Drew Barrymore alive and sober

LET STALK

By Taylor Michaels

Q: The word is that Drew Barrymore is dead!!! I don't believe it! Can you verify this one way or the other? —Ann McBain, Sun City, Ariz.

A: She is not dead. The rumor no doubt springs from her much publicized battle with drugs and alcohol. Barrymore, however, has so far been successful in her fight.

Q: I would like to know the address of an old friend. His name is Jeremy London. He plays the eldest son on I'll Fly Away. We went to middle school together. Jeremy also has a twin brother, Jason, who plays in a movie that's coming out called The Man in the Moon. I have not seen the two since the seventh grade, and I am now a freshman in college! I would just like to write them both and tell them how proud I am. --Miam Wade, Greenville, N.C.

A: At this time, I don't have an address for Jason, but you can write Jeremy c/o I'll Fly Away, NBC, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y., 10112. show is set to air in February. After the show ends, Anderson will try his hand at producing and plans to serve as the honorary captain of the United States Olympic hockey team.

Q: Will you please send me an address for Magic Johnson? I am one of his biggest fans. —Katie Barnes, Milledgeville, Ga.

A: Write Johnson c/o Los Angeles Lakers, P.O. Box 10, loglewood, Calif., 90306. Even though Johnson retired from the Lakers after his announcenent that he was HIV-positive, you can still write him there.

Q: Our question is: What is Goofy? Is he a horse or a dog? My dad says Goofy_ is a horse or mule. I say he is a dog. Who is right? —John Catterson, Buffalo, Kan.

A: I checked with Cindy Krett at Buena Vista Studios, and she said Goofy is "a dog in man's clothing." Your dad, depending on how old he is, could be thinking of Horace Horsecaller, a character who was popular 40 or 50 years ago. Another bit of interesting cartoon trivia: All of Disney's talking animals wear white gloves. That includes the old standbys, like Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, and the newer ones, like Roger Rabbit. Roger Rabbit, by the way, is a big fan of Goofy and considers his the epitome of comedic timing.

Q: I recently saw Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves, starring Kevin Costner. Who played the part of King Richard? He appeared in the last few moments of the film. I didn't see the part listed in the credits ... is this what is known as a cameo role? I believe it was Sean Connery. I have $5 riding on this bet. --Cathy B., Vt.

A: A cameo is a brief and often unbilled film appearance by a wellknown star. It is sometimes done for a comedic effect but is usually done for box office reasons. And yes, it was Sean Connery. Congratulations on winning

Q: My daughter and I are big fans of Richard Dean Anderson. We watch MacGyver every single day. My daughter even cries when he gets hurt on the show. Could you please tell us his address? —S. and G. Williams, Watkins Glen, N.Y.

A: You would not believe how many letters I get asking about Anderson! I must give out his address every two weeks. But since you're such fans, and I wouldn't want to disappoint your daughter, you can write Anderson c/o MacGyver, Paramount Domestic Television, 5555 Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., 90038. But you'd better hurry ... the last episode of the the bet!
