

PTA group plans town meeting on ballot issues

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

With the general election creeping around the corner, taxpayers may be thirsty for information about tax relief proposals on the ballot.

Northville's Legislative Action Network, a subcommittee of the PTA, hopes to quench the community's thirst for facts by hosting Wednesday night's Town Meeting at the high school Forum.

LAN, which formed last spring with the sole purpose of studying legislative issues that affect the schools, is welcoming a panel of experts to the meeting to discuss Proposals A and C on the ballot as well as the O/K proposal, which is not on the ballot but is being circulated by petition.

On hand to discuss Proposal A, the House Joint Resolution-H proposal, will be Scott Schrage, senior committee analyst of the House Taxation Committee. State Treasurer Douglas B. Roberts will be there to explain Gov. John Engler's "Cut and Cap" concept, which is noted as Proposal C on the ballot. David Olmstead from the Detroit School Board will also address the Olmstead/Kearney (O/K) Proposal. That proposal is not on the ballot but is being circulated by petition and could appear on a future ballot.

Proposal A seeks to limit property tax assessment increases to 5 percent per year or the rate of inflation, whichever is less. Under HJR-H, homes would be re-evaluated to reflect their actual market value when they are sold.

Proposal C calls for a 30 percent cut in school property taxes. The cut would be phased in over the next five years. Under Engler's plan, the state would reimburse the schools for the tax cut, and property assessment increases would be capped at 3 percent per year or at the rate of inflation, which ever is less.

According to Lynda Baca, chairperson of LAN, each expert will have 15 minutes to present and explain his proposal in detail. After that, audience members will have an opportunity to submit written questions, some of which will be posed to the panel members.

Baca said the League of Women Voters was asked to moderate the meeting but declined because the organization has joined with Advance Michigan, a statewide group formally opposing both proposals A and C.

Even though LAN has evaluated both ballot proposals and has made statements in Northville's school newsletter that say each would have a negative impact on Northville schools, the Town Meeting is designed to be an objective forum for information on the proposals.

"The thrust of the evening is objectivity," Baca said. "Even though we have concerns about all of the proposals, we hope people will use the information from the meeting to make informed decisions that reflect their personal finances and priorities."

The Town Meeting will be taped by Omnicom cable television. It is scheduled to play on Omnicom channel 15, serving Northville Township and City, at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 22, 4 p.m. Oct. 29, and 5:30 p.m. Oct. 31. In the City of Novi, it will be cablecast on Metrovision at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27 and at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 28 from 1-3 p.m.

Soccer night in Northville

Soccer continues to be an extremely popular sport in Northville, from the Pee-Wee leagues on up through the high school level. On page 6-A, we take a look at one representative game at the little league level, showing the action and emotion when Team United met the Stompers. Above, United's Dave Gian gets a kick out of stopping a goal in pregame warmups.

Paying to play doesn't stop any programs

Last Friday's deadline for high school pay-to-participate fees wraps up the district's successful rookie attempt at instituting such a program.

Once the deadline passed, school administrators were pleased to find all fall sports and co-curricular activities in full swing district-wide.

Administrators report that participation levels at both middle schools and at the high school have met their minimum requirements, despite the pay-to-participate fees instituted at the onset of the school year.

That's good news for school officials, who feared that the School Board's decision last week to exempt 108 National Honor Society students from the fee requirement could have put the rest of the high school's pay-to-play program in jeopardy. But that fear was calmed shortly after school administrators realized that exempt-

Flooding case returns to BZA

By STEVE KELLMAN

Give her an "A" in persistence. Novi homeowner Laura Lorenzo's latest move in her long-running dispute with the City of Northville was a Sept. 21 end run around the City Council.

The move has scored her a second hearing before the city's Board of Zoning Appeals, which on July 1 denied her first request to overturn city approval of culverts in the Pheasant Hills subdivision. Lorenzo blames those culverts for flooding on her Galway Drive property.

Lorenzo, who had planned on taking her complaint to Circuit Court, said she was shocked when the BZA approved her request for another hearing.

"I was just doing that as a formality," she said Friday. "I was advised legally that before I can take this to court, the courts want you to have tried every avenue possible because they don't want to clog up the system."

Lorenzo certainly cannot be accused of dragging her feet in seeking relief.

For two years, she has argued her case against the city and Singh Development Co., builder of the Pheasant Hills subdivision. Along the way she has enlisted the aid of officials from the state Department of Natural Resources, Federal Emergency Management Agency and others.

The dispute has generated reams of paperwork, including letters from various state and federal officials who support, at least in part, Lorenzo's charges.

The city's position, in turn, has been supported by its legal firm and the Oakland County Drain Commission. City engineers at McNeely & Lincoln have spent more than $8,000 on survey work, hydraulic and hydrological modeling, and correspondence with the various state and federal agencies that have become involved in the dispute, and found that the Pheasant Hills design followed "responsible engineering practice." McNeely & Lincoln's work was summarized in a 127-page report delivered to the council in January.

Lorenzo's repeated appearances before the City Council and demands on city staff members drove the council in August to vote against spending any more time on her complaint. The council's decision was outlined in a Sept. 2 letter to Lorenzo from City Manager Gary Word.

"The City of Northville has spent a significant amount of time and money in complying with information requests and supporting your opportunities to pursue rights through administrative appeals provided in State and Local laws," Word wrote.

"At this point those administrative avenues have been exhausted. Therefore, I, other members of City staff or consultants will be unable to

Races back for season at Downs

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Aaaaand, they're off! The thunder of hooves will be heard in Northville this evening as harness racing makes its annual return to Northville Downs.

From now until Dec. 31, Jackson Harness Raceway will operate the track under its Jackson at Northville meet. "We'll be racing six nights a week, Monday through Saturday," said administrative assistant Sam Reichard.

Post time for the evening meets will be 7:30 p.m., and 1 p.m. matinees will be held on Saturdays starting Dec. 5.

The meet kicks off with the Octoberfest pacing series. The series will consist of four elimination heats, and two competitors from each elimination heat will return for the final heat Oct. 26.

"It's a late closer for 3- and 4-year-olds," Reichard explained.

Northville Downs' own meet will be off and running Jan. 1 and will continue through April 4.

Security protection at this year's meets will be provided by the City of Northville. City officials received a letter from Jackson officials Sept. 25, promising to repay the city for police protection if the state did not send the city its share of racetrack revenues.

The city began seeking such agreements from the racetrack last year, after Gov. John Engler attempted to withhold a budgeted $735,000 in state racetrack taxes returned to the city.

The state repeatedly has withheld or delayed paying the city part of the $900,000 the city is slated to receive under the State Racing Statute of 1980. Last year's attempt by Engler to withhold all the money led to the city's current deficit. The state later returned about half the amount.

Preliminary indications from Lansing are that the state-returned racetrack revenue has been included in the new state budget, said City Manager Gary Word. But he noted that budgeting the amount has not stopped the governor or legislators from taking a slice at it in the past.

"The state has been all over the map on when they give us money or how much, and I just don't trust them," he said.

That is why this year's city budget does not hinge on any racetrack revenue. Any revenue received will be used first to repay the racetrack for its police service payments, then to reduce the city's deficit.

ACORD talks about racism

by STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

To see an example of diversity in Northville, one had to look no further than Northville High School last Tuesday night.

It was there that ACORD, A Community Organization Recognizing Diversity, sponsored a seminar focusing on racism and featuring as diverse a crowd as has been seen in Northville recently.

Local high school students and members of Livonia's ACORD chapter sat in, as did a several leather-clad members of a group that billed itself as Skin Heads Against Racial Prejudice.

Some attendees were simply curious, as was one Northville woman who was told of the forum by her son, a high school student at Northville.

Others, like Ireland native Maggie Key, had more personal reasons. "I'm from a place where you get shot for your differences," she said.

The event was a forum moderated by Tom Stallworth of MichCon's Equal Employment Opportunity department. Stallworth noted that he had spanned the political spectrum during his youth, from his membership in the Black Nationalist movement while in college to his current support for racial integration.

The group viewed a video of a Prime Time Live segment called "True Colors," in which a pair of college-educated men, one white and one black, attempt to buy a car, rent an apartment and land a job. While the white man is greeted quickly and treated cordially in most situations, his black counterpart is repeatedly ignored, lectured and told lies about everything from a car's asking price to an apartment's availability.

When asked about their reaction to the segment, Tuesday's audience expressed emotions ranging from anger to shame. Stallworth noted that all the emotions experienced were negative ones, ones which people typically try to avoid.

That's what makes it so hard to fight racism even within ourselves, he said, and that's why it is important for people who experience racism either as a victim or an observer to confront it rather than ignore it.

Several participants spoke of how racism had affected them personally. One man said he has noticed people following him around stores and only later realized that they were keeping an eye on him as a potential shoplifter, simply because he is black.

He mentioned how his son teased him for dressing up for a trip to Twelve Oaks Mall, but said the dressy clothes are a needed defense. "I know how I'm going to be treated if I'm dressed a certain way when I go into this mall," he said.

The constant defensiveness wears a person down, he added: "Sometimes you just get tired."

"One of the things we're facing right now is the subtlety of the discrimination," Stallworth said, as he paced slowly in front of the crowd. "Sometimes you don't even notice it."

The seminar was just the latest effort by the ACORD chapter to battle racial discrimination in Northville and foster greater diversity.

"We have a small town here," noted Al Qualman, a founding member of ACORD. "What steps can we take to make our community more open to all races and all ethnic groups, and bridge the gap?"

Fellow founding member Linda Woodworth agreed, saying, "I think it's high time we stop judging people by the color of their skin, or their hairstyle, or how much money they make. . . . In fact, I think it's high time that we stop judging people, period."

Northville resident Phil Kovacs said friends were surprised when he told them about the ACORD chapter. "I told some businessmen I was involved in this and they said, 'In Northville? I said, 'Why not? Better to be on the leading edge than to be left behind.'"

ACORD meets the second Tuesday of each month. For more information, call Mary Ellen King at 344-1618.

Gas switch may save district thousands

by SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

School district officials have agreed to eliminate the middleman and deal directly with a natural gas supplier in an effort to save them upwards of $15,000 annually.

David Bolitho, assistant superintendent for administrative services, said the move would take the high school off Consumers Power's customer list and move it to a Novi-based gas supplier to provide a cost savings of $15,000 to $18,000 annually.

Bolitho presented his investigation and the five-year contract with Midwest/Stand Energy Corporation to the School Board last Monday night for approval. In it, Novi-based Midwest Natural Gas Corporation agrees to act on behalf of itself and on the part of Stand Energy Corporation, a Kentucky-based firm to deliver natural gas to the high school.

The only drawback to the contract, Bolitho said, is that the district agrees to pay the negotiated fee for gas for the duration of the contract, despite any changes in gas prices.

"It is unlikely that the Consumers Power natural gas price will ever fall below the price guaranteed by Stand Energy," Bolitho wrote in his recommendation to the board. "I do not believe that the direct purchase proposal is of any risk to the Northville Public School District."

ing the society would also lower the high school's minimum threshold of students needed to pay the fee.

David Bolitho, assistant superintendent for administrative services, said Friday now that the payment deadlines for current activities have all expired, school officials found that no athletics or any other activity would have to be discontinued because students couldn't pay to play.

"In all three instances (high school and middle schools), the minimum thresholds have all been met," Bolitho said. "What happened with the high school and with the National Honor Society is that once we pulled the National Honor Society out, the minimum threshold dropped. But we still managed to meet it."

Bolitho also added that all the athletic programs throughout the district had met their counts too.

According to district Business Manager John Street, 250 high schoolers have paid to participate in after-school activities. That's comparable to the 229 Cooke Middle schoolers and 193 Meads Mill students who have all paid. Those final counts are well above the minimum requirements which members of the pay-to-participate committee had identified as minimum thresholds.

Cooke Middle School Principal Jeffrey Radwanski said Friday he was happy to see that students' participation was good despite all the negativity surrounding the fees. Radwanski said his school had no problem reaching its minimum thresholds for both athletics and other activities. But admitted he was concerned at the onset, when he saw that some of his numbers were the same as Meads Mill's athletic requirements. Cooke's enrollment is smaller than its middle school twin.

"I was concerned at first about the minimum for girls basketball, because our school is so much smaller. We have about 85 (fewer) students than Meads Mill, but in the end we came up with exactly the 18 we needed."

"In co-curriculars we did meet the magic number, which for us was 208," Radwanski said. "All of our co-curriculars are up and going; however, we still need a Science Olympiad coach."

At Meads Mill, Principal David Longridge said fall sports and all the co-curriculars are in full swing.

Longridge, who sat on the district's pay-to-participate study committee, said not only did the school meet its required participation levels, in some cases student interest exceeded that of years past. For the first time in Longridge's tenure at Meads Mill, he has seen boys coming out for middle school football in droves.

"It's strange," he said. "This is the first time since I've been here — which is since 1974 — that I've had more than 30 kids come out for football. Usually we are outscouring the bushes looking for kids to play."

Both Longridge and Radwanski, who just came off the heels of parent/teacher conferences, said parents seemed to have a positive attitude despite the fees. Each principal said he heard very few complaints from parents about the charges during conferences last week.

"Parents were very positive this year," Radwanski said. "We had an overwhelming response at conferences this year, and generally everyone was positive."

Longridge said the people he talked with were mostly indifferent to pay-to-participate.

"They weren't really positive or negative," Longridge said. "But pay-to-play is not a popular thing, and I don't blame them. But we had a big turnout at our conferences."

As a member of the study committee, Longridge said he is glad to see the program running smoothly now after most of the snags have been worked through.

"We were putting in a quick fix," he said. "There were some mistakes that we made, and I'm as guilty as anyone else on the committee, but it is now running smoother than we anticipated."

Flooding case returns to city appeals board participate in any further informal discussions with you on this matter."

The council may have thought that blocked her, but Lorenzo had another game plan. She appealed directly to the Board of Zoning Appeals instead.

"Although I have received negative responses from (Building Inspector) Mr. Joseph Attard, and Mr. Gary Word on behalf of the City Council," Lorenzo wrote, "I believe that since the Board of Zoning Appeals is a totally separate body charged with the enforcement of ordinances, it is only proper that any decision regarding my request, should be made by the full (or majority) Board after discussion — not by other city officials."

The BZA agreed, and approved Lorenzo's request for a rehearing at its Oct. 7 meeting. The board will hear her complaints again on Nov. 4.

Lorenzo had accused the city attorney on the case, Richard Connors, of providing the BZA with an inaccurate summary of engineering reviews performed on the Pheasant Hills waterway. She said the BZA's first decision was flawed because the board relied on that information.

Police News

Several convertibles damaged, burglarized

Several convertible top vehicles were damaged and burglarized in Northville Township recently, police said. Incident reports include:

A Northville woman told police that someone cut open the convertible top to her 1991 Mazda Miata late Oct. 4 or early Oct. 5 and stole a cellular telephone valued at $500. The vehicle's glove box and console were also damaged during the theft. The vehicle was parked on Northville Place Drive at the time of the incident. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Northville Place Drive was also the scene of two other slash-and-grab incidents late Oct. 4 or early Oct. 5. A Northville woman told police someone cut the top to her 1991 Mercury Capri and stole a watch and a pair of earrings valued at $85. Damage was estimated at $500.

A Northville man said someone slashed the top of his 1988 Chrysler LeBaron and stole a lap top computer and a compact disc player. The stolen items were valued at $3,200 and damage was estimated at $500.

Farragut Court was the site of a similar incident, police said. A Northville woman reported that someone cut open the top of her 1990 GEO Tracker and stole a radar detector, office equipment, and a beer keg tap. The incident also occurred late Oct. 4 or early Oct. 5. The stolen items were valued at $185 and damage was estimated at $500.

TIRE DAMAGED: A Northville woman told police that someone slashed the right rear tire of her 1988 Pontiac Bonneville Oct. 4 or Oct. 5 while the vehicle was parked on Hayes Ct. Damage was estimated at $350.

TRUCK DAMAGED: A 1992 Ford 150 pickup was damaged late Oct. 5 or early Oct. 6 while parked in the lot behind the building at McDonald Ford, 17000 Northville Road, according to police reports.

Thieves broke the truck's driver's side vent window and damaged the dash, and also stole a compact disc player, speakers, and headlights and tail light covers. The stolen items were valued at $1,000 and damage estimated at $900.

RESTAURANT RANSACKED, ROBBED: The Dandy Gander restaurant at 333 E. Main St. was broken into sometime between 10 p.m. Oct. 13 and 5 a.m. Oct. 14.

Thieves ransacked the restaurant's office after prying the lock out of a steel back door, taking $100 in singles from a desk drawer and about $160 in rolled coins. A cash register was ripped open as well.

The thieves netted more than $1,000 in cash during the robbery. Damage to the back door and cash register was estimated at several hundred dollars.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Fire Safety

Underground gas lines require special care

By STEPHEN OTT and MICHAEL ASHER
Special Writers

The construction crew working in the front yard failed to take notice of the yellow flags marking the presence of the underground gas line.

Using a backhoe to dig a trench, the operator bit into the ground and severed the line, allowing pressurized gas to rush through the break and into the open air. Quickly realizing his error, the operator tried to pull the backhoe's shovel out of the hole but struck a buried rock in the process, causing a spark which, in turn, ignited the escaping gas. Within seconds the gas was burning, sending flames roaring several feet into the air.

Following broadcast of the alert tone the dispatcher advised fire department personnel of an "unknown fire" in the front yard of the house. Police officers arriving at the scene advised the dispatcher of the true nature of the fire, and this information was passed along to the responding fire fighters as trucks left the station.

"Natural gas" is the name given to the naturally occurring gaseous hydrocarbons, chiefly methane, which are distributed through a system of pipelines and pump stations to our homes and businesses. It is used for a variety of purposes, including home heating, water heating and cooking. It can also be used for industrial purposes, fueling commercial furnaces and other equipment. In its natural state, natural gas is odorless, colorless and tasteless, so utility companies add an odorant to give the gas a distinctive smell.

By itself, natural gas will not burn. When mixed with air, however, in concentrations of between 5 percent and 15 percent, a combustible mixture is formed which, given an ignition source, will ignite and burn. Matches, pilot lights and electrical arcs in switches and motors will produce sufficient heat to ignite a proper mixture of air and natural gas.

Natural gas is not toxic. Large concentrations of natural gas in confined areas will, however, displace air and can cause injury or death due to suffocation and lack of oxygen.

Natural gas is about 40 percent lighter than air. When escaping into the open air, natural gas will rise and disperse. This fact distinguishes natural gas from propane, LPG, and other forms of "bottled" gas used for similar purposes. These gases are heavier than air and will collect in low-lying areas, even if the leak occurs outside.

A natural gas leak in an enclosed space, such as a house, can cause escaping gas to become trapped. This presents a particularly dangerous situation, since most homes contain numerous ignition sources which can ignite the gas and cause a fire. If you think you smell natural gas, leave the building at once and call the fire department from a neighbor's phone. Do not operate light switches or switches on electrical appliances, as this can provide a source of ignition. Leave doors and windows open to help ventilate the area. The fire department or the gas company can determine whether the source of the odor is natural gas, or some other substance.

The fire department arrived at the scene but made no effort to attack the fire. This initially surprised some in the neighborhood, until the chief explained that the burning gas was less of a hazard than if the gas was escaping from a leak unburned, where it could collect and provide an explosion hazard. Firefighters secured the area and pulled a hose line to protect against the spread of the fire to nearby combustible materials. The backhoe, which was very close to the leak and already a total loss, was allowed to burn. Gas company personnel arrived a short time later, and managed to secure the leak by crimping the gas line at a point between the street and the fire. Firefighters searched nearby homes for evidence of leaks or pockets of trapped gas and, finding none, returned to quarters while repairs were completed by the gas company. The incident had produced a spectacular fire but, fortunately, except for the loss of the backhoe, there was no appreciable loss.

Stephen Ott and Michael Asher are members of the Northville city Fire Department.

Legislative Action Network/Ballot proposals

Proposal A caps assessments, won't replace money

Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles presented by the Northville PTAs' Legislative Action Network. Previous articles covered the state's system of public-school funding and the "Cut and Cap" plan, Proposal C on the November ballot. This piece analyzes Proposal A on the ballot, House Joint Resolution-H.

House Joint Resolution-H (HJR-H) proposes to amend the Michigan Constitution. The new amendment would permanently limit parcel-by-parcel increases in home and farm property assessments to the rate of inflation or 5 percent per year, whichever is less. When the property is sold, it would be reassessed at 50 percent of its market value.

If HJR-H became a part of Michigan's constitution it could only be changed by the vote of the people.

The Legislature could not amend any provision of the new law.

HJR-H provides tax relief to residential property owners who live in communities where individual assessments might rise faster than the rate of inflation or 5 percent per year. This can happen in communities where the demand for homes is greater than the supply. Northville is one such community. One reason for this demand is the strength of Northville Public Schools. In times of high inflation, this relief could be significant for those on fixed incomes or low incomes. However, the Homestead Property Tax Credit was designed to reduce the property tax burden for those individuals.

HJR-H limits how much local government can increase the assessed value of property. If property values in a community increase more than 5 percent, local municipalities and schools would not be able to collect the taxes on the increase. HJR-H does not provide for any state reimbursement of money which local government or schools could not collect.

Under HJR-H the Homestead Property Tax Credit program would continue but:

- Individual taxpayer credits would be reduced as property taxes are reduced.
- Individuals would pay slightly more state income taxes, which would increase the state's income.
- Local government would not receive any additional funds from the state's increased revenue.

HJR-H would also cause administrative costs to rise significantly. It requires municipalities to keep double roll back calculations, one for residences and farms and the other for businesses. The cost of the added bookkeeping must be paid by local government, thus taking budget monies from other municipal services.

HJR-H would cause similar parcels of property to be taxed at different levels. For example, a recently sold home will be taxed at a much higher rate than a home which had been held for a period of time. This would impede sales of new and existing houses, since property would be reassessed upwards to 50 percent of its selling price.

HJR-H will appear on the November 1992 ballot. If approved by voters it will become effective on Jan. 1, 1993.

HJR-H does not cap millage rates. HJR-H would limit assessment increases (which can occur without a vote), while allowing millage rate increases (which require a vote).

Our Opinion

Where were questions on the school budget?

We're all familiar with the great philosophical dilemma: If a tree falls in the forest with no one there to hear it, does it still make a sound?

The Northville School District inadvertently hit upon a corollary question last week: If a local government at long last produces a readable budget with no one there to read it, does it still make sense?

The two millage-increase requests in the school district earlier this year touched a raw nerve in much of the community, as we all know. Voters are faced with skyrocketing property assessments and budgetary crises in just about every government of which they're a part, from the township or city up through the state and nation. Add to that situation a growing skepticism about money management in the school district, toss in a few other negative factors, and boom: Voters just said no.

One clear outcome was a demand for fuller, more accurate, more easily understood financial information from the public school establishment. Complaints rose about access to information and treatment of residents who made the requests. It started to get ugly.

School officials responded slowly and reluctantly — but, finally, respond they did. When the time came to update the budget for this school year, the district took a number of steps to address the complaints heard over the past couple of months.

Perhaps most significantly, salaries and fringe benefits for administrators and teachers appear more clearly than in the past. Much more detail about other spending also appears, and in a better format. The document goes a long way toward giving interested residents the information they need about the school district, which is, after all, essentially a business in which all residents own shares.

Business Manager John Street, although clearly unhappy about having to jump through these hoops, deserves credit for creating and producing the new and improved school budget document. It was introduced to the public at last Monday's full Board of Education meeting, and the audience reacted with . . .

Almost dead silence. Street and others who worked on this issue must have felt like the wind was knocked out of their sails. And it was.

After all the complaints, all the finger-pointing, all the charges about hostility toward the public's budget inquiries — Well, when the district took its big shot at improving the situation, where was everybody?

Many vocal critics of the district's finances were absent. The residents who were in attendance seemed disinterested in the budget. Nobody really asked any questions; nobody really made any comments. The "user-friendly" budget has not become the best-seller it should have been. It's almost as if the document dropped into a vacuum.

This is not the way things are supposed to work.

Make no mistake: As we've said before, we believe the complaints directed at the district had a lot of validity. But in a democracy there are certain expectations. We expect our governments to work for us, and if we think they're falling down in that respect, we demand that they get their act together.

At the same time, the governments expect that people will make the effort to become informed about issues which concern them. School financing will continue to be an extremely major concern for the foreseeable future, and huge numbers of people in the community show a great deal of anger about it locally. A chance came to do something about that problem, and it went largely unnoticed.

We hope this doesn't bode poorly for future elections. Whether an individual favors a particular proposal or opposes it, a citizen ought to be informed and cast a ballot. Complaining is easy. Democracy's hard.

The People won latest debate

I don't care which candidate you favored after last Thursday night's Presidential Debate. You know who was the real winner? It was you and me.

Early in the debate, two audience members in a row got up and said they wanted the candidates to knock off the negative attacks and mudslinging. Like a mother separating a couple of squabbling 10-year-olds, the people (or should I say The People) took control. They made them sit up straight in their chairs, eat their spinach and stick to the issues.

And when they actually did it, I about fell out of my chair. This is what the president, the vice president and all the members of Congress (not to mention our city council members, township trustees, even our gosh-darned drain commissioners) are supposed to do. That is, do what we tell them to do.

The debate also brought to mind the recent local Republican primary race for the 11th U.S. Congressional District. Candidates David Honigman and . . . what was her name? Oh, yeah, Alice Gilbert. Well, the two of them got into a dirty little playground scuffle, one of the worst negative campaigns we've seen in a while.

By now you know what happened. The People took charge and voted to nominate Joe Knollenberg, who took the high ground and stayed away from the negative campaigning. He won the district handily.

I was also reminded of the time when rock musician Frank

Zappa was testifying before a committee in Congress on the issue of explicit rock lyrics. After being brow-beaten by one particular committee member, Zappa looked him square in the eye and said, "I'd like to remind you, Senator, that you work for me, not the other way around."

Wow! Somewhere along the line when the economy seemed like it was in good shape and we were living fat, we lost touch with the idea that our elected officials were supposed to work for us.

I think when we slipped our feet into Gucci shoes, we also slipped into a little bit of complacency. We became too willing to let politicians dictate to us what we were going to do. Not only did the word "agenda" quickly become one of the most overused in the language, but we let our servants set it, kind of like the tail wagging the dog.

Well, times are getting a bit lean now. Everyone knows it, and I'm happy to see that people also realize that sully reputations is only a distraction from what we really want to know. Namely, how do our would-be elected officials get us back to the fat times.

With Election Day just two weeks away, I'd like to ask you, the voter, to think of the election as a job interview. The candidate is interviewing for a job to work for you.

A good many people in this community are in management positions with the companies for which they work, so let me put it to you this way: Would you hire someone who not only came in and told you how he was going to run your company, and told you what role you would play in his scheme; but also castigated all the other applicants for the job?

Keep that in mind when you go into the voting booth two weeks from tomorrow.

Got a gripe? Give us a jingle

The lady on the other end of the line didn't want to tell me her name.

She said we knew each other, but she would feel better if she could talk to me anonymously.

The problem was that she had called to complain about the coverage we had given high school homecoming festivities in one of our papers. Seems like we had reported the outcome of the homecoming football game and a published a picture of one of the members of the homecoming court. But that was about it.

There was no picture of the homecoming queen. There was no picture of the winning float. In fact, we hadn't even reported the names of the homecoming king and queen. And there was no mention of which class had won the float competition.

She was pretty upset about it, and wanted to let us know that she expected a whole lot more from her hometown newspaper.

If she was looking for an argument, she didn't get it. All she got was an admission that we had blown it totally and completely. And an apology.

One of the basic tenets of all the HomeTown Newspapers — including the Northville Record, of course — is that we cover the heck out of high school homecomings.

Ideally, we have pictures and stories of homecoming festivities and the picture of the king and queen is on the front page.

It's basic "hometown" stuff. It's what you expect from your community newspaper. It's our bread and butter.

It's what differentiates us, your hometown paper, from everyone else. Don't hold your breath waiting to find homecoming pictures in the Detroit Free News.

But that's not what this column is all about.

What this column is about is that the lady almost apologized for calling me to complain about our coverage. And it bothered me almost as much as the fact that we goofed up the homecoming coverage.

And if you remember only one thing about this little commentary, I want it to be this: If you've got a complaint, comment or criticism, just give us a call and let us know about it. Please.

We have a special obligation to our subscribers . . . to the people in our communities who buy and read our papers.

We feel very strongly about our responsibility to cover the events that take place in Northville . . . whether it's homecoming or something else.

We're abundantly aware that we're not perfect. We try to keep our mistakes to a minimum. And we think we have a pretty good idea after all these years of putting out hometown newspapers of what we ought to be doing.

But sometimes we goof. Sometimes we just plain blow it.

The point is that we not only want you to call when you have a complaint, we encourage you to call.

I have fielded more than my share of angry phone calls over the years, and one of the things I always try to remember to do is to thank the caller for caring enough to let me know about it.

Sometimes we're aware of the problem. And sometimes we may disagree that it's a problem. But sometimes we just don't know about it.

It's those problems we don't know about that bother me most. If we don't know there's a problem, there's no way we can fix it. That's why we're sincere when we ask you to tell us what you like and dislike. Please.

Get your five to stay alive

Eat more cabbage-family vegetables, add more high fiber foods, and choose more vitamin A and vitamin C. The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences recommends eating at least five servings of fruits and vegetables daily.

The latest research shows a strong relationship between diet and disease with a renewed focus on the benefits of fruits and vegetables. Fruits and vegetables can help control your weight and may reduce the risk of coronary heart disease and cancer. There are no clear-cut medical answers, but five servings a day of a variety of fruits and vegetables can't hurt.

Five servings a day may sound like a lot but, one serving equals 1/2 cup of cooked vegetables, canned fruit or juice. One cup of raw chopped vegetables or fruit or a medium whole fruit is also one serving.

Serve vegetables and legumes in soups, or add raw, grated carrot, potato or apple to lean ground beef or turkey to make meat loaf or meatballs. To thicken sauces without adding fat, use a cooked, pureed vegetable as a substitute for cream or whole milk.

Add raw grated fruit to muffins or cookies. Choose a wider variety of greens, such as arugula, chicory, collards, dandelion greens, kale, mustard greens, spinach or watercress.

Vegetables and fruits add vitamins A and C to your diet and may reduce the risk of certain cancers. Avoid any risk of overdoses, get these vitamins from foods, not vitamin pills. Select dark green vegetables and deep yellow fruits and vegetables for vitamin A.

Good choices are spinach, Swiss chard, broccoli, apricots, cantaloupe, carrots, peaches, sweet potatoes and winter squash. These are all rich sources of beta carotene, a very important substance that your body uses to make vitamin A. These may help protect you against cancers of the esophagus, larynx and lung.

Rich sources of Vitamin C are citrus fruits, strawberries, melons, tomatoes, broccoli, cauliflower, potatoes and green pepper. Vitamin C may help protect against cancers of the esophagus and stomach. Vitamin C is easily destroyed by light, heat and exposure to air and dissolves in cooking water.

To preserve Vitamin C, eat these raw as often as possible; cook soon after slicing or cutting so they are not exposed to the air; keep the cooking times as short as possible; or steam or bake or cook vegetables in their skins.

Recent studies show how eating more of the cabbage-family vegetable (also known as cruciferous) appear to protect against colorectal, stomach and respiratory cancers. These vegetables include broccoli, bok choy, brussel sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, kale, mustard greens, turnips and turnip greens. Broccoli, is of course the star of the cruciferous vegetables.

When cooking, be creative, add more vegetables to pasta or stir fry dishes and go easy on the portions of meat. Steam greens, then sprinkle with lemon juice or vinegar for extra zing. Instead of using fatback, bacon or butter, saute washed greens in two teaspoons olive oil with chopped garlic and crushed red pepper.

Add dark green lettuce, red cabbage, spinach and tomato slices to sandwiches or salads. Shred cabbage for coleslaw, add carrots for color and dress with a non-fat yogurt, or a reduced calorie mayonnaise, a little sugar and dill weed.

No one food is perfect, it's your overall diet that really counts. Take control of your own life and health; make good food choices; it can't hurt!

Converting recipes may require restocking your shelves with some different ingredients.

Smart Substitutions

Galloping gourmets lend a healthy hand

By RICK BYRNE
 Copy Editor

Hearing Linda Reitha and Sheila Goodell talk about recipes is like hearing two teenagers at a slumber party talk about boys.

It's a serious matter, but it's all in good fun.

The two work for Weight Watchers, and their specialty is converting recipes and menus that people already use at home into satisfying meals that are healthier and more nutritionally sound.

"We adapt recipes so that the whole family can eat it and not feel like they're on Weight Watchers," said Goodell.

Reitha added, "People should realize that Weight Watchers is not a diet. It's a way of life. It's a healthy style of eating."

Both know firsthand the benefits of eating healthier. Like everyone who works for Weight Watchers, the two went through the Weight Watchers program. And they're a couple of success stories.

"I've lost 19 pounds and kept it off for 11 years," said Goodell.

Reitha said, "I've lost 25 pounds and kept it off for two years."

Ironically, Reitha's story offers the best testimony to the benefits of a healthy eating style. She didn't join Weight Watchers to lose weight. She just wanted to learn how to eat healthy.

"The weight loss was just a bonus," she said.

Now she and Goodell have formed a kind of happy-go-lucky tag team, traveling from one Weight Watchers center to another, hosting special open sessions where they demonstrate smart substitutions.

They recently visited the Novi center, which is located at 41720 Ten Mile Road.

While they emphasized that neither has been trained as a dietitian, most of their advice comes from sources like the American Heart Association. It helps that they both love to experiment in the kitchen.

"It takes a lot of trial and error to get it right," said Goodell. "And even then, it may not taste the same as Mom used to make. But our way of cooking encourages healthy eating for the whole family, from the kids on up. My children follow it to some extent."

"If you can get them away from junk food now and substitute good food now, it will help them down the road."

Their suggestions don't require any complicated techniques either.

"We're lazy," said Reitha. "We don't like a lot of cleanup, and we don't like a lot of extra work. But we do like to eat."

If that sounds like you, break out your recipe box, and see if you can pick up on some of their suggestions. Here are just a few:

- Cut back — perhaps even cut out — oil and sugar. According to Reitha, you can substitute applesauce for oil in some recipes and still get the same consistency from your food.

- If you can't cut out the oil, switch to olive or canola oil. Both are higher in polyunsaturates than corn or vegetable oil.

- Goodell points out that you can cut the sugar in most of your recipes in half and never notice the difference. Honey and molasses make good substitutes for sugar as well.

- Sugar substitutes like Equal and Sugar Twin are not just for your morning coffee. Read the labels. Most brands tell you how much will substitute for sugar in baking. The only drawback, according to Goodell and Reitha, is that the taste of the substitute can't be masked.

Also, aspartame products break down, and cannot be substituted for sugar in cooking.

- When a recipe calls for eggs, substitute two egg whites for every whole egg for a lower-fat, lower-cholesterol alternative. Egg substitutes like Egg Beaters and Scramblers are also available, but these are just egg whites with stabilizers added for freezing.

- Where wine is called for in a recipe, substitute chicken broth for white wine, and beef broth for red wine. Alcohol is very high in calories, and though the alcohol cooks off when food is heated, all of its calories remain behind, Reitha said.

- Cut back on the salt content of your food by substituting lemon juice, vinegar or herbs.

- Ground chicken and ground turkey work fine in place of ground beef, especially in things like tacos and sloppy joes. Read the labels carefully, though, and get the lowest fat content possible.

- Cream cheese is very fatty, but you can make a great substitute by draining plain yogurt through a cheese cloth overnight. Be forewarned that yogurt cheese will separate when heated unless mixed with cornstarch or egg whites. Again, trial and error may be necessary.

- If you don't want to go through the trial-and-error process yourself, bring your favorite recipes to one of Goodell and Reitha's upcoming sessions. They'll take the recipe themselves and do all the legwork, sending it back to you in converted form.

Most important, though, they point out that people shouldn't punish themselves with food.

"If you really want to have something, by all means eat it," said Reitha. "But plan for it. If you starve yourself, you'll start obsessing over food, and then you'll suddenly do your Hoover impression in front of everybody."

Banking calories a day or two beforehand, she said, is perfectly okay if you're planning a big meal with some deliciously obscene dessert.

Following are some of the recipes Goodell and Reitha demonstrated at recent sessions. Upcoming demonstrations will be at the Wonderland Mall Weight Watchers Center in Livonia, Nov. 12 at 6:30 p.m., and at the Dearborn Center, Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. Call (313) 277-3303 for more details.

Customers have a role in their own service

Since day one in the hospitality business I've been told that the No. 1 rule of thumb to live by is "The customer is always right."

And I have always done my best to ensure the policy. Recently there have been many articles in trade journals questioning the "rightness" of customers. Personally, I feel, there can be no compromise. However, some of the points that are under scrutiny make sense.

To begin the discussion, general background information is needed. Owners of restaurants/bars are against tremendous negative odds. If a place is busy everyone figures that you're making a million. If it is slow, it becomes slower. And not necessarily because of anything wrong.

Restaurants deal with perishable goods. Say, for instance, that I buy 100 pounds of chicken breasts for the weekend. It is a "usual" order. But, for one reason or another I only sell 50. The other 50 must be used somehow: frozen, fed to employees or, heaven forbid, thrown out.

A break-even situation would be using them for soup or pot pie. Much less acceptable is freezing (which changes quality and thus the final output of the finished product, and ultimately your satisfaction) or throwing away because of spoilage.

This is a volatile business when it comes to anything perishable. Dishes, glassware and silver included. A glass costs one dollar plus. Each time that one smashes on the floor my mind screams. Some plates cost seven dollars. I become insane when one is broken.

Sure, there are accidents. But, the bottom line is this . . . that demolished plate or glass is directly out of my pocket. I do not make my employees pay for breakage. I just ask them to think of it as their paycheck going in the garbage. Some understand, some don't.

A general rule of thumb for the hospitality business is that for each dollar brought in a maximum of 10 cents is profit. For each $10 of misused product it will take an extra $100 of business to cover replacement costs. So, anyone serious about staying in business for any extended length of time works their butt off to stack the odds in their favor.

Getting back to the articles. You, as a guest, can do some things to make your experience more enjoyable. When you're happy so are we. Let the establishment know your needs. Whether it be a time limitation, a celebration, or the necessity of a private area for business discussions. A restaurant's goal is to satisfy you, so it is important to tell someone if you have a special request.

Call if you are unable to honor a reservation. A reservation is a verbal contract.

Don't be intimidated by any menu, food or otherwise. Eating and drinking out is a great way to expand your knowledge. Ask if you have a question rather than foregoing a new taste sensation or wine out of fear of query. It is exciting to introduce unusual wines or food. Be open-minded about trying diverse items. Think of it as an education.

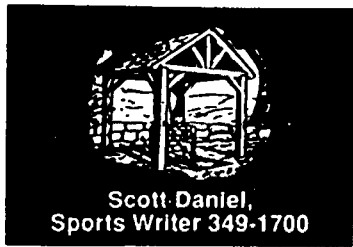

Expect and demand a good experience.

Please, don't suffer in silence. Your comments, good and constructive, do a lot to help.

The worst thing in the world is to walk away, never to return. This is a lose-lose situation. Let the staff have a chance to turn a negative into a positive. Praise and criticism are tools for growth.

Finally, tip according to service. Fifteen percent has been determined as the "normal" over the years. Personally, if I receive superior service 25 percent shows my appreciation. Less than 15 percent indicates dissatisfaction. Be honest and fair.

Because of lifestyles eating out has become "usual" instead of "special." I think that I can speak for the majority of us in this occupation when stating that our aspiration is to create a dining experience rather than sitting down to just another meal.

Jennifer Pollock stretches for a return shot earlier this year.

Netters fall to Farmington; beat John Glenn 7-1

By SCOTT DANIEL

Sometimes all the close ones go your way. Yet other times . . .

Fate worked against the Northville tennis team again Monday as the Mustangs fell 5-3 to Lakes Division rival Farmington. The match went down to the final contest at No. 4 singles before Northville succumbed in three sets.

The loss dropped the Mustangs to 5-5-2 on the year.

While this season hasn't measured up to years past, coach Uta Filkin said there's hope for a better 1993. She added that the Mustangs will only lose two players to graduation.

"We will do better again," Filkin commented. "Next year, we will shoot for the division (title). We should have a good shot at it."

Close losses, like this one to the Falcons and another to Canton a few weeks ago, will turn around for Northville next year, she said. The coach pointed to her team's youth as a reason for dropping the tight matches.

In the day's first match, senior Jenny Lower fell 6-4, 6-1 to Sarah Brudi. Kyley Mills, at No. 2 singles, got the Mustangs on the right track with a 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Julie Haight.

"She had a very nice win," Filkin said.

Farmington's Beth Wilson was a 6-0, 6-2 winner over Ellen Song. At No. 4 singles, Alissa Miller lost to Laura McWilliam 6-2, 5-7, 0-6.

In doubles action, Jennifer McCormick and Lisa Wagner won in two sets (6-2, 7-6) against Kiren Arora and Wendy Michalaki. Kristen Davis and Sara Christenson weren't as lucky and fell 6-2, 6-3 to Devon Woodruff and Leslie Britt.

Nanda Filkin and Julie Weix moved up to No. 3 doubles and lost to Lauren Tucker and Karin Szopo 6-1, 6-2. The duo had gone 8-1 at No. 4 doubles.

Jennifer Pollock and Abby Semeyn moved into the final doubles spot and beat Deanna Heiski and Erin Kenny 6-3, 6-0.

NORTHVILLE 7, WESTLAND JOHN GLENN 1: Against one of the WLAA's weaker teams, Filkin was able to shuffle the lineup a bit and still come away with an easy win.

Jennifer Koolstra, for example, was moved from doubles to singles play. Filkin said such moves will help the Mustangs next year.

In one of the year's stranger matches, Lower fell to Paula Moraes 6-0, 7-5. Filkin said the Westland player was somewhat eccentric. Moraes, an exchange student, frequently doused her racquet hand with water from her drinking bottle, and finally threw her racquet.

"Jenny should have beaten her," Filkin said. "But I think she was flabbergasted by the girl's eccentricities."

Mills did win at No. 2 singles 6-1, 6-1 over Joanne Deogracias. Song got on the winning track by taking Melke Raby 6-0, 6-1. Koolstra won her match 6-1, 6-0 over Karen Cavender.

Davis and Heather Huizing paired to beat Liz Parr and Rene Mikle 1-6, 6-3, 6-2. Filkin and Weix played at No. 2 doubles and won 6-2, 6-2 against Coleen Howell and Ericka Hermatz.

Christenson and Pollock also won in two sets (6-3, 6-4) over Brenda Durham and Cindy Koslowski. Arin Hornberger and Semeyn beat Kelli Norden and Nicole Hermatz 6-1, 6-1 to close the match.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATESThe candidates

Candidates for President were asked to summarize their biographies in 50 words.

Issues

Candidates for President were asked to respond to each question in 75 words.

HEALTH INSURANCE

It is estimated that one out of seven Americans has no health insurance. The cost of medical care continues to skyrocket, rising more than twice as fast as the Consumer Price Index in the last 10 years. Our nation spends almost 12% of its Gross National Product on health care, twice the amount spent by other industrialized nations, all of which have universal health coverage. How can we solve this dual problem of the high number of uninsured and the overwhelming cost of health care and still maintain quality and comprehensive coverage for all citizens?

FEDERAL DEFICIT

Our federal government continues to spend more than it takes in. Hence, we have a rapidly escalating national debt which is now nearly $4 trillion. The interest on this debt stands at over $200 billion annually and is the second largest expenditure in the budget after defense. How can we reduce the deficit and, thus, the national debt and start using our financial resources for productive purposes rather than for paying interest?

ENVIRONMENT

Many Americans feel that there are severe environmental problems that need to be addressed in a comprehensive way. Some of these problems are toxic and hazardous wastes, solidwaste, over-population, air and water pollution, and energy management. Name two or three specific ways you as President would provide leadership to deal with any or all of these concerns.

TOP CONCERNS

Other than the topics discussed in previous questions, what are your three top domestic concerns? Briefly describe one way in which you would address each of these concerns.

TRADE

In the controversy over trade policy, discussion centers on both the short and the long range interests of the United States. On what principles should the world trade policy of the United States be based? How do concerns about current unemployment and other domestic economic issues affect your views?

BILL CLINTON

Democrat, 46, Arkansas. JD, Yale Univ., 1973; Rhodes Scholar, Oxford Univ., 1968-70; Georgetown Univ., BSFS, 1968. Governor of Arkansas, 1979-80, 1983-present; Arkansas Attorney General, 1976-78; Law Professor, University of Arkansas, 1974-76. Born in Hope, Arkansas; married in 1975 to Hillary Rodham; one daughter, Chelsea, 11, student in Little Rock Public Schools.

We must reinvent the way we deliver health care in this country. A Clinton Administration will treat affordable, quality health care as a right, not a privilege. We will cap national spending on health care to control costs, and take on the insurance and pharmaceutical industries. A Clinton health care plan will establish a core benefits package and maintain health care choice. And no one will be cut-off, cancelled, denied or forced to accept inferior care.

As Governor, I've balanced eleven budgets while maintaining one of the lowest tax burdens in the nation. I will bring this fiscal responsibility to the White House. We can reduce the deficit over the next four years by cutting defense spending by $200 billion through 1997, controlling health care costs, cutting 3% a year out of administrative costs of government, and limiting current consumption expenditures to personal income increases, which will drastically reduce spending.

To combat air and water pollution, we must fundamentally change our approach to energy and the environment. We can start by implementing revenue neutral tax incentives that favor clean technologies. We must also pass a national energy policy that encourages conversion to natural gas and increased efficiency and conservation. By allowing the free market to influence our energy use and environmental protection, we can reward environmentally sound and energy efficient businesses while punishing polluters.

I have a bold new plan for good-paying jobs, world-class education and safe streets. I'll invest in the infrastructure that binds our businesses together. I'll fully fund Head Start and offer every American the opportunity to go to college, so long as they pay it back or return to serve their communities. I'll put 100,000 new police officers on the street and expand community policing to prevent crimes.

We must open markets now closed to American products. A Clinton-Gore Administration will provide the leadership for Japan and the European countries to join us in coordinating our macroeconomic policies and in reaching multilateral trade negotiations. We'll also work to open up Japan's market to competitive U.S. products. We favor a free and open trading system, but if our competitors won't play by those rules, we'll play by theirs.

GEORGE BUSH

Republican, 68, Texas. BA, Yale Univ., 1948. President of the United States. Vice President of U.S. 1981-89; Director, CIA, 1976-77; Chief, U.S. Liaison Office in China, 1974-75; Chairman, Republican National Committee, 1973-74; U.S. Ambassador to U.N., 1971-73; U.S. House of Rep., 1967-71; Texas businessman, 1948-66; U.S. Navy, 1942-45. Distinguished Flying Cross, three air medals.

The comprehensive health care program I announced Feb. 6 is based on two principles. Helping those who cannot afford health insurance pay for it with a tax credit of up to $3750, while at the same time building upon the strengths of America's health care system; namely, the freedom of individuals to choose physicians, hospitals and health plans. I've also proposed a set of malpractice reforms to help contain health care costs.

The most important thing is to cap the growth of uncontrolled government spending. In my State of the Union Address I challenged Congress to abide by enforceable spending limitations, and I proposed freezing total domestic discretionary spending as well as the number of non-defense federal employees. I also asked Congress to end 246 federal programs that can no longer be justified, saving almost $5 billion in 1993 alone. I am seeking major reductions in 84 programs which would save another $8 billion in 1993.

My administration has achieved historic progress toward a cleaner environment. Our accomplishments and continuing priorities include the strongest clean air laws in the world, an innovative and revitalized EPA, record-breaking law enforcement, accelerated cleanup of toxic waste sites, improved coastal stewardship, an eventual end to the net loss of wetlands, more efficient energy technologies, and increased international cooperation on problems like the ozone layer and pollution cleanup in developing countries.

My number one priority is jobs. In my State of the Union Address, I asked Congress to enact by March 20 a program for economic recovery and growth. Other domestic priorities include passage of my health care reform initiative, education reform program, and banking reform. Each one of these proposals will make important contributions to economic growth and prosperity.

I make no apology for my support for a free, fair, and open world trading system — more trade means more jobs and economic growth. And my policy means vigorous advocacy of American interests. In multilateral negotiations such as GATT, this translates into tough, no-nonsense positions that advance American interests. In other cases, such as my recent trip to Japan, it means bargaining hard to open up markets to U.S. firms.

HOWARD PHILLIPS

Tisch Independent, 51, Virginia. Graduate, Harvard College, 1962. Chairman, The Conservative Caucus. Former Director, U.S. Office Economic Opportunity; Chairman, U.S. Taxpayers Alliance; Executive Committee, Council for National Policy; Former Executive Director, President's Council/Youth Opportunity; Former Chairman, Boston Republican Party; Author, The Next Four Years: A Vision of Victory; Married 28 years, six children.

I oppose the governmentalization and bureaucratization of American medicine. Hospitals, doctors, and other health care providers should be accountable to patients, not to politicians. If the supply of medical care is controlled by the Federal government, then officers of that government will determine which demand is satisfied. The result will be rationing of services, higher costs, poorer results, and the power of life and death transferred from caring physicians to unaccountable political overseers.

I'll propose cuts of $500 billion and tax cuts of like amount, achieved by eliminating the individual income tax and abolishing the IRS. I will veto any other budget. If overridden, I will ask the American people, in 1994, to vote only for candidates who pledge to sustain my vetoes. In 1987, Federal spending was $1 trillion. In George Bush's new budget, it is $1.5 trillion. For starters, we must return to spending to 1987 levels.

In a choice between an owl or a snail-darter on the one hand, and the jobs of American citizens on the other, I put people first. The 'Clean Air' Act is costing us jobs and should be repealed. The best way to promote balanced growth and conservation is with more, not less, private property ownership. People are better stewards of what they own than bureaucrats are of common property.

Crime: I favor the unimpeded right of states and localities to execute criminals convicted of capital crimes, and require restitution for victims. Abortion: The law must prevent the shedding of innocent blood. The unborn child is a human person created in God's image. I oppose funding organizations which advocate or participate in abortion. Aids: Aids is principally attributable to promiscuous homosexual conduct and drug abuse. It's a public health concern, not a civil rights issue.

I oppose trade agreements which diminish America's economic self-sufficiency, and export jobs. Our country and its workers must be more than New World Order bargaining chips for multinational corporations and international banks. The rebuilding of our economic infrastructure is essential. Federal debt has made our economy more vulnerable to foreign takeover and manipulation, particularly in the area of national security. We must cut taxes, spending, and regulation to get more jobs.

HELEN HALYARD

Workers' League, 41, Michigan. Graduate, Franklin D. Roosevelt High School. Assistant National Secretary, Workers' League. I have devoted my entire adult life to the struggles of the working class and the fight for world socialism. I have led the campaigns of the Workers' League against plant closings, budget cuts, mass evictions and school closings.

The categories of 'insured' and 'uninsured' express the dreadful social fact that health care is approached as a business in the United States, not as a human right to which all citizens are equally entitled. I favor the socialization of all medical services. Society should allocate the resources which are necessary to provide high-quality health care for everyone.

The Workers' League advocates the immediate suspension of all interest payments to the American and international bankers and financiers who hold billions of dollars in U.S. government bonds. As for the tens of billions spent each year on the U.S. war machine, I favor the complete elimination of the 'defense' budget and the reallocation of the money saved for truly productive and peaceful purposes.

As President of the U.S., I would organize hearings to expose the critical and myriad links between the insatiable drive of the corporations for profit and the pervasive poisoning of the natural environment. I would also strive to expose the reckless and brutal disregard of Big Business for the health and safety of workers.

1) The explosion of unemployment and general lack of decent-paying jobs; 2) the horrifying decline in the quality of education; and 3) the mounting attack on basic democratic rights, i.e., abortion, the right to have a union, etc. All these problems are rooted in decay of the capitalist system. Their solution requires formation of a Labor Party based on a socialist program that will provide the framework for a revolutionary transformation of the United States.

Under capitalism, trade policy is aimed at satisfaction of the rapacious interests of the powerful multinational corporations that rule the world economy. National chauvinism is an instrument used to blind the people to the sordid material interests that determine the 'trade policy' of the U.S., no less than its competitors. I favor a socialist trade policy that would encourage fraternal and productive collaboration of the international working class in the development of the world's resources.

JOHN HAGELIN

Natural Law Party, 38, Iowa. PhD (Nuclear Physics), Harvard Univ. World renowned physicist and Director of the Doctoral Program in Physics at Maharishi International Univ. Co-developer of the leading unified field theory in modern physics and winner of the prestigious Kilby award.

I would introduce programs for prevention that have been shown to reduce the need for medical treatment by approximately 50%-70%. I would also introduce a new, nationally-subsidized health care system for lower income families that would ensure high-quality health care for 35 million Americans not qualified for Medicaid who cannot afford the high cost of private medical insurance. This program would be financed partly by the savings gained through prevention programs.

By adopting proven, cost-effective programs in areas such as health, crime, and energy that have not been previously implemented due to party politics and special interest groups, and by measures to cut government waste, the nation can save approximately $1.5 trillion and the federal government $750 billion per year. These reductions in government spending will eliminate the budget deficit and begin to retire the national debt, while lowering taxes significantly for all.

I am committed to increasing energy efficiency and increasing use of renewable, safe, non-polluting energy sources. This will protect our environment, create energy self-sufficiency, and add to our economic prosperity. The programs I will adopt will create new jobs in energy conservation and renewable energy. My support for alternatives to hazardous and wasteful use of fossil fuels will benefit the environment and save the nation hundreds of billions of dollars.

Education: I support proven technologies to unfold human intelligence and creativity that will solve the educational crisis and develop our human resources — the key to economic growth. Crime: offer proven programs to reduce crime and drug abuse. Political Reform: will ensure ballot access fairness; provide public campaign funding; eliminate PACs; shorten campaign seasons; restrict lobbying; make public servants accountable; discourage negative campaigning; establish nonpartisan groups to recommend proven programs to resolve and prevent national problems.

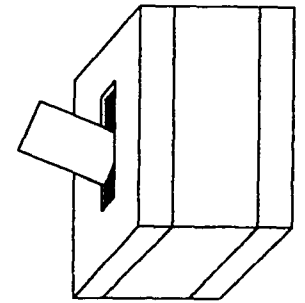

Our policies should be based on our long range national interests. I will adopt programs that stimulate productivity and help all wage-earners improve their health, skills, and job satisfaction. These programs will offset any short term unemployment. As national productivity increases, the result will be a more powerful economy and a higher standard of living for all Americans — better working condition, higher pay, shorter work hours, and a shorter work week.

Republican, 50, Brighton. Honorary Doctorate, Cleary College; Brighton High School. Self employed. Started career as assembly line worker at Willow Run, then worked as sweeper at Hurst Performance until becoming Vice President; finally started own company, Cars & Concepts, which later became Livingston County's largest employer; married to Katie, three children.

Nearly 70% of the uninsured have full- or part-time employment. Need the following: tax credits for individuals who purchase private health insurance; medical liability reform; reduced regulation on health industry; establish health care savings accounts to encourage savings/individual responsibility; strong emphasis on preventative health care.

Debt reduction starts with congressional reform, term limitation and the abolition of influence-buying PACs. Also requires balanced budget amendment, presidential line item veto, controlling health care costs, reducing size of government, privatization, and Congresspeople who know how to live within their own budgets.

Education is the key. Need to teach benefits of recycling, conservation and reduced consumption. Also need to provide market-based incentives to encourage using recycled products. Necessary to establish reasonable balance between environmental and economic concerns; water pollution can be eased by separating combined sewage systems — a major environmental problem in Michigan.

Education Reform: schools of choice, finance reform combined with educational accountability, more state/local control, Head Start. Economic Recovery: less government regulation, entrepreneurial incentives, lower taxes, balanced budget, emphasis on agriculture. Reducing Crime: early education/intervention, boot camps, serve full sentences, isolate repeat offenders from society, strong victims' rights laws.

Trade policy based on free and fair markets with underlying emphasis on improving domestic industrial competitiveness. A fundamental reform of industrial policy will spur economic activity and allow the United States to compete with foreign countries. Changes in world necessitates international interdependence. World economy is only hope for world peace.

Michael E. Marotta

Libertarian, 42, Lansing. Associate of Liberal Arts Degree, Lansing Community College. Trainer/Developer, Kawasaki Robotics, Farmington Hills. Self-employed computer programmer and technical writer. Part-time technology instructor, Lansing Community College. Married to Laurel DeNoyer of Suttons Bay. Daughter, Selene Amanda.

The Hippocratic Oath begins, 'Above all, do no harm.' Doctors know that you will heal yourself given the right circumstances. Healthy living prevents most illnesses. The AMA doctors' union pays for political repression of alternative health care. Anyone who is skilled at healing should be allowed to work.

Close government bureaucracies, starting with the most recent and working back to George Washington's original cabinet posts. Reject vague promises of 'fiscal responsibility' from politicians. Do the hard work of freedom. Cut the budget. Now.

Pollution violates property rights. The solution is for the courts to enforce the property rights of people who are damaged by polluters. We should prosecute the individual managers who ordered the pollution. Get them out there to clean it up.

America jails more people than Russia and more blacks than South Africa. The government used to be the town marshal; now it is the town gossip. America is 250 million different people who have an absolute right to live their own lives by their own standards.

Individual reward for personal achievement. The automotive industry strayed from this and lost. Americans are not Germans or Japanese. Computers and university research are strong. Health care and entertainment are the future. Self-employment wins markets. Deregulate. Privatize. Constant education and growth are the key to personal accomplishment.

Frank D. McAlpine

No Party Affiliation, 42, East Lansing. JD, John Marshal Law School, Chicago, IL, 1976; BS (History, Political Science), Eastern Michigan Univ., 1971; Plymouth High School, Plymouth, MI, 1968. Litigation Attorney — 15 years. Married with two children, wife is a doctor at Sparrow Hospital; East Lansing homeowner, born in Fairgrove, MI.

National health insurance is inevitable for the U.S. To control costs and maintain accessibility, we must put limits on costs and services. This can only be done by a national health care program where the Federal Government as the single payer sets limits on fees and services.

Reducing the deficit is a matter of political will. We have sufficient income. Billions are spent on special interest projects. Eliminate farm subsidies and outmoded New Deal programs. We do not need new fighters, submarines or tanks. The budget, including the growth of entitlements, must be examined.

I would not tell the voter to choose between jobs and a clean environment. A clean, safe, healthy environment is not incompatible with an industrial nation. Cleaning up the environment will create jobs. Insist that the Environmental Protection Agency Act vigorously enforce the present laws protecting the environment.

Crime: If we intend to control violent crime, we must enact reasonable handgun control on a nationwide basis. Foreign Affairs: The U.S. should use its tremendous influence to promote democracy, respect for human rights, and peaceful resolution of disputes. Taxes: The Tax Code must be overhauled to make it fairer, simpler.

The U.S. trade policies must be focused upon maintaining good high-paying jobs in the United States. Lofty economic principles of free trade and open markets must be tempered with the understanding that the U.S. cannot allow its manufacturing base to go overseas.

Democrat, 62, Flint, MA, U of M, 1961; Teaching Certificate, Univ. of Detroit; BA, Sacred Heart Seminary, 1952. Teacher, Flint Central High School, 1956-64; Univ. of Detroit High School, 1954-56. U.S. Congressman, 1976-present; Mich. State Senator, 1974-76; Mich. State Rep., 1964-74.

According to recent studies, administration and billing make up 24 percent of costs in the American health care system. Some experts believe that several plans before the Congress would save billions annually in administrative costs, enough to help provide coverage for the 27 million Americans now without health insurance.

As a member of the House Budget Committee, I have helped reorder our national budget priorities away from our changing defense needs and toward meeting domestic needs such as education, child care, housing, and transportation. Controlling the ballooning deficit will require tough decisions on spending cuts, revenues.

We must rely greater on recycling and waste reduction programs. I have co-sponsored legislation that promotes markets for recycled goods and encourages our government to buy recycled products. My bill, the 'Michigan Scenic Rivers Act' will help protect our Great Lakes by limiting pollution into the rivers that feed them.

As chairman of the House Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary and Vocational Education, I have played a major role in education reform and federal funding for proven programs. I have drafted federal laws designating some of Michigan's lands and waters as National Wilderness, Wild and Scenic Rivers, and National Recreation Areas.

I believe we desperately need federal leadership that pursues national trade and industrial policies that encourages American companies to keep their jobs here and tells other countries that if they are to continue to have open access to our markets, we must have open access to theirs.

Republican, 30, Clarkston. BS (Biology), U of D; Post grad work includes Russian, Spanish, Computer, Marketing. Experience in health care, research, practice management consulting, marketing. Raised on a farm in Clarkston, active in the Republican Party; a member of Advance Teams for President Bush and Vice President Quayle.

National health insurance would lower quality of care, increase taxes and restrict availability. Instead we must reform: management of Medicare and Medicaid, administrative expenditures that account for 25% of health care dollar, tort procedures, work with the President's planned voucher system for low income Americans and provide preventive medicine.

Without reducing our national debt, we are undermining our economic health and competitive future. Must elect a new congressional delegation that will: pass a balanced budget amendment, give the President line item veto, reform the health care system, reduce capital gains tax, reduce spending, taxes and regulations, encourage research, investment and growth.

Government should provide incentives for recycling waste and reducing waste generated. Government and business must work together to preserve our environment while allowing us to remain technologically and economically competitive in the global market. Also, encourage investment in environmentally friendly alternatives of production.

Stimulate economic growth, provide competitiveness by reducing unproductive regulation and encouraging research and investment through tax incentives. Assist agricultural industry in continuing to be the 'breadbasket' of world by making products available and competitive in foreign markets. Work to reduce crime and provide educational opportunities. Consider voucher system for schools.

I believe in fair trade not free trade. Our government must negotiate equitable trade policies that will expand markets for our products. Investment in other nations and imports ensures lower prices for goods we consume and provide a higher standard of living. It also strengthens our corporations.

I advocate the establishment of a universal state-run medical system to provide free health care, taking the profit out of health care. It should be paid for through the socialist reorganization of the economy, including the nationalization of the banks and the entire credit system under workers' control.

I advocate the immediate suspension of all interest payments to American and international bankers who hold billions in U.S. government bonds. I favor the complete elimination of the 'defense' budget and the reallocation of the money saved for truly productive and peaceful purposes.

As a member of Congress, I would organize hearings to expose the role of big businesses such as lumber, mining, nuclear energy, and how their drive for profit systematically poisons the environment. I would also strive to expose the brutal disregard of capitalism for the health and safety of workers.

My three top domestic concerns are: 1) The wave of mass layoffs and lack of decent paying jobs; 2) The growing attack on basic democratic rights, i.e. the right to a union, etc.; 3) The decline in the quality of education. These problems are bound up with the decay of the profit system...

Under capitalism, trade policy is based on defending the profit interests of the multinational corporations that rule the world. National chauvinism is used to blind the people to the sordid material interests that determine the 'trade policy' of the U.S., no less than its competitors. I favor a socialist trade...

Half of the $800 billion we spend each year on health care is preventable. I will promote prevention-oriented health education and natural medicine programs that have been proven to cut costs in half. With $400 billion in savings each year, we can afford to provide health care to all.

The best way to eliminate the deficit is to solve the problems that inflate federal spending. The Natural Law Party's platform includes scientifically validated programs that will revitalize the economy, cut health care costs in half, reduce crime, dissolve urban tensions, and remove the need for massive defense expenditures.

First, cut our consumption of fossil fuels in half by promoting energy conservation and renewable energy. Second, solve our solid waste problems by utilizing garbage as a resource for generating recyclable materials, compost, and energy. Third, reduce agricultural pollution and soil depletion by promoting sustainable natural agriculture.

Education — Introduce programs that directly unfold the intelligence and creativity of students and reduce tensions in our schools. Crime — Introduce programs that reduce individual and collective stress, programs proven to reduce crime and recidivism. Abortion — Reduce the number of abortions through prevention-oriented education and stress-reduction programs.

All nations will prosper most when international trade is both free and fair. I support free trade, but we must ensure that trade agreements are fair and that no trade practices discriminate against American goods. Displaced workers should be retrained and given assistance so they can join industries that prosper.

HEALTH INSURANCE

It is estimated that one out of seven Americans has no health insurance. The cost of medical care continues to skyrocket, rising more than twice as fast as the consumer Price Index in the last 10 years. Our nation spends almost 12% of its Gross National Product on health care, twice the amount spent by other industrialized nations, all of which have universal health coverage. How can we solve this dual problem of the high number of uninsured and the overwhelming cost of health care and still maintain quality and comprehensive coverage for all citizens?

FEDERAL DEFICIT

Our federal government continues to spend more than it takes in. Hence, we have a rapidly escalating national debt which is now nearly $4 trillion. The interest on the debt stands at over $200 billion annually and is the second largest expenditure in the budget after defense. How can we reduce the deficit and, thus, the national debt and start using our financial resources for productive purposes rather than for paying interest?

ENVIRONMENT

We must mandate health care coverage for all individuals using the existing insurance system. We should designate a government buyer for those individuals who can't buy insurance through their employer or other organization. Increasing competition in the health care delivery system will help reduce the trend of escalating costs.

We should reduce the duplicate services throughout our government and eliminate expensive weapons such as the B-2, SDI and Seawolf Submarine from the military budget. We should improve collection of the $100 billion in unpaid taxes per year. Every $1 we spend in collection will net $4 in revenue.

I would hold the federal government to the environmental standards it has set for all of us. As one of the worst polluters, the government must be accountable. I would work for increased research and tax incentives for alternative cleaner burning fuel and renewable energy sources.

Education: I would support increased funding for education and promote experimental schools to develop innovative solutions to the problems. Inner Cities: I would support Jack Kemp's proposals as a starting point to reinvesting in our inner cities. Reproductive Rights: I would support legislation preserving a woman's right to reproductive choices.

Our trade policies must be based on a fair and level playing field. We should demand that our trading partners have the same environmental standards and that their citizens receive a living wage. We should not trade with countries who have no respect for individual freedoms such as China.

Reform is desperately needed, but importing Canada's system into the U.S. or turning health care over to bureaucrats in Washington is no answer. We need to bring together the business community, the medical community, insurers and consumers to develop national strategy to ensure access, affordability, choice for all Americans.

We can tackle the deficit if we run the government more like a business, looking at the bottom line and making sure that we get results for the money we spend. To counter congressional tendencies to excess, we need a Balanced Budget Amendment, accompanied by line item veto authority.

Recycling helps reduce our nation's garbage glut. However, while recycling cuts trash, it also increases the supply of recycled materials. We need to create a market for these goods. Providing federal tax incentives for those using recycled goods and developing market-based recycling programs is critical to solid waste reduction.

The prolonged recession has meant real pain in Michigan. Growth-oriented policies are needed to create new jobs. Our future begins with quality education. We will see improvements once competition enters the education system. Nothing can be accomplished without fundamental reform of Congress. Term limitations and PAC controls are key.

Maintaining America's competitive position in the world economy is particularly important to my district. We need to insist on a level playing field when it comes to international trade; make sure that our education system is second to none; and free our businesses to compete at home and abroad.

Dramatically reduce health care costs through 1) stopping ludicrous malpractice awards, 2) eliminating mandatory FDA drug approval, 3) ending coercive AMA restrictions on practice of medicine, 4) transitioning government out of health care business, and 5) living better. If you like the VA, you'll love full government health care system.

Ethically, no justification exists to confiscate wealth through compulsory taxation, the means by which eradicating the national debt is planned. The context free moral act is to repudiate the debt. The context sensitive moral act is to radically reduce government taxes and spending, selling appropriate government assets, ending debt soon.

In a world based on individual rights, pollution is aggression. Reassert property rights and common law remedies to enable successful legal action against demonstrated polluters. Establish ownership in natural resources. Legalize hemp. Stop subsidizing automotive transportation. Collectivist behavior in ecology is particularly deadly; witness environmental catastrophes in former Eastern bloc.

Want to (overnight) cut the murder rate in half, save children, decimate criminal gangs, and strike a major blow for the Bill of Rights? Repeal the drug laws. Drug prohibition — supported by Democrats, Republicans, Nazis, miscellaneous tyrants and psychos, prison builders and bad cops — is immoral, unconstitutional, and disastrous.

History shows when goods, services, and freedom-loving people cannot cross borders, tyranny and war do. Worldwide, open borders and eliminate restrictions on free enterprise. Simultaneously, eliminate state welfare. America, a nation of immigrants without government hand-outs, became a productive giant. So can all. Crush the planetary state, move forward.

Controlling costs is the key to maintaining and eventually improving the level of access to health care. These efforts will lead us toward our goal — better, more rational health care delivery that's...

Reducing the federal budget deficit requires tough choices like those in the $500 billion 1990 deficit reduction agreement. The problem of controlling overwhelming costs and the continued maintenance of comprehensive coverage for all citizens is one that can be solved by instituting small business insurance reform, medical malpractice reform, and a tax-based approach. The tax-based approach is the creation of health care savings accounts and refundable tax credits to workers and their families.

Obviously, 'pork' must be cut. However, needed expenditures do not have to be cut to begin reducing the deficit. We simply need to limit their growth to less than expected revenues. By applying the difference to debt reduction, we will, in due course, more intelligently allocate scarce resources.

Protection of our environment directly affects our quality of life. I would lead the fight to stop the storage of low level nuclear wastes near populated areas, demand legislation that will protect our Great Lakes from medical and other wastes, and institute higher fines and punishments on illegal polluters.

1) Crime: I would push for legislation that would make criminals face mandatory sentences as well as pay for damages. 2) Education: We need more accountability in our schools. I am for schools of choice. 3) Legislative Reform: To include term limits, Congressional staff cuts, campaign reform, firmly tie programs to available resources.

My first priority is to see to the short and long term economic well-being of the United States. We should encourage free trade worldwide, with trade constraints only to those nations that enforce tariffs on U.S. products. Also, the basic principle should be reciprocity.

A significant amount of American medicine is subsidized, causing the private sector to take advantage of giveaways. Lower cost in other countries is because of even tighter regulation and has resulted in less medical care. Get government out of medicine and health care will be much more plentiful, less expensive.

You simply stop the increase in spending. Our government continues to increase spending regardless of the debt or current income. The individual citizen would be jailed if he or she handled their finances the same way. You reduce spending to constitutional functions and the debt would disappear.

Government laws have removed private rights of action. This has caused government land, farm and forest subsidies to make natural resources sell for below true market prices and, thus, be wasted in all respects. Private ownership will produce the greatest amount of environmental harmony.

We must allow people to keep what they earn, and do so by eliminating the IRS (there are many other sources of revenue). We must eliminate the economic regulations that stagnate our economy. And, we must return choice to people in all aspects of their lives, especially in education.

Our 'government' should not have a 'trade policy.' Trade should be a function of free contractual relations among the people of the U.S. and those of other countries. The government should not be involved. America could produce the best, if allowed to do so.

IMPORTANT ISSUE

What do you see as the most important issue in education today? What is your stand on that issue?

The Robin Hood Act which has taken money from suburban schools has deprived many districts of necessary funding for basic programs. We must not rob Peter to pay Paul. We cannot impoverish our schools. We must have comprehensive tax reform to insure quality and educational opportunity for all.

Bringing back choice will bring back literacy. Let parents turn their tax dollars into tuition for the school of their choice! Let teachers own and operate schools and profit from a job well done! Let students mix work and school so they understand how knowledge is applied!

Equal funding and quality education for all students. End Michigan's apartheid education system which provides twice the funds for rich suburban districts. Immediate funding parity for poorer, working class and rural districts. Tax corporations and rich, dismantle the Pentagon to fund quality education and meet human needs for all.

Education should develop full mental potential. Underlying cause all problems confronting education today. Most basic element in education — consciousness — is missing. Support implementation scientifically validated programs which increase intelligence, promote mental, physical health, well-being: Head Start, nutritious lunches, transcendental meditation, other programs proven to work.

1) Increasing administrative efficiency by: a) encouraging units to maximize revenue and minimize cost; b) maximizing enrollment in underutilized units without increasing costs; c) encouraging efficient utilization of space by charging for it. 2) Discontinuing less valued programs in favor of doing only what we do best or what is most needed.

I am not in favor of regulating speech even when it is offensive, as I believe in the primacy of the First Amendment. I would instead minimize the occurrence of offensive speech through sensitivity training materials which emphasize respect for all people and their particular uniqueness and sensibilities.

REBECCA MCGOWAN

Democrat, 44, Ann Arbor. BA (Government), Lake Forest College. Manager of governmental affairs, Industrial Technology Institute. Formerly served as senior aide to Vice President Walter Mondale and as Legislative Assistant to U.S. Senators Adlai Stevenson and Frank Church. Married to Michael Staebler; mother of a baby daughter.

The university must maintain constant vigilance against the proliferation of layers of administration and must efficiently use its physical facilities to ensure that its resources are devoted to the greatest extent possible to its educational and research missions.

The university should actively encourage a campus atmosphere where such incidents rarely occur. Specific incidents should be dealt with in ways which are consistent with the constitutional right of free speech.

NANCY LARO

Republican, 43, Ann Arbor. BA, U of M. Certified Public Accountant; President of a management corporation; member of various boards of directors. Married to David Laro, Regent Emeritus of U of M. Two daughters: Rachel, U of M, BA, 1991; U of M Law School. Marlene, Georgetown Univ.

Cost containment would not be enough. I would support a continual policy of cost reduction. Using profit centers that would place the responsibility for cost reduction and quality maintenance in the hands of those that have daily involvement and the greatest understanding of their operations, would be most effective.

The university community should enjoy the same rights and procedural protections under the U.S. Constitution as other citizens and should be governed accordingly. Those that use legal, but offensive language, need to be elevated to a higher standard of behavior by academic role models in a rich educational environment.

NEAL NIELSON

During my 8-year tenure on the Board of Regents at U of M, the budget for the university has changed from $900 million dollars to $2.2 billion dollars. In light of recent revelations, via AP and Gannett News Services, which indicate a 217% per semester tuition increase at U of M from 1981-91, I feel demands scrutiny and justification for that much of an increase. 1) Require all professors to teach in the classroom at least 30 hours per week for 3 semesters per year and be able to speak English fluently. 2) Increased use of audio visual systems so that professors may present taped lectures while they are simultaneously teaching classroom recitation sections to others.

No educated person uses this type of language but the university is incapable of acting as 'thought' policeman. Private civil libel suits are available for language victims. Reduce tensions by providing equal treatment to all and special privileges to none. All are God's children. Eliminate multi-culturalism. Promote unity — not confrontation.

JAMES LEWIS HUDLER

Libertarian, 40, Chelsea. Graduate work, U of M, Eastern Mich. Univ.; Bachelor's Degree, U of M; Associate's Degree, Jackson Community College. Active in civic, university affairs in Ann Arbor; Advisor to U of M student political and philosophical groups.

a) Privatization of university functions (i.e. cafeteria services, university buildings). b) Return security of U of M campus to democratically monitored city police. c) Stop enforcement of victimless crime laws on campus. d) Reduce administrative staff through attrition. e) Require all athletics to be self-supporting; no money from other university revenues. f) Lobby for less government regulation of university.

One hallmark of free society is free speech. Further, there is no place more important for there to be absolute First Amendment rights than on a university campus. The only way to deal with despicable language is by community censure and public boycott of the offending individual.

KRISTEN HAMEL

Workers' World, 31, Detroit. Pro-choice, anti-war, anti-racist, lesbian/gay rights, housing, stop budget cuts activist. Organized protests against KKK and U.S.-backed Israeli invasion of Lebanon while U of M student, 1982. Clerical worker at Wayne State Univ.; steward, UAW 2071. Former Newspaper Guild representative. Socialist activist, Workers' World Party member, 10 years.

Quality education is a right, not a privilege. Free tuition. Open admissions. Transform from racist, elitist institution to serving workers and poor. Guaranteed incomes for all students. Stop war research. Dismantle the Pentagon. Tax the corporations and rich to fund education and repay the workers and communities they've robbed.

Racism, sexism, lesbian, gay oppression are institutionalized problems at U of M. Full affirmative action with quotas to end discrimination and correct injustices. Teach real history of oppressed and workers. Stop elitism, militarism. Abolish armed campus police force. No free speech for racist, sexist terrorists. Full civil rights, democracy for students, workers.

1) Review and assure that costs are efficiently well-controlled through internal and external auditing and management. 2) Priority allocation of resources through the involvement of all levels of university staffs and students.

A proactive approach: a) Establishment of policies that affirm current laws, court decisions protecting rights of all individuals. Such policies should spell out consequences of such actions, but also provide for an open, fair process to review allegations. b) Provide awareness through campus communication vehicles including orientation, seminars, and newspapers.

BOB TRAXLER

Michigan State is at the end of a planned five-year effort to refocus, rebalance and refinance operations throughout the university. This activity will continue. I firmly believe that the Board should assist formulating long-term policies with the best interests of the university as the guiding principle, not micro-manage day-to-day operations.

I oppose offensive language. However, difficult to regulate due to 1st Amendment decisions protecting offensive language, thoughts. Univ. of Wisconsin repealed 'hate speech' rule following court. Supreme Court overturned St. Paul, Minnesota, ordinance prohibiting display of symbols, etc. arousing 'anger, alarm, resentment (based on) race, color, creed, religion or gender.'

Campus communities are environments that encourage the acceptance of diversity and freedom of expression. The campus should encourage people to express themselves in a manner that does not directly threaten or explicitly offend others while respecting one's personal rights for free expression.

RAYMOND J. ANCONA

The measures that I support to contain or lower costs without sacrificing the quality of education is to eliminate all contributions to politicians with university, taxpayer or student money! As a MSU Trustee I would try to get more support from business and labor.

It is not appropriate to handle on a university campus incidents involving offensive language, racial slurs and sexually explicit language unless the incident is violent, destructive or harmful! Any student who is violent or destructive will be ejected from the university!!!

CHERYL LABASH

Free tuition. Open admissions for workers and oppressed. Tax corporations and rich. Take Pentagon funds to provide free education. Universities should be centers for entire community. Workers should receive full wages while attending university like in Socialist Cuba. Childcare for students, workers. Ban racist, sexist, anti-lesbian anti-gay recruiters.

Problems stem from Capitalist system. Self-determination for oppressed students means speakers, educators, programs and language they choose. Must have responsible fiscal management, hold down administrative costs. Must understand university finances, work to ensure that difficulties that would sacrifice education do not emerge. Must remember that full-time faculty, other employees are essential to educational process. Costs are half of the issue. Must secure increased state and federal funding.

Expression of ideas that may be offensive should be permitted. Use of offensive language, racial slurs and sexually explicit language should not be tolerated. Violators of law should be handled as prescribed. If law is not violated, due process should be followed. Collective bargaining agreements must be followed when applicable.

GEORGE BASHARA, JR.

During the times of lowered expectations regarding state allocations, salary increases must be lower and reserve accounts for contingencies and physical plant and equipment must be tapped. These are only short-term measures. We firmly believe our standards are continually reaching a higher plane and will continue in that direction.

While I have great respect for freedom of speech, there is no room for racial slurs. I'm not sure what offensive language is, but it should be dealt with on a uniform and strict basis. Sexually explicit language is difficult to define, but if threatening, it should also be controlled.

I am considering the option of formula funding for higher education that is derived by headcounts as well as by type of enrollment and the high and low cost per contributor.

A university setting has the same projections that any place of public gathering. Where there is serious harm to an individual(s) and this harm resulted from language that was offensive or explicit we should weigh it against the constitutional projections that are guaranteed.

No salary increases. No more buildings. Sell some assets. University too large and cumbersome. Close suburban extension classrooms. More funds for public safety so students will come to main campus. Expand life-long learning to serve all taxpaying Michigan residents with an open, reasonable priced, video type, home correspondence degree program.

Public safety officers should ticket the vulgar fools, who would pay fines to support rehabilitation programs. Repeated violators or drop outs from rehabilitation should be booted off campus and banned from correspondence programs. Your freedom ends when you trample on the rights to a reasonably inoffensive, clean and safe academic environment

JAMES KAUFMAN

Tisch Independent, 32, Huntington Woods. BS (Health Administration), WSU; Mackenzie Honor Society, Certified Management Planner. Executive Director Labor Quality Health Care Institute; Environmental Labor Consultant re: health care, environmental and work related issues. Member of Kaufman family running statewide to improve the system of funding education to better serve the public.

We must work harder to contain the costs of university education in Michigan in the wake of a declining manufacturing and industrial tax base. We must have consolidation of different programs and move to avoid costly duplication. Use of computers for at home education for older returning students extends outreach.

There is always a balance, a tension between the First Amendment and the need to have an orderly quiet atmosphere in which to learn and study. The university must likewise achieve this balance in educating and providing leadership without unbridled censorship and intolerant behavior. The 21st century beckons us onward.

THOMAS W. JONES

Libertarian, 48, Detroit. WSU, 1962-64; Cass Tech High School, Detroit. Legal Research. U.S. Army, 1965-67.

Public education is a Socialist activity that must be abolished. The lack of competition in public education (due to crushing high taxes) is a direct cause of the social-economic decline in the country. Public education systems have 0 or minimal productivity standards connected with the private economy.

If 'fighting words' are used then criminally prosecute. If individuals are slandered then they should sue for slander. In all other cases, the First Amendment's freedom of speech clause should control. So-called 'politically correct' speech is tyrannical mind control and is intolerable in our free society.

KEVIN CAREY

Workers' World, 36, Detroit. Graduated WSU, 1992. African-American activist and former General Assistance recipient. Organizer Committee for Immediate Concerns that fought for tenure for African-American professors. Member WSU Nelson Mandela Reception Committee, Pan African Student Union and President WSU All Peoples Congress that fought racism, sexism, anti-gay bigotry and imperialism.

Free open admissions to all public universities. Decrease tuition by 50% immediately. Free health care at Detroit Medical Center to all WSU students. Eliminate parking fees. Free child care for WSU students and workers. Tax corporations and rich and dismantle Pentagon to fund education human needs.

WSU is a racist institution. Expand the African Studies Program. More tenured African-American professors. Adhere to Black students demands from 1989 sit-in. Abolish the racist English and Math Proficiency exams. Expand Women's Studies Program. Affirmative action in admissions, professorships and administration. Socialism means free quality education for all.

STATE REPRESENTATIVES

Michigan's state representatives serve two-year terms in the lower house of the legislature. They must be registered voters and residents of the district they represent.

Salary is $45,450, plus $8,500 for expenses and mileage for one round trip per week.

1. How would you provide for more equitable funding for schools? What alternatives are there to local property tax?

2. The Corrections Department absorbs a rapidly growing portion of the state budget. What changes would you make in the corrections system to reduce costs and increase effectiveness in the system?

3. As a state legislator, what would you do to address the shortfall in the state budget while insuring the quality of life is not further eroded?

34TH DISTRICT

JOHN F. FREEMAN, Democrat, 35, Madison Heights. Obtained B.S. at U. of M. and J.D. at University of Detroit; practice law at O'Connor & Youmans in Detroit. My community involvement enables me to understand the concerns of people and how government can help.

1. By increasing the State share of funding to 50%, so that the State share equals that of the local share. One alternative to local property tax for schools is to completely eliminate property taxes for schools, and provide funds through the State income and single business tax.

2. I would impose mandatory vocational training on non-violent criminals, not as a benefit or privilege to prisoners, but as a protection to society, so that criminals convicted of economic crimes will develop job skills and have a real alternative to crime once they are released.

3. I would plan a State budget that supports the quality of life that Michigan has to offer, which in turn, will attract business investment. This can be done by supporting education, protecting the State's natural resources, improving the transportation network and supporting with adequate funding, social services.

MICHAEL D. McCULLOCH, Republican, 34, Royal Oak. Graduate of Cooley Law School and Michigan State University. Life-long resident of Royal Oak and former County Commissioner. Member of St. Mary Church and Royal Oak Lions Club. Married with two (2) daughters.

1. I support a shift in school funding from property taxes to consumption taxes, such as sales tax. I believe property taxes for school funding are regressive and hurt persons on fixed income. I support development impact fees in rural areas would help support new or growing school districts.

2. I support the concept of "boot camps" presently available in the prison system for young first-time offenders, but would expand the program to include "boot camps" for county jail inmates similar to Camp Nichols in Oakland County. I support the use of prison inmates for unskilled labor.

3. I support Governor Engler's initiative to require welfare recipients to work or go to school. Over time, this will reduce entitlements. I support strict controls on spending, which will eventually allow tax revenues to outpace the growth in spending, without tax increases.

35TH DISTRICT

DAVID M. GUBOW, Democrat, 42, Huntington Woods. State Representative, 4th term; Chair Mental Health Committee; Vice Chair Judiciary Committee; Majority Whip; Graduate University of Michigan, A.B. Urban Studies 1971, University of Detroit School of Law J.D. 1974; Attorney; Married (Dottie), two children.

1. The disparity of resources between school districts is a sad commentary on our commitment to our children. The school aid formula must be fully funded using a blend of tax revenue resources that creates a fair and stable school financing. Modest sales or income tax increases could replace property tax.

2. Divert non-violent offenders to alternative, less expensive programs: boot camps, community corrections, electronic tethers. For youthful offenders use intensive probation, including drug counseling, education, job training and mental health services. This will break the cycle of repeat offenders and save money in the long term.

3. Cut budget where possible, utilize budget stabilization fund, eliminate programs no longer effective or serving purpose, review all tax expenditures and eliminate those not accomplishing intended purposes. Be fair to all segments of society so all share in the cuts while we stabilize our fiscal condition.

MARC WANAT, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

PETER FRIEDLANDER, Independent, 51, Ferndale. Ph.D. in American History. Assistant Professor at Wayne State University. Married, with a daughter and a granddaughter.

1. The great tax fraud: tax cuts for the rich, promises and pennies for the rest of us. Then shortfalls; then tax increases on working people. The remedy? Support independent candidates who represent the people, and who are not afraid to call fraud and treason by their rightful names.

2. No easy solution, maybe none at all. Since our leading politicians and businessmen are greedy lying swindlers, we shouldn't be surprised that our children emulate such role models. (It doesn't help that the government in Washington is more loyal to foreign bankers than it is to the American people.)

3. As the corporations throw us on the economic scrap heap while running to Mexico for cheap labor, we lose our jobs and our tax base. Under these circumstances, it is the duty of state representatives to defend the people against those in Washington and Lansing who are betraying our families.

36TH DISTRICT

MAXINE BERMAN, Democrat, 46, Southfield. B.A., University of Michigan; former Teacher; Legislator, 1982-Present; House Appropriations Committee; Member of numerous Boards.

1. 1% sales tax increase, dedicated; constitutional base of current level funding, including lottery.

2. A better job with education, remedial education, and job training would ultimately save millions in corrections costs.

3. I think we have to take a very careful look at those tax expenditures which don't work.

LAWRENCE J. STACK, Republican, 36, Southfield. Chartered Financial Consultant, Chartered Life Underwriter, Licensed Insurance counselor. Ten years with Prudential including six years as manager. Macomb Community College, Oakland University, American College. Southfield co-chair for Channel 56 PBS station. Married. Four children.

1. Eliminate present system. First, clearly define a basic education and the cost per pupil, with funding from state sources. Accommodate this expenditure by eliminating a wide range of unnecessary government spending and pork barrel programs. Use lottery revenue as originally intended, without reducing general fund expenditure.

2. Appoint more judges. Institute mandatory sentencing and major parole board reform. Toughen penalties for drug dealers who murder - life imprisonment without parole. Make greater use of electronic tethering, prison industries, community corrections programs. Restrict frivolous lawsuits. Fully enforce Michigan's Victims Rights law. Open the four prisons not currently in operation.

3. Do not agree with the assumption that current levels of state taxation or spending are either appropriate or necessary. Government has become too large and attempts to involve itself in too many areas of the lives of its citizens. Streamline government, eliminate "pork barrel" spending (Silverdome, horseracing, horsebreeding, county fairs).

37TH DISTRICT

ROBERT S. JURCZYK, Democrat, 39, Farmington Hills. Presently employed as an attorney with UAW Legal Services. Practicing attorney for 10 years. Education - J.D. Wayne State University 1981. B.A. Wayne State University 1976.

1. I support local control of schools. I also believe that more state funding should be available for schools. Use of lottery money, without a decrease in State funding from other sources should suffice.

2. Encourage alternatives to prison sentences for those convicted of non-violent crimes. Participation in substance abuse programs and therapy for those who suffer from addictions is crucial and must be encouraged.

3. Would attempt to cut expenditures by limiting or eliminating expenditures which are non-essential. I think those of us blessed enough to have jobs and/or viable businesses should assist those in need, voluntarily and, if need be, through our taxes. We may need temporary increase taxes as in 1983.

JAN C. DOLAN, Republican, 65, Farmington Hills. State Representative. 26 year resident of district. B.A. University of Akron, continuing education MSU and Madonna. Farmington Hills Councilmember 1975-88, 2 terms as mayor. Former owner/administrator Adult Day Care Center, teacher, hospital dietitian.

1. Adjust state aid formula to provide greater assistance to districts with lowest revenue per pupil. Guarantee K-12 budget a fixed percentage of state budget dollars. Sales and income taxes are equitable alternative to property tax. Consider giving charter millage authority to K-12 and limit frequency of school millage elections.

2. Expand boot camp program. Provide workable alternatives to prison for non-violent offenders through more community service programs. Initiate labor intensive employment programs in cooperation with the private sector at prison sites. More off-site weekend detention coupled with instruction time for drunk driving paid by convicted persons.

3. Pass balanced budget by a date certain. Consider two-year budget. Identify source of revenue for any new program. Use honest revenue and spending estimates. Prioritize and allocate resources according to need, not greed. Have standing committees oversee budgets for their area rather than special subcommittees of Appropriations Committee.

ROBERT M. HAVEY, Democrat, 43, Wixom. Graduate Oakland University, B.A. Presently employed at Ladbrooke Corporation. Have worked as Teacher and Journalist, and as a business owner. Serve on Parks & Recreation Commission. Also Chair man of Quality of Life Commission City of Wixom.

1. Set an amount for each student that will cover the cost of education. Look at the Detroit Compact to get equitable funding will look at the sales tax as an alternative. Support legislation that would put State Lottery money back where it belongs.

2. The prisons must become more self-sufficient making clothes, growing food, repairing, cleaning anything that makes it a community. Some product development so they can be taught skills they can use on the outside. Proper funding of education first may allow us to avoid costs later. I'm a great believer in (...)

3. Look to attract more businesses creating jobs, got to work on our infrastructure, putting people back to work at jobs they can live on. What happens to the quality of life where you had a choice of who worked and who raised the children. Why? Do both parents now (...)

WILLIS BULLARD, JR., Republican, 49, Milford. B.A., University of Michigan; J.D., Detroit College of Law; Attorney-at-Law; State Representative for ten years. Former Township Supervisor & Trustee.

1. Presently, there is an over reliance on the local property tax to fund schools. General fund expenditures for schools should be increased, and these increased revenues targeted to districts with the lowest revenue per pupil.

2. Increase use of the Community Corrections Act and workable alternatives to prison such as the tether program for non-violent offenders. Expand boot camp program to install personal responsibility in more first-time offenders.

3. Reform the appropriation process to allocate state resources to priorities, not special interests. The state does not have a revenue problem, it has a spending problem. Quality of life is not eroded by prudent budgeting.

K. MARK ELSHOLZ, Libertarian. Material not available at time of printing.

39TH DISTRICT

KIRK D. NEMER, Democrat, 30, West Bloomfield. Economics degree-magna cum laude - The American University, Juris Doctorate - Wayne State University, Professor - Constitutional Rights, Legislative Attorney - United States Congress, Legal Clerk-West Bloomfield Township General Counsel, Legal Clerk-U.S. Transportation Department General Counsel.

1. Taking funds from one school district to another hurts our schools. The lottery was established to fund education. We need legislators to ensure that funds raised for education will be used for education! Legislators should not betray public trust by directing education funds elsewhere.

2. Past eight years, Michigan built more prisons in history, 1992-93 budget - $66 million - new jails. System not working, violent crime increasing. Need to stop violence, protect society. Make criminals repay victim and state for cost of incarceration/crime. Eliminate roots of crime: educate, rehabilitate criminals so not dangerous when released.

3. Stop wasteful spending through zero-based, long-range planned budgeting, reviewing entire budget not only annual increases, cut programs no longer needed. Start reviewing Michigan's Tax Expenditure budget, which is almost equal to the General Fund Budget and not evaluated in the current budget process like other state expenditures.

BARBARA J. DOBB, Republican, 42, Commerce. Certified Public Accountant. President of accounting firm. Bachelor Degree in Accounting, Masters Degree in Taxation from Walsh College. Commerce Township Planning Commissioner. Representative of State of Michigan for the 24th district.

1. I support a 50/50 plan with a constitutional amendment earmarking lottery proceeds for education. I'm against any use of the "Robin Hood" tax funding idea. This program does not create a permanent resource for funding, but rather a short term solution to a long-term and very serious problem.

2. Streamline and reduce ineffective and bloated programs which add to the rising cost of corrections and serve no real purposes. Focus on the re-education and self-improvement of the individual rather than simply building holding cells for individuals whom we do not attempt to help.

3. Bring the house budget in line with the regular budget process with line items for each expenditure so members know the spending plans. Pass a balanced budget by a certain date. Define revenue source for any new state program. Use and follow honest revenue and spending estimates.

DAVID NAGY, Libertarian, 39, Wixom. Lincoln Park High; Walsh Institute, Accountancy; Professional Seminars. Self-taught programmer, Small Business Consultant Computers/Software. Treasurer/

Director, Lincoln Park Jaycees; National Association Accountants; Michigan Adoptive Parents Association; FER America, Inc.

1. Private schools educate half cost public, average about $5,000 year/student. School financing should privatize, teachers having voting stock, controlled with competition, consumers, students, parents. Tax credits anyone, any company, for student's benefit, public or private. Compulsory attendance protect government schools from competition, no incentive to reduce costs.

2. These institutions can be privatized as currently being done in 40 states already, including vocational training, drug treatment, medical services and other services. These items answered by The Mackinac Center's 1989 study, Hillsdale College economist Dr. Charles Van Eaton, "Jail Overcrowding in Michigan: Public Problem with Private Solution".

3. You say shortfall, but State Treasurer says that '91 over '90 receipts increased by $2.4 million, excluding securities, while disbursements increased $2.7 million. Voting out incumbents who in past 2 years have passed nearly 1,000 legislative bills, defeating about 200, would improve the quality of life advantageous to us all.

SCOTT SITNER, Democrat, 27, Birmingham. Attorney - J.D. Detroit College of Law, cum laude, B.A. Kalamazoo College, Member-State Bar of Michigan, staff member-Congressman Les Aspin (D-WI), Volunteer-District Office-Congressman Howard Wolpe (D-MI), Lifelong Resident of Oakland County.

1. I propose a shift in funding from some state agencies to educational funding, in addition to a temporary 1% increase in sales tax with the funds provided equally to Michigan school districts. I propose a reworking of state lottery so more funds are sent to schools than to lottery administration.

2. I propose privatization of the correctional system, either in whole or in part. This would reduce the financial burden that the Corrections Department imposes on the State budget, while likely increasing jobs and bringing new businesses into Michigan. This will free up funds for other State programs such as education.

3. The budget shortfall can be cured by an influx of new jobs, business and revenue into the State. Changes in the tax structure will make Michigan attractive to out-state companies, thereby bringing in new jobs and raising tax revenue, along with increased consumer spending.

JOHN JAMIAN, Republican, 37, Bloomfield Hills. Oakland University, Bachelor's Degree (1977), Birmingham Groves High School, 1972. President of Ameristaf f, Inc., which is a nursing services company employing over 100 individuals. Elected as State Representative in a special election in August 1991.

1. More equitable funding for schools can be achieved through a restructuring of the state aid formula via alternatives such as income tax or sales tax. Tax base sharing or "Robin Hood" scheme is unfair and unacceptable. The state should also consider legislation to give charter millage authority to K-12 schools.

2. It is my belief that the state must expand its boot camp program as a long-term prevention of recidivism among troubled youths. Michigan must also explore alternatives to incarceration for non-violent offenders, such as community service programs.

3. The legislature must reject supplemental appropriations that simply serve special interests and not essential state services. Legislative staff, perks, and mailing privileges must be sharply curtailed, and I support the continuation of Governor Engler cuts in state governmental administration.

41ST DISTRICT

RHONDA L. ROSS, Democrat, 31, Royal Oak. Engineer, Air Pollution Control Group, General Motors Research and Environmental Staff. B.S. and M.S. in Chemical Engineering from Wayne State University. Experience includes leadership roles in various professional and trade associations.

1. Equitable school funding requires equity in both the collection and distribution of tax dollars. Towards this goal, the State must shift away from property taxes and replace that revenue through income and sales taxes. Also, regionalization of school districts would cut administrative costs while still allowing for expanded educational programs.

2. Reducing the growing costs of the Corrections Department requires a long term strategy emphasizing prevention through education. Shorter term goals include diversion of non-violent criminals into less costly alternative programs such as boot-camps, training and rehabilitation to reduce incidence of repeat offenders, and restitution programs to hold criminals accountable.

3. In the short-term I would focus on prioritizing expenditures and eliminating waste. More importantly, I would implement a long-term economic program to assure Michigan a leadership role in the world economy, with emphasis on economic growth, revitalization of the cities, and state-of-the-art educational programs.

SHIRLEY JOHNSON, Republican, 54, Royal Oak. Wayne State University; Oakland Community College. First and only female Republican member of the Appropriations Committee. Past Chairperson Oakland Co. Community Development Advisory County (administered $5 million annually). Past Chairperson - International Governmental Relations Study, League of Women Voters.

1. I do not support the "Robin Hood" approach. Some school districts have not increased their millage for years. They should not be rewarded with our tax dollars. Mix of sales, use and property taxes should replace sole reliance on property tax.

2. Over the past several years millions of dollars have been spent on the building of new prisons. It will cost to run them but certainly not what it cost to build them.

3. Eliminate the duplication of programs. Terminate programs that have had little or no effect, thus freeing dollars that could be used for other programs.

JON A. BULLER, Democrat, 45, Rochester Hills. Graduate of Oakland University (Pol. Sci), post Bachelor study in Engineering & Economics. President, Beesemberg Bindery Corp. Currently serve on Rochester Hills City Council. Candidate for State Representative, 63rd District in 1988.

1. The property tax for school funding is anachronistic. The State, through the income and sales taxes should provide the bulk of K-12 public school funding.

2. Improvement of neighborhoods. Educational opportunities. Employment opportunities to provide the inflow of new convicts is the only workable long-term strategy.

3. The example of the Blanchard Administration comes to mind. If the crucial criterion is to maintain quality of life, then the only alternative is to ask more of those of us who have maintained government. A temporary increase in the income tax is not unreasonable.

GREG KAZA, Republican, 31, Rochester Hills. Small businessman. Economist, Northwood Institute. Former Vice President for Policy Research, the Mackinac Center. B.A., Economics, Univ. of Detroit. Author, book, Michigan: An Agenda For the 90's. Summer Shakespeare. St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Rochester Hills.

1. Before the Lottery, Lansing and local school districts split education's cost 50/50. Over the past two decades, Lansing's contribution declined substantially, as legislators wasted hundreds of millions of tax dollars on welfare, Commerce Department programs and grants for Jacks on Prison inmates. I support 50/50 funding, and oppose any sales tax increase.

2. Privatization is the key to resolving Corrections Department spending, which tripled during the 1980s to approximately $800 million annually. Law-abiding citizens in the Troy-Rochester Hills area should not pay higher taxes to house prisoners. Corrections privatization exists in at least 10 states, and deserves serious consideration in Michigan.

3. I support Gov. Engler's efforts to downsize and streamline state government. My work at The Mackinac Center led Gov. Engler to cut hundreds of millions of dollars of waste from the state budget. I oppose any tax increase. Gov. Engler's cuts have improved, not detracted, from Michigan's quality of life.

CHARLIE J. HARRISON, JR., Democrat, 60, Pontiac. State Representative 1972-1980, re-elected in 1982, serving consecutive terms to present. Elected Oakland and County Commissioner 1970. Attended WSU and Detroit Institute of Laundering & Drycleaning. Tenured Member House Appropriations Committee. Serve as Majority Whip.

1. Equitable funding must be based on equitable revenue sources. We provide equity by turning away from the local property tax to other revenue sources such as sales and income taxes.

2. Prisons are for serious and violent offenders. Alternatives for other convicts must be used with societal safety guaranteed. Community corrections, boot camp, and other programs should be expanded.

3. Michigan's budget problems are structural, like all the other states. A long-term strategy that improves the economy and our educational system is the best. Further arbitrary cutting of programs will continue to erode Michigan's quality of life.

JOHN P. BUENO, Republican, 52, Pontiac. I have a B.A. in Economics from Oakland University. I'm currently working for NBD Bank as a Senior Manager in Retail Banking. I'm currently the President of the Pontiac City Council.

1. I'm in favor of the Robin Hood Educational plan. An alternative to property taxes is to raise the sales tax so you have an equal distribution of people paying for Education and everybody paying somewhat of their fair share.

2. More rehabilitative services in the private sector. Promote effective laws and stop producing rhetoric laws (i.e., mandatory sentencing). More education and preventative programs before the trouble starts. Increase services to the felons in the areas of job placement, vocation and family planning.

3. Privatize certain areas of state services, sell some of the assets the State owns. Maybe increase the sales tax as you lower the property taxes. Make all necessary cuts that don't affect education, health, seniors and children.

BILL GLOVER, Democrat, 49, Waterford. A veteran, I completed the apprenticeship for journeyman millwright. Attended W.S.U. Work for Ford Motor Company. Elected in 1988 as a Waterford Township Trustee. Planning Commission, Huntoon Lake Board, Oakland County and Waterford recycling sub-committees.

1. We must re-examine our tax abatements and deferrals, discontinuing them if they do not serve the targeted purpose. Also, we should rewrite our state procurement policy, allowing more competitive bidding among suppliers.

2. The tethering system seems to have merit for non-violent criminals. Also, we should mandate compensation from convicts for their incarceration.

3. It behooves all public servants to locate the waste in government and remove it. I would look in the direction of updating the procurement policy, and stop the tax abatement programs that have no substance to the citizens of Michigan. I would investigate the privatization of states services.

DAVID N. GALLOWAY, Republican, 41, White Lake. Eastern Michigan University, B.S. Degree/Secondary Education; Oakland University, graduate study. Pontiac Police Officer over 20 years; owner Master Clean Equipment Company, one of Michigan's largest laundry/dry cleaning equipment distributors; White Lake Township Trustee.

1. Education cannot continually fall on property taxpayers. State's General Fund should comprise 50% of school funding, as the Lottery promised. Alternative: Increasing sales tax, affecting residents and tourists alike. A better suggestion: NO tax increases ... budget within our means, as we must do at home and in business.

2. The Corrections Department is a disaster! Immediate Parole Board reform is necessary. Prisoners must serve at least minimum sentences - no early releases. Add time for misbehavior. Inmates should earn their keep in prison by reimbursement to victims and performance of public service. Penal institution "luxuries" must be eliminated.

3. Cut "porkbarrel" spending and pet projects; eliminate waste in unnecessary programs. Reduce welfare spending and abuse, and insist that those who are able must work, not live off of those who do. Instead of creating new programs, shift funds from discontinued programs to programs needing additional money, such as education.

1. A state aid formula must be devised to assure that students receive equal education while not penalizing the wealthier school districts. I could support a 1% sales tax increase if it was guaranteed for education. The voters will have to make the final decision.

2. I would increase use of the Community Corrections Act to provide workable alternatives to prison for non-violent offenders - also, expand boot camp program to instill personal responsibility in more first-time offenders.

3. I would totally reform the legislative appropriations process to allocate state resources to priority needs, not special interest desires. The state does not have a revenue problem, it has a spending problem. The quality of life is not eroded by prudent budgeting.

TOM MIDDLETON, Republican, 46, Ortonville. Married with three children. Presently State Representative for 61st District. Former dairy farmer. Past president and member of Oxford School Board. Graduate of Lake Orion High School and three years at Michigan State University.

1. Cut and Cap will require more state dollars designated for local operating of schools, thus reducing the tax burden on property taxpayers. School funding should rely heavier on sales tax. However, that takes a vote of the people and that will not happen until state government gains voter trust.

2. To make corrections more efficient and effective, we need to use modern technology and concepts (tether, boot camps, community service). We do not need bars and 10 foot fences for all offenders. Sort the prison population - drug offenders need rehabilitation, not to be mixed with thieves and murderers.

3. We need to set an objective or goal for both old and new programs, making sure that the people administrating these programs know the objective. If government does this, we will not duplicate programs which have the same goal. In short - more efficient government.

SCOTT M. SCARBOROUGH, Libertarian, 37, Waterford. BSME University of Michigan, 1978; Masters, Wayne State, 1988. Engineer, Ford Motor Company 14 years. Ran for Drain Commissioner, 1984; ran for State Representative, 1990.

1. Equitable funding of schools requires an end to tax support for individual's personal education. Public funding for private benefit is always inequitable and should be stopped. A voucher system is a viable first step in the privatization of education.

2. Elimination of laws which create victimless crimes would reduce correctional burdens directly by reducing prison volume and indirectly by increasing respect for the law and reducing corruption. If elected I will work to this end, allowing the corrections system more resources to deal with true, rights violating criminals.

3. Cutting and reducing state programs is an effective approach, but without first cutting regulations and taxes on business, such an approach is rather cruel since there are few private sector jobs for displaced workers and welfare recipients. Repealing business taxes and regulation is the first step in restoring state fiscal responsibility.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE

Oakland was the first county in Michigan to adopt a county executive form of government. Under it, the executive prepares the annual budget for approval by the Board of Commissioners, appoints and supervises heads of county departments and has veto power over actions by the Board of Commissioners.

Term of office is four years. Current salary is $106,245.

1. What innovations would you bring to this office?

2. What are your goals, both long range and short term, for the county?

ELIZABETH P. HOWE, Democrat, 55, Pleasant Ridge. Bachelor's degree, Michigan State University; Adjunct faculty, Walsh College; Former director, Michigan Departments of Labor and Licensing & Regulation, Michigan Youth Corps; newspaper editor; small business owner; executive, Bendix Corporation. Elected trustee, Michigan State, 1980.

1. Complete 1974 reform of county government: bring control of unaccountable entities such as road commission under elected officials. Bring government close to people, locating key services in office around the county; strong communication program, focus on listening to citizens. Forge alliances with Oakland Schools, colleges to attract job-producing companies.

2. Orderly growth and development, up-front delivery of costs of services by those who profit; redevelopment focus on older communities. Make Oakland a model for recycling/reclamation, eliminate incineration plans. Make law enforcement responsive to crimes against women. Continue in tradition of current executive by being positive force in the region.

L. BROOKS PATTERSON, Republican, 53, Waterford. L. Brooks Patterson is the Senior Law Partner in the trial firm of Patterson, Potter, Delisi & Carniak, P.C. in Auburn Hills. Previously, Brooks Patterson served 16 years as Oakland County Prose cutting Attorney from 1972-88.

1. Will propose and personally fund County's first Employee Suggestion Program to improve delivery of county services at lower cost to taxpayers. Will establish an "Urban Affairs and South Oakland County Programs Director." This underscores my commitment to Oakland County's mature communities and ensures their participation in Oakland County's future growth.

2. Population will approach 1.5 million by 2010. Must ensure quality growth within a diversified economy. Growth will put additional strain on infrastructure; immediate attention must be given to a meaningful public transportation program. Oakland County, with 900 square miles, 450 lakes, and 85,000 acres of parkland, must protect its environment.

1. As an assistant prosecutor, I have successfully tried dozens of capital cases. I have worked closely with victims of crime to assist them through the criminal justice arena. My experience as a school board trustee will enable me to work with educators and police to prevent drug usage among students.

2. Diversionary (probationary) programs for first-time, non-violent misdemeanor offenders, thereby freeing resources for more serious cases. MARTHA BLOM, Democrat, 67, Orchard Lake. A graduate of the University of Illinois, I have experience in counseling, program training and program coordination. I have dealt with people in individual, leadership and administrative capacities.

1. Making Clerk's office and services it provides more accessible to all the people in the County needs desperately to be addressed. Locations in south end of the County are available to establish satellite offices. Access to local government is the peoples' right. Raising fees for service is another way of raising money on the backs of those who can least afford it and need positive government services the most. Other constructive revenue sources must be found.

1. The Clerk/Register of Deeds Office has many documents that need to be shared by the public as well as other departments. Extensive computerization has been and optic imaging will be in place this summer. There are many documents we also must retain that do not get the use that we have mentioned above. We have gone into extensive review of other methods. Microfilming and document lamination are being used.

1. Job of County Treasurer is to efficiently collect taxes, responsibly invest and manage tax money and employees retirement money and pay all approved expenses. In order to efficiently complete these tasks, I want to be sure that entire department is adequately trained, has the latest and best equipment, especially computers, to serve the citizens of Oakland County. Further, the best money managers must be hired or consulted to get the highest, safe return on investment.

C. HUGH DOHANY, Republican, Novi. Attended Michigan State University and Wayne State University. Completing 24 years as elected County Treasurer. Being experienced in finance, money management and accounting, I believe I have the proven qualifications to continue as County Treasurer.

1. There are no major issues facing the County Treasurer's department in the foreseeable future. The office is completely automated using the latest modern technology for all functions. The office has consistently over the years returned millions of dollars from prudent investment earnings to the general fund while showing the smallest budget increases of all major county departments despite a 200% workload increase created by county growth.

1. The major issue is the elimination of the Drain office and consolidation of its functions into the Public Works area. The Drain office, Department of Public Works and the Road Commission have overlapping responsibilities, thus creating a bureaucracy and an inherent waste of taxpayer's monies. Within 1 to 2 years of taking office I will consolidate these areas under the County Executive, pending a Home Rule initiative, which could establish an elected Public Works office.

1. I've taken the lead to sponsor S.B. 936 to establish a Regional Water and Sewer Authority for S.E. Michigan. It would provide fair representation for 116 Communities who are customers of the existing regional system with regard to rate increases, for water and sewer services, capital improvements, expansion and major policy decisions that are acted on annually.

2. Oakland County needs to consolidate all public works functions under the elected Drain Commissioner to eliminate wasteful duplication.

1. Yes. Committee's findings were based on more up-to-date information than SEMCOG used. Regional planning already in general use, enhanced by occasional use of SEMCOG's planning staff. Don't need another layer of taxing authority between local governments and Lansing. Necessary to keep local governments in control.

2. Keep law enforcement at peak efficiency. Enhance programs of Work Release, restitution, victims rights, community service through Community Corrections Plan. Strengthen Mental Health System. Intelligent Vehicle Highway Systems and Advanced Traffic Management Systems should be implemented ASAP in balance of county. Solid waste plan conclusion.

1. Basically agree with final RPI report from Board of Commissioners. - Urban deterioration deserves serious attention but tax base sharing, diversion of certain area resources is not fair. - Regional development is good for the region's land use, and common transportation, but not for social or political issues.

Long Term Goals: - Decide on solid waste handling program - Establish a regional transportation system - Reverse urban deterioration and contain urban sprawl.

1. Urban sprawl is like the weather. Everyone complains about, but no one does anything about it. Oakland County's report denies the impact of: national and global economic changes; current and historic racism; and various federal policies. Voluntary regional planning is necessary to maintain and enhance quality of life in all communities.

2. Bring about open, honest, efficient, accountable government. Openness: Adhere to the letter and intent of "Sunshine" laws. Honesty: Use public funds and vehicles for public good. Efficiency: Combine roads, drains, and public works offices. Accountability: Respond to needs of citizens and local governments.

1. I agree that when looking for solutions to urban abandonment and deterioration, root causes like crime, inadequate education and high taxes should be seriously investigated. I agree that citizens are frustrated by high taxes and over-regulation, and would therefore be opposed to a regional body with additional taxing authority.

2. Incentives for municipalities/businesses to develop safe, innovative, solid waste disposal techniques. Continue to have strong law enforcement. County roads that are well lit and in good condition. Eliminate waste, adopt stronger fiscal responsibility measures in county government. Encourage preservation of natural resources like the streams, lakes and woodlands.

PATRICK KRESNAK, Independent, 29, Auburn Hills. Lifelong resident of Auburn Hills. Chairman, Auburn Hills Environmental Review Board, appointed by Mayor, March 1990, elected Chairman, November 1991. As representative of the city have worked extensively with county's solid waste management plan.

1. For the first time in the history of the Board of Commissioners, Auburn Hills is represented by a single district. I have proven leadership ability addressing environmental issues in our community. The health, safety and welfare of our community will have to be addressed regarding the county's solid waste plan.

2. Short term - eliminate the waste-to-energy facility, releasing taxpayers from $500 million bond liability. Propose sensible, effective solid waste plan. The current plan has been stalled too long. Long range - Implement energy management program. An effective plan could save millions of dollars. Savings could go to education senior programs and mental health.

DISTRICT 8

LU BATTAGLIERI, Democrat, 39, Rochester Hills. Resides in Rochester Hills with his wife and three children. Active in politics and community service. A teacher, graduate of Michigan State University, is currently serving as association president representing over 4,200 school employees.

1. No. Oakland County is a microcosm of the State. We cannot ignore the growth and change taking place in and around our county. We must enter into regional planning. A cooperative, more efficient way of handling change. Regional planning is a forum that allows decision makers to make better decisions.

2. Ending high taxes for mediocre services because of waste and mismanagement. Restructuring, streamlining, and consolidating duplicate and overlapping departments and commissions. Adequately funding mental health, police, courts, roads, etc., and eliminate waste-spending $15 million to study incinerators. To keep Oakland a county our children will want to live in.

SUE ANN DOUGLAS, Republican, 48, Rochester. Rochester City Council 1981-present. Small business owner/operator. Older Persons' Commission Board, Paint Creek Trailways Commission Board, Rochester Area youth Assistance Board, Rochester Republican Women's Club, H.O.P.E.. Attended Harper Hospital School of Nursing.

1. No, the final report supports business as usual. Oakland County must take a leadership role in promoting solutions to urban sprawl. If we don't address the issue of sprawl, our quality of life will diminish. Stabilizing growth through regional planning will ultimately save tax dollars and maintain property values.

2. Remove the incinerator from the Oakland County Solid Waste Plan/implementation recycling, composting and hazardous waste components of the plan. Take action to eliminate wasteful expenditures of tax dollars. Improve communication between Oakland County and local governments, businesses and residents. Find a cost effective way to provide needed jail space.

DISTRICT 9

TAMARA HENRITZY, Democrat, 29, Rochester Hills. I am the Chairperson for the Oakland County Young Democrats. I attained a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Information Systems and earned a Legal Assistant certificate from Oakland University.

1. The report is too simplistic. It assumes that the areas targeted for growth will make adequate and timely plans. In my district, unplanned development led to congested roads and strained utilities. There needs to be coordination between the two cities to deal with the increasing growth in this district

2. The County needs planning that is proactive, not reactive. We need to deal with such issues as solid waste and safe roads and before they become burdens too high to hurdle. The present Republican controlled commission has refused to act until absolutely necessary. The people of this county deserve better.

JOHN GARFIELD, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

DISTRICT 10

JEFF POTTER, Democrat, 40, South Lyon. Married to Andra. Children: Daniel, Michael, Jessica. Graduate Eastern Michigan University (Honors). Currently Mayor, South Lyon. City Council, 1987-1989. Employer, Ford Wixom. Member/Delegate Michigan Municipal League, SEMCOG, others. Member, Fellowship Evangelical Presbyterian Church.

1. Yes. I feel people move here for better environment for families. Land uses are best chosen by markets, localities not unaccountable agencies. Reject tax base sharing. Still county overreacted to advisory report. Stabilization of metro area can benefit all, reduce taxes here. County, SEMCOG, should coordinate and assist, not dictate.

2. Streamline operations. Regionalism: Our county should be friend, helper, not negatively controlling. Fairer road funding, growth areas. Recycling, newer technologies, optimize available landfills, including neighboring counties. Coordinate fragmented law enforcement. Stop pandering, dividing communities. Agree with Mark Twain: "Do what's right. This will gratify some people, and astonish the rest."

DENNIS N. POWERS, Republican, 49, Highland. B.A., M.A., U of D., J. D. Detroit College of Law, U.S. MCR Attorney, Trouble shooter with General Motors. Township Trustee 5 years. Library Board Trustee 10 years. Highland Township's Solid Waste Representative to County. Received Recycler of the Year Award, 1992 for government.

1. Yes. It should address: benefit rural and urban areas, which issues belong to state and to county, mutual planning without usurping local government rule, "Quality of Life" issues, e.g., safe streets, quality local education, equal public transportation for rural and urban areas and solid waste without placing burden on rural areas.

2. Revamp mental health programs to avoid "dumping" mentally ill on streets without sufficient backup support. Address concerns of Western Oakland County citizens and governments. Address root causes of urban deterioration and its long term effect on rural areas. Address solid waste issues with emphasis on implementation of regional MRF's first.

DISTRICT 11

CAROL DILCHER CHALMERS, Democrat, 48, Wixom. I am presently a licensed Realtor, applying for my appraisal license. My past employment consisted of caring for mentally disabled and the elderly. I also have been a piano tuner for 17 years.

1. I have not yet reviewed the final report. I would like to do so, before commenting.

2. I would like to see more county involvement in the area of health reform particularly in the areas of mentally disabled and the elderly. I will also work for county reform on the solid waste plan.

G. WILLIAM CADDELL, Republican, 57, Walled Lake. BS, D.C. Doctor of Chiropractic (25 years). County Commissioner (13 years). 32 year resident of Oakland County. Area business man 22 years.

1. I support the County's position on R.D.I. I see a Regionalism that embraces controlled, responsible Community development. One that promotes and fosters equity in educational opportunities, in property tax reform, in economics for business and industry and in the quality of life for everyone.

2. Fiscal Responsibility! As revenues decrease we must prioritize programs in order to meet the needs of the People of Oakland County. We must look for additional revenue - without raising taxes. We must be innovative in our delivery of services. Must continue to get the "biggest bang for our county dollar".

MARTIN W. HOLLANDER, Democrat, 62, West Bloomfield. Certified Public Accountant. Elected to Southfield City Council for eight years. Current board member of the Oakland County Economic Development Company. Chairman of the Governmental Advisory Committee of the Michigan Association of CPA's. Married.

1. No. The board of commissioners should analyze the needs of all its citizens. Regional development must be accomplished with the cooperation of its various communities, including SEMCOG. It must consider local plans, taxes, transit needs, racism and the environment. Public participation should be encouraged.

2. True Bi-Partisan cooperation could help make the county more efficient. The combining of various appointed and elected commissions, such as: Road Commission, Parks and Recreation, Public Works and Drain Commission would be very cost effective. We must adapt a solid waste management system for the short and long term.

SHELLEY GOODMAN TAUB, Republican, 52, Bloomfield Hills. University of Michigan BA Ed., 1961. Teacher 1961-1969. Medical Management 1970-1992. Cub Scout Leader. Cranbrook Educational Community Long-Range Planning Committee. Secretary & Treasurer Cranbrook Mothers Councils. Married, 3 children.

1. I concur with the report. There is a need to address the complex problems in Southeast Michigan. Regional planning should be on a give and take basis, however, presently it seems as if the suburban areas give and the urban areas take. All municipalities must remain autonomous and accountable.

2. Short Term: a. To insure 90% state funding for Mental Health. b. County resident hired for county jobs. Long Term: a. Better protection for witnesses and jurors. b. Accountability in Road Construction. c. Coordination and accountability of Social Services to families by a single representative.

BRIGIT HASSIG GREEN, Democrat, Franklin. M.P.A. - Oakland University; Branch Manager - The Reverse Mortgage Co. - initiating FHA insured reverse mortgage in Michigan; Former housing specialist - Area Agency on Aging 1-B and S EMCOG; Former Loan Officer - Rock Financial; Leadership Oakland - 1990-92.

1. As former SEMCOG staffer, regional planning absolutely necessary. Parochial visions will isolate communities. Scarce resources force larger visions for all to share in funds. Communities must look to recycle core neighborhoods or be victims of own spurious growth - and abandoned. 90's community management: Together we stand, divided we fall.

2. Endorse: Human service agenda. County management of mental health care system, presently state responsibility. Localize control and needs determinations - long overdue! Fiscal priority for older adult services funding. Expand property tax assistance role for older adult homeowners. Insure economic assistance mechanisms for communities.

THOMAS A. LAW, Republican, 49, West Bloomfield. Graduated Detroit Catholic Central High School, 1961, University of Detroit 1966, and Law School 1969. Practicing attorney for 22 years. West Bloomfield Twp. Trustee 6 years, Oakland County Commissioner - 1982- present.

1. Yes, it could be beneficial for communities to meet periodically to discuss regional planning problems. I do not favor a regional authority making planning decisions for communities because all communities have planning commissions fully capable of making these decisions. Also, a regional planning authority would create another layer of government.

2. Oakland County should immediately coordinate a county wide solid waste program involving recycling, composting and limited landfill. After this phase is operational, the County should then determine if additional disposal measures are required. The county should also implement a limited van transportation system to benefit senior citizens and handicapped.

DISTRICT 14

Member, Boys/Girls Club, Dispute Resolution, Breast Cancer Screening, Local Development Company, Community Mental Health, Finance, Personnel Chairperson, Camp Oakland.

1. No. Encourage revitalization of areas with existing infrastructure, balance with planned new growth. Promote cooperation among communities for effects of multi-community impact development. Require concurrency of support infrastructure, permit impact fees for new development. Emphasize preservation of woodlands, farmlands, greenbelts. Plan efficient use of dwindling state, federal dollars for infrastructure.

2. Implement solid waste plan by contracting or privatizing components with county as planning agent. Reorganize Mental Health services to meet specific needs of Oakland County clients if Full Management contract viable. Promote Boot Camps, particularly for juvenile offenders. Toughen Law Enforcement. Fine-tune budget, fight growth in non-essential programs, personnel.

DISTRICT 15

ISABEL DOYLE, Democrat, Birmingham. Withdrawn from active campaign for personal reasons.

DONALD W. JENSEN, Republican, Birmingham. Graduate U of D BBA; Retired Director Advertising and Public Relations, Burroughs Corporation; nine years Birmingham City Commission and Mayor; six years County Commissioner; County Finance and Public Services Committees, Chairman Personnel Appeal Board.

1. Basically no. Report refused the notion that urban sprawl is a contributor to the "urban and environmental deterioration". Agree with many of comments of County's RDI Committee, but strongly believe unmanaged destruction of forests and farmlands to build strip malls and office buildings creates urban abandonment and reduces quality of life.

2. County faces most serious problems in its history: unbridled growth creating crime, transportation problems; reduced federal and state revenues for needs of mentally ill, etc.; impending solid waste crisis. Goals: manage growth intelligently; protect citizens from crime; increase efficiency of service delivery; protect water, air, land from further deterioration.

DISTRICT 16

TERESA KRAUSE, Democrat, 77, Troy. Wayne State, B.S. Oakland County Commissioner. Teacher. Retired 1979. Involved with Senior issues. Chair Troy Senior Advisory Committee. Chair Oakland County Senior Power Day. Vice Chair Oakland Senior Advisory Committee.

1. No. Lip service given to Infrastructural development. No. Action concern over social issues were unfounded. Tax dollars of older communities helped underdeveloped communities. Now it is their duty to assist older communities by sound infrastructural development. But there is a reluctance to shared taxes. Cooperation is imperative or shambles.

2. Better representation for all of Oakland County. Reduction of property tax. Reduction of unnecessary waste, i.e. use of County cars for department heads. Develop a working plan to provide transportation for all. More cooperation within the municipalities and the 7 county area. Home rule for Oakland County. Solve the solid waste problem.

CHARLES E. PALMER, Republican, 61, Clawson. President, Palmer Custom Builders; Royal Oak High School; Continuing Education, Lawrence Tech; County Commissioner District 12, 1 term; Clawson Mayor and Council, 20 years; Past President, Michigan Municipal League; Chairman Michigan Construction Code Commission.

1. I voted against the County Commission's position because it did not, in my opinion, recognize the basic reasons for our regional problems, adequately address the issues, offer solutions or encourage dialogue to work on the most important problems which face us. We must work together for the common good.

2. Wise and conservative use of our tax dollar. Streamline mental health services in Oakland County by adoption of "Full Management" community mental health services contract with State. Seek solutions for regional transportation and control of water and sewer system. Support research and development of alternative means of refuse disposal.

WILLIAM D. BRINKER, Democrat. Material not available at time of printing.

KAY SCHMID, Republican, 55, Novi. County Commissioner. Hillsdale College. Planning/Building Committee - General Government Committee. Vice-Chair Republican Caucus. Vice President - Michigan Association Republican County Officials. SEMCOG Delegate - Task Force on taxes. RDI Study Committee Oakland. Purchasing Procedures Committee.

1. As a member of that Committee - YES. Regional planning deal with institutions regional in scope. Mass transit, museums, air/water quality. Address root causes of urban abandonment/deterioration: crime, inadequate education, high taxes, environmental degradation. Address "What's Good" for people not for government. Must maintain local control. No Regional Government.

2. Oakland County is one of most prosperous/successful counties in nation. Because of growth we've been able to continue good services to communities. Cutbacks in funding at National/State in tough economic times, demands effective management of services and fiscal responsibility. Maintain strong law enforcement and safe environment from crime.

DISTRICT 18

AL ZOLTON, Democrat, 67, Farmington Hills. BA, MA degrees, Michigan State University; Associate Professor in Theatre and Communications at University of Detroit Mercy; war veteran, actor, director; precinct delegate; commissioner candidate '86,'88, '90 Farmington Hills Council watcher; long-time political activist.

1. No. The bi-partisan flavor of the committee should be enhanced. As we enter the 20th century, we find that local governing units are even more inextricably tied to each other. Waste disposal, road, transportation, law enforcement, environmental and planning issues demand regional approaches. Related local issues should, however, remain local.

2. Short Term: Resolve the solid waste disposal issue; eliminate fiscal waste by eliminating duplication of services; make County services more accessible to citizens; encourage greater bi-partisan cooperation. Long Range: Work toward home rule; make the Road Commission more accountable to the Board of Commissioners; combine drain services with public work.

DAVID L. MOFFITT, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

DISTRICT 19

KEN MURRAY, Democrat, 54, Farmington. Degree W.S.U. Labor School; attended Madonna University in Safety/Fire Science. Construction Electrician. Police Recruitment Board. Peoples Community Hospital Authority, Westland. Candidate for State Representative, Farmington. Precinct Delegate. Emergency Management: Michigan State Police and Southfield.

1. On the report to this point (no), the final report will be issued later. There are (280) diversified communities in Oakland County that have similar problems (water, sewer, crime, flight, etc.). We can eliminate duplication of services and bring them under the consolidated umbrella of a regional plan (Home Rule).

2. Long Range: a regional plan (Home Rule) to cut duplication of effort in our communities, thereby freeing-up a surplus of revenue for needed road repairs and tax control. Short Term: immediate construction of the county trash incinerator before the bottom line grows any larger; putting the waste into road resurfacing.

DONN L. WOLF, Republican, 57, Farmington Hills. Incumbent; Committees: Vice Chair General Government, Personnel, Airport, National Association Counties Energy/Environment, Vice President Michigan Association Counties, Michigan Intergovernmental Relations. Former Mayor Farmington Hills. Detroit Edison Governmental Affairs Executive, Education: AB-Michigan, MA-ETS.

11. Yes. I oppose the formation of a new regional government with taxing powers and mandatory regulations. Effective regional planning is the result of voluntary cooperation that protects local home rule. Specific voluntary functional compacts can benefit the region and still protect the taxes and rights of each city.

2. Accelerate road and transportation improvements. Continue to strengthen law enforcement with the strongest stand possible against crime and drugs. Reexamine and implement a solid waste program. Resolve State/Local problems with community and mental health programs. Reduce budget expenditures by scrutinizing every County program as to its operations and necessity.

DISTRICT 20

LAWRENCE R. PERNICK, Democrat, 60, Southfield. B.S. Wayne State; President, State Insurance Agency; Past Chair - Board of Commissioners, Chair, Democratic Caucus; President - Michigan Democratic County Officials; Past Vice-Chair, SEMCOG; Oakland Traffic Improvement Association.

1. No. County Commissioners must study citizens needs recognizing and implementing solutions based on facts, i.e., taxes, local plans, racism, economic development and redevelopment, environmental facts & transit needs. These decisions can best be made in public meetings utilizing regional planning organizations such as SEMCOG.

2. County must streamline operations. Combine public works, drain & road operations. Revise Solid Waste plan to reflect community goals. Mental Health must be localized and financed by State. Local & County criminal justice operations must be coordinated. Growth development plan must be adopted. Roads & public transit financing created.

JAMES M. HARDIN, Republican, 35, Southfield. Bachelor Liberal Arts, Political Science Major. Public Policy Internship. Certified Paralegal all from Oakland University. Employed Forster Bros. investment. Republican Committee Oakland County. South Oakland County Republicans. County Executive Committee. Oakland United Republicans.

1. I agree with the Committees' final report. Regional planning should emphasize: area residents needs over those of government, concurrency and impact fees to support development, local home rule to solve problems, lower taxes and less bureaucracy, public safety and education to attract residents, and tax based funds kept where paid.

2. Long Range: community based correction system, mental health program that is community based and preserves individual's dignity, solid waste program that is both cost effective and environmentally sound. Short Term: County leadership that will listen and respond, tax incentives through cutting/eliminating property, capital gains, investment tax.

LILLIAN JAFFEE OAKS, Democrat, Senior, Southfield. Graduate - Wayne University. Commissioner - 5 years. Southfield Council - 8 years (President/President Pro-Tem), Governor's Appointments: Commission on Future of Higher Education, Cabinet Council: Jobs/Economic Development, Community Leadership: Advisory Boards - Providence Hospital, Lycee International.

1. No! Commissioners must recognize that in "today's world" the County is no longer an entity unto itself. Regional consideration and solutions involving development and redevelopment plans, transportation needs, taxation, waste disposal, racial confrontation, financing are all inter-related. This interdependency begs greater cooperation within structures such as SEMCOG.

2. County must streamline road, drain and public works operations making them answerable to the CEO. Sound, sensible planning and enactment of total waste disposal program. Greater local control of health and criminal justice programs. Institution of reasonable, regional transportation system. Control growth and overbuilding, utilizing existing infrastructure.

BEN MAYER, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

JOHN P. McCULLOCH, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

DISTRICT 23

DENNIS M. AARON, Democrat, 61, Oak Park. Business and law degree, University of Michigan; self-employed attorney; County Commissioner, 22 years; Service on County Library Board; County Hospital Board, Comprehensive Health Planning Council, SEMCOG; National Criminal Justice Planning Committee.

1. I voted "no" and rejected the County's report condemning SEMCOG's recommendations on the problems facing our region. The County's position was too parochial and failed to recognize that we must be a "partner" in the region or we will continue to see abandoned neighborhoods and under-utilized infrastructure.

2. Secure support for a solid waste plan with mandatory re-cycling and composting. Consolidate road commissioners and drain commissioner into elected Public Works Commissioner. Eliminate elected Clerk, Treasurer and Sheriff and place operations under office of County Executive. Increase funding for roads and for a reliable system of public transit.

JOHN T. FILLICARO, Republican. Material not available at time of printing.

EUGENE KACZMAR, Democrat, 66, Madison Heights. Former Madison Heights Councilman; Planning Commission and ZBA Member; SEMCOG delegate. Work: Retired, Facility Planning Engineer, Ford and GM. Degrees: Finance (MBA), Engineering (BSIE). Usher, 16 years, St. Dennis; past member, Dad's Club, Bishop Foley.

1. Don't agree. The Metro area has become a prime example of a "throw-away" society; We must preserve our infrastructure, not abandon it. Regionalization a "must" for land-use, mass-transit, water and sewer lines, libraries, parks and recreation, public safety, etc. Look to examples of Indianapolis and Minneapolis.

2. Improving the quality of life for the residents of Oakland County. This includes: equitable property tax and school funding system; good roads and transportation system; reduction in crime; and clean air and water. Short term: adoption of Road Commission 10 year plan, adoption of non-burn solid waste program.

MICHAEL J. MAYETTE, Republican, 28, Royal Oak. Ferris State University - B.S. Accountancy, Walsh College - Master of Science in Taxation. Certified Public Accountant, practicing in Royal Oak, Michigan. Member of: Royal Oak Solid Waste Advisory Board. Economic Development Committee - Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce.

1. Yes. Regional Planning should be approached on a cooperative basis by the various communities in southeast Michigan, rather than by legislative mandate. Such cooperation already exists; mandating regional planning would be a detriment to home rule. Concurrency/Impact fees should be voluntarily set by individual communities if they so choose.

2. Long range: Increase efficiency and fiscal responsibility in county operations without limiting services to the taxpayers. The tax base cannot continue to increase as it has; the ultimate economic impact on the budget must be addressed. Short term: Develop a workable solid waste plan. Implement an efficient regional transportation system.

RUEL EDWARD McPHERSON, Democrat, 55, Hazel Park. High school graduate, Community College, Criminal Justice Seminars, Constable, Special Deputy Sheriff. Councilman - Mayor Pro-Tem, Past President Kiwanis, Jaycees, Wrestling Coach/referee, County Bloc chairman SEMCOG, Mediator, OLSHA Executive Board.

1. No! I support SEMCOG's position on R.D.I.; growth management is essential to keep the good quality of life; good schools, open spaces and recreational areas in Oakland County. We have to assist older communities through revitalization to improve tax base, so that these communities can continue to be self supporting.

2. South-end support, stronger coordinated effort between law enforcement agencies. Eight Mile development. Rebuild and revitalize older cities to improve tax base. Improved transportation. Support mental health programs. Continue moratorium on incineration and support recycling/re-use to reduce solid wastes. Improve job career opportunities. Stress governmental ethics.

TIMOTHY L. KING, Republican, 37, Hazel Park. Vietnam Era Vet, U.S.M.C., Honorable, Enlisted, U.A.W. 417 former Committeeman. Member, Calvary Baptist. Board Member Hazel Park Little League Football. 5th Grade Basketball Coach, Roosevelt Elementary. Liberty U. - 3 years. Precinct Delegate 2 Terms.

1. Yes. Regional planning seems to be too large of a scope, and dangerous. Cooperation is another matter. Example: Hazel Park and Ferndale may wish to revitalize 8 Mile. The County could become involved. Detroit may see this as an incentive to develop the South side, Wayne County may become involved.

2. Law enforcement needs more help, mainly from the courts and the State house. Police and Sheriff's Dept. should not be doing their jobs in vain, they need support from each and every one of us. With a name like Oakland County, I think we need to do some "Greening" around here. Plenty.

Superlative legal research skills. Record of conscientious service. Assistant Editor - Michigan Appellate Digest. Taught "Health Law" at Mercy College. Adjunct Professor - University of Detroit. Ferndale native. 2. The key is good judges. Through greater use of Pre-Trial Services - Courts can learn of substance abuse histories before setting bail. Courts should use restitution more. Judges need to understand substance abuse. As a licensed social worker I have experience in this area. Violators must be held accountable.

DOUGLAS J. M. VOSS, 57, Madison Heights. B.S. University of Wisconsin. Doctor of Law, DCL. Registered Professional Mechanical Engineer. 15 Years Automotive Computer Engineer. Elected President Oakland County District Judges. Elected Governor American Judges Association by National Judges. Married 36 years, two children.

Administration of justice with integrity, compassion. Strong belief in God, country, family values, hard work, taxpayer cost free court and community work programs.

2. 18,200 vehicle alcohol related deaths each year. The impact of broken families, pain, unfulfilled dreams are the legacy left by drinking drivers. I applaud new legislation which requires swift, effective justice for victims and their families. Pray God the new legislation will help rule the drunk driver an endangered species.

47TH DISTRICT

JOHN J. McDONALD, Non-Partisan, 52, Farmington Hills, B.S. - U of D MA.ED - SWU. J.D. - Detroit College of Law. Former Teacher (1961-1964), Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor (1970-1973), Oakland County Commissioner (1974-1988), Private practice as Trial Attorney for last 19 years.

1. I have tried numerous criminal and civil cases, both as an Assistant Prosecutor and as a private attorney, in both State and Federal Courts. My private law practice over the last 19 years has been very diverse. I have the extensive trial experience that is required for a judicial candidate.

2. The increased criminal penalties, license sanctions, and the acceleration of disposition deadlines, from date of arrest to the date of final disposition date of drink driving offenses, should act as a deterrent to the drink driver and confiscation of licenses.

47TH DISTRICT

MARLA PARKER, Non-Partisan, 37, Farmington Hills. Magistrate, District Court for Farmington, Farmington Hills; Attorney, Farmington Hills office; Mediator; President, Oakland/Livingston Legal Aid; Director, Oakland County Bar Association; National Association of Women Judges; University of Michigan; Wayne State University Law School.

As Magistrate of this Court, I've decided hundreds of cases: traffic citations, felony arraignments, search warrants, sentencing; even performing marriages. In 12 years of criminal and family law practice in Farmington Hills, I've handled almost every kind of case that could come before District Court. I'm prepared to serve well.

2. Requiring speedier trials will get drunk drivers off the road faster, an overdue development. Drunk drivers who injure should be treated severely, including complete license suspension. Punishment must accompany treatment to effectively deter drunks from driving, so recent legal developments and the general stiffening of the law is most welcome.

52ND DISTRICT

BRISTOL E. HUNTER, 66, Clawson. Clawson High School, 1943. University of Michigan, B.A. 1949, L.L.B. 1952. U.S. Army, 1944-1946. District Judge since 1978. Municipal Judge/Justice of the Peace, 1959-1978. General Practice of Law, Oakland County, 1956-1978.

1. Fourteen years experience as a District Judge, plus nineteen years part-time Municipal Judge and Justice of the Peace. Continuing legal education courses and seminars specifically related to the duties of District Judge. General practice of law for twenty-three years.

2. Tougher sanctions on licensing of drivers who drink is resulting more effectively in their removal from the road. New statutory deadline for disposition of drunk driving charges is resulting in swifter adjudication and thus more effective control.

MICHAEL A. MARTONE, 45, Troy. Married, two children. BA, 1971, Wayne State University. JD, 1979 Detroit College of Law. Honorable Discharge, USAF Reserves. Former prosecutor, 12 years trial experience, civil and criminal. Presently employed with Troy personal injury defense firm.

1. Practicing trial attorney since 1979. Experience in criminal defense work before becoming a prosecutor. Extensive training and experience in the prosecution of drunk driving/death cases. Chief of OUIL/Manslaughter section of prosecutor's office. Experience in plaintiff's civil practice. Civil defense trial practice since 1986.

2. New law provides swift and sure penalties for drunk drivers. These increased penalties, along with mandatory sentences for second conviction and the elimination of hardship appeals for habitual offenders, should deter drinking and driving to some extent. It's a positive step that requires across the board application to be effective.

Sixteen years of public service; twice elected Mich. State Board of Education and its President two years; trial experience practicing in almost all Michigan courts in many geographic areas; extensive judicial experience; board member and writer for judges' professional journal; numerous awards including Michigan Education Association, schools and women's groups.

Neither. I apply the law without bias, leaving legislating to legislators and administering to the Executive Branch. I avoid mindless strict interpretations which bring absurd results and harm innocent victims. I favor vigorous approaches to the Court's administrative problems and decisive reassertion of its role as the state's judicial leader

Grosse Pointe Farms, 67. LLB, Wayne State Univ. Law School, 1949; BA (Political Science); Wayne State Univ., 1946. Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court. Sole Practitioner; Assistant Wayne County Friend of Court; Partner, Riley and Roumell; Wayne County Circuit Court; Michigan Court of Appeals; Michigan Supreme Court, Associate Justice and Chief Justice.

During my tenure on the Court, I have established a record of personal and judicial integrity, demonstrated that I care deeply about our system of justice and believe it incumbent on those who sit on our courts to set a high standard of dedication to the rule of law.

As the highest court in Michigan, the Supreme Court should not use its power to act as a super-legislature, rather we should observe the principles of federalism by honoring the doctrine of separation of powers, exercising judicial restraint, and by interpreting — not rewriting — laws enacted by the Legislature.

Robert W. Roddis

Grosse Pointe Farms, 41. LLM (Taxation), Wayne State Univ., 1984; JD, Detroit College of Law, 1980; BA (Political Science), Michigan State Univ., 1974. Attorney. Twelve years as practicing attorney.

Solid legal background from twelve years of practicing law in wide range of areas; honesty, integrity and firm respect for individual rights.

Both. A strict constructionist is necessarily a judicial activist. The constitution is a document of limited, specific powers. Those limitations are the basis of our American freedoms. It is the duty of the judiciary to strike down legislation that exceeds the powers of the legislature and impinges upon constitutional guarantees.

TO FILL VACANCY TERM ENDING 01/01/95 VOTE FOR ONEJerry J. Kaufman

Huntington Woods, 38 JD, Master of Laws, Wayne State Univ. Law School. Attorney; National consumer health activist, legal educator, economist, author, lecturer Moore's Bar Review, lecturer at Harvard, U of M, USC, UCLA. Directed successful nationwide recalls of hazardous children's toys; led NFL glasses posing risk to children, infants, and unborn; toxic chemicals at home/work.

As attorney, legal activist, I have fought for top-to-bottom court reform to end unnecessary trial and appeal delays clogging our court system costing taxpayers millions of dollars. I have been on the firing line on issues that affect our health, safety, jobs, taxes. Justice delayed is justice denied.

A judicial activist fighting for comprehensive court reform and justice. The Michigan Supreme Court issues fewer than 100 decisions per year. We need to make the state court system more time and cost efficient to save the taxpayers millions of dollars. Real leadership will end the Court of Appeals gridlock.

Conrad L. Mallett, Jr.

Detroit, 38. JD, USC, 1979; MPA, USC, 1979, BA (English), UCLA, 1975. Associate Justice, Michigan Supreme Court. Partner — Jaffe, Raitt, Heuer & Weiss, P.C., 1987-90; Senior Executive Assistance, Mayor, Detroit, 1985-87; Legal Adviser, Legislative Director to Governor, 1983-85; Associate — Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, 1981-83; Deputy Director, Democratic National Committee, 1980-81.

As a Justice, I have created a significant body of work that I challenge you to examine. I believe my performance on the Court merits my return to office. My public service experience has given me insight into the legislative process which is evidenced in the opinions I have written.

I will not be frozen in place when called upon to confront statutory wrongs or constitutional violations. Michigan's Constitution provides the Supreme Court an opportunity to independently examine constitutional concepts that may have been, in the past, addressed only by the United States Supreme Court.

Michael Talbot

Grosse Pointe Farms, 47. JD, Univ. of Detroit School of Law, 1971; BS, Georgetown Univ., 1967; Divine Child High School, Dearborn. Judge, Wayne County Circuit Court, 1991-present. Judge, Recorders, 1980-91; Judge, Common Pleas, 1978-80; Visiting Judge, Court of Appeals; Visiting Circuit Court Judge in nine counties.

In 14 years as a trial judge, I've seen it all. My compassion is for the victims. I'm a tough sentencing judge for those who deserve it. No other justice has my trial experience.

I believe in interpreting the law, not making it. It is for the legislature to make the law, not for the court. Where the law is clear, apply it and do it fairly. If not clear, work to give it the intent of the legislature. I am not a judicial activist.

JUDICIAL ROLE

Do you see yourself as a judicial activist or a strict constructionist? Please explain.

I was an Assistant Prosecutor and am experienced in criminal matters. I also practiced law for 20 years in a private firm where I did civil and appellate work. My reputation is without blemish, and I serve as a judge in an unbiased fashion without fear or favor of anyone.

My understanding of my constitutional obligation as a judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals is one of upholding the constitution of Michigan and United States in accordance with the Michigan Rule of Court.

I am a strict constructionist inasmuch as I believe it should be the legislature, not the courts, that make the laws under which our people live. In my judicial activities I have conducted myself in accordance with this view of strict construction.

BALLOT PROPOSALS

This is a condensed version of our work on the State Ballot Proposals. For more detailed copy, contact LWV of Michigan Citizen Information Center, 800/292-5823

BALLOT PROPOSAL A

A PROPOSAL TO LIMIT ANNUAL INCREASES IN HOMESTEAD PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS AND PROVIDE SEPARATE TAX LIMITATIONS FOR DIFFERENT PROPERTY CLASSIFICATIONS

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

- 1) Limit for each homestead property (excluding new construction) the annual assessment increase to 5% or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, until the property is sold. Whenever property is sold, adjust assessments according to current market value of property.
- 2) Create separate millage rollback calculations for determining the maximum revenue increase allowable for two classes of property: residential/agricultural and all other property classifications.
- 3) Permit the use of the combined inflation rate for 1991 and 1992 to calculate millage rollbacks for determining the maximum property tax revenue increase allowable in 1993.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

HISTORY: Originally referred to as House Joint Resolution II (HJR II), this proposal was placed on the ballot by the legislature.

PURPOSE: To address concerns about large increases in property assessments on homes.

PROPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL A:

1. Limits assessment increases on homes to 5% or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, thus keeping homeowners' property taxes more in line with their ability to pay.
2. Permanently limits residential property assessment increases through a constitutional amendment.
3. Prevents necessity for large millage rollbacks when the assessment freeze expires in 1993.
4. Limits growth in all property taxes paid including those paid to cities, townships, counties, school districts, community colleges and intermediate school districts.

OPPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL A:

1. Helps homeowners the least who live in areas with high millage rates, while helping those the most who live in areas with fast growing assessments.
2. Limits the revenue available to school districts and local governments to less than the historical rate of inflation, necessitating either cuts in services and/or increases in taxes/fees.
3. Gives no reimbursement by the state to out-of-formula school districts, cities, counties and townships for revenue lost due to limitation.
4. Provides tax relief only for homeowners, but none for businesses nor for owners of second homes.

BALLOT PROPOSAL C

A PROPOSAL TO EXEMPT PROPERTY FROM A PORTION OF SCHOOL OPERATING PROPERTY TAXES AND LIMIT ANNUAL INCREASES IN ALL PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

- 1) Exempt property from the following proportion of school operating property taxes: 10% in 1993; 15% in 1994; 20% in 1995; 25% in 1996; and 30% in following years.
- 2) Require the state to reimburse school districts for the property tax exemptions described in paragraph (1) above, up to the millage rate levied in 1991.
- 3) Limit for each parcel of property (excluding new construction) the annual assessment increase to 3% or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, until the property is sold. Whenever property is sold, adjust assessment according to current market value of property.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

HISTORY: Originally referred to as 'Cut and Cap,' this proposal was placed on the ballot through a petition drive supported by the governor.

PURPOSE: To cut school property taxes and to limit assessment growth.

PROPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL C:

1. Cuts school operating property taxes by 30%, phased in over a 5-year period, thus reducing Michigan's high property tax burden.
2. Caps assessment increases at 3% per year or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, so that homeowners will not see their property taxes outstrip their ability to pay.
3. Will boost Michigan's economy by making the state attractive to businesses, thus leading to creation of new jobs.
4. Will be sufficiently funded by half of the projected growth in the state budget; no new taxes will be necessary.

OPPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL C:

1. Benefits wealthy taxpayers and large corporations rather than middle-class taxpayers and senior citizens, those who need relief the most.
2. Leads to tax increases and/or cuts in services because growth in the state budget will not be sufficient to pay for this proposal.
3. Hurts Michigan's economy with cutbacks in school funding and local services, making Michigan unattractive to potential job creators.
4. Leads directly to an increase in state income taxes for the majority of taxpayers as their Homestead Property Tax Credit decreases.

BALLOT PROPOSAL B

A PROPOSAL TO RESTRICT/LIMIT THE NUMBER OF TIMES A PERSON CAN BE ELECTED TO CONGRESSIONAL, STATE EXECUTIVE AND STATE LEGISLATIVE OFFICES

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

Restrict the number of times a person could be elected to certain offices as described below:

- 1) U.S. Senator: two times in any 24-year period.
- 2) U.S. Representative: three times in any 12-year period.
- 3) Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State or Attorney General: two times per office.
- 4) State Senator: two times.
- 5) State Representative: three times.

Office terms beginning on or after January 1, 1993, would count toward the term restrictions. A person appointed or elected to an office vacancy for more than of a term would be considered elected once in that office.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

HISTORY: Originally referred to as 'Term Limitations,' this proposal was placed on the ballot through a petition drive coordinated by 'The Campaign to Limit Politicians' Terms.'

PURPOSE: To limit state-level and congressional elected officials to a specific number of terms.

PROPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL B:

1. Encourages competitive elections and more citizen involvement by increasing the turnover of elected officials.
2. Assures that officials will have more experience outside of government and that they will maintain closer ties with their constituents.
3. Enables representatives to focus on policy-making rather than on their re-election.
4. Decreases influence of lobbyists and the campaign funds they can provide, enabling legislators to represent their constituents rather than special interest groups.

OPPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL B:

1. Denies voters the right to choose their elected officials based on merit and service. Elections are already a form of term limitation.
2. Results in bureaucrats and lobbyists creating policy because elected officials will lack expertise and issue specialization required to deal with complexities of government.
3. Weakens influence of Michigan in Congress.
4. Enables only the independently wealthy, those 'bought' by special interest groups, and retirees to run for office. No one else could afford to interrupt their regular employment for such a limited period of time.

BALLOT PROPOSAL D

A PROPOSAL TO AMEND MICHIGAN'S AUTO INSURANCE LAWS

The proposed legislative amendment would:

- 1) Reduce auto insurance rates by 20% (average) for policyholders accepting $250,000 in personal injury protection. Extra coverage made available at added cost.
- 2) Require profit refunds when underwriting profits exceed 5%.
- 3) Permit Insurance Commissioner to waive company's obligation to reduce rates or refund profits if needed to assure fair rate of return.
- 4) Allow policyholders to waive residual liability insurance.
- 5) Limit fees paid to health care providers.
- 6) Allow rate reduction for five consecutive claim-free years.
- 7) Require coordination of benefits with health insurance.
- 8) Limit right to sue by setting higher standards for injuries and prevent drivers over 50% at fault from collecting damages.

Should this proposal be adopted?

YES _____ NO _____

HISTORY: This proposal was placed on the ballot through a petition drive coordinated by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

PURPOSE: To reduce automobile insurance rates for Michigan drivers.

PROPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL D:

1. Permits motorists to buy only the medical and liability coverage they want, thus lowering rates.
2. Allows auto insurance companies to offer discounts to motorists having a claim-free period of 5 years.
3. Eliminates lawsuit payments for 'not serious' injuries as established by the court.
4. Requires excessive profits by insurance companies to be returned to motorists.

OPPONENTS SAY PROPOSAL D:

1. Applies 'average rate reduction' only to consumers choosing the new minimum medical coverage limit; insurance companies may apply for waiver of rate reduction.
2. Shifts costs from insurance companies to consumer: families with minimum coverage risk financial ruin if involved in serious injury accident.
3. Legalizes driving without liability insurance, forcing motorists to purchase additional uninsured motorist insurance.
4. Does not prevent insurance companies from raising their rates every six months.

Perkins makes classy exit in NBC's 'Deep Woods'

Suspense hindered by TV limitations

By Steven Alan McGaw

Actor Anthony Perkins inhabits a distinctive space in the public mind. With his carefully constructed portrayal of murderous mama's boy Norman Bates in Alfred Hitchcock's Psycho in 1960, Perkins moved beyond the status of mere movie star to become a familiar resident of our collective nightmares. In his long career, beginning with 1953's The Actress to his death last month from AIDS, Perkins enjoyed many successes, from his Oscar-nominated turn in Friendly Persuasion to a Tony-nomination for his performance in Broadway's Equus. On a lark, he partnered with Stephen Sondheim to script 1973's delightful puzzler The Last of Sheila, and he offered a determined Javert in the lavish 1978 remake of Les Misérables.

Still, it was Psycho that defined Perkins' indelible place in film, and he seemed content with that, even reprising the role of Norman in three sequels. He also used the Psycho pedigree to color other ominous or mysterious portrayals, like the oddball arsonist in 1968's Pretty Poison and the crazed street preacher in Ken Russell's unnerving

Crimes of Passion in 1985.

Perkins' presence is a powerful part of NBC's suspenseful In the Deep Woods, a two-hour film airing Monday, Oct. 26. Based on a chilling novel by Nicholas Conde, the movie focuses on Carol Warren, a successful children's author played by Rosanna Arquette. When a childhood friend apparently falls victim to the serial murdered known as the Deep Woods Killer (after the locations where he dumps the bodies), Carol meets New York detective Eric Gaines (Will Patton) and learns that after at least 40 victims, the police are no closer to tracing the killer. She is further alarmed to realize she matches the profile of the Deep Woods Killer's victims.

Days later, at a book signing, Carol notices a tall, somber man waiting in line. "Sign it 'To Suzanne,'" he says flatly, handing the writer her latest book. Carol hastily scrawls the inscription and returns the book, somehow knowing she'll see the haunted-looking stranger again.

In the Deep Woods is among the best suspense-type telefilms the networks have produced in a long time. Arquette delivers a powerful performance, heading a fine cast that includes Chris Rydell as her dutiful, angelic-looking brother and D.W. Moffett as a charming womanizer. The script by writers Robert Nathan and Robert Rosenblum is a skillful adaptation of Conde's novel, and director Charles Correll keeps the action moving at an admirably swift pace. On the whole, the movie achieves a high degree of suspense, but the format of mainstream television (commercials, etc.) simply doesn't allow for the sustained tensions a work such as this really needs.

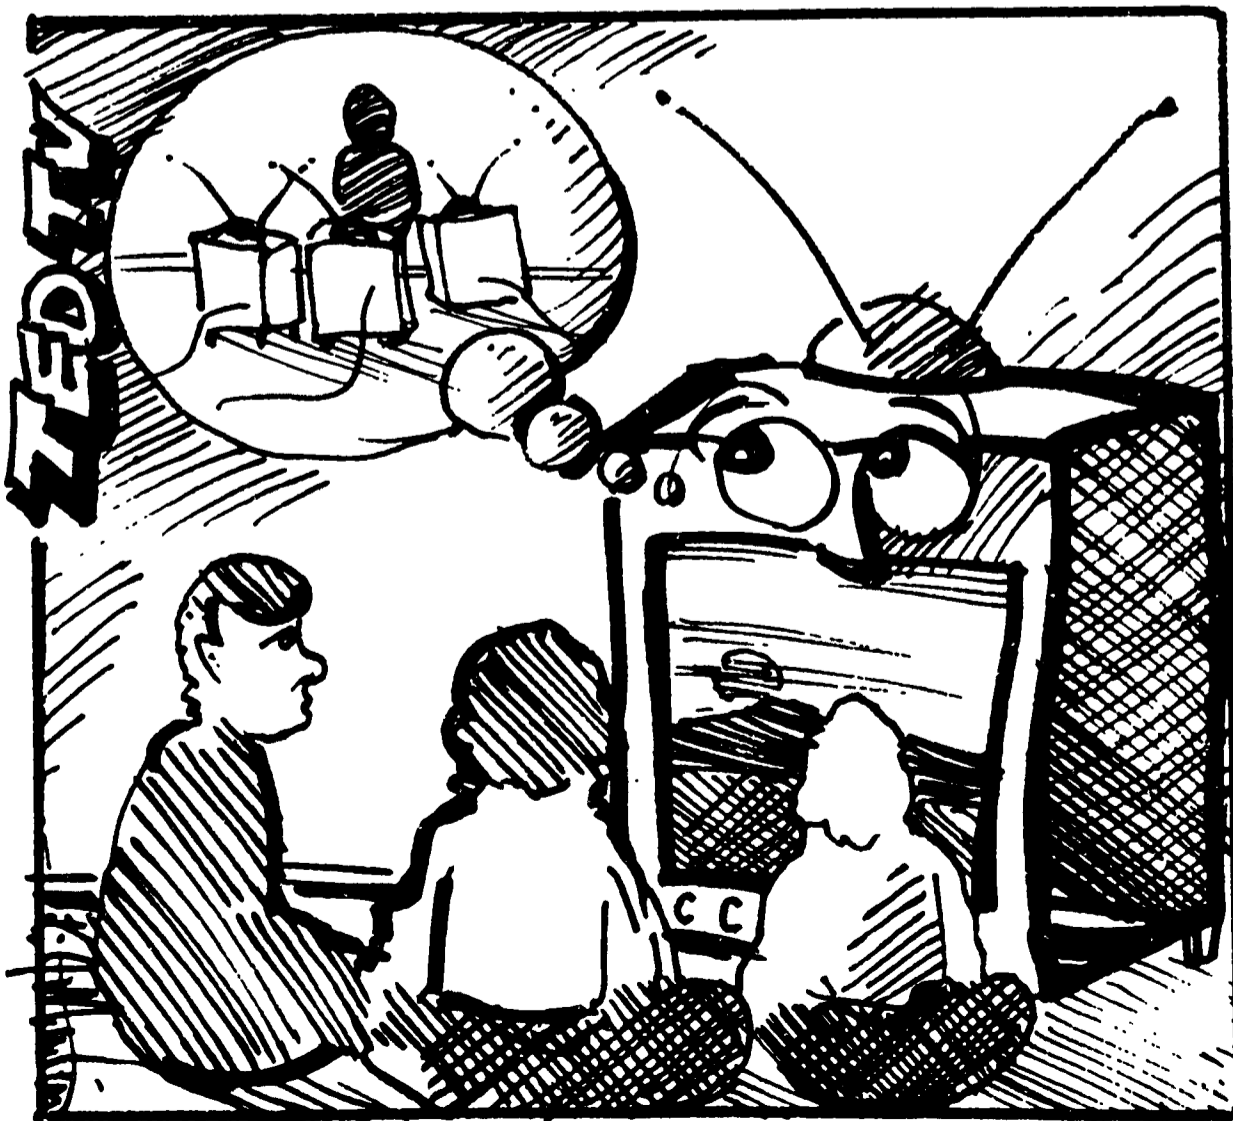

It is, of course, Perkins who dominates the film, in a role calculated to trade on his larger-than-life persona. Perpetually swathed in a trenchcoat, his unsmiling Paul Miller says more with his sad, silent gaze than most characters can with a soliloquy. It is a fine final bow for an actor whose place in cinema history is assured.

STAR NOTES

White's 50-year career goes 'Golden'

By Suzanne Gill

Long before there was a ZIP code to put it on the map, Betty White was a graduate of Beverly Hills High School. Born in 1922, White became a radio actress (Blondie, The Great Gildersleeve) in the 1940s and ventured into local television in Los Angeles before most people had a set. Her sitcom Life With Elizabeth was syndicated in 1953 and earned White her first Emmy.

By the 1960s, White had married quizmaster Allen Ludden (College Bowl, Password) and become a regular TV host for the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and Rose Bowl Parade. In 1973, she created the role of predatory cooking-show hostess Sue Ann Nivens on The Mary Tyler Moore Show, for which she won two Emmys as best supporting actress. Stints on Mama's Family and Ludden's Liar's Club followed, and White spent much of her off-camera time working for various Humane Societies and encouraging people to take care of their pets.

In 1985, another hit series, The Golden Girls, put her back in the limelight. This fall, she has stayed with the show during its metamorphosis and rebirth as The Golden Palace, a Friday-night series on CBS.

STAR NOTES

After a half-century in show business, how does White manage to rise and shine for work every morning?

"I have a poodle that's set for 6:15," she says.

Tim Burton, the visionary director responsible for the heavily stylized films Beetlejuice, Edward Scissorhands and the Batman movies, began his career with a featurette titled Frankenweenie. The story concerns Sparky, the pit bull terrier of 10-year-old Victor Frankenstein. When the sweet-natured pup is run over by a car, his young master endeavors to revive him using a toaster and a microwave. The darkly comic short, starring Barrett Oliver, Shelley Duvall, Daniel Stern and Paul Bartel, makes its TV debut on The Disney Channel Sunday, Oct. 18.

Star-crossed lovers are caught in the violence of Northern Ireland in the romantic thriller The Railway Station Man, a TNT original movie debuting on Sunday. Donald Sutherland and Julie Christie (reunited on film for the first time since 1973's Don't Look Now) star, respectively, as a reclusive eccentric dedicated to restoring an abandoned railway station and the widowed artist with whom he becomes involved.

BITS AND PIECES

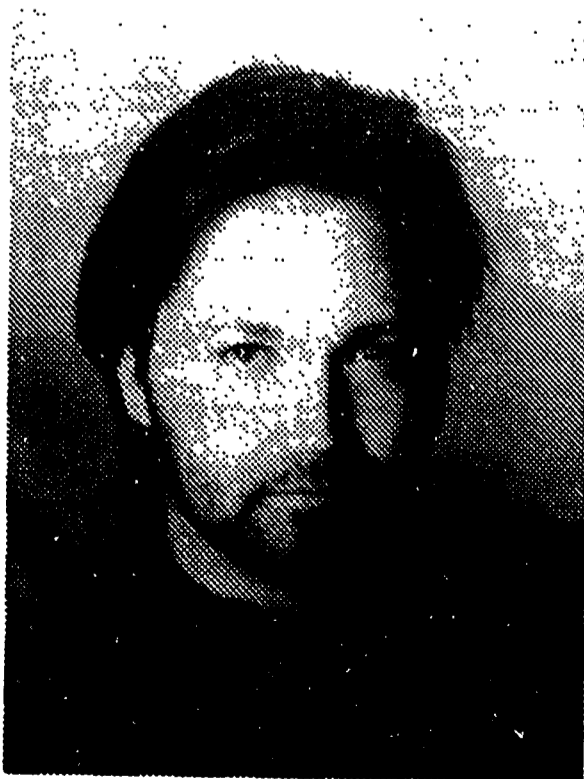

Savage behind wheel; Steinem behind scenes

Wonder Years star Fred Savage turned 16 in July ... which means he was driving without a license in some of last season's shows.

"I had a permit when we were doing the shows," Savage explains. "A permit says that you can only drive with a licensed driver 25 years or older. So when I was driving the car with Paul or the buddies, what you didn't see was a Teamster crouched underneath the back seat." Executive producer Bob Brush adds, "He (the Teamster) was lying down, saying, 'Oh, my God. Oh, my God. Oh, my God.'"

These days, Savage can be seen driving (legally) his mom's old Toyota Celica convertible, which, he says, makes him "very happy."

Gloria Steinem is executive producer of an upcoming Lifetime movie, Better Off Dead, set to air in January. Currently in production in Seattle, the drama stars Mare Winningham as a con woman who is convicted of murder and sentenced to death. As her execution date draws near, the case is reopened and new and unsettling evidence comes to light. Steinem is developing the film with production partner Rosilyn Heller, who was executive producer of Who's That Girl? and American Heart.

Grammy winner Steve Warner performs in Friday's installment of TNN's Drivin' Country Concerts.

Fred Savage

Warner Bros. scored big points for family values earlier this month with the opening of its 9,500-square-foot Children's Center, a day-care facility for the children of studio employees. Kids 3 months to 5 years old can enjoy a nursery, classrooms, indoor and outdoor play areas and hot meals in the lunchroom. Obviously hoping the show-biz bug will bite young, Warner has also provided a theater arts and storytelling room for the little ones. On hand for the ribbon-cutting were Candice Bergen and Bugs Bunny.

Denzel Washington plays a lawyer stalked by a killer in Ricochet, debuting Saturday on HBO.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

SOAP TALK

Hall's no-pain, no-gain 'pregnancy'

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: I heard that Deidre Hall had a baby and I wondered how they covered it up on Days of Our Lives. She always seemed so fit and trim. —Thanks, Amanda, Waco, Texas.

Dear Reader: Hall did stay fit and trim through the entire pregnancy, because the baby was carried by a surrogate mother named Robin. Hall is unable to have children of her own, so she and husband Steve Sohmer went through the Center for Surrogate Parenting in Beverly Hills.

David Atticus Sohmer was born Aug. 23 and weighed in at eight pounds three ounces.

Also, there is big news about another Days star. Lynn Herring, who portrays Lianne Gardner, is leaving the show. Her last tape date is Oct. 30. A release from NBC states, "The decision was a mutual agreement between Herring, NBC and Corday Productions. Her character will not be replaced on the show."

Herring had signed a two-year contract, so this is an interesting turn of events. Herring's husband, Wayne Northrop (Roman), is remaining with the show for the time being.

Dear Candace: Please help me settle an argument with some friends of mine. They say that Amanda Barse on Married...With Children used to be on All My Children. I have watched AMC for years and I don't ever remember seeing her. I hope you can help me; there's a big favor riding on this one. —Thanks, K.L. and friends in Oklahoma.

Dear Reader: Barse portrayed Amanda Cousins on AMC from 1982 to 1984. Cousins was a friend of Liza (Marcy Walker). If you remember, Liza spent most of her time trying to keep Jenny (Kim Delaney) and Greg (Laurence Lau) apart, and Cousins helped Liza with her schemes.

Dear Candace: What happened to the actress who played Blake Thorpe on Guiding Light? The actress who took over the role is not very convincing. —L.M., Greenville, N. C.

Dear Reader: Sherry Stringfield (ex-Blake) decided to leave the show to pursue other interests, namely prime-time television and features. I wouldn't be surprised if she turned up on another soap sometime soon.

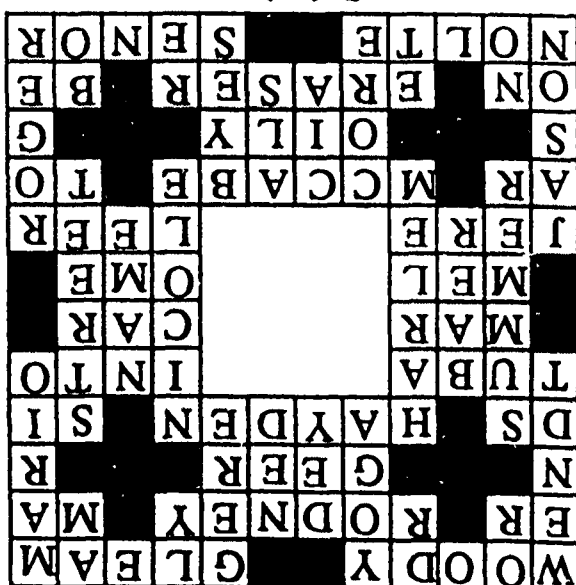

Write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, TX 76161-1009.

LET'S TALK

Home fires burning for 'Homefront'; Duke ahoy

By Taylor Michaels

Q: My favorite show is ABC's wonderful drama Homefront, and one of the reasons for that is the superb acting of its cast, particularly Tammy Lauren (Ginger) and Jessica Steen (Linda). Could you please provide me with some professional and personal information on both actresses? At what address can I write them? —Jamie Molchan, Greenville, N.C.

A: I quite agree with your critical approval of Homefront. It's exceedingly rare to find a network program so charged with genuine drama and chemistry among the cast members. This production was obviously well-conceived from the beginning and hasn't let up since, and the show's producers deserve the growing attention they are beginning to receive.

Tammy Lauren was born the daughter of a preacher in Carrollton, Ga., and has appeared in guest roles on a number of television series, including Sister Kate, Family Ties, The Hogan Family and The Bronx Zoo. She has five brothers, teaches an acting class and lives with her teacup poodle, Chaplin, in Los Angeles.

Jessica Steen was born and raised in Toronto, and she also has appeared in a variety of guest roles on television, including spots on Wiseguy, Kay O'Brien and daytime's Loving. A true animal lover, Steen claims to spend her free time with her two enormous cats, Zack and Same. You may write Steen and Lauren in care of Homefront, ABC Television Network Group, 77 West 66th Street, New York, N.Y., 10023.

Q: My favorite movie is A Christmas Carol with Alastair Sim as Scrooge. I've never seen in the opening credits who plays whom. I would like to know who plays Alice and also who portrays Fan (Scrooge's sister). —William Cowley, Olathe, Co.

A: In the 1951 version of Charles Dickens' Christmas parable, Alice was played by Rona Anderson and Fan by Carol Marsh.

Q: I would like to know how to obtain tickets for The Oprah Winfrey Show. I am interested in getting four or five tickets in April for my mother's 80th birthday. —Ann Thompson, Big Spring, Texas.

A: Wisely, Ann, you will have given the Oprah people plenty of time to respond to your request and should have no trouble in confirming a date near that time. Rather than writing, Oprah's studio, Harpo Productions, suggests you call them directly at 312-591-9222.

Q: Years ago, I saw a movie with John Wayne that was filmed in the South Sea islands. There was a terrible storm in it — either a hurricane, tornado or tidal wave. I think "Paradise" was somewhere in the title, but I'm not certain. Do you have a clue? —M. Patton, Kerrville, Texas.

A: After poring through volumes of information and browsing virtually every description of every Wayne movie, I finally happened upon Reap the Wild Wind, released in 1942. The film opens with a tropical storm, and, in its aftermath, shipwrecked sailing vessels spill floating debris into the water. Wayne and company make their living by scooping up said cargo from points far and wide through hurricane territory, off the southeastern coast of 19th-century North America. Some of the more ruthless types in this film also line their pocketbooks by steering unsuspecting vessels into dangerous reefs. Paulette Goddard, Raymond Massey and Ray Milland are among the supporting cast. Reap the Wild Wind won an Oscar for special effects.

TIME OUT

ABC puts fans in stands, where they belong

By Michael Scogin

Hurry down to participating stores! Saturday, Oct. 31, is the last day to enter the 1992 Fan Fantasy Sweepstakes, sponsored by ABC Sports and Nutmeg Mills, makers of officially licensed products from the NFL, NBA, NHL and NCAA.

Entrants have the chance to win two tickets to one of the following sporting events televised by ABC Sports: the Kentucky Derby, the Indianapolis 500, the Rose Bowl, the U.S. Open Golf Championships, the Sugar Bowl, the NFL Hall of Fame Game or the college football or Monday Night Football game of their choice.

Winners also receive round-trip airfare and two nights' lodging.

According to spokesmen for ABC, promotion logistics are hampering the flow of entries, so chances of winning are unusually good — if fans can find a participating sportswear retailer offering the necessary entry form.

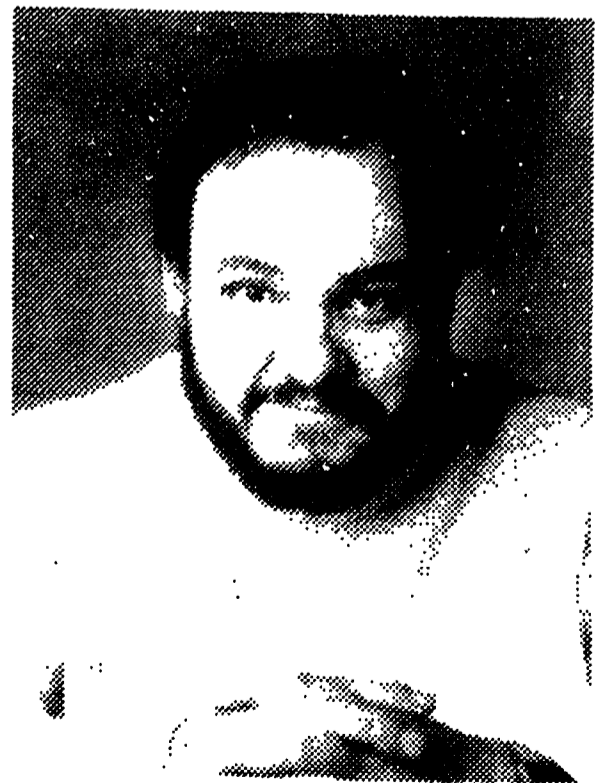

No purchase is necessary, and fans may enter as many times as they wish. Employees of ABC/Capital Cities, Nutmeg and companies involved in the advertising and public relations of the sweepstakes are ineligible to apply.

Winners will be announced about two weeks after the Oct. 31 deadline.

Stay-at-home fans can enjoy several televised events this week, including CBS' coverage of the World Series.

ESPN carries live coverage of NHL hockey beginning Friday, Oct. 23.

Jeremy Irons stars in PBS' fascinating 'Tales'

Hampton looks at emigres in Hollywood

By Steven Alan McGaw

Oscar winners Jeremy Irons and Alec Guinness head the cast of Christopher Hampton's Tales From Hollywood, the premiere presentation of American Playhouse's 12th season. Sinead Cusack, Charles Durning, Elizabeth McGovern and Jack Shepherd also star in the two-hour show airing Monday, Oct. 19, on most PBS affiliates.

In 1980, producers at Los Angeles' Mark Taper Forum approached Hampton (Dangerous Liaisons) about writing a play on some aspect of the city's history. He soon envisioned a piece about the many European writers and intellectuals who found refuge and employment in the film industry of the late '30s and early '40s.

Hampton was also familiar with the works of Odon Von Horvath, a Hungarian playwright who died on the eve of his move to America. Horvath, in fact, had just begun a novel when he died titled Adieu, Europa, the first line of which read, "Ein poet emigriert nach America" ("A poet emigrates to America"). Hampton decided to make Horvath the central character in his play and the audience's link (speaking directly to them) with a fascinating circle that included writers like Bertolt Brecht, Salka Viertel and brothers Heinrich and Thomas Mann. Through Horvath's monologues and asides — sometimes wide-eyed with innocence, often darkly comic — we understand the unusual plight of brilliant men and women who found themselves in a culture sharply different from their own, trying to make a living in a business that sought at once to exploit and suppress their talents.

Irons is fascinating as Horvath, aided by Hampton's razor-sharp dialogue. Guinness excels as elderly Heinrich Mann, his marriage to the unsophisticated Nelly (Cusack) a tragic mirror to the May-December romance in 1930's The Blue Angel, which was based on one of his novels. Shepherd is appropriately irritating and amusing as Bertolt Brecht and Durning's performance as a studio mogul is hilarious. Only McGovern is disappointingly bland as playwright Helen Schwartz.

FAMILY FAIRIE

Alaskey feathers nest with 'Plucky Duck'

By Chris Carpenter

With compatible companions at a premium these days, Joe Alaskey believes in keeping a few of them in his head just for safe measure. One feathered friend is Buster and Babs Bunny's sputtering sidekick, Plucky Duck, who was recently granted the Hollywood equivalent of a gold star — his own show.

Steven Spielberg Presents The Plucky Duck Show, a spin-off of Spielberg's Tiny Toons, is currently airing Saturday mornings on Fox.

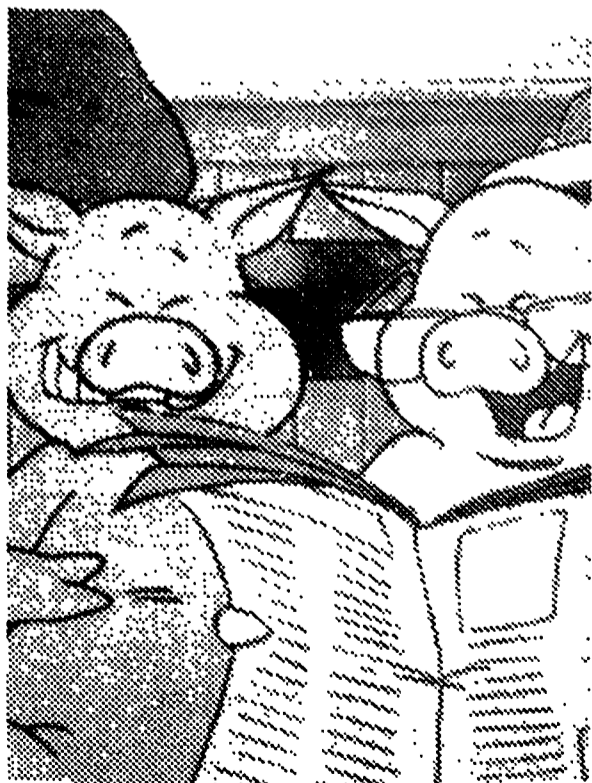

Mouthing Plucky's egotistical and comically contemptuous opinions on what makes good entertainment is an amusing catharsis for Alaskey. Happy to have several years of experience on the stage and in television (Out of This World) and film (Lucky Stiff), Alaskey still feels his most fulfilling roles are ahead of him.

"I'm very happy to be nearing the final edit on what is not just a one-man (stage) show, and also a darn good play. These shows never go out of style," he says, adding that he hopes to hone the show to completion in early 1993.

But in the meantime, Alaskey terms himself "very lucky" to have landed The Plucky Duck Show, especially considering the latest trend in voice-over acting.

"Now it's a constant process of auditioning, and many of the roles are going to star performers, making the competition even tougher."
