Folks who wandered out to Ford Field Sunday afternoon heard an earful of great music during Northville's 15th Annual Folk and Bluegrass Festival.

Well over 1,000 music fans got more than their money's worth of musical entertainment. And festival-goers also had the satisfaction of knowing their money was going toward a worthy cause — research into the debilitating nervous disorder known as Huntington's disease.

"This was a great festival," said Tom Rice, organizer of the event and owner of the Giffdler music store. "It was for me personally the best time I ever had at a festival."

Blankets and quilts covered the green and yellow grass of Ford Field throughout the day. Families wandered around the field, watching the performers and listening to the tunes or simply enjoying each other's company.

A couple of people tossed a frisbee around deep in left field. A boy pitched a ball to his father, who swung at it with an imaginary bat. And in right field, musical acts known both locally and nationally continued to play well into the evening.

"It's a great deal, the quality of the

Candidates list their contributors

By MIKE TYREE

Deborah Whyman depends upon financial support from out-of-district sources and Right to Life of Michigan. Jerry Vorva loaned himself more than $20,000.

Georgina Goss said she raised over $18,000 from political action committees, local officials and individuals, but on Tuesday said an itemized financial statement was unavailable to the press.

Whyman, Vorva and Goss face off Aug. 6 in the Republican primary for the state post vacated when Gerald Law resigned to accept the Plymouth Township supervisor's position.

Candidates for the 36th District state representative's post filed pre-election campaign statements with the state Bureau of Elections July 26, and the contributor lists seemingly speak volumes about the individual candidates.

Candidates must declare financial gifts of $20 or more, according to the state elections bureau.

Individual out-of-district contributors accounted for more than two-thirds of those donating funds to the Whyman campaign, her reports indicate.

Whyman attracted financial contributors from California, Texas, and Missouri, as well as supporters from Novi, Bloomfield Hills, Warren, Ann Arbor, Howell, Livonia and East Lansing — all out-of-district locales.

Whyman's outspoken opposition to abortion apparently provided a

Whyman wants to cut spending

Canton Township precinct delegate and Ford Motor Co. consultant Deborah Whyman is one of three Republicans vying for the vacant 36th District state representative's seat.

Whyman will square off in the Aug. 6 Republican primary against Northville Township Supervisor Georgina Goss and Plymouth City Commissioner Jerry Vorva.

The primary winner faces no formal Democratic candidate in the Aug. 27 general election. Any registered voter may vote in the primary.

The 36th District covers all of Northville Township, Northville city south of Baseline Road, Plymouth city and township, and approximately half of Canton Township.

Candidates for the post were interviewed by Record staff writer Mike Tyree and editor Bob Needham. Today's interview is with Whyman, and concludes the candidate interviews.

RECORD: Everyone talks about property taxes as the number-one issue in the state today. Is that what you hear from people on the street as you campaign? What would you do about property taxes?

WHYMAN: Reaction on the street is really very mixed. There are some people who are against property tax cuts because they feel it will affect their school system.

I personally support a 20-percent property tax cut. I would have voted for the governor's 20-percent property tax cut. The state wastes a lot of money. We have a huge pork-barrel list. I would propose making cuts to foolish government spending before making any cuts to the schools.

For example, last year we spent $500 million on a high school dropout program. I would eliminate that by doing two things: One, why are children dropping out of school and going back? They should stay in school until they're finished; and two, if they drop out and go back, and we have to pay their way... High school is just a minimum of education (they must have) to live in this state. I don't think we should be paying $500 million (for this program).

I support Governor Engler in his position of (cutting welfare); it also affects the taxes that we pay. There's been other programs intimated in other states that have been successful; for example, a person can't collect general assistance... unless they've got a high school diploma or are working on a GED. And that is a hand up and not a hand out. Helping people help themselves makes good sense.

Also, able-bodied people who are able to work should be working. I would have supported Governor Engler on that. There's no reason an able-bodied person can't go to work.

RECORD: If you favor a property tax cut — including the governor's proposed 20-percent cut — where will school funding come from, especially for school districts such as Northville that depend on property taxes for 95 percent of their revenue? Will your position ensure fair educational opportunities to all Michigan children?

WHYMAN: Schools need to work (with) revenue from existing sources. I am against (proposed) reapportion-

Bargains to line city sidewalks

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Downtown merchants and area residents will take to the streets this weekend for Northville's annual Sidewalk Sale/Community Garage Sale.

On Friday, the city's merchants will move their wares out to the sidewalks for all the early bargain hunters. On Saturday, Main and Center streets will be closed and the store owners will venture into the road along with non-profit groups and food vendors.

"Everybody will be out on the sidewalks with terrific bargains," said Cathy Noble of the Shipping Station, a member of the committee organizing this year's Sidewalk Sale.

Noble said this year's sale differs from previous ones in several ways. "We have added a community garage sale and we have come up with a theme this year, 'Northville Recycles,'" she said. "We're trying to carry that theme throughout the sale."

Along with presentations by experts on recycling, the Merchants' Association will offer canvas bags imprinted with the saying "Northville Recycles." Proceeds from the sale will go to fund future civic activities by the association.

On Saturday, special areas will be set aside at the American Legion Hall and the Open Door Christian Church parking lot for up to 100 families to have their own garage sale. Applications are on a first-come, first-served basis and are available at Traditions by Bartley & Boyd, Mountain Rags, and The Shipping Station, all located on Center Street. There is a $10 sign-up fee for the garage sale.

Space was still available for the garage sale as of Tuesday.

Throughout the day Saturday, family-oriented events and informational booths will offer fun and education for everyone. Puppy Love Pet Salon will host a pet show at the Main Street Bandshell at 10 a.m., and Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall will host its second sports card show. Admission to the sports card show, which runs from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., is $1.

Andy Genitti, son of local restaurateurs John and Toni Genitti and an entrepreneur in his own right, will hold his second Sports Card Show this year in the Masonic Temple above Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall Restaurant, 108 E. Main St. The location was moved from the lower level of Genitti's following strong interest in the show.

Sports card aficionados will have a chance to buy, sell and trade baseball, basketball, hockey and football cards. People interested in a spot at the show can reserve a three-foot table for $5 or a six-foot table for $10 by calling Andy at 349-0522 or 349-0915.

The Friends of the Northville Library will offer thousands of used

State candidates list campaign contributions

significant financial boost to her campaign.

Whyman had received more than 50 out-of-district financial gifts by the July 26 filing deadline. In contrast, she logged just over 20 in-district contributions, the bulk of those coming from Northville.

Right to Life of Michigan provided Whyman with member list rentals, postage and political action committee mailings, according to documents filed with the state.

Individual financial gifts accounted for $9,295 of Whyman's campaign war chest. Fund-raisers earned the Canton resident $4,060, and in-kind contributions — non-cash gifts — brought in another $822.

Whyman owes $2,900 from outstanding loans and an unpaid bill, according to her financial statements.

Vorva, a Realtor, Plymouth City Commissioner and former police officer, loaned his campaign $20,274.70. He also received numerous $25 and $50 gifts, primarily from in-district sources.

All but seven of 40 individual contributions Vorva listed on state documents were from in-district residents, which may lend credence to Vorva's claim of "grass-roots support."

Individual supporters kicked in approximately $2,000 for the Vorva campaign, according to records.

Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack contributed to the Vorva campaign, as did Dennis Shrewsbury, a Democrat who attempted to unseat Law in last November's general election.

The Police Officer's Association of Michigan (POAM) contributed $200 to Vorva, and a western Wayne County Realtors PAC added $2,500 to the Vorva coffers, Vorva said Tuesday.

Goss was the lone candidate who did not provide the Record a financial statement Tuesday, but said her list had been submitted to the state by the July 26 deadline. Northville Township's supervisor did discuss her financial support system Tuesday afternoon.

About half of the $18,000 Goss raised came from individual sources, most from in-district residents, she said.

Contributors included state Sen.

Robert Ceake (R-Northville) and U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth).

Wayne County Commissioner Maurice Breen contributed; former county commissioner and current Gov. John Engler aide Susan Heintz and Law did not contribute, she said.

Local developer Robert DeMattia contributed to the Goss campaign, as did officials from Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May and Plante & Moran.

Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May serves as the township's engineering firm. Plante & Moran handles township audits.

Retiring Northville Public Schools Superintendent George Bell contributed to the Goss campaign, as did "two or three (Northville) township board members that I can think of," Goss said.

Goss lists a passel of PACs as contributors. She said she received financial support from the following PACs: Ophthalmology Association, Browning-Ferris Industries, Service Station Dealers of Michigan, Mortgage Bankers, the Racing Commission, Optometrists, Michigan Hospitals Association, and Michigan Automobile Dealers Association.

Each PAC contributed amounts ranging from $125-$500, Goss said.

CANDIDATES ON TV: Omnicom Cablevision has announced cablecast times for the recent candidates forum for the 36th District state House of Representatives seat.

Omnicom will show the forum on cable channel 8 at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 1; 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 2; and 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 5. For more information call Omnicom at 459-7335.

FREE CAR WASH: The Northville High School Class of 1994, this fall's sophomores, will hold a free car wash Aug. 3.

It will be held at the Detroit Savings Bank on the corner of Center Street and Randolph. All the money raised, through donations, will go to the Class of '94 funds. It will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m. or until all cars have gone through.

Rain date is Aug. 10.

SUMMER READERS: Sherry Pingle of Maybury State Park entertained 110 Summer Readers at Northville Public Library's fifth weekly program on Wednesday, July 24.

Next week will be the final "Wild Fling Party," which will include prizes, reading certificates, refreshments, and the presentation of "Androcles and the Lion" by the Goodtime Players.

Last week's poster puzzle contest winners were Robin Gosdeck, Tae Su, and Sara Wilchowski.

PUBLIC HEARING ON BEALTOWN REZONING: The Northville City Council voted at its July 15 meeting to proceed with a proposed rezoning of the Bealtown neighborhood from R-2 to R-1B. The rezoning would prohibit the conversion of single-family homes to duplexes, but allow existing duplexes to continue to operate.

The council called an Aug. 5 public hearing on the proposal. The city planning commission agreed to forward the proposal to the council after its own public hearing July 1. The commission heard arguments from residents on both sides of the issue and voted 7-2 to rezone, with commissioners Chris Gazlay and Dick Wilhelm opposing the proposal.

CHORE WORKERS NEEDED: Senior citizens in western Wayne County need assistance with yard work, window washing, and other chores around the house. The Senior Alliance Chore Referral Program is a new service designed to help older adults and chore workers establish contact.

Older adults may contact the Senior Alliance to see if any workers are available in their area. Once a senior chooses a worker and decides to hire that worker, it is the responsibility of the senior to set up a work schedule and pay the worker.

Workers are asked to charge no more than $6 per hour and must provide three references to the Senior Alliance before they will be entered into the program.

If you or someone you know would like to join the Senior Alliance Chore Referral Program call 722-2830 for more details.

COMMUNITY COOKBOOK AVAILABLE: The First Presbyterian Church of Northville is selling a community cookbook full of favorite recipes from Northville and the surrounding area.

Books are $6.50 each and are on sale at the church. For more information call 349-0911.

City ponders Cady Street deck

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The proposal for an expanded Cady Street parking structure is on deck again after several months of delay.

City officials had postponed the proposal earlier this year amid fears that the city's credit rating could be lowered and financing for the deck jeopardized.

City Manager Gary Word called a July 23 meeting of officials and developers involved in the deck proposal, to learn its status and get the project back on track. The officials at the meeting included City Assessor Mark Christiansen, Finance Director Beverly Morrison, Public Works Supervisor Ted Mapes, and Maureen Turner of McNeely & Lincoln, the city's engineering firm.

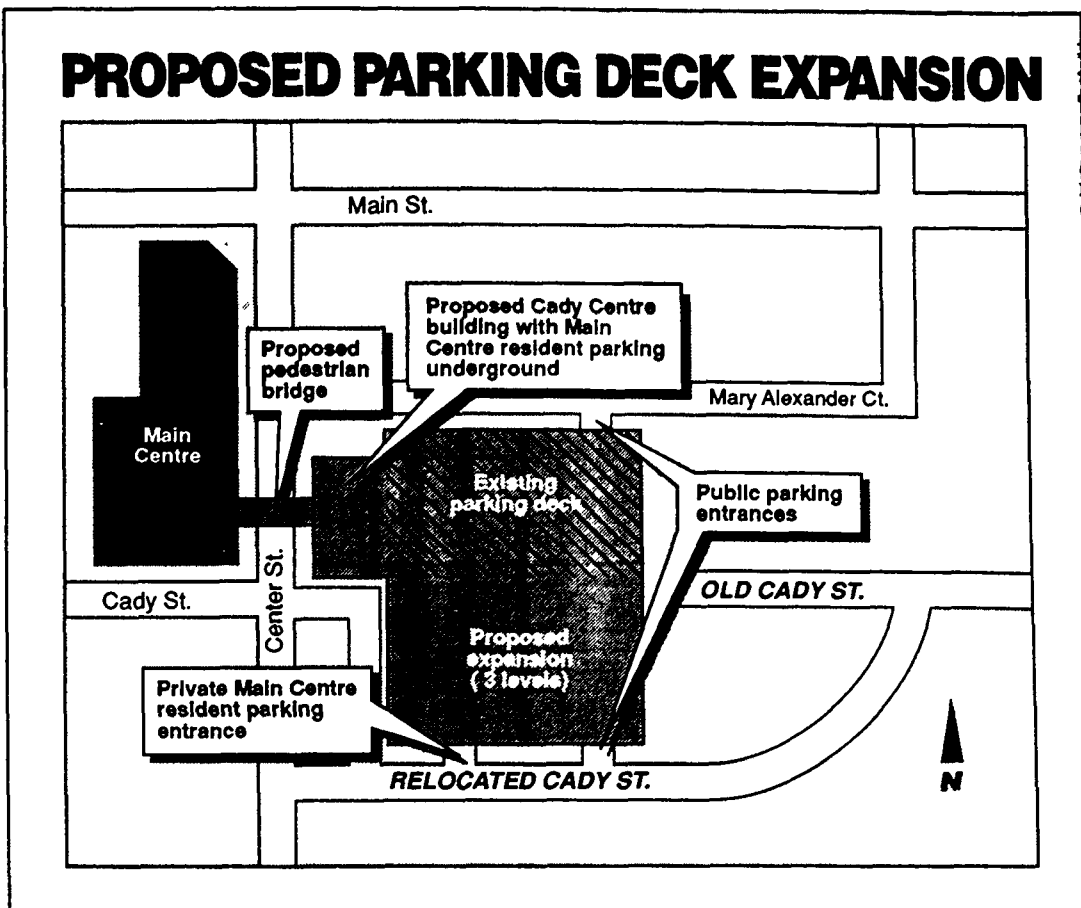

Matt Jobin of Rich & Associates, the city's parking deck consultants, said plans for the new deck are nearly complete.

"Before the project was put on hold, we were gearing up to break ground in early June and fast-track the project," he said. "We almost took that (existing) deck down in January."

The site of the proposed deck was moved to its present location after public opposition to a proposed parking deck on the recently reconfigured MAGS lot. "There was a great deal of public animosity to a deck on the MAGS lot," Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers told Word.

Local architect Greg Presley, who is working with Singh Development on the design of a pedestrian bridge between the deck and Singh's Main-Centre building, said the new location is a better one for the city as a whole. "It served more the Northville Downs (racetrack) than the downtown in that (MAGS) location," he said.

In March, the total cost of the project was estimated at $5 million to $5.5 million. The cost included demolition and removal of the existing deck, land acquisition along Cady Street, rerouting of the street and its utilities, and construction of the new deck. Singh Vice-president Michael Kahn said the current price estimates should hold true for next year as well.

"I don't see the local economy booming to the point where this will be much affected," he said.

The expanded structure, which in its latest incarnation would provide about 450 spaces, would replace the current 140-space deck and extend about 150 feet farther south. Cady Street would be moved farther south between Hutton and Center to accommodate the expanded deck. The top floor of the deck would be flush with Mary Alexander Court, like the current deck, but the downward slope of the expanded site would allow another floor. Two more floors could be added in the future.

An additional 20 angled parking spaces will be created on the north side of the deck, and 10 on the west side behind two existing Center Street buildings.

The complex and ongoing negotiations necessary to obtain the land needed for the deck include property swaps with businessmen James and Glenn Long, acquisition of land from Northville Downs and the Northville Driving Club, and negotiations over the parking needed for the proposed conversion of Mark Tarplin's Center Street property to a business. Tarplin's property will be just south of the relocated Cady Street.

A tentative work schedule would see construction plans finished in October, the current deck demolished in February 1992, and construction of the new deck taking the following nine months. The new deck would be open by the 1992 Christmas retail season.

"It seems to me we've got our foot in the water pretty deep, and I don't see a reason not to go forward with this in some way, shape or form," Word said.

Police News

Men cool church air conditioner theft plot

Two men interrupted a burglary when they drove into a parking lot at the Church of Christ, 41390 Five Mile, late July 23.

The men told township police a heavy-set white man in his 20s with shoulder-length, dirty blond hair was trying to steal a pair of window-mounted air conditioners from the church. The suspect, who was wearing a T-shirt and jeans, fled north from the building into a wooded area. The air conditioners were recovered and the building showed no signs of entry, police said.

CENTER STREET GRAFFITI: Environmentally aware graffiti artists decorated the sidewalk outside Center Street Cafe, 134 N. Center St., some time between 10:45 p.m. July 25 and 9 a.m. the next day. The chalk drawings included the slogan "What good is a used-up world? How could it be worth having?" illustrated by a drawing of a globe in a trash can. One reference to an individual named "Robert?" was illustrated by a skull. Other slogans ranged from the cryptic "This time we will finish" to the obscure "Toast brings peace" and "I like toast."

SUSPENDED LICENSE ARREST: An 18-year-old Westland man was arrested for driving with a suspended license July 26 after city police stopped him at 1:32 p.m. for speeding south on Taft south of Morgan Boulevard. He was released on a $100 cash bond.

LAWN ORNAMENTS FOUND: Seven animal-shaped yard ornaments were found at the Northville Recreation Center, 303 W. Main St., at 9 a.m. July 22. Anyone wishing to claim the five ducks and two sheep is asked to call the Northville City police at 349-1234 with a more detailed description.

FOUND BICYCLE: A blue boy's bicycle was found on the side of a Grace Street home at 5:45 p.m. July 25. Anyone wishing to claim the bike is asked to call the Northville City police at 349-1234 with a more detailed description.

THEFT FROM GARAGE: A 19-year-old Northville man told township police that someone stole three empty quarter-barrel beer kegs, assorted empty beer and pop cans, tools, a motorcycle helmet and motorcycle boots from the garage of a Dundalk Lane residence early July 26.

The youth told police the garage door was open and people were inside the home at the time of the theft. The stolen items were valued at $752.

VEHICLE DAMAGED: A Dundalk Lane resident told township police that someone drove across her yard, flattened the tires and threw eggs at her vehicle and scratched the side of a friend's vehicle late July 22. Damage was estimated at $400.

OUIL: A 65-year-old Livonia man was charged with operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol after his arrest on southbound Hines near Reservoir early July 23. Preliminary breath tests indicated the man's blood-alcohol level was .179, township police said.

OUIL ACCIDENT: A 34-year-old Northville man was charged with OUIL after he reportedly prompted an accident near the Sheldon/Six Mile intersection July 24.

Township police said the man was driving westbound on Six Mile, failed to stop for a red light as he attempted a right turn onto Sheldon, and struck a car driven by an Ann Arbor woman. Police said the woman was attempting an eastbound turn onto Six Mile.

The Northville man was arrested after Breathalyzer tests indicated blood-alcohol levels of .17 and .19.

LIGHTS BROKEN: Two security lights valued at $200 reportedly were broken at Winchester Elementary, 16141 Winchester, late July 23 or early July 24, township police said.

OUIL: A 35-year-old Detroit woman was charged with OUIL after her arrest on southbound Haggerty north of Six Mile early July 25. Breathalyzer tests indicated the woman's blood-alcohol level was .20, twice the state's legal intoxication level, township police said.

VEHICLE DAMAGED: A James-town Circle resident told township police that someone scratched the right front fender of her 1990 Honda Civic late July 24 or early July 25. Damage was estimated at $250.

DRUNKEN DRIVER ARRESTED: A 36-year-old Walled Lake man was charged with operating under the influence of liquor July 27 after being stopped at 10:17 p.m. for making a prohibited turn from Randolph north onto Center. A computer check by city police revealed that the man previously had been charged with operating while impaired and operating under the influence. He failed several field sobriety tests and was arrested. His blood alcohol level was measured at .17 percent. He was released on a $500 personal bond.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Music and charity draw crowds to Northville festival

entertainment is amazing," said Northville resident Tom Swigart, who was walking his dog Prince. "He won the raffle four years ago," Swigart said, pointing at his dog and referring to the festival's annual raffle contest, in which the top prize is a musical instrument. Prince would later win dinner for two at Genitt's in this year's raffle.

Swigart has been coming to the festival with wife Sonia since the family moved to Northville 11 years ago. "I think this is one of the sleeper events of Northville," he said. "The variety of the music certainly goes well beyond bluegrass."

Another Northville couple, David and Carolyn Totten, were equally impressed by the performances, particularly that of feature artist John Hartford. "That guy's amazing, fantastic," Dave Totten said. "He can make music with his little toe."

Hartford was a favorite with the rest of the crowd as well. He had the audience singing along as he performed selections ranging from his most famous song, "Gentle on My Mind," to the wistful "In Tall Buildings" to the hilarious "Good Old Electric Washing Machine."

"Now clap me a little rhythm, here we go," he said as he launched into one number, dancing a slow jig, his feet tapping out an easy rhythm, a fiddle tucked under his chin. As he finished his first set Hartford twirled his trademark derby several times, paying homage to the crowd that was applauding him.

The Silver Strings Dulcimer Society, led by Northville residents Hugh and Mary Lou Battley, kicked off the festival with a set of traditional music played on hammered dulcimers and other instruments. The Baldock Mountain Ramblers followed that with a set of fine American string-band and a cappella music, ranging from country & western to bluegrass to near-rock and roll. The three-woman ensemble Lady of the Lake followed Hartford's first set with their harmonies and lush melodies.

In between sets Matt Watroba, who hosts WDET-FM's "Folks Like Us" program and who has been involved with the festival for many years, acted as co-host with Rice and also played an occasional song himself.

Neil Woodward, master of a variety of stringed instruments, followed Lady of the Lake for his fifteenth consecutive performance at the Folk and Bluegrass Festival. Woodward, the musical director and performer in the show Conversations with an Irish Rascal at Detroit's Attic Theater, squeezed his festival set in between a 2 p.m. and a 7 p.m. performance of Conversations. But before he left, he performed a handful of tunes and brought Lady of the Lake back on stage for what Woody Guthrie once called his favorite song, "Weary Hobo."

Guthrie died of Huntington's disease in 1967 after spending a decade in mental institutions, due to the medical community's ignorance of the disease. The festival is dedicated to him along with his late wife, Marjorie, and Donna Jarski, Rice's late sister.

The Fritts Family Band picked up the pace next with some toe-tapping, foot-stomping bluegrass.

Then came one of the festival's most important traditions: The day's performers gathered on stage for a stirring rendition of Woody Guthrie's best-known song, "This Land is Your Land."

Hartford closed out the eight-hour festival with a longer set, at one point stepping down to dancing through the entire crowd, singing and fiddling as he went. He involved the crowd in an extended version of "Boogie."

Returning to the stage, he invited people to get up and dance as he called, fiddled and tapped away. Dozens of the listeners got up and started moving, Rice said he had never seen as many people dancing at the local festival.

Diane Wiecezorek, an employee at the Starting Gate Saloon and a festival volunteer, said the festival was marked by the generosity of the people involved. "It's something that no one's doing for themselves, they're doing it for others," she said.

Wiecezorek, who has helped sell tickets to the festival for the past five years, said she began volunteering her time after she heard the history behind it. Giftfiddler owner Rice began hosting the festival in 1977, to raise public awareness of and funds for research into the disease that claimed the life of his half-sister. Before her death in 1974, Jarski asked Rice to help her three children, who faced the risk of contracting the hereditary disease. The festival has been the fulfillment of his promise to her. "Everybody who knows Tom, who hears the story about why he does this, feels compelled to chip in," Wiecezorek said.

Rice promises that the festival will continue to get better and better, and Wednesday he made an early announcement of next year's star attraction.

"Next year... without a question or doubt, Arlo Guthrie will be in Northville for the festival," he said. Rice added thanks to everyone who helped with the festival, in particular Peg Campbell, Dave Atchison, Phil Mayer, Diane Wiecezorek, and the employees of the Giftfiddler.

Workers picket Northville Regional Hospital

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

State employees and their supporters yesterday picketed Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, claiming budget cuts and layoffs are endangering patients and workers.

Picketers also said state Department of Mental Health cutbacks have resulted in the transfer of "harder to place" and "highly volatile" patients to the Seven Mile Road facility.

"The state said when patients came here from Ypsilanti they would increase staffing," said Julian Van Slyke, civil service coordinator for the American Federation of State,

County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), one of four labor unions represented at the picket. "They haven't increased direct-care staffing."

"The citizens of Michigan were sold a bill of goods by the Legislature and this department," he said.

Northville Regional Hospital Director Walter Brown was unavailable for comment Wednesday. Brown is the hospital's lone spokesperson, his secretary said.

A state Department of Mental Health official said individual ward surveys determine psychiatric hospital staffing levels.

"Staffing needs are based on individual needs of patients," said Thomas DeLoach, state DMH communications officer. "For example, if patients require better medical care, it is reflected in staffing levels."

DeLoach said DMH layoffs were not just a quick fix for an ailing state budget.

"The reduction of mental health employees came from the closure of facilities," DeLoach said. "There were cases of individual staffing reductions based on surveys."

But budget cuts enacted by Gov. John Engler's administration have directly—and adversely—impacted Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, employees there said.

Layoffs have cut about 50 direct care or security positions at Northville, and an influx of patients from Ypsilanti Regional Psychiatric Hospital threatens the safety of patients and employees, said David White, a resident care aide at Northville and president of AFSCME Local 960.

"There are a lot of reasons we're picketing," White said. "One (reason) is budget cuts and staffing shortages have caused an increase of injuries to patients and staff."

"Most of the hardest-to-place patients were placed here (when Ypsilanti was closed)," White said.

Since state cutbacks were enacted this spring, physical confrontations between staff and patients have increased, White said. Sexual assaults on patients by other patients have also increased, he said.

The state is "putting us under siege by not giving us enough employees to operate," White said.

DeLoach agreed that the type of patient admitted to state mental institutions has changed over the past 10 years. He said many of today's admissions are younger people, and many are plagued by drug and alcohol problems.

"Certainly there are some incidences of aggressive behavior," he said. "It's a change we're seeing in hospitals across the state."

DeLoach said Northville Regional Hospital retains full accreditation and is in compliance with federal government mandates.

At least some of the picketers predicted that accreditation will be short-lived.

"It'll go back the way it was before we got here," said Louise Skrip, a member of a volunteer visitation group that monitored the hospital until Brown dismissed the group earlier this spring. "Overcrowding and understaffing is a tragedy waiting to happen."

Association forms to address concerns of area

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Historic District residents are concerned about the volume and speed of cars, buses and trucks past their homes, said the man behind a new homeowners association.

Organizer Chuck Keys said 35 residents turned out for the July 25 inaugural meeting of the Historic District Homeowners Association.

"The hot button in the Historic District is traffic, and that's school bus traffic too," Keys said. He said residents are worried about the safety risks from more and faster traffic through the area, and the structural damage from the vibrations caused by heavy trucks and buses.

"We get all of the (Northville Public School) buses coming down Linden and going through the Historic District," Keys said. "Even the buses for special education come down Linden."

"The noise from their brakes, it will wake you up if you're sleeping. . . There's all kinds of screeching stops."

Keys said the association will seek to reroute school bus traffic onto Center and Main streets, and have buses enter the school property by way of the Recreation Department parking lot, rather than driving farther west on Main or Cady streets.

"This is going to be a long-term fight to reduce traffic or help control it, or at least reduce its speed," he said.

"I think what people are upset with is the fact that this is a residential neighborhood, not a business district, and I think it's an important issue. The city is so concerned with the downtown business district, and even though it's part of the historic district, they forget that these are historic homes."

The residents formed several committees at the July 25 meeting, including one to address the Board of Education about school bus traffic and noise and another to work with the city council to regulate the volume and speed of residential street traffic.

"Whatever there was an interest on, we would form a committee," Keys said. "We made sure the committees were headed and staffed by people who are affected by and involved with the complaint."

One thing that surprised Keys at last week's meeting was the residents' lack of awareness about proposed commercial developments in and around the historic district. "People did not know about the Cady Street development or the Cady Centre building, and they did not know about the Long building," he said.

The city had planned to seek bids from commercial developers to redevelop Cady Street between Center and Griswold last year, until citizen opposition to a Center Street parking deck forced its relocation to Cady Street. Singh Development of Birmingham, builders of the Main Centre building at the southwest corner of Main and Center, have plans for an office/professional building on the site of the parking lot east of Main Centre.

Local businessmen James and Glenn Long have their own plan to develop a retail/office building along the north side of Main Street east of Wing. None of the plans have been brought before the city planning commission yet for final approval.

"A lot of people said they didn't like the Main Centre building and I told them the Main Centre building looked like that because they never went to a council meeting," Keys added. He said he has found the council responsive to residents' feelings, when made aware of them.

Keys hopes that the new homeowners association will foster increased awareness of actions by the city government, and increased resident input into those actions.

"Now is a good time if you want something," he said. "There are three people running for re-election." Keys was referring to Mayor Chris Johnson and council members Carolann Ayers and Paul Folino, all up for re-election Nov. 5.

Whyman targets cuts in government spending

ment. I think money raised in this district needs to stay in this district. I would not send money from this district outside.

RECORD: It still would seem that if there was a 20-percent tax cut, then this district would be losing a considerable amount of money. How would you ensure that districts such as this are able to maintain a certain level of funding? Or do you look at schools as needing to re-evaluate their budgets?

WHYMAN: I'd say re-evaluate their budget. I have to say that I'm not as well-informed as I need to be, and I'm trying to learn as much as I can, as quickly as I can. I cannot answer until I'm fully informed on proposals for property taxes.

RECORD: But the schools are going to have to share in the whole package if there is to be a sizeable property tax cut?

WHYMAN: Schools are going to be the last thing, the bottom of the list (for cuts).

RECORD: What would be number one?

WHYMAN: Foolish government spending. Pork barrel. Arts. I don't think state government should be funding the arts. Instead, I would propose a tax credit for people who choose (to donate to the arts). I am an arts person. I take advantage of arts programs. I give money to the DIA when they call me for fund raisers and will continue to. The DIA is the only institute in the United States that gets 50 percent of its funding from the state.

RECORD: The 36th District — and especially the Northville community — hosts a considerable number of non-revenue-producing state facilities. What is the impact of these facilities on the district? Is the impact significant? What can be done to lessen the burden of state facilities on local municipalities?

WHYMAN: I haven't studied that issue. I can't answer it.

RECORD: My next question is related to the first question, speaking about the Northville State Hospital in particular. Are you very familiar with the state hospital operation?

WHYMAN: No.

RECORD: Here's another question that pertains primarily to Northville. The state's failure to return racetrack revenues to communities such as Northville has created considerable financial strain on those communities. Even though the governor's office has promised to return hundreds of thousands in racetrack revenues, does the initial delay signal a worrisome precedent? What steps would you take to ensure prompt return of racing revenues?

WHYMAN: I know that that is an issue in the state. But I'm not familiar with (Northville's) angle.

RECORD: Please state your position on abortion. Are you in favor of a Supreme Court overturn of Roe vs. Wade? If individual states had the right to outlaw abortion, how would you vote?

WHYMAN: I am the lone pro-life candidate in this race. I support the overturning of Roe vs. Wade. If that happens, Michigan law will be returning to what it was before Roe vs. Wade, and that would allow for abortions only in cases of abortion to save the life of the mother. I would support that.

RECORD: You would support the right to an abortion in certain life-threatening situations?

WHYMAN: Only to save the life of the mother.

RECORD: Has that been an issue a lot of people are interested in while you are out campaigning?

WHYMAN: Somewhat. I would say there's a number of issues that come up; one is property taxes and another is schools. One is the abortion question. Another is funding for the arts.

RECORD: Are you supported by Right-to-Life?

WHYMAN: Right-to-Life has endorsed me.

RECORD: What other specific issues concern you most? Please outline your strategies for dealing with those issues.

WHYMAN: The most important issue I have is wasteful government spending.

RECORD: How would you attack that problem, you being a state legislator?

WHYMAN: (Whyman said she could not answer the question.)

RECORD: What makes you uniquely qualified to hold the 36th District post? Why should voters pick you? What makes you better than the other candidates?

WHYMAN: All of the candidates are different in this race. I am unique because I am the only one who has a college degree. I have a bachelor of science in business administration and I have a master of science in administration. I come from the business world; I am the only person who is not an elected official. I have a good background; good business common sense.

I've had budget accountability and hire-and-fire authority. I can't run a business and not be accountable for the money that is spent. I have to be responsible for a profit. I cannot run my own personal checking account at a deficit. Those kinds of things I've learned in business have (to be implemented) in state government. We can't continue to run our state government at a deficit.

I've also demonstrated in my past work history — and in college — an ability to learn and get things done. I have a tough road ahead of me because I have a lot to learn, but I'm up to the task and will do whatever is necessary to make myself a qualified, credible representative.

RECORD: Do you think the fact that you have not held elective office will be a hindrance to you?

WHYMAN: I don't see it as a hindrance because state government runs distinctly different from local government, township government, books for sale Saturday, in front of the Main Street MAGS building. The books are being sold at bargain prices and include current bestsellers, classics, mysteries, adventures, romance novels, religious works, history books, cookbooks and collector's items. The sale starts at 9 a.m. and continues until 4 p.m.

Also on Saturday, the Northville High School Class of 1994, this fall's sophomores, will hold a free car wash from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. or until all cars are washed. It will be held at the Detroit Savings Bank on the corner of Center Street and Randolph.

The day's finale will be an auction at 5 p.m. Saturday in the bandshell. Auctioneers from Braun & Helmer will auction off donations from the local stores and from the community. Individual merchants and the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen have already contributed to the auction, and goods from the garage sale are welcome as well, Noble said.

Another difference in this year's sale is the involvement of non-profit groups like the Kiwanis, Cub Scouts, First Presbyterian Church and the Humane Society. Much of the money raised will benefit another non-profit organization.

"Thirty percent of the proceeds that come from the merchants' registration fees, the garage sale sign-up fees and the auction will be donated to Civic Concern," Noble said.

Civic Concern, the local relief organization based in Northville, provides emergency assistance to the needy throughout Northville and surrounding communities.

The members of the Sidewalk Sale committee are Cathy Noble, Teri Fry and Tudy Licht of Mountain Rags, and Karen Slack and Susan MacGonigal of Traditions by Bartley & Boyd.

The sidewalk sale has been an annual event in downtown Northville since 1960.

Local youth in quarter horse championship

American Quarter Horse enthusiast Joey Spagnuolo of Northville will be competing at the 20th Annual American Junior Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show and Convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma, Aug. 4-10.

Spagnuolo will be among 1,600 youths, ages 19 and under, from the United States, Canada, Mexico, and West Germany participating in the show. He will compete with his American Quarter Horse "Trouble With Vern," a two-year-old sorrel gelding in halter.

The AQHA World Championship is an invitational event that serves as a showcase for top American Quarter Horse exhibitors, so competition promises to be intense and exciting. Young competitors, vying for 29 AQHA World Championships and prizes, must earn a predetermined number of points at American Quarter Horse Association-approved horse shows between May 1, 1990 and April 30, 1991, or be one of two entries in each event nominated to represent each state's Junior Quarter Horse Association.

The 1991 World Show is sponsored by Wrangler Jeans in cooperation with ACCO Feeds, Drysdale's Western Store, GMC Truck, Miller's Harness Company and Sooner

Trailer Manufacturing. Highlights of the show will air on the August episode of "America's Horse," AQHA's monthly television special on the cable sports network ESPN. Viewers should check their local listings for broadcast dates and times in their area.

The World Show is the featured activity of the week, but other scheduled events include the AQHA Convention, Sunday, Aug. 4, which allows state delegates to conduct AQHA business and elect six national officers to represent the more than 18,000 members of AQHA, the world's largest youth horse organization.

Also included are the AQHA Speech Contest on Tuesday, Aug. 6, featuring the presentation of the $500 scholarships, and the AQHA World Championship Judging Contest for AQHA, 4-H and National FFA Organization members on Wednesday, Aug. 7.

Show week also offers a variety of social activities and an Exposition and Trade Show featuring numerous equine-related products and services. AQHA will have a booth at the Exposition, where individuals may request performance and race records

EMMA COPLAND

Emma Copland of Northville died July 25 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. She was 89.

Mrs. Copland was born in Novi on January 16, 1902 to Ferdinand Kreeger and Ida Melsner. She married James Copland, who preceded her in death in 1948.

She is survived by her sister, Minnie Korzon of Northville.

Mrs. Copland spent her entire life in the area. She is a retired cook from Northville High School.

She was active in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Womens Guild, Over 50 Club and Alter Circle. She was the oldest charter member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The funeral was held on July 27 at St. Paul's. Pastor Lawrence A. Kinne officiated. Interment was at Glen Eden Memorial Park in Livonia. Arrangements were by the Casterline Funeral Home.

The family would appreciate memorials to St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

BRUCE MILLER

Bruce A. Miller of Northville died Saturday, July 20 at his home. He was 52.

Mr. Miller was born December 7, 1938 in Bloomfield Township, Michigan. He graduated from Rockford High School and served four years in the U.S. Navy.

In 1961, he married Patricia L. Goode in Charlotte. Mr. Miller went on to own Digital Motion Systems Inc. and became a member of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers. He enjoyed sailing, golfing, and skiing.

Survivors include his wife, Patricia; his children, Marc Miller of Brighton and Michelle Ash of Grand Rapids; his mother, Mrs. Veder (Margaret) Bass of Lake City; and siblings Roger Miller of Lake City and Carol Miller of Colorado Springs, Colorado. He leaves one grandchild, Nicole Ash.

The funeral was held on July 24 at Young Funeral Home in Lake City. The Rev. Veder Bass officiated. Memorials may be made to the Arbor Hospice, University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Our Opinion

Goss is clear choice in race to replace Law

Georgina Goss. Jerry Vorva. Deborah Whyman.

Thirty-sixth District voters will head to the Republican primary polls Tuesday to choose their next state representative. One of the aforementioned trio will succeed Gerald Law as the district's voice in the House, since the Democrats neglected to field a candidate.

Government

issues, specifically Northville matters, also helps make her the sensible choice for this post.

Vorva's primary fault is his relative lack of experience. He's served but two years on the Plymouth City Commission and must learn to become a bit more of a diplomat, though we'd like to see Goss adapt some of his fire when it comes to certain issues. We especially liked Vorva's "this is the real world, people" stance on abortion and sex education in schools. Vorva rightly points to education as the state's top issue, but he's not quite able to elaborate or articulate his remedy for the state's educational shortcomings. And he could use a dose of his own real-world rhetoric if he honestly believes, as he states, that he could travel to Lansing and single-handedly change the way the Legislature does business. Still, he is an energetic, oft-engaging character who could play a significant role in local political circles for years to come.

Whyman is almost running as a single-issue, special-interest candidate, despite her protestations against unholy government alliances. She is a well-educated, thoughtful person who owes the vast majority of her campaign contributions and profile to Right to Life of Michigan, who provided her with contributor lists, postage and other resources. Why would the vast majority of Whyman financial supporters come from out-of-district locales — not to mention California, Texas, and Missouri? It wasn't because they support her political record — she has none — and you can bet it wasn't because they are concerned about the business climate in Northville or Plymouth.

Whyman fared much better in the July 24 League of Women Voters forum than she did in our interview, but we were disappointed that she had not researched Northville-related state issues a bit more closely. She will win votes only from those who share her anti-abortion and anti-Michigan Model beliefs to the exclusion of all other state concerns.

Indications are that the primary vote will be close, and low voter turnout is expected. Residents have the best opportunity in years to voice their opinion, and we think the state representative's position is worthy of a trip to the polls.

The entire 36th District would be best-served by Georgina Goss, but that's particularly true for Northville because of her familiarity with the community. She is the clear choice.

Goss, the current Northville Township supervisor, is not a runaway choice for the post. Her competition provides a credible challenge. And we do of course disagree with the supervisor occasionally on issues arising in the community. But this is natural in a growing township, and it would be foolish for us or anyone to oppose her candidacy simply because we've had more contact with her than with the others.

Quite simply, she has much more governmental experience than both her opponents combined. And she's pulled off some impressive accomplishments, including the recent swap of prison caps for state land, etc., and the deal between Northville Township and Browning-Ferris Industries that will net township residents four years of free recycling services. Accomplishments like these point out her abilities in crucial skills like negotiating and looking out for constituents.

Goss trotted out some influential local politicians as supporters when she first announced her candidacy. Detractors, such as Vorva, immediately blasted this support as an example of status-quo, good-ol'-boy politics. Vorva's claim has merit in one sense, because the dominos fell in a peculiarly well-defined line, but we think Goss and the district will benefit from her relationship with the Heintz-Law-Geake gang.

We hope Goss in Lansing will act as her own person, and indications are that she will. Goss surrounds herself with knowledgeable people and is a quick study. She does not supervise Northville Township from afar, and most definitely is the commanding presence on the township board. Her grasp of local

Other side of the vacation coin

Vacations are wonderful things. When they're yours. When they belong to someone else, however, well...

Let's just say it's a little harder to be enthusiastic about them.

If your workplace is anything like ours — God help you. No, that's not what I meant to say. If your workplace is anything like ours, vacation season kicks into its highest gear in mid- to late July. Sure, people take off in August, and June, and at various times during the rest of the year. But it seems the vacations are heaviest, well, right about now.

I think Cristina Ferrier, who writes about features and crime, took off first. With that combination of beats she needed a break. Then it was Nell Geoghegan, whose official title here is "sports guy," for an extended, two-week absence. Then Managing Editor Mike Malott beat it out, also for two weeks. Copy Editor Rick Byrne followed. All that during the month of July.

In case you weren't fully paying attention, that's six weeks worth of vacation packed into four weeks worth of July. So at certain times, we've been short two people, not just one.

If your workplace is anything like ours — quit. No, no, no. If your workplace is anything like ours, things don't simply stop when a person goes on vacation. There is slack which must be picked up. Gaps to be filled. A newspaper to publish. And then another one. And another.

Don't get me wrong — I'm not complaining. All right, all right, so maybe I am. I'm entitled to it. This has been a very long month. Full of long days which turn into long weeks. I figure all those people who took vacations owe the rest of us big.

They'll pay. Other vacations lie ahead. Paybacks will be sweet. What goes around, so I hear, comes around.

And come August 2 — that's tomorrow — I'm outta here. Gone. History. Hey, maybe I'll see you up north somewhere.

After all, if your workplace is anything like ours — you need a vacation.

Champagne pushes the region

Joe Champagne, president of Oakland University, gets up at 5 a.m.

With his family still asleep, Champagne goes to the kitchen, pours himself a cup of scalding black coffee. Then he sits silently in the still dark living room for an hour, thinking and planning, experiencing "my time with me."

Being president of a large, public university is probably the toughest job in America. Between the competing demands of students and faculty, business and politicians, pure research and crass conniving, Joe Champagne's day has precious little time for himself or his family.

Maybe he'll have more. He will leave Oakland this week to be the new president of Crittenton Hospital. Since managing large hospitals is arguably the second toughest job in America, you've got to conclude that Champagne is either a glutton for punishment or supremely self-confident.

Talk for a few moments to Champagne and you get a sharp first impression. Dynamic. Self-possessed. Compelling. Wonderful salesman.

Maybe first impressions are close to the mark, because in his 10 years at Oakland he fundamentally changed the university — "brought it into the 21st century," in his words.

He realized shortly after arriving in 1981 that "the I-75 corridor — where we already have thousands of acres of land, gas lines in, water mains in and everything here, along with the university" — would make a magnificent research park development.

They key was to bring "the users of knowledge into close proximity with the creators of knowledge" by engaging in a new kind of academic real estate development.

The Oakland Technology Park was thus conceived, to be born two years later when Comerica Bank bought the original 210-acre parcel and started a $40-million operations and computer center that now employs 1,800.

Today the park covers 1,500 acres with more than five million feet of office space in use or under construction, including the Chrysler Technology Center and a string of Fortune 500 corporate tenants.

The tech center is at the core of Oakland County's ambitious plan to become the center of high-tech business in southeastern Michigan. And the linkages between OU's science, engineering and technology activities and the world of business have hardened the university's reputation.

Champagne acknowledged that at first it was a hard sell, especially with humanists who feared business interests would dominate the university. Today, however, he says most professors agree that "our faculty will be better off for being directly in contact with the real world."

Universities around the nation today are under assault for being too self-absorbed, too expensive and too other-worldly.

OU will likely not be the target of such criticism. Champagne cites as his happiest moment as president a review committee's finding that cited OU as being, in his words, "a model university for the 21st century, blending the traditions of academia with the realities of the future."

His saddest moment was the decision to freeze OU's enrollment at a little more than 12,000 students. "We had to deny access to a fine university to a lot of kids," he said, "but we had to choose between a good education and a mediocre one."

History, and Joe Champagne's successors, will determine whether he drove the university in the right direction. But certainly his presidency marked a fundamental change in direction for OU and a significant push for the region.

Model problems not addressed

To the Senate review committee and those interested in education:

What we witnessed again at the July 22 meeting reviewing concerns for the Michigan Model, after witnessing arousing support from hundreds of concerned parents, was again nothing more than an ego-biased-career-defense presentation from Northville School Board members.

Whether one agrees or disagrees to the effectiveness of affective teaching techniques, or the usage of lessons designed to therapeutically instill automatic reflexes for tuning out of unpleasant stressful situations through yoga type breathing exercises, is not really the issue here today.

It's obvious it's objectionable, with the 400 specific lesson concerns researched, confirmed by the longstanding ovation Dr. Kraft Bell received by a full auditorium after presenting needed changes we must work through on the Model. What we are focusing on now is how little concerned the school board is for the children being used as guinea pigs for this unlicensed therapy, but again only their concerns for their reputable reputations.

It must be brought to light, how disrespectfully these concerned parents were being treated. After the brush-off didn't work, by refusing parents their legal rights of "opt-out," the fact that the parent then complied with their ridiculous stipulation to physically remove the child from the grounds then irritated the assistant superintendent to the point of threatening to report her to Protective Services should she continue to do so.

They then further attempted to make a mockery of our "unprofessional opinion" by appointing a biased career and reputation protection committee to address us. The gavel came down twice that evening, not only negating the issue at hand, but motioning and closing with a restriction to never bring up the Michigan Model before the board again.

That is why we are here before you now, hopefully before a listening committee. And more clearly exposing the methods school officials will use when met with parents that confront the apathy they hope to maintain towards their "chosen programs."

Kathy Kvalvaag

Committee put on a great 60th reunion

To the editor:

I wish to thank the committee that planned our 60th class reunion of Northville High: Mrs. Meriam Mitchell, Mrs. Hazel Starr, Mrs. Walter Belasso, and Mr. Wilfred Sterner.

The afternoon was successful and memorable.

Our special thanks to Robert Litsenberger, bringing us up-to-date on the class of 31.

Candidates considered for seat

To the editor:

On behalf of the League of Women Voters — Northville, Plymouth, Canton, I would like to thank The Northville Record for their cosponsorship and excellent coverage. Omnicon Cablevision for their taping, our three candidates for 36th District State Representative: Deborah Whyman, James Vorva, and Georgina Goss, and the thoughtful and intelligent audience for their participation in our recent candidates' forum, held in Plymouth Township.

We were pleased to see the citizen turnout and hope that all were satisfied with the opportunity to hear each candidate speak on the issues of concern to us all. Those of you who missed the forum will be able to watch it again on Omnicon Cable. The program is scheduled to be shown at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 1; 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 2; and 8:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 5.

Thanks again to all who took part.

Vorva has not served Plymouth well

To the editor:

When I moved from Detroit to Plymouth in 1987, I thought that I would leave behind local politics that merged vaudeville and farce. However, the recent campaign for state representative has certainly highlighted the fact that some of the candidates who seek election can succeed, even though they have little understanding of the current issues or the matters with which they must deal.

When the Plymouth voters elected Jerry Vorva to the City Commission, I was at a loss to understand why anyone would support a candidate who was in the process of suing the city. My surprise turned to incredulity when, after he was elected, he proceeded to press his claim against the city and thereafter negotiated a substantial settlement with the very body to which he had been elected, the city commission. My incredulity then turned to anger when I learned the terms of the settlement. It is my understanding that Mr. Vorva received a cash payment from the City of Plymouth of $150,000, plus he and his family will receive medical insurance until he retires. This currently costs the city around $5,000 per year.

The source of the funds for Mr. Vorva's settlement, of course, comes directly from the taxpayers of the City of Plymouth, a small community of approximately 9,500 citizens. For example, the taxpayer who paid approximately $3,000 per year in real estate taxes had $150.00 taken to pay for the cash settlement. So much for Mr. Vorva's claim that he looks out for the interests of the taxpayer!

Now Mr. Vorva wants this district to send him to Lansing as our representative. If he is elected, I hope that he will not have the same financial impact on the citizens of Michigan as he has had on the citizens of Plymouth.

Goss has been inaccessible on key issues

To the editor:

So — Georgina (Goss) is pounding the pavements, getting to know her constituents, apprising them of her stand on issues and expanding her philosophies.

Where was she when crucial issues arose in the Township? She was conspicuously absent. She was never accessible by phone. She chose not to return calls if she happened to be out of the office or to accept calls if she was in. In truth, she maintained a Coleman Young style — she didn't have to respond to questions.

She claims to be a friend of education. How? By hugging a child? I don't remember seeing her at any Board of Education meetings, or attending special meetings held by parents with educational concerns.

A guardian of the finances? She allocated $3,000 to a private promotion firm to assist the future police millage (since rescinded when residents questioned the propriety of it). She allowed $100,000 to be wastefully spent on architectural fees for a library not yet accepted by voters. Again, she permitted the frivolous spending on a township newsletter which is published only when the administration has a special interest to advance.

Georgina silently condoned the abusive, insulting verbal behavior of a Planning Commission member until it became so blatantly intolerable and the complaints so numerous, she finally removed him.

Not a word was heard from Georgina when residents had to force the hand of the township in the "great" Ward Presbyterian controversy.

There are too many worms in her shining red apple.

Since Ms. Goss declared herself a candidate, she is now visible, expounding on "walkaways," prisons, etc. Her name appeared in three articles in one issue of the Record. Oh — we're finally getting to know you, Georgina, but you definitely don't deserve to replace Gerald Law. We need a representative, accessible candidate.

Mary Braddock

Goss has most experience of candidates

To the editor:

I feel that Georgina Goss can do a good job in representing the people of the Northville/Plymouth communities in Lansing.

Christopher Smith

I do not see another candidate to be as experienced and prepared to be elected State Representative on Aug. 6.

J.L. Nowka

Local issues raise questions on state level

To the editor:

The taxpayers of Northville, again, were the target of unfair spending and appropriation by elected officials. This time the culprit was Township Supervisor Georgina Goss, not the U.S. Congress or the Michigan Legislature.

I think it's shameful to think that Georgina Goss would blatantly misuse township money. She and the Board of Trustees planned on spending at least $3,000 to hire a consultant to campaign for the upcoming police millage election. It is illegal to use such funds for political campaigning. Georgina Goss should have known that. Public safety is important, but money being used for political purposes should be raised through private sources.

Fortunately, certain individuals and The Northville Record rescued the community from being robbed blind. The consultant is now grudgingly donating his services.

We must remember, Georgina Goss's original intent was to use the $3,000 for political purposes. Now she is asking the voters to elect her to the vacant state representative seat. The State of Michigan has a deficit over $1 billion. When Georgina Goss overlooks $3,000 at the local level, I ask, what can we expect from her with billions at stake in Lansing?

DRY SOCKET

Normally, following the extraction of a tooth, the wound in the jaw usually heals within a few days without complications. However, in every life, there is always an exception. One of those rare complications that can follow an extraction is known as a dry socket.

As the name (dry socket) implies, the clot that normally forms shortly after tooth removal, fails to develop or is lost. This leaves a bare and unprotected socket exposed to bacteria, saliva and food debris. The lining of the socket is sensitive and when bared to this irritating environment, a great deal of pain can develop. About all that can be done is to keep the area as clean as possible and the patient as comfortable as possible with medication and place an anesthetic dressing into the open socket until nature develops a protective covering for the exposed socket.

The reason why a dry socket forms or is lost, is not fully known. Some believe it results from a rapid bacterial action; others because of a fault in the blood clotting mechanism.

Observations and recommendations

An Open Letter To the Community of Northville:

As I prepare to leave my position as Superintendent of Schools, I have asked the editor of The Northville Record to allow me to publish some observations gained during my nine years in the community, along with a few recommendations for the future. I sincerely believe that the Northville Community is unique. The highly educated, caring citizenry, coupled with a vibrant community spirit, make our district a fertile environment for the empowerment style our Board of Education has chosen to foster. Whenever we have asked for community input, whether for curricular programs, strategic planning, or more recently, the search for my replacement, the community has come forward with excellent suggestions and untold hours of volunteer help. That doesn't happen in every district.

Another special characteristic of this community is a School Board which is beyond political posturing. I have had the experience in other districts of watching the needs of kids take a secondary position to special interests of individual board members. In my years in Northville, I have been pleased to note that every decision made by board members held the needs of kids and the quality of the educational program as their first consideration. These are special people who give literally thousands of hours of unpaid service to our community. It would be impossible for me to mention the hundreds of people who have helped me cap my career in education with the successes we've enjoyed. The members of the PTA, the leadership of the PTA Council, administrators, teachers and my colleagues at every level of the school district have joined together to make things happen. The primary key to whatever contributions I have made has been my good fortune to be able to surround myself with capable, caring people and turn them loose to get the job done. I will truly miss the great friends I have made here.

As for recommendations for the future, I hope the community will continue to be involved in every aspect of the operation of the school district. The old adage that "All of us are smarter than any of us," is very true. The final results, using the strengths of everyone concerned, can do nothing but improve opportunities for kids. It takes a lot more effort, but the results are worth it.

As the new High School Principal and Superintendent assume their roles, they will need to be receptive to community input and to remember that being a manager is equally important as being an educator. Student behavior, the physical condition of buildings, furniture and equipment must never be put aside for tomorrow. Tomorrows keep getting more and more expensive or difficult to handle when such details are delayed.

In the process of working with community input, I caution the community to beware of zealots whatever their cause. Tunnel-visioned, proponents of any special interest can only result in a lack of perspective which, ultimately, results in reduction of quality.

Speaking of single interest groups, I suggest that it's time the community quit taking Jeff Hampton and the Citizens for a Better Northville seriously. Over the past year, Mr. Hampton, as a spokesperson for the CBN, has made the following utterances: in The Detroit News, he urged abolition of public education. In a letter to the News, he urged abolition of all drug laws. In a statement to The Northville Record, he admitted misrepresenting information in a printed document regarding a school millage election in order to "get out a larger vote." Finally, in comments to a Northville Township board meeting, he mentioned that he enjoys shooting cats with his pellet gun. It appears to me that The Northville Record has given entirely too much coverage to this group of individuals and their libertarian philosophy. Granted, they have every right to express their views, but I do not think their views are reflective of those of typical citizens of Northville. I'm not sure how shooting cats fits into the libertarian platform, but it's clear they love to see their name in print. They will, no doubt, "cheap shot" the forthcoming police and house elections with publications of half truths, as they have in the past. Ignore them!

Thank you to all who have made these nine years the most rewarding of my career. I wish you the very best for the future.

CLASSIC FIGURES

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

Elegance. That's the word that sums up the look of a 1936 Pierce Arrow sedan. Or a 1938 Packard Convertible.

That's probably why Lee Barthel of Northville and Walter Nienaltowski of Novi are exhibiting those vehicles at the 1991 Concours d'Elegance this weekend at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Hall.

Both men have something in common: a passion for classic cars.

"The Pierce Arrow is a car that my father's boss had when I was 10 years old," said Barthel. "I thought, 'Gee, when I grow up I'd like to have a car like that.'"

"So, 40 years later, I bought one."

Both are original cars, purchased in mint condition — a rare find.

"It's hard to find a car like that," he explained. He found his through the Classic Car Club of America.

Barthel is only the third owner of the Pierce Arrow.

"I never met the guy who owned it originally," he said. "I bought it from a guy in Toronto who stored his cars (in an indoor showroom) in his house. He only took it outside for shows, or maybe parades."

Walter Nienaltowski's Packard is different in that he spent years restoring it to the showpiece it is today.

"It took six years to restore it, from 1970 to 1976," he said. It was the third car I restored."

Before the Packard, he restored a 1941 Cadillac sedan and a 1935 Cadillac Convertible with rumble seats.

After the Cadillacs, "I was looking around for another car and I found this 1938 Packard — just the body — in Missouri. Then I found a 1938 Super 8 coupe and I used that as a parts car."

The body he found in Missouri was "in fairly good shape, but it needed to be refinished," he said.

"Three or four months later I came across another parts car in Hemmings, Indiana. After a few years everyone was asking me for parts because I had so many."

In addition to the 1941 and 1935 Cadillacs and the 1938 Packard, Nienaltowski has also restored a 1939 Cadillac limousine, a 1955 Cadillac Coupe de Ville, a 1954 Packard and a 1947 Cadillac. He has traveled as far as California to find the cars or parts he needs.

Visitors to the 13th annual Concours d'Elegance on Sunday, Aug. 4 will see more than 200 of the world's most exotic vintage automobiles, including many never before seen in public.

Other events making up the 1991 Concours d'Elegance include historic races on Aug. 3 and 4; an invitational art auction and banquet Aug. 3; and an invitational art show Aug. 4. The art show will feature Northville watercolor artist Tom Hale's automobile art.

All proceeds from the Concours d'Elegance go to the preservation of Meadow Brook Hall. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children. Call (313) 370-3140 for information.

Youth Assistance offers companionship

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

When Maureen Osiecki heard in 1987 that the Youth Assistance Program was being set up in parts of Wayne County, she inquired about it, took the offered training, and then went to work to start it in Northville.

She contacted the township and city governments for money and the school district for office space. She helped form a seven-person Advisory Council, of which she was elected chair, and then they hired a director — Mary Ellen King.

"We're the governing body," Osiecki said — three representatives each from the township and the city and one from the school system.

What does the program do? It provides trained and matched volunteer adult companionship — "We call the person a companion rather than a counselor," she said — for children ages 6 to 16 who have been referred as needing that sort of person. Children are referred by township police, city police, schools, and parents.

"Our goal this year," Osiecki said, "is to reach as many children as are reaching out in the Northville area" — children who have personal problems, who have adjustment difficulty, or who have done something wrong.

Besides getting support money from the township and the city, Osiecki said, they have money donated to them, and they raise money at the Victorian Festival by selling cans of pop.

Also, "I do P.R. for the program," Osiecki said. "Any meeting I go to — if the subject of children comes up — I talk" because, as she put it, "If we have our children, we have our future."

The Advisory Council meets monthly, except in July, at 8:30 a.m. on the first Tuesday of the month at Cooke School. Anyone who wants to know more about Northville Youth Assistance is welcome to attend.

'Yellow Rose' throws big bash

Alice "San Antonio" Begwin had a huge Western-theme party at her St. Lawrence Estates home last Saturday.

Begwin, whose invitations noted that she was also known as "The Yellow Rose of Texas," had about 150 people at the party, which was held in an outdoor area behind her condominium. The party included a large tent with a dance floor and a smaller tent with the food. The party was catered by Edward's Caterer.

"It was a major blowout," said Mark Conard, who planned the event. The party marked no special occasion — it was just a chance to get people together.

Conard carried the "Yellow Rose of Texas" theme throughout the party by using flowerpieces of wildflowers surrounding a big yellow rose. Valets ("carhands") hired to park cars wore yellow bandanas around their necks.

Woodsum returns home

Kristin Woodsum of Northville returned home last week from four weeks of work with the Student Conservation Association.

Woodsum worked in Manassas, Virginia with nine other high school-aged students from around the country.

"We worked at national parks and camped for four weeks," she said. "We built boardwalks, dug up a silt barrier and cut down Tree of Heaven, an exotic tree that takes over and kills other trees."

Woodsum and her coworkers also cleared bridle trails and walking trails in the parks.

She became interested in the program when she took a conservation class at Northville High School. She applied and was accepted along with 400 other students.

"It was really fun," she said. "I had the best time. The best part was meeting so many other people from other states."

Woodsum plans to attend University of Michigan this fall, where she will study environmental engineering.

Marine Pvt. BRIAN P. OLEARY, son of Laura G. Elwell of Northville, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 13-week training cycle, Oleary was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1990 graduate of Northville High School, Oleary joined the Marine Corps in March of 1991.

Marine Major JOHN W. SAPUTO, son of Russell J. and Catherine A. Saputo of Northville, recently returned from Operation Desert Storm and Operation Sea Angel while serving at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, California.

Operation Sea Angel employed more than 7,000 Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force personnel to assist in a massive relief effort to Bangladesh's southern coast and nearby islands to provide much needed food and supplies to approximately 1.7 million people recovering from a cyclone that claimed 138,000 lives.

Northville home to seven advanced EMU graduates

Eastern Michigan University conferred advanced degrees to the following Northville students in April:

LENORE E. BAUMANN, SUBAN D. CHERESH-COSENZE, DOUGLAS C. MOYER, MICHAEL J. ODEN, LINDAM. OKASINSKI, CAROLYN C. PUMP, ANN M. RAFFOUL.

JUSTIN ATKINS, DEBORAH MARSH, DAVID ORLANDINI and MARY ORLOWSKI of Northville are among the Alma College students named to the dean's list for outstanding academic performance during the 1991 Winter Term, which ended April 19.

Students who achieve a 3.5 or better grade point average during a term, while carrying a minimum of 13 credits (at least 8 of which are evaluative grades), are named to the dean's list.

Atkins, a 1989 graduate of Au Gres-Sims High School, is the son of Sherri Atkins and the late J. Glen Atkins. He is a sophomore majoring in biology.

Marsh, a 1987 graduate of Northville High School, is the daughter of Aloysius Marsh and Judith Marsh. She received a bachelor of arts degree in international business administration in April.

Orlandini, a 1988 graduate of Northville High School, is the son of Walter and Carlotta Orlandini. He is a junior majoring in history.

Orlowski, a 1988 graduate of Ladywood High School, is the daughter of Robert and Rebecca Orlowski. She is a junior majoring in French.

The following Northville students were named to the dean's list for the winter semester at Western Michigan University:

JOANNE BOLDA, CARL BROWN, REBECCA CARNEY, TODD CLASON, JAY DEUBY, ANGELADRESSLER, MARGARET FALKOWSKI, PATRICK FUELLING, SCOTT GETTIG, SHELLY HUIZING, KENNETH CHRISTOPHER LAZZARA, GREGORY POULOS, KARL SIEGERT, KENNETH SIEGERT, JAMES THOMPSON, WENDI TREXLER, JENNIFER URBANUS, CATHERINE WATERS.

To be eligible, students must have completed at least a 3.5 grade point average in at least 14 hours of graded class work.

The following Northville students received bachelor of business administration degrees at Northwood Institute's recent graduation ceremonies:

KATHRYN MARY AVIGNONE, CHRISTOPHER TODD JEANNOTTE, JENNIFER LYNN KUFFNER, MARK ANDREW YETSO.

Robert E. Naegele, a retired Dow Chemical Company executive and former board of directors member, delivered the 32nd annual commencement address to the 466 associate degree and 576 bachelor of business administration degree graduates.

TRUDY WILLIAMS of Northville has been named to the spring semester dean's list at Taylor University. A graduate of Fairlane Christian School, Trudy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williams, and is a sophomore at Taylor majoring in history.

To be named to the dean's list at Taylor, a student must achieve at least a 3.6 average on a 4.0 scale while carrying twelve or more credit hours.

The College of the University of Chicago awarded a bachelor's degree to KERSTIN M. MOORE, the daughter of Northville resident Claudia B. Moore and Grosse Pointe Park resident William S. Moore, at a June 15 ceremony in Rockefeller Memorial Chapel in Chicago.

Moore graduated from Mercy High School in 1986. She was a linguistics major at the University of Chicago. Moore was a volunteer at Wyley Children's Hospital and a tutor for the University's Students Volunteer Bureau. She also has studied in Germany. Moore plans to pursue a career in teaching, with an emphasis on working with disadvantaged children.

The University of Chicago is a private, nondenominational institution of higher education and research with a total enrollment of 10,000. The College of the University of Chicago, with 3,300 students, is a small, four-year, liberal arts college within a major research university.

Two Northville students recently received diplomas from Hillsdale College.

JOHN L. BAUMANN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baumann, received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration/marketing and German.

AMY PHILLIPS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, received a bachelor of arts in business administration/marketing. She served as rush chair of Chi Omega sorority and was a member of the American Marketing Association. She was also on the dean's list for the spring semester.

Joel Underwood at a Michigan Technological University physics workshop

DAVID SCOTT, a Ferris State University alumnus from Northville, is continuing a language and culture study in Japan which he started as an undergraduate.

Scott was one of the first Ferris students to study at the Japan Center for Michigan Universities, completing an academic program on Japanese culture and language from September of 1990 to April of 1991. He has extended his stay in Japan to take a four-month course at International Christian University in Tokyo where he learns the Japanese language and gives presentations to Japanese transplant companies that have ties in the United States.

JOEL UNDERWOOD of Northville participated in a physics workshop at Michigan Technological University. Underwood, son of Shirley Underwood, recently participated in the Summer Institute for the Arts and Sciences at Michigan Tech.

The program at Michigan Tech is sponsored by the State Board of Education for Michigan high school students. The institute gives students an opportunity to explore several different career topics in the arts and sciences. Underwood is from Northville High School where he was freshman class president, Student of the Week and received the student advisory award. He also participated in Students Against Driving Drunk and theater.

Garden of the Month/July

Barrys' garden of history

By PATRICIA ZIELKE
Special Writer

Walking up the long red brick path to the handsome Victorian house on the corner of Randolph and High Streets, it was easy to imagine two young women, wearing crisp cotton high-necked dresses and wide-brimmed straw hats adorned with cabbage roses, seated on the shaded wide veranda.

Sharing a cool pitcher of lemonade, they chatted and watched as their children set up wire wickets on the lawn, giggling in anticipation of a game of croquet and later, apple pie and cold glasses of milk... and then the screened door opened and I was greeted by MariAnne Barry and her three youngsters, and quickly returned to my reality of blue denim, cotton T-shirts and Adidas.

MariAnne and Thom Barry and their three youngsters have lived in the house for the past five years. They are the second family to occupy the dwelling in its 150-year history. The 10-room home is dove grey brick with gun-metal grey trim. The long porch is supported by ornate Ionic columns. Spotless white wicker chairs with floral patterned cushions decorate the area providing a comfortable and inviting atmosphere in which to relax. Baskets of thick fern hang from the beams and sway gently in the summer breeze.

When the Barrys moved in, they invited Scott Kunst, a historical gardener from Ann Arbor, to assist in identifying some of the unfamiliar plantings. The main gardens consist of three 20- by 25-foot rectangular beds, which Kunst said was the preferred design in the late 1800s and early 1900s. The Barrys maintained the basic configuration, but have added their own personal touches, such as a beautiful red Hibiscus that shares the neighborhood with Peonies, purple Loose Strife, Black Eyed Susans, Shasta Daisies, Delphiniums, Menarda, Astilbe, Coral Bells, Iris, White Veronica, Lupine, Columbine, Monks Hood, Asters, Foxglove, Yarrow, Bleeding Heart, Laitris, and berries. Berries? How'd they get in there? Well, there goes the neighborhood!

Along the Randolph Street side is a line of tall Lilac bushes and a tree fort that Grandfather Woody built for the children. Many lovely old trees provide beauty and shade, such as a Witch Hazel and 75 year old Horse Chestnut trees. The children collect the chestnuts, admiring them for their rich brown satiny finish. Three huge Black Walnut trees are a feast for the eyes and for the squirrels who are busily stockpiling for the winter.

On the bank above West Street is a spectacular line of Tiger and Day Lilies that just finished blooming, which MariAnne transplanted to space formerly occupied by Locust trees.

An old Wisteria stands at the front porch, slowly winding its way up the pergola, as clusters of fern have gathered at its feet applauding the ascent. At the back of the house is a free form curved red brick patio filled with flower boxes brimming with Geranium, Asparagus fern and Vinca vines, and a white Mulberry tree that held the distinction of being a "Michigan Big Tree." This is determined by measuring across the tree from one branch to another. However, in 1980, the tree lost a major branch and consequently, its title. The tree has recovered from its injury and is doing very well.

Dozens of Iris had been planted in the 1940s by a former owner who was an Iris fancier. The Iris failed to bloom, so MariAnne dug them up, separated and fertilized them, and they rewarded her efforts by blooming into beautiful tall hybrid bearded Iris.

Also adding interest and color to the area are varieties of lilies such as Madonna and Tiger plus an abundance of original plantings such as Lavender and white Phlox, a Christmas Rose that blooms in winter, Fruited Quince, a prolific climbing pink rose (approximately 2,000 blooms this season), a bush rose and Harrison's yellow rose.

Thom developed his own "cutting garden" which holds a small herb area that he visits regularly when preparing favorite Italian culinary delights for his family. Orange Cosmos and Zinnias are mixed in with other annual and perennial favorites, providing a lavish display of color.

And then there's the ravine! The size of a city lot, this was once a pond — and is now a mini-forest where slate tiles mark a walking trail filled with Jack in the Pulpit, Trillium, Lady Slipper, Wild Geranium, Violets, Lilies, Fern, Pink Spirea, Snow Ball plants and Perry Winkle. And, an occasional wood nymph can be seen on a clear night.

MariAnne enjoys her career as part-time speech pathologist, and Thom owns a heating and air conditioning company. Though the Barrys find their daily schedules quite full, they always make time for gardening because it's a joy — not a burden. Plants are generously shared with friends and neighbors, allowing many people to enjoy the beauty that fills the Barrys' garden.

Q My husband and children are all Catholics but I have never formally joined the faith. May I still be buried with my family at All Saints Cemetery?

A Our cemeteries are for Catholics and all members of their families. So, of course, you may be buried with your family. And to ensure that you will all be together, we suggest that you and your family choose a family site, now, before it is needed. At our All Saints and Resurrection locations, we offer lower rates (as much as 20% lower) on family plots. We also allow time payments, credit card purchases and refunds on unused sites should you change your mind or move away. For more information on All Saints or any of the four Catholic cemeteries in the Mt. Elliott Cemetery Association, please call 623-9633.

CROSSROADS

This is the time of year when most of us like to slow down and savor summer. Photograph the water birds in Kensington Park. Take a picnic to the nearest stretch of grass. Let the sun shine on our faces and forget that the grass at home still needs to be mown.

If you have more active ambitions, there are a million things to do in Michigan.

MAGIC GET-TOGETHER

You might know him as Milky the Clown. In Colon, Michigan, where he goes every year to Abbott's annual Magic Get-Together, he is known as Clare Cummings. The Get-Together is Aug. 7-10 this year.

Clare is 80 years old now. He has lived in Birmingham since 1917, when "it wasn't much more than a one-horse town." He fell in love with magic when he was eight years old, got a Mysto Magic set for Christmas and was soon entertaining his neighborhood friends on Sunday afternoon.

By age 13 he was performing for Boy Scout troops and hanging around with a magician called George Pullin, who passed on all of his professional equipment to the budding magician.

"When I was getting ready to go into the service during World War II, I knew I had to go to Colon," Cummings said. "The magic performers used to go there on a Saturday afternoon in summer. My girlfriend Peg, now my wife, went with me to Abbott's Get-Together in Colon in 1942."

"They held the Get-Together in the opera house then, but the festival was so popular the opera house soon wasn't big enough. By the time I came back after the war in 1946, they were holding it in a tent. The tent burned down, and it moved out of town."

Cummings became Milky the Clown after Twin Pines Farm Dairy discovered him doing a marionette and live rabbit show called Peter, Clare and Oscar. "They wanted a magician and clown. I performed on television from behind a table, so I was only a clown from the waist up."

"I've been retired from DuPont for 20 years now, but we never miss the Get-Together at Colon. The hardest part is finding a room, because there are no hotels in Colon. People stay in Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Three Rivers... every place."

Clare Cummings thinks the Magic Get-Together is a great place for families, especially those with kids who had the same interest in magic that he had 72 years ago. He won't be performing this year, but you'll find him Aug. 7-10 in Colon.

And if you think he doesn't perform any more, think again. He will perform for the International Brotherhood of Magicians this fall.

For information on the Magic Get-Together, call Abbott's Magic Co. at (616) 432-3235.

MICHIGAN FESTIVAL

The fifth-annual celebration of the arts and folklife of Michigan will be on stage in East Lansing Aug. 9-18 when the Michigan Festival starts the music again this year.

More than 350,000 people swarm the streets of the city and the Michigan State University campus for this great festival.

Four weekend days of entertainment include 200 performances on six stages and 10 evening concerts with headline acts. Grammy Award winner Bonnie Raitt launches the opening night performance on Friday, Aug. 9. Country music star Reba McEntire follows Saturday, Aug. 10.

Other name performers include Michigan's Chenille Sisters (Monday, Aug. 12); jazz saxophonist Tim Cunningham and guitarist Earl Klugh (Tuesday, Aug. 13); the Hispanic American rock quartet Los Lobos (Thursday, Aug. 15); and Motown's The Spinners (Friday, Aug. 16). Folk guitarist Leo Kottke also will perform.

The arts come to life in New York's Artpark

By SALLY SAWYER
Special Writer

There are paintings, but there are no walls. There are artists, but they are under the trees. If you would like to introduce your family to hands-on and face-to-face art in a natural setting, you will find that experience at Artpark in Lewiston, New York.

It is just downstream from Niagara Falls.

Walk the perimeter of the park and you'll see large art works in progress. "Omega," a very popular finished piece, has been on loan from the New York artist Owen Morrel since June 1980. Morrel trained at Cranbrook Art Academy in Bloomfield Hills.

"Omega" is 110 feet long, 42 feet high, 48 feet wide and is suspended over the Niagara Gorge. There are 52 see-through steps to climb, and every platform is at a seven-foot angle. Mirrors reflect the water below and the clouds above. It took me 15 minutes to get to the top, heeding the cheering section below: "Don't look down!"

Once aloft, I experienced a weightless, heavenly floating feeling. No funhouse on Halloween could have been more exciting.

Near "Omega" is an outsized sandpile for toddlers and a working forge where a sweat-beaded smithy hammers pig-iron into shapes. While in the woods, you may visit the turtle-shaped Indian burial mound.

In clearances are the theater-in-the-woods and The Performance Center where University of Niagara drama students in multi-colored overalls have fun with audiences and get invaluable experience. Bring a basket lunch, find a picnic bench and be entertained while you eat.

Delicious smells and growing appetites drew us to The Eatery in the Artpark, a huge covered wooden ramp with many levels, where all sorts of "making art together" activities happen near the upper parking level.

While sipping sun tea and eating spinach pie, we hear the rhythmic beat of an African drum and an eerie pipe, wailing to help children create dance stories and music. The children make the instruments themselves from large plastic pop bottles and cardboard tubes.

After lunch, we follow the aroma of rich, brown chocolate to The Log Cabin Kitchen. Today, desserts made with chocolate are being demonstrated, and warm, luscious samples passed out. Further along the El, a staff person helps a retiree and a mother with two children make paper for the first time. From this area you can hear the whirr of the potters' wheels.

Walking a few steps more, we see the look of satisfaction on young faces as they smooth clay. A preschooler giggles and holds up a negative image of his hand made by squishing clay between his chubby fingers. His mother, clay on her nose, sighs happily as she scrubs him clean. "Boy, am I glad we didn't dress up."

The large stainless steel sink is also near other activity workshops, where paper-plate masks are made and impressionist mural finger-paintings taught. The daytime activities are what sets Artpark apart.

At Artpark you will find gifted young people like Stefanie Samuels of Ann Arbor. A granted artist-in-residence last year, she works mainly in clay, concrete and glass and was chosen not only for her many professional credits but for her affability. We found her talking freely with children in "the Clay Place" and showing them how they, too, can create exciting and beautiful things with their hands.

Samuels graduated in 1983 from University of Michigan in ceramics and Asian studies. She started out studying law and has always had a keen interest in jazz. She feels her art is influenced by everything she has learned; the disciplines of law, the rhythm and flow of music and most recently, by Inuit art from a four-month Alaskan trip.

The evening crowd at Artpark is entirely different — all spit and polish. They are at one of the most unique theaters and performance spaces in the country — in fact, the raison d'être for Artpark.

Amazingly, the price is nominal. In the early 1960s, when art appropriations were more plentiful, the New York State Legislature was active in urging development of historic sites as tourist attractions. Former Senator Earl W. Brydges and former Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller enthusiastically endorsed the idea and saw to it that monies were secured to build an open-air amphitheater in the village of Lewiston for "historic pageants."

The theater is a permanent building, seating 2,300, built near the bottom of a hill. At large performances or during very warm weather, the back wall of the audience side of the building opens up like a garage door, and lawn seating up the hill can be sold. (The theater has no air conditioning or heat.)

The season opened June 5 with "Big River," the family-oriented musical about Huck Finn. Artpark produces its own musicals and has a full union house. It is privileged to have Dr. Augustine Towey, C.M. as its director. He is the head of theater at the University of Niagara and is well-known in New York City.

Artpark had its gala opening in 1974. It is funded by New York State's Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation through the National Heritage Trust. Additional revenues come from earned income, private and public grants and contributions.

Due to cutbacks in funding, this year for the first time Artpark is charging a daytime workshop pass fee — $3.50 for adults, $2 for children plus a $3 parking fee. Some 250 miles from Detroit, Artpark in Lewiston is one of New York State's best kept "secrets."

The park is open through Aug. 25. If you would like a brochure, write Artpark, Box 371, Lewiston, New York, 14092.

Colon ready to host a magical weekend

By MIKE MICHAELSON
Special Writer

It's no illusion! There's magic in the air in southwest Michigan when the tiny town of Colon hosts its Magic Get-Together Aug. 7-10. Colon is the home of Abbott's Magic Co., a unique business that makes and sells magic tricks, puts on magic shows for visitors, and stages this huge annual magic festival.

When you're looking for an entertaining and offbeat outing, this is a good trip to have up your sleeve. Faster than you can say "Hey, presto!" a little deft sleight of hand will put a smile on the faces of the most careworn youngsters and turn bored "Are we there yet?" into "Awesomes!"

Colon styles itself "The Magic Capital of the World." There's a street named Blackstone (in honor of magician Harry Blackstone, Sr. who made his home there from 1925 until 1958), a Magic Carpet cocktail lounge, and Magic City hardware store. The high school team is called the Running Rabbits, and there's even a graveyard with some unusual headstones that magicians are dying to get into.

Affable Greg Bordner runs Abbott's, co-founded by his father in 1934. The showroom is housed in a cinderblock building, its stark black walls adorned with painted white skeletons. Inside, shelves and showcases are crammed with magic tricks and books on magic, and walls are covered with photographs and assorted magic memorabilia. The ceiling is a museum piece, entirely covered with posters, most of them originals, many of them rare, valued at $30,000.

There's a small stage where Greg and his sales staff — all professional magicians — put on magic shows. If you're part of a group, you can arrange a show in advance. Or you can simply walk in unannounced and browse. One of the resident magicians is always on hand to demonstrate tricks. The shop carries about 100 magic tricks that cost only $2 and two dozen or so that you can buy for a buck. There also are also gift sets with multiple tricks — ideal as presents.

Abbott's claims to be the world's largest magic manufacturing company and keeps 15 employees busy producing a line of magic products that ranges from inexpensive novelties to ambitious illusions that market for several hundred dollars. It also publishes about 200 books and pamphlets on magic and offers a 506-page, 3-pound catalog.

You can spend $20 on a vanishing pitcher of milk or about $2,500 to make a lovely female assistant vanish (which may seem counterproductive). If it is a live elephant you want to make disappear, Abbott's can help you create this illusion, as it did both for a television show and for the Broadway stage. The tab could run as high as $7,000 (elephant not included).

Many of the tricks that cost only a few dollars are easy for a child to master — such as a stack of nickels that changes to dimes, and a black-and-white picture book that suddenly is transformed to color — and then magically wiped clean as its pages become blanks.

"Many of our simple, inexpensive tricks date back far into history," says salesman-magician James Schofield. "Our chips-and-disappearing-ball trick, which sells for a couple of dollars, has its origins in ancient Egypt."

Another $2 trick is three-card monte, the notorious street game in which gamblers are invited to "find the lady."

More than 1,000 magicians converge upon Colon for the annual Magic Get-Together Aug. 7-10, literally doubling the population of the tiny town.

Among the famous masters of illusion who have attended are Doug Henning, Harry Blackstone, Sr. and his son, Harry Blackstone, Jr., who has performed every year but one since 1971. Public shows featuring top-rate acts are held each evening at the high school auditorium, with a Saturday matinee at a reduced price.

Mason offers visitors a variety of activities — including antique shopping. "Peddler's Row" has 11 booths of antiques and collectibles.

Antiques come alive in Mason

What's the difference between junk and junkie?

About 20 years.

If you have a yen for one-of-a-kind home furnishings, somebody else's discarded clothes, or funky memorabilia, the small town of Mason is worth a visit.

Mason Antiques District bills itself as "The County Seat of Antiques." The ten buildings are part of an old railroad depot complex converted to a home to four antique malls and 75 dealers.

Old Mill Antiques Mall includes a collection of pottery, art glass and fine prints. A number of Far Eastern collectibles are available, including Thai papercut art, Chinese Mandarin squares and rice paper painting. The prices are not cheap, but on many items are not unreasonable by today's standards.

Next door is Depot Village Warehouse, the bargain basement of Mason. The warehouse has the ambience — and bargains — of an old-fashioned flea market.

Buy of the day? A hand-made Chinese bamboo stool similar to peasant furniture seen in a recent trip to the people's republic. At $8 — and the cost of a scrub bucket full of Murphy's Oil Soap — it makes a dandy lamp table.

Mason Antiques Market is a well-packed, two-building complex with a full selection of advertising art, vintage magazines, jewelry, furniture, primitives and whatever. Just upstairs from the market is The Garment District.

To get a pantaloone leg up on Northville's Victorian Festival, have a rummage through the merchandise here. The upstairs shop features clothing from about the turn of the century to the 1960s, as well as theatrical costumes. Men's, women's and children's clothes are relegated to their own section in the good-sized collection.

You may not have been born in a barn, but you can shop in one. Peddler's Row features 11 booths of antiques in a setting which appears to have been a former horse stable — or railroad garage. As in the Depot Village Warehouse, a little foraging through the dust is in order here.

The other locations, such as The Country House, Front Porch Antiques and The Loft Antiques Co-op are laid out in the standard antique shop style.

Nearby, Mason Depot Diner offers breakfast, lunch and dinner — as well as ice cream and homemade pies.

For Northville-area daytrippers, Mason can be conveniently combined with an excursion to Williamston, which features a downtown full of antique stores and an antique mall on the city's outskirts.

Mason is just southeast of Lansing. To get to Mason Antiques District — five miles south of Interstate 96 — take U.S. 127 to the Cedar Street Exit. From there, go south one mile to the curve, turn left on North Street. Continue to the railroad tracks.

Atrium Gallery to feature florals

Featured artist Agnes Hodge, an award-winning water colorist, will be showing florals at the Atrium Gallery on North Center in Northville.

There will also be Raku work by John Martin and Jeff Hall and new paper work by Edith Rose. Porcelain and glass perfume bottles, soft sculptures hand woven by Lynn Spitz-Nagel and new clay pieces by Sue Kolb (featured in August's Detroit Monthly Magazine) will also be on display through Aug. 15.

FALL ART: Northville artist Linda Banks Ord will be opening her home and studio to the community this fall for an exhibition, sale and studio tour, tentatively scheduled for Oct. 27.

It will be open to all, but for a personalized invitation with directions to her home/studio, please write or call Ken Ord, Kelly Services, Inc., 999 Big Beaver Road, Troy, MI 48064; 362-4444, ext. 528. Linda Banks Ord's work is available year round at Atrium Gallery of Northville, 113 N. Center, 349-4131, or by contacting the artist at her home.

ART SHOW: New Morning School will sponsor an annual juried art show Saturday, Nov. 23.

The show will run from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main St. A $1.50 admission will be collected at the door to benefit New Morning School. Artists or crafts people interested in participating should call 420-3467 for further information.

MUSIC AT THE BANDSHELL: The Northville Arts Commission presents a series of magnificent evenings of music at the bandshell in downtown Northville every Friday. All shows start at 7:30 p.m.

The schedule includes:

- August 2: Novi Concert Band.
- August 9: Spirit of America Band.
- August 16: Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble.
- August 23: Squander.
- August 30: (to be announced).
- Sept. 6: Novi Concert Band.
- Sept. 13: Sweatband (Schoolcraft)

PSYCHATHON: Psychathon '91, a parapsychology gala fundraising event for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), will be held from noon on Sunday, Aug. 25 to midnight on Monday, Aug. 26 at the Novi Hilton.

Psychathon '91 is being sponsored by Diana, host of "The Shores of Your Mind" television show and weekly guest on the WDFX - Fox Radio's Savage and Steve program. The event will feature over 60 psychics, astrologers, handwriting analysts, tarot card readers, numerologists and many other giving their advice to those contributing to the MDA.

Additionally, Psychathon '91 will feature celebrity appearances and a nightclub setting with local entertainers performing for those awaiting a reading. Refreshments will be available.

KARAOKE: The Novi Hilton's Whispers Lounge is looking for a few good singers.

They will be holding Karaoke-assisted auditions on Friday and Saturday evenings. Singers are asked to reserve performance times. Phone 349-4000 to do so or for more information. The Novi Hilton is located on Haggerty Road just north of Eight Mile Road.

Theater group plans productions

The Plymouth Theater Guild is currently accepting applications for directors for its 1991-92 season. The productions still needing directors are: "Steel Magnolias," "On Golden Pond," and "Brighton Beach Memoirs."

The first show of the season will be "Steel Magnolias." Tentative production dates are October 25, 26, 27, November 1, 2, 3, 8, and 9, with auditions the second week of September.

"On Golden Pond" is planned for the last three weekends in March, with auditions the end of January. The last play of the season, "Brighton Beach Memoirs," is currently scheduled for the first three weekends in May, with auditions in March.

Persons interested should send a resume, references, and salary history to Plymouth Theatre Guild, P.O.

Box 451, Plymouth, MI 48170. For information, further details, or to express an interest, call PTG at 349-7110.

PHOTOGRAPHS: Great moments in America's recent history are among the images captured in "The Photographs of Arthur B. Rickerby, the UPI and Life Years, 1941-1971," exhibition opened at the Detroit Historical Museum last month and continues through January 1992.

The 70-piece collection of the work of the famed photojournalist is a nationally travelling exhibition which is coming to the Detroit Historical Museum directly from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

In his 30-year career, Rickerby rarely missed an opportunity to photograph a political convention, major sports event, or international news story. Some of the photos in the exhibition feature well-known Detroit locations and celebrities such as Alex Karras, Lem Barney and the Ford Motor Company Proving Grounds. They also depict landmarks in America's history shown in Life magazine such as the Japanese surrender aboard the U.S.S. Missouri in 1945 and the day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

Sponsored by Aetna Life and Casualty, this retrospective of Rickerby's marks the first time his collected works are being shown to a national audience. The Detroit Historical Museum, a Detroit Historical Department institution, is open Wednesday through Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. It is located at 5401 Woodward at Kirby in the University Cultural Center.

ROSIER PLAYERS: The Rosier Players will be in Ann Arbor, at Cobblestone Farm, during the week of July 30 - Aug. 3.

Show dates run Tuesday through Saturday, and show time is 8 p.m. Prices are $3.50 for adults, and $1.50 for children. Babies in arms are free.

The Rosier Players, last of the old-time repertory tent shows, is still on the road today. Established in 1898 by Richard Henderson of Mason, Mich., the show has been in continuous operation ever since, making the Rosier Players the longest running show in history.

Nine-team Jr. field finalized

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

The nine-team field for the National Amateur Baseball Federation (NABF) Junior World Series was finalized late Monday. The qualifiers include teams from every corner of the country and another from Canada.

"This is for kids aged 15-16, so it's another level up from the sophomore tournament," Tournament Director Bob Frellick said. "From what I've seen and heard, this should be very competitive. We've never had a field that represents every area of the country."

Northville Mickey Mantle — coming off a 12-8 regular season — will serve as the host team. The locals ended the regular season back on July 20, but manager Joe Staknis believes his team is ready.

"We've had some pretty good scrimmages and practices," he said. "I'm not so sure the time off isn't well-come in order for us to refocus on the task at hand."

Northville finished in the top third of its 26-team league this summer, and was able to pick up four quality pitchers in a recent draft. The move was designed to build a little more depth and help give staff ace Steve Christenson a little help.

"We've been very competitive all year," Staknis said. "With the additional pitchers, we won't have to rely on our regular pitchers to go all the way. We have much better depth."

Northville will open the double-elimination event today (Aug. 1) at 3 p.m. against the Acworth Athletics, winners of the Dalton, Georgia Region.

"We've never had a team from that far south before," Frellick said.

The other first-round matches played at the Northville High School Field include: a 9 a.m. contest between Bonnie's Bees and Lexington Dixie, and a noon match-up between Dow Commercial and the Channooka Merchants. Bonnie's Bees from Brooklyn are the New York Region representatives, while Dixie (the 1989 Junior World Series champs) is the Kentucky champion. Dow Commercial is the Redmond, Wash. qualifier and Channooka is the St. Louis champ based in Minooka, Ill.

The fourth game today will pit the Windsor (Ont.) Titans against Marion Merrell Dow at 3 p.m. at the Novi High School Field. Windsor is the Michigan Region representative, and Marion Merrell Dow is the Cincinnati (Ohio) Region winner. Bowling Green Churchill, the Maumt (Ohio) Region winner, drew a first-round bye.

The finals will be held on Aug. 4, but the time has yet to be determined.

"We're trying to set out sights high," Staknis said. "We feel we've got as good a chance as anybody else to get through. If we play defense like we have and the pitching holds together, we should be a factor."

Northville Koufax notches 7-2 victory

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

One down and one to go. The National Amateur Baseball Federation Sophomore World Series concluded last weekend at the Northville High School Field and the NABF Junior Series is slated to begin today (see related story).

The sophomore tournament — for players in the 13-14 age group — featured five of the top sandlot teams in the nation. Miamisburg (Ohio) Post 165 won the double-elimination title, but it was the host squad, Northville Sandy Koufax A, that provided much of the excitement for the local crowds.

For just the second time in six years, the local entry managed to win a game in the series. After falling 11-6 to Miamisburg in round one, Northville topped the Dayton Raiders 7-2 in the consolation bracket to knock the Maryland Region champs out of the tournament.

"It was a great game," Northville Coach George Surdu said. "The team executed well both on the field and at the plate."

"It was a great thrill for me to see the faces of all 18 players as we got the last out."

Led by local players like Scott Anderson and Jason Rice — and draft picks Mike Brusseau, Jason Folmann, Kevin Sullivan and Mark Taylor from Riverview — the Koufax squad outlasted their opponents 32-22 for the tournament and finished with a 1-2 record.

Outstanding pitching and timely hitting was the key in the win over Dayton on July 26. Pitchers Taylor, Folmann and Brusseau combined to throw a one-hitter, while the Northville hitters collected 11 hits and scored five unanswered runs in the first three innings. Sullivan led the way with four hits, Brusseau added three and Rice chipped in with two. "Our pitching was excellent," Surdu said.

MIAMISBURG 11, NORTHVILLE 6: The locals outlasted the eventual champs 9-7 in the opener on July 25, but committed six errors in the field and walked seven Miamisburg batters.

"Quite frankly, I thought we could have won this game," Surdu said. "The difference was all the errors and walks. Baseball is a team sport and when you aren't playing as a team, bad things happen."

The bright spot for Northville was a four-hit, five-run rally in the sixth inning. Singles by Ron Marshall, Taylor and Sullivan set up a two-run single by Anderson.

"Unfortunately, it was a classic example of 'too little, too late,'" Surdu said. "After that, however, we knew that we could play with anyone in the tournament."

Steve Lang makes All American team

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
Staff Writer

With school records, pool records, conference records and All-State accolades, Northville's Steve Lang accomplished just about everything a high school diver possibly could during his brilliant prep career.

The ultimate honor, however, came long after his senior season ended. In mid-June, Lang was notified that he had been selected a High School All-American by the National Interscholastic Swimming Coaches Association of America (NISCAA). He joined just 31 public school divers from across the nation on the team.

"I didn't expect it, but my coach (Mark Heiden) thought I had a good chance," Lang said. "It came as a big surprise to me."

Lang became eligible for the award by breaking the 410-point barrier in all three of his 11-dive meets — including Conference, Regional and State competitions.

"We videotaped our meets — including Steve's dives — and we sent the tapes to the NISCAA," Northville Coach Mark Heiden explained. "In the meets where he qualified, Steve's dives were phenomenal."

"Getting this award is a great way for him to end his high school career," Lang started diving at age eight, but didn't get into competitive diving until age 14 as an eighth-grader at Meads Mill Middle School.

Under the tutelage of teammate Rob Devyak — who later became a conference champion for Northville in 1989 — both Lang and Larry Osleck quickly became valuable varsity divers as freshmen in '88.

"With Rob and Larry around, we kind of coached each other," Lang recalled. "Having an older guy like Rob around definitely helped us improve."

"Larry and I were competitive as freshmen and sophomores, but once Rob graduated our roles kind of changed. In the last two years of high school we were more like a team than two individuals. We've been best friends since junior high, but we've really become closer towards the end of high school."

After earning All-State honors as a junior, Lang put together a storybook senior season. With Lang and Osleck, the Mustangs boasted the state's top 1-2 diving corps. As a matter of fact, the duo had a stranglehold on first place in every regular-season dual meet for the last two years.

"We've had a lot of success, but we worked hard," Lang said. "We practiced from 5:30 to 7 a.m. every day before school and then from 2:30 to 5 p.m. after school. But it was worth it, and getting awards like this helps. It feels good to accomplish your goals."

At the WLAA Conference Meet, Lang won the title with his best outing ever. His point total of 494.25 was not only a personal-best effort, it shattered the conference record by 30 points. Lang went on to capture the MHSAA Regional title and then placed third at the MHSAA State Meet with a 415.55 score. Osleck added a sixth-place finish at the state meet and grabbed All-State honors as well.

Lang currently holds the Northville school and pool records as well as the WLAA mark. He applied to a number of colleges and eventually picked Michigan State.

"I applied and was accepted to Penn State, but I want to dive for Michigan State," Lang said. "I'm already enrolled."

"I feel confident in my ability but I know that high school and college diving are very different."

At the Northville Swim Team banquet in March, Lang wanted to publicly thank Rob Devyak for having such an influence on his diving. He also had kind words for his father, Joe Lang.

"My dad was my biggest fan," he said. "He was at every meet — He was always there for me. He was very instrumental in my success."

According to Lang, the great diving tradition at Northville High School will be carried on by young Mike Maloure, who will be a sophomore this fall.

"I expect big things from Mike," Lang said.

Heiden is also impressed with Maloure's potential, and knows that performances by Devyak, Osleck and Lang will be the measuring stick that all future Mustang divers will be gauged. Heiden also has high hopes for Lang and his chances in college.

"I think he's got a better chance (of making it) than 85 percent of the divers that move on to compete collegiately," he said.

Delwal ready for playoffs

Novi-based Delwal — in its first year of Livonia Collegiate Baseball League competition — outpointed Hines Park Lincoln Mercury 30-29 to grab the fourth and final post-season spot.

Delwal finished with a 14-12-1 record while Hines Park wound up in fifth place (14-13-1) in the eight-team race.

"We're happy to get to this first step, but we were a little disapointed in where we ended up in the standings," Delwal Coach Bob Peterson said.

Delwal's 15-9 win over third place Fieger on July 21 helped the team secure the final playoff spot. Delwal was scheduled to play No. 1 seeded Walter's Appliance (20-7-1) at 5:30 p.m. on July 31 at Livonia's Ford Field. Fieger meets second-place Redford Little Caesars (16-11-1) at 8 p.m.

"The guys are very excited and I think we are mentally ready to go," Peterson said. "I think it will be an extremely competitive playoff. We feel we have two of the top pitchers in the league (Tim Bruce and Leo Hutchinson), but Walter's has, undoubtedly, the best hitting team."

The rest of the playoff field is understandably leery about tangling with Delwal. Peterson's squad compiled an impressive 6-5-1 record against the other playoff qualifiers.

With a first round win, Delwal would play at 8 p.m. today (Aug. 1) at Ford Field. A loss would put Delwal into the consolation bracket and they would play that same day but at 5:30 p.m.

The playoff winner gets an automatic berth in the All-American Amateur Baseball Association World Series, held on Aug. 12-18 in Johnstown, Pa.

ALL STAR SELECTIONS: The LCBL All-Star team, as selected by the league coaches, has been announced and three Delwal players made either the first or second teams. Pitcher Tim Bruce (University of Detroit) may have been the LCBL's premier hurler, so his first-team berth wasn't a surprise. Delwal's other first teamer is designated hitter Eric Sumpter (Michigan State). Sumpter sports a fine .381 average.

League Line

BASEBALL East tops West

H LEAGUE: As the season finale, the H League coaches selected team representatives to face off in the East versus West All Star Game. The East was held in check most of the game by West pitchers Justin Walneo (Indians), Kip Szostek (Astros) and Jason Santieu (Astros), but exploded for nine runs in the seventh to secure a 13-7 victory. Wes Morland (Reds) was the star for the East, collecting a home run and a triple. Brian Shields (Padres), Jeff Marek (Orioles) and Brett Allen (Expos) all had two hits for the winners. Evan Edwards (Pirates), George Gunningham (Orioles) and George Kitakis (Pirates) pitched scoreless innings for the East. The West hitters here led by Rajeev Mehta (Braves) and Brad Peterson (Mets). . . The H League Pirates traveled to Grosse Pointe Woods to face the Denver team in an exhibition of league champions. The Pirates were too much for Denver and prevailed 11-4. Evan Edwards, David Whitbeck, Scott Whitbeck and George Kitakis hied Denver for just one hit. Mike Adamisin, Keith Sebastian and Mike Livanos paced the 11-hit Pirate attack.

Koufax notches 7-2 win

Miamisburg regained control in the bottom of the sixth, scoring four runs on four walks.

ST. LOUIS GASSNEY'S 15, NORTHVILLE 6: Several hours after disposing of Dayton, Northville was eliminated by the St. Louis Region champs.

"We just flat out let this one get away from us," Surdu admitted.

Gassney's had a narrow 14-12 advantage in the hitting department, but scored nine more times. Northville scored once in the first inning and then didn't get back on the board until the fifth, when Folmann's towering home run capped a four-run rally.

In the finals on July 28, Miamisburg topped the Michigan Region champs — Warren TSI — 4-3.

"It was a great week of baseball in Northville for everyone," Surdu said. "The caliber of play was outstanding."

The sophomore tournament had the best balance we've had in a long time," Tournament Director Bob Mellick said. "The championship game was a classic. We also had the best crowds we've ever had and the weather was beautiful."

Northville's leading hitter this season — Jason Rice — was picked up by Riverview and will play in the American Amateur Baseball Congress (AABC) Regionals next week in Westland.

Tourney draws 19

A total of 19 doubles teams participated in the Northville Community Recreation Tennis Tournament on July 20 at the Northville High School courts.

Three division champs were crowned in the event, which was co-sponsored by University of Michigan M-Care Health Center.

The men's doubles title for players age 20-29 went to the team of Matt Hankinson and David Kwon. They placed first by beating Dan Kozdron and Chris McCreedy 6-1 3-6 7-6 (7-4) in the finals.

In the men's doubles age 30-39 category, Jim Driscoll and A. Waas topped Todd Denton and Shluman Lee 6-2, 6-1 to take the title.

The mixed doubles champs were Caron Conway and Todd Denton, who beat Phillip Ulrich and Julie Ulrich 6-2, 6-2 in the finals.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to root your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at:

Detroit Edison's Lightning Location system can detect severe weather in advance and warn golfers

Detection system aids PGA events

When the Professional Golfers Association brings a tournament to the Detroit area, players such as Lee Trevino and Jack Nicklaus are secure in knowing that any electrical storms will be detected far enough in advance by Detroit Edison to keep them out of harm's way.

The Senior Players Championship in Dearborn this summer was a unique assignment for the Detroit Edison's Lightning Location and Protection system, which was developed 10 years ago to track potential weather problems affecting the utility's southeastern Michigan service area.

The vulnerability of players and their fans to fast-moving weather is real. The lightning-caused death of a spectator at the Hazeltine National Golf Club in Chaska, Minn., highlights the importance of the equipment.

With a computer monitor at the recent tournament in Dearborn tapped into the Detroit Edison system, the PGA was equipped with the most technologically advanced lightning detection equipment employed on its 118-event tour.

"It's the best system we have," said Henry Hughes, executive director of tournament services for the PGA tour. "Lightning is one of our major safety concerns and Detroit Edison's system gives us the most advanced warning and the most sophisticated look at the weather. It's a real safeguard for the players and spectators."

The system also provides a safeguard for Detroit Edison equipment, the primary reason it was developed. Detroit Edison has used the system, which provides lightning information from a 100-mile radius of three antenna stations, since March 1981.

Although Bruce Whitney, a Detroit Edison principal engineer, said company equipment such as transformers does not naturally attract lightning, it is susceptible because it often is located in remote locations or positioned higher than surrounding structures.

The lightning system was developed to predict the severity of a lightning storm as it passed through the service area. By providing the time — to the millisecond — as well as coordinates of the strike and the electric current magnitude of the lightning bolts, the system provides Detroit Edison officials the means to closely estimate the amount of damage and the number of crew hours needed for restoration work.

The estimates are available for on-screen display at any time.

Whitney, who developed the computer program that generates the information, said antenna sites in Milan, Yale and Fenton transmit the raw data for Detroit Edison analysis. Consumers Power Co. also contracts with Detroit Edison for the lightning system.

Obviously, lightning can play havoc with the Detroit Edison electrical system. Short circuits are the most common malady, but their effect on the equipment will vary. Transformers cannot be "healed" if penetrated by lightning, Whitney said, which can result in thousands to millions of dollars in damage, as well as inconvenience to customers.

Still, Whitney said the system has paid for itself many times, saving the company in personnel costs as crews are more efficiently dispatched to trouble areas.

Detroit Edison's weather system also includes these other components:

- Murray and Trettel, a Chicago-based weather forecasting service, provides storm warning and all-clear notification, as well as daily and extended forecasts.
- Color radar is used to monitor weather patterns.
- DAX, supplied by Western Connecticut State University from April to October, depicts the severity of storms entering the service area.
- Satellite links to National Weather Service provide bulletins, warnings and watches.

Fitness Briefs

Heart of the Hills run slated for Aug. 3

The sixth annual Heart of the Hills two mile and 10K Run — voted one of Michigan's top 50 races — will take place on Aug. 3 in Bloomfield Hills.

Registration will take place from 7:15-8:15 a.m. the day of the race at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School. The two-mile run will start at 8:55 a.m., with the 10K to follow at 9 a.m.

Entry fee is $12. Call 258-6760 for more information.

MELON FESTIVAL RUN: The Howell Area Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring the 14th annual Melon Festival Run on Aug. 23. Three different races are offered — 10,000 meter, 5,000 meter and one-mile fun run — and the festivities get underway at 7 p.m.

The early registration deadline is Aug. 19, and late registration will end at 6:30 a.m. on Aug. 23. Costs range from $2 for the Fun Run (without T-shirt) to $13 for the 5K and 10K (with T-shirt). Call (517) 546-0623 for more information.

AEROBIC FITNESS: Aerobic Fitness is a complete one-hour exercise program designed to improve overall fitness, increase endurance, strengthen and tone muscles. Morning and evening classes are now available.

Six-week classes run continuously throughout the year. Fee is $36 for two classes per week; $48 for three classes and $58 for unlimited classes. For locations and schedules, call 348-1280.

SCHOOLCRAFT HEALTH CLUB: If you're thinking of joining a health club, Schoolcraft College has something for you.

The Livonia Junior college is offering a Health Club and a Gym and Swim program. The health club is designed for families to enjoy unstructured activity in a modern, fully equipped physical education facility. A nominal fee of $3 is charged per visit and you will have the use of gyms, racquetball courts, weight machines and saunas. The club meets on Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

The Gym and Swim program is offered on Thursdays and on Saturdays from 8 a.m.-noon. This program costs $3 per visit on Thursday and $2 on Saturday, and uses facilities including: the pool, weight training equipment, handball/paddleball courts, gyms and saunas. Call 462-4413 for more information.

HIGH SCHOOL AEROBICS: New Attitude Aerobics, in conjunction with the Northville High School Athletic Department, is offering an aerobic conditioning program for any Northville athlete with a current physical on file.

The program costs $2 per class and will continue through Aug. 15. It is designed to help improve endurance, agility and balance.

The classes are held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10-11 a.m. at the Northville High School Gym.

For information, call Athletic Director Dennis Colligan at 344-8403.

NEW ATTITUDE AEROBICS: Northville Community Recreation is offering a fitness program designed for you: low- and high-impact aerobic alternatives with toning and shaping floorwork, fun and easy-to-follow workouts, morning and evening child care.

New Attitude Aerobics' one-hour classes are held year-round at the Community Recreation gymnasium on the following days: Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 a.m.; Monday and Wednesday at 5:45 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m.; and Saturday at 8 a.m.

For more information, call 349-0203 or 348-3120.

AEROBIC FITNESS INC.: A fitness program called "Aerobic Fitness Inc." is now being offered in Northville. The one-hour program is designed to stretch, trim and tone. Six-week classes run continuously throughout the year.

Fee is $33 (two classes per week), $45 (three classes), and $55 (unlimited). For more information, call 348-1280.

YOGA CLASSES: Seven-week yoga classes are being offered in Northville. Diane Siegel-DiVita, past president of the Yoga Association of Greater Detroit, is the instructor.

The classes will be offered on Thursdays (7-8:30 p.m.) or Sundays (10:10-11:40 a.m.) at the Northville American Legion Hall. Yoga effectively trains the body to develop strength, flexibility and balance.

Cost is $28. For more information, call Siegel-DiVita at 344-0928.

Myrna Partrich/Fitness

Exercise: Can it build more than muscles?

Dear Myrna: Have there been any studies made recently on exercise and how it affects our intelligence? It seems to me that I have read something on the subject.

If you have recently read any such study on exercise, or any interesting subject on exercise, please contact me. I am always interested in new information.

This year the University of Illinois conducted a study of rats and exercise. Now here we are with another "old rat theory."

Well, you may have already suspected it. Scientists are finding that exercise not only builds muscles, but may make the brain grow stronger as well. In the University of Illinois study, it was found that after four weeks of aerobic exercise, rats averaged a 20-percent increase in the number of blood vessels nourishing the cerebellum.

The study notes that improving the brain's ability to respond more efficiently to one form of exercise also prepares it to better handle other types of physical activity. A change within a four-week period is amazing when you think about it.

Myrna Partrich, co-owner of The Workout Company of Bloomfield Township and a member of the President's Council on Physical Fitness, is happy to answer any questions readers may have regarding exercise. Please send those questions to: Sports Department, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, 48009.

Area businessmen play matchmakers for home improvements

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

Good old-fashioned homes sometimes require some good old fashioned care. A year ago, Andy Vafakas and Jim Wolfe of Northville began bringing customers and contractors together through their business, The Complete Home Co.

Now, even though they've expanded the business, they continue to match top-quality tradespeople with people who want quality, well-managed workmanship in a home remodeling job.

As they correctly point out, the economic downturn has prompted more people to remodel their current homes rather than buying new ones. But while there are plenty of builders in the metropolitan Detroit area willing to take on home remodeling work, The Complete Home Co. is unique in being locally owned and operated, and willing to take on small handyman-type jobs.

"We really operate in two phases," said Vafakas. "There's the handyman/odd job end of it, and there's the remodeling."

The handyman work contracted by the firm meets a dire need in their service area which includes Plymouth, Brighton, South Lyon, Livonia and the Northville/Novi area.

In many homes, Dad is the handyman. If something breaks, he can fix it. But not every Dad is handy, and even if he is, some jobs can be out of his reach. Then too, Dad has to be available.

"In this community, we serve basically two kinds of people," said Vafakas.

"There are the people who don't know what to do when something goes wrong, and people who don't have time to fix it themselves."

He added that the area's senior residents appreciate having a professional to do all those ladder-climbing jobs for them. And professionalism is at the heart of the work done by The Complete Home Co.

"There are very few handyman professional services people can turn to," said Wolfe, "except in highly specialized areas like heating and cooling."

Said Vafakas: "There are some highly skilled tradespeople out there who have to rely on word-of-mouth advertising, or an inconspicuous newspaper classified ad."

A handyman who works for The Complete Home Co. is backed by a company that can do all his prospecting for him.

"We can find the customers for them," said Vafakas. "A guy who works with us can appreciate what we do. It's more profitable for him to pick up seven jobs from people we've talked to."

What the customers and handyman contractors both can appreciate is that the company is licensed, insured and bonded.

"If anything goes wrong, at least we can be found," said Vafakas. "We're taking the most responsible position a business person can take. When someone comes into your home, wouldn't you want them to have a propensity toward prudence?"

"What we're doing is lending legitimacy to the handyman guy. We can provide the means for him to insure himself. It's especially important since there are so many skilled people out there."

Such a professional attitude is probably a switch from what most people expect in a handyman.

"I remember the handyman in my old neighborhood," said Vafakas.

"He drove an old, green Oldsmobile with his name done in white shoepolish on the back window. He'd go around with the ladders tied to the roof of the car. No racks — he just tied the ladders up there with rope."

The two aspects of The Complete Home Co. work hand in hand, too. Vafakas and Wolfe like to use the handyman work as a sampler for their full-scale remodeling jobs.

"Once you've been in someone's house doing a small job, you'll get called back for the bigger job," said Wolfe.

Vafakas and Wolfe specialize in kitchen and bathroom remodeling, though they can handle all kinds of wall-papering, painting, masonry, carpentry, plumbing, roofing, electrical work and window replacement.

"The home remodeling business is 75 percent of the volume in building," said

Wolfe. "And kitchens and bathrooms make up 75 percent of the remodeling jobs."

Most importantly, Wolfe and Vafakas take a hands-on approach to the jobs they perform. Too often, they said, the salesperson the customer talks to is not the same person who will come in to change the kitchen, or add a study onto a customer's home. Valuable time and money can be lost in miscommunication.

"The salesman in this company is involved. It's us," Vafakas said. "This isn't a case of one guy selling and getting a commission, and another guy coming in to do the actual work. We're there all the way. We roll up our sleeves and get involved."

The two men emphasize that theirs is a small business that cares about each project. There's no staff of 50 answering phones and putting customers on hold. Vafakas and Wolfe understand the need for immediate responses to questions. They have homes here, too.

"We're selective in the number and types of customers we accept," Vafakas said. "We're not going to do 500 kitchens or 600 rec rooms this year. Each job is important to the craftsmen and women who will work on it — and to us."

"If a customer has multiple projects in mind — but a limited budget — we'll help prioritize and help them reach their goals. We won't promise the world and deliver half of it. We'll tell them honestly what it will cost to achieve their dream."

That's an old-fashioned idea concept worth hanging on to.

Reverse mortgages come to the rescue

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Nellie and Alfred Miller recently faced an important point of decision. Both approaching age 80, they didn't have enough retirement income to meet their financial responsibilities.

They had one thing going for them — a substantial equity in their home. But this didn't solve their immediate problem of paying monthly bills. And one of the biggest payments was on a second trust deed loan on their home in the amount of $300 per month.

They considered selling the house and moving to a small rental unit or retirement residence. But they really didn't want to do that.

"We've lived in this house since 1964 and have great neighbors," said Alfred Miller.

"It would break our hearts to move away. I can't go and lift the hood of my car or work in the yard without a neighbor rushing over to offer help. That's just the kind of people they are. We don't ever want to leave this neighborhood."

After much study and discussion, the couple decided to take a reverse mortgage on their home. By entering into a reverse mortgage agreement, the couple's second trust deed loan was immediately paid off (no more payments). They also receive a monthly check from the mortgage company, Providential Home Income Plan.

Their financial problem was solved. And the added tax-free income will continue as long as one of the Millers lives or as long as they continue to own and reside in their home.

"We were almost at the poverty level financially," said Miller, who retired in 1974 from a position as purchasing agent for a major firm. "Now we can relax and enjoy ourselves. And we can stay in our home."

Reverse mortgages are becoming an increasingly popular option for some seniors over age 62. These plans are basically a mortgage loan secured by home equity. The loan is paid to the borrower in monthly payments, which usually continue for the life of the borrower.

The loan with accrued interest is normally paid off when the estate is settled. In some cases, the mortgage company also receives all or a portion of the appreciated value of the home. With this arrangement, the borrower receives larger monthly payments.

A reverse mortgage is clearly not the best option for all senior homeowners. For example, if a retired couple want to pass along the largest possible estate to their kids (heirs), they probably would not want to tie up their home equity with a reverse mortgage contract. But for many couples, like the Millers, it works well.

Providential Home Income Plan is now the country's largest provider of reverse mortgages.

"We now have about a thousand reverse mortgages on our books, and inquiries from seniors continue to increase in volume," said William Texido, president of PHIP.

To date, the total value of homes owned by seniors who have expressed interest in the Providential plan has reached about $3.6 billion, according to Texido. The company has made 11,000 individual proposals to applying seniors after checking their qualification status. About a thousand loans have been closed.

One currently available type of reverse mortgage is insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Nearly 10,000 FHA-approved lenders were recently authorized to make FHA-insured reverse mortgage loans.

A year ago, I interviewed a 66-year-old woman (a widow) who had just contracted for a reverse mortgage on her home. I'll always remember one of her comments when discussing plans for her extra monthly income.

"Now I can take those flying lessons I've been thinking about for decades," she said. "Finally I have the time and finances to do it."

Q. Why are more home sellers providing warranty coverage when selling their home?

A. The sale of home protection plans (warranty coverage) on resale homes is indeed increasing. Two key reasons are (1) to enhance the salability of the property, and (2) to minimize potential after-sale lawsuits and other problems.

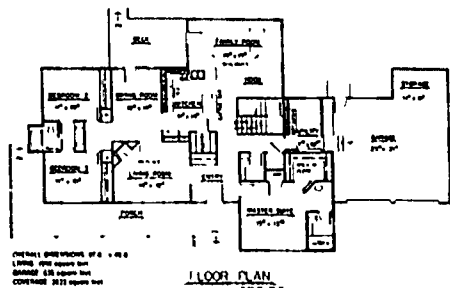

"Increasing numbers of home sellers and real estate brokers are providing buyers with warranties as a shield against complaints and lawsuits," said Phil Branson, president of the Home Warranty Association of California and president of First American Home Buyers Protection, based in Van Nuys, Calif.

A recent survey by the Gallup organization also determined that an increasing number of homeowners and agents believe having a home warranty helps avoid after-sale problems.

Q. What are prospects for first time home buyers in coming months?

A. Affordable mortgage rates will continue to bring more home buyers into the market, particularly first-time buyers. This will bring the sales pace of previously owned homes to the highest level in nearly 18 months, predicts the National Association of Realtors.

Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Acrylic paint more durable for siding than ordinary paint

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

Q. The aluminum siding on our home is a dingy gray, which I would like to change. Cleaning is not the answer because the grayish appearance is part of the original color. I would like something brighter, such as a light green or blue-green. Is it possible to paint this siding? If so, what type of paint would you recommend?

A. Several companies make products for painting metal surfaces. One such product is a Metal Siding Refinish marketed by Pittsburgh Paints. It comes in a wide variety of colors.

This latex paint dries to a low-luster eggshell sheen, which is much like the finish on new siding. It's a urethane-modified acrylic paint that produces a harder, more durable film than ordinary house paint. If you need more information, Pittsburgh Paints has a toll-free number for their paint information desk, (800) 441-9695.

Q. My question concerns the successful painting of a sidewalk at my home. After three failures, with three different products, I am interested in what you would recommend. Since the area to be painted is small, cost is no object.

A. All three paints, after a short time, lifted and peeled from the carefully cleaned surface. When I lived in Texas, I had very good results with a two-part epoxy paint. However, I have been unable to find it in California. Do you know of any paint dealership here where two-part epoxy can be purchased?

A. When painting concrete, surface preparation is extremely important. The surface should be free of all peeling and deteriorating paint, dirt, grease, oil, lantance and efflorescence.

Paint should be removed with a commercial paint remover; dirt is removed with water and a brush; grease and oil clean off with trisodium phosphate (TSP) and a thorough rinse; lantance (a fine powder-like material sometimes found on hardened concrete) must be removed with steel brushes or acid etching; and efflorescence requires washing with a 5 percent to 10 percent solution of muriatic acid.

Concrete that has an exceptionally smooth surface (such as that cast in forms) makes adhesion of coatings difficult. Such surfaces should be pressure washed, etched with a strong solution of muriatic acid (probably the easiest way to rough up concrete for the do-it-yourselfer), or ground with silicon carbide stones to provide a slightly roughed surface.

Be sure that the surface is thoroughly flushed with clean water and allowed to dry completely prior to painting. Concrete paint for exterior surfaces should be the breathing type that permits water vapor to travel through the surface, preventing both blistering of paint and spalling of masonry (in climates where freezing or entrapped moisture causes this problem).

Types of paint available for concrete have bases such as portland cement, oil, latex, rubber and epoxy resin. Some of the best durability is in the portland cement-based paints used predominantly as waterproofing cement paints and often applied to a dampened surface.

All products are not available in all states due to newer environmental regulations. A paint dealer that carries a long product line for both commercial and residential buyers is your best bet for advice.

Two-part epoxy paints are usually readily available from marine supply outlets.

Where the freeze-thaw cycle is not a problem the two-part epoxy paints may wear well. However, they do not have the breathing capability that is required in colder climates.

Paint application on a walkway such as you describe will tend to wear away and will probably require repainting every two to three years.

Q. Your statement made in a recent column regarding the use of trisodium phosphate is in error. Since phosphates were removed from general laundry use many years ago, this product is no longer available. There is such a product masquerading as trisodium phosphate with big TSP letters on the box. It calls itself TSP cleaner. The fine print on the back states "TSP is similar in action to trisodium phosphate." However, the formula contains no phosphates or pollutants. And it sure doesn't do the job.

A. This is just one of many products no longer available in some sections of the country where new environmental protection laws have banned the use of toxic and controversial substances.

Oil and solvent-based paint, many types of sealers and coloring agents for wood and masonry are among other such products not available in some areas, but still generally available in other states.

Send inquiries to Here's How, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190. Only questions of general interest can be answered in the column.

Root for blooming Christmas poinsettias during August

By Patrick Denton
Copley News Service

Many of us will have our Christmas poinsettia plants plumping outdoors now in a lightly shaded spot. For new, young plants to enjoy or to give to friends at Christmas time, use a few shoot tips removed from the parent plant as cuttings. Re-cut the ends just below a leaf joint, remove the lower set of leaves and cut away a portion of any remaining large leaves to reduce transpiration and stress to the cutting as it forms roots.

Poinsettia cuttings can be rooted individually in 4-inch-wide pots or together in larger communal pots, preferably shallow bulb or azalea type pots to reduce the danger of rotting from a large mess of damp soil beneath the cuttings. Once the cuttings root and begin putting on new growth, pot them individually into 5 inch-wide pots or set three in an 8-inch pot.

For rooting the cutting I use a mixture comprised of 1/3 each sterilized soil (which I purchase), peat moss and perlite with about 1 tablespoonful of bonemeal mixed into each 8-inch potful of the mix. Fill the pot or pots with the mix, pressing it just lightly into the pot to avoid compaction and leaving the soil line a little beneath the rim to facilitate watering. Poke holes in the mix to receive the cuttings, whose ends can be dipped in a rooting hormone first if you have some. Tap off any excess before placing and firming the cutting into the pot. Water the soil mix well, and set the pot in a lightly shaded place with a moisture-conserving plastic tent held above the foliage until the fresh growth signals that the cuttings have rooted and new plants are under way.

As soon as growth starts to elongate on the new plants, pinch out the growing tips regularly until early September for a nice compact, bushy plant. Keep your poinsettias well watered but never soggy. Ideally suited to poinsettias is a bright but not hot location, ideally around 70 degrees with a drop to around 65 degrees at night.

For plants with colored bracts at Christmas, ensure long (14-hour) nights of uninterrupted darkness—either by placing the plants in a room where no artificial light is ever switched on between dusk and dawn, or by setting a light-tight box over the plants from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. every day. Once your poinsettia plants are coming into full color early in December, you can discontinue this darkness control procedure.

This Madonna is a Hummel figure

By James G. McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a porcelain Madonna and Child. It is 9 inches tall and is marked with a Bee in a Vee and "HM 128."

I would like to know its origin and value.

A. This was made by the W. Goebel Co. in Rodental, Germany, during the mid-20th century. It is the same company that makes Hummel figurines, which are all marked "M.I. Hummel."

Your Madonna and Child would sell for $125 to $135.

Q. The mark is on the bottom of my teapot is decorated with a blue floral design on both sides. It holds about 3 pints. Can you tell me anything about its origin and value?

A. The Greenock Pottery operated in Renfrewshire, Scotland, during the late 1800s. They produced transfer-printed earthenware such as yours for several years.

Your teapot would probably sell for $125 to $135.

Q. What can you tell me about a slot machine that pays off in gum balls? At the top it says—"1 cent —BALL GUM—1 cent." As an added bonus it tells your fortune.

A. It may have been legal, but it wasn't much fun.

A. You have a Caille Fortune Ball Gum Vendor. It was produced about 1925. For a non-gambling machine the value is quite high—at least $1,000.

Q. I have an autographed 8-by-10-inch photo of Elvis Presley that I obtained in the early 1970s.

Could you give me some ideas as to its current value? It is in excellent condition. The signature is genuine; he signed it in my presence.

A. This is a popular item; a picture like this would probably sell for $800 to $900.

Q. How much is my Mickey Mouse train set worth? It was made by Lionel and consists of engine, tender and circus car with track?

A. These were made in the 1930s and supposedly saved Lionel from bankruptcy. Sets like this in good condition are selling for $1,500 to $1,600.

BOOK REVIEW

"The Price Guide to Wallace Nutting Pictures.

4th Edition" by Michael Ivankovich. Diamond Press, P.O. Box 2458, Doylestown, PA 18901. $14.95 plus $2 postage, or at your local bookstore.

She aims for fairness at college

Northville resident Judith Nakdimen, personnel/payroll and affirmative action coordinator at Henry Ford Community College, is the recipient of the college's 1991 Women's Recognition Award.

The award, sponsored by the college's Focus on Women program, was presented to Nakdimen at a special luncheon held during HFCC's Women's Recognition Week festivities.

"Because Judy focuses on fair treatment for everyone, her work has benefited women at the college and the community," said Grace Stewart, director of HFCC's Focus on Women program. "Judy is a role model for those who wish to achieve professional and personal success. We are happy that she has received the recognition she deserves."

As affirmative action coordinator, Nakdimen developed HFCC's affirmative action plan in cooperation with the college's affirmative action committee. The plan was implemented in the spring of 1990. Since that time, Nakdimen said the college has made improvements in its employee selection procedures.

HFCC has made significant progress in increasing the number of jobs for women and minorities in the areas of administration, faculty and support staff," Nakdimen said.

Community colleges across the state are required to have affirmative action plans by the 1989 Michigan Community College Appropriations Act. In accordance with the act, HFCC's affirmative action plan was

"I have tried very hard to be a mentor for students who have worked for me over the years. It has been a real reward to see these students graduate, get a stable job and improve their lives."

Judith Nakdimen
Winner of Women's Recognition Award approved by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and is on file in Lansing.

"HFCC's affirmative action plans ensures campus-wide equal opportunity," Nakdimen said.

Nakdimen, who has worked at HFCC for 26 years, became affirmative action coordinator in January 1989. The major focus of her work recently has been on HFCC's new Discrimination and Harassment Complaint Procedure.

She developed this procedure in cooperation with the affirmative action committee and the professional problems committee at HFCC. She has presented it to the HFCC Board of Trustees for review and certification.

"Affirmative action is one of the most difficult positions at any institution because it is a very sensitive issue," Nakdimen explained. "The viewpoints on affirmative action are varied so it is difficult to please everyone."

Although her first year as affirmative action coordinator has been challenging, Nakdimen said she was fortunate to have encouragement from college employees.

"I have received a great deal of support and assistance from the women and men on campus," Nakdimen said. "My job has been easier due to the strong motivation of the members of the affirmative action committee and selection committees."

Nakdimen also tries to provide positive encouragement to the students of HFCC.

"I have tried very hard to be a mentor for students who have worked for me over the years," Nakdimen said. "It has been a real reward to see these students graduate, get a stable job and improve their lives."

In addition to her work at the college, Nakdimen is actively involved in community theater.

Nakdimen is the executive director of The Theatre Guild of Redford-Livonia, which is comprised of members from the Detroit metropolitan area. She has been a member for 27 years and has been on the board of directors for the past 24 years.

In this capacity, she has encouraged women to excel in positions that are traditionally filled by men. She took on the set construction position for the Guild's production of "1776" and had to learn from scratch how to use lumber and tools to create sets.

"I am very careful to see that we present at least one show a season that deals with women's issues," Nakdimen said.

Nakdimen has four children. Her oldest daughter, Davin Torre, is the principal violinist with the Flint Symphony and the conductor of the Flint Youth Symphony. Torre has three children, David, Matthew and Adrienne.

Her daughter Melissa Pierson is a violinist with the Jacksonville Symphony. Her son Eric Pierson works as a labor organizer in New York. Her son Matthew Pierson is in charge of promotion, artists and repertoire for Blue Note Records in New York.

Know your options in home financing

The Michigan Association of Home Builders (MAHB) "Yes, You Can" campaign suggests that now is the time to buy a new home, the most important investment a consumer may ever make.

But before a prospective home buyer goes in to talk with a mortgage lender, it would be wise to become acquainted with what's available and how the system works. There are many types of mortgages on the market today:

Adjustable rate mortgage (ARM) is a loan with a fluctuating interest rate based on an economic indicator.

Buydown mortgage is a plan that offers a lower interest rate by paying a portion of the interest payment in a lump sum at settlement.

Conventional mortgage is a loan where the payment of the debt depends primarily on the borrower's ability to pay.

Graduated payment mortgage was created to assist home buyers who are priced out of the market by high monthly payments or fixed-payment loans.

FHA-insured mortgage takes its name from the Federal Housing Administration which does not lend funds, but rather insures loans made by FHA-approved lenders.

The MAHB recently announced a special "buy now" offer for returning service men and women who served in the Persian Gulf. The MAHB is encouraging its members to offer a special discount off the price of a new home to the Gulf veterans, as a salute to their fine efforts overseas, and as part of a statewide "Yes, You Can" campaign.

The MAHB in Lansing is comprised of 8,300 member companies representing over 400,000 people in the home building/construction industry, with 35 local home builders' associations throughout the state.

Business Briefs

DR. JOHN FRANKLIN, a consultant for Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital is program director for a new curriculum program at University of Detroit Mercy leading to a graduate certificate in addiction studies. The certificate is the latest in a series of academic programs developed by U of D Mercy in response to a growing need for trained professionals to help combat addiction problems.

Set for start-up this fall, the 15-credit hour program is designed for persons who hold a degree and who are working, or intend to work, in professional fields that focus on the prevention, intervention or treatment of chemical dependence. Classes will be held on evenings and weekends at the U of D Mercy Outer Drive Campus.

Franklin anticipates strong interest in new graduate-level curriculum, noting that several persons have sought to enroll even before the program was officially announced.

"This program will fill an important niche in the education of professional counselors who deal with drug addiction problems," Franklin said. "Because of growing alcohol and drug abuse problems in society, the need is increasing for qualified personnel who can provide a range of services in the area of chemical dependence."

Among occupational fields for which courses leading to the addiction studies certificate should be helpful, according to Franklin, are social work, clinical psychology, medicine, nursing, education, counseling, law and law enforcement, probation, pastoral ministry, human resources, employee assistance, business and health care administration.

For information, contact John Franklin at 592-6318.

FIREBAUGH AND REYNOLDS ROOFING CO. of Novi has been named a 1991 "Master Contractor" by Firestone Building Products

Company of Carmel, Ind., for its consistent, high-quality installation of Firestone commercial roofing systems on local industrial and commercial buildings.

Firestone Building Products, a leading manufacturer of commercial roofing products, annually certifies 100 independent contractors from its licensed roofing contractor base as Master Contractors for the quality and proficiency of their work.

Firestone awards quality points for each project once an inspection is completed and a warranty is issued. Master Contractor status is then granted to the top 20 point earners in each of Firestone's five U.S. sales regions.

Since its inception in 1988, the Firestone Master Contractor award has been recognized in the roofing industry as a benchmark in quality and reflection of the contractor's dedication to roofing excellence, professionalism and owner satisfaction.

CHARLES N. (NICK) SIMKINS, a trial attorney specializing in representing persons surviving traumatic brain injury, with offices in Northville and Brighton, was a speaker at a seminar sponsored by the Northwestern Medical Clinic in Benton Harbor on May 23.

The seminar was designed to assist attorneys in effectively representing persons surviving head injury, and Simkins spoke on litigation topics associated with closed head injury. Simkins was also invited to speak on the topic of closed head injury at a seminar sponsored by the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association in Mt. Pleasant on Friday, June 7.

Run a credit check on yourself

If you want to make sure that you can obtain credit when you need it, the Michigan Association of CPAs recommends that you examine your credit record to make sure all the information it contains is correct.

To check your credit record, first ask your bank or department store for the name of the credit bureau it uses. Then call the bureau to find out how to request a copy of your report. Credit bureaus generally ask that you put your request in writing, provide your social security number, other names you have used in the past, and your addresses for the previous five years. They will also ask you to include a check for a modest fee, usually less than $25. However, you should note that if you have been denied credit because of information found in your credit report, the creditor must provide the name and the location of the credit bureau it uses and state the reason you were turned down. If you contact the credit bureau within 30 days of having been denied credit, the bureau must provide you with your report at no charge.

Credit reports generally include information on outstanding debt, current payment obligations, the credit limit for each of your accounts, your payment record with creditors and similar information relevant to your current financial condition. A typical report will show a year's worth of data on how regularly you pay sums due to various creditors.

Examine your report carefully to ensure that it accurately reflects your credit history. Credit bureaus are entirely computerized and errors can occur. For example, a bill you have legally refused to pay because of a dispute over the quality of the goods or services it represents may be incorrectly reported to the credit bureau as a non-payment. Information pertaining to someone else with a similar name or social security number may be erroneously entered into your file. If you are a married woman, your credit rating may be reported under your husband's name, even though the Equal Credit Opportunity Act makes this practice illegal.

If, after careful scrutiny, you determine that your report is in good order, you need do nothing further. But if you spot an obvious error, such as a debt obligation you never made, phone or write the credit bureau to point out the error. The Fair Credit Reporting Act gives you the right to challenge any information in your file. If you disagree with the credit bureau's record, or if you believe the information is accurate but incomplete, you can ask the credit bureau to investigate the matter. Additionally, you can try to resolve any discrepancies directly with the creditor. You should also consider sending the credit bureau an explanation (of 100 words or less) that tells your side of the story. The credit bureau must add this explanatory note to your file.

What if you are at fault? What if you have been a bit slow in paying your bills? There are two things you can do that may help to improve the situation. First, if you have paid the overdue amount, you can ask the creditor to notify the credit bureau that your delinquency has been corrected. Second, you are entitled to write a 100-word comment explaining the reason for the delinquency. This comment, which will appear with your credit record in the future, should offer a reasonable explanation — loss of job, business failure, illness or a death in the family. If nothing else, you will demonstrate to lenders that you care about your credit history.

Negative information in your credit file must be removed after seven years (10 years in the case of bankruptcy). But take heart. CPAs say that if your more recent credit performance is satisfactory, past delinquencies may not discourage potential creditors.

ADVERTISING ALMOST DOUBLES YOUR RETURN-ON-INVESTMENT. (THE ADVERTISING CLAIM ADVERTISING COULDN'T MAKE UNTIL NOW.)

Traditionally, even advertising's strongest supporters have hesitated to ascribe numbers to what experience has taught them is the value of advertising.

Now there's proof. The Strategic Planning Institute's PIMS (Profit Impact of Market Strategy) data base now provides systematic evidence on the way advertising drives profitability and growth.

The study,* done with the Ogilvy Center for Research and Development, draws on more than 700 consumer businesses in North America and Europe, durables and non-durables. It also spans the years 1970 to 1986—a range that covers both rapid inflation and slow inflation, through both good and bad years of the business cycle.

Using this substantial data base, researchers were able to determine the extent to which advertising levels influence a product's "perceived value," and how this perception affects both a product's relative market share and also its relative market price.

Measuring these facts against real market performance, the researchers were then able to quantify the direct impact of different advertising strategies on profitability and growth.

Their finding: "Brands that advertise much more than their competitors average returns-on-investment of 32 percent, while brands that advertise much less than their competitors average only 17 percent return-on-investment."

In other words, it not only pays to advertise, it pays more to advertise more.

In an era when productivity is often understood only in terms of cutting costs, this significant research affirms the enduring importance of adding to the sales value of the products you sell.

And it proves that, even today, there is still no better way to build a consumer perception of added value than with advertising.

For more information, you can write to The Committee on the Value of Advertising, Department A, American Association of Advertising Agencies, 666 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10017.

You'll get a booklet that spells out all the findings of this important new research. It just may be the most persuasive advertising material you've ever read.

HARDEN: TIME HONORED CRAFTSMANSHIP...

Uniquely Harden, and ageless beauty of 18th century design are combined in Harden's Beaconsfield Mahogany Collection.

Each piece is authentically replicated from the original designs created by 18th century craftsmen. Solid Honduran mahogany, long cherished for its grain and rich color, is painstakingly carved and finished by the hands of Harden.

From intricate carvings to hand-rubbed finish, these mahogany pieces are meticulously crafted. Handcrafted in solid mahogany and mahogany veneers with bands of rosewood, tulipwood, ebony and white holly string line inlays.

Solid mahogany pieces at special savings during our Harden Harvest Sale!

SOLID MAHOGANY AT SPECIAL SAVINGS

The Beaconsfield Mahogany Bedroom features the most classic American design—the Planter's Bed. Its carved, fluted posts add outstanding elegance to any bedroom.

WE ARE PROUD TO ANNOUNCE...

...that beginning this year, and in the future, Harden will introduce a signature piece worthy of the "Harden Collector's Edition" title. Over time, these items will undoubtedly appreciate, as production capacity will be limited. Each heirloom will be assigned a corresponding production number, and a Certificate of Authenticity will be issued for the first 500 pieces.

As this cherished piece is passed from one generation to the next, the legacy of ownership will be preserved by the permanently affixed solid brass plaque.

The "Harden Collector's Edition" will help maintain family legacies, and provide fond memories for future generations. We invite you to begin investing in tomorrow's heirlooms, today.

David E. Harden
Chairman of the Board
