

There's not much left of the 35th District courthouse other than the ticket drop box after fire gutted the building July 2.

Justice delayed

Courthouse reduced to ashes in storm-related fire

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

Fire consumed the home of 35th District Court last week but while the building may be gone the court itself is not. Even now its judges and staff are working overtime to set things

THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1997 - NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN

'it was terrible but we're moving in a positive direction now," was how Judge John MacDon-ald described the July 2 blaze which gutted the courthouse building, located near the intersection of Haggerty and Plymouth roads in Ply-

Thirty-fifth District court's jurisdiction includes five communities: Northville City and Township, Plymouth City and Township and Canton Township. Voters elect its two judges, MacDonald and Judge Ron Lowe. The court building was opened in 1981.

Sparking the fire that destroyed it was that severe storm which killed 14 people and caused hundreds of millions of dollars in damages in the metro Detroit area last week. Larry Groth, chief of the Plymouth Community Fire Department, explained what happened on the night of July 2.

According to Groth, the storm, which included severe rain and high winds, brought down a live power line onto the roof and eve trough of the courthouse shortly after 6 p.m. Firefighters from Plymouth were soon on the scene, noting the downed line but seeing no fire breaking

The department called Detroit Edison, the electrical company that owns and maintains the lines, to eliminate the hazard. The problem was that Edison was overwhelmed with reports of damage. They couldn't even give us an estimate on when they couldarrive at the site due to the volume of calls.";

Groth said. While they waited for word, fire personnel remained at 35th District Court. They couldn't even approach the building due to the downed line, Groth added, but hooked up some hoses

Attorney questions legality of procedure in Flynn firing

Did the Northville Township Board of Trustees break the law by the way in which it fired Dawn

Township officials say no. A lawyer who specializes in media issues says perhaps yes.

Flynn, former manager of the township, was dismissed on June 27 after less than half a year on the job. Board members have declined to say why yet, citing pending legal negotiations between Flynn and the township's labor

Those negotiations continued this past week and a resolution of the issue has not yet been reached.

According to Supervisor Karen Woodside and Clerk Sue Hillebrand, both members of the seven-person board, the decision to release Flynn was made this way:

 The board's three-member executive committee (Woodside. Hillebrand and Treasurer Dick Henningsen) met on the issue and concluded that dismissal was the right move.

• The remaining four trustees on the board were polled by telephone and gave unanimous approval to the decision.

· During a June 30 board meeting - three days after the news had been given to Flynn - trustees formally voted in favor of the move.

While formal approval was in fact given, the method was illegal. according to Karen Bridges, a legal consultant and a specialist on the Michigan Open Meetings Act.

Parade, fireworks highlight celebration

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

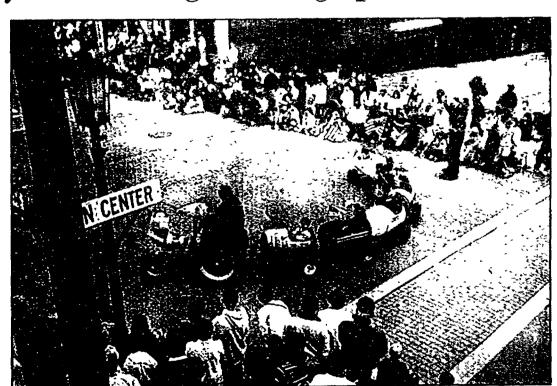

From the National Anthem in the morning to the final explosion of the evening's fireworks show. Northville's Independence Day celebration was a dandy for one and all. Cooler temperatures and mostly sunny skies made July 4 downright pleasant for the tens of thousands of people who visited the downtown during the day or caught the pyrotechnics display on the west end at night. Despite the big numbers nary a problem cropped up, according to organizers and police.

"It went really well. To have everyone work so hard and have it all come together like this is great," said Rob David, co-chair of Celebrate Northville, the nonprofit community group which puts together the Independence Day party every year.

It was outstanding," is how Chip Snider, director of the Northville Township Department of Public Safety, put it. "A good day was had by all.

Seller earns 'morel man' moniker for unique product

Mushroom varieties are both domestic, exotic

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

If you like mushrooms, you're going to love Mr. Mushroom.

Northville's a unique town in a lot of ways, including the fact that il plays host to so many different and distinctive businesses. Rich Blaut's creation is definitely one of

Mr. Mushroom is this Northville resident's labor of love. For the past three years Blaut has sold top quality exotic mushrooms wholesale to restaurants and stores all over the map. If you've eaten at Mackinnon's, for example, or ashopped at The Heavenly Gourmet chances are your taste buds have savored Mr. Mushroom's chanterelles, shitakes, porcinis or

0. Now one of the top mushroom buyers in the nation. Blaut's moved into retail sales for individual customers. More than a dozen types of mushrooms are available. including blended mixes designed to compliment each other in taste. Blaut's even expanded Mr. Mushiroom's product line to include sun-dried tomatoes and nine varieties of gourmet chili peppers.

'Quality is essential. I'm very critical of what I buy and that passes on to those who buy from me," he explained.

Mushrooms are actually a fungus but remain one of the best foods around, according to Blaut. a gourmet cook. Almost all varieties are fat free, low in calories and high in nutrients.

"As a matter of fact mushrooms are one of the few foods that man can survive on alone," he pointed out. "it's about as perfect a food as you can get."

His affection for the tiny toadstools led the Plymouth native to wonder why so many restaurants and gourmet food shops offered so few mushroom choices. After all, Blaut said, you can use them in so many different dishes, from soups and roasts to sauces and salads.

Instead of throwing up his hands about their scarcity. Blaut decided to find more mushrooms on his own.

The more I looked, the less I found. So I just looked harder," he recalled with a laugh.

Over time he's developed a network of connections all across the U.S.A. The most exotic strains of mushrooms can't be grown on a farm but must be picked in the wild. That means they're harder to Take the morel (pronounced 'more-ell'), for example. It's one of Mr. Mushroom's signature products and Blaut gets most of his supply from pickers in northern

"It's an elusive mushroom, very hard to find," he said.

All of the mushrooms in Mr. Mushroom's product line are picked fresh. Most are dried within 24 hours.

Removing water from the mushroom offers several advantages.

according to Blaut, chiefly that dried mushrooms will keep for up to three years. They're easily reconstituted with water, he explained, and keep all of their unique, natural, non-preserved flavor. The same holds true for dried peppers, which can also be ground up for use in recipes.

Speaking of recipes, more than 100 of them will be included in a soon-coming cookbook from Mr. Mushroom. It will help mushroom lovers match the right variety for the right dish. Blaut explained that the right choice for meat may be the wrong choice for fish, for example, depending on a mushroom's taste, texture and flavor.

Prices for Mr. Mushroom's items vary by variety and wholesale or retail price. A retail customer, for example, can buy dried tomatoes for about $16 per pound or dried woodear mushrooms for about $38 per pound.

An important point to keep in mind is that one pound of dried mushrooms is approximately equal to eight pounds of fresh mushrooms.

FREE "LIVING TRUST" SEMINAR "What You Ought to Know About Living Trusts"

(What you don't know could cost your family thousands of dollars!)

If you own a home...or you have assets worth This means that your family may have to sell at least $100,000...you owe it to yourself-and your family-to get the facts on living trusts. If you think you're protected with a simple Will...think again...A Will guarantees that your estate will go through probate, which means that your family may not be able to take possession of your estate for many months, or even years!

Plus, if your estate is over $600,000, your family may owe estate taxes which could amount to 37-55% of the value of your estate. some assets just to pay the estate taxes!

A living trust avoids all this by avoiding probate and minimizing estate taxes. Plus, a living trust will protect your estate if you become incapacitated during your lifetime by avoiding a conservatorship. This means your estate will be managed as you see fit, not as a court-appointed guardian sees fit.

Vacant state building possible arson target

The abandoned building where a Livonia teenager died early this year was the site of a pair of alleged arson fires on Sunday

Township police arrested five men near the Fairweather building shortly after 8 a.m. on July 6. The building is owned by the State of Michigan and has been abandoned for years. Scott Brown, 19, fell to his death from the roof of the Fairweather in January, an incident which led some to complain about security there.

A cell phone caller reported seeing smoke from the roof of the Fairweather building at about 7:45 a.m. Police arrived on the scene minutes later and saw the same thing, as well as a group of males running north from the building into some nearby woods.

Inside the Fairweather, in the basement and on the third floor, police found two fires going. Firefighters called to the scene extinguished the flames. Ticketed for trespassing were five men found in a car near Five Mile and Homer Road.

Police reports claimed the men's clothing smelled strongly of smoke and that two of them admitted to being in the building but denied setting any fires.

The five were later released on bond pending an upcoming court hearing. The Michigan State Police and state officials were notified of the incident.

ALLEGED FRAUD: A Meijer employee may soon face charges of embezzlement.

Township police this week submitted a request to the Wayne County prosecutor's office for charges to be filed against the employee, a 19-year-old Detroit resident. Meljer loss prevention detectives say he stole more than $300 out of the cash register at the store's gas station one day last

According to the detectives. video surveillance tapes show the teen repeatedly voiding actual sales on the register.

· A customer would purchase an item, according to the detectives, and the teen would take payment and give back correct change, but then would cancel the sale out on the register and pocket the money.

voided sales on June 20, the day 9400.

the tapes were checked, according to detectives. When questioned the 19-year-old had $365 in cash on his person but refused to say where he got it from, they added.

DRIVER BUSTED: A Garden City man stopped for drunk driv-ing over the weekend was also found with a marijuana pipe in his possession, according to police.

The reporting officer in the case said he was driving north of Northville Road at about 12:30 a.m. on Sunday. As he came to the Seven Mile intersection, the officer said, he came upon a 1996 Plymouth Breeze sitting in the middle of the intersection.

The traffic light was red and the driver, the 25-year-old Garden City resident, was looking up at it, the officer said. When questioned the man allegedly admitted to having "a few" beers that evening.

He failed field sobriety tests and refused to submit to a breath test, according to police. He was arrested and ticketed for drunk driving and his refusal to submit to the

The man was also cited for possession of narcotics paraphernalia. Police claimed to have found a ceramic pipe in his car.

The officer obtained a judicial search warrant and had a blood sample taken at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. That sample will be tested for alcohol.

The man was held until he sobered up, then was released on bond pending an upcoming court

DOPE THEFT: A Northville man reported the theft of some of his property to police last week. The suspect is his own son.

The man told police that a television set and stereo system worth $500 were taken.

The son, 35, allegedly admitted to taking the items, using them to pay for the drugs he's addicted to, police said.

The father told police he's changing the locks on his home and will seek a judicial restraining order against the son.

If you have any information about these or any other illegal incidents you can call Northville City opolice at "349"1234*-or The teen's register had $331 of Northwille Township police at 349-

With Sinai joining The Detroit Medical Center, patients not only benefit from more than 3,000 highly regarded physicians, but the services of 8 hospitals and numerous outpatient centers throughout southeastern Michigan as well. So we're sure to have whatever you need, wherever you need it.

Equally impressive is the fact that DMC Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital provides one of the most extensive primary care networks in the area - which translates into more choices for you. Not to mention that our partnership with Wayne State University School of Medicine allows us to put some of the most advanced research into practice. Together, all of these add up to one thing: DMC's Huron Valley-Sinai, the hospital that brings the region's premier academic health care system closer to home.

Also, the addition of Sinai Hospital enables us to better serve all members of our community, for instance, offering special services for Jewish patients. In short, you'll find that with over 100 outpatient centers and 8 hospitals you're always close to one of the best names in health care-which is something that will never change.

Cancun trip investigation nets inconclusive answers

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

The Northville school district's ook into a senior spring break trip o Cancun has come up dry.

A group of 35 Northville High School students traveled to the Mexican resort city in early April. Soon after they returned district officials claimed that improper behavior had taken place on the trip, which was coordinated by Steve Holman.

Holman is the owner and operator of Dream On Travel and also works for the district, responsible for maintaining heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems in school buildings. At the time district officials said they would investigate the incident, including the question of whether Holman might have inadvertently misrepresented the district during his involvement with the trip.

This week, superintendent of schools Leonard Rezmierski said that no conclusion about the trip could be reached because the facts aren't known.

"I don't know what happened because there is no evidence available to examine," he said. There's nothing further we can do Rezmierski did say that the district is reviewing all of its policies regarding the conduct of its employees and contractors, especially in light of the mountain of work looming in connection with the $61.5 million bond issue approved by voters last month.

We want our policies to be as current and as viable as possible and we want our behavior to comply with our values as a school district," Rezmier. i said. "I want to be sure we're covered."

Allegations of drinking and sexual activity returned from Cancun with the students. Holman at the time vigorously rejected any implication of misdeeds. He said that he explained to parents that the drinking age is 18 in Cancun and that the trip was in no way connected with the school district.

He also claimed that the trip was no different than past spring break excursions. If anything, Holman said, it was more tame than last year's, about which no one complained.

Holman had little to say this week about the Rezmierski state-

City police join Mr. Pita program to reward kids using safety helmets

Children who wear a safety helmet when biking, rollerblading or skateboarding may do more than protect themselves from serious head injury. In some metropolitan-Detroit area communities, donning protective headgear will entitle kids to a free meal. For the third consecutive year. the police departments of several local communities have teamed with Sterling Heights-based Mr. Pita restaurants to promote the use of safety helmets for children. Under the program, called the Pita children they see wearing a helmet while biking, blading or skateboarding.

The ticket can be redeemed at any Mr. Pita restaurant for a free Kid's Meal, which includes a pita sandwich, a cookie, a beverage, a puzzle and a balloon.

Last year the Pita Patrol distributed more than 3,000 tickets. and this year. Mr. Pita hopes to double that number.

Among the police departments participating in the Pita Patrol program are Northville. Brighton. Clinton Township, Eastpointe, St. Clair Shores, Sterling Heights. Troy and Warren.

We hope that by offering children a small reward, they will be encouraged to remember to wear their safety helmet," Mr. Pita founder Frank Lombardo sald. Like everyone else, we want to help keep children safe while they are having fun, and we think the Pita Patrol program is a way for us to accomplish that goal."

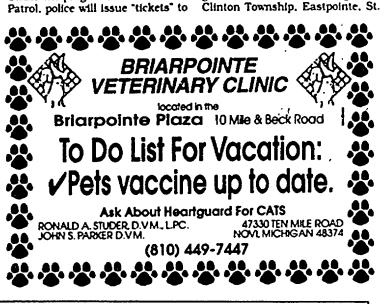

Locally, there is a Mr. Pita store on Seven Mile Road near the Highland Lakes Shopping Center in Northville Township.

Coldwell Banker's #1 Agent In The State of Michigan

EARNING YOUR LOYALTY

When you begin to search for a new home, you will probably encounter several Realtors at open houses, through friends or from signs or advertisements. Each agent would like a commitment from you to work exclusively with him or her. Is this arrangement in your best interest or is it better to play the field?

to play the field?

There is a universal law that also pertains to real estate agents—you get back from a relationship what you put into it. If you are not commoded that one agent could possibly fill all your needs, you may be overlooking the positive aspects of a one-on-one relationship.

The first step is to find an agent whom you like and trust. Don't be afraid to discuss your reluctance to work with one agent exclusively, but be open to other viewpoints. You may be pleasantly surprised by the open communication that such an admission will establish right from the beginning! Making a commitment to work exclusively with an agent is part of the formula for success in real estate.

An average weekday afternoon usually finds Judges John Mac-Donald and Ron Lowe wearing black robes while sitting on the Monday afternoon wasn't average, however.

Dressed in old jeans and Tshirts, the two surveyed the wreckage of what until last week was the home of the 35th District Court. Now MacDonald, Lowe and the rest of the court's staff and supporters are figuring out what comes next.

We don't have all the answers yet. We've satisfied our immediate needs and we're exploring other (long-term) options." Lowe explained.

What happens now? That's the question a lot of people have posed since the courthouse burned down on the night of July 2.

Thirty-fifth District Court is one of the busiest halls of justice in Michigan. It handles thousands of criminal and civil cases every year, bringing police, lawyers and defendants to its doors each day. Last week's fire has forced court workers to come up with some fast solutions to pressing problems.

In the short term, almost all court proceedings have been canceled for this week (see related story). Meanwhile, Lowe, MacDonald and officials from the five comone dates to be rescheduled munities covered by the court are hunting for a site that can serve as a temporary home. Finally, a special committee will soon form to study the long-term options of where a new courthouse should be built. Chairing the group will be former 35th District Court Judge James Garber.

Besides destroying the court building, the fire also consumed many paper files of court proceed-ings. Administrator Kerry Erdman explained that copies of computerized files have been recovered and court staffers are contacting law enforcement agencies and lawyers to reconstruct the lost paperwork.

It definitely does slow down the process, however," Lowe noted.

The judges handled pressing legal cases in a temporary courtroom set up in the meeting hall of the Plymouth City Council this week. The court's administrative workforce has set up shop in the Unisys building located near the former courthouse, Erdman said.

Lowe, MacDonald and official from the five communities included in 35th District Court jurished tion (the Northvilles, the hymouths and Canton Township) a scouring the area for a temporary site. They're checking everything from vacant businesses to the sibility of putting trailers of parking lot. No decisions h been made yet. The same is true for the ultimate future of the court. Whether the court will be rebuilt on its current site, built on another site or moved to some existing structure are options Garber's committee will soon begin exploring.

The burned-out building is a total loss and must be razed under City of Plymouth construction ordinances. There is, however a chance that the basement portion could be reused in the future.

Groth explained.

More than 60 firefighters from three different departments - Plymouth and Northville and Canton townships - tried to contain the blaze but their efforts were for naught. Within an hour the flames

Engler declares emergency in 3 counties

Due to the widespread damage from severe thunderstorms and tornadoes last week, Gov. John Engler proclaimed a state of disaster for Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties.

On Saturday, the governor surveyed storm damage in several areas of the state, including Holly, Clio and Chesaning. Earlier in the week, the governor toured Wayne County and viewed damaged sections of Detroit with Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer.

"My heart goes out to those who have lost loved ones and their homes," Engler said. "The devastation to so many is beyond descrip-tion. My heartiest prayers go out to the victims of these storms.

The Michigan State Police, local law enforcement, state agency personnel and countless volunteers should be commended for their immediate and professional response to one of the worse natural disasters in Michigan's history," the governor added.

The governor's proclamation authorizes the Emergency Management Division of the department of State Police to coordinate and maximize all state efforts to assist local disaster efforts.

Last week, Gov. Engler issued a disaster proclamation for the city of Detroit. Wayne County and the village of Chesaning in Saginaw County. He also issued an executive order activating the National Guard in Detroit and Wayne Coun-

Local system entitled to about $7 million from state

By TIM RICHARD Staff Writer

Dennis Pollard, the attorney who won the 17-year suburban school funding case against the state, told the Michigan Supreme Court that Lansing should reimburse 84 local boards for back payments plus interest.

For the Northville Public School District, that could amount to something like $7 million from the

The Bloomfield Hills attorney also blistered the Legislature for trying to use the suburbs' own money to pay off what it owes them for bilingual and driver edu-

The remedy ... should be entry a money judgment in favor of he named, affected school disricts" and not individual taxpayrs, Pollard said in a follow-up orief requested by the Supreme Court. He proposed a total of $567

Northville was one of the local districts joining the class-action lawsuit against the State of Michi-

Dick Headlee, the retired Farmington Hills insurance executive who led the drive for the constitutional amendment requiring the state to pay for all services it mandates, took the opposite view from

The money should go back in the form of tax relief. It should not be a local government windfall," he said in an interview from his retirement home in Utah.

No. said Pollard. It would be impossible to track down all of affect taxpayers because as many as 32 percent of renters and 10 percent of homeowners move each

Moreover, said Pollard, the court lacks power to order a tax abatement (such as Headlee proposed) because the constitution says. The power of taxation is vested in Rather, the correct remedy for the state's underfunding of special education and other services is for the state to pay up, he said.

Pollard proposed the districts be paid principal of $491.5 million plus interest for a total of $567

Here is how is proposal would affect local plaintiff school districts:

Sec. 29 of the Headlee amendment prohibits the state from requiring "a new activity or an increase in the level of any activity ... beyond that required by existing law ... unless a state appropriation is made and disbursed to pay the unit of local government."

In 1980 Donald Durant of the Warren Fitzgerald School District filed the original suit, seeking special education funds. His and 33 other cases were consolidated into one and became know as "the Durant case."

The Supreme Court decided last month in favor of the school districts. Other school districts have filed claims but were not part of the class action lawsuit.

Anger showed through in Pollard's brief as he attacked the Engler administration and lawmakers for trying to use the 84 districts' own 1997 state aid to reimburse $21 million for mandatory bilingual and driver's education under the suit.

The administration budget bill, HB 4310, "contained an appropriation of $21 million expressly to satisfy the state's obligation. However, in the immediately following subsection of the bill ... it is provided that there will be an 'exactly equal reduction in the foundation payment' which any school district claiming a portion of the $21 million will sustain.

In other words, it's as if a worker sued his or her employer and won, but the employer tried to deduct the payoff from the worker's own

"A shell game," Pollard said. The state continues in its stance of not complying with its wholly uncontested obligation to these local units."

Put on a happy face

There's nothing like kicking back and leaving the driving to mom. Just ask 1-year-old Katarina Gaffka, who enjoyed a leisurely push down Main Street recently. Katarina was without a care, belted in for safety and shielded from the hot sun by the canopy on her stroller.

GOP rep chastises own party

By TIM RICHARD

When legislators have serious qualms about a bill, the Michigan Constitution says they may make a formal project and have it inserted in the official journal.

Rep. Greg Kaza, R-Rochester Hills, did more than protest the Jobs Commission and regulatory budget bills. He produced a manifesto warning his party that it lost control of the House in 1996, and would continue to be a minority party because it turned its back oh independent voters and grass-roots thinking, especially in metro ! ... Detroit "swing" districts.

The Democrats stole our agenda" and "The Democrats won through vote fraud," Kaza quotes his party's leaders as saying.

These are excuses that ignore the fundamental reasons," he said, adding that leaders fail to grasp what he's talking about.

"The corporate welfare (Jobs Commission) budget illustrates the conflict with the Republican grass roots. The general government budget reflects the refusal to acknowledge the independent bloc," Kaza said.

Some of his colleagues had more conventional reasons for voting against the bills.

Government pork!" said Rep. Mike Goschka, R-Brant.

"It is irresponsibly $36 million above any average projected increase. We need to cut our tax burden as well as fix our roads," said Rep. Andrew Raczkowski. R-Farmington Hills.

"I offered an amendment which would have required the state treasury to divest its holdings in the Walt Disney Corp. and its subsidiaries," Rep. Alvin Kukuk, R-Macomb, said. This Disney Corp. is producing a large amount of entertainment which I believe is offensive.

Kaza, 37, is a Jesuit-educated economist and former newspaper reporter serving his last term in the House due to term limits.

Politically, he is a libertarian who frowns on much governmental spending and interference in human rights. He swings away from hard-core conservatives on questions of citizens' access to government.

Michigan's GOP has seen other reform revolts - Gov. Fred Warner and the Teddy Roosevelt faction in the early 1900s, the Eisenhower takeover of 1952, and the Traverse City Pact" rebellion led by state Sen, (later Gov.)-William G. Milliken in the early 1960s.

Kaza's revolt is different. It's not moderates versus conservatives. In one bloc, he sees moderates and most conservatives uniting on the need to attract independent, middle-of-the-road voters. In the other bloc, he sees "hard-liners who defend corporate welfare by engaging in personal attacks" on anyone who dares to disagree with them.

Does Kaza have a plan for personal political advancement in mind in 1998? No, he said. He could teach. He could go to medical school. He could run against 9th District Democratic Congressman Dale Kildee of Flint. He says he is undecided.

But he says he has an agenda to fight "the obscene perks and privi-leges of the political class in Lansing and Washington."

Bill would allow malls to turn away youths under 16

Measure expected to encounter opposition

By TIM RICHARD Staff Writer

A bill allowing shopping malls to restrict youths under 16 is halfway through the Michigan Legislature amid signs that rougher sailing is

After bitter debate, the Senate on July 1 approved the bill 24-12. Sponsored by Sen. Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham, the bill exempts mails from the Elliott-Larsen Civil Rights Act. It allows malis, under local ordinances, to exclude minors under 16 after 6 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays unless accompanied by a parent or person 19 or older.

"I am concerned that here we have private action which will allow a private entity to amend very crucial civil rights legislation." said Sen. Gary Peters, R-Bloomfield Township.

There is absolutely nothing that prohibits that mall from acting if they have a trouble maker, to take appropriation action against that trouble maker."

Peters said Bouchard's bill allows "selective enforcement by removing children or youngsters who have not done anything

He said the provision allowing a 19-year-old to supervise means you are not likely to deal with gangs in the mall. They (mall owners) would have much preferred to see a 21-year-old, if you are going to do it.

Peters had his name removed as a sponsor of the bill.

All 12 Senate votes against it were cast by Democrats. The bill goes to the Democrat-controlled House, which is unlikely to take it up before fall at the earliest.

Republicans Bill Bullard Jr. of Milford and Robert Geake of Northville both voted yes.

After a flurry of formal protests, Bouchard took the Senate floor to speak in defense of his proposal, arguing:

• It would take a local ordinance to permit malls to make such! rules, "taking in every mall, even malls that didn't have a problem or didn't want the solution. This allows it to be tailored specifically to everywhere there is a problem by the people who know if they have a problem - the people that own the property."

· Rather than violating civil rights, the bill "respects the rights of the private property owners, the tenants and the people who pay huge amounts of rent.

• The bill is similar to curfews imposed by the city of Detroit during fireworks displays.

是一个人,我们就是一个人的人,我们就是一个人的人,我们就是一个人的人的人,我们就是一个人的人的人,我们就是一个人的人的人,我们就是一个人的人的人,我们就是一个人

· Courts have upheld the constitutionality of similar laws in Virginia and Georgia.

This bill strikes at the heart of the Elliott-Larsen protection," Sen. Alma Smith, D-Salem, said. That law prohibits discrimination on the basis of age, race, gender and handicap.

She said the Bouchard bill "targets for private police action" one protected group.

This bill also gives a public police power to a private institution or a private entity," Smith said. She argued that Bouchard's comparison of the bill to Detroit's curfew was false because the action was by a government accountable to the voters.

To single out children under the age of 16 and say. You're bad because a handful are bad.' I think is a terrible mistake."

Small-stakes bowling bets win victory in Legislature

A bill to allow $5 bets in bowling centers won 83-18 approval in the Michigan House of Representatives and is on its way to the Senate.

Sponsored by Rep. David Jaye, R-Macomb County, the bill amends the penal code to exempt bowling games where the bet doesn't exceed $5 and the payout per game is $1,000 or less.

Bowling card games are defined as card games where the results depend on the outcome of a bowling game.

Jaye was sponsor of the 1996 law exempting other games where, for example, a drawing of a bowling score determined the winner.

Jaye's bill needed several months to pass the House, and he had to fend off several amendments. One would have linked this bill to the outcome of an unrelated bill. The House turned down. 34-69, an amendment by Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, to restrict such

Two dissenting Republicans, Alvin Kukuk of Macomb and Terry London of Marysville, said they "opposed the expansion of gambling in our state." They protested that the bill "promotes gambling in family-oriented establishments and "serves as a bad example to children and others." All area lawmakers voted yes. Opposition votes were cast by 13

Republicans and five Democrats. Refer to House Bill 4799 when writing to your state senator. State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

School district watchdog presses ahead with complaint

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

Northville school district resident Bob Bernard continues to push for an investigation of this spring's bond election campaign.

Bernard in May filed a complaint with the Wayne County prosecutor's office, alleging that district officials improperly used tax dollars to campaign for voter approval of the $61.5 million school bond proposal. That proposal won. 55 to 45 percent, at the polls on June 9.

Letters, post cards, public meetings and bus tours were among the improper methods used. Bernard believes. State law prohibits public school officials from using taxpayer dollars to lobby for something like a bond proposal.

But the law does allow the district to provide voters with information about an election and to spell out the pros and cons of any ballot proposal. District officials maintain that the information and methods they used stayed entirely within the law and were checked out by the district's attorney before anything was done.

After reviewing Bernard's complaint the prosecutor's office decided it did not have jurisdiction over the matter and referred it to the Michigan Department of State, which oversees elections. That department insisted that Bernard's complaint be refiled due to his use of an "improper format."

Bernard this week said he did refile his allegation and was informed that the Secretary of State's office wants certain documents connected with the bond campaign. To get them he's filed a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request with the school district.

The documents, Bernard said, include written information sent out by the district to voters and information about functions held to rally support for the bond proposal.

THE RESIDENCE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY

Under state law the district has five working days to respond to Bernard's request and can ask for an additional 10-day extension on top of that.

Resident Dick Allen filed a similar complaint during the bond election campaign as well. The Northville Record was unable to contact him this week.

Violation of the campaign statute is a misdemeanor carrying a potential sentence of 90 days in jail and/or a $500 fine. Such sentences, however, are rarely, if ever,

Vandals will continue having their way at site

The dangerous abandoned Fairweather building on state-owned land in Northville Township is again in the Last January a Livonia man was killed when he accidentally fell off the roof of the building: now two suspected arsonists were arrested at the scene on

After the tragic accident in which 19year-old Scott Brown lost his life, State of Michigan officials offered assurances that the long-vacant building was being watched and that security at the site was as reliable as could be expect-

If that's true, then the only conclusion to reach about the structure is that it must come down. As long as the building in the Five Mile/Sheldon · vicinity remains standing, it will be too much of a temptation for young people to resist.

We believe that the state is doing everything it can to provide a security presence at the scene, and that's just the point. Security personnel cannot every minute of the day, and the opportunity for vandalism will always present itself as long as the old building continues standing.

The people of Northville Township and the surrounding communities have had to deal with hazardous buildings in that area for years. Now that a plan is in place to raze and clean up the county land in that same general location, it's time for the state to follow

Nothing short of demolition of the Fairweather complex will provide the kind of safety residents deserve. It's time for the state to step up to its responsibility and demolish the buildings that keep watch over the abandoned site no longer serve a useful purpose.

Great celebration marks great occasion on July 4

. A tremendous amount of hard work paid off in spades on Friday.

Northville's 1997 Independence Day celebration was one of our best ever. When you think about the July Fourths of years past, that's saying something.

Many people deserve a share of the credit for making July 4 so special. From those who planned the many activities and the folks who gave of their time to bring them off in style to the organizations which provided generous financial sponsorship, this was a case of a community joining hands for a great cause.

The group of dedicated volunteers who staff Celebrate Northville, the nonprofit group which puts together the of course). Fourth fun every year, are first up for major kudos. Without their months of labor we wouldn't have gotten anywhere: from planning the parade to organizing the fireworks. Celebrate Northville was there.

Then there are the hundreds of people who helped the community shine on Independence Day itself. Parade participants and volunteers, Northville's veterans' organizations. Civil War regnactors, Mill Race docents, craftspeople, classic car show entrants, a ham radio club, the Schoolcraft College wind ensemble, the company that put on the fireworks show ... the list of outstanding collaborators just goes on and on.

And let's not forget the community businesses and groups which proffered generous monetary donations to cover the bill for July 4, including the township board of trustees and the city council (although it's really our money,

It's gratifying to see so many different parts of our community get behind a worthy endeavor like this one. We come from diverse backgrounds and experiences but on Friday we were all a part of Northville: our hometown.

CAMP 9-1-1

Northville Township's fire department is putting on Camp 9-1-1 in a couple of weeks. It's a free two-day day camp held at the fire station on Seven Mile Road.

Camp 9-1-1 is designed to teach kids some of the basics of safety in a fun and entertaining way. They'll learn things like CPR and first aid, how to eliminate safety hazards and what to do in the event of a fire.

There are two sessions on tap: July 24-25 and Aug. 25-26. It's all free and you don't have to be a township resident or even live in Northville to participate. Call the fire department at 348-5820 for more information.

FATHERHOOD!

No, no, no, it's nothing like that. Actually I and my beloved wife recently became parents of two, count 'em two, pupples.

Rio and Hamlet are brothers, both mixed breed mutts. Four legs, fur and an attitude, folks. They're all of three months old now and both of these characters are convinced that they're all 'dat and a bag of chips.

I haven't had a dog since my boyhood hound died several years ago. It's as aggravating, fun and fulfilling as I remembered.

YOUR CIVIC DUTY

I started a new tradition last year: taking a moment on July 4 to read the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of these here United States.

As a political and history junkie, I read each of them from time to time but I think it's fitting to make a point of doing it on Independence Day. If you follow world events and/or have a sense of the past you appreciate the real and tangible freedoms we enjoy here everyday.

Most of human history has seen the rule of arms or money. America has not always put our grand system into practice, folks, but we're still a monumental step ahead in the struggle for human rights because of it.

In case you haven't noticed, my byline has owned the front page of The Record for almost a month now. Since reporter Bob Jackson departed to become editor of The Milford Times it's been a long row to hoe.

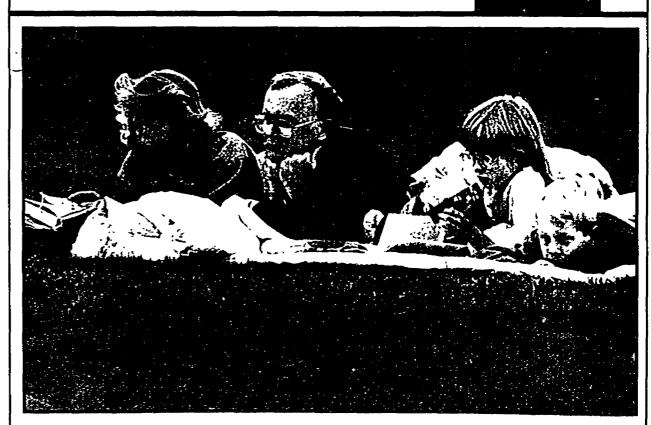

However, with all due modesty I think Lee Snider and I have served up your fifty cents' worth and then some. Bet on the fact that we'll continue to provide you with interesting and important news each week.

There are times when it's great to be a reporter and this is one of them.

Rider goes hog wild with cycle

Oh the joys of coming back to work after spending five days on vacation!

Wendy

Mildly tanned and mellowed out, my husband and I and the dog recently returned from the family cottage out west (that's western Michigan) and from a day in Saugatuck.

Instead of deadlines to make, copy to write and clothes to wash, I spent my time reading a good book, gazing out over Lake Michigan and splashing in the water with Boise (that's our dog.)

Pierman Mitzel I both dread and adore vacations. The chance to get away, read a good book, sleep in and find new adventures is a temporary cure for cabin fever, the blahs, etc. If I had my way, everyone would get five weeks of vacation right off the bat. Oh, but I don't have my way.

Besides, there's always more work to do when you get back from a vacation.

It was only appropriate then that my first appointment upon returning was to interview Novi resident Don Rodda, biker dude vacationaire. Rodda, 70, is a Harley-Davidson owner who traverses the country in search of new adventures each year. Lt. Dave Butler from the Novi Police Department mentioned Don to me last week while he related tales from his latest biking adventure. He's a really cool guy, Dave said.

So, what else could I do? It's part of my job to interview really cool guys.

What did I expect? Maybe black leather and a long beard. You know, ZZ Top style. What did I find? Well, actually black leather and a long beard.

Does he always dress like this? I asked his wife, Barbara, while Don was out having his picture taken. Whenever he's on the bike, she told me.

I had to ask, I'm a reporter. Barbara said it's the media and movies and television that have created the wild and rowdy biker stereotype. It's true that about 1 percent of blkers are rough and tumble, according to Don. But underneath the HOG (that's Harley Owners Group) helmet could lie a CPA, a doctor, a welder or a school teacher. But many people don't know that. Don said he's walked into more than one small-town restaurant with a HOG contingent and had the place fall stlent.

There was obviously more to Don Rodda than the black leather, long gray beard and red bandanna. He talked about his children and his wife. He recounted tales from the road trips over the years, laughing with his mouth wide open and his head thrown back.

Anybody can do what I do, he said. There's something about the freedom of a bike.

As I got in the car and headed back from the small business office he owns with his wife and son in Novi, I had a thought.

Maybe for my next vacation, I'll buy some black leather, wrap a red bandanna around my hair and ride off into the wind.

Final congrats to playscape crews

To the editor:

Congratulations to all those who participated financially or physically in the construction of a mag-nificent play structure for the children of our community. Your earnest contributions made it all possible.

Without a doubt we all owe a great deal of sincere gratitude to the construction captains whose fervor, intensity and ability to commit themselves everyday for five days was absolutely critical to this project's success.

The playscape steering committee did an excellent job in seeing this project through. It was Cathy Shapero who coordinated child care, chaired the MacKinnon's benefit dinner and organized design day last December. Early on we wondered how Cathy could stand being out of the fray at the First Presbyterian Church child care area. By Friday, we all envied her assignment.

Rotarian Doris Purvis single handedly raised thousands of dollars for the cause from the various service organizations in Northville. Doris didn't miss any of the 38 steering committee meetings and proved to be invaluable during the nine breakfast buffets held in March and April at the Raven.

Mike Weaver worked the flip side the fund-raising coin, knocking on the doors of the corporate community and serving as a construction captain during the buildout.

We would still be out there building had it not been for the efforts of volunteer coordinator Sue Egan. Much like Novi, we had a hard time finding that special Natiw, Liz Neill, Novi Amateur someone to coordinate a thousand volunteers. Sue also chaired the Commission. coin collection drive.

If it is true that the devil is in the details, then it was God himself who sent us members of the construction committee for our defense. Steve Smith led the way as tool coordinator. Steve's serious efforts were assisted by Steve D'Anna of D'Anna Construction. These two, along with Don LaFollette (purchased materials coordinator), Mark Oehmke (construction captain) and Chris Klebba of the Water Wheel Health Club, met every Saturday for the past three months hammering out progress on the tools and materials lists.

A special thanks to Don Rigo for helping out in what could only be described as a very warm tool trailer.

Debbie Reisman took care of all the lists of donors and recruits, the thank yous, and pickets. She wore many hats including being a construction captain.

Michael Haggerty from Community Federal served as treasurer of the Steering Committee. It was Mike who was given the checks and the bills and the dollars and the pennies and tried to make sense of it all.

Liz Burns, our food coordinator. would have made us all heavyweights if not for Doug and Dave (those construction mercenaries from Leathers) burning up all our calories. Liz came on board late and did a marvelous job getting a thousand people fed with no budget, relying entirely on donations. Liz also chaired the Al Kaline card

Karren Yurgalite didn't miss a beat when she assumed the publicity duties from Cindy Buckley who moved away, in addition to Linda Daul, both avid early supporters of the playground project. Bob Warner, Julie Fountain. Geoff Eley and Kathy Peltier made up the Design Committee. Important contributions were made by all, especially Bob whose talents as a civil engineer proved to be indispensable with the Planning

We certainly appreciated the meeting space provided by the City of Northville, Township of Northville, the Northville Library, the Eagles, First Presbyterian Church, and Steve Smith.

A monumental task was all that was asked of Tammy, Terry and Dennis from the Sign Studio in Milford and from Stuart Oldford of Northville Lumber who teamed up to provide the redwood and engraving for the picket fence and

We must not forget to thank Halligan Electric (since 1927) of Davison for providing the 200 amp circuit breaker box and the Fishers for hooking it up.

We are also grateful to the Davison and Swartz Creek playscape committees for sharing their knowledge and experience with us during their buildouts in May.

Among those previously left out of earlier thank yous, we must include Mr. Guidobono from Piedmont Concrete for the Friday morning concrete delivery and all of the members of M.O.M.S., including Mrs. Swigar who prepared a lot of meatballs for the playscape volunteers.

A special thank you to Mike, Britany and Rocco Bartelo and Dee, Katle and Kevin Hartshorne and to all the spouses and children of the members of the Steering Committee. We are quite certain the common motto between them would have to be - Get off the phonel

We indeed fully appreciate the seed matching contribution from the Friends of Parks and Recreation and Tanya Bartelo as the spark who got the ball rolling, and we welcome the support of the Masons who volunteered to oversee the maintenance of Fort Gris-

On July 26, at 8 a.m., volunteers will meet again to complete additional fencing and attempt to build picnic tables with leftover lumber. All interested are invited to attend.

Sincere thanks to all.

Polaroid to get contract for new drivers licenses

A CONTRACT OF THE PROPERTY OF

Secretary of State Candice Miller recently announced that the Polaroid Corp. of Cambridge. Mass., has been awarded the contract to produce the new Michigan driver license and state identification (ID) card. Polaroid will be assisting the state in finalizing designs and producing the new license and ID, which are expected to be issued in all branch offices by spring 1998.

Three companies competed for the estimated $8 million contract through a competitive bid process. The decision to award the contract to Polaroid, which was approved by the State Administration Board, was based on several criteria.

including the company's exceptional technical ability, card quality and price. This is an exciting new development in driver license technology." Miller said. "With this contract, we will upgrade to a fully computerized system to meet the demands of the 21st century and produce a product that is superior to the current license."

The new Polaroid license will include a clear, sharp photograph, numerous security features to deter fraud, a writable surface on the back for organ donor information, and flexible formats that clearly identify different types of significantly reduces the time resilicense holders, such as those under age 21. Under the contract, Polaroid will provide: • A secure centralized production system for manufacturing a computerized driver license and • Equipment to capture, store and retrieve images and signatures electronically. · Support for staff training, follow-up and system maintenance as well as management reports. Miller said the new license and

ID will offer several benefits for motorists and residents. For example, the new system dents will wait to receive a new license or ID after submitting an application from the current three to five weeks to about only one week.

In addition, six branch offices will pilot an over-the-counter license in September 1998. This system will allow customers to receive a license before they leave the office rather than waiting to receive it in the mail.

In response to public concerns over privacy, the magnetic stripe and bar code on the back of licenses will only contain a person's driver license or state ID number, date of birth and license or card

CHILD SAFETY BILLS

Three bills to protect children have been passed by the state Senate and sent to the House. They are:

• SB 532 - to require State Police to check criminal records before licenses are issued to child care organizations and their *Parents will appreciate the peace of mind that comes with having additional control over child care options," said the sponsor, Sen. Mike Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

• SB 113 - to make it a crime to knowingly allow another person to harm a child either physically. mentally or sexually.

The maximum penalty is 15 years in prison. The sponsor is also Bouchard.

• SB 351 - punishing a parent who conceals income court in a child custody case. Penalties: up to four years in prison and a fine of up to $2,000. The current penalty is limited to contempt of court, said the sponsor, Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville, adding that enactment will "make deadbeat parents more accountable."

To Gale Cox, a registered dietitian and wellness coordinator at the Botsford Center For Health make a pot roast." Improvement in Novi, a power lunch is one that gives you enough carbohydrates to keep moving with vigor for four or five hours.

Your mom may have nagged you about it, but she knew best. Many Americans simply don't eat right.

"A lot can be said for the European way of eating, big breakfasts and lunches and light dinners. You burn up less calories when you're in bed than in the middle of the day," she explained.

Eating the right amount of food at the right time can make or break you. If you don't eat enough food during the day, your metabolism slows down.

Humans have been programmed by evolution to keep their blood sugar at certain levels. By gulping down a skimpy breakfast and lunch, you may be setting yourself up for an evening of marathon

RECORD OUR TOWN

TAINTED VITTLES, VEXED TUMMIES

When In doubt, throw it out. With picnics, open house parties and, unfortunately, power outages, questions always crop up concerning the safety of food and food preparation. Half of all calls to the Michigan State University Oakland County Extension Service hotline number this time of year are food safety calls, according to home economist Lois Thieleke. "People call because they don't want to throw a cup-anda-half of potato salad away," she said. "It's far easier to throw out the questionable food than it is to have your stomach pumped."

REFRIGERATED FOOD

A common question asked by those answering the holline is whether the ketchup and mustard they left out on the counter overnight is safe to use.

Condiments such as ketchup, mustard and some salad dressings can sit out. These items contain vinegar, a useful preservative.

Other condiments that have milk or mayonnaise need to be tossed. "Two hours out of refrigeration is the limit,"

Thieleke said. There are so many things that could go If you left the casserole from last night's dinner on the counter all night, throw it away. If food is away from cooking or refrigerator tempera-tures for two hours, in the garbage it should go.

"All you are doing is asking for trouble," she said.

For the most part, food poisoning is something that goes unnoticed.

There is no such thing as a 24-hour flu," she said. "Flu is three days or more. If you're sick with food polsoning for three days you've got a real problem."

Most food poisoning cases go unreported. If you experience a headache, upset stomach, slight case of diarrhea and a churning in the stomach, you probably had food potsoning.

"You're not going to die, but you wish you would." she said.

This time of year if you just don't feel quite right after eating food that's been lying out at a picnic or open house, you might have food poisoning.

'Il you have no way of refrigerating it, get rid of it," Thieleke said. "It's not worth the consequences."

There should be no food on the kitchen counter at any time except bread or fruits that are contained within their own skin.

What we worry most about is combination food." she said. One example is a green bean casserole. If it's been left out more than two hours, don't eat it. You're just asking for trouble.

The degree of sickness depends on the individual, according to Thieleke. Problems can range from a mild headache to vomiting and diarrhea. Some people have cast-iron stomachs," Thieleke said. The most vulnerable group is seniors and small children. They don't have enough of the good bacteria to break down the bad. Botulism is the most fatal kind that comes out of a home canning product," she said. "Salmonella poisoning happens with food that has been handled improp-

During the summer, especially, food should be taken directly home from the grocery store.

There's a tendency to group a few errands into one, like running from the grocery store to the bank, then to the cleaners, and maybe finishing up by getting the oil changed before heading home. Make the grocery store the last stop.

Go straight home from the grocery store." Thieleke

The rule of thumb to follow is if food has been cooked without being refrigerated or has been taken out of the refrigerator for two hours or more, throw it out.

said. When you get home from the store everything needs to be refrigerated."

When you think you have a bug because you don't feel quite right but you're not sick enough to go to the doctor, nine times out of 10 it's food poisoning. according to Thieleke.

COOKED FOOD

*People have the misconception that if it's been cooked once it's safe," she said. "It doesn't make any difference: it can still make you ill."

Microbes start multiplying regardless of whether the food has been previously cooked.

"It is the kind of thing you can't see, you can't smell and it doesn't taste bad," she said. "It just makes you

Food poisoning occurs more often in the summer than in the winter, primarily because of more quantity cooking.

"In summertime people like to make things that have a milk or egg base to it, which is dangerous," she

TRANSPORTING FOOD

Thieleke suggests that when bringing a dish to a picnic take the ingredients in separate containers and combine them just before you are ready to serve the dish or put it in the refrigerator.

Potato salad by itself is fine, or the mayo by itself is fine, but when you add the two together you lower the acidity and now you have a product that is unstable."

A steak contains less bacteria than hamburger because there is less surface area. Hamburger has also been touched by someone's hands somewhere along the line.

"If you can take enough ice to keep it cool you're going to be OK," she said.

A safer procedure is to make the hamburgers at home and then freeze them, according to Thieleke. Take the frozen hamburger patties in a cooler with ice and you won't have quite the same problem.

"They will thaw out and you can still grill them if they're frozen in the middle," she said. "If the weather is really hot it doesn't take them long to thaw out."

Opt for fresh fruit instead of cream pies during the

"Take fresh food and be creative with your salads," Thieleke commented. You can do a lot of things with greens. But don't put the dressing on until you serve

When at a picnic, open house or backyard party, everything should be refrigerated until eaten.

"If you go to an open house and (the invitation) says from 2 until 5, go at 2:30 and eat." Thieleke said. Don't eat again, unless you see the hostess switch

The key is to serve the food in smaller containers and submerge those in larger containers that contain Rotate the dishes so that no dish is out more than two hours. Food that hasn't been changed will begin to look dry on the top. Stirring the food will not solve the problem. Make sure the chicken and hamburger is well-done.

"Hamburger should not be raw in the middle, that's e-coli bacteria," she said. "If you really are concerned you need to break the hamburger open.

Don't eat it but send it back to the chef. Don't feed it to the dog. "If you don't like your dog, fine," Thieleke said.

'(Dogs) are generally smart enough to know better." Whether it's the buffet table or a container of leftover food in the refrigerator, keep your fingers out of

After everyone is done eating there will always be a few people walking by the food table who will swipe a plece of food and pop it in their mouth.

*Keep your fingers out of your food and everyone else's. Under your nails and on your hands you have more bacteria than you know," she said. "There is a 20-second hand washing routine. It's not just running your hands under water.

If you are going to pick at food, whether it is in the refrigerator or on a buffet table, use a spoon.

PREPARING FOOD

Cutting boards are also a common source of contaminated food.

Wooden cutting boards should only be used for dry ingredients such as breads or celery and onlons, never meat or poultry.

Always use a clean knife when cutting. Thieleke recommends using one board, preferably

Lucite, for chicken only. Wood is porous and all the juices from the poultry and meat will be sucked up by the dry products when you reuse the board. The extension center is also getting calls right now regarding marinated meat and poultry.

"Do not marinate on the counter," Thieleke said. "Put the meat in the container you're going to marinate in and put it in the refrigerator." Start marinating earlier in the day if you think the meat won't absorb enough of the seasonings. It can marinate in the refrigerator all day. When it's time to grill the meat, take the whole container to the grill, put the meat on the grill, then take the container and put it in the dishwasher or wash it well with soap and water. Do not reuse the container for the cooked meat.

If you want to brush the marinate on the meat while it is grilling, do not use the marinate from the original container without boiling it first. The marinate must come to a full boil and cook for another two minutes before it can be used to baste the meat. Better yet, set aside the marinate or make up a new batch to use for basting.

Never reuse a meat dish that carried the raw meat to the grill for the cooked food. Use a new dish or thoroughly wash the original dish with soap and

Memory lives on in donation

By CAROL WORKENS Staff Writer

Ron Kinder recently donated a Baldwin Interlude electric organ to the Hospice Home in Farmington Hills which opened in June.

He made the donation in memorv of his wife, Charleen, who died in February 1996 at 60.

Northville residents since 1971, Ron and Charleen both had taken piano lessons when they were younger and enjoyed playing the organ for their own pleasure.

Knowing hospice they probably have somebody that plays the organ," Kinder said of the instrument which was purchased with an inheritance from when Charleen's mother died.

Not a day goes by that we don't think of her," said Carolyn Cassin during the Hospice Home's open house on May 28 when the organ was presented.

The organ has been placed in the family lounge where family and residents can enjoy it.

Charleen was a registered nurse and had been connected with Hospice of Michigan for 15 years. At the time of her death from cancer. she was the director of clinical éducation.

'Hospice was her life," Kinder said. She really like that. She used to like visiting the patients."

Charleen was asked several times to take management positions but she declined, saying she'd rather work with patients. Eventually Kinder coaxed his wife into accepting a promotion.

Charleen developed Hospice of Michigan's in-service program. She also presented a video conference in Gaylord on ALS, also known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

Ron and his wife enjoyed traveling and frequently took business trips for Charleen's Job. The last trip they took together was to Santa Fe, N.M., the summer before she died. They have been to Boston twice, and to Montreal, Toronto. Seattle and Vancouver.

Kinder also donated a cypress wood bench to the Farmington Hills Hospice Home for use in the

Young actors to present classic tale

Raggedy Ann & Andy is coming Baum, Kathryn Sidelko; Jenna to a stage near you. This weekend, July 11, 12 and 13, the Novi Theatres will present Patricia Thackray's story of the folk dolls who come to life.

Directed by Mary Kay Davis, the story unfolds in a special playroom where wonderful magical events transpire. A newcomer has arrived in the playroom, a fancy French doll named Babette, played by Lindsay Barringer. That very evening. Prince Leonard-the-Looney-Hearted, played by Kyle Shull, comes riding by on his hobby horse and whisks her away to Looneyland.

Ann, played by Alex Malloy, and Andy, played by Kirk Jones, climb out the window into the "deep. deep, woods" to fetch Babette back

The costumes are designed by Carolyn DeCoster. The set is designed by Timothy Amrhein of the Hilberry Theatre. The lighting is by Donald Fox, who holds a master of fine arts degree from Wayne State University.

Other cast members in Raggedy Ann & Andy are Novi residents Katie Johnson, Erika Alpert, Kyle Shull, Lauren Sorrentino, Alex

Starring in The Novi Theatre's production of 'Raggedy Ann & Andy' are Lindsay Barringer as Babette, Kirk Jones as Andy and Alix Malloy as Ann. Show dates are July 11, 12 and 13.

RECORD MOVIES

Don't take action thriller at face value

Castor Troy (Nicolas Cage) and Sean Archer (John Travolta) wrestle with each other's identities.

By Tom Shaw SPECIAL WRITER

"Face/Off" writers Mike Werb and Michael Colleary have called their movie "a psychological thriller disguised as an action film." They're right. The film has a good mix of mind games, scientific wizardry, old fashioned shoot outs and high speed chases, held together by the convincing performances of John Travolta and Nicholas Cage.

The first part of "Face/Off" revolves around the attempt of FBI agent Sean Archer, played by Travolta, to learn the secret location of a massive biological bomb threatening Los Angeles. Castor Troy, a flamboyant terrorist played by Cage, and his schizophrenic brother Pollux, are responsible for the bomb.

Archer, whose 5-year-old son Michael was murdered by Troy during a botched assassination attempt years earlier, kills Troy when he tries to leave Los Angeles. The only one left who knows the location of the bomb is Pollux, who is arrested by the FBI before he can see his brother die.

In order to trick Pollux into revealing where his bomb is hidden, Archer is talked into temporarily replacing his face with Troy's, whose body has been placed on life-support to preserve his tissue. However, after Archer undergoes the top-secret operation and finds out where the bomb is. Troy unexpectedly wakes up from his coma and forces doctors to give him Archer's face. When Archer must convince former allies of his true identity, the movie really gets going.

Travolta and Cage do a nice job convincing audiences to look past mere skin and focus on their personalities. It's easy to keep rooting for Archer, even though he resembles Cage for most of the movie. Similarly, Travolta instantly inher its Troy's evil nature, hedonistic lifestyle and viewers' contempt.

Archer has to adjust to prison and fugitive life as much as Troy has to get used to an "honest" living and a family. These situations create very believable tension when Archer is powerless to stop Troy from taking over his life. They also provide some humorous' moments when, for instance, Troy borrows cigarettes from Archer's daughter and teaches her how to' properly use a butterfly knife after she is harassed by her boyfriend.

Besides psychological conflicts: Face/Off has some well-orchestrated action sequences, including a speed boat chase at the movie's conclusion. Director John Woo. who worked with Travolta in "Bro-1 ken Arrow," provides audiences with some refreshing computer-1 free stunt work that almost cost one stunt man his life.

Granted, it's hard to imagine. anyone could survive the swarms of bullets Cage and Travolta unleash on each other and the sci-entific portions dealing with Archer's operation and Troy's resurrection are a little overdone, but that's not really important. The movie has more to offer than just high-tech gadgets and mindless violence.

With an increasing number of big-budget films placing digital images above quality acting and interesting plots, "Face/Off" captures the right mix of absorbing characters and fast-paced destruction. You can leave the theater feeling satisfied by an entertaining : mental and visual workout.

Enjoy the ride at Southfield Star theater

By Arianna Layton SPECIAL WRITER

Going to the new Star theater in Southfield is a movie viewing

The mammoth 20 screen cinema is something akin to a miniature Universal Studios theme park.

My mother and I ventured to Southfield with no inkling that we were embarking on an unforgettable film journey. We foolishly opted out of the valet parking and drove up and down rows of cars before finally finding a parking spot almost in the next area code.

sun as we neared the newly opened Jurassic-stred-theater swarming with couples and families, teenagers and smiling children with balloons.

We'were greeted at the door by a man in full costume promoting the Renaissance Festival. As we crossed over to inside, for a moment I wondered if we had made a wrong turn and ended up at the mall. On either side, there were booths of fewelry, watches. license plates and all sorts of nifty gadgets.

around, joined by face painters and clowns shaping animal balloons and throwing bean bag balls. It was a visual smorgasbord and I was glad we were early enough to take in the splendor of the Star.

My mom pointed up to a board cycling trough what shows were playing at what times in which theaters, and we watched it, waiting for our showing to come up as if we were looking for a flight gate at an airport. There it was, theater 1, Wild

As we walked deeper into the Hollywood world, we came to a concession area resembling Mr. Bulkey and Fanny Farmers rolled Into one. Snack central was capped off by a glant bag of popcorn with a little mechanical kerrounded by larger than life cutouts of the Three Stooges; The Lone Ranger, R2D2 and, yes, even a raptor. Cars were on display in the center of the hall past the concession stand.

Our next mission, of course, was to inspect the bathrooms. For once, there was no line in the ladies room. Stalls were in abundance and bathroom and water scenes from movie greats were displayed above each sink, including the famous shower scene from Psycho and Julie Roberts singing in her glamorous bubble bath in Pretty Woman.

At the bathroom exit, a classy wooden cut out of a man in a tux held out a large bowl of mints. The same cut outs were placed at the exits of each theater.

Soccer stars Bowdell, Vida prepare for national tournament in Arizona

By SCOTT DANIEL Sports Editor

A pair of Northville High students have a chance to win national youth soccer championships later this

Sam Vida will compete with his Birmingham Blazers team while Brigid Bowdell hopes to lead the Michigan Hawks to a title. Both will travel to Phoenix and play in national semi-final games on July 31.

i'm really excited about playing in Phoenix," said

Bowdell, who'll be a junior in the fall.

"It's unbelievable." Vida said of having a chance to play for the title. The whole year you practice for

The Northville High duo followed similar paths to earn their trips to Arizona.

Bowdell has played with the Michigan Hawks for four years. The Livonia-based organization fields teams from grade school to high school ages and takes top players from around the state.

The Hawks play almost year-round in various tournaments and league games. In order earn a trip to the national regional. Bowdell's under 16 squad had to win the "Michigan Cup."

We've won it every year," she said.

Until this season, the Hawks never made it out of the regional, though. Surviving this year's tournament, which was held at the end of June, wasn't easy.

The Hawks tied their first two regional games. Bowdell said her team's chances didn't look good at that point.

We didn't think we'd make it out of our bracket," she said.

But Michigan got some help from several teams then won its last three games to take the regional. Bowdell, a forward, scored three goals in five games, including one in the finals against Missouri.

The Hawks will face the East regional winner in their semi-final. Bowdell said her team had already '(Playing for the national title is) unbelievable. The whole year you practice for this."

Northville soccer player beaten one of the other semi-finalist squads. She thinks the Hawks have a good shot at winning Vida likes his Birmingham Blazers' chances as well. He said the squad's biggest test will come against its semi-final opponent, a team from California.

"They won the championship last year," said Vida. who plays midfield. They're a really skilled team.

"The kids had a great weekend," coach Bill Jenney said. I think they relaxed a bit. The pressure of the league and the playoffs wasn't there."

The tournament is one of the biggest in the Midwest each summer. Some 50 teams participated over the lone weekend this year.

Jenney said teams could play as many or as few games as they liked. Teams were not playing for a championship, he added.

Northville began the invitational with a 7-7 tie against Clinton Township Thursday. The Broncos went up 7-4 with a four-run rally in the sixth. Brian Thomas singled home

Broncos fall 7-4 to Team Detroit

By SCOTT DANIEL Sports Editor

Timing is everything in baseball. Fielders must break for the ball at just the right moment or it goes by them for a hit. Pitchers must release the ball at just the right instant or it sails high, low or wide of the plate.

For batters, timing means delivering a single or double with runners on base. Unfortunately for Northville's Mickey Mantle squad, the timing has been off lately.

Take Thursday's 7-4 loss to Detroit. The Broncos had a chance to rally with the bases loaded in the sixth and seventh innings, but couldn't.

"We've outhit every team our last four or five games," coach Stan Szostek said. "But we come up with a lot of two-out hits then can't come up with the big hit when we Northville actually led Team Detroit 2-0 through the first 2 1/2 half innings.

The Broncos scored twice in the third. Evan Edwards doubled home Justin Waineo, who had reached base on a walk, then scored on an Andy Borda single.

Detroit railied for three runs of its own in the bottom of the inning. The all star squad then added four more runs in the fourth inning.

Borda pitched for Northville. He allowed just four hits, but walked five and hit two batters. Szostek said Borda's lack of control hurt him in the third and fourth innings.

"He just got a little wild those two innings," he added.

Northville rallied for two runs in

Water abounds at Pebble Creek

This week's Northville Record continues a series of weekly golf reviews. Our goal is to provide you. the reader, useful information and tips on playing favorite courses in

Pebble Creek is the subject of this week's review. If you would like to see a particular course reviewed this summer, please contact us at (248) 437-2011 or (810) 349-1700. By JULIE KEMPAINEN Sports Writer

*Water, water, everywhere, nor any drop to drink."

The quote is a famous line from famous poem and it was the first hing that comes to mind after playing Pebble Creek. The front nine anyway.

The course is short but the cores can be high after playing Pebble Creek. Water hazards ppear on every single hole on the ront nine.

George Fritz, who works in the ro shop at Pebble Creek, said the ourse is a favorite among senior itizens, because of its length.

"It's the length of the golf ourse,* Fritz said. *We have a reat deal of players who are eniors. Two thirds of the players re seniors and the course if fairly asy to walk. Seniors get special ites, too." The course's toughest hole is so it's shortest, teeing off from the blue or the red tees. The fifth a lake to the right. Keep it straight hole, with a handicap of one, is a 148-yard par three from the blue tee. Sounds easy enough and from the picture on the score card, it looks easy enough, but as you come off of the fourth green and approach the tee area on five, you see exactly what you're in for:

There is no fairway and no margin for error. You have to carry all water to the green.

The course is kind enough to create a drop area to the left of the green for those who have lost yet another ball. Too short and you're wet, too long and the ball is in the woods.

It's a good idea to take at least six or seven extra balls to the Few of the holes on the front, aside from five, are particularly challenging, providing the golfer is having a good day. A good drive on the first hole will put you in posttion to hit over the creek that crosses the fairway.

Water runs along side most of the fairways and errant shots will usually end up wet. A straight drive will keep most out of trouble.

However, the fourth hole might provide trouble for some. The 331yard, par four has two creeks crossing the fairway and water along the entire left side as well as and all is well.

"A lot of people don't look at the score card to see where the ponds are," Fritz said. "After they lose a couple of balls they realize, there's a lot of water out there."

The best advice to give for the front nine is simple: hit the ball straight. Except for eight.

The 407-yard, par four takes a severe dogleg right and you must play it. Out of bounds markers run along the edge of the second hole. bordering eight.

The fairway makes its turn at about 170-yards. A good drive that will turn right. If your shots normally do that, you're in good shape on eight. If they don't, ask someone how to intentionally send the ball to the right.

A word of warning: the yardage on the course are slightly off. The 150-yard markers are inaccurate on some holes and you must use your own judgment as far as what club works best.

Making the turn is almost like heading to another golf course. For the most part, the back nine is dry. There are more trees and the last nine holes are just over 100 yards longer than the first nine.

The back nine is the original course at Pebble Creek. The front nine was completed approximately five years ago.

Golfers must carry water from the tee on the 14th hole, but it's less than 100 yards and doesn't provide too much danger. There is, however, a big tree on the green. It shouldn't get in your way, but you'll wonder what it's doing there.

Clemens earns two spots on All-Area track squad

When HomeTown Newspapers picks all-area teams there is usually a bit of subjectivity involved.

We try to eliminate it as much as possible by making selections based on all the information available: what we've seen of each player, statistics and coach's input. But in the end, there's always a player or two who is chosen because we feel they should be honored.

The same can't be said for track and field all-area teams. Members of this year's HomeTown Newspapers' East All-Area Boys' squad earned their way on our list.

The only way to make All-Area is by performance. Each athlete listed below had the best time or distance in their event this season in our coverage area - Novi. Northville, Milford, Lakeland and South Lyon.

Who were those athletes? Let's take a closer look:

POLE VAULT & 300-METER HIGH HURDLES Blake Burnett, Milford

As one of the top point scorers on the Milford team, Burnett and his twin brother, Beau, were a crucial part in the Redskins' success.

Blake Burnett ran in all three sprint relays and helped Milford to win the Lakeland Invitational.

He vaulted 13 feet even on his way to being undefeated in the Kensington Valley Conference this season and his first state meet. He missed a vault of 13 feet 1 inch to place at the state meet and set a personal best.

Burnett also holds the school record in the 300-meter high hurdles, running 39.7 seconds.

"It has been really exciting to have both Beau and Blake on the team." coach Chris Ceresa said. They have created excitement throughout the entire school with what they bring to the track team. They have magnetic personalities and are electrifying athletes.

LONG JUMP Andy Gatt, Novi

Gatt was one of the area's best in several events.

The senior had the longest jump of the year in April at 21-2 1/2. He went on to win a Kensington Valley Conference championship in the 200-meter and also did well in the

He's one of the most versatile athletes we've ever had," coach Bob Smith said. "Andy's always been a great long jumper, but he added a new dimension this year in other events."

SHOT PUT

Richard Baron, Milford

Richard Baron has broken freshmen and sophomore records in the shot put and broke the 50-foot mark this season, tossing 50-feet 9-inches.

Fifty feet for a sophomore is a big deal," Ceresa said. "Those people end up becoming some of the elite throwers in the state in their junior and senior seasons. Richard Baron is very powerful and explosive and he is a sophomore who made his first trip to the state meet."

Baron also anchors the 4-by-100 relay and is an excellent long jumper. He is one of the top four leading point scorers for the Redskins.

Bryan Grider, Northville

The junior had the area's best throw of 144-feet 8-inches early in the season.

Grider struggled to remain consistent in the event, however. His throws dropped into the low 130s before coming back up toward the end of the season.

Grider finished seventh in the event in the Western Lakes Conference. Coach Dennis Faletti said he'll be even better next year.

"I think he's taking it more seriously now," he added.

HIGH JUMP

Bill Nash, Milford

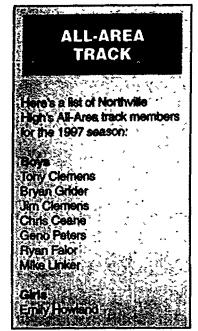

Bill Nash didn't miss a jump at the state meet through the 6-foot 6-inch jump.

In his second state meet he missed for the first time, attempting to jump 6-feet 8-inches and tied for third.

*Billy Nash has worked very hard this track season," Ceresa said. "He was our first all-state athlete in a very long time."

Nash also led off the 4-by-400 relay and was the fastest low hurdler and second fastest high hurdler on the team.

Nash, Beau and Blake Burnett were the three leading point-get-ters for the season, scoring well over 400 points between the three of them.

110-METER HIGH HURDLES Brian Boyer, South Lyon

Brian Boyer was the Lions' leading hurdler, consistently placing in the majority of South Lyon's

He also ran on the 400- and 800-meter relay teams.

Boyer won the high hurdle event at the KVC meet and took the low hurdles as well. He was a part of the league-winning 800-meter relay team.

100 & 200-METER DASH Tony Clemens, Northville

Clemens was the area's premier sprinter.

He set a Western Lakes Activities Association record in the 200meter in May with a time of 22.4 seconds.

"He's the best 200-meter runner I've had at Northville," Faletti said. In the 100-meter, Clemens ran a time of 10.89 in a preliminary round of the state regional and at the Observerland Relays. He just missed making the state final in #### both the 100- and 200-meter 400-METER DASH Beau Burnett, Milford

The other part of Milford's battery, Beau Burnett had the wheels to push Milford on its way to a KVC championship.

400-METER RELAY Northville

The Mustangs always seem to dominate in sprint relays. This year was no exception.

Jim Clemens, Chris Ceane, Geno Peters and Tony Clemens posted the area's top time in the 400meter at 44.4. Northville hit that mark in the state regional.

The Broncos won the WABA tournament in June.

The Northville Broncos 11-year-old team used three exceptional pitching performances and timely hitting to take home the championship trophy of the Washtenaw Amateur Baseball Association tournament held in Canton June 27-29.

Northville opened with a 14-13 loss to the Plymouth Cannons. Matt Nickels led the offense with a triple and a double while Jason Gingell and Jackson Knoll each had a double and single. Alex Wojcik and Tim Van-Dusen added two hits apiece and Bill McIntosh scored two runs.

Northville then beat the South Farmington Blues 5-4. Bret Malkowski pitched a strong game going 6 1/3 innings while allowing just six hits and two walks. Nickels pitched the final two-thirds of an inning to get the save. Brendan Buckley. Brett Asher and VanDusen each had two hits to

The Broncos then beat the Saline Hornets 10-6 to win their bracket and advance to the championship game. Nickels pitched a complete game for Northville. A 13-hit attack was led by Nickels. VanDusen and Malkowski who each had two.

Northville won the tournament with a 7-4 victory over the Pinckney Pirates. Brendan Buckley pitched a complete game for the Broncos and allowed just eight hits. Northville scored twice in the second, three in the fourth on singles by Buckley and Jacob Dumleton. The Broncos scored their final two runs in the fifth inning on singles by Nickels and Buckley.

The 1983 Michigan Hawks took the U.S. Youth Soccer Association Region II title recently in Rockford, III. Northville residents Emily Carbott, Missy Winn and Jessica Zwiesler play on the squad.

Northville resident Derek Fox finished fourth in the 16-year-old and up division of the Michigan PGA Junior Tour July 1. He shot a 74 at the Meadows golf course in Allendale, Mich.

Northville resident Erin Stevens competed in the 19th Michigan Girl's Junior Amateur Championship recently. Playing at Walnut Hills Country Club in East Lansing, the Novi High student shot 187 for two rounds [93.

H-LEAGUE CUBS

The H-League Cubs have won three games over the past few weeks. On July 1, the Cubs beat the Rockies 13-5. Brendan O'Reilly and Ross Abraham led the offense by reaching base seven times between them. Mike Cornelius added a home run.

On June 26. The Cubs beat the Yankees 15-8. Bryce Jenney turned a key double play to change the momentum of the game. Carl Galeana pitched a strong game by striking out five batters. He also hit a grand slam home run. Mike Cornelius added a solo homer.

On June 24, the Cubs beat the Twins 15-3. Steve Besk, Carl Galeana and Ross Abraham pitched well by combining for 16 strikeouts and allowing only one litt. Offensively, Danny Bloch had three hits and Richard Mullender scored three runs.

Minimally invasive techniques making surgery less traumatic

norm for treating many ailments, patients can undergo necessary procedures and return to their previous lifestyle without the fear, pain and debilitation associated with traditional. open surgeries.

Because surgeons realize that pain and extensive recovery periods are the most unpleasant aspects of the surgical experience. advances are continually being sought to make surgery more comfortable. Current advances in surgical instruments and a new critical look at traditional surgical techniques have led to the perfection and increased use of minimally invasive surgery

With this type of surgery, the conventional long, disabling open incisions can be reduced to a fraction of their traditional size and can often be covered by only a Band-Aid. Small sterile video endoscopes, which are transmitted to TV-type monitors, allow a clearer, broader view that can be obtained during most standard operations. Every instrument has been reduced

Like most technology, this "new" type of surgery, was actually developed years ago and has been expanded and advanced to become a standard of care in many instances. A lung doctor from Scandinavia, working in 1911, was the first to put a small lighted tube into the chest to treat tuberculosis. Since that time European physicians have been ahead of American physicians in minimal operations - until now.

Today in the U.S. it is quite common for gynecologists to look at and treat pelvic organs using the laparoscope and specialized surgical instruments. Orthopedists repair damaged joints with the arthroscope and general surgeons remove inflamed gall bladders and portions of the intestine through these same type of small, minimally invasive incisions.

As time goes on, the number and type of surgeries performed in this fashion continue to increase. Thoracic surgeons use these "minimal" techniques to treat an assortment of diseases of the lungs and chest, including lung

Everyone dreads having surgery, but with to a long thin design in order to adapt to these minimally invasive" techniques becoming the "micro" incisions. ment of heartburn. Even cardiac surgeons are looking at new preliminary techniques to make incisions smaller in order to bypass blocked coronary arteries and replace defective heart

Although different surgeons use different names to describe these procedures ("laparoscopy" - general surgeon, "thoracoscopy" or "VATS" - thoracic surgeon), the concepts and goals are very much the same.

These minimally invasive procedures cause less pain, create a smaller scar, are associated with less muscle disruption and allow a speedier recovery. This, along with better methods of pain control, can produce a kinder surgical experience.

rthritis a common problem for mil

Arthritis is a common problem for millions of people. Like many diseases, it becomes more common with age. It is a condition causing inflammation, redness, pain, swelling and damages to a joint. Many people do not realize that arthritis is not one disease and may be caused by many different conditions. Some causes of arthritis' include heredity, infections,

problems with the immune system and previous injuries. The commonality in all these problems is inflammation. Although there are special drugs for special types of arthritis, the anti-inflammatory drugs are generally useful for all types of arthritis. These drugs are the mainstay of most arthritis treatment. They are good but they also have problems. Aspirin was the first drug.to have an impact on arthritis treatment. It was invented in the late 19th century. Aspirin relieves pain and swelling and decreases inflammation. This antiinflammatory ability is most useful because inflammation causes the continued damage to the joint. Although a good pain reliever, Tylenol does not affect inflammation at all. For this reason aspirin is a better drug for arthritis than Tylenol.

The problem with using aspirin for arthritis is in taking the right amount. Usually, the dose of aspirin that relieves inflammation is greater than the dose that relieves pain. That is important since smaller amounts may make the patient feel better but not give the anti-inflammatory effect that's needed.

Many patients stop the medicine too early because the pain is gone and they feel that they must be better and no longer need relief. Because inflammation is still going on, it generally needs to be continued.

Currently there are 15 to 20 drugs on the market. In many ways they are the great grandchildren of aspirin. They relieve arthritis by their anti-inflammatory effect. They are stronger than aspirin and do not have to be taken as frequently.

A partial listing of these drugs includes: Motrin, Feldene, Voltaren, Clinoril, Tolectin, Indocin, Ansaid and Lodine. They basically work like aspirin but are more potent. Unfortunately, they have the same type of side effects that aspirin does.

The major complications of aspirin and the anti-inflammatory drugs are ringing in the ears, problems with blood clotting and, most importantly, stomach upset, gastritis and ulcers.

Although most people are not bothered by stomach problems, some are. The gastritis and ulcers give physicians the greatest problems. All physicians have had the dilemma of a patient with arthritis who feels better with the medication but then develops stomach problems. When the medicine is stopped, the stomach pain goes away but the arthritis pain comes back. When the medicine is restarted, the cycle repeats itself.

Fortunately, with the huge choice of medications available if one medicine causes a problem, another may be substituted. Frequently, taking the medicine with food may alleviate the problem. If not, there are other medications which may be used with the anti-inflammatory to offset the stomach upset.

REAL ESTATE HOMETOWN CREATIVE LIVING

Real estate market soars in Canada

By James M. Woodard Copley News Service

The Canadian real estate market is hot. It's chalking up record sales in residential property sales - previously owned and new homes.

Maybe we can learn something from our neighbor to the north.

Last year, 321,508 existing homes changed hands - up 27 percent from 1995. Even during December, traditionally a slow month for residential sales. every province except British Columbia reported sharply rising sales figures.

And the robust sales activity is continulng into mid-1997.

The past year broke records for home sales in Canada. Previously, the best year for resales was 1992, when 311,596 properties were sold. Leading the rush toward home ownership are first-time buyers, who comprise 60 percent of all home buyers.

The fastest-growing real estate metro market is in Greater Toronto, where 20,511 homes were sold last year - a 60 percent jump from the previous year. And the sales boom is continuing. In January, 2,126 homes were sold in this market; in February, 2.441 - a 45 percent increase over the previous Febru-

As for home prices, they vary from market to market as sharply as in the United States. On the low end, the average home price is now about $64,866 in South Shore, Nova Scotia. On the high end, the average price is $211,602 in Victoria, British Columbia, according to a survey and report issued by Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service.

The greatest increase in prices came In South Shore - up 17 percent over a year ago. In Winnipeg, Manitoba Province, prices are up by 3.8 percent, it was noted in the survey report.

So what's the reason for the real estate boom in Canada?

*Competition among lenders is driving interest rates below advertised levels, boosting affordability levels," said Willard Dunning, a Canadian market analyst. "About a third of renters can now afford to buy a home when mortgage interest rates are this low. That's about double the proportion of a few years ago."

Another Canadian market analyst, Robert Genier, noted that consumers are getting substantial mortgage interest rate breaks from loan officers. Because of market conditions, consumers are vantage point of a "valued customer," he Dallard Runge, an economic adviser, noted there is little natural increase in housing demand in Canada. Much of the current demand is generated by immigration, certainly the source of the largest population growth in Ontario in many years.

Another economist, Gilles Proulx, said, "It's been a year of slow growth in mortgage credit. The total value of mortgage loans on the books expanded by only I percent per quarter last year. That's better than the previous year, but still it was sluggish last year compared with earlier years."

Once a certain point is reached in sales activity in Canada, some say the market will rapidly slowdown.

"In extreme cases it stops dead in its tracks. It's a fragile thing that depends more on what happens on global stock markets and in central banks than on the urge to buy a new home or sell an old one," noted a report in (beginital) Mortgage Banking (endital) magazine. *Assuming the Canadian economy stays on its present course, there is every expectation that the phenomenal recovery in the housing market will continue until the demand pent up by the last recession has been satisfied, the report concluded.

Q. Do Realtors still give gifts to their home-buying clients? A. Some do. But that's been a custom for many years. The gifts are usually small, like a plant, special decorative Item or door-knocker.

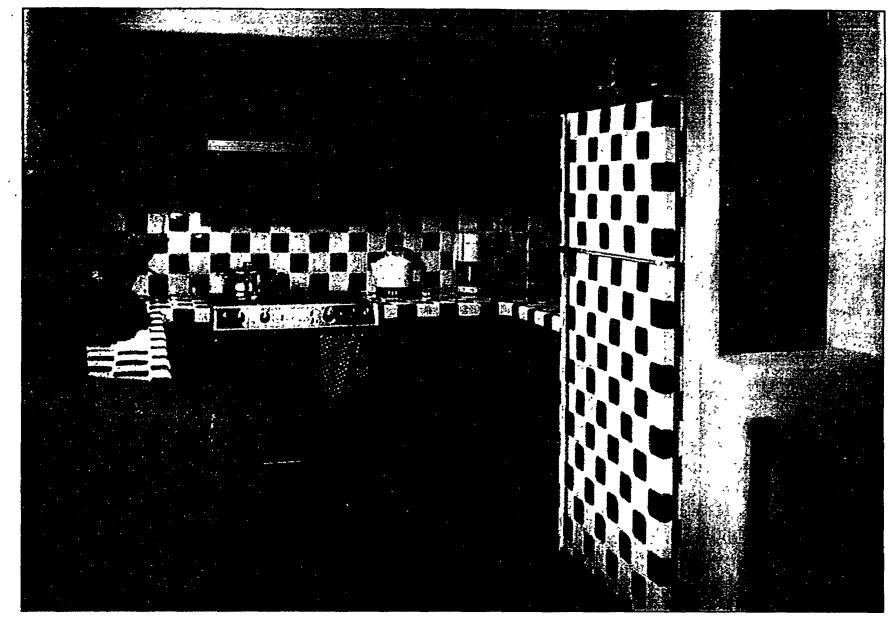

In recent months, an increasing number of computer software packages have been given as gifts by Realtors, according to Tim Ochlpa with Expert Software Inc. Software packages that combine education with fun are particularly popular as gifts, he said.

Mimic your motif throughout the kitchen

By Rose Bennett Gilbert Copley News Service

9. Should I have the splashbacks match the countertops in our new kitchen? I'm using a laminate (dark green) and wonder if it won't make things too dark?

A. That depends on the other colors in your kitchen. If the cabinets, walls and stiles, washable wall coverings or mirfloor are light, a sweep of dark green could be very handsome ... although you certainly could choose two different materials in different colors, if you prefer. For example, mix a laminated counter with a backsplash of ceramic

Sometimes shrubs have to go

By C.Z. Guest Copley News Service

It's hard to accept that despite the time, effort and money you've spent, sometimes the only way to correct your mistakes is to replace a shrub or tree.

Let me help you make this tough decision easier with the following reasons to consider replac-

- The plant has grown completely out of scale with the site. For example, the pine tree you brought home has become an evesore, encroaching on your walkway and whacking you in the face or back every time you try to get into the front door. Rather than resigning yourself to a life of pruning, simply pull it out and ask your nursery or landscape professional to suggest a more suitable alternative.

- A shrub or tree just looks lousy. A sun-loving shrub in a shady spot languishes, simply refusing to bloom and thrive. Be maybe you've added details to understanding, relocate it to a sunny area and watch it do its thing. If thats not an option. remove it and replace it with a shade-loving shrub or tree.

- Live trees in a state of decline can pose serious problems for your house or your neighbors' homes. Trees die for a variety of reasons, including damage to roots from disease and construc-

Although the decline can take years, you should consider certain problems such as: Is the tree weighted heavier on one side than the other? What is the tree's proximity to your home, or your neighbor's? If removal is needed, consult a professional arborist or a garden center person.

- Looks tell it all. As you make improvements to your house, you may need to make improvements in the landscape. Could be those pink azaleas clash with your home's new shade of paint. And your house that call for a more dramatic landscape. If you're uncertain about where to start, a landscape professional can be of assistance with your choices and

- If you find yourself spending a lot of time trying to keep a plant alive, it's oten easier to simply eliminate it - chuck it out! The pros at your garden center can help you choose something more suitable to your growing area. It's that simple!

LANDSCAPING TIPS

What if you're trying to sell your house in a competitive real estate market and the yard could look better; or you've just moved into a new house with a dreary, empty landscape - you need more sun in the kitchen and better wind protection on the north side of the house. Then again, you may have plenty of trees, shrubs and flowers, but they suddenly look haggard and have overgrown their boundaries. What to do?

If you face these situations. and have decided to get help from a landscape professional, here are some guidelines to follow:

Time is money for you and the landscape professional. The more prepared you are, the easier it will be to find a contractor. It is important to realize there are difficult disciplines in the landscaping

Landscape designers give you a blueprint of your property that shows the precise location of each plant you choose. The plan is to help the contractor make the blueprint come true. Or, you may decide to carry out the plan your-

When things go wrong

Sometimes there's just no fixing a garden or landscape problem other than to start over. Examples of when drastic measures may be required:

> # Hee a plant outgrown its spot and is no longer prunable? There may be no choice but to replace it with something I is a plant set out in the wrong spoi? Is it in the wrong climate? Sun-loving plants will not do well in the shade and vice versa; sand-loving plants will not do well in humus-laden soil and vice versa. Moistureloving plants will not tolerate drought, etc. In these cases, you must transplant the item or remove it.
> A dying tree may need to be removed before it falls and causes damage. A dead tree also may attract termites.

E Some flowers or shrubs may contrast with your home's color scheme or style. They'll have to go.

If you are spending tons of time keeping insects of a particular plant, consider replacement. # If weeds have totally taken.

over a garden or flower bed, it may be time to rototill and try again.

A SELLER'S MOST VALUABLE

Probably the most valuable asset that selers have in their quest to sell their homes is and experienced and reputable agent. His or her knowledge is brought to bear when it comes time to offer advice on the suggested fisting price, give an educated guess as to how long it may take to sell the Aletta Holmes properly. And offer valuable suggestions on how the seller may best present the home to prospective buyers. The major advantage that the agent, information about the property will be made available to a wide network of other agents and buyers in the area throughout a Multiple Listing Service (MLS), usually within 24 hours of signing an agreement with an MLS abont.

Another important quality you srant in your Realtor is enflusiasm. You want an agent who will bear with pride when showing your home. The same enthusiasm is evident in a Realtor willing to go the extra mile for each client — I'll find a great way to showcase your home, do my homework thoroughly to get comps to justify the best asking price, and take the time to know your neighborhood in order to answer potenbal buyers' important questions. Call me at the Coldwell Banker/Schweitzer Real Estate office located at 41860 W Sox Male Rd : phone 347-3050 When you're ready, think of "Holmes for Homes."

HINT. Putting a home on the market at the right price is often critical to the success of selling a home for its proper value in a reasonable amount of time.

Q. I have enclosed a photo of a Victorian-style sofa that I purchased two years ago. The wood is wainut with mahogany veneer on the apron. It appears that the carving was done by hand.

I paid $400 for the sofa and would like to know its current value. Any advice will be appre-

A. The style of your sofa is tran-sitional Empire/Rococo. It was made around 1850.

A similar sofa is listed in "Victorian Furniture With Prices" by David P. Lindquist and Caroline C. Warren in the 8750 to $1,200 range.

9. In 1954 I purchased a dessert set in a shop in Salzburg, Austria. The set includes plates, six cups and saucers, a coffee pot, a sugar bowi and creamer.

Each piece is heavily embellished with gold, and in the center of each there is a scene of a couple in 18th century costume. What can you tell me about my dessert set? A. Your dessert set was made by C.M. Hutschenreuther Porcelain Factory, Bavaria, Germany, which has made porcelain since 1814.

The mark you provided was used circa 1948. Your set would probably be worth about $325 to

Q. After my grandmother passed away, we found an oak chest of drawers with an attached mirror stored in a closet. The mirror is in a frame and can be adjusted. There are two short drawers over two long drawers. The wood pulls are square-shaped.

My grandmother was a devoted Irish Catholic who gave birth to nine children. By the time the eighth baby was born, she was running out of sleeping space. She used one of the drawers as a bed for her new son. He

On the back of the chest is a label with the word "Stickley" outlined in red. Above that are the words "Als ik kan."

I am interested in learning more about my chest.

A. Your chest of drawers was made by cabinetmaker Gustav Stickley, who was strongly influenced by the Arts and Crafts Movement. Als ik kan is Dutch for "As I Can."

Your early 1900s chest of drawers would probably be worth about $5,000 to $10,000.

9. My mother gave me a hobnail-glass sugar bowl and creamer more than 100 years old. The color graduates from a soft yellow to a blush pink at the top; it is hard to tell where the yellow ends and the pink begins.

Each piece has a velvet texture. The sugar bowl has an applied handle on each side and the top is ruffled.

Could they be Mount Washington glass or Peachblow, and what are they worth?

A. Judging from your description, your set is Burmese glass. It was made from 1885 to 1891 by the Mount Washington Glass Works, New Bedford, Mass.

The pink color was a result of adding gold salts to the mix and the front are the words, "Buckthen reheating. Uranium oxide was added to the batch to produce the yellow.

Mount Washington Glass Works made various types of art glass. Your set would probably be worth about $550 to $850.

Q. I have an old yellow tobacco tin with the original lid. On of advertising and also tobacco-ingham - Bright Cut Plug -Smoking Tobacco - John J. Bagley & Co. - The American Tobacco Co." There is a paper seal on the top with the words,

"Act of February 26, 1926." Is this tin of any value?

A. Your tin has a crossover value. It holds appeal to collectors related items.

"Huxford's Collectible Advertising" by Sharon and Bob Huxford lists a similar tin at $65.

Address your questions to Anne McCollam, P.O. Box 490, Notre Dame, IN 46556. For a personal response, include picture(s), a. .. detailed description, a stamped, 147 self-addressed envelope and $5:4 per item (one item at a time).

SECOND PLOOR PLAN JULIUS 2 403-43 UNEXCAUNTED STORAGE MAIN FLOOR FLAN GARAGE PLOOR PLAN

Welcome Aboard!

Julius 2: Elegant in its simplicity

The style of this sofa is transitional Empire/Rococo, made circa 1850.

By James McAlexander Copley News Service

The Julius 2 may be entered through the recessed gabled entry, protecting you from inclement weather. The garage entrance is within the entry for easy access.

Kitchen amenities include a dishwasher, large walk-in pantry, range and oven. Tucked in behind the kitchen is a utility room with space for a washer and dryer.

The eating bar connects the kitchen to the nook and dining room, providing easy access for the cook of the house.

Elegant in its simplicity, the living room is adorned with two large windows for enjoying

HOME DESIGNS nature. It is sure to be a gathering place for the family.

The private master suite is large, with plenty of windows to enjoy the morning sun or an evening sunset. Its amenities include a large walk-in closet, a private bath with linen storage and a shower. The second-floor recreation/den is spacious and made for relaxing after a long day at work

This enormous room has enough space for a pool table or pingpong table, a big-screen television and a couple of couches. For outdoor entertainment, the deck is accessible from the recreation/den through sliding glass

Completing the floor plan on this level is a bedroom with vaulted ceiling, a large walk-in closet and a built-in desk.

The bedroom shares a bathroom with the recreation/den.

The garage has a large storage or shop area ... in one corner. The odd-jobber of the house ... will have plenty of space for working on hobbies or fix-it projects.

Classified Information!

The small classified ad says 'Antique i oak triple dresser, excellent condition, $825, call 555-1212. You've been looking for such an antique, and call for more details. The voice at the other end assures you it's the prettiest dresser in the country. Will you buy it over the phone, without seeing it in person? Not likely.

Why would you want to see it in person? You may want to compare the wood grain with others you've seen; or make a value judgement about the price. You may want to know its history, or learn whether the present owner appears to have taken good care of it.

Buying a home is no different an experience. Homes are not purchased over the phone. Although you may begin your search by responding to an advertisement, you are not likely to make a purchase until you have seen, and compared, a suitable selection of available properties.

The starting point, then, is to select a real estate agent to assist with an interview to determine your buying objectives, preferred locations, and price preferences.

Homes meeting your objectives will be identified by the agent, and appointments set up for showings. Once you make a purchase decision the agent will follow up on details related to a smooth closing.

When buying a home, select the agent first. When you do, an enjoyable home buying experience will follow.

Lane Bryant returns to the Novi market

By SCOTT DANIEL Staff Writer

After a three year absence, Lane Bryant is returning to Novi.

The Ohio-based apparel retailer opens its newest store today at the Novi Town Center. According to District Manager Debbie Anderson, the store specializes in plus sizes for women.

"I think Lane Bryant gives that lady a place to go," she said. "A place where she can come and look

The store was originally at Twelve Oaks. But the company decided to go in a different direction and pulled out of the mail.

Since then, Lane Bryant has waited for the right opportunity to return to the city.

We wanted to get back into this market," said Anderson, who is a Novi resident. "But we wanted the right location. This is it."

The company is a division of The Limited.

:Lane Bryant was founded by a Lithuanian immigrant in 1904. Lena Bryant and eventually her son ran the business until 1982 when it was purchased by The

With more than 800 stores nationally and 30 in Michigan. Lane Bryant is one of the industry leaders in women's plus-size

Store Manager Debra Pokora said the new Novi shop will have several specialties. Sports wear is one of those and a complete line of slacks, separates, jackets, dresses, T -shirts, embroidered sweatshirts and jeans are available.

Joblessness drops, sets record lows

iffor the fourth straight month. unemployment rates in all 10 of Michigan's major labor market areas dropped, according to seasonally unadjusted May work force estimates tabulated by the Michigan Employment Security Agency.

While most of the unemployment rate declines were small in May, averaging less than half a percentage point, the drops pushed jobless rates to record low levels in half of the 10 major markžts." Doug Stites, acting MESA director, said.

The Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Lansing area rates dropped to all-time lows last month, according to MESA records which go back to 1970.

The strength in the Michigan and local economies continues to account for the low unemployment rates throughout the state." Stites explained. "Most industries across both peninsulas had employment gains in May."

Construction, retail and wholesale trade and manufacturing experienced job gains in May, along with the service-producing industries. Government hiring was flat during the month.

Stites noted that the start of the summer tourism season also helped boost employment.

We saw increased hiring in several tourism-related industries such as hotels and lodging. amusements and recreation, and eating and drinking establish-ments, he said.

Among the major labor markets, the Ann Arbor area had the lowest May jobless rate at 2.1 percent. The Upper Peninsula had the highest rate at 6.8 percent and also the greatest month-to-month change, as the region's rate dropped by 2.3 percentage points.

Unemployment in the 15-county U.P. dropped as employment picked up in construction, retail and wholesale trade, and in several tburism-related industries.

All of the major markets had significantly lower unemployment ates this year than they did in May 1996. The rate declines over e year ranged from half a perentage point in the Ann Arbor and ensing areas to 1.3 points in the Employment levels were up in all (the areas in May, while labor ce totals rose in every area, ept Ann Arbor.

Lane Bryant also features business casual attire. Patrons can accessorize any outfit with jewelry and hosiery.

Pokora said a typical outfit can be purchased for about $60 to $70. She added that the store frequently has sales making shopping at Lane Bryant even more afford-

Speaking of sales, the store will celebrate its grand opening today with a wardrobe giveaway.

Customers can sign up for a chance at a $100 gift certificate through out the weekend. A drawing will be held Monday.

Also, patrons can earn a $10 gift certificate with the purchase of $50 or more. Anderson is hoping that the giveaways will help build a positive relationship with patrons.

The shop will feature *softer colors." Anderson said, than traditional stores. The 4.000-square foot store, which is located next door to Borders Books and Music, will also feature pewter fixtures.

We wanted it to have a fresher look," said Anderson.

Review taxes over the summer

Chances are the approaching lazy days of summer don't exactly bring taxes to mind, but the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants says summer is a perfect time to review your tax situation and make plans for the rest of the year. There are a number of smart moves you can make now that will pay off next April. To get started, the MACPA offers answers to the following financial and tax questions.

401(K) CONTRIBUTIONS?

Increasing your 401(k) contribu-tions is one of the easiest ways to keep more of what you earn. That's because your 401(k) contribution and any amount matched by your employer - grows tax-deferred until withdrawal at retirement. If you're not already contributing the maximum, check your cash flow to determine whether you can step up your contributions.

ONE-PAYCHECK FAMILY?

If so, you'll want to be aware of a new law governing spousal IRAs. Under prior rules, if your spouse had no compensation, you could contribute up to $2,250 to an IRA for you and your spouse. Starting this year, each spouse can generalhy deposit $2,000 to an ira (a total of $4,000) as long as their combined compensation is at least $3,000. It's a good idea to contribute to your spousal IRA early in the year. The sooner you make your contribution, the sooner it begins to earn tax-deferred inter-

LOANS TO UNCLE SAM?

Getting a tax refund check is nice. But it makes much better financial sense to get that money throughout the year in the form of bigger paychecks. Take time now to estimate your 1997 income and deductions, and compare that amount with what you're paying in withholding and estimated tax payments. If it looks like you're overpaying the IRS. decrease your withholding by filing a new Form W-4 with your employer. Invest the extra money you get in each paycheck so you, and not Uncle Sam, earn interest on the money.

RETIREMENT DISTRIBUTIONS?

Generally, the IRS assesses a 15 percent excise tax on withdrawals in excess of the annual limit, but a provision in the 1996 tax law temporarily repeals the excise tax for 1997, 1998, and 1999. If you have a large pension plan, and your required withdrawal is likely to exceed the annual limit, you may want to take out sufficient amounts during this three-year moratorium to avoid or minimize penalties for excess distributions in future years. Keep in mind that the law repeals only the 15 percent excise tax; all normal income taxes still apply.

SPEND MORE TO SAVE MORE?

Deductions for certain expenses are limited. For example, medical expenses are deductible as an itemized deduction only to the extent that they exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income (AGI), while miscellaneous itemized deductions are allowable only above 2 percent of your AGI. If it looks like you may get close to those limits by the end of 1997. take steps now to accelerate similar expenses into 1997. Doing so will enable you to maximize your

Your generosity can save overal family taxes when you make gifts to family members. If you have stocks you plan to sell, perhaps to pay tuition bills, rather than sell ing the stock yourself, consider gifting it to your child age 14 o over for him or her to sell. The gain will then be taxed at the child's tax rate, which may be lower than yours. If you're considering giving a gift, you should contact a CPA to determine the gift-tax ramifica-

CLEAN OUT YOUR CLOSETS

Summer is a great time to gather old clothes, furniture and household appliances you don't need and donate them to charity. You can generally claim a deduction for their fair market value. However make sure to get a receipt from the organization showing the date and a description of the property.

DO YOU HAVE A TAX PLAN?

If you haven't already done so, stop now and take a few days to map out a tax strategy. The MACPA reminds you that a wellthought-out strategy is vital the your ability to minimize your tax bill and make the most of your

You've saved enough money to buy a new car. Now, do you have enough to own one?

When you consider the actual cost of owning an "affordable" car, it can often start to resemble a money pit. A Saturn, on the other hand, is as economical to buy as it is to own. In fact, after comparing the cost of owning a Saturn to other cars in their classes, the people at IntelliChoice named each model a "Best Overall Value of the Year."

Doinidis graduated from Oakland University in 1973 with a math degree and graduated from Life Chiropractic College in Georgia in 1978. At Doinidis Chiropractic Center patients don't wait for hours to receive help. Appointments are also short, between 10 and 20 minutes after the first visit. "I accommodate people with hectic schedules," said Doinidis ...... That first session takes about an hour. He recently moved his 17-year old practice from Ten Mile to the Peachtree Center on Meadowbrook. Making people feel better is his job, said Doinidis.
