Controversial development subject of meeting

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

Northville Township planners will head back to the table Tuesday night to discuss the chances of a proposed 414-unit planned residential development taking root on the former sand and gravel pit on Seven Mile. The new, revised development is a court ordered replacement for the former Shores of Northville development that fell through years ago.

After hours of debating the plan last Tuesday, planning commissioners failed to act on the concept plan that was before them for approval. Instead they tabled the request from the group of developers because there were too many unanswered questions about setbacks, traffic impact and lot sizes.

The commissioners' consideration of the proposed plan followed a well-attended public hearing on the concept plan.

Township Planning Director Carol Maise said the project, which has been renamed twice since it surfaced again this year, is now being called Stone Water Lakes of Northville. It offers 414 detached lots with 131 condominiums.

Maise said the township board entered into a consent judgment with the developers in August. The court order from the Wayne County Circuit Court said the new plan qualified under the township's Planned Residential Unit Development option.

The order established minimum lot sizes and the density of the development, but didn't address setback requirements Maise said.

When planners caught a glimpse of the plan they realized the developers were asking for several setback variances, Maise said. In some cases, Maise said the setback variances are substantial to accommodate the number of homes being proposed.

"They are shortening up what they agreed to earlier," she said about the differences between the original plan and the one planners are eyeballing now. "They want bigger houses on smaller lots."

Maise said the township didn't address the setback requirements with the developers originally because planners wanted some flexibility in the proposed plan to work around the number of lakes on the land.

"We wanted to encourage some creativity in the plan," she said.

The planning director said setback variances will become an issue and could impede the planning process. Under the proposed plan, developers have violated front and rear setback requirements.

They have also taken setback liberties between buildings to accommodate more homes. But the setbacks aren't the only issues that remain unresolved. Planners also have to consider the additional traffic loads on Seven Mile and the environmental impact of taking down trees in the area.

"There is going to be impact here," she said. "There will be more traffic and we are concerned about the transition especially from Blue Heron."

In spite of all the obstacles, Maise remained optimistic that the former sand and gravel pit could be reclaimed.

"We are pleased with it," she said. "It's a good plan with a considerable amount of open space."

"... It looks real good," she said. The commission will resume its deliberations on the concept plan Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. But unlike last week, the project isn't the only item on the agenda.

Planners are also meeting to consider a land division for Township Supervisor Karen Baja and view a sketch of the proposed outdoor service deck for Woolly Bully's.

The planning commission meets at township hall, 41600 Six Mile Road.

B & E kingpin enters guilty plea

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

The Redford ring leader tied to string of residential break-ins in Northville Township this summer pled guilty to charges in a Wayne County Circuit Court last week.

Last Monday, Anthony Burton of Redford pled guilty to one count of possession with the intent to deliver marijuana and one count of receiving and concealing stolen merchandise.

Northville Township Police Detective John Werth arrested Burton at his family's Redford home on July 7 after police learned he was the one Northville teenagers would bring their stolen merchandise to in exchange for marijuana.

According to Werth, the teenagers broke into 12 township homes and then carted the televisions, video cameras and other electronic equipment they stole over to Burton's house.

Twenty-two year old Burton would take what merchandise he could use from the Northville teenagers and pay them off with marijuana, the detective said.

Police caught Burton off guard sleeping in his basement in the wee hours of the humid July morning. They confiscated a truck load of stolen merchandise and 9 1/2 ounces of marijuana from the basement of the Redford home. They also confiscated $2,021 in cash and other bills they had marked from a controlled drug buy they made with Burton just days before the raid.

Monitoring wells to go in near Cal's

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

The new owners of Cal's Car Care are still trying to determine the extent of underground contamination at the former gas station at the corner of Main and Wing.

With that aim in mind, the owners have asked the city for permission to plant three groundwater monitoring wells along the front lawn at Northville City Hall. City officials have approved the request subject to stricter definition of the area to be tested and cleanup of the site after the test wells are no longer needed.

Two more monitoring wells are planned for the gravel lot east of the station, on property owned by Northville businessman Jim Long.

The series of test wells should help determine the extent to which groundwater off the site has been contaminated, and the boundaries of any potential contamination plume. Testers also hope to determine the direction of groundwater contamination.

The building, at 202 W. Main St., sits across from city hall. Former owner Mary Cross sold the station to Scott Lapham, son of Northville clothier Charles Lapham, earlier this year and the Laphams have been overseeing the property's subsequent cleanup.

The site was tested for contaminants in January after test borings revealed the presence of petroleum vapor in the soil. As part of the cleanup, five fuel tanks between 500 and 8,000 gallons in size, and a sixth smaller oil tank, were pulled from the site and 80 cubic yards of soil were hauled away Jan. 25.

Soil tainted at Service Station

The excavated sites were then lined with polyethylene sheeting and refilled with sand and gravel.

The site was then tested for a series of substances associated with petroleum products like gasoline and diesel fuel, by ATEC Environmental Consultants of Novi. While most of the samples showed substance levels below Environmental Protection Agency standards, several revealed contamination levels well above those standards.

A sample taken from beneath the largest fuel tank on the east side of the property found benzene levels of 9,300 parts per billion and total xylenes of 560,000 parts per billion.

Enrichment options limited under plans

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Just 35 of Michigan's 562 school districts would be able to ask voters for extra voted property taxes under two school reform plans alive in the State Capitol.

Under the House bipartisan team's plan, other schools would have to band together in countywide campaigns to "enhance" their revenues with more millage. And the revenue would have to be spread evenly per pupil.

Gov. John Engler's plan wouldn't allow enhancement millages to just anyone.

"Unfair," said the acting superintendent of Detroit public schools.

"Good idea," said a conservative economist speaking for the Michigan Manufacturers Association.

The scene Tuesday was the House

Taxation Committee. While both Senate and House skipped full sessions, committees were at work on school quality and finance reform plans. Goal: to replace $6.9 billion in property taxes wiped out by Senate Bill 1 (now Public Act 145).

Under both plans, no school district would receive more than $6,500 per pupil. Those currently spending more — above $10,000, in some cases — would be allowed to ask voters for enrichment millages. But many others spending less than $6,500 would like to.

Northville's approximate per pupil spending rate is $6,100, thus Northville would not enjoy the option of seeking enrichment mills under the proposals.

David Snead, Detroit's acting superintendent, said Detroit should be constituted a separate voting district and not forced to take part in a Wayne County intermediate district millage election.

"Detroit would have to depend on surrounding school districts. That's unfair because many won't want to equalize opportunity for a city so depressed," said the former principal of Cass and Redford highs.

And if Detroit isn't set up as a separate voting district, Snead said, then "all school districts should have the opportunity to levy enhancement millages."

The countywide enhancement plan was praised by economist Gary Wolfram, speaking for the Michigan Association of Manufacturers. A Hilldale College economist and former advisor to Engler, Wolfram opposed state aid above the $5,000 mark.

Wolfram called "$5,000 per pupil clearly sufficient. I see no reason for the state to go beyond that. If you want to spend more locally, go ahead and raise it locally. It's a good idea to have regional (intermediate school districts) reimburse. We should allow enhancement millages at $5,000 and up, not $6,500 and up."

Wolfram criticized the House bipartisan plan as too costly. It would raise a total of $10.15 billion for schools compared to the current $9.7 billion (counting both state aid and local taxes).

The MMA spokesman said the House team's plan had failed to maintain the 65-35 division of taxation between individuals and business. He said the personal income tax figures showed business' share as zero, but it actually is levied on sole proprietors and small corporations. Also, sales taxes are counted as falling on individuals although they're also paid by businesses, he said.

Parent mulls how to discuss drinking with teen

Editor's note: This is the fourth in a series of articles examining alcohol and drug use among Northville teenagers. The following is a letter written by a parent to Student Assistance coordinator Charles Stilec after an experience involving alcohol and her son's friends. Stilec says the parent's story is similar to those of other parents and their struggles in parenting teens. Parents seeking assistance in how to handle situations such as the mother's below, are encouraged to call Stilec at 344-1825.

"Boy, I hate being blind-sided by my kids (especially number one, being the guinea pig with whom I'm

BATTLING ABUSE
The quest for drug-free schools groping my way through parenting teenagers.)

"Something happened this fall which caught me totally off guard, and I wished I could think a lot faster on my feet.

"Concerning substance abuse, we've had a few foundations pretty well in place: our kids understand that there won't be any use of alcohol or drugs by anyone under age in our home.

"We've talked together in casual conversation about the negative consequences of substance abuse, not only the severe effects of auto accidents but also the possibility of making poor judgments with long term consequences while under the effects of drugs or alcohol, what a trap addiction is to get out of, and the dam ages that addiction does to relationships over the long haul.

"I made a commitment to my children that I would not drink any alcohol until they're all of drinking age, hope fully seen by them not as manipulation but as an attempt on my part to be a quiet support to them in an arena of great pressure.

"Those foundations still didn't help me to know what I would do when confronted face to face with drinking by teens. And my thinking was still in the "theory" stages.

"My son had tickets to go to an outdoor concert and in the hours pre

Parents protest sales of 'objectionable' videos

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff Writer

A national marketing plan by the McDonald's corporation to sell videos of the movie Wayne's World, which include a message on AIDS prevention, has raised the ire of a group that picketed a Novi location on Friday. The approximately 20 people picketing at the restaurant at Eight Mile and Haggerty were up in arms because McDonald's has a reputation as a family-oriented restaurant and they believe the movie as well as the AIDS prevention piece do not reflect those values.

The AIDS prevention piece is a 60-second trailer promoting another video called Time Out, which contains information on preventing the spread of the HIV virus through the use of condoms. It features talk show host Arsenio Hall and former Los Angeles Lakers basketball player Ervin "Magic" Johnson, who has been infected with the virus that causes AIDS.

Novi resident Phyllis Counts said she is offended by the Wayne's World video "because of the way they represent women, as either (tough) types with see-through tops and bras underneath or as ditzy, stupid types, and because of the dirty, filthy language and the filthy words for sex or reference to sexual organs."

Counts said she's offended by the Time Out promotion because "it's hosted by Arsenio Hall and, if you've ever watched him, he's a pot mouth. And Magic Johnson has admitted that he got the HIV virus from his promiscuous lifestyle. In the video, they are urging people to use condoms."

Counts said she was told by a manager at the Novi location that if she doesn't like the video, she shouldn't buy it.

Renee Reyer of Canton, another person who picketed, said she and others tried to persuade McDonald's to pull Wayne's World out of its promotion, but were unable to do so.

"The people at the (Novi) McDonald's, and at the regional office in Southfield, and the corporate office in Oak Brook, Ill., have been indifferent," Reyer said. "We tried to work with McDonald's as a whole by calling and writing letters, but they just don't care."

But McDonald's regional advertising manager Danny Howell said the corporation chose the PG-rated Wayne's World as well as the movies Ghost and Adam's Family as part of a promotion designed to appeal to adults and young adults.

"Throughout the year we offer a variety of promotions ranging from Happy Meal items for children, to items for teenagers and adults," he said.

"Our customers told us that they wanted a variety, and after that we found that those three movies are the most popular with adults and young adults."

Howell said that McDonald's is also offering videos of the movie Charlotte's Web, in an effort to appeal to children.

Reyer, who is a volunteer at an area youth home, said her main concern is that McDonald's actively works to appeal to children, and feels the company should not sell a video like Wayne's World at the same time.

But Howell pointed out that people of all ages, with a wide range of interests, patronize McDonald's.

"McDonald's serves people of all ages," Howell said. "During an (adult-oriented) promotion like this we look for what will appeal to the most people. This promotion was developed and reviewed by all different segments of the population and they told us it was appropriate for McDonald's."

Reyer, who said she talks about sex with her 8-year-old daughter but tells her not to do it, said she believes the more teenagers are taught about sex the more they will feel they have a license to do it.

"Contrary to what the media says, a lot of studies show the more we sexually educate these kids the more sexually active they become," she said.

McDonald's spokesman Howell countered that the video, including the AIDS prevention piece, had already been widely distributed before McDonald's began to offer it.

Wells to go in near old station

EPA standards call for 10 parts per billion of benzene and 30 parts per billion of total xylenes.

Benzene is considered a carcinogen.

ATEC's initial testing found no evidence of either "free-phase gasoline" or groundwater under the site, but a subsequent test April 21 found evidence of "free product" in two deeper test wells at the southeast corner of the site. The "free product," which could be a sign of serious contamination, was found at a depth of about 19 feet while groundwater was found at 20 feet.

"Hydrocarbon contamination is most concentrated in the southeast quarter of the site," according to ATEC's June 15 site investigation report.

"Due to the permeability of the subsurface material, the detection of free product, and the proximity of several structures (including residential, commercial and municipal), ATEC recommends further site investigation activities. These activities will include the installation of additional monitor wells off-site in an attempt to further define the extent of contamination."

Education plans would limit enrichment options

"Overall the tax program is too high. We are simply trying to spend too much on education," Wolfram said.

In other action, the House Education Committee voted to eliminate in-district and cross-district schools of choice, as proposed by the governor.

The committee adopted an amendment to expand the number of required school days in Michigan from 182 to 210 by the year 2010.

Committee co-chair William Keith, D-Garden City, said the proposal would not be released from committee until House Republican and Democratic leaders finalize plans for charter schools.

Detroit's Sneed warmly endorsed charter schools, saying a board of education committee had approved plans for five such schools. "Some could be theme oriented. Their budgets would be controlled at the local school building level," he said.

In the charter school concept, a group of teachers, parents or non-profit group would operate a separate program within a public school district. As envisioned by Engler, charter schools would operate outside union bargaining units and free from teacher tenure laws.

Rash of B & E's prompts police investigation

Township police are investigating yet another string of breaking and entering cases that plagued two local apartment complexes this week. These four latest cases were added to 12 others detectives were still investigating from two weeks ago.

According to the police reports, three Park Place apartments were broken into along with a Harbour Village unit on Monday and Tuesday. Two of the Park Place apartments were broken into on Monday, a third one and the Harbour Village site were ransacked Tuesday.

On Monday, a 37 year-old Park Place man reported $505 worth of personal possessions, including a Bulova watch, a Motorola beeper and miscellaneous change, were all missing from the dresser in his master bedroom. That same day a neighbor reported $50 in rolled silver coins and another $100 in nickles and dimes had been taken from his apartment. The next day, someone stole $320 worth of compact discs from another Park Place apartment. The daughter of a woman who lives in Harbour Village reported that her mother's apartment had been broken into, but the daughter told police she wasn't sure if anything was taken.

Police aren't saying whether they think the cases are related, but since the point of entry is the same in each case they aren't ruling out the possibility.

AUTO THEFT: A 49 year-old Northville township man told police someone stole his 1994 red Ford Bronco from his driveway on Wednesday. The man told police the keys were inside the vehicle when it was stolen. According to the report, the man told police he always left a vent window open with his keys inside the car. The Pommeadow Drive resident said he had seen a suspicious car in the neighborhood the day before his truck was stolen, but police have no leads in the case.

LARCENY FROM AUTO: A man reported that his Motorola portable car phone was taken from his 1986 Pontiac Grand Am on Monday, Nov. 22. The man said the phone was taken from his unlocked car which was parked in the Meijer parking lot.

SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES: A Jamestown Court woman claims she and her daughter are being followed by private investigators. The woman said two men have been asking neighbors in her subdivision questions about her and her daughter, but have yet to confront her. The woman contacted township police to report the unwanted inquiries and give them a description of a cream colored van that's been seen in her neighborhood.

Days before the woman reported the incident, she said she saw a 1985 GMC Vandura van parked in Hines Park while she and her daughter were nearby. As the woman started to approach the vehicle, the driver left the scene. Police ran a check of the vehicle and found that it was registered to a 66 year-old Livonia man. Police questioned the man who said he was at the park walking his dog and had no knowledge of the woman or her daughter.

HOMELESS MAN CAUGHT AT CHURCH: City police cited a homeless man for trespassing at First Presbyterian Church after they found him sleeping in the vestibule at 4:50 a.m. Nov. 24. The 18-year-old man with no fixed address had been caught inside the church vestibule twice before, and was warned not to return both times.

When asked what he was doing there the third time, the man said "staying warm."

He was found inside the southwest entry to the church, just inside the unlocked outer doors, by an officer making a routine check of city buildings. The inner doors were locked.

MINORS AT RACETRACK: A 65-year-old Detroit man was cited for bringing minors into Northville Downs Nov. 23 after police warned him to take them home.

The man was seen inside the track at 8:30 that evening with his 9-year-old granddaughter and 7-year-old grandson. He left after being told that a city ordinance prohibits minors at the track, but city police spotted the two children back inside the track two hours later.

The children told police that their grandfather had told them to wait in the car after leaving the first time. When they got to the car, it was locked. They waited by it for about 45 minutes before re-entering the track to get out of the cold, they said.

The man reported to the track's police station after being paged over the track's intercom system and told police he returned to the track to use the bathroom and then stayed because he had two tickets for the tenth race. He was cited under the city ordinance.

BANDSHELL VANDALIZED: Someone inflicted an estimated $400 in damage to the Main Street bandshell sometime between 8 p.m. Nov. 21 and 8:30 a.m. Nov. 23. The bandshell's railings were apparently kicked in.

FISH HATCHERY PARK GATE BROKEN: A chain-link swinging gate at the entrance to Fish Hatchery Park's baseball fields was driven into sometime between 6 p.m. Nov. 22 and 8 p.m. Nov. 23. Damage to the gate, which was bent in the incident, was estimated at $50.

CAR PHONE STOLEN: A black portable Motorola phone valued at $250 was reported stolen sometime between 8-10:30 a.m. Nov. 21 from a pickup truck parked in the public lot south of MainCentre. The red and silver 1990 Ford was parked in the south end of the lot. It was unlocked at the time.

FENDER BENDER: A 33-year-old Novi man was cited for failing to yield Nov. 22 after driving into a west-bound car on Eight Mile Road that evening. The man was exiting north-bound Randolph at the time. No injuries were reported and neither car was disabled.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Accused rapist gets 2 new counts

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

A Wayne County Circuit Court Judge added two additional counts of criminal sexual conduct against a Northville Township man already charged with raping his 15 year-old stepdaughter.

The two counts of digital penetration were added after the girl testified against the 59 year-old man in court two weeks ago. A bond hearing held in circuit court on Wednesday failed to lessen the man's $75,000 cash bond that was handed down by 35th District Court Judge John E. MacDonald on Nov. 3.

Police say the suspect will remain in custody until his next court appearance on Dec. 3.

The original charge stemmed from the victim's account of how the man allegedly raped her in the family's Northville Township home on Thursday, Oct. 28. Police were tipped off to the alleged assault the morning after when the girl told a teacher at her high school what had happened the night before.

Ring leader pleads guilty

Several of the items found in the home that morning were identified and returned to Northville residents after the police raid. Others were taken back to homes in Livonia, Salem Township and Lyon Township that allegedly had also been hit by the youths.

Werth said Burton pled guilty to the two charges in exchange for the court's willingness to drop two other counts of receiving and concealing stolen merchandise.

Burton's admission last week nullifies the need for township police to appear in circuit court to defend the charges this week. Township police

Lieutenant Gary Batzloff and Werth were both subpoenaed to appear in Wayne County Circuit Court Judge John Schamo's courtroom today to testify against the Redford man.

That won't be necessary now and neither officer is complaining. "I'm very happy with the verdict," Werth said.

Parent agonizes over perennial problem

eeding his departure he made a few comments which made me somewhat uneasy.

"You know, most kids drink at these concerts," he said.

"He was going with a group of friends; some of them I knew quite well, others I hadn't met yet."

"I had agreed to drive them to the concert, and other parents were planning to pick them up. They all arrived at our house. There was good-natured conversation as everyone arrived and from my first impression they appeared to be a nice group of kids. They went out to the car and I finished my last details in the house, grabbed my keys and headed outside.

"As I approached the car, my son and another guy were picking glass up off the driveway and there was a distinct smell of liquor.

"My mind went off in a whirling tangle of thoughts. Obviously, someone had dropped a bottle from under a jacket. Was there more? Whose was it?"

"If I asked, would they tell the truth? How would I know? What if the confrontation got nasty?"

"I knew my son felt great desire to be part of the group; to save face, and I knew the alcohol wasn't his. How far should I push the issue?"

"He got in the car. Tasked the other guy if it was his and he denied it. Now what? I knew they'd be safe getting there and back, but was that the whole issue?"

"I felt so much unspoken pressure from my son to handle this in a way that wouldn't leave him the laughing stock of his friends.

"Should I search everybody? Call their parents? Ignore it?"

"Lost in a confused muddle of emotions, I started the car and began an hour-long trip that was tense to say the least.

"What would other parents do? There was no one else around to back me up; I didn't even know the last names of the kids who I thought might have more.

"What if they got sick at the concert? Did I even need to worry?"

"Everybody drinks at concerts." Could my son maintain his resolve not to drink amidst the pressure? I knew I needed to do something, to respond in some way, what was it and how?

"I really didn't handle it well; my silent confusion lasted well into the evening. I called the parents who were picking the kids up to let them know that they might be confronted with problems on the way home. I just didn't know.

"My confusion moved to anger. What if something serious happened to one of those kids? Would I be held responsible?"

"I had an eye-opening conversation with my son when he arrived home that night. Eye-opening for him because he had never even considered the spot his friends had put me in; eye-opening for me because I was totally unaware of how extensive drinking is among teen-agers in our community.

"As we talked about his group of close friends, we realized that none of them have made a resolution not to drink under age like he has; I saw the extent of the pressure he feels like I'd never seen it before.

"We talked about the fact that regardless of peer pressure, influence, the number of kids who manage to escape adult supervision and drink, the consequences remain the same. Bad choices made under the influence can have a lifetime of consequences regardless of who else does or doesn't drink.

"Next time I'll have a clearer picture of what to do: I can be much more up-front with my kids' friends about the fact that in our home, in our car, or in any situation our family supervises, teen-agers are expected to be drug- and alcohol-free.

"I wouldn't be afraid to ask for a pocket check and get everything out from under coat sleeves and blankets; any alcohol or drugs go down the garbage disposal.

"We're glad to have you here, glad to give you a ride, whatever the case, but alcohol and drugs will not be a part of the scene. If you can't abide by that, you'll have to find another ride.

"Too bad only hindsight is 20/20."

Our Opinion

Protest of promotion misses essential point

Pickers were in front of a local McDonald's restaurant on Friday in protest of the company's nationwide promotion and sale of the video Wayne's World.

They are offended, they said, by the language and values presented in the movie and believe that McDonald's should not be distributing it.

They are also offended by the fact that the video contains a 60-second trailer promoting a free-rental video called Time Out, which contains information on preventing the spread of AIDS through the use of condoms.

While this unnamed group has every right to conduct this type of protest, we feel that their intentions are misguided and their protest is aimed in the wrong direction.

Further, we find their stance that AIDS ignorance is better than AIDS education is itself ignorant.

A spokesperson for the group said she believes that sex education and education on the use of condoms are only going to promote sexual activity among teenagers. But have you ever known a teenage to be held back from trying any activity by mere ignorance? It comes naturally to children to explore their world. Teens and children are very curious and eager to try things out, even if risk is involved. Sex and AIDS education not only gives them some knowledge so they can protect themselves, it might just also serve to satisfy some of their curiosity, so they don't have to try the activity themselves.

Another spokesperson said she is offended by the trailer because it features former Los Angeles Lakers basketball star Ervin "Magic" Johnson, who is infected with the virus that causes AIDS. A flyer distributed by the picketers includes a long list of specific items in the movie that they find offensive. One item on the list is music by the rock group Queen, which they find objectionable simply because the group's lead singer, Freddie Mercury, recently died of AIDS.

We agree that Wayne and Garth, the characters in Wayne's World, are not the best role models for young people to follow. But anyone who thinks they are supposed to be role models misses the point of the movie.

The Wayne and Garth characters are a parody. The movie pokes fun at teenagers who think only about heavy metal music and sex. Some teenagers, and adults too, may imitate the speech patterns of the movie, but they do it in the same manner as the movie intended it — as comic parodies.

Further, if these people wish to protest the contents of the movie Wayne's World, they should be aiming their protest at Paramount Pictures, rather than at McDonald's. Wayne's World has been widely distributed in video form for well over a year.

We also feel that they should take responsibility for the education and values of their own children. McDonald's is a large corporation and does not claim to be a vehicle for the morality of young people across the nation.

The group is angry because a manager at the McDonald's they chose to picket told them that, if they don't like the video, they shouldn't buy it.

We agree with that manager. Parents are responsible for reviewing and choosing the movies their children watch at home. Parents are responsible for imparting their children's values. And parents are responsible for preparing their children for a world that isn't always safe, clean or pretty.

Publication change offers opportunities

With the publication of today's Northville Record, a 3 1/2-year journalistic adventure comes to an end.

It was on May 14, 1990, that the first Monday edition of the Record came out. The addition of a second paper each week was designed to provide a vehicle for the faster dissemination of news and information and a means of further tapping the local advertising market.

In planning the Monday edition, HomeTown Newspapers executives decided not to increase subscription rates, even though readers would see twice the number of newspapers in their mailboxes and on their front porches. Initial losses were projected until the community came to accept a permanent change in its reading and advertising habits, but that acceptance was slower than anticipated, leading to this month's decision to end the Monday experiment.

The staff of The Northville Record regards this change in publication plans not so much as a lost opportunity as a chance to make a fresh start. With one edition per week on which to concentrate, we are convinced we will be able to offer readers greater in-depth coverage and more long-term projects providing analytical approaches to issues of concern.

In contemplating the design of the new Thursday newspaper, there is much to think about, not the least of which is what special features from the Monday product should be retained or added. In this we are asking for help from our readers. Those who have comments or suggestions on what we can do to better serve the needs of the community are asked to provide us their input. Call us at 349-1700 or drop us a line at: Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville MI 48167. We're eager to hear your opinions.

Our commitment to thoughtful, insightful journalism and effective community service remains as strong as it ever has been at any time during the 125 year history of The Northville Record. We trust the loyalty and support our readers have shown us through the generations remains equally unshakable.

Engler's education wish list

Tim Richard

"What," asked the TV interviewer, "does Gov. John Engler really want to accomplish with his school reform program?"

It was unusual for a newsman like me to be answering questions for a half-hour. But the property tax cut, replacement taxes and school reform have been occupying my daytime working hours, my evening reading hours and my dreams (nightmares) for four months. I was prepared.

First, Engler wants to cut the cost of government. In his campaign, he argued in effect that Michigan has Chivas Regal tastes and Old Milwaukee income. He sees high governmental costs as a burden on business. Like dear ol' daddy's whiskers, government is always in the way. His view is similar to classical economist Adam Smith ("Wealth of Nations").

He is diametrically opposed to Alexander Hamilton and former Gov. Jim Blanchard, who saw government as a tool for economic growth, not an impediment.

On paper, Engler's method of school finance would cost $300 million less than the current system. "Promises made, promises kept."

Second, Engler wants to shift the cost of paying for schools from local districts to the state.

He is 100 percent correct in pursuing this goal. Michigan's Constitution, a document too few of us have read, makes a free public education a constitutional right. It also says establishing and paying for public schools are duties of the Legislature. There is no such thing as "local control" over schools — local districts are mere creatures of the state. There is no such thing as "parental control" — that's an invention by ideological right-wingers.

Along the way, Engler set up another goal that was entirely within Michigan's constitutional tradition. He sought to wean counties, cities, townships and villages from the $1 billion nipple of revenue sharing. He proposed to give them new taxing tools that they would wield themselves.

Politics being politics, Engler, alas, had to modify the idea drastically.

Third, Engler wants to trim the power of the Michigan Education Association and other unions.

In my interview with him last winter, he accused our suburban school boards of being entirely too lavish with double-digit pay increases. He wants a union-free environment for charter schools. He wants teachers' union membership to be voluntary. He wants school boards to be free to buy health-care benefits from someone other than MEA.

Personally, I think MEA has been getting a dirty rap from Forbes magazine, Mackinac Center (which reprinted the Forbes attack and circulated it to every paper in the state) and many critics. The man who coined the term "National Extortion Association," in Forbes' headline, advocates teaching Latin (which none of our trading partners speak) and McGuffey's Readers (no thanks — I've read McGuffey).

But MEA leaders are an integral part of the Democratic Party. The MEA is no friend of John Engler's, even though a hefty minority of MEA members vote Republican. So the MEA must be prepared to take its knocks.

Fourth, Engler wants to placate the religious right within the Michigan GOP.

That's where his public school bashing comes in. The religious right's candidates got 45 percent of the vote against Engler's picks at the 1992 state GOP convention. It now controls many county and district organizations. Engler would rather deal than fight 'em.

Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events.

In Passing

By HAL GOULD

Take a bow

Band Director Scott Boerma introduces members during Novi's Band-a-rama.

Creating a downtown Novi

Phil Jerome

What's the biggest difference between Northville and Novi?

There are lots of possible responses, but my answer is that Northville has a downtown and Novi doesn't.

But all that may change over the next five to 10 years if a plan being considered by the Novi planning commission and city council comes about.

Novi planners recently voted to recommend approval of a request to rezone 29.2 acres in the southeast quadrant of the Grand River/Novi Road intersection to a Town Center-1 (TC-1) zoning classification that is designed to "encourage development of an urban 'Main Street,' with mixed land uses and shared parking."

The rezoning request is more than an exercise in wishful thinking. It came from a developer who has plans that include a Vic's Quality Fruit Market as an anchor. There's already a Vic's in Beverly Hills, although the proposed Novi store would be twice as big, according to the developers.

The concept of creating a Main Street-style downtown is rather fascinating. But it does raise a number of questions. For example, why would Novi want to create a "downtown" when the endangered status of traditional downtowns is a national issue?

Why do Novi officials think they can make a traditional downtown work when established downtowns across the country are facing serious problems?

And what type of retail outlets could possibly be located in the new downtown that don't already exist in close vicinity to the so-called Town Center Area — the four quadrants of the Grand River/Novi Road intersection?

The questions are legitimate, but don't let them give you the wrong impression. The concept of creating a Main Street-style downtown is fascinating . . . and, I suspect, attainable.

In other words, I suspect that answers to the questions raised here do exist.

One of the problems facing traditional downtowns is that they evolved before the advent of the automobile and, as a consequence, lack adequate parking.

A primary difference between shopping malls and old-fashioned downtowns is that the malls come with acres and acres of free parking. When traditional downtowns — like Northville or Plymouth or Birmingham — were evolving, nobody could foresee the day when the automobile was the primary mode of transportation.

What amazes me most about this most recent proposal is that it's been on the books for so long. It was way back in the early '70s when Novi was just starting to develop that city officials began looking seriously at its absence of a downtown.

The plan at that time was to let the area around the Grand River/Novi Road intersection become the city's commercial district, spearheaded, of course, by Twelve Oaks Mall.

The second "city center" would be a civic-educational complex on the Fuerst Sisters' property at Ten Mile and Taft Road — which is exactly what has happened.

I doubt that anyone could have conceived back then that the Grand River/Novi Road area would become the retail mecca it is today, but the plans were there.

Now it's time for city officials to let the Main Street-style downtown concept play out. With open minds and visionary planning, Novi may yet have a legitimate downtown to call its own.

Judge working Northville Regional reassigned

By STEVE KELLMAN
Staff Writer

A Detroit judge elected to staff the brand-new Wayne County Probate Court seat at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital in 1990 has headed back downtown.

Judge Patricia Campbell was elected Nov. 6, 1990, to fill the post created that same year, to provide competency hearings for Northville Regional patients. She took the bench Jan. 1, 1991.

While the court's initial caseload warranted a full-time judge, she said, a decrease in the 41001 Seven Mile Road hospital's enrollment coupled with a change in the type of patients housed there has made the full-time position unnecessary.

"Some of the numbers were very large when we started," Campbell said. "We were up to about 50 cases docketed per day on the heaviest days... 54 sticks in my mind as the max."

But she said that admissions to the hospital itself have dropped as patients are increasingly referred to community mental health programs rather than being sent to large institutions like Northville Regional. In the process, the Northville facility has become more of a long-term facility for repeat patients with no stability in the community.

Campbell has moved on to the juvenile division at Wayne County Probate Court, after serving her last day on the Northville bench Oct. 12.

"I sort of thought of it as a discharge from the mental health system," she joked. "Some of my staff suggested I'm a walkaway."

While Campbell heads downtown to oversee juvenile court cases, judges that now cover the mental health docket downtown will staff the Northville Regional court on a rotating basis. "Technically, they'll be replacing me with five other judges," she said.

Campbell noted that her time at the hospital has been decreasing over the years, from five days originally to four. For the past year, she's been working downtown for three days a week and sitting on the bench at Northville the other two, with a half-day at a nearby facility for senior citizens.

Campbell, who lives in Detroit, said she will miss her 35-mile commute to Northville. "It was worth every mile," she said.

She's particularly sad to give up the large variety of places to have lunch each day.

"They're all so good," she said. "I had sufficiently short notice that I couldn't get back to each and every one."

The judgeship was established after years of effort to provide more humane treatment for psychiatric patients. In the past, the patients had to be transported down to the probate court in Detroit for competency hearings. At Northville Regional, the patients were simply taken from their wards and they waited in a special lounge until their hearings, after which they returned to their wards.

"It made it much easier to handle the numbers we were handling," Campbell said.

3 scholarships offered in name of Plymouth leader

Northville area students preparing to enter business, vocational, financial or technical industries may be eligible for scholarships offered by Community Federal Credit Union.

Three scholarships will be offered in honor of Plymouth's illustrious community leader Margaret Dunning. In 1989, Community Federal established the Margaret Dunning Scholarship to acknowledge Dunning's 23 years of volunteer service as a member of the credit union's board of directors, serving 19 of those as president.

The scholarships will be awarded in the spring of 1994. They will include one $1,000 scholarship and two $500 scholarships. The deadline for submitting applications is March 1.

Those applying must meet the following guidelines:

- Be or become a member of Community Federal Credit Union; persons eligible for membership are those living or working within Community Federal's charter area (Plymouth, Canton and Northville); any person who has a relative, through blood or marriage who is a member; any person currently living in the same residence with a person who is a member.

- Be enrolled or anticipating enrollment in business, financial or industrial/skilled trade courses. Include anticipated date of program completion.

- Outline goals, aspirations, college and career plans on the back of the application or on a separate page (250 to 500 words).

- Be between the ages of 17 and 20 upon the application deadline date.

- Be attending or have graduated from an accredited high school and provide transcripts for the current and previous school years.

- Provide written recommendations from three present or former instructors (dated within the last three months).

- Provide a history of work experience, including periods of employment, duties, earnings and performance awards or recognition by employer.

- Outline community and/or extra curricular involvement.

- Specify financial need. Applications may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Margaret Dunning Scholarship Committee, Community Federal Credit Union, 500 S. Harvey, P.O. Box 8050, Plymouth, MI 48170-8050. Completed applications are due March 1, 1994, to the same address.

For further information, call (313) 453-1200 or stop by any Community Federal office.

Michigan's Best Community Newspaper . . . Again

That's right, again. For the second consecutive year the Michigan Press Association bestowed its prestigious 'Michigan's Best' Award on the Northville Record in its 1992 Better Newspaper Contest. (For weekly newspapers with 5,000 to 15,000 circulation). And we're even prouder to be a two-time winner of the 'Michigan's Best' award than we were the first time we received the honor in the 1991 Better Newspaper Contest. And here's another thing that hasn't changed. Our greatest satisfaction continues to come from being an integral part of the Northville community . . . giving you the type of newspaper you want and need. In other words, we're proud to be your hometown paper.

Cookie baking relieves stress of the holidays

Want to relax during the hustle and bustle of the holiday season? Head to the kitchen. Baking and decorating holiday cookies can help you unwind, letting you be creative and artistic. Roll up your sleeves and pull out the rolling pin, it's time to bake Sugar Cookie Cutouts. If you're short on time, enlist some help from the kids. They're fun to make, letting little minds be as imaginative as they want.

Double the recipe and use half of the dough to prepare a batch of Orange Cranberry Tarts. Just add a few extra ingredients, and you'll have a tasty treat that looks too good to eat.

So, this holiday season, be a smart cookie and bake healthy.

SUGAR COOKIE CUTOUTS

¼ cup unsalted stick margarine
4 ounces reduced-calorie creamed cheese
1 large egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2¼ cups all-purpose flour (reserve 2 tablespoons)
½ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon baking powder
Red and green decorator sugar to garnish (optional)

In large bowl, with mixer on high speed, beat margarine and creamed cheese until smooth. Beat in egg and vanilla. On wax paper, combine flour, granulated sugar and baking powder. Gradually beat dry ingredients into egg mixture to form a dough. Divide dough in half. Wrap each half in plastic wrap; refrigerate 3 hours, or overnight.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sprinkle 1 tablespoon of the reserved flour on wax paper. Working with one piece of dough at a time, place dough on floured wax paper and cover with another sheet of wax paper; roll ¼-inch thick.

Cut out with assorted ¾-inch cookie cutters. Re-roll dough as necessary, making 36 cookies. Place cookies on large baking sheets, 1-inch apart. Decorate with sugar, if using. Bake 8-10 minutes. Remove from baking sheets and cool on racks. Repeat with remaining flour and dough. Store in airtight containers.

Each serving provides: 1 Fat, ¼ Bread, 30 Optional Calories. Per serving: 106 calories, 2 g protein, 5 g fat, 14 g carbohydrates, 38 mg sodium, 11 mg cholesterol. Source: Weight Watchers Magazine, December 1991.

ORANGE CRANBERRY TARTS

Makes 24 Servings (1 tart each)
Sugar Cookie dough
3 tablespoons cornstarch
4 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
2 cups orange juice
½ cup dried currants
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
Orange peel to garnish (optional)

Prepare dough for Sugar Cookie Cutouts, but do not reserve any flour. Divide dough into 24 equal pieces. Spray 24 2½-inch muffin cups with nonstick cooking spray. Press each piece of dough into bottom and up sides of prepared cups; chill while making filling. Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

To prepare filling, in small bowl, combine cornstarch with 3 tablespoons water; stir until smooth.

In medium saucepan, combine cranberries, orange juice, currants, sugar, orange peel, and vanilla; bring to a boil. Stir in cornstarch mixture and cook until thickened, 1-2 minutes.

Divide filling evenly among prepared shells. Bake 15-20 minutes, until shells are lightly browned. Remove to rack and cool.

Each serving provides: 1 Fat, ¼ Bread, 1¼ Fruit, 40 Optional Calories. Per serving: 145 calories, 2 g protein, 5 g fat, 23 g carbohydrates, 39 mg sodium, 11 mg cholesterol. Source: Weight Watchers Magazine, December 1991.

Mary Brady

Tomorrow my family and I will drive to Buffalo to pay our last respects. In no way does this mean that she'll ever be out of our thoughts.

In many senses she was the person most responsible for encouraging me to Monday, Dec. 22, I have often written about Aunt Betty. For the past 10 years she has suffered with cancer. Last night she sighed for the last time and passed on to a world where pain will no longer torment her.

We could sit for hours and talk about food. Send recipes back and forth. Experiment with different cooking methods to make our food more nutritional and lower in fat.

I will miss the visits to her home. A beautiful gas stove that is a minimum of 60 years old is the focus of the kitchen. A roast just doesn't taste the same coming out of any other oven. Pancakes on the griddle are crisp on the outside and moist inside. And, the Friday fish fries. Oh, I'd kill for the just-caught perch and homemade chips.

Mostly though I'll long for the wonderful conversations held around the table. Aunts, uncles and cousins gathered there to trade stories of their families. This is where we'd "catch up" with what had been going on with each other — sometimes years of news. Since my grandmother died years ago Aunt Betty has been the matriarch of the family. Now I fear that our visits will become less frequent and certainly won't be the same.

Ironically, for the past few weeks, I've been writing about something that my Aunt did best — soups. She'd always have a hot bowl of this or that waiting for her company. And, then a quart to take home. I remember my grandfather making wonderful soups too, so it must run in the family. Having a relative as a butcher didn't hurt either. Uncle George would save the best and meatiest bones for Aunt Betty. Or the fattest, tastiest chicken. What a great way to start. She never followed a recipe, but would cook "to taste."

Luckily, sometime ago I began to ask her to recite from memory, some of my favorite soups. Basics are basics. Begin with quality ingredients...premium bones or meats, fine vegetables, cold water and TLC. Another secret, soup, like spaghetti sauce, is better the second or third day. The flavors seem to mix together into one the longer it sits. In memory of my Aunt I give you her recipe for the best Italian bean and pasta soup ever. Rest peacefully Aunt Betty.

Pasta E Fagioli

4 tablespoons olive oil
2 garlic cloves minced
1 16 ounce can plumb tomatoes
2 tablespoons minced parsley
¼ teaspoons dried basil crumbled
¼ teaspoons dried oregano crumbled
15 ounces white beans rinsed and drained or same amount dried, cooked

1 quart chicken or beef stock
8 ounces dried macaroni
Grated parmesan for garnish
Salt and pepper, lemon juice and tabasco "to taste"

Heat 3 tablespoons oil. Add garlic and saute until caramel color. Stir in tomatoes, cook 5 minutes and add parsley, basil and oregano. Simmer until tomatoes are soft enough to break apart with the back of a spoon. About 15 minutes. Add beans, heat. Add stock and heat. Add macaroni and cook until tender. Season with salt and pepper, a bit of lemon juice and dash of tabasco. Enjoy with a good crusty Italian bread. Garnish with coarsely grated imported parmesan.

Topping it off

Specialty sauces add a flare to any dinner

By LAURA DAILY
Special Writer

"Sauces are the most important part of the meal and the most difficult to produce if you aren't careful," believes Chef Scott Philip of the Snowmass Lodge & Club in Snowmass Village, Colo.

"Anyone can prepare great vegetables or meat, but the sauce is what really distinguishes a dish," he adds.

Philip advocates setting aside one or two days each month to prepare basic stocks. The finished product can be frozen in any volume, from ice-cube size (just pop one out of the tray instead of using bouillon cubes) to larger quantities for stews or as the basis of a more complex sauce.

His only caveat for stock preparation: "Watch that your meats (chicken, veal or beef) attain a rich, caramelized color but don't burn. A black crust will cause the sauce to taste bitter. Celery leaves, carrot skins and onion skins will also cause bitterness."

Philip likes stocks as the basis for sauces, "because if a stock is reduced enough, you get lots of flavor without having to add seasonings, especially salt."

For pasta, chicken or salmon dishes, Philip recommends cream sauces.

"The basics are very simple and you can create a variety of flavors just by adding different ingredients before the final reduction," he says. "Mushrooms, herbs, Parmesan cheeses all work well. You're only limited by your imagination."

To keep creams from burning, Philip says, don't reduce the sauce too far; instead, rely on adding small amounts of a cornstarch-and-water mixture to obtain the correct consistency.

"Bring the sauce to a boil each time after adding the cornstarch so you can judge the sauce's thickness," cautions Philip. "If you just keep adding cornstarch and then bring the sauce to a boil, you'll end up with glue."

Beurre blancs are considered one of the most difficult sauces to make, requiring both concentration and luck. But the results are worth the effort and can make any fish dish really special.

Cream sauces and beurre blancs are best prepared just before serving. If you must refrigerate, Philip reminds cooks that cream-style sauces will only take one reheating, and that should be done with great care to avoid breaking the sauce.

Rosemary Cream

2 teaspoons chopped shallots
2 teaspoons chopped garlic
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 cup white wine
3 cups heavy cream
2 tablespoons chopped rosemary
3 tablespoons chopped reconstituted sun-dried tomatoes
1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with a little water
Salt and pepper to taste

Saute shallots and garlic with olive oil in saucepan. Do not brown. Deglaze with white wine and reduce to half. Add cream and bring to a boil. Reduce to simmer for about 5 minutes.

Add rosemary and sun-dried tomatoes. Continue to reduce. Whip in cornstarch and water mixture. Simmer for 3 to 4 minutes longer. Season to taste if needed.

Tomato Beurre Blanc

2 tablespoons chopped shallots
1 teaspoon chopped garlic
½ cup white wine
½ cup orange juice
2 lemons, blanched zest and juice
¼ cup chopped reconstituted sun-dried tomatoes
1 tablespoon chopped basil
½ pound whole unsalted butter, cut into small pieces
Salt and pepper to taste

A savory sauce of shallots, mushrooms and herbs lends new interest to a meat dish.

Saute shallots and garlic with olive oil in saucepan. Do not brown. Deglaze with white wine and orange juice. Reduce two-thirds. Add lemon juice and blanched zest. Add sun-dried tomatoes and basil. Then, slowly whip in whole butter, being careful not to break sauce. You also can place reduction into blender and slowly add butter. Strain sauce and season to taste if needed.

Hunter Sauce

1 tablespoon chopped shallots
2 tablespoons chopped garlic
2 teaspoons olive oil
2 ounces shiitake mushrooms, sliced
2 cups veal demi-glace

2 roasted shallots, rough chopped
2 Roma tomatoes, peeled, seeded and diced
½ teaspoon chopped rosemary
¼ teaspoon chopped thyme
¼ teaspoon chopped oregano

Salt and pepper to taste

Saute shallots and garlic with olive oil in saucepan. Add mushrooms and continue to saute. Add veal demi-glace. Bring to a boil, then reduce to a simmer. Add roasted shallots, tomatoes and herbs. Cook for 5 minutes. Season to taste if needed. This sauce works especially well on game or beef.

Colleges open restaurants for the fall

Schoolcraft College's American Harvest Restaurant, featuring gourmet specialties prepared by the school's award-winning Master Chefs and Culinary Arts students, is now open for lunch, Tuesday through Friday, noon-1:15 p.m. New to the restaurant this fall is French and Russian cuisine, in addition to its traditional American fare. A variety of tempting entrees will be offered daily, with prices ranging from $6-$10. Each Friday, the regular menu is cast aside to present an extensive gourmet buffet of appetizers, entrees and desserts for $8.25 per person.

Seating is limited to 50 guests per day. Reservations can be made by calling American Harvest at (313)462-4488. The American Harvest Restaurant is located in the Waterman Campus Center at 18600 Hagerty Road, between Six and Seven Mile roads in Livonia.

The Ridgewood Cafe & Bake Shop at Oakland Community College reopened for the Fall semester Sept. 13 in J-305.

The Cafe is operated by the Culinary Arts students in the Hospitality program. The menu changes daily and everything is prepared fresh from scratch.

Twice each month a Grand Buffet is offered in place of the regular menu at the low cost of $6.25 per person. The Fall Semester Buffet dates are Sept. 22, Oct. 7 and 21, Nov. 9 and 24, and Dec. 15.

Hours of operation are Monday through Thursday from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. The Orchard Ridge Campus is located at 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills.

The Food and Beverage Management students again will host three Gourmet Dinners this fall. The dates are Oct. 7 with a Pacific Northwest theme, Nov. 4 for a Broadway Musical Review, and the seventh annual Wassail Feast will be held on Dec. 2.

Warm up the ovens for holidays

Delight in the holidays, don't dread them. Start your ovens now, and bake a little at a time so you won't feel overwhelmed.

Cookies, except those with custard or cream fillings, freeze well. "It's a lot to try to bake and decorate cookies in one day," said Jackie Sheehan, senior editor of Pillsbury's "The Complete Book of Baking," (Viking, $25, hardcover). "Don't decorate until just before you're ready to use them."

Sheehan and I talked about baking holiday cookies Thursday while she was visiting metro Detroit to promote the cookbook.

When you're making cookies, take time to measure accurately, and don't substitute diet or whipped margarine for butter and regular margarine in recipes.

"Whipped margarine contains air, and diet margarines have water in them. They don't work," said Sheehan. Be careful when reducing the amount of sugar in a recipe too.

"Sugar adds sweetness, it helps the product brown, and adds to the tenderness, it plays a very significant role," said Sheehan. "It's safe to cut the amount of sugar in a recipe back to 1/4 to 1/2."

For more advice on holiday baking from home economists, call the Land O'Lakes Holiday Bakingline toll-free number, 1-800-782-9606 through Dec. 24, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All bakingline callers will receive a free "Bake a Holiday Tradition" recipe leaflet, filled with traditional favorites from around the world plus helpful baking tips.

"Each year, we receive calls from people who have lost a family recipe for need help preparing family favorites. We're here to lend a helping hand," said Lydia Botham, director of consumer affairs and test kitchens at Land O'Lakes, Inc.

Pillsbury also offers a toll-free hotline to help consumers with baking questions. Look for it on all Pillsbury products.

Take time to check expiration dates on your baking supplies before you fire up the oven, and get out the cookie cutters.

Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, offered these guidelines:

- Baking powder — Keep no more than six months. To test if your baking powder is still good, measure one teaspoon of baking powder and put into 1/4 cup hot water. It should fizz and bubble.
- Baking Soda — Up to 18 months.

- Flour — Refrigerate whole wheat flour, toss white flour that's more than a year old.

- Sugar — Is fine as long as it hasn't solidified. Here are a couple of ways to loosen brown sugar — put the box in a microwave oven with a cup of water on the side. Microwave on high for two minutes. Or, put the brown sugar in a Tupperware container with a piece of bread or slice of apple. It will loosen up in a couple of days.

- Vanilla and other extracts — Won't spoil, but will start to lose their flavor in three to four months.

- Vegetable shortening — Toss after a year.

- Butter — Keeps frozen for six to nine months, refrigerated a few weeks beyond expiration date on the box.

- Margarine — Keeps refrigerated four to five months.

- Chocolate chips — Dark chocolate is good up to a year, milk chocolate six months.

- Eggs — Toss three to four weeks after expiration date on the carton.

- Nuts — If you're not going to use them soon, store in the freezer for up to a year.

BERRY BERRY STREUSEL BARS

(Filling) 1 cup fresh or frozen blueberries

1 teaspoon all-purpose flour
1/2 cup raspberry or strawberry preserves

1/2 teaspoon lemon peel (optional)
(Oatmeal Crust)

1 1/2 cups Quaker oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)

1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar

1/2 cup (1 1/2 sticks) margarine or butter, melted

To prepare Oatmeal Crust — heat oven to 350 degrees. Combine oats, flour and sugar; mix well. Add margarine, mix well.

Reserve 1 cup of crust mixture; set aside. Press remaining mixture onto bottom of 8 or 9-inch square baking pan. Bake 13 to 15 minutes or until light golden brown. Cool slightly.

For filling, in medium bowl, combine blueberries and flour; mix well. Stir in preserves and lemon peel. Spread evenly over crust. Sprinkle with reserved oat mixture, pressing lightly. Bake 20 to 22 minutes or until light golden brown. Cut into bars. Store loosely covered. Yield 16 bars. Can be frozen.

Recipe from Quaker Oats.

BUTTERY BUTTERSCOTCH CUT-OUTS

1 cup butterscotch flavored chips, melted
3 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup butter, softened
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
Powdered sugar
Decorator sugars

Heat oven to 375 degrees. In heavy 1-quart saucepan melt butterscotch chips over low heat, stirring constantly, until melted (3 to 5 minutes). Pour into large mixer bowl; add remaining ingredients except powdered sugar and decorator sugars.

Beat at low speed, scraping bowl often, until well mixed (1 to 2 minutes). Divide dough into 2 equal portions; wrap in waxed paper. Refrigerate until firm (1 to 2 hours).

Roll out dough on well floured surface to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with 2 1/2 inch cookie cutters; place 1-inch apart on cookie sheets. Bake for 5 to 8 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Cool completely; sprinkle with powdered or decorator sugars or decorate as desired. Yield 4 dozen. Can be frozen.

Recipe from Land O'Lakes.

PEANUT BUTTER BLOSSOMS

1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
Sugar
48 milk chocolate candy kisses

Heat oven to 375 degrees. In large bowl, combine flour, 1/2 cup sugar, brown sugar, baking soda, salt, shortening, peanut butter, milk, vanilla and egg; blend at low speed until stiff dough forms.

Shape into 1-inch balls; roll in sugar. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. Immediately top each cookie with a candy kiss, pressing down firmly so cookie cracks around edge; remove from cookie sheets. Cool completely. Yield: 4 dozen. Can be frozen.

Make use of that leftover turkey

Ever since there was a major shift in marketing ground turkey — from frozen to fresh — this turkey product has come on strong with all types of consumers.

Not too many years ago ground turkey generally was available frozen in unappetizing chunks. Today, a number of supermarket competitors market fresh ground turkey in attractive, consumer-oriented containers.

Before, when ground turkey was only available frozen, it wasn't appealing, and people didn't know what to do with it.

In the last few years, ground turkey has become a favorite because it's a health-conscious alternative to the more fatty ground beef. Americans' consumption of turkey has more than doubled in the past decade to an average of 16.5 pounds per person per year. Here's how a 3-ounce portion of ground turkey stacks up nutritionally against the same amount of ground beef.

Ground beef: A broiled patty of 73-percent lean beef has 251 calories, 16.9 grams of fat, 86 milligrams of cholesterol and 71 milligrams of sodium.

Ground turkey: A patty composed to a mix of ground turkey ranging from 5 percent to 15 percent fat braised on a non-stick skillet, no oil added, contains 195 calories, 11.7 grams of fat, 58 milligrams of cholesterol and 70.6 milligrams of sodium.

Unlike many other foods, turkey isn't associated with any nutritional negatives. Ounce for ounce, turkey breast meat has more protein and less fat than most other meats.

Ground turkey has a more bland taste compared to beef, so extra seasonings are in order. But don't load up on salt; instead experiment with herbs and spices. And be sure not to overcook it; the fact that turkey is so lean also makes it subject to drying out.

Here are recipes using ground turkey, or, of course, it can be substituted with ground beef in almost any recipe.

TURKEY EMPANADAS GRANDE

- 1 pound ground turkey
- 1 clove garlic, peeled and minced
- 1 cup chopped onion
- ½ cup green bell pepper, seeded and chopped
- 2 cups fresh tomatoes, chopped
- 1 tablespoon dried parsley
- 1 teaspoon dried cilantro OR 1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro
- 1 teaspoon cumin
- ½ teaspoon oregano
- ½ teaspoon red pepper flakes
- ½ teaspoon black pepper
- 1 (15-ounce) package refrigerated pie crust or two homemade pie crusts
- 1 egg white, beaten

Preheat oven to 400 F. In large skillet, over medium-high heat, saute turkey, garlic, onion and green pepper until turkey is no longer pink in color, onions are transparent and green pepper is tender crisp. Stir in tomatoes, parsley, cilantro, cumin, oregano, red pepper flakes and black pepper. Stirring occasionally, cook over medium heat about 15 minutes or until most of liquid is reduced. Yields 8 servings

Recipes for those 'comfort' dishes

Vacation funds are spent, after-school activities are in full swing, and the holiday season looms menacingly on the horizon. In other words, stress levels are about to reach the acute stage. The remedy? Comfort food.

We're talking mashed potatoes, tender pasta, juicy casseroles — those dreamy, creamy concoctions that are just a few steps from mother's milk. We're talking caloric comforters that warm our souls and make us forget about the big bad world outside.

My mother's bread pudding comes to mind. With the generous help of milk, eggs, sugar and raisins, a stale loaf of bread becomes — ah, comfort food.

When asked about the connection between food and comfort, Alyce Humphrey of Plymouth, automatically replied, "Mom!"

Humphrey, a former teacher who works with her mother in a family-owned greenhouse business, thought for a moment, then added — "Comfort food just has to have that little bit of something — flavor or texture — that makes it more than it seems. It's that which makes it all better."

Sounds like a metaphor for mothers.

Humphrey has served her Creamy Mashed Potatoes many times at family gatherings, and to her husband and two daughters. She simply halves the recipe.

"To me, comfort food means just sitting down and having a family meal," said Mary Grom, a busy homemaker from Livonia who owns two over-worked breadmaking machines and a dehydrator.

There's a lot of coming and going in the Grom household. With a husband and two sons on different work schedules and a daughter who makes frequent "homesick" visits from college, Grom has learned to provide comfort through inventive casseroles.

"I try to make foods that you can keep going in the oven until someone else comes in to eat," she said.

Both Grom's creativity and her oven's endurance will be tested once again beginning this Thanksgiving. That's when her husband's cousin's family arrives for their annual monthlong stay. They own a Christmas tree farm near Cheboygan and sell their trees on a Livonia lot.

The Rev. Ernest Porcari, the new pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville, knows all about inventiveness when it comes to cooking. According to his friends, he can perform culinary miracles on garlic, olive oil and pasta.

"It's wonderful," said Dee O'Flynn, who worked for Porcari when he was pastor of St. Thomas A'Becket Church in Canton. "He was famous for his pasta. He once made his soup for our annual spring festival and it all sold out, faster than the hot dogs. Sometimes he would include recipes in his column for the church bulletin."

Over cups of coffee in his small, comfortable office a few days later, we explained our mission. After all, who should know more about comfort and food than a priest who cooks. He smiled and said, "I wasn't ordained to cook." He could have fooled us.

For the next hour he spoke of his mother's recipes, his own recipes, and that the secret to cooking pasta is "plenty, plenty of boiling water. He advised only to use freshly grated cheese and not "that sawdust in the store." He sounded like my mother.

Porcari gave some parting advice, some words to — well, chew on: "Remember, the bigger the body, the bigger the soul, because the soul is in every part of the body. Therefore, the fattest go to heaven."

Comforting words for comfort food lovers.

FATHER PORCARI'S PASTA A FAGIOLA (Italian Bean Soup)

- 2 cups Ditali (small tubular pasta)
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- One small onion, chopped in small pieces

½ cup celery, tender inside stalks, chopped (optional)

1 large, 19-ounce can Cannellini beans (undrained)

1 tablespoon tomato paste or 3-4 tablespoons finely chopped tomato

Salt and pepper to taste

Boil water and add pasta. Cook until tender but still resistant (al dente). Partially drain, leave enough water to cover pasta. This is the base of the soup's broth.

Saute onion and celery in olive oil until soft. Add beans, tomato paste or fresh tomato, and salt and pepper. Pour mixture into pasta and let stand for five minutes to develop flavor. Serve with freshly grated parmesan cheese if desired. Serves 4.

Note: Father Porcari suggests adding another can of Cannellini beans if you want to make the soup extra comforting.

MARY GROM'S POOR MAN'S STUFFED CABBAGE

- 1 small head of cabbage, coarsely chopped
- 1 pound ground chuck
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ package onion soup mix
- ½ cup chopped green pepper (optional)
- ½ to ¾ cup quick-cooking rice, uncooked
- 1 10½-ounce can tomato soup
- ½ cup water
- Salt and pepper to taste

Combine chuck, egg, onion soup mix, green pepper, rice and salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly.

Spread one half of chopped cabbage in a greased 2-quart casserole. Pat meat mixture on top of cabbage, covering completely. Cover with remaining cabbage.

Combine tomato soup with ½ cup water and pour over cabbage-meat mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 1½ to 2 hours. Serves 4 to 6.

MARY GROM'S ON-THE-RUN DEEP-DISH PASTIE

- One package pre-folded pie crusts (available in dairy section)
- 2 pounds ground beef
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 medium potatoes, diced
- 4-5 carrots, diced
- beef bouillon
- ½ to 1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet

Saute ground beef in large skillet, drain fat and add onion. Cook a bit longer. Add potatoes, carrots and enough bouillon to retain moisture. Add salt and pepper and Kitchen Bouquet. Cover and set aside.

Stretch and roll one pie crust to fit bottom of a 9 by 13-inch baking pan. Spread meat mixture on top and cover with remaining crust. Slit top in a few places and bake at 325 degrees for 1½ hours. Serve with a dab of butter or margarine or ketchup. Serves 4 to 6.

Note: Mary says ground venison works great in this recipe.

ALYCE HUMPHREY'S CREAMY MASHED POTATOES

- 5 pounds all-purpose potatoes,

- peeled and quartered
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 3-ounce packages cream cheese with chives, softened
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Paprika

Cover potatoes with water, add 2 teaspoons salt, and cook until tender. Drain and mash. Add cream cheese, butter, garlic salt, and pepper. Mix well. Gradually add whipping cream and mash once again, using an electric mixer if desired.

Spread in greased 9 by 13-inch glass baking dish. Dot with remaining 2 tablespoons butter and sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes, then at 375 degrees for an additional 30 minutes. Serves 10-12.

MARGARET CARTIER'S OLD-FASHIONED BREAD PUDDING

- 4 cups whole milk (scalded)
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup light brown sugar, well packed
- 2-3 tablespoons maple syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ to ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 6 cups day-old coarse white bread, cubed
- 3 or 4 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup gold raisins
- ½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts
- ¼ cup chopped Maraschino or dried cherries

Put bread into a large bowl. Set aside. Scald milk and add butter, sugar, syrup and vanilla. Pour over bread cubes, mixing gently. Add spices, raisins, walnuts and cherries. Mix gently.

Fold in beaten eggs. Pour into buttered 2-quart souffle dish. Sprinkle cinnamon sugar on top if desired. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serve plain or with cream.

Note: The secret for this comforting pudding is the bread. It must be dense in texture. Margaret uses Chamberlain Bakery's raisin bread which is available at Byrd's Meat Market in Livonia. She still adds the extra raisins.

More ways to use all those apples

Michigan apple growers are reporting a bumper-crop this year. Here's another tasty way to enjoy Michigan apples.

APPLESAUCE-RAISIN BATTER BREAD

- 3 cups all-purpose flour, divided
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons apple pie spice
- 1 package (¼-ounce) active dry yeast
- 1½ cups unsweetened Michigan applesauce
- ¼ cup honey
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup raisins
- ¼ cup confectioners sugar
- 1 tablespoon milk

In a large mixer bowl, combine 1½ cups of the flour, sugar, salt, apple pie spice and yeast.

Heat applesauce, honey and margarine until very warm (120-130 degrees F). Add to flour mixture with egg, beating on low speed until combined. Beat 3 minutes longer, on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in remaining flour and raisins.

Spread batter evenly in a 9 by 5 by 3-inch loaf pan sprayed with no-stick cooking spray. Cover loosely with waxed paper and let rise about 1 hour or until double in bulk. Carefully remove paper.

Bake in 350 degree oven about 40 minutes or until golden brown. Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan. Cool completely on wire rack. Frost with mixture of confectioners sugar and milk. Yield: 1 loaf, 16 slices.

Per serving: 1 slice 160 calories; 1 g dietary fiber, 2 g fat, 57 mg sodium.

Hume Cronyn stars in CBS' new 'Hall of Fame' drama

By John Crook

Hume Cronyn plays Sam Peek, an elderly Georgian whose devotion to his wife transcends death, in "To Dance With the White Dog," a Hallmark Hall of Fame production airing Sunday, Dec. 5, on CBS. The drama, adapted from Terry Kay's 1990 prize-winning novel, co-stars Jessica Tandy as Cora Peek, along with Esther Rolle, Christine Baranski, Amy Wright and Frank Whaley as other friends and family members.

Filmed last August and September near Americus, Ga., the TV movie opens in 1966, at Sam and Cora's 50th wedding anniversary. While Sam has spent those years tending to his pecan orchard, Cora has raised their four children.

Seven years later Cora dies, and Sam finds himself bedeviled by his well-meaning daughters, who worry that he can't make it on his own. A fiercely proud man, Sam insists on living alone, surrounded by his memories. His daughters' fears appear to be confirmed when their father begins to report visits from a white stray dog — which no one else ever seems to see. Sam welcomes the animal gladly, seeing the dog as a companion who will help him work through his grief and loss.

As the story nears its climax, Sam loads his walker, and the White Dog, into his rusty truck and sets off to revisit the location where he and Cora spent "the best day of my life." During this poignant journey, Sam comes to appreciate how fulfilling his long life actually has been.

Cronyn says the story first came to his attention two years ago. "(Producer) Patricia Clifford sent me Terry Kay's book and asked me if I'd be interested in playing Sam Peek," he recalls. "I wrote back immediately and said, 'You bet!' I thought it had the potential to be a wonderfully affirmative story about people facing death, which is so terrifying for a lot of people. You know, there's a line in 'Peter Pan' where Peter says, 'To die must be a great adventure.' I love the potential behind that thought, and I felt we could deal with that whole concept here."

The actor says he found himself haunted by the book, as time passed with no further news on the movie. He approached Hallmark, but for various reasons they initially turned down the project. He did pique the interest of Susan Cooper, with whom he wrote the award-winning play that became the "Hall of Fame" production "Foxfire."

"In thinking about the (novel), which opens with Sam mourning the death of his wife... I felt their relationship was just central to the whole story and would be much stronger if you saw them together before she died," Cronyn says. "Susan agreed with me and wrote it that way. We took it to Jessie and said, 'This is a smaller part than you've been playing recently. What about it?' She said, 'I'd love to do it!' So, to that extent, I was (involved in the development). I was just in the wings, nudging."

Kay, who has pronounced himself moved and satisfied with the TV movie, acknowledges that he based his novel on actual events in the lives of his own parents. "There was a grand romance of life between them," the author writes. "And there was a White Dog."

Both Cronyn and Tandy have made some of their most striking impressions with Southern projects: he with "Foxfire," "Conrack" and "The Dollmaker" (which he co-wrote with Cooper); she in "A Streetcar Named Desire" on Broadway, and "Driving Miss Daisy" and "Fried Green Tomatoes" on the big screen. Cronyn insists that there is no grand scheme in this.

"(With 'White Dog,') you have a writer who was born, grew up and was a journalist in England, Susan Cooper. You have Jessie, who was born and started her whole career in England. Then," he adds drily, "you have that colonial castoff Hume Cronyn, who was born in Canada. It's pure coincidence, I think, that we've gravitated so often to stories about the South."

To some extent, so is the frequency with which Cronyn and Tandy have worked together. Both, he says, are wary of the traps. "I fight to keep scripts from being too sentimental, or mawkish... I don't want to create an image of 'Oh, there are the dear old cronies again.' So we choose carefully. This time, I think we've chosen well."

HOROSCOPE

By C.C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 19)

A friend will give you a new lease on life. You will begin to feel the weight of responsibilities at home. Money worries should subside for a while.

Taurus (April 20 - May 20)

Your stubborn attitude could get you in trouble at home and work. Take a glance inward to see where all your troubles lie.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Creative endeavors will take off in full force, and things will begin to go your way for once. Someone close to you has important information for you.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

Take a break from your hectic schedule and enjoy the simple things in life. A domestic problem could get out of hand, if you are not careful.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

You may seem a little out of sorts for a while, but things will come together for you soon. Try not to worry so much about what other people think.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

You may have to cancel some long-awaited plans, but the alternative will be much more exciting. You will be in the right place at the right time.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Do not let the many stresses of life make you ill. You have the power to change your life for the better, and it is time you did so.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

A love relationship may be suffering from neglect and you had better get it back on track. Show your great appreciation of someone close to you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Push away bad influences and get on with what is most important. Use your imagination to get you out of a difficult situation.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

You may have romantic feelings toward someone you do not know very well. Take your time, and do not jump into anything too quickly.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

There are people who are skeptical about the changes you have made in your life, but do not let these people get you down.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

You may be able to obtain an article you thought was unavailable. A message concerning a loved one will surprise you.

TRIVIA QUIZ

Who played 'The Gunfighter'?

BY STEVEN ALAN MCGAW

Questions:

1. Identify the star who played the title role in the 1950 psychological Western "The Gunfighter." (Bonus: Name the eventual Oscar winner who made an early screen appearance as a bartender in the film.)

2. This veteran of TV's "The Addams Family" played the title role in a 1971 TV movie titled "Evil Roy Slade." Name the actor. (Bonus: The same performer took over, for one episode, the recurring role usually played by an actor/impressionist in a popular TV series of the mid-1960s. Name the show, the role and the regular player.)

3. Justine Bateman delighted no one with her work in this 1988 flop. Name the film. (Bonus: How was the film retitled for its network TV debut?)

4. Name the Seven Dwarfs.

5. Who starred in the 1988 docudrama "The Ann Jillian Story"?

5. Surprised! It was Ann Jillian, playing herself.

4. They are Dopey, Bashful, Sleepy, Happy, Grumpy and Doc.

3. The dismal "Satisfaction" was called "The Girls of Summer" when it aired on NBC.

2. John Astin, best known as Gomez Addams, played Slade. He also made a guest appearance in "Batman," substituting as the Riddler for series regular Frank Gorshin.

1. "Habeas Corpus."

Answers:

LET'S TALK

Leslie Nielsen mystery solved, Jenna von Oy info and an R.F.D. snafu

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Q: I am a big fan of Leslie Nielsen. I think I've seen almost everything, movies and television, he has ever appeared in, but I know there are some things I haven't. I remember a thriller he starred in during the late '70s or early '80s, but I don't remember the title. Could you please help me? —G.L., San Angelo, Texas.

A: Judging by the list you enclosed of Leslie Nielsen features that you have seen, I believe the movie you are looking for is "Creepshow" from 1982. Nielsen starred in one of that film's vignettes, playing a jealous husband who buries his wife and her boyfriend up to their necks in the sand. He makes the two lovers watch each other on TV monitors as the tide comes in. Fear not, just desserts are meted out to Nielsen.

Q: Can you please give me some information about Jenna von Oy of "Blossom," who plays Six? Where is she from? What else has she done in her acting career? Where can I write to her? —A.C., Beaumont, Texas.

A: Jenna is originally from Connecticut. She made her motion picture debut in the Academy Award-winning "Born on the Fourth of July," in which she played Suzanne, the younger sister of Tom Cruise's character. Jenna has made numerous appearances on television series such as "Kate and Allie" and "Tales from the Darkside." She also has been featured in the daytime dramas "Guiding Light," "As the World Turns" and "Loving." You can write her C/O Lippin Group, 270 Park Ave., Suite 550, New York, N.Y. 10169.

Leslie Nielsen

SOAP WORLD

Lisa Rinna gets what she wants from life

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Lisa Rinna, who portrays sexy Billie Reed on "Days of Our Lives," works hard and plays hard. She is a determined young woman whose motto is: "If you want it then go get it, and believe in yourself."

"I really do believe that," Rinna says. "We can make our destiny, and we do not have to sit around being miserable thinking about what we do not have. You have to live life."

Rinna says the Reginald Denny trial in Los Angeles helped her learn something about herself. "This is a guy who really forgave the people who hurt him. I cannot tell you what it was like for me when I watched him walk up and hug the mothers of the men who beat him and practically killed him. He wasn't bitter or seeking revenge. It was amazing."

Rinna is part of the dynamic soap opera supercouple, Bo and Billie, and that means long hours before the camera. But the actress says she doesn't let the pace of daytime get her down.

"It helps that I really like the people I work with," Rinna says. "I've seen other actresses let the work really get to them. To portray some of these parts convincingly you really have to rip yourself open, and it takes a lot out of you. If I have to I'll ask for a few days off when I think I need it."

Rinna makes the most of her time away from the "Days" studio. "I spend time with my boyfriend (Harry Hamlin)," the actress says, but she is hesitant to say much about the relationship. "Everybody knows about it, but you like try to keep some things private."

Rinna grew up in Oregon where she learned to love the outdoors. "I really enjoy working out; I love to go for long runs. My body needs it sometimes to relieve the stress. I also enjoy going to flea markets and hunting for antiques. But one of my favorite things to do is make chocolate chip cookies," Rinna says.

The actress has a loyal fan following and says she thinks her fans would be surprised if they saw the real Lisa Rinna. "When I'm not working I hang out in jeans and a T-shirt, and I don't wear makeup. I don't like all that stuff. Pretty much what you see is what you get."
