Township pension information still under wraps

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Northville Township officials last week refused to reveal the amount of the township's financial obligations for pension and other benefits paid to its part-time elected officers.

Supervisor Betty Lennox rejected two of The Northville Record's three Freedom of Information Act requests for financial information concerning perks dished out to the township supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

In responding to the Record's request to "isolate all members of the executive committee who have received pension and/or health care benefits since 1981," Lennox replied: "Please be advised that there is no document known to be in existence which would satisfy the terms of this request."

Lennox then responded to a request that the township "forward information on the pay-outs to each member of the executive committee who has left township employ since 1981" by stating: "We believe that the requested information concerns private financial information and falls within the scope of the privacy exemption of the Michigan Freedom of Information Act. The Act provides that information may be exempt from disclosure as a(n) 'unwarranted invasion of an individual's privacy.'"

The township did comply with one information request. It provided group retirement account figures dating back to Dec. 1, 1982.

From that date, the township's annual pension account contribution for all employees has climbed from about $16,400 (Dec. 1, 1982 — Nov. 30, 1983), to more than $115,000 (Dec. 1, 1989 — Nov. 30, 1990).

That figure represents a 700-percent increase in general fund contributions to the township pension fund.

The Record began seeking financial information on part-time elected officials after it was revealed last month that the executive committee — the supervisor, clerk, and treasurer — are eligible to receive pension and health care benefits, under a plan approved by the township board in 1981.

The township general fund currently contributes 12 percent of an elected official's salary to the township pension fund, and carries no employee matching obligation. Employees are fully vested in the pension plan after 24 months, and are bought-out from the plan if they leave township employ.

Regular part-time township employees are not eligible for those benefits, and few in the township, including members of the township board, realized that taxpayers were paying for elected officials' perks.

It was later discovered that Lennox and Clerk Thomas L.P. Cook receive or have received pension and/or health care benefits from multiple sources.

Lennox, for example, was eligible for pension benefits after she served a short stint as township supervisor during the mid-1970s.

Lennox then went to work for the City of Northville, later retiring from her post as a fully vested member of the city's pension plan.

She now earns a monthly pension totaling $416.45 from Northville city, according to figures provided by Lansing-based Municipal Employees Retirement System, in addition to her $25,000 township salary.

Lennox' 12-percent pension bumps her annual township salary to the equivalent of $28,000. She also is afforded a township vehicle as part of her perks package.

Mr. 'n Mrs.

Northville's Christmas season kicked into high gear last Friday evening with the annual tree-lighting ceremony at the bandshell on Main Street. The ceremony was followed by a singalong, led by Mary Kay Price and the Northville High School choir. When the lights came on and the Christmas season was under way, who was there to see it through but Santa and Mrs. Claus, also known as Tony and Virginia Natarainni. (More photos page 18a and 20a.)

Computer snafu forces reissue of water bills

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Users of Northville Township water and sewer services probably noticed a decrease in their latest bill was much more than a drop in the bucket.

Unfortunately for consumers, it also was much too good to be true.

A computing error resulted in inaccurate billings for the water and sewer portion of recently-issued water bills, township officials said Monday.

New bills, with corrected amount due figures, were expected to be issued Tuesday (Dec. 3). Those who already have forwarded water bill payments to Northville Township will be credited with the amount they paid, but are obligated to cough up the balance.

The township will extend payment deadlines from Dec. 18 to Dec. 23 because of the snafu.

Blame for the billing problems was traced to the use of an incorrect multiplier during bill computations, said Thelma Kubitskey, administrative assistant in the township finance department. Users were charged a base rate and not the amount they actually used.

The true water bills will be higher than those issued last week, she said.

Not all township residents received incorrect bills. Those who have septic tanks and wells received proper charges.

"Anybody who has water and sewer services received incorrect bills," she said.

The township's inaugural solid waste collection charges also played a part in fouling the water bill, Kubitskey said. The solid waste fee is now included in township water and sewer bills, and the change to a new system spawned new forms and new problems.

Those who sent in payment for what amounts to a partial water and sewer bill will be credited for the amount they paid, Kubitskey said. Users will receive a second billing this week with figures that should reflect the balance due, she said.

Confusion may arise among those users who sent payment after the township sent out revised bills, and before residents received the new bills.

Those individuals should subtract the previously-paid amount from the figure on the second bill to determine what they still owe, Kubitskey said.

Anyone with questions concerning the township's billing process may call the water and sewer department at 348-5820. Office hours are 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Pearl visions clear to local veterans

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

To many Americans, Pearl Harbor is little more than the name of a distant site of an ancient battle.

But to a handful of Northville residents and World War II veterans, the name conjures up real images of sunken ships and clear memories of what drove them to join the military in the first place.

A half-dozen old soldiers gathered at Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 recently to remember where they were on Dec. 7, 1941, and what the day meant to them. The meeting was just a prelude to the VFW Post's commemoration of the "day which will live in infamy" in the words of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The post will hold a ceremony to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Pearl Harbor at its 438 S. Main St. location Saturday at 11 a.m.

VFW Post Commander and Navy veteran Bob Baber remembers exactly where he was when he heard about the early-morning Japanese attack on the U.S. Pacific Fleet stationed at Pearl Harbor.

"I was rabbit hunting in Saline," he recalled. "Got home at 10 o'clock at night, and the folks were in bed. I turned my radio on and heard it, and ran out to the buddies that were hunting with me and we all talked it over."

"Some enlisted the next day but I wasn't old enough. I was only 16 at the time. I didn't get in until the tail end of the war."

As Larry Burnette of the Army recalled, "At that time I think I was in

Goodfellows on Record for charity

Here are some of the folks hawking papers for the Goodfellows

The Northville Goodfellows newspaper sale hits the streets of town this Saturday.

The Goodfellows — members of the Northville Rotary Club and city and township police and fire departments — will be at major intersections throughout the community, selling special "Goodfellows Editions" of The Northville Record.

The Goodfellows, a traditional holiday charity drive, works for the goal of "no child without a Christmas." All money raised during the drive goes directly to help needy kids have a happy holiday.

Other holiday projects are also under way in the community. They include:

It will be raffled off at 4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 21. Raffle tickets are available at the bakery, for three for $1. All money raised goes to benefit Lions Club charities.

Suspects in local thefts nabbed

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Township police on Tuesday arrested a drifter and charged him with the Nov. 24 break-in of a township home.

Police say William Brady, 28, who occasionally lives in Northville, and a 15-year-old Northville resident broke into a Waterfall residence early Nov. 24 and stole a 1989 Toyota MR2 and thousands of dollars worth of electronic equipment.

The duo then reportedly drove the sportscar to a Detroit area crack house and traded the car and other stolen items for drugs.

Brady was arrested Tuesday while walking along Winchester Road in Northville Township, police said. He was arraigned Wednesday in 35th District Court and ordered held on bond.

The alleged juvenile offender will not be named at this time.

Brady also will be charged with breaking and entering a township party store last fall. He has a lengthy criminal history which includes narcotics and burglary charges, police said.

Brady became a prime suspect based on tips from sources in other communities, police said.

The youth currently is lodged in the Wayne County Youth Home, said township police Capt. Philip Presnell. Township police have filed three breaking and entering petitions against the youth, who reportedly ran away from home last week and broke into three residences before he was arrested Dec. 1 in a home under construction in a township subdivision (see related story).

"We gained a confession from a 15-year-old township resident," Presnell said Tuesday. "We're securing two warrants for one adult who is a part-time resident of Northville."

Police said Brady was residing at the Wagon Wheel on Northville Road.

Presnell said the suspects apparently selected the Waterfall home at random around 2 a.m. Nov. 24. The homeowners were away from the residence at the time, and the suspects reportedly decided to break in after noticing a newspaper on the porch and after first ringing the doorbell and knocking on the door.

Once inside, Brady and the youth allegedly ransacked the upstairs bedrooms and eventually stole jewelry, several pieces of electronic equipment, an electric guitar and the car, police said.

The two then reportedly beat a path to a Detroit residence.

"We got information that the car and goods were disposed of at a crack house in Detroit," Presnell said. The car was recently recovered, but was "stripped and damaged," he said.

Presnell said Brady was picked up for questioning last week in Northville. He denied involvement in the Waterfall theft at that time and complained that police were harassing him, Presnell said.

Police think drugs are the common denominator for the Waterfall theft and several other recent township break-ins.

"We believe the entire situation is drug-related; the B & Es were done for drug money," Presnell said.

Presnell offered high praise for a pair of township police officers.

"The majority of the investigation was done by John Werth and Michael Wildt," he said. "They spent a lot of time, and some of their own time, developing the case."

City to scrap track police services

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville Downs faces a future without city police services, following the refusal by racetrack officials to consider paying the city for the service.

The city council had asked the track to consider paying between $166,000 and $195,000 annually for police services, following the state's refusal this year to return a percentage of racetrack revenues to the city.

Racetrack officials declined the city's offer and will now provide their own internal security.

The city had been receiving up to $900,000 a year from the state, a percentage of the money that the state takes from the racetrack. The city's revenues were designed to fund police, fire and other services provided to the racetrack.

But the revenues have always been a budget-cutting target of legislators, and Gov. John Engler's item vetoed the funds from this year's state budget.

"I think the only thing we can do now is determine an orderly way to switch to a system where the racetrack provides its own internal security."

Chris Johnson
Northville Mayor

The city first presented its proposal to Northville Downs and Jackson at Northville officials Nov. 14, giving the sanctioning bodies a choice between funding police protection at its traditional $195,000 level, to provide seven officers at the track, or at the reduced five-man level that the city has been providing since Nov. 1 at a cost of $166,000.

City Manager Gary Word told the council Monday that he had talked with James Young, an official with Jackson at Northville, and with Northville Downs officials. The Jackson Trotting Association runs races at the track between late October and December, while Northville Downs runs its own races between January and early April.

"I was advised earlier today that they've rejected both proposals the city made to them," Word said Monday. "They did ask, however, that we delay whatever decision we make until there's some potential resolution at the state level."

The council would have none of that, however, with Council Member Carolann Ayers suggesting that the city withdraw police from the track starting Tuesday.

Mayor Chris Johnson agreed with the council's general sentiment, saying the city has made it clear to the track that it cannot continue to provide police services to the track. "I think the only thing we can do now is determine an orderly way to switch to a system where the racetrack provides its own internal security," he said.

But Johnson had differed with other council members in previous meetings over a time frame for the switch, and on Monday he suggested a one- to two-week time frame for the changeover.

The city has since sent a letter to racetrack officials stating its intention to end police services inside the track after today's race meet, or before today if the racetrack had provided its own security forces inside the track.

With the reduction in police services, the city's three part-time police officers that made up part of the five-man team will be discharged.

Car thievery heats up for the holidays at Meijer

A Belleville man told township police that someone attempted to steal his 1991 Chevrolet S-10 pick-up from the lot at Meijer, 20401 Haggerty, Nov. 25.

The man, a Meijer employee, told police he parked the vehicle at 7 a.m. and returned at 5:30 p.m. to find the truck's lock pried out and steering column broken. Thieves were unable to steal the truck, however, because the man had disconnected the battery. Damage was estimated at $800.

A Novi woman told township police that someone stole her 1990 Ford Mustang from the Meijer lot sometime between 4:50-5:45 p.m. Nov. 25. The vehicle was parked in lot B in front of the store's north doors, the woman said.

No evidence was discovered at the scene. The vehicle was valued at $16,000.

BRICK THROWN THROUGH WINDOW: A Baintree Circle resident told township police that someone threw a brick at the home's front picture window Nov. 26 between 8-8:30 p.m. The window was shattered, and damages were estimated at $200.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING: A Whitehaven home was the apparent target of thieves during the afternoon or evening of Nov. 30.

Township police said an east side basement window and screen were broken by a rock. No entry was gained to the home, police said.

MEIJER EMPLOYEE REPORTS ASSAULT: A Northville woman employed at Meijer told township police that a female shopper assaulted her after unsuccessfully attempting to obtain a refund from the store Nov. 27. The unidentified suspect apparently became enraged when the employee refused to refund the purchase price of a bouquet of plastic flowers.

The flowers reportedly were not on the sales receipt tendered by the suspect.

The suspect then threw the flowers at the store employee, striking her in the face and cutting her nose. The suspect fled the store and was not arrested.

BOAT MOTOR STOLEN: An Innsbrook resident told township police that someone stole a 15-horsepower Mercury outboard motor from a boat parked in a carport at 18699 Innsbrook sometime between 5 p.m. Nov. 27 and 5 p.m. Dec. 1.

Fuel lines and a gas can were also stolen, the complainant said. The motor and accompanying equipment were valued at $2,000.

BOAT STOLEN: A 12-foot aluminum boat reportedly was stolen from the shoreline in front of a Silver Springs residence sometime between 4 p.m. Nov. 29 and 2 p.m. Nov. 30, township police said. The boat was valued at $500.

SKI JACKET STOLEN: A $139 ski jacket was reported stolen Nov. 27 from a Northville High School locker. The jacket, a black and gold Triple F.A.T. Goose with gold stripes on the sleeves, was reportedly stolen sometime between 12:05-2:05 p.m. from a locker near the school's pool.

TURN SIGNAL UNPLUGGED: A West Main Street resident told city police that someone stole a $60 turn signal assembly from his 1990 Volvo 740 GL. The theft apparently occurred about 10 p.m. Nov. 27, though the theft was not discovered until the next day.

WARRANTS SERVED: City police served a number of warrants on a 48-year-old Detroit man in a vehicle stopped for defective equipment at Center Street and Edward Hines Drive the evening of Nov. 27. Police noted that neither the man nor the car's driver were wearing seat belts. A computer check revealed that the man had failed to appear on charges of driving with a suspended license in Detroit, Livonia and Bloomfield Township. He was arrested and released after posting $400 cash bond.

SUSPENDED LICENSE ARREST: A 68-year-old Detroit woman was arrested for driving with a suspended license the night of Nov. 29 after being stopped for an expired license plate on Griswold Street near Cady. Her license had been suspended for failing to appear in court in Detroit. She was released after posting a $500 personal bond.

FENDER BENDERS: City police reported three accidents in the past week. A 31-year-old Grand Rapids driver was cited for failing to yield Nov. 27 after driving his snowplow into another vehicle heading south on South Main at Gardner about 10 a.m. The other driver had begun to pull over to the shoulder when the driver saw the snowplow's flashing lights, believing it was an emergency vehicle. When she saw it was a snow plow, she pulled back onto the road. The plow then slid on the snowy road and struck the car.

An 18-year-old Novi man was cited for failing to yield to oncoming traffic Nov. 27 after pulling onto Eight Mile Road from Randolph, into the path of an eastbound vehicle just after 3 p.m. The other driver was hospitalized with minor injuries, and her car towed from the scene.

A 76-year-old South Lyon woman was cited for failing to stop Nov. 29 after driving into the back of another westbound car at Eight Mile and Beck just before 5 p.m.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Runaways found in township residence

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Two 15-year-old Northville runaways may face felony charges after they reportedly broke into at least two local homes last week.

Township police apprehended the pair—a boy and girl—last Saturday afternoon inside a home under construction in the Northville Trails subdivision north of Six Mile Road.

Earlier the same day, the teenage couple reportedly fled a residence on Cameron Court after the homeowners returned from a vacation.

Police said the boy was turned over to the Wayne County Youth Home pending three felony breaking and entering petitions. The girl was released to her parents, but also may face charges, police said.

The boy is also suspected of burglarizing a Waterfall home Nov. 24, police said.

The Cameron Court homeowners walked into their residence Dec. 1 to find the youths sitting in their living room amid spare clothing and other possessions the teens carried away when they left the home, township police said.

Police did not know exactly how long the youths had lived in the Cameron Court residence, but fast food containers were found in the kitchen, the shower stall was wet, and other evidence of their presence was discovered.

The boy and girl had been reported as runaways on Nov. 27, and the parents told police they believed the youths were traveling together.

Police on patrol at the Northville Trails subdivision spotted the runaways a short time after they reportedly left the Cameron Court home. After noticing a partially-opened garage door adjoining a house under construction, police said they entered the home and heard noises from the building's upper level.

The two youths were found upstairs, identified as the runaway juveniles, and admitted they did not have permission to enter the home. Both were apprehended and police said the youths later claimed they entered the building in an attempt to keep warm.

No damage to either residence was reported. Police do not know how the youths entered the Cameron Court residence, but it is believed the male youth entered through a window.

Snow trouble

Monday and Tuesday nights saw the first significant snowfall of winter in our area. Monday night's storm was particularly frustrating as the snow was followed by sleet and freezing rain. Morning commuters needed some extra time to hack layers of frost off their cars. Here, a Northville resident tries to scrape ice off the windshield of his car at Kings Mills on Tuesday Morning.

Questions surround pension plan

Cook is another pension double-dipper. He receives a military pension, works as a Ford Motor Company engineer, and became eligible for township pension and health care benefits after being appointed to the clerk's post in 1986.

Cook was persuaded to drop his township health care package in 1989, when the township attempted to purge its ranks of health care double-coverage. He said he agreed to give up health care benefits if the township would boost his annual salary from $12,000 to $15,000.

The township agreed, and Cook now receives the salary and corresponding pension benefits for what he said was a "10-20 hour" work week.

Contrasting Cook's health-benefits-for-salary-increase deal is a buyout plan offered to township full-time employees.

Full-timers who agreed to drop township health care benefits are paid $55 every two weeks to stay out of the plan. That figure amounts to annual payments of just over $1,400 for employees who opt out of the plan.

Cook's $3,000 annual increase bettered that figure, but prompted township Manager Richard Henningsen to call it "a pretty good deal" for the township when compared with health care benefits previously afforded the clerk.

The Record on Monday submitted

Financial information sought

By MIKE TYREE

Staff Writer

The Northville Record on Monday filed a second Freedom of Information Request with Northville Township concerning part-time elected officials' benefits packages.

That action was prompted by the township's refusal last week to release information on pension and health care benefits paid to past and present township executive officers, including various supervisors, clerks, and treasurers.

Executive officers are the lone part-time township employees eligible to receive benefits originally developed for full-time employees. The bulk of the current benefits plan was adopted by the township board in 1981.

In a Freedom of Information Act request dated Nov. 20, 1991, the Record asked the township to provide a numerical breakdown of general fund contributions to the employee pension plan since 1981.

The township complied with that request, and the results showed that the township's annual general fund obligation to the pension plan has spiraled from about $16,400 in 1982-83 to more than $115,000 annually by 1989-90.

Other requests — for the names of elected officials who received pension and/or health care benefits since 1981, and for the amount paid to elected officials who left township employ since 1981 — were rejected by the township.

The most recent Freedom of Information filing seeks the following:

- A list of all Northville Township executive officers since Jan. 1, 1981.

- Dates each officer took office and left office.

- Annual salary listings for each officer since Jan. 1, 1981.

- Date each officer became vested in the township pension plan. Denote if officer did not opt for the pension plan benefit.

- A list of the annual township pension obligation (percentage of salary) since Jan. 1, 1981.

- A list of each officer since 1981 who received health care benefits paid for by Northville Township.

- The length of time each officer received health care benefits.

- A list of Northville Township's annual expenses since Jan. 1, 1981 for each officer receiving or eligible for township health care benefits.

The township must respond to the request by Dec. 10, or ask for a 10-working-day extension if a hardship develops, according to state law.

a second Freedom of Information Act request to Northville Township (See related story). That request was prompted by Henningsen's refusal to allow a reporter to research township documents for additional financial information.

"No," Henningsen said when asked to point the way to financial records. "I'm told you have to do it through the clerk's office; through the Freedom of Information process."

Trash talk nets garbage rates

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

City residents tired of taking out the trash for $16.30 a month will likely pay less for curbside refuse collection starting the first of the year, though curbside recycling may not be available for several more weeks or months.

The city council on Monday adopted a rate schedule to implement a new set of refuse collection fees. The action follows the council's Oct. 24 decision to charge residents $4 per month for refuse collection, and an additional $1.50 per bag of trash. Each trash bag will be marked with a special $1.50 sticker purchased from the city.

The stickers will not be required on bags of recyclable materials, which will be collected for free. Compostables will also be picked up for free, though a sticker may be required for compostable materials in several months.

The council also granted an indefinite extension to start-up of the city's curbside recycling program, based on a request from Painter & Ruthenberg of Inkster. Painter & Ruthenberg, the city's waste hauler, asked to postpone the program until April 1 to allow the hauler to use the state-of-the-art Browning-Ferris Industries recycling center still under construction at BFI's Arbor Hills landfill.

Use of the site may require residents to pack recyclables into special clear blue bags, which would then be thrown into refuse trucks along with the rest of the trash and separated at BFI's recycling center. Newspapers would be placed in one bag and all other recyclable materials thrown into another.

City officials and the waste hauler had originally considered providing residents with a container recycling system, where special recycling containers would be set out each week and the recyclables would be loaded into separate bins in a specially-designed truck. The blue bag system would allow the waste hauler to provide curbside recycling without purchasing the specialized truck, estimated to cost $90,000.

The council granted Painter & Ruthenberg a temporary delay, but urged city staff to seek a quicker start-up date for curbside recycling than April 1.

In the meantime, to make up for the delay, Painter & Ruthenberg has agreed to collect residents' trash weekly for $1.50 per household rather than $1.50 per bag. Each household will only need to purchase one sticker for all bags set out at the curb each week, rather than a separate sticker for each bag. Under the temporary agreement, trash pickup would cost residents $10 each month.

The typical residence will generate six bags of refuse each month . . . about $13 a month per household, or less if the household generates less trash.

City officials estimate that the typical residence will generate six bags of refuse each month once curbside recycling is required. The cost then would be about $13 a month per household, or less if the household generates less trash.

Commercial users having two-yard rolloff containers emptied once a week will be charged $43.98 per month for the service, while those having two-yard rolloff containers emptied each week will be charged $76.36 per month. Multiple residential units with five or more residences will be classified as commercial users.

Downtown commercial clients using any of the city's five proposed key-operated, restricted-access containers will be charged $2.50 per use, and will be able to dump just under one cubic yard of waste at each use. Cardboard-only containers would also be provided free of charge.

Rock-throwing incident is trouble for local youths

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

From mindless adolescent behavior to a felony record — sometimes it's just a stone's throw away.

That may be the case for a pair of Northville youths, arrested last week by township police on malicious destruction of property charges after a series of rock-throwing incidents.

The youths, both 17, were arrested early Nov. 30 after reportedly striking at least four vehicles — including a township police car — with rocks thrown from the railroad tracks that run parallel to Northville Road.

Police do not feel the arrested youths were involved in an Oct. 30 rock-throwing spree that caused about $25,000 damage to vehicles at McDonald Rentals on Northville Road.

"We think it's a separate incident, with a separate group of individuals," said township police officer Fred Yankee.

Police reportedly caught the two youths in the act during the early morning hours Nov. 30.

According to police reports, the driver of a 1992 Lincoln was traveling northbound on Northville Road near Cass Benton Parkway just after midnight when he heard something strike his vehicle. The man discovered that an object had created a three-inch dent in the Lincoln's roof.

A short time later, a Northville woman told police she noticed two white males walking south along the railroad tracks as she piloted her 1986 Mercury Cougar on Northville Road near the Kings Mill entrance.

The woman said she saw one of the youths throw something at her car. A rock struck and shattered the Cougar's windshield, causing approximately $250 damage.

A township police officer responded to the scene and was taking the woman's report when a rock struck the rear passenger door of the officer's patrol car.

Two police officers on foot on the railroad tracks near Waterford Dam reportedly witnessed the youths throwing some of the rocks. Just after striking the police cruiser, the youths reportedly ran up to one of the on-foot officers, who apprehended one of the teens.

The other escaped, but was identified by his cohort, police said.

The first youth admitted throwing rocks, and police soon appeared at the second youth's home, where he was apprehended a short time later, according to police reports.

The youths initially denied throwing rocks at cars, saying they instead had targeted electrical lines, the Moose Lodge, and had thrown in the direction of vehicles. One youth said he did not think any vehicles had been hit.

The other youth said the pair threw at approximately 15 cars and hit seven. They decided to throw rocks after leaving Player's Choice arcade on Seven Mile and drinking a bottle of wine, one of the suspects reportedly told police.

Police later released the youths pending felony warrants for malicious destruction of property.

Medical testing site approved

By MIKE TYREE
Staff Writer

Northville Township is slated to become the epicenter of a multi-state medical testing facility.

Oak Park-based National Health Laboratories, a firm that collects and tests medical samples from its four-state territory, last week received township planning commission approval to build a 27,700-square-foot facility on Haggerty Road south of Six Mile.

The combined office/laboratory is scheduled to be built on four acres east of Haggerty on a site now occupied by the Oasis Golf Course. Township officials expect National Health Laboratories to begin construction in early 1992.

The facility is the initial building block in what reportedly will evolve into a sprawling office park project.

National Health Laboratories representatives told the planning commission that the proposed business will collect and study medical samples from sites in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

The firm is publicly owned and amasses annual sales of $500 million, spokespersons said. More than 80 percent of the testing done in the Northville facility will be locally-generated, company representative Norman Hyman said. Hyman called the facility a "very low-profile, low-intensity use," that will use couriers to transport medical samples from regional hospital sites. Thirty to 35 employees will staff the facility.

Less than 40 percent of the building's floor space is to be used for actual laboratory work, according to planning commission guidelines. The balance of the facility will be devoted to administrative chores.

Medical waste generated by on-site research can only leave the building in sealed containers. The business is regulated by state and federal governments, company representatives told the commission.

The planning commission's main concerns were with berming, parking, landscaping and traffic impact on the Haggerty Road corridor.

Planners approved the site with several stipulations, including a revamped service drive, a developer pledge that office space would remain the facility's primary use, and that berming and landscaping guidelines would be closely followed.

Hyman readily accepted the approval conditions.

"All conditions...are acceptable to us," he said.

Do you have an old photo you'd like to restore? If so, you'll be interested in the Thursday, Dec. 12 meeting of the Northville Genealogical Society.

Instead of a formal meeting, the group will have a photographer from Canton-based Ultimate Photo, who will take shots of treasured old photographs on the spot.

"A lot of people have horror stories where they sent in old photos to be restored, and they were lost or destroyed, and the photos were never seen again," said Genealogical Society spokesperson Nancy Bohn. "This gives people a chance to have them restored without them ever leaving their sight."

The old photos will be immediately returned to the owner. The new, restored versions will be available at the group's January meeting, or can be picked up.

Cost for the service ranges from 50 cents to $4, depending on the size of the photo. An artist is available at the studio to do repair work.

All are welcome, Bohn said. For more information about this meeting or other matters concerning the society contact Gladys Scott at 348-1718 or Lenore Haas at 349-6370.

BABES in TV-land

Puppet shows teach living skills to kids

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

Adults have a hard enough time getting through all the curves that life throws at them, without succumbing to the temptation of alcohol and substance abuse.

For kids, who are still learning the social skills that it takes to be a grown-up, the problems may be smaller, but coping is just as hard. Having a friend to guide the way is a big help.

That's where BABES comes in. For 14 years, BABES (Beginning Alcohol and Addictions Basic Education Studies) has taught elementary and pre-elementary school children alcohol and drug avoidance and living skills through the use of some very special hand-puppet characters.

The brainchild of Dr. Lottie Jones, a Southfield child psychologist, the BABES lesson plan has been taught in selected classrooms around the country, and is a division of the National Council on Alcohol. But now the program is reaching many more children through the use of television. WKBD TV-50 has begun producing half-hour "BABESworld" shows, and has already aired two of them as special programs.

"We're the first to take BABES to TV," says Mary Sieler, a Northville resident and associate producer of the shows. "TV is such a kids' medium that we have the potential to reach hundreds of thousands of kids."

The "BABESworld" productions bring the hand-puppet characters to life in full-size costumes, and each episode illustrates one of the messages that BABES teaches in the classroom. The next "BABESworld," scheduled to air on Thanksgiving day, zeroes in on coping skills, with the theme "Accepting the Things I Cannot Change and Changing the Things I Can."

The episode revolves around the feelings of a child who doesn't get invited to a friend's birthday party. Her other friends, the BABES characters, see her through her unhappy situation. The hope is that when children learn good decision-making and coping skills, they can avoid the wrong decisions that lead to alcohol and substance abuse later in life.

"What we hope to provide is information that will help children to develop a lifetime protection against substance abuse," says Dr. Jones. "I hope parents will watch the show with their children, and the kids will ask questions. Then my initial dream will come true, to educate the children and the parents at the same time."

The fuzzy, feathery BABES characters are real attention-getters, from Early Bird's neon pink plumage, to Myth Mary's fluffy tail. That makes it easy to get the messages across to children (see related story this page). But BABES is for parents, too. After all, some of them have as much to learn as their kids.

"We're giving parents a language, words they can talk to their kids with," says Dr. Jones. "Take Early Bird's 'honk, honk.' They can use that as a warning any time with any child. It doesn't have to be for substance abuse. It can be for something like running across the street."

Generally, there are three child actors playing opposite the BABES characters at each taping. A dozen or so kids from local schools, who have learned with BABES in school, are also invited to participate as well. They act as subjects for the "bumper," short segments played at the beginning and end of commercial breaks, and get to share in the BABES hug at the end of the show.

The show, which Dr. Jones calls "the mental health equivalent of 'Sesame Street,'" presents unique challenges for the small screen, especially since BABES lessons were originally intended for the classroom.

"You're adapting material that wasn't written for TV," says Director Chris Felcyn. "It was written for print, so you have to make some things work."

Sieler, who calls herself the staff's "Jack-of-all-trades," draws on a dance background to choreograph routines for the production, which at times can be like trying to thread a needle with a garden hose.

"You have to pre-record a lot of the singing, and the characters have to pantomime," she says. "And because of the heads on the costumes, some of them can't see. The bird and the owl are totally blind out there."

Sieler can also be found running around looking for a lost paw, or sitting in front of the control room's 31 screens watching for mistakes. She coordinates everything from scripts

Characters act as young role models

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

It's hard not to love the snuggly-looking BABES characters. They have colorful costumes, and colorful personalities that are intended to remind children of people they may know.

Buttons and Bows McKitty are brother and sister kittens whose feelings reflect those of real children who face the challenges of growing up. They have friends like Recovering Reggie, a dog who is a former substance abuser, and Rhonda Rabbit, whose parents are cross-addicted alcoholics.

Myth Mary is a squirrel who repeats everything she hears, even when she doesn't know if it's true. Through her, children learn the truth about false ideas like "alcoholics are bad people," and "it's wrong to feel angry."

Under the neon pink plumage is Early Bird, who gives a "honk, honk" whenever someone is in danger of making a bad decision, or is giving out wrong information. Donovan Dignity, a wise and kindly owl, sets Myth Mary's myths straight, and generally passes on information on how to lead a happy, healthy life.

If it sounds a little like "Sesame Street," you're right. The methods are similar, but BABES, through the integration of the TV program and the school-based program can get the message across even better.

The BABES school programs include worksheets, flash cards, cassette tapes and newsletters for both kids and parents. Anyone who teaches the BABES program must complete Dr. Jones' certification program at her Southfield training facility.

"Sesame Street" deals with educational activities, while we deal with mental health," says Dr. Jones. "Our program is different in that it cuts across all arms of the community: it involves schools, churches, treatment programs and the parents. It's a wonderful social marketing tool. Most programs don't have the possibility of going from one system to another. Now with the TV show, we've involved the media."

to lunch orders, or will coax a camera-shy youngster through his lines.

"I'm like the mother here," she says. "It's hard on the kids because they're expected to perform at a level they may not be used to."

And she, like all other members of the production staff, has gone through the BABES training program administered by Dr. Jones. That, she says, has brought the staff a little closer together.

"Even though this is only our third show, this is like our family," Sieler says. "Because of the material, there are things that we as adults have been able to talk about. We've been able to get real close to each other in a short amount of time."

The work strikes a personal chord for Sieler as well. She grew up in a home torn by alcoholism, leaving her with wounds that have taken a long time to heal.

"I spent a lot of time making mistakes, and I didn't know why," she says. "Then I took Lottie's course and I began to understand."

"One of the messages is to get kids thinking. 'I am special.' When you grow up in that kind of environment, you don't feel special. You feel a lot of confusion and fear. I don't want any kid to feel what I felt for so many years."

Right now, BABES is a nonprofit program, funded through grants and donations. "BABESworld" is produced with studio and air time donated by Channel 50. In the future BABES may be able to stand on its own as a commercial venture, however. MGM is interested in using the characters at its new theme park being built in Las Vegas.

Says Sieler, "I really believe that someday you'll turn on the TV and it will be something national. I really believe that."

Mary Sieler of Northville helps Edward Papierski, 6, muster up some courage for an on-camera appearance

"BABESworld" airs as a special event, generally on Saturdays, on WKBD TV-50 (Omnicom Channel 26). Watch your TV listings for the next show or call 350-5050 for further details. For more information on the BABES school program, call (313) 443-1676 or 1-800 54-BABES.

Tollgate faces fiscal shortfall

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

A trip into the woods is something a wheelchair user might never experience.

But thanks to the Novi Tollgate 4-H Education Center's Exceptional Equestrian program, hundreds of handicapped kids — many from Northville — get to take a trip into the woods each summer at their Twelve Mile and Meadowbrook roads site.

The Exceptional Equestrian program just finished its second year. It is the third largest horseback riding program for handicappers in the country with over 250 children participating last summer.

Tollgate hopes to eventually build an indoor arena for year-around riding. But right now they are just trying to get through the winter.

The program needs $35,000 to remain in operation beyond January, said Cindy Richards, director of handicapper programming for Tollgate.

The shortfall resulted from a change in the way the 4-H Foundation supports the program.

Running the program costs $300 per rider. Each student pays only $50 and no riders are turned away for a lack of money, Richards said.

Two paid staff members and a fleet of about 300 volunteers run the program. The main costs for running the program come from maintaining horses.

Richards hopes to alleviate future funding problems by developing a fundraising strategy that will rely on grants from corporations and the private sector.

The program also sponsors a haunted house and a polo match fundraiser each year. But this year, the two fundraisers were not enough, and the center is asking local residents for help.

Local residents make up the largest portion of participants and volunteers involved in the program, Richards said.

But more importantly, the program is starting to earn a lot of recognition.

"It can become a highlight for the community," Richards said, adding that international recognition for the Exceptional Equestrians may not be far off.

Donations are tax deductible.

Anyone interested in donating can:

● Save your returnables. Tollgate is sponsoring a bottle and can drive.

Returnable cans and bottles can be dropped off at Tollgate, 28115 Meadowbrook. Some local stores have drop-off sites. Tollgate also will answer requests to pick up large bottle and can collections if anyone calls 347-3860.

● Make a contribution in the name of a friend or relative for the holidays. Tollgate will send them a card and certificate notifying them of the gift.

● Make a tax deductible donation of hay, horse feed, printing, type setting or postage.

● Make a tax deductible cash donation to Tollgate 4-H Center, Handicapped Riding.

● Volunteer to help coordinate fundraising activities.

Senate bill would leave fewer seats for smokers

Non-smoking areas in restaurants would be expanded slightly under a bill that has passed the state Senate and gone to the House.

Any restaurant seating more than 30 would have to provide a no-smoking section. Currently only restaurants with more than 50 seats are affected.

Sponsored by Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, Senate Bill 179 says 50 percent of the space would be allocated to non-smokers. That could be adjusted as demand changes, but no less than 15 percent of the space must be non-smoking.

Faxon's original bill required an absolute minimum of 25 percent smoke-free space, but it was amended downward on the Senate floor. Opposing the amendment were Faxon; Robert Geake, R-Northville; and Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor.

Final vote was 28-4. All area senators voted yes.

Santa knows

Kindly old Saint Nick gets together with 4½-year-old Tracy Garfield following the Santa Parade in Northville. She let him know if she was naughty or nice, and told him what she wanted for Christmas. We have a feeling he already knows, however.

Mizpah Circle stays active in local aid

The Mizpah Circle may have been around a long time, but its members continue to be active in community aid.

The Northville organization, a chapter of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons formed in 1895, is a group of about 40 Christian women with a long and varied history of civic assistance.

At its November meeting, the group gave awards to the Salvation Army, National Federation of the Blind in Michigan, Bay Mill Indian Community College, Plymouth Opportunity House, and First Step, a program for abused mothers and children in Canton.

A Northville High School student, Angela Putman, was recently awarded a scholarship by the group. Putman was accepted to a foreign exchange program called "International Understanding Through Youth and Music."

Mizpah Circle is also an ongoing supporter of Civic Concern, awarding $50 checks to Executive Director

Marlene Kunz each month for the past year. But the group has made regular donations of funds and paper products to Civic Concern since 1985.

Civic Concern has coordinated and provided emergency relief to needy families in Northville and surrounding communities since 1983.

In another annual program, Mizpah Circle members make articles of clothing for Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor, and collect Christmas gifts for the hospital's children and families.

Members also brighten up the holiday season for shut-ins by visiting them and bringing Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts.

Mizpah Circle meets the first Tuesday of each month at the First United Methodist Church, 777 W. Eight Mile Road across from Taft Road. Anyone wishing to join is most welcome to attend.

For more information, call president Jean Sheehan at 348-7923.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

The slow, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes — and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean®. It clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. No other product has the Plumb Clean® formula. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean® will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean® with a money-back guarantee! Don't be confused. Plumb Clean® is the brand with the money-back guarantee right on the label.

Saves Money. A 1 lb. jar of Plumb Clean® holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean® costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Independent laboratory studies show Plumb Clean® more effectively breaks down organic waste than all other products tested. So, if your drains have the "slows", act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean® today!

Obituaries

Newspaper chain chairman's mother was an active citizen

Sadye Harwick Power (Mrs. Eugene Barnum Power) of Barton Hills, Ann Arbor, retired clinical psychologist and community activist, died Nov. 26 after a long illness.

She was born in 1901 in Monroe County, the daughter of Clarence A. and Caroline A. Harwick.

After a childhood spent in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas of Michigan where her father was a school teacher and principal, she received her bachelor's (1923) and master's degree (1925) from the University of Michigan. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and became a member of Kappa Gamma Sorority.

She was a graduate assistant to professor Walter B. Pillsbury, the then chairman of the psychology department. She subsequently worked as clinical psychologist for the Institute of Juvenile Research in Chicago and the Milwaukee County Health Service staff to plan and initiate the first psychological counseling service for students at her alma mater. Later, she served as clinical consultant to Kingswood School in Bloomfield Hills.

On June 17, 1929, she and Eugene Barnum Power were married in Wisconsin. Their son, Philip Harwick Power, was born in 1938. While continuing in her own professional career at the University of Michigan's Health Clinic with the late Dr. Theodore M. Raphael, she resumed her active role in university affairs, becoming secretary of the Alumnae Council. During World War II, she directed volunteer training for the Civilian Defense Office.

Mrs. Power joined with her husband when he founded in 1939 the family business, University Microfilms Inc., in Ann Arbor; she was to become a director in other joint enterprises, including the Wolverine Broadcasting Corporation of Colorado and the Park Place Hotel in Traverse City.

After her husband's election in 1955 as Regent of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Power devoted time to undertakings in a range of educational, humanitarian and artistic worlds at home and abroad, from population planning and Eskimo art to labor education and Tibetan manuscripts. She served on the Ann Arbor Council of Social Agencies and the University's Henderson House.

With the creation of the Power Foundation in 1967 as a focus for the family's charitable efforts, she became actively involved at its vice president. The Foundation has launched a series of programs such as the Power Exchange Scholarship for American and British graduate students from Cambridge University in England and the University of Michigan. Through Mrs. Power's efforts with Cambridge officials, the initial exchange (limited to male students) was revised to include women.

Her other directorships and trusteeships included the Child and Family Service of Washtenaw County, the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Detroit, the Dramatic Arts Center and the Greenhills School of Ann Arbor. The Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra made her one of only three lifetime members.

She was a National Board Member of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America and was awarded a plaque of special recognition by the Washtenaw County League of Planned Parenthood. She and her husband were presented the "Big W" Award in 1981 by the United Way for their "dedication to the people of Washtenaw County."

An early interest in the theater was deepened by her involvement with the original Dramatic Arts Center. To help express the family's interest in making available the best of the performing arts to both the Ann Arbor and University communities, she helped conceive and plan the Power Center for the Performing Arts. Opened in 1971, the Center continues to enrich the lives of those attending its almost nightly productions in drama, dance and music.

A bronze bust of Mrs. Power, created in 1981 by the sculptor John Mills, whom the University had commissioned, was mounted beside that of her husband in the lobby of the Center.

In 1989, the Power Foundation funded by the Sadye H. Power Program for Families and Children under Stress, a combined clinical and research program at the University of Michigan. The program was intended to memorialize Mrs. Power's lifelong interests in children, families, clinical therapy and mental health.

Sadye Power is survived by her husband, Eugene B. Power; son, Philip H. Power; and grandson, Nathan E. Power.

A service celebrating the life of Mrs. Power was held Nov. 29 at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor.

Memorial contributions may be made to Planned Parenthood in Mid-Michigan, P.O. Box 3673, Ann Arbor 48106.

Vets remember Pearl Harbor

school, and when I heard the news it kind of woke me up. I wanted to join the army right away, but instead they drafted me . . . I was drafted in 1945."

The men laughed, and fellow retired Army veteran Martin Sommers said, "You were that quick, huh."

Sommers said his first reaction to news of the attack was confusion. "I heard the news over the radio but I didn't know where Pearl Harbor was, or Hickam Field, or anything, and I was quite bewildered as to what was going on," he said. "I asked some people, they didn't know where Pearl Harbor was either."

"The majority of the population never heard of Pearl Harbor before December the seventh," said Army veteran Earl Sessions.

Sessions, who was living on Center Street in Northville when the U.S. fleet was attacked, was still in high school at the time. Even after he graduated, it took him several tries before he was accepted into the military.

"I went down to enlist (in the Army) the end of '42, and I was so excited that they said my heart was pounding too much, so I had to go back two or three damn times before they finally took me," Sessions recalled. "That was in February of '43."

Several of the vets got even closer to the site of the attack. "I was tied up to the (USS) Arizona in '44, and all that was sticking out of the water at that time was the superstructure," said Baber.

The USS Arizona was one of four battleships sunk the morning of Dec. 7, and more than 1,200 of the battleship's 1,500-man crew were killed or drowned when the ship exploded and sank. A memorial has since been built on the site.

Overall, more than 2,400 Americans lost their lives at Pearl Harbor, and nearly 1,200 more were wounded.

Sommers toured the USS Arizona memorial in 1979, and the visit left a lasting impression. "When you think of all those people still there, bodies still there, and you're walking above it . . . it's the weirdest feeling," he said.

If there was a positive result to the tragedy, the men agreed, it was the way the attack brought Americans together against the Axis powers. No longer was the country divided about the wisdom of entering World War II.

"When they bombed Pearl Harbor, why, it brought the whole country together," Baber said.

"It galvanized this country," said George Bays, who was with the Albatross as part of the Pacific Fleet. "You had no protesters, there was nobody protesting because everybody had sons and daughters over there. Nobody dared . . ."

As Baber explained, "Before Pearl Harbor, there were people who didn't want to help England, and Pearl Harbor just pulled this country together. You'd have to live it to realize it . . . everybody was involved."

Questers gather

Members of the Base Line Questers gathered recently in the Yerkes House in Mill Race Historical Village to view the results of the chapter's decorating for the Christmas Walk in the village (Nov. 16-17). At the request of the Northville Historical Society, the chapter decorated the entrance, living room and dining room with trees and garlands, much as might have been done years ago in the Victorian home. Silver Springs Questors decorated the kitchen and rear parlor. Chairperson of the decorating committee for the Base Line Questers was Georgianna Chase. The project held special interest for her as she lived in the house from 1938 to 1947 when the house was located on Cady Street. Here Gerry McCrumb serves cookies to (l-r) Questers President Doris Stover, Chase and Judy Miller.

Surcharge may be added to moving violations

Speeders and other ticketed drivers would pay an extra $5 surcharge to the state to pay for road patrols. Senate Bill 592 won 31-3 approval and was sent to the House. It affects moving violations, not parking tickets. The surcharge expires after two years.

All area senators voted yes.

"It's yet another tax increase," protested Nick Smith, R-Addison, who voted no. He said it gave departments an incentive to issue speeding tickets "to put more law enforcement officers on the road and pay for the gas for cars. We're simply adding another tax to replace what traditionally the state has done."

Kickin' out the Christmas jams

The tree-lighting ceremony last Friday night at the bandshell wouldn't have been complete without the annual singalong. Mary Kay Price (back row, far left) led the Northville High School choir in a round of Christmas carols that delighted those in attendance. Here are some, but not all, of the choir members who lent their voices in celebration of the start of the Christmas season.

Senate leans toward consecutive sentences

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

State lawmakers are moving toward "consecutive" sentencing for multiple offenders amid warnings they could overload the prisons.

"Consecutive sentencing is a time bomb," said F. Martin Tieber of the state Appellate Defender's Office.

"It (the explosion) doesn't happen until six or seven years down the road. It will raise prison costs and squeeze other departments," Tieber warned the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Nevertheless, the committee sent to the full Senate, on 3-0 votes, bills that would require consecutive sentences for:

● A person convicted of a second offense while on probation for a first offense.

● A person who committed a second offense after being charged with a first felony.

A 1988 law allows consecutive sentencing only if the second offense is a major drug crime.

Judges generally impose concurrent terms — two terms being served at the same time.

Sen. Jon Ciskiy, R-Saginaw and sponsor of one of the bills, hotly defended it from Tieber's attack.

"Burglary rings go out and steal enough to keep their (arrested) members out of jail," Ciskiy said.

Both cited state reports that estimate 2,200 more beds will be needed to house prisoners for their longer terms.

Tieber said it amounts to 4½ more prisons at a time when Michigan can't afford to operate some of the prisons it has built.

Meals on Wheels

Photostory by Bryan Mitchell

Sue Matela just started as a volunteer driver for the Meals on Wheels program, which delivers meals to seniors and others who are limited in their ability to cook and shop for themselves. Northville Record Staff Photographer Bryan Mitchell accompanied her on her first days as a volunteer. The cause is near to Matela's heart as her father, who died last year, used Meals on Wheels regularly. Now that she's giving back to the organization which gave so much to her father, she says it helps her cope with her father's passing.

PATIENT GIFT DRIVE: Local attorney Phil Ogilvie and the First Presbyterian Church will again coordinate the donation of Christmas gifts for patients at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

With the transfer of new patients this year from the Ypsilanti hospital, the need for gifts is greater than before. In many cases, a donated gift is the only holiday present a patient will receive.

Suggested gifts for women include a blouse, sweater, knit hat and gloves, purse, pajamas, or cigarettes. For men, possibilities include shirt, sweater, knit hat and gloves, wallet, pajamas, and cigarettes. You may buy anything else a patient might like, but nothing in a glass container.

Donations should be wrapped and marked for size and whether it is for a man or woman. Drop off at the office at First Presbyterian Church, 200 E. Main, by Dec. 15.

Cash donations are also accepted.

ROTARY LUMINARY SALE: Once again, the Northville Rotary Club will sell luminaries for the holiday season.

A kit contains 12 white bags, twelve 6-inch plumber's candles, and two bags of sand. Cost is $7 per kit, with free deliveries to subdivisions in quantities.

Kits may be purchased at News Printing, 560 S. Main (next door to Allen Monuments), 349-6130, from Pat Bradley, Monday through Friday.

"THE RENTED CHRISTMAS": The Northville Players present "The Rented Christmas" Dec. 13-15 at Mill Race Historical Village, on Griswold above Main.

Show times are 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 13; 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 14; and 2 and 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15. The performances will be in Mill Race's New School Church building. Tickets are $5, available at Bookstall-on-the-Main, 116 E. Main, 348-1167; or from Judy Kohl, 348-2678.

"The Rented Christmas" is a Christmas play in two short acts. For more information call Judy Kohl at 348-2678.

HOLIDAY DECORATING CONTEST: The Northville Merchants Association is sponsoring a holiday decorating contest to show its appreciation for the historic district. The event is organized by the Dickens Christmas Committee, with the help of Chuck Keys and the Historic District Homeowners Association.

Two prizes of $50 in "Dickens Dollars" will be awarded to the winners. The dollars may be used for merchandise at any participating business.

Judging will take place Sunday, Dec. 8 at 6 p.m. The home must be within the city-defined residential historic district, and homeowners must supply their names, addresses and phone numbers to Traditions, 349-0199, or Chuck Keys, 349-1495.

GINGERBREAD HOUSE CONTEST: Northville Merchants Association will sponsor a Gingerbread House Contest this holiday season, and display the entries in shop windows. Visitors to downtown Northville can participate in the contest by voting for their favorite houses, using the forms provided at the shops.

Entrants can be individuals or families, though culinary arts students, professional caterers and restaurateurs are asked to refrain from entering. Contest rules are available at the Kitchen Witch, 107 N. Center St. For more information, call Kitchen Witch owner Ronnie Cambra at 348-0488.

NOW OPEN SUNDAYS

Prior restraint in use at school's Mustanger

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Staff Writer

Graphic descriptions of accident scenes, the promotion of homosexuality, racism and nudity are examples of expression that principal Thomas Johnson does not want to see in Northville High School.

Johnson said he reserves the right to review stories before publication in the student newspaper The Mustanger. He deletes obscene material and anything that could be demeaning to another student.

As an administrator in another school district, he once halted the publication of an article he said promoted homosexuality.

Since he has been at Northville High School, Johnson has been involved in several cases which a proposed state law would specifically address (see related story).

The principal deleted several lines of a story about a car accident involving students. Johnson said the story was too graphic and may have been painful for the family of the accident victims.

The story was written by Mustanger editor Evan Petrie, who said he wanted to give students a clear picture of what happened the night of the accident.

"I was trying to give people a better idea of what had happened. He wanted me to give a basic description," Petrie said.

Petrie chose not to use the revised version of the story in the school publication. It was becoming old news as the paper neared publication, he said.

Johnson also suspended a student after the boy refused to turn inside out a shirt depicting nudity.

These are actions a school principal should take, Johnson said, because it is the principal who is ultimately responsible to the community for what goes on in school.

But all that could change if legislation guaranteeing student freedom of expression becomes law.

The bill would prohibit administrators from reviewing student publications prior to printing. Students would be permitted to express themselves through the use of bulletin boards, printed materials or petitions, buttons, performances and publications, including school-sponsored publications.

Advisors would have sole responsibility for ensuring nothing obscene, defamatory or libelous was published. Anything that "incited pupils as to create a clear and present danger of the commission of unlawful acts on school premises" would be prohibited.

"In my opinion, if the teacher sees it as OK and the community is offended, the public outcry still goes back to the principal," Johnson said.

But Petrie thinks journalism advisor Bo Hall has a good understanding of what is considered acceptable.

"Mrs. Hall has a pretty good feeling for what's going on in the school," he said.

Despite his one-time difference of opinion with Johnson, Petrie does not think the proposed law would do anything to affect Northville student journalism.

"Basically, what we say goes in the paper," he said.

Hall agrees.

"The student editors make their own decisions," she said. Sometimes her editors show stories to people quoted to make sure the quotes are accurate, not a common practice in the newspaper industry.

The newspaper staff has generally avoided difficult issues, Petrie said. One reason is timeliness. Issues often become old news by the time the monthly publication is printed. And Northville High School students often don't show an interest in more news-related issues, Petrie said.

"We have had difficult issues in the past, but generally the population of the school isn't interested in them. The Mustanger doesn't feel it's necessary to cover those issues," Petrie said.

Johnson said he is not opposed to student freedom of expression. And a reasonable administrator should have no problem limiting expression to a reasonable degree, he said.

For example, Johnson felt it was reasonable to confiscate armbands worn to school by two students. The armbands had swastikas, once used as a Nazi symbol, printed on them.

"Someone who is Jewish here, even someone who isn't, would be offended," he said.

He told the boys if they wore the armbands again, they would be suspended for insubordination.

The incident has not been repeated.

Students, advisors tell censorship horror tales

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Student journalists and advisors told state lawmakers recently a series of horror stories about administrators censoring newspapers—ripping out entire articles, editorials, photos and pages.

"There was no reason given except 'This is not what Rochester High is all about,'" said Bryce Sandler, now a Michigan State University student.

Sandler said the administration censored much of his material on a grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, though he had seen Nazi swastikas in student lockers and heard racial epithets in school.

"At many high schools, students are spoon-fed their entire work day. They are told how to act, where and when to eat, when to come and go, and even what to think and say," said Matthew Yandura on behalf of Troy Athens High students.

"If all these things are already done for us, and no one is giving us the chance to assume any type of responsibility on our own, how are we supposed to become mature adults in our educational system," said Heather Lewis, an editor of three Royal Oak Kimball publications.

When 40 seniors—including honor society members and football players—were arrested for misconduct in a scavenger hunt, Lewis said, their names were published in three daily papers, "but the Kimball Herald could not print it."

Mark Goodman, an attorney and executive director of the Student Press Law Center in Washington, said requests for legal assistance rose from 588 in 1988—the year a Supreme Court decision curtailed the student press—to 1,000 now, "80 percent for actual or threatened censorship."

These included administrators killing stories on a coach who pocketed $1,000, a report on AIDS ("you can't mention sex in a student paper"), a school employee charged with 11 counts of child sex abuse ("a very sensitive issue"), and pro-life and Christian points of view.

For three hours, the House Judiciary Committee heard testimony, mostly in favor of House Bill 4565, protecting "student freedom of expression."

Sponsor Lynn Jondahl, D-Okemos, said the purpose is to protect not only student papers but arm bands, theater productions and bulletin boards. Most of the testimony, however, was on newspapers, which Jondahl's bill would protect from administrative censorship and emphasize the role of the faculty adviser.

"It will undermine the ability of teachers, administrators and school boards to keep order," objected Jim Ballard of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals. He said T-shirts—"walking billboards"—would advocate free sex, drugs and liquor without administrative control.

Ray Telman, of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, said one censorship incident occurred because students in a Macomb district were offended at an article.

Asked Judiciary chair Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, a champion of the bill: "If the First Amendment does not protect speech we hate, what good is it?"

Replied Telman: "I trust the good judgment of a principal."

Denouncing pro-censorship arguments as "crap," Oakland University Professor Jane Briggs-Bunting said administrators are exceeding the authority given them by the Supreme Court's 1988 Hazelwood decision.

Briggs-Bunting, adviser to the OU student paper. "These kids are into self-censorship, big time. We are muzzling these kids."

She said self-imposed censorship increased markedly after Hazelwood.

"Student newspapers are learning grounds," said Plymouth publisher W. Edward Wendover. "We need to make them as close as possible to the real world."

Wendover, who has taught at three colleges and advises his daughter's student paper, said censorship in the 1960s led students to use the non-school underground press and flyers.

Stephen Goldstein, local board member of the Society of Professional Journalists, said the group "wholeheartedly" endorses the bill and is dismayed that some newspaper editors support the high court censorship decision.

"Public schools are an agent of government" and shouldn't be in the newspaper business, he added.

"I was trying to give people a better idea of what had happened. He wanted me to give a basic description," Petrie said.

Petrie chose not to use the revised version of the story in the school publication. It was becoming old news as the paper neared publication, he said.

Johnson also suspended a student after the boy refused to turn inside out a shirt depicting nudity.

These are actions a school principal should take, Johnson said, because it is the principal who is ultimately responsible to the community for what goes on in school. But all that could change if legislation guaranteeing student freedom of expression becomes law.

The bill would prohibit administrators from reviewing student publications prior to printing. Students would be permitted to express themselves through the use of bulletin boards, printed materials or petitions, buttons, performances and publications, including school-sponsored publications.

Advisors would have sole responsibility for ensuring nothing obscene, defamatory or libelous was published. Anything that "incited pupils as to create a clear and present danger of the commission of unlawful acts on school premises" would be prohibited.

"In my opinion, if the teacher sees it as OK and the community is offended, the public outcry still goes back to the principal," Johnson said.

But Petrie thinks journalism advisor Bo Hall has a good understanding of what is considered acceptable.

"Mrs. Hall has a pretty good feeling for what's going on in the school," he said.

Despite his one-time difference of opinion with Johnson, Petrie does not think the proposed law would do anything to affect Northville student journalism.

"Basically, what we say goes in the paper," he said.

Hall agrees.

"The student editors make their own decisions," she said. Sometimes her editors show stories to people quoted to make sure the quotes are accurate, not a common practice in the newspaper industry.

The newspaper staff has generally avoided difficult issues, Petrie said. One reason is timeliness. Issues often become old news by the time the monthly publication is printed. And Northville High School students often don't show an interest in more news-related issues, Petrie said.

"We have had difficult issues in the past, but generally the population of the school isn't interested in them. The Mustanger doesn't feel it's necessary to cover those issues," Petrie said.

Johnson said he is not opposed to student freedom of expression. And a reasonable administrator should have no problem limiting expression to a reasonable degree, he said.

For example, Johnson felt it was reasonable to confiscate armbands worn to school by two students. The armbands had swastikas, once used as a Nazi symbol, printed on them.

"Someone who is Jewish here, even someone who isn't, would be offended," he said.

He told the boys if they wore the armbands again, they would be suspended for insubordination.

The incident has not been repeated.

Students, advisors tell censorship horror tales

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Student journalists and advisors told state lawmakers recently a series of horror stories about administrators censoring newspapers—ripping out entire articles, editorials, photos and pages.

"There was no reason given except 'This is not what Rochester High is all about,'" said Bryce Sandler, now a Michigan State University student.

Sandler said the administration censored much of his material on a grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, though he had seen Nazi swastikas in student lockers and heard racial epithets in school.

"At many high schools, students are spoon-fed their entire work day. They are told how to act, where and when to eat, when to come and go, and even what to think and say," said Matthew Yandura on behalf of Troy Athens High students.

"If all these things are already done for us, and no one is giving us the chance to assume any type of responsibility on our own, how are we supposed to become mature adults in our educational system," said Heather Lewis, an editor of three Royal Oak Kimball publications.

When 40 seniors—including honor society members and football players—were arrested for misconduct in a scavenger hunt, Lewis said, their names were published in three daily papers, "but the Kimball Herald could not print it."

Mark Goodman, an attorney and executive director of the Student Press Law Center in Washington, said requests for legal assistance rose from 588 in 1988—the year a Supreme Court decision curtailed the student press—to 1,000 now, "80 percent for actual or threatened censorship."

These included administrators killing stories on a coach who pocketed $1,000, a report on AIDS ("you can't mention sex in a student paper"), a school employee charged with 11 counts of child sex abuse ("a very sensitive issue"), and pro-life and Christian points of view.

For three hours, the House Judiciary Committee heard testimony, mostly in favor of House Bill 4565, protecting "student freedom of expression."

Sponsor Lynn Jondahl, D-Okemos, said the purpose is to protect not only student papers but arm bands, theater productions and bulletin boards. Most of the testimony, however, was on newspapers, which Jondahl's bill would protect from administrative censorship and emphasize the role of the faculty adviser.

"It will undermine the ability of teachers, administrators and school boards to keep order," objected Jim Ballard of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals. He said T-shirts—"walking billboards"—would advocate free sex, drugs and liquor without administrative control.

Ray Telman, of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, said one censorship incident occurred because students in a Macomb district were offended at an article.

Asked Judiciary chair Perry Bul-

lard, D-Ann Arbor, a champion of the bill: "If the First Amendment does not protect speech we hate, what good is it?"

Replied Telman: "I trust the good judgment of a principal."

Denouncing pro-censorship arguments as "crap," Oakland University Professor Jane Briggs-Bunting said administrators are exceeding the authority given them by the Supreme Court's 1988 Hazelwood decision.

Briggs-Bunting, adviser to the OU student paper. "These kids are into self-censorship, big time. We are muzzling these kids."

She said self-imposed censorship increased markedly after Hazelwood.

"Student newspapers are learning grounds," said Plymouth publisher W. Edward Wendover. "We need to make them as close as possible to the real world."

Wendover, who has taught at three colleges and advises his daughter's student paper, said censorship in the 1960s led students to use the non-school underground press and flyers.

Stephen Goldstein, local board member of the Society of Professional Journalists, said the group "wholeheartedly" endorses the bill and is dismayed that some newspaper editors support the high court censorship decision.

"Public schools are an agent of government" and shouldn't be in the newspaper business, he added.

Our Opinion

Budget woes bring out creativity in city

The task is immense — reduce the city's deficit by $1 million over the next several years.

City Manager Gary Word has called in all his department heads as well as auditors Plante & Moran to tackle the task, and he's received many intriguing suggestions. Though not all are practical, many may find their way into practice in the next few months. And their effects will impact city services and operations at city hall.

The city council has been quick to implement several of the suggestions, including a finance department recommendation to switch from a letter to a postcard system for water and refuse bills that would save more than $2,000 in annual postage and envelope costs and $5,000 in staff time, after an initial $200 startup cost, and reviews of water and sewer tap fees and other city charges and health insurance costs.

Other suggestions that may receive further discussion are wage freezes, equipment purchase deferrals and farming the assessing department's services out to other municipalities like Northville Township and Plymouth City. The city hall's janitorial services have also been targeted for potential cuts, with the police department suggesting the use of state prisoners as janitors through a volunteer program now used at State Police posts, and the Northville Public Library staff offering to provide its own janitorial services inside the library at no cost to the city.

The city's leaf pickup has been mentioned as a potential source of savings. Having residents bag their own leaves and set them out for the curb would eliminate the need for "a very heavy and expensive piece of equipment," according to a report from the building department.

Government

Assessor Mark Christiansen pointed out the possibility of joint assessing services between the city and other communities like Northville Township or the City of Plymouth, and promised to research the possibility.

Other notable suggestions from department heads and staff included reducing planning commission meetings to one per month, increasing planning review fees to reflect the actual cost of the service, charging to rent city hall meeting rooms, offering early retirement to city employees, and eliminating "give-away" programs or contributions to non-essential activities like the Fourth of July, Employee Appreciation program, Arts and Beautification commissions.

Of course, the city has already taken steps to reduce the budget, by instituting a virtual ban on overtime and an unofficial hiring freeze whereby each vacancy is reviewed before the position is filled.

The steps the city council decides on to slash the budget will affect the entire community, and the council has already shown itself to be conscious of that fact and sensitive to the effects of proposed

But whatever the series of revenue increases and expenditure reductions that the city finally settles on, the burden should be distributed equally throughout the city.

Town will be jumping Saturday

If you plan to come into the downtown Northville area this Saturday, I suggest you either plan to walk or reserve your parking space now.

This promises to be the busiest Saturday seen around here in quite a while. In fact, barring such special occasions as the Fourth of July, it's going to be one of the busiest days, period.

Among the events planned for Saturday:

● The annual Goodfellows newspaper sale. Members of the Northville Rotary Club, township and city police departments, and township and city fire departments will hit the streets with special "Goodfellows Editions" of The Northville Record. These folks kindly give of their time every year to make sure there's "no kiddie without a Christmas." This is an especially terrific cause because there's absolutely no overhead; every cent goes to the kids.

● The Northville Public Library will hold its Holiday Open House from 1-3 p.m. For the first hour, kids will make ornaments for the library tree. Then a string quartet will perform. Everyone is welcome.

● The always-popular Children's Christmas Workshop returns to Mill Race Historical Village. Kids can hand-craft Christmas presents under adult supervision, but the future recipients of the gifts won't know what the kids have made. A wonderful annual event.

● Of course, on a more sober note, Dec. 7 is the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor — and this year is the 50th. VFW Post 4012 will hold a special memorial service at 11 a.m. to honor all deceased veterans of World War II.

As if all that's not enough, there will also be a children's concert at the Masonic Temple; the middle day of the Handcrafters Christmas show at the community center; Santa Claus holding court in his temporary house at the bandshell; Salvation Army bell-ringers around town; and probably a couple of other things I'm forgetting. And that evening, of course, is the annual Mothers' Club open houses, a major fund-raiser for donations to the Northville Public Schools.

See what I mean about being a busy day?

As for myself — well, my wife and I are on vacation this week, and Saturday we'll be in Chicago. It's a shame to miss all this activity, but the vacation was scheduled quite a while ago, before we knew how much was going on. And there is a bright side, I suppose — on that particular day, I think downtown Chicago might be a little calmer than downtown Northville.

This bus is going nowhere fast

If they "reorganize" public transit any more, they'll be back where they started.

Every few years, someone decides we need better public transit in southeastern Michigan, and the way to provide it is to reorganize the service governmentally.

Never does anyone suggest a tax source for these wonderful services for job seekers, the young, the elderly and the handicapped. Local taxes?? Perish the thought! We've got to reorganize!!

The latest call came last month when SMART (the first three letters stand for Suburban Mobility Authority, and I forget the rest) announced it would be broke by May, and maybe it ought to seek a merger with Detroit's DOT bus system.

In 1969, the state Legislature gave birth to a seven-county system called SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority). Its missions were to absorb a half-dozen private bus companies, negotiate a merger with D-DOT, set up an integrated system, and maybe even build rapid rail transit.

It had no tax powers, of course.

SEMTA had a board of 15, most picked by the SEMCOG, the regional planning agency, and some by the governor. The board had a regional outlook and many women members. (Two-thirds of public transit users are female.)

Much went wrong, but I'll hit only the high points.

The mayor of Detroit nixed a merger because Detroit had tax money to subsidize its farebox revenues, and SEMTA had none. The mayor didn't want his town's service diluted. Coleman Young was 1,000 percent correct.

Three years ago, SEMTA was reorganized into a suburban bus service called SMART. Now the county executives were supposed to be the heavy hitters.

The first thing the new SMART board began talking about was "privatizing" bus service. Hey, wasn't that what we had when SEMTA was birthed in 1969?

And now they're talking about a merger with D-DOT. Hey, wasn't that what SEMTA was supposed to do?

Meanwhile, after 22 years of lethargy, SEMCOG, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, is springing to life to halt "urban sprawl" — the paving over of farmlands, woodlots and wetlands for malls and condos, in an area with an essentially stagnant population.

Part of SEMCOG's thinking is the need for public transportation to get folks from the left-behind, older urban areas to jobs, doctors and stores in the hinterlands.

Hey, wasn't that supposed to be SEMCOG's mission when it was organized in 1968?

Clearly this seven-county region has come full circle. In 1991 we are talking about precisely the same issues we were talking about in 1969 — saving older cities, halting urban sprawl, providing regional public transit.

But we're not talking about supporting a transit system with taxes. Perish the thought! We must reorganize!!

Oh, well, maybe President Bill Clinton or Tom Harkin will wave a magic wand, and money will gush forth from Washington or Wall Street or Oz.

Tim Richard covered the births of both SEMTA and SEMCOG.

If primary is closed, let parties pay

To the Editor:

The article by Tim Richard in the Nov. 21 Record concerning the Michigan presidential primary needs a response — and it should be given the same feature treatment as his remarks.

In his article on the presidential primary, Mr. Richard states "Walk into a shareholders' meeting of K Mart in Troy and try to vote for the board of directors. Unless you're a stockholder, you'll be escorted out."

"Walk into a meeting of the Holy Roller Church and try to vote on whether to sell the building and move to Ypsilanti. If you're not a part of the flock, you'll be asked to depart."

He used this reasoning to justify denying citizens the right to vote in publicly-funded elections. He feels that only members of the two major parties should be allowed to vote — and only in their primary. He seems to forget one very important difference. We're not paying for the Board of Directors meeting of K Mart or the church's move to Ypsilanti.

We are paying for the Michigan presidential primary. The major political parties are private organizations, not a part of our government. If either of them wants private elections, they, not us, should pay for them. Since it is our primary election, not the Republicans' and Democrats' and since both primaries are financed by public tax dollars, we should be allowed to vote in both elections, not just one.

In a "closed" primary, such as is not the case, the state legislators are using public funds to hold elections for private organizations in which they have personal interest. If the legislators had a vested interest in K Mart or any other private organization and used our tax money to pay for their private elections, we'd call for a criminal investigation. The presidential primary legislation is no different. This "conflict of interest" exists in its ugliest form — at the expense of the Michigan taxpayer. Those responsible for it (and who voted for it) should probably be indicted. They certainly should not be cheered.

The qualification that makes us register our political preference with the state should make us all cringe. What ever happened to the secret ballot that ensures our right to vote as we choose without government interference? Our voting preferences as individuals are none of the government's business, or anyone else's for that matter. If you're a Republican working among Democrats or vice versa, that public knowledge could affect your livelihood. It is, should be, a private matter, unknown outside the voting booth. This is one of our basic freedoms and one that should be strongly protected by all thinking Americans, including Mr. Richard.

Lincoln said, "You can fool some of the people all of the time." No one should be fooled by this one. As it is now constituted, the Michigan presidential primary simply should not be held. It is a direct assault on our voting rights and an immoral, if not illegal, misuse of public funds.

Heading here

To the Editor:

I would like to address the problem of academic dishonesty in our school system; specifically Northville High School. As a student (an honest one) I notice a great deal of cheating. Not just during tests and on homework assignments, but the actual stealing of tests and finals. What is happening to our educational system?

As one of my friends said, "That could explain why our country is being over run by foreign competitors. The United States cheats; they study."

I propose better observations of students before and during testing and teachers staying in the classroom to watch their materials. Yes, it is a shame that teachers must become suspicious, but I'd rather have this more than difficult tests. The saddest part is that some of our cheaters are National Honors Society students. Let's clean up our act. Sometimes I feel the honest people are the minority. If you can't get an "A" without cheating, then obviously you don't deserve it.

Contest was an inspiration to community

To the Editor:

Although your first annual short story contest is now history, I couldn't let the event pass without thanking you and the panel of judges for selecting my entry as the first-place winner.

When you announced the contest, I thought it would be fun to enter. And it was. But I also found that the difference between thinking about a story and actually writing it is the difference between wishful thinking and the hard work of producing a finished manuscript. Thanks to your contest, "Remembering Charlie" bridged the gap. It would never have been written without the challenge you and your paper presented to our community.

And that's what I really want to thank you for.

Season spirit is needed year-round

The holiday season has arrived. For some it is a time of anticipation, excitement and joy. For others it is a time of loneliness, depression and tension.

Many of us have read about persons committing suicide at this time of year. We may wonder how that can be possible when our own family is sharing in the joy of the season.

A young girl that I interviewed recently relayed her family situation to me. I will call her Jane. Jane came into my office very sad and depressed. She indicated a desire to end her life. Jane said that her friends and parents were unaware of her feelings.

The reason for her depression was that she felt the holidays are phoney. She said that throughout the year there is very little communication in her home and when there is communication, it is in the form of criticism or ridicule. During the month of December, things are even worse because Mom has more stress associated with parties to attend, extra shopping to do and additional meals to prepare. Dad is more tense than usual because he has to entertain clients and to meet year-end quotas for his job.

In general, Jane's parents are not paying much attention to Jane, and when they are they often end up yelling at her. Jane feels more depressed each day. Jane was angry when she said, "... and then Dec. 25 comes and there is every imaginable gift for me under the tree. I know I should be grateful but I'm not ... It seems like my parents are just trying to make up to me for the way things are in our home throughout the year."

She went on to tell me that she wished there was no such thing as Christmas, since there is so much tension in her family during the holidays. She said, "If my parents were nice to each other and to me throughout the year they wouldn't need to buy extravagant gifts to relieve their guilt feelings. Only token gifts would be necessary to show our appreciation for each other and to join in the holiday spirit."

Jane is a very perceptive 14-year-old. After she left my office, I thought of other youngsters I have seen throughout the years and the pain and sorrow that they also are likely to feel during the holidays. If parents could follow Jane's wise recommendation of being nice to each other and their families throughout the year instead of giving expensive gifts at Christmas, some families would be much happier and the children would understand the true spirit of Christmas.

As a parent, if you see that your child is depressed, lonely or experiencing additional stress due to the holidays, call NYA at 344-1618 for help. Our mission is to assist Northville youths during the Christmas season and throughout the year.

I'll never understand animal cruelty

For the life of me, I don't think I will ever be able to understand the mindless cruelty some people manage to perpetrate on animals.

Considering the number of intentional slights, instances of unfairness and downright abuse humans managed to inflict upon other humans, perhaps I should not be surprised at the way they treat animals. But I cannot help but be amazed at the casualness with which people subject animals to pain, suffering and death.

Two weeks ago last Sunday, I returned home from a routine late night milk-and-bread run to the store to find a kitten prowling around in my front yard. I'm not a veterinarian, but this cat was so small, so young it could have been no more than four to six weeks old.

It was a cute little cat, and seemed to be well kept — no fleas, clean, apparently healthy, obviously well fed and seemingly contented. What this cat was doing out in my front yard on a freezing cold winter's evening, I had no idea.

We canvassed the neighborhood to see if anyone had lost a kitten, but we turned up nothing. One neighbor suggested it might be the offspring of some feral cat he said he believed lives nearby. I had trouble accepting that. It seemed much too comfortable with humans to be the product of a wild feline. And, well, it was litter trained. They don't have litter-boxes out in the wild, do they?

Well, I think I have now solved the mystery. This past Sunday, during a walk through the woods with my daughter, we discovered more kittens — many more.

All told, there were four more kittens roaming about in the woods. We found the pile of branches and dead leaves where the kittens have been sheltering. One of the kittens bore a striking resemblance to the cat I'd found two weeks earlier in my yard.

And these just were not wild cats. Each one eagerly approached us and wanted to be petted. And there was no sign of a mother cat anywhere in the vicinity.

Well, it doesn't take much to figure it out. Somebody had abandoned the litter of barely-weaned kittens out in those woods. And the kittens, only weeks old, were on their own, expected to fend for themselves out in the woods.

Fortunately, three of the four kittens were in pretty good shape, even after having apparently spent two weeks in the woods by themselves. They were getting skinny, but they were energetic and still apparently healthy. Only one appeared to have reached a weakened state.

Somehow, it had suffered a broken tail and it was shivering from the cold.

Even more fortunately, I managed to give three of the cats away. I've got room at my house for one of the little critters, but we've still got one to give away.

But can someone explain to me what the point of abandoning a litter of kittens that young was. Why leave kittens in the woods when there are numerous places they can be left if one has to give them up — shelters, Oakland and Wayne county animal control, the Michigan Humane Society.

Yes, it is true that animals often have to be put to sleep at such shelters if they are not adopted. And it is true that the adoption rate at such shelters ranges from 12 to 33 percent. But what percentage chance would you give these cats to survive the winter out in the woods all on their own? I rate it at about a zero percent chance they would have made it another two weeks.

And if they have to die in a shelter, at least it is a quick, painless death. Starvation is a horrible way to go.

Of course, whoever did this could have had their pet neutered or spayed. But that would seem to be way beyond their capacity.

I don't understand. And yet, the officials at Animal Control and the Humane Society tell me this happens to hundreds of thousands of animals each year.

It's just inconceivable.

FLYING It's hard work

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

On stage, Peter Pan — the boy who won't grow up — shows the Darling children how to fly.

"First, I must sprinkle you with fairy dust!" he exclaims.

Then he tells them to think of wonderful things. The children think of flowers, Christmas and candy and — magically — they fly up into the air.

"I'm flying!" Peter Pan sings.

But backstage, it's hard work. As Peter Pan flies into the air, Christina Zayti and Tom Chapman — the "flying directors" for the Marquis Theatre's production of "Peter Pan" — heave thick ropes attached to a system of pulleys and airplane cables so Peter can "fly" across the stage.

In fact, Zayti must climb to an upper section of the rope, grab onto it, and do a little flying herself as she uses her body as a counterweight to the flying actor on stage.

The Marquis is using the flying system designed and patented by theater technician Peter Foy, who created stage flight for the original 1950s Broadway "Peter Pan."

Foy, now in his 60s, lives in Las Vegas and runs the Foy Company, which engineers flight for Peter Pan productions across the country.

For the Marquis production, a group of Foy technicians came to the theater a few weeks before the show opened, set up the system, then trained Chapman and Zayti in its use.

"They made sure the people (who will run the flying system) are qualified, and they made sure it was safe," Producer Inge Zayti explained. Then the Marquis was on its own.

Zayti said the Foy system is also often used for training gymnasts and ice skaters as well as productions like "A Christmas Carol" (to make ghosts fly) and "Hansel and Gretel" (to make the witch fly).

The Foy Company has another system available where Peter Pan can fly out over the audience, but Zayti said they were unable to set that up this year.

Volunteer

MITCHELL DEEB

Santa's on the phone, thanks to this volunteer

There's a switch in the telephone system this year between Santa Claus and the good little boys and girls, said Mitchell Deeb of the Northville Kiwanis Club.

The club has been not only paying for the private lines installed at Northville Community Recreation, but also answering their calls.

Santa Claus will now initiate the calls, and he will do it systematically. The schedule runs like this:

Tuesday, Dec. 10, kindergarten
Wednesday, Dec. 11, first grade
Thursday, Dec. 12, second grade
All calls will be made between 6:30 and 8 in the evening.

Flyers announcing new systems were distributed by the Board of Education in the schools. (Kiwanis paid the expense, Deeb said.) Each child took one home for his parents to fill out with answers to questions regarding gifts requested, gifts apt to be received, special accomplishments of the child, names of the siblings and pets.

This new procedure will limit Santa/child conversations to just children in Northville, Deeb said, and it will also eliminate the nuisance of having older ones call, make sarcastic remarks and hang up.

But he's concerned about time, whether all the calls can be made in the allotted time. A total of requests had been turned in by parents on Friday, Nov. 29.

"We may stay longer." Then he added, "We'll try it this year, and if it works out good, we'll do it every year. If not, we'll go back to the old way."

Whichever way, it's a volunteer activity that is worthwhile, Deeb said, and "a lot of fun."

He's apt to be assigned to only one evening as before, but he'll probably go every time. "I usually do," he said. And it's apt to be a "Ho ho ho" and ringing of bells.

Local family welcomes son home

Chris Schumacher spends most of his days on the Ironwood in Kodiak, Alaska, as a member of the United States Coast Guard. But on Dec. 14, he will be home in Northville visiting his mother, Linda A. Gates, and his father, John Schumacher of Farmington. Chris will be home until Dec. 27. He has been in the Coast Guard since September 1990.

A Christmas Carol

Fairlane Assembly of God is presenting the Christian version of Dickens' A Christmas Carol Dec. 6-8 at its west location on Six Mile in Northville, and Dec. 13-15 at its central location on Ann Arbor Trail in Dearborn Heights.

The show features Gary Schuster as Scrooge, a character who has been hurt by his past and has been so accustomed to living behind his walls that he is very lonely.

"He's empty, no feeling for anyone," are Gary's words when asked to describe Scrooge. He went on to say that "Scrooge only tolerates people. Scrooge does not want to be hurt so he does not come from behind those walls. That is until... you'll just have to come and see what God has in store for ol' Scrooge."

Gary never had any formal training in drama, but has gleaned much experience since joining Fairlane in November, 1987, when he immediately began to take part in church productions.

Kiwanis Club

The new Kiwanis Club of Northville Early Birds is working on several projects including "Santa for a Day," bell ringing for the Salvation Army and a winter infant clothing drive.

The group needs members to take pictures of children with Santa in the bandshell area for its "Santa for a Day" program.

Mothers prepare for holiday open house

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

The Northville Mothers' Club has been busy since October preparing for this Saturday night — the date of their annual holiday open houses.

The open houses are held at 10 homes throughout the Northville school district for invited guests who pay a $15 donation to attend.

"Plus the life members host a party," added chairperson Kathy Arenz.

"It gets to be a little complicated. Everyone submits names of people who they think would like to come, then we go through every card to make sure nobody is invited to more than one," she explained.

"Northville is still pretty small, so a lot of the same people know each other."

As co-chairperson of the event, Arenz, along with Meg Coponen, has taken care of the guest selection, ordered supplies, and decided on the recipes.

So, what will the guests be eating this year?

"Well, of course we always have our meatballs, and there will be stuffed dates wrapped in bacon, a new vegetable dip, our cheeseball, a new Mexican dip, liver pate — we're kind of waiting to see how that goes over — and fruit," Arenz said.

Oh, and the big question — what to wear?

"When people ask me, I generally say how you would dress for church," she said. "Some people are very dressy, others are very casual, so if you are somewhere in between you shouldn't feel out of place."

All this is for a very good cause — the children of Northville. Last year's event made a profit of over $7,000 for various educational materials for the schools.

WILLIAM ALLAN ACADEMY

Thought for parents: "Excellence is to do a common thing in an uncommon way."

Indeed, Booker T. Washington's quote is a fitting backdrop for WAA's many recent creative happenings. For example:

● Each kindergartner recently sculpted her/his own "Big Bird" by pressing an open hand, dipped in an array of paints, onto a piece of paper. By drawing feet below palms, carving heads about thumbs and recognizing that fingers had become feathers the children were thrilled with their terrific Tom Turkey transformations.

● Similarly, the second and third graders crafted a gobbler by attaching Dads' old ties to a paper body. The resulting brilliant plumage, which rivaled that of the NBC peacock, led one mom to ponder aloud where one possibly could acquire such colorful attire. Principal Bill Hambleton's response was: "purchasable only by the young at heart."

● In the first grade, Pilgrims abounded at Cooperation and Kindness (their key words for the month) brought all together over a feast of class-made "Stone Soup." Lest you fear, it is not a Flinstone's concoction, but rather a sumptuous, gourmet-quality liquid recipe available from the school (349-5020) or, as this month suggests, seek excellence in an uncommon way: ask one of the first graders.

● And as for the fourth and fifth graders, they have been "exploring" the other half of the Thanksgiving equation — North American tribes.

Included has been a scouting expedition into the world of Indian diorama, artifacts and hands-on activities at the U of M Museum of Natural History. An upcoming project is to craft a model of a tribe's shelter with materials such as sticks, grass and hay.

WAA's accent on excellence certainly was evident this past month as math and spelling awards for superior performance on 12 weekly tests were received by First: Jennifer Bodrie, Nicholas Draugelis, Andrea Hallw, Hana Kalinski, Brenden Kownacki, Micheal Melvin and Tristan Trafford; Second: James Bunnell, Brian Hawthorne, Erin Kobet and Sarah Schrader; Third: Kelsey Jenney and Megan Melvin; Fourth: Charles Dillard, John Gould, Kyle Jenney, Nil Mahajan and Amanda Lee; and Fifth: Christine Gould, Alissa Morgan, Lauren Smith and James Plocinik.

Finally, here's a public invitation (Thursday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m.) to a demonstration of showmanship (excellence being presented in an uncommon way): The "Little Red Schoolhouse on Eight Mile Road" production of "A Christmas Walk" — Three student enactments of how Christmas is celebrated around the world. Hope to see you at this free, refreshment-filled show.

Weddings

Alicia Rose Antolini/Thomas Leo Sean Cook

Alicia Rose Antolini became the bride of Lt. Thomas Leo Sean Cook in a closed, double-ring wedding ceremony Aug. 10.

The Rev. Donald King officiated the 5:30 p.m. Mass at Blessed Sacrament Church in Warren, Ohio.

Soloist for the occasion was Georgeann Colella. Trumpet soloist was Donald Stimpel, and Lori Koval provided organ music.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Antolini of Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cook of Northville.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Galina gown of schiffli embroidery tulip lace fashioned with a jewel neckline, fitted bodice, dropped waistline and short, puffed sleeves. The softly gathered skirt of tulle and chapel train were highlighted with pearls and sequined lace motifs.

To complete her ensemble, the bride added a crystal and pearl spray band secured with a bouffant pouf with scattered crystal and pearls and fingertip and cathedral-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, dedrobium orchids, roses, and stephanotis with rose leaves and ivy.

The groom was attired in his dress white U.S. Navy uniform.

Maid of honor was Mary Beth Antolini, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Jennifer Antolini, sister of the bride; Leslie Cook and Linda Thompson, sisters of the groom;

Theresa Karich; Terri Mahoney; and Lynn Tully.

Flower girl was Kelly Thompson, niece of the groom; and ring bearer was Scott Thompson, nephew of the groom.

The groom's father, Tom Cook, served as best man. Ushers were Lt. David Harrington; Lt. Timothy Lynch; Lt. Ray McSteen; Lt. Thomas Croisant; Tony Antolini, brother of the bride; and Lt. Mike Moore.

Among those receiving flowers were Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Rose, Ashtabula, Ohio, and Anthony Antolini, Warren, grandparents of the bride; and Mrs. Thomas Cook, Pittsburgh, grandmother of the groom.

A reception honoring the couple was held at Trumbull Country Club for 300 guests.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of John F. Kennedy Catholic High School in Ohio and received her bachelor of science degree in accounting, cum laude, from Marquette University in Milwaukee in 1987. Prior to her marriage, she was an account executive with the Media Business Division of Heller Financial, Chicago.

The groom is a 1982 graduate of Birmingham Brother Rice High School, and he received his bachelor of science degree from Marquette University in 1987. He is attending intermediate jet training in the VT-26 Squadron at the Naval Air Station, Chase Field, Texas to become a naval aviator.

Karen Brining/Mark Anthony Simonich

Karen Elizabeth Brining and Mark Anthony Simonich exchanged marriage vows Sept. 14, at Holy Family Church in Novi. Fr. John Budde and the Rev. James Russell of the First Presbyterian Church, Northville, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Doug and Liz Brining of Northville. The bridegroom is the son of John and Helen Simonich of Aurora, Minn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk shantung dress with an alencon lace bodice and sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves with applied bow on the back, and a chapel-length train. Bow headpiece of silk organza was designed by the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink and white gerber daisies with bridal white roses and white alstromaria, stephanotis and ivy.

Kim Brining was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Christine Gillies of Colorado Springs, Susan Snel of Grand Rapids, and Christine Gillies of Minneapolis, all friends of the bride.

The attendants wore tea-length dresses of burgundy taffeta and carried bouquets of burgundy alstromaria, accented with white and a touch of hot pink roses.

Steve Simser of Wixom, friend of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Greg Dykstra of Grosse Pointe, Dave Ramford of Aurora, friends of the groom; and Andy Krier of Naperville, nephew of the groom. Ushers were Ted Hamill of Milton, cousin of the bride; John Simonich of Hartford, brother of the groom; and Gary Krier of Naperville, brother-in-law of the groom.

Readings were given by Betty Jane and Dan Blossfeld of Novi, friends of both the bride and groom. After honeymooning in California and the Mexican Riviera, the newlyweds reside in Novi.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Northville High School and a 1989 graduate of Marquette University, while the groom is a 1985 graduate of the University of Minnesota. She is employed as a physical therapist at Detroit Receiving Hospital, and he is employed as a mechanical engineer at Chrysler Corp.

Learning to fly

"Hopefully we will do that next time," she said. The Marquis presents "Peter Pan" every three years.

In order to fly, the actors must wear uncomfortable — even painful — leather harnesses that attach to airplane cable. Airplane cable is the same type of wire used to lift people to a helicopter from the ground.

"It hurts," Zayti said, adding that the harness is the reason only women can play Peter Pan.

"But when (the actors) get over the pain, they think it is incredible," she said. "They absolutely love it."

Oh, sure, if you look close enough you can see the strings attached to the actors, and the Marquis staff knows it. But those strings are quickly forgotten as the audience is swept into the magic of the play. The Marquis production, directed by Gary Sturm, is full of exciting dance scenes by talented, competent young actors and actresses (choreographed by Valerie Mould), colorful costumes (designed by Linda Sharron and Inge Zayti) and music you keep humming for days (pulled together by music director R. Luther Bingaman).

Peter Pan, a part shared by actresses Lynne Sherwood and Chris Jones (they perform on alternate days), mesmerizes children and delights adults in the audience. Of course, on the other side of the coin, Captain Hook (Ken Haering) is evil, yet funny and never really scary.

The approximately 20 children in the play are veterans of the Marquis' "Cotton Candy Kids" summer theater workshops, and were chosen from 162 who auditioned.

"It's hard, because we cannot let every child be in the play," Zayti said. "But we let as many kids as possible."

The Monday morning audience full of children called out "yes!" in voices full of urgency and wonder when Peter Pan implored them to save Tinkerbell (Sarah Benish) by showing that children do believe in fairies.

And at the Marquis, even backstage, they believe that people really can fly.

"Peter Pan" continues weekends at the Marquis Theatre, 135 E. Main, Northville, on Dec. 6-8, 13-15, 21-22, 27-29, and Jan. 3-5. Saturday performances are at 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. Sunday performances are at 2:30 p.m. and Friday performances are at 8 p.m. There are also special week-day matinee performances at 2:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 30, Tuesday, Dec. 31, and Thursday, Jan. 2. Tickets are $6.50 at the door or the Marquis Store (next door to the theater) or by telephone (349-8110) or at any Ticketmaster outlet. Children must be at least 4 years old. If you let them know in advance, they will sing "Happy Birthday" to your child.

Max the Moose visits Northville

A visit with Marc Thomas and Max the Moose is scheduled in Northville, and anyone wishing to entertain their kids will find it a joyful experience.

Thomas and his Joyful Heart Band with special guest puppet Max the Moose will appear at the Northville Masonic Temple this Sunday, Dec. 8 at 4:30 p.m. The show is directed at kids age 2-7 as well as anyone who is young at heart.

The concert will feature songs from Marc's album "Max the Moose" as well as some seasonal favorites.

"It will be a typical show," Thomas said of the Northville concert. "And there will be non-religious Christmas music."

A "typical show" might include an assortment of traditional children's music as well as Thomas' own songs. He selects songs which are positive, fun, and invite audience participation. And Max the Moose offers his own kind of moose fun.

Thomas, 35, is a native of Millford. While attending Michigan State University he often performed at coffee houses and open stages.

His love for children and music have become wedded in his programs directed at child and family audiences. He has performed at Detroit's Tastefest and the 1991 Michigan Festival in East Lansing. His performances at metro area elementary and nursery schools have received enthusiastic accolades. Marc was also a featured performer sponsored by All Kids Considered magazine at the Children's Activities Fair held at Livonia Mall.

Since attending the National Self Esteem Convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, Thomas has been incorporating his concern for child self-esteem into his music.

□ NASA's Adult Space Academy program teaches adults how to prepare for flight in space and then lets them participate in a simulated space mission, hoping they don't "trash" south Florida.

By JACKIE DALTON
Special Writer

I arrived in Huntsville, Alabama, armed with curiosity and a feeble conviction that continued personal growth is the key to happy retirement.

Most Space Camp trainees at the U.S. Space and Rocket Center are young people, but Adult Space Camp is open to anyone over age 19. Our group of 24 participants averaged age 40, with only two of us on the downhill side of 60.

Could we keep up?

I enrolled in the easiest of the adult programs, a weekend program that combined classroom instruction with hands-on activities. I will never again see a shuttle launch without recalling how I felt during those simulated space missions.

The course emphasized teamwork, decision-making and leadership. Each participant was assigned to a team. No one goes into space alone.

My first challenge came when I was confronted with the sleeping arrangements: six bunks, most of them uppers.

My second challenge was a test to ascertain my knowledge about space. I barely understood the questions, let alone the answers. The test paper included 44 acronyms, little groups of letters like ELSS and MECO which stand for Environmental Life Support System and Main Engine Cut Off — stuff you'd really like to know when you're zooming through space.

We divided into three categories for our two simulated space missions, depending on test scores and preferences.

Mission control trainees stayed on the ground during a mission. Cockpit

Rocket Park at the U.S. Space & Rocket Center offers something of interest to all generations members operated the shuttle in space. Science specialists performed experiments in space.

I was in ground control on one mission. . . In the cockpit for the second mission. Teamwork was our only hope of surviving the next three days.

After touring the facility we tackled the simulators. The Multi-Axis training simulator spins not on one axis, but three. Watching is scary. Riding is not. We tumbled too fast to think about what our bodies were doing.

There was no pressure to try an activity. We could say "No thank you" to our team counselor.

Staff members, well trained young people the age of my grandchildren, participated in all phases of the training. They knew my fears before I did.

Other simulators let us feel motion without gravity and to practice walking on the moon.

We each tried to dock the shuttle at a space station. On the third try I finally got the orbiter lined up, but the approach was a tad swift. Chalk one up for seat belts. Vehicles handle differently without gravity.

Landing on the runway is also tricky for the first-time pilot.

Next step in the program was training . . . learning required tasks at our assigned stations. Each two-hour mission had a script detailing every order, action and response with each position highlighted. Positions were labeled to show who speaks and acts: FD, LD, SSO, WXT, etc. Now don't you wish you knew the acronyms?

Sunday, Day 3, was mission day. One two-hour flight followed by a 30-minute debriefing in the morning, early lunch, and back aboard for the second trip.

The simulations were very realistic. The engines powered up with a roar. The orbiter trembled as it lifted away from earth.

As we arced into orbit, Planet Earth came into view. Missions are designed to teach decision-making. The simulation director sat in the control room, gleefully flipping switches, causing crisis after crisis for the crew.

The meteor shower hit us while yours truly, temporary scientist, was crawling through a skinny metal tube leading from the laboratory back to the cockpit. Being pummeled by meteors is noisy and bumpy, a potentially bruising experience.

The desperate need to get safely buckled into a seat before the space ship made its emergency reentry vanquished all thought of caution. In spite of damage and inclement weather, we landed safely.

During debriefing we learned that crew error had accidentally trashed south Florida. Miami was obliterated, and it didn't even make the national news.

The price for Adult Space Academy Level I is $450 which includes housing Friday and Saturday nights plus meals lunch Friday through lunch Sunday.

For information about this program and other U.S. Space Camp programs call toll-free (800) 63-SPACE or write to Space Camp, One Tranquility Base, Huntsville, AL 35807.

A Space Camp trainee bounces high in the air, using an astronaut training simulator like the equipment used to train Apollo astronauts for walking on the moon.

Students learn about NASA at Space and Rocket Center

By IRIS SANDERSON JONES
Travel Writer

Novi Middle School doesn't teach you how to build and launch a rocket. Gina Barducci and her friends had to go to Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama, to learn that.

Gina, and her friend Becky Kohl, Sara Douglas and Melissa Shubert attended the five-day program at the Space and Rocket Center as part of a Girl Scout program called Wider Opportunity. They have all been members of Troop 979 since first grade.

They are among the thousands of young people and adults who have attended Space Camp, one of the 6 million people who have visited the U.S. Space and Rocket Center since it opened in 1970 in Huntsville, Alabama.

German-born scientist Werner von Braun developed the first U.S. ballistic missile at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, in the 1950s. He lobbied for a non-profit space science museum called the Space and Rocket Center, opened by the state of Alabama in 1970, and later inspired Space Camp, which encourages young people to have fun while learning about science, technology and aerospace.

The U.S. Space Camp offers five-day programs for students grades four through six. Space Academy Level I is a five-day program for students in grades seven through nine. Space Academy Level II offers eight-day programs for high school sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Costs range from $425 to $675. Adult Space Camp in Huntsville offers three-day $450 sessions for adults 19 years and over and a five-day Teacher Space Orientation for $750. A second U.S. Space Camp in Titusville, Florida, has programs for kids in grades four through seven.

Students must have a teacher's recommendation and parent's permission to attend, but there are no course prerequisites or grade requirements.

Everybody who goes to Space Camp learns to build and launch a small rocket, becomes familiar with equipment used to train astronauts and has lectures and films related to the space program past and future, and to possible career paths.

They also go on a simulated space mission.

Gina and her friends loved the experience. If you would like to try it, contact the U.S. Space and Rocket Center, One Tranquility Base, Huntsville, AL. 35807 or telephone (205) 837-3400.

Wheeling lights up the holidays

Winter communities across the country may be settling down for a long winter's nap.

But not Wheeling, West Virginia.

They have flipped the switch for the annual Festival of Lights, which includes 70 major lighted displays in downtown Wheeling and Oglebay Park.

Sidewalk trees, 250 oversized snowflakes and giant displays will light up downtown Wheeling through January 5. More than 900,000 multi-colored lights will glow in city owned Oglebay Park daily through January and on weekends through February.

You can drive seven miles through Oglebay Park from dusk till 11 p.m. to see 300 acres of landscapes, historical buildings and tree groupings outlined or bathed in holiday lights.

The Festival of Lights is a community effort. High school students fabricate the major displays at Oglebay. Civic and church groups join in and sponsor theme displays.

The Anchor Room restaurant of fers "Dinner & Flights to the Festival of Lights" through the end of January. For $50, dinner, limo service and a 20 minute airplane ride is available. Call (304) 527-0080 for other packages.

Once in Wheeling, try a Valley Voyager river excursion, which runs through the winter. Call toll free (800) 237-1867 for prices.

Victoriana is well preserved in Wheeling. Spend the night at a bed and breakfast or go shopping at the Centre Market Square.

Country music greats perform every Saturday night at Jamboree U.S.A., the country's second oldest live country music show. Price range, $15.50 to $29.50 through Dec. 31.

All-Area teams feature four Mustangs

Northville places two on first squad

One thing for certain can be said about this year's Hometown Newspapers' East All-Area girls basketball team: They knew how to find the hoop.

Each of our first team choices, as selected by the sportswriters of the The Northville Record, Milford Times, South Lyon Herald and Novi News, averaged 10 or more points per game. As a testament to their offensive abilities, four of our five selections shot better than 40 percent from the floor.

Here's a closer look at our first team picks:

SHELLY PIETILA, guard, South Lyon: Pietila was South Lyon's creator on offense, slashing and dashing her way through the lane whenever the Lions needed instant points. When the opposition collapsed to double-team her, she dished off nifty assists to Nikki Bailey or another teammate.

Pietila led Ron Shanks' squad with 164 assists. She also led the team in steals (91) and was second in scoring average (14.2).

"Kids like Shelly come along once in a great while. I've only had one other guard who even begins to compare with her. Her quickness and her size gave her a chance to see the floor a little better. She made some real tough shots and did some things that you can't teach kids to do. She's always had a very intense nature. That hurt her when she was younger, but she matured this year. She was able to control that intensity a little bit better and yet she never lost that spark," Shanks said.

KRISTEN KENNY, forward, Novi: According to Coach John Hoffman, the 5-foot-10 Kenny made "huge strides" in her play this season. Indeed.

Kenny led the Wildcats in scoring with a 10.1 per game average. Although she took 50 more shots than her nearest teammate, Kenny, a sophomore, led Novi in field goal percentage. Also a strong rebounder, Kenny averaged five a game and was third on the team in the category.

Hoffman said better things are yet to come.

"She's still learning when to shoot the ball," he said. "Kristen is a good player now, but she's nowhere near where she's going to be by the time she's a senior. By that time, I think she will be the best player I've ever coached."

Besides scoring, Kenny runs the floor well. Hoffman said. She also displays leadership qualities and gets along well with her teammates, he said.

Karen Pump used of all her skills, including passing, to lead Northville this year

LYON: When the Lions needed a rebound, a post move for a score or a sure free throw, they picked up the proverbial phone and called Bailey's number. The 5-foot-11-inch senior forward on Shanks three-guard offense led the team in scoring with 384 points for a 16-points-per-game average. From the line, Bailey was 84-for-120.

Elsewhere, she would toss in a key hoop to spark a rally or quietly keep the South Lyon basketball machine going. Bailey was the team's leading rebounder with 166 for the season.

"Nikki was kind of an opposite of Shelly in some ways. She gave us much more balance. Nikki's much more quiet. Her stability and her steadiness were a real important part of our team. She made teams guard us close inside and outside and was the inside scorer, able to win some games for us. A lot of people took Nikki for granted. She's lefthanded, which a lot of teams didn't know, and she has good footwork around the basket," Shanks said.

KAREN PUMP, guard, Northville: "She absolutely had a sensational year shooting the ball," said Coach Ed Kritich. "Nobody (in Northville) has ever come close to what she did this year."

Pump shot an amazing 54 percent from the field. The 5-foot-8 swing player led the Mustangs in scoring with just more than 13 points per game. She also connected on 12 three-point attempts, second on the team in that category.

"We didn't have a 'go-to' person at the beginning of the year," Kritich said. "She ended up being a dynamic go-to girl."

The senior, who may attend Midland's Northwood Institute next fall, was dangerous from nearly any spot on the court, he added. Pump's shooting range went to about 20 feet.

Rebounding was another of her strong suits as she led the team, averaging nine per game.

"She's a sneaky rebounder," Kritich said. "Karen has a very strong upper body and holds her position well."

KARA MCNEIL, forward, Northville: One of the Mustang's true leaders, this senior combined many talents to help give the team its best season in years.

"She's a one-of-a-kind type player," Kritich said. "Kara was our Dennis Rodman."

McNeil came in second in scoring for the Mustangs at 11.5 per game. She placed first in three-pointers, third in rebounds and assists. But the 5-foot-7 forward's biggest contribution may have been on defense.

"She could defend on the inside or outside," Kritich said. "Kara is an absolute complete defensive player."

The rare commodity of quickness made McNeil a great defender, he said. She led the Mustangs in steals. That asset also paid off offensively.

"Her quickness was intimidating," Kritich said. "Many times she would ruin one side of the other team's defense."

Apligian, Nyland join second group of stars

Each of our second team choices, as selected by the sportswriters of the The Northville Record, Novi News, Milford Times and The South Lyon Herald represent quality basketball players.

This squad features a blistering outside shooter, an intimidating inside defender and a top notch point guard. Four of our selections on the second team are guards. And for good reason.

Northville's Laura Apligian was the general for Coach of the Year Ed Kritich's Mustangs. She helped lead Northville to one of its best seasons in recent memory.

South Lyon's Tanya Manson provided the Lions with a workhorse and excellent defender. Coach Ron Shanks described her as the squad's ace defender. Manson also demonstrated fine outside shooting.

Here's a closer look at our second team picks:

SECOND TEAM:

TARA SUTTON, guard, South Lyon: Sutton, a junior, was one of Coach Ron Shanks' long-range threats. Sutton beat several teams with last-second three-pointers this season, including Brighton in overtime in the district semifinal.

More importantly, though, Shanks said, was her improved dribbling and defense. She led the team with 44 triples. She was third on the team in assists (35) and points (203).

"Her outside shooting was a key aspect of our offense. With Nikki inside we knew going in that teams would make it tough to get the ball inside, so we needed someone who could hit outside. I loved the threes, but her ball handling and her defense were just as important to us being a successful team," Shanks said.

TANYA MANSON, guard, South Lyon: Durable. That was just one of the words Shanks used to describe his number two guard. Manson scrapped and hustled all season for the Lions. She had 36 steals for the year and made 13 of 45 three-point attempts.

"We made her our defensive ace every year for the last three years since we went to the man-to-man defense. She would attack the other team's point guard and she did a great job for us. She has tremendous endurance. She played a lot of hard minutes without getting in foul trouble. She has incredible energy, never gets tired and adds the three pointer occasionally. She also created steal opportunities for her teammates," Shanks said.

LAURA APLIGIAN, guard, Northville: Hard work over the summer made this 5-foot-5 senior into an outstanding player in 1991.

"We've never had anybody make the strides she made from her junior to senior year," Kritich said. "She was on a roll at team camp this summer and never looked back."

Kritich said Apligian helped to focus the Mustangs throughout the season with her consistent play. "She was the person that brought our team together," Kritich explained.

Apligian, a senior, was the point guard in Northville's fastbreak offense. She was adept at penetrating and then either passing or shooting the ball, Kritich said. Apligian also brought something else to the court.

"She really had the 'I hate to lose' mentality," Kritich said.

Apligian led Northville in free-throw percentage. She was second in assists and third in scoring.

STACEY NYLAND, forward, Northville: An emergency appendectomy sidelined Nyland in the Mustangs' season-ending loss to Salem in district play. The 5-foot-11 senior gave Northville an imposing force on the inside, Kritich said.

"She allowed us to compete with our opponents' bigger players," he said.

Kritich described Nyland as a "quick and agile" player. Nyland contributed offensively by "cleaning-up" on the fastbreak. As a post player, she demonstrated strong moves to the basket and passed well, Kritich said.

"She could really find the open player," he said. "Nyland is an extremely unselfish kid."

Nyland averaged 8.6 points and 6.7 rebounds for Northville. Nyland was third in steals and blocked shots.

"She's what made the defense come together," Kritich said.

CHERYL SCHEIDEMAN, guard, Milford: Scheideman, a senior point guard and floor quarterback for Don Palmer's 10-10 Redskins, led the squad with 204 points, 2.3 assists per game and was third on the team in rebounding with about four rebounds per game.

"I liked the way Cheryl finished the year. It was tough for her this year being one of just two seniors on the team and having to put up with the leadership role I put her in, but I liked how she closed the season. I like her competitive spirit. She and I are a lot alike. We're both perfectionists. She's a good kid, and had a good year statistically," Palmer said.

Honorable Mention

Honorable mention players include Beth MacLean (Northville); Jeanette Lucy, Kelli Barton, Christine Edwards (Novi); Karen Sikorski, Amy Pietila (South Lyon); Jackie LeGris, Julie Cameron (Milford); Brandy Taylor and Kristen Hoffman (Lakeland).

Kritich named Coach of the Year

By SCOTT DANIEL
Staff Sports Writer

Getting the pieces to fit on a team is one of the most important tasks for any coach. Without the proper blend of talented, determined and hustling players — and the right person pulling the switches — programs slide into mediocrity.

Hometown Newspapers' East All-Area Coach of the Year did indeed make all the right moves. Ed Kritich found the correct mixture for his Northville squad en route to a 16-5 season.

The Mustangs finished fifth overall in the WLAA and second in the Western Division. Kritich is in his eighth season as Northville's head coach.

"The biggest thing you get out of coaching is the development of the kids," he said. "Seeing them develop and become strong individuals gives me more satisfaction than anything else."

The 16-win season for the Mustangs comes after a 13-8 mark in 1990. Northville established several school records this year, including most regular-season wins and highest points per game average.

"This team had a lot of firsts," Kritich said. "I think this is the best team we've had."

The coach has a long tradition with Northville High. As a guard for the Mustangs in the early '70s, he played two years of varsity basketball helping to lead his team to winning seasons.

Kritich also played baseball for Northville. He said the diamond game is another of his passions. "My two loves have been basketball and baseball," Kritich said.

The 35-year-old didn't exactly plan on a coaching career. Kritich said he was coaching in a Northville boys recreational league when a friend asked him to take over a private grade-school girls team.

After two years at Our Lady of Victory, Kritich moved into the Northville girls junior varsity slot. He led the JV Mustangs to a 17-win season.

The following year, after the varsity squad managed just two wins, Kritich became head coach.

"It's something that's evolved," he said of his coaching career. "I've evolved into a basketball coach. My personality lends itself to that."

Since taking the head position, Kritich has compiled a 100-73 overall record. He explained that he has tried to instill a particular philosophy into his players.

"I try to teach them to be prepared to succeed and give everything they've got," Kritich said. "Then you feel great no matter what the outcome."

The coach said winning is important, but it isn't his main focus.

"Basketball has to be looked at as a piece of the pie," Kritich said. "(The girls) have a responsibility to themselves above and beyond anything else. When they loose that perspective, it's unacceptable."

Kritich says he keeps an open-door policy with his players.

"I pride myself on developing relationships with most of the girls," he said.

The coaching assignment has taught him many things, but most of all to be patient, Kritich commented. He said he is proud of all the teams he has coached through the years.

Kritich said when he thinks back on this year's squad he will remember the high level at which they competed in every game. He said the '91 team "never took a night off."

From a fans' perspective, the high-scoring Mustangs were probably his best team to watch.

"This team became dynamic at times," Kritich said. "I think they were the most fun to watch. They played an exciting brand of basketball."

Kritich said he wasn't sure how long he would continue to coach. He stressed that it's a year-around commitment that often takes him away from his wife, Candy, and their two daughters.

But, for however long he does continue, Kritich had this warning for Mustang foes.

"Our kids come ready to play," he said. "They better know when they play Northville, our program is so good that they could lose to us on a given night, no matter who they are."

Basketball season reviewed by coach

By SCOTT DANIEL
Staff Sports Writer

In many regards, it was a milestone year for the Northville girls basketball team.

A tough loss to old rival Plymouth Salem in the first round of the state tournament didn't take away from a Mustang squad which posted the best winning percentage in school history. Led by seniors Karen Pump, Laura Apligian, Kara McNeil and Stacey Nyland, each of which garnered All-Area honors (See page 7B), Northville posted a 16-5 mark for 1991.

"It was a wonderful season," Coach Ed Kritch said. "It was everything we could have hoped for and more."

The Mustangs came into the fall season off a 13-8 showing in 1990. Kritch said he expected improvement on that record, based on the play of the team toward the end of last year.

"As juniors they were really coming starting to come together," he said. "They were starting to jell."

"I thought if we stayed focused, we could be very competitive. I thought if we could get to 15 wins it would be a great year," Kritch said.

When Northville opened with a string of victories — against Wayne, Livonia Churchill and Walled Lake Central — the tone was set for the remainder of the season.

"You could see the handwriting on the wall with that seven-game streak," Kritch said. "The more you win the more your appetite grows to win."

The Mustangs were nearly a month into the season before tasting defeat.

In a double-overtime thriller, Northville fell to Livonia Stevenson 65-63. The Mustangs blew a nine-point lead with just under two minutes remaining. Kritch said his players didn't lose the game.

"That's one I did," he said, of one of the season's rare low points. "It was a game where our kids won the game. I just had to give them some information to finish it out. If I would have helped the kids, we probably would have won."

The Northville squad wasted no time getting over the loss as it won three of their next four. After losing to Canton, the Mustangs closed out the regular season with four more victories.

Kara McNeil was the Mustangs 'Dennis Rodman' according to coach Ed Kritch

The Mustangs finished fifth overall in the WLAA and second in the Western Division.

The state tournament's first round ended the Mustangs' season. After losing Nyland to an emergency appendectomy, Northville battled back against Salem twice before finally surrendering a 41-39 decision.

Despite the loss, Kritch said the game was actually a high point of the year.

"It was a great way for the girls to show how it hard it was for anybody to come in, on their home court, and beat them," he said.

Usually, a successful season isn't the result of one player, but is a culmination of a total team effort. That was the case for this year's squad. With four players averaging better than eight points per game, the Mustangs were definitely not a one-woman show in 1991.

"We had good balance," Kritch said. "You couldn't key on one kid."

The coach said they were several other keys to the season.

Senior point guard Apligian was one.

"I felt that she was a key," Kritch said. "She didn't play the point as a junior. For her to have the ball given to her and to have her develop the way she did, I thought was key."

The coach also pointed to the improvement of Pump. As a junior she averaged seven points per game. Pump nearly doubled her average, scoring just more than 13 a game this year.

"She could score from anywhere," Kritch said.

The team's change in offensive philosophy helped the Mustangs average more points than any other Northville team. At nearly 53 per game, the squad shattered the previous school record of 45.

And, even though the Mustangs had a run-and-gun offense, they still managed to keep opponents under 40 points per game.

"Our effort and commitment were always there," Kritch said. "We never took a night off."

"Most of all, these kids were winners."

In his eighth season as coach, Kritch picked up his 100th victory. His career record at Northville stands at 100-73, a .578 winning percentage.

The Mustangs fine season earned Kritch Hometown Newspapers'

Coach of the Year award (see 7B). The Northville Coach finished ahead of South Lyon Coach Ron Shanks.

Looking to 1992, the prospects for the Mustangs would appear less bright. After all, losing four senior starters would seem to be enough to throw any program into a tailspin.

But, Kritch said, that may not be the case.

Experienced players in Beth MacLean, sophomore Karl Krupansky, juniors Gretchen Sander and Julia Bermingham are returning. Both Krupansky and MacLean played "important" minutes this year and improved skills, Kritch said.

Jennifer Hayden and Kelly Casterline will also be back. Fresh from the junior varsity squad will be Krista Howe, Lindsay Bacon and Marcie Bolger.

Next year's fortunes will be determined largely on how each of these players develops in the off-season, Kritch commented.

"It depends on how much the kids take it upon themselves to work and develop," he said.

Kritch said not to be surprised if next year's squad has a winning season.

"Everybody thinks we will be in trouble," he said. "My feeling is that we will be much more competitive than people realize."

District encourages athletic development

By SCOTT DANIEL
Staff Sports Writer

Editor's note: The following is the first part of an interview with Northville Athletic Director Dennis Colligan. The second portion of the interview will appear in next week's Record.

Each new school year, before any team has taken the field or put on the uniform for the first time, it's up to one person to make sure schedules mesh, equipment has been purchased and coaches have been hired. For Northville, Dennis Colligan is that person.

As athletic director for the past six years, Colligan, 42, has seen to it that all Northville school programs have what they need to compete. A former Mustang head football coach, Colligan brings hands-on experience in athletics to his work.

In order to get a better understanding of just what that work entails, The Northville Record recently sat down with Colligan.

RECORD: As athletic director, what are your main duties?

COLLIGAN: Well, mainly, I have to oversee the entire athletic department, both at the high school and at the middle schools.

At the high school we have 20 varsity sports plus pom-pom and cheerleading. So we actually have 22 varsity sports.

What I have to do is to oversee the entire operation — do all the scheduling, officials, game management, hiring coaches, evaluating coaches. Just making sure the whole thing runs.

A lot of organizational work goes into meshing the fall, winter and spring schedules together. Managing all the facilities that we have. Making sure the facilities stay as updated as we possibly can. Eligibility with students.

There's a whole litany of things that come into play as an athletic director. Most importantly, falling under the umbrella of the entire athletic department and being the person that makes sure it floats.

RECORD: So it sounds like a bit more than a 40-hour a week job.

COLLIGAN: Oh, no question. It's something that you have to be committed to. You have to enjoy it or it will drive you crazy.

You have to, first of all, have a keen desire to let kids compete athletically. And to enjoy watching them, enjoy watching the development of kids from the seventh grade to their senior year.

For a person to stay in the position of athletic director they have to be committed and really live the activities themselves. If they just want to sit behind the desk and do the scheduling and hire officials and make sure the games run, they would be doing the job an injustice. And they wouldn't enjoy it, it would be really boring.

When you have 22 satellite programs you have to mesh them together to have the kind of philosophy the school district wants.

RECORD: What is the school district's philosophy?

COLLIGAN: The school district's philosophy is simply to give kids the opportunity to compete at their highest level. To develop programs at the seventh and eighth grade level, the ninth grade level, the junior varsity level to all lead toward letting kids expand on their development and giving them the opportunity to achieve the highest level that they can.

I think we do a great job. We've got tremendous support from the community. Tremendous support from the Northville Public Schools.

I believe we are very well funded, I believe that the school district thinks that athletics are important. That it's an important part of the extra curricular process.

RECORD: Are you the main man? Do you have an assistant?

COLLIGAN: I am the person.

My assistants are all the athletic coaches. One of the reasons you have to be very selective when hiring a head coach and when you're interviewing, you have to select people that will fit in and that aren't afraid to work.

You know and I know that when you accept the position of head coach of a program, that's not just a practice and game schedule, it's a year-around commitment. You have to care about kids and you have to care about the entire athletic program.

At Northville you'll see coaches at each other's events on a regular basis. We work hard not to have 22 separate entities. We work hard to have a total program of people caring about each other.

RECORD: Are you solely responsible for hiring coaches?

COLLIGAN: The principal of the high school and myself are the two main people responsible for hiring head coaches.

I rely on my head coaches to hire their assistants and the JV and freshman coaches. I oversee that, but I take their recommendations.

AIDS virus discussed locally

The story of a Florida dentist thought to have exposed several of his patients to the HIV virus has turned an everyday visit to the dentist's office into an emotional experience.

And local health care workers have felt the effects.

"There has been a lot of sensationalism," said Novi oral surgeon David Bloom.

His partner, Mark Azzopardi, agreed.

"We didn't know, at first, how it was transmitted," he said.

Now they know the acquired immune deficiency syndrome virus is transmitted through blood.

AIDS is most often transmitted through sexual contact or the sharing of contaminated hypodermic needles by drug abusers.

But since the Florida dentist was reported to have allegedly infected patients, the spotlight has focused on health care workers, too.

Partners at the Novi oral surgery office agree they are more at risk in being exposed to the virus than their patients.

"We are much more likely to get it than the patient," Bloom said.

All four partners recently tested negative for the virus. They were required to undergo testing for insurance policies.

Bloom said he is confident of the practices used in his office to protect patients and doctors from the spread of disease.

"Nothing is left to chance," he said.

"If we're not giving them hepatitis there is no way we're giving them AIDS."

Hepatitis is a highly contagious infection that causes inflammation of the liver.

Steam heat cleaning of surgical instruments is one precaution doctors at Novi's Oakland Oral Surgery take to prevent the transmission of the HIV virus between patients.

Oral Surgeon Edward Royal cleans instruments at his Novi office

During operations, they treat every patient with the care they would use when treating an HIV-infected patient, following the guidelines of the Infectious Control Commission. Although Bloom and Azzopardi have been tested for the virus, they shy away from mandatory testing of health care workers.

"You can test negative today and, theoretically, a person could become infected and test positive the next week," Azzopardi said.

Bloom argues that mandating

AIDS testing for health care workers would save far fewer lives than mandating alcohol breath tests for drivers.

"I want Breathalyzers when 60,000 die from auto accidents each year," Bloom said.

Health, fitness column launched

The Northville Record launches a new health and fitness column this week. To be written by a variety of health and fitness experts on a rotating basis, and coordinated by the University of Michigan Health Care Centers which has offices in Northville, the topics will range from fitness to medicine, from dentistry to counseling.

The writers who will be contributing regularly will include:

Kathryn Hoppe, D.D.S.

Northville Professional Park
18600 Northville Road #300
Northville, 348-9800

"Running helps me stay fit, have extra energy, be happy and deal with stress more effectively," says Dr. Kathryn Hoppe, who ran recently in the 26.2-mile Columbus Marathon.

Hoppe, a Northville dentist, needs the extra energy to keep up with her busy schedule. In addition to a full-time dental practice, she is active with the Northville Chamber of Commerce and serves on their activities committee. She's also a member of the Kiwanis-Early Birds, Friends of the Library and the Redford Road Runners (a running club).

"Northville is a great area to live in," she says. "I just want to do my part to support community activities." She also takes a number of speaking engagements at health fairs, career days and in children's classrooms to provide good dental health awareness.

Hoppe is active in professional dental associations and societies at the city, state, and national levels. She graduated from the University of Detroit School of Dentistry in 1978. She also keeps active in advanced dental training as well as the latest in cosmetic dentistry.

Hoppe's column will discuss topics such as the latest in dental technology, cosmetic advances and information on fluorides, gum disease and sports mouth guards.

Jacquie Martin-Downs, M.A., C.S.W.

Northville Counseling Center
115 Center Street
Northville, 347-3470

Being a mother of teenagers provides Jacquie Martin-Downs with unique training and qualifications to counsel families with teenagers. "Some of my knowledge comes from war zone training of parenting a 15- and 17-year-old," she said. "I find it enhances my training in family systems therapy. While it's rewarding to be a parent, it does have its ups and downs."

Currently specializing in substance abuse counseling, Martin-Downs was appointed the student assistance coordinator for the Community Commission on Drug Abuse for more than 65 school-based educational support groups in 14 Wayne County districts. Martin-Downs began her career teaching preschool, elementary school and adolescents. She completed her master's degree in social work from the University of Michigan. She has a strong personal interest in blended families and relationship issues.

She's looking forward to writing for this column because she enjoys sharing her professional expertise. She teaches seminars on codependency and was a frequent guest on WMUZ radio's Solo Flight.

Martin-Downs' columns will discuss issues such as positive parenting and dealing with children's problems, as well as traits of healthy families.

said, "People are constantly telling me how exercise has changed their lives. I'm excited to be able to help people get involved with an exercise program."

Running Fit sells running shoes and equipment in two stores in Ann Arbor and one in Novi. Fitness Source sells top quality exercise equipment in its Ann Arbor and Novi stores. The Novi Running Fit and Fitness Source stores are located side by side in the Novi Town Center, next to Border's Bookstore.

The Ironman consists of 2.5-mile ocean swim, a 212-mile mountainous bike ride and a 26.2-mile marathon. Step completed all this in less than 11 hours.

Step will write articles with information he believes can change your life and make exercise a time of day you look forward to.

Home-buying program eases qualifications

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

A new financing program makes it possible for many low-and moderate-income families to acquire their own home.

The plan, called the Community Home Buyer's Program (CHBP), allows a qualified family to borrow up to 97 percent of the price of a home. For example, a $160,000 home or condo could be purchased with a down payment of only $4,800 plus closing costs. Those closing costs, including loan points, typically add up to about 2 percent of the loan amount, or $3,104 in the above example.

The innovative program concept was conceived by Fannie Mae, the large congressionally chartered organization that buys home mortgage loans from primary lenders. There are some restrictions. But it's a plan that's working for an increasing number of first-time and other home buyers.

Fannie Mae has allocated $10 billion for this and other mortgage loan programs for low-and moderate-income families for use through 1994.

For starters, the basic CHBP program provides a 15-year or 30-year fixed-rate mortgage for up to 95 percent of the home's purchase price. These loans require less family income to qualify and less cash for closing than a conventional mortgage loan.

Families cannot earn more than 120 percent of the median income in their area. The purchased home can be a single-family detached home, townhouse or condominium unit.

The program also allows for another interesting possibility called the "3/2 Option." This per-

HOME DESIGNS

The Madera is old-style country with modern interior

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

A wide wraparound porch, complete with railings and posts, gives the Madera the appeal of an old-style country home. But don't be fooled. The interior of this one-and-a-half-story home is totally contemporary.

Just inside the front door, a U-shape stairway with polished Colonial wood dowel posts and banister leads upstairs, visually separating the dining room from the family room. Due to its unconventional placement in the center of the room, a bridge at the top connects the stairway to the two upstairs bedrooms. The stairs and bridge create lofty perches for watching and joining the action below and are great for family announcements.

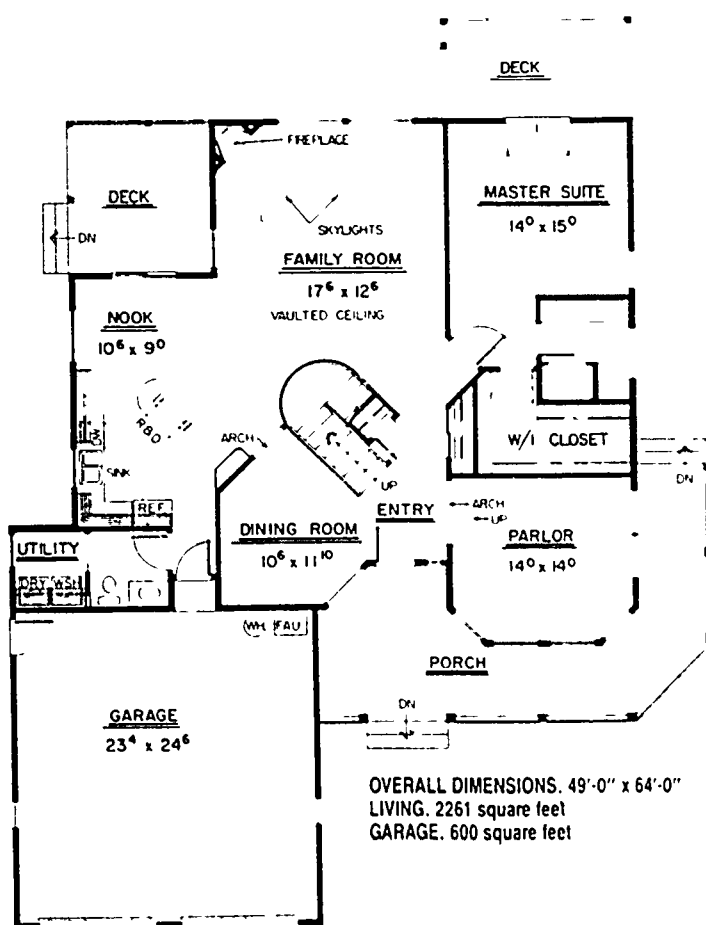

A Colonial fireplace and a long mantel for family photos and heirlooms is located off the large family room. Three walls of multi-paned windows flood the area with soft light.

The kitchen, nook and family room run together. Sliding-glass doors fill the nook with light and offer easy access to the wood deck for leisurely meals outside when the weather is inviting.

A small utility room is tucked behind a bathroom handy to the double garage as well as the house. The master suite has a large walk-in closet and a private deck for those sunny afternoons. The upstairs bedrooms share a bath. An extra vanity, which provides makeup space outside the bathroom, will be a sure hit with teens.

For a study plan of the Madera (400-04), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, c/o HomeTown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843.

PRIME CHOICE

Northville resident's decorating is featured in national publication

By Rick Byrne
Copy Editor

When it comes right down to it, your home really is your castle. And as such, you should have the freedom to decorate it any way you want.

The problem is that if you use the decorator at the store to help, you're more likely to get what the decorator wants than what you want. That's not to say that decorators don't care what you want. Most really do want to help you christen your castle.

The problem is that most are limited in what they can offer in terms of product lines.

That's why Dawn Buda of "Designer's Choice" figures she has an advantage over other decorators.

"We do everything," said Buda. "What we don't have here, we can get. People are not limited in their choices in working with us. It's not like going store, where you can only deal with what they've got. If you see something you like, we can get it for you."

A longtime Northville resident, Buda inherited her ideals from her father, who ran an interior design firm in Northville for 35 years.

"The business really started with my dad," she said. "He did wallpaper and drapery. At that time, I worked in wallpaper, and it kind of evolved as I went through school."

Buda took a stab at design school, but after a year and a half, she realized she was learning more by working in the field than she was in the classroom. So she went back to work, and 25 years later she's going stronger than ever.

So strong, in fact, that one of her recent designs was featured in a special edition of House Beautiful magazine called Home Building. The New York magazine, a Hearst publication, has a circulation of over a quarter of a million readers.

The eight-page color spread, which was shot nearly a year ago, took nearly a week to shoot. Home Building hit the newsstands in September, and is supposed to sell through December, although copies are getting hard to find already.

"It was really exciting, as a designer being featured in a magazine," said Buda. "It's still hard to believe it's in there, even though I'm proud of it and I think it's beautiful."

The featured home was one where the designer really got to strut her stuff. Beginning with only the floor plan of a 4,200-square-foot home which was being built in Northville, Buda discussed everything with the clients.

"It was two years in the making from the time we started to the time they moved in," she said.

During that time, Buda worked with carpenters, mits the buyer-borrower to put up only 3 percent of the purchase price. The other 2 percent can come from a non-profit government housing agency, or as a gift from friends or relatives.

These unsecured funds are sometimes called "sleepy seconds" by lenders. The extra 2 percent, added to the basic 95 percent-of-value loan, gives the buyer the opportunity to finance 97 percent of the purchase price.

To qualify, a family's total monthly housing expenses must be no more than 33 percent of monthly family income. And total obligations (payments of all kinds) can be no more than 40 percent of income.

Before a buyer can be accepted for the special program, he must be given a three-hour training course. This covers such basic but important things as selecting the right home, explaining the loan process and budgeting to meet payments and home maintenance costs.

The Community Home Buyer's Program is a very creative and workable plan," said Scott Husted, a mortgage banker. "Its concept is quite unique in that it's offered as a partnership between banks, mortgage insurance companies and Fannie Mae."

The program's basic purpose is to provide affordable home ownership for local residents. It offers a good opportunity for many people who thought they could never save enough to buy a home.

It should be noted that these high-ratio mortgage loans must be covered by private mortgage insurance.

To qualify, a family's total monthly housing expenses must be no more than 33 percent of monthly family income. And total obligations can be no more than 40 percent of income.

This involves an upfront cost as well as premium payments each month with mortgage principal-interest payments.

9. I recently heard that the growing vacation ownership industry has a healthy impact on our environment. What's the reasoning for this?

A. The mere fact of being a vacation unit owner—full owner or time-share owner—is an encouragement not to behave like a casual visitor, it was pointed out in Vacation Ownership Review magazine, a trade publication of Worldex Corp.

"A vacation unit owner is more likely to take care of his unit and related environment where he hopes to enjoy vacations for years to come," it said. Worldex Corp., based in Miami, also owns and operates Interval International, a major vacation exchange network.

9. Are first-time home buyers still being squeezed out of the market by high prices and tough financing requirements?

A. The percentage of total home sales that involve a first-time buyer is growing. Currently, first-time purchases account for about 38 percent of national home sales. While high prices discourage many step-up buyers (existing homeowners seeking a bigger and better home), first-time buyers are actively taking advantage of lowering prices in many areas and extremely low mortgage interest rates and favorable terms.

builders and wallpaper hangers to create the complete home. The result is elegant, yet homey.

"It's very country French, with an understated elegance," said Buda. "And it's very colorful. The only thing they limited me to was color, and I am a colorful designer, so they were very good clients. There are mauves, blues, teals, greens and raspberries. It all flows nicely from room to room, and complements very nicely."

"It was a fun home to work on."

Entering the home takes a visitor through a large and gracious foyer, and a separate dining room for formal occasions. There is a large living room suitable for both small gatherings and large parties, and access to the deck through French doors. The living room and kitchen are joined by a see-through fireplace.

"It's not just one type of design throughout," said Buda. "You can go in and think five designers worked on this home instead of just one."

But with or without an eight-page spread in House Beautiful, the effort would be a total loss if it didn't satisfy the clients.

"The home reflects them; that's what's most important," said Buda. "I couldn't have picked better people to work for."

Designer's Choice has been in business since 1984, and though 95 percent of the company's customers have come through referrals, a recent move from Northville to Plymouth has allowed expansion and flexibility.

"I grew up in Northville, and I've been there all my life," Buda said. "There were some problems with city planning, or we'd still be in Northville. I still operate on an appointment-only basis in my home in Northville, but our retail store is in Plymouth."

"We do welcome new customers. With a nice staff of three designers, we can handle more people. But even these designers keep busy with customers referred to them."

There's a full-service studio and some fine displays of quality merchandise. Items can be purchased there without hiring a designer. Nearly everything is sold at about a 25-percent discount.

ANTIQUES

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a love seat that was given to me. Can you provide some information about its age and value?

A. You have a very fine example of an early Victorian love seat made in the third quarter of the 19th century. It would probably sell for $1,000 to $1,200 in good condition.

Q. This mark is on the bottom of a brown pitcher decorated with clusters of grapes and leaves. It is 12 inches high and has a twig handle. Can you tell me anything about its origin and value?

A. This mark was used by Job Meigh & Son in Hanley, England, between 1805 and 1834. "Vintage" is the name of the pattern. It would probably sell for $325 to $335.

Q. Please evaluate my Wallace Nutting print, copyright 1909. It measures 12 inches by 15 inches and depicts a rural scene. The title is "An Eventful Journey."

A. The value of this hand-colored photograph in good condition and unframed would be at least $400.

Q. We have a railroad lantern with a clear glass globe marked "The Northwestern Line." The tin frame is marked "Adlake Reliable." What can you tell me about this find?

A. Your lantern was made by the Adlake Co. in Chicago for the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railroad. It dates back to the turn of the century and might sell for $225 to $235.

Q. We have found a very unusual silver napkin ring. It is mounted on wheels and is being pulled by a goat. The mark is "Meriden Britannia Co." Please tell me everything you can about this.

A. This silver-plated novelty was made in Meriden, Conn., during the late 1800s. Figural napkin rings are extremely popular with collectors. Some similar to yours have sold for up to $300.

Q. Somebody told me that anything marked "Made in Occupied Japan" is collectible. I have a tea set consisting of teapot, creamer, sugar bowl and six cups and saucers. It is decorated with flowers. Is this worth anything?

A. Items marked "Made in Occupied Japan" were made between 1945 and 1952 and have become very popular with collectors. Your tea set would sell in the $100 to $125 range in good condition and no pieces missing.

Spectacular surroundings and luxury homes make Oxford Estates a must find in Farmington Hills

Some of the biggest news in the suburban development scene is the recent introduction of Oxford Estates, an exclusive new 73 home community nestled among 40 wooded acres in Farmington Hills.

Oxford Estates features lovely custom designed homes in a variety of floor plans including ranches, 1 1/2 & 2 story homes from three of Michigan's most prominent builders - Encore Custom Homes, Kimron Construction and The Selective Group - all of whom are well known for their quality construction and dedication to detail.

When we began looking for a home we were immediately drawn to Oxford Estates - said Sam Pinkerton a pharmacist and drugstore owner. The homes here are extremely well built and that was our primary concern in buying a home. Everything at Oxford Estates is first rate. And of course we were very impressed with the natural beauty of the property.

What helps set Oxford Estates apart from other communities is indeed the beauty of its property. Its lush wooded areas, ponds, hills and ravines are among the last of its kind and are protected by the City of Farmington Hills Woodlands Committee.

What really caught our eye was the landscape at Oxford Estates - said Joanne Tolstedt, a resident of Oxford Estates whose husband is a Ford Motor Company executive. We've relocated many times and this is by far the most beautiful place we've lived. Here you can take a walk in the woods right in your own backyard. We also like the fact that Oxford Estates isn't too large of a community, there's a special feeling of intimacy here. We've enjoyed getting to know our neighbors -- many of whom are transplants like us - added Tolstedt.

While offering a secluded feel, Oxford Estates is centrally located near shopping centers, restaurants and excellent Farmington Hills schools--including new Hillside Elementary. There is also a variety of recreational spots -- from clubs to theatres -- located conveniently nearby.

Living here really is having the best of both worlds," said Wendy Bratt, sales coordinator of Oxford Estates. You're able to take advantage of living in a lovely, new home in an old, heavily treed, private setting. In fact, many of our homes are built on cul-de-sac lots which help add to the feeling of privacy here.

Homes in Oxford Estates range in price from $300,000 to $500,000 in an area of homes that are priced in excess of $1,000,000. Two model homes have been decorated by Harriet Brandt of Candle Lite II Interiors and are currently on display.

"Designing Women" at their new store in Milford are (l-r) Terry McNeiece, Jayne Kelly and Peggy Studzinski

They've got clothing designs on you

By PAMELA DEAR
Special Writer

"Who has the time to go to the dry cleaners? Women are looking for easy care," said Jayne Kelly. Kelly is founder of Designing Women-Fashion Architects, a ladies' casual apparel boutique located at 239 N. Main in downtown Milford. The shop opened Oct. 18 of this year.

"We offer casual clothes that can cross over to the evening," Kelly said. "Pretty much we are gearing ourselves toward easy care and washable clothing. We have washable knits and washable rayons and washable silks, getting a more dresser look into the shop."

"We will do what needs to be done to accommodate your sizing needs," Kelly emphasized. "Fifty percent of our customers are able to fit into what we've got and take it out of the store and the other 50 percent are so excited they don't have to accept this fit as it is and we'll custom order it for them."

Designing Women stocks merchandise in sizes S through XL and will custom-make sizes XS to XXXL. It manufactures its own line of clothing under the label Body Socks. In fact, Designing Women is a division of Body Socks Inc., a Howell-based wholesale company which has been owned for the last five years by Kelly, the wife of a physician and mother of three sons. Judy Spalding has worked for the company for about four years, creating clothing designs and, more recently, Anne Wilk, who has designing experience with several companies in Chicago, has joined the staff.

"We started out doing fashionable sweats, and it snowballed from there, bringing in dressier knits," Kelly said. "I had an exercise company and because I lived in Howell and we were in a rural area, there was a need to provide clothing to my classes as well as myself so I could run around doing my errands to and from class and look somewhat pulled together. It just came as a result of that."

Body Socks Inc. is presently located in a converted home, but the company will soon move into a building in the downtown sector of Howell. The new location at 108 E. Grand River Ave. will open Dec. 2, with the manufacturing and business headquarters located on the upper level and the boutique on the lower level.

"I felt that because I had a personal sewing background, why not offer sizing for people, and if we know something is going to shrink, why not preshrink it, or else cut it so if it's laundered it will still fit the person so their monies aren't wasted," Kelly said. "Women can come in and say, 'I love this pair of pants. I don't want pockets. I need an extra couple of inches in length, and I'd like it in this fabric,' and we'll do it."

Kelly shares ownership of the business with Terry McNeiece and Peggy Studzinski. McNeiece, a Howell resident and mother of five children, maintains all the books while Studzinski, a Dearborn resident and mother of one daughter, will soon assume the managerial position at the Milford location. Studzinski has an extensive retail background with work experience at Saks and Lord & Taylor.

Kelly, McNeiece and Studzinski feel that Designing Women is unique because it offers some special features to its customers. For example, the shop provides group outfitting, which is dressing small or large groups that require a coordinated look.

"We've done professional offices who are looking for something as an alternative to a uniform look," Kelly said. "We've also done large choruses like the Sweet Adelines, where they have 85 members who need color coordinates so they can be identified as a group when they travel."

"It's really convenient for them be-

Money Management

Start planning now for early retirement

If you dream of calling it quits before the traditional retirement age of 65, you'd better start planning early, advises the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

The first step is calculating how much money you will need in retirement. A rule of thumb is that you will require about 70 percent of your current gross income to maintain the standard of living you now enjoy.

How will you obtain that 70 percent goal? The keystones of most people's retirement plans are Social Security, an employer pension, Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA), Keoghs, 401(k) plans and personal investments.

If you plan to retire early, you should be aware that the youngest age at which you can collect Social Security is 62. You should also know that your age at retirement affects the size of your Social Security benefit. If you begin to collect at 62, your monthly check will be permanently set at 80 percent of the full benefit. You receive your full benefits only if you wait until you are age 65 or older to retire.

The maximum monthly benefit a retired worker could expect to receive in 1991 is $1,022. For an estimate of how much you can expect to receive in your monthly benefit check, call the Social Security Administration at 800-234-5772 and ask for Form SS-7004, the Request for Earnings and Benefits Estimate Statement.

Pension payments vary from company to company. To get an idea of how much you can expect to receive when you retire, you should ask your company benefits counselor to figure this amount for you based on the job tenure you anticipate.

Another important source of retirement income will be one of the tax-favored investment vehicles — including IRAs, Keoghs, and 401(k) plans. Although IRAs no longer provide a tax deduction for everyone, they still allow you to defer taxes on interest or dividend income in your plan. Keogh plans provide similar tax advantages for the self-employed.

CPAs recommend employees take full advantage of 401(k) plans whenever possible. The salary you contribute reduces your current taxable income and tax is deferred on investment earnings. Bear in mind that IRAs, Keoghs and 401(k) plans all come with stringent withdrawal restrictions that discourage you from suddenly deciding to use your retirement savings to take a long vacation. Your retirement nest egg grows quicker in these tax-favored investment plans since the earnings in these accounts are not taxed until withdrawn.

When you add up your Social Security benefits, company pension amounts, and personal savings, you'll probably realize why the dream of an early retirement often remains just that — a dream. But with a careful plan that includes a lot of saving and some sacrifices during your working years, it can be done.

Prior to joining CCS, Slack served as Executive Director of the University Cultural Center Association (UCCA) where she had complete responsibility for an organization dedicated to physical development, maintenance and promotion of Detroit's cultural center. Before that, Slack was director of the Neighborhood Organization and Development, in Detroit.

"I am pleased to remain in the (University) Cultural Center, the area I consider. In every way, the heart of Detroit and I look forward to this new opportunity and challenge at a great institution," said Slack. She will be responsible for non-academic administrative functions at CCS, reporting directly to Dr. Kelsey.

PATRICIA C. BOSS of Northville, leadership consultant and executive director of Michigan Association of Student Councils, has been named field director for Michigan. She joins 56 other educators from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands as a part of an educational network to assist the Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans in the implementation of its scholarship program which awards over $300,000 annually to outstanding high school seniors.

Founded in 1947, the association, whose members represent all professions in American society, seeks to identify students who exemplify the traits of the character in the novels of Horatio Alger — integrity, determination, perseverance, initiative, and hard work — in overcoming adversity in their lives. These students are designated National Scholars and receive $5,000 scholarships to assist with their education at the university or college of their choice. In addition, the scholars are guests of the association at its black-tie gala held in Washington, D.C., in the spring.

Chosen because of her dedication to the education and welfare of students, concern for the encouragement and inspiration of young people, and confidence that, indeed, young people can make a difference by participation in public and community service, Pat Boss will assist the Association in strengthening its Youth Seminar series in Michigan.

Boss is a nationally known leadership consultant who brings to both staff and students an understanding of the skills and process of learning to be a leader. She was a classroom teacher for over 25 years and recently accepted the position of Acting Director of the Michigan Association of Student Councils. The latter organization is an affiliate cause it is difficult for 85 women to find a store which has sizes from extra small to 3XL."

'Designing Women' suits anyone

The boutique also carries a line of costume jewelry and accessories which are especially designed by color and materials to complement the clothing. Carolyn Easton of Fowlerville and Janey Payne of Milford are two of the artists on staff. Purse-maker Cindy Cole customizes purses in different styles and sizes with a choice of fabrics, which again can complement the outfits.

Aside from the Body Socks label, Sundance, a line of denim clothing made in Texas, is stocked in the shop. Jackets, coats and jeans are available in several colors. Kelly said that the jackets are quite popular.

Designing Women also maintains a gift record for women who want to come in and list their sizes. "During the year when someone else wants to come in and shop for her, we know exactly what she needs, size-wise," Kelly said.

The store also sponsors a frequent shopper plan. Once a customer has spent $150, she can buy a frequent shopper card for a $10 fee and then the subsequent purchases for the next year will be discounted 15 percent. This card is renewable.

Despite the sluggish economy, the partners are optimistic about their enterprise. "People can't afford to spend a lot of money on their clothing and then have it not last for them or not fit properly," Kelly said. "Even though there are already several ladies' stores in Milford, I think our service is different enough that we can complement one another with what we offer."

"I'm really excited," McNeice said. She mentioned that she likes the line of clothing so much that she has used some of the patterns for her school-age children.

"Attitude is everything," Studzinski remarked. "We have a good product, offer excellent service and a smile will go a long way." Studzinski said that many of the customers are re-orders and referrals which, she feels, indicates that customers are satisfied with the comfortable, washable and casual clothes. "It's hard for moms to invest in a casual wardrobe. Our clothes are a reasonable investment," she said.

"Our customers are at an advantage because, since we manufacture our own goods, we have eliminated a lot of the middle men," Kelly said. "We can keep our prices in a more affordable range." According to Kelly, a three-piece knit ensemble with pants, skirt and cardigan can be purchased in the $90 to $100 price range.

Riverbridge: aglow with seasonal flair

THERE'S NO place like Homearama for the holidays. From Dec. 6-22, the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan (BASM) will spotlight 13 individually designed new homes — all decorated for the holidays — in Riverbridge subdivision in Novi.

The fully furnished and landscaped homes are priced at approximately $200,000 to $250,000.

Top southeast Michigan architects, builders, designers and landscapers have incorporated the latest features in style, convenience, construction and energy efficiency in these homes — new ideas that visitors can include in their own home construction and remodeling plans.

The subdivision — east of Novi Road, south of Nine Mile — is being developed by Herbert Lawson of West Bloomfield.

BASM is sponsoring Homearama Holiday 1991 in cooperation with co-sponsors Detroit Edison, Standard Federal Bank and Consumers Power.

THIS NINTH annual showcase of new homes allows "the public to see the latest concepts in architectural design and interior decoration, all in one place," said James Bonadeo, president of BASM and Bonadeo Builders in Plymouth. "We think having it during the holiday season provides another delightful incentive to attend."

"In addition to installing holiday decorations, each builder has worked with an architect, an interior designer and a landscaper to beautifully accent every home," said Dennis Dickstein, Homearama Holiday 1991 chairman and president of Ralph Manuel Realtors, Birmingham and Farmington Hills.

"Each home is distinctive and each contains exclusive features that provide great ideas in lifestyle, design, construction materials and techniques, and energy conservation," he added.

Adding to the festivities, Homearama will feature holiday transportation from parking areas to the homes.

Two 30-foot-long red buses, decorated inside and out, will shuttle visitors in heated comfort. Dubbed Holly Trolley and Jolly Trolley, the buses will travel up and down the subdivision streets, picking up people near their cars and taking them to the box office. After touring the homes, visitors can ride back to their cars.

Weekday parking will be on nearby streets to avoid concern about muddy areas. On weekends, parking also will be available in the paved lots of businesses near the subdivision.

TO ADD more color to the setting, 1,300 strings of holiday lights will glow throughout the area. The lights were donated by the Detroit Zoological Society, which will have a booth exhibit on display at Homearama.

Standard Federal Bank provided construction funds for the 13 model homes.

"With home mortgage interest rates at a 13-year low, this is a great time for families to shop for a new home," said

Ice sculpture helps add wintertime spirit to tour

By Susan Buck
staff writer

READY FOR a break in the Homearama tour? Walk over to the holiday ice sculpture display across from the concession stand, midway along the Homearama tour route.

That's where Doug Cecil and Mark Garmo made their wintertime visions into Homearama reality.

Cecil, who owns Classic Outdoor Development, Madison Heights, and his associate, Garmo, owner of Artistic Land Sculptors, Southfield, have designed the ice sculpture display with landscaping.

This is a first-of-a-kind project for Homearama.

"This year's Homearama is centered around a holiday theme," Cecil said. "Our intentions are to get people into the holiday spirit and show them that the winter months can be just as beautiful as spring."

Homearama Holiday 1991 is the first Homearama held around the holiday season. "This left the door open to new ideas and a refreshing change," Cecil said. "Our display took hard work, patience and the dedication of our combined companies."

THE MEN have more than 15 years' experience working together in the trade. Cecil used to run trade shows and has worked at five other Homearamas.

Rosalie Lamb, senior staff vice-president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, Farmington Hills, invited Cecil to provide this year's ice display. "We're not a fly-by-night company," Cecil said.

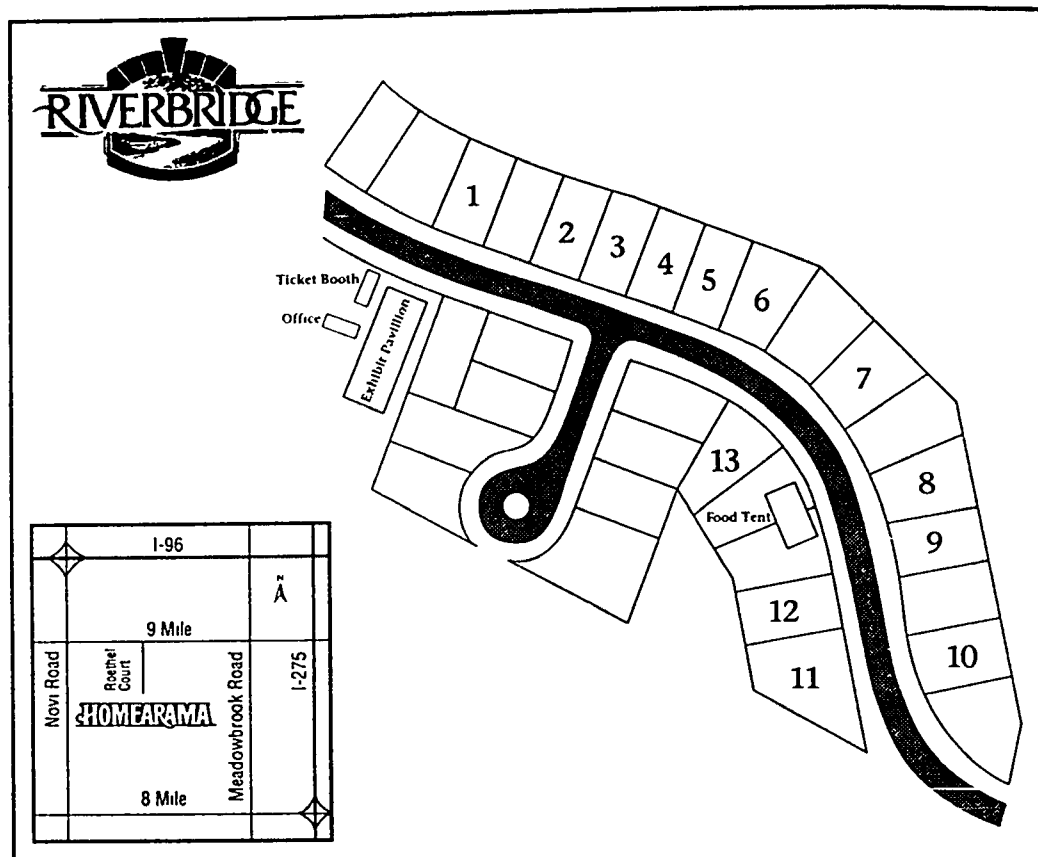

Added Garmo: "It's difficult to find a good reputable company."

From the onset, Cecil and Garmo set out to keep some of the details of the display a surprise. "We want to keep part a mystery," Cecil said.

"We'll have evergreens and deciduous (plants)," Garmo said. "I'll help with installation of the interlocking paving stones."

3 builders each unveil 2 houses

WHY MOVE, improve." For years that was the motto of Fairway Custom Homes in Southfield, which held the patent on the dormer for 17 years, said Adam Helfman, vice president.

Now Helfman, a recent Michigan State University graduate in the building and construction program, wants to see the family name of the four-generation business back in the limelight as a new home builder.

The company, founded in 1926, began building new homes after World War II. Remodeling was later added. "I'm the youngest builder with the oldest company (in Homearama)," said Helfman, 23.

Unhappy homeowners, seeking home improvement, have continually aired their gripes to Fairway Custom Homes. The houses these homeowners bought just never seemed to have the desired look. So they sought solutions from Fairway.

After years of listening to what's wrong or lacking in houses, Helfman decided to build two new model homes for this year's Homearama where specifications are just what the customer ordered.

"We've learned what customers want," Helfman said. "We're showing what complete construction we can do. Why not make a statement?"

The Bellevista, a Cape Cod model by Fairway priced at $249,900-$279,900, is already sold. The great room features a see-through fireplace, a large French door and a circle-top window. The master bedroom is on the first floor.

"The Landon" by Fairway is priced at $209,900-$239,900, and is for sale. The laundry room is on the upstairs level, a request his company has increasingly heard from some homeowners, Helfman said.

HELFMAN, AS well as Lawrence Cohen of Cohen Associates Inc., West Bloomfield, and Tom Schroder of Cornerstone Building Inc., Novi, all are displaying two homes in this year's Homearama.

Cohen, a West Bloomfield resident, participated in Homearama in West Bloomfield two years ago. He has 24 lots available in Riverbridge. "I've watched that area for so many years," Cohen said.

He's impressed with the Novi school system and that the subdivision is "not more than a walk to downtown Northville. "It's a delightful area," said Cohen, who often browses in downtown Northville.

Cohen's two Homearama homes are Aspen II, a Tudor, priced at $195,000 to $234,000, and Collingwood II, a traditional country home, priced at $200,000-$234,000.

The Collingwood II's master bedroom and adjoining master bedroom make a separate, private "home within a home" suite. The master bathroom offers a separate shower with two wall seats for togetherness, and a built-in tub.

Cohen has built in the Woods of Novi subdivision, at 13 Mile and Decker, where pricier homes are found.

"The market is a pyramid," Cohen said. "It's very important to stay in the $180,000-$190,000 area to reach a much broader spectrum of people. Our economy has been struggling since Operation Desert Shield."

Elevations people favor were studied when Cohen planned the Aspen II, a Tudor home that features a spacious family room with oak flooring that extends from the kitchen through the foyer, hall and powder room.

"We've done custom homes up to $1 million," Cohen said. "We all get tired doing the same home. These (Homearama homes) are move-up homes, not starter homes."

Homearama homes are completely decorated. Cohen's homes will even have shoes in the closet. Lots in Riverbridge subdivision are basically 70 feet wide with some as deep as 200 feet, Cohen said.

TOM SCHRODER of Cornerstone Building, Inc., Novi, presents The Carrington, a colonial, priced at $236,000-$256,900, and The Wellington, a contemporary ranch, priced at $209,000-$216,900. Both are already sold.

Among many features, The Carrington has a first-floor library with a fireplace. The spacious upstairs bedroom opens to a walk-out "Juliette" balcony.

Dryvit, which covers The Carrington's exterior, has an additional R-10 insulation value and needs no maintenance. The material has been used commercially and in the southern residential market, Schroder said.

The Wellington's foyer has a 12-foot, diamond-shaped, vaulted ceiling.

Schroder takes great pride in his custom homebuilding, which includes lakefront homes.

His Homearama homes were pre-sold before building. "We're not a mass producer," Schroder said. "We spend more personal time with customers. We rarely build the same house twice. Our homes are very, very different."

Thomas Ricketts, chairman and president.

"These beautiful homes will feature the latest in natural gas technology and energy conservation measures, including natural gas heat, appliances and other conveniences that prospective homeowners often want as part of their purchase," said Tim Warner, Consumers Power Metro Region marketing and sales manager.

A plan book highlighting each home is included in the admission to Homearama Holiday 1991.

Builders showcase their newest ideas

By Susan Buck
staff writer

AFFORDABLE HOUSING. Move-up housing. Just a couple of terms Homearama builders are using this year to describe their model homes in Novi's Riverbridge subdivision, south of Nine Mile, east of Novi Road. The homes are in the $200,000-$280,000 price range.

Stephen Taglione, president of the BBC Group Inc., Farmington Hills, is making his first-time entry into Homearama with The Premier, a traditional home priced at $229,000-$254,000.

"The theme this time is affordable housing," Taglione said. "The entries are priced at $250,000 and below. It's more in step with our largest market of $200,000 and below. Our market has not been as difficult as others to sell in. Novi is one of the strongest areas to sell in."

Taglione stressed that The Premier's price reflects the total cost, including landscaping.

This model has a California theme, decorated with teal, salmon and coral colors with bleached/pickled oak. The model is being reproduced in Canton Township, Sterling Heights, Riverview, Woodhaven and Pittsfield.

Features include a two-story foyer with open staircase and a step-up master bedroom. "Buyers want a good family home with amenities in the home making it a pleasurable place for family and entertaining," Taglione said.

Today's home shopper values a large kitchen and family room but still wants a formal area for entertaining, Taglione said.

DAN BARTON, who lives and works in Canton, serves as project manager of D & J Property Development Co., Canton.

He's making his debut as a Homearama builder at the invitation of developer Herbert Lawson. "At first I laughed," Barton said. "I didn't consider myself that caliber of builder."

Builders share ideas

Barton was humbled by Lawson's invitation and a 100 percent "go for it" response by his family, coworkers, colleagues and mentors.

Barton's Homearama home, Victorian Rose, is a Victorian ranch priced at $250,000-$280,000. His homes have ranged from $60,000 to $500,000.

"The whole house is a paradox of Victorian and modern," Barton said.

Oak and cherrywood highlight the house.

Just as Victorian-era builders left their own distinctive thumbprint in homes they completed, Barton did the same with an inlaid rose design in the oak floor of the Victorian Rose's octagonal-shaped parlor.

He wants this rose to be his trademark in future homes. "Wherever you stand and look in the house, in any direction, it looks like the petals are spread," Barton said.

This home features a Victorian-style, pull-chain water closet, pedestal sink and claw-foot bathtub.

Barton's wife, Jan, is in charge of the interior decorating. Lots are negotiable in Riverbridge for reproducing Victorian Rose, billed as highly energy and maintenance efficient, Barton said.

Late next summer, Barton plans to build in a Canton subdivision located south of Hanford, west of Canton Center Road.

ENTERTAINING IS a snap with plenty of elbow room to spare in The Northshore by Kevin Biondo of Biondo Designers and Builders, Northville. The home is priced at $240,000-$250,000.

The Northshore features an open floor plan with a wet bar in the great room, which also has a fireplace.

The master suite has a double opening, see-through gas fireplace, open to both the bedroom and the Jacuzzi in the master bath.

Biondo has converted a third bedroom into a study with a view of the angled stone fireplace in the great room.

Among Homearama builders this year, Biondo started out most recently — four years ago, said Nancy Rosen of Stone, August, Baker Communications Companies, Troy.

But in that span, he has built in Livonia, Northville, Birmingham, South Lyon, Grosse Ile and Farmington Hills.

CRAIG CORBELL of Michigan Custom Homebuilders Group, Inc., Livonia, features, Morgan II, a colonial priced at $220,000-$250,000.

The home features covered and uncovered decks, a side-entry garage, a "walk-out" lower level, and a hip roof with cedar shake style shingles.

The great room includes a two-story fireplace with raised hearth and a full wall of glass overlooking a ravine.

"This home was done on spec," said Corbell, a first-time Homearama participant. "It incorporates all features people wanted in this price range with a traditional interior that is timeless. It's definitely a move-up house."

The home can be duplicated with three, four or five bedrooms.

Corbell, who builds to suit, is willing to build anywhere. He's had new home construction in Clarkston, Commerce, Novi, Plymouth, Northville and Dearborn.

LEO SOAVE of Leo Soave Building Co. Inc., Livonia, combines practicality with luxury. His Cape Cod home, The Villager, priced at $225,000, features convenient traffic patterns.

A first-floor laundry is just steps away from the kitchen, which is steps away from the great room. The master bathroom features an oversize separate shower with a seat and a whirlpool bath.

"There's a lot of living space in a Cape Cod," said Maria Soave, the builder's wife, who handled the interior design. "Parents want a whole retreat area."

The Villager has a video monitoring system, a stereo system throughout the house and a central vacuum system.

The Soaves live in one of two homes Leo built for the 1987 Homearama in Livonia's Deer Creek subdivision.

Her husband still maintains contact with people he built homes for years ago in the Seven Mile-Middlebelt area, Maria said.

"He doesn't do whole subdivisions," she said.

THE BAYBROOKE, by Bob Halso, president of Pulte Homes of Michigan, Royal Oak, is priced at $190,000-$220,000. Halso is in charge of the company's national headquarters in Michigan. The company now operates in 17 states.

"This is the first time Pulte has been involved in a Homearama," said Deen Hyde, Pulte's marketing director. "We're usually under the (Homearama) price ranges."

The Baybrooke features a "live-in" type kitchen with enough space for a love seat so "you can enjoy what's happening," Hyde said.

The master bathroom has a vaulted ceiling, a gas fireplace with marble surround and a large closet. The laundry room is upstairs.

Pulte is also building homes in Canton, Rochester Hills, Lake Orion and Northville. "We're not spot builders," Hyde said.

Paul Dyhdalo of Dailer Corp., Warren, presents The Riviera, priced at $189,000-$209,000.

The split colonial features an open, transitional floor plan. The great room has a corner marble fireplace.

Daimler has built homes in Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield and Farmington Hills.

Ice sculpture

supplying the ice sculptor, Cecil said.

"The ice is 18 feet in length," Cecil said. "It will be put in a glass-sided trailer."

The sculpture, featuring Santa Claus, his sled, six reindeer and pine trees, forms the backdrop of the display. Brick paving stones form the perimeter, with a sculpted candy cane hedge lining one side.

"THE THING we are doing has never been done before," Cecil said. "The sculpture will be done on site either by student or professional ice carvers."
