychological testing. For more information, call Arnold Keller, Director at 348-1100.

DR. SUSAN LAURENT, pediatrician at the University of Michigan M-Care Health Center in Northville, has been named Media and Public Relations Spokesperson for the Michigan chapter of the American Academy of Pediatricians (AAP). Laurent was selected for the position from over 200 applicants throughout Michigan.

Laurent's new responsibilities include acting as spokesperson for the chapter; seeking pediatric news items and disseminating them through various media vehicles such as news releases or letters-to-the-editor columns; and serving as liaison between the local chapter and the national affiliate.

Laurent joined the staff at the University of Michigan M-Care Health Center in 1988. The Center is located at 650 Griswold.

A Michigan native, Laurent received her undergraduate and medical degrees from Wayne State University in Detroit. She completed her residency training at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. She is currently on staff at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

MANUFACTURERS NATIONAL BANK OF DETROIT announced several recent officer promotions and appointments. Among them was Novi resident Michael R. Murray of Novi, who was named second vice president and operations officer in the operations-administration department.

JAMES R. KOHL, Northville City Attorney, has been elected a director of the 18,000 member Defense Research Institute (DRI), the nation's largest association of defense trial lawyers.

Kohl, 47, is director and secretary/treasurer of Plunkett and Cooney in Detroit, a 150-member law firm with offices throughout Michigan. He and his family reside in Northville.

He previously served as vice president of DRI's central region and on several DRI committees.

He is a founder and past president of the Michigan Defense Trial

RE/MAX 100 INC., associate brokers Randall Russell and Rachel Rion were each awarded membership into the prestigious 1990 RE/MAX 100 Percent Club at the recent 12th Annual RE/MAX Detroit Metro Awards Ceremony.

To become a member of the RE/MAX 100 Percent Club, an associate must have real estate sales volumes greater than $3.4 million. RE/MAX 100 Inc. is located at 39500 Orchard Hill Place in Novi. The phone number is 348-3000.

RE/MAX is an international real estate firm with more than 27,000 real estate associates working out of nearly 1,800 independently owned and operated offices. It is the largest real estate franchise in Canada and the second largest in the United States. RE/MAX currently has 21 offices in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties. In all of Michigan, RE/MAX has a total of more than 725 real estate associates working out of 78 offices.

Gov. John Engler on Friday announced eight appointments to the Michigan Board of Real Estate Appraisers. The six professional appointees include E. Roger Everett, of Novi.

Other appointees are Thomas Keipert, John Meyer, Beverly Stanton, Charles Swanson and Richard Southern. The two appointees representing the public are Kimberly Miles and Robert Thompson. The Commission members are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. This Board was formed in accordance with Federal law, requiring all states to begin licensing real estate appraisers. The purpose of the licensure statute is to ensure no bank or savings and loan can make a real property loan without an appraisal made by a state-regulated real estate appraiser.

Everett is Senior Vice President and Chief Appraiser of Fireman's Fund Mortgage Corporation. He received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the Detroit Institute of Technology. He holds the Member Appraisal Institute (MAI) designation of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers and the SREA designation of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers. Everett is past president of both the Michigan Chapter of the Appraisal Institute and the Southeast Michigan Chapter of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers. He is presently the American Institute's Legislative Coordinator for the State of Michigan. Everett has been appointed for a term ending July 1, 1994.

Challenge balloons to fill Howell sky

The sight of dozens of multi-colored and fancifully shaped hot air balloons launching into the clear summer sky is a sight never to be forgotten. The imagination soars with the balloons as they float effortlessly, stringing out along the skyline, headed for a destination only the wind knows.

Be part of this excitement at the Michigan Challenge Balloonfest when more than 50 pilots compete for the state championship of hot-air ballooning and fill the skies over Howell with color and spectacle.

This year's Michigan Challenge VII will be on June 21, 22 and 23 at the Howell High School Complex, just west of Historic Downtown Howell.

Host for this annual event is the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce. First of America Bank is proud to be the major sponsor of the balloonfest, and Citizens Insurance Co. of America and Ball Park Franks are supporting sponsors.

Weather permitting, there will be three mass balloon launches from the balloonfest site, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Early birds can arrive just after dawn on Saturday and Sunday to enjoy watching the pilots compete as they fly in to the site.

Last year's spectators got an eyeful as Pepe, the world's only flying penguin, competed at the Challenge for the first time. Pepe is back again this year, sponsored by Ball Park Franks, and piloted by Jim Birk.

All the way from Tyndall, S.D., by way of Leningrad, Russia, is Matryoshka, a 135-foot high balloon shaped like a Russian nesting doll. She will be piloted by the internationally known pilot Jacques Soukup, who has the largest privately owned collection of specially shaped balloons in the world.

In addition, more than 50 nationally and locally ranked pilots will be competing for the Michigan Challenge trophy and thousands of dollars in cash and prizes.

American Airlines is providing a special prize of two tickets to Paris to one lucky pilot. Spectators will be able to win two tickets to anywhere American Airlines flies in the continental United States, Mexico or the Caribbean. More information on how to win this prize is on each vehicle parking pass.

It's liftoff time for the Michigan Challenge hot-air balloon festival

But the balloons are the centerpiece to an entire weekend of fun and excitement.

The Windjammers stunt kite team will dazzle the crowd with their colorful two-line kites, performing synchronized maneuvers at speeds of up to 70 mph. The team first appeared at the Challenge last year and the enthusiastic crowd reaction has ensured them a place at the Balloonfest for many years to come. The Windjammers are sponsored by Columbia Cable.

New this year is the Medieval Village. Visitors can stroll through a recreated village from the middle ages, with characters dressed and speaking as if it were a thousand years ago. There will be the clash of sword fighting, ladies and gentlemen dancing, and authentic ancient crafts demonstrated.

Visitors can enjoy a balloonist's eye view of the event by taking a helicopter ride. Or ride the ferris wheel at the carnival.

For those who wish to keep their feet on the ground, there will be a huge arts and craft show on Saturday and Sunday, as well as an antique and custom car show featuring dozens of shiny vehicles.

And in Historic Downtown Howell there will be great entertainment and shopping. The annual "Inflation Sale" will begin at 5 a.m. (yes, a.m., that's not a misprint) Saturday morning with prices slashed as much as 50 percent.

There will be a fine art show on Friday afternoon and evening downtown, capped by a balloon glow as dusk falls. Saturday the Courthouse amphitheater will be the site of continual entertainment for downtown visitors.

Then there's food, entertainment and special surprises all weekend long at the launch site. All in all, enough to entertain the most demanding fun-seeker, whether or not he wants to keep his feet on the ground or put his head in the clouds.

57 hot-air balloon pilots to zero in on targets

Balloon "races" have nothing to do with how fast or how far a balloon travels. Competitive ballooning events like the Michigan Challenge judge pilots on how well they can use wind currents and altitude to steer their balloons to a specific target.

When at the target, the pilot will toss a numbered baggie onto the target, aiming to be as close to the center as possible.

This year, 57 balloon pilots will compete for the beautiful Michigan Challenge VII trophy, cash, merchandise and, compliments of American Airlines, two tickets to Paris.

Don Butler

Last year's Michigan Challenge champion, Don Butler of Milan, will be back defending his title in "Jelly Bean."

The Balloon Federation of America sanctions Michigan Challenge races. This means successful competitors are awarded points by the BFA that are used towards national ranking.

Balloonists will compete in various events such as Judge Declared Goal, Hare and Hound, and CNT (controlled navigational trajectory). The type of competition will depend on the weather conditions and will be determined by Balloonmeister Jim Birk prior to each launch. Spectators should listen for competition announcer Tom Maynard, who will fill in the crowd on the details of each flight.

Weather conditions determine if the balloons will fly at all. High or gusty winds are the enemy of balloon flights. Balloon launches and fly-ins are conducted in the early evening and at dawn because that is when the winds are the most calm. Winds over 12 mph, rain or lightning will keep the balloons grounded. Listen to station WHMI (1350 AM and 93.5 FM) for the latest weather conditions and launch information throughout Michigan Challenge weekend.

Downtown comes alive with activities

Historic Downtown Howell will be abuzz with activities Friday and Saturday of Balloonfest weekend.

The beautiful Livingston County Courthouse in the center of town will be the setting for most of the fun that will range from art shows, to juggling, to a balloon glow.

But don't forget great shopping, especially the very early morning Inflation Sale coordinated by the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce retailers group.

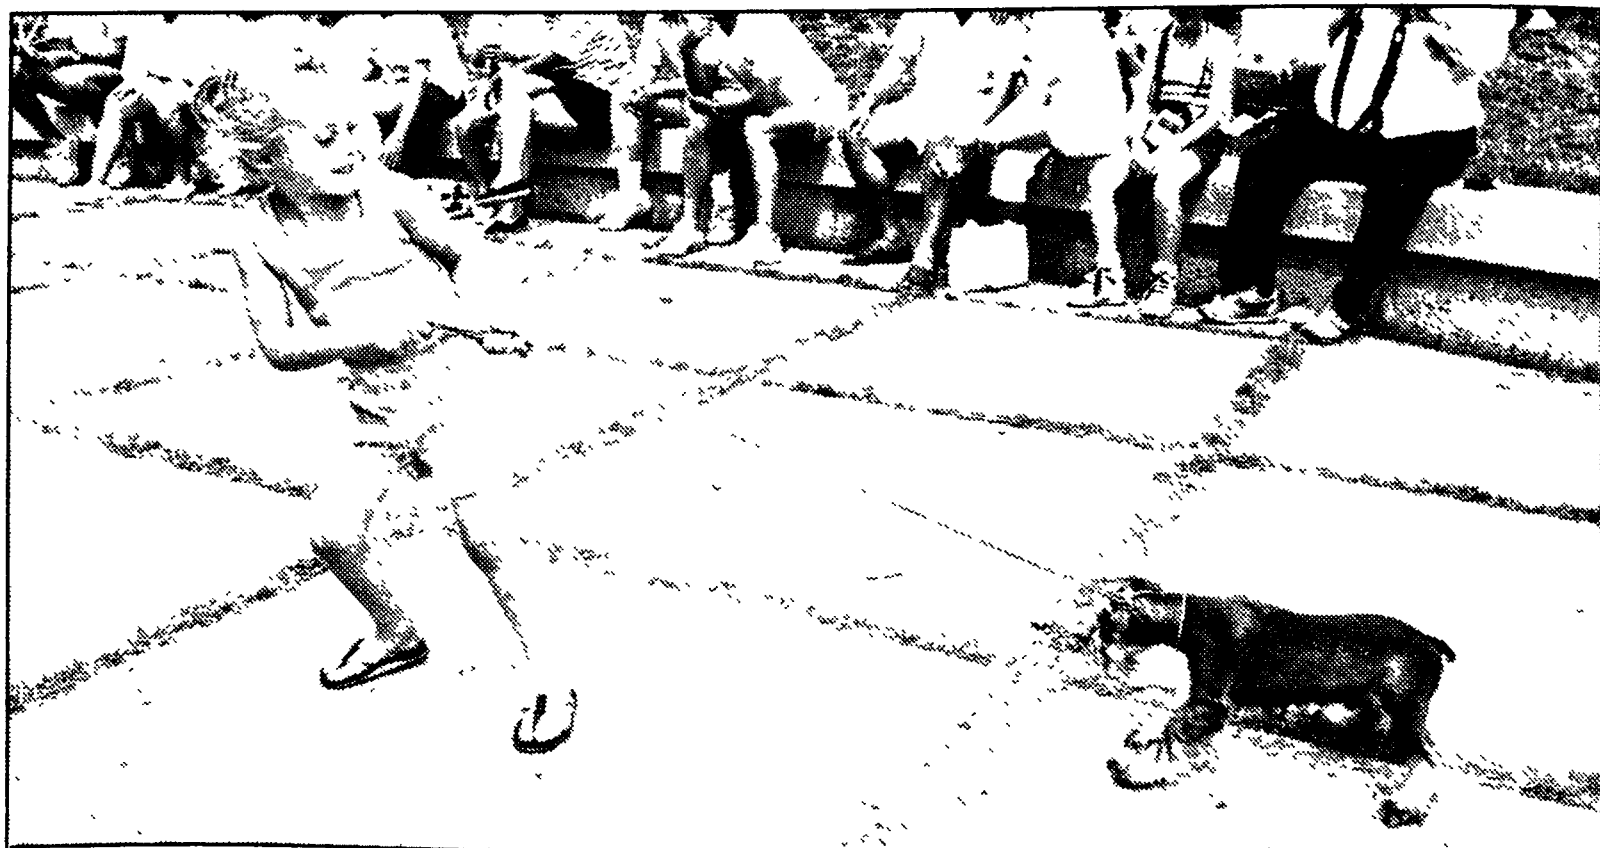

This fun-filled sale hauls people out of bed at ridiculously early hours and has become an annual event during Balloonfest weekend. As the pilots inflate their balloons to compete at the launch site, merchants deflate their prices drastically, beginning with 50 percent reductions at 5 a.m.

That's right, 5 a.m., as in very early morning. The earlier shoppers arrive the greater the discounts, because at 6 a.m., discounts are 40 percent, 7 a.m., 30 percent, etc. So sleep can be costly.

Downtown events start Friday with some very special art shows.

Ugly Art Show

Downtown entertainment begins

Art collectors with a good sense of humor who are interested in both the beautiful and the bizarre can walk by and list their name and phone number along with the bid they are willing to make on the "object d'art." At 5 p.m. the highest bidder will take home his "treasure."

beautiful setting for the Fine Art Show from 3-9 p.m. Friday. Local artists will display their works, while wandering musicians entertain. There will be finger food refreshments and a supervised children's art and story area.

More Entertainment

The local musical group "Not Afraid" will entertain at the courthouse amphitheater from 8-10 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Their music is a mixture of 60s and 70s light rock and folk with plenty of audience participation and comedy.

Balloon Glow

Weather permitting, Jim Lykin's "Kids at Play" balloon and Howard Steele's "Ocean Fantasy" balloon will inflate at the amphitheater and glow as darkness falls Friday evening. Visitors are urged to bring cameras for this rare and beautiful spectacle.

After everyone shops until they drop at the Inflation Sale on Saturday morning, activities center around the historic Livingston County Courthouse. All day long there will be an animal petting zoo and adoption area, a children's area with an assortment of activities for the little ones and entertainment by Petals the Clown and her students. In addition, the following attractions are scheduled:

Fun Run/Walk

The American Cancer Society "Making Strides" 5K fun run/walk will begin at the courthouse parking lot. This non-competitive move-along-a-thon welcomes walkers, runners, bikers, roller skaters or those in wheelchairs—any non-motorized form of transportation. Participants will raise money for the Cancer Society and win prizes. A minimum of $25 raised earns you a Making Strides T-shirt.

Antique Auction

Auctioneer Tim Narhi will conduct his auction of antiques, collectibles, furniture and farm items at 10 a.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Kiddie Parade

New this year is the Disney Kiddie Parade at 10 a.m. Starting in the parking lot behind the courthouse, it will continue on the sidewalk to the amphitheater where celebrity judges will give awards for the best use of Disney theme, a Mayor's Award and Most Unique. Entries may be bikes, strollers, buggies, wagons and wheelbarrows. There will be ribbons for all participants. This event is limited to children ages 3 to 10 years.

Zeemo the Magnificent

Back for an encore performance, Zeemo will perform his yo-yo, juggling and magic tricks at the amphitheater at 11 a.m. This is big fun for children of all ages. Spectators should bring their yo-yos along.

Dog Show

At noon it's time for the third annual Balloonfest Dog Show at the courthouse amphitheater. Prizes will be awarded for the smallest dog, largest dog, best costumed dog, owner-pet look-alike, most spots, ugliest dog and dog who performs the best tricks. Dog owners should be 12 and under.

Coney Eating Contest

Now that everyone is hungry, it's time for Fat Dale's coney eating contest. Spectators will try to beat the record: nine Ball Park Frank coneys in 17 minutes. There will be two divisions and a prize of a $25 gift certificate from Fat Dale's in each.

First of America helps improve our life

First of America Bank-Livingston is committed to the economic development in the Livingston County communities its six offices serve. Its 87 employees are equally committed to improving the quality of life of their families and neighbors.

First of America Bank provides the loans Livingston County businesses need to grow and succeed, the mortgages residents need to finance their homes, and other loans for autos, boats, appliances, education and other consumer needs.

As one of the safest banks in the United States, First of America Bank-Livingston is an institution where consumers can deposit their savings, confident that the bank will be here to help them achieve their financial goals.

The bank, with $140 million in assets, is optimistic about Livingston County's future as evidenced by the construction of its seventh office scheduled to open in late summer.

Its employees participate fully in Livingston County life through their involvement in a diverse blend of community organizations and events. These range from the bank's being the sole sponsor of the American Cancer Society golf outing to its support of the Special Olympics.

Leading the bank is Henry A. Hess, president and chief executive officer. He and the bank's management consult regularly with the bank's board of directors, composed of Livingston County business and community leaders, to determine how best to meet the county's financial services needs.

"The employees and directors of First of America are proud to join in sponsoring Michigan Challenge VII," Hess said. "It's great fun and we enjoy celebrating this event with our friends and neighbors."

Under the name of Alex McPherson and Sons, William McPherson founded what today is First of America Bank-Livingston in 1865. At the end of its first year of operations, it recorded $15,724 in deposits. In 1915 the McPherson bank was incorporated as a state bank.

It took its current name in 1987 upon becoming a part of First of America Bank Corporation. The corporation, headquartered in Kalamazoo, serves 300 communities in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois through a network of more than 450 offices.

As the 42nd largest bank holding company in the United States, based on its year-end assets of $14 billion, the company ranks in the top 10 for

Enjoy your stay in Howell

It's Michigan Challenge Balloonfest time again and the City of Howell is delighted to welcome the thousands of visitors and participants who will visit our area during this colorful and exciting weekend.

We are proud to have the opportunity to showcase our city during this wonderful event, the state championship of hot-air ballooning. We hope you will take advantage of all that historic Howell has to offer during your stay here.

Congratulations to the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce and its Michigan Challenge Committee for its hard work in putting together another outstanding balloonfest, Michigan Challenge VII.

With personal regards, earnings growth, and its loan portfolio is consistently rated among the soundest in the industry.

Community banking is the underlying philosophy that has supported First of America stability, growth and profitability since the holding company was formed in 1971.

At First of America, community banking means keeping business and lending decisions close to the customer, pricing products fairly, adding value to products by providing quality service, and lending the deposits accepted at community offices to the businesses and consumers in those same communities.

By sharing technology, operating systems, marketing and training, First of America Bank-Livingston and 28 other affiliate banks draw on the resources of one of the Midwest's largest banking companies to fill the unique needs of their markets.

Windjammers stunt kite crew to captivate crowd

Last year, they took over the Michigan Challenge launch field by storm, captivating spectators with their bright colors and airborne maneuvers. They dove, they swooped, they danced to music.

This year, the stunt kites are back.

If you missed them last year, now is your chance to see the exciting Windjammers stunt kite team in performance at Michigan Challenge VII on June 22-23. Sponsored by Columbia Cable, the team will put on a breathtaking air show at 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday that, for people unfamiliar with stunt kiting, will redefine the word "kite."

Picture a kite drawing a perfect square in the sky . . . or strafing the ground after a breathtaking controlled power dive . . . or a "train" of 10 kites performing in unison to music.

The Windjammers—Aaron Harris, Gary Maynard and Nate Williams—have appeared around the country in kite competitions and shows. The Windjammers began flying together in 1983 when their mutual interest in stunt kite flying brought them together.

And what kite flying it is. The team flies all types of two-line stunt kites, but they specialize in spectacular stunt kite trains.

These trains don't run on rails. Rather, they are 10 multi-colored stunt kites, each with a 45-foot tail, harnessed together and controlled by a single team member.

When the Windjammers launch all three trains at once—30 kites in all—it's an eye-popping performance of synchronized kite flying excitement.

But spectators don't have to just watch—they can get their hands on a stunt kite and learn to perform some of the basic maneuvers themselves.

Ray Hanchett of Rider's Hobby Shop in Lansing will be coordinating open stunt kiting on the launch field on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Hanchett, along with other experienced fliers, will have stunt kites available and allow "hands-on" participation by visitors. Have your own stunt kite? Bring it along.

And the Windjammers, who have never been known to stand by and just watch kite flying, will be sure to take the field during open kiting to give some tips—and maybe show off just a bit.

After watching stunt kiting at the hands of one of these professionals, spectators will no longer think kiting is just standing around watching a pretty speck of color in the sky.

Volunteers put forth 12-month effort

As soon as the last balloon lands during Michigan Challenge VII, work will begin on next year's balloon festival. And without the help of the hundreds of volunteers and a small group of committee chairpeople, the Michigan Challenge Balloonfest could never be a reality.

"It's literally a 12-month effort," explained Lee Reeves, Howell Area Chamber of Commerce executive director. "We are fortunate to have a group of committed individuals, many of whom have worked on the Challenge for years."

The volunteers are headed up by the Michigan Challenge committee, chaired by Carolyn Barley of the Howell Public Schools. She has been involved with the Balloonfest since 1986. Her husband, Jim, serves on the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Jack Arensberg chairs the Antique and Custom Car Show for the second year. He is president of Midland Corrosion Materials.

Steve Barlow, superintendent of buildings and grounds for Howell Public Schools, chairs the site committee. This is his fourth year on the Balloonfest committee.

William Bettis of Bettis Insurance chairs the parking committee and is responsible for the massive job of parking the thousands of cars that visit the Challenge.

Jean Browne, transportation supervisor for Howell Public Schools is in her first year as chair of the Arts and Crafts Show, one of the largest attractions at the Michigan Challenge.

Sandie Cortez, who owns First Impression Printing with her husband, Don, is in charge of all the signs for the event. Don is also serving as a parking gate captain.

Robert Kilpatrick of Adia Personnel Services is in his first year as food concession chairperson. He'll make sure everyone has plenty to eat during the Michigan Challenge.

Victor Lopez, owner of Active Bookkeeping Service, keeps the books for the Balloonfest, as head of the finance committee.

Robert Mack of McPherson Hospital has served on the committee for four years, coordinating the hospital's active involvement in the festival.

Martha McKenzie of the Howell Carnegie Library coordinates site activities, souvenirs and the information booths at the Michigan Challenge with her husband Jerry. This is her seventh year on the committee.

Mike and Mary Nadeau of Howell have both been involved in the Balloonfest since its inception. They are in charge of setting up sound systems and coordinating non-food vendors for the event.

Kay Pless is hospitality chairperson for the Michigan Challenge. She sees that the pilots are well fed and that the VIP room is well-stocked with refreshments.

Barry L. Rutter, a lieutenant with the City of Howell Police Department, acts as liaison between the city and the chamber. He also is in charge of carnival activities. This is his seventh year on the committee.

Pam Rietsch, the area's Welcome Wagon representative, coordinates pilot activities and handles publicity. This is her seventh year on the committee.

Charlene Sinelli, owner of Howell Travel Service, serves the chamber board of directors and has the job of managing all the special events in historic downtown Howell during Balloonfest. Charlene is joined in the downtown effort this year by Sue Considine, who works in the dental office of Dr. Gary DiStefano.

Dick Rudlaff of Pontiac is the event's competition director and has been in that position since Michigan Challenge I in 1985. He also is a well-known pilot, who will be flying in the Michigan Challenge.

Russian nesting doll balloon appears here

Matrioshka, the brilliantly colored Russian nesting doll, will float over the Livingston County landscape as the newest and most exciting entry in the Michigan Challenge.

What's a Russian nesting doll? Remember as a child playing with a smooth shaped, armless doll that opened up, revealing a second doll, an exact duplicate only smaller, inside? And that second doll could open up revealing a third, and so on?

Jacques Soukup of Tyndall, S.D., has recreated this popular folk doll as a huge hot-air balloon, 135 feet tall. The balloon was actually commissioned by Soukup to celebrate the 100-year anniversary of the doll. She had her maiden flight in May of 1990 in Leningrad, U.S.S.R.

Soukup is one of ballooning's most well-known figures. As the owner of the largest privately-owned fleet of special shaped balloons, he has delighted children and adults alike with Matrioshka, Uncle Sam, Chesty the Marine bulldog and other fanciful hot-air balloons. His love for ballooning inspired he and his partner, Kirk S. Thomas, to open the Soukup and Thomas Balloon Museum in Tyndall.

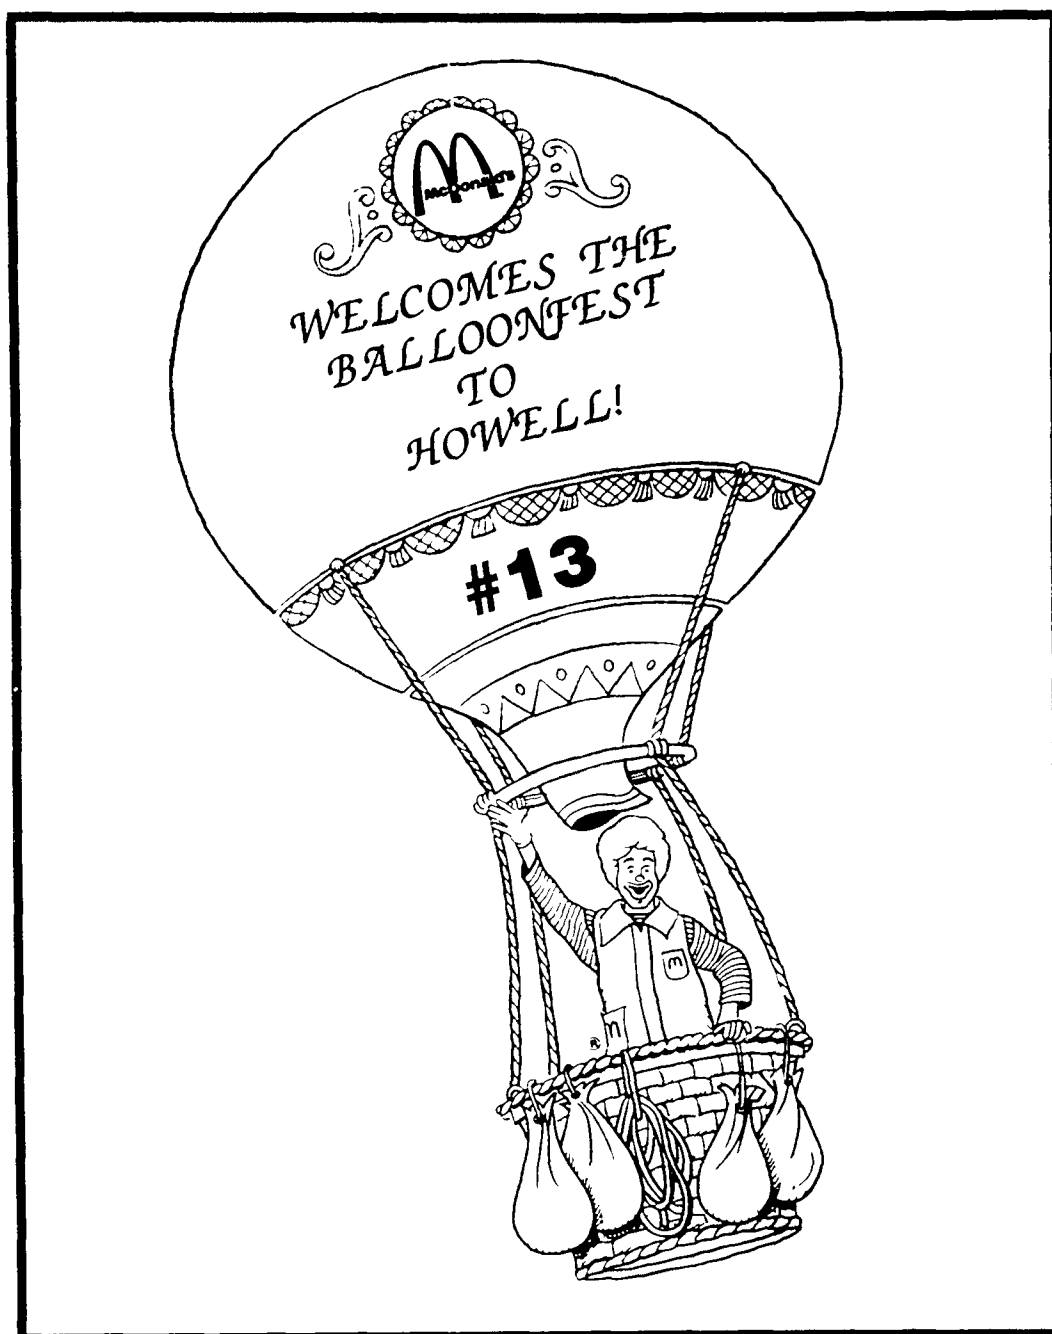

Soukup has extensive international balloon experience with over 1,400 hours in both hot air and gas balloons. He served as president of the Balloon Federation of America from 1989 to 1990 and is currently an at-large member of the BFA Board of Directors.

He holds a number of ballooning records for distance and duration in special shaped hot air balloons. With two passengers, he flew "Chic-I-Boom," the Carmen Miranda look-alike balloon (complete with fruit on her head), from Wales, across the Severn Estuary into England for a total of 98 kilometers in 3 hours and 35 minutes.

Balloonfest 'voice' adds color to event

Tom Maynard is the voice of the Michigan Challenge.

Anyone who's attended a Challenge since the first one in 1985 is familiar with event announcer Tom Maynard's rich voice echoing over the launch field. Maynard will be back this year, entertaining and informative, and sponsored by McPherson Hospital.

He knows ballooning and balloonists and has entertained and informed Michigan Challenge audiences for seven years. Pilots know that when they come to Howell they'll fly before a well-educated, savvy audience. It's an audience that has learned much of what it knows about the sport of ballooning from Tom Maynard.

Maynard wasn't always a ballooning expert. It all started when he and two others organized a small ballooning event in Avon Hill, Mich., as a fund-raiser for a local charity. It was the early days of ballooning in the late 70s. He had never been in a balloon, or even seen one close up.

Maynard had experience in radio and became the event announcer. "All my balloon knowledge for that first event came from a couple of manufacturer's brochures and what I could shovel," he jokes.

It was unusual then for a smaller event to have an announcer, but it added a great deal to the enjoyment of the spectators and soon he began to get offers for his services at other rallies throughout the Midwest.

Then Dick Rudlaff invited him to Howell for a little ballooning event he was starting in 1985.

"From the first year," he says, "Howell was a delight. And it hasn't changed."

He loves walking downtown and enjoying the little shops and restaurants. He particularly enjoys the "family" atmosphere of the Michigan Challenge. Most pilots bring their families along for a weekend of fun, and Maynard expects his children—Shannon, Douglas and Kelly—to be with him this year.

For the third year in a row, he will be the voice of the U.S. Nationals in Baton Rouge, La., on July 26. He has a number of other ballooning events booked, large and small.

"I've done all sizes and shapes of events," he says. "Everything from 10 balloons in a farmer's field to 200 balloons with one-quarter of a million spectators when I announced the World Championships."

Maynard is a maintenance engineer with Cintas, "the uniform people," in Madison Heights. He lives in Royal Oak.

He speaks lovingly of the balloon he once owned, "Sunny," a yellow, red and burgundy Raven. Sometimes he'd like to own another balloon and bring it to Howell, not to compete, but to let spectators get close to it and "get the smell of wicker in their noses."

With all the ballooning events he announces, you'd think Tom Maynard would fly quite a bit. "I only fly one or two times a year," he admits.

"But ballooning has been very good to me," he confides. "It's provided me with the greatest stories in the world."

If spectators keep listening during Michigan Challenge weekend, they just might hear some.

New map to guide pilots

A new, improved map will aid pilots this year in their quest for the Michigan Challenge championship.

Working with the Balloonfest committee, Progressive Architects, Engineers, Planners of Brighton has developed a topographical map that covers Livingston County. This map will greatly aid pilots in navigation during the weekend.

A system of grids over the map will allow pilots to better pinpoint landing and launch sites, as well as avoid those areas that are restricted for landing.

Progressive also developed a detailed site map for the Balloonfest grounds that is being used on signs and in this tabloid program for the convenience of spectators. The map also aids the committee in planning and mapping out new and existing attractions for the Michigan Challenge.

MCI long-distance is free

Make a free telephone call to your old roommate in Geneva . . . Call Cousin Pearl in Nebraska . . . Call Mom in New Jersey.

About the only one you won't be able to call free is E.T. when MCI Communications brings its popular Calling Center tent to the Balloonfest again this year.

Located near the main Balloonfest information booth, MCI encourages all spectators to make a free three- to five-minute long distance phone calls anywhere in the world.

McPherson hosts great chili festival

McPherson Hospital brings "The Great All American Chili Festival" to the Michigan Challenge VII Balloonfest.

McPherson Hospital is spicing up the "vittles" at this year's Michigan Challenge Balloonfest with its introduction of "The Great All American Chili Festival."

At McPherson's Great All American Chili Festival, you can tempt your taste buds with one, two or three alarm chili, Ball Park hot dogs, chili dogs, pop and nachos, all flavored with the sounds of Country Western and Mexican mariachi music.

The Great All American Chili Festival will be featured all three days of the Balloonfest, June 21-23, in the hospital's striped tent overlooking the Balloonfest launch site.

Staffed by McPherson Hospital employees and volunteers to raise money for the 1991-92 Annual Appeal, the Great All American Chili Festival will be serving from 4 to 9 p.m. on Friday and from noon to 9 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

A collection of prized chili recipes and other related Tex-Mex edibles will also be available for a contribution.

McPherson Hospital, which serves the 100,000 residents of Livingston County through the hospital in Howell and the McAuley/McPherson Health Building in Brighton, is a unit of Catherine McAuley Health System of Ann Arbor.

McPherson Hospital was a major sponsor of the Michigan Challenge for the past three years and has been a Balloonfest participant and supporter since the event's inception seven years ago.

Hot diggity! Hygrade sponsors fest again

Hygrade Food Products Associates is proud to once again help sponsor the Michigan Challenge VII Balloonfest and to have Ball Park Franks return as the official hot dog of the event.

Hygrade, headquartered in Southfield, is a national producer of Ball Park, Grillmaster, Hygrade and West Virginia Brand packaged meats.

In 1957, Hygrade introduced the now famous Ball Park Frank to baseball fans at Tiger Stadium in Detroit; and Ball Park Franks have been the official hot dog of the Detroit Tigers since that time. Tiger fans now eat between 1.5 and 1.8 million Ball Park Franks during a regular season.

The Ball Park Frank winning formula has made the franks that "plump when you cook 'em" the number one selling hot dog in Michigan supermarkets as well as in the stadium.

Since their introduction at Tiger Stadium, Ball Park Franks have scored with everyone. They are now the number two hot dog in the nation. And now Ball Park Franks is happy to score once again with the Michigan Challenge VII Balloonfest.

Few sights compare with balloon festival weekend

On behalf of the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce, host of Michigan Challenge VII, we welcome pilots and spectators to this year's Balloonfest.

We consider it an honor, privilege and delight to have the state hot-air ballooning championship here in Howell. As anyone who has been to this beautiful event before knows, there are few sights that can compare with the launch of more than 50 of these fanciful and colorful aircraft.

Michigan Challenge chairperson Carolyn Barley and the Balloonfest committee are to be thanked and congratulated for the hard work they have put into ensuring that visitors and residents alike will take home wonderful memories of Michigan Challenge VII.

We also extend our heartfelt thanks to our Michigan Challenge Major Sponsor, First of America Bank; to our Supporting Sponsors Citizens Insurance Co. of America and Ball Park Franks; to Columbia Cable for its sponsorship of the Windjammers Stunt Kite Team; and to all our balloon sponsors and the many advertisers who have helped us make the Michigan Challenge one of the premier outdoor events in southeast Michigan.

Sincerely,

30. Spartan Tire will sponsor Dr. John Dircks, who flies "Puff" out of the Kalamazoo area, where he practices. Puff is vertically striped in purple, red, yellow and green. His wife Judy is also a registered pilot. They will be flying in their fourth Challenge.

31. John Carter of Laingsburg will be flying "Windsong" for WHMI 93.5 Radio. The balloon is a Cameron with a navy blue top and bottom and red, orange, yellow and white stripes in the middle. This will be John's sixth year at the Challenge.

32. "The Stealth Balloon" will be flown by Susan Korosa from Akron, Ohio. It is a royal blue balloon with red, yellow, orange and green stripes around the top third. This is Susan's first year at the Challenge, and she is sponsored by Versatrim. In Akron, Susan is an English and history teacher at Copley High School, and she has been involved with ballooning for 13 years. She named her balloon "Stealth" because the first year she flew it the weather was so bad she couldn't fly it often and no one saw it.

33. Michigan Bell Telephone Company will be sponsoring Wayne Warren in "Karma Chameleon." Wayne serves the Challenge as its safety officer and keeps the scores in the computer, tallying the totals after each task. "Karma Chameleon" has black, burgundy, white, red, orange and yellow vertical stripes. He has flown in all seven Michigan Challenges.

34. The "Oldsmobile" balloon will be back again this year piloted by Kevin Flanagan from South Carolina and sponsored by Superior Olds. Kevin has flown all over the world, even in the Swiss Alps. He has been flying for seven years. We welcome Kevin to his first Challenge.

35. "Melody Farms/Food Town," piloted by Joey Gauthier, flies out of Pontiac and has flown in all of the Challenges to date. Joey works for the U.S. Postal Service. His wife Pat acts as his crew chief.

36. Nancy Van Dis is part of a husband/wife flying team at this year's Challenge. She flies the beautiful bright yellow "City of Holland" balloon adorned with tulips and windmills. This will be her first Challenge. She is sponsored by ADIA Personnel Services.

37. Marc Van Dis, Nancy's husband, flies "Black Magic Too." He and Nancy live in Holland. The balloon is a black base with multicolored chevrons with pennants. He is sponsored by Tans Plus.

38. Dave's Auto Repair is the sponsor for Carl Brittingham and his balloon "Carl's Crystal Heart." The balloon is a red and white vertically striped Raven. Carl lives in Rochester.

39. A new entry this year is Ken Zawissa flying for Envotech of Ypsilanti. Ken and his family also live here in Howell. The balloon is green and white horizontally striped with the company name across the middle. It is also adorned with white pennants.

40. The fourth Challenge for Cindy Cooper of Milford will see her flying "High Noon," a gray vertically striped balloon with multicolored chevrons. She will be sponsored this year by Farmers Insurance Group, Mary Fronczak and Linda Turman.

41. American Associates will sponsor Michael Bratcher, flying "Rainbow Twist" a saw-tooth spiral that has nine colors in it. Michael's home port is South Lyon.

42. Phil Glebe of Brighton will be piloting "Excitement II," the Pontiac balloon. Phil, a real competitor, was the Challenge champion in 1988. He flies for Pontiac approximately 175 days of the year, from over car races at Michigan International Speedway, to the world championships at Saga, Japan, in 1989 where he placed fourth. Phil was recently married to his longtime crew chief Jan, and we wish them all the best.

43. Ewing Furniture will sponsor Don Baross of Troy. Don has been flying for five years and flies "Illusions," a blue and white spiral. Donna Lea is Don's wife and acts as his crew chief. This is his third Challenge.

flying "Rainbow Rider," a Barnes with rainbow colored chevron patterns in red, green, orange, yellow and blue.

44. Tim Midura of Ann Arbor flies "Easy Breezes," a triple colored balloon of purple, light and dark blue. This is Tim's sixth Challenge. He is sponsored by HomeTown Newspapers.

45. Metropolitan Title sponsors Dale Duthie for his second try at the Challenge. Dale lives in Canton where his wife Pat and their two children John and Karen make up his crew. He will be flying "Rainbow Rider," a Barnes with rainbow colored chevron patterns in red, green, orange, yellow and blue.

46. Jacques Soukup will be coming in from Tyndall, S.D., with a very unusual entry, "Matrioshka," the Russian nesting doll balloon. "Matrioshka," brilliantly colored and 135 feet tall, had her maiden flight in Leningrad, U.S.S.R., in May of 1990 to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the doll. Jacques has the largest fleet of privately owned special shaped balloons in the world. We are pleased to welcome him to his first Challenge.

47. Hilltop Ford will be sponsoring Jody Leatherberry of Stockbridge who also owns his own Ford dealership. Because of this, he named his balloon "Taurus," an Adams multi-colored spiral twist. This is Jody's fourth Challenge.

48. Peter Rosewig of Mister Rubbish will be piloting the maiden flight of the brand new corporate balloon for Contractors Containers Corporation. The Cameron balloon depicts the Mister Rubbish butler and the curb cart on a bright yellow background. Maybe we should call it the "flying curb cart." Peter lives in Dexter with his wife Jill and family. This will be his sixth Challenge.

49. "Tootsie Pop" will be flown by Roger Beebe out of Battle Creek. The balloon is yellow, orange and brown stepped spiral. Roger has flown in all of the Challenges except 1988. He is sponsored by Brighton Honda.

54. Michael's Photo Supply will be sponsoring Jim Lykins in "Kids Play," a bright yellow balloon depicting children's silhouettes in various playtime activities. Jim lives in Utica with his wife Gari and their children. Gari is also a registered pilot. This is his fourth Challenge.

51. Back for his seventh try at the Challenge is Steve Yllof of Bartlett, Ill. He flies "Emerald Mist" named after a line of coffins from his previous place of employment. It is a green and yellow balloon with a white equator. Steve is sponsored by the Park Inn.

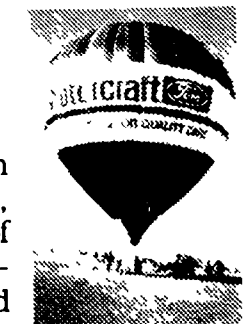

55. Tom Bergeon will be flying the "Re/Max balloon," a red, white and blue balloon with the realty corporation's name emblazoned on it. Tom lives in Mason, and this is his second Challenge. Last year, he got a lot of applause as he flew M.S.U.'s Sparty.

56. Matthews Whistle Stop Plaza will be sponsoring Sandi and Larry Novotny in "Royal Rainbow." They live in Allen Park but can be seen quite often here in Livingston County, flying with many friends. This is their sixth Challenge.

57. "Motorcraft," the Ford Parts balloon, is a new addition to this year's Challenge and will be piloted by Bill Wright of Atlanta, Ga. It is a red and black vertically striped balloon with the Ford Motorcraft logo on it.

Parking plentiful, low-priced at fest

Where else can you provide a family with a full day of thrills, fun and entertainment for only $5? And on top of that have a chance to travel anywhere in the United States, Mexico or the Caribbean free?

It's at Michigan Challenge VII, the state hot-air ballooning championship and festival where $5 parks your car and provides admission for all your passengers.

And this year, American Airlines has provided two tickets to anywhere they fly in the continental United States, Mexico or the Caribbean for any spectator to win.

It's easy. Just remove the American Airlines portion of your parking pass and bring it to either of the conveniently located information booths at the festival site. When you trade it in, you'll receive THREE chances to win the tickets. The drawing will be conducted at the launch site at 8 p.m. Sunday, June 23.

Where to park at Challenge

Parking is extensive and convenient at the Michigan Challenge Balloonfest. Hundreds of parking volunteers from area community groups will assist visitors to park their vehicles.

For $5, visitors can park their car for a full day of fun at the Michigan Challenge. The parking charge also includes admission for everyone in the vehicle. So carpool with your friends and neighbors and make it an even bigger bargain.

Planning on attending more than one day? A weekend pass is available for $8 from parking attendants, from any Livingston County office of First of America Bank or at the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce office, 404 East Grand River.

Handicapped parking is available at the West Grand River entrance. Vehicles displaying a handicapped license plate or sticker will be shown to a special parking area where access to the launch site and festival grounds is completely paved. Visitors are asked to follow the directions of parking personnel to ensure efficient and safe entry and exit from the grounds.

Veteran officials run balloon festival races

When the race for the Michigan Challenge championship begins, a first-rate crew of officials will be controlling the action from the ground.

Jim Birk of Defiance, Ohio, will serve as the Michigan Challenge Balloonmeister. As the chief official for the championship, the Balloonmeister runs the events, making important decisions on whether the balloonists will fly, depending on the latest weather conditions.

Birk will also pilot the Pepe the Penguin balloon during the weekend.

Joni Thompson is the chief scoring officer for the Michigan Challenge. She acts as the referee in this hot-air ballooning event. She is charged with scoring the contests in a fair manner.

Points scored in the Michigan Challenge not only will determine the state champion of hot-air ballooning, but also will count toward participation in the national championship in Baton Rouge, La.

Wayne Warren is the event's safety officer. He is charged with safety on the field and will help the launch directors assure a safe liftoff for each event.

Todd Fisher is weather officer for the Challenge. He will make weather-related decisions and keep the pilots updated on the latest weather conditions.

Tom Maynard returns to the Michigan Challenge for the seventh consecutive year as the event's launch site announcer.

No 'challenge' finding us

Not only is the Michigan Challenge Balloonfest the place to be on the weekend of June 21, 22 and 23, it's easy to find. The City of Howell is located midway between Lansing and Detroit on I-96.

Visitors should take either exit 133 or 137 on I-96. From Exit 133, go east on M-59 to the Howell High School entrance, just past Highlander Way. From Exit 137, go north on D-19 to downtown Howell, make a left on Grand River and follow it to the Howell High School entrance.

Coming from the north? Take I-75 to U.S. 23 south to M-59. Follow M-59 west 11 miles to the Howell High School entrance.

Don't miss all the special events and great shopping in Historic Downtown Howell on Friday and Saturday. Downtown is just about one mile east of the Balloonfest grounds on Grand River Avenue.

Wishing You An Enjoyable Balloonfest!

Mich. Challenge balloonfest can be just 'picture perfect'

Bring lots of film.

That's rule number one if you want to capture some great photos at this year's Michigan Challenge Balloonfest.

Once those balloons start inflating you'll find your trigger finger clicking away in an effort to capture forever the spectacle of more than 50 balloons rising into the evening sky.

But what kind of film? And what makes the best shots?

We turned to some area photo experts for tips on how to get the most out of your camera this weekend.

Perhaps no one has taken more photographs of the Michigan Challenge than Scott Piper, staff photographer for HomeTown Newspapers (The Brighton Argus and the Livingston County Press). He's covered the event for the past four years and estimates he's shot 15 to 20 rolls of 36 exposure film each year.

"I look for the unusual shot," explains Piper. "The balloon in the air by itself people can see anywhere."

Piper looks for great shots during the inflation stage of the competition, with balloons in varying stages of inflation and some lifting off.

But he cautions that you can't expect the best shots to come to you where you are sitting or standing. "If you want good photos," he urges, "move your feet. Move close, move back, look to the side." He suggests standing on the hill to the north of the launch field to get a good panorama shot.

And you don't need to get the entire balloon in the center of your shot. Include sky, trees, ground and other balloons.

Mike McGinnis, owner of Michael's Photo of Howell (formerly Meier Photo), also looks for the dramatic shots. He's had great success using a longer lens and isolating a single balloon during the inflation stages, zeroing in on the work of the pilot and crew. He also likes to frame a photograph around several balloons in varying stages of liftoff. Piper calls it the "pillow effect" with the soft rounds of multi-colored balloons mounding together on the launch field.

McGinnis has experimented with longer exposures using a tripod. He has mounted his camera on a tripod and kept the shutter open as a balloon is launching for a "blurry" look that illustrates the movement of the balloon. "Hold the shutter down for three seconds one time and try it at six seconds the next," he says. "There's no guarantee, it's a matter of experimentation."

McGinnis recommends using the best film available, either Kodak or Fuji for best results. He uses color print film, and Piper uses slide film, but both recommend a 100 speed.

McGinnis has been impressed with the quality many of the point-and-shoot 35mm cameras achieve. Even the so-called "one use" disposable 35 cameras can produce a beautiful photo at Balloonfest.

The new "stretch" disposable cameras produce a startling 3½ - by 10-inch print that can encompass the entire launch field at once.

If you have a camera with interchangeable lenses, McGinnis recommends using a 70-210 mm zoom to cut down on lens changes and allow you to zoom right into the balloon basket and become part of the action.

Scott Piper suggests the small investment in a polarizing filter for your lenses can pay off by increasing the contrast between the colors and cutting down on glare and haze.

Pepe the Penguin will provide one of many photo opportunities for shutterbugs

With so much to see and photograph, don't be surprised if you run out of film during the Michigan Challenge. Don't worry, you can buy more at the vendor area adjacent to the launch site and keep that shutter snapping.

Citizens proud it's part of Balloonfest

Citizens Insurance Company of America is proud to be a Supporting Sponsor of Michigan Challenge VII. Based in Howell, Citizens is located just east of the Balloonfest launch site on Grand River Avenue.

Many visitors will pass Citizens headquarters on their way to and from Michigan Challenge attractions.

The company began in 1915 as the dream of one man, William E. Robb, an ambitious and energetic young visionary who sold cyclone insurance to put himself through law school. Around the same time, the automobile was gaining popularity and Robb, recognizing the need for insurance, was inspired by the business potential of the new trend.

Today, Citizens Insurance, with President Jack R. Wintermute, is the largest writer of insurance through independent agents in the state and one of the most respected property and casualty insurers in the nation.

Citizens has always prided itself on the active participation of the corporation and its employees in community organizations and events. The Michigan Challenge Balloonfest is no different, as the corporation and its staff will have a hospitality tent on the grounds and invite visitors to stop in and see what the company has to offer.

The giant Citizens Panda, a huge cold-air inflatable balloon, will be easy to spot and is a delight for both children and adults. At the Citizens hospitality tent nearby, both children and "big kids" can receive a free helium balloon with a caricature of Ernie Harwell. Harwell, the beloved Detroit Tigers announcer and baseball expert, is the spokesperson for Citizens.

To continue the Harwell/Tigers theme, visitors can enter a drawing for exciting baseball prizes. First prize is a spectacular Tiger baseball day that will begin with a limousine ride from the Howell area to the stadium. The winner will visit the broadcast booth during the Tiger game to meet Harwell and Paul Carey, and receive an autographed copy of the latest Ernie Harwell book, "Diamond Gems."

The day will be capped off with dinner at Fishbones restaurant in downtown Detroit and a return to the Howell area via limousine.

There are five second-place prizes of two tickets to a Tigers baseball game and 10 third prizes of autographed copies of "Diamond Gems."

In addition to the drawing, every child visiting the Citizens hospitality tent will receive a free fingerprint identification kit.

According to Wintermute, Citizens is pleased to take an active role as a Supporting Sponsor of the Michigan Challenge Balloonfest. "As residents of Howell, Citizens Insurance is proud to be a part of this dynamic, family-oriented event and showcase our home, our city and our area."

Wade carnival to provide high-flying thrills

Balloons, stunt kites, helicopters and sword fights not enough for you thrill seekers out there?

Then ride over 60 feet in the air on the Eagle 16 ferris wheel. Hold on to your hats as you twist and turn on the Orbiter. Swing on the Super Swings. Loop the loop on the Loop-A-Plane.

It's all there at the Wade Show Carnival at the Michigan Challenge.

Plus, the carnival opens up a full day earlier than the Balloonfest itself, on Thursday, June 20.

Those who just can't get enough of those carnival thrill rides can take advantage of a special "pay one price" offer at the Wade Show on Thursday, June 20. For the low price of $8, thrill seekers can enjoy all the rides as often as they can keep their equilibrium.

Look for the Wade Show advertisement in this magazine for an additional $1 off coupon on Thursday's "Pay One Price." For $7, you can really tie your stomach in a knot.

For those younger riders or those with weak hearts, the carnival also has traditional rides such as the merry-go-round, and the all-new Berry-Go-Round (ride in a giant strawberry!) and Rio Grande Train.

More savings are possible on Sunday afternoon, June 23. After 3 o'clock, "pay one price" goes into effect again for those who want unlimited thrill-ride enjoyment.

If you just want to jump-start your adrenaline, rather than stay in perpetual motion all day long, individual ride tickets will be available throughout the weekend.

Join 'ladies, lords' in Medieval Village

For some, it's an escape from the routineness of modern life. For others, it's a chance to put historical research into action; while for still others, it's just a great group of friends.

Whatever the reason, the Society for Creative Anachronism, with its recreation of the Middle Ages "as they should have been," certainly has attracted a significant national, and even international, membership.

This year, the SCA is part of the Michigan Challenge, creating an authentic Medieval Village so visitors may experience life one thousand years ago.

An anachronism is a thing out of its place in time. Certainly anybody coming onto one of the SCA's events, such as the Medieval Village, would think they had walked into such a time trip.

Armored sword fighters clash and bash at one another (using rattan "swords"). Beautifully garbed ladies and lords perform intricate medieval dances to the strains of live recorder, crumhorn, shawm, viol and lute music. At candlelit tables, nobles dine on the best of medieval cuisine in five- and six-course feasts.

Kings and Queens hold court; heralds read forth pronouncements; honor, courtly love, fealty and chivalry become once again the highest values of society.

More than 15,000 people in North America have made such medieval living history their hobby in the SCA. Participants choose a medieval identity based on a person who might have lived some time between 500 and 1,500 A.D., research the probable "life" of that person and attempt during SCA activities to dress and act as that person might have.

Whimsy, romance and humor (as well as flush toilets, frequent bathing and sanitary food supplies), of course keep these participants from truly recreating medieval times. Still it is tremendous fun.

Southeastern Michigan is home to more than 100 such folk. For them, modern place names blur during SCA activities and more evocative "medieval" identifications are substituted.

Detroit becomes the Canton of the Roaring Wastes (alluding to the downriver industrial area where the initial local SCA group first held its meetings), while Pontiac is known as Hawkland Moor, Flint is Stormvale, Windsor is Starleaf Gate and Ann Arbor is named Cynnabar.

All are part of the Barony of the Northwoods (East Lansing) which in turn owes fealty to the Middle Kingdom (the midwestern United States and part of Canada). The kingdom is one of 11, whose outlines taken together mysteriously resemble the Knights to show sword-fighting ability at Medieval Village

North American continent.

The SCA is an amateur hobbyist group. It is not affiliated in any way with the Michigan Renaissance Festival, or with the Detroit Institute of Arts annual Wassail. Further information on the Society for Creative Anachronism or local groups may be obtained by calling (313) 824-7992.

Get bird's-eye view of event in copter ride

Want to see what the balloonists see during Michigan Challenge VII while traveling at much higher speed? Take a ride on a jet helicopter and get the pilot's eye view of the Howell area and the Balloonfest grounds.

Rick Player of Great Lakes Helicopter is bringing his Bell Jet Ranger helicopter to the Michigan Challenge all three days. This beautifully appointed, high-tech aircraft will allow visitors to travel in the realm of the balloons, but not at the whim of the winds.

The helicopter features "executive seating" for four, plus the pilot. The Bell Jet Ranger has been rated as the safest single engine aircraft in the world by the National Transportation and Safety Board.

Rides are $20 apiece and are available at the softball fields northeast of Howell High School.

Craft show biggest yet

Two hundred crafters will be exhibiting their works in wood, watercolor, stained glass, basketry, jewelry, soft sculpture and more at the Michigan Challenge VII Arts and Crafts Show on June 22 and 23.

The show will take place outside, adjacent to Howell High School, within view of the balloon launch site. Crafters will be set up under a large striped tent, with others arranged on the grassy areas alongside.

Bring home a memento from craft show breaking show.

Crafters will set up their booths early on Saturday and be ready for visitors by 9 a.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. on Sunday. The show will remain open for shoppers until after the last balloon launches.

Spectators won't want to leave the Michigan Challenge without a memento of one of the premier outdoor events in southeast Michigan.

Brilliantly colored, official Michigan Challenge VII T-shirts are available for sale for $10. Designed by Shirt Gallery of Howell, the official supplier of Michigan Challenge T-shirts, the shirts feature a half dozen beautiful hot-air balloons floating over the historic Livingston County Courthouse.

Sweatshirts with the same design are available for $15. Both shirts are available at Shirt Gallery's booth located near the main information tent.

This year's Michigan Challenge VII commemorative pin features last year's first-place balloon "Jelly Bean" and the second-place winner "Lucky 16." These pins are available at the information tents for $5 and make a beautiful addition to anyone's balloon pin collection, or a fine start for a beginning collector.
