

Board decides against millage vote in Sept.

By YVONNE BEEBE

Everything has its time and place, but a Northville's citizen's committee on enhancement millage decided that now is not the time for a millage election for Northville Public Schools.

The Northville Board of Education set Sept. 27 as the date for an enhancement millage election earlier in July; however, committee members concluded that they would need more time to educate the public on what the school would need the funds for.

The board accepted the committee's recommendation Monday night to hold off on an enhancement millage request that could have asked for a maximum of three mills for three years.

A mill is $1 for each $1,000 in assessed property valuation. Under Michigan's constitution, property is assessed at one-half its market value.

"I don't think there is any doubt in any committee member's mind that we need the funds," said committee member Greg Purtell. "But the community really needs to understand where we are and where we are going and we didn't do that well enough."

One mill would generate approximately $900,000 for the district, providing a potential grand total of $2.7 million for three years. Committee members focused on three possible areas the funds could go to: technology, including the purchase of new computers and

Officials reject plea to revise new school schedule

One thing became evident at the Northville Board of Education's Monday night meeting—all eyes will be focused on Northville High School next year.

Parents stressed accountability for the restructured Wednesday mornings at the high school, while others voiced heart-felt opposition to the one-year pilot program, which will slice the academic day nearly in half for students while teachers meet for planning and staff development—something that will have teachers, parents and administrators looking for results.

Teachers on the high school's steering committee for the Wednesday morning planning sessions presented their plan on Monday, but one parent hoped the presentation would not be necessary.

Tom Groves, who gave the board a petition with more than 350 signatures of people opposed to the revised school day, pleaded with school officials to rescind the vote that established the plan. It was his third push for reversal, but board members said they must stay on course.

Groves said he supports the faculty planning sessions but is opposed to the 111 hours of classtime students would lose next year.

"I believe in professional development, all the parents believe in

Busing program extended in district

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Parents who were concerned about how their children would be getting to school this year when classroom doors open Aug. 30 can breathe a little easier.

Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services David Bolitho has presented a transportation plan that satisfies many parents' safety concerns, while sticking to the $75,000 his department was allotted to solve the problem.

Bolitho presented the plan at the Northville

Board of Education's Monday night meeting.

The plan includes a one-mile magnet program for Kindergarten-through-fifth grade students, and maintains the 1.5 mile magnet program for middle school and high school students. Under magnet programs, all students who walk to a bus stop receive transportation.

Transportation service will also be provided for all students within the 1.5-to-1 mile radius if:

- They have to cross a street when the posted speed limit is 40 mph or higher (where there is no crossing guard).

- Students have to cross a railroad track to get to school or a bus stop.

- Students who have no other option but to walk along or in a street where there are no sidewalks and the posted speed in 40 mph.

Tensions heated up this summer between parents and the board after busing schedules were reduced by one mile as a result of the millage defeat in 1992, which forced the district to cut nearly $300,000 from the transportation budget.

Victorian days just around the corner

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

It's almost that time of year again.

The time when men start sporting handle-bar mustaches and women wear cameo brooches and tie their hair tightly in a bun.

The time when Northville returns to its roots—the Victorian Age.

During Northville's 6th Annual Victorian Festival, Sept. 16-18, the city's streets will appear as if they were run through a time warp and were transported into the late 1800s.

Laurie Marrs, Executive Director of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, said the three-day annual event grows in popularity each year.

"When you bring in 8,000-10,000 people to Northville, and they see our rich heritage, the whole community benefits," said Marrs. "It goes right back into the community."

Marrs added that the festival has drawn crowds of 7,000 people in past years but should reach closer to 10,000 this year. Events and attractions like fortune tellers, antique shows, juggling street performers, barber shop quartets, medicine men, glamorous balls and death-defying acrobatic acts have been the crowd pleasers that keep the people coming back to Northville. This year will be no different.

"This is an opportunity for the entire family to enjoy entertainment, shopping, good food and to make a day out of it for an inexpensive price," Marrs said.

Last year the main entertainment was the nail-biting high-wire act of the Great Wallendas, a legendary family act that performs 30 feet above the ground with no protective netting.

This year, in place of the astounding Wallendas will be three mind-boggling acts: Francarro & Estreleta, otherwise known as America's premier aerialists, will be performing throughout the weekend at the bandsheil; the Last of the Great Welsh Cannonballs will be shot out of cannons on Main Street; and Splash Austin, a national champion clown diver will be performing at the Open-Door Christian Church at 145 N. Center St.

Organizing the festival, which is coordinated solely by the Chamber of Commerce, is a large undertaking, said Marrs, who works with the committee from January to September to put on the event.

"It is not an easy task by any means," she said, estimating the festival costs about $25,000-$30,000 to run. "It takes a lot of effort from a lot of people to put on a festival of this magnitude. Entertaining 10,000 people is not easy."

The festival is unique because the whole community gets involved by dressing up and volunteering its time on several project tasks, including food service, which is provided by local non-profit organizations, she said.

Another main event of the festival is the Victorian Ball, which is held in the Community Center gym. This year the ball is scheduled for Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $45 per person before Sept. 7 and $55 after that date.

"We take that gym and make it look like a wonderland," she said. "You feel like you're dancing in a Victorian Castle."

Among many other events the festival will be host to the Art Market on Main Street, which is sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission and will feature about 50 esteemed artists from around the country; children's games like marble shooting, pie-eating contests, hoop rolling and pony rides; an antique show located in front of the American Legion at 100 W. Dunlap, a Melodrama Fireman, Please Save my Child, performed by the Northville Players at the American Legion; horse and carriage rides, walking tours of the historical district and old-fashioned duck races and civil war reenactments at Mill Race Village.

Currently, the chamber has 50 volunteers who will help with the festival by decorating, taking tickets and cleaning up, among other duties, Marrs said, however, that she could use many more. Call the chamber at 349-7640 to sign up to help.

Hearing will take input on proposed water/sewer increase

By CAROL WORKENS
Special Writer

A public hearing on a proposed rate increase for Northville water and sewer customers has been set for Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The hearing was approved by Northville City Council at its Aug. 15 meeting.

The present rates, which have been in effect since Jan. 1, 1993, are $1.65 per unit for water and $4 a unit for sewer. A unit consists of 1,000 gallons.

The proposed rates are $1.88 per unit for water, and $4.56 a unit for sewer, a 14 percent increase for each utility. It is also proposed that the current twice-monthly service charge of $4 be increased to $4.50 per bill, a 12.5 percent hike. The service charge is an administrative fee to cover the cost of metering and billing. It is added to the bill's total amount and does not appear as a separate item.

If approved, the new rates would go into effect Oct. 1.

At the time the current rates were adopted in January of 1993, the city auditor recommended increases of 14 percent in both June of 1993 and June of 1994. Neither of those increases were adopted.

JOIN THE PARADE: All Northville area school, community and church groups and individuals are invited to participate in the Victorian Festival parade on Friday, Sept. 16, at 6:30 p.m.

Participants should be dressed in a manner appropriate to the years 1860-1920. Only vehicles that predate 1920 will be permitted.

Groups are asked to preregister in order to assist in organizing the parade line-up. For more information or to reserve a spot in the parade, call Donna or Jim Pallas at 348-3767.

PLAY TICKETS ON SALE: Northville Players will perform "Fireman, Save My Child!" during the Victorian Festival.

Al LaCroix will be directing the melodrama. The shows will be performed at the American Legion Hall in Northville. Ticket prices are $2, and for children under six the price is $.50.

For more information, call (313) 427-5131.

SCHOOL GRAND OPENING: The public is invited to attend grand opening ceremonies at Thornton Creek Elementary, the new building in the Northville School District that will begin holding classes this school year.

The event will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 18. The new school is located at 46180 Nine Mile between Taft and Beck.

Dedication ceremonies with local dignitaries will be the first order of business and will take place inside the building. Signs will point the way.

Open tours of the building will follow at approximately 6:30 p.m. Thornton Creek was completed last year but was not opened due to budget constraints. It becomes the fifth elementary school serving the district.

FINE ARTS EXHIBIT: The 2nd annual Juried Fine Art Exhibition is being sponsored by The Visual Arts Committee of First Presbyterian Church of Northville Oct. 8-15. The multi-media event features Michigan artists. Entry forms will be accepted to this non-profit community event through Sept. 23.

Awards will range from $50 to $250. The juror will be James Nawara of Wayne State University.

For information write Visual Arts Committee, 200 E. Main St., Northville, MI 48167 or call (810) 349-0911. the fax number is (810) 349-6474.

Victorian Tea planned

Engage in delightful conversation while sipping tea, snacking on finger sandwiches and sweets and while being entertained by informal modeling of authentic Victorian Fashions at the Northville Mother's Club Victorian Tea.

The Victorian Tea will be held on Sunday, Sept. 18, from 1:30 to 3 p.m. at the Northville Recreation Center on W. Main Street. Tea will be served amidst the decorations from the Victorian Ball. Victorian dress is not required.

Tickets will be available for $10 each at the Chamber of Commerce office, the Northville Recreation Department office, Preferences, and the Victorian Doll Shop. Only 150 tickets will be available. Donations are always accepted for this fund-raiser, which benefits Northville Public School students, and can be sent to Northville Mothers' Club, 46180 Greenridge, Northville, MI 48167.

Afton Tea Room of Plymouth will be the caterer. Sweets will be created by Mothers' Club Connoisseurs.

Teacher eavesdrops on Jupiter

BRYAN MITCHELL
Staff Photographer

When most people take off on summer vacation their goal is to relax and get away from it all, but not Dwight Sieggreen. He pushes just as hard as ever.

Sieggreen is a science teacher at Cooke Middle School during the school year and a world traveler as soon as the last bell rings for the summer. Once school's out he heads off to places like Alaska, Mexico and the Amazon, just to name a few.

From his travels he brings back knowledge, books, posters, and—his personal favorite—rocks to share with his students and teach them about science the hands-on way.

The kids returning to school this fall will have a real up-to-date treat: this summer Sieggreen was "off in space," so to speak.

For three weeks he was on a National Science Fellowship at the University of California-Berkeley, studying astronomy and space physics. With his great luck, while he was there Jupiter was putting on it's wonderful meteor show. Part of his studies sent him to the Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton in Santa Cruz, Calif., to observe the comet fragments hitting the red planet and the craters that were created by their impact.

"It was amazing," Sieggreen said. "When I first looked at it (Jupiter) I was amazed by the bands."

Twenty-one comet fragments hit the largest planet in the solar system. Each was assigned a letter of the alphabet and what Sieggreen observed was called "G-spot." The G-spot fragment was one-to-two kilometers wide and created a hole in Jupiter's gassy surface two times the size of Earth.

While he was out West Sieggreen also talked with David Morrison of NASA's Ames Research Lab.

The crater left by the G-spot impact with Jupiter is said to be over twice the size of Earth.

According to Morrison, if G-spot had hit Earth the explosion would have equaled the force of a 100 million megaton bomb.

The phenomenon would be devastating, Morrison said, resulting in a crater 200 kilometers wide and 30 kilometers deep. The heat would dissolve rock into liquid and scorch the surface of the planet. There would be tidal waves 1,000 feet high and the cloud from the explosion would block out the sun, quickly cooling the Earth and launching another Ice Age.

"It would have been the end of the world if it had happened here," Morrison said.

The good news is that the chances of a comet like that ever striking Earth are very slim, Morrison says. But just in case, some scientists are proposing to fund a program for people to watch for comets that might be headed our way. If one was spotted, some believe the comet could be blown apart or diverted away from the Earth before it hit.

Sieggreen said he looks forward to getting back to Cooke this fall to teach his students about what he learned.

"To be at a place like this and be able to witness history is a great opportunity."

And the students lucky enough to be in Sieggreen's science class will be able to share in that same opportunity.

Valuables are stolen from township residence

Unknown persons stole almost $1,500 worth of merchandise from a Woodside Drive home earlier this month.

Township police were called last week by a resident of the home, who said that sometime between Aug. 2 and Aug. 6 someone stole a VCR, a camera and assorted compact discs from the residence. The investigating officer found no evidence of entry gained by force nor any physical evidence in the home itself. Police are investigating one person as a possible suspect. The case remains open.

OUIL: A Warren woman was arrested by township police for operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor (OUIL) on Aug. 13, registering a blood alcohol level of .25 percent, more than twice the legal limit.

The reporting township officer in the case said he heard Plymouth Township police dispatch a report of an intoxicated female behind the wheel of a Pontiac coming from an area drinking establishment.

The officer said shortly after he heard the report he saw the 38-year-old woman driving her 1984 Pontiac north on Northville Road. She was driving erratically, the officer said, stopping in a driveway at one point, then pulling out and driving on. The woman was speeding as well, the officer said, before he stopped her in the gravel parking lot on Northville Road near the water reservoir.

The officer said he detected a strong odor of intoxicants coming from the woman, who when asked said that she had "had a little bit of beer" that evening. The officer stopped the woman at about 11:30 p.m. When asked, she said that she thought it was about 6 p.m. and that she was on Mound Road, the officer said.

The woman was asked to perform a number of field sobriety tests, including reciting the alphabet. She said that she "can't do it" when asked to.

She failed the tests and was arrested. She faces a hearing in 35th District Court later this month.

BREAKING AND ENTERING: R & D Enterprises had a break-in last week with an undetermined amount of goods stolen.

Township police received a report from the owner of the Gerald Avenue business that a storage trailer at the rear of the property had been broken into between Aug. 5 and Aug. 8. Unknown persons had cut the chain on the padlock securing the trailer, police said, which contained bins of steel and copper parts.

Police have no suspects, witnesses or evidence at this time. Damage was estimated at $5.

LARCENY FROM A VEHICLE: Unknown persons stole the tires off of a Knightsford Road resident's new Jeep Cherokee Aug. 9.

The tires and aluminum wheels were removed from the car in front of the home and are valued at $2,000. A neighbor called 911 to say that the Jeep's tires were gone and that he had seen a tall white male wearing a hooded gray sweatshirt in the area shortly before. The male did not have any tires, the man said, and added that he saw no vehicle in the area.

Police checked the area but found nothing. Investigators believe that whomever took the wheels carried them to the nearby glassy and that a strong odor of intoxicants could be detected from his person.

The man failed field sobriety tests and was arrested. He was taken to police headquarters; testing there showed him to have a blood alcohol level of .13 percent, over the legal limit.

He faces an Aug. 19 hearing in 35th District Court.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City police at 349-1234 or Northville Township police at 348-5800.

Do your part to help clear the air.

630,000 households already are.

Ozone high in the stratosphere protects us from dangerous sunlight. But, ozone near the ground, where we breathe, is a pollutant which causes health problems for the young, the elderly and those with pre-existing respiratory ailments. Ozone is formed when the hot sun "bakes" unburned hydrocarbons from tailpipe emissions, fuel evaporation and smokestacks.

We are doing better.

For more than 15 years, businesses and individuals have spent millions of dollars to reduce the hydrocarbon emissions which produce ozone. As a result, Southeast Michigan has met federal ozone standards for three years. But, if the region violates those standards this summer, automobile emissions testing will become more expensive and businesses will be required to spend an additional $55 million annually on emission controls - a cost that would be passed along to consumers.

The Clean Air Coalition of Southeast Michigan is a business, industry and government partnership to improve and maintain the region's air quality. The Coalition identifies as Ozone Action! days those hot summer days when higher ozone levels are likely. On those days, business and the public are asked to take no cost and low-cost voluntary actions to reduce emissions.

It's working!

An estimated 630,000 households are participating in Ozone Action! days. Ozone levels have remained within federal standards on seven action days this summer. On two of those days the ozone levels remained barely below the standard. The voluntary efforts of more than a million people in those households undoubtedly helped prevent exceeding the standard.

Clip the List: Join the Action.

Join the Ozone Action! now. Clip the Ozone Action! Tips section and put it on your refrigerator or bulletin board. Take one or more of those no-cost and low-cost actions each time an Ozone Action! day happens. (In fact, many of those tips are a good idea all the time.)

OZONE ACTION!
LET'S CLEAR THE AIR.

Ozone Action! Tips

You can make a difference in reducing ozone by taking no-cost and low-cost voluntary steps on Ozone Action! days. Many business have taken these actions already.

REFUELING CARS, BOATS, LAWN EQUIPMENT, MOTORCYCLES:

- 1 Don't refuel on Ozone Action! days, if refueling is necessary, wait until cooler evening hours, after 6 p.m.
- 2 Use low vapor pressure fuel (available this summer at Marathon and Speedway stations).
- 3 Keep vehicles/boats/lawn equipment well maintained.
- 4 Make certain your gas cap is tightly sealed.
- 5 Turn off engines, rather than idling them.
- 6 Avoid "topping off" gas tanks.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS:

- 1 Encourage walking or bicycling. Minimize recreational vehicle use.
- 2 Don't mow lawns on Ozone Action! days, or wait until after 6 p.m.
- 3 Avoid use of charcoal lighter fluid and other solvent based paints and cleaners.

TRAVEL TIPS:

- 1 If possible, work at home.
- 2 Use public transportation. For route information, call SMART at (313) 962-5515.
- 3 Or, carpool. Special Ozone Action! Ride sharing information is available by calling (313) 963-RIDE for short-term arrangements.
- 4 Combine business errand or recreational trips.
- 5 Drive smoothly, avoid jack rabbit starts/stops.

Mill Race Matters

Two Sundays remain in Mill Race Village's In the Good Old Summer-time series. Sunday, Aug. 21, features red wagons and is labeled Little Red Wagon Rally Day. Young and old enthusiasts are encouraged to bring out their cleaned and/or decorated wagons to share memories and maintenance tips.

Aug. 28 is Home Grov'n Show-off Day. Gardeners get the opportunity to show off their flowers and vegetables and share conversation about this year's crop.

Sundays in August are being used to highlight this year's half-off summer membership. Whether you're already a member or not, all are invited to participate. Village buildings will be open for touring. Remember every Sunday 1 to 4 p.m.

Docents are needed to assist in keeping village buildings open on Sundays until Oct. 23. If you'd like to help or are interested in learning more call 348-1845 for information. We'd be happy to train interested individuals.

Northville's Victorian Festival occurs this year Sept. 16-18. The event begins Friday evening with a parade through town.

As always Historical Society members will be marching together in costume. Mill Race Village will be open both Saturday and Sunday from noon until four. Docents are needed for two shifts each day.

The Village will be the focus of the Sunday festival of activities with its annual Victorian picnic. Participants are encouraged to buy a lunch at the box lunch auction in town or pack their own. Marianne Barry, Historical Society chair of the event, is looking for families to volunteer to take over activities during the picnic. Call 349-5435 for more information.

Council approves City Hall analysis

By CAROL WORKENS
Special Writer

The Northville City Council approved a spatial analysis and feasibility study for the lower level of city hall at its meeting Aug. 15.

The study will be done by John Allen Architects Inc. at a cost not to exceed $2,900.

The spatial analysis study will be used in conjunction with the study presented by Allen Architects in July for the upper level of the Northville Municipal Building on Main Street.

The approval of a district library millage on May 3 means that 6,000 square feet of space will be vacant in the lower level of city hall when the library assumes new quarters sometime in the next three years.

"It is extremely important to do this study," said Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers, because of the close proximity of the library to city hall.

Opposing the study was Councilman Chuck Keys. Keys said he had a problem with studying the building now and that the analysis should be put off for one or two years, closer to the actual time that the current library vacates the building.

Included in the proposal will be an analysis of the future needs of the police department.

Queen for a Weekend

The Northville Victorian Festival is looking for a local woman to play Queen Victoria for the weekend of the sixth annual festival, September 16-18.

Organizers ask that the queen be at least 18 years-old, provide her own costume and circulate during the festival, playing up the role as much as possible. As a thank-you, the festival committee will give the queen a free ticket to the Victorian Ball on September 17.

The winner will be chosen by a drawing.
Please answer the following questions:

Trustee dresses down supervisor, DPS director

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

A premature truck lease led to a marked—and at times testy—disagreement among Northville Township officials last week.

Director of Public Safety Chip Snider and Supervisor Karen Baja drew flak from Trustee Barbara O'Brien at the board's Aug. 11 meeting. The two officials earlier this month gave Fire Chief Bill Zhmendak the go-ahead to sign a lease for a new GMC Jimmy truck that will be the chief's new command vehicle.

The board did not approve the lease beforehand, however, leading to a stormy Aug. 10 discussion at a board study session and O'Brien's follow up comments at the Aug. 11 meeting. The trustee took Snider to task over the incident, occasionally taking aim at Baja as well.

Snider and Baja maintain that they thought that the lease didn't need to come back to the board for final approval since the trustees approved it as part of the 1994 budget. Both apologized for what they called "an honest mistake."

That explanation did not satisfy O'Brien, who urged the board to look further into the matter, an idea that other trustees rejected.

"There's something wrong with our (purchasing) procedures," O'Brien said. "This is appalling. No one does business like this."

"I misunderstood the board's direction of a few months ago," Snider, clad in his class-A police uniform, said. "A number of factors caused this mistake. The responsibility is mine. I'm sorry."

"We're sorry that it happened, but mistakes do happen and we need to move on," Baja said after several minutes of discussion.

O'Brien disagreed, at one point saying that, "I don't think we've got the full story."

The trustees in turn disagreed with her, approving the lease after the fact on a 5-1 vote. Clerk Sue Hillebrand, however, said she wanted to see a change in township policy because of the incident. Hillebrand proposed requiring the treasurer's signature on all purchases "as an additional safeguard."

"I understand mistakes, but I'm concerned over our policy," Trustee Gini Britton said in support of the measure.

Trustee Mark Abbo said that he felt that what's done is done.

"I'm not happy with what happened. I don't think anyone is," he said. "I commend you, Karen, and you, Chip, for standing up and taking responsibility for this. I think we should move on."

Snider and Baja this week maintained their explanation: the board approved the purchase in the budget and a misunderstanding some months ago gave them the mistaken impression that they didn't need a second approval to have Zhmendak sign the lease. Both added that while they understood

O'Brien's concerns, they didn't like the way she presented them.

"I find her lengthy discussion to be objectionable to the goals of the department of public safety," Snider said.

Baja at the meeting said she didn't think it was fair to subject her and Snider to "a public humiliation."

"I made a mistake, I'm going to learn from it and go forward," she said this week. "I don't think this issue should have been handled this way."

The Jimmy is Zhmendak's new command vehicle, replacing an existing older car. Snider said he told Zhmendak to start looking for a replacement vehicle earlier this summer, which the board approved in the 1994 budget.

At a board meeting in May, Snider said, he got the wrong idea: he thought that the board told him that already-approved items in the budget didn't need to come back to the trustees for a second approval.

Long contract drought ends for township police officers with conclusion of new pact

By RANDY COBLE

Staff Writer

All good things take time, the saying goes. Some folks in Northville Township might agree.

It's been a long time coming, but Northville Township's police officers have themselves a new collective bargaining contract.

Actually, you could say it's a new-old contract, since it's backdated to last year and was signed some eight weeks ago.

The four-year deal ends more than a year of negotiations between the township and the 21 members of the local bargaining unit of the Police Officers Association of Michigan (POAM). The township's 15 patrol police officers and six part- and full-time radio dispatchers have worked without a contract since April 1, 1993.

They approved the contract's provisions in April, as did the board of trustees for the township.

Lawyers for both sides then smoothed out the contract language and submitted it for final signatures, which occurred in mid-June.

The approval heads off scheduled binding arbitration hearings which were set for Sept. 13 before a state arbitrator. Both sides were glad that the arduous process is over.

"We're very pleased that it was settled," Supervisor Karen Baja said.

"The settlement was good for both sides," Township Detective John Werth, the POAM negotiator, said. "All the issues got addressed."

"There was give and take on both sides," Werth said of the specifics of the contract.

The long negotiations revolved around three key issues: wages, pensions and longevity pay. Longevity pay relates to the number of years an employee serves.

"Both sides made concessions," Baja said of the final terms, which included a pay increase for the union members and compromises on health insurance and pension issues.

The four-year contract is backdated to when the union began working without a contract. It will expire May 31, 1997, Werth said.

The two sides did engage a mediator whose decisions were non-binding during the negotiations, but were unable to reach a settlement.

The contract signing avoided the arbitration process, which could have lasted anywhere from six months to a year, Baja said.

ETHICS COMMITTEE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE

A lottery drawing will be conducted at the September 8, 1994 Board of Trustee meeting. This lottery is to fill the vacancy due to the expiration of a member's term. Resumes for this lottery will be received through August 24, 1994, in the Clerk's Office, 41600 Six Mile Road, Northville, Michigan 48167.

DeMattia deal for county land in township falls through

By RANDY COBLE

Staff Writer
For Wayne County, it's back to square one.

The county owns 800-odd acres of land in Northville Township in a parcel bounded by Six and Five Mile, Sheldon and Beck Roads. For years, officials have been on the hunt for a developer or group of developers who would either buy the land and develop it within the county's specifications or manage the development while the county kept ownership.

Now, their best bet has fallen through. Plymouth developer Robert DeMattia, who headed a consortium of area entrepreneurs bidding tens of millions for the land, was the front-runner in a four-way year-long bidding competition for the land.

County officials confirmed this week, however, that the DeMattia group has withdrawn its bid, citing insufficient financing.

That's the same problem which caused a DeMattia-led consortium to withdraw its 1990 offer of $31.75 million for the acreage the last time the county went looking for a buyer. The county's Director of Jobs and Economic Development Office said the situation very likely means going back to the drawing board.

His office, Henry said, is compiling a list of options to submit to County Executive Ed McNamara. Henry said that the other three bidder groups were "nowhere close" to the DeMattia group's proposal and that their bids were "unacceptable" to the county. Henry said that a number of developers had expressed interest in part of the land, but that the county did not want to split it up.

The list of options should go to McNamara's office within the next 30-45 days, Henry said. In the mean time, the county is also pursuing grants to clean up environmental problems found on the huge site, including 18 underground storage tanks and asbestos in over 60 buildings.

"These problems are a real deterrent to potential buyers," Henry said, "so we're trying to win some grants to clean them up and make the property more marketable."

The environmental problems will take about $4.5 million to clean up, he said.

DeMattia's leaving caps a long and drawn-out process. McNamara's office has been reviewing the bids for months, trying to choose a recommended finalist to be sent to the County Commission.

Some on the commission, including Northville's representative Thad McCotter (R-Livonia), have complained that the process has taken far too long. McCotter said that better planning the next time around will shorten the waiting time.

"I'm extremely disappointed that this didn't go through," McCotter said. "I'll push for this whole thing to be rebid. This time, though, we need not to hurry and to do this right."

The commission, McCotter added, "needs to put conditions on any future deal" for the property, especially that a winning bidder has the necessary economic backing to pull it off. That, he said, would avoid the problems the county has encountered in the past.

Wayne County wants something that's very hard to find: a developer or group of developers with the resources to buy the land in one block and develop it according to county demands that would likely be part of any sale. For the most recent bidding process, those included a multi-faceted development including residential and industrial and commercial development, along with a requirement for a golf course.

Optical Imaging Systems (OIS) of Troy, owned by Detroit Pistons owner Bill Davidson, bought 30 acres of the land last year. OIS will move its headquarters to the land and open a manufacturing plant to build high-tech flat-panel computer screens for the aviation industry.

The land was part of a controversy earlier this year which stretched from Detroit to Washington, and is still the subject of a lawsuit in Wayne County Circuit Court now.

"We're not exactly sure what's going to happen yet. That's the question we're debating now," Dewey Henry said.

County Economic Development Director

County Commissioner Susan Hubbard in January alleged that both DeMattia and Saul Green, who was formerly the county's corporate counsel, acted inappropriately in their dealings concerning the township land. She made the charges as McNamara's office was considering the DeMattia group's bid for the land and as President Bill Clinton nominated Green to be U.S. Attorney for Detroit.

Current Corporate Counsel Jennifer Granholm and the Federal Bureau of Investigation checked out the claims, and concluded that nothing illegal or even improper had taken place. Green was successfully confirmed for the post by the U.S. Senate and took office in May.

No conclusion has been reached yet, however, in the lawsuit filed by the Northville Elderly Development Co. against the county over the land. The company in 1984 sub-leased 101 acres of the property and was trying to develop senior housing and other housing on it.

The county broke the lease in 1989, saying that the company hadn't held up its part of the bargain. Northville Elderly Development filed suit in 1993 for breaking a lease. The case remains in the Circuit Court pipeline.

Sewer study okayed

By CAROL WORKENS
Special Writer

A Corrective Action Plan on the city's sewer collection system was approved by Northville City Council at its Aug. 15 meeting.

McNeely & Lincoln Inc., the city's engineering consultants, has been given the go ahead to proceed with the Corrective Action Plan (CAP) for a fee not to exceed $35,450.

The CAP is necessary because the city is unable to comply with the allowable discharge rate of 4.62 million gallons per day (MGD) during a five-year storm event standard. A review done by McNeely & Lincoln and presented to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) in January reported that the city is discharging 2.195 MGD above the allowable limit. The MDNR is willing to accept a Corrective Action Plan that will bring the city into compliance.

The CAP will bring the city into compliance and reduce infiltration and inflow into the sanitary sewer system. The plan includes smoke testing, manhole inspections and dye testing to pinpoint problem locations.

Crop hunger walk looking for volunteers

The 1994 CROP Walk for world hunger in the Novi/Northville area is scheduled for Sept. 25. This will be the third consecutive year that the two communities have joined together for this important cause. Last years walk involved 350 persons and raised over $16,000. Dave Black and Chuck Jacobs, co-chairpersons, stated that this years goal is 400 walkers with $20,000 to be raised.

The walk will begin at the Novi Civic Center at 2 p.m. and will conclude at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Northville, after winding through 6.2 miles or 10 kilometers of the two communities.

The walk is open to anyone who is interested in raising money for hunger. Sponsoring churches this year include Novi and Northville First United Methodists, Faith Community and Northville First Presbyterians, Holy Family and Our Lady of Victory Catholic parishes, and the Meadowbrook Congregational Church in Novi. Any other churches or community organizations that would like to participate are invited to the rally meeting set for 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 22, at Faith Community Presbyterian Church on 10 Mile Road in Novi.

Information, brochures, pamphlets and sponsor records will be discussed and distributed at the rally meeting. The sponsor record is a persons ticket to participate in the walk and is used to record pledges for funds raised for the walk.

This years local agencies selected to receive 25 percent of the total funds raised are: Northville Civic Concern, Novi Emergency Food Shelter, COTS, Baldwin Shelter, and the Active Faith Center. The remainder of the money raised will go for the many hunger needs in the rest of the nation and world, as determined by Church World Service. This will include the flood areas in the southern in the United States, Rwanda, Haiti, the Bosnia area and many others.

Black comments that the last two years walks have been tremendous successes. He expects this years efforts to be even better and states, "It is so wonderful to see two communities join together to support others in need. We walk because people around the world walk to get food, just enough food to be able to survive, and we hope they are fortunate enough to do that."

Think we're costly? Take a closer look

Maybe you've always thought of us as the high-cost hospital. Quite frankly, we were. Four years ago the University of Michigan Hospitals had the most expensive general care room rates around. Now we have just about the lowest!

For the second time in three years we've reduced our daily rate for general care rooms, for a total drop of 25 percent since 1992. This is among the lowest general care room rates in southeastern Michigan.

We've also frozen intensive care room rates for the fourth straight year, and other costs have held steady for two years.

While we're cutting costs, our long tradition of providing quality health care remains the same.

- We were recently named one of the 10 best academic medical centers in the country by a leading health care information firm.

- Eighty-seven of our physicians were included in the book, The Best Doctors in America. U-M-affiliated physicians accounted for more than half of the listings from the entire state of Michigan.

We're raising the quality of your health care, while lowering the bill for it. It seems to be getting costly not to use the University of Michigan Hospitals for your health care needs.

Design a bold new future with one of our graduate degrees in engineering.

It's called taking care of your own future. Engineers, in all disciplines, are in greater demand now than ever before. That's where we come in. We're the University of Michigan at the very convenient Dearborn campus. That's where you can come in, too. During the day or evening, we offer classes in a variety of graduate engineering degrees. Golf course plan still up in air

By RANDY COBLE

Staff Writer
Whether Northville Township gets a golf course in return for approving an area developer's plan for a new subdivision is still an open question.

Northville's Parks & Recreation Commission is conducting a feasibility study on the township's owning a course as officials wait to find out if Gary Sakwa's proposal is still on the table.

Sakwa, based out of Farmington Hills, owns property at the northeast and southeast corners of the intersection of Six Mile and Sheldon Roads, including Brooklane golf course. He wants to build a subdivision there according to one of two alternate plans.

One is for a conventional sub with lots large enough to meet the requirements of the R-2 zoning which the land has now; it would also eliminate the Brooklane course. The other calls for smaller lots and a new nine-hole golf course and swimming pool which Sakwa would build and give to the township.

He originally made the offer in May to the township's planning commission, which last month passed the matter along to the board of trustees. The board discussed the matter at its Aug. 11 meeting, with Sakwa trying to see if a majority of the board was willing to seriously consider the course/pool proposal.

Most of the trustees expressed doubts about the wisdom of approving smaller lots and of having the township own a golf course. Some said they wanted a feasibility study done to get a handle on the course's chances to make money. Others said they doubted that could be the case, and in any case didn't like the high density of homes the plan included.

The board voted 5-1 to have the Parks & Rec Commission do a generic feasibility study of the idea of the township owning a golf course, including the possibility of revenues generated and community programs that might be involved.

While inspired by the Brooklane proposal, trustees supporting the measure said that the study should be done no matter what happens. There are a number of areas in the township, they said, that could one day produce offers of a course and officials would be well served to be prepared to explore them.

The Parks & Rec Commission in a letter to the board read at the meeting had the same idea and offered to do the feasibility study.

"There are nine-hole municipal courses that are making money. We'd like to see if could work here," Parks and Rec Commission chair John Werth said.

The results of the evening were somewhat inconclusive, but Sakwa said that he would continue to see if he could pursue the course plan with township officials. He is facing a time crunch, Sakwa said, with the Brooklane property owners, who need a decision from him soon about what he wants to do. He in turn wants an idea of where township officials are coming from on the idea.

He left the Thursday meeting saying he would need to check with the Brooklane owners about how much time he had. Township officials said they had received no word from him about the matter as of Tuesday evening.

Several trustees said they would be willing to do what Sakwa wants—seriously consider the plan. They added, however, that Sakwa would have an uphill fight in convincing them that it could work.

Sakwa's course plan includes 99 acres on the north and south sides of Six Mile near Sheldon. He has been changing his conceptual proposal for the land in response to township officials' concerns. His first offering called for 334 homes and the course. The next plan was for 280 homes and the course. Both plans, however, have home density levels which are over township ordinance limits.

Sakwa with the course plan is seeking to incorporate the township's open space ordinance. That is a tradeoff of sorts, giving a developer smaller-than-normally-allowed lots in return for a number of things, including the fact that the plan would mean a "recognizable and substantial benefit" to the township.

He hopes his latest plan will fit the bill. It calls for 280 single-family homes, 205 of which are 80-foot width lots; the remaining 75 are 90-foot width lots.

Some 29.3 acres of land are set aside for the course. Six of Brooklane's existing holes are included and three new ones are to be built on the north side of Six Mile. A bridge or tunnel would connect the three holes on the north with the six on the south.

Designer Bob Leighton likened the proposed sub to Blue Heron Pointe on Beck between Six and Seven in terms of home density and price. Homes would start at about $220,000 on the Brooklane land, he said.

The other sub plan calls for 243 lots of at least 125-foot widths with no golf course and less open space.

Trustees, like the planning commissioners before them, had questions about whether a nine-hole municipal course is financially viable. What they want to avoid is the township owning the course, which turns out to be a burden requiring yearly subsidies instead of being a revenue generator.

That wouldn't happen, Sakwa asserted. He said that the course could make up to $100,000 a year. "I think this would be hard-pressed to have it stand on its own," Trustee Gini Britton said, expressing her doubt of that.

Friends of Northville Parks & Rec President Marv Gans urged the board to consider the issue carefully, citing the benefits of the pool to community and school programs especially.

"You've got to look at the total picture and package," he said. "Let's say we're willing to explore it. Show us what you can do. Don't shut it off at the pass. See where it can go."

A township consultant estimated that the feasibility study will take about 30 days.

Maybury offers vegetable garden programs

It's August, and the Maybury Farm's vegetable garden is really growing. In the coming weeks the farm will be presenting several programs featuring garden activities.

On Saturday, Aug. 20 at 2 p.m., Maybury will invite kids ages 6 to 12 to learn about scarecrows and help us make some for the garden. Park officials will provide the materials, but preregister is required. Call the park office at (810) 349-8390.

On Saturday, Aug. 27 at 2 p.m., Maybury will present "Gardening Lore," a lecture featuring unusual facts and lore on herbs, vegetables, and planting.

The following weekend, Maybury will again present "Farm Stories" for children ages 2 to 6, with stories about gardening. Program times are Saturday, Sept. 3, at 11 a.m. and Sunday, Sept. 4, at 3 p.m.

The weekend of Sept. 10 and 11 is the park's annual Honey Harvest, from 1 to 4 p.m. each day, featuring beekeeping information and honey extraction demonstrations.

Also coming to the farm this fall: horse-drawn hayrides on weekends from 1 to 4 p.m. and on Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m., beginning in September.

As summer draws to a close, so do the park's summer nature programs. Join park officials any Tuesday evening in August at 7 p.m. for a field hike.

Fridays in August feature "Fishing is Fun" from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Maybury fishing pond. Each Saturday there are picnic programs at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The morning programs feature a talk on a different natural history topic each week, while the afternoon program features art in nature projects.

For further information on any of these programs, call the park office at (810) 349-8390.

Fogg proposes changes in compost regulations

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Composting is an issue which Northville Township officials are recycling these days, thanks to the persistence of one member of the board of trustees.

Russ Fogg has been urging the board for months to consider township ordinance changes that would set some rules for commercial composting. At a meeting Aug. 11 his fellow trustees did just that, voting to ask the planning commission to consider amending the solid waste ordinance to cover composting operations within Northville's borders.

Browning-Ferris Industries' (BFI) failed attempt earlier this year to win board approval for an up-to 80-acre compost site was very much on trustees' minds as they considered the issue.

He's concerned, Fogg said, that BFI or another large company may again try to set up a compost operation in the township. If that happens, he added, the board should be ready to deal with it through specific provisions in the ordinance, something the township doesn't have now.

"This gives our citizens protection and gives the township a better legal basis to deal with anyone who wants to set up a compost operation," Fogg said. "We're not looking to bar anyone. If they have a proposal that we can discuss, fine. This is a safety net for us."

The township and BFI spent nine months negotiating over the company's request to set up an outdoor composting center on land it owns in the township. BFI's current compost site is in Salem Township, just over the Northville Township border.

Initially, BFI was looking for the township's OK for a 20-acre site with an opportunity for the company to expand the site in 20-acre increments, to a maximum of 80 acres. Just before the curtain fell on the negotiations, the company, scaled down its request to a single 20-acre compost site. The board denied that request in March, citing concerns over potential odor problems and declines in property values near the Six Mile and Napier site.

Fogg was one of the plan's chief opponents then and is still very skeptical of BFI-style commercial composting in the township. At the Aug. 11 meeting, he compared BFI's current five-acre Salem Township operation to a ground fire of the same size. Anyone near it, Fogg said, has to face the problems it creates.

"You know a fire's around if you're anywhere in the area," he said. "You have to deal with the smoke, the odor. This spring, BFI said that its compost site didn't present a problem. I did an unofficial survey, and 130 people who used Brayburn golf course (next to the site) said it was offensive."

The odor, he added, would be even worse in the warm summer months. To avoid such a situation in the township, he proposed working on the ordinance changes.

Fogg said he had two specific provisions in mind. One is a 20 percent limit on nitrogen in composted materials (measured in ratio to carbon or wood chips).

Second, Fogg said, the township should ban outdoor composting. He proposed that all commercial compost operations be enclosed in a building of no more than 100,000 square feet. Another issue to explore, he added, is ordinance amendments limiting what goes into compost piles aside from natural materials, such as pesticides.

The planning commission will explore the issue with township consultants then report back to the board.

Our Opinion

Purchase goof didn't warrant tongue lashing

If you do something wrong, you should take your licks for it. Conversely, you shouldn't be punished for something you didn't do. Everybody pays lip service to that idea, but it doesn't always get put into practice. We think that was the case last week in Northville Township.

Fire Chief Bill Zhmendak recently arranged for the lease of a GMC Jimmy, his new departmental command car, paid for by the township. The board of trustees approved spending up to $10,000 this year for it as part of the 1994 township budget. Zhmendak closed the deal on the orders of Director of Public Safety Chip Snider, backed up by Supervisor Karen Baja.

The problem is that the board of trustees didn't get to approve the lease before it was signed, which is the usual procedure when the township spends cash. Snider and Baja have taken the blame. They say they got the wrong idea from a board discussion of three or four months ago and believed that the trustees had said the lease did not need to come back to them for final approval. They apologized for the mistake, both adding that Zhmendak is blameless.

The board isn't thrilled about this, understandably so. They reportedly had a heated—and unscheduled—90-minute go-around about the incident at a study session last week. At their regular meeting the following evening, Trustee Barbara O'Brien traded tense words with Snider and occasionally Baja.

O'Brien pushed for the board to investigate the issue further. The trustees instead voted 5-1 (only O'Brien voting "no") to OK the lease after the fact, although one and all said they weren't happy about it. Clerk Sue Hillebrand even suggested that Treasurer Rick Engelland's signature be required on every check the township pays out as "an additional safeguard."

Make no mistake: Snider and Baja made a mistake, and it's one they shouldn't have made. They both have been around the government block enough times to know better. The board is right in drilling home the message that this shouldn't happen again. People have gotten canned in the township's not-too-distant past for less than this.

Let's be reasonable, though. This was an item which the board approved in concept and was even well under the budgeted amount the trustees approved for it. That's not to excuse what happened; let's just keep it in perspective. The reality of life is that mistakes, like other things, happen—even stupid ones, and Snider and Baja should have to take their licks for this one.

What they shouldn't have to endure is public intimations that they're either deviant or incompetent, which is what O'Brien more or less subjected them to at the meeting. We think she may still have an ax to grind over the way former Chief Ricke Rosselle left the township earlier this summer and saw the chance to put Snider and Baja's feet to the fire. Even if she was only motivated by the mistake on the lease, the place and the way she aired her grievance were not appropriate.

People sometimes get an Oliver Stone complex when it comes to Northville Township: they see conspiracies in just about everything that happens. Remember, however, what Sigmund Freud said: sometimes a cigar is just a cigar. Sometimes an honest mistake is just that, and no one in this situation deserves to take licks for anything more than that.

Ice is nice, but enough already

Mike Malott

Despite the recent passage of a ballot question in Farmington Hills giving that city the go-ahead to build an indoor ice arena, Novi will still be considering whether to build one itself.

The city has scheduled a hearing for Sept. 19 to review the question of whether to proceed with the idea or to consider it "dead in the water."

Obviously, the passage in Farmington Hills raises the question because such arenas typically draw on larger regions than just the municipalities in which they are located. And they depend on that draw to keep them financially afloat. Proponents of an ice arena in Novi had believed it would draw from the Farmington Hills area.

Compounding things is the fact Northville Township is also discussing the construction of an ice arena. The plans are quite preliminary at this stage, but there has been no apparent effort to reevaluate the proposal in light of the Farmington Hills decision.

Now, despite the common wisdom that arenas need a regional draw to support them, Parks and Recreation Department Director Dan Davis says there is a market study which shows there would still be enough demand to support construction of an arena in Novi, too. The study was done by Terry Seyler, president of Center Ice Management, the firm selected to develop and operate an arena in Novi.

Davis himself admits that the study will have to make a very strong case, but the analysis has not yet been released, so it is a little difficult to know what is in it.

Nonetheless, it seems to me the prudent course would be to put the ice arena on the back burner for now, regardless of what the study shows. And I would think that should apply to both Novi and Northville.

No matter how well done, market studies have been known to be flawed. While in most cases that could result in a business having a product which fails, or in the failure of the business itself, in this case it means the community would be saddled with an under-utilized building. The private firm might pull out, or go belly up, but the City of Novi would be stuck with it forever.

How much wiser to wait and see how things go in Farmington Hills? Put the ice arena in Novi and Northville on hold at least long enough to see if that arena gets the kind of use Farmington Hills expects, to see if the ice time is all taken up, and to see if there is a demand for more ice time that still can't be met.

In the meantime, both communities—Novi and Northville—have a number of other recreation prospects to which their resources could be put.

In Novi, for instance, there is the development of all the newly purchased park land and the longstanding proposal to develop a community pool.

Taking a wait-and-see attitude, and concentrating resources elsewhere for the time being, only makes sense. Studies which advise differently should be viewed very skeptically.

Forget baseball

Football season is about to get under way at Northville High School.

Restored busing should ease parents' concerns

The Northville Board of Education did the right thing in approving a revised busing program that will provide greater transportation opportunities for school district students.

Under the plan, the previous 1.5 mile busing radius was reduced to 1 mile for K-5 children, the most vulnerable constituent group in the district. In addition, students living within 1.5 miles will have bus service if they have to cross busy streets or railroad tracks en route to school, or if they have to walk in or alongside streets due to the lack of side walks.

All this was accomplished with the roughly $75,000 school officials had budgeted for supplemental transportation this year. Assistant Superintendent David Bolitho devised the program and presented it to the school board at a meeting on Monday. The proposal won easy approval from elected representatives.

Transportation became an issue in the district after failure of a June 1992 millage forced reductions in the busing program. Prior to the vote, bus service was available to students living within .5 mile of their schools. The millage outcome, however, forced $300,000 worth of cuts in the transportation budget and necessitated a change in the busing radius to 1.5 miles. Despite passage of a millage renewal last year, the previous radius was not restored in 1993-94.

Many parents who assumed the old .5-mile standard would be back in place during the 1994-95 year were surprised to learn that school officials had no such plans. Additional monies had been earmarked for transportation, but the 1.5 mile radius was to remain the rule for the coming year.

Parents then lobbied officials hard, insisting that busing wasn't just an issue of convenience it was also a matter of safety. Their persistence eventually paid off with the adoption of a program that takes into account the potentially hazardous pedestrian conditions of some portions of the school district. Families in the Dunbarton Pines and Royal Crown subdivisions whose children will attend soon-to-open Thornton Creek Elementary have to be pleased that their grade schoolers won't have to walk along a busy road, Nine Mile, that has no side walks.

It isn't as complete a program as some would have liked and there will still be those who will continue to push for a restoration of the former busing radius. Nevertheless, it is a marked improvement over last year and evidence that a demonstration of public opinion can influence the decision makers of the local board of education.

I started Saturday in a state of mild shock after reading in the paper the startling news that my skirt is being recalled by the U.S. government.

Now, this is intensely personal. We've grown accustomed to recalls of consumer goods like cars, but when it comes to snatching the clothes off your back...I'm glad I found out in advance. I have visions of some nightmare Future World, where I'm innocently strolling through downtown Northville, only to be pulled over by the fashion police.

"That's an illegal skirt, lady. Hand it over."

"But officer, all I've got on underneath is my ratty old slip. The one with the torn lace I'm too lazy to mend."

"Just the skirt, ma'am. You have the right to remain partially clothed. You have the right to a fashion consultant. Anything you wear or accessorize can be held against you in a court of style."

Kids, don't try this at home, but I really think I'm not going to turn my skirt in. The facts are these. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has launched a recall of a certain type of rayon chiffon skirt because it's been discovered the garments are dangerously flammable.

I happen to have one, purchased at T.J. Maxx in Novi. It's my favorite skirt, a tie-die that looks like a watercolor painting of a sunset after someone accidentally spilled coffee on it. Most people hate it. I love it. I want to keep it.

Stores are being highly cooperative about taking the skirts back and refunding the purchase price, even from people who do not have the sales slips. Saturday afternoon, I already saw a pile of the returned garments stacked up at T.J. Maxx. Mine is not going to join them.

No doubt they'll all be gathered up and whisked away to be sold in some Third World country that's less diligent about the welfare of its citizens and where everybody, but everybody smokes cigarettes and some women even cook over open fires.

I don't doubt the skirts are dangerous. I saw one ignited on TV and it was scary. But when the recall was launched last week, no one had ever been injured or had even complained about the product.

In this world of microwave ovens, electricity and gas heat, I'm rarely around anything resembling a flame. I don't do nicotine and I won't be wearing my fire hazard, around crowds of people who do. I won't wear it when I'm roasting marshmallows over a campfire. Or when I'm blowing out candles on a birthday cake.

Actually, the only person I see on a regular basis who smokes is my boss, Mike Malott, and if he asks to speak to me while he's got an ignited cigarette in hand and I'm wearing The Skirt, I'll report him to MIOSHA.

I love living dangerously.

Why does township object to church?

I read with sadness last week the latest article on the negotiations between Northville Township and Ward Presbyterian Church concerning Ward's desire to build a new home for its members on the corner of Six Mile Road and Haggerty.

These negotiations have been going on for several years. Is it my imagination, or does the Northville Township Planning Commission have an uneasiness toward Christianity?

As a resident of Northville, I appreciate the township's concern about the size of the church, the ratio of residential/non-residential land usage, the massiveness of the church parking lot, and the effect the development will have on area traffic flow. (Is this the same commission that approved plans for the Meijer store on Eight Mile and Haggerty?)

I also can see the reasoning behind one of the suggestions the commission offered: to reverse the locations of the residential and the public recreation areas in order to preserve wooded area on the land parcel. (Is this the same commission that approved plans for the Home Depot on Seven Mile and Haggerty?)

In order for the plans to be approved, the land must be rezoned. To accomplish this, Ward is required to submit a plan providing "recognizable and substantial benefit" to the community and prove that what their plan offers is "better than anything that would come from conventional zoning."

We're talking here about literally thousands of people coming together to learn about and worship their creator and savior; to share their time, energy, resources, knowledge, and compassion with people from their own community and others; to extend and uncover a sentiment of thankfulness instead of an attitude of entitlement. This alone doesn't cut it for the township commission? What's wrong with this picture?

"Cousin It."

My husband and I chose to purchase a home in the Northville School system primarily because of the quality of the schools. However, it is unfair of you and "Cousin It" to generalize that the elementary and middle schools are "energetic and exciting" and that the high school teachers are "lethargic" and conduct their classes with indifference.

Though my son has had an excellent elementary and middle school preparation, not all of his teachers have been able to meet his educational needs. Students will not like every teacher they have in every class, and frankly, that's life: learning to deal with people in educational situations and the real world is an important part of growing up.

I wonder how many times you and "Cousin It" have visited our high school classroom. My colleagues are top notch people, enjoy working with students, and are experts in their fields. For many of them, the day does not end at the final bell; they bring their work home with them and spend many hours after school and in the summer attending graduate-level classes, seminars, conferences and workshops—many times at their own expense. If you don't believe me, please call me at the high school and I will arrange to show you around and introduce you to the many teachers that I respect, both as a colleague and a parent of a future student at Northville High.

Also, I would not like The Northville Record to turn into a source of educational tabloidism. Bring back Doc Doyle or other educational experts to write educational columns to inform parents of the important issues that we face in the school today. Have your staff do "Teacher Features" on the teachers at all levels of the Northville Schools. It is your responsibility to play a positive, uniting role in the future of our schools.

Merger idea must be put on hold

To the Editor:
Over the past few years, the Northville City Council has examined or discussed the concept of merging in some manner, form or shape. We are presently discussing or negotiating with merging our Police Department (and/or dispatch, lock-up and records) with four other Western Wayne County Police Departments (Canton, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Northville Township), merging our Fire Department with Northville Township and finally an entire Northville City-Township Community merger.

We have asked for and received countless reports, financial statements, financial projections, committee meeting minutes, etc. involving many many hours of our staff time and resources. We have spent anywhere from $10,000 to $25,000 in these last few years in attorney fees, consultant reports, countless studies, etc.; not even including the real hourly cost of our upper management and line staff.

At the present time we still have many more reports or data coming in for our examination on all of the above merger areas. I admit that I have been one of the many officials asking for these reports.

I fully understand that the purpose of the proposed mergers has been to reduce or control the continuing rise in municipal costs in maintaining independent departments and/or jurisdictions.

With all of this in mind, I believe that the citizens in our community wish to remain independent and carry any necessary reasonable financial burden as needed. I, as well as many other Northville City citizens, moved into this community because we wanted a small community with a high quality of life with superior city services, which we have presently. Knowing by first name and by sight our Police Officers, our Fire Fighters, our DPW workers, our city support staff members and our city department administrators only happens in small towns run by superior managers, which we have presently. The thought that we may lose this in any merger area is not desired by anyone in this community.

I also believe that these talks have been and still are too divisive at the present time for our City Council and the Northville City community to merge. In addition I believe that we have wasted too much staff time, money and other resources on this issue. Staff morale in all of our departments has been affected. I have reviewed enough financial statements and projects. I believe that we will never know what our costs or cost savings will be until we are already too committed to back out.

In conclusion, at the present time, I do not wish to continue any further merger discussions with any community involving any of our city departments or the city itself. Specifically, I do not believe in the five Western Wayne County police department proposed merger in any manner, form or shape, the Northville City-Township Fire Department proposed merger in any manner, form or shape, and finally the proposed Northville City-Township community merger in any manner, form or shape. I believe that the citizens of this city wish to remain completely independent.

In addition, I know of at least one other member (if not more) of this City Council in agreement. Therefore any continued City Council discussions or actions will be at best a 3-to-2 City Council split. I recommend that the Northville City Council drop all the merger issues and let our city administrators go back to running our city. We already have enough problems, we don't need any more. If this City Council wishes to continue discussions, then so be it. At this present point in time, this entire merger is a closed issue for me.

'Movies' program was great success

To the Editor:
The "Movies Under the Stars" program has just completed its first summer run. Starting back on June 17, for eight consecutive Friday nights, the kids of Northville had open recreation sessions followed by entertaining movies that provided them with a place to meet friends and have fun in a safe environment.

This program relied on the support and cooperation of many organizations in Northville, especially all the civic groups and churches that provided adult supervision and the funding for movie rentals. Also, great cooperation and support from the Northville Parks & Rec Department, the City of Northville, Northville Public School Administration (especially Ray in maintenance), and The Northville Record.

To everyone involved and to the parents and kids that attended—Thank you! We can all be very proud of this program.

If anyone has recommendations for improvements or would like to be involved next summer, please call 380-8100.

High school has quality teachers

To the Editor:
As the parent of a young man who will graduate from Northville High School in the year 2000, and as a 22-year-veteran of the Northville High School teaching staff, I feel that I must respond to your editorial of Thursday, Aug. 4. I disagree with your feelings and those of your anonymous caller, into the site of a mud-slinging festival that contaminates the air.

Verbal dirt fouls up clear air debate

Even Republicans from the southeastern arm of the state are to blame, it seems. The mud comes from the 1990 amendments to the federal Clean Air Act.

Here, quickly, is the background: A decade ago, the feds found three counties—Wayne, Oakland and Macomb—guilty of having dirty air. Major solution: annual auto emissions tests (AETs) for $10 before we can buy our vehicles that.

Under the 1990 act, the feds found three western Michigan counties in non-compliance: Kent (Grand Rapids), Ottawa and Muskegon. I suspect their west side pride is damaged more than their pocketbooks. Now they are in the same category as the money-sucking slums of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Gov. John Engler, facing re-election, has joined the fray, threatening "aggressive action" against the feds. Echoing the official Grand Rapids line, Engler said:

"Michigan is not to blame. West Michigan is being punished for air pollution that area companies and residents did not cause. West Michigan is responsible for only 4 percent of the problem. The lion's share of the problem travels to Michigan from other areas like Milwaukee, Gary and Chicago."

Engler's campaign manager, Dan Pero, thickened the allusion by declaring that Democratic gubernatorial nominee Howard Wolpe was to blame. As a congressman, Wolpe had co-sponsored the Clean Air Act amendments. Pero called Wolpe "a liberal Washington Democrat who is out of touch with Michigan" and a "liberal environmental extremist."

Gary Corbin, Democratic state chair, shoved the mud back in the GOP's face. "Every Republican member of Congress from Michigan cast a vote identical to Wolpe's," said Corbin, pointing to Bill Broomfield, R-Lake Orion, Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and even west sliders like Fred Upton, Guy VanderJagt and the late Paul Henry.

Looking at a map and aerial photographs, the dispassionate observer must conclude that the Grand Rapids gang and Engler have it wrong. Kent, Ottawa and Muskegon counties can't be blameless for their "non-attainment status" (dirty air).

Why don't Bridgman, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor have dirty air? They're directly in the path of the prevailing southwest winds emanating from the steel mills of Gary, Ind. Why aren't Van Buren (South Haven), Allegan, Oceana and Mason (Ludington) counties on the dirt list? What about Manistee, Benzie and pristine Leelanau?

Face it: Grand Rapids, Muskegon and their suburbs are in the big time. Engler will accomplish little except full employment for lawyers by fighting their dirty air status. Moreover, the mud bath takes attention away from genuinely pressing issues: potholed roads, tuitions rising at super-inflationary rates, weedgrown parks, workplace safety, court funding ...

Et cetera.

Ruling sets precedent on immunity issue

By COLLEEN NEWYNE
HomeTown Newspapers

The Michigan Supreme Court recently issued a ruling in a case stemming from a 1989 auto accident that killed one girl and injured another just the other side of the city limits in Lyon Township.

The high court said Jean Asch, then director of transportation for South Lyon Community Schools, and Joan Shifferd, school bus driver, could not claim governmental immunity in the case simply because they were not the sole cause of the crash, overturning the opinion of the appeals court.

Jeanne Dedes, now a Northville resident, sees the decision as a victory for Adrian Dedes, who was killed at age 10.

"We definitely think the Supreme Court was right," she said. "I don't wake up any morning that I don't think about her. I don't go to bed any night that I don't pray for her."

"We pray every night for justice and this time God answered our prayers."

But defense attorney Warren Hampton sees it as another step in the legal process, and he hopes to see the suit go for rehearing by the state Supreme Court or perhaps move on to the U.S. Supreme Court. He also is considering going for a second hearing in a trial court, or settling out of court.

"I'm disappointed in the decision," said Hampton, an attorney with Neal, Neal and Stewart in Flint. "It was a tough issue from the start."

In an opinion dated Aug. 2, the Michigan Supreme Court addressed the suit by Michael and Jeanne Dedes vs. Asch and Shifferd and demanded the case to a trial court. Four justices wrote the majority opinion remanding the case, and three dissented.

Adrian Dedes was killed and Lauren Dedes, 7, had her collarbone broken in an auto accident while standing at their bus stop on Ten Mile Road before school.

The Dedeses allege that Asch designed an unsafe bus route by requiring the girls to cross Ten Mile Road from north to south to board the bus, and Shifferd changed the children's bus stop without notifying the parents, and those actions contributed to the crash when a 19-year-old Wixom man struck the two girls on top of the hill between Johns and Chubb roads in Lyon Township.

The case against the driver of the car that hit the girls is separate from the issue of negligence on the part of the school employees.

It is disputed whether the girls stepped out into traffic or whether they were behind the white line on the shoulder when they were hit. Although the suit names Asch and Shifferd, Hampton said any settlement would come from the school district.

He would not speculate on the possible dollar amount of a settlement; neither would Richard Shaw, defense attorney in the Supreme Court case.

Shaw is an attorney with Lopatin and Miller in Detroit. He will not represent the defendants in the case if it goes back to the trial court; he expects Sheldon Miller will handle that duty.

Jeanne Dedes said the money her family might get if the legal system eventually finds in their favor isn't the biggest issue. She wants an admission of guilt from the school system.

"Material possessions mean nothing to us — family is everything," she said. "If they wanted to settle out of court and say they were at fault, we might go for that."

The case has dragged on for about five years now, first in the trial court, then in appeals, then at the Supreme Court.

Dedes said she's willing to stick it out.

"We'll never stop fighting for Adrian," she said.

Both Dedes and Hampton said they hope to put some closure on this case soon.

"Will my heart ever heal? No. But in a sense will I be able to put it to rest? Yes," Dedes said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
TAKE NOTICE, that the Land and Water Management Division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will hold a public hearing at the Northville Township Civic Center, Central Meeting Room, 41600 Six Mile Road, Northville, Michigan, at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday the 31st day of August 1994.
The purpose of the hearing is to secure the views of interested persons concerning the following application for permit:
Application for Permit 94-10-0659 under the Inland Lakes & Streams Act (1972, P.A. 348, as amended) by Cambridge Development Co. LLC, Mark Guidobono, 864 Andover Drive, Northville, Michigan 48167, to seek authorization to construct Cambridge Homes, Inc., by the excavation of a 3.1 acre detention pond with a restrictor culvert to discharge into an existing stream and place 300 cubic yards of fill and riprap in 0.12 acre of wetland for the berm structure. Place 375 cubic yards of fill and utilities in 0.11 acre of wetland for the construction of a roadbed to connect the proposed Edenderry Drive with the existing Edenderry Drive. Construct 4 sediment basins with culvert outfalls to existing wetlands. Project is located in T1S, R2E, Section 8, Northville Township, Wayne County, Michigan.
The application may be reviewed in the Land and Water Management Division, DNR, 55 MI Dr., Headquarters, 38850 Seven Mile Road, Livonia, Michigan 48152, during normal office hours.
The hearing will be held pursuant to Section 6 (2) of the cited statute. The hearing will not be a court-type proceeding; witnesses will not be sworn, and there will be no cross examination. Public hearings are primarily informational and are held to encourage the expression of views and presentation of facts.
The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will, upon written request, provide a copy of the Department's decision on this application.

professional development for teachers," said Groves, whose remarks were followed with loud applause from supportive audience members. "But do it without sacrificing the kids."

School board members acknowledged the risk and challenge the restructured school day poses for the district; however, it is a risk board members said they are willing to take in order to help launch teaching strategies toward the year 2000.

Groves, however, said it is not the board, but the students who are taking the risk.

Trustee Joan Wadsworth remained optimistic about the program.

"I believe this will result in something better for our kids," she said.

Much of the evening was used to focus on the importance of revamping education to stress applying knowledge in practical situations as opposed to rote memorization and theoretical learning. Many educators said they feel the planning sessions will help teachers brainstorm strategies to prepare students for the adult world and help them compete on a global level.

Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski said parents must have trust that the board and administration are doing what they feel is in the best interest of the district's children and must work with educators to achieve a common goal—improved education.

"We have to move forward," Rezmierski said. "Take the 'T' out of trust and that is what will happen to this school district."

Caryn Doehler, president of the Northville Council of the Parent-Teacher Association, said her it said it would do," Doehler said.

The presentation from the steering committee marked the culmination of a five-year process for the plan, which included researching Holt and Farmington public school districts which have similar programs already in place.

John Campbell.

Study session topics will focus on students taking on adult roles, aligning curriculum and instruction with those adult roles and the practical application of knowledge and technology.

Students will be in school next year for 965 hours as opposed to last year's 1,076. Next year's 965 hours is well above the 900 hours required by the state, Rezmierski pointed out.

"Nine hundred hours has never been the bare-bones minimum we have followed," he said.

If the high school decides to stick with the collegial planning sessions, they could be faced with an even larger task than first expected.

Under Proposal A that passed last March, school districts must add on the equivalent of two days to each school year beginning in 1995-96 and running through 2010.

Rezmierski said incrementally increasing the school year could pose a problem for parents and officials, adding that he would rather take on the task in larger chunks.

More than focusing on hours, however, the district needs to focus on quality of education, board members agreed.

"More hours and more days is fine," Trustee Jean Hansen said. "As long as those more hours and days meet the needs of the kids. Unless we're making good use of that, why bother?"

Club offers option for revamped day

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Northville High School students can add another Wednesday morning option to their lists this school year—the Northville Breakfast Club.

The breakfast club is a result of a group of Northville parents combining efforts with the Trinity Presbyterian Church in Plymouth to provide an informal setting for students to discuss problems and challenges that many teenagers are faced with.

"We want to send out the message that there are people out there who can say, 'Hey, we understand what you're going through,'" said Jack Radcliffe, director of youth and family ministries for the Trinity Presbyterian Church.

The Northville Breakfast Club will begin its Wednesday mornings at 8:45 a.m. with breakfast followed by the viewing of a video tape in a series called "Edge TV."

The series focuses on every-day problems that teenage students are faced with and how to deal with them. Some of the topics include self-esteem, racism, sexual choices and family relations. After the video tape, Radcliffe will facilitate a discussion with students on the tape's topic.

Breakfast club activities are open to all students and will begin meetings Aug. 31.

For more information, call Radcliffe at 459-9609.

organization supports the school day but stressed that the board and administration must be held accountable.

updated software, infrastructure needs and fund equity.

"We are passing up the opportunity to get some money and spend it here," Purtell said. "But now is not the right time."

Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski said he was concerned that a majority of the public believes school districts would no longer hold millage elections after the passage of Proposal A in March—a misconception that he most likely would not have been able to dispel by the September election, he said.

"I don't believe the community is ready for a vote at this time," he said.

If anything, Proposal A has made school financing more uncertain than ever, said board President Robert McMahon at the Aug. 10 public hearing/board study session.

"Proposal A did not solve all of our problems," he said. "We are going to be on more uncertain terms than before."

The fact that summer vacation is in high gear for many families was another reason the committee decided to postpone consideration for an election, Rezmierski said.

The turnout for the public hearing/board study session on the issue may have been an indicator of the final weeks of summer vacation with four parents in attendance.

The possibility of voters shooting down a September millage proposal, Rezmierski said, could have jeopardized a critical upcoming bond issue anticipated to face voters sometime in May or June of 1995.

Rezmierski expects the citizen's bond committee will approach the board with a recommendation for a bond issue by late January or early February, which could go for building a new middle school or building additions and renovations.

Committee members may opt to pair an enhancement millage request with the bond issue, but much work needs to be done before any decision can be made, Rezmierski said.

Rezmierski is looking for about five or six citizens to serve on the enhancement millage committee and 10 to 12 citizens to serve on the bond committee. Anyone interested can call Rezmierski's office at 344-8440.

Seniors to sign up for parking during school registration

Northville High School seniors will have the chance to sign up for a parking permit when they attend senior registration Monday, Aug. 22.

In the past, parking permits had been allocated on an alphabetical basis, but Principal Tom Johnson said that system was unfair to students with last initials at the low end of the scale. This year, instead of an alphabetical system, the school will award permits by lottery.

Seniors wanting permits are being asked to bring their vehicle registration forms with them when they sign up for parking on Monday. School officials will later pool the names of students and draw at random from the pool.

No money will be collected at senior registration. Seniors whose names are drawn in the lottery will be asked to pay for their permits later.

According to Johnson, about 180 parking spots are open to seniors. He expects about 225 students to request permits.

Senior registration takes place Monday morning beginning at about 9 a.m. and running until roughly 12:30 p.m. There about 10 different stations seniors must go through, culminating in receipt of their new class schedules.

Kids: Color the Yerkes House

The Northville Historical Society is currently making plans to paint the Yerkes House at Mill Race Historical Village and needs help coming up with a good color scheme. The Northville Historical Society's Board of Directors is receptive to all suggestions from community members.

Children are encouraged to color this ink sketch of the Yerkes House, clip out the artwork and exchange it for a prize from the Mill Race Village General Store any Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Completed pictures will be displayed at the Village.

Adults can get in the act too by sending suggestions to Northville Historical Society, P.O. Box 71, Northville, MI 48167 or by dropping them off at the Mill Race Village office Monday Through Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Help us devise a wonderful color combination for this important community treasure.

Proposed rate increase could reach 14 percent

The city indicates several key factors have made it necessary to propose the water and sewer rate increases, including:

- The City of Detroit imposed a rate increase of 6.5 percent for water purchased by the city on July 1.

- Rates imposed by Wayne County have increased for excess flow. A 6 percent rate was in effect in Dec. 1, 1993. It is anticipated that as of Dec. 1, 1994, that rate will increase to 8 percent.

- Annual debt service payments will amount to $525,484 for 1995.

- A city ordinance, based upon requirements of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, requires that adequate revenues be collected for the operation, maintenance, and replacement of the sewer system.

- The projected maximum cost for the city's commitment to a sanitary sewer flow monitoring project for 1995 is $100,000 and for 1996 is $107,000.

- Capital improvement projects which need to be addressed within the next five years are the Dubuar Water Main Replacement, which is in the 1995 budget at an expense of $75,560, and the Catholic Water Tower Protection, which is also in the 1995 budget for $13,000.

Projects totaling $472,030 and which are not in the 1995 budget are the Rural Hill Water Main Replacement ($94,600), North Center Street Water Main Replacement ($144,930), City-Wide Water Meter Replacement Program ($112,500), and the Water Tower Repainting ($120,000).

The rate increases are necessary to achieve a working capital amount of $500,000-$700,000 in the water and sewer fund, which is the minimum the city strives to maintain. Projected working capital as of June 30, 1994, is $328,908. It is estimated that the rate adjustments would not bring the working capital to within the minimum desired by the city until 1998 when it is estimated it will be $568,027.

The purpose of maintaining capital is for cash flow and emergency expenditures due to the age of the water and sewer system.

Board expands busing program

Parents urged the board to reinstate the district's half-mile busing schedule, driven by concerns of children walking and crossing busy roads and an increasingly dangerous situation with parents flooding the parking lots to drop children off for school.

The one-mile magnet program for elementary students paired with the safety criteria will hopefully eliminate a sizable chunk of the district's transportation problems, Bolitho said.

"This is the best we can do with the way the program is funded now," Bolitho said. "We are fortunate it worked out this way."

Parent Bob Epley said he was satisfied with the new plan.

"This was not only a resource issue, but a safety issue," Epley said. "You have combined both and I thank you very much."

The elementary bus schedule will cost the district roughly $70,434 and implementation of safety criteria will cost about $6,000. Expenses, however, will not be final until school starts and exact student enrollment is determined. Bolitho's office will have bus schedules completed by next week.

Parents of new Thornton Creek elementary students who lived in Dunbarton Pines and Royal Crown subdivisions were concerned over their children walking down Nine Mile Road, which has portions with no sidewalks. Both subdivisions will receive busing under the new plan.

Novi home has special history

By JAN JEFFRES
Staff Writer

Marietta Bretz says she still loves to look at the house she and her husband Robert have owned for 28 years.

"I never fail to stop admiring it when I drive in my driveway," she said last week.

Bretz isn't the only one who enjoys the sight of the Greek Revival farmhouse on Nine Mile Road. Passersby slow down their cars to get a better view of the elegant white building, with its green shutters and white rail fence. Known as The Lincoln House, the Novi residence has even been used in Ford Motor Company car advertisements.

Since it was built in 1838, the Bretzs are but one family in a series of many who have called the place home. A listing of past owners in a 1920 land abstract reads like a who's who in Northville and Novi history, including the names of local pioneer families such as Cady and Lapham.

Nine Mile Road is a rapidly changing neighborhood. Once so rural that the only car which passed by during the day was the mail carrier's, Bretz recalls when most of the traffic on the weekends came from the horse and buggies owned by nearby families who collected the antique vehicles. Now, new subdivisions are sprouting up on farmland once owned by the former proprietors of both Bretz's homestead and the past owners of the old Samuel White farm to the east.

Bretz isn't sure who first called the place The Lincoln House. The home was built by James Palmer in 1838. Somewhere along the line, someone noticed that the old Palmer house was built to the same pattern as Abraham Lincoln's home in Springfield, Illinois. While that house was erected in 1839, Lincoln and his wife Mary Todd did not purchase it until 1844. They lived there for 17 years, until he was elected president.

"This was a type of house they were building for nicer homes," Bretz said, who has an old print of the young, beardless Lincoln on the wall next to her steep front stairs.

Clearly, Palmer, who owned a blacksmith shop in downtown Northville, was doing well for himself. He is believed to have been an itinerant minister who also married couples in the parlor of his home. Palmer sold the property in 1865 for $6,000, one year after his soldier son Daniel was killed in the Civil War.

"I always wonder about this. Was it a heartbreak, is that why he sold the house," Bretz said.

"The land abstract reads just like a novel. I used to read this and I could imagine a wonderful story. This is all speculation as far as I'm concerned. What people did, what people thought, you have no way of knowing."

The house was modernized in the 1950s by a former Detroit policeman, Joseph Nikoden, who had hit the jackpot when he invented a device used in police target practice, Bretz said. At the time, the building had no electricity and only cold running water. She and her husband bought the house from the next family to own it after the Nikodens, who had moved to Florida. Bretz kept in touch with Nikoden, now deceased, who filled her in on some of the house's history and the extent of the restoration.

No major structural changes have been made to Palmer's house, Bretz said. Two picture windows were added and the kitchen and pantry wall was removed to create an enlarged dining and kitchen area. Bathrooms and one closet, the only one in the house, were created. The original building had no closet at all.

"They didn't need closets then. They had Sunday clothes and work clothes, that was it," Bretz said.

Much of the original, wavy glass remains, as does the hardware on the upstairs door. From one bedroom on the second floor, a door to the attic opens up to show a room with log beams which still retain their bark. In a letter, Nikoden explained that he laid plywood and then carpet over the original wood floors, because they creaked too much.

In 1985, architect Dane Johnson selected The Lincoln House as one of Novi's ten finest buildings. Johnson is now a consultant to the city's Historic District Study Committee, which is evaluating the historic merit of Novi's pre-1950 buildings.

"Thirty years ago, we were told by a very old man who used to live here that this home was always kept up, it was always a dairy or an apple farm. It was always a showplace," Bretz said.

When Nine Mile was paved last summer, Bretz lost an old willow tree to the construction. Tiger lilies growing wild in the road right-of-way are now gone. Soon, she will be living in a tiny enclave of history almost swamped by present development. Bretz isn't sure how it will all fit together, but if a note once left on her doorstep by a driver-by is any clue, it's likely The Lincoln House will remain a showstopper.

"Dear People of Lincoln Place, What a beautiful home. I envy you. Thank you for a little peace. A traveler."

the edge

Bob says his daughter is one of the lucky ones. After several years of exhibiting "oppositional behavior," the girl finally has her life on track. It all started around the time she was 11 years old.

(Note: Last names have been omitted from this story to protect the identities of the parents.)

"She wouldn't obey any rules," the Novi parent said. "She'd make a mess anywhere in the house. She was verbally abusive, and sometimes physically (abusive)."

When she was 13, Bob's daughter ran away from home.

It was then that Bob and his wife decided they needed professional help and admitted their daughter to a substance abuse and psychiatric center. Counselors told Bob his daughter was dabbling in drugs.

"We didn't suspect anything," he said. "It was the last thing that crossed our minds."

Now 16, Bob's daughter has a 3.0 grade point average and her own job. "She knows she came real close to falling off the edge," Bob said.

While Bob's daughter was receiving the help she needed, Bob also felt he needed somewhere to turn.

"You're a professional person, a college graduate. One day you come home from work and find out your kid has been busted for using drugs and skipping school," Bob said. "All of sudden you're facing a myriad of problems you never knew you would have to face."

Bob and his wife turned to Families Anonymous, a 12-step, self-help organization of parents and family members who choose to face their problems.

There are no therapists or counselors. There is no professional facilitator or religious affiliation. Members are known by first names only.

"Families Anonymous provides a sounding board," Bob said. "It's positive reinforcement. It gives you a chance to talk to another parent when you just don't know what to do."

Parents merely share suggestions or give examples of how they handled a particular problem.

"There isn't any instant formula that says this is going to work," Bob said. "It's just a group forum."

And members are always at ease when they realize that what they have to say is nothing worse than what others have heard.

"The hardest thing for a parent is to initially admit, 'Hey, we've got a real problem,'" Bob said. "Some hide their head in the sand. They don't want to believe it. They may say, 'Yeah, the kid gets drunk on Saturday nights, but he's not using drugs.' They don't want to admit it. But we do."

On Feb. 20, 1978, the first Families Anonymous chapter was founded in Michigan.

Robert and his wife headed the first meeting at Royal Oak's William Beaumont Hospital after unsuccessfully dealing with their son's drug problem.

"We tried everything we could muster to bring it under control," Robert said, explaining that his son had repeatedly failed all counseling and recovery programs.

Robert's son started using drugs at age 13.

"I felt something was wrong with the things that were happening to him," Robert said. "There were strange phone calls at night, strange people knocking on our door."

CAROL KEMP

This volunteer delivers

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

"You have to put your foot down," Carol Kemp said, when it comes to requests for your time.

Once a year The American Cancer Society and The March of Dimes ask her to collect money, and she said, "I'll go up the street for them."

And on a regular basis for the last four years Kemp has been delivering meals once a week in the Senior Adult Nutrition program from the Novi Civic Center to "18 persons but sometimes as many as 27, 28. I've said I'll quit at 30."

The food is brought from the Mercy Services for Aging in Farmington Hills in "huge restaurant catering trays," Kemp said, to the Novi Civic Center kitchen where other volunteers make up individual packages of hot and cold.

The people to whom she delivers are mostly seniors, mostly women, maybe two or three couples.

Some I've had from the beginning. Some are temporary."

"You walk in the door," Kemp said, "and you give them their meals."

"Sometimes you visit, and some would like you to spend the whole day with them."

"Then some are grumpy when I come in. So I kid with them and joke, and pretty soon they get a smile on their faces."

Once in a while nobody will be home, but there'll be a sign on the door. "Don't leave food. Have gone to the hospital" or "Leave meal. Have gone to doctor's. Will be back soon."

Why does Carol Kemp volunteer? Her reason is in a quote she found and doesn't know where, but it goes like this:

"Volunteering is the rent you pay for the space you occupy on Earth."

But "you do have to put your foot down" or it will change your life style-and, in her case, "Nothing interferes with my bowling."

There is a need for drivers in this Home Delivered Meals program. If you interested, call Jan McAlpine, manager of the Novi Senior Center, at 347-0414.

Members needed for Northville Lions Club

Ten more people are needed to establish a charter membership for the Northville Lions Club.

Men and women from the city and township are invited to attend the first of several Saturday meetings set until 20 members are signed up. The meetings will take place at 2 p.m. each Saturday, beginning Aug. 20, at Crawford's Restaurant, located on Main Street.

John Morgan of Northville is heading up the membership drive. He establishes new Lions Clubs in the state.

Morgan said the drive resulted in the disbanding of the North-West Lioness Club.

"The Detroit North-West Lions Club for 13 years had a Lioness Club," he said. "The North-West Lioness met in Northville. All the ladies that belonged met in their homes."

The group disbanded in April. Northville resident JoAnne Gears was the club's past president.

"There are 55 Lions clubs in Wayne and Monroe counties, five are in Monroe," Morgan said. "We think Northville will be complemented by a Lions Club."

Morgan added that the Lioness Club donated many eyeglasses and folded canes as well as contributed to the community.

"We think there are services here to be rendered," he said. "In addition we'd like to start work with the high school."

Morgan was referring to a Leo

Club, a service organization modeled after the Lions Club, however, operated by high school students.

"They (high schoolers) have their own projects, own officers, everything like the Lions Club," said Frank Canfield, who is visiting the area from Houston, Texas. He works in the Lions Club membership extension office in Texas and is lending his expertise in establishing charter organizations.

Canfield said the Lions Club is a service organization very much like the Rotary and Kiwanis.

"But our main emphasis is blind people—(providing) seeing eye dogs and white canes," he said. "Our next emphasis is with youth with college scholarships and youth exchanges."

There are 40,000 Lions Clubs worldwide with 1,400,000 members.

Charter members will determine where and when the club will meet, the cost of dues and will elect officers.

Residents 18 and older, men and women, are welcome to join. For more information, contact Morgan at 348-9075.

LOCAL RESIDENT

TRAVELS BACK

George E. Koskumaki is a former U.S. serviceman who landed on the treacherous shores of Normandy, France, on June 6, 1944.

He returned to the site 50 years later to honor those who fought and died in one of the World War II's most bloody and desperate battles.

This Northville army veteran, along with thousands of D-Day and World War II veterans, family and friends, attended ceremonies held in June on the 50th anniversary of the allied powers invasion of Normandy that began the end of Nazi Germany's forced occupation of western Europe.

Koskumaki was assigned with the 101st Airborne Division and received the Bronze Star for meritorious service during the war.

PET-A-PET GOES

INDEPENDENT

The Pet-A-Pet animal visitation program, which is active in the Northville area, has become the Pet-A-Pet Club, Inc., an independent, non-profit organization which is no longer affiliated with the Animal Welfare Society of Southeastern Michigan.

Pet-A-Pet Club brings 260 volunteers and their family pets on therapeutic visits to area nursing homes, hospitals, schools, hospices and day care facilities. The group is preparing for its new season in September and has already added several new facilities to its new schedule.

The Pet-A-Pet Club is fully insured and sponsored by the following board members: Ruth Curry, Robin Newton, Ruth Klosterhaus, Estell Biesiadecki, Ellen Frank, Sandra Smith, Barbara Rouston, Jill Tybinka, Celeste Wojtczak, Roz Granitz, James Milke, and veterinarians Dr. Peter Lederer, Dr. Kathy Morris and Dr. Grace Chan.

"Being independent means we can grow faster and bring our program to even more adults and children," said Curry, president of the group. "But it also means we'll need more financial support from the community."

The group has been supported initially by a donation from Vi and George Baughman of Redford to cover the cost of insurance premiums.

Anyone wishing to make a donation, or would like to volunteer for a visitation program should call Curry at (810) 535-0410, or Joanne Gresens, (810) 464-8944.

Novi parent finds help with family support chapters

Some nights, Robert's son would say he was going to bed only to sneak out his window and disappear all night.

"It was very erratic behavior," Robert said. "It was rather devastating."

Robert wasn't surprised when he found marijuana and drug paraphernalia in his son's possession.

"It had a tremendous impact on our family," he said. "It was like somebody threw a hand grenade into our family. Our family values had been blown apart. Trust and humor had been replaced with suspicion and mistrust."

Robert and his wife had three other children to consider. They weren't sure where to turn when an article about Families Anonymous caught Robert's eye as he flipped through his wife's Good Housekeeping magazine. He wrote to the magazine to find out if there were any chapters in Michigan.

There weren't but other Michiganders writing to the magazine were given Robert's phone number and address.

"So, our phone got rather busy," he said.

After the group started meeting, Robert said he was surprised of the outcome.

In all their attempts to pick up the debris their son was leaving, Robert and his family started to lose sight of their priorities. Robert and his wife began to argue bitterly about how to handle their son. Robert put his job, religion and life pleasures on the back burner.

"Our family values started to disintegrate," he said. "All of our energies and efforts were placed on our child's problems. I was more

"We got into the program to find a solution to our son's drug problem but we were the ones who found a new way to live."

Robert
Founder, Families Anonymous

addicted to my son's problems than my son."

Families Anonymous helped Robert realize that he couldn't pay for his son's mistakes. Rather, his son had to own up to them.

He stopped paying for his son's attorney bills and he quit paying off his son's drug debts.

"Strangely enough, the more we let go, the closer we became," Robert said. "He still has our moral support, but we no longer contribute (financially)."

Sadly, Robert's son is still "trying to make it," according to Robert.

Bob, the Novi parent, explained that Families Anonymous enabled him to get on with his life, too, when his daughter was causing trouble.

"Some of the members have kids in jail and some that are going back," Bob said. "Some members have kids who will be in prison for 30 years. What do they do now? You can't beat yourself up as a parent. You have to get on with your life."

Engagements

Thomas Valade III/Lynn Smith

Barbara and Dan E. Smith, of Grand Blanc, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynn, to Thomas Valade III, son of Thomas Valade II and Janice Valade, of Northville.

The bride-elect graduated from Grand Blanc High School and Michigan State University. She is currently attending graduate school at Walsh College. She is employed as a branch manager with NBD Bank NA in Dearborn Heights.

The bridegroom-elect is a graduate of Northville High School and Michigan State University. He is employed as a financial planner for IDS Financial Services in Okemos.

The wedding is planned for September 1994 at Our Lady of Good Council in Plymouth.

Suzanne McAllister/Doug Kurtis

Both marathon runners, Suzanne and Doug saw each other at the starting line of the New York City Marathon last November. They met at the finish line but meeting at the awards ceremony was the charm. From there a long distance romance blossomed between the two thanks to MCI and marathon race directors.

Suzanne, until recently, was a psychologist with a private practice in New York City. She received her B.A. from Barnard College of Columbia University and a Ph.D. at Fordham University.

Doug works for Ford Motor Company in Dearborn, Mich. as a computer systems administrator. A School of Business graduate of Michigan State University, he is also a world class marathon runner and holds three world records including the most marathon victories (37) and most sub 2:20 marathons (75).

The couple plan to live in Northville.

The bride's parents are Barbara McAllister, a homemaker and mother of eight. Her father, Neill A. McAllister, now deceased, was vice president of McAllister Brothers, a marine towing and transportation company founded by the bride's great-grandfather.

The groom's parents are Lillian Ricketts Kurtis, a homemaker and mother of three. His father, Theodore J. Kurtis, is a retired facilities administration manager with Ford Motor Company.

The nuptials plan a Saturday, Sept. 10, 1994 wedding at the Infant Jesus Chapel, St. Charles Hospital on Main St. and Myrtle Ave. in Port Jefferson, New York. The Catholic service will be performed by Fr. Francis Pizzarelli and Deacon Philippa Turner.

The Northville High School Jazz Band will play its fourth consecutive performance at the Montreux Detroit Jazz Festival at 5:30 p.m. Sept. 5 at Detroit's Hart Plaza. The band is made up of 15 students and is known for its swinging big band arrangements. The group is directed by Michael Rumbell.

Marquis to hold auditions for plays

The historic Marquis Theatre of Northville will be auditioning for The Fantastiks, Beauty and the Beast, and Annabelle, The Unhappy Witch.

Auditions for The Fantastiks will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 21, and from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Monday, Aug. 22.

Professional adult actors and actresses should bring a resume and headshot and prepare a song in their vocal range.

An accompanist will be provided.

There will be cold readings from the script. Show dates are Oct. 1-22.

Children's auditions for Beauty and the Beast will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 10. Boys and girls ages 8-14 who can sing and dance or move well on stage are encouraged to audition.

Auditioners should be prepared to sing a song in their vocal range and be prepared to dance. An accompanist will be provided.

Four different sets of children will be cast for the run of the show. Bring a resume and headshot if one is available. Show dates are Nov. 6 through Dec. 31.

Adult auditions for Beauty and the Beast will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 11.

Professional adult actors and actresses will be cast in the roles of Beauty, the Beast and Beauty's father.

Bring a resume and headshot, and be prepared to sing in your vocal range. An accompanist will be provided.

There will be cold readings from the script. Show dates are Nov. 6 through Dec. 31.

Auditions for the Halloween musical, Annabelle, The Witch, will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 14. Young actors and actresses, ages 8 to 18, will be asked to do a cold reading from the script.

Show dates are Oct. 22-30 for a total of six performances.

For further information on any of the above auditions, call the Marquis Theatre at (810) 349-8110.

'It will make you cry' Not!

If you liked 'Wayne's World,' you'll like 'Wayne's World 2' even better

WAYNE'S WORLD TWO
By Heather Wadowski
Northville

If you want the feel-good movie of the year see "Wayne's World 2." It'll make you cry. And most of all, it will make you believe.

NOT!!
The only thing "Wayne's World 2" will do is make you laugh like you've never laughed before.

"Wayne's World 2," now on video, picks up where the original "Wayne's World" leaves off. Only this time, "Wayne's World" isn't live from Wayne's (Mike Meyers) basement, but live from an old doll factory.

READER MOVIE REVIEWS

"Wayne's World 2" has a plot, unlike "Wayne's World." Wayne's determined to put on a concert, "Waynestock," and get famous bands like Aerosmith to play at it.

But soon Wayne notices something fishy goin' on with his girlfriend, Cassandra (Tia Carre). He's convinced she's cheating on him with her manager.

Soon Wayne, Garth (Dana Carvey) and crew are spying on Cassandra night and day.

And "Waynestock" is getting closer and closer ... and there's no one playing at it yet!

"Wayne's World 2" is so much better than the original "Wayne's World" that it's hard to believe it's a sequel.

So whether or not you enjoyed

"Wayne's World," see "Wayne's World 2." You won't be disappointed.

STARTING OVER
By Helaine Binstock
Novi

Again they're breaking up, but this time it's divorce. Jessie (Candace Bergen) launches yet another outrageous aspiration. Now she's a song writer — and having a husband doesn't fit into her plan.

Though Jessie incessantly bursts into song with that frog voice, Phil (Burt Reynolds) adores her. Reynolds, departing from his usual super macho role, is terrific as the suffering "dumped" husband.

In a poignant scene, Phil reenacts the dreadful "singles arena" for a first date and is greeted by an over-zealous mother of two who laughs too hard at his shallow jokes and has baby sitter problems.

Mickey (Charles Durning), Phil's psychiatrist brother, enrolls Phil in a divorced men's workshop to help ease his despair. He also introduces Phil to Marilyn (Jill Clayburgh).

While Jessie is confident, gorgeous and sexy — Marilyn is plain and insecure. She's had bad experiences dating recently-divorced men and is apprehensive "Starting Over" with him.

Marilyn attends Phil's family Thanksgiving dinner and things get tense when Jessie phones. He refers to Marilyn as his brother's friend.

"Starting Over" (1979) is a comedy with great acting. Reynolds was robbed of an Academy Award nomination for this funny/serious performance.

And Durning, as usual, is fantastic.

Like all the films Helaine Binstock reviews, "Starting Over" is available on video.

Western Lakes votes down merger with KVC

By SCOTT DANIEL AND MERRILL CAIN
Sports Writers

Thanks, but no thanks.

That's what Western Lakes Activities Association told the Kensington Valley Conference last week. A proposed merger between the two leagues, which would've combined athletic and academic activities, was nixed by WLAA principals in a special meeting Aug. 9.

According to Northville High School Athletic Director Dennis Colligan, the merger is on the back-burner until at least the end of the coming school year.

"The merger is dead (for) now," he said. "We will not be moving towards it."

"I'm disappointed. As far as Northville goes, I wanted to see us merge."

Rodney Hosman, principal at Livonia Churchill High School and the president of the WLAA, said a unanimous decision was required in order to approve adding the KVC schools to the conference. Sources indicated that half of the Western Lakes schools voted against the measure.

"I don't think that any of the schools were dead set against it," said Hosman. "Some thought that (the merger) ought to happen right now, but more schools thought that there might have been some issues that we might have missed. We want to go into it very carefully and have everything thought out ... it was the feeling that each school should go through a self-examination and determine what's best for them."

The Livonia schools led the charge against the merger. Joining Stevenson, Churchill and Franklin in voting no were Plymouth Canton and two of the three Farmington schools.

Hosman said that the vote doesn't mean there won't be a merger of the two conferences somewhere down the road. He said there were a lot of positive aspects that the WLAA saw in the KVC since a merger was proposed some eight months ago.

Novi Athletic Director John Fundukian agreed. "The size of the merger compliments equity and diversity," he said. "(It would) promote a level playing field."

One of the major stumbling blocks to the merger, according to Hosman, was the constitution of the WLAA. Under the current constitution, a merger is not an option, he said.

Therefore, the current constitution would have to be reworked or the conference would have to go through the process of admitting each KVC school into the WLAA. That, he said, could prove awkward for the schools in the KVC. "We just felt going in that we made a mistake by saying that 'we're the Western Lakes and we're the best and you have to be part of us.' Other conferences have a lot to offer and it may be better to blend together to form a whole new model," said Hosman.

He added that the logistics of a merger with the KVC were a concern because some of the schools in the WLAA would have to travel a long distance for athletic events. Hosman did point out though that "if you expand the conference, you're going to have increased travel distance no matter what."

He said that the WLAA will continue to look at the KVC, and other conferences as well, as possible leagues for expansion in the future.

"We want to make sure that whatever formation we settle on is in the best interest of everyone," said Hosman.

Writer faces skating challenge

When I interviewed some local in-line skating experts on some of the key points of being a good skater, they stressed being able to stop effectively. This is a good point. Being a new owner of a pair of in-line skates, I was all too familiar with the challenge of being faced with what seemed like a monster of a hill and hoping I could make it all the way to the bottom without any intimate introductions to the pavement.

Yvonne

But I think when stressing the ability to stop, these experts forgot to mention one critical point: you first need to figure out how to stay upright for more than five minutes before you can concentrate on stopping.

"How bad and difficult can these things be anyway, right?" This is how I felt when I first decided I might like to invest in a decent pair of skates. My calves quickly found out the meaning of the term "going for the burn," because after about two or three minutes of stumbling around on the sidewalk in front of my house I realized there were many more unused muscles in my legs than used ones.

Well, two months later, those leg-burning days are, for the most part, over. Now I can slap on those babies and get a decent work-out for an hour or so. However, the road to staying upright was definitely filled with potholes and gravel.

Out of all my incidents of (hopefully but not likely) gracefully falling to the ground, one stands out in my mind the most, probably because it was extremely embarrassing. It was about a week after I had purchased my new skates and

I was determined to use them every day (that goal has since reduced to a couple of times a week).

I had successfully skated to work without incident. Well, my day was over, and confidently I put on my skates, preparing for a gallant ride home. I stepped out of the office door at Main Street and skated up to the intersection at Center Street waiting for the light to change.

Skating takes on new dimension with blades

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Skating is for the winter, right? Not any more.

In-line skating, more commonly known as Rollerblading (a specific brand of in-line skates) has taken the ever-favorite winter sport and turned it into a year-round activity.

Of course this is nothing new—in-line skating has been around for years. But what you may not have realized is that there is a growing number of people hitting the pavement in the past couple of years. Area merchants say the popularity of the sport has exploded in the past two years, and not just among the young and athletic: the in-line skating craze is reaching all segments of the population.

Doug Dreher, the owner of Fleet Feet Athletic shop on Main Street, said the demand for in-line skates has increased so dramatically, it is sometimes impossible for him to keep the skates in stock.

"This year has really exploded in sales," Dreher said. "Just like how everyone owns a bike now, I think it will get to the point where everybody will own a pair of Rollerblades."

Like any sport, in-line skating requires investing some dollars. Finding a skate that best fits you and one that will stand the test of time is important, and may end up saving you some money in the long run. Tim Hansen, an employee of Town & Country Cyclery, said in-line skates can range in price from $60 for children's and beginner skates, up to $500 for professional skates.

When starting off, Hansen said it is a good idea to find a skate at a moderate price that will provide adequate support and a good lifespan while not inflicting a sizable dent in your pocket book.

"You don't want to go out and buy a million-dollar skate if you find out later that you don't even like doing it," Hansen said.

Beginners can expect to spend $130-$170 to get a quality skate that will last more than one outing, not to mention essential safety gear, like knee and elbow pads, wrist guards and a helmet.

There are about a dozen brands of in-line skates; however, some are better than others. Dreher recommends looking for Rollerblade brands and Rocces, which his store sells, and Bauer brands. Hansen said he feels Bauer, which also manufactures hockey skates, is the top-of-the-line name.

Knowing what to look for in a skate is important, both merchants agree. There are several types of skates including speed skates, which have five wheels and are more for professional racers, hockey skates, which have all-laces and no liners inside the boot, and fitness or exercise skates, which have four wheels and are generally what a beginner should start on.

While there are no set rules in deciding which skate is best for you, comfort is an important factor.

"The main thing to look for is the comfort of the liner inside the skate," Dreher said.

Hansen added that while comfort is important, paying attention to the wheels of the skate is also vital. Hansen said choosing wheels that have ball bearings in the hub are important because they help the wheel to rotate smoother and, as a result, the skater does not have to work as hard.

For those who may feel a bit leery of strapping on a pair of skates, for fear of injury, Gina Mossuto, assistant manager of Champs Sports in the Twelve Oaks Mall, offers assurances that even the most uncoordinated of people can pick up skating with ease.

"It is not as hard as it looks," Mossuto said. "The skates are designed to support the ankles and keep them from wobbling, so you're pretty secure."

But wait: once you walk out of the store with a new pair of skates eager to embark on your new hobby, you must realize the purchase is not quite complete. Safety gear is an important part of the in-line skating equation. Mossuto recommends wearing knee pads, elbow pads and wrist guards whenever skaters hit the pavement. Wrist guards protect scraping the skin on the palms but also protect against breaking a wrist.

Gridders begin fall practice

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Although you can't tell it from the weather, fall is in the air.

A sure sign of that came Monday as Northville High held its first football practice with pads. More than 60 players participated in contact drills hoping to impress coach Darrel Schumacher and his staff.

"We're looking for kids with courage," he said. "We're looking for kids to step up."

The Mustangs will be looking for a lot of young men to step up.

Northville had one of its best seasons in memory last fall with a 7-2 record and, perhaps, a heart-beat from a state title. The only two losses came to Farmington Hills Harrison, which wound up as the Class A champion.

Nearly two dozen players, such as Bryan Kelly, John Gatti, Marc Golden and Fred Swarthout, graduated from the team leaving Schumacher a difficult task to replace them. That challenge began Aug. 10 as Northville held its annual three-day conditioning camp near Brighton.

"The desire to improve is there," said Schumacher. "We have a lot of potential. Now we just have to polish it."

Last week's camp was the first step in that direction.

A total of 66 players took part in conditioning. Schumacher said each youngster will play at either junior varsity or varsity this fall if they stick it out.

"There's no reason to cut players," he commented.

Campers put in three long days. Workouts began before 7 a.m. with agility drills. After breakfast at 8, offensive and defensive schemes were taught on the field.

"We do a lot of teaching," said Schumacher, "a lot of walk-through things. We get a lot done."

After lunch, practice resumed from 1:30-4 p.m. with more drill work. A two-mile run closed the day shortly before 9 p.m.

Schumacher said the camp helps to pull the team together. "It's a nice way to start the season," he added.

Most players came into camp already in good condition.

"I feel really good about their conditioning," Schumacher said. "We did a two-mile run every night. There wasn't too many problems (with completing it)."

While conditioning was solid, strength was a bit of a problem.

Schumacher said the high school weight room has been kept open for much of the summer. Attendance wasn't exactly what he would've liked.

"We had reasonable numbers," the coach explained. "But not what we needed. I'm a little disappointed with it."

Schumacher said many of his players simply didn't make the same commitment to lifting as last year's squad.

"A lot of our seniors lived in the weight room last year," he added.

Nonetheless, full practice began Monday. The Mustangs will work-out in two-a-day fashion until the start of the season.

Rec department plans activities

By CINDY STEWART
Special Writer

Well, we made it through another 50's Festival. Lots of changes this year, but it has been labeled a success. Thanks again to all of the Novi area volunteers. We could not do it without you.

That brings us to the last few weeks of August ... wrapping up summer vacations, softball leagues, summer concerts, Camp Lakeshore and the Novi Teen Center. All the Parks & Rec staff are tired, but happy that another successful summer is almost over.

There's not much time left for picnics and swimming, so get over to Lakeshore Beach soon. The beach and concession stands will be closed Aug. 29, 30, 31 and Sept. 1, and 2, but will reopen Sept. 3, 4 and 5 for the Labor Day weekend.

Time to get out the 1994-95 school calendar—first day of school is Aug. 29, and plans are under way for another busy, fun-filled year. Novi Parks & Recreation will be right there, planning activities, leagues, classes, special events and trips for you and your family. A new Parks & Rec brochure should be in your mailbox by the first week of September. Time enough to register you or your kids for all the activities you can fit in.

There's lots of activities for young and old alike. For the Seniors ... why not try line dancing, Mondays and Tuesdays at 9:30 a.m. "Learn while you burn." There's also massage therapy, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. You must call for an appointment ($6) at 347-0414.

Remember, the Novi Senior Center always has plenty of activities like pinochle, bridge, bingo, clogging, arts and crafts, blood pressure checks, book review, daily lunches and monthly dances.

Mark your calendars for Art on the Town 1994, Sept. 17 and 18. This year's arts and crafts fair will be held at a new location, the Novi Town Center, in an outdoor tented area.

To date there are over 40 exhibitors for this juried art show. Exhibits include painting, drawing, photography, sculpture, pottery, jewelry, wood furniture and toys, needlework and apparel. Be sure and come out to the Novi Town Center for this special event.

Novi Parks and Rec also will offer fall basketball, soccer and softball leagues; karate, gymnastic and Fitness Factory classes, and Novi Youth Theatre performances. For a variety of interests, there's the Garden Club, Camera Club, Concert Band, Friendship Club, Choralaires, Trackers Running Club and the Arts Council.

Stop by the Novi Civic Center Atrium and visit the Gate VI

Gallery. You will always see a wonderful display of paintings, photographs, or sculptures from local artists.

The Atrium is also home to Performer's Showcase. Monday evenings prior to the City Council meetings, local performing artists will be singing, dancing or playing a variety of musical instruments for your listening and viewing pleasure.

Don't forget the Novi Community Blood Drive, Tuesday, Sept. 20 at the Novi Civic Center from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Call 347-0456 to schedule an appointment now, or just stop by. It only takes a short time to help save someone's life.

Start filling your calendar now with fun, family activities for the fall. There's always something for everyone through Novi Parks and Recreation. Visit or call 347-0400 now and see just what's happening.

Quiz for drug and alcohol knowledge

Parents: If you have a working knowledge of the implications of drugs and alcohol, you will be in a stronger position to discuss the topic with your children. The following quiz is a good starting point.

1. What is the most commonly used drug in the United States and Canada?
a) heroin b) cocaine c) alcohol d) marijuana

2. Name the three drugs most commonly used by adolescents.

Jacquie Downs

3. Which drug is associated with the most teen deaths?

4. Which of the following contains the most alcohol?
a) 12 oz. can of beer
b) 12 oz. wine cooler
c) 5 oz. glass of wine
d) all contain equal amounts of alcohol

5. Crack is particularly dangerous because it is:

a) cheap b) highly combustible c) highly addictive d) an aphrodisiac e) a and c

6. From which of the following can fumes be inhaled to produce a high:

a) spray paint b) model glue c) nail polish remover d) whipped cream canisters e) all of the

Check heart before starting program

Every so often you read that someone has suffered a heart attack or died during strenuous physical exertion.

Fortunately, such events rarely occur in "presumably healthy" adults. The vast majority of cardiac patients can exercise safely after a heart attack or coronary artery bypass surgery.

Yet, it's true that a small number of people may be predisposed to exercise-related cardiovascular complications. Almost without exception, these individuals have some form of cardiovascular or structural heart disease.

Can an "at risk" person accurately be identified?

Barry Franklin

Often, yes. Exercise stress testing is widely recommended and extremely useful in screening for such abnormalities, but it isn't infallible. On the average, the test is accurate in diagnosing certain heart problems about 70 percent of the time.

It is difficult to predict who may be fatally stricken during exercise, most authorities agree. Neither superior fitness, regular exercise participation, nor the absence of cardiac risk factors can guarantee protection against an exercise death.

Your body often will warn you, however, about impending cardiovascular complications. These warnings may include abnormal heart rhythms, chest pain or pressure, and dizziness.

Abnormalities in heart rhythm—called "arrhythmias"—may include an extremely fast, slow or irregular pulse. These may, or may not, be dangerous. Your physician should review them. He may prescribe medication for the arrhythmia to allow you to resume your exercise program safely.

On the other hand, you may have a completely harmless kind of heart rhythm irregularity.

Pain or pressure in the center of the chest, either during exercise or immediately afterwards, may suggest a compromised blood supply to the heart muscle.

Arm, back, throat or stomach discomfort are other warning symptoms that may exercisers fail to recognize as heart-related.

Lightheadedness or dizziness may be caused by insufficient blood flow to the brain. This may be due to serious cardiac rhythm disorders or impaired pumping of the heart muscle.

When these symptoms occur, discontinue physical activity and seek medical advice. The result will be a much safer exercise program.

use often precedes the use of other drugs.

3. Alcohol. Alcohol-related accidents are the leading cause of death among young people ages 15 to 24.

4. (d) All four contain approximately 1.5 oz. of alcohol.

5. (e) Small quantities of crack can be bought for as little as $5 to $10, and it's considered one of the most addictive drugs.

6. (e) Virtually anything that comes in aerosol form or emits fumes can be inhaled to obtain a high.

7. (b) Early use—often by age 15 or younger—of alcohol and other drugs has been linked to serious drug addictions later in life.

8. (a) The combination of cocaine and heroin is thought to be a popular way to decrease or control bad side effects, but can be deadly.

9. (f) Steroid users subject themselves to more than 70 side effects.

10. (e) Although you might think that the only way a drug user risks AIDS is through the use of contaminated needles when using cocaine or heroin, there are other risks. All drugs and alcohol impair judgment, allowing users to participate in risky behavior including unprotected sex.

Answers:

1. (c) Because alcohol is legal for adults and widely accepted in our culture, it is the most used drug in the United States and Canada

2. Alcohol, tobacco and marijuana. These are considered "gateway drugs" because they are the first drugs children are exposed to and their schools have expressed interest in joining the WLAA. The conference is not likely to add the two anytime soon, Colligan said.

"They would love to come to us," he said. "But if there's any expansion of our conference it'll be the KVC schools first."

Colligan said that despite the no vote, the WLAA will remain a strong union.

"We'll survive with 12 schools," he added.

Fundukian said the KVC won't pursue other merger options, either. League schools, he added, won't be jumping ship in the near future.

"I don't see that," Fundukian said. "Our intent was to explore options (with the WLAA)."

The AD, who has been a supporter of the merger, hopes talks will be revived down the road.

"I don't see it going away," he added. "It's a natural geographically. I think we will exhaust every possibility."

As for now, both Northville and Novi will continue to schedule games with the other's conference.

"Northville will continue to play KVC schools as much as possible in non-league games," Colligan said.

The Mustangs would have problems filling out their schedules without the KVC, he added. Playing KVC schools will help leave the door open for a merger later, too.

"We've been lucky because of the relationship with the schools west of us," Colligan said. "We fortunate to have good neighbors."

Fundukian said Novi will continue to play WLAA schools like Walled Lake and Northville. But, he added, scheduling has become more difficult over the last few years because of Mega-conferences sprouting up.

"We're looking for a 20th game for boys basketball," Fundukian said in illustration of the problem.

It'll likely be several years before those problems are erased, according to Hosman.

"I think over the next year or two we'll be trying to put the pieces in place," he said. "If it happens we want to have a smooth transition. We wouldn't want the expansion to interrupt the scheduling of any athletic events or other activities. We've got to do a lot of work and a lot of talking. If this is to be successful, that's what will pave the way."

The KVC approached the WLAA about a possible merger last fall and the board of directors of both conferences formed a committee to research the merger. The committee met regularly over the past year to discuss the various issues involved in the expansion including scheduling, travel and alignment.

Milford High School principal Bruce Gilbert, who was at the forefront of the KVC merger team, said the conference first approached the WLAA because the size of the schools in both conferences were comparable and because the geographic location was close as well.

He said that over the last eight months the committee examined the merger quite thoroughly. "We looked at everything and I thought we had addressed all the problem areas," said Gilbert. "We had investigated the possibility that this could happen and we knew that if either side wanted to back out—fine. We'll just have to go back to the drawing board and decide what we'll have to do now."

Gilbert maintained that the KVC is in no hurry to go through with a merger but he pointed out that the conference wants the flexibility and balance of play that a larger league could provide.

Recreation Briefs

FALL SOFTBALL LEAGUE: Northville Parks and Recreation will be offering a fall softball league for coed and women's teams. Games will be played on Sunday afternoons beginning Sept. 11. The season will last six weeks and each team is guaranteed a minimum of 10 games. The fee is $190 for women's teams and $230 for coed teams ($40 of this will be returned if no games are forfeited). Non-resident and umpire fees are additional. For more information call 349-0203.

TRYOUTS: The Northville girls tennis team will be holding tryouts for the upcoming season. Coach Uta Filkin will conduct the tryouts on Aug. 16 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the high school courts.

DISCOUNT AMUSEMENT PARK TICKETS: Tickets to Cedar Point, the Detroit Zoo, Greenfield Village and King's Island are available at discount prices to Northville residents. Tickets are available at the Community Center Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

HOCKEY CAMPERS: Northville residents Tom and Chris Snyder attended hockey camp at the Michigan Technological University Hockey Development Center to improve and enhance their hockey skills. At the camp, which ran from Aug. 7-12, they perfected their stick handling, passing, shooting, skating and checking skills through rigorous drills and challenging scrimmages.

CHARITY GAME: The Detroit Red Wings and Dearborn Police will play a charity softball game at 7 p.m. Aug. 23 at King Boring Field in Dearborn. Admission is $3 and children under 10 get in free. An auction and autograph session will follow the game. Tickets are available at the Dearborn Police Department, the Dearborn Recreation Department and at the gate at game time. Red Wings scheduled to play in the game include Dino Ciccarelli, Ray Sheppard, Darren McCarty, Shawn Burr, and Sergei Fedorov. All proceeds go to Children's Hospital.

HUNTER'S SAFETY CLASS: The board of directors of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association have announced a DNR-sanctioned hunter safety class for Sept. 12, 14, 16, 19, 21. The Monday and Wednesday classes are scheduled from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and the Saturday outdoor session from 8 a.m. to noon.

You must attend all sessions and pass a written exam to be certified. The course is open to anyone 12 years of age or older and is mandatory for any first time hunter born on or after Jan. 1, 1960. A hunter safety certificate is also required in many states and Canada to purchase a non-resident hunting license regardless of age.

The class will include instruction in hunter/landowner relations, hunter ethics, safe firearm handling, archery hunting, black powder hunting, survival, first aid for sportsmen, and much more. All classes will be held on the grounds of Western Wayne Conservation Association, 6700 Napier Road in Plymouth Township between North Territorial and Five Mile roads. For more information call 453-9843.

FENCING: A beginning fencing course will be held at Oakland County Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus starting Sept. 9. Novi resident Nick Valenti will provide instruction on the art of fencing, including history, terms, proper warm-up and basic foil techniques. For more information call (810) 471-7520.

Rollerblading proves to be challenge for Record reporter

After a couple of minutes, the light turned red. Carefully I stepped out onto the brick-surfaced pedestrian walk-way and slowly began to skate across. I had only embarked on a couple of steps across the street when I noticed that a woman in a car on Main Street, who had not put on her blinker to turn left, was indeed turning left.

It was at this moment that I realized how unsure on my feet I still was. After a moment of skater confusion, I couldn't decide whether this woman was going to stop for me or if I should stop or turn around or what. Instead my feet made the decision for me as they flew upward and my rear-end quickly met the pavement, inches in front of the grill of another car.

If this sounds more dramatic or serious than it was, I apologize. There really was no danger involved as far as I could tell. The really disturbing thing, however, is what happened next. The woman turning left, who I think had seen me the whole time, proceeded to make her turn, while gunning the engine a little.

I was still on the ground paralyzed by embarrassment and waiting for the lady to complete her turn. The woman stopped in the middle of the intersection and gave me the most disapproving glare she could muster as if to say, "How dare you infringe upon my road space!" And then she was gone.

Feeling like a third grader who had just been scolded in front of the class, I sheepishly returned to my feet and completed my journey across the road. Of course, I never looked back at the car load of people who witnessed my blunder, praying they didn't know who I was.

Later, when I got home, my face still a little blushed from the embarrassment of it all, I became more annoyed at this anxious woman, who I had decided by now had a vendetta out on all pedestrians.

At the same time, I understood her frustration. I admit there have been times that I have played the roll of the impatient driver, annoyed and speeding past swerving bikers or skaters. But this incident reminded me how important it is to be cautious of more than just cars on the road.

Although this incident was without tragedy or even injury, it is that same driver mentality that can contribute to unfortunate happenings. After what turned out to be thankfully only a pride-bruising experience, I have remembered the Hansen said he believes knee pads are the most important gear.

"Knees are the first thing that hit the ground when you fall," he said. But as in any other sport, in-line skating takes practice. And the key to becoming a good skater is the ability to stop effectively—which may be easier than it sounds.

"When they start out, a lot of people expect to stop on a dime," Hansen said. "But that's not how it works. It takes a lot of practice."

ARMs gaining in popularity

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Two-thirds of consumers still prefer a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage loan to finance or refinance their home, according to Fannie Mae, the nation's largest buyer of existing mortgages. But the trend is toward an increasing proportion of adjustable rate mortgages (ARMs).

When people compare the interest rates of fixed and variable rate loans, they are increasingly inclined to go with an ARM loan. In some cases, that's the only type of loan that will allow them to qualify for needed financing of a home.

Among the currently offered variable rate mortgages, the most popular are those that are variable from the first year. These carry the lowest interest rates. But loans with a fixed rate for the first three, five, seven or 10 years—then revert to a variable rate—are picking up in popularity.

Also, mortgage loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) are gaining in popularity, even in areas where the average cost of a home is high. The maximum amount of these loans has been raised to the point where they are more usable for home purchases in these areas.

And the VA loan maximum will probably be raised again soon—from $184,000 to $203,000. That will make the loans a more viable option for home buyers in high-cost areas.

Generally, mortgage interest rates now are relatively stable. After nine months of slow but consistent increases in interest rates, they should remain reasonably level at least for the rest of the summer. That's the opinion of the nation's leading experts.

The chief economist for the National Association of Realtors said that the Federal Reserve Board is not due to visit the subject of further increases in interest rates until the end of the summer. And that should encourage mortgage markets to settle down.

But the Fed probably will increase rates in the fall, according to an NAR report. This could

Open, space and light mark White Oak's style

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

A spacious, sky-lit family room is at the core of the White Oak. The rest of the rooms cluster around it. The room's vaulted ceiling slants up to the left and boasts three long skylights, creating a voluminous space filled with natural light.

At the rear, windows flank the fireplace, stacked two high on one side and three high on the other. Another large window caps a French door that provides deck access.

An open stairway cuts across the family room near the entry, defining the boundary between the two areas. Basement steps are under the stairs.

At the second-floor landing, a balcony overlooks the entryway, offering a vantage point for observation. The living room is bright, too, expanded by a wide bay window. But the ceiling here isn't vaulted as it is in the dining room and kitchen.

Messy kitchen counters are hidden from view by walls that separate the food preparation area from the family room and dining room. At the same time, there's no door to get in the way.

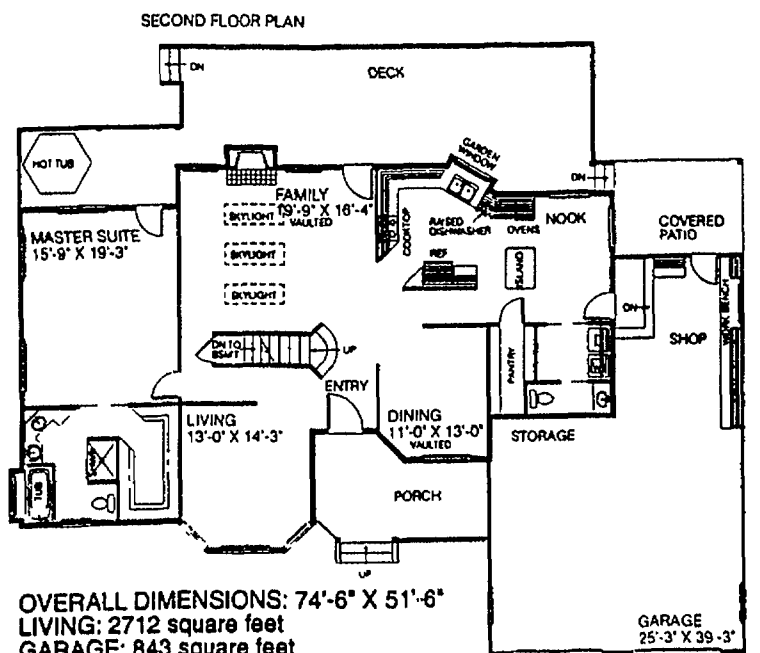

Other kitchen features include a raised dishwasher, a sunny eating nook, a garden window and a pantry that's positively huge. The nook opens onto a small covered patio. Pocket doors hide an attached utility room with a powder room at the rear.

Utilities are also convenient to a two-car garage that has extra storage space plus built-in cabinets over a long workbench.

The master suite is the only bedroom on the main floor. Luxury amenities include an enormous walk-in closet, oversize shower, spa tub and double vanities. A door at the rear provides access to a covered deck with hexagonal hot tub.

Two more bedrooms are upstairs. Both have walk-in closets. One is long enough to park a limousine in, but will more likely be used as extra storage space. Skylights brighten the bathroom and the rear-facing bedroom, which has its own private deck.

Considering your own personal watering hole? Here are some tips about pools if you are...

TAKING THE PLUNGE

By ALICIA GARRISON
Staff Writer

Is the plastic kiddie pool in your backyard starting to cramp your style? If you're about to take the plunge and put in a real pool, you probably have a few questions you want to bounce off the springing board.

According to Brighton business owner John Austin, who has been installing pools since 1974, the first question everyone wants to know is how much a pool will cost. But he says the price all depends on exactly what type of pool you want to build — how large you want it to be, what materials you want to use, and what extras (lighting, heating, landscaping, slides, diving boards, etc.) you want to throw in.

Austin, owner of John Austin Pools Inc. in Brighton, said there are four basic types of pools to choose from.

• Plaster concrete: The greatest advantage of a plaster concrete pool, Austin said, is that the buyer can select or design any shape they desire, which is a big plus for landscaping enthusiasts.

"It's especially good for someone who is trying to achieve an exotic look," he said.

Concrete pools have a wide price range. Austin said the starting price for a small, basic pool is about $16,000, while a real extravagant pool, with waterfalls and the whole works, can run as high as $80,000.

• One-piece fiber glass: Fiberglass pools are the newest product on the market. Austin said they are sold in one piece and are quickly installed.

"You just dig a hole and set it in there," he said.

Austin said fiberglass pools cost slightly less than concrete pools.

• Vinyl-lined: Austin said in-ground, vinyl-lined pools are probably the most popular as they are more reasonably priced, with an average cost of $15,000, and are relatively easy to maintain.

Because of the popularity of this type of pool, Austin said manufacturers now offer more shapes — round, oval, kidney, L-shaped, etc.

"Vinyl liners have been around for a long time and have proven to be durable," Austin said.

• Above-ground: Austin said above-ground pools are the most affordable swimming pools, with prices ranging from $2,000-$6,000. The most common shape

Bees vs. wasps

By C.Z. Guest
Copley News Service

Many people commonly refer to wasps as bees. Though they are related, it's best to know the difference.

Bees are responsible for pollinating most fruits and flowers, along with many vegetables, which may make them the most beneficial insects known to man. Honeybees construct a hive that is often used for years, collect nectar and pollen to feed the larvae, and produce and store honey in wax honeycombs.

They are only considered pests when the hive is built in a building. Control and removal require specialized experience.

Bees usually are hairy, giving them a fuzzy appearance; while markings on wasps are sharp and distinct.

While bees also have stingers, they are used only as a last resort since they can sting only once. The stinger and poison sac are left behind, and the bee dies.

Wasps, however, can sting as often as they have the opportunity.

Nationally, about 40 people a year are fatally stung and many more require emergency medical treatment. People with known history of asthma or allergies or heart conditions should be especially cautious and check with their physician before dealing with a wasp problem or immediately after being stung.

For the vast majority of us, stings only result in temporary pain, and a cold compress helps reduce the swelling and spread of the venom. Over-the-counter sting relief products are readily available.

For a bee sting, the stinger must be removed before doing anything else. It should be scraped off from the side rather than pulled out to prevent injecting more venom.

Emergency kits containing epinephrine and antihistamines should be used under the direction of a physician. Venom from bees and wasps is used in research, particularly for some forms of arthritis and for desensitizing people with severe sting allergies.

While nest building, wasps and hornets are very aggressive stinging insects and should be treated with caution. In any encounter with for an above-ground pool is round or oval.

Austin said the metal structure stands about four feet above the ground, but the inside vinyl liner can be stretched down another three feet for a total depth of seven feet.

While some people think it's more appealing to look out their back window and see sparkling blue water than a structure, Austin said above-ground pools can be very attractive on a yard that slopes.

Austin said most customers who call on him to install a pool seek a home-improvement or home-equity loan to pay for it. He said it takes approximately two weeks to install an in-ground pool.

With all of the products that are available on the market today, Austin said the time people have to spend maintaining their pool has been cut significantly. He said there are automatic cleaners (which range in price from $400-$1,000) that vacuum the bottom of the pool, removing dirt and debris, and automatic chlorine dispensers (about $112) which sanitize the water as needed.

"We don't spend more than 15 minutes a week on our pool," he said. "If the chlorine isn't introduced automatically, you have to put it in yourself every day."

Aside from cleaning equipment, Austin said a pool liner is a must when you're ready to close your pool for the fall and winter months. He said the pool must be drained down approximately one foot from the top; all filters, pumps and heaters should be well drained; and a winter cover should be installed over the top to prevent snow, rain, dirt and leaves from entering the pool. Pool covers range in price from $200-$2,000, Austin said.

While some skeptics say the summer season in Michigan is too short to bother putting in a pool, Austin said sales reflect a whole different story.

"Pools are very popular in Michigan because we have very nice summers," he said. "A few years ago, Michigan was third in the nation per capita for pools, behind Florida and California."

"It's a great alternative to loading the car and heading for a crowded beach just to be near water. It's so relaxing."

SWIMMING POOL SAFETY GUIDELINES

If you're about to install a swimming pool, there are several safety guidelines that you should always follow to help prevent accidents before they happen — especially if you have young children. BioGuard Pool & Spa Products has prepared the following pool safety reminders:

An Ounce of Prevention...

1. Never let children under the age of 14 swim unsupervised in a pool. Constant supervision of infants and children is paramount at all times.
2. Set pool rules and stick by them.
3. Don't allow running around the pool (slips can easily occur) and insist on safe use of diving boards, slides and other water toys.
4. When you have guests visiting, always find out whether they can swim or not. Supervise guests who cannot swim the way you would a child.
5. In the State of Michigan, all swimming pools are required to be fenced in.

Basic Safety Items to Keep By the Pool...

1. Every pool should have a first aid kit handy. Strongly consider having a family member trained in basic CPR if one isn't already. Keep written instructions with the first aid kit just in case.
2. Be sure your pool includes basic markings indicating water depth and clearly showing steps.
3. Keep a Shepherd's crook or long-handled hook by the pool at all times, along with a life preserver in case of an emergency.
4. Even if it's not required in your area, be sure you have a tall, sturdy fence with a self-latching lock surrounding your pool. This keeps children and unwelcome guests from using your pool unsupervised.

Chemical Safety: Take it seriously

1. Always read directions for the use, storage and handling of pool chemical products.
2. Never mix chemicals together — the reaction could cause an explosion or fire.
3. Always add chemicals to the pool separately.
4. Keep chemicals out of reach of children. Only a responsible adult should handle pool chemicals.
5. Never smoke around pool chemicals. Most have highly flammable fumes that could ignite.

ARMs gaining in popularity with the predicted stablized interest rates immediately boost interest rates in variable rate mortgages.

The National Association of Home Builders also predicts stable interest rates in the future. That news is expected to increase the number of new-home construction starts to the highest level since 1986, according to the president of the home builders' association.

Fanny Mae also predicts stable rates in the future, with an increasing proportion of preferred home purchase loans being variable rate mortgages.

OWNERSHIP ASSISTANCE

An ownership assistance program is being implemented in a number of cities throughout the country in an effort to help first-time home buyers finance their first purchase.

The programs are structured differently from one city to another. The recently launched program in Thousand Oaks, Calif., is an example.

This program provides low interest 2nd trust deed loans to qualified first-time buyers, covering much of their down payment and closing costs.

The loans require no payments for the first five years. Payments are deferred for that period, with accruing interest.

The program was launched in May. Already, 10 loans are being processed, according to Sheila Fry, director of community outreach for California Financial Express, the loan brokerage and consulting firm packaging the loans for the City of Thousand Oaks. Funds for the program are provided by the city's Redevelopment Agency.

The subsidized program provides up to 10 percent of the purchase price, in tandem with an FHA 1st trust deed mortgage loan. The 15-year 2nd trust deed loans carry an interest rate of 5 percent, and during the first five-year nonpayment period that interest continually grows. But the arrangement allows many families to qualify for a mortgage who could not otherwise do so.

To participate in the program, a family cannot earn more than 80 percent of the median family income in their area, Fry said.

"With this plan, a low-income family that only makes about $2,500 per month can purchase a nice home of their own, and pay out only $848 in cash—$500 down payment and $348 for an appraisal and credit report."

Other cities have similar programs to help first-time home buyers, but this is one of the first to specifically tailor the program to the needs of low-income families, Fry said.

Q. How can a person find a licensed home inspector?

A. Unfortunately, only Texas now requires a license for home inspectors. But that may change in the future. Laws are being proposed in many other states that would require licensing or certification of inspectors.

One way to find a bona fide licensed person to inspect a home is to retain a licensed engineer. When home inspecting became a big industry a couple of decades ago, many engineers obtained special education to qualify them to render an opinion on the condition and soundness of a home. And they are licensed within their state.

BEES VS. WASPS: Being too careful is nothing to worry about wasps, the most essential thing is to remain calm as any excited movement may be misinterpreted as aggression.

To help avoid being stung, do not use perfumes, hairspray, suntan lotions or other scented cosmetics; wear light-colored clothing (whites/tans); avoid walking barefoot outdoors and cautiously scout the area before mowing the lawn, trimming shrubs, painting the house, cleaning the gutters or any other activity that might bring you near a potential nest.

During cookouts, keep meats and fruits covered or in sealable containers. Keep garbage containers away from the eating and cooking areas and use a lid. Promptly throw away used paper plates and put empty soda cans in a sealed bag or container.

Sealing gaps around windows, pipes and siding can prevent searching queens from nesting in buildings.

CONTROL

Beyond preventative measures, controlling wasps around cookouts is very limited. Commercial traps are available, which you bait with meat (pet food, tuna, etc.), and will catch some foragers. However, treatment at the nest site is the only effective method. Traps with synthetic lures are only for Western yellow jackets, which do not occur in most Northern states.

To control an established nest in a wall or in the open, locate the nest entrance from a safe distance. The entrance of an aerial nest is usually near the bottom. After dark or before sunrise, spray into the nest entrance with a wasp and hornet aerosol. Never stand directly below a nest when treating, as dying wasps may fall from the nest.

Wasps are normally in the nest all night and can't fly without light. If you use a flashlight, a red lens or red cellophane cover will prevent wasps from detecting it (insects cannot "see" red light). Otherwise, be prepared to switch it off if wasps begin to leave the nest.

It is particularly safest during cool, wet weather such as after a rainstorm. Observe the nest for a day or two for further activity. If no live wasps are seen, seal the entrance. (Never seal entrance before all wasps are dead.) If wasps are still active, re-treat with the aerosol.

Wall nests are sometimes located some distance from where the wasps are seen entering, which can make aerosols ineffective. Dusts are recommended if the aerosol fails after two applications.

For ground nests, dusts or liquids are more effective. The entrance should be sealed with moist soil after treating.

Control individual wasps found indoors with a flyswatter or flying insect aerosol. Do not handle stunned or dead wasps with bare hands as the stinger may be exposed.

Nests collected for display should be treated at least a day, preferably more, prior to removal. Nests collected in the fall (late November and beyond) should be watched after being brought indoors as a few wasps may remain inside.

Whatever you do, use caution with these pests — and keep in mind bees are the most beneficial insects known to man!

Q. If I plant sweet and hot peppers together, is there a possibility that the sweet peppers will produce hot fruit? When you're hot, you're hot!

A. No, but it is possible for the pepper flowers to cross-pollinate. However, the result of this crossing will appear only if you save the seeds and plant them next year.

Cigar store figures add up

By Anne McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a wooden Indian that my father purchased from an antique dealer in 1946.

It is life-size and mounted on a platform with wheels so that it could be moved in and out of a tobacco store.

What can you tell me about my figure and what is its value?

A. Cigar store wooden figures of Indians were used as advertisements outside Victorian tobacco stores. Some were on platforms with wheels so that they could be moved outside in the daytime and inside at night. Although most were carved from wood, some examples can be found in metal and papier-mache.

Sizes ranged from life-size to counter-top size and were usually colorfully painted. Your wooden Indian figure was made around 1900. Prices generally begin about $900 and go up to the thousands.

Q. This mark is on the bottom of a porcelain vase that my friend inherited from her mother. The vase is gold and decorated with a small landscape on the front and a floral band around the top. It is 10 inches tall, has four gold feet and two gold handles.

Is the gliding real gold? Is this vase still in production? Where was it made and what is its value and vintage?

A. Your vase was made by Heinrich & Co., Selb, Bavaria, Germany. Many potteries in the Bavarian region produced porcelain in the late 1800s and early 1900s for the American market.

The mark you enclosed was used from 1896 to the present. The gold trim is not real gold. This vase was probably made in the early 20th century, and it is unlikely that it is still being produced. Its value would be about $75 to $85 in mint condition.

Q. My father left me several parchment documents. They are written in Latin on sheepskin and dated 1535 through 1645. I was told that they are records of the history of my father's hometown, Caderzone, which is a province of Trento, in northern Italy near the Austrian border.

What can you tell me about these papers?

A. These documents should be examined by an expert. I suggest you contact The Walters Art Gallery, in Baltimore or the Baltimore Museum of Art. The Walters Medieval and Renaissance collection is outstanding and their staff probably could be of assistance in deciding if they are valuable.

Q. I have a "Rebekah at the Well" teapot. It was made by Edwin Bennett. The height is 9 inches and it has a brown glaze.

What information can you provide on my teapot?

A. Many different potteries in America and England produced a variety of Rebekah teapots. Edwin Bennett was a leading American manufacturer of this pattern.

His firm operated from 1846 to 1936 in Baltimore. The Bennett lines ranged from kitchenware to porcelain similar to Belleek.

During the Civil War over 100 employees produced around 3,000 pieces a week. The "Rebekah at the Well" teapot is an example of their brown glaze "Rockingham" ware. The design and the brown glaze both originated in England and were introduced to America about 1850. It should not be confused with Bennington pottery. Bennington manufacturers never used this pattern. Teapots similar to yours are seen in antique shops in the $275 to $285 range.

BOOK REVIEW

The goal of author Gerald DeBolt in his book "DeBolt's Dictionary of American Pottery Marks, Whiteware & Porcelain" (Collector Books) is to help identify manufacturers, locations and age from marks.

DeBolt clearly defines the term whiteware. He explains how decorating can be a useful dating tool. Hundreds of marks are illustrated, along with dates and descriptions. A reprint of the American marks in W. Percival Jervis' 1897 "A Book of Pottery Marks" is included, along with Flow Blue and Tea Leaf marks.

This book enables both the seasoned and the novice collector to successfully identify American marks.

Letters with picture(s) are welcome and may be answered in the column. We cannot reply personally or return pictures. Address your letters to Anne McCollam, P.O. Box 490, Notre Dame, IN 46556.

This wooden figure of an Indian was made around 1900.

QUICK SALE QUERY

QUESTION: I listed my home with a Realtor on a Friday and he had it sold on Saturday. Do you think he really earned his fee?

ANSWER: He certainly has! In fact, more so than the broker who would take several months to close the same sale. If it were the other way around, you would be asking the same question. A quick sale is not a matter of luck or lack of effort. Your Realtor has built up a bank of excellent prospects through hundreds of hours of phone calls, showing homes, interviews and advertising. He has tapped this bank. He has done his homework and made a big investment that has paid off FOR YOU!

Carriages lend charm to Northville

By LEE SNIDER
Editor

"Sebastian has stolen my heart," Northville resident Jean Bryant exclaims. "His dark looks, strong shoulders, intelligent eyes and the wonderful convertible he is seen with all around town are enough to make any female swoon."

Bryant is not the only one who feels that way. A lot of people have been charmed by Sebastian, the handsome 3-year-old English shire who has become a familiar site in Northville, taking groups of people on elegant historic tours of the city.

"Sebastian is really unusual," said Elizabeth Kratt, the owner of Classic Carriage tour service. "He handles situations with cars passing within a few inches of him without any trouble. We really got lucky with him."

Kratt and her husband Randy have been operating their business for a little over two months, educating hundreds of people on Northville's rich and storied past. Their narrated outings take customers on relaxed rides through the city's historical district and Orchard Heights and Cabbagetown neighborhoods, as well as to the Mill Race Historic Village area.

Many of the homes on the route have been immaculately restored to postcard perfection.

To add authenticity, the Kratts drive a 19th century-era carriage and dress in period clothes.

"We pay a lot of attention to details," Elizabeth said. "That's been our trademark."

The idea to start the business came to Elizabeth in a flash last winter when she cleaning stalls. While thinking about how tired she was of the tedious work, she realized that Sebastian would be a perfect carriage horse and that Northville would be an ideal place to start a tour service.

She then purchased a carriage from an Indiana manufacturer, secured a peddler's license from the city, brushed up on her local history and, in early June, launched her venture.

"We're doing fairly well," she remarked. "We haven't done any advertising because the money's not there yet; so all of our business has come from word-of-mouth and from people who see us and make enquiries."

If a carriage service is a natural for a place like Northville, Elizabeth herself is a natural with horses. She acquired her first horse when she won a contest at age five, and has owned and cared for a variety of animals ever since. She and Randy currently own four horses in addition to Sebastian—a miniature, two thoroughbreds and a pony, Starfire, the horse Elizabeth won when she was a child. Starfire is now 31.

"I can't remember life without them," she said of the members of her extended family. It was probably inevitable that Elizabeth would find some way to incorporate her love of horses into her occupation. That's where she finds herself now, conducting historic tours of Northville and offering packages for private parties, anniversaries, birthdays, engagements and romantic evenings.

Many of the packages come complete with amenities to fit the occasion, such as candy, flowers, balloons and non-alcoholic champagne. A picture service is another accessory.

"This fall we plan to have a cider and donut ride and become a part of the Christmas Walk," she adds. Elizabeth expects to purchase another shire soon, perhaps as early as this month. It'll be a gray horse whose coat will eventually turn white. A white carriage to match the animal will be bought later, when profits from the business permit the acquisition.

own an automobile but uses power tools in his small factory.

"I wouldn't buy an Amish carriage. They use cotton tread that can rot," she commented. The carriage is black with gold detailing and maroon bench seats that accommodate six. There are patent leather fenders and brass lanterns that go with the con-

Business Briefs

AARON and SARAH PIETILA of South Lyon, agents for the FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP of Companies have been honored for their outstanding sales achievements during 1993. They have been invited to attend the 1994 annual meeting of Farmers' top sales producers, according to Dale V. Hawk, vice president of marketing for Farmers Group Inc., an insurance management and holding company.

Member companies of the Farmers Group are the nation's third-largest automobile and homeowners insurers and are among America's leading sellers of life and business insurance.

The four-day Topper Club convention at Hot Springs, Va., will give top Farmers agents and district managers an opportunity to exchange customer service ideas and discuss local and national trends affecting the insurance business.

Keynote speaker for the scheduled program of business sessions will be Leo Denlea, chief executive officer of the company.

Agents Aaron and Sarah Pietila join Topper Club's elite roster of members who have attained the upper ranks in providing insurance services to the public.

The Pietilas represent Farmers Insurance locally through The Aaron and Sarah Agency located at 335 Sheldon, Northville, Mich. Call 349-8990.

A local window retailer, LEE WHOLESALE of New Hudson, has joined the ANDERSEN WINDOW CENTER Program for 1994.

Andersen Window Centers are exclusive resource centers that help consumers bring Andersen Light — a unique combination of natural light and superior window and patio door technology — to life. Trained and knowledgeable specialists use product information, displays and literature to provide expert advice and ideas for remodeling, new construction or replacement projects that include windows and patio doors.

Andersen Window Centers also help consumers bring Andersen light home with a special purchase. For only $1.95 each, consumers may purchase the Brighter Home Ideas book and Brighter Home Ideas video. The 120-page, full-color book highlights hundreds of Andersen Feature Window combinations designed to fill a home with light and beauty and includes practical advice on how to work with architects, builders and obtain project financing. The Brighter Home Ideas video complements the book by bringing Andersen Feature Windows to life, showing light-inspired plans for homeowners to incorporate into their own homes.

Andersen Window Center stores offer a complete line of Andersen windows, patio doors and roof windows. The stores also stock a complete Andersen literature library and Andersen displays to help consumers experience Andersen products first-hand. In addition, many retailers host informal seminars for homeowners interested in learning more about remodeling, window replacement, planning and designing additions and other related topics.

Andersen Corp. is headquartered in Bayport, Minn., and markets products throughout the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom and Japan.

For more information about Andersen products, contact Lee Wholesale, 55965 Grand River Ave., New Hudson.

DOLORES PINK of Childs Lake Estates, recently completed the second course of the Accredited Community Manager (ACM) Program in Lansing.

The Accredited Community Manager Program is offered by the Manufactured Housing Educational Institute (MHEI), the educational affiliate of the MANUFACTURED HOUSING INSTITUTE. The Manufactured Housing Institute is the national association representing all segments of the manufactured housing industry in Washington, D.C. The Accredited Community Manager Program culminates with the professional designation ACM being awarded to community managers who complete the requirements set by MHEI.

The course covered resident relations, marketing, accounting and budgeting.

MICHAEL MARQUARDT of Ann Arbor, agent for the FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP of Companies has been honored for his outstanding sales achievements during 1993. He has been invited to attend the 1994 annual meeting of Farmers' top sales producers, according to Dale V. Hawk, vice president-marketing of Farmers Group Inc., an insurance management and holding company.

The four-day Topper Club convention at The Homestead, W.Va., will give top Farmers' agents and district managers an opportunity to exchange customer service ideas and discuss local and national trends affecting the insurance business.

Marquardt joins the Topper Club's elite roster of members who have attained the upper ranks in providing insurance services to the public.

He is a 1981 graduate of South Lyon High School and the son of Eugene and Rita Marquardt of Salem Township.

Marquardt represents Farmers

Insurance through the Michael Marquardt Agency located at 6111 Jackson Road, Ann Arbor.

MCNAMEE, PORTER & SEELEY, INC., consulting engineers and architects, has announced the appointment of DENNIS BENOIT, P.E., to the position of vice president. With offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Escanaba, Grand Rapids and Lansing, the company has a staff of over 200 engineers, architects, scientists and professional associates that specialize in the planning and design of water, wastewater, stormwater, transportation and environmental projects for municipal and private clients.

Most recently serving as a senior project manager, Benoit has been instrumental to the successful completion of numerous projects, including the Brighton Wastewater and Water Treatment Plants, Lansing Wastewater Equalization Basin, Walled Lake-Novl Wastewater Treatment Plant, and a variety of municipal projects for the cities of South Lyon, Walled Lake and Wixom.

In addition to his responsibilities as vice president, Benoit will also assume the position of Grand Rapids Office Manager where his duties will include business development, client relations and project management. Benoit received both bachelor and master of science degrees in civil engineering from the University of Illinois.

In making the announcement, president and CEO Philip Youngs, P.E., made the following statement, "We are very thankful to have Dennis, with his demonstrated background and dedication to ethical standards, to lead us into the future. We look forward to his continued success in both his professional and personal endeavors."

State pools hike the cost of insurance

Cost of State insurance programs exceeds $132 million

In 1993, private property/casualty insurance companies operating in Michigan incurred costs of more than $132 million to fund special insurance programs mandated by state law. These costs are then passed on to consumers in the form of higher policy premiums.

"The subsidized insurance funds, so-called 'high risk' pools, provide below-cost coverage for some of the state's consumers and businesses," according to Terry Buckles, president of Michigan Association of Insurance Companies (MAIC).

An example of these little-known programs is Michigan Basic Property Insurance Association (MBPIA), an organization created by state law to provide home and business insurance for people who might have difficulty obtaining coverage from regular companies. MBPIA charges below-cost rates for insurance and is allowed by law to recoup its financial losses from insurance companies. Last year, MBPIA collected $39 million from private carriers to cover its losses. This amount was then passed on to policyholders of the insurance companies.

Similarly, the Michigan Workers' Compensation Placement Facility provides below-cost workers' compensation insurance coverage for some Michigan businesses. This organization had losses in excess of $50 million last year.

Other special insurance programs required by state law and funded by private insurance companies and their policyholders include:

Michigan Assigned Claims Facility - provides insurance benefits for certain uninsured persons injured in auto accidents. 1993 cost - $27 million.

Michigan Automobile Insurance Placement Facility - offers below-cost auto insurance to motorists who might have difficulty obtaining coverage from regular companies. In 1993, this company refunded almost $11 million to insurers.

Workers' Compensation Second Injury Fund - pays workers' compensation benefits for certain persons. 1993 costs - $15 million.

Silicosis, Dust Disease and Logging Industry Compensation Fund - subsidizes workers' compensation insurance costs paid by employers in certain high-risk industries. 1993 cost - $2 million.

In 1993, property/casualty insurance companies also provided funding - $5 million - for the Auto Theft Prevention Authority (ATPA), a program which offers financial grants for certain anti-auto theft programs.

MAIC is a non-profit, public information organization which represents 54 property/casualty insurance companies operating in Michigan. The Association sponsors a number of consumer education programs.

Carriages lend charm to downtown Northville

While riding, Elizabeth wears a lace blouse with a cameo brooch and high-waisted black skirt. Randy is appareled in a cutaway tuxedo, ascot and pin stripe pants. Sebastian is a registered, purebred stallion with a deep brown coat and white fur-covered feet that many people associate with Clydesdales. Last year, he was grand champion of the Great Lakes International Draft Horse Show at the Michigan State Fair.

Before taking him out, Elizabeth gives Sebastian an extensive going over, brushing him, polishing his hooves and washing his feet with a special shampoo.

"We put a lot of pride into it," she said. "It shows, too."

Classic Carriage conducts tours in Northville Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Walk-ups are accepted but reservations are recommended. Call (810) 380-3961 for information.

Arrowhead Alpines

With Michigan's Largest selection of...

Perennials, Woodland Wildflowers, Rare Alpines, Dwarf Conifers, and unusual flowering shrubs

We have just opened our '94 fields for digging - very few weeds and a great selection. Choose your perennials from our 30 miles of field row (you flag them and we dig them while you wait) or shop our large selection of potted stock. It's worth the drive to take advantage of our large plants and direct from the grower prices. (As low as $1.75 per clump @ Hundred rate). Don't forget our woodland wildflowers are mostly dormant and it's a great time to plant them. It's also a great time to add some late summer and fall color to your garden.

In Pursuit of Northville

A supplement to the Northville Record

Edwards Caterer

There's a new chef in town. Toby Puffer has joined Edwards Caterer.

Chef Puffer started in the restaurant business at the age of 15 when he went to work at a restaurant owned by a friend's father. He enjoyed it so much he eventually received a degree in Culinary Arts from Schoolcraft College. Working at the Rattlesnake Club, London Chop House, Hyatt Regency's La Rotisserie and One 23 Restaurant give him impressive credentials.

Just prior to joining Edwards, he was Banquet Chef at the Dearborn Inn.

"I love it," said Puffer after his first month at Edwards.

Puffer oversees the entire kitchen staff for both the cafe and the catering business.

In the cafe, first thing in the morning you'll find customers enjoying a scone or muffin with coffee or tea. At lunch, the menu includes a variety of chicken salads and soups. "Everything is made on the premises," said general manager John Klein, "and we have a special soup and sandwich daily."

Customers usually start ordering the entree items mid-afternoon, said Klein. "Customers stop in after work and take them home or eat in the cafe. The crusty mustard chicken entree is very popular." Twice-baked potatoes, salads and fish dishes are a just few of the other selections.

"We also try to have low fat items for dinner as well as at least one low fat muffin daily," said

Klein.

The business is equally divided between the catering side and the cafe side. "We do a lot of corporate lunches and grand openings," Klein said. "We also make our own wedding cakes."

The full catering menu has a variety of selections for picnics and buffets, breakfast and brunch, lunch, weddings and celebrations.

The owners' (Greg and Lois Presley) brother Edward opened Edwards Caterer in 1986 and continually strive to offer quality food and service specializing in off-premises catering and carry out cuisine.

Located at 116 E. Dunlap, summer hours are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Saturday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fall hours, which begin Labor Day, are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Liz Clancy is expanding Elizabeth's Bridal Salon in several ways.

Elizabeth's Bridal Salon

Elizabeth's Bridal Salon is expanding. The first expansion is to the line of wedding dresses to include "informals" or dresses for second- and third-time-around brides, and for mothers of the bride. One style is a champagne, satin, two-piece, floor-length gown with heavy beading and Alencon lace. The other, the Country Elegance Collection, features an old-fashioned Victorian look with lots of lace.

The second expansion will be to the building. Liz Clancy is anxious to break ground on an 8-by-10 foot office. "The office will have all windows with lattice work on the ceiling for a gazebo look," she said. "It will be decorated with cotton chintz in a country French motif. It's going to be very European."

"My goal has never been to be the biggest," she said, "but to be the best." Attention to detail is of utmost importance to Clancy from the garden outside to the clothes and accessories inside. "Everything is carefully hand-picked." The right headpiece with the right dress to suit each bride is very important. "If one thing is wrong, it will bother me until I can figure out what it is."

Co-owners Clancy and her late husband, Allen Brown, carefully chose the home at 402 S. Main Street as the site of their full-service bridal salon in 1990. Everything for the bride from head to toe, for her attendants, the mother of the bride, and tuxedos for the groom are meticulously cared for.

Elizabeth's Bridal Salon is open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Tuesday 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-2783.

Salutations

A salutation by definition is an expression of greeting, goodwill and courtesy, by word or gesture. Salutations at 147 E. Main Street is living up to that definition. Unique cards, gifts, custom invitations and balloons are carefully chosen to make every expression as easy and personal as possible.

Owner Lorie Wyant has been totally revamping the business since opening one year ago. "I'm gearing the store for what people want, which is very different, unique cards," she said.

To go along with the cards, coordinating gift bags, wrap, small gift items like stationery and address books are also in stock. "I will have small clocks and pen sets in time for Christmas," she added.

The Beverly Clark wedding accessory line and an exceptionally large Mary Engelbreit collection have gone over very big, according to Wyant. "I have UPS shipping on Engelbreit or anything in the store," she said. Custom imprinted corporate and personal cards are also available. All orders for custom imprinted Christmas cards placed before the end of September will be 15 percent off and free envelope imprinting for companies.

"Balloons make very affordable centerpieces," said Wyant, "I can do anything from a single balloon to an entire wedding, including delivery and set-up."

Salutations is open Monday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday to 5:30 p.m. and Friday to 7:30 p.m. Phone: (810) 349-3537.

Lorie Wyant specializes in salutations at Salutations.

First Impressions

It's the landscape design office of First Impressions Landscape Design Services, Inc., where owner Sandee Stamm is diligently preparing yet another project.

First Impressions is a female owned business and that is just the beginning. "Because I'm a woman who loves all aspects of design I wanted to be unique." Not that men are not allowed in the office, Sandee's husband Dave has joined forces with her as well.

Sandee and Kate Drueke, a landscape architect and designer, can be seen working on many hot projects at the drafting table located in the front window overlooking Northville's Main Street.

Sandee believes that home beautification does not end with the garden. Her motto stands for all to see in gold, on the glass of her storefront and First Impressions logo, "creating a first and lasting impression."

"Winner of several landscape awards and the "1993 Golden Award" for the Gatsby Garden donated to Meadow Brook Hall. "Team play is very important," Sandee says. Sandee's husband, Dave, takes the design to the site and makes sure that attention to detail is carried out during installation. "This enables our clients the best, but this can only happen with good direction and a great crew."

Winter is a great time for planning your design before the seasonal rush.

First Impressions awaits with many surprises, inside and out. Call (810) 348-8330 for an appointment.

'By Special Request'

"By Special Request" is a division of First Impressions, owner Sandee Stamm wants to offer more than landscaping to her clients. Sandee loves all forms of design and has a talented team who works closely at her side.

"We can do anything to make a home beautiful, but interior design is our main focus," says Sandee. She boasts clients throughout the western suburbs, Northville to Bloomfield Hills.

"We are ready to produce color, pencil or ink landscape and architectural renderings. We offer custom work as large as interior murals or as small as party invitations. We also offer silk and dried flower arrangements and wreaths that can be seen and purchased at the office or custom made to order."

"By Special Request" can do event planning and decorating from showers to weddings.

First Impressions — "By Special Request" (810) 348-8330. Call for special occasions or Interior Design Services.

Sandee Stamm and landscape architect Kate Drueke collaborate on award-winning designs at First Impressions.

Traditions

Traditions was the first retail tenant in the Veranda Shops when it opened in 1989. The location was chosen because it fit the concept owners Karen Bartley-Slack and Susan Boyd-MacGonigal wanted for their store. "It had 100-year-old floors and the original ceiling," Karen said.

Traditions is expanding its inventory of home gifts and decorative accessories to fill customer's needs. "We can also special order anything the store carries," said Karen.

"We have good support from the community," said Karen. "Northville is a customer-friendly town. We also have customers from Birmingham, Bloomfield and Farmington. We appreciate each and every customer."

"The merchandise evolves with the seasons and trends," said Susan. Chances are Traditions may get something before the big stores at the mall. "We can get merchandise in a lot faster than bigger stores because we don't have any red tape," said Karen.

"People are very sophisticated buyers," said Karen. "We need to be competitive and fair in our pricing. We don't mark up to mark down; we start out with a fair price."

"If we get a good deal on something we pass it on," added Susan.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and on Friday to 8. On Sundays, Traditions is open noon to 4 p.m. Phone: (810) 349-0199.

Hair We Are

Judy Moore chose the Veranda Shops as the location for Hair We Are because she "wanted a quality progressive location that was convenient for our clientele."

The full-service salon is also wheelchair accessible, making it convenient for the handicapped. "I wanted to offer service designed for the handicapped because no one does," she said.

Each of the four work stations at Hair We Are has a sink which minimizes the need to get in and out of the chair, a desirable aspect for many people and the handicapped. Ramps are located both inside and outside the building.

A hairstylist for 36 years, Judy has an associate degree in applied science with emphasis in cosmetology management and is currently working on another degree in cosmetology styling. Her mission statement is "To create a trusting client stylist relationship through service and education to achieve the ultimate experience in salon care."

Judy offers various specials throughout the year and for all holidays. She also offers senior discounts. Walk-ins are welcome and appointments are recommended.

Hair We Are is open Tuesday through Saturday and most evenings. Phone: (810) 347-1750.

Northville Diamond Jewelers

Northville Diamond Jewelers are "designers and manufacturers of affordable fine jewelry creations," said owners Debbie McDonald and Alan LaVine.

"We have the ability to custom design anything the customer so wishes. Through a process of drawing, making a wax, casting the gold and setting the stones we are able to manufacture the product right here at Northville Diamond Jewelers," McDonald said.

Northville Diamond Jewelers carries engagement rings, loose diamonds and colored stones, diamond necklaces and bracelets and a full line of gold chains, pendants, charms and bracelets. "We sell only 14K plumb (solid) gold," said McDonald. "Our gold has a lifetime guarantee."

McDonald and LaVine also carry numerous brands of watches — Movado, Zodiac, Seiko and Pulsar. "We try to carry what the customer wants," said McDonald.

Princess-cut diamonds are popular right now, according to McDonald. A princess-cut is a square diamond which has the brilliance of a round-cut.

Service includes maintaining the customer wish list. "After you get to know someone, you get to know what they like," McDonald said.

"We treat people as we would expect to be treated," she added. "Not to give people just what they expect, we try to give more."

Corporate work includes rings and pins, which are all done in-house. Christmas lay-aways are now being accepted.

McDonald is very involved in the community. She is charter president of the Northville Kiwanis Early Birds, serves on the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, has been chairman of the Fourth of July parade for three years and is a Northville Mothers Club member.

Northville Diamond Jewelers' first store opened on Cady Street in 1986 with 600 square feet. They moved to their current location at 201 E. Main at Hutton St. in 1988 and have just completed a renovation which expands the store to 2,500 square feet.

Northville Diamond Jewelers is located at 201 E. Main on Hutton. Hours are Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday to 8 p.m. Saturday to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 12-4 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-6417.

Jean Rooney finds unique decorating items at Friends, Inc.

Friends, Inc.

Another buying trip is in the works for Friends, Inc.

Owner Jean Rooney says it's time to redecorate the showroom and collect some new ideas for her customers.

Friends will still carry the eclectic furnishings, fabrics and art customers have come to expect, but Rooney said "a new look, punchy, different, unique," is in store for Friends, Inc. Rooney will also be on the lookout for "new ideas for customers. "My customers want uniqueness," she explained.

So it's off to Chicago, New York, Dallas and High Point once again in search of inspiration and investments. Rooney came across a quote recently that sums up her philosophy — "The hardest things to find are usually the best investments."

This will be the fourth time Friends, Inc., has been redecorated since the store opened two years ago. Rooney expects this transformation to be complete by October.

Friends has a staff of five professionals to help with decorating, recycling client's furniture, fabric, wallpaper and gift items. An in-home decorating service is always available too.

Friends, Inc. is located at 126 MainCentre. Hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Phone: (810) 380-6930.

Ultimate Toys & Gifts

When you walk into Ultimate Toys & Gifts, it's okay to be a kid again.

Try the shuffle board game. After all, owners Cindy and Lou LaChance did. As a matter of fact, they try all the toys and games. "If someone comes in and asks what a certain toy does and I don't have one open, I'll open it," said Lou of the selection of toys for everyone from infants to octogenarians.

Browse at the selection of unique toys and gifts. There are 7-by-5 inch mini-puzzles and three-foot tall 3D puzzles. Check out the Big Loader by Tomy putting in a full day's work in the store window. It keeps dumping and loading, dumping and loading. "On popular items like the Bigloader, customers are encouraged to sign up in advance," said Lou.

There are kits for everything from archeology to wood crafting. Educational place mats are in stock for math, geography and several other subjects.

Scale models of animals, mammals, reptiles and dinosaurs from The Dino Safari, Monterey Bay Aquarium and the Vanishing Land can be seen in their displays.

Lou looks for the unique when deciding what toys to stock. A new gift item is the handcrafted Amish collapsible baskets individually signed by the craftsman.

Ultimate Gift & Toys is located at 107 N. Center Street, which was built in 1905. Open since May 9 of this year, they have already added a Christmas lay-away option and catalog shopping. Hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Friday to 7 p.m. Phone: (810) 305-9990.

Mark's Small Engine

Things are different — a lot different — at Mark's Small Engine, the friendly little family owned and operated business at 16959 Northville Road, just west of Six Mile.

For starters, it's not "little" anymore.

Owners Mark King, Kay Dziuban and Jim Pietrowski completed an aggressive expansion program over the winter which has increased the size of the business from 3,600 to 6,000 square feet and added a beautiful new rustic exterior.

As impressive as the addition is, the real change at Mark's Small Engine involves the nature of the business itself.

"We've changed a lot over the past 20 years," said Mark who opened Mark's Small Engine in the back of Ely's Fuel on Center Street shortly after graduating from college in 1973. "But what we've been for the last 20 years is quite different from what we will be over the next 20 years. And it's important that people understand we're a lot more than what we used to be."

Back in the early days of Mark's Small Engine, it was primarily a lawn mower repair business. Mark's mother, Ann, tended the shop while he taught school during the day. Mark then came in and took care of the repairs after school and on weekends, often with the help of his father, Leonard.

"People still think of us as a lawn mower and lawn mower repair business because that's pretty much the way we started," said Mark. "We might sell a few lawn mowers and a rider every once in awhile, but primarily we concentrated on repairs."

"Today, we're a lot more than that," he continued. "Today we sell and service over 100 different types of items: pressure washers, hedge trimmers, generators, commercial equipment — just about anything you could want that is a piece of gasoline-powered equipment."

One thing that won't change about Mark's Small Engine is the personalized service. "I think one of the reasons for our success is that we know our customers and our customers know us and have learned to trust us," said Mark. "We don't ever want to lose that kind of relationship. We're the same little business we always were, but we've just gotten a little bit bigger over the years."

Mark's Small Engine is located at 16959 Northville Road, just west of Six Mile. Hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. During the winter (October 1 through April 1), Saturday hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Call (810) 349-3860 for more information.

Mark King is proud of the new look at Mark's Small Engine as he heads into his second 20 years of business in Northville.

Long Plumbing Co. and Fancy Bath Boutique

The Long history begins in 1949 when Glenn and Lois Long started Long Plumbing and Heating Co.

That company evolved into Long Mechanical, which is now the parent company of the Long Plumbing Co. and Long's Fancy Bath Boutique subsidiaries. The Longs constructed the building at 190 E. Main Street to house both subsidiaries in 1974.

Long's Fancy Bath Boutique is one of Michigan's largest bath shops, said Virginia Long. You don't have to go to the mall for bathroom accessories, she said; look in downtown Northville for shower and wedding gifts. Parents preparing to send children back to college can find what they need here, too.

"We are priced competitively, offer good service and if available can special order anything the store carries in a different size or color," Long said.

On the other side of the building, Long Plumbing Co. specializes in bathroom and kitchen remodeling for residential and commercial customers, as well as plumbing repair. Many cabinets, water closets and sinks are on display, as well as plumbing supplies.

Long Plumbing and Long's Fancy Bath Boutique is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Friday to 8 p.m. and Saturday to 5 p.m. Phone: (810) 349-0373.

Crawford's Bakery

The best sweet rolls in Michigan are made right here in Northville at Crawford's Bakery, according to Monthly Detroit Magazine. "I've been making our sweet rolls for 17 or 18 years now," said owner Sue Poster, who developed the recipe herself. Sixteen different kinds of sweet rolls are available, along with cookies, cakes, pies and cupcakes. "The single biggest seller is our dinner rolls," Poster said. "We have to stop taking orders two weeks before a holiday."

Customers now have two ways to enjoy Crawford's dinner rolls. The fresh-from-the-store dinner rolls that have been a favorite for years are now available fresh frozen for customers to raise and bake at home. Called "Baked by You," the special order line includes fruit pies and cookies.

Also new are bagels. "We have six varieties now, but in a month, we should have a selection of 10 to 12 including onion and garden vegetable," said Poster.

Crawford's also carries 16 different flavors of ice cream and yogurt, including one sugar-free vanilla ice cream. The no-fat shakes are made with skim milk and frozen yogurt and come in a variety of flavors.

"We still do bread," said Poster. "We make more bread now than we used to."

Everything is made fresh at Crawford's by the 10 full and part time employees. Established in 1989, Crawford's is located at 123 E. Main Street. Hours are Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. During the summer Crawford's is open to 9 p.m. on Fridays. Phone: (810) 349-3126.

Heavenly Bakery & Gourmet Junction

Call it Heavenly Bakery and you've missed half the point.

Sure, the breads, rolls, muffins, cookies, tortes, etc. at Heavenly Bakery are indeed heavenly. But the correct name of Rich Willerer's shop is Heavenly Bakery & Gourmet Junction.

"We do lunches and dinners in addition to the bakery," said Willerer, a certified chef who has won numerous awards in international competitions. "We have soups, salads and sandwiches and 10 different entrees daily — Amish chicken, homemade pastas, southwestern fare, turkey and broccoli alfredo."

All the food is prepared "from scratch" using only the finest ingredients. There are no additives or preservatives.

Willerer also notes that he offers carry-out for lunch and dinner and does corporate catering for offices and businesses. "We'll cater lunch or dinner for any number," he said. "We've done 12-courses dinners and served lunch for groups as large as 1,000 people," he said.

Heavenly Bakery & Gourmet Junction is located at 43053 West Seven Mile in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center. Hours are Monday through Friday 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Beginning Sept. 15, hours will be Monday through Friday 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-7830.

Leisure Time Pet Center

Bill Wisniewski was destined to own a pet store ever since he was a youngster and his dad got him a fish tank.

"I started breeding fish at home and selling them to pet stores," recalled Wisniewski, 28, owner of Leisure Time Pet Center in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center. "Demand was definitely higher than supply," he continued. "I had 80 tanks in my basement and I still couldn't keep up with the demand for my fish."

Leisure Time Pet Center is a full-line pet center which sells fish, birds and reptiles — all small animals except cats and dogs. It also carries complete supplies and food for all small animals, including cats and dogs.

Wisniewski also carries fiberglass ponds for exterior water gardens. "There's a lot of interest in water gardens," he said. "People are surprised to learn we have pools small enough for water gardens on patios."

Although Leisure Time has a wide variety of birds and reptiles, its specialty is fish — as many as 200 different types of tropical fish.

"We're very customer oriented," said Wisniewski. "The entire staff is very knowledgeable about pets, and we go out of our way to teach people how to care for their pets properly."

Leisure Time Pet Center is located at 42951 W. Seven Mile in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center. Phone: (810) 380-5051.

Cassel's Family Restaurant

When Melissa Sloan had an opportunity to buy Cindy's Coney Island in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center, she knew it was a "risk-free" investment.

After all, she had worked there nine years, starting as a dishwasher when she was 14 and waiting tables for the next nine years. "I knew the business backwards and forwards," she said. "I felt like I had helped establish it."

It's not Cindy's Coney Island anymore. It's now Cassel's Family Restaurant, named in honor of Melissa's parents, Carl and Ovalene Cassel who are co-owners. The basic principle remains the same — good, home-cooked meals at low prices.

"We specialize in home-cooked meals for people who are too busy to cook but still want home-cooked food," explained Melissa.

Melissa is making numerous changes at the restaurant. "We're adding 'healthy' choices to the menu, and we've also expanded the kids' selections," she explained.

"We're reaching out to the 20, 30 and 40 year olds with families," she continued. "Most of our dinners are under $5 so people get a healthy, meal at very low prices."

Also new at the restaurant is a complete carry out service. "We've expanded people's carry out options to include home-cooked meals, including meatloaf, pork chops and broasted chicken," said Melissa.

The restaurant found at 43261 W. Seven Mile, is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner Monday through Saturday from 6 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Sunday from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information or carry out call (810) 348-1740.

Tuffy Auto Service Center

Naran Patel used some very elemental logic before deciding to purchase the Tuffy Auto Service Center at 43287 Seven Mile in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center.

"I noticed that whenever I went to an auto repair shop they were always busy," he said. "There always seemed to be a lot of people waiting to get their cars fixed, so I thought auto repair must be a good business to get into."

It was that observation that led him to purchase the Tuffy Auto Service Center in Northville back in 1986. And things have been going well ever since.

Prior to his venture into automotive repairs Patel had spent 13 years in the dairy industry in Detroit, working in a variety of capacities including supervision, plant management and quality control.

Patel's shop is headed by manager Gus Voss and his team of four mechanics.

The Tuffy's service center specializes in mufflers, brakes and shocks, but Naran emphasizes that it is a complete auto repair facility. "Front end work is a specialty, and we also do braking systems, exhaust systems, shocks and struts, alignments, suspension — anything and everything. Even if your window isn't working properly, we can take care of it."

Tuffy's is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The phone number is (810) 348-3366.

Naran Patel and Manager Gus Voss take care of business at Tuffy's.

Consignment Interiors and Clothiers

Where in Northville can you shop for like-new items without traveling the garage sale circuit?

Consignment Interiors in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center has everything from small appliances like toasters and microwaves to brass, linens, lamps, pictures and glassware. "From contemporary to country, as long as it's unique, current, clean, in working order and has all parts, we take it all year round," said co-owner Sue Ayers. "We also have access to estate sales and auctions in West Bloomfield and Birmingham."

Consignment Interiors opened March 12 of this year in a 1,600 square foot shop next door to Consignment Clothiers, which co-owners Sherry Gorman and Ayers opened in 1989.

Consignment period for both Clothiers and Interiors is two months. They have layaway, make house calls and maintain wish lists. Unsold items can be reclaimed or donated to a variety of charitable causes.

Consignment Clothiers located at 42949 W. Seven Mile, carries designer women's clothes in all sizes and children's sizes up to 14. They are now accepting fall and winter clothes through February.

Consignment Interiors and Consignment Clothiers' hours are Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Phone: (810) 347-4731 and (810) 347-4570.

New Wing Hing Restaurant

The New Wing Hing Restaurant has passed the test of time.

Started by Eddie and Winnie Tse back in 1978 under the name of Eddie's Tin Fu, the New Wing Hing Restaurant has been providing Northville residents with fine Cantonese, Mandarin and Szechuen food for more than 16 years. The restaurant is located at 43171 W. Seven Mile in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center.

Eddie and Winnie are still very much around, but their son Patrick is playing an increasingly larger role in the operations of the restaurant. "I really did grow up here," he said. "I've been a dishwasher, a cook, a waiter and now the manager."

Patrick is proud of the restaurant's success and determined to carry on the tradition. "We pride ourselves on providing value in a family dining atmosphere," he said. "We always maintain the highest standards of quality and service, and our food is very reasonably priced so that customers get the best possible value for their dollar."

In addition to all the traditional items, the menu has been expanded to include more exotic entrees, particularly "spicier" items which seem particularly popular these days.

The New Wing Hing is open Monday through Thursday 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday 3-10 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-8411.

Gene Leabu, Janice Leabu and Frank Smith stress customer service.

Leabu's Vacuum and Sewing Center

It didn't take Gene Leabu and Frank Smith long to decide that Northville was the perfect spot to locate their business — Leabu's Vacuum and Sewing Center.

For one thing, both men were Northville residents. And, more importantly, they were convinced that Northville really needed a good vacuum cleaner/sewing machine sales and service center.

"We sell top-of-the-line, good-quality merchandise," said Smith. "And when you're talking top-of-the-line sewing machines, you're talking Pfaff, but there are no Pfaff dealers in this immediate area. By locating our shop here, we are serving Novi, Farmington Hills, Plymouth and Livonia as well as Northville."

There was never much question about the type of business Leabu and Smith would open. Leabu started working at his father's vacuum and sewing center in Ann Arbor when he was just 14 years old and Smith started working at the same place several years later. Together, the two men have 28 years of experience in servicing and repairing vacuums and sewing machines.

In addition to their experience, Leabu and Smith are committed to customer service. They offer two-day turnaround (24-hour turnaround by request) on all repairs. They also offer on-site commercial repairs. The phone number is (810) 348-4500. Leabu's Vacuum and Sewing Center is located at 43133 W. Seven Mile.

Northville Video

Let's say you really liked movies and were thinking about starting your own business. What would it be? A video store, of course.

That's pretty much the rationale followed by Carl and Frances Wilson when they opened Northville Video in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center more than 12 years ago. Today, the Wilsons are helped by another family member, daughter Laura.

Northville Video, at 43197 W. Seven Mile, carries more than 6,000 different movie titles in addition to Genesis and Super NEW video games. The Wilsons also sell new and used videos and have video equipment for rent and sale.

"We're a hometown, family-owned video store," said the Wilsons. "We have people who've been members here as long as we've owned the store. We know the customers and they know us ... that makes it nice."

Owning their own video store also allows the Wilsons to follow their cinematic interests. For example, there's an extensive selection of "classics" as well as an Academy Awards section featuring "best movie" winners back to the very first — "Wings" starring Richard Arlen in 1933.

Northville Video is open Monday through Thursday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday 12-9 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-0880.

Help-U-Sell Real Estate

Co-owners Sue and James Perkins established Help-U-Sell Real Estate in 1991 to give homeowners an alternative. "We offer the homeowner the option of participating in the sale of their home to reduce commission fees," said Jim. "Homeowners can participate in the sale as little or as much as they like."

"For example," explained Jim, "on an average $120,000 priced home, a customer can save $4,800 if they participate in the sale of the home."

Jim, a licensed broker, and the five licensed counselors on staff review all documents, title work and closing documents prior to sitting down at the close with the buyer or seller. Follow-up to make sure all inspections are done is handled by Help-U-Sell. There are no up-front fees and every home listed is advertised weekly.

Help-U-Sell is a full service real estate company and a member of the Multi List and the Board of Realtors. "We are a full buyers and sellers agency," said Jim, "and have access to a nationwide referral network with 300 other offices in the United States."

Located in Northville, Help-U-Sell does new and existing residential and vacant land in Northville, South Lyon and Novi. Plans for a Novi office are in the works.

Help-U-Sell Real Estate is located at 209 S. Center Street. Office hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturday to 5 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-6006.

Davis Auto Care & Tire Center

Ask Jim Davis the key to success and he answers in two words — customer service.

Customer service is at the core of Davis Auto Care & Tire Center. "We strive for superb customer service," said Davis, "and you achieve that by being thoroughly knowledgeable about what you do and making sure the customers' needs are met. We pride ourselves on being technical experts, but we also pride ourselves on servicing the customer."

Established in Northville in 1979, Davis Auto Care is a "one-stop" automotive service facility, providing all services and repairs for all makes and models of domestic and foreign cars as well as light trucks.

Davis is proud of the customer-oriented services that he offers, including shuttle service and convenient office hours — Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. In addition, he maintains a computerized service history of all vehicles he services, enabling him to track critical routine maintenance.

The other part of outstanding customer service is top-quality work. Davis notes with pride that six of his mechanics are fully certified by the prestigious National Institute of Automotive Service Excellence.

Davis Auto Care is located at 807 Doheny Drive. The phone number is (810) 349-5115.

Maybury State Park

Named after William H. Maybury, who played an important role in developing the internationally acclaimed tuberculosis sanatorium on the property, Maybury State Park officially opened on almost 1,000 acres in Northville on May 1, 1975.

Maybury's Living Farm is open year-round. About 50,000 to 80,000 school children a year visit the farm, said Gary Fischer, Park Manager. The farm includes four Belgian horses, a cow and her new calf, sheep, goats, pigs, chickens, turkeys and ducks. The Living Farm is the site of many year-round activities. On Sunday, Oct. 9, from noon to 4 p.m. The Harvest Festival will feature farm harvest demonstrations, blacksmithing, basket weaving, spinning and weaving, rope-making, honey extraction, butter churning and, for the first time, horse-drawn hayrides.

Later in October Maybury State Park will be the site of the annual Haunted Forest Walk presented by Northville Parks & Recreation which will include a quarter-mile walk and three-quarter-mile hayride with "haunts" along the way. "Proceeds usually are donated to a local civic concern," said Fischer.

But don't wait until October to stop by Maybury. Fishing for Fun is offered every Friday evening in August from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the fishing pond. The program is free to the public, and there will be prizes and giveaways.

Horseback riding is offered at the Maybury riding stable from March through November for beginners and experienced riders.

Park permits are $4 for daily or $18 for an annual permit. Phone: (810) 349-8390.

Baby, Baby

Baby, Baby has outgrown its building, just like the little customers who have outgrown their clothing.

"I'm looking to expand either on Main or Center streets in order to carry baby furniture and equipment," said owner Diane Wise. "Maternity clothes have really taken off, too, especially career maternity."

The owner of the maternity and children's consignment shop advises customers to think ahead when going through their closets for recyclable clothes. Don't wait until December to bring in Christmas fashions. Now is the perfect time to bring in holiday clothes because Christmas items go on the racks in October.

School clothes are arriving daily. "People have already started to shop for school clothing," said Wise. "Our fall clothes are already on the racks, including snow suits and coats."

Right on the heels of the opening day of school is Halloween. "We rent and sell Halloween costumes," said Wise. "We have some very nice handmade costumes which will go on display in September."

Baby, Baby, located at 144 Mary Alexander Court, is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Thursday to 7 p.m. The phone number is (810) 347-2229.

The Judys — Bradley and Gulian — own Judys' Curtain Shoppe.

Judys' Curtain Shoppe

Judy Bradley and Judy Gulian established their curtain shop in 1983 in the basement of Green's Paint Store at 107 N. Center Street. They named it Judys' Curtain Shoppe.

Both had been sewing their own curtains so opening a shop seemed like the next logical step. "We opened up just as the country trend was getting started," said Gulian.

Better exposure and location led the pair to move Judys' Curtain Shoppe to its present location at 105 N. Center Street two years ago.

Judys' has over 1,500 wallpaper books to choose from all at 30 percent off every day, including Waverly and Schumacher. Fabric is 15 percent off daily. And, as their name implies, they have curtains, lots of lace curtains and custom-made curtains. They can special order just about anything else.

Gulian strives to maintain a reputation as a helpful, service oriented business. They work closely with interior designer Suzanne Bogden when a customer needs in-home advice.

"Our seamstress will do custom and made-to-measure sewing for curtains with either the customer's fabric or fabric purchased from the store," said Gulian.

Judys' Curtain Shoppe is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-3520.

The Barn Antiques

Opening the Barn Antiques on July 15 was the best way to start the preservation of their recently purchased historic homestead, the Meyer Berry Farmstead, said July Elvy, owner.

"It started with a prayer, ended with a dream and that dream has come full circle and become reality," she said.

The old barn has been renovated with new wood floors, windows and insulation, but the majority of the building was left intact to preserve its historical significance.

The original barn burned down and was rebuilt with wood and hand-hewn beams from the Ambler House and later the Park House Hotel.

Twenty-eight dealers are renting space on the main and upper levels of the barn, offering antique furniture, glassware, toys, pictures and collectibles. Guidelines for dealers is that antiques must be at least 50 years old. "All the dealers are very knowledgeable," said Elvy.

Elvy herself has 25 years' experience collecting antiques. She sees the opening of the barn as a first step as a dealer. Next she hopes to start renovation of the 1830s farmhouse for a bed and breakfast.

The Barn Antiques is located at 48120 West Eight Mile, a quarter-mile west of Beck Road. Hours are Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. They are closed Mondays. The phone number is (810) 349-0117.

Margene Mieras has more than 20,000 stamps at the Stampeddler.

Stampeddler Plus

Did you know the largest rubber stamp store in Michigan is located right here in Northville? In addition, "Stampeddler, Plus, Inc. was voted Dealer of the Year for the most growth in 1992 and 1993 by Rubber Stamping Retailer magazine. When Peddlers Four opened in 1984, it was a country gift store carrying a few stamps. By 1991, gift lines had been phased out and the focus shifted to rubber stamps and accessories. Today, approximately 20,000 stamps are carefully organized on custom-made shelves. "Right now we're expanding the Christmas line for the holidays," said Margene, owner of the store. "All the beautiful artwork is done for you (on the stamp)," she added. "All you have to do is choose the ink or embossing. We have all the accessories to enhance the designs." To help people learn more about stamping, Margene offers instruction beginning with the Rookie Rubber Stamping Class and followed by more advanced classes. "Anybody can do it," said Margene.

The Stampeddler News is mailed to 2,000 customers including England and Germany and describes all the classes, special events and "stamp of the month." Upcoming special events include a presentation by Fred Acerri on Sept. 17. On Sept. 25 Cartoonist Neal Levin will draw cartoons.

The Stampeddler, Plus is open seven days a week. Located at 150 Mary Alexander Court, hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Thursday to 8:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 12-4 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-4446.

Downing Farms Golf Course

The Downing farm has been in the family over half a century.

Burrell Downing bought the 160 acres as a dairy farm in 1939. From 1957 until 1986 son James ran a standard bred breeding farm. Clearing the land for a golf course began in 1986 but was put on hold when James died in 1989.

The following year Chuck Downing decided to proceed with his dad's idea. "It took two years for my Uncle Charlie and me to complete it," he said. Long-time friend and former schoolmate Harry Bowers was chosen to be the course architect. "The last thing you want is for two holes to look the same," said Downing. "Every hole should take on its own character, and Harry does that very well." "I think the most picturesque hole is number 6," said Downing of the 148-yard, par 3 hole which has a large pond surrounded by mature trees. Holes 3 through 8 have been cut out of the woods. Holes 1, 2 and 9 are more wide open.

Future plans include a clubhouse and pro shop in the spring of 1995. Clearing for nine more holes will begin the following fall. The course is open to the public Monday through Sunday from 6:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Greens fees range from $8 to $13 for nine holes and $11 to $18 for 18 holes. Twilight golf is $9.

Downing Farms Golf Course is west of Northville at 8145 West Seven Mile. Phone: (810) 486-0990.

Downing Farms has gone from being a dairy farm to a golf course.

Century 21 Suburban

Century 21 Suburban was purchased by Nanette Hebets in 1985, only four years after she decided to go into real estate as her new career.

Now a broker, she says, "I like what I do because I am easily bored. A broker does so many things such as accounting, sales, and marketing."

Hebets is also involved in the business' training program for new sales associates. "Our program is one of the best, and the first thing on the program is ethics and fair housing, which I teach myself," she said. Hebets believes honesty is a moral quality that cannot be compromised. "I am adamant about honesty," she said and believes it accounts for the comradery and the openness with which new sales associates are welcomed at Century 21 Suburban.

The soon-to-be Chairman of the Risk Reduction Committee for Western Wayne-Oakland County Association of Realtors is very proud of Century 21 Suburban's success. "In 1992 Century 21 began its Quality Service Award Program and we have been awarded this honor in 1992 and 1993. There are 5,000 to 6,000 businesses and only about 900 awards were given out."

"The growth of Northville is wonderful," said Hebets. "We are capable of handling residential, commercial, and vacant land and business opportunities."

Renee Hunt is making great chocolate treats on Center Street.

Chocolates by Renee

Where did all those finger prints on the store window at 124 N. Center Street come from? Customers trying to get a goooooood look at the homemade confections being made at Chocolates by Renee.

Bill and Renee Hunt purchased the business from Grandma Betty and redecorated, adding a storefront kitchen so that everyone could watch the chocolate being made.

"Northville had no handmade chocolate business," said Renee. "Northville had the foot traffic and the demand for homemade quality that we wanted for our store." Chocolates by Renee opened May 9 of this year.

Renee began making chocolate-covered pretzels as a hobby out of her home in 1991. She progressed to doing craft shows, then began a wholesale business of 250 customers in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

"Michigan How Sweet It Is," one of Renee's creations, is a Michigan-shaped cookie cutter filled with Michigan dried cherries and creamy milk chocolate. Custom chocolates are now available by special order.

All the chocolate, caramel, fondant (used in the cherry cordials), toffee, caramel apples and caramel corn are made from scratch in the shop," said Renee.

Chocolates by Renee, is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Phone: 349-6362.

The Northville Record

"In Pursuit of Northville" is a new project for us here at The Northville Record this year.

As you can see by reading the stories on these pages, "Pursuit" takes a different approach to promoting Northville's businesses.

Instead of focusing specifically on the businesses or the products they provide, we have focused on the owners of the businesses — the people who make them work ... the people who use their brains, skills and ingenuity, not to mention their blood, sweat and tears, to create the types of goods and services which will be useful to the citizens of Northville and surrounding areas.

It's an interesting cross section of people, and we think you'll enjoy learning more about them. We urge you to set this special section aside and read through it at your leisure until you've had a chance to read all the stories. Each story is unique; each is interesting. We think you'll enjoy reading them as much as we enjoyed writing them.

The Northville Record is located at 104 W. Main in downtown Northville. Hours are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Phone: (810) 349-1700.

"In Pursuit of Northville" is the work of Anna Lipar and Carol Workens. Anna developed and promoted the concept. Carol was responsible for writing the stories and taking the pictures.

Orin Jewelers

Orin Jewelers put the finishing touches on the renovation of their store at the corner of Main and Center in Northville just in time for their annual Silent Auction.

The auction, which started Aug. 6 and runs through the end of the month, includes 20 to 30 items. "There are some very good prices on these items," said Orin Mazzoni, Jr. The auction generates a flurry of activity during the month as people frequently stop by to check the latest bid on an item they may also be bidding on.

The renovation also included an expansion into an adjoining shop, doubling the existing floor space. A local craftsman was chosen to ensure that the new windows would match the original windows designed when the store first opened in 1983.

Merchandise has been expanded to include more independent designers. "I like to carry unique items and manufacturers not dealing with the major chains," said Mazzoni.

Corporate sales and school fund raisers are becoming a larger part of the business. Local companies want custom logos for their awards programs and gifts.

"The strongest part of our business, and an area we excel in, is our custom work," he said. "We have stones cut for customers." Four jewelers work at Orin Jewelers' store in Garden City, doing custom work, repairs and appraisals. Mazzoni personally supervises all work.

"We make sure our customers know what they're getting," said Mazzoni. "It is very important to us. We take them through the '4-Cs' — color, cut, clarity and carat weight." Orin Jewelers has a "master diamond set," a feature found infrequently in jewelry stores, according to Mazzoni.

Orin Mazzoni, Jr., continues a tradition for fine workmanship that is well into its second half-century.

Mazzoni is a certified gemologist with the American Gem Society and a graduate of the Gemological Institute of America. He learned the business while living above the family's original store at the corner of Ford Road and Middlebelt.

The first Orin Jewelers was opened by Orin Mazzoni, Sr. in 1933 in West Virginia. In 1953 when the family moved to Ford Road and Middlebelt, the Mazzoni children learned the business. In 1965, the Garden City store was opened.

Mazzoni stepped in to the family business in 1969 and strives to maintain the dedication to quality, service and integrity started by his father 61 years ago. "I stress training and education of the staff," he said. "We have meetings on product and gemological knowledge."

Orin Jewelers Inc. is open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday and Friday 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Phone: (810) 349-6940.

Ronnie Cambra has moved the Kitchen Witch into new quarters.

The Kitchen Witch

The Kitchen Witch has moved "for the last time!" according to owner Ronnie Cambra.

Ronnie has moved The Kitchen Witch lock, stock and barrel into the former Northville Pharmacy on Main Street. The 1,800 square feet of retail and office space is quite a jump from the 775 square feet they have occupied the past two years.

The gourmet foods and table top lines will be expanded, said Ronnie, promising to "round out the kitchen supply to make us a complete kitchen shop."

Cooking demonstrations will also be expanded. "We will get into some simple cooking instructions and have them more often," she said.

Decorations in the new location include stripping the walls down to the bare brick. "The shop colors are hunter green and cream," she said. The awning should be up in September.

The Kitchen Witch carries anything a cook could want and, as the sign behind the register says, "If we don't have it, you don't need it." It's hard to imagine The Kitchen Witch not having something a cook needs.

There are utensils, table top (glassware, dishes, etc.), cookbooks, towels and aprons, just to name a few.

The Kitchen Witch is located at 134 Main Street and is open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and during the summer on Friday to 9 p.m. Phone: (810) 348-0488.

State Farm Insurance

Paul Folino's State Farm office served Northville for over 32 years. When Paul retired in May, Julie Lupo was selected by State Farm to continue the tradition of quality service and become the new agent for downtown Northville.

"I plan to meet with all existing customers to introduce myself, review their coverages, and learn something about their families," said Lupo. "Service is very important to me; I want people to feel comfortable calling at anytime."

"I chose State Farm because of their focus on the customer and commitment to quality service and products," she added.

Lupo is in the same location at 430 N. Center and has kept the same phone number as Folino's agency, 349-1189. One change she will make over the next few months is to move toward a "paperless" office. Information that was once kept in paper files will be stored on the computer.

State Farm carries life, health, fire and auto insurance. "The best thing people can do to save money on auto insurance is to keep a clean driving record," said Lupo. "Be a good, careful driver."

Office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and evenings and weekends by appointment.

Julie Lupo is the new agent at State Farm Insurance's downtown office.

Brickscape

Brickscape is paving its way to Christmas.

First, there is the large selection of fall hardy mums in stock now. Select Holland bulbs and bare-root Bearded Iris are sorted and arranged neatly in wicker baskets. There are 35 to 40 different types of iris ranging in price from $4.99 to $40 for the Shriner's exclusive "Island Sunset." "Shriner's grow the best iris," advises owner Joe DiRado. "September is the best time to plant bulbs and mums."

"Planting tulips now will reap benefits in the spring," DiRado said. "Fall is a great time to plant with the cooler nights."

October brings pumpkins, cornstalks, gourds and fall pansies to Brickscape. DiRado suggests getting the whole family together to do the fall planting. "It is a nice stress-relieving pastime, something more families are doing together," he said.

The Garden Center carries cement, pottery, statuary and other garden accessories. A variety of healthy, abundant perennials and evergreen and deciduous bushes are waiting for fall planters.

With the changing seasons, Brickscape is converted into a Christmas showroom. "The whole store is transformed," said DiRado. "Items in stock will include imported German glass ornaments, live and artificial trees, roping and wreaths. We also carry a wide selection of festive ribbons for handmade bows. And don't forget our high quality 1, 2, 3-stem poinsettias. Brickscape is your one-stop Christmas shopping center."

Paving is done almost year round. "We pave all the way to Christmas if the weather is okay, and then start again in the spring as soon as the ground thaws," he said.

DiRado founded DiRado Landscaping in 1982. When the focus had turned from landscaping to brick laying by 1987, Brickscape was formed.

"There is no one around with a wider selection of brick paving products," he said. Brick has advantages over concrete, according to DiRado. Bricks last longer than concrete because they don't crack. They expand without cracking because joints are individual, unlike concrete.

DiRado uses a local manufacturer for the paving bricks. But Bricksteps, a product DiRado invented, are handmade one or two step variations which are pre-made on the premises. They are available in an assortment of sizes, colors and shapes.

"We are trying to be as value-priced as possible," DiRado said. "We are very service-oriented, and we're growing to suit customer's needs."

"To be competitive in this market place, you service your customers, keep your store clean and try to listen to customers," he said. "We appreciate our customers; they've given us the chance to service them."

DiRado sees gardening as the next great leisure activity. "A lot more people in general are getting into gardening," he observed.

Brickscape Home & Garden Showplace is located at 21141 Old Novi Road in Northville. Hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information call Brickscape at (810) 348-2500.

Brickscape has a large assortment of mums in time for fall planting.

Water gardens are becoming increasingly popular among gardeners.

S. R.

Jacobson

As a second generation builder/developer, Scott Jacobson, founder of S. R. Jacobson Development Corporation, did not inherit success; he had to earn it. Through a dedication to the customer, he has earned a name synonymous with success. With distinctive architecture, excellent workmanship and outstanding customer service, S. R. Jacobson has moved to the front, establishing a solid reputation for experience, expertise and teamwork.

Degreed in building construction management from Michigan State University, Jacobson formed S. R. Jacobson Development Corporation in 1979, after two years with his father's company. Surviving what many found to be "hard times" in the building industry, Jacobson built in numerous communities in Oakland and Wayne Counties. It was then that his reputation for unmatched quality in construction began to grow.

As a leader in the new home market, S.R. Jacobson can offer immediate occupancy in southeastern Michigan's most sought after neighborhoods, in communities like Auburn Hills, Northville, Novi, Rochester, Troy and West Bloomfield. "To be successful in this business," Jacobson emphasized, "you can't be complacent. You must always search for new ideas and fresh concepts. We strive to be innovative and creative to fulfill buyers' needs. Today's buyers are astute and discretionary. Our designs are definitely market-driven."

Jacobson is also a firm believer in the team approach to building. "Mine is the type of organization where I depend on a lot of people. My staff is hard-working, and we're like a family. Everything we accomplish is the result of a team effort. It's not a one-man show." Many of his subcontractors, Jacobson adds, have been with him for years. "We've taken on new trades people as our volume's increased. And we're fortunate that we attract good talent. Our sub-contractors are the best in the market."

Whether you are currently looking for an expensive family home or an intriguing single family detached home without the burden of exterior maintenance, the S.R. Jacobson Development Corporation has 11 subdivisions under construction, including Adams Ridge, Hunt Club, The Woods at Orchard Lake, Vintage Estates, Woodside Village, Crescent Parc, Addington Park, Mystic Forest, Spring Meadow, Hickory Creek and Sugar Creek. Windridge and Norton Creek are two new subdivisions due to open in September. Premium features included as a standard in many S. R. Jacobson homes include lap board siding, wood insulated windows, ceramic tile and hardwood flooring, custom wood railing; first floor laundry room, vaulted and cathedral ceilings, gourmet kitchens with European cabinetry, Armstrong no-wax floors and GE appliances; spacious master suite; elegant bath; two car garage; and energy saving insulation, windows, doors and furnaces.

Value minded buyers today, Jacobson points out, are looking for open spaces, family room/country kitchen combinations, large master suites and all the amenities they can get at an affordable price. "I believe that an S.R. Jacobson home proves that quality design is still affordable," Jacobson concludes.

"Customer research helps take the guess work out of home building and identifies vital buyers at our models to determine their likes and dislikes and we listen to what they say and try to incorporate as many of their ideas as possible into our floor-plans. Our superior design and affordability is a credit to our homebuyers."

Customer satisfaction, Scott Jacobson knows, is another extremely important key to success.

The emphasis is on building spaces for the way people live. "My philosophy is to make the customer happy. We're working on creating more sales through referrals," Jacobson notes. And satisfied customers are what S.R. Jacobson Development Corp. strives for. "We are constantly searching for ways to provide customers with better service after the close," says Jacobson. "It's a tough process for people to go through when they're building a house. I try to make it as simple as possible. We have created a complete Homeowner's Manual that walks the customer through the buying process from the start through the warranty. If a problem arises, I look at it from their eye, as if it were my own house. We're constantly trying to provide greater quality," Jacobson states. "And no matter what the price of a home, we make sure that the quality is the same."

S.R. Jacobson homes fall into a price range from $135,000 to $350,000 and appeal to various generations of home buyers, from first-time to move-up. Available in the most desirable locations, the most discriminating buyers can finally find satisfaction in an S. R. Jacobson home and move into excellence.

Things you should know

ABOUT HIRING A CONTRACTOR

Are you or someone you know planning to have a home improvement project this fall? According to the Council of B.B.B. Inquiry and Complaint Summary 1993, "the number-one reason people call the Better Business Bureau is to inquire on home improvement contractors." So before you begin any size project get informed, not taken.

The following preventative steps are ways to protect you from getting taken by a dishonest contractor.

1. ASK FOR REFERENCES

With this step, you can receive most of your information about contractor's workmanship. Ask the references questions such as... "Would you use them again?" and "How would you rate their work quality?" Listen carefully, you may be surprised on the feedback you receive.

2. CHECK FOR INSURANCE

Make sure contractors have valid insurance. If they don't and one of their workers receives an injury on your property, you could end up paying the medical bills. Solid companies will not have a problem when asked this question.

3. ASK FOR WRITTEN GUARANTEES

This step is very important in case there is a discrepancy. Guarantees differ so it is important that you clearly understand their policy. A detailed cost analysis before your project begins will prevent most discrepancies between you and the contractor.

4. REQUEST A SCHEDULE

Requesting a schedule at the beginning of a project will minimize delays. Make sure the schedule explains the tasks from start to finish.

5. DO NOT PAY ALL IN ADVANCE

Typically, paying in advance is a sign of financial weakness. The only time a contractor generally needs money in advance occurs when he orders a custom non-refundable item for your project. Pay the company only for work completed.

6. DO NOT PICK UP THE PERMIT

Having the contractor pick up the permit serves 2 purposes. (The price of the permit is the same no matter who picks it up.)

The Top Ten List for Kitchens in The 90s

By Dan House of E.W. Kitchens

1. Walk in pantries

2. Space for two cooks to work at the same time

3. Adjacent Alternative use areas

4. Solid surface counter tops more prevalent

5. "Light, white and many" Door Styles

6. Have a Focal Point

7. Custom features with out the custom price

8. The kitchen as an accent room vs. utility room

9. Hot Appliances

10. Excellent Lighting Treatments

1. Walk in Pantries

When it comes to new construction, walk-in pantries are the ticket. Several builders have made this kind of abundant storage available in even modest homes in the 1200 square foot range. People increasingly have oversize commercial cookware, woks, ice-cream machines, bread makers and other specialty equipment that does not fit well into standard cabinetry. Also, when so many empty-nesters are downsizing today, they find themselves in smaller homes, yet require the storage space they had in a larger home. This need is often met by walk in pantries.

2. Space for two cooks to work at the same time

Life in the 90s is a lifestyle of two income families, with less time to spend preparing meals. This has resulted in couples sharing cooking duties, and in many cases, that time has become quality time for the individuals. This results in kitchen design with two cooks in mind.

3. Adjacent Alternative use areas

Again, with today's hectic pace, the kitchen often has to do double duty to make itself most efficient. Many people are now requesting a desk area in a kitchen, or an adjacent playroom, laundry center, a hobby room, or sitting area. In some cases we are seeing entrepreneurs who run small businesses out of their home, and often people are quartering them in or near the kitchen.

4. Solid Surface Countertops More Prevalent

In all price ranges, solid-surface countertops are more popular. Products such as Corian, Avonite, Fountainhead, Surrell, as well as genuine granite, ceramic tile, and marble are in demand, even in cases where an individual pays more for the countertops than all the cabinetry combined. Homeowners love the rich look and feel of the premium countertop materials, along with extended limited warranties, up to ten years, offered by the manufacturer and fabricators of these products.

5. "Light, White and Many" Door Styles

According to Gary Lautzenhiser, Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing of Aristokraft, Inc. the market has spoken about what is in demand, and that demand is for "Light, White, and Many" door styles. This translates into an ever-increasing variety of wood species, with a color palate more sensitive to the needs of the decorator. Gone are the days of the neutral interior, and today we have bold vibrant colors, requiring cabinetry that fits with color schemes that are not based on the almond and woodtone spectrum.

6. Have A Focal Point

The most interesting kitchens today almost always have a focal point. Many examples have been effectively integrated into good working plans. These include in-home theaters, fireplaces, aquariums, neon-light artworks, mini-libraries and potting centers. The focal point can be essentially aesthetic, such as a reproduction Frank Lloyd Wright Leaded glass window array, or functional such as a commercial style range. Nothing gives a room character like a provocative focal point.

7. Custom Features without the Custom Price

Perhaps the biggest trend in product development is the introduction of significant features and variety at the lower and medium price ranges. Clients demand everything they want, and they expect to get it at a reasonable and competitive price. The extra details that were offered only to the high-end custom client are built into the most modest kitchens and leanest of budgets.

8. The Kitchen as an Accent Room vs. Utility Room

Gone are the days of the kitchen that disappeared behind closed doors when dinner was served. In today's open floor plans, the kitchen is more a gathering room than ever before. Many people want an open space that serves the needs of a family as a kitchen, study room, family room, diner, and rec room. Having room for the post-game Little League Celebration and Ice Cream Social is a high priority these days, and often the room for such fun times is the kitchen.

9. Hot Appliances

Built in is the most important feature in appliances today. As is true with all the other variables in the kitchen equation, there are countless options today that existed only at the highest price points just a short time ago.

10. Excellent Lighting Treatments

Not too many years ago, lighting treatment was the most frequently neglected part of good kitchen design. This is less true today. Designers and decorators are stressing to their clients the need for different kinds of lighting in the kitchen. Area lighting, task lighting, and accent lighting should be all addressed. Great lighting can be the least expensive way to turn a so-so kitchen into a real showplace. One of the benefits of really excellent lighting is that, while it makes the room more warm and cheerful and welcoming, it usually makes both the fixtures in the kitchen as well as its occupants look better.

THE SPORTING LIFE

Discover all the wonderful amenities at The Crossings Of Oakland

A full-size swimming pool and cabana. Walking and jogging paths. A beautiful community garden. Tennis courts, soccer and baseball fields. These are just some of the wonderful outdoor amenities you'll find at The Crossings. Robertson Brothers' newest community of single-family residences.

And the amenities extend indoors as well. Soaring ceilings, regal fireplaces and open, relaxed floor plans help make the interiors of these magnificent homes especially atmospheric. The Crossings offers stunning 3 and 4 bedroom, 2+ bath colonials, 1+ story models in a country-inspired setting, complete with beautiful trees and natural wetlands.

Isn't it time you took advantage of the sporting life and all it has to offer?

House Call

If you're building a new home consider taking an active part in the selection and design process from the very beginning. Being involved in developing your purchase agreement will give you a more comprehensive view of what your completed home will include. Upgrades and additions are generally more cost effective if included in this early stage of the project and some changes can be made for no cost at all.

For example, if your home includes 30 recessed light fixtures, you may want to decide if this is adequate in this early planning stage. If 40 or 50 fixtures are required you will be better off having these in your original plan to help you decide your lighting and electrical needs before signing your purchase agreement. You can then negotiate for the proper amount prior to building. Other items such as outdoor plugs, ceiling fan locations, preparation for low voltage lighting, etc. can all be included in your initial agreement.

If a flooring allowance is included in your new home, ask a design professional to estimate how many yards of carpeting the home will need and how many square feet of flooring you will have. These figures will make it more meaningful to calculate what your flooring allowance will cover.

You might consider analyzing window placement to see if their location meets your personal needs. Often window size and location can be changed to have a better vantage point for your lot with no extra charge - provided that builder and architect feel the elevation of the home will not be compromised. Sometimes a window can be raised for more privacy or enlarged for a greater view, even small changes can make a difference. For example, if your family room includes a 12 foot door wall, you may want to use a three pane configuration of 4 feet each to allow a larger opening for summer breezes, or you may want a four pane configuration of 3 feet each to allow for more stationary glass to accommodate furniture placement. Visualizing your rooms in these early stages helps to make the right choices for your individual situation. In rooms where home theaters or media cabinets will be used, be aware of the role windows will play in effecting viewing during daylight hours.

It may be important to consider cabinetry layouts and upgrades as well. You may want to include full extension drawer slides and fully opening door hinges in your agreement as well as, a waterline for your refrigerator's icemaker, recycling bins and an instant hot water dispenser. Additional features that add function and convenience are pantry pullouts, pot drawers, corner spin cabinets and spice drawers.

Certain items will definitely cost less if included in your initial plan. Adding a prep of a lower level toilet, sink, and shower usually runs from $150-$300, but adding plumbing later can be considerably more costly. It is also cost effective to plan for conduit to be laid for

HOUSING INDUSTRY HIGHLIGHTS

76% of all Americans feel now is a good time to purchase a home and one third of all renters hope to own a home within the next three years, according to the Federal National Mortgage Association's annual housing survey. Rising interest rates and home prices are signaling to buyers that purchasing now, rather than waiting, is a smart move.

- Four of "The Top Ten" hottest housing markets in metropolitan Detroit are located in Oakland County. According to the Southeast Michigan Council of Government, they are Troy, Novi, Waterford Township and Orion Township (based upon total new housing units in 1993).

An Overview of National and Local News & Trends

By Robert R. Jones, President of the Builders Assoc. of Southeastern Michigan

- Auburn Hills is in the process of installing $10 million worth of water and sewer lines in an effort to entice residential builders and developers to their city. The completion date for the new utility project is slated for spring 1995.

- Hearth Rooms are a popular trend giving new homes an old-fashioned feel. Built smaller than family rooms and larger than a breakfast nook, this family gathering space with a fireplace hearth as its focal point provides a warm and welcome design touch to your living space.

Robert R. Jones is a past recipient of The National Builder of the Year and Southeastern Michigan Builder of the Year Awards. He serves as a national director for the National Association of Home Builders.

ASK THE PROFESSIONAL

We want to build a new house, but we might be transferred in 3 years, so resale value is essential to us. What is the current trend in new houses?

W. France, Novi

New homes built last year were slightly bigger than those built in 1992 and contained more amenities, like two-car garages and extra bedrooms, thanks to the lowest mortgage interest rates in more than 20 years that allowed buyers to purchase larger, more luxurious homes. The median size of the 1.038 million new single-family homes built in 1993 was 1,945 square feet, 25 square feet larger than in 1992, according to data from the U.S. Census Bureau.

Today's new homes feature more garage space and bathrooms than homes built 10 or 20 years ago. In 1993, 77 percent of new homes had a two-car garage, compared to 55 percent in 1985. Twelve percent of new homes built in 1993 had at least a three-car garage, up from 11 percent in 1992.

In 1993, 48 percent of all new homes had 2.5 baths or more, more than double the amount in 1981. Homes with three or more baths remained steady at 14 percent, but was down from several years ago due to weakness in the upper end of the market. About 30 percent of new homes in 1993 had four or more bedrooms, about the same as in the late 1980s and early 1990s.

Central air-conditioning continues to grow more common, appearing in 78 percent of new homes in 1993, up from 77 percent the previous year. Fireplaces remain a popular amenity. In 1993, 64 percent of new homes featured a fireplace.

about the same as in 1992, but down slightly from the peak in 1990 when fireplaces were found in 66 percent of new homes.

Gas remained the heating fuel of choice in 1993, capturing 66 percent of the new home market. In 1985, just 44 percent of new homes were heated with gas. Electricity came in a distant second to gas last year at 29 percent, a sharp decline from the 1979s when electricity was the heating source in the majority of new homes.

Although the median size of new homes increased last year, average square footage remained virtually the same as 1992 at 2,100 square feet, and has changed little over the past several years, suggesting that fewer very large homes are being built. The share of new homes with 2,400 square feet or more has hovered in the 29 percent range for the past four years, while the percentage of homes with more than 3,000 square feet has stayed at about 13 percent for several years.

As far as price, more buyers are opting for lower priced homes. The

Zen & the art of residential development

By William Pilipchuk

resident Abraham Lincoln once proclaimed the property value as "the fruit of labor, desirable and a positive good." Gary R. Leigh, president of the Rochester Hills Real Estate Development Corporation, also adheres to this common belief in his written proxy for Walnut Brook Estates, his latest project in Rochester Hills, where he's created a residential development that is, to quote Lincoln again, "of the people, by the people," and specifically "for the people."

Recent surveys to determine the availability of residential lots for individuals in the Rochester Hills, Troy, Birmingham and, surrounding communities concur that there is little or no supply for individual buyers. This prompted Leigh, a veteran of 18 real estate and residential developments, to develop Walnut Brook Estates, an exclusive 45-1/2 acre site bordered by Pine Trace golf course, Avondale Park, a Wildlife Sanctuary and 32 acres of nature trails to be developed by the City of Rochester Hills.

"We decided to throw out the traditional practice of selling lots to 'builders only' and make them available exclusively to individual home purchasers," said Leigh. "We are dedicated to making certain that our homeowners enjoy building the home of their dream." Walnut Brook's turnkey program provides the design, building, landscaping and financing for each homeowner. This approach, according to Leigh, is "one-of-a-kind for the entire area," and enables the implementation of what Leigh calls their "Quality Assurance Program." "The end result for the homeowner is a unique, custom design of their choice, competitively priced and completed in a timely manor," says Leigh.

This 30 point quality program was designed to preserve and enhance the natural environment and provide the new homeowner with protection on their investment. "Our goal in approaching the Walnut Brook project was to focus on everything from architectural design to the daily maintenance of construction sites," says Leigh. An interesting standout to the program is the 1.3 million already spent on pre-construction landscaping and beautification, including 600 trees lining the entrance, 21 rock outcroppings and thousands of perennials and annuals. "Unusual as it may seem," says Leigh, "this policy assures the Walnut Brook resident an attractive community setting from beginning to end."

The builder, Bove Construction of Bloomfield Hills, renowned for their quality, must adhere to strict rules governing the building of the home and a clean job site, which go so far as having workers carefully clean the streets and each lot on a daily basis. "Some people think we're a bit crazy for operating like this, but I don't think a new homeowner appreciates these ongoing eyesores throughout most subdivision's development, which often look like war zones" said Leigh. There's no mistaking Walnut Brook for a "war zone." Beyond its 1250 foot wooded entrance lies a spacious upscale subdivision, bound by 200 acres of woods filled with deer, fox, and over 120 different species of birds, which are some of the largest in the area. Lots average between 120 to 130 feet wide by 150 to 330 feet deep and will range from $109,000 to $170,00. Total price for lot and home will be from $375,000 to $800,000. "By covering all the bases in Walnut Brook's development, like I believe we've accomplished," said Leigh, "our homeowners are virtually guaranteed unequalled privacy and considerable value appreciation on their homes for years to come."

"Walnut Brook's Unique Estate of Mind"

house beautiful

The beauty of the sun is undeniable and so are its damaging effects. Priceless rugs can fade and expensive upholstery can be robbed of its beauty.

VISTA Window Film, professionally applied, helps protect your investments by filtering out 99% of the sun's damaging ultra-violet rays. VISTA has insulating know-how as well, providing a comfort zone where heat is contained in the winter and repelled in the summer.

The choice of many professional interior designers, VISTA casts its neutral hues throughout your home, deflecting harsh glare and creating the perfect ambience when decorating or remodeling your home.

The next time you decorate, make sure it's because you want to, and not because you have to. Make sure you choose VISTA Window Film. And make your home a place of lasting beauty.

market share of upper end homes - $200,000 and higher - continued to lose ground in 1993, falling to 17 percent of the market, down about 3 percentage points from 1989 and 1990 peaks. The $250,000 and higher category fell to 9 percent in 1993 from 12 percent in 1990. On the other hand, homes priced between $120,000 and $200,000 have grabbed an additional 5 percentage points of market share since 1991, and made up 38 percent of the market last year.

After a great deal of shopping around and looking for just the right home, consumers come down to making the final decision based on these main factors: Price/affordability. Size. Style or Appearance, Investment/appreciation. Size of lot or year, Quality of schools, Close to work. Builder's reputation, Warranties and Prestigious location.

Gutters

Never Clean Your Gutters Again!

Now something new and different promises to make cleaning your gutters a thing of the past. The United States and Canadian Patent Offices have granted patent on a unique gutter add-on system call Gutter Helmet.

Homeowners should not ignore gutters full of debris. Seed pods can form a pasty mat that blocks the down spout strainer or seals off screens that may be installed over the gutter. Water then runs over both the front and back of the gutter causing the fascia board to rot and water to seep into your basement or crawl space. Damage to your roof deck from ice and snow build-up in the gutter is also common (the ice backs up under the first course of shingles). Cleaning your gutters involves climbing ladders or working from the roof, both very dangerous and unpleasant chores. The solution is clear, prevent the debris from entering the gutter in the first place.

Gutter Helmet is made of impervious aluminum and comes with a written guarantee that you will never have to clean your gutters again once it is installed. This product is made by American Metal Products, a division of MASCO Corporation and carries the same reputation for quality that all of their products do (i.e., Delta Faucets, Drexel Heritage Furniture, Merrilat Cabinets).

Futuristic Home Improvements is the Gutter Helmet distributor for Southeast Michigan and while Gutter Helmet is new to this area it has been on the market for ten years. All Gutter Helmet installations include free gutter cleaning and minor gutter repair. For more information about this innovative product call 1-800-693-1100.

any people feel the snow and ice of harsh Michigan winters damage inground pools. Due to a new technique however, this is no longer a concern for people interested in "taking the plunge" right in their backyard.

"Gunite inground pools are able to withstand the northern climate conditions", states Tom Byrne of Paddock Pools.

Making this type of pool is a smart investment for Michigan homeowners. The word gunite derived from the technique of applying the base coat with a gun, provides a stable pool with a long life expectancy.

Tom further states creating the perfect pool involves a number of elements; including size of your property lot, soil type, height of water table, type of uses, design of your house and local, state and federal regulations. Many builders are presently drawing house plans with the addition of a pool in mind. It is a collaboration between architect, the builder of home and the homeowner. The efforts of this team is to design a house and pool with a consistent style.

Maintenance of a gunite pool has to occur on a regular basis. Water chemical testing is a daily task. Vacuuming sediment and watching the back wash gauge are weekly duties. The cost of this maintenance depends on how frequently the pool is used and the weather conditions.

There are, however, special extras that can be purchased to personalize and make your pool virtually maintenance free. Underground speakers and water control devices by computer are among these options. Pool accessories are readily available and can be the final touch your pool needs.

Most pool purchases are the result of satisfied customers who tell their families, friends, neighbors and co-workers. "Word of mouth is the best reference you can get about choosing a pool company," states Frank Mayer of Total Pool in Lake Orion.

The base price of building a gunite pool ranges from $25,000 to $30,000. Heat and manual operation maintenance equipment is often included in the price. Each summer your investment will pay for itself in the enjoyment you and your family has and by building a gunite pool your mind can rest at ease during the harsh winter months. Take a dive into your most enjoyable home improvement - a gunite pool.

Hartland and the Majestic

Be sure not to overlook Hartland when determining the best place to locate your family. A quiet community where the value of real estate is outstanding, in proportion to the moderate investment. Located at the demographic center of southeastern lower Michigan, less than an hour from any of the urban area. Ideal for spouses that work in opposite directions, sales/service representatives, and residents, whose employment location is likely to change periodically, most often, are not required to uproot their family.

Hartland offers many options for housing. Whether you would prefer a countryside home with acreage allowing for horses, or possibly your family may be interested in a dwelling fronting on, or with privileges to, one of the area's desirable lakes. Yet, you might find San Marino Meadows to be the perfect place. A very carefully planned community, with rolling and treed 1 acre sites, with home and lot packages for $164,900 in Phase II, and between $200,00 and $300,000 in Phase I. Phase III is coming soon!

Hartland's newest asset is the incredible "Majestic" at Lake Walden. Another outstanding achievement by golf course designer, Jerry Mathews. A fabulous 27 hole golf course, spread out over 1,500 acres. No two holes are side by side, and many overlook Lake Walden. The scenery is truly panoramic. Don't let the wildlife disturb your game.

Of course, a great golf course is important, but some people may be more interested in the school system. The Hartland School district maintains an excellent staff, and academic programs. It boasts of a graduation rate of 98%, with 65%, or more, of their students continuing with higher education. Over 72% of our teachers have masters degrees. Over 80% of the teaching staff have more than 10 years experience.

Hartland is a community with a firm commitment to good planning, which is essential in an area that is certain to experience monumental growth, as Hartland will in the next few years.

Make your commitment to Hartland now, and be the one to enjoy the appreciation, and the benefits, of a wise investment. Come for a visit, and you'll never look back.

Homearama

Latest on the scene of innovative home construction is the "Brentwood" subdivision on the southern edge of White Lake Township.

Opening in August with its first nine playable holes of golf, this "Mayberry U.S.A." style community is a landscaper's dream. All of the homes back to open land, either natural or some part of the 18 hole course.

Built by "Brentwood Farms Development", the site will host the "Homearama 1994" sponsored by the Builder's Association of Southeastern Michigan. Starting September 1, the golf course setting will showcase 13 homes and a 'skinless' house highlighting steel frame construction. Three 'steel' homes show the flexibility, durability and strength of 'steel' construction. 'Envirotech Builders' are showing their "Weston" and "Jacqueline" in steel; they also build in wood to compliment their product line.

"Brentwood Farms Builders", which is the home building division for developers Ray Le Duc and Steve Chaplin, has provided an array of homes for both family and empty nesters. From first floor masters with sweeping vistas to conventional colonials, the homes feature all of the roominess and comfort of the nineties style.

Both figuratively and literally, the 1890's broad porch and sweeping roofs reflect the passion for gentler times. The interior style of the 1990's provides modern convenience, visual roominess and physical privacy.

The "Tybee" is a classic cottage under 2,300 square feet with 3 bedrooms and 2 full and one half bath. The master suite adjoins a den with fireplace and the country size kitchen includes a 'sunroom' (with adjacent door to a sheltered porch) for enjoying the golf course both at breakfast coffee and evening cocktail.

The midsize home of the group is the "Arborshade" at almost 2,800 square feet with four bedrooms and 3 full and one half bath. This home has the dramatic great room and two story foyer. It also includes a living room with fireplace, overlooking the front porch sweeping to one side for privacy. All this and a first floor master suite for under $290,000.

The major-demo of the "Homearama" house display is the "Fancrest". At over 2,900 square feet, this four bedroom, 3 full and one half bath home is the family luxury vehicle to the Brentwood Golf and Country Club. A master suite fitting for the lord and his queen includes a 'secret room' (?). This house of peers not only includes a media room, living room and dining room, but has a 2 story foyer in addition to its soaring great room. An optional 3 car garage makes this the ideal for golf course setting.

With the first nine holes playable mid-August before "Homearama", 'Brentwood' invites all to taste the best convenient country living.

INTRODUCING THE FIRST 12 METER BUILT SINCE 1987.

The NOBLIA '12' METER collection of sport watches and yacht timers is designed to commemorate the magnificent 12 meter yachts that launched the modern era of the America's Cup.

Every watch is carved out of a single block of stainless steel. Scratch resistant sapphire crystal. Water resistant to 333 feet. Distinctively styled for Ladies and Gents, including three Gent's chronographs. Solid stainless steel bracelets and double-locking clasps for added protection.
