■ Township residents tired of DTE power outage excuses

By Tracy Mishler
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Catherine Sellas is fed up with losing power in her home.

The 29-year Northville Township resident has lost power so many times that she and her husband had a built-in generator added to their home.

"Electricity is so unstable around here," Sellas said. "A few years ago, we had the power go out 17 times, and we're on well water. When the power goes out when you're on well, you have nothing."

Sellas and several residents between Five and Seven Mile roads near Haggerty Road are fed up with frequent power outages in their area.

Sellas said her patience blew after calling DTE Energy several times with no resolution.

"We solved the problem ourselves," she said. "It was an expensive fix, but it's worth it. It's pretty sad that we even had to invest in this."

Sellas' main concern: DTE doesn't listen.

"Our neighborhood is not big enough for DTE to provide immediate service," she said. "There are people without power all the time. The last few years have just been unbearable."

Sellas was among many resi-

Sold! $31.5 million

■ Former state hospital ends up in familiar hands: Real Estate Interests

By Tracy Mishler
RECORD STAFF WRITER

The former Northville Psychiatric Hospital was sold Tuesday morning to a familiar face, Real Estate Interest Group, Inc.

The Bloomfield Hills-based development company bought the land for $31.5 million, the property's fair-market value, according to the state.

The sale price was less than the $33 million originally budgeted by the state.

The state's fourth attempt to sell the 414-acre came down to two bidders: Real Estate Interest Group, Inc. and Windham Development, a Bloomfield Hills-based company, specializing in single family and multi-family developments.

According to the state, Windham Development's submitted bid did not conform to state requirements, causing the live auction to be canceled.

"We put our $4 million deposit down and actually had the higher offer," said Herbert Lawson, president and owner of Windham Development. "We had some contingencies with the contract that didn't conform to the states requirements."

"We are not land speculators and there are too many open issues with the land," Louis Fisher, CEO for the Fisher Co. and national auctioneer for Sperry Van Ness, was pleased with the sale.

"It wasn't a requirement to have a live auction," Fisher said. "We hoped for more bidders, but the important thing was to sell the property."

Real Estate Interest Group is scheduled to close on the property on or before Sept. 29.

Can Northville be a 'cool' city?

■ Officials want to join ranks of Ann Arbor, Traverse City and Kalamazoo

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Brian Soborowski said Northville's hot nightlife is closer to lukewarm.

That's a chilling thought as city leaders try to pitch Northville as a "cool" place to live.

City of Northville

Gov. Granholm last year dubbed certain municipalities "cool cities," providing them cold cash toward specific projects. This time around, Northville is vying for a share.

Soborowski, 27, has lived downtown for two years. He said it's a place to raise your kids, but it folds up at night.

Can a city priding itself on quaintness and Victorian charm qualify as cool?

Northville has a great chance at joining the ranks of Ann Arbor, Traverse City and Kalamazoo, said Lori Ward, downtown development director.

Northville has interesting spaces in old buildings, a unique quality of life and the most important — social interaction, Ward said.

Historic Home Tour 2005

■ Annual event will be held Sept. 17

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Paul and Sue Anker's house is their family story.

It has interesting nooks and crannies and places to steal away. Passions decorate the walls; rooms are event settings. And they love sharing it.

The Seven Mile Road historic farmhouse is one of the stops on the 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Sept. 17 historic home tour hosted by the Northville-Novu branch of American Association of University Women.

The $15 tour will provide visitors a look at four homes built in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Architectural styles range from Greek Revival with Victorian influence to Old New England cottage style.

Sue Anker said her family has not been able to document a lot of the circa 1860 home's history. Even a visit from a 1930s occupant shed little light.

The most intriguing lore pegs the house as a stop on the Underground Railroad, Anker said, a fact she has not been able to confirm. The age of the home fits and Northville would have been a route for former slaves seeking freedom in Canada.

"It's kind of one of those stories — wouldn't that be cool if that were true?"

One-of-a-kind setting

It would take a slow stroll through the 5,000-square-foot house to take in all the vintage photographs, painstaking needlework and antique doll collections.

"There's a story that goes with everything."

Sue Anker
Northville Home Tour Homeowner

Flea markets, estate sales and parents downsizing have added personality to the over-sized rooms.

Since the Ankers and their daughters Elizabeth and Sarah moved to the home in 1995, this is the second time they opened it for the tour, Anker said.

"People have told us that this is a welcoming place — that it's warm," Anker said. "Even though there's a lot of collections in it, that's not the most important thing."

"We want it to be a place where people feel comfortable."

Both Paul and Sue are avid collectors: his baseball memorabilia in the den, her flower frogs in the sun porch, vintage mixing bowls in the kitchen.

The Ankers' furniture ranges from oak antiques throughout the first floor to vogue bedroom pieces in the girls' rooms to an eclectic mix on the patio.

"There's a story that goes with everything," Sue Anker said. "I can still kind of remember where I found things, how we got them here, which things are from our family."

Welcome purpose

Tall windows, oak floors and carved molding are the backdrop for rooms filled with family heirlooms and frequent family gatherings.

Historical Home Tour Locations:

1. Sue and Paul Anker, 45924 W. Seven Mile Road
2. Raschke, 616 Fairbrook Street
3. Stach, 446 Dubuar Street
4. Boelter, 124 High Street

Tickets available: $15, Northville Chamber of Commerce, 195 S. Main St. Gardenviews, 202 W. Main St.

Restrictions:

1. You may visit the homes in any order.
2. No shoes or bare feet are permitted in the homes. Socks or medical booties provided at the door of the home must be worn.
3. Please refrain from smoking, eating or drinking in the homes.
4. Children under 12 and pets are not allowed.
5. Interior photographs are not permitted.

"We do a lot of different types of entertaining," Anker said, from holiday parties to church ministry meetings. "We've got a good house to do that in."

"I know the girls like that."

The Ankers call the turn of events that allowed them to purchase their home a blessing.

"We truly felt like God wanted us to have this house," she said. "We're trying to use it to do His service."

"When people ask, we say 'yes.'"

dents who demanded answers from DTE at the board of trustees meeting Aug. 18.

"We allowed everyone at the meeting to tell us their problems and we plan on addressing each individual concern," said Thomas Misco, principal engineer for DTE Energy for the southwest region.

Misco said one of the problems is that the circuits are being overloaded.

"We're expanding a substation on Haggerty Road just north of Seven Mile Road," Misco said. "That will help with the loading issues. But there are a lot of different reasons why the power keeps going out and we have to find out why."

Misco, along with Mark Stefanick, area engineer for DTE, spoke with several residents at the township meeting and Misco said they ended up getting a good response.

"We have to address each situation individually and we are checking all the circuits in the area," he said. "Our main goal is to resolve the issue, but that will take time."

Township Clerk Sue Hillebrand said she understands how the residents feel.

"I have spurts where my power goes off three times a week," Hillebrand said. "This isn't a new problem, but it has gotten worse this past year."

"I'm willing to give DTE the benefit of the doubt, but I don't think they have given a lot of answers to our concerns."

"Our main goal is to resolve the issue, but that will take time."

Thomas Misco
DTE Energy

Hillebrand said because Northville is growing so quickly, there isn't enough power to go around.

"We've gotten a lot of new development and DTE needs to do something for increased growth and electronics," she said. "There's a lot of people coming and there's a lot of electronics coming. They need to plan for it."

Misco said DTE must perform an analysis and inspect area circuits.

"It's not like fixing a car," he said. "We are looking into the problems."

Misco said there is no specific date for a long term fix.

LABOR DAY IN NORTHVILLE
To Be Celebrated By Base Ball Tournament
Prizes will be Given Both Winners & Losers

Northville will celebrate Labor Day, Monday September 4, by a base ball tournament which promises to be an event in athletic history of the village.

Harry S. German is to manage the Northville team, which he will reinforce with outside talent: Professor Smith has charge of the Denton Sluggers, who will come in full force; Judge Stein manages the Detroit Athletics and always has a good aggregation, so the clash may be looked forward to with the assurance of a lively and interesting time, and as the losers are to receive substantial "consolation," everything ought to be thoroughly satisfactory all around.

The following program has been arranged for the day:

- Morning game at 10 o'clock, Detroit Athletics vs. Denton Sluggers
- Afternoon game at 3 o'clock vs. Winners of the first game
- $40 prize for winners; $20 prize for losing team
- Dance at Rink in the evening
- Admission: Morning game, Ladies ... 10¢ ... Gents 15¢; Afternoon game: Ladies ... 15¢ Gents ... 20¢

POLICE BRIEFS

Making restitution

Northville Public Schools administrators are allowing two Birmingham boys to repaint a rail they damaged Aug. 24, rather than face charges.

Northville officers on patrol spotted the youths, age 15 and 19, at Amerman Elementary School; one was riding his bicycle down the rail while the other filmed him, police reports said.

Materials taken

The owner of the building under construction at 120 W. Main St. reported $1,300 worth of materials stolen from the job site Aug. 22.

Six boxes of copper fittings valued at $500 and four slabs of gray limestone valued at $800 were taken from inside the unfinished building between 5 p.m. Aug. 22 and 7 a.m. Aug. 23, Northville police reports said. The case is closed.

What a mess

A Dunsany Street resident

reported to Northville police his pick-up truck was squirted with ketchup, mustard and mayonnaise sometime last Saturday night.

The 43-year-old man told officers the child of his neighbors, who were out of town, had a party Aug. 27, police reports said. The victim's wife later reported ketchup also was squirted into the truck's gas tank.

The case is closed.

Tools taken

Northville police are investigating the Aug. 21 theft of $2,100 in tools from a truck parked at Northville Downs.

A 38-year-old Livonia man noticed his passenger window had been pried open while he was inside the facility between 1-7 p.m., police reports said. In addition to $100 in damage, missing items included: a $200 radio/compact disc player, two $400 drills, an $800 impact screw gun and a $300 chop saw, all in metal cases.

The case is still open pending recovery of the stolen items, police said.

Cash, not coupons

A 27-year-old man from Shelby Township allegedly tried to steal four cans of baby formula from Meijer on Haggerty Road.

According to police, the man loaded his cart and proceeded to checkout at the stores U-Scan, where he only scanned one can. The man then received a store coupon and tried to use it on the other three cans. The cashier advised the man the coupon had to be used on a different day and the man then placed the three non-purchased cans in his grocery bag and left the store.

The man was stopped by Meijer security and arrested for retail fraud. The man was transferred to the Northville Township Police Department and his court date was set for Sept. 8.

Asleep at the wheel

A 36-year-old Northville man was observed sleeping at the wheel next to the Mobil gas station pay phone at the corner of Seven Mile and Northville Roads. The officer observed the phone receiver sitting on the man's dashboard and the engine was off.

According to reports, a strong odor of alcohol was coming from the car and the man failed a Breathalyzer test. The man was arrested and charged with having open intoxicants in a motor vehicle, and later released with a court date on Sept. 8.

Missing flags

The greens keeper at Bushwood Golf Course in Northville Township called police after he noticed several flags were missing from the course.

The man told police there has been recent damage to the golf course in the past after hours. Police have no suspects or witnesses.

Bad checks

A 20-year-old Northville woman allegedly tried to buy a car with a bad check and got busted for check fraud. According to police, the woman wrote a 41-year-old Northville woman a check from a closed account and drove off in the car. Four days later, the victim received notice the check had bounced.

Police arrested the 20-year-old suspect, and according to reports, the woman gave a different name. She is awaiting a court date.

Lock your doors

Thinking twice about locking her doors, a 53-year-old Northville Township woman called police after noticed someone sitting in her 2003 Ford Explorer in the driveway.

The woman said her car was not locked and when approached, the suspect walked away from the car. There was no damage and nothing taken out of the vehicle.

Musical golfing thief

An iPod and some golf clubs were stolen from a Northville Township family's home Aug. 17. A 50-year-old woman told police

TRIAL: Northville man bound over to circuit court

before Washtenaw County 14A District Court Judge Richard Conlin during an Aug. 23 preliminary exam in Chelsea.

Foster said the group of cyclists was riding east on Ann Arbor-Plymouth Road in Superior Township when he saw a black car airborne, southbound on Godfredson Road.

"The car was like a missile coming out the side of the road," Foster said. "I didn't see Todd get hit. It all happened so fast."

What happened?

Foster, manager of D & D Bicycles in downtown Northville, said he had been riding the same route since the early 1990s.

He and Schoenheide, along with another cyclist, left the Northville bicycle shop around 5:45 p.m. on Sunday.

They traveled west on Seven Mile Road, on to Pontiac Trail, by The University of Michigan Hospital and to an Ann Arbor cafe.

On Trial

What happened: Mark Peterson, 34, bound over for pre-trial in 22nd Circuit Court in Ann Arbor

When: 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 4
Charges: One count of operating while intoxicated causing death and one count of operating while intoxicated causing serious injury.

After taking a break, the cyclists headed back to Northville.

Foster, 38, said all men were wearing cycling jerseys and traveling about 20 mph in a straight line toward Northville.

They had been in the same formation for about three minutes before the police-described 8:09 p.m. Sunday fatal accident.

Schoenheide was in the middle. Foster was trailing closely behind.

Foster said he hit the side of the car, later identified as a 2005 Ford Mustang, and his front wheel immediately came off. He said he broke his hand, which later required surgery.

"I tried to gather myself, I did a quick assessment," Foster said. "I was looking for Todd. I didn't see Todd. Then I saw his bike in the middle of the road."

Foster said he was relieved to see the car that hit them was in a ditch on Godfredson Road.

"I immediately told him, 'you just killed somebody,'" Foster said.

Charges

The driver of the car who allegedly hit and killed Schoenheide is 34-year-old Northville resident Mark Peterson.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Comm. Dave Egeler said alcohol, speeding and failure to obey a stop sign on the part of Peterson, contributed to Schoenheide's death.

Michigan State Police toxicology tests indicated Peterson's blood alcohol content was .20 following the accident, more than twice the legal limit in Michigan.

Washtenaw County assistant prosecuting attorney Paul Barnett said the Northville resident faces one felony count of operating while intoxicated causing death and one felony count of operating while intoxicated causing serious injury.

If convicted, he faces a maximum 20-year prison sentence.

Peterson stood mute in court last week.

Rights Violation?

Peterson's lawyer, Richard Lustig, said his client's rights have been violated, and blood tests and statements should not be admissible in court.

Lustig said Peterson's blood was drawn for alcohol-level content testing before a search warrant was signed.

"And the blood draw did occur even though my defendant did refuse medical treatment," he said.

Lustig said Peterson's blood was drawn around 10:12 p.m. and the search warrant wasn't signed until 10:32 p.m. and not delivered until at least 10:51 p.m.

The defense attorney said deputies also failed to read Peterson his rights before taking a statement.

Lustig's request to have Peterson's statement and blood-alcohol level test suppressed, will be considered 1:30 p.m. Oct. 4 at the Peterson pretrial before 22nd Circuit Court Judge Donald Shelton.

Conlin ruled there was sufficient evidence to bind the case over to circuit court for an OUIL causing death charge even without the blood test or statement.

Prosecutors said blood was drawn pursuant to the search warrant.

"We are confident in our case and the evidence that we have," Barnett said.

Peterson is free on a $100,000 bond.

Senior Fest set for next week

Seniors ready to share afternoon of food, fun and information

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Marie and Kim Policelli want to help people stay in their own home longer.

That's the topic the husband and wife owners of Northville's Comfort keepers will address with local seniors at Senior Fest 2005 next week. They will be among 28 vendors near the fried chicken, across from the stage and close to the picnic tables.

The annual party is held for the community's senior citizens. This year, the 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 7 event will be held at Waterford Bend Park at Northville and Six Mile roads.

Senior Adult Services Coordinator Sue Koivula said her staff is planning on more than 200 guests for lunch, fun and door prizes. They come for the entertainment, camaraderie and to gather information, she said.

Among the scheduled attractions: a caricature artist, chair massage, a tai chi demonstration and performance by singer and keyboard player Jim Lauri.

Senior Fest 2005

What: lunch and entertainment
When: 11 a.m.-3 p.m. next Wednesday, Sept. 7
Where: Waterford Bend Park located at Northville and Six Mile roads Rain site: Northville Senior Community Center, 303 W. Main St.
Cost: $5
Tickets: Available at senior center.

Calloway will attend for the first time.

"We thought we'd go and see what it's about," said Sarah, 72. The couple said the lineup of activities sounded interesting.

Calloway said she hoped there would be information available on recent legislative proposals regarding nursing homes and estate planning.

"The laws do change," she said. "For us, that would be helpful."

Joe Calloway, 85, has an older sister they may soon need to make housing arrangements for, Sarah said. "So that would be of interest."

Senior residences, Northville Hearing, Wheelchair Getaway van rental, local banks, hospitals, pharmaceutical companies, visiting physician services and an identity theft presentation by the Wayne County sheriff's department will be among the displays.

Fest fan

Isabelle Cholakian, 82, has never missed a Senior Fest.

"It's just a good time for everyone ... It's just a fun thing to do."

Isabelle Cholakian
Resident, City of Northville

"It's just a good time for everyone," she said. "The food is good. The people are good. It's just a fun thing to do."

This is the third year Comfort Keepers will attend the festival.

Marie said the event is a good opportunity to acquaint the area's elderly with the in-home care her company provides. They transport seniors to the hospital, care for them after a procedure and provide many other services.

Next week Comfort Keepers staff will distribute informational literature, pens and letter openers emblazoned with their name.

"A lot of them have never heard of it," she said. "They didn't know it was available."

"We help them stay home instead of going to a nursing home."

her daughter had parked her Volkswagen Jetta in the garage, and upon returning her iPod was gone. Her father noticed the next morning three of his golf clubs were also missing. Police have no suspects.

Dog found

A girl in Northville Township found an 85-pound golden retriever and gave it to her neighbor. The 55-year-old woman then called police to pick the dog up, who then took it to Parkway Veterinary Clinic. There were no tags on the female dog, which was wearing a red collar. Police added the animal to the lost dog list.

Missing mower

A lawnmower was stolen from a family's home in Northville Township Aug. 18. The 52-year-old homeowner told police someone allegedly stole the mower while her husband's Corvette was parked outside the garage. According to police, the woman said her garage door was left open during the day. Police have no suspects.

Gas prices not having much effect on travel

Motorists still making plans to hit the road during upcoming Labor Day weekend

By Pam Fleming
GANNETT NEWS SERVICES

Although gas prices are going up, Jim Rink of AAA Michigan says there's no fear factor when it comes to holiday travel.

A random survey of area residents shopping in Novi and Northville Tuesday afternoon found a mixed bag of travelers and stay-at-homers this Labor Day Weekend.

"Actually, our survey shows that this is going to be the busiest Labor Day Weekend in the last four years," Rink said.

"We're expecting 1.4 million Michigan residents who say they will be traveling during the upcoming extended weekend. That's the highest number since 2001. So, apparently high gas prices are not deterring travelers who may see a short driving trip in Michigan as a viable money-saving alternative to a cruise or an extended vacation."

The current average as of Aug. 26 was $2.65, according to Rink.

At Twelve Oaks Mall on Tuesday, Robin Khoury of White Lake said she's staying in town.

"I'm going to a lake to go boating. I'm trying to get the last little bit of summer in out on the boat," she said.

"We're going to Costco right after this to fill up on gas," she added. "Last night, we drove by a gas station, and they were lined up five to 10 cars deep."

Her sister-in-law, Candace Khoury of Kansas City, said it

"Actually, our survey shows that this is going to be the busiest Labor Day Weekend in the last four years."

Jim Rink
AAA of Michigan

looked like the gas wars of 1979 when one gas station was selling at $2.65 and others were selling at $2.79.

Bob and Irene Hechler of Farmington Hills are also staying home, and said gas prices did affect their decision.

"It's pathetic," she said. "We've got a lot of friends who are staying in the city."

Aleksey Kirilyuk of Novi said he's going to New York for the weekend to visit friends and to see his girlfriend who's flying back to Europe from the Big Apple. But, he's traveling by bus.

"It's too expensive to travel by car, plus the traffic in New York is pretty heavy, so I figured I wouldn't take a car," he said.

Downtown Northville

Bob and Dianne Hubbert of Novi are going to the U-M home football game and a cookout, so gas prices didn't affect their plans.

Karen Dedo of Novi doesn't have plans yet, but has a nice pool where she lives. "They'll probably do a barbecue," she said. "I just remembered it was Labor Day weekend."

Pump prices hit $3 mark

Can consumers expect higher gas prices over the holiday weekend?

"Gas prices not only change daily but literally several times a day. Lately, there have been a lot of things going on in the world that have made for rapid changes in gas prices," Rink said.

It's quite likely that gas prices will go up, he said.

The best thing to do is to go to the AAA Web site and visit the Fuel Price Finder link.

All motorists have to do is enter their zip code, and the site will give drivers all the gas stations and prices within a 10-mile radius, so consumers can comparison shop.

Rink suggests that motorists not drive more than 10 miles out of their way to save gas, they're not really saving money.

Dance Lessons Promote Positive Results – and they're Fun!

Whether your interest is in classical ballet, the rhythms of tap, or the cool moves of hip hop, dance offers many benefits beyond the "sheer joy of movement to music," according to Lisa Shapiro. Shapiro is the director of Center Stage Dance Company, a dance studio in Northville offering classes in ballet, jazz, tap, hip hop, lyrical and pointe for ages three through adult.

"Participation in a quality dance program helps build self esteem through opportunities to perform both within the classroom and for others," continues Shapiro. "In addition, dance is great exercise, it promotes physical development including strength, stamina, flexibility and poise."

Shapiro explains that studies have shown that dance promotes mental development as well. When students learn choreographed dances they practice patterning and develop memorization skills that can lead to improved academic aptitude. And dancing with a group helps promotes both teamwork and leadership skills.

Sharing a Passion for Dance

Center Stage Dance Company begins its 18th year. Dancing since she was five years old, Shapiro taught high school dance before investing in a studio in Walled Lake in 1988. She moved the studio to Cady Street in Northville in 1992, and into a larger facility on Seven Mile Road in 2002 with four spacious dance rooms all with floating wood floors for safety and comfort. The student changing room/lounge is a great place for eating, studying, and socializing between classes. The facility also includes an apparel shop where students can purchase tights, leotards, shoes, T-shirts and other dance-related items.

Jackie Drouillard serves as office manager and Darcy Mikels as assistant office manager at Center Stage. They are available in the front office throughout the day and during class times to provide assistance and to answer any questions dancers or parents may have. Parents and students may also email the studio at csdc5678@sbcglobal.net, with questions or concerns.

The growth of the studio has allowed Shapiro and her faculty and staff to share their passion for dance with so many young people. "Our mission statement reflects our philosophy: We are a non-competitive studio dedicated to teaching the art of dance for the purpose of physical, emotional and mental development, and for the sheer joy of movement to music," explains Shapiro.

The senior faculty includes dancers that have "grown up" at Center Stage Dance, beginning as young students themselves. It is a tribute to the quality of the programs offered at Center Stage that so many former students have stayed on to teach. Junior faculty and classroom apprentices are high school students who are also enrolled at the studio.

Shapiro and her staff work hard to stay well educated in the latest dance techniques. They travel to New York and across the country regularly to attend classes and training workshops.

Building Self-Esteem & Community Outreach

"We offer many opportunities to share our joy of dance," said Shapiro. "We provide as many performance opportunities for students as possible because it helps them to build confidence and self-esteem." In addition to the annual recitals each June, Center Stage Dance also conducts holiday and spring tours with performances at nursing homes, senior residential centers and children's facilities, such as the Hawthorne Center for Children, and St. Vincent/Sara Fisher Home for children. "We believe in encouraging our students to get involved in the community-at-large and to use their talents to help enrich the lives of others," Shapiro said. The students also perform at many special events in Northville and surrounding communities.

A favorite performance is the fairy tale ballet with full costumes and staging, which is produced each spring by the in-house ballet company. This year's presentation was "The Little Mermaid." "The Wizard of Oz" will be performed in 2006.

Program Choices – Something for Everyone

Center Stage offers a variety of classes including ballet, jazz, tap, hip hop, lyrical and pointe. Classes are available at every level from beginner through advanced for ages six through adult. A preschool/kinderdance program combining ballet and tap is offered for beginning girls and boys from age three to six. The primary dance season begins in September and runs through June, culminating with its annual recitals. Enrollment for those programs is accepted through January.

As a community partner with the Northville Parks and Recreation Department, dance classes for adults and children are offered at Center Stage for those who prefer a shorter commitment. These 8-to-12 week sessions are a great opportunity to try out the program or learn a new technique.

A variety of dance programs and camps are also offered during the summer.

A traditional summer program for ages three and older meets once a week for eight weeks.

Dance camps at Center Stage for ages 6 and older offer five-day sessions featuring daily instruction in ballet, jazz, tap, hip hop and lyrical techniques with pre-pointe and pointe for advanced students. Campers are assessed on the first day of each session for assignment to appropriate performance groups. Activities include creating scenery and crafts, viewing syllabus-related videos, participating in technique-oriented games and more. Each Friday evening a showcase is presented for families and friends.

Fantasy camps for boys and girls ages 4-8 feature creative themes that help teach rhythm and coordination along with the fun. This year's 3-day sessions in July and August included "Princesses & Pirates" and "Cowboys & Cowgirls."

Registration for programs and camps is available at Center Stage or through the Northville Parks & Recreation.

Northville celebrates 50 years with a day in the park

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

One family signed the banner: "We love Northville. We moved here yesterday."

The City of Northville's 50th anniversary party Saturday was sprinkled with residents new to town and many around for generations. Following brief comments about the city's foundation in 1955, music mixed with a steady stream of ice cream, cake and rolling conversation.

"I'm older than Northville," said Karen Rotarius, who lived in Northville 35 of her 55 years before moving to Phoenix. She brought her mom, Bea Myers, down to the park from her Allen Terrace home for the party.

"I thought it was really cool," Rotarius said. "This is why they have small towns. They would never do something like this in Tucson or Phoenix."

"It really gets people together," Event organizer Michele Fecht estimated, nearly 800 people gathered in the park at Wing and Cady streets for the four-hour event.

"I just thought it was a great day," Fecht said. "It was everything we wanted it to be. It was wonderful to see such a mix."

The weather was the surprise guest: a downpour just before the scheduled start, a muggy reprieve mid-day, followed by another shower washing out the final 90 minutes.

Sun poked through long enough for hundreds to gather in the city parking lot at the corner of Cady and Wing streets to line up on a chalked "50." Photographer Steve Fecht captured the moment from a lift high above.

In addition to the snapshot in time, residents recorded comments for posterity on an oversized banner and painted a commemorative mural that will hang in city hall.

The shaded lawn behind city hall was flooded with party goers listening to "Steve King and the Ditties," lining up for airbrush tattoos and mingling with neighbors.

"That group picture was wonderful," said Mamie Folino, attending the event with her daughter Teresa. The look back at the city's history was a reminder of her late husband, Paul Folino, who served on the city council 30 years.

"In my mind I think, 'Are you here?'" Mamie said. "I'm seeing a lot of old faces. It's a nice gathering."

School district meets national standard

State gives Northville all As

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

For two years, Leonard Rezmierski didn't worry the high school wasn't meeting standards mandated by President George W. Bush.

The reason: students weren't meeting the federal benchmark titled Adequate Yearly Progress because 95 percent of the high school students didn't take the Michigan Education Assessment Program exam.

The MEAP test is not mandatory at the high school level.

The failing mark didn't take into account Northville High School students are academically above average, the Northville Public Schools superintendent said in the past.

Now the high school has hit the mark.

The 2005 state of Michigan EducationYes! report card gave every school in the district an A, and indicated Northville High School met Adequate Yearly Progress standards outlined in the No Child Left Behind federal legislation.

The Michigan Department of Education annual report card is issued to all public school districts. "We are very pleased to have the district meet all academic and all annual MEAP requirements," Rezmierski said.

The school superintendent said he will refrain steadfast with his decision to keep the MEAP from becoming a mandatory high school exam.

Other area districts failing to reach the federal standard due to lack of participation made the test mandatory.

Novi Public School district officials said students wouldn't graduate if they didn't take the MEAP.

Northville High School was placed in a Phase 1 improvement stage because of the past two con-

The 2004-05 average ACT score for Northville public school students is 24.5, more than 3 points higher than the state average. A perfect score is 36.

secutive years it did not meet federal standards, meaning the district must offer schools of choice and provide transportation.

Martin Ackley, Michigan Department of Education public information officer, said the district will remain in the Phase 1 until it meets Adequate Yearly Progress for two consecutive years.

"They are in what we call the delay status, which means they don't go forward to the next phase, but they stay at the phase they are at," Ackley said. "If they make AYP again next year then they go back to the start so to speak, meaning they will be off the AYP sanctions list."

EducationYes! report card grades are based on student MEAP achievement and other school performance indicators including curriculum; teacher quality and professional development; school facilities; and family involvement.

According to data provided by the Michigan Department of Education, 88 percent of Michigan's 3,670 public schools made Adequate Yearly Progress for the 2005 school year.

The data showed nearly 75 percent of the state's schools received an A or B on the cards.

"We hope parents use this information to learn more about their children's schools," said State Board of Education President Kathleen N. Straus in a press release. "Our goal is to encourage those schools doing well to do better, and to continue providing assistance to schools not yet meeting the standards."

Victoria Mitchell can be reached at (248) 349-1700, ext. 122 or vmitchell@gannett.com.

SPOTLIGHT ON: ORTHODONTIC NEWS

by Donald M. Wayne, D.D.S., M.S.
Orthodontic Specialist

FEEL IT IN YOUR BONES

Orthodontic treatment was once primarily associated with straightening teeth. Today, however, orthodontists are equally able to correct underlying skeletal problems of the mouth and jaw, as well. This is important because underlying skeletal issues can result in "underbite," when the top teeth fall behind the bottom teeth, when together. Another potential skeletal problem is "overbite," which is characterized by top teeth that protrude far ahead of the lower teeth. There is also the improper bite known as "crossbite," in which the upper jaw is too narrow, causing the child to bite down with his or her upper teeth inside the lower teeth. These and other problems may be assessed, as early as age seven, with an appointment with the orthodontist.

The American Association of Orthodontists recommends that your child be evaluated by age seven because early detection of some orthodontic problems is important in order to take early corrective action and avoid more difficult treatment later.

For more information about orthodontic treatment, please call our office at 248-471-1581. Patient care has always been my number one focus. The office is conveniently located at 39595 W. Ten Mile Road, Suite 111.

P.S. The orthodontist may take advantage of a young child's bone-growth potential to help correct underlying skeletal problems that lead to malocclusion (bad bite).

SPOTLIGHT ON: ALLERGY & ASTHMA

Presented by Michael S. Rowe, M.D., F.A.C.P., C.C.R.I.

SHOULD YOU GET AN AIR PURIFIER?

Air purifiers promise to rid your home and office environment of all airborne contaminants so you'll feel better, get sick less often, and breathe easier overall. But can they live up to all that? Experts have given air purifiers mixed reviews. Studies have shown that some air filters reduce allergy symptoms and some provide no benefits. Air filters can control pollen that makes its way indoors because pollen is "an airborne allergen. Animal dander and dust mites, however, are stickier allergens and more resistant to filters. While air filters can provide a certain level of air purification and they won't cause any harm to a home or office, reviews are mixed on their role in allergy symptom relief.

We hope that you have found today's column both interesting and informative. At the ALLERGY AND ASTHMA CENTER OF MICHIGAN, we are pleased to bring you the latest information about taking care of your allergies. For twenty years, Dr. Rowe has been providing effective, quality allergy and asthma care to the members of our community and the surrounding areas. When you or a loved one requires treatment for allergy or asthma problems, don't hesitate to call us at (248) 473-6400 to schedule an appointment. Northville resident and WDFN sports radio personality Sean Baligian enthusiastically describes his interest in fantasy football.

Fantasy is reality

■ Northville radio broadcaster makes game a career

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Sean Baligian manages a killer football team.

On any given Sunday, Peyton Manning hurls two or three passes to Randy Moss waiting in the red zone. And that is when LaDainian Tomlinson isn't running the ball.

Not very realistic? It is in the world of fantasy football, an increasingly popular game involving professional football stats, dream drafting and chance.

Baligian not only plays the sport, but has turned the professional geeky hobby into a career.

The Northville sports radio broadcaster, heard weekdays from 9 a.m.-noon on WDFN-AM 1130, is rapidly increasing his fantasy football resume.

■ Baligian's top five:

1. LaDainian Tomlinson
2. Peyton Manning
3. Shaun Alexander
4. Priest Holmes
5. Willie McCalister

Internet resources:

Fanball.com and

Joefantasy.com

He hosts a weekly radio show and writes a Detroit News column dedicated solely to the game.

Jump start

Baligian joined his first fantasy football league in 1989.

Seven years and six teams later, he was hooked.

"This year I'm only in three leagues," he said. "I cut back, so to speak."

He still plays with his friends and two more exclusive leagues

The game

The fantasy season starts with a draft, when teammates gather and skillfully pick players they want on their team.

Available players include anyone on a professional team, making the first pick a coveted spot.

"You are looking for the guys who will put up the great numbers," Baligian said.

After players are picked and the professional season starts, the game begins.

Managers choose a lineup each week and accumulate points based on the athlete's real game stats.

"It is almost like you are the general manager of a football team," Baligian said.

Midseason adds, drops and trades up the ante.

Some players do it for fun, while others toss in a few bucks.

Smack down

"Win or lose, it is fun," Baligian said. "But it is always a way for friendly trash talk."

Trash talk is defined by fantasy football players as the jabbing, often on the Internet, between members of the same league. A fantasy football steadfast rule: no one's team is as good as your own.

Trash talking begins with the draft — also a time for munchies, cold drinks and camaraderie.

Baligian relishes the WDFN draft, saying it is one of the rare times everyone from the station gathers in the same place at the same time.

"I look at it as it isn't even the investment, it is saying na, na, na to your coworkers," he said. "That is what gets me going."

Increasing popularity

The opportunity to play on the WDFN fantasy football league was auctioned at the radio station's Stoney & Wojo Radiothon for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society of Michigan for $1,800.

The game has come a long way, Baligian said.

"At first we had to deny it," he said. "It was like a scarlet letter. Then it absolutely exploded. Now I think you're in a minority if you are a sports fan and you don't play it."

Fantasy football is the topic of magazines, Web sites, radio programs and newspaper columns.

Baligian's Wednesday night show, Fantasy Sports Geeky, is a testament to the game's popularity.

"Fantasy football players are, like Detroit sports fans in general, a fanatical bunch and they come out in huge numbers," said show producer Douglas Todd. "Every show we have full phone lines from start to finish. There are even questions from callers that I have to answer off the air in order to end the show on time."

Victoria Mitchell can be reached at (248) 349-1700, ext. 122 or vmitchell@gannett.com.

Radio Broadcaster, WDFN-AM with national and local sports broadcasters.

"Once you do it, you will never look at football the same again," he said. "You're always thinking. It is one of those things you never thought something could make football better."

Baligian said he's enjoyed a fair amount of success and profits from capturing first-place finishes.

"A lot has to do with luck," he said. "Thankfully, I've been lucky so far."

Walking for Crohn's

Maybury walk will benefit Crohn's victims

By Tracy Mishler
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Rick Lederman and his son Jordan are lacing up their walking shoes and heading to Maybury State Park in Northville.

The father and son duo, of West Bloomfield, are taking part in the second annual "Heel to Heal Walk" for the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of America Saturday, Sept. 10.

Rick got his Novi-based company Identity Source involved with the race and said it is important to tell others.

"I've dabbled in charities before, but this hit close to home with my son being diagnosed," Rick said. "My company enjoys coming to the race. We had about 30 people there last year and we really went the extra mile making T-shirts for our team."

Jordan, 10, was diagnosed in 2004 with Crohn's disease and joins millions nationwide who suffer from the disease, according to the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation of America.

Crohn's disease and ulcerated colitis, primarily affecting adolescents and young adults, are painful diseases affecting the gastrointestinal tract.

Gilda Hauser, development director for the Michigan Chapter of the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation said, "So far, we are doing well with donations and participation."

Last year, the foundation raised over $66,000. This year, the foundation has already raised $36,674, and Hauser said she hopes for the same turnout.

"The money raised will go toward research and educational programs for people and families dealing with the diseases," Hauser said. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with a $10 charge. Participants can choose between a one-mile walk and a 5K walk, or 3.1 miles.

Admission to the park is free and the $10 registration fee includes a picnic lunch, sponsored by Outback Steakhouse in Novi.

Walking starts at 10:30 a.m. and food will be hot and ready at 11:30 a.m.

"It's a great day and for a great cause," said Suzy James, 35, of Novi. "The foundation has helped me quite a bit and this is a great way to help them hopefully find a cure."

James is a Crohn's patient and said the disease rules her life.

"It was always quite embarrassing to talk about and it's really sad that this affects so many young people," she said.

James missed last year's walk at Maybury because she was in surgery, and although she is pregnant this year, she said she wouldn't miss it for the world.

"It's a wonderful thing and it's easy to do," James said. "I will be participating in the walk for as long as it takes."

Our fundamental purposes are to enhance the lives of our readers, nurture the home towns we serve and contribute to the business success of our customers.

Be smart this weekend

The Labor Day weekend is for many a final opportunity to enjoy summer's fleeting embrace.

Let's make sure it doesn't end up in disaster.

No matter what the extended weekend brings, be careful when driving.

High gas prices approaching $3 per gallon may put a crimp in your holiday travel plans, but they should have no impact on the value we put on safe driving practices.

Be careful this weekend. Be patient. Wear your seatbelt. Fasten children properly into child seats.

Why? According to the State of Michigan, last year there were 17 fatal crashes in Michigan during the Labor Day weekend, resulting in 20 deaths.

What do you think?

We welcome your Letter to the Editor. Please include your name, address and phone number for verification. We ask your letters be 400 words or less. We may edit for clarity, space and content. Letters to the Editor, David Aguilar, Northville Record, 104 W. Main St., Northville, MI 48167. Fax: (248) 349-9832. E-mail: daguilar@gannett.com.

Add those fatalities to the 23 people who died following 21 Fourth of July accidents earlier this summer and the numbers suddenly become real.

Only eight of the 19 occupants who died during the Fourth of July weekend were restrained, state records indicate; 52 percent of the accidents involved alcohol.

Safety's not enough of a motivator? Then know this: the Michigan State Police will have zero tolerance for seatbelt offenders this weekend, once again initiating its "Click It or Ticket" program.

Don't drink and drive. Drive safely. Be smart.

Simple messages worth repeating to those you love — and to yourself.

Enjoy the weekend.

Look who's 50!

Community residents "fill in the 50" during the City of Northville's 50th Anniversary celebration as a city in downtown Northville last Saturday.

You know who that is? It's Northville

The old man meant no harm.

No doubt, he saw the camera and the subsequent flash. He moved closer, lurched forward and whispered.

"Are you from the Northville Record?" he said softly, playing the role of an undercover agent.

"Yes, I am," he was told.

He leaned closer, then pointed with a bent finger.

"You know, Chuck Gaidica is standing right over there," he confided, ebullient with self-pride.

"Chuck Gaidica, the WDIV-TV meteorologist?" you wanted to say, but didn't. "The Channel 4 weatherman?" That Chuck Gaidica?

Then, like taxes following a politician's new idea, the old man bit into Northville's favorite apple: "He lives in Northville, you know."

And there it was. Fifty years after the City of Northville incorporated to grab a bigger portion of the Northville Downs racetrack proceeds, one thing remained abundantly clear: Northville hasn't changed much.

City officials and public well-wishers threw a party Saturday to celebrate the city's 50th anniversary. Some called it a birthday party, complete with cake, ice cream and plenty of commemorative signs, speeches and pictures. Old faces mingled with new ones, and kids played on the grass behind the library while their parents sat beneath a shade tree and read the Wall Street Journal.

Chuck Gaidica, the well-known and seemingly affable local television personality, dutifully agreed to serve as the event's emcee.

For many, Gaidica is the barometer for gauging Northville's social progress.

Well-liked, active and popular,

David Aguilar
RECORD EDITOR

Gaidica personifies how many people would like Northville to be known. And really, what's the harm?

Come on, admit it. You've said it yourself at some point, either to impress someone or to fill in the gap between a trite description of Northville's quaint Victorian downtown. For many, it's become an old standby, a straight 2x4 always within reach.

"You know who lives in Northville, Chuck Gaidica ..."

Northville's changing face

Marketers and Main Street savants love to talk about Northville's high-end demographics, point to its large homes and upscale subdivisions, then use them as mile markers charting progress. Many point to a solid school district; others champion "same page" thinking, a polite euphemism in some circles for Northville's lack of true diversity.

But here's the unwavering truth: In its heart, Northville remains a small town, a teenager perpetually tripping over untied shoe strings, its future and past rolled awkwardly into the same loose knot.

Clamor all you want about Northville's prestigious ZIP code, its professional athlete residents and its quiet yearning to be slick, hip and cool. Shape it. Package it. Northville is still a small town, looking upward with fascination each time a building more than two floors emerges from the earth and craning its neck each time a local television weathercaster passes by.

Fresh off the tractor, just back from the corn field? Hardly. Starstruck? More like Starbucks.

Northville is lodged somewhere between two opposing fates, equidistant from holding on to the past too tightly and reinventing itself on a whim.

Yes, that's WDIV-TV meteorologist Chuck Gaidica in the background, as Mayor Chris Johnson speaks during the city's 50th anniversary celebration last Saturday.

In my little town

Small towns today are as much allusion as they are reality. They are perception and dirty laundry all thrown into the same clothes hamper. Outsiders covet pedestrian-friendly towns where stores line up neatly like slices of fresh-baked apple pie.

Few, however, see the hard work it takes to keep the kitchen smelling like cinnamon.

During the past 50 years, Northville has torn apart Main Street, opened it like a public vein, then rebuilt it and sutured it to the future. Dilapidated buildings have been remodeled and torn down, sometimes against the wishes of those who preferred the old town stay precisely the way it was, thank you.

The entire time, everyday residents have made the biggest difference. Not the celebrities. Not those cloistered within 5,500-square-foot residential retreats,

Not even those who visit Northville for a day, then disappear for a year.

Northville's future remains unchanged, hinged to a past some would love to abandon and others fight tirelessly to defend. Each day a part of it is borrowed and lent like a cup of sugar across a fence line.

Increasingly, Northville homes are filled by locally famous faces we know but can't quite place. They're called neighbors.

Yes, Chuck Gaidica lives in Northville, which simply means away from the white-hot studio lights, even a regionally famous meteorologist needs a place to raise a family and proudly call home. The Gaidica family chose Northville. For many people, that says something, though they are hard-pressed to tell you what precisely.

That's a good thing, because not knowing is what keeps Northville quaint. And it's what keeps those who live here honest.

CITY OF NORTHVILLE

Milestone, any way you slice it

The 11 sheet cakes Northville shared Saturday were just, sweet desserts for an event well-planned by the city's 50th anniversary commission. The party celebrating the City of Northville's 1955 charter served as a timely reminder of several lessons for the community: the grassy park behind city hall is an under-used jewel, people working together can produce great things and there will always be factors beyond our control (like the weather). Above all, Northville residents share the bond of their unique historical city — a priceless, precious gift for everyone.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP

DTE: poor customer service

Good for Northville Township residents who refuse to take public utility DTE Energy's placid excuses regarding frequent power outages in their area. Residents pay plenty for energy as it is, added to local, state and county taxes. What they deserve in return is a forum to voice their concerns, the opportunity for their complaints to be documented and a dedicated effort to solving them. DTE officials heard various complaints recently — including 17 power outage instances in one year alone. Now we'll see how charged up DTE officials are about actually fixing the problem.

NORTHVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Schools get good grades

The school district received a few feathers in its academic cap late last month. A report card issued by the state gave every school in the district an A grade. Along with top grades, all schools met federal standards issued by President George W. Bush as detailed in No Child Left Behind legislation. This is the first time in a three-year period the high school met the federal guidelines.

NORTHVILLE ATHLETICS

Car wash: good, clean fun

The Northville cheerleaders are holding two car washes as a fund-raising event this month, Sept. 10 at TCF Bank on Six Mile Road and Sept. 17 at Goodtime Party Store. Cheerleaders aren't the only group holding car wash events, and we encourage everyone to stop and pitch in a small donation to help these groups out. It's for a good cause and it makes for good, clean fun.

LETTERS

Bush policy steers off course

While Americans are waiting and holding onto the belief that democracy will take root and eventually succeed in the Middle East, the Bush administration's stay-the-course non-strategy to "win the war on terror" just gets worse. The "prosperity is just around the corner" mentality may hold for a while longer, maybe until we are faced with the prospect of having to send our own children off to an unnecessary and immoral war in Iraq.

President Bush and the neocons in his administration misled us into this war with a pack of lies about alleged weapons of mass destruction, ties between Saddam Hussein and Osama bin Laden and links to 9/11. We were told that his administration's "comprehensive strategy" in Iraq was to protect the homeland to take the fight to our enemy. Now we are being told that we must stay-the-course because of all the troops killed in the war he began.

The only thing more shameful than using war to force political change is to lie about why it was necessary in the first place. But worst of all, the president has brought about an ill-conceived invasion in the name of the United States of America and he continues to deliberately confuse it with the necessity of sustaining our combat troops. This is a horrible misuse of his office and of our children and loved ones, not to mention the staggering financial burden it places on future generations.

COMMENTARY

David Aguilar, editor (248) 349-1700, ext. 102 daguilar@ht.homecomm.net

Labor Day reality: unions not what they used to be.

Here's a good quote to begin the Labor Day weekend:

"To protect the workers in their inalienable rights to a higher and better life ... the right to be full sharers in the abundance which is the result of their brains and brawn, and the civilization of which they are the founders and the mainstay ... The attainment of these is the glorious mission of the trade unions."

That's from a 1898 speech by Samuel Gompers, the first president of the American Federation of Labor. Today, this fine 19th century rhetoric sounds ... well ... like a fine 19th century relic.

Last week, at a celebration of the 70th anniversary of the founding of the United Auto Workers union, former UAW president Douglas Fraser said: "It's a real struggle. And it's more severe than it's ever been before. Everybody thinks that the toughest times were ... the toughest times were their times. But I don't accept that."

"The toughest times are now." Strong words from a labor leader who joined the union the year after it was founded.

As this is written, Northwest Airlines is flying reasonably successfully, despite an ongoing strike by its mechanics union. The heavily unionized American automobile industry is in terrible disarray. Both General Motors and Ford have seen their corporate bonds downgraded to junk status.

Meanwhile, the companies and the UAW are trying to figure out how to cut health care costs before the companies go bust and an angry union membership tosses out its leaders.

Could it be that southeastern Michigan, a major cradle of the American industrial labor movement, is now on the cutting edge of a wholesale transformation of labor-management relations? You bet.

And we better be.

As long as companies control their markets — as the American auto makers did throughout most of the 20th century — they can pass along to their captive customers the cost increases they bargain with their unions. The price of the car could go up or the quality go down. Didn't matter much. As a great philosopher once said, if there's no alternative, there's no alternative.

But, the Japanese car manufacturers shrewdly calculated that the American market was enormous and the domestic car companies were fat and vulnerable. They started shipping cars made in Japan to the West Coast in the 1970s, and they began gaining market share. Then they looked at the cost of shipping and figured it would be cheaper to make the cars in America.

They built most of their assembly plants in the south, historically hostile to unions. And despite the best efforts of the UAW, the foreign-owned "transplant" assembly plants remain non-union.

Year after year, foreign brands made in the U.S. have increased market share. But our domestic manufacturers find themselves hobbled by labor contracts negotiated over the years with the UAW.

They can't close excess plants; they can't cut labor costs; they can't cut health care costs. They no longer control their markets. And they are in big trouble.

Now, in the early 21st century, trade is largely free, markets are increasingly competitive, and the world is becoming flat. And that means that market forces are working against labor union contracts that require closed markets and a monopoly on the supply of labor.

And because Detroit has historically been the citadel of labor union power in America, that process is the most profound and the most wrenching right here in our own back yard.

Writing in The Detroit News last week, Daniel Howes called Detroit, "the nation's repository for collective denial and the epicenter of industrial America under siege." A great line.

Speaking of denial — I wonder if there's anybody here who really believes the troubles of the domestic auto industry are going to be solved by a couple of good sales years?

Speaking of being under siege, I wonder if Northwest Airlines hasn't already broken the pattern of union dominance that has crippled the old mainstream air carriers with high legacy costs?

This isn't union bashing. In the good old days, labor unions contributed mightily to our society. Once, they fought against oppressive managements which were then behind the times.

Unions helped raise wage levels that created a middle class that could afford to buy the cars they produced. By and large, they fought for equal status for women and minorities. By bargaining for health care coverage and retirement pensions for their members, they contributed to the prosperity and security of our state.

I remember going to speeches by the legendary UAW leader, Walter Reuther, who used to say quite accurately that the union was the great force for the country's benefit in the 20th century.

But his century is gone. And given what's going on these days, I wouldn't be surprised if somewhere, some time in the near future, somebody important is going to seriously propose that Michigan become a right-to-work state, meaning one where nobody can be required to join a union as a condition of taking or keeping any job.

Think about that.

Good circulation

■ At library's front line, Northville staff checks out customer satisfaction

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Last Wednesday, Karen Hogan handed John Schuster a hardcover mystery, like she has so many times before.

"He's a regular," said the Northville District Library circulation clerk. In fact, he likely returned Jeffrey Deaver's "The Stone Monkey" by now.

"It takes me about four to five days," Schuster said. Since retiring, he visits the library at least weekly.

The Northville resident agreed with the Library of Michigan's recent finding: when it comes to customer service, Northville's local library is a best-seller.

"They're very friendly and efficient, very helpful," Schuster said.

Continuous flow

The curved front desk near the library front entrance is the main gate for materials checked in and out. Judith McIntosh, head of circulation services, supervises eight part-time clerks handling the continuous flow of materials during the library's seven-day operation.

The crew handed over 30,975 books, videotapes, DVDs and magazines on their way to Northville homes last month.

Many more patrons used the library without checking out materials — researching reference materials, surfing the Internet or enjoying the fireplace sitting area. Others attended programs, entertained their children or browsed in the local history room.

Most visitors stop at the circulation desk, to ask a question, underscoring an old axiom: "If you need to know, ask a librarian."

"It's important to not be pinging them from desk to desk to desk to desk," McIntosh said.

Tuning in

The patrons who approach the desks range from the weekly visitor like Schuster to the long-lost.

"They'll come in and say, 'I'm embarrassed to say I haven't used a library since the second grade,'" McIntosh said. "We don't want them to be intimidated."

More than just helping people find materials or log on the Internet, the staff tries to make people feel comfortable, even when they are listening to a lost-book story.

"There are times people come back in sheepishly," McIntosh said. "They found it under a couch, carseat, their son's bed, in a school locker."

Looking ahead

Changing customer demands keep the library business in constant flux.

- Issues include:
- More convenience and speed.
 - Internet connection.
 - More access from remote locations.
 - More services from remote locations.
 - Increasing competition from

"I have to restrain myself — I see so many things come through — I want to take them all home."

other information sources or providers.

"We might be the only contact they have, so we want it to be a good one," McIntosh said.

Human touch

McIntosh said the value of a 21st century library resides in a helpful, personalized staff.

"You have no idea of what quality the material is, what site to go to," she said. "You can't discount their knowledge — they work with this all day every day."

That's why a reliable human connection is just as important

State recognition

The Northville District Library is among the 10 percent of the state's 382 libraries recognized by new customer service standards.

The local library was one of 40 that achieved "essential" status based on the Library of Michigan's Quality Service Audit Checklist. The staff will step up to "enhanced" status after submitting it's nearly complete five-year strategic plan update.

as a high-speed Internet connection.

"We want people who visit the library to have a positive experience," McIntosh said. "We want them to leave with what they came in for."

Not so quiet

Circulation clerks handle a variety of tasks, ranging from explaining checkout limits to ordering loans from other libraries to carting items to be reshelved.

"They have to be familiar with all that goes on in the library," McIntosh said.

After a job with GM, Hogan stayed at home with her children 18 years before joining the circulation staff two years ago. From the outside looking in, Hogan said she had no concept of all the library's inner workings.

"I'm amazed at the services they provide here," she said. "I have to restrain myself — I see so many things come through — I want to take them all home."

Hogan long ago abandoned the notion her library job would be too quiet and slow-paced.

"You run the gamut of experiences in any public service," said Anne Mannisto, assistant library director. "You should see us at quarter to five on a Friday."

State: Children's center will not close

■ No ripple will affect nearby Hawthorn Center

By Tracy Mishler
RECORD STAFF WRITER

TJ. Bucholz said the Hawthorn Center is not closing.

The children's psychiatric hospital, adjacent to the former Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, has served over 30,000 children since it opened 1956 and will not be shutting its doors anytime soon.

Bucholz, communications director for the Michigan Department of Community Health, said the fate of the Hawthorn Center is to remain open and continue helping children.

"The bottom line is we are focused on maintaining the facilities that are still in place," Bucholz said. "The sale of the land next door will have no impact on the Hawthorn Center. The property is not for sale."

The Hawthorn Center is an inpatient hospital with 118 beds. The center is the only state-owned primary children's psychiatric center in the state of Michigan.

"We have had so many children benefit from the program," Bucholz said. "There are simply not a lot of private state wide facilities, and the Hawthorn Center really helps kids with one-on-one treatment."

The Hawthorn Center is an all-in-one residence for children ranging from 5 to 17 years old.

"They have behavioral treatment, education, food and laundry services," Bucholz said. "Anything they need is there."

The center reaches out to many people and serves many purposes, including a training site for child psychiatric residents, psychology interns, and students in social work, special education and nursing.

Northville Psychiatric Hospital/Hawthorn Center

the children are assessed according to psychological, nutritional, educational and dental observations, for the children's individual treatment plan to then be developed.

"Programs such as those offered at the Hawthorn Center can be very beneficial," Bucholz said. "It use to be a very state institutionalized setting, but it has swung toward transitioning kids and people to community based facilities."

All children admitted to the Hawthorn Center attend school full-time. Teachers certified in special education are with the children Monday through Friday, and when a child is discharged, their credits are transferred to their school district.

Children are under staff supervision 24-hours a day.

No sale

Mark Abbo, supervisor for Northville Township, said he has not heard of any future plans for the state to close the Hawthorn Center.

"Of course that is prime land," Abbo said. "But it is also a very good place for kids who need treatment."

"You always hear about schools being closed. Is there another location available to house this location. I don't know."

Terri Fitzpatrick, director of strategic development for the Michigan Department of Management and Budget, said the state has been offered a significant amount of money for the Hawthorn Center land in the past.

"Offers have been for the Hawthorn Center land along, not including the former hospital," Fitzpatrick said. "But as of now, there are no plans to sell."

Fitzpatrick said developers have offered over $14 million for the land in the past.

Bucholz said there are many other psychiatric facilities remaining in the state, but the Hawthorn Center was the only one solely for children.

"Money is a big factor for revamping or building other facilities," he said. "That's why it is important we keep this one open."

Tracy Mishler can be reached at (248) 349-1700, ext. 107, or via e-mail at tmishler@gannett.com.

SALE: auction yields new owner for former Northville hospital

million to develop a complex of mixed-use housing, stores and restaurants.

But Real Estate Interest Group backed out of the deal, citing results of a former environmental investigation. The decision cost the company its original $3.1 million deposit.

Fitzpatrick said she feels confident Real Estate Interest Group has all the information they need to develop the land and anticipates the closing.

"The difference between past failures and this succession is that the developer has done all their research and studies prior to submitting a bid," Fitzpatrick said. "Whereas in the past, they would have done their research after bidding while under contract."

Real Estate Interest Group, Inc. officials could not be reached for comment.

Township

Township supervisor Mark Abbo wasn't shocked to hear Real Estate Interest Group bought the former hospital.

"Congratulations to both Real Estate Interest Group and the state," Abbo said. "Now we can get something done with this land."

The Northville Township Board of Trustees met Aug. 25, and voted 4-2 to adopt a planned unit development ordinance for the Seven Mile Road property.

Under the ordinance, the developer must maintain a minimum of 20 acres for open space and 20 acres for a school site, along with several other requests from the board.

Although all board members were not in agreement about passing the ordinance, Abbo said the state wanted something in place prior to the auction for the bidder to understand.

"The planning commission went through a very thorough process," Abbo said. "There's a lot of flexibility for the developer."

Fisher said the township's planned unit development was not part of the state's sale requirements.

After closing on the property, Real Estate Interest Group will negotiate development plans with township officials.

Gas price releief: Fill up for free

Local Citgo station gives customers some much needed relief

By Tracy Mishler
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Samantha Grissom was in the right place at the right time for free gas.

The 21-year-old Farmington Hills resident was among 75 random chosen Citgo customers who fueled up for free in Northville last Friday afternoon.

"I was just driving by on my way to Dairy Queen," Grissom said. "I won $10. It was so cool. I've never gotten free gas."

The "great gas give away" was a promotion sponsored by the Citgo Company, with 880 stops on the list across the country.

Michael Harrelson, of Huntington Beach, Cal. said the promotion helps people when gas prices are high.

"People are just in disbelief," Harrelson said. "We've got free gas to give away and that's what we're here to do."

Standing beside Seven Mile Road, Harrelson used a bullhorn to announce the free fill-up. Customers stuck their hand in a box and pulled out a chip with a dollar increment.

From $5 to $100, residents left Asher's with a full tank.

"We're giving away $1 million in gas," Harrelson said.

Harrelson and his partner Ahmad Ali, of Atlanta, Ga. are one of four teams making many people happy across the country.

The "great gas give away" began July 1 and runs through Sept. 5.

Rick Asher, who owns the Northville location, was happy the prize patrol finally made it to his store.

"They did it last year, but didn't come here," Asher said. "This year, we got hit."

Asher said the promotion was quick, but many customers left happy.

"The prize patrol just set up and away they went, pulling people in with their bullhorn," Asher said. "It didn't take long to fill up 75 people."

The Citgo Prize Patrol has a few more stops to make in the metro Detroit area before moving on.

"Just keep your eyes peeled," Harrelson said. "You never know where we'll be next."

An Important Message for Medicare Beneficiaries

In 2003, Congress passed the Medicare Modernization Act—legislation that will take full effect in 2006. Many of you have expressed concern over how this act will affect your Medicare coverage.

The short answer is, it's up to you. The Medicare Modernization Act is not a mandate—it simply provides choices.

- It does not eliminate or reduce your Medicare benefits
- It is not a "privatization" of Medicare
- You have a choice of options, including your current coverage
- For the first time, prescription drug coverage is offered

In the coming months, you'll be hearing a lot about Medicare options from a number of sources, including private health care companies. Before making any decisions, we encourage you to get the facts through one of the following unbiased resources:

- 1-800-MEDICARE (TTY#: 1-877-486-2048), 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, or www.medicare.gov—a federal government resource
- 1-800-803-7174, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. ET, Mon.-Fri., or www.mymmap.org—the Michigan Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program

COOL: Northville warms to the idea of being a trendy city

Cold cash

Last year, 19 projects from a park theater to mixed-use developments qualified for $100 million in cool state funds.

Ward said if Northville qualified for "cool" grant money, it could be used for redesign of the Main Street bandshell, construction of a Ford Field amphitheater or Main Street enhancements.

The timing of the application coincides with the downtown strategic plan the city recently undertook, Ward said. Northville could sink its cool cash into projects residents support most.

One of the key components of the application — cooperation among community agencies — Northville has down cold, according to Ward.

"I think that's where our partnerships that we already have established are going to help us put together a successful application," Ward said. "I think we're ahead of some of the other communities."

"We're just telling our story as part of the application. I think that will be compelling."

Tim Davis, hired by the city to file Northville's "cool" application, is just warming up to the project. He will work with Ward, assistant city manager Nickie Bateson and director of parks and recreation Traci Sincok to try to gain access to grants, loans, tax credits and services.

The cold shoulder Northville risks from the state is a perceived inability to create jobs, Ward said, due to the lack of manufacturing and industry in town.

"We'll have to stress technology upstart type businesses," she said. "For those who don't want to be in an industrial park, the quality of life and experiences is everything to them."

Cool reception

Granholm wants her cool cities to attract jobs and people critical to the emerging economies of the 21st century.

Northville is just missing the 20-30 somethings who have money to spend, said Will Hundley, 22, owner of Tuscan Cafe. He works in Northville, lives in Royal Oak and heads to Novi or Royal Oak to play.

"Activities is what makes it cool," he said. "When you see people walking around, that's attractive."

"It's a reason to go downtown — to hop to different spots — from Northville = Cool?

"I think what this area needs to do is create a place where there's a lot of activity ..."

store to restaurant to coffee shop."

Conservative Northville might not want a night club, Hundley said. But it's night life that makes a city cool.

"For people my age, that's where it's at," he said. "Ninety percent of the time, when people are going out, it's on weekends and in the evenings and 90 percent of that time, Northville is closed."

People are spending money on food and shopping in cool cities outside 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Hundley said.

"I think what this area needs to do is create a place where there's a lot of activity ... for early families and young families that's a compromise, not too in-your-face, but relaxed."

Generation 'why?'

A frosty reception from merchants makes students want to head out of town, said Northville High School freshmen Megan Kelly and Deanna Whelan.

"Some don't like the teenagers to come in," Kelly said. "That's not cool."

The girls walked downtown last week, sipping smoothies from Rebecca's. Downtown Northville is the place to get your hair done or free bread samples, said Kelly, 14.

There are a couple of hotspots: Joseph's, Starbucks and Quizno's. Students would definitely warm up to more national stores — Panera, Cold Stone Creamery and Subway, they said.

"I do like Northville," Kelly said. "It's not like, hip."

While Northville passes for a daytime meeting place, Novi and Plymouth are preferable for nocturnal activities.

"Fountain Walk, that I would say is cool," Whelan said. "It's all teenagers."

Sobrowski said being cool will mean warming to the night life notion. Friday nights after 10 p.m. are limited, he said: Tuscan Cafe or Starting Gate.

"The downtown is nice," he said. "Other than that, I think it's kind of boring."

NORTHVILLE RECORD, PAGE B1

Joe Perpich fights off blocks, tough image this year

By Sam Eggleston
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Northville senior Joe Perpich is one tough guy.

The defensive tackle/offensive guard for the Mustangs football team has been known to plow through blocks, make teeth-rattling tackles and is easily identified as a leader of the program.

"He was the guy that was unanimous," said first-year coach Ryan Hockman of the captain voting. "He had a thousand votes, if you will. That's an exaggeration, but it's how many he would have had if we had that many kids in the program."

The reason? Hockman said it was the way Perpich always comes to play.

Beyond everything else, he said, a captain performs on the football field.

"You can do everything right as a football player and a kid in our program and you may never make captain," he said. "You can say everything right and never make captain."

"The kids look to kids who play well. That's just the way it is. Joe Perpich has believability, credibility and he plays well."

As for being a tough guy, Perpich definitely sports the image. A brute of a player, Perpich is known for his ability to crush through blocks, make bone-jarring tackles and lead the defensive corps.

He was sporting a full-grown beard during the first game, but he's looking to shed the facial hair and let it be known he's not as tough as he looks.

"I'm shaving it off today," he said. "I don't know why people think I'm so tough. I don't go around bullying people or anything. I think it's just the way I play. People call me tough because I go out there and work and make plays."

Talking tough

Perpich said he's not so tough.

"You can ask any of the guys in the locker room," he said. "I'm just a nice, laid-back kind of guy who likes to laugh and have a good time."

He even enjoys extracurricular activities which don't bring out the tough side of him.

"I enjoy reading a little bit," he said. "I really like to hunt and fish."

Perpich takes time out of his November every year to take a trip with his family to a cabin up north to partake in the rifle deer hunting season.

When he's not on the hunt, he can often be found fishing for salmon, pike and bass or doing another of his favorite activities: cheering on sports teams.

Truth be told, Mr. Tough Guy wears his heart on his sleeve.

"I'm a huge Detroit and Northville sports fan," he said. "I love it all."

Last season he helped out the Mustangs hockey team by running the door off the bench during the play-off game against Brother Rice. It's a job he hopes to have all season this year.

When he isn't watching, Perpich is playing. He keeps himself busy in the winter and spring with drop-in hockey games, recreation basketball and sandlot baseball.

Walk the walk

Hockman said Perpich displayed tough traits repeatedly.

"He's a tough guy that doesn't say much at all," he said. "He just goes out and plays. He doesn't complain and doesn't say much about anything unless it's necessary."

"He doesn't back down from anything either, especially if it's a challenge."

Hockman said the captain showcased his toughness when he was asked to move from fullback to his old position as an offensive guard.

Perpich didn't flinch, though he had been looking forward to playing in the backfield.

"That's a glory position for a guy who has spent his whole time on the line," said Hockman. "When I asked him to play offensive line for me he demonstrated his mental toughness, doing what his team needed him to do."

But that's just how football works, and Perpich isn't complaining.

"It wasn't really difficult," he said. "I played guard before so I know what it takes to get the job done."

"It was startling at first because I really had my heart set on playing fullback, but I'll play where I have to play. That's a part of being on a team."

Mustangs start year off on right foot

By Sam Eggleston

Nancy Smith is pretty happy these days.

The Northville girls cross country coach graduated some of the top runners to ever grace the program last year. After two races already this year, she knows she doesn't have much to worry about.

"I was happy with the early season performances put in by the entire team," she said. "We know we have a lot of work to do before the regionals but we have a lot of time to tune things up and we'll be working hard over the next two months in order to prepare."

The Mustangs started their season off with a three-team scrimmage against Novi and Livonia Stevenson. The end result found the Mustangs beating Novi, 24-31, but falling to an incredibly tough Spartans squad, 19-20.

Leading the way for the Mustangs was four-year runner Bryn Smetana, who crossed the finish line in fifth place overall with a time of 20:35.

Not far behind was Mary Sprader, a third-year runner, who finished sixth in 21:04 while Megan Sheremet finished eighth in 21:44.

First-year runner Jenny Murphy, a sophomore, fared well in her first cross country meet, crossing the line in 22:13 for 13th while Julia Bawden finished 22nd (22:56) and Ann Hardenbergh was 23rd (23:01).

Just a few days later, the Mustangs were at it again, this time traveling to the South Lyon Invitational where they competed against five other teams.

Northville finished second with 66 points while Livonia Stevenson took first with 19. Bedford was third with 72. South Lyon was fourth with 110. Canton was fifth with 115 and Bath finished sixth with 170 points.

The Mustangs were, once again, led by Smetana, who was fourth with a time of 20:26. Sprader finished ninth in 21:10 while Murphy was 14th in 21:47. Bawden ran a 22:19 for 17th, Sheremet was 19th in 22:22 and Aquino was 23rd in 22:37. Rounding out the runners was Hardenbergh in 28th with a 23:33.

"The girls ran well today," said Smith. "They showed improvement from the previous week. I was really impressed with first-year runner Jenny Murphy's performance and second-year runner Julia Bawden's performance today at the meet."

Murphy has come in ready to run, which Smith said will be a key runner for the Mustangs throughout the year as the sophomore continues to improve.

"Jenny has done a great job so far this season and is a real asset to the program," Smith said.

The leaders on the team have also stepped up, making sure the Mustangs don't miss a beat.

"Bryn Smetana and Mary Sprader continue to hold on to the number one and two spots and are doing a great job leading the pack," Smith said.

The junior varsity race was called off after the first mile do to severe weather and lightning.

Northville was doing well before the storm stopped the event.

"The girls looked good through the mile and we had a group of girls in the top 10 before the race was called," Smith said.

Mustang Johnnie Powers returns a volley while playing Novi's No. 4 ranked Jennifer Felcher.

It was a good week to be a Northville Mustangs tennis player.

The squad, coached by Sandy Woolfall, won the Okemos Quad Tournament last week with a total of 19 points. Taking second was a very strong East Grand Rapids team with 13 points while Okemos and St. Johns tied for third with eight points.

Leading the way for the Mustangs was none other than returning one singles player Christina Ruiz, who captured first place after topping East Grand Rapids, 6-1, 6-0 in the championship game. She also beat players from Okemos (6-1, 6-2) and St. Johns (6-0, 6-0) to earn the title.

At two singles it was senior Chelsea Johnston showcasing her talents and earning a championship along the way. She beat a player from East Grand Rapids, 6-1, 6-3. Along the way to the finals, Johnston topped players from Okemos (6-0, 6-2) and St. Johns (6-0, 6-2).

The three singles flight was won by Okemos, but Northville's starting freshman Haley Johnston took second, falling in three sets, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, in the final game. Johnston did beat players from St. Johns (6-1, 6-0) and East Grand Rapids (6-3, 6-4) to make it to the championship game.

The Mustangs won the four singles flight thanks to the hard work of veteran player Jonnie Powers, who upended Okemos in the final, 6-1, 6-0. In the first round, she beat a player from St. Johns (6-3, 6-0) before topping East Grand Rapids in three sets to go to the finals (3-6, 6-2, 6-4).

One doubles didn't fare as well as the other flights, taking fourth in their bracket with a loss to St. Johns in the final round, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0. The team of Jackie Taylor and Lindsay Hagan also fell to Okemos in the first round (2-6, 6-2, 6-2) and lost to East Grand Rapids (6-1, 6-2).

The two doubles duo of Alicia Weber and Christine Curn didn't have much trouble except in the first round when they fell to East Grand Rapids in three sets, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2. In the second round, the pair defeated St. Johns in three sets (5-7, 6-3, 6-3) before upending Okemos (7-5, 6-3).

At three doubles, Caitlin Wheeler and Sindhu Ravipati took first place in their flight, beating East Grand Rapids in the final game, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. The duo also beat St. Johns earlier in the day (7-5, 7-5) and topped Okemos in the second round (7-5, 6-2).

The four doubles duo of Virginia Callins and Kelsey Thomas earned first in their flight as well, topping a very tough East Grand Rapids team, 7-6 (4), 7-5. Earlier in the day, they upended St. Johns (6-0, 6-2) and Okemos (7-5, 6-1).

Ruiz wants states

By Sam Eggleston
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Christina Ruiz isn't afraid of being bold.

The Northville Mustangs one singles tennis player has her eye on a lofty prize, and she's prepared to play the best tennis of her career in order to get it.

"I'm definitely excited and I can't wait to get to states," she said. "Last year I lost in the quarterfinals and this year I'd like to make it to the semifinals or the finals. It would be amazing if I could win it."

She isn't fooling herself. Competition will be tough and plentiful.

Ruiz, who started at one singles for the Mustangs last year after leaving a tennis academy in Texas, said she is hoping to get a taste of state-bound competition when she plays in tournaments like the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational this season. There she'll see one singles players who will most likely make the trek to Midland at the end of the season.

The Mustangs' conference, however, may not present the level of challenges she'd like to see.

"I'm not sure about the Western Lakes," she said. "I think we're Northville Junior Christina Ruiz will once again be playing one singles for the Northville Mustangs tennis team.

probably not going to have a very hard time in the Western Lakes again this year."

In order to prepare herself for a season of playing in the WLAA, Ruiz spent much of her summer playing in tournaments in Indiana, Kentucky and Ann Arbor.

"The Midwest tournaments are good to be a part of," she said. "You really get to see some great players."

Ruiz hopes to be one of those great players herself. She hopes to play at the University of Michigan.

As a junior, Ruiz is aware she needs to catch the eye of the Wolverines' coach this season.

"I think I'm academically strong enough to go there and I'm definitely positive I can play for them and on their team," she said. "It would be so great because it's nice and close to home and I love that."

Ruiz isn't expecting to go undefeated. She has several strong opponents in tournaments this year and will most likely take her fair share of losses.

"I might be upset for the first couple of hours (after I lose) and might even cry about it," she said. "I'll talk to my dad about what happened and what went wrong and then I'll get over it and learn from it. Sometimes I just have to remember that it's just a game."

That's not always easy.

"At times it's like my life runs around it," she said. "It's a huge part of my life at home and at school. But the things I've learned from tennis I can apply to everyday life, and that helps make it all worth it."

She said responsibility, hard work and motivation are just three of the everyday lessons tennis has taught her. It has also taught her how to mature.

This season she plans on applying that maturity toward her game.

"I've grown in my game a lot," she said. "It's more mentally than anything else. I'm more mentally tougher than before. Now I just crave the atmosphere and the tournaments."

"I just want to play. And, of course, I want to win."

SPORTS SHORTS

Adult hockey leagues

Suburban Ice Farmington Hills will offer separate Beginner Adult Developmental Hockey Leagues presented by Labatt for men and women during the fall/winter season.

Both leagues will run once per week for 25 weeks and will have similar structures. The first six weeks will consist of an instructional training camp before dividing players into teams. Once teams have been formed, there will be two practices prior to the beginning of games. The remainder of the season will consist of three games and one practice per month.

Included in the league fees is the cost of jerseys and instructors, who will also serve as referees during games in order to coach the players and teams during the play, on the bench and in between periods. As a bonus, all players in the BADHL will get a free membership to the SIFH Fitness Club from September to March, as well as the opportunity to purchase a RBK 5K Modano pattern hockey stick for just $75 (retail is $150) courtesy of RBK Hockey.

The women's league will run 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., Sept. 11, 2005-March 26, 2006 (no sessions on Nov. 27, Dec. 25, Jan. 1, or Feb. 5). The men's league will run 8:30 and 9:30 p.m., Sept. 19, 2005-March 20, 2006 (no sessions Oct. 31 or Dec. 26).

Registration is limited, call (248) 888-1400 or visit www.suburbanice.com.

Fall Youth Basketball

Now accepting player registrations for fall youth basketball. Registrations will continue through September 16 or until leagues are full. There will be a $10 late fee applied for registrations received after September 16. The girls league is for fourth-sixth grades while the boys leagues are for fourth-fifth and sixth-seventh grades. All players must complete a personal date form, which will be used to formulate teams. Practice will be held one-two times per week beginning October 18. The eight game schedule is played primarily on Saturdays from October 29-December 10. Please contact Parks and Recreation, (248) 349-0203, extension 1405 for more information.

Adult Coaches Wanted

Adult Coaches are needed for Northville Parks and Recreation's youth basketball leagues. Your child will play for free if you volunteer to be a head coach. If you are interested, call Dave Demattos, (248) 349-0203, extension 1405.

Walk for a cure

The Crohn's & Colitis Foundation of America, Michigan Chapter (CCFA) will host its Second Annual Heel to Heal walk on Saturday, September 10 at Maybury State Park in Northville. Proceeds will go towards research and programming to help find a cause and cure for Crohn's Disease and ulcerative colitis.

More than a million people throughout the United States suffer from Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis, known collectively as IBD. Both are painful diseases that affect the gastrointestinal tract, causing diarrhea, abdominal cramps, bleeding, and numerous complications including bowel obstruction and colon cancer. Most IBD sufferers are young when symptoms first appear. Crohn's disease primarily afflicts adolescents and young adults, with an estimated 10% (some 100,000) under the age of 18.

"Our annual Heel to Heal walk is a great way for friends, family and community members to support loved ones who are affected by Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis to support their loved ones," said Bernard

Riker, Executive Director of CCFA, Michigan Chapter. "The event is growing each year, helping to increase awareness and fund the research of this worthy cause."

Participants can choose between a one-mile walk and a 5K (3.1 miles) walk. Registration is $10 (free for children under 12) and includes a picnic lunch and free admission to the park. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with the one-mile walk, and the 5K-walk begins at 10:30 a.m. The picnic lunch, sponsored by Outback Steakhouse of Novi, begins at 11:30 a.m.

Last year more than 350 CCFA members, patients and their families laced up their walking shoes to raise more than $66,000 for the organization's research and programming.

To register for the event, or to become a volunteer or sponsor, call Gilda Hauser at (248) 737-0900 or e-mail michigan@ccfa.org. You can also register on-line at www.ccfa.kintera.org/mich/05walk.

Two players needed

The Michigan Wolves U14 travel baseball team will be holding tryouts the last weekend in August. Needed are two solid players. The Michigan Wolves U13 team finished 43-6 for the 2005 season winning several tournaments, including a fifth place overall out of 40 teams in the AAYBA World Series in St. Louis. For more information, visit www.miwolves.com or call Tim at (734) 645-9033.

Registration for Fall Learn to Skate underway

Novi Ice Arena will run a six-week fall session of its Learn to Skate Program from Wednesday, September 7-Saturday, October 22 (no classes October 12-15). Classes are offered Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, and skate rental is available. In addition, Learn to Skate students get a punch card for free admission to open skating at Novi Ice Arena throughout the program they are enrolled in.

The following classes will be offered:

- * Beginning Tots
- * Snowplow Sam 1-3
- * Basic 1-5
- * Skater's Edge Accelerated Bridge Program - NEW!
- * Adult

Classes will run once per week for 30 minutes with optional 30-minute practice sessions. Open registration for Learn to Skate is underway. The Learn to Skate Program is very popular so call the Novi Ice Arena at 248-347-1010 or visit www.novoicearena.com today to inquire about the proper class for your skater.

Novi Ice Arena to hold adult hockey leagues

The Novi Ice Arena will hold fall/winter adult hockey leagues for adult teams, including 18 & Over "D" on Sunday nights, 18 & Over "C" on Friday nights, 18 & Over "B" on Tuesday nights as well as 30 & Over "B" on Wednesday nights and 30 & Over "C" on Thursday nights. League features include excellent game times, no checking, focus on clean hockey and fun, and trained scorekeepers.

Teams will play a 26-game schedule with one game per week beginning in early September, and games will consist of three 15-minute running time periods. Teams are encouraged to register early, as they will be entered to win a set of jerseys if they sign-up by August 31. Further, teams that pay their entire balance by September 30 will receive $250 off the cost of registration. As an added bonus this year, RBK Hockey is offering all members of the league the opportunity to purchase a 5K Modano pattern stick for just $75 (retail is $150)!

It's Bryn Smetana's turn to be a leader

At nearly 5-foot-9-inches tall, Northville senior harrier Bryn Smetana stood out among her peers.

Her cross country career has always been that way, so why should her height be any different?

She said she just wished she would utilize the advantage.

"In meets I tend to get tight and my stride isn't as big as it should be," she said. "I'm trying to work on that because it can be a factor to have longer legs."

Becoming a captain with the Mustangs this season, smiles shyly when complimented about her outstanding running career. During the past three seasons, Smetana has managed to cut her time down to 19:55 and is looking to chop it even more in her final year with Northville.

"I'd like to get it down in the low 19s," she said. "I don't know how realistic my biggest goal is, but if I can I'd like to get down into the 18s."

Smetana is well aware of what it takes to be successful on the cross country course. She's been running with names like Heather and Andrea Moehle, Devon Rupley, Kate McClymont and Liz Hrivnak her entire career.

Now instead of those All-time Northville greats being the lead runners, it's her turn.

"I going to try to lead them by example," she said of being a captain. "I want us to go to states this year as a team and hopefully we can accomplish that. If we can work together as a team, we can reach that goal."

In the off-season, Smetana and her fellow captains organized practices three days a week. Beyond those frequent runs, she did training on her own to come into the beginning of the season in what she considers the best shape of her career at this time of year.

The team, she said, has a lot of enthusiasm, which makes it easier to lead them.

"I think we have what it takes this year," she said. "Everyone is excited about this year, especially the seniors. We just keep remembering that this could be our last year running, so we want to make it a good one."

The Mustangs will be building and training for one big race — the regional.

"The regional is where it counts," she said. "The captains have to make sure everyone knows how important it is to work together in the regional. It's the same one as last year and we have to make sure we don't make the same mistakes over again."

Last year, the Mustangs were a favorite to earn a state finals berth but several small factors led to their demise in the regional. This year Smetana said she knows it can be a different end result.

Likely, it will require every Mustang to have their best season. Smetana is expecting to have a personal best year and hopes a few colleges notice as well.

"I'd definitely love to run in college," she said. "I'd like to go into education so I can be a teacher and maybe a coach."

The schools she has visited so far include Grand Valley State, Eastern Michigan, Western Michigan and even Lake Superior State in the Upper Peninsula.

Even if she doesn't earn a place running at the collegiate level, Smetana said it would be a fun job to teach others the lessons of cross country.

"It would be an honor to be able to teach a team of my own," she said. "I think it would be great."

Many of the lessons she has learned under coach Nancy Smith would be applied, she said.

"Coach Smith has been great," she said. "She makes it a lot easier at practices and meets and she's really great at motivating the team."

"That makes it easier to reach my goals. She's a great coach and she's really supportive. That's the kind of coach I'd want to be."

Mustangs stung by Hornets, 40-13

By Sam Eggleston
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

David Burke watched as the ball sailed in a tight spiral toward him, hit his hands and dropped to the ground for an incomplete pass.

One play summarized the entire opener for the Northville Mustangs football team: a ball-control offense that couldn't control the ball.

The Mustangs fell to Saline, 40-13, last Saturday in the first game of the inaugural Big Day Prep Showdown hosted by Eastern Michigan University.

"I kept telling everyone that when the lights turned on we'd find out if we were ready," first-year head coach Ryan Hockman said. "Well, we found out."

"We're a young team and we had young-team jitters."

The Mustangs were broken early. Saline scored twice in the first 10 plays of the game.

The Hornets notched a touchdown on their second play after a Northville three-and-out and then returned the punt off the Mustangs' following possession for a touchdown and a 13-0 lead after the extra point was kicked low.

The Hornets added a third touchdown on a 35-yard jaunt by Eric Williams, a transfer to the school from Ypsilanti Lincoln. A few plays later Saline made it 27-0 when Austin Trott took a counter to the left and bolted 88 yards.

"A lot of little things went wrong out there," said senior captain Chris McGuire. "We weren't tackling and that hurt us."

Northville showed brief signs of life heading into the half but couldn't convert following a first-down catch by Steve Clark. Quarterback Mike DeLuca tossed a tight pass to David Bandy in the endzone, but the senior receiver couldn't hold on.

"If that had been a touchdown, then things may have changed," Hockman said. "It may not have won the game, but it may have made a difference."

Evan Corbeil tried for a 31-yard field goal attempt to end the half but the kick failed.

Saline continued their onslaught, adding another touchdown midway through the third quarter for a 34-0 lead off a 12-yard run by Keith Marsh for the score.

Northville's Abbas Cheaib carried the ball 35 yards around the left side of the line to score on Saline's second-string defense with just a handful of minutes left in the game. Max Bojovic converted the extra point, making the score 34-7.

DeLuca and Clark added a 42-yard score moments later before Saline added a final tally.

The Mustangs were led by Cheaib, who ran 13 times for 79 yards while Dittrick Williams added six carries for 19 yards. DeLuca went 9-for-25; Clark had five receptions.

Defensively, Greg Hasse had 12 tackles, while Bandy added 10. McGuire added 8.5 and Dittrick Williams notched six.

Northville (0-1) is scheduled to host John Glenn today at 7 p.m.

"We'll come back," McGuire said. "We'll be ready for Glenn."

FAMILY FEATURES EDITORIAL SYNDICATE

Creamy, crunchy Green Bean Casserole has been a "must have" on America's holiday menus since its introduction in 1955. This classic side dish is a combination of three popular items: green beans, Campbell's Cream of Mushroom soup and French's French Fried Onions. Today, over 30 million households will enjoy Green Bean Casserole as part of their holiday feasts.

Created by Dorcas Reilly, former manager of Campbell's Kitchen, 2005 marks the 50th anniversary of this iconic recipe. Reilly said her inspiration for Green Bean Casserole (deemed the mother of all comfort foods) was to "create a quick and easy recipe around things most Americans always had on hand in the 1950s: green beans and Cream of Mushroom Soup." Like so many great recipes, Reilly's creation requires a minimal number of ingredients (just five), doesn't take much time to prepare (only 10 "hands on" minutes) and can be customized to deliver a wide range of variations.

One reason that the Green Bean Casserole has stood the test of time is its versatility. With just a few simple modifications, the recipe can easily be transformed to reflect the changing tastes and trends of the times. Swiss Vegetable Medley is a sophisticated and saucy spin on the classic recipe that features the zesty combination of sour cream and Swiss cheese. In the Holiday Vegetable Bake, a variety of vegetables are mixed with Cream of Broccoli Soup for a creamy and colorful twist on the original dish. The casserole, as we know it today, is a uniquely American dish that first became popular in the 1940s when men were fighting abroad and women were left to take over their jobs while still preparing meals at home. The one-dish casserole was a quick and easy way to get a wholesome, balanced meal on the table. In addition, many early sources of casserole recipes featured condensed soups, like Campbell's Cream of Mushroom, as the sauce that bound all the ingredients together. All of these factors conspired to establish the casserole as an integral element of the American table.

New Spins on an Old Favorite

The classic Green Bean Casserole recipe mixes family-pleasing green beans with a savory combination of Campbell's Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup, a little milk and a dash of soy sauce, topped with French's French Fried Onions for the perfect finishing touch.

For a fresh twist on the original dish, try one of these variations created by today's Campbell's Kitchen:

- Please the cheese lovers in your family by stirring in 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese with the soup. Omit soy sauce. Sprinkle with 1/4 cup additional Cheddar cheese and use French's Cheddar French Fried Onions.
- For a roasted garlic twist, substitute Campbell's Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup with Roasted Garlic for Cream of Mushroom Soup.

- For a change of pace, substitute 4 cups cooked broccoli florets for the green beans.
- For a festive touch, stir in 1/4 cup chopped red pepper with soup.
- For a heartier mushroom flavor, substitute Campbell's Condensed Golden Mushroom Soup for Cream of Mushroom Soup. Omit soy sauce. Stir in 1/4 cup chopped red pepper with green beans.

A bigger game

The great annual spectacle is underway. Pre-season televised professional football games are already whetting the appetites of millions of Americans who are eager to witness countless hours of blitzes, bootlegs and buttonhooks all leading up to the game of games, Super Bowl XL in February 2006. By the time the season officially kicks off Sept. 8, fans will have enjoyed more than five dozen games.

The audience will no doubt include millions of American small-business owners, their families and their employees who, deservedly, find in the sport a welcome break from the day-to-day challenges of running a small firm. But this seemingly pleasurable pastime could distract those business owners from keeping their eyes on the ball when a much more important contest gets underway in early October 2005.

The hype and hoopla generated when Green Bay squares off against Carolina on Oct. 3 will certainly overshadow the opening season of the United States Supreme Court, which begins its annual session earlier that day by hearing oral arguments on cases it will consider and rule upon the following spring. Not to diminish the prominence of football, but the arguments made before the Big Bench will ultimately have a greater impact on the bottom lines of American businesses than the audible yells at the line of scrimmage.

While most of the news coverage of the Supreme Court today centers on potential nominations of new justices and social issues, small-business owners should pay careful attention to the court's docket. A significant number of the cases reviewed and ruled upon concern matters that affect virtually every aspect of free enterprise.

Just recently, the Supreme Court upset decades of standing property rights laws by expanding the power of local governments to use the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution to condemn private property through the process of eminent domain, and delivered that property into the hands of another land-owner, who promised to use it to boost "economic development."

In recent sessions, the High Court has also handed down decisions that will make small employers liable for age discrimination if they create an employment policy that even unintentionally affects older workers. Additionally, the Supreme Court ruled that independent small business truckers have no recourse against states that want to impose even greater regulatory burdens on them than the federal government has established.

These rulings come on the heels of past Supreme Court sessions where justices have offered opinions that instantly and almost permanently change the rules of the game of entrepreneurship. Punitive damage awards, pensions, taxation, product liability and regulations of even the most mundane nature are appearing on the court's docket with alarming frequency.

It's an unfortunate fact that most Supreme Court justices, while experts in constitutional law, have virtually no experience with, and little understanding of, the trials and tribulations associated with starting and building a successful small business.

It won't be nearly as entertaining as televised sports, but watching every play the court makes and pointing out offside moves to Congress is a task that small-business owners must undertake right away. This game is for keeps.

Jack Faris is the president of the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's largest small-business advocacy group. A non-profit, non-partisan organization founded in 1943, NFIB represents the consensus views of its 600,000 members in Washington, D.C., and all 50 state capitals.

Henry Ford Optimeyes

When it comes to quality eye care, you want a name you can trust. That's why it's reassuring to know you're in good hands at Henry Ford Optimeyes in Milford. Their affiliation with the Henry Ford Community Care Services guarantees you'll receive the finest in optical care.

"What makes us different from anyone else is that Henry Ford is at our disposal, so if there's any problems, you're in good hands," explained Rich Cannon, Office Manager and certified by the American Board of Opticians.

Top-notch eye care includes optometry, lasik consultations, well vision and diabetic exams, treatment for glaucoma and cataracts using the latest advances and free exams for infants up to 12 months old. It's a way they encourage vision awareness for the entire family. Services are performed by dedicated optometrists Dr. Fariba Hickinson, Dr. Bruce Wolfis and ophthalmologist Dr. Anuradha Prasad - they're three more reasons you can expect great care. They're also proud of their American Board of Optician's certified staff.

In addition to providing state of the art service, a recent remodel/expansion ensures that customers are comfortable during their visit. Now covering 3,000 square feet, the facility is entirely refurnished with an attractive contemporary look - warm hues and comfortable furnishings. The renovation, which began last February was completed last June. Patients can now relax in front of a flat screen plasma television in the reception area. Four exam rooms and a treatment room complete the office. Handicapped friendly facilities were improved for patients with those needs.

Hours: Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The expanded area also allows them to offer patients an incredible range of styles. They carry a broad spectrum from basic to designer frames - approximately 1200 styles including Gucci, LaFonte, Valentino and Nautica. Polarized and anti-glare features are available on prescription lenses to provide greater protection.

Contact lenses are also an important service they provide. Henry Ford Optimeyes provides full contact lens availability and all the supplies necessary for care as well. Free eyeglass adjustments and repair work is done on site.

Customer satisfaction is a daily commitment for the staff at the Milford facility. Though they offer a quality and price guarantee on their glasses - they believe in going beyond.

"We do so much more. We go out of our way to do whatever's necessary. We don't let anyone leave until they're completely satisfied," said Cannon. They worked hard to make things exactly right for Tom Arlow and his wife, Cheryl, of West Bloomfield. He says it's really about the people who go above and beyond to satisfy their patients.

Henry Ford Optimeyes, located in Prospect Hill (across from ACE Hardware), features a wide selection of eyewear.

"They're very attentive, they're very good at what they do - they're helpful and friendly," said Tom Arlow. "They treat you the way you wish you were treated at any store."

Arlow liked the wide selection and the fact they offer full service (ophthalmology) at the newly expanded facilities.

Another convenient service provided by Henry Ford Optimeyes is filling outside prescriptions.

"A lot of people don't know that you can come in to fill a prescription from another eye care provider," Rich Cannon pointed out.

Along with the new and improved facilities, the Milford facility has increased office hours for their patient's convenience. They now offer expanded evening and weekend hours. Office hours are six days a week, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In case you normally search for a facility that participates with your insurance provider, Henry Ford Optimeyes accepts most types of insurance coverage, including HAP, Medicare, Blue Cross, NVA, Ford, VSP and many more.

Why not start the school year off on the right foot? Now is a great time to schedule a back to school optical exam for the children, whether they're in junior high or off to college. Special pricing is available on glasses for children ages 14 and under.

Henry Ford Optimeyes is part of the local Huron Valley Chamber of Commerce and is conveniently located in the Prospect Hill Shopping Center near Kroger. Visit them at 516 Highland Avenue in downtown Milford to schedule an appointment, or call (248) 684-1229.

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin
(Never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendour of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of Earth, humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity. Now (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee, (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this prayer in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. Grateful thanks. JS

Ask American Profile

Q I heard George Strait's song You'll Be There was about him losing a child. How did he lose her and how old was she?

—Patricia S., Illinois

George and Norma Strait's daughter Jenifer died in a non-alcohol-related car accident in 1986 near San Marcos, Texas. The 13-year-old was riding with friends. Strait, 53, who also has a son, George Jr., does not publicly discuss his daughter's death, but when asked about the song, he recently told the Great American Country cable network, "Obviously, it's a special song for me. You know, the things that have happened in my life and losing my daughter. I believe that someday we will be together again. I think that's what we all strive for, to get to heaven some day." The song about meeting a loved one in heaven was written by Cory Mayo and inspired by the 1999 death of his father, songwriter Danny Mayo.

Country singer George Strait's latest hit song is You'll Be There.

Q What can you tell me about Daryn Kagan?

—C. Booker, Ohio

Daryn Kagan, a Stanford University graduate, became a news anchor in spite of her boss at Phoenix's KTVK. It was obvious that only blondes became anchors there, and brunettes were to be the reporters. He told her that she didn't have "it," even though she created a sports reporting position for herself and worked seven days a week to prove him wrong. When her contract ended, her friend's agent took a look at her demo tape and told Kagan she needed an updated look. "She said, 'Cut your hair. You'll be shocked how fast you get picked up,'" says Kagan, 42. She cut her hair, and CNN hired her two weeks later as a sports anchor in 1994. "I've lived every sports dream I've ever wanted—the NFL, the Super Bowl, major league baseball," she says. "I've traveled to Russia to cover figure skating." After about three years, she switched to news anchoring, and she's covered everything from wars to the Oscars. Single and living in Atlanta, the Southern California native teases that her dog and three-legged cat are her kids. "I am very happy," she declares.

CNN anchor Daryn Kagan

Q How do TV networks know when viewers are watching a specific show?

—Ruth F., Missouri

A New York-based company called Nielsen Media Research is responsible for television ratings. "We rely on sampling and we recruit homes across the country to be a part of Nielsen's sample. It is a random selection process; we don't take volunteers. We choose a sample of homes that represent the U.S. as closely as possible," says Karen Gyimesi, Nielsen's vice president of communications. The sample covers a variety of demographics, household sizes, ethnicities and ages, and it polls each home for a maximum of two years. The most publicized sample is the national people meter, where a box is installed in every room and each person is assigned a button. They must log into the people meter when they watch television. "We are always looking at how the demographics of the U.S. are changing so we can make sure our sample is mirroring that as accurately as possible," Gyimesi says. Instead of keeping a meter, some viewers are asked to keep a paper diary for one week, which is used as a supplement to create a ratings book for local TV markets around the country.

Q When did Wilbur Chapman die? Where is he buried?

—Amy L., Kansas

Wilbur Chapman, an evangelist and writer of hymns such as One Day and Jesus, What a Friend for Sinner, was born on June 17, 1859, in Richmond, Ind. (pop. 39,124). He gave Billy Sunday, another well-known evangelist, his first job. In 1882, he married Irene Steddon, who died after giving birth to their first child, Bertha, in 1886. Chapman married Agnes Pruyn Strain in 1888, and they had four children: Robert, John Wilbur Jr., Alexander Hamilton and Agnes Pruyn. After Agnes died in 1907, he married Mabel Cornelia Moulton. Chapman was a tireless preacher and educator and traveled widely throughout Asia and the United States. He died on Dec. 25, 1918, in New York City. His funeral was at the Fourth Presbyterian Church of New York, conducted by the pastor Edgar Work on Dec. 29, 1918. He is buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Bronx, N.Y. ☆

Distilling Kentucky Spirits

by RICHARD MCVEY, Editor

Parker Beam siphons a sample of bourbon from a 50-gallon barrel and pours it into a glass at Heaven Hill Distilleries in Bardstown, Ky. (pop. 10,374). He lifts the glass to his nose for a sniff, takes a sip of the amber-colored whiskey and declares the 1995 vintage a success.

"That's the way it should be," says Beam, describing how the 10-year-old Evan Williams brand bourbon lingers on his palate.

Beam and his son, Craig, know bourbon.

They're the seventh and eighth generation, respectively, of their family to serve as Kentucky bourbon master distillers, a title held by only seven others.

"I come from the Jim Beam family, so it's in my blood," says Craig Beam, 46, who works alongside his father just as Parker, 63, did with his father, Earl. "There's no book or school that can prepare you. It's a family experience. You have to sit back, listen and watch what your grandfather did, your father did, and learn the process."

The process, perfected over the last two centu-

Master distillers Craig and Parker Beam carry on a long family tradition.

LEGAL NOTICE

If you bought auto insurance from an independent agent, you could get a payment from a proposed settlement.

Para una notificación en Español, llamar o visitar nuestro website.

A settlement has been proposed in a class action lawsuit about whether people were induced to buy higher priced private auto insurance policies instead of lower priced policies with identical coverage and service. People in the settlement could get cash payments.

If you're included, you may send in a claim form to ask for a payment, or you can exclude yourself, or object. The Circuit Court of Jefferson County, Arkansas authorized this notice, and will have a hearing to decide whether to approve the settlement, so that payments can be issued to people who send in valid claim forms. Get a detailed notice at the website or by calling the toll-free number below.

Who's INCLUDED?

You could be a "Class member" if you bought certain private auto insurance policies from one of the insurance company defendants in this lawsuit, through an independent agent between January 1, 1991 and January 1, 2004. To help you see whether you are included, a chart showing the insurance companies, policies, states the policies were sold in, and years of sale that are included in the settlement, are available at www.graysettlement.com, or by calling toll free 1-800-261-6791.

WHAT DOES THE SETTLEMENT PROVIDE?

You can get $7 for each completed six month period that you had a qualifying policy in the settlement, and a pro-rated portion of that amount for a qualifying policy that was in force for less than six months. Also, the defendants in the lawsuit will change their sales practices.

HOW DO YOU ASK FOR A PAYMENT?

Call or go to the website to get a claim form and the list of qualifying policies to confirm whether you are a Class member. If you believe you are a Class member, fill out the claim form and mail it postmarked by November 18, 2005. Sending in a claim form won't raise your insurance rates, and it won't cost you anything.

YOUR OTHER RIGHTS.

If you don't want a payment from the settlement, or if you don't want to be legally bound by it, you must exclude yourself by October 10, 2005, or you won't be able to sue, or continue to sue, defendants about the legal claims in this case. If you exclude yourself, you can't get a payment from this settlement. If you don't exclude yourself, you may choose to object to it, if you do so by October 10, 2005. A detailed notice, available by calling or going to the website below, explains how to exclude yourself or object.

The Court will hold a hearing in this case, called Gray v. New Hampshire Indemnity Co., No. 2002-952-2-3, on October 24, 2005, to consider whether to approve the settlement and a request by the lawyers representing the Class for fees and expenses not to exceed $2.25 million. Any fees and expenses would be paid separately and will not reduce payments to Class members. You or your own lawyer may ask to appear and speak at the hearing, at your own cost, but you don't have to.

For more information, simply call or go to the website listed below.

Which Policies?

The insurance was sold under these brand names:

- The New Hampshire
- New Hampshire Specialty Auto
- NH Specialty Auto
- AIG Specialty Auto
- AIG Agency Auto

ries, includes fermenting corn, rye and barley into an aromatic mash, distilling the alcohol, and finally aging the whiskey in new charred white oak barrels for at least two years.

Whiskey has been distilled in and around Bardstown—known as the Bourbon Capital of the World—since the town's founding in 1780. Early settlers found Kentucky's climate ideal for growing corn, which became abundant and was distilled into whiskey. Those pioneers also discovered that whiskey was more valuable than the unstable Continental currency, and they shipped boatloads downriver to exchange for New Orleans' fineries.

At the time, Bourbon County, Ky., was a major shipping area, and barrels were stamped with the county's name. Eventually the name on the barrels became synonymous with their content.

"The first person to start making bourbon is hard to say," says Josephine Edelen, a volunteer tour guide at the Oscar Getz Museum of Whiskey History in Bardstown. "But Elijah Craig, a distiller and Baptist preacher, was one of the first."

Elijah Craig, considered the Father of Bourbon, is widely credited as the first distiller to store and ship his whiskey in charred white oak barrels, which gives bourbon its distinct color and flavor.

The resulting spirit is celebrated each September in Bardstown during the annual Kentucky Bourbon Festival. "Our goal is to promote and educate people about bourbon," says Pam Gover, executive director of the non-profit community festival.

Celebrating its 14th year on Sept. 14-18, the festival includes a bourbon-style cooking school, historical tours, evening galas and the ever-popular World Championship Bourbon Barrel Relay. During the timed event, participants move full 500-pound barrels through a "U"-shaped course. Adding to the challenge is that each barrel must rest with its bunghole facing up.

A museum of whiskey history tells how Bardstown, Ky., became the world's bourbon capital.

"You have to learn how to get the bungholes straight up in the rick," says Paula Clark, the 2004 women's individual champion. "Otherwise, they'll eventually leak."

The five-day festival draws more than 45,000 visitors from 36 states and 15 countries. Other Kentucky bourbon distillers—such as Makers Mark in Loretto (pop. 623), Jim Beam in Clermont, and Wild Turkey in Lawrenceburg (pop. 9,014)—also gather for the festival.

"It's a great celebration," Craig Beam says. "You work hard all year, everybody puts out a good product, and you get to show it off and educate people about it. That's what the bourbon festival is all about for us, because we're proud of what we do."

Although Bardstown is home to only two—Heaven Hill and Barton Brands—of the state's nine major distilleries, it is nevertheless considered the epicenter of the bourbon industry. "If you get a map and a piece of string and use Bardstown as the center point, you can swing that string in a 60-mile radius and touch about 90 percent of all of the bourbon making facilities in the United States," says Heaven Hill President Max Shapira, whose family founded the distillery in 1935.

"It's important for people to realize that bourbon is not bad," says Gilbert

Milburn, a retired Bardstown school principal. "It's the misuse of it that can be bad. It's amazing what the whiskey industry has done for Bardstown. It has created all of the roads, the utilities and the school systems. Now we're more diversified, but the bourbon industry is still very important to Bardstown." ★

Why Grandparents Are Grand

When American Profile asked readers to tell us about their grandparents, we received a mailbox full of endearing letters describing how special these people are in the lives and memories of their grandchildren.

Some of the submissions were genealogical sketches of immigrants who came to America or biographical descriptions of hard-working pioneers who settled the West. Others recalled fond memories of grandmothers cooking Sunday dinner, grandfathers taking their grandchildren fishing, and grandparents sharing their life's wisdom, stories and lessons. What all of the submissions have in common is an expression of a deep love, respect and admiration by adoring grandchildren for their doting grandparents.

Many letters read like the one from Rebecca Leyendecker of Grove City, Minn. "They really are the superglue that holds our family together," wrote Leyendecker about Harland and Darlene Heairet of Paynesville, Minn. "I believe I speak for my whole family in saying that we have the greatest grandparents anyone could ever have."

Below is a small portion of the submissions we received. To view more, log on to www.americanprofile.com/grandparents.

Monica Boyd of Albuquerque, N.M., hugs her grandmother Mary Boston of Dallas, Texas.

Our Madear always had time for her children. She would take us on picnics and kite flying at least twice a month during the spring and summer of Texas. We'd all look forward to baking our first cake with Madear. She told us we always had to add love as our final ingredient. Our grandmother taught us to put God first, share with others and let everything we do be done out of love.

—Monica Boyd, 38, of Albuquerque, N.M., granddaughter of Mary Boston of Dallas, Texas

Memaw is my best friend. She does things just for me, like sewing my clothes and telling me about my mother when she was my age. She teaches me how to do grown-up things. We have grown real vegetables you can eat, baked loaves of bread and gone to visit people. Memaw says she doesn't have much but she had lots of love, and when I am with her I have more love to share.

—Gwyen Elizabeth Sutphin, 7, of Starkville, Miss., granddaughter of Gwyen Dye, also of Starkville

My grandparents live on a big farm in North Dakota. My grandma is an awesome cook and grandpa makes me laugh. Grandpa is having trouble remembering, so Grandma tries to help him. They love each other very much. Grandma loves me a lot, and even if Grandpa can't remember my name, I know he loves me too.

—Joseph Gates, 8, of Batavia, N.Y., grandson of Elmice and Paul Gion of Regent, N.D.

When I was 17 years old, I was anxiously awaiting my senior prom. One week before the dance, my boyfriend broke up with me. I soon received a call from my grandfather. He asked me if he could take me to the prom. Tears rolled down my face as I gladly accepted. My grandpa proudly escorted me to the dance, and in his own gentle way, helped me heal the pain of my broken heart.

Beth Schaaf sings the praises of her grandpa's garden.

Allen Hudson, my grandfather, was the grandson of Edward Hudson, a Revolutionary War soldier. In 1856, Allen prospected for gold in California. As a Confederate soldier, he fought at the Battle of Pea Ridge. After the war, he was elected judge, then sheriff, of Barry County, Mo. He later became a bank president. In 1917, he was appointed by Missouri Gov. Frederick Gardner to be a delegate to the formation of the League of Nations.

—Don Hudson, 74, of Conway, Ark., who has four grandchildren of his own

Allen Hudson, a notable grandfather

I cannot imagine life without my "Nanny." She is an inspiration to everyone who knows her. She's energetic, loving, caring and has devoted her entire life taking care of all her family (especially me for 35 years). She is a good Christian woman who reads her Bible and prays daily. She has so much love and energy, even at 89 years old, and we love, admire and adore her and wish we were like her.

—Paul Triplett, 35, of Monrovia, Md., grandson of Sarah Ann Barr, also of Monrovia

My grandfather, William Fletcher Weir, was a Scotsman by descent and a former Texas Ranger—and equally proud of both. Granddad rode over to our ranch house to visit about once a month, and I spent many happy afternoons listening to him tell stories of his Ranger days. And sometimes he would tell me tall tales like the one about Pecos Bill. When it was time to go, he'd pat me on the head and say, "Well, so long, Hon, and may the good Lord take a likin' to you." Of course, Granddad has been dead many years now. But I can see him right now, leaning back against a white cloud entertaining the other angels with one of his yarns. And I have always felt sure that the Lord "took a likin' to him."

—Clanabel Weir Tanner, 86, The Villages, Fla., who has two grandchildren of her own

I love my grandma because she loves me. She drives over 300 miles to see my family and I. Grandma is 68 years young and still goes on the waterslide with me. My grandma is very special to me because she makes sacrifices for me. When I want to do something and she wants to do something, we always do what I want to do. I love my grandma.

—Abby Harder, 10, of Birchwood, Wis., granddaughter of Paulene Harder of West Bend, Wis.

My grandpa grew the reddest, most luscious tomatoes known to man. Yes, his purple-hull peas were delectable and his okra out of this world... but oh boy! those tomatoes. They are still my definition of May, of simple pleasures, and of Grandpa. What made my grandpa special was his patience, his perseverance, his ingenuity, his humanity, his integrity, his endurance, and his tomatoes.

—Beth Schaaf, 16, of Galveston, Texas, granddaughter of the late James Clinton

My grandma... happens to be my hero and inspiration, yet this relationship would be nothing without the art of talking. I call my grandma for consultations nightly, and anticipate wisdom on each occasion. Therefore, MeMa and I will continue our sessions, exchanging opinions until we have solved "all the world's problems," as MeMa muses.

—Rebecca Webber, 18, of Cranston, R.I., granddaughter of Frances Carcleri, also of Cranston

They are the kindest, most generous people I have ever known. They gladly assumed the role of parents when I was 5, and have been my heroes in my adult years. They have never been selfish with time, or possessions, often denying themselves in order to help family and friends, never expecting anything in return. I have never heard them grumble, complain or speak badly of anyone. They are the perfect example of love.

—Timothy M. Suwerts of Tullahoma, Tenn., grandson of Sally and the late Herald Suwerts of Cisco, Ill.

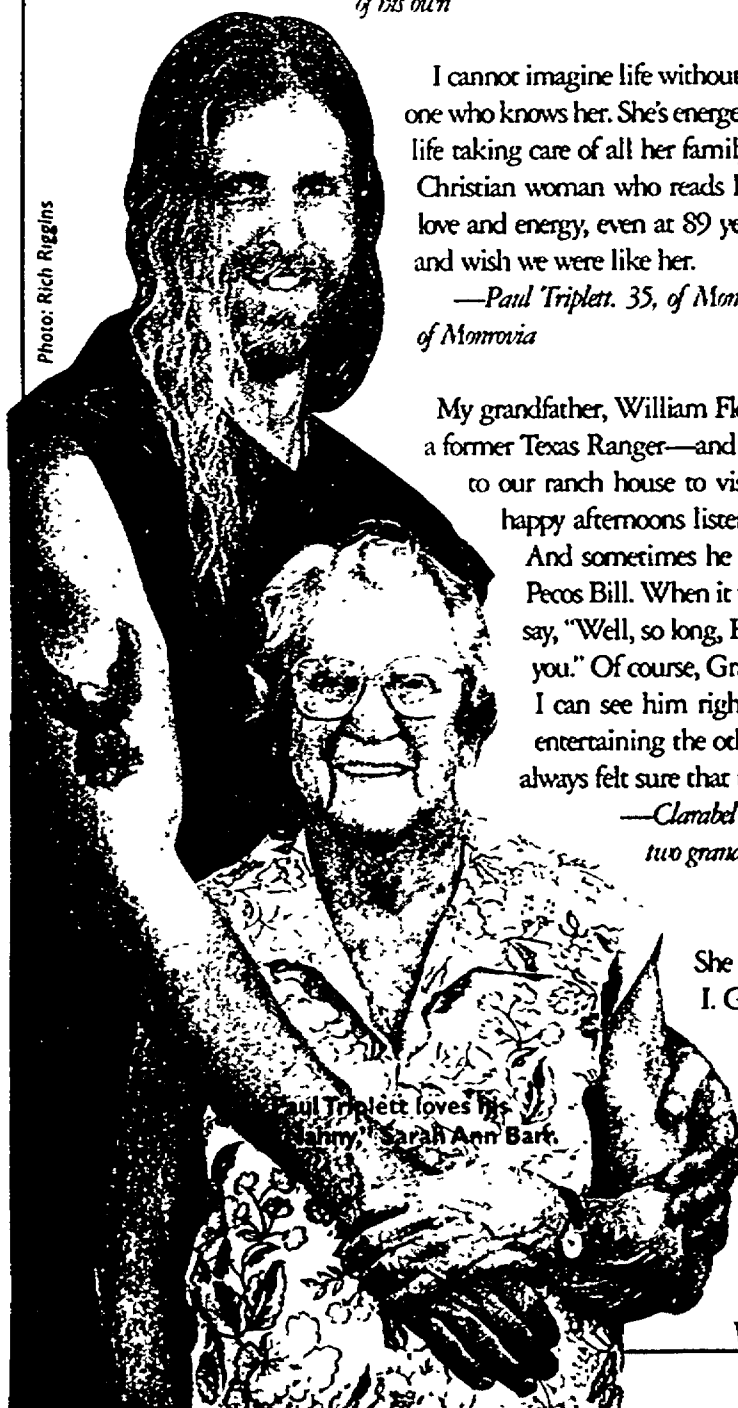

No person that I know ever had a greater grandmother than I had. She was my constant companion, mentor and role model until she passed away when I was 7 years old. Grandmother was loving, kind and possessed a great sense of humor. She was also a master storyteller, and to this day I tell my own grandchildren some of the fascinating tales that I learned from that lovely lady. I still miss her keenly.

—Philip A. Pfeifer, 77, of Salem, S.C., grandson of the late Rosamab Kearns

At about age 4, my grandfather taught me how to read. He believed reading was a prized possession. I remember that night crystal clear. It was raining and I asked my grandfather if he could teach me to read. He immediately dropped what he was doing and began to teach me the basics. By the end of the night, I could read several simple words. That night, nine years ago, will never be forgotten.

I am the luckiest girl in the world. I have the best papa ever. My papa is always busy helping others. He coaches me in track. When I was little he coached me in basketball and baseball. My papa is always there for me when I need him. He is the nicest guy I know. I love him so much.

Exploring an Astronaut's Roots

Lorle Porter, 67, often can be seen walking along a brick street near her home in New Concord, Ohio (pop. 2,651), wearing a 1940s housedress that makes her look as if she stepped right out of history. And in a way, she has. Porter's costume is part of her portrayal of Clara Glenn, the mother of New Concord's favorite son, astronaut and senator John Glenn, at the John & Annie Glenn Historic Site—a living history museum that Porter helped found.

"My philosophy of teaching is that you've got to make the material come alive, and my acting is an extension of what I did as a teacher," says Porter, who retired from teaching history at New Concord's Muskingum College in 1999 to devote her life to researching and interpreting local history.

Museum visitors get a tour of John Glenn's actual boyhood home—complete with historical facts and anecdotes about the Glenn family—from Porter and other tour guides who portray family members. Glenn, born in nearby Cambridge, Ohio, was 2 years old when he and his family moved into the New Concord house in 1923.

Some visitors are so convinced of Porter's portrayal of Clara that they aren't sure what's real and what's not. "We've had people walk out of there and say, 'I didn't know his mother was still alive!'" says Debbie Allender, the museum's site manager.

Porter, a sprightly, energetic woman devoted to the history of the town and its much-heralded astronaut, earned a doctorate in history in 1965 from the University of New Mexico. That same year she started teaching history at Muskingum College, where she now serves as professor emerita and regional historian-in-residence.

She has written eight books about the people and places of southeastern Ohio, including A People Set Apart: Scotch Irish in Eastern Ohio (1998) and Sarah's Table: Keeping House in Ohio, 1800-1950 (2001). She says she's happy to be able to provide her expertise as a historian to the local community and region.

"I found that as a professional historian I could help local groups," says Porter, who especially enjoys telling the story of John Glenn, who graduated from New Concord High School (now John Glenn High School) and attended Muskingum College until he left in 1943 to begin military service during World War II.

The idea for the living history museum began five years ago while Porter was working with the local community group R.E.NEW (Renew the Environment of New Concord). She conceived of a place that would tell the story of John, his wife, Annie, and the rest of the Glenn family, as well as the story of the town and the nation in the 1930s and '40s. She wanted it to be a place where people could participate and better understand the man, who, in 1962, piloted America's first manned orbital mission around the Earth.

Astronaut John Glenn

"I don't like house museums," Porter says. "We wanted to use the Glenn house in a different way." She eventually succeeded, and the John & Annie Glenn Historic Site, which opened in 2002, has since welcomed nearly 14,000 visitors.

From April through mid-November, the two-story, five bedroom house museum welcomes visitors of all ages, from busloads of senior citizens and grade school children, to random John Glenn admirers who happen to pass through town. Glenn, who donated his boyhood home for use as a museum, has Porter portrays Glenn's mother, Clara, during a tour. himself visited the site several times.

"It's been terribly gratifying to have it be successful," says Porter, who also serves as the museum's part-time, paid assistant director and living history coordinator.

"She's the heart and soul of this whole thing," says Don McKendry, the museum's executive director. "She's the one who created and brought to life the living history concept that makes this so unique. Without her inspiration, the program would not be what it is."

In everything she has done, Porter remains committed to the idea of making history accessible and understandable to people—and to making it fun.

"This is what I have done my whole life," Porter says. "You have to make things come alive or people are bored. And you do it through stories." ☆

Tidbits

Did You Know...

ILLINOIS—In 1962, bird housing in Griggsville (pop. 1,258) sprang up for purple martins to help curb the town's mosquito population. The town is known as the "Purple Martin Capital of the Nation," and aluminum bird apartments are manufactured there.

INDIANA—At 123 feet tall, Mount Baldy is among the tallest of the moving sand dunes at Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore, which encompasses 15,000 acres along the southern shore of Lake Michigan and is bordered by Michigan City (pop. 32,900) and Gary.

IOWA—The 2005 Pulitzer Prize for fiction was awarded to Marilynne Robinson, a teacher at the University of Iowa Writers' Workshop in Iowa City (pop. 62,220), for her novel Gilead about a dying 76-year-old Iowa minister reflecting on his life and his ancestors.

KANSAS—Garden City (pop. 28,451) first was known as Fulton, after brothers William and James Fulton, who founded the Finney County town in 1878. According to local legend, the town got its blooming name from a tramp who admired the garden of William's wife at the hotel they owned.

MICHIGAN—Leader Dogs for the Blind, an organization that trains seeing-eye dogs and their owners, is based in Rochester, Mich. (pop. 10,467), not Rochester, Minn., as reported in a previous edition of American Profile.

MINNESOTA—Switzer's Licorice, first made in 1888 in St. Louis, Mo., but discontinued by a new owner, was whipped back into production last November at a plant in Perham (pop. 2,559) by Michael and Joseph Switzer, grandsons of the original candy maker.

MISSOURI—Born in Lodz, Poland, in 1877, Max Factor opened a rouge and hair goods concession at the 1904 World's Fair in St. Louis, then moved to Los Angeles and perfected greasepaint for movie stars. Later, he created Pan-Cake makeup, which produced more natural effects.

NEBRASKA—More than 800 varieties of lilacs perfume the air each May at Meadowlark Hill, 14 miles southeast of Ogallala (pop. 4,930). Planted as a family hobby in 1969, the fragrant flowers have grown into one of the world's largest private lilac collections.

NORTH DAKOTA—Golfers today can follow the Lewis and Clark Golf Trail, which includes 200-plus holes that lie along the route blazed by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark during their expedition from 1804 to 1806.

OHIO—The nation's first planned railroad commuter town, Glendale (pop. 2,188) was incorporated in 1855. When the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad was being built, developers purchased land 14 miles north of Cincinnati to create the town.

SOUTH DAKOTA—The Black Hills National Forest in southwestern South Dakota and northeastern Wyoming encompasses 1.2 million acres of forests, meadows, canyons and ridges.

WISCONSIN—A pair of 17th-century explorers have a blog site, thanks to the Wisconsin Historical Society, whose staff posts excerpts from Father Jacques Marquette's journal and an interview given by Louis Joliet after their 1673 voyage down the Mississippi River. HEALTH UPDATE:

New all-natural formula boosts the male sex drive

A widely common problem

Medical experts estimate that between 10 and 15 million men in the United States experience some degree of poor sexual performance, including a weak sex drive and low sexual vigor. If you're one of these men and you wish you could strengthen your sex drive and performance level, now you can thanks to Procyon, the revolutionary new all-natural supplement that helps restore sexual ability, boost the male sex drive, and improve sexual performance in men.

An all-natural, private solution

Factors such as high-stress, a poor diet, prescription drugs, fatigue, and aging can weaken male sexual desire and ability, which is why Procyon is perfect for adult men of all ages. It's clinically tested to boost the male sex drive and improve sexual performance quickly and naturally. Procyon is unique because it works with the complex male system to help enhance and intensify sexual sensations, thereby making sex more pleasurable, satisfying, and longer-lasting.

Call now and you can get your own risk-free trial of Procyon (sent to you in plain, discreet packaging) so you can feel for yourself the powerful effect this revolutionary new breakthrough will have on your sex drive and ability.

A Purr-fect Holiday

A First-ever Kitten Angel Illuminated Christmas Tree!

This unique and exceptional illuminated tree is a Collectibles Market First Kittens know how to make the most of the holiday season—especially these little gifts from heaven. Now these kittens, filled with wonder (and a tiny bit of mischief) lend angelic beauty to this three-dimensional, illuminated mini-tree featuring the artwork of Jürgen Scholz.

Individually hand-crafted in delightful detail.

"A Purr-fect Holiday" Illuminated Christmas Tree is entirely hand-crafted to capture 27 precious kitten angels—with golden halos and glittering wings—getting into the holiday spirit as they play, nap and add their own festive touches to the tree. The tree illuminates from within with 60 LED lights at the flick of the switch. Includes a star treetopper, sparkling snow and wooden base.

A superb value! Order today.

"A Purr-fect Holiday" Illuminated Christmas Tree is attractively priced at $125*, payable in four convenient installments of $31.25, the first due before shipment. Arthritis Pain and Fibromyalgia Linked to Bowel Health

By Dr. Ron Gellatley

Did you know that arthritis and fibromyalgia can be linked to a waste-clogged bowel? In fact, you'll be astonished to learn that a lot of diseases that seem to have little to do with your bowel are actually associated with a bowel suffocating with undischarged wastes. These wastes can slowly poison your system and contribute to a variety of health problems.

Do you suffer from any of these complaints?

In addition, stomach problems, headaches, backaches, candida, low motivation, lack of energy and low immunity have been associated to bowel problems.

The trouble is that few people realize their bowel is clogged.

We think our problems have other causes. We do not understand that these wastes are affecting every cell and every tissue in our body. We cannot understand why we are tired all the time or why we have difficulty with moodiness and cannot cope. All too often our problems come from our bowel.

My new book, "Internal Health" (already a best seller in Australia) is packed with vital information:

- You will find natural ways to rid yourself of constipation.
- You will find simple ways to bear irritable bowel.
- Discover the supplements that help diverticulitis.
- Why put up with bloating and indigestion if you don't have to?
- Most people who are constipated take fiber. Find out why some fibers can make your condition worse, not better.
- Antibiotics seem to be given out for almost everything and you should find out what they can do to you.
- Why do children who take a lot of antibiotics seem to catch everything that is going around?
- Find out what we all must do after taking antibiotics. The book explains why eating yogurt will not do for you what you think it is doing.

You can find all this information and much more in this fascinating book.

If you want to feel better, if you want to have more energy, then this book is for you. I have discovered in over 15 years of practice that the major cause of loss of energy and various health problems is an internal system that is not working properly.

If you suffer with diverticulitis, constipation, irritable bowel and bloating and are concerned about other complaints associated with bowel problems, this book is a must read! You learn step-by-step how to supercharge your entire digestive system...and you can feel better than you have in years.

This amazing book is already a best seller in Australia having sold for $32.95 each. Right now as part of a special U.S. edition introductory offer, you can order a special press run of "Internal Health" for only $12.95 plus $2.00 shipping. It comes with a 90 day money back guarantee. If you are not 100% satisfied, simply return it for a full refund - no questions asked.

Order an extra copy for family or friend and SAVE. You can order 2 for only $20 total.

HERE'S HOW TO ORDER: Simply PRINT your name and address and the words "Internal Health" on a piece of paper and mail it along with a check or money order to: THE LEADER CO., INC., Publishing Division, Dept. IH826, P.O. Box 8347, Canton, OH 44711. VISA or MasterCard send card number and expiration date. Act now. Orders will be fulfilled on a first come, first served basis.

RECIPE: Tossed Salad with Apples and Cashews

Dressing:
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/3 cup cider vinegar
 1 teaspoon chopped onion
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 cup vegetable oil
 1 and 1/2 teaspoons poppy seeds

Salad:
 1 small head of lettuce
 5 ounces fresh baby spinach
 2 large Granny Smith apples, sliced very thin
 1/2 pound Swiss cheese, grated
 1 9.25-ounce tin cashews halves or pieces

Heat sugar, mustard, salt, vinegar and onion in a saucepan until sugar is dissolved. Do not boil. Add water, oil and poppy seeds, and chill slightly in refrigerator. Toss together lettuce, spinach, apples, cheese and cashews. Serve salad with dressing on the side.

Tips From Our Test Kitchen:
 Consider adding up to 1/2 cup chopped red onion to the dressing.
