City, township merger is subject of hearing

BY RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

If Tuesday's joint meeting about Northville city/township consolidation proved anything, it's this: whatever happens ain't gonna happen quick.

The city council and township's board of trustees met on Aug. 9 at Northville High School to consider the question of a united Northville. The meeting was strictly informational; no decisions were made.

The two groups reviewed information which a special blue-ribbon committee composed of officials from both communities gathered.

Four major points came out of the meeting, including:

- There are two options to choose from for a merger of the city and township: consolidation and annexation. Both are complex and long legal processes.

- A consultant asked to research the issue said that a much-talked-about advisory referendum to get voter input on consolidation would be illegal under state law.

- Most of the citizens who spoke at the meeting opposed consolidation. Among elected officials, some expressed serious doubts about a merger's value, while others were confident it could bring valuable benefits.

- The committee will research the issue further, taking a closer look at what consolidation would mean in dollars and cents, taxes and services.

Consolidation of the city and township into a single municipal entity is not a new idea. Officials explored it two decades ago, eventually rejecting the notion. In February of this year, consolidation surfaced again, arising out of the committee's talks on the shared services which both communities now jointly fund. The committee received an OK from the council and board to study consolidation's broad outlines.

The Aug. 9 meeting was a step in that process, with officials getting a thumbnail sketch of what would be involved in pursuing the issue further.

Dennis Cowan, a lawyer who is also mayor of Royal Oak, has worked with the committee in recent weeks to map out the

Search for new manager ongoing

BY RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

The hunt for a new manager in Northville Township continues. Officials are shooting to complete the 120-day process by the end of September.

The township has been without a manager since Bill Richards left in February. The board of trustees has brought on consultant Jerry Habelman to participate in the head hunt to find a replacement.

Habelman has sought and received more than 60 applications for the position over the last couple of months, officials say. He's now short-listing about 16 of them for careful review by the board's search committee. It's expected that the committee will narrow the field to just a few for public interviews by the full board.

The board considered Habelman's specifications for the manager position last month. The spec sheet spells out what Northville Township is and is looking for in a chief executive officer, compiled through suggestions from the board. It will be given to all prospective applicants.

The township, it notes, has about 18,000 people, 74 employees and an operating budget of about $4 million.

"The scenic character of the area has attracted considerable development of custom homes on large lots," the specification said. "There is very little industry in the Township and most of the local commercial activity is concentrated in the City. Northville Township is considered to be a highly desirable area to live and work."

In describing the manager's job responsibilities, the spec had this to say: "The township manager

Primary survivors look to November runoff races

BY RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Betcha you figured that all of this election-year hoopla was finally over now that last week's primary has come and gone.

Guess again. Now Northville voters can look forward to the general election on Nov. 8. On that day, they'll join voters across the state and around America in casting their ballots for their candidates of choice.

Here's a quick preview of the races you'll decide this autumn:

- Northville Township millage election: Four of the five millage requests on the Aug. 2 ballot failed at the polls, including Proposal A for police and fire services. While the board of trustees has made no official decision on what to do next, observers say it's a sure bet they will come back to voters in November.

What millages they may ask for are yet to be determined. Police and fire, however, are virtually guaranteed to be on the ballot, as their funding runs out on Dec. 31.

- U.S. House of Representatives 13th District: The dust has settled on a lively primary race which fea-

Law, Vorva offer different versions of election outcome

By YVONNE BEEBE

Where Gerry Law is concerned, everything old is new again.

The newly-nominated Republican candidate for state representative from the 20th district has been through the rigors of campaigning—and winning—five other times, something he believes probably helped push him over the top in scoring an upset victory over Rep. Jerry Vorva in the primary election last week.

"I was state rep in this district for eight years and I think people remembered me but there are also a lot of new people in the area, this is a growing community," said

Law, who served from 1983-91 and left office to take a position as Plymouth Township Supervisor in 1991. "But there was no magic to it, you just have to get out and work as hard as you can."

As was the case with several other elections throughout the state, the Republican race for the 20th district was a nail-bitter, with Law winning the election by a razor-thin 248 votes. When the final votes were tallied in the wee morning hours, Law had racked up 5,772 votes to Vorva's 5,524.

Vorva, who was first elected in 1992, said he feels he has been providing the kind of service the

Casino vote slows track outlook

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

The passage of the two gambling proposals in Detroit last week could prove to be a thorn in the side of Michigan's race tracks.

Although last Tuesday's vote was strictly advisory, the prospect of opening a river boat or Native American reservation casino in Detroit could prove to be extremely harmful to the racing industry, local officials say.

Joe Garcia, general counsel for the Michigan Racing Association, said there is no use worrying now whether Detroit will be the new home to casino gambling because there are still many hurdles the city must pass through before gambling can be realized. However, the effects on local race tracks, like Northville Downs, could be "detrimental and drastic" if Detroit does house casino gambling, he said. Lou Carlo, director of operations for Northville Downs, agrees that casino gambling in Detroit could only hurt racing, an industry that is already in financial trouble.

"The casino in Windsor is not all that convenient for people over here and it has already hurt racing," said Carlo, adding that Hazel Park Raceway has lost 20 percent of its business since the Windsor casino opened. "If you move a cas-

Fiddlers attract crowds to festival

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

More than 1,500 music lovers came out to Ford Field Sunday afternoon for a little pickin' and a grinnin' at the 18th annual Folk and Bluegrass Festival.

"Everyone danced, sang and had a really great time," said Tom Rice, organizer of the festival and owner of Giffelder Music at 302 E. Main St.

The festival, which featured more than 15 folk and bluegrass acts including several nationally acclaimed artists, raised $6,200 for the Huntington's Disease Society of America, a group that provides support for HD patients and disseminates information about the disease. Rice organized the first festival in 1976 after his sister died of Huntington's.

The $6,200 is far from Rice's original goal of $15,000. Rice said, however, the dollar amount is not as important as raising awareness about the disease and working to fund research to eventually find a cure.

HD is an inherited, progressively degenerative brain disorder, which results in a loss of mental and physical capability. Each child born to an HD parent has a 50 percent chance of developing the disease.

Gerald Wieske, secretary and former president of the southeast Michigan chapter of HDSEA, said Rice's fund-raiser has played an important role in raising public awareness

Officials applaud citizen rescue effort

BY RANDY COBLE

Mark Vaningen and Donna Fuga were just passing through the intersection of Eight Mile and Napier Roads in Northville Township on the afternoon of June 2. They weren't expecting anything unusual.

What they found, however, was a serious car crash, with one of the three vehicles involved on fire.

They could have just kept right on going; a lot of other people would have.

But they didn't.

These two local residents went above and beyond the call of duty when they stopped and helped two people injured in the accident.

Township emergency response workers want everyone to know that their efforts were both helpful and much appreciated.

So much so, in fact, that Vaningen and Fuga recently received commendations from Township Fire Chief Bill Zmenda.

Northville resident Vaningen and Fuga, of South Lyon, "rendered physical and emotional care" to the two injured people, Zmenda said.

"Without the help of these good Samaritans," Firefighter Guy Balok—one of the emergency workers who responded to the accident call—said, "the patients involved

News Briefs

SCHOOL GRAND OPENING: The public is invited to attend grand opening ceremonies at Thornton Creek Elementary, the new building in the Northville School District that will begin holding classes next month.

The event will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 18. The new school is located at 46180 Nine Mile between Taft and Beck.

Outdoor dedication ceremonies with local dignitaries will be the first order of business. In the event of rain, the activities will be moved indoors.

Open tours of the building will follow at approximately 6:30 p.m.

Thornton Creek was completed last year but was not opened due to budget constraints. It becomes the fifth elementary school serving the district.

CO-OP CLASSES: If you feel your child is not quite ready for kindergarten, Northville Co-Op Preschool is offering an "early 5's" class that's just right for your situation.

The class supplements any 4's program, and offers a more academic atmosphere to help prepare your child for kindergarten. Call Cathy Reilly at 348-5452 for information.

Northville Safety Town participants learned how to play it safe around electricity from Detroit Edison safety mascot Louie the Lightning Bug and employee Molly Luempert of the utility's Education and Community services group. Held at Meads Mill Middle School July 26, the program also covered traffic safety and what to do when approached by strangers. Edison expects to teach more than 3,000 children about electrical safety this summer in similar programs around southeastern Michigan.

Police News

City police find feline phone fraud in home

Northville City Police became slightly baffled last Friday after answering a 911 emergency call with no one responding on the other end.

Police went to house to check the area. The doors were locked, no cars were in the garage and no one seemed to be home.

An officer entered the house through an unlocked window to investigate. When he entered he found a cat romping about the house and found a cordless phone lying on the ground off the hook.

Police conclude the cat walked on the telephone and activated 911.

The officers secured the house and left a business card.

Case closed.

ASSAULT: An 11-year-old Swan Harbour apartments boy told township police that he had been assaulted on July 31.

The boy said he was swimming in the clubhouse pool when a large white male known as "Marvin" pulled him out, causing abrasions on his forearm. The man then stepped on his back, the boy said, and slapped him several times in the lower back and buttocks. The investigating officer was at last report attempting to contact the man. The case remains open.

OUIL I: Township police arrested a 30-year-old resident for operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor (OUIL) on Aug. 4.

The reporting officer in the case said he saw the woman's 1991 Pontiac Grand Am speeding west on Seven Mile, through the Mobil gas station parking lot at Northville Road and onto southbound Northville Road. After stopping the car, the officer said he smelled intoxicants coming from the woman and that her eyes were glassy and her speech was slow and slurred.

The woman admitted to having three glasses of wine that evening. She failed field sobriety tests and was arrested. Breathalyzer testing at police headquarters showed her to have a blood alcohol level of .14 percent, over the legal limit. She faces a hearing today in 35th District Court.

EMBEZZLEMENT: An employee of the Sunoco gas station at Five Mile and Haggerty admitted stealing a $100 money order on Aug. 3, township police said. His friend is also suspected of being involved in the incident.

The station's manager said that she had a videotape of the 18-year-old Livonia man making the fraudulent money order that day. She also said that the next day, the man's friend from Livonia came into the station and asked if she would cash it. The man said he didn't know the money order was stolen and that the employee had given it to him.

The employee said he gave the order to his friend to pay off a loan. The man knew he had stolen it, the employee said, and had said "No problem, I know how to cash them."

The case remains open.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT: Two 16-year-old South Lyon youths were caught red-handed by a Northville City Police officer when they were damaging the blinking pedestrian light near the entrance of the Northville Public Library.

A police officer was walking to a patrol car when he heard a ruckus near the library. The officer went to check out the noise and found the kids just as the boys managed to dislodge the light from the base and damaged the plastic frame.

The teens were released into their parent's custody.

A court date is pending.

OUIL II: Township police arrested a 22-year-old resident for OUIL on Aug. 5.

The reporting officer in the case said he saw the man's 1991 Ford Escort speeding south on Northville Road north of Six Mile. The car ran the red light at that intersection, stopping in the middle of it, then backing up to the proper spot.

When the light turned green, the car didn't move until the officer's patrol car went by it, heading north. The officer made a U-turn and followed it, noting it swaying within its lane, he said. The officer said he stopped the vehicle and detected a strong odor of intoxicants from the driver.

The man admitted having "maybe three, four or five" beers that evening. He failed field sobriety tests and was arrested. Breathalyzer testing at police headquarters showed him to have a blood alcohol level of .16 percent, over the legal limit. He faces an Aug. 12 hearing in 35th District Court.

MARIJUANA POSSESSION: A 15-year-old Northville boy was arrested for possession of marijuana Monday at the bandshell off of Main Street.

A Northville City Police officer was patrolling the area when he saw the boy quickly turn away from the car when he spotted it and stuffed an unknown object down his pants.

When the officer approached him, the boy retrieved the object, a brown box containing alleged marijuana seeds, and handed it over to the police officer. The contents of the box were turned over to a crime lab for testing.

At the station, the boy told police he had found the box when he was helping his father clean his office.

The boy was released into his mother's custody, who acknowledged the boy's story but thought the box had been thrown away.

A juvenile court petition complaint is pending upon crime lab results.

BURGLARY: A Franklin Street home was burglarized on Aug. 4, township police report, with more than $3,400 in cash and jewelry taken.

The home's owner said everything was fine when she left that morning. When she returned, she found the rear window broken and its screen cut, causing $200 in damage. Items in the home were disturbed or missing, she said.

Police found drops of blood on the window and a witness said she remembered seeing a white pickup in front of the home earlier that day. The case remains open.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville police at 349-1234 or township police at 349-9400.

Court says state gets lions share of proceeds from returnable bottles

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Suppose you buy a bottle of pop, pay 10 cents deposit but never return the bottle. Who gets the 10 cents? The state Treasury Department gets 75 percent and retailers 25 percent, said a state Court of Appeals panel, upholding a 1989 state law. The Michigan Soft Drink Association lost their court effort to keep the money.

"A great victory for the citizens," said Art Dittmar Jr., president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the group that started the ban on throwaways in 1976.

"The state's 75 percent goes into a trust fund for cleanup of landfills. We have tremendous amount of landfills that are leaking," said Dittmar, a Farmington Hills resident, retired teacher and long-time salmon fisherman.

The bottlers never revealed the amount at stake. But a footnote in the court opinion said one study estimated unclaimed deposits at $26 million to $121 million a year. Dittmar said MUCC thinks it's about $32 million.

"The state's 75 percent goes into a trust fund for cleanup of landfills."

Art Dittmar
MUCC

MUCC, a hunting-fishing-environmental group, filed briefs supporting the state's position on behalf of itself and 17 other groups, including the Michigan Recreation & Parks Association, League of Women Voters, National Wildlife Federation and several legislators.

MUCC attorney M. Carl Bamberg said the Court of Appeals' 3-0 decision requires Ingham Circuit Judge Thomas Brown to lift his injunction against the state's collecting the unclaimed deposits.

The decision by Judges Maura Corrigan, David Sawyer and Harold Hood left unanswered two major questions: 1. Is the decision retroactive to 1989 when the unclaimed deposit law took effect? "We hope Treasury will argue that it's retroactive," said MUCC's Bamberg. The unclaimed deposit money wasn't held in an escrow account during the litigation, she added.

"Our executive director, Tom Washington, thinks this should be retroactive," added Dittmar. "The DNR doesn't have enough for landfill cleanups as it is." 2. Is there likely to be an appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court? Such an appeal would be weak, Bamberg replied, because Michigan's second highest court relied on rulings in highly similar cases by the Massachusetts and Maine supreme courts.

Said the Michigan Court of Appeals: "Because of public sentiment against windfall profits to distributors and manufacturers from the unredeemed deposits, the Legislature explicitly amended 1989 Public Act 148 to provide that unclaimed deposits on returnable containers are considered the property of the purchaser, not the manufacturer or distributor ... (T)he excess must be remitted to the Department of Treasury for deposit in a revolving fund."

Wholesalers and bottlers argued the laws amounted to an unconstitutional "taking" without compensation. The Michigan court disagreed: "(T)he supreme courts of Massachusetts and Maine upheld the constitutionality of similar amendments to their states' bottle laws ... (T)he Massachusetts court rejected this argument, holding that the amendment did not effect a taking because the plaintiffs (wholesalers) possessed no right to the deposits ..."

The Court of Appeals said the Maine Supreme Court ruled that a law "requiring sellers to remit 50 percent of unclaimed deposits to the state amounted to a valid environmental regulation falls squarely within the state's police powers ... The court opined that the Maine legislature intended that the cost of unreturned containers must be borne by the industry that profits from their sale. The court rejected the bottlers' claim of a per se taking."

Student vacation is overseas learning experience

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

For a group of Northville High School students, teachers and parents, summer vacation this year was not just a lounge by the swimming pool or catching up on some long-overdue reading—it was an adventure.

A group of 33 students, including some from Holly High School, five instructors and five parents spent three weeks trekking through Spain, France and Italy June 28-July 14.

Emily Serafa-Manschot, a Spanish teacher at the high school who has served as a chaperone for the high school adventure since 1975, said the trip to Europe is organized every other year by the various language classes and gives students a chance to experience European culture and speak and understand the language better, not to mention just have fun.

"It is a pleasure when you have a group of students like this," she said. "It wasn't difficult at all."

The focus of the trip, Serafa-Manschot said, was to combine exposure to the Spanish language paired with Roman culture and architecture. Among countless other things, students were able to attend a bull fight, see the leaning tower of Pisa, hang out on the beach in the south of France, experience the foreign bathroom facilities, ride on gondolas in Venice and visit the various McDonald's restaurants along the way.

Northville High School senior Cathy Koster said the experience was one she will not soon forget.

"I learned a lot more there than I ever have in school," Koster said.

Students traveled to Barcelona and Madrid in Spain, Nimes and Nice in the south of France and Pisa, Florence, Rome, Venice and Milan in Italy.

"We went crazy over there," said Senior Suzanne Smith, who estimates she spent about $800 on souvenirs and $400 on food. "We just thought, 'You never know when we'll be back.'"

The $2,395 students and teachers spent covered all transportation costs and hotel rooms.

High school senior Jenny Redden said the trip inspired her so much she would like to study in Spain for a year or two in college. "I recommend that anyone who has an opportunity to go, should go" she said.

The group will have a picture party at 3 p.m. Aug. 27 at 332 S. Rogers St. Bring a dish to pass. For information, call Serafa-Manschot at 347-4609.

Merger of township and city fire departments is major discussion topic

BY RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

To merge or not to merge? That is the question.

And it is question which members of the Northville city council and Township board of trustees considered at a joint meeting held one week ago.

A special blue-ribbon committee composed of township and city officials have studied the notion of blending the city and township's fire departments into a single entity for the last several months. The group presented its latest report at the Aug. 4 joint meeting. It states that a fire merger would provide Northville residents with better service at a cheaper cost, conclusions that some at the meeting doubted.

At a June 22 joint meeting, the two bodies reviewed the committee's proposal for a 10-year contract creating the "Northville Fire Department" (NFD). The deal calls for the two communities to pool equipment and personnel and share costs through a proportional funding formula. The plan, supporters said, will mean faster response times to fires and medical emergencies while reducing total cost in the long haul.

"The first question we're going to get is, 'What does it mean to me?' It would be nice to say it won't cost you anything and will mean better service," Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand said.

Some officials said they weren't convinced that either would be the case. Others said that the service would probably be better but questioned whether that would come at an increase in cost.

"If we merge, I want to make sure that each community gets superior levels of service," Council Member Charles Keys said. "When we go to sell this to residents, we need to tell them what they're getting, good or bad. If we lose a minute of response time, or we gain one, are the residents willing to pay for it?"

One member of the council, Paul Folino, was the plan's harshest critic.

"To me, it's more of a township takeover," Folino said. "That's the way I read the contract. We have no say once it's signed."

"When reading the contract, it's difficult for me to tell where the city and township do not have joint responsibility," Council Member Carolyn Ayers countered.

"We're very sensitive to the idea that it looks like a takeover. That's not the intent."

Karen Baja Township Supervisor

"I didn't get that feeling," City Manager Gary Word said. "I got the feeling we were partners."

"We're very sensitive to the idea that it looks like a takeover," Township Supervisor Karen Baja said. "That's not the intent."

Officials from the two sides discussed the report for two and a half hours. It was written to answer questions they raised at the June 22 meeting. The report addressed nine major points, including:

- Budget: The report concludes that operating costs for the NFD, especially in its first year, would be higher than the combined budgets of the city and township fire departments. That's due to a number of factors, officials said, some of which make the gap not as large as it seems at first glance.

The budget in the NFD's first year would be $52,853 more than the current fire budgets of the city and township added together, the report said. A $10,000 contingency start-up fund is one reason for it, officials said. Another is that the city and township both spend money on their fire departments from non-fire areas of their budgets. Those costs are included in the NFD budget, raising the total.

The single department would need to spend more money for salaries and benefits, the report said, as well as for special equipment purchases such as a set of new pagers for emergency personnel.

Offsetting that, the report pointed out, are cost savings that a single department would realize, especially on capital equipment purchases. Over 10 years, it said, the city would save $308,541 and the township would save $307,937 in the same time.

- Capital equipment needs: A fire department merger means that both communities can save in the long run on capital equipment, the report concludes. A joint fire department could share resources and ensure that both communities could hold off on buying expensive items they'll need soon if a merger doesn't happen.

Without a consolidation, the report said, the city will soon have to buy a new pumper and ambulance and expand its fire station on W. Main St. Total cost: $525,000. The township, it adds, will have to spring for an aerial truck with a price tag of about $400,000.

Together, however, the two communities would have to spend only $85,000 for capital equipment over a 10-year period, the report said. The NFD could use the city's aerial and the township's pumper. Together, the two communities would need to buy only one new ambulance and a command vehicle for the assistant chief.

- Assessment center fees: The committee favors hiring an outside firm to choose between Township Fire Chief Bill Zhemendak and City Fire Chief Jim Allen to head the proposed department. The other would become the NFD's assistant chief.

Three firms offered bids ranging from $3,500 to $9,700 for the service. Some officials at the meeting said the expense wasn't necessary and the selection procedure could be done in-house.

- Role of the Public Safety Director: The report recommended that the township's Director of Public Safety, Chip Snider, head up the new NFD. The move would improve the department's efficiency by reducing administrative work, the report said.

Snider would be paid $15,850 from the NFD budget for the time he would spend dealing with fire department matters. That line item drew fire from Folino, who said it wasn't needed.

- Role of the Fire Board: The June 22 draft agreement called for a Northville Fire Board to be created, composed of township and city representatives. The board, the contract said, would handle any disagreements between the two communities which administration officials couldn't resolve.

The Aug. 4 report urged that the board stick to that role and that city and township officials don't make it a management body, such as the Parks and Recreation Commission. That would only add an unnecessary layer of bureaucracy to the system, the report said.

Residents express opposition to merger idea

legal twists and turns involved in consolidation. Cowan began by pointing out that there were two options Northville faces: consolidation and annexation. While they achieve the same result, he said, one is longer and more expensive while the other is politically a harder sell.

Consolidation, which Cowan likened to a merger in the business world, would see the city and township try to form an entirely new City of Northville. That would take at least two to three years, Cowan said, and require petitions to the State Boundary Commission, hearings, a special commission to write the new municipality's charter and at least two votes of the people.

Annexation, on the hand, is a lot less complicated. The existing City of Northville would absorb the township. That process, Cowan said, would take about a year and at least one vote of the people but is a harder "sell" to the community being absorbed.

As an aside, Cowan noted that state law would require the new municipality to assume all debts of both communities. The city's current debt is in the $10 million-$13 million range, one official at the meeting said, although some of that comes from water and sewer and special assessment districts which are not paid for by city residents across the board. The township currently has a debt of about $30 million stemming from construction of its WTTA sewer system.

The committee asked Cowan to see if it was legal to put a non-binding, advisory-only referendum on consolidation on the ballot to gauge residents' input on the issue. Cowan maintained that his research showed that state and county election officials would see such a ballot question as illegal and not allow it.

That led officials to toss around a number of alternatives, including conducting a professional survey to determine community feeling on consolidation.

Almost all of the citizens who spoke out at the meeting were against consolidation. Some council and board members hinted at their opinions as well.

"We're one community. People say they live in Northville," City Mayor Pro Tem Carolyn Ayers said in supporting further exploration of consolidation. "Many don't even know whether they live in the township or the city, as a matter of fact."

Also seeming to express cautious support for the idea were Mayor Chris Johnson and Supervisor Karen Baja. They added that even if it never happens, studying consolidation has worthy benefits. Those include better and more cooperative planning between the two communities and further progress in more shared services, such as police and fire.

On the other hand, Council Member Paul Folino expressed some serious doubts about consolidation. Council Member Charles Keys and Trustees Barbara O'Brien and Russ Fogg joined him to varying degrees.

City resident Jim Long had no doubts about his opinion.

"I've lived in the city all my life. I like our police, our fire, our government. It ain't broke. Don't fix it," he said, to a smattering of applause.

"We're looking at spending a lot of money on studying something which has dubious benefits for either the township or the city," a township man said.

"We have two different communities," city resident Michelle Kelly said, "and each have their own features that attract the people that live in them. I want to keep the character of our communities intact."

Before deciding whether or not to pursue a survey of residents for their feelings on consolidation, officials said they wanted to see more detailed figures on what it would mean. Specifically:

- How consolidation would affect the city's and township's tax rates.
- How much money would have to be spent to maintain adequate services in a single Northville.

Would it be significantly more or less than what each community spends now?

Johnson at one point said that consolidation would not mean cost savings because of the money needed for road maintenance.

• The possible benefits of consolidation such as reduction of costly duplication of services or improved emergency response time.

The committee will consider those issues and the individual members will report back to the council and board, who will decide what the next step should be.

Queen for a Weekend

The Northville Victorian Festival is looking for a local woman to play Queen Victoria for the weekend of the sixth annual festival, September 16-18.

Organizers ask that the queen be at least 18 years-old, provide her own costume and circulate during the festival, playing-up the role as much as possible. As a thank-you, the festival committee will give the queen a free ticket to the Victorian Ball on September 17.

The winner will be chosen by a drawing.

Please answer the following questions:

Mill Race Matters

Last Sunday began the "In the Good Old Summertime" series at Mill Race Village. Gardeners provided information on their work and effort at the Village which is abundantly clear from the spectacular results.

Next Sunday, Aug. 14, pro and non-pro vocalists and instrumentalists as well as listeners are invited to participate in a gathering of folk singers, a Hootenanny. On Sunday, Aug. 21, enthusiasts, young and old, are asked to bring out Little Red Wagon for the first Mill Race Rally. Decorate them or just clean them up. Share memories and tips.

Aug. 28 will feature Home Grown Show Off. Bring flowers and vegetables to show off your gardening expertise. All events begin at 1 p.m. and last until 4 p.m. Village buildings will be open for visitation as well. All events are being staged to promote this year's summer half-off sale membership drive.

Northville Historical Society Victorian Festival Committee chair Marianne Barry is looking for help on this year's picnic, set for Sunday, Sept. 18, at Mill Race Village. Families are encouraged to adopt picnic activities like the Duck Race which has become an annual favorite. For more information call 349-5435. All help is welcome. Docents are needed to show village buildings to visitors as well. Call 348-1845 to sign up to help out.

Thirty years ago under the leadership of Jean Johnson a group of local residents met to form the Northville Historical Society. After one year of organizational meetings the group was formerly created with Mrs. Ruth Chase as its first president. In its early years the group focused on saving Northville's library building (New School Church in today's village) and creating the city's Historic District. The 1964 membership roster lists many individuals still active in the community today and many who are no longer with us. It totaled about 125 individuals including student members.

In the early '70s focus shifted to establishment of an historic site to preserve some of the community's most historic buildings. Research in issues of The Northville Record from the '60s and '70s shows almost constant attention to this effort.

Late in 1972 an agreement in principle was reached with Ford Motor Co. for the property which is today Mill Race Village. Ford agreed to allow the first two buildings, the library/church and Hunter House, to be moved on site before the agreement was finalized. In February 1973 The Northville Record officially announced transfer of the village property to the city. The city asked the Historical Society, a volunteer non-profit organization, to take over operation of the village on its property. That arrangement continues in existence to this day.

Racing writer to speak

Angelique Chengelis, motor-sports writer for The Detroit News, fresh from the precedent setting Brickyard 400 and just days before the GM Goodwrench Dealer 400 at Michigan International Speedway, will offer a journalist's views on NASCAR racing at the monthly speaker series at the Motorsports Museum and Hall of Fame in Novi.

The event is to be held Tuesday, August 16, from 7 to 9 p.m. the public is welcome.

Did NASCAR foul the hallowed grounds of Indianapolis, spoil Memorial Day forever more? "How you gonna keep NASCAR down on the farm" after they have tasted the fruits of the largest crowd to ever see a NASCAR race? Why has the Brickyard 400 drawn such attention? What is going on between NASCAR, USAC and CART? These will be among the questions Chengelis will address.

The museum's speaker series presents people representing a broad spectrum of the motorsports industry, drivers, engineers, writers, race officials, mechanics and builders and more.

In September the Museum will present Ron Hall and Bob Leppan, two Michigan people who have both made successful assaults on land speed records. Hall's record-holding Studebaker Avanti is on display in the museum, along with several other current and former LSR holders, all the way back to 1904.

Tickets are available for $6.

Vovra attributes loss to low turnout and influence of special interests

people in his district want; however, those people didn't turn out at the polls and vote. It was the special interest voters who did, he added.

The Michigan Education Association and Right to Life anti-abortion group supported Law, and may have helped to slip a reelection bid out from underneath Vovra.

Vovra attributed Law's win to old-style politics, with negative campaigning and catering to special interest groups, something he would have liked to make a thing of the past, he said.

"The two most powerful special interest groups in the state did a tap dance on me and it shouldn't have happened," Vovra said. "I love the idea of doing a good job and I wanted to show by example that you don't have to be a slave to special interest groups. But the people of the district did not return the favor with getting out and voting."

Law acknowledged that both the state teacher's union and Right to Life probably helped his victory bid; however, he pointed out that voters cannot cross party lines in primary elections and the MEA's main focus was the gubernatorial Democratic election.

More than special interest groups, Law attributes his victory to plain old hard work and help from family and friends.

"We worked very hard, a lot of door-to-door work every day for six weeks," said Law, who spent $15,000 of his own money on the campaign. "I looked at it from the standpoint of if I don't get out there and work harder than my opponent, then I'm not going to win."

Democrat Carolyn Blanchard, unopposed in the primary, will go against Law for the 20th district seat, which is a two-year term with an annual salary of $47,723.

Although Law is confident he can merit another term in office, he does not plan to sit on his laurels now that the primary is over.

"This is a highly Republican district, so I have a good chance," he said. "But it will be a tough election, neither side will be sitting home."

Some of the issues Law plans to zero-in on include keeping tabs on school funding developments with Proposal A, which has left Northville school officials feeling uneasy with Lansing as the sole source of funding. Law said he plans to make sure schools in his district are getting a fair shake in funding.

Law also wants to see to it that townships have more control over oil and gas drilled within their boundaries and find ways to increase revenue for race tracks, mainly Northville Downs.

Communication with local officials, Law said, is the key to keeping on top of his district's needs and concerns and he plans to stay in close touch with city and school officials.

Although Vovra is not in the November election picture, he said he plans to stay active in politics and did not rule out the possibility of running in future elections. He also plans to finish his law degree at the University of Detroit and eventually open a private practice.

"I think the majority of the people want someone like me," Vovra said. "If I feel I can contribute something in the future then I will run again."

tured three Democrats and four Republicans battling it out for the right to run in the general election. The Aug. 2 winners were John Schall of the GOP and Democrat Lynn Rivers.

Both are residents of Ann Arbor and both want to occupy the seat that retiring Rep. Bill Ford is leaving open. That's about the only thing they have in common. Schall is from Livonia originally, a Harvard graduate who worked in the Bush White House and served as chief of staff to Secretary of Labor Lynn Martin. Rivers is a state representative for the Ann Arbor area, was a teenage mother and an Ann Arbor school board president. She won election to the state Legislature in 1992, the same year she received her law degree from Wayne State University.

Politically, the two seem to be often at opposite ends of the spectrum: abortion, gun control, health care, welfare reform. Their efforts to explain their positions to voters this fall should mark the line between them even more. The 13th District includes all or part of 26 communities, including the township and Wayne County portion of the City of Northville.

• 35th District Court: Longtime Judge James Garber is calling it quits, retiring at the end of the year. The race to follow in his footsteps saw no less than 11 hopefuls jump in.

The judgeship race is non-partisan, with the two top vote-getters from Aug. 2 going on to November. They are Plymouth Township resident and lawyer Stephen Boak and Plymouth City resident Ron Lowe. Lowe is the city's attorney. The 35th's jurisdiction includes the cities of Northville and Plymouth and the townships of Northville, Plymouth and Canton.

• Michigan House of Representatives 20th District: Former state representative Gerry Law (R-Plymouth Township) defeated current 20th District seat holder Jerry Vorva in an intra-GOP primary fight. A former Plymouth Township trustee, Law left the state Legislature in 1991 to become Plymouth Township supervisor. He is on leave from the state lottery commission during his election campaign.

Many observers say Law's win in the primary was the important factor in the race, since the 20th is heavily Republican. Don't tell that to Carolyn Blanchard of Northville, however: she's Law's Democratic opponent this November. The 20th District includes the Wayne County section of the City of Northville, Plymouth City, Northville and Plymouth Townships and part of Livonia.

• Michigan Senate 9th District: The state's 38 senate districts were redrawn this year to conform to new census numbers. That means longtime Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville, was not running as an incumbent in his bid for reelection. He won the Republican primary and will face Democrat Patrick O'Neill of Livonia in the general election.

The 9th District includes the Wayne County section of Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth City and Township, part of Canton and all of Redford and Livonia.

• Wayne County Commission 10th District: Incumbent Republican Thad McCotter of Livonia was uncontested in his party's primary, as was Democrat Karl Burnett of Livonia. The two face each other this fall.

• Races affecting the Oakland County portion of Northville: City voters living in that sliver of Northville north of Eight Mile have an entirely different slate of races to face, including those for U.S. House, State House, State Senate, Oakland County Commission, Oakland Circuit Court judge and 52-1 District Court judge.

Wayne County residents of the city and township will also cast their ballots for Wayne County Executive and for Circuit Court judges.

reports to the township supervisor and he/she serves as the township's chief administrative officer, implementing the policies and procedures of the board of trustees. The position directs internal services and operations of the township with particular emphasis on financial and human resources management. Performs research and development activities as delegated by the supervisor.

The ideal candidate, the spec said, will have:

- At least a bachelor's degree, with a master's degree in public administration or business as a plus.

- Be a "positive, personable implementor" who has qualities like self-confidence, a "shirt-sleeves, team-builder and player" type of person.

- Someone who is "knowledgeable, flexible and consistent," a person who is a good listener "with strong communications, management and people skills."

- The candidate should possess "common sense and a good business acumen."

- Five years minimum of relevant public administration experience.

- Be now in a "responsible governmental position" such as a township or city manager or assistant manager, finance director or county administrator. Previous experience with a township form of government is a plus, the specification said.

- A candidate should have "good credentials and be knowledgeable in financial, human resources and legal functions as it pertains to public administration."

Depending on the top candidate's qualifications, the township will pay him or her an annual salary in the $48,000-$55,000 range, along with negotiable relocation expenses and a benefits package. The board has decided not to require the new manager to live in the township.

Interviews with the finalists are expected to begin within the next few weeks.

about the debilitating disease and in raising funds for research.

About 350 people in Michigan have HD, Wieske said. The average age of diagnosis is 42. Diagnosing HD has recently been much more accurate since the gene causing the disease was discovered in March 1993. The HDSA helps HD patients find physicians for treating the disease and good nursing homes once the disease has progressed, encourages patients to participate in research studies and provides support for patients and families.

"Unless you have a family member with the disease," Wieske said, "you cannot imagine what it is like to deal with it."

The festival, Rice said, is a pricey venture that is often difficult to fund but the load was made a little easier by Genitt's Restaurant this year. The festival grossed $20,000, but most of the money went toward putting on the festival.

Rice was able to raise $4,000 to offset some costs of the show with a smaller dinner/music show last Saturday featuring John McCutcheon and Christine Lavin at Genitt's Little Theater. Rice said he is grateful to Toni and John Genitt for their help in funding the event.

Other sponsors included Off the Wall Productions, WDET Radio, the Northville Rotary Club and the University of Michigan Health Center.

could have experienced more serious injuries.

They went above the actions of normal citizens and risked personal injury to do so."

Vaningen and Fuga kept the two injured people in the area, Balok said, making it easier for him and his partner to attend to their injuries. Otherwise, Balok said, precious time would have to have been spent accounting for everyone in the accident.

"Through their actions, they have contributed significantly to the accomplishment of citizen service in the community," Zmenda said.

"They kept them calm," Balok said, "and Mark even stayed with the one patient until he was loaded into the ambulance. We just want everyone to know that we appreciate it. It's OK to stop and offer help to the level of training you've got. It made our job easier and the quality of care for the patients better."

Head hunter can help find right candidate

The search for a new manager in Northville Township continues to progress, with officials hoping to have a new hire named by the end of September. The township has been operating without a permanent manager since February and Dick Henningson has served as interim CEO while the search has been ongoing.

Jerry Habelman, the paid consultant heading up the applicant search for the township, has developed a series of personal and professional qualifications for the position. Habelman's specifications call for someone who is "not only qualified in terms of background but also positive and personable, a 'team builder' and player" with "strong communications, management and people skills."

Habelman plans to winnow down a list of 60 candidates to 16, then turn that short list over to a search committee for further review. The winner of the job sweepstakes will get a position in the $48,000-$55,000 salary range, plus benefits and moving expenses.

We're hoping the procedure goes smoothly and culminates in the hiring of a manager whose temperament and personality fit the make-up of township government. Such was not the case with Bill Richards, who apparently came up against a head-strong group of officials and employees he was unable to tame. After eight months of meeting resistance in his managerial task, he resigned.

Just what happened in the Richards case was never adequately explained and we have been forced to speculate as to the true source of the friction. In any event, it is impossible to know whether the use of a consultant might have produced a better marriage than that between the township staff and Richards, but it couldn't have hurt.

Township trustees have been criticized for authorizing up to $10,000 to retain a "head hunter" to search for candidates for manager, but, given the problems that resulted last year when a volunteer committee handled the assignment, we find this criticism unwarranted. Candidates' credentials are relatively easy to identify and can be gleaned from any resume that is professionally produced, but the human aspect of employee relations is much more tricky.

Understanding the characteristics of effective management and knowing how to recognize them in a job applicant is something that takes a trained expert. Hopefully, Habelman will supply such expertise and find one or more candidates who are not only qualified in a professional sense to deal with the often contentious staff and elected officials in Northville Township, but also able to apply the right amount of finesse and firmness in motivating township employees.

We think the board of trustees made a wise move in hiring an employment consultant to help them find the right individual to head up the township. Had they done that last year their decision surely would have been second guessed, but it might have them the spared the time, pain and expense of the collapsed relationship with Richards.

Change of primary date could spur voter turnout

A little less than one in three Northville-area voters showed up at the polls last week, pretty much mirroring participation rates in other communities. Of the 4,703 registered voters in the city, 1,305, or roughly 28 percent, cast ballots; of the 13,963 voters in the township, 4,376, or about 31 percent, voted.

The inclusion of five millage questions on the ballot in the township could have accounted for the slightly higher voter interest there.

Throughout the area, turnout was basically the same: Detroit 32 percent; Livonia 30 percent; Plymouth 26 percent; Wayne County overall 32 percent.

There are several reasons for the relatively low figures, not the least of which was dissatisfaction with the candidates and the sometimes trashy campaigns they conducted. Time was when candidates steered clear of bashing members of their own parties during primary season, keeping the reputation of the party paramount at all times. No more, however. The stakes are higher nowadays and, accordingly, the rhetoric is nastier.

But another discouragement is the awkward timing of the primary. While most states hold their primaries in June or September, Michigan for some reason conducts its election during a busy month when families are either vacationing or preoccupied with the start of the new school year. This practice should be changed, we believe, to bring Michigan in line with practices in other states.

Voter indifference has long been a problem in this country, the greatest and longest surviving democracy on earth. If the quality of the candidates and the campaigns isn't going to improve (and there's no indication it is) all possible measures should be taken to generate voter participation.

Thirty percent is hardly a foundation on which to build representative government.

Wittisms backfire on editor

Lee Snider

Last week I wrote a column about how an anonymous school district observer gave me their version of the real reason behind the shortened school day at Northville High School. I tried to be doubly protective of the identity of the informant by choosing a cover name that was not only ridiculous but also gender neutral. I called the mole "Cousin It" after the blithering, four-foot ambulatory mound of hair from the idiotic 1960s TV sitcom, The Addams Family. You remember, the one who was always babbling in that falsetto, space alien voice.

Brilliant, eh?

Hardly.

It seems several readers thought I was making a veiled reference to high school English instructor Susan Couzens, a member of the steering committee that recommended adoption of the revised mid-week schedule at NHS.

"How could anybody think that?" I yelled while explaining the mess to our front desk receptionist Diane Quint. "What kind of a moron would draw such a conclusion? I stated clearly that Cousin It was a made up name, the same way Deepthroat was a phony tag for the person who fed information to Woodward and Bernstein during Watergate."

"I thought that's who you meant, too," protested Diane

(who is anything but a moron). "I figured you were being tongue-in-cheek and you really wanted people to know who were talking about."

So there you have it - the anatomy of a disaster.

Do you suppose it'll ever happen that something I write won't get misinterpreted by someone? I'm keeping my fingers crossed but I'm not making book on it.

After Susan called me and gave me a fiery tongue lashing for the misunderstanding, I promised her I would do what I could to set the record straight. So here goes.

Susan Couzens is not, nor has she ever been, Cousin It. She is not related to Cousin It, she doesn't spell her name like Cousin It and she doesn't even know what the original Cousin It was (at least I was right about the creature's ambiguous gender).

In addition, Susan assures me she doesn't subscribe to the idea that the high school suffers from a disproportionate percentage of lazy teachers, which is what I cited as a possible explanation for the Wednesday morning staff conferences that begin when school starts next month.

There, I hope that's clear enough. Now let's review.

Cousin It is:

A. Deepthroat's cousin

B. The mystery witness in the O.J. Simpson trial

C. Really Barney the purple dinosaur

D. A composite personality of Rush Limbaugh and my Ouija board

E. Someone other than Susan Couzens?

If you guessed answer E, congratulations. That is the correct response.

Now, as to the truth about Cousin It: Don't try to coax it out of me, for I have vowed to reveal nothing as long as I live. That's right, I will take Cousin It's real name with me to the grave.

However, all is not lost. I've instructed a trusted associate to disclose Cousin It's true identity in the event of my death anytime before the year 2020, which, if I keep making blunders like this, is a virtual certainty.

Take aspirin and call reporter

Randy Coble

Remember that guy on the Bayer aspirin commercial a few years ago?

"I'm not a doctor, but I play one on TV."

Like that's supposed to cement his medical credentials with the headache-relief-seeking masses. At times like this, though, I know how the guy feels.

"I'm not a real reporter, but I play one in Northville Township."

Case in point: the labor contract which the 13 township employees represented by the Michigan Association of Public Employees (MAPE) agreed to way back in March.

If you're scratching your head trying to remember the details of the deal as recounted in The Northville Record, don't wear the skin off of your skull. There wasn't one, due to the oversight of a certain reporter who shall remain me. Now it's August and I'm hoping that late reality is better than never to any of those good folks who've felt slighted by the lack of coverage.

This was just one of those things that slipped through the cracks. I dropped the ball and I was raised to believe in the notion of personal responsibility—I don't cotton to making excuses. It's just an explanation that might help folks to understand how even an important story can get missed.

The contract is a big milestone, after all. It is the first collective bargaining agreement for this group. The 13 employees represented in the deal include clerical workers in Township Hall, one in the fire department and one working with Northville Youth Assistance.

MAPE negotiator Ron Palmquist handled the contract talks. Thanks to his efforts and their patience, the 13 have a three-year contract which runs through December 31, 1996.

"We didn't get everything we wanted but I really do think that this is the best deal we could get under the circumstances," Palmquist said.

It's been a long time coming. The 13 employees filed a petition for union representation back in July 1992 and then began the negotiations process, slowed by personnel changes: the election of a new board of trustees that fall and their subsequent hiring of a new labor attorney.

Talks went to mediation but not all the way to arbitration. Two issues were key, Palmquist said: pensions and wages. They went one for two, getting status quo on the pension situation but working out a new salary step scale for the employees.

MAPE employees agreed to help out the township by delaying pension talks, Palmquist said. Negotiations with the police officers' union were going on at the time, he said. The 13 agreed to hold off on the pension issue for one year, allowing the township to square things away with its officers.

I hope that this eases any headaches I might have given the MAPE folks. If not, remember, gang: the guy who plays a doctor on TV trusts Bayer.

Northville High School has excellent teachers

To the Editor:

I beg to differ with the comments made by "Cousin It" referred to in Lee Snider's article regarding "The scoop on the school day" published Aug. 4.

I do not know how I feel about the revised school day but I am going in open minded with this for the one year trial program. The comment about the "lethargic teachers" at the high school upsets me. We have many excellent teachers throughout this district just as we have a few that do need motivation-also throughout this district. I do not know of any business that doesn't have a few employees that need to have "a fire lit underneath them" by various means of motivation. I'm not convinced that the reason for the revised school days is just to motivate the teachers.

I have two children that have received all of their education by this school district, one graduated this year and the other has two more years. They have had some very caring and motivated teachers especially at the high school.

I feel that as long as you are willing to communicate and show mutual respect as parents, teachers and students you can get an excellent education at Northville Public Schools.

Carol Kapusky

'Cousin It' fails to sway parent

To the Editor:

I'm one of those parents who does not agree with or support the new Wednesday school day, starting this fall, for our high school students. Your column on Thursday, Aug. 4, in which you let your readers "in" on the hidden reasons, as provided by "Cousin It," did nothing to further convince me that the restructured school day is a good idea. Actually, I'm even more opposed, after reading "Cousin It's" excuses!

To have prime instructional time taken away from our young people in order "to have a fire lit underneath" lethargic teachers is ludicrous. I do agree that what needs to be instituted is "merit pay," not shortened school days, to inspire those "foot draggers."

What business could close its doors half a day every week for a year to train and motivate all of its personnel, because of a few lethargic employees. In the business world, lethargic employees get left behind, losing out on pay raises and promotions. To succeed in the business world, an employee must take responsibility for obtaining the education needed to advance and develop needed skills to keep pace with changes. In-house and company sponsored education is provided on a limited basis, often after hours, for those individuals who exhibit both ability and ambition.

Instead of providing three hours of "collegiate conferences" for all teachers, under the guise of bolstering morale and injecting new life into classrooms (because of a few lethargic teachers), let's impress them where it will have the greatest affect-in the pocket book. That's how it's done in the business world. Indifference and poor productivity results in stagnation and, sometimes, termination. Like anything in this world, you get out what you put in.

Sometimes it may be necessary to take time during a school day for conferences; but every Wednesday, every week for a full year! That's unreasonable. What is needed is accountability. If these "lethargic, foot dragging" teachers had to pay for the education and motivation they evidently require (while losing pay due to time away from work), they would be sufficiently motivated to educate and inspire our young people. Why infringe on everyone's time, when only a few require additional training and inspiration?

Northville High School has a number of good teachers and students. Those who can't or won't perform need to be removed, making room for new, fresh educators who care and are eager to bring their enthusiasm for teaching to the class room.

Why are we penalizing our students, because of a few unmotivated teachers. Let's examine the faculty and give our students what they deserve-the best teachers for the finest education. We can't afford to do anything less.

Millage needed closer examination

To the Editor:

The Record's lead article and primary editorial on Aug. 4 focused on the four millage requests that were defeated in the recent election. The editorial stated, "It is hard to imagine what could have caused township residents to..." Ms. Baja is quoted as saying, "I don't understand it; Mr. Abbo says, 'The Board will need to analyze why they failed...'". These reactions reflect either extremely high levels of political naivete or a lack of willingness by these people to admit that they contributed to these results.

What was going through the average voter's mind when reading these proposals? Simple: while I'm still basking in the glow of the recent property tax reductions, here come these %&@!&*&#s with their hands out, already trying to get some of it back. Although this isn't necessarily the correct interpretation that should have been made, it certainly is both an understandable and predictable one. Should voters come to the polls with a crystal-clear understanding of the proposals on the ballot? Yes. It is human nature that they read the proposals for the first time while in the voting booth? Yes.

Could this reaction have been foreseen and prevented? Certainly. How much effort would it have taken to have clearly delineated the proposals, their costs and renewal vs. increase aspects and the implications of defeat and then to have made a mass mailing of this document? Not much. Know why the dirt road proposal passed? Because somebody made an effort to distribute a flyer three days before the election.

Ms. Baja says, "I'm very disappointed;" well, I'm disappointed in Ms. Baja: if she really cared about seeing these proposals passed, she would have gone the extra mile before the vote, like the guy who cared about the dirt roads issue. Any doubt about how concerned Mr. Clinton was about NAFTA? Health care?

What needs to be done now? Let's help Mr. Abbo and Ms. Hillebrand ("we have to sit down and reevaluate") out:

1. Explain, in simple language, what is being proposed.

2. Explain why this is beneficial for township residents.

3. Explain what the costs will be, whether they represent renewals or increases, and, if so, how much (using six SEV examples).

4. Explain how what's being proposed relates to overall township funding.

5. Explain why proposed funding increases cannot be covered through the supposed increasing tax base.

6. Explain what the impact will be if what is being proposed is defeated.

7. Summarize all of the above into a neatly-composed flyer.

8. Have a test group of residents read and assess the flyer.

9. Finalize the document; distribute it one month and again three days before the next vote.

This isn't rocket science-it's political science, about which these people should be knowledgeable. We'll see.

John Duran

Millage article contains errors

To the Editor:

Lee Snider's article in the Aug. 4 Record stated that he could not understand why the voters turned down the police/fire and shared services millage. Lee ought to read Randy Coble's article in the July 28 edition where he made an attempt to explain the millage requests.

First of all both the police and fire departments have been funded by "dedicated" millage for many years-not by the general fund. In some cases the general fund has supplemented the "dedicated" millage, but it has not been the prime source of funding. Coble's article stated that it is a shift from the general fund to dedicated millage and thus a tax increase when in fact the majority of the requested was a renewal.

Second, with regard to Proposal B, shared services: The Aug. 4 Record refers to it as a renewal. It is not. It is a shift from the general

Media missed mark on election

lot about the confused and unsatisfying state of our politics today.

Obviously, the fields were very crowded. Eight candidates running for nomination to the U.S. Senate (six Democrats and two Republicans) and four Democrats vying for the dubious privilege of running against incumbent Gov. John Engler produced big-time clutter in the minds of the voters, not to mention the TV screens.

Moreover, with most of the races very tight, most candidates savagely "went negative" with their TV advertising in the last week. Whether it was Spencer Abraham accusing Romney of flip-flopping on abortion or Lana Pollack accusing Bob Carr of being the insider candidate of the Washington elite, negative is nasty.

The only problem is: Negative works. So the dominant impression left in the minds of most voters is that there is something bad about virtually every candidate. And thus the growing sense of the plague on both your houses and, consequently, low voter turnout.

There are two more subtle and important reasons underlying the dynamics of this particular election. First, the timing. August is a terrible time to have a primary election. Those voters who are not blissfully on vacation or focused on getting ready to get away are coping with the heat and humidity and certainly not in any condition to concentrate on what the candidates are trying to say.

Leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties have a lot of explaining to do about why they tolerate this silent conspiracy to hold Michigan's primary elections at this weird time. Most states have their primary election in June (when people are around) or September (when they're back). We should, too. Second, the media. "Miserable" is the only way I can describe the coverage given to the statewide races in the big city papers and TV.

When the media weren't trivializing the substantive differences between candidates by speculating about who was ahead and who was behind in the polls or in fund-raising (the "politics as horse race" syndrome), the main focus of attention were snide reviews of the various TV ads. Then, adding insult to injury, the columnists complained that the races were "boring" and the candidates not compelling enough.

From the media's perspective, there were just too many different candidates, or not enough reporters available to cover the races thoroughly, or not enough news hole in the papers or air time on TV.

No doubt this is all true. But the fact remains that media coverage of this election failed to focus on the serious, substantive differences between the candidates' positions on the issues of the day and on the subtle but very important differences between them in character and experience.

The net result was that undecided voters represented the largest electoral block right up to the day before the election. And last-minute negative TV advertising swayed those few undecided who held their nose and actually came out to vote. Certainly we can-must-do better than this.

Soft drink companies are relentless

and cans of beer, pop and wine coolers that someone pays 10 cents for but never redeems at the store.

A dime here, a dime there, and pretty soon you're talking tens of millions of dollars per year. The estimates ranged from $12 million to $121 million a year and clustered around $30 million. Only the manufacturers know for sure, and they're not revealing.

Under duress, the Michigan Legislature in 1989 wrote a law saying that 75 percent of the unclaimed deposits should go into the state treasury trust fund to be used for cleanups of toxic cleanups, solid waste disposal and recycling.

My column correctly said Michigan United Conservation Clubs had to bludgeon our lawmakers by collecting 30,000 petition signatures toward 300,000 needed to put such a law on the ballot. The Legislature acted before MUCC had to collect the other 270,000 signatures. At the time, it appeared the industry would accept the inevitable.

"I hope the industry will have brains enough to grasp that Michiganians want a clean state and that the Litter Lobby will give in without an expensive, knock-down, drag-out fight," my column said. Well, I was wrong. The industry was dumber and more selfish than I thought.

To date the amount expended on cleanups has been: zero. The Michigan Soft Drink Association has tied up the law in the courts. First, Ingham Circuit Judge Thomas Brown issued an injunction against treasury preventing collection of the unclaimed deposits. Then Attorney General Frank Kelley took it to the Court of Appeals.

Five years and one week after I wrote that column, the Court of Appeals ruled unanimously, of course-that the soft-drink industry was dead wrong and that the money should go to the treasury.

Our appellate court cited supreme court decisions in Massachusetts and Maine to disprove the industry's shaky argument that our unclaimed deposits belonged to the industry and that the state laws were a "taking" without compensation. Our court said:

"Because of public sentiment against windfall profits to distributors and manufacturers from the unredeemed deposits, the Legislature explicitly amended 1989 Public Act 148 to provide that unclaimed deposits on returnable containers are considered the property of the purchaser, not the manufacturer or distributor... Further, distributors or manufacturers are to report annually to the Department of Treasury the total amount of deposits collected and refunds paid... (T)he excess must be remitted to the Department of Treasury..."

Will the soft-drink industry and its allies waste another year and hundreds of thousands of our tax dollars dragging this out in the Supreme Court? Not if they're smart. So far the bottlers and wholesalers, to their shame, have lost every round: the 1976 ballot proposal, the mid-'80s fight to include wine coolers and the court battle over unclaimed deposits.

Perhaps they're hoping an environmentally-conscious public will get tired of hitting them over the head and leave them alone. If that's their delusion, the industry will be wrong for a fourth straight time.

Letters

budget and is a tax increase unless the Board of Trustees reduces the general millage by a like amount. I did not read anything about a reduction, so it must be considered a tax increase.

Traditionally, shared services have been funded by a formula which determines the share for both city and township. The Record failed to mention how this formula would be affected if the township voted for a dedicated millage.

Both Snider and Coble need to improve the accuracy of their reporting before throwing arrows at the citizens.

Richard E. Allen

(Editor's note: Allen is right in saying that the police and fire services have been funding through a dedicated millage, but is wrong in claiming that Coble's article implied the millage would have amounted to an increase rather than a renewal. We quote from the article of July 28: "The 3.84 mills represent about a half-mill increase over current levels." In addition, Proposal B would, indeed, have been essentially a renewal of shared services funding. All township millages expire this year and the board of trustees publicly vowed not to renew its .728 general operation millage in the event proposals A and B passed. Finally, Allen is correct that the Record didn't explore the impact of the millage on the shared services formula, but this wouldn't have directly impacted the millage rate in the township.)

Citizens must monitor officials

To the Editor:

The 32 percent turnout for the Aug. 2 primary and the rejection of four out of five ballot proposal raises the following questions as to the reasons for the dismal turnout:

1. Voter apathy (common in primary elections)?
2. Failure of township officials to inform the electorate of the importance of the proposals?
3. Failure of township officials to stress the fact that proposals A and B were basically renewals and not additional taxes and failure to present clear and concise comparative figures indicating how passage of the proposals would affect individual tax bills?
4. Poor reporting on the part of the Record in stressing the fact that A and B were renewals?
5. Do the 68 percent who did not exercise their right to vote subscribe to the Record or attend township meetings? If not where do they obtain information relative to the business conducted by the township?

The political shenanigans of the last three administrations warrant close scrutiny by 100 percent of the voters of this fast growing community.

Joki was a vital, active citizen

To the Editors:
The obituary of Audrey W. Joki in the Aug. 4 issue was incorrect in stating that Mrs. Joki retired and moved to Midland in 1968.

On the contrary, Mrs. Joki was a vital and active member of the community until only two years ago when poor health forced her to move to Midland. Her home here was at 359 First Street.

For over 30 years, she served as a postal clerk in the post office. She worked at practically every position under three different postmasters.

Mrs. Joki was a treasure to the community. She was a beautiful seamstress and sewed for a steady local clientele. She could whip up a creative original fashion as well as hem and shorten.

She was a member of the Northville Camera Club. Many of her pictures won awards including one from the Photographic Society of America.

She was a woodworker. She used a hammer and saw as expertly as any man. She designed cabinets, closets, and small pieces of intricate furniture.

Just a few years ago the Northville Historical Society taped her comments on the changes in Northville since she moved here.

With Northville friends, she traveled many times to Europe, Mexico, and Alaska. She loved the far west and could give detailed reports on each of her adventures.

Most of all, Mrs. Joki loved Northville. On a recent visit to her, Audrey said she missed Northville and her many, many friends very much.

Audrey, as many of us knew her, belonged to Northville.

Record must give more info

To the Editor:

I think you are missing what you might call a mile long story by not having an investigative reporter explain some of the fascinating details of the Eight Mile Road construction. I know you had a couple of paragraphs on the cost, but just for fun why not tell us why there are numerous signs telling us it is a "little, little, little bit" or in the original Spanish, "POCO, POCO, POCO?"

And how about that sign that, for at least two months, has been saying for Mr. McNamara that the work will be done in 24 weeks. At that rate, it will never be done. And how are they going to get a five-lane road across the four-lane railroad bridge? And why the revision of the Griswold intersection when it posed no great problem yet nothing seems afoot for the Novi Road intersection that is said to be so bad? And why did the road crew go to big trouble to dig up old concrete pipes (storm drains?) and old corrugated metal pipes (also storm drains?) that perhaps could have been just left for future archaeologists? (Aren't you just a bit curious about when they were installed?)

And how have they managed to let people go in and out of their driveways almost all the time that the work has been going on? (They handle this especially well.) But why was a long row of cable and Consumer's Power little flags carefully put down on the south side of Silver Springs Drive and then eliminated by lawn mower a short time after with no excavation or other apparent work having been done in the region?

Some of the machinery is also interesting. You may have seen some strings along the sides to be paved. They are not to keep goats and horses out. A big machine like a power planer travels next to the string, "reads" it, and chews off excess gravel to achieve the planned height of the base for pouring concrete. By the way, I've found the workers very friendly and willing to explain things. You might enjoy interviewing them.

Then, just for the cynical, is there any significance to the plan to finish the road just before election time?

By the way, thanks for your big effort to let us know about candidates. The tabulation of extra-curricular activities of judgeship candidates was about as close as one can get to the real question that is so assiduously dodged by unidentifying claims of toughness, experience or honesty; what are their prejudices? But keep trying; by direct question to a phone campaigner, I actually got information that one candidate for judge was pro-choice and not prejudiced against Dr. Kevorkian.

If citizens have a duty to vote for judges, it seems to me the public information system ought to provide information to permit an informed choice.

ON WATCH FOR AMERICA

On ships, planes and submarines, in locations around the world, the men and women of the United States Navy are on watch. They're putting their training to work in jobs that make a difference, while developing skills they'll need for a successful future. Just as important, they're doing it for their country. They're Navy people, working hard for America. And that makes us proud.

THE NO POINT/NO FEE MORTGAGE FROM STANDARD FEDERAL BANK.

Buying a home is a wise choice. But that's not the end of it. There are all the expenses after you move in...from paint, wallpaper and furniture to landscaping. And after paying points and closing costs, you may not have enough money to do the things you'd like to do. That's why Standard Federal Bank offers the No Point/No Fee Mortgage.

It's ideal for buyers who can afford the down payment and monthly mortgage payment, but may need help with closing costs. But it's not just for first time buyers. The No Point/No Fee Mortgage also provides people who are moving up with a little extra cash for redecorating and other essentials. Or simply for that vacation next winter.

When you apply for your mortgage, you'll be asked to pay a $250 application fee which will be credited back to you at closing.* And you won't have to pay the following customary fees:

- Credit Report • $350 Closing Fee
- Recording Fees • Survey Fees (where applicable) • Mortgage Title Insurance Fees • Pest Inspection (where applicable).

Plus, the No Point/No Fee Mortgage option is available with a variety of Standard Federal mortgages, including:

- 30-year Conventional Fixed Rate
- 15-year Conventional Fixed Rate
- 10-year Conventional Fixed Rate
- 7/23 Balloon Loans
- 5/25 Balloon Loans.

After you've met with your Real Estate Agent, call or visit a Standard Federal Banking Center and ask about the No Point/No Fee Mortgage.

After all, you've got better things to do with your money.

* You will be asked to pay other fees associated with your mortgage application and closing, such as tax escrow, odd days interest, PMI premium (if applicable), hazard insurance, inspection fees (on new construction) and the tax escrow waiver fee (if applicable). A Reservation Fee may be required for a commitment over 45 days. A fee equal to 1% of the loan amount, which will be credited at the time of closing, will be required for a floating interest rate commitment. You may be charged an appraisal fee and attorney fees if the property is not located in our normal lending area or is a two- or four-family dwelling. If you pay your loan off within the first 60 months, you may be charged a prepayment penalty equal to 2% of the outstanding principal balance. ©1994 Standard Federal Bank.

Farmington Hills voters okay ice arena

By MICHAEL MALOTT
Managing Editor

A market analysis conducted by Terry Seyler, president of Center Ice Management, shows there is still enough demand to proceed with construction of an ice arena in Novi even though Farmington Hills voters just gave the go ahead to the construction of one there, according to Novi Parks and Recreation Director Dan Davis.

The market study, however, is now being held confidentially by the management company until a hearing scheduled for Sept. 19, Davis explained.

"My gut reaction is that he is really going to have to make a strong case why the arena should not be killed off at this point," Davis said.

Novi has been moving ahead with plans to develop an indoor ice arena through the work of the Ice Arena Implementation Committee. The committee, through a "request for proposals" process in May, ranked Center Ice Management as the best private firm to develop the arena for the city.

But in the August primary, Farmington Hills voters approved the construction of a $6 million multi-purpose arena on Eight Mile Road, just over the Novi city border. More than 54 percent of Farmington Hills voters said yes to the project.

Because arenas typically count on drawing patrons from a wider region, the municipalities have been watching the progress of each others' projects. Along with Farmington and Novi, Northville Township has been discussing plans for an ice arena.

In the wake of the Aug. 2 passage of the Farmington proposal, Novi City Council Monday set a special study session for 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19, to discuss the issue. The topic will be whether Novi should proceed with an ice arena or drop its plans altogether.

Davis told the council Monday that the city's Aquatic Committee had met recently to "reenergize" its efforts to develop a community pool on city park land.

The specific site for an ice arena has not yet been selected, although Davis said the committee has been eyeing a location on city park land on Twelve Mile, nor have the plans for the building been finalized. All these items, he said, would be subjects of discussion in the Sept. 19 meeting.

As for the market analysis, Davis said the results were a surprise to him as well as to members of the implementation committee. The study will be unveiled for the council in an upcoming special session

ROUGH RIDERS

By MICHELLE HARRISON
Staff Writer

When local attorney Michele Kelly ditched her crime law seminar to volunteer at a rescue station for a mountain bike race last year, she called the 800 contestants "crazy and insane."

Initially, Kelly had traveled to Traverse City to attend the legal seminar while her husband John competed in the Ice Man Cometh competition, a 30-mile race from Kalkaska to Traverse City. After Kelly saw her husband ride through her rescue station, she decided to wait for him at the finish line.

"Out of 800 riders, my husband comes across the finish line in an ambulance," she said.

John suffered a fourth degree shoulder separation after taking a spill on the course.

But despite the injury, which required surgery, the entire Kelly family has jumped head over handlebars into the up-and-coming sport. While John is ranked within the top 25 of national mountain bikers, Michele is also on the top of the list in her age group.

"In the all races I've been in, I'm usually in the top five in my age group," she said. "But as my kids point out, I'm, one of the oldest women mountain racers, too."

The Kellys oldest daughter, 11-year-old Ryan Mae, is one of the few pre-teens who races competitively while Jack, 9, has won first place in every Michigan race he has competed in. He placed third in a national competition in Vermont.

While Jack is labeled as the "speed demon" in the family, 8-year-old Michael is absolutely fearless, according to his mom.

"He is one of the fastest downhill racers," Kelly said. "Michael doesn't use brakes."

Not to be left out, even 3-year-old Megan Rose has gotten into the act. She insists that a water bottle be attached to her tricycle when she rides.

The Kellys ride almost every day and typically compete in 15 races between April and October.

Michele began to entertain the notion of mountain bike riding when her husband turned their bedroom into a gym while he was rehabilitating his injured shoulder.

"He went out and bought a weight machine, Stairmaster, stationary bike — he pushed the bed up against the wall," she said. "What was I supposed to do? Sit in bed and eat chocolates? In lieu of that, I started working out."

Keep in mind that Michele's idea of proper exercise equipment was anything that started with the word "easy." Like the Easy Glider and the Easy Crunch.

"There's nothing easy about mountain biking," she said. "I thought I was in good shape."

But after three months of working out, Kelly realized she wasn't at all that prepared for her first race.

"I was on my hands and knees after the race," she said. "I thought

I was going to die."

It was back to the weight machines for Kelly, who also started roller blading to help build the endurance in her legs. She began biking every day whether it was six to 10 miles on her mountain bike or 25 to 30 miles on her road bike.

The Kellys take their sport seriously and ride with heart monitors to make sure they're not overdoing it.

"The last race I dropped out early," Kelly said. She couldn't control her heart rate four miles into the course. It may have been due to the 90-degree heat.

"This one woman came up to me and said, 'You quit only after four miles,'" Kelly said. "She chided me. But I said I went four miles more than any of you who didn't even get on a bike."

That's not the norm, though, as Kelly said spectators are always cheering her and other riders on.

"Occasionally I'll yell out I think I'd rather be having a baby," she laughed. "You can feel every muscle in your body (during a race)."

Besides having to be in great shape, mountain bike racers have to have the proper equipment.

"They need a good bike," Kelly said. "A good bike that fits them, is light-weight and has good tires with heavy treads."

A helmet is another must and Kelly wears padded gloves to help reduce the shock from the handlebars.

"You need a good pair of glasses, too," she said. "Whether they're sunglasses or clear plastic ones, they keep the bugs out of your eyes and the wind, too."

Although it would be easy to empty your pocketbook on state-of-the-art mountain biking equipment, it's not necessary, according to Kelly.

"My boys race in fixed-gear bikes," she said. "Some kids are racing in $1,200 to $1,500 bikes and expensive clothing. My boys are racing in their fixed gear BMXs and Converse tennis shoes. Michael always wears his T-shirt that says 'Cruisin' for a Bruisin.' That's his slogan."

It was a good thing that Kelly was wearing her helmet while on a recent ride at Maybury.

"I hit something I shouldn't have hit," she said. "I flew off my bike and hit my head."

Although both John and Michele Kelly have experienced the danger of the sport firsthand, the husband and wife legal team are not too worried about their children's involvement in biking.

"My kids have always been dare-devils since they were quite young," she said. "Also, they wear helmets. Michael is the one who wants to race downhill . . . those kids get up to 40 mph while the pros can get up to 60 mph. I guess he could be getting into worse things. I'd rather they get involved in this than getting into trouble."

The Kellys have two races this month but will get serious about the sport again in September, with races planned for every weekend.

"It's a fun activity and something we can all do in the summer," Kelly said. "We all race and ski in the winter . . . with four children, you've got two choices. You either stay home or you go. And the Kellys like to go."

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

"You have to put your foot down," when it comes to requests for your time, Carol Kemp said.

Once a year The American Cancer Society and The March of Dimes ask her to collect money, and she said, "I'll go up the street for them."

And on a regular basis for the last four years Kemp has been delivering meals once a week in the Senior Adult Nutrition program from the Novi Civic Center to "18 persons but sometimes as many as 27, 28. I've said I'll quit at 30."

The food is brought from Mercy Services for the Aging in Farmington Hills in "huge restaurant catering trays," Kemp said, to the Novi Civic Center kitchen where other volunteers make up individual packages of hot and cold.

The people to whom she delivers are "mostly seniors, mostly women, maybe two or three couples.

"Some I've had from the beginning. Some are temporary. You walk in the door," Kemp continued, "and you give them their meals. Sometimes you visit, and some would like you to spend the whole day with them."

Why does Carol Kemp volunteer? Her reason is in a quote she found—but it goes like this:

"Volunteering is the rent you pay for the space you occupy on earth."

But "you do have to put your foot down" or it will change your life style—and, in her case, "Nothing interferes with my bowling."

There is a need for drivers in the Home Delivered Meals program. If you're interested, call Jan McAlpine, manager of the Novi Senior Center, at 347-0414.

Northville teacher named influential educator by student

Amerman Elementary School teacher Laura Schmelter has earned a most influential educator award from a school district she worked in five years ago.

Former student Sarah Keyser nominated Schmelter for the award, presented by the Indian Prairie Education Foundation in Naperville, Ill.

Schmelter was Keyser's third grade teacher.

"It was unbelievable to get the award," said Schmelter, who hadn't seen Keyser in five years.

She had kept in touch, as they sent Christmas cards to each other and Keyser did attend Schmelter's wedding.

"I loved teaching there," she said. "I loved going back."

Schmelter teaches fourth and fifth grades in Northville's Alternative Learning Program for Students (ALPS). She came to Northville when she got married in 1989.

She grew up in Lansing and moved to Chicago after graduating from Michigan State University.

Keyser nominated Schmelter because her teacher was the first person to get herself interested in becoming an educator.

Schmelter said she rewarded good behavior or 100-percent scores by letting her students eat lunch in the room with her.

"It made me feel like a special friend, not an 8-year-old school girl," Keyser wrote about the special lunch hours in her nomination letter.

Schmelter said the lunches helped her get to know her students on a different level.

The teacher said she enjoys the same relationship with her Northville students.

"Kids are kids no matter if I'm here (in Northville) or there," she said. "I have a really good relationship with (Northville) students, too."

Schmelter said she couldn't be happier with her present job.

"I felt I would never get a job like that (in Naperville) again," she said. "And now I do. I feel just as fortunate that I'm here as I was in Naperville."

A former student of Laurie Schmelter nominated the Northville teacher as her most influential educator.

Church

Love and Death will be the next movie to be shown as part of FAITH COMMUNITY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of Novi's "Faith and Film Festival" Aug. 17.

The 11-week festival will have showings of box office hits at 7 p.m. each Wednesday at the church, located on Ten Mile Road. Author Robert Short will introduce each film, provide a brief interpretation following the movie and lead the audience in a discussion. Admission is free and open to the public.

For more information call the church at 349-5666.

The guest organist for the Aug. 14 services at Northville's FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 777 W. Eight Mile Road, will be Mitch Green. Lynn Ryan, soprano soloist, will provide special music as will Brian Finzer on piano.

Tickets are now available for the 160-year anniversary celebration.

The banquet and program will take place at 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, at the Waterman Center at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Tickets are $12 for adults and $10 for children.

The United Methodist Women still needs volunteers to help with the fall craft and quilt show scheduled for Oct. 21 and 22.

The Jews for Jesus traveling evangelistic team will present "The Liberated Walling Wall" at DETROIT FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE, 21260 Haggerty Road, Northville, Sunday, Aug. 14. They will present a program of music, drama and testimony at 6 p.m.

Jews for Jesus developed Jewish gospel music over two decades ago. They wanted music with harmony and rhythm that could blend their Jewish backgrounds with a message proclaiming Jesus as Messiah. The group's sound is achieved through a variety of instruments including piano, guitar, violin, flute, piccolo and dunbek (Middle Eastern drum). All the lyrics are taken from both the Hebrew Scriptures and the New Testament portion of the Bible.

For more information call the church at (810) 348-7600.

The seventh annual chickenfest at MEADOWBROOK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, 21355 Meadowbrook Road, Novi, has been scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 11.

Dear Dr. Beitman

I would like to commend you and your staff on a job well done. I am very pleased with my experiences with you and your staff. Being a Manager of a Customer Support Department, I expect the best from my employees when it comes to providing good customer service. I also expect excellent service whenever I am the customer. I felt that the service received at your office exceeded my expectations.

Starting with my initial phone call requesting a consultation, my experiences were very pleasant. After watching the video, reading the various pieces of literature and talking with Peggy and yourself, I felt very comfortable with my decision to have RK performed at your office. Julie, Carla, Nat and Sue just made the experience even more pleasant. (I hope I remembered all their names correctly!) The personalities of these individuals actually made the experience fun (it's hard to believe that going to a doctor's office can be fun). During the tests and examinations, your staff was professional and personable. The conversations and joking that we had made the testing process go very quickly.

The actual surgery itself was painless and much quicker than I had imagined. I am definitely a "big chicken" when it comes to having anyone (including me) near my eyes. I was amazed that I made it through the surgery on my first eye, and still had the desire to have my second eye done. In the back of my mind, I thought for sure that I might not have enough nerve to return to have my other eye done. Considering I actually was looking forward to my second surgery, you and your staff must have done a good job.

It has really been fantastic to be able to do whatever I want without wearing glasses. I am still not used to going through the day without them. I find myself trying to adjust my glasses, even though I am not wearing them. Hopefully, I will be able to break this habit soon. Having people watch me reaching for glasses that don't exist is getting very embarrassing.

I would be happy to talk to any of your future clients regarding you, your staff and RK. Feel free to give them my number.

Sincerely, Joseph K. Chris

Pesci deserves honors for 'With Honors'

WITH HONORS
By Heather Wadowski
Northville

Joe Pesci stars as Simon Wilder, a bum whose hideout is Harvard's very own library's boiler room in the drama "With Honors."

His life is far from perfect, but he's happy nonetheless.

But his life is about to change without warning when he happens upon a soon-to-be Harvard graduate's thesis ... and enters his world.

At first, Simon is unwanted by the graduate (played by Brandon Fraiser) and his roommates. But soon he teaches these four pals to love, learn and accept everyone's differences ... including his own. And eventually he worms his way into their hearts, especially Courtney (played by Moria Kelly).

And when these roommates discover Simon is dying, they have to choose between his dying wish and their lives.

Joe Pesci, Brandon Fraiser and Moria Kelly give winning performances in this comedy-drama. It's kind of hard to accept Pesci in a serious movie after "My Cousin Vinny" and the "Home Alones," but he does "With Honors" perfectly.

So if you want a serious movie that will make you cry, yet laugh a little, see "With Honors."

When he first arrives at the institution, McMurphy is interviewed by the administrator. In this most authentic scene, the newcomer learns who he's being scrutinized. When asked about his repeated sex offenses, he responds with bawdy comments and winks.

He is overseen by strong-willed, immovable, Nurse Ratchett (Louise Fletcher), who meticulously conceals all her emotions. She goes steadfastly by the book, even in trivial situations.

"Mac" is well-liked by the guys. They admire his assertiveness toward the callous nurse. He displays the courage they lack and provides some entertainment to the daily monotony.

It's a constant battle between Nurse Ratchett and McMurphy. Unfortunately, because she creates the reports that will decide his fate, Ratchett sits in the driver's seat. The deck is stacked against McMurphy, and Milos Forman's wonderful direction keeps you rooting for the criminal.

This 1975 film got five top Oscars for picture, actor, actress, screenplay and director. It's great.

TRUE LIES

The muscle-bound, iron-pumping Schwarzenegger is back and in true pumpitude.

James Cameron and the man who can barely fit his name on a screen work together once again to bring more astounding scenes. But "True Lies" dashes on a few extra spices that set it away from the everyday blood-and-guts action dishes.

To his wife, Jamie Lee Curtis, Arnold lives a seemingly boring life working at a computer firm, but really he is a world-renowned secret agent. When the Austrian bodybuilder discovers his wife is having an affair because she wants a little adventure in her life, they suddenly find themselves fighting Arab terrorists as husband and wife.

If you are looking for a film with a little heart in the midst of the violence, you won't find much in "True Lies," but you will find unbelievable action sequences, excellent contributions from all the cast and what? — hilarious black humor. Tom Arnold, who is Arnold's sidekick, is one addition that adds a little comedy in the middle of the explosions.

"True Lies" needs bypass surgery on its heart but other than that it earns four stars (based on a five-star scale with five being the tops). This movie will melt your eyes with amazement and force you into convulsive laughter — two qualities very few big-name action films possess.

Schwarzenegger is back!

CLEAN SLATE
By Heather Wadowski
Northville

Dana Carvey's latest movie, "Clean Slate," proves that Carvey (SNL, "Wayne's World") doesn't need to be playing someone else to be funny.

Carvey plays Maurice Pogue, a private investigator who's the only witness to a murder that took his client's life. As soon as he testifies, one of America's leading gangsters will be behind bars forever. The only problem is he can't remember a thing. Everything is a mystery to him — who he is, what he does and, most importantly, who dunnit.

To put it bluntly, every time Maurice falls asleep he loses his memory. Soon Maurice is caught up in a triangle between the good guys, the bad guys and his dead girlfriend.

Sound confusing? It is.

In fact, halfway through the movie you're wondering if you've come down with amnesia, too. But even so, you can't stop laughing.

This is definitely Dana Carvey's best performance ever.

"Clean Slate" also stars Barkley the Wonder Dog as Baby, a cute little dog who has one problem — he can't see out of one of his eyes. And while Baby is running into doors and eating food that happens to be six inches away from his face, you are laughing uncontrollably.

All in all, "Clean Slate" may be one of the best comedies so far in 1994.

AIRHEADS
By David "Spike" Schultz
Whitmore Lake

Here's a movie that explains itself. "Airheads."

That's what it's about. And that's who stars in it. It's a cheesy comedy about three metal heads, who want to make it big. They can't seem to get a break. So the only thing that they can think to do, being as stupid as they are, is break into a radio station and play their demo on the air.

So they get a lot of attention because they're a bunch of madmen trying to play their song on the air. Having all this attention, a huge crowd forms outside the radio station to encourage them. They find themselves in one big mess, and the only thing they know how to do is make it worse.

So if you feel like wasting your money, go ahead. But you'll be in for one big disappointment.

Bayside wins second NABF title in a row

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Manny Pizarro was the man Monday in Northville.

The 16-year-old hurler led his Bayside Yankees to its second straight National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior World Series championship with a four-hit shutout at Northville High before a large crowd.

Pizarro struck out six and yielded no walks in leading the New York team over Cincinnati's Midland Warriors 3-0 Monday. According to Manager Ron Seltzer, the young right hander wasn't even part of his regular pitching rotation this season.

"Manny Pizarro was the guy to go to," he said. "He's the guy you could wake up in December and he'd be able to hit and throw the ball. He's a money player."

It was Bayside Americans' fourth championship since 1983. The New Yorkers went 4-1 for the tournament with their only loss coming to host Northville (see related story).

Seltzer said this year's Baysiders weren't the best he's ever had, but were very tough nonetheless.

"We're a great team," he said.

"and a team that came of age today."

In years past, NABF World Series winners have gone on to the "Super Series." That series pits the Northville-crowned champs against other organizational champions.

Bayside won the Super Series last year. But, according to sources, the tournament won't be held this summer.

At any rate, Northville residents were treated to excellent baseball throughout the Junior Series. And Monday's final pitted two excellent ball clubs for the title.

True to form, the game started off tight.

Pizarro locked horns with Warriors right hander Kevin Schubert in the early innings. Both threw very hard and didn't allow a hit for the first two innings.

Bayside began to get to Schubert in the third inning. With one out, Ismael Cruz singled to center field and then stole second base.

After a walk and a fielder's choice off the bat of Willie Bosque, New York put runners on second and third base with yet another stolen base. Schubert got Michael

Northville falls in semis

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

It didn't end up quite the way they wanted.

But for the Mickey Mantle baseball team, the NABF Junior World Series was a big-time success. Northville made it all the way to Monday's semi-final before falling to a powerhouse Cincinnati squad 17-1 at the high school field.

"We were flat," admitted coach Bob Willerer. "We just ran out of gas here. But I'm very proud of the way we played."

And well he should be. The Mantle team, composed of 15-16-year-olds, won three games in the four-day tournament—the most Northville has done in years.

Along the way, the squad beat the eventual Series champion and proved to everyone they were worthy competitors.

"We felt like we could compete with anybody," said Willerer. The coach gave credit to local support for his team's showing.

"Our program is strong," Willerer commented. "I think we owe it to the community."

Northville's impressive run ended Monday morning.

It became clear early that the emotional high of beating New York Bayside the night before had taken a toll on the ballclub. Defense that had been as tight as glue started to come apart in the second inning.

With two out, Cincinnati smacked two straight singles. On the second hit, which was by Gary Wilhelm, right fielder Aniel Kersey overthrew third base allowing the lead runner to score.

The Warriors added five runs in the third inning to start the rout. Cincinnati nailed two home runs to account for all five runs.

Tom Willerer, Northville's ace hurler this season, didn't make it out of the inning. Fatigue took its toll on the young right hander.

"He just couldn't get (the ball) down," said Bob Willerer.

Northville scored its lone run in the bottom of the frame.

After one out, Mark Sander walked. A single by Dave McCulloch put runners on first and second base. Chuck Yessalan, Northville's big catcher, singled home Sander to make it 6-1.

But, Cincinnati was too much. The Warriors went on to add four runs in the fifth and seven in the seventh to advance to finals.

Willerer wasn't disappointed with the heart his team showed in the tournament.

"These boys can walk with their heads held high," he said. "They played on a level with national teams and competed at a level unsurpassed by any Northville team."

NORTHVILLE 5, BAYSIDE AMERICANS 4

It was, quite simply, the upset of the tournament.

New York had won 25 games in a row heading into the Sunday night contest. A determined Northville team wasn't intimidated, however, and beat New York with great pitching and clutch hitting by Kersey.

Tied at four in the bottom of the seventh, Kersey smashed a long

Earhart Golf Center offers fun place to practice

By Merrill Cain

One of the first things that a beginning golfer realizes is, no matter how good you think you are at smacking the ball or how quickly you've been able to pick up the game, you ain't nothin' without a short game.

Experienced golfers have already learned this valuable lesson time and again and that's why so many skilled players end up spending much of their time not on the driving range, but rather on the putting green where precision, patience and accuracy are the key.

Local linksters have an excellent avenue to improve and refine their short game skills in a beautiful, friendly rural golf setting at the Earhart Golf Center located at 6201 Earhart Road just off of Territorial Road near Ann Arbor.

Earhart has plenty to offer for both the avid golf fan as well as a novice. The facility also serves up a splendid afternoon of enjoyment for families or couples who are looking to experience a relaxing golf outing.

The center includes an interesting executive nine hole course that takes the golfer on a challenging romp through sand traps, doglegs, beautiful wooded areas and ample water hazards.

The most unique feature of Earhart, however, is its increasingly popular and deceptively difficult 18 hole professional putting greens. The all-grass putting course is the only one of its kind in Michigan and co-owner of Earhart, Ray Coon, said that there are only three other professional greens of its kind in the nation. The others, located in Hawaii, New Jersey and Las Vegas have already distinguished themselves among the golf community as novel areas to work on refining the art of putting.

Coon, who operated a farm and a small airfield for 32 years on the property where the center is now located, designed the putting greens and modeled them after the Las Vegas course. Coon opened the nine hole executive course two years ago but the putting greens were only completed and opened for business this spring.

"We already had a par 3 course and we had some extra room but we didn't want to open a driving range," said Coon who owns Earhart along with his son Greg Coon. "I went to Angel Park in Las Vegas and then we decided that a putting course would be a great idea."

Since its grand opening in June, the putting course has attracted a lot of local golfers looking to improve on their short game, said Coon, but the executive course still has a larger faithful following. It's easy to understand why. The 1,302 yard course features plenty of challenges for the experienced player but it's friendly enough for the beginner to "get their feet wet" so to speak.

Water comes into play directly from the outset on the nine hole course as any golfer who hits it long on the first hole can attest. There's a creek that runs in back of the 111 yard first hole. Sand traps on both sides of the green add to the need for an accurate placement shot.

There are only two holes on the course that are not par 3's and hole no. four is the first. A straight drive on the 210 yard par 4 hole is a must. Heavy woods guard the tee closely on both sides for about 65 yards and then a slight slice to the right is acceptable. The greens are pretty honest on no. four but there are some worn spots where the weather has made things a little rough going.

The 175 yard sixth hole at Earhart travels along the back part of the course and features a cornfield directly to the left of the tee. The best approach is to keep to the right and play it conservative. The green features a high degree of undulation and provides the steepest putting challenge of any of the holes.

Irons can be used on much of the course but the other par 4 hole, no. seven, could call for a wood drive. The 240 yard hole is a dogleg left that features two adjacent water hazards some 60 yards in front of the green. The second shot on the hole must clear the bridge that covers another creek.

The 129 yard ninth and final hole is a straight on tee shot but sand in front and to the left of the hole coupled with trees to the right make for a difficult approach. A domed green also ensures a difficult putt from any angle.

South Lyon resident Joe Gordinier, who plays the executive course at least twice a week during the warm weather months, said that Earhart is one of his favorites because it gets back to the basics of the game. "You can hit all the big shots you want, but eventually all golfing ends up coming down to the irons and putters and that's what this is all about," he said.

The putting greens at Earhart look simple enough but the course

Newman to make baseball donation

Northville travel baseball will be getting a shot in the arm soon.

Mustang alumnus Willie Newman has pledged to match contributions to the program up to $5,000. The 1982 NHS graduate said he wanted to give something back to his home community.

"I grew up in Northville and played in the junior program," he said. "I felt it would be a good chance to support the program that helped me."

According to Northville Junior Baseball Secretary David Jerome, the association has raised about $2,000 thus far. He said he hopes that figure will rise to $5,000 soon.

Once collected, funds will be spent in several areas.

Money will be earmarked for all levels of travel baseball, from 11-12 to 17-18 year-olds. Uniforms and tournament fees are the big ticket items, Jerome said.

Improvements will also be made at the new diamonds on Beck Road. Two fields are in good shape

Astros win state recreation title

Northville has a state baseball champ.

D'Adamo Veterinary Clinic Astros, winners of Northville's 12-years-old and under league, recently won the Michigan Recreation state tournament. Held in Bridgeport, the Astros beat a half-dozen squads from around Michigan to take the title.

It took wins over Bridgeport, Allen Park and Ann Arbor to win it for Northville. Coach David Jerome credited the Astro defense in winning first place.

Northville won its first game of the final round in a come-from-behind victory over tournament favorite, Bridgeport, 6-4.

Mark Corbin got the Astros rolling by scoring the first run of the game. He later knocked in two runs to give Northville a 3-0 lead.

Bridgeport rallied to take a 4-3 lead on a pair of home runs. That lead didn't last long, however.

Jamie Liska scored the tying run as Brandon Davis knocked in two with a single. Brendan Green, Andy Reibling and Eric Cooley combined on the mound to hold Bridgeport in check. Bliss, Corbin, Chris Price and Marshall Knapp played strong defensively in the infield.

Northville and Allen Park battled in the semi-final.

The game remained scoreless until the fifth inning when Corbin knocked in Ben Dunne and Green to take a 2-0 advantage. Allen Park came back with three in their half of the frame and led 3-2 at the end of five.

Northville didn't trail for long, though. The Astros broke the game open with four runs in the sixth and seventh innings and finished as 10-3 winners.

In the championship game, Northville bats boomed for 24 hits and 18 runs to take an easy victory over Ann Arbor.

Green had four hits to pace the offense while Chris Lebeis and Cooley had three hits and three runs. Mike Shea, Corbin, Bliss, Price and Davis each had two hits while Gary Liskowski and Ricky Buttery added their support.

Cooley and Green pitched no-hit ball until the seventh when Ann Arbor got a scratch hit.

New York broke through for the game's first run in an inning later. A Cincinnati error followed by Bayside singles from Kevin Reinke and Chafin Evans loaded the bases. Richard Benes followed with a sacrifice fly to put his team up 1-0.

The Yankees added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Bosque doubled in Cruz in the fifth inning. The score became 3-0 in the sixth as Frank Fleizach scored on a Warrior error after walking.

Pizarro, meanwhile, sailed along. Cincinnati's first hit came in the fourth inning on a solid single by Kris Musselman. The Warriors' best scoring chance came in the sixth inning.

Consecutive singles by Gary Wilhelm, Randy Broxterman and Musselman loaded the bases. Mike Menke followed with a medium-depth fly to center field but Cincinnati coaches elected to hold the runner at third.

Pizarro then struck Kenny Burdine out on a high fastball and got Pat Eagan on a pop fly to second base. Three of the Warriors' four hits came in the inning.

Cincinnati went quietly in the bottom of the seventh inning. Pizarro finished what he started and struck out B.J. Williamson to end the game.

A total of nine teams, from six states, competed in the tournament.

home run-his first of the summer-over the left field fence to propel Northville to victory.

"The boys at no time felt they couldn't win it," said Willerer.

Northville led until the seventh inning.

Sander walked, stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch to start Northville's first inning. Two batters later, McCulloch grounded out to shortstop to score him and give the home team a 1-0 advantage.

That lead became 2-0 after two innings. Tom Willerer crushed a solo home run to left center for the run.

Bayside got one back in the top of the third, but the Northville offense just kept rolling. Yessaian doubled home Chris Karney to make it 3-1 after three innings.

Starting pitcher Scott Vigh kept Bayside in check until the fifth inning. The right hander allowed two hits and hit a batter as Bayside cut the lead to 3-2.

Willerer relieved Vigh with Chris Schiffrer and was able to put out the fire. Vigh pitched a strong ball game going four innings and allowed just two runs on three hits.

Northville got its final run before the Kersey homer in the sixth. Yessaian reached on an error and eventually scored on a double play.

The New Yorkers tied the game in the top of the seventh. A Northville throwing error and a single by Willie Bosque accounted for the Yankee runs.

Ben Szostek started off Northville's half of the inning with a fly out. Kersey then smacked a first pitch fastball over the fence to win the game.

Schiffrer got the win in relief of Vigh. Phil Kozdron got a save by recording the final two outs in the seventh.

OTHER GAMES

Northville played three other games.

The locals opened play Sunday by beating Bayside Nationals 7-1. Jeff Steving hit two home runs and knocked in four to pace Northville.

Lexington Dixie gave Northville its other loss Saturday, 6-2. The locals opened the tournament by beating Oregon, Ohio 5-4.

Newman to make donation to Northville junior baseball

currently, but a third needs work.

"What's been done (so far)," Jerome said, "has been done well."

The two fields in place are for younger squads. The newest field, which will have a grass and clay infield plus dugouts will be for 15-18-year-olds, said Jerome.

Completing that diamond will have another impact on the community.

The National Amateur Baseball Federation holds its junior World Series in Northville each summer. Games have been played at the high school field and at Madonna University Stadium in Livonia the last two years, preparing the Beck Road site, which sits between Five and Six Mile roads, will keep all the games in town.

Helping to make all of at possible is Newman, who is the brother of Northville High baseball coach Mickey Newman.

A wholesale lender at Standard Federal Bank, the Ann Arbor resident said junior baseball develops character in youngsters.

"It certainly was a benefit to me," Newman commented and added, "I want to help kids develop in the program."

The donation, he believes, will help Northville teams participate in more summer tournaments-a key in developing top players.

"I wanted to make sure Northville teams had a significant presence outside of the community," said Newman.

Summer concert series to close

By CINDY STEWART
Special Writer

Tonight is the last of the 1994 Sounds of Summer Concert Series and it's going out with a bang. For your listening pleasure, the series will present Novi's very own "Novi Concert Band" outside of the Novi Civic Center at 7 p.m.

The Novi Concert Band has performed annually at the Summer Concert Series and is always welcomed back with open arms.

The 60 members that make up the woodwinds and brass band are your neighbors and friends from Novi and the surrounding suburbs. The concert band has been in existence since 1982.

Tonight's concert will feature a mixture of marches such as "Stars & Stripes," light classical pieces and show tune selections from Phantom of the Opera, as well as works of Henry Mancini and Hoky Carmichael.

The show will be a 90-minute performance outside of the Civic Center (weather permitting).

This is the second year for conductor Jack Kopnick, retired music director from the Allen Park School system. The Novi Concert Band has been very busy this year performing in Novi and at the Northville and Farmington Summer Concert series and the Strawberry Festival in Belleville.

The band performs in Northville three times each summer, drawing 300 to 400 people. The band's Christmas and Spring concerts are also well attended.

Upcoming concerts include downtown Northville on August 19 and South Lyon on August 26.

The Novi Concert Band is always looking for serious minded musicians interested in joining the band. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Novi High School. For information on joining or a schedule of future concerts, call Warren Ledger at 348-2955.

The concert series wishes to thank the Border Cantina, Olive Garden Italian Restaurant, Ruby Tuesdays, Shields and Salvatore Scallopini for donating the "Lunches for 2" prizes that were given away as drawings during each concert. The free lemonade, pretzels, balloons and blowing bubbles was also a big hit with the kids.

While the end of the summer concerts means that summer is slowly winding down, Novi Parks and Recreation never takes a rest from providing activities, programs, classes and events for you and your family to enjoy. Watch your mail for the next Novi Parks and Recreation brochure filled with more great activities.

Cysts can develop in healthy ovary

Every month a normal ovary develops a small cyst while forming an egg. The cyst usually ruptures and releases the egg, but in some instances the egg does not develop normally and the cyst remains.

James Roberts

These small cysts are not detectable and cause no symptoms. Generally, they are smaller than an inch in diameter and are a normal finding when an ultrasound or surgery is performed.

These cysts rarely grow more than four inches in diameter. They do not cause changes in the menstrual cycle and, in most women, resolve spontaneously in one or two months. Therefore, most physicians suggest a repeat exam in 30 to 60 days to confirm that the cyst has resolved.

Such cysts do produce symptoms however, if they twist and occlude the ovary's blood supply. Under these circumstances, a great deal of acute pain can develop and emergency surgery may be required to remove the ovary. The size of the cyst may produce a pressure sensation in the pelvis. This can result in a feeling of pelvic fullness or a sensation of not being able to empty either the bladder or the rectum. While there is no danger from these symptoms, they can be quite uncomfortable. In most cases, all that is required is to remove the cyst and leave the ovary intact. If the symptoms persist, however, the ovary may need to be removed.

If a cyst grows larger than four inches, it will generally not resolve spontaneously. These are called non-functional cysts. There are several types of cysts. The most common is called an adult cystic teratoma or dermoid cyst. This cyst develops from an abnormal egg that produces a structure that may contain a portion of an organ such as hair, skin or brain. Other cysts that can form include those that develop from the membrane that covers the ovary. These are called cystadenomas and are classified as either serous or mucinous; depending on the type of cells that make up the cyst. All of these non-functional cysts should be surgically removed; the dermoid cyst can cause the ovary to twist and block its blood supply while the cystadenomas are believed to be premalignant; they may become cancerous if not removed.

The least common cyst is malignant—one that contains a cancer. While ovarian cancer is uncommon, most are cystic which, on examination, can be confused with a benign cyst. Currently, the departments of Radiology and Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Michigan Medical Center are investigating whether certain radiological tests can distinguish benign from malignant cysts. If this research is successful, surgery may no longer be necessary for those who have benign cysts, which may be emptied using a needle placed through the skin.

Frequent exercise add years to life

It's tempting to bypass the stairs for the elevator. However, even a little staircase exercise every other day may actually increase longevity.

Barry Franklin

A landmark study showed that death rates from all causes are lower among people who regularly expend even a few extra calories during work and recreational activities. Along with walking, jogging and other recreational games and activities, people were prolonging life by common daily activities like climbing the stairs.

The late Dr. Thomas Cureton, guru of sustained endurance exercise, popularized stepping up and down on a 17-inch bench for cardiovascular conditioning. Why 17 inches? Simple. His lecture tours made it difficult to go running, so he converted his hotel room into a gymnasium. He would close the lid on his 17-inch high toilet seat and step up and down on it for 30 minutes. It must have been rather noisy staying in the room below him.

Fitness enthusiasts realized bench stepping was little different from climbing stairs.

Dr. Kenneth Cooper, the "father" of aerobics, suggested stair climbing as a form of exercise. To maximize its effectiveness, he recommended climbing up and down the same set of three steps. Since the energy cost of going down stairs is only about one-third that of climbing them, he reasoned that the shorter descent would allow the body less time to recover.

Today, many adult fitness and cardiac rehabilitation exercise programs still use a three-step staircase. Several manufacturers have developed simulated stair-climbing devices that are widely employed in rehabilitation centers and health clubs. Such units provide progressive, computerized workout routines, along with instant feedback on calories burned and heart rate.

Stair climbing is comparable to walking, running and stationary bicycling, according to research on its cardiovascular benefits. In another study healthy men who climbed stairs at work as part of a program showed significant improvements in heart-lung fitness.

Seriously consider stair climbing as an aerobic exercise. Stairs are accessible to nearly every homeowner, apartment dweller and office worker. You can walk the stairs at about the same energy expenditure of running — and avoid the cold hand of winter.

Stair climbing has even become competitive. The test is to climb the stairs of a high office building or hotel.

If you have arthritis or knee problems, however, watch out. In some persons, stair climbing can also put excessive stress on the heart by causing rapid rises in heart rate and blood pressure.

Barry Franklin, PhD., is director of Cardiac Rehabilitation and Exercise Laboratories at William Beaumont Hospital. His new book, "Making Healthy Tomorrow," is available by calling 1-800-289-4843.

Endowment mortgages spark interest in the U.S.

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

A previous column focused on endowment mortgages. Because of reader response, here's an update on this new type of home loan.

The concept was recently unveiled in the United States but has long been the "mortgage loan of choice" in the United Kingdom, where endowment mortgages now account for about 80 percent of all home loans.

With this mortgage, the principal balance does not amortize (lower) with each payment. It remains the same throughout the loan's term even though the monthly payments are about the same as would be paid with a conventional loan.

The money that would normally be used to reduce the principal is fed into a life insurance fund that builds in value for the borrower with each payment. At the end of the loan term, there is usually enough cash value accumulated in the fund to pay off the loan, plus a substantial cash payment to the borrower.

This cash is often used for the down payment on another home or any other purpose a homeowner has in mind.

The fund also can be used to shorten the loan term.

Bill Burko, senior loan officer with Charter Pacific Bank in California, has been offering this type of loan to borrowers since May.

"Many people who express interest in the plan are up in years, and this is not such a great plan for them," Burko said. "But I'm also hearing from many younger homeowners who see this as an opportunity to invest and save funds for their retirement."

The endowment mortgage loan Burko offers is packaged by Investment Mortgage Corp., based in Atlanta, and is the only firm that now produces such a loan. But other firms are studying the concept and probably will come up with a similar plan.

HOME DESIGNS

First impressions make the Redwood grand

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

With its lofty portico, supported by slender classical columns, the Redwood creates a striking first impression. A high-pitched hip roof accentuates the sense of grandeur.

There's no disappointment once you step inside. All of the rooms are large and most have high vaulted ceilings. Only the two secondary bedrooms have flat ceilings.

The living room is the largest, brightened by two large street-facing windows. A kicker corner creates an ideal location for a window seat.

While slightly smaller than the living room, the family room actually seems larger. The ceiling here is vaulted toward the center. Light filters down through six rectangular skylights, three on each side of the peak. And while the living room is enclosed, the family room is wide open.

Were it not for the fireplace, it would be hard to tell where the family room ends and the dining room, nook and kitchen begin. Sliders on the left open onto a raised deck.

Sink and dishwasher are built into one side of an eating bar that is easily long enough to seat five people. The dishwasher is raised to the level of the eating bar, 6 or more inches higher than the sink and counter. This allows loading and unloading of the dishwasher without the inconvenience of bending down as low as is usually necessary.

A large step-in pantry provides additional storage space.

The utility room is larger than most. Amenities include cabinets, sink, counter and a fold-down ironing board. And this room is also convenient to the garage, handy for cleanup after working in the shop area.

In the vaulted master suite, a skylight bathes the private bathroom in soft, natural light. Other features include twin lavs and a spa tub roomy enough for two. Tropical plants flourish in this moist, bright environment, on the shelf next to the tub.

There's plenty of storage here, too — a linen closet and a long wardrobe. Additional space for clothing is in the hallway, just outside the door.

For a study plan of the Redwood (333-040) send $9 to Landmark Designs, c/o HomeTown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

PINES and PESTY BEETLES

ozing pitch and tunnels in shoots of landscape pines and Christmas trees may be the symptoms of a new pest to Michigan, the pine shoot beetle (Tomicus piniperda).

They may also be the signs of infestation by a number of other beetles and caterpillars that attack pine trees.

A new bulletin from Michigan State University Extension, "Diagnosing Shoot-boring Insects of Pines" (NCR 528), provides growers, landscapers, foresters and others an identification key for determining which pest is responsible for damage observed in pines.

McCullough, Extension forest entomologist at MSU, says the pine shoot beetle was discovered in Ohio in 1992. Since then, it has been found also in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania. The adult beetles are small — about the size of a match head — and dark colored. The legless larvae are white with brown heads and up to 1/4 inch long when fully grown.

The adult beetles damage pine trees by boring in the lateral (side) branches. They feed from May through October, with each adult tunneling into and killing from one to six shoots, either year-old wood or the current year's growth. Hollowed-out shoots generally bend near the point where the beetle entered, turn yellow to red, and eventually break off and fall to the ground.

Feeding by large numbers of beetles over time can reduce tree height and diameter.

Adults usually leave the shoots in October or early November and enter the thick bark at the base of the tree in which they've been feeding to overwinter.

The beetles lay their eggs in early spring in recently cut pine stumps, logs, or the trunks of newly dead or dying trees. Females construct vertical galleries within the inner bark and outer sapwood to lay their eggs in. The larvae then hollow out horizontal feeding galleries. They generally complete their development into adults in May and June. When they emerge, they go looking for healthy pine trees to feed on.

Adults rarely damage the terminal shoot — they usually prefer to feed in lateral branches in the upper half of the tree.

The recommended management strategy is to destroy stumps and other breeding sites, McCullough says.

For more information on the pine shoot beetle and other shoot-boring insects of pines, contact your county MSU Extension office and ask for bulletin NCR 528. It's also available from the MSU Bulletin Office, 10B Agriculture Hall, East Lansing, MI.

GARDENING

After rain, if you look under an oak tree, you might find some mushrooms growing there. They usually sprout up overnight. Mushrooms are part of a much larger plant that grows underground called a fungus (fungus). To understand how these delicious fruits grow, you have to understand something about oak trees.

The oak tree's leaves contain a green substance called chlorophyll, and by using this substance with carbon dioxide, water and sunlight, the tree generates its own food.

As the oak tree grows, it develops nuts called acorns, which are the tree's fruit.

Each acorn contains one seed and when ripe it falls off the tree; if it lands on soft ground, it sprouts and a new baby oak begins to grow.

A fungus has no chlorophyll so it can't make its own food, therefore, it must find its food source elsewhere. Some kinds of fungi (plural for fungus) get their food from oak tree roots. As the fungus thrives, part of it pushes up through the ground and becomes a mushroom, which is the fungus's fruit.

Each mushroom contains billions of seedlike spores that are as tiny as particles of dust. Spores may be brown, purple, pink, white or black.

When the spores are ripe they fall to the ground and stick to the first surface they hit.

If they land on the correct spot, they grow and form a long threadlike growth that is the beginning of the fungus. Of course, many kinds of fungi produce mushrooms since some live off dead leaves, bark or old logs. They come in all sizes and shapes — some mushrooms are even tinier than your thumbnail!

For instance, one of the largest fungi, called a giant puffball, can be more than 2 feet across and weigh over 50 pounds.

Most mushroom are fabulous for eating, but some are very poisonous. You must be very careful to never pick a wild mushroom and eat it! If you handle mushrooms that you discover outdoors, never put your hands in your mouth before washing them.

The best way to collect mushrooms is to take their

Front-yard gardening

IMC primarily markets its endowment plan through a network of mortgage brokers. The plan is available only in California. By Labor Day, it will be marketed in the Carolinas, Georgia, Texas, Iowa, Washington, Kansas and Utah, according to Roger Pell, IMC executive vice president, and should be offered in all major markets throughout the United States by the end of 1995.

"It takes time to set up and train mortgage brokers before the plan can be offered in a region," Pell said. "It's important that brokers learn all details about the plan before they counsel prospective borrowers."

Initial marketing efforts have been slow, Pell said.

"We've had a lot of inquiries from interested prospects, but not many loan applications. At this time we are primarily concentrating on education—for our staff, loan brokers and consumers."

The most commonly asked question from consumers is, "How much can a borrower accumulate in the fund over a typical loan term?"

In most cases, a borrower who retains one of these mortgages for a 30-year term can receive from 25 percent to 35 percent of the loaned amount in cash at the end of the term.

For example, if the loaned amount was $100,000, the borrower could receive from $25,000 to $35,000.

Or the funds could be used to cut about 10 years off the mortgage term.

Another advantage of these loans is a special tax benefit, according to Pell. Since the principal balance does not reduce, the tax-deductible interest portion of each payment remains high.

These loans also are insured in most cases. If the borrower dies during the mortgage term, the loan is paid off by the insurance company. If and when the borrower is out of a job, the cash can be used to make interim payments.

The loan concept is receiving generally favorable reviews by mortgage industry leaders.

"It looks like a promising new product and we have no negative reaction to it," said Dennis Godfrey, director of product development for Fannie Mae, the nation's largest buyer of existing home mortgages. "It could be great for the borrower to have this extra asset earning for them."

Other mortgage loan plans have somewhat similar features, and this confuses some consumers. One plan involves the purchase of an annuity. Another is basically a life insurance policy, but designed for the needs of mortgage loan borrowers.

IMC calls its basic endowment plan the "Money-Back Home Loan." But the loan available in California, marketed via Gentry Mortgage Corp. and Programmed Marketing, Inc., is called the "Nest Egg Mortgage." For information, call (800) 806-6222.

9. What is the "private property bill of rights?"

A. This is a proposed bill in the House of Representatives — H.R. 3875. It would guarantee private property rights by prohibiting federal agencies from entering private property to gather information without the written consent of the owner.

It also would require notification when the property is entered and guarantee the owner access to information gathered. And it would establish an appeals process for property owners confronted by an adverse ruling and require compensation to owners who are deprived of 50 percent or more of the fair market value of their property.

Questions may be used in future columns; personal responses should not be expected. Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Did you know? — mushrooms are 'fruits'; front yard gardening

pictures and then look them up in a guidebook on mushrooms. This way, you'll never eat a poisonous mushroom accidentally.

FRONT YARD GARDENING

Many homeowners have a yen to garden but are stymied by an apparent lack of space. Perhaps the back yard of your house is taken up by a garage or shed, or is very shady or is simply too small to support a garden.

I believe that there are gardening possibilities for almost any lot. Finding the space means looking at your property with a fresh eye and exercising a little ingenuity. A sunny plot in the front yard can be the answer.

Many of my gardening friends have to contend with tall, sun-blocking buildings to the left of their houses and a very shady back yard. If these families wanted to garden in the back yard there was no alternative but to cut down mature shade trees. Their creative solution was to remove the grass in front and plant a garden.

The vegetables growing in this front yard include onions, tomatoes, summer squash, bell peppers, lettuce, beets and broccoli. Marigolds were used to form a cheerful border (many gardeners feel that marigolds act as a deterrent to vegetable-loving insects).

The garden theme is carried through to the house: containers of bright geraniums and petunias grace the front porch. This unique garden has become a neighborhood traffic stopper.

Finding the space means looking at your property with a fresh eye and exercising a little ingenuity.

The advantages to front-yard gardening are several. Homeowners in new housing developments often find that when the house is completed, contractors replace topsoil only in the front yard. Consequently, seeds planted in the front will benefit from richer soil than that found in the back.

Placing the garden in the front means having additional space in the rear for the family to play, relax and entertain in privacy.

It's easy to maintain and harvest a garden that's just a step from the front door. Of course, one of the best rewards is freedom from lawn mowing chores.

When planning a front-yard garden, "think small" at first. A 2-foot strip alongside the entrance walk or a miniplot next to the front door will allow room for three or four different varieties of flowers and vegetables.

Even a garden this small can provide a summer's worth of cut flowers and a year's worth of fresh vegetables. Once the garden is established, it's easy to expand a little each year until the desired size is attained.

While growing vegetables and flowers in the front yard is not the suburban norm, if done with good taste, it can be an attractive part of the landscape as well as an efficient use of land.

Eastlake chest is reactionary

By Anne McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a chest that we were told was purchased around 1890. It stands 51 inches high and is 40 inches wide. Could you please give me an appraisal of its value and tell me what style it is?

A. This is an Eastlake chest named for English architect and designer Charles Locke Eastlake. The style was a reaction to the heavily decorated and ornate furniture of the 1800s.

Eastlake believed mass-produced furniture should be sturdy, have straight, simple lines and be well made. The style became popular in America from 1870-1890, but manufacturers didn't always heed his warning about quality workmanship.

Floral and geometric motifs incised in low relief, reeded edges, rectilinear lines and brass-plated handles are some characteristics of this period.

Eastlake chests similar to yours are seen in antique shops at $600 and up.

Q. I am curious about the age and value of a set of six china cups and saucers that I have. About 20 years ago my brother dug them out of a riverbank near Marion, Ind. Each is marked on the bottom with this mark.

What can you tell me about my set?

A. Your cups and saucers were made by Shenango China Co. in New Castle, Pa. The firm operated from 1901 until 1991. In 1930, U.S.A. was added to the mark. They produced hotel, institutional, commemorative and railroad china.

The mark you enclosed was used from 1930 to 1940. A cup and saucer would probably be worth about $15 to $20.

Q. My great-grandmother left me a Lennox Toby jug made of cream porcelain. It is in the shape of William Penn and has an Indian handle.

Why are they called Toby Jugs and what is the value of mine?

A. Some believe Toby jugs were so-named for the character Toby Philpots in the song "The Little Brown Jug."

Others contend that they are named for the Uncle Toby character in "Tristram Shandy" by Laurence Sterne. To be a Toby it must show the full figure of the person it represents.

Valued most highly are those made by Ralph Wood in the late 1700s. Lennox and Doulton were two of the leading manufacturers. Your Toby jug would probably fetch about $190 to $200 in an antique shop in mint condition.

Q. I am interested in learning the history and current value of a Hire's Root Beer mug that I have. I inherited it from my grandfather who was a German immigrant. The mug was distributed for use in soda fountains.

It is ceramic and decorated with the image of a child wearing a bib, holding a mug in his right hand and pointing with his left hand. On the bottom it is marked "Mettlach."

Any information you can provide will be appreciated.

A. Your mug was made in Mettlach, Germany, sometime between 1891 and 1896. The mug was just one of the many promotional items used by Hire's Root Beer. The clothes worn by the boy on the mugs can help date the advertising.

For instance, from 1891 to 1906 he wore a dress; 1907 to 1914, a bathrobe, and a dinner jacket from 1915 to 1926. Your mug would probably be worth about $150 to $200.

Q. We have an erector set made by A.C. Gilbert Co. in New Haven, Conn. The model is "No. 7," contains 473 parts and is in a hinged wooden box. The instruction manual has a copyright of 1926.

There are no missing parts and it is in good condition. Does it have any value?

A. The "No. 7" erector set by Gilbert is currently listed in "Kovel's Antiques and Collectibles Price List" at $125.

BOOK REVIEW

In "Phoenix & Consolidated Art Glass 1926-1980," author Jack Wilson unravels the confusing mystery of the relationship between the two companies. He includes original advertisements, a glossary and top rarities lists. There are over 750 pieces illustrated in color and several hundred in black and white.

A more complete collector's guide to this unique glassware would be hard to find. Art glass aficionados are certain to love it.

"Phoenix & Consolidated Art Glass 1926-1980" is published by Antique Publications and distributed by Wallace-Homestead, an imprint of Chilton Book Co. It is available in antique shops and bookstores for $34.95.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

MARJORIE SHEFFIECK

FALLING FOR FRILLS

QUESTION: My wife fell in love with a built-in microwave oven and insists we buy a house that is overpriced and out of our financial range. Any advice?

ANSWER: This is one of the typical mistakes a house-hunter can make - buying the frill instead of the house. All too often a family will fall in love with any eye-catching feature and buy the wrong house. Yielding to superficial attractions like these can result in your family ending up with a thoroughly unsuitable house. Bear in mind that the same alluring feature can usually be added to another house at a relatively small cost compared to the total purchase price.

Norm's has treats to cool off in summer

By Anne Seebaldt Gogolin

Norm's Ice Cream Inc. in Highland has something cool to suit anyone's taste buds — even those who are watching their sugar and fat intake.

Owner Norm Hulings began his seasonal ice cream business 23 years ago. A former barber, he decided to switch career locations after being shot at in a Detroit barbershop. At the time, his wife, June, was working for an ice cream company. June and her boss persuaded Norm to switch careers. Since the Hulings already lived in Highland and the Highland area had no ice cream business open at the time, they decided to start their new venture near their home.

Huling started his ice cream sales operating out of an vending truck in 1971. He has never regretted the change, although at times the work was not easy. "I guess I like the independence part of it," he added. "I've just never worked for anyone else. I don't think I could."

He said that initially they had to haul supplies in daily from Detroit for the ice cream truck. As a result, Hulings frequently ran out of ice cream and other frozen novelties before finishing his route for the day.

Selling dry ice is another aspect of the ice cream business. Hulings said that there are numerous uses for it, from creating "fog" for special stage or Halloween effects to keeping goods in the freezer frozen during prolonged power outages. He added that he began to sell standard ice cubes in a bag when his regular customers requested it.

During the winter months, the Hulings lease trucks that they own to companies and occasionally drive those vehicles personally.

Both Norm and June possess commercial driving licenses (CDL).

The break from the ice cream business gives them the chance to recharge their systems for a busy summer season — April 1 through Sept. 30.

"By spring we're ready to go back to work," he said.

Hulings now sells ice cream only in bulk from the business site, which is located about one-quarter mile north of M-59 on Milford Road. Some of the major suppliers for the business include Good Humor, Wesley's and an Iowa-based company called Blue Bunny, which produces novelty ice cream items such as a Bugs Bunny Pop-sicle.

Customers at Norm's Ice Cream can get everything related to ice cream, including toppings, sundae dishes, napkins, spoons and a plethora of frozen treats. "We can get almost anything on a stick," Hulings said.

Some of the more popular items include Screwballs, Firecrackers (those red, white and blue pops reminiscent of Fourth of July) and many of the Good Humor bars.

"All your figure characters (Garfield, etc.) are really popular with the little kids," he added.

Customers can also rent ice cream carts at Norm's.

Hulings credited his wife, June, with much of the longevity of their business. She suggested the business to him, continued to work full-time and help with the new business and came on full time in 1978.

Norm's Ice Cream is located at 700 N. Milford Road in Highland Township. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday; and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Call (810) 887-1931.

Business briefs

RONALD B. MORGAN, Ph.D.

NEIL LOKEY of Northville recently won a college scholarship from COLDWELL BANKER PREFERRED of Plymouth. Members of the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors held a reception for scholarship winners. Scholarships ranging from $200 to $500 were awarded by association members.

RONALD B. MORGAN, Ph.D., a Northville-based organizational consultant, has joined the faculty of the Graduate School of Labor and Human Resources at MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY. He will serve as a visiting professor for the 1994-95 school year, teaching graduate level courses in Human Resources, Organizational Behavior and Organizational Development. Morgan specializes in the human resource implications (staff training) of quality improvement efforts.

Correction: A recent business brief miss identified a picture of Jeff Jacobs as Ken Kennedy. We regret the error.

Northville resident RICHARD A. O'CONNOR has been promoted to partner in the audit/accounting department at DELOITTE & TOUCHE. O'Connor joined the firm in 1981 and serves clients with business systems consulting, financial information systems, manufacturing and network computer systems. He received a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in agricultural studies in 1979, and earned a Master's of Business Administration degree with emphasis in finance in 1981, both from Michigan State University.

The grand opening of the newest THE LITTLE GYM will be held Aug. 19-21 at the gym facility located at 30740 Beck Road in Novi. The Little Gym is a total development program designed for children 4 months to 12 years of age. Children are enrolled in non-competitive gymnastics, karate sports skills development classes that meet weekly. Over 50,000 children have gone through The Little Gym programs since 1976 in the Seattle area. Come visit during the Grand Opening weekend to see what the development curriculum is all about. On Friday, visit from 4 to 7 p.m. On Saturday, our hours will be 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

To rent or sell when moving

Money Management

Homeowners who want to relocate or move to larger or smaller quarters should determine whether it's in their best interest to sell or rent their current residence.

In making this decision, the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA) urges homeowners to consider the impact their decision will have on their tax bills and personal financial situation.

WHY SELL?

Selling a principal residence is the best — and often the only — option for homeowners who need the equity in their current home for a down payment on a new one. Homeowners who realize profits on the sale of their primary residence may qualify for a special tax break that can help to put their next home within financial reach: The tax law allows homeowners to defer taxes on their real estate gains if they purchase or construct another residence of equal or greater value within two years before or two years after the sale date of their principal residence.

So, for example, if you realize $50,000 profit on the sale of your home which is taxed at the 28 percent tax rate, you'll be able to defer $14,000 in taxes by purchasing another home of equal or greater value within the specified time period.

Older homeowners may qualify for an even greater tax break. Generally, individuals who are age 55 or older before the date of the sale of their residence and have occupied the residence for three out of the last five years, may exclude from their income a gain of up to $125,000 ($62,500) for a married individual filing separately. This tax break is especially advantageous to individuals who choose to trade down to a less expensive residence and plan to rely on the profits from the home sale to support their retirement lifestyle or other special needs.

RENTING A HOME

A homeowner who puts his or her former principal residence on the market and then encounters difficulty in selling it, may be able to rent the residence for a temporary period and still defer gain on the sale. However, the homeowner must demonstrate that the rental is in contemplation of the sale. Otherwise, the personal residence is deemed to have been converted to a rental property, in which case the deferral of taxes on the gain is not allowed.

For example, say that a homeowner relocates as a result of a job change, puts his or her residence on the market, and buys a new home in another city. After several months, the old residence doesn't sell. Preferring to have the house occupied rather than empty during the sales period, the owner then decides to rent the residence while continuing efforts to sell it. Under conditions like these, the IRS typically views the owner's rental action as a temporary measure and is likely to allow the gain on the sale of the residence to be deferred.

On the other hand, if the homeowner relocated and rented out the former residence without ever trying to sell it, the former residence will most likely be treated as a rental property for tax purposes.

CONVERTING TO A RENTAL

For some individuals, converting a former residence into a rental property may offer greater financial rewards. It gives owners the opportunity to generate financial rewards. It gives owners the opportunity to generate steady income. What's more, although owners cannot defer the gain on the sale of a rental property, they are entitled to a wide range of tax deductions that can sharply reduce their tax bill. Mortgage interest, property taxes and costs associated with operating and maintaining the rental property, including insurance premiums, repairs and depreciation, may be deducted from rental income.

NET LOSSES

Generally, up to $25,000 can then be subtracted from the owner's gross income. Losses that cannot be deducted in the year incurred can be carried over into future tax years.

Since special tax rules apply in the year a property is converted to a rental, an owner may want to consult with a tax professional, such as a CPA, before making the conversion.

Finally, the MACPA recommends that you convert your former residence to a rental only if you're prepared to take on the responsibility of acting as landlord and are certain the conversion will not be detrimental to your financial well-being.

Engler won't support casinos

Gov. John Engler won't support casino gambling at race tracks as a way of saving Michigan's $2 billion horse industry.

"Casino gambling — I have reservations about. I'm not a supporter of casino gambling," Engler said in a Southfield interview recently.

"Horse racing nationally is an industry that's in trouble. We've seen attendance at tracks all across America decline. Demographics have been working against the horse racing industry."

"Nelson Westrin (his appointee as racing commissioner) is doing a marvelous job bringing together everybody in the industry. For the first time in memory, the Michigan horse racing industry is coming together."

"They've put together quite an aggressive package. One aspect of it deals with casino gambling. There are many, many other aspects which I think are important, supportable and do-able," the governor said.

But to track chiefs, such as Ladbrooke DRC president John Long, casino gambling is the key to keeping horse racing — and its public and private dependents — afloat.

Long canceled this year's running of the Michigan Mile, the state's richest running event purse, at the Livonia track. He said the track's handle has plummeted since casino gambling started across the Detroit River in Windsor in mid-May. And he has threatened to close the more than 40-year-old track next year without relief.

Track owners put the importance of the industry at 40,000 jobs for track clerks, food service workers, farms that grow feed, breeding farms, trainers, jockeys drivers and animal attendants.

Engler's opposition says the industry will have an extremely tough sell in trying to get favorable action from the state Legislature in an election year.

Choosing the home you can afford

It's the first of the month and you're writing a check for your monthly rent. Have you ever wondered just how much money you lose every month by paying someone else's mortgage payment?

Perhaps you don't think you can afford to buy. Although the thought of loan applications and financing requirements may seem overwhelming, buying a new home is easier than you think.

"First, you need to review your financial situation and estimate how much you can spend on housing each month," said Robert R.

Jones, president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and Robert R. Jones Associates in West Bloomfield. "Knowing what you can afford at the outset will save you time and frustration when you begin looking for a house. In today's market, you can find a home in almost any price range."

A general rule of thumb: you should spend not more than 28 percent of your monthly gross income on your monthly mortgage payment including principal, interest, taxes and insurance premiums. So, if your annual gross income is $40,000, you could spend up to $933 on housing each month.

How much should you expect to spend on monthly mortgage payments? Your mortgage payment will be determined by your annual gross income, down payment, interest rates, and the size of your loan. Mortgage payments vary according to the type of loan you obtain.

Downpayments usually range from 5 to 30 percent of the total cost of the house.

Closing costs are the expenses incurred when you transfer ownership of the real estate. A point is a one-time service charge.

The Eleventh Annual

Great American

Folk Art Festival

August 13th & 14th, 1994
Downtown Brighton

Folk Art Show Arts & Crafts

Sponsored by The Greater Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce

Celebrate Our 11th Annual Folk Art Festival!

We are a special place, where families are raised in natural, wooded surroundings. A place where specialized industries and residents work together.

Brighton is located at the crossroads of Southeastern Michigan; it's a place that stands ready for the challenges of tomorrow, while preserving the rich heritage of its past. Brighton is where quality is a way of life.

The 1994 Great American Folk Art Festival gives us the opportunity to show-off all that we have to offer. We are putting our best foot forward during this special weekend. So, if you are a long-time resident, regular visitor, or have never been to the Brighton area, there are many things for you to discover during the Folk Art Festival weekend—all planned with you in mind. Enjoy and celebrate Brighton.

Most Prestigious Selection of Artists Ever!

Downtown Brighton will celebrate it's 11th Annual Great American Folk Art Festival. According to Cheryl Corbitt, chairperson of the event, 130 artist booths will line the streets of downtown Brighton on August 13th and 14th. This will prove to be the best festival ever.

This is downtown Brighton's original arts and crafts show. Over the years it has grown from just a few craft booths along the sidewalk to the current number of 130. This show is a juried show, meaning we require the artists and crafters to submit pictures of their work so we may select the best work and best balance for our show. This year's selection was a quite pleasant challenge because of the large response. We have artists from as far away as Arizona.

Our show will offer something for everyone. We have handwoven rugs, tole painting items, unique pottery, porcelain, jewelry, baskets, hand carved duck decoys, stained glass, watercolors, and much more.

The Folk Art Festival runs from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Saturday, August 13th and 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m. Sunday, August 14th.

Presented by: The Livingston Lakes chapter of the Embroiders Guild of America

The Livingston Lakes Chapter of the Embroider's Guild of America, Inc. is pleased to host its annual needlework exhibit at the Brighton Chamber of Commerce Building.

Our theme for our 1994 Exhibit is "CHRISTMAS" Part of our exhibit will be a display of Christmas items such as, stockings, ornaments and wall hangings stitched in various types of needlework including embroidery, hardanger, crewel, needlepoint, cross stitch, quilting and smocking. These Christmas items are judged and the public will have an opportunity to vote on their favorites.
Another part of our exhibit will be devoted to pieces to show the types of classes offered by our Guild and to show our talents and types of stitching done by Guild members.

We invite the public to visit our display and view our talents. Included in this year's presentation are door prizes. The Exhibit will be open during the regular hours of the festival.

CHICKEN 鷄鴨類

101 General Tso's Chicken

A robust platter of crispy chicken chunks served in a rich brown sauce, mildly spiced with strips of hot red pepper.

102 War Su Gai (Almond Boneless Chicken)

A classic Cantonese recipe of battered and fried chicken breast topped with a rich brown ginger garlic sauce, garnished with lettuce and roasted almonds.

103 Chicken With Cashew Nuts

Chicken breast sauteed with assorted vegetables and roasted cashews in a light ginger sauce.

104 Hunan Chicken

Spicy Hot! Tender breast of chicken sauteed with fresh broccoli and mushrooms, completed with a spicy Hunan sauce.

105 Mandarin Almond Chicken

Tender diced chicken stir-fried with green peppers, bamboo shoots, mushrooms and roasted almonds in a ginger garlic sauce.

106 Moo Goo Gai Pan

Fresh crisp snow peapods stir-fried with chicken breast and mushrooms.

107 Kung Pao Chicken (Princess Chicken)

Tender chicken stir-fried with Szechuan hot peppers, assorted vegetables and roasted peanuts. Served in a hot Kung Pao sauce.

108 Stir-Fry Chicken

Pieces of succulent chicken breast carefully stir-fried with fresh mushrooms, sweet onions and carrots.

109 Sweet & Sour Chicken

Deep-fried morsels of chicken blended with pineapple, onions and green peppers in a sweet & sour sauce.

110 Szechuan Spiced Chicken

Spicy Hot! Szechuan red peppers add the zing to chicken breast, mushrooms, water chestnuts and green peppers in Yu Saing sauce.

111 Garlic Chicken

A flavorful dish of chicken, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts, mushrooms and celery with a touch of garlic.

112 Gang Pang Chicken

Stir-fried battered chicken with spicy hot peppers and green onions. A hot Szechuan favorite.

113 Chicken Shijing

A pleasing combination of diced chicken and a mixture of diced vegetables in a brown sauce.

115 Chicken with Peapods

Fresh crisp snow peapods stir-fried with sliced chicken breast and mushrooms.
