Enthusiastically pumping his fist, Northville attorney Marc Corriveau celebrates his Michigan House of Representatives (20th District) victory with his wife, Wendy, and dozens of supporters Tuesday night in Livonia.

You can call it a victory for the believers.

Democratic candidate and Northville attorney Marc Corriveau stole the 20th District state representative victory - a traditionally Republican held seat.

"There was always a part of me that believed I could win," Corriveau said. "And even when I was told over and over I couldn't win ... I knew if I could spread my message about what it is I would be about and what it is I will do, I had a chance.

"I always believed, and that kept me going."

Corriveau, 35, said a door-to-door campaign reaching out to residents in the communities of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Wayne played a significant role.

"We spent the last six months letting everyone know what I was about," he said.

According to unofficial Michigan Secretary of State voting results, Corriveau defeated Northville Township supervisor Mark Abbo by 911 votes.

Michigan voting results show Corriveau won the race with 20,051 votes.

■ Upset stuns Republican candidate Abbo

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Mark Abbo made the call just after 11 p.m.

When polling results confirmed he lost the 20th District state representative race Tuesday, the Northville Township supervisor conceded the race by phone to his Democratic opponent Marc Corriveau. Abbo made the call from his post-election gathering at Laurel Manor in Livonia.

Meanwhile, Corriveau celebrated his triumph in traditionally Republican-majority territory with friends and family at the Quality Inn in Livonia.

"I just told him congratulations," Abbo said. "I called to wish him well."

"I will help him in any way that I can to represent the district."

Corriveau's victory puts Northville on the state legislative map. He will replace term-limited John Stewart, a Plymouth resident, who served three two-year terms. Corriveau and Abbo emerged from a field of eight 20th District candidates in the Aug. 8 primary.

Linda Burton is looking for soldiers.

A wife of a Vietnam veteran and a member of the Northville Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, Burton is searching for local soldiers serving in Iraq to send care packages to.

Three weeks before Thanksgiving, she and other ladies auxiliary members began collecting items to send to a Marine Corp. Reserve unit out of Selfridge.

Last week, the group filled 29 boxes full of goodies from home, including toiletries, personal care items and non-perishable food.

"The turn-out was wonderful," Burton said.

And the giving isn't over.

On Saturday, Dec. 2, the group plans to hold another drive to collect more things and send more boxes overseas. The drive will be held at the V.F.W. post located at 438 S. Main.

"We're trying to support our troops any way we can," Burton said. "A little box from home helps their morale."

Northville Township's police department is also making a donation to the troops in Iraq.

Northville Township Manager and former Marine Chip Snider said the police department plans to donate 35 bulletproof vests to the military by Veterans Day on Snider said that the township hasn't found a military group to give the vests to yet, but he hoped they would find one soon.

Abbo's 20th bid falls short

Abbo's primary campaign, said Corriveau picked up the pace after rising to the initial challenge.

"All (Abbo's) campaign resources were spent on the primary," Mandell said. "I think the general (election) was taken for granted."

"Plain and simple, all the credit goes to Marc Corriveau. He did a phenomenal job."

After the polls closed Tuesday, word of Democratic Gov. Jennifer Granholm's dominance over Republican challenger Dick DeVos cast a shadow over Abbo's post-election camp, which darkened into a final 911-vote loss.

"Am I disappointed? Absolutely," Abbo said. "It is what it is. It just happened to be a more challenging political environment than we've seen here before."

"Not to overstate the obvious, but I guess it just wasn't a Republican year."

Party affiliation aside, Mandell said the Northville community will benefit from having a local voice in Lansing.

"I don't think there's going to be a big difference in their approach to the economy," he said. "It's just one has a 'D' behind their name and one has an 'R.'"

"I wouldn't comment on any of the social issues — I think there is a difference there."

Abbo said he's not sure how to interpret the election results.

"I'm not going to speculate on that right now," he said. "We'll make that evaluation some time later."

With the election behind him, Abbo will continue as Northville township supervisor, his part-time role the past six years.

"Did I feel my qualifications were well-suited for Lansing? Absolutely," he said. "Right now, I've got a job to do in Northville Township, and I plan on fulfilling those responsibilities."

For The Governor's Race...

Corriveau said he is anxious to get started, focusing his efforts toward the areas of health care, education and jobs.

His economic goal includes creating an incentive plan to keep the manufacturing jobs Michigan has for the short-term while creating a long-term change toward becoming an education-based state.

He said he supports re-elected Gov. Granholm's higher education plan.

Corriveau's win reflects a state trend of democratic victories.

According to state election results, the Democrats claimed victory of the house for the first time since 1999.

Former state Sen. Robert Geake said Corriveau is the first democrat to represent Northville since 1970.

Corriveau said as a moderate candidate, he will work for the state's best interest.

"I think I've laid the foundation to reach across the aisle," he said. "I want to move Michigan forward. I'm excited to bring jobs to Michigan and find solutions for our health care system and not let politics get in the way."

Corriveau ran for the 20th District seat two years ago, but was defeated by current State Rep. John Stewart (R-Plymouth) who will give up his seat to term limits. State representatives are limited to three two-year terms in the House.

Corriveau will be officially sworn in with other new members of the state legislature January 2007.

"I'm thrilled, it's overwhelming," he said. "I'm extremely proud of my family, volunteers, supporters and everyone that believed in me."

SURPRISE GESTURE:

Mortgage lender says thanks with 5 free payments

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

While many homeowners are flinching at their mortgage payment, Tony and Annette Dubanik are "scot-free" — for five months.

The unlikely benefactor? Their mortgage lender. No strings attached. No gimmicks. A gift.

"We were quite surprised," Annette Dubanik said. "That was very, very nice."

Jim Wickham, chief executive officer of Lender Ltd., recently met the Dubaniks at Mackinnon's to share the news. He selected the couple because their refinance of a Novi rental property was one of 12 deals the October day that pushed Lender's residential mortgages closed passed the $5 billion milestone.

"We don't really know which one put us over that mark, but we put a lot of value on our repeat clients," Wickham said. "We just wanted to do the right thing. "This is a tough year."

Following business

Rick Shaffner, chief executive officer of Northville's Main Street Bank, echoed Wickham's observations about the toll of Michigan's struggling economy on their industry.

In 1996, he founded the mortgage company with Wickham in Northville on the spot where Shaffner operates his full-service bank today. He sold his share in 2002.

"What Jim's done is a very nice job of diversifying outside of Michigan," Shaffner said. "That's helped his growth a lot."

Lender, now headquartered in Hamburg, maintains a Northville office and still caters to local residents, Wickham said. Clients with southern second homes and relocating for other automotive-related employment opportunities prompted Lender to set up shop in Florida, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, he said.

Wickham said his growth plan for next year includes expanding offices outside their original home state.

Keeping in touch

Lender provides home loans through 16 different companies under one corporate umbrella. But as the operation grows, Wickham said his staff — many on board since the company was founded — emphasizes personal contact.

"We do business by referral only," Wickham said. "We don't do any mass marketing. It's just one customer telling another. The hard way."

The 36-year-old company chairman said the past year was the worst in Lender's history, but he still wanted to do right by his customers.

"We're very proud of the little things we do," Wickham said. "We know where we came from. At the end of the day, you can't go wrong doing the right thing."

The bottom line

Like the Dubaniks, Patrick Lee of Livonia similarly received unexpected support when the reservist re-upped for a second duty tour in Iraq. Lenders covered his mortgage payments for one year he was overseas, Wickham said.

Twenty three years ago, the Dubaniks resided in the Novi home they now lease, one of seven rental properties they own. Wickham's gesture represents about an $800 per month savings for them.

With their real estate investment, the couple watches for opportunities to refinance, in this case to increase their cash flow. Like their most recent paperwork, they discussed payment amounts and interest rate with their Lenders representative, Terry Brown.

"We've done so much business," Tony Dubanik said. "We've grown to trust her."

"We don't have to worry about what she tells us — at the begin-

Mortgage tips

Main Street Bank chief executive officer Rick Shaffner offers the following tips to consumers planning to finance a home purchase:

ning and the end — and it not matching up."

Shaffner said when the original company hit the $1 billion mark they made a big deal out of it.

"I think it's a great idea," he said. "It's a great gesture."

Annual home tour showcases five homes Nov. 17-18

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Santa's fur-trimmed red coat will be draped over a den chair.

The rest of his wardrobe — and hints of Mrs. Claus — will be upstairs in the master suite, part of the creative touches designers are sprinkling throughout Loran and Al Arevalo's 4,600-square-foot home.

The Heather Ridge Drive house in Steeplechase of Northville will be one of five featured during the Northville Community Foundation's Ninth Annual Holiday Home Tour.

The tour is from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17 and 18. Advance $18 tickets are available at Gardenviews, Changing Seasons, Community Financial, Main Street Bank and the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

"They're all beautiful to begin with," said Foundation president Shari Peters. "Our decorators go above and beyond to make glorious holiday wonderlands filled with unique ideas that can be incorporated into anyone's home."

"There's an idea for every one."

For the foundation

The home tour is the foundation's largest fund-raiser each year, Peters said, with proceeds helping to pay for anti-smoking programs in local schools, senior citizen gift baskets, scholarships, and other youth and senior needs.

"This is how we build our endowments," she said. "It means a lot to us for this to be a success."

Tickets, $18 in advance and $20 at the door, are limited, Peters said, adding she expects 800 visitors to attend.

Peters said she responded to previous tour guest requests for smaller homes, with this year's stops ranging from 3,200 to 4,900 square feet. The concepts the decorators have incorporated can be easily transferred to any home, she said.

"The homes are a delightful mix of French country, traditional and Mediterranean," Peters said. The condominium on this year's tour is "a must see" decorated by Corrine Yoho from Changing Seasons, she said.

For the fun of it

Homeowners pull out their own trims and bows, and coordinate themes with professional interior designers, Peters said.

Loran Arevalo hired Claudia Semach of Interiors by Claudia of Canton to bring her flair to the home she and her husband constructed a year ago.

During the three weeks leading up to the tour, Arevalo invited Semach and Diane Fisher of Dynamic Decor in Canton to settle in to prepare her home for the tour.

Home tour guests will see 15-year-old Adam Arevalo's bedroom transformed into a Hawaiian paradise and Loran's kitchen into a chocolate lover's heaven.

Peters said other home highlights are a black-and-white dining room, grape and wine Christmas trees and wreaths, and a golfer's retreat. David McKnight from Emerald City Designs in Farmington Hills is decking the halls of a three-story home with 15 trees adorned with ornaments to ostrich feathers.

"I'm always saying I love showing off this house because Claudia and Diane did such a good job," Arevalo said with a laugh. "Be careful what you wish for."

"It will be a lot of fun."

MUSIC OF REMEMBRANCE: Holocaust remembered in Northville concert

By Renee Saunders
STAFF WRITER

Voices of the Holocaust will reverberate in Northville Township.

The Plymouth Symphony is presenting its "Music of Remembrance" concert, featuring pieces written about and during the WWII Nazi massacre of 6 million Jews the show is at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 18.

Ann Arbor artist and Holocaust survivor Miriam Brisk is holding an on-stage talk with symphony conductor Nan Washburn at 7:15 p.m. before the show.

The concert includes Calm Seas and Prosperous Voyage Overture by Nazi-banned Jewish composer Felix Mendelssohn; Symphony No. 13, subtitled "Babi Yar", featuring a male chorus, composed by Shostakovich; and violinist Mark Schuppener will solo Three Pieces from Schindler's List for Violin and Orchestra, composed by John Williams.

"It's challenging work," said Nan Washburn, music director and orchestra conductor.

Washburn said the inspiration to commemorate the Holocaust originated from a request by the Plymouth Arts Council.

She said the arts council, in conjunction with the Plymouth Historical Society, Plymouth District Library, Plymouth Community School District and Friends of the Penn. were planning programming in rememlearn. They want to remember those lost in the Holocaust."

Jennifer Philpot-Munson, executive director of the Plymouth Symphony, said anyone who attends the concert will be surprised at the quality of music they hear.

She said the musicians are professionals who play for other ensembles as well.

"We're absolutely delighted to be able to perform in a venue that will showcase the experience and talent of our orchestra," she said. "Anyone who comes will feel as though they're hearing something for the first time."

TURKEY SHOOT: Annual hoop event combines food drive fun

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Dave DeMattos will swap a can of soup for a chance at a turkey.

Next Thursday, the Northville Parks and Recreation youth basketball coordinator will usher local families into the 13th annual Turkey Shoot when they shoot hoops for the entry fee of non-perishable goods. The event is 7-8 p.m. in the Hillside Middle School gym.

"The thing that's so neat, I see it every year — I see it from the perspective of the youth — they'll make the three baskets," DeMattos said. "Then, just to watch the expression on their face while they're watching their mom or dad trying to do it."

"It's just excitement. They've just got that gleam in their eye."

Time: 7-8 p.m.
Date: Thursday, Nov. 16
Place: Hillside Middle School Gym
Fee: Canned food donation for Northville Civic Concern

SOURCE: Northville Parks and Recreation Department

For a cause

Last November, 70 adult-and-youth pairs showed up to accumulate points with their free-throw prowess, DeMattos said. This year, he expects even more participants seeking prizes, bragging rights and a fun family evening.

"Hopefully, we'll have 85-95 teams participating this time," he said. "Each kid typically brings in two to three cans of soup."

"Last year, there were several dolies we took out to the parking lot for (Northville Civic Concern volunteers) to take to their storage site."

Marlene Kunz, Civic Concern director, said she appreciates the donations to the local emergency service agency, especially with holidays approaching and the impact of the sluggish economy on local families.

"At this point, everyone's concerned, the charities, the churches," Kunz said. "It's very beneficial. Anything we get is beneficial."

For the fun of it

Pre-registration began weeks ago, but most boys and girls and their teammates just show up the night of the Turkey Shoot, DeMattos said. The participants will start signing in about 6:15 p.m. then shoot around until the event starts at 7 p.m.

The competition is divided into three age categories: 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13, with one adult per team.

"We've had one to three kids in

Entry fee: non-perishable goods

The food and household items Turkey Shoot participants bring will be distributed to Northville Civic Concern clients.

Most-wanted items:

- soup
- canned fruit
- gift cards
- laundry soap
- canned meals, like stew
- healthy snacks, like individually packaged pretzels, no-nut granola bars and apple sauce

Registration: 6:15-7 p.m. Nov. 16

the same family competing," he said. "The mom's going to be with one, the dad's participating with the other. Or, it's an older sibling. We've even had grandparents."

During two rounds the youth and adult each shoot three free throws, earning four points for sinking it, two for banking the backboard or rim and one just for tossing it. Scorekeepers tally points and determine winners for each age category. Winners will be announced to the participants waiting in the stands.

Last year, equal scores necessitated shoot-outs between youths, DeMattos said.

"Then the crowd was really into it, watching the kids shoot to see who's going to break the tie."

tificates to cover three prizes for each age group, a turkey for first prize, a chicken roast for second and a pair of Cornish hens for third.

Last year, DeMattos saw participation numbers shoot up when he shifted the event to a Thursday evening from a Saturday afternoon in previous years.

"Changing the night really bolstered the numbers."

The event brings in food for Northville's local emergency service agency and brings families together for some friendly competition, DeMattos said.

"If we can get 70 teams or so out here again, it will be a great success."

CITY OF NORTHVILLE NOTEBOOK

City Meeting

Pro Tem Carolyn Avery
City Meeting, Nov. 20

Public comment

President John Colizzi told the Northville City Council the air units atop the new Our Lady of Victory School are too loud to the neighbors. City officials said they will look into the complaints.

President Greg Swanson said he will remove 17 of 39 trees in the new park at the corner of 8 Mile and Carpenter roads were marked for removal. Council member Tom Allen said he will review the improvement plan with the city's architect Marc Russell. Council member Russ Dore asked about the proposed entrance to the Commons as part of Taft Commons. Public Works Director Tom Gallogly invited him to review the plan in his office.

Funding shared services

Council unanimously adopted a resolution related to parks and other costs shared with Northville Township. The municipality agreed not to commit to support ongoing maintenance services with out first conferring with the Shared Services Committee, the township board and city council.

Parking credits granted

Council unanimously agreed to sell 25 parking credits at $5,000 per space to Lee Holland to accommodate ordinance requirements of the 6,400-square-foot retail-office building he plans to build at 115 E. Dunlap St. Council also said the city could reconsider the sale conditions pending the outcome of discussion of sharing parking and driveway access with neighboring businesses.

Preparing for projects

Council unanimously agreed to spend $30,088 to hire Schleede Hampton Associates for geotechnical and materials engineering services for the Taft Road reconstruction and Beal Street bridge replacement projects planned for next summer.

Sewer to be replaced

Council unanimously agreed to pay up to $32,100 to McNeely and Lincoln Associates of Livonia for planning the final design for installation of a new sewer line in the parking lot behind the Marquis Theatre.

Removing sidewalk snow

Council unanimously agreed to pay $15,997 to Weingartz of Farmington Hills for a Kubota utility vehicle the city public works department will use for sidewalk snow removal.

Adding a tink claw

Council unanimously agreed to pay $12,800 to Wolverine Tractor and Equipment Company of Detroit for a tink claw the city public works department will use for picking up leaves from the street and placing them into trucks.

Buying bus trips

Council unanimously agreed to hire J.R. Charters of Novi to provide bus transportation for Northville Parks and Recreation Department Cedar Point, ski and snowboard club and summer day camp trips.

Special meeting set

Council unanimously agreed to set a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 27, to review the conceptual downtown design plan. Also expected to attend: the city's design consulting firm, Grissim, Metz, Andrese Associates; the planning commission, and the Northville Downtown Development Authority board.

On the consent agenda ...

Other unanimous council action included:
 • appointment of Charles Jerzycki to the planning commission to replace Tim Conder.
 • setting a 7:30 p.m. public hearing Monday, Nov. 20 to receive input on the proposed use of 2007 block grant funds from Wayne and Oakland counties.

• approval of placing temporary signs advertising a Cub Scout food drive Nov. 4-11.

• approval of the request from the Northville Mothers' Club and Northville Public Schools to decorate and light a large evergreen tree in Bandshell Park for the 10th annual All Aglow program Dec. 8.

• approval of the Northville Chamber of Commerce's request to hold a holiday lighted parade downtown at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 17, including closing several streets.

• approval of the Northville Chamber of Commerce's request to hold the 25th annual Christmas Walk downtown from noon-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 18-19.

• approval of the Northville Rotary Club's request to hold a Goodfellows newspaper drive from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9 at downtown intersections.

35th District Court costs

Council member Tom Swigart told the council he will serve on a committee comprised of city and township officials from Northville, Plymouth and Canton to look at 35th District Court costs.

Compiled by staff writer
 Maureen Johnston.

Local artist saves Detroit history

Restores original WWII Jeep sign

By Renee Saunders
STAFF WRITER

Kyle Campbell wanted to find who painted the five-story American Flag at the Marquis Theater in downtown Northville.

His company, the DeMattia Group, was undertaking a project transforming an historical Detroit building from a former vehicle showroom into lofts.

The company wanted to preserve the historical value of the building, located at 444 W. Willis, but an artist's touch was needed to do it.

"We checked out the signature, looked it up on the Internet and we found him," Campbell said.

That was how Northville artist Jeff Von Buskirk landed a commission job restoring the original 1917 outdoor sign for the Willys-Overland Motor Company, the birthplace of the Jeep.

Willys-Overland was formed in 1908 and produced Jeeps that became popular during World War II.

The company developed a civilian Jeep line in 1945.

Von Buskirk has already gone to work in restoring this piece of automotive history.

He has washed the surface of the sign and is reworking the lettering.

It will take him about a month to finish, which is about average for a project of this scale, he said.

It took him a month and a half to do the 9/11 flag on the back of the Marquis that caught the DeMattia Group's eye.

"I really appreciate that the developer is trying to preserve this icon, this little piece of history," he said. "They're making an effort, and it's great to be a part of it."

Von Buskirk said he was never really proactive in becoming an artist when he was younger. He apprenticed with two artists in Plymouth before he began working professionally 14 years ago, and things for him just snowballed from there.

"I learned the business from them," he said. "I always thought I would be a doctor."

Along with public art, Von Buskirk has also done murals inside businesses including the GM World Headquarters, Marriott and Hyatt hotels and inside local Northville homes.

He is also showing his work at Sherrus Gallery, 109 N. Center St. in Northville, throughout the month.

Von Buskirk said his gallery art tends to be modern, pop art.

"I use a lot of bold colors, you might say," he said. "When I do gallery work, it's more personal."

CITY OF NORTHVILLE POLICE

Facing a felony

A 35-year-old Louisville man faces up to five years in prison on a concealed weapons charge after his Oct. 26 arrest by Northville police.

James McCarthy Lockett was held in Wayne County Jail, pending $10,000 bond, awaiting preliminary exam this week on felony and misdemeanor charges, Northville police officials said.

Police reports indicated officers arrested Lockett after he stopped in front of a house in the 200-block of Wing Street, where he allegedly later admitted to police he did not know the occupant. Police questioned him after he allegedly exited his vehicle and staggered toward the porch, police reports said. Police reported a computer check showed outstanding warrants in Livonia and Dearborn, and two license suspensions in Michigan.

Police reports indicated a preliminary breath test showed Lockett's blood alcohol level at .33, above the state's legal limit of .08, and high enough for the officers to call emergency rescue personnel. While Lockett was transported to Providence Hospital, the officer who searched his car found an unloaded .32-caliber Smith and Wesson handgun, the report said. Police officials said Lockett was arraigned Oct. 27 on a felony count of carrying a concealed weapon, misdemeanor counts of drunk driving and driving with a suspended license. If convicted, court documents show he faces up to five years or $2,500 on the weapons charge, and other potential fines and jail time for the other charges.

White pickup sought

Northville police are on the lookout for a white pickup truck involved in a recent collision at Beck and Eight Mile roads. Police reports indicated the driver was last seen Oct. 23 after turning eastbound onto Eight Mile after crashing into a green Nissan Sentra headed northbound on Beck Road. The 24-year-old Canton woman driving the car was not injured, but her car was towed from the scene, the report said.

Northville officers sent a bulletin to neighboring police departments advising them to be on the lookout for a white truck with green transfer paint.

Twice targeted

Northville police are continuing to investigate an Oct. 24 burglary of the American Legion at 100 W. Dunlap St., the second break-in at the club in 10 days.

Police reports indicated the suspect netted $1,146 from two poker machines, after entering through the window on the east side of the building. Officers reported the 61-year-old Legion employee who closed the club Oct. 23 discovered the theft when she reported to work the following day.

Too young to drink

An 18-year-old Novi man is expected in court today on underage drinking charges.

Northville police reports indicate officers arrested the man last Friday after stopping the driver of the car he was riding in for a broken turn-signal cover near Taft and Eight Mile roads. After observing the passenger while interacting with the 18-year-old Northville woman driving the car, officers asked the man to take a preliminary breath test.

After results showed a .17 blood alcohol count, officers arrested the man and transported him to the Northville Township police station where he was held pending bail.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP POLICE

Disturbing the peace

A 53-year-old woman living on the 41000 block of Windsor Court called police because her 29-year-old male neighbor was playing music too loud on Oct. 25. Officers responded to the scene to confront the man over the music. When he answered the door, officers observed he was intoxicated.

The officer talked to him about the music. He told the officer that it was his right of freedom and happiness to play music at a level of his choosing. Shortly after the discussion, the man agreed to turn his music down.

Juvenile complaint

A 36-year-old Northville Township woman told police she watched a bus driver push her 5-year-old son into a seat at about 8:30 a.m., Oct. 25. After seeing the incident, she followed the bus to his school.

Police located the 53-year-old bus driver at her home on Oct.

25. She told the officer that the Northville School District Transportation Department suspended her indefinitely. She told the officer she repeatedly asked the child to sit before taking him gently by the shoulder and putting him in a seat. The child was not injured and he took the bus to school the morning after the incident, according to the police report. His mother does not wish to press charges. The case is closed.

Stolen identity

A 53-year-old woman living on the 1500 block of Merion told police on Oct. 25 that someone was using her information to open false credit accounts. She said she was contacted by Wells Fargo Financial on Oct. 20 in regards to a credit application someone submitted with her name in which her address could not be verified. She put a freeze on the account.

She told police she was contacted a second time on Oct. 24 by a different creditor. Capital

One, in regards to another account opened in her name. The woman told police she wishes to press charges if the suspect is identified. The case is open.

Larceny of construction equipment

A 36-year-old Oxford man called police at about 8 a.m. Oct. 14, when he discovered $3,500 in construction equipment taken from a site, located on the 4900 block of Rainbow Lane. Two aluminum pump jacks and an aluminum brake that bends metal were taken from the scene, according to the police report. There are no witnesses to the incident and there are no suspects. The case is closed.

Malicious destruction of property with an auto

About $1,000 in damage was done to the second hole green at Dun Rovin Golf Course, located at 39430 Dun Rovin on Oct. 9.

Police were called to the scene where a Northville man discovered that someone had driven onto the property and caused deep tire ruts on the grass. Police photographed the damage. There are no witnesses or suspects to the incident. The case is closed.

Unlawful driving away of an automobile

A 21-year-old man living on the 20000 block of Northville Place called police at about 8:30 a.m., Oct. 17 when he discovered his 2007 Yamaha motorcycle, valued at $9,300, was stolen. He said he last saw it when he parked it in the lot at his apartment complex at 11 p.m., Oct. 16. There were no anti-theft devices on the bike, and officers observed that there were no broken materials near where the motorcycle was last seen. The case is open.

Students learn from alternating school schedule

high school was on the hill, currently Hillside Middle School.

"We discussed it for months until we decided on the value of switching," he said.

Now instead of trekking through six to seven classes a day, each under an hour in length, Northville High School students' schedules consist of four 87-minute class periods each day.

At the high school, students enroll in seven classes and one seminar period totaling eight classes broken up into an alternating schedule.

School officials said at the end of each student's four-year academic career, they end up taking eight extra classes than a traditional schedule would allow.

"With an 87-minute period you can really run the gamut," said Robert Watson, Northville High School principal.

Watson said, for example, in science class students can experience a lab from start to finish, something impossible with short-class times.

Other opportunities, he said, include allowing students to begin their homework at the end of a class period so they can ask teachers for help.

"It really allows us to go deeper into learning," Watson said. "They have the curricular opportunities to do more."

Sophomore Marissa Allen loves the lighter load.

Like Spence, she has one backpack for her first four "A day" classes and another pack for her three "B day" classes and seminar.

She said it has helped her back tremendously.

Allen said she doesn't like it when teachers don't use the entire time period wisely, but relishes having extra time during the day for homework, something she said is a necessity when involved in extra-curricular activities.

The alternative: starting homework about 9 p.m.

Watson said life is a barrage of activities for today's students and having four areas to focus on in one day is beneficial for students with exceedingly hectic schedules.

Rezmierski said more resources are involved with running a block schedule.

"It is more expensive to run a block program because it has a lower student ratio," he said.

Rezmierski did not have specific costs.

Some Michigan districts have opted to eliminate the block as an answer to sour economic times.

Farmington Public Schools is working toward switching to trimesters from the block schedule as a cost-savings measure.

Rezmierski said during economic difficult times, all options are examined, however, plans to eliminate Northville's block schedule are not in place.

Watson feels the block schedule is a great benefit for the district and its students.

"The important thing to me is it is happening," he said. "It is a successful way to work for them."

"I think it has a great deal with how successful our students are."

Seminar

Every Northville High School student is assigned an 87-minute seminar period each year. Each seminar is composed of students in varying grades and serves as a starting point for that class time.

School officials said after each student checks in with their teacher at the beginning of the hour, they are then allowed to travel to pre-approved locations.

Students may visit other teachers for class guidance, meet with their peers for group projects, take advantage of leadership opportunities or stay in their seminar class to complete homework assignments.

Robert Watson, principal of Northville High School, said the school also uses the period for state testing and enrichment opportunities, including University speakers, yearbook photos, historical film showings and club organizational meetings.

Watson said another seminar perk is that students have the same seminar teacher freshman through senior year, adding familiarity for all four years.

"It is an awesome set-up for kids," Watson said. "It helps them make those connections every day."

District officials scheduled to conclude preliminary growth talks this winter

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Northville Public Schools officials are close to ending a near year-long process of resolving future district growth.

School officials are hoping to present their analysis to the public late next month or January.

During a series of public presentations, board members and district administrators will present projected growth numbers with scenarios on how to accommodate the forecasted students.

Joan Wadsworth, Northville Public Schools Board of Education secretary, said board members want resident input

In return, board members will be prepared to discuss district growth, how long it will last and how much varying options will cost.

"Rather than looking at options, we're looking at outcomes," said Marilyn Price, Northville Public Schools Board of Education vice president.

Board members said part of the process will include determining the maximum capacity for each school building and utilizing portables.

Regardless of chosen options, school officials said redistricting will be part of the solution.

According to enrollment forecast documents prepared by Education Services, Inc., the district is expected to receive 7,071 students during the 2007-08 school year. For this year, 6,821 students were projected.

The district's official September student count day yielded 6,854 students, officials said.

Pinning down reliable estimates has been a large focus of the board's discussions.

"We know our projected enrollment did not materialize as expected this year," said David Bolitho, Northville Public Schools assistant superintendent for administrative services.

The district lost 122 projected students, nearly 2 percent of enrollment, he said.

Dr. Bruce Van Deusen, president of Education Services, Inc., said 106 students did not materialize at the kindergarten through fifth grade level and 16 in grades seven-12.

Van Deusen said the economy is not to blame for the decrease in Northville's growth.

"The economy would not make that differential," he said.

Van Deusen said he attributes the decline to district uncertainty caused by actions like the kindergarten relocation plan, a two-year solution to district growth by removing kindergarten and first grade from Ridge Wood Elementary School.

For a number of factors, Van Deusen said he believes the increasing enrollment slump will pass.

During their public forums, board members said they will also be prepared to answer questions — including utilizing Cooke School and using Early Childhood Center classrooms — that surfaced during the district's February $71.67 million defeated bond campaign addressing growth and district-wide improvements.

STAGNANT SALARIES:

School district administrators take voluntary wage freezes

Part of an ongoing series featuring Northville Public Schools salaries.

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

School district administrators asked for a pay freeze last month, citing economic downturns as the reason.

"This is my fourth step freeze in 16 years," said Leonard Rezmierski, Northville Public Schools superintendent.

Rezmierski said administrators will also change to Community Blue PPO II health insurance at the beginning of the year providing further savings to the district.

David Bolitho, Northville Public Schools assistant superintendent, said in addition to a step freeze, district cabinet members also took a voluntary salary percentage freeze, keeping current base salaries the same as last year.

School officials said each district administrator has an individual contract stipulating how salaries and benefits are set.

New administrators, including assistant superintendent Mary Kay Gallagher and executive director of special services Lynne Mossoian, have one-year probationary contracts.

Rezmierski, assistant superintendent David Bolitho and business and finance director John Street have three-year contracts expiring June 30, 2008.

The superintendent's current contract base salary for the 2005-06 school year is $133,231, with compensation for years through June 30, 2008, established by the board of education.

Rezmierski's 2006-07 salary remains the same, after imposing the voluntary wage freeze.

In addition to higher education, longevity and salary option payments, the school district also contributes 3 percent of the superintendent's compensation to a tax-sheltered annuity.

Other items listed in Rezmierski's contract include:

- term life insurance in an amount equal to two times his annual salary;
- 18 sick days a year with an unlimited accumulation of sick days, with no payment for unused sick days upon termination of employment;
- 22 annual vacation days, which the district will compensate the superintendent for a maximum of 33 earned unused vacation days at the end of employment at his per diem salary rate for his final year of service;

- personal business days;
- payment of professional dues;
- an automobile and its cost for maintenance, repair and insurance;
- annual physical examination;
- district provided contributions in the Member Investment Program under the Michigan Public School Employee Retirement System;
- all ordinary and necessary expenses to his position or a monthly $500 expense allowance; and

Our fundamental purposes are to enhance the lives of our readers, nurture the home towns we serve and contribute to the business success of our customers

City: Remember our veterans

Veterans Day returns Saturday as a national opportunity to acknowledge the contributions of the tens of millions of Americans who have served in the U.S. armed forces during the past century. The tradition dates back to the day World War I ended on Nov. 11, 1918. Three years later, an unknown soldier from that war was buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Pause Saturday: Veterans Day is a day to remember those who have served.

Schools: Chopping block

We applaud the district for its decision to switch the high school to a block schedule nearly 10 years ago. Focusing time and resources toward the academic enrichment of Northville students is a win-win for the district and the community. Students utilize the schedule for academic opportunities, community service experiences and the chance to explore multiple electives and interests. During hard economic times, we believe the district should continue standing behind the block schedule for Northville High School students.

Township: Time out to think

Northville Township Planning Commission's decision to not vote on the Highwood proposal means one thing: Commission members are paying close attention to the details and resident concerns. During public hearing, developers Schostak Brothers and Real Estate Interest Group submitted a well thought out and well planned proposal for development of the former psychiatric hospital. After a long meeting the plan wasn't passed or denied. Township officials requested more information and more time to think about it before passing it off to the board for approval. That means extra work for everybody involved. And it also means that these appointed commissioners are taking their time to get it right.

The votes are being counted as this column is being written, so I have no idea who won or lost. But regardless, I think this election will mark an important turning point in our political history. Here's why.

Liberalism dominated our politics between 1932 and the early 1970s. Nationally, it was the era of Social Security, Medicare, the Civil Rights movement. In Michigan, it was the age of our great auto companies and the United Automobile Workers union, which started out as management's adversary and ended up its handmaiden.

Then, from 1980 to 2006, conservatism dominated. Nationally, the great achievements were: Winning the Cold War, reinvigorating the economy through tax cuts and deregulation, and resetting the cultural agenda to emphasize families and individual responsibility. In Michigan, it was the era of John Engler, tax cuts and welfare reform.

In between were the 1970s, a transitional period, marked by no dominating political philosophy. Political allegiances moved every which way, with liberals drifting away and conservatives feeling gathering strength, which was temporarily sidetracked by Watergate.

Voters were confused, cynical about our political system itself, searching for a new way but uncertain about what it might be.

The period we are now entering feels a lot like that. Conservatives have run out of ideas, with little new or interesting to propose, and they've lost their intellectual muscle. With one party running Washington, we're now seeing the scandals that always mark the decay of a movement. The 19th century English statesman, Lord Acton, had it right when he famously wrote: "Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Nationally, the Bush Administration's combination of an ill-judged and astoundingly ill-managed war in Iraq with a leadership culture of secretive arrogance has antagonized people who otherwise might have put up with ballooning national deficits and radical tax cuts for the very rich. Karl Rove's core political strategy of subordinating policy to the politics of riling up the rabid base has backfired at last by driving away the less ideological majority.

In Michigan, the intellectual emptiness of this year's campaign - sex offenders, Canadian trash and U.S. Sen. John Kerry are the big problems, according to the political ads on TV - highlights the sad contrast between what's important and what's mere theater.

The fundamental fact is that we are living through a wrenching transition from an unsustainable business model for the auto industry. And as this happens, our political masters have been busy themselves not solving the problems but in re-arranging the deck chairs of the Titanic ... all the while passionately blaming each other for the iceberg.

When they're not attacking Dick DeVos's wealth, Democrats seem paralyzed at the thought of actually encouraging the transformation of Michigan's economic and social base.

Relax the grip the UAW has on the auto industry? Heavens, no! Attack out of control fringe benefits and pensions for public sector employees and their unions? Certainly not!

Think seriously about charter schools as a remedy for Detroit's imploding public school system? Not on your life!

Too much of Michigan's prevailing cultural makeup tolerates attitudes of dependency, entitlement, risk aversion and disinterest in lifelong learning. Yet too many Democrats figure the old ways and the old attitudes worked OK for a long time, and all we need to fix things is a new President and repeal of free trade laws.

As to the Republicans, their steady rightward drift has turned off a lot of moderate people who otherwise might vote GOP. An early tip off: The defeat in the August primary of moderate Republican Congressman Joe Schwarz of Battle Creek by the noisy and ineffectual right-winger Tim Walberg. Dick DeVos' rigid views on abortion, stem cell research, intelligent design and cutting taxes without much attention to the consequences didn't help.

Sen. Shirley Johnson, R-Royal Oak, one of the most experienced and sensible Republican office holders, was quoted recently by political reporter Peter Luke: "I think everyone is getting sick over how far right the Republican Party is headed."

The national Gallup Poll provides evidence of how right she is. Since the first quarter of 2005, voters identifying with the Republican Party have fallen from 35.3 per cent to 31.1 per cent, while those identifying as Democrats have risen from 32.8 per cent to 35 per cent. Independents have risen from 30.6 per cent to 32.5 per cent.

What this further indicates is that neither political party is particularly coherent or compelling to the majority of folks who are, after all, usually in the middle of the road. These are normal people who distrust both intense partisanship and the fierce glare of the ideologues. What they want is good places to raise their children, good schools to ready them for global competition and a government that competently delivers services at reasonable cost.

Such people are casting about for a new way of politics.

They find unconventional candidates like Republican John McCain and Democrat

Barack Obama appealing, not conventional political figures like U.S. Sen. Hillary Clinton or her GOP counterpart, Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist.

Such normal voters are not particularly attracted by the standard political divisions between left and right. They are inclined instead towards a past-future orientation. They will be naturally attracted to anyone who can replace the transactional claims of old-line special interests with a transformational vision of how people can work together to improve both their society and their lives.

For years, our political system has been dominated by ideologues of both the right and the left. This has left the disconnected moderates frustrated and out in the cold.

Now, there is talk about the rise of the "radical center," made up of voters moderate in attitude but passionate in their hopes, and who have been radicalized by their dislike of the present political system.

As this year's campaign went on, increasingly I heard people saying "It's time for a change." They're right - and by change, they need a whole lot more than the usual switch from Tweedledum to Tweedledee. We are talking about a realignment in which the politics of the future replace those of the past. And I wouldn't be surprised if this election marks the turning point from talk to reality.

Thanks for a hot party

The Northville Fire Department was pleased to host our annual community Halloween Party on Oct. 31. We would like to acknowledge the generous contributions of Parmenter's Cider Mill and the Casterline Funeral Home, which provided the cider and donuts our guests enjoyed.

We would also like to thank all of those who provided cash donations, which make it possible for us to host this annual event. The weather was fine, the turnout large and the costume contest reached new heights of creativity.

Our thanks to all who participated, and helped to make the night a success.

Lieutenant Stephen J. Oll
City of Northville Fire Department

Kerry remark expected

Kerry's remarks about the quality of our military makes him a real joker but should be no surprise. These views remain indicative of a tightly held view of the controlling Liberal Democrat elites who dupe too many Americans into being the grown-ups providing solutions for serious problems for which they seem confused and otherwise quite clueless..

Get to the art of the matter

Saturday was an entire day of free music at Orchestra Hall in Detroit -- the fourth annual Macy's Day of Music at The Max -- featuring 12 hours of jazz, classical, folk, blues and more. I caught the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Hot Club of Detroit and a stunning young blues guitarist before deciding to head up to the Detroit Institute of Arts for the Annie Liebowitz photo exhibit. Unfortunately, the museum was closed for some reason.

Living in Charlotte and now New Hudson, and covering Novi for four years, I didn't get many opportunities to experience art. Until now, that is.

Northville is my kind of town. Several galleries, music in the gazebo, a theatre and even an upcoming symphony performance at the high school.

One of the first things I did as editor was to walk around downtown and introduce myself to various businesses, including the galleries, that I haven't met yet. (I used to think I had the best office view in Northville; that was until I saw the Swearingen loft-like space.) There's some pretty incredible art here, folks, if you haven't had the chance to check it out yet.

My last stop was the Northville Art House, just west of the post office. As Carol Kendra, a Northville Arts commissioner said, it's a "one-of-a-kind find - right in your own backyard."

Cal Stone

Indeed.

The facility held the official grand opening of its store last week during the first Fridays Art Walk, and visitors also got a chance to meet artist-in-residence Anita Bates. The Wayne State University instructor is working on large contemporary paintings in mixed media, which she describes as "abstraction steeped in spirituality." Bates was hosting an open studio Friday where visitors were able to talk to her and see her working.

The Art House store may look small, but it's filled with lots of great gift items like blown glass ornaments, jewelry and hand-knit scarves, produced by over 36 local artists in a multitude of different media.

"The variety and quality level of everything in the store is amazing," said Kendra. "Plus, you can be proud of the fact that your purchase goes to support some of the great programming in the community, including concerts, public art around town, art classes and more."

To that end, the Art House needs your help, and there's several ways to do so.

First, you can support it by becoming a member for as little as $25.

Second, you can volunteer to work four hours a month at the store. Hours are 1-7 p.m. Thursday; 4:30-8:30 p.m. Friday; 12:30-4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. It's located at 215 W. Cady.

Third, support the arts by buying a $12 tote bag with a painting of downtown Northville by Darcy Denou. She and Katherine Wickersham are some of the local artists this newspaper will be doing features on in upcoming editions.

So in this post-election time, after you've had your fill of yard signs, mud-slinging ads and campaign promises, take a break and enjoy some of the culture Northville has to offer.

Fun math

(Four photos below) Mrs. Treadwell-Smith's first grade class (Parkview Elementary) carved pumpkins Monday. With this activity, they estimated and measured the circumference of the pumpkins, estimated and counted the amount of seeds in the pumpkins, and worked in cooperative groups to design a face.

ALLERGY & ASTHMA
Presented by Michael S. Rowe, M.D., F.A.C.P., C.C.R.I.
FOOD ALLERGY BASICS

Food allergies are a growing concern among parents, physicians, and educators in the United States. Approximately 12 million Americans suffer from some sort of food allergy, with seafood being the most common trigger (6.9 million) and nuts (3.3 million) the second. There is no cure for food allergy, and strict avoidance of the offending food is the only way to avoid a reaction. Even trace amounts of a food that causes a reaction can result in a body's negative response. Patients must be careful to know the ingredients in what they eat, as triggers are often hidden in candies, trail mixes, and sauces. Most patients who have a reaction do so after eating food that they thought was safe.

This helpful column is important for all who suffer with allergies. Call the ALLERGY & ASTHMA CENTER OF MICHIGAN to arrange for a consultation. We are caring and professional, and offer knowledgeable and sound advice. If you need to see a specialist, call for an appointment with Dr. Rowe. We have worked with and helped many families over the years and provide a comfortable and reassuring environment. We are conveniently located at 24120 Meadowbrook Road, S11: 201, Novi. Call (248) 473-6400. New patients are welcome. "The Caring Allergist Who Gets Results."

PS: Light foods account for 90% of all food allergies: milk, egg, peanut, tree nuts, fish, shellfish, and wheat.

Old horses learn new tricks

Rock show educates, entertains enthusiasts

By Jennifer Sullivan
 GANNETT NEWS SERVICE

Nancy Harm's Arabian horse Harmony Tarifa, is proof that even old horses can learn new tricks.

Harm and Tarifa will be on hand at the North American Horse Spectacular Nov. 10 through Nov. 12 at the Rock Financial Showplace in Novi. The all breeds horse expo features demonstrations, seminars, and more than 250 vendor booths.

Harm, a Salem Township resident, began trick training only four years ago, after Tarifa injured his foot.

"He was feeling down, so I taught him to fetch a small rubber cone toy," Harm said.

She said it took about 800 practice tries before he got it, but with patience, love, and plenty of tasty treats, Tarifa mastered his first trick at age 15. Tarifa is now at the point where he is learning to distinguish different colors as well as letters (right now he is working on H and T, his initials).

Harm, who has a background in educational psychology, says she applied the same principles used in preschool to teaching horses, and with the use of positive reinforcement training, has been able to teach Tarifa over 60 tricks.

One of the most impressive tricks is Tarifa's ability to paint. Although he has been painting for three years, Harm said Tarifa is now beginning to actually choose his own colors. Harm is planning to raffle off one of his paintings at the expo.

From 5 p.m. until 6 p.m. Nov. 10, Harm will be discussing the latest in animal research and how horses learn. She'll give trick training demonstrations from 6 p.m. until 7 p.m. Nov. 11, and from 10:30 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. Nov. 12, she'll be talking to audiences about "despooking" horses and tips on participating in parades.

Among other tricks, patrons can expect to see Tarifa rope a plastic calf, bow to the audience and play basketball.

Admission to the North American Horse Spectacular is $10 for adults and free for children 12 and under, with a $5 parking fee. For additional hours and information on the event, call 800-878-5131 or www.horsespectacular.com.

Holiday cards and invitations a breeze at Nagi Printing

Nagi Printing in Novi makes it easy to send out beautiful, personalized Christmas cards. The task of writing out holiday cards is simplified with a new online feature at Nagi Printing. And it's available for families that only need 25 cards, or businesses that send several thousand.

"This saves a lot of time," said Paul Borland, owner. "And it's actually fun to look at cards on our Web site."

Tom Borland of Novi's Nagi Printing

Custom holiday cards

A huge selection of holiday cards are available at www.nagiprinting.com. Customers can pick out favorite designs, choose a greeting, and even choose an ink color. Family photos can even become part of the card. The cards are available pre-printed with a name and personalized message. Even the envelopes can be printed. These time savers make sending Christmas cards more feasible during the busy holiday season.

And it's not too late to get started. The cards can be delivered within a couple days, so they can be mailed in plenty of time for Christmas. Those who are sending out holiday party invitations can find exactly what they are looking for at Nagi Printing. The Web site offers all sorts of cards, including birth announcements and invitations for all sorts of special events.

Friendly customer service

Businesses and families have long relied on the impeccable customer service at Nagi Printing. Borland bought the business several years ago after it served the community for 30 years as Hallmark Printing. It's a place where care is taken on every job, so that each turns out perfectly — whether a small or large order. At Nagi, there is a full staff that can provide help during the ordering process and once the order is completed. Borland and his staff are people that can be counted on to fix any problems that might come up along the way.

"We work with you to make sure that every order turns out just right," said Borland.

Lovely wedding invitations

Nagi Printing is the perfect place to put together beautiful wedding invitations that set the right tone for a memorable event. Brides can bring the family in to look through books of invitations, and get a feel for what type of invitation would be best. Then a bride can take her time looking at hundreds of beautiful invitations and bridal stationary online at www.nagiprinting.com. Instead of trying to piece together something in a store, a bride can experiment with different wording and ink colors and see how it looks on several designs. All of the selections can be saved and visited again when the bride and groom are ready to make a final decision. And those who want to bring family in for the final purchase in the store can still do that. It's the ultimate in flexibility.

"Brides are so busy, so we want to make it easier for them to choose invitations," said Borland. "Those who want to do the whole thing in the store can, but those who like to shop online can save a lot of time by doing that and make sure the invitations are exactly how they like."

Professional services

Nagi Printing is a full-service printer for business and personal needs. Popular services include copies and printing in black and white or color plus photo prints from digital cameras. All business printing is available, from business cards and letterhead to brochures and presentation packages.

Nagi Printing is located at 40500 Grand River, between Meadowbrook and Haggerty Roads in Novi. The store is open 8:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information call (248) 474-9362 or go to www.nagiprinting.com.

EXPERIENCE GAINED

Young Mustangs get a taste of state competition

By Jeff Theisen
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Saturday's state cross country meet was all about experience for head coach Nancy Smith.

The Mustangs finished in 27th place out of 28 teams, but all but one of the Mustang runners has a chance to return next year. Getting healthy will also be a key for the Mustangs, as they ran without one of their top runners, Jenny Murphy, who was injured.

"I think we'll be better than we were this year," Smith said "I'm excited."

The senior, Mary Sprader, led the Mustangs with a 49th-place finish overall in 19:07. She was the 37th-place runner as far as team scores.

"It was intense," Sprader said "This is the best way I could've possibly gone out. I just got my fastest time ever. It's just unbelievable.

"This is the best team that we've had in such a long time."

Smith was extremely proud of how her senior ended her career.

"She did an amazing job," she said. "She wanted to break her career best, which was 19:30."

Lindsay Hagan, a junior, finished off her first year as a cross country runner with a 103rd-place finish, 76th team scoring (19:37.3).

Sophomores Stephanie Hamel and Kelsey Katynski were next in for Northville. Hamel was 180th overall, 140th team (20:23.0), and Katynski was next in with the same time.

Junior Anna Hardenbergh ended the scoring with a 160th-place finish and 202nd overall (20:55.9).

Northville tops Northern in Overtime

By Jeff Theisen
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

The Northville basketball team had an up-and-down week.

The up came in a 42-36 overtime win against Walled Lake Northern on Nov. 2.

The Mustangs (11-8) tied their largest output in a quarter with an 11-point performance in overtime. Walled Lake Northern led 8-7 after one quarter and 19-18 at the half.

Both teams added six points in the third, before the Mustangs tied the game with a 7-6 edge in the fourth.

Chelsea Atzinger poured in 13 points to lead the Mustangs. Allison Holmes pitched in 11 points. Sarah Stern scored nine points and dished out four assists.

"We did a great at the free throw line in overtime. It was the difference in the game," said Pete Wright, Northville head coach.

"We were able to force some turnovers with our pressure and create some easy opportunities."

The downer came in a 52-35 loss to Walled Lake Central. The Vikings ran out to a 20-6 lead by the end of the first quarter. They extended the lead to 30-12 by the half.

Northville outscored the Vikings 23-22 the rest of the way, but the hole was way too deep to climb out of.

"Central came out with great intensity and made a couple of threes early," Wright said "We missed a couple of shots at the rim early in the first quarter and that set the tone for the first half."

Jessica Boerger led Northville with 15 points. Stern was next with 13 and a team-high five assists.

JV Colts pound Eagles

Colts win big behind 339 rushing yards

The Northville JV Colts wrapped up their season by soundly defeating the Livonia Eagles 40-26. Sam Tacconelli ran for 190 yards as the Colts rushed for a season-high 339 yards.

The first quarter was all Colts offensive. The scoring began early with Tacconelli, assisted by Jacob Smith's lead blocking, scampering 30 yards for the touchdown. Quarterback Thomas Huber connected with Tacconelli for the extra point and a quick 7-0 lead.

The Colt defense stymied the Eagles with aggressive tackling by Ryan Gardner. Following the Eagle punt, the Colts marched in for another score by Tacconelli on a 31 yard carry. The offensive line, led by Jake Stominski, RJ Holloway, Greg Stewart, and Jake Cheslik, blew large holes in the Eagle defense. Huber kept the ball for the extra point, bringing the score to 14-0.

Rini Jusufi recovered the ensuing onside kick, teeing up another rushing assault by the Colts. Huber carried for 12, Tacconelli for six, and Joey Hewlett for 22 yards and the touchdown. Patrick Hannah, Sean Conway, Ian Beason, and Tyler Gozlor created large running lanes for the Colts' backs. Robby Parks corralled in Huber's pass for the extra point, bringing the first quarter to a close with the Colt's commanding a 21-0 lead.

The Eagles opened the second half with a score and converted on the extra point to make it 21-7.

The remainder of the half was marked by excellent Colt defense, led by Sean Wagner, David Blough, David Maier, Chris Komorous, Chad Berryman, Alex Doering and Nicky Stegmeier. Huber stopped a late-quarter drive by the Eagles with an interception. Going into the locker room, the score remained 21-7.

The second half opened with Rini Jusufi intercepting an Eagle pass. This led immediately to Tacconelli exploding for a 50-yard touchdown run. The conversion failed, leaving the score 27-7.

The Eagles fired right back and scored but missed the extra point to put the score at 27-13.

Early in the fourth quarter Rini Jusufi picked up his second interception at the Colt's own 11-yard line, stopping a dangerous Eagle drive. The Eagle defense held the Colts deep in their own territory and scored on a one-yard carry, closing the gap to 27-20.

Thomas Huber electrified the crowd on the next series with a 52-yard touchdown run at the 4:16 mark of the fourth quarter. Gardner pulled in a Huber pass for the conversion, widening the gap to 34-20.

Not to be denied, the Eagles created their own excitement by returning the kickoff for a touchdown and tightening things back up, 34-26.

After fumbling at their own 40-yard line with 2:37 left in the game, it looked like the Colts may have given the Eagles a comeback opportunity. Huber picked off his second pass of the day and dashed 75 yards for the game-clinching touchdown and a 40-26 victory for the Colts.

Freshmen advance to the Super Bowl

The Colts knew they were going to have a street fight on their hands with their archrival Novi. The Bobcats didn't disappoint as both defenses bent but didn't break in the scoreless first quarter. The Colts began their second possession on the Bobcat 43 and drove down to the nine yard line where Kyle Killen busted up the middle for what appeared to be a touchdown. The referees saw it differently, however, setting up an impressive Bobcat goal-line stand which thwarted the Colt scoring attempt.

On their next possession, the Colt defense gave their team great field position at the Bobcat 35-yard line. Punishing runs by Alec Melucci, contributed to the 10-play scoring drive highlighted by Jack Meacham's plunge from one yard out making the half time score 6-0 in favor of the Colts. Led by William Wright, eight tackles on the day, and Bradley Huth (six tackles) the Colts limited the Bobcats to 41 total yards in the first half.

The Colts opened the second half with an impressive 15-play scoring drive that consumed seven minutes and ten seconds of the third quarter. Meacham again dove over from the one followed by a successful PAT by David Weber. The hero of the drive was Melucci, where on several runs he carried two or three Bobcat defenders. Even with the Bobcat defense keying on him all day, he wouldn't be denied. He finished the day with 122 yards on 22 carries.

The offensive highlight of the game occurred on the Colts next possession. Beginning from their own 2-yard line, the Colts move out to their own 29 by converting a couple of first downs. On a quarterback keeper around right end, Owen Kipke displayed his speed and raced 71 yards down the sideline for a touchdown, crippling any chance of a Bobcat comeback. It was the Colts longest play from scrimmage all year.

It was then up to the defense to hold off the Cats. They were up to the challenge; as David Moorman and Luke Wegzyn disrupted the Bobcats running game with bruising tackles and Alex Thomas swatted down passes and constantly pressured the Bobcat quarterback. The exclamation point of the game was provided by Robert Sneed. He flattened a Bobcat kick returner on what should be the hit of the year for the Colts.

The Colts will play the Livonia Falcons in Next Sunday's Super Bowl at Livonia Stevenson at 10 A.M.

Ferriman nominated for national honor

Albion College senior defender Justin Ferriman (2003 Northville graduate) has been selected to the ESPN The Magazine Academic all-District IV men's soccer team in voting by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Ferriman, who was the only scholar-athlete from the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association on the district squad, advances to the national ballot for Academic All-America consideration.

The ESPN The Magazine College Division Academic All-America men's soccer team is scheduled to be announced November 20.

Ferriman has anchored a Briton backfield that has allowed 16 goals all season. The Britons, who boast a 12-5-2 overall record and hold second place in the MIAA with a 10-2-1 league mark, have eight shutouts on the year. Ferriman has been involved in the attack, dishing out three assists.

"Justin epitomizes the term student-athlete," said Jerry Block, Albion associate athletic director and head men's soccer coach. "He has set high standards on the soccer field and in the classroom. I'm proud of his efforts athletically and academically. He has improved every year and he has earned (the awards) that are coming his way."

When not playing soccer, Ferriman is a talented business communications major who boasts a 3.83 grade point average. In addition to earning Dean's List recognition six times, he serves as president of Albion's Gerald R. Ford Institute for Public Policy

Northville swims to second at league meet

Chelsea Miller swims for Northville in a meet earlier this season.

■ Weber wins 50 freestyle

By Jeff Theisen
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

The Northville swim team placed second at the league meet over the past weekend.

Jessica Weber had the winning time (53.07) in the 100 freestyle for the Mustangs lone win of the meet. She continued her strong meet with a second-place finish in the 50 freestyle and teamed with Chelsea Miller, Tanya Tereszczenko and Emily Hopcian to place second in the 4x50 freestyle relay.

Weber as also part of the third-place 4x100 team along with Racheal Englert, Meghan Kanya and Tereszczenko.

The 200 medley relay team of Ashley Filipowicz, Kelly Burford, Kanya and Miller placed fourth. Kanya also placed fourth in the 500 freestyle.

"I'm very proud of the way our girls swam. We had a lot of girls step up and give their best effort," said Brad Brockway, Northville head coach. "Our seniors really stepped up. We will miss their experience and leadership."

"Four girls qualified for state meet in individual events: Tereszczenko in the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke, Kanya in the 100 fly and 500 freestyle, Weber in the 50 and 100 freestyle and Hopcian in the 100 butterfly. The 4x50 relay and 4x100 relay have also qualified for state.

The Division I state meet is Nov. 17-18 at Oakland University

Northville Boys Golf

Northville senior golfer Phil Snow was selected to the Division I All-State team by the Michigan Interscholastic Coaching Association.

Snow finished fourth overall at the state meet with a 154. His second-day score of 72 was the lowest round of the day.

The Mustangs finished seventh as a team.

Creatine may not be a good idea for high school athletes

By Allison Grant
SPECIAL WRITER

Athletes at Northville High School are starting to bulk up earlier and faster than ever thanks to supplements such as creatine.

While creatine use is highly discouraged by college athletics, it nonetheless remains one of the most popular supplements used by high school athletes. The pressure athletes put on themselves can be so overwhelming that they ignore the fact that the long-term effects of creatine are unknown.

"High school boys are always looking for that edge to get into college sports. Pressure is put on them by their parents, their team, and themselves to always be winners," said Jeff Balagna, varsity wrestling coach and teacher at Northville High School.

According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, 44 percent of senior athletes surveyed admitted to using creatine.

One of the more common sports involved with creatine is football. "The players on the team using supplements are definitely more built-looking and seem to have better all-around performance," said Kevin Kotas, a junior offensive lineman at Northville High School.

The more success that players see while taking creatine, the more others will want to use it for that edge.

Supplements such as creatine are legal and quick ways to bulk up without as much work and in a much shorter time.

"Creatine allows athletes to go harder and longer in workouts and in practice," said Balagna.

Risky situation

One of the problems with this is that athletes generally do not know all of the risks involved with various supplements or even how to use them correctly.

"I don't think high school athletes are aware of the health risks involved. Supplements need to be complimented by the right diet and exercise; you can't just take them and expect to see the results you want," said Ryan Hockman, head football coach and teacher at Northville High School.

"The long-term effects are unknown, which is one of the reasons that creatine use is iffy. Short-term effects include dehydration and muscle cramping due to the water that creatine draws to the muscle," said Linda Kaminski, registered dietitian. Kaminski has worked with athletes for several years at her practice in Farmington Hills.

Allison Grant

to factors such as selection, marketing and proven results. Sales were estimated at $193 million in 2003 and $400 million in 2005, according to BodyBuilding.com.

Other options

Experts recommend that instead of taking supplements athletes should instead rely on a balanced diet, a lot of rest, rigorous workout routines, and just plain old hard work.

"Eating pork, beef and fish is a good way to get protein and natural creatine into your body," said Kaminski.

"I believe the same outcome can come without taking supplements. It comes with diet, rest and having an experienced professional guiding you through the ups and downs of training," said Hockman.

Football players say they take creatine for many reasons, from looking good to being faster, bigger and stronger to get noticed by colleges.

"Players feel the need to keep up with the other players, and when everyone else is using it, you tend to want to use it too," said Matt Wegzyn, a junior tight end at Northville High School.

"I definitely think players use protein and creatine to improve performance and have a more likely chance of playing in their college of choice," said Kotas.

Over the years, creatine has been building rapidly in popularity due to factors such as selection, marketing and proven results. Sales were estimated at $193 million in 2003 and $400 million in 2005, according to BodyBuilding.com.

Creatine comes in many easy-to-take forms such as powder, liquid serum, gum and pills. Prices range from $20-$30 for a 500-gram supply of powder to $35-$60 for a 250-milliliter bottle of liquid serum.

Some of the success can also be credited to the marketing involved. Although creatine does produce results, some companies exaggerate the results by claiming it turns couch potatoes into Incredible Hulks.

Not highly endorsed

Many of those who have been helped by creatine in the past do not advocate its use at the high school level.

"I took creatine in college, for football, and I felt the only area it helped me in was weight lifting. Other than that, I cramped up a lot and it hurt my endurance. I would never condone the use of creatine in high school; kids aren't done growing yet," said Chad Dicken, former football player for Albion College. Dicken also is a teacher and former assistant coach for Northville.

"I got stronger much quicker while on creatine; I tripled the number of repetitions I could do with certain weights in about six weeks. I also recovered much faster while taking it," said Eric Burke, former assistant football coach for Northville. "In my opinion, athletes at the high school level should not be taking creatine. I don't think kids at that age take the time to weigh in the risks with taking performance enhancing supplements. They just want results, and they want them as quick as possible," said Burke.

Current Michigan State University and former Northville student Allison Grant wrote this article for a journalism class at MSU. Grant graduated Northville in 2005 and is now a sophomore at MSU.

■ NORTHVILLE: Young team gains experience

Rounding out the top seven were Amy Baditoi (167 team, 210 overall — 21:02.8) and Karina Puskorius (168 team, 211 overall — 21:03).

"It was exciting," Smith said. "They ran just like I asked them to. I'm proud of them. They did a great job."

WLAA foe Livonia Churchill finished second on a tie-breaker with Rochester Adams. Both teams scored 112 points, with Adams having the faster sixth runner. It was the first time in state history that a girls champion was decided by a sixth runner.

Milford senior Carlie Green won the race in 17:49.3.

Northville finished with 554 points, but Smith expects her team will be back next year.

"I want them to learn that a lot of hard work really does pay off," Smith said. "If they train in the summer, then they can end up at this same point next year. You can't just be a part-time runner to be on the top seven on this team."

Other local runners

Novi had one girl at the state meet, senior Andrea Kramer. She finished in 196th (20:45.3).

Catholic Central sophomore Alex Toloff, who finished second to Wheat at the regional meet, finished in 35th place (16:12.5).

Northville senior Jasen Turnbull finished in 148th (16:59.8).

Siblings Jacques Chopjian and Tamar Aguilar offer Milford Jewelers clients friendly service, hand-crafted jewelry and superior GIA-certified diamonds and gemstones — at lower prices. Special holiday diamonds are on sale now: 441 N. Main St., in downtown Milford.

MILFORD JEWELERS

Plain talk, friendly service and affordable prices set popular Main Street, Milford store apart

Jacques Chopjian doesn't worry much about the competition. He's too busy caretaking a family tradition steeped in high-quality jewelry craftsmanship and dedicating himself to personalized customer service. It's the only he knows how to do things.

And it works. "We put people first," Jacques said, a GIA-certified Gemologist who co-owns Milford Jewelers with his sister, Tamar Aguilar. "That's the only way we know how to do business — give people what they want for a fair price."

That's an understatement. Jacques and Tamar's family business — three other brothers own separate retail stores, and together the family operates a state-of-the-art manufacturing facility — has its foundation set in basic values.

Call it high-end polish, without the high-end attitude. The approach results in handcrafted work that leaves loyal customers awe-inspired and faithful for decades.

"We are what we are," Jacques said. "If you can imagine it, we can make it from scratch — at a higher quality, but at a lower price."

How is that possible? Simple. At Milford Jewelers, there are no middle men. Because Milford Jewelers can carve, mold, cast and finish its own work, customers don't have to pay for "name brand" up-charges, or "value-added" products.

"Think of it this way," Jacques said. "If we were car manufacturers, it would be like owning our own mining equipment and steel plants, then engineering our own cars and putting each one together by hand."

"In the end, the customer drives away with a car that is higher in quality and lower in price, all because we own and operate our own facilities and don't have to answer to anyone but the customer on the other side of the counter."

What difference does that make? All the difference, Tamar said, relishing customers who become fast friends — though friends don't always have to be customers.

GIA-certified Gemologist Jacques Chopjian displays a high-tech engraving machine capable of customizing any piece of hand-crafted jewelry. Milford Jewelers is one of only a few jewelers nationwide capable of designing, manufacturing and setting all of their own work.

"All we worry about is whether people feel good about coming into our store, and if they feel welcomed," she said. "Whether they need a diamond for a surprise holiday engagement, or a specially-fitted ring for someone who works outside during the day, we can do it."

This holiday season, Jacques and Tamar have vastly expanded their diamond and gemstone inventory, pressing Amsterdam-direct suppliers for the highest available quality and the lowest possible prices.

"If you were planning to buy a diamond or gemstone this holiday season, and were hoping to get something nice without breaking your budget, we can make that

Enjoy the family without the stress

Don't cook and clean. Many families are enjoying each other at banquet facilities or restaurants for the holidays.

By Cynthia Grochowski
DAILY PRESS & ARGUS

The traditional Thanksgiving feast need not be overwhelming, messy or lonely this year. Many facilities offer services to help lessen the holiday cooking and entertaining workload.

Ditch the entire holiday home cooking and cleaning idea and meet everyone at a restaurant or banquet facility. These facilities have the silverware polished, the decorations up and the ovens at the ready so people can enjoy stress-free holiday dining.

"A lot of people in the area may have houses too small to entertain the entire family, or they are displaced, or just don't feel like cooking. They can come here and enjoy the holiday atmosphere with a big family feeling," said Mary Jane Scott, director of sales at the Diamond Banquet and Conference Center at Rock Financial Showplace in Novi.

Scott explained the special dinner will have all of the holiday favorites — including the big game.

"One part of the ballroom, partially separated from the dining area, will be set up in a family-room atmosphere with couches, chairs and coffee tables so people can watch the Lion's game on the large screen TVs," she said.

The buffet features turkey and dressing, ham, salads, fall vegetable dishes, an assortment of fresh vegetables, fruits and cheeses, and a dessert table. Diners can move between the buffet, cash bar and television area.

Dinner is served from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thanksgiving Day.

Reservations are required and can be made by calling (248) 348-5600, extension 200.

For those wishing for a more formal dinner, the Italian Epicure in Novi offers a table-service holiday dinner in their newly renovated restaurant. Guests will enjoy a complete turkey dinner with all of the fixings. Adult beverages are also available. Dinner will be served from 1-6 p.m. Thanksgiving Day.

Italian Epicure can seat groups from 2-150. Reservations are required for groups larger than 10. Carry-out services are also available. Call Ryan at (248) 349-7770 for additional details.

Whichever you choose, it is important to phone ahead and reserve space for your holiday party well in advance so you have ample time to notify your guests when and where the family feast will take place.

Extend this year's Thanksgiving fun

Celebrate Thanksgiving by taking the family to a laser tag turkey hunt. From 3-5 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 19, families can test their skill hunting turkey-costumed employees, enjoying a supervised treasure hunt, arcade games and chances to win prizes at Paradise Park in Novi. An $8 admission ticket buys a person one laser-tag turkey hunt, a treasure hunt, six arcade tokens, and a soft drink. There will also be 25 lotto redemption winners and a drawing for a $40 goody basket. For reservations or details, call (248) 735-1050 or log onto www.paradiseparknovi.com.

Anatomy of a Cookie Plate

Stack the holidays with an elegant array of goodies to satisfy a sweet tooth and celebrate the season of love, fresh out of the oven.

Basic is often best when it comes to holiday cookies. Create a signature cookie from a simple recipe — a signature biscotti, say, made special with the addition of nuts, dried fruit or coconut. Dress up a simple butter cookie by rolling it in nuts and filling it with jewel-toned jam. Tart up an oatmeal cookie by substituting ruby-hued dried cranberries instead of raisins. Melt chocolate, butterscotch or white chocolate chips and drizzle it over cookies off the end of a fork. Or make a quick pastry bag using a zip-top plastic bag: Cuff the top around a glass to hold it open, fill with melted chocolate, snip off the corner and decorate! Make a powdered-sugar glaze more fun by using flavored coffee creamer instead of milk.

Coconut Biscotti

(From Cooking Light magazine)
1½ cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon grated whole nutmeg

¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 large eggs
1 cup flaked sweetened coconut

Preheat oven to 300 F. Lightly spoon flour into dry measuring cups; level with a knife. Combine flour, baking powder, salt, baking soda and nutmeg. Place sugar, vanilla and eggs in a large bowl; beat with a mixer at medium speed 2 minutes or until thick. Add flour mixture and coconut; stir to combine (dough will be very sticky). Turn dough out on to a heavily floured surface; knead 7 or 8 times. Shape dough into a 15x3-inch roll. Place roll on a baking sheet lined with parchment paper, and pat to 1-inch thickness. Bake at 300 F for 40 minutes or until roll is golden brown. Cool for 5 minutes on a wire rack. Cut roll diagonally into 20 (½ inch) slices; stand slices upright on baking sheet. Bake 20 minutes (cookies will be slightly soft in center but will harden as they cool). Remove from baking sheet; cool completely on wire rack. Yields 20 cookies.

Oatmeal Cranberry Cookies

(Quaker Oats Co. recipe)
1 cup margarine or butter, softened

1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt (optional)
3 cups Quaker Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 cup dried cranberries

Heat oven to 350 F. Beat together margarine and sugars until creamy. Add eggs and vanilla; beat well. Add combined flour, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; mix well. Stir in oats and cranberries; mix well. Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. Cool 1 minute on cookie sheet; remove to wire rack.

Yields about 4 dozen.

Brown-Sugar Shortbread

1 cup soft butter
½ cup light brown sugar, packed
2½ cups sifted flour

Beat butter and sugar until fluffy. Stir in flour. Refrigerate dough several hours. Preheat oven to 300 F. Divide dough into 2 parts. Roll out 1 part to ½ inch thick. Cut out with 1½ to 2 inch cutter. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake 25 minutes or until light golden.

Tips: For traditional shortbread wedges, pat each half into a ½-inch thick round on ungreased baking sheets. Flute edges with fingers. Cut into eight wedges. Bake 30 minutes or until golden. Remove from oven. Cool on baking sheet for 5 minutes. Recut into wedges. Cool completely on wire rack. Yields 5 dozen small cookies or 16 large wedges.

Jelly Bowl Cookies

½ prepared basic butter cookie dough at room temperature (recipe follows)

½ cup strawberry, apricot, or raspberry jam, strained fine

Preheat oven to 350 F. Form level teaspoons of dough into balls and arrange about 1 inch apart on baking sheets. With your thumb, make an indentation in center of each ball of dough and fill with about ¼ teaspoon jam. Bake cookies in batches in middle of oven until edges are pale golden, about 12 minutes. Cool cookies on baking sheets 2 minutes and transfer to racks to cool completely.

Cookies may be stored between layers of wax paper in airtight containers up to 6 weeks frozen.

Tips: Use tablespoons of dough, not teaspoons. Create indentations with the ¼ teaspoon measuring spoon. Use the ¼ teaspoon measure to spoon jam into indentation, or, to make it even easier, put a zip-top sandwich-size plastic bag into a glass and cuff the top over the glass to hold it open. Fill with a good spoonful of jam. Squeeze out air and seal bag. Snip off a corner of the bag and pipe jam into cookies.

Basic Butter Cookie Dough

Use this versatile cookie recipe to make Jelly Bowl Cookies. This is a great basic cookie recipe to adapt according to your taste and style.

1 pound unsalted butter, softened
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 large egg yolks
2 teaspoons vanilla
4½ cups all-purpose flour

In a large bowl of a standing electric mixer beat together butter, sugar, and salt until light and fluffy. Beat in yolks, 1 at a time, and vanilla and beat until smooth. Beat in flour gradually, beating dough until just combined well. Yields 8 dozen small cookies.

Let's Talk Turkey

Turkey duty easier than you think

How much? How many? How long? No food on the planet seems to inspire as many questions and as much angst as the dreaded Tom. Yet roast turkey ranks as one of the easiest entrees for the home cook to prepare.

Armed with basic information, even the non-cook or nervous host can turn out a finely roasted big bird. Keep the following steps in mind. Better yet, post them near the oven. If you should run aground — the business with the giblets can get, uh, juicy — well, that's why they pay Butterball Turkey Talk-Line people. One of them is probably standing by, Nov. 1 to Dec. 29, at 1-800-BUTTERBALL, to take your question. More than 100,000 confused cooks will dial in for turkey counsel this season.

This season, why not be kind to the Turkey Talk-Liners? They have their own turkeys to cook. Do your homework and spare them the call. Here's all you need to know: How much for how many? Plan on about 1/4 pound, per person (uncooked weight) to allow plenty for everyone with little leftovers. For more leftovers, plan on 1 to 1 1/2 pounds, per person.

If you plan to buy a big bird to serve lots of guests, make sure the turkey will fit in the oven you plan to use.

Consider buying a turkey equipped with a pop-up timer, which will reduce the chance for under- or over-cooking the bird.

If you've purchased a frozen turkey, thaw it in the refrigerator. Allow at least one day of thawing for every four pounds of turkey.

When you're ready to begin roasting, remove the wrapper and preheat the oven to 325 F. Reach inside the turkey and remove the neck and the giblets from the body and neck cavity.

Drain the juices, thoroughly rinse the bird inside and out with cold water. If you prefer stuffing, stuff the neck and body cavities lightly. Stuffing expands during cooking. (The USDA recommends preparing stuffing outside of bird in a separate dish.)

Place your turkey, breast side up, on a flat rack in an open roasting pan about 2 inches deep. Brush the skin with vegetable oil or margarine to prevent skin from drying. You also can place pats of margarine under the breast's skin. Further basting is optional. Please note that regularly opening the oven door to baste your turkey can lower the temperature and possibly lengthen roasting time.

Take this time to thoroughly wash all utensils and work surfaces in hot, soapy water following contact with uncooked turkey and juices. Don't forget to wash your hands.

Place the bird in the oven and roast at 325 F. See the chart for precise times.

When the skin is light golden, about two-thirds done, cover the turkey breast loosely with foil to prevent overcooking. You also can cover the tips of the drumsticks with foil to prevent drying out. Leave a space so that you can easily see the pop-up timer.

Start checking your bird 30 minutes before you expect it to be done. The turkey is fully cooked when the pop-up timer's buttonhead pops up. Let the turkey cool for 15 to 25 minutes before carving.

- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Powdered sugar

Mix oil, chocolate and granulated sugar. Blend in one egg at a time until well mixed. Add vanilla. Measure flour by dipping method* and stir together with baking powder and salt. Add to oil mixture. Chill overnight. Heat oven to 350 F. Drop teaspoonfuls of dough into powdered sugar. Roll into balls. Place 2 inches apart on greased baking sheets. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. Do not over bake. Cool 1 minute on baking sheet then transfer to wire racks. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

No cook and all play: Outsourcing your holiday cooking will give you more time to devote to decorating and spending time with friends and family.

By Candy Spiegel
SPECIAL SECTIONS

It is the time of year when busy families must find additional time for parties and social events, shopping for gifts, decorating the home and preparing special holiday foods. It doesn't take much to turn what is meant to be a wonderful time with family and friends into total chaos.

This year, prevent holiday stress by leaving some of the baking and cooking to others. While individuals may wish to prepare unique family specialties or even the turkey, they can look to local businesses for ready-to-heat and ready-to-serve creations that would fool anyone.

Taorello's Marketplace in Brighton can make a single side dish or the entire dinner.

Rod Kello, owner, said this will be the store's third year preparing complete turkey dinners for customers. This year's

Leave cooking to the pros

To be sure the holidays go off without a hitch, place orders early. Many places require a minimum of 48 hours, but it is best to order well in advance of that during the busy holidays. Some items may require a full week's notice.

meal serves eight to 10 people and includes turkey and stuffing, a vegetable casserole, whipped potatoes and gravy, a sweet potato soufflé, homemade cranberry sauce, rolls and butter, and either a pumpkin or apple pie. All of the food is made fresh from scratch in Taorello's kitchen and comes with easy heating instructions. Complete dinners must be ordered by Nov. 19.

"We prepare everything," Kello said. "You just throw it in the oven, take it out and put it on your table."

Unlike frozen or highly processed food, these dinners taste homemade.

"You can tell the difference in the taste and the texture," Kello said.

Of course, customers are the best judges of the quality of Taorello's food. Some of the people who ordered the dinners last year began asking about this year's dinner in mid-October so they wouldn't miss out.

Kello said the meals are perfect for those who don't know how to cook, those who don't have time to cook and those with big families.

"It saves a lot of headache," he said. "It gives them a chance to enjoy their party or family gathering rather than being stuck in the kitchen all day."

Taorello's can also provide side dishes or desserts for those who just want help with some of the preparation. Thanksgiving week, all of the gourmet cases in the

The Cook's Holiday

The ranks of holiday cooks who'd rather not is quietly growing, deliciously aided by an army of grocers, gourmet stores, bakers and restaurants. Their motto? Don't ask. And definitely don't tell.

Taorello's Marketplace store will be filled with foods designed to complement turkey for those who find they need help at the last minute.

For those who want to prepare the entire dinner at home, Lisa Dodge, owner of Buttercream Bakeshop in Wixom, suggests purchasing one of her homemade desserts.

"People are so busy, they don't have time to bake homemade anymore," she said. "Let me do it because I love it. They can take all of the credit for it — I don't mind. No one has to see the box."

Dodge's creations are made entirely from scratch using high-quality ingredients and her own personal formulas. She never uses mixes or frozen piecrust and doesn't add any preservatives, which she said sometimes leave an odd aftertaste. She said people are amazed at how wonderful made-from-scratch products are.

For this Thanksgiving, Dodge is offering traditional pumpkin or pecan pie, as well as Dutch apple pie with homemade streusel topping. She also offers adult desserts, like a Bailey's Irish Cream Cake, or individual-sized cheesecakes. Those with a serious sweet tooth will love her Wixom Bumpy Cake — a chocolate fudge layer cake with homemade buttercream topped with buttercream rosettes, drenched with a chocolate ganache and topped with a cherry, "just to make it look cute."

"It's to die for," Dodge said.

For the holidays, she plans to offer traditional Christmas cookies made fresh each day, packaged and ready to go for last-minute gifts and invitations.

Dodge is also planning to create a limited number of custom gingerbread houses for holiday decor. She'll put pictures of the family in the windows and write their name over the door. Preorders will start at the end of November.

For those who need a last-minute dessert, a variety of items will be available on a first-come-first-serve basis at the bakery.

Keep it real

By Patricia V. Rivera
CTW FEATURES

"People are surprised at how they can use available plants to decorate," says Karen Russ, a botanist with Clemson University's cooperative extension program.

A touch of the outdoors not only fills the home with life, but it also helps create calm during a hectic season. Russ suggests the use of pines, firs and cedars for indoor decoration. These take longer to dry. Hemlock, spruces and most broadleaf evergreens will last longer if used outdoors. Preserved leaves of ivies, mahonia, eucalyptus, boxwood, beech, camellia, oak and rhododendron work well in decorations.

Keeping it fresh

Fresh greenery can last from several weeks to several months, depending on the variety and how well it's maintained. The trick to longevity is keeping moisture on the stem and foliage. Greens should be soaked as soon as they're cut. Foliage with woody stems can be crushed to allow it to consume more water. Experts suggest soaking the greenery overnight before working with it. Once the greenery has been arranged, spray it regularly with an anti-transpirant that will help seal in moisture. Plants with a wax coating, such as juniper berries and blue spruce, should not be sprayed with an anti-transpirant, as its coat will damage. Mist regularly with water.

Fresh decorations — from greenery to food — are a natural way to bring the sights and smells of the holidays in your home.

Welcoming Wreaths

Wreaths emit a sign of welcome in homes throughout the country. They can be made with sprigs of white pine, holly, hemlock, or red cedar. Mix greenery for contrast.

Sprigs should be around six inches long. A wreath is shaped by a wire frame. Most wreaths for front doors measure around 24 inches. Those placed atop a mantle tend to be a bit larger, either 36 inches or 48 inches. Branches can be wired or taped on the frames, overlapping as much as possible. Fruit, pines or ribbons can be added at the end. Wreaths can go anywhere in a home. Creative minds can even find them utilitarian.

Gerald Prolman, CEO of Organic Bouquet Inc., San Francisco, makes a culinary wreath out of fresh certified-organic rosemary, thyme and natural bay leaves accented with fresh organic red chili peppers. "Not only is it a festive piece for the kitchen, but you can also pick it as you cook," he says. Because herbs also work well dry, these wreaths have a much longer lifespan.

Swags and Garland

Clusters of evergreen were once thought to ward off illness and evil spirits. Today swags and garlands are used to drape a home with joy. Swags can be created with a bunch of greenery united by a rubber band or floral wire, or even a bow. Russ says the can be decorated with fruit for color and meaning. The use of pineapples signifies hospitality, for instance, while pomegranate brings in plenitude. More elaborate garland can be created from cedar, fern, fir, juniper, oak and pinewood.

Kissing Balls

Russ says kissing balls make for fun decorations as an alternative to mistletoe sprigs. They're made of short sprigs of boxwood or other greenery inserted into a round potato base. Insert evenly sized sprigs into the potato until it is completely covered. Decorate it with ribbons, berries or mistletoe. Hang it from a doorway or window with wire or heavy string.

Festive in a Flash

Call it condiment cuisine. To prepare an impressive party spread in no time, resourceful holiday hosts reach for a simple bottle, can or jar.

By Bev Bennett
CTW FEATURES

Some hostesses know how to dish. Maybe you've envied their style as they effortlessly whip up lavish spreads that have guests glued to the buffet table.

Perhaps the secret to their success isn't the cooking, but the products they choose. An inspired hostess can take a jar of a high-quality condiment, mix it with a couple of ingredients and present a masterpiece of party fare — in minutes.

You can, too. With a modest assortment of salsas, sauces, relishes and chilies in your cupboard, you're ready for open-and-serve festive food.

Here are 10 delicious and effortless dishes you can make for entertaining.

Gorgonzola with fig jam

Bring an 8-ounce wedge of Gorgonzola cheese to room temperature. Spread with fig jam and cover with walnut halves. Arrange crackers or toasted slices of baguette bread around the cheese.

Steak and mango sauce sandwiches

Either broil two strip steaks medium rare or buy cooked steaks from a gourmet deli. Thinly slice. Spread mango salsa on cocktail rye bread. Top each bread slice with one or two steak slices. Garnish with a thin strip of jalapeño chile.

Warm goat cheese and salsa spread

"This is really just fabulous," says JeanMarie Brownson, with Frontera Foods in Chicago.

To make the dish, blend a 4-ounce log of goat cheese with a 3-ounce package of cream cheese. Stir in 1/4 cup pine nuts and shape the mixture into a disk. Place in a baking dish. Pour on 1 cup of jalapeño salsa, roasted tomato salsa or habanero salsa. Bake at 350 F for 10 minutes or until warm. Serve with crackers.

Chicken and chipotle salsa dip

Start by shredding the meat from a store-bought rotisserie chicken. Combine with enough chipotle salsa to make a dip consistency. Spoon into a chafing dish and keep warm at a low setting. Serve with thick and firm tortilla chips. For an attractive and appetizing touch Brownson suggesting topping each chicken covered tortilla chip with a bit of avocado and a sprinkling of fresh minced cilantro.

Hot and sweet shrimp

Combine 2 cups roasted chile salsa, 1 1/2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon honey in a saucepan. Simmer for 3 minutes. Add a pound of peeled, deveined large shrimp and simmer until the shrimp are cooked, about 3 minutes. Spoon the shrimp into a bowl and sprinkle with chopped parsley and minced red onions.

Smoked salmon appetizer

Toast six slices of firm-textured white bread or rye bread. Cut off the crusts. Spread the bread with Robert Rothschild Onion Blossom Horseradish Dip. Arrange a slice of smoked salmon on each bread slice. Garnish with lettuce, sliced tomatoes, thin slices of ripe olive and lemon wedges.

Piquanté peppers and cheese

Piquanté peppers are a savory fruit — part sweet, part hot — that's a member of the pepper family. The Peppadew brand is widely available in jars, or look for these bright red peppers sold in bulk in supermarket salad bars. Rinse off the brine. Place a small mozzarella ball in the cavity of each pepper. Tuck in a cilantro leaf for a holiday garnish.

Raspberry honey mustard and meatballs

Combine a jar of raspberry honey mustard (made by Robert Rothschild Farm) or a fruity, hot and sweet mustard of your choice and a bag of frozen meatballs in a pot. Heat through.

Spoon into a chafing dish and keep warm at a low setting for buffet service.

"This makes fabulous meatballs and it's so funny when people ask what else we've added," says Robin A. Coffey, director of marketing for Robert Rothschild Farm.

Cream cheese spread with hot pepper raspberry preserves

Bring an 8-ounce package of cream cheese to room temperature. Arrange on a serving platter.

Top with hot pepper raspberry preserves. (You can buy a jar or make your own hot-sweet preserves by stirring a pinch of crushed red pepper flakes into a jar of fruit preserves.)

Serve with crackers.

Stilton and endive

Bring a large wedge of Stilton cheese to room temperature. Cut into small chunks and arrange on the wide end of endive leaves. Drizzle the cheese lightly with honey. Sprinkle with toasted pine nuts if you like.

'Tis the season to be toasting, and according to experts, it's the perfect time to raise a glass with some sparkle.

"The wine is alive," says Charles Stanfield, sparkling wine director at Sam's, an upscale liquor store in Chicago. "You might as well have something more festive in your glass for the holidays than a regular Chardonnay or Cabernet."

Stanfield is not alone. According to most sources, 70 percent to 80 percent of all sparkling wines consumed annually in the U.S. are purchased in November and December: the months typically referred to as holiday time. But knowledgeable drinkers know that good bubbly — flavorful, aromatic and sturdy — is a great wine to pour for every day dining, too.

Sparkling wine is simply wine, like any other. Most varietals have about the same alcohol content as regular wines and are even made from the same grapes. What makes them different — sparkling wine lovers would say special — is, well, gas. The fermentation process, when the sugar in grape juice turns into the alcohol of wine, produces carbon dioxide in the form of bubbles. Most wines are only fermented once, and the gas bubbles off from the tank. The production of sparkling wine calls for two fermentations; the second time the gas is captured in the bottle.

This gas is not neutral to the tongue: it gives a textural tickle and tastes tart. If the sparkling wine is dry (it will say "Brut" on the label) or nearly dry (labeled "Extra Dry") the tartness will be more evident than in sweeter versions.

Versatility makes sparkling wines a great choice to have on hand for the holidays. They have enough character to stand alone but can serve as a sassy companion beverage to a holiday meal.

Here are some sparkling ideas for the inspired host:

Cocktail hour

Dry sparkling wines shine when poured as an aperitif. Their acidity stimulates the appetite and gets guests ready for a full meal later on. Spanish sparklers, in particular, are a good bet for cocktail hour; the Bruts from Spain are among the most tart around. Also shop for the wines labeled "Blanc de Blancs," meaning white wine produced from white grapes only. Light-tasting Blanc de Blancs are made in many different countries.

If you are not planning a full dinner but are having guests over for a

Pop a bottle of bubbly

- Make sure the sparkling wine is chilled to at least 45 F before opening.
- Be careful — the cork of a warm bottle is more likely to pop unexpectedly.
- Hold the cork with one hand while removing the wire hood with the other.
- Point the bottle away from yourself and others.
- Hold the cork firmly with one hand and use the other hand to turn the bottom of the bottle.
- Continue until the cork is almost out of the neck. Slowly let the cork continue to work itself out of the bottle if you want a faint "poof". Or, shake the bottle vigorously, leave your cork hand go and celebrate.

snack before you go elsewhere, try pairing a good Brut with smoked fish. The texture and tartness of the wine cuts right through the oiliness of the fish. Pâtés and other rich terrines also are good matches. Don't want the snack too heavy or rich? Pair the bubbly with a mild goat cheese.

Dinner time

The most appropriate sparkling wines to accompany a full dinner will cost a bit more. The reason is time. It takes between three to 10 years for a classic to slowly develop flavors, texture, complexity and balance. They are superb substitutes for the predictable wines you might have been planning to pour.

On the dry side, look for pink fizzies. The best Bruts will have a bit more force and flavor than "white" bubbly. Pouring a Brut to accompany roast boar in a reduced sauce might be a stretch; but a La Grande Dame Rose Champagne will more than hold its own with a nice medium-rare tenderloin.

Old-school toasters are stuck on French champagne, and good fizzy remains the standard. However, the

Look for the following terms to describe sparkling wines:

- Australia — Shiraz
- France — Champagne, Crémant
- Italy — Prosecco
- Spain — Cava

champagne fixation appears to be changing. In 1999, 80 percent of all French sparkling wines exported to the U.S. were fizzies from the region of Champagne; in 2005 Champagne's share dropped to 71 percent. What's taking up the slack? Sparkling wines made just like champagne but produced in other regions of France. The best of them could fool a true champagne lover.

If you are looking ahead to a formal toast during your holiday season, why not select a sparkling wine that hails from your state or region? Over the past 30 years U.S. sparkling winemakers have learned so much from their French "mentors" that the quality of U.S. bubbly has jumped like a popped cork. Most still come from California, but Oregon, Washington, New York, Missouri, Michigan and other states are turning out serious dry fizz.

Local recommendations ...

Eric Gettel, owner of By The Bottle in Novi, recommends two sparkling wines for the holidays. For those who haven't experienced sparkling wine before, he recommends Conservancy by L. Mawby. This Michigan wine is made from northern Michigan white grapes using the same method used in Champagne, France. It retails for $24.90 a bottle.

For those looking for the ultimate experience, Gettel recommends the Grand Cru Champagne Louis de Sacy. "This is a full-flavored delicate champagne, characterized by fine bubbles and a pinot noir aroma," Gettel said. "The finer the bubbles, the better the flavor." It sells for $45.

Susan Cosenza, wine buyer and consultant at Taorello's Marketplace in Brighton, has brought in a variety of wines just for the holidays. A complete list, along with her notes, is available in the store. Cosenza recommends the following reasonably priced wines, which are full of flavor:

- Peringa, a new fruity, but not sweet, Australian wine $10.49
- Zardetto, a crisper, Brut Italian wine $12.89
- Borgo Magredo, a fruity Italian wine, not as dry as a Brut $13.69

Plan the perfect holiday party

Pity the holiday party planner who isn't even dressed when the doorbell rings. A well-organized checklist will keep a host organized, calm, in charge and focused on the most important task: entertaining your guests: Let the fun begin.

6 weeks and counting...

- Select a time, date and location.
- Issue invitations now for parties on celebration heavy days like New Year's Eve; otherwise wait until four weeks before the event.
- Develop your theme, whether it's a Parisian Christmas or a '70s New Year's disco, and keep in mind for who the party is being held: friends, relatives, co-workers, etc.
- Create detailed budgets for food, décor, music, beverages and rentals
- Make a guest list that works with your budget
- Designate help to set up the party, serve food and clean-up.

4 weeks and counting...

- Send invitations.
- Choose between a cocktails-only, buffet or sit-down menu.
- Plan your menu around your theme, including hors d'oeuvres, snacks, side dishes, entrees, desserts and beverages.

• Special-order luxury or exotic ingredients you'll need, such as a smoked turkey or ham.

• Ask some friends whose taste in food you admire to help you sample several different carryout foods you may want to serve for your party.

• Select your attire. A host or hostess should feel free to dress as exotically as he or she wishes.

• Count your linens, dishes and flatware. Have at least double the number of knives, forks, spoons, napkins and dishes as you have guests to accommodate dropped utensils.

2 weeks and counting...

• Shop for liquor and other beverages. A basic bar includes gin, vodka, light rum and whiskey along with club soda, tonic water, ginger ale, diet cola or other diet soft drink and caloric cola. Check with liquor store to see if they offer glass rentals.

• Cook foods that can be frozen until the party. This includes unbaked hors d'oeuvres wrapped in puff pastry or phyllo, unfrosted cakes, yeast or fruit breads and beef- or chicken-based stews.

• Make kennel arrangements for your pets.

1 week and counting...

• Step outside your house or apartment and view it as a stranger would. Wipe fingerprints off the doorposts, put up a wreath and make sure the outdoor lighting is adequate.

• Clean the house, or better yet, hire someone to do it.

• Clear out enough space in the hall closet so guests can hang their coats.

• Run glasses and flatware through the dishwasher and hand-wipe if necessary to get rid of spots.

• Choose the appropriate music to set the party mood.

• Engage your children to host their peers. Create a separate environment to keep them occupied.

1 day and counting...

• Arrange flowers.

• Decorate your party area and create centerpiece.

• Set the table or tables.

• Pull out serving dishes for each food you're preparing. Put a note in each dish so you know what it's supposed to hold.

• Prepare casseroles, snacks and side dishes.

• Put Post-It notes on service pieces to identify what foods go on what platters, as well as on casseroles noting what time they should go in the oven.

• Board the pets overnight. Some guests may be allergic to cats or dogs, and it's a good bet that no one wants to see Spot licking the cheese ball.

The Day

• Do 30 minutes of exercise in the morning as a stress buster, but don't try any new moves. You don't want to pull a muscle and crawl to greet your guests.

• Strategically place towels and cleaning supplies in each room to address spills at a moment's notice.

• Take a break two hours before guests arrive and soak in the tub.

• Arrange nibbles including olives, cheeses, roasted almonds and crackers in little dishes up to an hour in advance.

• Heat the dinner, if you're serving one.

Tree-trimming parties are a throwback to past holidays and a great way to kick off the season.

Help your friends and family get into the festive spirit by hosting a party with a self-service bar, make-your-own-ornament table, party-favor ornaments, food and plenty of fun.

The concept is simple: Set up a tree and lights and have all ornament hangers, decorations and other items ready to go. Put ornaments in bowls so they don't roll around.

Ask each guest to bring an ornament. It doesn't have to be expensive, but should be meaningful. You might even ask them to write or explain the meaning behind the ornament.

Put your own spin and style on the festivities. Consider a retro theme or have a wine and cheese tree-trimming party.

Do all of the cooking the day before so you can just reheat and serve it. That way, you can enjoy the party, too.

Try muddling through the holidays with this drink

"... Someday soon, we all will be together, if the fates allow Until then, we'll have to muddle through somehow
So have yourself a Merry Little Christmas now"

Someday soon we all will be together, as the song goes. Until then, happily, we can muddle to our hearts' content. Muddling — the technique of mashing ingredients to a pulp using a spoon with a flat wooden bowl — is back in fashion for cocktails, according to mixologists.

Mint julep is the most famous muddled drink. Mojito, a combination of mint leaves, club soda, lime and rum, is another popular

Heaving sidewalk a cause for concern

Q. Our board refuses to fix a common element which is in front of my unit and is a danger to me because the sidewalk seems to be heaving. What can I do to get them to move forward?

A. Write them a letter and tell them about the problem. Tell them that they are on notice of the problem and it could be safety hazard not only for you but other invitees to the condominium. Tell them that if they don't take action, you will write the insurance carrier for the association and/or consult with an attorney. Hopefully, that will get their attention and they will embark upon doing something "constructive" to fix the problem.

Robert Meisner

Q. We have several extra parking spaces in our condo which the owners have been using. The board has adopted a rule stating that these unassigned parking spaces are for guest parking only. Can the board adopt a rule that eliminates owner's use of these extra parking spaces?

A. The rules and regulations must be consistent with the Master Deed and Condominium Bylaws. Because the co-owners have easement rights to parking areas designated for vehicle use, a more reasonable rule would be for the board to designate the area for residents and guests unless there is a specific provision authorizing the board to make this guest parking. If the future use results in a shortage of owner or guest parking, the directors can modify the rule under its authority to administer the condominium documents. The board is best advised to get a legal opinion from counsel.

Q. We are interviewing an attorney for a construction defect case and while the attorney himself has a great deal of experience, we are concerned that he may not be leading the group as it relates to pursuing our claim. How do we best insure that that will not happen?

A. Some law firms have persons who have experience in a particular area of law but who are not litigators or who will not appear in court. In your interview process, you should ask the question as to whether the attorney that you are speaking with will be the lead attorney in court or whether he is basically the PR person for the law firm to engage your business. Some law firms have litigation divisions which may be able to assist you but they may not have experience in the area of law of which you are desirous.

The Celebrity Bed
by Tempur-Pedic

Immediate relief. The Original Bed by Tempur-Pedic's original no-flip design. The Original Bed by Tempur-Pedic features a body-conforming TEMPUR® material Support Layer.

Healing support, timeless comfort. The Classic Bed by Tempur-Pedic is upgraded to include an additional super-conforming TEMPUR® material Comfort Layer and an AirFlow System™ Base Layer to enhance comfort and responsiveness.

Therapy and comfort, perfectly balanced. The Deluxe Bed by Tempur-Pedic has a more luxurious look and feel with an extra-thick TEMPUR® material Comfort Layer and a dual AirFlow System™ Base Layer.

Indulgent design, pillow-top comfort. The Celebrity Bed by Tempur-Pedic is an ultra-plush pillow-top design featuring even more TEMPUR® material than most other Tempur-Pedic® mattresses and a luxurious, cashmere blend cover.

Tempur-Pedic® Adjustable Bed Base

For the ultimate Tempur-Pedic® experience, combine the mattress of your choice with Tempur-Pedic's exclusive adjustable bed base. With the touch of a button, you can adjust your Tempur-Pedic® into hundreds of relaxing positions. The patented Wallhugger® design keeps the bed close to your nightstand. Not available with The Grand Bed by Tempur-Pedic™ or The Euro Bed by Tempur-Pedic™.

Ask American Profile

Q Can you provide information about an actor who appeared in several John Wayne movies? He portrayed Mose Harper in The Searchers.
—Jim Wilson, Yreka Valley, Calif.

Western star Hank Worden

You're thinking of Hank Worden, a wonderful second-string actor who appeared in 14 John Wayne films, including The Searchers, The Alamo and True Grit. Born in Iowa and raised on a ranch in Montana, he was a rodeo rider, a New York cab driver and a ranch wrangler before becoming an actor. He died in 1992 from natural causes at the age of 90.

Q What can you tell me about Ryan Simpkins? She was great in the movie Sherrybaby.

—Audry Hernandez, Bullhead City, Ariz.

Ryan, an 8-year-old Girl Scout who received raves for her portrayal of the daughter of a troubled ex-con (Maggie Gyllenhaal) in Sherrybaby, has acted in commercials and music videos since she was 4 and had a guest role in a 2004 episode of the TV series Law and Order: SVU. She'll appear alongside her brother Ty in the movie Pride and Glory, scheduled for release next year, and currently has a small part in the Broadway play Festen.

Actress Ryan Simpkins

CMT

It's a Keith Urban weekend

Get set for wall-to-wall Keith Urban as CMT airs four shows themed around the hot, guitar-slinging superstar Nov. 11-12. The all-new Keith Urban: Special Edition, hosted by CMT's Katie Cook, and the fan-voted videos in Keith Urban's Top 10 Countdown will join repeats of Keith Urban: Living Right Now and Crossroads: John Fogerty & Keith Urban to keep toes tapping all weekend!

Sha Na Na keeps rockin' and rollin'.

—Delores Glass, Fuquay Varina, N.C.

Now in its 37th year, the 1950s revival band Sha Na Na still has three of its original members, Screamin' Scott, Donny and Jocko, and performs about 60 times a year. "I still love it," Jocko says. "We have a rocking band and we leave our audience standing in the aisles." The group released a new album, One More Saturday Night, in June. Johnny Contardo sang with Sha Na Na (which took its name from a line in the 1957 Silhouettes hit "Get a Job") for 13 years, then recorded two solo albums and went into the advertising business. Last year he recorded a Christmas album and started to perform again as a solo act.

Vince Gill goes all-out for new four-CD set

Vince Gill has poured out his creative soul for These Days, a four-CD, 43-song collection of new original music. He wrote or co-wrote every song and has grouped them together by musical mood, organized accordingly on each disc: "Rockin'," "Groovy," "Country & Western," "Acoustic." Sheryl Crow, Bonnie Raitt, Phil Everly and Diana Krall, plus Gill's wife, Amy Grant, and his daughter, Jenny, provide guest vocals. "I am as passionate today as I have ever been about playing music," he says.

After nearly 100 years of sheltering hay and hogs, the whitewashed barn near Conrad, Iowa, had reached the end of its practical life. Fifth-generation farmer John Conrad III, 54, was ready to tear it down.

Before he got the chance, however, he was approached with a novel idea that would give his old barn new purpose—as the background for a painted quilt square, part of an outdoor art project. "The barn at this point has lived beyond its useful life for agriculture," he acknowledges. "But I made a decision that, well, we could hold off on demolishing it."

In Iowa's rural Grundy County, 25 8-by-8-foot quilts in traditional patterns, including "County Fair," "Hole in the Barn Door" and "Windmill," have been painted, mostly by community members and other volunteers, directly onto the sides of weathered barns and aging cornercubs. And though the project originally was intended to emphasize local agricultural heritage, it's also preserving historic barns for future generations, a fact that doesn't surprise Donna Sue Groves, 58, a field representative with the Ohio Arts Council who founded the original barn quilt project in Adams County, Ohio.

"The barn quilts are public art that celebrates the place people call home," Groves says. "They make

Faith and Family Charm Bracelet

THE PERFECT GIFT

A snug cottage, an old family church, a welcoming lighthouse, a comforting gazebo. These are images from artist Thomas Kinkadee that are central to his inspiring message of living a life focused on faith and family. Now, along with a bright lamppost of hope, a heart of love, and a cross of faith, you can carry these cherished symbols with you every day. The "Faith and Family Charm Bracelet" is a precious reminder of the values you hold dear.

Exclusive Design ... Stunning Craftsmanship

Inspired by renowned artwork from Thomas Kinkadee, the seven gracefully shaped charms are lovingly hand-crafted with brilliant accents of 24K-gold-plating. And each charm is enhanced by an inscription on the reverse. A genuine diamond graces the center of the cross charm, and a lamppost-design clasp is a perfect finishing touch.

For Yourself ... or As a Gift

The barn quilts, painted mostly by neighbors and other volunteers, "make people feel good about themselves and where they live."

people feel good about themselves and where they live."

Groves conceived the idea in 2001 to brighten an abandoned tobacco barn on her family's property in Manchester, Ohio. The barn became her canvas to paint a colorful quilt square to honor her mother, an accomplished quilter. But the mural soon morphed into an arts-based tourist attraction that other communities began imitating.

In 2004, 13 barns in Grundy County were painted, followed by another 12 in 2005. The colorful quilt murals have attracted a steady stream of visitors—some in cars, some in buses—who follow the county's seven-town "Quilt Loop," along which they often grab lunch or peruse local shops.

To Julie McNair, co-owner of the General Store in Conrad (pop. 1,066), the barn project came at a good time. A recently completed highway, U.S. 20, had set a faster pace that encouraged cars to whiz past area towns without stopping. "We needed to have something that would pull people off the highway, that would get people to come and say, 'Gee whiz, there is something in Grundy County besides black dirt, corn and soybeans!'" says McNair, 53, who heads the county's barn quilt committee, which coordinates painting assignments.

the only Iowans who have noted how barn-side quilts encourage tourists to "get off the beaten path." In 2004, Kevin Peyton, 18, of Sac City, Iowa (pop. 2,368), began his own version in Sac County as a 4-H leadership project. So far, some 1,000 volunteers have painted 23 quilts, with more than two dozen others in the works. "The quilts are a real novelty item, almost a bragging right," says Peyton, who grew up on a cattle farm and hung Sac County's first quilt square at his grandfather's home.

Currently, more than 400 quilt squares are spread across 63 counties in Iowa, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia, prompting Groves to thread them together into a "national clothesline" of quilts by working to create a website with locations and maps of the quilt art state-by-state. She'd also like to organize a national conference where communities that already have quilt projects can share patterns, advice and encouragement with those wanting to start their own.

That idea sounds good to barn owner John Conrad III. "Rural America really has to take hold of its own destiny," he says. "We don't have mountains, and we can't create a big lake, but we can create other points of interest, like the barn quilts, that reflect our history, our heritage, who we are and where we're going." ☆

Remembered Soldiers Forgotten War

Ron Broward, 73, removes a ragged black-and-white snapshot from his wallet and recalls a birthday gift given to him 55 years ago by his childhood friend and fellow U.S. Marine, Warren "Jackson" Rarick. The photograph shows the young men smiling for the camera while relaxing at a military outpost in South Korea during the Korean War.

That day—April 3, 1951—remains vivid in Broward's memory.

"Jackson said, 'I have something for your birthday,'" Broward recalls. "He took out a little mayonnaise jar and said 'open your hands.' Then he poured dirt from the jar into my hands and said, 'This is Downey dirt.'"

The soldiers grew up together in Downey, Calif.

Broward rubbed the dirt between his fingers before carefully pouring the hometown memento back into the jar for safekeeping. The gift was typical of Rarick, a strapping 6-foot-1 soldier with a personality as big as his frame, always in a jovial mood and cheering those around him.

Three weeks later, Broward saw his friend for the last time as they fought waves of Chinese troops on Horseshoe Ridge near Chunchon, South Korea. A mortar shell landed between them as they ran down a steep slope choked with trees and vegetation. Both were wounded, but they got up and kept running. They slid about 20 feet down an embankment where a U.S. tank waited to take out the wounded.

"The last time I saw Jackson he was loading his squad leader onto a tank," says Broward, now a businessman in Davis, Calif. (pop. 60,308).

Pfc. Rarick, 21, a machine gunner with the 1st Battalion, 1st Regiment, was never found and is among 8,100 Korean War soldiers listed officially as missing in action (MIA). Although more than half a century has passed since the close of the Korean War—often referred to as The Forgotten War—Broward has never forgotten his fallen friend or stopped searching for him.

"It never leaves your mind," he says. "My job isn't finished yet."

A survivor's search

In 1985, Broward, and his wife, Jennifer, made their first of nine trips back to Horseshoe Ridge and began an exhaustive search to find and identify not just Rarick, but the remains of other unaccounted-for Korean War soldiers.

"People ask why I do this, but take a look at all the young faces," Broward says as he studies page after page of boyish faces of Korean War MIAs on his computer screen. "I feel privileged to have returned home. These youngsters never had a chance to live their lives."

Broward interviewed more than a hundred survivors of the Horseshoe Ridge battle to piece together what happened on April 23-24, 1951. He reconstructed maps of battle positions and talked to Korean farmers who tried to pinpoint where they had seen skeletons and GI dog tags when they played on the hill as children in the late '50s.

Broward's work led to two excavations by military search teams from the Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command (JPAC) in Hawaii to try to locate Rarick and three other missing Marines.

"In this case, a veteran comes to us with an extensive research file. He had done the ground-work," says Mark Leney, a forensic anthropologist at the U.S. Central Identification Laboratory at JPAC. In July 1999, the team excavated 91 foxholes and found remains of Chinese soldiers, along with battle debris and artifacts, including a Marine Corps emblem from the front of a cap, uniform buttons, hand grenade pins, and a bayonet from an M1 rifle.

"We probably would have left it at that, but Broward didn't," Leney says. "He came up with enough information to reopen the site in 2001. We combed the hill and found lots of Chinese soldiers."

But Rarick has never been found.

Decades of devotion

"It's like my brother fell off the face of the earth," says Billie Jo Wallace, 74, Rarick's sister. "Daddy never accepted it. He kept saying 'til the day he died that my brother was coming back."

Wallace, of Palm Desert, Calif. (pop. 41,155), cries as she talks about Broward's decades of devotion to her brother and other Korean War MIAs.

"Ron, bless his heart, has sent me many pictures of the place where he thinks my brother might have been killed," she says. "It looks like a very peaceful area."

Nine years ago, Broward helped arrange a memorial service. A headstone for Rarick was set beside his parents' graves in Downey Cemetery.

"Because of my brother, Ron has gotten into the work he's doing," Wallace says. "This helps me more than anything."

Retired Lt. Col. Robert Brockish of Lafayette, Colo. (pop. 23,197), marvels at Broward's dedication to lost servicemen. "He's put a lot of his personal fortune into this, going back and forth to Korea and Hawaii," says Brockish, a fellow Korean War veteran who helped with the 1999 dig. "He's just one tough Marine who won't let go."

Broward spends about three hours each evening poring over battle records and files of MIAs, comparing ages, heights and dental records with grid locations where remains

"We don't have anyone else quite like him," Leney says. "He started off working on the case of his personal friend, but he's become more aware and does all the cases."

"All" includes 867 unidentified Korean War servicemen who were buried in 1956 at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, also known as the Punchbowl, in Honolulu.

The Difference is in the Design

If you're one of the more than 30 million men in the U.S. experiencing Erectile Dysfunction (ED), you may have heard of—perhaps even tried—a Vacuum Erection Device (VED). What you may not know, however is that only RX Vaculect™ utilizes the most current technology available in vacuum therapy treatment today.

In fact, the RX Vaculect™ technology difference is so significant, it's backed by a 30-day 100% money-back guarantee. And here's why Discreet One-Piece Design - RX Vaculect™ is smaller, lighter, and requires no complicated assembly. As a result, it's not only the easiest system to use, but it also allows more intimacy.

Effortless Tension System Technology - The RX Vaculect™ tension system is easier to apply and requires no hand strength or physical coordination. Better yet, the RX Vaculect™ tension systems last longer and are less expensive to replace.

Developed by a U.S. Armed Forces Veteran who knows ED and has over 20 years of experience in vacuum therapy research and development, RX Vaculect™ is FDA-registered and Covered by Medicare and most other Insurance Companies. Equally important, RX Vaculect™ is less expensive than competitor systems which are still using outdated, clumsy technology.

So why settle for less than the best that vacuum therapy has to offer? If you want the most compact, reliable and easiest to use VED available on the market today, discover the RX Vaculect™ difference!

No longer unknown

Pfc. John L. Ward, of Utica, N.Y. (pop. 60,651), was among the unknown soldiers buried at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific until being identified in September 2005 after Broward met retired Marine Sgt. Joe Peters of Concord, Mass., at a veterans' reunion.

Like Broward, Peters had carried a treasured photo in his wallet for more than 50 years. Peters showed Broward the picture of Ward, who died in the foxhole beside him on Nov. 6, 1950, while fighting in Korea. Broward questioned Peters and learned that Ward had been buried at Hungnam No. 1, a cemetery in North Korea. From his research, he knew that three unidentified Marines buried in the Punchbowl were from that cemetery. North Korea had returned the bodies to the United States after the war.

Forensic experts at JPAC identified Ward, in part with dental records and fingerprints that had been taken of soldiers at enlistment and post-mortem.

Ward's sister, Elenita Ashley, 73, of Titusville, Pa. (pop. 6,146), had long given up hope of bringing her brother's body home to bury. "When I got the call, to tell you the truth, I thought it was a crank. After 55 years, it was unreal," she says. "Ron is an amazing man. He has put so much time and effort into helping families like ours."

Hydrogen Peroxide Can Heal What?

(SPECIAL) – Medical science has discovered that hydrogen peroxide is more than just a disinfectant. It's an amazing healer. Many doctors are using hydrogen peroxide to treat a wide variety of serious ailments such as: heart problems, clogged arteries, chest pain, allergies, asthma, migraine headaches, vascular headaches, cluster headaches, yeast infections, type II diabetes, emphysema, chronic pain syndromes, and more.

Average consumers are also discovering that hydrogen peroxide has tons of health, beauty and household uses. A new handbook called "The Amazing Health and Household Uses of Hydrogen Peroxide" is now available to the general public. It shows you home remedies using diluted hydrogen peroxide and how to mix it with ordinary household items like baking soda, lemon, vinegar and salt to help:

- Soothe ARTHRITIS PAIN
- Make SORE THROATS feel better
- Ease the pain of BEE STINGS and INSECT BITES
- Treat ATHLETE'S FOOT
- Ease the PAIN OF RHEUMATISM
- Clear up FUNGUS and MINOR INFECTIONS
- Help treat minor BURNS
- Treat BRUISES and RASHES
- Soothe ACHING MUSCLES, JOINTS & SORE

FEET

Hydrogen peroxide is truly amazing. Scientists have found it is involved in virtually all of life's vital processes. It stimulates the immune system, helps your body fight off viruses, parasites and bacteria. It also regulates hormones and is involved in the production of energy in the body's cells. That's just a few of the amazing things it does.

It's also a great alternative to harsh toxic chemicals and cleaners around the house. "The Amazing Health and Household Uses of Hydrogen Peroxide" also shows you how to make easy peroxide recipes for:

- A powerful bleaching formula for formica
- A fantastic homemade scouring powder
- The perfect drain cleaner for clogged drains
- A dishwasher detergent that makes dishes gleam
- An oven cleaner that eliminates elbow grease
- A great rust remover formula
- A tile cleaner that works like magic
- A little known formula that really cleans old porous tubs
- A solution to help house and garden plants flourish
- Use this formula to clean your pets
- This spray keeps a leftover salad fresher
- Ever wonder what happens to meats and fish before you bring them home? Here's a safety-wash for meat and fish
- A spray that's great for sprouting seeds

- Here's a sanitizing vegetable soak
- A denture soak that works great
- A tooth whitener that makes teeth sparkle
- A super polish for copper and brass
- A spot lifter for coffee, tea and wine stains

You'll learn all this and more in this remarkable book. In addition, you also get an extensive list of qualified doctors across the United States and even some in Canada who regularly use hydrogen peroxide in their practices to treat serious ailments.

Right now you can receive a special press run of "The Amazing Health and Household Uses of Hydrogen Peroxide" for only $8.95 plus $2.00 postage and handling. You must be completely satisfied, or simply return it in 90 days for a full refund.

HERE'S HOW TO ORDER: Simply PRINT your name and address and the words "Hydrogen Peroxide" on a piece of paper and mail it along with a check or money order for only $10.95 to: THE LEADER CO., INC., Publishing Division, Dept. “Breakthrough Discovery To Grow Beautiful Nails”

Even if you have never been able to grow strong beautiful nails

By Jana Lynn

You too can grow strong beautiful nails with Trind™ Natural Nail-Repair. I guarantee it!

Now it's so easy to grow the nails you've always dreamed of—even if you have already tried a number of other things without success.

Trind is Europe's leading nail care product for women who want beautiful nails without the expense and inconvenience of acrylics.

Trind is so effective that it has even earned “pharmaceutical” status in Switzerland. This allows Swiss doctors to prescribe Trind Natural Nail-Repair for their patients with nail problems.

Sweden's leading women's magazine compared Trind Natural Nail-Repair with nail care products from industry giants such as Clinique, Mavala, Cutex, and Kanebo. They chose Trind as the “best” of all.

What makes Trind Natural Nail-Repair so effective? It reinforces the protein molecules in your nails and regulates their moisture content to make them strong and flexible. That's why Trind nails never get brittle.

Even women that have never been able to grow beautiful nails before are amazed at how strong and flexible their nails become in only two weeks with Trind Natural Nail-Repair.

Until now, many women with problem nails have turned to acrylics for the pretty nails they wanted. But, they have soon discovered acrylics have problems of their own.

Acrylics cost hundreds of dollars more each year than natural Trind nails. They seem to pop off at the worst possible times—and they are often the cause of nail fungus.

It's so easy to grow strong, beautiful nails that won't break when you use Trind Natural Nail-Repair. It takes only minutes right in the privacy and convenience of your own home.

Your Trind Beauty Kit for nails includes one bottle of Trind Natural Nail-Repair (about a 4-month supply) and Trind's Nail-Magic 3-way buffer.

Plus, you get a FREE Gift just for ordering before the expiration date.

RISK-FREE GUARANTEE

I guarantee you will grow stronger, more beautiful nails with Trind™ Natural Nail-Repair than with anything you've ever used—at any price—or your money back.

Try Trind Natural Nail-Repair and Nail-Magic buffer RISK-FREE for a FULL 4 MONTHS—then decide. If you aren't delighted, return them for a full refund of every cent you paid.

IT'S EASY TO ORDER

Simply send your name and address, along with a check for only $22 plus $3 shipping and handling to:

Do you have any of the problems they used to have?

“Best nail product I've ever used. In the past five years I've tried nine different nail strengtheners priced from $1.89 to $39.95. My nails continued to peel and split until I tried Trind.

“Now my nails grow — healthy! — until they need to be cut because they get in my way.”

Sonja Strickland
Kingsland, Georgia

“I never want to be without your Trind Natural Nail-Repair again! I used it even though I didn't really believe it could make a difference in my splitting fingernails. Ashamed of them, I'd keep my hands as hidden as I could when with friends.

“In just a few weeks I am really happily wearing pretty rings on my lovely nails—my very own!”

Jackie Klinsky
Watsonville, California

“After exhausting so many products and methods to help my splitting, peeling and non-growing nails, I felt I had nothing to lose and decided to try the product. I'm so glad I did! Believe me, it works!

“My husband had two split nails that would not grow out and he too, decided to try TRIND. Now he adds his voice to mine. ‘It really works!’ I'm amazed at the condition and growth of my nails. It's unbelievable!”

Nikki & Addison Fritts
Delray Beach, Florida

“I have always had trouble with my nails splitting and peeling. But with your Nail-Repair the difference in them is amazing.

“Over time I have tried everything trying to get my nails to grow. This is the first thing I have ever used that actually did what it said it would.”

Wanda L. Shults
Okemah, Oklahoma

“I'll admit to being skeptical. After all, over the years I had tried them all (Sally Hansen, Barielle, Nailtique, etc.) and nothing helped my thin weak nails that split and cracked before they even reached the end of my nail beds.

“TRIND was going to be my last attempt to grow my own nails before giving in to the expense and risks of artificial ones. Imagine my utter surprise and joy to find TRIND works where all others have failed.

“This is the most wonderful and amazing product! At last I can enjoy the beautiful nails that before I had only been able to envy on other women.”

Michelle Hogan
Harvard, Massachusetts

“I just can't stop looking at my beautiful nails!

“I have NEVER in my life been able to grow, sustain and maintain such healthy, strong and LONG nails! They were paper-thin after having acrylics removed and the regularly recommended products did not help me at all!

“I am a TV host of my own show called ‘Vee on Venice’ and needless to say I need to look my very best from head to toe for my viewers.

“So now I finally feel fully confident that my nails will film beautifully.”

Vee V. Garry
Venice, Florida, Channel 21

“I stopped using acrylics but my nails looked terrible, so for two years I sat on my hands to hide my nails whenever I went out. Then I tried Trind Natural-Nail Repair and it seemed like my nails became long and strong almost overnight.

“Now people think my natural nails are acrylics. Every time I go to my manicurist she just shakes her head. She can't believe how well it's working.”

Broward and wife, Jennifer, live in Davis, Calif.

Her grandson, Senior Airman Josh Ashley, 21, now serves in Iraq and escorted his great-uncle's casket home for burial last April at Arlington National Cemetery. Ron and Jennifer Broward attended the service.

"Identifying even one is a success," says Broward, who remains optimistic that he will find his own Marine buddy and bring him back home to rest in the dirt of Downey, Calif. More research has convinced him that Rarick's remains lie beneath a paved road.

"My plan is to go back and pay to dig up a section of road," Broward says. "I still think I know where my friend is." ☆

ILLINOIS—Music comes from on high in Centralia (pop. 14,136), where a 65-bell carillon rings out concerts downtown. A professional carillonneur climbs 173 steps in the bell tower to play the bells.

INDIANA—In 1967, Robert Kearns patented his invention, the intermittent windshield wiper, which pauses between swipes. An eye injury from a flying champagne cork inspired his idea that wipers, like eye blinks, could be occasional. Kearns was born in 1928 in Gary.

IOWA—Alvin Straight of Laurens (pop. 1,476) wanted to visit his ailing brother in 1994 in Wisconsin, but didn't have a driver's license or good eyesight. So, he hitched a trailer with provisions to his 1966 John Deere mower and drove at 5 mph for six weeks. The trip inspired the 1999 David Lynch movie The Straight Story.

KANSAS—John Jordan "Buck" O'Neil, 94, became the oldest-ever professional baseball player in July when he signed a one-day contract and played with the Kansas City T-Bones. O'Neil died in October.

RECIPE

Italian Stuffing

Styling: Cheryl Barnes

Italian Stuffing

- 2 (8-ounce) loaves French bread (not sour dough), cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1 cup chopped fresh parsley
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- ⅓ cup chopped red bell pepper
- 1 cup grated Romano cheese
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 4 teaspoons dried oregano
- 3 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup margarine or butter

Preheat oven to 350F. Lightly grease a 2-quart ovenproof dish. Mix bread cubes, parsley, onion, celery, garlic and bell pepper in a large bowl. In another bowl, combine cheese, pepper, salt and oregano; combine with bread mixture. Heat broth and margarine together until margarine is melted. Pour over bread mixture; stir just until evenly moistened. Spoon into baking dish and cover with foil. Bake 45 minutes. Remove foil for the last 15 minutes to brown top, if desired. Serves 8 to 10.

Combined offers valid 10/29-11/15.

Weaving Navajo Tradition

D.Y. Begay holds centuries of Navajo history in her skillful hands as she weaves earth-inspired designs on her wooden loom. Creating Navajo rugs and blankets is a way of life for Begay, who was born in Tselani, Ariz., on the Navajo Indian Reservation. Like her mother and grandmother who taught her the craft, Begay, 52, shears her own sheep, then cleans, cards, dyes and spins the wool before creating traditional and original patterns.

Following Navajo tradition, her family raises about 30 Churro sheep valued for their long and silky greaseless fleece, which is ideal for weaving. "The black Churro sheep are my favorites because of their dark lustrous wool," says Begay, who returns to Tselani for shearing each spring from her home and studio in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Begay colors her creations with natural dyes.

After shearing the sheep, she begins the laborious process of cleaning the wool and carding it to straighten the fibers. She skillfully spins the wool into fine, even thread using a traditional wooden spindle. "The quality of a Navajo rug depends on how well the wool is spun, so spinning is an important part of the process," Begay says.

As a child, she watched her grandmother collect berries, walnuts, bloodroots, cedar bark and prickly pear fruit to make dyes to color the wool. Later, her parents taught her which plants to pick, how to use insects, dirt and sand to produce the most desirable hues, and how to boil the natural materials with the wool to set the dyes.

As Begay developed her craft, she learned other dyeing techniques from books. Today, she experiments with natural materials she finds in the Arizona desert and in her travels around the world.

"People say the desert is ugly and they think there's nothing here, but the land where I grew up and live is full of lush beauty and richness from the earth," Begay says.

Dyeing wool to achieve just the right intensity and color is an art that few weavers practice today, making Begay's weaving popular with clients who commission her to create one-of-a-kind designs. Depending on its intricacy and size, a single rug or blanket can take several weeks or months to complete.

Navajo women have been weaving wool rugs and blankets since the mid-1600s. Today, an estimated 5,000 weavers live on the reservation—mostly women 45 to 60 years old with grown children—and that number declines each year, says Ann Hedlund, director of the Gloria F. Ross Center for Tapestry Studies at the University of Arizona in Tucson. "Although there is no such thing as a typical Navajo weaver, D.Y.'s work is distinctive," Hedlund says, "and serves as a bridge between traditional Navajo craftsmen and modern, university-educated artisans."

After earning her bachelor's degree in fine arts and art education from Arizona State University in 1979, Begay worked as an elementary school teacher in Tucson for four years. But she missed weaving and decided to pursue it full time. Today, she shows her work at American Indian markets, art shows and galleries, and has served as a consultant to museums and private collectors around the country. She currently is teaching her nieces how to weave.

ADVAIR® significantly improves lung function to help you breathe better.*

If you have COPD associated with chronic bronchitis, ADVAIR 250/50 may help.

ADVAIR is different from other COPD medications. ADVAIR is the only product with an anti-inflammatory and a bronchodilator working together to improve lung function.

Get your first full prescription FREE!
Go to AdvairCOPD.com or call 1-800-987-4900.
Ask your doctor about ADVAIR today.

The way anti-inflammatories work in the treatment of COPD is not well defined. Important Information: ADVAIR DISKUS 250/50 is approved for controlling symptoms and preventing wheezing in adults with COPD associated with chronic bronchitis. The benefit of using ADVAIR for longer than 6 months has not been evaluated. You should only take 1 inhalation of ADVAIR twice a day. Taking higher doses will not provide additional benefits but may increase your chance of certain side effects. Lower respiratory tract infections, including pneumonia, have been reported with ADVAIR. Patients at risk for developing bone loss (osteoporosis) and some eye problems (cataracts or glaucoma) should be aware that use of inhaled corticosteroids, including ADVAIR, may increase your risk. You should consider having regular eye exams. ADVAIR does not replace fast-acting inhalers for acute symptoms. *Measured by a breathing test in people taking ADVAIR 250/50, compared with people taking either fluticasone propionate 250 mcg or salmeterol 50 mcg. Your results may vary.

If you don't have prescription coverage, visit ppar.org, or call 1-888-4PPA-NOW (1-888-477-2669).

If you smoke and/or drink alcohol, you can run the risk of complications. See package insert for important information. © 2004 GSK. All rights reserved.

Information about ADVAIR DISKUS

ADVAIR DISKUS 100/50, 250/50, 500/50 (Fluticasone propionate 100, 250, 500 mcg and salmeterol 50 mcg inhalation powder)

What is the most important information I should know about ADVAIR DISKUS?

In patients with asthma, long-acting beta-agonist medicines such as salmeterol (one of the medicines in ADVAIR) may increase the chance of death from asthma problems. In a large asthma study, more patients who used salmeterol died from asthma problems compared with patients who did not use salmeterol. So ADVAIR is not for patients whose asthma is well controlled on another asthma controller medicine such as low- to medium-dose inhaled corticosteroids or only need a fast-acting inhaler once in a while. Talk with your doctor about this risk and the benefits of treating your asthma with ADVAIR.

ADVAIR should not be used to treat a severe attack of asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) requiring emergency medical treatment.

ADVAIR should not be used to relieve sudden symptoms or sudden breathing problems. Always have a fast-acting inhaler with you to treat sudden breathing difficulty. If you do not have a fast-acting inhaler, contact your doctor to have one prescribed for you.

What is ADVAIR DISKUS?

There are two medicines in ADVAIR: Fluticasone propionate, an inhaled anti-inflammatory belonging to a group of medicines commonly referred to as corticosteroids, and salmeterol, a long-acting inhaled bronchodilator belonging to a group of medicines commonly referred to as beta-agonists. There are 3 strengths of ADVAIR: 100/50, 250/50, 500/50.

For Asthma

- ADVAIR is approved for the maintenance treatment of asthma in patients 4 years of age and older. ADVAIR should only be used if your doctor decides that another asthma controller medicine alone does not control your asthma or that you need 2 asthma controller medicines.
- The strength of ADVAIR approved for patients ages 4 to 11 years who experience symptoms on an inhaled corticosteroid is ADVAIR DISKUS 100/50. All 3 strengths are approved for patients with asthma ages 12 years and older.

For COPD associated with chronic bronchitis

ADVAIR 250/50 is the only approved dose for the maintenance treatment of airflow obstruction in patients with COPD associated with chronic bronchitis. The benefit of using ADVAIR for longer than 6 months has not been evaluated. The way anti-inflammatories work in the treatment of COPD is not well defined.

Who should not take ADVAIR DISKUS?

You should not start ADVAIR if your asthma is becoming significantly or rapidly worse, which can be life-threatening. Serious respiratory events, including death, have been reported in patients who started taking salmeterol in this situation, although it is not possible to tell whether salmeterol contributed to these events. This may also occur in patients with less severe asthma.

You should not take ADVAIR if you have had an allergic reaction to it or any of its components (salmeterol, fluticasone propionate, or lactose). Tell your doctor if you are allergic to ADVAIR, any other medications, or food products. If you experience an allergic reaction after taking ADVAIR, stop using ADVAIR immediately and contact your doctor. Allergic reactions are when you experience one or more of the following: choking, breathing problems, swelling of the face, mouth, and/or tongue, rash, hives, itching, or welts on the skin.

Tell your doctor about the following:

- If you are using your fast-acting inhaler more often or using more doses than you normally do (e.g., 4 or more inhalations of your fast-acting inhaler for 2 or more days in a row, or a whole canister of your fast-acting inhaler in 8 weeks' time), it could be a sign that your asthma is getting worse. If this occurs, tell your doctor immediately.
- If you have been using your fast-acting inhaler regularly (e.g., four times a day), your doctor may tell you to stop the regular use of these medications.
- If your peak flow meter results decrease. Your doctor will tell you the numbers that are right for you.
- If you have asthma and your symptoms do not improve after using ADVAIR regularly for 1 week.
- If you have been on an oral steroid like prednisone, and are now using ADVAIR. You should be very careful, as you may be less able to heal after surgery, infection, or serious injury. It takes a number of months for the body to recover its ability to make its own steroid hormones after use of oral steroids. Switching from an oral steroid may also unmask a condition previously suppressed by the oral steroid such as allergic conjunctivitis, eczema, arthritis, and eosinophilic conditions. Symptoms of an eosinophilic condition can include rash, worsening breathing problems, heart complications, and/or feeling of "pins and needles" or numbness in the arms and legs. Talk to your doctor immediately if you experience any of these symptoms.
- Sometimes patients experience unexpected bronchospasm right after taking ADVAIR. This condition can be life-threatening and if it occurs, you should immediately stop using ADVAIR and seek immediate medical attention.
- If you have any type of heart disease such as coronary artery disease, irregular heart beat, or high blood pressure. ADVAIR should be used with caution. Be sure to talk with your doctor about your condition because salmeterol, one of the components of ADVAIR, may affect the heart by increasing heart rate and blood pressure. It may cause symptoms such as heart fluttering, chest pain, rapid heart rate, tremor, or nervousness.
- If you have seizures, overactive thyroid gland/liver problems, or are sensitive to certain medications for breathing.
- If your breathing problems get worse over time or if your fast-acting inhaler does not work as well for you while using ADVAIR. If your breathing problems worsen quickly, get emergency medical care.
- If you have been exposed to or currently have chickenpox or measles or if you have an immune system problem. Patients using medications that weaken the immune system are more likely to get infections than healthy individuals. ADVAIR contains a corticosteroid (fluticasone propionate) which may weaken the immune system. Infections like chickenpox and measles, for example, can be very serious or even fatal in susceptible patients using corticosteroids.

How should I take ADVAIR DISKUS?

ADVAIR should be used 1 inhalation twice a day (morning and evening). ADVAIR should never be taken more than 1 inhalation twice a day. The full benefit of taking ADVAIR may take 1 week or longer.

If you miss a dose of ADVAIR, just skip that dose. Take your next dose at your usual time. Do not take two doses at one time.

Do not stop using ADVAIR unless told to do so by your doctor because your symptoms might get worse.

Do not change or stop any of your medicines used to control or treat your breathing problems. Your doctor will adjust your medicines as needed.

When using ADVAIR, remember:

- Never breathe into or take the DISKUS[®] apart.
- Always use the DISKUS in a level position.
- After each inhalation, rinse your mouth with water without swallowing.
- Never wash any part of the DISKUS. Always keep it in a dry place.
- Never take an extra dose, even if you feel you did not receive a dose.
- Discard 1 month after removal from the foil overwrap.
- Do not use ADVAIR with a spacer device.

Children should use ADVAIR with an adult's help as instructed by the child's doctor.

Can I take ADVAIR DISKUS with other medications?

Tell your doctor about all the medications you take, including prescription and nonprescription medications, vitamins, and herbal supplements.

If you are taking ADVAIR, you should not take SEREVENT[®] DISKUS or Foradil[®] Aerolizer[®] for any reason.

If you take ritonavir (an HIV medication), tell your doctor. Ritonavir may interact with ADVAIR and could cause serious side effects. The anti-HIV medicines Norvir[®] Soft Gelatin Capsules, Norvir Oral Solution, and Kaletra[®] contain ritonavir.

No formal drug interaction studies have been performed with ADVAIR.

In clinical studies, there were no differences in effects on the heart when ADVAIR was taken with varying amounts of albuterol. The effect of using ADVAIR in patients with asthma while taking more than 9 puffs a day of albuterol has not been studied.

ADVAIR should be used with extreme caution during and up to 2 weeks after treatment with monoamine oxidase (MAO) inhibitors or tricyclic antidepressants since these medications can cause ADVAIR to have an even greater effect on the circulatory system.

ADVAIR should be used with caution in people who are taking ketoconazole (an antifungal medication) or other drugs broken down by the body in a similar way. These medications can cause ADVAIR to have greater steroid side effects.

Generally, people with asthma should not take beta-blockers because they counteract the effects of beta-agonists and may also cause severe bronchospasm. However, in some cases, for instance following a heart attack, selective beta-blockers may still be used if there is no acceptable alternative.

The ECG changes and/or low blood potassium that may occur with some diuretics may be made worse by ADVAIR, especially at higher-than-recommended doses. Caution should be used when these drugs are used together.

In clinical studies, there was no difference in side effects when ADVAIR was taken with methylxanthines (e.g., theophylline) or with FLOWASE[®].

What are other important safety considerations with ADVAIR DISKUS?

Osteoporosis: Long-term use of inhaled corticosteroids may result in bone loss (osteoporosis). Patients who are at risk for increased bone loss (tobacco use, advanced age, inactive lifestyle, poor nutrition, family history of osteoporosis, or long-term use of drugs such as corticosteroids) may have a greater risk with ADVAIR. If you have risk factors for bone loss, you should talk to your doctor about ways to reduce your risk and whether you should have your bone density evaluated.

Glaucoma and cataracts: Glaucoma (increased pressure in the eyes), and cataracts have been reported with the use of inhaled steroids, including fluticasone propionate, a medicine contained in ADVAIR. Regular eye examinations should be considered if you are taking ADVAIR.

Lower respiratory tract infection: Lower respiratory tract infections, including pneumonia, have been reported with the use of inhaled corticosteroids, including ADVAIR.

Blood sugar: Salmeterol may affect blood sugar and/or cause low blood potassium in some patients, which could lead to a side effect like an irregular heart rate. Significant changes in blood sugar and blood potassium were seen infrequently in clinical studies with ADVAIR.

Growth: Inhaled steroids may cause a reduction in growth velocity in children and adolescents.

Steroids: Taking steroids can affect your body's ability to make its own steroid hormones, which are needed during infections and times of severe stress to your body such as an operation. These effects can sometimes be seen with inhaled steroids (but it is more common with oral steroids), especially when taken at higher-than-recommended doses over a long period of time. In some cases, these effects may be severe. Inhaled steroids often help control symptoms with less side effects than oral steroids.

Yeast infections: Patients taking ADVAIR may develop yeast infections of the mouth and/or throat ("thrush") that should be treated by their doctor.

Tuberculosis or other untreated infections: ADVAIR should be used with caution if at all in patients with tuberculosis, herpes infections of the eye, or other untreated infections.

What are the other possible side effects of ADVAIR DISKUS?

ADVAIR may produce side effects in some patients. In clinical studies, the most common side effects with ADVAIR included:

- Respiratory infections
- Throat irritation
- Hoarseness
- Sinus infection
- Yeast infection of the mouth
- Bronchitis
- Cough
- Headaches
- Nausea and vomiting
- Diarrhea
- Musculoskeletal pain
- Dizziness
- Fever
- Ear, nose, and throat infections
- Nosebleed

Tell your doctor about any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away. These are not all the side effects with ADVAIR. Ask your doctor or pharmacist for more information.

What if I am pregnant, planning to become pregnant, or nursing?

Talk to your doctor about the benefits and risks of using ADVAIR during pregnancy, labor, or if you are nursing. There have been no studies of ADVAIR used during pregnancy, labor, or in nursing women. Salmeterol is known to interfere with labor contractions. It is not known whether ADVAIR is excreted in breast milk, but other corticosteroids have been detected in human breast milk. Fluticasone propionate, like other corticosteroids, has been associated with birth defects in animals (e.g., cleft palate and fetal death). Salmeterol showed no effect on fertility in rats at 180 times the maximum recommended daily dose.

What other important tests were conducted with ADVAIR?

There is no evidence of enhanced toxicity with ADVAIR compared with the components administered separately. In animal studies with doses much higher than those used in humans, salmeterol was associated with uterine tumors. Your healthcare professional can tell you more about how drugs are tested on animals and what the results of these tests may mean to your safety.

AS HEARD ON PAUL HARVEY NEWS

New advanced portable heater can cut your heating bill up to 50%

Heats a large room in minutes with even heat wall to wall and floor to ceiling

Does not get hot, cannot start a fire and will not reduce humidity or oxygen

Never be cold again

How it works:

A new advanced quartz infrared portable heater, the EdenPURE®, can cut your heating bills by up to 50%.

You have probably heard about the remarkable EdenPURE® as heard on Paul Harvey News and on television features across the nation.

The EdenPURE® can pay for itself in a matter of weeks and then start putting a great deal of extra money in your pocket after that.

A major cause of residential fires in the United States is portable heaters. But the EdenPURE® cannot cause a fire. That is because the quartz infrared heating element never gets to a temperature that can ignite anything.

The outside of the EdenPURE® only gets warm to the touch so that it will not burn children or pets. Pets can sleep on it when it is operating without harm.

The advanced space-age EdenPURE® Quartz Infrared Portable Heater also heats the room evenly, wall-to-wall and floor-to-ceiling. And, as you know, portable heaters only heat an area a few feet around the heater.

Unlike other heating sources, the EdenPURE® cannot put poisonous carbon monoxide into a room or any type of fumes or any type of harmful radiation.

Q. What is the origin of this amazing heating element in the EdenPURE®?

A. This advanced heating element was discovered accidentally by a man named John Jones.

Q. What advantages does infrared quartz tube heating source have over other heating source products?

A. John Jones designed his heating source around the three most important consumer benefits: economy, comfort, and safety.

In the EdenPURE® system, electricity is used to generate infrared light which, in turn, creates a very safe heat.

After a great deal of research and development, very efficient infrared heat chambers were developed that utilize three unique patented solid copper heat exchangers in one EdenPURE® heater.

Q. How can a person cut their heating bill by up to 50% with the EdenPURE®?

A. The EdenPURE® will heat a room in minutes. Therefore, you can turn the heat down in your house to as low as 50 degrees, but the room you are occupying, which has the EdenPURE®, will be warm and comfortable. The EdenPURE® is portable. When you move to another room, it will quickly heat that room also. This can drastically cut heating bills, in some instances, by up to 50%.

The EdenPURE® comes in 2 models. Model 500 heats a room up to 300 square feet and Model 1000 heats a room up to 1,000 square feet.

End of interview.

The EdenPURE® will pay for itself in weeks. It will put a great deal of extra money in a users pocket. Because of today's spiraling gas, oil, propane, and other energy costs, the EdenPURE® will provide even greater savings as the time goes by.

Cannot start a fire; a child or animal can touch or sit on it without harm

Readers who wish can obtain the EdenPURE® Quartz Infrared Portable Heater at a $75 discount if they order in the next 10 days. Please see the Special Readers Discount Coupon on this page. For those readers ordering after 10 days from the date of this publication, we reserve the right to either accept or reject order requests at the discounted price.

Holiday Meal Planning for Diabetics

by ANNE GILLEM

Food is a natural part of the holiday season, so it's especially important for diabetics to develop a plan to navigate the cornucopia of culinary temptations.

"There are things that always come up in your life—weddings, birthdays, parties—but nothing is more challenging than Thanksgiving and Christmas," says Anne Daly, a registered dietitian and director of nutrition and diabetes education at the Springfield (Ill.) Diabetes & Endocrine Center. "You do want to build in some special foods and prioritize what's important to you. But keep your blood glucose front and center."

The key is to plan ahead, says Daly, a past president of Health Care and Education for the American Diabetes Association. "Say, 'I'm not going to let the holidays control me; I'm going to take control of this. I'm going to think ahead,'" she says.

Developing family and peer support is helpful, which is easier since healthy-eating tactics for diabetics are healthy for anyone. A typical Thanksgiving meal can total 3,500 or 4,000 calories, but Daly says there are simple ways to dramatically reduce that number. For example, choose white meat instead of dark meat from the turkey; cook dressing outside the bird; make mashed potatoes with skim milk or chicken broth rather than cream; serve steamed vegetables rather than fat-laden casseroles; and watch the gravy! One cup of regular gravy has a whopping 800 calories.

For both diabetics and those who entertain diabetics for holiday meals, healthier cooking options exist. Dress up sweet potatoes with small amounts of pineapple juice or apple juice instead of butter or brown sugar. Make pies without the crust. When baking, use less sugar and increase the use of sweet-tasting spices and flavorings such as cinnamon, nutmeg and vanilla. For more options, peruse cookbooks for diabetics and try recipes that include lighter versions of traditional holiday fare.

Enjoy sugary treats in moderation, and remember that sweets are not the only foods that increase blood sugar levels. All carbohydrates—including those in fruits, vegetables, beans, dairy foods and starchy foods—elevate blood sugar. Eat a variety of healthy foods. Think low-fat and sugar-free.

Daly offers diabetics these holiday meal tips:

- Talk with family members in advance and enlist their support. Tell them your goal is to keep your blood sugar level in the optimal range.
- Schedule your holiday meal for later in the day. When meals are served at noon or in the early afternoon, people tend to eat a second full meal at dinnertime.
- Make a list of "must-have" foods—for example, Mom's famous sugar cookies—and figure out how to include them in your eating plan. You may have to cut back on other foods or adjust medication. Consulting a registered dietitian or your physician can help.
- Think about your family's typical holiday meal. Ask what's going to be on the menu and determine if there are any dishes you can eat heartily. Opt for vegetables and fruits, or volunteer to bring a tray of raw vegetables or shrimp cocktail.
- Offer to host the family dinner, which gives you more control over the menu. Even if it's a potluck, provide relatives with your healthy recipes, which have benefits for everyone.
- Send leftovers home with guests.
- If you drink alcoholic beverages, limit yourself to one or two drinks and include them in your holiday calorie plan. Tea and club soda are healthier options.
- Monitor your blood sugar more often than usual. The recommended pre-meal range is 90 to 130, the post-meal peak should be less than 180 and, two hours later, the reading should be less than 140.

"What you want to do is learn from year to year," Daly says. "Look back and think to yourself what worked and what didn't."

And don't forget to enjoy yourself. After all, it's the holidays! ☆

Fine Jewelry Policy: Sale does not apply to red-tag price-reduced clearance, gold-filled, family jewelry or class rings. Jewelry photos may be enlarged to show detail. Diamond weights may not be exact, but are never more than .05 carats below the stated weight. Most colored gemstones are treated to enhance their natural appearance. Some treatments are not permanent and may require special care. See a salesperson for details. Jewelry shown is representative of assortment and may vary by store. If an advertised item is not available at your nearest store, we will be happy to order it for you. Sterling silver rings are not available by special order.

Colors and assortment of merchandise on these pages may vary by store.
Kmart Advertiser Merchandise Policy
Sale offers do not apply to clearance merchandise or items available through kmart.com. Sale merchandise is from specially selected groups unless identified as "as is". Special Buy items are volume buys or special deals and are available in limited quantities, no rain checks available. Except as noted, rain checks will be issued upon request when advertised items are unavailable or we may offer you a comparable quality item at a comparable price. Price reductions are off everyday low prices unless otherwise indicated. Prices may vary in some stores due to local factors. Advertised prices are subject to state and local taxes, deposits and fees. We reserve the right to limit purchases to normal retail quantities. Shop these products at our Kmart, Big Kmart and Kmart SuperCenter locations. ©2006 Kmart Corporation Select items in this circular may not be available at our White Lake, MI, store or our Peoria, IL, store.
