Board dismisses DARE; group will try again

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Although the heat had been turned off, things got a little warm at the Northville Board of Education meeting Monday night held at Silver Springs Elementary.

Over a dozen people waited anxiously through an 1½-hour elementary presentation on invitation centers, a review of several board policies and a few other agenda items before the board began discussion on what they had come to hear about — the proposed DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program.

Board members voted 5-1 to continue with the district's Michigan Comprehensive Health Program as its substance abuse program. Trustee Patricia Custer cast the dissenting vote. Treasurer Robert McMahon was absent from the meeting.

Before members voted, Northville Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski read his recommendations which included:

- Maintaining the Michigan Model to address the concerns of substance abuse education for students in kindergarten through eighth grades.
- Using the curriculum review and development process to investigate programs such as DARE, QUEST, PRIDE, etc., if students do not show satisfactory progress in the 1993-94 Alcohol and Other Drugs survey. (The curriculum review and development is a seven-phase process in which parents and staff study proposed curricula. It sometimes takes over a year to complete.)

- Putting greater emphasis on Michigan Model activities and lesson plan efforts to better inform parents.
- Continuing to be involved in community projects, such as the Northville Action Council, to help change attitudes about drug and alcohol abuse.

"When we got the AOD (Alcohol and Other Drugs) survey back, we actually shuddered with the results," Rezmierski said. "Clearly, we have a problem. We have to do something about it."

But, the superintendent said the district had come to a crossroads, of sorts, with this issue.

"It's clear to me if we don't pull together as adults, the only people who will win in this are the drug pushers," he said. "Together I think we can accomplish anything. It starts with trust."

Custer read a prepared statement after the superintendent made his recommendations.

"I am going on public record opposing motion number 13 which states 'that the Northville Board of Education support the curriculum sub-committee's recommendation to continue the Michigan Comprehensive Health Model program as implemented,'" she read. "It is my conviction that implementing this program with complete disregard for the DARE program is a travesty for education in Northville. I am extremely disappointed in the curriculum sub-committee's lack of sensitivity to the clearly and professionally expressed need in this community for addi-

Workers dig up pipes and tanks Monday at the former Cal's Car Care.

New owners monitor clean-up

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Fuel tanks were pulled from the ground at Cal's Car Care Monday, and prospective owners of the 202 W. Main St. service station are now planning their next move.

Northville clothier Charles Lapham said his son Scott plans to buy the property and reopen it as an automotive repair and detailing shop. In the meantime, the elder Lapham has monitored the cleanup process and storage tank removal.

Five known tanks were removed Monday — an 8,000-gallon, two 5,000-gallon and two 500-gallon tanks. Excavators also found a sixth, smaller tank that had not been used in years. None of the tanks had leaked, Lapham said.

But that does not mean there was no soil contamination, he added.

"We lucked out on tanks," Lapham said. "What we had was years and years of people filling up their tanks before the automatic shut-off was invented, and fuel running into the island."

Soil at the site has been sampled by ATEC Environmental Consultants of Novi, and the test results are expected by today, Lapham said. Once the results are known, the cost of the requirement cleanup can be more accurately estimated.

"I know for a fact it's going to be $20,000, and we're just getting started," Lapham said.

Lapham said his family was motivated to buy the property by their desire to maintain viable downtown businesses.

"We have no idea what we're going to do with the building except continue running a minor repair shop in there," he said. "Our objective was to get it cleaned up . . . I don't want a derelict on Main Street."

Lapham said the site's future may include reuse as an office building, to utilize the 4,000 square feet of available building space.

State regulations tough on stations

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville businessman Charles Lapham said that monitoring the cleanup at 202 W. Main St. has given him real insight into the maze of state regulations that govern storage tank removal.

"It boggles my mind what they (state officials) expect these little gas station owners to do, because they don't know themselves," he said. "Nobody in their right mind is going to buy a gas station. They just can't afford it."

Those sentiments are shared by Jane Daniel, daughter of late owner Calvin Coolidge Cross. Cross bought the station from former owner Orson Atchison in 1962, after working at the site since 1946. He died Sept. 13 and the business was run by his wife Mary and daughter Jane until its closure earlier this month.

Daniel said her family is being forced to sell the property partly due to the state's stringent testing requirements for gas stations.

The yearly testing and paperwork requirements alone cost "a

Some would be ineligible for state diploma

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Today, 75 students in Northville are ineligible to receive a state endorsed diploma.

There are 45 special education students who would also not qualify for a state endorsed diploma.

Why? Because those students failed to pass 50 percent of the objectives in the math and science portions and one of two selections in the reading section of the 1992 Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) test.

The Michigan Department of Education has handed down the idea of state endorsed diplomas, which will begin taking effect by the 1994-95 school year.

"How much significance the state endorsed diploma will have remains to be seen," William Hamilton, director of instructional services, told Northville Council of PTA-PTSA members Tuesday morning.

Educators are disturbed that they don't know what's going to happen in 1996-97 when the state will reportedly require students to successfully complete a proficiency test before receiving a state diploma. School officials are still scratching their heads as to whether or not MEAP will still be administered, and they can't seem to get a straight answer from state officials.

"We're now being told by the MEAP people that MEAP is not going away, either," Hamilton said. "It's pretty clear that MEAP will no longer (be required) for a state-endorsed diploma. The state proficiency test will take that over."

In a breakdown of 1992 MEAP figures, 76 percent of the students passed the math objectives of the test; 86 percent successfully completed the reading section; and 95 percent of the students passed the science portion. Those scores are up from 69 percent, 86 percent and 93 percent, respectively, as reported in 1991.

The state allows the school district to administer the MEAP test twice a school year, once in the fall and again in the spring. Hamilton said some administrators will be attending a workshop soon to learn more about putting together courses which help students pass the MEAP objectives.

In 1991, 128 students were retested. Of those students, 42 (19 are special education students) still need to take the test again in order to successfully pass the objectives.

Special education students take the same MEAP test as other students.

"There is only one test, there is no adapted version," Robert Somson, executive director of special education, said. "The question of fairness of standardized testing of that kind or any other of that kind like the SAT, PSAT . . . are really very unfair."

Somson said there are different levels of intelligence and the notion that only one kind exists is unfair. For example, an Intelligence Quotient (IQ) test is not accurate, he said. It can measure your abilities in reading and linear logic skills, but does it measure how well you can use your hands?

"The IQ test is not a predictor in life," Somson said.

We're looking for romantic moments

Some people only dream of romance.

You can hear them complain that their significant other wouldn't know romance if it were taught in school.

But if you are one of the lucky — if your life is bursting with romance — you can help the romance-deprived.

Send us a description of the most romantic thing you have ever done, or that someone else has done for you.

Just jot it down and mail it to us at the Northville Record/Novi News romance exchange, 104 W. Main St., Northville, MI 48167.

Or just drop it off at our office. We must receive them by 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5.

We'll print them in the Feb. 11 issue, just in time for Valentine's Day.

Go ahead, pick up your pen and share with everyone else. It costs only pennies.

You can make life better for the romantically impaired . . . or you can turn the page.

Lower assessment figured for city

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

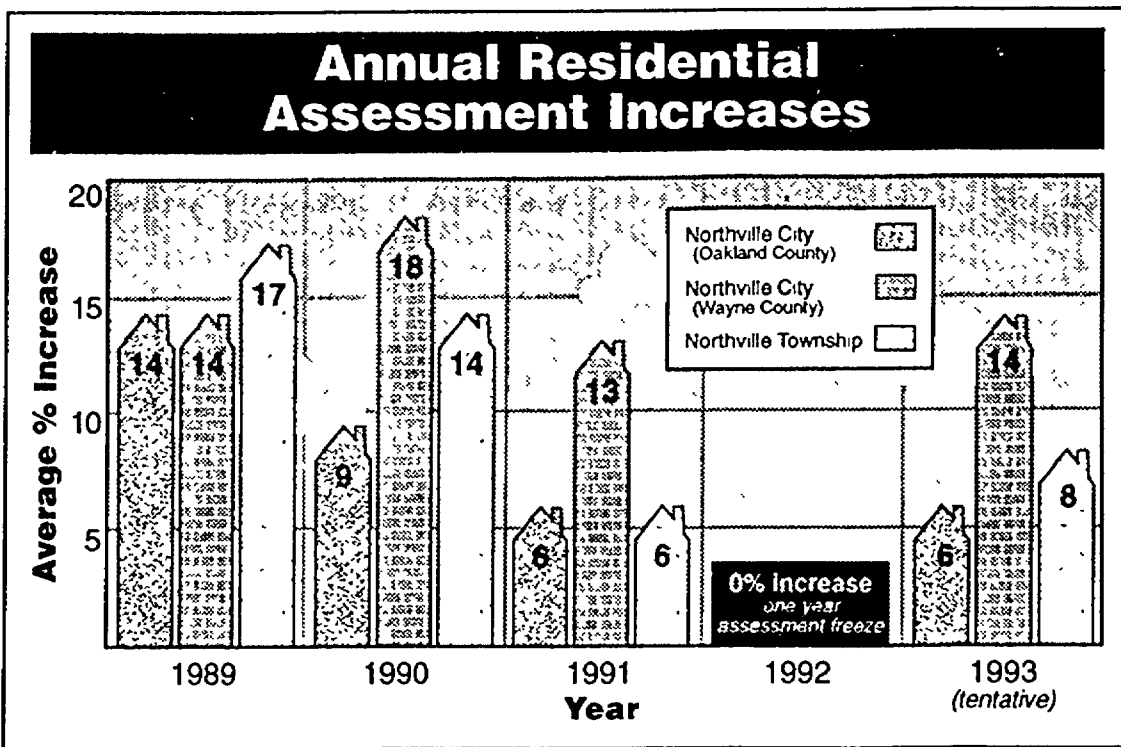

Chief Financial Officer Mark Christiansen's latest assessing efforts have paid off for city residents, if not for city coffers.

Christiansen, who in December disputed a 20-percent assessment increase proposed by Wayne County, learned Monday that the county equalization department has approved his own "stratified sales ratio analysis" of city properties to take its place.

The approval means residents in the Wayne County portion of the city should only see an average 14-percent increase in their property assessments, rather than the county's proposed 20-percent hike.

Christiansen said the dispute arose from the county's practice of basing its assessment factors on the entire city rather than on individual neighborhoods. The county's proposal was based on a study that lumped the lower-priced homes in Bealton and Cabbagetown together with more pricey properties on the

OUR TOWN BAND GOES DOWNTOWN: Rick Balek's Northville-based Metropolitan Jazz Orchestra will appear tonight from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the 1940 Chophouse in Detroit. The 19-piece orchestra will perform Big Band standards and contemporary jazz.

Northville High School Band Director Mike Rumbell is the group's lead trombonist. Balek, bass trombonist and band leader, is a 1980 graduate of Northville High School.

The 1940 Chophouse is located four blocks north of the Renaissance Center. Admission for the concert is $10. For information call 349-8258.

VOLUNTEER TRAINING FOR NYA: Volunteer training will begin Thursday, Feb. 11, for Northville Youth Assistance (NYA). NYA provides supervised volunteer and professional social services to youths and their families. NYA matches youths from the community with volunteers who receive 15 hours of training. The volunteer meets with a youth for one to two hours per week at their convenience.

The role of the volunteer is to help the youth work toward positive changes in their life and to support and encourage the youth whenever possible.

At this time, there is a list of youngsters waiting to be matched with volunteers.

For more information, call NYA Director Mary Ellen King at 344-1618.

CHAMBER PRESENTS REVERSE RAFFLE: The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce will present a reverse raffle to be conducted Thursday, Feb. 18, at Burton Manor, 27777 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

The event starts with hors d'oeuvres at 6 p.m. Drawings for prizes will follow.

First prize is $10,000; second is $1,000 and third prize is $500. Tickets can be purchased by calling the chamber at 349-7640.

STORYTIME AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY: The Northville Public Library's Preschool Storytime registration is now open at 215 W. Main St. Children ages 3½ - 5 and not yet in kindergarten may enroll for one of two series of three Wednesday programs. The Feb. 3-17 session will meet at 11:30 a.m.

Children should arrive 10 minutes early and parents are asked to remain in the library during the half-hour program. To register, visit the library or call 349-3020.

SAFETY HOUSE ON DISPLAY: The Northville/Plymouth Fire Safety House will be on display at the Spring Home & Garden Show at the Novi Expo Center, Feb. 4-7. The fire safety house was built by members of four community fire departments and is intended for use as an educational tool to teach people the skills involved in exiting a smoke-filled room, fire prevention and dial 9-1-1. The portable fire safety house can be transported to schools and other events throughout the four communities.

ANNUAL FLORIDA REUNION SET: It's that time again. Come and meet your old friends, classmates and neighbors and renew old friendships at the Northville Reunion.

A buffet luncheon will be held at the Holiday Inn, 6525 U.S. 27 North, Sebring, Fla., on Friday, Feb. 19. Social hour begins at 11 a.m. with lunch served at noon. The cost is $12.50 per person.

DDA presents revised Mainstreet '92

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

In several pages, the Downtown Development Authority hopes to convince critics of Mainstreet '92 that its plan to build an expanded Cady Street parking structure must be implemented to ensure the success of downtown Northville.

DDA members presented a revised draft of their Mainstreet '92 position statement to the Northville Strategic Planning Council Tuesday night. The nine-member council was appointed at Mayor Chris Johnson's request last November when the DDA plan first drew fire from school advocates for its reliance on tax capturing. Tax capturing would divert any increased tax revenue in the DDA district from taxing units like Northville Public Schools, to pay off the bonds used to fund the project.

The planning council's mission is to consider alternate funding methods for the near-$7-million Mainstreet '92 plan.

DDA members hoped that their two-page position statement, along with a two-page history, list of features and chronology, will help sway critics who have urged the city to consider building a smaller deck, or one that is not funded by captured taxes.

Their proposed 469-car deck, the centerpiece of Mainstreet '92, will replace the aging 168-space structure, satisfy the parking requirements of MainCentre and the proposed CadyCentre project, and provide an additional unallocated 62 spaces. Twenty-one spaces would be added along Mary Alexander Court, and space for a surface lot and commercial development would be created east of the new deck.

City officials argue that the new spaces only begin to address an estimated 300-500 space deficit in downtown Northville, and that the parking crunch is due, ironically, to the success of Mainstreet '78 in establishing downtown Northville as a viable commercial center. They worry that failure to pursue a new deck now could leave the city in the lurch if the current structure fails, and that the continuing parking crunch could jeopardize businesses like MainCentre and the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen.

"We have become, to a certain extent, victims of our own success," DDA Member Greg Presley told the planning group. "If this deck were ever closed, we're in big trouble."

Presley added that Mainstreet '92's revised financing proposal will be based in part on tax capturing. "We do feel strongly that tax increment financing is a necessary component of any proposal to address parking in a meaningful way," he said.

But the revised financing plan will probably involve a special assessment on downtown businesses and a change in the base year that the tax capturing is figured from, so that taxing units like the school system will see some revenue increase from the expiration of Mainstreet '78 in 1994.

Planning council members had several questions for city leaders on the deck's design and funding.

Joan Wadsworth of Advocates for Quality Education asked how much it will cost to reinforce the three-floor deck to allow the addition of an extra two stories in the future. Matt Jobin of Rich and Associates, the deck's engineers, said the cost was $30,000-$40,000, a fraction of the deck's cost. He warned that the deck cannot be retrofitted for extra floors after it is built.

"What's the bottom line on the cost of the project," asked Township Trustee Gini Britton. Johnson noted that initial estimates pegged its cost at roughly $6.5 million, but the city is seeking a more detailed estimate and reviewing ways to reduce the project's cost by leaving out items like streetscape improvements.

Police News

Icy roads cause single car accidents

Icy road conditions were blamed for three unrelated single-car accidents in Northville Township over the weekend.

The first accident occurred at 5:20 a.m. Saturday on Seven Mile, east of Silver Springs Drive. An 18-year-old woman was driving a Ford Thunderbird when she reportedly hit a patch of ice, lost control of the vehicle and struck a tree. Reports stated the roadway was dry except for the right lane which was icy due to the snow melting and re-freezing. The driver was unable to anticipate the icy conditions, according to reports.

The woman was not injured in the accident.

At 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning, a 23-year-old Northville woman was seriously injured when she lost control of her vehicle on Seven Mile, southeast of Meadowbrook. According to reports, the woman was in the center through lane of eastbound Seven Mile when her vehicle went into a spin and struck a tree. The driver was given a violation for failing to use due care and caution, according to reports.

No injuries were reported when a 46-year-old Plymouth woman lost control of her vehicle on a snowy Sheldon roadway, drove off the road and struck the guardrail on the west side of the road at 9:10 a.m. Sunday. No violations were given due to poor road conditions, according to reports.

ACCOUNT CLOSED CHECK: City police are investigating a Main Street store owner's complaint that a customer wrote the store $380 in bad checks. According to the owner of Anne's Fabrics, 111 E. Main, the customer wrote two checks for a total of $379.60 on Dec. 26. The checks were returned due to insufficient funds and the owner sent a notice to the customer, a 38-year-old Detroit woman. But as of Jan. 22, the owner had not received a response.

HUBCAPS STOLEN: Two hubcaps were reportedly stolen from a 1989 Pontiac Fiero parked at Northville High School. The silver Fiero rally hubcaps, valued at $80 apiece, were taken Nov. 11 and Jan. 22 respectively.

Three hubcaps were reported stolen off a 1990 Ford Taurus parked at Northville Downs Jan. 24. The silver hubcaps, valued at a total of $120, apparently were taken sometime between 7:30-9:30 p.m. They were imprinted with the word "Taurus."

SUSPENDED LICENSE ARREST: A 61-year-old Detroit man was arrested on outstanding warrants after a traffic stop Jan. 22. City police stopped the man for a traffic violation when they discovered that his license was suspended and he was wanted for failing to appear in court twice on previous suspended license charges.

He was released after posting a $500 personal bond.

FAMILY DOG BITES MAN: Northville Township police received a report Jan. 22 from the Wayne County Health Department regarding a dog bite which occurred Jan. 13.

A 49-year-old Northville man received six stitches after being bitten in the right arm by the family dog, an 8-month-old shepherd mix. The man was hospitalized Jan. 15 due to infection from the bite, according to reports. The man told police the dog had all its shots.

LOCAL MAN ARRESTED FOR OUI: A 28-year-old Northville man was arrested Jan. 23 by township police for operating under the influence of liquor, according to reports.

While finishing notes on a violation stop, the reporting officer observed a Ford Escort with a headlight out pass by him. The officer stopped the driver at 1:54 a.m. and discovered the man's license had expired, reports stated. While talking with the driver, the officer also reportedly noted the odor of intoxicants coming from the interior of the man's car and observed a beer can in the floor of the back seat.

After administering several sobriety tests and a portable breath test, the officer arrested the man. The man's blood alcohol content was .15, according to reports.

The man was released later that morning on a $100 bond and was assigned a court date.

CAR WINDOW SMASHED: The driver's door window of a Pontiac Sunbird was smashed sometime between 9 p.m. Jan. 23 and 9 a.m. Jan. 24. The car was parked on Country Knoll at the time of the incident. Nothing appeared to have been stolen from the car. Damage is estimated at $100.

CAR HITS PARKED VEHICLE: A 16-year-old Northville girl told township police she hit a patch of ice, lost control of her vehicle and collided with a parked car on Weatherfield Jan. 21. The teen was making a left turn from Pembury at the time of the incident. The road surface was reportedly wet with patches of ice. No violation was issued due to road surface conditions, according to reports.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Ford to consider other plant offers

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A Feb. 4 library advisory commission meeting may represent Northville's last chance to get its foot in the door at the vacant Ford Valve Plant.

Even as Southfield developer Peter Zervos plans to offer the commission space for a new library in a redeveloped plant, Ford officials are considering reviewing other offers for the facility. Those offers had been temporarily shelved when Zervos made his pitch for leased library space to city and township officials late last year.

Ford spokesman Tom Foote confirmed Tuesday that the automotive giant is considering exploring other offers to purchase the plant at Main and Griswold.

"I guess that Feb. 4 meeting is pretty important," said Foote, a spokesman for Ford's land development corporation. "I'm told that if we don't conclude an agreement fairly soon with the library board, we may have to look for other ways in which the building can be utilized."

The announcement follows Zervos' original proposal to redevelop the plant and offer 35,000 square feet to the community for use as an expanded library and meeting space. Zervos, representing a consortium of investors known as the Northville Development Group, proposed leasing space to the community for about $39,000 a month.

Ford Field, the pond north of the plant and the Ford-owned land north of the pond would be turned over to the city immediately under the proposal, and the leased space would revert to the city after 25 years.

Zervos' other tenants were reportedly an insurance firm and a medical facility attracted by the concept of a community center.

The proposal was sent back to the drawing board when city officials and a study group questioned the lease cost, and the former township board expressed little enthusiasm. Now Zervos is focusing his attention directly on a proposed district library that could allocate between 1-2 mills annually toward the acquisition and operation of a new facility.

Unlike last September when Zervos first made his pitch to municipal leaders, Ford has not set a deadline by when an agreement must be struck. "We haven't put a time limit on it, but obviously we can't wait forever," Foote said.

Ford originally gave the developer a Nov. 13 deadline to reach an agreement with the city and township, then dropped the deadline when municipal officials questioned the cost of Zervos' plan.

Library director Pat Orr was surprised to hear of Ford's position Tuesday. She said Zervos had not yet called to reserve space on the Feb. 4 agenda, though she had been informed that he planned to attend.

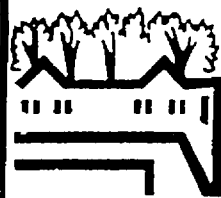

Zervos could not be reached for comment.

Northville Players performing mystery

If you can't set down an Agatha Christie novel, if Alfred Hitchcock leaves you breathless for more, check out the Northville Player's latest offering, Victoria's House.

The spine-tingling mystery is set in a country house, remote of course, with a plot which twists and turns with sinister plans and duplicitous behavior. Performances are Friday and Saturday night.

Victoria is played by a newcomer to the group, professional actress Debi Lee, who has appeared in television commercials. John Bullington returns as Victoria's new husband, Neil Bannister, who just might not be what he seems.

Veteran players Jacquie Rundell and Jean June show off their skills with interesting character roles. And Rundell's daughter, Darcy, makes her debut with the company in the role of Winnie, the winsome Cockney maid.

Rounding out the cast are Gale Morris, Roger Stutsman and Charly Perry.

Director Russ Dore will also be up on the boards as Stephens, Victoria's manservant.

The curtain goes up at 8 p.m. at The American Legion Hall on Jan. 29 and 30. The hall is at the corner of Center and Dunlap streets. Saturday evenings will include a dinner theater sponsored by the American Legion, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are $7 for Fridays and $18 for the dinner theater. You can pick them up at the American Legion, at Bookstall On The Main or by phoning Judy Kohl at 348-2678.

Update requested on manager's job

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

Two township board members are hope to hear a status report on the township manager's position at Thursday's board meeting.

Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand said Township Treasurer Rick Engeland and Township Trustee Gini Britton both called her and requested an update on the issue. Hillebrand had added the issue to the amended agenda for Thursday's meeting which is a spillover meeting from the board's last meeting two weeks ago.

"We need to make some progress somewhere," Britton said. "I requested that we form a committee so we can start making some progress."

Britton said she would like to see the board form a three-person committee to begin looking at the process and to explore the township's options in the matter.

"Whether or not we replace the township manager or get a deputy supervisor, we need someone up there who is going to do some of the administrative stuff."

The committee's task, Britton said, would be to talk with department heads and staff members and get input from them about what management style and chain of command works.

"I want to know if they (the staff) likes reporting to a township manager or to their department heads. I also want to go to surrounding communities and see what works for them."

Britton said she never intended it to be an agenda item but said she told Hillebrand she was going to bring it up because she "felt it needed to be addressed."

When asked whether or not she preferred to replace ousted Township Manager Richard Henningsen or move to a different structure, she said she wasn't sure yet.

"I'm trying to keep an open mind on the issue right now," Britton said. "I get that there's a good sense of camaraderie up there now because of Karen's (Baja) open door policy."

"My initial reaction was to allow the department heads to report to Karen because there is a good rapport with the staff. But ideally what they need is a Eunice (the deputy clerk) in the supervisor's office. Someone who is as competent and qualified."

Britton's request will be honored as part of the amended agenda. The board is also expected to receive a resolution from residents of Highland Lakes about the county's "no parking" ruling and handle carry over business from their Jan. 14 meeting.

The board will hold a public hearing on the district library proposal at 7 p.m. and the regular board meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall, 41600 Six Mile Road.

Handy volunteers needed for '93 senior party

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Handy with a hammer? Even if you're not so hot with hand tools, the decorating committee for the 1993 senior party could probably use your help.

The committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Northville High School. Any parent wishing to volunteer is encouraged to attend.

Although about 100 parents have volunteered to help plan the party by serving on committees such as clean-up, security, entertainment, publicity, food and casino, a few more helping hands will be required to pull off the party of the year.

"We definitely need more people for decorating," said Martha Nield, who is co-chairing this year's party with her husband Jim. "We'll totally transform the school from the front door by the flagpole, turning left at the cafeteria and going back down the hall to the media center."

This year's party will be held June 11. Planning for the event began last fall when parents voted on a theme. They also voted to keep the theme a secret. Students will learn of the theme at their senior breakfast, the morning preceding the day of the party.

"The theme is based around something current," said Cheryl Cassidy. Cassidy is co-chairing the publicity committee with her husband Dennis.

The first senior party in 1966 was based on the theme "TNT," or "Top Northville Talent." In 1971, party organizers borrowed pop vocal group Fifth Dimension's song "Up, Up and Away" for its theme. The "Spirit of '76" was used by, what else, the class of 1976, while "Happy Days" was adopted by the class of 1985.

"Last year's theme was based on MTV," Cassidy said. "The whole decorating scheme was based on songs from MTV." Faux records and compact discs with names of students on them hung from the ceilings and MTV was dubbed Mustang Television.

Before voting on a secret theme, parents did have a love-boat-Northville-cruise-connection type of idea. Cassidy said the school could have been divided into decks, one with the food and one with the casino. The pool could have been used for swimming, too, she added.

"The idea is when the kids walk in they don't even know they're in the high school," she said. "That's the whole idea."

Cassidy said she believes Northville pioneered the senior party idea. "The idea behind it was, 'Let's not have our kids going out and drinking, let's throw them a party,'" she said. "A reputation built up over the years and participation is up to 90 percent. It's not cool if you're not there. The kids all year look forward to their senior party."

Several things have become a tradition at the annual senior party: the casino that's held in the media center and a band or disc jockey. In the past, magicians, mimes, hypnotists and handwriting analysts have made appearances at the party.

The party begins at 9:30 p.m., about a half-hour after graduation ceremonies.

"The idea is to have the kids go home after graduation and take their (graduation gowns) off and come back," Cassidy said. "They can't leave unless parents sign them out. Then, they can't come back."

Parent stations situated throughout the school help monitor students.

The party usually ends around 4 a.m. with a buffet breakfast.

The Nields got the honor of co-chairing the party because their daughter Stacey is president of the senior class.

"If your child is president of the senior class, you are chairperson of the group," Cassidy said. "It sort of goes with the territory."

The Cassidys chaired the party two years ago when their son Dennis served as senior class president.

The cost to attend the senior-only party is $30 per student. Checks should be sent to Beverly Wiseley, 46528 W. Seven Mile Road, as soon as possible. The money is used to cover costs of the event, including entertainment and decorations. Also, students get a T-shirt with the names of the entire class printed on it.

"We're really pushing for the kids to come and have a good time," Cassidy said. "This is all for them. They've come a long way and their parents are very proud of them and happy they've started out in the right direction. That night (graduation) is when they're most susceptible to doing something silly."

Value of state diploma questioned

In the meantime, there's a lot of confusion at the state level now.

"What seems to be the case in '94, '95 and '96 is that special education students may be exempt from the MEAP if their Individual Educational Planning (IEP) allows it," Somson said.

A student's IEP must be approved by state and federal officials.

"We will have to show some rationale if we choose to exempt someone from the MEAP requirement," Somson said. "1997 will be very confusing. The question of fairness is should we only give state endorsed diplomas to kids who pass the levels on this state proficiency test?"

Somson added the tests could really be unfair to students with attention deficit disorders or dyslexia.

But as school officials try to meet the MEAP challenge for the next three years, Somson said it will be hopeless for some students.

"Some kids in special ed who are mentally impaired or have severe learning disabilities — they don't have any chance of ever passing that test," Somson said.

Parents should be receiving copies of their student's MEAP scores by the end of this week or beginning of next week, according to Hamilton.

Superintendent defends MEAP policy

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Northville Public Schools Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski defended his rationale regarding the release of Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) scores at the Jan. 25 board of education meeting and again at the Jan. 26 Northville Council of PTA-PTSA.

At both meetings, the superintendent was referring to The Northville

Record's request filed under the Freedom of Information Act Jan. 12 to obtain the MEAP scores. When the scores were verbally requested Jan. 8 and 11, Rezmierski said he preferred the scores were verified and members of the board of education have a chance to review them before releasing them.

"There is no reason to keep them secret, now or never in the past," Rezmierski stated at Monday night's board meeting.

The superintendent said information was held simply to "disaggregate the scores" so they could accurately be reported.

"When we got the scores, we just about jumped out of our seats," Rezmierski said.

But Rezmierski said he wanted to verify the figures so potential retractions wouldn't have to be made later.

"At no time have I, or my predecessors, held the MEAP scores to derail or take away from the accomplishments or non-accomplishments of our students," he said. "It's important that we just don't go willy-nilly bragging over these scores."

At the PTA-PTSA Council meeting, Rezmierski said historically, a "two-week window" has been allowed before MEAP results were released.

"If I've offended anyone in any way, I apologize," he said. "We will not deviate or change from that policy, especially when it could save us from making mistakes."

Mill Race Matters

Washtenaw Farm Council, Washtenaw County Extension Service, and others are holding a barn rehabilitation workshop on Saturday, Feb. 20, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds. Contact Nancy Thelen at 971-0079 for additional information.

The Northville Historical Society wishes to thank Harriet and Bob Welland this week for their donation. Members are reminded that dues renewals should be in by Jan. 31. The Annual Progressive Dinner is planned for April 3, so mark your calendar now. More details will follow in the weeks to come.

The Archives Committee is preparing boxes for microfilming. The project will begin in February. It is being done by Clarke Library at Central Michigan University. The film of community records will then be stored archivally at CMU and available for duplication to other locations. The first group to be filmed will include original abstracts, Wayne County Fair Premium Books, community histories, cemetery records, and other pertinent community records.

A Local History class is being offered through Northville Community Education and will begin Saturday, Jan. 30, at the Cady Inn. The class begins at 10 a.m. Contact Community Education for additional information.

Preschool plans open house

Signups are open now for current members of the Northville Co-op Preschool to enroll their children for the 1993-94 school year. Registration will open to past members on Feb. 1. An open house is scheduled for Feb. 13, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at which time new members may join and enroll their children. The preschool is located in the First Presbyterian Church on Main Street. Call 348-1791 for details. Here, Susan Collins and some of her students make chicken noodle soup.

Schools win partnership grant

Northville Public Schools received a $10,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Education to continue its partnership program with the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

The grant will assist in the development of new programs and enhance existing programs by sharing expertise and informational materials; enriching the existing Northville partnership program; providing custom training; assisting through conference presentations and network sessions; and providing technical assistance.

Northville is one of 60 school districts receiving a grant in the state's new SERVE-Michigan grant program.

SERVE-Michigan is part of the K-12 SERVE-America grant awarded to Michigan in 1992, through the Michigan Community Service Commission, by the Commission on National and Community Service. The purpose of the grant is to help local school districts and their communities revitalize the spirit of citizenship by involving millions of Americans, especially youth, in national and community service dealing with the serious social problems that face the state and nation.

A total of $585,438 was made available in this competitive grant program. Grants were awarded to a total of 60 programs in four categories:

- Statewide planning and capacity-building projects
- School-based, service-learning programs
- Community-based service programs
- Adult volunteer and partnership programs

Within the last three categories, grants were awarded to start new programs, expand existing programs, or to serve as a demonstration-dissemination model that will assist others in program development and expansion.

Osteoporosis— The Brittle Bone Disease

Some say the bones are brittle. Others say they're weak or soft. However they're described, the problem is that the manufacture of new bone material does not happen as fast as the old bone material wears out.

The most common cause of this is the natural aging process, and it seems to affect women more than men. Risk factors include a diet low in calcium, family history of osteoporosis, cigarette smoking and early menopause.

The result is that the bones are much more likely to break if a fall occurs. The hip and wrist bones are especially susceptible.

What Are The Symptoms

Constant backache, or a sudden, severe back, pain, more rounded shoulders, or noticing that you are becoming shorter ... all these may indicate osteoporosis. If you develop these symptoms, you should see your physician immediately.

What Can Be Done To Help

Prevention is the most important treatment for osteoporosis. A good diet, with plenty of calcium, tends to keep your bones healthy. And estrogen therapy, started at the time of menopause, can significantly reduce the rate of bone loss.

Exercise, too, is beneficial. But if osteoporosis is diagnosed, there is no set, specific treatment, although calcium tablets, estrogen tablets or estrogen patches may be prescribed to slow the deterioration process.

Using a cane may also be suggested. It's a good idea, too, to avoid areas where falls might occur and to remove any unnecessary risks like slippery throwrugs or light cords that might cause you to trip.

For more information about osteoporosis, or any health matter, contact the family practice physicians at Providence Medical Center-Northville — where we care for you and your family.

Our Opinion

New deck will require sacrifice from all sides

The Downtown Development Authority makes a strong case in its Mainstreet '92 position statement that a new parking deck is a necessity for downtown Northville.

A project history prepared by Mayor Chris Johnson proves illuminating, illustrating how Northville Public School officials originally voiced support for a new deck funded by tax capturing. Of course, that support was offered before the state started playing its games with school financing.

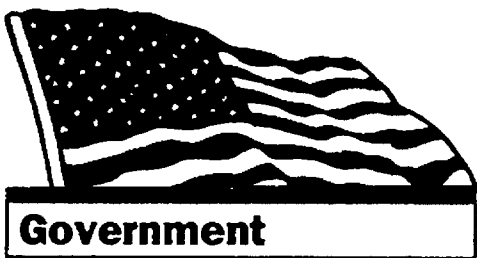

The history also traces the convoluted path leading to Mainstreet '92. City leaders only arrived at the idea of an expanded Cady Street deck after residents objected to a parking structure on the lot south of MainCentre, and DDA members realized they could not convince a private developer to fund a replacement of the Cady Street structure without a series of expensive concessions by the city.

Presently, MainCentre's use of the lot south of its building for customer parking has impacted nearby businesses like the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen, and business owners throughout the downtown complain that there is not enough close-in parking for shoppers. And the shortage will only grow worse with the construction of new retail buildings like the Long project on Main Street.

Also, the city is required to provide covered parking spaces for MainCentre residents under its agreement with Singh Development, an agreement that helped lure the mixed-use project to Northville in the first place. Singh has also agreed to pay for parking required under city ordinances, which will help finance the deck.

Singh has been more than patient with the city throughout this process, reconfiguring the MAGS lot, regrading Center Street south of Main and installing the downtown streetscape on either side of Center. Now it's the city's turn to fulfill its commitment to Singh and a new deck seems the only feasible method.

The deck's critics rightly point out that tax capturing impacts a school district that includes other communities than Northville, but we believe they may be missing the bigger picture. A healthy downtown is as important to the future of Northville Public Schools as a respected school district is to the city. And much of the tax revenue that funds the schools comes from downtown businesses.

While education proponents quake over the prospect of diverting increased downtown tax revenue from their schools, city officials argue persuasively that a new deck is needed to assure that their downtown continues to thrive and its property values continue to rise. If businesses desert downtown, they argue, property values may fall as they did in the 1970s and all of its taxing units will lose.

That's not to say, of course, that the DDA plan does not deserve close scrutiny.

The most controversial issue is how to pay for the new deck, and the jury is still out on that question. But city officials responded quickly to the public outcry over a deck funded solely by tax capturing, and now plan to reduce the project's scope and spread the financing among several sources.

Downtown property owners will likely share the burden, and an extra share may be divided among the entire city. The final plan will use a later base year than Mainstreet '78, which will result in a revenue windfall once Mainstreet '78 expires in 1994. That jump in tax revenue will be smaller than if Mainstreet '92 is not enacted at all, but it will still be substantial.

It appears that city leaders are practicing the fine art of compromise, and practicing it well. Now it is time for the various factions to join in the process, mindful of the greater good as well as the sacrifices they'll be called on to make individually.

MEAP results should fuel your involvement

As most local parents know by now, this year's Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) test scores were released in mid-January.

Testing students' achievement in math, reading and science in various grades from fourth through 11th, MEAP no longer is an abstraction. Beginning with the graduating class of 1994, those leaving school must pass all three sections to get a state-endorsed diploma.

We presented you with Northville district MEAP scores for this year and last year in the Nov. 21 edition of this paper. Raw numbers indicate what percentage of children in a given grade did satisfactorily on the test.

By and large, this year's scores are up as compared to last year's. Experts say parents should be concerned if their school district receives a score lower than 30. Obviously, Northville parents have reason to be overjoyed with our district's results.

Rather than being used as fodder for criticism of local teachers and principals, MEAP scores offer parents a good chance to ask some constructive questions.

For parents themselves:

- Have I explained to my child how doing well in school improves his or her chances for getting a good job or going to college after graduation?

- Do I encourage my child to do homework regularly? Do I help out by looking over the papers before they are taken back to school?

- Do I talk with my child's teacher to get a detailed assessment of what I can do at home to help my child progress?

For school officials:

- If areas of this year's MEAP results are disappointing, what do you plan to do about them? Northville has already identified a potential male-female bias regarding science scores. By when should we start seeing results?

- How much time in the school day is spent directly on math, reading and science instruction and how much on other activities? Should these proportions be changed?

- Have I received detailed MEAP scores on my child? Will I have a chance to review them with the teacher?

Local parents wishing to talk with Northville district school officials should call 344-3400 and ask to speak with Superintendent Leonard Rezmlerski.

Tim Richard

Supreme court comes around

In recent months I've used this space to deplore court rulings that violate common sense and raise our auto insurance rates. It's only fair, then, to give jurists a pat on the back when they do something right.

In the holiday rush, the Michigan Supreme Court made a little-noticed decision in favor of Auto Club Insurance Association in a no-fault policy case.

The justices, in a 6 to 1 decision, said a shooting case isn't an auto insurance case. They reversed a Court of Appeals decision and the Genesee Circuit Court.

The facts: Party night in Flint. An argument. Plaintiff Michael Marzoni II, 19, driving his mother's insured car, chases a vehicle driven by Vernon Oaks. Marzoni's passenger, 18, throws beer bottles at Oaks' vehicle, breaking a window.

Oaks goes home, emerges from his house with a shotgun and fires. (There is conflicting testimony over whether Marzoni's car had stopped or was moving forward at a "creep.") Oaks says he aimed at the grill of Marzoni's car. Instead, his blast hits Marzoni in the face and neck, inflicting permanent and serious injury.

Charged with assault with intent to murder, Oaks pleads guilty to a reduced charge of careless discharge of a firearm and spends nine months in jail.

A rational person would think Marzoni would sue the guy who shot him. Not in Michigan. Marzoni went after Auto Club, the insurer of his mother's car, asking "benefits for accidental bodily injury arising out of the ownership, operation, maintenance or use of a motor vehicle as a motor vehicle." The jury found for Marzoni.

Two Court of Appeals judges — Marilyn Kelly (1992 Democratic Supreme Court aspirant) of Bloomfield Hills and Roman Gribbs, ex-mayor of Detroit — agree, saying the injuries "stemmed from the functional character of the motor vehicle."

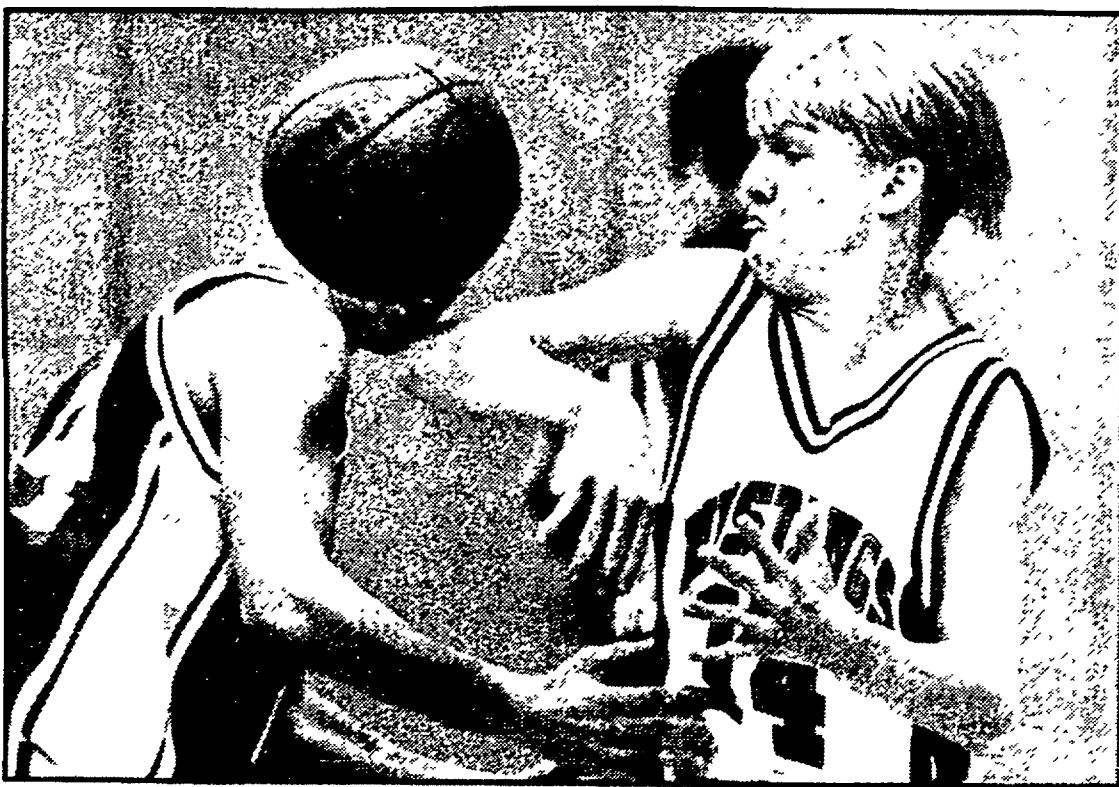

Judge Barbara MacKenzie dissented, saying Marzoni "was injured as a result of his dispute with Oaks, and plaintiff's automobile merely served as the target of Oaks' gunfire and the situs where plaintiff was shot." The relationship between the car and the gunfire was "too indirect" to justify an auto insurance claim, she said.

Six Supreme Court justices agreed with Auto Club and MacKenzie: "(T)he harm that befell this plaintiff was not within the ordinary risks of driving a motor vehicle."

Trial lawyers will tell you such cases affect only a handful of people. Not quite true. The courts don't just decide individual cases; they set precedents that affect business decisions of all companies.

Third, I'm disturbed by what I didn't see spelled out in many Court of Appeals decisions. There seems to be an underlying political assumption that, if a guy gets hurt, somebody, somewhere in society, owes him money. The unwritten assumption seems to be, "Hey, if Oaks doesn't have much money, here's a pot in the insurance pool; let's take some of that."

MEAPs are good assessment

The "Michigan Educational Assessment Program." It sounds smooth and polysyllabic, just like any good bureaucratic term. It even shortens into a pronounceable acronym, MEAP.

MEAP test results were released earlier this month. They have provoked a storm of parental concern and educator comment, riven mostly by a 1991 state law that deloma to kids who don't pass the tests.

Here is a representative sample of the range of views, from a group of reasonable and respected school leaders:

Dennis McMahon, superintendent of Brighton schools: "Our school district believes in assessing students' abilities. . . It is important not to rely on any one form of assessment, which just gives a snapshot of the students' ability."

Fred Liebowitz, supervisor of secondary education in Southfield schools: "I don't think something that significant should be based on one score. . . I understand the purpose of trying to raise standards of education, but there are other ways to raise standards than holding a kid's feet to the fire."

Jon Reynolds, superintendent of Waverly schools, is concerned the MEAP tests could be used as a "back door method" of creating a state-ordered curriculum and eventually linking funding with test results. Once published by the media, MEAP tests tend to get parents and the public to rank schools competitively, which may or may not be fair.

Gary Doyle, deputy superintendent in Bloomfield Hills, agrees: "I think in general the concept of having a quality standard is good. But this is another example of the state getting involved in local districts."

Two themes emerge from the range of comment I've seen about MEAP tests:

First, it's a back-door way of getting state control of local school districts and, maybe, linking funding with performance.

My view: So what's wrong with that? One big reason American K-12 education is so resistant to change is the notion of local control. As long as our school system is organized by independent school districts (in Michigan we have 523 of them), any overall attempt to raise standards is doomed to failure.

Second, basing evaluation of a kid's learning achievement on just one test is unfair and, probably, inaccurate.

My view: That's right. Basing a kid's future on just one standardized test makes little sense. I remember seeing 10-year-old kids in England throwing up and even getting ulcers just before taking the dreaded "Eleven Plus" exam.

Indeed, a University of Michigan professor of education, Scott Paris, argues that standardized tests stifle education and should be banned for three years while educators come up with better ways to evaluate student achievement.

Lots of states — Vermont leading them — are developing something called "portfolio assessment systems" in which the range of a student's work over several years would be collected into a folder for external review. This is obviously a much better way to determine what a child actually learned than a standard test, but it's also obviously much more expensive than a standardized computer-graded test.

The bottom line: The MEAP test alone is no cure-all. But it's better than nothing because it forces attention to what kids actually learn and provides stimulus to school reform.

Thank you, schools, for citing bias

To the Editor:

It is reassuring to read in the Jan. 21 Northville Record that the Northville school administration acknowledges, and is preparing to examine and correct, the gender bias that exists in the schools' recent MEAP test scores.

For over 100 years the American Association of University Women (AAUW) has been an advocate for promoting equality for women. In order to heighten public awareness concerning educational equality for girls, in 1990 the AAUW commissioned a national poll of 3,000 school-age girls and boys to explore the impact of gender on self-esteem levels, career aspirations, and academic interests. Major findings concluded that there is a drastic drop in girls' self-esteem around age 11 which is sustained throughout middle and high school, and that this lowered self-esteem has an effect on girls' confidence in the areas of mathematics, science and technology and subsequent career aspirations.

Another AAUW 1991 review of 1,300 research articles and publications on girls and education revealed that girls receive significantly less attention from classroom teachers than do boys, teaching methods that foster competition are still standard and computer technology and science classes have been particularly strewn with gender bias for boys.

In view of the above AAUW findings, in May 1993 the Northville/Novi AAUW is planning a hands-on science workshop for middle school girls. The AAUW sponsored workshop will give girls a chance to build their self-esteem while expanding their base of knowledge about science. This workshop will contemplate and enhance efforts provided by the school system to erase gender bias in our school system.

Northville Schools have always been among the best. It is gratifying to see the concern that addresses gender bias in education. There is no easy solution to the problem, but by working together as a community we can strive for equal quality education for all young women and men.

Omnicom should carry C-Span II

To the Editor:

I have tried in many ways, time and again, to ask that Omnicom broadcast C-Span II so that we citizens may have the opportunity to tune in on the U.S. Senate when it is in session.

Omnicom has been broadcasting the House of Representatives when it is in session for some years. It goes without saying that we are better informed about our government's work when given the opportunity to watch it in action.

Last year I wrote to the manager at Omnicom, our township officials, and the Northville Record regarding the broadcasting of C-Span II. To date, nothing has happened. A well-informed citizenry, most will agree, is the best guarantee that our constitutional rights are protected, and that the lifeblood of our democracy continues to be vibrant and free.

Lawmakers blow chance to aid homeowners

To the Editor:

1992 proved to be a very good year for homeowners due to the assessment freeze adopted by the state legislature. However, the legislature recently ignored the needs of the people when it refused to extend the freeze through 1993. It fails to understand that senior citizens are driven out of this state when assessments continue to skyrocket.

House Bill 6641 would have provided a solution for the problems if the legislature had taken immediate action when the bill was introduced in November of 1992. Instead they dragged their feet and pigeonholed the bill due to pressure from lobbyists representing interest groups eager to benefit from increases in assessments. Lobbyists for city and county employees, wealthy school districts, and the MEA were busy bees buzzing around key legislators in recent weeks. They successfully stung the homeowners by working to prevent the bill from being voted upon.

Meanwhile local assessors have been panting breathlessly, eagerly awaiting the opportunity to raise our assessments. They mailed out increase notices to poor homeowners who are already overburdened and staggering under the heavy tax load in this state. If you have received an assessment hike, you should mail a letter to your state representative demanding a permanent freeze to solve this problem.

'Legacy' was an example of an opposing view

To the Editor:

In his column on "Legacy" (Channel 56), Tim Richard appears to have missed the main point that truth, contrary to popular belief, can sometimes be multi-faceted. To one person a bottle may look half-empty, but to another it appears half-full and both are correct. Similarly, in the historical context, is Columbus a hero or a

DARE could solve complex problem

To the Editor:

As a parent, citizen and business person I am concerned and fearful of the effects drug abuse has on our children, business competitiveness and society as a whole.

What makes drug abuse such a frightening problem is its complexity. Its effects have no age, race or economic boundaries. It's solutions may be more complex than the problem itself.

We, as parents, educators, business and community leaders must work together to find solutions. These solutions can be found in education. Education of ourselves and especially our children.

It is important that we investigate and implement programs that have shown positive results in the battle against drugs. The success of the DARE program in other school districts across the state and country warrants our attention. It is a reasonable, creative and available program that brings the outside community, educational community and parents together to educate our children with a unified voice.

In conclusion, we must put aside our egos, put aside our imperative natures and step over the bureaucracy to give the children of Northville the ammunition needed to fight temptation and power of drugs. The DARE program will help in this effort.

Okey R. Lemasters

Power, control are challenged by DARE issue

To the Editor:

Whether or not DARE is right for Northville, we must applaud Mrs. Patak for her tenacity, and continue to challenge the notion of absolute power of control in the Northville Public Schools (NPS) administration.

Mrs. Patak has been trying for nearly a year now to introduce the DARE program to Northville. She finally has her foot in the door, but the door is tight up against it. Since we have paid administrators responsible for curricular development, why is it so difficult to introduce developments? The power and control are being challenged.

Currently, about 95 percent of funding is from local sources. That means that the administration is accountable to outside forces for only 5 percent of their $25 million plus in spending. Allowing DARE into the curriculum means relinquishing another slice of the power and control to an outside force. And if they give up DARE, what other worthy program will be next?

For about a decade now, the NPS has operated pretty much unchecked. Board members ran unopposed, and millages could pass with only half of the parents voting in favor. But things have changed the last year. Millages failed with high voter turnouts, board members faced opposition for their seats, and the administration found themselves having to answer critics. Again, the power and control are being challenged.

If we could only get NPS administration to teach the children to resist alcohol and drugs as well as the administration resists outside change, we wouldn't even need a DARE program.

Robert Bernard

Charlie Stilec/Student Assistance Program

Schools attack drugs on three fronts

It has come to my attention that there is some confusion about exactly what is the difference between Northville Youth Assistance, DARE and Student Assistance. All of these programs are excellent approaches to dealing with our youth, but each stands by itself regarding certain aspects of each approach. The Northville Youth Assistance Program, directed by Mary Ellen King and housed at Cooke Middle School is viewed as a program matching youth with trained volunteers in our community. The youth are referred by the police, the school family or other community programs or members. The program does an excellent job of giving the youth support on a one on one basis, as well as counseling under the direction of Mary Ellen.

The DARE program which stands for Drug Abuse Resistance Education, has as its goal a prevention model based in working with youth in our community schools at a fifth grade level. The program is often used alone or in conjunction with a health curriculum and is taught by a trained police officer, or other professional. The DARE program can also be taught in upper grades once the fifth grade component is in place.

The Student Assistance Program, which has been housed at Northville High School since November 1987, came as a result of a need to supply ongoing education and support groups and individual counseling to at-risk youth. The Student Assistance Program is a school-based program which provides education, support and awareness in order to intervene, identify, assess and refer students and families around the issues of chemical use, abuse and dependency.

My point is this, that we need a multi-faceted program of prevention and intervention in our community. It seems to be that there is, with cooperation and coordination, room for Youth Assistance, DARE, Student Assistance and the Michigan Model in the education process of our students and families. According to the AOD survey — and long before facts became public — there is a great need to stop the use and abuse of cigarettes, alcohol and other drugs by the youth.

I believe the Michigan Model provides an excellent basis for educating our students about the facts and teaching them ways to deal with the problem. DARE also provides an excellent way to teach students and both models work effectively in the schools in which they are used, in my opinion.

However, neither the Michigan Model or DARE do what Student Assistance does. Prevention is not the same as ongoing intervention, and this is an important distinction when dealing with a "using" population such as we see in the high school arena. For instance, the present group support programs at Northville High School are the following:

● 1. Aftercare group — This group has as its members students who have been addicted to drugs and have gone through outpatient counseling or inpatient treatment. Weekly groups help them get support from others like themselves, who need to have as a priority staying sober, attending Alcoholics Anonymous or other support group meetings in the evening as well as attending outpatient counseling.

● 2. Chemical Awareness or Insight Group — This group has as its members students who have started down the path toward addiction, have had negative consequences and have been referred by self, friends, family or administration to the Student Assistance Program for support, education, counseling and most likely, referral to a treatment center if use does not stop.

● 3. Concerned Persons Group — One out of three of our students live in a home where a member of that family is involved in abuse or addiction to drugs and/or alcohol. These students are commonly referred to as Children of Alcoholics and their self-esteem and existence is tentative at best. The weekly group makes help available through peers who are going through similar situations. Often the end result is counseling.

● 4. Fresh Start Stop Smoking Group — Nicotine is now viewed as a gateway drug, meaning that in a high percentage of those harmfully involved with the use of alcohol and/or other drugs, their experimentation at an early age began with cigarettes. Members in this weekly group are either addicted to nicotine, have used cigarettes as a stress reliever or smoke as a habit. Often counseling is pursued for those members.

I hope that the readers are getting the point I am trying to make. Maybe down the road through the efforts of Youth Assistance, Michigan Model, and programs such as BABES and DARE, Student Assistance will not be necessary. But I highly doubt it. We have many students who are hurting and need programs not just to educate them. Student Assistance helps them deal with their situations while they are out of control, using and trying to get their lives together.

We need a multi-faceted approach to the problems at hand. There is no program that provides intervention, support and referral like Student Assistance does. We do not interfere with the great education and prevention of the Michigan Model and DARE.

When a student is on the brink of dropping out of school due to cocaine use, or living with alcoholic parents, or smoking two to three packs of cigarettes a day, or needs someone in school to understand the recovery process, Student Assistance is the proven model of choice.

I hope we as a community can see the wisdom of a multi-faceted approach to the problems at hand. Not one program is better than another. We need to work together for a common goal.

villain? Gen. Custer? Depends on who you ask.

History is a progression of events and a historical rendering, whether a book or TV series, represents an interpretation of those events as seen through the eyes of the writer or narrator. Furthermore, it is not possible to include all events in a condensed work such as a documentary or a serial. It should come as no surprise that a historical rendering such as "Legacy" can affect the sensitivities of the reading or viewing public depending upon how the author interprets and narrates the subject matter. Truth, indeed, is a bitter pill to swallow sometimes.

Richard appears particularly upset with Michael Wood's rendering of the "Barbarian West" in "Legacy". He accuses Wood of several omissions and "falsifying of history." The examples he cites reveal, however, Richard's own selective view of history — which is not how I see it though — and therein lies the enigma of history with many faces.

For example, on the item on India, Richard complains that there is "no mention that the Brits took over civil government in the 18th Century because Indian rulers hired them." What Richard himself fails to mention is that this was no simple employment contract, but really a grand strategem of "divide and rule" masterfully executed by the British to colonize India by playing the rulers one against the other and thereby reducing opposition.

On the item on global war and the West, what more compelling evidence does Richard need than examining the root causes of World War II and its key instigators? As background, both of the World Wars were European wars to begin with, and the two were related in that the Versailles Treaty (1919) was unacceptable to Hitler, who declared in his book Mein Kampf that his mission was to destroy it "using force, if necessary." The rest is well recorded — his creation of the Third Reich; his aggressive conquests for "living space;" and the failure of the other European powers, despite guarantees to protect Czechoslovakia and Poland, to contain him through their policy of "appeasement."

Turning to the broader topic of history of civilizations, man's advance from barbarism to civilization has been well-documented (e.g., H.G. Wells' Outline of History and J. Nehru's Glimpses of World History). It is true that the ancient civilizations in Egypt, Mesopotamia, China, India, and elsewhere were in the forefront of this advance, as evidenced by the great pioneering conquests of the Aryans, Scythians, Huns, Mongols, and others.

But times do change as civilians rise and fall. These older civilizations slowly went into decay and regressed, while a new order emerged and flourished in Europe culminating with the glory of the great Industrial Revolution. Capitalist civilization has made the West dominant today, while the countries with the ancient civilizations have relapsed into the Third World. Why these ups and downs occurred cannot be explained adequately in a newspaper column. Suffice it to say, as Nehru has put it, that "history is one connected whole and you cannot understand even the history of any one country if you do not know what has happened in other parts of the world."

In this respect, Wood's approach to history is fresh and comprehensive, although he may have gone a little far in his critical portrayal of the West. By the same token, Richard's rebuttal is narrow and parochial. Let us give credit where it is due — to Channel 56 for courage in providing "alternative television."

Station's demise traced to demands

large chunk of money," Daniel said. But the largest lump sum was a $10,000 trust fund payment required to qualify for the state's MUSTFAA (Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance Act) fund, which assists owners of registered underground storage tanks in cleaning up their sites.

"The icing on the cake was the idea that you had to put up $10,000 of your own money," Daniel said.

That requirement was particularly hard on Cal and Mary Cross, who had hoped the station would provide them with a comfortable retirement, Daniel said. "He wound up cashing in a life insurance policy in order to enter into this, which left my mother in a bad situation at the time of his death . . . Now he's passed on and my mother's going to be left with no retirement at all."

More bad news was the revelation late last year that the MUSTFAA fund is bankrupt and the state may not be able to assist in cleaning up the site. But Daniel said cleanup projects submitted soon may still qualify for state funds. "It's my understanding that if the completed bids are sent in by Feb. 8, they'll honor that," she said.

The potential for a costly cleanup also scared off many potential buyers over the past several years, Daniel added. The family first offered the station for sale through Thompson-Brown Realtors two years ago. It was listed at $275,000 then, a price the real estate agents considered certain to attract a buyer, since the property had been appraised between $300,000-$350,000.

"We had numerous people interested, but when they came in and took a look at the environmental problems, they just backed out," Daniel said. "They wanted nothing to do with it."

The family must now sell the property at a greatly reduced price, just to avoid liability for the potential cleanup, Daniel said. "My mother will walk away from that property with virtually nothing."

Daniel added that Cal's Car Care is not the only mom-and-pop service station forced to close by state requirements.

"I don't think our story is unusual," she said. "When we go up north, we see deserted gas stations all over the place that were simply abandoned . . . It's touched a lot of people, and in our particular case we had to sell."

School turns down DARE proposal

tional education to Northville students about how to resist drugs."

Custer added she felt the controversy stemming from DARE was due in part to the administration feeling it may lose control of the curriculum by implementing DARE.

"The Northville school district has everything to gain and nothing to lose, except a little bit of curriculum control, by offering our fifth graders an extra dose of drug abuse resistance education," Custer said. "It would not be that difficult to substitute 47 percent of the Michigan Model, which is the amount needed for the 17 weeks of DARE, and which represents a portion of currently allocated health instructional time for grade five. That still leaves 53 percent of health instructional time for grade five and 100 percent of health instructional time for the Michigan Model for the rest of the grades."

Last Friday, Dolly McMaster, assistant superintendent of instructional services, said the district wasn't opposed to DARE, however, would like to use the program as an "enhancer" to the Michigan Model and not a "supplanter."

Custer told board members she felt the DARE program was a gift. "It is not a perfect gift; I do not believe that the program will eradicate the drug abuse problem among all future fifth graders," she said. "I do believe this program will prevent some future abusers. I recognize that this gift is not packaged and wrapped the way many Northville school managers would like it to be wrapped and packaged. I conclude, Northville should accept this gift as is and try to work around the packaging."

Custer's statement was met with applause from the audience.

About a dozen people requested to speak on the DARE program. Due to the late hour, Board President Carol Rahimi asked audience members to limit their comments to three minutes each.

Christopher Jones asked the board to consider taking more time before making a decision.

"I don't see how we can afford to wait to take a look at results from the '93-'94 (AOD) survey," Susan Ruiz said. "I'm concerned. You don't have to go to Detroit to buy drugs, they're in our backyards. We can't put this off. The crisis is here, the crisis is now."

Carlos Ruiz asked why DARE couldn't be considered in the curriculum process. No one on the board offered an explanation.

Gini Patak, who has been pushing the DARE program for what she said has been 18 months, said at no time did anyone suggest a curriculum process needed to be followed. She asked the board to make it a matter of public policy on how a parent enter the curriculum development process.

At a Dec. 17, 1992, board meeting, board Vice President Glenna Davis suggested Patak address the curriculum sub-committee with the issue. Patak did on Jan. 21.

Patak also told board members the proponents of DARE have never advocated altering the Michigan Model.

"We have simply requested that the board enhance Northville's delivery of the Michigan Model with DARE lessons," she said.

Other districts, such as Dearborn, Ulica and Ann Arbor, have combined the two programs, and Don Sweeney, school health coordinator for the Michigan Department of Public Health, agreed the programs are extremely compatible, according to Patak.

One resident said if the DARE program saved only one student from using drugs, it would be worth it.

"I can't believe the people in Northville who live in a little bubble and say 'not my child,'" she said. ". . . Drugs come in every social aspect and any category you belong to (when you're in high school). Yes, times have changed."

Trustee Jean Hansen, who chairs the curriculum sub-committee, said the Michigan Model covers each of the four areas — drugs and alcohol, decision making, peer resistance and alternatives — that DARE addresses.

"If we're going to continue to run a quality school district with the fine curriculum we have, there's a lot to say for following the process we have," Hansen said.

Trustee Joseph Dunkerley Jr. agreed DARE was a good program, but felt the health program would be damaged if the district simply began taking out lessons from the Michigan Model.

"Through study, I think you'll find these items are nicely integrated," he said of the Michigan Model.

Dunkerley also expressed concern over the costs associated with bringing in a uniformed officer as well as a teacher in the classroom.

George Patak, who is a DARE officer in Ann Arbor, told Dunkerley that funds for DARE do not come from taxpayers, but rather from monies seized in drug raids.

Gini Patak expressed her disappointment after the meeting, but on Tuesday was optimistic about the future.

"The next step is to open communications," she said. "It's apparent to me there is a real big problem with the schools communicating with the parents and the community."

She said she will suggest the schools send letters home with parents if there is a problem related to drinking or drug use in the schools.

"That would be a very basic trust builder," she said.

Patak said she would also like to create parent meetings, which would examine other ways the school could cooperate in diminishing drug and alcohol use by Northville youth.

And what about DARE? Patak said she'll keep pushing the program.

"We'll work toward DARE for next year and in the interim work on building trust," she said.

Educational fair set to review textbooks

A "materials fair" will be held from 1 to 6 p.m. Feb. 2 in the Northville High School cafeteria.

The fair will be held in conjunction with an in-service afternoon for kindergarten through sixth grade teachers.

According to Dolly McMaster, assistant superintendent for instructional services, the idea resulted from the K-6 Language Arts Committee and the need to review textbooks and supplementary materials for changes taking place in the curriculum.

Exhibitors are expected to represent companies such as Macmillan-McGraw-Hill, Phoenix Learning Resources, Britannica, Doubleday Bros. and Co., Rigby Education, Timco Inc., Michigan Products Inc., and Zaner-Bloser as well as many others.

The public is invited to check out the fair. For more information, call the office of instruction at 344-8452.

THURSDAY
January 28, 1993

Bill Peterson, president of the Northville Toastmasters, welcomes the club's two newest members. At top right, Novi residents Dan Cowan (right) and Scott Wakefield take their first steps toward progress. And at right Barbara Wold has come along since her first public speech.

Master the fear of PUBLIC SPEAKING

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

Three and a half years ago Barbara Wold waltzed up to the podium to give a four-minute speech about herself to a handful of people. Thirty seconds into her speech her voice started to quiver, her knees began to shake, and her mind drew a blank.

Right there in front of everyone she froze. She forgot what she wanted to say and her body and mind wouldn't let her say anything else. It was sheer terror, she remembers.

"I came here my first time and went up there," Wold said pointing to the podium. "After 30 seconds I sat down because my mind went blank, my voice was quivering, my hands were sweaty and my knees were knocking."

"I sat down. Then I left and I cried all the way home."

For Wold giving a speech before an audience was nothing short of "living death." Just being in front of a crowd and having to speak to them was paralyzing, she said. And it was always like that for her.

"In school it (having to give a speech) was a tremendous terror," she said. "I used to hope that I would be sick the day I had to give an oral presentation."

"I used to get butterflies. No, they were bigger than butterflies. They were bats."

Wold is not alone in her fear. Public speaking is rated as one of the biggest fears people have. It rates high on the list of stress triggers and causes similar physical and emotional reactions in a lot of people.

Novi resident Scott Wakefield knows the feeling.

"I get really nervous and my face turns bright red," Wakefield said.

The 29-year-old sales engineer says he needs to overcome his fears about public speaking so he can improve his communication on the job.

As part of his job responsibilities, Wakefield said he has to make reports in the office to his co-workers. Those reports are often a source of panic and fear. But he added that with practice his public speaking skills have improved a little bit.

"I'm getting better, and the more confident I feel about things the better I speak about them," he said.

Like Wold, Wakefield is seeking the help of the Motor City Speak Easy Toastmaster's Club to settle their fears and tame the bats in their tummies.

Wold's been a member of Northville's chapter of the International Toastmasters club for the past three and a half years. Wakefield and his roommate Dan Cowan were both installed just last Monday.

Wold knew she had made progress when a family member asked her to give the eulogy at her mother's funeral service.

Audrey Blackburn

Blackburn shows her true American colors

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

Some good things are not for everyone—like the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 19 in Novi, of which Audrey Blackburn is president.

Membership is restricted to women who can claim relationship to a member, living or dead, of American Legion Post 19.

The main concern of these women, according to Blackburn, is the promotion of love of country. And they do it in three ways in coordination with the state organization and also the national organization of over a million members.

At Christmas, they contribute gifts for the temporary shop set up in the gymnasium at the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Hospital. Veterans come to select whatever they want to be wrapped and sent to their family members.

"Our unit is assigned to buy 30 gifts," Blackburn said.

At other times they contribute money to the hospital toward purchase of needed items, such as wheel chairs, shower trolleys, and coffee for the coffee hour.

The second project, Blackburn said, is the American Legion Auxiliary Girls State Program. Unit 19 with cooperation of Novi High School counselors, selects three or four girls to attend a 9-day session at Central Michigan University to live with more than 500 others from the state as self-governing citizens in a mythical community. Eventually two girls from that group are chosen to go to Washington to learn more about our political process.

The third project is helping instill patriotism in the minds of preschoolers by passing out coloring books on Americanism and the Pledge of Allegiance in the American Legion Booth at the '50s Festival.

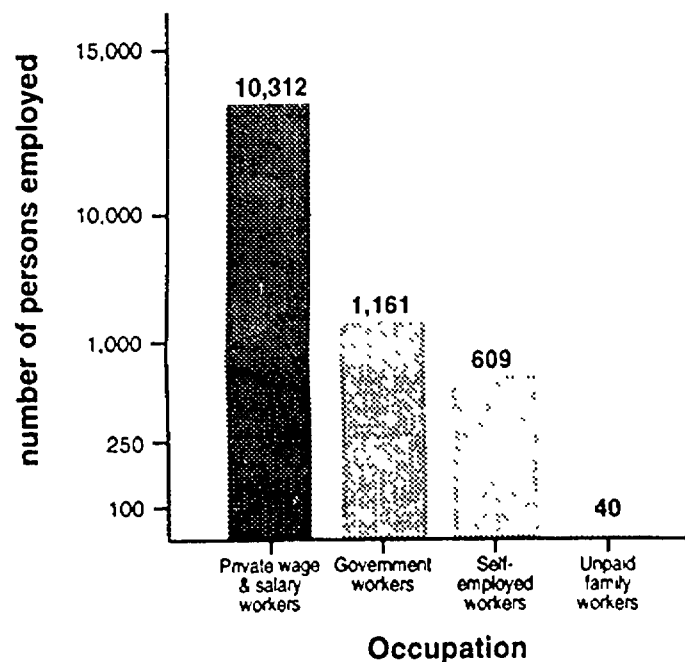

Where do they get the money to afford all of this?

Are you eligible? Interested? Call Audrey Blackburn at 474-8504.

In Our Town

Club's looking for new listings for phone book

The Northville Mothers' Club is starting to compile its 1993-94 telephone directory which covers all residents living in Novi and Northville inside the Northville Public Schools boundary.

Club members are looking for residential listings for new Northville and Novi residents and for those who have had a change in address or telephone number since the directory was last published in 1991-92. Anybody who wants to include their residential listing in the directory should contact Phone Book Chair Karen Hooper at 349-9107 or Co-chair Margaret Surdu at 349-7665 to be included in the directory.

In addition to compiling residential listings, the Club is also selling advertisements in the phone directory which goes to over 14,000 people. Club members are selling both quarter-, half- and full-page ads and classified ads. Prices for larger ads vary according to length, type and placement of the ad. All ads must be copy ready. Local businesses may also be featured in the directory's classified listings. Prices for the company's name, address and telephone number is $20. Additional lines are $10. Any other listing included under other headings are $20 too.

The phone book will be distributed in September.

Proceeds from the sale of advertisements in it will benefit students at Northville schools.

OLV arts and craft show

Our Lady of Victory school in Northville is now accepting applications for crafters to feature their work in the school's Spring Arts & Crafts Show on Saturday, March 27.

Table or booth space is available for $25. The show will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the school social hall. To apply or for more information call Paula Taylor at 380-5634.

Northville Newcomers

The Newcomers are looking to open their membership to new residents in the community. The group offers a wide variety of planned activities for residents of all ages and interest levels. If interested in joining the Northville Newcomers call Catherine Rabahy at 420-0125.

"Fun Night at the Northville Downs"

The Country Girls Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is hosting a fund-raiser at Northville Downs on Monday, Jan. 25.

"Fun Night at the Northville Downs" kicks off with a buffet dinner at 7 p.m. with races following. Tickets are $20 per person with proceeds to fund high school scholarships.

For tickets and information call Kathy Alexander at 349-3885 or Bette Moran at 349-5467.

Schoolcraft holds auditions

Schoolcraft College is holding auditions for its winter theatre production of Eugene O'Neill's drama Long Day's Journey Into Night. Auditions will take place at 7 p.m. on Jan. 26 and 27 in the Liberal Arts Theatre on the college's main campus. Auditions for the show are open to the public. The show will open as a dinner theatre on March 19. It will run March 27, April 3, 9, and 10. Curtain time is 8 p.m. For audition and ticket information call 462-4400, Ext. 5270.

Northville Arts Commission

On Feb. 17 the Northville Arts Commission will be hosting the second of its three-lecture series entitled The Pleasure Dome of Kubla Khan. The third in the series, Children of the Sun is scheduled for March 17. Tickets are $6 a person and are available at the door. There is limited seating. For information about the lecture series, call Joann Dayton at 347-9664.

Durham joins in the 54th parade of Harmony

Showtime for the annual barbershop quartet's fundraiser is Friday Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. and again on Saturday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Schmidt Auditorium at Clarenceville High School in Livonia. Fifteen percent of the proceeds go to the Institute of Logopedics, the Barbershop Society's International Service Project.

Tickets are $10 for the Friday show at 8 p.m. and $11 for the Saturday show at 7:30 p.m.

Single Place events

Single Place Adult Ministries, an affiliate of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, has a series of workshops available for singles of all ages.

On Wednesday, Jan. 27, Ed Humenay will be the guest speaker at Single Place. His seminar entitled "What Is Co-Dependency: Where Does It Come From?" takes a look at family dynamics and how it affects people, our choices and our relationships. Humenay is a counselor with the Adult Recovery Alcoholic Treatment Center of the Community Hospital of Chelsea. A $4 donation is requested. Humenay will make a return visit to Single Place for a similar four-session seminar in February. For four Sunday evenings, Feb. 7, 14, 21 and 28 at 7 p.m., Humenay will facilitate An Opportunity for Growth Workshop dealing with co-dependency.

Single Place is also hosting another three part Opportunity for Growth Workshop on Feb. 14, 21 and 28. The workshop will be led by facilitator Nick Berar and deals with Men and Women Relating Together. A $24 donation is requested.

Single Place's Men's Discussion Group meets on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. Bob Paroski will lead this group and provide a forum for males to discuss the problems and social pressures which influence them and are unique to them. A $3 donation is requested.

Sunday Morning Gathering of Single Place Ministries meets every Sunday morning from 10 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. Sunday Morning Gathering is for Christian singles of all denominations as a time of fellowship, sharing and growing. The topic for January and February discussion is "Quality Friendships." Sunday Morning Gathering meets in the library/lounge of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

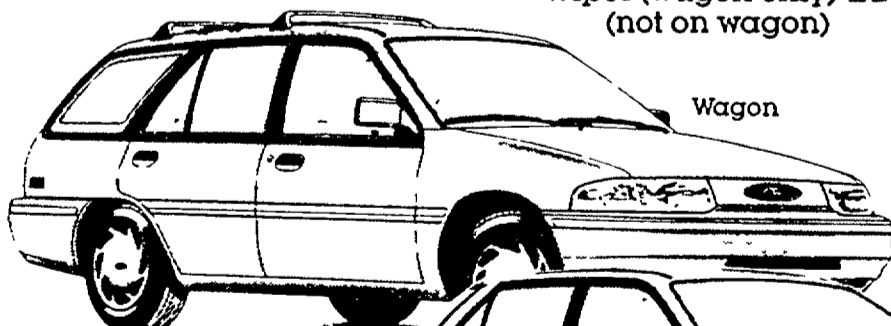

First Presbyterian Church is located at 200 E. Main St. downtown. For information about any of the events call 349-0911 or fax registrations to (313) 349-6474.

Wedding

Tracy and Michael Sumner

Tracy Lynne Lane of Northville and Michael J. Sumner of Novi were united in matrimony Oct. 3 at the First United Methodist Church of Northville.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Lane, and wore a floor-length fitted gown trimmed in sequins and pearls.

Sherri Lynne Lane was maid of honor and Debra Nelson was bridesmaid. They wore black velvet, trimmed with black chantilly lace.

Edward Evans was best man and Michael Hale and Kyle Sumner, son of the groom, were ushers.

Guests attending the wedding came from New York, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Connecticut and Florida. The reception and dinner was held at the Country Epicure in Novi.

Upon returning from their honeymoon at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, the newlyweds reside in Wixom.

Woman's Club Centennial Moment

During the '50s, longtime Northville Woman's Club members were regularly recognized by an afterglow. Three names were added in 1951-52 and four during 1953-54. One meeting a year was outside the community with one tour a year planned. Visits were made to the Detroit Institute of Arts or Greenfield Village.

During this period the organization sponsored a local girl scout troop. Donations were also still being made regularly. In the late '50s occasional member programs were still being presented. Among those were "What's My Line" in 1955-56, and Housewives Follies in 1956-57.

Presidents between 1942 and 1962 were Ada Bloom, Georgianna Chase, Ina Whipple, Josephine Hahn, Louise Cansfield, Gertude VanAtta, Ruth Mary Atchison, Elizabeth Chapman, Mary Yahne, and Alice Woodruff. Many of these ladies remain active members today.

PTA News/Elementary Schools

SILVER SPRINGS

Happy new year to all Silver Springs families. At our January PTA meeting Ken Pawlowski described the special language arts presentation to be made by Silver Springs students on Jan. 25.

Silver Springs parent Denise Anderson gave an informative report on the need for radon testing in the home. Inhalation of large amounts of radon could affect the health of your family, and it is recommended that all homes be tested.

Dr. Rezmierski gave an overview of the various school funding court cases that the Northville School District is involved in.

In our PTA committee reports: Karen Stephens reported that the Art Appreciation Program will get under way this month and will run for six weeks. Parent volunteers are still needed for the fifth grade. Parent volunteers are also needed to help Dominique Moroz look into possibly changing the PTA's annual fundraiser. The membership committee reported that Silver Springs has 100 percent staff membership in the PTA.

This year's Junior Great Books program is under way at Silver Springs. It would be wonderful if more children could participate in this worthwhile reading program, but that cannot happen without more parent volunteers.

Silver Springs Junior Enrichment Series featured the Northville High School Choir carolling in the school in December. In January a recycling program was presented to students. Our next assembly will take place

March 4 at 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. with singer/guitarist Marc Thomas performing "Give Yourself a Star," a musical program to inspire self-esteem. Detroit's Attic Theatre will visit Silver Springs March 19 to present their Magic Carpet Reading Program.

Silver Springs is now recycling styrofoam lunch trays. If you are interested in helping to extend this worthwhile activity to other classroom and lunchroom waste products please contact Dominique Moroz.

Dates to remember:

Jan. 31 — Silver Springs PTA Family Roller Skating Party at the Skatin' Station in Canton at 5 p.m.

Feb. 1 — Report Cards will be sent home

March 15 — Silver Springs next PTA meeting will be on a Monday evening, starting at 7 p.m. The agenda will include discussion and voting on next year's handling of the Holiday Shop.

The PTA is looking for new and different parent volunteers to get involved with our various committees. You, your child and the school will all benefit from your involvement.

AMERMAN

Amerman PTA members of the Jan. 5 meeting were treated to an entertaining skit, "The Bus Ride" by Mrs. Olivero's second graders along with delightful treats provided by Amerman teachers. A special thanks to Mrs. Holmberg, Mrs. Raben, Mrs. Tiplady, Mrs. Colligan, Mrs. Dunkerly, Mrs. Krutetz, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Olivero, Mrs. Anderson, and Mr.

Lightfoot.

Mr. Jeff Radwanski, Principal, Cooke Middle School, spoke to us indicating that he will again be conducting small tours of Cooke for the parent's of next year's sixth graders. These tours will be Jan. 18, Feb. 15, March 22, April 26, and May 17 from 9:20 to 10:45 a.m. The regular sixth grade orientation will be May 25.

Our noon hour programs are under way. Additional volunteers are still needed and siblings are welcome to come along with parents. Please contact Karen Eathorne if you are available one hour per week in February or March.

Amerman's Germ Awareness Week proceeded on schedule. Teachers received individually wrapped towelettes to distribute to students and the PTA is offering boxes of 100 for the nominal price of $1.50 in an effort to continue the habit of "portable" handwashing. Please contact Sue McCambridge at 348-8625 or Marilyn Grech at 348-8066 if you need an order form.

We are getting closer to our goal of 32,000 Campbell's Soup labels. We ask that your child sign his/her name and room number on the back of their labels and deposit them in the Campbell's Soup canister near the office. At the February PTA meeting names will be drawn for the calendar contest.

The disbursements committee is looking for ways to enrich your child's education. If you have any ideas please contact Barb Flis, disbursement chairperson, at 349-5477.

RADIAL KERATOTOMY

Surgical Correction of Nearsightedness & Astigmatism

"I was very impressed with Dr. Beitman and his staff. They made certain I understood everything about RK and knew just what to expect every step of the way. I'm so happy with my result that I've referred my sister to the RK Institute for her surgery." — Karen Kaufeld, Ann Arbor, MI

"I was the first of 4 members of my family to have RK surgery. My results are wonderful! I'm experiencing a whole new freedom without my glasses." — David Gronow, Detroit, MI

"My husband was nervous for me, but now we both wish I'd had RK surgery years ago. Until now I didn't know a surgeon I felt I could depend on. I would hate to see my sons wait until they are my age to have RK." — Adrienne Awender, Brighton, MI

Six Degrees lampoons liberal guilt, bias

Marlo Thomas has come a long way since That Girl.

The four-time Emmy-award winning actress is now on national tour starring in the much-praised Broadway comedy Six Degrees of Separation.

Local theater fans have a chance to catch the show, which won the 1991 New York Drama Critics Award for best play, on Feb. 3 through 14 at the George Burns Theater.

Writer John Guare's work explores the prejudices and snobberies of the self-involved rich as they are exploited by an African-American man who masquerades as Sidney Pollitt's son. Actor John Cunningham reprises his Broadway role as the young Pollitt.

Serious social situations such as white liberal guilt, the generation gap, alienation, upscale greed and celebrity-mania are ridiculed in the fast-paced megahit.

The local production is directed by Jerry Zaks, who won a Tony Award for Best Director when Six Degrees of Separation first opened at Lincoln Center Theater in New York.

The original team of set designer Tony Walton, costume designer William Ivey Long, and lighting designer Paul Gally have remained together for the national run of Six Degrees of Separation.

The regional tour began in Los Angeles in October and is appearing throughout the East Coast, West Coast and Florida.

Thomas has recently appeared in several regional theater productions. Her television credits include Nobody's Child, The Lost Honor of Kathryn Beck and It Happened One Christmas.

Along with her Emmy Awards, the actress has been honored seven Emmy nominations, a Golden Globe and a George Foster Peabody Award. Her theater background includes starring roles in two Mike Nichols productions, Barefoot In The Park in London and Social Security on Broadway.

For information and tickets, call 1-800-589-8000. The theater is at 33330 Plymouth Road at the corner of Farmington Road in Livonia.

John Cunningham and Marlo Thomas star in Six Degrees of Separation.

In-Town Special Events

WORLD OF ART: It's not too late to catch the second and third lectures of Michael Farrell's three-part art series sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission at Genitt's Little Theater. The talks take the audience on a voyage of art and architecture around the globe, traveling a route opposite to the one Christopher Columbus took in 1492. The art historian is known for his style and wit. Farrell's series still includes The Pleasure Domes of Kubla Khan on Feb. 17 and The Children of the Sun on March 17. Each lecture will be at 7:30 p.m. Individual tickets will be available at the door for $6.

For information, call Joanne Dayton at 347-9664 or P. Dorrian-Sanbothe at 349-8719.

WINTER THRILLS 'N CHILLS: Victoria's House is the Northville Players' spine-tingling mystery play, reminiscent of the works of Agatha Christie and Alfred Hitchcock. Victoria will be played by Debi Lee, a professional actress who has appeared in television commercials.

Performances are Jan. 29 and Jan. 30 at the American Legion Hall in Northville on the corner of Center and Dunlap streets. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Tickets are $7 for the Friday performances and $18 for the Saturday evenings, which include a dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m.

For information, call Judy Kohl at 348-2678. Tickets may be purchased at the American Legion Hall or at Bookstall On the Main in downtown Northville.

Theater

WHO DUNNITS AND HIGH C: Genitt's Hole-in-the-Wall Restaurant continues to present its Murder Mystery and Verdi Opera Dinner Theatre performances.

Genitt's has three different production companies performing three different Murder Mystery Dinner Theatres every Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. Reservations required. Special performances of the Murder Mystery Dinner Theatre are available.

As the crime unfolds during the performance, the guests try to discover who "committed the murder" through clues given out by cast members. Gifts are awarded to those who correctly guess the identity of the murderer.

The "Verdi Opera Dinner Theatre" is scheduled the third Thursday of every month at 7:30 p.m. All arias are performed by the Verdi Opera Theatre of Michigan. Special performances are available for large groups. Reservations required.

Also, scheduled for February is Lend Me A Tenor, a farce set in 1930s Cleveland. The price of $34.95 includes dinner.

Genitt's "Hole-in-the-Wall" restaurant is located in downtown Northville at 108 E. Main St. just east of Center Street (Sheldon Road). The Murder Mystery Dinner Theatre and the Verdi Opera Dinner Theatre including the seven-course dinner costs $29.95 per person (including tax and tip).

Phone 349 0522 or fax 349-4641 for reservations. Group rates are available.

FIRST LADIES OF THE THEATER: Tony Award-winning actress Julie Harris and Roberta Maxwell, who's taken home Obie Awards for her off-Broadway performances, will co-star in the Broadway hit Lettice & Lovage at the George Burns theater. The play, written by Peter Shaffer, author of Amadeus and Equus, focuses on the friendship between an exuberant British tour guide and her fussy superior.

The show runs from Jan. 26 to Jan. 31. Tickets are $25 to $45 and are on sale at the George Burns Theater Box Office at 33330 Plymouth Road at the corner of Farmington Road in Livonia. Or at any Ticketmaster Outlet. Call Ticketmaster at 645-6666.

For information, call 1-800-589-8000.

REMYNISCENT MARY AMNESIA? Nunsense II, The Second Coming the sequel to Nunsense will have its world premiere at the Birmingham Theater Feb. 9 through March 14. The show will then tour nationally before opening in New York City this fall.

See the Little Sisters of Hoboken at preview performances Feb. 9-12 at a reduced price and at regular prices for the rest of the run.

Tickets range from the reduced $15 at some matinees to $30 on Friday and Saturday nights. They are available at all Ticketmaster Outlets and the Birmingham Theater ticket office from Jan. 17, for information call 644-3533.

THURSDAY

By WILLIAM T. TOMICKI
New York Times Travel Syndicate

Q: Do you know of any special tours for baseball fans?

A: A company called Sports Tours Inc., sponsors so-called Ultimate Baseball Road Trips. Participants go to major-league games in famous ballparks and attend receptions at restaurants such as Harry Caray's in Chicago and Mickey Mantle's in New York.

Seven trips are planned for 1993. Knowledgeable tour leaders will cover sports stadiums on the East Coast, in the Great Lakes area, on the West Coast and in Toronto and Montreal.

The price is about $700 to $800 per person; that includes the cost of game tickets, hotel accommodations and transportation. For details call Sports Tours at (800) 722-7701. Information is also available from your local travel agent.

Q: My wife and I will be in New York in March and would like to avoid staying at a high-rise hotel in the middle of the city. Can you suggest any alternatives, possibly a bed-and-breakfast inn just outside Manhattan?

A: Several bed and breakfasts in Brooklyn, N.Y. — especially in the historic Park Slope area — offer travelers an alternative to the urban bustle of Manhattan.

Reasonable rates, friendly hosts, fascinating architecture and tasty breakfasts are some of the reasons bed and breakfasts are so popular. Here are three of my favorites:

■ Bed & Breakfast on the Park is an elegant Victorian Row House facing Prospect Park. Rates range from $100 to $150 per night. For more information call (718) 499-6115.

■ Brooklyn Bed & Breakfast in Greenpoint is a clean, cozy 19th-century brownstone. Rates range from $65 to $80 per night. For more information call (718) 383-3026.

■ Foy House, located in Park Slope, is the oldest bed and breakfast in Brooklyn and is run by an accomplished travel writer. Rates range from $80 to $110 per night. For more information call (718) 636-1492.

All of these accommodations are centrally located, offering a variety of local activities.

Nearby attractions include Prospect Park, which has open fields, jogging paths, lakes and an ice-skating rink; the Brooklyn Academy of Music, which hosts a wide variety of cultural events; and the Brooklyn Botanic Garden and the Brooklyn Museum.

Q: Do you have any information about summer fishing events in Mammoth Lakes, Calif.?

A: The Mammoth Lakes area, in the scenic High Sierras, is known for its fishing opportunities. The area's annual trout derby is a favorite event for fishing enthusiasts.

This year it will be June 19. Prior to the derby, about 8,000 pounds of trout, ranging in size from one to eight pounds, will be stocked in the nearby Lakes Basin.

There is no entry fee and $5,000 in prizes will be awarded in a random drawing. For youngsters, the Third Annual Children's Fishing Festival is July 31. Each child may keep one trout and design a fish-oriented T-shirt to wear.

For details call the Mammoth Lakes Visitors Bureau at (800) 367-6572. Information is also available from your local travel agent.

Readers are invited to submit questions to William Tomicki, P.O. Box 5148, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93150. Although he cannot answer each query individually, selected questions will be included in his column.

Taking aim at tourist dollars Duty-free shopping now available in Bahama Islands

By EVERETT POTTER
New York Times Travel Syndicate

The marble facade of Treasure Traders Ltd., one of Nassau's premier shops, is more than a $500,000 renovation.

It is a symbol of the Bahamas' plan to draw more tourist buying power. The Bay Street store is the first major retailer to spruce up before Jan. 1, when duty-free shopping was officially introduced in the Bahamas.

Treasure Traders has been selling gleaming crystal and china since 1947. Its stock — along with that of Little Switzerland, John Bull and other Bay Street shops — has been a big source of revenue for the island.

Yet Bay Street has been slowly gobbled up by T-shirt vendors and traders of inexpensive gold trying to make a fast buck from cruise-ship tourists.

"Shopping was going nowhere in the Bahamas," Jim Whitehead, Treasure Traders' manager says. "And with the recession we just couldn't compete with islands that had duty-free prices."

Whitehead says the duty-free stores on St. Thomas cater to a international clientele.

"The Bahamas finally woke up," says Diane Phillips, director of the Bahamas Duty-Free Promotion Board. "The country realized it was losing tourists. Sure they came for the sun, sand and sea. But shopping is just as popular a reason for going to any of these islands."

Strategically located to attract American buyers, Nassau is about 200 miles from Miami, a 35-minute flight. It is also a major port of call for luxury cruise liners.

To return home with $600 worth of duty-free goods and two liters of liquor per person, Americans must stay in the Bahamas for 48 hours.

The biggest savings will be on high-priced items. Treasure Traders has great bargains on fine brands of china and crystal including Rosenthal, Royal Copenhagen, Wedgwood, Waterford and Lladro.

"Lladro is the biggest seller in the shop," Whitehead says. "We have over 500 individual pieces and collectors know their prices when they come here."

The shop's main space is reserved for the sentimental, Spanish-made china figurines in soft pastel colors. Prices on Lladro items are about 30 percent less expensive than those in the United States.

As a rule of thumb, travelers can expect the Bahamas' costs to be 15 percent to 30 percent less than those in the United States. Shopkeepers are trying to match the prices of St. Thomas or to beat them by a few dollars if possible, in some cases 5 percent.

At Nassau's Straw Market, visitors find colorful straw baskets, hats and island T-shirts.

European china may also be dropped shipped from Treasure Traders — that is, ordered in Nassau but sent directly from the European factory to an American shopper's home.

For example, a five-piece place setting of Wedgwood's Clio line is $120 in the United States, $112 in Nassau and about $78 drop shipped.

To merit the duty-free exemption, bedclothes and tableware must be 100 percent cotton or linen. As for alcohol, only liter bottles qualify.

Now that the Bahamas offer duty-free shopping, many Americans are indulging in first-time buying sprees on the islands.

In Nassau the intrepid tourist will find great bargains on watches, china, crystal, perfume, linen and liquor.

Most retailers of quality merchandise are within a few blocks of one another in the Bay Street area. The proprietors are knowledgeable and friendly; shelves are usually well stocked.

■ Little Switzerland (Bay Street, 809-322-2201) is known throughout the Caribbean for fine watches, perfumes and jewelry. A one-ounce bottle of Chanel No. 5 perfume, which costs $210 in the United States, is priced at $160 at the Nassau shop.

It also offers Lladro figurines at 30 percent less than U.S. stores. The shop's Waterford Crystal is 25 percent to 30 percent less than U.S. prices.

Little Switzerland will ship free, via Federal Express, orders of more than $500 worth of duty-free goods to U.S. customers.

■ The John Bull store (Bay Street; 809-322-4252) has been the Bahamas' main Rolex dealer for 35 years. It offers dozens of models for men and women at prices up to 18 percent less than those in U.S. stores.

■ At Treasure Traders (Bay Street; 809-322-8521), the prices on china by Rosenthal, Royal Copenhagen and Wedgwood are up to 30 percent less than those in the United States.

A handful of older stores in Nassau are designed with an English flavor.

■ At A. Baker and Sons (Bay Street; 809-322-4213), established in 1894, visitors pay $75 for a Panama hat made by Christy's of London. A few blocks away, Francis Peek (George Street; 809-322-2332), offers deep discounts on hand-painted Herend porcelain from Hungary.

■ The Linen Shop (Bay Street; 809-322-4266), founded in 1946, is a traditionalist's dream. Only the pure linen in stock is sold at duty-free prices, but many other items are popular: Irish linen placemats for $8.95 each, cotton pillowcases at $9 each and old-fashioned tea towels for $8 each.

■ Located in a former Methodist school, The Scottish Shop (Charlotte Street; 809-322-4720), sells handmade Perthshire paperweights, which range from $30 to $500 each, and woven tartan fabric suitable for a kilt, at $44.50 per yard.

The store also carries woolen ties, at $17 each, for clans such as the MacPhersons, MacColls and MacArthurs.

■ Another shop, the Coin of the Realm (Charlotte Street; 809-322-4862), has a vaulted-brick ceiling over a space where gunpowder was once stored.

Nowadays, the stock includes medallions made of 17th-century coins edged in 14-karat gold. Prices for these treasures range from $275 to $650 each.

■ The Brass and Leather Shop (Charlotte Street; 809-322-3806), actually is two stores: One sells high-priced leather and brass items; the other, more affordable goods from Colombia.

For details write the Bahamas Duty-Free Promotion Board, P.O. Box N-208, Nassau, Bahamas or call (809) 326-5995.

Home computers aid travel decisions

By EVERETT POTTER
New York Times Travel Syndicate

Computers are changing the way travelers decide where they want to go.

Home computer networks such as Prodigy, CompuServe and Delphi give people with a modem and a telephone access to detailed information that once was the exclusive domain of travel agents and other professionals.

Customers can get reports on hotels and motels, ski conditions, the weather, food in Chinese restaurants, political conditions and health advisories — for hundreds of domestic and foreign cities.

Many of the networks feature travel clubs whose subscribers can "talk" with other people in nearby or far-flung places. They can get a feeling for a political situation, a storm that just passed or a low-priced hotel.

The computer networks offer access to travel information as just one part of the service. Subscribers can also access financial reports, games, news stories, reference libraries, sports data and other resources.

And while the number of subscribers is still relatively low, interest remains high.

"I'd say about a quarter of our subscribers use our travel features heavily," says Steve Hein, a spokesperson for Prodigy, which now claims to have 1.5 million subscribers.

"It's a part of the service we're constantly trying to improve and those improvements are based upon comments from our members on what they want."

Among Prodigy's travel features are weather forecasts for 100 foreign and 250 domestic cities, "best" and "worst" guides for 12 major cities and restaurant reviews from the Zagat series.

Prodigy's Travel Club is a feature that allows subscribers to communicate with each other. On a recent day some of the "talk" was about Los Angeles and how safe it was to go there in the wake of the devastating riots.

Subscribers also have access to Easysabre, an airline-reservations system owned by American Airlines.

It allows members to find the lowest-priced ticket to and from a given destination. The computer scans what may be 45 million different air fares at any given moment.

The start-up kit for Prodigy is $49.95, but it's often sold at a discount price that includes a free month of use.

Thereafter, the monthly charge is $12.95. That is good for 30 electronic messages per month. Additional messages are 25 cents each. For further information contact Prodigy Services Co., 445 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N.Y. 10601 or call (800) PRODIGY.

CompuServe, which has 980,000 members, also has a wide array of travel information, including the Easysabre service.

"Our Travel Forum is very popular," explains Debra Young, a CompuServe spokesperson.

"It's an on-line gathering place. If I'm going to Barbados, for example, I might send out a message asking about hotels and restaurants."

"I could easily get a response from a user in Barbados and even end up meeting that person when I get there. It's a worldwide service that can create computer pen pals."

Users have access to the latest U.S. State Department travel advisories. They can find out whether a visa is needed for a visit to a specific country.

The system also carries Worldspan Travelshopper, formerly known as PARS, the second most popular airline-reservations system.

In addition, CompuServe offers the Official Airline Guide (O.A.G.) Electronic Edition. It is a reservations system that includes the World Travel Guide, with information on more than 300 countries, and Zappo's Adventure Atlas, with more than 5,000 horseback, rafting and bicycle-adventure trips. The software and start-up kit for CompuServe cost $39.95. Thereafter, users pay $7.95 a month for the basic service or can elect a pay-as-you-go service and be billed just for on-line time plus a $2 monthly fee.

Travel Advisory

Safety tips for every trip

Driving around town, or on the road, the American Red Cross offers these suggestions to keep you and your family safe.

- Have everyone's seat belt fastened, no matter how short the trip
- If traveling with small children, be sure to secure them in safety seats that meet federal safety standards
- Never drink and drive
- Carry a flashlight and flares
- Keep a first aid kit in your car

Hoopsters whip Walled Lake Western 68-63

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Northville High managed to kill a pair of birds with one stone Friday night with a 68-63 basketball win over Walled Lake Western.

The Mustangs got a taste of revenge against the Walled Lake School District, having lost to Central earlier this season. The win also ended some recent road woes.

"We've had a tough time winning at Western in the past," Northville coach Larry Taylor said. "If you can come out of there with a win, it's great. I thought we did a great job to win by five."

Todd Rabourn led the way for the Mustangs. The senior guard notched a triple-double with 12 points, 11 rebounds and 12 assists.

"He played pretty well," Taylor said.

Mike Maschek was also solid with 22 points and nine rebounds. Junior Marc Chaisson had 10 points.

Going into the contest, Taylor said he was concerned about his team's one-week layoff after the Walled Lake Central game.

"Playing one game a week isn't good for us," he said, noting that practice isn't the same as game action. "I think the kids like to play tough competition. They look forward to it."

Northville showed no signs of inactivity in the first quarter against Western.

Maschek dominated on the inside for the Mustangs dropping 10 points in the period. John Farrar scored six on a pair of three-pointers.

Defensively, Northville went with a man-to-man defense designed to shut down Walled Lake's excellent outside shooting. Farrar responded well to the tough assignment of guarding Brent Mackowiak by holding him to two points in the quarter.

"We didn't want to let Mackowiak get to hot to early," Taylor said of the likely all-WLAA player. "He kept him intact pretty well."

As a result, Northville led 20-12 by the end of the period. The game tightened in the second.

"We came out and played well in the first quarter," Taylor said. "I don't think (the layoff) hurt us too bad."

Mackowiak warmed up for eight points as the Warriors pulled to within two by halftime. The Walled Lake senior nailed a pair of three-pointers to rally his team in the early going of the period.

The two schools played to a standstill in the third quarter.

Rabourn led Northville with six points in the period while Rick Biermann added four. Heading into the final frame, the Mustangs clung to a 51-49 lead.

The two schools traded baskets in the fourth. With 1:30 left, Northville led by three points and went to a spread offense designed to generate fouls or an easy score.

Mackowiak got a steal on the Mustangs first attempt at the offense and cut the lead to 63-62. Northville had better success the second time around as Maschek was left open for an easy layup.

Farrar then connected on a pair of free throws with about five seconds left to ice the game. Taylor gave his team credit for not folding under pressure.

"They never lost their composure," he said. "I was proud of them."

Northville moved to 6-3 overall with the win. The Mustangs are 2-2 in the conference.

One dual meet.

That's all that stands between the Mustang swim team and a fourth straight Western Division title. Only Plymouth Canton remains in Northville's way — and the two schools will have their showdown tonight at 7 p.m. in Canton.

"Canton's always the toughest in our division to beat," Northville coach Mark Heiden said.

The Mustangs, now ranked No. 9 in Class A, took care of business Thursday by downing North Farmington 55-38 at home. Northville is now 6-0 overall and 4-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Heiden said the meet went pretty much as planned.

"The first half of the meet went as expected," he said. "The second half was interesting."

The coach said North Farmington moved its best swimmer from the 100-yard backstroke to the 100-yard freestyle. Heiden said it paid off, to a degree, as the Raiders were able to score more points than they would have otherwise.

Overall, he added, North Farmington wasn't as strong as in years past.

"They lost a couple of their top swimmers from last year," Heiden said.

Northville posted no new state qualifying times in the meet.

The Mustangs started strong by winning the 200-yard medley relay. Jason Fisher, Jim Fee, Dave Wesley and Jeff Sieving combined for a time of 1:40.42. Todd Lennig, Matt Handyside, Joel Elsesser and Jason Lennig took third in 1:49.64.

In the 200 freestyle, Fisher came out on top in 1:50.83 while Gregg Garner was third in 1:58.61. Wesley placed second in the 200-yard IM with a time of 2:04.64.

Fee won the 50-yard freestyle in 22.90. Heiden said the senior has remained under 23 seconds in the event for some time, which is a big accomplishment.

"To be consistently that fast is very good," he said.

Mike Malloure won the diving competition with a point total of 248.90. Jeff DeWitt was third with 184.25.

In the 100-yard freestyle, Fee was a winner again. He posted a time of 55.91 while teammate Handyside came in third in 1:00.86.

Spikers fall to Warriors in five

By SCOTT DANIEL

The Mustang volleyball team showed signs of improvement Jan. 20, but fell in five games to Walled Lake Western at home.

Coming off a disappointing performance at Livonia Churchill two nights earlier, Northville looked much sharper and focused against the Warriors, according to coach Laura Melvin. The only mistake the Mustangs made, she said, was chalking up a victory too soon.

"We've just got to learn how to put things away," Melvin said of her squad, which won the first two games. "We started celebrating the victory before we had it won."

The difference between the first two Walled Lake games and the Churchill match was amazing, Melvin said.

"The first two games we just played outstanding," she commented. "We did things we haven't even done in practice yet."

Despite the 0-3 overall record and 0-2 mark in the Western Lakes Activities Association, the Mustangs remain positive.

"They were really pleased with the way they played," Melvin said. "I think they had a lot of fun that match."

Game one was an uphill battle for Northville.

Wrestlers take two of three at Bulldog tourney

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Bob Boshoven has a match he'd like to see.

The wrestling coach's Mustangs took two of three matches Saturday at the Brighton quadrangular. The host Bulldogs handed Northville a 45-12 defeat. It was only the second time this season the wrestlers have been beaten soundly — with Trenton doing the other major damage.

Boshoven said a Brighton-Trenton duel would be a toss-up.

"(The Bulldogs) are solid just like Trenton," he said. "They don't have a hole in their lineup."

"We were able to keep it respectable, but we were not in a position to threaten them."

The loss to Brighton started the day for Northville. The Mustangs were able to whip Ann Arbor Huron and Ann Arbor Pioneer in their other matches.

Mike Steiner lost for the first time since Christmas to start the Brighton match. The 103-pounder fell to Chris Young 13-8.

At 112, Jiro Kameoka wrestled well but fell by a decision as well, 15-12 to R.D. Dias. Jason Tarrow lost to one of the state's best at 119, Nate Bufalini, 11-8. Tarrow led heading into the third period but suffered a reversal to his back for the loss.

Jamie Hutsman knocked off Northville's Chris Harrison 9-3 at 125 pounds. Matt Allison kept his streak of pins alive, despite having the flu, by stopping Chris Taylor in 1:54.

Carl Tune was pinned by Brighton's John DeLuca in 3:09 at 135 pounds. Joe Scappatelli, at 140, fell to Ryan Damell.

At 145 pounds, the Bulldogs' Steve Hubert defeated Nate Tarrow 11-1. Eric Lockridge took another win for the home school by decisioning Ryan Baber 12-3.

Northville's John Matthews lost to Chris Uren by a 9-1 count at 160 pounds. Eric Hibbler was pinned in 53 seconds by Jason Gale at 171.

Senior Mike Held suffered a pin at 3:58 at the hands of Brighton's L.B. Bureman. Adam Davis closed the match on a positive note for the Mustangs by pinning Scott Niles in 1:21.

Boshoven said his wrestlers knew Brighton would be tough. He said they were still confident, however. "I don't think they go into any match this year expecting to lose," Boshoven added.

NORTHVILLE 49, ANN ARBOR HURON 14: The Mustangs didn't sulk after the Brighton loss. Boshoven said his team, in fact, didn't seem greatly affected by the defeat.

"They have definitely matured from last year," he commented.

Steiner got his first win of the day by decisioning Mo Kanin 7-5. Boshoven said his 103-pounder is one of several Mustangs with a shot to make it to the state finals this year.

"I think Tarrow, Allison and Steiner all have a good shot to make it to the (finals)," he said.

At 112 pounds, Kameoka was a 3-1 winner over Burke Porter. Tarrow beat Jeff Winkelman 4-2 at 119 pounds.

Mustangs of the Week

TODD RABOURN

KRISTA HOWE

TODD RABOURN: Rabourn led the way for the Mustang basketball team in its win over Walled Lake Western. The senior guard notched a triple-double with 12 points, 11 rebounds and 12 assists.

KRISTA HOWE: According to coach Laura Melvin, Howe did a great job of blocking last week against Walled Lake Western. Howe collected five solo blocks. The junior has been one of the Mustangs most consistent players all season, Melvin said.

The teams traded points until the Warriors were able to take an 11-9 lead. But senior Lori George came off the bench and provided a spark for the Mustangs by serving for six straight points and a 15-11 win. Junior Sheila Osborn had five points for Northville in the game.

Angie Snyder was the story of game two. The junior served for eight points as the Mustangs took a quick 15-8 triumph.

Melvin said her team was very quick in the first two games.

"Nothing dropped," she added. "I was so pleased with the way they played."

It looked as if Northville would close the match in three games.

The Mustangs jumped out to a 3-0 lead. Walled Lake refused to give up, however, and took a 15-9 win as a result.

Momentum seemed to swing to the Warriors. Melvin said the visitors started reaching shots that had scored points for Northville in the opening two games.

Fatigue played a role as well.

"We were so quick (early)," Melvin said, "We wore ourselves out."

The Mustangs began missing serves and spiking the ball out of bounds after tiring. Melvin said poor serving hurt the team late in the match.

"It killed us toward the end," she said. "As time went on and fatigue set in our serving (got worse)."

The Warriors took games four and five by 15-10 and 15-8 scores. A number of Mustangs played well in the losing effort.

Krista Howe and Valerie Bassin did a good job blocking.

Northville collected void victories at the 125, 145 and heavyweight divisions.

Allison needed 1:21 to stop Phil Painter at 130 pounds. Tom Shield got a pin for Huron over Tune at 3:41.

At 140, Scappatoci took an easy 14-1 triumph of Phil Murray. Baber pinned Abe Schneider in 3:55.

Ann Arbor's Andy Barr defeated Matthews 12-2. At 171 Hibbler nailed Paul Strack to the mat in 28 seconds.

"He's had a string of tough opponents," Boshoven said. "It was nice to see him get a win."

Held was a 13-0 winner over Sam Swartz at 189 pounds.

NORTHVILLE 42, ANN ARBOR PIONEER 21: Once again, the Mustangs superior conditioning paid off. Boshoven said his squad had no trouble wrestling a third match.

"The team's in real good shape this year," he commented. "At a quad they don't have any trouble wrestling three solid matches."

Steiner got a pin of Paul Johnson in 2:58 to start the match. Kameoka got a void victory at 112 pounds. Northville got voids at 140 and 189 pounds as well.

Tarrow defeated Bob Jones at 119 pounds by a 13-6 score. Harrison fell to Bryan Johnson in 47 seconds.

Ann Arbor's Steve Basmiljan went the distance with Allison at 130 pounds but fell 16-9. Allison led 8-7 going into the third period and went on the offensive to close the match.

"He was very tired," Boshoven said of his senior. "By the third period he was physically drained."

Avi Advit took a 9-3 decision over Tune at 135. Eric Streiter beat Scappatoci 6-3 at 145 pounds.

Baber got Northville back on track with a pin of Tom Osterson in 1:18 at the 152-pound division. Matthews fell in overtime 11-9.

At 171 pounds, Hibbler was pinned by Josh Walters in 3:17. Davis won yet another match at heavyweight with a 1:26 over Jim Berg.

NORTHVILLE 60, LIVONIA FRANKLIN 8: The Mustangs got a look into the past Thursday by wrestling the Patriots.

Boshoven said Livonia's lineup features mainly freshmen and sophomores — just as Northville's did last year. Franklin had to void at four weight divisions.

"It's nice to be on the other end," Boshoven said.

Winners included Steiner, Harrison, Allison, Tune, Scappatoci, Adam Lynch and Davis.

The team of Jason and Todd Lennig, Peter Anthony and Garner won the 200-yard freestyle relay in 1:38.21. Matt Basse, Brian VanHorn, Handyside and James El-sesser were third in 1:40.94.

In the 100-yard backstroke, Todd Lennig was third with a time of 1:03.48. Sieving took second in the 100 breaststroke in 1:04.47.

The Mustangs closed on a high note by winning the 400-yard freestyle relay. Wesley, Fisher, Fee and Sieving posted a time of 3:24.80 for the triumph while the team of Joel El-sesser, Garner, VanHorn and Basse were third in 3:44.00.

Cross country skiing available locally

So far, winter in southeastern Michigan has been disappointing to winter sports enthusiasts. In December, the only significant snowfall that we had dropped about two inches of slushy snow that melted in two days.

Now we have enough snow to make it worthwhile to break out the sleds and the skis — but do you still remember what parks to go to?

This article can provide you, the winter sports person, a guide to nearby local parks and Kensington Metropark where cross country skiing, sledding, and skating are allowed. In a second article, there will be a guide to state parks in the area where these winter activities are permitted.

Local municipal parks and country golf courses open to cross country skiing, and sometimes sledding, include Heritage Park and Glen Oaks Golf Course, both in Farmington Hills; Wayne County's Middle Rouge Parkway, and the Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights. There are no charges to enter these parks.

HERITAGE PARK
Location: Farmington Road, between 10 Mile and 11 Mile Roads.

Park Hours: Dawn to dusk, some moonlight ski tours.

Phone: 478-8670.

Heritage Park is a small, wooded and hilly park operated by the City of Farmington Hills. As with all other parks, the park's facilities open for winter use only when there is enough snow to justify opening up.

Heritage Park has a sledding hill, a skating pond, and 3.3 miles of groomed ski trails which are only useable when "conditions permit."

The sledding hill is located at the northern end of the park. The hill is groomed and supervised with a designated return ramp for sledders.

At the southern end of the park is an ice skating pond, the entrance to the cross country ski trails, and the Day Camp Center.

A sign posted at the pond advises would-be ice skaters whether the ice is safe. Some park benches also surround the pond.

Heritage Park has 3.3 miles of cross-country ski trails.

Dave Justus of Farmington Hills' Recreation Department said, "There's no trail use fee. With skiable conditions we have groomed trails. But we haven't had enough snow in four years to do that."

If there is enough snow, moonlight ski tours will be held at the park Jan. 5. Skiers must register in advance at the cost of $3 per person.

Starting Jan. 9, ski lessons will be held at the park. For those interested in information about the lesson times and costs, call 473-9570.

Ice skate and cross country ski rentals are available at the Day Camp Center. The center also offers the park's only warming shelter; however, the building will only be open Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m.

to 5 p.m. when "conditions permit."

Skis are rented on a first come, first serve basis. The park charges a $10 security deposit and $8 for the first two hours of use. Also, the park charges $3 for each additional hour of use.

GLEN OAKS GOLF COURSE

Location: 13 Mile Road, between Orchard Lake and Middle Belt Roads.

Hours: Weekdays, approximately 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; weekends dawn to dusk.

Phone: 858-0906.

Glen Oaks will be open for cross country skiing for those who want to "blaze in their own trails," said Joan Goddard of Oakland County's Parks and Recreation Commission. However, there will not be groomed ski trails, rentals nor facilities.

The golf course grounds will be open during the week when the maintenance is there and on weekends, Goddard said.

MIDDLE ROUGE PARKWAY

Location: Wayne County along Edward Hines Drive from Northville to Dearborn.

Hours: Dawn to dusk.

Phone: 261-1990.

The Middle Rouge Parkway can be accessed from Hines Drive. Wayne County will have ice skating rinks set up at Wilcox Lake and Perrin Field in the park, said Tessie Pittes, manager of Recreation. Skaters can find out if conditions are safe by calling the number above.

"We will not have any official sledding hills this year," Pittes said. But sledders and cross country skiers are welcome to the park, at their own risk, from dawn until dusk.

WARREN VALLEY GOLF COURSE

Location: Warren Avenue, a quarter mile west of Beech Daily Road.

Hours: Monday-Wednesday and Saturday and Sunday 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Thursday and Friday 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Phone: 261-1990.

Wayne County owns the spacious Warren Valley Golf Course with its 7 kilometers in cross country ski trails. Even though the old clubhouse was recently torn down for renovations, the county decided to open the course up for cross country skiing, said Tessie Pittes, manager of recreation.

Ski rental will cost $7 per hour plus a $2 trail use fee. Of course, skiers with their own skis will still have to pay the trail use fee.

Torch light skiing will be available Thursday and Friday nights.

KENSINGTON METROPARK

Location: Milford, exit off I-96 at Kensington Road.

Hours: 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Phone: 685-1561.

Kensington Metropark offers a plethora of winter activities from sleigh rides to cross country ski trails, sled and toboggan hills and ice skating and hockey.

The Metropark entrance fees have changed for the year of 1993. The Metropark annual pass has been raised from $19 to $15 and the senior annual fee pass has been raised to $8. Daily park passes will cost $2 per car on Mondays through Fridays and $3 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Sleigh rides will be available at the Farm Center on weekends from noon to 4 p.m. for the cost of $1.50 per person. These are horse-drawn sleigh rides that last approximately 20 minutes. For groups wishing to schedule a sleigh ride, call the Farm Center.

Kensington has over 12 miles of cross-country ski trails with the terrain ranging from the golf course's relatively open land to the hills and woods of the park.

Ski rental is available at the park's golf course. The ski equipment includes poles, boots and skis for the cost of $6.50 for four hours on the weekend, but only $5 on weekdays. Renters can also purchase "insurance" on the equipment for an additional $2. $1 will be refunded if the equipment is turned in good condition. Additionally, groups making advanced reservations on Mondays through Fridays receive a discount rate of $4.50 per person renting skis.

The golf course clubhouse will be open on Mondays through Fridays from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on the weekend from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The clubhouse has a food bar which furnishes soup, sandwiches, and soft drinks.

Sledding and toboggan hills are located at the Orchard Picnic Area. "We need a minimum base of four inches of snow before we open them," said Dick Shafer, park supervisor.

"There are two toboggan runs that are 1,500 feet in length," Shafer said. "You need to own your own toboggan and it must be in good condition."

Near the toboggan runs are the four sledding hills: one is for beginners, one for intermediate sledders, and two hills for advanced sledders.

Ice skating and a hockey arena on Kent Lake will be set up at the Boat Rental area as conditions permit. Skaters must bring their own skates.

The skating area will be open daily on Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to dusk, and then on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Hockey will only be allowed during the daylight hours.

Next week's article will detail the winter activities at the state parks in the area. Further information on cross country skiing can be obtained by contacting local ski clubs.

Jacque Martin-Downs/Health

Women more likely to be abused

Oprah Winfrey recently hosted a television special addressing the child abuse in this country, including our denial about the number of sexually and physically abused children. It brought to my mind another issue we are in denial about — domestic violence and the number of women who are beaten by spouses or boyfriends.

Ninety-five percent of abuse cases are women who are beaten by men. It is estimated that three to four million women are battered each year. Coincidentally, the battering personality closely matches the chemically dependent personality. Five characteristics come to mind when we compare the batterer and the alcohol/drug-addicted person (i.e., abuser/user).

The first characteristic is jealousy. In the beginning of a relationship, the user/abuser will say jealousy is a sign of love. However, jealousy has nothing to do with love and is only a sign of possessiveness and lack of trust. Unfortunately, without intervention, the jealousy progresses until the jealous person closely "monitors" the accused. Some women cannot leave their homes without the permission of the jealous partner.

Second is controlling behavior. The abuser/user justifies controlling his partner by saying that he is concerned for the woman's safety, her needs to use her time well or her need to make good decisions. As the behavior worsens, he may not let the woman make personal decisions about the home, children, her clothing, her work or with whom she spends time.

Third is the similarity of having unrealistic expectations. The abuser/user expects his partner to meet all his needs. He expects perfection and nothing short of it. He may say things like "If you love me, you will..." or "I'm all you need." Further, chemically dependent people will often have unrealistic expectations of others and are then disappointed when the boss, friends or relatives let them down.

Fourth is blaming others for problems. Someone is always doing him wrong or out to get him. Even when he makes a mistake, the partner is to blame. It is not difficult for him to make it her problem that he lost his job because she didn't support him enough.

Finally, "raging" and losing control of tempers is a common factor. Ultimately, the other four traits lead the abuser/user to strike back and he feels justified for doing so.

A story of Sue underscores the similarity between domestic violence and alcohol or drug abuse. Sue knew her husband was an avid sports fan and drinker from the first time they went out. She figured she could get him to stop drinking once they were married. However, one year after their marriage, the drinking didn't decrease. Now Sue saw sides of him she had not seen while they were dating.

He called her frequently during the day and refused to let her work for fear she would meet someone else. He would be angry if she came home late from her card games with female friends. He expected her to be everything to him and meet all of his needs, even after their twins arrived. She was always at fault when something went wrong.

The first was minor because she only fell backward on the bed. He didn't apologize and said she had it coming. The second incident sent her reeling into the stove, breaking her glasses and bumping her head on the floor. He felt bad but said she deserved it. The third beating sent her to the hospital with broken ribs but he apologized and said he would never do it again.

Had they gotten help, she would have realized that his alcoholism and violence were out of control and that only treatment would have brought him into recovery. She didn't get help and eventually had to escape... without her children. Now they are victims of his use and abuse.

Baseball sign-up scheduled for February

Although the calendar says it's still winter, it is time to start thinking baseball. Northville Junior Baseball will be holding its annual sign-up at the Northville Community Recreation Center the first two Saturdays in February.

This year, the baseball/softball season is being extended an extra two weeks. The change is being made for several reasons.

The shortage of playing and practice fields has presented many scheduling problems in the past. It's particularly a problem in the early spring when bad weather often cancels practices and games. An extra two weeks will give teams a better opportunity to get together to practice before the season begins.

Another factor is that many families enjoy the games more on summer evenings without the pressure of school the next day. The new schedule will cut down on the number of games on school nights.

So, rather than the season ending by July 4, there will be a break for the holiday and the games will continue through the middle of that month.

Northville Junior Baseball is looking forward to a great sign up session in February. Youngsters can register from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each Saturday at the recreation center. All interested players of all levels can register as well as those interested in trying out for the travel leagues. Coaches may also sign up on those dates. For more information, contact David Jerome at 348-9097.

REAL ESTATE

Real estate market should be improving

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

A slow but steady improvement in the real estate market this year is expected by most industry professionals.

The reasons for their optimism could translate into good news for home buyers and sellers—reasons like lower home prices, continued low mortgage interest rates, renewed consumer confidence and a new crop of mortgage loan plans that make home financing more achievable.

Similar projections are expressed in the annual National Real Estate Review, a market conditions report prepared by the National Association of Realtors.

"One key to economic growth in 1993 is lower interest rates," the report stated. "The Federal Reserve Board vigorously pushed down short-term rates (last year) and by mid-1992 the discount rate stood at its lowest level since the early 1960s. The Fed, however, isn't able to pull a similar lever for long-term rates, which are more crucial to home purchases."

"One critical influence on long-term interest rates in 1993 will be the direction of the federal budget deficit. If Washington passes legislation designed to promote economic recovery that also yields a significantly higher budget deficit, then long-term rates may well rise, putting housing markets and the recovery itself at risk."

The overriding factor to long-term interest rates in 1993 lies with the behavior of inflation. It was emphasized in the NAR report.

"Rates will continue their descent as businesses and households realize that inflation in the U.S. remains in line."

Brokers in most regions of the country are experiencing a sharp increase in the number of first-time home buyers who are now taking action to achieve their dream of homeownership. An increasing number of these prospective buyers view the current market as a "window of opportunity"—a time when home prices are as low as they will be for some time and when mortgage interest rates are still at a 20-year low.

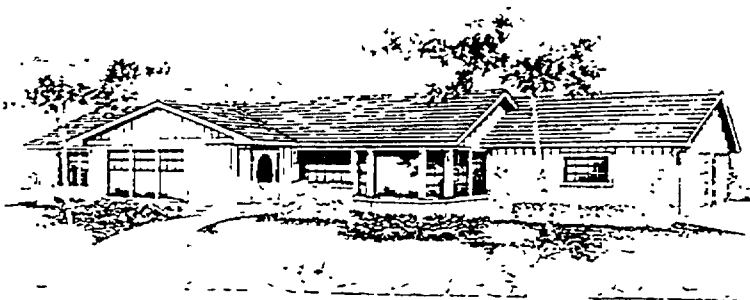

There also is growing consumer confidence in the economy, generally in the wake of the presidential election and a new administration taking the helm. This has a strong impact on the home-buying market, real estate leaders say.

Real estate investors and developers are also bullish on the future market. Developers can expect new pools of capital and targeted development opportunities during the next four years, it was predicted by Stan Ross of Kenneth Leventhal & Co., a research and accounting firm.

"The president-elect has made it clear he wants to spur the economy with tax credits and infrastructure spending," Ross said. "Developers should be keeping close watch on Washington so they are poised to take advantage

HOME DESIGNS

The Kidder offers high-tech play room

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

No need to have a television in the living room or family room of the Kidder (unless you want one there, too). This home has a media room especially for television, video games, stereo equipment, videocassette recorder—all manner of high-tech paraphernalia. The room also has a small storage closet.

And when it's time to wind down still further, you can simply step into the living room and leave the high-tech world behind. Here you can drop into an easy chair and watch low-tech flames flicker in the corner fireplace.

A sunny window bay brightens the comfortably spacious country kitchen. Parents of young children will appreciate placement of the kitchen at the front of the house, allowing them to keep an eye on the neighborhood. Sliding-glass doors in an adjacent space that serves as either family room or dining room, open onto a backyard patio.

The spacious open-design master suite has three closets: his, hers and another, for overflow.

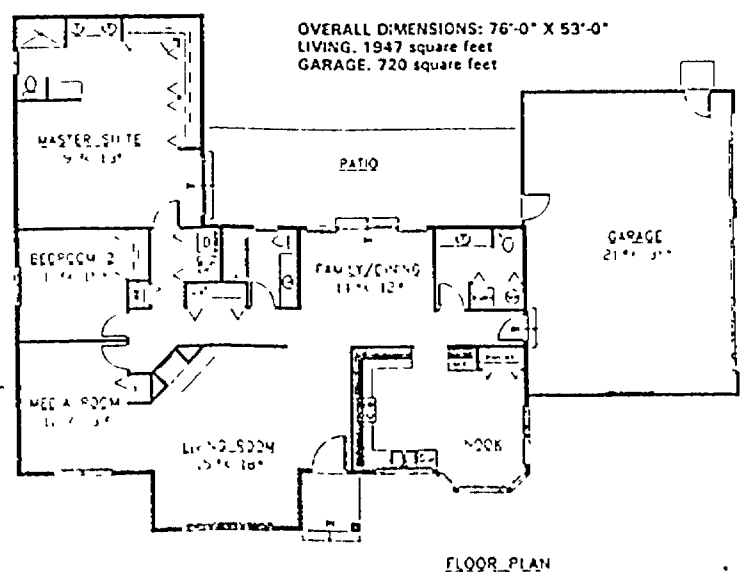

Other amenities include an oversized shower, a wide vanity with twin basins, a separate vanity without a basin and sliding-glass doors that open onto the patio.

Utilities are tucked behind folding doors in a hallway outside the bedrooms.

And when it comes to bathrooms, there's no waiting in line here. This home has three, including a full bathroom with tub and a half-bath adjacent to the two-car garage, in addition to the master bath.

The Kidder is designed for a corner lot.

For a study plan of the design mentioned in this article, send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, c/o HomeTown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

FLOOR PLAN

Experts in any field are generally in heavy demand. That's a given.

But what you may not realize is that you're an expert of sorts when it comes to home design. And you're the foremost expert when it comes to selecting the features and amenities you would include (and leave out) of the home of your dreams. Nobody else can provide that information with any degree of certainty.

Landmark Designs, in partnership with Hometown Newspapers, invites readers to share their expertise by participating in our Dream Home survey. The attached form makes the process easy and fun, whether you're planning to build a home or not. It includes the same types of questions architects, designers and real estate agents ask to determine their clients' wants and needs.

We also encourage you to attach letters, sketches and any comments or inspirations that come to mind. Throughout the 16 years Landmark has been designing homes, readers have always been one of our richest sources of new ideas. So don't be shy. We love reading what you send in—the more detailed, the better.

After the results are tallied, Landmark will design a national 1993 Dream Home. In addition, because area preferences vary widely, we will also custom design a home to meet the exact specifications newspaper. Where response is high, we'll come up with three plans—small, medium and large.

Floorplans and artist's renderings of the 1993 Dream Homes will appear on these pages in the spring. And it may interest you to know that home designers and builders nationwide will also be paying close attention to the results.

Mail forms to Landmark Designs, Inc. Dept. HN48, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. To reserve a personal copy of all the 1993 Dream Homes, include $3 to cover the cost of postage and printing. Be sure to include your name and mailing address.

Scented Geraniums

By C.Z. Guest
Copley News Service

Scented geraniums—their pleasures are understated, and their delightful fragrance is their best-known feature.

Traditionally grown as houseplants, scented geraniums also are useful in the garden. In frost-free areas, they may be treated like ordinary perennials and renewed by cutting only when the plant grows too woody.

In northern zones, they should be planted in containers (tubs, pots, etc.) and overwintered indoors, or otherwise treated like annuals.

Scented geraniums are marvelous placed on a sunny porch or terrace. The heat of the sun releases their perfume (which ranges from rose-scented to spicy or pungent) and fills the air with delightful fragrances. An open-air potpourri!

These lovely plants are a cinch to raise, they require almost no effort with the exception of a very few cultivars.

• Culture. Soil, equal parts of a good garden soil (peat moss and sand), should have proper drainage.

• Water. Only when soil surface dries.

• Harvest dry leaves for potpourri. Drying should be rapid to prevent molds. Remove leaf stalks and spread out leaf blades to dry. Leaf blades should never overlap.

• Light. As much sun as possible. Keep them cool, preferably not above 70 F.

• Disease or pests. Scented geraniums are not bothered much by either, since most diseases are caused by too much moisture. To discourage fungus (disease) during mid-winter, avoid poor ventilation and dampness. Propagation is best done by stem cuttings.

• Sources: Logee's Greenhouses, 55 North St., Danielson, CT 06239; Well-Sweep Herb Farm, 317 Mount Bethel Road, Port Murray, NJ 07865.

GERMINATING SEEDS

Once you know germination requirements for the seeds you wish to plant, all you have to do is find a good location around your home for germinating almost any type of seed. Many tiny seeds like steady warmth, so for best results I suggest the top of a refrigerator—it has given me great results.

Scented geraniums

- In frost-free areas, scented geraniums may be planted outdoors like any perennial
- Plant in equal parts garden soil, peat moss and sand
- Water only when soil surface is dry
- Keep them in a sunny spot, with temperatures not above 70° F of any Clinton moves that could alter tax strategies, impact property values and spark building."

Ross advised real estate leaders to keep tabs on the key congressional committees that influence lending and spending parameters.

"The real estate landscape will be sculpted by dozens of new members joining tax, banking, finance and appropriation committees for the 103rd Congress."

A. No. The conventional adjustable rate mortgage typically carries the largest average loan balance, now at $132,885. Loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration have the smallest average loan balance, now $64,442.

The overall average home mortgage loan balance is $112,065, according to a report from Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service, a national real estate brokerage franchise network.

Q. Is it true that the country's largest broker franchise group, Century 21, is breaking its organization into small regional units?

A. Century 21 Real Estate Corp. plans to decentralize its management functions and reorganize its domestic operations into a greater number of regional units. But the operation will continue to be administered from its headquarters in California.

"The move flies in the face of the consolidation, downsizing and retrenching trend that is happening throughout the industry," said Richard Loughlin, Century 21 president. "It is in direct opposition to the 'let's cut our services and wait for good times' mentality that permeates the real estate brokerage industry today."

The new Century 21 structure will make training, franchise sales, marketing and broker support the key focus of each region, according to Loughlin.

"It will free many of our staff members of administrative and accounting duties. And it will make it possible for our people in the field to work directly with our franchisees in promoting the high-

Century 21 is a wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. It includes about 6,500 franchised offices in nine counties.

Warm or cold feet work best for seed germination

Another ideal spot is under a grow lamp, though a countertop in your bathroom or kitchen also works well if these rooms are kept warm. The use of a heating cable, one strand under each tray can provide bottom heat for speeding the germination of warmth-loving seeds. These cables come in various lengths, with or without thermostats.

Other seeds like a cool spot. A cold frame or raised protected bed outdoors during cool weather, an attic in winter, or a closed room (during cold weather), or a basement, or a north windowsill, all have worked marvelously well for me. These locations also can be used to satisfy any initial chilling or freezing that is required by a specific type (this fact appears on the seed packet). Of course, your freezer or refrigerator can do the same.

Once seeds have been sown, check the moisture of your planting medium daily. If it feels dry, sprinkle the top gently, or better still, water from the bottom with water at room temperature. Allow the water to soak up until the surface becomes moist for a constant moderate degree of moisture.

Note: Keep your seed trays out of direct sunlight, which is often too hot and drying, until the seeds have emerged. Then be sure to furnish additional light. Emergence occurs as the baby plant embryo breaks out of its seed coat and the first stem rises out of the soil.

The first leaves that appear on most seedlings are the so-called seed leaves (cotyledons), which often bear little resemblance to the later leaves. Shortly after the first true leaves (which are more or less typical of the plant) appear, the seed leaves will drop off—don't worry when this happens, it's a natural procedure.

With some types of plants, such as lilies and corn, the first part to appear is a true leaf that will continue growing right on.

Growing on to garden-size plants may take only a week, or it may take several months, depending on what you're sowing. Your seed packet instructions and cultural index on most seed catalogs will give you detailed information about each variety of plant.

• Watering. After your seedlings are established with healthy roots spreading through the pro-mix, they will need a drier medium and less frequent but more concentrated feedings. Let the surface promix become dry to the touch between waterings (lower layers should never be allowed to dry out). Fertilize once a week increasing dosage to 1/2 teaspoon per gallon of water.

• Pinching. If plants get too tall before planting time (outdoors), pinch them back. Leave plenty of foliage and some branches so growth can continue, but pinch off just above the lower leaf or branch. A small pair of pruning shears does a better job than fingers!

• Suggestion: Sow your seeds in "Park starts" (Park Seed Co.). They are the product of the most up-to-date plant-growing practices and will enable you to grow strong, healthy seedlings with minimum effort.

A machine-carved chair

By James G. McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. I wonder if you can tell me anything about this chair. It belonged to my great-grandmother in upstate New York. My understanding is that it is more than 100 years old. I have no idea of its value.

A. This chair was factory made about 1900, the back was machine carved. An antique dealer would probably price it at about $265 to $285.

Q. This mark is on the bottom of a small porcelain figurine. It is a 4-1/4-inch-high woman sitting on a bench and wearing a black hat, green skirt, orange shawl and black shoes.

Can you tell me who made it, when, where, and what is its value?

ANTIQUES

and Vater in Rudolstadt, Germany, about 1900. The company was established in 1890 and ceased operations in 1962.

Your little figurine might sell for $165 to $185.

Q. Could you give me any information on my vase? It is white porcelain, 17 inches high, 5-1/2 inches in diameter at the bottom, 11 inches in diameter at the top. It is marked on the bottom "Belleek—Willels."

Was it made in Trenton. What should I be able to sell it for?

A. Your vase was made in Trenton, N.J., by the Willels Manufacturing Co. about 1900 and might sell for about $500. Willels made a fine translucent porcelain comparable to Irish Belleek.

Q. I would like to know about a dish my mother called a celery dish. It is oblong, with a silver rim and a pastel grape design in the center; on the bottom is marked— "Hand Painted over a Crown over a letter 'B'—Royal Rudolstadt."

I would like to know how old this dish is and if it has any value.

A. This was made in Rudolstadt, Germany, by Beyer & Boch in the early 1900s. It might sell for $20 to $25.

Q. I was left a set of dishes about 70 years ago and I wonder if you can give me some information about it. It is a 46 piece service for eight that was purchased at Wanamaker's department store in New York. The pattern on the rim is a row of roses inside a gold edge. On the bottom is "Mignon—Z.S. & Co.—Bavaria."

A. Your china was made in Rehau, Bavaria, in the early 1900s by Zeh, Scherzer & Co. "Mignon" is the name of the pattern. A complete 46-piece service for eight might sell for $400 to $500.

BOOK REVIEW

"Games: American Boxed Games and Their Makes, 1822-1992" by Bruce Whitehill (Wallace-Homestead, an imprint of the Chilton Book Co.) is devoted to the study of board and card games. It provides the history of the games, with detailed descriptions of each game. All are priced and many are illustrated.

This is an outstanding book on the subject and a basic and detailed handbook on the bobby of game collecting.

Store blesses its customers with bargains

By ANNE SEEBALDT GOGOLIN
Special Writer

When Marcy Birch decided to start her own business at age 22, she hoped it would rain blessings upon her and others.

And 10 months later, she thinks that has happened.

Birch, who owns Our Blessings consignment clothing store, said that her sister Tracy helped her decide on a name and that her father was instrumental in helping her start the business. The shop opened last April 7.

"It was a blessing to me and I thought it could be [one] for others," she said.

Her goal is to provide customers with the opportunity to purchase quality designer and other like-new items at reasonable prices. Our Blessings carries a variety of clothing items, such as men's and women's business suits ranging in price from $20-$40.

"We carry things that you would find in a store today," Birch said. "Things are sized like they would be in a department store. We're very particular about what we take in."

"We try for a Victorian atmosphere." That atmosphere includes an authentic curved Victorian counter with glass display cases.

Birch entered the retail world after leaving the field of clothing design, in which she has a degree. She said part of the reason for the switch is that as a designer, she would not be serving the general public.

Following her graduation, she decided she wanted to strike out in another area.

Another reason for her career switch is that she said she would be uncomfortable if she were asked to design clothing which she considers risqué and flashy.

"It would be really hard to be a designer with my Christian standards," she explained.

Birch added that she enjoyed resale shopping as a means to get more for her money and that gave her the idea to open a consignment clothing store. "I felt a conviction to make [good] clothing more affordable," she said.

Birch is thankful for the support and help she received from friends and family which has made her venture possible. Her father provided encouragement and the building behind the home he had recently purchased, she said.

Since her shop is located behind a building and did not have a sign for a short time, Birch said customers at first had a hard time finding her building, located at 328 Summit in Owner Marcy Birch sells used clothing and accessories with like-new quality.

Milford. Our Blessings is situated between the railroad tracks near the dam and Prospect Hill Shopping Center.

"I'd like to get our name out so people will bring their things in and know that we're here," she added. Our Blessings is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

friends gave her her initial stock and advertising brought in the rest.

"Everybody gave me clothes," she said.

Birch said that men's and women's clothes are available in all sizes, including designer suits and dress clothes, designer jeans, maternity clothes, formal gowns, wedding dresses, some furs and leathers, and various accessories.

She also sells jewelry, custom wreaths, Victorian-style stationery, and jackets and vests decorated with vintage lace and beads. Shop assistants Susan and Shirley Gibson make the vests and jackets, as well as assist Birch in keeping the operation running smoothly.

This spring, Birch said she plans to add on to the existing building. She would like to use some of the expansion area for baby furniture consignments.

Starting her own business taught Birch some retail lessons, such as what items she should accept, she said.

Business Briefs

MARTY GIBSON of South Lyon, lead technician for clinical engineering in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's operating room services area, is one of a team of employees recognized for its efforts to cut health care costs and provide quality support services. The awards were part of the department's 11th semi-annual Employee Recognition Program.

The work group captured the Cost Savings Award. The team developed and implemented a plan to cut almost in half the costs associated with service and maintenance contracts for cardiopulmonary bypass equipment while maintaining quality patient care.

The projects and resulting savings have spurred Catherine McAuley Health System to evaluate each piece of equipment as its service contract comes up for renewal as part of the health system's cost containment efforts.

The award recipients' names will be added to the department's recognition plaque. In addition, recipients received checks and restaurant gift certificates for their efforts.

Catherine McAuley Health System is a not-for-profit health care provider based in Ann Arbor. Units include St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, McPherson Hospital in Howell, Saline Community Hospital and outpatient facilities in Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne counties.

BRUCE LYS of Novi has joined Farm Bureau Insurance as a new agent serving this area. He joins a force of 430 Farm Bureau Insurance agents serving nearly 350,000 Michigan policy-holders.

Lys completed an extensive career development program for new agents, which prepared him for the state licensing examination and provided instruction in all areas of property/casualty and life insurance.

The training included the professional insurance program at Michigan State University and the agent career school at the Farm Bureau Insurance home office in Lansing. Farm Bureau agents are qualified to sell all lines of insurance, including life, home, auto, farm, retirement and business.

Lys was a self-employed investor prior to joining Farm Bureau Insurance Company. He graduated from Michigan State University in 1989 with a degree in financial management.

JERRY A. McCABE of Wixom has been appointed director of marketing planning by Thompson Advertising Productions in Farmington Hills. McCabe joins Thompson from Wolverine Gear and Parts

BRUCE LYS

JERRY A. McCABE

Co., where he was general manager.

"McCabe has the management experience and marketing know-how we've wanted for this new position," said John R. Thompson, president of Thompson Advertising Productions. "We are confident that his broad experience as general manager of Wolverine Gear and Parts Co. and prior to that, as manager of marketing services for TRW's Replacement Parts Division, will be invaluable in servicing our clients and in growing our company."

McCabe, a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, has been in automotive parts marketing for nearly 20 years. He and his wife, Laurina, and family reside in Wixom.

SPARR'S GREENHOUSES and Flower Shop has been recognized as a Top 500 member of Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTD). Sparr's has locations in Northville and Plymouth.

Sparr's Greenhouses and Flower Shop received a specially-designed plaque for the volume of outgoing and incoming FTD wire orders processed in fiscal 1991-92. FTD is the world's oldest and largest inter-city flowers-by-wire delivery organization.

Ford employees honored for work

Three Northville men are among 43 Ford scientists and engineers from Europe and North America who have been recognized for breakthrough innovations that will help Ford cut costs and development times while producing better quality products.

James G. Boenger Jr., James R. Sittari and Ray A. Dickie, all of Northville, were honored at the 12th annual Henry Ford Technology Awards program in Dearborn recently.

Boenger, a process liaison engineer, and Sittari, a product design engineer, both received Henry Ford Technology Awards for development and production implementation of a precision cold reduction process for forming internal splines on transmission brake drums.

Dickie, a principal research scientist, received a Henry Ford Technology Award for his part in the development and production implementation of rapid bonding technology for plastic lamp assemblies.

"When we look to the future and consider what we must do to be successful, it's clear that technology is going to be a critical element," said Ford Motor Company President Philip E. Benton. "When it comes to technical content, what we need most of all is innovation that adds real functional value to our products."

The technologies and processes for which employees received awards ranged from finding a way to produce cleaner burning, more fuel efficient cars to developing a computerized hydraulic system that can determine tire wear patterns before a new vehicle ever touches the pavement.

Due to experience, she has become very selective about the clothing she takes on consignment. She emphasized that the clothing must be in good to excellent condition, stain free, freshly washed or dry-cleaned, pressed, on hangers and in season or she will not take it. Jeans, knits, and baby clothes may be neatly folded rather than hung up.

Consignment pay an annual $5 fee to cover costs of paperwork. They receive 50 percent of the purchase price on regular clothing and 60 percent for bridal gowns and furs. They must, unless other arrangements are made, pick up their clothes between 30 and 90 days from the consignment date or the clothing may be donated to charity. Birch donates baby clothes to Another Way Pregnancy Center in Wixom and the rest of the unclaimed items go to the Salvation Army.

In the future, Birch said she may want to buy clothing outright and pick up clothing from people to allow for greater customer convenience.

The fact that Birch matches items that look as if they should go together and neatly arranges clothing in size ranges to help make her shop unique. For customer convenience, she takes Visa and MasterCard, as well as personal checks.

Birch said she enjoys hearing customer compliments on her arrangements and helping others find what they are looking for.

"It's rewarding when people come in and they're really excited about the clothing we have in," she added.

"A lot of people are very pleased that we are here. They say it's the best consignment clothing shop they've ever been in."

1993 Retirement Plan Changes

If you participate in an employer-sponsored retirement plan, such as a profit-sharing plan, 401(k) or money-purchase pension plan, you'll be playing by a new set of rules beginning in 1993.

Specifically, the game plan calls for several changes in the way lump sum distributions are handled. Under current law, when an employee retires or changes jobs, he or she can take receipt of the lump sum distribution and within 60 days roll the money into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) to avoid penalties and taxes. Beginning January 1, 1993, employees will be required to transfer their lump sum distributions directly from one plan to another, without taking receipt of the funds, in order to avoid taxes and penalties.

A transfer may involve your employer either wire transferring the distribution directly to your new retirement plan trustee or mailing a check to the trustee. The check may also be given to you for delivery to the new retirement plan trustee. However, if the check is made payable to you, rather than to the trustee, it would constitute taking receipt of the funds and could cost you dearly.

Beginning in the new year, any distributions taken by an employee from a qualified retirement plan will be subject to a 20 percent mandatory withholding. If the individual is under age 59 1/2, there may be an additional 10 percent penalty for early withdrawal.

For example, let's assume you change jobs and receive a $25,000 lump sum distribution from your employer's profit-sharing plan. The plan administrator is required to withhold 20 percent for federal income tax. This means you will only receive $20,000. However, the full $25,000 is taxable income in the year you receive it. In addition, if you are under age 59 1/2, you may be subject to a 10 percent premature distribution penalty. Remember, the $5,000 withheld represents additional taxes you paid for the year and will be a credit on your tax return.

Let's take this a step further. You would still have the option to roll the full $25,000 into an IRA within 60 days. However, you would need to replace the $5,000 withholding from other assets. If this were not possible, and you could only roll over $20,000, the $5,000 would be considered a taxable distribution and will be subject to income taxes as well as a possible early withdrawal penalty. To avoid this situation, your plan administrator can directly transfer your lump sum distribution to an IRA or other qualified plan.

It's very important to note that IRA distributions are not affected by these rules. Only distributions from employer-sponsored qualified retirement plans, such as profit-sharing plans, 401(k)s and money-purchase pension plans, are involved.

The changes in lump sum distributions are confusing at best, and they can be costly for those who misunderstand them. If a lump sum distribution is in your future, see a tax professional to make sure you don't sacrifice a penny of your retirement benefits. ■

Rising Costs Demand Rising Income

Health, wealth and happiness — and the time to enjoy them. Some may get a little more specific, but generally, when retired individuals talk about retirement dreams, that just about covers it. Retired individuals want safety, and understandably so. In an effort to protect the capital they've accumulated, however, some make the mistake of relying too heavily on fixed-income investments. The income is dependable and, as long as the bonds aren't sold before they mature, loss of principal isn't normally a problem.

The problem

Fixed-income investments are important to any diversified investment strategy, but what happens to retirement income if interest rates fall like they have in the past year? Today, a 12-month certificate of deposit provides one half of the income it did just one year ago. That's quite a pay cut for a retired individual relying on that income to meet expenses. Even if inflation stays at the low rate of 3 percent, with CD rates as low as 3.2 percent, some investors are barely breaking even.

What makes matters worse is the long-term effect of even a low rate of inflation. Even if the rate of inflation doesn't increase from its current level for the next 20 years (the length of time most of today's 65-year-olds are expected to live), the cost of living will increase by 80 percent.

If you own a 20-year, $10,000 bond paying 7 percent today, you should be able to depend on that $700 every year, no matter what inflation does. But with inflation at 3 percent, a purchase that costs $700 now will cost $945 in 10 years, and more than $1,200 in 20 years. Unless your income rises with expenses, you'll be forced to dip into your savings, and over time, you'll find your standard of living declining.

The solution

Fortunately, there is a solution — rising income investments. Investing in quality common stocks that offer the potential to pay increasing dividends over time is your best bet to combat falling interest rates and rising prices. A perfect example is the S&P 500. Over the last 10 years, the S&P 500 has increased its dividends 77 percent. In the past 20 years, its dividends have more than tripled. At Edward D. Jones & Co., we recommend that retirees allocate a minimum of 40 percent of their investments to equities, whether it be in the form of common stocks, utilities or growth mutual funds.

Your investment strategy

Although common stocks have provided higher after-inflation returns than any other type of investment over time, some investors consider stocks risky because they fluctuate in price. However, if you're counting on fixed-income investments to see you through 10 or 20 years of retirement, that could be risky too. A long-term investment strategy that sticks with quality, focuses on diversification and features stocks of companies with a history of rising earnings and dividends is one of the best ways to accumulate wealth and protect it. ■

Higher Taxes May Be On The Horizon. Are you prepared?

In November, Americans elected a new president into the White House. As a result, change is undoubtedly in our future. Although it's impossible to predict exactly what lies ahead, it may be a good idea to review your investment strategy in light of some changes that are likely to come our way.

In his bid for the presidency, Bill Clinton made it clear that a tax increase was part of his economic plan. In fact, he proposed an increase in the top federal income tax bracket from today's 31 percent to 36 percent. For many investors, this could mean a substantial increase in taxes. No one wants to bear more than his fair share of the tax burden. That's why tax-free investments are becoming more attractive than ever. Tax-free investments can reduce the amount of taxable income you earn and lessen the impact of taxes.

Tax-free municipal bonds

Tax-free municipal bonds allow you to earn interest that is free from federal taxes and, in some cases, state taxes as well. They have always been an attractive alternative for investors looking for tax-free income. However, an imminent tax increase has increased the demand for tax-free municipals.

Your investment in tax-free municipal bonds goes to finance various public projects like highways, hospitals, housing and public education. In return for your "loan," the issuer of the bond promises to return the face amount of the bond at a specified future date and to pay a fixed amount of interest income until that date (these payments are usually made semiannually).

This promise provides an attractive benefit for investors who like a high degree of safety, as well as tax-free income. In addition, some municipal

The Safety of U.S. Treasuries and the Flexibility of "Laddering."

Americans are eagerly awaiting details of the new President's economic plan. From all appearances, the economy is poised for change. If you're wondering whether interest rates will go up or down, the answer is "yes."

No one can predict where interest rates will go. For that reason, it's important to build an investment portfolio that performs well under a variety of economic and market conditions.

One of the best ways to protect your savings is by diversifying your portfolio among a number of different investments. This protects you from being severely affected by the performance of just one stock or bond. Many safety-conscious investors working toward long-term objectives find U.S. Treasury securities particularly appealing.

U.S. Treasury securities

U.S. Treasuries not only offer attractive returns, but because they are backed by the United States government, they rank among the safest investments available. In addition, they provide regular income on a semi-annual basis, and the interest they pay is state and local tax free.

U.S. Treasuries are available in a variety of maturities, ranging from three months to 30 years. In most cases, the interest rates on longer-term bonds will be higher than shorter-term bonds. However, shorter-term bonds offer you more flexibility since your money is not locked in to one investment for a long period of time. In addition, although all bond prices move when interest rates move, the prices of short-term bonds are typically more stable than those of long-term bonds. That's particularly important if you decide to sell your securities before they mature.

Laddering

Protecting your income by diversifying among a number of different investments is an important strategy to remember. However, a well-planned portfolio is also diversified by maturity dates. A portfolio that includes short-, intermediate- and long-term bonds offer maximum flexibility and liquidity. This concept is known as staggering maturities, or "laddering."

The long and short of it

Laddering U.S. Treasury securities is an attractive strategy for investors who want safety and liquidity. To demonstrate how it works, consider the following example:

Brian and Judy Moore had $80,000 to invest in U.S. Treasuries. Although longer-term bonds offered the most attractive interest rates, the Moores didn't want to lock all their money into a long-term investment because they planned to use some of it for home improvements a few years down the road.

After talking to their investment representative, the Moores decided that laddering was the solution they needed. They split their investment among two-year, five-year, seven-year and ten-year Treasuries, investing $20,000 in each. As a result, a portion of their investment earned the higher rates of long-term Treasuries and they still had money coming due in just two years. When that time comes, the Moores can choose to reinvest it or use it to meet expenses they may have at that time.

Your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can give you a better idea of how "laddering" and U.S. Treasuries can fit into your diversified investment portfolio. ■

The Tax-Free Difference

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return 1992

Label: Carol Weber
123 Any Street
Anytown, USA

Filing Status: Married (file jointly)

Exemptions: 2

Income: $10,750

Taxable Income: $65,150

Result: The Webers had to pay the IRS $13,587, leaving them with after-tax income of $56,163 ($9,000 + $10,750 - $13,587 = $56,163).

Nothing communicates the value of tax-free income better than the 1040 tax form Americans are required to complete every year. To find out what a difference tax-free investing can make, take a look at the tax bills for Carol and Tim Weber and Barb and Frank Jones.

Carol and Tim Weber...

- ▼ Earned joint income of $59,000
- ▼ Earned $10,750 in TAXABLE interest income from a $200,000 investment.
- ▼ Took two personal exemptions totaling $4,800.
- ▼ Showed taxable income of $65,150.

RESULT: The Webers had to pay the IRS $13,587, leaving them with after-tax income of $56,163 ($9,000 + $10,750 - $13,587 = $56,163).

Now, let's take a look at Barb and Frank Jones. They...

- ▼ Earned joint income of $59,000
- ▼ Earned $1,725 on taxable interest from a $50,000 investment.
- ▼ Earned $9,000 in TAX-FREE interest income from a $150,000 investment.
- ▼ Took two personal exemptions totaling $4,800.
- ▼ Showed taxable income of only $56,125.

RESULT: The Joneses only had to pay the IRS $11,080, leaving them with an after-tax income of $58,665 ($9,000 + $1,725 + $9,000 - $11,080 = $58,665).

The Tax-Free Difference is $2,502.

Of course, no investment portfolio should consist of all tax-free investments, just as no portfolio should consist of all taxable investments. A balanced strategy that takes a long-term approach is the best way to meet your financial goals and objectives.

IRA Transfers:

Make Sure Your Retirement Nest Egg Is Working As Hard As You Did To Build It.

Most people hope to accumulate enough of a nest egg during their earning years to spend their golden years in comfort. However, it takes hard work and discipline to reach your retirement objectives. Fortunately, the right plan and the right investment may make reaching your retirement objectives that much easier.

IRAs, or Individual Retirement Accounts, are an excellent way to save for a comfortable retirement. IRAs maximize the growth potential of your savings because the money you contribute to an IRA grows tax-deferred until you begin taking distributions when you reach retirement, at which point you may be in a lower tax bracket.

Establishing an IRA is an important first step, but it's also important to monitor your IRA with periodic "check-ups" to make sure it is working as hard for you as it possibly can.

How hard is your IRA working?

Changing market and economic conditions can change what was once an effective IRA into an under-achiever. Regular evaluations of your IRA will make sure you're taking advantage of the most attractive investment alternatives available in light of the current economy.

At Edward D. Jones & Co., we can prepare a personalized report for you, absolutely free, that answers one of the most important questions you'll ever ask, "Will my IRA provide enough income for me when I reach retirement?" Just tell us how much you contribute each year, the rate of return you're currently earning and how many years until your retirement, and we'll show you exactly how much your IRA will be worth when that time comes. If it isn't working as hard as it should be, we can show you alternative investments that can help get your IRA back on track to reach your retirement goals.

Let your IRA work harder

Because tax deferral maximizes the growth potential of your IRA, even a small increase in the rate you're receiving can make a big difference when you retire. For example, Susan Smith, age 45, contributes $2,000 per year to an IRA earning 6 percent. If she retires at age 65, her IRA will be worth $77,985. If, however, Susan could earn 7.5 percent on her IRA, her savings would grow to $93,105 at retirement. That's a difference of $15,120.

A regular review of your IRA with your investment representative will show you whether or not you're getting the best rate possible on your retirement savings.

Transferring your IRA is a snap

Whether you are looking for a better return on your IRA dollars, would like a wider range of investment options such as stocks, bonds, CDs, government securities and mutual funds, or would like to consolidate all of your IRAs into one account for ease of management, an IRA with Edward D. Jones & Co. can provide you with all the advantages you need. If you decide that a change is in order, all you need to do is sign a transfer request, and we'll handle the rest. It's that easy. Your local investment representative can give you details on how to make your IRA work harder for you. ■

Maximize Your Earning Potential With Tax-Deferred Annuities

Investors today report that saving for retirement is their number one financial objective. In order to achieve long-term goals like retirement, it's important to make sure that every dollar you invest is working as hard as it can be to build your retirement nest egg. With a tax-deferred annuity you're assured that every penny of every dollar you earn is working for you, because tax-deferral allows you to postpone paying taxes on that money until you reach retirement. At that time, chances are you may be in a lower tax bracket. If so, you'll pay less tax on the total amount saved than you would have paid if you'd paid taxes all along.

To demonstrate how tax-deferral can work to your advantage, consider this example:

Last year the Smiths and the Joneses decided to begin saving for their retirement by investing $2,000 on the first day of each year. The Smiths invested their $2,000 in a taxable investment yielding 7 percent.

The Joneses chose to invest their money in a tax-deferred investment also yielding 7 percent. Our chart shows how the Smiths and the Joneses will fare over the next 30 years.

After 30 years, the Smiths' $2,000 annual taxable investment will grow to $140,537. On the other hand, the Joneses' $2,000 annual tax-deferred investment has grown to $202,146, a difference of $61,609!

Even if the Joneses decided to withdraw the amount completely, and pay all of the applicable taxes, they would still be left with a nest egg of $162,345, almost $22,000 more than the Smiths' taxable investment. This is what tax-deferral can do for you. One of the most popular tax-deferred investments among individual investors is the tax-deferred annuity.

The facts on annuities

An annuity consists of a contract between you, the investor, and an insurance company. There are two types of annuities, fixed and variable.

With a fixed annuity, the insurance company guarantees a particular interest rate on the funds that you invest. Fixed annuities can be purchased with a variety of maturities, ranging from one to 15 years.

With a variable annuity, on the other hand, the insurance company agrees to pay you the return that is actually earned on your money. You choose where you want your money allocated from a variety of investment options, and a professional money manager makes the actual investment decisions.

There are a number of fixed and variable annuities you can choose from, however they all offer one big advantage - tax deferral. Your investment representative can help you decide if a tax-deferred annuity is the best way to maximize your retirement dollars. ■

Are Your Municipal Bonds Retiring?

If you've been enjoying high interest rates on municipal bonds you purchased ten or more years ago, you may have to say goodbye to those high rates your bonds are currently earning. Issuers are rushing to call those outstanding, high-interest-rate bonds in order to refinance at today's lower interest rates.

A record number of bonds were called in 1992. However, 1993 looks as if it will be an even bigger year for municipal bond calls. Experts have estimated that $9 billion worth of municipal bonds matured or were called during the first part of 1993. If bonds you own are among them, you're probably concerned about replacing the tax-free income that you're losing.

If that is the case, simply ask your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative for information about attractive tax-free municipal bond alternatives that may be appropriate for you. ■

Increase The Value Of Your Business With A Business Retirement Plan

Small businesses are the backbone of the American economy. For you and your employees, your small business provides a living, but when you offer a business retirement plan, it can provide much more. If you've never considered a business retirement plan for your business, we'd like to offer four good reasons why you should:

1. Retirement savings

You work hard for living, and you work hard to reach your financial goals. For most people, a financially secure retirement is among their most important objectives. If you plan to rely on Social Security or the sale of your business to provide your income during retirement, you may want to reconsider.

Social Security is no longer the retirement "safety net" it once was. In fact, for most individuals, Social Security only provides about one-fourth of the income you'll need to maintain your pre-retirement standard of living. It will be up to you to provide the rest.

If you're planning the rest of your retirement nest egg to come from the sale of your business, consider these two important points:

■ Are you certain your business will be in existence when you get ready to retire?

■ If so, will there be a buyer with the necessary cash to pay the amount you need to retire comfortably?

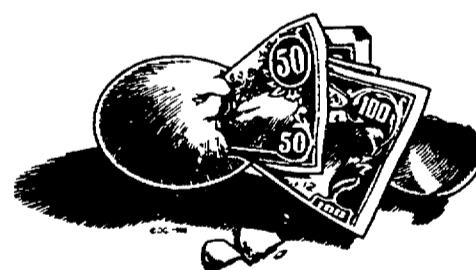

By setting up a business retirement plan, you won't have to count on Social Security or wonder whether the sale of your business will provide you with the retirement income you need.

2. Tax-deferred growth

In addition to providing you with a means of building up a retirement nest egg, a business retirement plan allows your contributions to grow tax deferred until you reach retirement. By that time, you may be in a lower tax bracket than the one you are in today, which means a lower overall tax liability.

3. Tax deduction

In addition to the benefits of tax savings and retirement income your business retirement plan will provide for you down the road, it will also provide another benefit you'll recognize right away - an immediate tax deduction for every dollar you contribute to the plan.

4. Employee benefits

The success of any business depends on hiring and retaining quality employees. An attractive retirement plan will help you attract the quality employees you want and help you keep the quality employees you have.

Act today

Your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can show you a number of business retirement plans that may suit the individual needs of your business. However, it's important to remember that the sooner you set up a plan, the more money you'll have available when you need it most - at retirement. ■

The Full Service Account: Benefits At Tax Time And All Year Long

Headaches are a dime a dozen when tax time rolls around. If the mere mention of April 15th sends you running for the aspirin, you'll be glad to know that Edward D. Jones & Co. has a tool that can provide the relief you need at tax time and all year long. It's called the Edward D. Jones & Co. Full Service Account (FSA) and it combines a money market and an investment account all in one.

As most investors know, owning a number of investments can cause a mound of paperwork to pile up on your desk if its not properly managed. However, keeping financial records straight and organized all year long can be a complicated and time-consuming task for even the most seasoned investor. Fortunately, the FSA makes money management easy.

Easy-to-read monthly statements

With the FSA, you receive a monthly statement that lists all your investments and their current value in a format that is simple to follow and easy to understand. It shows dividend and interest payments and, should you select these two options, checks written and VISA purchases for that month. Imagine, information on all your investments consolidated into one statement. And to go along with that, we'll hold your securities for safekeeping and provide account protection of up to $10 million.

Automatic dividend reinvestment

As an FSA member, you also have access to our "sweeper" advantage. This feature automatically "sweeps" your dividends and interest into your money market account so your money continues earning interest for you until you decide to use it or reinvest it. If you decide you'd like to reinvest your dividends into a mutual fund, you can set up automatic regular reinvestments into the fund of your choice through your FSA.

Regular income

If you rely on the income from your investments to meet regular expenses, check out our Check-A-Month plan. With this plan, you receive a regular check from your account either monthly, quarterly or semiannually.

Consolidated tax information

To make tax time easier, you receive a consolidated year-end statement and only two 1099s - one for your money market and one for all your other securities. You can even authorize your CPA to receive duplicate 1099s as well.

Put the FSA to work for you today

As you can see, the FSA makes sense for investors at tax time and all year long. Your Edward D. Jones & Co. investment representative can give you details on how you can take advantage of it today. ■

Is the Stock Market A Good Place To Spend 1993?

The beginning of a new year, particularly one that will bring a new president, raises some not-so-new questions among many individual investors. Where is the stock market headed? Will this be a good year to invest?

At Edward D. Jones & Co., we have some answers — the same ones we've always had. Successful investing depends on a long-term strategy that includes high-quality equity investments, not on timing the highs and lows of the market. If you're considering the reasons not to invest in 1993, consider the reasons that kept others from investing in years past. It can be a costly decision. For each year, we've shown what $10,000 invested in common stocks* then would be worth today.

- 1982 - The recession has started and it could be bad. $51,613
- 1983 - Ten percent unemployment and banks are failing. I knew it would be bad. $42,478
- 1984 - The Dow is over 1250. It's an all new high and I missed it. $34,690
- 1985 - There haven't been this many bank failures since the '30s. $32,657
- 1986 - The federal deficit is over $200 billion. $24,807
- 1987 - A 2,000 Dow is ridiculous. I know I've missed the boat. $20,913
- 1988 - Where were you on Black Monday? I was out of the market. $19,878
- 1989 - There's talk of bailing out the S&L's. I'm bailing out. $17,063
- 1990 - The 80's are over but high yield bond problems aren't. $12,967
- 1991 - We're days away from war with Iraq. Could there be a worse time to invest? $13,384
- 1992 - Invest in stocks? Maybe you haven't heard. We're in a recession. $10,269

You can probably think of a reason not to invest in 1993. But think about this instead. A buy and hold strategy that emphasizes diversification still offers tremendous values to investors, despite short-term fluctuations in the market. It was true in 1972 and it's true today, the stock market is a good place for long-term investors. ■

Tax-free unit investment trusts

A tax-free unit investment trust consists of a group of 10 to 30 individual municipal bonds which are selected by professionals and constantly monitored for credit quality. Rather than owning just one individual bond, a unit investment trust allows you to diversify among several issues, with just one investment.

As you might expect, UITs offer many of the same features as the individual bonds that make them up, but they also offer investors a choice of receiving income monthly, quarterly or semiannually. In addition, the minimum investment required for unit investment trusts is less than that for individual bonds. Initial investments are usually in $1,000 increments. State tax-free unit investment trusts are also available, and pay income that is both federal and state tax-free for residents of that state.

Tax-free mutual funds

A tax-free mutual fund is a portfolio consisting of bonds that are exempt from federal income tax. If the fund happens to be state specific, the income earned on it is exempt from state taxes for all residents of that state who own it.

Mutual funds spread investors' dollars across a number of bonds for added diversification. In addition, they are managed by professional money managers with proven track records.

Investors can choose from flexible payment schedules and can have their interest reinvested in the mutual fund for the added benefit of compounding.

Finally, most mutual funds will accept deposits as small as $50, although slightly more is required to open an account.

The real value

Although the interest rates on tax-free investments are generally lower than those on taxable investments, don't be put off. The most important consideration for investors should be after-tax return.

A couple in the 28 percent tax bracket, earning 6 percent on a tax-free investment today would have to earn 8.3 percent on a taxable investment in order to achieve the same return. When you factor in state exemptions, the rate on a taxable investment would have to be even higher to match the after-tax return on a tax-free investment.

No matter what the new Administration has in store for taxpayers, the fact remains that tax-free investments like municipal bonds, tax-free unit investment trusts and tax-free mutual funds can play an important role in a diversified portfolio. Your Edward D.

Jones & Co. investment representative can provide you with details on the tax-free investments that fit your individual needs. ■

SPINAL HEALTH

NORTHVILLE CHIROPRACTIC HEALTH CENTER

42973 W. Seven Mile (Highland Lakes Plaza)

Northville, MI 48167

348-6166

Meet The Doctor

Dr. Craig R. Gilling treats patients with conditions that relate to the spine. He brings to his patients a deep sense of commitment and expertise.

Dr. Craig R. Gilling
Chiropractor - Board Certified

Providing Quality Care For You

At Northville Chiropractic Health Center, we are dedicated in providing our patients with the best possible spinal health care available. Our excellent facilities enable us to provide better quality care with less of our patients' time spent in the reception room.

This outstanding office includes multiple treatment rooms, examination room, a new state-of-the-art radiology facility and a beautiful reception area. Our health center enables each patient and family members to discuss with Dr. Gilling the patient's health concerns, examination findings and program of care in comfort.

Our patients' comfort and convenience are all major factors in the design of our health center. Our facility emits a warm, caring relaxed atmosphere devoid of any harsh or sterile clinic surroundings.

Please feel free to visit Northville Chiropractic Health Center and tour our facility. We are sure that if you are one of the 30 million Americans who suffer from back problems, you will be pleased with the quality of care we have to offer. Our friendly staff is here to serve you. Call us today.

348-6166

Can Chiropractic Help Me?

We are often asked, "What is the best way of finding out whether or not a doctor of chiropractic can help my problem?"

We believe the answer can be found in a complete chiropractic consultation and examination, including x-rays, if necessary.

And to help you find out for sure, we will do a complete chiropractic consultation and examination, including x-rays (procedures that normally cost $135.00 or more) for $25.00 with mention of this publication.

We will make this special program available for the next 30 days. The only exception to the offer involves personal injury cases (worker's compensation and auto accidents) and individuals with radiographic benefits, in which case there is no charge directly billed to the patient for the visit.

$25.00

(Reg. $135.00 Program)

YOUR INITIAL VISIT WILL INCLUDE:

- ☒ A private consultation with the doctor
- ☒ A thorough spinal examination including orthopedic and neurological tests
- ☒ X-rays, if considered necessary
- ☒ A confidential report of our findings
- ☒ An explanation of our treatment procedure if we determine chiropractic can help you
- ☒ A referral to the proper specialist if we can determine chiropractic can't help you

ARE SOME OF THE DANGER SIGNALS:

- ☒ Headache
- ☒ Stiff neck
- ☒ Loss of sleep
- ☒ Fatigue
- ☒ Backache
- ☒ Stress
- ☒ Whiplash Injury
- ☒ Scoliosis
- ☒ Leg pain and numbness
- ☒ Arm pain and numbness
