Where Are They Now?

1990 valedictorian applies energies to nursing studies

Ever wonder what happened to that outstanding high school student you used to read about on the pages of The Northville Record or The Nov News? So did we. So, in an effort to find out what they're doing now, we're starting a weekly summer series featuring a recent Northville or Novi High School graduate and his or her continued scholastic, athletic, or personal success story. Enjoy catching up with some of your former local celebrities.

By JENNY BEYERSDORF
Special Writer

In her valedictorian speech to Northville High School's class of 1990, Katie Kemp talked about the importance of dreaming.

And while Kemp's 3.8 grade point average in the University of Michigan's nursing school indicates she doesn't spend too much time gazing out of windows, when it comes to following her own advice, most professors would not doubt give the Northville senior an A plus.

In her most recent adventure, Kemp returned this week from Madrid, Spain, where she participated as a student delegate from Michigan in the International Council of Nurses Congress, an event held every four years involving national federations of nursing from all over the world. Thousands of professionals and students attended the conference, and Kemp, along with delegates from each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, spent her days at workshops with fellow nursing students — comparing programs, viewing research exhibits, listening to lectures, and exploring "Unity for Quality" — the theme of the conference.

Among the issues discussed at the mini-U.N. of health care workers were mandatory HIV testing of medical personnel, different countries' health care programs, and — of special concern to U.S. delegates, according to Kemp — the possible changes in U.S. health care as a result of President Clinton's impending reforms.

While Kemp said the lectures and discussions were informative, she felt the best part of her eight-day trip was, "meeting nursing students from all over the world, and from all over the United States."

"I learned a lot about international nursing as a profession," she said — knowledge Kemp plans to bring back to Ann Arbor in the fall, where she has already accumulated quite an amount of expertise in the field.

Not only does she serve as the only undergraduate student representative on the nursing school's international Affairs Committee, but this spring she and a fellow student began MINSA (Michigan International Nursing Student Association), a new student group at the U-M, dedicated to the topic.

Her recent trip to Spain fits Kemp's interest profile perfectly, one which has combined both foreign study and nursing for some time. In fact, it was her frustration with the lack of study-abroad opportunities at U-M's nursing school which inspired her involvement in the International Affairs Committee and MINSA.

She applied to go to the I.C.N. congress when she saw a flyer for the conference posted on a wall in the nursing school. Each college in Michigan nominated one student, and each state then selected one delegate to attend the conference. All of Kemp's and the other U.S. delegates' expenses were paid through the Helene Fuld trust foundation, a private foundation which donates money to help nursing students.

The conference wasn't the first international travel experience for the 21-year-old. She lived in Japan for a summer in high school through a foreign study program. And she hopes someday to pursue a career in international nursing, though she doesn't know yet in what capacity. Her decision to study nursing in college seemed natural, said Kemp, who wanted a "people-oriented" career in the medical field. She said nursing will allow her to have everything she wants — a career as well as a family.

"I like working with people," she said. "I like knowing that you get to help . . . Somedays at work [at Mott Childrens Hospital, where she has been a nursing assistant for a year and a half], you really feel like you make a difference."

Making a difference has been a thread running throughout Kemp's educational career. Even if she can't work it into her schedule and finances to spend a year abroad right now, she is working hard to give future students with one eye on the professor and one out the window the chance to make their dreams come true.

Maybe we should all put our heads down and do the same once in a while.

Planning rejects latest proposal to regulate city's home businesses

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A proposed ordinance to regulate home occupations has been shelved again while the city planning commission debates how confining such an ordinance can be.

Commissioners on July 6 rejected the latest version of the ordinance, drawn up by planning consultant Don Wortman, as too restrictive.

The planners had sent Wortman back to the drawing board May 5 after critiquing an initial ordinance proposal drafted by the city's attorneys, Plunkett & Cooney. That ordinance would have required people running businesses out of their home to obtain an annual renewable permit from the City's Board of Zoning Appeals. The BZA would have been charged with overseeing the businesses.

Wortman and the planners agreed then that the permit approval process alone could overwhelm the BZA. Wortman suggested instead that the city draft a list of allowed and disallowed uses.

Planning Commissioner Charles Keys questioned the legality of regulating home businesses at all, and noted that enforcing the ordinance would be next to impossible.

Wortman presented a potential list of allowed and disallowed uses to the commission July 6, which would have permitted businesses like tailoring, art studios, tutoring up to six students at a time and day care, provided the uses did not conflict with other parts of the ordinance.

Uses like storage yards, kennels for more than two dogs, repair shops and restaurants would have been forbidden outright.

The commissioners also directed Wortman to research a pending state law that would regulate home occupations as well, said Chairman John Hardin.

"The commission felt, as I interpreted it, that it should be reviewed and reworked by the consultant," Hardin said. "The concern was developing an ordinance that preserved the nature of the neighborhoods from a visual standpoint and an impact standpoint without creating an ordinance that was unenforceable."

Building official Joe Altard, who acts as recording secretary for the planning commission, agreed that the commissioners balked at the difficulty of enforcing the ordinance.

"No matter what you put in there, it's going to be too hard to police," Altard said. "We were trying to come up with a list of specific occupations and it would have been a thousand names long."

Police News

Police nab Redford man for alleged theft

Township police nabbed a 26-year-old Redford man who allegedly slipped a camera and two packs of Whopper Snappers down his pants and fled from the Meijer store at Eight Mile and Haggerty Road on Saturday, July 3. Police arrested the man for stealing the items which amounted to $66.55.

BIKE LARCENY: A 38 year-old Northville Township resident told police that thieves stole a bicycle and hood ornament off his car parked at his Silver Springs home last week. Both items were taken in separate incidents. The unisex bicycle, valued at $100 was taken from the home on June 30 while the $15 hood decoration was stolen on July 2.

OUIL: A 20 year-old Southgate man was arrested for driving under the influence on Sunday, July 4. The man was picked up by township police on Seven Mile near Fry after police saw his 1978 Buick Le Sabre straddling the eastbound lanes. The driver, who failed several sobriety tests, said he had just left Woolly Bully's. He was ticketed for OUIL and is scheduled to appear in 35th District Court on July 9.

WALLETS STOLEN: Township police are looking for the thieves who stole men's and ladies' wallets from two separate locations on Sunday, July 4.

A Warren man reported that his wallet and a radar detector had been taken sometime after 9 p.m. from inside his car which was parked on Winchester Drive. In a separate incident on the same day, a pool attendant reported that her wallet was stolen from the locker room at the community building at Park Place Apartments. The woman told police aside from her credit cards, she lost $125 in cash.

TOWNSHIP REQUESTS BACKUP: City police responded to a township request July 3 for backup on a traffic stop of two potentially-armed suspects on Edward Hines Drive at the reservoir. Two city police officers stood by at the 1:15 p.m. traffic stop as township officers searched the suspects' vehicle and found two compressed-gas handguns and a small amount of marijuana. The search and arrests were made without incident.

HOME UNDER CONSTRUCTION DAMAGED: A Coldspring Drive home under construction was vandalized sometime between 4-9 p.m. July 2. Someone shattered the inner pane of a double-pane window, causing an estimated $1,000 in damage. The damage may have been done by a BB gun.

The builder was unsure whether the home was locked at the time.

HARASSING PHONE CALLS: A

Northville resident told city police July 2 that someone had made more than a dozen prank phone calls to his home. The caller reportedly says nothing but stays on the line until the homeowner hangs up. He told police he had received nine such calls June 30 and another six or seven on July 1 before they decreased in frequency.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT: A car parked in the lot at 1067 Novi Road was struck by an unidentified vehicle sometime between 9-9:45 p.m. July 2.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENT: A 20-year-old Rochester woman was cited for failing to yield after turning into the path of another car at Eight Mile and Novi roads July 1. The woman was heading east on Eight Mile at 6 p.m. when she turned left onto Novi Road and into the path of a west-bound car.

Both drivers sustained visible but non-life-threatening injuries and were taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Both cars were heavily damaged and had to be towed from the scene.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Public comments on new deck financing plan

any way," said Richard Oaks, commander of the American Legion post at 100 W. Dunlap. "My honest opinion is that the parking south of Main Street would be more or less for the bigger businesses, the new (Main-Centre) building down there."

Mayor Chris Johnson responded that the city's attempt is to realign parking throughout downtown Northville, and said steps like relocating downtown employees to the new lot on Cady will have a ripple effect throughout the business district and free up spaces for the American Legion.

"We're trying to move the employees far away from the front door of every business," he said, to free up spaces for paying customers that will turn over several times during the day.

Northville Downs representatives continued to argue that their racetrack differs from other city businesses and should not be assessed. The Northville Driving Club, which owns most of the Downs property, would be charged $6,915 for the parcel while track operators Lou Carlo and Margaret Zaytl would be charged an additional $2,188.

Attorney Jerry VanHellemont, representing both the track and the driving club Tuesday, argued that the racetrack has enough parking on-site for all its patrons.

"Not only is there no benefit to us, there's a loss to us because of those parking decks," he said. Since the new parking on Cady would be free, the racetrack would lose potential parking fees.

In contrast, Center Street businessman Mark Tarplin urged the council to pass the assessment roll as it stood.

"I commend the council on what they've done so far, and would ask you not to modify it," he said, noting that the last time the roll was modified he ended up paying more money. His assessment now stands at $1,838.

"I find that very easy to live with," Tarplin said.

The council approved the roll by a 4-0 vote, with Council Member Jerry Mittman absent. "I'm personally looking forward to proceeding with this project as rapidly as we can so additional development can take place and increase business overall downtown," said Mayor Pro Tem Carlann Ayers.

City Manager Gary Word cautioned the council, and audience, to remember that Mainstreet '93 was a compromise plan that barely meets the city's current parking needs.

"I don't want to mislead anybody by saying this project solves our parking problems, because it does not," he said. "We may have to come back with another plan in five or 10 years."

Mainstreet '93's next hurdle comes at the polls July 27, when city voters will be asked to put the city's full faith and credit behind the $3.5 million in bonds used to finance most of the project. The bonds will be paid off by tax capturing off an expanded downtown development district, parking credits on Singh Development's properties, the downtown special assessments and an identical $247,000 contribution from city coffers.

School officials may decide on pay-to-play dilemma this month

The committee also noted the following implications of the pay-to-play program:

- A sunset clause was established by the board last year, which stated, "barring any other emergency problems or negative financial impact, this program would end as of June 30, 1993." This will require the board to make a decision on the pay-to-play issue sometime in July, Reznierski said.
- The board needs to either rescind or continue its waiver of Policy 1313.1, "Gifts, Grants, Bequests and Donations." The policy opposing gifts to the schools was waived last year so the district could accept monies for its financial assistance program.
- Although the athletic director oversaw the athletic program, the district would need to have someone monitor the co-curricular activities at the high school and two middle schools if the pay-to-participate program continues.
- There are no funds left to carry over to cover the costs of a financial assistance program or transportation costs for the 1993-94 school year if a pay-to-play program continues.
- A considerable burden has been placed on administrative staff, teaching staff, coaches, secretaries, parents, students, etc.

In concluding its report, the monitoring committee recommended the following four options:

- 1. The board completely eliminate the pay-to-play program and revert to full funding as in the 1991-92 school year. The district would need to cough up an additional $236,000 on top of the board's $90,000 general fund budget, plus approximately $50,000 to cover custodial and maintenance costs.

- 2. Maintain pay-to-play in the 1993-94 school year as well as the same costs for participation in both athletics and co-curricular activities.
- 3. Maintain pay-to-play but increase participation costs to the actual costs incurred by the district. The new fees could be about $300 per sport at the high school and $150 at the middle school; $150 per semester for a co-curricular activity at the high school level and $50 at a semester at the middle school.
- 4. Eliminate all athletic and co-curricular activities at all secondary buildings.

During the 1992-93 school year, over 2,000 students participated in sports or co-curricular activities in Northville.

"There is no advantage to pay-to-play," Susan Meyer, assistant principal at Cooke and Meads Mill middle schools, told board members.

Meyer recently sent out surveys regarding pay-to-play programs to the 514 school districts in the state. She received 421 "usable" surveys. The results of the survey showed that 277 of those districts have never thought about instituting such a program while 53 have considered, but rejected, pay-to-play. There are 91 districts that operate a pay-to-participate program, 21 of them also charging for co-curricular activities.

"There are no answers to this," Meyer said. "Nobody knows anything."

"I'm disturbed that education is like an a la carte," said George Bowersox of the athletic boosters. "People can pick and choose. It seems to me it should be a total package.

"Someone could come along and say they didn't like art, so they knock that off. Someone could come along and say they didn't like music and they knock that off. I think that gives a bad message . . . Extra-curricular activities are a part of education and should not be picked apart. It sends a bad message to students that those things are not important."

Trustee Jean Hansen said the board all agreed with Bowersox's philosophy.

"There are no other things that can contribute as well as athletics and co-curricular activities to the growth and education of our children," Mike Eckerly, another athletic booster, said.

Jim Howie, president of the music boosters, asked the board to give the music students equal representation to that of the athletes.

"We have more students each year — we're only growing bigger," he said.

Reznierski said the board should be in a better position to make a decision in July, following tonight's public hearing on budget priorities and if the news from Lansing regarding school aid is favorable.

Public input encouraged on budget priorities list

By MICHELLE KAISER
Staff Writer

Northville school board followers will have their choice of meetings to attend tonight.

The board policy subcommittee will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the board conference room, third floor of the administration building. Members will be reviewing the student code of conduct.

Also at 6:30 p.m., the curriculum subcommittee will discuss the textbooks for the new language arts curriculum. It will meet in the lower level of the administration building.

But the meeting that will more than likely draw the biggest crowd is a public hearing, set for 7:30 p.m. in the board of education meeting room, located upstairs at Old Village School.

Residents are encouraged to give input on how programs should be prioritized. The only programs to be considered, and residents are asked to speak about, include:

- Eliminating pay-to-play athletics and co-curricular programs.
- Restoring 1.5 resource teachers.
- Funding the student assistance program.
- Curriculum projects, including textbooks, technology and restructuring of high school day.
- Operations and maintenance projects.
- Restoring 5.5 custodians.
- Restoring two high school hall monitors.
- Restoring the middle school gifted teacher.
- Continuing Business-Education Partnerships.
- Restoring clerical positions at the high school and middle schools.
- Restoring one maintenance position.
- Restoring teacher assistants.
- Setting aside 1 percent fund equity.

The board has already implemented two priorities — adding teachers to reduce classroom sizes and beginning the Total Quality Management phase of the district's strategic plan. Those two items will cost about $930,000.

School officials have identified about $250,000 in cuts to make way for some of the above programs.

Residents unable to attend tonight's public hearing have several options if they would like to give input on the budget priorities. They may either send a letter to the Northville Board of Education, Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main St., Northville, 48167, or make a telephone call.

Board members will staff the telephones at the central office building from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. before the July 12 board of education meeting. The number to call is 349-3400.

pulled by a team of eight tiny horses, zig-zagged along the parade route and ran circles in the street as the passengers feigned alarm and held on for dear life.

"It got the crowd going every time," said parade coordinator Debbie McDonald. "Although it didn't look like it, they were in control the entire way."

McDonald noted that the parade was a family affair for her, as 3-year-old son Collin took part.

"He's heard me for six months talking about the parade," McDonald said. "Sometimes he'd get mad when he heard me on the phone, and say 'Mama, is that the parade again?'"

His mother's preparation paid off Saturday morning as Collin got to ride in one of the four covered wagons supplied by the Norvell Bicentennial Wagon Train. McDonald said she watched her son ride out as she was lining up the entrants in Asheville Downs parking lot.

"When he passed me, he said 'Mama, it's my parade!'" she said, laughing. "He's not too spoiled."

Fewer people attended this year's parade than previously, following record turnouts for 1991's Operation Welcome Home celebration and last year's followup. McDonald said the drop may have been due to the fact that the holiday fell on a weekend when many people left for vacation.

But the light turnout did not dampen the spirits of those who did attend and were treated to more than 80 entries. "We had a lot of people in the parade, and everybody who said they were coming showed up," McDonald said.

The many participants made it tough to pick the best ones, but judges Tom and Sue Campbell, Nancy Shafer and Joan Hursey managed to select the top entrants in five categories. Some contests were so close they resulted in a tie.

The judges awarded the Miniature Horse Train first place in the animal act category, while Maybury State Park's animal wagon won second and the attention-getting Clydesdale horses took third.

In the battle of the bands, the kilt-wearing Michigan Scottish Pipes & Drums captured first place while the Fifth Michigan Regiment Band in their Civil War-era outfits took second and the Novi Concert Band took third. Top float honors were given to Northville Video's entry, followed by Silver Sounds and Star Manor Nursing Home.

Northville Cheerleaders were tops in the Junior Marching category, followed by the Spiriters Baton Group and, in a two-way tie for third, Cub Scouts Pack 712 and Brownie Troop 574.

Among the senior marchers, the sword-wielding Alhambra Drill Team took first place, VFW Post 4012 and the Sixth Gate Cloggers tied for second and the 21st Michigan Volunteer Infantry were awarded third.

Though the parade is over, Fourth of July raffle tickets are still available at local merchants like McDonald's Northville Jewelers, 201 E. Main. The tickets are $1 a piece and McDonald noted that the list of awards is growing beyond the $300 first prize, $200 second prize and $100 third prize listed on the ticket since several companies donated gifts and gift certificates to the parade. One such company, Consumers Power, chipped in with a gas grill and several gift certificates.

Those prizes will be awarded along with the cash prizes during the July 13 raffle drawing.

Keep your cool with these tips for summer

After the 1992 summer that wasn't, residents in Southeastern Michigan are looking forward to a return to those lazy, hazy beach days we have come to expect during the warm weather months.

Detroit Edison has some tips to cool balmy abodes safely and efficiently during the summer.

Air conditioners have become much more energy efficient in the last few years, said Jared Goetz of Detroit Edison's Residential Marketing.

"There's been a movement toward high efficiency," Goetz said. "A few years ago we recommended a seasonal energy efficiency ratio (SEER) of 8 or above, but now it's 9 or 9.5 for window air conditioners and 10 for central air conditioning systems."

Goetz also offers these suggestions:

AIR CONDITIONERS

- Before performing maintenance on an air conditioner, make sure the electrical power is disconnected.
- Clear condenser coils of dust, leaves and other debris.
- Clean the fan blade annually.
- Change or clean air filters every 30 to 60 days during the cooling season.
- Make sure cracks around a window air conditioner are properly sealed.
- Install insulation, weatherstripping and caulking to keep warm air out and cool air in.
- A trained service contractor should check central air conditioning systems every year.
- When central air conditioning is coupled with an existing furnace, make sure all unwanted openings in air ducts, including basement registers, are sealed. Check furnace filters for cleanliness.
- Keep storm windows closed when cooling and keep windows and doors leading to uncooled parts of the house closed. Keep draperies closed when the sun shines directly into windows.

ELECTRIC FANS

- To avoid injury, keep fans out of reach of young children. Child-protection coverings, which help ensure children's safety, can be purchased at most hardware stores.

DPW SUPERINTENDENT

After 22 years, officer enjoys his retirement

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

Former Northville City Sgt. Allan Cox looked relaxed and tan in his golf clothes last week as he prepared for the Independence Day weekend.

"This'll be the first Fourth of July I've had off, other than vacation once or twice, in 22 years," he said.

Cox has earned his time off for this holiday. It follows his June 1 retirement from the city police force after 22 years on the job.

Cox was one of four police officers to retire over the past six months. He joins Lancaster David DeLauder and Don Sengaster and Lt. Gerald Ryan in retirement. The four had qualified for a special retirement package approved by the city and police officer's unions to trim the ranks of senior officers and save the city money. All had worked at least 20 years for the city's police department.

For Cox, the retirement package presented an opportunity to break from the field that he thought of as his life's calling.

"I have very fond memories of Northville, and it would have always been hard to think about leaving here," he said.

Of police work, he said, "It was what I always thought I was meant to do."

Cox started his service for Northville with a scare, when he and another officer walked into an armed robbery in progress at Hamlet's Food Market.

"The robbery basically had already taken place," he said. "The guy stepped out of the aisle with a gun on us."

The gunman fled after disarming the officers but, Cox added, "We got him at his house five days later."

Despite the inauspicious start, Cox went on to make many friends during his tenure.

"I met some friends investigating a breaking and entering. And I met someone who became a really good friend on a traffic stop," he said.

As Cox recalled, he had pulled a Northville resident over for speeding one day when he realized that the speeder was a fellow softball player. Cox then stopped the man's wife for speeding on the same stretch of road the next day.

"I couldn't help but laugh when I saw her name," he said. The two couples have been close friends ever since.

His work at Northville also reunited Cox with a former instructor at the police academy where he earned his badge. The former instructor, Ed Ritenour, had stopped by the police station to have his fingerprints taken when he applied for a liquor license for his MainCentre Grille restaurant. Cox was on duty and processed the application.

While he loved the work, Cox said he never liked the department's schedule, which requires officers to work two of every three weekends in exchange for four days off at a time.

If not for the schedule, he said, "They would have had to push me out of here in a wheelchair. I would have never left. But with a department this size, that's impossible."

Cox, who lives in Canton, said he has been spending more time on the links these days, and also enjoys seeing more of his wife Becky and sons Allen, 23, and Scott, 21. He is hesitant to apply for another police officer's job since he knows what the hours will probably be like.

"Whatever I do will be a straight day job with weekends off," he said. He hesitated before answering when asked why he joined the force in the first place.

"I know it sounds corny and people say that's the textbook answer, but I really wanted to help people," he said.

So far, two of the four vacant positions have been replaced by officers from the city's part-time ranks. Officer Richard Rigowski, 26, of Fraser was hired June 18, and Michael Carlson, 29, of Garden City came aboard full-time July 1.

Two more full-time officers will be hired Sept. 1, to be on hand when Northville Downs reopens in October.

Chief Rod Cannon noted that the training period would be critical for the younger force, since the city has lost nearly a century of experience in the past six months.

While he was happy for his former officers, Cannon noted that he had mixed feelings about their departure.

"It's a two-edged sword," the chief said. "It cuts one way and draws the other."

Township activist fights to get on planning board

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

Northville Township resident Rebecca Connell isn't abandoning the township's planning ship just yet.

Instead, she's asking trustees to reconsider their May 13 decision to reject her appointment to fill an unexpired term on the planning commission.

In a July 2 open letter to trustees, Connell said she's asked Supervisor Karen Baja to appeal her case to the trustees at tonight's meeting. In the letter, she addresses the controversy that surrounded her bid for an appointment and attempts to clear the murky air that lingers in the aftermath between her and the trustees.

"I believe that at the time of Supervisor Baja's original recommendation for my appointment, there was some misunderstanding and miscommunication surrounding this matter," Connell wrote. "I would hope that these have been cleared up, and I wish to be considered for my own interest and qualifications."

In May, four of the seven trustees who voted against Connell's appointment offered few reasons why they voted the way they did. At the time, the four—Treasurer Rick Engelland and Trustees Mark Abbo, Barbara O'Brien and Russ Fogg—said they believed there were other applicants better suited for the planning seat.

But the denial came on the heels of Connell's public scrutiny of the trustees' behavior at a meeting in February.

The four trustees claimed the denial to appoint Connell had nothing to do with that incident. Instead, they say there were other qualified, experienced candidates for the job.

Even now, months after the dust has settled, Connell, who was appointed to a commission subcommittee in anticipation of winning the actual commission seat, is still attending planning commission meetings, she says.

She also says she's provided valuable input as a member of the subcommittee that's studied key planning concepts, read all of the background information to keep pace with developments, and visited sites that are being reviewed for new projects.

"I have read all packet information and have visited sites to be reviewed," she said. "I have told been told by the planning commissioners that they would welcome my being on the commission."

"I am very interested in this position, as I am very interested and involved in the future of Northville Township . . .

" . . . I believe that I would be an asset to this community by service on the planning commission, where my interests and qualifications are used and expanded upon."

Thursday night's trustees agenda calls for Baja to recommend someone to the three-year unexpired seat on the commission. The seat was vacated by the resignation of Charles DeLand.

The parade wasn't the only place where people could have fun Saturday. The fine art of apple bobbing, ably demonstrated by 5-year-old Michael Troost, was just one of the many activities that were offered after the parade at Mill Race Historical Village. Games, contests and food were all on tap at the village.

Host families needed for foreign exchange students

High school students from Sweden, Norway, Finland, Denmark, Holland, Germany, France, Italy and Australia will arrive in the United States in August to spend five to 10 months studying in an American high school.

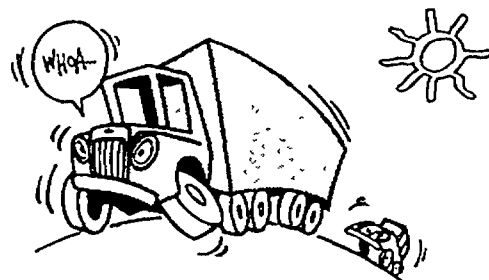

The students range in age from 15-18 and need host families. All students have studied English for at least four years, have full medical insurance and enough money to cover their personal expenses.

Flexible, open-minded, fun-loving families, with or without children of their own, are needed to provide temporary homes for these foreign visitors. Although host families do not get paid, the IRS permits a small tax deduction.

For more information on the program or to select a student, call Maria Bayne at 1-800-382-HOST.

IN THE INTEREST OF SECURITY

While most of us properly associate the Social Security Administration (SSA) with retirement benefits, there are also programs to provide financial aid to the disabled and dependents of those who die before retirement age. Provided that they can satisfy the SSA's criteria for the disability, mentally and physically injured employees can receive benefits at any age. Children of disabled workers are also entitled to benefits, as are children of deceased workers. Applications for survivors' benefits and for disability benefits must be accompanied by specific documentation. If a claim is denied, disabled workers and survivors of workers have a right to appeal. A knowledgeable lawyer is an important asset when taking steps to obtain the benefits to which one is rightfully due.

HINT: When appealing a denial for SSA disability or survivor benefits, there is an opportunity to submit new evidence.

Social Security law can be complicated, and it can be helpful to have an experienced lawyer serve as one's guide through the thicket of regulation. If you have a legal matter which needs attention, or if you have further questions about the topic of this column, feel free to call RICHARD J. CORRIVEAU & ASSOCIATES P.C. We are known for our aggressive approach to problem-solving, and for the close attention we pay to your needs. We know how important your legal problems are to you—and we're important to us as well. Our office is easy to reach at 426 S. Main St. (380-6800), and we see clients weekdays 9-5, other hours by appointment.

Engler taps DeMattia for jobs commission

Robert DeMattia of Northville was among 10 new appointments to the Michigan Jobs Commission, Gov. John Engler's office has announced.

DeMattia is president and chief executive officer of R.A. DeMattia Co., a national real estate development, architectural and construction firm. The DeMattia Co. has developed projects on a national level for both U.S. and international firms.

"The Michigan Jobs Commission is an all-star team dedicated to helping our state keep the jobs we already have, create new jobs, and train our workforce for the jobs of the 21st century," Engler said.

"They are all proven job creators whose knowledge and experience will be invaluable in making Michigan a better place for business to grow and create new jobs."

Gov. Engler established the Jobs Commission through an executive order in February to encourage economic expansion, maximize job creation and job retention, increase the competitiveness of business and industry, ensure efficiency in economic expansion programs in the state and provide the maximum coordination of programs in workforce development and job training.

Other appointees are Douglas Blatt, Facundo Bravo, Noelle Clark, Richard DeVos, Yousif Chafari, Shirley McFee, Heinz Prechter, John Rakolta Jr. and Samuel Valenti.

Also serving on the commission as ex-officio members are William Schuette, Director of Agriculture; Gerald Miller, Director of Social Services; Lowell Perry, Director of Labor; Arthur Ellis, Director of Commerce; Roland Harnes, Director of Natural Resources; Bob Edwards, Director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission; and Robert Schiller, Supt. of Public Instruction.

The commissioners will serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Schoolcraft may get liquor license if state law passes

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Schoolcraft College and four other Michigan colleges could qualify for full-year liquor licenses under a hotly debated bill passed by the state Senate.

Senate Bill 83 won a scant 20-14 victory Wednesday and was sent to the House, where action is unlikely before fall.

"Two weeks ago we took the smokers out of the schools. Now we're gonna let the drunks into the colleges," said opponent Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo.

"We're not setting up drinking places for students," replied supporter Robert Geake, R-Northville. "Schoolcraft College has one of the best culinary arts centers in the U.S." Geake called the serving of wines "absolutely appropriate and has nothing to do with student parties."

Geake is a former board chairman of Schoolcraft Community College. Schoolcraft has served dinners to both political parties. It hosts a series of gourmet dinners that are advertised by word of mouth and are usually sellouts.

But opponent Doug Carl, R-Utica, equated the bill with rising casualty costs, acts of violence and broken homes. "It sends a bad message," he said.

"There will be nowhere near the horrors described by the Prohibitionists here," added supporter Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills. "These are the convention facilities of a civilized society."

"They can get a 24-hour license," said opponent Jim Berryman, D-Adrian.

That is what Schoolcraft and other colleges with banquet facilities currently do. The bill would remove the need for one-day applications and allow the licensing of college-related conference centers.

Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, who said he never has touched beer, wine or whiskey in his life, sponsored the bill on behalf of Lake Michigan Community College. With the demise of major hotels in downtown St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, LMC set up a business conference center.

Otherwise, said Gast, there isn't a good spot unless one travels 35 miles to South Bend or 50 miles to Kalamazoo.

As the bill came through the State Affairs Committee, others were added to the list: Eastern Michigan University's corporate education center, Schoolcraft's Waterman Center and Macomb Community College.

On the Senate floor, Phil Hoffman, R-Jackson, sought to have Jackson Community College's Potter Center added to the list. On first try, Hoffman got only 13 votes, with 20 needed. So Hoffman voted against the entire bill, and it lost.

An hour later, supporters cut a deal with Hoffman. Jackson was added. Hoffman supported the bill, and it had the necessary 20 votes.

Here's how area senators voted: Yes — Republicans Geake, David Honigman of West Bloomfield, and Democrats Faxon and Lana Pollack of Ann Arbor.

No — Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville.

A secondary issue was whether the publicly supported colleges will compete with private business.

"I don't see it's going to hurt private industry one dollar," said Senate Democratic leader Art Miller of Warren.

The House is likely to send Senate Bill 83 to the Liquor Control Committee. Refer to the bill number when writing your representative in the State Capitol Building, Lansing 48909.

Mill Race Matters

Summer came to Mill Race Village last Saturday with its annual Independence Day celebration.

Thanks to all who worked so hard to make the day a special one. Thank you to docents, crafters, re-enactors, bakers, and other volunteers who gave of their own time so that others could enjoy the day. Thank you also this week to Northville Town Hall Series for $100 toward the painting of Hunter House, and to Mary Chestnut Chapter Quarters for $25 and restoration of the 1917 High School class composite.

The recent closure of Northville Drugs inspires interest in earlier owners of that location. The Ideal Suburban Village published originally in 1892 reveals the following information.

"Charles R. Stevens, the pioneer of the business here, occupies a very handsomely fitted store on Main street. His complete stock of Drugs, Perfumery, Toilet Articles, and kindred lines is not excelled in the state. Mr. Stevens makes a specialty of the accurate compounding of physicians' prescriptions, all articles used in the materia medica being strictly pure and fresh. He has attained a well-deserved popularity during his business experience in this village and his large trade has long been established. A number of proprietary medicines have also been placed upon the market by Mr. Stevens and have achieved an extensive sale, their intrinsic qualities being recognized as strictly superior."

According to Jack Hoffman in Northville — the First 100 Years, Charles R. Stevens was an active community leader. In addition to running the drug store as early as 1869 he also was a signer on the petition to form a community library, a candidate for public office, and an officer of the Masons Commandery of Knights Templar.

The 1869 drug store was a partnership called Bogart and Stevens. Some early pictures show a Georgian-style frame building on the present location. Stevens probably built the current structure before the turn of the century. Longtime residents will truly miss the store and the tradition it carried with it.

Township water, sewer fees may jump

For all other water connections, the commission is recommending a $50 increase over the $1,500 per living unit. New sewer connection fees will see a $100 increase, from the existing $3,000 per living unit to $3,100 per unit.

Anderson said in years past, the commission has always begun looking at the rate schedule in July. Once commissioners reach an accord, they pass it on to the trustees for approval. The trustees take action, and then the proposed rate fees withstand a 90 day grace period, before they would take effect in the fall.

8-K race brings runners to downtown Northville vantage of water stations sponsored by Fleet Feet Sports and Woolly Bully's Restaurant. A sponge station, where volunteers will toss water-soaked sponges to passing runners so they can wipe the sweat off, will be set up at the park at Baseline and Carpenter.

Kurtis noted that the racecourse has been certified by officials at U.S.A. Track and Field. "If any record is ever set on it, it becomes an official record of the United States," he said.

The 8-K run will be preceded by the mile-long RoadRunner Classic Junior at 5:30 p.m., a race for children 12 and under that runs twice around the Northville Downs track, and a similar mile-long Fun Run/Walk at 6 p.m.

Following the run, participants can unwind at a post-race party on the racetrack grounds where food and refreshments will be served and a DJ will provide music for the crowd's dancing and listening pleasure.

Kurtis said the thousand-plus participants expected for the race could be a boon to local businesses.

"With the race an evening race, I think the merchants will find that a lot of the runners will come into town early and wander around," he said. "It'll be good for both our group and the city."

The Road Runners expect between 1,000-1,500 participants in the Saturday evening race, added Road Runner spokesman Eric Trimble.

"In good years it's been close to 2,000, but this is a new year and a new course," Trimble noted.

Trimble noted that staffing the annual race usually leaves little room for participation by his group.

"We need a minimum of 150 volunteers to man this thing," he said.

Since that's about the same number as are on the Redford Road Runners' roster, few members will actually be running in the race. Up to 75 volunteers will be required just to act as course marshals for the complex route, to guide runners and make sure they don't go astray, Trimble said. Staffing the finish line alone will take another 10 volunteers, he added.

Participants can sign up in one of 10 age brackets, and teams of five are also invited to register. Several wheelchair athletes have signed up for the race as well, Trimble said, after their initial fears about the course were allayed.

"At first they were concerned about how hilly it was in Northville," Trimble said. "We've addressed those concerns."

Entry fees for the events are $10 for the 8-K race and $8 for the Fun Run/Walk and Classic Junior. After July 14, the fee for the 8-K race will be $13. Tank tops are available for an additional $5.

Applications can be picked up at Fleet Feet Sports at 141 E. Main St. in Northville or Running Fit in Novi, at 26084 Ingersol Drive. For more information, call race directors Carol Sweeney or Rick Arnes at 347-4949.

Trimble added that the race is not designed to raise money for the Road Runners.

"We don't make a dime off this... It's a break-even thing," he said.

Any proceeds will be donated to the Doug Kurtis Scholarship Fund, a fund established this year for Northville High School students.

The RoadRunner Classic is the second of three evening summer races that draw many of the same runners in the metro Detroit area, dubbed the "Twilight Triple Crown" by Kurtis. The others include the Trenton Treadmill in June and the Allen Park Street Fair in August.

Engler vetos measure

Gov. John Engler has vetoed part of a 15-bill package allowing local governments to speed up ordinance enforcement.

Engler disapproved nine bills, telling Senate sponsors they had gone too far in allowing decriminalizing of some drug and morals offenses.

The package was designed to allow criminal misdemeanor offenses to be reclassified as non-criminal municipal infractions. That would allow cities and townships to handle violations by tickets and without attorney representation. Sign ordinances, dog laws, building and zoning violations were among the offenses that could be reclassified.

The governor cited possession of small amounts of marijuana, "conduct violations such as drunk and disorderly, disorderly conduct and soliciting prostitution; and certain property offenses such as petty larceny, shoplifting and joyriding."

Engler asked lawmakers to try again "without opening the door to unintended consequences."

But Engler found "a fatal flaw" in some of the bills. "These bills would grant local governments the authority to convert existing criminal misdemeanors to non-criminal municipal civil infractions without any limit on the scope of that authority. This would create a situation in which any misdemeanor, regardless of seriousness, could be decriminalized."

Our Opinion

Public input means opening up all lines

Northville School District officials have done a good job of offering the public the opportunity to comment on certain budget priorities, but they have still stopped short of their charge.

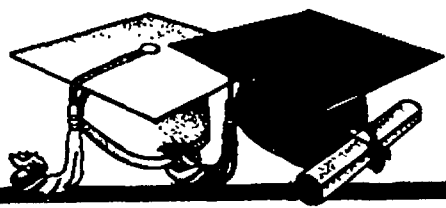

District officials have drawn up a list of line items and are planning to accept public input on how to prioritize those items at a public hearing tonight.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the board of education room in Old Village School.

School officials have extended a sincere invitation to the public to attend tonight's meeting and offer suggestions on which items should be funded and which cut. They have also suggested that residents who can't attend the meeting put their priorities in writing and send them to the school district through the mail.

In yet another gesture of outreach, school district representatives will staff telephones from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Monday, one hour before the next regular school board meeting. Residents are invited to call in their suggestions at that time.

All of this is well and good, but the problem is that people are being told to limit their remarks to the items on the list. The list is a comprehensive one and includes eliminating pay-to-play athletics and co-curricular programs, restoring teachers and support staff, funding the student assistance program and continuing the business-education partnership.

But, as complete as the list is, there is still a possibility that someone might have an alternative recommendation. If that happens does that mean that person will not be afforded the opportunity to speak his or her mind? Considering it is the taxpayers of the community who provide the funding that drives the school district, we would certainly hope not.

School district officials have been thorough in identifying potential areas of cost savings but apparently need reminding that their's is merely a list of suggestions. No one should be prohibited — or even discouraged — from offering ideas that school officials might not have thought of or decided not to include.

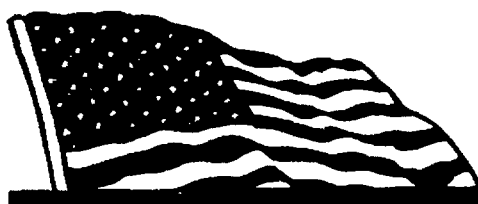

Law allowing liquor on campus reasonable

The state Senate has passed and sent along to the House a bill that would allow five Michigan colleges — including Schoolcraft Community College — to obtain one-year liquor licenses.

Currently, state law limits colleges to 24-hour licenses so that alcohol may be served at special events.

The measure was fiercely debated before its 20-14 passage, with opponents painting bleak pictures of how the bill could result in increased drunkenness on campuses. Some said allowing colleges to serve alcohol would send the wrong message at a time when the dangers of excessive alcohol consumption have become a point of open public awareness and concern.

We endorse passage of this bill and think the misgivings of Senate opponents are unfounded. Schoolcraft College has one of the best culinary arts programs in the nation and it is difficult to envision a situation where the school would begin opening beer concessions on campuses. To the contrary, we foresee a responsible use of the liquor license privilege at the college and believe it would be perfectly appropriate for the school to, for example, complement its fine menu at Waterman Center with a wine selection.

Similarly, the ability to serve alcoholic beverages would constitute a sensible addition to Eastern Michigan's Corporate Education Center and other facilities which offer conference accommodations where education officials gather to socialize after conducting business.

The Senate-passed bill isn't expected to be acted upon by the House until fall, but we hope for passage when the issue does come up for a vote.

Idea drought was inevitable

Lee Snider

I've been lucky. Since I started writing this column, a subject always seemed to suggest itself without me having to give it much thought. I knew one day my luck would run out and that's apparently what's happened. So, in the absence of a single topic with which to fill this space, I thought I'd try my hand at one of those columns made up of random, rambling and unrelated notions. Here goes...

• The Northville/Novi Fourth of July parade was fantastic, and I had one of the best seats in the house from which to watch it. The four Early Bird Kiwanis judges and I set up our own grandstand on the third floor of the Northville Record office Saturday morning and caught a bird's eye view of the passing parade entries.

It got scary for a minute there when those Clydesdales looked like they were headed straight up over the sidewalk and into the crowd of spectators. Fortunately, the rider was able to get the horses back in line and there was no problem.

I'm glad I didn't have to do any of the judging — there were so many great floats and acts.

• I got my new car this week and my choice was both domestic and local: I bought an Escort at the Northville Ford dealership. It's the first time in over a decade I purchased an American make.

Regular readers know that I was forced into the market for a new car after I rammed my old one into the rear of a Northville Township police cruiser. The crash forced the township police department into the new car market, too.

Thanks go out to those who expressed concern for my condition. I definitely plan to use the seat belt this time around. I could hardly do otherwise even if I wanted to. In this car, the belts are those pushy types that automatically close around you when you shut the door.

• It never fails to amaze me how slow things get in the newsroom this time of year. During winter and spring there hardly seems to be enough time to think about all there is to cover, then, as soon as July hits, the flow of news takes a cliff dive. Even the letters to the editor are few and far between, in sharp contrast to anything I've seen since starting here in January. Guess I'll have to think of ways to stir things up. Destroying a police car evidently wasn't enough.

• I used to think the phrase "stop and smell the roses" was a metaphor for how you should pay attention to details, savor life's every moment. Now I know the expression means exactly what it says. There are few things on God's good earth as beautiful as a flower, and no flower as striking as the rose. If you don't believe me, hightail it over to Mill Race Historical Village and feast your eyes on the garden Pat Hubbard's growing. She's planted over 300 varieties of roses. We've got a story on it in today's B section.

• I'm looking forward to this year's Folk and Bluegrass festival at Ford Field July 25. The event is a fund-raiser for Huntington's disease research, and will be headlined by Tom Paxton, one of the original folk heroes from the mid '60s.

There should be even more reason than ever to kick back and have a good time this year. They've identified the gene that causes Huntington's, offering real hope that the disorder can one day be cured through gene therapy.

Time to rev up for '50s Fest

Michael Malott

"It's like a bash in the head... 'cause it feels so good when it stops hurting."

A strange comparison, I've always thought. But it came to mind today because I just wrapped up work on our special tab for Novi's sixth annual Michigan '50s Festival.

The tab, which carries the "Official Guide" label for the festival, is my biggest project of the year. And no matter how organized I try to be or how early I try to get started on it, it always becomes a major rush in the end to get it finished.

This year, the tab was bigger, and I hope better, than ever. So "when it stops hurting" my reward is not only that the project is done, but I also get to go to the '50s Festival itself. And that feels very good indeed.

The festival has a rather unabashed party atmosphere. It is the only community festival I know of that has that feel about it. Still, it is definitely in keeping with the spirit of the City of Novi.

As I was working on the tab this year, I remembered a comment made by Amy Punke, publicist for the Providence Medical Center, last year after she'd help put together a party for the grand opening of the medical facility.

"Usually, if you send out invitations to 300, you expect 200 to show up," she said. "In Novi, you're likely to get 400."

Novi is getting quite a reputation as a town that loves a good party. Nothing wrong with that either. There is nothing quite like a good get-together every now and again to reduce stress, renew friendships, and refresh the soul.

Frankly, the '50s Festival is starting to take on the atmosphere of a big family party, kind of like a big outdoor family reunion. The addition last year of the Family Show Tent to the festival's lineup of activities and its expansion this year, along with all the children's activities at West Oaks Mall and Disney characters at Twelve Oaks, make it a great place to bring the children. My kids came with us last year and they loved it. I doubt I'd be able to keep them away this year even if I wanted to.

At the same time, there are plenty of activities where the adults can let their hair down in the evening. Not only is the Entertainment Tent a good place for dancing, the festival this year is reviving Sock Hop Night, a traveling dance party including four local hotels. It was always one of the festival's top attractions in past years, although it was dropped last year due to bus transportation problems. Festival organizers say they've got that glitch licked for this year.

On top of all that, you can't walk through the festival grounds for more than a few feet without running into somebody you know. At least I couldn't last year. And of course it is usually somebody you haven't seen in a while, so you have to stop and chat and catch up on things.

Like I said, it has the air of a family reunion. Maybe it would be more accurate to think of it as an annual summer community reunion. Just for us Novi folks... just you and me and 100,000 or so of our closest friends.

See you there.

Twp. road meeting's important too

To the Editor:
I would like to commend Ms. Condon on her excellent article about Mr. Snider's mishap with the police car. We all share in the relief that no one was seriously hurt.

I would also like to take this opportunity to let Mr. Snider know how informative his article was about the hazards of not wearing our seat belt. If only one person decides he should buckle-up, it was worth the space.

It was also considerate of Mr. Mallot to take the opportunity to share with his readers how the decision was made to print the story. It seems everyone went to great lengths to do just the correct thing.

I have a question. Whose assignment was it not to cover the township meeting with the citizens of gravel roads? The meeting was held at the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on June 23. I have yet to see any coverage of this meeting. Perhaps it seems unimportant to some, but to others, it's a matter of quality living. The Detroit News and Channel 4 news thought it was important to bring it to the public's attention.

It seems to me that a hometown newspaper should be concerned with informing residents of all the issues in the community.

The homeowners who attended the meeting seem all in agreement. The township budget has for 30 years put chloride on our gravel roads. Whatever has been put into the budget to take its place should be taken out and our dust control restored. Another meeting will be held on July 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township hall. Supervisor Baja said a decision would be made at this time.

It is my understanding the county gets the money the state collects in gas tax to maintain the roads. Since chloriding is simple maintenance, why has it been stopped? It also seems to me that not only are we getting the shaft as far as our gravel roads, but look at the paved roads too! What about the maintenance on them? Where is the money going? Perhaps it's time the county is made accountable for where this money is spent.

Joyce Stowell

Cleanup was not handled well

To the Editor:
This letter is to respond to the accident last Wednesday (June 23) on Seven Mile and Pierson.

I am a resident of that area and I find it ludicrous that I could not get home for two hours, because they had the road closed from Haggerty to Northville State Hospital.

The residents of Meadowbrook should have been able to get home.

The police and fire department were very rude. Was that because a police officer was involved?

Arlene Fogle

Parents should be consulted

To the Editor:
My son came home from school with a newly revised schedule for the 93-94 school year. The schedule involves starting school a day and a half before Labor Day and lengthening Christmas Vacation to 2 weeks.

I complained both to the school board and the Superintendent of schools. The only response I got was that this was decided in contract negotiations — when I asked, no contract had been signed.

Also when I asked, I was told I could not be informed about other items being negotiated as they were confidential.

If, in fact, contract negotiations are confidential, why is this item not confidential also? Is it just to expedite the calendar year changes? Premature publication of this appears to be unethical on the part of both the teachers and the board of education.

An issue such as this is important to working parents who have to arrange child care during these vacation times. Why weren't parents asked by the school board if they approved of it before negotiations began? Why aren't parents polled about possible contract issues? After all, we're still paying the bills.

It is very upsetting for me to hear parents talking to their children in a negative way. At a workshop I recently attended I received this list of 88 Words of Encouragement for Children. '60s had several problem sources

Tim Richard

Many Americans agree: The early 1960s opened a dreadful era.

The Amy Foundation, a Lansing fund that pays people to quote the Bible in commercial papers, awarded $1,000 to the Rev. Jerry Paradise for an article tracing all current evils to 1962 and the U.S. Supreme Court's school prayer decision.

"Our national SAT scores verify this," wrote Paradise, an assistant pastor at Calvary Chapel of Philadelphia. Violent crime, up 554 percent. Sexually transmitted diseases, up 226 percent. The divorce rate, teen pregnancies, the unwed birth rate, sexual abuse of children — all began rising in 1963.

Reason: "We made it unconstitutional to ask God for help in our schools, and tragically, it looks like He honored our request."

Pat Robertson, the TV evangelist, is using that line in his current fund-raising campaign.

They exaggerate, of course. The Supreme Court said the New York State Board of Regents, "a governmental agency," couldn't establish a government prayer in public schools. The court never said we couldn't pray for the schools. (Engel v. Vitale, 370 U.S. 421.)

A far different view comes from Forbes magazine's June 7 article on the National Education Association. A graph shows teacher unionization starting at zero in 1961 and rising to 80 percent currently; SAT verbal scores dropped from 480 to 423 in the same period.

Forbes hopes you will connect the two and conclude that unionization caused pupil scores to fall. It never offers a shred of evidence of a cause-and-effect relationship.

Ditto with the religious right's connection between the school prayer decision and a Pandora's box of social ills. No one shows how ending governmental prayers actually caused the increase in ills. You're supposed to jump to the unproven conclusion yourself.

If there were a connection, how would they explain falling SAT scores and rising illegitimacy rates in Michigan and states which never had governmental prayer in public schools? What happens when you isolate the sins and crimes among graduates of parochial schools where prayer, presumably, did occur?

You see the pitfall of taking two events that occur about the same time and assuming there's a link.

In days of yore, specialists studied the link between the stars at the time of your birth and events in people's lives, using them to predict a customer's future. Today astrologers are shunned by theologians and laughed at by academics. But Forbes and the religious right continue a similar line of ratiocination.

Quite a number of things happened in the early 1960s.

The Pill came on the market. It prevented conceptions, but it sure didn't stop venereal disease and AIDS.

The first batch of kids raised entirely on mind-rotting television graduated from our high schools. Visual imagery and ad slogans replaced paragraphs and statistics as tools of thought.

The United States got sucked into an Asian land war it couldn't win. Veterans felt they had fought in vain and weren't appreciated. All authority found itself challenged.

Long before prayer was privatized and teachers unions rose to prominence, Fortune magazine spotted a phenomenon it called "social dynamite" — young black males, without fathers and lacking respect for female-run education, cutting loose in our urban centers.

Some economic conservatives blame the Great Society welfare state, which paid women for raising babies without male help. There's a clear connection between a fatherless kid, poor school scores and prison populations.

Ira Levin found his own explanation. In Rosemary's Baby, the horned son of Satan is born in New York City on June 25, 1965. Levin's book is fiction, but some days one suspects he was closest to the truth.

Walsh College names Novi campus head

Walsh College has named Mary Kay Sleeman director of extension campuses. Sleeman will oversee the new campus opening in Novi, as well as the existing University Center and Port Huron campuses.

Sleeman, who has been with Walsh College since 1977, holds a bachelor of science in management from Oakland University. She has been the director of the Port Huron extension since 1984, and the University Center extension in Clinton Township since it opened in 1991.

With the addition of the Novi campus in the fall of 1993, Sleeman feels, "Walsh now has the ability to provide its students with quality education and support services in a location convenient to their home or work."

As director of extension campuses, Sleeman will oversee two program administrators. Susan Pressnell, the assistant director of student advising at Walsh since 1991, is the program administrator for the new Novi campus. She holds a bachelor of music degree from William Tyndale College, a master of arts in counseling from Michigan State University and is a licensed professional counselor.

The position of program administrator entails handling the day-to-day operations of the extension sites in coordination with the main campus.

Mary Johnson, an undergraduate admissions officer at the Troy campus since 1988, has been named program administrator of the Port Huron and University Center campuses. She holds a bachelor of science in business from Ferris State and a master of science in management from Walsh College.

Over 3,600 students are currently enrolled at Walsh, which offers bachelor degree programs in accounting, computer information systems, finance, general business, management, and marketing. Master of science degrees are also offered in accounting, finance, management and taxation.

American Heart Association

Dear Mr. President and Mrs. Clinton:

Cardiovascular disease costs our nation over $127 billion a year.

We're doing something about it.

Approximately 18 percent of all health care costs are related to cardiac disease. In Michigan alone, this disease costs an estimated $6.4 billion a year.

Cardiovascular disease is the leading cause of death in the United States and in Michigan. An estimated 69,080,000 Americans have heart disease. Every thirty-two seconds cardiovascular disease claims another life.

Botsford General Hospital wants to change these statistics through prevention and self-management. Our Cardiac Risk Assessment and Reduction Program is one of the most comprehensive programs of its kind in the nation.

In addition, Botsford is forming alliances to provide high quality, cost effective, cardiovascular surgery in the community we serve.

SOUNDS

Perhaps you enjoy the sounds of flutes and clarinets in community bands.

Or maybe you're the jazzy type and dig trumpets and saxophones.

Then again, you could prefer the sounds of strings — dulcimers and such.

Either way, you're in luck if you live in the Northville or Novi area during the summer months.

The Northville Arts Commission offers its Clock Concert series each Friday during the summer while Thursday nights is where it's at in Novi with the Novi Parks and Recreation 1993 Sounds of Summer performances.

Phelps Hines, chairman of the Clock Concert series, said last year Northville was able to continue a full season of performances thanks to the generosity of 25 local businesses, community groups and private citizens.

"We hope businesses and individuals will continue to support the Northville Arts Commission's efforts again this year," Hines said at the beginning of the season.

In Northville, entertainment is planned every Friday at 7:30 p.m. through Sept. 18 and will continue on Saturday, Sept. 19, during the Art Market and Victorian Festival. There is no charge to attend.

Sponsors will be publicly acknowledged for their support. Last year, businesses donated $100 or more to become sponsors of this popular series. Individual donations are also appreciated.

Anyone wishing to donate to the Northville concert series may do so by making their check payable to Northville Arts Commission. Checks can be sent to the commission at P.O. Box 99, Northville, MI 48178. For more information, call the commission at 349-6104.

In Novi, the Sounds of Summer will continue through Thursday, Aug. 12. All concerts are held at 7 p.m. in the Novi Civic Center (except for the Aug. 12 performance).

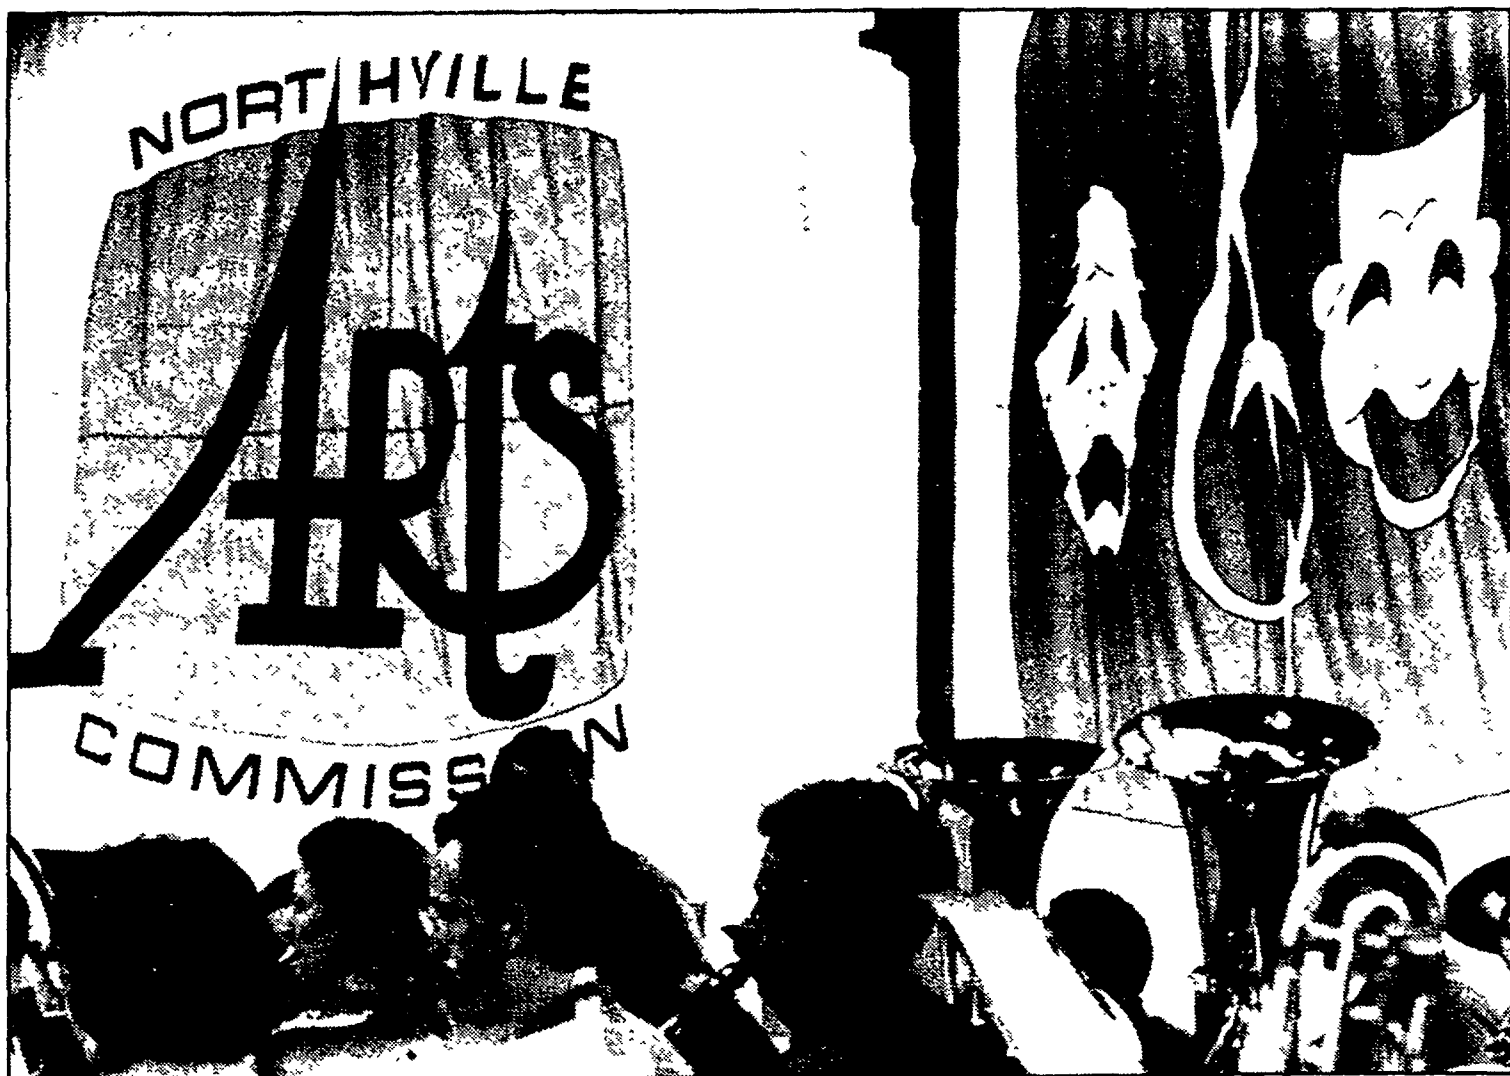

Admission is free and concerts are held rain or shine. Promotional giveaways are even held at selected concerts.

The Novi concert series is sponsored by Providence Medical Center, Ford Motor Company Foundation and Novi Parks and Recreation.

For more information about the Novi concert performances, call the Novi Parks and Recreation office at 347-0400.

The concert calendars are as follows:

● July 8 — Myk and Mary, a rock duo playing pop hits of the 1960s and '70s.

Music abounds in the Northville and Novi areas during the warm weather months. In Novi, the parks and recreation offers "Sounds of Summer," while Northville has its "Clock Concert" series. Last Friday, the Schoolcraft Wind Ensemble entertained music fans in Northville.

- July 15 — Straight Blue, a jazz quintet from Hope College.
- July 22 — No concert due to the '50s Festival.
- July 29 — Bakra Bata, an American steel drum band based in Seattle, Wash.
- Aug. 5 — Howard "Louie Blue"

Armstrong and Ray Kamalay, 1930s blues and Tin Pan Alley standards.

- Aug. 12 — Novi Concert Band, Novi's community band performs at Providence Hospital site.

Arts treasurer finds ways of fund-raising

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

The arts are low on the priority list when it comes to civic funding in Northville.

But don't you enjoy the summer-time concerts in the bandshell on Friday evenings? And don't you like to browse through the art stalls during the Victorian Festival? And maybe you attend the slide-illustrated lectures on historical art?

Helping make all of this possible has been Sharon de'Aleixandris, member and treasurer of the Northville Arts Commission for eight years.

One of her special ways to make money for the Commission has been through the sale of a book of poems about Northville by a Northville resident.

Kathleen Ripley Leo wrote the poems, and Sharon de'Aleixandris, fine arts project director for the commission in 1988, got a grant to have them printed in book form.

The book is titled Town One South, so named because this area was originally known as "town one south, range eight east."

The poems describe local history from the time of the first settlers coming up from Detroit to life here in the 1930s.

There are still some copies of the book available at $8 apiece, de'Aleixandris said.

Also, she said, there are dreams the Arts Commission would like to realize — for example, art classes for citizens of all ages. And because she has 11 years of practical experience in heading the art program for all eight grades in a private school, she could help implement the project. Funding is all that is needed.

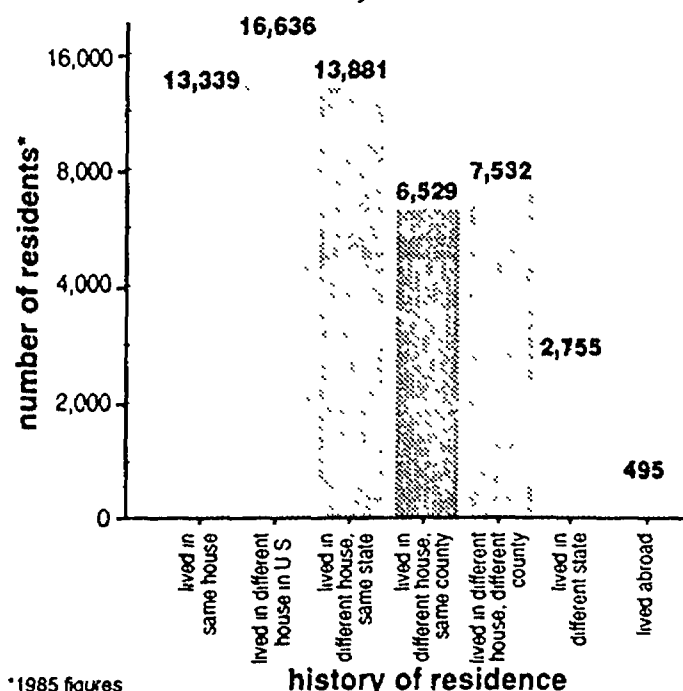

If you would like to contribute to the cause of the Northville Arts Commission, call Sharon de'Aleixandris at 349-2963.

Or how about attending a meeting of the commission at 7:30 on a third Thursday at City Hall? There are 12 members on the Commission, she said, "and we have room for more."

Garden of the month

Everything is coming up roses at Mill Race site

If you like roses, you'll be happy to know there are over 300 varieties in bloom at Mill Race Historical Village.

Two years ago, Pat Hibbard asked the Northville Historical Society's Board of Directors for permission to plant and maintain a rose garden on the site. The idea was well-received and board members Greg Presley, Tom Holleman and Carolyn Stuart were instrumental in the garden's design and layout.

Some of the varieties within 10 triangular and square beds are hybrid teas; floribundas; grandifloras; old garden roses, shrub; climbing; miniatures; and New David Austin English roses.

The colors range from white, delicate pinks, subtle lavenders, buttercup yellows, soft peach and apricot to hot pink and deep magenta, and some are variegated.

The roses came from several sources: The Northville Historical Society, Pat Hibbard's garden, and from Northville residents Paul and Priscilla Wild who donated plants from their late father's garden; Ruth Crawford (Crawford's restaurant and bakery) and Grace and Frank Von Koss.

Pat is an accredited judge for The American Rose Society and a member of the Great Lakes, Detroit, Huron Valley, and metropolitan Rose Societies. She chairs state conventions, exhibits roses, and has won many trophies and ribbons at rose shows. She conducts weekend seminars on pruning, fertilization, and rose cultivation at various nurseries including Bordines and English Gardens.

She also spends many hours in the rose garden at Mill Race and is always eager to answer any questions from visitors regarding rose planting and cultivation. Her recipe for quality roses is: try Rapid Grow or Miracle Gro for roses. Mix in a sprinkling can and foliar feed your roses small amounts each week, being sure to wet the foliage and the ground with the liquid mixture. If you prefer to use granular (dry) fertilizer, select balanced fertilizers such as 12-12-12 or 15-15-15. For insect, blackspot, mildew or rust control, consult your local nursery for product recommendations.

Pat's full time position as an administrative assistant keeps her busy during the day, but after work and on weekends her energies are devoted to Mill Race and to nurturing the splendid rose garden there.

Pat's garden is really our garden to visit and enjoy. She provides all the work and we can just walk through and enjoy the view. Come see it, and while you're visiting, walk over to the gardens at Hunter House, the Weaver's Cottage and the Yerkes House.

These gardens were created and maintained by the Country Girls Garden Club of Northville, Womens' National Farm and Garden Association tion; the Wayne County Master Gardeners; and the Northville Branch of the Womens' National Farm and Garden Association, respectively. The flower beds in these areas represent gardens that were popular around the turn of the century.

No Sock Hop is complete without a slow dance

Twist again, like you used to do

Everybody who was ready to kick off their saddle shoes and twist at the 1992 Michigan 50s Festival's annual Sock Hop had to re-tie those bunny ear knots in disappointment.

It was cancelled due to logistical problems in 1991. The idea is that you make the scene at one hotel and board a free shuttle bus to hit all the other hot spots, but waiting for the ride took so long, the dancers were getting antsy.

Now just like greasy kid stuff, Peter Pan collars and rebels without a cause, the Sock Hop's returning, brought back "by popular demand."

"A lot of people were coming to us saying, 'hey, why don't you have it any more,' festival committee vice president Cary Wyatt said.

So this year, the transportation fleet was upgraded to three buses, two vans and two trollies. Maybe it's overkill, Wyatt added, but promoters are hoping this will do the trick.

So Friday, July 23 is the date for swingers who never made it to the Dick Clark Show, but just know they've got the right moves to wow the crowds with their style.

Four Novi hotels will hold the 6 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Sock Hop, which for the price of a $10 admission ticket ($12.50 at the door), includes four events.

'Rookie' plays out fantasy for kids and adults

Twelve-year-old Henry Rowengartner dreams the dream of most Little League players his age — hitting the game-winning homer in the ninth, pitching a shutout or making a diving catch.

Sadly, Henry's reality is that he is an enthusiastic yet somewhat clumsy ballplayer.

It's those two qualities that lead Henry to suffer a serious break to his arm. When he heals four months later, however, something very unusual has happened: his arm has become a 100 mph thunderbolt and his world is turned upside down as he becomes a pitcher for the Chicago Cubs.

Twentieth Century Fox presents a Robert Harper Production of a Daniel Stern Film, "Rookie of the Year," starring Thomas Ian Nicholas, Gary Busey, Dan Hedaya and Daniel Stern. The film is directed by Daniel Stern and produced by Robert Harper from a script by Sam Harper. The executive producers are Jack Brodsky and Irbay Smith.

"Rookie of the Year" stars Thomas Ian Nicholas as young Henry Rowengartner and Gary Busey as aging Chicago Cubs pitcher Chet Steadman, who teaches Henry about life on and off the field.

Amy Morton co-stars as Henry's well-intentioned mother and Bruce Altman plays her boyfriend, who hopes to ride on Henry's coattails to wealth.

Director Daniel Stern plays Phil Brickma, the Cubs' pitching coach, who never quite recovered from being hit in the head by a baseball in the minor leagues. ("Brickma is a pitching coach who basically knows nothing about baseball and a little less about pitching," observes Stern.)

Also featured in "Rookie of the Year" are Eddie Bracken as the Cubs' benevolent owner and Dan Hedaya as the scheming heir apparent owner of the team. Robert Gorman and Patrick La Breque are cast as Henry's best friends, Clark and George.

Beyond the fantasy of Henry trying to pitch the Cubs into the World Series (and diehard Cub fans might maintain that seeing the Cubs in the Series is more of a fantasy than a 12-year-old pitching for them), "Rookie of the Year" also touches on the proposition that every child is special and in some way touched by a bit of genius or even magic. While it's usually translucent, in the case of Henry Rowengartner his gift is on display for the whole world to see.

Production on "Rookie of the Year" took place entirely in Chicago. Wrigley Field was utilized for 20 days of filming and Chicago's Comiskey Park doubled for Dodger stadium.

Former and current minor league and college ballplayers were recruited to lend authenticity to the film, and former major league pitcher Tim Lincecum, who played for the Orioles, Cubs, Padres and Yankees, was brought on as a technical advisor (sharp-eyed baseball fans will recognize Stoddard playing a Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher in "Rookie").

Also making cameos in "Rookie of the Year" are Pedro Guerrero of the St. Louis Cardinals, Bobby Bonilla of the New York Mets and the major leagues' hottest player, Barry Bonds.

The genesis for the film came when screenwriter Sam Harper and Robert Harper (no relation) were trying to figure out a project they could work on together. Their goal — to make a film that was going to be for kids as well as adults.

"We thought, what better way to make a child's fantasy come true than to put him on a Major League baseball team — a fantasy, incidentally, which is shared by many adults," said Robert Harper. "As a kid, it's wonderful to feel that anything is possible and as an adult it's important to be reminded about the days when you felt that way."

"Henry's arm is like the red slippers in 'The Wizard of Oz,'" said Daniel Stern. "There's this magical element that drives the story, but in the end you learn a very down-to-earth lesson about having a heart and a brain."

Helping Henry learn that lesson is his mother, Mary, played by Chicago native Amy Morton. In this wildly improbable movie, the relationship between a son and his single mother helps keep the story grounded in reality. As a team, they cope with the joys and pitfalls of life as a pint-sized big leaguer.

"Mary had Henry so young that there's more than just a mother-son relationship; he's like her best friend, too," observed Morton. "I think this is something you see a lot with single parents who are close in age to their kids."

The key component in the development of "Rookie of the Year" for Stern was casting for the role of Henry. "The first thing I noticed with Thomas was that he was able to understand the humor and deliver funny lines funny," said Stern. "I wanted someone appealing and Thomas is a very handsome boy, but he's also got this typical 'everybody' look to him."

Thomas Ian Nicholas is surrounded by his adult Chicago Cub teammates in 'Rookie of the Year.'

Before filming began, Thomas worked on pitching from the mound of a local college in Los Angeles, but it was nothing to prepare him for the first time he walked out onto Wrigley Field.

"We filmed one shot between games of a doubleheader with St. Louis where there were about 35,000 people in the stands. I had to walk out from the bullpen and take the mound while everyone chanted my name," said the awed actor. "It was a great feeling. Then afterward, everyone asked me for autographs and asked to take their picture with me. They treated me like I was Daniel Stern."

The complex role of Chet Steadman, a pitcher somewhat bitter as he nears the end of a once brilliant career, is played by Gary Busey.

"Chet gets rekindled by Henry's spirit and zest for life," said Busey. "The rebirth of spirit extends from Chet to the rest of the team and then to Mary, Henry's mother, who comes to connect with Chet on an emotional level."

A performer in over 20 films, Busey was not at all worried about working with a first-time director. The last time that happened, it was for Steve Rash in The "Buddy Holly Story" and Busey won an Academy Award nomination.

"Danny's an amazing first-time director," said Busey. "He was very strong, stable and focused in his vision of the movie. Working with children can be difficult for many directors, but Danny had this knack for getting them to respond."

Summer coverage changes focus

Scott Daniel

The Fourth of July has come and gone. The year's first heat wave has hit with full force. Trips to the lake, backyard barbecues and the sound of children playing outside point to one glorious fact: It's summer.

All the months of grey sky, the seemingly endless cold days of winter are behind us now, for a little while at least. Kids have long since packed up their school supplies and pushed thoughts of September far back in their minds.

But just because school is on hiatus for a few months doesn't mean sports coverage at The Northville Record is on break, too.

True, you'll have to wait until fall to read about all the Northville High teams and how they'll make out in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Not to worry, though.

It won't be a summer of reruns at The Northville Record. Baseball, softball, golf, local recreation activities — our coverage promises to be as hot as the weather.

What summer would be complete without baseball?

In Northville, action on the diamond runs through early August. Many of the Mustangs' top players from this past spring are in action. We'll try to keep you up to date on how they fare in the Mickey Mantle and Connie Mack baseball leagues.

Northville High is also represented on the softball diamond. Many current and future Mustang varsity players are honing skills for next season this summer.

For the second straight year, The Northville Record will present its golf page. We'll review the area's newest and most interesting courses, provide some helpful tips for your game and update you on local tournaments and outings.

While we've got a lot in our lineup, the batting order is far from complete.

As always, The Northville Record is open to your suggestions. Whether it's an announcement or story idea, we want to hear your ideas.

Feel free to call me (349-1700) or drop a note with your thoughts. Either way, we'll see what can be done to give you the kind of sports coverage you want.

Enjoy summer.

Mantle team beats Windsor in seventh

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Tom Willer scored on an error in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Northville Mantle squad a 3-2 victory over Windsor June 29.

Brian Crumbly got the win in relief of starter Brian Buser. The triumph improved Northville's record to 7-2 in the Little Ceasars Mickey Mantle Baseball Federation.

Northville manufactured the game winning run.

Willer led the seventh inning off with a single. Anell Kersey pinch ran and moved to second on a passed ball.

Chris Gommersall then dragged a bunt down the third-base line. The Windsor third baseman fielded the ball but threw wildly to first allowing Kersey to score.

"If it hadn't been for Chris' speed forcing a hurried throw," coach Paul Newitt said, "we wouldn't have won."

The coach was happy to get the win. Windsor, he noted, is traditionally one of the league's premier clubs.

"They are a very good team," Newitt said. "It's a classy organization."

Northville had to rally to get back into the game.

Trailing 2-0 in the sixth inning, Jeff Luterek got the squad's first hit of the game. Crumbly and David McCulloch followed with singles and Luterek scored. Northville led the game on a fourth single by Jason Scheers.

Windsor looked like it would regain the lead in the top of the seventh.

A walk and an error moved a runner to third base with one out. Crumbly then got a strikeout and a ground out to get out of the inning.

Newitt said he is happy with how the season is progressing for Northville.

"I think we are doing a good job," he commented. "But there is always room for improvement."

The coach said his team has pitched and fielded well. Trouble has come with a lack of timely hitting.

Newitt said.

"The thing we've been lacking is getting the key hit when we needed it," he said.

Northville Mack squad defeats West Bloomfield

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

A tough season got a little easier for the Northville Connie Mack baseball team Monday night when the team hung on to beat a combined West Bloomfield-North Farmington squad 9-8.

Hurler Justin Cherfoli scratched, battled and clawed his way through 90 degree heat and some pesky Sox batters to earn a much needed victory for his team. The 17-year-old right hander threw well over 100 pitches and gutted his way past a blister on his pitching hand to go the distance for Northville on the road.

Down 9-2 in the fifth, West Bloomfield rallied for five runs off Cherfoli. The Sox got five hits in the inning, including a home run. Cherfoli worked out of trouble by inducing a ground ball to second base.

The home team rallied again in the seventh by scoring the game's final run. Cherfoli stranded two runners by recording another ground out to second base.

Northville pounded out 10 hits in support of its pitcher. Eric Shaw had three hits while Chris Turner knocked in three runs.

"We hit the ball hard tonight," assistant coach Chuck Apligan said. That Northville could hit the ball at all was amazing. The team played a triple-header in West Virginia Sunday in searing heat and with a shortage of players.

"We've got some tired puppies," manager Joe Staknis said before the game.

Fatigue didn't show in Northville's bats.

The visitors sent nine batters to the plate in the first inning en route to a 4-0 lead. Turner singled in a pair with the bases loaded and David Henry also knocked in two more with a single to center field.

West Bloomfield got two runs back in its half of the first. Some shaky Northville defense allowed both runs to score.

Northville added single runs in the second and third innings and three more in the fourth. Turner and first baseman Fred Swarthout knocked in all three runs in the fourth inning with singles.

Cherfoli, meanwhile, cruised along. He overpowered three batters on strikes in the second inning and made it easily through the third and fourth innings.

Northville improved to 5-13 on the summer.

Niners off to perfect start with pair of sweeps

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

The Northville Niners softball team opened its summer campaign with four straight wins last week.

The squad, which features many Northville High players, swept a pair of doubleheaders from West Bloomfield and Farmington. The Niners are playing out of the Farmington-based Incredible Fast Pitch League.

According to coach Frank Freimund, the league is primarily used for development of players.

"It gives me an opportunity to experiment with positions for next year," the Mustang skipper commented. "It also gives younger kids a chance to learn the game."

Although the squad is made up mostly of high schoolers, Freimund said he has several middle-school-age players. The league will give those younger players excellent experience, he added.

"I think it will be of big value for junior varsity kids that will be on varsity next year," Freimund said.

Northville swept the West Bloomfield Bombers Thursday. The Niners took game one 13-2.

Ahead 9-2 in the bottom of the third inning, Northville blew the game open.

Courtney Bartel drew a walk to lead off the inning. After a Jenny Frisbee base hit, Sara Kemp knocked in both runners with a double. Kari Krupansky and Sarah Johnson followed with RBI singles to give Northville a 13-2 lead. The game was called after four innings.

Andrea Moretti pitched an excellent game for Northville. The sophomore struck out 10 and allowed two hits in four innings.

"They helped her out a lot by swinging at bad balls," Freimund said.

Moretti pitched game two, an 11-4 Northville win, as well. She went the distance, striking out 10 and walking three.

Trailing 1-0, the Niners took the lead for good in the bottom of the first frame.

Kemp walked, stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch. Northville got two more runs on a triple by Kristin Moore and a sacrifice fly by Frisbee and led 3-1 at the end of the inning.

The Niners added two runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings. Moore led the way with two RBIs while Michelle Menghini had two hits, including a double.

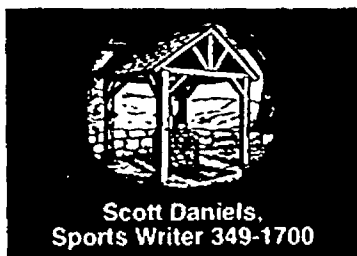

"We looked fairly good," Freimund said. "I'm getting cautiously optimistic about next season."

NORTHVILLE 6, FARMINGTON 1; NORTHVILLE 10, FARMINGTON 2

The June 27 opener went just five innings. Moretti cruised to victory on the mound, allowing just one hit.

Northville scored two runs in the first inning, one in the second and third, and two more in the fourth innings. Jenny Cooley led the way with two hits.

Game two went just as well with the Niners taking a 10-2 triumph. Krupansky relieved Moretti in the second inning. She struck out seven in her stint.

Downing Farms offers golfers tough challenge

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

The first thing that strikes you about Downing Farms Golf Course is its natural beauty.

From rolling, open terrain to heavily wooded flatlands, the area's newest course is also one of its most scenic. A one-time horse breeding facility, Downing Farms was created from one man's vision.

Jim Downing gazed at the 127-acre parcel's forests and ponds nearly 10 years ago and imagined a championship golf course. Instead of letting it remain a dream he enlisted the help of sons Chuck and Jim to make it a reality.

The family began clearing the land themselves in 1987, smoothing out fairways, transplanting trees and creating ponds. But, before work could be completed, the elder Downing died.

"Jim loved golf," said wife Mary Lou.

The family didn't let his dream pass away with him, though. Work started again three years ago and with the help of renowned golf architect Harry Bowers the course opened late last fall.

"Harry took Jim's design and worked around it," said Mary Lou. "We're very happy with what Harry's done."

"Harry took Jim's design and worked around it. We're very happy with what Harry's done."

MARY LOU DOWNING
Course owner

And for good reason. In its first full season, the course, just over Northville's border in Salem Township, already offers a good round. Golfers are challenged with tight fairways, small putting greens and enough hazards to lose at least a couple of balls.

Downing Farms first hole is a good example.

A 371-yard, par-4 from the white tees, the hole penalizes errant tee shots. A pond sits in front of the teeing area to the left while out of bounds lays off to the right. A good drive, though, leaves an easy second shot to the green, which is guarded by a sand trap.

A slight dog-leg left, the par-5, 423-yard, second hole doesn't offer too much trouble. A postage-stamp-sized green is the hole's toughest feature.

Downing Farms' sixth hole calls for an accurate tee shot.

The course's real character comes out on No. 3. A short par 4 at 379 yards, the hole places a premium on accuracy.

The tees face heavy woods, while a thin tree-line runs the length of the hole on the right. A hook means an almost certain trip out-of-bounds while a slight slice is actually rewarded. Second shots must also hit their mark as a small marsh sits off to the right of the green.

Perhaps the prettiest hole at Downing Farms is the par 3, 130-yard sixth hole.

A cattail pond protects the right side of the hole while a bunker sits directly in front of the green. A long drive off the tee sends the shot into the woods.

Golfers emerge from the woods on the eighth hole. A short par 4 at 271 yards, long hitters can shoot for eagle.

No. 9 provides a good finishing hole. A 387-yard uphill par 4, players must contend with a pond in front of the green on second shots.

The nine-hole course measures 2,872 yards from the white tees. More experienced golfers should play from the blue tees, which comes in at 3,222.

Playing out of sand not impossible

It sits usually in front of the green. It's known to devour golf balls and players alike in a single gulp.

The bunker.

For those who have ever picked up a golf club the sand-filled, crater-shaped hazards are every bit as dangerous as a school of sharks. According to Links of Novi Golf Professional Tom Sheldon, bunker shots can be tamed.

The biggest problem in playing out of the sand, he said, often is fear. With a little practice, Sheldon said that fear will vanish.

Golfers should open their stance for the shot and aim left of the target. The ball should also be placed in the middle of the stance or slightly towards the front foot.

Sheldon said the distance of the shot should determine the amount of backswing. Whatever that is, he added, follow through. Most poor shots are hit because the golfer quits on the ball.

Players should hit about an inch behind the ball, Sheldon said. Hitting too far behind the ball will make it much tougher to get it out of the bunker.

Novi softballers sweep doubleheader

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Novi continued its hot start in the Waterford Recreation Softball League with a sweep of McGuire Steel Thursday.

Solid pitching and booming bats led Novi to the victories. The squad also played good defensively, something coach Lee Bjerke said is very important.

"Our big focus is trying to improve the defense," he said. "If you can pick the ball up, you're going to win."

The recreation team is comprised mainly of Novi High players. Bjerke said his team's work this summer is aimed at improving for the varsity season next spring.

"The summer team is put together for that purpose," he commented.

If Thursday's first game is any indication, the Kensington Valley Conference better watch out.

Novi destroyed the Waterford-based team 10-1. Erin Bjerke tossed a two-hitter while striking out five batters in five innings.

The squad got all the runs it needed in the second inning.

Kelly Barton, who is second on the team in batting, led off with a single. Bjerke then doubled her home. Novi added two more runs on RBI singles by Melissa Strikulis and Amy Stoy.

Ahead 3-1, Novi put the game out of reach in the fourth inning. Strikulis singled in Barton and Bjerke, and then scored herself on a fielder's choice off the bat of Katie Shaw.

Game two went just five innings as Novi mowed McGuire Steel 13-3.

Already leading 4-1 in the top of the fourth inning, Novi blew the game open with seven runs. Christine Edwards led off with a triple and scored on a Bjerke double.

Melissa Waara cracked another double to score Bjerke.

Rock-n-Roll duo featured in concert

Tonight's 1993 Sounds of Summer Concert performers ask one thing... think sunny skies!

Rock duo Myk and Mary play over 250 dates a year, the majority inside, but they are very excited to be playing in Novi, especially outside.

Myk and Mary have been together two years, playing acoustic classic rock from the '60s and '70s. Mary plays a 12-string guitar and writes songs, while Myk plays a 6-string guitar. Both sing the songs they grew up listening to and love performing.

Tonight's concert will feature songs from the Beatles, Grateful Dead, Pink Floyd, Neil Young, Bob Dylan, Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix and Emerson, Lake and Palmer. Myk and Mary have built up quite a lot of faithful supporters.

"They follow us around from city to city," said Mary. "We've even had people take their vacations to Mackinac Island and Florida when we were performing."

Although they live in Ferndale, Myk and Mary are not strangers to Novi. They play at Mr. B's Farm every Tuesday night during the months of July, September and November. Many of their concerts are in Oakland County, but they do travel all around Michigan and to Florida.

If you like outside concerts, you can also catch them every Wednesday, from 8:30-11:30 p.m. in front of Cayle's Chocolates on Washington Street in downtown Royal Oak. Guest jazz performers are also featured with them as they jam to a wide variety of songs from Frank Zappa to Charlie Parker.

Myk and Mark will perform in Novi.

Clear your calendars tonight, and join Myk and Mary in front of the Novi Civic Center for some fabulous classic rock that we never grow tired of. Myk and Mary are ready to entertain you, preferably outside in the Novi sunshine.

Novi Parks and Recreation would also like to extend an extra thank you to Border Cantina, Honey Tree, Leon's, Olive Garden, Red Robin, Ruby Tuesday and Salvatore Scallopi for donating "Lunches for 2" that are given away at a prize drawing during each concert. Don't forget, there is also free lemonade, pretzels, balloons and blowing bubbles for the kids.

Why not make every Thursday evening a special night for you and your family? See you at seven!

Polar bear liver can cause poisoning

Raymond Hobbs, M.D.

Recently, the health tips article featured unusual facts about dentistry. I liked the idea and adopted it for medical facts.

- Polar bear liver causes vitamin A poisoning. It contains so much vitamin A that it is not even fed to sled dogs.

- Too much black licorice can cause hypertension. It contains glycyrrhetic acid which may elevate the blood pressure.

- Eating the unripe akee fruit from Polynesia may cause hypoglycemia (low blood sugar).

- The anticoagulant warfarin was discovered when it was found to be the cause of cattle bleeding after eating spoiled sweet clover.

- The drug digitalis was discovered by William Withering in 1785. He bought the secret for curing "dropsy" from a "witch." The drug is the leaf of the foxglove plant.

- Kuru, a cause of dementia in the Fore tribe of New Guinea is caused by a slow virus transmitted during cannibalism of infected people.

- The scorpions around Trinidad can cause pancreatitis (inflammation of the pancreas).

- One of the first associations between cancer and the environment was noted in chimney sweeps in England who were found to have a higher incidence of cancer of the scrotum.

- The most toxic plant in North America is the mushroom amanita phalloides. It is called the death cup. It can destroy the liver.

- Scurvy, once the scourge of sailors and caused by vitamin C deficiency, occurs in very few animals. Only humans, monkeys and guinea pigs need vitamin C. Other animals make their own using a liver enzyme which we lack.

- The name syphilis comes from a 16th century poem by Fracastorius. It is about the mythical shepherd, Syphilis, who had the disease.

- The only disease in the top 10 leading causes of death 100 years ago that remains in the top 10 today is pneumonia.

- Two-thirds of all the people who ever lived past the age of 65 since the dawn of recorded history are alive in 1993.

Select the right broker

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Selecting the best possible broker to help find and purchase or sell a home is vitally important.

Buying a home will probably be your largest investment. And the road to home ownership can be bumpy and littered with pitfalls unless you have a competent broker who is capable of guiding the process through the maze of potential problems to a smooth and successful conclusion.

How do you find that kind of broker? That's a question that many prospective home buyers face, particularly those who are moving to a new and unfamiliar area.

"If I were in that (buyer's) position, I would first look through the local newspaper and single out brokerage firms that advertise the most properties of the type and in the price range that would interest me," said Pat Fredericks, president of a regional Association of Realtors.

"Then I would stop at several selected open houses and talk

Wood-burning stove at the heart of the Palanuk

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

Enthroned on a wide tile hearth, a wood-burning stove is at the core of the sprawling, informal Palanuk. Whether you're standing in the living room, dining room or kitchen, you can feel its warmth.

The odd-shaped kitchen is brightened by windows over the corner sink.

Bay windows that wrap around the eating nook add more light, creating a cozy space for sipping that first cup of coffee, or sharing cookies and conversation with friends.

An eating bar, which divides the kitchen and living room, offers yet another spot for snacking and chatting, and adds usable counter space as well.

A generously sized utility room is but a few steps away, complete with laundry sink and extra space for a sewing machine, exercise machines or storage. A door to the patio allows quick cleanup after working in the yard.

One of three bedrooms is right next door, conveniently close to both the kitchen and the garage, and is a feature sure to be appreciated by any family.

Living room and dining room are combined in a long rectangular space adjacent to the kitchen. A bank of multipaned windows, capped by a huge half-round, adds drama while bathing the area in soft, natural light. French doors on the opposite end of the room open onto a patio.

Bedrooms are located together, on the right side of the group living areas. You could say that each has its own bathroom, but guests also have access to the bathroom closest to the second bedroom.

The bathroom in the master suite is, however, quite private. Access is only through the owners' sleeping area. It features twin basins and a shower/tub combination.

Because the house has only one bedroom in addition to the master suite, the Palanuk is best suited to the needs of empty-nesters, or childless couples, who like to keep a second bedroom for occasional guests.

Susan Swindlehurst specializes in trying to get people to start composting and mulching, two lawn maintenance techniques that decrease waste in landfills, naturally fertilize lawns, save fertilizer costs, and enjoy host of other advantages.

Swindlehurst is a waste reduction coordinator with City Management Corp., a waste removal, recycling and composting company serving southeastern Michigan including areas of Brighton and Howell.

She defines mulching as any technique whereby organic matter is spread in thin layers on the ground and left to decompose naturally, so that soil organisms can convert it to humus (decomposed organic matter).

Composting is based on the same principal, but instead of spreading the material on the ground, it is binned and allowed to decompose, after which it's spread around.

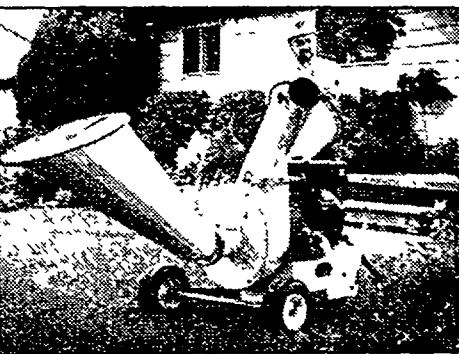

Probably the hardest part about mulching is getting a mulching mower if you don't already have one. Swindlehurst said if you don't want to spend the money on a brand new mower, kits are available that will allow you to retrofit some mowers so they have mulching capabilities.

Mulching mowers are different than regular mowers because when the grass is cut, air suction created by the mower blades circulates clippings through the cutters several times, making grass small enough to decompose quickly. The mower blades also act as a fan to push the clippings back into the ground.

Unfortunately, some homeowners won't mulch because they think it causes weeds—a conclusion, Swindlehurst said, that is pure fallacy.

"Whenever people debate the fact that they don't want to mulch and it doesn't work I always tell them the most beautiful lawns in the world are golf courses and they certainly don't pick up their clippings there."

about every two years because it decomposes.

Another option for grass clippings and leaves, or any uncooked vegetable or organic waste, is composting. With composting material is put into bins, bagged or piled and allowed to decompose. Janet Bentley of Hamburg Township has a compost bin on her farm.

She said it's made out of fencing and waste is thrown inside

RECYCLING: A way of life

By C.Z. Guest
Copley News Service

There has been a significant shift during the past several years in the number of Americans using environmental practices such as recycling (a 49 percent increase) and composting (a 28 percent increase).

These findings reveal that a key factor affecting this change in behavior has been the increased attention by the media on the environmental problems facing our nation.

For example, of adults who recycle, 69.3 percent say that recent news accounts and publicity shaped their decision to start recycling.

Similarly, 83.5 percent of adults who purchase biodegradable products and 59 percent of those who conserve water cite these reports as having a profound effect on their actions.

Nationwide, nearly three-fourths (70 percent) of the adult population is recycling newspapers, glasses and cans.

The greatest number of individuals practicing this technique reside in the Western part of the nation, with 88 percent of individuals in this region recycling.

Interestingly, nearly half of those individuals who recycle started in the past two years.

GARDENING

Similarly, among those individuals who use biodegradable products, nearly two-thirds started purchasing these products during the past two years.

ASSORTED TIPS

• Don't discard used motor oil. Instead, fill 5-gallon buckets about two-thirds full with sand. Then pour the old oil from your tractor, lawn mower, car or tiller onto the sand.

When you finish using a garden tool, simply insert the blade into the mix. The sand will remove the dirt and the oil will lightly coat the metal to prevent it from rusting. Place the buckets outside your tool shed.

• Ants in the garden? If so, pour some ammonia into an anthill and the surrounding area. This procedure should eliminate them immediately.

• Snails and slugs are voracious feeders on seedlings, so inspect your tiny treasures often. Soft-bodied aphids suck juices from tender buds and new growth. Inspect plants carefully for this menace, too!

• I think it's best to plan your paste tomatoes by their maturing dates. Maturing time

ANTIQUES

Q. I have enclosed a picture of a porcelain bowl that has been in my family for some time. I am in my early 70s, and it belonged to my parents. On the bottom it is marked "Nippon" and "Hand Painted."

A. Any information would be appreciated.

A. Nippon is the phonetic spelling for Japan. Nippon china was made for export from 1891 to 1921.

Your bowl is worth around $100 to $125.

Q. I have a vase with this mark on the bottom. It is decorated with purple violets and green leaves, and is 5 inches tall.

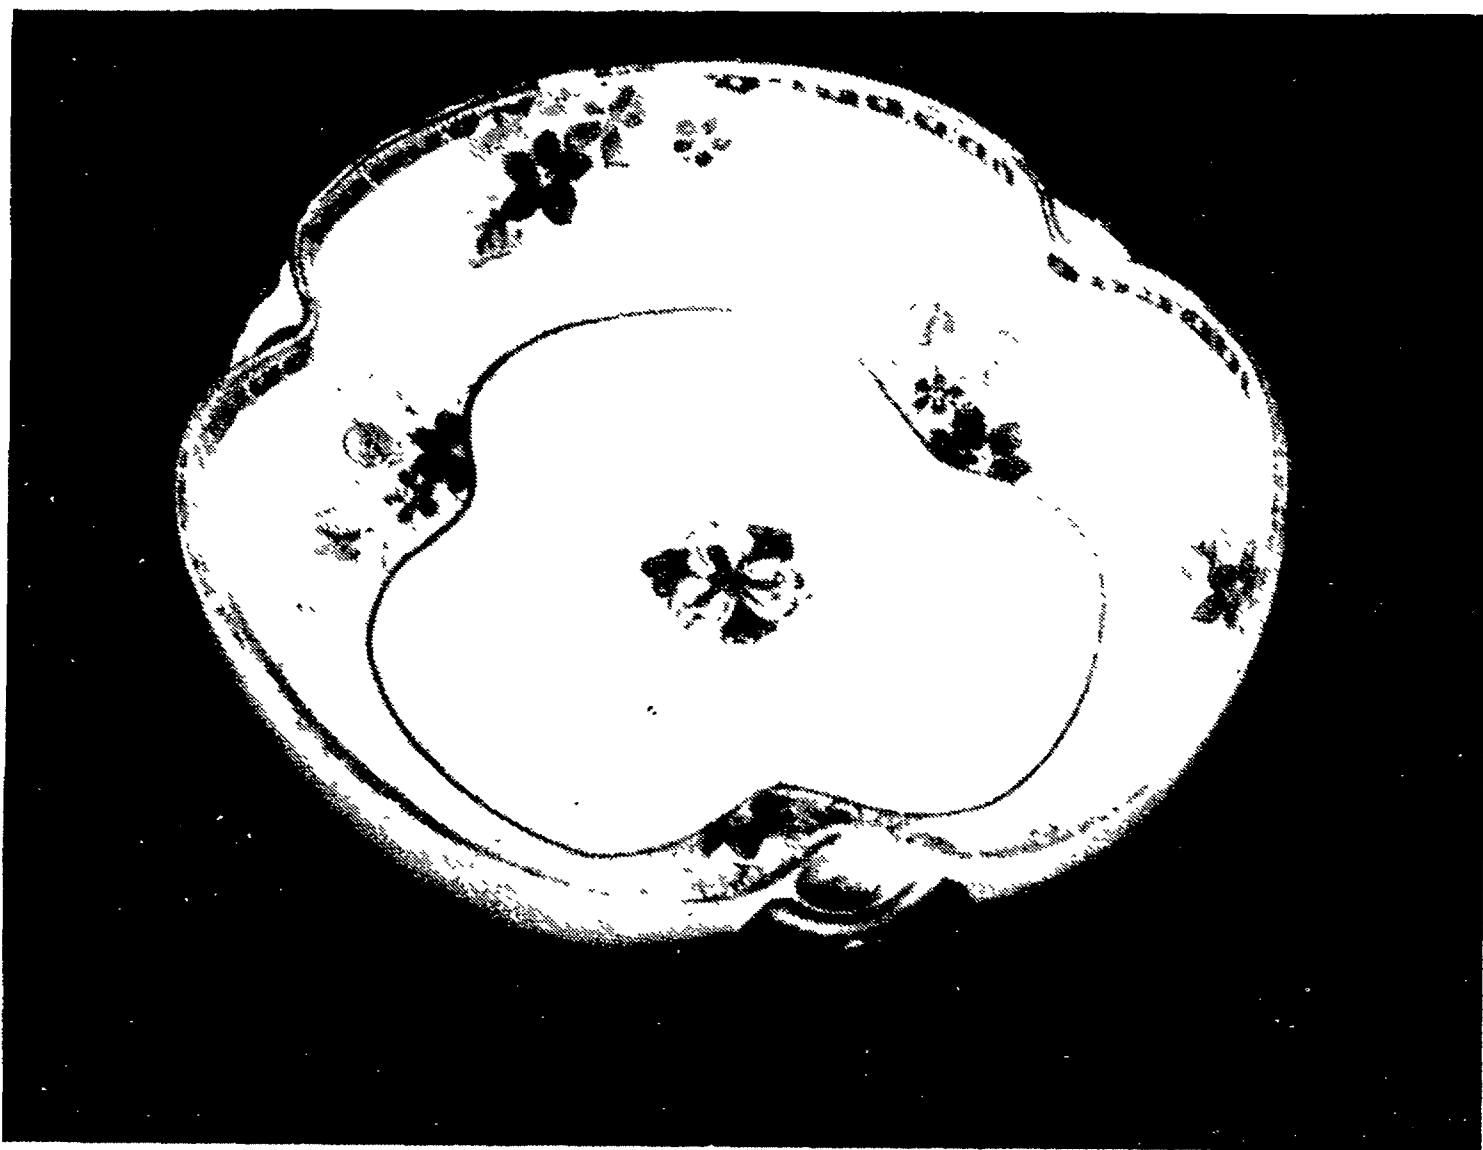

Can you tell me anything about it?

A. Your vase was made by Camille Naudot & Co. in Paris, France, in the early 1900s.

It would probably sell for about $40 to $50.

Q. I have an incomplete dinner service (125 pieces) of china. The inscription on the bottom of each piece reads "John Maddock & Sons, England, Royal Vitreous, Seville, Reg. No. 250118."

I would be interested to know the age and value. Also where I might purchase the missing items.

This porcelain bowl was made between 1891 and 1921 and would sell for $100 to $125.

Thank you for any information.

A. The Seville registry number indicates it was registered sometime in 1895. The value depends on the completeness of the set. Replacement cost can be quite high.

Send information and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Replacements Ltd., P.O. Box 26029, Greensboro, NC 27420.

Q. I have a chocolate pot that I inherited from my grandmother. It is 10 inches tall and decorated with pink flowers, green leaves and vines on a white background. It is marked on the bottom "Victoria, Carlsbad."

Could you provide me with any information about the value and vintage?

A. Your chocolate pot was made by the Victoria Porzellanfabrik in Carlsbad, Austria. It was made in the late 1800s, and would be worth about $100 to $125.

BOOK REVIEW

"Identifying Pattern Glass Reproductions" by Bill Jenks, Jerry Luna and Darryl Reilly, published by Wallace-Homestead Book Co., an imprint of Chilton Book Co. It is available in antique shops and bookstores.

Pattern glass reproductions have always been a problem for collectors and dealers. Now there is an excellent reference guide that takes the guesswork out of determining if a piece is a reproduction or an original.

The book includes charts, black-and-white photos, original catalog pages and manufacturers' marks.

Jenks, Luna and Reilly are experts at providing helpful information on the telltale signs of a reproduction.

This is a valuable guide for even the most knowledgeable collectors and dealers.

Selecting the right broker for your special real estate needs with the host broker or sales associate. It's important to feel comfortable with and have confidence in your broker. And making a realistic evaluation usually involves one-on-one discussions."

Fredericks also suggests stopping in at several brokerage offices that appear to be good and strategic firms for serving personal real estate needs. Talk with the "floor person" (normally the person who will greet you) and, if appropriate, the firm's owner-broker.

Ask a lot of questions. Find out how long the firm has been in business, the type of properties they most frequently list and sell and the geographic area in which those properties are located. Ask for a list of properties sold within recent months and addresses and phone numbers of owners. Call a few of them and ask about the quality of service they received.

Take notes regarding all contacts. Compare impressions with those at other firms.

Bobbi Courselle, public relations committee chairwoman and a director of another Association of Realtors, suggests giving preference to larger firms.

"These organizations have people who can quickly fill in for an agent who might be out of town or otherwise be unavailable at a time when action is needed," she said. "And they're more likely to have better insurance coverage in case something goes wrong."

Courselle also said that a list of current members of the local association (or board) of Realtors also can be helpful in the broker selection process. The association will not recommend a particular broker or firm, but will usually be glad to provide a membership list, she said.

Fredericks cited a personal experience to illustrate the type of broker who is most likely to perform productively for a home-seeking client.

"When we moved from Michigan to California, my husband had to select a broker without me," she said. "He called several brokers who he thought might be good possibilities. Most of them asked for his phone number and said they would call back if and when they found something."

"However, one broker told my husband to meet him in his office in 30 minutes and he would have three or four 'most likely' homes ready for him to consider. This was the action-oriented broker who found our home and guided us through the closing process."

Fredericks also advises prospective buyers to "walk away" from a broker who the client believes is not doing a good job. But the client should first discuss the situation candidly with the broker and give him the opportunity to correct any problems, she stressed.

Most brokers work hard for their commissions, received only when a sales transaction is closed. Their future success depends largely on referrals from satisfied clients. That particularly applies to brokers who are making real estate a career.

However, it's a highly competitive field.

A large percentage of people who obtain a real estate license abandon the field within a year.

With so much at stake, it's worth the time and effort to be sure the broker you select is serious, knowledgeable and capable of performing productively.

Questions may be used in future columns; personal responses should not be expected. Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Fixing vinyl flooring seams and humming fixtures

By Gene Gary
Copley News Service

Q. The sheet vinyl flooring we had installed in the kitchen is parting at the seams. The installer is no longer in business, so we are not able to hold anyone responsible.

Is there any way that we can successfully reglue these seams ourselves?—C.W.

A. You should be able to reglue the seams yourself, but it is important that you contact a manufacturer's representative of the brand you purchased. Procedures and adhesives vary from one brand to the next, and it is best if you use the specific adhesive recommended by the manufacturer.

If you are unsure of the brand, here are some general guidelines.

It is important that you remove any dirt and old glue from the seams before you reglue. Working with a putty knife, gently lift the loosened vinyl and scrape away dirt and any old glue.

Use rubbing alcohol or lighter fluid on a clean cloth to clean the surfaces to be reglued, both the flooring and the underneath surface of the vinyl. Warm the vinyl flooring with a hair dryer to make it more flexible, and then apply the flooring adhesive to the floor with a paint brush.

Roll the flooring down over the adhesive with a wallpaper edge roller, a rolling pin or, for large areas, a 100-pound flooring roller that can be rented.

Weight down the seam (you will need heavy books or bricks for adequate pressure), and allow the glue to set for at least 24 hours. Now fill the seams with a seam sealer, following manufacturer's directions. The seams should be sealed tight to prevent dirt and water from getting under the vinyl, which will cause the seams to again loosen.

Both flooring adhesive and seam sealer are available at flooring retailers.

Q. The fluorescent fixtures used for indirect lighting in our living room have developed an annoying humming, which is very distracting. It seems to get worse the longer the lights are left on.

Can this be eliminated, or do I need to replace the fixtures, which are about 10 years old?—M.C.

A. This humming usually is caused by a mechanical vibration from the magnetic forces in the ballast located inside the fixture. If this is the cause, the humming can be corrected by replacing the ballast. There should be no need to replace the entire fixture.

However, all ballasts are not the same. Different fixtures require different types of ballasts. Ballasts also come with sound ratings, which are determined by laboratory and manufacturing standards. They range from "A" to "F"—with the "A" rating being the quietest.

Be sure and remove the old ballast unit and take it with you when you go for a replacement. Ballasts are sold at electrical supply stores and home centers.

To remove the ballast, shut off the power supply at the fuse box. Remove the fluorescent fixture covering and the fluorescent tubes. A small black box (the ballast), which is connected by two wires, should then be exposed.

Disconnect the wiring, making a note on which wire goes where so you can reinstall the new ballast, wire for wire. If you already have an "A" rated ballast that is relatively new, the source of your problem may be in the mounting of the fixture, not the ballast.

Sometimes the surface to which the fixture is attached can act like a sounding board, causing excessive noise due to vibrations. Remounting the fixture with vibration-dampening fasteners can help minimize the problem.

Composting easy if basic rules are followed where it stays until it's decomposed enough to spread. Bentley placed decorative plants around the bin to hide it, and said there usually is no smell.

If you don't have room on your property for a bin, you can use plastic garbage bags, which she said she will try this year.

Bentley, who is a receptionist at the Hamburg Township Hall, said the township sponsors a compost pile for anyone in the area to use, but unlike Bentley's, only leaves and grass are allowed inside.

Linda Strang, chairperson for the Hamburg Township Environmental Review Board, said there are a few tips that make composting easier:

- Never put cooked table scraps in the compost pile, they will rot and smell bad;
- Keep the pile moist; this will aid decomposition;
- Adding fertilizer helps material decompose faster;
- Adding a layer of black dirt to every six inches of compost locks in moisture, helping decomposition;
- Turning the pile with a pitchfork lets air circulate and keeps the pile from smelling.

Early-season tomatoes need 50 to 65 days from transplanting to harvest. Midseason varieties require 65 to 79

Quick oil shop puts some fun in fill-ups

By RICK BYRNE
Copy Editor

Fast oil change shops have populated the landscape quicker than Henry Ford's Model T did in its day. From a type of business that was unheard of little more than 10 years ago, quick oil changes have become fixtures of America's roadside culture.

So when one comes along that's a little bit unusual, it tends to stand out like a Model T with a purple paint job.

Jim's Oil Depot opened recently on Doherty Drive in Northville, as an offshoot of Davis Auto Care, a long-established auto repair center in town. Jim's Oil Depot differs from many of the other in-and-out oil change shops in that you not only get service with a smile. You get it with a touch of fun and nostalgia too.

The shop was painted inside and out to look like a turn-of-the-century railroad depot. Service technicians go about their work in engineer caps with bandanas around their necks. And along the west wall, a large-scale model railroad runs in a continuous loop from one end of the shop to the other.

"The railroad theme started at the Northville Business Expo," said owner Jim Davis. "We wanted to have something to remind people that we were the business that was under the railroad tracks, so we put a model train car at our display. We started building on that, and it just snowballed."

An architect was contacted, who designed the depot-look front entry, as well as the artwork for the inside and outside of the shop. The artwork inside features high, arched false windows, through which a departing turn-of-the-century passenger train and locomotive are visible.

On the outside, things like the "We wanted to keep Northville's Victorian theme," said Davis. "But that's hard to do with an industrial or automotive business. This is what we came up with, and it's been a lot of fun."

It's so much fun coming to Jim's Oil Depot for quick oil service it's easy building's gas and electric service boxes have been disguised as railroad freight.

to forget that what you came for. Davis and his staff will not only perform a quick oil change and lube with Mobil, Pennzoil, Quaker State or Valvoline products. They'll perform a 15-point safety inspection which includes checking your breather, PCV valve, wipers, all fluids and a check of all your vehicle's exterior lights. The unique Mobil 1 synthetic oil is offered, which reduces engine wear to almost none, at a slightly higher price. Air filters are sold here, and major fluid service like transmission, coolant and differential flushes are also available.

Jim's Oil Depot performs AET service for those cars requiring it.

Your car is serviced on a unique two-level lift. You can stay in your car while it is raised, or step into the waiting room if the height makes you uncomfortable. Davis said his technicians like it better than the underground pits used by most oil change shops.

And the lift is a hit with kids because they can stop, look and listen while the parents get the car serviced.

Elevating the car places the model railroad right at eye level. In the time it takes for an oil change, you can watch the Colorado Southern locomotive chug from Victoria Station at one end, to the waiting room at the other, and then loop around over three trestles again.

"We're going to add things to the train set as we go along," said Davis. "People can watch a whole little town spring up."

"They can bring the kids in and have a good time. With the model train, it's almost like Christmas. No appointment is necessary, but for more information, call 349-5115."

One-Day Scrub Attack Rejuvenates Cabinets

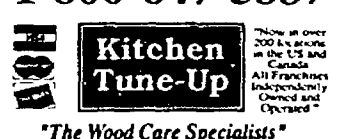

Maybe your kitchen cabinets don't need to be replaced. Maybe they just need a day at the spa. Kitchen Tune-Up® is a national franchise that revives worn cabinets. It's done in one day, and you don't even empty the drawers. First, workers scrub off the gunk with a surface cleaner. Then they rub in a wood stain. Next they touch up problem spots and treat the wood with KTU Oil. They also polish and clean your counter tops and align hinges and drawer slides.

Are Your Kitchen Cabinets Showing Their Age?

We offer FREE No Obligation demonstrations so you can see the results for yourself.

Summer is GREAT learning time — to catch up or move ahead!

Your child can learn. You know he can. But sometimes his natural abilities seem to be 'jammed up' (as one of our students put it). The same tired drill can't fix that. But a systematic program can — if it is based upon the science of learning.

If your student is having reading or learning problems, he may just need a second approach. And the best second approach is one which strengthens the natural learning process. Wehril Performance Training does just that, improving skills like:

- following directions
- remembering
- thinking fast

- comprehending

What To Do

Register your student now in the amazing Wehril Performance Training program. He will get lots of reading practice and positive feedback from certified, caring teachers. Math help is available, too.

Get started now for summer. Enroll by July 30 and get two weeks FREE.

Family plans are available. What About Adults?

We also have adult programs. If you read okay, but would like to read faster and comprehend more, there is a program here for you. Better reading skills can improve your pleasure reading or even advance your career.

JIMMY R. VAUGHAN

JOSEPH M. HAMMOND, president and chief executive officer of Jervis B. Webb Co., announced the appointment of Jimmy R. Vaughan as vice president of installation. Vaughan will retain his current responsibilities as vice president and general manager of Webb Electric Co., a full service electrical contracting firm serving the United States. Webb Electric Co. is a wholly owned Webb subsidiary, located in Farmington Hills.

Jimmy Vaughan has had over 30 years of experience in the construction and project management field, including employment with Paschen Contractor, Inc. of Chicago, Ill.; Blount Brothers Corporation of Montgomery, Ala.; and Reeve Electric Company of Birmingham, Ala. He joined the Webb organization in March, 1989 as vice president and general manager of Webb Electric Company.

Joe Hammond says, "Jimmy Vaughan's performance in managing Webb Electric and his previous experience in construction management makes him extremely well suited to direct the field installation organization of the Jervis B. Webb Company."

Vaughan, a licensed master electrician and a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and the University of Alabama. He currently resides with his wife and two children in Novi.

MELODY ARNDT has been accepted into the Million Dollar Club of the Coldwell Banker Schweitzer organization. Arndt, a long-time resident of the Northville/Novi community, is active in the Newcomer's Club and the Northville Historic Society. With a degree in communications, Melody brings a wealth of sales experience and devotion to the community to the Northville office of Coldwell Banker Schweitzer Real Estate.

nior vice presidents. He led the development of the medical center's three-year strategic plan and created a six-site comprehensive occupational medicine program with current annual gross billing of $7.2 million.

Mercy is a 485-bed academic community health system with annual revenues of $160 million.

Joseph said he is pleased about his new position. "I am extremely excited about the opportunity to come to a rapidly growing hospital with close ties to the community."

"I will attempt to further communicate the perspective that Huron Valley Hospital is a community resource. We will assess the community's needs and respond to them," Joseph added.

Joseph and his wife Carolyn are the parents of five children. The family will relocate to the Huron Valley area in the near future.

"We are looking forward to participating in the community as a family," Joseph said. "It will be a good fit for us."

A member of the Detroit Medical Center, Huron Valley Hospital is a 153-bed JCAHO accredited full-service community hospital located in Commerce Township, serving western Oakland and eastern Livingston counties.

Together with Wayne State University, The Detroit Medical Center strives to be the region's premier health care resource.
