

We've made a few changes and there are more to come

Dear Readers:

Yep. Your eyes are not deceiving you, there is a change to the look of the front page of your Northville Record.

The change is somewhat slight. A column running down the left hand side of the newspaper. In the weeks to come you'll find interesting bits of information in this space. Information that points you to various parts of the newspaper. You'll instantly have access to the big sports story of the day, whether your friend or neighbor is going to be featured on the front of the lifestyle section, and even information about that new movie that is playing at a theater near you.

This change will be followed by a few others. Some big, and others barely noticeable. Our goal is simple - we want your hometown newspaper to be more interactive, something more relevant with the changing landscape of our community.

There are still other things that we're going to do to open our newsroom to the community. In next week's Record you'll be reading a front page story inviting readers to apply for positions on a community editorial board. This 10 person board will meet monthly with editors and reporters to give us feedback on the job we're doing, provide us with suggestions and new ideas, and most of all, help us stay in touch with our readers and our community.

Yes, the Record is going to undergo a few changes. I take these changes seriously folks, because the bottom line is this - the Northville Record is your newspaper, and if we're not pleasing you, we're not doing our job. Sincerely,

Robert Jackson

Turnout low at city elections

Uncontested races draw 11 percent of voters

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

Less-than-pleasant weather and three unchallenged incumbents up for reelection couldn't keep 11 percent of city voters from casting ballots Nov. 2.

Of the 4,608 registered voters in the city, 514 ballots were received. Of the ballots received, 314 were absentee, which means 200 residents braved the cold rain and snow to cast a vote.

Reelected were Chris Johnson, mayor, and council members Thomas Swigart and Carolann Ayers.

Johnson received 458 votes

"I always make a point of coming. I missed it once and I felt real bad about it."

John Pankopf

while Ayers and Swigart received 449 each. Write-ins and ballot errors were the difference from the amount of votes each candidate received and the number of ballots cast.

John Pankopf, Northville resident, was one of the Wayne County residents who voted at city hall.

"I always vote," he said. "It's our civic duty and part of being in a democracy."

Pankopf said he speculated no challengers, bad weather and busy schedules kept people from the polls.

"I always make a point of coming," he said. "I missed it once and I felt real bad about it."

The three elected officials already had plans for their upcoming tenures.

Johnson said he plans to concentrate on the downtown area.

A Northville Halloween

The Von Buskirk family, who live in Northville on Linden Street, really got into the Halloween spirit this year, decorating their home with colorful lights, plasma tubes, and creepy and ghoulish creatures. Hundreds of Northville kids enjoyed great weather for trick-or-treating and flocked to the Recreation Center to compete in the annual Halloween costume contest, sponsored by the Northville Fire Department. See page 3A for a list of the winners.

Schools observe National Red Ribbon Week

By MELANIE PLENDA
Staff Writer

Making the right choices in life was the focus of the moment for many students in the Northville school district last week.

Silver Springs Elementary took a pledge to make healthy living choices. Northville High School heard speakers advising them to choose not to drink.

Meads Mill Middle School had a former student come back, to tell students how his choice to drink and drive ended the life he knew.

"This is not the way I planned my life to be," said accident victim John Foley, 35, who speaks with the help of speech rehab therapist Sherry Duff.

Foley and Duff, have traveled to schools for the past nine years to serve as a living example of what can happen when people drink and drive, he said.

"I died," Foley said simply.

In December of 1986, Foley - then 22 - was driving home drunk from party when police speculate he fell asleep at the wheel, crossed the median and crashed into an oncoming truck.

The truck driver never had a chance to get out of the way because Foley was so drunk, he had forgotten to turn his lights on, Duff said.

Nield was target of 1998 probe by prosecutor

■ Police report reveals Ray Walsh initiated investigation of Nield for placing signs opposing township millage election in August, 1998.

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

The five-month investigation into Northville businessman Jim Nield earlier this year wasn't the first involving him and Wayne County Deputy Prosecutor Ray Walsh. The Northville Record learned this week.

Copies of a Northville Township Police report from August, 1998 obtained by the Record indicate Walsh reviewed an investigation into Nield that alleged he took "Vote Yes" signs down during an election campaign.

The signs in question pertained to a millage increase put before township residents Aug. 4, 1998.

"The only reason I feel I got stopped was because the fire department, who was in favor of the tax increase, wanted to know who was putting up 'Vote No' signs," Nield said. "I was driving a leased car so a check of the license plate wouldn't tell them my name."

Nield said he was followed putting signs up by a car that had emergency lights on it, but wasn't a police car.

The fire department thought Nield was taking down "Vote Yes" signs, but that proved to be inaccurate," said Chip Snider, Northville Township Police chief. "He was putting up his own signs."

According to the Northville Township Police report, a call was received that complained of some-

Monroe man to face child pornography charges in township

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

Northville Township Police are seeking an arrest warrant for a 38-year-old Monroe man who allegedly had more than 1,000 images of child pornography on his work computer.

The man could face up to one year in jail for alleged possession of child pornography in Northville Township.

Northville Township Police turned the investigation over to the Wayne County prosecutor's office Nov. 2 to possibly obtain an arrest warrant for the Monroe man's arrest.

"All of the files contain images of children," said Detective Michael Wildt of the Northville Township police.

"For reasons I couldn't possibly understand, this man is most likely aroused by these images."

Michael Wildt
Northville Township detective

The files were discovered after the man was fired from his job and was discovered deleting files from his computer before he left, Wildt said. His employer told police they suspected the man was deleting

Also available are two databases especially designed for elementary and middle school students, Electric Library and SIRS Discoverer. All you need is a library card and a PC with Internet connection. For details, call the library.

EVENING BOOK DISCUSSION
Join us on Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. to discuss the novel, "Evening" by Susan Minot, in which the main character looks back on her life, with its passions and disappointments. This monthly discussion group meets the second Monday of each month. All are welcome to attend.

WHAT ARE YOU THANKFUL FOR
Boys and girls of all ages can celebrate what they are thankful for by filling out a paper turkey feather, which will then be added to the youth bulletin board.

LIBRARY BOARD MEETING
The next meeting of the Northville District Library Board of Trustees will be Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. The public is welcome to attend.

DOE no longer responsible for MEAP

Local school district officials not pleased with Engler's decision

By MELANIE PLENDA
Staff Writer

The MEAP is no longer solely the responsibility of Department of Education, according to an Executive Order passed in late October by Gov. John Engler.

The legislation has local school officials questioning the motive for a such a decision.

"Logically, you have to question the motive of taking the MEAP out of the hands of educators and putting into the hands of people with business backgrounds," said assistant superintendent Linda Pitcher.

However, John Prescott, Engler's press secretary, said the MEAP will still be administered and developed by the same people who did it under the Department of Education.

"We are simply making things more efficient," Truscott said. "It amounts to a name change and nothing more."

The reasoning behind the change, Truscott said, comes with the addition of the Michigan Merit Award that has been attached to a high score on the MEAP.

"We wanted to keep things consistent," Truscott said. "Instead of having one department in charge of development and one in charge of the scholarship we made it one department."

Pitcher, on the other hand, said there was more to it than that. She questioned the notion that those in charge of instruction will have to answer to those in charge of finance. She said her concern lies in the fact that the office of instruction has worked for many years to establish benchmarks and standards.

"This change is slowly diminishing the role of the Department of Education," Pitcher said. "Eventually, I think they will eliminate it all together."

Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski was equally baffled.

"This was a rumor a few weeks out someone passing some new piece of legislation," Rezmierski said. "Lord knows we have enough to deal with."

Truscott said there was absolutely no reason to consult with school officials because it has nothing to do with them.

"We wouldn't expect them to consult us if they needed to make an organizational change, so why should we?" Truscott said.

Additionally, Truscott said the change would have no noticeable effects in the district.

Rezmierski was not convinced. "It's just one thing after another," he said. "They must have a lot of time on their hands if changing departments and adding vacation days is all they have to focus on."

Deer shot after running through business

A deer was shot in the backyard of 430 Yerkes Ave. after it ran through the properties of two Northville businesses.

The incident happened Oct. 28 at 5:27 p.m.

According to a city of Northville Police report, a deer ran through the showroom window on the south side of Inch Memorials, 580 S. Main St., through the showroom and out the north side showroom window. The eight-point buck then jumped on a delivery truck of Inch Memorials, then crashed through a cyclone fence of McDonald Ford and rammed into the side of a parked 2000 Explorer.

Police then followed the deer through several yards and shot it in the yard of 430 Yerkes Ave.

No one kept the animal.

Woman arrested for OUIL

Northville Police Reports

The incident happened Oct. 31 at 1:01 a.m.

According to a city of Northville Police Department report, the woman was witnessed driving southbound on North Center Street at a rate of about 43 mph. The woman was stopped at Hiller's Shopping Market. When asked for paperwork, police detected the strong odor of alcohol and asked the woman to perform several sobriety tests, which she had difficulty completing. A preliminary breath test revealed the woman had a blood alcohol count of 0.206 percent.

The woman's license plate was cut in half and she was arrested and released on a $100 bond.

Redford man caught with stolen lawn tractor

mower worth almost $10,000 for $748.

The incident started Oct. 14 at 10:15 a.m.

According to a city of Northville Police report, unknown person(s) stole a Lazer Z riding lawn mower from the Tree Tops apartment complex storage shed at 957 Novi Road. Police asked the superintendent if he had any possible suspects and the Redford Township man's name came up as an ex-employee who has since started working for another lawn maintenance company.

The Redford man's new boss told Northville Police he asked him if he would like to buy a riding mower fitting the description of the one stolen. Additionally, the Redford man was storing the mower at a coworker's house.

The Redford man at first denied any knowledge of the mower and then when the witness statement's were presented he confessed to buying the motor from a black male, in his 20s to 30s, about 6 feet, 6 inches tall and weighing 250 pounds. The man was bald and had no hair and no glasses. He was driving a 1988 to 1991 Ford F-series truck with tinted windows.

The stolen property was returned.

Woman injured in car accident

A 43-year-old Farmington Hills woman was transported to Providence Hospital in Novi after an early morning accident.

The incident happened Nov. 1 at 5:59 a.m.

According to a city of Northville Police report, the woman was driving east on Eight Mile Road near Center Street when she crossed the lane into westbound traffic and hit a car headed in the opposite direction. The car she hit was a 1999 blue Ford driven by a 36-year-old Novi woman.

There was heavy fog, the report said.

Northville city council approves new traffic control ordinance

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

Just when you may have parking in the city of Northville down to a science, city council has passed several new traffic control orders.

The following list summarizes the changes:

- The area from 30 feet to 185 feet north of Walnut on East Street has been posted as a "No Parking - Loading Zone 6 a.m. to 6 p.m." to allow construction vehicles to park on the east side of the street.

- The north side of East Cady Street from North Center Street to 100 feet east of North Center Street is designated as "No Parking - Loading Zone - Limit 10 Minutes - No Unattended Vehicles." The north side of East Cady Street 100 feet east of North Center Street to Griswold Street and the entire south side of East Cady Street between North Center and Griswold will be posted "No Parking Anytime."

- The entrance driveways to Cooke Middle School have been designated as one-way with the southernmost driveway being the entrance and the northern entrance the exit.

- The parking lot and driveways of the First United Methodist Church, 777 W. Eight Mile Road, have been posted with "No Trucks" at the request of the property owner.

- The "No Parking 6 p.m. to Midnight" zones during the periods of the year when Northville Downs is in operation on Beal, Fairbrook, Gardner, Johnson, River, Wing and Yerkes streets has been rescinded.

All of the orders took effect with Northville City Council approval Oct. 11.

FREE "LIVING TRUST" SEMINAR "What You Ought to Know About Living Trusts"

(What you don't know could cost your family thousands of dollars!)

If you own a home... or you have assets worth at least $100,000... you owe it to yourself—and your family—to get the facts on living trusts. If you think you're protected with a simple Will... think again... A Will guarantees that your estate will go through probate, which means that your family may not be able to take possession of your estate for many months, or even years!

Plus, if your estate is over $650,000, your family may owe estate taxes which could amount to 37-55%.

This means that your family may have to sell some assets just to pay the estate taxes!

A living trust avoids all this by avoiding probate and minimizing estate taxes. Plus, a living trust will protect your estate if you become incapacitated during your lifetime by avoiding a conservatorship. This means your estate will be managed as you see fit, not as a court-appointed guardian sees fit.

To find out more about the benefits of living trusts, attend one of these free seminars!

A NEW GOLD STANDARD?

There is a legitimate claim being made that wearing a gold ring helps relieve arthritis. Dr. Deva Situnayake of the Birmingham City Hospital in England x-rayed the hands of 55 British patients with rheumatoid arthritis over two years. He found that the 30 patients who were wearing gold wedding bands had significantly less arthritic involvement in the adjacent joints of the ring fingers of their left hand than they did in the same joints of their right hands. The 25 patients who did not wear gold rings had equally arthritic joints in the fingers of both hands. Whether there is any substance to this healthful benefit to wearing gold rings or not, it certainly cannot hurt.

Gold does come in several shades and purities. At WEINSTEIN JEWELERS OF NOVI you can rely on our professionals for their expert advice, as well as our great selection of gold jewelry. We have one of the largest arrays in the area to meet and fill everyone's needs. Come see us soon at 41990 Grand River Ave. (248-347-0303). Count on us also for repairs of all kinds, including rush and emergency repairs. We're here for you Tue., Wed. & Thurs: 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., Fri. 10 a.m. - 8 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. We are "The name you know, the name you trust." We are now licensed by the city of Novi to offer loans on jewelry.

P.S. Dr. Situnayake also reported that among ring wearers, even the fingers next to the left ring finger showed some benefit, while the joints of the remaining fingers were not spared from arthritic involvement.

CSX begins work on Seven Mile Rd. railroad crossing

By MELANIE PLEND
Staff Writer

The repairs to the railroad crossing at Seven Mile Road and Northville Road have come sooner than anticipated, a CSX official said.

The intersection will be closed while the crossing is gutted and fitted with new track and rails from Nov. 1 through Nov. 5.

"The crews are ahead of schedule and the weather has been cooperating so we moved this project up in the schedule," said Mike Donahue, road master for CSX Railroad.

The crossing gained attention when Joe Macura, Northville Township resident and former rail worker, noticed the tracks were in such a state of disrepair that when cars or a train went over them, "they bounced wildly" due to the erosion of dirt beneath the track.

Gary Wallenhaupt, public relations director for CSX said the company intended to fix the crossing, but there were several other projects ahead of the crossing at Seven Mile Road and Northville Road.

Wallenhaupt was unavailable for comment on the current state of the repairs.

Track foreman Vern Wells said he and his crew got their assignment to come to this crossing Oct. 25.

"The road master rushed us off our last job in Carlton (Ohio), because this track needed repairs pretty bad," Wells said.

Wells is a part of a four-man floating road crew which is assigned to projects that regular CSX crews cannot get to.

"(CSX) is so undermanned, they call us in whenever they need help fixing the tracks," he said.

The old track and rails will be ripped out to make room for 120 feet of new track, Foreman Vern Wells said.

"New rubber will be placed against the rail and the entire crossing will be black topped," he said. "That'll smooth out the track and make it more level for driving over."

He said tampers will be brought in later in the week to compress the existing rock bed. Wells said that would make the track more stable and reduce bouncing as traffic passes over.

Wayne County public information director John Roach said traffic will be rerouted until Friday evening.

Seven Mile is still open to traffic up to the crossing and Northville Road is open on the other side, he said.

The best alternate routes, Roach said, were ones that took motorists from Haggerty Road to Six Mile Road to Northville Road.

Chris Gearn, administrative assistant for Northville public schools operations, said school buses were being rerouted through Doheny street and would only cause minimal delays in bus service.

LORNA A. ABITZ

Lorna A. Abitz, 98, died Oct. 29 in Marywood Nursing Home of Livonia. She was born June 29, 1901, in Tustin to Paul and Jenny (Hoover) Johnson.

Mrs. Abitz had been a resident of Barryton (Dimon Lake) since 1972.

She is survived by son, Roger (Barbara) of Northville; daughter, Patricia (Wayne) Westra of Allen Park; one sister, Geri Harrison of El Paso, Texas; five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Mrs. Abitz was preceded in death by her husband, Erwin C.

Services were conducted Nov. 1 at Northrop-Sassaman Funeral Home in Northville, with the Rev. E. Neil Hunt of Meadowbrook Congregational Church in Novi officiating. A committal service was held Nov. 2 at Flake Cemetery, Ford Township, with the Rev. Donald Ruff of Barryton Church of Christ officiating.

GEORGE E. WHITE

George E. White, 76, died Oct. 31 after an extended illness. He was born Jan. 21, 1923, in Mishawaka, Ind., to William and Lillian (England) White.

Mr. White was a 1942 graduate of Northville High School and a graduate of Wayne State College of Pharmacy. He served in the Navy during World War II as a pharmacist mate 2nd Class aboard the carrier, Casablanca. Mr. White served as a judge at the Harness Tracks in Michigan, and was employed at Northville Drug. He was a member of Northville Masonic Lodge No. 186.

Mr. White is survived by a son, David E.D. (Christine) of Linden; daughter, Kathleen L. (Theron) White-Williams Jr. of Bay City; sister-in-law, Doris White; brother-in-law, Jay Levenworth; seven grandchildren, William and Thomas White, Kara and Ryan Robinson, and Kallyn, Dylan and Samuel Williams; several nieces and nephews; and Jeanne White.

Mr. White was preceded in death by a brother, Charles and a sister, Leona.

A memorial service will be held Nov. 7 at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 322 N. Jefferson, Saginaw.

Arrangements were made by Resurrection Funeral Home in Clinton Township.

Memorial contributions to the charity of your choice would be appreciated.

City council approves Cady Street land sale

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

The businesslike demeanor of Northville City Council gave way to playground-like piling on Nov. 1 when the issue of selling property on Cady Street came up.

The end result of the activities was approval of the sale of lots 55 and 56 for $150,000 to Dennis Engerer, Northville businessman.

The properties are located at the corner of Cady Street and Church Street.

But it wasn't without debate.

The approval of the sale passed 4-1 with Council member Kevin Hartshorne voting against the project.

"Because we bought this property for $130,000 14 years ago and

"Because we bought this property for $130,000 14 years ago and only are selling it for $150,000 now, I can't support this project."

Kevin Hartshorne
Northville city councilman only are selling it for $150,000 now, I can't support this project," Hartshorne said.

Using the rate of inflation for the area, $130,000 in 1985 would equal almost $199,000 today.

Hartshorne said more than three months should have been given to taking bids for the project.

The majority of council members disagreed and came up with a few interesting comments as to how the city could have received more for the land.

"I you want so much for this land you should have written out a check and been the highest bidder," said John Hardin, council member.

Carolann Ayers, council member, urged Hartshorne to stand down from his position.

"You can keep going back to the issue of selling the land at an unfair price and that's fine," she said. "But I don't see the point in continuing."

Ayers said Hartshorne should drop the issue altogether.

"You lost on that issue," she said. "Let's move on."

The property sold is on the northeast corner of the intersection. Engerer, who owns the building at 215 E. Main St. that houses NovaCare, also owns the apartment building north of the house at the corner. He said he plans to knock down both residential units to make way for a new two- or three-story 14,000 square foot building.

Engerer said he hopes to have a site plan developed and approved within 12 months. The city requires substantial progress on the project within 18 months.

The city took bids for the property last year and received only two bids for it.

Thomas Swigart, council member, said the bid accepted for the property was reasonable.

"It's a reasonable price for the land from someone who has a demonstrated history of success in Northville," he said. "I think it would be a real benefit to the city to move forward with this project."

Township lifts building ban on Ravines

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

Building activity should be back to normal in the Ravines of Northville subdivision after a ban on building permits in it is lifted.

Don Weaver, director of public services for Northville Township, said he plans to lift the ban on building permits for the subdivision after important sections of the roads in the subdivision are paved.

The lack of pavement is one of several recent problems in the Ravines subdivision.

Weaver did not give any building permits in the subdivision for the past month because the last layer of asphalt was never put on Hollow Ridge Drive and Deep Hollow Circle, leaving the curb and gutters about an inch-and-a-half above the concrete road surface. As a result, water that was supposed to drain into the subdivision detention pond drained toward Six Mile Road

"They (the developer) are going to have to meet with the county and discuss another form of compensation."

Don Weaver township director of public services and put an additional burden on that system.

"The majority of water was not being captured by the inlets, because the water simply wasn't making it up into the curb and gutters," Weaver said.

Weaver said not all sections of the roads in the subdivision will be paved. Only sections that will improve the drainage will be done, he said.

Retention ponds take in rain and slowly release it to lessen the effects large storms have on sewer systems.

Land issues such as the lack of paving are nothing new to the Ravines subdivision.

The detention pond for the Ravines was originally constructed too small, which led to flooding. The pond has since been expanded to better accommodate the large amount of water that falls during rainstorms.

Additionally, the developer of the site faced some kind of "action" from the board of trustees if a land-trade between the developer and Wayne County went through.

Weaver said the original developer of the property agreed to give the county 4.6 acres of open space in exchange for being able to put the retention pond on county property.

However, the original development agreement between the developer and Northville Township called for a certain amount of open space in the subdivision to be used for private parks.

If the developer handed the 4.6 acres of land over to the county, it would be in violation of the development agreement, Weaver said.

"If the land has transferred over to the county, inform the developer we are ready to take action," said Mark Abbo, township board trustee, to Weaver at the last regular township board meeting.

Weaver said he has since talked to the developer who has indicated a change in plans to transfer the property.

"They (the developer) are going to have to meet with the county and discuss another form of compensation," Weaver said.

Council to conduct hearing on proposed condo plan

BY ANDREW DIETDERICH
Staff Writer

City of Northville residents have their chance to speak on a new condominium development in the city.

Northville City Council voted 4-1 to hold a public hearing Dec. 6 at 7:30 p.m. to give citizens the chance to voice their opinions on the Riverwalk condominium development proposed for a site on the city's north side.

Council member Kevin Hartshorne voted against having the public hearing.

Council will then consider changing the zoning in the area from PR-1 to a R-4 planned unit development.

"With this option, we know exactly what is going to be built on the property," said Chris Johnson, Northville mayor.

A planned unit development means the developer, Farmington Hills-based Phoenix Land Development, must build exactly what the plans say without any variance.

The company plans to build a 38-unit condominium facility in place of the vacant Warren Products factory. The land is located across the street from Farmer's Cider Mill.

Under city ordinance, the city council may only approve or deny the request for rezoning. The planning commission will work with the developer on the specific details of the project and approve the planned unit development.

City council is considering an amendment to the ordinance that would make it the decision-making body in the process.

However, because Phoenix started the process before the amendment came up it will use the old ordinance.

More information on the public hearing may be obtained by calling (248) 349-1300.

U.S. Armed Forces veterans stand at attention last Saturday at Novi's Oakland Hills Cemetery during a ceremony honoring the memory of servicemen missing in action.

Local veterans honor return of fallen comrades

By B.J. HAMMERSTEIN
Staff Writer

Robert Dale Anderson, Air Force.

Robert Curtis Borton, Jr., Marine Corps.

James Devrin Carter, Army.

James L. Huard, Air Force.

John Andrew Jakovac, Army.

Lewis Merritt Robinson, Air Force.

Jlynn Ross Jr., Army.

David Raymond Wagener, Air Force.

These Michigan men never made it back alive from Vietnam, but in recent years their remains have been identified and sent home.

Last weekend in Novi, their lives and deaths were recognized with a 21-gun salute and Taps.

The commemorative ceremony, Michigan Remembers, was held Oct. 30 at the Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens on Twelve Mile Road.

Marty Eddy, President of the POW Committee of Michigan, said the remains were identified by a complex technique of mitochondrial DNA testing. The men had been listed as either missing in action or as a prisoner of war.

"There are 84 men from Michigan who were or are still remaining POWs or MIAs," Eddy said.

"The memorial is designed to be a symbol of hope for loved ones and family members here in Michigan."

She added that the identification process involved extracting material from bones or teeth and matching the material with a maternal relative in order to properly match names to the remains.

The hour-long service drew more than 250 servicemen, family and community members as background, family and incident information was told about each of the eight individuals.

The ceremony included a Color Guard presentation and the release of eight white doves symbolizing the eight men honored.

The memorial plaque, near the cemetery's Oak Chapel Mausoleum, lists the 84 MIAs and POWs from Michigan, their hometowns, names, branch of service, birth dates and incident dates. As each is sent back to the state, the return date is added to the memorial.

"It was very special day and a beautiful and moving ceremony," Eddy said.

"This is the kind of thing the POW Committee and MIA-POW families work for — closure."

Dan Confer, manager of the Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, said the ceremony was impressive and the cemetery will continue to hold services to pay tribute to Michigan heroes.

"The ceremony was very moving as it gave closure to the immediate families," Confer said.

"The end was very somber, as it felt as if there was a blanket of unity with all of the attendees of the ceremony."

Confer said these kind of programs help rekindle interest in veteran's programs, after there has been a decline over the last few years.

Confer added that out of the 84 names on the memorial, 65 men are still unaccounted for.

"As a cemetery, we are very supportive of programs helping commemorate and remembering these people," he said.

"We will be having a special Veteran's Day ceremony here and we want to help keep the memories in this particular area in the forefront and keep the spirit alive."

Teens celebrate red ribbon week

Additionally, she said, Foley, who wasn't wearing his seat belt, went through the windshield but was not thrown from the car. The other driver sustained minor injuries from the crash.

"John was dead when he arrived at the hospital," Duff said. "He was in full cardiac arrest but the doctors brought him back."

She said charges were never even filed against John because they didn't think he was going to make it.

She said the accident left him in a coma for the first six months after the crash, during which time he didn't realize he had sustained three head injuries, broken his femur in three places, crushed his cheek and jaw bone, and had to have his left index finger reattached.

"His body is a road map of scars," Duff said. "Not the least of which is how dramatically this changed his life."

Foley has endured seven years of painful rehabilitation, she said. He has had to relearn the simplest tasks of speaking, eating, breathing and moving the right side of his body.

"The first words he said after the coma was 'Why? Why did this happen?'" Duff said. "It wasn't until later that he realized there had been an accident and that he had caused it."

In the years after his accident, Duff said, John lost more than just memories and motor skills.

"He had a lot of friends before the accident," Duff said. "Not one of them showed up after. They completely left his life."

She said in part it was hard for them to see him because they were scared by what the saw.

"He wasn't pretty to look at," she said. "As the years went by, they were starting their lives and careers while John was busy learning to eat on his own."

Additionally, Foley said he lost the hope of taking over his father's business and the woman he was going to marry.

"She hung in there for about five years," Duff said. "Finally she realized that they would never have the life that they had planned."

Foley said with one bad choice he lost everything.

ALCOHOL FACTS

Students on Sobriety emphasize educating young adults about the dangers of drinking and driving. Here are some of the statistics they gave the students:

- 39% of high school seniors have been involved in a drinking and driving accident.
- Alcohol was a factor in 63% of fatal accidents by teenagers.
- Traffic crashes are the No. 1 cause of death of young people.
- Teen drivers are almost four times more likely to be involved in a fatal automobile accident than drivers aged 25 to 34.

Drinking and Driving is only one of the dangers of teenage drinking. Here are some facts and warning signs of alcohol poisoning:

- Person is unconscious or semi-conscious and cannot be waken.
- Cold, clammy, pale or bluish skin.
- Slow respirations: less than eight breaths per minute, or irregular breaths with ten seconds or more between breaths.
- Vomiting while "sleeping" or passed out, and not waking after vomiting.
- Person is not alert to the date, time, or his or her surroundings or location.

What to do:

- Call for an ambulance.
- Do not leave the person alone.
- Turn the person on his or her side to keep them from choking in case of vomiting.
- Check the person every couple of minutes to make sure he or she is still breathing.
- Do not try to give the person anything to eat or drink if he or she is fading in and out of consciousness. This increases the risk of a person choking.
- When the ambulance arrives, answer any questions to the best of your ability. Gather information about what the person had to eat or drink, if the person is on any medications, as well as if this has ever happened to this person before.
- Remember, everyone reacts to alcohol differently. A person suffering from alcohol poisoning may not exhibit all of the symptoms described.

"I can't play sports anymore. I have no friends. I have nobody," Foley said.

Duff, now 35, is forced to live with his family because he can't care for himself. Instead of the career in business he had planned, she said the one-time star athlete now washes cars for Mitsubishi. All of this, she said, was totally preventable.

The students at Meads Mill were visibly touched by his story. Many said it gave them a tangible reason never to drink and drive.

"It's weird because he went to our school and was like us," eighth grader Katie Tokie said. "It makes it much more real, like it could happen to one of us."

Turnout low for Northville election

The mayor serves a two-year term in Northville.

"I would like to see the continued careful growth of the downtown," he said. "I think that will assist in spreading the tax base and getting some relief on the residential side of taxes."

By paying close attention to projects such as the one slated for the corner of Church Street and Cady Street, Johnson said the area can continue to develop without losing its community charm.

"It's important to maintain the residential character of the community so it remains a safe place for kids to grow up."

Ayers was elected to her fifth term as a council member.

Ayers said she has two main goals for the next four years which also includes a continued concentration on development.

"I'm going to be trying to concentrate on the infill of our neighborhoods," she said.

She hopes to help Northville maintain the strong community atmosphere while at the same time working with developers and builders to allow expansion and growth.

"We've seen other communities in the metro Detroit area that have rapid infill and growth in the neighborhoods until there are hard feelings and animosities," she said. "The planning commission and city council can work on avoiding that."

Ayers also said she wants to work to help keep downtown viable.

Swigart begins his second term with the election and also is looking forward to maintaining the community feeling Northville offers.

"It's really important to stay on course, meet economic challenges and still provide quality service to the community," he said.

Swigart said he plans to continue working with Northville Parks and Recreation to maintain the quality of the entire program.

He expects to apply what he's learned during his first four years to the next four.

"I can now take advantage of what I learned and just capitalize on it," Swigart said.

Northville teacher receives grant award

By MELANIE PLEND
Staff Writer

An effective teacher's education does not end when he or she gets a certificate from the state. Instead, the effective teacher seeks out knowledge and strives to learn all the facets of the profession.

This is what drives Paula Clise. Clise, who teaches the gifted program at Meads Mill Middle School, recently attended an innovative summer program developed by Cambridge College in Massachusetts. The National Institute for Teaching Excellence, formerly the Urban Education Program, boasts of more than 80 graduate instructors who share ideas on ways to energize and motivate students.

The program is designed for adults who work full time, and are looking to pursue a bachelor's or master's degree in education and psychology.

For Clise, the program offered her the opportunity to expand her ideas of the ways children learn and the importance of leadership.

"Leadership is not about being pushy. It is about being a servant," she said. Rather, she said, it is the job of a leader to help kids reach their goals and achieve their visions.

For the most part, the workshop was an intensive week of learning new technologies in the way people learn. A good deal of the way people learn is based on the physiology of the body, Clise said. She said people take for granted simple things like breathing properly and keeping the body hydrated.

Clise discussed tests that show that children are really like sponges.

"We only use a percentage of our conscious minds," she said. "Everything that goes on around us stored in our subconscious."

Clise said that concept, called "peripheral learning," was important because it afforded teachers the chance to make better use of a student's imagination and creativity if ways could be found to extract the information.

The workshop inspired Clise with many new ideas for her classroom, including bringing new ways to integrate computers into the curriculum and establishing leadership in the classroom.

After school program a 'happening' thing

By MELANIE PLEDA
Staff Writer

Students are coming to see what's "happening" after school at the Northville Community Recreation Center.

For the fourth year in a row, middle school students are being invited to the Northville After School Happening every Wednesday from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m.

"It's a great place to do what you want to do," Meads Mill Middle School student Colin Sheldon said.

Boys and girls come to the Center after school to play hockey, basketball, board games or make crafts.

"The kids take a vote and decide what they want to do for the afternoon," coordinator Dan McGuire said.

McGuire said the program was a great way to get kids out and playing with each other rather than in side watching TV or getting into trouble.

"We really try to get the kids active and it gives them a chance to meet kids they wouldn't ordinarily meet."

Dan McGuire
NASH coordinator

"We really try to get the kids active and it gives them a chance to meet kids they wouldn't ordinarily meet," McGuire said.

All of the activities are supervised by McGuire, Mary Ellen King of Northville Youth Assistance, or Susan Taylor. McGuire said the Center will also be offering volunteer opportunities to High School National Honor Society students.

"We really want to bring the high school and middle school kids together," Taylor said.

The teen supervisors even join in some of the games. Former participant and Northville High School student Sergio Accosta said he enjoyed the program so much that he got a job at the center so he could keep attending.

"I learned stuff like sportsmanship and teamwork here that I wouldn't have learned in school," Accosta said.

The middle school students said having the older kids around is a great benefit.

"I really like that they play the games with us," Sheldon said. "If the teams aren't even or if someone's not playing fair they jump in and help out."

King said it is this kind of non-competitive activity the NASH program emphasizes.

"Competition is not bad, but they get so much of it sometimes, it's nice for them to have a place they can come and just play," she said.

She also said the Center tries to stay away from set schedules of activities, in order for the kids to decide what they would like to do.

"They get enough of that all day in school," King said. "We want them to have a place where they can just go and have fun."

The program runs throughout the school year. Refreshments are offered and is open to middle school students. Parents may also join in anytime they like.

Nield was target of 1998 investigation

one was taking down "Vote No" signs at locations throughout the township at about 1 a.m. Aug. 3, 1998. Nield said he had arrived back in Northville Township about midnight after coming home from northern Michigan and wanted to get the signs up in time for the election.

Nield was pulled over at Northville Road south of Seven Mile Road.

The report said Nield told officers he did not take any signs down and he planned to put up "Vote No" signs throughout the night.

A police search of the car found no "Vote Yes" signs and a "trunk full of Vote No signs."

A follow-up investigation was conducted by Northville Township Police Detective Fred Yankee. The investigation was conducted because the "Vote Yes" signs didn't indicate who paid for them, Snider said, and it was thought that may be a law violation.

Sue Hillebrand, township clerk and board member, said she was asked by Karen Woodside, township supervisor, to provide a copy of campaign laws including the law of disclosure on political signs.

"I usually have one or two copies of those law on hand in packets for candidates," Hillebrand said.

Woodside said the township had concerns because the "Vote No" signs didn't indicate who paid for them.

Additionally, Woodside said she had no recollection about the follow-up investigation.

"I was notified that he was found by the fire department removing signs," she said. "How the police followed up on it I don't know."

Township Detective Fred Yankee investigated the matter during normal business hours. Snider said, as is typically done with incidents that happen during the mid-night shift.

After Yankee's investigation, Walsh cleared Nield of the incident within 24 hours citing an attorney general's opinion from 1996 that said whoever paid for the signs doesn't need to be revealed on them.

But Nield said he was surprised when he learned earlier this week Walsh handled the case.

"I think it's very interesting Ray Walsh was involved with this and was involved in this within 24 hours of my getting pulled over," Nield said.

Walsh did not return a telephone message left at his house with a family member.

Additionally, Nield said the incidents of August 1998 and the investigation conducted from March through July of this year by Michigan State Police should be viewed as separate.

That's despite the fact the original complaint filed by Walsh in March includes an allegation of election law violation in addition to larceny by conversion.

Nield was cleared in July after an investigation was conducted into his involvement with Families for a Better Northville. The investigation started after unknown person(s) contacted the Wayne County prosecutor's office allegedly informing the office Nield was using school district copiers, paper and labor to prepare mailings in the organization's campaign to facilitate an agreement between the township and school district over the building of the new high school.

The original complaint was sent to Northville Police who passed the investigation to Michigan State Police. That investigation included 14 people along with Nield who produced receipts for all items purchased out of his own pocket.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's office cleared Nield of the larceny by conversion charge in July.

However, he has yet to be cleared of the election law violation, a charge Nield admitted was baffling to him.

"I didn't know we had an election in March," he said.

Northville Police Chief Jim Petres said he added the charge to the report when Walsh first contacted him with the allegation of larceny by conversion.

"If the allegations had been true that he was using public funds for the recall effort, we had to put forward the potential for election law violation," Petres said.

Under state statutes, public funds can't be used for election-related business, Petres said.

Nield said he feels confident that charge will be dropped too.

"As of this moment I have not been cleared of that charge," Nield said. "But I have the impression the attorney general is going to clear me of that violation too."

important files related to the business, so he was stopped.

When the files he was deleting and others yet to be deleted were opened, the images of child pornography were discovered, Wildt said.

"As soon as we saw what the files were, we were called," Wildt said.

In Michigan, a person who knowingly possesses any child sexually abusive material is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for not more than one year, or a fine of not more than $10,000 or both, if that person knows, has reason to know, or should reasonably be expected to know the child is a child or that person has not taken reasonable precautions to determine the age of the child.

"For reasons I couldn't possibly understand, this man is most likely aroused by these images," Wildt said.

Wildt said Internet users who like child pornography sometimes trade the images with each other through e-mail and web sites and codify

"They can be a lot like a spider web in that one Web site can be linked to other Web sites," Wildt said.

That was why Northville Township Police suspect the man may have closer to 2,000 child pornography images on his computer, Wildt said. Township police still are going through the computer files, Wildt said, with an on-staff computer expert.

Applied skill

Program helps students gain technological skills

By MELANIE PLEND
Staff Writer

People have yet to see all that students at Meads Mill Middle School are capable of, according to applied technologies teacher Rick Crossman.

However, he said with the new applied technology program, which is in its first year at the school, students will get a chance to show their stuff.

"Who knows what creativity lurks in the minds of these kids?" Crossman said. "That's what we are hoping to discover."

The school is hosting the pilot program of this project that has been two years in the making. Students are learning computer-aided design as well as the manufacturing of those designs. Their manufacturing area comes complete with its own T-shirt design station and wind tunnel.

"Learning this is going to put us in high demand someday," eighth grader Andrew Moore said.

The aim of the program, Meads

Mill principal Susan Meyer said, is to show students the link between what the science books say and its practical application.

"I like that we get to actually touch the stuff we are learning about," eighth grader Shivani Agrawal said. "It's not the same experience when you just read about it."

Students are studying many facets of technology including Meyer said aeronautics and space.

"They are learning how rockets work from the books, but then they go to their computers design their own and from those designs go in the work shop and build it."

Part of being a pilot program means that Meads Mill is the first to discover the bugs in the program, Meyer said. She said the school is finding things like the need for more electrical outlets and a greater capacity for electricity. Additionally, some of the computer programs have flaws which cause crashes in the system.

"We are working through the bugs," Meyer said. "It hasn't affected the students progress though since they still can do book and manufacturing work."

Once tested at Meads Mill, there are plans for this program to be in every school in the district, Meyer said.

"We are so lucky to be the first," she said. "Now when our kids go on to the new high school they will be able to be advisors to the program."

There are already plans to have the applied tech work stations in the existing high school for the incoming middle school students.

Crossman said as technology progresses, they will be able to do even greater things.

"I want to develop a part of the lesson where the students design the curriculum for the class and tell me what they want to study," he said. "It's limitless what we can accomplish with this program."

Full time management is a necessity in township

Give the position any label you want, but we believe residents a-plenty need to be out in force at the Nov. 11 Northville Township hearing on what residents would like to see in a full-time superintendent.

Aside from the ballot box, this may be the most important opportunity for residents to have their voices heard, especially when the board is asking for public input.

We've made no bones about the fact we believe that Northville Township is way overdue for some type of full-time management. There's simply too much going on between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to not have someone at the helm anymore. It's something like an auto company having loads of people working the assembly line, but no one in the front office overseeing operations.

The board of trustees is very familiar with managers, having had nearly a half-dozen of them in the 1990s, none of which were able to last more than a couple of years. Obviously, the formula the board had whipped up wasn't working.

At least there's recognition of those shortcomings, and there's a realization that since a superintendent would be the face most often seen at township hall, that person should be someone able to work with community members.

We still maintain that with 18 months since the township began this latest exploration of enhanced day-to-day management, there should be no shortage of information at the trustees' disposal. And as such, the trustees — those persons who were elected to represent residents and handle the business of the community — should be the ones making decisions about a manager.

Nevertheless, if it's input the board wants, we believe it's input the board should get. Here are a few things we think the board should look for in a superintendent:

We've made no bones about the fact we believe that Northville Township is way overdue for some type of full-time management. There's simply too much going on between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to not have someone at the helm anymore.

• Accessibility: the township needs someone who can put in 40 hours a week.

• Communication skills: most problems arise when a free flow of information is impeded.

• Enthusiasm: Northville Township is a dynamic, changing, fast-paced community. A sparkplug personality is a must-have.

• Responsibility: a superintendent is an executive, not a legislator. As such, the person must be able to make sensible recommendations to the trustees, then accept the actions taken and move ahead with them, regardless of whether or not he or she agrees with them.

Those are just a few. We're sure there are more out there. We hope Northville Township residents bring them to township hall next Thursday.

who had fought so bravely.

Since Nov. 11, 1911, the United States has been involved in World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, and a string of military actions — all of which have cost human life.

Was it the War To End All Wars? Obviously not. But what World War I and Veterans Day has given us is an annual reminder that freedom isn't free, and that the liberties we enjoy haven't come without a price.

There aren't many World War I veterans around any more, and those that remain are largely in the autumn of their own lives — a poetic metaphor, given the time of year. But we know the memories of their efforts still burn bright in their hearts and minds.

The next time you see the American flag flying, take a moment to think of what those stars and stripes mean. The flag isn't there just because it looks beautiful against a blue sky.

It's there because some very brave people gave us the chance to put it there.

Thank a vet this Veterans Day.

We need to take the time to honor nation's veterans

Maybe it's because there aren't any days off from school, nor maddening 12-hour furniture sales, nor parades in the streets. Maybe it's because Nov. 11 is usually cold and murky. Or maybe it's because World War I is now some 88 years in the past.

Maybe it's because of a little bit of all these reasons that Armistice Day, now known as Veterans Day, isn't well-remembered.

Rest assured, we do remember, and we hope other residents do, too.

There was an air of a movie-like conclusion when the Axis powers signed the agreement to end the War To End All Wars at 11 a.m. on the 11th day of the 11th month. There was good reason — never before in human history had international conflict been magnified to such global proportions. It was thought that ultimate peace would follow the ultimate war.

Unfortunately, 25 years later, humanity was once again caught up in the horrors of hate and bloodshed, which must have come as a shock and grave disappointment to those

Unfortunately, 25 years later, humanity was once again caught up in the horrors of hate and bloodshed, which must have come as a shock and grave disappointment to those who had fought so bravely.

What is an opinion worth in this town?

Jim Nield and Kevin Hartshorne are two distinctly different people, who share a common trait.

They may run in different circles — Jim a highly successful business entrepreneur and Kevin a successful blue collar type guy. Their lifestyles are completely different, and that's not a knock on either of them, because both are self-made individuals with strong personalities and opinions.

As a matter of fact, the reason I bring the two up is that they both operate out of the "norm" when it comes to involving themselves in the business of their community. And lately, both have received publicity for taking action to bring change to Northville.

But that's not necessarily the point of this column. The two only serve as backdrops for the comments that will follow.

Jim Nield, as we all know, has spent the better part of the last year under the public microscope. An investigation, launched by Ray Walsh of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, has landed Jim on the front page of this newspaper for 20 out of the last 24 weeks. During that time we uncovered inconsistencies in the story being woven by the prosecutor's office as to why the investigation was even launched. It seems the only thing Jim Nield did was to question the actions of his local government — which, at last check, isn't considered a crime in this country.

And if that wasn't bad enough, we discover this week that Walsh also initiated another investigation of Nield, back in August, 1998, for placing "Vote No" signs in public right-of-way on the eve of the township millage

A little unorthodox? Yes. A bit irritating? Sure. But hardly a crime. Yet Walsh and the prosecutor's office felt it was something that should be investigated with vigor. After all, we can't have someone running around expressing his opinion. Never mind that the First Amendment protects our right of free speech and expression.

So what do we do here in merry old Northville when one of our own begins running around spouting off opinions we don't like? Well, we find a way to silence them, of course.

Which brings me to Kevin Hartshorne. Kevin, as many of you may know, is a Northville city councilman. He can be a bit brash at times, and I might not exactly like what his opinion on issues may be, but I do know this: Kevin Hartshorne always has the taxpayers at heart when he votes. That's something I respect.

Unfortunately, some of his colleagues don't share my opinion (nothing new there). Take Monday's council meeting for instance. The council was getting ready to make its decision on the sale of city owned property to developer Dennis Engerer. Two plots of prime land were to be sold and the sale price being brought before the council was close to $150,000. The property was worth $130,000 in 1985 — with inflation that's $198,000 in today's dollars.

That didn't sit well with Hartshorne, who reminded his colleagues that they had promised taxpayers that they would not sell the land for any less than 10 to 15 percent of fair market value. Kevin felt the city could have sought more money for the land, and he voiced his displeasure to the public.

That's when the "piling on" began. First it was councilman John Hardin, who essentially told Hartshorne that if he was so concerned with the price that perhaps he should find the money and buy it himself. Then came comments from mayor pro-tem Carolann Ayers...and so on, and so on.

What the rest of the council seems to forget that the land isn't theirs, it belongs to the taxpayers. And the taxpayers elect officials to act in their best interests, not in the interest of downtown development.

The bottom line is that the council didn't take kindly to Hartshorne's opinion, so they did what they could to silence him. Forget that Hartshorne had every right, and as an elected official had the obligation to make that point.

Which makes me wonder — can one truly afford to share their ideas and opinions in this town? In the case of Jim Nield and Kevin Hartshorne, I'd have to say definitely not.

In Focus by John Heider

Sobering lesson

Utilizing the help of index cards, with his text written on them, John Foley and his occupational therapist Sherry Duff tell Meads Mill Middle School students how the decisions Foley made with alcohol ended up severely impacting his life after he crashed his car while intoxicated in the mid-1980s.

Take a moment and save your rights

You only have to protect the rights you want to keep. That phrase is terribly patriotic. I know. Either I have a touch of election fever or it's the fact that five school bills have come across my desk in as many weeks.

Why all the sudden school spirit in the State Congress, you ask? I'm asking the same question.

Let's see, this week we have the government telling the district when their kindergartners are ready to start school. We have the government telling the district that the Department of Education is no longer capable of running standardized tests and that the bean counters in the department of Finance can do much better. Several weeks ago we had them telling us, "You know, the protocol you've developed over years of study for suspending students: not good enough." Instead legislators don't believe students should have due process.

Hmm... seems as though the government thinks we need some babysitting.

Isn't that funny. Well, I guess they would know, since they are in or near our schools everyday. I guess they would know too, because they attend biweekly school board meetings.

Oh, wait a minute...no that's not the State government...that's us.

We are in the schools everyday and go to the meetings and keep our fingers on the pulses of what is happening in our district. Yet they are under the impression they know what is good for our district.

Now I am willing to concede that Northville very often is the exception to the rule. In many of these bills, should they become laws, we still have to abide by them. However, it is unnecessary meddling by the government in affairs that they have no first-hand knowledge.

And who is responsible for this? Very simply, we are responsible. We are letting legislators of other districts, districts that may need overzealous legislation, dictate to us what's good for the Northville goose.

Jerry Rupley had an idea at the last school board meeting that was downright revolutionary, shocking even.

Rupley suggested that we...gasp...write our legislators.

Horrible. I know, because I am sure many of us don't.

Think of it — in the time it takes to scribe an e-mail message telling me I'm a horrible speller, you could be saving a right.

Additionally, think of this: we are debating issues like MEAP and weighted grades. Though at times it gets unpleasant, at least we can debate issues that affect our district and effect necessary changes.

The trend seems to show that fewer and fewer of these issues that affect our schools will be open for debate. For example, a few weeks ago, Governor John Engler signed an executive order taking the MEAP out of the Department of Education.

Now, he is well within his right under the State's Constitution to do this but that doesn't make it a good decision. Many school administrators didn't even know that this was a law and the Senators that represent us were powerless to do anything about it. We have some very good Senators and Representatives covering our turf. Reps that we have hired to do a job. Let's not make that job harder by forcing them to speculate what we want.

Let's tell them that Northville wants to keep their right to provide the education they deem fit for their children.

Efficient? No — Engler is power-hungry

Gov. John Engler last week transferred responsibility for (a) adult and vocational education to the Department of Career Development and (b) state education assessment tests (MEAP) to the Department of Treasury. Both programs previously had been run by the Department of Education.

I thought the headline in The Macomb Daily caught it just right: "Is Engler power mad or just efficient?"

As evidence for the efficiency school of thought, consider the shift of career and technical services and adult education to the Department of Career Development.

I chaired the Job Training Coordinating Commission during the 1980s. In those days, responsibility for job training and career development was inefficiently splattered all over state government. That's why I thought it was right for Engler to create the new Department of Career Development; it concentrated responsibility and accountability for career-related programs and job training into one administrative unit.

Now moving staff overseeing adult education and vocational schools, including vocational courses at community colleges, to the Career Development department makes sense for the same reason. It strategically links adult and vocational education together with community colleges in one coherent part of state government. Given how important high skills are for Michigan kids and businesses alike, I can only applaud Engler's move.

As evidence supporting the power mad charge, consider what the governor has done to the MEAP program.

MEAP stands for the Michigan Educational Assessment Program, covering reading, writing, science and math, with social science to be added soon. Eleventh graders who pass all tests can be awarded $2,500 Merit college scholarships, beginning with the June 2000 graduating class.

Responsibility for the MEAP test has been in the hands of the Department of Education for years. Under its leadership, the test has been one of the most powerful tools for school reform because it assesses what kids actually learn in school and provides solid evidence where individual schools need to do better.

Last year, however, in creating the Merit scholarship program and linking it to MEAP test results, the legislature created a new Michigan Merit Award Board. This provided a convenient rationale for moving oversight of MEAP tests from the education folks to, of all places, the Department of Treasury.

The relevant paragraph from the governor's press release read: "Because the law requires that the Michigan Merit Award Board review and approve the assessment tests before they may be used to determine eligibility under the scholarship program, the responsibility for the administration of MEAP is transferred to the Department of Treasury."

What's that? Transfer responsibility for the biggest tool for school reform from educators to bean counters in the treasury?

As evidence for "power mad," consider that of the seven members of the Merit board, six are Engler appointees: Mark Murray, head of Treasury; Barbara Bolin, director of Career Development; Kathleen Barclay, vice president of global human resources for General

Phil Power

Motors: Clark Durant, who recently resigned from the State Board of Education after missing the majority of its meetings during his last three years; Isalah "Ike" McKinnon, former Detroit police chief; and one person yet to be named. (The seventh board member is Art Ellis, who gets his seat because he is Superintendent of Education.)

Excepting Ellis, who runs the Department of Education, none of the Merit Board members has any background in K-12 administration, curriculum development or education reform. Murray, who chairs the Merit board, is widely regarded as a sane and thoughtful guy, but he doesn't know much about educational assessments.

Members of the State Board of Education, who are elected statewide (and, therefore, not under Engler's thumb) blasted the move.

"It makes no sense at all to pull responsibility for the MEAP test away from educators and give it to people who know nothing about testing," said member Sharon Gire, a former Democratic state representative. Dorothy Beardmore, a Republican member from Rochester, pointed out that "testing is very technical. It should be based on curriculum standards, which remain in the Department of Education. There is no logic at all in the MEAP move."

Forget all the hot air coming out of the governor's office about better coordination of the MEAP test with the Merit scholarship. The purpose of the MEAP test is not to determine who gets Merit scholarships; the purpose of the MEAP test is to improve education.

It's hard to see anything here other than a pure grab for power.

Hometown Holiday Lighted Parade scheduled

To the editor:

The fifth annual Hometown Holidays Lighted Parade is scheduled for Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m. through downtown Northville. The parade, sponsored by the Northville Central Business Association, is in need of participants. Floats, equestrian units, canine corps, choral groups, decorated vehicles are encouraged to apply. All vehicles and participants should be well-lit for maximum "dazzle" and have holiday music audible on both sides of the street for the enjoyment of the spectators. In order to participate, all entries are subject to safety and appropriate content guidelines. Monetary prizes will be awarded in two categories to be determined. Please call (248) 344-4321 for further information and application materials.

We hope to see everyone at the Lighted Parade and the community sing that precedes it.

Don't rush, count that change

To the editor:
In our hurry-up world and the big shopping season ahead, I'd like to give all shoppers a warning.

On Oct. 23, my secretary shopped at Meijer at Haggerty and Eight Mile Road. Her purchases were over $100 and she gave the cashier three $50 bills. The cashier wrapped up her change with a long list of items. She put the bill along with the change in her purse without checking her bill or change. When she arrived home, she checked it out and it was $25 short.

She immediately called the store, talked to the manager and told him her story. He said he would check the cashier's drawer and call her. He called and said her drawer was 7 cents over.

My warning in shopping. Hand the cashier the bill and change back and have the cashier count it out in front of you.

Effort was very rewarding

To the editor:
It's richly rewarding to be involved with a community fundraiser where you can work creatively with several generations. This year's Maybury Haunted Forest Walk (in October), for the Northville Parks and Rec. was once again a perfect opportunity. John and Carolyn Showalter's son Bryan, a NHS sophomore, joined other area students in creating inhabited tunnels and mazes for the walk. In our set, both Carolyn and her spy 71-year-old mother Margaret allowed themselves to be placed repeatedly by Bill Gates's Frankenstein (played by giant John) into a coffin and whisked away. Now that's commitment.

Other parent/son duos working in the sets included Marti and Will Davenport, Mike and Justin Kolbow, Tom and Jim Holden, and myself and son Randy. Thanks also to Bob Gutowski, Perry Roberts and our master electrician Greg Andersen (we had powered-up computer monitors hanging out in the rain, for cryin' out loud!). Our hat's off also to Scott Baker's dedicated group - Plymouth folk helping out a Northville cause. Next year we hope to get even more student, as well as adult, participation. There's a lot of under-utilized theatrical talent out there.

Support for weighted grades

To the editor:
I am a parent of three elementary school age children. Obviously, Advanced Placement courses are not an issue for our family right now. But reading your point of view on weighted grades brought back some memories of an issue that I feel as strongly about now as I did 25 years ago.

In 1975, I was a student considering whether to risk a C in an Advanced Placement course, or take the easy A in the regular course. Weighted grades were not an option. The incentive to take the more difficult course was that you would learn more in the AP course, thus making you better prepared for college. The downside was that the college admissions people might not recognize that a B or a C in an Advanced Placement course was roughly equal to an A in a regular course. Clearly, there wasn't much motivation to take the Advanced Placement courses, unless you were pretty darn sure you could ace them. Thus, students really had gamble on the potential benefits of taking the more difficult courses, versus the chances of performing poorly (that is, getting a C).

In the past 25 years, some aspects of this age-old issue have changed. Most importantly, I have to believe that the more elite colleges do consider weighted grades from AP courses. It is a much more common practice than it was 25 years ago. Students in many school districts are rewarded for their efforts with a weighted grading system: one that recognizes that AP English is more rigorous than regular English 12 (if that is what it is still called). It is about getting over a 4.25 GPA. It is about getting the credit deserved for taking a more difficult course load.

I suspect that it is mainly the parents of kids who can't handle the AP courses who seem to think that it is unfair to reward the AP students with weighted grades. To that, I would say: let your kid try those more difficult courses for one semester, and then tell me if you still think the AP students don't deserve a weighted grade for their efforts. I think the real window dressers are those who take the easiest courses possible, just to crank out a perfect 4.0.

The more your business cares about how we do in school
the more we will.

You can help students everywhere and help your business at the same time. How? By asking potential employees for their high school records.

84% of high school students say they'd work harder if they knew that employers would look at their transcripts. Thousands of businesses are already requesting records.

When you ask, you'll be sending a powerful message to students: "How you do in school can help determine what kind of job you'll get, how much you'll earn, even how far you'll go."

What does your business gain? Better students make better entry level workers; they have lower failure rates and require less skills training. You can learn a lot about a student from a school record: grades, courses taken, attendance, and extracurricular activities.

So start now by logging on to www.makingacademicscount.org for information on making academics count.

Make asking for student records business as usual.

Destination Imagination teams forming

By MELANIE PLEND
Staff Writer

Local students are preparing for an odyssey of imagination and problem solving at this year's Michigan Creativity Association's Destination Imagination.

"Activities like these really allow kids the opportunity to think outside the box, and allows any type of kid can participate," said facilitator Joan Wadsworth.

Michigan Creative Association went through some strenuous reorganization this summer, according to Hugh MacKechnie, regional director of the Association.

Due to ongoing litigation the Michigan Board of Education had to make a decision as to what creativity program to endorse.

MacKechnie said the Board decided to join with several other states and foreign countries and go with the non-profit program called Destination Imagination instead of Odyssey of the Mind.

"It was strongly felt that we should go with a non-profit program since our success relies so heavily on the strength of volunteers," MacKechnie said. She said teams of five to seven students get together to solve one open-ended story problem creatively.

The projects are "real world" problems that students must solve using some unconventional methods, Wadsworth said.

For example, in one problem — the "non-Leaning Tower of Pasta" — students are asked to design and build a structure made entirely of pasta and glue.

The team's structure is then scored based on how effectively it supports weight applied in an off-center way. This means that the structure must be designed to handle the load without becoming a "leaning" tower of pasta. They are also judged on the innovation the team shows in the design and construction of their structure.

The final component of the project is an oral presentation which includes artistic, performance, and improvisational elements in eight minutes or less.

"The projects are very challenging," Wadsworth said. "The kids really make them their own, and although they are only solving one problem, by the end they have solved hundreds."

Some of the other projects to choose from are the "Fruit Roller Coaster", where students make a roller coaster out of tennis balls; "Mixing Apples and Oranges" where students create an original story of an adoption between two species; and "If Music be the Fruit of Life...Play On," where students create an instrumental story without the help of words.

She said the projects help to give students confidence in their problem-solving abilities as well as team building skills.

Teams come from all levels from grades kindergarten through 12, and all are given the same set of questions.

"The younger ones get a kick out of the fact that they are solving the same problems that the big ones are," she said. "I even heard the big kids saying, 'I would have never thought of that,' about the little ones."

The teams get together months in advance to prepare for the final competition. Wadsworth said. During this time they are given a budget of $100 which cannot be exceeded. Wadsworth said this forces the students to use their imaginations and come up with materials for projects that are not necessarily store-bought.

Wadsworth said though there is adult supervision of the projects, the coaches do not help the students solve the problems.

"The coach is really a facilitator," she said. "The kids do what they want with the projects. We are just there to keep them on task."

She also said the students that participate are in for a fairly large time commitment. Teams are forming now through January for students and coaches.

There will be a workshop at 6:30 p.m. at Meads Mill Middle School Jan. 20 and a Mock competition also at Meads Mill Feb. 4. The regional competition will be held March 4 at Grosse Pointe High School in Grosse Pointe Woods with the State Finals April 5 at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Northville School Briefs

MEETING DATES CHANGED

Two regularly scheduled Board of Education Meetings locations have been changed. The Nov. 11 meeting will be held at Amerman instead of Old Village School. Additionally, the Dec. 14 meeting will be held at Silver Springs instead of Old Village School.

They will still begin at 7:30 p.m.

CABLE CHANNEL TO SHOW NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Those curious about the new Northville High School and other school district bond projects need not wait for the dedications to go sightseeing. MediaOne will broadcast a video tour of the projects on Channel 18 for three consecutive Thursdays beginning Oct. 28.

All broadcasts begin at 5 p.m.

DISTRICT SEEKS SUBSTITUTES

The Northville Public School District is seeking substitute employees for the following positions:

Substitute teachers, bus Drivers, custodians, paraprofessionals, secretaries, and cafeteria assistants.

Positions are on-call as needed. Hours vary from as little as 90 minutes to eight hours per day. Additionally, there is an opportunity for full-time employment.

STUDENTS FREE, STAFF ISN'T ON NOV. 2

Northville High School students will be out of school on Nov. 2. Teachers will have a professional development day.

BIG CROWDS FLOOD PTSA MEETING

The Northville High School PTSA parent discussion, sponsored by the Northville Council of PTA's, saw a standing-room only crowd at its last meeting.

The discussions are used as a means of airing common concerns among parents, networking, and information gathering.

The next meeting will be Nov. 5 at 9:30 a.m.

SCHOOL WORKS LIONS' GAMES FOR FUNDRAISERS

Senior parents and students are running concession stands at the Pontiac Silverdome during the Detroit Lions home football games.

The proceeds from the stand will go toward the cost of the Senior Prom.

Volunteers are still needed and no experience is necessary.

The dates available are: Oct. 31 at 8:40 p.m., Nov. 7 at 1 p.m., Nov. 25 at 12:40 p.m., Dec. 5 at 1:00 p.m., and Dec. 25 at 4:15 p.m.

Additional information can be obtained by calling Lori Brown Platts at (248) 349-1194.

REFLECTIONS CONTEST THEME ANNOUNCED

The theme for the NHS PTSA branch of the National Reflections competition is "Anything is possible." The contest is open to all Northville High School students in the categories of literature, music, photography, and visual arts.

Four winners will be chosen in each division and then will be eligible to go on to the State competition.

The Reflections program is designed to encourage creativity and originality. All entries must be the original design and work of an individual student, with no assistance from any outside source.

Rules and entry forms will be available from the English, art and music teachers at NHS or in the school office.

Deadline for all entries is Jan. 10, 2000.

GALILEO PROJECT IN NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT

School board vice president Martha Nield's Galileo project proposal was accepted by the National School Board Association, as a clinic program offering at their annual conference.

Nield's proposal, "Organization for Change: Galileo Leadership Academy," has been accepted for a "Share the Success" seminar at the NASB's Conference April 4 in the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, Fla.

The NSBA received more than 650 proposals with 250 chosen for placement.

This means that the Galileo Project will be available to teachers nationally.

There is another new hire for the district, bringing the grand total to 51 hires for this year.

Look before you Light

Preparing your fireplace or wood stove before use helps make sure indoor fires are safe as well as warm and cozy.

You'd probably be hard-pressed to find many things more comforting than a roaring fire in your living room fireplace when its 25 degrees outside.

But before it gets too deep into the late fall and winter seasons, officials warn you'd better take extra special care in making sure your fireplace is ready for what you throw at it and that you use your fireplace wisely.

"As soon as the cold weather starts, we get a lot of calls related to fireplace use," said William Zhmendak, Northville Township fire chief. "And most of the time it's because people didn't get their chimney cleaned."

Zhmendak said more people are using fireplaces than ever with most Northville area homes being built with one or two fireplaces in them.

And whether or not the fireplaces are for appearance or a main source of heating, caution needs to be used, Zhmendak said.

Step one: preparation

"One of the big things is to make sure the chimney is inspected annually," he said. "Most chimneys need to be cleaned and inspected by a professional."

Rick Starling, chief building inspector in the city of Northville, said the first step of getting the fireplace inspected professionally goes a long way toward prevention.

"Because of the fact that a naked eye visual inspection is very limited, we recommend a licensed and insured contractor clean and then perform a video inspection of the entire chimney passage area, smoke chamber and damper assembly," Starling said. "If the inspection indicates a problem such as loose joints, cracked flues or tiles, a smoke test should be performed to locate the location and any leakage within the chimney."

The build up of creosote, a tar-like substance formed by the combination of fire smoke and debris hitting a cold chimney on its way out the chimney, can block off smoke from leaving and catch fire easily.

Additionally, Starling said a visual inspection to determine the condition of the firebox, lintel, hearth, interior wall veneer and exterior of the chimney should be performed.

The installation and repair of any type of fireplace in Northville must be inspected by the building department, however, Starling said his department doesn't have the necessary equipment to perform a complete inspection of existing chimneys and fireplace.

However, he said, accommodations may be made to have city staff present during inspections and the review of the inspections.

Step two: more preparation

After the necessary inspections and cleaning have taken place, there are more steps to follow once you get the fire going.

"As soon as the cold weather starts, we get a lot of calls related to fireplace use, and most of the time it's because people didn't get their chimney cleaned."

William Zhmendak,
Northville Township fire chief.

For example, Zhmendak said, keep all furniture and other flammables a minimum of three feet from the fire. Don't burn trash, don't use any flammable liquid to get the fire going and always use fireplace doors and screens.

Additionally, short hot fires instead of long, smoldering fires are preferred.

"A short, hot fire will keep the chimney hot and prevent the build-up of creosote," he said.

Decorations should not be hung from the mantle and chimney, no matter how much care is used, Zhmendak said.

"A spark could easily leave the fire and start a fire on any one of those things," he said.

Zhmendak said care should be used in selecting what kind of wood to burn and he suggests not using any kind of synthetic logs because of carbon monoxide given off by them.

"I don't really like them because they burn unevenly and release a high level of carbon monoxide," Zhmendak said.

When you're done with the fire for the evening, be sure the fire is out completely and don't close the damper if ashes are still hot. Ashes should be removed with a metal container, Zhmendak said.

More information may be obtained by calling the Northville Township fire department at (248) 348-5807 or the city of Northville building department at (248) 349-1300.

'Misplaced' cases bring improvements to Novi Police

More than 120 old police cases were found stuffed into a locked file box shoved to the back of the property room at the Lee C. Begole Police Headquarters.

"We did find an old file cabinet with some old cases dated from 1988 to 1991," said chief Douglas Schaeffer earlier this week. "They are in various stages of completion. On some of them, you couldn't tell if any work had been done on any of them."

Although police are unsure who the cases were assigned to, the department has contacted several recently-retired detectives to ask about the files. Five detectives retired in January of 1996.

— from the Novi News
November 7, 1996

By CHRIS C. DAVIS
Copy Editor

There was perhaps no one more upset about the discovery of mothballed police cases in 1996 than Novi police chief Doug Schaeffer.

Except for maybe the people who were waiting in limbo for their cases to be attended to by the police.

"I didn't have the privilege of firing the person," Schaeffer said. "It's too bad that individual was gone before I could."

Regardless, the guilty party is no longer working for the Novi police department and probably won't be seen around Ten Mile and Novi roads anytime soon. But what's more important, Schaeffer said, was the improvements that were made in the cataloging of incident reports once they were taken by the Novi police.

"I'm very confident, based on the changes we've made, that what happened before will never happen again," he said.

According to Schaeffer, the cases — which Schaeffer said were hidden from plain view — were discovered by accident when officers were going about their normal course of business. Most of the cases, Schaeffer said, had to do with checks that were returned as having insufficient funds to cover.

Because of the time lapse between when the incidents were originally reported and when police discovered the dated cases, many of the trails were stone cold, Schaeffer said.

"We were able to prosecute a few of the cases, but most of them we weren't," he said. "It was a very frustrating thing for us."

Schaeffer said that after investigations on the cases resumed, police supervisors tried getting in contact with the parties responsible. Schaeffer said those persons declined to speak with their former employer. Prosecutors opted not to take on a case against the ex-cops, he said.

So what's changed since that time? Much, said Schaeffer, including a new tracking system and more streamlined internal approach to handling files.

"Ever since that happened, we've made it a habit to work through cases on a daily basis," Schaeffer said. "We've got a new computer tracking program that makes it virtually impossible to forget about a case. Once it's entered into the system, it's in there forever. It can't go anywhere."

Schaeffer said that though what happened three years ago was disappointing to him, the modifications made in the case-tracking process were made substantially better as a result.

"There's no question we're better off now than where we were," he said. "We definitely don't want a repeat of that again."

Beautification commission recognizes winners

NOVI BEAUTIFICATION COMMISSION

Reports of the beautification awards breakfast will be given at the meeting on Nov. 9 at 7:15 p.m. in the managers conference room. Commission members Barb Keintz and Pat Barney will also report on the Keep Michigan Beautiful awards banquet, which they recently attended in Traverse City.

The Novi Town Center received the 1999 Distinguished Service Award at this year's annual conference. Mr. and Mrs. James Clear of the Linder Co. were present to accept this prestigious award. Selection was made from several entries throughout the state; pictures illustrating beautifully landscaped entrances.

In the Novi area, the commissioners and participants from the 1998 awards took several weeks to complete the judging. Winners included: single family (Turberry Estates), industrial (Crosswinds Corporate headquarters), place of worship (Meadowbrook Congregational Church), shopping center (Novi Town Center), individual business (Glenda's), government (Novi Civic Center), schools (Novi High School), and multi-family housing (Fountain Park Apartments).

In addition, more than 70 honorable mentions received certificates and more than 40 finalists received recognition at the annual breakfast held at the Civic Center.

Novi Highlights

THE NOVI JAYCEES

The Jaycees were busy last month in planning their Halloween Haunted House activities in addition to assisting the South Lyon House and the Bedford group with their Halloween events. They also co-sponsored with the League of Women Voters, a candidates night in the city council chambers. The Jaycees attend council meetings which are held the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. and encourage citizens to attend.

The group also participated in the community project, "Kid Care ID." Pictures and fingerprints were taken of the children, then given to the parents as an official document of identification. A Novi police officer administered the fingerprinting segment. The event took place at the Twelve Oaks Mall McDonald's location.

Recent activities included traveling to Wards Apple Orchard in Ypsilanti for an afternoon of candle-making, taking helicopter rides, visiting a haunted house, and taking home apples.

The Jaycees enjoy several fun activities, such as attending a movie as a group, and dinner and decision-making of a movie at the Mongolian Barbecue. Later in the month, Thank Jaycees It's Friday is held.

Future dates include: Nov. 5-7, State

Assembly in Lansing; Nov. 13, 6:30 p.m. and Nov. 14, 12:30 p.m., planning the eighth annual Madrigal Dinner presented by Novi High school choirs.

Though there is a change in dates this year, the format is the same: dinner, short play, poets, street dancers, and peddlers. Directors of the event are Paula Joyner-Clinaud and Stacey Becker. Tickets are $25. For more information, call (248) 449-1500.

NOVI CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber luncheon this month will be at Too Chez on Nov. 16 with Tom Woodruff, chairman of the Chamber Board of Directors, presenting "Year in Review." Reservations must be made by Nov. 12.

This will also be the kick-off for the $5,000 Holiday Shopping Spree raffle, tickets for which will be $100 each. Only 100 will be sold. If you win, you may use your winnings to shop at any Novi business or chamber member business outside of Novi. You have your choice of what day in January to shop and on your special day, the chamber will furnish transportation and lunch.

The chamber will be accepting canned goods and new unwrapped toys at the Nov. 16 luncheon for the Novi Goodfellows, who will be helping local families in need this year. Cash donations will also be accepted and used to purchase needed items for these families. Please make checks payable to the Novi Goodfellows.

In addition, food or monetary donations for the Goodfellows will be accepted at Novi's annual Main Street Holiday Walk Nov. 23, held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. inside Main Street Atrium. Santa Claus will be making an appearance. Donations can also be made at the Holiday Open House Dec. 8, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Fifth Avenue Ballroom.

Lunch and Learn Internet Series will be on Nov. 18, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Walsh College. The topic of the program will be "Internet Basics." The cost of $20 per person will include a box lunch. To register or for more information, call the chamber at (248) 349-3743.

Looking to Christmas gifts, the chamber will present gift certificates to anyone of your choice by purchasing a ticket for them to the "Magical Night to Remember," March 11, 2000. The evening will include dinner, entertainment, raffles, and surprise celebrities.

NOVI UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Auction 1999 is being held at the church on Nov. 6. Doors open at 6 p.m., dinner is slated for 7 p.m., and is followed by the auction. Tickets are still available. Call the church at (248) 349-2652 for information.

Several local businesses are providing menu items as well as auction and sport articles, use of a Florida condo, gift baskets, craft items, Walling's honey, and reserved church parking, among other things.

Also scheduled this month is the plant and bake sale on Nov. 13 and the Dorcas Circle meeting on Nov. 16. JoAnn Doederlein of the American House Senior Complex will be guest speaker at the Dorcas meeting. "Invitation Sunday" followed by an International Potluck is scheduled for Nov. 21. On Nov. 24 at 7 p.m. the church family will be combining attendance at the Thanksgiving community service held at Faith Presbyterian Church. Nov. 28 is the "Hanging of the Greens" and a potluck.

Planned for Dec. 4 is a concert by the Novi Choralaires. The annual and very popular program, "Christmas by Candlelight" is set for Dec. 9, with tickets going on sale Nov. 7. Investing can be confusing, but doesn't have to be

Many people have a mental block when it comes to investments. To the neophyte, the investment world often seems ominous and threatening, full of pitfalls for the uninitiated. This need not be the case, for the basics can be understood by even the beginning investor.

Investing means managing your resources so that you can preserve your money's buying power, generate more money and obtain income. Once you decide to put your money to work by investing it, you will need a procedure for making sense of the multitude of financial options available to you.

You can begin by clarifying your investment goals. Ask yourself the following: Where am I now financially? Where do I want to be in five, 10, 20 years? You will have to take a financial inventory to assess where you are now. Ideally, this should be done when you are not under pressure.

Once you have carefully made this inventory, taking into account, for example, your liquid assets, fixed assets and obligations, you should be ready to identify where you want to be at the end of a specific period of time. Keep in mind that your goals will differ at different times in your life. For example, if you were to marry or receive an inheritance, your financial planning would change.

Michael Wagner

Personal Finance

It will be helpful to have a guide and mentor on this journey you are taking. His or her selection of investment vehicles should be done with a great deal of care. If you select an investment broker as your guide, choose someone from a reputable brokerage house, where the research available to you will be of the highest quality.

A good way to begin your search for a broker might be to introduce yourself to the manager of a local brokerage firm. Let the manager recommend one or two brokers for you to interview.

Look for a personal rapport with your potential broker. Beware of a high pressure salesman, someone who is not willing to spend time with you, nor willing to admit a mistake. Ask the prospective broker what you can expect of him and how much time he can give you. He should feel free to call you with recommendations, and you should feel free to come to him with your questions.

Once you have selected this individual with whom you feel comfortable, he/she should help you in evaluating your financial situation and identifying your investment goals. You will also want to explore such issues as: How much risk of volatility can I tolerate? Do I feel more comfortable with stocks, or would I prefer a highly rated municipal bond? Should I look at tax-advantaged investments? Which investments provide income exempt from federal and state taxes?

Together, you and your broker should review the many financial options available to you, such as corporate and municipal bonds, common and preferred stocks, listed options, and tax-advantaged investments, to name a few. Your broker will help you to understand the different types of investments and can point out to you which of the diverse financial instruments available would best fulfill your objectives.

If, for instance, current income for investments is of paramount importance to you, you would be interested in regular dividends, an attractive rate of return, and safety of principal and liquidity, should you need funds on short notice.

As you work with your investment broker, you should make every effort to become as knowledgeable as possible about financial markets. This will help both you and your broker. Become acquainted with The Wall Street Journal and the financial section of your local newspaper. You may even want to scan periodicals, such as Barron's, Forbes and Business Week.

In short, you as an investor should learn all you can, so that you can be a full partner with your carefully chosen financial advisor in planning and executing a flexible, responsive investment strategy that conforms with your investment goals. The more time and attention you are willing to devote to this undertaking, the more you will accomplish. Study and experience, along with timely information and transactions, are the keys. The rewards of successful investing can be great enough to be worth the effort.

CommunityEvents

The 21st annual Children's Christmas Workshop is slated for Dec. 4, but registration for the event begins Nov. 5. The workshops allow children to create their own hand-made gifts for the holidays. Children will be able to make several gifts which are wrapped and tagged. The cost of the event is $10 if a participant brings their own 1 pound, 12 ounce coffee can, or $12 if not. For more information, call (248) 349-2833.

Cub Scout Pack 746, Bear Den 3 will be collecting returnable cans and bottles to raise money for purchase of a new digital camera for Thornton Creek Elementary School's media center.

Donations can be dropped off from Nov. 8 through Nov. 12, in the boxes at the entrance of Thornton Creek.

A blood drive will be held at Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church on Nov. 18 from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. For more information, call (248) 374-5956.

Schoolcraft College's annual craft show is slated for Nov. 13 and 14. More than 150 crafters will be on hand, many with holiday gift items available. The show runs 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Nov. 13, and from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 15. For more information, call (734) 462-4417.

The Salvation Army kettle will be in Northville for the Christmas season again beginning Nov. 26 and running through Christmas Eve. Bellsingers will be setting up posts at Shopping Center Market, the Northville post office and Great Harvest Bread Company. For more information on volunteering as a bellsinger, call (248) 348-2678.

The Northville Seniors will be taking a trip on Nov. 10 to the Gem Theater in Detroit to see the stage production "Escanaba in Da Moonlight." The cost for the show is $70. The Seniors will also have the opportunity to get flu shots on Nov. 12 through Northville Parks and Recreation. The cost is $10, but is free with Medicare. For more information on either event, call (248) 349-4140.

The Northville Woman's Club will host Jacquie Martin-Downs as its guest speaker at the group's Nov. 5 meeting at First Presbyterian Church of Northville. The meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. Martin-Downs is a child advocate at the Wayne County Family Center and director of a family resource center. For more information, call (248) 348-1325.

A memorial service in honor of Veterans Day will be held at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11 in front of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4012. For more information, call (248) 349-

Christmas trees will be on display in businesses throughout Northville beginning Nov. 8 which can be won through a raffle sponsored by the Friends of the Northville District Library. The trees will take on several themes. Those holding the winning tickets will have the trees delivered to their home (within 20 miles of Northville) on Dec. 13 and 14. Tickets will be on sale at merchants displaying the trees. For more information, call (248) 348-6023. Proceeds benefit the materials acquisition of the library.

The Roses-West Rose Society will be holding its final meeting of the season on Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Novi Civic Center. The meeting will focus on winter protection of flowers. For more information, call (248) 347-0400.

Michigan Streams and Lakes

Great Gift!

Stream Map of Michigan

Why every fisherman and boater needs this map

It is estimated that 10% of all the fishermen catch 90% of the fish. Regardless of which group you fall into...there's a sure way to up your odds...simply try new fishing waters. Fish where few fishermen ever fish.

Michigan is loaded with great fishing waters... many of them overlooked. From the AuSable River to all of the Great Lakes tributaries to the Pere Marquette River...thousands of miles of streams, lakes and rivers are now easy-to-locate on one map.

Professor Higbee's Stream Map of Michigan is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. This new 4 foot by 4 foot color map shows virtually all of the 35,000 miles of Michigan streams & lakes.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is amazingly detailed and names some creeks in the Mohawk Valley that can't even be found on topographic maps."
John Pitarres
OBSERVER-DISPATCH-Una

"If you're looking for the most definitive maps ever created depicting every single creek, river, stream, pond and lake...then 'Professor Higbee's Stream Maps' are without question the finest."
Howard Brant
THE NEWARK STAR-LEDGER

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
Joe Gordon

LOST STREAM MAP FOUND AND RESTORED

The "Stream Map of Pennsylvania" was completed in 1965 after a thirty-year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee succeeded in creating a map of the highest detail possible... a map that shows every stream and lake. He painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto a 3 x 5 foot map.

The map sold extremely well... until it was lost several years after it first appeared in print. Incredibly, the printer entrusted with the original drawing and printing plates, declared bankrupt, then carelessly hauled Higbee's 30 years of work to a landfill.

The few remaining dog-eared copies became a prized fisherman's possession. Professor Higbee was offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Experts told Professor Higbee that reprints were impossible, because the maps were printed in non-topographic blue.

Then, in 1991, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map. Holding an updated map, Howard said, "I never thought I'd live to see this day."

Then, by combining Professor Higbee's knowledge with computer technology-the STREAM MAP OF MICHIGAN was created.

He's all shook up, but still rockin'

Elvis impersonator hits Milford stage

A headstone bears Elvis Presley's name, but the legend of the original gyrating rock and roll star of the 1950s will live on this Friday at Baker's of Milford.

Dave King, an Elvis impersonator, will take stage in Milford at 8:30 p.m. Backed by a 10-piece band, King strikes the familiar poses and duplicates the mannerisms that have become Elvis trademarks, right down to the sweat-soaked scarves tossed into the crowd.

King began performing with his band in 1974, highlighting Presley's music. The shows have won praise from Rolling Stone critic Dave March.

"His legend gets royal treatment," March wrote. "King's care and excellence to portray the late Presley is uncanny. Other people have rocked, but nobody's done it better."

Tickets for King's show are $17 in advance or $22 at the door. They are available at Baker's, Schaffer's House of Music (Brighton), Read Between the Lines (Milford) and Music Go-Round (Novi). Doors to the show open at 7:30 p.m.

Baker's is located at 20225 South Milford Road. For more information, call (248) 685-0505.

Pokemon trainers lured into battle

Ash Ketchum and his fellow Pokemon trainers, Misty and Brock, are about to embark on a great adventure — the continuing quest to become the greatest Pokemon masters of all time!

Pokemon, the worldwide phenomenon which began as a handheld video game and virtually exploded across the globe in every form from trading cards to the number one rated television kids' show on the Kids' WB!, hits the big screen with an exciting adventure about the greatest Pokemon battle yet.

"Pokemon: The First Movie" follows Ash and Pikachu and their pals to a remote island where they are lured into a massive Pokemon battle which will take all their courage and skill.

In the ultimate showdown on New Island, the rare and legendary Pokemon Mew must do battle with the bio-engineered Mewtwo, a master trainer and the world's most powerful Pokemon.

Let the match begin!

Kids' WB! presents a 4Kids Entertainment Production, the American adaptation of "Pokemon: The First Movie" is written by Norman J. Grossfeld, Michael Haigney and John Touhey with voice direction by Michael Haigney.

Norman J. Grossfeld, President of 4Kids Productions, is the Producer. The animated film is directed by Kunihiko Yuyama and produced by Choji Yoshikawa, Tomoyuki Igarashi and Takemoto Mori.

The film, written by Takeshi Shudo, is based on characters created by Satoshi Tajiri. It is distributed by Warner Bros. Family Entertainment, A Time Warner Entertainment Company.

Ash and his friend Pikachu are surrounded by characters from "Pokemon: The First Movie."

A brand new Pokemon, Donphan, makes his debut in "Mewtwo Strikes Back," the episodic feature of "Pokemon: The First Movie."

Additionally, a short called

"Pikachu's Vacation," starring Ash's furry pal Pikachu, the most charming and beloved Pokemon of them all, makes its American debut along with the feature-length film, "Pikachu's Vacation" introduces two new Pokemon, Snubbull and Manly.

"Pokemon: The First Movie" opens nationwide on Nov. 12.

This 'Fight' should not be missed

GUEST MOVIE REVIEW

When you go to the theater in anticipation of seeing "Fight Club" your mind is open. You expect practically everything. As you watch it, the film pulls off everything that you least expected.

Even if you go in expecting a masterpiece you won't be disappointed. The film deserves all the praise it gets. There is no doubt about it. This is going to be the film of the year.

The plot, adapted from the novel by Chuck Palahniuk, is really hard to explain without giving it away so I'll just give the basics of what you already know.

Tyler Durden — projectionist, walter, and dark anarchist genius — is the creator of the Fight Club. A group that encourages young men with good jobs and absent fathers to take off their shoes and shirts ... and fight to the death.

The almost legendary fights draw a political campaign coordinator into a growing pool of insanity that reaches into boardrooms across America.

The acting in the film is not surprising. You have Oscar nominee Brad Pitt, who has been giving great performances like "Seven Years in Tibet" and "12 Monkeys," the film that earned him the nomination.

You also have Edward Norton who basically gives nothing but great performances like "American History X," which, like Pitt, earned him an Oscar nod.

They don't disappoint and they both are a shoe-in at the Oscars.

The cinematography is some of the best I've seen since "Saving Private Ryan" and already probably has the Oscar.

Jeff Cronenweth leads you to believe that when it comes to this kind of stuff he is very experienced when, in fact, this is his first cinematography effort.

For the two hours and 20 minutes that you're in the theater you are trapped in the insanity that Tyler Durden lives in. This film will knock your socks off seven times over.

Forget the first 30 minutes of "Saving Private Ryan." This is definitely the most intense film I've ever seen.

When you leave the film you are so worn out and exhausted. You're blood is rushing through every vein in your body and the only word you can say is "WOW!"

This could have been some standard Hollywood thriller/action film. Instead Fincher treats us to almost two and a half hours of the most surreal and absorbing material you're likely to see all year.

He asks questions no other filmmaker has ever dared. He does things with the camera that you and I can only visualize in our wildest and most bizarre dreams.

He creates an utterly original form of narrative that is equal parts unique and disturbing.

Finally, a movie, which accurately depicts the apotheosis of a current pervasive American theme: consumerism has become our way of life and has ultimately become our reason for living.

"Fight Club" is truly a theatrical marvel.

Bilyk's in

By JASON SCHMITT
Sports Editor

When Kevin Arbuckle graduated this past June, he left a big pair of shoes to fill on both the boy's cross country and track teams. A state medalist at the cross country championships last season, Arbuckle was one of the school's most accomplished runners.

So when new Northville coach Chris Cronin looked to junior Brian Bilyk and said "here's your chance," the highly-improved runner took off. And at last Saturday's regional meet at Ann Arbor High School, Bilyk made it known he's here to stay.

Bilyk finished ninth overall in the race and qualified for the state meet this weekend at Michigan Speedway. He ran the race in a personal-best time of 16 minutes, 42 seconds.

"Guys who ran away from him early in the season, he is now passing," Cronin said. "I think he can run in the top 50 (at states), but at this rate, he could run even higher. Brian has worked hard to put himself in this position."

Unfortunately for his teammates, they will not be going to the state finals. Northville finished ninth overall as a team while only the top three teams advance onto states. Saline won the regional with 42 points, while Novi (74) and Livonia Churchill (112) also qualified.

The rest of the team also ran well, however. Ben Flood was 46th overall in a time of 17:44, while Joe Lunn (52nd in 17:53) and Phil Santer (54th in 17:56) also eclipsed the 18-minute mark.

"I thought we could put five runners under 18, and we almost did," Cronin said. "Ben Flood came out of nowhere and Phil had been stuck in a rut for the past two to three weeks and this was a great race for him. And Joe Lunn, what can I say? He's one of the top freshmen I've seen in the conference this season."

Eric Nadeau was fifth in the scoring for Northville, taking the 64th position in 18:12. Joe Tracz was close behind at 18:14, and Nick Moroz rounded out the Mustang seven at 19:12.

Bilyk will race against nearly 280 other runners Saturday at the state finals. The race will begin at 1:30 p.m., with the awards ceremony taking place at 3:30.

N'VILLE 6TH AT WLAA

Bilyk was again the catalyst that led the Mustangs to a sixth-place team finish. The junior was sixth overall in the race, bettering his 16th-place finish of a year ago. The race was held at Kensington Metropark.

Nadeau was second on the team and 41st overall, and Santer (44th), Lunn (49th) and Moroz (52nd) rounded out the scoring five. Flood and Tracz also ran for Northville.

Northville wraps up number 2 seed

By JASON SCHMITT
Sports Editor

There's only one team in the Western Lakes Activities Association playing better basketball than Northville over the last three weeks, and that's Plymouth Salem.

The Mustangs beat up on another pair of conference foes last week, handing Churchill a 54-25 whipping and topping North Farmington in a battle for the second seed in the conference tournament. With the two wins, Northville finished 9-2 in conference play and locked up the No. 2 seed in the conference tournament, which began play Tuesday night (after The Northville Record's deadline). The Mustangs hosted Franklin, the No. 7 seed, and the winner of that game plays the winner of the Plymouth Canton/John Glenn game which was also played Tuesday night.

Northville knocked off Canton 35-31 on the road earlier this season, thus winning the tiebreaker for the second seed. Both teams had identical conference records. Northville also nabbed the division title, its first since the 1996 season. That was also the last year the 'Stangs won the conference title.

On the other half of the conference tournament draw, No. 1 seeded Salem played the No. 8 seed, Stevenson and No. 4 Harrison squared off against No. 5 North Farmington. The winners of those two games will play tonight to decide the championship game, which will be played next Wednesday at Livonia Franklin High School.

N'VILLE 54, CHURCHILL 25

Playing its final regular-season home game, coach Pete Wright started his five seniors on senior night. Kate Hammond, Janel Hasse, Meredith Hasse, Jenny Kinsman and Kristia Schoendorf started and led Northville to an 8-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. Wright had to figure out a way to juggle his starters, who are all post-up size players.

"We had Janel playing the point, but we really didn't have any real guards out there," he said.

The team returned to its regular lineup in the second quarter and went on a 15-5 run to get things going. An 18-2 run in the third quarter sealed the deal for Northville (9-2, 11-6).

Churchill had a hard time defending the post all night, as Hammond, Kinsman and Janel Hasse scored 15, eight and eight points to lead their team. The three also accounted for 17 rebounds.

N'VILLE 50, N. FARMINGTON 41

Hammond and Janel Hasse were again enough to offset the solid effort put in by the Raiders star guard, Samantha McComb. McComb scored a game-high 23 points, but the Northville duo

Tom Borda (above) made his second-consecutive all-area first team.

Putting for honors

HomeTown's 1999 all-area golf first team features an attractive combination of grizzled upperclassmen and wide-eyed up-and-comers. South Lyon senior Brian Downing is the best-known name. He's twice a veteran of the Division I state finals. Milford's Brian Cervin also competed in the state finals with his Milford team. Cervin, only a junior, will have another chance for postseason glory, as will Northville sophomore Tom Borda and Novi sophomore Pete Kobylarek.

Tom Borda Northville sophomore

Northville may have surprised a lot of teams in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) this season, but Borda snuck up on no one. A return first-team all-area selection from a year ago, Borda bettered his numbers in 1999.

He averaged 39.2 in match play this year and was an all-division selection in the WLAA with an 86. He shot a 40 or below in 10 of his team's 12 matches, including a match-best 36 in the team's win over South Lyon. He was the team's player-of-the-year for the second season in a row and was selected by the coach to be next year's captain.

"Tom's just got a good work ethic about him," Northville coach Brad Stedry said. "He's dedicated to the game, and he's definitely not going to average 39 next year."

Brian Cervin Milford junior

On a Milford team which was erratic yet reached the state finals, Cervin's steady influence. Redskins coach Jim Sander called him the team's best golfer, and the numbers bear this out. Cervin's 18-hole average of 80 and nine-hole average of 39 were both the best on the team.

Brian Downing South Lyon senior

Downing qualified for the state finals for the second consecutive season, and he made the cut at Mason. Far and away South Lyon's most consistent golfer, Downing's nine-hole average was 37.8. He finished ninth at the Oakland County tournament, where he shot a 75, and was runner-up at the KVC preseason tournament, where he shot 73. Downing's low game was 36 against Redford Thurston.

Justin Goyt South Lyon senior

One of South Lyon's two seniors, along with Brian Downing, Goyt provided moments of occasional brilliance of the course of his final season. At the Farmington Invitational he shot 71, which set a South Lyon record for 18 holes. His 33 against Redford Thurston established a school record for nine holes at Salem Hills. Sputh Lyon's home course. Another of his best games came at the Oakland County tournament, where he shot 77. Goyt's nine-hole average was 38.8.

Pete Kobylarek Novi sophomore

A second-team all-KVC selection, Kobylarek led the Wildcats for most of the season. He was the low scorer at regionals, shooting an 82, and was fifth at the pre-KVC meet with a 76. He was ninth at the Farmington Invite with a 77 and shot his season best round of 35 against Birmingham Seaholm.

His coach, Brad Huss, said he'll return along with a strong lineup of underclassmen to give Novi a chance at a conference title next season.

"We've got a whole lot of potential," the excited coach said. "Both he and Matt Peurach have excellent swings and good short games. They're just real solid, but need just a little more experience."

Kobylarek will fine tune his game this summer as he'll play on the Power-Bilt tour.

Brian Downing	South Lyon	Senior
Tom Borda	Northville	Sophomore
Pete Kobylarek	Novi	Sophomore
Brian Cervin	Milford	Junior

Second Team

Name	School	Grade
Dave Oljace	Northville	Freshman
Pat Kerekes	South Lyon	Sophomore
Matt Peurach	Novi	Sophomore
Brent LaLonde	Milford	Senior
Ryan Duff	Milford	Junior

Lakeland - Trevor Andrzejewski
South Lyon - Tommy Gelardi
Novi - Rob Overfield, Ryan Miller
Northville - Kris Betker, Brian Arndt, Dean Conway

Oljace makes a splash in his first year on varsity

It may look as if the sport of golfing is growing younger, and it is. Just look at this year's all-area team, which includes just two seniors and one junior among the 10 selections.

There are two freshmen and three sophomores among the elite, including a combined three on the second team alone. Professional golf's marketing to youngsters has really paid off.

Here's a look at HomeTown Newspaper's all-area second team for 1999.

Ryan Duff Milford junior

"He was up and down all year," Milford coach Jim Sander, "but he played really well in some big matches."

The biggest being the Division I state finals. Milford qualified as a team and though it didn't make the cut, Duff shot well enough — 77 — to play the second day.

He also came through at the Oakland County tournament, shooting a 76.

Duff's 18-hole average was 84.

Pat Kerekes South Lyon sophomore

No South Lyon player improved more over the summer Kerekes, and he became a key contributor on a team which finished seventh in Oakland County and fourth at its regional. With Brian Downing and Justin Goyt, not to mention coach Bill Thomas, gone next year, Kerekes' role will be even greater.

Kerekes' nine-hole average was 42. Over 18 holes, he shot 79 at the regional, 81 at the Farmington Invitational and 83 at the KVC preseason tournament.

Brent LaLonde Milford senior

He'll be the only player not returning to the Milford five which made the state finals, and coach Jim Sander said the team will miss his consistency

LaLonde's 18-hole average was 81.7, his nine-hole average was 40. He shot 79 at the Oakland County tournament, and in KVC duals had low games of 37 against both Howell and Novi.

Dave Oljace Northville freshman

You couldn't find him atop Northville's scoreboard everytime out, but it was difficult to find a scorecard without his name scoring for the team.

Oljace made a great impression in his first year of high school golf, averaging 41.7 in match play. He was the lone member of the Mustang squad to earn all-Western Lakes Activities Association first-team honors, just one of six players chosen in the 12-team conference. He fired a 38 against both South Lyon and Novi.

"Even if he played number six for us on a given day, it didn't mean he was our sixth-best player," Northville coach Brad Stedry said. "Dave really came through and fired some good rounds for us."

All Peurach did was golf his best at big invitational.

The sophomore finished an impressive third at the Oakland County meet after firing a 73. His 74 at the Farmington Invite placed him second and contributed to his 18-hole average of 82. He averaged 40 in all matches.

He and first-team selection Pete Kobylarek along with fellow sophomore Rob Overfield give Novi one of the more promising teams next year in the Kensington Valley Conference.

"They know now, it's time to make something happen," the trio's coach said. "I'm really looking forward to it."

Mantle team loses in finals

The 1999 Northville Bronco Mantle "A" (16's) finally completed a season this past Saturday that began way back on May 8. Northville participated in the Sports Academy Fall baseball League's high school division. After winning the West division, Northville was seeded No. 2 into the season-ending tournament, qualifying just behind local rival Livonia (by one run in a tie-breaker).

Northville opened the tournament with a victory over Plymouth-Canton by a score of 5-3. Seth White went the distance for the victory. The Michigan Panthers proved to be a formidable opponent as Northville rallied in the seventh to win the second game 8-5 behind the pitching of Mike Wadowski. Wadowski started the third game and deserved a better fate as he carried a one-hitter into the sixth against Royal Oak/U. of D. Northville fell in the championship game, 7-2.

All of Royal Oak/U. of D. runs were unearned. Pitcher, first baseman Mike Wadowski of Detroit Catholic Central and pitcher-centerfielder Seth White, also of Detroit Catholic Central, were honored after the game as co-MVPs for the 1999 campaign. Wadowski was 6-1 and hit .517 while White was 5-02 and hit .486 for the year. Infielder/catcher John Hutchison will be honored for winning the batting crown at a team function later this month. Hutchison hit a whopping .535 for the season. Northville finished the season at 14-3.

U-9 United wins Cup...

Hot Picks

The second season of football picks has begun, and everyone will be trying to top the defending champion, Jason Schmitt. This year we've even given the coin a chance, so hopefully, everyone has at least a 50 percent chance of finishing out of last place...we hope!

Prepare now for "The Great Smokeout"

It can make your breath, hair, car and home smell bad. It will make you look older than your years. It will stain your teeth and hands. It is associated with heart disease, cancer, stroke, asthma, emphysema, gum disease and osteoporosis, to name just a few health problems. About 430,000 people die from diseases related to it in the United States annually. 15,000 deaths each year in Michigan alone. But, you don't catch it - you choose to participate. Yes, those are some of the risks you live with when you choose to smoke.

Clearly, smoking is a dangerous habit. Every time you smoke a cigarette, you're taking minutes off your life. But, even with that information, 23.2 percent of people in the United States smoke - and the rate for Michigan residents is even higher, at 26.1 percent.

If it is time for you or a loved one to quit, the time to start is now. "The Great American Smokeout" is Nov. 18. "The Smokeout allows us to quit for a day to gain confidence in preparation to quit permanently," said Sharon Sheldon, M-Fit health educator University of Michigan Health System.

She says the most important ways to succeed are to mark the quit date on your calendar, then build a support network by telling your family and friends the date that you plan to quit. If you're helping someone else to kick the habit, start reminding them of the day now.

Next, prepare by reducing the amount of nicotine in your body. After all, the United States Surgeon General has concluded that nicotine is a high-powered stimulant with an addiction comparable to that of heroin or morphine. Cut back on the number of cigarettes smoked per day. "This allows your body to get more used to a lower level of nicotine in the body so that on your quit date your body will be able to acclimate to not having nicotine at all," said Sheldon.

Many non-smoking aids are available on the market, both nicotine and non-nicotine pharmacological therapies. Sheldon says it is best to discuss the aids with your primary care physician to determine the most appropriate approach. "Combining a pharmacological aid with behavioral change has shown to be the most successful approach to quitting smoking," she said. "People will use chewing gum, mints, carrots, celery sticks, and pretzel sticks that allow you to get that oral and manual gratification that perhaps you used to get from cigarettes."

If you've already quit, or you don't smoke, the Smokeout is a time to help others lose the tobacco habit. Every day about 3,000 kids are taking up the smoking habit. The message that smoking is a very dangerous habit is not getting through. Sheldon encouraged young people and educators to use "The Great American Smokeout" in schools and community centers to help kids quit before it really takes hold of their lives.

HOW TO

Give unwanted critters freedom - or death

By Gene Gary
COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

Q. I have a bad problem with ground moles that are destroying my yard. They cause severe ruts and have burrowed over the entire yard causing the grass to die. I have sought advice, but no one seems to have a solution. Do you have any advice on how to get rid of these pests?

A. Moles create a huge network of tunnels just beneath the surface where they feed on grubs, earthworms and insects. They don't actually eat plants, but they damage the soil and disturb the plant root system. A single mole can mess up an acre of lawn or garden.

There are numerous methods of mole control. Some are eviction methods, while others are methods of extermination.

Pouring creosote, lye, tar, mothballs or drain-flushing granules into their tunnels may drive moles to more congenial hunting grounds, such as your neighbor's yard. These methods can also injure plants and contaminate soil. Moles prefer to dig in loose, sandy soil, so compacting the soil with a roller, mixing gravel in with it or allowing the soil to dry out will often drive moles away. But this will also leave your soil less than desirable for plant growth.

Extermination is the more standard solution to the problem. One approach is to use poison. This involves digging holes into the tunnel network and depositing poison. It takes two to three weeks, but the moles eventually will die underground. One disadvantage to poisonous bait is that moles tend to eat bugs, worms and grubs before they go after the poison. Another, more serious disadvantage is that the poison can be a hazard to other animals in the area. Poisonous smoke bombs are also available. For the bombs to work, it is necessary to put them directly in nests or in the main runways with all access holes blocked.

Trapping is the most efficient control. The easiest type of mole trap to use is a harpoon trap. To set a trap, you locate a mole tunnel and step on it from above. Then place the trap over the tunnel and push the legs of the trap into the ground over the area you have stepped on. When the mole tries to reopen the collapsed tunnel, it will trigger the trap, causing sharp tines, the "harpoons," to release and kill the mole. Since moles are more active at night, you may want to set traps out at night and take them in during the day to avoid any accidents with children or household pets.

Whatever approach you take, finding active tunnels (many will be abandoned) is necessary. Stomp down a few sections of tunnel, then check it the next day. If it's mounded up again, it's an active tunnel, suitable for baiting or trap setting. Traps, suitable poisons, and mole bombs are usually available at garden centers and hardware stores.

Q. We are plagued by cockroaches. Do you have any recommendations on how to get rid of these pests?

A. Prevention is the key to pest control.

Clean the favorite bug hangouts regularly. These include kitchens, bathrooms or any other areas in your home that provide dark, dampness or dust that insects love. Keep tight-fitting lids on trash containers and use disposable plastic liners. Spray containers' interiors every two weeks with surface insecticide.

Move heavy furniture and kitchen appliances once a month to clean behind and under these pieces. Remove dirt from baseboards, cracks, corners, floor registers and air ducts to wipe out bug nesting grounds. Treat these areas with an insecticide.

Empty cabinets and drawers, then clean the interiors with disinfectant and apply a surface insecticide. After allowing time to dry, cover with paper and replace contents. Remove dishes from your cupboards and give a similar treatment.

Cover foods tightly - especially cereals, pet foods, and other grain items. Check for bugs before storing food. Never, absolutely never, leave food crumbs, dirty dishes, etc. lying on counter tops after a family meal. This means rinsing before putting in the dishwasher, or running the dishwasher immediately. When bringing baskets, bags or boxes into the house, inspect them for roaches that may be hiding in them.

Avoid using insecticides on open surfaces where you are more likely to contaminate your food or dishes than to kill roaches. Regular use of long-acting or residual insecticides behind dishwashers, baseboards and under refrigerators continues to kill new roaches as they emerge from their eggs. Most insecticides will last for about 60 days. For long-term prevention, use a product such as Roach Prufe (a boric acid powder formula), which can be applied as above.

Also consider spaces under cabinets (drawer spaces - remove drawers and apply underneath), in closets, under carpeting, any dark, dank spaces where these critters hide. Cockroaches collect this powder on their legs and return to the nest where they ingest it and die. Don't overlook treatment of areas where papers are stacked or books are kept. These are natural feeding grounds for roaches. Another commercial product effective in controlling roaches is Combat, a bait tray that contains a substance that the roaches also carry back to the nest.

This Old House

The oldest house in Northville is secure in the hands of Kathryn and Robert Peel

By Annette Jaworski
SPECIAL WRITER

Kathryn and Robert Peel are proud to own a little slice of history.

The couple are the perfect caretakers to carry on the legacy of the oldest house in Northville. Avid historians, antique collectors as well as genealogists, the couple have enjoyed every step of their research and restorative efforts to the one-and-a-half colonial salt box home.

According to documents, the home was originally built in 1826 by John Miller, the first blacksmith in Northville who moved to the Mill Pond. The list of the former tenants read like a who's who of Northville's history including William Dunlap and Daniel Cady.

The Peels noticed several clues on their first visit which told them the home was very old. Kathryn Peel points out the nine over six windows, (nine panes on top, six panes on the bottom) with their original handmade glass and hand pegged window frames as well as the style of a paneled closet door. Their suspicions were confirmed by several other finds while building the final addition.

One was a man's shoe found in the wall. It was a tradition for people building homes to put a shoe in the wall for good luck, Robert Peel noted.

"An old Italian cobbler felt the shoe was made in about the 1860s. It's all handmade, and it's typical of the construction used then," he said.

The original abstract for the property as well as the newspaper reporting Lincoln's assassination were also found in the attic. Antiques and original hardware make the home a historical showcase such as a mirrored Scottish armoire. Coming up one stairway is the first electrified lights with a push button. The walls are lined with the couple's ancestors.

Two additions expanded the square footage to over 3,100 square feet including the addition of two master suites upstairs.

While making renovations, one of the nicest touches to the Peel's home was staying true to the home's architectural integrity while keeping in mind the conveniences of today. For example, air conditioning duct work remains non-intrusive. You'll find a hot tub off a Mackinaw Porch, a wine cellar in the basement. There's no lack of storage space either.

"Most old houses don't have enough closet space. I made sure that wasn't the case here. I put in tons of closets," Kathryn Peel said.

The entire upstairs is dedicated to sleeping areas including two large master suites, one complete with a fireplace. Two other smaller bedrooms are situated in the original loft section of the house. They serve as a perfect accommodations for any of the Peels' six grandchildren when they come to visit. In these rooms, the floors are constructed of three-inch original hard pine boards in the loft area, according to Robert.

Some of the original beamwork is also evident here. Robert points out that nails weren't used in the original beams.

Kathryn Peel notes the terrace off the great room was there when they moved in, but that "it felt like a goldfish bowl." At least until she added landscaping, which has now matured.

Advice to those hoping to restore a historical gem?

"I think you should live in a house for a while before you do any renovations," Kathryn Peel said, noting that it helps you to get a feel for the house.

The pair credit two craftsmen who were exceptionally helpful during the process. Robert Van Dam of South Lyon left a definite mark on the home with the front mantle, cabinetry and crown moulding as well as Dan Stoddard from Classical Carpentry in Brighton who did the fireplaces and the second story addition.

Although the Peels have cherished their home for ten years, they've found a home they love equally as well in New Mexico where they plan to settle. The house is currently listed by Century 21 Associate Susan Kumpula (248) 735-2560.

Spode Works produces centuries of quality

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

Q. Enclosed is a photo of a small blue and white rectangular dish that was given to my mother by a friend. There are two marks on the back. The word "Spode" is impressed and also printed in blue. I did some research and learned the pattern is called "Leaf" and the marks show my dish was made sometime between 1810 and 1833.

Could you please tell me if it has any value?

A. Josiah Spode founded Spode Works in 1770 in Stoke-on-Trent, Staffordshire, England. Exceptional quality and high standards have been successfully maintained for over two centuries. The beauty of Spode's blue-under-glaze transfer print on earthenware was ranked above other potteries. Spode's blue and white designs were inspired by Chinese patterns that were increasingly difficult to import.

Your dish would probably be worth about $165 to $200.

Q. I have a glass vase that I would like to know more about. It has an amber lustered glaze and is decorated with leaves and vines. The enclosed mark is on the bottom of the vase.

I would appreciate any information on its age and value.

A. Imperial Glass Company in Bellaire, Ohio, was established in 1901. For a firm that started out making jelly glasses and hotel tumblers, it has done rather well. By 1910, it was producing a wide range of lines from pressed glass to art glass. Carnival glass was introduced about 1910, followed by Imperial Jewels and Free Hand. Molds were not used to produce Free Hand art glass. It was made only by hand from about 1922 to 1928.

Your vase is an example of Imperial's Free Hand line and would probably be worth about $325 to $375.

Q. My father purchased several dinner plates about 50 years ago. Each plate is 14 inches in diameter. Each plate is decorated with a different scene and a different mark. The following marks are on the back of plates: "Bits of the Old West - Horse Thieves," "Bits of the Middle West - R.F.D." and "Bits of Old England." All are marked "Designed, Engraved and Copyrighted by Vernon Kilns - USA."

I hope to add to the collection and would like to know more about them.

A. Vernon Kilns in Vernon, Calif., was established in 1931. Its "Bits of" series also included "Bits of the Old South" and "Bits of the Northwest."

Your plates are chop plates and were made in the 1930s. The value of each would probably be about $95 to $125.

Q. Could you please tell me something about my Ovaltine cup. It is decorated with a picture of Little Orphan Annie and her dog, Sandy. On the bottom of the cup are the words "Mfg. Exclusively for the Wander Co. Chicago - Makers of Ovaltine. Next to the picture of Annie are the words "Harold Gray."

Does my cup have any value?

A. Harold Gray created the comic strip Little Orphan Annie in 1924. Her popularity was so great that a radio

The manufacturer of the popular drink, Ovaltine, sponsored the radio version of the strip. Your cup would probably be worth about $50.

Address your questions to Anne McCollam, P.O. Box 490, Notre Dame, IN 46556. For a personal response, include picture(s), a detailed description, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $10 per item (one item at a time).

Dave Kendall has promoted concerts, but can perform a number of functions with his Euphoria Productions.

That's entertainment

South Lyon man turned love of music into promotional business

By Annette Jaworski

The entertainment industry might seem like a lot of glamour and glitter, but it's the hard work behind the scenes that makes it all happen.

Local promoter and South Lyon resident, David Kendall knows that at the heart of every great act is a great promotion, that requires a lot of detail and hard work.

Kendall says that being exposed to great music early on in his life was the primary influence in his career path. Eventually he parlayed that love of music into 34 years of experience in the entertainment business. A marketing degree from the University of Michigan didn't hurt when it came down to marketing and demographics.

Marketing and research are an essential part of how he and publicist, Evan Peelle, operate Euphoria Productions.

She notes that their approach to producing entertainment is different, they look at the "business" aspect of the industry. That means doing a lot of research in the market area they serve with numbers and demographics, where they need to be sensitive to the type of community as well as the arena they'll be performing in.

"The beauty in what we do is everything can be tracked in a computer data base," Peelle said.

She notes thorough research helps take the guesswork out of entertainment.

"A lot of people think entertainment is risky. When we approach it this way, it's much easier to figure out what may happen," she said.

"Anybody that needs to get their name out there, we can tie it together with a promotion we're doing. We can meet their needs and get their name out there."

David Kendall

The road to Kendall's career began with producing an album in his teens as well as coordinating a concert for Bachman Turner Overdrive. He's also had the honor of attending both the 1969 and 1999 Woodstock Music Festivals. He enjoyed both experiences, but would have preferred not to have spent several days digging cars out from the mud after the rains in 1969. He called it "three days of peace, love and a mud bath."

One of their recent successes include Merle Haggard in September of 1998 at The Barnstormer Complex in Green Oak Township.

"It was a wonderful show, one of those magical times," Peelle says, recalling the event where the performer returned for five encores even with limited health.

They can coordinate events for as small as 200, up to arenas with unlimited potential. Kendall is proud of his diversity. Being adaptable is crucial in the fast-moving entertainment industry.

"It's being able to do different kinds of music, and appreciate all kinds of genre. That way you can go into any market," Kendall notes.

Geographically they cover a wide area, only limiting themselves to the Great Lakes region.

Euphoria Productions doesn't cover only large scale productions. They're available to any business large or small that just wants to get their name out there and promoted.

"One thing Dave is really good at is cost effective ideas for promotions," Peelle said.

For example, a pizza place can get publicity by sponsoring programs of the event for which their logo will be displayed. They, in turn may attach fliers of upcoming concerts to pizza boxes. The situation benefits both vendors.

"Anybody that needs to get their name out there, we can tie it together with a promotion we're doing. We can meet their needs and get their name out there," Kendall said.

Some future events include a full schedule of summer concerts for the Barnstormer Entertainment Complex in Pinckney, with owner Rob Cortis. He's also seeking out appropriate entertainment for Baker's of Milford Ballroom, where he's presented Leon Russell in two sold out shows in April, 1997. He also hopes to present Merle Haggard once again.

Kendall notes that it's important that Euphoria's events contribute to the community as well.

"We try to help out charities as much as we can," he said.

Contact David Kendall or Evan Peelle for any of your promotion needs at Euphoria Productions (248) 437-7466, or P.O. Box 854 South Lyon, MI 48178-0854.

Experts encourage steps to keep your assets safe

If you're concerned about the safety of your assets, follow the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants' advice for protecting yourself from financial ruin.

TAKE OUT A PERSONAL LIABILITY POLICY

Most homeowners and automobile policies provide $100,000 to $300,000 in liability coverage. Personal liability coverage, or umbrella insurance as it is often called, gives you an extra layer of protection against injury and damage claims by providing liability coverage over and above the amounts you've selected for your homeowners and automobile policies. Should a claim against you surpass those limits, umbrella insurance kicks in to resolve the claim against you.

Personal liability insurance also extends protection to situations in which you would not otherwise be covered, such as libel, slander, false arrest, invasion of privacy, defamation of character and other similar personal injury claims.

In these days when a multi-million-dollar lawsuit could easily wipe out your family's assets, personal liability insurance is essential. And the good news is it's also relatively affordable: $1 million of coverage generally costs between $100 and $200 per year.

DON'T BORROW TOO MUCH AGAINST THE EQUITY IN YOUR HOME

Home ownership does come with its benefits. Generally you can borrow up to $100,000 against the equity in your home. Interest rates are typically lower than other loans, and the interest may be deductible. Despite these advantages, don't borrow too much against your home. Since your house serves as collateral for the loan, your lender can foreclose if you don't keep up with the loan payments, even if your mortgage is up to date. You need to be especially careful with interest-only home equity loans in which you pay the interest in installments and then pay off the entire principal at the end of the loan term. This arrangement may make the monthly payments more affordable, but leaves you with a large outstanding payment. The best advice is to use home equity wisely by tapping into it for value-added investments like home improvements or college tuition.

Money Management

BE WARY OF GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEMES

From investment schemes to scholarship scams, and from marketing pyramids to credit repair doctors, scam artists are always coming up with new ways to bilk consumers out of their money.

Beyond the tried and true advice that, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is, CPAs suggest that you never give your Social Security number, credit card number or bank account information to an unsolicited caller. Other signs that should wave a red flag include companies that pressure you to act quickly or tell you to send or drop off cash. The Federal Trade Commission via the Internet at www.ftc.gov provides important consumer information about scams.

TURN TO BANKRUPTCY ONLY AS A LAST RESORT

Don't be fooled - bankruptcy is not an easy out when you have financial difficulties. A bankruptcy stays on your credit report for ten years, making it difficult to take out a loan, open a charge account, or reestablish credit. It also may affect your ability to get a job as some employers may ask permission to review your credit report.

Consider credit counseling before rushing into bankruptcy. Credit counseling agencies can help you set up a budget and a workable repayment plan and even act as a negotiator between you and your creditors. Call the National Foundation for Consumer Credit referral line at 1-800-388-CCCS to find the member agency nearest you.

KNOW YOUR INVESTMENT LIMITATIONS

The word "invest" is derived from the Latin investire - to commit for a long period with the thought of future benefit. Impatient and inexperienced investors looking to make money fast sometimes turn to investments they don't really understand and risk losing much of their hard-earned money. Before you commit your money to any investment, evaluate it in terms of your investment knowledge, risk tolerance, financial objectives and the current investment climate. CPAs point out that it's generally best to leave sophisticated investment vehicles like futures, options, and junk bonds to experienced investors. Ultimately, you can protect yourself from financial ruin by protecting your assets, keeping your credit in check and avoiding unnecessary risks.

The more your business
cares about how we do in school
the more we will.

You can help students everywhere and help your business at the same time. How? By asking potential employees for their high school records.

84% of high school students say they'd work harder if they knew that employers would look at their transcripts. Thousands of businesses are already requesting records.

When you ask, you'll be sending a powerful message to students: "How you do in school can help determine what kind of job you'll get, how much you'll earn, even how far you'll go."

What does your business gain?
Better students make better entry level workers. They have lower failure rates and require less skills training. You can learn a lot about a student from a school record: grades, courses taken, attendance, and extracurricular activities.

Carpet

Carpet construction consists of the surface face pile (yarn on top) and the backing that holds these fibers together. Most carpet fibers are either nylon, olefin, polyester or wool. They all vary in wear, stain and matting resistance as well as cleanability.

Laminate

Laminates can look like real wood, tile or stone. They are constructed with a wear layer on top, then a decorative sheet (printed image) both bonded to a rigid core, usually fiberboard or wood, with a bottom balancing layer to prevent warping.

Vinyl

Vinyl flooring has 2 categories: inlaid and rotogravure. Inlaid features pattern and color throughout the material making it more durable with a thicker wear layer. Rotogravure vinyl is thinner than inlaid, less durable and more difficult to clean.

Wood

Solid, one piece boards are the most common type of wood flooring. There's also engineered wood which usually consists of a hardwood veneer top layer laminated to lower layers of softwood backing.

Ceramic & Stone

Ceramic tiles are available glazed or unglazed with fired glazes being extremely hard and durable. Porcelain tile is very popular and great for high traffic areas. Stone tiles come in several forms and vary extensively with regard to their look, usage and durability.

INSTANTLY SAVE UP TO $400 ON ANY COMPUTER
 (excludes prior purchases)
 When You Sign Up In Store for up to 3 Years of Prodigy Internet Complete* Service Just $21.95 a Month*

Register in store for 3 years of Prodigy Internet Complete service, at a monthly rate of $21.95, and receive $400 in instant savings on the date of sign up and product purchase only. Available on any name brand computer, notebook or any Configure to Order computer (excludes prior purchases). Instant savings amount cannot exceed purchase price. Prodigy Internet registration must be made using a valid Visa, MasterCard, Discover/Novus or American Express card (Best Buy credit card or debit cards cannot be used with offer). The credit card will be automatically billed $21.95 each month for the length of the contract. Sales tax will apply to the total purchase price including other mail-in rebates, and add-ons, as applicable. Sign up for a 2 year contract and receive $250 in instant savings, or a 1 year contract and receive $100 in instant savings. Without Prodigy Internet registration, add instant savings amount to the price of the computer. New Prodigy Internet customers 18 years or older only. Phone charges and premium feature fees not included with Internet service. Prodigy will charge the customer's credit card for the entire instant savings amount applied to your purchase (or part thereof depending on cancellation date, see the Terms and Conditions available at the store for more details) plus a service fee of $50 if cancelled prior to the end of the contract. Customer credit review and driver's license required. Additional conditions and restrictions apply. See product offer and store for additional details.

PRICE GUARANTEE & RAINCHECKS
 Price Guarantee & Rainchecks: If, within 30 days (14 days for computers, monitors and notebooks, camcorders, digital cameras and radar detectors) of your purchase from Best Buy, you find a local competitor offering a lower price on an available product of the same brand and model, we'll refund the difference plus another 10% of the difference. Bring us verification of the lower price, plus your original Best Buy receipt to claim your refund. Does not apply to special, bonus or free offers, and in California cellular phones and pagers. Does not apply to products with special financing offers. For complete price guarantee details, please see a customer service representative. Some products in this ad may be slightly different from illustrations. Correction notices for errors in this advertisement will be posted in our stores. Rainchecks are available on most items specifically advertised in this insert, except where noted. We reserve the right to limit quantities. See store for complete details.

IMPORTANT CONSUMER FINANCING INFORMATION
 Important Consumer Financing Information Not valid on previous purchases. Subject to credit approval on the Best Buy Card. Offer is for individuals, not businesses. As of 9/27/99, the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is 22.65%. APRs may vary. Minimum finance charge of $1.00 may apply. Credit is provided by GE Capital Consumer Card Co., or Household Bank (SB), N.A. For complete details please refer to your cardholder agreement, billing statement, and Best Buy in-store customer information. For the Same as Cash with Payments until January 2001 Plan, if the purchase advance and any charges due relating to this purchase advance are not paid in full by January 3, 2001, finance charges will be assessed from the transaction date. You will be required to make minimum monthly payments during the deferral period on this purchase advance. The following qualify for January 2001 Financing: all major appliances $399 and up. 6-Month Financing and 90-Day Financing: Financing is a No Payment, Deferred Interest program. If balance is not paid in full by the plan expiration date, interest will be assessed from the original date of purchase on the average balance. Minimum total purchase of $299 is required for 6-month financing. No minimum purchase required for 90-day financing. For complete financing details please refer to your credit application, credit statement and Best Buy in-store customer information.

No Interest, No Payments, No Money Down!

If paid in full by the end of the promotional period, finance charges will be waived. Offer applies to approved purchases of carpet, rug, tile, wood or vinyl flooring and installation if applicable, made between October 31, 1999 through November 14, 1999 on your existing or newly opened Home Depot Consumer Charge account. Monthly payments are not required on qualifying purchases during the promotional period. Finance charges and any optional credit insurance charges will be billed from date of purchase, but finance charges will be credited if you pay the full purchase price by the end of the promotional period. If you do not, you will be responsible for these charges. For qualifying purchases less than $2,000, the APR is a fixed 21%, except in IA, where the APR is 18%. For qualifying purchases of $2,000 or more, the APR is a fixed 15.48%. Minimum monthly finance charge is $1.00, except in IA and WI, where it is $.50. Regular credit terms will continue to apply to your non-promotional purchases. Offer is subject to credit approval by Monogram Credit Card Bank of Georgia.

WINDOW FASHIONS

The complete collection of Hunter Douglas window fashions is at The Home Depot. The right window treatment will make your home more beautiful than you ever imagined. We can special order window coverings to your exact specifications, to match any decor. Come see the extraordinary Hunter Douglas window treatments and find out about our installation services at The Home Depot.

Silhouette® Shades (featured)

These window shades have soft adjustable fabric vanes suspended between sheer fabric facings for a subdued lighting effect. Their durable 100% anti-static polyester fabric allows for easy care and cleaning.

Vignette® Window Shadings

Billowy layers of soft, durable 100% polyester fabric give these shades their unique look. Available in a variety of fabric styles and colors in 3" and 4" folds to fit any scale window. The knit backing shows a neutral white to the outside.

Duetto® Honeycomb Shades

These shades have the largest selection of sizes, colors and styles. The fabric choices range from light-filtering to blackout. The variety of control options and specialty shapes available will cover almost any window.

Country Woods® Artisan Series™

These quality wooden blinds offer a wide selection of paints, stains and high fashion colors in 1" and 2" slat sizes. The standard de-Light feature ensures privacy and reduces light leaks and the angled bottom rail ensures closure. A standard decorative valance adds finished appeal.

Playchute Parachute

Cooperative play in a colorful way! For neighborhood fun, holiday gatherings, birthday parties, or making friends at the park, this great big 10-ft. tropical-colored parachute is just the thing.

A parachute is one of the most versatile playthings on the planet, helping kids develop perceptual, cognitive and motor skills. Children can easily join in group activity...lift and run under it, bounce beach balls on top of it, or with a little ingenuity, pretend it's a fort. It's machine washable, so you can even use it as a sit-upon for picnics. 10 feet in diameter, with 12 very sturdy handles and top quality nylon construction. Folds quickly and compactly into nylon carry bag, included #71546 $29

RAAL people, real studios

Both kids here were a little apprehensive around our cameras for this photo shot... setting up lights, cameras, and other equipment sometimes intimidates even the bravest. But when we pulled out these rolling toys, their eyes sparkled and little grins started to appear. Pretty soon they were rolling around so much that they went waaay out of our camera range, and whooping it up so loudly that another studio client walked over to see what was going on!

Exclusive!

Flying Turtle

A perennial favorite at preschools, daycares, even amusement parks! Now get the very same one, the real McCoy, to enjoy at home. This sit-on skate of sorts glides along any hard smooth level surface by swinging the handlebars from side to side. And when we say swing: we mean sa-wing baby, SWING! No motors, no batteries, not even any pedaling. Pure kid power! Durable and safe, it features extra-strong plastic seat, chrome handlebars and large skateboard wheels with sealed bearings.

For indoors and out.
Ages 3-12, up to 150 lbs.

#71583 $68

Super Stomp Rocket
Send soft foam rockets up to 400 feet in the air! Completely air-powered, this kid-safe rocket set includes launcher, blast pad, and 6 nifty foam rockets. Ages 6 & up. #69036 $15

Giant Fun Balls

Super big bouncy balls for backyard play, water play, general horse play. Big fun too, for the "rumpus room" in your house when the weather gets cold! (Teachers especially recommend these for kids that need to release lots of energy.) Toss 'em, roll 'em, roll on 'em; the tough vinyl can take it! Use a bicycle or tire pump to inflate. Tremendous play value at a great price for ages 3 and up and up and up....you should see the older kids all over these giant balls of fun! Assorted bright colors.

 #71507 $16
40" Fun Ball
 #71508 $31

Little Wooden Push Car

From Radio Flyer, the first name in wheels for kids, here's a kid-powered car with a solid wood body and a smooth-as-silk non-toxic finish. It doesn't need keys, but it does have a horn that really works, molded wheels set on a wide base for stability, and a strong tubular steel undercarriage and push bar. Yesiree folks, kick the tires...she's a real beauty...a car classic you'll want to keep in the family long after they've asked to borrow the real car keys. Ages 1-3 years. #72265 $72

Dizzy Disc Jr.

"I'm so dizzy my head is spinning..." Sounds awful to adults, totally awesome to kids! A lever to adjust the slope of the disc makes it extra fun. The 18" wide base, rubber feet and textured surface make it safe. No assembly required, just get on and start spinnin'! Spin fast or slow, indoors or out, kneeling, sitting, lying down or standing. Ages 5 & up. Maximum weight 100 lbs. #75203 $49.99

Pedal Go

Merrily you roll along on two wide-foot platforms by shifting weight from one pedal to the other. Four wheels and a broad base provide extra stability. It doesn't take long to get the rhythm and gain confidence. Safety helmet and elbow pads recommended. Assorted colors. Ages 4 through adult, up to 160 lbs. #66188 $39

Maze Mania Are you a Maze Meister?

That is; can you bump it, spin it and flip it fast enough and skillfully enough, through the correct path, before the timer goes off??? Real People, Real Stories

"Poor guy. He wanted this marble chute so much, but his 7th birthday was just a month ago and we said he'd have to wait or earn it himself. So he went through the garage, collecting cardboard tubes from old gift wrap. Then he used duct tape to hold it all together. It actually worked as a marble roll for a few days, but the tubes kept getting squished and the thing finally fell apart. I surprised him with this after he did really well on some really tough reading assignments."

Block-N-Roll The next generation of marble runs! This ingenious new marble maze set has plastic pieces that slide together to make ramps, cross-overs, drop-thru's, tunnels, jumps, steps and even 90 degree turns. Includes 90 very cool pieces plus 10 marbles. Ages 6 & up. #72177 $30

"Ya gotta take the bumps with the jumps"

Stim-Mobile with Color Cards
 When this first came out on the market, we sniffed: "No trendy yuppie stuff, please." Then we tossed the free sample to our store manager, who had a 7-week old colicky baby. Sonja came back the next day, stunned at how Nels responded to it. It was the only thing that calmed him down. Based on 30 years of visual research, the Stim-Mobile is endorsed by pediatric specialists, and captivating to infants because of the high-contrast patterns. Includes clamp-on upright arm, black & white cards for birth-3 months, and color cards for 3-6 months. #69062 $26

Baby Mozart Video
 You could call this a "video board book" - images of brightly colored toys and other visually captivating objects move to the music of Mozart. Little eyes and ears light up! A new mom recently told us about her 3 month old who watched the video and when it was over started gesturing and saying, "eh, eh, eh." "He wasn't calling for us!" she said laughing. Ages 1 mo-3 yrs. #75215 $15.98

Itty Bitty

"You promised he'd like it, and you were wrong. He loved it!! The word mesmerized comes to my mind, because he'd just intently sit there, leaning over it, gently pulling them one by one, then start all over."

Pick 'n Pull

Have you ever marveled at how purposefully a baby will pick at a piece of lint on their clothes? This incredible toy fosters hand-eye coordination and pincer grasp, and appeals to baby's fascination with color and sound. Each nodule has a distinct color and reaction. Some are soft, some make noise, some can be pushed or pulled. All are durable and safe and just the right size for little fingers to experiment with cause and effect. Compact take-along size is approx. 5 x 5." Ages 8 mo & up. #75087 $13

TOMY®

Red Rings

A rattle, a teether and infant exerciser all in one. This toy has been around forever because it's so good. Durable, flexible rings invite pulling, stretching, twisting; developing motor skills. Real people, real stories

One customer bought a lot of these over the course of a year. (We just assumed she gave a lot of baby gifts.) But when we gently teased her about "so many baby showers," she laughed, "Oh gosh, no! I'm a pediatrician, and when little ones are fussy, these balls immediately grab their attention. But then when we take them back, the babies cry, so I end up giving so many away!"

Balls in a Bowl This was one of the very first "developmental" toys on the market and nothing has taken its place for utter simplicity of design and encouraging the happy activity of "putting in" and "taking out." Spinners inside each ball have different colors and patterns to keep little ones intrigued. Remarkably durable plastic withstands the banging and throwing that comes with curiosity! Ages 8-30 mo. #75085 $19

Magic Sound Blocks

Match the picture halves and hear the realistic sounds! Six different combinations, six different sounds. These 4" square blocks help develop memory skills and object recognition while generating squeals of appreciation (and that's from the adults, you should hear the kids!!)

No batteries required. Ages 18 months & up. #75094 $19

Pound A Ball

In our stores, kids find this and stop in their tracks, making it one of our most in-demand toys ever. It's an update of the classic pounding bench, just as irresistible now as it always has been. Little ones like being able to pound the colored balls through the holes, then watching them roll back and forth down the ramp, spin the wheel and exit. Soooo satisfying!!! Plastic "cause & effect" pounding bench includes four balls to match to corresponding colored holes, plus a sturdy hammer. Ages 18 months & up. #66007 $16

Replacement Balls Count on some balls rolling away, your toddler stashing some in places you'll only discover years from now and the dog nabbing one or two. Pack of 4 balls. #75025 $2.25

Real people, real stories

"Ball! Ball! BALL!!!"

"I gave my nephew this ball thing for his first birthday, and after it was opened, nothing else would do. He kept putting the balls in the top shouting, 'Ball! Ball! BALL!!!' The only bad thing was that he didn't even want to keep opening other gifts!"

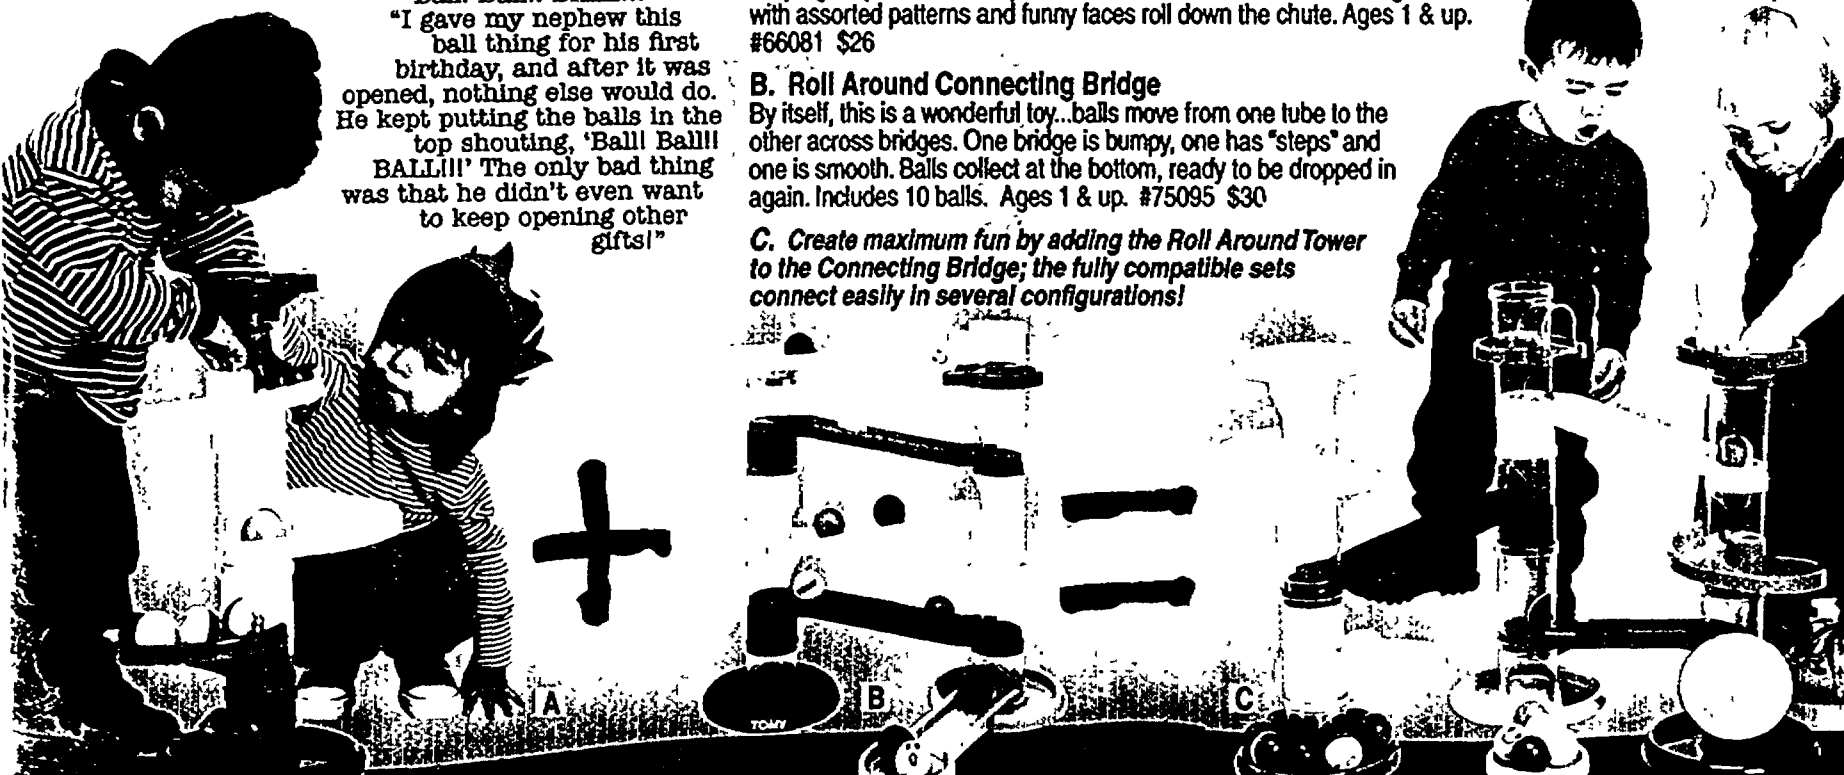

A. Roll Around Tower

Step right up for tons of repetitive entertainment! Ten rainbow-bright balls with assorted patterns and funny faces roll down the chute. Ages 1 & up. #66081 $26

B. Roll Around Connecting Bridge

By itself, this is a wonderful toy...balls move from one tube to the other across bridges. One bridge is bumpy, one has "steps" and one is smooth. Balls collect at the bottom, ready to be dropped in again. Includes 10 balls. Ages 1 & up. #75095 $30

C. Create maximum fun by adding the Roll Around Tower to the Connecting Bridge; the fully compatible sets connect easily in several configurations!

Real people, real stories

"My 2-year old son Isalah was very curious when we first put these in the tub. He'd peer closely and ask where the music was coming from. Then he started matching the colors of the dolphins with their inner tubes. But when he discovered that he could make different sounds by slapping the dolphins in the water, out of this tiny little boy came this huge, huge belly laugh. It was 45 minutes before we could pull him out of the tub, and his fingers and toes were prunes!"

Water Symphony Simply tap each dolphin on the head to hear a different note of an 8-note scale. Hook their inner tubes together to float them in a ring or let them swim solo. Ages 18 mo & up. #75089 $20

Play to learn...

Real people, real stories

"I got these because you said they'd be developmentally good for my preschooler and kindergartner. But I love these because you know what? They love them! They figure out some music, then they dance. And dance, and dance! Then they do some other sequence of music, and off they go again, floating around the room with their arms up!"

Music Blocks The experiences of early childhood help form the brain's circuits for learning music, math, and language. This new music "toy" enables kids to experience the joy of making music in a unique way. A lap-sized console comes with a cartridge of Mozart's Night Music, plus 5 colorful blocks with different symbols on each side. The symbols represent different instruments like woodwinds, trumpets or a chorus of voices, and each block represents two-measure phrases of the melody. So, as the child places blocks in varying orders, different combinations of music are created...more than a million are possible! And the orchestral quality sound is amazing! Younger children just like to play with the blocks and hear the sounds, older children are challenged to "compose" and write down their favorite patterns. Ages 2 & up.

Real people, real stories

"And at night we play music. Always music. She's 5 now, and the bedtime ritual is the same as forever: lights down, "bunny" tucked by her head, the back rub, and Raffi."

Raffi
Every few years a popular children's singer comes along that gets all the "press mentions" and "publicity." We're thrilled for them, of course, and we wholeheartedly endorse their wonderful music, which we also sell. But please make no mistake, and please listen to us carefully, for we've very rarely pushed a product on parents: There is, quite simply, no singer like Raffi. For more than 20 years, this extraordinary man has brightened children's lives with his gentle voice and sweet, silly, wise and wonderful songs. Please don't let your little ones miss out on Raffi. His voice is magical and honest. He never, ever sings "down" to kids. And his music will always be remembered by your children long after they've grown up.

'One more story: A customer's 4-year old autistic child rarely spoke, yet his eyes lit up whenever he heard Raffi music. One day, completely out of the blue, he started singing along, and he knew every single word to the Raffi songs. Sure, we're in business to sell things. (Buy a lot! Buy a lot!) But it's a whole lot more than that for us, folks... a whole lot more than that.

Toddlers are CRAZY for this one!

Rokenbok: Hot! Award Winning! Totally Awesome!

Honest, we hate sounding pushy, but this is the product that stops folks in their tracks. Once they start to play with it, they're completely, totally, absolutely hooked...and that's just the adults! Imagine how wowed the kids are when they try it!

What's Rokenbok? A completely modular hi-tech construction factory...

Build an expandable factory any way you want...ideas for great layouts are included, or use your imagination! Pieces just snap together without tools.

Drive articulated radio-control vehicles this way 'n that, up the ramps and all over the site.

Then control everything, from dumping and carrying to lifting and loading, with your own radio control unit. Go backwards, forwards, around in circles, slow or fast. Pick up stuff, load it, move it all over the place...one enterprising kid delivered Diet Coke® from the kitchen to his big sister this way!

It's been years since we saw a product so completely innovative, so very well made, and so appropriate for a wide variety of ages...older kids like to design and build different layouts, while younger kids just love to operate the detailed radio control vehicles. Players can control up to 8 vehicles with easy-function and precision-control pads. Ages 6 to Adult.

1. START with a complete starter set...

Deluxe Start Action Factory includes:

1 Wireless RC Loader Vehicle with 17 precision functions.

1 Command Deck with capability of handling up to 4 Control Pads and 8 vehicles.

1 Control Pad to direct a vehicle to load, dump, go forward, reverse or turn.

1 Motorized Conveyor

1 Action Sorter System: a series of chutes which send balls down different paths and sorts them by size.

Real people, real stories

Everyone wants "in" on our "true story" action... here's one from our catalog copywriter:

OK, I have a true story too... When I saw the treat jar sample come through, I had to have one of my own to make. My youngest child is now 15, so I have this puppy that gets showered with attention and of course, gets volumes of treats for being a good girl. I painted the jar with the help of the teen who was suddenly interested in it when he saw me mixing colors and had to add his opinion! I am definitely not an artist, but I must say the jar turned out so cute; it's personalized with "Treats for Jo."

Everyone who comes over notices it, smiles and says coily, "from the toy store?" "Yes," I answer proudly, "And I made it myself!!" And recently I've noticed several of those friends now have treat jars in their kitchens too, some that have been painted by their little ones and some that have been meticulously painted by a grownup artist!

Treat Jar Kit

A doggone cute kit that comes with one white 7" glazed ceramic jar with lid, paint, brush and instructions. Afraid you'll make a mistake painting? This special paint washes off with water so you can start over! Once you have perfection, bake it in a home oven to make it permanent. And you'll want to create a treat jar for the humans in your family too... Includes recipes for making treats for pets and cookies for kids. Ages 8 & up. #71445 $18

Free To Be You and Me

This award winning recording by "That Girl" Marlo Thomas and friends such as Carol Channing, Tom Smothers, Harry Belafonte and Diana Ross was a favorite of children of the 70's. Now, 25 years later, the positive messages of tolerance and good manners and believing in yourself, and equal rights for women still ring true. The children of the 70's are becoming the parents of today and they're buying this recording for their children in "record" numbers! Besides the good messages, the songs are just plain fun and easy to sing along with. 60 minutes. CA #75294 $10.98 CD #75296 $17.98

Critter Comforts

Adventure in every box.

Real people, real stories
"I was a little wary of this project because I wasn't sure if the kids would be patient enough to wait for the soaps to freeze, but it turned out to be the lifesaver part of the twins' sleepover party. Just when the kids were all over the place and so wired that things felt a little out of hand, the soaps were finished. For the next hour, all 8 girls settled down doing the gift wrapping part and making these teeny tiny little gift tags they designed."

Soap-Scapes

Custom design your own soap! Cut and melt five bars of colored, scented glycerin in the microwave, pour into a mold, then create scenes inside the soap with rubber shapes and foam pieces. diddly-umptious

Real people, real stories

True, true, true: we use our high school workers to help make samples for our store. After they made these little bibelot bags for us, they made some extras to use for the school homecoming dance!

Bibelot Bags

Make 2 exquisite beaded bags the easy way, using special "adhesive fabric" that requires no sewing. Using a flat vinyl pattern, assemble the bag by making simple folds. Next, sprinkle the outer surface with glittery, sparkly beads; then lightly press. More beads can then be strung for a handle and made into a decorative daisy or butterfly for the finishing touch. All materials (as well as excellent instructions) are included to make one 3x2" bag to be worn as a necklace, plus one 4x3" shoulder bag. And it only takes about an hour to do!

Say, didn't we see Sarah Michelle and Melissa Joan with tiny beaded bags in People magazine????

Coin-u-lator

This "teacher designed" calculator makes learning how to count coins interesting and easy. Instead of numbers on the calculator, it has realistic "coin buttons" to add and subtract with, plus 2 built-in games to help teach about money. LCD screen offers decimal or alpha numeric format along with great sound effects!

Ages 6 & up. #66137 $20
Requires 3 "AA" batteries, included

Coin-u-lator Activity Book

Play coin counting games with Mr. Fat Cat.

Twist & Shout

When kids are learning math, instant rewards help 'em hang in there and keep trying more. The unique sound effects of these tools, er... we mean toys, reinforce correct answers and encourage more play. Using a musical beat, a cool voice, and 3 different games, these gadgets teach and quiz addition and multiplication tables. In our kid trials this was a hit. They loved "bopping" the activator button when they heard a correct answer and they couldn't wait for the "lightning round." Ready, set, hit it!
Requires 4 "AA" batteries, included

break the hidden code of jungle animals!

Mastermind For Kids

Lions and tigers and bears, oh yes! A special kids jungle version of the classic code breaking game. With 3 levels of play it's a fun way to develop matching, logic and deduction skills. Young players simply guess which animals are hiding, older players must guess the order they're in, too.

For 2 players.

Sports Challenge For Kids

For sports crazy kids, here's a game with tabletop versions of basketball, soccer and tennis, plus tests of sports knowledge in lots of other sports. Has a woman ever played in a NHL game? Which goes faster: a dragster, a stock car or an Indy car? Players race around the track, winning events by correctly answering questions from 180 cards. For 2-4 players.

Ages 8 & up.
#71522 $20

SMATH

Teachers have loved this game for a long time because it's a "learn as you go" game. Players form addition, subtraction, multiplication and division equations in crossword-puzzle style.

As players learn more math, they move on to more advanced rules using brackets and other math symbols. It's so much fun you'll just want to play 'smore! For 2-4 players.

Ages 6 & up. #75198 $14

Air Hockey Game

This mini (15x7") arcade game has air holes, and a fan under the surface so the puck rides on a cushion of air. Lightning-fast flippers, electronic sound, score counters and 5 pucks earn 2 thumbs up from fans. Ages 5 & up.

#66184 $20

A to Z Jr.

No bells and whistles here, just great game play! It's a word game with fun categories galore. Quickly name as many items as you can that start with different letters from categories like "Scary Things," "Sports Played with a Ball," "Precious Stones," "Sandwich Fillings..." The snap and flip-over timer makes the pace wonderfully frantic! The first to use all letters from A to Z wins! For 2-4 players.

Ages 5-14. #75070 $20

Railroad Rush Hour

There's gridlock in the freight yard! Can you clear the tracks and engineer your red locomotive to the nearest exit? Rush Hour is a superb game for sequential thinking skills and planning ahead; skills every parent dearly hopes their child will develop. 50 challenge cards from Beginner to Expert with solutions on the reverse side. Includes a striped denim storage bag. Ages 6 & up. #71442 $20

Password Remember how the losing TV contestants always received the "home version" of the game as a consolation prize? Well, this game has outlived the show and now it's a great prize for anyone! Played with teams; one player is shown the secret word (the password) and then attempts to get a second player to guess the word based on one-word clues. The fewer word clues used by a team, the higher the score. For 4 or more players. Ages 8-Adult. #69042 $14

Robotic Arm Trainer

Hands down and arms down the ultra coolest thing in the catalog for the kids who say they're too old for toys, but still love to build things and make them work! This kit teaches basic robotic sensing and locomotion principles while you build the arm and then tests motor skills as you control the arm. Command the five-switch, wired controller with LED lights to grab, release, lift, lower, rotate wrist, and pivot sideways 350 degrees. After assembly, observe the dynamics of gear mechanisms through the transparent arm. And the instruction manual is extraordinary... teachers we gave it to raved about it! Could this be your next Science fair project ???

Ages 10 & up. #75175 $70

Requires 4 "D" batteries not included

this at

One of our employees is a chemist by day and a toy expert by night. When she tried this microscope, she was blown away by the quality and the price. "It's better than what I use at work" she said, and of course we thought she was just joking. "No, honest," she gushed, "the optics are superior. I wish I had this microscope at work!"

My First Lab Microscope

Top quality, first rate, real scientific microscope for observing biological specimens. This is such a good microscope, it can go to college with your child!

Features built-in electric illumination (15W), 10x eyepiece and optical glass lenses that magnify from 40X to 400X. Also comes with 6 prepared slides and a vinyl dust cover. Try snipping some hair from your dog to check out under the microscope - you probably won't want Bowser sleeping on the bed any more!! Ages 11 & up. #75039 $90

Microscope Accessory Kit

Contains 12 plain glass slides, 12 single concavity (well) slides, 1 plastic storage box, 1 package of cover glass squares, 1 plastic handle scalpel, 1 pair forceps, 1 plastic pipet, a spare bulb for the microscope and tip sheet for preparing your own slides. #75270 $9

Fly Head magnified 100 times

Celestial Seeker

A portable star finder compact enough to fit in a pocket.

Simply slide a card in the viewer and push a button to illuminate the card with night vision red light! Includes 20 North American constellation cards with time of year and sky direction, plus a glow-in-the-dark compass to help locate the exact position of constellations

Ages 9 & up. #66400 $20

Requires 2 "AAA" batteries not included

Power Play Model Kits

For old-fashioned fun, kids 10 & up can build, paint and race these gear-driven wood action vehicles. Each kit is complete with precut wood parts, sandpaper, paints, glue, illustrated instructions and pre-assembled flywheel gear box. No batteries required; just rev the wheels on any smooth, flat surface and let 'em go! Approximately 5.5" long. Our toy testers gave these the checkered flag!

Bigfoot Truck #71595 $12

Star Cruiser #71598 $12

Mars Explorer #71596 $12

Meteor Rocket Kit

Kids' mouths fall open when this rocket blasts 100 feet into the sky! Detailed assembly instructions are included, and you can find the fuel in your kitchen cabinets...baking soda and vinegar! The rocket can be reused; just add more fuel. Power can be adjusted to the right level for young flyers or advanced rocketeers. Comes with all materials needed except household cement, scissors, and a ladder to get it off the neighbors' roof if you fail to account for wind direction!! Ages 10 & up. #71550 $20

Moon Walker II

The 5x4" Moon Walker starts to walk when it detects a change in light intensity or sound commands ... then continues its four-legged voyage until instructed by an internal timer to stop. Meanwhile, you're beaming like a proud parent cuz your kid built the little fellow and learned some concepts of robotics, sensors, gear drives, block diagrams and schematics along the way! Ages 10 & up. #75176 $40 Requires 1 "AA" battery, not included.

Comel!

Mini Space Phone

Kids in the 50's used to tie string between two tin cans and communicate with their buddies; millennium kids use a space phone! You won't believe the strange noises the spring and plastic cups generate. Stretch the spring a little or a lot and get some out-of-this-world sounds! No batteries needed! Ages 8 & up. #75052 $8

Astronaut Behdo Commander Galaxy #75109 $4.95

30-in-1 Electronic Kit has everything you need to learn basic circuitry and get a buzz out of beginning electronics! With the easy instructions, build a night light, railway timing device, alarm clock, burglar alarm and more. Build 30 projects in all, without any tools. Ages 10 & up. #75255 $20 Requires 3 "AA" batteries not included

Novice 50 Telescope

With this telescope, kids as well as adults will be able to study craters on the moon, view Saturn's rings and observe bright double stars. Our 50mm beginning telescope features all glass optics, aluminum tube construction, a sturdy wood tripod, a 12.5mm eyepiece, and an 8mm eyepiece. To double the power of the eyepieces, it also features a 2x Barlow lens, and to make it easy to locate objects, it has a 5x20 finderscope. The universe is becoming more accessible as we enter the 21st century. Astronomers now have the technology to investigate distant galaxies, black holes and the beginnings of the universe itself. What an exciting time to get into the stars and planets! Remember, telescopes can be used for terrestrial viewing of wildlife, too. Ages 7-Adult. #75042 $99

THE YOUNG ASTRONOMER
by HARRY FORD

The Young Astronomer
An ideal introduction to the oldest science: Astronomy - the study of space. Practical experiments using everyday materials explain what you see in the sky, while helpful tips show which equipment to use and how to record what you see. Learn how to chart the phases of the moon, read a map of constellations and safely observe sunspots. The book is jam-packed with projects, stunning photos and interesting factoids! Ages 7-11. #75056 $15.95

Real people, real stories

"When the kids sat us down for the big show, we expected to 'ooh and aah' out of politeness. But their very first 'trick' had us out of our seats, literally, with our mouths open. And yes, we really did utter WOW!
I just wish I had the camera..."

Wow Science A fabulously fun collection of 10 magic tricks and illusions that illustrates basic scientific principles. Individual cards for each trick tell you how to set up and present the tricks, even what to say to your audience. "How" booklet tells the scientific secrets behind the tricks. Ages 8 & up. #75260 $20

Volcano Kit
Easy, safe, and fun... just add water to the instant papier-mache mix and build your volcano. Then follow instructions for erupting with baking soda and vinegar and watch it spew. Can be reused indefinitely; we know a family that sets off the ol' volcano every New Year's Eve!
Ages 8 & up. #71560 $12

Marvelous M

Look-Alikes Book
The creativity in this award-winning book will blow you away! It tickles your fancy, challenges your seeking skills and utterly amazes! The more you look, the more you see of everyday things that are made to look like what they're not... Buildings are made of sweaters, crackers and mouse traps. Cars have bagels for tires, acorns for headlights... More than one thousand "look-alikes" for puzzlers of all ages to find. Hardcover. #75145 $12.95

W-O-W! You know it's gotta be good when the real scientists from Scientific American Magazine give it an award. Here are two fun, well-designed book & science kits for 5-7 year olds with lots of things to try, clear explanations and great illustrations:

Chemistry Wiz
Fun experiments about solids, liquids and gases every child should do before the 4th grade. If air is colorless, odorless, and tasteless, how can you prove it's there? Can you keep a towel dry under water without a waterproof bag? Lotsa lotsa fun! #75162 $20

ElectroWiz-Magnetism
Make an iron detector, levitate metal rings, make magnets bigger and stronger. Most kids are really attracted to magnets! #75163 $20
Requires 1 "D" battery, not included

All About Animation

Make your own versions of the zoetrope and thaumatrope 19th century movie machines, then create animated strips and cards to work in them. You get all the equipment needed for making your own 'loons, plus a lesson in the history of animation. Hey, how about drawing a cute mouse with big ears, white gloves and red shorts? Ages 8 & up. #75053 $10

Brain Trek

We had a group of teachers try this and the results were hysterical as well as enlightening! It's a box of wild & crazy activities to help discover what different areas of the human brain do.

Trust us on this one!

Ages 8 & up. #75265 $22
Requires one 9V battery, not included

Switch On

You could say this kit really tripped our Toy Testers' wires because they begged to keep the first sample we had of this set!

Officially, this is an electronic circuit activity set that safely teaches the basic principles of electronics with easy-to-use building blocks. Bottom line for the kids is; you can have a blast setting up circuit blocks to switch on a light bulb, electric fan, fire engine siren, flashing door bell and moisture detector. All the parts to do these activities and many more are included. And what's really helpful is that the instructions include color coded diagrams that can be used as templates under a clear plastic base plate. This is the best electronic circuitry set we've come across, bar none! Ages 8 & up. #66126 $59.95

Magical Science...

Optical Illusions Lab

Seeing is believing--or is it? Perform more than 50 optical experiments with this lab and then let us know! And scope this out: with the materials in the lab, you can create your own moving and 3D pictures by making a stereoscope, a kaleidoscope, a thaumatrope, a praxinoscope, and a phenakistoscope! Also comes with 32-pg. book of instructions and stunning visual illusions. Word of Advice: Save the rippling and rolling images for viewing on an empty stomach! Ages 8 & up. #75246 $19.95

Hydro Gyro

A whole new spin for the gyroscope! The transparent inner capsule is filled with colored fluid. When the device is spun using the launch cord, the fluid surges to the outermost points to create an array of fascinating effects. Kids, this baby spins with incredible velocity for a good loooooong time. 4" in diameter; assorted colors. Ages 5 & up. #69078 $9

The Hoberman Sphere Transforming Globe is an item which we struggle to describe but find flat out fabulous! We've shown it below in its compact form, then sorta-kinda stretched open, and finally in its fully opened, glorious form. It's a resilient toy, an object of art and a tool for teaching math and science. Can you say 'icosadodecahedron'? Colorful polymer links expand and contract almost effortlessly, changing in volume 30 times. Expands from 9.5 to 30" diameter, and yes, kids do love to crawl inside it!

Rainbow Mini Sphere (not shown) expands from 5.5 to 12."

Secret Codes

A most unique book with kit. Learn the secrets of cryptic communications! 18-page book tells about codes throughout history, from smoke signals to bar codes. Inside the kit is everything needed to transmit messages in morse code, send signals with semaphore flags, invent your own ciphers, create messages in braille. Ages 8 & up. #75225 $19.95 Requires 4 "AAA" batteries not included

Rearview Spy Glasses

Cool under cover glasses have specially treated lenses that allow you to stay in disguise and spy on people behind you at the same time. Like mom, you can have eyes in the back of your head! One size fits all junior gumshoes and mom wannabees. Ages 5 & up. #75016 $4

Spy Scope

Our compact-size scope is perfect for sneaking and peeking. Look over, look under, look around while you stay hidden. It's all done with mirrors, really! Scope extends to 14" high. Ages 5 & up. #75017 $9

Spy Secret Messenger

Inspect this gadget! Write a secret message with the invisible ink pen. Put it in the message rocket and launch it across the room with a blast of air. Using secret ink revealer and decoder ring, Agent 99 (your partner) can decipher the message. Or send a night message using the flashing signal light and morse code. Ages 6 & up. #75267 $12

Requires 2 "SR41" button cell batteries, included. Also comes with 2 extra batteries

Supersonic Ear An electronic listening device that magnifies sounds that are too far away to hear with the normal ear. Point the "dish" in the direction of what you want to hear and pull the trigger. You can hear a bird's chirp in a distant tree, 2 chattering chipmunks under the neighbor's deck or your sister's phone conversation in the next room! Automatic Volume Limiter ensures maximum volume output is always at a safe level to protect hearing. Headphones included. Ages 5 & up. #75268 $22

Requires 1 "9-Volt" battery not included

Undercover Spy Case

Super sleuths will want this kit full of all the essential gear needed to crack the case; like materials for dusting for fingerprints, coding and decoding messages. Comes with folding spy binoculars, magnifying glass, flashlight with key chain, secret marker and developer pens, fingerprint powder, lifting tape and dusting brush. Ages 8 & up. #75018 $15

Requires 2 "AAA" batteries not included

Night Vision Goggles

Hi-tech gear to illuminate your nights and your bedroom closet in the daytime. Aviator-style goggles with impact resistant, night vision tinted lenses help you see in the dark. Two powerful beams of light, with a 25 ft. range, turn on or off automatically when you flip the goggles up or down. Goggles are lightweight and comfortable, and a battery pack attaches to the adjustable headband. Ages 6 & up. #75266 $15

Requires 2 "AA" batteries, not included

Internet Kids and Family Yellow Pages
Every "wired" family needs one of these! A big book chock full of kid-safe Web sites to explore, brought to you by "Net-mom" and Internet pioneer Jean Polly. This 4th edition has over 100 pages of all-new content, over 4,000 sites in all, plus new "Safe-Surfing" techniques. Sports, animals, countries, magic tricks... believe us, there's something for every child. And BONUS! BONUS! The son of net mom has included his favorite "disgusting-but-fun" Web sites. (The belch page is, um... awesome!) One of our other favorite sections is called "Why?" Listed here are web sites that answer questions such as "Why do a cat's eyes glow in the dark?" or "How many stars are in the sky?" This book is more than just a directory of web sites, it's a world of ideas! Ages K through 8th Grade.

Metal Detector
Light and sound indicators tell you when you're near metal coins, jewelry, or those keys baby brother hid somewhere in the house last year. Super-sensitive, simple to use, fun for indoors or outdoors, it converts from a full-size 27" metal detector to a hand-held scanner... (heh-hey, now you can play airport security and make them wait in line!) The detachable handle comes apart in 3 pieces, so it's easy to take anywhere! Ages 6 & up.
#71554 $22
Requires one 9-Volt battery not included

Snoop-A-Scope
See over crowds, peek around corners, see the world in a whole new way. This telescoping periscope is lightweight, easy to carry, and extends to a big, big 24" tall. Have fun watching your kids try to figure out the science of it all! Ages 5 & up.
#69039 $15

"The currency of Nigeria is Nila"
"The population of Mali is 19.4 million"
"The distance between San Francisco, Cal is 11202 miles"

Odyssey II

Global fun for the whole fam!

This talking interactive globe comes with a stylus to touch the globe and hear amazing facts, enjoy world music or play games.

Think of this as an atlas and globe in one!

Players can test their ability to find places on the globe or be quizzed on a variety of topics, including oceans, countries, and capitals...it even teaches US and Metric measurement between any two points. It's not such a small world after all! With 3 challenge levels and a friendly "help" button, anyone can play. Actual size is 10" in diameter and 12" high...we've just shown it larger than life because it wows us with so many fun factoids!

For 1-4 players. Ages 4-Adult.
