■ Local resident shapes personal experience into book

By Maureen Johnston RECORD STAFF WRITER

Shahla arrived in the United States clutching two things: $28 and a 10-month old son.

The year was 1963, and her heart was full of Northville Township author Vageehe Steele for years doubted Shahla's story would have reader appeal because it's her own.

Hits on her Web site, book sales and personal reviews are confirming her friends' encouragement she indeed had a unique tale to tell.

Her book, "Iran, Parade of Veils," describes a woman scorned for promoting women's equality, who flees to England from her womanizing husband. After a 10-year wait, she is granted a visa to come to America, a land she longed for Downtown special events: What's the payoff?

Opinions vary about the value of closing streets for annual festivals

Northville plays host to festivals, parades and special events throughout the year. While thousands flock to watch, browse and mingle, Bodnar said service businesses like his stand still.

There is no proof of a return on the investment in closing streets two or three days 10 times a year, the owner of Copy-Boy Printing said.

"There are several businesses that take it on the chin on those days," Bodnar said. "Mine's one of them. "You put them out of business for a full month

Extreme makeover

■ Meads Middle School is one of several schools facing pending deadlines

By Victoria Mitchell RECORD STAFF WRITER

It is an extreme makeover worthy of making even the most ardent home improvement addict drool.

And Northville public schools assistant superintendent for administrative services, David Bolitho, has exactly one week to pull it off.

He must take a ripped apart, disordered and in some areas barren Meads Mill Middle School out of a hard-hat-only zone and into a building worthy of a Thursday, Aug. 25 opening.

No easy task. The 1,550-square-foot addition consisting of seven classrooms and three science labs looks like a bomb shelter. Empty walls line the hallways where lockers should be and lights and technology fall in the category of dream finish items.

And if interior havoc isn't enough of a challenge, gravel lies in place of new six-lane track and the exterior of the building is dirt, mud and more

An Important Message for Medicare Beneficiaries

In 2003, Congress passed the Medicare Modernization Act—legislation that will take full effect in 2006. Many of you have expressed concern over how this act will affect your Medicare coverage.

The short answer is, it's up to you. The Medicare Modernization Act is not a mandate—it simply provides choices.

- It does not eliminate or reduce your Medicare benefits
- It is not a "privatization" of Medicare
- You have a choice of options, including your current coverage
- For the first time, prescription drug coverage is offered

In the coming months, you'll be hearing a lot about Medicare options from a number of sources, including private health care companies. Before making any decisions, we encourage you to get the facts through one of the following unbiased resources:

On the other hand, Corrine Yoho wishes downtown streets were closed once a month.

The special events Northville hosts throughout the year are essential boosts to local commerce, said the owner of Changing Seasons.

Yoho said downtown businesses "absolutely benefit" from promotions like Flower Days, the Christmas Walk and the annual sidewalk sale held last weekend.

"Those are wonderful days — when you graph your profits," she said. "It would be nice if they could have a monthly thing, something always

Everyone knows a lot of people show up; no one knows for certain whether they return to spend

"Right now, they all kind of tell us about their said Northville Chamber of Commerce president Jody Humphries. "There's nothing technical or official."

Therein lies the problem, Bodnar said. No proof.

Businesses have to participate to benefit. Humphries said. She conceded that a downtown full of temporary tents can obstruct the view of the permanent merchants.

But, the payoff is deferred.

"The more you can showcase your product, the more they come back. They have a comfort level of coming into the community, knowing where to park, knowing how to get here.

"It can be overwhelming. • but you don't want a downtown with tumble weed blowing through it."

> Jody Humphries President, Northville Chamber of Commerce

"To me, it's product sampling on a larger scale." Bodnar said the issue is not that simple. Even when businesses move their own products to the street to sell, they incur additional staffing costs to man a booth.

They don't look at the businesses, they look at the booths," he said. "You can be a gypsy or be out of business for three days."

Opportunity knocking

The chamber staff is stepping up pursuit of sponsors, aside from downtown merchants, to support special events, Humphries said.

"It's not strictly a donation," she said. "It's still a good advertising opportunity for them."

Meanwhile, local businesses have to budget for special events as part of a promotional strategy, Humphries said. "If you look at it financially and look at it from your objectives, there is a return on investment," she said. "I think it comes down to whether they take advantage of it or not, whether they coordinate promotional materials or with advertising."

People choose to visit or reside in Northville because of the pedestrian-friendly streets. The downtown draws people looking for a leisurely stroll, some window shopping and a community ambiance.

It's an opportunity for businesses, Humphries

"It brings foot traffic in, even if they don't buy," Yoho said. "Even if they're pre-occupied with what's happening in the street, they come back."

More to come

Hosting special events is a proven method to draw people to downtowns, Humphries said.

"I'd be hard-pressed to find a community that doesn't do events," she said. "We want people to say, 'We love Northville, there's always something happening in Northville.'

Discussion among chamber, Northville Central Business Association and Downtown Development Authority members indicate a common desire to have a regular schedule of events throughout the year, Humphries said.

Long-term events may need re-tooling. The July addition of the Grub Crawl, sampling menu items at local restaurants, was a big hit, Humphries said.

"There probably will be an event added in February," she said. "That was something the merchants very much wanted — it's slower then. "It can be overwhelming, but you don't want a

Jim Hawn used to string an electrical cord over downtown street lights to reach his corn dogs.

For six years at the Victorian Festival, the Northville Masons supplied power from their second floor Main Street headquarters to their nonprofit booth on Center Street.

This year, Lodge #186 will serve corn-on-thecob and homemade French fries, Hawn said, former lodge master.

Powering up the community's huge three-day celebration continues to be a challenge for the city, said Northville Department of Public Works director Jim Gallogly.

Victorian Festival host the Northville Chamber of Commerce is alerting groups putting up tents on closed off streets: bring your own power or ask a nearby business if you can tap into theirs, said Janet Bloom, marketing and events director.

Operators of the children's inflatable rides bring their own generators. Business who set up booths in front of their stores supply their own power. Still, others need juice.

The city has an electrical power supply behind the building on the northeast corner of Main and Center streets, Gallogly said. Some of the nonprofit organizations lining Center Street will be able to tap in there.

Down the road

The only real solution would be increasing the capacity of the city's underground power lines. Gallogly said. That would have to coincide with a street reconstruction project, like when the cables first were buried during MainStreet '78.

'It's always been under-designed for this kind of event," he said. "What needs to happen is when these streets are redone, we need to plan for more power supply.

Mayor seeking re-election; councilman Mittman opts out

By Maureen Johnston RECORD STAFF WRITER

One's in, one's out and one remains undeclared.

The race for Northville City Council has begun.

Mayor Christopher Johnson announced Monday he will seek a 10th 2-year term in November. Councilman Jerry Mittman said he will not run, creating room for three residents who have expressed interest in council seats.

Councilman Kevin Hartshorne remained publicly undeclared, despite previously pulling nominating petitions.

Furthermore, the four-year terms of Mayor Pro-tem Carolann Ayers and councilman Tom Swigart expire in November 2007.

City residents Michele Fecht, Michael McClish and Jim Allen have expressed interest in council positions. Fecht and McClish have pulled petitions, due by 5 p.m., Oct. 3.

"I think it's time to turn it over to a new generation," Mittman

■ Candidate guidelines

The filing deadline for the mayor's seat and the two council seats is no earlier than Sept. 1 and no later than Oct. 3.

Candidates must submit nominating petitions with a minimum of 50 and a maximum of 75 signatures of qualified and registered City of Northville voters, along with several required affidavits. For more information, visit www.ci.northville.mi.us/services/clerk/elections.

Facing charges

A 42-year-old Northville man is facing an Aug. 25 court date after his arrest for drunk driving Sunday.

Northville police officers reported stopping the driver of a green Explorer exceeding the speed limit westbound on Eight Mile Road. After a preliminary breathalyzer test showed the man's blood alcohol content at .14. officers arrested him and took him to the Northville Township Police Department.

He was assigned an Aug. 25 appearance in 35th District Court

His bike's back

A 27-year-old Novi man shopping for a new bicycle found the one stolen from his garage at a bike store.

Northville police were called July 7 to a Center Street store after the recent bike theft victim spotted his $934 bike in the store's repair area. Police were then notified four days later when the man who dropped off the bike returned to pick it up, police reports said.

The 20-year-old suspect, also from Novi, told police he had purchased the bike from a friend of his younger brother for $50. The suspect refused to name the friend but told officers he knew the bike was stolen.

The suspect remains free, pending possible charges.

Not the repo man

A 30-year-old Northville Township woman parked her Silver Grand Am in her driveway, then returned the next day to find it missing. The woman said her car was locked and she did have possession of both sets of keys. She was concerned that her bank may have repossessed the car due to late payments, but her bank did not. Police have not found the woman's car and do not have any witnesses.

Hide and seek

Two Northville men tried to flee Meijer Aug. 8 on Haggerty Road, after allegedly attempting to steal four bottles of liquor. The first man was caught, but the second fled to the marshy area behind Uno Chicago Grill and hid from police. Later that night, witnesses spotted a suspicious man outside the REI building and called the police. The man fit the description of the Meijer suspect and he was arrested and charged with retail fraud. The man was released on a $500 bond and his court date is set for Aug. 25.

Busted

A routine traffic stop on Haggerty Aug. 9, landed a 37-year-old Detroit man in jail, according to police reports. The arresting officer stopped the man because his license plate was expired, and found the man had a suspended drivers license and an outstanding warrant for his arrest. The man was charged with driving while on a suspended license and his expired plate was confis-

Robber still at large

Employees at Phil's Towing in Northville were surprised when they arrived to work Aug. 9 and found they had been robbed. An employee unlocked the front door and went into the businesses office, where she noticed the cash register was open. The owner said he left the building about midnight the night before and did not see anyone suspicious. Police said there was no forcible entry, but a window was partially open. Fingerprints were taken and a security camera was obtained, but police have found no other information.

Drunken swimmer

A 33-year-old man was arrested Aug. 9 after allegedly breaking into the Country Club Village community pool with a friend. Police said the man was intoxicated and when asked for identification, he lied several times about his name. Police said the man had several warrants and personal protection orders against him in different cities. The man was charged with interference with police and trespassing. His court date was set for Aug. 25.

Bike found

A brown Schwinn bicycle was found. Now the bike is parked at the Northville Township Police Department waiting to be claimed. The bike was found parked on the walkway on Lyonhurst Circle for than a week on Aug. 5.

SAVVY SENIOR

Dear Savvy Senior,

My neighbor recently got an application in the mail from Social Security for extra help paying for her prescription drug costs. Does not getting an application mean I'm not eligible for assistance? I am 67 and could sure use some extra help. What can you tell me?

Looking for Extra Help

Dear Looking,

The new Medicare prescription drug benefit, which begins Jan. 1 will offer extra help to older Americans with limited incomes, but just because you don't get an application in the mail doesn't necessarily mean you're not eligible. Here's what you should know.

Extra Help

From last May through August, the Social Security Administration has been mailing out application forms to millions of Medicare beneficiaries (with limited income) who may be eligible for extra help paying for their out-of-pocket Medicare prescription drug costs. More than 14 million Americans will be eligible for this extra help, which will pay between 75 and 100 percent of their drug costs.

Bo You Qualify?

Nearly seven million of the Medicare beneficiaries eligible for the prescription drug extra neip (use very low income) are automatically income means any, money trought carrolled and don't need to apply with Social Security personal social security personal social security personal includes that may also eligible, and bank accounts, investments, additional estate and the value of life the prescription drug extra help (the need to apply. Here's how the extra help eligibility breaks down:

 Automatically Enrolled: If you receiving Medicaid,

(SSI) or assistance with a Medicare Savings Program, you are automatically enrolled and don't have to apply. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) should have sent a letter explaining this to you. But in late fall you will still be asked to enroll in a drug plan of your choice. If you don't, CMS will enroll you in one.

 Must Apply: If your 2005 monthly income is below $1,197 ($1,604 for couples) and your assets are below $11,500 ($23,000 for couples), you qualify for extra help but you must apply. Even if your income or assets are above these limits, you may still qualify (and should apply) because certain types of income and assets are not included. Also, know that receiving an application in the mail from Social Security doesn't necessarily mean you will get extra help, and not receiving an application doesn't mean you're not eligible. If you don't receive an application by late August and think you may be eligible, you should apply either by phone at 800-772-1213, online at www.socialsecurity.gov or you can apply in person at your local Social Security office.

Income and Assets

People who are automatically enrolled don't have to worry about figuring their income and assets since the government has already been deemed them below the limit. But for those who must apply, tional real estate and the value of life insurance policies. They do not include your home, vehicles, personal possessions, burial plot and up

Confused?

If you're feeling confused or overwhelmed with all this Medicare madness and have questions or need help applying, contact your local State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) for free counseling and assistance. To find your nearest office, call the Medicare hotline at 800-633-4227 Of www.shiptalk.org.

Savvy Tips: Remember that applying for extra help is separate from signing up for Medicare's prescription drug coverage. To get drug coverage, you'll still need to enroll in a Medicare drug plan between Nov. 15, 2005 and May 15, 2006. Also, if you get turned down for Medicare's extra help, you may still qualify for assistance from your state. Some state programs have higher income limits or may not require an asset test. Your SHIP counselor can advise you. For more information on the new Medicare prescription drug plan visit www.medicare.gov.

She's only 15 years old and this is her 28th show. Ashley Shamoon has been a part of the Marquis Theatre family since the age of 9 and she, like many others, just can't get away from the stage. "I think what's really brilliant about this place, or Northville," said Emie Nolan, director of over six productions at the theater, "is there is not a major children's theater in Detroit. And now, for almost thirty years, (Theatre owner Inge Zayti) has run the Marquis and has been devoted to only family audiences." "Pooh and Friends" began last month and will be playing through

The cast is made up almost entirely of young actors like Shamoon. Pooh, played by Patrick O'Reilly, is the only adult per-"I think what's really cool about this is that this production is it's highly interactive," Nolan said, "the audience is really the friend in the title, 'Pooh and Friends." Audience members can help Pooh discover honey, gather all of Pooh's friends, get Piglet and Pooh out of the forest and assist in "What Mr. Ernie does so well, is he takes everything about 'Pooh and Friends,' exactly as you remember it, and then he takes a little bit of the dust off and throws a modern shake onto it," said

O'Reilly. ". .But there's something new about his 'Pooh and Friends' rather than just yes this is something we've all seen."

Directing younger actors isn't a new experience for Nolan. He's come to appreciate their unique perspective. "Working with kids, they are the first ones that will tell you if something is funny or if it is not."

Nolan said. "If the kids really laugh at the first read through,

"Most people will think it's Pooh, it's only for the little tiny kids," O'Reilly said, "but we're getting audiences in here of all ages that are having a great time.

"I mean grandparents are chuckling, the adults have a grin on their faces and the kids find it hysterical. Kid's of all ages, we just had a group of 12 year olds in here who loved it, loved it. They thought it was hysterical."

MARCHING: band readies for Eastern debut

Each day students stretch the Six Mile Road parking lot filled of yard markers from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., memorizing music and formations while dressed in cutoffs and tank tops, a sharp contrast to the traditional band uniforms.

"It gets a little tiring because of the heat," Zingle said.

Senior Scott Bowdich said by the end of camp he should know what was covered. If not, he has a little band trade trick: the tenor saxophone player writes the marching steps on his sheet music.

"It is always helpful to mark the music," he said.

Once school begins, the kids will take band class every day. practice after school and weekends through September.

Toe tapping

This season the half-time show features the music of composer John Williams, including selections from Harry Potter

"All the Harry Potter is really cool," said drum major, Jake Hoemschemeyer. "I think it is a really strong program this year, All of the freshman are learning very quickly."

Rumbell said with pre- and post-game performances along with community parades, band members will learn many songs ranging from Metallica to Motown to John Phillips Souza.

The marching season is paired with an active parade season.

spanning the year.

The band's dedication to having a different program for every community parade, replaces competitions.

"We'll have a blazing season from the beginning to the end." the director said.

The years march on

As Rumbell stands atop his watch tower at camp, dictating commands through a microphone while looking at his version of a playbook, he welcomes another year.

"I always look forward to it," he said. "If I need to be up at 6:30, I'm up at 4."

His wife accompanies him everyday to camp, serving as a ground-level watchdog along with assistant band director, Joanne Ray-Hepp.

Rumbell has led the high school marching band since 1972, and never tires from the rigorous schedule or unfavorable weather.

"I won't retire for another 20 years," he said.

Missing: Band on the Run

Parents, high school officials still looking for missing band uniforms

By Victoria Mitchell RECORD STAFF WRITER

Lynne Fowlkes Northville neighbors crawling under beds and searching closets for a valuable commodity.

The hot item: missing band uniforms.

The vice president of the Northville High School music boosters said beginning today uniform amnesty is being offered to anyone turning in marching or concert band apparel.

'No questions asked," Fowlkes said. "Some uniforms could be out there. Someone could have them in their closet and be too embarrassed to turn them in, but we need them."

The office staff at the high school on Six Mile Road is ready to accept submissions without a disparaging glance, she said. Why precisely the uniforms have disappeared is something the band mother can't definitively answer.

Forgetfulness? Loss? A childhood prank?

Stealing for sport is not a new phenomenon.

From roadblock to street signs. setting aside the law for a bedroom or dorm room adornment isn't a surprise.

In November 2004, NBC News reported dozens of 9-foot-tall SpongeBob SquarePants balloons were stolen from Burger King rooftops across the country allegedly by teens and young

The 50-pound balloons valued at $500 were reportedly stolen for Northville High School drum major Jake Hoernschemeyer said he has never heard of anyone taking a marching band uniform as a prank or souvenir.

"I seriously doubt that would happen," he said.

His band mates concurred, saying they have never heard of someone keeping uniforms, including hats as a memento.

Fowlkes speculates the shortage is a combination of one or two uniforms withheld throughout the years, coupled with bad records.

"At one time, record keeping was not a high priority and uniforms slipped away without recourse," she said.

A Northville High School marching band uniform costs $500, not including the hat. And the group does not have enough uniforms for the nearly 220 members this year.

Fowlkes said last year, marchers in the pit percussion wore black pants and tops because of the lack-of-uniform dilemma. "So if we had 10 people out there that didn't think it is a big deal, it is," she said. "Kids are already going without. It doesn't have to be an adornment in their

■ Resale shopping can cure end-ofsummer boredom

Final installment of a summerlong series focusing on children's activities.

By Victoria Mitchell RECORD STAFF WRITER

Virginia Krietzs is ready to tackle end-of-summer boredom by showing off some back-to-school clothes.

The nine-year retailer at Baby Baby in Northville said the store's lower level, called The Cove, is a perfect place for young adults to spend their last days of vacation boosting their wardrobes.

We sell hip, up-to-date clothes, like cool jeans," Krictzs said.

The downtown resale shop known more for its baby gear and clothes, sells the gently used, namebrand clothing in sizes 10 through 16. Sizes generally fitting kids fifth through 10th grades.

Krictzs said the shop sells shoes, coats and clothing in brands like Tonuny Hilfiger, Abercrombie & Fitch, Hollister, Gap and Old Navy.

The Main Street store also sells a selection of new Northville High School athletic wear.

Spending the last week of vacation hunting for treasures in resale shops is a trend more families are embracing.

According to a survey conducted by the National Retail Federation, Midwest shoppers are expected to spend about $167 less this year, down from an average of $572 spent last year. The survey showed more than three-fourths of parents polled will head to a discounter for back-toschool items ranging from computers to pencils to clothes.

Economics aside, resale shopping is a fun way to spend an after-

Resale shoppers say the hunt for a quality, name-brand item at a bargain price is just as fun as it is

Jennifer Diaz, Plato's Closet sales associate, said the Novi store has been very busy with back-toschool shoppers. "I think resale shopping is popular because you are basically getting whatever you find at the mall, but at reduced prices," she said.

The West Oaks II store carries gently used clothing for teens and young adult in just about every brand found in a mall.

The teen clothes retailer said the Novi location has already doubled last year's August sales, proving a keen interest in resale clothes.

Sound system: Can you hear me now?

Residents struggle to be heard during public meetings at new $8 million township hall

By Tracy Mishler RECORD STAFF WRITER

Chip Snider said he thinks the sound system at Northville's township

Although there were many complaints during a special township meeting last week, Snider said the problem has to do with the air ducts in the room drowning out the sound, not the actual system. "We can't turn the air exchangers down, but if we close the doors it isn't as bad," Snider said. "I don't think the problem is the sound system." Snider said the round room where the board meets creates problems, but has been adjusted.

"We've adjusted (the sound) to the degree we can," Snider said. "There's not much more we can do."

Assistant Township Manager Thelma Kubitskey said her staff has been

"People need to learn to talk into the microphones. I've sat in back, and my hearing's not that great, and I didn't have a problem. Other times, you can't hear a word."

> Dick Henningsen Treasurer, Northville Township

brainstorming ideas to improve the sound system.
"It's not a matter of fixing it," she said. "There is nothing wrong with it. It's a matter of improving it.

"This is a whole new state of the art sound system and our board members are still learning it."

Kubitskey said it cost an estimated $150,000 for the audio visual aspects in the community room. She said the sound system budget was incorporated in the cost of the township hall.

Kubitskey said construction of a new township hall and fire station, along with renovations to the township police station, was about $15.5 million.

She said township hall construction was the biggest expense, costing about $8 million.

"There is no reason to seek a new sound system," Kubitskey said. "We did bring an expert in to configure the acoustics in the community room. He assured us there could be some tweaking done."

Treasurer Richard Henningsen is very disappointed with the sound system and is not sure the lapel microphones that Snider has offered will

"People need to learn to talk into the microphones," Henningsen said. "I've sat in back, and my hearing's not that great, and I didn't have a problem. Other times, you can't hear a word."

The new township hall opened on Six Mile Road and Sheldon in November, and Henningsen said, once all the bugs are fixed, everything will be fine.

"The building is not quite ready yet, but it will be," he said.

there have been many problems selling this land in the past, that we're not going to the bank until the check clears."

Greg Bird, director of communications for the state budget office said, there is no way to tell what impact the potential sale will have on the state budget until the property is sold.

The fiscal year doesn't end until Sept. 30 and it's hard to say how one item would impact the budget," Bird said. "We're not sure if the $140 million is still accurate since that amount is a month old.

All money from the auction. will be put in the state general fund, which will then go toward paying for Medicaid, family services, higher education and the Department of Corrections.

Bird said the states general fund has over $8 billion and is divided

"We've been waiting to sell this piece of property for quite some time," Bird said. "I wouldn't qualify the lower sale as a problem for the state though."

Township perspective

Northville Township will also benefit from the sale, but it may not be for quite some time.

Eventually when the land gets redeveloped, it will increase our tax base," said Thelma Kubitskey, assistant township manager and director of finance for Northville Township. "Basically we will receive more money for township operations."

Kubitskey said she thinks it could be a year or more before the township sees any tax revenue from the hospital property.

"If the property is bought and left undeveloped, we'd still have tax revenue coming in - just a lower amount," she said. Everyone will benefit in the long-run with this sale."

TOWNSHIP BRIEFS

Back to the drawing board

The Northville Township Board of Trustees held a special meeting Aug. 11 to discuss recommendations for the property at Five Mile and Sheldon Road.

The board agreed to have the plan for mixed use development go back to the planning commission for revisions.

Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand recommendend the township keep the land in reserve. Hillebrand is against a new residential development on the property and said she would like to see a community center built. She said more residential housing units will put a great deal of stress on the townships schools.

The board voted 4-3 to have the planning commission consider other options. The board will meet again at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 18 for their regular scheduled meet-

Welcome, new coaches

It's never easy being the new kid on the block. Northville's athletic programs have plenty in the way of incoming freshmen, but it's new coaches who have to develop their own style to fit into an existing program. Ryan Hockman, and several assistants, will be taking the role of leaders for the football program while Matt Stetson adds boys golf to his coaching resume following a successful boys tennis season in the spring. Citizen of the Year Nominations now being accepted

Each year the Northville Chamber of Commerce celebrates the dedication and support shown by volunteers in the Northville community through the Citizen of the Year award.

Once again we're asking the community to nominate individuals for this award. The award started in 1976 as our way to honor a special person whose effort made a difference in the community.

The following criteria must be met for nomination:

▶ Be involved in actively supporting (through time, talent, or financial support) an organization that improves our community.

▶ Live or work in the Northville Community

▶ Show concern for community, environment, and family

▶Be a role model for community youth and citizens

Please nominate a deserving individual for the Northville Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year Award and help us all say thank you.

The award will be presented at the Northville Chamber Annual Meeting at St. John's Golf and Conference Center in October.

Right Carpet, Wrong Cushion

Imagine driving an automobile with worn shock absorbers.

Eventually, the constant pounding would take its toll, shortening the life of your car and giving you a few headaches along the way.

The shock absorber that protects your carpet is called cushion.

A good cushion (or pad) first creates comfort and softness underfoot and enhances the acoustical properties of carpet by helping to reduce noise.

However, the most important benefit of cushion is that it can increase the useful life of carpet while maintaining appearance.

Choosing the right cushion is not based on feel alone, but also on the recommendation of the carpet manufacturer. Many of the performance and wear warranties from fiber and carpet producers actually specify certain cushion types and thicknesses be used with their products.

Some carpets require certain cushion to safeguard against stretching, delamination and "creeping."

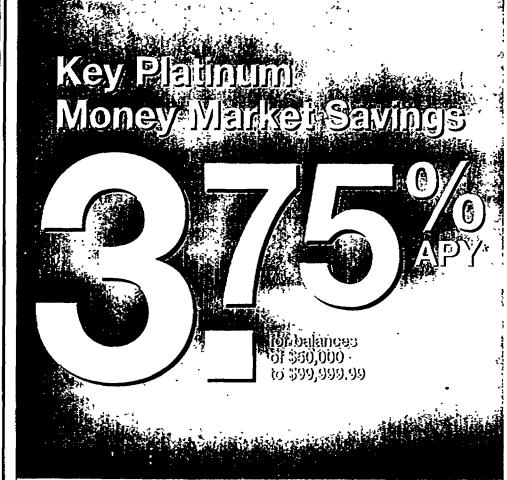

Your local retailer can help you choose the right cushion that meets your requirements and those of the carpet manufacturer.

Better-quality cushion costs more, but the up-front investment can be well worth the investment, as your carpet stays looking fresh and new longer.

Nick Kaldis fires a shot toward the net. The senior Mustang has set some lofty preseason goals.

Oh captain, my captain

■ Senior Nick Kaldis wants to make captain in three sports

By Sam Eggleston RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Northville's Nick Kaldis intends on being the best athlete he can be.

And a captain while he's at it.

Kaldis — who plays soccer, basketball and track — is hoping to showcase his talents while leading his squad throughout his senior year.

"As a senior you've got to give it all for every practice, every game,"

Kaldis said. "Every time you're out there it might be the last time with your buddies."

Kaldis would know.

Kaldis would know.

Last year he went up for a header and came down with a sudden twinge of pain at the back of his ankle. His back of his ankle. His Achilles' tendon tweaked, hampering the remainder of his season.

He hasn't let it slow down his off-season workouts though and now he's expecting to go out with all of the gusto that made him so dangerous last year.

"Nick was a tremendous player for us last year," said Henry Klimes, the boys soccer coach at Northville High School. "Hopefully he can give us the same type of performance, and maybe even better, this year."

Klimes said if Kaldis can showcase the talents and the leadership he possessed last season, he'll most likely earn a place as a captain.

Even if he doesn't, Kaldis will be expected

"He's definitely a key member of our squad," Klimes said. "He has a huge role to play. We're not exactly sure where we're going to use him yet because he's so versatile, but we know he's going to be a big part of this year's team."

Leading a team like Northville soccer won't be easy. The squad was ranked first in the state for most of the year last season but has now taken a dip in state polls.

Kaldis said he doesn't mind where his team is ranked. He knows they want to win.

"Our expectations are still pretty high," he said. "This year we're not ranked as high as last year, but we still have expectations of ourselves. There's a little less pressure, but we still plan on winning."

The basketball team and the track team, however haven't fared as well as their soccer counterparts. The teams have struggled in the past, but Kaldis hopes he can earn a place to help lead them.

"I'm going to give 110 percent every game," he said of all his athletic endeavors.
"You never know when an injury can come up. I hope I don't get injured this year, but if I do I don't want to look back and say I should have played better when I was healthu"

Leading by example is what every captain strives to do and Klimes said Kaldis has all the tools necessary for the job.

"He's a tremendous young man," he said.
"He's respectful and his teammates like him.
He works very hard in practice as well, which "He has a great chance at being a captain. He just has to show the leadership now that we're know he's, capable of. We have high expectations of him and we know he'll live up to them."

And high expectations are what Kaldis has thrived on his whole career.

"You've got to have high expectations of yourself," he said. "Only you know how far you can push yourself and you've got to push if you want to be successful."

Where's Watza?

■ Former Northville standout earns place with MSU football, but he can't play

By Sam Eggleston RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Matt Watza just shakes his head when he thinks about it.

A standout linebacker at Northville High School, Watza always dreamed of playing football at Michigan State University. Following his high school graduation in 2003, he made his way to Western Michigan University to bring his grades up and then on to East Lansing.

There, Watza worked out and then went to a walk-on tryout. Two weeks later, while on his way to work, he got a call on his cell phone and found out he carned a spot with the Spartans.

"I just couldn't believe it," Watza said. "It was like it was too good to be true."

It was. Watza was informed just prior to departing school in May that he had too few credits to continue as a member of the football

"It was a combination of transfer credits and the fact that I wasn't full time when I first started at Michigan State," he said "I thought they would have checked all of that out before I got a spot on the team. I didn't think it was going to be a prob-

Watza said though he doesn't have a position on the football team right now, he plans on earning his place on the roster again when he gets the chance.

Of course, he has to stay in shape and stay ready to tryout when the time comes.

"I'm going to keep working out and staying in shape," he said. "It's encouraging because I made it once. I think I can do it again if I stay focused enough."

That won't be easy when Watza watches the Spartans take to the field on each Saturday

this fall. He said his plan is to continue cheering on Michigan State, the team he's backed since he was just a little kid, and keep working hard in his classes. He took some summer classes this year and will take extra classes in the fall to get himself back on track for his shot at Big 10 football.

But it still hurts when Watza think about where he might have fit in with the Spartans. He even was well on his way to learning some of the defensive schemes in a position he had never played before.

"I wasn't near big enough to play linebacker with them so they moved me back to safety." he said. "I had to learn all the new schemes and coverage."

He said he's not sure how he'll react when Michigan State is playing, but he still wants to see his team win.

Watza also said he'll never forget the memories he's already made for himself with just the short amount of time he spent with the Spartans.

"I have pictures of things like my name on my locker," he said. "I was just a few lockers away from guys like Drew Stanton. It was one of the greatest moments of my life."

And Watza said he's not about to discourage any of the Northville graduates who are looking to try and walk on somewhere.

"I wasn't the best football player," he said. "I wasn't the fastest or the strongest. I just loved playing football.

"I think anyone who has the desire and the love for the game can walk on. They shouldn't just walk away without trying. I couldn't have lived with myself if I hadn't tried out. I wouldn't trade these memories for anything."

Trying to 'Corral' donors for the NEF

To say Mike Poterala is happy with the beginnings of the new "Corral Club" is an understatement.

He's thrilled.

said. "They don't mind donating to help their kids or the other kids in this community." But $250, in any community, isn't just pocket change. What do these founding members get in exchange? Well, a VIP parking spot for one.

Everyone who donates will get a parking spot behind Cooke

School for every home football game this season as well as a family sports pass that will permit the members of a donor's immediate family to attend all regular-season Northville sporting events through the 2005-06 seasons with the exception of hockey. For $15 more, hockey is included.

"Hockey actually gets that money," said Poterala. "So if someone wants to donate the extra $15, we'll make sure they get the hockey pass as well."

Donors will also get membership in the Northville High School Boosters Club.

"The boosters have worked with us on this and we're thankful for their help," Poterala said. "We think having them involved will help this fund-raiser and also help boost their participawho've come to see him personally regarding the club.

"I've had people come over and hand their checks to me in person because they're so excited about this," he said.

Anyone can become a member and those who do could possibly see some "surprise" benefits because of it. One such benefit may be a donor-recognition barbecue prior to one of the football games.

The Northville Educational

Foundation, which was founded to help fund academic and extracurricular programs offered by Northville Public extracurricular Schools, is just truly getting started, said Poterala.

"As a fund-raising entity, the NEF is in its infancy," he said. "We're really excited with how well the Corral Club has already been received and hope to possibly turn it into a yearly event. Maybe, eventually, we'll be able to use the entire lot at Cooke.

"Right now we're just going to see how well this works out and then make additional plans."

But founding club members have nothing to worry about. Not only will they have the chance to enjoy first-year benefits, they'll also have the first option to renew their memberships and parking spaces for future seasons.

Walk for a cure

The Crohn's & Colitis Foundation of America, Michigan Chapter (CCFA) will host its Second Annual Heel to Heal walk on Saturday, September 10 at Maybury State Park in Northville. Proceeds will go towards research and programming to help find a cause and cure for Crohn's Disease and ulcerative colitis.

More than a million people throughout the United States suffer from Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis, known collectively as IBD. Both are painful diseases that affect the gastrointestinal tract, causing diarrhea, abdominal cramps, bleeding, and numerous complications including bowel obstruction and colon cancer. Most IBD sufferers are young when symptoms first appear. Crohn's disease primarily afflicts adolescents and young adults, with an estimated 10% (some 100,00) under the age of 18.

"Our annual Heel to Heal walk is a great way for friends, family and community members to support loved ones who are affected by Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis to support their loved ones," said Bernard Riker, Executive Director of CCFA. Michigan Chapter. "The event is growing each year, helping to increase awareness and fund the research of this worthy cause."

Participants can choose between a one-mile walk and a 5K (3.1 miles) walk. Registration is $10 (free for children under 12) and includes a picnic lunch and free admission to the park. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with the one-mile walk, and the 5K-walk begins at 10:30 a.m. The picnic lunch, sponsored by Outback Steakhouse of Novi, begins at 11:30 a.m.

Last year more than 350 CCFA members, patients and their families laced up their walking shoes to raise more than $66,000 for the organization's research and programming.

To register for the event, or to become a volunteer or sponsor, call Gilda Hauser at (248) 737-0900 or e-mail muchigan@ccfa.org. You can also register on-line at www.ccfa.kintera.org/mich/05wall

Two players needed

The Michigan Wolves U14 travel baseball team will be holding tryouts the last weekend in August. Needed are two solid players. The Michigan Wolves U13 team finished 43-6 for the 2005 season winning several tournaments, including a fifth place overall out of 40 teams in the AAYBA World Seties in St. Louis. For more information, visit www.miwolves.com or call Tim at (734) 645-9033.

Baseball tryouts

The U18 Michigan Indians baseball club will be holding player evaluations Aug. 19-20 at Hillside Field on Eight Mile Road, just west of Center Street in Northville. The evaluations will take place 5:30-7:30 p.m. the first day and from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. the second.

Players are drawn from across the state and coaches ask for advance tryout notice from interested players.

For more information, please contact Carl Patterson at (248) 349-4973 or via e-mail at curve-ballcp@comcast.net.

Adult hockey leagues

The Novi Ice Arena will hold summer adult hockey leagues for adult teams, including 18 & Over "D" on Sunday nights, 18 & Over "B" on Wednesday nights, 18 & Over "B" on Tuesday nights and 30 & Over "C" on Thursday nights. League features include excellent game times, no checking, focus on fun and even competition, and trained scorekeepers.

The Sunday division will play a five-game schedule (plus playoffs) and Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday divisions will play a six-game schedule (plus playoffs), with one game per week beginning in early July. Games will consist of three 15-minute running time periods.

For information on adult hockey leagues at Novi Ice Arena, call (248) 347-1010 or visit www.noviicearena.com.

Ready for the Big Day Prep Showdown?

Much like the title of the high school football opening day event says, Aug. 27 is going to be a big day for Northville and Novi.

to be a big day for Northville and Novi.

The two schools will participate in the inaugural Big Day Prep Showdown, scheduled to be held at Eastern Michigan University's Rynearson Stadium. Northville will kick the day off at noon against Saline while Novi is the night cap at 7:30 p.m. against Chelsea.

"I talked to the returning kids around the time of our banquet and asked them if they'd be interested even though they'd be giving up a home game their senior year," said Novi head coach Tab Kellepourey. "They were in favor of it."

Many of the current Northville and Novi players haven't even stepped foot onto a field with the capabilities of the Division I college stadium.

"They have brand-new field turf, a way to shoot plays up on the screen and they estimate quite a few fans," Kellepourey said. "It's a pretty exciting environment."

Tickets are available at all of the participating schools with advance prices at $9 for adults, $7 for students and free to children under age six. Tickets on the day of the event are $10 at the gate.

Northville's Main Street Bank will be a part of the Big Day event and be on hand at the event with a booth in the "Fan Zone" area. They will be hosting a fun football toss event for fans to raise funds that will be donated to the Northville and Novi High School football booster clubs.

there's a reason why it always tastes wildly delicious - Alaska salmon is truly wild.

Born in the pristine waters of one of the world's last unspoiled coastlines, these hearty fish thrive in abundance in natural surroundings, developing the firm texture and superior flavor that make wild Alaska salmon the perfect fish for grilling and planking.

To make summer eating easy and delicious, try these simple grilling and planking tips and recipes - each recipe works great whether you use a plank or go for it straight on the grill. And you can feel good about serving Alaska salmon, as it is one of the best sources of heart-healthy omega-3 fatty acids.

Wild Alaska Seafood Grilling Tips

Preparing the Grill

- Fish cooks best over a medium-hot fire; shellfish require a hot grill.
- Make sure the grill is hot before you start cooking.
- Liberally brush oil on the grill just prior to cooking.

Grilling Fish and Shellfish ■ Cut large steaks or fillets into meal-

- size portions before grilling.
- Use a grill basket or perforated grill rack to keep flaky fish or smaller shellfish from falling through the grill bars.
- Brush fish or shellfish with oil very lightly just before cooking.
- Always start to grill fish with the skin side up. (If the skin has been removed, the skin side will appear slightly darker.) This allows the natural fat carried beneath the skin to be drawn into the fillet, keeping it rich and moist. It's also easier to turn when the more delicate or "flesh" side
- Turn fish/shelifish only once. For easy turning, use a two-prong kitchen fork inserted between the grill bars to slightly lift fish fillets or steaks, then slide a metal spatula under the fish and turn. Use long-handled tongs to tum shellfish.

cooks first.

■ Cook fish approximately 10 minutes per inch of thickness. Fish/shellfish continues to cook after it's removed from the heat, so take it off the grill just as soon as it is opaque throughout. To check for doneness, slide a sharp knife tip into the center of the thickest part of a cooking seafood portion, checking for color. Remove from the heat just as soon as it turns from translucent to opaque throughout.

Plank Grilling Tips

Planking is a traditional Northwest-style of cooking using aromatic pieces of wood, it's a great way to add subtle flavors to your wild Alaska seafood.

Planking works best for thin foods like fish fillets or shellfish. The flavor comes from contact with the plank. Arrange foods in a single layer so that as much as possible touches the aromatic wood.

Easy Planked Seafood

Purchase pre-cut planks at barbecue and grill shops or some larger grocery stores. Or go to your local lumberyard and purchase threated hardwood humber. Do use pine or other sof woods.

- The best wood choices for planking are cedar, alder and oak. Hickory and maple are also good.
- Presoak the plank in water for 30 minutes to 2 hours.
- Pat planks dry with paper towels and spray-coat or lightly oil one side (place seafood on oiled side).
- Season seafood lightly with an herb blend, a rub like Sunny Chipotle Rub or Terrific Taj Rub or just salt and pepper. Go easy, as you don't want to overpower the flavor you will get from the plank.
- B Prehent one side of grill to planked seafood on indirect (nonheated) side and close lid.

- Turn the heat down to medium.
- Check the seafood frequently for doneness after 10 minutes.
- To glaze seafood, brush on Asian Glaze or an Asian-style barbecue sauce during the last 5 minutes of grilling or plank-ing; cover and let it cook to a sheen on the fish.
- Seafood changes from translucent to opaque as it cooks and will continue to cook after it is removed from the heat. Cook just until opeque throughout.

Are you hungry for home-made meals but find cooking to be a hassle? A simple stop at the deli of your local supermarket or delicatessen can help you turn out great pasting meals in minutes. There you'll find a range of foods to make quick and easy home-cooked meals that will fit into the most hectic lifestyles. Instead of spending hours tending roasts, you can order Boar's Head turkey, chicken, harn or roast beef, then use your kitchen time to create tasty gravies and sauces. Or order deli meat sliced thick, then cube it at home and stir it into noodles or layer it in lasagna.

Originally served in a Paris café in 1910, the Croque Monsieur sandwich was made of Gruyère cheese and lean ham between two slices of crustless bread, which was then fried in clarified butter (regular butter can be substituted). Today, many variations of this sandwich abound, aithough the original is still popular and is served as a casual meal in most bars and cafés throughout France and Switzerland.

In less than 30 days, on September 6, the United States Senate will reconvene in legislative session and is scheduled to take action on the Death Tax. Which means that between now and then, those elected lawmakers who can determine the survival of small businesses are not in Washington, D.C., but are back home in their states. Small-business owners need to take this unique opportunity to meet with their senators face-to-face to tell them to vote to repeal one of the most dangerous tax measures ever to see the light of day - the Death

Known by some as the estate tax, the Death Tax can literally mean the death of a family business. These enterprises are particularly vulnerable to the unfair tax because those who create small firms typically have the entire value of their business in their estate. If the owner dies, the heirs, who in a majority of cases have also contributed much of their time, energy and other resources to the building of the family business, are forced to stand back while the federal government rakes off between 45 percent and built is threatened. The Death Tax does benefit some - mainly the accountants, lawyers or financial planners that small-business owners have to hire for help in translating confusing and complex tax regulations. instead of using those funds to expand and strengthen their business and hire more employees.

Congress almost killed the Death Tax once, but didn't quite put small-business owners out of their misery. It expires in 2010. But unless permanently repealed, this monstrous measure is scheduled to revive itself and come back in 2011 to haunt those who drive the nation's economy and worse. Grim Reaper over future generations of owners, their heirs and

Now it's up to the Senate, where S. 420, officially titled the Death Tax Repeal Permanency Act of 2005, is awaiting action. It already has 21 co-sponsors, so the task for small-business owners before September 6 is to talk to senators who have not yet committed to repeal and tell them why it is vital that they vote to kill the Death Tax.

Chasing after a senator might mean postponing a summer vacation, but by making repeal of this small-business-destroying tax a priority, American entrepreneurs will give their families something much more important and lasting. And when their hard work pays off, they can look forward to celebrating a true small-business holiday in September, the Day the Death Tax Died.

The personal touch is often missing when dealing with larger companies, but Tom Male feels it's essential. Dealing one on one is a big reason he prefers to operate a small business. Part of the process is getting to know the customer.

"I find out about their lifestyle...If they have kids, pets, even where they work, because people can bring in a lot on their shoes," he added.

In addition to carpeting, they offer easy to clean linoleum or resilient flooring, laminate and hardwood floors - a favorite being oak.

For those who aren't looking for new flooring. The Carpet Change also offers repair service. He takes as much care in repairs as he would in helping a customer select new carpet. Many customers are so pleased they often call back when they're ready to purchase.

Repairs include bumps in the carpet, which can be taken care of by "re-stretching." Getting the "bumps" out will help the carpet last longer, he explains. They also repair seams that come apart. In addition, The Carpet Change also performs a lot of custom border work, binding edges and area rugs...all the services that require a little extra

As an expert in installation, Male realizes that doing the job right makes all the difference in the finished product.

FINDING THE PERFECT CARPET

1.) Lifestyle determines many factors in selection. For high traffic areas, or people with children and pets, consider a Dupont Stainmaster or Wear Dated carpet. They'll make cleaning easier, he pointed out.

2.) Consider how long you plan to be in your home. Invest more money if you plan to stay for a longer period, less if it's short term. "It should help them (the customer) determine a price point."

3.) Padding is a big thing, he adds. "I highly recommend going with the best pad period. It makes a big difference. It helps carpet last longer and feel better."

4.) Carpet with flecks is a great choice, its not only popular, it helps to hide dirt, wear and stains.

Classified Ad that Works

Avoid Abbreviations.

A few accepted and recognizable abbreviations are OK, but an ad full of them just confuses the readers. They will go on to the next ad rather than decipher yours. A good rule of thumb is "Spell it out, or leave it out."

List your telephone number so that potential buyers will know how to contact you. State the best hours to call so they'll know when you can be reached. Consider Your Readers. Put yourself in the readers' place. If you were considering buying this item, what would you want to know about it? Give the item's age, condition, size, color, brand name and any other important information needed to describe it completely and accurately. Sell the benefits of owning the item.

Don't Exaggerate.

Misleading information may bring potential buyers to your home but it will not help you make the sale. You'll lose the prospect's trust and faith as well as the sale.

Include the Price.

Price is one of the biggest concerns of classified shoppers. Ads that list prices will get their attention first. Including price also helps you avoid inquiries from callers not in your price range.

Reporter

The Milford Times & South Lyon Herald are seeking a talented general assignment reporter to contribute to both newspapers. This position is based at our office in downtown Millord. SATURDAY 9-4 • WWW.BRIGHTONFORD.COM • OPEN SATURDAY 9-4 • WWW.BRIGHTONFORD.COM •

Our ideal candidate has 1-3 years of reporting experience, at the university or professional level. He or she must be well organized, demonstrate a high level of initiative, and be able to produce deadline-sensitive, quality work. A journalism degree is preferred; good grammar and knowledge of AP style is a must.

This is a full time position offering a complete benefits package and good advancement potential. Occasional evenings and weekends may be required. If you're interested in this position, please fax or mail your resume and best clips. Fax: 517-548-5545, Mail: Human Resources, P.O. Box 230, Howell, MI 48844.

Salon Agape is located in the beautiful new mall on Main Street in Novi. Newly renovated and sparkling, modern and welcoming, the full-service salon is a mother-daughter ven-

Marilyn Sullins and her daughter (and coowner), Gina, started Salon Agape five years ago and they pride themselves that they only use Aveda natural products.

"Aveda is a company which uses organic, natural products which come in recyclable containers," Marilyn Sullins says. "Plus the company is Eco-friendly,

"For instance," she continues, "the sudsing agent in their shampoo comes from a nut only found in the Amazon jungle. So as to not have that area where it grows cut down, Aveda empowered the local people to collect these nuts and process them, making them self sufficient and saving the rain forest."

Being an Aveda salon also gives Salon Agape staff the opportunity to attend many advanced classes in beauty and hair care. Recently, staff member Thom Major became a Certified Great Lengths Extension Technician. Sullins says this is a unique technique to add volume, style and highlights, using 100 percent real hair.

"And," she continues, "the bonds are so discreet as to be almost invisible, they don't compromise natural hair and removal is quick and painless."

Salon Agape sports 13 designers and four spa technicians. Hair service for both men and women includes head and neck massages, hand massages and — for the ladies — makeup touch ups. The spa also provides a natural nail service.

All services are provided in a joyful, comfortable, relaxing atmosphere.

For more information, stop by Salon Agape at 43155 Main St., Suite 310, in Novi, call (248) 735-1584 or visit www.salonagape.com.

Dawn Salvati, owner of La Casa Del Rio Grande, serves lunch to customers on her popular outdoor patio.

La Casa Del Rio Grande

(248) 446-7700 • riogrande-restaurant.com

Where can you find good food in a funfilled family atmosphere? Look no further than Grand River Avenue in New Hudson. That's where you'll find the hugely popular La Casa Del Rio Grande Mexican restaurant.

Not only is the food the best and freshest in the area — voted the number one Mexican food by the South Lyon Herald's People's Choice Awards — but the service and fun is unmatched, too. Owner Dawn Salvati makes it her mission to ensure that all customers, young and old, are treated to a good time as soon as they enter La Casa.

"We are a family restaurant where everyone is welcome," she said.

Tuesdays and Saturdays are kid's days --kids can eat for only $2.99. The family fun also includes monthly visits by Jannie Annie the Clown — call the restaurant for dates.

Adults can have fun too, enjoying the daily food and drink specials. Salvati notes that there are early bird specials from 3-5 p.m. for those who want to beat the dinnertime crowd. And speaking of crowds, she said that in order to ensure a good seat, customer can use call ahead seating to get right in.

To enjoy the fresh food in an open-air atmosphere, Salvati recommends outdoor patio seating, something she said is very big with her customers. Indoor diners are treated to the feel of Mexico with traditional Mexican music.

To accompany food such as tasty Fajita Don Pedro or the Buenos Tardes Combo Platter, La Casa Del Rio Grande offers monthly beer specials, including an assortment of Mexican La Casa Del Rio Grande is open for lunch and dinner seven days a week.

Kensington Motorsports

(248) 446-0000 • kensingtonmotorsports.com

ensington Motorsports knows customers want to be out enjoying their motorcycle, ATV, jet ski, snowmobile, scooter or speedboat — not spending unnecessary time purchasing one.

So, the staff at Kensington Motorsports makes purchasing vehicles as fun and easy as possible.

The enjoyable experience starts with the variety of products Kensington Motorsports offers. They sell and service Yamaha, Kawasaki, Polaris, Arctic Cat and Suzuki motorcycles, dirt bikes, racing bikes, sport boats and much more in their 10,000-square-foot facility.

However, customers don't have to visit the store to begin shopping. The company's Web site — kensingtonmotorsports.com — offers tons of information to make a decision. There customers can print out a brochure and compare vehicles side-by-side. This makes comparing fuel capacity, vehicle height, mechanical components and other things quick and easy.

Once the decision is made, the Web site can be used to apply for credit and delivery. Delivery can usually be arranged for the following day.

Customers who would rather visit the show-room will find the staff eager to answer any questions they may have. Kensington Motorsports makes it their business to know everything there is to know about the machines they sell and service because their customers depend on them for fun. The employees are all riders who are equally passionate about the sports vehicles they sell. They know how the vehicles operate and can help a customer select the one with the features they desire.

The staff takes their desire to help one step further by organizing track events for customers. By learning how to drive in one of these special events, customers can safely learn how to ride on the street and discover the limitations of their machine.

Kensington Motorsports also offers special financing with payments starting as low as $20 a month — even for customers who have less-than-perfect credit.

Once the sale is complete, customers can enjoy their new watercraft, motorcycle or dirt bike knowing they can return to Kensington Motorsports at any time for quality service whenever they need it.

The service and repair department can work on any make or model product in the four bays located in the 3,300-square-foot service department.

All of the mechanics are factory trained and certified to care for electrical diagnostics and engine repairs. Through ongoing training and education, the mechanics have received Five Star Yamaha Certification.

And, if all of that isn't enough, Kensington Motorsports also offers longer hours than most retailers. They are open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

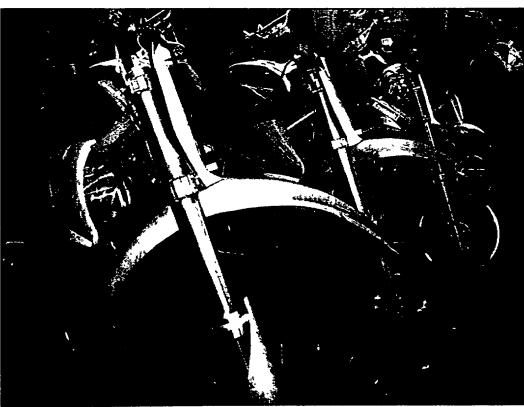

Monday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday to make it easier for customers to visit.

By removing all of the obstacles from sales and service, Kensington Motorsports makes buying or repairing a recreational vehicle nearly as fun as riding one.

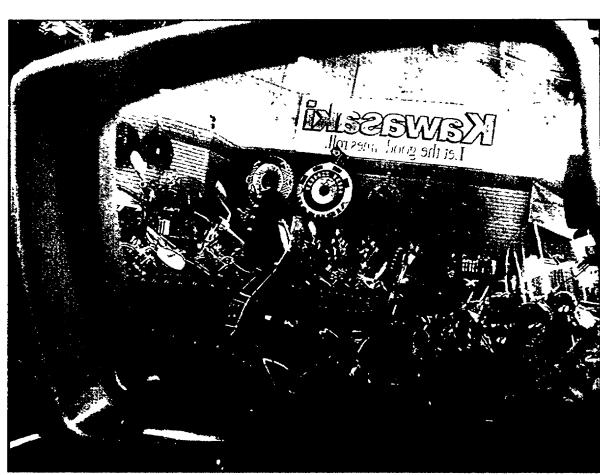

As a way of thanking the local area for the business they have given Kensington Motorsports over the years, the company gets involved with many charitable events. In fact, they recently held a bike wash with proceeds going to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The event attracted 100 bikers from all over southeast Michigan.

Kensington Motorsports is located at 56605 Pontiac Trail, just north of the Milford Road exit and I-96 — 15 minutes from Brighton, Wixom and Novi and 25 minutes from Farmington Hills and Northville. Stop by today.

The aisles at Novi Fine Wines & Liquors are bursting with one of the largest selections of wines and liquors available in the Novi area.

Novi Fine Wines & Liquors (248) 349-9690

ho would hop in a taxi in Grand Rapids and ride across state to Novi to purchase some rare fine wines? Customers of Novi Fine Wines & Liquors who couldn't find their favorites anywhere else in Michigan. that's who. And that's why this popular store on Ten Mile just west of Novi Road is becoming more popular with wine and liquor connoisseurs.

Owner Andy Nofar is keeping very busy these days working the floor and helping customers choose just the right wine or liquor for their own use or for parties and celebrations. Nofar emphasizes customer service and knows many of his regulars by name.

"People like how they are treated here," he added. "We help them one-on-one rather than just being a sales clerk."

Nofar is especially proud of his wine selections, which can start as low as $5 a bottle and up to $1,000 for the high-end variety. The store sells wines from all over the country and the world, including vine-yards in California, Michigan, Georgia, Canada, Italy, Australia and Japan. Nofar said he has access to the higher-end wines because of the store's high sales volume, which enhances his buying power.

"There are a lot of other stores in the area but they don't specialize like we do,"

Besides the reputation for its large variety of wines, Novi Fine Wines & Liquors is also noted for its low, competitive pricing on all of its liquor. "We sell liquor for minimum price levels allowed by the State of Michigan," Nofar said. "Profits are lower but we choose to keep prices low for our customers."

Nofar is still in the process of remodeling the store, making more room for an expanding wine and liquor business, as well as his Pizza Marvelous food business (see related story). He laughs when he mentions the liquor inventory right now. "I don't have room behind the counter so a lot of the liquor is displayed on the floor shelves," he said.

Besides the walk-in traffic, many other customers have benefited from the store's selection and service. Nofar and his staff have supplied many weddings, graduation parties, and company parties with wines and liquors. He said that a lot of high-profile professional athletes stop in to visit when they are in town because they know they'll find exactly what they want.

He mentioned that he keeps a lot of empty boxes around for customers purchasing multiple items and added, "I will give customers case discount pricing."

Besides liquor and wine, the store sells a large selection of cigars and tobacco products, snacks, and non-alcoholic beverages.

The store is also a Michigan Lottery agent.

And if a customer can't find what he or she wants, Nofar will be surprised, but will make every effort to find the desired product. That's probably a main reason why Novi Fine Wines & Liquors is a Novi News People Choice award winner for its selection and service.

"I'll do my best to get what I can for my customers as long as the State of Michigan allows me to make the purchases," Nofar added.

Nofar often attends wine tastings to keep abreast of what wines are available. Nofar is a wine connoisseur and appreciates a good Cabernet or a blended wine. He said that his customers don't show any certain preference although red wine remains the most popular. He does attend some wine and liquor shows when he can tear himself away from the store.

Novi Fine Wines & Liquors, located at 43340 W. Ten Mile, is open 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. Friday and Saturday and 12 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday.

is important to begin with fresh ingredients and end with special sauces to top off the selections. In Nofar's case, he is very proud of his barbecued ribs, not only because they fall off the bone and can be eaten with a fork, but because of the sauce.

"The barbecue sauce is unbelievable," he added.

Nofar suggested that people interested in Pizza Marvelous catering call his shop a couple of days ahead of time and let Nofar and his staff handle the rest. They can accommodate all sizes of parties.

Nofar said he has been in the food business for a long time and added that there is much more to the good food at Pizza Marvelous.

"Customers come in and see a lot of smiling faces," he noted. "They can come in and watch us hand-toss the dough.

"One little girl gave our food 2,000 thumbs up, while another asked his dad to order from Pizza Marvelous the next time they planned a pizza dinner," Nofar said.

The food is masterfully prepared by Nofar and certified chef Justin Awdish, who recently returned to the U.S. after a tour of duty in Iraq. Awdish said he plans to expand the menu soon to include specialty pizzas and

To honor Awdish' service to the U.S. and to all U.S. military personnel, Nofar is asking customers to come in and say hello. Anyone mentioning this article will automatically receive 10 percent off their food order. Seniors and military personnel automatically get 10 percent off their bill.

Nofar will take the customer service experience one step further. He will walk a few feet into his wine and liquor department and recommend what wine goes best with the food menu items.

Food delivery is available to Novi and surrounding areas. Novi residents do not pay a delivery fee. Customers can also order beer, wine, liquor and pop to be delivered with their food order.

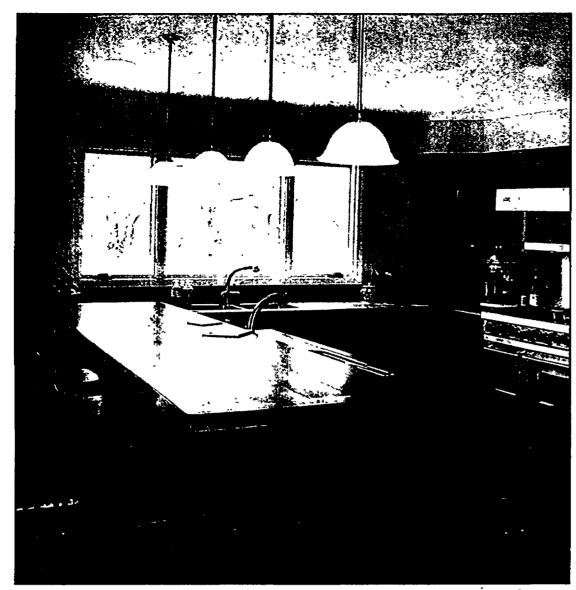

Pizza Marvelous is located at 43340 W. Ten Mile Road, in Novi. Hours of operation are 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday and noon to 10 p.m. Sunday. Simply marvelous.

With a straightforward and honest approach, Jim Seghi runs Jim Seghi Renovations from New Hudson, a complete renovation business for kitchens, bathrooms, recreation rooms, additions and more.

Jim says simply there is no other way to relate with customers, his crews or suppliers.

"I have to be honest and up front and realistic with customers, whether the news is good or bad," Jim said. "If you get it out up front nobody is going to be mad with you."

He is proud of the fact that his business has steadily grown since its start-up 16 years ago, even through a sluggish economy. During that time, Jim has grown a favorable reputation with a number of prominent community members, many who have been his customers and continue to refer others — a testimony to Jim's quality as a person and professional businessman.

Although he doesn't often swing a hammer on job sites, Jim does all the planning, design work, selling and organizing to get jobs done in a reasonable time frame with quality. By paying attention to all of these details he reduces mistakes and helps the business run like a well-oiled machine.

Jim loves the satisfaction that renovation work brings him, like transforming a space that is run down into something of value.

"I enjoy the challenge of a tough job," he said. "I have made condemned houses into salable properties."

Years of experience make Jim's work effective. He can offer options seldom considered by homeowners and he knows what kinds of design work. Jim will sit down with customers to go over their ideas, needs and lifestyle. He combines this with his own ideas and experience to put together initial drawings; then works to tweak them until the customer is completely satisfied. His goal is to create designs that are the most functional, aesthetic and economical, while using all space to its maximum.

In tight spots, Jim likes getting creative to meet a customer's needs and discover solutions where the first response might have been "You want to fit what where?" His No. 1 focus is to meet a customer's needs while adding value to their home.

"Value is huge," Jim says. "It's not what you spend, but what you have when you're done."

Gary and Maureen Fagin, owners of South Lyon Collision, started their business in South Lyon because they love the small town atmosphere and saw great potential for growth. South Lyon didn't let them down.

Starting with 3,500 square feet when they opened, some 20 years ago, South Lyon Collision now boasts more than 13,000 square feet. The expansion has helped reduce the time a vehicle will need to be in for repairs. They also added a comfortable reception and waiting area for customers during their most recent remodeling. Because of all of their hard work, South Lyon Collision was awarded the South Lyon Chamber of Commerce Beautification Award in 2002.

"I really enjoy being here. I enjoy the people of South Lyon and working with them one-on-one," Gary said.

Gary has help with the operation from his manger, John Phillips, with whom he works closely to provide an extraordinary level of customer service. In most cases you will not need to wait for the insurance adjuster to come to inspect your vehicle and approve your claim.

With their computerized paint matching system and their expert painters, South Lyon Collision can exactly match new paint to the original color of the car, even if it has been faded by the elements.

South Lyon Collision is a Class A facility licensed by the government, certified by the Automotive Service Council and a member of I-Car. All repairs are completed by certified technicians and backed by a written warranty.

After 18 years in two downtown Northville locations, Karen Bartley Slack, owner of Traditions Ltd., was ready for one more move --- not across country or even across town, just across the street.

"We started out there," she says, pointing directly out her front window in the heart of Northville. Now, she is gathering up her array of home decorating goods and gifts and moving "across and up the street" to 149 N. Center St., in Old Church Square, previously housing Memories by Stampeddler.

"With the additional space, we will be able to carry more upholstered furniture, rugs and other home accessories," Slack explains, "which we are really excited about."

In addition to JM Paquet upholstered furniture, Traditions Ltd. now carries Lee Industries lines. "Lee offers hundreds of beautiful fabrics and leathers for sofas, loveseats, sleepers, dining chairs, recliners and even headboards," says Slack.

The store stocks a plethora of timeless styles, but the fall and winter holidays receive special attention. Regular customers know the shop has earned a reputation for its lovely holiday displays.

We are looking forward to having more space for our wonderful fall and winter holiday displays," says Slack. "In October, we will display seven different themes with our Christmas trees," she explains. Themes will include a designer look, vintage kitchen and a men's tree.

Bistro 127

(248) 437-9000 • bistro 127.com

he big news at Bistro 127 on 127 E. Lake St., South Lyon, is that there are now even more reasons to visit this restaurant.

Owners Don Waldenmayer and Mark Coffey have expanded this popular eatery by buying and remodeling the old auto parts building next door. The addition added 80 seats, effectively doubling the size of the restaurant.

Affordable, comfortable dining

The responsibility for preparing the food lies on the shoulders of Chef John Evans. Evans brings a lot of experience to Bistro 127, having spent 20 years in the Chuck Muer organization and another eight with Roman Terrace.

"We don't try to be fine dining," added Evans. "We offer the best quality and freshest ingredients, which include Michigan lake fish."

While the atmosphere may fit that of a fine dining establishment, the menu prices certainly don't. Bistro 127 offers 10 different menu items for $10 or less. Each entree includes soup, salad, appetizer, entree and dessert. Customers can select from seafood, pasta and steak entrées. This incredible deal is valid every day of the week.

Other specials a Sunday morning all-youcan-eat brunch and lunch buffet.

Bistro 127 also offers a unique e-mail club. Members can visit www.theEmailClub.com/bistrosouthlyon to sign up for exclusive savings on meals.

Wine Shoppe

The expansion also opened the door for adding more wine selections to the menu and more seats for the weekly "Wednesday Night Wine Tasting."

The popular event draws large crowds to Bistro 127, a fact Waldenmayer and Coffey are very proud of. For $20 per person, wine lovers can sample four to six different wines and appetizers.

"We pair up the wines with food items to give our customers an idea of what tastes best with each food item," Waldenmayer said. "And what sets us apart is the quality of the food that is paired with the wines."

Suzanne LaLonde, the wine consultant for the Bistro, started Wednesday Wine Tastings in January. It started with seven people and has grown to 60-70 loyal wine lovers. "We always have room for new customers," LaLonde said.

"I research wines to bring customers the highest quality wines at the best prices. Through the Internet I can travel the world to find amazing wines under $20," LaLonde said.

"If there is a wine you are looking for or questions on any wine or food pairing, feel free to call the Bistro Wine Shop and ask for Suzanne."

And while delicious, fresh food is enough to bring in customers, it is the selection and pricing of over 100 wines that makes Waldenmayer and Coffey very boastful.

LaLonde has added a wine shop with a selection of 127 wines for $20 or less.

These wines are rated high by wine publications because of their quality. It isn't easy to find so many good bottles of wine in one place for under $20."

Many of the wines served at Bistro 127 are from unique vineyards from around the world.

LaLonde often invites representatives from wineries to speak with customers. Renown Napa Valley winery owner Lisa Peju recently visited Bistro 127.

Another unique feature of the restaurant is its ability to store wines for customers. Coffey said customers can use bins in the restaurant to store their wines. When they arrive for meals, they can select their own wines to accompany their food.

Catering

Waldenmayer and Coffey purchased the Fabulous Foods catering company in Ann Arbor so Bistro 127 can cater wedding showers, graduations, birthday parties and more out of both locations.

and sends 100 meals each day to Conway Transportation's training program. Corporate accounts like Domino's Farms Board of Directors and the University of Michigan count on Bistro 127 food and service.

South Lyon Theater

Waldenmayer also owns the historic South Lyon Theater, which is located across the street from Bistro 127.

Dinner and movie packages, especially those targeting families, are popular.

"Every time we run a G-rated movie the place is packed," Waldenmayer said. "Other movies don't have the same draw in this town."

The historic theater is undergoing remodeling, including renovation of the original 1945 marquee. The stage has been refurbished, a new retractable screen has been installed, the electrical has been upgraded and digital onscreen advertising has been added.

Upcoming renovations will include a new facade, new seating, new heating, ventilation and cooling systems.

Visit soon

Waldenmayer and Coffey encourage customers to visit their award-winning renovated building soon. Bistro 127 is located at 127 Lake St., in South Lyon. The restaurant is open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Wondering how to choose an interior designer?

Choose one with qualifications. That's the advice Amy Smith gives as she sits in front of concept boards and sample boards from a few of her residential and commercial design projects. Smith, with a degree in interior design from Eastern Michigan University, serves as both owner of her own business, Amy Smith Design, LLC, in South Lyon, and as interior designer to Three Chairs Co., a contemporary home-furnishing store in Ann Arbor.

"What's important for me," Smith says, "is enhancing spaces to create uniquely personalized environments for my clients."

Smith has a four-year degree in design and experience in both residential and commercial design. She focused on commercial design for five years before starting her own business two and a half years ago. She is concentrating mostly on residential design, but would like to take on smaller commercial jobs as well.

Smith is reveling in the variety of work coming her way. Space planning, fabric and finish selections, custom furniture, remodeling, lighting, window treatments and paint consultations are just some of the services Amy Smith Design can pro-

"I can work with clients from just a one-hour consultation to those interested in full-scale design services — including all the drawings necessary," Smith says.

Currently working mostly between Ann Arbor and Birmingham, Smith would like to expand her client base in South Lyon, as well as in Novi and Northville.

Developing relationships with his customers and winning their trust is very important to Ron Williams, owner of Perfect Floors in South Lyon.

"I try to spend quality time with customers in the showroom so that they are comfortable,"

Perfect Floors is a family business run by three brothers, John, Michael and Ron Williams. They total more than 80 years of experience in the flooring business, and have also run the original Perfect Floors location in Rochester Hills since 1995. They offer a broad selection of flooring, including hardwood, carpet, laminate, vinyl and area rugs, as well as ceramic and porcelain tile.

Ron cares about each of his customers. "That is just how he is," said Dawn Grabinski, who has worked with him since 2004. "He is a truly generous person who is involved in the community as a sponsor for area high school and middle school sports programs as well as participating in many community events like the recent DARE golf tournament."

Since purchasing the South Lyon location, Ron has expanded the store to fill out the product lines. Recently, he added a quality line of ceramic and porcelain tile.

"We do 100 percent from start to finish," he said, "from selling to installation and follow

This is standard business for Ron who has his own full time crew of installers, each with more than 10 years of experience.

of Bell's Landscape you have to think out of the flowerbox.

Bell's delivers more services, more creativity and more customer satisfaction than any other in the business. Some of the outstanding services you can expect from Bell's include nearly every aspect of your home or business landscape, including landscape designs, decks, gazebos, brick-paver walks and patios, landscape lighting, retaining walls, sod, hydro-seeding, sprinklers and much more.

Business owners can turn to Bell's for those and additional services, including parking lot sweeping, tree and shrub pruning, spring and fall cleanups and snow removal. As their ad says, "Complete" ground maintenance services."

Owner Mike Bell applies his 30 years of experience and personal pride to each project his company is awarded. Recognizing his creativity, functionality, quality of plants and original designs over the years, the Michigan Green Industry Association has bestowed Bell's Landscape with seven plaques of commemoration. A good reason for this is that the Bell's Landscaping crew of nearly 20 workers, not subcontractors, will go to a job site and work until it is completed using the best in class materials and plants.

Bell's Landscaping validates their satisfaction.

"About 70 percent of our business comes from our customers sending us referrals," noted Mike.

Some clients have a history of business lasting more than 25 years. Customer satisfaction and loyalty starts the moment you call the office to make an appointment with the sales staff. Bell's makes sure you are happy by offering a one-year warranty on most projects. They check

"Your landscaping is like the icing on a cake," Mike added, "do your homework and make a 10-year projection plan. If you don't, you will be unhappy and possibly pulling plants in a few years. A good design keeps that from happening."

When you get a landscape design, which acts as a blueprint for the project, you'll have the peace of mind knowing the right plants were chosen for your living conditions, the colors and blooms will accent your exterior year round, the amount of maintenance required will be explained and agreed upon and the price will never be a surprise.

As a caution Mike added, "Be careful when comparing landscape bids. Plant size and the number of plants can alter the price of a project."

The lesson here is to remember that when you compare bids and the prices, make sure they are exactly identical including materials, type and number of plants. As Mike put it, when the job is all done, "Did the company meet your expectations?"

Davis Auto Care celebrates its 25th anniversary, owner Jim Davis community for voting the auto care facility No. 1 in the Northville Record's People's Choice Awards.

How it all began

It all started with Jim Davis and a vision. His vision involved making auto repair as easy as possible for his customers in a stress-free, relaxed environment. Today, Davis Auto Care provides customers with convenient automotive repairs and services that make his company a one-stop, autorepair center.

In 1979, he set up shop in what was then the Boron Gasoline Station at Eight Mile and Taft roads. Since the early days back in his two-bay gas station, Jim Davis has offered a level of technical expertise and friendly customer service that have proven to be a winning combination.

"Our business is repairing cars and making them look good, but our job is solving customers' problems," Davis explained. "I is very gratifying to have so many people depending on our services."

Word soon spread about the friendly, oldfashioned service that was provided and soon the parking lot was overflowing with local folks who realized that here was a businessman who provided a level of professionalism and honesty they could trust.

"When we first started out, I would go home and tell my wife that we'd had a busy day when I did a couple of oil changes and a tire repair," he recalled.

Today, expect nothing less than the same exceptional service with the development of a successful business and a highly trained

Total automotive care:

three-in-one

Davis Auto Care, Jim's Oil Depot and Ultimate Image Auto Spa are the three entities under one roof taking care of vehicles, inside and out. With a full-service repair garage, a quick-lube oil change facility, and professional detailing services, owner Jim Davis prides himself on upholding only the best care to customers.

"When we just had the repair garage, customers suggested a quick-lube shop, and we added Jim's Oil Depot. For a couple years now, customers have been asking us where they can find a cleaning and detailing shop, and we gave them Ultimate Image Auto Spa June 1 of 2000," Davis explained. "Our customers are very supportive, and we love supporting them."

With superior customer relations and highly-trained technicians, Davis Auto Care, Jim's Oil Depot, and Ultimate Image Auto Spa provides quality service in a friendly environment.

Davis Auto Care

For over 25 years the full-repair garage, Davis Auto Care, has provided quality and efficient services with the latest in technology. As vehicles have become more and more complicated, the company has invested in the latest diagnostic equipment and support

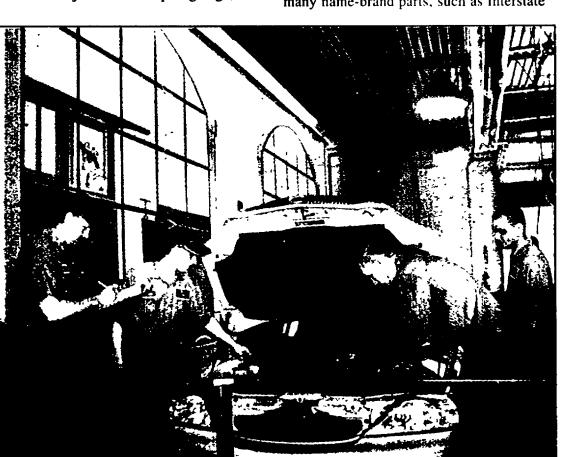

"In a shop the size of ours, we can afford to invest in things like our ABS-Tech system and the SIMU-TECH computer system," Davis said.

Davis also said that his company recently added "yet more sophisticated and computerized diagnostic equipment to address the vehicles on-board computers for the 21st century." The advent of on-board diagnostics, or OBD2, allows Davis Auto Care to easily track the problems occurring in the computer systems. This allows Davis Auto Care technicians to better understand vehicle problems, which in turn, enhances a thorough, quality car repair.

Because people are so dependent on their vehicle. Davis Auto Care takes extra strides to make the service experience as convenient as possible. Repairs are explained in a way that lets the customer know how serious each item is, and the service staff also informs customers if a needed repair can wait for future service.

"We all work with budgets, and its our job to help people stay within those budgets whenever possible," Davis explained.

All repair work comes with a written guarantee, and the staff sends follow-up letters inquiring about customer satisfaction. If a problem were to occur immediately after repairs. Davis and the mechanics strive to correct the problem as conveniently as possible. The shop also maintains a computerized service history on all vehicles, making it easy for the company to answer questions about routine maintenance. "Our oil changes include a 22-point inspection," Davis said. "And our customers more and more time-conscious. We speed up the process without sacrificing quality."

Customers receive an oil change in 10 minutes without having to leave their cars. The Oil Depot will also perform minor items such as headlight replacement and wiper blades while waiting. Tire repair, rotating and balancing service is also available. Many of these services are performed by trained staff members using a special tire-care machine. This machine relies on a touchless tire suspension system that avoids rim damage.

"Tire rotating is an example of the type of maintenance people want quickly," Davis

But it goes much farther than that. While waiting in the comfortable area, take a look around. Jim's Oil Depot is decorated to resemble a Victorian train depot.

Being just underneath the railroad bridge, it seemed natural," Davis said.

"After we got under way with the theme of the place, I learned that there actually was a performing their craft, is seeing your joyful belts, Monroe shock absorbers, Mobil lubri- Northville train depot many years ago, just expression when you pick up your vehicle. a few yards from our building."

> Both exterior and interior are painted in a trompe l'oile technique, and once inside a huge mural depicts a view through "windows" onto a train platform with the train ready to pull out. Further above a toy train runs up and down the wall taking a loop around the waiting area. The theme is carried right down to a train whistle, which sounds as each car is raised into the air. What more can you say, except, "All Aboard!"

Ultimate Image Auto Spa At Ultimate Image Auto Spa, the newest addition to the Davis Auto Care facility, customers can be assured of receiving the same superior quality service that Davis Auto Care customers have enjoyed for "It was the request of many of our customers that we expanded our automotive business to include appearance enhancement and protection services," Davis said. "The response has been extremely encouraging since we opened in June of 2000."

As with mechanical repairs and maintenance services, the finest quality products are combined with the highest level of expertise to offer a premier experience. Visits begin in the clean, comfortable office where customers select the level of service wanted for their vehicle. From a quick hand wash to a complete interior and exterior detail with all the trimmings, specialists will customize every treatment at the spa.

Experienced detail professionals work their magic on cars, light trucks, SUV's, and vans. These experts truly love what they

Davis Auto Care maintains an electronic do, and the only thing they enjoy more than library filled with information on each and every make. Repair techniques, engine The caring staff takes pride in knowing they provide the "Ultimate" in detailing services.

High-tech quality expertise Jim Davis is especially proud of his mechanical staff. The technicians are not only state certified, but also have achieved accreditation from the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence.

A number of the technicians are A.S.E. Master mechanics, as well as being certified in Automobile Advanced Engine Performance — a new designation achieved by fewer than five percent of the technicians in the country. These tests are administered by ACT, the organization conducting college entrance examinations.

"It separates the best of the best," Davis explained. "A.S.E. Certification shows that a technician has dedicated himself to the highest level of professionalism."

To keep up to date, mechanics regularly attend seminars and continuing education classes. This commitment to ongoing training is one of the most important aspects of the business.

"Yes, we have the absolute best and latest in diagnostic equipment," Davis said. "But without the level of expertise that our technicians have, all the diagnostic computers in the world would be useless."

Setting Davis' technicians above the majority is special training they receive directly from automotive manufacturers.

"Because we do so much business with the auto manufactures, they allow us to send our technicians for the specialized training only dealer mechanics receive," Davis

AC Delco produces parts for GM and other automobile companies, and also allows Davis Auto Care to receive factory training for its technicians. As an added benefit, AC Delco hosts an annual competition. Contestants from across the nation are judged on test scores and car repairs. Robertson had one of the best test scores in the Midwest region and went on to compete in the hands-on part of the competition in Las Vegas. There, in the Fall of 2003, Robertson became one of the top eight technicians in North America.

Customer service

At Davis Auto Care, the term "customer service" encompasses many things, including friendliness, convenience and follow-up. The customer contact staff is friendly, knowledgeable and efficient. Most importantly, they care about people. Service advisors work together to make sure every customer who comes to Davis Auto Care walks away satisfied.

"We get so many comments from people who say that, in coming to our facility, they had their questions answered in a clear, courteous manner for the first time," Davis explained. "Our customers feel very comfortable making decisions in that way."

To show their appreciation, in the past, customers have not just told Davis employees thanks, but expressed their gratitude by bringing gifts, such as cookies or pizza. "Having a friendly place where people do business, we really strive to do that," Davis

Another highly appreciated detail is the shuttle service, which can take customers to or from their home or business within the area. The shop can also lend cellular phones if customers are going to be hard to reach. This way, repairs can be completed as quickly as possible. A computerized system tracks routine maintenance for each individual vehicle. Letters and postcards are sent out notifying customers of maintenance items coming due.

"We realize our customers are busy, and don't have time to worry about preventative maintenance," Davis explained. "That's why we track it for them."

Customer service is more than a business goal at Davis Auto Care, it is a set standard persistently kept and constantly perfected.

`Community involvement

A long-time area resident, Jim Davis has always been involved in the community. He is an active member and past president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce. The company has been a contributor to the Northville Victorian Festival since its inception. Davis has served as State Chairman of the Board of the Automotive Service Professionals of Michigan.

"I am very involved in the industry and want to do everything I can to promote it in a positive way," he said.

Davis has also appeared on local television and radio promoting awareness of automotive maintenance and has presented seminars at recent job fairs. He has attained the title of Accredited Automotive Manager from the Automotive Management Institute, a designation awarded to automotive professionals who complete 120 hours of advanced management and technical class-

"Drop it off — get a check. Let iSold It make money for your business. Put the 'fun' back in fund-raising. The easy way to sell on eBay."

Mark Newton, franchise owner and manager of the Novi store says his business is doing well.

"It's an auction on eBay," Newton explained. "We receive merchandise in, photograph it, write good descriptive copy for it, put it on eBay with key words and let the auction begin."

Just recently, a set of cowboy spurs went on eBay through iSold It, starting out at $9.99, and within a few days bids had been sent in for over $400.

"It's fun to see things like that," Newton said. "The merchandise we get in is amazing. Sports action figures - still in the box, cameras, toys, musical equipment, computers, audio components, and many other indemand items. If it isn't sold in seven days, the customer picks up the merchandise or may donate it to charity."

Newton says the entire process is efficient, easy and beneficial for buyer and seller. iSold It professionally photographs each item, writes descriptive copy about the item and posts it on eBay. They hold the inventory, process payment from the winning bidder, then pack and ship the item

"It's important to have a high trust factor with customers. That's what sets us apart," Newton said. "So far we've had 3,700 individuals give great feedback on eBay surveys about us. Potential customers read that and have confidence in what they're buying through our business."

Dr. Woody has invested in the latest dental technology. Intraoral cameras and an interactive DVD system help explain treatment needs and options, a laser is used to help diagnose decay, and Air Abrasion can be used to remove decay without the need for numbing and drilling. A state-of-the-art sterilization system provides for your safety.

As a general practice, the office provides a full-range of dental procedures, with an emphasis on preventive care and a special interest in cosmetic dentistry.

Recent innovations have made it possible for everyone to improve their smile through cosmetic dentistry.

Procedures range from tooth-colored fillings, natural appearing crowns and bridges, and beautiful porcelain veneers that mask worn teeth, close spaces and balance smiles without braces.

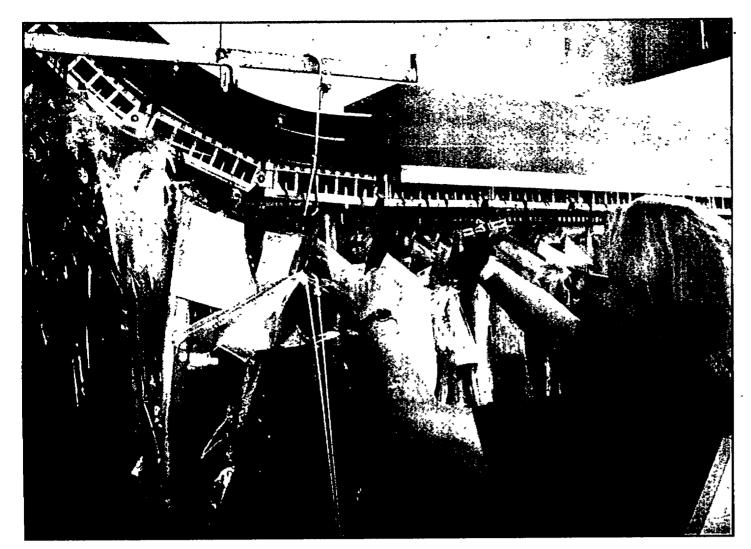

Particularly popular is tooth whitening, a simple procedure with dazzling results. The new ZOOM! system, as seen on Extreme Makeover, will whiten teeth in one office visit.

Take-home kits, with custom trays and professional strength gels, are also available and are currently on sale.

Heidi Malzahn, co-owner of Poise Pilates, demonstrates one of the many pilates techniques used to increase flexibility and reduce lower back pain.

Poise Pilates

(248) 349-3100

Pilates (pul-lah-tees) is a method of strength and flexibility training focusing on the core of the body — the abdominal, gluteus and lower back muscles.

Joseph Pilates developed the exercise technique in the 1920s. As a youth, Pilates suffered from physical ailments such as asthma and rickets and dedicated his life to overcoming physical weakness through exercise.

Poise is a fully equipped Pilates studio located at 186 E. Main St., Suite 301, in downtown Northville. It is co-owned by Heidi Malzahn and Susan Steinke.

Heidi was first introduced to Pilates over nine years ago. After seeing the many positive changes in her own body, such as better posture, long lean muscles, better flexibility and less lower back pain, she decided to retire from her career as a hairdresser and open her own Pilates studio in July 2001.

"Our goal at Poise is to educate the Northville community about what Pilates is and how it can benefit them," Heidi explained.

The truth is, almost anyone can do Pilates. Because the exercises start at an easier level and become progressively more difficult as the body becomes stronger, people from every age group and fitness level can start exercising. The clientele at Poise is diverse: men, women, teens, seniors and dancers, from the unfit to the elite athlete.

The highly qualified instructors at Poise conduct private and small group sessions by appointment. Prices range from $20 to $75 an hour. The 90-minute initial private ($60) is the best way to start.

To achieve maximum benefits, Heidi suggested attending two to three sessions per week

Barbara O'Donnell, owner of Seattle Sutton's in Novi, helps clients eat healthy, fresh, preservative-free food without the hassle of preparing it themselves.

Seattle Sutton's

(248) 349-6100 • www.meals21.com

Are you one of the many people who are trying to watch what you eat, lose a few pounds or don't have the time to plan and prepare a healthy meal?

Then, Seattle Sutton's is your answer for healthy eating at your home or office. There are no contracts or long-term commitments. Both 1,200- and 2,000-calorie-per-day meal plans are available. Menus are based on recommendations from the American Heart Association and other health and nutrition experts.

. A single phone call will get you started with fresh, convenient meals that provide a solid foundation for weight loss, improved health and freedom from shopping, cooking and calorie counting.

Seattle Sutton's provides three delicious and nutritious meals a day, seven days a week. The most unique part of this service is that the meals are fresh, not frozen, including fresh fruit and salads. With Seattle Sutton's doing the planning, shopping and cooking, you'll have more time to relax and enjoy other activities.

While hiring a chef may cost $50 a day or more, Seattle Sutton's cost just $5 a meal for the 1,200-calorie plan.

Owner Barbara O'Donnell said that doctors have been sending their patients to Seattle Sutton's to help them if they are pregnant, have diabetes, are recovering from a surgical procedure, or have had heart conditions.

The program and store hours are set to maximize meal freshness and customer pickups. If you can't stop in to pickup your prepared meals, arrangements can be made to have them delivered.

Seattle Sutton's is located at 24049 Meadowbrook, Novi. It is open from 3-7 p.m. Monday and Thursday, but O'Donnell asks interested persons to call anytime.

Joe Haddad, owner of Wireless Giant located at 41490 Grand River in Novi, holds up a Nextel phone, one of the many name brands he offers.

Wireless Giant

(248) 465-1111

Wireless Giant in Novi carries every phone for every service. Joe Haddad said his store makes it easy for customers to get what they want. "There's no running around from store to store checking out equipment, prices and service. We have it all right here."

Getting up-to-date wireless technology is what it's all about at Wireless Giant. That includes everything from text messaging to camera/video phones. The store carries all the major service carriers, and a full-line of quality accessories. They offer a lifetime warranty on Wireless Giant branded accessories.

Besides having a huge selection of cell phones, they offer Dish Network and DirectTV Satellite systems and installation. Plus, Wireless Giant is a bill-payment center. They can pay cell-phone bills and any other kind of payment. Their line of accessories includes car and home chargers, leather cases, belt clips, cords, and Blue Tooth wireless for hands-free operation to name only a few.

"We offer free bill evaluation, for individuals and businesses, to make sure the customer is getting the best deal, minutes, and other services that are available. If not, we can find them the best deal," Haddad said.

Wireless Giant, a Michigan-based company, is in all the top cellular markets in the country, with 70 locations nationwide. By this time next year, Haddad said he expects to have a Nextel Service Center in his store.

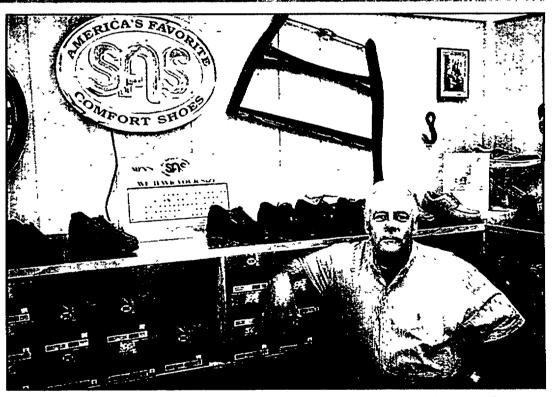

"We want people to be aware that Novi was deprived of a local store that gives such good deals and now we're here doing the community a good service," Haddad said.

He added that his Wireless Giant sales staff stays current with the best deals and willingly finds customers the best deals around on all types of service plans.

"I like helping people save money, and I like being able to give them the best deals possible," Haddad said. "Everybody leaves here happy."

Are your feet happy or sad? Visit Tom Welch at Hershey's Too Comfort Shoes and he'll have your tired feet walking on cloud nine in no time.

Hershey's Too Comfort Shoes

(248) 347-7838 • hersheysshoes.com

It is no wonder that customers leave the store wearing their newly bought merchandise.

Once they have slipped out of their old shoes and into a perfect pair at Hershey's, they quickly come to understand the meaning of walking comfort.

The original Hershey's Shoes opened in Garden city in 1946. The Novi location opened in 2002. For years owner Tom Welch and his staff have been helping people and their families find the right footwear in all special sizes, widths, as well as any orthopedic need. They are referred by local podiatrists as a great source for beneficial footwear for their patients.

Excellent customer service is another main reason why people shop for footwear at Hershey's Too Comfort Shoes. Tom and his staff take the time to assist each customer to best determine which pair of shoes best suit their feet and lifestyle.

Tom recommends that parents bring in their children before the school year so they can be properly fitted into a good pair of shoes.

"Children can develop back problems and other health issues if they're wearing the wrong shoes," said Tom.

Hershey's Too Comfort Shoes carries major brands such as, SAS, New Balance, Rockport, Stride Rite, Hush Puppies, Children's ECCO, Naturalizer, and many more. They also sell shoe accessories, handbags and socks.

The original store, Hershey's Shoes, is located in Garden City at 29522 Ford Road, half block west of Middlebelt. Hershey's Too Comfort Shoes is located in the West Market Square at Beck Road. The address is 47750 Grand River, Novi.

Daily hours are 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. They are closed Sunday.

With 21 years in the creative arts business, Margene Buckhave has seen many scrapbooking and rubber-stamping trends come and go.

What has stayed constant are the imaginative people, beginners and seasoned veterans, who relish the opportunity to make handmade greeting cards and memory books with assorted art supplies.

This month, Buckhave will combine her two stores, Stampeddler, Plus and Memories by Stampeddler. The new dual-purpose store will be housed in the stamp store's present location at 145 N. Center St., in Old Church Square in downtown Northville.

"What sets us apart is our expertise," she explains.

"We offer a wide range of classes to teach a variety of techniques as well as knowledgeable staff who will assist in custom-invitation design."

The consolidated business will continue to offer the finest selection of traditional and contemporary stamping and scrapbooking supplies. Revamped displays will showcase thousands of stamps, pads and powders, handmade papers and brass stencils for stamping enthusiasts.

"Scrapbookers will still have a wonderful staff who will join the stamp location," explains Buckhave.

"We will continue to carry hundreds of papers, pens and punches in your favorite categories, which will be conveniently displayed to ease decision making," she says.

Stampeddler, Plus is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m.

a general practice dedicated to serving all your legal needs, specializing in old-fashion legal advice you can trust.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." In the case of estate planning, an hour of preparation beats months of court room troubles that can significantly impact your family's financial future.

Taking the time today to plan for the safekeeping and distribution of family assets, as well as quality of life issues, will return benefits to your family that more than outweigh the time it takes to write them out.

If you, or your parents, have not recorded wishes for health care, quality of life and property distribution, how can you be sure that final arrangements will be handled the way they are supposed to be?

"Estate planning is something that I love to do and it has no negative side to it," Armene said.

On the other hand, if a small amount of planning is not done in advance, the survivors will likely have to deal with multiple losses, often at the most difficult time in their lives.

Don't leave the fate of any gift in the hands of the judicial system. Take the time to work out your estate, health care and other very important personal matters in the office of Armene Kaye or the comfort of your own home if you prefer.

If you have any questions regarding this important part your family's future, or need assistance with any area of family law, bankruptcy, small business, tax law and other areas of civil litigation, please contact the Law Offices of Armene Kaye at (248) 887-5581 or via e-mail at goodlawyer@abanet.org.

ensington Motorsports knows customers want to be out enjoying their motorcycle, ATV, jet ski, snowmobile, scooter or speedboat — not spending unnecessary time purchasing one.

So, the staff at Kensington Motorsports makes purchasing vehicles as fun and easy as possible.

The enjoyable experience starts with the variety of products Kensington Motorsports offers.

They sell and service Yamaha, Kawasaki,

Polaris, Arctic Cat and Suzuki motorcycles, dirt bikes, racing bikes, sport boats and much more in their 10,000-square-foot facility.

However, customers don't have to visit the store to begin shopping. The company's Web site — kensingtonmotorsports.com — offers tons of information to make a decision. There customers can print out a brochure and compare vehicles side-by-side. This makes comparing fuel capacity, vehicle height, mechanical components and other things quick and easy.

Once the decision is made, the Web site can be used to apply for credit and delivery. Delivery can usually be arranged for the following day.

Customers who would rather visit the showroom will find the staff eager to answer any questions they may have. Kensington Motorsports makes it their business to know everything there is to know about the machines they sell and service because their customers depend on them for fun. The employees are all riders who are equally passionate about the sports vehicles they sell. They know how the vehicles operate and can help a customer select the one with the features they desire.

The staff takes their desire to help one step further by organizing track events for customers. By learning how to drive in one of these special events, customers can safely learn how to ride on the street and discover the limitations of their machine.

Kensington Motorsports also offers special financing with payments starting as low as $20 a month — even for customers who have less-than-perfect credit.

Once the sale is complete, customers can enjoy their new watercraft, motorcycle or dirt bike knowing they can return to Kensington Motorsports at any time for quality service whenever they need it.

The service and repair department can work on any make or model product in the four bays located in the 3,300-square-foot service department.

All of the mechanics are factory trained and certified to care for electrical diagnostics and engine repairs. Through ongoing training and education, the mechanics have received Five Star Yamaha Certification.

And, if all of that isn't enough, Kensington Motorsports also offers longer hours than most retailers. They are open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

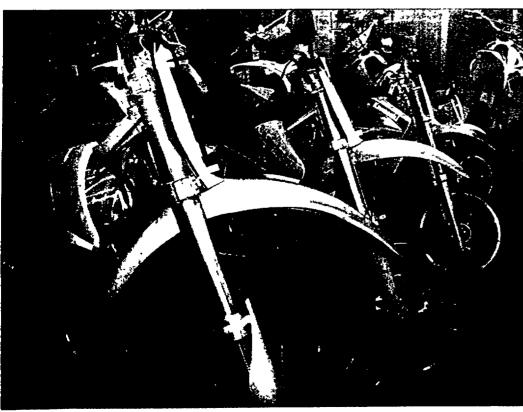

Monday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday to make it easier for customers to visit.

By removing all of the obstacles from sales and service, Kensington Motorsports makes buying or repairing a recreational vehicle nearly as fun as riding one.

As a way of thanking the local area for the business they have given Kensington Motorsports over the years, the company gets involved with many charitable events. In fact, they recently held a bike wash with proceeds going to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The event attracted 100 bikers from all over southeast Michigan.

Kensington Motorsports is located at 56605 Pontiac Trail, just north of the Milford Road exit and I-96 — 15 minutes from Brighton, Wixom and Novi and 25 minutes from Farmington Hills and Northville. Stop by today.

Then add the support of a trainer to guide you in the most effective exercises with proper techniques to avoid injury and motivate you to succeed. Would you get in shape?

That's what you'll find at Fitness Together in Novi. As a seven-year veteran of the health and fitness industry, owner Boo Sadikot has heard it all.

"Most people get frustrated when they don't see results," says Sadikot.

"For many, the novelty of a gym membership wears off and home equipment eventually just sits," he adds. "We hold our clients accountable so they can measure their success, stay motivated, and have fun.'

The Fitness Together experience begins with an assessment of the client's current fitness level, resulting in a nine-page report and training recommendations. One of seven fitness professionals is matched to the client based on goals, the duration and frequency training, and the desired workout day and time.

Typically, a workout plan addresses four key elements: strength training, cardiovascular training, flexibility and nutrition.

Unlike a typical gym or sports club, Fitness Together charges no membership fees. Appointment packages are purchased to address individualized workout programs. Sessions are typically 45 minutes of focused training that garner results.

Fitness Together is located at 47210 W. Ten Mile Road, in the Briarpointe Plaza in Novi. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday 6 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Nancy and Brian Larson of Larson Jewelry Design discuss custom jewelry with a customer at their Novi location.

Làrson Jewelry Design

(248) 347-4653

Not only do the owners of the Larson Jewelry Design believe in giving their customers the best products and service — they go one step further by giving back to the Novi community. Since 2000, owners Brian and Nancy Larson have donated almost $30,000 to the Novi community.

"One percent of our total sales and repairs from Sept. 1 through May 31, excluding outof-state sales, are donated each year," Brian Larson said. "People support us because we support the elementary schools." Larson also supports many other local groups. "When you spend money you get a lot of it back. Even if you don't get it back the money goes to a good cause," he explained.

Larson, a graduate gemologist through the Gemological Institute of America, has been in the jewelry business for 27 years. Located in Novi since 1999, Larson recently re-signed a 20-year lease. "I want to be here when downtown gets cranking," he said of the location.

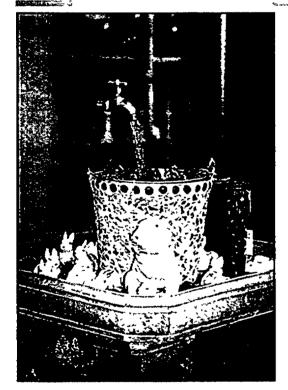

Larson specializes in creating custom jewelry and repairs. All of the work is done on-site and customers can watch Larson in his openair workshop, something that brings piece of mind.

Typically, people are leery about leaving their jewelry behind," he said. "In this business you have to have a lot of trust in your jeweler. I can turn a job around in as little as 10 minutes if necessary. I try to be as accommodating as possible."

Larson said half of his business comes from engagement ring sales, including the recent sale of a $97,000 ring to an out-of-state buyer. The client, who was referred by another customer, flew in to purchase the ring.

Larson Jewelry Design is located at 43155 Main St., Suite 304, in Novi, just west of the Lazy Lizard. Business hours are 9 a.m. to : p.m. Monday through Saturday and 9 a.c. ! > 7 p.m. Thursday.

"The average age of our employees is 40plus, and most have been with us from five to eight years," Mascolo pointed out. "We are blessed to be in this business."

Loyal customers know Mascolo's business philosophy revolves around trust. For example, unlike most retailers anywhere in the country, he doesn't ask for identification when a customer — familiar or new writes a check.

"In all these years, I have never, ever been burned by any attempt at fraud," he said. "I believe you have to give that trust.'

Gardenviews regulars know that in addition to great people, the store is chock-full of incredible, one-of-a-kind items in a wide range of styles. One can be assured of finding just the right piece among the many artfully arranged vignettes throughout the store, designed to encourage a thoughtful stroll.

Let your creative juices flow while walking among items originating from all parts of the globe. Take a moment to study the ceramic, glass, and earthen textures that abound. The numerous silk flowers and plants fool the eye for realistic permanent arrangements.

Mascolo, along with co-buyer and store presentation director Lori Jermont, are frequent visitors to craft shows across the country. They hand-select the latest trends.

Novi Jewelers

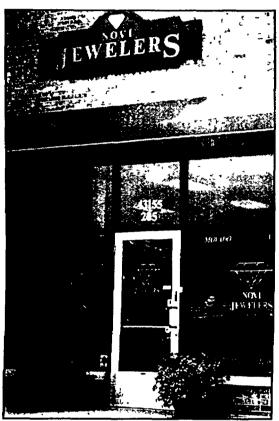

(248) 344-8226

Tovi Jewelers has something that is very difficult to obtain in the business -- customer trust and loyalty.

Owners Vatche and Erica Nadjarian want everyone to know how grateful they are to the Novi community.

"We want to thank clients for giving us their trust and loyalty," Erica said. "You can't say that about yourself, only a customer can say that."

Novi Jewelers opened for business in November 1999. Previously the Nadjarians operated a jewelry business in Oak Park for 10 years. Their Novi store specializes in custom jewelry design, resetting, repairs and expert watch service. On display are jewelry, figurines and watches, but diamonds are the language

Novi Jewelers is located in Suite 205 at 43155 Market St., in Novi.

Vatche and Erica speak the best.

Vatche, an exceptional diamond setter, is on site to consult with customers on everything from basic diamond and gem stone facts to the fine art of choosing the right diamond for the customer's purpose. His wife, Erica, has been in the jewelry business for 15 years, is an Accredited Jewelry Professional and will soon to be certified as a gemologist.

Vatche is a second-generation jeweler who began learning the art at age 15 from his uncle. His ring, pendant and earring designs fill the store's showcases.

"We don't copy," he explained simply. Catalog items are available if a client prefers a standard design.

Of all the skills Vatche acquired over the years, his expertise in setting diamonds is what he is known for.

"I love to set diamonds," he summed up. Vatche and Erica are watching their children become the third generation of gemologists.

"My oldest likes school, but he wants to know the family business," Vatche said. "I am training him like my uncle taught me."

Products

Besides diamonds and gems in unique settings of gold, white gold and platinum, Novi Jewelers Inc. is a certified carrier of authentic Austrian Swarovski Crystal figurines. The store displays a dazzling array of pieces. The pure 32 percent lead of Swarovski Crystal gives a high index of refraction and leads to a pure rainbow spectrum.

The store also carries Movedo and Citizens watches, chains and class ring selections.

Novi Jewelers is a full-service jewelry store providing expert watch and precious metal cleaning and repair.

Customer Service

"People come here after being disappointed shopping elsewhere," Shari Colling, a regular customer of Novi Jewelers, said. "Five of my girlfriends have come here for their engagement sets, many of my business clients and friends have come here and none of them have been disappointed."

Exceptional products are half the reason. The other half is the high quality customer service Vatche and Erica provide.

Standing in their Market Street store, an observer noted the couple greeted each person entering the store by name, and the friendliness

"There is no sales pressure here," Colling testified, "They ask 'what do you need?' If you say you like this but don't like that (about a product or design) Vatche says he'll fix it - and he does."

Customers pointed out the fast turnover for designs and repair, soft pricing and genuine friendly service keep them coming back for big and little jewelry needs.

Educating the public about jewelry is important to the couple. They are happy to talk with customers about diamonds and gem stone selection. Their Web site at www.novijewelers.com is very educational for those wishing to learn about choosing a diamond.

Community

The Nadjarians are Novi residents and their children attend Novi schools. The family and the store are heavily involved in supporting the schools and community charities.

"We donate because we want the community to be successful," Erica said.

Novi Jewelers is located at 43155 Market Street, Suite 205. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday; 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday; and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Stop by or call (284) 344-8226.

think of Bell's Landscape you have to think out of the flowerbox. Bell's delivers more servicativity and more customer satisfaction than any other in the business. Some of the outstanding services you can expect from Bell's include nearly every aspect of your home or business landscape, including landscape designs, decks, gazebos, brick-paver walks and patios, landscape lighting, retaining walls, sod, hydro-seeding, sprinklers and much more.

Business owners can turn to Bell's for those and additional services, including parking lot sweeping, tree and shrub pruning, spring and fall cleanups and snow removal. As their ad says, "Complete ground maintenance services.'

Owner Mike Bell applies his 30 years of experience and personal pride to each project his company is awarded. Recognizing his creativity, functionality, quality of plants and original designs over the years, the Michigan Green Industry Association has bestowed Bell's Landscape with seven plaques of commemoration. A good reason for this is that the Bell's Landscaping crew of nearly 20 workers, not subcontractors, will go to a job site and work until it is completed using the best in class materials and plants.

Customers appreciate that consistency. Their constant referral business back to Bell's Landscaping validates their satisfaction.

"About 70 percent of our business comes from our customers sending us referrals," noted Mike.

Some clients have a history of business lasting more than 25 years. Customer satisfaction and loyalty starts the moment you call the office to make an appointment with the sales staff. Bell's makes sure you are happy by offering a one-year warranty on most projects. They check

Renovations and walls, paver walks and gardens and omate patios are just some of the things Bell's Landscape can add to your home or business.

each project six months after completion and then return on the one-year anniversary to give a final walk-through. "Your landscaping is like the icing on a cake," Mike added, "do your homework and make a 10-year projection plan. If you don't, you will be unhappy and possibly pulling plants in a few years. A good design keeps that from happening." When you get a landscape design, which acts as a blueprint for the project, you'll have the peace of mind knowing the right plants were chosen for your living conditions, the colors and blooms will accent your exterior year round, the amount of maintenance required will be explained and agreed upon and the price will never be a surprise.

As a caution Mike added, "Be careful when comparing landscape bids. Plant size and the number of plants can alter the price of a project."

The lesson here is to remember that when you compare bids and the prices, make sure they are exactly identical including materials, type and number of plants. As Mike put it, when the job is all done, "Did the company meet your expectations?"

Bell's Landscaping will, and is counting on it, because they want your referral business. Call their office at (248) 486-0960 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday or visit www.bellslandscape.com.

The was the state of the state

George Dimopoulos is all smiles as he explains menu items to customers seated outside in the patio area overlooking the golf course.

Senate Coney Island Restaurant

eorge Dimopoulos has a simple philosophy. The owner of the Senate Coney Island Restaurant in Northville believes "you should have good food at reasonable prices." Obviously his customers agree.

Dimopoulos recently opened this, his fourth restaurant, on Haggerty Road with the same enthusiasm and passion as he has for his other locations in Dearborn, Taylor and Livonia. The newest location has a little something extra that the other three do not—a golf course.

When Dimopoulos bought the former Dun Rovin Golf Course Clubhouse, he also purchased the 9-hole, par-3, Bushwood Golf Course. He worked hard to remodel the building into a modern restaurant and banquet facility — and it shows.

The restaurant offers seating for over 190 people and has a separate room which can accommodate up to 60 people for private parties, such as wedding rehearsals and birthday dinners. If that isn't enough, Dimopoulos can even expand outside.

"We once set up a tent outside for a party of 250 people," he said.

But it isn't the extra seating and golf that are a trademark of the family-owned business. It is the service and the food selection.

"Everyone who comes in knows me by name and I know many of them by name," he said. "Customer service is No. 1 with us. There is nothing better than walking into a restaurant, sitting down and having people take care of you right away."

And the food is great, too.

"This is an upscale Coney Island with a larger menu," he added.

Customers can enjoy mouth-watering dinner selections such as the 1-pound pork chop, fresh lake perch, lamb chops, barbecue ribs, and Greek lasagna. Appetizer fares include traditional Greek items like stuffed grape leaves, spinach pie, saganaki (flaming cheese), lemon rice soup and Greek salad. Desserts include rice pudding and strawberry cheesecake.

If a customer can't find an item they want on the menu, Dimopoulos can order it special.

"I knew a customer was coming who wanted lobster tail," he said. "So I got it for him."

That dedication to customer service makes Senate Coney Island stand out from the com-

On a recent visit to the Senate Coney Island Restaurant, some of the customers were overheard saying, "the chicken — I just couldn't get enough of it," and "I loved the shrimp — it was sooo good."

Dimopoulos has put a lot of work into creating an inviting atmosphere outside too. He spent $50,000 to landscape the restaurant, including adding a replica of the Statue of Liberty, a symbol which also adorns his menu.

"I love the Statue of Liberty," Dimopoulos added.

His customers must love the atmosphere inside and outside, too. Business has been excellent since opening day, added

Dimopoulos and "it has been getting better and better every day."

The Senate Coney Island Restaurant is located at 39430 Dun Rovin Drive, between Five and Six Mile roads off Haggerty, in Northville. The restaurant is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

It is likely that customers will see Dimopoulos' smiling face.

Piazza Dance Company (248) 348-3720 · www.piazzadanceco.com

Dance Company is Northville's premiere school of dance. Owned by Marilynn Piazza-Esper and Gina Piazza, Piazza Dance has been offering quality dance education to Northville and the surrounding communities since 1981.

A staff of 14 teachers instruct students of all age and skill levels in Russian Method Ballet and Pointe, Jazz, Tap, Hip Hop, Polynesian, Irish-Step, Pre-school Ballet and Rhythm, Musical Theater and Acting classes. This year they will begin offering Belly Dancing, Acro-gymnastics and Salsa classes.

Piazza Dance Company instructors are certified to teach by examination and are members of the oldest and most respected professional dance organization in the country — Dance Masters of America.

Recognizing differing needs of its student body, the Piazza Dance Company offers two curricula — recreational and intensive. The Recreational Program is offered for such students who wish to take a casual approach to dance. "Most students of dance are looking for a fun way to spend time in a weekly activity with friends," Gina said. "In fact, 85 percent to 90 percent of the student body is made up of the recreational student. These students include many adults enjoying the work-out they get in a dance class without the drudgery of exercise."

The Piazza Dance Company is proud to offer a place for the serious as well as the casual student, the very young or the senior citizen, as well as the dance student with learning challenges.

Most recently a group of Piazza Dance Company intensive students were awarded the top score and cash prize for their performance at a national dance contest in Branson, Mo. Their jazz routine was the overall high-scoring entry out of more than 1,200.

Other graduates of Piazza Dance Company's Intensive Program are dancing on Broadway, cruise ships, are teaching, or are touring with professional shows.

Can you please tell us why IAG on CBS was canceled?

-Don P., Wisconsin

After 10 seasons, JAG aired its final episode in April because of low ratings. "We've had an amazing run, particularly for a series that was once canceled," says Donald P. Bellisario, the show's creator and executive producer. "Over the last 10 years we have had an opportunity to shine a spotlight on our armed forces and call attention JAG co-stars David James Elliott and Catherine Bell to issues of significant importance to our country as well as the men and women who serve it." JAG is military speak for Judge Advocate General corps, the elite legal wing of officers trained as lawyers who investigate, prosecute and defend those accused of crimes in the military. The series > featured actors David James Elliott and Catherine Bell.

-Dennis B., Missouri Gene Watson, 61, still performs regularly despite his bout with cancer in 2000 and 2001. Because he didn't have insurance, he had to work throughout his illness. "I couldn't lay down. I had to be doing something, sick or not. I think it made me a stronger person," says Watson, who's had 21 Top 10 hits. "We stay on the road. I've been out here for 30 years now. No need for me to be quitting now. You've got to love it to do it." Watson, who lives in Houston, has a new album called Gene Watson Then & Now, a compilation of songs from throughout his career. The native of Palestine, Texas (pop. 17,598), re-recorded some of his hits, including You Could Know as Much, Everybody Needs a Hero and Back in the Fire, and recorded several other songs that he loves. "This is going to be a chapter one. Hopefully there will be several to come."

I just saw the program on PBS about Chad Pregracke and his cleanup of our nation's waterways. How can I contact him?

-Will E., Michigan

Chad Pregracke, 30, is the founder of a non-profit environmental organization called Living Lands & Waters, which has 10 paid staffers who work with thousands of volunteers to clean up polluted rivers. Born in East Moline, Ill. (pop. 20,333), he could see the Mississippi River from his house. He never set out to have an organization; it just evolved as he became more involved in cleaning up the river in the late 1990s. "Our main focus is the Mississippi," he says. "We work on the Ohio River quite a bit, the Missouri River and currently the Illinois River, and some of the smaller ones as well. We're not your typical cleanup. We're more like an industrial strength river cleanup." The organization has four barges, several of which serve as floating recycling centers. "One of the barges is our floating headquarters and living quarters for 10 months a year. It's a 135-foot barge—a ranch style, one-story house with a basement where we store all our equipment," says Pregracke, who is single and only lives on land in East Moline about 40 days a year. Contact him through his website, uww.livinglandsandwaters.org, or by mail at 17615 Route 84 North, East Moline. IL 61244.

Could you please tell me what year Allan "Rocky" Lane died? How old was he when he died and was he married?

-Carol M., Illinois

Allan "Rocky" Lane died in 1973 at age 64 of bone cancer. The handsome Western star had been married twice, but both unions, to Gladys Leslie and actress Sheila Ryan, ended in divorce. A native of Mishawaka, Ind. (pop. 46,557), Lane left Notre Chad Pregracke cleans polluted rivers. Dame University to pursue acting. His big break came when he was cast in the serial The Tiger Woman in 1944. His serial role as Sgt. Dave King, a Canadian mountie, became popular, and in the mid-1940s he joined the TV show Red Ryder. In the 1960s, Lane provided the voice of the popular talking horse, Mr. Ed.

Because beneath the heartburn, something more could be brewing.

If you suffer from acid reflux disease— if you've had persistent heartburn two or more days a week, even with treatment and diet change—all that thurning acid could, over time, be doing real harm to your esophagus. And left untreated, the damage could get worse.

Acid reflux disease can damage your esophagus.

Unlike your stomach, your esophagus offers little protection against acid. And when acid rises into the esophagus it can eventually wear away the lining. This condition is called erosive esophagitis, and only a doctor can determine if you have it. But if you do, it's good to know NEXIUM® (esomeprazole magnesium) can help.

FOR A FREE TRIAL OFFER, VISIT PURPLEPILL.COM TODAY OR CALL 1-800-59-NEXIUM.

If you're without prescription coverage and can't afford your medications, help may be available. Call of Visit us online.

NEXIUM heals the damage.

 $({}_{1}^{\circ})$

NEXIUM is the healing purple pill. For many, just one prescription NEXIUM pill a day can mean complete, 24-hour heartburn relief. And NEXIUM can heal even the most severe erosions in the esophagus caused by acid reflux.

Talk with your doctor about NEXIUM.

NEXIUM goes deeper than heartburn relief—it heals acid-related erosions, allowing the lining of your esophagus to regenerate. Most erosions heal in 4 to 8 weeks. Your results may vary. NEXIUM has a low occurrence of side effects, which may include headache, diarrhea, and abdominal pain. Symptom relief does not rule out other serious stomach conditions.

Next time, ask your doctor if NEXIUM is right for you, Because healing is such a great feeling.

Please read the important Product Information about NEXIUM on the adjacent page and discuss it with your doctor.

What's in Your Back pad

Alicia Cathers, of Telford, Pa. (pop. 4,680), remembers a time when going back to school meant a fresh box of crayons, notebook paper, a Trapper Keeper and folders with her favorite animals on them. "I looked forward to that all year," says Cathers, who now buys school supplies for her son Alex, a student at Vernfield Elementary School.

Of course, times have changed since Cathers, 34, graduated from high school in 1988. Sure, familiar brands like Elmer's, Aladdin and Crayola are still back-to-school staples, but names like Texas Instruments (TI), Hewlitt Packard (HP) and Apple are on today's "must have" supply list as well.

So what's hot? "I'm saving up for an iPod," says Alex, 11, adding that his favorite back-to-school item would allow him to listen to music while riding the

The pop-up lunch tote has replaced the metal lunch box.

A STATE OF THE STA

Isabel Ross, an upcoming senior at University School of Nashville (Tenn.). agrees. "iPod's are definitely a must-have at school, assuming the school allows it," says Ross, 17. "It helps if you're in the hallway, and there's a lot of noise. It's also a nice escape sometimes if you're feeling really stressed."

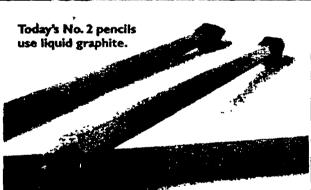

However, more practical educational items such as personal organizers, pop-up hunch totes and hi-tech calculators also are popular at schools across the nation. "At my school, we are required to have a TI graphing calculator," Isabel says.

Still, the basics of school supplies haven't really changed that much. "A pencil's still a pencil," says Ivan Reed, of Delray Beach, Fla. (pop. 60,020), Office Depot's senior manager of campaigns. "What's changed is the technology."

This year, Office Depot is offering a liquid graphite pencil ($3 per three pack) that looks and feels like the real thing but never needs sharpening. And they even write in that all-important No. 2 graphite, which remains a requirement for taking standardized tests after all

Other old standards also have a new look. Reed remembers using brown paper bags to cover his schoolbooks. "The corners would wear down, the paper would tear, and every book looked alike,"

But today's students use stretchable book covers ($1 to $4) in a variety of colors and prints. They're easy to put on, fit a variety of book sizes, and are washable and reusable.

Other popular variations on standard school supplies include:

• Pop-Up Lunch Tote (by California Innovations)—Remember picking out the metal Green Homet lunch box with the glass thermos? Today's students prefer the convenience of this collapsible bag, which folds down to the size of a CD once the runa sandwich is traded or eaten. (Cost: $8)

Relax, says fashion stylist Trish Townsend, because there are plenty of trendy options that won't break your bank.

"Don't get sucked into the crazy trends, whether it's the hottest new tennis shoes for $150 or the Louis Vuitton purse you see the Olsen twins carry," says Townsend, who has dressed stars such as Jon Bon Jovi, LeAnn Rimes and Alan Jackson. "Kids run through trends so fast that you shouldn't spend that kind of money when there are so many great knockoffs.

"Kids now have the opportunity to find really nice fashionable clothing at a fraction of the cost at places like Kmart, Target and Dollar General. And with a lot of the celebrity designers, with their influence on fashion and their ability to parlay that into a lower cost, kids are able to look like models straight off the fashion pages."

For instance, Sears' fall line offers fashions that look very hip and expensive, yet the prices are extremely reasonable, she says. "The fit is really cute and it's very tailored," she says. "It looks quality; it presents well." Townsend is also very impressed with JCPenney's fall line because it mimics clothes found in fashion magazines for a fraction of the cost.

With the increased focus on what entertainers wear, children often feel like they have to have expensive designer duds to be accepted by their peers, she says. "There are more television channels and more video channels, and people talk more about fashion. On those shows, like MTV's TRL, it's always about fashion and looks, and everybody is so determined to have his or her own specific look."

Clarence Simpson, 15, says that pressure of clothes as status symbols exists at his school, Maplewood High School in Nashville, Tenn. "The more clothes you have, the more money it seems like you have," Clarence says. "I guess you have to keep in style with everybody else. It's like a competition in my school. On the other hand, it's also like who can be creative and original."

Perhaps the easiest and most affordable way to show individuality is to shop at vintage and thrift stores, Townsend says. "I dress a lot of people straight from thrift stores, and then you accessorize it with something modern from Target, Kmart, and for girls, Wet Seal and Charlotte Russe, which have timely accessories for cheap."

Creating an individual look for less crafts stores. "You can take a cool, old vintage jacket and paint it with a really cool symbol or make it look tattooed on the outside and down the back, or stencil something on," she says. "You can either buy it for $750 or make it yourself for $10.50.

"Painting clothes is going to be the coolest thing to do next," she says. "It's like doing graffiti on your own clothes. Learn to make the clothes your own; pur your own mark on your clothes. If parents set up a craft time and paint clothes and put on little signs or their names and school colors, it can be a fun family project."

For all-cotton garments, Townsend recommends a bottle of Rit dye. She also encourages placing studs and rhinestones on clothes, as she did with a Johnny Cash T-shirt for singer Lee Ann Womack. "All the really expensive jeans have rhinestones on the insignia on the back pocket," she says. "They have glue-on rhinestones or heat-activated rhinestones (which can be found at www.creativecrystal.com) and you can iron them on. You can wash them and everything."

Because clothing designers express their uniqueness with individualized hemlines and silhouettes, anything goes now for girls. "Now the only thing that is popular is girls being girls," Townsend says. "They are girly and frilly. And for

The good news for parents of girls is that the can wear them sometimes. I can wear them out with my friends, but not to school."

Trends for boys and girls

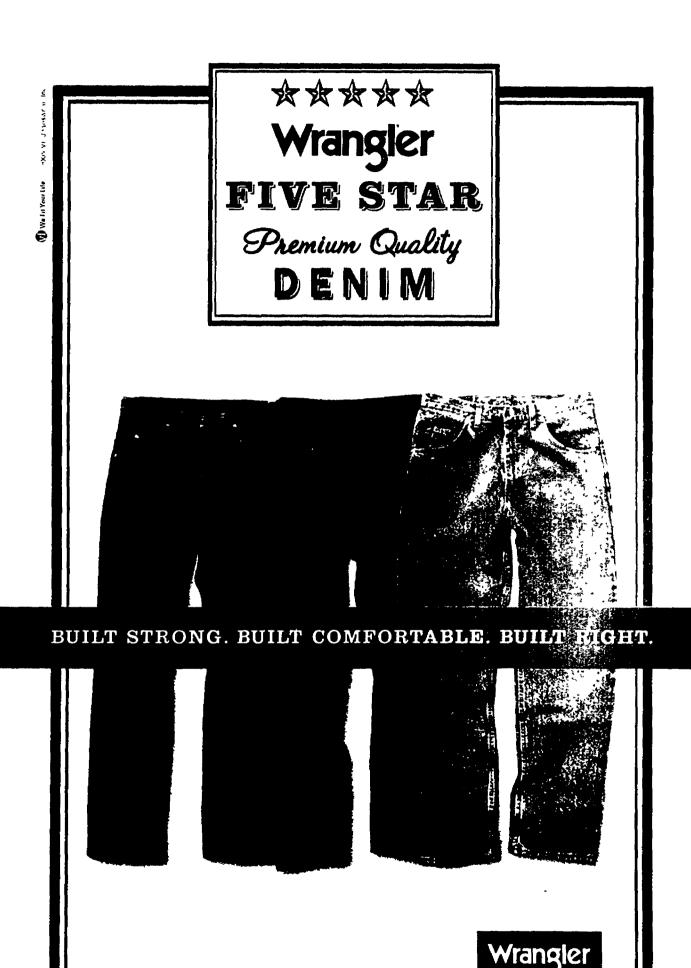

For boys, the look has shifted from a more urban look with expensive athletic jerseys to a preppier look. "It used to be jerseys, but now it's basically college (polo) shirts," Clarence says. "I normally wear three-button collared shirts, blue jeans and a hat. You can't wear hats in school, so I just wear it outside so that everybody can see it."

Townsend says fashionable polo shirts can be found at Kmart, Target and JCPenney for less than $25. "You can't tell a difference," she says. "The only difference is the little insignia and nobody cares anymore." Rock music-related T-shirts are popular now with boys and they also are extremely affordable.

For both sexes, Townsend says parents should splurge more on jeans because they're a foundation that will be worn virtually every day. "Don't be hesitant to wait for a sale," she says. "Check the newspaper. Jeans are jeans year-round. If they are on sale in the summer, buy them for back-to-school. Levi's is always an affordable staple."

One area to save money is with shirts, which are trendier and have a shorter life. The Western shirt has made a comeback for boys and girls, and Townsend is a fan of Wrangler's line. "You can go on the cheap a little bit for shirts," she says. "If you are a trendy kid, that is one place where you can change out more. I recommend layering for back to school." Girls can layer a zip-up cardigan or blazer over a tank top, while boys can don a (Continued on page 12) long-sleeve shirt or zip-up sweatshirt over a T-shirt.

Regardless of the style or price, the fit is the most important thing. "A lot of the girls' bodies are changing and they don't know how to dress," she says. "They don't look at their bodies logically. They want to wear what their friends wear and they need to focus on what looks good for them. If they wear the right cut, they can look taller and thinner and the clothes look better on them."

To improve the fit, Townsend recommends trying on several sizes. "Just because you think you are a size 6 doesn't mean you should buy a size 6. You can buy anything from a size 4 to 8. Sizes are all over the board."

Townsend alters everything she buys for her clients. "Clothes off the rack are a suggestion of what a size 6 should be," she says. "You make it work for your size-6 body. You can do the altera-

Healthful, Packable Lunches

Getting the kids ready for school in the morning sometimes requires throwing together a last minute lunch. Often the rush dictates that nutritional value suffers in favor of convenience. But with a little planning, you can create lunches that your children will enjoy and that are good for them.

This week's recipes offer tasty alternatives to the traditional ham and cheese sandwich or turkey roll-up. Both can be made the day before to avoid the last minute rush. And both are so tasty that when you're filling your children's lunchboxes, you may want to dish some out for yourself to take to work.

Neelam Taneja of Whiteville, N.C. (pop. 5,148), sent us the recipe for pistachio and pasta salad. Loaded with healthful vegetables and flavorful cheese and nuts, this salad is mayonnaise-free, so there's no need to refrigerate it. Add an apple, some grapes or other fruit to create a meal that is delicious and nutritionally well balanced.

The recipe for cranberry bread comes from Kathy Antus of Viola, Ark. (pop. 381). A slice of this bread makes a nice accompaniment to a leafy green salad, a small thermos of chicken soup, or celery sticks with peanut butter. Your kids might even enjoy spreading a couple of slices with low-fat cream cheese.

As always, American Profile looks forward to receiving—and publishing—your favorite recipes each week, and sharing them with our millions of readers across the nation.

Pistachio Pasta Salad

I tablespoon olive oil
I tablespoon vinegar
I tablespoon oregano
Salt and pepper to taste
I cup pasta (rigatoni, gemelli or small shells)
I cup snow peas
I cup fresh baby spinach
I/2 cup chopped pistachios
I/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
8 cherry tomatoes
Pistachios, chopped
Parmesan cheese, shaved

In a small bowl, combine oil, vinegar, oregano, salt and pepper. Cook pasta according to package instructions. Drain pasta and set aside to cool. Blanch snow peas and spinach by putting them in hot water and taking out immediately. Quickly rinse vegetables in cold water, drain well on paper towels and pat dry. Mix snow peas and spinach with pasta, pistachios, cheese, tomatoes and marinade in a medium-size bowl. Garnish salad with more pistachio nuts and shaved Parmesan cheese. Serves 4 to 6.

Tips From Our Test Kitchen:

Substitute sugar snap peas for snow peas if you desire.

Did You Know...

ILLINOIS—One of the world's first service clubs, Rotary Club of Chicago, was formed 100 years ago by attorney Paul P. Harris, who longed to recapture the friendly spirit of the small towns of his youth in a professional club. The name Rotary derived from the practice of rotating the location of meetings at the offices of members.

INDIANA—An abundance of fossils of animals that lived 435 million years ago are found in the ancient limestone and shale at Whitewater Gorge Park. Located in Richmond (pop. 39,124), the park includes the Thistlethwaite Falls.

IOWA—Pioneering makeup inventor Carl Weeks, who founded the Armand Face Powder Co. in 1915, also is known for his Des Moines home, Salisbury House, a 42-room castle modeled after the King's House in Salisbury, England.

KANSAS—Opened in 1955 as the first state park in Kansas, Kanopolis State Park at Marquette (pop. 542) boasts hiking trails, sandstone bluffs, prairie dogs, a 3,406-acre lake and the Faris Caves, dug by a miner in the 1880s as living quarters and used by later owners as a school and springhouse.

MICHIGAN—Originally built and operated in the Netherlands, the 240-year-old DeZwaan Windmill was a gift from the Netherlands 40 years ago to Holland (pop. 35,048). The 12-story windmill is the centerpiece of the city's Windmill Island.

MINNESOTA—The 1946 Covington towboat pushed barges on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers for 30 years. Today it has a new life as The Covington Inn, a bed and breakfast moored on the Mississippi River banks in St. Paul, trimmed from stem to stern with mahogany, brass and bronze, and decorated with nautical antiques and salvaged fixtures.

MISSOURI—Dorm students at Stephens College in Columbia don't have to leave Fido at home. Last fall the women's college opened the first floor of Prunty Hall to students who want to bring their dogs, cats or rabbits to college.

NEBRASKA—The Frank H. Woods Telephone Pioneer Museum in Lincoln rings with historical exhibits, including a cordboard room with operator-answered switchboards and 1890s candlestick-style and wooden wall phones. Woods founded the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. in 1903.

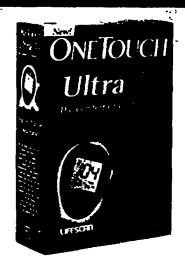

NORTH DAKOTA—In 1990, Mary Fors organized the Prairie Rose Lace Makers in Bismarck (pop. 55,532) to practice and preserve the 16th-century art of making bobbin lace. The group meets monthly to exchange patterns and ideas and gives lace-making demonstrations at festivals.

OHIO—Attendance skyrocketed at the Columbus Zoo in 1956 after the birth of Colo, the first gorilla born in captivity. The baby gorilla, whose name was chosen in a contest and is short for "Columbus," became an instant celebrity and today is a greatgrandmother.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Cowboys shoot from the hip, 1800s-style, with .45-caliber revolvers as members of the Cowboy Fast Draw Association, headquartered in Deadwood (pop. 1,380). Members wear period clothing as they "quick draw" their pistols during timed shooting competitions.

WISCONSIN—Summerfest on Lake Michigan in downtown Milwaukee attracts 1 million festival goers each year. Hundreds of performers star on 13 stages at the 11-day event, which begins the last Thursday in June.

Creating a Study Spa

Just because you've checked off every item on your child's back-to-school list doesn't mean your work is over. Parents also need to provide a good at-home study space, which is just as essential as back-toschool supplies, according to the U.S. Department of Education.

The first step to creating a study space is a place where the child is comfortable and where the best results are obtained," says Christi Proctor, designer on The Learning Channel's decorating show Trading Spaces. "You need to know your child's own study style and create a space where he can learn."

Once you've identified the space, make it a place where homework can be done easily

Here's how:

• Lighten up!—Make the space easy on the eyes so reading and other tasks can be performed effortlessly. If necessary, add a desk lamp to your existing lighting to make the area brighter.

 Creature comforts—If your child can't reach the work surface, he'll be uncomfortable, which makes it harder to learn. Try different seating. Some children work best in a stiff chair in front of a desk, while others prefer lounge chairs or a bench at the kitchen table. "The child has to be comfortable, so he'll want to be there," Proctor says.

 Stockpile—Keep homework supplies close at hand. Even if you don't have a dedicated desk drawer, you can make a portable supply box to keep pens, pencils, construction paper and glue sticks handy during homework time-and tucked away on a shelf afterward.

• Noise, or distraction?—Determine how much background noise your child prefers-or may need to concentrate. "Some kids need utter silence, while others want the comfort of music or the sounds of the family," says Stacy DeBroff, author of The Mom Book. But turn the television off. "It's too distracting, for your children and you," DeBroff says.

Some homes have dens, extra bedrooms or offices that would be ideal study spaces. But a kitchen table or desk in the bedroom can be just as effective as long you provide your child with room to work, light to see, necessary supplies and a comfortable environment in which to learn. And of course, stick around—your child may need help with his algebra hornework. 🌣

High-Tech Homework Helpers

Like many students, fourth-grader Ryan Friars of West Deptford, N.J. (pop. 19,368), used to turn to his morn and dad when he needed help with his homework. "If they couldn't help me, I'd ask one of my brothers," says Ryan, 10.

These days, however, Ryan mostly turns to his home computer to navigate the Internet and seek out online resources to help with after-school assignments.

"I always encourage my students and my own children to use the computer in any way possible—and that certainly includes homework," says Shelley Cunningham, a special education teacher from Southaven, Miss. (pop. 28,977). "There are a wide range of resources there, and having a computer at home allows the child to research information independently."

Heather Winne, a parent and former second-grade teacher in Bloomington, Ind., agrees. "Computers offer children an additional tool to add to the list of their homework resources. For a child studying spelling words, for example, typing in the words in a word processing program or using a large fun font adds variety and makes rote memorization a little more fun. For visual learners, a computer offers a window to the world, where children can explore subjects at great detail."

Your child can access enormous amounts of information using a computer, whether it's educational software or the Internet. Point him in this direction, and check out:

Homework helpers—Websites such as Discovery School's (http://school.discovery.com) feature a "homework help center" and BJ Pinchbeck's Homework Helpers, a collection of reference links chosen by a 17-year-old student and divided by classroom subject. Another helpful site is ununrefdesk.com, which offers a large collection of reference material on a variety of topics. Drexel University's Ask Dr. Math website (ununmathforum.org) provides instruction for a given subject (in this case, middle school math), and if the answer can't be found, students can ask for help via e-mail.

Educational software—If your child is excited about studying math, try software such as Soccer Math, which makes rote drills seem like a game. Need reading strategies? Cunningham recommends the Reader Rabbit or Edmark reading program software. Even encyclopedias have gone high-tech with CD versions such as Encarta Encyclopedia, which includes the entire 26 volumes on two disks.

The changing face of the library—Many public libraries across the country have kept up with students' changing needs and have reinvented themselves as resource centers. Many allow online book reservations or renewals, provide "ask a librarian" help services and lend out educational software along with the latest bestsellers.

Online tutoring—A click on www.tutor.com or a similar website can help you find the tutor your child needs for special, individualized help. Some tutoring websites feature live homework help centers in local libraries.

Traveling the Information Highway—At every turn, the Internet lives up to its nickname as the Information Highway. You can minutes in the second and the second second guide your child through reference resources, the latest news, and even help him or her find other kids who can chat about homework or suggest essay topics.

Of course, children aren't the only ones who are reaping the benefits of using technology to handle academic assignments. Teachers such as Cunningham and Winne can boot up and find curriculum ideas, sample lesson plans and discipline suggestions. And many school districts now allow parents to log on to computerized programs such as PowerParent, which lets parents monitor their child's grades on a daily basis.

"That's one way we can be sure his homework is getting done," says Ryan's mother, Gina.
