Millage scheduled in township

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Township voters will troop to the polls Aug. 27 to cast a collective thumbs up or down on a single police millage question.

Voters will be asked to renew an approximated 1.39 mill for "operation maintenance, improvement and capital expenditures" of the police department, according to ballot language approved by the township board last week.

The four-year, 1.39-mill figure is tentative, Township Manager Richard Henningsen said. Final calculations will be completed this week, he said.

Voter approval of the millage renewal would add about $570,000 to police department costs. Additional police revenue is raised through a separate 1.55-mill tax due to expire in 1993.

Henningsen calls the 1.39-mill plan a renewal, but foes may contest that definition since a five-year, 2.2-mill figure approved in 1986 actually expired in 1990.

The township police department currently operates on a $1.5-million budget. The department is funded wholly by stand-alone taxes and is not augmented by the township general fund.

The new proposed millage is meant to maintain that type of funding strategy, Henningsen said.

"It goes directly to the police department to make them self-supportive," he said.

After Headlee rollbacks, township taxpayers last year kicked in a combined 3.02 mills to fund the police department.

Woman thwarts abduction plot

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

An 18-year-old Northville woman escaped an abduction attempt along Six Mile Road in Northville Township last week by scratching and fleeing from an attacker.

The woman told township police that a passenger in a bright red pickup truck — possibly towing lawn maintenance equipment in a mesh-sided trailer — tried to force her into the truck as she walked along Six Mile at approximately 2 p.m. Friday, June 14.

The alleged abduction attempt occurred as the woman walked along the south shoulder of Six Mile west of the Mobil gas station at Haggerty Road.

Police this week questioned drivers and passengers of several pickups towing lawn-care equipment. Police ask residents with any knowledge of the abduction attempt or of lawn maintenance crews with red pickups to call the township detective bureau at 348-5811.

According to police records, the woman parked her vehicle at the Mobil station after experiencing mechanical problems. She then began to walk home along Six Mile. The woman told police she was upset about her car problems and looked down at the ground as she walked.

A vehicle described as a "bright, shiny red pickup truck" pulling a trailer with mesh screen sides and traveling east, then cruised to a stop next to the woman, police said.

A passenger in the vehicle — described as a shirtless white man with blond, collar-length hair — asked the woman if she needed a ride, police

Board approves planning cuts

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Northville Township will reduce planning commission membership from nine to seven in an effort to streamline meetings and ensure quality site plan reviews.

The township board last week unanimously agreed to cut the planning commission to seven members effective this December.

Streets alive with music

Summer Song returns to the streets of Northville this weekend with music, arts and crafts booths, food, and more.

Sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, the festival runs 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday and Sunday, June 22 and 23.

Saturday's entertainment schedule is: Gayle's Dancephase, 10 a.m. to noon; Border Patrol, noon to 1:30 p.m.; Figurines, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.; and Michael Talley, 3 to 4:30 p.m. On Sunday, it's Burton Hollow Brass, 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.; Michael Talley, noon to 1 p.m.; Affinity, 1 to 2:30 p.m.; Strolling Clown Band, 1 to 3 p.m.; and Border Patrol, 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Pony rides are scheduled noon to 4 p.m. both days. Fine arts and crafts will flood the downtown streets, featuring pottery, jewelry, ceramics, painted clothing, furniture, weavings and more. Food, dancing and music are other attractions.

Running in conjunction with Summer Song from 11:30 to 4 p.m.

Precocious patriot

Local girl donates to parade cause

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Nine-year-old Natalie Wooderson may not have had the benefit of a marketing course yet, but that did not stop her from raising funds for Northville's Fourth of July.

Wooderson raised $7.50 one day last month by selling cups of coffee to people who stopped by a garage sale at her parents' Northville home, and turned the money over to the West Side Chapter of the Michigan Military Family Support Group. The group, headed by Ginny Hathorn, is coordinating this year's Fourth of July celebrations.

When asked why she wanted to raise money for a parade, Natalie said, "I thought that since we won the war, that we should maybe, like, celebrate. I thought that maybe I could help and raise money."

"I didn't want to see Northville not have a parade."

Natalie said this was her first attempt at retail sales.

Her mother, Laurie Wooderson, said Natalie's efforts were well-received though her choice of product left a little to be desired.

"She made a little sign that said 'Proceeds go to the Northville Parade Committee,'" Laurie said. "Unfortunately, it was 90 degrees and nobody was into coffee, but she still made a few bucks for the cause."

Natalie's fund-raising efforts were all the more generous because, ironically, she won't be in town to see the results.

"She feels it's a real good cause," Laurie said. "The ironic thing is that we're not going to be here on the Fourth of July; we're going to be out of town. But she wanted to do it anyway."

For more updates on Fourth of July preparations, see pages 3-A and 7-A.

City to get track funds

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Last week the City of Northville was considering legal action against the State of Michigan to obtain about $575,000 in this year's racetrack revenue still owed to the city.

This week, the state Legislature and Gov. John Engler apparently agreed that the state will pay the money.

What a difference a week makes.

As Sen. Robert Geake (R-Northville) explained Tuesday, "The executive order that we're working on today does not take any money out of the current fiscal year for racetracks."

Engler's original executive order in

Bell irked by state plan

By TIM RICHARD
and SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writers

A tax-base-sharing plan sitting in the state Legislature could not be more damaging to Northville schools if it were planned that way, Superintendent George Bell said.

"(To get a more damaging plan) you would have had to study Northville and study the plans for the DeMattia property and design a program that could give a maximum negative impact," Bell said.

The state Legislature is considering a plan which would divide the state into three regions. In each region, school districts would share half the tax revenue generated by new commercial and industrial development.

The R.A. DeMattia Co. plans to build a residential and commercial development on the Wayne County Child Development property between Five Mile and Six Mile roads on both sides of Sheldon Road.

For Northville schools, the project was good news. Commercial development increases the district's tax base without increasing school enrollment.

A major commercial development was just what Bell has been wanting for nine years. But if the full state Le-

Township board reduces commission membership

Reduction is to be achieved through attrition, and not by removal of specific planners, the board determined.

The board's action came after a public hearing in which three residents — including a current planning commissioner — spoke against the proposed move.

Township officials began to ponder a commission cut after former planner Karen Woodside resigned in January. Rather than fill the post, the township collected resumes and sought ideas to shorten lengthy re-

Officials decided one way to quicken the review pace would be to slice membership, figuring fewer voices critiquing site plans would hasten the process.

But the planning commission was plagued by poor attendance in the interim between Woodside's departure and the actual decision to cut membership.

Two meetings were canceled earlier this year due to a lack of quorum, meaning fewer than a majority of the nine-member panel were available to review site plans.

With the commission membership in limbo, five commissioners were needed to constitute a quorum.

A seven-member commission will require only four members to discuss and vote on site plans and other planning and zoning issues.

Commissioner Barbara O'Brien blamed poor attendance for quorum woes and spoke against the membership cut.

"The problem's not the size, it's the (attendance) of the members," she said. "Absenteeism is a big problem; we need to address that rather than downsizing."

O'Brien charged that fewer community interests would be served with a reduced planning commission.

When Trustee and planner Richard Allen asked O'Brien what interests she was talking about, O'Brien replied: "Various groups, various areas."

Supervisor Georgina Goas called for meetings to be streamlined to cut back on consultants' fees. Trustee James Nowka said a reduction "probably wouldn't reduce the effectiveness of the planning commission."

But O'Brien insisted that absenteeism could be curtailed if the commission adopted bylaws.

Carol Maise, township planning and zoning administrator, said the commission presently operates under rules of procedure recommended to the board by the planning commission. Rules of procedure work in a fashion similar to bylaws, Maise said.

The board rejected O'Brien's request to table the issue and voted 7-0 in favor of reduction.

Under current guidelines, individual commissioners could be removed from their post if they miss three consecutive, regularly scheduled sessions.

Regular meetings are held once a month. Spill-over meetings also generally occur monthly.

Township records spanning a 31-meeting period from Jan. 16, 1990 until June 4, 1991 indicate that most planners attend more than eight of every 10 meetings.

O'Brien topped the list with 94-percent attendance. Karen Baja and Richard Allen each attended meetings at an 87-percent clip.

Commission Chairperson Charles DeLand showed for 84 percent of the sessions, and Pat Wright attended 81 percent of the meetings.

Commissioners Larry Sheehan and John Leinonen posted the most absences, each showing for 20 of 31.

Suspect sought in Six Mile Road abduction attempt the vehicle. The passenger then grabbed her right arm from behind and reportedly said, "We're going to give you a ride."

The woman told police she then scratched the man with her left hand and ran to a residential driveway on the south side of Six Mile, where she hid behind a group of trees until the vehicle drove from the scene.

The woman then called her mother, who told her to call police.

Other details of the incident are sketchy, police said. The woman could not recall the number of people in the pickup, did not see a license plate, and did not know if the passenger got out of the vehicle when he grabbed her arm.

She also could not tell police where she scratched the man.

But police believe the abduction attempt did occur. An officer who interviewed the woman said she was "scared and shaken."

News Briefs

CORRECTIONS: In the June 17 issue of this paper, a recipe for Grilled Chicken Breasts with Mandarin Orange Sauce was missing the amounts for two ingredients. They are 4 teaspoons of cornstarch and 1 tablespoon of brown sugar.

Also in the same section, an incorrect phone number for the Meyer Berry Farm was given. The correct number is 349-0289.

MORaine AND HIGH SCHOOL PAINTED THIS SUMMER: Moraine Elementary School will get a fresh coat of paint inside this summer in following a seven-year rotation plan.

Northville school's transportation facility was scheduled to be repainted this year, but the high school cafeteria was deemed a higher priority by district administrators.

"We're putting transportation by the wayside until next year," said Burton Knighton, assistant superintendent for administrative services.

Meads Mill Elementary gets its turn in the rotation next year. Followed by the high school in 1993 and Amerman elementary in 1994.

Last year Cooke Middle school and the school board offices were painted.

Outdoor painting, which is done as needed, is not included in the seven-year schedule, Knighton said.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM: "Read on the Wild Side," the Northville Public Library 1991 Summer Reading program for elementary school readers, began registration last week.

This year's program will include special materials for each reader, puzzles, games, a scavenger hunt, prizes and entertaining and informative programs each Wednesday afternoon. Among some of the programs featured will be a naturalist with live animal visitors, wilderness camping hints, storytellers, musical entertainment and live theater.

Younger brothers and sisters or other children who are not yet reading may enroll in the "Read to Me" program. For more information, visit the library or call 349-3020.

LIVING TRUST SEMINAR RETURNS: The Northville Senior Citizens Center is sponsoring a Living Trust Vs. Wills Seminar on Friday, June 21 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The seminar, which will be presented by financial expert Paul Leduc, will take place at the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main St., and is free of charge. Topics will include: How To Avoid Probate; How To Reduce Taxes To Your Heirs; Advantages of A Living Trust; and The Living Will. Following the seminar will be a question and answer session. The seminar is open to the public. For reservations, call 349-4140.

FOURTH OF JULY BREAKFAST: The public is invited to attend the annual Fourth of July breakfast at the Northville Masonic Temple, 106 E. Main Street, which is sponsored by Union Chapter No. 55, Royal Arch Masons, according to Excellent High Priest Howard K. Walker.

Serving will commence at 6:30 a.m. and continue until parade time, featuring an "all you can eat" menu of pancakes, scrambled eggs, hash brown potatoes, ham, orange juice and coffee, tea or milk, all for the cost of $3.50 per adult and $2 for children.

3-D specs available for July 4

By MARY DIPAOLO
Special Writer

If you haven't already heard, "3-D" is coming to Northville as part of this year's "Operation Welcome Home" celebration on July 4.

Spectators will be given the opportunity to purchase their own "3-D" glasses for $1 per pair, with the proceeds used to support the Michigan Military Family Support Groups.

"Anyone who remembers wearing 3-D glasses at the movies years ago can appreciate how they work," said Michelle Perrin, owner of Perrin's Souvenirs in downtown Northville. As one of the key organizers of Operation Welcome Home, Perrin adds that wearing the glasses allows fireworks spectators to see each display from all angles, as opposed to what can be viewed with the naked eye.

Individuals purchasing their glasses before June 25 will also have the chance to watch John Wayne's classic film "Hondo" being presented in 3-D on WKBD-TV50 at 8 p.m. on the 25th.

3-D specs are now available at Perrin's Souvenirs. Northville Jewelers, and Genitt's; remaining glasses will be sold during the Downtown Fun Fest and Dance-A-Thon being held on July 4. "We have a limited supply, so we're asking residents to make a point to pick them up as soon as possible," Perrin said.

This year's fireworks exhibition is being presented by Zambelli International of New Castle, Penn., recognized for their displays around the world and in the recent feature film "Avalon."

Police News

Baby rescued from locked car parked at Meijer

A six-month-old baby was rescued from a locked car parked in the lot at Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, in the early afternoon June 15.

Police said a 23-year-old Holly woman left the baby in the vehicle and was walking around to the other side of her 1988 Chevrolet Beretta to remove the child. A gust of wind apparently slammed the car door shut, leaving the woman's purse and keys inside.

After several failed attempts to get inside the car, the woman called police, who broke a window to help remove the child. Police gave no indication that the child was injured in the extreme heat. The Holly woman told police she would take the child to the hospital for a medical examination.

BRANCH BASHES CAR: Saturday's thunderstorm and high winds blew a large limb down onto a car parked at a Novi Street residence at 7 p.m., denting the car and damaging its paint.

ALCOHOL VIOLATION: Township police charged a 25-year-old Dearborn woman with three alcohol-related violations after her arrest in a parking lot near Swan Harbour Drive at 1 a.m. June 14.

Police said they followed the woman westbound along Seven Mile and noticed her vehicle weaving across both lanes. Police attempted to make a traffic stop, but the woman made a quick turn into Swan Harbour, exited her vehicle and tried to run into one of the apartments.

Police caught the woman and administered several manual dexterity tests. The woman then refused to take a preliminary breath test and again tried to run to an apartment. After a brief struggle, the woman eventually was handcuffed and taken to the police department.

The woman then refused to take a Breathalyzer test.

Police charged the woman with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol and refusing a preliminary breath test. She also was charged with driving with a suspended license after a computer check revealed the woman was convicted of operating while intoxicated March 27, 1991.

The woman was released later June 14 on $100 bond. She will face charges in 35th District Court July 12.

LICENSE PLATE STOLEN: A Plymouth man told township police someone stole the license plate from his Plymouth Horizon while it was parked in the Meijer lot June 16. Police have no suspects or witnesses in the case.

OUIL: A 20-year-old Northville man was charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol June 15 at approximately 2:45 a.m. near the Eight Mile/Grace intersection, township police said.

Breathalyzer tests indicated the man's blood-alcohol was .18 and .19, nearly twice the state's .10 limit for intoxication.

Township police also charged a 56-year-old Plymouth man with OUIL after his arrest on Five Mile late last week. Breathalyzer tests indicated the man's blood-alcohol level was .16 and .15.

CB RADIO STOLEN: A citizen's band radio valued at $80 reportedly was stolen from an unlocked vehicle parked outside a Dunwood residence late June 13 or early June 14, township police said.

THIEVES RIFLE CAR: Thieves made off with nearly $1,000 in items stored in a 1986 Chevrolet Cavalier parked outside a Parklane residence late June 13 or early June 14, township police said. Included among the stolen items were a leather briefcase, a leather file holder, gold ink pens, mechanical pencils, a calculator and a leather overnight bag filled with personal items. Police said the vehicle had been left unlocked.

BIKE STOLEN, RECOVERED: A 13-year-old Northville boy told township police someone stole his 10-speed bicycle shortly after he parked it outside Cap 'N Cork, 40644 Five Mile, June 14.

A witness told police a white male took the bike and placed it in a storage shed at a nearby residence. The owner of the residence told police he did not see anyone put the bike in his shed, but the boy identified the bike and rode it away.

TRUCK NEARLY HITS STUDENT: City police are seeking charges against a 23-year-old Westland man who drove a truck past a stopped school bus with its lights flashing at 11:35 June 13 and nearly struck a student crossing the street.

Several witnesses saw the man drive by the stopped bus, and one obtained a license plate showing the truck registered to a Westland business. Police contacted the driver, who admitted to passing the bus but said he could not stop in time.

BEER BOTTLE THROWN AT CAR: A woman driving north on Edward Hines Drive south of Seven Mile Road at 11:15 p.m. June 14 had a beer bottle thrown at her car. The bottle broke off the driver's side mirror and shattered, raining pieces of glass in the open driver's side window. No injuries were reported.

MALICIOUS DESTRUCTION AT DPW: A window in a garage door at the city Department of Public Works Yard, 650 Doherty Drive, was broken sometime between June 16-17. The window was located on the north side of the garage. Damage was estimated at $15.

CAR KEYS AT NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL: A Northville High School senior reported that his car was scratched while it was parked at the school between 9:45 p.m. June 14 and 3:30 a.m. June 15. Damage was estimated at $250. The student was attending the senior party.

NOVI MAN TURNED OVER TO NORTHVILLE: The Novi police department turned a 45-year-old Northville man arrested there over to Northville City police June 17 after discovering three outstanding warrants against him.

The man was wanted on contempt of court charges for failing to appear on 1986 charges of driving with a suspended license and operating under the influence of alcohol, and a 1988 charge of malicious destruction of property. Northville City police picked the man up and released him after he posted three $100 bonds.

WARRANT ARREST: City police arrested a 30-year-old Northville man after stopping him for speeding north on Center between Rayson and Baseline Road June 18. The police officer noticed that the man's license plate had expired after stopping the car at 6:36 a.m., and a computer check revealed a warrant from Hamburg Township for a previous expired license plate charge. The man was released on $80 bond.

FENDER BENDERS: Northville

City police reported four accidents last week. Police cited a 16-year-old Northville boy for failing to yield after he drove into a car heading south on Center June 14. He was leaving the Northville High School parking lot at 6:55 p.m. when the accident occurred.

A car parked in the city lot behind the Marquis Theater was reportedly struck by a hit and run vehicle sometime between 10 a.m.-2:15 p.m. June 15. The car was parked on the north side of the lot.

A driver heading east on Eight Mile struck a car waiting to turn left onto Novi Road at 8:55 p.m. The road was wet and the traffic signals were not working, and no citations were issued.

Police cited a 76-year-old Pontiac man for improper lane use June 16 after he attempted to turn north onto Taft Road from the left lane of westbound Eight Mile Road. He drove into the path of another westbound car at 8 a.m. causing an accident.

FOUND BICYCLE: City police recovered a boy's Kuwahara 10-speed bicycle from South Wing south of Main June 15. The bike, with two flat tires and a broken chain, had been sitting there for several days. Anyone wishing to claim it is asked to call the Northville City police at 349-1234 with a more complete description.

Q I was raised as a Catholic but haven't attended mass for some years. May I be buried with my family at All Saints Cemetery?

A Yes, of course. One of the most important reasons for the existence of our Catholic cemeteries is to keep the family together—in death as in life. For this reason, both Resurrection and All Saints Cemeteries offer lower rates when you select a burial site for your whole family. We'll be glad to refund your money on unused grave sites if you move away or change your mind. But, meanwhile, it's good to know that your family's final resting place has been selected and paid for in advance. Time payments and credit card purchases are available. For more information about All Saints or any of the four Catholic cemeteries in the Mt. Elliott Cemetery Association, please call 623-9633.

Goss succession course outlined

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

What happens if Ms. Goss goes to Lansing? Inquiring minds inside and outside Northville Township government would like to know.

Speculation about the township supervisor succession process arose after Georgina Goss tossed her hat in the ring for the 36th District State Representative post vacated in April by Gerald Law.

Goss, Plymouth City Council Member Jerry Vorva, and Canton Township resident Deborah Whyman are seeking the Republican nomination in an Aug. 6 primary. Since no Democrats filed for the primary, the victor is expected to run unopposed in an Aug. 27 general election.

If Goss wins the state representative general election, a gaping hole would be created atop township government and the township board.

Goss also serves as chair of the Western Townships Utilities Authority, and is a member of the Wayne County Supervisors' Association.

The township board has the authority to appoint Goss' successor, according to information supplied by the township clerk's office.

If Goss were elected, she would be required to resign as supervisor, and the board would have to make its appointment within 45 days of the resignation. The outgoing supervisor could not vote for a successor, leaving the vote to six board members.

If a board member sought the position, he or she could not vote for themselves and would need a majority of the remaining five board votes to claim the position.

And if two board members actively campaigned for the supervisor's job, three votes would be required to obtain a majority.

Should the board be unable or unwilling to appoint a successor, the township would contact the county clerk, who would forward a notice of vacancy to the governor's office.

The governor would then designate a replacement, according to state law.

Township statutes contain no provision for a public hearing or interview process prior to a board appointment, but an interview precedent does exist.

The township executive committee in late 1989 reviewed resumes and interviewed a dozen candidates for the vacant township treasurer's position.

Depending on the number of potential supervisor candidates, the board may hold similar interviews.

A new supervisor — along with the balance of the board — would be up for election in 1992.

Scholarship winner

Eighth-grader Rochelle Rosser, above, received the second Jody Schwartz Memorial Award at the Meads Mill honors night June 3. She plans to use the $200 award for enrollment in a horseback-riding camp. She has read about, ridden and talked about horses since she was 3 years old and hopes to become a veterinarian specializing in horses. The award was created from the donations of family and friends in memory of Jody Schwartz, who died suddenly in the summer of 1989 before her eighth-grade year at Meads Mill. Last year's winner, Robin Vonhellens, used the award to attend volleyball camp. The award is to be used for a summer enrichment activity such as camp or lessons in music or art. Selection is made by a committee composed of Meads Mill staff, friends and Jody's parents. Additional contributions are welcomed by the Business Office, Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main, Northville.

Prospective superintendents for Northville schools will soon be able to read what the Northville community wants in a leader.

Carl Brautigam of the Michigan Association of School Boards is leading the district in its superintendent search. Brautigam recently spent two days in the district speaking to school district staff, community members and the school board about what they want in a superintendent.

He compiled the information and designed a brochure which was revised by the school board June 13.

Once printed, the brochure will be sent to universities, school board and superintendent associations, intermediate school districts and indi-dual contacts.

The job has been posted in national education magazines, board members heard at their June 30 meeting. No resumes have been received yet, said board Trustee Glenna Davis, who is leading the board in the search.

"The brochure is a very important piece because you want to design it to attract the kind of person you want to hire," Davis said.

Not only is it important for the district, but also a brochure will help prospective candidates decide whether the local district is right for them before spending the time applying to work here.

"It's a significant undertaking to put together all your credentials and send off a file. Anybody we would want will be a busy person," Davis said.

Many school districts hiring a new superintendent have brochures available for candidates. Davis said at first glance the brochures all look the same, "but a sophisticated candidate would be able to tell the difference."

The board will meet again June 25 to discuss procedures for reviewing applications with Brautigam. Every board member will review and evaluate every application.

Later the board will discuss the applications together in the only closed session that will be held in the entire superintendent search process.

Discussing applications must be held in closed session, Brautigam said, to protect the privacy of candidates who request their application be kept confidential.

Interviews will be held the week of August 19 in open sessions.

Party held for seniors

Excellent adventure for grads

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Northville High School seniors had an excellent adventure Friday.

An all-night party was held for seniors following graduation. The party was organized by parents of senior class officers following the theme of the movie "Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure."

In the movie, the title characters travel through time via a futuristic telephone booth gathering leaders from the past to use in a history project.

Bill and Ted are provided with their time travel device by a future leader who has returned to present time to help the duo pass their history test and form a band. Failure of the test would result in their separation because Ted will be sent to military school. Passing the test would allow them to form a band and write song lyrics upon which future societies will be built. Their project is a success and Bill and Ted travel to the future to thank tomorrow's leaders.

"Be excellent to each other," Bill and Ted tell the leaders, thereby saving the future and creating a theme for the 1991 senior class party.

Northville seniors partied in high school hallways and rooms decorated like ancient Greece and the Old West.

A disc jockey played the night away in the cafeteria, which was converted to a scene of medieval England.

A caricaturist entertained students with drawings.

Emily Leventis and some friends

performed a rendition of "The Lion Sleeps Tonight," laughing as much as they sang.

They were not embarrassed singing in front of their colleagues at the last group event of their high school career.

"We're too spastic," Leventis said.

Other students watched the feats of a hypnotist or had their handwriting analyzed. A casino was open in the school library from 12:30 until 3 a.m., where students gambled with play money to win one of 250 prizes including car phones and dorm-sized refrigerators.

The high school pool was open from midnight until 2 a.m.

At 3 a.m. the new Northville High School alumni had breakfast together as their last group activity.

Kathleen Pidruzny, mother of class Treasurer Jennifer Pidruzny, said the 26th annual senior all-night party was not as elaborate as in past years because of fire laws.

"But I think it's perfect," she added.

Carol Meyer, mother of class Vice President Charles Hugener, said about 235 of 271 class members attended the party.

The cost was $25 per student and included all activities and a T-shirt.

The purpose of the party has always been to provide a safe environment for students to have fun without involving alcohol or driving, Meyer said.

Parents began organizing the party last August. Local businesses donated manicures, dinner coupons, tickets to Detroit Tigers games and jewelry.

Community businesses made the night work, Meyer said.

"We're really thankful to the community," she said.

July 4 fest at Mill Race

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

For those looking for a brief respite from the flag-waving festivities planned for downtown Northville's Fourth of July celebrations, Mill Race Historical Village may be just the place to be.

While paraders are marching down Northville's Main Street on Independence Day, the Northville Historical Society will be preparing to step back in time at the village off Griswold Ave.

The village is the site of the Historical Society's annual Fourth of July commemoration, a series of traditional events among the historic Victorian structures. The events will be held between the end of the parade and 5 p.m.

The society is billing this year's event as an afternoon picnic, and society members invite visitors to bring their picnic baskets and enjoy craft demonstrations of basketmaking and weaving. Members of the Civil War era 21st Michigan Infantry will perform parade drills and other demonstrations, and campers will recreate scenes of 19th Century life.

The Novi Concert Band will perform in the gazebo at 1 p.m. and Mike Berst will play the dulcimer throughout the afternoon.

A 50-50 raffle will be held and hot dogs, cotton candy, lemonade and ice cream will also be available.

"The buildings are going to be open and staffed, and this year the Cady Inn and Interurban station are new," said Tom Swigart, a member of the Historical Society Board.

"It's not restricted to Northville. It's the community getting together and having a picnic," he said.

The Historical Society is still seeking musicians and other entertainers to perform on the Fourth, and volunteers to distribute flyers, set up displays beforehand, man food and beverage stations, and clean up after the event.

For more information, call Tom Swigart at 348-2947 or the Historical Society at 348-1845.

MainCentre parking set

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The Northville City Council on Monday approved a proposal by Singh Development to set aside 76 spaces in the lot south of its MainCentre building for the use of MainCentre customers.

The council also approved Singh's request to set aside an additional 58 spaces for MainCentre customers between 6-10 p.m., in an area just west of the 76 spaces.

Under the Singh proposal, a decorative fence similar to the one used outside MainCentre will run across the south side of the two designated parking areas, and cement wheel stops will run along the east and west edges of the areas. The fence and wheel stops will limit access into the areas to the north side of the lot, off Cady Street. Signs at the north entrances would warn drivers that the areas are restricted to MainCentre customers.

Singh Vice President Michael Kahn admitted that enforcement of the restricted parking zones will be difficult, and said enforcement will be the responsibility of MainCentre retailers.

"The burden of proof is going to be on the retailers at MainCentre," he said.

Singh is currently resurfacing and reconfiguring the entire parking lot, to provide more landscaping and 71 more parking spaces than the previous total. The lot will hold 312 cars when the reconstruction is completed next week.

The move was made despite some preliminary protest from James Mills, president of the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen. Mills asked for and received agreement to remove eight of 16 planned parallel parking spaces on the south side of the MAGS building, to make room for a drop-off area for MAGS delivery vehicles.

"It's hard for anybody to believe the amount of truck traffic we get there, but it's a lot," Mills said.

"Even with this compromise . . . I think you're still creating a safety hazard here," he added.

Mills said MAGS officials only recently learned of the proposed changes to the parking lot. "Right now, we're really trying to make the best of a bad situation," he said. "We really found out what was going on here for the first time last week."

The council, particularly Council Member Paul Folino, opposed a recommendation by Acting City Manager Mark Christiansen to replace the lost eight spaces with parallel parking spaces along the west side of Center Street east of the lot. Folino cited safety concerns as the reason for his opposition to more Center Street parking.

"That's . . . fast traffic down there and I just think we'd be looking for trouble," he said.

Mill Race Matters

School's out! Twenty-nine classes from nine communities spent the day at Wash Oak School this spring. Along with learning about Mill Race Village and Northville, they used McGuffey Readers, Noah Webster Spellers, and played games common in the 1870s. A big thanks to Judy Kohl, Marietta Rathbun, Bruce Turnbull, Marian Zayti, and Elaine Elliott, the Wash Oak docents! If you would be interested in becoming part of this group, please call the office, 348-1845.

July 4 is not too far away, and we want to remind everyone that along with the parade and the celebration in town, Mill Race Village will again have its traditional old-fashioned holiday.

City garbage billing changes

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The city council on Monday changed the city's method of charging residents for curbside refuse collection.

The adoption followed a public hearing on the proposal.

The new amendment to the city's waste ordinance specifies that the charges will be collected bimonthly, at the same time as water and sewer payments. Residents will receive notice of the amount they owe on their water and sewer bills.

The amendment also allows for charging commercial customers that have "been determined by the City Manager to have a larger than normal amount of refuse for city collection." Such customers "shall be charged for the collection of the excessive amount of refuse, in accordance with rates based on the City's cost of collection," the amendment read.

The council still has not determined the actual amount to charge residents for the service. Acting City Manager Mark Christiansen said he expected to present a fee schedule to the council at its next meeting, scheduled for July 1.

Christiansen described the amendment as "a change in the ordinance which permits us to bill for refuse collection on a separate billing. . . . It would also permit us to treat these payments the same as water payments."

Bills not paid within 30 days could be assessed a 10-percent penalty for each billing period that the payment is delinquent.

The council decided to switch from a millage-based curbside refuse collection service to a fee-based service during this year's budget deliberations, due to steep increases in the cost of refuse collection. Refuse costs for the 1991-92 fiscal year were projected at $564,000, or more than 3 mills.

Cable production class offered

The programming department of Omnicom Cable will offer a Public Access Super-VHS camcorder and Editing Workshop to residents of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Belleville, Van Buren, and Romulus.

The workshop will cover how to operate Omnicom's one-chip Super-VHS camcorders, composition of shots, basic production skills, and editing.

Participants will produce a three- to five-minute project as part of the class. The classes meet one night per week for six weeks beginning Tuesday, June 25 from 7 to 9 p.m. The classes will conclude on Tuesday, July 30.

These classes are provided by Omnicom Cable with the goal of training individuals in the community to produce non-profit access programs about community events, organizations, and school events. Omnicom provides the equipment (without charge) and the training; you produce the program.

To register for the workshop, call 459-7335 or 459-7391 between 12 noon and 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday. There is a $10 registration fee for the workshop. Class size is limited, so register early.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN ORDINANCE NO. 99

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE IN ACCORDANCE WITH PROVISIONS OF P.A. 1978, NO. 368, SECTION 12756, TO PROVIDE FOR THE ALLOWANCE OF FULL OR PARTIAL DEFERMENT OF CERTAIN WATER AND/OR SEWER SPECIAL ASSESSMENT COSTS, WHERE HARDSHIP PREVENTS PERSONS FROM MAKING CONNECTION TO OR BECOMING A PART OF THE SEWER SYSTEM OR WATER SYSTEM OF THE TOWNSHIP; TO ESTABLISH A HARDSHIP REVIEW BOARD TO REVIEW REQUESTS FOR HARDSHIP; TO ESTABLISH PROCEDURES FOR DETERMINING HARDSHIP AND AMOUNT OF RELIEF; TO PROVIDE FOR THE EVENTUAL CONNECTION TO THE TOWNSHIP WATER OR SEWER SYSTEM; TO PROVIDE FOR THE SEVERABILITY OF THE ORDINANCE; TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE ORDINANCE; TO PROVIDE FOR THE REPEAL OF ALL CONFLICTING ORDINANCES; TO PROVIDE FOR THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS ORDINANCE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

SECTION I. FINANCIAL HARDSHIP RELIEF.

Any property owner of the Township may request a partial or full deferment of special assessment costs for water and/or sewer service when financial hardship prevents such property owner from making a connection for his/her residence to the sewer or water system of the Township.

SECTION II. HARDSHIP REVIEW BOARD.

There is hereby established a Hardship Review Board (HRB) to review requests for hardship relief pursuant to Section I hereof. A three (3) member HRB shall be created by the Township Board with the Township Manager or Township Supervisor's designee as chairperson, one (1) member of the Water and Sewer Commission who shall serve no more than one (1) year in succession and one (1) resident of the Township who shall serve for an initial term of three (3) years and four (4) years thereafter. Compensation for members of the HRB shall be established by resolution of the Township Board.

SECTION III. DETERMINATION OF HARDSHIP.

A. In determining whether a hardship exists, the following criteria shall be applied by the HRB:

1. Annual income of property owner;
2. Current financial obligations of a fixed nature;
3. Land use;
4. Land value;
5. Availability of public welfare funds;
6. Sewer or water expense to property owner; and
7. Special and unique circumstances.

B. Minimum guidelines and standards for consideration to grant full or partial relief to homeowners shall be:

1. Provide proof of ownership and residence at the impacted premises;
2. Provide proof that gross combined annual income of all owners or combined residence in the home is within the following limits:

Size of Family	Upper Income Limit
2	30,400
3	34,200
4	38,000
5	40,300
6	42,800
7	45,200

SECTION IV. PROCEDURE FOR EVALUATING HARDSHIP RELIEF REQUESTS.

The procedure for receiving, evaluating and making final determination for hardship relief, as provided by this Ordinance, shall be as follows:

A. Person requesting hardship relief makes a written request for relief to the Supervisor. The request shall state the expenses for which relief is requested and shall include an explanation of conditions which necessitate relief.

B. Upon receipt of the request, the Supervisor shall direct the Clerk to mail forms provided by the Township to the person requesting relief and shall set a date for a private hearing before the HRB within thirty (30) days after the Clerk receives the completed forms.

C. The HRB shall meet to review the information and interview the person requesting relief. The HRB hearing may be extended if the HRB determines additional time or information is required to make a decision.

D. Within fifteen (15) days of the completion of the HRB hearing, the HRB shall submit a written recommendation of specific items or conditions and amount of relief to be granted to the Township Board, including interest amounts.

E. At the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Township Board, after the HRB hearing, a final determination for relief shall be made. The Township Board may deny or adopt in full or in part the recommendations of the HRB by resolution.

F. In no instance shall relief of any kind be granted for water or sewer usage, tap-in fees, or connection charges.

SECTION V. ADOPTION OF HARDSHIP RELIEF.

A. Upon adoption of the resolution granting hardship relief, the Water and Sewer Commission of the Township shall be directed to perform, supervise, manage or contract for the performance of all work for which hardship relief has been granted, paying all costs from the hardship relief fund for the relief granted. Assessment rolls, where applicable, shall be adjusted in accordance with the relief granted with special assessment district short fall in the amount of relief granted taken from the hardship relief fund.

B. Prior to the construction or expenditure of Township funds and as the last step in the process of granting hardship relief, the person granted relief shall execute a property lien in favor of the Township which shall be recorded with the appropriate Registrar of Deeds office. The lien shall be in the deferred amount of relief plus interest as required by the HRB and shall be due on the sale or transfer of the property.

C. The monies necessary to implement the provisions of this Section of the Ordinance shall be drawn from and returned to the hardship relief fund to be created and maintained by the Water and Sewer Commission. The restricted funds shall be the sole source of Township monies deposited to the hardship relief fund and the Water and Sewer Commission shall transfer funds between the restricted fund and the hardship relief fund as necessary to properly implement the provisions of this Ordinance. The funds allocated yearly to the hardship relief fund shall be approved by the Township Board.

SECTION VI. SEVERABILITY.

If any section, subsection, clause, phrase or portion of this Ordinance is, for any reason, held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate, distinct and independent provision and such holdings shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions thereof.

SECTION VII. CONSTRUCTION OF ORDINANCE.

This Ordinance shall be liberally construed in such manner as to best effectuate its purpose. Provisions of this Ordinance shall be construed, if possible, in such manner as to make such provisions compatible and consistent with the provisions of all existing Ordinances of the Township and all amendments thereto.

SECTION VIII.

This Ordinance is declared to be an emergency Ordinance being necessary to provide for the public health and for the safety to persons and property and is to be given immediate effect upon publication thereof.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

SECTION I:

Section 7(b)(2) of Article II of Ordinance 91, Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying of the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Vertical Aerial Photography, shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

7(b)(2) Vertical Aerial Photography. Vertical aerial photographs, enlarged to a scale of one inch equals two hundred feet (1" = 200'), from original photographs at a negative scale no smaller than one inch equals one thousand (1,000'). The area covered by the vertical aerial photographs shall include: all land subject to the application; all contiguous land which is proposed to be used or has been used by any of the Applicants for any extraction, treatment or storage; all roads which can provide access to any land involved in the proposed operation; all roads other than state trunklines which may be used to haul mined material; and all lands within one (1) mile of each of the forementioned areas. Each such area or feature shall be delineated on the aerial. All aerial photographs shall be taken not more than one (1) year prior to the date of the application of which they are a part.

SECTION II:

Section 7(b)(6) Article II of Ordinance 91 of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Plan of Operation, and Section 7(b)(7) of Article II of Ordinance 91 of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Reclamation Plan, shall be amended to read as follows:

7(b)(6) Operations and Restoration Plan. Operations and Restoration Plan for the extraction of the natural resource deposits and restoration of the site. The plan shall:

(a) Set forth in detail the arrangement and nature of all operations, including the quantity of each type of material to be removed and the machine, equipment and methods to be used in the operation.

(b) Set forth a detailed explanation as to routing of commercial vehicles and their size, weight and frequency of trips. If different routes will be used at different stages of the operation, a timetable for routing shall be included. The Applicant shall submit these proposed routings to Northville Township, affected adjoining townships, the Wayne County Department of Public Services, and the Michigan Department of Transportation for review of the physical and design capabilities of these routes to accommodate the potential traffic, including turning movements to and from the site at all points of egress and ingress. A letter from each jurisdiction indicating their comments shall be included as part of this application.

(c) Set forth in detail the types and amounts of explosives proposed to be used and the areas to be blasted.

(d) Set forth in detail the amount and source water to be utilized in processing and the anticipated means and location of dispersals of such water following use.

(e) Set forth in detail those features of the arrangements and nature of operations which will ensure that the operations have minimum negative impact on adjacent areas and on areas affected by the routing of trucks and other commercial vehicles.

(f) Set forth in detail the procedures to be employed to protect groundwater, water courses, water bodies and wetlands from contamination and erosion directly or indirectly caused by extraction and restoration activities. Procedures should include the use of monitoring wells and the periodic sampling of water courses and water bodies and the termination of mining activities, if any, of the periodic sampling indicate damage from contamination or erosion. Monitoring wells may be omitted if the Township Board of Trustees finds, based on specific facts, that they are not needed to ensure protection of water quality.

(g) Set forth in detail the procedures to protect groundwater levels and the direction and flow rates of subsurface aquifers. Methods for the disposition by controlled flow or controlled drainage of any excess water into existing drains or water courses shall be specified. Methods shall be such that the facilities of such drain and/or water course shall not be unduly burdened by the introduction of the additional drainage. Procedures should include the property and the termination of mining activities if monitoring wells indicate that impacts on groundwater could result in significant draw down of existing wells or other region's water table. Monitoring wells may be omitted if the Township Board of Trustees finds, based on specific facts, that they are not needed to ensure protection of water quantity and flow.

(h) Set forth in detail a timetable for each state of the operation and a plan for restoration in one or more phases. The restoration plan shall specify:

1. The use or uses to which each restored area will be put;
2. The dates by which areas will be restored, as interim restored areas and final restored areas;
3. The restoration topography drawn as contours at an interval of two (2) feet on the U.S.G.S. datum;
4. The location of water bodies and other major physical features;
5. The location of areas to be partitioned or subdivided, and the proposed layout of such areas;
6. The methods and materials proposed for reclamation including topsoiling and the amount and type of plantings.

(i) Provide for operations and restoration in conformance with the provisions of this ordinance.

7(b)(7) (Reserved)

SECTION III:

Section 9 of Article II of Ordinance 91 of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Review, shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 9. Review. Review of the application shall proceed as follows:

(1) Upon receipt of an application under this Ordinance, the Clerk shall forward copies of same to the Township Planning Commission and Township Engineers.

(2) The Planning Commission shall review and study the application, together with such supplemental information deemed necessary and report its recommendation of approval or denial to the Township Board including recommended conditions or statements to be included in the license permit, if granted.

(3) The Township Engineers shall review the application and report its recommendations to the Township Board. Such report shall include a recommendation concerning whether or not an environmental report, assessment or statement beyond those required herein should be made.

(4) After considering the reports of the Planning Commission and Township Engineers, and such other facts, opinions and reports as may be requested and available by the Board, and after conducting a public hearing on the application, the Township Board may issue a mining licensure permit if all the following conditions are found to exist:

(a) The applicant has received a Special Land Use Permit for Mining and Quarrying as required by the Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance and the applicant is in full compliance with all conditions and terms of such Special Land Use Permit.

(b) The Plan of Operation and Reclamation Plan submitted under the application procedure of Section 7(b)(6) provide that the applicant will conduct the mining and quarrying operation in full compliance with all requirements of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying.

(c) That no areas directly or indirectly affected by the proposed mining, quarrying and related activities will suffer any very serious adverse consequences as a result of the establishment of the proposed mining and quarrying operation utilizing factors set forth in the Northville Township Zoning Ordinance.

SECTION IV:

Section 12 of Article II of Ordinance 91 of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Licensure Period, shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 12. Licensure Period. The period of the initial permit and/or any renewal permit, shall be one (1) year or such other period of time the Board deems appropriate based upon all of the relevant facts and circumstances.

SECTION V:

Article III of Ordinance 91, the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, shall be amended to add a Section 15 as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 15. Operation Activities. All activities, equipment roadways and material storage areas shall be treated, covered, muffled or otherwise controlled to ensure compliance with the following performance standards:

(1) Operations will be conducted in a way to minimize negative impacts on adjacent areas.

(2) Operations will be conducted in a way to minimize negative impact on ground-water, water courses, water bodies and wetlands.

(3) Operations will be conducted in a way to minimize dust and dirt.

(4) Equipment used shall be constructed, maintained and operated in such a manner as to eliminate, insofar as is practicable, noises and vibrations which are injurious or substantially annoying to persons living in the vicinity.

SECTION VI:

Section 25 of Article III of Ordinance 91, the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Excavations; Distance Requirements from Roadways and Property Lines, shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 25. Distance Requirements. Minimum setbacks for future excavation and operations areas, excavation-and-operations-in-progress areas, and interim restoration-in-progress areas and interim restored areas:

(1) Future excavation and operations areas, excavation-and-operations-in-progress areas, interim restoration-in-progress areas and interim restored areas shall be set back from the outer boundary of the subject property a minimum of fifty (50) feet, except that a larger setback may be required by the Township Board of Trustees in circumstances where a greater setback is deemed necessary to adequately protect adjacent land areas. Grading and excavation activities may take place up to the property line beginning six (6) months before the completion of excavation in an area when necessary to implement an approved restoration plan.

(2) Excavation, washing and stockpiling of extracted material shall not be conducted closer than three hundred (300) feet to the margin of any stream or waterway without written permission from the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

SECTION VII:

Section 26 of Article III of the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Machinery Equipment and Methods of Operations, shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 26. Machinery. Equipment and Methods of Operations. Machinery, equipment and methods of operation on the mining site shall be limited to those specified in the permit application, unless approval for same is subsequently granted by the Township Board, in which case such approval shall be made part of the permit. In no event shall the activity of gravel crushing or concrete crushing be permitted unless specifically authorized by the license after a finding that such activity will not be a detriment to the health, safety and welfare of the surrounding properties.

SECTION VIII:

Article IV of Ordinance 91, the Ordinance to License and Regulate Gravel and Other Mineral Mining or Quarrying for the Charter Township of Northville, entitled Standards for Reclamation of Mined Area shall be amended as is set forth hereinafter:

Section 28. Standards for Reclamation of Mined Area. The reclamation and restoration of the mining and quarrying site shall be in compliance with all standards and conditions for reclamation and restoring as provided by the applicable special land use permit.

(a) All excavation-and-operations-in-progress areas shall be restored to interim restoration areas within twelve (12) months after the cessation of mining and quarrying operations therein. For the purpose of this subsection, operations shall be deemed to have ceased for twelve (12) months if no more than 1,000 cubic yards of material has been removed for a twelve (12) month period.

(b) All interim restoration areas shall be fully restored in accordance with the final restoration provision of the approved Operations and Restoration Plan within thirty six (36) months of the cessation of operations in the entire parcel approved as a mining and quarrying special land use.

(c) Deviations from the timetable of the restoration plan and the uses to which the proposed areas will be put shall be permitted only upon approval of an amended special land use permit.

Sections 29, 30, 31, 32, 33 and 34 of Article IV are deleted.

SECTION IX. SAVINGS OF ALL PENDING PROCEEDINGS AND BALANCE OF ORDINANCE.

The balance of Ordinance No. 91, except as herein amended, shall remain in full force and effect. All proceedings pending and all rights and liabilities existing, acquired or incurred at the time this amendatory Ordinance takes effect are saved and may be consummated according to the law enforced when they are commenced. This amendatory Ordinance shall not be construed to affect any right pending before the effective date of this amendatory Ordinance.

SECTION X. SEVERABILITY

If any section, subsection, clause, phrase or portion of this Ordinance is for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any Court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate, distinct and independent provision and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions thereof.

SECTION XI. REPEAL OF CONFLICTING SECTION

Sections of Ordinance No. 91 are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this amendatory Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION XII. EFFECTIVE DATE

This Ordinance is declared to be an emergency Ordinance being necessary to provide for the public health and for the safety to persons and property and is to be given immediate effect upon publication thereof.

Consultant tabbed to help sell police millage

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Tight budgetary times have township officials seeking help to pass a police millage, but dwindling general-fund reserves are being used to accomplish the goal.

The township has tabbed Chuck Keys and Northville-based Guidnunc Corp. to serve as public relations consultants to help gain voter approval of a police millage question on the Aug. 27 general election ballot.

Keys will be paid $75 per hour for consulting duties. Total expenditures are not to exceed $3,000, township Treasurer Betty Lennox said.

Keys' chores will include promotion of the township's police and fire departments, community and media relations planning, and assorted other tasks, including "increasing the public recognition and support for township officials," according to a proposal he forwarded to the township.

Public relations expenses are not part of the 1991 township budget, but officials were able to scrape together funds from other sources, including money earmarked in part for employee educational benefits, Supervisor Georgina Goss said.

"Because we operate with so few employees, we don't have anybody in-house that can devote the time to organizing community groups," Goss said. "Mr. Keys will assist in the organizing of community groups."

Goss said "start-up costs" for Keys will be paid from the township general fund. The $3,000 budgeted for public relations "can be paid back by fundraising events," Goss said.

When asked if she was confident that all of Keys' expenses would eventually be returned to the general fund, Goss said "yes."

Lennox was not so sure. "(Repayment) depends on how successful fund-raisers are," she said. "Time will have to tell."

But Lennox supported the move to bring Keys on board.

"We need to let residents know what the police do," she said. Keys' initial plan is to set up a focus group to solicit public comment on the police department. The focus group will be comprised of township officials and residents — the bulk coming from homeowner's associations.

The first police focus group sesson is slated for 7 p.m. this evening at the township's fire station two on west Seven Mile Road.

Keys last week told the township board that past millage elections were troubled by a lack of information distributed to the public.

"The public didn't know about the fire department," Keys said in reference to last August's failed fire millage and an uproar over a switch in emergency medical services providers earlier this year.

"(There is) a tremendous lack of information the public has (about the police department)," he added.

"The focus group will look at what the police department should be doing... what they erroneously believe and what they currently believe," Keys said.

Despite budgetary woes, the board approved of Keys' notions.

"I think we need all the help we can get," Trustee James Nowka said.

Lennox said the $3,000 budgeted for Keys will come from educational funds budgeted for two township employees and from funds originally designated to pay for a community-wide survey.

Moving on

Fifth-graders at Silver Springs Elementary School received certificates last week for completing the first stage of their education.

Geake holds local office hours

State Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville, has begun holding regular office hours in the 6th State Senate District. Geake or a member of his staff will be available to constituents in different areas.

"I realize that it's difficult for many people to get to Lansing, so I wanted to make sure people had an opportunity to personally talk with me or a member of my staff in the district," Geake said in a press release.

Geake's district schedule is: Friday, June 21, at the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center Road.

Friday, June 28, in the Northville/Northville Township area at the Northville Public Library, 215 W. Main St.

Friday, July 12, at the Redford Public Library, 15150 Norborne. Office hours in each location will be from 10 a.m. to noon.

Pursell wins annual award

Goodwill Industries of Central Michigan has named 2nd District U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell of Plymouth its 1991 Humanitarian of the Year.

Pursell, an eight-term member of Congress, was honored at a recent dinner in Jackson sponsored by Goodwill.

The congressman was selected because of his continuing work on behalf of the disadvantaged. Specifically cited was Pursell's support of legislation and his work on infant mortality.

"As a lawmaker, Carl has been active in supporting legislation such as the Older Americans Act, Head Start, the Volunteer Protection Act and child care tax credits," said Will DeGraaf, Goodwill Director and award presenter.

"In keeping with the interests of Goodwill Industries, Congressman Pursell also supported the Americans with Disabilities Act — including his co-sponsorship of a provision which would enable small business to better comply with the act," DeGraaf said.

"It is because of this effort, as well as his other countless contributions to our community, that the Goodwill Industries of Central Michigan salutes our Congressman and honors him with the 1991 Humanitarian Award."

Gallbladder Surgery At Noon. Back Home The Next Day.

Mary Lou Houlihan and husband, Martin, are escorted out of the hospital by Mary Stewart, nurse aide, only 23 hours after surgery.

Thanks to a new surgical breakthrough—laparoscopic gallbladder surgery—patients like Mary Lou Houlihan go home in less than 24 hours and recover fully in days, not weeks. Using specialized instruments, your surgeon makes four tiny openings, leaving almost invisible scars. Since there's no long incision, there's almost no post-operative pain.

St. Mary Hospital surgeons now perform this new operation.

Please ask your physician about laparoscopic gallbladder surgery.

Complex state budget deal gets mixed reviews

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Confused but relieved.
That's how state legislators felt in the wake of a budget deal, 8½ months into fiscal 1991, between Gov. John Engler and their own leadership.
"It's very difficult to understand the extent of what's taking place here," said a confused Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, as the appropriations committees examined the agreement Tuesday.
Reason: The deal was contained in a horrendously complicated executive order (which the appropriations panels approved) showing only the differences between what Engler had wanted to eliminate and total spending for the year, along with a supplemental appropriations bill.

"Jake and I had very little impact," said Senate Appropriations chair Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, speaking also for House Appropriations chair Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee.

"We're making the best of a bad situation," Gast added. "If we (legislators) had put this together, it would have been unacceptable to Management and Budget (director Patti Woodworth). But their fingers are in it."

One legislator after another vowed "never again" would they allow a budget battle to proceed "to the brink" of chaos.

"It's a very unfortunate process," said Faxon, who represents part of Northville. "We either accept or reject." Here is how key areas of the $8 billion spending plan fared:

● Employee furloughs — mandated; all classified employees will be laid off for four days by Sept. 30. But state workers in Northville will be largely unaffected, since the deal includes exceptions — no furloughs — for prison guards, mental hospital workers, and State Police troopers.

● Mental health — fully funded except for some travel, State Sen. R. Robert Geake of Northville said. The supplemental bill contained $3 million to offset earlier 9.2-percent cuts made last December.

● Horse race track cities — returned tax money to help Northville, Livonia, and Hazel Park cope with traffic and crime were largely restored, according to Geake (see related story). Engler had wanted to eliminate the money.

● Arts — an especially confused picture of cuts. Grants made early in the budget year couldn't be cut; others were harder hit. The "equity" program was largely restored. The Detroit Symphony grant appeared to have been restored.

● Youth Corps — largely cut.
● AFDC (aid to families with dependent children) — part of the 9.2 percent cuts were restored.
● Payments to foster care parents — restored.
● Adoption subsidies — restored.
● County medical facilities grants — restored.

● Budget stabilization fund — tapped for $230 million. (Engler wanted to take less; House Speaker Lewis Dodak, D-Birch Run, had wanted to take more than $300 million.)

● General assistance — cuts for the able bodied, replaced by expanded job training offerings.

Deal returns most racetrack revenue

January would have wiped out this year's state reimbursements to cities with racetracks, despite the fact that the payments had already been allocated to the local municipalities and several municipalities had already begun providing the services which the payments were supposed to reimburse.

The City of Northville was owed about $600,000, much of that for police, fire and other services already rendered to Northville Downs. The state's withholding of the funds forced the city to sell a $600,000 tax anticipation note earlier this month.

But the Legislature's apparent approval of the latest executive order signaled the apparent end to this year's battle over racetrack funds.

The Senate approved the executive order Tuesday morning, and the house was scheduled to vote on it that afternoon. "I'm hopeful that it would be approved today," Geake said Tuesday.

The funds would still be 9.2 percent less than the amount the cities are entitled to according to state statute, Geake said, due to former Gov. James Blanchard's across-the-board 9.2-percent budget cut. With the cut, the state still owes the city about $575,000.

Geake said he asked Department of Management and Budget officials when the city could expect its check, "but they did not have an exact date."

Nevertheless, the senator did not expect a long wait for the funds. "I can't see any further impediment to our receiving the money," he said.

Mark Christiansen, Northville's assessor and acting city manager, cautiously praised the apparent compromise.

"I'll wait for the check to be absolutely certain," he said. "It's still a deficit until the money's in the bank. But it sounds promising."

He cautioned that the payment does not mean an end to the city's financial crisis. It just lessens the size of the crisis.

"Even with all the money in, we'll still have to delay the wage increases (for all city employees) for six months," he said. "If we didn't get the money, we'd be looking at extended wage freezes and possible further layoffs."

The money will allow the rehiring of one of two police patrol officers bumped to dispatching jobs during this year's budget cuts, he said, and the rehiring of the laid-off dispatcher, provided that the police unions agree to postpone their wage increases for six months. If they don't agree, he warned, another layoff could be possible.

The city is also negotiating a potential early retirement with one police officer, which would allow the rehiring of the other patrol officer and dispatcher.

In the meantime, Geake is still researching the possibility of legislation to allow racetrack cities to take their percentage of racetrack revenue before it reaches the state. "We have this threat periodically, and I think the only way to permanently provide security to cities with racetracks is to take our share first, before it ever gets to Lansing," he said.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE 94-06-91

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:
PART 1. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 94 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article XVIII, Section 18.29 USES NOT OTHERWISE INCLUDED WITHIN A SPECIFIC USE DISTRICT to add paragraph 7, as follows:

7. Stadiums
Indoor or outdoor stadiums which have a capacity of over 15,000 seats may be permitted within I-1 Districts, subject to the following conditions:

a. Design:
(1) Height. Maximum height shall be 80 feet.
(2) Setbacks. The stadium shall be setback at least three hundred (300) feet from any public street right-of-way.

(3) Building Design. Architectural materials shall be consistent with, or complement, the predominant architectural form and materials of any existing buildings within view of the stadium that are over fifty (50) years of age. At least ten percent (10) of the stadium facade shall be brick, brick face, tile or similar material.

(4) The stadium design shall include on-site security facilities including a command post and temporary detention facilities for use by the Township Police Department.

(5) Maximum seating capacity: 55,000

b. Signs:
(1) Wall signs: Two (2) wall signs of up to three hundred (300) square feet each shall be permitted

c. Lighting:
(1) Parking Lot: All lighting fixtures in the parking lot in public view shall be fully shielded so that no light rays are emitted by the installed fixture at angles above the horizontal plane, as certified by a photometric test. Maximum fixture height shall be established by the Planning Commission

(2) Stadium Lighting: Lighting fixtures in the stadium shall be constructed so that no more than ten percent (10) of the light rays are emitted at angles above the horizontal plane as certified by a photometric test report.

d. Service and Refuse Areas:
All service and refuse areas shall be screened from public view by a wall, landscaping or combination thereof. Truck bays shall not be visible from public streets.

e. Utilities:
A detailed study by a registered engineer shall be provided which demonstrates that public water and sanitary sewer facilities would be able to meet the peak demands generated by stadium users. Stormwater runoff shall be accommodated on-site.

f. Traffic Impacts:
A thorough traffic analysis by a reputable firm shall be submitted with the application that demonstrates that traffic will be able to exit the area within thirty (30) minutes of the end of an event. A separate analysis shall be provided for each anticipated beginning and end time, such as afternoon v. evening event. The analysis shall demonstrate that levels of service for non-stadium traffic approaches to intersections along access corridors would be maintained at "D" or better during events; and that level of service for stadium traffic approaches would be maintained at "E" or better during pre and post-event periods

g. Parking and Circulation:
(1) A minimum of one (1) parking space shall be provided for each three and eight tenths (3 8/10) seats, within one-half (1/2) mile of the stadium, with at least seventy-five percent (75) of those parking spaces on-site (i.e. contiguous to the stadium with no public roadways interrupting pedestrian flow. Specially marked bus spaces shall be provided within two-hundred (200) yards of the stadium

(2) Additional off-site parking may be served by shuttle service.

(3) Parking Lot Landscaping: One parking lot tree shall be provided for each three thousand (3,000) square feet of pavement (parking spaces, aisles and drives). Landscaped parking islands shall be placed to direct traffic patterns, improve aesthetics and provide shading.

(4) Parking lots shall be setback at least twenty (20) feet from any public right-of-way. This setback area shall be landscaped with the equivalent of one (1) deciduous tree and two (2) evergreen trees per each forty (40) feet of street frontage and/or a four (4) foot high landscaped berm. Deciduous trees shall be a minimum of two and five tenths (2 5/10) inches caliper and evergreens at least four (4) feet tall, at time of planting

(5) Site circulation shall be designed and equipped to direct one-way traffic during pre- and post-event periods.

(6) Points of ingress and egress shall be available to the stadium only from abutting major thoroughfares of not less than one hundred twenty (120) feet of right-of-way width and shall not be available from any residential street.

(7) Special drop-off facilities shall be provided to encourage use of transit. The applicant shall submit documentation from transit providers describing the capability to serve the stadium site. The design shall provide special parking areas for buses and ensure that vehicles shall not wait, stand or park within a public right-of-way

(8) Drainage for parking facilities shall meet the requirements of the Township Engineer

h. Woodlands/Landscaping: A woodlands replacement and landscape plan shall be provided and approved by the Planning Commission

i. Wetlands: All impervious surfaces (buildings, drives and parking lots) shall be setback at least fifty (50) feet from the limits of any wetland protected by state or federal acts

j. Vendors: Vending and sales shall be confined within the site.

k. Impact Assessment: An impact assessment shall be prepared, as required in Section 18.30 IMPACT ASSESSMENT. In addition, the assessment shall analyze impacts on noise and police and fire department services

1. Planned Unit Development: Stadiums may be allowed in a Planned Unit Development

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCE NO. 101

REGULATING THE USE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES AT OPEN HOUSE PARTIES

An Ordinance to regulate the use of alcoholic beverages and controlled substances at open house parties.

The Charter Township of Northville ordains:
Section 1 This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the Charter Township of Northville Host Liquor Ordinance.

Section 2 Definitions
For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall be defined as follows:

Adult means a person 17 years of age or older.

Alcoholic Liquor means any beverage containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume. The percentage of alcohol by volume shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of Act No. 8 of the First Extra Session of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1933 (MCL 436.1 et seq., MSA 18.971 et seq.), as amended.

Minor means a person not legally permitted by reason of age to possess alcoholic liquor pursuant to Section 33b of Act No. 8 of the First Extra Session of Public Acts of Michigan of 1933 (MCL 436.33b, MSA 18.1004(2)), as amended.

Residence or Premises means a motel room, hotel room, home, apartment, condominium or other dwelling unit, including the curtilage of the dwelling unit or a hall, meeting room or other place of assembly whether occupied as a dwelling or specifically for social functions and whether owned, leased, rented or used with or without compensation.

Open House Party means a social gathering of persons at a residence or premises, other than the owner or those with rights of possession or their immediate family members.

Controlled Substance a controlled substance as defined now or hereafter by Article 7 of Act No. 368 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1978 (MCL 333 7101, et seq., MSA 14.15 (7101) et seq.).

Control means any form of regulation or dominion including a possessory right.

Section 3 Prohibition
No adult having control of any residence or premises shall allow an open house party to take place at the residence or premises if any alcoholic liquor or controlled substance is possessed or consumed at the residence or premises by any minor where the adult knew or reasonably should have known that any alcoholic liquor or controlled substance was in the possession of or being consumed by a minor at the residence or premises, and where the adult failed to take reasonable steps to prevent the possession or consumption of the alcoholic liquor or controlled substance at the residence or premises.

Section 4 Exception
The provisions of this section shall not apply to legally protected religious observances or legally protected educational activities.

Section 5 Applicable state law
Nothing in this Ordinance shall be deemed to be in usurpation of the statutory authority of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, whose regulations are specifically adopted by reference herein.

Section 6 Penalties
Any person, corporation, partnership, or any other legal entity who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, may be fined not more than $500.00 or imprisoned not more than 90 days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 7 Repealer
All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this Ordinance are repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

Section 8 Severability
If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause or word of this Ordinance shall be declared invalid for any reasons, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this Ordinance, which shall continue in full force and effect, and to this end, the provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable.

This Ordinance shall not affect violations of any other ordinance, code or regulation existing prior to the effective date of this Ordinance, and any such violation shall be governed and shall continue to be separately punishable to the full extent of the law under the provisions of such ordinances, codes or regulations in effect at the time the violation was committed

Section 9 Savings Clause
The repealer or amendment provided for in this Ordinance shall not aggregate or effect any offense or committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred or any pending litigation or prosecution or any right established occurring prior to the effective date of this Ordinance by any other ordinance

Section 10 Effective date
This Ordinance shall become effective upon its publication

This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Northville at its regular/special meeting held on the day of , 1991, and ordered published in the manner prescribed by law. (6-20-91 NR)

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE 94-05-91

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:
PART I. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 94 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article II, Section 2.2 DEFINITIONS by adding paragraph 89a.

89a. Waste Receptacles: a container, such as a dumpster, used for the temporary storage of rubbish or recycling materials, pending collection, having a capacity of at least one (1) cubic yard.

and Article XVIII, Section 18.27 WASTE RECEPTACLES by adding the following:

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:
Section 1 Amendment to Section 18.27 WASTE RECEPTACLES

A space for the location of a waste receptacle shall be provided on each zoning lot in the nonresidential districts (OS-1, OS-2, B-1, B-2, B-3, FS, RD, I-1) regardless of whether or not use of an outside waste receptacle is intended. Waste receptacles may also be permitted as accessory to any use except one-family residential (excluding condominium projects). Waste receptacles shall be permitted subject to the following conditions:

1. Waste receptacles shall be located in a rear yard or interior side yard unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance.

2. Waste receptacles must be clearly accessible to servicing vehicles

3. When a space is provided, it shall be paved with a minimum dimension of nine (9) feet wide and six (6) feet deep.

4. The base for a waste receptacle shall be constructed of six (6) inches of reinforced concrete pavement. The base shall extend six (6) feet beyond the front edge of the dumpster pad or gate, to support the front axle load of a refuse vehicle

5. Waste receptacles shall be screened on three (3) sides, with a gate on the fourth side if visible to a residential unit. The enclosure shall provide a three (3) foot clear area between the waste receptacle and any screen wall. A change to a larger or taller waste receptacle may require modifications to the screening to retain compliance with these standards.

6. Such screening shall be constructed of an earth mound, brick or decorative concrete material with a minimum height of six (6) feet or one (1) foot above the height of the enclosed waste receptacle, whichever is greater. Wood may be approved for waste receptacles in residential districts, provided that the lumber is of timber size as described in the Western Wood Products Association (WWPA) Rules as five (5) inches or larger with a thickness that is not more than two (2) inches greater than its width, suitable for outdoor use, and treated to prevent decay, or consists of Cedar, No 2 Cedar rough sawn seasoned, Redwood, No 2 Common Finish (S4S), Douglas Fir-Larch or Southern Pine. All lumber materials must be approved by the Township Building Department.

7. Waste receptacles shall have enclosing lid or cover

8. Waste receptacles and their screening enclosures shall be located as far as practicable but not less than twenty (20) feet from a residential property line or district.

9. The location of waste receptacles shall be indicated on the site plan and the location and screening shall be approved by the Planning Commission. Detailed drawings or a note shall be provided on the site plan indicating that specific requirements pertaining to waste receptacles are to be met.

PART II. Conflicting Provisions Repealed.
Any Ordinance or part of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 94, as amended, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed

PART III. Effective Date:
The provisions of this ordinance shall be in full force and effective immediately upon publication

PART IV. Adoption
This ordinance may be adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Northville, pursuant to authority of Act No. 184, Public Acts of 1943, as amended at their next regular/special meeting (6-20-91NR)

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCE NO. 100 CODIFICATION

AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING AND ENACTING A NEW CODE FOR THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN; ESTABLISHING THE CODE; REPEALING CERTAIN ORDINANCES NOT INCLUDED IN THE CODE; PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF THE CODE; ESTABLISHING THE MANNER OF AMENDING AND SUPPLEMENTING THE CODE; AND DETERMINING WHEN THE CODE AND THIS ORDINANCE SHALL BECOME EFFECTIVE

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

Section 1. The Code of Ordinances, consisting of Chapters 1 to 88, is adopted and enacted as the "Code of Ordinances, Charter Township of Northville, Michigan" and supersedes all general and permanent Ordinances of the Township adopted on or before June, 1991.

Section 2. All Township Ordinances of a general and permanent nature adopted on or before June 13, 1991, and not included in the Code or recognized and continued in force by the Code are repealed from and after the effective date of the Code Section 3. The repeal provided for in Section 2 above does not revive part or all of any Ordinance already repealed by any Ordinance that is repealed by this Ordinance.

Section 4. Unless another penalty is expressly provided, a violation of any provision of the Code, or any provision of any rule or regulation adopted or issued pursuant to the Code, shall be punished by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment for not more than Ninety (90) Days, or both. Each act of violation and each day upon which any continuing violation exists constitutes a separate offense.

Section 5. Additions or amendments to the Code, when passed in the form as to indicate the intention of the Township Board to make them a part of the Code, are incorporated in the Code, so that reference to the Code includes the additions and amendments.

Section 6. In case of the amendment of any section of the Code for which a penalty is not provided, the general penalty, as provided in Section 4 of this Ordinance and in Section 1.120 of the Code, applies to the Section as amended. In case the amendment contains provisions for which a penalty other than the aforementioned general penalty is provided in another Section in the same Chapter, the penalty provided in the other Section applies to the Section amended, unless that penalty is specifically repealed.

Section 7. The repeal provided for herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending litigation or prosecution of any right established or occurring prior to the effective date of this Ordinance.

Section 8. Any Ordinance adopted after June 13, 1991, which amends or refers to Ordinances which have been codified in the Code, amends or refers to like provisions of the Code.

Section 9. A complete copy of the Code is available at the office of the Township Clerk for inspection by the public during regular business hours

Section 10. This Ordinance and the Code shall become effective August 1 1991 after publication in a manner prescribed by law

Section 11. This Ordinance is declared enacted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Northville at a meeting duly called and held on the 11th day of July, 1991 and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law

JOHN SCHIMPF

Three-time Emmy Award winner John T. Schimpf of Northville died June 16 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. He was 53.

Mr. Schimpf was born July 27, 1937 in Zanesville, Ohio, to John Thomas and Edith Ryan Schimpf. He moved to the area in 1976 and worked as director of electronic communications at Michigan Bell telephone.

Schimpf was active in the community. He was a founder of local chapters of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences (NATAS) in Cleveland and Detroit. He served as president of both chapters, as well as of the Detroit chapter of the International Television Association. While in Cleveland he earned three Emmys for television programs he produced and directed.

Survivors include his wife, Georgiana (Greytok) Schimpf, of Northville; his mother, Edith Ryan Schimpf of Farmington; his children, Joseph E. Schimpf of South Lyon, Nancy A. Nyquist of Redford, Joan M. Harper of Florida, and Maureen L. Myers of Livonia; his stepchildren, Gregory Wright of Ohio, Douglas Wright of Norfolk, Va., Tracy Wright of Monroe, and Matthew Wright of Dearborn; and his sister, Mary Edith Schimpf of Manitowoc, Wisc. Also surviving are Mr. Schimpf's six grandchildren.

JOHN SCHIMPF

Krystyn, Tim and Danielle Nyquist, Jessica Schimpf, and Thomas and Joseph Wright.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, June 9, at the Casterline Funeral Home. Father Joseph Drogowski officiated. Interment was at Rural Hill Cemetery. Arrangements were by the Casterline Funeral Home.

The family would appreciate memorials to the Leukemia Foundation.

MARY SKELTIS

A memorial service for Mary Skeltis will take place at 1 p.m. Saturday at Holy Family Church, at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook roads in Novi.

State Police introduce new DARE instructor

RICHARD RUHLE

By SCOTT DANIEL
Staff Writer

The war against drugs has gained an old ally.

Northville's Michigan State Police post recently filled its vacant Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) instructor position. The slot was vacated last August by one of the program's initial leaders in the state, Bob Garcia. The new instructor is Trooper Richard Rule.

"I want to get it into their heads (the children) that they can make their own decisions," said Rule. "They don't have to buckle in to peer pressure."

Rule, a state trooper for four years, came to the Northville post in 1989. He said when the instructor's job became available, he jumped at the opportunity to work with children in the metro area.

"I think I'm a very enthusiastic instructor," Rule said. "I'm very positive and upbeat."

"I've seen what happens when lives are thrown away (by drugs)," he continued. "I'm not going to solve the drug problem. (But) I can try to weaken the demand."

The trooper said he became interested in working with children while serving in the military. As part of the Army's military police, he said he worked as a juvenile investigator.

In his work as an investigator and police officer, Rule said, he began to understand the problems that children face each day. As a DARE instructor, he said he hopes to gain an even better understanding.

"Hopefully, I'll have a better understanding of what the kids are going through," Rule said.

Currently, the trooper is in contact with several school districts in the metro area about teaching the program next fall.

It's likely that he will teach at one school for the first two terms of school year '91-'92, Rule said. He will teach the DARE program over 17 weeks each term at the fifth- and sixth-grade levels.

"The objective is to get to them before they go to middle school," he said.

The program will stress a positive message.

"We don't bring drugs in," Rule said. "There isn't any drug identification. We talk about the good consequences of not using alcohol and drugs."

Rule said his lessons use several techniques. Lectures incorporate blackboard illustrations.

Short assignments, done during the hour-long DARE presentation, are also given to students. Rule said the assignments reinforce DARE's positive message.

"We aren't teaching values, but good decision-making," he said. "It's got to be positive."

Rule began his DARE training after being selected for the new job in mid-February.

Two weeks at the DARE school in Lansing were included in the training. While at the school, Rule said, he developed lesson plans and had two mock classes in front of other instructors.

"The troopers know the lesson plan," he said, "so if you messed up they knew about it. They make sure you hit every objective."

Rule said he is anxious to start teaching the program next fall. He said he thinks he will get a great deal of satisfaction from the job.

"When you see the kids and get a direct response (from the program)," said Rule, "that's the reward."

State eyes suburbs in school equity plan

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

A school aid bill requiring local districts to share their business property taxes will be thrashed out in a legislative conference committee after being rejected by the state House of Representatives.

But in a key test vote, the House last week rebuffed a suburban attempt to strip out tax-base-sharing language inserted by the Senate.

Under the Senate bill, half the growth in commercial and industrial property taxes would be collected in multi-county regions and spread on a per-pupil basis.

"A sneaky thing. A scam," said Rep. William Bryant, R-Grosse Pointe. "It's an incentive (for legislators) to vote less school aid."

Bryant lost, 36 to 61, his attempt to strip the sharing language from the $3-billion school aid bill.

Rep. Willis Bullard, who represents part of Northville, voted for the Bryant amendment.

Bryant made a long list of bad results that could occur from the principle of business tax-base sharing:

- "Tomorrow it may be residential property."
- "The next day it may be sharing between municipalities—we all need public safety and parks."
- "The day after, it may be all commercial and industrial property."
- "Only growth areas will be punished. Bridgman, the state's wealthiest per-pupil district with a nuclear power plant, would share nothing."

His own silk stocking area of Grosse Pointe would gain because it has no space for industrial growth. Speaking for the House Democratic leadership, Rep. James Kosteva of Canton called the Bryant amendment "irrelevant" and said the conference committee should handle the matter.

Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, a vehement foe of tax-base sharing and another of Northville's representatives, said the conference committee may take weeks to iron out differences between the two versions.

Most likely leaders of the panel are Rep. James O'Neill, D-Saginaw, and Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port Huron. They also are the state's two most outspoken advocates of tax-base sharing.

Faxon served on last year's panel and was particularly angry with DeGrow and O'Neill. The panel met only once for a few minutes on the final day of session, leading Faxon to conclude they worked together in secret.

So angered was Faxon that he has sponsored an amendment to the Open Meetings Act to include conference committees and their leadership.

Last year's bill stripped $72 million in categorical aid, a list of 19 mandated special programs, from out-of-formula districts. Some 51 districts, including Northville, are suing to recover it.

Next year DeGrow proposes to give back the $72 million in categorical aid in return for a tax-base-sharing plan that will cost those districts $350 million over 10 years.

O'Neill said he wasn't entirely happy with DeGrow's version of tax-base sharing with its three multi-county districts.

But he said the problem is inequity—some districts have $8,000 per pupil in resources, others only $2,500.

O'Neill made two promises: The amount of business tax growth to be shared wouldn't exceed 50 percent, and residential valuations wouldn't be shared.

That failed to satisfy Bryant and the suburbs. "If Rep. O'Neill weren't to be chair of the conference committee, and if he weren't a co-sponsor of this scheme, it would be all right," Bryant said.

Schools protest tax plan

gislature approves the tax base sharing plan now before it, then Northville schools will lose one-half of all the new tax money raised by the commercial end of the DeMatitia development.

The plan would also take money from all growth in the assessed value of commercial and industrial property in the district.

Tax-base sharing could make some communities less-hospitable to development, Bell said.

"If the local community is not going to get the economic benefits of increased development, what reason would a local community have to want development?" he asked.

Tax-base sharing proponents promise to stop "recaptures" of state money from out-of-formula districts if industrial and commercial tax-base sharing is approved.

Bell said because the plan promises to return only as much recaptured money as it gets from a district as a result of tax-base sharing, Northville would continue to lose as much or more to state funding.

"They're going to take it either way," he said.

Bell said in theory the idea of equalizing school funding is good, but in reality tax-base sharing is not the way to do it.

TIPS FROM TUCHKLAPER

Novi Dental Center
A. Allen Tuchklaper
D.D.S.

ASPIRIN - GOOD AND BAD

If your child has a toothache, get him or her to a dentist immediately. If this is not practical, a proper dosage of aspirin will help make him feel more comfortable until you can get to the dentist. However, you should take precautions when administering aspirin.

Make sure your child takes the aspirin with enough water to prevent upsetting his stomach. Aspirin is a systemic drug; it relieves pain only after it has entered the bloodstream. So make sure it gets all the way down with plenty of water. Never place the tablet on the painful tooth or on the gum or let it dissolve in his mouth and ask him to swallow it around the aching tooth. The aspirin can irritate the tissue seriously.

Never crush aspirin and place it between the cheek and the gum. Aspirin and related compounds are a common source of burns of the oral cavity. White lesions can develop where the medication touches the cheek or gum. The tissues will become painful and white cauterized areas may be removed leaving a painful, raw, bleeding area.

New people fill township posts

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Watchers of township police and fire departments may want to acquaint themselves with a foursome of new faces in different places.

Both departments recently juggled their line-ups to account for promotions and new hires.

Thirteen-year township police veteran Michael Panagiotides was promoted to sergeant June 3 to fill a vacancy created when Clyde Anderson left for a similar police position in Colorado.

Panagiotides was recommended over eight other sergeant applicants by Pennsylvania-based consulting firm Bartell & Bartell. The nomination was approved by the township board at its May session.

As a shift commander, Panagiotides will handle supervisory duties including vehicle maintenance officer, head up the field training of officer's program, and supervise road officers.

Panagiotides said his superiors expect him to "take things slowly, step into the position and come up with my own command style" during his year-long probationary period.

The most recent addition to the township police department is Paul Sumner. Sumner, a Novi native, is a recent graduate of Ferris State University.

Sumner began patrolling township streets earlier this spring.

Rick Rosselle's ascent to the top of the township fire department left a void in the assistant fire chief slot.

Officials think they capably filled the hole when Bill Zhmendak was named Rosselle's top assistant.

A long-time township resident and volunteer firefighter since 1978, Zhmendak is also employed by Northville Township as a full-time building inspector. He will handle the assistant fire chief chores on a part-time basis.

Zhmendak has completed first responder program training, as well as courses in officer and leadership training. He is scheduled to begin emergency medical technician classes this fall.

Zhmendak, who claims he wanted to be a fireman "since birth," said he is committed to showcasing the abilities and skill level of the local fire department.

"I want the public to know what they're getting," he said. "I'm going to do anything I can to help the department, its credibility, and to make sure the public is aware of what they have."

The new assistant chief extended an open invitation to township residents.

"It would be nice to have people stop (at the fire station on Seven Mile and bring their kids," he said. "We want this to be more professional and for people to see what we're doing."

"We're trying to make this a state-of-the-art fire department," he said.

Rounding out the township's five-person, full-time staff is Chris Campbell.

Campbell was hired full-time this spring to fill an opening created when former Chief Robert Toms retired. He joined the fire department as a volunteer in 1988 and has taken firefighter and emergency medical training classes since then.

Campbell said he enjoys his daily routine as a firefighter, EMT and fire inspector.

"I'm meeting more people on a daily basis as opposed to just on emergencies," he said. "And people do respect the uniform."

"It was just kind of a dream back in 1988," he added. "But I worked for it and got it."

Officer Paul Sumner is the township's newest police officer.

RECORD OPINION

THURSDAY
June 20, 1991

Our Opinion

Tax-base sharing just more bad news for us

Lansing continued to beat up on Northville this week with strong moves toward a plan to share growth in commercial tax base.

Apparent good news for the city on the issue of returned racetrack money softened the blows somewhat. But make no mistake, what's going on with the tax-base-sharing discussions amounts to a major attack on the financial future of the Northville School District.

The state Senate has passed a version of the plan, and the House seems to favor it. Differences between the two bodies will be worked out in a conference committee, but the basics appear to be settled.

Those basics include dividing the state into three regions for tax-base-sharing purposes in school districts. Within those regions, tax money from all new commercial and industrial development will be split in half. One share goes to the local district and the other goes into a regional pool. Then the pooled money is doled out to all the districts in the region.

The goal behind this is to help equalize funding between rich and poor districts. It's not really going to do that, however, but it will certainly hurt Northville.

Point one: The plan won't really equalize funding.

It will actually make some movements in that direction. The growing counties of metro Detroit — Wayne, Oakland and Macomb — are each in a different region. Thus money from growth in those areas will spread to outstate areas which may experience more stagnant development climates.

But the distribution of the shared tax money will be equal throughout a region. It will not take into account how wealthy or poor a given district is. The poor districts are not the ones which will necessarily benefit; it's the district which won't see development. And that includes districts which are fully developed already as well as those which have yet to see major building.

An area which has fully developed its commercial land, or nearly so, will come out as a big winner. If its commercial property is built up, presumably it already has a healthy commercial tax base. Then, on top of that, it will share in the new tax money coming from other areas. Put into more concrete terms, places like Livonia and Grosse Pointe won't be missing out on any local money, but they'll be pulling new revenue in from the rest of the region.

Which brings up point two: The plan will hurt Northville.

Significant new commercial development within the Northville School District finally appears likely in the coming years. Most obviously, the R.A. DeMattia proposal for the old Wayne County land will mean major new building of commercial and light industrial projects. The eventual redevelopment of the Cady Street corridor may provide more. And that certainly won't be the end of it.

Such development is gravy for the school district. The new projects mean more tax money coming in, and it's exempt from both Truth-in-Taxation and Headlee Amendment calculations. At the same time — unlike residential building — it doesn't add any pressures for more staff or services, at least not for the school district.

Now, just when Northville is poised to start seeing some improvement in its commercial tax base, the state seems prepared to take half of it away. Significant improvement in tax base would normally mean relief in taxes on individual homeowners, but under the tax-base-sharing plan, we can't really expect that. If the Legislature does end up approving this plan, it's going to hurt Northville — and it won't even really help the places it's supposed to help.

Lansing is trying to change the rules of a long-term poker game, just when it looked like we were starting to win. Cashing in our chips and going home isn't an option, so all that's left is trying to fight the change. But the dealer makes the rules, and right now Lansing holds all the cards.

This, that, the other thing . . .

Items from our catalog:

● So you thought the phenomenon of urban sprawl was unique to the human psyche? Think again.

There's a perfect example of urban sprawl going on among Northville's waterfowl community, mirroring what's been going on around Detroit for years on a slightly larger scale.

Of course the popular place for ducks and geese has historically been the now-closed Northville Ford Plant on Main Street. But let's face it, the plant is closed and that area is getting a little too run-down for the upwardly mobile mallard to raise the ducklings.

What to do? Move to the suburbs, namely, the parking lot area of Community Federal Credit Union. At least two duck families have made the big jump, and now that the trend has started, just watch it pick up steam.

● The warmer weather has greatly reduced the crowds and the lines for equipment at Vic Tanny. Quick, someone, find me another excuse not to go exercise.

● The career of three-time Grammy Award winner John

Hartford, the multi-talented performer coming to town July 28 to headline the Northville Folk and Bluegrass Festival, just added a new dimension: He's now a character in a syndicated comic strip.

If you've been reading "Gasoline Alley" in the Free Press recently, you know that a flood has left a riverboat aground in a cornfield. From the deck a huckster has been trying to sell some sort of snake oil. And in the last few days, John Hartford has been there too, playing his fiddle to help the sales.

It's obviously the John Hartford; he's called by name, wears the trademark bowler hat, and plays up a storm. I like "Gasoline Alley" anyway, but I've been getting a big kick out of these recent episodes.

In real life — outside Gasoline Alley — Hartford has written a book titled, curiously enough, Steamboat in a Cornfield.

● Overheard on the office police scanner radio: One department giving directions to an officer from another department — "When you get to the Landing Strip bar, look for (our building)." Do you think that's what they tell the general public, too?

After the visiting officer digested the directions came an added piece of advice: "Don't go there for lunch."

Tax increase ahead, part two

I told you so last November, and now I'll tell you again.

Michigan is headed for a hefty state tax increase. It may be a year or more away, but the pressures are building.

My prediction was based on the desires for a property tax cut plus several major lawsuits. If any two events occur, Michigan's $7.6 billion budget will be so far out of whack that only a major infusion of new revenue can balance it.

Last week they settled the Oakland mental health lawsuit. It's heavy reading, but you need to understand it.

Lansing is required constitutionally (Headlee amendment) to give 41.6 percent of its budget to local units. Early in the 1980s, the state turned over community mental health programs to the counties and counted the money as part of the state's 41.6 percent share.

Oakland County called it a sham, sued, won in the lower courts and likely would have won in the Supreme Court. Gubernatorial candidate John Engler vowed to settle the case, and Gov. Engler did settle, though not on terms he wanted.

Engler's people offered $25 million to Oakland County only. Nuts, said the county board — pay off everyone. Engler wisely agreed. It will cost the state $400 million in the fiscal 1993 budget.

Engler and House Democrats Friday cut a deal on the 1991 budget.

Few details were released, but the handouts said the deal relies on one-time bookkeeping changes. In other words, big budget cuts will have to be made in fiscal 1992 and the following years. The deal calls for spending $316 million more in the current year than last year.

Are you counting? By October 1992, the budget will be $700 million, or one-tenth, out of kilter.

Meanwhile, many folks would like a property tax cut.

Headlee's Taxpayers United has petitioned for a 20-percent across-the-board cut, the state to make up the loss to local units. Engler proposed 20 percent for schools alone, which would cost 65 percent as much.

Engler's plan is dead in the Legislature. Headlee's petition drive was stalled in the Board of Canvassers, so his people are asking a court to force it on the ballot.

I happen to doubt TU had enough signatures, but suppose I'm wrong, suppose the courts put the $1-billion-plus property tax cut on the 1992 ballot, and suppose people adopt the "vote yourself a living" philosophy and approve the tax cut.

In two more years, the budget imbalance tops $2 billion. There's your state tax increase. No way out.

Even if TU's tax cut dies, there's more budget trouble.

Plenty of other lawsuits like the Oakland mental health case are floating around. The state has to lose only one to be behind the eight ball.

The out-of-formula school districts deserve to win theirs. Lansing mandates special education, bilingual and 17 other services, but won't pay them $72 million to do the job. It may take them six years to win, as it took Oakland County six years, but their victory is inevitable.

Then there's the court funds suit. Lansing pays all costs of Detroit and Wayne County courts, and everyone else is cheated. If (when) they win, Lansing is out another $250 million.

Meanwhile, we're doing dirt to our poorer school districts. And so on.

Don't think of me as a liberal advocating a tax hike. Think of me as a seismic geologist, studying the earth's movements and predicting a quake.

Reinstate program at hospital

To the editor:

People with serious mental illness are rarely given much thought. But it is our strong belief that the decision to eliminate the volunteer, hospital monitoring program at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital (NRPH) is wrong and should be reversed.

There is much to be proud of NRPH. Dr. Brown, the hospital administrator, and his staff deserve credit for making the hospital a better place for people with mental illness. But it was not long ago that the hospital had major problems: overcrowding, limited treatment programs, staff shortages, inadequate training programs, limited or no activities for patients, and physical plant problems, to name a few. The hospital also is still under a federal court order to improve patient treatment and living conditions.

What is equally troubling about the Department of Mental Health's decision to eliminate the volunteer site visitation program is its timing. The problems listed above are, in part, the outcome of the last recession, in the early 1980s and subsequent budget cuts.

We again are in a recession in Michigan and human services are being seriously affected. Ypsilanti Regional Hospital was recently closed and patients were transferred to NRPH. The site visitation volunteers provided extra eyes and ears not only for the Department of Mental Health, but for the family members who have sons or daughters at the hospital.

No matter how good the staff is at a state psychiatric hospital, the tendency in any large, impersonal institution is to take short cuts when no one is watching. The history of NRPH, and other large psychiatric hospitals, tells us that a well-intentioned staff has done tremendous evil, in the name of good.

Dr. Brown reasoned, in making the decision to end the volunteer site visitation program, that it was his and his staff's responsibility to monitor the hospital. He is right. When it comes to having devalued, vulnerable people with serious mental illness out of the public eye, however, there is no such thing as too much monitoring.

The site visitation program (or another program that allows for the maximum public scrutiny) should be continued at NRPH and expanded to other state hospitals, private hospitals serving public patients and community mental healthy programs as well.

By not letting the public in, the impression, and perhaps the reality, is that the system has something to hide.

Given the nature of institutions, state bureaucracy and budget reductions, despite Dr. Brown's and his staff's desires and abilities, a tragedy is likely to happen at NRPH.

It will be at this time that the general public, the media and family members of persons with serious mental illness will wonder if it could have been avoided with more people watching?

It is vital to know transmission of AIDS virus

To the editor:

When I picked up my Morbidity and Mortality Report, Vol. 40, June 7, 1991, prepared by the Centers of Disease Control Atlanta, Georgia, published by The New England Journal of Medicine, I read about the "HIV/AIDS Epidemic: The First Ten Years." It was so important an article that I thought I would pass it along to you.

On June 5, 1981 the first cases of an illness subsequently defined as acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS) was reported by health-care providers in California the Center for Disease Control (CDC).

As of May 31, 1991, local health departments had reported to the CDC 179,136 AIDS cases among persons of all ages in the United States.

By the end of 1991, AIDS will be

Here's how we work to help youth

Northville Youth Assistance (NYA) has been in existence for four years now and it has recently come to my attention that there are people in the community who are unaware of our services.

NYA is a diversion program for youths who break the law plus a support system for youths who need a "special" person in their lives. Youths that have especially benefited from the program are those who are new in the community; whose parents are going through a separation or divorce, or a death of sibling; peer relationship problems; no male in the home; no female in the home; parents experiencing career stress; child needs special academic tutoring; parent experiencing emotional instability; or sibling or youth involved in drug rehabilitation.

Since the onset of the program, over 125 persons have attended the volunteer training sessions. These persons are giving back to the community and providing an extremely worthwhile service to our local youths. Recently, I heard from three separate families who praised the work of the volunteers.

One mother called to tell me that her son's volunteer has made all the difference in the world for him. The boy is now thinking of his goals and his future. Additionally, his self-esteem has increased. She went on to say that the volunteer is an excellent role model for her son. Another mother whose two children are matched with a volunteer approached me in the grocery store and asked if there were any special awards for volunteers because her children's volunteers deserve it. She stated that the volunteers go beyond any expectations she had of the program. There is no male in her sons' lives and these two male volunteers fill the role of friend and confidante for her sons. The mom said that the boys do not always express their thanks to the volunteers, but she sincerely appreciates their involvement.

One of the most heart-warming calls I have gotten came from a 15-year-old girl who called to tell me how much she enjoys her time with her volunteer. The girl was skeptical at first about meeting with a volunteer, but she is now so pleased to have a "special" friend that her exuberance and appreciation brought tears to my eyes.

If your child needs a special person in his or her life or if you want to be a volunteer, please call Mary Ellen King at 344-1618.

the second leading cause of death among men 25-44 years of age, and is likely to be one of the leading causes of death among women 15-44 years old in the United States.

The World Health Organization estimates that 8-10 million adults and children worldwide are in-fectured with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), the etiologic agent of AIDS. By the year 2000 (9 years), 40 million persons may be infected with HIV. More than 90 percent of these persons will reside in developing countries in sub-Saharan Africa, South and Southeast Asia, Latin America, and the Caribbean. In addition, during the 1990s, mothers or both parents of more than 10 million children would have died from HIV infection.

Of the 179,136 AIDS cases in the U.S., more than 113,000 (63 percent) are reported to have died and the findings of 1990 show an increase of more than 8,000 cases over those reported in 1989.

The number of HIV-infected persons is not really known, and we must remember that a diagnosis of AIDS cannot be made until immunity deficient levels decline and specifically related infections take over and destroy the host.

Our community is not exempt. There have already been deaths from AIDS.

Members of the professions dealing with exposure — dental and medical personnel, along with police, firemen, and morticians — those dealing with bleeding wounds — have been warned of potential danger and are doing their best to prevent contamination. These people will become our real heroes.

To illustrate the magnitude of the AIDS problem let us take the example of syphilis. Syphilis, a disease caused by a spirochete, was named after a character in a poem written in 1530 by Girolamo Fracastoro, a Veronese physician and poet and the supposed first victim of the disease. Syphilis extended to all corners of the globe, causing thousands of deaths and insanity, and came into control only in the late 1940s when penicillin became available. In the United States in 1990 there were 20,855 reported cases. The difference is that they can be treated. For AIDS we have no treatment yet.

Therefore, for the time being, the best protection is being informed concerning the transmission patterns of this illness and avoid them as you would avoid the plague. For it is.

CREATIVITY through hard work

John Martin

On Inspiration:

"I'm always looking for things. I take a four-mile walk along Northville Road every other day and I'm constantly looking for things, picking things up. One day I found a rusty old license plate, and I worked it into one of my pieces. It's at (Atrium) Gallery right now. It's called 'Northville Road.'"

On Creativity:

"For me, what I'm doing takes a lot of energy. Being creative is an effort. It's a gift, and I feel I have to do something with it. It's physically hard being a potter. You're constantly involved with hands and arms... You're really active doing this."

On Teaching:

"I think the most important thing is that they're open to ideas and suggestions. Not that I'm going to tell them what to do — but they need to be open to all possibilities. The number one thing is to develop confidence, in themselves. That's what you really teach."

Martin's work is inspired by life in the southwest

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

He's lived in Northville for 13 years, but artist John Martin is probably better known in Tucson, Ariz.

Martin spends much of his time in Tucson. He is based at the Tucson Museum of Art, and his works are displayed in many galleries there.

His pottery, which has a Southwest feel to it, is currently on display at only one Michigan gallery — Atrium Gallery in Northville.

He does hope to get into more local galleries, but, he said, he hasn't had time yet.

"Right now I'm so busy I'm not anxious to get into more galleries," he said.

Martin, 57, who is a full-time artist, has found that marketing and selling his art is the part of his work he enjoys the least. Most of his time is spent in the studio, actually creating.

"I like to do the fun part," he said.

His specialty is an ancient oriental pottery form called raku. Raku is an ancient art form that was once used for throwaway teapots.

In raku, the firing is done outside instead of in a conventional oven. A low-fire glazing is done underground or in a large can. The method seals off the oxygen from the piece, creating an iridescent color.

"Each thing looks different, even if you use the same glaze, because it is affected by so many variables," Martin said.

Raku items are made strictly for looks only. "They would never hold water," he said.

Martin, who is a former teacher at Dearborn Public Schools and Henry Ford Community College, now studies under two different pottery teachers — one here and one in Tucson. He also continues to teach pottery classes in Tucson.

Although the walls of his home are filled with his original paintings, he plans to stick with pottery.

"I'm on a roll," he said. "I've had great teachers that have really inspired me."

"You learn something every day, and there are so many different ways to look at something."

Of his own students, he said, "I think the most important thing is that they're open to ideas and suggestions. Not that I'm going to tell them what to do — but they need to be open to all possibilities."

"The number one thing is to develop confidence, in themselves. That's what you really teach."

Martin finds inspiration everywhere, especially when he is in the southwest. One of his biggest inspirations is a Native American friend in Tucson whose father is a Deer Dancer and whose uncle is a Medicine Man.

"Being in the southwest, you just get inspired by the things around you," he said. "Such a great combination of people... The culture is vastly different. It's just a whole different way of life."

Martin began going to Tucson to visit in-laws back in 1987. He soon decided to retire early and move there, even though he really had no connections there.

"Everyone thought I was nuts — retiring early, deciding to move to Tucson," he recalled. But the move turned out to be good for him.

"I wanted to retire early because I wanted to have time to do something else," he said.

"For me, what I'm doing takes a lot of energy. Being creative is an effort. It's a gift, and I feel I have to do something with it."

"It does take effort. It's physically hard being a potter. You're constantly involved with hands and arms... You're really active doing this."

But Tucson is not the only place Martin finds inspiration for his work. He also finds it in his home town.

"I'm always looking for things. I take a four-mile walk along Northville Road every other day and I'm constantly looking for things, picking things up. One day I found a rusty old license plate, and I worked it into one of my pieces. It's at (Atrium) Gallery right now. It's called 'Northville Road.'"

A few days ago he found a rusty car door handle along Northville Road, which he plans to use in another piece.

The pieces he creates really have little to do with whether he is in Northville or Tucson, he said.

"It's more in your mind or your heart than where you are," he said. "You take all the things you experience and it just sort of filters through — assimilates — into what you create."

Quilts for AIDS babies

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

"I crochet, crochet and crochet," commented Betty Wright in talking about her quilt-making for infants and toddlers who are infected with the HIV (AIDS) virus.

She said she read in a paper last October that a woman in Huntington Woods, who was area coordinator of a national volunteer program called ABC Quilts, was appealing for quilt makers to fill a growing need for these children.

The article also said that more and more babies are being born with the AIDS virus and also with a drug addiction and a fetal alcohol syndrome.

At first in the program, she said, she made quilts for toddlers — 38 inches by 44 inches. "But now I make the smaller ones — 36-by-36 — for infants. That's the size that's needed most."

Material? Some of the yarn is her own, and some has been given to her by interested friends.

As for patterns, she said, "I use the same one until I tire of it. Everyone makes her own pattern, and some people even put pictures on them — balloons and teddy bears."

Colors? Betty Wright uses pastels and other light shades—in combination or alone.

A patch, which is sewn onto each blanket, is supplied by the organization. It reads "ABC Quilts," and the quilter writes on it in indelible ink her first name and her city and state.

She doesn't know who the recipients are. "I just give them," she said.

Anyone else who is interested in this volunteer quilt business may contact the area coordinator by sending an information request with a stamped self-addressed envelope to the area coordinator at the following address:

Linda Blondy, 8286 Huntington Road, Huntington Woods, 48070.

In Our Town

Longs: 50 years of wedded bliss

Longtime Northville residents Glen and Lois Long celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, June 1, with a party at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The Longs, who were married in Wixom in 1941, have owned Long's Plumbing in downtown Northville since 1949.

Present at the party were the Longs' three children — Tom and Jim Long and Mary McLeod — as well as a sizable collection of relatives, friends and employees.

According to Jim Long, the family's plumbing business was started in their home on Baseline Road. They later moved to a building on Seven Mile and, in 1964, moved to the building that is now Edwards Caterer. In 1973, the business moved to its current Main Street location.

Each one of those buildings — including the house on Baseline — was built by the Long family.

Hunko ordained

Former Northville resident Jerry Hunko will be ordained as a Catholic Priest on Friday, June 28 in St. Mary's Cathedral, Gaylord, by the Most Rev. Patrick R. Cooney, Bishop of Gaylord.

The ordination is the final step in the preparation for pastoral ministry as priests of the Roman Catholic Church. Thirty-five priests of the Diocese will join Bishop Cooney in celebrating the Eucharistic liturgy and in welcoming Hunko and three others to the order of presbyter during the ordination rite.

Jerry's education began at Our Lady of Victory School and Parish when his parents, Paul and Marie, and his two sisters, Laura and Julie, moved to Northville in 1964. He graduated from Northville High School in 1979.

In 1981, Jerry began formal seminary training at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit. He graduated in 1986 with a bachelor's degree. In the fall of 1986, Jerry entered Sts. Cyril and Methodius Seminary at Orchard Lake, where he received his master of divinity degree in 1991.

Jerry was accepted as a candidate for the Gaylord Diocese in 1989 and spent the summer of 1990 at St. Joseph's Parish in Marquette as his diocesan assignment. Jerry will celebrate a Mass of Thanksgiving at Immaculate Conception Parish, Traverse City, on June 29 at 6 p.m.

Convention attendees

The Rev. Thomas Lubeck, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Northville, and Nancy Schlanser, a church member, will be attending the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Convention to be held at Concordia College, Ann Arbor, on June 23-26, 1991.

The theme of the convention is "In His Service — Together."

Births

Catherine Eden Storm

Catherine Eden Storm was born to Kerri and Jeff Storm of New Hudson on April 14. She is their first child. Grandparents to the new baby are Jerry and Julie Krawczyk of New Hudson, and Richard and Jeanne Storm of Northville.

Great-grandparents include Edward and Helen Dietrich of Northville and Annette Boyea of St. Clair.

Catherine Eden weighed 7 pounds 12 ounces upon delivery at Sinai Hospital in Detroit.

Amanda Christine Webster

Amanda Christine Webster was born to Vicki and Michael Webster of Northville on March 6. She is their first child.

Grandparents include Ernest and Jo Johnson of Westland, and Elizabeth and Donald Webster of Peoria, Ill.

The baby weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces upon delivery in Dearborn.

Your bedrooms are hot. Your central air has lost its cool. It's time for MaxForce

Made in the U.S.A.

Your downstairs is cool and comfortable, but when it's time for bed your upstairs is hot and stuffy, making it difficult to sleep. That's when you realize your central air conditioning is coming up short. It's all because of a simple fact — hot air rises, cool air falls.

Without MaxForce

With MaxForce

Fortunately there's a simple answer to this annoying problem. The MaxForce™ Comfort System from MaxForce. It's the cost-effective solution you've been looking for to keep those hard-to-cool rooms as comfortable as the rest of the house.

Put MaxForce to work for you and you'll immediately feel the difference. Its powerful impeller creates a vacuum that pulls cool air out of the deep recesses of your ductwork and puts it where you need it most. In just 30 minutes it can make the hottest room as cool as the rest of your house.

Eliminate clumsy fans

Part of the reason you have central air is the convenience of a constant supply of cool air throughout your home. But you still find yourself lugging around bulky, noisy fans in an attempt to cool upstairs or outer rooms of your home. The problem is, conventional fans only recirculate stale air in rooms that are already stuffy.

With MaxForce, you can put away those fans for good. An advanced housing design allows the unit to seal around registers so no stale room air is recirculated. The result is a cooling action that no conventional fan can match.

Get your MaxForce Comfort System while it's hot.

Don't lose your cool. Order your MaxForce today and start making your upstairs rooms as cool and comfortable as the rest of your house.

Special Pre-introduction price:
$149.95* call 1-800-528-2244

To order by mail, fill in the information below. If paying by credit card, be sure to include your Visa or MasterCard number, signature and expiration date. Send your order to:

MaxForce
Order Processing Center
1505 West Hamlin Road
Rochester Hills, Michigan 48309

* Special pre introduction price offer expires July 15, 1991

Compact, easy to use

Because of its powerful impeller, you only need to run MaxForce when you need it. Turn the variable speed control to high and in less than 30 minutes the room will be as comfortable as the rest of the house. Once the room is cooled down, the unit can be turned to a lower speed to maintain a steady flow of cool, fresh air into the room.

With MaxForce, there's no need for costly, professional installation or "extra cost" parts. Using it is as easy as 1-2-3. Position the MaxForce unit so that its base seals tightly around the register, plug it in and turn it on. That's all there is to it. The unit comes complete, ready to use.

Order now, 1-800-528-2244

Use the form below to order your MaxForce unit by mail. Or if you're in a hurry, call our toll-free number and order with your Visa or MasterCard.

15-day money-back guarantee

If you are not totally satisfied with your MaxForce Comfort System, return it to us within 15 days from the date of purchase and we'll refund your money.

Packing Plants

Karen Ross, president of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (left) helps Maxine Ericson, the group's newest member, load plants into the car. The plants were sold as part of the group's annual plant auction, which helps raise funds for such things as civic improvement projects and college scholarships. Organized in 1936, the group meets on the second Monday of each month at various members' homes.

Northville students earn high honors at Schoolcraft

The following Northville students were named to Schoolcraft College's dean's list for the Winter 1991 semester:

PATRICK BEAUDOIN, ANN BERNER, DEBORAH BETHAM, GREG BUNTING, ELIZABETH BYRNE, MARYANN CHIRCO, DAVID DOSTAL, DONNA DUNNABECK, PAMERLA GABRIEL, ANDREA JEZAK, DEBRA JOHNSON, SALLY KAUFFMAN, SUZANNE LANPHEAR, PAUL MACKINDER, KAREN MARZONIE, KARI MOEN, ELIZABETH NEUMAJER, COLLEEN PAWLAK, JAMES PHILLIPS, SEAN RYAN, CHRISTINE SAWDON, STEPHEN SKINNER, CASSANDRA SPAGNUOLO, JUDITH WHELAN, MARGARET ZLINE.

To qualify for the dean's list, a student must carry at least 12 hours during the semester and earn a 3.5 (B+) grade point average or better.

JAMES ROBBINS and KIMBERLY PROKES, of Northville, were recently honored as Schoolcraft College business honor students.

Students honored earned a minimum 3.25 grade point average.

Two Northville residents received degrees from Ferris State University during the winter quarter. LYNN BROWN received her BS in Advertising and JOHN C. HAAS III received a BS in Surveying.

JAMES THOMPSON of Northville was among the Western Michigan University students initiated into Phi Kappa Phi national honor society in ceremonies this spring.

Members are selected on the basis of high academic standing. Seniors must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.78 or above and juniors must have maintained at least a 3.88 cumulative grade point average.

TIMOTHY STRAUSS and ROBERT DUDLEY, both of Northville, were named to Bowling Green State University's dean's list for the spring semester.

To receive recognition, students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 graded hours of courses, and must achieve grade point averages of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale.

Five Northville students were named to Hope College's dean's list for the second semester of the 1990-91 school year.

LAUREN OLIVER, DEBORAH DEFRANCESCO, TERRI FORTE, PAUL WARNER, and ERIC ROSSING all received the honor after earning a minimum of a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Central Michigan University honors students (those placing in the top 10 percent of their class) for the spring semester includes the following Northville students:

BETH CONLEY, ABBY EDWARDS, ADRIENNE EDWARDS, DARLENE FUHST, and JOHN HACKER.

The following Northville residents received degrees from Purdue University during recent commencement ceremonies conducted at the West Lafayette campus:

RICHARD ROUSTON, M.S. in engineering; and THOMAS URBAN, B.S. in Construction Engineering.

ANNE GRIFFITH of Northville was named to Purdue's distinguished student list for the 1991 spring semester.

To make the list, a student must have a semester grade-point average of at least 5.5 on a 6-point scale and have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the semester.

Recent NHS graduate BARBARA NISENBAUM was named to the dean's list at St. Mary's College. Students on the list must have achieved a grade point average higher than a 3.25.

SHANNON COUZENS of Northville was named to the Centre College chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, the foreign language national honor society. To be eligible, students must complete a set of numbered courses in any language and hold a 3.0 grade point average on a four-point scale.

Couzens is the daughter of Jack and Susan Couzens of West Nine Mile. A junior at Centre, she fulfilled the needed requirements for Phi Sigma Iota in French. She is a member of Centre Singers, student congress, and the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. A government major, she will serve as a resident assistant next year. During her sophomore year she was a part of the trip to France. She graduated from Northville High School with the Class of 1988.

KAREN KAISNER of Northville graduated from Oakland University on June 1. She received a BS in nursing.

LESLIE NORBACK, a senior majoring in English and German, was one of 257 students named to Adrian College's dean's list for the spring 1991 semester. To be named to the list, students must maintain a 3.5 grade point average and carry at least 12 credit hours. Norback was also one of 194 graduates of Adrian College during April 28th commencement ceremonies. She graduated cum laude for maintaining a 3.5-3.65 grade point average.

Albion College senior BRAD EBEL has been awarded the Bruce Gibson Small Memorial Endowed Scholarship.

Reactivated in 1988 at the request of Shirley Mack, this scholarship gives preference to a needy junior or senior man maintaining a B average, preferably in the fields of chemistry, pre-engineering, or pre-medicine.

Three Northville students received degrees from Michigan Technological University during spring commencement ceremonies, held May 18. They were: JOHN ANDERSON, AAS in Mechanical Design Engineering Technology; CHARLES KEPNER, BS in Electrical Engineering; and WENDY NUECHTERLEIN, BS in Civil Engineering.

KENDRA CUPP and MITCHELL MOORE of Northville were recently initiated into the University of Michigan chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

They were elected "on the basis of high scholarly achievement, broad cultural interests and good character."

STEPHEN BUELOW of Northville was among 515 Ferris State University students recently honored for academic excellence at the 33rd annual Academic Honors Convocation. Those honored are full-time students who have attained a minimum 3.6 grade point average for at least three consecutive quarters.

The following Northville students were named to the Dean's List in recognition for superior academic achievement during the past term at Madonna University:

CYNTHIA BINDER, MADELEINE DREW, ANGELA HANCOCK, PAUL LEAVITT, KIMBERLY MAI, LISETTE MILLER, SUSAN MORONEY, JILL MOUNTAIN, LAURA RICE, TANYA SEIBERT, JANE STIPE, MARY TAYLOR, LISA TUCKFIELD, and CHRISTINE WILHELM.

1990 NHS graduate DEBORAH BUELL was one of 86 Michigan State University freshmen "tapped" into the distinguished honor society, Tower Guard, in traditional May Morning Sing ceremonies at MSU.

Unsuspecting initiates were awakened at 7 a.m. May 3 and lured to MSU's Beaumont Tower where family, friends and current members waited to honor them in the annual induction ceremony. They were first selected by a secret process and notified of their acceptance with the "kidnapping."

Tower Guard, a service honorary established in 1935, selects MSU freshmen on the basis of high academic achievement, character and willingness to serve. The honor society's main activity is reading to blind students at MSU.

Grand Valley State University graduates named to the dean's list for the 1991 winter semester includes the following Northville students: KIMBERLY MACDONALD, RONALD MCDONALD, and LORI OSBORNE.

To be named to the dean's list, students must maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average while enrolled in a minimum of 12 credits.

Two 1991 graduates of Northville High School, PETER BEYERSDORF and ADAM FISHER, were among Western Michigan University entering freshmen selected to receive a share of $1 million in academic scholarships.

The awards are part of WMU's Medallion Scholarship Program, which included written testing and oral problem solving activities for students and information sessions for their parents.

ANNE MARIE WOODEN of Northville was one of nearly 30 Eastern Michigan University political science students inducted into the Zeta Tau Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, National Political Science Honor Society last month.

Wooden is a senior majoring in public law and government. She is a member of the Golden Key National Honors Society and was a contributor to the EMU literary arts magazine, Cellar Roots.

Pi Sigma Alpha is sponsored by the American Political Science Association and also is recognized as a member of the Association of College Honor Societies. Inductees are nominated by EMU's Zeta Tau Chapter based on their academic record.

Graduate inductees must have completed 24 credit hours in public administration and have maintained a grade point average of at least 3.7. Undergraduates must have completed 12 semester hours in political science and have maintained a 3.0 grade point average overall and in the political science curriculum.

DEBORH MARSH of Northville was one of more than 100 dancers performing in the Alma College Winter Term 1991 Orchestral Dance Concert in early April.

Marsh, a 1987 graduate of Northville High School, is the daughter of Aloysius Marsh of Northville and Judith Marsh of Novi. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree in international business administration in April from Alma College.

The following Northville residents received degrees from Madonna University:

TERRY COX, MS Adm-Nursing; MARY SULLIVAN, MS Adm-Edu Leadership; SHIRLEY CALAMIA, BA

Commercial Art; ANNA CHIANG, BS Nursing; WILLIAM EDMONDS, BS Financial Administration; DAVID GAWLOWSKI, BS Psychology; SUZANNE INEICH, BS Psychology; KURT MILLER, BS Business Administration; LAURA RICE, BS Biology; KATHLEEN SCHODER, BS Accounting.

AMY SCHWAB of Northville received her BS from Vanderbilt University during the May 10th commencement exercises.

JAMES R. HARRAL, a 1990 Northville High School graduate, received the President's Award of Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity at Ferris State University. He was honored for developing and implementing an improved study support program at the fraternity. Harral is majoring in architectural technology.

If Quality Time Scares You, Do What The Munsters Do.

FAMILY MEMBERSHIP PASS

After browsing in the museum all morning the Munsters of Mt. Clemens decided to do some people watching on the green in front of Eagle Tavern. From left to right: little Steven John, Charlotte (John's mother) and Ann.

With the family hour at an all-time premium and entertainment costs equally high the Munsters used to be downright afraid to spend an afternoon together. But that was before they got a family membership pass to Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

Now whenever the spirit moves them they come out for some family fun. They're not scared by the size of the milking cows at Firestone Farm although they're always shocked by the vast collection of unusual historical items in the museum. In fact they're usually aghast that the time passes so quickly.

If you're alarmed by the cost of having a good time with your family you should do what the Munsters do.

It's about time for a day at the zoo

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

Monkeys, elephants, zebras, cotton candy, kids and a few adults, too. One of the best places to spend a warm summer day is at the Detroit Zoo.

Not only is the Detroit Zoo a good place to look at animals, it's also a place to enjoy beautiful gardens—all blooming right now—and fresh air. The air is even fresh near the hippopotamus, who's lounging outdoors these days.

The Detroit Zoo is located at the northwest corner of the intersection at Woodward Avenue and Ten Mile Road in Royal Oak. The best way to get there from Northville or Novi is to take I-696 to the Woodward Avenue exit.

One of the highlights of the zoo is the chimpanzee exhibit which, like the rest of the exhibits at the Detroit Zoo, provides a view of the animals in an atmosphere that is as close as possible to their natural habitat.

The new chimpanzee exhibit, opened in 1989, is very different from the old one that closed in 1983.

The chimps at the Detroit Zoo aren't dressed up in kids' clothes and trained to perform like clowns. Instead, a collection of chimps live and interact much as they would in the wild. The exhibit is designed to provide three environments close to their natural habitats: a forest clearing, a meadow and a rock outcropping.

Because they are very social animals, the chimps are usually seen in groups. They wander from rock to rock, swing from ropes, chase each other around and groom each other—just as they would if they had never spent a day in the zoo.

None of the chimps at the Detroit Zoo, however, were taken from the wild.

The Detroit Zoo's chimpanzee exhibit, which covers four square acres, is the largest of its kind in the world. Another point of interest at the Detroit Zoo is the recently renovated Pinguarium, which presents Blue, King, Macaroni and Rockhopper penguins in three distinctive environments—again developed to give the creatures a home that resembles their natural habitat.

The chimp exhibit at the Detroit Zoo is a crowd pleaser

The best times to visit the Pinguarium are 10:30 and 11:30 a.m. That's when they are fed.

Two other exhibits to linger at are those of the Japanese Macaque, which looks like a small monkey, and the polar bears. They are two of the exhibits that are currently sporting a few babies. It's sure to produce that "awwww" sound people tend to make when they see something cute.

If you bring children to the zoo, be sure to stop at the farmyard—the one place where children can pet the animals—and the Log Cabin Learning Center, full of such educational displays as snake skins and fur to feel.

And finally, just when you thought your feet were ready to fall off, take a ride on the Detroit Zoo's miniature railroad. The train, which has been a part of the zoo since 1931, carries passengers to and from the Main Station near the park entrance and the Africa Station at the farthest corner of the park.

The Detroit Zoo is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. through October. Admission fees are $5.75 for teens and adults; $2.50 for children age 2-12; $3.50 for seniors over 62; and free for children under 2.

In Town

Northville Community Recreation needs your help to root for our favorite baseball team—the Detroit Tigers—as they play against the Kansas City Royals. Children ages 10 and up are invited on this trip.

The cost is $19 for Northville city and township residents, $21 school district, and $24 outside residents which includes transportation and tickets. Please bring additional money for food.

Meet at the Community Center, 303 W. Main, at 11:45 a.m. and return at approximately 4:15 p.m.

Don't miss out on the excitement, seats are limited to only 20. We will be accepting registrations at the Community Center until Friday, July 12 or until the seats are sold out.

For more information call the Recreation Department at 349-0203.

IMAGES: A one-woman show by Norma McQueen, "Natural Images," opens June 22 at the G. Jordano Gallery at 332 E. Main St.

An opening reception to meet the artist and discuss her work will take place from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 22. The exhibition continues through July 12. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday; and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

The artist has been a resident of Garden City for 27 years. She has won several local art awards. For more information call 348-0282.

ATRIUM EXHIBITS: The Atrium Gallery is hosting at show of selections from Marilyn Blinder. Blinder is a gifted Southfield artist showing watercolor monotypes and multimedia pieces. She has recently exhibited at the DIA during the juried Michigan Fine Arts Show.

In 1990, she won the national "Watercolor USA" award. Exhibited with Blinder is John Martin, a highly acclaimed raku artist. Martin is a resident of Northville and teaches fine arts at the University of Arizona during the winter months.

His work is shown at the Tucson Museum of Art and several southern galleries. His pieces are highly sought-after by raku collectors. This show will take place at the Atrium Gallery, 113 N. Center. The gallery's hours are 10-5, and Thursday until 7 p.m. The show will run through July 15.

MUSIC AT THE BANDSHELL: The Northville Arts Commission presents a series of magnificent evenings of music at the bandshell in downtown Northville every Friday. All shows start at 7:30 p.m.

The schedule includes:
● June 14: Giftfiddler.
● June 21: Reed Works.
● June 28: Silver Strings Dulcimer Society.
● July 5: Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble.
● July 12: Plymouth Community Band.
● July 19: Giftfiddler.

● Sept. 6: Novi Concert Band.
● Sept. 13: Sweatband (Schoolcraft)

DRAWINGS: An exhibit of pencil drawings by Jorge E. Galvez is showing at the J. Jordano Gallery, 332 E. Main.

Galvez is a well-established artist who works in oil, acrylic, pencil, and watercolor. His works encompass a range of subjects, but in all he tries to convey a message.

Galvez has been featured in exhibitions since his first in 1974 at the National Concourse of Art in Bogota, Colombia. In 1990 his work was exhibited by the Biegas Gallery in Detroit, during the Hispanic Art Exhibition at the Bowen Library in Detroit and by the Hispanic Council of Art at Baldwin Library in Birmingham.

The exhibit will run through June 21.

KARAOKE: The Novi Hilton's Whispers Lounge is looking for a few good singers.

They will be holding Karaoke-assisted auditions on Friday and Saturday evenings. Singers are asked to reserve performance times. Phone 349-4000 to do so or for more information. The Novi Hilton is located on Haggerty Road just north of Eight Mile Road.

MORE FOOD, FUN AND SONG: Due to the overwhelming success of all the dinner theaters, John and Toni Genitti of Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall Restaurant are pleased to announce scheduled additions to the Murder Mystery and Verdi Opera Dinner Theatre performances.

Genitti's now has three different production companies performing three different Murder Mystery Dinner Theatres. Every Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. separate performances are planned in separate dining rooms. Reservations are required for all shows.

Special performances of the Murder Mystery Dinner Theatre are now available for large groups of people any day of the week, day or evening, lunch or dinner time. The theater is ideal enter-but in the children's series.

Series tickets are on sale now through the festival. Call 377-2010 Monday through Friday, 9-6, and Saturday and Sunday, noon to 5. Tickets for individual concerts will go on sale May 17 at Ticketmaster only. The Meadow Brook Music Festival box office opens June 1 when tickets will be available at both the box office and Ticketmaster.

The full theater schedule, which will include more non-series shows, will be announced later. Here's the lineup so far:
● Inherit the Wind, opening Oct. 3.
● Ten Little Indians, Oct. 31.
● A Christmas Carol, Nov. 29.
● The Gin Game, Jan. 9, 1992.

CROSSROADS

Some people travel by boarding a plane and flying across the world. Some people travel by staying home and letting the world come to them.

Both kinds of traveler are involved in the home stay programs that encourage students to live in foreign homes and locals to host students from foreign lands.

These programs come under many names, but the name that I am interested in at the moment is "Nacel."

"What does it mean?" I asked Evelyn Prince of West Bloomfield. She and her husband Julian coordinate the Nacel Cultural Exchanges in Michigan.

"It's the short form of a French word, naclle, that means the basket under a hot air balloon. It is our logo because it represents the adventurous spirit needed to explore new lands and cultures."

Jeanette Champine of Milford will be on her way to France and Jeffrey Harris of Howell will be on his way to Spain when the plane of Nacel students takes off in July. There are still a few spaces for students who want to take part in a four-week summer homestay in Europe.

Homestays have added new dimensions to the lives of Elizabeth Garvey of Howell and her two children. Susan was at Alma College and Christopher was still at Howell High School when they welcomed a Spanish student called Julien into their home five summers ago.

The following year, Susan visited Julien's family when she took the second semester of her sophomore year in Spain.

"Julien warned his family to speak slowly because Susan didn't speak Spanish well, but Susan had learned a lot of Spanish by then and she surprised them all," Elizabeth said.

Nacel was launched by language teachers in France in 1957 and came to America in 1969. The non-profit organization organizes 17,000 international exchanges a year.

That didn't surprise me. What did surprise me was the effect Desert Storm has had on this year's arrangements. Everybody was cancelling trips when the Scuds were landing in the Middle East last winter; families that planned to send their sons and daughters to Europe cancelled their trips too.

As a result, Nacel still has openings on flights leaving Detroit in July and August for France and Spain. Nacel organizes summer programs in Europe and West Africa. The complete cost for students leaving Detroit is $1,435 to $1,620; in France or Spain, optional sightseeing is offered. Students aged 13 to 18 are invited to participate in three or four week homestays in France, Germany, Spain or the Ivory Coast.

"We need all kinds of families," Elizabeth said. "More boys than girls come to the U.S. so we are always looking for homes for boys. That can be difficult because the American students who express interest are often girls."

"We also occasionally place a foreign student with a family that has no children, especially a student who grew up as an only child in an adult environment. Those families look to the children of their friends and relatives for companions."

Each foreign student brings his own health and liability insurance and his own spending money. If you would like to host one of the 180 French, German and Spanish students, mostly boys, who want to spend four weeks experiencing American life this summer, call Evelyn or Julian Price at (313) 626-6641 or the national office toll-free at (800) 622-3533.

Better hurry up. French students arrive July 10, followed by a second group July 28. Spanish students arrive July 5 and again July 30. German students will be here July 20. They all speak English.

Insiders' tips for visiting Stratford

By IRIS SANDERSON JONES
Travel Writer

"Annas Bananas is a great place for dessert after the theater."

"We always stay at a bed-and-breakfast by the Avon River."

"Buy your festival tickets in February for the best seats."

"Village Studios has the best display of Canadian crafts in Stratford."

I heard those voices in my ear as our tour bus drove into Stratford, Ontario, recently. And I loved it.

If you want inside information on a travel destination, ask somebody who has been there. Friends who picnic on the riverbank. Neighbors who stay at a bed-and-breakfast farmhouse. Readers who send insider tips.

It was late afternoon and the lowering sun was backlighting the velvet-green grass, glowing on red barns and sculpting the horses, cows and farm silos common to southwestern Ontario.

By theater time, there was a glass cover of setting sun on the Avon River, downhill from the famous tent-shaped roof of the Festival Theater. Four trumpeters stood on the roof to blow the signal: 10 minutes to showtime.

Most people in the lobby had tickets, but a few lined up for rush seats ordered that morning.

Cary Gersh of Bloomfield Hills remembers when he traveled to Stratford as a high school student, slept in the car and bought $2 rush seats, sold on the morning of the performance. They're $28 now.

"Rush seats were at the top of the house, so they gave us a great view of the empty seats below. We would rush down at intermission and fill them."

Cary, a graphic artist at Skyline Studios in Southfield, comes to Stratford now with his wife Thoma, a psychologist for the Bloomfield Hills schools. They buy their tickets as soon as sales open in February.

"You can see pretty well from most seats, but when we come this far and stay overnight we want the best seats. Shakespeare is esoteric sometimes and we like to see the expressions on the actors' faces."

The Festival Theater has 16 rows in a steep semi-circle, with a seven-row balcony above it. There are no barriers, and you can see the stage quite well from any seat, but my experts favored the center seats downstairs and the front row of the balcony; their least favorite were the least expensive seats on each end of the semi-circle.

The Festival Theatre sits on the banks of the Avon River in Stratford, Ontario

The lights went down and the audience hushed as a brace of lancers and laughing ladies began "Much Ado About Nothing" on the small circular stage. Carol McCloud of Howell was there, visiting Stratford for the first time. She loved "Much Ado" and the other plays she saw in Stratford, but most of all she enjoyed the experience of being there in that small riverside town in Ontario.

"It's like an oasis in the middle of the countryside," she said. "It's walkable. The people are friendly. The Church restaurant is an absolute must. I went for lunch, but I went back to the Belfrey after the theater for a snack and a drink. It's a great place."

It is easy enough to find your own way around the well-known parts of Stratford, which is built around the City Hall in Market Square.

The City Hall has been described as a great Victorian monster of red brick, frosted with white cupolas and a clock tower, but when developers tried to tear it down in the 1970s the citizens threw them out of town.

From City Hall you can see the Avon Theater, second of Stratford's three important theaters, the shops that circle the square and the park that fringes the Avon River at the end of Downie Street.

I followed the path downhill past the flagged skyline of the Memorial Gardens, and the bronze triumph and despair of the World War I memorial, to the bright plastic colors of paddle boats on the Avon River.

Joggers and walkers and bikers have worn the path down both sides of the river. They photograph the 19th century bridge and the court house reflected in the early morning sun, picnic and play on the riverbanks beside the Festival Theater.

The Iris is the official Stratford flower, but foot soldiers explore the Shakespearean Gardens for 60 varieties of flowers mentioned in Shakespeare's plays.

Thoma Gersh advises: "Get a picnic lunch and sit by the river. You can bring your own or order from a list of places supplied by the tourist bureau. I recommend a great book store called Fanfare Books in an old Victorian house. Sometimes they serve tea in the back."

There is a visitor center in the small round building that hangs over the river near the war memorials. Ask for a list of the bed-and-breakfast places in town or the popular B-&B farms just out of town.

Or write to Tourism Stratford, P.O. Box 1818, 88 Wellington Street, Stratford, Ontario, Canada, N5A 6W1. For Stratford Festival theater tickets, call their Detroit number: 964-4668.

Crossroads Village features rare 1910 ferris wheel

Crossroads Village and Huckleberry Railroad in Flint is open and bragging because AAA Michigan named it one of the top five family attractions in Michigan.

A rare 1910 ferris wheel has been added to the Village this year, a nice companion for the 1912 Parker Carousel. The village also opened a 7,000 square foot multi-purpose building, designed like a vintage railroad warehouse, to give better food and other services to groups.

The 50-foot 1910 Charles W. Parker "Superior Wheel" is the last remaining ferris wheel of its type and had a colorful history before being purchased by the Genesee County Parks and Recreation Commission last year. It ran in two Pennsylvania amusement parks and was once owned by a fire department. It was operated by the Lake Lansing Amusement Park until 1987, when it was put in storage.

The wheel features 10 ornate wire gondolas, each holding four to six passengers.

Crossroads Village will also begin its second season of murder/

Local softball trio make all area unit Laura Apligian heads 1st team

The Lakeland softballers won the Kensington Valley Conference title in a late-season runaway before advancing to the MHSAA Regional final where they fell to eventual state champs from Waterford Kettering.

As a result, the Eagles make up the majority of this year's HomeTown Newspapers East All-Area softball team as selected by sportswriters from the Northville Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Milford Times.

Northville and Novi hovered around the .500 mark this spring, but both were very competitive. Laura Apligian — one of the premier underclass players in the state — paced the Mustangs. With a 4% -to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio from workhorse pitcher Heather Campbell, Novi was always a threat.

Milford and South Lyon struggled at times, with the young Redskins finishing with a 15-21 record, and the Lions at 11-17.

Here's a closer look at the first team:

DANA MARGIOTTA, pitcher, Lakeland: This feisty pitcher did it all on the mound for the Eagles this year, taking the team — with the help of her defensive teammates — to the league title, the district crown and the regional semifinals. She went 29-6 overall with a 1.70 earned-run average and struck out 115. At the plate, Margiotta had equally impressive numbers, driving in 23 runs and scoring 32 times, second only to teammate Amy Miller. "Dana is the second winningest pitcher we've had," said Coach Kent Griffiths. "Her stats speak for themselves. She's a great little athlete. She adjusted well to the position change we made (from shortstop to pitcher) and is a real competitor. This year she really became a pitcher instead of just a thrower."

HEATHER CAMPBELL, pitcher, Novi: A workhorse hurler for years, Campbell was Novi's key performer. If she was rested, the Wildcats were hard to beat. Campbell registered seven complete games where she allowed three or fewer hits and no earned runs. In all, she pitched 27 complete games. "Heather will be very hard to replace," Novi Coach John Peace said. "She's been our No. 1 pitcher for three years, and she's never really had a true back-up. That put a lot of pressure on her, but she always seemed to respond." Campbell was 18-16 with a 3.26 earned run average, but it was the number of innings pitched (215), the strikeouts (155) and the walks (35) that were extraordinary. At the plate, Campbell hit .280 with 12 RBIs. She also led her team in sacrifices.

LAURA APLIGIAN, catcher, Northville: One of the top underclass backstops in the state, Apligian was a superstar for the Mustangs. The junior led the area in key areas like batting average (.486), triples (8) and RBIs (34), and yet her team only played 26 games all season (Novi, by comparison, played 42). Apligian also delivered one home run, three doubles, 11 stolen bases and boasted a .792 slugging percentage. "Laura did it all," Northville Coach Gail Trepicone said. "She proved to be our strongest offensive and defensive player. She is a definite college prospect — she's already been approached. She was very consistent, a player we could always count on." Apligian was also rock solid behind the plate with 17 putouts and 16 assists.

KARI HEINONEN, infielder, Milford: This senior second baseman finished the year among the Redskin leaders in hitting with a .392 average. She smacked four doubles, one triple and drove in 23 runs, scoring 26 herself for the team leadership in that department. "At the beginning of the year, we wanted her to be a starter and she became one. You could have put her anywhere and she would have shined," said Coach Mark Pingston. "She improved tremendously at the plate. She also played solid second base and she was a quiet leader. Every chance she had she gave it 100 percent. She was all business on the field and it showed."

MARY GRACE YANKOWSKI, infielder, Novi: A versatile performer for Novi, this junior was a premier hitter who could catch as well as play a number of infield positions. Yankowski wound up hitting .320 after getting off to a slow start. "By the middle of the season, she really started hitting the ball," Peace said. "By the end of the season, she was a clutch hitter who always seemed to be involved in our scoring rallies." Yankowski also exhibited power, leading the area with two homers, and was among the area leaders in RBIs (28), doubles (12) and slugging percentage (.523). In addition, she scored 22 times, stole nine bases and collected four triples.

HOLLY FARMER, infielder, South Lyon: While she didn't have many extra base hits, Farmer — South Lyon's number-two hitter in the lineup — batted .365 and drove in 15 runs. Defensively, the sophomore made 52 putouts and was in on 55 others, with only 14 errors, for a fielding average of .884. "Holly had a good year," said Coach Ron Shanks. "She was a good hitter. She doesn't have a lot of power, but she can get the timely hits. With the kids graduating from last year we knew she'd step in and play well for us and she did. She led us in runs scored (34) and will be a good addition next year."

STACEY NYLAND, infielder, Northville: A star for Northville in volleyball, this junior came into her own in softball as well. Nyland improved by leaps and bounds, prompting her coach to comment: "(She) ended up being, in my opinion, the finest first baseman in the league." An All-Division selection, Nyland hit at a .346 clip and drove in 14 runs, but she was really an asset once reaching the basepaths. "Throughout the season, she really developed as a player. She is also one of our top baserunners (15 steals in 25 games). Although she's just a junior, Stacey is a real team leader. She's a pleasure to coach."

AMY MILLER, outfielder, Lakeland: Miller, who was named to the all-KVC's first team and received an honorable mention all-state vote, led the team with a .430 average, drove in 44 runs and stole 29 bases. "She had a fantastic year for a senior," Griffiths said. "She only had one error in the outfield. She was our leader before the games. She would keep everyone's mind on softball. She's the kind of player you want a lot of. She's an excellent leadoff hitter and taught herself how to hit left-handed so she could get a step closer to first base. She's so quick."

JULIE CAMERON, outfielder, Milford: A junior, Cameron will be a welcome returnee next season for the young Redskins. This past year, Cameron — a multi-sport athlete at Milford — became the new hitting leader at the school with a .474 average, overtaking the old mark of .463 set in 1965 by Michelle Davis. "That (her average) may not seem like much, but the KVC is strong," Pingston said. "She is a true athlete. She has the ability to react well without having to think. Julie was our big threat in that nobody could pitch around anyone in front of her. She also threw well and I was pleased with her improvement."

KARA MCNEIL, outfield, Northville: An excellent athlete, this junior was just as valuable in the field as she was at the plate. "Kara saved us on many occasions defensively because she's quick and a superb fielder," Trepicone said. "She's a great athlete with good judgement and a very strong arm. She was also a clutch hitter for us." McNeil batted .406 and was among the area leaders in RBIs (21), runs (26) and doubles (7). She added a homer, two triples, 11 steals and a .609 slugging percentage in 69 plate appearances. She made seven assists from centerfield.

BECCA WARD, designated hitter, Milford: Ward, who struggled in the field at times, more than made up for it offensively. The sophomore outfielder/designated hitter batted .363 with seven doubles, 11 RBIs, 12 stolen bases and 24 runs scored. "Offensively she was a big asset. She's a base runner (.489 on-base percentage) and she has a good eye for the strike zone. She's a real strong upper-body hitter and she sees the ball well. She's also got a good hook slide to avoid being tagged," Pingston said.

Trepicone analyzes 1991 season

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

A great start and aggressiveness on the base paths highlighted another successful softball season for the Northville squad.

Under first-year coach Gail Trepicone, the Mustangs opened the season with five straight victories and positioned themselves for a run at the division title. But soon after that, the wins started to become more and more elusive. In the final month of the season, Northville went 8-13, and the hopes for a second division title in three seasons quickly vanished.

"The good start really lifted our spirits," Trepicone said. "Our initial goal was to be competitive, and we were that. We showed we could compete."

The Mustangs batted .296 as a team and scored 187 runs in 26 games (7.1 per contest), and a lot of the credit for the offensive punch was team speed. Northville was able to manufacture runs, as the squad's 96 stolen bases will attest. The team's top six offensive weapons each had more than 10 steals this season.

"I was really pleased with our base running," Trepicone said. "We were aggressive and we stole a lot of bases. We have a quick team and we were able to intimidate other teams — particularly opposing pitchers."

After opening with a win over Farmington Harrison, the Mustangs dropped the next five WLAA Western Division contests in a row. The team wound up 3-7 in the division and placed fifth out of six teams.

Northville won just one of its final five, but the competition was stiff (Livonia Franklin twice and Plymouth Canton once) and the Mustangs were actually playing some of the season's finest softball. A win over Detroit Redford in the pre-districts qualified Northville for a spot in the districts, but Franklin edged the locals 4-1 in the semifinals.

"Staying close to a powerful team like Franklin was actually a highlight of the year," Trepicone said.

The Mustangs finished the season at the break-even point — 13-13 — and senior hurler Karen Trepicone took every decision. She logged 161 innings, fanned 95, had an earned run average of 2.34, but struggled at times with control (126 walks).

"I was pleased with our pitching — especially at first," Trepicone said, "but we didn't plan on pitching Karen in every inning. She turned into a real pressure player."

Despite Trepicone's ironman performance, the team's most outstanding performer was junior catcher Laura Apligian. She was one of the state's finest underclass players with a .486 batting average, three doubles, eight triples, 34 RBIs and 11 steals in just 26 games.

"Laura did it all," Trepicone said. "She proved to be our strongest offensive and defensive player."

Amazingly, the WLAA coaches couldn't find a place for Apligian on the All-Conference team. She had to settle for All-Division honors.

"I feel real bad that (Laura) didn't make All-Conference," Trepicone said. "It's unfortunate because she really deserves it."

The rest of the hitting stars included juniors Kara McNeil (.406) and Stacey Nyland (.346). Both joined Apligian on the All-Division squad.

"Kara saved us on many occasions defensively because she's quick and a superb fielder," Trepicone said.

Others like senior Melanie Apligian (.329) and sophomore infielders Christy Green (.306, 18 stolen bases) and Lori George (.250) were also key contributors.

"I'm very optimistic about next season," Trepicone said. "I see this team growing and improving. We will have a lot of outstanding ability on next year's team, but our main objective is to search for two or three pitchers."

Mantle squad notches opening win

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

The Northville Mickey Mantle baseball squad opened the 1991 season in impressive fashion on June 5 with a lopsided 12-1 triumph over Highland Merchants. After four outings, the team is 2-2.

Against Highland, pitcher Steve Christianson allowed just three hits and a walk while striking out six to earn the win. The locals scored twice in the first on a two-run double by Christianson and then added three more in the third. Jerry Birdsall clubbed a towering home run to lead off the rally.

Northville increased the lead to 9-0 in the fourth on four consecutive hits by Joe Staknis, Birdsall, Christianson and Chuck Apligian, and then capped off the scoring in the sixth on consecutive hits by Dean Frellick, John Farrar and Tom Busard.

"We have high expectations for this team,"

Mantle Manager Joe Staknis said. "The team is working hard and will continue to improve with experience."

NFWB 8, NORTHVILLE 5: North Farmington/West Bloomfield (NFWB) took an early lead and held on to beat the locals on June 8.

NFWB tagged Northville starter Tom Busard for five runs (on five walks and a hit batter) in the first two innings. The locals got on the board in the bottom of the second on a RBI double by Neil Yackles.

The score remained 5-1 until the sixth when Northville tied it at 5-5 on RBIs from Eric Shaw, Chris Shepard, Staknis and Christenson. But in the seventh, NFWB scored the game winner plus two more.

"We showed poise coming back," Staknis said. "We will win our share of these types of games this season."

DEARBORN 7, NORTHVILLE 4: On June 11, the locals fell to Dearborn despite leading 2-0 in the first inning and 4-2 in the fifth.

Dearborn scored five times in the sixth inning (on three walks and two hits) to win it. Kevin Shaw had two hits and two RBIs for Northville.

"In this game, we paid the maximum penalty for the few mistakes we made," Staknis said.

NORTHVILLE 5, PLYMOUTH CANTON 4: Christianson turned in another strong pitching performance against Canton on June 12, allowing just three hits.

"We seem to always have close games with Canton," Staknis said. "It's a goal of ours to beat our local rivals."

Eric Shaw scored a run and scored a run in the second and then Northville took a 3-0 lead in the fourth. With the score 4-2, Canton tied it in the top of the seventh, but Northville grabbed the win in the bottom of the inning when Kevin Shaw delivered a two-out double and scored on a Christianson single.

Local LCBL entry gets off to good start

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

Despite being in its first year of competition in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League (LCBL), the Novi-based entry — Delwal — is off to a 5-2-1 start.

The squad's most recent victory came on June 12 at Novi High School. Delwal trounced Windsor 14-3 in a five-inning mercy-rule-shortened game.

Delwal fell behind 3-0 in the first but came back to tie it and then took the lead for good with an 11-run explosion in the second inning. The rally included eight hits, two walks and two errors. Ron Hollis (U-M) led the attack by going 3-for-4 with 4 RBIs. Eric Sumpter (MSU) chipped in with three hits and an RBI. Pitcher Bill McCaig scattered nine hits to pick up the win.

DELVAL 12-4, TOTAL TRAVEL 11-3: Delwal continued its winning ways with two more come-from-behind efforts in a June 10 doubleheader.

In game one, Delwal spotted Total Travel a 10-1 lead and then roared back with a six-run rally in the second and five more in the fourth and fifth innings. Hollis delivered a two-run double to cap a three-run fifth inning, and that provided the winning run.

Hollis (3-for-3, 3 RBIs) and Sumpter (2-for-4, 3 RBIs) led the way. McCaig started but allowed seven runs in just 1½ innings.

In the nightcap, hurler Leo Hutchinson raised his record to 2-1 with a complete game victory. He fanned 11, walked one and allowed eight hits. Mark Dube broke a 3-3 tie with a two-out single in the sixth that drove in Billy Hardy. Mike Schwartzberger (EMU) singled in the tying run in the fourth.

LITTLE CAESARS 12-5, DELVAL 4-5: After battling to a 5-5 draw in the opener of the twinbill on June 9, Delwal fell to Little Caesars in the second game.

Golf Briefs

GREAT LAKES JUNIOR MASTERS: Some of the best junior golfers in North America will gather at Meadowbrook Country Club in Northville for the eighth annual Great Lakes Junior Golf Tournament on July 8-10. This is a non-handicap tournament open to the first 288 to register.

Golfers must be between the ages of 11-17. The field will be cut to 144 after 36 holes. Prizes for the 54-hole stroke play will be awarded in the following categories: boys 11-13; girls 11-14; boys 14-15; girls 15-17; and boys 16-17.

The $85 entry fee includes golf, trophies, food and beverages. Call 349-3600, Ext. 51, for more information.

ITGA YOUTH GOLF CLASSIC: The Independent Insurance Agents of Wayne County will sponsor a qualifying tournament for local golfers 17 and under to open the annual Insurance Youth Golf Classic, the nation's largest youth golf event.

The local tournament will be held June 25 at Brae-Burn Golf Club in Plymouth. The winners will advance to compete in their Michigan finals July 21-22 in Ann Arbor.

Call IYGC Chairperson Mary Yurko at 284-0942 for more information.

GOLF CLASSIC FOR THE HOMELESS: The first annual Golf Classic for the Homeless of Metro Detroit will be held on Aug. 20, with a 1 p.m. shotgun start.

The event, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, costs $160 per person, and includes a buffet lunch, dinner, golf and cart.

For more information, call 349-0911.

BASKETBALL CAMP: Northville Recreation is offering a basketball camp for boys this summer at the Northville High School gymnasium.

The camp will be held from June 24-28. The schedule for grades four and five is 9-10:30 a.m. and the cost is $22. Grades six and seven will be on the court from 10:30 a.m.-noon (cost $22) and grades eight and nine will meet from noon-2 p.m. and cost is $26. For more information, call 349-0203.

TRAILBLAZERS WIN TITLE: The Trailblazers were the league champions of the Northville Recreation eighth- and ninth-grade basketball league. Coached by Bill Sherrick and Ralph Beltzer, the Blazers ended their season with a 10-0 record.

The players include: Jeremy Berard, Ryan Moak, Brad Borgia, John Wilds, Greg Belliston, Jeff Betzler, and John Buser.

LOCALS TRAVEL TO WISCONSIN: Earlier this month, five Northville girls — Lindsay Bryant, Lisa Bernardo, Emily Lawrence, Katie Kohl and Jessica Jones — traveled to the University of Wisconsin as part of the Michigan Olympic Development Soccer Team.

These girls, selected as standouts in Michigan, trained with and competed against other 14-year-old premier soccer players from the Midwest in an effort to gain a spot on the Regional and/or National Olympic Development Soccer Team.

TIGERS TRIP: Northville Community Recreation needs your help to root for our favorite baseball team — The Detroit Tigers — as they play against the Kansas City Royals. Children ages 10 and up are invited on this trip.

The cost is $19 for Northville city and township residents, $21 school district, and $24 outside residents which includes transportation and tickets. Please bring additional money for food.

Meet at the Community Center, 303 W. Main, at 11:45 a.m. and return at approximately 4:15 p.m.

Don't miss out on the excitement, seats are limited to only 20. We will be accepting registrations at the Community Center until Friday, July 12 or until the seats are sold out.

For more information call the Recreation Department at 349-0203.

LYSC SLATES TRYOUTS: The Livonia Youth Soccer Club (LYSC) United 1977 girls' soccer team recently captured its sixth consecutive Little Caesars Premier League Championship. Over the last three years, the team has compiled a record of 58-2.

The LYSC will be holding open tryouts at Bicentennial Park in Livonia for next year's under-14 and under-15 United girls squad starting June 20.

In the under-14 division — for players born Aug. 1977-July 1978 — will have tryouts on June 24 and 25 at 5 p.m. For more information, call John Hynes at 471-0218. The under-15 tryouts start today (June 20) at 6:30 p.m. and continue on June 21 at 6:30 p.m. and on June 23 at 10 a.m. Players born after Aug. 1, 1976 are invited to try out. Call Jim Kearney at 421-5233 for more information.

George Lemmon receives Magnan Award

George Lemmon was recently awarded the Pete Magnan Outstanding Youth Referee Award by the Northville Soccer Association. The semi-annual award commemorates longtime Northville resident and soccer volunteer Pete Magnan.

The award was presented by Don Bisdorf, Northville's chief referee, who praised Lemmon for his competence and dedication in serving the local youth program. "George is a fine role model for our younger referees and players. He is helpful and instructive on the field of play, frequently offering advice to others on how to improve their performance as a referee or player."

"I've always enjoyed the game of soccer, both as a player and as a referee. I'm pleased that Northville Soccer has chosen me for this honor."

ball teams. He has been a player in the Northville soccer program for seven years and a referee for three years.

When presented the award, Lemmon commented, "I've always enjoyed the game of soccer, both as a player and as a referee. I'm pleased that Northville Soccer has chosen me for this honor."

The Pete Magnan perpetual memorial plaque is maintained at the Northville Recreation Department offices.

Rollerskaters take to the streets

It used to be that going to the roller rink was kind of a rite of passage as we were growing up. For many teenagers, the local roller rink was the place to be on a Friday night. Somebody's mom would drop off a carload of kids and somebody's dad would pick them up.

These days it's hard to say what 12-year-olds are doing on Friday nights. Roller rinks, as we knew them, faded considerably when disco music was liquidated. And as for the standard roller skates, the ones with four wheels situated side by side and sporting a toe stop, they've since given way to the "in-line" skates.

You've probably seen them. They look like hockey skates with wheels. They're faster and better able to handle rougher surfaces, like asphalt and cement, than a roller skate.

Kids deliver newspapers on them. Teens play street hockey with them. Adults use them for training, increasing the speed and excitement of a workout while decreasing the joint shock caused by running.

So what we've seen here is a new trend in roller skating that has taken people out of the roller rinks and allowed them to use the thousands of miles of asphalt veins that make up the metropolitan area.

And many of those who own these skates have, in the past, undoubtedly spun a few laps around that mirrored ball.

Well, guess what. The One on One Athletic Club in West Bloomfield has brought the old roller rink into the 1990s. On Sundays (5-9 p.m.), One on One kicks the tennis players out of its 25,000-square-foot, air-supported tennis bubble and the Surf's Up Shop from Keego Harbor provides the rollerblade-style skates for an evening called "One on One's Rock and Rollers... A New Fitness Adventure."

"This is really fitness equated with fun," said Kitty Elenbaas, One on One's fitness and aerobics director. "It helps with 'cabin fever' by getting you out of the house and into a nice big area to move around in."

In its first few months of offering the program, One on One has been

Skating at the rink has given way to rollerblading in the streets averaging 20-25 people. Non-club members are more than welcome to show up, pay a reasonable fee, and cruise around on their own skates or try a pair of the demos that Surf's Up provides.

"We get a lot of calls on these skates," said Kurt Manecke of Surf's Up. "So we worked out a deal where we provide the skates and One on One provides the forum to use them."

And just like the old roller rink, One on One provides some games for the younger skaters. Gone is the "Shoot the Duck" game, which is nearly impossible on in-line skates.

Couples skating? Go ahead, if you want. A few of the people are there either to get a workout or to learn — or relearn — how to skate. The majority of the crew burns circles around those new to the sport, playing tag, throwing tennis balls back and forth and generally having a riot.

"We're really going to focus on the youth," said Ron Austin, general manager of One on One. "We'll have races, tag and freestyle games for the kids along with instructional skating sessions for everyone."

"I like Rollerblading because you get to go really fast and race against the other people," said Joey Slavik, 10, of Birmingham, while showing off the Surf's Up T-shirt he had just won in a race.

"This is totally RAD!" yelled Blair Byrnes, 11, of West Bloomfield.

"These things are faster and more maneuverable than regular roller skates."

And when asked why he wasn't wearing knee pads like the other kids, 7-year-old Brandon Watzman of West Bloomfield confidently replied "That's because I hardly ever fall."

A couple of adults, including Austin, had only been on the skates a couple of times and seemed to be tapping on that roller rink style of the past while nearly remaining upright. And many of the skaters opted for safety equipment.

"It's optional, yet recommended," Manecke said.

Jeff Jones, 28, of West Bloomfield, had brought his nephew, Brandon Watzman, to skate. Jones, who used to play ice hockey, started skating with Brandon over the summer. He believes the new style roller skating is tougher than ice skates, "mainly because it's harder to stop in these things."

From a fitness standpoint, the in-line skates "are definitely a fat burner," Elenbaas said. "Not only do they work every muscle in your body, they also help healthy people develop coordination and agility."

Elenbaas added that the skates are a great tool for people who have had knee injuries because they are a "very low impact" training and recreation tool.

Back with the "Rock and Roller" skaters, when asked who could win a race between himself and his Uncle Jeff, Brandon said, "Sometimes me, sometimes him... unless there's money on it."

Elenbaas pulls up to a not-so-graceful stop on her skates.

"This takes me back to my childhood and how much fun I used to have skating at the roller rink," she said.

The young and the young at heart are having themselves a "rolling blast" in the One on One Athletic Club tennis bubble, showing off their moves and burning off the calories. The only ones who seem to be concerned are the tennis players.

Will Rollerblades take over the bubble? Stay tuned.

Fitness Notes

Swim time available at high school

Northville Community Recreation will host open swimming at the Northville High School pool on Tuesday nights 8-9 p.m.; Wednesday nights 7:15-8 p.m.; Thursday evenings 8-9 p.m.; and Saturday afternoons from 12:30-1:30 p.m. There are also lap swims following open swimming.

Large groups are encouraged to participate, but must notify the recreation department at 349-0203 in advance. A $1 fee is payable at the door.

RECREATION STATION: Registrations are under way for a Recreation Station offered by the Novi Parks and Recreation. This a six-week mobile recreation program offered to area children aged 5-12. Four sites have been selected for this pilot program: Village Oaks Clubhouse, Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision, Spirit of 76 Park and Lakeshore Park.

These sites will be visited by Parks and Recreation staff members who will have planned activities for children. All participants will have to register with the parks and recreation office. Any child within a reasonable radius of a site will be allowed to register.

The program will be held from July 8-Aug. 15 and cost is $38 ($45.60 for non-residents). The recreation station will be at Village Oaks Clubhouse from 9:30 a.m.-4:15 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays; at Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision from 1:30-4:15 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays; at the Spirit of 76 Park from 9:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays; and at Lakeshore Park from 1:30-4:15 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Call 347-0400 for more information.

LIVONIA SPREE RUN: The Livonia Spree 8K Run and 5K Walk will be held on June 30 at Stark Road at Perth. Registration starts at 7 a.m. and the race begins at 8:30 a.m.

Fee is $10 before June 22 and $12 the day of the race. All participants receive a T-shirt and a pancake breakfast is available to all runners/walkers for $1.50. This event is to benefit the Hemophilia Foundation of Michigan.

For more information, call 1-800-482-3441

NEW ATTITUDE AEROBICS: Northville Community Recreation is offering a fitness program designed for you: low- and high-impact aerobic alternatives with toning and shaping floorwork, fun and easy-to-follow workouts, morning and evening child care.

New Attitude Aerobics' summer session will begin on June 17 and registrations are now being accepted. The one-hour classes are held year-round at the Community Recreation gymnasium on the following days: Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 a.m.; Monday and Wednesday at 5:45 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m.; and Saturday at 8 a.m.

For registration or more information, call 349-0203 or 348-3120.

AEROBIC FITNESS INC.: A fitness program called "Aerobic Fitness Inc." is now being offered in Northville. The one-hour program is designed to stretch, trim and tone. Six-week classes run continuously throughout the year.

Fee is $33 (two classes per week), $45 (three classes), and $55 (unlimited). For more information, call 348-1280.

NOVI ROTARY RUN: The Fourth Annual Novi Rotary Run, previously held in late July, has been moved up to June 29 this year. The event will start at 8:30 a.m. at the Running Fit store in the Novi Town Center.

There will be a 5-mile run ($9 before race, $12 day of race) and a 3-mile walk ($8 in advance, $10 race day). Entry fee includes one raffle ticket to win a 1959 Corvette.

Check-in time is 7-8:20 a.m. For more information, call 349-3960 or 347-4949.

HEALTH CLUB: If you're thinking of joining a health club, Schoolcraft College has something for you.

The Livonia Junior college is offering a Health Club and a Gym and Swim program. The health club is designed for families to enjoy unstructured activity in a modern, fully equipped physical education facility. A nominal fee of $3 is charged per visit and you will have the use of gyms, racquetball courts, weight machines and saunas. The club meets on Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

The Gym and Swim program is offered on Thursdays and on Saturdays from 8 a.m.-noon. This program costs $3 per visit on Thursday and $2 on Saturday, and uses facilities including: the pool, weight training equipment, handball/paddleball courts, gyms and saunas.

Call 462-4413 for more information.

RENT A POOL: For those who like to keep fit by swimming, the Novi High School Pool is available for rent. Groups may rent the pool on Fridays from 7:30-9 p.m. If interested, call the Novi Community Education office at 348-1200 at least one month prior to date requested.

HEALTH SCREENING: The Novi Parks and Recreation Department offers a variety of health screening events each week.

One is blood pressure screening for senior citizens. This free service is offered each Wednesday in the Novi Civic Center from 11 a.m.-noon.

FITNESS OVER 50: A one-hour exercise program called "Fitness Over 50" is held Monday and Wednesday mornings at Twelve Oaks Mall. It takes place 9-10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor corridor near the east entrance.

The program, conducted by the University of Michigan Division of Physical Education, is particularly aimed at older people and others who would benefit from an invigorating but non-strenuous exercise program.

Fitness Over 50 welcomes all interested persons, regardless of age and current activity level. Call the Twelve Oaks Management Office, 348-9438, for further information.

YOGA CLASSES: Seven-week yoga classes are being offered in Northville. Diane Siegel-Divita, past president of the Yoga Association of Greater Detroit, is the instructor.

The classes will be offered on Thursdays (7-8:30 p.m.) or Sundays (10:10-11:40 a.m.) at the Northville American Legion Hall. Yoga effectively trains the body to develop strength, flexibility and balance.

Cost is $28. For more information, call Siegel-Divita at 344-0928.

WEIGHT WATCHERS: Weight Watchers, the internationally recognized weight loss program, meets every Wednesday at the Northville Community Center at 9:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Registration fee is $17 plus a weekly fee of $9. For more information, call Diana Kutzke at 287-2900.

ASK-A-NURSE REFERRAL: "Ask-a nurse," the new 24-hour health information and physician referral line sponsored by five Mercy hospitals in Southeast Michigan, is offering a new speakers bureau to community groups. Program director Linda Hintze, R.N. and registered nurses who man the telephone lines seven days a week, 365 days a year, will be available to speak to groups of 15 or more about the calls they receive and how they help callers locate physicians and health or community information.

Requests should be made at least three weeks before the intended speaking engagement. There is no charge for the service and participants will give valuable information about how this service can help them day or night. For more information or to make a reservation, please call the ASK-A-NURSE office at Catherine McAuley Health Center toll-free at 1-800-526-MERCY (1-800-526-3729) or in the Ann Arbor area, (313) 572-5500.

"Ask-a-nurse" is a free community health information and physician referral service of five Sisters of Mercy Hospitals: Catherine McAuley Health Center-Ann Arbor, Mercy Hospital-Port Huron, Mercy Hospitals and Health Services in Detroit which includes Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital and Samaritan Health Center, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital-Pontiac. The Sisters of Mercy Health Corp. is the largest health-care provider in Michigan.

MERCY CENTER CLASSES: The Mercy Center, located on Eleven Mile between Middlebelt and Inkster roads in Farmington Hills, is offering a wide variety of swimming and fitness classes in 1991.

Mercy is offering open swimming daily from 6:30-8 a.m. and on Saturdays from 7:30-9 a.m. in addition to several fitness classes: like the Trim-Gym-Fitness Class, the Pool and Gym Class and the Coed Trim and Swim Fitness Class. For information, call 473-1815.

The Primrose 2 Light space is cure for the blues

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

High-ceilinged, bright and open, the vaulted family room and living room set the tone for the Primrose 2. Simply stepping into such a light, expansive space is a sure cure for the blues.

The basic shape of this totally contemporary home, forgetting the garage for a moment, is that of a soaring bird. The family room is in the head position, kitchen at the heart, living room at the feet and bedrooms in the outstretched wings.

While this floor plan includes a few odd angles, corners in most of the rooms are square, thereby avoiding decorating nightmares. The kitchen, pantry and utility room make good use of the few oddly shaped areas.

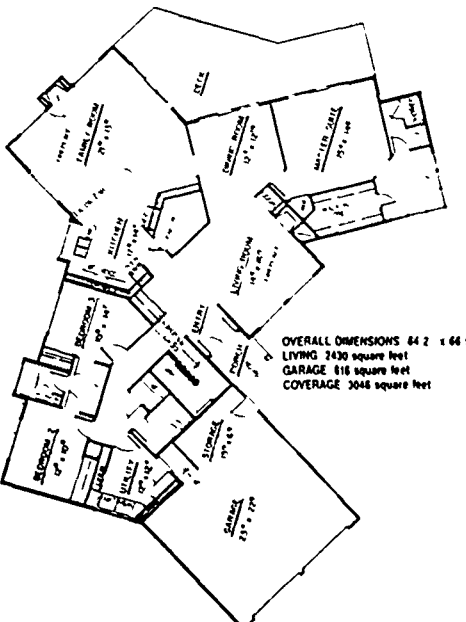

The large country kitchen is big enough for two, three and even four cooks to work in at once. An eating bar is all that separates it from the family room where there is plenty of room for a table for informal dining, doing homework, playing board games and the like. An herb garden, African violets and other plants will flourish in the garden window, and with the plants right in front of the sink, it's easy to keep them watered.

One-and-a-half-story-high arched windows flank the fireplace at the far side of the family room. Sliding glass doors open out onto the deck from here, as well as from the dining room and master suite.

The master suite has a huge double walk-in closet and space enough for a sitting area. Working couples, both getting ready for work at the same time, will appreciate the convenience of double vanities in the dressing room, separate from the shower and toilet.

The bathroom that serves the bedrooms at the other end of the house is also compartmentalized and contains another set of double vanities, crucial when teen-agers share the space. A half-bath, for general use, is also handy to the garage.

If the home is built without a basement, the stairway would be eliminated in favor of a larger bathroom, storage space or whatever.

For a study plan of the Cassia (209-87), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, c/o Hometown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843 (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

Traditionally Modern

By RICK BYRNE

The design of the grounds and entryways at the Country Club Village condominium development are something new for Northville Township, and yet at the same time, they're something old.

Developers of the site, Pulte Homes of Michigan and Real Estate Interest, and landscape architects from the Gibbs Planning Group, put their heads together to come up with a design that pays homage to the area's heritage, while performing an integral role in a modern development.

So successful was their work that the site, located at Haggerty and Six Mile roads, that it recently earned one of Northville Township's beautification awards.

"We're really proud of the beautification award from the township," said Bob Gibbs of the Gibbs Planning Group. "The design intent was to come up with something that would match the historic vernacular of the Northville area."

In its quest to capture and preserve the area's historic charm, the Gibbs Group started with the fences and entrances. White equestrian fencing borders the development on Haggerty Road, giving the development a Lexington, Ky., horse farm look.

"We thought there was kind of a historical farm feel in the area," said Gibbs. "So we came up with a historically accurate horse farm fence."

White wooden piers support the fence at intervals, and the stone columns contribute to the structural integrity as well. In keeping with the horse atmosphere, there's even a working farm gate at one of the entrances.

The farm image is taken a step further with the planting of an apple orchard, also on the Haggerty Road frontage.

"It will flower in the spring," said Gibbs. "The orchard's been planted so it will all flower at the same time. We've planted the trees on a grid, but we've kind of twisted the grid. As you drive down the road you can look down the rows of trees, and it really looks nice. You can see it from Haggerty and from inside the development."

Other plants around the site are indigenous to the region, and produce year-round flowering and fall colors.

"We used a lot of flowering shrubs and trees," said Gibbs. "We weren't looking for fountains or swimming pools or tennis courts like some new developments."

The entryways maintain the historical aesthetic aspects of the site. Genuine fieldstone columns, topped with carved limestone caps, are not over-whelmingly large so as to be intimidating to pedestrians. Instead the offer a warm and inviting introduction to the homes and golf course beyond. "We wanted something of a simple and understated entryway," said Gibbs.

Yet the simplicity of the design belies the complexity of the effort that went into producing the elements.

The limestone caps were crafted by true old-world craftspeople at Genesee Stone of Grand Blanc. Each cap was carved from a single piece of limestone.

"These fellows learned stone carving," said Gibbs. "They're third generation stone carvers, and they sculpted the details for us. They chiseled out our cove mouldings with all the details just as it would have been done 100 years ago. As it weathers and ages, we hope it will look like something that has always been there."

The columns themselves are of split-faced fieldstone, indigenous to the Northville area, and were built by Creative Stone of Davisburg.

"They're very good craftsmen," said Gibbs. "We looked to find good old world craftsmen that were careful with details."

"They were careful to have a mortar color that worked well with the stone. We also had a special design in the mortar so that it had a flush border with the stones themselves. The new trend is to inset the mortar, but in the old days it was flush."

Gibbs said homeowners and visitors at Country Club Village have given him lots of good feedback about the work that's been done, a tribute to the high quality standards of those who participated in the job. And with a beautification award from the township, it proves that good efforts don't go unrewarded.

REAL ESTATE

Good news for first-time home buyers

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

The real estate market is on an upswing in most regions of the country. Even first-time home buyers are taking action to fulfill their dream.

Those first-time buyers, while still far below repeat home buyers in market activity, have moved into a more progressive niche in the current market. It was revealed in a study by the National Association of Realtors. The new activity is sparked by lower prices, low mortgage interest rates and other home affordability factors.

The NAR report showed that in certain regions of the country, where there is a plentiful supply of housing at affordable prices, first-time home buyers are being inventive through financing alternatives and home options like condos and co-ops to make the switch from renter to owner.

"Because interest rates are declining, entry-level buyers have more leverage when it comes to entering the housing market," said Harley E. Rouda, NAR president.

He added that while affordability conditions are better now than in previous months, there still exists a disparity between entry-level buyers and trade-up buyers.

In some areas, home prices have been increasing in recent weeks. But those increases have been offset by interest rate declines, opening a window of opportunity for buyers.

Also, renewed consumer confidence after the war had a role in bringing first-time home buyers back into the market, the NAR report noted.

Inevitably, this growing activity is beginning to push starter home prices up in most areas. Nationally, those prices rose about $2,700 during the past three months. And average monthly payments have increased by $13.

Rouda said in today's market buyers have a real advantage due to a plentiful supply of affordably priced homes and the availability of low interest rates. He predicted that affordability conditions will continue to be healthy as long as interest rates remain relatively low.

Q. Considering the dip in home values over the past couple of years, is this now considered a risky form of investment?

A. As a long-term investment, nothing beats your own home.

Even during the past seven years, home values increased in almost every area of the country. For example, home prices in Chicago rose 54 percent; in Los Angeles, prices were up 79 percent; in New York City, up 96 percent; in Tampa-

St. Petersburg, Fla., up 29 percent.

As for the future, here is a perceptible statement recently released by Harvard University's Joint Center for Housing Studies:

"While it may be necessary to ride out a short-term down cycle, over time, home prices tend to rise at or above the general rate of inflation, making housing a solid investment and key component in the financial security of the current and future generations of Americans."

Q. Was the Realty World franchise organization recently sold?

A. Yes. Realty World was sold by the Resolution Trust Corp. to Bond Street Group, a Vancouver, British Columbia-based investment company.

Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

This asymmetric secretary was probably made in Grand Rapids around the turn of the century.

The value of secretaries and banking

By James G. McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a photo of my side-by-side secretary. I would like any information you can provide about when and where it was made and the value.

The glass door and mirror are the original ones and the whole thing is in good condition.

A. This asymmetric secretary was probably made in Grand Rapids, Mich., about 1900. Asymmetric means that the right and left sides are different.

This would probably sell for $600 to $700.

Q. We have a Kodak camera that seems a little different from the run-of-the-mill models. It is a No. 4 Panoram-Kodak Model D. It is a folding camera that takes single sheet film.

Do you know when this was made and if it has any special value?

A. This camera, which takes wide-angle pictures, was made about 1910 and would probably sell for $65 to $75. It was used especially for group or team pictures.

Q. We need information about the porcelain bust of a young girl with flowers in her hair and a scarf around her neck.

It is 20 inches high and marked with an acorn in a triangle with the inscription "Royal Dux Bohemia."

A. This bust was made by the Dux porcelain factory in Bohemia, Austria, between 1900 and 1918. It would probably sell for $800 to $900.

Q. What can you tell me about the value of my mechanical bank?

It depicts a lion chasing a monkey up a tree. When you give the monkey a coin, he throws it in the lion's mouth.

A. Your bank was patented in 1883 by the Kyser & Rex Co.

The current market value is from $400 to $500

Q. Enclosed is the mark on the back of each piece of a seven-piece cake set consisting of one large and six small plates. They are decorated with red and yellow roses and edged in gold.

Can you tell me anything about the vintage and value? I am also interested in the identity of the maker.

A. Your cake set was made by C. Tilesch & Co. in Altwasser, Germany, about 1900. It would probably sell for $200 to $225.

Removing stubborn stains from not-so stainless steel

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

G. I have a stainless steel work counter and have been unable to remove several stains from it. I have used a scratchless scouring powder and other cleansers, but the rings remain. The counter looks shiny and clean when wet; when it dries, the marks are noticeable. Do you have any suggestions on how to restore the smooth, shiny stain-free surface?

A. These may be marks from salts and acids in foods. Try rubbing the marks with fine stainless steel wool and whiting. Then polish with a soft cloth. Or try special cleansers made for stainless steel pots. Be sure to follow manufacturer's directions carefully.

I have found Bon Ami soap effective in removing minor staining when used with a scratchless scouring pad. Occasionally rubbing the surface with a light machine oil will help remove surface water stains and restore shine.

Usually, stainless steel should be cleaned only with hot, mild soap suds, followed by thorough rinsing with clear water and wiping dry with a soft, clean cloth.

Another recommendation for shining metals is to generously sprinkle flour on a clean, dry cloth and rub into stainless steel or chrome. Gently dust off flour with another dry cloth to bring back the shine.

G. We have just installed a new hardwood floor which we had finished with a satin polyurethane coating for protection. The floor has a beautiful satin sheen now, but I would like your recommendations on how to keep it looking great. I have had numerous people tell me that it will be very susceptible to scratching and will become duller with age.

A. You are wise to consider proper maintenance now while your floor is glowing and picture-perfect. Many people think that urethane coatings do not require any special care. They do if you are to preserve that brand-new look.

Urethane or polyurethane is a liquid plastic that comes in a gloss or satin finish. This coating is very durable and with proper care you should not have any great problems with scratching.

Wood and water do not mix.

HOW TO

Keep it looking great. I have had numerous people tell me that it will be very susceptible to scratching and will become duller with age.

A. You are wise to consider proper maintenance now while your floor is glowing and picture-perfect. Many people think that urethane coatings do not require any special care. They do if you are to preserve that brand-new look.

Urethane or polyurethane is a liquid plastic that comes in a gloss or satin finish. This coating is very durable and with proper care you should not have any great problems with scratching.

Wood and water do not mix.

even if your flooring has a urethane coating. Do not use a wet mop on your flooring. Wipe with a damp cloth that is almost dry after the excess water has been wrung out. Usually soap is not recommended.

However, for accumulated grime and dirt you can use a very mild, biodegradable type of soap. Apply with a damp cloth that has had excess moisture wrung out and wipe clean with a similarly prepared damp cloth that does not contain any soap. Followed by wiping dry and buffing with a soft, clean cloth.

Prevent denting and scratching of your flooring by outfitting table and chair legs with rubber tips or plastic coating. Watch out for high-heel shoes which can easily leave dents in your flooring. These dent marks are permanent and can be removed only by re-sanding.

In time, the top coating of urethane will wear down, normally after three to five years, depending on use. When this happens, the floor should be lightly sanded and a new coat of urethane applied (if your urethane coating was applied by the manufacturer, get his advice prior to recoating).

Urethane should never be placed over a prefinished floor or a floor that has any wax in it whatsoever. The wax or floor dressing becomes a contaminant to the urethane and the urethane will peel off.

G. I need some suggestions regarding oak plank flooring that was already coated with polyurethane when we had it installed. This flooring was installed only six months ago and already the finish is chipping. We are concerned about the long-term effect.

Send inquiries to Here's How, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190. Only questions of general interest can be answered in the column.

We also need to know how to care for this flooring properly.

A. Your first step is to contact the flooring manufacturer, since you state that this is a flooring that came with the polyurethane finish. Six months is much too soon to have the problems you describe, unless the floor has been greatly abused.

As soon as possible you should have a manufacturer's representative inspect the flooring to see if the flooring was defective prior to installation.

You should also request advice from the manufacturer on the proper care he recommends for this particular flooring. As far as general care, we recommend the steps described above.

HOW MUCH WE DEPEND ON UNRELIABLE SOURCES OF OIL DEPENDS ON YOU.

If you have two cars, using the more efficient one will help save us two million gallons of gas a day.

Using lower octane fuels will help save America two-and-a-half-million gallons of gas a day.

Driving just five miles per hour slower will help us save over two million gallons of gas a day.

Carpooling and using mass transportation will help save almost four million gallons of gas a day.

Maintaining the correct tire pressure will help save over two million gallons of gas a day.

It really is this easy. That's why President Bush hopes that, together, we can make America more fuel independent. DO YOUR PART. DRIVE SMART.

Q: Which Light Bulb Gives More Light?

A: Both give equal amounts of light—but the one on the right uses one-fourth of the energy, and over its lifetime can cut $30 off your electricity bill and last nine to 13 times longer, than the one on the left.

Repair, recycle are bywords for Kensington shop

By DAWN NEEDHAM
Editor

Ask owner Steve Gronow to describe Kensington Motors in a few words and he has a hard time doing so.

Not because he isn't good with words but because the business, located at 7428 Kensington Road in Brighton, is too versatile to be defined in just a few words.

Kensington Motors Inc., owned by Steve and Patricia Gronow of South Lyon, concentrates on three areas: collision service for late-model cars, selling Ford-Lincoln-Mercury parts to dealers, garages and home mechanics and some selling of repaired cars and trucks.

Kensington Motors opened in 1978 on Dixboro Road in Green Oak Township, but recently the company completed its move to a new facility on Kensington Road just off Silver Lake Road. An open house is planned for 2-6 p.m. Saturday, June 22.

The new 23,000-square-foot facility replaces the old Dixboro Road facility, which was a farm converted to use for auto repair and parts sales.

"About half of our business is selling Ford-Lincoln-Mercury used parts, mostly to dealers," Gronow said.

In an area that looks like a showroom, Kensington Motors Inc. currently displays a boat, and sometimes a car or truck, that has been repaired and is for sale.

"The bulk of our sales are repairables," he said. Kensington Motors often buys vehicles from insurance companies that have been damaged in accidents or during a theft or sometimes repossessed.

"We get the opportunity to buy from the insurance company, fix it up and resell it," Gronow said.

The retail end of the business is one thing Gronow hopes to expand in the new facility.

Despite a national downturn in the economy, Gronow reports that his segment of the automotive market is going well: he said his company recently did a record $95,000 worth of work in five days.

Kensington Motors sells vehicles in two ways: sometimes the company makes the repairs and then sells the vehicle, or someone can buy the vehicle as is, along with a package of parts necessary to repair it.

"That's kind of a do-it-yourself package," Gronow said.

While the front of the business is devoted to retail and parts sales, there is also the body shop in the back of the building. All of the frame work is done in-house, and the company specializes in late-model insurance work.

Because the company performs so much insurance work, the new facility was designed with office space

New Office

RE/MAX countryside Inc. recently opened offices in South Lyon at 417 South Lafayette, near D&N Savings Bank. Broker/owner Randy Clark and his staff welcomed the community to an open house, arranged for a hot air balloon bearing the RE/MAX logo to be present and gave away a hot air balloon ride to a lucky customer. At left, the RE/MAX countryside Inc. sales staff poses by the balloon. Above, RE/MAX Regional Director Edward Levoir (left) congratulates Clark (right) on the opening.

Business Briefs

STEVEN MARTIN BRISBEY recently completed the Federal Aviation Administration's 9-week Air Traffic Controller basic course at the FAA Academy in Oklahoma City, Okla. Brisbey is the son of Thomas and Ilene Brisbey of Northville.

Before coming to the Mike Monroney Aeronautical Center in Oklahoma City, Brisbey passed stringent written and physical examinations under civil service. Normally, only 60 percent of students complete the intense course, which teaches air traffic procedures and handling of large and small aircraft in the nation's airspace system.

Completion of the screening program gives Brisbey a civil service rating of GS-9. Most graduates stay for additional training before entering an apprenticeship. Upon reporting for duty in FAA's Great Lakes Region, the new graduate will work toward the air traffic control journeyman classification.

The Federal Aviation Administration, under the Department of Transportation, is the nation's regulatory agency for aviation. The FAA Academy is the agency's principal source of technical training, with 300 resident courses.

The FAA is still seeking air traffic controller students. Those interested in becoming an air traffic controller should send a postcard to the FAA, Department AC, Box 26650, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73126. Candidates must not be over 30 years old.

ANITA K. KREMER of Novi has formed a business that provides marketing expertise to the multi-family housing industry. Kremer shows apartment owners and property management companies economic ways to counter high vacancies, low sales closing ratios, and reductions in prospective renters.

Kremer has formulated monthly seminar programs called "Apartment Leasing in the '90s" to effectively train leasing consultants.

Kremer served as director of new market development with Village Green Management Company in Farmington Hills and as vice president of redevelopment with First Property Management Company in Chicago.

For more information contact Anita Kremer at 348-9550.

GARY WACHLER, co-owner of David Wachler and Sons Jewelers in Novi, and March of Dimes "Golden Mile" Retail chairperson, joined Goodwill Ambassador Jamie Zuccaro in the 1991 "Golden Mile" fund-raising event recently.

Proceeds from the "Golden Mile" event, a symbolic one-mile walk for Detroit area executives, benefits the March of Dimes campaign for healthier babies and is designed to increase awareness of the 25 kilometer WalkAmerica, a nationwide March of Dimes activity, which took place April 28.

For the second year in a row, "Golden Mile" walkers competed for a diamond and gold brooch designed and donated to the event by David Wachler and Sons Jewelers. The exclusive piece of jewelry, valued at $3,000, was awarded to the walker who raises the most money.

For information about the March of Dimes, call at 423-3200.

MICHAEL HOWE, President/CEO of Young and Rubicam Detroit, recently announced the appointment of three new employees.

In the traffic department, Rod Radosevich was named traffic coordinator for the Lincoln-Mercury Division account. Radosevich graduated from Michigan State University where he earned a master's degree in advertising. Nick Koupparis was hired as a traffic coordinator for the Lincoln-Mercury Dealer Association account. Koupparis is a graduate from Wayne State University where he majored in advertising.

In the media department, Northville resident MICHAEL YAEKLE was named media purchase service assistant for the Lincoln-Mercury Dealer Association account. Yaeckle graduated from the University of Michigan, majoring in marketing.

Young and Rubicam Detroit is the second largest Y and R office in the United States, with such clients as Lincoln-Mercury, E.I. Du Pont de Nemours, and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

NANCY SHOBE, formerly of Northville, has joined the Crane School as the director of development. Crane School is an independent, not-for-profit, K-8 school located in Montecito, Calif.

Shobe joins Crane with prior experience in the development field. She formerly was the assistant director for the Webb Schools, two independent, not-for-profit, secondary boarding schools located in Claremont, Calif.

Prior to her tenure at Webb, Shobe served as the director of marketing for a theater located in Claremont and coordinated the special events for the Performing Arts Division of the Muis Center of Los Angeles County.

Shobe holds a bachelor's degree in communications arts and sciences from Michigan State University. Richard and Barbara Shobe, her parents, reside in Northville.

Shobe and her daughter, Allison, reside in Santa Barbara, California.

CHARLES KANELOS, a Northville resident, was recently honored as an attendee at the Wausau Insurance Companies' Sales Leadership Conference held in Cancun, Mexico, at the Fiesta Americana Coral Beach Hotel. Conference participants were recognized for high levels of professional achievement.

Philip L. Wirtanen, vice president of direct sales commented, "Wausau's Sales Leadership Conference is attended by a select number of qualifiers who have met the highest standards of performance in meeting our customer needs."

Kanelos is an account executive for the firm's Southfield office.

THE CONSORTIUM FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT has announced that it is relocating to the Brookside Office Park in Novi.

The consortium's new 1,200-square-foot office and group room is located at 24230 Karim Blvd., off Ten Mile Road, west of Haggerty.

The consortium has provided professional therapy services for individuals and families in the Novi area over seven years. The staff handles such concerns as depression, eating disorders, substance abuse, family therapy, adult children of alcoholics, step-parenting, anxiety and stress and many other emotional concerns.

The agency is a non-profit group, and offers adjustable fees. It also provides Employee Assistance Services (EAP) for businesses of any size, to assess and treat employees who may have emotional or substance abuse problems affecting their work.

The office will host a grand opening April 26, from 4-7 p.m. Call 478-2446 for more information.

that Gronow hopes to lease to an insurance company for use as a drive-in claim center.

"It would really be a convenience to the customer, because estimates and inspections could be done right here," Gronow said.

In its new facility, Kensington Motors Inc. recently became a CarStar franchise. CarStar is a national network of high-quality collision repair centers.

"There are 60,000 body shops in the U.S. and less than 3 percent of them qualify for CarStar," Gronow said.

He said to become a franchise the establishment must meet many requirements, including installing an extensive amount of high-technology equipment.

"The people from CarStar even came to visit us during the construction of the facility to see how we were building it," Gronow said. "I'm real excited about us being in the franchise."

"They're on the cutting edge in this industry, 50 feet ahead of the rest of the world of collision repair, setting standards of repair."

Gronow would like Kensington Motors to become a place customers think of when they need collision repair.

"We did no outside work in the body shop when we were over there (on Dixboro Road)," he said.

The body shop is equipped with the latest machinery to perform repairs, including a smokeless welder and an airtight painting booth.

All of the tools in the body shop plug into a vacuum system which removes dust and stores it in a central tank. That removes all of the dust from the air and also from entering the mechanic's lungs, Gronow said.

The laser equipment used for frame-straightening equipment is also state of the art, more precise than that used at the factory, he added.

Gronow said it measures precisely to the millimeter and can guide the mechanic to bring the unibody back into its original position.

This could mean the death of the old saying "Once a car has been in an accident, it's never quite the same."

"The margin of variation at the factory is eight to 10 millimeters," Gronow said. "Our equipment brings it back to zero."

All of the paint is mixed on the premises, and Gronow said the new paints are harder and more resistant to chipping than ever.

The entire painting area is sealed to prevent dust and dirt from entering and paint and fumes from leaving the booth.

"Once the painter goes in to mix the paint, it's a sterile environment," Gronow said. "He never enters one door until the other one is closed. This way, there's no dust or dirt in the paint at all. The air comes in from the ceiling and goes into an air passage tunnel underneath the floor. The painter has his own air supply of outside air as well."

Once the car receives its two coats — a base coat and a clear coat — it is baked at 180 degrees. "It's faster and it gives the car a factory-quality finish," Gronow said. He demonstrated how carefully the cars are taped to produce a professional finish.

"When this car is done and leaves my shop, you could never tell it's been repainted," Gronow said. "You could get an expert and he wouldn't be able to tell. We use two full rolls of tape on each car."

Aside from retail sales and body work, the company also sells used parts. "We buy 10-15 cars a week for parts," Gronow said.

When those vehicles enter the lot, the first step is to drain all fluids. Kensington Motors utilizes innovative methods of recycling automotive fluids, a fact of which Gronow is proud.

The antifreeze goes into a recovery tank; next, it is filtered and eventually sold for use in another car. There are also recovery tanks for oil and gasoline.

Gronow said to his knowledge, his is the only such automotive recycling system in Michigan. He worked with the Livingston County Health Department and the Green Oak Township fire chief to develop the tank system of recycling automotive fluids.

After the fluids are drained, the autos are dismantled by certified mechanics. The parts are stored and logged on the computer so they can be easily found when a customer comes in looking for a part.

Kensington Motors sells parts to three kinds of customers: Ford-Lincoln-Mercury dealers, to whom a half-dozen deliveries are made each day; walk-in customers and garages and service centers.

"We sell many of the same things as an auto supply store, but people don't think auto recycling center when they need something," Gronow said. "We sell most of our parts at half the price. Think used, don't think new or rebuilt."

Kensington Motors Inc. has 23 employees. Gronow said when the body shop is fully open the company will have 32 employees.

Parts are delivered in a new brand of delivery trucks. Gronow said Kensington Motors is moving into a new sideline, selling delivery trucks called Aeromats.

Gronow said he ordered several for himself and "was so impressed with them that we took the line." It's a Utilmaster Motor Corp. truck with a Chrysler power train that gets about 17 mpg, he said.

An open house at the facility will be held Saturday, June 22 from 2-6 p.m. For more information, call Kensington Motors Inc. at 437-4163.

How to play the auto finance game and win

By Debra Lee Baldwin
Copley News Service

"New-car sales are down and aggressive advertising is up," advises Consumer Reports. "But sluggish auto sales don't necessarily make it easier to negotiate a good deal on a new car.

"In fact, rebates, low-interest financing and other incentives can create considerable confusion about the actual price."

Ouch. Why does buying a car have to be such a headache? If it isn't bad enough that you part with thousands of hard-earned dollars, you have to play games to do it.

NEGOTIATING STRATEGIES

Before you visit the showroom, decide what you can afford and what you need (large or small, two or four doors, sedan, hatchback, wagon or minivan).

After you've researched available models, focus on the equipment you prefer. It's usually cheaper to buy options in a package—if you want all or most of them.

Of course you'll be visiting car lots, and you'll be approached by salesmen ready and eager to deal. It's OK to take a test drive, pocket a brochure and leave. But if you return, be sure to ask for the same salesperson who served you earlier.

Visit a bookstore and look in the auto section for a guide that lists dealers' costs for the makes and models of the cars you're interested in—it's essential negotiating information.

On a mid-price domestic that is in ample supply, you may be able to negotiate 2 percent to 4 percent over invoice. Keep in mind that in demand vehicles will have a higher markup, and luxury cars and sporty models often command a premium.

One of the first questions you're likely to be asked is if you have a trade-in. That should be one of the last questions you answer, advises Consumer Reports. "If you talk trade-in too soon, the dealer can offset a good deal on the car you're buying with a bad deal on the car you're trading—or vice versa."

If a rebate is available, great. Just make sure the salesperson understands you want the rebate up front as an additional discount off the price of the car, not as a check you'll receive later (otherwise, you'll pay more sales tax).

Even though you think you're home free and have made a great deal—and the sales contract is being drawn up—be cautious. Watch out for last-minute fees and extras that increase your total; question every item you don't understand. If you feel the dealer is being unfair, walk out.

Does all of the above make you queasy? Maybe you should place yourself in the hands of a competent automobile broker. Acting as intermediaries between you and the dealer, they'll spare you the negotiating process. They contact the dealer for you and come back to you with the best price—often an excellent one, because brokers buy cars in quantity.

BORROWER BEWARE

Unless the automaker is offering a promotional rate on auto loans for the model you're buying, you may be better off arranging financing elsewhere.

It pays to shop around—investigate the terms and rates available to you from banks, S&Ls, your credit union and/or a consumer finance company.

Cut costs by choosing a 36-month contract rather than 48- or 60-month. The payments will be higher, but you'd pay more for the additional time—and at some point might end up owing more than the car is worth. Another way to reduce the amount of the loan is to make a large down payment.

Avoid the temptation to borrow the down payment amount—two loans to repay is a burden. Watch out for "no money down" arrangements offered by some used-car sellers; these tend to have extra-high interest rates.

If you have the wherewithal to pay off the loan early and there is no penalty, do so. A refund of finance charges will be credited to your account.

CONSIDER LEASING

The practice of owning an upscale car outright may be on the way out.

Many people trade their autos in on new ones before they've paid off their loans, and they view the vehicle more as a monthly expense than cherished property.

So why not lease? You'll pay less per month if you don't mind giving up equity in the car.

According to F. Joseph McPartlin, director of retail leasing for General Motors Acceptance Corp., you'll pay about the same amount each month on a 24-month lease as you would on a 48-month loan. And you'll get a lot more automobile for the money.

Leases don't require down payments, but you may have to come up with a few monthly payments in advance (check to see if you qualify for a rebate or cash-back offer on these). And because of tax laws (check with your accountant), you may be able to depreciate the cost of a lease—particularly on a luxury car—more quickly than if you bought the car outright.

Our "22 Timely Tips for Washing Your Own Car"

(Check off as you complete)

- ☐ 1. Always wash car in shade to protect finish. If no shade is available, run back & forth holding golf umbrella over vehicle. (Use scaffold on vans.)
- ☐ 2. Drag hose out thru shrubbery and tomato plants.
- ☐ 3. Borrow neighbors shovel, replant shrubbery and tomato plants. Rake broken limbs, eat crushed tomatoes.
- ☐ 4. Move car closer to hose, turn on water.
- ☐ 5. Move front wheel off hose, discard flattened nozzle.
- ☐ 6. Bring bucket from garage, thoroughly clean all pottng soil, sheep manure, peat moss etc. from bucket with hose.
- ☐ 7. Return shovel to neighbor, borrow bucket with no holes in it.
- ☐ 8. Put soap in bucket, add water, sneeze in bucket, empty.
- ☐ 9. Wet car down with hose. Fill shoes with water at this point for body temperature adjustment.
- ☐ 10. Soak towel in soap water, 16"x25" Novi Sheraton, Hilton, or Wyndham hand towels are ideal, especially on green cars.
- ☐ 11. Remove dirt from top, hood, and trunk in that order. Move rear wheel off hose & rinse.
- ☐ 12. Repeat procedure to remove bird droppings during Elderberry season, unless car is purple.
- ☐ 13. After washing and rinsing both sides, spread dry towels on driver's seat to soak up water, close driver window.
- ☐ 14. Wash rear of car, including bumper & license plate. Use 1" band-aid on index finger cut.
- ☐ 15. Wash grill, front of hood & front bumper. Remove bugs, one by one, (omit during Jan. & Feb.), from hood with fingernail, Brillo pads or putty knife, using care not to mar finish.
- ☐ 16. Wipe car dry with clean chamois. Caution! If chamois is not new ($9.00) it is not clean.
- ☐ 17. When car is dry, stop running back & forth like a nut with golf umbrella.
- ☐ 18. Return bucket to neighbor, borrow hand cream.
- ☐ 19. Fill kitchen sink & let chamois soak till next week, or place in freezer. Label to distinguish from homemade noodles.
- ☐ 20. Throw wet box of soap away after bottom falls out. Return towel to Novi Sheraton, Novi Hilton or Wyndham.
- ☐ 21. Wash dirt, mud, cigarette butts, etc. off driveway, then off sidewalk, street, as far as hose will reach. Buy hose-end repair kit after pulling loose from spigot.
- ☐ 22. Remove shoes, empty water out & place in sun to dry. Practice curling your toes upward to fit shoes when dry.
- ☐ 22a. Remove and wring out socks, also pants, shirt and underwear if windy. Change band-aids. Take nap. Play golf tomorrow.

Protecting your vehicle can be as simple as using a steering wheel lock or an elaborate laser system.

Alarms, steering wheel locks and more

By Monica Perez
Copley News Service

Whoa — there went one! Depending on which statistics you read, in the United States a car is stolen approximately every 22 seconds. By the time you finish this article, another five or six of the 1,432,916 cars that get snatched this year will be heading for the border or a "chop shop" to be stripped down and sold in parts.

No laughing matter, we agree.

You realize, of course, that if a thief really wants your vehicle, he or she will steal it—security system or not. But you can up your odds tremendously by taking certain precautions, some of which you purchase and install, others you simply keep in mind.

Four out of five stolen cars' doors aren't locked when they're taken, says the Insurance Information Institute, and one in five are recovered with the owner's keys still in them!

The I.I.I. suggests the following ways to reduce the chance of your car being ripped off:

- Always roll up windows, lock the doors and pocket the key.
- Have your vehicle identification number etched onto the windshield, flip top and sunroof.
- Sharply turn the front wheels of the car to make it difficult to tow backward. On front-wheel-drive vehicles, engage the emergency brake and set the gear in park to lock all four wheels.
- Put packages and valuables out of sight.
- Keep the license and registration in your wallet or purse.
- Park in well-lighted, highly visible areas.

The I.I.I. offers free consumer information about auto, home and business insurance; write them at 110 William St., New York, NY 10038. The technology available in car security these days is phenomenal: The more sophisticated of these systems are integrated with such convenience features as remote controlled locking devices and climate adjusters. The simplest is a locking device on the steering wheel, such as the much-publicized The Club. This locks on the steering wheel, rendering it undriveable; it's endorsed by police departments in a number of U.S. cities. It doesn't, however, prevent your stereo from being ripped off. The cost is around $50 to $60, and it's sold at auto supply stores and major department stores.

If an alarm system is more what you had in mind, for an affordable $100 you can install the FosGuard I, a black box with a cord you plug into the car lighter. A red light alerts thieves of its presence; when triggered through a current sensor, a motion sensor and/or a glass-break detector, it blasts two sirens and a strobe light.

Passive security systems are those that automatically switch themselves on a few moments after you leave your car, some even lock the doors for you. There are the systems favored by insurance companies, many of which will reduce your premiums by as much as 10 percent (in some states they're required by law to do so).

The range of options in this category is staggering, the least expensive of which start at around $250. Some can tell the difference between a nudge from another car and an actual break-in.

Systems that must be armed manually can sometimes get you a 5 percent rate break from your insurance company, before you go shopping, can your agent and see if there are particular brands they discount for.

Perhaps the most techy systems to date are the ones that track your car via transmitter. In California, the Mobile Electronic Tracking System has a central station hookup; when the alarm is alerted, the station calls the owner to verify it has been taken. If so, the police are alerted. Cost is around $600 installed with a $10 to $15 monthly service charge.

Trucks, vans and sport/utility vehicles are moving upscale and nearing the end of the model year can offer a good deal.

Reviewing the trucks, vans, 4WD for 1991

By Steven Parker
Copley News Service

It's harder than ever to tell where the line between trucks, vans, cars and sport/utility vehicles begins and ends. They seem to have more in common than ever before, and for 1991 the line blurs even more.

Everyone seems to acknowledge the benefits of four-wheel-drive (4WD), whether on a passenger car, truck, van or even sports car. The added traction and control 4WD provides seem to have obvious good points. But there are drawbacks to this technology as well.

Complication is the main potential problem. Four-wheel-drive systems tend by nature to be highly complicated with lots of moving parts taking all sorts of torque and power from the engine and trying to distribute it to all four wheels. This just means there is more that can potentially go wrong and these systems are very expensive to fix.

There are various 4WD systems available, the most common being full-time and part-time.

Part-time 4WD means that a switch or lever has to be thrown in order to get all four wheels to receive power from the engine. This can be a hassle at times, as it is in Chevrolet's new four-door Blazer, which instructs users to not use the 4WD system on dry pavement, or as simple as a push of a button at most any speed, as the system is on Ford's new four-door Explorer model.

Full-time 4WD (also called all-wheel-drive) means that all four wheels are receiving power from the engine all the time. There are a variety of viscous coupling systems that automatically send the power to the wheels with the best traction, and this type of system helps to keep wheels on slippery surfaces from spinning uselessly.

Four-wheel-drive is also one of the means engineers have found necessary to make use of today's small but very powerful engines. New 1991 cars such as the Mitsubishi 3000GT (also called the Dodge Stealth) need 4WD systems just to get all the power to the ground in a meaningful and useful way.

In the sport/utility range, the four-door models from Chevrolet (and partner GMC) and Ford are the biggest news, these domestics challenging King of the Hill Jeep Cherokee for the first time in a serious way. Toyota's and Nissan's 4Runner and Pathfinder for 1991 are viable, but pricey, alternatives.

Interestingly, Oldsmobile is also selling a sport/utility vehicle in 1991. Called the Bravada, it's the Oldsmobile version of the four-door Blazer, and is outfitted with leather and full-time 4WD, unlike Blazer's part-time system (Chevy dealers are furious, and understandably so). Bravada is also priced closer to a Range-Rover than a Blazer. Look for a Bravada price close to $28,000.

Range-Rover remains a very popular seller, though its prices are going up $1,000 a model for 1991. That will put them in the mid-$40,000 segment for a fully equipped model, though they have a low-ball model available for those not wanting to part with their home for the sake of their car.

Toyota has updated and redesigned its classic and tough Land Cruiser for 1991, a vehicle any serious off-roader needs to test drive.

Mazda, which has been having very good luck with its line of trucks and vans, is introducing a two-door sport/utility vehicle in 1991 to be called Navajo.

There's lots of news in the 1991 van marketplace. Minivans have become one of the hottest-selling items in the world of cars and trucks, and everyone is trying to come up with something different.

Toyota seems to have captured the "different" crown for 1991 with the introduction of its Previa. This radical-looking machine has lots of cargo space, a flat, laid-down four-cylinder engine that barely intrudes into the passenger compartment, and all the style you could want. Previa is such a hit because the previous Toyota minivan was such a boring unit.

Toyota competitor Nissan, on the other hand, has yet to develop a minivan suitable for the American market, but in late 1991 a Ford/Nissan van designed especially for this marketplace is set to bow.

The General Motors plastic-skinned vans have also captured a lot of attention. Available from Pontiac, Chevrolet and Oldsmobile (there they go again—Olds in the truck market!) the APV minivans received initial high marks for styling but lost points when some critics contended the platform for the GM vehicles was not as "new" as the rest of the van.

There are no plans for 4WD General Motors APV vans in 1991, though Mazda (MPV) and Ford (Aerostar) already offer minivans with that feature.

Sales leader in the minivan market remains Chrysler. For 1991, Chrysler (and its Dodge division) sticks with its tried-and-true products that have proven solid, well-built and dependable. Chrysler even has the nerve to have ugly 1970s-style rain-gutters on its 1991 models; but that styling miscue doesn't seem to hurt sales.

The truck market for 1991 fields relatively few surprises, but there are some products that bear mentioning.

Chevrolet continues offering its full-size pickup available with a 40-cubic-inch V8 engine guaranteed to scare the neighbors. If you are towing a fifth-wheel trailer with your pickup, this is one vehicle to seriously consider. Expect 12 miles per gallon with the 454. And lots of fun.

Dodge continues with certain Cummins diesel engines in its Dakota mid-size trucks, specially tuned for towing. Not as exciting as the 454, but they get the job done and you can drive without watching the gas gauge move down as you go from block to block.

The Ford F-150 pickup remains the most popular-selling truck in the world, and the No. 1 selling vehicle of any kind in the United States. There is not much new in the wind for 1991 for Ford trucks, but why fool with near-perfection? Now-common truck features such as rear anti-lock brake systems got their start on Ford trucks.

Import pickups are starting to tout their towing and hauling capabilities, some for the first time. The designers and engineers in Japan do not relate to "trailer-towing capacity" because that is not something they do with trucks in Japan. However, now that American engineers have plenty of input into their home offices (and indeed Toyota and Nissan pickups are built in the United States) towing capacities, special towing packages and other options specifically aimed at the American market are becoming more common on the import trucks.

The newest motorcycles have a nostalgic appeal as the Suzuki VX800.

Bikes and ATVs get nostalgic

By Steven Parker
Copley News Service

"Kinder and gentler" are the bywords for the motorcycle market for 1991.

In fact, "retro-tech," a term that was coined to describe cars that are designed to be visual throwbacks to nostalgic vehicles of the past, can also be applied to many of the two-wheel machines slated to hit the nation's highways in the coming year.

This kinder, gentler trend started with the introduction last year by Honda of its Pacific Coast model, a touring machine that featured plenty of plastic and fiberglass covering on the frame and engine so the motorcycle gave a much more cohesive appearance than the typical motorcycle.

The Pacific Coast also came with built-in and locking luggage and helmet storage space.

This revolutionary machine caught a lot of people by surprise. But motorcycle veterans will remember that the British firm Vincent featured a Black Knight model some 40 years ago with many of the same features of the new Honda.

Another word to remember for the motorcycle market: dollars.

Motorcycles have gotten very expensive in the past few years, and that in fact is one of the main reasons retro-tech motorcycles have come into their own in the marketplace. These are motorcycles that eschew many of the high-tech features developed over the past decade, to not only appeal more to a mass consumer audience, but also to help keep the prices of the machines within reason.

Some of the newest two-wheel machines feature as selling points what would have been scoffed at as "old technology" just a few years ago.

Twin shocks on the rear end of the bike rather than the futuristic single-shock approach are becoming more popular, and engine technology does not seem as radical in many cases as it was a few years back, though Yamaha still makes a line of engines called Genesis, with five valves per cylinder. (In fact, Yamaha used this same technology when it built the engines for the SHO Taurus car from Ford.)

The motorcycle sales market has reached a bit of a standstill in the United States, though there are interesting products being introduced all the time. The Big Sis (Honda, Kawasaki, Suzuki, Yamaha, BMW, Harley-Davidson) continue to dominate sales in this country, but there are rumors that the British motorcycle industry, always an on-again, off-again proposition, is picking up steam and planning a comeback.

In fact, one of the more interesting motorcycles currently in production is made by the British company Norton. This venerable old name produces a rotary-powered motorcycle for British police departments. The high-powered machine is rumored to be coming to the United States, maybe in 1992.

Italian motorcycles remain small in numbers in the United States, and little improvement on their sales figures is anticipated for the 1991 model year. MotoGuzzi, Ducatti and Laverda remain popular Italian brands, but a lack of dealer and service bodies in America makes them a poor choice for the average motorcyclist who does not plan on performing "at home" maintenance.

Mark Tuttle, editor of Rider magazine, knows a bit about some of the new machines coming out. He says the smartest companies will feature a combination of futuristic and retro-tech machines to appeal to the biggest possible numbers of potential buyers.

Harley-Davidson, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Black Hills Motorcycle Classic gathering in Sturgis, S.D., is coming out with its 1991 Dyna Glide Sturgis.

This is an all-black "low rider" with a new frame that gives the machine a very unique look, making components such as the battery and oil tank stand out more.

Each of the components has been styled into what H-D calls "motorcycle jewelry," which means the Dyna Glide Sturgis will have glitter, polish and plenty of style. The machine has the classic and proven 1,340cc Harley engine and Tuttle guesses the price on this machine will be close to $11,000.

BMW is coming out with a new four-valve K100RS, a 1,000cc, 4-cylinder, 16-valve (just like racy cars) machine, incorporating technology from its top-of-the-line supersport K1 into a more comfortable, touring platform.

Its Paralever rear suspension, a shaft-drive system and anti-lock brakes, unique to BMW in the motorcycle market, are part of the package. BMW's new touring machine for 1991 should sell for about $10,500.

Anti-lock brakes on motorcycles remain exclusively an offering from BMW. Tuttle guesses this is more due to liability problems and potential lawsuits than any lack of technology or desire by a manufacturer to make use of this safety technology.

Tuttle says that almost all other major motorcycle companies have anti-lock brakes on the drawing board, but are hesitant to use them on American-bound machines because of their fear of possible courtroom time in our litigious society.

This same problem affects many cars that are imported in the United States, and has also kept the use of air bags in cars to the low level it is still at today, years after development of the technology.

Tuttle also says to look for Honda's new 750cc in-line 4-cylinder machine that will be called the 750 Sport. This is a retro-tech machine with an air-cooled engine, dual shocks in the rear and the look and feel of an early 1980s motorcycle, not a futuristic "Star Wars" machine. Honda manages to equip the bike with enough modern features to make the 750 a comfortable platform. Price? Incredibly, maybe under $4,000.

In the rumor mill for the motorcycle market:

Suzuki is supposed to be developing a new touring machine to replace its aging Cavalcade.

Kawasaki says it might be revamping its Voyager and Concours touring machines.

And Yamaha, which has been in the retro market for a few years with its V-Max, should be able to continue strongly with its present model mix that consists of the old-looking and the very new.

In the ATV market, this year as in the past, only four-wheel vehicles are available from the four Japanese suppliers. The U.S. Congress outlawed the three-wheelers due to the high number of injuries resulting from their use.

Today's ATVs are about as "safe and sane" as you can get. They have really evolved in many cases into little more than glorified garden tractors, with features such as reverse gears, four-wheel-drive, shaft-drive, powerful lighting and more.

ATVs, though used by many as fun vehicles, have really found a home as workhorse vehicles perfect for ranch and farm use.

More motorcycle information can be gained from the American Motorcyclist Association in Westerville, Ohio (which just opened the first museum dedicated to motorcycles in the United States), and the Motorcycle Industry Council, and Specialty Vehicle Council (ATVs), both in Irvine, Calif.

You always take the long way home, even when gasoline prices are rising. They know you by name at the car wash, and you religiously cover the dash with a sun visor, even when rushing.

You are an auto aficionado—a car-crazy soul who is the happiest when behind the wheel.

But since endless joyriding can add hundreds of unwanted miles to the odometer, you are looking for ways to expand your driver's education without wearing down your tire treads.

Your search will not have you driving around in circles, thanks to the many options that far outnumber the cars in a crowded parking lot.

LEARN TO RACE

Grab the leather gloves and helmet. Aspiring Andrettis can accelerate in the areas of both speed and endurance at racing schools.

Scattered throughout the United States, these schools will provide you with the cars, safety gear and instruction you need for a true adventure on wheels. At schools such as the Skip Barber Racing School in Canaan, Conn., the Bertil Roos Grand Prix Racing School in Blakeslee, Pa., or the Road Atlanta Driver Training Center in Braselton, Ga., the possibilities range from one-day courses to packages that span a week or more.

Chances are good that you will come back from such a school a better all-around driver, as well as one experienced in the ways of the race. Most offer basic and advanced courses that teach skills such as how to escape from a wet skid or accident-avoidance techniques. You can even learn the lowdown on driving in rugged weather at the Ford Ice Driving School in Steamboat Springs, Colo.

Driving fundamentals, meanwhile, such as parallel parking and right-of-way, can be reviewed in classes offered by local private driving schools. Such courses can be especially helpful for nervous drivers preparing to take the driving or written portions of their state's examination in hopes of obtaining a license.

From the Indy 500 to the Baja 500 to the Daytona 500, experiencing the excitement of fast cars from the sidelines is what many consider the ultimate in spectator sport.

And for good reason. No matter what the race or road, it is tough not to get caught up in the speed, sights, sounds, personalities and challenges common to these races on wheels.

Since there is so much to choose from—everything from stock car racing to off-road competitions to grand prix—there is bound to be a race for everybody. Whether you traveled halfway across the world, across the country or simply across town to reach your seat in the stands, you will gain an appreciation of the talents involved in conquering the oval, track or course not long after the checkered flag falls.

Clubs, museums, family travel, plus car fun

Less intense than auto racing but lots of fun are auto classics that often combine races, rallies, tours, parades, poker runs, scavenger hunts and myriad social events in weekend extravaganzas.

If you can't make it to the races, you can always take the home computer out for a test drive. Software packages, such as "Indianapolis 500—The Simulation" (Electronic Arts, San Mateo, Calif.) put you head-to-head against other computer-driven opponents. A realistic ride in the cockpit is achieved through great Graphics and impressive sounds. Thus, you experience spins and pit-stops and engage in practice runs without ever leaving your easy chair.

ENTER A ROAD RALLY

Whether it winds its way through South America or Australia, Northern Africa or Alaska, the road when rallying is neither smooth nor short. But the thrills, chills and challenges involved in this automotive equivalent to roughing it in the back country have united a growing number of driving enthusiasts worldwide who brake for an honest-to-goodness adventure.

While competition driving experience and mechanical aptitude are valuable assets in road rallying, the only real prerequisites are an uninterrupted block of time and a healthy dose of grit. No doubt you will pick up more of the latter once you get started.

But it is that dirty, rough, intimidating, unpredictable and yet fascinating terrain that fosters a hearty camaraderie and triumph over the elements that can become downright addictive. In this sport, winning usually takes a back seat to just plain finishing.

As for the vehicle, participants can choose among races that involve motorcycles, trucks or cars. In order to rise to such a challenge, a vehicle must exhibit reliability that is above reproach and comply with the rally organizer's specifications. Safety equipment and basic improvements should be handed over to a mechanic. In some cases, road rally participants can purchase a ready-to-rally vehicle from the race organizer or sponsor, then sell it back after they cross the finishing line, providing there are not too many dents.

RENT A WINNER

You can take the ride of your life in a rental car now that many companies have expanded their fleets.

You will now find such a wide range of leisure and luxury vehicles on the lot that you can now breeze along the coast in a convertible, weather snowy slopes in a tough four-wheel-drive vehicle or fit the kids and their cousins into a comfortable and roomy minivan.

For the traveler with a penchant for plush interiors and quiet rides, there are pampering luxury models such as the Lincoln Town Car and Continental available for hire. Through rentals, you can even take a sporty model, such as a Porsche 944 S2 Cabriolet, for a spin that spans the days or even weeks without the worry of a hefty monthly payment.

The ultimate in hedonistic travel can be found through limousine services. They will supply the driver, the car and the champagne, so all you need do is sit back, relax and enjoy the ever-indulging ride.

CAR SHOWS

You can see the best, brightest, oldest and newest at car shows scattered all over the U.S..

Some shows will even come to you. During the warm-weather months, some vintage collectors remove the tarps on their prize possessions and parade across the country caravan-style. Such motorcades usually have scheduled stops so community car lovers can "ooh" and "ahh" a little before it is time to hit the road again.

If you are seeking the roots of the automobile revolution, make a pilgrimage to the mecca of the automobile—Detroit—where you can tour the homes of the auto barons, walk through the first auto plant and view dozens of the earliest autos.

Or, hit one of the many other auto-related museums, such as the Motorcycle Heritage Museum in Waterville, Ohio, which features a "Women in Motorcycling" exhibit, or the Harrah National Automobile Museum in Reno, Nev., where museum staffers dress in costumes that coordinate in time period with classic chassis included in this fine-tuned collection.

Another opportunity for car-gazing can be found at an auto auction, where you can admire the goods and watch the process of acquisition, or jump right into the roles of buyer or seller.

Since prices for such oldies-but-goodies and classic collectibles have gone into the stratosphere in recent years, such events can prove to be quite entertaining in terms of who gets what for what price. The Barrett-Jackson auction in Scottsdale, Ariz., is the oldest and one of the largest in the country.

If you are planning to buy, make sure to do your homework before you place a bid. Books and trade magazines can help you learn about the accessories, styles and options that increase your targeted purchase's value and which models are the most desirable.

JOIN A CLUB

A good automobile club is a driving enthusiasts' best friend. Not only do such agencies provide up-to-date road information, traveling tips, discounts, hotel and restaurant recommendations and, in some cases, insurance, but—like a true buddy—they are there for you in an emergency.

Other automobile associations, meanwhile, such as the American Motorcyclist Association (P.O. Box 6114, Westerville, OH 43081), Automotive Information Council (29200 Southfield Road, Suite 111, Southfield, MI 48076) or the National Auto Auction Association (P.O. Box 29107, Lincoln, NE 68520) keep you abreast of events and car-related issues via newsletters and meetings.

A current edition of the Directory of Motor Vehicle Related Associations (Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association of the United States, Inc., 7430 Second Ave., Suite 300, Detroit, MI 48202) can provide you with hundreds of listings and addresses.

Magazines, videos, books for car enthusiast

By Allison Ashton
Copley News Service

Whether you are a dyed-in-the wool grease monkey or just looking for the best deal on wheels, there is plenty of printed matter to read and lots of videos to watch.

General-interest magazines cover the gamut from maintenance tips to new car reviews. Popular titles include Automobile, Road & Track, Car & Driver and Motor Trend.

If you are shopping for a new vehicle, keep an eye out for the Consumer Reports annual car review issue—it's a valuable unbiased rundown with plenty of tips on negotiating the best deal.

There also is a myriad of special-interest periodicals for car enthusiasts, especially those with a passion for classic chassis and performance models. Look for Classic & Sportscar, Hemming's Motor News, Old Car Book, Supercar Classics, Collectible Automobile, Thoroughbred & Classic Car and Performance Car.

Some car books make gorgeous coffee table tomes. Lush photography and informative text revere the automobile as an art form.

"BMW: A Celebration" by Eric

Dymock (Orion Books) covers the history of that luxury car, including its struggle to survive when Germany was divided in 1945. The chronicle is illustrated with 300 color and black-and-white photos.

American car enthusiasts will enjoy "The Art of American Car Design" by C. Edson Armi (Pennsylvania State University Press), "Great American Automobiles of the '50s" by Richard M. Langworth and Chris Poole (Consumer Guide Publications) and "Soaring Spirit: Thirty-five Years of the Ford Thunderbird" by John Katz (Automobile Quarterly Publications).

Phillip S. Egan, who was on the design team of the ill-fated Tucker, chronicles his experiences in "Design and Destiny: The Making of the Tucker Automobile" (On the Mark Publications).

Exotic car aficionados should dip into the pages of "Japanese Exotic Cars" by Jack Doo and Henry Rasmussen (Motorbooks International). Speed demons will like Motorbooks International's "Corvette Grand Sport" by Dave Friedman and Lowell C. Paddock or "Racin'" by George H. Gilliam.

Gorgeous automotive picture books include "Muscle Car Mania" by Mitch Funkin (Motorbooks International), "Power Behind the Wheel: Creativity and Evolution of the Automobile" by Walter J. Boyne (Stewart, Tabori & Chang) and "Dream Cars: Style for Tomorrow" by Peter Vann and Serge Bellu (Motorbooks International).

VEHICLE VIDEOS

Videos lend themselves perfectly to demonstrating automotive how-to tips. "The Video Car Care Clinic" (Morris Video) is a series of 60-minute tapes with tips ranging from basic care to motorcycle maintenance. "The Last Chance Garage" (Crown Video) is another series culled from the PBS television show of the same name.

Total Productions' "Auto Video" offers a basic rundown on care including the early warning signs of a breakdown.

On a more specialized note, "Pinstriping Made Easy" (Pinkston & Lusk Productions) offers instruction and basic patterns for pinstriping your car.

Whether it's summer theater, or theater that just happens to run through the summer, Michigan has it—from the opulent old opera houses that dot the state to summer stock in honest to goodness barns.

The 1991 season marks the 37th for the Cherry County Playhouse but the first at its new home in Muskegon.

Formerly housed in Traverse City's Park Place Hotel, the nationally acclaimed theater's new digs are the ornate trappings of Muskegon's Frauenthal Center.

New directions are also in the offing at the Red Barn Playhouse near Saugatuck, which switches to a repertory format of all new works. And the Augusta Barn Theatre is back for its 46th season with a schedule that includes plays and musical with Broadway actors, all presented in a charming country setting.

Adrian's Croswell Opera House, the state's oldest continuously operated theatre, opens its summer season with a salute to Cole Porter in honor of the tunesmith's 100th birthday. Coldwater's historic Tibbits Opera House includes professional theatre for children on its weekend schedule.

Here's a sampling of Michigan theater this summer:

Adrian

Croswell Opera House

June 20-23, June 27-30: Anything Goes, lively, toe tapping musical by Cole Porter.

July 11-14, July 18-21: Into the Woods, retelling of Grimm Brothers' fairy tales by Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine.

Aug. 1-4, Aug. 8-11: The King and I, classic Rodgers and Hammerstein musical Located at 129 E. Maumee St., Adrian. Call 517-263-5674 for ticket information.

Thunder Bay Theatre

June 19-23, June 26-29, July 3-6: Nunsense, winner of 1986 Best Off-Broadway Musical with book, music and lyrics by Dan Goggin.

July 17-21, July 24-28, July 31-Aug. 3: They're Playing Our Song, charming romantic musical. Book by Neil Simon, music by Marvin Hamlisch, lyrics by Carol Bayer Sager.

Aug. 7-11, Aug. 14-18, Aug. 21-24: Barefoot in the Park, Neil Simon favorite about newly wed couple.

Located at 400 N. Second Ave., Alpena. Call 517-354-2267

Barn Theatre of Augusta

June 18-23: Romantic Comedy, Robert Newman, "Josh" on "The Guiding Light" stars in an engaging, lighthearted confection by Bernard Slade.

June 25-July 7: How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, Frank Loesser and Abe Burrows' Pulitzer Prize winning musical.

July 9-21: Lend Me A Tenor, wacky comedy by Ken Ludwig spoofs grand opera.

July 23-Aug. 4: Jesus Christ Superstar, Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice's dazzling rock opera.

Aug. 6-10: The Phantom of the Opera, play stars Joe Aiello as The Phantom.

Aug. 20-Sept. 1: Anything Goes, Cole Porter's delightful, delicious, delovely musical.

Located on M-96 highway, 1 1/2 miles of Augusta. Call 616-731-4121.

Coldwater

Tibbits Summer Theatre

June 26-29, July 3, July 5-6: The Music Man, musical comedy favorite by Meredith Willson and Franklin Lacey.

July 10-13, July 17-20: Lend Me A Tenor, wacky comedy by Ken Ludwig spoofs grand opera.

July 24-27, July 31-Aug. 3: Funny Girl, musical by Jule Styne, Bob Merrill and Isobel Lennart traces the life of Fanny Brice.

Aug. 7-10, Aug. 14-17: Driving Miss Daisy, warm hearted, gently humorous, highly acclaimed story by Alfred Uhry.

Children's theatre presentations scheduled on Friday and Saturday throughout the summer season.

Located at Tibbits Opera House, 14. S. Hanchett St., Coldwater. Call 800-444-6029.

Frankenmuth

Fischer Opera Haus

B.C. balloon fest: Where paint cans fly!

Battle Creek, Michigan—

A 90 foot tall battery? A flying paint can? A gigantic floating likeness of Tony the Tiger?

Those visiting the annual Battle Creek International Balloon Championship and Air Show will gape in amazement as these special shaped balloons take flight.

This year's aerial spectacular, set for June 29-July 6 at the W.K. Kellogg Regional Airport, will feature another amusing array of novelty balloons as well as competitors bent on winning the title of "Champion" and their share of $35,000 in prize money.

The eight day event is expected to draw close to 900,000 spectators and attract up to 200 of the world's finest hot air balloon pilots.

It promises to be a photographer's delight as pilots and crews prepare the huge nylon envelopes for lift off at dawn and dusk daily. The sky becomes a kaleidoscope of colorful changes as the huge orbs fill up and drift away.

The opening weekend air show will feature the Team America aerobatics flying team along with military aircraft flights and static demonstrations. But the air show doesn't stop there! On July 3-4 the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds and the Canadian Sky Hawks take to the sky.

A $50,000 fireworks display will illuminate the sky July 4 as more than 400 shells of color explode and more than 100 hot air balloons tether to give spectators a true glow of patriotism.

Enjoy an evening of live country music with Lee Greenwood ("God Bless the U.S.A.") on July 5. Reserved seating is available.

Other Balloon Championship highlights include a stunt kite team demonstration July 5-6 and amusement park carnival rides all eight days.

Gate admission is $2 per person each day; children under 4 admitted free. Parking is $4 per day for smaller vehicles, $10 per day for RVs.

There are several campgrounds throughout the Battle Creek area. Camping is available at the airport/launch site but is for self-contained vehicles, RV's or motor homes. For more information on camping contact: B.C.H.A.B.C., P.O. Box 2019, Battle Creek, MI 49016-2019, 616-962-0592.

Battle Creek also offers quality hotels/motels at affordable prices. For more information on lodging contact the Great Battle Creek/Calhoun County Visitors and Convention Bureau, 34 W. Jackson St., Suite B, Battle Creek, MI 49017, 616-962-2240.

For more information, call 616-962-0592.

Battle Creek is located along Interstate 94 in southwest Michigan, 114 miles from Detroit, 162 miles from Chicago.

The home of Kellogg's, Post, and Ralston Purina cereals, Battle Creek is known as the "Cereal Capital of the World." Wineries, nature centers, quaint inns and fine restaurants mark the area.

Binder Park Zoo has animal exhibits, a narrow gauge railway and a children's zoo. The Kimball House Museum, furnished in 1886 style, includes a Sojourner Truth Display. A liberated slave, Truth worked with the Underground Railroad in Battle Creek before the Civil War and lectured extensively on human rights thereafter.

NOVELTY BALLOONS, SERIOUS COMPETITORS— An amusing array of novelty balloons as well as pilots bent on the championship trophy will fill the skies over Battle Creek, June 29-July 6.

FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE—"Matrioshka," a giant balloon in the shape of a Russian nesting doll, will appear at Howell's Michigan Challenge VII. Pilot Jacques Soukup has flown this balloon at events all over the world, including one at the Winter Palace in Leningrad, where this photo was taken.

13-story high Russian doll to take flight over Howell

Howell, Michigan—

Pilots and crew are taking their balloons out of storage, checking them out and taking to the skies in preparation for the state championship of hot air ballooning -- Michigan Challenge VII. The Challenge will be held in Howell on June 21, 22 and 23.

The Howell Area Chamber of Commerce is the host for the event. Major sponsor for the Michigan Challenge is First of America Bank.

The Challenge attracts more than 50 of the finest pilots in the country to compete for the Michigan Challenge trophy, over $3000 in cash and prizes, and two tickets to Paris on American Airlines.

A special attraction at this year's Challenge is an appearance by world-renowned pilot Jacques Soukup. Jacques, with his partner in the Soukup-Thomas Balloon Fleet, boast the largest, privately-owned fleet of balloons in the world. Soukup will bring "Matrioshka," a 13-story high balloon in the shape of a Russian nesting doll, to the skies over Howell.

Previously held in early July, the June 21, 22 and 23 dates were selected this year in order to not coincide with other major ballooning events.

The Michigan Challenge

Balloonfest has a great deal more to offer spectators than balloons alone. New this year will be a Medieval Village on Saturday and Sunday, with costumed characters living as they would in the middle ages, demonstrating crafts, armor-making, sword-fighting, song, dance and more.

There will be performances by the Windjammers three-man stunt kite team, a huge arts and crafts show, antique and custom car show, a carnival, helicopter rides, hospitality tents, food and entertainment.

In addition, Historic downtown Howell, one mile from the launch site, will feature special sales, entertainment, and art shows on Friday and Saturday. The downtown area is on the National Register of Historic Places and features Victorian homes and storefronts, many lovingly restored.

Howell is located off Interstate 96, between Detroit and Lansing. The Balloonfest is held at the Howell High School complex, one mile west of downtown Howell, between West Grand River Avenue and M-59.

For more information, call the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce at 517-546-3920.

Traverse City hosts fest that's always in good taste

Traverse City, Michigan—

One of Michigan's largest, most famous and oldest (65 years) events, the National Cherry Festival celebrates the abundance of sweet and tart cherries that Michigan produces.

The eight day festival, July 6-13, will open in grand style with the Taste of Cherries Food Fair featuring cherries served up in an infinite variety of dishes.

The week will continue with children's events each day, three parades attracting some quarter of a million spectators, sporting events including a $100,000 hole-in-one golf competition and the Festival of Races.

A free entertainment stage highlights the festival open space attractions where visitors will find ethnic food booths, a beverage pavilion, bingo and souvenirs.

The week also features such festival traditions as the open band competition, a country band show and a rock band concert.

In addition to some 125 events for the entire family, attendees can learn more about the cherry industry by visiting the festival open space during Industry Day on July 8 and sampling some of the region's most popular cherry items.

The Grand Traverse area offers visitors a summertime playground complete with water sports, quality lodging and award winning dining -all on the shores of Grand Traverse Bay.

For more information on the National Cherry Festival, call 616-947-4230. Traverse City is located in the northwest Lower Peninsula, 245 miles from Detroit, 308 miles from Chicago.

Mackinac Parks offer their guests quality and value

Mackinac Island, Michigan—

Travelers to Michigan's popular Straits of Mackinac region will find more for their money at Mackinac State Historic Parks this year. Those who purchase a combination ticket to visit more than one of the parks are entitled to return all season long with no additional charge.

"Today's travelers are looking for quality and value when they plan their holidays," says David L. Pamperin, director of Mackinac State Historic Parks. "With national research and our own experience showing travelers taking more frequent two to three day road trips, our combination tickets are a real plus for those headed to and through the Straits area."

Let's say Paul and Nancy, a career couple from Chicago, are on their way to their favorite summer place, Mackinac Island. By each purchasing a Mackinac Combination ticket, which allows entry to Fort Mackinac on Mackinac Island, and Colonial Michilimackinac and Mill Creek in Mackinaw City, they save a total of $10 over purchasing the tickets separately. The added value is they can return to any one or all of these parks, at no additional charge, during their stay or later in the season.

This flexibility allows them to freely come and go, so if they miss a scheduled event on one day, such as Fort Mackinac's afternoon music concert, they can return the next day.

'It's A Scream'

by David DeBoy

"It's A Scream" is a horribly funny comedy that takes place in the fifties. Spencer Pierce, who has recently inherited his father's film studio, has no experience in running a film studio (naturally). But, he thinks he knows better than his late father, how to produce commercial movies. The studio specializes in horror films, and their biggest star is Alexander Moreau, a Karloff/Price/Carradine soft of actor, whose mansion this comedy takes place in.

Spencer has come to Moreau's house to inform him that the studio is not renewing his contract because the public no longer wants Moreau's kind of horror film. Moreau, suave and undeterred, offers to demonstrate that he is still one scary guy. His proposition: If he can scare Spencer out of his wits, Spencer will renew his contract and give him creative control of his films. How Moreau pulls it off provides the lion's share of the fun in this comedy/thriller.

to enjoy it. They can also take frequent advantage of the million-dollar view and Grand Hotel service at Fort Mackinac's Tea Room, with no separate entry fee to the fort.

On their return home to Chicago, Paul and Nancy visit Colonial Michilimackinac and Mill Creek in Mackinaw City. They realize the beauty of Mill Creek's hardwood forests must be doubled in the fall, and so they decide to come back for an autumn color weekend. And they do, with no additional park admission fee.

Mark and Kathy and their three children live in Livonia and frequently visit her folks who have a summer cottage in northern Michigan. They purchase a Family Heritage Combination ticket for $35, a savings of $6.50 on two adults' and three children's prices, which allows them to visit all three parks as often as they wish on a leisurely basis.

If they miss the French wedding at Colonial Michilimackinac because the kids want to spend more time watching the archaeologists, they know they can come back, anytime, at no additional charge. If rain makes a surprise visit and dampens spirits, they know their initial investment isn't lost. They can return when the sun does, at no additional charge.

Fort Mackinac, Colonial Michilimackinac and Mill Creek, collectively known as Mackinac State Historic Parks, offer visitors costumed historic interpreters and a wide variety of activities to see and experience. Accredited by the American Association of Museums, the parks relate the area's bountiful history, stretching from the heyday of 18th century colonial fur trade to the gentrified American military duty of Mackinac Island during the 1880s.

Michigan's nautical lore comes alive

Julie Candler

Allen Hayes

We stand on the edge of Lake Huron watching a peculiar-looking craft race toward shore. She's a giant canoe, 34 feet long and 5 feet wide. Aboard her, a dozen men are paddling at an amazing stroke-per-second pace. We hear them chant in time to their paddling as they streak along at a good nine knots. They wear piratical-looking 19th century clothing, with floppy knit caps and loose tunics. They look colorful, tough and dangerous.

They're the Saginaw Voyageurs, a group of businessmen. They impersonate the early French fur traders who plied the Great Lakes and surrounding waters for more than 200 years. They're among the many history-loving people who have fun researching and re-creating nautical history. They also enjoy dramatizing what they learn, for the enjoyment and education of others in Michigan.

We first encountered the Voyageurs at the Les Cheneaux Island Antique Wooden Boat Show and Festival of Arts. We were attending their 13th annual event at Hessel, Michigan last year.

That evening we visited the Voyageurs' encampment near the shore. On their voyages, they tell us, they set up camp by turning the canoe on its side and attaching to it a 10-foot canvas leanto, a convenient and historically accurate shelter.

"It's a very comfortable system," says Chuck Hoover, leader of the Voyageurs, "provided you get to sleep before the others start to snore." Hoover is also executive director of the Historical Society of Saginaw County.

Although they have fun, they are serious about the research and about duplicating the original conditions. However, these 20th-century voyageurs do have a CB radio, two escort trucks and a trailer to overland their canoe. "The old-timers could handle the portages by carrying these big canoes on their shoulders," says Hoover, "but they were made Indian style out of birch bark and only weighed 180 pounds. Ours is fiberglass and weighs 600."

Despite their puny weight, the voyageurs' canoes were the 18th and 19th century equivalent of 18-wheelers. They could haul up to four tons.

"We keep finding out why the old-timers did things as they did. Every time we try to improve on their procedures we get in trouble," Hoover says.

As historians they knew, for example, that a stroke a second was the original standard. But at first they could only get up to about 35 strokes per minute. It practically killed them, and they still couldn't approach the canoe speeds claimed by the old-timers. Nor would the tempo of the old voyageur paddling songs work. Finally they developed a short, brisk stroke. "It's sort of a quick chop," says Hoover, "and it works just fine." Recently, as a stunt, they towed a water-skier, just to prove it could be done.

You can watch them quick-stroke into Hessel harbor on Saturday, Aug. 10, for the 14th annual Antique Boat Show. Governait (meaning "stern-man") Hoover says they expect to arrive about 11 a.m., but stresses that their schedule depends on cooperative weather. Even a slight head wind will slow the canoe down to where it is not worth the effort to keep paddling. "We do have a small tarp to use as a sail if we have a tail wind to push us along," Hoover says.

The Hessel visit is part of a 150-mile trip the Voyageurs plan for this summer. Called the North Channel Brigade 1991, it will travel along the North Channel and pass De Tour during the first week in August. They plan to spend the noon hour Aug. 10 at Hessel. They leave about 12:30 p.m. for Mackinac Island, where they will spend the night on the beach near Mission Point resort. Sunday they will paddle to St. Ignace, then cross the Straits of Mackinac to arrive at Fort Michilimackinac about 3 p.m.

The Antique Boat Show at Hessel is another fine example of living history in Michigan. Last year, it featured 165 lovingly tended wooden boats, all pre-1968 when fiberglass took over. They are preserved by craftsmen who respect and cherish them for their beauty and their utility as runabouts. To this day, some of the old wooden boats still transport vacationers and cottagers around the watery labyrinth that surrounds Les Cheneaux Islands. For information about the Aug. 10 show: (906) 484-2821.

Other, though smaller, antique or classic boat shows still coming up this summer include one at Marine City on Aug. 17, (313) 765-4501; another at the Lake Michigan Maritime Museum, South Haven, July 7, (616) 637-8078.

Living nautical history was also portrayed at last season's Hessel show by Tom and Chris Kastle (Privateer), a handsome pair of musicians from Chicago. Although they aren't returning to our state this summer, the Kastles frequently visit Michigan to play and sing their music from the heyday of sail on the Great Lakes.

In 1985 they wrote "Song for the Whales." It was a hit. To answer criticism based on the noticeable shortage of whales in the Great Lakes,

Indoor and Outdoor Pools

SIX DAY SAILING ADVENTURE— The 114 foot schooner 'Manitou' will leave Northport, Michigan on her voyage to the Manitou Islands, Mackinac Island and other northern Michigan stops.

they founded the annual Great Lakes Whale Watch. For two days every June, about 60 optimistic whale watchers board the 103-year-old schooner, Charlotte Ann, and scour the waters off Chicago in hope of a sighting. "So far," says Tom Kastle, "all sightings have been unconfirmed."

The Kastles' songs include authentic sea chanties, once sung in the glorious days of sail. The pair found them by combing old journals and field recordings. They discovered a number of their songs in the Bentley Historical Museum in Ann Arbor. They were in the collection of Ivan Henry Walton. He had recorded the stories and songs of seamen who sailed on the lakes prior to the disappearance of sail about 1910.

The talented Kastles, who crew on the Charlotte Ann during the summer, tell stories and sing songs in their performances. Their Sextant Label recordings include a collection of nautical songs of the Great Lakes called "Helm's Alee!". The couple can be reached at 6342 West Belmont, Chicago, Illinois 60634. Phone: (312) 714-0328.

At last year's boat show at Hessel, we also enjoyed the traditional salt and sweetwater sailing songs of Song of the Lakes. The quartet consists of Michael Sullivan, Lisa Johannsson, Rick Jones and Ingemar Johannsson.

This Traverse City-based group won't be returning for the 1991 Antique Boat Show, but they will entertain and lead group singing every Thursday night from late June to Labor Day aboard the tall ship Malabar. To sign on for a sunset sail from 7 to 9:30 p.m., call (616) 941-2000. The sailings leave from the Traverse Tall Ship Company dock at 13390 West Bay Shore Drive, Traverse City.

The Malabar is another example of the living history of the Great Lakes. She's a 105-foot replica of a coasting schooner, designed to deliver cargo slowly but safely in its seaworthy hull. She makes two trips seven days a week through September, one from 3 to 5 p.m. and one from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Six days of living history are available beginning in late June, aboard a new addition to Michigan's tall ship. Malabar's operators have added Manitou, a 114-foot replica of a coasting schooner. She will sail out of Northport on six day sailing adventures to the Manitou Islands, Mackinac Island and other stops.

The ship is more comfortably appointed than the Malabar, with hot showers, 12 double cabins, a licensed captain and a crew of five. A hiking guide escorts passengers over trails on the island and other pots. These are the only Great Lakes Windjammer Cruises available on a traditional vessel of this type. For information

TRIBUTE TO LUMBER ERA— Located along the River Road Scenic Byway, the Lumbermen's Monument is a nine foot bronze statue depicting three lumbermen with the tools of their trade, a major industry in the area from 1880 to 1910.

Scenic byway visitors enjoy AuSable view from towering bluffs

Oscoda, Michigan—

What many residents and visitors to Northeast Michigan have known for years was confirmed in 1989 when a 22-mile stretch of highway along the south bank of the famed AuSable River gained official recognition as a National Forest Scenic Byway.

Starting about three miles west of Oscoda on River Road, the designated roadway runs to the intersection with M-65 and about four miles west to the Rollways area. Visitors to the Scenic Byway will delight in the spectacular views from high sand bluffs overlooking the river.

Interpretive signs at the scenic overlooks provide glimpses into the colorful cultural history as well as information on the native flora and fauna. The AuSable River served as a main travel artery for Native American and early French explorers and later was the site of large river drives transporting white pine logs to sawmills.

Here are a few of the attractions that can be found along this beautiful byway:

— Lumbermen's Monument Visitor Center, a nine-foot bronze statue that has become a landmark in Northeast Michigan. The visitor center houses a sales outlet featuring natural and history-related literature and wildlife prints. Many outdoor exhibits explain the process of cutting logs and getting them to the mills. A stairway takes visitors to the river's edge.

— Eagles' Nest Overlook, one of the best spots in the Huron National Forest to view bald eagles. A nest just west of the visitor center has been used by a pair of bald eagles since about 1985 and eagles can be seen soaring overhead nearly every summer day. The view into the nest is best with binoculars of at least 6 power.

— Iargo Springs, a drinking water source in use continuously since pre-settlement times. A 30-foot high observation deck offers visitors a breathtaking view of the river. Tradition has it that government surveyors named the site in the 1840s, having borrowed the name from local Naive Americans who used the location for tribal powwows. In the 1930s, the Civilian Conservation Corps constructed a trail to the springs and a rustic campground at the top of the nearby bluff.

The River Road National Forest Scenic Byway is accessible via US-23 to Oscoda, then west on River Road. Call 517-362-4477 for more information. For information on activities outside the Forest, call 1-800-235-GOAL.

Another vintage schooner, the Madeline, is newly constructed and operated by the Maritime Heritage Alliance of Traverse City. She is 92 feet overall and offers dockside educational tours to the public. Both the Malabar and the Madeline offer educational Schoolship Programs through the Inland Seas Education Association (616) 941-5577.

Passenger schooner service arrives back in Charlevoix this summer, after 100 years' absence. The schooner is the 85-foot Appledore, a 49-passenger sailing vessel, built two years ago as a passenger carrier. She will depart four times daily from the Charlevoix municipal docks for two-hour cruises around Lake Charlevoix. For information call Bay Breeze Schooner Company (616) 547-0024.

Grayling Means Summer Fun!

Summer in Grayling is full of special outdoor attractions and events. Kids of all ages enjoy the Grayling Fish Hatchery where you can feed rainbow trout in stages of growth including trophy sized specimens. On the Fourth of July Grayling celebrates with an afternoon parade and we end the day with a gigantic fireworks display. Just two weeks later the Crawford County Fair begins with an old fashion carnival midway, arts and crafts, and a county wide talent show. The last weekend in July is when Grayling host the "AuSable River Festival and Canoe Marathon." Last year over 25,000 visitors came to Grayling for the arts and crafts displays, Milltown Parade, Michigan Avenue street entertainment and the key event, the "AuSable River Canoe Marathon."

The "AuSable River Canoe Marathon" is America's highest prized, longest and most challenging canoe race. International paddlers compete on the AuSable River in a grueling 120 mile race from Grayling to Oscoda, on the shores of Lake Huron. Even the spectators have a rough time following the 14 hour race by car, all night long!

Families wishing to beat the summer heat can camp at one of Michigan's largest State Parks, Hartwick Pines. The Pines feature "Old Time Days" July 27 & 28, with a working Lumber Village set in the early 1900's with everything from an actual operating saw mill to a lumbering museum.

The entire month of July is packed with outdoor fun as camping, fishing, swimming, golf, picnicking and boating reach a peak. For more information on attractions and accommodations, call TOLL FREE #1-800-937-8837.

Car buffs are crazy about museum's Locomobile

Hickory Corners, Michigan—

The Red Barns Spectacular at the Gilmore-Classic Car Club Museum annually attracts more than 1000 antique autos. A giant swap meet and an auto related arts and crafts sale are also part of the event, set for Aug. 3-4.

The museum's permanent collection of more than 100 antique autos is tastefully exhibited in large red barns and will be open for viewing. They serve as a reminder of America's automotive heritage and range in age from an 1899 Locomobile to a 1984 Pontiac Fiero Indy pace car. An impressive array of Packards, Cadillacs and Fords are included in the collection.

In addition to automobiles, visitors will enjoy a horse drawn fire engine, a narrow gauge steam locomotive and a replica of the Wright Brothers' Kitty Hawk flying machine.

The Gilmore Classic Car Club Museum is located 16 miles northeast of Kalamazoo on M 43. Hours are 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday through mid-October; 1-5 p.m. daily through Labor Day.

Admission is $5 per person, age 12 and older. Call 616-671-5089 for more information.

Tea house serves up blend of cultures

Saginaw, Michigan—

Somewhere in Saginaw, there's music of a different kind. And Michigan's tourism is richer for the cross-cultural currents bringing tastes together that were once worlds apart.

Saginaw's Japanese Tea House.

It's old. It's new. It's simple. It's sophisticated. It's international. It's American. Well, actually, it's a blend, an authentic Japanese Tea House and cultural center dispensing time-honored rituals to Americans of the Midwest and beyond.

Designed by Japanese architect Tsutomu Takenaka, the sukiya-style building was constructed in 1985 with funds donated from the good citizens of Saginaw and sister city Tokushima, Japan, under the auspices of the People to People program.

The building, located in Saginaw's Celebration Square, rests partially on American soil and partially on land deeded to Tokushima. Japanese and American craftsmen worked side by side to build the center.

Workmen in Saginaw constructed the building's foundation, exterior and roof. Most of the interior construction, which required special joinery and Japanese carpentry methods, was completed by Japanese craftsmen.

Your Japanese experience begins as you step through the gate of the Saginaw Tokushima Friendship Garden.

Here, you are welcomed by an authentic stone lantern sentinel who beckons you to stroll a garden path and become one with nature in the shape of stone, shrub, and tree, in the sound of the wind and in the smell of pine and cherry.

Here is the ideal place to escape the hectic pace of everyday life, pause on a foot bridge above a quiet stream, dream by the shore of a placid lake and give rest to body, mind and spirit.

Here, also, is the chance to view the dampened stepping stones of the roji garden and enter Awa Saginaw An, one of the world's most authentic Japanese tea houses, to examine its architecture and construction, to be a guest at an informal tea ceremony, to learn about Japanese art, crafts, culture, history and language.

The Center's program offers an introduction to Japanese culture and to Chado ... the way of tea. Daily tours and daily informal tea services are available without reservations.

Your guide will lead you through the Friendship Garden and the tea house and point out significant aspects of Japanese life and customs while providing information about the grounds and building.

For a more in-depth Japanese experience, you may make arrangements to participate in a demonstration of Chanoyu -- the formal tea ceremony. The tea ceremony is a meeting of host and guest, which includes the serving of tea and sweets. Chanoyu is the ancient art of preparing and drinking tea. It is not a religious ceremony, but rather a quiet meditative experience.

Women dressed in Japanese costume demonstrate this art which requires years of study to master. During the tea ceremony, the guest is removed from the pressures and tensions of the outside world and enjoys an atmosphere of peace and tranquility. Chanoyu demonstrations require reservations.

The Center welcomes group visits and offers tours which can include dining arrangements at one of Saginaw's fine restaurants.

Reservations, however, are required for these services. For more information on group visits, please call or write the Tea House. You may inquire at the Center office about schedules. A number of special events which are open to the public, often at no charge.

The Japanese Cultural Center and Tea House is located in the Saginaw-Tokushima Friendship Garden, corner of Ezra Rust Dr. and S. Washington Ave.; mailing address 1315 S. Washington, Saginaw, MI 48601, Phone: 517-759-1648.

Hoosier living history museum breathes life into 19th century

Noblesville, Indiana —

"It's the best of both worlds."

Conner Prairie is a one-of-a-kind living history museum that rings history from behind glass cases right into the lives of each visitor.

It's as easy as taking a short walk from the 20th century museum center to Mrs. Zimmerman's Golden Eagle Inn in the 1836 Village of Prairietown. Both offer you plenty of hospitality, friendly folk and lots of answers about Indiana's rich history.

The best of both worlds begins when you enter the new $10 million museum center with all the amenities of the 20th century. An award-winning audio-visual orientation will prepare you for the quick change from the 1900s to the 1800s.

When you're ready...the 19th century awaits on the other side of the wrought-iron fence. The road leads you through the 1836 Village of Prairietown, where there is no evidence of the 20th century. Hear the clanking of metal as the blacksmith works. Just down the road, the doctor saddles up his horse as he prepares for a house call. Mrs. McClure is cooking the noon meal over the hearth.

As each "resident" goes about his daily chores and duties, you are encouraged to talk with them about their lives, political views, family values and maybe even some current town gossip. But, make sure "current" means 1836 or earlier...or they won't know what you're talking about. Being able to talk with the residents and interact with the past distinguishes Conner Prairie as one of the very few living history museums that does "first person" interpretation (costumed staff role-playing characters of the time period) on such a scale.

There's no telling what else a walk or a wagon ride through the Village will bring. You might find Mr. Fenton carefully weaving an intricate pattern on the loom. Across the street the widower weaves a story of adventure and danger about his part in the War of 1812. A stop by the Golden Eagle Inn could find you chatting with any one of a number of "guests" -- or the innkeeper might direct you outside to the Cabinet of Curiosities, a traveling museum featuring a piece of Plymouth Rock, a lock of General Andrew Jackson's hair and the quill pen used to write the Declaration of Independence. Experience an 1836 wedding or the heated debate of a presidential election. Listen to an old-time revival or the firing of muskets on the Fourth of July.

Involvement is the key word at the 250-acre museum. The Pioneer Adventure Area, just around the corner from the village, keeps you living the early 1800s. In this hands-on area, you can try many of the activities and crafts that you saw in Prairietown. There are plenty of games for the children (and adults) to try. Or, show your children what their chores might have been had they lived 150 years ago--soap making, candle dipping, cleaning clothes with a washboard or cooking over an open fire. You can even try your hand with a drop spindle or loom. If crafts are more your style, Pioneer Adventure Area programs often include blacksmithing, woodworking, gunsmithing, quilting and other historic crafts.

Just south of the Pioneer Adventure Area stands the William Conner Estate, still on its original site. It was built in 1823 by fur trader, Indian scout and early Indiana statesman William Conner. The home, which once served as the post office between Indianapolis and Noblesville, and then as a location for the circuit court, is now the centerpiece of Conner Prairie. After Conner moved to Noblesville in 1837, the home changed hands several times until it finally fell into disrepair. In 1934, pharmaceutical heir Eli Lilly recognized the home's historical value and restored it to its present condition. Wanting to preserve history and at the same time share it with the public, Lilly gave the Conner Estate, surrounding acreage and an endowment to Earlham, a liberal arts college in Richmond, Indiana.

Other programs include Conner Prairie by Candlelight, a candlelit walk through the 1836 Village to see how Christmas was celebrated 150 years ago; the Headless Horseman at Conner Prairie, where the whole family can watch Washington Irving's tale "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" come to life...including a hayride where you are sure to catch a glimpse of the headless horseman; Conner Prairie's May Balloon Classic featuring the lift-off of 33 hot air balloons on Memorial Day weekend; Hearthside Suppers at the William Conner home, where guests enjoy a candlelit meal, cooked 19th century style over the hearth by costumed staff; winter craft classes, featuring woodworking, blacksmithing, gunsmithing and furniture restoration; and Symphony on the Prairie where everyone can relax to an evening of music and picnicking as they listen to the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra perform in the outdoor amphitheater during the summer.

Be sure to save some time to explore Conner Prairie's new museum center. Have lunch in Conner Prairie's 250-seat restaurant, Governor Noble's Eating Place. Come with a friend or bring a group and select fares ranging from salads and soups to sugar-cured ham and chicken. Visit the Weaver Gallery where you can experience historic times and crafts in another way--through changing exhibits that provide yet another entertaining taste of the 19th century. The new museum center also offers a unique gift shop with everything from country decorating items, furniture and textiles to reproduction 19th century pottery and blacksmithing items carefully crafted by Conner Prairie's skilled artisans.

In addition to celebrating its 25th anniversary in 1989, Conner Prairie also celebrated the fact that it was named a recipient of the prestigious Phoenix Award. Given annually by the Society of American Travel Writers (SATW), the Phoenix Award recognizes organizations actively involved in conservation, preservation and beautification and for furthering the growth and appeal of travel areas. The award places Conner Prairie among the ranks of other recipients such as Disneyland, Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum and Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo. It is the first award to be given in the state of Indiana "By preserving historic buildings and by speaking the mid-19th century way of life," wrote the SATW in giving the award, "Conner Prairie has become a leader among outdoor museums."

Conner Prairie was the only living history museum to receive two four star ratings by U.S. News & World Report for its authenticity and entertainment value. A reporter visited and rated Colonial Williamsburg, Plymouth Plantation, Greenfield Village, Mystic Seaport, Old Sturbridge Village, Iowa Living History Farms and Conner Prairie. When the tally was complete, Conner Prairie came out on top.

The article, "From Williamsburg to Conner Prairie," published in the July 24 issue said, "The easygoing atmosphere (at Conner Prairie) invites interaction with the town's skilled role-players, whose adult and adolescent characters are based on

Michigan celebrates its log cabin heritage

Dorothy Webster

When Michigan's Log Cabin Day is recognized statewide this month, there's a certain white-haired lady near Lincoln, Michigan, who may again recall the snug dwelling where she was born--within the first decade of this century.

In those days when big timber was still plentiful in the northwoods, that cabin was part of a thriving lumber camp run by James Beebe. Its side walls were only five logs high--so huge were the white pines felled for its construction.

It was warm and cozy, recalls Isabelle Beebe Somers, as she gazes across the north 80 acres where the structure once stood. The growing family needed more space, so a new, larger house of sawn lumber was built on a nearby hill.

Aunt Isabelle cried all the way up that hill one cold November day, following sleighs carrying the family's household goods. "Oh, I hated to leave the old log cabin!" she says.

Today the site has been leveled, and the spur railroad that ran alongside the camp is lost to view. The "crew quarters," also log buildings, were used to shelter sheep until the mid-1940s when they too, were razed to provide more grazing land for cattle.

The acres are part of Beebe Farm, and Isabelle Somers has lived here all her life. A sparkle comes into her blue eyes when the log cabin is mentioned, and stories of living within its warm, sheltering walls flow from memories of a happy childhood.

And so it is when people think of a cozy cabin amid tall pines. The depth of one's nostalgia may depend on whether or not one personally pumped water from an outside well, toted wood for cavernous iron cookstoves, cleaned and trimmed numerous kerosene lamps needed for light, and used a little house out back when nature called particularly in mid-winter when blizzards howled.

Still, emotion tugs at one's heartstrings when log cabins are mentioned, and many people today are enjoying the resurgence of their popularity - although today's new models are a far cry from the primitive dwellings of yesteryear - and so are the price tags. Indeed, one Petoskey-based company exports cedar home components to Japan where they command premium prices.

For those who want to build their own log cabin, there are seminars and kits, and log home magazines serve as "wish books" for others. In Alcona County where Isabelle Somers lives, the local high school has an Environmental Sciences Building constructed of logs by Michigan Youth Corps as a 1990 project.

In Michigan, the only state to designate a Log Cabin Day, there's a group devoted to the appreciation of log structures. The Log Cabin Society of Michigan produces a newsletter and a brochure of annual events. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this year's celebrations to Virginia Handy, 3503 Edwards Road, Sodus MI 49126 or telephone (616) 944-5719.

This year's listing includes 38 celebrations from Baraga, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, to Berrien Springs, in the state's southwest corner. Most include special events and some offer refreshments and crafts. A few charge admission, and some are tours of homes by log home dealers. The following events are planned for June 30.

At Baraga's Hanka Homestead (906-353-7116), you'll be able to see a demonstration of log building in the Finnish style. Take a musical instrument along to play during the Finnish Festival and bonfire at 6:30 p.m.

Cedarville's Log Cabin Museum (906-484-2821), features the area's famed boating history, logging era tools and Indian artifacts. There'll be traditional music set alongside northern Lake Huron.

Alpena's Jesse Besser Museum (517-356-2202), adds a Chautauqua Express--songs and entertainment for the whole family - at the two log cabins on the museum grounds.

In Michigan's Thumb, visit The Pioneer Log Village at Bad Axe (517-269-8165), which includes five log buildings - a home, chapel, blacksmith shop, general store, and a school. Enjoy the hymn sing, rug hooking and a checkers tournament.

To see an operating antique print shop, don't miss Bob and Shelley Hudson's home in Lowell (616-868-7428), where they'll give a demonstration and hand out samples of old-time printing.

At Baldwin's Shrine of the Pines (616-745-7892), you can visit the famous log cabin built in 1941 to house more than 200 gnarled pieces made by Raymond Overholzer from white pine roots and stumps.

If railroad depots interest you, stop at the Gladwin County Historical Museum (517-426-5562), where you can visit three restored log cabins, an old-fashioned red schoolhouse and that railroad depot. For added fun, watch shingles and cement blocks being fashioned, and observe ladies washing clothes by hand - on washboards!

BUILT TO LAST— All across Michigan, viewers will enjoy touring log cabins on June 30, as the state celebrates Log Cabin Day. This cabin is one of two standing at the Jesse Besser Museum in Alpena. (Dorothy Webster photo.)

Want to tour some new log homes? Peggy Wallbaum of Barna Log Homes in Washington (313-781-0111), has arranged an open house at 15 new dwellings about 25 miles north of Detroit. Call at least a week ahead.

The 1830s Murdock Log House in Berrien Springs (616-471-1202), is located in the Berrien County Courthouse complex, and it's one of the two oldest two-story log houses in the state. You can see quilting, basketry, spinning, weaving, and blacksmithing on the grounds. Refreshments are available.

Also at Berrien Springs, you can compare a 1920s log cabin with a new structure nearing completion. Call Frank Hiter at 616-473-2524 or 708-388-5563 for more information and directions.

The Pioneer Log Cabin Museum at Cassopolis (616-445-3087) houses a collection of mounted Michigan birds and animals, including the extinct passenger pigeon. Ladies will demonstrate butter churning, knitting and china painting.

Logs from trees planted by the owners in the 1940s have been harvested and were used to construct a handcrafted cabin by Edward and Kathleen Hills of South Haven (616-253-4575). There's also a new cabin being built, and you can see firsthand the construction techniques.

Finally, Michigan's Log Cabin Showcase - but on June 22, 23 at Central Lake (616-544-5081). Two log cabins, one built in 1876, are on the historic preservation site. Tours of 12 local log homes are featured, music, a sidewalk cafe, and vendors featuring log cabin-related merchandise round out the celebration. Chairperson of this event is Ruth Bainum, president of the Log Cabin Society of Michigan.

You can either telephone direct to the numbers included in each listing here, or for a more complete brochure of the events, contact the Log Cabin Society at (616) 944-5719. Remember, there are 38 events being commemorated June 30 - and the log cabin showcase one week earlier at Central Lake.

Whether you admire the intrinsic integrity of log structures, want to recapture the nostalgia of a bygone era, or are seriously considering constructing a log home of your own - there's something for you in both Michigan peninsulas June 30. And of course, there are plenty of as yet undiscovered log cabins in the state. If you live in one, know of one, or have heard of one, you'll want to contact those dedicated folks of the Log Cabin Society of Michigan and join their group.

Fireworks span 3 days

Bay City, Michigan—

Bay City's Independence Day fireworks display is so big it has to be spread out over three days. The largest display in outstate Michigan, the July 4-6 extravaganza features headliner entertainment, carnival rides, ethnic foods, a parade, a historic home tour and children's activities.

Entertainment ranges from sky diving exhibitions to watermelon seed spitting contests, with bike tours and rock 'n roll concerts thrown in for good measure. Call 1-800-424-5114 for more information.

Bay City, about 100 miles north of Detroit along Interstate 75, owes its history and its port to the Saginaw River, which once floated logs through town to the lumber mills bordering the river.

Many of the city's attractions are on or near the river such as the Bay City Belle riverboat, the river walk and pier with its Victorian gazebo, and a new marina. The Bay City Belle, a 49-passenger stern wheel riverboat, offers cruises on the river daily, through mid October.

COUNTRY BREAKFAST ROOM— A pine harvest table, hanging dry sink and a collection of graniteware lend a "down home" flavor to the Crane House.

This fruit belt B&B blooms with nostalgia

Fennville, Michigan—

Picture postcard perfect, the Crane House bed and breakfast looks like it belongs in some living history village. From its intricate gingerbread molding to its well scrubbed plank floors, the century-old home is a country classic.

Guests can warm their toes by the circa-1900 nickel-plated parlor stove and take breakfast at a pine harvest table. The $60-$90 nightly rate includes access to a backyard outhouse, complete with catalog, although all five guest rooms have their own "necessary" rooms.

Innkeeper Nancy Crane McFarland prepares a full breakfast reminiscent of days spent down on the farm. It typically includes french toast from home-made bread, baked apples, ham or sausage, and freshly baked muffins.

Each of the hand-stenciled guest rooms is elegantly primitive, with heirloom antiques, handmade quilts and feather beds like grandma's. The rooms are named for Crane family women who lived in the home.

The house has been in the family since the 1870s and was authentically restored in 1987 by Bob and Lue Crane, Nancy's parents. The rooms showcase an extensive collection of country collectibles including a rare hanging dry sink, gorgeous walnut pie safe and what seems like every graniteware piece ever made.

"You can't find the stuff anymore because mom's got it all," Nancy jokes.

Across the country road from the Crane House is the family owned Pie Pantry Restaurant and Cider Mill. The rustic restaurant decor (the ceiling's covered by burlap seed bags) is a natural choice—the restaurant formerly housed a farm shop, while the kitchen was the old barn loft.

The restaurant and bed and breakfast overlook the Crane's 300-acre orchard. It's a lush landscape filled with apple, cherry, pear and peach trees, red raspberry canes and blueberry bushes.

As many as 300 pies per day are baked for visitors who crave hand-picked fruit and all-natural ingredients. Pure apple cider served up in jelly jars is another restaurant favorite.

The Crane House and Pie Pantry Restaurant are located on M 89, about three miles west of Fennville, in southwest Michigan's fruit belt. The Lake Michigan attractions of Saugatuck and South Haven are less than 30 minutes away and miles of cross country ski trails are nearby. Call 616-561 6931 for Crane House reservation information.

Ontario hotel run with military precision

London, Ontario—

London's Sheraton Armouries Hotel combines historical elegance with modern technology to provide accommodations favored by business and leisure travelers.

The Armouries was constructed in 1905 and served many purposes before its conversion into a hotel complex in 1986. Prior to the revamping, the structure was used as a military training site, once showcased Great Britain's crown jewels and housed Londoners seeking refuge from destructive floods in 1962.

Business travelers and meeting planners will appreciate the 250 deluxe rooms and suites, all featuring large working desks with computer and fax modem capabilities.

For relaxation and family recreation, guests can enjoy a whirlpool and swimming pool set in landscaped surroundings. For the health conscious, The Armouries offers racquet ball and squash courts, exercise equipment and saunas. Many of the rooms and suites have whirlpool tubs; all feature in-room movies, mini-bars and spacious bathrooms.

Two restaurants--Paul Peel's Signature Restaurant and the Garden Atrium--serve meals to suit any taste or budget.

The Sheraton Armouries Hotel is located in the center of downtown London, just minutes from such attractions as Galleria Shopping, Grand Theatre, London Art Gallery and Victoria Park.

For reservations, call 800-668-9999.

Big fun around Big Rapids

Big Rapids, Michigan—

With the arrival of summer, Mecosta County is busy preparing fairs, festivals and things to do for its warm weather visitors. The season ahead is jam-packed with fun-filled events and activities.

Celebration on Mainstreet is a week-long event that begins on June 29. A parade, a children's day, a yard sale and a craft fair are just a few of the special events that will take place this year. Tourists are encouraged to take part in such a community-involved event.

The Fourth of July is always a special and most exciting time throughout Mecosta County. The Jaycees of Big Rapids host a spectacular firework display each year.

Perhaps the largest event of the summer is the Mecosta County Area Fair. This year the fair will take place July 7-13 at the fairgrounds. Alan Jackson will be performing July 13. A carnival, horse racing, a demolition derby, a livestock show, and an auction are just a few of the events that can be enjoyed during this fun-filled festival.

July comes to a close with the Remus Heritage Days, July 19-21 and the Big Rapids Sidewalk Sale Days, July 25-27. However, August is just as busy.

Aug. 2-4 gives way to both the Barryton Homecoming and County Fair and Celebration on the Pond in Morley. Both festivals are filled with exciting events to keep your summer fun! Rounding out August is Stanwood Heritage Days, Aug. 9-11.

Labor Day just wouldn't be the same without the Labor Day Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by the Mecosta County Area Chamber of Commerce. Artists from all over the state of Michigan, as well as surrounding states, participate in the event which takes place at Hemlock Park.

For more information, contact the Mecosta County Convention and Visitors Bureau at (616) 796-7640 or 800-833-6697.

Stevensville, Michigan—

If you're looking for a spot to soak up a week or two of fun without spending a year paying for it, then Chalet on the Lake is for you.

With 102 chalet suites spread over 27 acres bordering Lake Michigan, it's an ideal location for enjoying all of Southwest Michigan's vacation attractions.

Chalet on the Lake guests can get into the swing of summer on five tennis courts, lounge around two pools or bask in the sun at the sandy Lake Michigan beach. Nearby communities offer a bevy of warm-weather fun—wine tasting, fine dining, sailing and horseback riding to name just a few.

Nature trails adjacent to the property are ablaze in color during autumn, when nearby orchards are at their peak of production. In winter, close-by ski areas and snowmobile trails provide plenty of action. Lake Michigan charter fishing and golf are some of the spring activity highlights.

Families will find plenty to do at Chalet on the Lake. There's a two-acre spring fed fishing pond that's just right for young anglers, a children's playground, and basketball and volleyball courts. The Cook Energy Center down the road in Bridgman offers a first-rate educational experience.

Each chalet suite (two suites in every "A" frame building) offers a completely equipped kitchen, living area, and can sleep eight in two upstairs bedrooms with double bed and bunk bed in each room. Bed linens, kitchen linens, cribs and high chairs are furnished at no extra charge.

Summer rates (late June to late August) range from $450/week to $580/week for the Lake Michigan beach front units. Lower rates and three-day reservations are available after Aug. 24. Call 616-465-6365 or 616-429-5285 for more information.

Fort Wayne festival a 9-day extravaganza

Fort Wayne, Indiana—

Food...floats...fine arts...fireworks...fun. Fort Wayne's Three Rivers festival combines all sorts of festivals into one giant extravaganza—so big it takes nine sun soaked summer days to do it all.

More than 275 different events fill the streets of Indiana's second largest city for a panorama of civic pride and celebration July 13-21. Visitors will find history, music and fine arts performances, sports and zany competitions like the wet and wild Three Rivers Raft Race.

This crazy collection of floating fun has become Indiana's second largest yearly spectator event, second only to the Indy 500. Plus, there are colorful parades, arts and crafts, tours and foods from around the world.

Continuous events presented for the run of the festival include a laser light show at the Fort Wayne Museum of Art, special historical fashion exhibit at the Old City Hall Historical Museum and a river side arts and crafts emporium.

Full festival program brochures are available by calling 219-745-FEST. Admission is charged to some events.

Fort Wayne is located along Interstate 69 in northeast Indiana, about 40 miles south of Interstate 80 90 (the Indiana Toll Road.)

ADMIRAL ANDY— Official mascot of the Three Rivers Festival, Admiral Andy is this year's parade marshall and festival greeter.

SIX COURSES. NO WAITING.

If you're a golfer, you'll love this. Take your choice of six top-rated golf courses—Gull Lake View East and West, Bedford Valley, Marywood, Stonehedge, and Binder Park—plus luxurious overnight accommodations for two, just $210. Two rounds of golf and cart for two are included. Package variations available.

For package details, call (616) 963-7050 or 1-800-HOTELS-1. Stouffer Battle Creek Hotel, 50 Capital Ave., S.W., Battle Creek, MI 49017.

MAUMEE BAY LODGE— Tucked into the curving shore of Lake Erie 10 miles east of Toledo, the new lodge contains 120 guest rooms, most with lake views.

Waterfront state park lodge offers year-round recreation

Oregon, Ohio—

After five years of planning and construction, Maumee Bay Lodge, the new resort/recreation complex at Maumee Bay State Park, welcomed its first guests this spring.

As the newest of Ohio State Parks' eight lodges, Maumee Bay is northwest Ohio's first and only state park lodge. With dozens of recreational opportunities and its waterfront location along Lake Erie, Maumee Bay offers one of the most comprehensive resort facilities of the eight state parks.

Tucked into the curving shore of Lake Erie, the Maumee Bay complex contains 120 lodge guest rooms, most with lake views. Twenty deluxe cabins overlook the Arthur Hills championship golf course set to open in the fall. The resort includes saunas, indoor and outdoor pools, racquetball, basketball, and tennis courts, as well as 1,500 feet of inland beach and a 57-acre inland lake for sailing and canoeing.

The lodge has been taking reservations since January. The deluxe cabins which feature fireplaces, heating and air conditioning, screened porches, and lofts were booked in three hours for the summer season, according to Libby Marsh, director of sales. Lodge rooms currently are available. Reservations may be made by calling 1-800-AT-A-PARK.

Designed for use by both corporate/business groups and families, Maumee Bay Lodge features a ballroom/conference area for 500 as well as meeting and hospitality rooms, exercise room, state of the art audio-visual equipment, and small conference rooms for guests.

Maumee Bay Lodge offers year-round recreation. Biking, fitness, and cross country ski trails wind through the 1,850-acre park which contains unspoiled wetlands, home to deer and other wildlife. The park is ideal for a wide range of activities—swimming, fishing, golfing, and boating in warm weather, as well as sledding, skiing, and ice skating in the winter. An office and campground is maintained by Maumee Bay State Park, which will staff the new nature center currently under construction.

Maumee Bay Lodge is expected to be a destination for Lake Erie boaters from the Detroit and Cleveland areas, as well as Canada. Docks, yet to be completed, will accommodate power boats and some pleasure craft.

Businesses and organizations should contact the lodge directly, at 419-836-1466, for group reservations or planning information. Other individual reservations should be made through the Ohio State Park Lodges, 1-800-AT-A-PARK.

Maumee Bay Lodge is located 10 miles east of downtown Toledo and is accessible via the Highway 2 exit off Interstate 280.

Auto aficionados share their art

St. Joseph, Michigan—

The invention of the automobile has certainly colored American life and culture since the turn of the century. No other machine or gadget since the invention of the printing press has had such impact. Consider the effect on the landscape, the environment, the personal life of every auto owner.

The 22 artists in this exhibition at the Krasl Art Center are auto aficionados, to say the least. Through their art works this machine is elevated to the level of an icon, an image of historical and symbolic importance.

Impressions and interpretations of a myriad of automobiles in a variety of media by some of North America's finest automotive artists make this invitational exhibition a special opportunity to see the automobile regarded as an object of art.

The Automotive Art exhibition runs from June 30 to July 28. Call 616-983-0271 for more information.

Getaway property: 'Dockominium' is minutes from Lake Michigan

(Great Lakes Getaway likes to poke around, out of editorial curiosity, to see what's available on the travel and leisure real estate market. We have no stake in the sale whatsoever, and would refuse it if offered.)

St. Joseph, Michigan—

Your boat is as close as your rear deck at Eagle Point Harbor Club, one of southwest Michigan's premier marina communities.

Nestled along the scenic St. Joseph River, just minutes from Lake Michigan, Eagle Point features 783 boat slips and 252 town homes and condominiums spread over 60 acres. A 24-hour security guard controls access to the development, which is dotted by green picnic areas and natural habitat for wildlife.

The aluminum slips range in length from 30 to 50 feet and come complete with water, electrical and telephone hook-ups. A four-station fish cleaning area with electric fish scalers is available for anglers who find success on the river or out in the big lake.

One-story villas and two-story town homes range in size from 1300 to 1640 square feet. Floorplans include one-, two-, and three-bedroom layouts.

Kitchens are designed with custom cabinets and include state-of-the-art appliances. Electric heat pumps and air conditioners are also standard. Fireplaces and hot tubs lend an air of elegance to each unit.

Pre-construction options include lofts, garden baths, upgrade kitchens, and a variety of floor and wall coverings.

An exterior view of the housing units reveals Cape Cod style buildings, with porthole windows, ample decks and attached garages. Each unit has been designed to maximize river and marina views.

Site plans include a bath house, clubhouse, swimming pool and tennis courts.

Billed as one of the area's "most affordable waterfront developments," Eagle Point Harbor Club pre construction base prices are in the $173,000 to $187,000 range. Call 616-429-7400 or 800-421-4776 for more information.

Eagle Point is situated near several county parks, the Berrien Springs Country Club, as well as neighborhood and regional shopping and entertainment centers.

St. Joseph is a bustling Lake Michigan resort town easily accessible from Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Fort Wayne, South Bend and Kalamazoo metro areas via interstate highways.

ST. JOE RIVER SLIP—Eagle Point Harbor Club offers more than 700 aluminum slips complete with water, electrical and telephone hook ups.

VISIT A ZOO THE LIKES OF WHICH YOU'VE NEVER SEEN BEFORE!!!

The Only Collection Of Flying Grumman "Cats" In The World

This is not a "Zoo" in the typical sense of the word because its animals are made of aluminum and steel. They are historic aircraft from World War II like the Wildcat, Hellcat, Bearcat, Tigercat, Warhawk, Airacobra, and more. Along with these animals are the famous Thunderbolt, Corsair, and Mitchell. But, there is a lot more awaiting you at the Air Zoo.

Ohio hosts world high wheel rally

Findlay, Ohio—

Hundreds of century-old bicycles from around the world will be assembled in Findlay during the last week in June. Many will be the picturesque "high wheels" associated with the end of the Victorian era. There will also be many even older "bone shaker" and hobby horse "walking" bicycles with wooden wheels and iron tires.

The public will be able to see them exhibited, ridden and raced June 26-30 as part of the International Veteran Cycle Association's 11th Rally and World Championships. There will be no charge for observing.

A parade will go past many of the stately Victorian homes built during Findlay's 1880's "oil boom." Scores of riders will attempt to ride a "Century," 100 miles on high wheel bicycles. Other activities will include a hot air balloon chase, a Victorian high tea and concerts.

The World Championships will include racing of all classes of bicycles and age groups and will be up to 30 Kilometers in length. There will also be a number of "casual" competitive events, including trick and formation riding.

Applications for participation and further information can be had from: Robert Balcomb, 248 Highland Dr., Findlay, OH 45840.

Findlay is located in northwest Ohio, along Interstate 75, about 50 miles south of Toledo.

WORLD'S FASTEST WOODEN COASTER— Mean Streak provides more than its share of thrills, travelling 65 mph from a lift hill 160 feet tall. Mean Streak is built on 5.5 acres at Cedar Point.

Cedar Point's new coaster shatters two world records

Sandusky, Ohio—

Mean Streak, the tallest and fastest wooden roller coaster on earth, made its debut at Cedar Point this summer. As the Sandusky, Ohio, amusement/theme park's tenth roller coaster, it also enabled Cedar Point to break its own record for the largest collection of coasters anywhere in the world.

At 160 feet tall and traveling 65 mph, the Mean Streak shattered the record for the tallest and fastest wooden coaster. According to researchers at the Guinness Book of World Records, the $7.5 million ride is 17 feet taller and 3 mph faster than its closest competitor.

The addition of the Mean Streak also makes Cedar Point home to the tallest and fastest wooden and steel coasters on the planet. Opened in 1989, the all-steel Magnum XL-200 is the tallest and fastest roller coaster of any kind in the world. The Magnum XL-200 stands 205 feet tall and reaches a top speed of 72 mph.

"The Mean Streak will stand as a monumental symbol of Cedar Point's commitment to quality in world-class rides and roller coasters," said Richard L. Kinzel, president of Cedar Point. "This is the fourth coaster we've introduced in the last five years, while maintaining our philosophy of providing the finest entertainment for the entire family."

Cedar Point has invested nearly $11 million in capital improvements for the 1991 season, the largest in the 121-year history of the park. In the last three years, Cedar Point has allocated more than $29 million for capital expansions.

The smell of fresh timber and the clickety-clack sound on the lift hill give the Mean Streak added appeal. The coaster has a 5,427-foot-long track and uses approximately 1.5 million board feet of treated Southern yellow pine for its structure. Gemini, the world's tallest and fastest roller coaster when it was built at the park in 1978, required 600,000 board feet.

The Mean Streak is built on 5.5 acres at the northwest corner of the park.

Starting in Frontiertown next to the Cedar Point and Lake Erie Railroad station, the new wooden coaster runs toward Sandusky Bay outside the existing perimeter of the park, repeating an oblong course three times. Batter bracing allows the track to interplay with the ride's structure, creating an intricate weave of timber and steel.

"Speed, visual impact, moments of negative gravity and continuous momentum will define the Mean Streak's personality," Kinzel said. "It is a ride that is designed to stimulate the senses, even for those who choose only to watch." A spectator plaza has been constructed for the amusement of those not daring enough to ride.

"This record-breaking ride will give Cedar Point a roller coaster for every taste -- wood, steel, looping, suspended, racing and even a coaster in the dark," Kinzel continued. "It reinforces our international reputation as the ultimate ride park."

Mean Streak was designed by Curtis D. Summers and was constructed by the Dinn Corp., both of Cincinnati. The same companies designed and built the last two world-record-breaking wooden roller coasters.

According to Charles Dinn, president of the Dinn Corp., the Mean Streak also has the longest drop of any wooden roller coaster ever constructed.

Cedar Point remains open daily through Labor Day and on bonus weekends in September. Admission is $21.95 (ages 4-59, 48 inches and taller); $11.95 (age 4 and older, under 48 inches tall); $12.75 (age 60 and older).

Cedar Point is located in Sandusky, Ohio, midway between Toledo and Cleveland. Take Exit 7 off the Ohio Turnpike and drive north on US-250, or take state Route 2 or US-6 into Sandusky. In Sandusky, follow the signs to Cedar Point. Call 419-626-0830 for more information.

Northern Michigan craftsman recreates Rittenhouse pieces

Jack
Hoffman

Levering, Michigan—

"Log," "vintage," "stick," "pole," "country"...you name it, there's a host of names for the cedar furniture that decorates handsome cottages from the Adirondacks to the Rockies, from the Olympics to the Appalachians.

But in Michigan no name better epitomizes this species of furniture than Rittenhouse.

Just as the name Pewabic suggests Detroit and fine tile, Rittenhouse suggests Northern Michigan and fine rustic furniture. For it is here that this special breed, now much sought after by collectors, got its start.

RUSTIC CLOCK— This timepiece is an example of the work of furniture maker, antique dealer Charles Copeland of Levering, Michigan.

Rittenhouse furniture was the creation of the late John C. Rittenhouse, whose craftsmanship was hailed throughout Northern Michigan. A Cheboygan lumber inspector early in this century, he began making furniture for family and friends. Soon he was selling it. And eventually he created the Rittenhouse Manufacturing Company.

His furniture--made of durable white cedar and featuring mortise and tenon joints--was like an old sweater. Comfortable, informal but attractive, it became the furniture of choice in many elegant cottages of wealthy Northern Michigan resorters. By the 1940's pieces of Rittenhouse's furniture could be found in homes from Lake Michigan to Lake Huron. It was a favorite of the Bay View homes at Petoskey, the lakeside mansions at Charlevoix, and of the resorts at Indian River, Cheboygan and Rogers City.

(One of the largest and best collections of this furniture can be found in the Douglas Lake cottage where Jean Day, a former newspaper associate who now writes about antiques for Great Lakes Getaway, spends some time each summer).

Gradually, a chair, a rocker, bed or table of Rittenhouse began showing up in homes in Southern Michigan, northern Ohio and Indiana.

Although Rittenhouse's business enjoyed some initial financial success, it never approached the success of the Grand Rapids furniture makers. It remained a small shop in Cheboygan, largely dependent on the craftsmanship of one man. And when Rittenhouse withdrew, the business foundered under a succession of different owners and by the 1960's it dissolved.

Only the furniture--in homes here, cottages there--remained as Rittenhouse's legacy.

One of the Indiana families introduced to Rittenhouse furniture early on in this century was that of Charles Copeland. "The whole family was into antiques," he recalls. "Even when they took those long train rides into Northern Michigan for summers at their cottage, they'd stop here and there to do some collecting. Occasionally, they'd pick up a Rittenhouse piece for personal use. As a boy I tagged along on these collecting journeys."

Having grown up in a family of antique dealers with a special fondness for Northern Michigan, it was only natural that Copeland, now 40, would follow in his family's footsteps.

Early on, Copeland's antique work centered in the Harbor Springs area. His initial specialty was jewelry, but as his interests widened the Indiana transplant found that furniture had become his favorite. "I don't know why, except perhaps it may have been handed down by my great grandfather who made furniture."

Some of his early assignments included collecting Rittenhouse for wealthy clients. And as he did so, he came to appreciate the craftsmanship of the man who created this simple but intricately designed furniture. And because he also had to repair some of the furniture, he became acutely aware of wood selections, special jointing, and of the finishes--all characteristic of Rittenhouse.

Copeland filed all this information in the recesses of his mind until 10 years ago when he began to supplement his antique business with custom furniture making--duplicating Rittenhouse's pieces. It was a natural. Now much in demand but gradually wearing out, some of the original Rittenhouse pieces needed replacement. Copeland could and does make those replacements--so carefully matched that it is difficult to distinguish between old and new.

He has become a reincarnation of the furniture maker who has so influenced him.

Yet, Copeland takes great pride in his own rustic furniture creations of hickory. He also custom designs and creates pieces of furniture for clients; some of it is original, some of it modification of Rittenhouse work.

"One nice thing about this kind of furniture making is that no two pieces are exactly alike. It's both exciting and challenging. You don't work a piece of wood to the exact shape of another. Each piece has its own characteristic and you try to work that characteristic into an arm rest, a back spindle, a bed post," he explains.

Ninety percent of Copeland's work is commissioned.

Showroom for his custom-made furniture is a large, converted downtown department store in Levering, a tiny but once bustling logging town that time has forgotten. Now just a ghost of its heyday,

HAND SANDED— Charles Copeland smooths out a chair in the "sanding room" next door to his Levering showroom.

Levering hides a few blocks off US-31, southwest of Mackinaw City.

Sharing space in this large showroom are precious original Rittenhouse pieces and an array of fascinating antiques.

Next door is more storage room for his collectibles and space for finishing his furniture and restoring old pieces. If he's not in the showroom, he's next door sanding a piece of furniture or using notes of clients to design new pieces, or up to his ankles in sawdust in his woodshop just outside town, or he's on the road collecting more antiques and more Rittenhouse.

About the author: He and his wife, Joan, own and publish the Straitsland Resorter, a weekly in Cheboygan County named in 1990 "Michigan's Best" newspaper by the Michigan Press Association. They moved to Indian River in 1985 from the Detroit area where he had been a journalist for 25 years.

CUSTOMIZED PIECE— Copeland, using suggestions of the client, will specially construct furniture such as this birch bed with handy clothes pegs.

Saved from the wrecking ball, old buildings learn new tricks

Jean Day

You might call it the poor man's Greenfield Village.

When Jim Klein, owner of Green Top Country Village Antique Mall with his wife, Beth, talks about his five acres housing 30 vintage buildings on U.S. 12, you realize he is as much in the business of preservation as antiques.

Since the Kleins purchased an 1960s farmhouse and the Green Top Cabins located a half-mile west of Allen, Mich in 1982, they have added continuously to the complex--many buildings rescued just before they were to be destroyed.

"Most of the old buildings were in some sort of crisis at which point they were more or less saved," explains Klein, who notes that there were no donations--"we always pay for goodwill."

One example is a turn-of-the-century doctor's office originally located in Camden, Mich. It had been moved to a lakefront for a workshop before being rescued for Green Top. Klein calls it a piece of folk art, noting that the original interior is intact.

Some, such as the South Butler Methodist Church, were bought at auction. In other cases owners contact the Kleins because they wish to have a building saved.

Pointing out a handsome Victorian home across from the parking lot, Klein recalls, "Mrs. Moore wanted to save it and her log cabin playhouse built by her father for her in 1917 of lumber from his sawmill in South Kalamao."

The playhouse, located behind the home, still has original wallpaper on the walls.

But it is those early tourist cabins built in 1925 at the midway point on the road between Detroit and Chicago that hold a special history.

"They are the original overnight motor lodge built when U.S. 12 was first paved and were famous in their day," Klein relates. "Rita Hayworth was one of the celebrities supposed to have stayed here--everyone knew about them."

Klein has preserved five Green Top chalets and two other buildings.

Also in the complex are a model T garage, a Victorian barn, a general store, four schoolhouses and a granary dating to 1835.

The South Allen School, notes Klein, dating to 1838 is of New England classic Greek Revival design. "It probably is the oldest frame building in Hillsdale County," he adds.

A visitor to Green Top immediately notes two things: the remarkable restoration of the buildings and the way they blend into their surroundings as if they always had adjoined each other.

Many of the buildings have needed a great deal of restoration after a professional trucker moved them in, Klein says. He is proud of the quality of restoration work done by Amish workers in the area.

Often, shrubbery was moved with the buildings and replanted.

It is Beth Klein who is in charge of the gardens. Her husband points out her herb garden flourishing behind the farmhouse which is their home. The first floor is occupied by several antiques dealers.

Most of the dealers are from the local area, Klein says, although there are a few from the Detroit and Toledo areas. Only two or three are on duty at a time as only the desk in the farm house is manned.

With one exception, all of the dealers feature a general line of merchandise. The exception is a charming one--the glassed-in gazebo is filled with dried flower arrangements made by a Coldwater, Mich. resident.

Most of the merchandise is in a popular price line.

Jim Klein, a native of Adrian, and his wife, who grew up in Empire, were looking for a spot for an antique shop when they purchased Green Top. Klein mentions they are able to add to their village because "we put the profits back in each month."

They operate an antique shop in the Ferguson Victorian Country Schoolhouse which boasts a bell tower. Focal point of the shop when we visited in May was a large cherry corner cupboard of Ontario origin. Priced at $1,800, it was above the usual range of antiques in the shops in

WHERE TIME STANDS STILL— A wooded land leads to the South Kalamao general store, one of the restored buildings at Green Top Country Village Antique Mall near Allen, Michigan.

Green Top but a bargain for a cupboard of this quality.

There also was a spool table priced at $155, an Empire chest tagged at $255 and a hand-hooked rug depicting a Scottie dog for $135.

With the wares of so many dealers on view, visiting Green Top is like attending an antique show or market.

A dealer with a shop in the farmhouse displayed a pair of tulip-pattern cross stitch quilts in greens and pinks in fine condition. The price was $248 for the pair.

Another nearby dealer featured vintage clothing. A child's rope bed was tagged at $250.

In the general store a school bell was priced at $45 while a large cast iron kettle was $55. In the log cabin playhouse a painted etching in a gold frame was a bargain at $16.

In the Victorian house a completely furnished dollhouse could be bought for $70. This dealer offered several pieces of old china. A Wedgwood blue plate was $10 while a nine-piece partial set of Wedgwood in Countryside pattern was only $18.

Other notable antiques viewed on our tour included a one-horse cutter with original stenciling with an asking price of $995, a hired man's bed with an unusual head incline for $295, a walnut dropleaf table for $265 and an Empire cherry chest for $395.

You could pick up a pair of old shutters for $30 or a child's wire wicker table and chairs for $130.

I came home with a baby's tin bath tub ($10) which is to become a patio planter, a child's cup and saucer wishing a Merry Christmas ($2) as well as pieces of silverplate in the old grape pattern priced at only $1 each.

The dealer in silverplate has her stock in the front room of the farmhouse. We were tempted also by a small Hitchcock drop-leaf table and two chairs, not antiques, but priced at only $335 for the set.

Klein points out that the entire area is known for its antiques. The town of Allen east of Green Top was founded in 1829 and bills itself as "The Antique Capitol" of the state. Antique shops line both sides of U.S. 12.

"Henry Ford used to come here to buy in the 1920s," Klein remarks.

Green Top visitors this summer will see Klein's most recent additions to the village—a wood-sided street car that used to carry passengers in Jackson—which Klein recently purchased in Mason, and a model-T pickup.

Green Top (phone 517-869-2100) is open seven days a week all year from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. A map describing the buildings in Green Top Country Village is available for the asking at the cashier's desk in the farmhouse.

And, unlike Greenfield Village, admission is free.

PRO GOLF'S A BLAST— Tina Purtzer, 1990 Jamie Farr Toledo Classic champion, will defend her title July 5-7 against a strong LPGA field.

Pro tours schedule stops at Great Lakes courses

Oakland Hills, Michigan's best known championship course, plays host to another premier tournament as the professional tours head into the state for summer stops.

The $600,000 U.S. Senior Open returns to Oakland Hills July 25-28 with Lee Trevino set to defend his title against 1990 runner up Jack Nicklaus, plus such outstanding seniors as Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Chi Chi Rodriguez.

The suburban Detroit course is celebrating its 75th anniversary by hosting its ninth major golf championship. Call 313-645-1991 for ticket information.

One week after the Senior Open, the regular PGA Tour offers up the Buick Open at Warwick Hills in Grand Blanc, near Flint. Defending champion Chip Beck and a host of other top pros will challenge for the first prize of $180,000.

This year's Buick Open, July 29-Aug. 3, is a week later than last year's and immediately precedes the PGA Championship. This new date will insure one of the tourney's strongest fields.

Buick Open ticket information is available by calling 313-695-3884 or toll free in Michigan 800-878-OPEN.

One of golf's most celebrated player will grace the fairways of the renamed First of America Classic, Sept. 6-8. Arnold Palmer has committed to compete in the Senior PGA Tour event at The Highlands in Grand Rapids. It's the first time Palmer has participated in West Michigan's Senior stop, formerly the Greater Grand Rapids Open.

Call 616-776-3617 or 616-531-3400 for ticket information.

The LPGA tour comes within a few miles of Michigan July 5-7 with the seventh Jamie Farr Toledo Classic.

Defending champion Tina Purtzer will lead the field in pursuit of a $350,000 purse at Highland Meadow Golf Club in Sylvania, Ohio.

Call 419-241-4653 for ticket information.

The Bear at Grand Traverse Resort is the scene of the $80,000 AAA Michigan Open, June 28-July 3, and the Michigan Bell Showdown Aug. 25. The Showdown "skins" event offers an $18,000 purse to a field of four top Michigan pros.

Michigan Open tickets are available at all AAA Michigan outlets and at the Resort. Admission to the Showdown is free.

Bicycle touring hits high gear!

Kingsley, Michigan—

Michigan Bicycle Touring is a great ride--and a lot more! Besides care-free cycling on tranquil back roads, there's leisurely strolls on uncrowded beaches, a barefoot climb up lofty sand dunes and overnight lodging in charming bed and breakfasts.

Diversity and variety describe MBT's weekend and five-day trips. From the sandy shores of Lakes Michigan and Huron to the rugged coastline of Lake Superior, peddlers will delight in Northern Michigan's dense woodlands, wildflower-filled meadows, fragile wetlands, magical mountains, frothing waterfalls and quaint villages.

Novice and beginners will especially enjoy the two-day Mackinac Islander and Pedal and Paddle trips because they feature boat or canoe rides in addition to biking. The shorter routes of 11 to 25 miles provide level to gently rolling terrain.

Weekend Amblers appeal to energetic beginners and intermediates because there's a greater variety of terrain and routes extend from 25 to 58 miles. Intermediate and advanced bikers may choose two-day Rovers because of the many challenging hills and longer rides of up to 100 miles.

MBT's week-long tours journey from one place of lodging to another. The cycling begins on Monday and ends on Friday at the original point of departure. A quality 10- or 12-speed bicycle is must for all five-day tours.

A support van accompanies every week-long tour and is used to transport luggage, cater picnic lunches, and assist bikers in need of mechanical support.

Five-day Sightseers are designed for novice, beginner and intermediate bicyclists. Each day's ride is short enough to allow time in the afternoon for swimming, sunbathing, beachcombing, hiking or tennis. Wayfarers are suited for intermediate and advanced riders because the routes are longer and usually hillier.

The Lake Superior Wilderness Trek is five-day off-road tour through unspoiled wilderness boasting hidden lakes, waterfalls and virgin pines.

Accommodations are at Big Bay Point Lighthouse, 60 feet up a rocky cliff overlooking Lake Superior.

MBT tours are designed for riding on a quality touring bicycle of 10 or more speeds. Participants may bring their own bicycles if in good repair or rent a lightweight touring bike from MBT, which also provides operating instructions for those unfamiliar with multi-speed bicycles. Helmets, which may be rented from MBT, are mandatory on all tours.

For more information on Michigan Bicycle Touring, call 616-263-5885.

Dulcimer fest tunes up

Hastings, Michigan—

What can you do at the Southern Michigan Dulcimer Festival if you don't play a dulcimer?

- Dance a jig Friday evening, June 21, and take part in clogging, contra and English country dancing workshops the next day.

- Sing bluegrass songs in harmony; learn shapenote singing during the June 23 gospel celebration.

- Listen to as many as 11 close-up concerts and jam sessions.

- Learn to play an instrument and to tell a story.

- Buy an instrument if you don't have one, a new one if you do.

- Try a dulcimer for yourself at one of the builder's booths.

- See many of the finest dulcimer craftsmen in the USA.

- Watch horses exercise, the sun come up, the sun go down.

- Sit under a big tree and relax.

- Walk around the new Barry County Exposition Center grounds.

- Make new friends, swap tunes, relax, eat--and if you're lucky--get some sleep!

The Southern Michigan Dulcimer Festival, June 21-23, will attract some of the state's finest mountain and hammer dulcimer artists, autoharp, harmonica and guitar players, along with fiddle, banjo and spoons performers. Singing and dancing workshops are scheduled all three days.

For more information, call 616-887-9436 or 616-887-9260.

The Barry County Exposition Center is located five miles north of Hastings on M-37, about halfway between Battle Creek and Grand Rapids. Campsites are available.

Iris Jones

Baseball is serious business in Chicago. I learned a few truths for your consideration. Example: the most popular way to travel to Wrigley Field is on the El or on a party bus, so you don't have to drive home.

Chicago baseball is divided into two camps. Chicago White Sox fans brag about the new Comiskey Park on the South Side and Chicago Cub fans bow to the shrine known as Wrigley Field on Addison Street. It nearly took World War Three to get night lights in Wrigley Field, but most of the games are still lit by the afternoon sun.

The Cubs fans are also divided into two camps. Those that go to watch the game and fans like Vera Hogan of Fenton, Michigan, who used to live in Chicago and always rode the party bus.

Neighborhood bars always buy a row of season tickets, so the regulars would buy their tickets from the bar and party all the way there and all the way home.

We'd manage to con one of the kids selling Old Style beer out of his lapel button and two days later, when we found the button in a pocket,

CINCY FANS SEE RED— These Reds fans said they left home at 3 a.m. and worked up quite a thirst making the trek to Wrigley Field. (Iris Jones photo.)

somebody would say "hey, who won that game anyway?"

As our bus pulled up to Slugger's World Class Bar and Grill, I could tell it was going to be that kind of a day. My editor sent me here to write about baseball in Chicago, and I was keeping my ears open.

"Who's on for the Cubs..."

"You mean he's finally gonna play..."

"Yeah, I don't know who's pitching for the Red..."

I just sat there and kept my mouth shut. I love baseball, and I was eager to see this game, but I don't know one player from another. My boss asked me if I was a baseball fan, and I said "are you kidding!" Rule one: never lie to your boss.

I played second base on the Powell River Thunderbirds softball team when I was 12 years old, and I've taken a dozen little boys to double headers for my son's birthday, but I didn't tell him that.

I pulled my baseball cap down over my eyes as I went in to Slugger's for lunch and pretended I knew what I was doing.

You can smell 100 years of baseball when you walk through the door at Sluggers. There are television monitors in every direction. Pennants from every team since the turn of the century. Framed sports photographs on every inch of wall.

It's all in a haze of smoke and hamburger grease under a neon sign advertising Old Style Light.

Fans sat at a giant oval-shaped bar in the center of the room, baseball caps on, baseball caps off, or gathered at the tiny tables that crowded the room. Those of us who wanted to eat stood at the tiny counter at the side and ordered from the cholesterol menu: burger with bacon and cheese and fries. Let the juices run down your red tee-shirt into your jogging shoes.

The party animals were in their seats by the time we got into the stadium that has made Chicago fans kneel in prayer since the boys of summer started cavorting around its emerald field in 1914.

They've been coming there through world wars and depressions: the golden age of the Chicago Cubs was during the Big Depression of the 1930's and rumor has it that even the bleacher seats get sold out in advance.

They weren't full that day when the Cubs were playing the Reds but I noticed that there were fans on the rooftops of all the nearby buildings, most of them in rows of seats that had been there for a long time.

The battle was on. Not on the field, but in the stands, where the blood red Cincinnati tee-shirts were pitted against the white Cubs shirts, sloshing their plastic beer mugs around and hurling insults at one another.

Some people will get up at 3 o'clock in the morning to drive from Cincinnati to Chicago in time for a baseball game, but I notice that they don't drive home after the game either. One fan told me that he's been coming to the park for years just to see Harry Caray lean out and sing "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" during the seventh inning stretch. "I was always waiting for him to fall, he leaned out so far."

The Reds started out with a bang. Perez was on first, Sabo was on third and Morris hit a home run, so the scoreboard started at 3-0, but the Cubs won in the end. The party animals didn't care. There was more beer on the bus.

This seemed like a good time to pick brains about the other side of the Chicago sports story: who likes Comiskey Park and what are the best sports bars in town. Another truth: don't mention the new Comiskey Park to a Cubs fan.

"Who wants to go to that part of town!"

"The White Sox? Never heard of them..."

"Yeah, it's a great new field, very big, terrific wash rooms, but I sat in the top row and I felt like I was looking down over the edge of a mountain. Now here at Wrigley Field,"...he waved his arms around in adoration, as Cubs fans do.

My friend Mike Michaelson, who writes a travel newsletter called The Best of the Best, also writes a guidebook called Chicago's Best-Kept Secrets, and I had a copy in my

Steam-powered streamliner to pull excursion coaches

Allen Park, Michigan—

The near-sellout of the Saturday, July 13 Steamtrain 25 railroad passenger excursion has required its sponsors to schedule a similar trip on the following day.

The most beautiful steam locomotive still in regular excursion service in the U.S., Norfolk & Western No. 611, will power the excursions between Allen Park and Fort Wayne, Indiana, with intermediate stops, on both Saturday and Sunday, July 13 and 14. The huge streamlined 4-8-4, resplendent in black, maroon and gold last pulled a passenger special in Michigan in 1988.

Steamtrain 25 celebrates a quarter-century of steam passenger excursions on the Norfolk & Western and the Southern Railway, components of today's Norfolk Southern System.

Sponsored by the Bluewater Michigan Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society, Steamtrain 25 will consist of up to 20 coaches, a premium-service section, first-class observation/lounge, snack/souvenir cars and an open-window baggage car that will afford passengers the opportunity to enjoy the sights and sounds of the No. 611 at work.

Each trip is an opportunity for the entire family to experience the unforgettable day-long adventure of riding behind and watching the last of a rare breed of iron horses, and will include a 3 1/2-hour stopover at the annual Three Rivers Festival in Fort Wayne. The train will stop in the heart of the downtown festival and while the 611 is being turned and serviced, passengers may take part in festival activities, stroll the few blocks to the popular and historic Frontier Fort, or amble through the business district and nearby art museum.

Steamtrain 25 will depart Thunderbowl Lanes in Allen Park at 8 a.m. It will stop in Milan on Saturday only at 8:45 a.m. On Sunday, it will stop in Adrian at 9:15 a.m. The return to Milan on Saturday is scheduled for 9:15 p.m. and to Adrian on Sunday, 8:45 p.m. The return to Allen Park is scheduled for 10 p.m. both days.

Fares are $69 for adults and $54 for children, ages 6-15, in either air-conditioned or open-window coaches (passengers must choose in advance); $140 for premium service, including light breakfast, hors d'oeuvres, coffee, soft drinks and access to the adjacent diner/lounge car; and, $195 for first class service, including seating in the observation/lounge, light breakfast, light lunch and full dinner in the dining car Silver Lake, hors d'oeuvres, coffee, soft drinks and attendant service.

Information and reservations calls may be made to Bluewater's staffed office telephone (313) 399-7963-- alternate number (313) 272-5848. During business hours tickets are available at Top Notch Travel, 8003 Allen Rd. near Ecorse Road in Allen Park and the Lenawee County Historical Society on Church St. in Adrian.

Bluewater Michigan Chapter's volunteer members present this excursion as an example of the living history of railroads.

Women's Hall of Fame honors those who dared

Lansing, Michigan—

A beautifully decorated Victorian home is the setting for a museum in women's honor. It is the Michigan Women's Historical Center and Hall of Fame, and it's believed to be the first of its kind in the country.

It was created to recognize and honor the achievements of many significant Michigan women whose names and accomplishments are too often unknown. For most men and women, a visit to the Women's Historical Center is their first opportunity to learn about the 70-year struggle for a woman's right to vote and how a women "filled the shoes" of her man while he was fighting for his country.

It is also a chance to discover the great women in the Hall of Fame and hear their inspirational stories, such as Rosa Parks'.

This lady boarded a bus after a long day's work as a seamstress. When the bus driver ordered all blacks to the back of the bus, Mrs. Parks refused. Find out what this moment of personal courage wrought. Other Hall of Fame honorees include lawmaker Martha Griffiths, children's author Marguerite Lofft de Angeli and abolitionist and feminist Sojourner Truth.

The center makes a convenient tour package when included with a visit to the nearby State Capitol and Michigan Historical Museum. The Michigan Women's Historical Center and Hall of Fame is located six blocks south of the Capitol at 213 W. Main St. and is easily accessible via the Downtown-Capitol Exit off Interstate 496.

Hours are noon to 5 p.m., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday; open Saturday for pre-arranged group tours. Admission is $2.50 for adults in groups of nine or less; $2 for seniors and adults in groups of 10 or more; $1 for students.

Call 517-484-1880 for more information.

Love those Cubbies!

pocket, so I bandied a few bar names around as if I knew what I was talking about.

Mike says the best sports bars in town are Harry Caray's for Cubs fan, McCuddy's for White Sox fans, Traffic Jam for Bears fans and Red Kerr's for Bulls fans. That's when I learned another truth: if you want to start an argument, talk about best sports bars. Every fan has a different favorite.

"I hear the best bar in town for bocce ball fans in Bocce Ristorante in Bloomingdale," I said. That stopped the conversation cold.

It was great fun while it lasted or until I remembered that I was supposed to write a well-informed article about sports in Chicago. I've been sitting here staring at a piece of white paper ever since. Then I got a great idea. I sidled over to my editor.

"Hey John, whaddya think of this? We'll ask our sports fan readers to send us their favorite sports anecdotes."

"Jones, are you conning me? I thought you said you knew something about baseball!"

"Well, sir, have you ever heard of the Powell River Thunderbirds?"

Art Nouveau masterpiece displayed

Toledo, Ohio—

Hector Guimard (1867-1942), the architect-designer popularly celebrated for his famous cast iron subway entrances for the first Metro line in Paris, designed the wood and bronze fireplace in the Art Nouveau style recently acquired by The Toledo Museum of Art.

Guimard's work suggests nature's fundamental processes, using abstract forms for his characteristic organic style. This imaginatively conceived and superbly executed fireplace of about 1902-3 makes its particularly strong impact through Guimard's success at combining both the benign and the threatening aspects of nature.

The carved pearwood relies upon sweeping curves to create natural forms, executed with a confident hand and remarkable attention to detail. The subtly carved relief carries the eye, setting up rhythms of curve and counter curve, while establishing a sense of life.

On the other hand, the bronze section, which was cast by the lost wax process, resulting in a one-of-a-kind piece, suggests another side of nature's processes. This is in part accomplished by using bronze, the darkness and hardness of which contrasts boldly with the lighter wood. The abstract bronze forms are spikier and more intimidating than the softer flowing lines of the wood. The combination of these juxtaposed materials, each handled so differently, makes one of the strongest and most distinctive statements in furniture of the Art Nouveau period.

The Toledo Museum of Art is a privately endowed, non-profit arts institution. It is open Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.; Sunday, 1-5 p.m.; closed Mondays and major holidays. The Museum is located at 2445 Monroe Street at Scottwood Avenue, just west of the downtown business district and one block off I-75 with exit designations posted. ## Great Lakes Getaway Gets Response

March 19, 1991

Mr. Russ Schrauben, Great Lakes Getaway
130 S. Main, Camden, Michigan 49232

Dear Russ:

The response to our real estate advertisement in the March issue of Great Lakes Getaway has been an overwhelming success. The quantity and quality of new inquiries has already exceeded our expectations.

We have sold property as a direct result of the ad and expect more business to follow since we plan to continue working with you through the spring.

We at Garland are quite pleased with the success that has developed from our relationship with Great Lakes Getaway.

Sincerely,

Jim Kern, Real Estate Sales Director

FRONTIER TOWN ATMOSPHERE— Stagecoach Stop USA transports visitors back to the nineteenth century, with more than 100,000 antiques on display and craftsmen demonstrating old time trades.

'Village of the 1800s' adds a dinner theatre to its summer schedule

Irish Hills, Michigan—

Randy Bahlau, general manager of Stagecoach Stop USA in southeast Michigan's Irish Hills, announced that Footlight Dinner Theatre will make its home at Stagecoach Stop for the 1991 season. "We are really excited about bringing this kind of attraction to the area," Bahlau commented. "It gives residents and vacationers alike another fun thing to do in the Irish Hills."

The summer season schedule continues through Sunday, Sept. 1, with one show nightly on Friday and Saturday. Some Sunday shows are also planned. The performances will run approximately two hours.

Leading off the summer schedule will be George M. Cohan's "Salute to America" Revue, featuring such songs as "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "You're a Grand Old Flag." Rogers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" will be the next show and is guaranteed to please play-goers of any age. Call 517/467-2300 for exact dates and times, as schedule may fluctuate.

Prior to the show, buffet dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Tickets for dinner and the show will be $20 each. A full bar will be available for draft beer and mixed drinks (not included in ticket price).

According to Ken Fischman, director of Footlight Dinner Theatre, "We'll be putting on first-class productions with top-notch actors, costumes, sets and lighting. Our guests over the years have come to know the level of quality we produce, and we feel that our new location at Stagecoach Stop will offer even more people a chance to have a great time at one of our shows."

To accommodate the dinner theatre productions, Stagecoach Stop

USA built a new stage and created a new room seating up to 200 guests. "Groups have always liked Stagecoach Stop as a destination because of our ability to handle large numbers of people and still treat them as individuals," said Bahlau. "That's exactly what we'll do with the dinner theatre, and they'll get tremendous value for their money. We'd like people to come out with the whole family and enjoy a day at Stagecoach Stop, then stay for dinner and the show. There's so much for everyone to see and do here for people of all ages that it makes for an ideal day-trip for families and groups."

Stagecoach Stop USA is also known as Michigan's Village of the 1800's. The attraction offers an authentic frontier town atmosphere, with over 10,000 antiques on display throughout the village. Visitors can see craftsmen at work, a 100-year-old saw mill in operation, and can browse through five unique period shops. Kids will enjoy the rides, playground, and petting zoo. A restaurant and saloons are available to satisfy any hunger or thirst. Regular hours are: Tuesday through Sunday in June, July, and August until Labor Day, 10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. weekdays, 10:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. on weekends. The dinner theatre buffet begins at 7 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, with some Sunday performances. Stagecoach Stop is closed Mondays except when Monday is a holiday, then closed the following Tuesday.

Stagecoach Stop is located in the heart of the Irish Hills on US-12 just 8 miles west of Clinton, Michigan, easily accessible from metropolitan Detroit, Toledo, Jackson, and all of northern Ohio and Indiana.

LINDAL ANNOUNCES PRICE CUTS

Lindal Cedar Homes is doing its best to help the economy recover. The country's largest manufacturer of custom homes has just announced it plans to charge 1988 prices for 1991 products.

"Consider the cost of purchasing a new home these days," said Harry Tomaszewski of Lindal Cedar Homes of Traverse City. In 1988 the median price of a new home was $112,500. In January of this year it had risen to $121,500. That's an increase of $9,000 or eight percent. If you were to purchase a Lindal cedar home package now, you'll pay the 1988 price -- a 10.6% savings. However, time is running out for you to take advantage of this once-in-a-lifetime price roll back. CALL TODAY.

"Who knows," said Douglas Lindal, Executive Vice President at headquarters in Seattle, "we may start a trend that will lead other builders to turn the housing industry around, generate jobs, and prime the economic recovery."

Lindal Cedar Homes, has been in business for over 40 years manufacturing premium homes in the "Post and Beam" concept. Tomaszewski is one of Lindal's more than 350 distributors in the U.S., Canada and overseas. Lindal Cedar Homes of Traverse City is Lindal's oldest and most experienced distributorship with over 24 years designing and building Lindal homes.
