Mining plan on deck

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Township planners will roll up their sleeves Tuesday evening and begin what promises to be an arduous review process for a sand and gravel mining application.

The planning commission is scheduled to mull applications from Holloway Sand and Gravel for a gravel mining operation and an asphalt plant on a 177-acre plot at the southwest corner of the Six Mile/Ridge Road intersection.

The proposed site is zoned industrial and lies less than a mile to the east of Arbor Hills East Landfill, and less than a mile southwest of the proposed Shores of Northville development.

A certain point of controversy will be Holloway's proposal to build an asphalt plant on the site. Township ordinances forbid the processing of any raw materials in the township.

Police cite 3 in sting

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Three local businesses were cited for selling alcohol to minors during a township police graduation-night sting.

Police allege that the Six & Park Party Shop, 17071 Northville Road; Perry Drugs, 42401 W. Seven Mile Road; and Brooklane Golf Club, 44115 W. Six Mile Road, sold alcohol late June 14 to an 18-year-old woman serving as a police decoy.

Citations were forwarded last week to the state Liquor Control Commission, police Capt. Philip Presnell said. Police do not plan to seek criminal charges against the businesses, he said.

Citations show up as a violation on a business's liquor license and could result in a hearing and revocation of the license, said police Det. Michael Wildt.

The businesses were investigated as part of a continuing crackdown operation on sales of alcoholic beverages to minors.

The decoy made unsuccessful alcohol purchase attempts at three other establishments, Presnell said, including A & P on Seven Mile, and Cap 'N Cork and Lirato's Beer and Wine on Five Mile.

Those businesses will receive letters of commendation from the police department, Presnell said.

Responses from the businesses charged with underage sales ranged from surprise to remorse.

John Haio, owner of the Six and Park Party Shop, said he and his employees check identifications "more than anybody else."

"We didn't remember that we sold to anybody (underage)," he said.

At day at the market

Fresh produce, crafts, flowers and an open-air atmosphere are all attractions of the Northville Farmers Market, which runs every Thursday through the growing season. Above, Renee Eley buys some fresh-cut flowers at last week's sale. At right, Cameron Scharburg-Beyer tries out a 3-year-old-sized, handmade rocking chair. The market happens every Thursday on the northwest corner of Center Street and Seven Mile Road.

Bad timing leads to drug charge

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A Canton man stands to lose his car, cash and freedom as result of a narcotics possession arrest in Northville Township.

Police Capt. Philip Presnell and Det. Michael Wildt arrested the 36-year-old man late June 14 in a parking lot at Six and Park Party Store, 17071 Northville Road, during a liquor sales surveillance operation.

Police said the man was preparing to ingest a line of white powder suspected to be cocaine when officers approached his vehicle.

Police also confiscated a quarter-gram envelope of suspected cocaine, two packets of suspected marijuana, and a double-bladed knife.

Police are seeking felony narcotics possession charges against the man. In addition, the suspect's 1977 Pontiac Catalina and $229.49 in cash he was carrying were confiscated under Michigan's drug forfeiture laws.

Talk about being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Wildt and Presnell reportedly noticed the man sitting in his car just before an underage police decoy entered the party store and attempted to purchase alcohol. The alcohol purchase was part of the township's Unlawful Sales of Alcohol to Minors program.

The Canton man followed the police decoy into the party store, "staggering" and walking with difficulty, police said.

The decoy soon exited the store and met police at a prearranged site to discuss an attempted alcohol purchase.

Police then saw the Canton man get back in his car. Police said the man's unsteady behavior prompted them to check the car.

Officers approached the car and reportedly saw the man leaning toward the middle of the front seat with a rolled dollar bill in his left hand. A plastic credit card with a line of white powder sat on the vehicle's armrest.

The man clutched a knife in his right hand, police said.

The suspect was preparing to raise the dollar bill to his nose when officers opened the door and pulled the man from his vehicle.

The man immediately dropped the knife and dollar bill, police said. The suspect reportedly blurted: "I don't know if it's real cocaine or not; I bought it from a guy at work."

Police then searched the vehicle, discovering additional white powder in a square, folded piece of paper. A search of the glove compartment revealed two packages of suspected marijuana.

Police expect to complete their arrest reports this week and will forward findings to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Police are awaiting results of evidence tests to determine if the confiscated items are illegal narcotics.

City mulling river walk on Rouge

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The Northville City Planning Commission last week praised planning consultant Don Wortman's proposal of a river walk along the Middle Rouge River.

A river walk is one of the high-priority recommendations in the Parks and Recreation section of the commission's recently enacted Master Plan. The walk would "complement and coordinate with the Wayne County Cass Benton bikeway system and the Henry Ford Heritage Trail," according to the Master Plan.

Wortman said any such project along the Rouge River would likely receive Department of Natural Resources funding.

"The DNR has grant programs available that really would give preference to the city in terms of water frontage. The grant money can be used both for development and/or acquisition of property," he said.

"Some sort of pathway would really be a nice resource for the community," he added.

Wortman proposed the drafting of a Middle Rouge Pathway Master Plan, a document that would set down a strategy for the planning and eventual construction of a riverwalk or bicycle path along the river roughly from Hutton Street south past the Ford Plant to Beal Avenue.

He presented the planners with an outline of the plan last week, showing three phases to the project. The first phase would be between Hutton and Griswold Street, and would run by the Mill Race Historical Village. The second, from Griswold to Main Street, would run along the south side of the mill pond behind the deserted Ford Valve Plant. The third would run from the south side of Main opposite the Northville Well to the bridge at Beal Avenue.

A work plan included in the outline lists a property ownership analysis and an investigation of access points as primary tasks in the project. The last task would be implementation, which would include obtaining DNR and LAWCON (Land And Water Conservation) grants and local funding, and coordination of the project with Northville Community Recreation and other community groups.

Commissioners recommended few changes to the plan. A preliminary map of the pathway placed the first phase of the walk on the north side of the Middle Rouge by Mill Race Village. Commissioner Steve Ball and audience member Greg Presley, both board members of the Northville Historical Society, said they feared potential vandalism to the historic structures of the village. They added that the path may also interfere with future security measures for the village.

Moving the path to the south side of the Rouge would also alleviate the need for a bridge somewhere between Hutton and Griswold, they said.

Ball also asked that a bridge across the Rouge on the Ford Plant property be closed or removed so that people using the path could not cross and disturb waterfowl that use the property.

The commission asked the city council to formally commission the study and allocate Community Development Block Grant funds to the project.

Bealtown zoning stirs controversy

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

When members of the Northville City Planning Commission began implementing the recommendations of their just-released Master Plan, they decided to start with the least-controversial items.

Or so they thought.

A Bealtown resident at a recent planning commission meeting told commissioners emphatically that the Master Plan's recommended rezoning of Bealtown from R-2 to R-1B went against the wishes of many of her neighbors. The rezoning would ban the conversion of single-family homes to duplexes.

Bealtown is the area between Northville Downs and South Main Street, from Gardner to Beal streets.

Janice Smith presented a petition signed by 27 of the neighborhood's residents opposing the rezoning. "They do not want it changed. They want it to remain as is," she said.

"One of the reasons that these people signed . . . was because many of these people are elderly and they need to put apartments above their homes sometime so they can afford to pay their taxes," she said.

The commissioners had included the recommendation in the Master Plan based on the advice of the Bealtown Residents' Association, a neighborhood group which had submitted its own petition signed by 29 residents in favor of the rezoning, in October 1989.

Chairperson John Hardin and Commissioner David Totten assured Smith that she and all Bealtown residents would be notified before a change took place, and would have the opportunity to air their views at a public hearing.

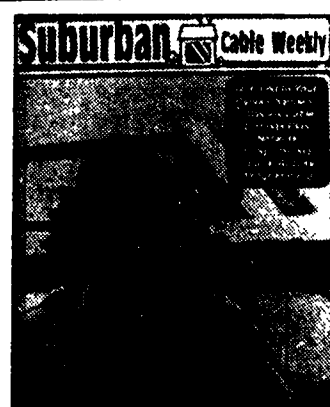

The commissioners called a July 2 public hearing on the proposed rezoning. Residents who would be affected by the rezoning will be notified of the hearing, and have a chance to air their opinions then.

New Holloway mining plan on deck in township

The township may have to amend its mining ordinance and "most likely will take measures to address that type of use," said Carol Maise, township planning and zoning administrator.

In its application, Holloway estimates it will mine approximately 1.5 million cubic yards of clay mineral and 4 million cubic yards of sand and gravel during the life of the proposed site.

Such activity could spur less than desirable side effects.

The township will look closely at such issues as noise, dust, water quality, post-mining land use, and how the business would affect neighboring commercial and residential property values.

"There are a thousand questions," Maise said. "They never end."

Another issue sure to arise during reviews is truck traffic to and from the mining site.

Holloway's anticipated haul-route scenario foresees trucks exiting the site at the southeast corner of the property and moving south on Ridge Road a half-mile to Five Mile Road.

Trucks would then travel east on Five Mile to Beck Road and then approximately a half-mile south on Beck Road to M-14.

Anticipated frequency of trips is 200 round trips per day during the peak season. Trucks hauling sand and gravel will have a maximum weight of 154,000 pounds, according to Holloway's application.

But the township fears the firm may want to use a northerly exit route along Beck Road to reach I-96, Maise said.

"We'd want assurances that they're going to use that (southern) route," Maise said.

The company says an industrial park and a lake will highlight post-mining land uses. That concept "is compatible with the industrial zoning of the land," the firm said.

The prospect of a lake-donated former mining site does not excite the township, Maise said.

"That's not giving the township anything back," she said.

Maise said the township will also ask a very basic question: What is the commercial demand for sand and gravel?

"They need to prove there is a need for sand and gravel," she said. "We're not adequately convinced (there is sufficient need); more information is needed."

Holloway proposes to remove a total of 152 protected trees, 80 of which are within a woodlands area in the southern portion of the site.

The company said, "No prudent and feasible alternative to the removal of the trees exists."

"The southern area of the site contains the sand and gravel deposits which extend to the greatest depth," the application states. "Sacrificing this area of the site would cause an undue hardship."

The firm proposes to transplant 28 trees and replace a total of 1,000 inches of protected trees. Estimated replacement and transplant costs reach $100,000, the firm said.

Compared to other questions and concerns, the woodlands debate will be "minor," Maise said.

The planning commission will meet at 7:30 Tuesday at township hall.

Dinner sends off George Bell

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

It was a night of honors and good-natured ribbing for retiring Superintendent George Bell.

Over 300 friends, colleagues and associates had dinner with Bell on June 18 at Laurel Manor Banquet and Conference Center in Livonia.

Bell, 63, officially retires July 31 after nine years in Northville Schools.

Bell sat at a head table joined by his wife, mother, children and in-laws. Board trustee Glenna Davis and Vice President Jean Hansen also joined Bell at the head table. Davis and Hansen were members of the school board that hired Bell.

Local politicians honored Bell with resolutions at a ceremony following dinner.

Susan Heintz, director of Gov. John Engler's southeastern Michigan office, presented a letter of congratulations from Gov. Engler. State Sen. Robert Geake presented a resolution honoring Bell from the state Senate.

Denise Radtke, an aide for Rep. Carl Pursell, presented a resolution from the U.S. Congress recognizing Bell's accomplishments. Mayor of Northville Christopher Johnson, Township Supervisor Georgina Goss and school board President James Petrie also presented resolutions from their respective governmental bodies.

Part of the $30 cost of dinner went to purchase gifts for Bell. He received a book and artwork from those in attendance.

wooden birds, Bell received a fishing hat from Assistant Superintendent for Instructional Services Dolly McMaster. Bell's wife, Ruth, received a fish-shaped bag from McMaster. Bell's last day in the district will be July 31. The school board has begun a nationwide search for his replacement.

Before coming to Northville, he worked as superintendent in the Warren Van Dyke School district for two years. He also served as principal of Wayne Memorial High School for 14 years and as director of bands and orchestras at the school for 14 years.

Teachers and administrators associated with the Wayne and Van Dyke school districts attended the recognition dinner, but the majority of attendees were from Northville.

Township police detective bureau will move out of its own building

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Township police are willing to make sacrifices during troubled economic times, even if it means displacing a few of their own.

The township board on June 13 decided—with Police Chief Chip Snider's approval—to terminate a lease for a building that houses the police detective bureau.

Terms of the lease allowed the township to escape from its two-year obligation by Dec. 30 if it gave 180 days notice, township Manager Richard Henningsen said.

With rent set at $2,400 a month—and incidentals that push the rent bill over $31,000 a year—the board was more than happy to dissolve the bureau headquarters.

Detectives moved into the office at 41624 Six Mile in January 1990.

Police Capt. Phillip Presnell and Det. Michael Wildt staff the detective bureau. They will soon be searching for new, but assuredly less spacious, digs, Snider said.

"To save money, if we have to put them in the hallways, we'll put them in the hallways," he said. "This will be somewhat of a hardship, but the elected officials and I couldn't justify spending the money."

Officials may consider adding onto the back of township hall. Those plans are down the road, though.

"There was a plan drafted to add on administrative offices, but there's no target date for that yet," Snider said.

Merchants prepare for Sidewalk Sale Aug. 2-3

The Northville Merchants' Association is sponsoring Sidewalk Sales this year on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 2 and 3. There will be new events in addition to the bargains offered by the retailers.

The theme for Sidewalk Sales will be "Northville Recycles" and the events and activities will be based around recycling and re-using.

On Friday, the merchants will set up their wares on the sidewalks for all the early bargain hunters. On Saturday, the streets will be closed and the stores along with non-profit groups and food vendors will be out on the road.

Three special areas will be set aside for up to 100 families to have their own garage sale on Saturday, August 3. Applications are on a first-come, first-served basis and are available at Traditions by Bartley &

Boyd, Mountain Rags, and The Shipping Station, all located on Center Street. There is a $10 sign-up fee for the garage sale space.

During the day Saturday, there will be family-oriented activities and informational booths and fun for everyone. The finale will be an auction at 5 p.m. in the bandshell. The auctioneers Braun & Helmer have generously agreed to auction donations from the local stores and from the community.

The Merchants' Association has designated Civic Concern, a local charity that helps Northville residents, to receive a portion of the proceeds from the Sidewalk Sale events.

The members of the Sidewalk Sale committee are: Cathy Noble, The Shipping Station; Teri Fry and Tudy Licht, Mountain Rags; and Karen Slack and Susan MacGonigal, Traditions.

Township home robbed of goods worth $1,000

A West Seven Mile Road resident told township police that someone broke into the home and stole more than $1,000 in jewelry and electronic equipment June 13 between 8:30 a.m. and noon.

Thieves apparently entered the home by prying open a living room window and helped themselves to diamond earrings, a microwave oven, a cordless telephone, and a video cassette recorder.

JEWELRY STOLEN FROM VEHICLE: A Farmington Hills man told township police that someone stole a ring and gold chain from his 1989 Ford Escort while it was parked in the lot at Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, late June 10.

Thieves reportedly entered the man's unlocked vehicle and stole a commemorative University of Michigan Rose Bowl ring and a thick, gold chain-link bracelet. The stolen items were valued at $1,000.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH THEFT: A 62-year-old Detroit woman was charged with larceny after her arrest June 10 at Meijer. Police said the woman attempted to steal clothing and personal items from the store.

ITEMS STOLEN FROM VEHICLE: A Rayburn resident told township police someone stole a leather briefcase and a travel bag June 14 from a 1990 Dodge Spirit parked near the Rayburn/Winchester intersection. Police said a neighboring Rayburn resident found the briefcase in her yard. The travel bag was not recovered.

WOMAN TRIES TO RETURN STOLEN GOODS: An employee of Black's Hardware, 42939 Seven Mile, told township police that on June 12 a woman attempted to obtain a refund for store property thought to be stolen.

The woman exited the store without a refund and drove away in an AMC Eagle, the employee said. The woman was described as white, approximately 5'8", with short, brown curly hair.

WHEELBARROW STOLEN: A Seven Mile Road resident told township police someone stole a wheel barrow that was filled with trash and parked along a curb in front of her residence. The resident told police thieves dumped the trash on the ground before stealing the wheel barrow.

BIKE STOLEN: A $350 bicycle was reported stolen from a Reed Street home sometime between 5 p.m. June 18 and 1 p.m. June 19. The bike, a green 25-inch Raleigh Grand Prix 14-speed, was taken from a garage.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT: City police received a report of a hit and run accident June 18 in the city parking lot behind the Open Door, Christian Church. A car parked in the lot was apparently struck by another vehicle sometime between 9:55-10:45 p.m.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Sports Briefs

'78 STING WINS TOURNEYS: The '78 Northville Sting, Little Caesar's Premier Under-13 Division I Soccer Team, coached by Dave Mashni, recently competed in and was undefeated in two Invitational Tournaments.

The first tournament was the Midland Soccer Club Invitational in May. To advance to the finals, they played against teams from Okemos, Saginaw and Canton. In the finals, they defeated the Troy Flames.

On Memorial Day weekend, the '78 Northville Sting participated in the South Bend Memorial Day Tournament. They won their games against Libertyville, Ill., Hanover Park, Ill., Maumee, Ohio and Brighton, Mich., to advance to the semifinals. There they met the Rochester Maple Leafs, and after a scoreless overtime, Northville won in a penalty-kick shoot out. In the finals, they were matched against the First Chicago Celtics, and with a determined second-half attack, soundly defeated them for the Championship.

Mashni is assisted by Greg Kilby, Wayne Workman and Brad Storck.

LIGHTNING TRYOUTS: Plymouth Lightning, a girls' Little Caesar's Premier Soccer team, will hold tryouts for its under-14 squad from 6-8 p.m. on today through Wednesday, June 24-26, at Schoolcraft College. Girls born between Aug. 1, 1977, and Dec 31, 1978, are eligible.

If you have any questions call Ken Hamann (360-0386), Greg Spinazze (349-5855) or Kathy Delong (937-1745).

BARBER SELECTED: Some of the world's great youth soccer tournaments will be staged again throughout Europe this summer, and Michigan will again be well-represented.

Novi resident Keith Barber has been selected to play for the Midwest 14-and-Under Select Men's team in the famed Scandinavian Youth Cups. These Cups include the Gothia Cup in Sweden, the Dana Cup in Denmark, and the Holland Cup. Hosting nearly 1,800 teams with over 35,000 participants, these three tournaments bring together some of the finest youth soccer teams from around the world. Over 50 different nations are represented.

Barber was selected from tryouts that have been continuing nationally since last September. The teams will be coached by top youth coaches of the Central Institute for Sportcoaches (CIOS) of Arnhem, Netherlands, and assisted by American coaches. The program is four weeks in duration.

The team is organized and managed by TEAMS/USA, a national not-for-profit youth soccer organization. TEAMS/USA received its first invitations to the tournaments in 1984, and now represents the major U.S. organizer for the summer competitions.

"From now on, if they show me I.D. today, I'll ask them again tomorrow."

Halo said he yearly purchases a book that describes out-of-state driver's licenses, and uses other methods to discourage minors.

"We card everybody under 30," he said. "We love the township and we'll do our best for them."

Brooklane Golf Club bartender Tim Beaty said the police decoy slipped through the cracks during a busy moment.

"It was toward the end of the night and the bartender was cashing out a waitress," he said. "The girl just came up when we were busy."

Bartenders will pay closer attention to those they serve, Beaty said.

"Everyone here is aware of it," he said.

Perry Drugs Manager Donna Farkas expressed surprise and disappointment that one of her clerks sold to a minor.

"Perry's is very much against us selling to minors," she said. "We have a program to train employees so this kind of thing won't happen."

The police decoy told Presnell that the Perry Drug clerk originally asked for identification but then made the alcohol sale because it was her last night of employment.

"She's quite upset about this," Farkas said of the former employee.

Perry Drugs employees will undergo another alcohol sales management program, Farkas said.

Presnell said police want to push the message of compliance to liquor laws as opposed to taking criminal action against violators.

"We felt it's best at this time to go through (the LCC)," he said.

WHY SHOULD I GET DENTAL X-RAYS?

People often wonder whether X-rays are really necessary, and whether or not there will be any risk to their health. Your dentist recommends X-rays because they provide information that is essential for detection, diagnosis, and treatment of conditions that can threaten your oral health. Many diseases can not be seen when your dentist examines your mouth. Without X-rays, small cavities between teeth, abscesses, cysts, tumors and other diseases may be impossible to detect until serious damage has been done. Finding and treating dental problems at an early stage can save time, money, and unnecessary discomfort.

Children may need X-rays more often than adults because their teeth and jaws are still developing and because their teeth are more likely to be affected by decay than those of adults. We generally want to take this diagnostic look about once a year. Tell your dentist if you are pregnant so that he can adequately protect you with a lead apron. If you have had radiation therapy to the head or neck, you are more susceptible to decay and infection, therefore, it is especially important for you to have dental X-rays to detect these problems at an early stage.

The amount of radiation used in diagnostic X-rays is very small. Therefore, the risk of harmful effects from dental X-rays is small. Dental X-ray does not increase your risk of cancer by any measurable amount. X-ray examinations should be made only when necessary. The National Center for Devices and Radiological Health of the Food and Drug Administration, the American Academy of Dental Radiology, the National Council on Radiation Protection, and many other organizations have developed guidelines for proper, safe, and effective use of X-rays in dentistry. Our office follows or exceeds these standards.

River walk concept deserves realization

The idea of establishing a river walk along the Middle Rouge River has come up before, but it's been given new life by the recent completion of the city's Master Plan. It's a great idea, and the concept deserves all the life it can get.

A proposal recently presented to the city planning commission refers to the Middle Rouge running through the city as an "untapped resource." Ain't that the truth.

Annual Rouge Rescue efforts have dramatically improved the condition of the river a little farther south, as it winds through the township roughly along the course of the Middle Rouge Parkway. The park is a great resource, but as the river travels through the city, it remains largely hidden and inaccessible.

The excellent river walk plan developed by city planning consultant Don Wortman would change all that. It's an exciting prospect which would truly improve the quality of life in the community — for residents of the township as well as the city, since the downtown area really belongs to the town as a whole.

The proposal is to eventually create a walkway along the Middle Rouge from Hutton Street, at the north end of Ford Field, to Beal Street, just north of the point where the river heads underground beneath Northville Downs. Wortman recommends a phased approach, doing the middle section first.

The plan includes some very encouraging points. Wortman feels confident that the project may qualify for grant money from a couple of different potential sources. There also appears to be more than one possibility to acquire the necessary land, through easements or outright purchase.

It's easy to get carried away thinking about the possibilities of the river walk. At the most basic level, it would be a wonderful stroll in all seasons. In addition, though, think about the eventual redevelopment of the Ford plant site including some additional chances for public access; the walk and plant site would enhance each other, becoming a terrific community center based on natural resources.

Finally, consider the possibilities of linkage: The river walk would tie Mill Race and Ford Field more closely to Main Street, but the future could hold even greater things. If the initial walk gets completed, why not think about additional connections to the north and south? It wouldn't take much (in the way of distance) to link the walk with Hines Park, and on the other end, the City of Novi is considering a Middle Rouge River walk of its own. Couldn't the two conceivably be connected someday?

Sure, we're getting carried away, but at this point we see no reason not to. Real vision regarding the river walk plan could result in a final project which is the envy of metro Detroit.

All this — even the first phase of Wortman's plan — lies well into the future.

For now, we strongly support the commission recommendation that the city council start the long process of accomplishing the river walk. The vision may become reality.

Zap away those roadway pests

It was a particularly bad weekend traveling the local roadways for me, and it left me in a bad mood.

That's why, when I got stuck behind Ma and Pa Winnebago doing 40 on a two-lane blacktop where the speed limit was 55, I started to fantasize about what driving would be like 20 years in the future.

I imagined myself driving a souped-up turbocharged coupe — with a roof-mounted, turreted laser gun, just the ticket for vaporizing anything in my way.

Then I came up with an even better idea. A roof-mounted, turreted laser gun would be ideal for zapping all the schmucks on the road who deserved it. Just call me Robo-Commuter.

Who would be the first drivers I would zap? As I stared at the back end of Ma and Pa's rolling condo mindlessly waiting the states they'd visited, I formulated my hit list. Perhaps you have your own. Here is mine.

- Smokers who throw their butts out the car window. For these thoughtless boobies, the world is their ashtray. The first time a butt hit my windshield at night, I thought it was a firecracker going off. Flashing the brights at them is too light a punishment. Zap 'em, I say.

- Smokers who empty their car ashtrays in parking lots. Eeeyooo! See a pattern developing here? Zap.

- The folks behind you who try to speed up and pass you when you signal that you're moving into their lane. Inevitably, these clowns slow down once they get past you, wasting the entire effort. I have nothing but contempt for them. On more than one occasion, I've put one of these morons to the shoulder, and I'll gladly do it again because their driving is unjustifiable.

When the roles are reversed, I'll gladly back off to let a driver into my lane if he signals appropriately. When I signal, I'm comin' over. Deal with it or be Zapped.

- Coke freaks in BMWs. These people don't really have any place to go, but their putrid brains make them think they do. And they've got to get there now, no matter who they have to drive through. They're easy to spot. They come right up on your back bumper close enough to read your shirt size, until you get out of their way. They're most often seen on the road from Ann Arbor to Ypsilanti, trying to make a connection. Zap.

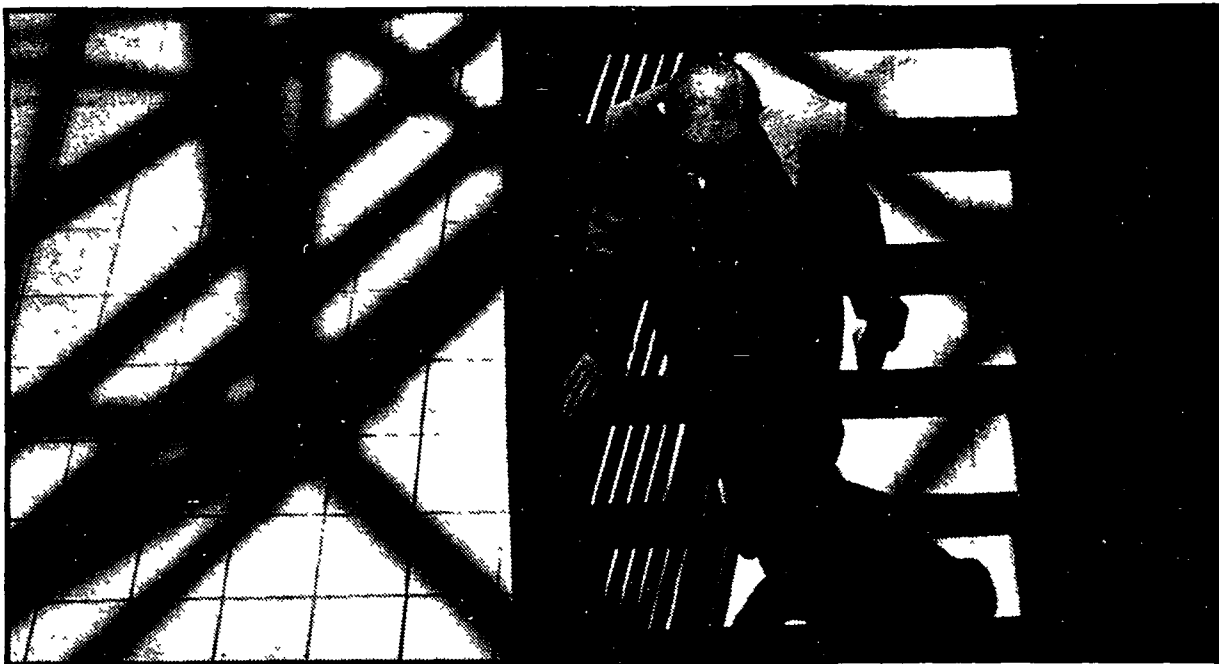

- People who drive with the high beams on for long distances. If you're on an unfamiliar road on a moonless night and there are lots of blind curves and you're looking for a poorly marked intersection and there are no other cars around and there are deer-crossing signs everywhere, then you should leave the brights on. In any other situation, hit the dims and go see your darned eye doctor. Better yet, Zap.

- "Baby On Board" signs and their ilk. C'mon, folks, this isn't 1985 anymore. I've always wanted to hang a little yellow sign in my window that said "Another Stupid Yellow Sign." Zap.

- Drivers who leave their turn signals on. Okay, so they're not as contemptible as the people I mentioned above. Their crime is one of negligence more than carelessness, but I'm in a bad mood. Zap.

Waitress wars at 'The Gate'

I'm not the most popular guy in the world at the Starting Gate — the internationally renowned watering hole in downtown Northville.

Oh, sure. Some of 'em like me. Particularly Jimmy Rea and Mary Margaret, the owners, who make sure my Ms. Pac-Man machine is kept in good working order.

The problem is that I rarely order anything. People who know me know that I have nothing against a beer now and then, even though I would much rather have a Pepsi than a beer.

A number of years ago, I actually had a beer or two — or three or four — at The Gate, and arrived the next day to find that the fact I had ordered a beer the previous evening was a major topic of conversation.

(See, the regulars at The Gate sometimes discuss things other than the GNP and the McNeill/Lehrer Report.)

But as a general rule, I rarely order anything when I visit The Gate. I just play Ms. Pac-Man and head on my way. And that's what causes the problem.

Take last Saturday, for instance. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning and things were pretty slow. Kathy was behind the bar, snarling at the few customers who were there and just being ornery in general, while Terri and Elizabeth were wrapping silverware in napkins, preparing for the arrival of the lunch crowd.

"You're probably the meanest bartender in the United States," I told Kathy. "You'd be a gold medalist if they ever held the Mean Olympics."

"And don't you forget it, Bubba," she sneered. "I can have you thrown out of here so fast you won't know what hit you if you give me any more lip."

And then she laughed like crazy. Kathy enjoys being ornery.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth decided it had been a long time between tips and suggested that I order something. Actually, what she did was sit on top of the Ms. Pac-Man machine and told me she wasn't moving until I ordered. Seeing as I had about 300-thou and still had all four men I quickly ordered a Pepsi.

"You can pay for that right now," she said after setting the glass on top of the game.

"Can't you wait till the game is over?" I asked.

"Watch that guy," yelled Kathy. "Don't let him skip out without paying his bill again."

Eventually things got squared away and Elizabeth dropped her demand for immediate payment in return for a promise of a generous gratuity. And that's when it got interesting.

When my game finally ended, Elizabeth was nowhere to be seen. So I worked out a deal with Kathy. I would give her the money for the Pepsi and walk out, leaving Elizabeth behind thinking she had been stiffed out of a buck.

Kathy could then have as much fun with Elizabeth as she wanted before eventually telling her I had already paid my bill and it was all a big joke.

Now that may not sound hilariously funny to you. But on a slow morning at The Gate, it seemed like good fun at the time.

I should have known better. I should have known better than to trust the world's meanest bartender because I had no sooner started for the back door when I heard her start screaming from behind the bar.

"Stop that man," she bellowed. "He's skipping out. Get him. Somebody stop that guy."

And now I'm afraid to go back. I'm afraid of what Kathy and Elizabeth have cooked up. I'm afraid of being arrested . . . harassed . . . humiliated.

On the other hand, I have a trick or two of my own up my sleeve. I'm just grateful that I'm smarter than both of them put together.

Northville school reports provide information

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Public Act 25, passed in March 1990, requires school districts to publish annual reports for every building in a district. Districts also must publish an all-encompassing district report.

The Northville School District has published seven reports on individual schools, with each including a copy of the district report. The reports are available at the board of education office, 501 W. Main St. Highlights of each report follow.

OVERALL DISTRICT REPORT

Northville schools have a population of 3,899 students in kindergarten through 12th grade, 227 students in special education and 550 students in preschool programs. Northville schools employ 260 full-time teachers, 30 clerical staff members, 65 plant and cafeteria staff, 17 administrators and 58 other staff members.

All millages and bond issues since 1982 have successfully passed.

School improvement is driven by the Strategic Planning process which began in 1988.

Northville schools began to align the district's math curriculum with the state's math core curriculum this year. The process will be complete next year and other areas of the district's curriculum will be brought in line with the state curriculum outcomes.

Based on state calculations, Northville Public Schools have a 1.72-percent dropout rate.

The district operates three special education programs for severely multiple-impaired and dually diagnosed students serving 227 students from 11 Wayne County school districts.

Parent participation is high, with 300 parents involved in the decision-making processes of the district.

NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

The district's only high school has a population of 1,124 students, 51 general education teachers, five special education teachers and one media specialist. A social worker, psychologist, four counselors and a student assistance program coordinator also are on the staff.

An athletic director monitors and manages five ninth-grade, seven junior varsity and 22 varsity sports. The director also manages athletics for both middle schools.

The school employs six secretaries, a special needs assistant, a special education assistant, two media assisants, two hall monitors, a study hall monitor, parking lot attendant, cafeteria and custodial personnel.

A school improvement team was formed three years ago. The team served this year as the North Central Association Steering Committee. North Central and the University of Michigan have accredited Northville High School.

Seventeen Northville students attend the William Ford Vocational Center in Westland. Northville also contracts with the Virginia Farrell Beauty School in Livonia for students interested in becoming state-licensed cosmetologists.

Between 30 and 35 parents are involved in a Parent Advisory Committee. Last year, a fall teacher conference with parents had 74-percent parent participation. At a spring conference, 61 percent of parents participated.

Parents also are involved in the Athletic Booster Club, Music Booster Club, school committees, senior party committees, and student activities as chaperones. Parents also serve on the Northville Action Council.

School goals include increasing student course selection options, reducing class sizes and expanding the school's business partnership program. As part of the program, the high school is partnered with Maybury State Park. The Northville Record, Ford Motor Company and Dow Corning.

Bill asks limits on teaching

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Elementary school teachers will need a special endorsement on their certification to teach foreign languages if legislation introduced June 11 by Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, is successful.

Faxon, whose district includes part of Northville, said he introduced the bill because more and more elementary schools are offering foreign-language instruction.

In Northville elementary schools, some teachers who know a foreign language might teach a unit or lesson on the language, but no languages are officially taught at that level, said Dolly McMaster, assistant superintendent for instructional services.

Foreign-language teachers currently must be certified at the secondary level. If a teacher is certified to teach foreign language, he or she is not required to have any experience with elementary school age children, Faxon said.

"We are starting to see more and more elementary schools offer foreign language instruction to their students," he said. "This is linguistically sound, as a young child learns a foreign language much more easily than an adolescent."

But foreign language may never be all that common at the elementary school level. McMaster said the idea of foreign language classes for elementary school students has been discussed "in earnest" for the last 20 years.

But many problems stand in the way of those interested in seeing foreign language lessons in the elementary school classroom.

The elementary school day is already full, McMaster said.

"There are only so many hours in the day, and everybody has these grandiose plans about adding this program or that program," she said.

Another problem with elementary foreign language education is students have trouble maintaining their knowledge of the language, McMaster said.

In European countries, where many students learn to speak foreign languages in school, students get a chance to practice because of the multi-lingual nature of their country, McMaster said. But in the United States, English is the only language spoken in most areas.

Burnout is another potential problem for elementary students who learn foreign languages, McMaster said.

McMaster cited studies that show students who take foreign languages in elementary school drop out of language lessons later in their education.

Finally, the cost of implementing foreign language programs in middle school could be prohibitive. At least one additional teacher would be needed, McMaster said.

Wine grab bag yields pleasant Calif. surprises

We are introduced to new wines in restaurants, at wine tastings, at interviews and while traveling to wine country. The number of ways we become aware of new wines is sometimes surprising. People know that we delight in discoveries and frequently introduce us to wines they have enjoyed.

Recently, while planning a party for some friends and neighbors, we called our wine retailer and asked that he put together a mixed case of value-priced chardonnays — four different producers, three bottles of each. We agreed on a price range and left it up to him. He knows what we like, but also knows that we appreciate a surprise or two.

Among the mixed case was the J. Lohr Estates Riverstone Chardonnay ($12). Our friends liked the full aromas of tropical fruit and buttery, toasted oak. It disappeared fast. For the money, the wine is uncommonly lush with abundant flavors of pear and apple, featuring a long, lingering finish.

After our experience we were very happy when J. Lohr winemaker Jeff Runquist came to Detroit. We had the opportunity to meet him and discuss his wines at the Rattlesnake Club where sommelier Madeline Trifon was featuring the Riverstone Chardonnay at a by-the-glass pour.

Runquist explained that to achieve full, lush chardonnay flavors he harvests the grapes when they are fully mature. He judges this by walking the vineyard and tasting the berries. The grapes are machine harvested at night, when the fruit is cool. They are pressed immediately in the vineyard within one to two hours after picking.

Runquist introduced us to the 1987 J. Lohr Estates Seven Oaks Cabernet Sauvignon ($12), a wine with distinctive blackberry and cherry aromas followed by fresh fruit flavors and a rich, velvety texture. "We are very proud of the cabernet fruit we get from our Seven Oaks Vineyard located in Paso Robles," Runquist emphasized. "Napa Valley cabernet sauvignon is reminiscent of cassis and black currant, Alexander Valley exudes plum, Santa Barbara has an olive note, but Paso Robles boasts intense black cherry character."

Paso Robles has a climate similar to that of the Alexander Valley in Northern Sonoma County. The main difference, according to Runquist, is the soil. Paso Robles boasts a rich, clay-loam topsoil over a sub-soil of limestone and slate.

"We harvest cabernet in the warmth of the day to aid in extracting flavor and color from the skins," Runquist said. "We age the wine in small American oak barrels which contribute a delightful cinnamon, vanilla bouquet. The wine has sufficient tannins to give structure and ageability, but not so much to interfere with the silky finish."

J. Lohr Winery was founded in San Jose in 1974. The original winery now produces only white wines. In 1988, a new red wine facility was built adjacent to the Seven Oaks Vineyard in Paso Robles. Here, Runquist is armed with the best winemaking equipment and technology available. This allows him to produce an attractive, fruity, Beaujolais-style red wine, J. Lohr Wildflower Gamay ($9), which reminds us of a cru Beaujolais Fleurie.

Runquist also introduced us to the Cypress Brand of affordable varietal wines produced by J. Lohr Vineyards. These wines are handcrafted by blending estate grapes with fruit from selected coastal vineyards.

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

The following Cypress brand wines are produced by J. Lohr and represent excellent values in their price range.

1990 Cypress Fume Blanc ($6) exudes fresh honeydew melon and grapefruit aromas in the style of a clean, summertime refresher.

1989 Cypress Chardonnay ($9) showcases apple and pear aromas highlighted by a bouquet of toasty oak and vanilla. Oak and fruit flavors are well-balanced in a stylish presentation.

1988 Cypress Merlot ($9) is made from Washington State fruit. Dark cherry aromas introduce flavors of cranberries and spice in a supple style that is readily accessible.

1987 Cypress Cabernet Sauvignon ($9) features soft cassis and cherry aromas and flavors in a silky, California style.

Suited to a tea New tea room is perfect fit in Northville

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

Sue Baker, part owner of the Rose Cottage Tea Room in Northville, wears a country print dress to work, but it's teamed up with running shoes.

Well, they say if the shoe fits . . . And those shoes definitely fit the energetic Baker as she darts around the restaurant, answering the phone, tending to customers in line, checking things in the kitchen.

Her eyes flash like lightning as she explains how she started the Rose Cottage Tea Room.

"I've been in the food business for 20 years," she says. "I loved doing food, but I needed something more stimulating."

She decided a tea room was her goal, but needed a place to do it. At just about that time, neighbor Tony Rizzo had a vacancy in the building he had been leasing. He offered her the space, and the two teamed up as business partners.

And the Rose Cottage Tea Room is definitely the shoe that fits Northville, too.

"You know, the thing I hear most often from people is, 'Northville needed this,'" she says.

Open for just two months, the tea room is a new concept in Northville. Places like the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham and the Sweet Afton Tea Room in Plymouth have offered proper afternoon tea, but the Rose Cottage seems to fill a niche between those two.

In the proper British tradition, tea is served with separate pots for water and tea. In addition, the guest may dine on a platter of nine assorted finger sandwiches, two pastries, and fresh scones with fruit preserves. Devonshire cream and fresh fruit are also included.

The pastries are made fresh daily by

The Rose Cottage Tea Room is in a cozy frame house

Chef Joseph Eggy, formerly owner of Joseph's Bakery on Mary Alexander Court in downtown Northville.

If the complete tea is too much for one stomach to handle, there's a light afternoon tea available with a smaller pot of tea and a smaller assortment of goodies.

Rizzo, co-owner of the Rose Cottage with Baker, manages the business end of the operation, and he likes the way the tea room has grown rapidly.

"We've had days where we've had to turn people away," he says.

He also points out that the informal atmosphere at the Rose Cottage is slightly different from a place like the Townsend Hotel.

"At the Townsend, for $12.50 per person, they control it," he says. "They bring the sandwiches and pastries around on a cart, you select a couple of things and they're gone. It may be 15 or 20 minutes before they get back to you."

"Here, for $12.50, we place a huge dish in front of you, and we'll let two people split that."

The light tea, which is for one person only, goes for $7.50.

The decorations give the Rose Cottage a true Northville feel. From the minute you step up to the building, you can smell the rosebushes growing in the front yard. Entrance is in the back, as the front porch is used as a seating area.

Inside there is plenty of print wallpaper and clean linen tablecloths, and pastel hues abound. Lace curtains adorn the windows.

Each room of the converted frame house has its own flavor. One is large and bustling, another small and intimate. In the near future, upstairs rooms will be open as well. Smoking is prohibited everywhere, even on the porch.

"What sells the place is the decoration and the ambience," says Rizzo. "We get lots of compliments on the decorating. We used all local people where we could."

The clientele isn't entirely local, though. Wise customers call ahead with reservations for the lunch hour (11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.), with tea being served from 3-5 p.m., and they've been known to call from Mt. Clemens, Troy, Birmingham, Trenton and Grosse Pointe. That people will drive an hour to do afternoon tea is not surprising to Baker, a confessed bend for teas and tea sandwiches.

"I know I'd drive across town for tea," she says. "I've always loved tea and tea sandwiches. I've gone to places on the East Coast that served tea, and Canada has some great tea rooms."

"But I always thought, if I had one, what would I do? Now I can do it."

Though the afternoon tea has its following, the real smash hit has been the lunch menu. Baker planned all the menus herself, and while flavor and elegance abound in items like a Londonderry Grill (slivered beef tenderloin with ham, turkey, Jarlsberg cheese and pepper chutney on egg-dipped rye) or the non-dessert streudels (chicken or mushroom, with risotto), nutrition is a big factor as well.

Chef Mary Brady

It's our berry favorite time of year

Every year when my friend Roz picks her first batch of strawberries we celebrate with a fresh strawberry daquiri. It is tradition.

One usually leads to two and the afternoon is spent reminiscing and relaxing. When it is time to leave I am presented with a bag of berries large enough to use on cereal, eat "straight" as a low-cal snack, or to bake a batch of biscuits and whip some fresh cream for shortcakes. There is nothing quite so wicked as a couple of shortcakes spread with butter, smothered with crushed fruit and slathered with fresh cream — for dinner. I have been known to do this.

Sometimes I'll have an ear of fresh corn and a few sliced tomatoes first. Sometimes I won't.

Strawberries are taken for granted because of their availability. However, they have only been cultivated for a short period. They are a recent development resulting from the cross breeding of small wild American strawberries with a juicy Chilean variety.

Strawberries have multiple uses. Pureed as a sauce, blended with yogurt for a cold soup, mixed with salad greens, in a souffle or crushed, their fragrant essence is prized the world over. The prime season for strawberries is now, late spring to early summer.

Choose berries with a uniform red color and green, moist hull. The larger the container, the more chance that the berries will be crushed by their own weight and damaged.

Strawberries are high in vitamin C and low in calories. A 3 1/2-ounce portion contains only 30. Do not wash berries until you are ready to use them. Washing ahead of time is asking for mold. Remove the stem unless it is needed for decorative purposes.

Strawberries provide, in my estimation, the most dramatic presentations. A huge glass bowl filled to the brim accompanied with a honey-cream cheese dip, brown sugar and whipped cream is a simple, delicious and elegant dessert. A silver tray filled with white and dark chocolate-dipped berries is another suggestion. For a sumptuous cocktail, add a strawberry to glass of white wine or champagne.

Strawberries are very rarely cooked except for preserves. There is nothing that compares to homemade strawberry jam freshly baked bread and creamy butter.

Blueberries are likely the next most popular berry. They are commonly eaten raw or baked in pies or turnovers. Blueberries, like strawberries, make a wonderful cold soup.

Raspberries and the not-so-common blackberries are classified as multiple fruits. They are made up of many tiny segments, each of which contains a seed. These berries are at their best plain or with just a sprinkle of sugar. All share a common peak season, summer.

Choose fruit that is vibrant and deep in color. Small containers will assure a less-damaged product. Check for mold or rot. The berries should be dry and fairly firm. Avid mushy or too-soft fruit. Wash berries just prior to service. Refrigerate loosely wrapped for up to three days after purchasing.

All berries freeze well. Wash and dry well. Place on a cookie sheet in one layer and freeze until solid. Package in plastic bags. Remove and use as needed.

Berries that are frozen are primarily good for sauces as their structure changes after freezing. The following recipe can be used with any berries. The fruit vinegar and liquor may be omitted, but they are flavor enhancers. The soup is low calorie and low fat. Serve as a first course or a main light meal. If made ahead of time, store in the blender cup and reblend just before service. Enjoy berry much.

Northville resident Mary Brady is a certified executive chef.

FRUIT SOUP

- 1 pint fresh berries
- 1/4 cup buttermilk
- 1/4 cup non-fat yogurt
- 1 ounce maple syrup
- 2 ounce chambord or other fruit liquor
- 1 teaspoon raspberry vinegar
- 2-4 tablespoons sour cream, if desired
- Mint leaves for garnish

Wash and drain berries, puree in blender. Add buttermilk, yogurt, syrup, liquor, and vinegar to the blender and mix until smooth. Strain through a sieve that is large enough to catch seeds but not strain out the soup's body. Or, leave the seeds in. Serve in chilled bowls or wine glasses. Garnish with sour cream and mint leaves. Makes 4 cups or 2 bowls of soup.

See the light in outdoor dining

Warm-weather entertaining is an ideal opportunity to take advantage of seasonal fruits and vegetables, combined with lighter menus using poultry, chicken and lean meats.

Combine creative ingredients to make a refreshing meal. Attention to texture and color will arouse appetites that flag when the temperature rises.

Folloing are some recipes for the grill, as well as a light dessert treat.

COFFEE ICE CREAM

1 1/2 cups espresso coffee beans
3 cups half-and-half
1 cup heavy cream
7 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Optional: 1 tablespoon chocolate-flavored liqueur
Yields 1 1/2 quarts.

Put beans in food processor or coffee grinder and grind to very coarse texture. In heavy 3-quart saucepan combine half-and-half, cream and coffee beans.

Over medium heat, slowly bring mixture to simmering point. Reduce heat to very low at once and gently cook 3 minutes. Cover and steep about 1 hour.

In medium bowl, beat egg yolks until very pale and creamy. While beating, gradually add sugar, a few tablespoons at a time. Continue beating until mixture becomes very pale and forms ribbons when beater is lifted over the satiny mass.

Slowly add coffee-cream essence while beating. Pour mixture into saucepan and place over medium heat. Stirring constantly, cook about 6 minutes, but be careful that mixture does not reach simmering point. Cook until mixture is thick enough so that when a finger is pulled across back of spoon a clean stripe remains.

Pour mixture into bowl, cool and chill thoroughly. Strain, add vanilla and optional liqueur, and pour into ice cream maker. Freeze according to manufacturer's instructions.

The following recipes are from "365 Great Barbecue and Grilling Recipes" by Louie Gandara (Harper & Row).

LOUISE'S HERBED CORN

2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped chives
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
8 ears of corn, husked

Yields 8 servings.

Preparation time: 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 15 minutes.

Prepare medium fire. Blend butter with parsley, chives, salt and cayenne. Spread 1 heaping tablespoon herb butter over each ear of corn. Wrap corn individually in heavy-duty aluminum foil.

Grill 4 to 6 inches over glowing coals, turning occasionally, until tender, about 15 to 20 minutes.

GRILLED TUNA STEAK WITH LEMON-CAPER BUTTER

8 tablespoons (1 stick) unsalted butter, softened
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon dried lemon zest
2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
2 teaspoons capers, drained
6 (8 oz) tuna steaks, cut 3/4-inch thick
1/4 cup vegetable oil

Yields 6 servings.

Preparation time: 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 10 to 12 minutes. Mix together butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, lemon zest, mustard and capers. Set lemon-caper butter aside.

Prepare hot fire. Brush tuna steaks with oil. Drizzle remaining 1 tablespoon lemon juice over fish. Place tuna steaks on oiled grill set 4 to 6 inches from coals. Grill, turning once, until firm and opaque at center, about 10 to 12 minutes.

Remove from heat and top each tuna steak with 1 tablespoon lemon-caper butter.

CHARCOAL-BROILED STEAK WITH CHEDDAR-SCALLION BUTTER

6 steaks, such as filet mignon or top sirloin, about 1 inch thick
Olive oil
Salt and freshly ground pepper
Cheddar-Scallion Butter (recipe follows)

Yields 6 servings.

Preparation time: 5 minutes.

Cooking time: 8 to 12 minutes.

Prepare hot fire. If steaks contain an outer edge of fat, slash fat diagonally (avoiding the meat) at 1-inch intervals to prevent meat from curling as it cooks, or trim off fat entirely. Brush both sides of steaks lightly with oil and season well with salt and pepper.

Cook steaks on oiled grill set 4 to 6 inches from charcoal, turning once or twice, until well-browned outside but still pink and juicy inside, about 8 to 12 minutes for medium rare. Serve each steak with a dallop of Cheddar-Scallion Butter.

CHEDDAR-SCALLION BUTTER

8 tablespoons (1 stick) butter.

softened
1/4 cup sliced scallions
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups finely shredded cheddar cheese (about 1/2 pound)

Combine all ingredients and mix by hand or in food processor until well blended. Serve on warm steaks and potatoes.

BURGERS CHINOISE

One and one-third pounds ground chuck

1 teaspoon minced fresh ginger
1 garlic clove, crushed
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper

1/2 cup hoisin sauce
4 sesame seed buns
Optional: Shredded Napa cabbage or iceberg lettuce, mayonnaise, sliced sweet onion

Yields 4 servings.

Preparation time: 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 8 to 12 minutes.

Prepare hot fire. In medium bowl, working as quickly and gently as possible, mix ground beef with ginger, garlic, salt and pepper. Divide mixture into quarters and lightly form into 4 patties 3/4 to 1/2 inch thick.

Place patties on oiled grill set 4 to 6 inches from coals. Grill, turning once, until well-browned outside but still pink and juicy inside, about 8 to 12 minutes, or longer if desired. Just before removing burgers from grill, baste generously with hoisin sauce, turn over and baste again to coat both sides.

Meanwhile, open buns and toast on sides of grill until warm and lightly browned. Place cooked burgers in buns and offer choice of fixings.

Mackinnon's hosts special dinner

Beginning June 27, MacKinnon's of Northville will be presenting a bi- and wine profile series.

The dinners will be chef-monthly events, profiling wines from around the world along with chefs from across the country. The first, this Thursday at 7 p.m., will feature Chef John Sarich of Chateau Ste. Michelle, northeast of Seattle.

Founder of some of Seattle's finest restaurants,

Sarich was selected by Esquire magazine as one of the country's hot new chefs, and named one of the city's top chefs by the Seattle Times. He has an extensive background in wine at the Chateau as well.

Chefs Sarich and MacKinnon will combine forces to coordinate a healthful, low-fat, six-course wine dinner. The dinner will feature Chateau Ste.

Michelle Wines. Each course will be presented by Chef MacKinnon, and Chef Sarich will offer his description of the wines that accompany each course.

Cost of the meal is $45 per person complete. For ticket information, call MacKinnon's from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 348-1911.

Try flowers as colorful summer garnish

By CAROL CUTLER
Copley News Service

Here comes the rosiest time of the year. Days are warm. The light stays bright outside well into the evening. Gardens are in flower. And celebrations are going on everywhere — graduations, bridal showers and weddings.

Florists deliver heaps and heaps of long-stemmed roses since they are universally loved and regarded as one of nature's most regal beauties. Brides have been known to softly tread on rose petals as they glide down the aisle.

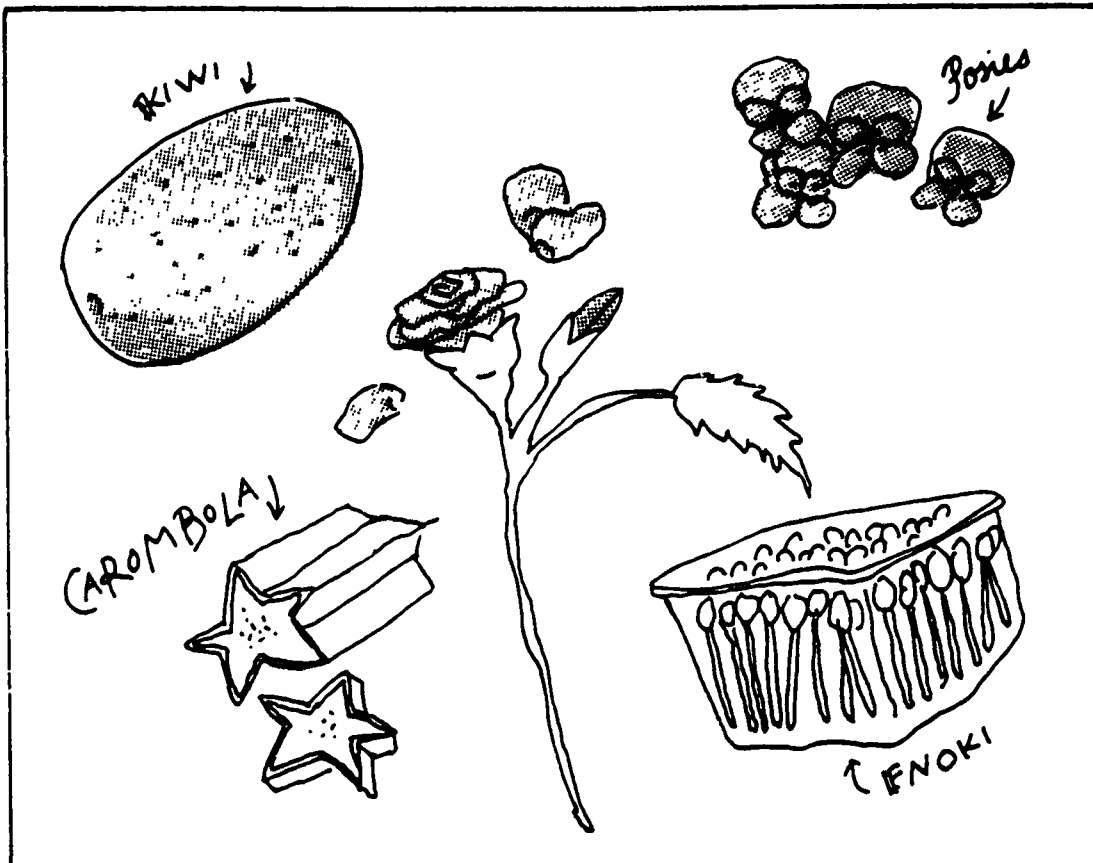

Today, those petals are more likely to be made of paper. These pretend petals have also replaced rice as the accepted tribute thrown at the united couple.

Celebratory tables often are dressed up in soft pastel hues, pale pink being one of the most favored. Menus, too, are lighter and brighter, often with a sentimental dish of some sort included. It could be a favorite of the honoree or an unusually pretty presentation of food.

By carefully looking over products on supermarket shelves, you can come up with little touches that carry a big visual impact.

Consider perky edible flowers, which are widely available now. Scatter the posies for an instant designer touch to cold first courses, salads and, most naturally, on desserts. Varicolored pansies are the variety most often seen, and just a few petals over a mixed green salad lifts the presentation from predictable to an unexpected treat.

Enoki (ee-nok-ee) mushrooms are almost too decorative to be real. But, indeed they are, and delicious, too, in their very subtle way. These white superskinny strands with a tiny puff of a head come packaged in tightly sealed plastic bags. They need no preparation, just snipping off the root ends and a quick rinse.

A jellied consommé takes on exotic airs with an enoki garnish. They are expensive, about $3 for a handful, but just a few are needed for each portion.

That shiny star-shaped fruit, the carombola, doesn't have a whole lot of flavor, but what a pretty five-point slice it makes for garnishing everything from cold fish dishes to salads and desserts.

While at the fruit counter, don't forget the now-familiar kiwi fruit, which not too long ago was pretty exotic. Peel and slice into rounds for a dash of bright green flecked with tiny black seeds. It is also quite effective when cut into wedges, and tucked beside the major dessert.

If you've never deep-fried Oriental rice noodles, you're in for a surprise. They expand voluminously into a puffy bed for sauced dishes or just to hold sautéed filets of fish, meat or poultry. Don't fry too large a batch at a time because they are done in a flash and need plenty of expansion room.

Desserts, of course, are where prettiness shines, and that brings us back to the realm of roses. Rose wine to be specific. This is also one of the lightest desserts you can serve your guests; each serving contains only 35 to 38 calories.

A jelly is made of the pink wine and it is molded in custard cups. The special surprise is the whole strawberry suspended in the middle. If serving wine with dessert, one might be tempted to pour the same wine. Don't.

The rose wine is sweetened and flavored, so a wine that is somewhat sweeter and richer is the perfect partner. Look for a French sauternes, or some of the excellent dessert wines from California.

ing on sweetness of wine

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons water
3 tablespoons kirsch
2 tablespoons gelatin
1 pint strawberries, stemmed
12 small parsley sprigs
Optional: 12 large leaves — ivy, grape or similar, 36 strawberries for garnish

Yields 12 servings.
Pour rose wine into enameled or tin-lined pot; add sugar and nutmeg and bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer gently, uncovered, for 1 minute.

Meanwhile, pour water and kirsch into small bowl and sprinkle gelatin over it; put aside to soften gelatin. Remove pot from fire and immediately stir in gelatin to dissolve it. Cool.

Place 12 custard cups on cookie sheet and fill with wine to depth of about 1/2 inch. Chill until fairly firm.

Meanwhile, fill stem hole of berries with parsley sprigs. Place 1 parsley-topped strawberry in center of each cup, parsley and down. Chill until firm.

Pour in remaining rose-gelatin to fill cups. Chill again until firm. If berries are large and their tips show above the level of the jelly, slice off to jelly level.

To serve: Shine leaves by rubbing with a little oil. Put a leaf in center of each plate. Unmold each Rose Jewel, place on leaf, and garnish with 3 fresh strawberries.

Tea room is a hit in Northville

"I'm cholesterol-conscious, and I'm part of a family of vegetarians," says Baker. "I didn't want health food like tofu and carrots, but I can't see eating food that's all bad for you."

The healthy compromise includes oriental pasta, stir-fries and fritattas (egg-white omelettes), and plenty of fresh fruit is available.

Brunch is now available on the weekends, and the breakfast food includes Scottish smoked salmon, chicken Divan, and a maple ham and artichoke eggs Benedict. French toast is included by popular demand. Dinner will also be available soon. Some of the dinner menu items are already turning up as lunch specials.

The selection of the restaurant's tea required almost as much attention as the food. According to Baker, the American varieties available just couldn't cut it.

"I tried a lot of different teas," Baker says. "The English and Canadian ones were the best. The one we use is a St. Michael's blend from Canada. Now we have a lot of people who want the herbal teas."

Surprisingly, some people come at tea time and don't even have tea.

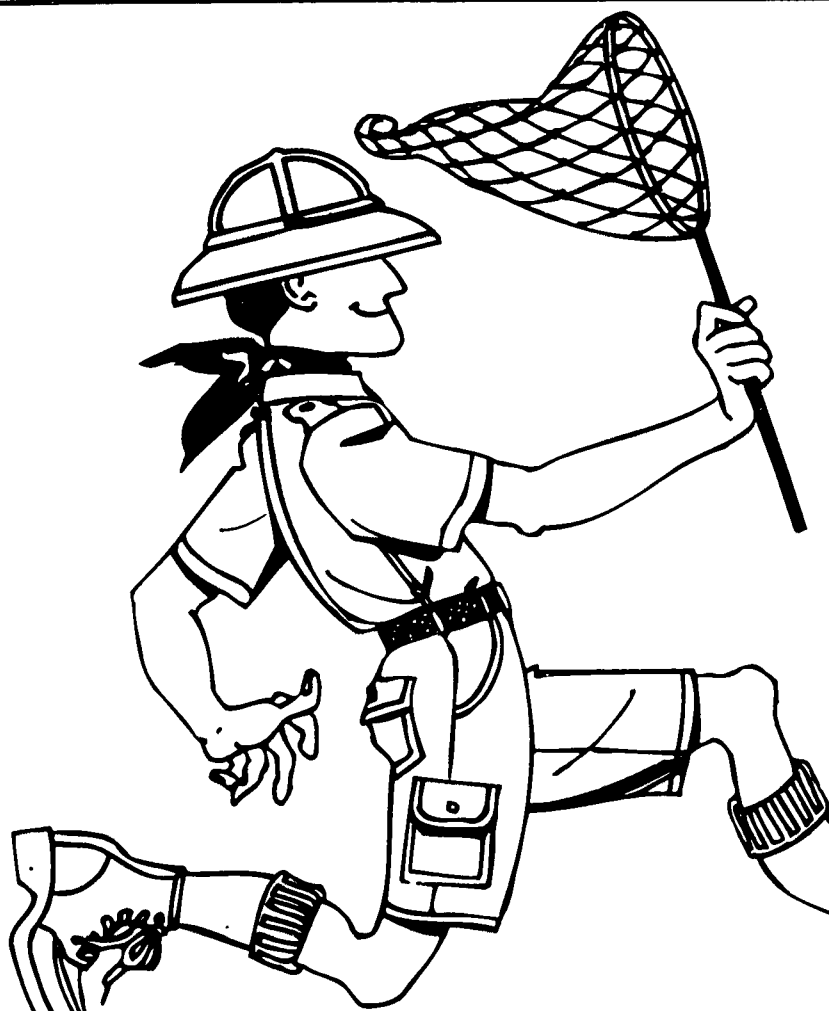

Some of the goodies from Chef Joseph Eggy include these angel wings

They just come for the relaxation. "Tea is more leisurely than lunch," says Baker. "Some people will come in and sit and read the paper over tea. Some will order coffee and dessert, or maybe a bowl of soup."

After a day of shopping in downtown Northville, that may just be the fitting finale.

Microwave cookers rely on soup mix

Dry onion soup mix is one ingredient most microwavers take care not to run out of. It's easy to keep on hand and comes in serving-size packets just right for one recipe, adding a rich onion flavor to a variety of recipes.

"Soup" mix seems a bit of a misnomer — not many people actually make soup with it. One classic use is onion dip: one (1 1/4 ounce) envelope onion soup mix blended with 2 cups sour cream and served with a big bowl of potato chips.

But for microwavers, dry onion soup mix is perhaps most useful as a browning agent. Sprinkle over roasts or roll uncooked chicken in the mix before microwaving. Not only does it add a delicious oniony flavor, but it gives otherwise pale foods a glaze of appealing brown color, too.

For onion-lovers, try this special corn on the cob. Combine 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons dry onion soup mix and 1 tablespoon water. Microwave about 30 seconds, or until butter melts; stir. Arrange four ears of fresh corn in an 8-by-8-inch microwave-safe baking dish. Drizzle with butter mixture. Cover with waxed paper and microwave five to eight minutes, or until corn is tender.

To make a tasty onion butter, combine one 1 1/4-ounce envelope dry onion soup mix with one 8-ounce tub soft margarine or whipped unsalted butter. Blend thoroughly. Refrigerate until ready to use. Adds flavor to hot microwaved vegetables; toss with hot cooked noodles or dab onto microwave-baked potatoes.

Following are some microwave recipes made extra-appetizing with onion soup mix.

(Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

MICRO-TIP OF THE WEEK
Dip both sides of an uncooked hamburger patty in dry onion soup mix before microwaving for added flavor and color.

ONION PARMESAN CHICKEN
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 (1 1/4 ounce) envelope dry onion soup mix
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds chicken pieces, skinned

Yields 4 to 6 servings.
Preparation time: 5 to 10 minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time).
Oven setting: High (100 percent power).

Place butter in small microwave-safe dish and microwave about 1 minute, or until melted.

In separate dish combine onion soup mix, Parmesan cheese and paprika. Toss with fork. Dip chicken pieces in melted butter, then roll in onion soup mixture.

Arrange chicken pieces in 12-by-8-inch microwave baking dish. Microwave 15 to 20 minutes, or until chicken is tender and meat near bone is no longer pink. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving.

EASY FREEZER-TO-TABLE POT ROAST

1 (3- to 3 1/2 -pound) beef chuck pot roast
1 (1 1/4 -ounce) envelope dry onion soup mix
1 (10 1/2 -ounce) can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 (4-ounce) can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1/2 cup red wine

Yields 6 to 8 servings.
Preparation time: 10 minutes.
Cooking time: (see instructions).
Oven setting: High (100 percent power); Medium (50 percent power).

Place unwrapped roast in a 12-by-8-by-2-inch microwave-safe baking dish. (If wrapping is difficult to remove, wait until meat is partially thawed.) Cover with plastic wrap (turn up one corner to vent) and microwave at high setting 3 minutes. Reduce power to medium and microwave 9 to 14 minutes per pound. Rotate dish after 20 minutes.

Drain liquid from dish. Sprinkle half of onion soup mix over top of roast; turn over and sprinkle with remaining soup mix. Top with condensed mushroom soup, mushroom stems and pieces, and wine.

Cover with vented plastic wrap and microwave at medium setting 9 to 14 minutes per pound, or until tender. Stir sauce and spoon over roast halfway through cooking time. Let stand, covered, 10 minutes before serving.

ONIONY MEAT LOAF RING
2 pounds lean ground beef
2 eggs, lightly beaten
2 slices white bread, torn into small pieces
1 (1 1/4 -ounce) envelope dry onion soup mix
2 tablespoons milk
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Yields 6 servings.
Preparation time: 10 minutes.
Cooking time: 13 to 16 minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time).
Oven setting: High (100 percent power).

In medium mixing bowl combine beef, eggs, bread, onion soup mix, milk and half of tomato sauce. Blend well with hands. Pat lightly into 4- or 5-cup microwave-safe ring mold. Microwave 12 to 15 minutes, rotating dish 1/4 turn every 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine remaining tomato sauce, brown sugar and Worcestershire sauce in 1-cup microwave-safe measure. Microwave about 1 minute, to heat. Invert meat loaf onto serving platter. Top with sauce and serve.

Spree has it all: from pigs to fireworks

A birthday party lasting six days will begin Tuesday, June 25, with pig races and a circus. But it certainly won't end with pigs and other performing animals.

Before the fireworks light up the skies Sunday evening, there will be more than enough excitement for all ages as Livonia has its 41st Spree Birthday Celebration.

Most Spree '91 events are in and around Ford Field and the Eddie Edgar Ice Arena near the Lyndon-Stark area, west of Farmington Road and north of Schoolcraft.

The circus performances on opening day Tuesday will be at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. and the pig races at 5:30 p.m., 7 p.m., 7:30 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Both events are free at Ford Field Diamond 2.

The circus will repeat its performances at 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Wednesday; 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Thursday; 4 p.m., 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The pig races also are scheduled 6 p.m., 6:30 p.m., 8:30 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday; 5:30 p.m., 7 p.m., 7:30 p.m., 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday; 3:30 p.m., 5 p.m., 5:30 p.m., 7 p.m., 7:30 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Carnival rides from Wade Shows will be featured each day Tuesday through Sunday from opening to closing hours each day.

SPREE ON Parade will open festivities Wednesday with the line up at 4 p.m. and the parade beginning at 4:30 p.m. from Frost Middle School just north of Schoolcraft on Stark.

Another special activity Wednesday will be the Family Pizza Jamboree 5-8 p.m. in Eddie Edgar Arena. The charge is $2 per person with a limited quantity of tickets available.

The Livonia Police Department will operate its Child I.D. Program 5-8 p.m.

at the police trailer.

A new feature Thursday will be Taste of Livonia 7-9 p.m. The charge will be $2 per person up to a maximum of $5 per family.

The Livonia Police Child I.D. Program also will be 5-8 p.m. Thursday and bingo will be available beginning 6:30 p.m. in a midway tent.

The Waiter-Waitress Race tests the skills of wait staff from local restaurants and bars as they balance trays filled with glasses in a race setting beginning 8 p.m. Thursday at the Showmobile. The charge is $5 per person.

FRIDAY, FREE carnival rides for the disabled will be offered 2-4 p.m.

Roadsters ready to run

Put some excitement in your life this spring by entering The Great Spree Roadster Challenge.

Accept the challenge of pushing a Spree Roadster gadget into the lead, beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 29, (rain or shine) at Ford Field by Eddie Edgar Arena.

Each team in the race consists of four runners and one rider, with a minimum of two females on a team. Participants must be 18 or older.

The entry fee is $5 per individual. Teams may register by calling Karen at 421-4036 or by calling 521-2300.

The champion with the best overall time will receive $250 and the runner-up will earn $125. There will be awards for best shirt costumes. The costumes should reflect the team name.

The roadsters are provided by the Spree committee. Practice runs will be held Friday evening, June 28.

Information on issuing challenges may be obtained by calling Karen at 421-4036.

Swinemaster Al Pringle of Kansas tells the audience at Spree about pig racing and what to expect.

Walk added to Spree run

The second annual Livonia Spree 8K Run will return this year and bring with it a new companion event — a 5K walk.

Both events will begin 8:30 a.m. Sunday, June 30, at the corner of Stark and Perth near the Spree '91 site. Registration will begin at 7 a.m.

The race and walk will be conducted by the Optimist Club of Livonia and by the Hemophilia Foundation of Michigan and are sponsored by Seven-Up Bottling Co. and Racquets Unlimited.

The charge will be $12 per runner or walker and can be paid on June 30.

A trophy will be awarded to the first-place male and female in the open and masters divisions. Medals will be given to the top three male and female in age divisions 19 and younger, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50 and older. Ribbons will be presented to all walkers.

The race director is Thomas E. Fraser of Livonia, secretary-treasurer of the Optimist Club of Livonia.

Food plentiful, just as tasteful

There's always a variety of food at Livonia Spree to satisfy the taste buds of almost anyone.

The Italian American Club of Livonia, for instance, has a food tent in the middle food aisle at which it will serve Italian sausage sandwiches with sauce, wine, cannolis, submarines, and pop. The club, which has been in Spree for 10 years, sponsors the Columbus Day Parade and Italian American Golf Tournament. Part of its Spree proceeds benefit the Angela Hospice in Livonia and other Italian-American Club charities.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church of Livonia will operate a food concessions at the south end of the Spree grounds. Among the taste-tempters offered will be shish-ka-bobs, gyros, spinach pie, baklava, and soft drinks. The church, which has participated in Spree for 15 years, uses its Spree proceeds for the Mother Waddles Kitchen, an orphanage in Boston, the Salvation Army, and the church building fund.

The Livonia Symphony will have its concession near the firefighters booth on the east side of the grounds. The concession will feature German almonds, nachos, soft pretzels, pop, coffee, lemonade, ice tea, beer batter vegetables, Polish corn sticks. The Livonia Symphony has been in Spree for six years.

Coden's own brand of comedy fits Spree

The Ron Coden Show will be presented Friday evening and Sunday afternoon at Ford Field for the Livonia Spree.

Coden will entertain with music and comedy 8:30-11 p.m. Friday and 4-6 p.m. Sunday. Joining him will be Ron Blight on guitar and Steve Fava on bass.

Coden, who has done the opening act for Doc Severinsen and the Irish Rovers, tours in Michigan, North and South Dakota, California and Canada.

He has performed with Gabe Kaplan, Steve Martin, Josh White, the Dillards, Pat Paulsen, John Stewart, Larry Santos and Jimmy Walker, among others.

For eight years he appeared on the nationally syndicated TV show, "Hot Fudge," and was a regular on the "Rosey Grier Show" nationally and "Kelly & Company" in Detroit. He was the host for a year of "Saturday Night Rock."

Coden has appeared at more than 200 colleges across the United States, including the University of Michigan, Michigan State, the University of Nebraska, Kansas State, the University of Kansas, the University of Oklahoma, UCLA, Pasadena College and Missouri.

In this area, Coden has appeared at the Raven Gallery in Southfield, Mountain Jacks in Farmington, Leather Bottle in Garden City, Duffy's in Union Lake and the Top Hat in Windsor.

Blight and Fava open the routines with a series of straight songs before Coden enters with his special blend of comedy, such as a "Wizard of Oz" parody.

G-rated entertainment act enlivens Spree Wednesday

Can an entertainer with a high-energy music and comedy show hold an audience in the palm of his hand, and still be squeaky clean?

Livonia residents will find out 5:30-7:15 p.m. Wednesday, June 26, when Jerry Jacoby's "Good Stuff for Kids" invades Livonia Spree in the Eddie Edgar Arena.

No violence or racy humor, Jacoby's show encourages honesty, respect and the Golden Rule.

His opener is nothing but names — 220 names to be exact — that Jacoby rattles off in a song called "The Big Hello."

Next, it's a Cosby-like account of a childhood caper in which Jerry broke a window and 'fessed up — 10 years later. "Every kid in the audience has done something like that, but some have never found the freedom of owning up and being forgiven," said Jacoby.

Jacoby's says he's a real ham, but loves to get other hams on stage to spice up the show.

Ron Coden (left) will appear at Spree with Ron Blight on guitar and Steve Fava on bass.

Among the many clowns

Among the many that will be appearing on the Spree grounds will be one of Livonia's very own, Tom M. King. King, known professionally as "Spaghetti," will be in the Spree on Parade at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and will be appearing at the Family Pizza Jam-boree 5-8 p.m. Wednesday.

Racing pigs return to Spree track

"What the heck is a pig race?" people often ask when they see the 150-foot Robinson's Racing Pigs track at fairs, festivals and celebrations around North America.

The answer is, "a pig race is what happens when you put two or more pigs on a track and an Oreo cookie at the end of the track," explains Carlota Robinson, owner of Robinson's Racing Pigs of Picnic, Fla., southeast of Tampa.

And in 1991 the racing pigs will be back in Livonia for a return engagement Tuesday through Sunday, June 25-30, in the Livonia Spree birthday celebration.

The unique part of the event is that no two races are ever alike.

With an insatiable sweet tooth, the pigs will race to get to the cookie and just as in real life, the winner gets the cookie and the losers the crumbs.

There are two races in each racing event and several racing events are scheduled each day. Each event features one regular "speed" race and the other activity features high (for a pig) hurdling hogs.

Cheerleaders are selected at each race to cheer their favorite porcine speedster to victory. The winning cheerleader is given a ribbon proclaiming, "I picked the winner at the pig races."

This is the sixth year Robinson's Racing Pigs have toured at home and abroad, and they've made a lot of friends along the way, at the races and in the media. The pigs have appeared on NBC's "Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson," ABC's "Wide World of Sports," and several other networks including Japan TV, local stations, and publications.

Coed softball fills up 3 days

The Livonia Spree '41 Coed softball Tournament will be held Friday through Sunday, June 28-30, at Ford Field and Bicentennial Park.

Sixteen teams will participate in the tournament which is co-sponsored by Livonia Parks and Recreation Department and the Livonia Anniversary Committee. Ford Field is a Farmington and Lyndon roads and Bicentennial Park is at Seven Mile and Wayne roads.

A manager's meeting for the tourney will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 26, in the Livonia Civic Center Library.

Rosters are limited to 18 players and the entry fee is $75 per team. The fee covers the umpires, balls and awards. Make checks payable to "Livonia Anniversary Committee."

Trophies will be awarded for champion and runner-up.

All rules are American Softball Association except for the following:

- Mercy rule in effect: 12 runs after 4½ or 5 innings.

- Time limit on all games: No new inning will begin 1 hour and 15 minutes after the start of the game.

- Livonia Parks and Recreation rules and regulations also will be in effect where applicable.

HOROSCOPE

June 25 through June 29

By C.C. Clark

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Romance is in the air for you. You may find an old relationship comes alive, or find yourself with someone new.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
Friends and family are eager to help with whatever might need to be done. Let them. Take some time to find out what is most important. Your priorities might just change.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)
You may find yourself in the middle of something that makes you feel very uncomfortable. Just bide your time; things will work out for the best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
It seems your life is at a breakneck pace, and it is not going to slow down anytime soon. Don't forget your family in the process.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)
You feel as though you are being backed into a corner. Don't let others put you where you don't want to be. Take control of your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
You've done what you're supposed to do, now wait and see what happens. There are many surprises just around the corner for you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
Someone close to you will verbally attack for seemingly no reason. Look beyond the words and you will find the real source of trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
Sometimes a person needs to call on their friends, and this week Aquarians need to do just that. Don't try to handle everything on your own.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)
Health matters should take top priority this week. Preventive measures can save your life later on. A change in diet may be in the works.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Money matters will be on your mind this week and rightly so. Be sure to ask questions when making any financial transactions.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Make your voice heard this week. It is time to let those around you know exactly how you feel. Remember, being tactful helps.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Creative ideas abound for you this week. Don't let others inhibit or affect your thinking. You really do know best; trust your judgement.

CBS Bob Simon reports on the war he 'missed'

Simon and crew were prisoners for 40 days

By Suzanne Gill

"I spent six months sitting in Saudi Arabia waiting for the (Persian Gulf) war to happen, and more than that, I've been covering the Middle East and off since 1973, and here was the cataclysmic event that had been building for a long time, and then I missed it," says CBS correspondent Bob Simon of the air and ground war in the Persian Gulf.

Simon "missed it" when he became a story himself on Jan. 21, just four days after the start of the air war. Unable to get the information he wanted through the pool reporting system, Simon and his three-man news crew were out having "a good look around" in the non-man's-land between Kuwait and Iraq when they were taken captive by Iraqi soldiers.

In "Back to Baghdad," airing Thursday, July 4, Simon returns to the scene of the war to tell the story he missed the first time, giving those at home a new perspective on the aftermath of the gulf conflict.

In the special, Simon examines current conditions in four countries: Kuwait, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Israel, and the Occupied Territories. During a recent telephone interview from Tel Aviv, Israel, where Simon has made his home since 1987, he said conditions in each country were about as he expected.

Saudi Arabia, says Simon, has changed the least, Kuwait the most. With its continuing oil-well fires and official recriminations against those suspected of having sympathized with the Iraqis, the tiny Arab kingdom is still hostile territory, both environmentally and politically. But, he adds, "I think that, of all the countries we visited, in Kuwait there is the most serious possibility of political change."

By way of contrast, most Israelis are eager to put the war behind them, says Simon. The average citizen wants to forget about gas masks and sealed rooms, but the country's leaders are undoubtedly preparing for the future. Israeli resolve was sorely tested during the SCUD attacks, and Simon observes that the government feels it has political "credit in the bank" with the United States for abiding by its early promise not to take independent military action.

Iraq, meanwhile, is the most interesting case of all. With Saddam Hussein still in power and the rebuilding of Baghdad and other cities being carried out as rapidly as possible, Simon spoke candidly, about the victory of the Allied force led by Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf.

"President Bush is perceived all over the Middle East as the Emperor of the Middle East. He's the man who won the war, and there is nothing that is respected (here) as much as victory.

"The Iraqis do not love George Bush. There is enormous resentment of Bush for bombing Iraq but not getting rid of Saddam Hussein. "But they respect him. They're perfectly aware that Bush's Gen. Schwarzkopf could have gone all the way to Baghdad, but chose not to. (Iraq) is a nation that has been bred on fear, fear of Saddam, and if Saddam had been removed, Bush and Schwarzkopf would be the heroes of Iraq."

Simon spent much of the war, 25 days, in solitary confinement in a Baghdad prison. His cell had no bed and only the crudest sanitation. The only source of light and fresh air was a small vent. Once a day, a small metal door would be opened and an anonymous hand would leave a single meal. On Feb. 23, the building was bombed by Allied jets. On another day, Simon's colleague Peter Arnett of CNN reported a rumor that Simon and his team were alive. It was the first such news Simon's wife and daughter had heard since his disappearance in the desert.

"I've covered so many wars and haven't been hurt," Simon reflects. "Maybe my number was just up."

He is not so philosophical about the system of pool reporting imposed by the Allied command. "It was an inadequate way to cover the war, and my colleagues who stayed in the pool system ended up very, very frustrated."

Simon draws a distinction between the censorship of the pool reporting system and an embargo, or hold on reporting the news for hours or days at a time, "with which we were all prepared to cooperate.

"I think the verdict now is that it's unfortunate that one of the great American military victories of our time went largely uncovered."

In an age of prolific amateur and professional video record-keeping, there will, ironically, be no counterpart to "Victory at Sea" and other newsreel series that documented the battles of World War II.

"The Americans who did the fighting will not have many pictures to show their grandchildren because the newsmen who were in Saudi Arabia and would have been very eager to have been at the front lines weren't there, because they weren't taken there."

On Independence Day, Simon takes us back to Baghdad to see some of what we all missed.

CBS news correspondent Bob Simon and his crew were tortured, beaten and held captive by Iraqi military intelligence during the war. Thursday the journalist returns to the Iraqi capital to report on the aftermath in "Bob Simon: Back to Baghdad."

STAR NOTES*Hard work pays off for Joan Rivers

By Lisa Otoupal

Joan Rivers has worked long and hard to get to the top. Her unfailing energy and determination have made her talk show a success, seen in 80 percent of the United States.

Last year she bested veteran talents to win an Emmy Award for Outstanding Talk Show Host. She's won two Clio Awards for Outstanding Performance by an Actress in a Commercial. She's been presented awards and honors by Harvard University and has won the Jimmy Award for Best Night Club Performer. And she makes it look so easy.

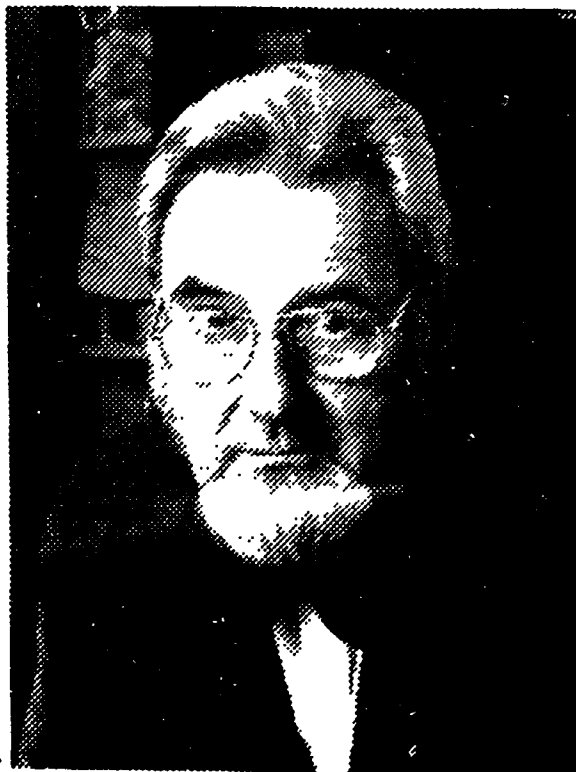

Yet Rivers' career has been anything but easy. In 1960, she joined Chicago's Second City comedy club to hone her skills. After Second City, she wrote for Candid Camera and other television shows.

As an aspiring comedian in the 1960s, Rivers auditioned six times for The Tonight Show and was turned away each time. But by 1983 she was named permanent guest host and stayed on the show for three years, until the Fox network offered her a late-night show of her own. Despite a loyal following, Rivers and Fox soon parted company.

After the suicide of her husband, Edgar, Rivers bounced back with her own daytime talk show.

Rivers' career has soared in the past few years, but she has said it's been "just hard, hurting little steps."

SOAP TALK*Viewer exercises right to switch channels

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: I've never written to anyone like this before, but I really enjoy your column and I wanted to express my thoughts about something.

I'm a devoted fan of Days of Our Lives. I work during the days, so I have to tape it. I was so angry when Victor married Carly that I haven't watched it since. I can't believe the writers would do this to the fans. Don't they know how much we wanted to see Bo and Carly get together?

I have a friend who watches The Bold and the Beautiful, and I think I'm going to watch it instead of Days. I'll let you know how I like it. Thanks for letting me air my feelings. —Ex-Days fan in Texas

Dear Reader: You have the right to watch whatever you want, and I'm glad you are exercising that right. I sometimes wonder if the producers and writers of the soaps realize just how easy it is to lose a devoted fan such as yourself.

One thing that really bothers me about the character Carly marrying Victor is that it makes her look really stupid. She's a doctor, and surely she could figure out what a creep Victor really is.

BITS AND PIECES

ABC rekindles 'Gabriel's Fire' with Richard Crenna addition

For next fall ABC is revamping the excellent, but underrated, series Gabriel's Fire, with the hope of drawing a bigger audience. Veteran-actor Richard Crenna is joining the show, which will be retitled Bird and Katt. Crenna says the relationship between his character (Katt) and that of James Earl Jones (Bird) will be "antagonistic, but mutually respectful."

Mary Higgins Clark, the world's highest paid female mystery writer, recently took in a few more bucks for the film rights to her latest book, Loves Music; Loves to Dance. Producer Dodi Fayed (Chariots of Fire, F/X 2) has acquired worldwide rights and expects production to start in about a year. The book, currently a bestseller, tells of a serial killer who selects victims via the personal ads.

Nike has joined forces with PBS and the Children's Television Workshop for a multimedia literacy project titled Ghostwriter. Not only will there be a weekly television series based on the concept, but free mini-magazines for students, study guides for teachers and a weekly, syndicated newspaper column. Spokespersons say the project will have a bold, graphic appearance similar to that of MTV.

Broadway star Evan Handler walked off stage in the middle of a performance of I Hate Hamlet. Handler exited after star Nicol Williamson lectured him in front of the audience and then hit him over the head with a sword during a dueling scene. An understudy finished the show, and Handler has quit.

Al Pacino and Michelle Pfeiffer last worked together on the 1983 film Scarface. Now, they're together again in the film version of Terence MacNally's play Frankie and Johnny in the Clair de Lune. The movie's simply called Frankie and Johnny.

Carolyn Dunn plays an unorthodox private eye in Sweating Bullets, Fridays on CBS Late Night.

Wimbledon crown lures tennis' best

By Steve Paschal

The changing of the guard that marked the tennis world in the late 1980s may just about be complete, but the queen will still be looking down on the best players in the world this week when the royalty of tennis gathers at the All-England Club for the 66th Wimbledon Lawn Championships.

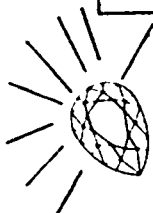

Each era has had its own personal stars dominating center court, and the men's finals duels between Boris Becker and Stefan Edberg that ushered out the 1980's marked the beginning of a new day. Gone from the top of the rankings are such legendary names as Bjorn Borg, Jimmy Connors and John McEnroe, and in their places sit young lions like Edberg, Becker and Ivan Lendl. Just behind them comes another group of pretenders to the throne led by Michael Chang and Andre Agassi.

The old guard has been slower to surrender on the women's side, where Martina Navratilova won for a record ninth time in 1990. However, Navratilova, who lost to Steffi Graf in the 1988 and 1989 finals, will have a tough time holding off the challenge of younger players such as Graf, Monica Seles and Gabriela Sabatini in her bid for a 10th title.
