City Downtown Development Authority member Greg Presley could only do one thing when it came time to dress up for Halloween: Imitate his namesake, right? Well, that's apparently how he saw it anyway. Presley was one of dozens of revelers competing in the costume contest Monday at the Rec Center.

MacKinnon cries foul over TV expose'

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

If you didn't get the chance to see it, then you've probably heard about it.

A recent series of broadcasts on WDIV Channel 4, dubbed the "Dirty Dozen," cited MacKinnon's Restaurant, 126 E. Main, as the most unsanitary eating establishment in the Detroit metro area.

The newscasts, which aired Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, presented evidence from county health department inspections of thousands of restaurants in the tri-county area and broadcast the lowest scoring eateries.

MacKinnon's, known for its tasteful cuisine and fine-dining atmosphere, topped the "Dirty Dozen" list with an average inspection score of 40. The restaurant tied New York Bagel in Ferndale and was the only restaurant in Northville to be named.

The TV station's investigative report, says owner Tom MacKinnon, was a set-up.

"I was wronged and I want everybody to know what exactly went on," MacKinnon said. "They hurt my pride here and I am not going to stand for it."

The primary motivation for targeting his restaurant?

Ratings, MacKinnon said. The local stations are in the middle of a ratings period and are trying to draw the largest possible audience.

Mike Wendland, the Channel 4 reporter who put the reports together, said ratings had nothing to do with it.

"That is an outright lie," Wendland said. "I feel really bad for him but he's making things up."

"Every week is ratings week," Wendland said, adding that, in fact, November is one of the months the Nielsen company monitors television viewing habits.

Ironically, MacKinnon has been an employee of Channel 4 for the past four years, acting as

Planners try to put skids on ice arena

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Things are moving a little too fast - and perhaps a little too quietly - when it comes to the recent proposal for a multi-million-dollar sports arena on Beck Road, some members of Northville Township's planning commission say.

The commission put on the brakes at its Oct. 25 meeting, agreeing to delay consideration of an amendment to a township zoning ordinance. It's one that deals with special land use permits for "commercial recreational establishments" - complexes like the arena now proposed by township resident John Hamilton.

Several commissioners expressed dismay with the way the amendment and the arena plan have been handled in recent days, Shirley Klockenga in particular.

Some raised eyebrows over the fact that the arena plan and the amendment were presented to the commission within eight days of each other. Others raised questions about how much some members of the board of trustees have been involved before both matters

Driver responsible for two deaths gets probation sentence

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

He contributed to the deaths of an elderly couple last year in a Northville Township car accident and fled the state to avoid trial.

Michael Rowe, however, won't see the inside of a prison cell. Instead, the teenager will see a probation officer for the next five years. That was the sentence Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Vera Masse' Jones handed down last month.

Redford residents Robert and Wanda West, 81 and 82, were driving west on Six Mile in the township on the afternoon of Dec. 1, 1993. Rowe, then 18 and a Southfield resident, was eastbound on Six Mile in his 1986 Ford Tempo.

Rowe tried to make a left turn onto Summit Drive, but failed to yield to the West's 1992 Mitsubishi Gallant. He turned into the Wests' path, causing their car to collide head-on with his.

Mrs. West died the same day of multiple injuries sustained in the crash. Mr. West succumbed to his injuries six weeks later, on Jan. 14.

Wayne County prosecutors charged Rowe with negligent homicide in connection with Mrs. West's death, a high misdemeanor with a maximum penalty of two years in prison and/or a $2,000 fine. They did not charge him with any crime in connection with Mr. West's death.

The case went through the legal system, a process which took

Police probe burglaries

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Northville Township police dealt with a rash of burglaries this past week.

On Oct. 26, an 84-year-old woman living in Highland Lakes called police to report the fact that her home had been broken into and robbed.

She came home, the woman said, and found her front door unlocked and her bedroom ransacked. Police found pry marks on the door wall, but the damage to the door was minimal. The woman said a $100 watch was stolen.

While responding to that incident, the investigating officer found a second burglary next door.

Unknown persons had apparently pried the home's sliding door off its track, reports said. They then ransacked the home's bedroom, stealing more than $3,200 worth of jewels, bonds and coins.

Two roommates living in the Innsbrook Apartments fell victim to a burglar on Oct. 26.

Police found the front door pried open; the two residents of the apartment reported $500 in jewelry stolen. A neighbor may have given police a lead, however, providing a description.

The man is white, about 45-50 years old, five feet, five inches tall. He has a medium build, dark complexion and wears a goatee and glasses. He was wearing an English-style touring cap, gray jacket and pants at the time of the Innsbrook incident.

If you have any information about these incidents, call township police at 349-9400.

Man pleads innocent to charge of assault

A 45-year-old Northville man has pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon after he allegedly threatened the 29-year-old woman he lives with with a knife.

The man faces four years in prison and/or a $2,000 fine.

The woman reported to Northville City Police that the man encircled her neck with his arm and pressed a 6-inch folding knife to her throat when she entered the apartment on Oct. 16.

The woman said he held it to her throat and said, "I am going to kill you." She also told police that the man had pulled out a small section of her hair from the back of her head, although police could find no evidence of that in the Hutton Street apartment.

The woman said there were no arguments leading up to the incident. After the man threatened her, the woman said, he dropped the knife and went into the bedroom and passed out and slept for about an hour and a half.

The woman did not call police until a couple of hours after the incident because she said the man was sleeping and there was no further threat.

When police arrived at the scene, the man was intoxicated and they confiscated the knife, which was folded in a "safe" position, as evidence.

The man denies grabbing or threatening the woman.

The woman decided to press charges against the man, as she said there had been similar assaults on her that she had not reported.

WALKAWAY STEALS CAR: A township man who lives on Maple Hill Drive had his car stolen recently by a walkaway patient from the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

The man, 40, said that he was trying to jump start his 1985 Chrysler LeBaron on Oct. 11. He went inside to get a coat, the man told police, leaving the car on charge. As he came out, the man said, he saw the car being driven away. Police recovered it later in Detroit, with the walkaway man inside.

The man, 44, is from Ecorse

OUILS: Township police arrested several people recently for operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor (OUIL). All face hearings soon in 35th District Court.

A 32-year-old township man was arrested Oct. 23 near Six Mile and Haggerty. The admitted he "had had too much to drink," police said. Breathalyzer testing at police headquarters after his arrest showed him to have a blood alcohol level of .14 percent, over the legal limit.

A 32-year-old Brighton woman was arrested on Oct. 26. She had two rum and cokes that evening, the woman said. A police officer said he saw the woman's 1991 Chevrolet Blazer weaving on Seven Mile, riding the center dividing line and then driving to the edge of the road.

Breathalyzer testing showed the woman to have a blood alcohol level of .13 percent, over the legal limit.

A 28-year-old Flint woman registered .14 percent after her arrest on Oct. 28. A police officer said she was speeding in her 1990 Chevrolet Lumina and driving erratically.

The woman admitted to having five or six drinks that evening.

A 43-year-old Dearborn Heights man was arrested on Oct. 29. A man driving in the area spotted the man's 1994 Ranger pickup swerving repeatedly and running a stop sign. He called police on his cellular phone and followed the Ranger, giving police a running description of the vehicle's movements and direction.

When asked where he was, the man said he thought he was in Farmington, a police officer said. His blood alcohol level measured .16 percent.

A 44-year-old township man was arrested on Oct. 30 on Northville Road near Six Mile. His blood alcohol level measured .14 percent.

"A couple of drinks after work" is what the man admitted to consuming. A police officer stopped him in his 1993 Tempo after observing him speeding and crossing the center road line twice.

An 18-year-old Northville City resident was arrested for OUIL on Oct. 30. The man was stopped by police after they observed his 1986 Ford Thunderbird weaving. The man admitted to drinking "a couple beers" that evening. His blood alcohol level measured .15 percent.

UNDERAGE DRINKING: Township police cited four 16-year-olds, all from Livonia, for possession of alcohol on Oct. 23.

Police received a report of a car in a field off of Pierson Road that evening, its occupants possibly consuming alcohol. The responding officer found a 1991 Ford Escort at the indicated location with the two males and two females inside.

He also found four 40-ounce bottles of malt liquor. The youths admitted to drinking the alcohol, but would not say where they got it from.

The vehicle was impounded and all four were ticketed. They face hearings soon in 35th District Court.

MALICIOUS DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY: An Elmsmere home suffered $500 in damaged after several windows in the home were smashed.

A resident of the home was awakened after she heard a loud thump in one of the upstairs bedrooms.

The residents discovered that the upstairs bedroom window and a downstairs study window were smashed.

The holes were the size of a baseball, although police could not find the object that inflicted the damage.

Police have no suspects in the case.

OUIL: A 35-year-old Inkster man was arrested for drunken driving Sunday after Northville City Police clocked him driving 55 down Eight Mile Road, a 40 mph zone.

The officer followed the man for a couple of blocks. During this time the man pulled over to the right abruptly and ran over the curb.

The officer pulled over the man, and had him perform a number of field sobriety tests, which he failed.

The man registered a .138 percent blood-alcohol level.

The man posted a $100 cash bond and was released upon sobering up.

A preliminary hearing has been set for Nov. 4.

Citizens with information about any of these incidents are urged to call Northville Township police at 348-9400 or city police at 349-1234.

Township decides on a manager

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

After a long wait, Northville Township has gotten itself a manager — almost.

The township board of trustees at its Oct. 27 meeting voted unanimously to hire Tammy Hanlin for the job, now the city of Eastpointe's assistant manager. The township manager's position has been vacant since February.

The final piece of the puzzle, however, remains to be placed. The board still has to approve Hanlin's employment contract. Township officials say that is expected to be a formality, however, and should be accomplished at the board's Nov. 17 meeting.

Board members declined to discuss the terms of the contract before the Nov. 17 vote. If all goes as planned, Hanlin will begin work on Monday, Nov. 28 — eight days into the second half of the board's four-year tenure.

It was her work experience in key areas and reputation as a consensus builder that won Hanlin the job, officials say.

She has been Eastpointe's assistant manager since 1990. From 1987-1990, Hanlin was the assistant to the director of the public works department in the city of Auburn Hills. For two years before that, 1985-87, Hanlin was a quality assurance engineer for a Rochester-based manufacturing company.

Hanlin has a master's degree in public administration from Oakland University and a bachelor's degree in political science from Michigan State University. She's married and has an 18-month-old son. An Eastpointe resident, Hanlin said she's planning to move soon to a community closer to the township.

Rivers, Schall fight for open seat

Democrat Lynn Rivers and Republican John Schall are competing for the U.S. Congressional seat held by retiring 30-year incumbent William Ford. Michigan's 13th District includes Northville Township and the Wayne County portion of Northville.

The Northville Record queried the candidates on their views by questionnaire. Their answers appear below.

LYNN RIVERS

DEMOCRAT

Age: 37

Education: Undergraduate degree, University of Michigan; jurisdoctor, Wayne State University Law School.

Rivers served as a trustee on the Ann Arbor Board of Education for nine years, including five years as president, 1987-91. In 1992, she was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives from the 53rd District. She is a member of four House committees, including Judiciary, Civil Rights and Women's Issues, Higher Education and Mental Health.

JOHN SCHALL

JOHN SCHALL
REPUBLICAN

Age: 33

Education: Undergraduate degree, University of Michigan; master of public administration, Harvard University.

Schall entered the political arena when he worked on the campaign of U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell. He later secured a presidential management internship, then took a post in the Office of Management and Budget in the Reagan White House. He went on to serve as Chief of Staff to Labor Secretary Lynn Martin during the Bush Administration.

The Deficit and Debt

What is your plan to deal with the federal deficit and the national debt? Do you support a balanced budget amendment and a line-item veto for the President?

Obviously, the only way to reduce the deficit is to keep governmental spending within the limits of revenue collection. Necessarily, some programs will have to be cut. In a reformed budget, education, job development, and health care must be top priorities. Successful programs in these areas will ultimately reduce spending in other areas of government such as social services and the criminal justice system.

Also, as we move into the post-cold war era, we should divert dollars from defense to debt reduction. I support a balanced budget, deficit reduction and the line-item veto.

The main reason for the budget deficit is the continuing growth in government spending. I oppose any tax increases as an attempt to close the deficit. Instead, wasteful spending must be cut — spending which primarily benefits bureaucrats, not people. Reducing the deficit will cut our interest payments on the national debt.

I believe the only way to finally reduce spending is to reform the way Congress does business. Therefore, I support a balanced budget amendment and a line-item veto for the President.

Health Care Reform

What is your position of health care reform? Do you support any of the plans being considered by the Congress?

There is a crisis in this country that 37 million people are not insured, countless others are underinsured and many workers with employer paid coverage are seeing increasing health costs, eliminating any chance of wage benefits increases at the bargaining table.

Whatever system we end up implementing must have both 100 percent accessibility and 100 percent affordability, have cost containment, prohibit pre-existing conditions exemptions, focus on prevention and early intervention, allow for choice of providers, and ultimately produce better health outcomes for us as a nation.

I would support any plan that would bring us progress in these areas.

I oppose President Clinton's attempt to move 100 percent of the American people into a government-run health care system. We must improve the current health care system — the best in the world — for the 15 percent of Americans who lack health insurance.

To expand health insurance coverage, I support subsidies for the economically disadvantaged. I also advocate insurance market reforms that restrict insurers' ability to discriminate based on pre-existing conditions, along with guaranteeing portability of coverage. I support like real tort reform to reduce massive malpractice premiums.

Finally, individuals should be allowed to set aside their own money in tax-free Medical Savings Accounts.

Welfare Reform

What is your position on welfare reform?

Welfare must be used as a "helping hand" toward gainful employment and reasonable limits must be placed on eligibility.

We must expect personal responsibility from recipients but must also provide effective methods to move people to self-reliance, such as a system that provides education/job training, placement programs to help trainees find work, child care that is affordable and available to parents returning to the workforce, and comprehensive health care that covers all families.

Without programs such as these, families will remain tethered to public assistance, fearful that employment will result in a near poverty-level income inadequate to purchase necessary services such as child care and health insurance.

Welfare must be reformed to encourage personal responsibility and reduce costs by cutting spending on welfare programs, eliminating welfare for illegal aliens, ending welfare for families collecting AFDC for five years, and enacting a tough two-years-and-out provision with work requirements.

For all of President Clinton's talk about "ending welfare as we know it," his proposed "reforms" do not do the job. The Republican alternatives are necessary to achieve real welfare reform.

Anti-crime Measures

What changes are needed in our police, court and penal systems to reduce crime? Would you have voted for the federal crime bill Congress passed earlier this year?

I support "truth in sentencing," "three strikes and you're out," enhanced penalties for crimes committed with a gun, and intensive supervision of parolees and probationers. In Michigan we found that nowhere near the mandated contact between probationers and the state was going on.

After several incidents of injury to the public (including murder) by under supervised prisoners on parole, I introduced a bill that requires intensive contact and supervision by the corrections department. In the State House I voted to put more cops on the street and supported community policing initiatives. I would have voted for the crime bill.

To fight the growing epidemic of violent crime, I strongly support more police, more prisons, swifter punishment and longer sentences. Above all, we must get the 8 percent of felons who commit 70 percent of all crimes off the streets.

To help achieve these goals, I advocate genuine truth-in-sentencing laws, along with the "Three Strikes and You're Out" proposal.

I would have opposed the Clinton "anti-crime" bill because it focused too much on measures like restricting gun ownership and providing midnight recreation programs. These proposals do nothing to reduce crime — the only effective way to fight crime is to fight criminals.

Gun Control

What is your position on gun control?

I support current laws regarding registration, background checks and waiting periods. People must take responsibility for the guns they own, keep them out of the hands of children and learn to use them in a responsible manner. I also agree with the recently passed ban on assault rifles.

I favor crime control and oppose gun control. I believe in protecting our citizens' Second Amendment rights; therefore I oppose any additional gun control measures in the Congress. I do support increasing penalties for crimes committed with firearms, along with weapons-free zones around schools. I also believe that children found armed in school should be promptly expelled.

To the extent that crime is a problem in our schools, increased security is the real answer, not letting off kids who carry around deadly weapons.

Abortion

What is your position on abortion? Do you believe either the federal or state governments should have the power to restrict or prohibit abortions?

I am pro-choice. I support Roe vs. Wade as it is written. Unlike my opponent, who is endorsed by Right-to-Life, I believe the government should stay out of these kinds of decisions.

I am pro-life on abortion. States, rather than the federal government, are in the best position to address the issue.

To the extent that abortion is addressed in the Congress, federal funding is the issue. I support the current Hyde Amendment, which provides for funding of abortions in cases of rape, incest or danger to the life of the mother. I oppose extending taxpayer funding to cover all 1.5 million abortions that take place annually in this country.

Foreign Policy

What role should the U.S. play internationally in dealing with trouble spots around the world? What is your view of the current administration's performance in foreign policy?

Unless U.S. lives or imperative American interests are at stake, the United States should try to join or form multi-national initiatives to deal with global problems. The United States should also support emerging democracies and take a role in working to open barriers to trade.

I strongly believe that the United States must exercise a strong and consistent foreign policy. The Clinton Administration has failed to provide this, forgetting these necessary elements of foreign policy: we must respond to a crisis when our vital interests, or those of our close allies, are directly threatened; we must ensure that we have the means to accomplish our goals; we must have the will to support our armed forces through the completion of their mission.

The United States, as the world's only remaining superpower, must not delegate decision-making to the United Nations.

Economic Strategies

What role should the federal government play in the economy? Should taxes be increased, lowered or kept about the same?

As the daughter of a small business owner, I realize the importance of strong Small Business Administration loans to help small businesses compete in the marketplace. The federal government needs to bring down the deficit to free up capital for investment purposes and sponsor private-public partnerships, like the Willow Run Tradeport, which I co-sponsored in the Michigan Legislature.

The government should also support the transfer of technologies between government scientists, public universities and the private sector. Trade needs to be opened up so that American suppliers are playing on a level field with the rest of the world.

The federal government takes too much of the people's money through high taxes and excessive regulations. My goal is for federal taxes and spending to decrease, so that more money will be available for the private consumer and business sectors to use as they wish.

I also favor reducing federal regulations on business, especially small businesses. Excessive regulations exert a hidden cost on the economy, which consumers pay for in higher prices, and workers pay for in lost jobs. The government's role in our lives must be cut back for the benefit of our citizens.

GENERAL ELECTION • NOVEMBER 8

Lowe and Boak vie for judgeship

Attorneys Stephen Boak and Ronald Lowe are the two finalists for the single open seat on the 35th District Court bench, hoping to replace retiring Judge James Garber. Both Northville city and Northville township are in the court's jurisdiction.

The Northville Record questioned the judgeship candidates on their views. Their answers appear below.

STEPHEN BOAK

STEPHEN BOAK
Age: 52
Education: Undergraduate degree, Franklin & Marshall College; jurisdoctor, University of Michigan Law School.
Boak served as an Assistant Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney 1968-80. He was Chief of Operations of that office for four years, 1977-80.
In 1980, he went into private practice, and is now a partner in the Plymouth firm of Sempliner, Thomas & Boak. He does some criminal work now but concentrates primarily on civil cases.

RONALD LOWE

RONALD LOWE
Education: Bachelor of arts degree, Hillsdale College; jurisdoctor, Thomas Cooley Law School.
Lowe is currently the Plymouth City Attorney, handling both criminal and civil cases for the municipality. He has served in that capacity since 1985. He was assistant city attorney from 1982-85.
In addition to his work for Plymouth, he is also a partner in the firm of Lowe & Lewandowski.

Legal Experience

What legal experience do you have that qualifies you to serve as a district court judge?

In 28 years as an attorney I have acquired experience in a variety of areas. I spent almost 13 years as an Assistant Prosecutor for Wayne County where I tried major felony cases and served as Chief Trial Lawyer, Director of the Repeat Offenders Bureau, and Chief of Operations.
I have been in private practice for the last 14 years and specialize in the trial of civil and criminal cases. I also spent 27 years in the U.S. Army Reserves, the last 22 years as a lawyer for the Army.

My experience in the 35th began in 1972 when I served as Judge Dunbar Davis' court officer. In the years since I have tailored my career to prepare me to serve as your judge. I have been in private practice and represented the City of Plymouth since 1982. As an attorney I have appeared on behalf of plaintiffs and defendants in civil suits in the District, Circuit, and Appeals Courts of Michigan as well as the U.S. District and Appeals Courts. I have prosecuted for all five communities serviced by the 35th.
Throughout, my rule of thumb has been, "Good law is just good common sense."

Community Involvement

What activities can you cite as evidence of your involvement in the community? How important is it that district court judges involve themselves in community activities?

I have been a member of Kiwanis, Vietnam Veterans of America, American Legion, Big Brothers of America, and the Reserve Officers Association. I have coached youth soccer and mock trial competition. I have supported many charitable and civic organizations.
It is extremely important for a judge to be involved in community activities, both as a participant and as a leader.

A judge is a community leader. I have been very active in my community and I believe a judge should be. I have served in a leadership role in over a dozen community organizations, from the United Way to the local Republican Committee to my church's administrative council. Unlike my opponent I am not asking you to allow me to prove I can be a leader, I am asking you to allow me to accept a new leadership role, that of your judge.

Sentencing Reform

Do you think that sentencing reform is needed in the state's criminal justice system?

The current Sentencing Guidelines for felony cases have corrected many of the inequities in the system. The advent of the Truth in Sentencing law which has been passed will enable the public to know exactly how much time a person will spend in prison.
I do not believe additional major reform is necessary at this point. Further restrictions on a judge's ability to determine the sentence are not necessary.

Although not applicable at the District Court level, Judge Garber tells a story of how we took the present sentencing guidelines to a judicial institute. Judges from all over the U.S. thought the guidelines were nothing but an elaborate joke being perpetrated by Judge Garber. The general consensus was that the guidelines were too complicated. It's a fact that on the day of sentencing the issue most often argued is what punishment the guidelines provide.
I believe in "truth in sentencing"; "victims' rights" and that a convicted criminal should be sentenced to a specific term and serve all of it.

Court Finances

A number of reports have surfaced of financial mishandling at district courts in Michigan. Some say lax oversight of court revenues is to blame. Do you favor legislative action to implement stricter controls of court finances and procedures?

I believe that the local control units are best suited to implement any needed changes to prevent mishandling of court revenues. Adding more state legislation would only unnecessarily add to the burden of those courts which are already strict in their control of court funds, the 35th District Court being a prime example.

The necessary controls and procedures already exist at the 35th. As well as having implemented those dictated by the Supreme Court Administrators Office (the entity responsible for oversight of the district courts) the 35th undergoes its own annual audit. Unlike many district courts, the 35th has to answer to a board made up of representatives from the five communities serviced by the court.
Recently the 35th underwent an audit by the SCAO. The stated purpose, in addition to verifying books, was to learn from the 35th as it is one of a handful of courts that is fully computerized.

35th District Court

Thirty-fifth District Court is one of the few courts in the state that operates in the black and is able to return money to its individual control units. What do you think accounts for that?

The 35th District Court is highly efficient despite being one of the busier courts in the state. Because of the systems that are in place and the constant review of them to seek improvement, the Court is able to return money to the communities.
I would maintain that philosophy as judge of the 35th District Court.

Through the diligent efforts of the judges and court personnel the 35th has been able to reduce its operating costs while increasing its revenues. Presently there are fewer employees than 15 years ago. Despite this reduction in staffing the court efficiently handles 23,000 cases more (better than a 100 percent increase) than it did in 1979.
It is this increase in cases that has resulted in an increase in revenues while permitting the fines and costs to remain in the middle third level when compared to the remaining district courts in the state.

Alternative Programs

Would you like to see more alternative sentencing and counseling programs instituted at 35th District Court?

I would advocate the expansion of the probation department to meet the need of an ever expanding case load. As a companion to that, I do advocate the expansion of alternative sentencing and counseling programs to assist those convicted to avoid repeat offenses and help remedy causes of criminal activity.

I believe that the 35th presently provides sufficient alternatives for the sentencing of convicted criminals. These range from some form of community service or work detail, to the Wayne County Sheriff's Work Program, to jail in Hillsdale County Jail as the last resort.
I also believe that convicted criminals should be punished and the nature of the crime, the criminal and the desires of the victim should determine the severity of the punishment. I am not aware of any need for additional counseling programs but would support such a step if it is merited.

Bullard, Havey opt for House

Democrat Bob Havey challenges incumbent Willis "Bill" Bullard for the 38th State House District. The winner will represent the western part of Oakland County, including northern Northville, Novi, Milford and South Lyon. The winner will earn a two-year term.

The Northville Record queried the candidates on their views by questionnaire. Their answers were as follows.

WILLIS BULLARD

WILLIS "BILL" BULLARD JR.
INCUMBENT, REPUBLICAN

Age: 51

Education: Bachelor of arts degree, University of Michigan; juris doctor degree, Detroit College of Law.

Bullard is an attorney-at-law. His community activities include the Huron Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Palmer Drug Abuse Program. He served as a trustee and supervisor of Highland Township from 1978-1982 and as state representative from 1983 to the present.

BOB HAVEY

BOB HAVEY
CHALLENGER, DEMOCRAT

Age: 46

Education: Bachelor of arts in political science from Oakland University.

Havey is employed as division head with the Ladbroke Corp. He is a past member of the Parks and Rec Commission of Wixom and served as chairman for Wixom's Quality of Life Commission on Long-Range Planning.

He is a member of the Goodfellows, a precinct delegate, chairman of the Southwest Democratic Club and an executive board member for the 11th Congressional District.

Outcomes Based Education

What are your sentiments on outcomes based education?

"Outcomes based education means different things to different people. If outcomes based education, OBE, is understood to mean lowering academic standards so everyone can achieve the educator's desired outcome, then I am opposed to OBE," Bullard said.

"The teachers I have talked to feel there is pressure to teach to the test instead of the subject, which narrows what the children learn. Some type of testing is needed, but to pressure to one test is unreasonable," Havey said.

Education Reforms

How do you feel about the recent education reforms made by the state, particularly Proposal A and the cost-cutting legislation with regard to teacher negotiations?

"I supported Proposal A to cut property taxes and increase the sales tax because the people of Michigan have been burdened with excessive property taxes for too long. Proposal A put Michigan more in line with the national average tax levies on these two taxes. It also capped annual increased in property assessments," he explained.

"I also strongly supported the cost-cutting legislation that was signed into law because it helped level the playing field for parents during contract negotiations. The threat of illegal teacher strikes has been diminished now that the Legislature has put teeth in the 1965 law prohibiting teacher strikes."

"I don't know if it's the answer. We have to wait and see if the money will be there in the future. I didn't agree with the 2-percent sales tax increase because it hurts middle income families more than the rich," Havey said.

"The teachers and support staff lost a tool in Proposal A. In order to bargain, workers need all the tools they can get, including the right to strike."

Pressing Education Issues

What are the most pressing issues facing education in the future?

"The bottom line is that we need to encourage innovation and excellence in our public schools. We must also focus on students who will not go to college after graduation. To help these students, I am supportive of more funding for vocational schools and alternative curriculums that teach specific skills. I also support laws that require students to achieve a certain reading level before being passed to a higher grade," Bullard said.

"(The most) pressing issue in education is to work with business more so educators will know what skills business needs. A closer relationship should include on-site visits so children can see hands-on what skills they need," he said.

Replacing Taxes

With the passage of Proposal A, some people fear that the reduced taxes will be raised or replaced with new ones. Do you share that concern? If so, what do you plan to do about it? If not, why not?

"As chairman of the House Taxation Committee, I have had a large role in cutting property taxes to make Michigan's tax system fairer to homeowners. I do not see the need to raise any taxes. In fact, I will continue to work to cut taxes as I have done this session with cuts in the inheritance tax, income taxes on private pensions, the Single Business Tax and income tax," Bullard said.

"People fearing that the reduced taxes will be raised or replaced with new ones is understandable," Havey explained. "Right now the state economy is expanding, but what happens when it's not? Will the money be there? I think we need to wait and see. If the money is not there, we have to go to the citizens of the community to see what quality of education they want or what other cuts we could make in other programs."

Lakefront Public Access

How do you feel about the Department of Natural Resources purchasing lakefront property for public access sites?

"I am opposed to the DNR purchasing lakefront property for public access sites until adequate criteria are developed to prevent overusage and crowding on our lakes," he stated.

"Public access by DNR must be strictly watched as our residents know the lakes are heavily used right now. If more public access would increase that load and destroy the pleasure and the lake, then no more access," he said.

Landfill Siting

What are your thoughts on landfill siting in this district?

"I am opposed to siting landfills in this area because of the danger landfills pose to our water supply, among other reasons," Bullard said.

"Landfills are difficult problems because everyone wants it in the other guy's back yard. We need more recycling, which has come a long way the last few years," Havey said. "We need to look into what we put in the landfills, i.e., toxic materials. Finally, we as individuals need to act responsibly in what we dispose of and how."

Voter Cynicism

Most people agree that voters today are cynical. They don't trust politicians, and the Michigan Legislature has become highly polarized. Why should they trust you?

"I have a record of being accessible to the people in my district and following the wishes of the people in casting my vote on all issues," Bullard said.

"People have become cynical, especially of career politicians of which my opponent is. Another reason is they have not always acted in our best interest by following special interests. I propose campaign reform, stopping the flow of cash to career politicians. The polarization of Lansing is a result of party politics. Instead of voting party line we need to vote people line," he said.

Why Running

Why are you running for this office?

"To continue efforts to cut taxes, end welfare as we know it, stimulate job creation and toughen our criminal laws," he said.

"I believe I can make a difference by being independent and voting on people issues and not necessarily special interest issues and not just party line," Havey said.

"With my background and experience, I can identify the problems, propose solutions and act on what will solve the problem, keeping the interest of the district in mind."

"I have always agreed on an open-door policy and that will continue as state representative. I will make myself available to the people."

GENERAL ELECTION • NOVEMBER 8

Geake tries to fend off O'Neil challenge

Challenger Patrick O'Neil squares off against incumbent Robert Geake in the 9th Michigan Senate district, which includes the Wayne County portion of Northville, and all of Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton.

Race Track Revenue

What would you do, if anything, to return more race track revenues to the local communities?

Communities with racetracks need and deserve a share of the money brought in by the tracks to help pay for additional public safety expenses caused by track patrons. In the past, governors of both political parties have withheld funds due these communities under the state racing act. I support HB 5495 which would permit the cities to take their share of money that is bet directly rather than having the funds first go to the state for allocation and redistribution.

Governor Engler has taken much of the tax paid by the race tracks that formerly went to the local communities and he has converted it into state revenues. As a state senator, I would consider myself an advocate for the communities I would represent. This certainly is an issue that is important to both Northville and Livonia. I would fight to restore the former tax distribution plan.

Budget Cuts

In the event that new tax revenues do not equal losses from the cut in property taxes under Proposal A, what areas of the budget would you be willing to trim to ensure per-pupil allowances to school districts?

I believe that the Legislature should give priority to full funding for public education programs. The largest general fund expenditure each year is for social services (welfare) at $2.5 billion and this is the place I would look first if cuts are needed to fund education. This is a rational approach because a strong education program can help to reduce welfare dependency. Thus, full funding for adult education, vocational education, and our community colleges is important along with our regular K-12 programs.

I am certain that in at least three and probably all six of the school districts that are included in the 9th Senatorial district, there will be a real dollar decrease in school spending in the next five years.

It is difficult to determine where the shortfall in education spending can be made up. Our prison spending is out of control and needs to be reduced. We should cut administrative spending in every department. Governor Engler and the Legislature have put us in a corner that will be very difficult to get out of.

Anti-crime Strategies

What is your position on instituting a three-strikes-you're-out type of penalty for violent criminals? Do you think the focus should be on increased prison construction or on prevention efforts?

I support lengthy prison terms for violent criminals such as the "three strikes" proposals. However, a large number of prisoners in our present system are serving time for non-violent offenses. We also have a growing geriatric prison population of inmates who are no longer a threat to society.

The Department of Corrections budget has grown 61 percent over the past four years, far greater than any other department in state government. I would also increase staffing for probation and parole supervision as well as prevention programs.

I am concerned that three-strikes-you're-out is an impractical slogan. We certainly need to keep those who are a danger away from society during that period of their lives that they are a danger. We do not need to spend $25,000 per year to lock up people in their 70s simply because they were a danger in their 20s.

Crime prevention is cheaper and more humane than neglect and imprisonment. It has been established that programs like Head Start help prevent children from becoming criminals. Unfortunately, Head Start has received much praise, but inadequate funding.

Abortion Measures

In your view should the state take additional measures to restrict access to abortion?

I have consistently supported measures which would restrict the availability of abortions. During the last term I supported the end of taxpayer funded abortions (Medicaid abortions) and the parental consent law. In the coming term I would oppose including abortion services in any comprehensive health care program.

I believe that government should not take sides on abortion. Like Barry Goldwater, I think it is not the function of the state to intrude into the private decisions of a woman. I believe it was wrong of our Legislature to require women be given anti-abortion literature by their doctor before they can have an abortion. It would be equally wrong to require priests and ministers to give out pro abortion literature to women they advise to give birth. The state should take neither position.

Welfare Reform

How do you feel about recent welfare reforms?

As chairman of the Social Service Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee, I have had extensive experience with the welfare budget and various reform proposals over the last 10 years. Research on the fate of the former recipients of General Assistance has shown that most were able to find other means of support. Some had to move in with relatives who then pressured them to get jobs and move out! Other GA recipients had jobs all along but were not reporting the income. Some, unfortunately, were drug dealers who had plenty of money but stayed on GA to have some visible means of support.

Many of us are concerned that our welfare system may do as much long term harm as it does short term good. The high percentage of welfare recipients who were also on welfare as children indicates that the system is not working well. Governor Engler has not made significant changes in the system. He claims his welfare reform saved $22 million last year. Compare this to the $42 million of our taxes he let the cigarette sellers have in order to get their support for Proposal A. Welfare reform should design a new system, not just modify the old one.

Gun Control

Should the state take additional measures to tighten permit procedures for gun ownership?

I support the idea of private citizens owning firearms for sporting purposes and for personal defense. I believe that current laws strike a proper balance in the area of permit procedures and I strongly oppose erosion of our Second Amendment rights under the United States Constitution. I would, however, support laws to increase penalties for those who leave loaded guns where children have access to them.

We should continue to prohibit the use of mail order gun permits from other states. The Michigan permit system seems to be working reasonably well. I am not aware of a good reason to modify it.

Economic Development

Do you think state government should take an active role in job creation and economic development?

The biggest problem facing state government continues to be Michigan's cyclical economy. Although our state has been doing comparatively well lately, we still need further tax cuts, regulatory reform, workers compensation reform, Single Business Tax reform, tort reform, and privatization of state and local services to improve the state's economy and job climate on a long term basis.

The state should do everything it can to encourage the growth of well paying jobs. The quality of these jobs is as important as the quantity. We need jobs that a person can raise a family on. Unfortunately, much of our job growth has been in the low pay, no benefits area. Cars are selling well now which helps here in Michigan but we should strive to further diversify our state's economy so that we are less effected by fluctuations in the automobile industry.

Campaign Statement

What other issue, if any, would you like to address during the campaign?

I believe that all the candidates should make their views known on the four ballot proposals. I oppose Proposal A which would require that a constitutional convention be held at an estimated cost to taxpayers of $24 million. I support Proposal B which would end the automatic right to appeal for criminal defendants who have previously pleaded guilty or no contest. I support Proposal C, auto insurance reform, and Proposal P to establish a state parks endowment fund.

Representative government is the basic issue in this election. We have seen Governor Engler and our local legislators totally ignore the way their constituents voted in ballot proposals. In 1993, the voters overwhelmingly rejected trading local financing of schools for state financing. Two months later the Legislature eliminated local school financing and set in process the way for state financing. In 1992, the voters clearly rejected a proposal to set caps on car insurance medical coverage. Four months later, our legislators voted to do just what we rejected. Governor Engler signed both pieces of legislation into law.

Taxes, race tracks at issue in contest

38th District State House - Oakland County portion of Northville

Havey hopeful of upset

By SAM BLACK
Staff writer

Bob Havey recognizes the uphill battle he faces in the November election, and he hopes to persuade independents and less conservative Republicans to cast ballots for him.

"I've looked at the numbers, but the City of Novi has elected Democrats in the past," said Havey, a Democrat from Wixom. "There is a lot of anti-incumbency out there."

The 38th state House district is traditionally a Republican stronghold, and he faces an incumbent, Willis "Bill" Bullard, R-Milford.

Havey, 46, said he believes the majority of his support will be mustered in Novi and Wixom, where the Republican electorate is not as stringent as the rest of the district. But he is also counting on votes from horse farmers and trainers in Lyon and Milford townships.

The Oakland County portion of Northville is also a part of the district.

Havey said he is active with the Michigan Harness Horseman's Association and is a division head for Ladbroke Detroit Race Course, a Livonia horse race course. He is in charge of accounting at the race track.

His political promotion of horse racing and his job, he said, are not a conflict of interest.

"All I would really want to do is to see it (horse racing) continue," Havey said.

He opposes casino gambling, saying it could harm patronage to area horse tracks and destroy the horse racing industry.

He said the industry contributes $30 million in taxes on track betting. That money, he said, is earmarked for the Department of Agriculture and helps to support 4-H projects, state-funded agriculture programs and fairs.

Havey said he supports legislation backed by the Michigan Horse Council that would allow horse-racing tracks to have video gaming machines. The legislation would help horse parks compete with Windsor's casino, he said, and it would help preserve the 40,000 Michigan jobs in the horse and harness racing industry.

He said horse tracks have seen a 30-percent downturn in betting since the Canadian casino opened earlier this year.

"I don't look at it as an expansion of gambling," Havey said. "I look at it as a twist to help race tracks survive."

On other issues, Havey said educators and the business community must work more closely to prepare high school students for the job market. Students could earn credit while learning a trade at a local business, Havey said.

For instance, he said a student could work at a travel agency to develop geography and computer skills, while learning the job requirements of the business world.

Many schools, including Northville High School, already provide such programs.

Schools must also make facilities more accessible to the public, he said. Midnight basketball programs and other regular events and classes could be offered to youths as both a diversion and a preventive measure for juvenile crime, Havey said.

If elected to the House, Havey said one of his priorities would be campaign finance reform. He said he believes legislators should be limited in the amount of money they may receive from political action committees (PACs).

In considering any piece of legislation, Havey said he would listen to voters and would not allow his political party to choose his votes.

"Willis (Bullard) votes strictly the party-line," said Havey, chairman of the Southwest Democrat Club. "I would not."

Bullard disagreed. "I vote in my constituents' best interests," Bullard said.

Bullard said he believes voters are pleased with his voting record and are most often pleased with the Republican Party's stance on issues.

Jack Murray, 68, a Democrat, said he has known Havey as a friend for 30 years. "He's an honest man. I like his attitude," Murray said. "He's a good, strong, hard-headed young man, and he would do a good job. He's a person that can handle the job."

Robert Havey

Havey earned a bachelor's degree in political science at Oakland University and studied law for two years at Detroit College of Law.

Six years ago, Havey moved from Bloomfield Township to a Wixom apartment. He said he has been looking to purchase property in Milford or Highland.

He is a member and serves on the executive board of the Service Employees International Union Local 79, which also endorsed his candidacy. He said he was also endorsed by the United Auto Workers, the AFL-CIO and the Michigan State Firefighters Association.

Havey has served on the Wixom Parks and Recreation Commission, chaired the Wixom Quality of Life Committee and worked on a long-range Wixom planning committee. He is also a member of the Wixom Goodfellows, and was seen at Wixom's July 4th celebration selling hot dogs for that organization.

Havey's three children are Adam, 23, a chemical engineer for International Paper in Arkansas; Bret, 22, who graduated from the University of Michigan and works in film production for Video Hits-1 (VH-1), a music video cable station based in New York; and Megan, 20, who is attending Oakland Community College.

State Senate terms run for four years. The position pays roughly $47,720 a year.

Bullard eyes second term

By SAM BLACK
Staff writer

After appearing with Gov. John Engler in recent months in Novi and enjoying support from a richly Republican district, Willis "Bill" Bullard is confident voters will return him to his 38th District state House seat in Lansing.

The 38th District is one of the top 10 strongest Republican districts in Michigan. Inside Michigan Politics reported earlier this year. It is composed of the Oakland County portion of Northville, Novi, Milford Township, Lyon Township, Milford Village, South Lyon, Wixom and Walled Lake.

"It's well above 60 percent (Republican)," said Bullard, 51.

Bullard first took office in January 1983, and is currently co-chairman of the state House Taxation Committee. He also and serves on the Public Utilities, Local Government and Civil Rights and Women's Issues committees.

Tax reform is Bullard's trump suit for the campaign. At least 11 tax reform measures, including Proposal A and single business tax reductions, have passed during Bullard's two-year tenure on the taxation committee.

And if Republicans win a majority in November, Bullard would serve as the taxation committee's only chairman, and tax issues would be brought more to the forefront, he said.

"The reason I want to go back is to continue the tax reforms we started," Bullard said. "There is more to be done, and it can be done if we have a Republican House, which I'm very hopeful we will have."

For the past two years, the state House has been divided evenly, 55 Republicans and 55 Democrats. Republicans have controlled the state Senate for 10 years, but have not enjoyed a majority in the Michigan House in 26 years.

A Republican House majority would boot the Democratic co-chair of the taxation and other committees and allow Republicans to assume sole control of the committees.

Committees decide which measures are put to vote. Bullard said prior to the House split, Democrat-controlled House committees refused several tax reform measures the Republican Senate offered.

"The Senate passed property tax cuts after property tax cuts, but the Democrats in the House would not vote," Bullard said.

During his tenure on the taxation committee, Bullard said he was able to send tax bills to the House floor that might have otherwise been ignored. Bullard boasts that people are pleased that residential property taxes have fallen as low as 6 mills. In the past two years, the inheritance tax has been eliminated as have taxes on the vast majority of private pensions, Bullard said.

Small businesses have enjoyed tax relief, too, Bullard said. This year, the Legislature increased the filing threshold for the single business tax from $100,000 to $250,000 in gross annual income. And the alternative business tax for small corporations, those with less than $10 million in gross revenues, was reduced from 4 percent to 2 percent in two pieces of legislation in two years.

"Ninety percent of my time will be spent on tax issues," Bullard promised if reelected.

Specifically, Bullard said he would examine the personal property tax paid by businesses in hopes of abolishing it. He said the tax punishes companies for investing in new machinery and updating technology. Local governments benefit from the tax, and the Legislature must find a way to give local governments funds to replace the loss of the tax revenue.

If the personal property tax cannot be eliminated, the Legislature could offer companies a 100 percent credit on the state single business tax, Bullard said.

Bullard said he is also working on ideas to lower the personal income tax.

Tax revenues were up 8 percent in the 1994 fiscal year, ending in September, compared to the 1993 fiscal year earnings, Bullard said. The Legislature could spend such increases, stow them away in the state's rainy day fund or offer tax cuts. Bullard said he preferred tax cuts.

Bullard lives in Milford with his wife, Lynda. His son, Willis III, 21, is a senior at Wittenberg University in Ohio and his daughter, Melissa, 20, is a junior at Kalamazoo College.

Bullard, an attorney, graduated with a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and earned his law degree at Detroit College of Law. He was a Highland Township supervisor from 1978-1982. He moved to Milford two years ago when the Legislature reset district boundaries, excluding Highland from the district.

He is a member of the Huron Valley Area Chamber of Commerce, the Fraternal Order of Police, a mediator with the Oakland County Circuit and district courts, a trustee of Palmer Drug Abuse Program and a member of the University of Michigan Club of Greater Detroit, among other professional and civic affiliations.

In his spare time, Bullard could be found swinging a golf club or attending a sporting event. Hockey, football, basketball are his favorites.

Oakland race pits incumbent against school board member

17th District Oakland County Commission - Oakland County portion of Northville

Novi school trustee, Meyer, eyes county post

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff writer

Michael Meyer wants to make a difference.

Two years ago he tried to make a difference in Congress, but was defeated in the primary election.

Today, he's still upset about the same things he was then, only now he's going to try to do something about it just a little closer to home.

The three-term member of the Novi Board of Education is seeking to unseat Kay Schmid as the 17th District Commissioner on the Oakland County Board. The two will face off in the Nov. 8 general election.

Few things have changed in Meyer's platform since he dropped his hat in the Congressional race two years ago. His motivation is the same but this time he's got a better chance at winning, he said, because he's earned support from the Democratic party as well as other influential organizations.

"It should be a close race even though I'm a Democrat running in a Republican district," he said. "This time I have Democratic support and endorsements."

His party, the UAW and Right to Life are backing Meyer's bid for the seat.

His motivation is to affect change. New blood brings new ideas, he said. In 1992, Meyer dropped his name in the running because he was concerned about the welfare of those affected by Governor John Engler's decision to cut general assistance.

"I ran for Congress because I was concerned about the Governor who said he cared about people. He said they could and should be working. And then he did away with general assistance," he said.

Meyer's knows first hand there are some people on the welfare system who can work. But, he said, there are those who can't because they are developmentally disabled or physically handicapped.

"I know thousands can work," he said. "But some need our help."

It's those folks Meyer wants to help.

"That's what motivated me to run," he said. "I had no party support and no PAC (Political Action Committee). I only had donations from those here who supported me and the money I donated to my campaign.

"But I felt I could make a difference," he said. And he still does.

"I'm still motivated by the same force. I believe I can make a difference," he said.

That means he'll campaign on his experience as a Novi Board of Education member to sway Novi residents to vote for him. He'll use what he said has been a prudent use of taxpayers money to illustrate his fiscal responsibility and restraint.

"I have tried to prudently deal with the taxes paid to Novi Schools," he said. "We've never over built or overspent in this school district."

Fiscal responsibility and accountability is just one of four issues Meyer sees as critical ones facing Oakland County. The County has a $421 million budget. Another 10 percent county officials oversee from the Road Commission. That makes the annual budget half a billion dollars. Most of the budget is accounted for, Meyer said when he had done his research. But 7 percent is still listed as miscellaneous expenses. That 7 percent equates to $35 million.

"We need greater accountability for how that money is being spent," he said. "I would propose a Truth in Budgeting policy and become a watchdog for fourth quarter spending."

"It appears that there could be more prudent and wise use of the money that is in that budget," he said.

And county services could be more "user-friendly," Meyer said. He'd like to see Novi residents have quicker access to county services like obtaining birth, marriage and death certificates without having to travel to Pontiac to do so. He proposes opening a regional county services center in Walled Lake or Novi or negotiating with city clerks to network with county officials so those services could be offered locally to county taxpayers. And then there's the notion of balancing the ratio of Republican and

Michael Meyer

Democratic commissioners who are seated on the board. Currently, there is one Democrat for every five Republicans on the 25 member panel.

"I'd like to bring greater representation to the county board and commission in Oakland County. Right now they are all being headed by a Republican."

"This is not a Democratic understanding of government. It is one perspective and one view point."

Last but not least on Meyer's platform is his hope for greater cooperation between the City of Detroit and Oakland County. Meyer said there is an awful lot of room for improvement and cooperation in water and sewer services, regional transit and waste collection.

Cooperation is key but it is time for change, Meyer said. "We need new thoughts and new ideas," he said. "This race will be a contest. But just as it is time for change on the school board, it is time for change on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners."

"If I'm elected I'll serve with honesty and integrity as I have done during my days on the Novi school board," he said.

Schmid seeks third term on board

By SHARON CONDRON
Staff writer

Kay Schmid isn't ready to give up her Oakland County Board seat just yet.

Ending her second term, she is seeking a third stint as the 17th District commissioner. She's being challenged by Democratic Novi resident Michael Meyer in the Nov. 8 general election.

Schmid said Friday she's making headway in improving services for her constituents in Walled Lake and Novi and she doesn't want to jump ship yet.

"I have the time, energy and knowledge," she said. "And I'm making headway in bringing more services to our corner of the county."

The relocation and expansion of the 52-1 District Court from Walled Lake to Novi is just one of several changes county officials have made to improve services for residents in the 17th District. A new courthouse is under construction in Novi and county officials plan to move county employees from Pontiac to the former courthouse facility in Walled Lake. The move will provide residents easier access to the services provided only by Oakland County.

A $21 million reduction in the county's 1994 operating budget has also been a big win for Schmid and her colleagues on the county board.

"We have been a good group of commissioners. We've done a lot and have accomplished a lot," she said. "We have a two-year budget that we are just now reviewing and making amendments. We've been fiscally responsible and have always had a balanced budget."

"To be able to cut $21 million is a major accomplishment," she said. "We have made a much leaner and meaner county. Departments have lost 25 percent of their revenues. Some have lost too much. Those will have to be reviewed."

"But we are keeping the millage low and trying to get services out to the community," she said.

In Novi and Walled Lake, that means improved court and county services. And soon, if talks go Schmid's way and Oakland County Prosecutors and area police chiefs reach some accord, there soon will be an improvement in police and fire services.

Schmid said she has been instrumental in working with police chiefs in the 52-1 District Court jurisdiction to move a warrant prosecutor down from Pontiac and into town. The move will alleviate the number of runs police officers make to and from Pontiac to get warrants signed.

The commissioner said she is working with Novi Police Chief Douglas Shaeffer to get the moved approved. But county officials are stalling a decision because they don't want to lose the manpower in the county court system, she said.

Schmid in spite of the delay, the prospect looks promising because Novi city officials have promised the prosecutor free office space, telephone usage and secretarial services if he or she is relocated to the area.

"We need this now, not sometime in the future," she said. Talks are continuing Schmid said, but progress has been slow even though the idea has won the support of a coalition of police chiefs in the area.

Improving police and fire services is a high priority for the commissioner, but it isn't the only issue on the commission's plate. Until last year, there were only two counties in Michigan who still hadn't assumed control of community mental health services. Oakland County is one; Macomb is the other.

When the county services were under the auspices of the state, Oakland County's budgeted expense for those services was only $10-12 million. Today, it is in excess of $100 million. A transition team which includes county commissioners and county officials is currently undertaking the monumental task of reworking the system.

"We are revamping the services so we serve more people and get them out of state hospitals. So many people get to the state hospitals and get lost there. They are kept there when some could really be put into group homes where their needs are better met."

Schmid said county officials have selected a committee to spearhead the revamping effort. Committee members will be setting priorities and finding ways to get people out of the hospitals and off waiting lists. The county is also going to start bidding out parts of the program which have never been bidded out before.

"It is a very high priority and one we are finally going ahead with," she said.

Schmid is also celebrating a personal victory. As the board's liaison to Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, Schmid said SEMCOG officials finally conceded last week to abandon their hopes of becoming a regional body.

"I finally got their attention after three years of being on the board that they aren't going to be a regional government," she said. "It's taken three years to tell them that. Now they seem receptive to the idea."

That means SEMCOG members will now recognize that they can't stop growth in Oakland County.

"We can control growth but you can't stop it," she said. "You can't tell people where to go. You can't stop growth. It's going to happen. People have a right to go where they want and it's up to the local officials to make the choice."

Schmid said the Oakland County Board of Commissioners has made real progress since she was first elected four years ago.

"I've done a good job. I think I'm respected. I do put in a lot of time. But I think if you want to get the job done you have to do it yourself."

"There are just too many things I want to get done."

Law, Blanchard go for open House seat

Attorney Blanchard has take-charge style

Law wants back in old, familiar territory

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

If you don't like the way something's being done, do it yourself.

That's the philosophy of Carolyn Blanchard, who is running on the Democratic ticket for the 20th District Michigan House race.

Blanchard, who did not feel content with the choice of candidates running for the state House of Representatives, decided she would take on the task herself.

Blanchard, a Northville Township resident who was unopposed in the Aug. 2 primary election, faces Republican Gerald Law in Tuesday's run-off contest.

State representatives serve two-year terms with an annual salary of $47,723. The 20th District includes Northville Township, the Wayne County portion of Northville, all of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton, and portions of Livonia.

In 1990 Blanchard made an unsuccessful bid for Wayne County Probate Court judge. She said she enjoyed getting involved in the political process, however, and remains committed to making a difference.

"I always like thinking about the 'big picture,'" she said.

Her candidacy is one which symbolizes change, Blanchard said. It is not so much an issue of partisan politics, she said, but the idea of electing a candidate who has fresh ideas, who is not a career politician and who will stand up for women.

"Women need to recognize that women are the people who promote legislation for women," said Blanchard, who is pro-choice. "Women need to vote their convictions rather than who has the 'R' or 'D' in front of their name."

Into the race Blanchard brings 10 years of law experience. She has a private practice where she works in criminal law, juvenile law in abuse and neglect cases and probate law.

In addition to her law degree from the University of Detroit, Blanchard holds bachelor's and master's degrees in nutrition and has worked for the Visiting Nurses Association as a nutritionist in metro Detroit for seven years.

Her experience in law and public health provides her with a unique and diverse background, she believes.

If elected, Blanchard said she plans to focus on all types of preventative programs that will strengthen the family unit, enhance educational programs and health care and keep youths away from a life of crime.

"Prevention is a lot cheaper than building more prisons, paying for health care in emergency rooms," she said. "Crisis intervention is not the way to run society."

Blanchard said she would like to write into legislation more bills that strengthen families, including supporting working mothers with more day care programs and keeping children with problems in the home rather than sending them into foster homes.

"We seem to not want to work with families," she said. "We want to just remove kids. Put them some place else and fix them someplace else rather than try to fix them where they are."

She also believes education is the key to steering children away from crime.

"Education, I think, is more important than locking people up," she said. "We have to stop building prisons and start figuring out why we put so many people in prison."

The prospect of a Democratic candidate winning in what is considered a highly Republican district will be a "tough fight" she said; however, Blanchard feels if people get out to the polls and vote for change, she can win.

"If people want change, commitment and fortitude, then vote for me," she said.

The importance of representative government at the local level is something Republican Gerald Law believes in firmly.

That's why Law says he's seeking a sixth term to the state House of Representatives in the 20th district.

Law, a Plymouth resident who was first elected to the House in 1982, said he has the experience and commitment to represent the constituents of the 20th District for the next two years.

In the Aug. 2 primary election, Law scored a narrow upset victory over incumbent Jerry Vorva, besting his opponent by a mere 248 votes.

Law will face Democrat Carolyn Blanchard when voters go to the polls on Tuesday.

State representatives serve two-year terms with an annual salary of $47,723. The 20th District includes Northville Township, the Wayne County portion of Northville, all of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton, and portions of Livonia.

Law has received criticism in his bid for a House seat because four months after he was elected to his fifth term he left his position in Lansing to accept appointment as Plymouth Township supervisor.

"In hindsight I don't regret my decision," he said.

Law said shifting his place of employment back to Plymouth allowed him to spend more time with his children, to receive a 20 percent raise in pay and cut down on his hour-long drive to Lansing every day.

Law said he would not have run for the fifth term to office had he known the Plymouth Township supervisor's position was going to open up.

This time is different, Law vows, and if elected he says he plans to faithfully serve the community for the full term.

Serving as a representative is a job he has found rewarding in the past and one that he enjoys, Law said. Two of the assets he believes he brings with him to the campaign are accessibility and experience.

"I have a lot of experience in Lansing, which means I don't have to learn," he said. "I know a lot of senators and representatives on the Democrat and Republican side."

The personal relationships legislators form with both parties are very important, he added.

"The more friends you have in the Legislature when you have a problem, the more you can go to and say, 'Hey all we want is fair treatment,' and gather support," he said.

In addition to his eight years as state representative, Law spent 12 years as an executive for Ford Motor Credit Corp., and four years as a Plymouth Township trustee after that.

Of the issues Law plans to focus on, ensuring public schools in his district get their fair share of state revenue is important in the wake of Proposal A, which basically switched school funding from local property taxes to state sales taxes.

"We're charting new waters here, so we'll have to see what happens," he said. "I want to make sure the schools get their fair share of dollars as the years go on." Another issue that has weighed heavily on the minds of many state officials is how to save the race-track industry and how the prospect of bringing casino gambling into Detroit will affect local race tracks.

One proposal is to bring casino-like gambling into the race tracks, something to which Law is opposed.

The unfortunate proliferation of gambling is just negative on society," he said. "It's negative because people only have so many dollars. If you take these dollars and go down to the casino and spend them, you won't spend them at these other consumer industries."

"If people want to gamble, go to Las Vegas," he said.

Law said he plans to focus on ensuring that more race track revenue is returned to the cities.

Library seats up for grabs in election

By YVONNE BEEBE

Northville city and township residents will have a limited selection of candidates to choose from next Tuesday as they cast votes for the new district library board.

Only four candidates are running for the seven positions open on the board, which will begin its reign Jan. 1, 1995.

That leaves the race open for any write-in candidates that voters might jot down on their ballots.

After the election, if there are still vacant seats the new board members could advertise for applicants and fill the seats before the board begins its term.

The top four vote-getters in the election will be granted four-year terms with the remaining three trustees serving for two years.

The four candidates running for the district board are: Bill Brown, Wendy Gutowski, Lynn Parkilan and Anna Sarkisian.

City and township voters approved the concept of a Northville District Library May 3. Local residents' approval of a 1-mill levy and a $4.5 million construction bond clear the way for formation of the new library.

Revenues from the 1 mill will double the library's budget to about $800,000, including rental fees and overdue fines.

Construction of the new building, which will be located on Cady Street south of City Hall, could begin in late summer 1995.

Group organizing 1995 NHS senior All-nighter to hold initial meeting

The decorating committee chairs will present several themes which will be explored and selected by the group. The parents attending will brainstorm decorating ideas to reflect the secret theme.

Parents may purchase a Senior Party ticket for $30. Please make checks payable to Judy Morante. If you have questions call Ardith Borgia at 420-2150, or Karen DeBenedet at 349-9228.

Township voters to decide fate of millages

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

On Tuesday, Northville Township voters will finally get their chance to pass judgment on Proposals 1 and 2.

Two things happen if voters say yes to the requests on Nov. 8. First, they'll approve a slight tax increase - about $28 more a year for a $200,000 home owner. Second, they'll give the green light to the millage the township needs to continue funding citizen services. Those include the township's police and fire departments, as well as the agencies that the township funds jointly with the City of Northville: the Parks & Recreation Department, Youth Assistance and the senior citizen program.

Cutbacks in - or the outright elimination of - services could occur if voters reject the two millage requests. Proposal 1's failure would mean the police department dissolves on Jan. 1. The fire department could continue to operate, township officials say, but with cutbacks that will affect long term quality of service.

The township will likely have no way to fund its share of joint services if Proposal 2 fails five days from now. That will probably mean cuts in services and higher participation fees for Parks & Rec programs.

Here's a summary of the two proposals:

The township's police department currently gets its operating money from a legally dedicated police millage approved by the vot-

A Chamber first: Ballot endorsements

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

In the first example of a new policy, the board of directors of the Northville Chamber of Commerce has unanimously voted to endorse Proposals 1 and 2.

The two millage requests are on the Nov. 8 ballot that face Northville Township voters. Proposal 1 asks for 3.84 mills to fund the township's police and fire departments. Proposal 2 asks for 0.4 mill to pay the township's share of services it jointly funds with the City of Northville: the Parks & Rec Department, Youth Assistance and the senior citizen program.

Both four-year millages would legally earmark the money they raise for the specified services. They are what's required for the township to continue funding these services, supporters say, combined with a very small increase to account for growth in population and concurrent demand on services.

"These are very important services for the residents and businesses of the township," Chamber board member Ann Willis said. "We felt very strongly that they needed our support."

The vote to back Proposals 1 and 2 represents the first time the Chamber's new limited endorsement policy has been put into effect since it was adopted last month at the group's annual meeting.

The Chamber's 253 members voted to have the organization take positions on ballot proposals which significantly affect the Northville community, Executive Director Laurie Marrs said.

"People look to us for answers and we feel we should provide them," Marrs said. The Chamber will continue to refrain from endorsing candidates for political office.

The passage or failure of Proposals 1 and 2, board members agreed, will have a huge impact on the Northville community.

"The police and fire services in Proposal 1 are crucial," Willis said. "The services that are part of Proposal 2 are also important to the quality of life of the residents of Northville, both the city and township."

"It's difficult to 'sell' a community without these programs," Marrs added. "People look for them when they look for a home."

The trustees lose their ability to split up the pie as they see fit.

That doesn't mean that the board loses control of the agencies involved, however - a concern some observers have voiced. Trustees point out the fact that they still are the only ones who can approve the agencies' budgets and general policies. The board would still be able to hire, fire and discipline the heads of the agencies as well.

Another concern some have raised involves what the board will do about the general fund millage if Proposals 1 and 2 pass. Some fear that the trustees would levy the freed-up 0.728 mill for other projects.

The board, however, has publicly said it won't levy the general fund millage if both proposals pass. They have said they will levy it if Proposal 1 fails, using the money to fund the fire department. There are two reasons for that, trustees say. First, fire protection is the only service the township's charter requires the township to provide. Second, the 0.728 mill could fund a scaled-down fire department, but wouldn't be able to fund the police department.

What if Proposal 2 were to fail? That's a question the trustees haven't answered yet. Some on the board say that they should levy the general fund millage and pay for shared services from it. Others say voters' wishes should be respected and the township should discontinue funding those programs.

ers. That millage expires in less than 60 days. The fire department gets its funds in part from its own dedicated millage (which also expires in 60 days) and in part from the township's general fund. The money the township gives toward shared services comes exclusively from the general fund.

Almost all of the township's general fund money comes from the small millage that the township's board of trustees can levy without voter approval (a maximum of 1 mill a year under state law). That's the only millage that can be levied without voter approval. In this fiscal year, it's capped at 0.728 mill; in real dollars, that's about $397,000.

Proposal 1 asks for 3.84 mills a year for four years to fund the township's Department of Public Safety: 2.99 mills for police and .85 mill for fire in a single ballot request. Proposal 2 asks for 0.4 mill a year for four years to fund the township's share of joint services funding, Parks & Rec, Youth Assistance and the senior program.

Together they ask for 4.24 mills, which would raise well more than $1 million to fund the services.

Township officials say it's important to understand two things. The first is that if Proposals 1 and 2 fail, the township has only one other source of revenue to tap to continue to fund services - the general fund millage. The second is that that source can't raise enough money to do the job.

Something else that's important to remember is that if both proposals pass, township taxpayers will see a small tax increase: 0.29 mill, to be precise.

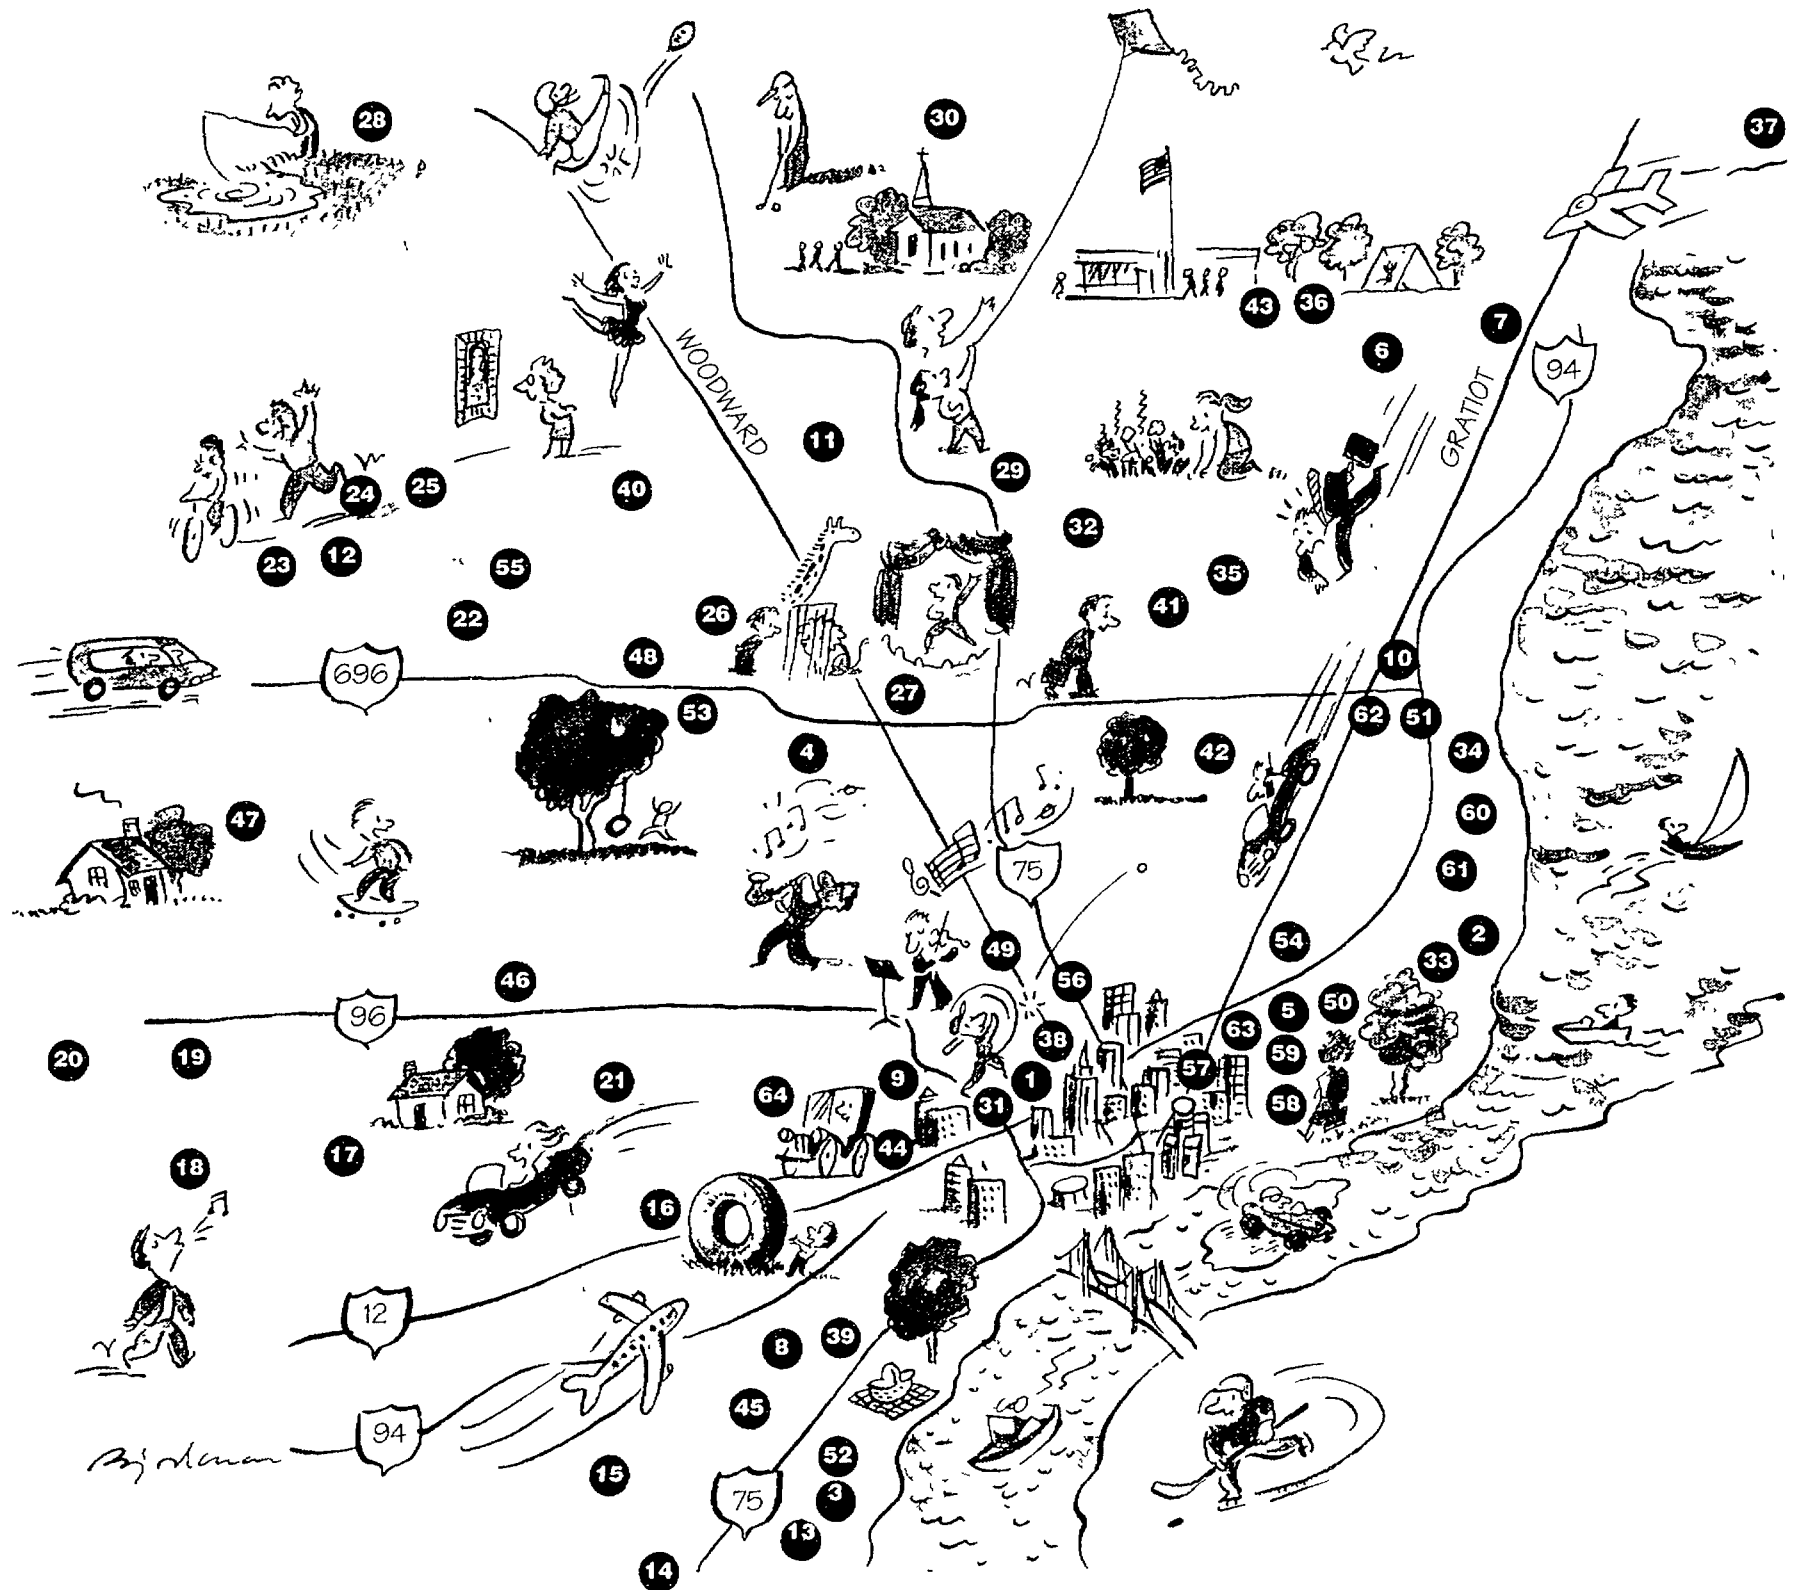

The township now levies 4.03 mills to provide services. Proposals 1 and 2 equal 4.24 mills and if approved that amount would be added to the 0.08 mill for road treatments voters approved in August. That makes for a total of 4.32 mills.

To the owner of a $150,000 home, that 0.29 mill increase adds up to about $21 more a year. The owner of a $200,000 home would pay about $28 more a year. The owner of a $300,000 home will shell out an additional $42 annually.

The two proposals are four-year dedicated millages. The monies they raise would be legally earmarked for the indicated services. The board could not, for example, take taxes raised by Proposal 1 and spend them on anything but police and fire services.

The idea is to give the services a stable source of revenue. If the two proposals pass, the agencies involved will have an accurate picture of the funds they'll have to work with and can plan their budgets accordingly. They'll no longer have to "compete" before the board for money from the general fund.

Education group to discuss teacher testing

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

For dedicated Northville Public School educators who have always pushed to better their teaching methods, a more formal process is being put in place at the national level that may help provide some much deserved recognition.

The National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, a non-profit organization aimed at improving student learning, has devised a test and evaluation system that will allow teachers willing to go the extra mile to receive recognition and become nationally certified.

Advocates for Quality Education, a local citizen group concerned with issues that affect public education and Northville students, is sponsoring a program next Wednesday, Nov. 9, to discuss the certification process at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School Forum.

Kathy Nyberg, a representative from the National Board and a teacher from Farmington who has participated in the certification, will be present to discuss the process and the potential ramifications for Northville schools. She'll also field questions from the public.

The National Board Certification is strictly voluntary on the part of teachers and is designed to recognize experienced instructors who meet advanced standards of knowledge and practice.

The certification process involves about 33 different sets of standards for teachers at all levels of education.

Some of the drawbacks of the program include a significant time and financial investment (about $1,000).

The certification process is still in the early planning stages and is therefore experimental. Last year the Board conducted field tests at the middle school level on a number of teachers throughout the country, including about 55 Michigan teachers.

The certification process involves about 33 different sets of standards for teachers at all levels of education.

As part of the certification process, teachers must be able to demonstrate five basic principles established by the board:

- A commitment to students and their learning.
- A knowledge of the subjects and how to effectively teach them to students.
- A responsibility for managing and monitoring student learning

• The ability to think systematically about the education profession and learn from experience.

• The willingness to be members of learning communities by working with other educators.

Advocates President Lynda Baca said the meeting is designed to enable parents, residents and school staff to learn more about the process and how it could affect Northville teachers and students.

Senate candidates playing for keeps

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Whatever your political leanings one thing's for sure: this year's U.S. Senate race in Michigan is a heated one.

Five people have taken up arms in the battle to follow retiring Sen. Don Riegle (D-Flint), who's calling it quits after 18 years. Their public clashes have been markedly partisan, even in this decidedly divisive election year.

Democratic U.S. House Rep. Bob Carr and veteran Republican political strategist Spencer Abraham are close, the latest polls say. Trailing far, far behind are the third-party candidates: Libertarian Jon Coon, William Roundtree of the Workers World Party and the Natural Law Party's Chris Wege.

Carr, D-East Lansing, is campaigning on the theme of "progress": don't let the GOP turn back the clock. Electing Abraham, he contends, means a return to those nasty Republican policies of the past: Reaganomics, an erosion of women's and minorities' rights and the protection of the rich at the expense of the poor.

Abraham hammers on Carr's two decades in Washington and his relationship with President Bill Clinton. Carr, he says, is a classic Congressional Democrat: a liberal, big government, tax-and-spend incumbent.

They've each brought in marquee names to boost their campaigns. Topping the list of campaigners for Carr is Clinton and his wife. Long time GOP activist and screen legend Charlton Heston recently stumped in the state for Abraham.

Coon's performance is somewhat of a surprise to many political observers. While still in the single digits in the polls, he's waged a strong campaign and has slowly but steadily increased his support among voters.

ripe for a third party to come to power to clean up the mess they've made, he argues.

A socialist, Roundtree advocates a sweeping array of governmental programs and policies. They include a $10 an hour increase in the minimum wage, national health care and reduction of the defense budget.

The Natural Law Party. Wege says, advocates "scientifically proven solutions" to today's problems, such as transcendental meditation.

U.S. Senator terms run for six years. Senators are paid approximately $133,000 a year.

Gubernatorial race pits polar opposites

By RANDY COBLE
Staff Writer

Michigan voters on Tuesday will choose their governor for the next four years. They'll have a very clear choice.

The candidates, Republican John Engler and Democrat Howard Wolpe, offer two very different visions of the state's past and future — and of each other.

A longtime member of the state Legislature, Engler was elected governor in 1990. His victory over Democratic incumbent Jim Blanchard was considered a mild upset.

How times have changed. 1994 conventional wisdom — and every poll — says Engler will decisively win reelection. He leads Wolpe by as much as 20 percentage points in these last days before the Nov. 8 election.

An unapologetic conservative, Engler has centered his campaign on two fronts. The first is a theme of "promises made, promises kept." The second leg of his effort is to paint Wolpe as an out-of-the-mainstream liberal who will turn back the clock on four years of economic and social progress.

I've done what I said I would do when I ran last time, Engler argues. From getting rid of the gubernatorial helicopter to welfare reform, Engler says he's come through on his campaign promises. That includes the centerpiece of his 1990 effort, a property tax cut. More of all that good stuff will come in the next four years if he's reelected, the governor says.

Electing Wolpe, a longtime Democratic member of the U.S. House of Representatives, will destroy the progress Michigan has made, Engler adds. We'll go back towards those old liberal Democratic ways, he argues: more government and taxes, less economic growth and political reform.

"Liberal" is a label few in American politics want to wear this year, and Wolpe seems no exception. He's waged a campaign to portray himself as a middle-of-the-road guy. By contrast, he says he's fighting an out-of-touch, uncaring Republican who's out for the rich and special interests, not average folks.

In an interesting twist, Democrat Wolpe has hammered Republican Engler as being soft on crime. He cites budget cuts in the state police and the recent Ryan Correctional Facility mass escape as proof.

While in Congress, Wolpe was especially active in U.S. policy toward South Africa and his efforts toward dismantling the now-defunct system of apartheid won him the admiration of civil right advocates and minorities. Wolpe has charged that the governor is the one who's out of the mainstream on many issues, particularly abortion rights. He's also gotten a lot of political mileage from painting Engler as hostile to public education, citing the charter schools effort and the teacher strike bill.

Engler is an elitist Republican who doesn't care about the problems of most people, Wolpe says, such as working families and the mentally ill.

Despite all that, Wolpe's been criticized for not defining himself and his plan for Michigan to the voters early and often enough.

State's Prop P would set up parks fund

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

If voters approve Proposal P — for parks — on Nov. 8, the only damage may be to former Gov. James Blanchard's pride.

Proposal P is a constitutional amendment to end what conservationists call Blanchard's "diversion" of $20 million a year from the Michigan National Resources Trust Fund to his Michigan Strategic Fund, an economic growth tool.

Backers of P include the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, recreationalists, the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, the corporate establishment and legislators from both parties. No opponents have appeared.

"I am heartened that our Legislature is providing the necessary leadership," said Joey M. Spano, a member of the state Natural Resources Commission and parks director for West Bloomfield Township.

"All sides left partisanship at the door," said state Sen. Paul Wartner, R-Portage, sponsor of part of the legislative package.

Long-term goal: to make Michigan's 96 state parks independent of the legislative budget process. That process since 1984 has whittled state general fund support from 80 percent of the parks' budget to 20 percent.

Meanwhile, state park employees' ranks have shrunk from more than 700 to 500, and the park system's infrastructure has visibly deteriorated. User fees have escalated, but the state parks' 23 million visitors are getting less for their money.

Parks are good for business, says the state chamber. Users spend $260 million a year in local economies. The chamber adds, however, that new money (1) should go into infrastructure, not adding acreage, and (2) should not provide goods and services that compete with local businesses.

The finances are complex. A new section would be added to Art. IX, the financial article of the Michigan Constitution. The DNR's budget division provided this analysis:

• Revenue from state oil and gas leases goes into the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund (NR trust), capped constitutionally at $200 million. Each year, about half ($20 million) of new revenue has been allocated to the Michigan Strategic Fund, to help with sewerage projects benefiting economic growth. Proposal P would raise the NR trust cap to $400 million and halt the "diversion" to the Michigan Strategic Fund.

• Proposal P would set up a new Genevieve Gillette State Parks

Endowment Fund (SP fund), capping it at $800 million. The SP fund would be started with $40 million from the sale of the Accident Fund, the state-owned workers' compensation business that Gov. John Engler wanted to privatize.

• Each year a portion of the revenue in the NR trust would go into the SP trust until the $800 million cap is reached sometime in the next century. Interest earnings from the SP trust would support state park operations, maintenance and capital improvements.

"Proposal P initially would provide an additional $5 million for state parks over fiscal year 1994, which is a 16 percent increase over the $31 million currently being spent," said Citizens Research Council, a nonpartisan group which analyzes state issues.

Assault believed to be motivated by ethnic prejudice

Both of whom are Korean-born. Currently, paperwork has been sent to the Oakland County Juvenile Court office and formal charges are pending.

According to a report filed with the Northville City Police Department, the sisters were walking home from school Oct. 4 when they encountered two boys who are both 15-year-old freshmen at the high school. Only one of the boys is being charged by the parents.

They were approaching the asphalt walkway south of Cooke Middle School that leads to the athletic field driveway north of the high school when the boy allegedly started throwing candy at the girls.

According to the report, when the girls asked them why they were throwing things at them, one of the boys told them to "go back to your own f--- country."

Then both the boys dropped their back packs and started running toward the girls.

One of the 15-year old boys stopped chasing them but the other boy proceeded to chase the younger girl, who then dropped her bag and began to run faster.

The boy caught up to her and stopped her. She asked him, "Why are you doing this, why don't you like us?" the report stated. The boy allegedly replied, "You don't know our f--- language. Tell your parents to send you back."

The boy then walked away, spit on the girl's back pack that was lying on the ground and then shoved the older sister out of his way with two hands, according to the report.

The girls returned to the middle school with another student who witnessed the incident and informed Principal Jeff Radwanski.

Later that month, the boy was interviewed by a Northville police officer with his parents present and admitted to the incident.

Al Qualman, the father of the two girls, said he is extremely disturbed by the incident.

"It is disheartening to myself along with my wife to have attitudes that exist like this," he said.

Qualman is the director of A Community Organization Recognizing Diversity (ACORD) and the group's meeting next Tuesday will focus on the incident and examine school policy regarding such issues. Qualman helped start ACORD to combat the very prejudicial behavior the boys allegedly displayed in this case.

The meeting will take place at 7:30 p.m. at the Forum in the high school.

After the incident was brought to the attention of high school officials, Principal Tom Johnson said the boy was given a stern talking to about his behavior. No other action was taken, however, and that has further upset Qualman.

Johnson said that because the incident occurred after school hours, did not take place during a school activity and was technically off of school grounds, the high school would not take any disciplinary action other than talking to the boy.

"It was our feeling that short of calling the youngster in and discussing the ramifications of harassment, knowing it was a police matter, we had completed our obligation," Johnson said. "We felt the student was going to get his just due through the police."

Qualman, however, feels that something more should have been done through the school system, regardless of the fact that the incident occurred after school hours.

"It's all district property," he said. "Sure it wasn't in the building, but school property constitutes a parking lot, or what have you."

Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski met with Johnson on Wednesday, after Northville Record deadline, to discuss the incident and determine whether more should be done to discipline the student.

Commissioners urge slower pace on proposed complex became public knowledge—Treasurer Rick Engelland in particular.

"I find it a little strange," Klokenga said. "I feel like this is being shoved down our throats. Something that has such an impact on our community shouldn't be hush-hush. This is almost like a wildfire."

Hamilton owns land off Beck Road between Five and Six Mile. Earlier this summer, he approached members of the board of trustees with an interesting proposal: an $8.5 million, multi-purpose sports complex on 12 of his acres there.

The arena would include two ice rinks, basketball courts, a Powerhouse Gym, a restaurant and other amenities. It would be privately owned and financed.

Hamilton is looking for approval from the township board for three things: a special land use permit to build the arena; a liquor license for the restaurant; and a 12-year tax abatement.

Supervisor Karen Baja, Clerk Sue Hillebrand and Engelland have met with Hamilton on the plan. It was Engelland who last year proposed a $5 million, revenue-bond-funded two-rink ice arena for residentially-zoned land the township owns on Seven Mile. He has expressed strong public support for Hamilton's proposal.

All three maintain, however, that the preliminary talks were routine and only the kind of courtesy the township extends to any developer. They learn about the proposal and the developer gets an idea of the time and money involved in going through the planning process. They say that Hamilton's plan has not received special treatment.

Some have questioned that fact, however, after the commission's last two meetings.

On Oct. 17, five of the commission's seven members took part in two back-to-back sub-committee meetings held Oct. 17 to explain the plan.

Board members say the sub-quorum meetings—which were publicly posted—were an effort to keep the arena proposal quiet as a courtesy to Hamilton.

On Oct. 25, the commission was presented with draft language of a proposed amendment of a township ordinance. The amendment would cover commercial recreational complexes like the proposed arena, something that township ordinance now doesn't specifically address.

Special land uses include such things as mining operations, radio towers, mobile home parks and stadiums—projects that don't fall into any conventional zoning district's rules.

Two alternatives exist to approve the arena proposal. One option is rezoning the land to permit the arena's development under conventional zoning rules. The second is to grant a special land use permit for the arena. The commission debated which alternative was best, coming to no final conclusions at the Oct. 25 meeting.

The special land use route has strong support because it would allow the township to impose much stiffer restrictions on the arena's design and operation than rezoning would.

Others, however, fear that the special land use amendment may open the door to arenas going into any residentially-zoned area in the township.

The commission agreed to delay consideration of the amendment pending further changes in its language.

The commission refused to schedule a public hearing on the amendment before that's done, despite Engelland's urging them to do so.

Board members and planning officials said the arena plan and the amendment are not specifically linked.

Starting base salary of $53,000.00 per year with a start date of Monday, November 28, 1994. That the Supervisor, Clerk and Trustee Abbo be authorized, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, to execute and enter into an employment agreement with Ms. Hanlin, consistent with the written offer of employment dated 10/26/94. This agreement will be effective November 18, 1994 through December 31, 1996. 9. Crestwood Manor Subdivision No. 2, Final Plat. 1. Ayres, Lewis, Norms & May review letter dated October 20, 1994. 2. McKenna Associates, Incorporated Review letter dated October 21, 1994. One of the conditions of approval be that the Declaration of Restrictions for the Subdivision will include and the individual deeds for the lots 147, 148, and 149 will list the restriction that access - ingress and egress can only be obtained off of Rolling Woods Circle Drive. Roll Call Vote. Motion carried.

11. Any Other Business That May Properly Be Brought before the Board. Shirley Klokenga mentioned the letter addressed to the people of the community addressed October 22, 1994 and signed by Rick Engelland. Concerns were expressed if Treasurer Engelland had formally brought this to the board. This sounded like a done deal. Will this be on an agenda soon. Will there be a public hearing. There is a grave concern for the fact that this has already occurred. The letter really has no credence.

12. Adjournment. Moved and supported to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9 p.m. THIS IS A SYNOPSIS. A TRUE AND COMPLETE COPY may be obtained at the Northville Township Clerk's Office, 41600 Six Mile Road, Northville, Michigan 48167 (11-3-94 NR) months. Rowe, meanwhile, had fled the state, law enforcement officials said.

His family moved to Pennsylvania and Rowe went with them to avoid trial, according to township police Sgt. Michael Panagiotides.

Police learned that he had left Michigan in August, the officer said. They contacted Wayne County authorities, who began formal extradition procedures with Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania state police arrested Rowe on Aug. 17. He remained incarcerated until his sentencing on Oct. 13.

Jones gave Rowe probation on the recommendation of court investigators and over Panagiotides' formal objection.

"I told the judge that two people were killed as the result of the accident and pointed out that he fled the state to avoid prosecution," Panagiotides said. "I felt that those facts should matter."

Rowe's conviction will remain a part of his record permanently, and he was allowed to return to Pennsylvania.

The New Life Center at Providence Park

Where families are born...close to home

A COMFORTABLE ATMOSPHERE

Imagine giving birth in a comfortable, home-like atmosphere where you make many of the decisions about your birth experience. And then, think about being able to go home within 24 hours after your baby is born. Well, the New Life Center at Providence Park in Novi offers all that, and it's just minutes from home.

A UNIQUE APPROACH

It's a new beginning. A new way of thinking. And an alternative to traditional hospital births*. The New Life Center at Providence Park was born from the success of the New Life Center at Providence Hospital, where for generations, thousands of women have had wonderful, nurturing, family-centered birth experiences.

THE CHOICES ARE MANY

From the moment you choose to have your baby with us, many decisions are yours. You may choose to go natural or to have an epidural. You may also prefer to share the event with your loved ones. But the best part is giving birth in a relaxed, home-like atmosphere and having your baby by your side. What's more, a nurse will come to your home for private, follow-up visits. Because that's the kind of extra care, attention and education people expect from Providence.

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF

But don't take our word for it. Call 1-800-806-BABY for an appointment to see what the New Life Center at Providence Park has to offer expectant families

*Only pregnant women who have been pre-screened and assessed as low risk by a Providence physician are eligible to deliver at the Providence Park New Life Center.

Activist student wants answers about the environment

By YVONNE BEEBE
Staff Writer

Last year when Reyann Patino learned about the environment in her classroom at Winchester Elementary, she got upset.

"I was mad that the world was getting polluted," said Reyann, now a fourth-grader at Moraine Elementary. "I was sad about all the litter on the ground."

Instead of just forgetting about her frustration and hoping the problem would go away, Reyann decided she was going to do something. And she went straight to the top for her answers.

In May, Reyann wrote a letter to President Clinton voicing her concerns about the environment and asking what she could do to help.

Later in July, Reyann received a big surprise in the mail. She not only got a letter from President Clinton with the White House seal embossed at the top, she received a signed picture and a magazine with information on Washington and the federal government.

"I was happy," said Reyann who is now somewhat of a local superstar among her friends and family.

The letter thanked Reyann for her concern and said that she and her friends can help by recycling, cleaning up litter and keeping the air clean by walking and riding bikes.

"Someday you may even be interested in working on environmental technology that will benefit everyone," the President's letter said.

Reyann Patino got a letter from the chief executive himself in answer to her concerns.

Forecast: Snow

No, it didn't snow just on one little patch of ground outside the Recreation Center, nor did the city buy its own snow-making machine. Instead, rec officials gathered some ice shavings from the Plymouth ice arena to stage this picture and remind people that now's the time to register for the upcoming ski season. To sign up, call the Parks and Recreation Department at 349-0203. Above, Ski Club coordinator Steve Holman and power right-hander Alexis Mimikos know it's just a matter of time before the wet stuff starts to fall, and they prepare for the inevitable by taking some warm up throws.

Mill Race Matters

The Northville Historical Society thanks the Waterford Bend Questers for their donation in memory of Helen Hopping and Richard and Audrey Simmons for their contribution to the high school composite picture restoration project.

Join members and friends as Mill Race opens Saturday, Nov. 19, and Sunday, Nov. 20, for the traditional Christmas Walk. Buildings will be staffed with docents who will discuss the history of our community and of the historic structures. All buildings will be decorated for the holidays as well. There is an admission charge. The Village, located on Griswold just north of Main, will be open from noon to 5 p.m. on both days.

With the approach of winter this column returns to weekly thumbnail sketches on community history. Mill Race Matters runs each Thursday to keep members of the community informed about events and happenings at the Village which is operated by the Northville Historical Society on land given to the city by Ford Motor Co. in 1972.

The Historical Society is not a branch of city government nor does any of the funding for Village operations come from city funds. It is a non-profit organization overseen by a group of dedicated volunteers who put in countless hours maintaining the structures, developing programs for the community, and conducting fund-raisers to keep the village operational.

The village contains nine structures. They are: Cady Inn, one of six two story frame structures built in the community in 1831; the Hirsch Blacksmith Shop, a reproduction of the actual 1870 shop of John Hirsch; Wash Oak School, an 1873 structure moved from Currie Road; New School Church, constructed by a splinter group of the Presbyterian Church in 1845; Hunter House built in 1848 for Stephen Hunter of Aberdeen, Scotland, and his wife Mary Cady of Northville; Yerkes House built in 1868 for William Yerkes and his wife Sallie Cady, both second generation Northvillians; a gazebo which has been reconstructed from Victorian plans; the Cottage House, an 1890 structure donated by Paul and Mamie Folino; and the Interurban Station which served as a waiting room for Northville's high speed train that operated from 1899 to 1929.

Mill Race Village's site was the location of Northville's first business. John Miller and his assistant constructed a grist mill at that location in 1827. Miller sold his mill to William Dunlap in 1831 and moved further south into the township. Dunlap enlarged the facility and continued to run it with his sons for several years.

Eventually, the mill came under the operation of the Yerkes who sold the property to Henry Ford in 1918. Ford had the mill removed in 1920 and the property remained empty until 1972 when it was donated to the city. In 1972 the New School Church and Hunter House were moved to the location as the city negotiated for the property with Ford Motor Co. Within a relatively short time span, Wash Oak School, Yerkes House, and Cottage House were also relocated to the site and the gazebo was built. Also during this period the bridge and its memorial wall were constructed.

The village was dedicated as part of the community of Northville's celebration of the U.S. Bicentennial in 1976. After the dedication, the organization continued to grow and to follow the plan instituted when the village was begun in 1972. The blacksmith shop was completed during the '80s. In 1987 Cady Inn was relocated from Cady Street and placed on the site the following year. While Cady Inn work continued on the final structure, the Interurban Station was moved into its present location.

No plans exist currently to add additional structures although the original plan did call for two other structures. Board members now believe that the green provides the type of space a Victorian village needs to present community activities. Although run by an organization, the Village belongs to the community. The buildings are closed for the winter, but individuals are invited to enjoy the grounds as often as they wish.

BREAKING THE NEWS ON FRACTURES

According to researchers, ultrasound therapy may play an important role in helping fractured bones heal more quickly. When ultrasound waves (in the same low frequency used for diagnostic purposes) were applied for 20 minutes a day to a point just above a fracture through a hole cut in the cast, the broken bone seemed to heal more quickly. One study of 50 shinbone-fracture patients showed that the ultrasound treatment reduced their time in casts to 92 days, versus 132 days for their counterparts who received placebo treatment. Radiographic evidence showed that the mean time for complete healing of the endosteum (part of the inner bone) was 115 days for ultrasound patients, versus 170 days for the control group. These findings were presented before the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons' meeting in March, 1991.

If you have a shinbone fracture or another type of injury, ultrasound treatment may be appropriate. Contact NORTHVILLE PHYSICAL THERAPY & REHABILITATION P.C. (349-3816) for a consultation. Our therapists specialize in returning patients to their highest level of function. Some of our services include orthopedic and sports injuries, neck and back pain, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and much more. We are located at 332 E. Main Street, Suite A.

P.S. Use of ultrasound to heal bone fractures is now being used on an experimental basis.

Can Democrats Represent The Suburbs?

Yes, if we remember the following:

1. The Democratic Party's purpose is to represent the interest of people who work for a living, their families and retirees. Most people in the suburbs fall in this category. If an issue concerns this group, it is a partisan issue for Democrats. If it doesn't concern this group, it is not.

2. Democrats must always represent the best interest of their constituents. We have recently seen the Republican Party make refinancing of schools a party issue even though it pitted the interest of the suburbs against outstate areas. The suburbs wanted to keep their tax dollars at home. Outstate areas wanted to tap in on the suburban wealth. Because it was a partisan issue to Republicans, we saw the suburban Republican legislators vote against the interest of their own constituents. Democrats should never do this.

3. Democrats must recognize that the suburban voters want value for their tax dollar and do not believe they are currently getting it. Suburban voters are justifiable critical of small things such as legislators using the taxpayers' money to send out constituent newsletters that look like campaign pieces. And large things such as a welfare program that doesn't work very well.

4. Democrats must recognize that, as a general rule, the suburban taxpayers pay more taxes than their counterparts in the core cities or outstate. Their tax dollars go in part to support these other areas. Before they are willing to send their tax dollars out of town, they must see that they are getting government services at home. They want and deserve to have safe streets and good schools before they start paying for someone else's streets and schools.

I will remember these principles:

Restaurateur says TV report was trumped up the station's Gourmet on the Go. Every Friday at noon TV viewers can tune in and watch MacKinnon cook up one of his specialties on the mid-day news program.

"Ratings is money," MacKinnon said. "I would probably say I was the most watched guy on the noon news that following Friday."

The information the station gathered for the story is about as straight-forward as it gets, Wendland said.

"It was tough to come out with the report because he works for us," Wendland said. "But the figures don't lie."

Researchers for the news program studied county health department files on the restaurants that scored below a 60 and took an average of the three most recent scores from inspections conducted in the last 18 months. The lowest scoring restaurants made the list.

MacKinnon's reported average score of 40 was well below the Wayne County Health Department's minimum standard of 70.

Since the report came out, the health department conducted another inspection and the restaurant scored a 73.

The average score the news station reported, MacKinnon said, was both incorrect and taken out of context.

The Wayne County Health Department last visited his restaurant six months ago when he was in the middle of renovating his entire kitchen, MacKinnon said. Since then he has invested more than $60,000 in new cooking equipment.

"The health department had not been into here two years prior," he said. "When (the inspector) came in, she said she was hitting everybody in town and giving them low scores because she wanted to spruce everybody up."

MacKinnon said he received a list of items he needed to upgrade and he fully completed the work.

"I kept doing things and doing things," he said. "And I thought they would come back but they never came back."

Before the inspection six months ago, MacKinnon said he could not remember what score he received. He knows, however, it was not a 40 or lower.

Val VanGieson of the Wayne County Health Department said by state law the department must conduct inspections twice a year, but because of a personnel turnover there could have been a minor schedule lapse. The let-down, however, was definitely not two years.

VanGieson agreed that MacKinnon has done a satisfactory job in bringing his restaurant up to code and that he may have been unfairly targeted.

"I have this feeling that he has been crucified," VanGieson said. "Tom's scores have been going up and I think they are going to keep going up. Let's face it, the restaurant is not in a new building, but he has brought everything up to code."

MacKinnon said he has received nothing but support from people in the community and, as far as he can tell, he has not lost any customers.

"I haven't seen any lost business," he said. "I have had people question me and my answer is, 'You come in here and see for yourself.' I had people through the height of Saturday night walking through my kitchen."

MacKinnon invites anyone who would like to take a tour of his kitchen to come in and ask for one. His doors, he said, are open.

"This has never happened to me before," he said, shaking his head in disappointment. "I have a great business here. I have great employees and for this to happen is devastating."

From now on, MacKinnon said, he's not taking any chances. The health department will be making monthly inspections of his restaurant at his request.

"Common sense would tell you this is the cleanest kitchen in southeast Michigan or I'd be a fool," he said.

Virtual Reality helps techies at OCC

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

Chrysler designers studying at Oakland Community College will use equipment so realistic they can literally feel the interior of the cars they're dreaming up.

"Virtual Reality is the very front end of technology," said Dr. Richard Saunders, president of OCC's Auburn Hills Campus which houses high-tech programs.

"Virtual Reality is a two-dimensional TV set which rotates objects. You can create an environment with it. You can feel the interior of the car by attaching a cyberglove and inserting your hand in it."

Sensors in the glove allow the design student to feel the interior of the car or parts of the engine on which he or she is working.

The Auburn Hills Campus is across the road from Chrysler's Tech Center. Under a $506,000 budget approved by the No. 3 automaker, OCC will train 200 Chrysler employees, eight at a time in 40-hour classes, said Bill Rose, dean of manufacturing at OCC.

"We'll have 40-hour classes and be at it 12 months. We should start in the last part of November or early December," Rose said.

"They're basically working in design," Saunders said. "All are technically trained. Some are engineers up to the Ph.D. level."

OCC trustees recently approved the purchase of $400,000 in equipment and computer software.

From Silicon Graphics, OCC purchased a $188,000 Onyx Reality Engine Workstation, the revolutionary engineering and manufacturing software package.

OCC Chancellor Patsy Fulton calls it "state-of-the-art."

A Chrysler grant will cover the purchases.

Smietanka, Kelley trade barbs on crime

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

As attorney general, Republican John Smietanka would target multi-county street gangs and organized crime.

The incumbent "eternal general," Democrat Frank Kelley, puts too much stress on consumer cases and personal publicity, says the challenger, adding whimsically, "can be an act of kindness to the incumbent to choose someone new and release him from the obligations of office."

Kelley, 69, scoffs at the idea that county prosecutors handle the kind of crime Smietanka is talking about. Kelley's 1994 campaign for a 10th term has featured oral assaults on K mart and other retailers for defective price scanners.

"I would have a different focus," said Smietanka, 53. "You can't be the state's chief law enforcement officer with three to six attorneys (concentrating on crime)."

"The prosecutors put out a report Aug. 15 in which 44 of 83 counties said they had street gang problems. There's a list of gangs.

The same names pop up time after time — for example, Latin Kings appear in several counties. So we know we have an inter-county problem.

"It's a widespread problem, not limited to urban areas. It's complex. Not all gangs are the same. There's a difference between the hard core and wannabes."

"When you leave your own county (seek help across county lines), you're at the mercy of forces. You have difficulty getting another county to concentrate on your problem. It's not bad will."

Smietanka advocates a street gang corps in the Michigan State Police because "if a gang is active in five or six counties, it should be taken out as a gang."

A Chicago native, Smietanka studied in Catholic seminaries and at John Marshall Law School. He settled in Berrien County in the southwest corner of the state, becoming assistant and then prosecutor for seven years. In the Reagan-Bush years (1981-93), he was U.S. Attorney for Western Michigan, doubling as a top deputy to U.S. Attorney General William Barr.

"I prosecuted the El Rukn street gang in Chicago. They did ritualistic killings. I saw, at the worst end, what a gang can do. They got to bailiffs and judges. It's a phenomenon of the '90s that we have to get our arms around and squeeze," he said.

So Smietanka wants to give local police and county prosecutors more sophisticated training in dealing with street gangs and drugs. "In Michigan we haven't had prosecution of an organized crime gang since 1969 — one of the Giacalone, I think."

"Kelley has gone after price scanner frauds with hours, time and press conferences. But he hasn't charged one single person. I don't want to see people ripped off, but it's more important that a person not be robbed on the way home from the store."

"Another thing he should be doing is public corruption, allegations of misconduct. The prosecutors ask for help but can't get it."

"There are few restrictions" on how an attorney general deploys his professional staff, Smietanka said. A federal grant may require work on tracking delinquent dads. If elected, he would like to study the caseloads of all 39 divisions in the Department of Law and re-deploy the 280 attorneys.

Smietanka says he would end Kelley's hidden "spoils" system — appointing county public administrators to deal with the assets of people who die without wills or heirs. The appointees receive $1 million in fees and contribute tens of thousands to Kelley's campaign.

He said Republican Senate bills were buried by Democrats in the House Taxation Committee despite efforts of Reps. Willis Bullard, R-Milford, and Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, to advance them.

During George Bush's last year as president, Smietanka was in line for a judicial plum — 6th Circuit Court of Appeals. But the U.S. Senate failed to act on his and 59 other appointments.

Since the Kelley era began in 1961, Republican sacrificial lambs have typically gone on to get judicial appointments. The 1990 hopeful, Cliff Taylor, is on the State Court of Appeals.

During the year Senator Geake receives thousands of letters from people giving their advice and requesting help of all kinds from him. He gets a lot of mail from the people of his district, and he answers it all.

Miller vs. Austin for Sec of State

By TIM RICHARD
Staff Writer

"Austin has grabbed the Miller Action Plan," chuckled Candice Miller, the 40-year-old Republican who wants to replace Secretary of State Richard Austin, 81.

"I'm not interested in legislative work. I'm a hands-on administrator. You're gonna see Candice Miller behind the counter occasionally," said Gov. John Engler's hand-picked choice for the No. 3 job in state government.

Miller spent 12 years as supervisor of Harrison Township and the last two as Macomb County treasurer.

Technology is the theme of her campaign for a post that rarely involves partisan philosophy questions. Items in Miller's plan.

before the election, Mr. Austin haMiller emphasizes Austin's years in office (24) more than his age, but Austin's age has become an issue whether his opponent stresses it or not.

Austin, the first black to become a certified public accountant and to be nominated for mayor of Detroit (1969), likens remarks about his age to the racial discrimination he has known.

Don't let them use your dollars to bully you.

Just like two years ago, Michigan's auto insurance companies are using our premium dollars to try to trick us into helping them earn bigger profits. Two years ago, Michigan voters rejected their Proposal D—by almost 2-1.

Now, the auto insurance companies are back, with Proposal C on the November 8 ballot. Michigan voters were not fooled two years ago—and we won't be fooled on Proposal C. We said "NO" and we mean "NO!"

Proposal C is:

- Cash for insurance companies. They reduce our medical benefits to increase their profits.
- A Con It does not guarantee a dime in auto premium reductions.
- Cruel It lets insurance companies—not doctors—control your family's medical care.
- Callous To get the medical care they need, crash victims with serious injuries will have to spend their life savings or depend on taxpayers.

THURSDAY
November 3, 1994

Our Opinion

We endorse ...

For the first time in more than a generation, voters in Michigan's 13th Congressional District will not have the opportunity to return William Ford to office. After 30 years in Congress, the influential Ford has decided not to opt for another term.

The retirement of the unbeatable lawmaker has opened up what was previously an unavailable seat to newcomers and given GOP officials reason to hope that the post can become a Republican stronghold. Conversely, Democrats are anxious to retain their dominance of the position.

This is an important race this year, and both major parties have a lot at stake in promoting their standard bearers, State Rep. Lynn Rivers and former Bush Administration official John Schall.

Voters in the district are fortunate in having two fine young candidates from whom to choose for the position, but our preference for the Congressional post is JOHN SCHALL.

Raised in Livonia and now living in Ann Arbor, Schall is a gifted administrator who is rising through the public service ranks with breakneck speed. After graduating Harvard, he served as a White House policy advisor to President Bush at age 28, and, at 30, was appointed Chief of Staff of the U.S. Labor Department, a cabinet-level agency.

Schall is especially knowledgeable in the area of fiscal policy, and seems to instinctually understand that high rates of taxation have counterproductive impacts on the economy. He favors lower taxes, budget reductions, welfare reform and term limitations.

Throughout the campaign, Schall has received criticism for being away from the district for the last several years while finishing his education and serving in Washington. It was said that he is out of touch with the concerns of the local constituents. We find this comment, though perhaps justified on the surface, ironic given that Schall's policy positions put him, we believe, squarely in the mainstream of current-day thinking. His opponent Lynn Rivers, while a gifted and honest legislator, comes from that strain of left-leaning Democratic ideology that is increasingly out of touch with 1990s society. Schall's views, we believe, are more representative of those of the district.

In the 9th Michigan Senate district, we are able to give an unqualified endorsement to Senator ROBERT GEAKE, who is seeking his sixth term in the Upper Chamber.

Over the years Geake has served his constituents - and the state - well. His positions tend toward the conservative side, yet he isn't dogmatic in approach. His independence and integrity were evident earlier this year when he showed a willingness to alienate the Michigan Education Association, a traditional ally of his, by doing what he believed was right and voting for the teacher strike bill.

Geake has a reputation as an erudite legislator who, at the same time, isn't wedded to the idea of bigger government and increased social spending. His grasp of policy making is impressive, yet he has somehow managed to avoid becoming a member of the entrenched class of careerist politicians. He is a rarity - a living argument against term limits.

For 35th District Court judge, we are pleased to reveal our difficulty in arriving at a decision. Attorneys Stephen Boak and Ronald Lowe are both highly qualified, esteemed members of the bar, either of whom could serve as a worthy successor to retiring judge James Garber.

Lowe has certain strengths that commend him to the position, such as considerable experience at the 35th District court, a good record of community involvement and an active, engaging personality of the type that's helpful when dealing with minor offenders.

Boak has depth of experience in both criminal and civil law, and a resume that includes several years in the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office and private practice.

We believe that, all things taken into account, the superior experience of STEPHEN BOAK, in terms of both age and number of years as an attorney, give him a narrow advantage over his opponent. We could live, however, with either one of them.

If we suspected one of our elected representatives was calling in sick in order to take a day off and go to the beach, we'd be upset about it. But when he is truly sick, it's a bit hard to mark him down.

Still, that's the toughest rap put on incumbent Republican State Senator David Honigman by his challenger, who argues that the 15th District has not been represented well enough because he's been laid up ill.

Keep in mind that Honigman is recovering, and all indications are he'll be back on the job full-time shortly. Secondly, even while sick, it was Honigman who had a bed set up in the Capitol during the crucial voting on the school finance reforms earlier this year so that he could cast his ballot. That's dedication.

In his 10 years in state government, Honigman has proven himself an effective legislator, and we have every reason to believe he will continue to do so.

Honigman has shown a unique talent for coalition-building in Lansing, and is well-liked on both sides of the Senate floor. He chairs two committees, the Labor Committee, and the Local Government and Urban Development Committee. Capitol watchers feel that, aside from issues concerning school funding, the biggest changes in the next couple of years will happen in local government. A veteran legislator would be a big plus in that area.

Further, we feel that Honigman's ideals are well in line with those of his electorate. Doubtless this comes from his ability to listen to those of differing viewpoints.

As a result, we urge voters cast their ballots for DAVID HONIGMAN in the 15th state senatorial district.

Few legislators have had a better record the last two years than WILLIS BULLARD JR. in the 38th Michigan House District.

The incumbent Republican served on the Group of 14, the joint legislative committee that formulated the restructuring of the school funding measures approved last spring as Proposal A.

A firm tax-cut advocate, Bullard has voted to cut taxes 11 times in the last four years. He is on record as saying the only new tax he would support in the future would be an increase in the gasoline tax to pay for road improvements. When he says that as the chairman of the House Taxation Committee, he's in a position to do something about it. And he is sure to play a key role in the action in Lansing in the coming two years as a result.

Further, he knows well the role taxation plays in economic development in the state, a matter sure to become critical during these boom times for Michigan.

We urge voters to give the nod to

Don't forget the millages

A reminder to Northville Township residents of our strong recommendation for YES votes on Proposal 1 and Proposal 2.

Proposal 1 basically boils down to a decision on whether the township should have its own police force. Without an essential source of revenue, officials say the police department will have to disband, and there is reason to think this is more than just an idle threat.

Without a police department of its own, the township would have to rely on the Wayne County Sheriff's department and the Michigan State Police for crime protection, and response times would almost surely be compromised.

Proposal 2 would help fund the township's portion of services it offers in conjunction with the city: Youth Assistance, Parks and Recreation and senior programs.

Programs of this nature are basic to the quality of life of any community.

Both proposals constitute renewals of existing millages, with slight increases built in.

It's still a kick going to polls

Here we go again: another election day, another chance to take part in the concrete expression of democracy: voting.

Now, I know that doesn't mean a lot to some people, even here in Northville. Fewer than 35 percent of township and city voters took part in the last one, held in August. For political junkies like me, though, times like this are tall cotton.

No kidding: I really enjoy getting to vote. I even like the standing in line part. I used to like it because I was young and idealistic about politics. Now, I'm older but still sorta idealistic, because the system still sorta works.

Oh, it has its flaws, mind you, but it's the best game in town. I still believe that, even though I've seen a lot of political water - among other things - flow under the bridge.

That's why I still like to vote: it's proof to me that democracy lives on, despite past and present trials and tribulations.

Every time I've lined up to vote at Amerman Elementary, the experience never failed to fascinate me. I just can't help but think about how far we've come. A lot of years, a lot of lives have been spent to reach this point, where any yo-yo like me can cast a ballot.

That ballot is about power. Bottom line. When we vote, we take power. We make a difference in our community, from our neighborhood to our nation. When we don't, we turn over power to someone else.

That's what democracy is all about. It comes from the Greek word demokratia, meaning rule by the people. That sounds fancy, but the concept is simple: it's all about who exercises power.

In the ideal, I think it means that we have something better than rule by force of arms or backroom party deals. It even means that that the system shouldn't be one where money is the root of all elections - which unfortunately is pretty much what we have today.

If we want to change that, if we want our democracy back, we have to pay the price. We have to put in the time and effort to make an informed decision about the candidates and issues we vote on - and we have to vote.

Physics dictates that every action has an equal and opposite reaction. Democracy is sort of like that, too: it works on the basis of involvement or inertia. You get involved, you have a chance of fixing what's broke. You don't, and things will just keep sailing along the way they are, broken rudder intact.

That's not the way it should be. It is the moral obligation of those who disagree with governmental action to oppose it by the fair and honest means available under the law.

Get involved. Vote. It's both the privilege and the peril of our political process that power ultimately rests with the people. We often trumpet our right to vote: let's not forget our responsibility to do it, either.

Ten minutes ago I was leaving the high school by the back hill way near St. Paul's. I often leave that way because many of the students I'm involved with hang out on that hill. Just call it a way to intervene in negative behaviors and stress the positive. However, the scene I witnessed really, as they say, "bummed me out."

I was waiting at Center Street around 7 p.m. and saw a really young male student walking on the west side of Center headed north toward me. It was raining so I was going to see if he needed a lift. As he approached I noticed his cap was on backwards, he wore really baggy jeans and made the shuffle walk kids use these days.

I saw a really nice looking face and then my eyes glanced down. There in his left hand was an unlit cigarette, and my feelings changed. As he passed my truck I called him over and asked, "How old are you?" He said, "I'm 13." I asked him about the cigarette, but he seemed unconcerned and even asked me for a light - can you believe it, he asked me for a light.

I confronted his use, left him know that cigarettes are addictive and can lead to harder drugs. You know what he said then ... He said, "I guess I'll be seeing you next year, at the high school, Mr. Stilec," meaning, in my mind at least, that he'd given up trying to stop and had resigned himself to his life.

This is what made me sad, that at the age of 13 he'd given up. Every day he walked between town and his house, as I'd seen him many times before. No goals, no interests and a life where he was already on the path of addiction and worse. He's one of many in our community!

You folks who are taking your time to read this article, if you haven't already, get involved. When you see a kid smoking intervene and confront them. I work with these kids and they really think no one cares or notices. I'm asking you to notice, I'm asking you to ask your police to notice. Please sweat the small stuff. Cigarettes lead to alcohol, to marijuana, to inhalants, acid, early sexual encounters and a general "I don't care" attitude in most cases involving such young people. If you are a parent who smokes, quit for the sake of your child for whom you are a role model.

Look around you, Northville. We have a wonderful community with aspiring, goal-oriented kids and adults. However, there is a larger and larger group of students and adults who for a variety of reasons are without hope, without resources and without consequences.

Next time you pass through town late in the afternoon look around the gazebo or Ford Field. Either we show we care by confronting the increasing "I don't care" attitudes, or we accept the gradual depreciation of all we have worked for.

When you see a kid breaking the law get involved. They need to know we care. Further questions or concerns, call me at 344-1825.

Oh yeah, tomorrow I'll be on the phone to this young man's family letting them know my feelings. They may blow me off or, as in most cases, they may take my recommendation and get the family involved in counseling. It's not just the young man who has the problem, the whole family system needs help.

Letters

Writers come out in favor of proposals

I am not a voting resident of Northville Township, but I am a business owner. The enormous support and reliability of this township's police and fire departments has been very efficient and effective. Many cities should model their police and fire departments after Northville Township's because their officers take the interest to know their citizens and business owners. A common bond is shared and that is Northville's future. I have required the assistance of both departments in the past.

The Northville Township police are vital to our community's future welfare. If Proposal 1 fails to pass and we are protected by Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, then the community support and involvement by its citizens and police department will dwindle.

Today, the Northville Township police are supported and respected by the people they protect because we know them as professionals preserving peace and as individuals who care about the township. Together we share a deep interest in Northville Township's prosperous future. Northville Township is a peaceful place bounded by our respect for the men and women who risk their lives everyday to protect us.

We have a personal and professional interest in making it very clear to all residents that Proposal 1 must pass to ensure the safety of our residents and the prosperity of our community. The bottom line is that Proposal 1 must pass.

Consequences if plans fail at polls

To the Editor:
If Proposal 2, 0.4 mill for recreation, senior citizen programs and youth assistance, does not pass, life will not go on as usual for Northville Township residents. Wouldn't the recreation department have to charge non-resident fees for Township residents to participate in the programs they now enjoy as residents - soccer, baseball, ski club, day care, tennis, as well as adult volleyball, baseball and basketball? Could the Youth Assistance Program or the Senior Citizen Program continue to exist on contributions from the city alone?

Proposal 2 is a way to dedicate funds to community activities we think are important. This dedicated millage would be one of the few opportunities we as citizens have to specify how our tax contributions are spent. There will be no mystery about how this 0.4 mill is spent. We will know that the 0.4 mill (8 cents a day for the average homeowner) is being spent to maintain recreation, youth assistance and senior support on which our families depend.

Some ask, "Why does a community need these programs? Why don't families simply use the YMCA, the Farmington Tennis Club, Big Brother/Big Sister or Elderhostel?"

Communities need programs in their own communities so that they can be "communities." "Community" isn't synonymous with "town." A community is a group of people who know each other and help each other.

Twelve years ago when we married, we met the Northville friends we have today by playing in the adult volleyball league. Our sons made friends and learned to be part of a team, as well as to play soccer, by playing with the Northville Recreation soccer teams. Our sons are grown up, we aren't yet senior citizens and only one of us plays volleyball now - but we know that Northville will stop being a community without recreation, senior citizen and youth assistance programs.

Jerry Morris &
Lynn Parklan

Programs are vital to youths

To the Editor:
My 25-year experience working with troubled youngsters and their families referred to the Juvenile Court has convinced me that families, neighborhoods and communities are where the best and most important contributions to the quality of our lives are made.

You will soon have an opportunity to add your voices to those concerned Northville Township citizens who will vote to continue their support for park and recreation programs, senior citizen activities and a viable youth assistance program.

I have been especially impressed with the Northville Youth Assistance Program which has been instrumental in providing very effective, low cost prevention service to the Northville community.

I urge you to vote yes on Proposal 2 on Nov. 8.

David Fargo
Court Executive
Wayne County Juvenile Court

Public safety response is good

To the Editor:
Northville Township is exceptionally fortunate to have police and fire services that have provided exemplary response times, and professional representation and protection. Recently, residents of several subdivisions, including my own, have experienced criminal activity first-hand. The quick response and skilled investigation of the Northville Township Police Department resulted in expedient apprehension of suspects.

As an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, I see crime victims who do not live in communities that enjoy the kind of rapid response to emergencies that Northville Township does. The negative result of the deficiency of ample services directly impacts the quality of life, insurance rates, property values and the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of the community.

The payment for police services is essentially a shift in taxes, with a slight increase for fire protection. We also need to continue the services for Youth Assistance and senior citizens.

I urge all Northville Township voters to vote "yes" on Proposal 1 and Proposal 2 on Nov. 8.

Karen M. Woodside

Requests include slight hikes

To the Editor:
On Nov. 8, we are asking the residents of Northville Township for two millage proposals. The first is a proposal of 3.84 mills for public safety. Of the 3.84 mills, 2.99 is a police renewal. The remaining .85 mill is a .32 renewal of fire and a .53 tax shift to fire from the general.

The second request is 0.4 mill for Recreation, Senior Citizen and Youth Assistance programs. Along with the 0.08 mill passed in August for road palliative, the total proposed township levy is 4.32 mills.

The year's proposal represents a 0.27 mill (6.25 percent) increase over last year's 4.05 levy. The proposed new format for the millage will allow the township departments to be funded independently through a dedicated millage. In the past, the fire department was funded with over $250,000 from the general fund. Their money will now come from a dedicated millage and eliminate the competition for limited general funds. The shared services (Recreation, Senior Citizen, and Youth Assistance programs) also will now be funded by their own millage. The passage of the proposals will do two main things:

- Eliminate over $500,000 of transfers from the general fund to other departments, which will allow the township to decrease the levy of the general operating millage from 0.728 mill to zero.
- Finally, with 47 percent of our budget coming from other government agencies, we will be less dependent on these monies.

In the projected 1995 budget, we forecast to receive $1.7 million from three sources (state of Michigan, 35th District Court, and building permits). Making up 33 percent of our budget, these monies are related to how well the Michigan economy does. A small downturn in the local economy could have dramatic effects on the township.

The City of Northville experienced such an occurrence when the state withheld revenues. With the approval of the November millage, the township will be able to continue the current level of service to the residents and become less vulnerable to the state's cyclical economy.

Dwayne Harrigan
Northville Township Finance Director

What's wrong with liberalism?

To the Editor:
I cannot for the life of me understand why Democrats scurry for cover when even a smidgen of a hint is hurled at them that they are liberal.

Let us examine the term liberal or conservative. According to my New Webster Dictionary of English Language, College Edition: A liberal, among other virtues, is "tolerant or open-minded," has a "disposition to change or reform," professes a "theory advocating individual freedom from governmental control and a market that is self-regulating." Zounds, what treachery!

A conservative, among other things, is one "opposed to innovation or change," evinces a "disposition to preserve what is established." However stultifying to progress it may be?

In any case, one should not shy away from being dubbed a liberal, it is a noble label worthy of a friendly embrace.

Boosters thank area merchants

To the Editor:
On behalf of the Northville High School Music Boosters I would like to extend our grateful thanks to the merchants of Northville who kindly supported the recent Halloween party for the music students. Donations were received from Shopping Center Market, Genitti's, Biardi's Hair Salon, Bookstall on the Main, Hot Spot Tanning Salon and Kitchen Witch. Thanks also go to the many parents who helped with the organization, preparation and chaperoning of the party; to the high school administration for giving us permission to use the cafeteria, and to the high school custodians for their help and cooperation.

Our joint effort and the community support helped make this an enjoyable and safe evening for the students. They had a great time.

anonymous distance that a call-in show provides.

But part is something much deeper, something that has increasingly been on my mind as we come down to the last few days before the 1994 election.

Talk radio is a new medium, just as new as radio was in the '30s and TV in the '50s. And a big part of the history of politics in this country is the story of smart people learning to use a new medium for maximum political effect.

Consider President Franklin Roosevelt, who mastered radio and personally entered into every living room in the country in his fireside chats. Or think of President John Kennedy, who combined a nimble wit with the new medium of television to create a national impact with his press conferences, only to be outdone by Ronald Reagan's acting talent (not to mention his handlers' exquisite skill at arranging media events, perfectly made for TV).

So when I first stumbled onto talk radio, I wondered how long it would take for somebody to figure out how to exploit it politically. Then I listened to Rush Limbaugh sometime in 1992. It didn't take long to figure the 1994 election would be a doozy.

It has turned out that way, but with a very special quality of personal savagery that makes this campaign certainly the nastiest I ever have experienced.

Here's why: It isn't that the politicians suddenly are nastier. It's the underlying effects of a new medium.

Talk radio is remarkable for many reasons, but especially so because there are no gatekeepers standing between the emotions and opinions of ordinary folks and the awesome distributive power of a mass medium.

Think about it. The only people who got on radio in the old days were those the producer thought were newsworthy. The only way to get onto TV is for a news director to consider you (or the event in which you are involved) important. And, of course, the way stories get into newspapers like this is for editors to make a judgment that the story is newsworthy enough to print.

Producers and news directors and editors all function as gatekeepers to the media. As such, they not only make judgments about who and what are important, but they also perform a moderating role. Somebody who has a history of lying just won't be allowed to appear on traditional news media. A person who makes a perfectly absurd charge or passes a violently personal remark will quickly find a gatekeeper setting the record straight or finding an authoritative person to rebut it.

But with the new medium of talk radio, there are no gatekeepers. Certainly the host of the show answers the calls and cuts off any obscenity. But the host does not pretend to judge the accuracy of the claims, nor the legitimacy of the charges, nor the factual basis for the emotions expressed.

This has brought a fundamental change to a growing part of our national discourse. The opinions of any person, informed or not, are as valid on talk radio as the whimsy of anybody else. Some may think this has democratized our politics; others may think it has debased them. But it is certainly different.

Which is why this campaign keeps sounding a lot like a cross between The National Enquirer and an argument between 6-year-olds: "Liar!" "No, you're the liar!" The medium is the message.

Candidates offer myriad approaches

By CRISTINA FERRIER
Staff writer

Sure, the local candidates have plenty to say about issues like welfare reform, the environment, roads, taxes and schools. But where do they stand on the really important stuff?

Republican David Honigman and Democrat Vicki Barnett battled it out over cartoons last week, pitting their views on Mighty Morphin Power Rangers against The Jetsons in an all-holds-barred push for the elementary school vote.

And Republican Bill Bullard took a stand on favorite sports, making a clear choice for football. His opponent, Bob Havey, took a different point of view, standing up for his belief in basketball.

Incumbent Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, and Barnett are running for the 15th district state Senate seat. Incumbent Bullard, R-Milford, is running against Havey to represent the 38th district in the State House of Representatives.

In some cases, candidates chose to ride the fence. The toughest question had to do with pets. When candidates were asked whether they prefer cats or dogs, most hesitated to respond.

"Dogs," Bullard responded after a long pause. "But, could you put in parentheses that I like cats, too?"

Honigman's response was equally decisive.

"Both," he said.
Candidates were in strong agreement over holidays, each choosing the upcoming winter holidays of Hanukkah or Christmas as their favorites. And most had some element of chocolate in their cookies of choice.

When the candidates' preferences were placed before local elementary students, the results were telling - though it's hard to say exactly what they told.

Students in Paula Rose's second-grade class at Kurtz Elementary School raised a few puzzled eyebrows when informed of Barnett's cookie choice - chocolate chip cookies without the chocolate chips - but nodded in approval over her favorite sport of snow skiing and playing in the snow.

She couldn't beat Honigman, though, once they learned that his favorite cartoon is the Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. Honigman garnered 21 votes to Barnett's seven.

WOMEN'S CHESS CHAMP

Resident crowned queen of the board

By CAROL WORKENS
Staff Writer

Northville resident Victoria Livshits became the 1994 Michigan Women's Chess Champion on Saturday with 30 seconds left on her clock.

"Both (players) were tied going into the fifth round," said Tim Sawmiller, founder of the Novi Chess Club. "It was in doubt right up to the end." The round was limited to one hour per player.

Livshits defeated the 1993 champ Jennifer Skidmore of Flint who had 10 minutes left on her clock. Laura Romeo Tucker from Farmington Hills tied Skidmore for second place.

This was the first tournament Livshits has competed in since coming to the United States from the Soviet Union 5 years ago.

"I felt quite rusty," she said. "Jennifer and Laura gave me a tough competition. It was a very intense game."

Livshits and her husband and coach, Leonid, an internationally rated chess player, spent a few nights during the previous week playing and analyzing positions. Leonid was the professional chess coach for the Women's Ukrainian Chess Team.

"I have to thank him," said Livshits. "Without his coaching, I would not have won."

Livshits now has plans to play again. The Motor City Open will be held in Dearborn on Thanksgiving weekend, and she will be there.

A trophy for the youngest player went to an 8-year-old girl from Ann Arbor.

"Actually, she did very good, even winning two rounds against adults," Sawmiller explained.

Twenty players competed Saturday against each other in the championship rounds, regardless of age. There was one game per round.

"We had a pretty good representation of the better players this year," said Sawmiller.

This is the first time the Novi Chess Club has hosted a championship competition. There's no complicated formula used to determine which chess club hosts the yearly Women's Chess championship. It was probably tougher for the Novi Chess Club to decide if they wanted to do it.

Sawmiller said determining who will host the championship is an easy one. "It's who ever wants it and is willing to do the work."

Prior to their move to Northville, the Livshits lived in Cleveland for four and a half years. "In Cleveland, there was nothing in place for scholastic chess," she said. So Victoria and Leonid started a chess school there. "We had over 100 students." The chess school produced three time Ohio champs at the middle and high school levels.

"We were very impressed that the Detroit area had quite a few clubs in place," she said.

"Chess develops all kinds of skills - self control, logic and memory."

In the Soviet Union, research has proven that those children who study chess do better academically than children who do not study chess, said Livshits.

Victoria Livshits felt confident about her performance at Saturday's competition. Her concentration is intense during the fourth round.

"Chess is becoming more and more popular in the United States," she said. The reason why people play is because it is an intellectual challenge and a very creative game, according to Livshits.

"It is a combination of science, art, mathematics and logic."

At Saturday's championship, rounds began at 9 a.m., 11 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 3:30 p.m., and 5:30 p.m. The winner for the day was determined by the number of wins attained during the five rounds.

In the event of a tie, players do not play another game, a tie breaker is used. The mathematical formula used to determine the winner during a tie breaker is a measurement of the strength of each player's opponents during the five rounds, said Sawmiller. The player who faced tougher opponents wins the tie breaker.

The winner became the 1994 Women's State Champion. There is no higher level of competition.

To participate in the championship competition, a player must be a member of the Michigan Chess Association and the United States Chess Federation. Beginners do not participate in the championship competition, but play with other beginners. Beginners are not required to hold state or federation memberships.

The Novi Chess Club has been around only three years. Tim Sawmiller founded the club because "there were none close by." He has been playing for "a good 20 years just for the fun of it," he said.

The Novi Chess Club meets every Tuesday night from 7 to 10 p.m. "It's a more informal setting (than other clubs)," said Tim. "We talk during the game. Some players come and go, others stay for the whole evening. There is no charge. Play for free." No classes are available yet, but Sawmiller is considering the idea.

Various games are played on Tuesday evenings.

"We go with the mood of the group," said Sawmiller. In speed chess, the game consists of each player having five minutes. In a quick game, 15 minutes is allotted to each player. Three or four games are played in an evening.

A ladder rating system of games played by members is used by the club, as an informal measure of personal achievement. The club has 15 members, mostly adults ranging in age from their mid-20s to 60s.

Planning is serious position for Kelly

By DOROTHY NASH
Special Writer

You don't have to be a lawyer to be a member of the Northville Planning Commission, but Michelle Kelly, its vice-chair, is one. And it helps, she thinks.

For example, before each monthly meeting, members get long and detailed descriptions of applications - one to five of them - for new or altered business or residential developments.

"We each go to the sites," she said, and then at the meeting when the developer or owner is on hand to present his case, "we discuss it and make a motion to accept or reject it."

The commission is also concerned with redesigning the rules for property within the city limits.

And members are talking, too, about areas of possible development in the central business district (downtown) and also the local commercial district (near Shopping Center Market).

In addition, to be effective members, Kelly said, they are encouraged to attend two or three workshops a year on basic planning and zoning, provided by independent agencies and the Michigan Society of Planning Officials.

Being a member of the planning commission, Michelle Kelly believes is a responsibility and a service to the community in which she said she has "deep roots."

Yes, she has other things to do. She has a law partnership with her husband, and they have four children in ages 11, 10, 8 and 3.

If you would like to be a member of the Northville planning commission, Kelly said there is an opening. See the City Clerk about seeking for it.

Victoria Solonina to perform at Town Hall Series

Victoria Solonina will perform at the second Northville Town Hall Series to be held Monday, Nov. 14.

Born in the Ukraine in 1957, Solonina's passion for the piano began at the age of four when she entered the conservatory under the guidance of world renowned pianists Ludwif Ginzburg and Emil Gilels. She went on to graduate with a master of fine arts degree from the Odessa State Conservatory. After graduation Solonina was invited to join the conservatory staff as a concertmaster and professor. She toured the Soviet Union with solo recitals and orchestra concerts. In 1986, while on a concert tour of England, she leaped to freedom by applying for asylum in the United States.

Solonina will perform at 11 a.m. The luncheon will follow at noon. A brief question and answer period begins after the luncheon.

Season lecture ticket holders may purchase luncheon tickets for $12. Reservations and payment are due by Friday, Nov. 11, to Northville Town Hall, Mary Louise Cutler, P.O. Box 93, Northville, MI 48167. For group seating or additional information, call Mary Louise Cutler, luncheon ticket chairman, at (810) 349-8855.

Garden Club pine cone and bow workshop

The Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Club has changed the time of the Pine Cone and Bow Workshop and meeting to be held at Cady Inn at Mill Race Village to 10 a.m. Monday, Nov. 7. This is also guest day, so members may bring a guest. During the workshop, 1,500 orders need to be assembled. The social chairman, Shirley Green, and her committee, Shirley Lipa, Marjorie Dabney, Nancy Vaghy and Charlotte Lenk, have prepared a light lunch of soup and crackers, cheese, grapes, bar cookies, tea and coffee.

Dentist takes oath as commissioned officer

Northville resident John A. Joboulian, D.D.S., recently sold his dental practice in town and has been offered a commission with the U.S. Navy as a Lieutenant. He will take his oath as a commissioned officer today and begins active duty on Nov. 7 with a six-week indoctrination course at Newport, R.I. His initial tour of duty will be in Okinawa, where he has been assigned to the Third Dental Company with the U.S. Marine Corps. No stranger to the military, Dr. Joboulian served as a captain in the U.S. Air Force prior to entering private practice.

Dr. Joboulian's father, Mihran, a retired Ford Motor Co. salaried employee, is also a Northville resident. He served with the Army Air Corps during World War II as a member of the Eighth Air Force stationed in England.

Leonard and Marie Durham celebrate 60 years together

Leonard and Marie Durham of Northville celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at a family reunion held in August at Bay Valley Golf Resort in Saginaw.

Marie Elizabeth Beaudoin and Leonard Durham were married on April 21, 1934, in St. Louis, Mo. They have resided in Saginaw and have lived in Northville for 20 years.

Their daughters Sharon (Joe) Lineman of Plymouth, formerly of Northville for 23 years, and

Dolores (Jerry) Swaton of Oscoda, Mich., arranged for the entire family to celebrate the special occasion.

Scouting for Food

Boy Scouts of America Pack 903 will be participating in the Scouting for Food project on Saturday, Nov. 5, when they distribute collection bags to the Cedar Lake Apartments, Northville Trails, Lakes of Northville and Maple Hills subdivisions. On Saturday, Nov. 12, the Scouts will collect the bags. Big Boy Restaurants is co-sponsoring this drive. The Scouts participate in this program to build a food bank to serve area soup kitchens and the needy of Southeastern Michigan.

Accomplishments, awards, trips, etc.? Don't keep them to yourself. Share them with us and we'll share them with Northville. Write to Carol Workens, The Northville Record, 104 W. Main Street, Northville, MI 48167.

Local artists to participate in juried show

By CAROL WORKENS
Staff Writer

Local artists Linda and Ken Barnes, Kathryn Wickersham and Nola Hykal will be displaying their creations at the Morning School fourth annual Juried Arts and Craft Show Saturday, Nov. 12, at the Northville Rec Center from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"This is not a country craft show," said Leslie Stolaruk, chairperson. "Half the artists have their work in galleries or have received special awards such as best of show."

"Twenty percent have their work in galleries," she said, "but that does not mean (their pieces) are expensive. The median price of things at the show are from $10 to $100."

"These are quality gift giving items for family and friends - a unique blend of arts and craft."

A smattering of items for sale will be on display at Wilzi Pharmacy on Main Street in downtown Plymouth through Nov. 11.

Artists from Ann Arbor to Petosky and Ohio have been invited to participate.

Artist Nancy Diamond, was asked in 1993 to design a Christmas ornament for the White House which will be used on the tree this year. She will display signed and numbered cat image jewelry and rocks.

Wendy Wilson will be at the show. She has designed children's long johns with paintings upside down so wearers can see the designs when they look down at their clothing

Photographers will include Carl Sams II, wild life photography, and Krstin Cooper, architectural photographer of columns, archways, and stairways in Michigan.

Other artists include Yvonne Hughes, Victorian Santa faces; Marlene Denn and Kelly Hewitt, fabric mix median decorator dolls; Cyndy Callog and Russell Cobane, wild life artists, signed and numbered pieces, and Marge Kaechle, ethnic and antique beads.

WATERCOLORS AND POTTERY

Linda and Ken Barnes met in England while attending a German night school class. Shortly after they were married, they took a pottery class together. "Ken was the star of the class," said Linda. "He went on in leaps and bounds. My things flew off the wheel and splattered on the wall."

Linda chose watercolor as a medium three years ago while taking a watercolor class at Schoolcraft College.

"It is a medium I've always admired. I like the clearness and freshness of watercolors," she said. Linda does mostly landscapes, florals, people, especially children

Ken and Linda came to the United States 14 years ago for a two-year stint and never left.

"We saw it as a great opportunity to see America," said Linda. Both are now U.S. citizens. "We weren't going back," she said. "It was a commitment we were both prepared to make."

Linda works at the William Allan Academy as a part-time secretary and is also a volunteer in the library at Northville High School, where her son Nick is a sophomore.

"Nick is the real artist," said Linda. He's putting together a black-and-white cartoon book that is really excellent, she said. "When I sketched on a pad," said Ken, "Nick would sit down and draw too."

Recently, Linda organized a Halloween party for the Music Boosters Band and Choir Halloween Party which was held at the high school. Under Linda's direction, the group of volunteers painted a cardboard Dracula, Mummy, Wolfman, Medusa and Frankenstein.

Nearly all of Ken's work is hand-thrown pottery on the wheel. "Once you get into clay, you stay with it," Ken said. "It's very rewarding." He has a potter's wheel and a kiln in his studio at home. He experiments with different glazes and shapes and uses traditional ideas too.

"Most of my work is functional rather than decorative," he said. "I like to do large pieces thrown on the wheel." He does vases, large pitchers for dried flowers, and has a new line of piggy banks, which are really in the shape of pigs.

"He also does a tige, which is a fat vase with three handles," explained Linda. Ken won best of show for two years at the Greenmead Arts and Crafts Fair, near Eight Mile and I-275.

Ken is a general manager for a small British subsidiary. For two years, he taught pottery classes which were held at Northville High School until the program was cut.

As a couple, they have participated in the Art in the Sun in Northville, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, and the Victorian Art Festival.

Both take commission work. Ken will take commissions on pieces where a customer likes a certain piece but needs it in a different color. Linda does commission work mainly on portraits.

SEWING FROM SCRATCH

Nola Hykal began sewing as a small girl down on the farm in Tennessee. "It was a necessity to do our own sewing," she explained. If she needed new clothes, she'd have to make them.

Nola has now been sewing for over 60 years.

But it wasn't until 14 years ago that she began quilting with her daughter, Fran, and doing the arts and craft circuit, participating in 15 to 20 shows each year. Nola's husband, John, makes the wood frames for the quilted wall hangings.

A new focus for mother and daughter has been applied denim and sweatshirts and laced-trimmed clothing. Some denim clothing is also applied in ultra suede with lace trim. Nola makes all her clothing "from scratch," including blazers, vests, hats and barn coats.

Nola has been a resident of Northville for almost 50 years. Daughter Fran graduated from Northville High School and worked with her mother making quilts and wearables until her recent move to Rockford, Mich.

Nola also has two sons, who live in Walled Lake and Novi, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

ART AS THERAPY

Ten years ago Kathryn Wickersham was working as an art therapy supervisor for a boys group home in Seattle, Wash. When the home closed she found that art therapy was exactly what she needed.

Kathryn now hand paints and hand sews a custom line of clothing. Off-white denim fabric acts as a canvas for the murals she paints on the front and back of the clothing. They are very bright and colorful murals which range "from abstracts to tea cups, to fish and florals," said Kathryn.

She makes a variety of long and short vests and coats, some of which are sold at Victoria's of Northville. Prices range from $65 to $110 for the vests and $150 to $210 for the coats.

Kathryn also has a manufactured line of T-shirts, sweats and cardigans with prices starting at $30.

Born in Redford, she moved back to Michigan eight years ago from Seattle, settling in Livonia until this past summer when she and her family moved into a 1960s home on one and a quarter acres in Northville.

"We have deer and lots of privacy," she said.

The mother of a 14-month-old daughter, she has had to cut back on the number of shows she can do.

"I do art fairs in the summer, and juried shows in Dearborn, Midland and East Lansing," she said.

Her interest in art began as a child. "My mother always had us doing something," she said. Kathryn started winning Scholastic Art awards in junior high school. Her first award was for an ink and watercolor.

Kathryn holds degrees in both art and psychology and received a master's degree in art therapy from Pratt Institute of Arts in Brooklyn, New York.

School News

WILLIAM ALLAN ACADEMY

Autumn was thoroughly enjoyed by the MWF preschool class during the annual field trip to Erwin Orchards in South Lyon. After picking apples and pumpkins students concluded the trip by sharing cider and donuts with teachers and parents.

MWF preschool students have also selected that very important person to share a special evening with them at school Oct. 21. VIP Night offers those who may otherwise be unable to observe school activities a chance to participate in crafts, games, meet informally with staff and share time with their own special preschool student.

Two programs designed to empower students are off to a successful start — dress down day and special food day. Students may elect to dress casually and/or purchase a special dessert each month and pay 50 cents per activity. A vote by students at year end determines how accumulated proceeds are spent.

The annual Innisbrook wrapping paper fund-raiser proved to be as popular as ever this year, and, as always, a heartfelt "thank you" goes to all who participated.

Grades 4 and 5 spent an interesting morning at the Ann Arbor Historical Museum focusing particularly on Indian dioramas which correlate to the current social studies units.

Items collected by students for donation to the Huron Valley Humane Society were numerous and gratefully accepted by Humane Society representative Mr. Ron Blauet, who spoke to the school on Oct. 17, assisted by his popular furry friends.

In keeping with the animal care and respect program promoted by the school, Grade 1 students will be visiting the Huron Valley Humane Society in November for a first-hand look at the facility and how their donations are used.

Plans are being formulated by room parents for the eagerly awaited Halloween parties, and then it's back to work for the California Achievement Tests administered in early November.

November events currently scheduled include a trip to the BFI Recycling Center for grades 4 and 5, parent teacher conferences on Nov. 16, and a full school field trip to the Festival of Trees prior to the Thanksgiving break.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN SCHOOL

St. Paul's Lutheran Parent Teacher Organization has been active this fall. In September we sold pies at the Victorian Festival and had a wonderful turnout of bakers so that we were able to make a handsome profit. We also had our first PTL general membership meeting in combination with an ice cream social and Open House. The evening was well attended.

In October the PTL sponsored a Road Rally. The winning car contained members of the Greulich family, who get the honor of planning next year's event. Our annual Oktoberfest was held after church on Oct. 16. This year's addition of a live polka band created a most festive atmosphere to go along with the delicious German cuisine. The profits from the event were earmarked for the Jackie Leavens Scholarship Fund.

Our students have educational assemblies once a month. In September the Living Science Foundation visited the school with a wide variety of animals. In October "Mark Twain" paid a visit and told stories to the students. Michael Deren will visit in November and portray a schooner captain.

The PTL is getting ready for a large rummage sale on Nov. 4 and

5. This event is usually the largest fund-raiser of the year. Wrapping paper was sold in October, and we have our ongoing fund-raiser, Market Day, which is growing bigger than ever this year. Hopefully, many of us will stock up on Christmas items this month.

On Nov. 16 the students of St. Paul's will donate food items at their weekly chapel service to be put into Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. This event gives St. Paul's families a chance to share their abundant blessings. The next PTL general membership meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7:30 p.m.

The First Presbyterian Church of Northville initiated the Fine Arts Series in 1991 as a time of celebrating and sharing the God-given talents of those in the community. To date over 20 programs have drawn 2,000 people.

Beatty directs another 'Love Affair'

"Love Affair" is a perennial. The film was originally made in 1939 and remade in 1957.

Now, Warren Beatty and Annette Bening star in the 1994 rendition of the romantic tale in which two people fall unexpectedly and deeply in love, though they are both engaged to others.

They agree to have no contact with one another and to meet in three months. She is injured on her way to the rendezvous and he, not knowing what happened, assumes she chose not to honor her commitment.

Since she cannot abide pity and neither of them has told anyone else about their affair, it seems they are destined never to meet again. But fate intervenes and once more brings them together.

In adapting the script, the filmmakers attempted to retain as many of the original story elements as possible while bringing it into a contemporary setting.

In addition to Beatty and Bening, "Love Affair" features an appearance by Katharine Hepburn in her first feature-film role since winning the Academy Award for "On Golden Pond" with Henry Fonda in 1981.

Also featured are Garry Shandling, Chloe Webb, Pierce Brosnan and Kate Capshaw.

"Love Affair" is produced by Beatty, who has been nominated for 13 Academy Awards during his career. Beatty has produced six pictures which have won a total of 52 nominations. He received the Best Director award for his work on "Reds," and has been nominated in four categories — as an actor, director, writer and producer on both "Heaven Can Wait" and "Reds," an honor shared only by Orson Welles for "Citizen Kane."

Annette Bening and Warren Beatty star as Terry McKay and Mike Gambriel in 'Love Affair,' a Warner Bros. release.

A 'Ghost Story' that's far superior

GHOST STORY
By Helaine Binstock
Novi

This 1981 film (available on video) isn't just another routine ghost story. Far superior to most I've seen in this genre, this was surprisingly enjoyable!

Four elderly well-educated men have been friends forever. They meet regularly to narrate ghost stories by candlelight.

Individually, each gentleman is plagued by recurring nightmares, none seemingly related to the current exchange of of eerie tales. Instead, each gentleman appears to be haunted each evening by a horrifying incident, a secret they apparently shared since they were college buddies some 50 years prior.

Each man in the devoted group conceals from the others his nightly torment, believing he alone bears intense remorse for the secret they share.

It's interesting to see the stodgy old men, flash back to college days where they were all awakened to sexual awareness by the same girl, the very girl who visits all of them nightly in their private ordeals.

Great performances by notable actors in their declining years...Melvyn Douglas is especially outstanding—and John Houseman is especially terrible. "Ghost Story" was Fred Astaire's last film.

The photography, special effects and background music keep you terrified as this solid story of guilt unfolds.

"Ghost Story" definitely isn't for kids because of nudity and explicit sex scenes.

GRUMPY OLD MEN

Menace") and Jack Lemmon play two childhood "enemies" in "Grumpy Old Men." They have been fighting with each other their whole lives about, well, nothing.

But when Ann-Margret moves across the street, these two actually have something to fight about.

Soon, these two "Grumpy Old Men" are acting like lovesick teenagers, and you will be doubling over with laughter.

And just when things look like they can't get any funnier, they do. The last five minutes (as the credits go up) will make you cry with laughter.

Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon are the perfect pair. Ann-Margret couldn't play her part more perfectly. Hopefully, these three will star in a sequel.

This movie gets five stars, with five being the highest. You couldn't ask for more in a movie.

So, if you want to rent a movie that will make you laugh so hard you'll cry, rent "Grumpy Old Men." It makes you feel anything but grumpy.

Mustangs keep Jug with 28-20 win over Novi

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Score one for Aneil Kersey. In fact, you can score four for the junior tailback. That's how many touchdowns he notched Friday night in leading Northville High past Jug rival Novi 28-20 at home.

In a battle of the backs, Kersey topped Wildcat sophomore Jason Witherspoon, 209 to 200 yards.

"When you've got a guy like Aneil you give it to him," Mustang coach Darrel Schumacher said.

"Kersey is a very good back," Novi coach John Osborne said.

Northville High continued its death-grip on the Jug. It was the sixth time in seven tries the Mustangs have won the Jug. Novi's only win came in 1992.

Friday's game was reminiscent of that contest. To say it was an offensive shootout would be an injustice. It was more like a track meet.

A total of 700 yards was piled up between the two offenses. Novi checked in with more than 300 yards on the ground, Northville 251.

As you might expect, it went right down to the wire. Trailing 28-14 with just more than seven minutes to go in the game, the Wildcats began to rally.

Linebacker Jim Harrington recovered a Kersey fumble at Northville's 43-yard line to start the uprising. He pushed the ball 11 yards on first down from scrimmage and then three more to the 29-yard line.

The Wildcat offense then sputtered and Novi faced a fourth down and two at Northville's 24. Osborne called for the option.

Quarterback Jon Wroe ran it to perfection by flipping to Witherspoon at the last second. The sophomore then easily outraced everyone, including Kersey, to the corner for a touchdown at the 4:34 mark.

Northville's Garrett Carter blocked the extra point attempt and the Mustangs held on to a 28-20 lead. The home team did something very important on its drive: eat up the clock.

Kersey and Tim Smith combined to rush for two straight first downs. Kersey had a third as he slashed for 16 more yards, but fumbled it away.

Runners compete in state regional

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

A season's worth of hard work paid off for Adrienne Browne Saturday.

Northville High's senior cross country star qualified for this weekend's state finals with an excellent performance. Coach Chris Cronin said it came under trying circumstances.

"Adrienne had been battling a cold the latter part of the week," he said. "She wasn't close to 100 percent by Saturday."

Despite being under the weather, Browne finished 12th overall. She completed the three-mile course at Marshbank Park in 20:24.

Cronin said his runner should be back at full strength for the final, which will be held near Grand Rapids this Saturday.

"I think she can turn it up one more notch when she gets there," he added.

She'll have to. To finish among the state's elite, Browne will have to break 20 minutes. The senior has accomplished that feat before, however.

"I think she's ready," said Cronin. "She's really dedicated herself to becoming a better runner this year."

Northville didn't fair as well as a team. The Mustangs placed 12th out of 20 schools.

Livonia Stevenson won the regional. Novi and Farmington also advanced to the state final by finishing second and third, respectively.

Erin Tovey was Northville second fastest finisher. She was 54th in 22:32.

"She looked strong," Cronin said of the sophomore.

Kristina Derro may have shown the most improvement Saturday. She cut nearly 10 minutes off her other time at Marshbank and came in at 24:28.

Kajal Parikh was Northville's fourth runner and Kathryn Mittman the fifth.

All that remains of the Mustangs' season now is the state final Saturday. If everything goes well, Northville could have an all-state runner.

"She has an outside shot at the top 15," Cronin said.

Cagers crunch Churchill 63-39

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

Samantha Leger got a chance to do something Thursday she doesn't do very often: sit on the bench.

It wasn't that the Mustang junior was playing poorly or was even in foul trouble. Northville High was simply blowing out Livonia Churchill by the fourth quarter and could afford to rest her.

In one of the most lopsided games of the season, the Mustangs crushed Churchill 63-39 on the road. Leger scored 24 points and Lauren Mettaji added 17 to lead Northville to the rout.

After a tough loss to Salem a few nights before, coach Gary Schwan said it was important for his team to play well Thursday.

"We talked after that game and said this is the one we had to have," he said.

The victory improved Northville's WLA record to 7-4. The Mustangs will play in the conference tournament tonight on the road.

Schwan will certainly be looking for the same kind of offensive production he got from his team against Livonia, especially in the first quarter. The Mustangs were on fire.

Leger opened the game with an easy basket on a nice pass from Lyndsay Huot. Churchill's Krysten Sattler countered with a three-pointer to give her team its only lead of the game.

Leger tied it with a free throw and Mettaji then followed it with a basket of her own to make it 5-3. It was the first of many hoops for the freshman in the period.

Ahead 10-3, Sattler swished another three to keep her team in the game. Mettaji got hot after Sattler's make.

She scored eight straight points for the Mustangs on a variety of layups and moves around the basket. Mettaji finished with 12 in the quarter.

Schwan gave Huot a lot of credit for his team's success in the quarter.

"Lyndsay Huot did a great job running the ball down the court," said Schwan. "When she plays like that we're tough to beat."

Northville led 23-14 at the end of the first quarter. The Mustangs

Kickers fall in district final

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

A solid 1994 campaign drew to a close Saturday for the Mustang soccer team as Novi whipped Northville High at home 4-0.

The Wildcats scored all four goals in the first half then cruised in for the district final championship. Northville coach Doug Lyon said the loss didn't take away from a good season for his squad.

"It was the first time in 11 years we've been to a district final," he said. "The program is improving."

Northville finishes at 11-8-3. The Mustangs beat North Farmington and Farmington 2-0 in the preliminary rounds to make it to the finals.

Novi coach Larry Christoff said Saturday's game simply came down to desire.

"They were hungry," he said of his team. "The kids felt it was there time."

And, indeed, it was. Novi made the most of every break and played a gutsy brand of defense that Northville just couldn't crack. Lyon walked away impressed.

"They played a great game," he said. "They were totally solid to the ball."

Lyon said his team had chances, but couldn't get it going.

"We had opportunities," he commented. "We never capitalized. We just never had the same drive as Novi."

The Wildcats were to face Canton in the opening round of regionals yesterday (after Novi News deadline). A win there would send them to the region final Saturday.

As hot as the Wildcats have been, Northville controlled the opening minutes of Saturday's game.

The Mustangs controlled the middle of the field and set up crossing plays from the left wing. Northville wasn't able to get any quality shots on Wildcat goalkeeper Joe Meyer.

"We played defensively in the first few minutes,"

Christoff said. "We wanted to do what they'd do."

The Wildcats began to come alive with 30 minutes to go before halftime. Joe Schimizz took a corner kick at the 30-minute mark and Kevin Ansara headed it past Northville keeper Ty Fowler for the Wildcats first score.

The Mustangs came back and applied some pressure of their own. Lance Bethell sent a shot through the Novi goal crease with a hard shot. Bill Rundell followed with a header over the goal a few minutes later.

The Wildcats finally broke the pressure with about 23 minutes left. Schimizz collected the ball after it took a funny hop over a Northville defender and broke down the left wing on a breakaway.

The junior forward made no mistake and beat Fowler to make it 2-0.

That goal seemed to take the steam out of Northville.

Play went up and down for a few minutes. Schimizz then hit Chns Young with a beautiful crossing pass and scored to make it 3-0.

Young was playing his first game since suffering an eye injury a few weeks ago. Christoff said Northville paid a lot of attention to the senior and, perhaps, allowed other players a little more freedom.

"They were keying on him," he said.

Novi put the game out of reach with 6:46 to go before the half. John McShane got the game's final goal.

Lyon said his team let Novi dictate the style. He said the Mustangs needed to pass and communicate better.

"We weren't playing our game plan," Lyon said. Not much changed in the second half.

Novi went into more of a defensive mode in the final 40 minutes. They were able to keep Northville from getting too many good scoring chances.

Meyer made his toughest save with about 22 minutes to go.

made it a rout in the early part of the second.

Leger scored off a rebound that drilled a three-pointer moments later to make it 28-15. By the time Northville's run was finished it was 37-16 and the game was, essentially, over.

The Mustangs went on to take a 41-20 halftime lead.

Schwan went to his bench heavily in the second half. Karla Kalso, Lindsey Casterline, Tami Taylor, Laura Genitti and Carrie Dalziel all responded well and scored at least a basket each.

"It was a good game for us," said Schwan. "We got a lot of kids in."

SALEM 43, NORTHVILLE 41

Shellye Sills scored two free throws with less than a second to play to give the Rocks a road victory over Northville Oct. 25.

Salem had to withstand a tremendous Mustang comeback in the last 1:40 to claim the victory.

The Rocks led 37-32 when Leger scored on a drive to the basket and was fouled. Salem's Liz Erickson was then given a technical foul for her outburst after the call. Northville turned it into a five-point play.

The Mustangs then went ahead but Salem's Laurel Weinman retied it with a baseline jumper. The teams then traded baskets again.

Leger missed a shot after the Rocks tied it at 41. Sills then sank a pair of free throws with three-tenths of a second remaining to win the game.

Leger had 12 points and Dalziel 10 in the game.

Clubs plan activities in Novi

By CINDY STEWART
Special Writer

"Focus Health Week" in Novi continues today, tomorrow and Monday at the Novi Civic Center. It's a great place for you to learn all about good health, nutrition, and exercise. The daily events will celebrate different themes encouraging health lifestyles for people of all ages working and living in Novi. Be cure and stop by the Civic Center.

While you're learning all about healthy lifestyles, why not start working on your mental and emotional well-being. With today's busy schedules, people are finding less time for fun and relaxation. Stop! Take time now and find something fun, just for you. Novi Parks and Recreation has activities for kids of all ages. Sign up now for one of the many clubs Novi Parks and Rec offers.

Interested in gardens and flowers? The Novi Garden Club, a branch of the Michigan Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, meets every third Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. at the Novi Civic Center. President Elnor Holland invites everyone interested in gardening, good conversation and fun to stop by a meeting.

Prior meeting topics have included Ikebana-Japanese gardening, dried flowers and herb wreaths, Thanksgiving arrangements with pumpkins, and composting. They are always looking for speakers to address the group.

The Garden Club is not just for people who have large gardens. They learn how and what to grow in small spaces, such as patios, balconies and large containers.

The Novi Garden Club also works on projects to beautify the city. Spring plans include starting a memorial garden with trees, flowers and a wooden bench behind the Civic Center. Many families of Novi seniors who have died donated money towards this special project. For more information on the Novi Garden Club, call Elnor at 477-7913.

Are you a "shutter-bug"? Is photography your special hobby? If so, Novi Parks and Recreation sponsors the Novi Camera Club. It meets at the Novi Civic Center the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Meetings consist of either an assignment, sharing and critique of photos, guest speakers or camera tips on technique, equipment or anything of interest to the group. Award winning photographer Monte Nagler brought in photographs from his collection and talked to the club last year, as well as Northville Record photographer Bryan Mitchell who gave a talk on photojournalism and shared his photos.

The Novi Camera Club has approximately 35 members, ranging from beginners to amateurs to accomplished photographers. They have fun sharing their expertise and learning from one another.

The camera club also has club field trips to such places as Windsor, the Detroit Zoo, Kensington Metro Park, downtown Detroit, Mill Race Historical Village and the Howell Nature Center. Each July, the club takes a trip to the Michigan '50s Festival and finds plenty of interesting photo opportunities, especially the fireworks display.

Are you into exercise and running? If so, the Novi Trackers Running club is just what you need. The Novi Trackers meet twice a week, Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. at Novi High School and Saturdays at 8 a.m. at the Sundowner Restaurant across from the Northville Post Office. The members range from the casual jogger to the serious competitor. All runners are also invited to join any of the club runs. For information, runners can call Club President Hubb Copp at 348-7779.

Novi also offers the Novi Senior Social Club, which meets twice a month at the Civic Center. The second Wednesday of every month is their potluck at noon and the fourth Wednesday is their business meeting at 1 p.m. The Club plays cards and bingo after the potluck and business meeting. For more information, call Helen Weiss at 478-9306.

If you are new to Novi, or are a resident looking to enlarge your social and civic activities, look no further. Novi Newcomers and Neighbors extends a "Welcome to All" The club offers a wide variety of interests for everyone, from social gatherings, activities for children and family events. The group will be baking cookies for the upcoming "Light Up the Holiday" Ceremony on Monday, Dec. 5. Be sure and sign up now. For info, call Nancy Greco at 661-6281 or Joyce Engelmann at 348-4155.

There's always something for everyone in Novi, the dedicated Parks and Rec staff never sleeps. Call 347-0400 for more information.

Parents are role models for alcohol use

Jacque Downs

pledge, contributed from Julie Stitt of Common Ground, Oakland County's 24-hour Crisis Intervention Center, is something we should consider for ourselves

1. I will limit my alcohol consumption, realizing that daily drinking can lead to dependency.
2. I will avoid alcohol at lunch.
3. I will not automatically offer alcoholic beverages to guests in my home. Instead, I will offer alternatives such as juice, coffee, soft drinks or tea. If I am serving alcoholic beverages I will have non-alcoholic choices available.
4. Occasionally, I will plan social events where alcohol is not served.
5. When planning an adult party where alcohol is available, I will limit its availability and

For parents who drink alcohol socially, it is difficult to think in terms of "zero tolerance" when it comes to their under-age adolescents. It is also difficult to become aware of one's own drinking habits.

We as parents are in the best position to be excellent role models for our children. Perhaps the following serve food.

6. I am aware that I should not drive after drinking. Since I am responsible for my guests and their actions after they leave my home, I will ask that they enforce these same guidelines.

7. I realize that serving or buying alcohol for persons under 21 is against the law.

8. I will discuss the dangers of alcohol consumption with my children.

9. I will not ask my children to make alcoholic drinks or get drinks from the refrigerator.

10. I will keep liquor and beer out of reach and possibly locked. I will limit the amount of alcohol I keep on hand to discourage children and teens from experimenting with it.

11. I will be aware of the risks of leaving a teen at home alone; if possible I will make arrangements for a responsible adult to check on them.

12. I will make every effort to check on the parties my teenager attends to make sure alcohol will not be available. If my teen has a party, I will be present and will not allow alcohol to be served. I will also look in on the party throughout the evening, realizing that I am responsible for anyone who drinks in my home.

13. When dining out with my children, I will limit my alcohol consumption to no more than two drinks or none at all.

Can we as parents truthfully say that we have adhered to this pledge? Probably not. Adolescent use and abuse of drugs, alcohol and tobacco will not change until we make significant changes in ourselves. In some settings, parents are challenging the status quo. Because their children are friends, parents are meeting with one another to work out plans for when their children are out together. These plans include:

1. Calling each other to confirm that each child has told their parents the same thing ("I'm going to Tom's overnight").

2. Calling the host of the party to confirm with the parents that they'll be home.

3. Following up with parents to make sure that the "trip to the mall" is not actually a trip to another teen's empty home.

4. Getting to know your child's friends so you can better determine whether they are truthful. Following these steps, along with the pledge, can begin to change the societal norm surrounding teen-age drinking and smoking. For too long, we have been telling ourselves that "kids will be kids" and "I did it, too, at that age" and "I'm no worse for wear." Until we begin thinking seriously about the outcomes of teen drug abuse, nothing will change.

Heart disease has many factors

plete Book of Running led thousands to take up running for fitness and heart health.

Although his father died of a heart attack at 43, Fixx had not had even a routine medical examination for some time. Perhaps he believed that his distance-running lifestyle would protect him from, or even immunize him to, heart disease.

The possibility of avoiding heart attacks by

I, too, was shocked to read the newspaper headline in 1984: "Heart attack during running kills Jim Fixx, expert on jogging." He was only 52.

Fixx had transformed himself from an overweight, two-pack-a-day smoker to a lean, non-smoking, 10-mile-a-day distance runner. His best-selling The Complete Book of Running led thousands to take up running for fitness and heart health.

Although his father died of a heart attack at 43, Fixx had not had even a routine medical examination for some time. Perhaps he believed that his distance-running lifestyle would protect him from, or even immunize him to, heart disease.

distance running was raised almost 40 years ago after an autopsy of famed marathon runner Clarence DeMar, who had died at 70 of cancer. Medical findings described his heart's arteries as two to three times the normal diameter with only minimal narrowing from fatty-cholesterol deposits.

In more recent times, Dr. Thomas Bassler, a pathologist and marathon runner, has suggested that marathon running provides "absolute protection" against death due to heart disease.

Unfortunately, the medical literature and lay press have demonstrated the "exercise and immunity" theory to be incorrect.

While it is recognized that each year several cardiovascular deaths while running will occur merely by chance, there is unequivocal evidence that heart disease may occur in some distance runners. Indeed, the autopsy report on Jim Fixx revealed that he had died of a massive heart attack, and that three of his heart's main arteries were blocked.

No longer can we ignore the fact that heart disease is now considered a complex, multi-factorial disease. Genetics, environmental influences and lifestyle habits — known collectively as "risk factors" — probably all play a role. Some risk factors may still remain unidentified.

Certainly few authorities would disagree that the distance runner's lifestyle — including regular exercise, abstinence from cigarette smoking and careful attention to diet and body weight — may provide partial protection against heart disease.

The ironic death of Jim Fixx emphasizes that modification of one risk factor, such as regular exercise, may not always provide absolute immunity against heart disease for everyone, even if accompanied by other lifestyle changes.

It's time to lay the "exercise and immunity" notion to rest.

Tankers take pair of dual meet wins

By SCOTT DANIEL
Sports Editor

To casual observers, Northville High's lopsided swimming victories over Novi and Walled Lake last week may have looked like a good team beating up on two weaker ones.

But with the state meet looming in just a few short weeks, the Mustangs were on a mission.

"We were going for state cuts," coach Bill Dicks said. "It was a matter of giving my kids what they needed."

The Mustangs swam well in both meets but weren't able to get any new cuts. Dicks said his team will likely get a few more qualifying times this week at the conference meet.

"They'll all be tapered," he added, "and the excitement level will be high."

The Western Lakes meet starts today, at Plymouth Salem, and runs through Saturday. Livonia Stevenson is the overwhelming favorite to win the league title.

Northville, North Farmington and Salem will likely vie for the next few spots. Just how dominant Livonia is will have a great bearing on exactly where the teams fall.

Dicks said it's a good bet that his 200- and 400-yard freestyle relays will make state cuts at the WLA meet.

"Amy Kohl is close in the 200-yard freestyle," he added. "I think she's got a real good shot at making the cut."

Kohl won that event Oct. 25 against Novi. She posted a time of 2:02.80 and helped lead Northville to a 62-39 win over the Wildcats.

In the 200-yard medley relay, Rebecca Anderson, Tammy Cook, Katie Rempel and Gwen Osborne were first in 2:02.20. Amy Cook, Andrea Moretti, Jill Walro and Jodie Brown were third in 2:13.08.

Brown came back to win the 50-yard freestyle in 26.7 while Rempel took second in 27.2. Northville's Karen Fischer was second in diving with a score of 154.5. Mary Essary

In the 100-yard butterfly, Anderson just missed the state cut. She won the race in 1:03.8, which is less than a second behind the state standard.

Amity Heckemeyer edged Novi's Jamie Vandermass a fraction of a second to win the 100 freestyle in 55.36. Beth Handley had her best time of the year for fourth place (1:00.54).

A 6:14.40 got Alicia Doehler second in the 500-yard freestyle. Walro, who doesn't normally swim in the event, was third in 6:25.80.

Both schools' top 200-yard freestyle relay team were disqualified. Northville's Amy Glogowski, Alice Callan, Erin Taylor and Allison Anti were second.

In the 100-yard backstroke, Amy Cook was first in 1:08.03 while Kara Lyczak was third in 1:11.55. Osborne placed second in the 100-yard breaststroke and Walro was third.

The 400-yard freestyle relay team won its race. Amity Heckemeyer, VanHorn, Brown and Kohl won in 3:52.64.

NORTHVILLE 73, WALLED LAKE 29

The Mustangs won every race Thursday, swimming at home against a combined Walled Lake squad.

Despite the large margin of victory, Dicks said the visitors have improved from a year ago.

"Their spirit was great (too)," he added.

Anderson, Cook, Osborne and Brown were the winners of the 200 medley relay (1:59.10). Amity Heckemeyer took first in the 200-yard freestyle in 2:02.30, while Kohl was second in 2:02.90.

Anderson and VanHorn went one-two in the 200 IM. Brown placed first in the 50-yard freestyle in 26.6.

Senior Katrina Heckemeyer won the diving competition with 132.75 points and Fischer was second with 163.95.

Agony of defeat time on first down and picked up six yards. Wroe then completed a 36-yard bomb to Jason Callender, moving the ball to Northville's 29.

After Wroe was smacked for a three-yard loss, Novi called its final timeout with 15 seconds left. The QB came back and missed Erich Kelly on second down and then missed again on third.

With two seconds left there was time for one final play. Wroe dropped back to pass, but before he could throw Northville's John Matthews hit him from behind for a sack.

Game over. "I thought John had an excellent game," Schumacher said, adding that Matthews had nine tackles including four for losses. "He gets things done when you need them."

Osborne was proud of how his ball club fought back.

"The kids made a nice effort coming back," he said.

Both squads close the season at 5-4. It was the first time in three years Northville hasn't made the state playoffs.

"It was nice to end on a positive note," said Schumacher. "We're very happy to retain the Jug. It's always a tough, hard-hitting game."

From the very first play of the game it was clear it wouldn't be an offensive struggle.

Witherspoon took the opening

Eric Moore made a nice kickoff return of his own from the Mustang 3-yard line to the Northville 47. A 10-play drive was dominated by seven Kersey carries.

He finished off with his first TD, a four-yard jaunt, at the 5:37 mark of the first. Novi fire-plug Marc Lesperance blocked the extra point to make it 7-6.

Schumacher was confident his team could score on the Wildcats.

"I thought our offensive line could do the job on them," he said.

Runners conclude season

By SCOTT DANIEL

If you need a little more proof that life just isn't fair go talk to Dwight VanTuyt.

The Mustang junior missed out on a trip to state cross country finals this weekend by one second. By the blink of an eye, VanTuyt was edged out for 20th place at the West Bloomfield regional Saturday.

The all Western Division runner was Northville High's best hope of advancing from Marshbank Park to the state final site near Grand Rapids, according to coach Ed Gabrys.

"Dwight was the hottest," he said. "I thought he'd make it."

Three teams, Detroit Catholic Central, North Farmington and Canton, survived the 18-school regional. Northville was 10th, a spot behind conference rival Farmington Hills Harrison.

A dozen runners from the non-advancing teams will also get to make the trip west this weekend. Gabrys said he knew his team didn't have a realistic shot at going, but that it was possible for an individual to make it.

"We were just looking to get somebody through," he commented. "One of our top three."

VanTuyt ran a great race despite not making the cut. He slashed a little more than a minute from his best time at Marshbank to place 21st overall in 17:38.

Jeff Zwiesler ran a personal best as well and finished 33rd in 17:53. Scott Lloyd was 45th in 18:08 while Nate Kirmis returned from injury to finish 59th in 18:52.

Sean Hollister broke the 19-minute barrier at 18:57. Tim Schovers came in at 18:59 for 76th and Ravi Mujumdar was 80th in 19:12.

Northville resident Joe Leo was the overall winner of the race. He finished in 16:06.

Unique homes for unique people

By James M. Woodard
Copley News Service

Some prospective home buyers are looking for something special—something different from the conventional three-bedroom, two-bath home surrounded by a white picket fence and located in a pleasant suburban neighborhood.

They want a unique, offbeat type of home to match their unconventional lifestyle. And they'll probably find it—somewhere.

For example, for those who place a high priority on a home with a panoramic view of the ocean, there's a three-level luxury home

A bonus room for the Janet is a highlight

By James McAlexander
Copley News Service

A huge bonus room is but one of the noteworthy features in the Janet, a midsize, family-style home with four bedrooms and three bathrooms. This long room, illuminated by four skylights, makes an ideal play space for rainy-day activities. And because it's over the garage, the clumping of active little feet will hardly be noticed elsewhere in the house.

Family gathering spaces dominate the main floor. Window rich, the living room, dining room, family room, nook and kitchen flow one into the other, wrapping around the left side of the home. Pocket doors provide full enclosure for the dining room. The vaulted living room is open to the entry and stairway, and can be joined with, or separated from, the dining room.

The combined family room and kitchen has some interesting angles and offers plenty of space for relaxed, informal day-to-day living. It's set up to ensure that the individuals on KP duty can supervise homework, participate in conversations, watch television programs, or take part in whatever else is going on in this bright, comfortable area. There's room for four or more stools along the eating bar, while sliding glass doors in the nook open onto a raised deck large enough for outdoor dining.

Counter space is so generous that it practically invites creative group cooking projects. Dishwasher, range and oven are all built into the counters.

Cupboard space is augmented by a spacious walk-in pantry, and more cabinets line the wall over the washer and dryer in the nearby laundry room.

dry room. The utility room also provides access to a two-car garage with extra storage or workbench space at the back.

The master suite is large, but modest in its amenities. Features include a walk-in closet and an oversized shower.

Log home proves to have a unique flavor

By Jane Benskey
Special Writer

Dick and Margaret Ann Larys, then Lathrup Village residents, set two criteria in 1990 when they began their search for a new home centrally located between their two jobs.

First, it couldn't be a "cookie cutter" house and, second, they wanted to own property around their home.

Nearly three months into their search and after looking at dozens of homes, the Larys' patience was rewarded when they found their new home, a log home located on three acres in Milford Township.

The 2,250-square-foot home, constructed by the previous owner from a pre-cut log home kit manufactured by Cedardale Homes, Inc. of Greensboro, N.C., was an exact fit for the Larys' criteria.

In fact, the moment they stepped into the log home, Dick Larys knew the search was over just by looking at his wife's face.

"Dick looked at my face, and I gave it away," Margaret Ann said with a laugh. Margaret Ann works as assistant program director for community day care at the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center.

Cedardale Homes, Inc. offers over a dozen basic pre-cut kits, but as in the case of the Larys' home, the kit can be easily customized. When built, the home's design was revised to increase the size of the kitchen. A first-floor laundry, a guest bathroom and a two-car garage were added as well.

The northern white cedar logs used to construct the homes are supplied from a mill located in Stafford, Va. The cedar wood is resistant to rot and insects and, as such, is exceptionally durable.

In addition, the high R-factor of the cedar coupled with the tongue and groove wall construction yields a highly energy-efficient home.

Once they settled in their new two-story home, the Laryses soon discovered that others found their home unique as well. In fact, the Laryses have become quite accustomed to the site of people photographing their home, knocking at the door to request information about their home or even a looking at the home's interior.

Arsenic-laced lumber

By C Z. Guest
Copley News Service

GARDENING

Q. I read your recent article on using treated lumber containing arsenic with a great sense of alarm, some anger and a lot of apprehension.

I've been eating vegetables from my raised beds, framed with the timbers you speak of for at least seven years.

After reading your article and for the first time becoming aware of the dangers—I am going to rip them out.

My question to you is this: I may just not use any lumber—or use lumber you suggested in the article—but the fact that my garden had the CCC-treated wood and the ground has been leached with this arsenic—is there still any danger?

Can I still use my garden to raise vegetables? Please acknowledge my letter.

Q. My wife and I are avid gardeners—she with prize-winning flowers—she grows more than 2,000 plants of various kinds—and I grow the vegetables.

Her beds are framed with treated lumber—can these stay in?

Please send me all the information I need so we can correct the unknowingly mistake we made.

Here we are concerned with organic usages—and then fall into a trap of using materials detrimental to our health.

A. Reread my article carefully again.

These are the guidelines. Discard all CCC-treated wood that you have in the garden. Use the wood that I suggested in my column, locust, cypress or cedar, these are the alternatives.

Q. Can sawdust be used for mulch?

Also, are there potted annuals that can be brought inside for the winter months and survive until the next spring? I have some lovely New Guinea impatiens and bleeding heart plants I would love to save.

A. Sawdust can be used to lighten soil and as a mulch during summer.

If applied at a rate of more than 1 inch, sawdust must have added nitrogen to decay Arsenic warning!

CCC-treated lumber contains arsenic and is a danger. The arsenic can leach from the treated wood and run off into the soil in your garden.

If you have used CCC-treated lumber in your garden, discard all of it immediately. Use locust, cypress or cedar as a safe alternative.

Milford couple like the uniqueness of their log home experience their home, the Laryses have graciously answered questions and even conducted numerous spontaneous tours of their home.

"It's been a lot of fun," said Dick, a customer satisfaction engineer with Inland Fisher Guide, a division of General Motors. "You feel a lot of pride that people find your home attractive."

Although the two-story home with the expansive front porch is striking from the outside, the interior of the home steals the show.

Warm and inviting, the home exudes the feeling of comfort and tranquility. Though not located "up north," their home is reminiscent of a weekend getaway cabin, but larger scale and with all the creature comforts.

Helping to create the feeling of warmth while keeping the rooms surprisingly light, the ceilings and walls are all constructed of a honey-colored pine. The floors that are not carpeted or tiled are covered in light oak.

Despite all the wood in the home, architectural interest is present in virtually all the rooms from the living room, with its cathedral ceiling and exposed beams, to the master bedroom with sections of the pine planking placed at different angles to create an artistic effect on the walls.

A wide staircase leads up to the second-floor loft that looks down into the living room. Used as the family room, the loft has a secluded, "tucked in" feel to it.

The focal point of the living room is a massive fieldstone fireplace that towers up to the ceiling. A raised, three-sided hearth provides an ideal spot to sit and enjoy a fire. Equipped with a heatolater, a fan that blows warm air from a fire into the room, the fireplace not only provides beauty but a great deal of warmth as well.

The heart of the house, where Margaret Ann says their guests always tend to gravitate, is a roomy kitchen. With the cupboards and counter space set in a U-shape layout and a large work island, there is an abundance of elbow room and work space.

By extending the back wall of the kitchen out six feet, it not only increased the size of the kitchen but allowed the use of two skylights to bring additional natural light into the room.

A large door wall in the eating area opens out to a two-level deck and offers a tranquil view of the lot's many mature trees and, further back, a wetland area that is home to a family of ducks and a muskrat or two.

There are two bedrooms on the first floor, one is occupied by the Laryses 22-year-old son, Michael, a former Michigan State University student who is taking time off from school. The second bedroom serves as a guest room for visiting friends. A full-size bathroom is located just steps away from both bedrooms.

When the Laryses 24-year-old daughter, Jen, visits from Michigan State, where she is working on a second degree, she sleeps in a basement room that has been finished and looks much like a studio apartment.

The second floor, with the loft and the master bedroom and bathroom, serves as a private retreat for the Laryses.

Sadly, as much as they love their home, the commute to their respective jobs, especially since Dick no longer works in Lansing, has become too arduous for the Laryses and has prompted their recent decision to move from their dream home.

Said Margaret Ann, "I have real mixed emotions about moving... this is the perfect home. I don't think we'll find another one like it. I wish we could just pick up the whole house and move it."

perched on top of a historic 87-foot water tower in Seal Beach, Calif. This would be like living on a luxury ocean liner, with no bobbing around or sea sickness.

This was the first-place winner in an innovative contest launched a few months ago by the National Association of Realtors. It was billed as an "Unusual Listings or Sales Contest." The announcement of the competition communicated to NAR's 750,000 members brought a flood of entries.

The old Sunset Water Tower in Seal Beach was originally built to serve as a watering hole for trains. In 1980, it was slated for demolition. But someone bought it for $59,000.

The buyer then spent another $1 million to build a luxurious three-level house, and had it hoisted to the top of his newly purchased water tower. Today it stands tall and proud, weathering ocean winds and earthquakes like the water tower had for decades.

The house was designed, logically, in a nautical motif. It includes marble-floored elevator, wraparound deck, Jacuzzi, hand-painted stained-glass cupola and electric window shutters—just to mention a few special amenities. It's currently on the market for $1.5 million.

A flying-saucer-shaped house in Chattanooga, Tenn. received the second-place award in NAR's contest. This home, looking like a just-landed UFO sitting on four sturdy legs, was constructed with concrete over a layer of wire mesh. The three-bedroom, two-bath home is on the market for $89,000—an expensive price tag in Chattanooga.

The third-place choice is an island created from an explosion in Texas. In 1928, engineers blew up a 400-year-old natural dam on the Colorado River outside the city of Matagorda, it was explained in an NAR report. When the silt settled, a 6,000-acre island had formed.

Owners of the property adjacent to the island claimed and retained ownership for several years. But ownership was finally contested by the state when they tried to sell the land. This led to litigation.

As it turned out, the court ruled the island belonged to the original owners. It was then sold to "island homesteaders" already living on the property. The rest was sold to an investor.

Two other properties earned an honorable mention in the NAR contest. One was a ranch with an operating pet cemetery. The other was a waterfront mansion confiscated from a former Colombian drug lord.

Other notable entries included a home with a worm farm, a home with a bathroom that was claimed for use by a neighboring church, and a home with its own squirrels living in the walls.

Q. Are home equity scams still on the increase?

A. Unfortunately, yes. These scams, often targeted at senior homeowners or those in dire financial trouble, are increasing at points throughout the country.

A recent and typical case involved a home in California. The owner could not keep his monthly mortgage payments to the bank current and was facing a possible foreclosure. This created a very stressful situation for the owner.

A corporation representative contacted the owner and offered to help by taking title to the home and making subsequent payments to the bank. No cash down payment was involved.

The owner thought this was the best way to avoid problems connected with a foreclosure, including a negative blow to his credit record, as pointed out by the buyer. He signed the sales contract.

After the previous owner moved out of the residence, the buyer immediately rented the property. He collected all the rent payments but failed to make a single payment to the bank. Ultimately, the property was foreclosed by the bank.

"This kind of problem happens regularly," said the local district attorney. "People should be careful about entering into any transaction with a person offering to solve their financial problems by taking title to property. It's a good idea to have it checked out by a competent attorney. Otherwise, they might find themselves in a worse situation."

In some cases, buyers claim they are representing a corporation that doesn't exist, the district attorney noted. Most attorneys can check on corporations, determining if they exist at all or are they exist "in good standing" in about 45 seconds by using available computer on-line services.

Homeowners who find themselves in financial difficulty should first contact their home mortgage lender before taking other actions to solve their immediate problem.

In many cases, a satisfactory arrangement can be worked out with the lender.

A recent national survey of legal aid attorneys, conducted by Public Citizen (a consumer group), revealed that 25 states report receiving more than 5,000 complaints of rate- and fee-gouging by loan sharks who target homeowners.

Questions may be used in future columns; personal responses should not be expected. Send inquiries to James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Keep in mind an annual is a plant that lives but one season from seed sowing to flowering—setting of seed and then dies.

There are several plants treated as annuals that are really tender perennials.

For example, snapdragons and wax begonias will survive until spring.

Q. I would like information about flowers and plants. How do I get these pocketbooks: "Highgrove" by the Prince of Wales (Simon & Schuster), and "Royal Gardens" by Roy Strong?

Will be happy to hear from you. A. Ask your bookstore to order

"Highgrove" by Prince Charles. It's a beautiful book that you will thoroughly enjoy.

A toy cash register in mint

By Anne McCollam
Copley News Service

Q. Enclosed is a picture of a toy cash register that I have. It is a "Tom Thumb" and in excellent condition. Could you tell me when it was made and if it is worth anything?

A. Your toy cash register was made in the mid-20th century. Its value would probably be about $25 to $35.

Q. I know this isn't a big item, but I am wondering if you can help on this? I have a complete deck of 53 "Vargas Girls" plastic-coated playing cards. They are marked "Creative Play Card Co. Inc., St. Louis 2, Missouri." Each card has a picture of a young woman in a different pose.

A. Alberto Vargas was a successful artist of pinup girl art in the 1940s. His work appeared in Esquire magazine, calendars and posters.

"Warman's Americana & Collectibles, 6th Edition" edited by Harry L. Rinker lists a deck of playing cards by Vargas at $150.

Q. The enclosed mark is on two earthenware vases that I brought from England in 1957. They are 4 inches high. Each vase is decorated with pink roses against a black background.

Could you tell me their origin and value?

A. Your vases were made by A.G. Richardson & Co. Ltd., Tunstall, Staffordshire, England. This mark was used from 1916 to 1970.

Each vase would probably be worth about $45 to $55 in good condition.

Q. I have a bronze figure of an eagle that I purchased about five years ago. The height is 32 inches, including the marble base.

The wing spread is 10 inches. It is signed "Jules Moigniez." I know he was born in Senlis, France, in 1835, made his debut in 1855 and died in St.

Martin, France, in 1894.

Can you give me any other information and an idea of its value?

A. Moigniez made his debut at the Salon of 1855 with a plaster group of a setter capturing a pheasant. He continued to show his work at the salon until 1881. Moigniez's work was quite fashionable in Britain. He specialized in animals and many of his game birds and dogs were designed for the Scottish and English market.

In 1862, he entered his work in the Great Exhibition and won a medal. The resources available to me say that he died in Senlis, not St. Martin.

Bronze casts of his work similar to yours are usually in the $3,300 to $4,000 range.

The future of television on sale now in South Lyon

By RICK BYRNE
Staff Writer

The future of television has arrived, and it's been on the market in South Lyon for three weeks already.

In mid-October, DigiComm began selling the new RCA Digital Satellite System from its Kings Plaza showroom. Owner Jim Winegarden thinks the new satellite television system will revolutionize the industry.

"There's lots of potential," he said of the new system. "With it, you get laser-quality video; and CD-quality audio. That's where it's got cable television beat."

When most people think of satellite television, though, they think of a dish worthy of NASA moon shots standing in the back yard, or worse, the front yard. Many subdivisions in this area won't even allow them. Though C-band satellite, as it is called, offers hundreds of channels, it generally enjoys its best sales in rural areas.

Indeed, Jim has his roots in C-band technology. He started, and continues to operate, DigiComm as a service and repair center for C-band receivers. He advertises nationally, and repairs 2,000 to 3,000 units a year for customers all over the country.

"I remember when my dad came home with our first C-band satellite dish in 1980," said Jim. "It was 10 feet wide."

But with DSS, the dish is just 18 inches wide, making it possible to mount on the side of the house, on the roof like a broadcast antenna, or on a post in the ground. So unobtrusive is the new dish, that even apartment-dwellers could have one on a balcony or window sill, as long as their apartments offer a view to the south.

Perhaps the best asset for the DSS system is price. The basic model costs $699 for dish, receiver, remote and access card. Installation runs around $200, although a do-it-yourself kit is available for $80. The deluxe package allows you to run the satellite system off two separate TVs in the same household, and retails for $899.

Up to 175 channels of programming can be tuned in from the receiver that is smaller than your VCR. TV Guide may also become obsolete, too, as DSS comes equipped with an on-screen program guide.

Several channel packages are available from two different suppliers. They offer all your favorite cable stations: MTV, ESPN, CNN, the Disney Channel, HBO, Discovery, and so on. Monthly fees range from $21.95 to $34.95.

"More people in Milford are buying them than anywhere else right now, because Milford doesn't have cable," said Bill Winegarden, Jim's father. "The cable companies are actually setting up separate divisions to sell them because they know they can't compete with it."

RCA has taken quality control seriously, too. DigiComm went through a rigorous seven-month approval process to become an authorized dealer. RCA then follows up with a response card to the customer to assure they were satisfied with the seller's service

DigiComm owner Jim Winegarden displays the new 18-inch satellite dish, the RCA DSS.

Tax breaks for the self-employed

Money Management

Most Keoghs are defined contribution plans. With a defined contribution plan, you set aside a specific amount of your net earnings each year, untaxed, and invest this amount in a retirement plan.

Defined contribution plans themselves come in two types - profit-sharing plans and money purchase plans. Typically, contributions to a profit-sharing plan are made from a company's profits. Each year, you can decide whether or not to contribute to the plan and the amount of your contribution. There is no yearly funding requirement.

Contributions to a money purchase plan are also calculated as a percentage of self-employment income. This type of plan requires you to contribute a preset percentage of your self-employment income each year, regardless of whether the company had a profit or loss for the year.

Under a second, more complex type of Keogh plan, the defined benefit plan, you promise yourself an annual benefit amount for your retirement years. Your annual contributions are then calculated based on how much you need to contribute each year to meet your retirement goals. The size of your contribution can be significant and vary from year to year. This type of Keogh plan appeals primarily to older individuals who are in a position to shelter most or all of their income.

SIMPLIFIED EMPLOYEE PENSIONS

SEPs are also defined contribution plans. They are usually set up by employers to make contributions toward their own (if self-employed) and their employees' retirement. Because SEP plans are more flexible and easier to set up and administer than Keoghs, they enable an employer to make retirement funds available to employees without becoming involved in more complex retirement plans.

SEP contributions are tax deductible and the earnings in a SEP accumulate tax-deferred until withdrawn. You may choose not to contribute to a SEP in a given year or change the percentage of your contribution year to year.

CONTRIBUTION DEADLINES

If you want to deduct retirement contributions from your 1994 income, now is the time to consider whether a SEP or Keogh is best for you. Uncle Sam gives you until Dec. 31 to formally establish a Keogh plan. You then have until the due date of your tax return, including extensions, to actually fund your Keogh plan for the year. With a SEP plan, you have until the due date of your tax return, including extensions, to both establish a plan and make your contributions.

MONITOR YOUR INVESTMENTS

You may invest your SEP or Keogh contributions in a wide range of vehicles including certificates of deposit, stocks and bonds, mutual funds and real estate. The MACPA urges you to actively monitor your retirement investments just as you would your personal investment portfolio. Remember, the retirement benefit you receive is based not only on how much you put away, but also on how well the money was invested.

CONTRIBUTION LIMITS

For 1994, the maximum salary that can be taken into account when calculating a contribution to a Keogh or SEP is $150,000. There are further limitations on Keogh contributions. If you have employees who meet the eligibility requirements for Keogh benefits, you must contribute the same percentage on income for those employees as you do for yourself.

KEOGH PLANS

Employers in need of additional workers for the holiday season need look no further than the Michigan Employment Security Commission's (MESC) Job Service, said agency director F. Robert Edwards.

Job Service provides free placement and referral services for employers and job seekers across the state and in every industry.

"Many employers, especially retailers, hire extra workers this time of year," said Edwards. "We have thousands of qualified workers registered with Job Service, ready to fill those employers' holiday needs."

Edwards said the MESC has applicants on file who can fill positions in sales, stock handling, delivery, food service and many other types of jobs.

"Job Service can take the hassle out of holiday hiring for employers," Edwards added. "It eliminates the need to spend valuable time and money searching for applicants or interviewing people who aren't right for the job. We'll do the work for you."

Job Service provides pre-screening and even testing in some cases, to refer only qualified applicants to employers. Employers can even arrange to have applications taken and interview held at local MESC office, if desired.

Employers wishing to place a job order may do so by contacting any local MESC office state wide and providing specifications and a job description of the job. Job Service will refer only those candidates meeting the employers' needs.

Job seekers can also register at any job service office throughout the state.

Jim's following in his father's footsteps, too. Bill owned an avionics business at Willow Run Airport for many years before selling it a couple of years ago. Jim graduated from South Lyon High School in 1982, and chose to keep his business in South Lyon.

"With the business I'm in, I could have chosen to go anywhere in the U.S., because all the repairs are shipped in and out," Jim said. "But I've got my family here, and I decided to keep it in South Lyon."
