Final tally was close

Georgina Goss withstood a stiff challenge in her home territory and an opponent's furious late rally in Plymouth to win Tuesday's 36th District state House Republican primary.

The Northville Township supervisor outdistanced Plymouth City Commissioner Jerry Vorva 3,060 - 2,794 to claim the state representative's seat vacated last spring by Gerald Law.

Canton Township precinct delegate Deborah Whyman finished third with 2,517 votes.

Wayne County Commissioner Maurice Breen won an uncontested primary race with 4,919 votes.

Goss faces no competition in the Aug. 27 general election.

Election turnout was extremely light, but Goss, who garnered widespread financial support from state political action committees and local politicians, won with a strong showing among absentee voters.

Goss handily defeated her opponents among absentee voters in Northville Township, Canton Township and Plymouth Township.

Candidates lament light voter turnout

Election Day for three 36th District candidates and their supporters marked the culmination of months of door-to-door campaigning, financial contribution pleas, media interviews and countless cold calls to oft-apathetic voters.

The race offered ample portions of grass-roots verve and caustic commentary.

Foot soldiers with thinning soles. Candidates with tired smiles and outstretched hands. Promises and straight faces in the presence of outlandish voter comments.

A quick bite of fastfood before heading back to the polls with a fistfull of campaign literature.

Charges and verbal swipes made "off-the-record" or in thinly-veiled campaign literature.

All for $44,000 and a one-year guaranteed seat in the state legislature.

Down a dusty dirt road in Deerfield Township, past a cornfield and a stand of pines, lies a narrow path between tall trees that leads to Camp Linden.

The Livingston County camp run by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council sees thousands of people a year, but a pair of visitors at a recent camp session stood out from the crowd.

Ten-year-old Elizabeth Lurchen of Plymouth is severely handicapped and largely confined to a wheelchair. Cera Cole Lapetz, 14, of Northville volunteered to help her through a week of camp activities that ended August 2. The experience was a new one for both girls, and for the camp itself.

Cera, wearing a floppy straw hat and a t-shirt that said Leader Daughter Weekend 1991, explained what she and Elizabeth do at the camp while she helped Elizabeth into her wheelchair from a golf cart donated by the Livonia Kiwanis.

"We do everything that everybody else does," Cera said. Activities during the five-day outing included arts and crafts and a skit performed by the campers. But Cera said Elizabeth's favorite activity was "swimming at the lake."

Cera said the most difficult part of dealing with Elizabeth is understanding her. Elizabeth communicates through hand motions, and her verbal sounds are limited largely to hand motions, yells, and short exclamations that sound like sentences but are unintelligible.

"This is yes," Cera said, raising her hand in a slow wave. "When it's no, she pushes away."

But Cera said she has no trouble knowing that Elizabeth enjoys her camp activities. "She smiles and laughs, you can tell," the older girl said with confidence.

While sitting in her chair, Elizabeth yelled, not in anger but almost as a way to draw the attention that had shifted from her. She spoke something, a seeming string of words that did not quite make sense. Cera went to her, brushed Elizabeth's hair back from her face, and wrapped her arms around the younger girl. Elizabeth relaxed into the hug, laying her head on Cera's shoulder.

"She likes to be hugged," Cera said simply.

While working with Elizabeth, Cera has learned "a lot about how to communicate with people who can't talk."

So have the counselors at Camp Linden.

Elizabeth attended a course with 22 non-handicapped girls between the ages of 10 to 12. One of the things counselors were unsure of was how the rest of the girls would react to Elizabeth.

Camp Director Jane Straight said that, after some initial hesitation, the other campers were eager to learn more about the physically-challenged child.

"I think a lot of times kids take their cues from adults, and adults don't always do a good job of demonstrating how to deal with the handicapped," Straight said.

Several steps were taken to accommodate the children, including a performance by a group called "Kids on the Block," which uses block puppets to demonstrate the similarities and differences between the handicapped and non-handicapped.

Elizabeth also carries a book with her that explains her condition. Camp Counselor Jennifer Sisson said though the other girls at first acted as though they did not want to know details, they eventually crowded around the book to learn more.

"The kids also got to ride in her wheelchair, and that was great," Sisson said.

Elizabeth's mother, Chris Lurchen, said both she and her husband want their daughter to interact with non-handicapped children as well as others like her. "It's important to my husband and I that Elizabeth have Northville Township Trustee Don Williams and his wife Sally really wanted Georgina Goss to win the 36th District state representative's seat.

The Williams' financial contributions to the Goss campaign totalled $1,368.16, making the couple the top benefactors in Goss' who's-who list of area supporters.

Advertisements, bumper stickers, car signs and emory boards — $636 worth of emory boards — highlighted the Williams' contributions. And both pounded plenty of pavement for their favorite daughter.

The reason for such devotion is simple. Don Williams said during his polling site visits Tuesday.

"You know I like her, and how she's handling the political end is exceptional," said Williams, who called Goss "one of the best supervisors we've had."

Williams tipped his hat to Goss' negotiating abilities and said she understands what it takes to work with state and local governments.

"To me, she was the smartest, most intelligent of the three candidates," he said.

But Williams was not the only ardent Goss supporter. Her campaign contribution statement holds the names of a bevy of high-profile local development, business, and political figures.

Developers turned out the dollars for Goss. Robert DeMatia, Steven Friedman, and Michael Horowitz, principals in the proposed Huntington Falls project, contributed, as did Blue Heron Pointe developers Earl LaFave and Dennis Park.

Larry Garon and Gregg Orley of Country Club Village shelled out $125 apiece, and long-time developers Fred Greenspan and Mark Jacobson contributed.

Goss garnered the support of most local political figures. State Sen.

Robert Geake donated $500 to the Goss campaign. Plymouth Township Clerk Esther Hulsing added $250; Plymouth Township Trustee and Northville Township engineering consultant Abe Munfah also kicked in $250.

Ann MacDonald, wife of 35th District Court Judge John MacDonald, contributed to Goss, as did Plymouth Township Trustee John Stewart and Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry.

Members of Northville Township's various commissions and boards stepped up to support Goss, as well.

Planning commissioners Larry Sheehan, Pat Wright, and Barbara O'Brien contributed. Township board members Williams and Betty Lennox kicked in, as did the wives of board members Richard Allen and Tom Cook.

Beautification commission members Donald DiComo, Wilbur Gertz, and Judy Jambor contributed.

Township employees also supported their boss. Contributors included township Manager Richard Henningsen, Carol Maise and Maurine Osiecki of the township planning department, William James of the building department, Karl Peters, Northville Senior Citizens Director, and Patricia Orr, Northville Community Library Director.

No fewer than 18 political action committees favored Goss, pouring thousands of dollars of financial resources into her campaign war chest by the July 26 contribution statement filing deadline.

Goss raised a reported $19,886.19 by July 26, according to her campaign statement. Contributions by her supporters dwarfed those of her rivals.

Plymouth City Councilman Jerry Vorva raised $22,194.70, but $20,274.70 came from a loan to himself.

Canton Township precinct delegate Deborah Whyman raised just over $14,000.

Developer interested in purchasing site

Negotiations are under way and a deal involving the troubled Shores of Northville site could be consummated within 30 days, a local developer said Wednesday.

Mark Jacobson, of Mark Jacobson & Associates of Birmingham, confirmed his group's interest in the stalled Shores residential development project.

"We definitely have an interest," Jacobson said. "A deal is being discussed . . . hopefully within 30 days (we'll know)."

Jacobson would not elaborate, saying the deal has "a lot of ramifications."

The Jacobson group is quite familiar with Northville Township and may be a natural to pick up the Shores site. The group currently is finalizing plans to build 94 site condominiums on a 48-acre plot at the northwest corner of Beck and Six Mile roads.

The Jacobson development — dubbed Hickory Creek — borders the proposed Shores of Northville's east property line.

Rumors of an impending sale have swept development circles since D & T Construction pleaded no contest to a pair of reduced state criminal charges in July.

D & T was fined $100,000 for illegally filling a lake and re-rotting a waterway without a permit. Insiders felt resolution of that case would attract potential developers to the Shores site, which features seven lakes on a 400-acre gravel pit site.

Insiders also say Shores financial backers Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance and Home Federal Savings are anxious to dump the project's managing general partner Vincent DiLorenzo. General partner Angelo Evangelista apparently would also be dropped in an ownership shake-up.

Alexander Hamilton officials did not return a reporter's calls this week.

Man's travels end in Northville

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Most Americans never heard of many cities in the Middle East before the war against Iraq broke out. But Madonna University professor and Northville resident Ernest Nolan had a special tie with the area.

Nolan began his career as a teacher at Jundi Shaput University in Iran. He got the one-year job soon after earning his doctorate degree from the University of Notre Dame.

"We really applied as a lark," Nolan said.

But he got the job and left for the desert town soon after. A week and a half after arriving back in Michigan, Nolan was offered a job with Madonna University.

That was in 1977. Today he is the dean of both graduate studies and the humanities college at the Livonia university.

Until five years ago, Nolan lived in Livonia within walking distance of Madonna. He, his wife, and two kids now live in Northville Township.

Although he had to alter his mode of transportation to get to work each day, Nolan does not regret the move.

"We moved because we fell in love with Northville," he said.

Nolan's career has advanced as the university has grown. Madonna College recently became Madonna University.

The school has expanded from offering mainly liberal arts programs to offering a professional education in many fields, especially business, education and nursing.

When Madonna became a university it was a "sign of the growing repu-tion of the institution," Nolan said.

He began as a professor of English in 1976. He still teaches today, but in 1977 he became the department chair for the communication arts department.

A year later he added the division head for humanities to his list of job responsibilities.

In 1982, he became the director of graduation studies. He held both positions until 1986, when he became the school's dean of graduate studies and dean of the humanities college.

Madonna has 350 graduate students. About 100 of them are students from Taiwan who earn master's degrees through a Madonna program.

Working-age adults in Taiwan have difficulty gaining admission to master's programs if they do not plan to teach at the college level. Madonna's program helps high school teachers and administrators get an advanced degree.

Nolan hopes to establish a similar

Thieves steal office equipment

Thieves reportedly stole more than $4,200 worth of office equipment from the office at Park Place apartments, 43001 Northville Place Drive, late July 28 or early July 29.

Thieves reportedly kicked in a pair of office doors and stole a typewriter, facsimile machine, telephone, a cash box containing $70 in cash, and a copier machine, according to township police records.

CONSTRUCTION VEHICLE DAMAGED: A construction hi-lo parked on the Park Place apartments grounds was damaged when someone reportedly poured metal shavings into the vehicle's engine through a dipstick tube. The equipment is the property of Michigan Carpentry Systems of Troy, and the damage occurred between July 8 and July 29, township police said. Damage was estimated at $2,500.

MEIJER LARCENIES: A 50-year-old Inkster man was charged with larceny after he reportedly stole four cartons of cigarettes from Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, July 29. Township police said the man currently is on parole out of Lincoln Park on charges of receiving stolen property and armed robbery.

A 33-year-old Mt. Clemens woman was charged with larceny after she attempted steal clothing from Meijer July 30.

A 42-year-old Detroit woman was charged with larceny after she attempted to steal clothing and film from Meijer early Aug. 2.

WALLET STOLEN FROM VEHICLE: A woman's leather wallet reportedly was stolen from a 1986 Mazda 323 parked in a lot at Park Place apartments during the afternoon of July 28, township police said. Four credit cards and $25 in cash were taken from the front seat of the unlocked car, police said.

MORE WINDOW DAMAGE AT SILVER SPRINGS ELEMENTARY: The inner glass pane of a double-paned window at Silver Springs Elementary, 18801 Silver Springs reportedly was broken late Aug. 1 or early Aug. 2, township police said. The outer pane had been broken at an earlier date, police said. Damage was estimated at $300.

SUSPENDED LICENSE ARREST: City police arrested a 48-year-old Northville man Aug. 4 on an outstanding warrant. The man was stopped at 10:14 a.m. on Griswold north of Main Street, and arrested on a Plymouth warrant for failing to appear in court on a charge of driving while impaired. His license had been suspended for failing to appear in court in Livonia. He was released on a $200 bond.

Police also cited the man for driving with an expired license plate.

LIQUOR STORE VANDALIZED: An estimated $1,510 in damage was done to Hamlet Foods, 1051 Novi Rd. Aug. 4. A vandal or vandals threw rocks through two windows and a door sometime between 1-4 a.m. A cigarette display inside the store was also broken.

FENDER BENDERS: City police reported two accidents Aug. 4. A 44-year-old Kalamazoo woman turning from southbound Wing east onto Cady at 1:25 p.m. struck a west-bound car stopped on Cady. She was cited for making an improper turn.

A truck loaded with dirt rolled backward from Main south onto Clement Road, at 5:26 p.m., knocking down a stop sign and a telephone pole before coming to rest in a ditch. The pole fell on a trailer behind the truck. The truck's owner told police he was driving west on Main when the vehicle ran out of gas. He said he got out and the truck rolled away. The truck was towed to the city DPW yard, where it will be inspected by city police.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

program for business students in Argentina.

"That has really attracted our attention the past couple of years," he said.

But Nolan has a claim to fame outside of the university: He says he is "one of the few living authorities on David Storey."

Storey is a playwright whose work was featured at the Stratford Festival in Ontario last year. Nolan had been corresponding with the play's director because of his interest in Storey's work. In fact, Nolan did his dissertation on Storey when he graduated in 1975.

The play's director asked Nolan to write program notes for the production. And Nolan's work was featured in the play's program until the production ended last August.

Nolan was the first faculty member at Madonna to receive the Sears Roebuck Foundation's Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award.

He is a member of Friends of the Northville Library and the Michigan Council for the Humanities.

As a member of the council, Nolan teaches adult reading courses.

"It's a nice experience for a teacher to work with adults who are so excited to get together to talk about books or people or whatever," he said.

"It's a real pleasure for me."

Business owners irked by refuse fee

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The Northville City administration took some heat from commercial property owners over the city's decision to switch from a tax-supported refuse collection system to a system based on user fees.

"Our buns are still warm," said City Manager Gary Word ruefully. Word had suggested briefing the commercial sector on the changeover at a recent city council meeting after two dozen residents complained that they knew little about the new system, and did not like what they knew.

Nearly 30 business people turned out for the Aug. 1 informational meeting, and like the residents at the council meeting, they were not happy with the plan.

Under the interim plan, enacted to pay for refuse collection until the city contracts with a waste hauler to provide that and other refuse services, residents and commercial businesses with curbside service would pay a monthly fee of $16.30 per property.

Commercial property owners outside the central business district would pay $35.06 for the emptying of a two-yard container and $57.46 to empty a six-yard container. Some 50 commercial clients in the central business district would pay an additional $3,447 in monthly refuse costs, based on the State Equalized Value of their properties.

The rates began appearing on Aug. 1 water and sewer bills.

The changeover followed several years of skyrocketing refuse collection rates, which more than tripled between 1986-1990. The council voted in May to return half the millage saved by switching to a user-fee system to the taxpayers, in the form of a 1.4-mill reduction in the city's operating millage. Part of the remainder was used to establish a $150,000 budget stabilization fund, in line with recommendations by the city's financial advisors.

At the informational meeting, businesspeople criticized the city for not informing taxpayers of the plan sooner, and accused the city of overburdening the central business district. They also objected to a fee based on property values rather than actual usage.

"I think it gave people an opportunity to express their frustration with the garbage rates and the changeover," Word said. "I think overall the meeting was healthy."

The millage-based refuse collection system contained an inherent inequity. While collection of trash from the city's estimated 2,103 residential units accounted for about 57 percent of the city's trash collection costs, the residents were paying about 80 percent of the cost through their property taxes.

The new rate shifts about 20 percent of the difference onto commercial properties, and the city plans to continue correcting the difference as it seeks a long-term solution to the refuse collection system.

The solution could include a joint collection program with Northville Township or Plymouth City, and a switch to a per-bag fee for residential refuse collection.

Charities benefit from sale

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville merchants raised about $600 for the local charitable organization Civic Concern last weekend, during the Merchant Association's annual Sidewalk Sale.

Civic Concern provides emergency assistance to the needy throughout Northville and surrounding communities.

The fundraiser was the first in a year of firsts for the annual Sidewalk Sale. Other new events included a Community Garage Sale and the involvement of many area non-profit organizations.

Susan MacGonigal of Traditions by Bartley & Boyd rattled off an impressive list of non-profit groups involved in this year's sale, including the Singles Group and the Young Mothers and Men's groups from the First Presbyterian Church, Girl Scout Troop 368, Cub Scout Pack 712, the Livonia YMCA, a book sale by the Friends of the Library, Pathways to Learning, Northville Fire Department, Humane Society, Embroidery Guild, Northville High School's Class of 1992, and Western Wayne Council on Recycling.

"The Kiwanis donated but they didn't come because their grill was broken," she said.

"Of course, 30 percent of everything we made went to Civic Concern," MacGonigal said. The sale raised $2,000, which means $600 will be donated from it to Civic Concern.

Participants in Saturday's auction also had fun, though fewer people attended than expected. "We had a whole lot of fun at the auction," MacGonigal said. "The crowd was not real big but people were bidding and the auctioneers were making jokes... everybody had a good time."

Merchants Association President Ronnie Cambra agreed. "The auction went quite well, but I think it was a little late in the day. Not a lot of people

Among those attending Northville's sidewalk sale last week were (above) Marsha Kamen perusing the book values, and (below) Chris Rutkowski, in the market for a new belt stayed around until 5 p.m."

The garage sale was also a success, according to Cambra. But future garage sales will probably be separated from the sidewalk sale.

"I don't think we'll mix the garage sale and sidewalk sale again," she said.

Merchants had mixed feelings about the level of attendance at Friday's sidewalk sale. "It was really mixed," said Cambra. "Some of the people you'd talk to had great sidewalk sales, better than any other year, but most people thought the overall attendance was down."

But MacGonigal believed that overall attendance was good. "I think it was at least as good as last year if not better," she said. "It seems like there was a real steady flow of people through here all day."

"We planned real well and the weather cooperated and we take full credit for that," she said, laughing.

Council criticized in local loan plan

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The city council was roundly criticized by the Downtown Development Authority earlier this week for the council's failure to obtain DDA endorsement of a proposed collateral loan to hardware and variety store owner Robert Black.

DDA members, who were unaware their approval was needed until informed by the city, also expressed reluctance to give such approval until they knew more about the proposed loan.

The proposed $30,000 payment by the city to an Ann Arbor bank would act as collateral on the bank's $125,000 loan to Black. Though the bank reportedly has already loaned the store owner his money, which was used to convert his 139 E. Main St. hardware store to a variety store, the city has not yet deposited its collateral payment.

Under a tentative agreement with Ann Arbor Commerce Bank in February, the city would deposit its $30,000 in a certificate-of-deposit account to cover 24 percent of Black's $125,000 four-year loan. The city would receive yearly interest payments from its account and bank reports on the store's condition, which it would keep confidential.

The city would be fully repaid at the end of four years, or sooner if Black repaid his loan to the bank sooner. If Black defaults on the loan, the city would pay 24 percent of the amount of the default up to $30,000.

The city's collateral payment would come out of Community Development Block Grant Funds that have not been spent on other programs, not the city's general fund, said Mayor Chris Johnson.

Johnson asked for the DDA's permission to go ahead with the proposal at its Aug. 6 meeting, saying city ordinances required that either the DDA or Economic Development Commission hold a public hearing on the proposal before it can be approved by the city council. But DDA members expressed annoyance that the city had not approached them before, and wariness over assuming what would be a new role for the authority.

DDA member William Sliger, though encouraged that the city was trying to support local businesses, said it was "perplexing" that city officials took so long to approach the authority for permission.

Sliger also worried that the action by the DDA was outside what he had considered the DDA's scope.

"It introduces a new role to us," he said. "It's an introduction of something we did not know was part of our responsibility."

Other members also voiced their displeasure.

"It seems to me like we're being asked to back something that we know absolutely nothing about," said Margie Davis.

City Attorney James Kohl, who briefed the DDA on the proposal, said the deal actually dated back to December, 1990. "Steve (Walters) called me and asked if I could look at the DDA and whether it could make a small contribution to Black's putting a Five and Dime where the hardware store was," he said.

The council gave preliminary approval to the proposal at its meeting the night of Feb. 19, and planned to vote on a formal proposal March 11. But a formal proposal never came back to the council, and a vote was never taken.

The DDA asked that Kohl review the specific loan agreement between the Blacks and Ann Arbor Commerce Bank, to assure that the Northville's liability is limited to the city's original understanding.

Fall shopping begins

Bright, bold colors are hot, New Kids' trend comes to end

BACK TO SCHOOL

This is the first in a three-part series on back-to-school shopping. Next Thursday we will look at fall fashions. In the August 22 edition, we will examine the psychological effects annual fall shopping sprees can have on kids. Northville Public Schools opens its doors to students on September 3. First graders only attend school for half days during the first week.

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Trendy kids and teens need to know a few things before they head back to school.

New Kids on the Block are out. Mickey Mouse is in.

Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles are tottering on the fence separating in and out.

And to be technical, Mickey Mouse never went out, at least not for the younger kids.

"Mickey's doing well after 50 some years," said a manager at the Northville Meijer, Terry Neill.

But the Ninja Turtle popularity has waned at Meijer, Neill said.

"The Ninjas, I think, are peaking, but that's just my opinion," he said.

At Nov's F & M, the pizza-eating turtles are holding steady, according to Steve Joseph, F & M's manager at its Novi Town Center location.

These all-important facts are necessary for trend-seeking kids shopping for the perfect lunch boxes, notebooks and pen sets.

Tony Moore, a 4-year-old Novi boy, already is a trendsetter. He said the Mickey Mouse lunchbox at F & M is his favorite.

The lunch container abandons the traditional box shape for a figure molded in the likeness of Mickey Mouse. A thermos fits into the container behind Mickey's face.

The lunchboxes also are big sellers at Meijer in Northville.

Those who fondly remember the time of metal lunch boxes will be sorry to know those days are gone forever.

Metal lunchboxes have not been available for at least three years, Joseph said.

Plastic lunchboxes have taken over as the food container of choice for two reasons: they cost less, and they don't dent.

The cost factor allows parents to purchase a new lunchbox every year so as to prevent embarrassment for their second grader who may not want to dine from an out-dated container.

Tony will begin his final year of preschool next fall, but for older kids one trend is vitally important: lunch boxes are only cool until the second grade.

Northville Township eighth grader Jennifer Moak said even her younger sister Emily, a fifth grader at Winchester Elementary, has abandoned the lunch box for the paper sack.

And for kids in their early teens,

"People are buying earlier than normal, earlier than last year."

Terry Neill
Manager at Meijer

free with a mail-in rebate available at Mickey Mouse items are not all that trendy either, the elder Moak said.

Other hot items this year include the colorful Gillette Pizzazz Pens and BIC Rad Writer Pens. Both sets are F & M.

Traditional items like one-subject Trapper notebooks and filler paper continue to be big sellers. Jennifer, a Meads Mill student, expects to buy both before school starts. But right now she's concentrating on her wardrobe. Buying clothes is more fun, she said.

Everything made by Crayola is moving quickly at F & M, Joseph said.

"I have this whole display, and everything on it sells," he said.

Meijer has seen particularly rapid sales in anything "bright and bold," Neill said.

The Lisa Frank line of bright, bold colored stationary items is hot this year as are recyclable items.

The recyclable items are different than the usual paper items. The paper is thicker and has a greenish color, but the products are still popular, Neill said.

"It has a different quality than first run paper," Neill said.

Back packs and school bags that are bright and bold colored are the most popular, he said, especially neon colors.

Jennifer Moak agreed that bright colors are in this year. Hot pink and red will be her choice for folders and other school supplies.

Younger sister Emily will want folders with some kind of design on it. Emily especially hopes to get a folder with a dog pictured on it, according to older sister Jennifer.

Barbie and the Little Mermaid lunch boxes are popular among the younger girls at Meijer, he said.

The most noticeable trend at both F & M and Meijer is the early rush of back-to-school shoppers.

"People are buying earlier than normal, earlier than last year," Neill said.

Joseph agreed saying Saturday has been the busiest day for back-to-school shopping.

Quick response saves special boy

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

A lullaby poured sweetly and softly from a mobile above the squirming 17-month-old baby's head.

The child bit tightly on a pacifier and stared wide-eyed at the milling figures in his nursery. A toy was wedged in the corner of the crib.

And on a day like hundreds before and thousands to come, a long plastic tube ran from one of three crib-side machines into the boy's neck.

Another tube snaked into his side. A dozen nurses and emergency medical workers shuffled around the small room that Yuuki (pronounced Uke-E) calls home.

Yuuki seemed used to all the attention, and he's had plenty of that since he was born two months prematurely in February 1990.

All the tubes pumping food and oxygen into his body and pulling the excess liquids away are now second nature.

The child's smile and soft dark eyes belie his tortured body.

The list of ailments—including a damaged liver, paralyzed left lung, failed diaphragm, malformed esophagus and unformed bile ducts—leaves him dependent upon technological wizardry, continuous medical care, and parental devotion.

Quick thinking during a power outage also helped.

The recent thunderstorm that rumbled through Northville toppled trees, damaged homes and knocked out electrical power throughout the community.

Many residents endured hardships for days after the storm passed, but the maze of machinery strapped to the little boy continued to hum, despite the fact that the first wave of high winds clipped the power supply to Yuuki's Park Place Apartments home.

When the lights went out, a quick call to the Northville Township Fire Department secured an alternate power source that provided Yuuki's parents considerable peace of mind.

Firefighters rigged a pair of gas-powered generators to the medical devices in Yuuki's room during the storm. Of chief importance was a large air compressor that stokes a respirator, which in turn delivers the child six breaths-per-minute of oxygen mixture.

Since Yuuki cannot breathe on his own, a power outage and lack of generator could have required a trip to a hospital emergency room.

Yuuki's parents—mother Hideko and father Haruhiro—have endured

Tending to Yuuki, a Northville boy with an extensive medical history, are nurse Linda Johnson (left) and Northville Township Fire Chief Rick Rosselle

a lot since moving to Northville from Kanagawa, Japan two years ago. But culture shock, language barriers, and homesickness pale to the trying times they've felt since the birth of their only child.

Yuuki weighed 2 pounds, 3 ounces at birth, and lived in the sterile world of hospitals for all but the past three months. He receives 24-hour nursing care, and only recently has ventured from the confines of his nursery.

Astronomical medical and electric bills haunt the family, but love and devotion permeate the home. Pictures of Yuuki—shortly after birth, on his first day home, a darling shot of him dressed as a pumpkin for Halloween—are framed and proudly displayed.

So too are the pictures of the child and a bevy of nurses, all of whom enjoy holding and playing with their special patient.

"He's very alert and very intelligent," said Linda Johnson, R.N., of Maternal Child Healthcare Services in Birmingham. "He can understand us, responds to his name and recognizes the nurses."

Yuuki's road to health promises to be jagged. Future operations may allow Yuuki to leave the respirator behind during waking hours, but he'll likely have to use the machine during sleep.

If the child's respiration is not repaired—and there is a good chance it won't be—he will always have to be fed through a bag attached to his side.

Still, brighter days are near. Yuuki has gained weight since he's been home and has "blossomed," said Wendy Smith, manager of respiratory services of Specialized Home Care, Inc., a Madison Heights supplier of the child's medical equipment.

Smith has instructed Yuuki's parents and nurses about emergency procedures in the event of equipment or power failure. Last week, she taught township firefighters how to streamline hook-ups to generators for emergency situations.

A stronger understanding of the child's complicated life-support system heralds a new, more unfettered era for Yuuki and his parents.

"In August, there will be short periods of time when we can leave the mother alone with him," Johnson said. "They've accepted this very well and are both capable of handling (emergencies)."

Yuuki's mother Hideko, a smiling, polite woman, watches with obvious affection as the nurses huddle around her child. She longs for her extended family in Japan, but videotaped greetings help span the thousands of miles of separation.

She and her husband long for the day when the tubes can be removed and Yuuki can run and play like other children. But for now, the machines whir and hum and Hideko is able to say: "I'm getting used to it."

Mill Race Matters

Glenn Morningstar will begin teaching Contra Dancing on Tuesday, Aug. 20, in the New School Church at Mill Race Village. Lessons begin at 7 p.m. and cost $36 per couple for four sessions on succeeding Tuesday evenings.

Contra dancing was popular throughout the entire Victorian Era, with nobility and commonfolk alike. Be sure to get yourself included in the fun by registering today. Call 348-1845 or send your fee to the Northville Historical Society, P.O. Box 71, Northville 48167. Classes will conclude the Tuesday prior to Northville's Victorian Festival. Participants should be prepared to share a great evening at Northville's Victorian Ball.

There is also still time to sign up for the second summer section of poetry instruction which is scheduled to begin on Wednesday, Aug. 14. Participants will be expected to create their own original works and the class will assist in critiques. Call 348-1845 for details.

We're still looking for help at the annual Tivoli Fair on Sept. 28-29 at Northville Downs. Ticket sellers, hostesses, bakers, cleaners and others are needed. Volunteer your time by calling Sally at 348-1845 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

In addition to the Victorian Festival and Tivoli Fair activity, September will also bring the village into gear once more with elementary school days and both Northville eighth grade classes visiting. The years' third Mill Race Quarterly will appear as will our schedule for fall workshops. Look for both sometime mid-month. If you are not a member and interested in either publication, call our office at 348-1845 for more information.

It is also hopeful that "The Stone Gang" will complete work on the Cady Inn and that most of it will be ready for our use. The Interurban Station may also be completed and much of our proposed new landscaping plan should also be in place. Look for these exciting happenings and more at Mill Race.

Hobby supports couple

Northville family goes professional

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

It may be everybody's dream to turn a favorite hobby into a lucrative career.

Rick and Connie Denomme of Northville have made their dream come true.

Rick, a wildlife photographer who took up the trade as a hobby 16 years ago, displayed dozens of his photos at the recent Ann Arbor Art Fairs. Denomme retired from his 17-year job with Farmer Jack's six years ago and he and his wife now traverse the country looking for new animals to photograph and displaying and selling the shots at art fairs like Ann Arbor's.

"We do shows in seven or eight states," Rick said. "We go from Asheville, North Carolina to — this year — Kansas City, Kansas."

The couple goes even farther afield in search of new subjects, though one favorite site is right here in southeastern Michigan.

"We do a lot of shooting in Kensington Metropark," Denomme said, referring to the regional park in Milford that runs along a five-mile stretch of the Huron River. "Kensington is great for the birds in the wintertime. They get so used to the photographers..."

The metropark is also a great place to get within camera range of deer, a frequent subject in Denomme's work.

Other destinations are somewhat more glamorous — and more remote, Denomme said. "Last year alone we went to Hawaii in January, then off the Gulf of St. Lawrence in March, Tucson for hummingbirds in May, September and October we went to California for sea otters, and then the koala bears at the San Diego Zoo."

"This January we went to Mexico for whales and dolphins."

Future destinations include the Badlands and Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Denomme said. "I understand they're wildlife crazy out there."

Lest one think that the life of a wildlife photographer consists of simply pointing a camera at animals and taking the first available shot, Denomme has evidence to the contrary. His photographic style differs from some others in that he thinks before he shoots.

"I'm not a heavy shooter, I've never been a film burner," he said.

Also, the subjects are not always fully cooperative. Denomme pointed to a particularly well-timed series of photographs of a buck bounding over a fence, and said the three photos were no accident.

"We spent almost three weeks working on it... The deer always jumped the fence there but the problem was getting them to do it at the right time."

Photographing harp seal pups in Alaska was a less demanding but equally rewarding trip, Denomme said. "Something like that is so easy because you can go right up to them and pet them. If the mothers aren't around, you can go right up and lay on the ice and scratch their tummies."

He described the experience as "amazing, but a little cold."

Denomme said he decided to turn his avocation into a vocation when he found he was spending more time selling his photography at art fairs than he was at his "real job."

"It got to the point where I couldn't do both anymore," he said. "The year I quit we did 38 shows."

Despite some initial trepidation, Denomme said he has no regrets about his decision to leave a more mainstream job to follow his dream.

"It's been a good life," he said. "People told me we'd never make it, but we've done well."

"It sure beats punching a time clock, that's for sure."

Meijer gas station is a scant bargain

Meijer Inc.'s proposal to section off a portion of its expansive Northville Township parking lot for use as a gas station/convenience store never prompted cheers from the township planning commission. It's not hard to see why.

A gas station is not the commission's favorite type of development, for one thing. And when Meijer asked for a curb cut on Haggerty just south of Eight Mile, several planners had seen enough.

An additional entrance — especially so close to the township's worst intersection — was not the desired effect. Heightened traffic congestion and a corresponding number of accidents surely would follow, some said.

Some planners simply failed to see any positives in such a move. Police Chief Chip Snider and Fire Chief Rick Rosselle concurred. Both public safety officers groused about the gas station — Rosselle for fire prevention issues and Snider for the increased chance of larcenies and minor accidents related to gas station operations.

Snider has a rightful beef with Meijer, and so too should township taxpayers who have long footed the bill for too-numerous-to-count Meijer police runs. Snider has pointed out on more than one occasion that his men cannot patrol township subdivisions, roadways, and other businesses while they are tied up with daily shoplifting and fender-bender cases at Meijer.

And there are other problems with the site. Assault and batteries, indecent exposures and criminal sexual conduct, auto parts larcenies and car thefts on the Meijer grounds are fairly common occurrences. Why did Ronald Melnyk choose the Meijer lot to consummate his ill-fated drug deal with undercover police last April? Probably because he felt the Meijer lot was a safe place for him to do business.

Meijer largely ignores the problems, shrugging its corporate shoulders and paying far less in property taxes than it costs taxpayers for Meijer-related police manpower. When confronted with that accusation, Meijer agreed, grudgingly, to share police reporting duties on shoplifting cases. But the company continues to do little or nothing to prevent crime in its parking lot.

All this means is that the planning commission — and the township — owed

Development

Meijer nothing in the way of perks or compromise. Yet a 4-3 commission majority ignored the comments of its safety officials and voted in Meijer's favor.

Meijer used the pretense that the proposed gas station would wither and die without an additional curb cut and entrance, and the commission bit the bait. No matter that the company could have reconfigured its existing entrance to lead a trail to the gas station. No matter that the commission voted to promote Haggerty Road/Eight Mile congestion for the sake of a private business.

In return for its generous allowance, the township gained these concessions from Meijer: A change from a large pylon sign to ground signage; additional site landscaping; less intrusive Eight Mile frontage; and right turns only in and out of the new curb cut. Aesthetics over safety. One wonders how many accidents police and rescue workers will have to respond to while drivers figure out the turning system.

The curb cut is an idea that should have been rejected, despite the threat of a Meijer claim that refusal would have denied them appropriate use of their property. Developing any type of commercial enterprise is risky business, but the commission has voted to forward the risk to drivers and taxpayers, not to a company that drags its feet every time the township voices safety concerns.

We feel the planning majority — Chairperson Charles DeLand, John Leinonen, Richard Allen and Larry Sheehan — blew this vote. Sheehan originally opposed the cut and even called the intersection "probably one of the worst in the state." Who later held the knife to his back?

Commissioners Pat Wright, Barbara O'Brien and Karen Baja, on the other hand, should be commended for their opposition. But Meijer has once again proven that it does not have to bargain in good faith to get its way.

Homes for pets can be tough

We call her Welfare. It's not much of a name, but it seems to fit the cat that adopted my mother's house. She took control of the yard, deck and garage in a coup d'etat against a grey cat that had been prowling the neighborhood.

We also call her Momma Cat because the smallish calico had seven baby cats soon after adopting our house. We know better than to feed a stray we don't intend to keep, but Welfare was persistent. And refusing to feed a pregnant cat seemed inhumane. My mother has since resigned herself to keeping Momma Cat, but the seven babies will have to find other homes.

Advertising that I had cats free to a good home did not seem safe; I didn't want to trust just anyone with the baby cats that had already stolen my heart. So I called a local humane society and asked if they could help me find a home for the kittens. But the babies only would have four days to get themselves adopted before the society would put them to sleep. Luckily, my veterinarian told me about an organization that helps people and animals like me and Welfare.

The Animal Welfare Society of Southeastern Michigan works with 52 veterinary hospitals in Wayne, Oakland, Washtenaw and Macomb counties to place abandoned and stray animals in good families. Private veterinary clinics donate facilities, time and professional care so money donated to the society can be used to promote adoptions, provide educational and service programs, and support a fund to be used to sterilize the pets of qualified indigent owners who otherwise could not afford the procedure.

Their goal is 100-percent placement. They have a policy against putting healthy animals to sleep or allowing animals to be used for experimental purposes. Each adopting owner pays a fee and signs a legal document agreeing to provide medical care, shelter and food for their pet. Adopting families should be aware they are making a long-term commitment. They are not permitted to abuse or neglect their pet, and they must have them neutered at the proper age.

Starting today, each week in the "Our Town" section we will publish the photo of a pet at an Animal Welfare Society clinic that needs a good home. This week's pet is a four-month-old male cat that currently calls Novi's West Oaks Veterinary Clinic home. The cat pictured in today's newspaper likes people, is playful and very friendly, according to workers at the clinic. It tested negative for feline leukemia and is current on all its shots. Anyone interested in adopting the cat can call the West Oaks Clinic in Novi, 624-1100, or the Animal Welfare Society, 751-2570. And two of Welfare's babies are still in need of a home. They are not pictured in today's paper, but I'll vouch for them. They're cute, cuddly and litter box trained.

Barb Staniszewski, a volunteer for the animal welfare society, asks readers to avoid getting their heart set on the animal featured in today's paper. That specific cat may be adopted even before the paper is printed, but others are always available. Call the society for information about other pets in need of a home between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Or wait until next week when a new pet will be featured in our paper.

He's the Darling of the reunion

What is it about Tom Darling, anyway?

Darling is president, owner and chief executive officer of Darling Mobile Homes in Novi. More importantly, he is a member of Northville High School's 1961 graduating class.

There was no Novi High School in those days, so a lot of the Novi kids, including Tom, came to high school in Northville.

What this is all about is that the Class of '61 celebrated its 30th reunion at the Country Epicure last Saturday. And one of the things we did in planning the reunion was ask classmates to fill out a questionnaire about themselves and mail it back so everyone could read about where they've been and how they've been.

Much of the questionnaire was fairly standard. You know, stuff like who was your favorite teacher, what was your best high school memory, your worst high school memory and what would you do differently if you could do it all again?

But there were a couple of other questions to spice it up a bit and create the potential for some interesting discussion at the reunion.

That's where Tom Darling comes in. One of those "other questions" was: "Who did you always want to go out with in high school but never did?"

And guess which male was the runaway winner? Guess which guy was named by girl after girl after girl as the person they always wanted to go out with but never did.

Tom Darling. (I won't tell you how many girls wrote in my name, but I will confess that the response was less than overwhelming.) Other than that the reunion went awfully well, thanks to the efforts of Connie (Springer) Kohs and Mary (Long) McLeod who did almost all the work with varying degrees of assistance from Peggy (Dresselhouse) Chizmar, Gary Kohs, Chips Ely, Howard Sherman and myself.

Present from Northville were Nancy (Mach) Lewis, Sharon Johnson, Sandy (Lane) Eschback, Joan (Lemon) Howe and Dick O'Hare. The only classmates still living in Novi who attended were Tom Darling and his wife Judy (Ritter).

Approximately 30 (out of 120) classmates attended. Out-of-staters included April (Fox) Pastor from Texas, Jerry and Linda (McKinney) Forbes from Kentucky, Marilyn (Lahr) Braze from Maryland, Dennis LaRoque from Illinois, Doug Tyler from Minnesota, and Chips Ely and Sandy (Grant) Harris from Arizona.

The biggest coup was the mysterious re-appearance of Betsy Starkweather. We hadn't heard much from Betsy since graduation, and we sort of figured she was one classmate who had dropped out of sight forever. But she was back — drove to Michigan from her home in California.

In fact, Betsy was the only classmate who ran afoul of the Novi police en route to the reunion. For some reason the officers were suspicious of a car bearing California plates with a large wire cage loaded with cow skulls affixed to the roof.

Betsy explained that she collects the bleached skulls from the desert floor in Mexico and takes them to California where she sells them to interior decorators. The southwestern look is still hot in California, I guess.

All in all, it was a good reunion... a good time with good people. There was a downside, however. Just about everyone there recommended we have another reunion in five — rather than 10 — years.

What's bad about that? Sandy Grant Harris explained it best: "If we wait 10 years," she sighed, "we'll all be pushing 60."

Many contributed to parade

To the editor:

An event as large as the Fourth of July Parade takes a lot of helping hands. Our successful parade was only possible because of the many volunteers whose unselfish efforts were given to its success.

There were many people that were responsible for this year's success: Gordie Collins (his sixth year as a parade volunteer), Chad Tolstedt, Ryan Kennedy, Barb Woodrich, Nancy Werth, Iris Antuna, Sylvia Kneeshaw and the Novi Amateur Radio Club.

These people came out early while it was raining to set up and line up this year's parade. With their assistance the parade went smoothly and I was very proud of the effort made by all of them.

And a very special "Thank You" to Bill Edmonds; without his help it would not have been much of a Fourth of July Welcome Home.

Others that deserve a Thank You are: Ken Romine, Ben Romine, and Paul Folino for their help in collecting donations at the fire-works. Also, a big thanks to Paul Vertrees and his crew whose help made the day go a little easier.

I would like to take this opportunity to say that I am retiring as Chairman of the 4th of July Parade. I have had a lot of fun and good times working with everyone involved for the past four years. It is now time for someone else to take over, so I can sit back and watch their parade pass by.

Thank you Northville,
Bob Cummings

Residents oppose plan

Editor's note: This is a copy of a letter sent to Northville Township Planning Commission Chairperson Charles DeLand.

Dear Mr. DeLand:

We are writing at this time to voice our strong opposition to the granting of a special use permit allowing Holloway Construction to mine sand and gravel at Six Mile and Ridge Roads. We implore you and the Planning Commission to deny this request for the following reasons:

Obvious negative environmental impact of the immediate and surrounding areas to the natural order.

Incremental traffic and noise which inevitably accompanies a mining operation of this sort raise both safety and quality of life concerns.

Potential ground water contamination resulting as an unintended byproduct of an industrial operation.

Surrounding residential and commercial property valuations will bear the negative impact of the proximity of a mining operation.

Recent fiasco resulting from the Shores of Northville project raises disturbing questions about future use and land reclamation.

Our relocation to Northville Township in 1988 was to distance ourselves from the very sort of industrial operation which is being proposed. We are sure the Planning Commission can find better uses for this property without either raping natural resources or jeopardizing the township's growth needs.

Therefore, we reiterate our request that the Planning Commission deny Holloway this special use permit.

Civics lesson misses point

To the editor:

Northville Township residents should thank their lucky stars that the eminent civics instructors Messrs. Allen and Heintz gave us the benefit of their vast knowledge in connection with special assessment districts (SAD). As one might suspect, their knowledge is really half vast. And it took two of them to accomplish that.

The Township Board of Trustees can, on its own initiative, create an SAD. If the land owners within the SAD object to it, they may attempt to convince the trustees to terminate the SAD. Failing that, the land owners may proceed through our court system to seek redress. If they prevail, the proposed improvement is abandoned. If they do not prevail, they are assessed and the improvement goes forward.

An SAD may also be created by order of a court of competent jurisdiction when public health, safety, and welfare are involved.

As to the items identified as "accusations," our teachers have completely missed the point.

Item 1: The land owners in the Haggerty Road SAD have not only been assessed for the portion of the Haggerty Road system which serves them, they have also been assessed for the portion which does not serve them (and that equals nearly one million dollars). Additionally, they will be forced to pay an exorbitant connection fee when they tie into the Haggerty Road system.

Item 2: This item is not only laughable, it is ludicrous. Consider an assessment which is to be levied for the construction of a recreational facility. According to the rationale of Messrs. Allen and Heintz, the beneficiaries of such a facility would not be assessed and would not make any payment in support of the facility until the facility was built and was adjacent to the benefitting property. This is Northville Township applesauce!

Messrs. Allen and Heintz did manage to get one thing right. I am the former engineer of Northville Township.

Georgina Goss should not be elected to the State House of Representatives but should be kept here in her present job of township supervisor until she rectifies the obvious injustices which she has created.

Run staff gives thanks

To the editor:

1,085 runners participated in our three runs plus the Tot-Trot and Jr. Jog! It was thrilling to see so many runners meeting at the "Gathering" to participate in our 12th annual Run.

This year, more community residents and businesses were involved. Local businesses donated food, beverage and gift certificates to the runners. A big thank you to all the community volunteers who manned corners, served water along the routes, registered late runners, and distributed pre-registration packets.

Dr. Thomas Morse, D.D.S. was chairman as well as a sponsor for our run. He put in extra hours, effort, gave shirts to volunteers, and recruited volunteers to insure the success of the run.

The other sponsors were: Ford Motor Company — Sheldon Road Plant, Adistra Business Services, McAuley Health Center, Jerry Vorva of RE/Max, Independent Health Services, Hands on Message Therapy Center and Community Crier newspaper.

Committee chairs were: Dr. Tom Morse, routes; Carol Brockschmidt, volunteers; Tish Pasiewicz, awards; and Randy Clough, set-up and take-down.

Contributors were: Absopure, Radisson, Ford Canteen-Sheldon Plant, Frank's, McDonalds-Ford Road, Joyce Cooley, Denny's, Domino's, Roman Forum, Hardee's-Sheldon Road, Engraving Connection, Novi Chiropractic Center, Penniman Deli, Porterhouse, Roadside, Stan's, Kroger (Plymouth and Canton) Mom's Fruit Market (Livonia), Papa Romano's (Plymouth), Oliver's (Plymouth), Domino's (Plymouth), Cottage Inn (Plymouth), Donut Scene, Crystal Bakery (Canton), U-Take the Cake (Northville), Baker's Rack, Pringle's Bakery, China Fair, Hungry Howie's, Aunt Clara's, Screen Printing, Famous Recipe Country Chicken, Cozy Cafe, Dairy King, Meller, Burger King (Plymouth) and Little Caesars.

Without the assistance of the City of Plymouth, Department of Public Works, Police Department, Fire Department, Plymouth Schools Transportation Department, Without community backing, contributors, sponsors, and volunteers, a run like this would not materialize.

We truly appreciate your generosity and assistance. Thank you very much everyone!

NYA may be able to help in divorce

In the June 13, 1991 copy of The Detroit News, an article titled "Divorce takes its toll on health and happiness" caught my eye.

Before reading the article, I thought of the children I have seen and currently am seeing in the program who are children of divorce. I thought of 9-year-old Becky who cries to her volunteer about the stomach aches she has had ever since her dad left their home.

I thought of 11-year-old Rob who, while playing tennis with his volunteer, returned balls with such velocity that the volunteer had to stop the game to talk to him. Rob then expressed his anger about his parents being divorced, even though it had been four years since the divorce was final.

I also thought of Jane, who told her volunteer that when her parents used to fight, she would turn up her radio full volume and her parents would then yell at her and cease the fighting between themselves. Jane's parents are now divorced and there is no fighting in the home, but she says she cries herself to sleep at night because she misses her dad very much.

It is very difficult to talk about divorce without placing blame on parents. There are many situations that we all know of that a divorce is absolutely necessary. The article in The Detroit News said, "Children are intensely angry at their parents for giving priority to adults' needs rather than to their needs." Children "feel their parents are to blame for having failed at one of life's major tasks, which is to maintain marriage and family for richer or poorer, for better or worse."

The article went on to say that "Divorce is a different experience for children and adults because the children lose something that is fundamental to their development — the family structure, which supports their psychological, physical and emotional ascent into maturity."

The moral of the article was, "It is wiser to improve a marriage than dissolve it." Most of the children that I know who are children of divorce would concur with this statement. The children would rather experience the fighting and discord in the home than possibly experience the loneliness, anger and depression that may come with their parent's divorce.

Your children may need a special person to talk to and express their feelings to if you are thinking of divorce or are currently divorced. If we can help, call Northville Youth Assistance at 344-1618.

'Clean' schools could get the shaft

The chip that drives computers. The transistor. Nuclear fission that powers war and electric generating plants. . .

All were developed at American research universities. All are funded by the federal government.

This is important to us in Michigan. Last year the University of Michigan's Dr. Francis Collins discovered the individual gene that, when defective, causes cystic fibrosis. Work is going on now to develop a genetic therapy for this killer.

The U.S. has pursued "government funded research partnerships" with universities since 1939 when Princeton mathematician Albert Einstein advised President Franklin D. Roosevelt that nuclear fission might make a bomb.

The system starts with a governmental agency deciding to research, say, cancer cures. It solicits professors for research proposals.

The winning professor's university sends the federal agency a bill for (1) direct costs (labs, part of the professor's salary) and (2) "indirect cost recovery" (administration of paper work, space allowance, utilities). These indirect cost percentages were negotiated periodically with federal agencies.

U.S. Rep. John Dingell, D-Deerborn, investigated cost recovery abuses. Very quickly he hit pay dirt.

Stanford University was charging the feds 71 percent for "indirect cost recovery" — in part because it was loading into the cost base the maintenance of the university's yacht and a cedar closet for the president's house.

The politically potent Dingell and staff think taxpayers might be overbilled as much as $200 million a year. Research universities became very nervous.

The Office of Management and Budget came up with a draft regulation arbitrarily capping indirect cost recovery at 26 percent. My sources say the origin of this quick fix was the California congressional delegation, perhaps intent on deflecting attention from Stanford.

OMB's proposed fix would have the perverse result of slapping big violators like Stanford on the wrist but severely penalizing relatively clean schools like U-M. Here's how:

U-M does about $140 million in government-sponsored research and receives up to 59 percent per contract in reimbursement costs. The proposed 26 percent cap would cost U-M $9 million to $12 million a year. That is not chicken feed. U-M's total state appropriation growth this year will be only $7.5 million.

Wayne State University would lose $650,000, nearly 10 percent of its cost sharing. Other universities in Michigan and the nation also would suffer.

Ah, but Stanford, the original villain, would lose only $3.9 million under the 26 percent cost cap proposal. Could it be that these clever Californians found the place where a cap wouldn't hurt them — but persuade Dingell something was being done?

Government often penalizes the innocent and promotes the guilty.

Fortunately, members of Michigan's congressional delegation are aware of the problem facing their home universities: Dingell himself; Bill Ford, D-Taylor, chair of the House Education and Labor Committee; and Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, a member of Appropriations.

I hope they're effective. At issue is not just hurt for America's universities but the future of one of America's few remaining competitive advantages in the world economy.

The couple may be on the cutting edge of the learning curve regarding the handicapped.

"This is a very new way of thinking and of doing things, and my husband and I are probably a little bit ahead of the game," Lurchen said. "Rather than separating them, we're trying to include them, and include them at their own level."

But one specific Scout was needed to make the parents' dream a reality. "Without Cera, it wouldn't have been possible," Lurchen said.

Whyman served up a tougher-than-expected challenge in Northville city and township. Goss won the Northvilles with a combined vote total of 1,120 - 761 over Whyman. Vorva finished a distant third in the Northville community.

Goss was tired but happy at her campaign headquarters Tuesday evening.

"This is like a dream come true," she said. "Can you imagine having your own seat on the House floor?"

Goss, whose victory must be certified by the Wayne County Board of Canvassers, said voters responded favorably to her qualifications.

"Experience and being in the community for so many years won it," she said. "And I campaigned door-to-door-to-door."

riding food is still in my nostrils," Haran said.

"Instead of spending hundreds of millions on Fermi I — which may be America's Chernobyl, according to Ralph Nader — Detroit Edison should spend more money on coverage of the Detroit area."

The PSC is also collecting written testimony. Frank Brennan, president of Novi's Echo Valley Homeowners Association, on July 9 wrote to the commission requesting an investigation of Detroit Edison.

Brennan said in his letter that Echo Valley had blackouts ten days this year. The subdivision, which is on wells, is then without water. He wrote: "It is our impression that Edison is 'daisy-chaining' service requirements to new subdivisions as a cost savings measure. This process allows minimal coverage during normal use. Spikes or surges from power peaks or electrical storms kill the entire system."

The list of complaints voiced Monday ranged from safety issues such as downed power lines, exploded transmitters and medical problems to the financial issues of spoiled food, damaged appliances and nights spent in hotels. Speakers said they resented paying bills for disrupted services, were disgruntled by the difficulty of reaching Detroit Edison by telephone and were not satisfied by the answers they did get from the utility company.

These days, the couple travels to about 25 art fairs each year, "which isn't really a lot when you consider we only work about three days (for each show)," Denomme said.

They spend much of the winter making prints, and matting and framing the prints themselves. Doing their own matting and framing keeps the price down, Denomme said. "I wanted it to be affordable art," he said.

The typical 8-by-10 picture, already matted and ready to frame, sold for $10 at the Ann Arbor show.

The effort appears to have paid off by the amount of repeat business Denomme sees. "You sell to a lot of the same people over and over again . . . it's amazing how many people come back three or four years in a row," he said.

Thirteen-month-old Samantha Naszradi of Northville (above) is getting her first lessons in letter recognition from the items that represent the alphabet in the 26 pockets of this cloth toy. At right, Samantha plays with "The Quiet Book," a popular item at many local children's toy stores.

But is it fun?

It is important for a toy to be fun as well as have educational value.

Sometimes in their enthusiasm to provide the best environment for a child adults forget the most basic fact, writes Barbara Kaban in Choosing Toys for Children — From Birth to Five. "No toy, no matter how durable, safe, or educational will be used unless it is fun."

Adult attitudes toward toys often affect their play value for children, according to Kaban. "If a toy is so costly or so fragile that adults become anxious when a child manipulates it, the toy no longer is fun."

"If adults insist there is only one correct way to use a toy, it is no longer fun."

Galeen Hergenrader, owner of the Purple Cow in South Lyon, said, "I think children learn faster when they are enjoying it and don't realize it's a lesson."

Added Purple Cow sales clerk Karen Kukan, "Especially the young-ger kids. They're having fun.

"They're learning while they're playing and they don't even realize it."

Children delight in the unexpected, the unusual and the absurd when they play, according to Kaban. "A child left to his or her own devices will enjoy toys in ways adults never anticipate."

The educator suggests adults observe their child carefully to determine his or her interests and capabilities. In some instances, they should consider putting a toy away for three to six months until the child is ready to play with it.

The first concern of Early Learning Centre customers is safety, said Novi manager Kris Bierer, followed by the educational value and fun.

"People had always thought in the past 'educational is boring.' Now they're learning there's a fun way for education."

"It's not all boring."

TOT TOYS

'Educational' is the word

By MAUREEN JOHNSTON
Staff Writer

When selecting a toy for baby Janey or Johnny, people these days are paying more attention to its educational value.

Local merchants, toy suppliers and educators have recognized a growing concern on the part of adults that the toys they purchase somehow benefit their young child.

In recent years, newspaper and magazine articles, books and television have sensitized us to the educational importance of the years before a child enters elementary school, writes Barbara Kaban in Choosing Toys for Children — From Birth to Five. "Parents, then, are the children's earliest educators, and the materials they provide become the learning tools for the young child."

"People are more aware of what they're purchasing — how the child will benefit," said Kris Bierer, manager of Early Learning Centre at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi. "There is a definite interest in children and their development."

And it is not just Mom who considers a toy's educational merits, agreed Hergenrader and Bierer. It's parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles — everybody, Bierer said.

"I get a wide spectrum of people," Hergenrader said. For example, "Dads are real interested in science things. It's fun to see them come in."

"I don't think a lot of them know what's available for their kids."

Recognizing the South Lyon area as an untapped market for educational toys, local resident Galeen Hergenrader eight months ago opened Purple Cow with the theme, "Learn While You Play."

"I'm getting more positive response than I had expected," she said, "and year round." Hergenrader said sales have continued steadily since a Christmas rush soon after the store opened.

Ninety-five percent of the toys in the Purple Cow have educational and/or creative value, Hergenrader said.

Purple Cow customers come from several surrounding communities — from Howell and Ann Arbor to Milford to Plymouth — for the unique items she stocks, Hergenrader said. Bierer said the Early Learning Centre also draws from an approximate 30-mile radius throughout Oakland County.

Most toys for children from birth to age five are designed to encourage eye-hand coordination, large-muscle coordination, concept development, or imagination and pretending.

DOROTHY CRAIN

Busy seniors

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

"Because I had thoughts on growing old," Dorothy Crain said, a friend recommended her to fill out somebody's unexpired term as member of the Northville Area Senior Citizens Advisory Council. So she did, and then she was asked to stay. Altogether she has one and a half years of service on it.

The Advisory Council is a group of persons representing the city, the township, the school system, Schoolcraft College, and the recreation department.

Its function, according to Crain, is to keep an eye on the budget of the senior citizens program, which is coordinated by Karl Peters.

"The money," she said, "comes from the federal, state, and local governments."

Advisory Council members are also encouraged to participate in special activities available to area senior citizens.

Two which Crain said she went to in the last year were the Thanksgiving dinner and the pre-school reading program.

At the Thanksgiving dinner she helped serve, and she also socialized with the guests, many of whom were friends of hers from her church women's association.

In May, during reading week, she signed up with senior citizens to give an hour of "grandparenting" time at the preschool classes on Main Street.

"This was something I thought I'd like to do," Crain said, because for several years before she was married she had taught second- and third-graders, and then preschoolers after she was married.

Oh, one of Dorothy Crain's thoughts on growing old? "Just because you get older is no reason to give up what you want to do."

If you would like to sit in on a meeting of the Northville Area Senior Citizens Advisory Council, you are welcome to come to the one o'clock meeting on the third Friday of the month at the Senior Citizen Center at 215 West Cady.

St. Lawrence horses win in Saginaw

Ulinda St. Lawrence's two race horses, Carefree Me and Fairy Godmother, have been winning lately at Saginaw Valley Downs, according to her husband Bill St. Lawrence.

The St. Lawrence family used to have a farm at the site that is now the St. Lawrence Estates subdivision. They now live in the subdivision, which is named for them.

Carefree Me, a gelding, and Fairy Godmother, a mare, have been working with horse trainer Don Hall, and will finish a highly successful season in Saginaw Aug. 25.

Bill said Ulinda is a "career woman" and the horses, which she purchased about three years ago, are her career.

"I'm proud of what she's done," he said. "She's found something that keeps her busy and keeps her happy. She reads lots of books about horses, and she really knows a lot about them."

The St. Lawrence family includes sons Mike and Marty and daughter Molly, who just had a baby boy, making Bill and Ulinda grandparents for the fourth time.

Carefree Me and Fairy Godmother will race at Northville Downs beginning in October.

The speaker for the event will be Northville resident John Lobbia, chairman and CEO of Detroit Edison.

"Charlotte's Web" is back

Back at the Marquis Theatre by popular demand, the classic children's story about a young girl, her pet pig Wilbur and Charlotte, the spider that saves his life, is an endearing tale that will delight both children and adults. This production is full of the songs, dancing and drama that captivated audiences last spring.

As a special treat, the cast will sing Happy Birthday for any child in the audience whose parent contacts the Marquis Theatre box office at least one day in advance.

For ticket information and performance dates, call the box office at 349-8110.

Local boy scouts head for Korea

This summer three Boy Scouts will represent Northville and the United States of America at the 17th World Jamboree at Seoul, Korea.

Jeff Nield, Chris Smith and Aaron Troschinetz will be among the 800 Boy Scouts of America attending this international event Aug. 8-15. Over 15,000 Scouts from throughout the world are expected to be a part of the Jamboree.

The purpose of the World Jamboree is to give Scouts from differing cultures the opportunity to exchange ideas and learn about other customs and languages. The Jamboree will demonstrate Scouting's ability to develop world brotherhood, a spirit of fellowship, and a source of understanding among young people.

"Scouts going to the Jamboree from America are looking forward to learning about Korea and about Scouting in other countries," said Chris Smith, "but I think we'll find Scouts everywhere have a lot in common." During the week-long event, boys and young men from over 100 countries will overcome language barriers as they live, work and have fun in an atmosphere of international friendship.

At the Jamboree, participants will be involved in many different events and activities. Besides time-honored hiking, camping and crafts, Scouts will experience some of the activities and scenery native to Korea. Scouts will watch sumo wrestling and Taekwon-Do demonstrations, visit ancient temples, and learn traditional dances of the nation.

The site of the jamboree is Mt. Soraksan National Park. There, Scouts will experience a wide range of landscape, from majestic peaks and crags to placid valley areas sprinkled with streams and waterfalls. Korea's capital city of Seoul is just 130 miles southwest of Mt. Soraksan.

Detroit Metro Airport on Tuesday, July 30 for Korea. The Scouts arrived in Tokyo, Japan on Wednesday with four days to spend touring. In these four days the Scouts planned to see Mount Fuji's breathtaking sight, experience the luxury of Tokyo's Hotel Urashima, go into the famous Imperial Palace and witness the beauty of the Asakusa Kannon Temple and Meiji Shrine. After receiving the warmest hospitality the Scouts will depart to Seoul, Korea on Sunday afternoon. The XVII Jamboree will commence with Opening Ceremonies on Thursday and conclude Aug. 15 with the Closing Ceremony.

Jeff Nield, Chris Smith and Aaron Troschinetz, all from Troop 755 of Northville, will represent the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Chartered 75 years ago by the U.S. Congress, Scouting provides boys and young adults with experiences that build character, provide adventure, and promote mental and physical fitness. There are over 4.3 million youth members in the Cub Scout, Boy Scout, and Explorer programs, and approximately 1.1 million adult volunteers.

The most popular toys are both fun and educational

According to Kaban, "These categories represent the emerging motor and intellectual skills which shape young children's interests and abilities."

"The Quiet Book," made of several types of material, with a different hands-on activity on each page is a popular item at Purple Cow.

Some of the lessons contained in the $16 book are counting, cause and effect, zipping, feeling textures and basic colors. For example, a child can pick velcro-attached apples from a tree, tie a shoe's laces, open barn doors to a variety of farm animals and arrange the sequence of a stoplight's colors.

"Roller coasters," wire configurations — strung with colored beads — on a wooden base, also present several lessons. Sliding the beads gets children thinking left-to-right, Hergenrader said, as in the pattern of reading, for example.

The toy — priced from $35 to $52 — also emphasizes eye-hand coordination, spatial concepts, colors and shapes, counting and dexterity, Hergenrader said. In addition, "following the direction (of the beads), kids have to use both hands."

In response to parents' concerns, today's marketplace offers an overwhelming range of toys and learning materials, parent advocate Bernice Weissbourd reports in the April 1990 issue of Parents.

Consider your kids' interests

The best place to begin choosing appropriate materials is to consider your child's interests, Weissbourd says. "Next try matching your child's interests to what is available and the amount of money you have to spend."

The child's age, special interests and whether they have older or younger brothers and sisters are key questions asked by the Purple Cow staff.

The ages listed on toy packaging is a guide in selecting an item, Hergenrader said. Whether the child for whom the item is being purchased has siblings is a clue to their developmental level, she said.

That question is also a safety precaution. A toy for a 3-year-old might have pieces that would fit into an 18-month-old brother or sister's mouth, for example.

"You really need to help parents be aware," Hergenrader said. "You can find things appropriate for an age without endangering someone else."

Buyers ask for, get quality

In response to consumer demand, production of good quality educational and creative toys is increasing.

"There are more things coming on to the market," said Hergenrader, who for three years owned a store in Virginia similar to the Purple Cow. "A lot of things available before were not quality products."

The store owner said she keeps a list of requests by parents and children of items she does not currently stock to relay to her suppliers. For example, "it's hard to find things in the science area that are age-appropriate," she said.

Hergenrader actively pursues science-related toys that are fun and creative — as evidenced by her recent window display of dinosaurs. If children have that type of toy, she said, they will not be afraid of science.

The store owner said sometimes the toy dealers respond to her requests and sometimes they look at her in disbelief. "It takes a little bit of digging, finding distributors who will act on your suggestion."

For toddlers, a hammer-and-ball set is the most popular toy in the Early Learning Centre chain, Blier said. "It's a toy they'll sit and play with for more than five minutes."

According to Kaban, "Hammering is one of the exploratory strategies to which children subject all toys." Hammering toys encourage hand-eye coordination while offering a constructive outlet for this behavior.

The Talking Peek-A-Boo Zoo, at $35 from Texas Instruments, works on hand-eye coordination and memory skills, Blier said. Children can also learn about cause and effect, she said. "They push a button and watch something happen."

Hergenrader also said many items she buys are created by independent toymakers who produce on a small scale toys with careful emphasis on educational value and detail.

For example, one company creates, one at a time, a zippered pouch that unfolds to reveal 26 pockets — each containing a finely sewn item representing the letters of the alphabet — a goose for "G," a heart for "H" and a pillow for "P," for example.

That toy, while sells for approximately $40 at the Purple Cow and the Early Learning Centre, helps children with phonetics, Hergenrader said, recognizing the sight and sound of letters.

Purchasing those types of items is the most challenging aspect of owning the store, Hergenrader said. She reminds herself to keep economics in mind.

Customers want quality toys that will last, she said. Finding a value for the money is the hard part.

It doesn't have to cost a lot

Good quality educational toys do not have to be expensive, she continued. She cited the "Egg and Shape Sorter" and "Bath Time Stickers" at approximately $6 and $3, respectively.

The sorter, which resembles an egg carton, teaches colors and shapes. "They can play with it as a toy in Mommy's shopping basket," Hergenrader said. The stickers — available in a variety of themes, including numbers and letters — can be arranged in scenes on a bathtub or pool wall, and float in the water.

"When you consider what is available, you don't always need to spend much money," says Weissbourd. "Toy stores, music stores and children's book stores are only a few places to explore."

Do not overlook the value of toys made of handy, everyday items found in the home, Weissbourd says, such as paper-towel rolls, empty food containers and old clothes.

Toys labeled educational are geared to teaching toddlers numerous skills," Janice Gibson, a professor of educational and developmental psychology, says in the February 1991 issue of Parents.

"But ordinary household items, such as plastic mixing bowls and measuring cups, can be used to do the same."

Weissbourd adds, "Consider yourself a resource for all kinds of play, music-making and story-telling adventures."

"You are, by far, the most diverse, responsive, versatile and interesting 'toy and learning experience' your child can have."

Hergenrader said stores like hers, with an emphasis on educational toys, can co-exist with giants such as Toys 'R Us.

"Their emphasis is mass marketing. They have a place in the market just like we do."

The large toy stores stock mass-produced toys heavily advertised on television, Hergenrader said.

"Their store is 'Look at the box. Please don't open it,'" she said. The specialty stores stock unique items and offer personal service.

"We're hands-on. I'm willing to open up the boxes for the parents. A lot of times they like it even better when they get it out."

Cascade Falls delight thousands each summer in Jackson

Cascade Falls sparkles in Jackson

Thousands of people flock to Jackson each summer evening to glimpse a one-of-a-kind lighted and colored water display in the heart of Jackson County's beautiful parks system.

Cascade Falls has long been a popular way for young and old alike to spend a quiet, enjoyable evening. The Sparks Foundation County Park attraction, with its illuminated, multi-tiered falls, is a soothing cap to any day.

Cascade Falls boasts a large, terraced man-made falls area and six fountains that spray water up to 20 feet in the air. A series of colored lights enhances the image of the rushing water.

A walkway allows visitors to climb and circle the falls area. Theater-type seating is provided for those who seek a leisurely view of the falls.

Stately pines surround the falls, and traditional American musical favorites pour from nearby speakers. Visitors say the combined effect of spilling water, colored lights, and pulse-quicken music offers a spectacular visual and musical effect.

Sparks Park also offers a bevy of side attractions, ranging from putt-putt golf to a pair of public courses sure to challenge any club-slinger.

Paddle boats are available, and tennis courts are popular.

Many visitors to the Cascades and Sparks Park enjoy feeding ducks and geese at the nearby picnic grounds.

Visitors to Cascade Falls may find ample parking for cars, buses and recreational vehicles. Admission is $2, and children five and under are admitted free.

The falls are open between Memorial Day and Labor Day. Light shows run from 7:30-11 p.m.

Those interested in a trip west to Cascade Falls may take I-94 to Exit 138 near Jackson. Exit south following the falls signs four miles to Kibby Road. A right turn on Kibby leads the traveler to Denton Road and finally Brown Street. The route is well-marked for easy access.

White-water rafting a splash hit

Foursome finds fun and excitement crashing down Youghiogheny River

Denise Bahs, Don VanSickle, Jeri Brundage and Cheryl Drongowski, all graduates of South Lyon High School, explored the world of white water rafting twice during the last year, first in Pennsylvania and then in West Virginia. Bahs, who now lives with her husband Jess in Wixom, shares their travel experience with us.

By DENISE BAHS
Special Writer

We could hear the crashing sound of the approaching white water rapids as we sat on a swiftly moving raft on the Youghiogheny River in Pennsylvania.

We were holding our breath in anticipation of plunging into the foamy fierce waters for the first time.

We were paddling like crazy and before we knew it we were staring straight down into the plunging water and the raft was at the mercy of the hydraulic forces. We surged downward, crashing through the white water, paddling and praying for our lives.

When the water calmed, we looked at each other with exhilaration—we conquered the wild waters! The first set anyway.

Between each set of rapids there was calm water to catch our breath and revel in our victory. As first time rafters, there were a few things we didn't know: how to dress, what white water rafting would feel like, safety precautions to name a few. We quickly learned.

We went with the rafting company, Mountain Streams and Trails Outfitters. This company runs rafting trips in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

The difficulty of the rafting depends on the water level, the river and the time of year. When water levels are more challenging than normal, or when running a more difficult river, a professional guide goes with each raft. The guide explains all the paddling procedures and how to handle different rapids.

You need to know how to paddle when going backwards downstream, what to do if the raft capsizes, and how to avoid smashing into rocks face-first if you fall out.

Rafting on the Cheat River are Jess and Denise Bahs, Craig Miller, Don VanSickle, Jeri Brundage and Cheryl Drongowski

The most important thing to know is that you must work as a team. Keep paddling at all times, even if someone falls out. Getting the person back in to the raft is priority number one, but you can't do that until you are through the wild waters yourself.

Don't wear jeans, even if it is cold. You get drenched when you walk into the water, shoes and all, to get into the raft and you haven't even started yet. Soaked jeans are impossible to get off.

Most companies will rent wet suits, but you won't need one unless it is really cold.

I had canoed, but rafting was very different from canoeing. The raft moves, bends and rolls with the waves. You can feel the rocks scraping under you because the raft is so buoyant.

After we had conquered several sets of rapids without a scratch, we lost one of our crew, Don VanSickle of Canton, a close friend. Before we knew what happened, he was gone, nowhere in sight.

All we could see around us was white frothy water with an occasional rock jutting out from the violent water. No sign of Don.

We had all heard rumors about a rafter dying on that very river years before; we all stopped paddling and started looking for Don. The guide plunged his paddle into the water to see if Don would grab it. No luck.

After what seemed like a lifetime, Don's head poked up through the surface of the water.

All of our safety instruction came in handy as we tried to rescue Don. The sound of the water was so loud he couldn't hear all of us screaming to keep his feet in front of him, although he knew to do it anyway.

Don came out without a scratch. When we hauled him back into the raft, we sighed with relief and headed for the next set of rapids with vigor.

Even though white water rafting can be dangerous, it is great fun. There is always the anticipation of what lies ahead, like on the uphill trek of a roller coaster. You feel a sense of vulnerability and power at having conquered the forceful waters.

The cost of white water rafting varies from $50 to $150 depending on the river, the day of the week and the time of year. Mountain Streams and Trails Outfitters offer a group discount. If 19 people pay, one goes free.

There are some minimum age requirements. On the Lower Youghiogheny River, the minimum age is 12. On the Cheat, Gauley, Upper Yough, and Tygart's Valley River and the Big Sandy Creek, you must be 16 years old.

The Middle Youghiogheny is the easiest run, with a requirement of 6 years of age.

The rivers all have different class (difficulty) levels of rapids, extending from Class I for youngsters and families to Class VI for advanced and experienced rafters.

The rivers are run during certain times of the year.

For more information on any of these rivers contact Mountain Streams and Trails by writing to: P.O. Box 106, Ohio, PA 15470 or call toll-free (800) 245-4090.

Renovated mill provides guests a relaxing stay

By PHYLLIS KREGER STILLMAN
Special Writer

I knew I was in for an interesting stay the moment I walked into the Grist Mill Inn. It was February, but a Christmas tree was still up in the parlor.

I mentioned the tree to Judith Krupka, owner of the Inn, and she said, "We've decided that it's a Valentine's Tree." That kind of laid back outlook on life translates into a very relaxed stay for guests to the bed and breakfast located in Homer, about 20 miles west of Jackson.

Krupka, a former professor at Michigan State University, is one of the main reasons a stay at Grist Mill Inn is so pleasant. Although she's been in the area only six years, she knows a lot about Homer and has great stories to tell about the small town.

She also has stories about the pleasures of rural life, including wildlife and birds. She's seen wild turkey in her garden and wood ducks who build nests and live in her trees.

Krupka also knows all about the many antique stores in the area—which dealers you can bicker with... which ones you can't, and which stores are only open "when the mood strikes." She'll be glad to tell you all the great places to go, and draw a map so you can find them.

Pat Davidson and Rick Hendrix of Northville had been antiquing in Marshall the day before. Krupka told them about Allen, sometimes referred to as the antiques capital of Michigan, and they were headed there armed with a map from Krupka.

"It's like having your own personal guide," said Davidson.

Along with being a very entertaining and interesting hostess, Krupka is also a great cook. There was a glazed apple cake and hot wassail punch waiting for me when I arrived at the Inn.

In the morning, breakfast was a gourmet feast, featuring orange juice with Grand Marnier, lots of fresh fruit, scrambled eggs with chives and lemon butter served in a crisp popover, orange-glazed chicken with perfectly prepared, crisp-tender, fresh asparagus, and strawberries

The Grist Mill is located in Homer, about 20 miles west of Jackson with homemade sorbet and whipped cream.

"The food was wonderful. Little touches like the apple cake and the wassail are very nice," said Davidson.

The Grist Mill Inn, which was built in 1905, has much of the original oak woodwork still in place. The Inn is charming in its own right, and Krupka has done a great job decorating it. "I wanted to make it so people could live in it, not so they'd be afraid to touch anything," says Krupka.

Davidson thinks Krupka has succeeded. "It's really like visiting someone's home."

The decor is Victorian, with lots of lace, ribbons and knick knacks.

All guest rooms have private baths, and all are decorated differently. One has a lace-canopied bed; another is decorated very simply, featuring a bed with a rope spring; still another has a quilt-covered queen size bed along with a day bed covered with pillows, and has a big, old-fashioned, claw-foot bathtub right in the bedroom.

An overnight stay at the Grist Mill Inn costs $65 per room on the weekend with the full breakfast; during the week, the rate is $50, with a continental breakfast.

Krupka also offers a package plan which includes a gourmet dinner; cost is $115 for one night per couple, $150 for two nights. Canoes are available for the use of guests; the Inn is near a river which connects to a chain of lakes. Krupka also sometimes arranges craft workshops. Call (517) 568-4063 for reservations.

Grist Mill Inn: It's 'a pleasant surprise'

Sharon Clark of Milford went to Billingsgate with her husband Bob. She was impressed as soon as they arrived.

"The restaurant is out in the middle of nowhere. When you get there, it's a pleasant surprise. It's also kind of unique that you have to ring the doorbell to get in."

The rest of the experience was just as impressive.

"The staff was very casual. They didn't push you; you could take as long as you wanted. There was an artistic flare to the presentation, and the food was fantastic."

The Clarks appreciated the antiques. "It's an old, old church; and all the antiques just seemed to belong there."

Even though Billingsgate is 90 minutes from Milford, the Clarks would like to go back.

"It would have to be a special occasion, though; it's that kind of place."

Judy Bearss of South Lyon went to Billingsgate with her husband Mark on his birthday. It was a surprise—she arranged a weekend with two other couples who met them at Grist Mill Inn. They all liked the rural feel of the area.

"It's not very far. You get there fairly quickly, but when you get there it feels like it's far away."

Bearss liked Billingsgate as soon as she saw it. "The restaurant reminded me of Christmas, the way it was all lit up."

Billingsgate was especially nice for a party. "The table is yours for the evening. We just took our time and had a wonderful evening."

Bearss also enjoyed the Grist Mill Inn. "We've stayed at numerous bed and breakfasts. Judy Krupka (owner of Grist Mill) is one of the most interesting innkeepers we've met. We also liked all her animals. In fact, I liked the dog so much that a couple weeks later I bought one like it for myself. And breakfast was great."

Northville played host to the National Amateur Baseball Federation (NABF) Junior World Series for 15- and 16-year-olds last weekend, and Tournament Director Bob Frelick called it "the most closely matched tourney, talent-wise, we've ever had."

If that wasn't enough excitement for the crowds, the play of the host team — Northville Mickey Mantle — certainly was. The squad, coached by Joe Staknis, won three of five games — including a victory over the eventual champs — and were actually in the title chase heading into the final day of competition. They wound up placing third out of nine teams.

"The Northville team did a great job," Frelick said. "They were the last undefeated team in the field until they lost two straight to Dow Commercial of Redmond, Wash."

"It was the best any Northville team's ever done in any of the NABF Tournaments. Going into [Aug. 4], they had as good a chance as anybody to win the title."

The tournament championship went to Marion Merrill Dow of Cincinnati, after they ripped Dow Commercial 7-0 in the final on Aug. 4. The tournament MVP, Mark Drexler, pitched a four-hitter in the game and also clubbed a homer.

Marion Merrill Dow came to Northville with just 11 players, and then lost a player to injury.

"To play with just 10 players in a nine-team tournament and win it is quite an accomplishment," Frelick said.

Here is a game-by-game look at Northville Mickey Mantle's title run:

Delwal falls to Caesars 11-9 in collegiate final

In its first year of Livonia Collegiate Baseball League (LCBL) action, Novi-based Delwal came within a whisker of grabbing the LCBL playoff title and a trip to the All-American Amateur Baseball Association Tournament in Johnstown, Pa.

In a game that typified the entire tournament — high scoring affairs with lead changes and late inning rallies — Little Caesars nipped Delwal 11-9 in the finals on Aug. 2 to take the title. Delwal's only other loss of this double-elimination tournament was another one-run defeat to Caesars a day earlier.

In the final, Caesars rallied with three runs in the bottom of the eighth inning off reliever and loser Andrew Margolick to turn a 9-8 deficit into a victory. Margolick had been impressive heading into the inning, allowing no earned runs and only three hits in 3½ innings after taking over for starter Ron Hollis.

Tim Bruce stroked a three-run double in the first inning to get Delwal out of the blocks, and the lead increased to 7-0 after the top half of the fourth. But in the bottom of the stanza, Caesars sent 12 batters to the plate and eight runners across the plate to take the lead, 8-7, and chase Hollis.

"Hollis just lost the plate," Delwal Manager Bob Peterson said.

DELWAL 18, WALTER'S 11: Delwal earned a right to play in the final with a wild win earlier Friday over two-time defending playoff champion Walter's Appliance.

Delwal led 6-0 after one inning only to trail 8-7 after three. But in the final five innings, the locals outscored Walter's 10-3 to knock the top-seed out of the tourney.

"We ran out of runs is what happened," Walter's Coach Mike Keller said. "It's been a hitting tourney."

Bill McCaig got credit for the victory in relief of starter Coby Garner. The top hitters included Eric Sumpter (2-for-5, 3 RBIs), Jason Valente (3-for-5, 3 RBIs), Mike Schwartzberger (3-for-5, 3 RBIs) and Bruce (3-for-5, 3 RBIs).

LITTLE CAESARS 15, DELWAL 14: On Aug. 1, Caesars trailed Delwal 10-7 after eight innings, but Mike Giacantonio's monstrous three-run homer highlighted an eight-run ninth to complete the comeback.

In the bottom of the inning, Delwal scored four times to cut the lead to 15-14, but the game ended with runners on second and third.

"It was an emotional game with key lead changes and 22 runs scored in the last two innings," Peterson said.

The leading hitters included Steve Money (2-for-4), McCaig (2-for-2, 2 RBIs) and Schwartzberger (2-for-5, 2 RBIs). Paul Mancini suffered the loss in relief.

DELWAL 11, WALTER'S 10: A couple of late-inning rallies made for an exciting, almost exhausting, opening night of action in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League (LCBL) playoffs on July 31 at Ford Field.

In the opener, Delwal scored six runs in the seventh inning to erase a 7-1 deficit and eventually upset No. 1

Walter's Appliance, 10-9, in 10 innings. The night finally ended at 12:53 a.m. when second-seeded Little Caesars scored five runs in the top of the ninth to beat Fieger 8-6.

Walter's was cruising along with a 7-1 lead but Delwal together a clutch rally, just three outs away from defeat. Walter's starter Mike Coleman allowed only four hits and one run through six innings (on a Hollis solo homer), but allowed the first three Delwal batters to reach base in the seventh with no outs. In all, three Walter's pitchers combined to walk six batters and a hit batter in the inning. The big hits included run-scoring singles by Valente and Sumpter.

Walter's Craig Overallitis broke the tie in the eighth with a home run, and Paul Pirronello tripled home another to make it 9-7 after 7½ innings, but Sumpter delivered a two-run homer in the bottom of the inning to knot the score again.

Vince Sacco then ended it with a two-out single up the middle that score Hollis for the winning run in the 10th. The hit — Sacco's only one in the game — came on an 0-2 pitch.

Mancini earned the win in relief of Tim Bruce, who lasted seven innings. Sumpter went 3-for-5 on the day with three RBIs and Hollis walked four times and scored four runs.

"It was a wild game," Peterson said. "Bruce was very solid in the middle innings, where he retired 10 straight batters, but his control was a little off (five walks in seven innings)."

Delwal ends the season with a 16-14-1 record.

Fall practice gets under way on Aug. 12 for high schoolers

The excitement of high school sports begins to build momentum for a new season on Aug. 12, when over 100,000 boys and girls statewide begin practice for the eight fall activities sponsored by the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA).

The football calendar is a week longer this year, with schools having the option to play nine games over a 10-week period. Schools which begin practice on Aug. 12 can play their first game on Aug. 30, but would then have an open date during the season. Twenty-five varsity games will take place on the first allowable weekend of play.

"Schools will have the option for an extra week of practice if they wish to play their first game Sept. 6, perhaps affording themselves more gradual conditioning and an additional scrimmage opportunity," MHSAA Executive Director Jack Roberts said. "Regardless of when the first practice takes place, schools will still have to conduct three days of drills without pads before contact can begin and they must have 14 days of practice before the first game."

Football is the only sport in the fall which requires practice minimums prior to the competition. All other activities can engage in competition as soon as member schools determine their teams are ready.

Thanksgiving weekend is as late as it can be in 1991, with the MHSAA Football Finals in the Pontiac Silverdome Nov. 29-30. Fall tournament competition begins in mid-October with activities in boys golf, girls tennis and cross country, and concludes with the girls basketball finals in Battle Creek, Dec. 6-7.

Locally, both Novi and Northville varsity football squads open the '91 season on Sept. 6. The Wildcats travel to Walled Lake Western to take on the Warriors, while the Mustangs open the season at South Lyon.

ATTENDANCE RECORDS SET: Buoyed by the expansion of the football tournament series, spectator attendance at MHSAA tournaments topped the one million mark during the 1990-91 school year.

With 128 teams reaching the football playoffs in eight classes, attendance was high for the first three rounds of the tournament, but did not quite double that of the marks set in the previous years. However, the two-day finals attendance of 55,127 just passed the one-day final mark of 53,904 in 1986.

Attendance at girls tournaments continued to climb, with the 1990-91 total of 219,224 topping the 1988-89 mark of 211,336. The figure does not include cross country and track, the only series in which boys and girls compete during the same season.

Of the sports setting attendance records for their respective tournament series, baseball and cross country set new marks at all levels. The final baseball attendance of 19,187 broke the 1988 record of 17,764; and cross country spectatorship enjoyed a 24 percent increase over the record-setting mark of the previous year, with 9,788.

Boys and girls soccer continued steady attendance growth, with the boys tournament setting new records at the district, regional and finals level of that series to finish with 18,917 spectators, breaking the 1989-90 mark of 16,261. The regional attendance nearly doubled for the second straight year with 7,242 in 1990-91. Girls soccer drew 7,976 fans, breaking the old record of 5,768 set in 1989-90. Along the way, girls soccer also broke attendance marks at the district, regional and semifinal levels.

Softball finished its series with a record 16,312 attendance, breaking the 1988 mark of 13,555, with new records also set at the district and regional level of play. Girls swimming hit 3,600 in 1990-91, topping the old mark (2,991).

MILLION DOLLAR SHOOTOUT: A million dollars is only a golf swing away at the Ronald McDonald Children's Charities Million Dollar Hole-In-One Shoot.

Sponsored by the southeastern Michigan Ronald McDonald Children's Charities chapter (RMCC), the event's top prize of one million dollars will go to the first finalist to hit a hole-in-one. The fundraiser will take place Aug. 10-18 at Country Club Village in Northville — formerly Dun Rvin. All proceeds from the event will go to RMCC, an independent, non-profit organization which makes grants to local children's charities.

Open to amateur golfers and the general public only, the outing will involve major sports and media personalities from metropolitan Detroit.

"We expect the hole-in-one outing to create a lot of excitement in the Detroit-area," commented Efrén Cavazos, chairperson of the event committee. "No sports event with such high stakes has ever been held in the Detroit area for amateur participants."

"This event will give Detroiters a chance to have some fun, see some celebrities and support a worthwhile charity all at the same time," said Gary Granader, president of the RMCC board of directors.

For a $5 daily entry fee, participants will receive three golf balls to try their luck. Additional balls cost $1 each. Preliminary rounds will take place Aug. 10-17 where entrants will vie for daily prizes and the chance to advance to the finals on Aug. 18. The grand prize in the final round will be one million dollars for a hole-in-one, or a new 1991 Volkswagen automobile for the person closest to the pin.

Each day, five entrants will qualify for the finals. On Aug. 18 at 1 p.m., the 40 finalists will vie for the prizes.

For more information, call 851-3993.

Northville Mantle goes 3-2 at series

nents from Dalton, Ga., in check for 6½ innings in the opener on Aug. 1, allowing just five hits and striking out nine.

The locals broke a scoreless tie with a four-run rally in the fourth inning and never looked back. The big hit was a two-run double by Jerry Birdsall.

"Christensen pitched an outstanding game," Frelick said.

NORTHVILLE 6, BOWLING GREEN CHURCHILL 4: This second round battle on Aug. 2 was close the whole way. Northville scored three early runs (thanks to a two-run homer by Birdsall) but the Maumee, Ohio, Region winners later knotted the score at 3-3.

The locals went ahead 5-3 on RBI hits by Fred Swarthout and Joey Staknis, and then closed it out when Aaron Rose belted a solo homer in the sixth.

Dan Hutchinson was the starter and Craig Benedict notched the win in relief for Northville.

NORTHVILLE 5, MARION MERRILL DOW 4: Later on Aug. 2, the host team edged the Cincinnati representative to become the tournament's only unbeaten squad.

A two-run home run by Swarthout and an RBI single by Kevin Shaw put Northville in command 3-0 after two innings, but Marion Merrill Dow came back to take a 4-3 lead in the sixth.

Just three outs away from a loss, Northville rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh to win it. Christensen and Scott Hartsough delivered the run-scoring hits.

"When we were down 4-3 in the last inning, we showed our composure," Staknis said. "It was a true team effort."

DOW COMMERCIAL 5, NORTH-

VILLE 3: On Aug. 3, the Redmond, Wash., entry took a lead of 5-2 into the sixth inning and then held on.

Northville scored once in the sixth — on an Aaron Rose RBI — but never got any closer.

Christensen went the distance and suffered the loss despite allowing just eight hits, three earned runs and no walks.

"Dow had tremendous speed," Staknis said. "It was a good, grind 'em out baseball game, with each team fighting to manufacture some runs."

DOW COMMERCIAL 8, NORTHVILLE 0: The locals were knocked out of the double-elimination event on Aug. 4 when Dow's Sean Spencer hurled a one-hit shutout.

"We feel we might have had the best team, but we ran up against an excellent pitcher who threw smoke," Staknis explained.

Northville's only hit was a Kevin Shaw single in the fifth inning. In the meantime, Dow scored five times in the first inning and then added three unearned runs in the latter innings against Northville starter Craig Benedict.

"We played very well for the entire tournament," Staknis said. "Finishing third in a national tourney is fantastic — I am very proud of all of my players."

Running parents turn to strollers

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

Let's face it. The reason that most adults get out of shape isn't simply because they get older. It's because they have kids.

What parent, who is used to running for 45 minutes or an hour every day, can spare that much time once there's a baby in the home? You can't leave the child home alone, and it's not worth it for the sitter to only come over for an hour. For all their rewards, babies are more of an obstacle to working out than shin splints.

That's where the new wave of high-performance strollers comes in. Strollers like the Baby Jogger are billed not only as all-terrain strollers, but as an accessory for the running parent as well.

"The people who use them are pretty serious athletes," said John Shoemaker, manager of the Town & Country Cyclery, which sells Baby Joggers. "They're mostly health-conscious, yuppie-type people."

"Married people who are into triathlons or do a lot of running use them."

Born six or seven years ago, the concept of a stroller for athletes is fairly simple.

"It's the same kind of construction as a serious bike," said Shoemaker. "It has the same lightweight aluminum tubing for the frame, it has the same wheels, and the seat is made of waterproof materials. They're really durable. They're definitely not junk."

They also fold up to a compact size for storing in a closet, or loading in the car. And there are two-seat models available two hold twins.

Children from one month up to about four years old (50 pounds) can use the strollers. According to the manufacturer, little babies tend to fall asleep from the motion, and older kids just enjoy watching the world go by and talking about what they see with Mom or Dad.

"It's great to have for a Mom or Dad that's worked all day and still needs some stress relief," said Shoemaker. "Running, like any exercise, is a great stress reliever. The parents can come home, work out their stress, and still be with their kids."

"I know that when I used to do a lot of running, if I were to have a kid, there's no way I could have the time to run."

And according to runners who've used them, the only affect the stroller has had on their running is to make it more fun. One famous runner reported training with the Baby Jogger at a six-minute mile pace. Another woman won her women's division of a 5K race while pushing her daughter in the Baby Jogger.

That's not to say that you have to run a six-minute mile to get any use out of the strollers. They'll also go into off-pavement situations where ordinary strollers can't.

All-terrain strollers can go in light snow, on hiking trails or just about any place you can set a foot. They're especially popular in beach communities where sand poses a problem to conventional strollers.

Devin O'Halloran thinks he looks pretty cool in his Baby Jogger

The smooth-rolling, three-wheel design makes the stroller easy to control. It's balanced so that just a touch of the handlebar can turn it.

There are several brands on the market in a range of prices from $100 to a little over $200. The differences between the less expensive models and the more costly ones are significant, however.

While structural integrity and quality of materials is slightly better in the pricier brands, the biggest difference is in the area of safety.

Better brands, like the Baby Jogger sold at Town & Country, will feature a hand brake, which can lock to hold the stroller for loading and unloading. They also have a safety leash which attaches to the handlebar and the user's wrist. This prevents runaways, should the runner stumble.

There's a pouch behind the seat, useful for keys, wallets, diapers and pacifiers. Baby Jogger also offers as optional accessories an all-weather canopy and a rear-mounted wire basket big enough to carry a bag of groceries.

The Camellia

Colonial, gabled and stately

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

True to colonial form, every element is mirrored in the central portion of the Camellia 3, with the gabled and stately twin-columned entry at its center. Two sets of twin gables interrupt the roofline. At ground level, matching sets of shuttered windows, high and wide, accent the brick facade on both sides of the door. Adding a final touch, identical chimneys stand sentinel-like at both ends of the high-peaked roof.

A traditional large foyer, with columns flanking the entries to the living room (on the left) and dining room (on the right), brings the formal colonial symmetry inside, but that's where it ends. The rest of the home, which includes a full basement, is built to suit the needs of thoroughly modern families.

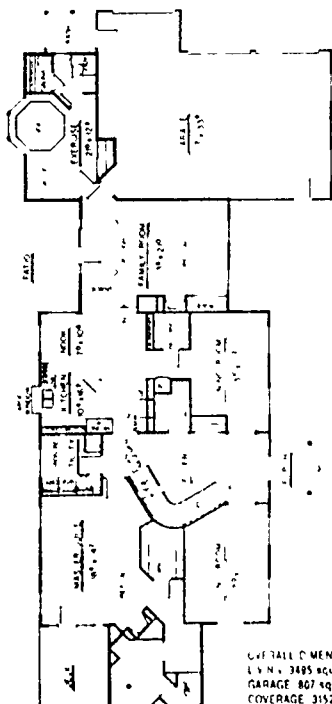

One outstanding feature is an exercise room, complete with a sauna, shower, mini-bathroom and an entertainment-size spa. Located on the outer edge of the home, the room could be built even larger if desired.

The huge master suite is designed to pamper its owners. A bathroom the size of a small bedroom is bathed in light from a skylight and further brightened by glass blocks in the external walls of the shower and the tub. One lavatory is just outside the bathroom door; another is close to the entrance to the suite. The main room can accommodate a king-size bed and a couple of easy chairs by the fireplace with room to spare.

Cooks will appreciate the pullout mixing center in the large country kitchen. Mixers, food processors, blenders, popcorn poppers—the whole gamut of kitchen appliances can remain set up and hidden behind the roll-up door. Open the door and the shelf pulls out for easy access. A garden window invites flowering plants or an indoor herb garden.

This kitchen has its own nook, leaving the family room totally open to multiple uses—pool table, ping-pong table or home entertainment center, complete with video games. There's room for it all in this skylit room complete with fireplace.

Upstairs, accessed by a staircase that ascends gracefully along one side of the entryway, are three bedrooms, a bathroom with compartmentalized double vanities and a library. A centrally located laundry chute feeds into the utility room below. Twin dormer windows make the library and front bedroom particularly appealing.

For a study plan of the Cassia (209-87), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, c/o Hometown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843 (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

Denise Vecellio, at left, likes to create mouth watering pasta dishes in her custom built kitchen. A red and green tiffany lamp, stenciling and marble knobs on the cabinets add just a touch of color to the Vecellio's spacious kitchen. The window overlooking Bass Lake, below, provides quite a view when the Vecellio family sits down to dinner.

PERSONAL TOUCHES

BY LORI O'DELL

The simplest way to describe Denise and Mark Vacellio's home overlooking Bass Lake is light, airy and spacious.

Her specialty is pasta, but Denise also enjoys baking bread, cookies and muffins for Mark and their 3-1/2-month-old son Nicholas. Counter and cabinet space can be found in great abundance.

Originally Denise decided she wanted her kitchen colors to be black and white with matching linoleum. But because all of the floors on the first level interconnect, she wondered how the colors would blend with the rest of the house. Her second choice was blue and white with matching linoleum. But again, the interconnecting floors posed a problem.

Denise finally elected to install hardwood floors in the kitchen, dining room and foyer. The walls and appliances are white, but a border of red and green stenciling along the top of the walls and green bar stools around a center island add a touch of color. Matching green marble knobs on the cabinets and an overhead red and green Tiffany lamp complete the look.

One of the unique aspects of the kitchen area is a cozy sitting area off to the side. A red and green braid rug and loveseat and chairs of similar color blend well with the kitchen. An antique elm sideboard, wood chest and her grandmother's bread kneader make the room the perfect place for friends and family to gather.

The dining room is conveniently located just a few steps from the kitchen. Upon entering the room all eyes are drawn to a mahogany antique cabinet. When Denise found this piece of furniture the wood latticework was in bad shape, the glass doors were broken and paint spills covered it. Once Mark replaced the glass and removed the latticework and paint spills, the couple discovered they had stumbled across a beautiful item of furniture.

The couple's living room is a blend of modern contemporary and Shaker-style furnishings. The room is decorated in green, burgundy and blue. Above the wood-burning fireplace hangs a picture from the Ann Arbor Art Fair. A group of friends gave Denise and Mark the artwork for their 10th anniversary.

FHA loans now require more up-front money

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Nearly 200,000 prospective home buyers who could have qualified for an FHA-insured mortgage loan during the first half of this year are now squeezed out of the market.

That's the opinion of Warren Osko, executive vice president of Mortgage Bankers Association of America. The problem stems from a new policy initiated by the Federal Housing Administration, requiring home buyers to pay at least 43 percent of all closing costs in cash.

The objective of the tightened FHA requirements is to reduce losses. But in the process, many families who were planning to purchase an FHA-financed home must scuttle their plans. They don't have the cash to satisfy the new requirements.

Closing costs—even 43 percent of those costs—can add up to a substantial chunk of money. It includes costs for appraisals, inspections, legal fees, brokers' commissions, title insurance premiums, lender's and escrow fees, etc.

In the case of FHA-insured mortgages, borrowers must now pay an advance fee plus an annual mortgage insurance premium. This, of course, is in addition to all the other costs.

John Weicher, assistant secretary for policy development and research for the Department of Housing and Urban Development, believes the new requirements will have a minimal impact on home buyers. It just means that potential buyers may have to delay their home purchase while they save the extra cash needed for closing costs, he said.

The pressure on FHA program and policymakers came from the General Accounting Office. In the dark recesses of their government offices, sharp-pencil accountants determined that FHA cumulative losses on foreclosed residential properties have reached nearly $7 billion.

HUD planners reason that the more up-front cash paid by home buyers, the more unlikely will be a subsequent default and foreclosure on FHA-insured properties.

That rationale is undoubtedly true. But the downside of the recent tightening actions is to pull home ownership further from the reach of low- and moderate-income families. And that's the primary group the FHA was organized to serve.

Q. Is anything being done to make homes more earthquake resistant?

A. Yes, there is consistent research in this area. While many people tend to forget about earthquake protection between shakes, there are certain scientists and researchers who are constantly working on new seismic safety methods and techniques.

For example, researchers at the University of Southern California, Department of Civil Engineering, are now using medical technology to analyze concrete and other building materials regarding their vulnerability to seismic activity. Computed tomography, more commonly known as CAT scans, is being used to analyze concrete and evaluate building materials.

This procedure helps researchers determine how different materials perform under stress and water exposure. Computer tomography "images" the interior composition of an object, whether a human head or a concrete slab, by relating changes of a particle beam's penetration through an object to the density of the object. The changes are collected in a computer and reconstructed into photo images. A revealing three-dimensional visual model is then created.

The bottom-line benefit of all this high-tech mumbo jumbo is the development of more secure, earthquake resistant homes and other buildings in future years.

Q. What are the Internal Revenue Service rules regarding the exchange of like-kind real properties?

A. There is a new set of rules and regulations for like-kind exchanges of multiple properties under Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Professional exchangers have been anxiously waiting for the new regulations for months. They are a bit complex. Check with your accountant or tax adviser regarding the new rules as they relate to your situation.

German punch bowl is a valuable gift

By James G. McCollam
Copy News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of an old punch bowl that has been in our family for years. A gift from an old German family.

We get great pleasure from using it as a wassail bowl at holiday times and would like to know something of its origin and value.

It is marked "Villeroy & Boch—Mettlach—3037."

A. Your punch bowl with underplate was made in Mettlach, Germany, by Villeroy & Boch during the late 19th century. It is a choice antique and would be worth $700 to $800.

Q. I have an old stoneware bowl with straight slanted sides. It is 11 inches in diameter and 4 inches high. On the bottom is the enclosed mark.

Can you tell me anything about its vintage and value?

A. Stephen Green made everyday stoneware in Lambeth, England, during the mid-19th century. A bowl such as yours would sell in the $125 to $135 range.

Q. When we went through my grandfather's things, we found an old copper powder flask. It is embossed with three horses' heads. It cleaned up beautifully and the spout works well.

Can you provide some information about its age and value?

A. This would probably date back to the early 1800s and might sell in the $125 to $135 range.

Q. We have what appears to be a very fine violin. Inside it is branded "G. Pyne—London—1914."

Does that suggest anything about its quality or value?

A. George Pyne did make very fine violins, and most of them sell in the $2,500 to $3,500 range.

Personal touches make home unique for living

With a 22-foot ceiling the room is spacious. A portion of the second floor overlooks the living room. Denise plans to commission her cousin to make a Shaker style quilt for the overhang.

The master bedroom located on the first floor is decorated with oak furniture, dried flower arrangements and a handmade quilt. Like the other rooms in the house, the master bath has some clever personal touches.

Denise and her mother used a sponge and paint to create a unique design on the wall in back of the bathtub. Decorated in mauve and green, a matching tile floor, gardeners bench and stenciling complete the look.

The entryway of the home is impressive. An open wood staircase leads to the upper level. A mauve and green quilt purchased at the Walled Lake Quilt Show and another made by Denise's cousin hangs over the stairway railing. On the wall near the staircase hangs a framed fan which belonged to Denise's grandmother. Other heirlooms in the entryway are an antique table which has been in Denise's family at least 75 years and an antique chair purchased in Canada.

On the second floor is a sitting room decorated in light blue and cream. One of the unique features is a skylight window.

Nicholas' room has an alcove with a skylight window that overlooks the lake. The bed and dresser in his room have served three generations of Denise's family. The quilt on Nicholas' bed was made by his great-grandmother and the needlework in his room was completed by his grandmother.

Denise also collects baskets, many of which were purchased at the Village Peddler in Milford.

"I like to shop locally," explained Denise. "I like family stores. I missed that when we moved from Birmingham. But that same feeling is back. Shop owners in Milford will call me up to let me know something I've been looking for is in. That's nice. All of the rooms in the house have shades but no window treatments. Denise plans to hang lace panels in the entryway and swags on the windows overlooking the lake. But for now she enjoys the openness and streams of sunshine which give the house a light, airy feeling.

The exterior of the home is tan brick and wood. A green front door and garage door and brass outdoor light fixtures give it an elegant look. A deck which wraps around two sides of the house overlooks the lake below.

Most of the landscaping consists of no maintenance plants and natural occurring perennials. Eventually the couple plans to build either a brick or wood pathway down to the lake and plant wildflowers along the edge. Another future project is finishing their walkout basement.

Use plywood when replacing linoleum

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

Q. I am an elderly widow. My kitchen linoleum is old and has holes. I have to put a small rug on the floor to cover these holes. I want my son to install self-sticking tiles. I feel that we should first cover the older linoleum with plywood before the new floor installation. He disagrees. What advice do you have?

A. There is an important reason for installing a plywood underlayment over the older flooring. It is very likely your older flooring contains asbestos. The plywood subflooring will encapsulate this older flooring and prevent any adverse effects from the asbestos.

Your only other option would be to have the existing linoleum checked for asbestos content by professionals. If it does contain asbestos, removal must be done by licensed professionals as it can be a dangerous health hazard.

Installing a new plywood underlayment over the older linoleum is much less expensive than removing a flooring that contains asbestos. You should not consider leaving the flooring as is. If the older linoleum does contain asbestos, the eroding areas of the surface could begin to release fragments of the asbestos (usually contained in the felt backing) into the air and this is a health hazard.

Do not glue the new tiles directly to the older flooring. This would not sufficiently encapsulate a flooring with asbestos content.

Special Writer

Service is just as important as the product, believes Cynthia Sweler, the new owner of Uncle Chill's Ice Cream and More in Milford. Located at 113 E. Commerce, Uncle Chill's offers the latest in "old-fashioned" ice cream parlors.

"You can eat ice cream anywhere," is the Sweler's philosophy. "We want to provide good service also," Cynthia explained.

Cynthia and her husband, Phillip, opened Uncle Chill's in May of this year. They live in Livonia and plan to build a home in the Milford area next year.

"We were looking for a business because we plan on moving into the area. We want to be involved in the community," Cynthia said.

Uncle Chill's is decorated in 1950s style, giving all who enter the door a trip down memory lane. The comfortable atmosphere is complemented by a wide assortment of ice cream and frozen yogurt.

The Swelers plan to elaborate on the style by offering penny candy and other soda fountain products from the past. In keeping with the 1950s theme, they are hoping to attract customers who remember, or perhaps those who have never experienced but would like to experience, the ice cream parlors of days gone by.

The menu will be expanded to include lunch and light dinner items. Right now coney dogs are about the only food item on the menu. Wednesday is coney day with 99 cent coneys all day.

Uncle Chill's is keeping the Swelers busy. Both Cynthia and Phillip have full-time jobs away from Uncle Chill's. Phillip is a letter carrier and Cynthia is a social worker. They don't have any children but they do have a dog, Guy Dog, who is their baby.

"We love children and really enjoy the sports teams," Cynthia said. Uncle Chill's offers a 10 percent discount to sports teams, or their coaches can eat free. Birthday parties for children will be available in the near future. Senior citizens receive a 10 percent discount also.

Personalized lithographs are the latest addition at Uncle Chill's. The lithographs include information about the person, interests or hobbies, and a picture of the person. Cynthia hopes the lithographs will be a big hit.

Uncle Chill's is open Monday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday hours are from noon to 10 p.m. The phone number is 684-1474.

The "Amazing" All New TECH-MATICTM

INCREDIBLE COMFORT, WITH EXCLUSIVE PILLOW HEIGHT ADJUSTMENT AND ULTRA-MATIC DUAL MASSAGE.

RELIEF IS SPELLED TECH-MATIC - SO IS COMFORT

Water Proof - Shock Proof

Safe to use with oxygen!

Many doctors recommend adjustable beds as being beneficial for anyone with lower back pain and swelling of the lower extremities. Enjoy the first great nights rest in years.

Get relief from the pain of arthritis. It will change your whole outlook on life.

Do your legs hurt or burn because of poor circulation, even while on medication? Tech-Matic will help and give you blessed relief. Don't wake up with a tired and weary back and no energy to start the day. Tech-Matic will make you feel alive and vigorous. You will even feel like dancing again.

Even with no medical problems, Tech-Matic will make you feel extremely rested and "ready-to-go" after a truly good nights sleep.

Tired of searching for rest on ordinary beds, recliners, sofa, etc. Let Tech-Matic give you a "total night of rest." Adjust your bed to your most preferable and comfortable position. It's fun and gets rid of that "can't turn off mind situation."

TECH-MATIC™

Manufactured by a leading maker of adjustable beds for more than 60 years.

Patented
Adjustable Pillow

The world's most comfortable bed lets you select your own perfect position for reading . . . snacking . . . watching TV . . . and for sleeping or just plain wide-awake rest. Just a touch of the finger awakens our Electronic Control which will shape your Tech-Matic swiftly and silently to a new kind of comfort not found in any other adjustable bed. Tech-Matic has adjustable pillow height . . . An extra moveable section that positions head and shoulders for unbelievable comfort, perfect for reading, watching TV, sitting up or sleeping. It's just like having a built-in pillow . . . and it's yours with the Tech-Matic adjustable bed.

Bedrooms are not just for sleeping anymore. It can become a center for many activities: reading, TV, sewing, studying and the ultimate "breakfast in bed" - Total Relaxation! Tech-Matic offers a size for every need from roomy twin to the new Dual King model . . . An ideal choice for couples who prefer different positions. Each spouse has their own control panel for their side of the bed. Each side in complete control of their own desirable position.

Just plug in the cord and Tech-Matic is ready to go to work for you instantly and quietly at the touch of a finger. All Tech Matic's are compatible with standard headboards and can be attached to your own headboard, if desired. Available in all sizes: Twin, Full, Queen, Dual Queen, and Dual King!

Can be a blessing for the bed-ridden. No cumbersome toggle switches. Our new Electronic Touch Hand Control just needs a touch to relieve the monotony, nervous tension, aches and soreness from remaining in one position too long. And done with virtually no assistance from others. Eliminate your uncomfortable hospital bed. Side rails available on all sizes.

Want or need a soothing blood circulating massage? Just touch the control for Ultra-Matic and enjoy a full-bodied massage right in your own bed. Feel the tension slip away. Just like having a skilled masseur RIGHT IN YOUR OWN HOME!

Enjoy Ultra-Therm for controlled warmth. Lets you select the level of heat desired. Since heat rises from the mattress, it is, therefore retained by the lightest of coverings. Much more efficient than an electric blanket.

Electronic Touch Control

Here is how our Electronic Touch Hand Control does your bidding. Just a touch of a finger automatically controls all these functions. Adjust back section, adjust pillow section, adjust leg section, and gives full-bodied soothing dual massage with two controls. One for top half, one for bottom half, or both together at the same time RIGHT FROM YOUR OWN BED!
