School officials fear effects of pending tax reform proposals

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Northville Board of Education members weren't very optimistic when they discussed two of the five current property tax and school finance reform proposals at Monday night's meeting.

Of the five - Gov. John Engler's property tax cut, the Olmstead Kearney plan, the so-called Sweet 16 proposal, the Michigan Education Association (MEA) plan and the Nye-Oxender Committee of 12 proposals - Northville school officials believe the Olmstead Kearney (O-K) program would be the least detrimental to the school district.

"The O-K does not produce any windfall at all for Northville Public Schools," Supt. Leonard Rezmierski said.

But the proposal, written by David Olmstead and C. Philip Kearney, would increase the state's school funding obligation to 50 percent. Currently, the state is paying about 36 percent of the cost for local education, and that includes federal monies, Rezmierski said.

Local districts would be responsible for picking up the remaining 50 percent of the costs. Other revenue would be generated by the state's lottery system, as the O-K proposal would "force" the state to honor its lottery promise. With the new 50-50 approach, plus the lottery, an additional $1.65 billion in new state funding would be generated over a six-year period, according to the plan's authors.

The O-K proposal would also reduce the school operating millage in each district to a maximum of 30 mills. Currently, Northville operates on 34.15 mills.

Other provisions in the O-K proposal include:

- A balance of reallocated state revenues ($900 million) to be distributed to in-formula districts. That would raise the guaranteed state equalized valuation per pupil from $96,000 to $157,000, according to the writers of the proposal.

- Holding out-of-formula districts, such as Northville, harmless by ensuring such districts would remain at their per pupil revenue levels despite millage roll-backs.

- No linkage to a tax increase. The plan would be implemented over six years from $200 million to $350 million a year. The authors of the proposal also claim that would allow time to plan funding of the reallocation and keep other tax alternatives open.

Board Treasurer Robert McMahon said the Wayne County Association of School Boards supported the O-K proposal at its meeting last Saturday.

"I believe there are 17 schools in Wayne County that have taken a stand on the O-K proposal," he said.

Currently, supporters of the proposal are collecting signatures to have the plan accepted as legislation. They need 245,000 approved voter signatures in order to submit the proposal. Then, the legislature will have 40 days to pass the proposal by a simple majority vote, according to a report prepared by the Northville PTA Legislative Action Network (LAN) last August. If the proposal passes, it would not be subject to a veto by the governor and would become law. If the legislature rejects or does not act on the proposal, voters will have the opportunity to decide on the proposal in the 1994 fall elections.

"In essence, the O-K proposal for Board seeks end to deadlock over new attorney selection

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

Northville Township's attorney selection committee is expected to bring a recommendation to the township board tonight that could result in the naming of a new attorney—or attorneys.

Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand said the five-member committee met late Friday afternoon to discuss what to do about naming a new attorney after the township board was deadlocked on the matter last week.

Hillebrand said it was possible the committee could recommend splitting up all the township's legal affairs between the various firms or it could just make a single recommendation for one firm.

Either way it could end the deadlock that left the board divided on whether or not to hire Howard & Howard of Bloomfield Hills or Vandever Garza of Detroit.

The clerk said she sided with the majority of committee members who liked the idea of dividing the township's legal affairs between several firms.

"On Friday we talked about compromising and splitting up all the work," she said. "Many of us thought that was a good idea to go with several firms to do different things."

"I would like to see us split it up. I don't think we need one firm to do it all."

Essentially what it could mean is that the township might opt to retain a different firm to represent it in planning and zoning, another for litigation and prosecution, and another for labor relations issues.

Hillebrand said the committee and the board had informally agreed to hire a separate firm to handle the township's labor relations matters.

The three interviews for that firm have been ongoing and finished up Wednesday afternoon right before the committee reconvened to draft its recommendation.

Hillebrand said there were three firms who had answered the township request for bids to exclusively handle its labor relations matters.

"Employee relations is really becoming specialized," she said. "I think it's a good idea to have a separate firm to handle labor relations."

Hillebrand said having a separate firm handle labor relations helps the township avoid any potential problems with bargaining and non-bargaining employee groups.

"If you use only one attorney there's a feeling of familiarity and closeness in working with the non-bargaining unit people on a daily basis. That could cause problems with bargaining units," she said.

Township Supervisor Karen Baja said Tuesday afternoon she expected to have the recommendation in hand tonight. She added she would like to see the matter resolved soon.

Local mother argues her case

all the way to Supreme Court

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville resident Nancy Lewis has a complaint against the U.S. Navy, and she's taken it all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Lewis, whose son Richard was killed in the 1989 gun turret explosion aboard the USS Iowa, is seeking damages from the federal government along with the other family members of the 47 sailors who died that day. But a 43-year-old law exempting the military from lawsuits stands in their way.

A recently filed lawsuit, with Lewis as the lead petitioner, challenges the law known as the Feres Doctrine. The high court placed Lewis' case on its review docket Feb. 2, and will decide whether to hear the case after reconvening Feb. 22.

Richard Lewis, 23, was one of 47 sailors killed when the battleship's Gun Turret II blew up the morning of April 19.

A Navy investigation originally blamed the blast on Gunner's Mate Clayton Hartwig, saying he "most probably" caused the explosion by placing a detonating device in the gun barrel as it was being loaded with bags of propellant.

But the House Armed Services Committee criticized the Navy in 1990 for its handling of the investigation, in which evidence was washed overboard and the scene of the disaster poorly preserved. The committee charged that the Navy had demonstrated an "excess of certitude," pursuing one theory over all the possible ones.

A subsequent, independent investigation found that the explosion

Downs driver celebrates

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Northville Downs may be celebrating 50 years of parimutuel racing, but one of its most faithful horsemen has been around nearly twice as long.

George Rattenbury, 94, has been a mainstay of racing at Center Street and Seven Mile Road since 1917, long before the facility was home to parimutuel night racing. He followed his father's footsteps into the family business while a teenager, and has stayed long enough to win induction into the Michigan Harness Racing Hall of Fame.

"All I've ever known was horses," Rattenbury said. "When I was a kid, if you didn't have a horse you didn't get anywhere."

His official debut came at age

19, when his father let George drive in his place. A second-place finish in his first professional race, followed by a win later that day, secured him a permanent job as a driver.

"I've raced a lot of horses over the years," Rattenbury said. "A few years ago we always raced six to eight of our own."

Rattenbury still has his 7-year-old trotter, Chicory Norm, race once a week. The horse has won about $40,000 in purses in the past two years, since he claimed it for $5,000.

"He's just a nice, consistent race horse," the proud owner said. "He just races the same all the time."

He said he has no idea how many races he's actually won, because when horses raced at county fairs before the debut of parimutuel wagering, they had to run in three heats before they even qualified for an official race.

"Nowadays, every heat's a race," Rattenbury noted.

Rattenbury said he has seen harness racing change in other ways over the last 50 years. Before

Newspaper selects Snider as new editor

LEE SNIDER

Lee J. Snider has been named editor of The Northville Record by Rich Perlberg, general manager of Home-Town Newspapers.

Snider, 41, has more than a decade of journalistic experience in both the print and electronic media.

He was graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1978 with a bachelor of science degree, majoring in English with a minor in history. He also earned a master of public administration degree from EMU in 1988.

Prior to becoming editor of The Record, he was employed by Heritage Newspapers as editor of The Grosse Ile Camera, a position he held almost two years from January 1991 to November 1992. Prior to that he was employed as a staff reporter at Heritage Newspapers.

Snider began his career in print journalism with The Dearborn Times-Herald where he served as city editor and covered legal and business issues, neighborhood developments and political campaigns as well as city council and school board meetings.

From 1985 to 1987 he worked with Eastern Michigan University's Higher Education Consortium for Economic Development, assisting local municipal governments with economic development projects by serving as a liaison between governments and the five colleges and universities in Washtenaw County.

Snider's experience also includes a four-year stint as a news reporter/newscaster with WOOD AM and FM in Grand Rapids.

Snider replaces Bob Needham, who resigned from the position of Northville Record editor in December. He joins Managing Editor Michael Malott as head of the news team which publishes both The Record and The Novi News.

Philip Jerome, executive editor of HomeTown Newspapers and a former managing editor of The Record, said he was pleased to appoint someone with Snider's experience and credentials.

"The Northville Record has a tradition of excellence that goes back through Bob Needham and Ann Willis to the days of Jean Day, Jack Hoffman and Bill Slinger," said Jerome. "We wanted to make certain that we found the right person to continue that tradition of excellence; we believe that Lee is that person."

Quail Ridge residents seek damages

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

When it rains, it pours in the Quail Ridge subdivision, and homeowners there aren't happy about it.

For years, stormwater run-off from developments on the north side of Eight Mile has nearly drowned 10 homes on the south side of Eight Mile.

The deluge of water that gushes under Eight Mile into the Ingersol Creek has eroded the banks of the creek, taking with it beautifully landscaped gardens and elaborate wooden decks. Now it threatens to swallow a swimming pool.

John Farrar, president of the Quail Ridge Homeowners Association, is lucky - he isn't one of the 10 homeowners that has repeatedly fallen victim to the creek's curse. He lives across the street from the residents along the creek. But as the subdivision's spokesperson he was chosen to plead his neighbors' case to the Northville Township Board.

"This has really been an ongoing headache for the subdivision's creek-side residents," Farrar said.

Years ago, he said, the residents' luxurious homes were protected by a small dam that handled the trickle of water that passed through the creek. But over the years, as the city of Novi began to develop its side of Eight Mile, there has been a dramatic increase in the flow of water when it rains.

"They took out trees and soil and built in parking lots and buildings. Now the water goes ripping, literally ripping through our subdivision and it is literally eating away at our property."

"There is one neighbor of mine whose swimming pool could literally fall in the creek if something isn't done," he said. "It's really a flash flood situation and the damage is incredible."

Until now, the property owners have paid for the repairs themselves. One homeowner has rebuilt his backyard deck three times in the three years he's lived there, Farrar said.

But not any more. With the help of Northville Township's elected officials, Quail Ridge residents are going to fight Novi City Hall.

Residents contend they only have two options available to them. One is to build a retention pond north of Eight Mile; the other is to rebuild the 1,800 feet of eroded banks along the creek.

Engineers have told them building a retention pond is unlikely, and that rebuilding the banks appears more feasible. But doing that would cost an estimated $192,000 that affected homeowners aren't willing to pay.

"The bill for the repair project is about $200,000 and we believe that the city of Novi and Oakland County should pay the bill because of their poor planning, i.e. by not building their own retention pond," Farrar said.

"Engineers from both Northville and, surprisingly, from Novi have both said the problem is north of Eight Mile. I was quite surprised that the engineers and people from Novi admitted they were part of this problem."

That's what Farrar told the Northville Township Board two weeks ago. This week, Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand said she hoped to have a resolution drafted before tonight's meeting, giving the residents the backing they needed to petition the Novi City Council to pay the bill.

That may or may not happen by tonight, Hillebrand said, but she said it will happen in time to get the matter on the city council's next agenda. In the meantime, she said, Northville Township's attorneys are looking into the matter to see whose liability insurance might foot the bill.

Huntington Falls project back on board

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

The Huntington Falls project may be back in the works with a new twist.

Township Supervisor Karen Baja said she called a meeting with Wayne County Economic Development official Mike Duggan to confirm the news that the county had signed a deal to make the dream of a multi-use development on the 900-plus-acre Wayne County property a reality.

That meeting is set for today at 3 p.m.

Wayne County Commission Thaddeus McCotter, Township Zoning and Planning Director Carol Maise and Wayne County Economic Development official Mike Duggan will all be meeting with Baja to discuss the latest chapter in the Huntington Falls saga.

Baja said she knew the project was back in negotiation, and heard from her contact at the Wayne County Executive's office late last week that a new deal had been struck. But until now she said the township's been left out of the negotiations and out of the plans.

In 1991, developer Robert DeMattia had proposed developing Huntington Falls under a planned unit development ordinance, which allows an equal mix of single family homes, research and development facilities, and recreation facilities.

He pitched his idea as a solution to cleaning up the deteriorating 930 acres of county land that is divided by Sheldon Road and falls between Five and Six Mile Roads.

His plan fell through after financing for the $32 million land deal dissolved last year.

McCotter said he feared the county was going to go ahead and sign the agreement and then try to "ramrod" it through the township. He said he has some concerns about whether or not the project had to go back through the public bidding process after DeMattia's financing extensions had all lapsed.

Maise echoed that thought, but said the township would handle the county like it would any other private developer and send it and its plan through the regular site plan process.

Township officials have mixed emotions about the new agreement and the resurrection of the project. Both Baja and Maise said they were pleased to see the county moving forward with developing the land, but both are apprehensive about what's to come.

Neither one said they'd seen a revised site plan or had heard any details about the new agreement or if there were any changes to DeMattia's original proposal. Baja did say she had heard that there might be some changes in the ownership of the 18-hole golf course that was included in the previously approved site plan. Originally, DeMattia had proposed a public golf course, but now word is that the county wants to make it a municipal course with its own name on the course's deed.

"We were excited to hear about it. We had heard that it was going to be signed," said Maise. "But we are also concerned about it because we haven't seen anything yet and we haven't listened to their full proposal."

Baja said she was waiting to hear the pitch before she formed an opinion. She said she called the meeting to try to find out what's going on, and what a county-owned golf course would mean to the township.

"I don't know what it all means or what effect it would have. That's why I called the meeting," she said.

McCotter said he saw red flags last week when county officials weren't willing to discuss the project with him while it was still under negotiation.

"Nobody knows what's coming in," he said. "But there's something in the works and they don't want any citizens' input."

WHEN THEY LEAVE NORTHVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS AFTER 13 YEARS?

Your answer to this question will assist a group of community members and educators in writing the expectations (Exit Outcomes) for Northville Public Schools (NPS) students. Exit Outcomes are the competencies, personal traits and knowledge that all students will possess upon graduation so that they are ready to function in society.

Writing Exit Outcomes is the first step toward implementing Outcomes-Based Education, a philosophy and a process. The philosophy is that all students can learn and succeed, with schools creating the conditions that breed success. The process is that which guides the design of curriculum, instruction and assessment, which can increase the learning success of all students.

The entire community is invited to be part of a common vision for the future of our students by responding to the above question. Additional information about Exit Outcomes and Outcomes-Based Education will be presented at Town Meetings planned by the Exit Outcomes Committee of NPS. The meetings are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on:

Wednesday, February 3 Northville High School Forum
Tuesday, February 9 Meads Mill Middle School
Thursday, February 11 Cooke Middle School

All members of the Northville community are strongly urged to attend one of these meetings.

Committee members are also willing to address community groups at other times prior to March 5, 1993. These meetings can be scheduled by calling NPS - Office of Instruction at 344-8442.

If you are unable to attend any of the Town Meetings, your input is welcome by mailing your answer by March 5, 1993 to:

Northville Public Schools - Office of Instruction

Police News

Car reported stolen from Meijer parking lot

A 1991 red and black Mercury Capri was reported stolen from the Meijer parking lot between 6:45 and 7:45 p.m. Feb. 2. A radar detector inside the car was also taken. The vehicle was valued at $12,000.

BREAKING AND ENTERING ATTEMPTS: Two downtown businesses were the sites of apparent breaking-and-entering attempts over the weekend. Police found signs of attempted entry at Back-Door Beads, inside 112 E. Main, and Crawford's Restaurant, at 160 E. Main, on the morning of Feb. 5. The police are continuing to investigate a string of break-ins throughout downtown Northville.

JACKET STOLEN FROM TRUCK: A man wearing a cast was seen stealing a $50 jacket at Northville Downs Feb. 5. The owner told city police he left his seat for a minute to bet on a horse when someone stole the blue "stone-washed" winter jacket off his upper grandstand seat. A witness said he saw a heavy-set white man with a brown mustache in his mid-30s walk off with the jacket. The suspect was reportedly wearing a tan jacket at the time, and had a cast on his right arm and wrist.

PAINT POURED ON TRUCK: A vehicle parked on Morgan Circle was vandalized sometime between 3:10-5:10 p.m. Feb. 5. The owner returned to find someone had poured green paint on its hood. The paint was still wet when city police arrived at 5:15 p.m.

FENDER BENDERS: City police cited a Northville man, 40, for driving into the back of another car on westbound Main Street Feb. 7. The man reportedly ran into a vehicle stopped for a red light at Griswold about 10:45 a.m. No injuries were reported, and both cars were driven from the scene.

A Feb. 8 accident disabled two cars at West Main and Wing, when a driver heading south on Wing was struck by an eastbound car. The driver, who complained of injuries after the crash, told police her vision was obstructed by a city Department of Public Works truck and no citations were issued.

ATTEMPTED AUTO THEFT: Someone tried to break into a 1992 Dodge Shadow parked on Windsor Court Feb. 3. The attempt to gain access via the passenger side door was unsuccessful, however. Approximately $200 damage was reportedly done to the door.

LARCENY OF AUTO PARTS: Wheel covers off a 1992 Toyota Corolla were reported stolen Feb. 3. The incident occurred while the vehicle's driver was shopping at Meijer Inc. Total loss is reported at $150.

MDOPTO DOOR: Residents of a Cameron Court residence filed a report Feb. 7 after someone threw eggs at their front door.

The complainants told township police that two juveniles had been harassing them for several months, according to reports. During the investigation, the two juveniles arrived at the scene. They reportedly denied any involvement in the egg-throwing incident. The officer advised the two not to return to the residence again. Damage was estimated at $5.

MOTOR VEHICLE DAMAGED: The hood of a 1988 Buick Regal was keyed between 9 and 9:30 p.m. Feb. 6 while parked at Silver Springs Elementary. Damage was estimated at $500.

NO INJURIES REPORTED: A Northville motorist preparing to make a left turn from eastbound Eight Mile Road onto Glen Haven caused a collision Feb. 6 when she reportedly changed her mind and attempted to change lanes to turn onto southbound Silver Springs. Her Plymouth Voyager struck a Livonia woman's Toyota Corolla.

The Northville woman was issued a violation for improper lane change. No injuries were reported in the accident.

TWO-CAR ACCIDENT: An Indiana woman exiting the Meijer parking lot onto northbound Haggerty told township police the sun prevented her from seeing a car traveling northbound on Haggerty.

The woman, 33, struck the driver's side rear of a vehicle driven by a Detroit woman. She was issued a violation for failure to yield from a private drive.

There were no injuries reported in the incident.

MAN ARRESTED ON OUIL CHARGES: A 32-year-old Westland man was arrested on charges of operating a vehicle under the influence of liquor at 3 a.m. Feb. 6.

According to reports, the man failed to stop for a sign at Hines Drive and Northville Road and then crossed over the southbound lanes into the northbound lane several times.

When the officer made the traffic stop, he noted he smelled a strong odor of intoxicating liquor. After performing several sobriety tests, the man agreed to a portable breath test which registered at .13 percent, according to police.

The man was then arrested and transported to the township police department where he agreed to a breathalyzer test, which reportedly registered at .16 percent. The man refused the second test and was lodged for the night, according to reports.

A violation for OUIL was issued along with a temporary driving permit. The man was released later that day on $100 personal bond. A court date later this week has been set.

POSTAL WORKER BIT BY DOG: A 43-year-old Northville postal worker was bitten by a 2-year-old mixed breed dog Feb. 3.

The alleged attack caused a rip in the postal worker's coat, but did not puncture his skin. The man did not want to press charges.

The owner of the dog told township police she gave the dog away and would pay for the jacket, according to reports. Damage was estimated at $50.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Budget cuts cloud Thornton Creek's future

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

As Northville school officials cross their fingers and hope proposed school finance reforms won't cripple them financially, construction continues on the new elementary school, Thornton Creek.

The 700,000-square-foot school, located on Nine Mile Road between Beck and Taft roads, has seen work delays of three to four weeks due to the weather, according to David Bolitho, assistant superintendent for administrative services.

"I think we can make that up," Bolitho said. "The school is coming together quite nicely."

The assistant superintendent said the input he's received from staff and the community, in terms of building specifics, has been positive.

"The maintenance, transportation and custodial staffs have been helpful in telling us what's easier to clean and maintain," he said. "We feel we're going to have quite a building when it's over."

Input also led school officials to stray from the traditional flat roof and go with a gabled roof on the building. Bolitho said he believes the move will cost the district less in maintenance.

Another cost savings will be zoned heating and cooling controls.

"We can isolate separate wings for heating and cooling," Bolitho said. "We can save energy that way."

Other highlights include a 3,009-square-foot cafeteria and a 3,744-square-foot gymnasium which will allow a physical education class to meet while other students eat lunch. In the district's other elementary buildings, the gymnasium serves as the cafeteria during lunch time.

There are 32 classrooms at Thornton Creek, including 24 general classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and six special classrooms (which include special education, music, art and health). There are also two small instructional spaces designated for speech and reading.

A soccer field and softball diamond are also planned for outside the school yard.

If Thornton Creek is allowed to operate a program with the 32 classrooms, the building will be able to house a student population of 660. If budget cuts force school officials to use an alternate plan, special rooms (art, music and health) would be eliminated. Those teachers would operate from carts, and four early childhood rooms would be converted to general classrooms, increasing the population to 884 students.

What plan the district will use, if either, is still in limbo.

"It's been the same for the last three years," Bolitho said. "The district has to have its estimated budget by July 1 by law. The state fiscal year begins Oct. 1."

So, if the district anticipates state funding in July and learns in October the money isn't coming due to cuts on the state level, the district will have a significant amount of restructuring to do, according to Bolitho.

"It's October and we've already hired people and already implemented programs," he said. "Now, we have to go back and adjust everything. What do we do, go up to these people we just hired and say, 'sorry, we don't need you anymore.' So, we've taken the money set aside for maintenance and staff instruction and used that. In all, it makes us look like we haven't planned.

"So, really we've been in limbo for the last three years."

Northville citizen named to college board

Winifred Fraser of Northville Township and John Walsh of Livonia have been named to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

The pair were selected last Wednesday at a special meeting of the board. They were among 16 applicants who applied for two vacant seats on the board. Trustees Mary Breen, Steve Ragan, Michael Burley, Harry Greenleaf and Patricia Watson voted on the appointments.

The new board members, along with Watson (who was appointed in 1991), must run for election in June. The appointments will fill the vacancies of former trustees Jeanne Stempson of Northville Township, who was elected to a Wayne County Circuit Court judgeship, and Thaddeus McCotter of Livonia, who won a seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The Schoolcraft Board of Trustees also named its new officers on Jan. 13. Breen was elected chairperson; Ragan took office as vice president; Watson, of Northville, moved into the secretary's slot; and Burley retained his position as board treasurer.

Fraser, a peer counselor at the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft, holds a doctorate from Wayne State University. Walsh, an attorney, is a member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation board which involves fund-raising, investing and distributing trust funds.

Fraser served on the Western Michigan University Board of Trustees from 1985 to 1992. She began her education career at WSU as a student. She worked there as a research associate, faculty member and left the university while associate dean of the graduate school in 1984 to take a consulting position with Lutz Associates Inc.

"I enjoyed being associated with education and now I have none of those. I want to continue to be part of education," Fraser told trustees when asked about her motivation to apply for the board.

"During my time in education I have been exposed to many of the problems that face governing boards today. College budgets and fundings, the need for diversity in the faculty and students, educational program development, the extent of student services, as well as relations and partnership with the broad community have had to be addressed in each of the several roles I played," wrote Fraser in her application.

She sits on the boards of the Visiting Nurse Association of Southeastern Michigan and Mental Health Association in Michigan. She is a member of the American Association of University Women, Northville-Novice branch and a former member of the Livonia Family YMCA Board of Directors.

She received the necessary four votes for nomination on the fifth ballot.

Walsh, an attorney with Lewis, White & Clay in Detroit, is active on the political action and government relations committees of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce. He also serves as a director of the Livonia Jaycees.

During his interview on Jan. 13 Walsh called Schoolcraft "a tremendous asset to the community and its students."

"Preservation and enhancement of the college's reputation and program is increasingly important as four-year colleges become more and more out of reach for students seeking higher education."

"Community colleges in general have become and will continue to be a reasonable alternative for many students," wrote Walsh in his application to the board.

Walsh told trustees that his experience in municipal finance, fund-raising and the governmental process, his internships during college at the executive and legislative levels along with his knowledge of the political environment at the local, state and federal levels, will help him make decisions as a board member.

"There's a strong match between my skills and what the board needs," said Walsh, who received his law degree from Wayne State University. Walsh said he plans to seek election to the board in June.

Walsh received the necessary four votes for nomination on the ninth ballot.

Trustees were split between Walsh and Kathleen Payne of Plymouth Township for several ballots.

The appointments of Fraser and Walsh, however, maintain the same geographical balance that existed previously on the board. Schoolcraft College includes the school districts of Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Northville, Clarenceville and Garden City. Breen and Ragan are from Plymouth; Burley lives in Canton Township and teaches in Northville Public Schools. Watson is from Northville Township and Greenleaf is from Livonia.

Trustees Breen and Watson supported Payne, a law professor at Detroit College of Law and former educator for Garden City Public Schools, for several ballots. Watson cast her vote on the ninth ballot for Walsh.

Other candidates who received at least one vote in the balloting included Catherine A. Broadbent of Westland, who is the human resource director for Plymouth Township; Malcolm D. Campbell, a dentist from Plymouth Township; James C. McCann, an attorney from Livonia, who is president of the Schoolcraft College Foundation Board of Governors and Bruce C. Patterson, an attorney from Canton Township, who is director of planned giving at Eastern Michigan University.

Others included Donald L. Smith of Plymouth, a Ford executive and retired Navy Reserve captain who is working on a doctorate in education at Wayne State University and Richard J. DeVries, a teacher who is retired from Livonia Public Schools.

Several applicants have said they will run for election in June. Three seats will be open.

Suspect is arrested

Livonia police have arrested a Detroit man who reportedly confessed to robbing the Mobil Gas Station at Six Mile and Haggerty roads in Northville Township in late January.

The 40-year-old man is being held in the Wayne County Jail following his arrest by Livonia police in connection with a gas station robbery there, said Capt. Philip Preshell of the Northville Township Police.

In both incidents, a license plate number was obtained on the 1983 AMC Alliance the man was driving. Livonia police observed the car leaving the city when they made the arrest.

The suspect was scheduled to be arraigned this week.

According to reports, the man entered the Six Mile Mobil station after 8 p.m. Jan. 26 and demanded money from the clerk.

After obtaining an undetermined amount of money, the suspect fled in an unknown direction on Haggerty Road, reports stated.

GRAND OPENING!

Teacher wins mini-grant for science field trips

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Science students in Janice Henderson's Amerman Elementary class can thank their teacher for two upcoming field trips.

Henderson recently applied for, and won, a mini-grant from the Detroit Edison Foundation. The grants were awarded on the basis of projects which incorporate problem-solving, decision-making and critical-thinking skills.

Henderson will use the $250 award to take students to the Fermi II nuclear power plant in Monroe and the Phoenix Laboratory in Ann Arbor. "The nuclear power plant is how people see nuclear energy," Henderson said. "On TV they see this big plant."

The Phoenix Lab will provide a different perspective, she said.

"It is a small operation of the University of Michigan. Kids can actually go inside the reactor," according to Henderson.

Students will be able to see gloved lab technicians working behind thick glass walls and not get "zapped" while working with nuclear energy.

"It's a different focus," the teacher said. "It's more personal."

Scientists will perform tests like the one which involves taking a sample of a student's hair. By analyzing that strand of hair, the scientist will be able to tell what kind of shampoo the student used.

Or, they may do something like they did for Northville students last year—test food to see if it lasts longer if it receives a radioactive nuclear charge.

"It's incredible what the Phoenix Center does for kids," Henderson said. "Bob Burns, a professor at U-M, speaks to children in their language."

At the conclusion of the field trip, students will be able to walk through a machine that shows that they weren't exposed to any radioactivity during the trip.

The field trips will be taken sometime in March, when the class begins studying a unit on inventions.

Henderson got the idea for the grant while students were studying energy sources.

"The students learned there are attributes and negatives of each energy source," she said. "This is a critical issue and there is a lot of misunderstanding about nuclear energy. I thought why not investigate this unusual energy source firsthand because we live so close by to it."

Henderson, who has taught at Amerman eight out of the 23 years she's worked for the district, said she was surprised when she learned she had won the mini-grant. Principal Steve Anderson helped her write the three-page grant.

"The more we can make learning as realistic as possible, the more importance it has on the student, the more important it becomes, the more transferable it becomes into their own lives," Anderson said. "If you read about fission in a book, it's probably going to be meaningless, if you see fission it's going to be more realistic."

U-M club awards grant

A $500 scholarship is being awarded by the University of Michigan Northville Alumni Club to a Schoolcraft College student who is transferring to the University of Michigan.

Martha Nield, Northville resident and scholarship chairperson of the Alumni Club, said the scholarship committee will be reviewing the applications in April. The application deadline is Friday, Feb. 2.

Individuals who wish to apply should have a 3.0 grade point average. They can obtain an application from Schoolcraft's Counseling Office, located in the Student Services Building.

Wirtz wins bid on board

Four new officers and one new member have been elected to the Plymouth Advisory Board of The Salvation Army.

The new advisory board member is James Wirtz of Northville, a sales engineer for Engineered Components of Plymouth.

Newly elected for two-year terms to the Advisory Board are: James Verpeulen of Plymouth, chairperson; Daniel Herriman of Plymouth, vice chairperson; Plymouth Mayor Robert Jones, treasurer; and Nancy Sharp of Plymouth, secretary.

The Salvation Army has been serving the Plymouth community since 1929. The Advisory Board is comprised of men and women in the community who volunteer their expertise.

The Salvation Army is a religious, non-profit organization which was founded in London in 1865 by William Booth.

PTA teaches students about art appreciation

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Elementary students usually don't get much of a chance to explore the meaning of the Renaissance period in relation to art. Nor do they learn that the Dark Ages weren't really that dark for artists showing off their stuff in medieval times.

"It's time to remedy that," Irene Fleming said.

Fleming co-chairs the art appreciation committee of the Northville Council of PTA-PTSA with Linda Jo Hare. The two, along with volunteers Alice Polombo, Judy Kohl, Marilyn Kaestner, Deb Breitenbeck, Michelle Kelly, Karen Klimek, Jan Kneisel, Linda Koons, Nan Piekarski, Beth Sekerka, Barb Slubowski, Kay Snyder, Susan Timco and Holly Anderson, shared their knowledge of art with Amerman Elementary students recently.

Fleming taught students about art during the Middle Ages. The paintings of that era were very detailed and always had a religious theme, she told students.

"If I was going to paint that tree, I would look outside and paint a tree that looks exactly like a tree," Fleming said. "The natural world at that time was looked upon as symbols of divine will."

There is a specific focus on art for each grade level. They include:

● Kindergarten — Hands-on introduction to artists' materials, seasons, animals and circus paintings.

● First grade — Media, family subjects, city and country, day and night, emotions in painting.

● Second grade — Elements of art, line, shape, color, texture, light and dark, emotions in painting.

● Third grade — Major subject matter areas of art, exploration of realism and abstraction: landscapes, seascapes, cityscapes, still life paintings, portraits, animals, nonobjective paintings.

● Fourth grade — Periods and trends in art history: Renaissance, mannerist and baroque art, rococo, realism, impressionism, post-impressionism, cubism, expressionism, surrealism, op art, biomorphic abstraction.

● Fifth grade — American art: early American portraits and primitive art, art depicting 19th Century life and the westward expansion, western art, realistic American painting and 20th Century American painting.

This year, Amerman PTA members purchased a multi-cultural set of fine art reproductions. They will be highlighted on the back of the bulletin board in the media center. Other reproductions will be featured on the bulletin board throughout the year.

Local youth attends inaugural

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Better than the anticipation, even better than the moment, one philosopher said, is the memory of an event — because it lasts forever.

Novi High School senior James Kovacs can relate to that. He'll always remember being present during the peaceful transition of power of from one U.S. President to another.

Kovacs attended the inauguration of Bill Clinton in Washington D.C. Jan. 20 as part of a national student group. He was one of the estimated 250,000 people who crowded the area to see the new chief executive utter the 36-word oath that was the centerpiece of weeks of activity and anticipation.

"It was fantastic, really fantastic," Kovacs said of his five-day trip.

The Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a non-profit, non-partisan education organization, sponsored the trip for 500 high school students across the country. The council, Kovacs said, had a slew of fascinating activities for the students.

Inauguration day itself "was really hectic," Kovacs said. "I didn't feel it, though, really. It was mesmerizing. 'In one day,' he explained, 'I had breakfast with my congressman, met my senator, saw the inauguration and saw the President at the ball. I couldn't really compare it to anything else I've experienced.'"

While his spot for the event was quite a distance from the inaugural podium, Kovacs said that nearby television screens and speakers helped him keep up with the action. Interestingly, the moment that most sticks with Kovacs isn't of the inauguration itself. It's when Clinton arrived at the inaugural ball Kovacs attended later in the evening.

The new president, as well as his vice president, made appearances at many of the balls being held Jan. 20. Kovacs attended one held in the old U.S. Post Office Pavilion.

A reliable source (his mother) confided to this reporter that Kovacs would like to be President himself someday. President James Kovacs? Hmm.

Hey, it worked for Clinton, who met President John F. Kennedy when he was a high school student.

Senate to vote on Engler tax plan

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Gov. John Engler's 20 percent school property tax cut is on its way to the full state Senate after getting a key vote from Sen. Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

Suburban school districts that are put-of-formula bitterly opposed Senate Bill 146, which the Senate Finance Committee reported out on a 3-2 party line vote.

Northville put its first year revenue loss at $2.4 million (see related story page one). Other out-of-formula districts also reported big losses: Plymouth-Canton, $7.2 million; Livonia, $6.9 million; and Wayne-Westland, $5.6 million.

"I have commitments from the leadership," said Bouchard, whose yes vote drew gasps from an audience packed with school officials and parents from Livonia, Birmingham, Bloomfield and other out-of-formula districts.

Bouchard said Engler's office and Sen. Dan DeGrow, chair of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on school aid, promised to:

- Address the loss of school revenue due to the property tax cuts.
- Avoid cutting school aid in a forthcoming executive order. Engler had reportedly eyed cutting school aid 5 to 6 percent as a means of closing a $400 million state budget gap.
- Retain state funding of local schools' retirement systems for at least two fiscal years. DeGrow has wanted to cut retirement payments for out-of-formula districts to reduce the funding gap between rich and poor districts. Bouchard said the item is worth "hundreds of millions" to schools.

"So we've got some movement," Bouchard told the audience. In an interview, he described himself as "mortar between two bricks" — Republican leaders eager to move the bill and his school districts back home.

Voting yes were Republicans Bouchard, chair Joanne Emmons of Big Rapids and Doug Carl of Utica. Voting no were Democrats Debbie Stabenow of Lansing and Virgil Smith of Detroit.

Another party line vote rejected Stabenow's amendment to require the state to reimburse lost school revenue.

If enacted, the bill will cut 1993 assessments for school taxes from 50 percent of market value to 45 percent; in 1994, to 42.5 percent; and in 1995 to 40 percent. Assessment increases thereafter would be held to the rate of consumer price inflation.

The Senate Fiscal Agency staff estimated local revenue losses at $480 million (or 8.2 percent) in '93, then $971 million (16.2 percent) and $1.3 billion (21 percent) in the next two years.

The State Treasury, however, would save $82 million the first year and $254 million the fourth on income tax rebates to homeowners with high property taxes, SFA analyst Jay Worley said.

Patrick Anderson, economist for Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills, favored the cut, saying it stimulate the economy and home prices. Realtors and the state Chamber of Commerce also favored it.

Philip J. McElroy of Novi died February 8, 1993 at Whitall Convalescent Center. He was 89.

Born to Louis and Anna McElroy in Benton, Wis., Mr. McElroy moved to the area in 1923. He was a lawyer, and served on the boards of many professional and civic associations, including the Michigan State Bar Association (62 years) and the Novi Civic Improvement Association. He taught physics at the University of Detroit from 1925 to 1941, and had his own law office from 1948 to 1976.

He is survived by two nieces and one cousin. He was affiliated with Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville.

The funeral will take place at 2 p.m. today at Our Lady of Victory. Burial will take place at St. John's Cemetery in Jackson, Mich.

The family would appreciate memorials to the University of Detroit School of Law or the Michigan Humane Society.

Wayne to create first 'community' bank

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara said recently in Washington, D.C. that Wayne County is prepared to create the first community development bank of the Clinton administration.

McNamara was in Washington to testify before the U.S. Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs. The committee, chaired by U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle of Michigan, held a public hearing on the need to improve access to credit in distressed communities. Establishing a national network of Community Development Banks to address the needs of distressed communities has been identified as a priority of President Bill Clinton.

The hearing was the start of a process to develop legislation to promote community development banks and other institutions as part of a broad strategy to advance community development lending.

"We need to develop a strategy to rebuild our aging communities — house by house, block by block, neighborhood by neighborhood," McNamara said in his testimony.

Wayne County has been working on the creation of a community development bank for the past two years. Shorebank Corp., which pioneered development banking in Chicago, is assisting the county's planning and research efforts.

Wayne County is facilitating the start-up of the proposed institution, which would be operated by a private sector board of directors.

A community development bank is similar to a conventional bank in terms of the products and services it offers. Its purpose, however, is the long-term development of a community, serving needs that are not being met by other financial institutions.

McNamara said the county has identified three communities in Wayne County as potential markets for the proposed institution — Hamtramck, Highland Park and the east side of Detroit.

"In each of these markets, real estate activity has essentially been non-existent," McNamara said. In Highland Park, for instance, only one mortgage loan was made per 446 housing units in 1989. That compares to five or six mortgages per 100 housing units in healthy markets.

McNamara added that the community development bank would need to work closely with conventional lenders and private and public sector leadership.

Personal experiences of speaker give insight at cultural diversity meeting

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

It's a long way from San Antonio, Texas, to Detroit, but the transition has left Guadalupe Lara with a greater understanding of cultural diversity.

She spends much of her time these days sharing that knowledge with others.

Lara, the director of social work at Children's Hospital of Michigan and a national consultant on multi-cultural issues, discussed her approach to ethnic differences at Tuesday's monthly meeting of ACORD (A Community Organization Recognizing Diversity).

Lara practices something she calls the non-deficit approach, a way of interacting with others in which one focuses on another person's positive qualities and strengths first. "We can work together when we accept each other's differences," she said.

Lara, 42, came to Michigan from San Antonio when she won a scholarship to Central Michigan University. The ugly side of ethnic differences was dramatically illustrated to her when she was walking in downtown Mt. Pleasant with her Mexican roommate and a carload of men drove onto the sidewalk, nearly hitting them. She remembers one of the men yelling, "Get off the road, Injuns, we'll run you down next time."

Incidents like that helped open Lara's eyes to the negative ways people react to ethnic diversity, and led her to formulate her own, more positive approach.

"It changed my whole life," she said.

The non-deficit approach does not involve assimilating into the culture in which a person finds him- or herself, Lara said. "How do you assimilate if you are a person of color? Color does not assimilate."

Instead, it involves a process called acculturation, respecting the differences in each other while recognizing their similarities, and their strengths.

"Acculturation is what we move towards, so that you're comfortable with your own culture and you're willing to share it, and others are willing to share it with you."

There will always be people who cannot accept cultural differences, Lara noted. But their reaction to a person's differences should not affect that person's own self-esteem.

"Eleanor Roosevelt said 'You can't control how people treat you, but you can control how you respond,' and I really believe that," Lara said. "I'm a realist but I'm also a humanist. I believe you can channel your energy into positive things."

Lara is currently studying for her doctoral degree at Michigan State University's School of Social Sciences. She volunteers at WDET-FM in Detroit, where she has directed and produced the award-winning El Grito De Mi Raza (The Voice of My People) for the past 12 years. She also contributes regularly to the Detroit Free Press Advisory Board on parenting issues.

"Horse," an acrylic on canvas by artist Charles Almoe, was one of many original works for display and sale at the Atrium Gallery this week. The picture is a replica of one of the earliest paintings known to exist. It was painted on the wall of a cave in southern France thousands of years ago.

Woman's Club Centennial Moment

Since October the Northville Woman's Club has been celebrating its 100th Anniversary. The 101st Program year is almost completed with three programs remaining. Throughout the years membership has been drawn from surrounding community. Oftentimes the leaders of this organization have been leaders in the community as well.

Fifty-five women have served the organization president with 56th, Mary Louise Cutler, completing her service this year. The list of past presidents reflects the history of Northville with names easily recognized by any who have researched the past of this community: Benton, Wheeler, Dubuar, Knapp, Starkweather, Lapham, Fredyl, Babbitt, Northrop, Atchison, Whipple, to name only a few.

The club was founded to foster self-improvement among its members. Through the years that is what it has done. As the needs and desires of its membership and the society it supported changed, so did the focus of the organization. One thing that has not altered is the group's focus on this community and on its own proud heritage.

Stempien looking for federal judge appointment

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

You don't run for federal judge. But you do campaign for it. Ask Marvin Stempien.

"Gotta keep your name out there," said Stempien, a Wayne County circuit judge, as he circulated his biography in the labor caucus at last weekend's Democratic State Convention.

The president of the United States, Democrat Bill Clinton, appoints federal judges — for life. Republicans have been appointing the judiciary for 12 years. Stempien is seeking to place himself at the head of the line.

Now a Plymouth Township resident, Stempien represented Northville and Livonia for three terms as state representative in the 1960s and '70s before missing a bid for Congress. He did a lot of Wayne County legal work before Gov. James Blanchard appointed him to the circuit court 10 years ago.

"There's one federal vacancy," said

Sheriff Robert Ficano, himself an attorney. "Bush nominated someone who was never confirmed."

Who decides who is recommended to Clinton?

"Riegle, Riegle, Riegle," said Ficano, referring to Michigan's senior (and Democratic) senator. "He has a screening committee. Leon Cohan (Edison attorney and former deputy state attorney general) heads it."

"There are two more federal judges seeking senior status (semi-retired) this year," added Michael Duggan, deputy Wayne County executive and also an attorney. "At least a dozen potentials are out there. It's been 12 years. Practically the entire Wayne County circuit bench would like to move."

Stempien paid his party dues, running for the state Supreme Court in 1988. His reputation as the judge who decided the Dearborn parks segregation case, however, faded in a "name" contest, and he finished out of the money.

"We were used to working with each other and helping (Congressman) Bill Ford," said Dick McKnight, Livonia school board member and Westland attorney who was elected chair of the 13th Congressional District organization.

The rest of the Unity slate included: Vice Chairperson, Ethel Howard, Ypsilanti Township; Recording Secretary, Eileen DeHart, Westland; Corresponding Secretary, Valerie Wynns, Romulus; and Treasurer, Bob White, Ann Arbor.

Elected to the Democratic State

Central Committee was Tom Walkins, Northville Township resident and former state director of mental health. Others named to DSC were: Demaris Booker, Ann Arbor; Marguerite Greathouse, Van Buren Township; Carol Herron, Ypsilanti; Pat Hough, Westland; Carol Larkin, Garden City; Suzanne Shaw, Ypsilanti; Clifford Johnson, Wayne; Scott Munsell, Ann Arbor; Ronnie Peterson, Ypsilanti; Dennis Shrewsbury, Plymouth; and Dale Smith, Canton Township.

Outdoor event to offer fun for family

A host of family activities join the traditional lineup of outdoor recreation events at the 1993 Outdoorama, Feb. 26 through March 7 at the Novi Expo Center.

Billed as Michigan's largest sport and travel show, the event is sponsored by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

Weekends at Outdoorama will include family days with seminars on fishing, wildlife and other outdoor activities. "Wildlife Encounters," an educational display of Michigan wildlife runs throughout the show.

Entertainment at Outdoorama will be provided by "Da Yoopers," a musical comedy troupe who leave behind the 14-foot snowbanks of their hometown of Ishpeming to take the stage daily. Show hours are weekdays at 6:30 p.m.; 12:30 and 6:30 p.m. Saturdays; 12:30 and 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 28; and 1:30 p.m. Sunday, March 7.

Outdoorama will host the 11th annual Michigan Wild Turkey Calling Classic on Saturday, Feb. 27. Other Outdoorama activities include: Big Buck Night, March 1; DNR Forecast Night, March 2; Hunting Dog Night, March 1; DNR Forecast Night, March 2; Hunting Dog Night, March 3; Bowhunting Night March 4; and March 5, Fishing Night.

Outdoorama's new location at the Novi Expo Center allows over 300,000 square feet to be devoted to exhibit space. Displays feature Canadian and Western outfitters, recreational vehicles, sport and fishing boats, and outdoor equipment.

Outdoorama hours are Feb. 26, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.; weekdays 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Feb. 28, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and March 7, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Admission is $6 for adults, $3 for children 12 and under, and $3 for senior citizens 60 years or older (weekdays only). Children, five and under, are admitted free.

Outdoorama is a non-profit event. All net proceeds from the 1993 show help support MUCC's conservation efforts and environmental education programs throughout the state.

MUCC is a non-profit federation of sportsmen's and conservation organizations.

Snider said he was looking forward to his new post.

"It's a great honor to be named editor of a paper the caliber of The Record. I know the people of Northville and Northville Township are involved in their communities, and it's always more fun to work in a place where the people care about what goes on."

The Northville Record has won the prestigious "Michigan's Best" award from the Michigan Press Association in each of the past two years. The award is emblematic of being the state's top newspaper in its circulation classification.

Jerome said an open house will be scheduled in the near future to give Northville residents an opportunity to meet their new editor.

The Northville Record is one of six newspapers published by HomeTown Newspapers. The other HomeTown Newspapers are The Novi News, South Lyon Herald, Milford Times, Brighton Argus and The Livingston County Press. HomeTown Newspapers is a division of Suburban Communications Corp., which also publishes the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

School officials hope to offer boundary plan to board in late March

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

David Bolitho is hoping to recommend a school boundary plan at the March 23 board of education meeting, but don't hold him to it.

"That's the plan, unless we come up with some wrinkle we don't see right now regarding the funding proposals," said Bolitho, assistant superintendent for administrative services. "If they (legislators) put it off, it could be very difficult for us to make any recommendation."

The questions of how and where the school district will receive revenue for the next school year are forcing school officials to hold their collective breath as lawmakers mull over several school finance reform proposals. The opening of Thornton Creek could be threatened or Moraine Elementary could be closed if the district gets word of a significant cut in revenue.

"There are some real threats out there," Bolitho said. "They could have a significant impact on us. We're at bare bones right now."

In the meantime, Bolitho continues to research school boundary options. Originally scheduled to present a recommendation at the Feb. 8 board meeting, Bolitho decided to delay making a decision because citizen input raised more questions that he felt should be addressed.

This week, Bolitho was scheduled to speak with Northville Township officials regarding potential growth in their area. He was also planning to speak with each developer in the area and confirm starting dates of proposed subdivisions and get progress reports on existing developments.

Although he did learn about a sewer project slated for the area, Bolitho now needs to find out how far and how fast it will be constructed.

Bolitho said he would like to schedule at least one more meeting of the board's facility sub-committee and one more public hearing.

"We don't want to have a situation here where we rush into something and don't get the community input and involvement we need," he said. "We want to process this one as carefully as possible. Ultimately, the decision has to be made."

(In the Monday, Feb. 8 edition of The Record, a boundary map inside a graphic display was incorrectly labeled as Elementary Option 2. The map should have been labeled as the boundary option that would be implemented if Moraine Elementary were to close.)

School officials review tax reform proposals

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

School officials are busy researching three new school finance and property tax reform proposals.

The latest to throw its hat in the ring is from the Michigan Education Association (MEA). The MEA proposal calls for the reorganization of Michigan's 563 school districts into 14 financial districts. Northville and Wayne County would be included along with Monroe County in financial district 10, which would comprise almost 342,000 students.

Oakland County would be part of district eight, which would also include schools in Genesee, Lapeer and Livingston counties. That district would have the second highest student population in the state with over 275,000 students.

MEA President Julius A. Maddox unveiled the plan during a three-stop tour of the state late last month. According to the plan, the financial districts would enjoy improved efficiency in the areas of personnel, transportation and administration.

The proposal provides for a 30-mill cap on overall millage. It would also allow financial districts to seek additional sources of revenue through "enhancement" millages or a local income tax. The state would be required to fill in financial gaps to make sure each school district received funding to guarantee equal education opportunities for all students.

The MEA plan goes one step further, as it calls for greater assistance for families by offering services that may be provided by the departments of social services, mental health, public health, job training and legal assistance in the school building.

The "Sweet 16" proposal was formed by a group of 16 organizations and was initiated by the Michigan Townships Association.

Its plan calls for the reduction of the state equalized valuation (SEV) from 50 percent to 45 percent beginning this year. The ratio would be reduced to as low as 35 percent only if voters approved an increase in the sales tax in August. Such an increase would reportedly generate $840 million, which would go only to fund K-12 programs to offset losses in property tax revenues.

Finally, the Nye-Oxender Committee of 12 proposal would reduce local school operating taxes to a maximum of 15 mills and create a state Education Financing Authority which would levy 10 mills on commercial and industrial property statewide. Each district would be guaranteed a revenue amount of $4,700 per pupil.

The bipartisan plan also calls for no change in the 50-mill "cap" and would increase an individual's income tax by 1.65 percent and the single business tax to .65 percent. In November of next year, however, the public would be allowed to vote on whether or not to reduce the increased income tax by approving a 2-cent sales tax increase.

Local school districts wanting to spend more than the basic grant amount — $4,700 per student — would be permitted to levy additional operating mills until 1995. After that, the mills would have to be replaced with a local school district income tax.

the next six years would hold us harmless," Rezmierski said. "That's as fair an analysis as I can make right now."

School officials are vehemently opposed to the governor's tax cut plan. If approved, Northville could stand to lose $2.4 million in the 1993-94 school year; $3.6 million during the 1994-95 school year and $4.9 million in 1995-96, according to Rezmierski.

Wayne County school districts — there are 34 of them — will stand to lose $108 million the first year," Rezmierski said.

The superintendent said the governor's plan provided no method for schools to make up the lost revenue.

"There is no provision in this plan as to where this make-up (of revenue) is coming from," he said.

There has been some mention of putting a 6-cent sales tax ballot question before voters, which may make up for some of the cuts. However, Rezmierski did not find that option favorable.

"On a hook and a promise that sounds like it may be possible," he said. "But by law we have to have a balanced budget by July 1. So, with this (plan) we would go into the new (budget) year in the hole."

The superintendent added that past history has proven voters are not agreeable to sales tax increases, as similar proposals have been defeated.

Highlights of the governor's plan include:

- Cut the state equalized valuation (SEV) over three years, ultimately reducing it to 40 percent. Currently, SEVs are based on 50 percent of the price of a home. The school tax SEV would be reduced to 45 percent this year, 42.5 percent in 1994 and 40 percent in 1995.

- Statewide, school operating taxes are about 60 percent of total property taxes. This plan would amount to a K-12 school tax cut of 10 percent in 1993, 15 percent in 1994 and 20 percent in 1995, according to the plan.

- Limit future assessment increases. After 1995, the rate of inflation would determine the school SEV increase. The plan cites the following example: "If 1996 property values increase by 7 percent compared to an inflation rate of 4 percent, the plan would cut SEVs by an additional 3 percent from 40 percent to 38.88 percent." This will ensure that total assessments do not increase at a rate faster than inflation.

- Extend time to appeal assessment increases to improve due process. Currently, if a property owner appeals an assessment at his or her local board of review in March and further to the Michigan Tax Tribunal, the appeal is heard after taxes are paid on the disputed assessment. Under the governor's plan, property will be reassessed in February 1994, but will not be used until the July 1995 tax bill, allowing the Michigan Tax Tribunal 15 months to hear appeals on 1994 appeals.

On Tuesday, the governor's tax cut plan was scheduled before the full senate. If it passes, the plan would move onto the state house of representatives for consideration. If the Legislature approves, the legislation could be on the governor's desk by the end of February, Rezmierski said.

McMahon encouraged board members and citizens to call their local state legislators to convey any concerns they may have with the plan.

"It (school finance reform) is on too fast of a track," he said. "They (legislators) need to back off and really think over these proposals."

could have been caused by an inexperienced sailor ramming the propellant into the barrel. Several of the sailors in Gun Turret II that morning had never fired the gun before.

The official inquiry into the cause of the USS Iowa explosion remains open, and the chief of naval operations eventually apologized to Hartwig's family for falsely accusing the sailor.

Lewis has kept the Navy investigation squarely in her sights since it began. She attended the Senate and House hearings on the disaster and kept other Iowa family members apprised of the inquiry through a regular newsletter. Since initiating legal action against the government, she has begun publishing a second newsletter to the 34 other families participating in her suit.

The suit, filed last December, follows nearly two years of legal action on Lewis' part. She filed a wrongful death suit in U.S. District Court in 1991, but the case was dismissed because of the Feres Doctrine. A U.S. Court of Appeals case met a similar fate in 1992.

The Feres Doctrine "bars claims against the United States for injuries to servicemen that were incident to military activity."

The latest lawsuit argues that courts should carve out an exemption to the doctrine "when the conduct is egregious, when training is insufficient, and/or the claim is based on a theory of products liability."

Lewis, wearing a black "Remember the Iowa 47" sweatshirt, discussed Tuesday how the case reached the nation's highest court. She said the case almost ended before it was ever filed when her long-time law firm backed out of the fight late last year, three weeks before the deadline expired for filing with the supreme court.

"I got a fax on Nov. 16 that said they were dropping us," Lewis said. "And that left until Dec. 8 to file."

With time running out, Lewis approached about 40 different law firms and asked them to take over the case.

"Nobody would," she said. "The feedback I got from most of those people was that it was just plain silly, because we'd never beat the government."

Lewis decided to argue the case herself when she could not obtain new legal representation, and sought an extension to prepare her arguments. But the court denied her extension request six days before she had to file her petition.

"That was Thursday, and we only had until the following Wednesday," she said.

Lewis finally called attorney Lawrence Nolan in Eaton Rapids. Nolan was already representing the Blakey family, relatives of train operator Walter S. Blakey who had died while manning the turret's electric deck.

Nolan agreed to take the case that Thursday night. His law firm, Nolan, Reincke, Thomsen & Villas of Eaton Rapids, managed to pull the petition together by the next Tuesday but then made the mistake of entrusting it to the U.S. Postal Service's overnight delivery, which guaranteed delivery by noon the next day.

"It didn't show up," Lewis said. "So finally, the law clerk at the Supreme Court agreed to send somebody over to the post office to see if any other mail had come in, and it had. It was finally received at 4:30 in the afternoon, a half an hour before the deadline."

Lewis said she did consider dropping the case when her original law firm backed out.

"It took a lot of soul-searching to decide whether to go ahead with this," she said. "But if I quit now, I'm not seeing it all the way through."

She criticizes Navy personnel for conducting "black box experiments," firing unauthorized projectile and propellant combinations from the battleship's 16-inch guns. An unauthorized number of propellant bags and an oversized projectile had been loaded into Gun Turret II prior to the explosion.

"Probably nobody would have ever known about those experiments if it had never blown up," she said. "What I would like to see is some sort of code of ethics that these people would have to comply with before they dream these things up... so they know beforehand the jeopardy they're putting these kids in."

Even if the Supreme Court decides not to hear the case, or rejects it after a hearing, Lewis said she will continue fighting the Navy on issues like black box experiments.

"That may stop me here, but it won't stop me from continuing to look for a better way, a safer way for those kids," she said.

Our Opinion

More time is needed to study boundaries

Northville School District officials made a wise move in deciding to delay adopting a plan to redraw the district's school attendance boundaries. Originally, David Bolitho, the assistant superintendent for administrative services, was going to recommend adoption of one of 10 options at last Monday's Board of Education meeting, but after hearing a host of concerns from parents and school officials he concluded the highly complex subject needed further study. "This is a big issue," he said. "What school your child goes to is very important."

We agree with the assistant superintendent that there is a lot to think about in the 10 elementary mapping alternatives and that the prudent course is to open the subject up to further discussion among parents, taxpayers and school district officials. The plan by necessity will be a far-reaching one, and will have to be in place for at least five years. Among the strategies being considered are closing Moraine Elementary or not opening Thornton Creek.

The problems involved in trying to decide on a boundary plan are numerous and have been further complicated by several unknowns. Elementary population projections are rough estimates at this point, and planners must make best-shot guesses at the probable completion dates of new subdivisions. What's more, no less than five property tax cut proposals are now floating through the houses of the state Legislature, and no one, lawmakers included, is sure how school districts will be impacted by whatever plan is ultimately implemented.

Bolitho says it'll be another four to six weeks before he'll be able to gather additional data and make a recommendation on a plan. In the meantime, a public hearing will be held on the issue and several faculty sub-committee sessions will also focus on boundaries for the 1993-94 school year. We urge residents to attend the hearing on a date still to be determined and offer their input on the matter. Bolitho expects that whatever plan is adopted, there will be some amount of dissatisfaction among parents. We're sure he's right, but the degree of unhappiness can be minimized if the participation in the decision-making process is high.

Three governments should begin to talk

Northville School District Supt. Leonard Rezmierski has taken an important step forward in opening the lines of communication among the community's three governing bodies: Northville city, Northville Township and the Northville School District.

Rezmierski has been working to arrange a meeting of the three governments, and, apparently, has secured at least verbal commitments that representatives of all three units will be in attendance.

We believe that such a meeting can only be a positive development, and we urge officials not to delay in fixing a firm date for the get together. Several pressing issues, such as the district library, the tax increment financing program included in Mainstreet '92, and the upcoming millage request, are community-wide concerns, and should provide plenty of weighty subject matter for elected officials at their session.

Failure to communicate not only can lead to a lack of understanding, it can also give rise to second guessing and misconceptions about motivations. It is not unusual for overlapping units of government to become distant from each other and even develop adversarial relationships with their local counterparts. We believe, to some extent at least, this is what has happened in Northville.

By themselves, meetings, of course, will not solve the problem; good will and honest dialogue are also necessary. But the first step toward overcoming misunderstanding is talking, and we support the effort toward increased inter-governmental communication among the city, the township and the school district.

MEAP results prompt reply

It has been three weeks since the Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) test results were released. While it's easy to argue that one test is not a fair indicator of what kids learn, publishing scores has focused a lot of public attention on school performance.

Attitudes expressed by school officials seem to fall into three rough categories:

"Let's blame somebody else and hunker down."

Southfield school officials believe that the heavy number of recent immigrants who do not speak English fluently — some 1,000 students or 11 percent of the student body — skewed the scores downward.

According to trustee Ken Timmons, Livonia recently adopted a new reading program called "whole language" which isn't consistent with the MEAP assumptions. Furthermore, why so much emphasis on tests? "In the real world, the graduates will apply real skills, not test taking skills," according to trustee Pat Sari.

Bloomfield Hills assistant superintendent Gary Doyle says some of the MEAP questions were poorly worded. He adds that students were not used to the test format and therefore performed poorly.

"Teach to the test."

Garden City officials believe that MEAP is a method the state uses to mandate curriculum changes. They are modifying classes in algebra, geometry and calculus.

Disturbed by last year's MEAP result, Wayne-Westland schools have bought new textbooks and instructional materials. A plan to replace "outdated" school materials is in place.

Merele Bartley, director of programming for Rochester schools, says districts are "teaching the skills and concepts being tested" so students become more comfortable with the MEAP test.

The Plymouth-Canton district is taking a novel approach in concentrating on bringing up math and science scores for girls, traditionally lower than those of boys. The district is hosting a seminar entitled "Girls Excel in Math and Science" (GEMS) to do just that.

"Don't teach to the test."

Walled Lake school board president David Flammer says: "We're real concerned with sticking to our curriculum. You can't look at that indicator (MEAP) alone. It's just one part of what a kid does in school every day. They do a lot of things that aren't reflected by MEAP."

His concerns are echoed by West Bloomfield trustee Bruce Tobin: "I'm not sure if (MEAP) is a good indicator of how well a student will perform in college or the world."

While there may be a mixture of good and bad things about MEAP and Michigan's plan to deny a state-endorsed diploma to kids who don't pass the tests, one thing is clear: For the first time I can remember, a lot of people are very concerned about what the schools are actually teaching and what kids are actually learning.

That's an enormous change for the better.

Riegle now labor's darling

Weldon Yeager, the retired Republican pol, used to tell a great Don Riegle story.

Yeager was a Constitutional Convention delegate, state representative, state GOP secretary, nominee for secretary of state and even a township trustee, in areas ranging from western Wayne and Oakland counties, with a stopover in Gov. George Romney's administration over the last 32 years.

Yeager told of the time in 1966 when Riegle, a 28-year-old IBM type out of Harvard Business School, was running as a Republican for Congress up in Flint.

Riegle bought a ticket to a UAW picnic (Republicans never are invited) and sat down to eat. A burly union guy took the stump of a smelly cigar out of his mouth and stuffed the butt in the middle of Riegle's mashed potatoes.

"What do you do?" Yeager asked. Riegle didn't dare start a fight, but he couldn't wimpishly take the insult.

"So he ate right around the cigar butt, leaving it standing in a small mound of potatoes. That," Yeager concluded, "is real class."

Riegle upset incumbent Democrat John Mackie and went to Congress as a member of Gov. Romney's "Class of '66."

All the other class members are gone from Congress: Sen. Bob Griffin, Reps. Jack McDonald of Redford, Marv Esch of Ann Arbor, Garry Brown of Kalamazoo, Jim Harvey of Saginaw and Phil Ruppe of Houghton. Only Riegle is still on Capitol Hill.

In the '60s Riegle was "close friends" with Rep. George Bush, R-Texas. They spoke at each other's fund-raisers. (See Riegle's O Congress, pp. 214-215.)

In 1973 Riegle turned Democrat and then won three terms in the U.S. Senate. He was tainted by the "Prince Don" mud in 1976 and severely damaged by the Keating Five mess over savings and loans. Riegle has a bad reputation for wanting to appear only at functions where there are TV cameras, in sharp contrast to Junior Sen. Carl Levin.

But Riegle is out there, at the comparatively young age of 55, seeking term No. 4. And at last week's Democratic state convention, he was getting his strongest support from (of all places) the labor caucus, where nominations usually are determined.

"I picked up some scar tissue," Riegle acknowledged. "Nixon's gone. Agnew's gone. Bush is gone. Reagan's gone. I'm still here. Stay with me."

Riegle never runs against the Republican candidate. It's hard to remember the Republicans whom he defeated but easy to remember what he ran against: in 1982, the religious right; in '88, the Japanese.

This year Riegle is running against Mexico — cheap labor, lack of union protections, weak environmental rules — and the evil free trade pact negotiated by his former pal Bush and Carla Hills. "The government has to speak out against unfair trade practices and cheating," he shouted above the union leaders' cheering.

Now, many of these union leaders wear business suits, white shirts and stylish ties. But Riegle took off his coat and rolled up his sleeves — a la George Romney in his prime — to speak. He punched the air with a series of right hooks, then with a series of left hooks.

Riegle talked of the Hispanics, blacks and women in President Clinton's administration. "That Cabinet room looks like this room. It includes everybody, like the labor movement," he said to cheers. (Riegle omitted homosexuals. Practitioners of unnatural sex still aren't popular in union halls.)

AFL-CIO president Frank Garrison introduced other Democratic hopefuls for high office, but ignored Macomb prosecutor Carl Marlinga, who intends to challenge Riegle in the 1994 primary. "This movement is going to make damn sure Don Riegle is re-elected," Garrison said, without bothering to poll those present.

No more cigar butts in Don Riegle's mashed potatoes.

Letters to the Editor

Why is DARE kept out of schools?

To the Editor:

Recently we have read a number of letters to the Editor in The Northville Record voicing strong support for the DARE program to be implemented in Northville schools. At recent school board meetings the program has been vehemently opposed by a majority of the Board members.

On Monday, Jan. 25 we attended the school board meeting at Silver Springs Elementary. The proposed DARE program was stonewalled by all of the Board members present with the exception of Patricia Custer, who fervently endorsed it. The bottom line of this meeting was that the school board refused to entertain the idea of implementing DARE, case closed. We have heard no sound reasoning as to why the program of such benefit to our children should not be included in the curriculum which we pay so dearly for.

Drug use in our school system is rampant, well above the national average. Northville has become such an affluent suburb that our children have become a major marketplace for the dealings of the drug underworld. Like it or not, the school board members are public servants. We have entrusted them with our children's education in preparation for their lives as adults. The DARE program with as many fundamental benefits as it offers, should not be allowed to be dismissed by the board members in some sort of "power play." We as parents pay the bills for the school board's existence, and have a right to expect compliance with our wishes. Our children deserve the protection that a program of this caliber offers. We believe that the majority of parents with children in Northville feel that a uniformed police officer will make a stronger impression on our children than an attempt by a teacher to impart the same knowledge.

To date we have seen no evidence that the Northville school system is capable of coming to terms with the drug problem. In a situation which makes no sense, we are forced to ask the age-old question, "Who benefits?" Clearly it is not our children. Past experience dictates that those who protest the loudest stand to lose the most. We have begun to wonder whose income is being threatened by a reduction in drug use among our children.

Gleaners thank Record readers

To the Editor:

A special thanks for once again sponsoring Gleaners' "Help Feed the Hungry: Buy a Case of Food" program in the Novi News/Northville Record. We appreciate the $554.73 received from your readers through the public service coupons which you ran during the holidays.

Gleaners distributes millions of pounds of food to our member feeding agencies each year (11 million from 1991 and 13 million in 1992). Most of this food comes from food producers and distributors as donated surplus. However, since it is unpredictable as to food type and nutritional content, we supplement our food inventory with the "Buy a Case of Food" program.

The monies collected from the program are used to purchase the foods designated on the public service coupons. The foods are then distributed at no charge to our member agencies. Your continued involvement in this program really helps us enrich the nutritional value of foods we provide for our agencies.

Thank you again, and please extend our gratitude to your readers for helping Gleaners feed the hungry.

Thoughts on sports coverage

To the Editor:

Having read the Review of Northville '92 sports article by Scott Daniel (Jan. 7) and the letter to the editor from Mr. Jerome Mittman (Jan. 14), I find that I have thoughts on our local sports coverage which I hope The Record will consider as constructive criticism.

I have read The Record consistently for the past 10 years and count on you to inform and entertain me. I have watched your growth from a once- to twice-weekly publication, including your recent expansion to two sports sections per week. I am not a journalist, but I do know what I want from my local paper... taking into account that I may not be aware of the many restrictions of time and space that you must work with.

I expect/want:

● Balance coverage of the many sport activities our community is involved in. Many of these are Northville High School sports, some are recreational (adult and children's softball, basketball, volleyball, etc.), and some — as Mr. Mittman pointed out, involve community residents (both children and adults) who do not attend NHS.

● (In today's world!) this coverage is to be balanced between male and female activities. It is not necessary for this to be a precise calculation, but should be reflected in an attitude of equality.

● To see pictures of all/much of our children/neighbors accompanying these articles.

● To feel that the sports writer has attended several contests/meets in any sport he covers during a given season.

Suggestions for improved coverage:

● Creatively pursue articles on non-NHS sports/athletes. The Northville Parks and Recreation Department oversees growing, active programs for both children and adults, from 3-year-old Aqua Tots up to Senior Citizen volleyball. There has been a shortfall in printing results of youth sports activities (baseball, soccer) when turned in by coaches and league administrators. Do you need a new system for collecting and printing this information? There should be an opportunity for increased space in the expanding Monday sports section.

● When preparing material for a Year in Review, do not give us eight items on male sports and two on female sports. In focusing on the 20 NHS sports over the past five years, I have learned from Dennis Colligan, Athletic Director, Northville Public Schools that (based on winning percentage): 1) The top three sports are girls tennis (.822), girls swimming (.818) and girls soccer (.813); 2) The top boys sports are swimming (.789) followed by golf (.771). Football, which regularly receives the most ink, has a winning percentage of .551.

● Institute season wrap-up coverage of Junior Varsity sports at NHS. These athletes work hard and sacrifice to enjoy their sports activities.

● Please, let's see variety in the pictures you publish. There are cases where you have run the same picture of one athlete for five years, attaching it to any general article on that sport, and the article did not center on or highlight that athlete. I have to believe that you have files of excellent shots that would enable more families to have the thrill of seeing their loved one in The Record.

MEAP column calls for apology

To the Editor:

Now, we all know why "school officials and the State Board of Education try to discourage one-on-one comparisons of the number because they might lead to false conclusions" (Rick Byrne's Column, Jan. 25). You are guilty and you write it in the paper. You "guess" why three school districts withheld their MEAP scores. You "guess" that their MEAP scores reflect "comparatively low property values."

First you do great disservice to the hard-working staffs, students and parents in these districts by telling them they are poor so therefore they will not do well on the MEAP tests.

Second, writing about those other districts has nothing to do with Northville Schools withholding their MEAP scores. So why not just stick to the Northville facts?

The American work ethic says you can make it with hard work. Why put down these people and tell them they cannot do well just because they live in low property value areas? You owe all of them an apology.

Highland Lakes parking is "disastrous"

To the Editor:

As a 20-year resident of the Highland Lakes Community, for the first time I cannot park in front of my home. The same is true of every owner facing Silver Springs Drive between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

The problems caused by parking here are disastrous. Since each home has only two allotted parking spaces in its court there is nowhere else to park. If there is a third car in the family, there is no place in close proximity to put it. When company arrives, they will be forced to either park at the clubhouse or the school. They may have to walk as far as three quarters of a mile to reach their destination, depending on where the resident lives. The same is true for service and repair people.

The Record article of Thursday, Feb. 4 depicted Highland Lakes residents as behaving like boisterous "hockey fans" at the recent township meeting. Were the residents up in arms? You bet we were. The hardships that this ruling has caused, as well as the prospect of property value plummeting, has caused much shock and anger. To expect proper deportment at this point would have probably been like asking the colonists to raise their hands and say "May!" before pitching the tea into the Boston Harbor. The county needs to understand that the issue of parking on Silver Springs is not even in question. For residents of Silver Springs it is a necessity.

Postal customers thanked for mailing early

To the Editor:

Now that everyone has taken down their holiday decorations and life has pretty much returned to normal, I would like to thank the hundreds of postal customers who helped make this holiday season a success in Northville, by mailing early and wrapping their packages with care.

I also would like to thank the employees of the Northville Post Office for putting forth extra effort under demanding circumstances to make this a happy holiday for all our customers.

Many employees worked overtime when they would rather have been home with their families or loved ones. On Sundays and Christmas Day, our employees lifted many people's spirits by delivering parcels and Express Mail.

I am particularly proud of our employees here in Northville, because they focused on the needs of our customers and came through when you needed them most.

"We Delivered for You."

Legislators must hear mandate from public

To the Editor:

The problem in Michigan is not that Gov. John Engler lacks a GOP mandate, but rather, that Gov. Engler and the Michigan legislature just don't get the public mandate. Term limitations swept through 14 states in the November elections. That should be a very strong indication that the voters are tired of politicians seeking only the support of lobbyists and special interests to maintain their own job security. The voters have said in many ways at the ballot box and through some of the very popular talk shows that they want a change in the way our government does business.

Most of the editorials we read and the opinions that we hear indicate that our state legislature knows what is needed by way of: school finance reform, legal (tort) reform, auto insurance reform, campaign finance reform, unemployment compensation reform, ethics-in-government measures, etc. What the state legislatures fail to understand is that dealing with, and solving, these problems is the very reason that they are in office and that they must represent the people of the State of Michigan.

Since dealing with these problems is the first step, your thought about a summit meeting would be a good start if the right people are invited. We need to involve the people who deal with the problems, not the media or the social engineers. We need representatives of business, industry, labor, banking, insurance, education and the public who will work toward the common end of reforming the systems for the benefit of Michigan citizens. They must work around the special interests of each for the good of the state.

The state economy will improve when Michigan becomes a state with a favorable business climate that attracts business instead of driving it to other states or nations. All of the strategic sessions in the world will not help until we get our own economic and political houses in order.

Residents, county must dialogue

While sounding trite, it is true: Wayne County government needs to hear your views about issues affecting your life. But first, county officials must let you know about these issues.

Thus, I am grateful to the Northville Record for affording this forum, for without an informed citizenry's input county government will become unaccountable and unresponsive to the basic needs of residents.

A current problem proves the point.

Wayne County has recently implemented a parking prohibition on Silver Springs Drive between Seven and Eight Mile Roads. Understandably, this new ordinance has angered Highland Lakes residents. How and why did this happen?

Several years ago, a prior Northville Township administration requested that the county switch Silver Springs Drive parking from the east to the west side of the street. Highland Lakes residents agreed on the condition that parking would remain on at least one side of Silver Springs. With Township officials and residents happily in agreement, no one anticipated a problem.

Unfortunately, such confidence was misplaced, and resulted in local representatives failing to oversee the complex, often confounding ordinance process. Thus, when after a relatively swift study state and county officials recommended prohibiting parking on Silver Springs Drive, the Wayne County Commission approved the ordinance this summer — prior to my arrival — without fully weighing residents' concerns about the ban lowering property values, precluding visitors, and endangering public safety.

While it seems elementary that at some time during the ordinance process Highland Lakes residents would have been warned that their parking privileges were endangered and allowed to oppose the ordinance, it never happened. Instead, the machinations of government heedlessly ground over those its decisions would most impact: Highland Lakes residents, who are left wondering what government does for them, while knowing too well what it's done to them.

This is unacceptable. Government should inspire public participation, not provoke it. It should seek out, listen and respond to the concerns of residents. It should . . .

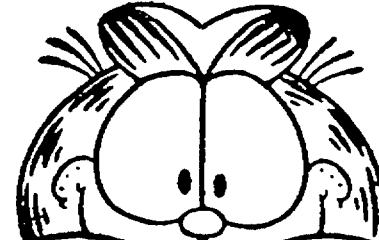

It should use some common sense.

Nearly 100 years ago, William James spoke of "the civic genius of our people" — the fact that ordinary citizens know best what they need for government.

He remains right today. Whatever the issue — developing vacant county property, pelleting Maxwell Road, or restoring parking on Silver Springs Drive — it's time for citizens to impart their "civic genius" to elected officials so that, together, we can improve the quality of life in our community.

Romance Tips

for the romantically deprived.
Readers share their Valentine ideas.

Everyone needs a little romance, but some people get more than others. And for the sake of the "romance deprived" — those whose significant others don't really have a clue as to what would turn their hearts to mush — we asked our readers to share some tips.

We asked for true stories of the most romantic things readers have ever done or experienced. And a few people decided to share.

By far the most romantic tale came from Mary Daniels of Northville.

"Before I left for work on the morning of Aug. 9, 1990, my husband told me he had a surprise for me when I got home from work that afternoon," she wrote.

"I arrived home about 1:15 p.m. and found an envelope marked 'Love Note #1' laying on the kitchen table. Of course my heart began to beat rapidly with thoughts of a romantic weekend with my husband. The note explained that our 1-year-old daughter was in the loving care of my sister-in-law and I was to drive to Metro Airport. 'Bring nothing but your luscious body and wonderful smile' were the exact words."

The note also included $15 and instructions to take herself out to lunch. She ate at Edward's in Northville, then went to the airport and followed further directions in the note.

"I was instructed not to open Love Note #2 until after I had landed in Chicago," she continued. "This note gave instructions to the McCormick Center Hotel. When I arrived I found my husband had already checked in and 'prepared' the room for me."

In the room were a dozen yellow roses (her favorite color) and a hot bubble bath with relaxing music coming from a cassette player. There was also a complete wardrobe, a gift from Victoria's Secret and Love Note #3.

"I began to get ready for this special date," Daniels wrote. "Then 1 1/2 hours later I met my sweetheart in the lobby of the hotel where he was ready to whisk me off to a three hour dinner at Chez Paul and a romantic walk through downtown Chicago."

"The next morning we spent shopping and walking around downtown Chicago. I truly appreciated the time we had together. I will never forget this incredibly romantic weekend and all the thought and time my honey put into this to make me feel so very special."

Not every special romantic event has to be that elaborate. Carol Waldo wrote that her husband Martin simply gives her a rose every Saturday.

"A rose is a rose is a rose ..." she wrote. "As we fast approach our 10-year wedding anniversary, I sing praises for my romantic husband. Each Saturday since we have been married, he has given me a rose."

"There were a few Saturdays we were apart, yet he still found a way. One time I discovered a rose-shaped candle in my luggage. Another time I found a white chocolate rose, and still another time, a sun-catcher in the shape of a rose."

"Typically, it is a beautiful fresh-cut rose which then graces our table for the week reminding us of our commitment and love."

Alice Norci Mullinger of Novi wrote that simply being with her husband, who has since passed away, was wonderfully romantic.

"One of my most romantic memories was an evening at the Novi Senior Monthly Dance at age 76 with my husband, who was 84. We were celebrating our 12-year wedding anniversary," she wrote.

Among her romantic memories of that evening are the thrill of a new dress and being told that she looked lovely that night. The band played a request by her husband: a song called "Only You Can Make this Change in Me."

"Then while we were dancing he kissed me and said 'I can't help loving you so much.' These I consider melting romantic moments in my life as he has now passed away."

Some men don't consider themselves to be romantic, but their partners disagree. Linda Ducker of Northville wrote that her fiancé is like that.

"I am lucky to say that I have one of the most romantic fiancés in the world," she wrote. "His name is Bob Hamilton and though he doesn't consider himself romantic, I'll let you decide."

"Our first Valentine's Day together he sent a barbershop quartet to sing love songs to me at work. In fact, he's done that two years in a row, except that last year he sent flowers, too."

"For my birthday Bob would not tell me where we were going and we ended up driving to Chasaning where he had a horse drawn carriage waiting to take us on a relaxing tour of the town. This tour included dinner at an historic house and another ride after dinner."

"Unfortunately, when Bob asked me to marry him, he had a really hard time. It was in the middle of summer and the middle of the week when I came home from work in a bad mood. He suggested that we go for dinner at Little Italy and wanted to walk. We live right in town so it wasn't far, but I was grumpy."

"By the time we got there I was hot and thirsty and wasn't interested in the Asti Spumante that Bob had already ordered and chilled. I wasn't even duly impressed with the cozy table for two that was waiting for us."

"After I'd gotten my iced tea and grumbled a little bit more, Bob pulled the ring box out of his pocket and asked me to marry him, right as our waitress plopped down our salads. Oops! After that, the Asti was welcome!"

"Now, don't you think that this guy who scoffs at being called a romantic is nothing but a hopeless one?" she asked.

But there are still plenty who not only scoff at being called a romantic — they really are not. Marie Rumbley of Northville said her husband is one of them, but she found an unusual way to provide romance for herself.

"I am one of the romance deprived," she wrote. "My husband won't buy me roses because 'they're too expensive and they'll just die.'"

"The most romantic thing I ever did was for Valentine's Day a few years ago. I waltzed into a local flower shop, then down the street to a travel agency."

"My husband was home when the box was delivered — a dozen long-stemmed red roses and a ticket to visit my sister in Boston! I threw my arms around him and said 'Bill, after 10 years you've finally given me the perfect gift! His response was 'I didn't send those to you. Who did?'"

Rumbley has some advice for her fellow sufferers:

"If you're suffering from romance deprivation Provide it for yourself and watch the speculation!"

Spring Fling nets PTOs money for classrooms

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

Moving $6,000 in four hours from parents' pockets to the school's PTO treasury is an annual fun project of which Anita Saurer is coordinator this year. The project is called the Spring Fling, a fund-raiser at Village Oaks Elementary School.

On May 7 from 5-9 p.m. the school will be a zoo. In fact, this year's theme is "The Zoo," said Saurer, and the whole place will look like one with make-believe animals ranging from hand puppets to big stuffed creations.

Also there will be a haunted house, places for children to play easy- and high-level skill games and win prizes, and a place where teachers will do face painting, or, said Saurer, "bandage you up as if you've had a rough day."

A kitchen will sell things like hot dogs, and there'll be a bake shop and sweet shop.

Planning started in September with appointments of chairman — one experienced, one new for each of the half dozen committees.

Then in January crafts sessions started meeting to make prizes for the games — book marks, flying disks, hand puppets, toy parachutes. Cub Scouts and Brownies helped too.

There is no admission charge for Spring Fling, Saurer said, but tickets are sold for the various activities — five in advance for $1 or four tickets for $1 if bought at the door.

Of the 335 families represented at the school, Saurer said, 250 will come to participate, "especially if it's a nice night, not too hot, no rain."

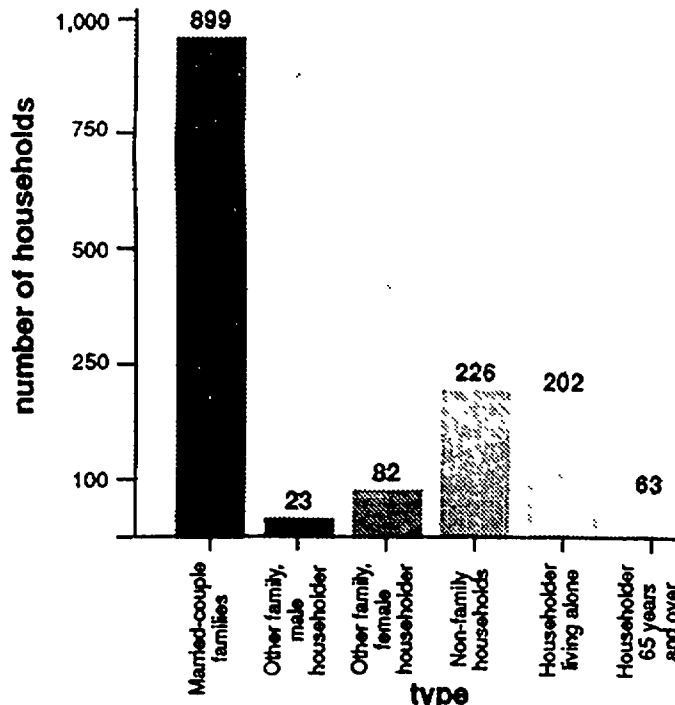

Where does the money go? Saurer said, "The teachers present a wish list," and the parents try to fill it — things like library books, computer software, indoor games for bad weather, playground equipment, teacher storage.

Why does Anita do it? "It's worthwhile," she answered, and with both boys in school now, she has the time to get involved.

Hillards find romance in Broadway musical

Husband and wife acting team Jay and Steve Hillard are taking to the spotlights once again. This time they'll be debuting in the Broadway hit musical Guys and Dolls.

The Highland Lakes couple will take costume as Miss Adelaide and Nathan Detroit in the St. Mary's Catholic Central Alumni production of Guys and Dolls which opens March 26 at the school in Monroe.

The Hillards are no stranger to the stage. They've graced local stages as cast members in a Northville Players production and in several Genitti's dinner theatre shows. In the Players' production of Plaza Suite last spring, the couple portrayed Norma and Roy Hubley.

Jay, fifth grade teacher at Winchester Elementary, has appeared as Peter Pan in Walt Disney's classic tale of the same name and as Nellie Forbush in South Pacific.

Steve, a personnel specialist for the Powertrain Division of General Motors, has been featured as Alfred P. Doolittle in My Fair Lady and as Chief Bromden in One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. He's also been an actor and writer for several of Toni and John Genitti's dinner theatre productions.

Beyond that both have been active separately in local theatre and stage productions before they met and married on stage in 1991. Four years ago the couple met while performing in the same cast roles in a different production of Guys and Dolls.

This reprise of their roles is something they have wanted to do since the curtain came down on the previous production.

The Hillards have lived in Highland Lakes for 15 months.

The benefit performance runs March 26, 27, and 28. If you want more information and a chance to see the Hillards live call them at their Bryn Mawr Court Home.

Northville Woman's Club

The Northville Woman's Club will meet Friday, Feb. 19 at 1:30 p.m. to learn about "Tea Time Traditions" from Sylvia Thacker, the owner of the Sweet Aston Tea Room in Plymouth.

Thacker will be at the meeting to share her experiences of owning and operating the tea room, demonstrate how to brew a proper pot of tea, and to talk about the history of tea and the types of teas and accessories that exist. Elizabeth Gazlay will be the chairperson for the day.

The club meets in the Boll Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Arts Commission hosts lecture series

The Northville Arts Commission is hosting the second Michael Farrell art lecture on Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Genitti's Little Theatre, 112 E. Main St.

Farrell's slide show presentation is titled The Pleasure Domes of Kubla Kahn. Tickets are available for $6 at the door. The third lecture in the series, Children of the Sun is scheduled for March 17. Seating is limited. For information about the lecture series, call Joann Dayton at 347-9664.

Bridal Show at Elizabeth's

Elizabeth's Bridal Manor is hosting a Christian Dior trunk formal fashion show Thursday, Feb. 11 at 7 p.m. Fashions from the collection may be tried on through Sunday Feb. 14.

Seating for the show is limited and reservations are required. For more information call Elizabeth's Bridal Manor at 348-2783. Elizabeth's is located at 402 S. Main St. in Northville.

Durham joins in the 54th parade of Harmony

The Detroit Oakland Chapter of the SPEBSQA presents "Comedy Tonight" on Friday Feb. 12 and Saturday, Feb. 13.

The annual show features Northville resident Fran Durham as one of the Gentlemen Songsters chorus members as your favorite comics of stage, screen and radio and three quartets. "The Aliens" the barbershops' premier comedy quartet from Oregon and the "Classic Ring" and Michigan's own "Opening Night" will also be performing.

Showtimes for the annual barbershop quartet's fundraiser are 8 p.m. Friday Feb. 12 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday Feb. 13 at the Schmidt Auditorium at Clarenceville High School in Livonia. Fifteen percent of the proceeds go to the Institute of Logopedics, the Barbershop Society's International Service Project.

Tickets are $10 for the Friday show at 8 p.m. and $11 for the Saturday show at 7:30 p.m.

Single Place events

Single Place Adult Ministries, an affiliate of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, has a series of workshops available for singles of all ages.

At the Feb. 14 Sunday Morning Gathering, speaker Bob Allwine will be in the library talking about Quality Friendships. Sunday Morning Gatherings are from 10 to 10:45 a.m.

Single Place is also hosting another three part Opportunity for Growth Workshop on Feb. 14, 21 and 28. The workshop will be lead by facilitator Nick Berar and deals with men and women relating together. A $24 donation is requested.

On Wed, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. Harold Ellens will be speaking on "Everything you wanted to know about singles."

Steve and Jay Hillard portray Roy and Norma Hubley in last spring's Northville Players' rendition of Neil Simon's Plaza Suite.

Single Place's Men's Discussion Group meets on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. Bob Paroski will lead this group and provide a forum for males to discuss the problems and social pressures which influence them and are unique to them. A $3 donation is requested.

Sunday Morning Gathering of Single Place Ministries meets every Sunday morning from 10 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. Sunday Morning Gathering is for Christian singles of all denominations as a time of fellowship, sharing and growing. The topic for February discussion is "Quality Friendships." Sunday Morning Gathering meets in the library/lounge of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

BUILDING, BUYING OR REFINANCING...

Standard Federal has a money-saving mortgage that's right for you.

Last year, we helped over 46,000 customers with a variety of mortgages

Take a look at what we can offer you
You'll see why we're Michigan's leading mortgage lender.

If you're interested in lowering

your house payments, you really owe it to yourself to talk to our mortgage specialists about our adjustable-rate mortgage. If you're refinancing, you may be able to save thousands of dollars over the life of your mortgage. You can build equity faster, or even pay off your home more quickly. And you have the option to convert to a fixed-rate mortgage at any time.

As for home buyers, your Realtor or Builder can show you how the current low rates can make your dollar go even further.

Our 5- and 7-year mortgages are great money-saving options because rates are even lower than they are for longer term loans.

The APRs shown above are based on an $80,000 loan with a 20% down payment, a 2% loan discount fee, a $250 non-refundable application fee, a $150 closing fee and 15 days of prepaid interest. The initial monthly principal and interest payments for the loans shown in this example would be $407.33 for the adjustable rate loan, $486.09 for the 15-year fixed rate loan, and $512.25 for the 30-year fixed rate loan. The estimated APR for the adjustable rate loan is based on an index which is subject to change. The APR and the payments for the adjustable rate loan are also subject to change on an annual basis after the loan is closed. The initial interest rate will be in effect for the first year and is not based on the formula set forth in the loan contract. The 5- and 7-year loans are balloon payments, loans based on a 30-year amortization. Except under certain conditions, the Bank is under no obligation to refinance the 5- and 7-year loans at the time of maturity. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time. ©1993 Standard Federal Bank.

Wedding

Beth and Richard Meyer

Beth E. Benjamin of Rochester, N.Y., daughter of Dorothy K. Benjamin and the late James Benjamin of Paris, Ill.; and Richard E. Meyer of Rochester, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Meyer of Northville, were joined in matrimony Aug. 22. The double ring ceremony was held at First United Methodist Church in Paris, Ill., and was officiated by the Rev. John R. Curtis and the Rev. Jack Young.

Beth was given in marriage by her brother, John Benjamin of Glen Ellyn, Ill. Earl Eden of Ohio, formerly of Northville, and Roger Gustavson of Chicago were readers.

The bride wore a gown designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline and long train trimmed with beading and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Lori Zing of Minneapolis, Minn., was the maid of honor with bridesmaids Jennifer Englum, Mary Crosby and Barbara Jessup. They wore strapless predominantly pink and blue floral dresses and carried field-like bouquets of pink and blue mixed flowers.

Tom Blair of Rochester, N.Y., was the best man with ushers Mike Seltz, Jerry Overmyer and Mark Van Saun.

The reception of 200 guests was at Sycamore Hills Country Club in Paris, Ill. Out of town guests attended from California, New York, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and South Carolina.

Beth is a 1982 graduate of Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara, Calif. She is employed at Eastman Kodak as Product Planner in the marketing department of professional imaging.

Richard is a 1983 graduate of Albion College and received his MBA at the University of Michigan in 1985. He is employed at Eastman Kodak in the office of the controller.

They will reside in Hamlin, N.Y., on Lake Ontario.

PTA News/High School

After a busy December and January, the Northville High School staff is looking forward to the second semester.

The search for the Distinguished Alumni Award is still on. Any person who may submit a letter that details his or her accomplishments to the nominating committee. The winner will be announced on June 11 during graduation commencements.

Darrel Schumacher was named Coach of the Year by HomeTown Newspapers.

Anthony Wen and Vinay Mohita placed third out of 16 teams in the Metro Computer League Programming Competition in December. Laura White is the 1993 recipient of Herff Jones Principal's Leadership Award.

The student congress had an excellent first semester and many successful activities were accomplished.

Vinay Mohita and Ellen Song won the Tandy Technology Math and Science Award.

Scott Lloyd won the HOBY Leadership Award.

Katy Murphy received the DAR Good Citizen Award.

Jeff Schroder won the VFW Voice of Democracy Award.

David Eckerly and Max Sprauer were finalists in the National Council of Teachers of English Writing Competition.

Emily Kniebes and Parag Parikh were semifinalists in the Westinghouse National Science Competition. Jason Jordan was selected to attend the National Youth Leadership Forum on Security and Defense in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Charlie Stilec was named Faculty Member of the Month.

Spirit Week sponsored by the Pep

Club is during the week of Feb. 8. The week will be filled with fun and games, including announcing the king and queen at the pep assembly ending Saturday with the spirit week dance.

The SADD Chapter is proud to announce that it collected 13 bags of clothing and donated them to Northville Civic Center during the Christmas season. SADD was also impressed with Chief of Police Rod Cannon when he spoke at a SADD meeting. He was generous with his time, explaining drinking and driving laws, and answering questions.

Substance abuse and the Red Ribbon drive will be held Feb. 28-March 6.

On Jan. 26 MetroVision in Livonia held a panel discussion combining people from the Northville and Livonia SADD chapters, a woman from MADD, and a person who was a victim of a drunk driver. We are proud of senior vice president Matt Handyside and middle school representative Margoria Matella for the outstanding job they did in this television interview. This is part of Family Life Education Services provided by The Commission on Drug Abuse.

The SADD chapter passed out bumper stickers to all the bus drivers that read "57 reasons not to drink and drive."

The student-assisted program now has six support groups serving 85 students. They are Aftercare, Chemical Awareness, Fresh Start, Relationship Stress, Keeping a Balance, and Swap.

All of these programs are due to hard work by our Faculty Member of the Month Charlie Stilec. Congratulations to Charlie and his tireless hours of hard work.

Town Hall brings news reporters to town

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

ABC Television news correspondent Shielah Kast will be the next speaker at the Town Hall lecture series.

Kast will be the featured speaker at the Monday, March 8, luncheon lecture at the Holiday Inn West. She will be speaking at 11 a.m.

Kast has covered a broad range of Washington beats for ABC News. In January of 1989, she began covering Congress following a four-year assignment at the White House.

Covering the last half of the Reagan administration, Kast reported on the historic summit meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev. Ranked in the top 20 of all network correspondents — and number two among women correspondents — she has appeared on World News Tonight with Peter Jennings, Good Morning America, World News This Morning, The Weekend Report and on ABC's seven radio networks.

Kast was a financial reporter for the The Washington Star. She's also written a do-it-yourself tax book called Cut Your Own Taxes, which simplifies the sweeping 1981 and 1982 tax changes.

She was born in Indianapolis, graduated cum laude from The Catholic University of America and attended The Catholic University Law School.

Kast is the third lecturer in the Town Hall four-part series. The 1992-93 season will conclude in April with a lecture from Channel 2's Jerry Hodak. The Town Hall series board is working now to plan for its upcoming season. The board expects to release next year's schedule in mid-March.

Anyone interested in attending the final two lectures can make checks payable to Northville Town Hall and send them to the attention of the luncheon chairman. The lecture starts promptly at 11 a.m. with a luncheon following. Tickets must be purchased and reserved at least a week in advance.

On Campus

Pooh visits the Marquis Theater

By JAN JEFFRES
Staff Writer

Ed Lendrum is already plotting his career moves.

For the ten-year-old, bringing to life storybook character Christopher Robin in the Marquis Theater's production of Pooh Visits Storyland is a step in the right direction.

"It's fun. And it's good exposure. I plan to be an actor when I grow up. I have to get started somewhere," he explained.

Pooh is opening Friday and will run weekends through March 6. The show will give 15 children aged 9 to 16 from Novi, Northville and neighboring communities — all members of the Marquis Theater's Cotton Candy Kids — a chance to show off their acting, singing and dancing skills in an original production written by co-directors Jeffrey Weiner and Cindy Zeitz.

The play was created to fulfill a long-time ambition of Marquis Theater owner Inge Zaytll.

"She has wanted to take everything she's got in the theater. All the wonderful scenery and costumes put together in one story. She had the right people. Jeff and I crossed her path at the right time," Zeitz said.

She and Weiner put together a world in which Pooh, searching for his honey pot, is swept away into a Storyland world featuring old favorites like Alice in Wonderland, Cinderella and Rumpelstiltskin. They're circumspect on the details, to avoid giving the plot away ahead of time.

"Each story helps him along to taking another step to find his way home. We aren't going to give away all the details. He ends up in a castle with an evil step family. That's all we'll tell you," Zeitz said.

One hint is that they've thrown in a little adult humor along the way, to keep their audience's parents alert. Another is that the White Rabbit will soar through Wonderland with the assistance of Christina Zaytll, who put the fly system together.

The Cotton Candy Kids are often alumni of the Marquis Theater's summer acting camp, where they study movement and voice and dance. When these children step onto the boards, they are the latest in a tradition which extends to Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford and Tom Mix — all of whom performed at the Marquis Theater when it was a regular stop for touring vaudeville companies.

"It's a joy to work here because it's so beautiful. The kids love to work here... It's a wonderful launching pad to go on to bigger and better things. A couple of the kids have gone on to Broadway," Zeitz said.

Livonia resident Mike Quinn, 15, has landed the role of Pooh. He hopes to make it as a professional actor and already has the experience of performing in nine plays at the Northville theater.

"It's something you really wouldn't get from any other thing around. It's really unique," he said.

The directors are just as devoted to children's theater as their young stars. Zeitz has a bachelor's degree in theater and over eight years of professional experience, including a stint as a publicist at the Birmingham Theater.

Weiner is working on a master's in children's theater at Wayne State University.

"I guess everyone has a niche in something and I think I work incredibly well with children. They're very enthusiastic. I love this theater," he said.

It's not just the young actors whose skills are cultivated at the Marquis Theater. The school-aged audience is in training too, for a future lifetime of theater-going.

"It exposes them obviously to the art of live theater, as opposed to television and the movies, with all its wonderful characters who come together. It's to teach them this is a different art that's part of our culture," Zeitz said.

Carla Freshwater, a 12-year-old from Canton who plays the role of Tigger in Pooh, doesn't see the theater as her permanent home. She wants to be a doctor someday. But Pooh is her 12th play.

"It's really fun. You make lots of friends. You just have a good time up there," she said.

Through March 6, Pooh Visits Storyland will run Fridays at 8 p.m., Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. and Sundays at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $5. For information, call 349-8110. The Marquis Theater is at 135 E. Main Street.

Teachers can call the above number to arrange for special school performances.

In-Town Special Events

TRAILBLAZER: A reception to celebrate the first-ever published history of Novi, No. VI On The Trail, will be held Feb. 26 at 7 p.m. at Borders Book Shop in Novi Town Center. Author Barbara Louie will be on hand for the book signing. You can purchase either a hardcover or paperback edition at the Novi Town Center store. For information, call 347-0780.

WORLD OF ART: It's not too late to catch the second and third lectures of Michael Farrell's three-part art series sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission at Genitt's Little Theater. The talks take the audience on a voyage of art and architecture around the globe, traveling a route opposite to the one Christopher Columbus took in 1492. The art historian is known for his style and wit. Farrell's series still includes The Pleasure Domes of Kubla Khan on Feb. 17 and The Children of the Sun on March 17. Each lecture will be at 7:30 p.m. Individual tickets will be available at the door for $6.

For information, call Joanne Dayton at 347-9664 or P. Dorrian-Sanbothe at 349-8719.

Literary Happenings

SEASONAL SENTIMENTS: Borders Book Shop is going in for Valentine's Day in a big way. Up until Feb. 28, romantic types are challenged to identify the authors of six quotes about love and enter to win a drawing for a $20 gift certificate.

On the big day itself, Feb. 14, the store will serve an 11 a.m. Romantic Repeat brunch, accompanied by tunes of love strummed by guitarist Robert McCloy.

For information, call 347-0780.

LO-CAL COOKING: Florine Mark, president of the largest Weight

Watchers International franchise in the world, will visit Borders Book Shop on Feb. 17 at 7 p.m. to introduce her firm's new book Weight Watchers Favorite Homestyle Recipes. You'll get a chance to taste some of the recipes. For information, call 347-0780.

From Mission Control to the rodeo

New space museum and old-fashioned rodeo attract visitors to Houston

By ROBERTO SURO
New York Times Travel Syndicate

Houston has guided so many televised space flights that the city is inextricably linked with images of Mission Control, the big room full of computer terminals where men in short-sleeved dress shirts say things such as "Roger that, Discovery."

But, until recently, the rather drab exhibits at NASA's Johnson Space Center were the only outward sign to visitors of the city's role as capital of the manned space program.

That changed dramatically in October with the opening of Space Center Houston, a $70 million education and entertainment complex designed by Walt Disney Imagineering.

A cross between a theme park and a museum, the center has enough activities to keep a family busy for the better part of a day.

Aside from images of space travel, first-time visitors to Houston often arrive with a notion that this is somehow a Western city, and many are disappointed that it is surrounded by bayous, not buttes.

In fact, Houston's history, its spirit and certainly its climate are tied to the Gulf Coast and the Deep South, making it much closer to New Orleans both in cultural kinship and in geography than it is to El Paso or Amarillo.

Nonetheless, the cowboy thing is a big part of the Texan identity, and Houstonians will not let themselves be outdone when it comes to strutting the native mythology.

Houston becomes a Western city for about two weeks toward the end of February every year. That's when the rodeo comes to town and takes over.

EVENTS

The 1993 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo officially opens Feb. 19, and by tradition the first major event will be a barbecue cook-off.

As with everything associated with the Houston rodeo, the cooking contest is big, so big that it has to be held in the Astrodome parking area and goes on for two days.

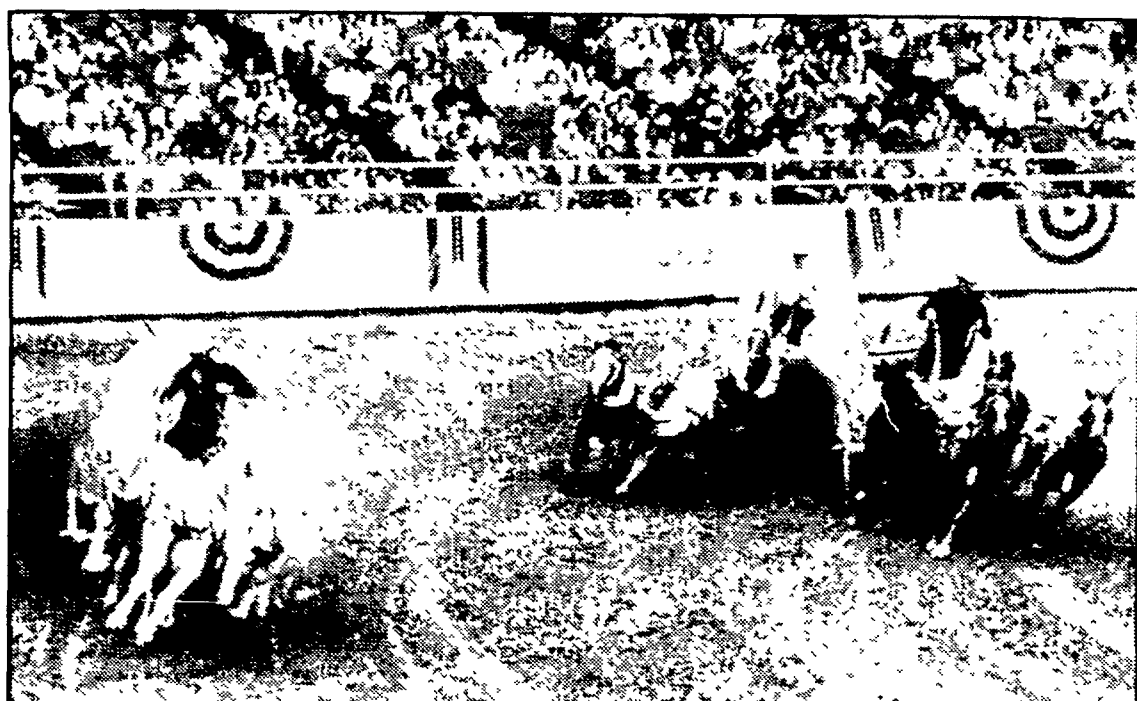

After a parade through downtown Houston Feb. 20, things get under way in earnest. Every day through March 7 there are dozens of events from pig races to cattle auctions associated with the livestock show, which fills two huge buildings, the Astroarena and Astrodome, adjoining the domed stadium.

In addition, hundreds of championship animals from llamas to Brahman bulls are on display. Rodeo competitions are held in the dome at 7:15 every evening, with additional matinees some weekend days.

Next come concerts by big name country Western performers such as Garth Brooks, Clint Black and Mary Chapin Carpenter.

Tickets for the livestock show and rodeo, which is a charitable enterprise benefiting youth and education programs, are available at the Astrodome box office or can be charged by phone through Ticketmaster-Ticketron, (713) 629-3700 or (800) 829-3131. A ticket for the rodeo, which is $10, gets you into all events for the day.

From Feb. 12 to 23, Galveston, 45

Horse-drawn covered wagons are sure to excite the crowd at the 1993 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo at the Astrodome.

miles from Houston, celebrates Mardi Gras with parades, street fairs, costumed balls and other revelry in its historic district.

The Galveston Island Convention and Visitors Bureau can provide information on scheduling and accommodations at (409) 763-4311 or (800) 351-4237.

Houston's ballet and opera are steadily approaching the first rank nationally and often put on more enterprising productions than better known companies elsewhere.

The Houston Ballet presents "Four Last Songs," a ballet choreographed by the company's artistic director, Ben Stevenson, that now appears in many other repertoires, on Feb. 26, 27, March 4 and 5 with matinees Feb. 28 and March 7.

The bill also includes "Witch Boy," an offbeat Texas tale told in dance, and "Trey McIntyre in New York," a new production. Tickets range from $8 to $70.

All ballet performances are at the Wortham Theater Center, 500 Texas. (Local usage is to give a street name without the additional designation of "avenue," "street" "road" and many thoroughfares have no such designation.)

Evening performances are at 7:30 p.m. and matinees are at 2 p.m. Tickets are available at the theater or by calling (713) 227-2787 or, outside the Houston area, (800) 828-2787.

From Feb. 14 through April 18 the Museum of Fine Arts, 1001 Bissonnet, will show "The Ancient Americas: Art From Sacred Landscapes," an exhibition of nearly 300 works from 23 pre-Columbian cultures.

Tickets are available from the museum, and cost $5, $2 for children 6 to 18 years of age, with children 5 and under admitted free. Museum hours are Tuesday to Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday until 9 p.m., Sunday 12:15 to 6 p.m. Call (713) 639-7300 for information, (713) 629-3700 for tickets.

WHAT TO SEE

Houston, a city as dedicated to modernity and private enterprise as any in America, has relatively few of the parks, public spaces or historic buildings that are sightseeing staples for families traveling with children.

The situation was remedied in part last fall by the opening of Space Center Houston and of a new Children's Museum.

The Space Center is about 20 miles south of downtown via I-45 at 1601 NASA Road One, just on the edge of the Johnson Space Center, where astronauts train and prepare for space flights that are, of course, guided by Mission Control.

Visitors can see the control room and other parts of the Johnson Center such as the Weightless Environment Training Facility on guided tram tours.

Everything else takes place in a vast new building that very much has the feel of a Disney enterprise. It mixes hands-on activities, big-screen movies, multimedia performances directed by a jumpsuit-clad "briefer" and walk-through exhibits.

Space Center Houston, which was built and is operated by a non-profit foundation in collaboration with NASA, is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily. Admission is $8.75, $7.90 for seniors and $5.25 for children under 12 years old. Children under 3 are admitted free. For more information call (713) 244-2105 or (800) 972-0369.

With 12,000 square feet of indoor exhibition space, a 166-seat theater and a large outdoor courtyard, the new Children's Museum of Houston, 1500 Binz, is a big, ambitious addition to the local scene. It is almost entirely built around interactive exhibits and displays.

Miniature Mexican and Chinese villages are meant to encourage cross-cultural comparisons, and in a gallery on agriculture children can "raise" food from seed to supermarket, using elaborate models.

The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m. Admission is $3, with children under 2 admitted free. For more information call (713) 522-1138.

WHERE TO STAY

Houston is so spread out and offers such a range of accommodations that the key decision in picking a hotel involves deciding what part of town to stay in.

For moderate price accommodations close to The Galleria, Houston's monumental enclosed mall, try the motel-style Holiday Inn adjoining the freeway service road; 3131 West Loop South, Houston 77027, (713) 621-1900 or (800) 465-4329, fax (713) 439-0989, 318 rooms. Double room rate is $79.

Just a mile from downtown the motel-style Allen Park Inn offers moderate-priced accommodations overlooking Buffalo Bayou and the jogging trails that line its banks; 2121 Allen Parkway, Houston 77019, (713) 521-9321, 270 rooms. Doubles range from $86 to $106.

Budget: At the edge of downtown is the Days Inn, an older high-rise hotel with parking, 801 Calhoun Street, Houston 77002, (713) 659-2222 or (800) 947-7789, fax (713) 659-8348, 309 rooms. Double room is $65.

Out toward the western suburbs but still a short drive to The Galleria and downtown, La Quinta Inn offers basic motel accommodations along the interstate; 8017 Katy Freeway, Houston 77024, (713) 688-8941 or (800) 531-5900, fax (713) 683-8410, 100 rooms. Double room rate is $63.

Luxury: The Lancaster is a small jewel downtown done in a kind of English country-house style with lots of brass and chintz; 701 Texas, Houston 77002, (713) 228-9500 or (800) 231-0336, fax (713) 223-4528, 93 rooms. Double room rate $185.

The Omni Houston Hotel offers many large, elegant rooms convenient to River Oaks, Tanglewood and other upscale residential neighborhoods as well as the shopping in the Galleria area; 4 Riverway, Houston 77056, (713) 871-8181 or (800) 843-6664, fax (713) 871-0719, 381 rooms. Rates start at $175 for a double.

Westin Galleria, a large, sleek hotel that caters to shoppers and business travelers, is in the center of The Galleria; 5060 West Alabama, Houston 77056, (713) 960-8100 or (800) 228-3000, fax (713) 960-6553, 485 rooms. Double room is $150.

WHERE TO EAT

Under the direction of the chef, Robert del Grande, the Southwestern cuisine at Cafe Annie, 1728 Post Oak Boulevard, (713) 840-1111, has remained among the most innovative in Houston.

The menu emphasizes local ingredients in unexpected combinations such as Texas venison sausage with bread pudding and smoked chile sauce or grilled chicken breasts with roasted tomato and cilantro salsa and warm crawfish tails. Dinner for two with wine is about $80.

Most power lunches in downtown Houston take place at private clubs on the top floors of office buildings, but a visitor can entertain in style at the DeVille at the Four Seasons Hotel, 1300 Lamar, (713) 650-1300.

Like Cafe Annie, the DeVille takes a Southwestern bent but with a little less daring. It offers several low-fat selections every day that sacrifice nothing in taste, such as the grilled pompano marinated in key lime and served on chunky gazpacho. About $80.

There are no menus at Brenner's Steak House, 10911 Katy Freeway, (713) 465-2901. The choices are simple, and waitresses will tell you what they are, but this unassuming suburban eatery is a favorite among locals who insist it is the best in town for red meat. $60.

Pico's Mexican Restaurant, 5941 Bellaire, (713) 662-8383, and 4527 Lomitas, (713) 942-9955, is a notable kind of place offering some ambitious dishes such as whole red snapper sauteed in garlic along with the usual tacos and enchiladas. $40.

La Jaliscience, 1308 Montrose, (713) 524-8676, is best known for its enormous burritos with your choice of stuffings such as grilled chicken, guacamole or stewed meat for $3.95 when served with rice and beans. Other Mexican and Tex-Mex fare is also available at bargain prices. Dinner for two with beer is about $15.

The Goode Company Barbecue, 8911 Katy Freeway, (713) 464-1901, and 5109 Kirby, (713) 522-2530, offers not only fine renditions of the Texas classics — brisket, ribs and links, but also smokehouse innovations such as spicy pork and swamp duck. Sauce sopped up in jalapeno bread leaves no doubt that this is Texas food. Dinner for two, with beer, is about $20.

There's lots of help for 'solo' travelers

By GENE and ADELE MALOTT
New York Times Travel Syndicate

DEAR TMT: Single travel is new to me. I have planned many trips and then discarded those plans because I am hesitant about traveling alone.

Single accommodations (which I prefer) are often undesirable and are usually offered at a considerable supplement. These are the reasons for my reluctance.

Perhaps you can offer some advice that will motivate me to "break out." Clare Sandelman, Longboat Key, Fla.

DEAR C.S.: We know that getting started as a solo traveler can be difficult. Why not begin by booking a trip with a tour group? When you travel with a group, you never feel as if you're alone — even if you stay in a single room.

Saga Holidays (800-258-5885) and Grand Circle Travel (800-221-2610) are two companies that offer group tours for mature travelers.

If you're looking for inspiration, try reading some books on solo travel.

One of our favorites is "Last Year I Went Around the World . . . This Year I Plan to Go Elsewhere" by Frances Weaver (Fulcrum, 1989).

We also recommend "Traveling Solo" by Jennifer Cecil (HarperCollins, 1992), which provides ideas for trips in Canada, the United States, Central America and the Caribbean.

Cecil defines the solo traveler as "an independent man or woman in search of rest, relaxation or revelation, but not necessarily a mate."

She evaluates 24 types of trips from a solo traveler's perspective. Included are vacations centered around cooking, tennis and fly-fishing.

Readers are invited to submit questions and comments to Gene and Adele Malott, c/o New York Times Syndicate, 130 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10011. Send the Malotts a postcard from your trip with ideas, questions and information on the bargains you find for seniors. The Malotts are the publishers of THE MATURE TRAVELER: Travel Bonanzas for 49ers-Plus, a newsletter for mature travelers.

Cagers fall in OT to Livonia Churchill 58-56

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Ethan Jerome sank a jump shot with two seconds remaining in overtime to lead Livonia Churchill past the Mustang basketball team 58-56 Friday.

The Chargers fought back from a 13-point halftime deficit to take the victory. According to Northville coach Larry Taylor, it was another case of the Mustangs not being able to put four consistent quarters together.

"I really wish I could pinpoint the problem," he said. "We play well in the first halves but then we have one or two bad quarters and that's it."

Northville went into the fourth up by six Friday. With Livonia continuing to rally late in the game, the Mustangs committed three consecutive turnovers.

Taylor said it might have been the difference.

"We had people in the the right positions," he commented. "But we just didn't get the job done."

The coach added that his team's offensive woes have hurt in recent weeks. Passes are sailing out of bounds or bouncing off legs and hands at key moments, Taylor said.

"(Opponents) aren't doing a great job of defending us," he said. "We just aren't executing."

Todd Rabourn led Northville with 16 points and four assists while Mike Maschek added 10. Drew Jurcisin had 22 for Churchill and Jerome had 16.

off the court in the first half.

The Mustangs worked the ball inside with great success as Maschek and Kieran Williams each tossed in four points. Defensively, Taylor said his team was solid and rebounded well to hold the smaller Churchill squad to one shot per offensive possession.

As a result, Northville took a 14-6 lead after the first quarter. That lead went to 29-16 by halftime.

Rabourn scored five in the second period to lead his team. Josh Williams and Marc Chaisson added baskets as well.

Livonia began its comeback midway through the third.

Three-pointers helped. Churchill nailed six of its eight treys in the second half.

"They look for the three-pointer (all the time)," Taylor said.

Tune, Scappaticci star in grapplers victory over Hawks

Farmington Hills Harrison played the part of congenial host Thursday by serving up an easy 53-8 win for the Mustang wrestling team.

Visiting Northville took all but two matches from the Hawks. Of course it shouldn't be a big surprise, as the Mustangs destroyed Harrison 60-9 last month at the Novi Round Robin tournament.

Coach Bob Boshoven pointed out that the Hawks had less than a full lineup in January. With all of the home team's wrestlers back, he said he expected, and got, a tougher match.

"It was their best performances of the year. Without a doubt."

BOB BSHOVEN

But several Mustangs stepped up to seal the win. Boshoven said. Carl Tune and Joe Scappaticci, in particular, wrestled well.

"It was their best performances of the year," Boshoven commented. "Without a doubt."

Northville concludes its dual meet portion of the season tonight against Plymouth Salem at home, 6:30 p.m. The crossover match is for third place in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"I think our chances are really good," Boshoven said. "If we wrestle as good as we are capable."

Northville did just that Thursday against Harrison. Mike Steiner decisioned Brian Atkinson 8-6 at 103 pounds. Tarrow pinned Brad Birkett in 35 seconds at 119 pounds.

Derek Jaeger got Harrison on the board with a 4-2 decision in overtime against Northville's Chris Harrison. Matt Allison took a pin at 130 pounds for the Mustangs.

Tune was up at 135 for Northville. He beat Darnell Primer 6-5.

Scappaticci was outstanding at 140 pounds. He shut out Mark Lesperance 7-0.

"He was their toughest kid, too," Boshoven said. At 145, Ryan Baber pinned Brendan Say late in the first period. Adam Lynch needed only 14 seconds to take care of Harrison's 152-pound Scott Hines.

John Matthews, wrestling at 160 pounds for Northville, took an 8-6 decision. Erik Hibbler pinned Joe Gutierrez in 1:42 at 171 pounds.

Ted Downs came up from junior varsity and pinned John Amayo at 3:50. Downs trailed 6-2 at the time, but caught Amayo, who was trying to cradle-pin him.

Tankers take easy win over Brighton

All things considered, the Mustang swim team's 64-29 victory over Brighton Feb. 2 was about as good as it gets.

Lets see.

Northville moved a step closer to an undefeated dual meet season, swam 38 bests and qualified for state competition in the 400-yard freestyle relay. Not bad for a Tuesday meet, according to Mustang coach Mark Heiden.

"We've always had trouble with Tuesday meets," he said. "I was glad to see they could get up for it and swim well."

The coach added that the meet was good in another regard. Heiden said he had a chance to look at many swimmers against the Bulldogs.

"I had a lot of opportunities to see kids swim that don't normally get the chance," he said. "It allows me to see what they can do for league meet."

Northville gets its shot at the Western Lakes Activities Association crown in two weeks. The Mustangs, now 9-0, close the dual meet season this week against Plymouth Salem and Walled Lake.

Brighton, which competes in the Kensington Valley Conference, was no match for state-ranked Northville.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Gregg Garner, Matt Handyside, Joel Elssesser and Jason Lennig won easily in 1:51.20. Sanjay Nayakwadi, Sean Hollister, Peter Anthony and James Elssesser were second in 1:55.28.

Todd Lennig took the 200 freestyle. The senior posted a time of 1:58.85.

In the 200-yard IM, Joel Elssesser placed first in 2:16.69 while Brian VanHorn was third in 2:27.36. Jason Lennig was second in the 50-yard freestyle in 24.56.

In diving, Jeff DeWitt posted his best score of the season with 192.45 points. Mike Malloure was second with 191.70.

Handyside finished second in the 100-yard butterfly in 1:00.26 while Anthony was third in 1:01.05. Jim Fee took the 100 freestyle in 50.31 and Jason Lennig was third in 55.65.

Garner's 5:23.45 won the 500-yard freestyle. Matt Basse was third in 5:41.25.

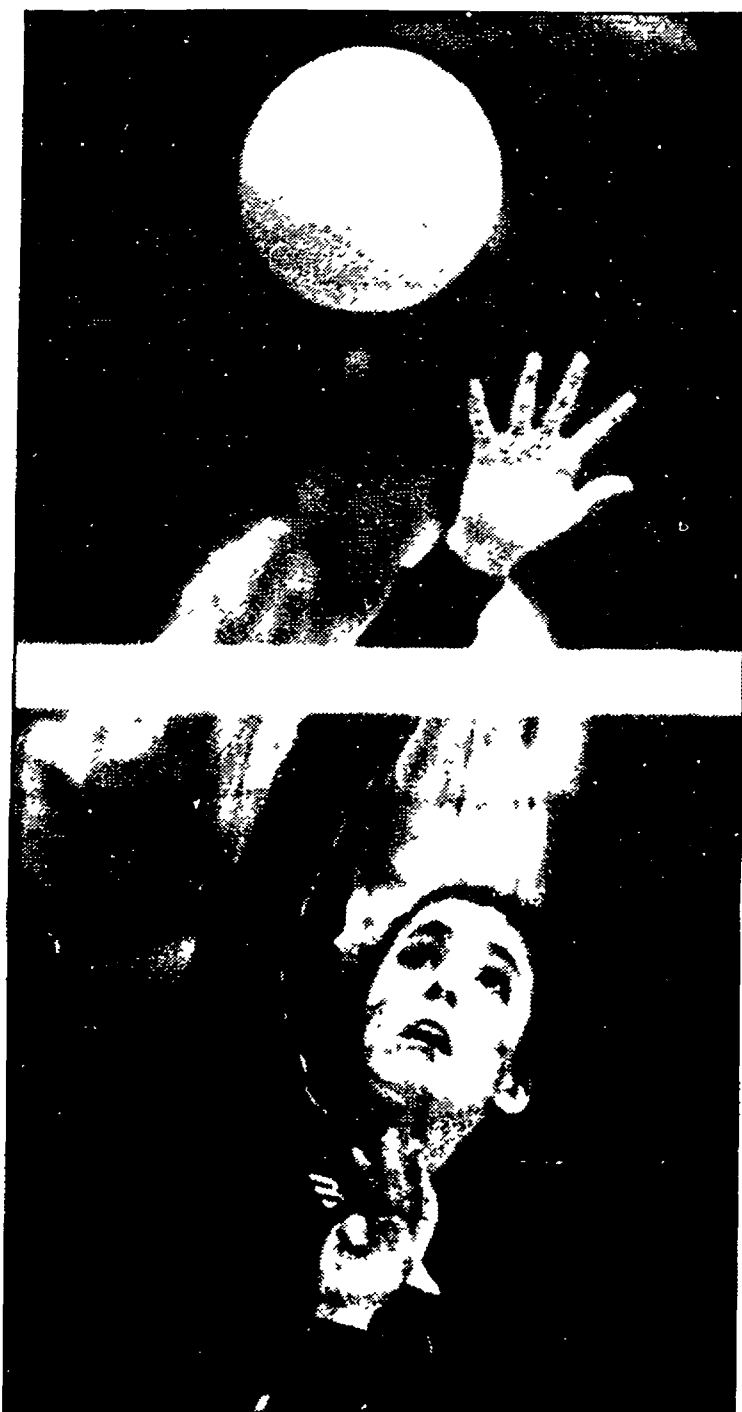

The team of Jason Fisher, Fee, Dave Wesley and Jeff Sieving set a new Northville pool record in the 200-yard freestyle relay with a time of 1:32.02. That bettered the old mark by a half-second. Anthony, Joel Elssesser, Handyside and Jason Lennig were second in 1:38.92.

In the 100-yard backstroke, Todd Lennig won with a 1:02.3. Joel Elssesser was first in the 100 breaststroke in 1:09.69 while brother Jim was third in 1:14.23.

Fee, Wesley, Sieving and Fisher posted a time of 3:22.08 to qualify for the 400-yard freestyle relay. Garner, VanHorn, Basse and Marc Wilson were third.

With the hectic pace of practice and two meets per week, Heiden said his team enjoyed the lighter workload last week with just the Brighton match up.

"It was kind of nice," he said. "It was nice to get a little rest from all the swimming."

Spikers drop three in conference action

By SCOTT DANIEL

Fatigue caught up with the Mustang volleyball team Thursday and allowed Livonia Stevenson to sweep Northville in three games.

Playing on the road, Northville fell 15-3, 15-7 and 15-4. It was the third match in four days for the Mustangs, including a two-hour marathon the night before.

"We came in knowing that we would be tired," Northville coach Laura Melvin said.

She added that the match might have been different had her team been fresh.

"We would have gotten more points," Melvin said. "It would have made a big difference."

Two players dominated for the Spartans. Patti Diamond, a setter and blocker, and hitter Julie Martin proved to be too much for the Mustangs.

Game two was typical of their performance.

With Diamond serving, Martin scored nine points for Stevenson. Melvin, who worked with both players before becoming the Mustang coach, said Martin used her size (6-foot-1) to blister the ball past her team.

Northville trailed by an 8-6 count in game two but could come no closer. Games one and three were never close, Melvin said.

The Mustangs are now 1-5 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN def. NORTHVILLE 4-15, 16-14, 14-16, 15-9, 15-13. Melvin said the Feb. 3 match was almost a rerun of an earlier contest with Walled Lake Western. She said her team came out hot, but couldn't sustain its momentum.

Northville breezed through game one. It took three serving rotations to win the game, but Melvin said her team dominated. Senior Jenny Lower accounted for seven points.

Angie Snyder came on strong with five kills in game two. The Mustangs made too many hitting mistakes, though, sending shots into the net or out of bounds, and lost by two points.

Melvin said her team may have gotten a little overconfident after the first game.

"It was too easy," she said. "All of a sudden they started getting to our shots. They were scrappy."

Northville turned the tables in game three by winning 16-14. Melvin explained that the two teams traded points until Krista Howe served the game winner.

Unfortunately, things went downhill for the Mustangs in the remainder of the match. Franklin called on reserve energy and pulled out the final two games.

"We showed fatigue and exhaustion," Melvin said. "We let the other team see how tired we were."

FARMINGTON HILLS HARRISON def. NORTHVILLE 15-9, 15-5, 15-11. The Hawks' Julie Heist was the story of the match. Melvin said she was playing on a different level.

"(Heist) was spiking at college-level speed," she commented. "She was unstoppable."

Northville didn't get through a single rotation in game one. Tanya Gamary made the most of her serving opportunity with five of the Mustangs' nine points, however.

The game remained close until Heist moved into the front row.

"As soon as she rotated to the front we didn't score a point," Melvin said.

Northville led 5-3 in game two but couldn't hold it. Melvin said poor serving, including four misses, hurt her team in the game.

The Mustangs rallied from a 7-0 deficit in game three before falling. The visitors got all 11 points on kills.

Melvin said Farmington Hills had an answer for everything Northville did on the court.

"They were really quick defensively," she noted. "Nothing we could do hurt them."

ANGIE SNYDER

DAVE WESLEY

DAVE WESLEY: Wesley helped Northville to an easy victory over Brighton last week by competing on the 200-yard freestyle and 400-yard freestyle relay teams. The 200 freestyle team set a new Mustang record in the process. Wesley has been a steady performer this season and has qualified for state competition in the 500-yard freestyle.

ANGIE SNYDER: One of the hardest working Mustang volleyball players, Snyder played well last week despite Northville's dreary showing. In a match against Livonia Franklin, for example, she posted five kills in a single game.

Baseball denies Schott's rights

It's not often that constitutional questions arise in sports. But a rather large one emerged last week, at least in my mind.

Marge Schott, who owns the Cincinnati Reds, was suspended by Major League Baseball for one year and fined $25,000 for racial slurs she made against two of her players and others. The 62-year-old will be allowed to attend games, but not to run the team during her suspension.

In handing out the sentence, MLB officials said Schott's stereotyping and slurs against minorities couldn't be tolerated by anyone in baseball. Officials went on to say that her statements brought on substantial embarrassment to baseball.

And what exactly did Schott say?

In referring to two African-American players, she allegedly said they were her "million-dollar niggers." Schott is also reported to have described Jewish people as being "bastards" and being "dirty."

Schott's statements were ignorant and demeaning, certainly.

But the more I thought about it, the more I wondered if baseball really did the right thing in suspending her. In essence, Schott was censored after the fact by MLB.

However misguided or just plain stupid her statements were, I don't believe baseball has the right to curtail freedom of speech. Besides penalizing Schott, the decision sets a dangerous precedent in sports.

Is there a definition of what specifically constitutes a racial or ethnic slur? Or is it, "I know one when I hear it?"

Who should make this determination? Are business executives, school administrators, school boards or coaches qualified to make these judgments and then pass sentence?

Northville Athletic Director Dennis Colligan thinks so. While no written policy exists, he said, action would be taken against a coach who made statements similar to what Schott made.

"We would have a severe problem if one of my coaches said something like that," Colligan said. "Coaches have a responsibility to respect the kids that play for them."

In Novi, the school district follows a "two-strike" system, according to athletic director John Fundukian.

Athletes and coaches who make derogatory statements, perhaps in the heat of battle, are reprimanded for a first offense. A second violation can mean dismissal from the team, Fundukian said.

"It's a last resort," he added. "If they make an error we try to correct it (first)."

In my estimation, neither school districts nor MLB are qualified to decide in what quantity a coach, player or franchise owner can use their constitutional rights. I think there are more appropriate ways of handling such situations.

Coaches contracts do not have to be renewed, for example. Baseball players can choose not to work for bigoted owners. Fans can boycott games.

The point is, if ideas are censored simply because we don't agree with their message, we really don't have freedom of speech. And the right to speak our minds about sports is just as important as any other issue.

SIGNINGS: Three Mustang football players signed letters of intent last week.

Running back Rob Subotich will play for Wayne State University in the fall. Twins Kevin and Eric Shaw, meanwhile, signed with Northwood Institute.

Quarterback Danny Walsh signed with Hillsdale as well.

GYMNASTS COMPETE: Northville gymnast Cristy Macek competed at the 1993 Winterfest Invitational last month. She finished fifth in the juniors competition. Novi had several competitors as well. Audra Sliger placed fourth all around in level eight, Nicole Pelletier was first at level seven while Erica Winn was fourth and Stacey Williamson fifth.

KARATE TOURNAMENT: A host of Northville residents competed in the Kids Only Spring Invitational Tournament last month in Waterford. The kids competed in forms, a set pattern of motions designed to simulate attacks from multiple attackers, board breaking, hardest kick and sparring.

In forms, Erica Bivens was third in the 6- to 8-year-old beginner division; Christina Minukos was first in the 9-10 beginner division; Andreu Nudi was second in the 11- to 13-year-old beginner division and Billy Gaines was third in advanced 6- to 9-year-olds. Gaines won the hardest kick competition, was second in sparring and third in board breaking.

Cagers fall in OT

heading into the final frame.

Northville held a two-point lead with time winding down. The Mustangs then went into their four-corner offense, which is designed to run the clock out or draw fouls.

But Churchill collected the foul and then made good on two free throws to tie the game with 1:26 left. After a Northville miss, Livonia took the ball with 15 seconds left and took the final shot of regulation and missed.

The Chargers scored first in overtime with a pair of Jerome free throws. Rabourn tied the game with two from the charity stripe. Jerome closed it out with two seconds left as he sank a free throw line jumper for the win.

"They've improved a lot," Taylor said of Churchill. "They played hard."

Northville is now 2-5 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 7-6 overall. Taylor said his team must win virtually all of its remaining conference games to make it to the division playoffs.

Novi cagers beat Lakeland, fall to South Lyon

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Jeremy Watkins played the basketball game of his life Friday.

The 6-foot senior forward came off the bench for 18 points and seven steals to ignite Novi past Lakeland 62-50 at home. According to coach Bob Shoemaker, Watkins played the best defense he's seen as the Wildcat coach.

"He was a clinic," Shoemaker said, "in doing things we wanted done."

The coach said he stressed playing "denial" defense against the Eagles. Watkins, and the rest of his teammates, executed to near perfection.

The Wildcats defensive effort made up for some offensive woes. Novi shot only about 40 percent from the field. "It was our defense that did it," Shoemaker said. "Had we shot well, we would have won by 30."

The win improved Novi's Keweenaw Valley Conference record to 3-5. The team is 4-10 overall.

"It was certainly needed," Shoemaker said. "It was a nice house call from the doctor. The patient needed a victory."

The Wildcats dominated Friday. Shoemaker summoned Watkins off the bench early in the first quarter and the senior responded with seven points. Jeff Teraki added six and Novi took a 16-10 lead at the first break. Shoemaker said Teraki's play is much improved as of late.

"He starting to come around," he said of the senior.

The Cats nearly doubled the lead by halftime. Sophomore Jason Fannon had a strong quarter with six points while Watkins threw in five more.

Many of Watkins' baskets came as a result of his defensive efforts. The senior converted layups on several of his steals. Watkins shot 8-of-9 from the field in the game.

Novi put the game on ice in the third. Watkins and Teraki combined for 10 points as the Wildcats built a 50-33 lead by the end of the period.

Shoemaker's comment about defense winning the game is borne out by the numbers. Novi had 18 steals — six over the team's per game average. Offensively, the Wildcats only had 13 turnovers.

"We were in control from beginning to end," Shoemaker said.

Watkins' 18 points led Novi while Teraki added 15. Kyle Baldwin led Lakeland with 16 points.

SOUTH LYON 55, NOVI 53: The third quarter proved to be the Cats' downfall Feb. 2.

Ahead by seven points midway through the period, South Lyon rallied to take the lead. Shoemaker blamed himself for the defeat.

The coach said he made a substitution and forgot to tell the player what defense Novi was in. As a result, the Lions scored five straight points — unguarded.

"It's a game we could have won," Shoemaker said, "but didn't."

Novi led 28-26 at halftime. Teraki and Dave York each had six in the half to lead the Wildcats.

The duo continued to pace Novi in the third with nine of the team's 11 points. Led by Steve Strecker and John Frazier, who combined for 11, South Lyon took a 44-39 by the end of the period.

Novi honored by state

Novi Parks and Recreation offers so much for the residents of this community, and it's nice to realize those efforts do not go unrewarded.

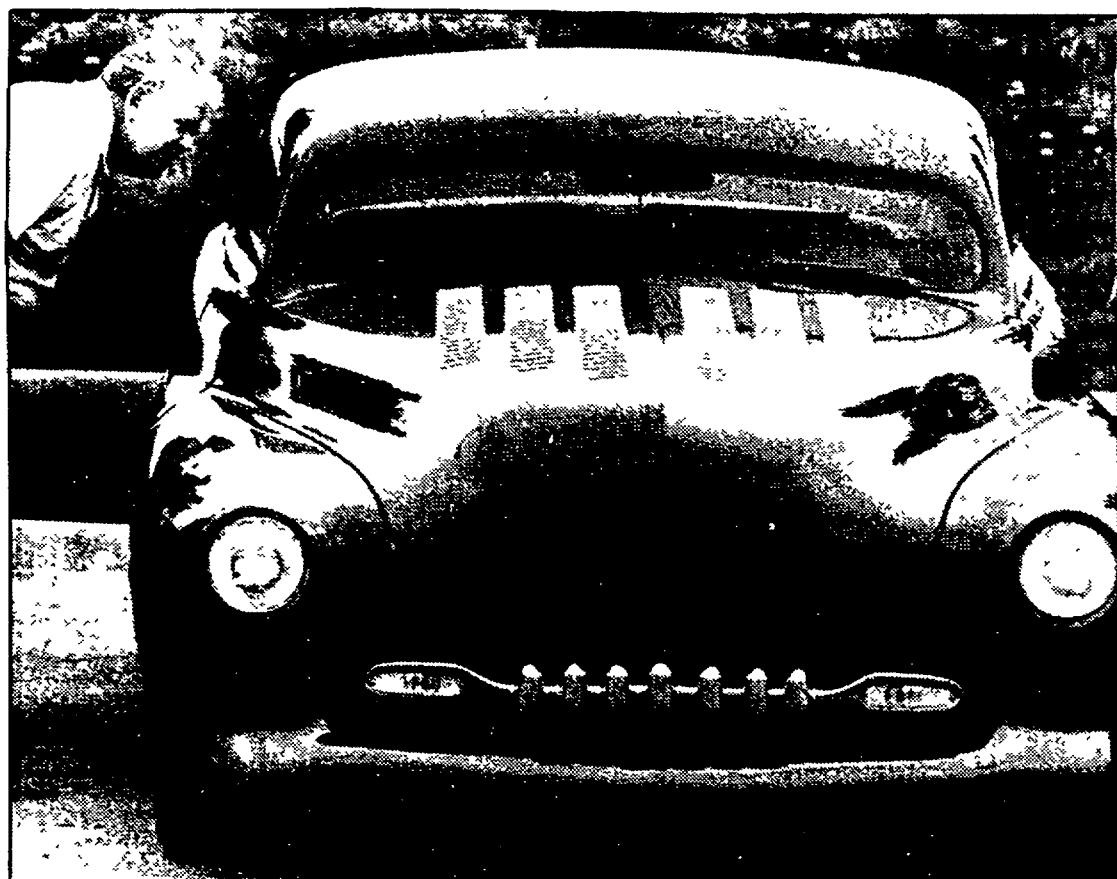

Each year the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association recognizes various cities for their outstanding contributions in the field of recreation and parks. This year Novi received awards in both the Innovative Rec Programming and the Community Service categories.

This year's Innovative Rec Programming Award was for the Novi Parks and Recreation Youth Theatre. This program began in the fall of 1991 with the Performance Plus program. Performance Plus offers on-stage performing plus the educational experience that accompanies each production. Performers, who are 12 and older, not only rehearse their individual roles in the play, but also learn how to develop characterization, as well as other aspects of the production such as promotion, set design, lighting, costumes and make-up.

This innovative program is the brainchild of Novi resident Linda Wickert. She is the guiding force of Performance Plus and the true reason for its success. Recreation Coordinator Marilyn Troshak is always open to initiating new activities and programs for Novi Parks and Rec. Troshak was honored last year for the "1991 MRPA Program Leadership Award," and the "MRPA Innovative Programming Award" for her Mobile Recreation Program.

Youth theatre director/instructor Linda Wickert has a bachelor's degree in performing arts from the University of Detroit and is presently working on a masters in theater at Wayne State University. She has been teaching and directing for over 20 years.

Wickert's educational approach to Novi's recreation department was honored, in part, for its role in the annual '50s Festival.

the theater offers a "theater experience" to each individual beyond the mere memorization of lines. Performance Plus students have already performed in Picnic at Hanging Rock, Alice in Wonderland and The Crucible.

"Anyone fortunate enough to see our last performance of The Crucible knows what a wonderful program Novi has," said Wickert. "I received letters from professionals on our tremendous performance of The Crucible. We performed a special matinee and the students who came from Ferndale, Novi and Harrison High School were very impressed. It is a play not usually attempted by students from 12 to 18 years old."

The Performance Plus Spring Production is A One-Act Festival consisting of three one-act plays from the works of Kurt Vonnegut Jr., William Faulkner and D.H. Lawrence scheduled for April 23-25. The Youth Theatre program is becoming so popular that students had to be turned away. It shows that Novi Parks and Recreation continues to offer innovative recreational programs year after year.

The Michigan '50s Festival won one of the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association Community Service Awards. In 1992, the '50s Festival Board of Directors wanted to share the festival's success with the Novi community and decided to designate a portion of the profits to purchase a mobile recreation stage.

This stage will benefit residents of all ages by being used for outdoor summer concerts, Chilly Willy Winter Festival, sports tournaments and other special events held within Novi's Parks and Recreation Department.

Thanks to the MRPA Innovative Programming Award and the Community Service Award, we can give statewide recognition to Linda Wickert and Novi Youth Theatre Plus, and the Michigan '50s Festival. It takes cooperation from our Parks and Recreation staff, residents and community service groups to continue developing unique and well-rounded recreation experiences for our community. Novi... what a great place to live and raise a family.

Don't forget fitness resolutions

We are just getting started in month two of 1993. For most of us, this is about the time our New Year's resolutions (at least the unrealistic ones) fade to just a memory.

Don't get discouraged! February is the time to regroup, re-evaluate our goals and become more realistic. You will notice that the Clinton administration is going through the same problems, so don't feel alone on this one. Maybe some day we will learn not to mention our resolutions until they actually become part of our lives.

Where to start? Most fitness resolutions require a lifestyle change. Lifestyle changes come hard. You need an organized, goal-oriented system with realistic goals. For instance, say you started off the year promising to walk an hour everyday. The work "every" should have been a red flag. Let's say five days a week sounds possible. This means three days might be realistic. Think about it. If you do get out and walk three days each week for five weeks in a row, you'll feel successful and might be motivated by your accomplishment. If you promised to walk five days and only walk four, you have a feeling of failure. Now if you goal was three days and you end up walking four, you are a hero.

Keep a log. I seem to mention this in every article I write. Without a log, it will be very difficult to stick to a program. The log shows your progress and keeps you focused. When you enter a zero in the log, it kind of stares back at you. When you enter a good workout, the log compliments and motivates you.

For a fitness program to survive a Michigan winter, a decent piece of exercise equipment helps fill the holes in your program and keeps you consistent. The variety of outdoor and indoor exercise can add to the enjoyment of your fitness program.

Last but not least, the most inspiring of your New Year's fitness resolutions will come when you can show off your body this spring as the winter clothes come off. We can only hope the economy looks as good as you will this summer.

Western dance slated for center

COUNTRY WESTERN DANCE: Come catch the dance craze that's sweeping the nation. Learn line dancing and the two step. Dancers of all levels are welcome. The dance will be held on Friday, Feb. 26. Instruction will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. with an "open dance" immediately following from 9 p.m. to midnight. If you are a beginner come see why there has been such a steady growth in Western Dancing. For those of you who already know how much fun it is, come learn something new and enjoy having all the room you need to dance in. The dance is open to adults for a cost of $15 per couple and $10 for singles. The dance will be held at the Northville Community Center located at 303 W. Main St. For more information, call 349-0203.

BOWLING DAY: Why sit at home on your day off from school? The Northville Parks and Recreation Department wants to give you and your friends a chance to go bowling on Friday, Feb. 26, from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Participants will meet at the Novi Bowl and Recreation Center, 21700 Novi Road. The outing will cost $8 per person and is open for children ages 5 to 14. Two hours of bowling, an orientation session, shoe rental, pizza, pop and chips are all included. Registrations will be accepted until Feb. 23 at the department. For more information call

BASEBALL/SOFTBALL REGISTRATION: The Northville Junior Baseball Association will be holding boys baseball and girls softball registration at the Community Center on Main Street Feb. 13 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. All children born before July 31, 1987, are eligible to participate in the program. For more information call 349-0203.

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING: Maybury State Park in Northville offers miles and miles of trails for cross country enthusiasts. Skis can be rented from the park at $4.25 for the first hour, $2 for the second hour and $1 more for every additional hour. The trails are open from noon to 6 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the weekends. For information on admission fees call 348-1190.

LIVING SCIENCE FOUNDATION CAMP: The Northville Parks and Recreation is proud to present the Living Science Foundation Winter Camp. This program offers a unique learning experience through hands-on activities. Come face to face with exotic animals including an 8-foot snake, birds, reptiles and other animals from around the world. Materials for all experiments, crafts and snacks will be provided. Campers should wear comfortable indoor and outdoor clothing and bring a sack lunch each day. The camps run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with a cost of $45. Camps are held on Feb. 22, 23, 25 and 26. Camps include Marine Biology Day, Reptiles are Cool Day, and more. For more information, call the department at 349-0203.

SOCCER: Girls premier soccer players who have no team to play for in the spring '93 season, call Tom Coyne at 427-3336. For players with a birthdate of Aug. 1, 1976, and younger who have no team to play with, Linda Hamilton, USA Women's National Team, and Tom Coyne, USASA National Championship, will provide an opportunity for girls premier soccer players to train and compete this spring season.

CLASS REGISTRATION: Winter class registration for Northville Parks and Recreation will be taken Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For more information on classes and registration, call the Northville Parks and Recreation office at 349-0203.

WATER FITNESS: Need some exercise but hate to sweat? Water fitness is the way to go. Designed for adult swimmers and non-swimmers who want to lose excess pounds and inches without the strenuous exercise of aerobics, water workouts use the resistance of the water to firm and tone your muscles. The class is for adults, ages 14 and over. Cost of the program is $30 and will be held Mondays and Wednesdays at the Northville High School pool. Call Northville Parks and Recreation at 349-0203 for more information.

JUNIOR BASEBALL: Northville Junior Baseball is accepting applications for house and travel league coaches for the 1993 season. Applications are available at Northville Parks and Recreation, located at 303 W. Main St. Returning coaches also need to complete a coaching application. For further information, call Northville Parks and Rec at 349-0203.

SCUBA CLASSES: Become a certified scuba diver and explore the fascinating world of lakes and oceans. Don's Dive Shop teaches classes throughout the year on Mondays and Wednesdays at Northville High School Swimming pool.

The cost is $68 for residents, plus book fees and equipment rental. If you would like to register for this class you can do so by stopping by Northville Parks and Recreation on Main Street in downtown Northville or call 349-0203 for more information.

ATHLETIC FAMILY PASSES: Northville High School passes are available by contacting Sue Christenson.

Auctions a popular way to move real estate

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Auctions, as a real estate marketing technique, have become a major industry at points throughout the country.

A few years ago, auctions were primarily used to dispose of hard-to-sell land and certain commercial-industrial properties. Today all types of real properties are sold at the clap of an auctioneer's gavel, including many residential properties.

"It's a very fast, efficient and effective way for builders to sell their newer units," said Pat Fredericks, president of a regional Association of Realtors. "But, surprisingly, auction buyers seldom get a bargain. Many times the auctioned properties are bid up to the full asking price."

In a recent auction, 17 new townhomes were auctioned at the San Alicia development near Thousand Oaks, Calif. Sales totaled $3,729,000. Final auction prices averaged $219,353 — 72.8 percent of the asking price and 118 percent of the announced minimum selling price.

One international auction company, Kennedy-Wilson Inc., sold $890,929,000 in real estate auctions last year. That's up from $87.2 million in 1988, reflecting the increasing interest in marketing real estate via auctions.

"A distinct trend in early 1993 is an increasing number of commercial properties being auctioned, as well as residential properties," said Brooke Lauter, senior vice president of Kennedy-Wilson. "Also, more properties owned by major financial institutions are being auctioned. And more real estate auctions are taking place in foreign countries."

Real estate auctioning has grown to the point where the National Association of Realtors

HOME DESIGNS

Shelley inclined for construction on a slope

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

From the front, the Shelley looks like a single-story home. Step around to the back and you find yourself standing outside a lower level, looking up at the main floor.

Designed for construction on a slope that falls off to the back, the Shelley's main floor includes a garage, master suite and family living areas. Two more bedrooms, a bathroom, utility room, family room and huge storage area are below. A large family that needs more bedrooms could easily convert the storage space into one additional large bedroom or two small ones.

A wide window bay brightens the formal dining area of the combined living/dining room, adding a touch of elegance. Informal dining takes place in the sunny eating nook at the far end of the kitchen. Both eating areas are designed to take full advantage of a vista to the rear of the home.

Other features in the kitchen include a large walk-in pantry, built-in dishwasher, range, oven and a desk. A window in front of the sink overlooks the open stairwell.

Amenities in the luxurious master suite include a walk in closet and two vanities, one in the water closet and another in the dressing area.

A small half-bath is located just inside the entry, allowing kids quick access when they're playing outside.

The garage includes extra space for storage or a small shop.

By Marsha Blasco
Staff Writer

Homeowners mow lawns, rake leaves, paint walls and spend money on repairs throughout the year.

Renters sit back and relax. But during tax season, homeowners gain the advantage—tax deductions.

It's very difficult for renters to meet the requirements to file schedule A, according to area tax accountants, leaving most deductions to homeowners.

So, attention homeowners. Local tax accountants outlined these general rules of tax deductions for the 1992 tax year.

Have the 1992 tax laws on deductions changed?

Not dramatically, said Stella Lang of STATS Accounting and Tax Service, at 3588 Hartland Road in the village of Hartland. But there has been a significant change in the rules governing tax deductions for a home office.

A recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling stated that, to take the deduction, a homeowner must spend most of his time and conduct most of his business from the home office.

For example, a salesperson who maintains an office in his home but spends most of his time outside the home on sales calls would no longer be able to claim the deduction, according to Lang.

"The major portion of the work has to be performed at the home," Lang said.

What taxes and interest are deductible?

On schedule A, most taxpayers are aware that they can deduct state and local taxes withheld or paid during 1992, Lang said. But don't forget the taxes you paid in 1992 for the previous year, like the taxes you paid for your 1991 state or local income tax return.

Taxpayers can also include real estate taxes paid for owned property not used for business.

Interest on personal loans was phased out in 1991, except for loans used to acquire investments that pay income, according to Chris Heim of Rolland C. Heim, C.P.A., 223 W. Grand River in Howell. Heim mentioned stocks and bonds as an example, explaining that the interest is deductible up to the amount of earnings of those investments.

In addition, taxpayers can deduct interest on home equity loans, regardless of the purpose for the loan. The interest is deductible if the amount of the loan does not exceed the original basis of the home by $100,000, Heim said.

Starting seeds

GARDENING

Many gardeners enjoy getting a head start on the planting season by starting seedlings of flowers and vegetables indoors. It pays to be an early bird.

There are several advantages to starting seedlings indoors. It allows the self-reliant gardener to be involved with planting while it's still too cold to work outside. Even more important, it allows the gardener the choice of selecting varieties of vegetables best suited to his or her own growing conditions.

You must always garden for the area you live in; most seed packets have the growing zones clearly defined, so read the labels carefully. By perusing garden catalogs for disease-resistant, short-season, low-maintenance or space-saving varieties, the gardener can tailor the planting plan to perfection.

Don't start seedlings indoors too early — bigger isn't necessarily better. Check your plant calendar for when you normally would plant outdoors and count back six to eight weeks. This is the correct timing for starting seeds indoors.

9. What are insecticidal soaps?

A. Insecticidal soaps, as well as soaps in general, are made from the salts of fatty acids. The fatty acids come from the oils and fats found in plants and animals. Most of the Environmental Protection Agency-registered insecticidal soaps available on the market today are composed of potassium salts of several fatty acids, water and alcohol.

There are several popular products on the market: Safer TM Insecticidal Soap and a new one from Ortho, Orthogard R Insecticidal Soap.

Keep in mind that some products mix soaps in combinations with other kinds of pesticides, so it's best to read the label carefully and examine the list of active ingredients before buying and using the product.

A few words of caution: Some plants are sensitive to soaps, so avoid soap sprays on gardenias, bleeding hearts, lantana, nasturtiums, sweet pea, Japanese maples and Easter lilies.

If a treated plant shows signs of wilting within a few hours of treatment, gently

Auctions a popular way to move real estate; view of 1993 not only recognizes it as a growing marketing technique, but has formed a National Real Estate Auction Committee to track and, when possible, capitalize on the trend.

"Real estate professionals are discovering that auctioning is an efficient way to sell property," NAR stated in a recent report.

"The consensus among real estate practitioners who are involved in auctions is that the business is growing steadily," said Delbert Ludlow, chairman of the National Real Estate Auction Committee.

According to an NAR study, about 30 percent of all properties sold at real estate auctions are single-family homes, 24 percent are condominiums or town-homes and 4 percent are multifamily buildings or complexes. Undeveloped land is still the largest segment (37 percent) of properties sold at auctions.

Nationwide, 81,676 properties were offered for sale at auctions in 1991 (the last full year of available data). Of those offered properties, 68,026 were sold.

For a perspective on the growing trend, consider that 22,846 properties were sold at auction during the fourth quarter of 1991, while 3,936 properties were sold during the first quarter of 1990.

"The growing auction trend tells us two key things," Fredericks said. "First, auctions can be a workable tool in marketing real estate. And it shows that there are a lot of qualified people out there with cash in hand who are motivated to buy properties."

"Perhaps auctioning is opening the window of buying opportunities for many people now entering the market."

Fredericks started in the real estate brokerage business 17 years ago, working with the first firm to be associated with Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service.

Q. Do most real estate experts take a positive view of the real estate market in 1993?

A. Yes. Most experts tend to view the year positively. One exception is KPMG Peat Marwick, a national tax service, research and consulting firm.

"Despite recent encouraging signs that the general economy is on its way toward a healthy recovery, the current conditions in the real estate industry are expected to persist for some time," a KPMG report stated. "Though the outlook is certainly more positive than a year ago, the real estate industry is facing a long-term problem that has no short-term solutions."

KPMG is positive about two segments of the 1993 market - real estate investment trusts and the apartment market.

Q. Won't the requirement that appraisers be licensed or certified create a serious shortage of appraisers throughout the country?

A. A National Association of Realtors' study concluded "there will continue to be an adequate supply of qualified appraisers nationwide."

Questions may be used in future columns; personal responses should not be expected. Send inquiries to James M. Woodward, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

rinse with clear water. If you're not sure about the sensitivity of one of your plants, just test the soap spray on a small part before treating the entire plant. Be sure the plants you treat are well watered and healthy.

Plants under stress from drought and other factors may be sensitive to soap sprays, especially if it's above 90 F and in full sun. It's best to spray early in the day during the summer.

Q. A friend of mine told me that a certain variety of annuals could be planted on snow and the seed would nestle down into the soil and germinate as the snow melts in spring. Is this is true, what seeds do you suggest?

A. Yes, it's true. The hardy annuals to sow on snow are bachelor's buttons, sweet peas, larkspur and Shirley poppies. These annuals can be sown now either on top of snow or open ground now. You can also sow these seeds in the fall.

packets of flowers and vegetables before throwing them away. Of course, some seeds can last several years. However leftover seeds should have been stored correctly in a cool, dry place.

You can safely store seeds of hollyhock, gourds, sweet pea, and zinnia for up to five years and still expect at least half of them to flower.

The same results from seeds of marigolds, petunias, alyssums and snapdragons will last stored properly from three to five years. Unfortunately, seeds of foxglove, begonias, pansies and phlox will last only one to two years.

If you don't know how leftover seeds were stored, forget it. Fresh seeds from garden centers and catalogs aren't that "dear" and offer you immediate results.

This half spindle-back side chair was made in the late 19th century.

Original finish would add value to chair

By James G. McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed in a picture of a hand-decorated antique chair that has been in our family for generations. It was redone a few years ago. Please advise as to when it may have been made and what its value is today.

A. This half spindle-back side chair was made in the third quarter of the 19th century. With its original stenciled and hand-painted finish, it would be worth about $200.

Since the decoration has been redone, it would sell for about $175.

Q. The attached mark is on the back of a 9-inch plate. It is heavy china decorated with vividly colored florals. It looks like some Guimper plates I have seen.

I would appreciate your opinion as to the identity of the maker, the vintage and value.

A. Your plate was made about 1800 by Antoine Fouque in Toulouse, France. It is typical of the earthenware made in southern France 200 years ago.

A plate such as you describe might sell from $100 to $200 depending on condition.

Q. This inquiry is about what appears to be a dessert set consisting of a cake plate and six individual dessert plates. On the face of each piece is a border of 22-karat gold; in the center is a picture of three women and a tree. On the back is "Atlas China—Made in the USA."

Would you be able to comment on the company that made this set, its age and approximate value?

A. The Atlas China Co. was a manufacturer of moderately priced dinnerware. Your dessert set would probably sell for $35 to $45.

CAPO-DI-MONTE

"Capo-di-Monte" is a term that is widely used and widely misunderstood.

Capo-di-Monte originally was a soft-paste porcelain made in a factory owned by Charles III, king of Naples. Capo-di-Monte was the name of the king's castle. The mark used was a crown over an "N" from 1740 to 1759.

In 1759, Charles became king of Spain and moved his porcelain works to Madrid. He called this, "Buen Retiro" in honor of his new castle. The mark used was Charles' monogram. He continued operations until 1808.

Meanwhile, back in Naples in 1771, King Ferdinand of Naples revived the original Capo-di-Monte factory and operated it until 1821. The mark he used was a crown over "RF."

In 1834, the factory was taken over by Carlo Ginori and moved to Doccia. The mark of the crown over "N" was reborn.

In subsequent years, this mark was used by many companies, including the Societa Ceramica Richard in Milan and Ernst Bohne & Sons in Rudolstadt, Germany.

The porcelain produced by Charles III and King Ferdinand was made for royal use. Today, most of these early pieces are found in museums. What little appears on today's market sells in the $2,000 to $25,000 range.

Twentieth century Capo-di-Monte porcelain usually sells for less than $100 to $500 or $600.

loan in two instances—when they acquire the home or when they make a major improvement—for example, adding a $40,000 addition. The proration of taxes is another deductible closing cost, Heim said.

Other fees and charges cannot be deducted in the year of purchase, but can be added to the basis of the home. The homeowner uses the basis to calculate gain or loss on sale when the home is sold.

Can home improvements be deducted?

Home improvements are not deductible, Heim said. But, just like some closing costs, homeowners can add these costs to the basis of their home. Improvements must be "real" improvements, however, like landscaping, adding a paved driveway, wallpapering or adding blinds that will stay with the home. Costs for painting, carpeting and other general maintenance are not eligible.

Heim said there are exceptions: When a new owner must recarpent the entire home at the time of purchase, the IRS considers this to be part of the home's acquisition cost.

What type of receipts should be saved?

The rule of thumb regarding receipts: Be a saver. "Maintain receipts for any real improvements on your home, for the life of the home," Heim advised, "for work inside and out."

Did you refinance your mortgage in 1992?

Many homeowners went back to the banks this year to take advantage of lower interest rates. According to Susan Daugherty of Advantage Tax Services, 9880 E. Grand River Ave. in Brighton, taxpayers can deduct only a portion of the points paid on the new loan.

For example, if the homeowner paid $2,000 in points and refinanced for 15 years, they must divide the dollars by the years to calculate their annual deduction. In addition, if the owner refinanced in November, only a two-month portion of that annual deduction may be taken in the first year, Daugherty said.

Other fees, although not deductible, may be added to the basis of the property. Keep copies of the refinancing papers, Daugherty said.

If you had enough equity in the home, you may have received a check when you refinanced. It's not earned income, Daugherty said. You will pay taxes on any gains when you sell your home, however.

(Advantage Tax Services is run by Daugherty and partners Susan Green and Geraldine Sovran.)

What about medical and dental expenses?

It's an area to review, the accountants said, but reaching 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income is difficult for most taxpayers. For state taxes, however, Daugherty said that taxpayers can get a state property tax credit for any insurance premiums they paid. This does not refer to insurance deductibles paid during the year.

What about other state tax breaks for homeowners?

The other two tax credits apply only to low-income homeowners. For the state home heating credit, taxpayers receive vouchers to help pay their heating bills. The prescription drug credit—also for low-income taxpayers—is paid from a state fund.

A stitch in the mall saves time at this store

If you're like most people who need their clothes altered, you probably waited too long to have it done.

That pair of pants that needed to be hemmed a week ago would be perfect for that party you have to go to tomorrow. And where is Mom when you need her?

The fact of the matter is, you don't (Sorry, Mom). A new business called Tailor, Needle & Thread has opened in the Twelve Oaks Mall, and promises simple alterations in as little as two hours.

"Very often people are in a hurry," said Katie Roxy who, along with Amy Skolze, manages the store. "But that's been our concept from the beginning, to have same-day service. We always have someone here to do the work, and it's all done on the premises. It's not sent out."

In fact, the Tailor, Needle & Thread store at Twelve Oaks was the very first store in a national chain, based in Chicago, that now includes six stores. All of them offer speedy alterations, and are located in large malls, for the benefit of customers.

You drop off what needs to be mended, Roxy said, then go shopping. When you're done, so are your alterations.

Mall locations also help bring referrals from customers who purchase clothes that need to be taken in here and let out there for a perfect fit.

"We do a lot of referrals from the stores," said Roxy. "They can send people down here, the customer can go have a cup of coffee, and they can come pick the garment up."

There's practically no limitation on the alterations and repairs that Tailor, Needle & Thread can do. At any one time, there are from two to five staffers working at the in-store sewing stations, and each has his or her own specialty.

"I can't think of anything that we can't do," Roxy said. "We have different people who do a lot of different kinds of things."

Roxy said the typical customer is simply someone in a hurry who needs alterations. It can be as involved as taking out the seat in a pair of pants, or as simple as sewing on a button.

"We do about 50-50 men's and ladies' clothes," said Roxy. "You'd be surprised at the number of people who don't know how to do that kind of thing anymore. But it's a time thing for people, too. You just don't have time anymore."

Surprisingly, after less than a year in business Roxy has found that she's acquired some regular customers. The store opened in April of 1992.

"Business has been good and we've been real pleased," she said. "We have an awful lot of people who've tried us once and then cleaned out their closets. They bring us stuff they haven't worn in a while and needs a little work."

Customers have been pleasant to deal with too, Roxy has found.

"In the service business if you take good care of your customers, they're happy," Roxy said.

Tailor, Needle & Thread is open seven days a week during all of the mall hours. For more information, call 347-7840.

The Tailor, Needle & Thread chain operates a quick alterations shop in the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

Business Briefs

JOSEPH F. CLARK, a Northville resident, has been named vice president of business and finance at University of Detroit Mercy. The announcement was made by University President Maureen A. Fay.

In his new position, Clark will be responsible for financial affairs, human resources, facilities and security.

Prior to the appointment, Clark had held the position on an interim basis. He previously had a 29-year career in management with Ford Motor Company.

Clark serves as chairman of the Board of Trustees at Great Lakes Christian College.

TRACY POLASEK of South Lyon has been selected as marketing coordinator for McPherson Hospital in Howell, an operating unit of Catherine McAuley Health System (CMHS).

"Since the merger with CMHS in 1991, McPherson Hospital and the system have actively pursued changes that will assist us in continually improving the quality of care we provide to Livingston County residents," said Dr. Robert Carbeck, chief executive officer for the hospital. "Tracy is certainly a valued and welcome addition to the McPherson family."

Prior to joining CMHS, Polasek was a marketing and public relations consultant for several different companies. Polasek also has served as a copywriter for the Society of Manufacturing Engineers, was a marketing program coordinator for Michigan National Corp., coordinated advertising and public relations for SelectCare and served as a programming assistant for the University of Michigan.

Polasek received a master's of business administration from Michigan State University and her bachelor's degree in communication and psychology from the University of Michigan. She is a member of the Direct Marketing Association of Detroit.

McPherson Hospital is a unit of Catherine McAuley Health System, a not-for-profit health care provider based in Ann Arbor.

ENTERTAINMENT CONSULTANTS OF AMERICA INC. has moved into larger facilities located in the Metro West Industrial Park's Spinnaker Center.

Entertainment Consultants of America Inc. is the production company for the Mr. Wizard Show shown on cable television's Nickelodeon channel. The program, geared for children in the elementary and junior high school age range, features educational concepts about the laws of nature and scientific principles.

Mr. Richard has reached thousands of students for the last three generations by visiting schools across the United States. Entertainment Consultants has been producing the show for television audiences for the last 10 years.

The Metro West Industrial Park, located in Plymouth Township, is developed and managed by the R.A. DeMattia Company.

SUSAN SCHMELZER of Novi was promoted to Senior Director of Credit Union Development for the Michigan Credit Union League (MCUL), the primary trade association representing credit unions in Michigan. The MCUL recently changed its organizational and service delivery structure to meet Michigan credit unions' foremost service expectations faster, better and most effectively.

Schmelzer has been assigned increased organizational and strategic responsibilities as Senior Director of Credit Union Development. In her post, she works with the Michigan Congressional Delegation, federal regulators, and credit unions on legislative and regulatory issues which impact credit unions. Schmelzer is also responsible for overall direction of the education and research and information areas within MCUL.

Prior to joining the MCUL in 1990 as Director of Congressional Issues, Schmelzer worked for 10 years in various positions at the Credit Union National Association and Affiliates, the principal trade association for credit unions in the U.S. which is headquartered in Madison, Wis. She has also worked for the Wisconsin Court of Appeals and the Majority Leader of Wisconsin State Senate.

JAMES G. DAVIS, president of Davis Auto Care in Northville was recently honored by the Automotive Service Association of Michigan. He was the recipient of the "Albert Valle Distinguished Service Award" for 1992. Davis received his award at the Annual Awards Dinner in December.

This award is presented to the person in the Automotive Service Association of Michigan who has done the most during the year to advance the automotive service industry. Davis, who is also the Mechanical Division Director of the ASA, was chosen for this honor from among over 700 members.

Jim and his wife, Denise, reside in Northville and have operated their automotive service business since 1979. The facility has expanded several times, now comprising 15 repair bays in their location on Doherty Drive in the Northville Industrial Park. Jim is also a past president of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

been contracted by Mercy International Health Services of Farmington to produce a video documentary to increase awareness of the need for global healthcare for the poor.

Norm Frankell, executive producer for VIP Inc. will accompany MIHS staff to the Marshall Islands in the Pacific and to the Eastern African countries of Zimbabwe and Tanzania.

Primary focus of the video will document MIHS' role in: managed care for nuclear testing exposure in the Marshall Islands; staff training, the AIDS epidemic, and the need for improved hospitals in Tanzania; and assistance for hospitals to become locally sustained in Zimbabwe.

Other areas of focus will include long term healthcare needs in Eastern Europe, Australia, Saudi Arabia and many Pacific Rim areas. The video program will take six to nine months to complete.

TOWN CENTER GALLERY'S opening in Novi was more than a business move for owners Larry and Judy Campine—it was the culmination of a lifelong love of art. The Campines fell in love with art—and each other—at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit in the late 1960s. Both went on to successful careers in commercial art, and have been collecting originals and prints ever since.

Town Center Gallery has prints, drawings, and paintings in a wide range of styles. They have the most popular limited editions, museum prints, and originals by local artists. The gallery's unique features include a design area, with professional design service, an extensive publishers catalogue library, creative matting, and a complete in-house framing production service.

"We enjoy what we are doing," Judy says. "We sometimes are afraid if collectors knew how much fun we have they wouldn't take us seriously." The Campines, however, take themselves and their role very seriously. Larry adds that individual care goes into the presentation of the art. Phyllis Wilson, a certified professional framer, was recruited as manager, to insure the proper mounting and framing of investment art.

Town Center Gallery is located near I-96 and Novi Road at 43267 Crescent Blvd., in the Novi Town Center, phone 380-0470. Hours are Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m.

ALL POINTS RELOCATION SERVICE INC., a national real estate network, announced that the firm of J.A. Delaney & Co. Realtors has joined All Points Relocation Service to represent Northville.

The All Points affiliate enables J.A. Delaney & Co. Realtors, which is headed by Jerome A. Delaney, to provide total relocation service to families moving virtually anywhere. The All Points network consists of some 400 independent real estate companies with 1,000 offices and nearly 1,000 sales agents. There are affiliates throughout the United States and Canada. All Points will celebrate its 25th anniversary in 1993.

Through All Points, J.A. Delaney & Co. Realtors can assist the transferee in selling the present home but also in finding a home at the destination. In addition, the broker can arrange air transportation, make hotel reservations for the family, assist with household moving arrangements if necessary, and provide complete information on the new community.

"All Points seeks member companies which offer the most complete real estate service available in each of our service areas," commented ARPS Executive Vice President Pam O'Connor. "J.A. Delaney & Co. Realtors meets our high standards and, with the additional relocation, sales training and consumer services now available to the firm through All Points, their effectiveness in servicing the Northville and surrounding areas home buying public will be enhanced even further."

Anyone desiring more information about the firm's increased services should contact Karen Woodruff, relocation coordinator, at 349-6200.

THOMAS WEISHEIT JR. of Milford has been honored with a Prudential Community Champions Award to provide $2,500 to the Palmer Drug Abuse Program of Southeast Michigan.

Weisheit is a Prudential sales representative with an office at 155 E. Commerce, Milford. He has been a volunteer with the Palmer Drug Abuse Program of Southeast Michigan for eight years.

The Prudential began its Community Champions Awards program in 1992 to honor active employees, retirees and agents for outstanding volunteer community service. In 1992, the program offered more than 150 grant awards totalling $520,000 to eligible organizations nationwide.

The level of Prudential Community Champions Awards ranged from $2,500 to $10,000 for local projects. Grant selections are made by representatives of the Prudential Foundation.

Since joining The Prudential in 1970, Weisheit has received many honors for sales and service leadership. The son of Thomas Weisheit of White Lake, he is a graduate of Highland Park High School and Michigan State University.

Knowing miscellaneous deductions can cut tax bill

Deducting miscellaneous expenses has become more difficult in the last few years. Most miscellaneous itemized deductions are deductible only to the extent that the total exceeds 2 percent of your adjusted gross income. Passing the 2 percent floor can be difficult, says the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, but it is not impossible. Here are some tips on how to maximize your miscellaneous deductions.

EMPLOYEE BUSINESS EXPENSES

Business expenses are deductible only if you pay them out of your own pocket—not if you are reimbursed. Following are some of the more common employee business expenses:

- Travel and lodging. When business takes you away from home, you may deduct 100 percent of your allowable expenses—including the cost of traveling to the location and your lodging expenses.

- Meals and entertainment. The law allows 80 percent deduction for business-related meals and entertainment expenses as long as you discuss business during or immediately before or after the meal or entertainment event.

- Subscriptions. The cost of subscriptions to job-related publications and trade journals is generally deductible.

- Job-hunting expenses. In order to deduct job-hunting expenses, you must be looking for a job in the same line of work in which you are now involved. If you qualify, you may deduct such expenses as the cost of career counseling, employment agency fees, travel to and from interviews, phone calls, postage and the cost of having your resume prepared.

- Business gifts. If you purchase a gift for a client or your secretary, you can deduct the cost of your kindness. However, there is a $25 limit on how much you can deduct for gifts on any one person in a year.

- Employment-related education. To deduct educational expenses, you must meet one of the two requirements. The courses you take must help you maintain or improve your present work skills or your education must be required by either your employer or by law paid to an attorney, accountant or other agent for representing you in an audit, examination or hearing involving any tax matter.

- Tax planning books, publications and videotapes.

- Phone calls to the IRS.

For more detailed information on the types of deductions you may be overlooking, you should contact your CPA.

INVESTMENT EXPENSES

You may also be able to deduct some of the costs that are associated with investments that produce taxable income.

Safe deposit box rentals. If you use your safety deposit box to hold stocks, bonds or other investments, you may deduct the annual rental cost.

TAX-RELATED DEDUCTIONS

Tax-related deductions may include expenses associated with federal, state, gift, estate, property or other tax categories.

RETURN PREPARATION FEES

- Representation fees. You may deduct fees to keep your salary, position or job.

- Work clothes and uniforms. To qualify for a deduction, the clothes you purchase must be required by your employer and not be suitable for ordinary or everyday wear. Clothing that protects workers from injury on the job—such as safety shoes, hard hats and work gloves—also qualifies.

INVESTMENT ADVISOR AND MANAGEMENT FEES

- Subscriptions. You may deduct the cost of magazines and other publications you purchase for investment advice.

- Legal fees. You can deduct attorney expenses as long as the lawyer's advice relates to producing or protecting income.

- Transportation and travel. The cost of travel to look after investments or to confer with your attorney, accountant or investment counsel qualifies for a deduction.

Downpayment remains big hurdle to home ownership

A weak general economy, lower mortgage rates and a slimmer, more efficient housing industry all have combined to ease the average American's house-buying burden.

Those who bought houses in 1991 paid less per month, on average, than their counterparts in 1990, while monthly incomes rose. The result was a smaller share of income required for homebuying.

The building industry's greater emphasis on affordable houses kept the average price of conventionally financed new houses within 1 percent of the year before.

These are some of the findings of U.S. Housing Markets in its annual survey of the costs of housing in America. U.S. Housing Markets is a research publication of Lomas Mortgage USA, a Dallas financial firm.

"When figures come in for 1992, we will see a continuation of these trends," said Michael E. Patrick, president of Lomas Mortgage USA. "U.S. housing has indeed become more affordable—for those who can clear the downpayment hurdle. The initial outlay in the homebuying process continues to rise, even as monthly payments become easier."

U.S. Housing Markets reported that the average buyer in the Detroit-Ann Arbor area in 1991 (including both new houses and resales) needed 23 percent of income to meet the monthly payments. That was down a single percentage point from 1989.

The buyer's initial outlay, including customary closing costs, was up $120, from $25,700 in 1990 to $25,820 in 1991. This coincided with the average house price that was up slightly in 1991 when the average price was $118,500. In 1990, it was $116,700.

Despite the bump in price of houses, the average monthly payment in the Detroit-Ann Arbor market was reduced in 1991 to $1,080, down from $1,120 in 1990. Monthly income rose to $4,650 in 1991 from $4,580 in 1990.

Figures were based on a 20-percent-down, 30-year fixed rate conventional mortgage.

Nationally, prospective buyers discovered that entry to the new home market, in 1991, relative to 1990, was much easier. The average up-front money requirements were less, and the monthly payment load was a bit lower than the year before. Financial requirements for the average new home purchaser loosened a little more than for resale shoppers so that the economic gap between new and existing home deals narrowed slightly in 1991.

The report said the slide in new house sales since the mid-1980s, overlaid with last year's general economic weakness, put considerable downward pressure on builder profit margins and prices. The average new home financed with a conventional mortgage sold for $155,200 last year, compared to $154,100 the year before. That represented a rise of less than 1 percent.

The U.S. homebuyer's initial out-of-pocket expenditure on the average new house deal actually declined by a few dollars in 1991. For a 20-percent-down purchase of the average new home, the initial outlay (including most customary closing fees) dipped to $33,710—down from $160 the year before.

The required downpayment amount rose slightly, as the average new home sales price increased. But a reduction in average lender fees (excluding appraisal charges and options such as credit life insurance) more than made up the difference.

Because of a decline in the fixed rate mortgage contract interest rate, the average monthly payment on a new house purchased in 1991 went down by $50 from the comparable figure the year before. A new homebuyer making the average deal in 1991 saw a monthly mortgage payment of $1,240 compared to $1,290 for a similar new homebuyer in 1990.

General Information

BUILDING HOURS

Monday through Friday5:45 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.
 Saturday7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
 Sunday7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

GUEST FEES: Adults $6 Youth (under 18) $3. The same person may be brought as a guest up to three times in one year. Only members of this Y may bring guests. No guests allowed during open basketball.

NURSERY: For children 6 months to 6 years old. Monday-Friday, 8:30-3:00 p.m. while parent is in the facility. Full Building and Tennis Members of Livonia Y use this drop-in service free! Program Members pay $2/hour. Room limits are enforced.

THE LIVONIA Y RESERVES THE RIGHT TO CANCEL ANY CLASS THAT DOES NOT MEET A MINIMUM ENROLLMENT:

Classes cancelled by the Y will be fully refunded. Allow three weeks for a check to arrive. There will be no refund or credit issued for any class dropped except for medical reasons. A doctor's note must be presented within 48 hours of the missed class. A credit slip for the pro-rated amount or a refund check minus a $5 service charge will be issued.

No refunds or credits will be issued due to class absence or classes cancelled because of severe weather or other conditions.

WEATHER CLOSINGS: The Livonia Y will cancel classes and leagues whenever the Livonia Public Schools close due to weather conditions. We will attempt to keep the building open for general use by members. Tennis permanent court time will be held as long as the building remains open.

TENNIS RESERVATIONS: Members only can reserve court time 1 week in advance. Court fees must be paid on day of reservation BEFORE using the court. Court fees are not refundable.

TENNIS CANCELLATIONS: If you must cancel a reservation, please notify us at least 8 hours prior to your reserved court time, or you will be responsible for paying the court fees.

MEMBERSHIP FEES ARE NOT REFUNDABLE

- Senior Citizens are eligible for reduced rate. Please call for details.
- Discounted memberships are not eligible for promotional benefits.
- Any member who is terminated for 30 days or more will be subject to the 1st year rate when rejoining (Lifetime Capital Members not included).
- Orientation required for Youth 15-17 to use Free Weight Room.

Any person with a disability who wishes to participate at the Livonia Y may call the Executive Director's Office for further information.

"The Mission of the YMCA is to provide quality programs and activities which contribute to the development of Christian ideals and values. The YMCA strives to enhance the lives of individuals in the community that we serve. If you need financial assistance to be a YMCA participant, please contact the Executive Director."

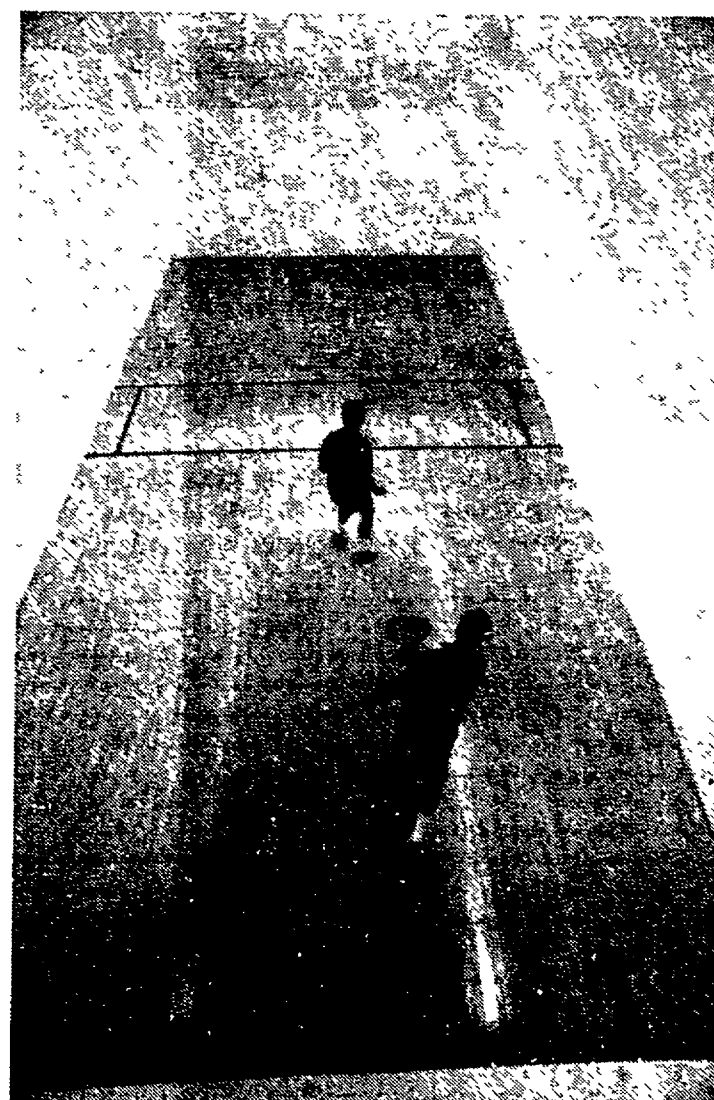

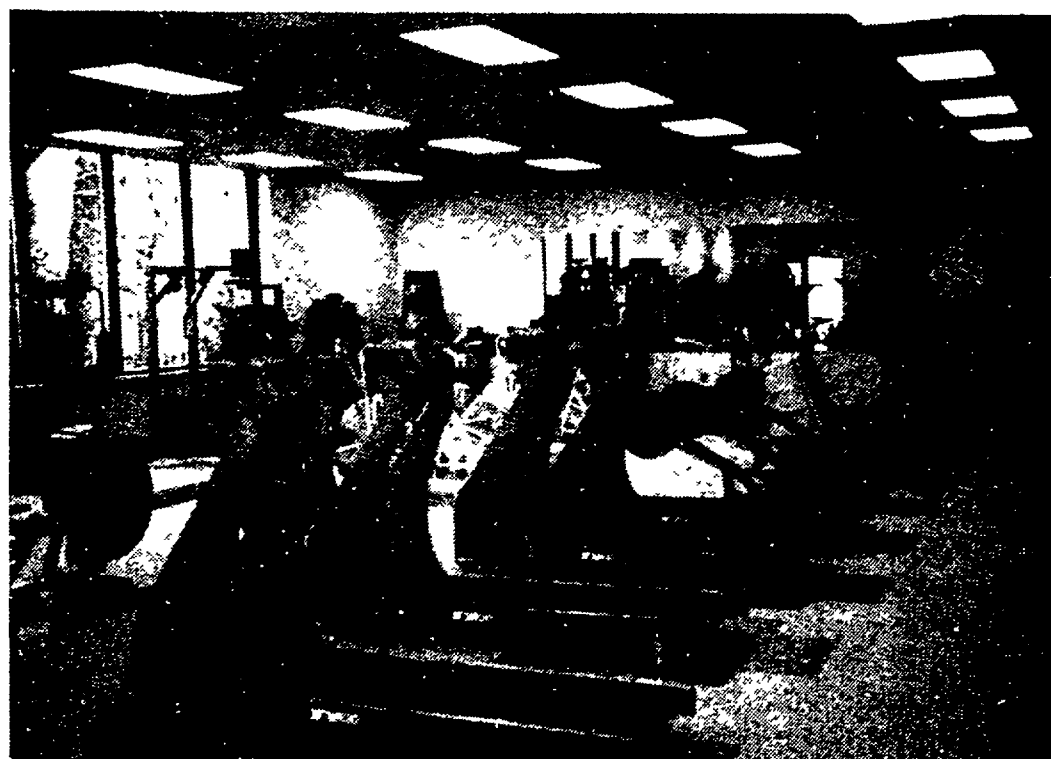

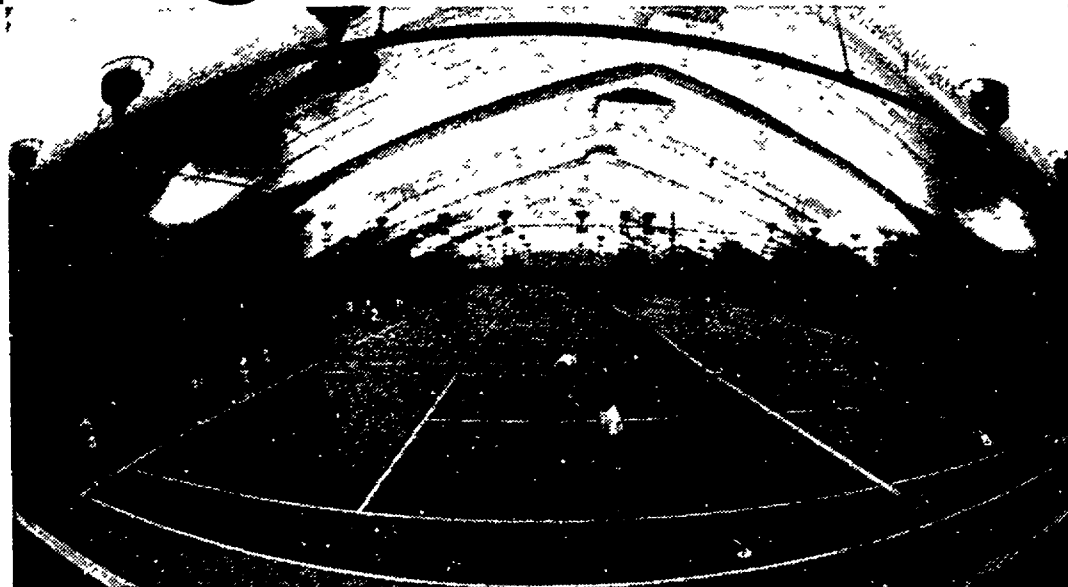

ATTENTION:

NON-MEMBERS:

GOOD NEWS! If in the past year you have participated in a YMCA program as a NON-MEMBER, you now have the opportunity to become a member of the Livonia Area YMCA. The YMCA requires all non-members to join our PROGRAM MEMBER classification. For a small fee of $10 per person, you will be entitled to register for all YMCA programs and you will also receive regular mailings to be kept up to date on YMCA activities. ALL PROGRAM MEMBERS will receive a membership card that will expire on August 31, 1993.

PROGRAM MEMBERSHIP cards can be purchased during the normal registration period. Our receptionist will be happy to explain the benefits of becoming a member of the YMCA.

YOUTH TENNIS CLASSES

TENNIS FOR TOTS - These classes are designed to introduce the 4-7 year old to the basics of tennis. Drills and fun games have been developed to improve a child's balance, muscle control, hand/eye coordination and their tennis skills. The YMCA will provide racquets for tots who do not have their own.

- TOTS I - Introduction to the court and racquet. Stationary forehands are emphasized at this level.
- TOTS II - At this level the child is introduced to hitting the ball on the move. The backhand is presented at this level.
- TOTS III - SUPER TOTS - We will further develop the forehand and backhand strokes. The basic strokes of tennis are developed to prepare them for the Junior Beginner programs.

PRE JUNIOR BEGINNER I - Must have completed through Super Tots and/or have PRO'S PERMISSION. Ages 6-7 years.

JUNIOR BEGINNER - The Livonia Family YMCA conducts a series of three class sessions for beginning junior players, ages 8 through 14 years of age who have had little or no tennis experience. We wish to teach the fundamentals in a relaxed, yet challenging atmosphere. At the completion of the series of classes each student will have been taught to:

- Hit a forehand, backhand and serve.
- Understand the court terminology.
- Know how to keep score.
- Handle themselves with proper court etiquette.

JR. BEGINNER I - Beginners who have had no formal lessons should begin at this level. Work on grip, stance and strokes. Complete coverage of rules and scoring.

JR. BEGINNER II - We further develop skills attained in Beginner I. Footwork, consistency and placement of shots will be emphasized.

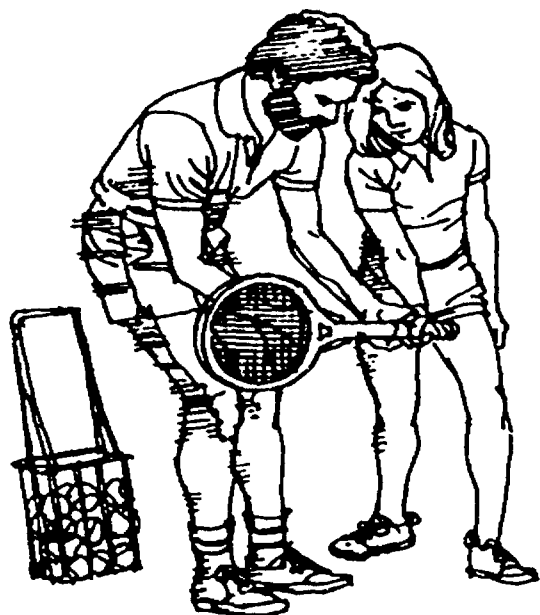

JR. BEGINNER III - Continued development of forehand, backhand and serve. Introduction to the volley.

JUNIOR INTERMEDIATE - These levels are designed for the child who has completed the Junior Beginner series. This level is a prerequisite to advance to the Junior Excellence program. At the completion of the Junior Intermediate classes, each student will have been taught:

- Good stroke execution with forehand, backhand, serve.
- Ability to place the ball and rally consistently.
- Introduction to the overhead.
- An understanding of singles and doubles strategy.

JR. INTERMEDIATE - The basic fundamentals are reviewed and refined with concentration on consistency and control.

JR. EXCELLENCE PREP - Work on control, placement and strategy. Many game situation drills are used. Singles and doubles strategies of the game are emphasized.

JUNIOR EXCELLENCE

JUNIOR EXCELLENCE - The Junior Excellence program is tailored for the young adult, who is serious about their tennis game. Completion of the Junior Intermediate program or its equivalent is a must. Junior Excellence is for the player who desires to play at the high school level or beyond. An optional six week, 1-1/2 hour, weekend competitive league is available for those interested. Program objectives of the Excellence Program include:

- Ability to hit ground strokes consistently with depth.
- Improve footwork.
- Development of a spin serve.
- Strenuous conditioning program, with emphasis on quickness, speed, and improved flexibility.
- Stroke production drills that give you confidence in your ability.

JR. EXCELLENCE I/II - For students who have completed Junior Intermediate lessons. Players work with others of the same ability, but are encouraged to develop and advance through a no nonsense approach to serious training.

ADVANCED JR. EXCELLENCE - For the player who has completed Jr. Excellence I and II.

SUPER JR. EXCELLENCE - For the player who has completed Advanced Excellence.

INCREDIBLE I JR. EXCELLENCE - Pro's permission is required. Tournament and High School players.

INCREDIBLE II JR. EXCELLENCE - Pro's permission is required. High powered workout for the most advanced High School tennis player. This level includes coordinating stroke production consistency with physical and mental conditioning.

ADULT TENNIS CLASSES

ADULT BEGINNER - This series of three levels is for the person who is just beginning to play or simply needs a refresher course. Forehand, backhand and serve are the fundamentals that are stressed.

ADULT BEGINNER I - For players new to the game who have had no formal instruction.

ADULT BEGINNER II - This level will further develop skills attained in Beginner I. Emphasis on proper stroke technique, footwork consistency, and ball placement. Introduction of the volley.

ADULT BEGINNER III - Emphasis on consistency and placement, along with singles and double positioning.

ADULT ADVANCED - Designed for the intermediate or advanced player. A high powered workout that will sharpen your game. Game situation drills and plenty of movement are features of this series of lessons.

INTERMEDIATE FOREHAND, BACKHAND, SERVE (FBS) - Work on control and placement of shots, plus movement and positioning.

INTERMEDIATE VOLLEY, LOB, OVERHEAD (VLOH) - Emphasis on the net game and development of game strategy.

PRO SPECIAL - Classes arranged according to level. Smaller class size for the serious player. Class is designed to develop the total game. Drill point play situations and a great workout will be emphasized to help you maximize your potential.

ATTACKING TENNIS - Concentration on attacking aspects of tennis including serve and volley, approach shots and aggressive net play.

FOUR ON ONE - Four people and the Pro.

YOUTH SWIMMING

PRE-SCHOOL

SHRIMP & KIPPER (6 months to walking)

This is an introductory class designed to encourage the parent and child to enjoy themselves while learning about the water and aquatic safety. The games that are played will relate to future classes and help your child learn proper body positioning in the water. Cloth diapers and tight fitting plastic pants required. 1 child per parent.

INIA/PERCH (walking to 3 years)

This level further encourages the parent and child to explore the aquatic environment and increase propulsion skills such as kick movements and upper body control. Child will learn breath control in a fun atmosphere.

LITTLE SQUIRTS (30-36 months)

A class designed for the child who is unsure of their swimming skills but no longer needs a parent in the water. Each child is given the time to explore its new environment and build friendships with other children in the class. The gym portion of the class pays particular attention to large motor skills such as climbing and rolling.

PIKE (3-6 years)

Preschoolers who need help with floating, kicking and other basic swimming skills. All children in this class are taught the very basics of swimming. The gym will involve large motor skills such as walking on a pre-school balance beam, hopping, skipping and forward rolls. Group games are also introduced.

EELS (3-6 years)

The goal of this class is to take a child who is able to swim one width of the pool with support from flotation device. The major part of the class will be spent on rotary breathing with work on a sitting dive and basic swimming safety skills. The gym will consist of group games and different types of gym equipment. The children will be encouraged to develop upper body strength and coordination.

RAYS (3-6 years)

This class is for advanced pre-schoolers who must be able to swim the width of the pool with rotary breathing. We will work on endurance, diving from the side of the pool, treading water and pool games. In the gym the children will work toward independence on the equipment in the gym, although they will still be working on their basic locomotor skills.

STARFISH (3-6 years)

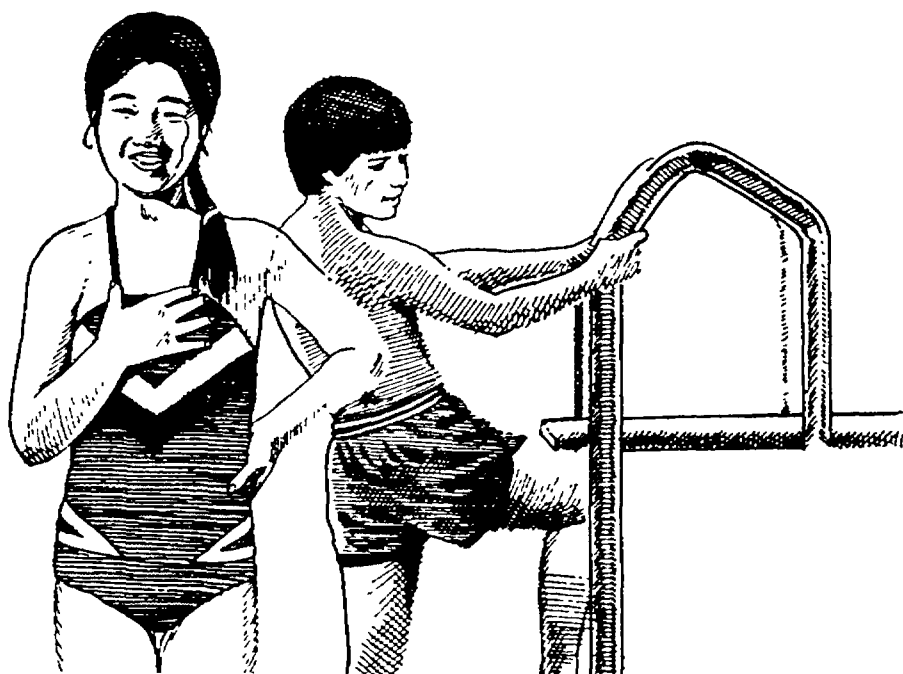

Our Starfish class is for those who need one more class before they move on to the progressive level. This class will cover personal safety and growth, water sports and games, stroke development and basic rescue techniques. This promises to be a fun and exciting class.

SCHOOL-AGE

BLUE RACER SWIMMING

Competitive Swim Team
Boys and Girls • Ages 6-18 years

The Blue Racers is a competitive swim team. Our team encourages broad participation rather than fine-tuning for the elite athlete. Teaching the fundamental skills, encouraging lifetime involvement in physical activity, strengthening the values of fitness, health, self-respect and respect for others are central themes in the YMCA sports philosophy.

PRIVATE SWIM LESSONS - For All Ages 6 yrs and up

Geared to the individual needs of participant. All lessons are scheduled by the Aquatic Director. You must schedule and pay for a set of 4 (four) lessons. NO MAKE-UP LESSONS will be scheduled unless a 24 hour notice is given.
FEE: $15 per half hour PAYABLE 48 HOURS BEFORE 1ST LESSON.

POLLIWOG EXPRESS

This class is unique to our Y and is designed for the child who have been in Polliwog two or more times. In this class your child will practice those skills that are needed to progress into Guppy. Endurance is the main focus of Polliwog Express.

POLLIWOG EXPRESS

This class is unique to our Y and is designed for the child who have been in Polliwog two or more times. In this class your child will practice those skills that are needed to progress into Guppy. Endurance is the main focus of Polliwog Express.

GUPPY

A class for your child to develop self-confidence and increase swimming ability without help from floats or instructors. Rotary breathing and front crawl are the main areas emphasized in this class.

GUPPY BUBBLER

Like the Polliwog Express class, the Guppy Bubblers are unique to the Livonia Y. Guppy Bubblers will spend the majority of their time in class working on their Rotary Breathing.

MINNOW

Minnow is the first formal time that your child will work on back crawl. Rotary breathing and endurance become more important in this class. In order to enroll in this class, the child should be able to swim one length of our pool with rotary breathing. Self help skills and mouth to mouth resuscitation will be covered in this class.

FISH

In our Fish class the swimmers will work on breaststroke, backstroke and learn how to do the dolphin kick. Standing dives and personal survival skills become more important in this class.

FLYING FISH

In our Flying Fish class the swimmers will spend more time practicing those strokes they already have learned from earlier classes. The butterfly stroke is introduced at this level. Each swimmer will be challenged mentally and physically as they learn about lifetime fitness habits.

SHARK

Shark is the highest level at the Livonia YMCA. We will teach each child how to do flip turns, surface dives, and work on the side stroke.

TOT GYM

This class is fun for the child up to 3 years old. Parents are involved in this class that uses games and activities to work on large muscle groups and hand-eye coordination. Let your child explore up, down and around on mats and obstacle courses. Work with them to build confidence and enjoy themselves.

ADVANCED TOT GYM

Is your child not quite ready to leave your side? That's okay, we have a class for your three and four year old that you can be actively involved with! We have all the fun and do all the activities of a regular Tot Gym class but this one's for three and four year olds. Check it out!

TINY TUMBLERS

Get your little ones involved! This class is especially designed for three and four year olds. Creative games using the parachute and balls, imagination practice with animals and sounds, refining tumbling work on the mats and balance beam introduction are all part of this class. Get your kids off to a great start with Tiny Tumblers.

PRE-SCHOOL GYMNASTICS

Don't stop with Tiny Tumblers! Keep your children growing and learning with our Pre-School Gym program. We'll progress to more work on the mats and beams to other gymnastics apparatus such as the uneven bars and rings. Motor skills, and fine tuning of coordination and balance will help your child be more successful in everyday tasks and concentration. Plus – they'll have fun!

PRE-SCHOOL GYMNASTICS ADVANCED

Has your child progressed from Pre-School Gym, but is not quite ready for beginner gymnastics? We have the perfect class for them! This class gives your child a little extra time to master skills taught in the Pre-School Program, but also begins to introduce them to the discipline and new skills they will be learning in beginner gym. Also gives your child extra time to socially acclimate to a class structure.

PRE-SCHOOL BALLET (Ages 3-6)

An exciting introduction for your child into the world of ballet. Learning the basic steps and discipline of ballet encourages your child's interest, along with providing fun.

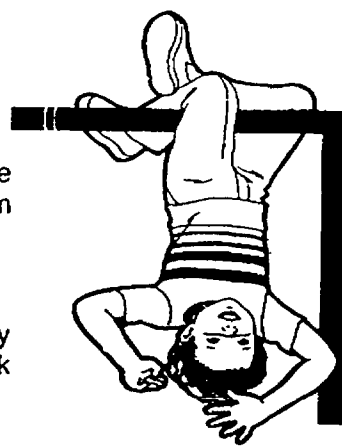

SPORTS SAMPLER

This is a great class for the pre-school child to be introduced to a variety of sports: T-ball, basketball, hockey and soccer!

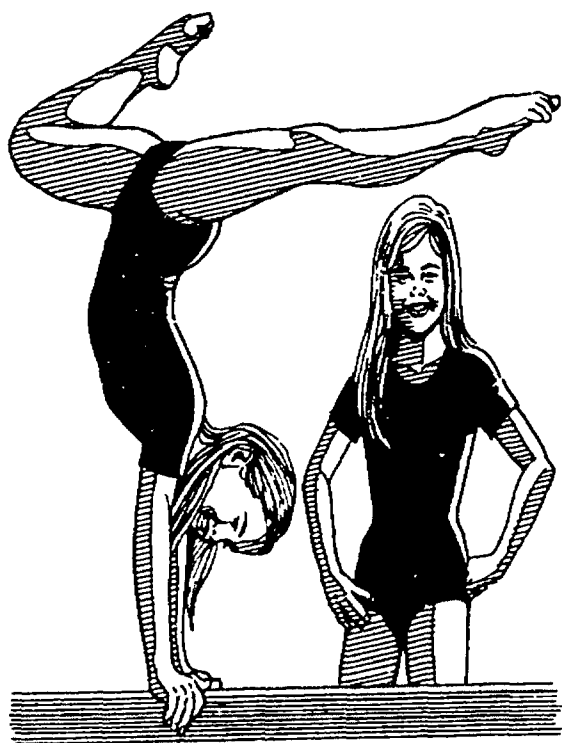

PRE-SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Class is for all future superstars to learn the basics of basketball in a fun way. We will use a small basketball and low baskets to help pre-schoolers with the basics.

PRE-SCHOOL T-BALL A class for the young athlete to learn the basics of throwing, catching, base running and more.

GYM CLASSES

SCHOOL-AGE

BEGINNER GYMNASTICS

No experience necessary! Now is your chance to get involved in this sport. Conditioning and exposure to all competitive apparatus (beam, uneven bars, tumbling skills). You'll learn safety principles of gymnastics and how to do some basic tricks on the bars and beam. Check it out!

LEVEL I & II INTERMEDIATE GYMNASTICS

Have you passed the skills of Beginner Gymnastics? Are you ready for the next level? Progress in your program by taking Level I & II. Learn more tricks on the apparatus, become better conditioned, improve your technique and start preparing yourself to be a member of the team!

LEVEL III & IV ADVANCED GYMNASTICS

Fine tune all of your gymnastics skills at this level. The next step is the team!

TWISTERS GYMNASTICS TEAM

You've made it! Competitive gymnastics for the experienced/advanced female gymnast. Must try out or be recommended by one of our coaching staff. BOOSTER CLUB for parents. Home and away meets with other Ys during the season!

BASKETBALL CLASS

This coed class is a great way to get introduced to the game of basketball. Learn the basics of ball handling, defense, shooting, strategy and playing the game! Non-competitive, skill building class.

FLOOR HOCKEY

A fast-paced, exciting game. Everyone is playing! Learn the game by practicing stick handling, shooting and defense. Play real games during class. Skill building and progressive.

YOUTH VOLLEYBALL (co-ed) NEW!!

A class designed to instruct youth in the basic skills of Volleyball bumping, setting and spiking. Ages 9-12 years.

All Classes Follow USGF Protocol and Are Taught by Certified Instructors

F.A.S.T. Fitness Activity for Sport Training

Come to the Y after school for a great time! Organized games, fitness activities, skill building in sports are all part of the program. You'll also get to swim (lessons and free time). Join us this year!

TEEN WEIGHT TRAINING

A great class offered to kids 14-17 years. Proper techniques of weight training will be emphasized with free weights and Pyramid and Nautilus equipment in the Wellness Center. Basic principles and personal training programs will be devised. A great way to get in shape!

See Page 15 for Days and Times.

ADULT CLASSES

BEGINNER FITNESS

Been out of fitness for a while? Never exercised before? Enjoy a less intense workout? This class is for you! Come join us to exercise and socialize with people at your fitness level.

CONTINUING FITNESS

Get Fit, Stay Fit! Classes are designed to increase cardiovascular endurance, strengthen muscles and improve flexibility. Appropriate for the new exerciser in good shape or for those who just want to maintain their level of fitness.

SUPER FIT

Are you an overachiever? An intense person? Love to sweat? Super Fit is a high level, choreographed, 1-1/2 hour class featuring cardiovascular conditioning, muscular strength and flexibility exercises. Circuit training and other exercises will be introduced to keep you challenged. Spri Rubber Band Work-out included.

HIGH ENERGY, LOW IMPACT AEROBICS

Enjoy this Saturday morning class where low impact is the focus! You'll get a great cardiovascular workout while keeping impact with the floor to a minimum. Appropriate for any fitness level.

STEP AEROBICS

It's new, it's exciting, it's a great workout, it's STEP AEROBICS! The latest craze in fitness is here. This class gives you all of the benefits of a high intensity workout without a lot of high intensity impact. Creativity on the Steps is the key. Try this one!

SUPER STEP

A class for the advanced stepper who desires a high-level workout. Includes floor and rubberband workout.

WATER EXERCISE

A wonderful, wet workout! You don't need to be a swimmer to exercise in the pool. All work is done in the shallow end. We work you hard enough to get your heart and lungs in shape, but the buoyancy of the water takes all of the impact away. The class helps you increase flexibility and muscular balance and coordination, too.

POWER WALLYBALL

Enjoy some good competition in this exciting game! A cross between racquetball and volleyball, wallyball can be enjoyed and mastered by all. Space is always limited because it is played in a racquetball court. Grab some friends or co-workers and join in the fun.

WOMEN'S WEIGHT TRAINING

A class to assist the participant in developing proper techniques for lifting both machine and free weights. Assistance in designing a program will be given.

BEGINNING WATER EXERCISE

A NEW class for those with specific needs. (Arthritis or other health problems.) This class will help increase your range of motion and your basic fitness level.

JOIN THE HEART AND SOLE RUNNING CLUB!

We welcome runners of all abilities - from beginners to marathoners. Come see what we're all about! - We run on Monday at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, 6:00 p.m. and Saturday 9:30 a.m.

JUBILEE DAY CAMP (Ages 6-12)

The new and improved Jubilee Day Camp is here with all the fun and excitement plus a chance to experience three different YMCA programs every week. There's swimming, tennis, soccer, gymnastics, floor hockey, t-ball/softball, and fitness. Every week three different programs will be offered along with the arts and crafts, outdoor education, recycling, songs, games and all the magic that friends and summer bring. Extended care is available before and after regular day camp hours for extra fee of $1.50 per hour per family. Everyone brings a sack lunch; the Y will provide the beverage.

Fee: Members $78 (includes trip fee)

Program Members $90 (includes trip fee)
