Amerman parents protest late offer to change schools

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

The Northville Board of Education meeting room was filled Monday night with concerned parents expressing displeasure over how the beginning of the school year was handled for Amerman elementary students.

Parents of kindergartners and first and fifth grade students received a letter dated Aug. 26 giving them the option of moving their children to Moraine elementary, where class sizes were smaller. The letter, which some parents say they didn't receive until two days before school was to start, was seen by some as an unacceptable way to deal with an overcrowding problem at Amerman.

Parents questioned whether school officials were acting in the best interest of the district's students, raising questions regarding growing class sizes.

"We have heard a lot of lip service about quality education for our children," said Amerman parent Tom Watkins. "But I haven't seen much action."

Trustee Jean Hansen said parents need to look at the big picture when it comes to enhancing learning opportunities for the district's students. When the board makes decisions, she said, it must concern itself with the entire district, not just a small segment of it.

"People are not looking at the whole picture," she said. "This is a tion at the high school. The car behaves erratically when fed data about alcohol intake and body weight.

Simulator gives students lesson in knowing when to say when

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

The Northville High School parking lot was filled with voluminous laughter, screeching tires and surprised expressions last Thursday as students, faculty and staff were able to sit momentarily in the shoes of a drunk driver.

The Chrysler Drunk Driving Simulator visited the high school Thursday to demonstrate to students that mixing alcohol and driving could lead to tragic consequences. Through all the laughter at the squealing tires and erratic driving, many students walked away with an important message—drinking and driving is nothing to play with.

"It's scary because there is no control," said Northville senior Kristin Corder. "I had only four beers (registered in the computer) and I missed a curve. It really makes you realize what it would be like."

The drunk driving simulator is a 1995 Plymouth Neon, which is modified with an on-board computer that can be programmed to delay the car's breaking and steering response time. The effects of one to 12 drinks can be

Law to lower underage sobriety threshold

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Come November, a new state law will take effect that may have underage drivers thinking twice before they drink and slip behind the wheel of a car.

Last week many students at Northville High School were able to experience the effects of drunken driving first-hand with Chrysler Corp.'s drunk driving simulator. The simulator made a timely visit—two months before a law goes into effect lowering the illegal blood-alcohol level to .02 percent for drivers younger than 21. The legal limit for drivers 21 years and older is .10 percent blood-alcohol content.

Not only will the parameters of the legal limit be more strictly defined, but once underage drivers are caught, they will face stiff penalties in the aftermath.

Edenderry compromise is deemed illegal

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Northville Township's board of trustees has sent the recently approved Woods of Edenderry compromise back to the drawing board—or, more appropriately, to the lawyers' desks.

The unexpected development came during the board's meeting one week ago. The trustees unanimously voted to rescind their Aug. 25 approval of the deal, which Woods developer Mark Guidobono and the residents of the Edenderry Hills subdivision also agreed to. The board also voted to table discussion of the matter until its Sept. 22 meeting.

At the meeting three weeks ago, the three sides announced the compromise concerning the controversial Woods proposal and the board then voted to accept it. Township attorney Len Krzyzniak, however, did not review the agreement until after the board approved it on Aug. 25.

Supervisor Karen Baja said that Krzyzniak found that the agreement violated state law. Therefore, she added, the board decided that the best course of action was to rescind their approval and send the deal back for an all-sides lawyers' huddle.

They are hammering out new terms for the agreement now and are expected to bring back a new version for the board's consideration and possible approval at the Sept. 22 meeting.

First proposed in April, the ## Queen is named, everything's set

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

It's finally here. All year people have been waiting to dust off that parasol and get dressed up in the romantic styles of yesteryear.

Northville's Sixth annual Victorian Festival will kick off tomorrow with the popular parade at 6:30 p.m. thorough the downtown.

And one of the weekend's main highlights? Well, of course its the Victorian queen.

This year Northville resident Valerie Ernst will serve as Queen for the festival. Ernst was chosen from a number of applicants whose names were submitted for the honor.

Ernst will ride through Northville's streets in horse and carriage during the parade. For being selected as queen, she receives two free tickets to the Victorian ball at the Northville Community Center Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Elizabeth's Bridal Manor of Northville will provide a crown and an elegant Victorian gown.

Ernst said it is an honor to be queen because she and her children have always marched in the parade and dressed up for the festival. This weekend will provide a whirl of activities with walking tours of the historic district, human cannon balls filling the skies, acrobatic clown divers, aerialist acts, art exhibits, children's games, an antique show and of course Dr. Rudy's medicine act.

And just when your stomach starts to rumble for something to eat, hordes of organizations will be situated on Center Street to cater to every craving.

Northville seniors will hold their traditional ice cream social, staffing the soda fountain at Crawford's Bakery during the weekend to raise money for the Northville Seniors Center. The bakery is donating half the proceeds from soda fountain sales all weekend long to the seniors.

Man not guilty of sex charge

Note: This is a follow-up story to an article that ran in The Northville Record Nov. 11, 1993. The names of the alleged victim and the suspect were omitted from that story to protect the identity of the underage girl. Those same names were also left out of the follow-up, again to preserve the anonymity of the juvenile.

A Northville Township man has been found not guilty of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, a charge that could have landed him in prison for life.

Police News

Arsonist's torch destroys vacant township home

An abandoned home on Sheldon Road burned up last Saturday in what township police and fire officials say is a case of arson.

Township police received a report of the fire the evening of Sept. 3. The responding officer said he found the home, which is next to the Fairweather Building on Sheldon, on fire, with flames coming through the roof.

Fire Chief Bill Zimendak said the fire was the work of an arsonist and possibly involved an accelerant of some kind. The house, unoccupied and in poor condition according to officials, was a total loss. Due to its condition, however, the loss value was placed at $0.

Police have no suspects or witnesses at this time.

LARCENY: A West Main Street man reported his golf clubs stolen out of his garage last Monday.

Township police said that the man believes the theft occurred between Aug. 31 and Sept. 5. His garage door was open, the man said. Police have no witnesses, suspects or evidence at this time.

The clubs and related equipment are valued at $790.

LARCENY II: A Westland couple unsuccessfully tried to steal a VCR from Meijer's last Tuesday. They were apprehended with their 1-year-old son.

Store detectives told township police they saw the 35-year-old man and 33-year-old woman put the VCR into a shopping cart then covered it with their coats. They then attempted to leave Meijer's, the detectives said.

Detectives stopped them and called police. Both were arrested and ticketed for attempted larceny. The woman was released with her son. Her husband was taken to police headquarters, however, after a computer check listed two outstanding warrants for his arrest.

The warrants are for charges of retail fraud and drug violations. The man was held until Westland police officers picked him up.

LARCENY III: Unknown persons stole a $300 circuit breaker box from a home under construction on Woodside Drive in Northville Township one week ago.

Township police said that someone had pried the box off the unfinished home's cement basement wall. Police have no suspects, witnesses or evidence at this time.

BURGLARY: A Waterwheel Road resident told township police that someone had stolen three bikes from her garage last Thursday.

The woman said that sometime between midnight and 3 a.m. on Sept. 8 she heard her garage door open, which was unlocked. It did not register as odd to her, the reporting officer in the case said, until her son found the bikes gone later that day.

Someone also went through her car on her driveway—which was also unlocked—but took nothing, she added. Two of the bikes are valued at $300, the remaining one at $50. Police have no evidence, witnesses or suspects at this time.

MARIJUANA: Township police arrested a 35-year-old Levering man last Thursday for possession of marijuana.

A Baseline Road resident called police to report a suspicious vehicle parked nearby with someone in it on the evening of Sept. 8. The responding officer said he saw the man lying across the front seat of the tool-type truck.

He smelled burning marijuana coming from the inside of the truck's cab, the officer said. When asked what he was doing there, the man said that he was going to work on construction equipment nearby the next morning. He wanted to get some sleep, the man said, and denied that any marijuana was in the cab.

The officer then said he spotted a partially-smoked marijuana cigarette on the floor of the cab. The man then admitted to having the substance in the truck.

The man was arrested, taken to police headquarters, issued a citation and released.

Citizens with information about the above incidents are urged to call Northville City Police at 349-1234 or Northville Township Police at 349-9400.

Police catch up to drunk driver who tried to flee

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Northville Township police arrested a local resident for drunk driving and attempting to elude an officer on Sept. 9.

The reporting officer in the case said that he was parked near the Swan Harbour apartment complex at about 2 a.m. on Friday. While there, the officer said, he saw the man's car heading eastbound on Seven Mile, doing between 60-65 miles an hour.

He began to follow the car, the officer said, observing it swerving across lanes twice. The officer said he then activated his overhead lights and siren to get the car to pull over.

The car turned onto a street off of Seven Mile and slowed down, the officer said. It did not stop, however, and began accelerating as it turned onto another street. The officer followed and said that the man drove his car through the front yard of his own home, trying to get to the back of the house.

He didn't make it, the officer continued, striking a tree in the front yard. The officer said he then stopped his patrol car and approached the man's car on foot.

"I'm on private property," the officer quoted the man as saying in his report. "What the f— do you want? You better have a warrant."

After getting out of the car, the man told the officer that he wanted him off of his property, the report said. At one point, the officer added, the man tried to push by him to get to the house. The officer stopped him.

The man continued to be "loud and boisterous" as another officer arrived, the first officer said, and again had to be stopped from going into the house. The suspect admitted to drinking seven beers and smoking marijuana that evening, police reports said.

After failing field sobriety tests and refusing to take a preliminary breath test, the man again attempted to push past the officers and get into the house. He was again stopped but refused to comply with their order to turn around and put his hands behind his back before being handcuffed, police said.

He continued to be non-cooperative, the officer said, and the two had to force the man to lean over the trunk of the car. The man put his right hand underneath his body, the officer said, and would not allow the officers to put it behind his back. The officer said he applied pressure to a nerve center until the man agreed to comply.

He was taken to police headquarters and issued citations for drunk driving and fleeing and eluding police. Breathalyzer testing there showed him to have a blood alcohol level of .19-.20 percent, twice the legal limit.

Fire Safety activities part of Festival

The Northville Fire Department is going to present fire safety "then and now" at two locations during the Victorian Festival.

The Plymouth/Northville Fire Safety House will be on display during the Victorian Festival weekend.

The Fire Safety House provides an excellent opportunity to demonstrate home fire safety and escape techniques under realistic conditions.

The Fire Safety House will be located on West Main Street in the vicinity of the MAGS building and will be open during Festival hours.

The Fire Department will also host an open house at the fire station located at 215 W. Main Street on Saturday, Sept. 17 only, during the Festival hours.

The open house will more directly honor the spirit of the Victorian Festival by displaying antique fire fighting apparatus and equipment.

Refreshments, balloons and fire safety information will be available at the open house.

Sometimes the smallest feet must travel the longest distance.

Ten years ago, the road to a normal childhood would have been too long for this baby to survive. Your donations to the United Way have supported the kind of medical research in prenatal care that gives premature babies like this the chance to survive.

The United Way supports some 140 agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties that help the homeless, the illiterate, the unemployed and many more. And because nearly 90 cents of every dollar you contribute goes directly to those in need, you can be sure your

Speech clinic offered

The Northville School District will provide a speech and language clinic Sept. 29 and 30. The district's speech and language staff will evaluate and identify potential speech and language difficulties of preschool children.

To arrange to discuss concerns with a speech and language teacher, call 344-8453 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:40 p.m. Appointments will be scheduled for either Sept. 29 or 30 at the elementary schools.

To determine speech and language difficulties, parents should consider several questions:

- Do you have difficulty understanding your child?
- Does your child have any physical problems which might interfere with language development?
- Does your child fail to answer questions, ask to have words repeated or often misunderstand simple commands or directions?
- Does your child appear to "get stuck" on words while speaking?
- Does your child seem to have difficulty with expression?
- Has your child failed to acquire pre-academic skills due to his or her ability to understand concepts like colors, sizes, shapes and numbers?

Mill Race Matters

Activities abound in September for Northville Historical Society members. This weekend features the community's sixth annual Victorian Festival. The Old Fashioned Picnic on Sunday afternoon at Mill Race Village serves as one of the festival's annual highlights.

On that day residents and visitors alike are invited to enjoy an afternoon in the Historic Village. Ongoing children's games take place on the village green. Lacemakers, basket weavers, quilters, rug hookers, weavers, and the village's blacksmith provide handicraft demonstrations throughout the afternoon while trained docents keep open all of the village buildings.

The Hat contest at 2 p.m. and the annual duck race at 2:30 p.m. highlight the afternoon. Brown bottle pop will be available for sale. Hugh and Mary Lou Battley playing the dulcimer will provide ongoing music. John Quinn plans to demonstrate and play antique musical instruments as well.

Mill Race Village will be open from noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 17, and Sunday, Sept. 18, but the picnic events highlight Sept. 18. Members are encouraged to join in the community parade sponsored by the Northville Chamber of Commerce which begins Friday evening at 6:30 p.m. All marchers must wear Victorian-like attire.

Two weeks later on Friday, Sept. 30, and Saturday, Oct. 1, the Northville Historical Society presents its 25th annual Tivoli Fair Arts and Crafts Show. The show provides the best of craftsmanship. This year over 140 exhibitors will show a variety of baskets, wreaths, paintings, tin and metal work, jewelry, woodwork, clothing, flowers and more. Door prizes will be given.

Admission is $3 with the show running Friday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Food is available. Proceeds from this two-day event are used to restore, maintain, and operate Mill Race Village. The profits from this effort provide more than half of the village's operating budget. Community residents are encouraged to support this worthwhile endeavor while enjoying one of Michigan's best arts and crafts events.

Thank you this week to George and Dorothy Hunter for their donation and to Ann DeForest for her donation in memory of Donald Ware. Also thank you to Andrew Stuart who supervised painting the Hunter House fence as his Eagle Scout project. Congratulations Andrew.

Thunder to set up dunk tank

The Northville Thunder under 12 boys soccer team is operating a dunk tank Friday through Sunday at the Victorian Festival to help raise money for their team.

Al Ferrara, member of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce member Al Ferrara, Northville Board of Education trustee Tom Gudritz, Northville Student Assistance Director Charlie Stilec, and coaches and team members will participate.

The cost for the dunk tank is $1 for three balls. The boys are also selling Thunder juggling sticks for $10.

The players and team members hope to raise money for tournament fees and new equipment.

Golf course deadline nearing?

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Could an area developer's offer to Northville Township of a golf course and swimming pool soon expire?

No guarantees, but some signs point that way.

The word is that Gary Sakwa will have to soon say whether he's going to pass or play on his bid to buy 99 acres of land at the intersection of Six Mile and Sheldon roads. His option to purchase the two parcels involved expires by the end of the month.

Sakwa, based out of Farmington Hills, earlier this summer made an unusual proposal to township officials concerning the Brooklane golf course and the Haller property. They're located on the southeast and northeast corners of Six and Sheldon.

His plan called for a subdivision of single-family homes that would be more crowded than township ordinances normally allow. In return for approval of that, Sakwa said he would build and then give the township a nine-hole golf course and a swimming pool.

He discussed the idea last month with the board of trustees. Several trustees at that meeting raised concerns about the plan.

Some feel that the township shouldn't try to own a golf course, fearing that it would be a money-loser. Others say they don't want to allow the higher home density which Sakwa is seeking.

At the meeting, Sakwa said he would consider all the discussion and then decide what to do. To date, township officials have not yet heard what his decision will be. Some observers, however, say he'll have to decide soon, since the option's expiration date is fast approaching. It appears, they add, that Sakwa may choose to fold his tents and drop his attempts to buy the land and build the subdivision.

Sakwa did not respond to contact attempts by The Northville Record.

His plan calls for 280 single-family homes on 99 acres. Of that, 29.3 acres are set aside for the golf course. Six of Brooklane's existing holes would be preserved. Three new ones would be built on the north side of Six Mile and a bridged or tunnel would connect the three holes on the north with the six on the south.

Sakwa has proposed an alternative plan which calls for 243 lots of at least 125-foot widths; there is no golf course, however, and there is significantly less open space than the first plan.

Last month, the trustees did agree to have the Parks & Recreation Commission conduct a general feasibility study on the idea of the township owning a golf course.

A township consultant estimate that the feasibility study will take about 30 days.

ARTS AND CRAFTS FAIR

Enrich and excite your artistic senses at Novi Town Center's Art On The Town. For two days, September 17th & 18th, you can browse through on-site displays and select from numerous arts & crafts presented by talented local artists. Exhibitors will be displaying all original works including everything from painting, pottery, drawings, collages, graphics, sculptures, handcrafted jewelry, textiles, enamels, wood to metal works, glass, photography, plus all works regarded as crafts.

Novi Town Center's Art On The Town is sponsored by The Novi Town Center, WQRS FM105 and The Novi Parks & Recreation Department.

Think we're costly? Take a closer look

Maybe you've always thought of us as the high-cost hospital. Quite frankly, we were. Four years ago the University of Michigan Hospitals had the most expensive general care room rates around. Now we have just about the lowest.

For the second time in three years we've reduced our daily rate for general care rooms, for a total drop of 25 percent since 1992. This is among the lowest general care room rates in southeastern Michigan.

We've also frozen intensive care room rates for the fourth straight year, and other costs have held steady for two years.

While we're cutting costs, our long tradition of providing quality health care remains the same.

- We were recently named one of the 10 best academic medical centers in the country by a leading health care information firm.
- Eighty-seven of our physicians were included in the book, The Best Doctors in America. U-M-affiliated physicians accounted for more than half of the listings from the entire state of Michigan.

We're raising the quality of your health care, while lowering the bill for it. It seems to be getting costly not to use the University of Michigan Hospitals for your health care needs.

Man facing life in prison found not guilty in court

The man, who had been accused of raping a teenage relative, was acquitted of the charge in Recorder's Court June 30.

The charge dated back to October of last year when the alleged victim told her high school teacher she had been raped by a member of her family. The instructor later reported the incident, triggering a police investigation and, ultimately, a criminal indictment.

Members of the family and the suspect's lawyer say the ordeal turned out to be a nightmare for an unjustly accused man. They say the case should never have gone to trial since it was obvious the girl had fabricated the story.

The prosecution team, however, says justice was not served because a man they believe to be guilty was allowed to walk out of the courtroom free and unpunished.

Defense attorney James Howarth said the claim of rape was obviously fictitious because the girl had a history of making false sex abuse accusations against adult male family members. About four years earlier, the girl accused another relative of fondling her but recanted her story as soon as the trial got under way.

Howarth said several members of the family came forward to discredit the girl during the investigation, but authorities, particularly Northville Township Police Detective John Werth, wouldn't listen.

Howarth said Werth, who headed up the investigation for the township public safety department, pursued the case with single-minded determination, insisting that the trail run its course.

"He was exceedingly overzealous," Howarth said. "I couldn't help wondering: Should he have been so persistent knowing the background of the case?"

According to Howarth, bond for the suspect was set at $75,000 during arraignment in 35th District Court last November. Most accused offenders are released from custody after posting 10-percent of their bond, but in this case Judge John McDonald, citing the severity of the charge, required full cash payment.

The family couldn't raise the sum and, consequently, the man was incarcerated in Wayne County Jail, "the functional equivalent of the Black Hole of Calcutta," in Howarth's words. "I don't even like to visit there," he added.

The man, 59 at the time and weakened by diabetes and recent bypass surgery, languished in jail for 30 days until a bond hearing resulted in more affordable terms of release, Howarth maintained.

"This was a horrible miscarriage of justice. Not only did this man with a heart condition have to stay locked up for 30 days, he also had to face the possibility of life in prison for another six months (before the trial ended)."

In Michigan, judges can impose life sentences for first degree criminal conduct convictions.

At one point, Howarth said, the Wayne County prosecutor handling the trial recommended dropping the criminal charge but Werth pressed on, eventually getting a new prosecutor assigned to the case.

Howarth said several friends and family members, including a psychiatrist and a retired gynecologist, came forward to testify against the girl in court. At the conclusion of the bench trial, Recorder Judge Maggie Drake found the accused not guilty, characterizing the girl's claims as "incredible to say the least."

Howarth said the trauma the family suffered from the episode was disastrous, adding that at one point state officials even initiated a charge of parental neglect against the girl's mother. The charge was later dismissed.

The family could have been spared, Howarth believes, if Werth had heeded the pleas of the family.

Prosecuting attorney Maria Oxholm admitted that the judge was "harsh in her finding of fact" when pronouncing the not guilty verdict, but rejected claims that Werth conducted a flawed investigation.

"He acted very appropriately," she said. "There was medical evidence to substantiate the claim of penetration. The family didn't believe her (the alleged victim) and didn't want to believe her."

When contacted, Werth said he still thinks the accused man is guilty of a serious crime.

"I firmly believed that he did it and I was going to present the case as best as I could," he said. "A certified nurse midwife at the U of M Medical hospital testified that she had abrasions and there was blood on the bedspread of the parents' room; the judge just apparently didn't believe her."

Werth said he doubted the family's explanation that the girl used her mother's large tampon to inflict the damage on herself.

Werth testified during the trial that the girl's mother admitted during a police interview that her husband was guilty of the crime. The detective, however, was unable to produce written evidence of the admission from the notes he took during the investigation.

According to Werth, township police have been called to the family's home to answer complaints of domestic violence. He said he believed the prosecution lost the case when a teenage friend made statements under oath that contradicted portions of the alleged victim's testimony.

Former supervisor named to committee

Northville Township's ethics committee is seeing a new, but very familiar face.

The board of trustees at its Sept. 8 meeting appointed former township supervisor Don Thomson to the municipality's ethics committee. He replaces member Tony Wolf, whose term expired earlier this year.

The committee is a creation of the current board of trustees. It's intended to handle claims of violations of the township's recently-passed ethics policy for elected officials and employees, another board invention.

The five-member committee meets only when a complaint is submitted and, to date, none has. Thomson will serve a one-year term.

Inquiry centers on sale of land

the board's Monday night meeting and said the reason he brought it up was to inform the community of what was going on.

"I don't think there was any wrong doing," McMahon said, adding that the principle reason for the contract was to obtain land suitable for the building of a new school.

Unfortunatly, McMahon said, the prosecutor's inquiry is imposing costs on the district from attorney fees and staff time.

Controversy surrounding the construction of the Woods of Edenderry subdivision on the land purchased from the school district began when residents of neighboring Edenderry Hills opposed a plan to construct connector roads through the two areas.

Edenderry Hills residents are opposed to the connectors because many feel the roads will increase traffic through their subdivision, causing safety hazards for residents and children and contributing to a higher crime rate in the area.

Edenderry Hills resident Robert Grant expressed concern over the sale at the meeting.

Grant said the land sale and purchase were made without adequate input from the community and without a proper bid procedure.

"You bought this land with taxpayers' money," he said. "You should have used taxpayers for input when you made the sale."

"The board had an ethical and moral duty to do what's best for the community. So why not consult the community?" he said.

Bolitho admitted the board did not consult the community regarding the specifics of the deal; however, any action taken by the board was done publicly, as mandated by law.

"We thought this was a real winning proposition for both sides," Bolitho said. "There are very few areas where there is an adequate amount of land to build a school on. This was a piece of property we could obtain without further expense to the community."

The school district closed on the agreement with Cambridge Homes in March 1994. The property sold to the developer was not conducive for school construction, Bolitho said.

In addition to the 40 acre site at Eight Mile Road, the district will receive approximately $1.3 million for the full term of the contract, including a 7 percent interest on the annual payments.

The money from the sale cannot be used for general operating expenses but must go to retire district bond debt.

Grant said he feels the deal did not make sense because the land is worth much more money than what the developer paid.

In 1992 Lambrecht Co. from Detroit appraised the Six Mile land and determined the market value to be $13,700 per acre. The district sold the land to Guidobono for $25,000 per acre.

In 1974, the school district purchased 120 acres of the site for $768,000, approximately $6,400 per acre. And in 1975 the district bought an additional 9.46 acres at $65,000, approximately $6,800 per acre. The 1994 sale amounted to more than three times what the district paid for it in 1974, but Grant feels it should have been even higher.

"This little quadrant of land in Northville is a pretty red-hot market," he said.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING A PORTION OF THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART 1. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 94 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article XVIII, GENERAL PROVISIONS, Section 18.11 ACCESSORY BUILDINGS, paragraph 9, Central Air Conditioning Units, Heat Pumps, Swimming Pool Heaters or Any Other Noise-producing Mechanical System to read as follows:

a. A central air conditioning unit, heat pump, swimming pool heater or any other noise-producing mechanical system may be located as follows:

(1) Residential:

- 1.1 Within a rear yard provided that such system is not located closer to a side lot line than the distance required by the side yard setback.
- 1.2 Within a side yard setback provided that such system does not extend into the setback by more than three (3) feet and if the abutting parcel is any of the following:
  - (a) A street
  - (b) Occupied by a house that has no doors or windows on the side of the house facing the side yard.
  - (c) Occupied by an existing house located so that the distance between the abutting house is a minimum of thirty-three (33) feet.
  - (d) Vacant. The minimum side yard setback of the existing lot must be eighteen (18) feet.
  - (e) Occupied by or zoned for a use other than one-family residential.

(2) Non-residential:

- 2.1 Within a rear yard provided that such system is not located closer to a side lot line than the distance required by the side yard setback. If the rear yard abuts a residential district, screening in accordance with paragraph c. below shall be provided.
- 2.2 Within a side yard setback provided the abutting parcel is any of the following:
  - (a) A street.
  - (b) Occupied by or zoned for a use other than one-family residential.

b. Where a front yard setback is required in the side yard of a corner lot, such system shall not be located within such required setback.

c. If such system is located in a side yard or if it is located in a rear yard of a corner lot and is visible from the street, it shall be screened with landscape material with the starting size not less than the height of the system. A decorative screen wall or fence combined with landscape material shall be permitted. The height of the combined materials shall not be less than the height of the system.

PART II. Conflicting Provision Repealed.

Any Ordinance or part of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 94, as amended, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

PART III. Effective Date:

PART IV. Adoption.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING A PORTION OF THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART 1. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 94 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article XVIII, GENERAL PROVISIONS, Section 18.24 SITE PLAN REVIEW, paragraph 3, g, Final Site Plan (4) Structure Dimensions and Locations, 4.1 to read as follows:

3.g. Final Site Plan Review

(4) Structure Dimensions and Locations

4.1 Each structure shall be completely dimensioned in plan or, alternately, if the structure outline involves many offsets or jogs, the plan may show a rectilinear envelope within which the structure will be totally contained. If the latter alternative is adopted, spacing between envelopes and property boundaries, roadways and other features shall be not less than the minimum spacing for structures in the same circumstances. Any central air conditioning units, heat pumps or other mechanical systems shall be shown to scale on the plan.

PART II. Conflicting Provision Repealed.

Any Ordinance or part of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 94, as amended, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

PART III. Effective Date:

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART 1. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 94 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article XVIII, GENERAL PROVISIONS, Section 18.28 DIVISION OF PLATTED OR UNPLATTED LAND NOT REGULATED BY PUBLIC ACT 288 OF 1967 as follows:

Section 18.28 DIVISION OR COMBINATION OF UNPLATTED LAND

1. Intent: This Section is intended to establish an orderly procedure and review standards for the division and combination of land in a manner consistent with the Township Master Plan and the purposes of this Zoning Ordinance, to protect property values, and to ensure safe and adequate vehicular access to individual lots.

2. Applicability: This Section regulates divisions of land and combination of lots for sale, or lease of more than one (1) year, or of building development as building sites, for land not regulated by Public Act 288 of 1967. The following divisions or combinations of land are regulated by this Section:

- a. A parcel of unplatted land divided into not more than four (4) parcels each containing ten (10) acres or less and into additional parcels each containing more than ten (10) acres.
  - b. Combinations of parcels or lots which are not within, or would not become part of, a subdivision regulated by the Township Subdivision Regulations.
3. Plan Submittal: The applicant shall submit the following information:
- a. Completed land division/combination application form with proof of ownership or equitable interest in the property and administrative review fee as established and periodically changed by the Township Board.
  - b. Fifteen (15) copies of a site plan of the property to be divided or combined, accurately drawn at an engineer's scale of not smaller than one inch equals one hundred feet (1"=100'), prepared by a Registered Land Surveyor or Civil Engineer licensed to practice in the State of Michigan. The plans shall include the information listed in the chart below.

REQUIREMENT	Division into 2 lots	Division into 3 or more lots
1. A location map at an appropriate scale illustrating the subject lot(s) in relationship to surrounding parcels and street system.	■	■
2. Name and address of the property owner and applicant if not the property owner.	■	■
3. Name, address and professional seal of the registered land surveyor or engineer who prepared the plan and easement information.	■	■
4. A legal description of the existing lot and each resultant lot.	■	■
5. A boundary survey in accordance with PA 132 or 1970 of the lots illustrating dimensions.	■	■
6. A Topographic survey by contours on USGS datum at intervals of not more than two (2) feet.	If lot contains a water body or potential wetland	■
7. Site information including the location of streams, public drains, ponds, and boundaries of any areas which have characteristics of wetlands regulated by the State of Michigan (see item 5b) and other natural or man-made features or special interest in development and use of the parcels.		■
8. The survey location of all buildings and structures on the lot and within 100 feet of all property lines with notes indicating if the buildings and structure are to be retained, modified or removed.	■	■
9. Existing access points adjacent to or across from the subject parcel frontage within 150 feet of the subject parcel.	only if a new driveway is being proposed	■
10. Boundaries of any regulated woodlands identified on the Official Township Woodlands Map.	■	■
11. Land area of existing and resultant lots(s) including and exclusive of public rights-of-way.	■	■
12. Type, location and dimensions of all existing and proposed easements.	■	■
13. An accurate legal description for all easements providing access for public utilities or services and recitations of the purpose for which the easement is created		■
14. Design information on the required private road in accordance with Section 18.35 STANDARDS FOR PRIVATE ROADS AND ACCESS EASEMENTS.	only if a private road is proposed	■
15. Locations, caliper size, and species of trees which are within the private road access easement that are 8 inch caliper and large in designated woodland areas and 12 inch caliper and larger in non-designated areas as regulated by the Township Tree and Woodland Protection Ordinance. Tree replacement information in accordance with Section 18.34 TREES AND WOODLANDS PROTECTION.		■
16. Completely dimensioned limits within which principal structure and accessory buildings or structures shall be confined on each parcel.	■	■

■ = required information

c. One (1) 8-1/2x11 inch transparency for use with on overhead projector at the Planning Commission meeting. The transparency may be rendered, if desired.

d. A copy of the most recent tax bill pertaining to the parcel(s) with verification from the Township Treasurer and any other taxing jurisdictions that all taxes have been paid.

e. Documentation from the Wayne County Department of Public Service that adequate sight distance is provided at any proposed access point along a public street.

f. Documentation from the Wayne County Department of Public Health on the suitability of land for safe installation of a septic tank and individual well if public utilities are not available. Locations must be shown on the site plan.

4. Plan Review Process:

a. Applicant submits information to the Planning and Zoning Department at least nineteen (19) days prior to the Planning Commission meeting at which the request will be reviewed.

b. The Clerk's office shall notify adjacent landowners of the proposed land division/combination and the date, time and place of the Planning Commission meeting at which the request will be considered.

c. The submittal is reviewed by Township staff and consultants.

d. The application, site plan and supporting documentation and Township staff and consultant review comments are submitted to the Planning Commission.

e. The Planning Commission shall review the request for conformance with Township regulations and conformance with the standards of Section 5 below. The Planning Commission may approve, deny or table the site plan and give the proprietor written notice of the action. If any variances are needed, the Planning Commission shall table the application and may make a recommendation or provide comments to the Zoning Board of Appeals regarding the matter.

f. If the land division or combination is approved, the Township Attorney and Engineer shall review any easements and private road maintenance agreements and related documents. All access easements and private roads shall be designed and maintained through a joint maintenance agreement in accordance with Section 18.35 STANDARDS FOR PRIVATE ROADS AND ACCESS EASEMENTS.

g. Upon receipt of written approval by the Township Attorney and Engineer, the easement, private road maintenance agreement and related documents shall be reviewed and approved by the Township Board of Trustees.

h. The Township Clerk shall record the easement and related documents with the Wayne County Register of Deeds.

i. Following the above, the resultant parcels shall be eligible for building permits. Compliance with the Township Tree and Woodlands Protection Ordinance shall be required as part of the building permit review and inspection process.

5. Standards for Review: The following standards shall be used as the basis for the review and approval for a land division or combination:

a. Compliance with State Law. An application for division of land shall not be approved unless it is in compliance with the Subdivision Control Act, Michigan Public Act 288 of 1967, as amended. Accordingly, the following conditions apply:

(1) An acreage tract or acreage parcel of land may be divided pursuant to the requirements of this Ordinance only if such division creates less than five (5) parcels of land each of which is less than ten (10) acres, or where such division creates no more than four (4) parcels of land each of which is less than ten (10) acres as a result of successive divisions over a period of ten (10) years.

(2) A subdivision lots, outlot, or other parcel of land in a recorded plat may be divided pursuant to the requirements of this ordinance only if such lot, outlot, or other parcel is divided into not more than four (4) parcels, and provided further that the resulting lots, outlots, or other parcels shall comply with the minimum width and area requirements specified in the Subdivision Control Act.

b. Net Area: Each parcel resulting from the proposed division shall meet the following standards:

(1) Have a net area not less than that required for a lot in the particular zoning district, as specified in Article XVII SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS, exclusive of any area occupied by a public street right-of-way or an access easement.

(2) No parcel shall have a net area of less than one (1) acre unless a public water supply main and sanitary sewer meeting Northville Township requirements are installed (or an acceptable guarantee is deposited with the Township to insure such installation).

(3) In no case shall the net area of each parcel be less than the median net area of other lots and within five hundred (500) feet of the parent parcel measured from any point along the lot line, provided that the maximum area shall be twice the area required from the district in which the subject parcel(s) is located. If there are condominiums within the 500 foot area, the calculation for net area of those "parcels" shall be calculated as the gross land area in that condominium project divided by the number of units in that project. This standard is intended to ensure harmony with the surrounding land development pattern, permit good transition between zoning districts, and respect the reasonable expectation of nearby land owners that future lot areas will be harmonious with the established pattern.

c. Required Information and Permits: No land division shall be approved unless all of the required information listed under item 3 above, "Plan Submittal" has been provided.

d. Buildable Area: For any parcel where available references or on-site observation indicates potential for a wetland regulated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources under the Goemaere-Anderson Wetland Protection Act, the applicant shall submit a wetland determination study of the site conducted by a qualified wetland consultant or the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. If the study indicates the presence of a regulated wetland, the applicant shall illustrate on a site plan that the proposed lot(s) have sufficient area for building in compliance with the setback requirements listed in Article XVII SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS.

e. Minimum Frontage: The lot frontage along a public street, private road or access easement for any parcels created shall be a minimum of sixty (60) feet, unless the frontage is along a forty (40) foot wide access easement approved by the Planning Commission under the procedures outlined in Section 18.35 STANDARDS FOR PRIVATE ROADS AND ACCESS EASEMENTS.

f. Minimum Lot Width: Each parcel shall provide the minimum lot width as required by ARTICLE XVII SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS, exclusive of the width of any access easement, unless otherwise provided for in Section 18.35 STANDARDS FOR ACCESS EASEMENTS AND PRIVATE ROADS, except land at the end of a private access easement shall meet the land requirements illustrated in Figure 18.35 a. 4. FRONTAGE, WIDTH AND SETBACK MEASUREMENTS ALONG PRIVATE ROADS.

g. Shape of Parcels: Parcels shall resemble rectangles that may be, irregularly shaped as conditions dictate. However, unusual shapes proposed only for the purpose of meeting parcel area or width requirements shall not be permitted.

h. Depth to Width Ratio. The depth to width ratio of parcels created through land division that are ten (10) acres or less in size shall not exceed 4 to 1. Variation from these proportions may be permitted where such action would reduce existing nonconformance with these standards.

i. Building Envelope: Within each parcel shown on each site plan, there shall be delineated and fully dimensioned an area within which the principal structure shall be confined and an area within which accessory buildings shall be confined. The areas so delineated shall be such that, in the opinion and judgement of the Planning Commission, development on each parcel will be in conformity with the spirit and intent of the Ordinance with respect to the particular Zoning District, will be compatible with existing development in the vicinity primarily as to yard relationships, and will not adversely affect adjacent properties. No building permits shall be issued for buildings not located within the limits shown on an approved site plan.

j. Elimination or Reduction of Nonconforming Situations: The land division or combination shall not create and shall eliminate any nonconforming situation or reduce the degree of nonconformity (such as a nonconforming use, lot, building, building setback, access or private road) to the degree deemed practical by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

k. Easement: Approval of a proposed division of land shall be subject to the dedication of any easements necessary for roads, public utilities, bicycle/non-motorized vehicle paths, sidewalks, or other necessary public facilities required. An accurate legal description shall be provided for all such easements, prepared by a Registered Land Surveyor or Civil Engineer, that includes recitation of the purpose of the easement, with grant to the Township, its successors and assigns, in perpetuity, of the right to occupy and use such easement for installation, maintenance and operation of public utilities.

l. Parking Requirements: An application for division of land shall not be approved if it would result in a loss of parking such that development on any of the resulting parcels would be unable to comply with the minimum parking requirements in the Zoning Ordinance.

m. Multiple Zoning Districts: An application for division of land shall not be approved if it would result in parcels with more than one zoning designation, unless the applicant submits an application for rezoning that proposes a single zoning designation on each parcel. The Township may delay taking action on any such land division application until the outcome of the proposed rezoning is known.

n. Special Assessment Districts: In cases where water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, street paving, or other such facilities have been installed by special assessment, and a lot proposed to be divided has been assessed therefore, no division shall be permitted unless the applicant agrees in writing to pay to the special assessment district an additional amount to be determined by the Township Assessor, representing the increased benefit that may be derived through such land division. The additional amount shall be credited to the appropriate special assessment district.

PART II. Conflicting Provision Repealed.

Any Ordinance or part of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 94, as amended, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

PART III. Effective Date:

The provisions of this ordinance shall be in full force and effective immediately upon publication.

PART IV. Adoption.

This ordinance may be adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Northville, pursuant to authority of Act No. 184, Public Acts of 1943, as amended at their next regular/special meeting.

Township works on compost regs

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

While everyone agrees that developing rules to govern composting operations, the board of trustees had little debate last week about who'll pay for the work.

Last month, the trustees-at member Russ Fogg's urging-asked the planning commission to work on amending the township's solid waste ordinance to include rules concerning "commercial" composting operations. At the board's Sept. 8 meeting, however, Mark Abbo said the commission feels the job ought to go to the Water and Sewer Department.

"Composting regulations are not a land use issue," said Abbo, a member of both the board and the commission. "It's a solid waste issue. We feel that Water and Sewer is the appropriate agency to handle it."

The issue is money. The same township officials and township consultants will do the work of putting together the ordinance amendments, no matter who gets the job. The question is whether the $5,000-$10,000 cost for it comes out of the planning department's budget or Water and Sewer's.

The trustees ended up transferring the amendment work to the Water and Sewer department and asked that officials report back to them with the language of a proposed amendment when ready.

The board rejected Trustee Gini Britton's call for a two-pronged strategy: pass a basic amendment to the ordinance incorporating Fogg's suggestions while working to finish a more polished version of the change.

Fogg for months has called for the ordinance change, ever since Browning-Ferris Industries (BFI) tried and failed earlier this year to win board approval for an up-to 20-acre compost site.

The township and BFI spent nine months negotiating over the company's request to set up an outdoor composting center on land adjacent to the township. BFI's current compost site is in Salem Township, just over the Northville Township border. Initially, BFI was looking for the township's OK for a 20-acre site with an opportunity for the company to expand the site in 20-acre increments, to a maximum of 80 acres.

Just before the curtain fell on the negotiations, the company scaled down its request to a single 20-acre compost site. The board denied that request in March, citing concerns over potential odor problems and declines in property values near the Six Mile and Napier sites.

Fogg was one of the still's chief opponents then and is still very skeptical of BFI-style commercial composting in the township. The trustee said he wanted to be ready in the event that BFI or another large company may try to set up a compost operation in the township. The board should be ready to deal with such requests with specific provisions in the ordinance.

"This is a safety net for us," Fogg said.

Fogg said he had two specific provisions in mind. One is a 20 percent limit on nitrogen in composted materials (measured in ratio to carbon or wood chips).

Second, Fogg said, the township should ban outdoor composting. He proposed that all commercial compost operations be enclosed in a building of no more than 100,000 square feet. Another issue to explore, he added, is ordinance amendments limiting what goes into compost piles aside from natural materials, such as pesticides.

Board members said that any rules governing composting should make a distinction between the BFI-variety, for-profit operations and the small-scale home or farm owner setups.

City police conclude seat belt campaign

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Northville City Police were successful this summer in conveying one simple and important message to motorists about seatbelts—wear them.

City police issued 34 seatbelt tickets and 27 verbal warnings on Eight Mile Road as part of a countywide campaign to monitor Wayne County's major roads for safety belt usage.

In early July, the police department received a $1,000 grant to ensure that motorists were buckling up. The funds were used to pay for the 331 1/2 hours city police spent working overtime on the seatbelt campaign.

The main focus of the campaign was education and when police officers pulled someone over, whether they issued a ticket or not, they gave drivers pamphlets and information on safety belt laws and the importance of wearing them, said Captain James Petres of the Northville City Police Department.

In addition to the 61 safety belt tickets and warnings, Northville police issued 11 speeding tickets, one suspended driver's license violation and one registration violation.

The grant was a part of a $30,000 allocation approved in Lansing June 28 to monitor Eight Mile, Ford and Telegraph roads and Michigan Avenue. Livonia, Redford, Flat Rock, Canton, Inkster, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Taylor Van Buren and Wayne County Sheriff police departments were all involved in the campaign.

In the first month of the campaign, county police departments logged 392 hours with 1,271 seatbelt tickets and verbal warnings.

Seatbelt enforcement is described as secondary, meaning drivers cannot be pulled over for the sole reason of not wearing a seatbelt. But $45 tickets can be issued to drivers who are pulled over for other violations and drivers and passengers are in non-compliance.

In addition, police can pull over a motorist for not buckling up a child, a violation which can result in a $60 ticket.

Children under a year old must be secured in a car seat; children between one and four must be in a car seat in the front and belted in the back.

Sewer installation eyed as possible solution to waste management problem on Franklin

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Northville Township officials are trying to find a way now to fix future waste disposal problems on Franklin Road. The solution may be an unpopular one: a mandatory Special Assessment District (SAD) to build a sewer system to replace individual homeowners' septic fields.

Franklin Road runs south from Waterford Road, located near Meads Mill Middle School on Six Mile. Franklin resident Janet Jolley last month sent the township's board of trustees a letter asking for the mandatory SAD. That led to the trustees debating the issue at their Sept. 8 meeting. They ended up asking Director of Public Utilities Bill Anderson to explore solutions to the issue, including the possibility of a forced SAD.

Jolley, Anderson said, has a septic field that isn't in good shape and could fail soon. In her letter, she said that she is one of several people on Franklin in the same boat. She said that she can't get a permit from Wayne County to put in a new field because her land is unsuited for it.

"We believe that a potential health hazard exists," Jolley said in her letter. "If the weather conditions are right, you can smell the sewage in at least two or three (nearby) yards."

Jolley was a supporter of those on Franklin who initiated a voluntary SAD petition effort last year to build a sanitary sewer system. The petition failed after supporters were unable to get a majority of residents' support, as the law requires for a voluntary SAD.

Many residents opposed it because of the thousands of dollars it would have cost some homeowners. Others objected because they just put in new septic fields.

Another option exists, Anderson said: seeing if the Wayne County Health Department would order a mandatory SAD in the interest of public health, safety and welfare. County officials, however, don't seem to be willing to do that, he added.

A third choice is for the township to require an SAD for some or all of the area's residents, something board members said was sure to draw resistance because of the costs involved.

Jolley said that some would be opposed to an SAD, forced or not, but that it's a necessary step.

"We live in the city," she said, "surrounded by house after house. I know that some of the people want our neighborhood to remain rural-like. I think that it would be great but not if you have to risk your health to do so."

His advice, Anderson said, would be for the township to conduct a "neighborhood-by-neighborhood, case-by-case evaluation" of the need for a mandatory SAD.

The board asked Anderson to explore the issue and report back.

Narcs bag field of pot

Officers from Narcotic Enforcement Team and personnel from the Michigan Air National Guard combined forces on Aug. 29 to eradicate a large crop of marijuana growing in an undeveloped field north of Twelve Mile between Taft and Beck road in Novi.

Officers landed a helicopter on loan from the National Guard and confiscated 85 large marijuana plants from the field. Each plant, NET officials said, had the capacity to produce one pound of the narcotic.

No one was arrested in connection with the raid, but NET officers are calling it a victory.

We Deliver Families.

Some people think birth is a woman's concern. It is, of course, but it's also much more.

At St. Mary Hospital, we think it's a family affair, so we make it easier for the father and the whole family to share the wonder of childbirth; before, during and after.

Before you're due — when your anticipation is growing as quickly as your baby — our prenatal classes for expectant families such as Lamaze, breastfeeding and infant care and safety get your family ready for the new arrival.

And when your baby is born — after months of waiting come down to a single day — we make sure that day is everything you meant it to be. Our commitment to family involvement includes flexible visiting hours; time with your baby; and time for father, grandparents, brothers and sisters. And all the while, you'll enjoy private rooms that combine homelike comforts with the support and security of St. Mary Hospital.

Once you're home, we're as close as your phone, with follow-up and basic infant care information.

So, talk with your doctor about St. Mary Hospital. Or call us at (313) 464-WELL to help you find a physician who's right for you. Because when it comes to families... we deliver.

State farmland task force to meet

The Michigan Farmland and Agriculture Development Task Force, appointed by Gov. John Engler, will hold its last public hearing and workshop on Sept. 16 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Novi Civic Center in the council chambers.

The task force has been charged by the governor with drafting a report on the nature and extent of loss of agricultural land in the state.

The impact of urban sprawl on farmland has been significant in southeast Michigan. According to the U.S. Census of Agriculture, farmland acreage in Oakland and Macomb counties declined 30 percent and 22 percent respectively from 1982 to 1992.

Public input is being gathered by the task force to assist in determining policy options. The task force is accepting written comments as well. All written correspondence can be sent to: Michigan Farmland and Agricultural Development Task Force, 600 West St. Joseph Suite 10, Lansing, MI 48933 or call (517) 484-4954.

New restaurant to hold fund-raiser for civic charitable organization

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

The new owner of what was formally the Sheldon Roadhouse will be holding a pre-opening celebration fund-raiser for Northville Civic Concern Sept. 29 at 7 p.m.

Rick Halberg, owner of Emily's restaurant at 505 N. Center St., will not be officially opening his doors for business until the first week in October; however, the fund-raiser will get the community acquainted with Halberg's fine French Mediterranean cooking.

Halberg, former owner of R.I.K.'s restaurant in West Bloomfield, said he chose Northville Civic Concern because of the vital service it provides to the community and because he wanted the assurance that proceeds raised for the group would go directly to help community members.

The fund-raiser will include a five-course meal including desert. Tickets, which are tax deductible, are $50 and can be bought at the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce office.

Civic Concern Director Marlene Kunz said the non-profit group has about 20 volunteers working on a variety of services for the community. The organization provides emergency service for community members, provides furniture, food and clothing for needy families and the elderly and mediates in eviction and utility shut down situations.

The organization also helps provide essentials like toilet paper, tissue, diapers and soap, items that cannot be purchased with food stamps, to families in need and organizes an adopt a family program where community members buy toys for children at Christmas time or provide turkeys at Thanksgiving.

Kunz said Civic Concern works closely with the community and receives referrals from local churches, Northville schools and the city and township police departments. The organization's work is made possible, Kunz said, by support from Northville residents and businesses, with private and public donations and food drives from the schools and other social organizations.

Functions like Halberg's fund-raiser keep Northville Civic Concern going, Kunz said.

Halberg said he is looking forward to the opening of his restaurant, named for his 12-year-old daughter, and is already receiving phone reservations.

The 1850s-style former home is the ideal setting to run his business, he said.

"The chance to work in this house with the type of food I love is a dream come true."

Halberg, who studied at the Culinary Institute of America in New York, will prepare the Mediterranean inspired food every evening. Each night the menu will feature several selections of appetizers, salads and entrees ranging from $24-$30. Beer, wine and mixed drinks will also be served.

For information about tickets to the fund-raiser, call 349-7640.

Seminar to focus on personal finance

A three-part money management seminar will be held in the Northville Senior Center from 6 to 9 p.m. Sept. 22, 29 and Oct. 6.

The seminar, called Successful Money Management, will cover basic personal financial planning topics such as investments, taxes, IRAs and other retirement plans, and developing a personal financial program.

Those attending will receive a confidential personal financial workbook and home study materials.

The seminar is designed for people of all ages, income levels and occupations, including retired persons.

Instructors are professionals from Roney & Co. No products or services will be promoted or offered at the seminar.

A $49 fee covers the cost of instruction and all materials for one couple or a single person. To register or request additional information, call Karl Peters at (810) 349-4140.

Spot of tea, anyone?

Members of the Victorian Tea planning committee look over a collection of teapots and cups in preparation for the event. The tea, a new addition to the Festival this year, will take place in the Victorian ballroom at the Community Center from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Sunday. Food, music, performers and a fashion show will be featured. Tickets are $10 and can be obtained at the Community Center, 303 W. Main; Preferences, 107 E. Main; the Victorian Doll Shop, 117 N. Center; and the Chamber of Commerce building on Main. Pictured are, from left, Victorian Tea chair Bonnie St. Thomas, Mothers Club President Lynda Heaton and event co-chair Jenda Mills.

Novi firm takes first at Homearama

The Winner of the People's Choice Award at Homearama 1994 is a traditional ranch with a walk-out basement. Called "The Georgetown," the winning home was built by Tanck Carpentry Inc. of Novi.

Some of the features that people mentioned for choosing this home were the open floor plan, the master bedroom suite with the separate sitting room and see-through fireplace and the game room and entertainment center in the lower level.

Voters were also asked if they plan to buy a new home within the next 12 months. Thirty two percent said yes. The reason they visited Homearama was to get ideas and see what what is new in the market. Owners of existing homes made up 88 percent of the showgoers and 12 percent were renters.

A Victorian two-story home by McGrath Construction Inc. of Commerce Township too second place. "The Mackinac" features a gazebo built into the front porch and over 800 feet of covered porch in the front and rear. Fireside Homes, Inc. of White Lake Township won third place with its country-style "The Hearthside."

Homearama 1994, the 12th annual showcase of new homes and the only one to be staged this year by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, continues through Sept. 18 in the Brentwood Subdivision of White Lake Township. It is located on Cooley Lake Road just west of Bogle Lake Road. Admission is $6 per person. A plan book describing all the homes is available at the site.

Parents express concern over class sizes in elementary grades

public education system and there are going to be places here and there that you are not satisfied with. I have been on this board for 4 years, and almost every year there is a bubble somewhere."

Watkins said he is concerned with large class sizes in the lower grade levels, but believes, along with many other parents, that adding teachers should be the method to alleviate the problem, not sending letters out to parents giving them the option to switch schools.

Board President Robert McMahon said adding teachers is not as easy as it sounds, because the district is facing financial uncertainty under a revamped state funding scheme.

"To consider making smaller classes with more teachers, this board would have to look at cutting other programs," McMahon said.

David Bolitho, assistant superintendent for administrative services, said that giving parents the option to switch schools has occurred in past years at Silver Springs and with kindergartners at Amerman. The administration has been closely monitoring enrollment trends, Bolitho said, since April of last year; however, enrollment grew all summer and no figures were not evident until late August.

"We are not doing things a whole lot differently this year than in past years," he said. "Maybe we weren't as timely as we should have been, but it was an option. No one twisted anyone's arm."

However, Amerman parents viewed the option to move their children to Moraine elementary as an inconvenient and a disruptive experience that would split up siblings at other grade levels.

"The administration is coping out by asking the parents to get them out of a bad situation," said Amerman parent Mary Rupley.

Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski said the option posed to parents was not a scheme to duck out of a bad situation, but rather to provide parents with alternatives.

"Student learning is absolutely the board's No. 1 goal," he said.

Despite concerns about bursting-at-the-seams classrooms, each of the district's five elementary schools have an average classroom size that is below board mandated levels. The board has set average kindergarten class size at 25 students to one teacher, elementary class sizes at 28 to one and secondary (6-12 grades) at 30 to one.

Currently, elementary average class sizes are: Amerman 26.58:1, Moraine 24.44:1, Silver Springs 26.3:1, Thornton Creek 26.13:1 and Winchester 25.9:1.

Even though Amerman's class average is below board standards, parents feel more should be done.

"Sure the averages are fine if you're on the low side," Watkins said.

Parent Kathy Petlicke said she would like to see a cap set at each grade level because averaging an entire school's class size can be deceiving, with some classes having very few students and others too many.

Northville's track record with class sizes, Rezmierski said, is held in high regard by other school districts. However, if parents feel class size parameters should be reexamined, Rezmierski said school officials would do it.

Amerman has one first grade class with 28 students, while all other first-through-fourth grade classrooms are below the 28 student level. With the fifth grade, two classes have 28 students and one has 31.

One way administrators are dealing with classrooms that exceed the board's parameters is to increase teacher assistant time to two hours a week, the amount of help teachers received before the millage defeat in 1992.

However, adding teacher assistance time is not an adequate solution to large class sizes, Watkins said—adding more teachers is.

"I don't think that is really making a difference in the lives of our teachers," he said.

Rezmierski said it is unlikely the board will hire more teachers this school year, saying the effects of state finance reforms on the district are still unclear.

Lawyer shoots down connector proposal

Woods plan has been controversial from the outset. It calls for 100-odd home lots on land that sits to the south of the existing Edenderry Hills subdivision between Six and Seven Mile west of Sheldon Road. The subdivision's design proposal includes connecting new streets to existing ones in the Hills, something that Hills residents have staunchly opposed.

The Hills streets to be connected now dead-end at the southern edge of the subdivision. Connecting them to the Woods of Edenderry's roads—and thus to Six Mile and Beck Roads—would increase traffic levels and speeds in their subdivision, Hills residents say. The links would mean more crime and the loss of the close-knit character of the neighborhood, they add.

Township police and fire officials, planning consultants and the planning commission do not agree, however. The Department of Public Safety, the consultants and a traffic study done for the Woods plan all concluded that the connections are necessary for faster emergency vehicle access to Edenderry Hills. They add that the links would not substantially increase traffic flow through the Hills.

Wayne County would own the subdivision's roads and has also demanded that the links be included.

Commissioners voted 3-2 in June to recommend that the board approve the Woods plan. At their Aug. 25 meeting, however, trustees voted for the compromise agreement, which is now no longer valid.

The deal had several features:

- Guidobono has gotten the OK from the township and the county to proceed with phase one of a new two-phase Woods plan. It doesn't have any street connections to Edenderry Hills.

Instead, it calls for two long cul-de-sacs in phase one and a third cul-de-sac in phase two. Also part of phase two is a "loop" road running between Pinebrook and Shadbrook, two streets in the Hills. That loop would become part of Edenderry Hills.

- While he works on phase one, Guidobono will seek county approval of phase two. If officials in Detroit give their blessing, the plan goes to the planning commission for consideration and then on to the board.

If county officials say no, however, the deal specifies that the board may consider filing suit against the county. If that were to happen, Guidobono can seek board approval of the June 28 plan. He has also agreed not to try to get the township to approve the loop plan before Aug. 25, 1995, if it is "vigorously" pursuing the lawsuit against the county.

RECORD OPINION

THURSDAY
September 15, 1994

Our Opinion

Police acted reasonably in bringing case to trial

The recent case of a Northville Township man who was acquitted of a first-degree criminal sexual conduct charge raises questions about criminal justice procedures and the public's responsibility to protect the innocent.

The accused, who has remained unnamed in articles appearing in The Northville Record to preserve the anonymity of the alleged victim, spent 30 days in jail awaiting a bond hearing and lived with the possibility of a life sentence until his trial concluded in June. Now that he has been found innocent, his defenders have come forward with a story of hardship at the hands of a legal system that was hell-bent on conviction.

They claim the prosecution pursued the case with the intensity of a bird of prey, refusing to listen to explanations that ran contrary to their preconceived notions about what really happened. As a result of their closed mindedness, the defense says, an innocent man had to spend a month in the horrendous Wayne County Jail and live a half year not knowing if he would lose his freedom for the rest of his life. The real victim in the case, then, was the accused, not the accuser.

Unjust treatment from the strong arm of the law is a terrible fate. The legal protections that many people denounce for standing in the way of criminal convictions are actually meant to minimize the possibility that non-offending citizens could be brought to trial. These safeguards sometimes result in freedom for the culpable, but our traditions of liberty embody the idea that it is better to free the guilty than incarcerate the innocent. That is why the burden of proof is always on the prosecution.

But a significant shift is taking place that's putting law enforcement officials in a precarious position. As more and more horror stories of mistreatment and abuse come to light, society is demanding that authorities become more interventionist. In the popular thinking of the day, police and social services officials have an obligation not just to act after neglect and abuse occur, but must also move to prevent such incidents from ever happening in the first place.

This increased emphasis on preemption has led to the passage of new laws investing officials with greater powers of intrusiveness. In some states, police are now permitted to make arrests when domestic violence threatens to take place, not just when it has already happened. Expectations about the state's role in crime prevention have, indeed, escalated and the refrain "Why did they let it happen?" is commonly uttered during conversations about current events. Recall the public shock and disgust when police found a 9-year-old girl shackled to her bedpost and reporters later uncovered a paper trail documenting the abuse she suffered from her father and step mother.

In many instances, then, authorities are caught between a rock and a hard place. If they don't take vigorous action to intervene and prosecute, they are criticized for helping create a climate that's conducive to crime. If they do act forcefully but fail to secure a conviction, they are condemned for trampling the rights of the accused. In such an atmosphere of arm chair quarterbacking, it's a wonder justice is ever served at all.

After hearing both sides of the story in the case of the acquitted township resident, we believe prosecution representatives and Detective John Werth, who headed up the investigation for the township, acted appropriately in trying to bring the case to trial. They failed to convince the judge of the charge, but that doesn't mean there wasn't reason enough to suspect a serious crime might have occurred. And in today's atmosphere of criminality and abuse, that is enough to seek redress in the courts.

Tip of the hat to those I'll miss

partner will compete in Texas next year for a top spot in the nationals.

But as I interviewed Cronin about her accomplishment, I quickly noticed how the interview had turned around. She was asking me the questions. How did I get into journalism? Did I like my career?

Ever think about becoming a reporter, Connie? I wondered to myself.

Before I left, Cronin made me promise I would let her know where my career took me in life.

OK, Connie, this column is for you and anybody else who cares to know that today is my last day with HomeTown Newspapers. I've accepted an editor's position with a group of 10 twice-weekly newspapers in the Flint area.

In other words, I'm going back where my heart belongs-home.

I will miss a lot of people, many of whom I've worked with on a daily basis. I will miss "Monday morning talks" with Scott "Sporto" Daniel, where we each would give the intricate details of our respective previous weekends.

I will miss checking out the latest jewelry finds at Morrison's with Jan; trips to Burger King with Sharon for another one of our famous "things that make you go hmmm" discussions about life; girl talk with Anna; and the enthusiastic "go get 'em" attitude often displayed by our newest reporter, Yvonne.

I'll really miss Gina's smile, the first thing I'd see after entering the office on Monday and Tuesday mornings. Her friendliness and smiles were always contagious—even on Monday mornings. And I'll miss the weekly doses of infinite wisdom Diane bestowed upon me—whether or not I wanted to hear it.

But, there is one thing I can honestly admit that I won't miss around here. Traffic, traffic and more traffic. My one-hour commutes have more than once been doubled as I've sat in traffic jam after traffic jam or tried to make it home across the icy tundra.

I may be packing up my notebook, but the memories of people like Nina Cambron (hey, when you get as big as Mary Englebreit, let me know if you need a press agent); Sue Korte and the Northville Town Hall lecture series crowd (thanks for the excellent lunches and speakers); Dr. John Cotant (who even after practicing medicine for 50 years still had enough energy to recount his career with me); Pearl Stephens (for taking the time to invite me to her church's fashion show) and Betty Flanders (not only a beautiful musician, but a beautiful person).

Things weren't all that rosy for me when I started here. I had just lost my job as editorial director after the newspaper I had worked for the past seven years was auctioned off. I was going through a divorce and trying to find a place to call my own. I thank God my life is finally together and I can honestly admit I've never been happier.

By the way, uh Connie, I'll need your number. That way when the New York Times or The Washington Post calls me, I'll have to let you know where my career is taking me.

Michelle Harrison, until the end of the day at least, is a staff writer for The Northville Record.

New season is off to good start

Charles Stilec

Wow! What a great way to add prevention to the beginning of the new school year at Northville High School. Through the generous and supportive efforts of some concerned parents of one of our students and with the magnificent coordination by Chrysler Corp. as well as our high school administration there was made available the Chrysler Drunk Driving Simulation Experience using a 1994 Neon.

The car was fitted with a computer to take the person's body weight and number of drinks, then program the car while the student drove to behave like the student was drunk or had been drinking. A driving course was set up in the parking lot and a skilled instructor was in control of the car at all times. Several hundred students drove the car, coming to the realization of their impaired abilities when under the influence. Several hundred more students acted as passengers and felt that feeling of powerlessness with a driver who has been drinking.

From my point of view this program works to educate and cause discussion and reflection. All reports from students and adults alike were positive.

At a time in our community, our state and our nation when drinking drivers, especially underage ones, are the target of the courts, the police and adults, these kids need to start, if they haven't already, to wake up and smell the coffee, as they say. Laws and consequences are getting tougher and breaking the law is very expensive.

Hot off the presses! Even police departments don't have all the details from the state level but come Nov. 1, Michigan's new "zero tolerance" policy for drivers under age 21 takes effect. According to Chrysler, here it is:

Michigan will establish a "zero tolerance" policy for drivers under 21, meaning bodily alcohol content cannot exceed .02 percent. That means even one beer is too many.

Minors with no prior alcohol convictions face: 30- to 90-day license suspension, up to 45 days of community service, and/or up to a $250 fine.

Minors with at least one prior alcohol conviction face: license suspension of 90 days to a year, not more than 60 days of community service, and/or up to a $500 fine.

The offense is a four-point misdemeanor. Refusal of a preliminary breath test is a two-point civil infraction.

Minors will be faced with a $125 driver license reinstatement fee when full driving privileges are returned. Attorney fees could be as much as $2,000, and insurance costs could skyrocket.

In summary the whole "Zero Tolerance" attitude is becoming a reality throughout the state and throughout Northville. If you have further questions contact your local police department, your auto insurance company or me at 344-1825.

Remember, don't drink and drive or ride with someone who has been drinking!

Charles Stilec is the student assistance coordinator at Northville High School and a prevention specialist with the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, an agency funded, in part, by SEMSAS.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This newspaper welcomes letters to the editor. We ask, however, that they be issue-oriented, confined to 400 words and that they contain the signature, address, and telephone number of the writer. The writer's name may be withheld from the publication if the writer fears bodily harm, severe persecution, or the loss of his or her job. The writer requesting anonymity must explain his or her circumstances. Submit letters for consideration by 4 pm Monday for that Thursday's paper. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity, libel, and taste.

The week prior to an election, this newspaper will not accept letters to the editor that open up new issues. Only responses to already published issues will be accepted, with this newspaper being the final arbiter. This policy is an attempt to be fair to all concerned.

NYA too valuable to be jeopardized

The purpose of this letter is to let you know how vital the Northville Youth Assistance Program is, and how so many children and seniors will be hurt if it is discontinued.

The millage did not pass by 18 votes. If NYA continues it will be a tax shift, not a tax increase. My daughter benefits through the swimming lessons and mentoring program. If the millage does not pass, my daughter will not be able to benefit from swimming which helps her asthma tremendously, and she will lose a dear friend she attained through NYA mentoring program.

I am asking that NYA continue. It is a valued service to many.

Kathleen Hassan

Support both millage proposals

To the Editor:

As a retired public school administrator, I want to express my support for both Proposals 1 and 2 in the Nov. 8 township election. The two proposals are for the same services and for the same amounts as Proposals A and B were on the Aug. 2 ballot: 3.84 mills for police and fire services and .40 mill for shared services, which include Northville Youth Assistance, senior citizen programs and Northville Parks and Recreation.

It needs to be emphasized that Proposals 1 and 2 do not represent tax increases to be added to current funding. They will provide the money to continue current services. They are referred to as "dedicated millage." The money generated is earmarked exclusively for the use which voters approve at the ballot box and cannot be used in any other way.

Randy Cole, staff writer for the Northville Record, wrote an excellent article for the Sept. 1 issue which explains "dedicated millage" and provides information about the two proposals. If you missed reading this article, I recommend you do so.

Keep Northville first! We need Youth Assistance, programs for senior citizens and the facilities of Northville Parks and Recreation.

Dr. Francis Durham

Don't vote without facts

To the Editor:

You know the phrase, "It isn't over till the fat lady sings?" It may not be at all applicable in the November election if the 1,200 plus registered township absentee voters do their thing—and perhaps do it too early.

Voting is usually a sign of good citizenship, but voting with less information than we might seek or learn later in a campaign seems more like irresponsible hypocrisy. You can't retrieve a regretted vote, especially one made early and in haste.

So if you voter happy absentee people jump the gun, the country can be in big trouble. Why not wait and with prudence allow that ballot to be taken in early. With a possible 1,200 plus doing early voting in a relatively healthy community in a late fall election, one wonders if something isn't going on that should change the rules about absentee qualifications and the mailing costs incurred for postage to the taxpayers.

Programs deserve funding

To the Editor:

I am writing to urge voters to vote yes on Nov. 8 in order that three very special programs may continue to exist: Parks and

Recreation, Senior Citizens and Northville Youth Assistance

I am and always will be grateful to Northville Youth Assistance when, four years ago, someone recommended I contact them. I was a single mom with a sixth grade son who was lost and alone—with no male role model to care for or show him the way. That is when we were introduced to Tom Handyside who became my son's "Big Brother."

Throughout these past few years Tom and his entire family have been there for my son offering guidance, fun, acceptance and love. My son will be entering ninth grade at Northville High School with a happy, positive outlook that life is good and he is special. If something really great happens, Tom is at the top of the list to be called. They have developed a very unique friendship which will last for years to come.

I am sure there are others like us, who are far away from family who care and feeling very much alone. With organizations like the three I mentioned above, some of the problems can be solved.

Remember, if you vote yes, this is not a tax increase, it is a tax shift. These programs are too important to let go. They help people and what is more important than that?

Ruth Crenshaw-Sebesta

Don't penalize homeowners

To the Editor:

Sump pump discharge is a problem that has existed in Northville Township since the subdivisions were first developed. More than 20 years later the board has decided the residents should pay for the solution—but only some of them—those who answered the survey truthfully!

Some of us do not have a water problem, but that does not mean that we will not have one when everyone disconnects from the sewer system, or sometime in the future due to the change in water runoff, which can occur at any time.

Furthermore, the fact that a neighbor's sump pump is not discharging may mean that an adjoining neighbor is picking up the first one's runoff and discharging it through his or her sump pump. To request this second neighbor to pay for a solution to the problem, and not the first, is totally inequitable. Also, it is well known that some who indicated they are not tied into the sewer are indeed so connected.

It has always been the responsibility of the developer in any community to provide for runoff, watershed problems, protection of wetlands, etc., and this is enforced by the local governing body who will issue permits based upon the submission of plans for the provision if he fails to do so.

The fact that the township did not enforce this some 20 years ago does not absolve it from that responsibility now. Residents who purchased in the subdivisions affected did so without the knowledge that they had purchased land over underground rivers, streams and artesian wells.

When they discovered there was a water problem and took it to the township nothing was done to require the developer to address the problem. Instead the township gave unofficial approval to residents to tie into the sewer system and this has been done for 20 years.

It is only now when the township is to pay for actual water going through the system, instead of tied to the sewer usage, that there is an attempt to turn back to the residents a responsibility which does not properly belong to them. The fact

Reforms promise improved schools

Phil Power

Summer's over. It's back to school for hundreds of thousands of kids who will be once again a battleground in the continuing war over the future of public schools in Michigan.

I don't want to sound too alarmist, but I suspect that the next five years or so are going to be crucial to the fate of a public school system that has served our children well for most of its 150-year history but has come on hard times in recent years.

Today, many parents and most employers believe that the schools provide neither the academic rigor to prepare our kids to compete in a rapidly globalizing economy nor the grounding in values to guide them for good citizenship.

And so the general cry has arisen to reform the schools. Not surprisingly, it has taken many forms.

One Michigan district, Pinckney, is considering privatizing, turning over management of the schools to a corporation, Educational Alternatives Inc. That might be a good idea, but see Tim Richard's column on the same page of this newspaper for a list of questions that should be asked before taking the plunge.

Charter schools are another experiment sanctioned by the passage of Proposal A. The Noah Webster Academy, headquartered in Ionia County, starts this fall a statewide network of 1,500 home-schooled children connected with teachers through correspondence, telephone and computers.

Charter schools like Noah Webster are supposed to receive $5,500 per student, the same per-pupil funding that goes to other schools. A legal challenge, however, has been filed arguing that the school violates a constitutional prohibition against spending public money on private schools.

These various experiments have received a lot of media attention, often at the expense of some very serious and far-reaching reforms already set in place by the Legislature and the State Board of Education.

Did you know, for example, that the academic performance for all kids in Michigan schools is assessed three times before graduation? And did you know that the results of these MEAP (Michigan Educational Assessment Program) tests are published, school by school, in this newspaper? And did you know that most schools, when embarrassed by poor scores, are busy changing teaching methods and materials in order to improve?

Did you know that all schools will be required by 1997 to implement an academic core curriculum, complete with performance level standards? Hearings at various locations around the state on these proposed core academic outcomes will start this November.

And did you know that these various assessment devices are now being used to endorse diplomas, so parents and employers can get a good idea of just how well graduates did in their academic work?

All schools are required to prepare for public disclosure this fall an annual plan for improvement. How about that?

The point of this recital is that a whole lot of work is already under way to improve our schools. It won't happen overnight, but the foundation for serious reform is being laid by some thoughtful people on the State Board of Education and by Bob Schiller, the state superintendent of public instruction.

I suppose it isn't as sexy in the media as fights over privatization in Pinckney or suits against the Noah Webster Academy, but it would be a big mistake to overlook the solid reality of change that is taking place right before our eyes.

Don't privatize for sake of ideology

Tim Richard

It's an interesting question. I don't know the ramifications," a plain-speaking Robert Roy, Ed.D., said several times during our interview.

Roy is the new (since July) superintendent of Pinckney Community Schools. That's the Livingston County school district seriously considering "privatizing"—hiring a business called Educational Alternatives Inc. (EAI) to operate the schools.

My questions (on the Sept. 4 WXYZ-TV Channel 7 show "Spotlight on News") focused on the public's right to information about their schools if a private business runs them.

One or more members of the Pinckney school board have an ideological agenda—to privatize for the sake of privatizing because all government is bad and all business is good. They obviously are wired into the Mackinac Center, the Midland think tank whose essays constantly bash public schools and extol the virtues of "choice" and private schools.

Neither Rob Roy nor Larry Beckett, the new business manager, knew who was providing the ideological thrust. Roy intends to make a yes-or-no recommendation to the board by Dec. 31.

Roy seems to be a common-sense guy, not an ideologue: "Privatization is a tool that can be used to free up money that can be put back into the curriculum. I'm an advocate of privatization to the extent that it's a valuable tool. I don't believe in privatization for the sake of privatization. It has to have a purpose and a function."

"I was hired to take an outside look—stand back from the emotionalism that has taken place in this school district. In the process, I am not only examining EAI's but also the MEA (union) proposal," Roy said. He wants a lot more detail from EAI and MEA about operations, goals and accountability before he recommends anything.

"Privatization" is a buzzword in Michigan, in these years of expensive public employee union contracts. But business and government are different creatures. In Roy's words, "Now we're working with a private corporation in a marriage with a public corporation."

Some unanswered questions in a privatized situation:

- If administrators fire an employee or expel a student, does that person still have a right to a public hearing before the board under the Open Meetings Act?
- If parents have gripes about school boundaries or bus routes, can they appeal to their elected board of education for changes?
- Will the corporation still release MEAP scores and annual improvement plans as required under PA 25?
- What does the elected board do about curriculum and other matters once a private corporation is in charge?
- What does the superintendent do?
- What happens if voters throw out a majority of the current board? (They elected two anti-EAI candidates last June.)

We have reason to be suspicious of the current Pinckney board majority, which twice has been hauled into court over the Open Meetings Act. Once the board was spanked for holding a closed meeting with EAI.

A week ago, the Pinckney board settled an open meetings suit by paying $13,500 to plaintiff Charles Porter. He argued that the board violated OMA by holding a closed disciplinary session on the previous superintendent.

What's particularly bothersome was board member Richard Baumgartner's defiant response. He insisted the board had done nothing wrong and that the courts have a "bias" in favor of anyone who sues the board.

Using Orwellian double-think, Baumgartner said, "That's the maliciousness of the complaint ... Charles Porter (plaintiff) cost the taxpayers money."

Privatization could be dangerous when a board has such a public-bad-damn attitude.

Cooke plans activities

Cooke Middle School Principal Jeff Radwanski reports a smooth opening day for the 479 students attending the school.

In addition to welcoming back students, the Cooke family welcomed a new full-time assistant principal, Gail Weeks. Weeks, presently of Owosso, is excited about her new position and the possibility of relocating to the Northville area. Her family includes her husband, Gordon, an assistant principal at Lake-Land High, a 24 year old married daughter who is employed in the physical therapy field, and a 19 year old son who is a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University.

Formerly the math and science coordinator in Owosso, Weeks was later promoted to assistant principal. With a strong background in math and science, Weeks is overseeing the new math curriculum in the building. Staffed joined together in wishing her the best.

School pictures will be taken on Friday, Sept. 16. Also on Friday, seventh grade choir students from both Cooke and Meads Mill middle schools will merge for a Victorian medley in the bandshell in town. The scheduled time has yet to be announced.

Open House at Cooke is set for Sept. 20 at 7 p.m. The School Improvement Annual Report will begin at 7 p.m. with the parent tours starting at approximately 7:25 p.m. Parents are encouraged to attend for the opportunity to meet some of the additional new staff in the building.

The first football game will take place Sept. 22 at 4 p.m. against Meads Mill at the varsity field.

Michigan Education Assessment Program tests will be administered to seventh and eighth graders during the weeks of Sept. 26 and Oct. 3. Seventh graders will be tested in math and reading and eighth graders in science.

Girls basketball will begin the week of Oct. 3. Spirit Week will take place the week of Oct. 3. Plans for the week include: Monday—Colored Socks Day; Tuesday—Hat Day (Cooke hat counts for extra points); Wednesday—School Color Day (Cooke Raiders apparel counts for extra points); Thursday—Pin and Button Day; Friday—Tie Day.

A canned food drive is also planned. The winning class will be treated to a pizza party. If the goal of 1,500 donated items are met, Mr. Radwanski will be outfitted as a scarecrow and spend his day in the courtyard exposed to mother nature.

Parent/Teacher conferences will be held from 12:15 to 2:45 p.m. and from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 11, and from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Oct. 13.

Over 400 parents attended the Cooke PTSA first meeting of the school year. Officers are Rhonda Bremer, President; Alice Polumb, Vice President; Mary Mattis, Secretary; Judy Prain, Treasurer.

The PTSA is sponsoring the Cooke Carnival from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Oct. 7. This event will feature games, good food and friends. An auction/raffle is also set. All profits are used to enhance current programs for students.

The PTSA thanks Heidi Capraro for agreeing to serve as teacher representative for Cooke PTSA again this year! Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Cooke PTSA can contact Marilyn Edick at 349-5215 for further information.

TIME on his HANDS

Northville Township resident E. Paul Ludasher has a passion for clocks. The 64-year-old has been building them for the past 20 years. He began "messing around" with wood when he was in his 30s, but tired of making furniture because the projects took too long. Today, it takes him about six months to finish one of his masterpieces.

By MICHELLE HARRISON
Staff Writer

Some would say E. Paul Ludasher has a lot of time on his hands.

These days, the Ford Motor Co. retiree is spending his time designing clocks instead of automobile bodies.

"I find clocks very fascinating," he said. "I've studied them. I'm self-taught ... I don't do any serious repair work. I'm like what you'd call an open heart surgeon versus a general practitioner. I do then is decorate the glass and, voila! A clock is born."

Ludasher, 64, started his hobby 20 years ago by building "simple type" battery-powered clocks.

"Then I started reading, learning and studying (clocks)," he said. "I wanted to advance."

Ludasher said his clocks are unique because they're among the few which are truly American designed.

"Basically, all clocks originate from English design," he said.

Today, his designs are somewhat limited because much of the art work from original designs has been lost. In fact, he has to rely on buying hardware from overseas companies.

Throughout the years, Ludasher had designed and built shelf, carriage and steeple clocks. He also duplicated an antique Vienna Regulator wall clock which now hangs in the home of his aunt. Although all of his creations have variations in design, he is meticulous about each one.

"I've spent six hours to rub out a shelf clock," Ludasher said, running his hand along the smooth finish of his creation.

Although he's used exotic woods from South America to build some of the clocks he's made, he prefers hard woods such as maple, cherry, mahogany and walnut.

"All of the clocks are made from solid wood," he said proudly. "There's no particle board in there."

"There's usually 5- or 6-square-foot of wood in there," Ludasher's wife Jeanne said, pointing to one of her husband's unfinished clocks.

Ludasher uses 10 different grades of sandpaper and even takes the time to line up the grains on the wood when he puts the pieces together. First, he screws the parts together to make sure they all fit. Then he'll cement and screw them together before placing the movements and then the glass. All he has to do then is decorate the glass and, voila! A clock is born.

"It never ceases to amaze me what he does with a piece of wood," Jeanne said.

In fact, one of her favorite parts of her husband's hobby is hearing how "nice" it sounds when the parts, like the door on the front, click together.

Ludasher said he's always been fascinated with wood.

"When I was a young man of 30 or so, I began messing around with wood," he said. "I began making furniture items but after awhile I got tired of it. The projects were so large and time consuming."

His early projects included a New England-type bench, a mahogany bookcase and two beds made from cherry wood.

"One day, I started messing around with a simple battery clock," he said. "I gave a lot of them to my friends. I only have three or four left."

When Ludasher begins a new clock project, he'll usually make three at once.

"It's like anything you build," he said. "You set it up like a production. If you're going to do it for one, you can do two or three or six. I've made as many as six at one time."

Sometimes the planning involved in designing a clock can take as long as the actual con-

DAVID LAYCOCK

Volunteer prefers doing duties for United Way

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

"I'm a good public speaker," David Laycock admitted, and since his retirement after 23 years in the United States Army, he has been volunteering his ability for any interested group in the area. His main objective is to raise money for agencies supported by the Detroit Metropolitan United Way.

One special agency is The Alzheimer's Association, whose Detroit area chapter is located in Southfield.

Laycock's mother-in-law was diagnosed seven years ago as having Alzheimer's. So he knows about the disease from personal experience and, he said, "I have studied it." To date, there is no cure and medical science is unsure of the cause.

One specific sample of his volunteering time in this is a request from a Livonia high school nurse's aid class. The students were doing on-the-scene studying in a nursing home, and they were stumped on how to treat one resident who had Alzheimer's.

They contacted the Alzheimer office in Southfield, and Laycock was sent to give them the benefit of his experience and study.

Although the Alzheimer's Association does train volunteers to provide companionship to people with memory impairment, Laycock's primary contribution to its cause and also to that of other United Way agencies is by being available on its speaker's bureau to help get financial support.

"I do it for free," he added. "It takes time, but if my presentation helps one person to give one more dollar, it's worth it."

If you would like to help the Alzheimer cause on a personal basis, why not take an orientation course on how to provide companionship to someone with a memory loss—someone who lives at home not too far from you? For information, call (810) 557-8377.

Northville's Class of 1943 to hold first reunion

Can collector

Michelle Howard of Northville collected over 200 items to give to the Salvation Army recently. Her proud mother, Dawn Howard, looks on. They want to thank all the Northville residents who donated as Michelle went door to door to collect the non-perishables. She encourages other kids to do the same.

Sam Stephens is looking forward to his high school reunion this weekend.

It will be the first for Stephens, as well as his class-Northville High School's Class of 1943.

"There's really no reason or answer," as to why the class has never met in the last 51 years, Stephens said. "We were a wartime class. Most of us were scattered around the country, especially the boys."

Stephens credited classmate Dorothy Hunter for getting the ball rolling after attending her husband's reunion. He was in the previous Northville High School class.

"It all really started with (Dorothy)," Stephens said. "She got to thinking it was too bad our class had never had (a reunion)."

Serving on the class reunion planning committee along with Hunter, of Indiana, and Stephens, are Donald Kelner, the vice president of the class; Marjorie Bolton, who still lives in Northville; Lois Nelson of Livonia; and Dorothy VanVorst, the treasurer of the committee.

About 41 people and their guests are expected to attend the reunion, which will begin with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Holiday Inn in Livonia.

"It's going to be something," Stephens said. "I haven't seen these people in 51 years."

While he was growing up, Northville was considered a small town, said Stephens, who lived in the big white house on Main Street across from Orchard Drive.

"Our class, you may find this hard to believe, had only 63 seniors," he said. "But that was an average size class for those days."

The seventh through 12th grade students attended school at what is now Old Village School on Main Street.

"The town itself was very small," Stephens said. "It was a close-knit type of community. The situation was that you literally knew the name of everyone who passed you walking down the street. It's not like that anymore."

Two years ago, Stephens moved from Livonia to Curtis, Mich., about a one hour drive from the Mackinac Bridge or 20 miles from Newberry.

"It's different," he said of his new residence. "You trade options. Here, you have to drive awhile before you get anywhere."

Stephens retired from the advertising trade two years ago. He once worked as an advertising manager for the Northville Record, selling ads for the Northville, Novi and South Lyon newspapers.

"It was an interesting job," he said. "I always enjoyed it. I got to know a lot of people."

Stephens retired from Ross Roy Inc., an advertising agency in Bloomfield Hills.

Scheduled to speak at this weekend's reunion are Bruce Turnbull, Northville's "walking historian," who will give a presentation on the early days of Northville; and Charles Yahnke, the adviser to the Class of '43 as well as its English and history teacher.

MORE

REUNIONS

Also planning a reunion this month is Northville's Class of 1964. They will try a different approach—a reunion weekend scheduled to begin Sept. 30 and end Oct. 2.

Here's the tentative schedule: Friday, Sept. 30—Attend the homecoming football game and then on to Getzies to renew acquaintances.

Saturday, Oct. 1—A golf outing will take place in the morning; the afternoon is reserved for "nap-time" before the big evening dinner and dance at the Holiday Inn at Six Mile and Newburgh roads. An amateur night may also be held. If anyone has a special talent he or she would like to share—singing, dancing, lip synching, magic, etc.—let the reunion committee know.

Sunday—Depending on class interest, a picnic may be held in Hines Park.

The invitation is also open to classmates graduating in 1961 through 1967.

For more information about the reunion, call Bruce Dingwall at (810) 349-6372. If you know of the whereabouts of any classmates, please also contact the reunion committee.

Hidden Beck Road garden is area's best kept secret

By PATRICIA A. ZIELKE
Special Writer

The Novaks live about 60 feet back from Beck Road, just south of Blue Heron Pointe. Their home cannot be seen from the road (unless you fly over or climb the nearest utility pole) but a long driveway leads to a beautiful acre filled with mature trees and spectacular flower beds. A white birch, hybrid New Guinea impatiens, myrtle, moss roses, ageratum, raspberry spirea, low growing astilbe, burning bush and miniature lilacs are at the front of the house, and double hibiscus, dark purple jackman and clematis can be seen at the foot of the drive and along a privacy fence.

The lot is bordered by white and Austrian pines which have seen more seasons than most of us, and is backed by a field of wild flowers. On the heavily shaded north side of the lot, Kathryn and husband, Jay, built a 3-foot raised bed which is 80 feet long by 6 feet wide and supported by giant boulders. The bed holds porch orchids from Oregon, hostas, giant fern, Kenilworth ivy, fox glove, hydrangea, cosmos, spider plants, double hollyhocks, three varieties of astilbe, black eyed Susan, bee balm, day lilies, coral bells, zinnias, blue salvia, bouncing bet, short alium, yellow yellow, longwood bluebeard, and pink phlox.

The area is frequented by a family of hummingbirds who dine on delectable selections offered at this lavish floral banquet table.

Six enormous flower beds twist, swirl and curve their way through the rest of the yard and are brimming with colorful varieties of larkspur, tall straw flowers, purple pansies, alyssum, babies breath, giant cosmos, geranium, mimulus monkey flower, dahlias, Japanese maple, rose bushes, bleeding heart, wax begonia and a dogwood tree surrounded by dianthus and low growing spirea.

One bed is bordered by Irish boss, flanked by sedum, pink cone flowers, butterfly delphinium, miniature hollyhocks, mums, lythrum, perennial hibiscus, veronica, nicotinia, and Asiatic lilies. Some flowers are repeated in the beds, but each has a different form and personality.

Many bird houses, feeders and a butterfly house are placed throughout the garden and attract a wide variety of winged things. A small greenhouse is located on the south side of the garden and supports a tropical snail vine and clematis, while several varieties of tall cactus and other house plants are thriving within. Kathryn starts seedlings in the greenhouse, giving her a jump-start on spring.

Although the gardens were designed by Kathryn, Jay is a willing participant. He can be counted on to move boulders, dig, prune, saw and chop ... and then sit back and truly enjoy the fruits of his labor. Kathryn is one of 11 children and attributes her love of gardening to her parents, Rosemary and Julian Zochowski, who taught their children respect for the earth and good gardening practices. Most of the kids worked after school at Meirings, a local nursery in Carleton, Mich., which further nurtured their gardening interests.

Kathryn and Jay agree that gardening is very therapeutic and great exercise. Also, Kathryn added another interest to her already full agenda—tap dancing lessons, which she takes at Schoolcraft College. Jay claims she does a pretty fair rendition of "Singing in the Rain" on the patio about 2 a.m. on any given Saturday.

One thing's for sure, Novak's garden is great to stroll or dance through any time of the day—rain or shine.

Patricia A. Zielke is a member of the Country Garden Club of Northville, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Kathryn Novak designed the gardens on her Beck Road property. The acre is home to various trees, wildflowers and a raised flower bed.

To Keep You Out Of A Fix...

While Fixing The Bridges

BRIDGEFIX is underway! The Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) is repairing nine bridges and pedestrian walkways over the Lodge (M-10), Ford (I-94) and Fisher (I-75) freeways. When the job is done, you will be traveling over (and under) some of the safest, most secure bridges in Michigan. In the meantime, MDOT wants to keep you out of a fix, while fixing the bridges. Here's how:

- Check your local print news and traffic information stations for updated travel information.
- Expect necessary lane closures during off-peak hours (evenings and weekends).
- Watch for detour signs and please observe the speed limits.
- Look for flyers with additional information about FIX progress.
- Call our toll-free hotline —1-800-968-9394— for up-to-the minute information on detours and lane closures.

Woodworker keeps ticking away at his favorite hobby

struction. Usually, Ludasher can complete one of his creations within six to eight months.

And just because he takes vacations every year in Arizona, it doesn't mean that he takes a rest from his clock-building. A portable workshop is packed in the car along with the vacation clothes when he makes the trip.

"He loves to set up his table outside," Jeanne said, explaining that the Arizona mountains provide the perfect backdrop as he whittles away at his wood projects.

Ludasher has won awards for his work, some just from the pictures his wife has sent in to contests.

He gets his ideas from museums and books and is very proud of the clock he constructed just by using a picture. He used a magnifying glass to measure the key dimensions. By relying on his research findings that the diameter of the dials on most clocks is 5 inches, and by using ratio and proportions and "sheets and sheets of math," Ludasher came up with the design.

Jeanne Ludasher

ago after 38 years of service. During his tenure in the automaker's design center, Ludasher worked on all aspects of the automobile body. When he attended trade school, Henry Ford used to look over Ludasher's shoulder as he worked.

Also in on the design of the double-sided key and collapsible hood ornament, Ludasher just finished a stint with Chrysler, designing a prototype seat which will appear in the 1996 Chrysler vans.

Although Ludasher only has a small collection of his homemade clocks, not all are set.

"They don't all have hammers," he said. "If they did, it would drive you nuts."

Born in Detroit, Ludasher has stayed in this area, living in various suburbs of the city. He came to Northville 19 years ago.

He retired from Ford nine years

Ludasher once spent six hours just on finishing the rough edges around one of his clocks. He's very meticulous about his work and has won awards, some just from the pictures his wife Jeanne has sent in to contests. He once built a clock from a picture in a book, using a magnifying glass and mathematics to come up with the proper proportions. But his careful calculations pay off on every project. For example, the one he's working on above will eventually look like the steeple clock to the right.

Church

The ticket deadline for the 160-year anniversary celebration of FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 777 W. Eight Mile Road, is Sept. 18. The banquet and program will take place at 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, at the Waterman Center at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Tickets are $12 for adults and $10 for children.

Novi Arts Council begins fall season

The Novi Arts Council will begin its fall season with a reception to showcase and honor American artist Mitchell Tolle.

Tolle is a native of Berea, Ky., and has been a well-known working artist for over 20 years. His art captures the images and essence of America—evocative and emotional, yet appealingly simple and straightforward. Tolle's work treads together aesthetic integrity with a warmth of emotion that makes his subjects come alive.

The reception will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Sept. 19 in the Novi Civic Center atrium. All citizens are welcome to attend. View Tolle's work and meet the artist in person. He will present remarks at approximately 8 p.m.

The book, Mitchell Tolle ... American Artist, signed by Tolle will be raffled off by the Novi Arts Council during the reception. This book, a donation from Tolle, includes more than 200 of his original works. The book will also be available for sale during the reception.

Tolle's work will be on exhibit throughout Oct. 15 at the Gate Six Gallery, located inside the Civic Center.

The Novi Arts Council's mission is to bring arts closer to the citizens of Novi. Other projects of the council have included its annual photo contest; holiday arts and crafts shows; sponsorship of Youth Theatre performances for each of the Novi elementary schools; sponsorship of the Yokohama Choir from Yokohama, Japan; support for the Novi Choralaires and the Novi Community Band; the Gate Six Gallery showcasing a range of local artists; and the Performer's Showcase, presenting the talents of local performing singers, dancers and instrumentalists.

Membership in the Novi Arts Council is $10 per year/$15 per family. Information regarding membership will be available during the reception or can be obtained by call the City of Novi at 347-0400.

Little Rascals return to life in new film

They walk the streets unafraid. They live by their own rules. You may not see them, but they're everywhere — hatching plots, exchanging secret messages, meeting in lonely ramshackle buildings. And trouble follows them like a trail of bread crumbs.

They're "The Little Rascals" — Spanky, Alfalfa, Stymie, Buckwheat, Porky, Petey and the rest — and they're back for more mischief and laughs in a brand new feature-length comedy.

Only one thing can stop them. Bedtime.

In a summer filled with updated versions of "The Flintstones" and "Maverick," it seems only natural that the Little Rascals should be around to join in on the fun. "The Little Rascals" is based on the long-running comedies created by Hal Roach.

Director/co-writer Penelope Spheeris ("Wayne's World," "The Beverly Hillbillies") brings a whole new generation of Rascals to movie theaters — recapturing the sense of innocent fun and unabashed pandemonium that made the original series a classic.

Like the series that inspired it, the contemporary version of "The Little Rascals" is the kind of adventure every kid yearns for and every adult wishes he or she could have — a band of ragtag kids making their way through a seemingly adult world, finding ingenious solutions for their uncannily grown-up problems.

And there is no shortage of trouble for "The Little Rascals" this time around. The story begins as Spanky, revered president of the He-Man Woman Haters, calls an emergency meeting on the eve of the big go-cart race — and is astonished to find that his friend Alfalfa, that paragon of manhood, is unexpectedly absent.

The truth is soon revealed: Alfalfa, the freckle-faced Lothario, has taken leave of his senses and fallen madly in love with Darla. A girl.

Soon, Alfalfa's determined efforts to impress the girl of his dreams sets up an unexpected chain of events that threatens the future of the club and his life-long friendship with Spanky. Unless the Rascals quickly put aside their differences and pull together, it promises to be a dark day at the races and even Petey won't be able to save them this time.

"At least three generations have some familiarity with the Little Rascals," said director Spheeris. "Creating new Rascals was a tricky assignment. We felt it was important to honor the timeless qualities of the originals, as well as to give contemporary audiences kids they can identify with."

More than 70 years after their creation, the Little Rascals still work their magic in our contemporary culture. Long before Bart Simpson's spiky hairdo, audiences fell in love with Alfalfa's gravity-defying cowlick. When Lassie was just the runt of the litter, Petey was already looking wisely at the world through a stoic, circled eye. Before the men's movement, there was the He-Man Woman Haters Club.

Pioneer filmmaker Hal Roach,

The Little Rascals are reunited for more laughs and mischief in a comedy presented by Universal Pictures and King World.

producer of silent comedies with Harold Lloyd and Laurel & Hardy, conceived the Little Rascals series in 1922 as a whimsical look at the everyday misadventures of children. Although other comedy shorts featured child actors (such as "Sunshine Kiddies"), all of them were aimed exclusively at a young audience. Roach designed his series — originally titled "Hal Roach's Rascals" — for everyone, adults and kids alike.

One thing Roach did not want was polished, professional child actors. Mickey Rooney auditioned but didn't make it; Shirley Temple never even got as far as Roach's office. "I thought I should find some clever street kids to just play themselves and show life from a kid's angle," Roach once recalled about the original auditions in the 1920s. "Just kids being kids."

The first short, called simply, "Our Gang," caught on like wildfire — and gave the series the name it kept throughout 221 short films over a 22-year period. In the 1950s, King World brought the series to television as "The Little Rascals."

Although the series began in the 1920s, it was in the 1930s that the comedies truly came into their own. For Depression-weary moviegoers, there was something admirable, even inspiring, about the Rascal's dogged and cheerful persistence in braving the slings and arrows of daily life.

"One reason I think people love the Rascals is they exhibit a wonderful ability to tolerate each other's eccentricities," said producer Bill Oakes. "Alfalfa can't sing a note, but everyone treats him as if he were a star tenor. Even Petey the dog is treated as an equal. It's a world where you can be yourself and still be part of a club."

'Body Snatchers' gets a facelift

'BODY SNATCHERS
By Mike Kapusky
Northville

"Where ya gonna go, where ya gonna run, where ya gonna hide?" Well, you could go rent "Body Snatchers."

A '90s makeup job for the spell-binding 1956 classic gets a second facelift. When Gabrielle Anwar ("Scent of a Woman") and her little brother discover that there is something not quite right with their mother and the entire secluded military town they live in, the excitement just begins.

Pretty soon they find themselves fighting to save their souls and humanity. Just hope they don't fall asleep.

Updated movie magic brings to the screen the actually forming of a pod embryo and a few extra chills to dampen your parched pallet desperately seeking thrills.

The gore and slime is kept to a pleasant median, but this has no effect on taming the suspense and fear.

"Body Snatchers" grasps a bold three stars (based upon five twinklers with five the most radiant). A movie that should not be watched right before you go to bed. And to the brave souls who attempt to, never fall asleep. They'll get you and so will this movie. It is genuine horror.

READER MOVIE REVIEWS

LAST ACTION HERO
By Heather Wadowski
Northville

There are two reasons a good movie gets trashed and put out on video almost immediately.

One is it doesn't live up to the star actor's ability. And another is the movie comes out at the wrong time.

Why would anyone want to see an ordinary film when they could see "Jurassic Park" or "The Lion King?" Unfortunately, the movie "The Last Action Hero" falls into both categories. And after everyone saying how bad it is, I decided to see it for myself. And you know what? Not only did I like it ... I thought it was great!

Sure, "The Last Action Hero" can't compare to "Terminator 2," but what movie can?

This movie deserves four and one-half stars, not the one star it's been getting. It's fast paced, action filled and some of it is even humorous.

Overall, I think that "The Last Action Hero" deserves another look ... and another chance.

RAIN MAN
By Helaine Binstock
Novi

Charlie Babbitt (Tom Cruise) makes his living wheeling and dealing luxury cars. He makes promises he sometimes can't deliver and lives high until the next deal fails.

As his current undertaking begins to crumble, Charlie unemotionally learns of his wealthy father's death, a man he fled as soon as he was able. Now heir to this cold, uncompromising man, Charlie attends his funeral.

Charlie is astonished to learn he has an older brother living since childhood in an institution for the retarded — and the bulk of the estate goes to him. Charlie, bequeathed only a vintage vehicle and some rose bushes, gets hurled yet another affront from his dead father.

Though Raymond (Dustin Hoffman) is impaired at daily living, he's an autistic savant — a genius with numbers and details. He performs amazing computations.

Charlie abducts Raymond from the institution, demanding his fair share as price for Raymond's return.

But dealing with Raymond isn't easy, and Charlie soon recognizes he's not equipped to handle Raymond's problems.

While traveling cross country, the brothers get acquainted. This 1988 film provides laughs, tears and great performances. Dustin Hoffman won the Academy Award for Best Actor, but Cruise easily could have divided that too!

Glenn edges golfers

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Playing good golf very often comes down to one thing: self confidence.

The Mustang linksters are struggling with their confidence in the early season and, as a result, losing matches. Westland John Glenn nipped Northville 221-222 Friday at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton.

"It seems like right now it's mental," coach Trish Waldecker said of her team's problems. "Once we get over this hurdle and get a win we'll get on a roll."

Northville averaged more than 44 against the Rockets. That'll have to drop significantly for the Mustangs to start winning. Waldecker said her team must get down to about 40 per player.

"All it takes is one good round (to get our confidence back)," she added.

James Damico led Northville with a round of 42. Brian Glock was next with a 43 and Jeremy Sova a 44. Kay Yoshida and Rob Rankin shot 46 and 47, respectively.

NORTHVILLE 218, CANTON 230

The Mustangs played a home match Sept. 7 at Tanglewood Golf Club.

Waldecker said her team played a bit better against the Chiefs. She added, though, that they're not where they should be.

"We need to be down to 200-205," Waldecker said.

Sova and Yoshida led the Mustangs with rounds of 41. Glock tallied a 44, Damico a 45, Rankin and John Woodsum each shot 47.

"A win is a win," Waldecker said. "We aren't going to look a gift horse in the mouth."

Northville is 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Tankers place fourth at annual Brighton Relays

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Expecting a team to finish first or second every time out isn't always realistic.

Especially when they've worked their tails off all week. The Mustang tankers nearly doubled practice yardage last week in building their conditioning base for the end of the season.

So it should come as no surprise that Northville finished fourth in the annual Brighton Relays Saturday.

"They got beat up pretty good in practice," coach Bill Dicks said. "Many of the girls looked good in the first part of their races. A lot of them lost balance in the second part."

The Mustangs had been putting in about 4,000 yards a day until last week. Dicks doubled that to optimize late season performances in the league meet and state finals.

"Things are coming together," he said. "They're performing at a higher level than a year ago."

Farmington Hills Mercy won the meet with 100 points. Milan was second with 88, West Bloomfield third with 76 and Northville fourth at 58 points.

"There was nothing disappointing in our swimming," Dicks said.

Amity Heckemeyer was one swimmer not effected by her team's tough workouts. She was named the best swimmer of the Relays for her efforts in freestyle events.

The 800-meter freestyle was Heckemeyer's first event. She helped Northville to a third place showing with teammates Tammy Cook, Mandy VanHorn and Jodie Brown. They finished in 9:41.52.

Amy Kohl, Gwen Osborne, Rebecca Anderson and Andrea Moretti were fourth in the 400-meter medley relay. Alicia Doehler, Sarah Roth, Margaret Lapham and Beth Handley failed to place in the 200 backstroke.

In the 200-meter breaststroke-butterfly, Northville was fifth. The team of Osborne, Jill Walro, Kara Lyczak and Doehler had a time of 2:34.88.

Amy Cook, Osborne, Moretti and Tammy Cook didn't place in the 200-meter medley (2:19.95). The Mustangs also failed to place in the top seven as Katie Varley, Roth, Lapham and Alice Callan finished in 2:24.64.

Northville did manage to take third in diving. Katrina Heckemeyer, Jill Holloway and Michon Slamina competed.

The Mustangs won the crescendo race, which was composed of 50, 100, 200 and 500 meter segments. The team of Tammy Cook, Brown, Amity Heckemeyer and Kohl swam a 10:00.75 race.

Anderson, VanHorn, Handley and Kohl were third in the 400-meter IM in 5:08.09. Northville finished the Brighton Relays by taking second in the 400-meter freestyle in 4:22.09 with Moretti, Brown, Anderson and Amity Heckemeyer.

Dicks said it was a solid effort by his team.

"There were no glaring errors," he added.

Races were in meters instead of yards because of the configuration of Brighton's pool.

Gridders fall 35-17 to Salem on series of big plays

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Normally, five minutes isn't a very long time.

But in Northville High's 35-17 road loss to Plymouth Salem Friday night, it was an eternity. Leading 10-7 at halftime, the Mustangs surrendered 18 points in just more than five third quarter minutes paving the way for their second straight defeat.

A series of big plays by the Rocks did Northville in.

Running back Mike Brannan darted through the Mustang defense for a 33-yard touchdown to start it off. A three-yard interception return by Rockland Johnson and a 19-yard dash by Brannan put the Rocks up 28-10 and sealed Northville's fate.

"I think they came out with a little more determination and we didn't respond," coach Darrel Schumacher said. "It was a good game in the first half. We just didn't answer the call in the second."

Salem evened its record at 1-1 while Northville fell to 0-2.

Schumacher's worst fears came true in the loss. He said, before the season started, he was concerned with his defense—particularly its tackling.

The Mustangs missed a slew of tackles Friday. Brannan, who finished with more than 140 yards, and Rock quarterback Brad Lear slipped through the hands of Northville defenders time and time again.

Brannan got rolling early in the second quarter.

Salem started its first scoring drive on its own 36-yard line. Three plays later, Brannan took an option pitch from Lear and skated 52 yards for a touchdown. The Rocks led 7-0 with 11:32 left in the half.

Northville fought back, however.

After starting on their own 20, the Mustangs moved to their own 47-yard line on a combination of runs by Anell Kersey and a personal foul on Salem.

Todd Zayti then took a reverse 25 yards down to the Rock 28. The Mustangs moved the ball all the way to the 15-yard line before stalling. Kicker Joe Scappaticci came on to crank a 32-yard field goal to make it 7-3 at the 6:11 mark.

Northville went ahead shortly before halftime.

After stopping Salem and starting on their own 44, quarterback Shaun Connolly heated up. The senior kept the Mustangs going on third down and eight by hitting Trevor Surdu for 10 yards.

Four plays later, Connolly found Surdu again. The speedy senior receiver ran a post route and Connolly put it right on the numbers with less than a minute to go to make it 10-7.

Northville had a chance to add to that lead to start off the third. But Salem forced a punt and had good field position on their own 44.

Brannan ran the ball twice in the series and scored on the 33-yarder to put Salem up 14-10 with 7:05 remaining.

The wheels then came off for Northville.

The Mustangs were forced to punt after three plays. The ball skipped to back to Zayti, who was standing near the goal line.

He was able to gather the ball and tried to run it out. Zayti made it just a few yards and then decided to throw. But the ball ended up in Johnson's hands and he walked in with an easy score at 5:33.

Salem added another touchdown in the quarter then one midway through the fourth for the rout.

About Northville's only bright spot in the second half was the running of senior Chris Gomersall. He sprinted 72 yards for the Mustangs' final score at the 5:09 mark.

Gomersall had 103 yards, unofficially, on four carries. Kersey had 129 on 21 attempts.

Cagers fall 51-50 to Brighton in OT

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Nichole Davis hit a three-point shot with 13 seconds to go in overtime Sept. 6 to propel Brighton over Northville 51-50.

The Bulldog guard took a pass to the left of the key and swished a long arching shot to ruin a great comeback by the Mustangs. Trailing by as many as nine in the game, Northville rallied in the second half against a much bigger and experienced Brighton club.

"I really thought we outplayed them," coach Gary Schwan said after the game. "We overcame a lot tonight and deserved to win."

He was proud of the way his team fought back.

"I feel really good about their effort," Schwan said. "We played a great game."

Northville went into the third quarter down 28-19. Led by Gina Chlason and Lauren Metaj, the Mustangs evaporated that margin.

Metaj, a freshman, drilled a three-pointer to start the half. A three-pointer by Lyndsay Huot and a pair of free throws by Samantha Eger then cut the Bulldog lead to three points.

Metaj followed with a jumper from the top of the key and Chlason got one down from the left wing to give Northville a 31-30 lead with 3:04 left.

After a Brighton basket, Chlason followed with two more hoops to put her team up by three. Metaj then got a lay up after a steal by Chlason.

Northville outscored the visitors 20-7 in the third period. Schwan said a defensive adjustment at halftime did the trick.

"Our whole goal was to play the three-point line," he said.

The Bulldogs, which feature several outstanding long-range shooters, had just one three-pointer in the period.

The fourth quarter was classic basketball.

Sunshine Metro tied the game for Brighton, 40-40, with 7:02 left in regulation. From there, it was a definite see-saw battle.

Northville missed a chance, perhaps, to put the Bulldogs away. Tied at 42, Huot and Chlason were only able to connect on two of four free throws combined.

Metro retied the game after Chlason's charity stripe toss at 1:32. After a Northville miss, Brighton held the ball for the final minute of play.

But the Mustangs' defense rose to the occasion and didn't allow a shot—forcing overtime.

Huot drove hard to the basket and drew a foul at the 2:47 mark of OT. She sank both free throws to give Northville the lead.

Metro tied it on a short jumper and Metaj followed with two more free throws to give the Mustangs a two-point advantage.

Brighton battled again and tied it on a Kristi Reisch shot inside.

Runners compete at S'craft

By SCOTT DANIEL

Nothing like a change of scenery to bring out the best in athletes.

The Mustang boys' cross country team got away from the brutal Northville Cass Benton course Saturday and responded strongly, according to coach Ed Gabrys.

"Our top five kids all had their best times," he said. "We've been waiting to shoot on all cylinders."

Northville finished seventh at the Schoolcraft College Invitational despite its runners' improvement. WLAAs rivals Walled Lake Western, Livonia Stevenson and Walled Lake Central took the top three spots.

Gabrys said sunny, cool weather made the course ripe for an excellent race. The winning time was, not surprisingly, just over 16 minutes.

"The course is very flat," the coach added. "We had some great times."

Dwight VanTuyl paced Northville with a time of 17:04. He was ninth overall.

Scott Lloyd ran a fine race as well, finishing in 17:14 and in 18th place. The top 20 finishers received medals.

Jeff Zwiesler placed 26th in 17:40 while Nate Kirmis wasn't far behind in 17:57 for 32nd.

Avoid anxiety at dentist's office

Dr. Kathryn Hoppe, D.D.S.

If you get nervous about having dental work done, you're not alone. An estimated 35 million adults experience anxiety at the thought of a dental visit. But there are some things you can do to make your dental care more pleasant and pain-free. Try the following suggestions:

Share your feelings with your dentist and hygienist. By openly expressing your fears, you will gain control of them and relax. You may be surprised at how well your hygienist, dentist or dental assistant will listen to you and be concerned.

Set aside a stress-free time for your dental appointment, when you aren't rushed or hectic. An early morning appointment may be less stressful than hurrying to see the dentist after work.

Try to identify specific fears. Where did they come from? Why do I feel this way? Uncomfortable childhood experiences or the fear of pain are understandable, yet they are often unnecessary given the modern, pain-free techniques now used in dentistry.

During your dental visit, practice relaxation techniques to take your mind off the treatment and to reduce tension. Focus on pleasant distractions, such as on the beach, listening to pleasant music, or practice deep, slow breathing.

Ask the dentist or hygienist to explain each step of the dental exam or procedure. The more you know about a procedure and what will be done, the more relaxed you will be.

Get a good night's sleep the day before and eat a light breakfast the day of the appointment. To allow for easier body movement, wear loose, comfortable clothes.

Schedule short appointments if possible. Have different procedures done on different days. Decide on a signal with your hygienist or dentist (such as a noise or the raising of a finger) to stop the procedure in case you are feeling discomfort or just need to rest for a moment.

Once your dental visit is over, praise yourself for a job well done, and treat yourself to a special reward.

Many dental offices now have diversions such as music in stereo headphones, video games and television on the ceilings to calm patients before and during treatment. In addition, some dentists lead patients through muscle relaxation exercises. Some use the relaxation technique of hypnosis.

Whether going to the dentist makes you mildly anxious or downright panicky, discussing your fears opening with your dentist or hygienist is a first step in finding the best relaxation techniques to help you.

Franklin: Forget spot reduction

Can you reduce a "spot?"

Spot reducing has been widely promoted by health clubs to "take inches off your waist, thighs or buttocks without dieting, with regular exercise, in just minutes a day."

Spot reduction programs and exercise devices are a multi-million dollar industry.

The primary spot reduced is the consumer's wallet.

The idea is that if you exercise a specific body area, the fat in that area will be utilized and reduced.

Dr. Grant Gwinup and co-workers in 1971 subjected the concept to critical evaluation by comparing the circumference and subcutaneous fat of the right and left arms of accomplished tennis players. While the circumferences were substantially greater in the playing arms due to greater muscular development, there were no differences in the fat deposits over the arms, as assessed by laboratory skinfold measurements. Thus, the greater amount of exercise in the playing arms was not accompanied by reduced fat deposits over that arm.

Perhaps the most convincing evidence against spot reduction comes from more recent studies on the effects of localized abdominal exercise training on regional fat cell size. Stomach, hip and back fat samples were taken from 13 subjects before and after a 27-day abdominal exercise training program. Each subject trained five days per week to a total of 5,004 sit-ups. Fat cell diameters decreased similarly at all three sampling sites. The investigators concluded that conventional sit-up exercise does not reduce preferentially fat cell size in the stomach region to a greater extent compared with other body areas.

Presently there is no scientific evidence that local fat deposits move into the exercising muscle from its overlying fat pad. Instead, it appears that fatty acids from fat deposits throughout the body (perhaps in areas of greatest concentration) are mobilized to supply the needed energy reserves.

The apparent effectiveness of spot reduction may be due, in some instances, to two other phenomena: 1) strengthening and repositioning of the muscles and 2) activity-induced mobilization of fat from over the entire body, including a particular "spot."

Q: Exercise for kids is okay, but sometimes I wonder about athletics. What are the odds of sudden death among young athletes?

A: Sudden death among young athletes is rare—only four or five casualties are reported each year. Most of these deaths result from abnormalities in the heart or blood vessels that were present at birth.

Haunted Forest on tap next month

The fifth annual Haunted Forest walk at Maybury State Park will be held the evenings of Friday, Oct. 28, and Saturday, Oct. 29. The walk, "Maybury Madness," will consist of a guided tour along a path where the participants will experience spooky Halloween encounters.

The event will provide a unique, fun activity for the youth of Northville. The Haunted Forest is sponsored by Northville Parks and Recreation.

Large group ticket sales (more than five) will begin Oct. 3; individual ticket sales will begin Oct. 10. Tickets are $7 and include admission to the park. All profits will be donated to the Northville Parks and Recreation park projects.

Haunted Forest tickets will not be sold at the park. Only those with tickets will be admitted to the event. Tickets will be on sale at Northville Parks and Recreation, 303 W. Main Street, during normal business hours.

Groups interested in participating in the Haunted Forest may do so in a variety of ways:

- Create and operate a Haunted Forest "scene." A reimbursement of up to $50 for supplies is available.
- Volunteer at the event. Security, guides, ticket takers and refreshment servers are needed.

• Financial contribution. Used to purchase masks, makeup, costumes, equipment, printing costs.

If your group is interested in becoming involved with the 1994 Haunted Forest, contact Michele Siemasz or Nickie Ross at Northville Parks and Recreation at 349-0203 by Sept. 16.

Cross country squad places seventh at seventh at invite

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Adrienne Browne ran the race of her life Saturday.

Competing in the Schoolcraft Invitational, the senior broke 20 minutes and finished in the top 10. Coach Chris Cronin was proud of his runner.

"Adrienne Browne had a great day," he said. "She's been working out really hard and doing very well."

The coach said his entire team had a good day.

"It was a good way to start off the season," Cronin said. "We all ran really well. Most girls ran their best times."

Northville tied for seventh place in the 11-school field. Novi won the race with 29 points while Livonia Stevenson was a distant second at 138.

Browne finished in sixth place. She finished the five-kilometer race in 19:59.

Cronin said conditions helped all the runners to their fast times.

"The wind was out of the north and favored the runners," he said.

"They didn't have to run into it." Schoolcraft is also a flat course compared to Northville's home route at Cass Benton. Cronin said, all in all, times were about a minute faster.

At any rate, Kajal Parikh was Northville next finisher. She placed 39th in 23:03.

Laura Brown was next with a time of 23:34 for 44th place. Kathryn Mittman came in 48 at 24:21 and Jill Dart was 51st in 25:03.

Northville had a notable performance in the junior varsity race, too.

craft with a 29:43. She chopped some three and a half minutes off her previous best.

"She ran a good race," Cronin said. "Very, very smart."

Northville returns to action today against Westland John Glenn.

Novi gridders fall 14-13 to Hartland on the road

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

The pupil taught the Old Master a thing or two Friday night.

Tab Kellepourey worked as John Osborne's assistant for eight seasons before taking over Hartland's football program this fall. He apparently learned his lessons well as his Eagles downed Novi 14-13.

A second quarter Hartland touchdown proved to be the winning margin as the Wildcats fell short on the road. Novi scored in the fourth quarter but missed on an extra point to tie the game.

"I thought we had better talent than they did," said Osborne, "but we were unable to move the football."

The main problem came in the play of the offensive line, he added.

"We didn't block or execute well," Osborne commented. "There was no confidence in our passing game."

"It was a very humbling loss."

The coach said changes will likely be made in the line for tomorrow night's home game with South Lyon.

"We're going to create some competition," Osborne said. "People will have to earn their spots."

Hartland scored on its first possession. Key to the

"We didn't block or execute well. There was no confidence in our passing game. It was a very humbling loss."

John Osborne
Novi football coach

nine-play scoring drive was a fourth down call by Kellepourey.

Deep in Novi territory at the 23-yard line, the Eagles faced a fourth and five. The coach called for a pass and quarterback Jason Baliko completed a 23 yard pass to the Wildcat four. Hartland scored on the next play.

It appeared as if the home team would add to the lead. Novi quarterback Jon Wroe fumbled after the kickoff and Hartland recovered on the Wildcat 28-yard line.

The senior atoned for the mistake by intercepting a Baliko pass and ending the threat. Novi, which had just 102 yards of total offense, was unable to do anything after the turnover.

Hartland did add to the lead midway through the second quarter. The Eagles went 55 yards on five plays to make it 14-0.

The Wildcats cut the margin to seven on the ensuing kickoff. Jason Witherspoon took the ball on his 12-yard line and promptly went 88 yards for a score.

Ahead 14-7, Hartland missed a field goal attempt on the last play of the first half. Osborne said it was an ugly pair of quarters for his team.

"We were completely outplayed," he said. "We played most of it in our end."

The Wildcats had trouble blocking Hartland's 4-3 defense.

"They didn't get blocked," Osborne said. "We didn't do a good job."

Neither team did much in the third quarter.

Novi's Brandon Spence did help his team's cause late in the quarter. He intercepted another Baliko pass and returned it to Hartland's 49-yard line.

The Wildcats weren't able to move the ball as the fourth quarter started but did punt to Hartland's six-yard line. Novi's defense then stiffened and forced an Eagle punt.

Novi got the ball at Hartland's 33. The Cats finally got the offense going and scored on a seven-yard run by Witherspoon. An early snap then led to the missed extra point.

Needing to stop Hartland immediately, Novi couldn't get the job done. The Eagles got a crucial first down before punting.

"It was a killer time-wise," Osborne said.

The Wildcats got the ball on their own 24-yard line and eventually turned the ball over on downs.

Osborne again went back to the play of his offensive line.

"If you can't block them I don't care how good your backs are," he said. "We need a major overhaul."

Novi's problems are reflected in its stats. Witherspoon was held to just four yards on 11 attempts.

Wroe was the leading rusher with 51 yards. He completed two of five passes for 16 yards.

Novi ran just 36 plays compared to Hartland's 56. The Eagles had 174 yards rushing and 137 passing.

Several Wildcats had excellent defensive games.

Mark Lesperance had 23 tackles including 11 solos.

"He's a very skilled player," said Osborne.

Matt Buck and Mike Sill each had 11 tackles.

Novi plays undefeated and state-ranked South Lyon tomorrow. Osborne said his team has its work cut out for it.

"They're a very fine team," he added.

Cagers fall to Bulldogs

After patiently running its offense, Northville's Leger drew a foul and promptly sank both free throws with 28 seconds left.

The Bulldogs came down the floor and looked shaky under Northville's defensive pressure. But Davis collected the ball and fired it home for the win.

"It's a real hard loss," Schwan said.

Chiasson had 14 to lead Northville while Metaj, playing in her first varsity game, had 12.

"Metaj, in the second half, became a player," Schwan said. "She came into her own."

Leger and Huot had eight points each while Lindsey Casterline had four. Davis had 13 to lead Brighton while Metro added 11.

Wildcat cagers lose

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Playing their third game in four days, the Wildcat basketball team fell to bigger and stronger Farmington Hills Harrison 66-35 on the road.

An 11-4 run in the final minutes of the second quarter opened up a close game and Novi High couldn't get close the gap the rest of the way. Coach Dennis Cichonski said the Hawks simply wore his team down.

"There was some fatigue," he said. "We hung tough in the first half but they found ways to pick us apart."

Novi simply couldn't handle Harrison down low. Farmington Hills' Ericka Green scored 13 points, nine of which came in the third quarter when the Hawks turned the game into a rout.

"She did a nice job posting up and scoring," said Cichonski.

More than 20 turnovers cost the Wildcats as well.

"Anytime you're in the 20s you're going to be hurting," said Cichonski.

The loss dropped Novi to 2-2 on the season. With non-league match ups Wildcats open the Kensington Valley Conference season tonight at Hartland.

Cichonski said his team's enthusiasm remains high.

"The girls are taking leadership from me and are ready to adjust," he commented. "They're willing to fight hard until the final buzzer."

Novi certainly fought hard in the first quarter.

Both teams came out tentative offensively and made some early turnovers. The Wildcats managed to get their long-range shooting eye by the end of the period, however, as Christine Edwards and Megan Barton each drained three-pointers.

Novi led 9-7 at the end of the first quarter. The teams traded the lead much of the second.

Foreclosures a boon to prospective buyers

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

One person's financial disaster can be the fulfillment of another person's dream. That describes a rapidly growing segment of today's home selling market.

The reselling of homes owned by real estate lenders (after foreclosures) is providing a greater selection of available homes for prospective buyers. It also tends to hold down home prices.

This special supply niche is a growing source of commissions for real estate brokers. It's stimulating the number of home sales as well as new mortgage loans for lenders.

Tom and Kimberly Sunding recently bought one of these homes. It was the first home purchase for the young couple with a 5-month-old son.

The fledgling family paid $172,000 for their new home, negotiated down from $178,000.

Residential property owned by lenders after a foreclosure action—known in the trade as "real estate owned" (REO) properties—are providing an increasing share of the for-sale inventory in the area, according to Realtor Forde Laurin.

"About half of my sales this year involve REOs or other distress sale properties," he said.

Even though the Sunding family bought it "as is," the home was in good condition. It had been newly carpeted and painted. New appliances had been installed.

"The only thing we needed to do was some cleaning," Kim Sunding said. "Also, we'll be working on the landscaping."

"We didn't encounter any problems during the purchase and were surprised how quickly the process concluded."

Residential brokers usually like working with owner lenders or their contracted "asset management company"—firms that manage REO properties for lenders. They are usually more motivated and cooperative in working with qualified buyers than are most owner-resident sellers.

The number of residential REOs has been steadily growing in recent years, according to Bob

The Savage offers mid-size with open space

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

Perky dormer windows and a wide wrap-around porch add curb appeal to the Savage, a midsize country-style home that feels open and spacious inside. High ceilings explain some of it.

The entire center of the house is vaulted—the entry, living room, dining room and family room. The master suite also has a vaulted ceiling.

But another factor is the size of the rooms. None of them are small, not even the utility room. Walls between the dining and living areas, and the kitchen and family room are nonexistent. A wide window bay expands the living room, suffusing the space with indirect light from the front porch.

More light streams in through the dormers. One is over the dining room and the other is over the living room. The dining room has a built-in buffet.

Practical and eye-catching, the tiled entryway comes into the house at a diagonal and extends into the family room where it underlies a sturdy wood-burning stove. Tile's imperviousness to water comes in handy in the entry, while its resistance to fire protects the floor in front of the wood-burning stove from errant sparks. A wide garden window illuminates the kitchen and gives tropical plants a home. The cook top is built into an L-shape island with an eating bar at one end.

Counter space is plentiful enough for two or three cooks to work at once, creating festive or gourmet meals. A walk-in pantry adds to the plentiful cupboard space.

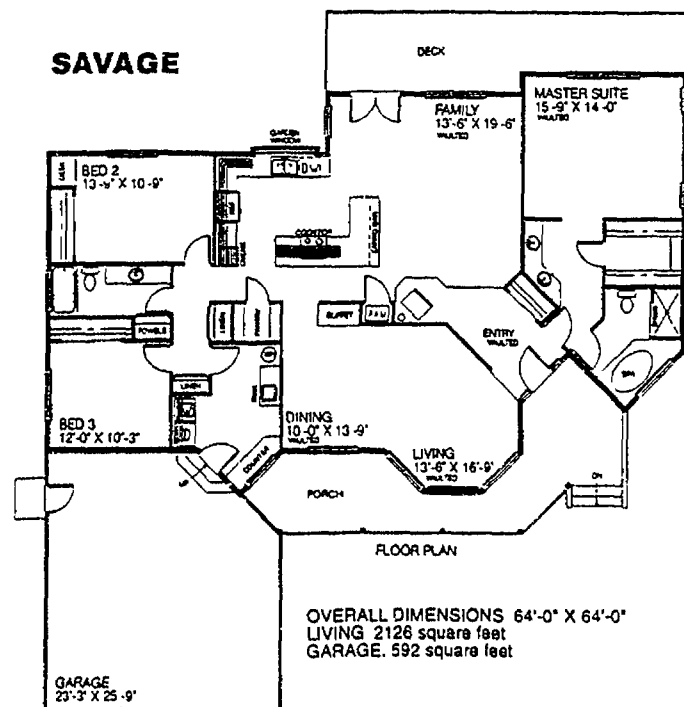

In the family room, French doors open onto a wide deck. Luxuries in the master suite include a large walk-in closet, oversize shower, spa tub and dual lavs in a long vanity outside of the steamy bathing area.

Two secondary bedrooms share a bathroom. Bedroom two, at the rear, is slightly larger and has a built-in desk. Linen closets line the hallway outside these bedrooms.

The pass-through utility room, also accessible from the garage, is exceptionally large. A naturally illuminated counter makes a great home for the family sewing machine.

For a study plan of the Savage (403-05) send $9 to Landmark Designs, c/o HomeTown Newspapers, 323 E. Grand River Ave., Howell, MI 48843. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

BATTY?

Bats in the attic should be evicted in the fall

Watching bats swoop and flutter as they catch insects in the evening can be quite enjoyable — until you realize that the bats are coming out of your house.

Mid- to late summer is when homeowners usually find out they've been sheltering bats, says Glenn Dudderar, Extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University. Either the young bats blunder into the living area as they try to follow their mothers outdoors, or the homeowner out enjoying the mild weather of a summer evening sees the bats exiting the house.

"Once people know they're living under the same roof with bats, they're usually pretty eager to get rid of them," Dudderar observes. "It's usually easy to evict bats, and as long as the bats are still active, it is possible."

After the bats go into hibernation, however, evicting them is difficult or impossible. If they're hibernating in your attic, that's where they'll stay until spring.

It is possible to kill hibernating bats, Dudderar notes, but that doesn't necessarily improve the situation. Live bats in the attic will eventually leave on their own; dead bats will be there for a while.

The first step in evicting bats in late spring, summer or early fall is to find out where they enter and exit your home. This will entail watching a different side of the house each evening during the hour after sunset for as long as it takes to spot the bats emerging. You need to check all sides of the house, even if you find a bat portal the first night, in case there's more than one.

Once you've found the bats' entryway, you need to close it while they're out flying. Wait an hour or two after sunset to make sure they're all out.

Then use window screen or hardware cloth, caulk, fiberglass insulation, duct tape or some other material to close up openings under eaves, around chimneys or near windows where you've seen bats coming out.

"Unless the bats have an alternate entrance, this will keep them from returning to their roost and force them to find another," Dudderar says.

Most people who find out they have bats in their homes want to get rid of the animals simply because they think bats are creepy, Dudderar observes. Bats also make a smelly mess with their droppings.

Evicting bats

■ Try to seal openings when bats leave for the night. Covering the outsides of their entrance holes with a loose, lightweight netting with a hole in the bottom will allow bats to leave but not re-enter.

■ Evict bats during the early spring or fall. The late spring and summer is when they are raising their young. If the young are left abandoned, they will die and leave a decaying mess in your house.

■ Bats are actually beneficial and are voracious consumers of insects such as mosquitoes. A single bat can eat 600 mosquitoes in an hour — and bats rarely have rabies. Your pets are more likely to give you rabies than bats.

■ Bats are great for gardens. If you want bats, but not in your house, consider bat boxes, available from Bat Conservation International at (512) 327-9721.

Bromeliads: Excellent plants for the indoors

By C.Z. Guest

GARDENING

"Compatible" companions of orchids, bromeliads are native to the rain forests and mountains, as well as the rocky coastal regions of South and Central America. They exist as air-loving plants on rocks and trees, or simply as terrestrials (growing in soil) on the rain forest floor.

Bromeliads are usually shaped as a rosette of leathery, concave leaves, either plain green or beautifully variegated. Some kinds have flowers mysteriously hidden deep in the center, surrounded by brilliant interior leaves; others choose to be more glamorous and carry their flowers on tall showy spikes.

Many, too, have brushlike leads of flowers, long-lasting berries or even delicious fruit such as the edible pineapple.

One of the delights of this plant family is easy maintenance. Bromeliads are known as succulents because they store water, not in the fleshy leaves, but in a natural vase-like center formed by the tough foliage. The root system, mostly in the epiphytic varieties, functions mainly to attach the plant to rocks and trees. It has been found that as long as there is moisture in the center funnel, the plant can get along for long periods of time without any roots at all.

Most plants within the bromeliad family prefer filtered sunlight, particularly the types with highly variegated leaves.

A good potting medium with some coarser material, such as Douglas fir bark or charcoal (1/3 in volume) is best. The potting medium should be allowed to just about dry out between waterings. However, fresh water should always be in the center funnel of the plant. Fertilize at regular monthly intervals using 20-20-20.

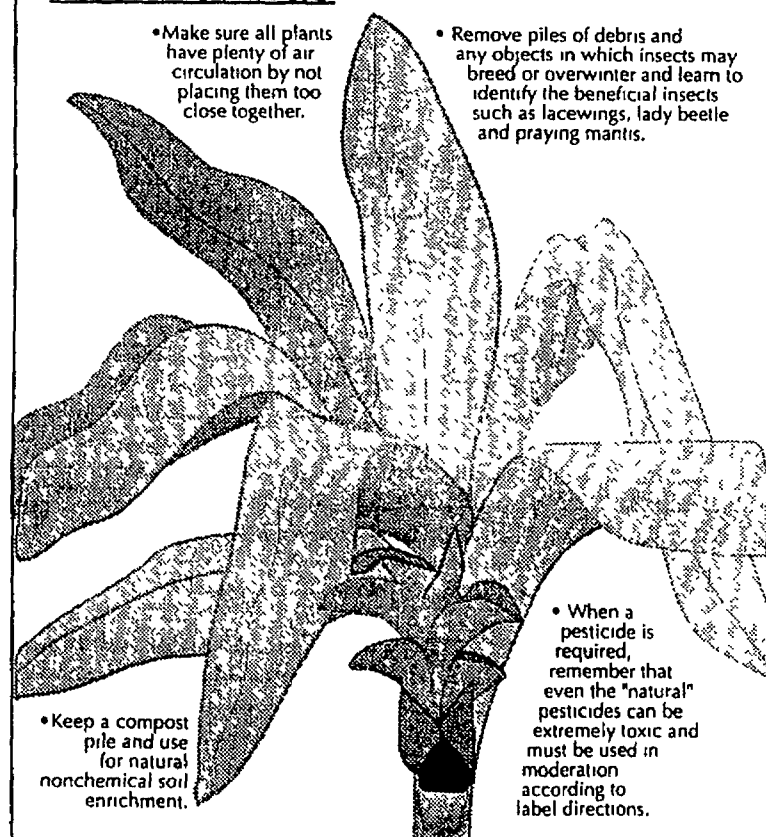

Another plus of this plant group: They have few insect problems. One of the few pests is scale. Control by using Safer's insecticidal Soap.

Propagate by simply removing (with a sharp knife) a side shoot when it has reached at least half the size of the mother plant. Seedlings also

Bromeliads

• Make sure all plants have plenty of air circulation by not placing them too close together.

• Remove piles of debris and any objects in which insects may breed or overwinter and learn to identify the beneficial insects such as lacewings, lady beetle and praying mantis.

• Keep a compost pile and use for natural nonchemical soil enrichment.

• When a pesticide is required, remember that even the "natural" pesticides can be extremely toxic and must be used in moderation according to label directions.

Foreclosures a boon to buyers

Janik, former director of REO sales for Fannie Mae. He said there will be from 350,000 to 400,000 of these properties sold this year.

"This trend will probably persist for the next several years in most markets across the country," Janik said. "Lenders are beginning to see REOs as a part of their business that deserves considerable attention, since it can be very expensive if not handled correctly."

Last year, REO residential properties generated about $2.9 billion in commissions, Janik said. Those commissions will jump to about $3.2 billion in 1994, he predicted.

The number of REO offerings have remained the same for years because of careless underwriting of mortgage loans, job loss, fraud and economic downturns. Major economic swings experienced in regional markets have sparked even more REOs, Janik said.

Q. What are the most important factors considered by today's home buyers?

A. This was the subject of a recent survey conducted by the Newspaper Association of America. There were differences from region to region, but there also were some notable similarities.

The most common concern was the price, the primary consideration of 81 percent of respondents. More than half of the respondents pointed to practical aspects of the house being considered and characteristics in and around the house.

NAA, after studying the responses, grouped them into five "primary concern" areas. They focused on the house itself, the mortgage loan, the house and neighborhood, the neighborhood specifically and what NAA terms the "quiet shoppers." The latter group being less talkative, more sophisticated buyers who have purchased one or more homes in the past.

"Looking at the survey, it's easy to see what is and is not important to prospective home buyers," said NAA's Tony Marsella. "Prospects have very fundamental interest. They want to know the price of a property and basic information about the offered home. They're not interested in a lot of fluff."

Q. What should a buyer or seller expect from a real estate broker? How are these services changing?

A. A study by the National Association of Realtors determined that today's consumers want more information about their transaction, and they want it fast and accurate.

This has led NAR to encourage their Realtor members to offer a greater range of services—"onestop shopping services," as they call it.

"A real estate broker's ability to provide a variety of services, including finding a buyer for the seller and matching the buyer with a mortgage loan to complete the sale, represents the future for the real estate business," said NAR president Robert Elrod.

"This type of one-stop shopping is part of an evolution in home buying, triggered by sophisticated consumers who want the process to be quicker and more streamlined."

Questions may be used in future columns; personal responses should not be expected. Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Bromeliads and harvesting tips

can be raised by germinating seed on milled sphagnum moss kept evenly moist at 65-70 degrees.

VEGETABLE HARVESTING TIPS

• Beets should be pulled when they are 1-1/2 to 2 inches in diameter.

• Broccoli should be picked when the dark-green blossom cluster is tight, and before it opens into yellow flowers.

• Snap beans are ready for harvest usually two to three weeks after they flower. If left on the vine too long, they'll be seedy and tough!

• Cabbage heads should be firm and feel heavy for their size. If left on the plant too long, they will split open!

• Sweet corn tastes its best if picked when the silks are dry and dark, and the kernels are milky and plump. Kernels should pop open readily when squeezed.

• Cucumbers should be picked when they are still dark green and firm. Letting cucumbers mature on the vine literally halts production. So keep harvesting!

• Onions for fresh eating can be harvested almost anytime. But for storage, they should be left in the ground until the tops have fallen over and have turned brown.

Batty? Get rid of them during the fall

plings, and the droppings may have a fungus growing in them that can cause disease. Some bats may also have rabies.

"Though the chance of encountering a rabid bat is quite small, it does exist," he points out. "And that's reason enough not to tolerate bats as houseguests."

Products billed as bat repellents — mothballs, bright lights, noisemakers, etc. — range from totally inadequate and essentially worthless to effective if used properly. Mothballs, for instance, must be used in large quantities — 5 pounds per 2,000 cubic feet — in enclosed areas where bats are roosting.

"Even if you find a way to drive the bats out, you need to seal up the openings that let them in in the first place," Dudderar points out. "If you don't, the problem is going to reoccur."

Killing the bats is no more a permanent solution than repelling them, Dudderar says. Using poisons to kill bats leaves you with dead bats to remove. Those that crawl or fall into places you can't reach to remove them will create a smelly mess that may give rise to population booms in fleas, lice, flies and beetles that live off dead organic matter. Again, if you eliminate the resident bats without sealing off the openings, sooner or later you'll have more bats.

"Sealing the openings after the bats go out at night is obviously the easiest and least costly solution," Dudderar sums up. "It also preserves the bats. Because they consume large numbers of mosquitoes and other night-flying insects, they are actually beneficial animals. You don't want them in your house, but they make excellent neighbors."

I’m tired of it and I’m going to start with the kids. They’re the hope. I go

ON INCLUDING EXTRAS

QUESTION: It's a good idea to leave a lot of personal items for the new buyer as frosting on the cake or do you advise selling personal items that you really don't need?

Answer: Frost the cake! It's a good idea to include as many extras as possible. Draperies that you won't need, shelving, porch furniture that you won't have use for, or maybe that extra lawn mower are some examples. Make sure the agreement spells out what goes and what does not. Whatever you do do not try to sell such items to the buyer. The sale of a home is a big enough negotiation without muddying the water.

Carol's Upholstery opens as unique shop in Novi

By CAROL WORKENS
Special Writer

A unique upholstery shop has opened in Novi-unique because it is owned and operated solely by women.

"As far as I know, we are the only upholstery shop of its kind," said Ann Ray, co-owner of Carol's Upholstery. "Women in reupholstery put a little more into the job to make sure it gets out on time and they listen to customers' needs like whether they want extra firm cushions."

"We looked for months in Novi to find the right light industrial location," said Ann Ray. Novi was chosen because of the furniture stores and the new residential growth.

Although new to Novi, Ray and co-owner Carol Morrissey, are not new to furniture or sewing.

Ray began working in her father's furniture store when she was 15 years old. If the name Ray sounds familiar, it should. Ann's dad, William, owned Ray Interiors in Farmington for 30 years. "My dad wanted me to learn the furniture business inside and out, so I went to work at the Drexel Heritage plant in High Pointe when I was 19," said Ray. She returned to the family business to run the Reupholstery Department.

Morrissey started sewing her own clothing at age 10. The two met when Morrissey came to work at Ray Interiors in the custom drapery department. Morrissey also designed the logo for their business.

When William Ray decided to retire, the pair knew it was time to strike out on their own. They set up shop at 44480 Grand River between Novi and Taft roads.

In the showroom, thousands of samples of fabrics and leather are on display. "I advise customers about pattern and make recommendations," said Ray, who handles sales.

"Practically any fabric can also be vinylized, which is a method of applying a vinyl coating to the fabric," said Ray. "You get the look of fabric and the ability to wipe it clean." Dining and patio chairs are two uses for vinylized fabric when the customer wants the pieces to coordinate with the rest of the decor.

"We provide a smoke free environment," explained Ray. "When people pay money to have their furniture reupholstered, they don't want it coming back smelling like smoke."

In the back room, the job of tearing down a piece falls to Gina Zilgell, the employee who will take apart the fabric, padding, literally tearing it down to the bare frame if necessary. "We find all kinds of good stuff," said Angeli and Ray in unison. "Coins, an earring, even an envelope marked 'Christmas money.'"

"The owner sure was happy to get that back," said Ray.

Upgrading the spring construction from a no-sag to a coil construction, which is called a spring-up, is Ray's specialty. "Other upholsterers call me to do their spring-up because they don't know how," said Ray who also does the reupholstering.

Morrissey handles the cutting and sewing for both the reupholstering and the slipcovers.

"People's tastes are changing very quickly," said Ray, "that's what makes slipcovers so desirable. The reason is mostly to have the variety of the spring-fall look."

Carol's Upholstery offers both in-home and in-shop upholstered furniture repair. "In-home repair takes about 15 minutes and is less expensive," explained Ray. They also do repair work for Gorman's, Fairlane and Classic Interiors and reupholstering for Old World Refinishing.

The style of a piece can be changed too. It's mostly padding, said Ray, and a lot can be done with that.

Other services include reupholstered headboards, cornice board, benches, and dining chairs. Ray developed and makes a sturdy round occasional table which is used under decorator fabric.

"To judge the quality of a piece of upholstered furniture, lift it up," advises Ray. "It must have substantial weight, should be of coil-spring construction and have heavy dense foam." The cost of reupholstering a quality piece is less expensive than replacing it with the same quality at today's prices, said Ray. It takes three weeks to complete either a slipcover or to reupholster a piece.

Carol's Upholstery is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon. Their phone is (810) 347-0940.

Smarter ways to handle credit

Carrying high credit card charges from month to month is one of the most expensive ways to borrow money. The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA) says that there are smarter ways to borrow money that will keep interest costs to a minimum and allow you to pay off your debts faster. The options available vary depending on how much you plan to borrow and for how long.

HOME-EQUITY LOANS

If you've been haphazardly racking up credit card charges, you can consolidate your debt by taking out a home-equity loan. You can usually borrow up to 80 percent of your home's value, minus the balance on your mortgage. With interest rates on mortgage loans averaging about half that of credit card rates, a home-equity loan may save you thousands of dollars.

In addition, if you itemize on your tax return, you may also be able to deduct the interest on up to $100,000 of home-equity indebtedness. Check with your CPA to determine if you'll qualify for the deduction.

Finally, keep in mind that when you borrow against your home,

Money Management

you are essentially putting your home on the line. If you can't pay off your home-equity debt, you risk losing your home.

CREDIT UNIONS

Credit unions provide a number of consumer credit services, including home-equity, automobile and personal loans. Their loan services are restricted to credit union members who borrow money from a pool of funds, comprised in part of money deposited by all of the credit union's members. If you're a credit union member and need a loan, you will most likely obtain a more favorable rate by taking the loan from your credit union than by borrowing from a local bank.

401(K) PLANS

If you participate in a qualified retirement plan, such as a 401(k) plan, you can borrow against your investment. Generally loans must be repaid within five years and there are limits on how much you can borrow. The benefits: The interest rate is usually one percentage point above prime — which is lower than the interest rate on most other forms of credit — and your interest payments go into your own account.

INSURANCE POLICIES

Certain types of insurance policies can be used as security to borrow from insurance companies. For example, if you own a whole life policy, you can borrow against the cash-value of the policy. The interest rate will generally be lower than that charged by lending institutions. In fact, the interest rate on loans of older policies can be as low as 5 percent. What's more, you do not need to repay the loan.

KEEP DEBT IN CHECK

Remember, it's wise to borrow money only for necessities. The MACPA says that if you must allocate more than 20 percent of your income to pay off current loans, it's time to stop borrowing and change your spending habits.

Ethan Allen opens first mall store in Novi

Ethan Allen has opened its first mall store today in the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

The mall store, a new retailing approach for the manufacturer and retailer of home furnishings and accessories, is the first of its kind in the country, according to the company.

At 4,500-square-feet, the store will complement other larger Ethan Allen locations in the area (Livonia, Ann Arbor, Utica, Grand Blanc and Lansing). It will offer furnishings and accessories from each of the company's four style categories—casual contemporary, American country, classic elegance and formal—while showcasing a range of accessories, from tableware to quilts.

The opening was celebrated with a reception at the store Sept. 8.

172 Card Of Thanks

NOVENA to St. Jude. May the sacred heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved, and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless, pray for us. Say the prayer 9 times a day; by the 9th day, your prayer will be answered. Publication must be promised. # Northville's Victorian Festival

September 6 through 18

HO
PAPER
Hays & Milford Times

City revisits era of carriages and queens

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Queen Victoria.

The British monarch stands out as one of the world's most distinctive figures, one of the few rulers whose memory has withstood the ages. A town in Texas bears her name. So does a lake in Africa, a university in Canada, a state in Australia, a mountain in Fiji, an era in European history ... and a yearly festival in Northville.

Visitors to the Victorian Festival are made to feel they've been transported back in time.

It was a time when the sun never set on the British empire and the world was witness to many fundamental changes. Victoria reigned for 64 long years, the longest in her nation's history, as the Queen of the United Kingdom. From 1837 to 1901, Queen Victoria, the last of the House of Hanover, stood atop the mountain.

She lent her name to a time which glorified the family, tradition and respect for the rules of morality. As her reign went on, Victoria saw the rise of America as a military, political and economic giant. The Industrial Revolution flourished, bringing undreamed-of advances to the world, ushering in a new century, our own.

The Sixth Annual Festival, Sept. 16-18, lets you take a break from the hustle-bustle of today's world and returns you to a gentler, more stately, more civilized time. Step out of the 20th century, to a time when the motorcar, the jet plane and even electricity were yet to be realized.

Experience it all. Start with the Victorian parade to kick things off, including that traditional favorite, the parasol brigade. Another Festival staple is the Victorian Ball, an evening of dance and dreams for elegant, period-costumed attendees.

Costumes are a big part of the Festival fun. Festival-goers will dress in their elegant Victorian finery for the proceedings. You'll enjoy the dizzying varieties of comely, lacy and frilly finery folks will fashion.

Tradition, just as in the Victorian era, is part of the Victorian Festival is well. Besides the parade and the ball, all your favorite events are back, from the box lunch auction to the duck races at Mill Race historical village.

There's a barbershop quartet and a Dixieland band, special tours of Mill Race and a Victorian clothing and accessory sale. Storytellers, Dr. Rudy's medicine show and strolling musicians all await.

You can have your picture taken in period clothes, or enjoy the beauty of a Victorian quilt show. Don't forget about the art market or the antique booths. There's everything from clothing to artifacts from the Victoria era.

Bring your appetite to the Festival as well. They'll be food booths of all kinds. Whatever your taste, you're sure to find the cuisine to sate your palate at the Victorian Festival.

Of course, no Festival experience would be complete without the fun of a horse and carriage ride through town. It's an old-fashioned good time for the whole family.

About the cover: Photographer Bryan Mitchell created this scene by posing Carol Bauer, left, and Jo-Marie Soszynski in the front room of the Yerkes House at Mill Race Historical Village. Both models made their own gowns following Victorian period methods.

Student works also featured

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

The Victorian Festival is not only a time for celebrating the past, eating good food, and having an all-around good time, it's also a time to admire fine art.

The Northville Arts Commission will sponsor its annual Art Market on Main Street from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 17 and 18 during the city's popular autumn-time festival.

Laurie Marrs, executive director for the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, said the Arts Commission is very selective in choosing the artists for the show, which makes the artwork exceptional.

The Art Market has been a popular attraction for the Victorian Festival since the three-day event first began five years ago.

This year will feature 43 artists from around the country, with applications still coming in. Judges will award three cash prizes to artists. A $500 Michael Key Memorial Award will be presented in memory of the art commissioner who chaired the Art Market for several years before his death earlier this year.

In addition to the $500 award, two $250 awards will be presented.

Artists will be displaying work ranging from jewelry, photography, water colors, oils, fiber art, sculpture, acrylics and paper sculptures.

A booth will be set up so that children attending the Art Market can create and display their own art work.

THEY PUT IT OUT

Northville's Fire Extinguishers Are Hustlers

"Jim" Palmer's house on Plymouth Avenue caught fire this morning, and no sooner was the alarm sounded than everybody was getting towards the conflagration to render assistance. The hack hooked on to the fire engine and another rig coupled to the hose cart and away they went. The factory shut down and for the time all were firemen. The fire was soon extinguished and the damage will be small.

Night watch Berry did yeoman service with a small chemical extinguisher before the big engine arrive.

Ball provides old-style wine and dine occasion

Rec Center room is transformed

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff Writer

A year ago, Nancy Lockhart attended the Victorian Ball on the arm of blind date.

This year, Lockhart and her date, now her husband, are returning to the place where they first met.

That's the magic and splendor of the ball, says Northville Community Chamber of Commerce director Laurie Marrs.

Each year, the ball—which has become the central event of Northville's annual Victorian Festival—is well attended and the highlight for most festival attendees.

"Everybody wants to have an identity with the Victorian Ball because it is so wonderful," Marrs said.

This year should be no exception. On Sept. 17, the Northville Community Recreation Center will play host to the ball in style as it has in the past from 7:30 p.m. to midnight. Tickets are $55 a piece. Early birds who purchased them before Sept. 6 received a $10 discount.

Ball goers can park in the MAGS parking lot off Wing and then hop inside a buggy for an old-fashioned horse-drawn ride to the ball.

Inside, ballroom dancers will be greeted by Charlene Berry, a dulcimer player who is returning for her third engagement at the ball. Glen Morningstar and the Ruff Water String Band are back again to play original works for a third year in a row.

Hors d'oeuvres will provide a plentiful spread provided by 15 local restaurants. Marrs said some of the area's newest eateries will be making their debut at the ball this year including The Wooden Roast, Cooker's Bar and Grille and Macaroni Grill.

"It will be a large selection fit for a whole meal," Marrs said about the eats and treats.

On the sweeter side, there will be desserts galore. Cake designer Kevin Pavlina has once again created a delectable edible to add to the atmosphere and the elegance of the evening.

Costumes are not required, nor are dates. But in the former cases, those without one would feel out of place and underdressed on the dance floor.

"Costumes aren't required but you'd feel silly without one," she said.

And since there is a cash bar, the ball is reserved for those at least 18 and older. Parents are encouraged to leave little ones at home.

Since everyone loves a good show, gawkers are encouraged to stop by and snap photos as glitzy ball-goers step out of their buggies and waltz into the hall.

"We welcome gawkers. The night often reminds you of the Academy Awards with all those photographers lined up to take pictures," Marrs said.

"It is truly a sight to behold."

Charmers, game hosts regale young and old

By CAROL WORKENS
Special Writer

Dr. Rudy Randolph, M.D., Ph.D., D.V.D., and B.V.D., is coming to town again this year for the Victorian Festival and he will be bringing his medicine wagon with him.

For five years the sleazy con-artist medicine man has been able to bring his "roundies" to Northville. The pills will "theoretically solve everything known to mankind," Dr. Rudy claims.

Dr. Rudy likes to explain that the inspiration he received to find a cure-all came from his brother, to whom he is still very attached. So much so, in fact, that the man travels with the good doctor to the Victorian Festival.

Another wagon to look for is the one toting the Old Fashioned Children's Games.

Saturday at noon the games begin, with different activities starting every half hour at various stops throughout the downtown area. Shops having games will display a sign indicating which game and the time.

Bill and Carol Jean Stockhausen and Dan and Nancy Hackett have put together a variety of popular games from bygone days for children of today to experience and enjoy.

There is no better place to start or a more fitting game to be played than the Wooden Nickel Hunt at the Heritage Federal Bank at Main and Hutton streets at noon. Searching through the blades of grass next to the bank, children will be hunting for wooden nickels, as the name of the game implies.

Joe's Sport Shop will be the next stop for the Game of Jacks which will begin at 12:30 p.m. A selection of prizes for winners in various age groups will be offered. At 1 p.m. tops will start spinning at Northville Diamond Jewelers. Contestants who keep their tops spinning will get to take home the wooden toy.

Using a T-bar and a barrel-shaped hoop, children will try their hand at hoop rolling which begins at 1:30 p.m. at the corner of Main and Center streets. Book-stall on the Main has donated the books each winner will receive.

Then its over to Traditions at 2 p.m. for the marble-shooting competition. Each child will be given a shooter and will try to shoot as many marbles as possible out of the circle. Prizes will be donated by Traditions.

Chocolates by Renee will be the setting for the 2:30 p.m. bubble gum blowing contest. The contestant in each age group who blows the first bubble wins the prize, donated by Chocolates by Renee.

Last but not least is the pie eating contest at 3 p.m. to be held at the bandshell. Crawfords' Bakery Connection has supplied banana cream pies for contestants to devour. It's, "Look ma, no hands!" for this one. The first contestant to finish in each age group gets to choose a prize.

Dr. Rudy will again pass out his "roundies" to children in the audience.

Shows shot right through with danger

By MICHELLE HARRISON
Staff Writer

If you like thrills, you'll love the entertainment draw at the 1994 Victorian Festival.

It will feature not one, but three acts, all of which involve a little danger and a lot of excitement.

Sponsored by The Phoenix Group, the three acts include Francarro and Estrelita, a husband and wife aerialist team, who will perform a high-pole act; the "Last of the Great Welsh Cannonballers" with the cannonball placed upon a 1910 Ford automobile; and "Splash Often," a national championship clown diver.

The main acts will perform after the parade, approximately at 7:30 p.m. on Friday; noon to 1 p.m., 2 to 3 p.m. and 4 to 5 p.m. on Saturday; and noon to 1 p.m., 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

But there will be a lot in store for those seeking entertainment during the three-day festival, according to Jeanne Claire Vafakas, entertainment coordinator.

"We have an awful lot going on," she said. "I think we've done (a good job) in trying to keep everything not only in the gazebo but going on through the streets."

Some of those activities will include:

The Last of the Great Welsh Cannonballs magicians, a unicyclist, jugglers, a dulcimer player, barbershop quartet, brass band, and a clown on stilts.

The "Punch and Judy Show" will also delight the children. Puppeteer Eugene Clark has been putting on the show for many years, according to Vafakas. Characters dressed in Victorian attire will also mingle with festival-goers.

Victorian world loves a parade

By SCOTT DANIEL
Staff Writer

If the atmosphere in downtown Northville feels a little different Sept. 16-18 it'll be for a good reason.

The Victorian Festival gets under way with all the pomp and pageantry of that bygone era. Yes, it will be time to pull out the bow-ties, straw hats and banjos for an all-out good time in Northville.

This year, the Victorian Parade kicks off the festival at 6:30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 16. According to chairperson Donna Pallas, anyone and everyone dressed in Victorian garb is welcomed to participate in the event.

Between 200-300 folks walked in the parade last year. Pallas said she's expecting about the same number and, perhaps, a few more.

Several groups are already lined up to walk on Friday.

The Northville High School marching band leads the way and will be followed by a number of other interesting groups. A Scout troop, bag-pipe band and entertainers will all march. Horses from Harmony Acres will also take part.

And who could forget the parasol brigade? More than a dozen of Northville's finely-dressed and elegant ladies will add a touch of class to the procession.

Pallas said the parade may have a new wrinkle as well. While automobiles haven't been allowed in past years, horseless carriages up to 1920 may be entered.

All parade participants should report to the recreation building, 303 W. Main Street, by 6 p.m. Large groups should contact Pallas beforehand at (810) 348-3767.

The parade should last for about a half-hour. Here's a rundown of the route: Starting from the recreation center, the parade will head west on Main Street to Rogers. From there it'll head north to Dunlap and then move east. The parade heads south on Hutton Street after passing by Arbor Drugs and then hits Main. A jaunt to the Recreation Center concludes the trek.

KICKED BY A HORSE

Lymon Brooks of This Village has Narrow Escape

During the auction sale at Geo. Hinman's Tuesday afternoon a horse was led out for inspection and sale. The animal became a little frisky at the crowd, and because of the chilly atmosphere, and let fly its heels among the people. The horse was newly shod and the sharp shoes struck L.L. Brooks on the right leg, above the knee, twice before anyone fully realized the danger. Mr. Brooks was picked up and conveyed to his home in this village, by Rev. L.G. Clark. Dr. Blanchard was summoned and found some tissues broken, and the limb badly bruised, but fortunately no bones were fractured as was at first feared. Mr. Brooks is resting easy now and is very thankful it is no worse, for had the animal's heels struck him in the abdomen the results must have been fatal.

Historical Village offers full slate of activities

By JAN JEFFRES
Staff Writer

Henry Ford had a better idea. So does the Northville Historical Society.

The Ford family patriarch hoped to save the Northville opera house, which opened in 1879 at the southeast corner of Center and Dunlap streets, and haul it to his Greenfield Village. Instead, the owner refused to sell and razed the grand old building to the ground in 1950.

For those who persist in thinking that the past can have some meaning for the present, the Northville Historical Society created Mill Race Historical Village in 1972. The city's own mini-Greenfield Village on Griswold north of Main Street was even built on land donated by the Ford Motor Co.

Every year, not surprisingly, the historical complex does the Victorian Festival in a big way.

The village is open both the Saturday and Sunday of the festival, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Each day, docents sporting their best Victorian finery will be on hand to tell visitors the tales of buildings such as the 1854 Greek Revival-style New School Church, the 1851 Hunter House, the 1873 Wash Oak School and the 1868 Victorian gothic Yerkes House.

On the job will be the village's "resident" blacksmith Owen Creteau, who will demonstrate his iron working skills and sell samples of his trade. Creteau won't be the only one showing how to do things the old way, by hand. Northville weavers will be looming in their cottage, lace makers will spin their webs, and basket and wheat weavers will show just how crafty they are.

nator Marianne Barry said. And traditional musicians will play the tunes that had America dancing 100 years ago.

While all this will make Saturday fun, Sunday will be even better. The annual Victorian picnic is always one of the highlights of the festival.

"It's really a family-oriented fun day," Barry said.

"Last year a lot of people were in Victorian dress."

For the kids, there's a chance to play the hoop toss, apple bobbing, walking on stilts and jumping rope.

Adults can compete in a different meter, the hat contest at 2 p.m., which is open to both genders.

At 2:30 p.m., this being Northville, it's off to the races. Mill Race Historical Village is at the site of a grist mill built in 1826, in a community famous for its waterfowl. So naturally, what's more appropriate than a duck race down through the old mill flume?

"The duck race is a biggie. Everybody thinks they're live ducks, but they're plastic," Barry said.

"We have 120 duck fanciers sign up. Fanciers sign up and release them on the river all at the same time. People stand on the banks and shout and scream for their ducks."

By then, most picnickers will already be enjoying their old-fashioned luncheons. It's a bring your own basket event, but Barry suggests picking up a meal at the school box lunch sale, downtown at the gazebo.

It was a long journey to fashion centers

By SUZANNE HOLLYER
Special Writer

Those who take a trip back in time to the Victorian Festival's annual ball will sport long skirts, puffed sleeves, detailed fabrics, petticoats, and possibly even waist-slimming corsets.

The men may wear double-breasted suits or tails to the ball. And a few walking sticks and hats might be seen accessorizing the gentleman's wardrobe.

Victorian fashion was a period of "unequaled wealth and ostentatious opulence," according to Tom Tierney in Great Fashion Designs of the Belle Epoque.

But Victorian Northville was far from the world's major shopping capitals—even Detroit was a three-day journey.

Rural towns like Northville were at the mercy of local retailers until 1872 when the new Montgomery Ward & Co. catalog entered the scene. Prior to the catalog's introduction the rural family was often required to make the trip to larger retail outlets to purchase clothing.

"In sparsely settled parts he found himself forced to ride miles by horseback to reach the nearest store. If he was unable to leave his farm chores to go himself, he was compelled to send some member of his family or a hired hand, and the results of this indirect purchasing were not always happy," Boris Emmet wrote in an introduction to a reprinted 1895 catalog.

But until Ward's entered the scene in 1872, there was no choice for the rural family. Wards was the first "mail-order house which could fill all the needs of all members of the rural family from grandma to the family dog," according to Emmet.

The catalog was advertised as "the cheapest cash house in the country." It claimed to cut out the middleman.

The rural man's clothes were more practical than fashionable.

"His clothes were almost entirely utilitarian, designed to afford whatever warmth might be necessary and meet minimum standards of modesty and decency," Emmet wrote.

"Appearance and fit were allowed wide latitude. Clothes had to be durable and comfortable enough to stand up under work on the farm and in the kitchen or to present an acceptable appearance at church."

Much of the catalog's clothing section was used for men's and boy's clothing. Women were encouraged to "insist upon it that the men of your family dress well provided they do so without increased cost," Emmet wrote.

Ward's specialized in the $10 suit. But even the wealthy could purchase clothing through the catalog. A $28 Prince Albert suit was marketed to "ministers, physicians, and professional men," the catalog said.

For women, Ward's offered a selection of material to make clothing and those items women may not have wanted to sew by hand like underwear, gloves, bonnets and corsets.

The corset department was four pages long. The modern woman might cringe at the thought of binding herself up in lace and stays, but the Ward's corsets were called "light, comfortable, well-shaped and very durable."

Corsets were the foundation of Charles Dana Gibson's creation. The Gibson girl was copied by women around the world, according to Tom Tierney in his book Gibson Girl—Paper Dolls in Full Color.

"His lovely creation, the Gibson Girl—the all-American girl turned into an American aristocrat, the thing that dreams are made of—dated an era and made it hers," Tierney wrote.

Northville, however rural, may have had one advantage late in the Victorian era that other rural towns did not have—a local tailor.

Bruno Freydl opened Freydl the Tailor in 1894. A dry cleaners was added in 1911. By 1943 a men's and women's clothing store was opened.

City's history dates to early 1800s

SUZANNE HOLLYER
Special Writer

The dawn of the Victorian era began with Queen Victoria's birth in 1819. Locally the beginning of Victorian times, still celebrated in Northville, was marked as pioneers began to settle the area.

One year before the birth of Victoria, government land in Southeast Michigan became available for purchase. The same year, 1818, marks the first journey of the steamboat Walk-In-Water.

Traveling at 8 miles per hour, the steamboat chugged into Detroit from Black Rock on Lake Erie, bringing adventuresome pioneer types mainly from New York. The Erie Canal opened in 1825, opening the route from the East even more.

Early settlers came by steamboat from the East to Detroit and traveled by foot or wagon to Plymouth, what today has become the two communities of Northville and Plymouth.

Others traveled using the energy of their own bodies, traveling by foot or horseback from New York through Canada until they reached the Detroit River.

One Plymouth man's life was saved when he chose his feet over a ship.

A.B. Markham was about to buy a ticket to ride aboard the Goodintent, a small schooner headed from Buffalo to Detroit. Before he paid for his ticket he had a premonition.

"I began to feel alarmed for my safety; ... it seemed as though I was compelled by some power unknown to me to leave that vessel," Markham wrote.

The next morning, the ship was found in Buffalo with every traveler dead.

"Thanks to heaven and my good legs, I was safe in Canada," Markham wrote.

His account can be found at the Plymouth Historical Museum in Volume 2 of the Pioneer Collections of the Pioneer Society of the State of Michigan, pages 549 to 567. It has also been reprinted in Jack Hoffman's Northville—The First One Hundred Years.

In 1830, a dirt road was cut through the thick forest surrounding Detroit. The trip from Detroit to Northville is about 20 miles, but early pioneers had to travel 30 miles to avoid swamps and streams. The trip required three days, according to reports gathered by author Hoffman.

The hazards of moving pioneer families are evident in a story told by Markham and retold by Hoffman:

"I was moving a man and his wife and their household goods. We came to a piece of bad road, and the man got off from the wagon, while his wife and myself remained on. We were sitting on a chest, when the fore-wheel of her side dropped into a deep hole where the mud and water was one foot deep for some rods around.

"She went off headforemost and into the mud; her head went all under, but it did not hurt her. It was at this time that pride had a fall, and a muddy one, too. She washed, changed her dress, and then was all right, plus the first lesson in the art of pioneering," Markham wrote.

Early settlers attempted to ease the pain of travel. In 1828, plans for making a road of wood planks to link Detroit to Howell were rejected by President Andrew Jackson.

In a successful political move, backers of the road asked Jackson to support a "military" highway linking Detroit to Grand Rapids. Jackson, a military man, decided to support construction of the road.

A second plank road was built in 1850, joining Detroit to Grand Haven, and a third road joined Novi to Commerce.

As the Victorian era progressed, so did transportation throughout Southeastern Michigan.

A steam engine street car has short-lived success in Michigan running between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor. The line was owned by the brother of Northville's Frank Beal.

In 1886 the electric street car replaced the steam car.

Owners of the electric line came to Northville in 1898, attempting to sell local officials on a proposal to extend the line from Northville to Plymouth.

Township board members agreed to the plan, which would cost travelers 5 cents to travel from Northville to Plymouth and 35 cents from Northville to Detroit.

The deal was made at the second meeting of the Northville Township board, which was formed when Plymouth was divided into the two separate townships of Plymouth and Northville.

Leo's and Hoffman's books are both available at the Northville Public Library.

A FAMILY TRADITION!

A NORTHVILLE TRADITION!

The building at 101 E. Main St. in downtown Northville has been standing proudly for well over 80 years. Back in the early 1900's, folks would come to the building to do their banking at the "Lapham State Savings Bank." In 1983, Orin Jewelers made 101 E. Main St. their 2nd location. Renovated inside and out, with business offices on the second floor, and the newly expanded Orin Jewelers' showroom on the street level, 101 E. Main Street continues to be a destination for many Northville area shoppers.

Since 1933, the jewelry business has been a way of life in the Mazzoni family. Let us put our experience and knowledge to work for you!

In 1933, in the small town of Weirton, West Virginia, Orin Mazzoni, Sr. opened his first jewelry store. Thus began a tradition in his family that has spanned over sixty years and two generations.

Orin Sr. moved his family to Michigan in 1953 and set up business in Garden City.

Today, with locations in Garden City and Northville, Orin Jewelers is still owned & operated by the Mazzoni family. With brothers Orin Jr. and Michael as president and vice president, and sister Joyce as secretary, Orin Jewelers specializes in fine quality jewelry at affordable prices.

A GARDEN CITY TRADITION!

In 1953 Orin Jewelers was located on Ford Road, just west of Middlebelt, in downtown Garden City. The Mazzoni family lived above the store - making it natural for all the Mazzoni children to learn the jewelry business from the "bottom up." In 1965, Orin Jewelers moved to their current Garden City location at the southeast corner of Ford and Middlebelt Roads. Like the Northville store, the building originally housed a bank - National Bank of Detroit - and at one time was also Garden City City Hall.

Orin Jewelers is proud to be one of only 200 select stores Nationwide to be able to offer you this fine quality timepiece.

- Economical to operate - uses no electricity.
- Convenient to use - no messy washing of filter cells.
- Produces no ozone.
- Lifetime component warranty.

GETTING READY FOR WINTER TIPS

Seal cracks and holes.

- Areas to check: Baseboards, window and door frames, holes around plumbing pipes and electrical wiring between inside and outside walls, and between basement and upstairs.

Add weather stripping around doors.

Keep furnaces cleaned and maintained.

- Cleaning and efficiency adjustments by a qualified heating contractor helps ensure energy-efficient furnace performance.
- Change furnace filters a minimum of every 2 months.

Dial down your thermostat.

- Set to 68 degrees during the day - save 3% per degree.
- Set to 55 degrees during the night - or if you leave longer than 4 hours.

Keep good housecleaning habits.

- Vacuum air ducts and return grills regularly.
- Do not block registers or return grills with furniture, rugs or draperies.
- Open draperies and shades during daytime.
- Close at night to reduce heat loss.

Close fireplace damper when not in use.

- Prevents as much as 20% of your home heat from going up the chimney in just one hour.

Adjust humidity levels.

- Set your humidifier to maintain 30% to 60% relative humidity levels.
- If windows consistently steam-up, adjust your humidifier to a lower humidity setting.

Bloomfield.

Richter Rosin Homes is as selective in the design of their homes as they are in the selection of the neighborhoods they choose to build in. "Each time we enter a new development we start fresh," Rick explains. Jim adds, "It will take us well over three months to perfect a new plan."

"Easily," continues Dennis. "From the sketch to the finished blue print we spend over three months. That's a tremendous amount of time. We study the market we are going into and then the three of us decide in general terms what we need to

Builder of The Month

Richter Rosin Homes have the type of confidence that comes with years of experience. The team of Richter Rosin was formed when two well established building companies, Richter Construction and The Rosin Company, merged their talents. Heading the team are Jim Rosin, Rich Rosin and Dennis Yashinsky. Since the merger of this group of innovative builders seven years ago, Richter Rosin Homes has been building some of the finest homes in the best neighborhoods in Southeast Michigan.

"We are an old-young company," Dennis Yashinsky said, as he began to outline the origins of the company. "Richter Construction and The Rosin Company has been in business for 30 years. Richter Rosin Homes is the offspring of those companies."

Richter Rosin Homes contains many elements that make it successful: the builders are a group having both experience and youth, and the partners consider their company a team, using each others strengths to create better results.

"We are a combination of experience, energy and innovation.

the customer or contractors immediate needs. "We represent ourselves at every step of the building process," says Dennis. Having builders of this nature, solves any problems that may arise easily and quickly. This accessibility is what sets Richter Rosin Homes apart from their competitors.

"The home buyer is the reason we exist," Rick Rosin says. "We all like to be involved with the buyer at one point or another before the close," Jim Rosin states.

"We are totally committed to our customers," adds Dennis. "They aren't just our customers until the closing, they are always our customers, many have become great friends."

Currently, Richter Rosin Homes is building in various cities in Southeastern Michigan. Their exciting new subdivisions are Heritage Village in Farmington Hills, Andover Point in Novi, Commerce Lake Woods in Commerce Township, as well as Southwyck and Knollwood Commons located in West Bloomfield. The subdivisions they are putting final touches on are Woodland Ridge, Woods of Orchard Lake and Mission Springs, all of which are located in West include in the model. Then we go to the architect, back to the decorator, and of course, we are always adding our ideas. When we think we are getting close we run our plans by associates of ours for their input. Finally we all sit down again and if we feel it's right, we approve the plan." A lot of fore thought and time go into each new development.

What do Richter Rosin Homes hope for the future? "We hope for continued growth and success in the building industry," adds Jim. "We would like to become a more prominent building company in Southeastern Michigan."

If Richter Rosin Homes continue to build their homes with the quality and integrity they have for years, they will achieve their goal.

What is new for 1994 & 1995 in interior colors?

-Mrs. K. Quigley, Clarkston

As Builders and Remodelers, we see colors that reflect environmental and global influences in many clients selections. Nature will have strong presence in the living room, bedrooms and kitchens of our homes in 1995.

Sage green, eggplant purple, and even burnt rust (not 1970's orange though) and other colors borrowed from the great outdoors will be the most prominent in home interiors this coming year according to the nationally acclaimed interior merchandising firm, Color Design Art.

The 1994 colors were forecasted by Color Design Art after the firm completed a study of fashion retailers, home appliances manufacturers and other home retailers, as well as home buyer preferences among major builders. Color Design Art then convened a forum of their designers to apply their findings to home interiors.

Most evident in 1994 was a trend toward colors and design that reflected a more natural, weathered look and texture. "People want their homes to hve a sense of history. Some colors, and the way in which those colors can be applied to furniture and walls in particular, can accomplish that sense of instant history, said Don Anderson, president of Color Design Art.

An indication of this trend is the movement to naturalized whites, in particular in home appliances. New Euro-white and Warm-white lines are being introduced by American Standard, a major appliance manufacturer. Consumers are also turning to a warm white and or even "tea stain" look for bedding, and bedroom accents and accessories.

The emergence of different shades of white parallels shift away from pure colors as well. For example, instead of a fire engine red, designers are using tomato, and true blues are being replaced with periwinkle or indigo.

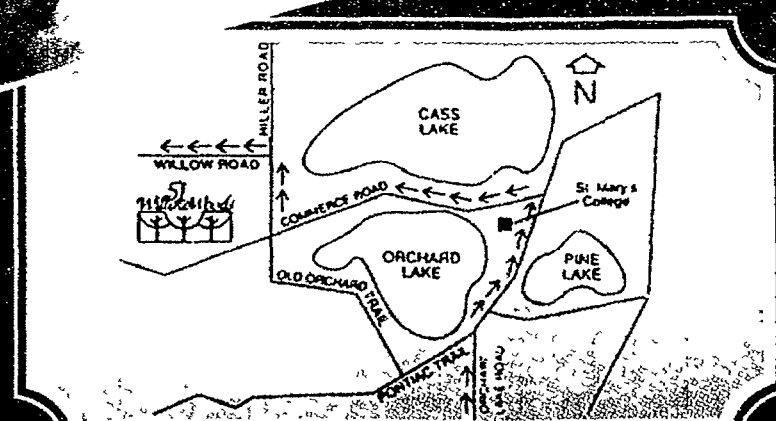

Core furniture pieces such as sofas and chairs are taking on earth tones -- rusts, deeper tans, deep "muddy" purples and greens, one of the strongest 1994 colors in shades such as sage, bottle or leaf green.

Metallics such as pewter and iron will increase in popularity this year, but they will be more muted than in the past. Gold will continue to have a presence in the color scheme for design, reflecting patina and sparkle with a matte finish.

"Colors of the earth really do stand the test of time so these colors will be frequently used to make furniture

House Call

Before you find the perfect wallpaper, before you fall in love with a special fabric, before you purchase the sectional of your dreams, you need to pay special attention to two fundamentals that will make a major impact on your home.

Lighting and Color: these two components set the tone for all that follows.

When choosing a lighting plan for your home it is important to:

design professional can help assess your needs by developing a furniture plan and a traffic pattern.

Remember, with the trend becoming the use of higher ceilings, recessed lighting will be less effective from heights over eight feet. Augment this lighting with wall scones and halogen tortures. Task lighting/lamping for a specific area is important as well.

The use of dimmers is an economical way to create just the right atmosphere of light in your room for various occasions.

When designing a color plan for your home, it is important to:

Decide on the general feel of the entire home. For example, do you want your home to reflect quiet serenity, bold drama, or elegant formality? Effective use of color can achieve a mood before any furniture is even placed.

Ceilings and walls in the same color will open your space, contrary to popular belief that a white ceiling is the only way to go.

Medium tone or darker wall with lighter trims and moldings add elegance and warmth.

In larger spaces consider paint shading where walls become a number of shades of the same color, giving dimension to the room and drawing the eye inward.

Take special note of color changes from room to room especially in open archways where a consistency of tone is important.

Talk to your designer about doing a color plan, with walls, floors ceilings and trims. Include concept for tile in bath areas, as well as cabinetry colors. This will give you a master plan to work with when planning the furnishings and fabrics for your home.

If you are building, remodeling or even doing major redecoration, you have the luxury of creating a wonderful backdrop by paying special attention to lighting and color.

Ask The Professional from pg. 8

pieces appear that they have already aged gracefully over time. A sense of durability will be inherent in furniture treated in this way," said Anderson.

Painted walls with replicated weathered and patinated surfaces are surpassing wallpaper as the treatment of choice in the home. Other aging techniques such as the popular stone-washed denim fabrics and "faux" antiques or "pre-distressed" furniture also will be seen.

Globalization is also going to have an impact on color. "As world economics continue to coalesce, global influence will have a significant impact on interior colors in American homes," said Anderson. "More attention is being paid to the colors, fabrics and textures indigenous to Africa, Mexico, China and other cultures."

In some of these cultures, spices and vegetable dyes serve as a natural inspiration for colors which are then applied to crafts and fabrics. The ethnic fabric patterns that are native to these are also emerging in furniture found in American homes.

What are the colors that will be passé in 1994? According to Color Design Art, mauves, neons, cool grays and pastels have declined in their popularity. In addition, jewel-tone colors will take a different direction and will be dusted with rich, earth tones.

In general, American homes are becoming more casual to reflect the widespread desire for a more personal expression of lifestyle. This focus continues to affect color choices in home decor, and organic colors and fabrics are likely to remain popular well past 1995.

As American's purchase new homes or remodel existing ones, new design techniques and products are more and more available to help them create an atmosphere that is reflective of changes in their own lives.

What are the top three factors consumers in Michigan and nationwide consider in their purchase of a new custom or production home? According to Professional Builder Magazine's 1994 survey of active new home buyers, price/affordability, size and quality are the three most important elements upon which they base their decision. Other key factors cited in Professional Builder's 20th annual consumer survey are style and appearance, good investment of appreciation value and quality of schools.

taking it down and hanging it in another room. Odds are that friends and family will exclaim "Is that new?"

Whether you are a novice or an art connoisseur, you owe it to yourself to work with an art dealer who is knowledgeable as well as sensitive to your needs and desires. Robert Kidd Gallery's Fleming and his experienced staff are aware that for many people, entering a fine art gallery can be intimidating, even if they are simply browsing.

"We encourage people to ask us any questions they may have regarding an artist, a particular work of art or pricing," said Fleming. "Shopping for fine art shouldn't be shrouded in mystery...it should be an easy-going and enjoyable learning experience for everyone involved."

One of the unique aspects of the Robert Kidd Gallery is that it possesses Detroit's most extensive and diverse inventory of original, top quality contemporary paintings and sculpture by internationally-known blue chip artists. Customers are invited to tour both the upper and lower levels of the Gallery and are encouraged to enter two large storage rooms filled with additional paintings and sculpture. This vast selection of fine art offers homeowners and companies alike many outstanding options.

"Clients do a great job of describing their living space and work space to me, but I also enjoy going to their homes and offices to obtain a clearer picture of the space, size and setting that we're dealing with," said Fleming.

Because purchasing fine art is a long-lasting decision, Fleming allows his clients to take home the works they have selected so that they can 'live with them' for a week or two.

"I like to make sure they'll get along with one another," laughs Fleming. "Actually, what most often occurs is that the individuals are ecstatic with the art they've selected and it makes their passion and desire for the work even stronger." The Robert Kidd Gallery also offers affordable payment plans for individuals and lease/buy programs to corporate customers.

So take a quick look around your home...and then plan a leisurely day visiting the many wonderful art galleries in our community. You will soon discover that "home is where the art is!"

A Bed of Your Dreams

When Brass & Iron Beds in Plymouth opened three years ago, there were some who said they wouldn't last. Now a second store has opened in downtown Rochester. Both stores are the exclusive distributors of "Brass Beds of Virginia" - the only manufacturer that builds true heirloom quality reproductions.

Customers may choose from fifteen iron bed designs, thirty-five brass designs, thirty-two color finishes, many that are hand painted. They are also assured of a "Dovetail" rail system and not the usual flimsy product that has been bolted together. Once a bed selection has been made, customers are able to complete their purchase with a choice of comforters, quilts, window treatments, night stands and mattresses.

Owners, Rob and Cathie Kessel make it easy to shop for a bed: "We realize that a potential customer will not usually purchase a bed on their first visit and we let them know that. This creates a very relaxed, comfortable first visit. We can then concentrate on explaining what goes into making a real brass or iron bed."

The beds are affordable starting in price from $475. Each bed is built to order - customers are able to choose the design, size, color of the finish, frame height and foot board configuration. After these decisions are made, it will be approximately six to eight weeks before the bed of their dreams, complete with an engraved family nameplate, is delivered and set up in their home.

STEEL IN RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION

Steel: Retaking, reshaping America. As the rising cost of lumber rattles the residential construction industry, builders are looking for alternatives to reduce ever-increasing costs. Coming to the rescue — Steel Studs! Already prominent in commercial construction, steel studs are perfectly suited for residential building. Steel displaced lumber as an alternative in the commercial market 25 years ago. Today, steel's advantages are sending shock waves through an old-line industry — RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION.

Substituting for wood is not as difficult as it may seem, a 3-1/2' 25 gallon drywall stud may replace an interior, non-load bearing, wood stud with a savings of at least $1 a stick. A substantial savings in today's marketplace. Why, then has the market not changed earlier? There are many reasons. The passing down of the trade from grandfather, to father, to son is one such reason. The lack of knowledge about the advantages of steel, higher lumber prices, environmental concerns, etc. have brought contractors seeking a more price stable and quality product that is serviceable for today's market. Put away your hammer and nails and pull out your power screwdriver and screws. Steel is a non-combustible material that is formed straight and true to exact tolerances.

Another area of conversion and cost savings is the transition from wood floor joists to those of steel floor joists. Currently the cost of this material for a one-to-one replacement would save 25% on the cost of floor joists. For this cost savings one would expect some negatives. One does exist. The contractors must screw and glue the floor versus nail and glue. This negative turns out to be a positive for the customer. No more squeaky floors. Screws have better holding power; which, unlike nails, does not loosen over time. The consistency of steel produces a straight and level floor that enables floor and ceiling materials to be installed with greater speed and efficiency. steel joists can be factory cut with no additional costs or scrap which lead to even more savings.

Newer products and technologies are being developed to further save the builder time with respect to today's construction practice. The commercial construction aspects, as they relate to the residential construction environment, means adjusting spacing from 16" on center to 24" on center. This not only produces a cost savings in labor, but also material. As we all know, the most important cost involved in building a house is that of labor. The transition from wood to steel will occur in a cost saving methodology. However this cost savings approach will produce a quality product that will last and endure for many years.

A New Development: The Maryland Club

Dubbed The Maryland Club, the community comprises 88 units housed in eight buildings.

"Main Street Square, our most recent community which is located two blocks west of The Maryland Club, is completely sold out," said Bernard Gliberman, president of Crosswinds Communities in Novi. "In fact, we have hundreds of people on the waiting list for our next community. The City of Royal Oak really deserves all the credit for the success of Main Street Square.

"Their cooperation and hard work helped to make this community a reality and now we look forward to continuing the relationship as The Maryland Club gets underway."

The Maryland Club will be located on a four acre parcel of land on Maryland Street just north of I-696. Over half of the site will be open space including a courtyard area which will house a kidney shaped pool and terrace.

The two condominium models include terrace homes and flats. The condominiums are priced from $86,990 and $109,990 respectively. Construction will begin in the fall and homes will be ready for occupancy in summer of 1995.

"The Maryland Club will generate new tax dollars and new revenue for the city of Royal Oak," said Gliberman. "We are pleased to play a role in the continuing revival of this beautiful city."

Bernard Gliberman is a third generation builder with projects underway in Westland, Ypsilanti and Oakland Township.

51 Willow Woods Housing Development

If you could view "51 Willow Woods", a new development by Green Valley Builders, by air, you would see the several all-sports lakes, winding roadways, great golf courses, and quaint lakeshore homes. Yes, all of these beautiful landscapes have been created by nature, and remain truly wondrous. Many investors refer to the property of the lake areas as Oakland County's "Gold Coast". A Blue-chip investment. Yet it is near all the major shopping, TechMed Centers, the finest restaurants, West Bloomfield Schools, and freeways to whisk you to all major job centers.

Years past, "51 Willow Woods" was home to the Aviation Golf and Country Club Resort. Many found West Bloomfield's Lake Country an important part of their lives. Now it's your turn to enjoy 51 sites of pillars of green along with crystal clear ponds.

The Green Valley Builders have commissioned the finest award winning team in the country. The furnished models are freshly designed that are sure to win awards as they have in the past. The greatest and most important praise comes from Green Valley Builders' satisfied homeowners.

Futon Furniture: Versatile & Affordable

For thousands of years in Asia the futon has been placed on a rice mat on the floor for sleeping, and then rolled up in the morning. American ingenuity has borrowed the futon concept and developed it into an attractive wood or metal sofa bed with comfort, simplicity, and space-saving efficiency in mind. There are no springs to sag and cause discomfort associated with traditional beds or old mattresses. Futons are actually very good for bad backs because they provide much more support than traditional mattresses or sofa beds.

What is best about Futon furniture besides its comfort is the cost. It is reasonably priced, and offers versatility and comfort.

The selection of Futon furniture is done basically in four steps: The futon frame, the Futon Mattress, the Futon Cover and for the finishing touches the accessories; pillows, tables, art and lamps.

Frames are available in a wide variety of woods and styles, and convert in seconds from a couch, to a bed, or a chaise lounge. To change from a sofa into a bed simply pull forward on the front seat of the frame and the back will drop down flat. Many frames have a chaise lounge prop; or can be used with an ottoman which doubles as a table when the cushion is taken off.

A futon can also be used on a flat slatted bed frame. The selection of bed frame styles range from simple platform beds to metal bunk beds that are twin beds on top and full converting sofa's on the bottom, to elegant custom headboards and footboards.

Some of the most popular frames and tables come in solid Oak, Ash, Maple and Pine Wood. There are also a variety of finishes to choose from; Medium Oak stain, Mahogany stain, Honey Oak stain, Russett stain, Cherry stain, Whitewash stain and Black Lacquer. These are available in a variety of items including frames, tables and lamps.

Futons from pg. 18

Futons are filled primarily with flame-retardant cotton in batted layers held in place by tufts. For added resiliency the cotton layers can be combined with a Dacron polyester wool, or a single or double foam core to meet your individual comfort needs. Futons actually become more supportive and firm with age; a bonus many Orthopedics and Chiropractors recommend for a healthy back, and a good night's sleep.

A futon cover fits over the Futon mattress like a large pillowcase and has Velcro or a zipper at one end. Futon covers make it easy and inexpensive to match your current decor, or completely change the look of a room by simply selecting a new pattern or color. There are over 200 fabric patterns to choose from.

All of the covers are upholstery grade fabrics. The fabric content and types include all cotton, poly-cotton, Olefin blends, woven and tapestry fabrics. The patterns come in a wide variety of styles and colors such as Southwest, floral, contemporary, traditional, stripes or plaids. You'll never be bored with old upholstery again. You can also get matching pillows; square or round, or fabric to use for drapes or other decorating needs.

East/West Futons also features a wide variety of solid wood tables and chairs to match and compliment our futon frames. Beautiful wood lamps, medal halogen lamps and artwork complete your decorating style for that great futon look.

A Premier Kitchen

A Berkely company re-defined the kitchen appliance shopping experience when they opened Specialties Showroom this summer.

The premier showroom is the only one of its' kind in this area of the country. You feel the difference as soon as you enter. Walking down the cobblestone path, you get to take in exciting angles and faux textures of the showroom. Inside, large vignettes display a wide variety of appliances and plumbing fixtures, all built-in to professionally designed cabinetry.

Having the appliances displayed in their final form gives you the opportunity to look, touch, and experience first hand the differences between makes and models. In addition, they display those unusual one-of-a-kind accessories that reflect your distinctive style. The result of Specialties Showroom is a relaxed environment to consider options, get ideas, and make decisions.

You are encouraged to bring your designer (or builder) and your kitchen plans. Appointments are not necessary, but would assure that you receive special attention. Whether you come to explore your options or finalize them, our knowledgeable and service oriented team is available to answer questions and assist you.

Specialties Showroom is a division of Management Supply Company and Management Specialties Corporation, two of the leaders of multi-housing building supplies. The new division expanded on their established appliance, plumbing and hardware business to meet the demands of the growing high-end single family construction market.

The showroom is open Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Appointments can also be made to fit your schedule. Specialties Showroom is located at 2800 West Eleven Mile, between Coolidge and Greenfield, in Berkley.

The best of the best! Design, Live!, November 5 and 6

Design, Live! A Day With Designers was created just for you. It's a once-a-year opportunity to view some of the most creative work of some of the best interior designers in the metro area. In 20 life-size 8x10-ft. vignettes, you'll view the newest products from the showrooms of MDC, see the latest colors and fabrics, what's new in accessorizing and details, and come away with some great design ideas! In addition, you may register for a complimentary 20-minute consultation with a professional interior designer who will answer your questions and review your floor plans. Throughout the day, you may also attend a number of design-related seminars presented by local designers. Seminars will cover topics such as how to work with an interior designer, new color trends, accessories, design for your lifestyle and much more. Admission is $10, with a portion of the proceeds to benefit The Rainbow Connection. Join us Saturday, November 5 from 10 am to 4 pm, and Sunday, November 6 from Noon to 4 pm. Watch your local papers for details.

LET'S TAKE THE MYSTERY OUT OF SHOPPING FOR FINE DESIGN

Often when the subject of interior design comes up, I may hear someone say, "When I look through my home decorating magazines, I always see such wonderful things...the furniture, rugs and accessories...but when I shop, I can't seem to find them anywhere." If this sounds like something you've experienced, let me clear up some of the mystery.

I suspect most of the beautiful pieces you're seeing and wanting from the magazines come from Design Centers like MDC, the resource marketplace for the interior design profession. MDC is where your designer, architect or builder can bring you to find the most extraordinary furniture, the finest fabrics, everything you could want for floors, walls and windows, custom kitchens, original art and accessories. You'll find we have the largest selection between New York and Chicago. In fact, it's like the pages of your home magazine come to life.

You know what you want, now you know where to find it. I suggest you put yourself in the hands of a design professional with the skills, creativity and expertise to guide you in putting it all together. We look forward to working with you.

You. Your Interior Designer. Michigan Design Center.

Putting a beautiful design project together is first and foremost about meeting your needs. Your interior designer will consider all the elements...your lifestyle, personal taste, budget and time. He or she knows that quality design means more than a room's appearance. It's about putting you in touch with all your options, finding solutions to design problems, having access to outstanding resources, craftspeople, and special services such as custom orders. Another important element is selection, and when you work with a designer who uses MDC, you'll have access to showroom after showroom of extraordinary furnishings and the design ideas that make your home so special. Plan to come with your designer to Michigan Design Center, for the house you love to come home to.

Design Watch

USING THE EARTH AS INSPIRATION

The "earthtones" are back, but in a new way! New in their style and richness. New patterns and textures. Truly inspired by nature, look for fabrics, wallcoverings and even Art Furniture enriched with florals and foliage, animal prints and natural fibers. Newest furniture finishes take on a more rustic and natural look.

Romance and Flattery fabrics from Rodolph at TENNANT & ASSOCIATES

CONTEMPORARY FURNITURE ON THE RISE

From classic contemporary to cutting-edge design, you owe it to yourself to take a second look at the new moderns. While there is an abundance of fresh, new ideas, many manufacturers and designers have never abandoned the contemporary idiom, and are doing some of their finest work today. Particular new, a '50s Retro look, lots of woods and veneers.

RETURN OF THE ROMANTIC RUSSIAN LOOK

There's an opulence about the Russian look that defies time. And whether you're doing a whole room or looking for one spectacular piece, you'll appreciate the jewel colors, handsome patterns and lavish attention to detail. Look for rich woods, beautifully matched, many with gilt finishes, intricately designed hardware, and an abundance of tapestries or fabrics with a metallic sheen.
