I AM THANKFUL FOR MY GRANDPARENTS BECAUSE...

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Evan Wormsbacher is thankful for his grandparents because they are nice and kind to other people.

"Plus they are giving and so sweet to people sometimes it makes me want to cry," he recently wrote.

Wormsbacher, 9, is so thankful and full of love for his grandparents he wants to live with them.

"I'm thankful that they are here because if they weren't here, I would be so miserable."

Last week, Wormsbacher and other Ridge Wood Elementary School students took a moment to think about what Thanksgiving is all about and what an important role their grandparents play in their lives.

This year, for many Northville children, Thanksgiving is about family.

A group of Ridge Wood Elementary School students were asked the question "I am thankful for my grandparents because ..."

Here is what they wrote:

My grandparents are very nice and they are always there for me. I am thankful that my grandpa takes me ice skating and that my grandma takes me to dance. Sometimes me, my family and my grandparents go to dinner. They encourage me in what I do. That is why I am thankful for my grandparents.

PLANNING THE WAY:

Design consultant presenting concepts to council Monday

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Business owners along Mary Alexander Court want the one-way street to travel two ways.

But retailers and service providers enamored by the prospect of additional traffic and commerce are wary there's simply not enough space to get the job done.

"Where are they going to move the dumpsters to?" asked Jeffrey Daskal, who recently built a three-story building at 170 E. Main St. that opens on the south end to the court. "How are they going to unload a truck back there?"

Reworking the east-west lane is part of the downtown makeover plan the city's design consultant will present to Northville City Council Monday night. Months of study by professionals and volunteer committees have produced concepts of a larger town square, improved streetscape and better access to Ford Field.

The Grissim Metz Andriese Associates team will lead discussion on turning drawn concepts into real improvements.

Officials' input

"We're going to go into details as far as those specific projects," said Grissim Metz Andriese Associates principal Sue Grissim.

Area residents have chance at big holiday prizes

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

How does winning $15,000 or a cruise to the Bahamas sound?

Time is running out to grab top prizes in the Northville High School Music Program raffle fundraiser.

Winners names will be drawn at the Holiday Afterglow Party Dec. 16 at the high school, with more than $40,000 given away.

"While the music families have nicely supported this fundraiser, many of the tickets are being bought by people who know the odds," said Beth Noble, Northville High School Music Booster president. "Those odds are much better than those of a lottery ticket."

The money raised from the raffle will support the 740 students participating in Northville High School 's choir and band programs.

"No school system can cover the costs involved in keeping 10 choir groups and five bands going," said Mike Rumbell, Northville High School band director. "It helps us to enrich the music curriculum, while also providing us with funds to cover the day-to-day expenses."

The 210-member marching band began practicing in the summer, performing at football games; the Victorian Festival, Homecoming and Northville's Holiday Lighted parades; and Band-O-Rama at the high school Dec. 1.

The high school choir groups began practicing at the beginning of the school year, preparing for the fall concert series Oct. 24-25. The concerts, called "NHS World Tour," included all 530 choir students.

The Northville High School Holiday concerts featuring select bands and choir groups will take place Dec. 13, 14 and 16.

To purchase a raffle ticket, contact Mary Jo Ring at (248) 465-9987, or pick one up at any of the upcoming musical events.

Ring said the group is also accepting smaller donations, which will be combined to purchase raffle tickets benefiting Northville Youth Assistance.

Victoria Mitchell can be reached at (248) 349-1700, ext 122.

Dollar details

Tickets cost $100 each and 1,000 will be sold, with a total of 26 prizes up for grabs. The prize distribution breaks down as the following:

- First prize: $15,000
- Second prize: $7,000
- Third prize: $4,000
- Fourth prize: $3,000
- Fifth prize: $2,000
- Sixth-10th prizes: $1,000
- 11-15th prizes: $500
- 16-25th prizes: $200
- 26th prize: Bahamas cruise for six

PLANNING THE WAY:

Council called a 7 p.m. special meeting at city hall and invited members of the planning commission, historic district commission, parks and recreation commission and downtown development authority board, which has been guiding the strategic plan implementation.

"We want their feedback," Grissim said. "It's not a resolution of 'Let's do it,' yet.

"It's kind of like how we did the open house."

During an Oct. 26 public meeting, Grissim representatives gathered resident opinions about depictions of potential downtown improvement projects displayed on boards at the Northville Senior Community Center. Monday night, Grissim will show the audience three-dimensional renderings of what an enlarged town square could look like.

Dec. 22 is the consultant's deadline to submit a conceptual design plan. The development authority board is targeting a July completion date for a new town square.

City council will determine how money is spent on projects and when.

Practical considerations

The business owners who look out daily on Mary Alexander Court see cars blocked in, some driving the wrong way and unable to park. Many are wondering how proposed improvements would change all that.

Grissim said engineers will be on hand Monday to answer questions about reworking specific streets.

Part of the process is incorporating business owner concerns, data collected and practical considerations, Grissim said. She said her team is aware that — even unchanged — one-way Mary Alexander Court has challenges.

The rendering of a two-way court shows parking stalls from Hutton to Center streets, except at the current bandshell location.

"Whatever parking is there on that court we're keeping," Grissim said. "Conceptually, we're adding two to three more.

"I'm saying, 'But ...' until the traffic is completely studied."

Preliminary drawings show spaces lost to the removal of the lane through Bandshell Park would reappear elsewhere on Mary Alexander or Main Street. Parking, trash receptacle placement and deliveries will be part of the equation, Grissim said.

"That's what we're doing with the plans, trying to facilitate their needs," she said. "We've got to work this out — everyone has their own needs.

"The plans are evolving."

Gift Cards taking local mall by storm. www.findyourgo.com

It's true. Some c[illegible] trouble with credit card spendi[illegible] year for the holidays you can give the[illegible]rd that can't go over the limit. Once dubbed the last-minute gift option, Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Cards[illegible] topping lists nationwide. "If you're [illegible] what they want (or you're short on [illegible] Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Card is one of your best options," said the mall manager.

Hailed as the king of options, Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Cards allow the receiver to choose whatever they want from almost any store in the mall. Perfect for any occasion, a Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Card allows users to choose exactly what they need (or want) from hundreds of first-class retail stores.

Admittedly, Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Cards are not always the best gift option. For instance, if you've recently had a spat with your significant other and you show up on Christmas morn armed with a Twelve Oaks Mall Gift Card, you might be in a bit of trouble. In that particular case, it might be better to reference the corresponding Twelve Oaks Holiday Gift Guides for gift ideas with a tad more "tree presence." There are Gift Guides for nearly every type of person on your list this year. From Holiday Gift Guides for Moms, Dads, Kids and Teens to Stocking Stuffer Holiday Gift Guides and the ever popular Holiday Gift Guide for Gifts Under $25. And don't forget the Gift Guide for Unforgettable Gifts, loaded with exciting gifts they'll tell their grandkids about. "There's a Holiday Gift Guide for everyone," said another mall spokesperson, and all of the Holiday Gift Guides can be referenced, in detail, online at www.findyourgo.com. The mall was scoured top to bottom, store by store, to find the best gifts for every person on your list, then categorized and compiled in pocket-sized brochures for easy reference as you shop. "I used a Holiday Gift Guide for every on my list and polished off all ping in a matter of hours. It' said one shopper as she left th Friday afternoon.

Dine at Uno's, help raise library dough

Good Samaritan calling ... a guest at Northville's holiday lighted parade Friday night found a "unique and identifiable" child's wallet he would like to return to its proper owner. It contained money, but no identification. Contact the Northville Record main office if you can help connect the finder with the owner ...

Brrrrr ... bundle up. The guys on the LaSalle Bank roof got to work just as the temperatures dipped below freezing. But midweek, a sunshine reprieve ...

Does it seem like we just had cornstalks and pumpkins on downtown street corners? Now, it's all white lights, red bows and greenery. But the harvest decor was not hastily disposed of — the straw and gourds were donated to Maybury Farm for bedding and grub for the animals. Good thinking!

Congratulations go out to Richard Allen, Alexander Bernstein, Steven Brown, Peter Curran, Chase Dehne, Travis Dehne, Wesley Gates, Trevor Grigg, Christopher Kozerski, Daniel Kozerski and Philip Snow. Led by coaches Matt Stetson and Nick Thompson, the Northville High School boys varsity golf regional champions placed seventh in the state competition. The whole crew was applauded by members of the board of education and Northville High School Athletic Director Bryan Masi.

If you've been watching progress on Jeff and Teta Daskal's new E. Main Street building — the former site of Little Caesar's — word is Utopia Salon and Spa will be relocating next door mid-December ...

Meanwhile ... seems the Mach family has generously agreed to store the historic building disassembled from that Main Street site until funds are available to rebuild it as a general store at Mill Race Historical Village. Storing the beams and planks inside the former Ford dealership on Seven Mile Road will help preserve that bit of local history better than its current place in the village parking lot ...

The life of a man about to become a grandfather ... Jerry Pociask has authored an inspirational book titled "Call Me Grandpa." He'll be at Northville Candle, Cards & Gifts for a book signing from 6-8:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1. Interested? Visit www.CallMeGrandpa.com.

Speaking of downtown merchants ... the namesake theme barely scratches the surface of the array of tile designs available at the Dancing Eye Gallery. Interesting to note, in-stock tiles can be taken on approval, so shoppers can see how they look at home. And, if a shopper has something special in mind, Dancing Eye Gallery owner Theresa Schierloh can assist in selecting an artist for a custom design. Hhmmmm ... gift idea there?

Kudos to ... Congressman Thaddeus McCotter who recently was elected by his colleagues to serve as Chairman of the Republican House Policy Committee during Republican Conference Leadership.

And, Northville resident Dale Holdaway, a Ford manager for global finance training, recently earned a certificate of excellence award for the certified internal auditor exam, ranking among the top five scores among 30,000 candidates who took the exam. Wow!

And more contributions from local folks ... Northville native Dr. Joanne Smith recently was chosen to head the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago as its new chief executive officer. Congratulations!

You know it will be stylish ... Chris VanDam is coordinating a fashion show for the Northville Women's Club meeting at 1:30 p.m., Dec. 1 at First Presbyterian Church. It's a guest day — get one of your buddies who's a member to invite you!

Hey, was that former Northville Record receptionist Marcia Cromas in the lighted holiday parade? She looked quite festive twirling her parasol decorated with lights!

It's a bird, it's a plane, no, it is a bird. Hillside Middle School teacher Dwight Sieggreen was selected as an ING Unsung Heroes Awards Program honor. As part of the honor, he received a $2,000 check for his selected program to build a bird sanctuary. Sieggreen has been highly honored in the past for his work in developing and maintaining a frog nursery, home to rare and exotic amphibians.

Save the date and go hungry! On Dec. 10, Uno's Chicago Grill on Haggerty Road just south of Eight Mile Road is hosting a fund-raiser for the Northville District Library. It doesn't cost diners extra — the restaurant is donating a portion of its proceeds that day. More details to follow in a future Northville Record issue ...

SCHOOLKIDS: "I'm thankful for my grandparents because..."

because it shows me that they care about me and love me so much! I like playing games with them because it shows them that I love them so much! I love my grandparents!!

Name: Alana Dorfstatter
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They always care for me and help me when i have problems that no one can solve. They helped me get ice when I sprained my ankle. Also they told me what I should do and what I shouldn't do when I had a sore throat.

Name: Ashley Williams
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

Every day after school they make something for me to eat. They also teach me another language. Sometimes they play games with me. Every time I need help, they help me with my homework. Whenever I'm bored, my grandparents find something for me to do. That's why I am thankful for my grandparents.

Name: Claudia Ma
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They care and help me. I also am thankful for my grandparents because whenever I'm feeling down they cheer me up. My grandparents also help me with my religion homework. My grandparents love me very much and I do, too. That's why I am very thankful for my grandparents!!

Name: Mira Sanghvi
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are very protective to me and they watch out for me. Sometimes we go out to movies together. When my grandma comes over, she tells me and my sister what my mom did when she was a kid. I am really thankful for my grandparents because they always give me a big hug whenever they see me. A lot of times they buy me clothes. Sometimes they teach me good manners. One day I want to grow up to be just like them.

Name: Nick Chatas
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are very kind to me. I am also thankful for my grandparents because they always give us hugs when we arrive at their house, and when we leave to go back home to our house. I think my grandparents are the nicest grandparents ever. I love them very much.

Name: Caroline Kaiser
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

Whenever I come visit them, I never want to leave. I am also thankful for my grandparents because I love them for who they are. When it's my birthday they give me stuff. When I turned 9, my grandma gave me a $100 gift card to Toys-R-Us. I love my grandparents so much. I will sure miss them.

Name: Andrea Apeland
Age: 9-1/2
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They take care of me when my mom and dad go to a party. They give me things from the Navy, and they take me places. They throw parties on Christmas Eve. On Christmas night they come over for fondue. We fly kites in Florida, then hang out. I am thankful for my grandparents because they are just plain fun!!!

Name: Jakob Beer
Age: 9-1/2
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

I am thankful for my grandma because she is very nice because she always buys me toys, whenever I come over, and she is very nice because she sepds me money in cards for my birthday, or whenever she sends me cards so that is why I am thankful for my grandma. Thank you grandma!

Name: Kenny Conley
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

Even though they are hunchbacked and hard to play with, they still do a lot of fun stuff like play checkers, cards and when they ask you, it's kind of like a frog croaking, "Hey Sonny, want to play checkers?" But they still do a lot of funny stuff, like mixing mashed potatoes with baby food. They can still help you with a lot of stuff, like playing pool or even homework. Thanks for being such good grandparents for all us kids.

Name: Justin Pelky
Age: 10
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are nice, smart and cool. (Just between you and me, they give me a lot of money.) They always have a giant feast when Thanksgiving comes around. Without them, I would have a hole in my heart, where they would have been, and I may never be happy again. (I'd also be broke.) That is why my grandparents are so grand!

Name: Tucker Swenson
Age: 10
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

If my grandma and grandpa did not live, I would not have my mom. I am so lucky to have my grandma and grandpa because whenever I am sad, they will cheer me up, and they always know the right stuff to cheer me up. They are the best grandma and grandpa in the whole world. No one could ask for a better grandma or grandpa. I am so glad that I have my grandparents. They are the best. They always know the right thing, like when I am in trouble, they will always get me out of it.

Name: Blake Kent
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are really nice to me, and they are always happy when I come to their house to visit them in New York. I am also thankful for my grandparents because they are always positive. If I lose a contest or a medal, they always cheer me up.

Name: Sean DiPietro
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They take good care of me and love me very much. I think they are nice and very smart grandparents. They also have always helped me when I was hurt. I think they are one of the best grandparents in the world. I love them so much, and I would also help them if they were hurt or damaged. This is why I am very thankful for my grandparents.

Name: Natalie Williams
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are nice and kind to other people. Plus they are giving and so sweet to people sometimes it makes me want to cry. I love them so much that I want to live with them. I'm thankful that they are here because if they weren't here, I would be so miserable. Let me tell you about her. She has white hair. She has brown eyes.

Name: Evan Wormsbacher
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They give me love and respect. I'm also thankful for them because they give me lots of presents when it's my birthday, and on other holidays. It's also fun to play with them. Sometimes we play board games, too. It's really fun to have them around.

Name: Rylee Bates
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They love me and I love them. They are so sweet to me and kind! They always put me first! They're always there for me, no matter what! They're my heart! They treat me like I am their own kids. They're number one!!! They're unbelievable. I LOVE THEM SO MUCH!!

Name: Peggy Stylianou
Age: 9-1/2
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They love me more than anything in the world. Even though both of my grandpas have passed away, I still have the best grandmas ever! I would just like to say "thank you for taking care of me so well, and I love my grandparents."

Name: Whitney McDonald
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They are the reason my mom was born, and because of her, I was born. I would never get most of my stuff. I am also thankful for my grandparents because they are the only one in the house that don't yell at me. I also need them because they are nice.

Name: Abhjeet Bhullar
Age: 10
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They can care for you or help you when you're hurt. They're nice, smart and cool. They cheer you up when you're down in the dumps. They always have a big smile on their faces. Me and my family set up a party when it is Thanksgiving time, and we always invite them. We always have fun together.

Name: Christian Mayer
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

They always make me happy. They are always there for me. They want me to come over every weekend. That makes me happy. They always babysit me. My grandma always takes me to the movies. I can always count on them. They never make me mad. My grandma and grandpa are very caring.

Name: Reno Russo
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

If they weren't alive, I wouldn't be alive because my parents wouldn't be alive. So that is one way I'm thankful for them. I also like them because they love me and always volunteer to babysit me (even though I sometimes want someone else to).

Name: Gabriel Gach
Age: 9
Grade: 4
Teacher: Mrs. Pietrandrea

I'm thankful for my two very important grandmas. My grandma Jan babysat me when my parents were working at home. Any other time they weren't working we would all go outside. These are stories I will never forget. She died. I miss her so much. She smoked. She got lung cancer and we thought she would pull through. She didn't. She was cremated. We all miss her. My other grandma was divorced so I hardly see my granpa. He lives in California and is married agai.. My grandma was married again. She moved into a new house. My new grandpa Don really liked fishing. They had a pond, too! And a really cute dog named Daisy I visited a lot! But then one time my mom brought me over without my luggage. She said grandma was moving. When I didn't hear "grandpa Don," I knew something was wrong. My grandma pulled me through the hard times. I am pulling her through hers, too!

GIFTS OF HOPE: Northville Civic Concern seeking donors for annual Christmas program

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

A vacuum cleaner, smoke detectors and a lamp for the kids' room: not so exotic requests.

Northville Civic Concern has an application clients complete to be considered for the annual Adopt-A-Family Christmas program, including a blank for "special needs," where they jot items like those listed above.

"For the clients, it's the one time of year they get to have help in an area they would go without," said Roxanne Barrick, who for the third year is coordinating Civic Concern's gift collection. The community's emergency service agency has been matching clients with donors at Christmas time for more than 20 years.

"We still have a few families to adopt," said Civic Concern director Marlene Kunz. So far, Barrick has passed along requests of 111 individuals and families to gift-givers who will anonymously drop their packages Dec. 13 and 14.

Santa will help Civic Concern volunteers distribute the carefully tagged and wrapped items Dec. 16. Last year, local residents shopped for 150 of their neighbors, knowing not to expect a public response to their generosity.

"For the gift-givers, a lot of people refer to it as a learning experience for their kids, a reminder of how important it is to help those in need," Barrick said. "A lot of people want to adopt kids their kids' own age.

"I always try to give the donor a client they can cover the entire need, so everyone can feel good."

Food for thought

Kunz said families have generously responded to Civic Concern's non-perishable food collection rotating among Northville Public Schools buildings. During last week's regularly scheduled food distribution session, 68 families came in to pick up the pre-packaged groceries, she said.

"Each day, it's mounting," Kunz said. "Of actual clients, I would say we're close to 100 and something."

Barrick said clients who qualify for the Adopt-A-Family Christmas program frequently list clothing, blankets and other necessities as gifts they'd like to receive. Gift cards for pharmacies, gas stations and local department stores can help someone temporarily struggling who has used a limited paycheck to cover a utility payment, she said.

One 59-year-old woman put on her wish list "a full-time job for my husband." Another request: "Prayers that our family gets strong enough to help someone like Civic Concern has helped me."

Barrick said everyone involved in the Adopt-A-Family program benefits.

"What some people think is important; others might not even realize."

Optimists Club returns Christmas tree sale fund-raiser

Members of the Optimists Club of Northville/Novi are hoping to see you the day after Thanksgiving.

At noon Nov. 24, the local service organization will begin its second annual Christmas tree sale fund-raiser on the front lawn of the American Legion hall, 100 Dunlap St.

Proceeds from the tree sales will benefit Northville and Novi students through scholarships and other programs.

After the first Friday, sale hours will be from 6-10 p.m. weekday evenings; 9 a.m.-9 p.m Saturdays, and noon-6 p.m., Sundays.

The trees will be cut this week at a tree farm on the state's west coast, with heights ranging from 6-12 feet, said club member Jim Keskey. Costs range from $60-85, depending on the height, he said.

The Optimists Club, founded in 2004, has provided funds for Arbor Hospice for Children, Cooke and Old Village schools, Northville Civic Concern's backpack program, annual scholarships and other programs.

For information, call Keskey at (517) 214-0267 or JKESKEY@aol.com.

Special decorations hold memories of holidays gone by

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Dorothy Sitarski was pregnant with her third child when she found her Nativity set

Fifty years later, she cherishes the ceramic characters she displays at Christmas time. She recalls her purchase at a Kresge store, arranging the scene of Christ's birth with her three daughters and asking her late husband to build the manger.

Each year, Sitarski, 79, carefully removes the figurines and bits of straw from the 50-year-old Hudson's box she's kept all these years. Her small Allen Terrace apartment doesn't allow room to store much.

But, the créche she keeps. It's a holiday tradition

'Most cherised'

Like many seniors, Sitarski's home has changed with her life transitions. She moved from her young-family house to a Highland Lakes condominium in the early 1970s, then to Allen Terrace eight years ago. Downsizing meant decisions about her most cherished possessions.

"Apartment living — we're limited for space," she said. "It's got to be special if you keep it."

From decorations to furniture, Sitarski examined items for size, utility and sentimental value. Instead of her formal dining table, she opted for a folding table that seats two and extends when her family visits.

Sue Ronnenkamp, a nationally recognized expert on senior transitions, advises downsizing clients to pare down their years of accumulated belongings to key things — the favorite things they want to have around them and they need or enjoy using.

"Think about what you really use in your home on a day-to-day or week-to-week basis, and I bet you'll see that this amounts to a fraction of what you have in your house," according to Ronnenkamp's Web site, www.livingtransitions.com.

Family traditions

Like her neighbor upstairs, June Gill, 74, discarded plenty when she moved to Allen Terrace six years ago. She counts hand-blown glass ornaments she inherited from her great grandmother among her most prized possessions.

"My mother gave them to me, and I kept them," she said. "They are so old, they are starting to turn black."

Gill said she encourages her son to hang the decorations on his tree, continuing a holiday tradition with his growing family.

Like Sitarski, she sets up a small tree in her apartment, content with a less elaborate version of her younger years.

"I had everything," Sitarski said. "I had to give up my big, tall 6-foot tree. My brother has it.

"Now that we're here, we more or less divided them among our children."

Sitarski said she enjoys seeing the decorations in her daughters' homes at Christmas time, ones she's carefully unwrapped through the years.

"We were homemakers," she said. "Whatever traditions we have, we started with our own families. We just try to pass them on."

Sitarski can see the Nativity scene from her kitchen table — the baby and his parents, the animals, the angel, the wise men and shepherd.

"This is the one thing I kept," she said. "I started it with my own family."

Tips on downsizing

Sue Ronnenkamp, a nationally recognized expert on senior transitions, suggests the following steps to prepare for a move from the family home:

- Begin in the areas of the house you are currently not using, like an upstairs bedrooms or the basement family room.
- Start sorting in rooms that will be least disruptive to everyday life.
- Start with large items in each room and work your way down to small items so you feel like you're making progress.
- Sort items by: keep, pass to family or friends, sell in garage sale, give to charity, throw away.
- Allow plenty of time, planning to spend no more than one or two hours at a time because it is an emotional process.
- Approach the task step-by-step, pile-by-pile and it won't feel so overwhelming.

By Maureen Johnston
RECORD STAFF WRITER

Winchester Elementary fifth grader Kaylee Ruthig could barely heft the bird she and her dad, Jeff, bagged.

The pair won first place in the age 10-11 category of the 13th Annual Turkey Shoot basketball competition last Thursday. Their prize: an 18-pound turkey donated by Hiller's Market.

"Her first round through, she made one out of three," Jeff Ruthig said. "Her second time, she made three out of three. She was really excited."

Ruthig, who coaches his daughter's Northville Parks and Recreation basketball team, sank all six of his shots. The pair's combined score of baskets, near misses and attempts topped the 10-year-old's age category.

'Really rocking'

The Ruthigs were one of three first-place winners claiming turkeys. Three second-place winners took home chickens, and three third-place Cornish hens. Zach and Rick Keller's team registration was drawn as the raffle winner of a 9-pound turkey breast.

"It was really good," said Dave DeMattos, parks and recreation youth basketball coordinator, who welcomed 71 parent-child teams to compete in the Hillside Recreation Center gym.

"What a great evening," DeMattos said. "To cap the event, we had shoot-outs to determine winners in both the 8/9-year-old and 12/13-year-old groups.

"Talk about excitement — the gym was really rocking."

On Friday, volunteers for Northville Civic Concern, the local emergency service agency, collected the non-perishable food the basketball players paid as a participation fee, DeMattos said.

"They were more generous than ever," he said. The Turkey Shoot has been a family tradition 13 years, DeMattos said, made possible by the sole sponsor, Hiller's Market.

"The biggest cheer of the night went to Vicki Iagnemma of Hiller's Corporate," he said. "I asked everyone to shout a big thank you to her."

Positive interaction

Ruthig complimented DeMattos' efforts and enthusiasm as coordinator of the youth basketball program. He also said the Turkey Shoot is a natural extension of his recreation time with his daughter.

"Kaylee knows that basketball is my favorite sport," he said. "Any chance she's around to shoot baskets in the driveway, we do.

"When we found out she was old enough last year, we wanted to sign up."

Victors in their second year at the Turkey Shoot, the Ruthigs will be back. Four-year-old daughter Alexis will join the family basketball tradition when she's old enough, her dad said with a laugh.

"It's a good opportunity for parents to interact with their kids," Ruthig said. "It's for a good cause.

"I think it's a nice event."

Floors To Your Door

By: Mike Riley

Trends In Tile

Despite appearing to be an expensive floor covering, ceramic tile (including the new porcelains) is actually an excellent value.

First, tile prices now are comparable to many hardwood and laminate floors despite growing design sophistication. Second, like hardwood, tile is generally a long-term installation, often lasting for the life of the home.

From a design perspective, world markets continue to deliver fresh, new looks from nature-inspired to ethnic images, enhanced further by sophisticated computer imaging and glazing techniques enabling faithful reproductions of stone and marble.

Nature and earth tones continue to influence tile patterns, even after 30 centuries!

A generation ago, 4-inch tiles were the norm, but that's all changed. Big tiles, 18 inches or more, are part of the modern tile revolution. They don't have to be square, either.

Whether geometric or simply rectangular, ceramic tile can create unique and compelling floor designs anywhere in the home — not just the kitchen and bath. Regardless of your color and design choice, ask your retailer about which tiles are rated for foot traffic and also slip-resistant, critical in areas where water or moisture can be a factor.

BREAKING OUT IN SONG:

Hillside Middle School students selected for honors choir

By Victoria Mitchell
RECORD STAFF WRITER

When Erin Donohoe was 3, she was already caroling complicated arrangements.

"For most kids their first song is 'Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star,' but for me it was 'Colors of the Wind' from Pocahontas," she said.

Her dedication has paid off. Donohoe and five of her Hillside Middle School eighth-grade peers were selected as members of the Michigan Honors Choir.

On Jan. 27, Donohoe, Megan Dause, Danielle Borthwick, Marissa Lovett, Morgan Dalrymple and Allison Boss will travel to Grand Rapids, performing before nearly 2,100 expectant attendees.

The road to success

Before landing their coveted Honors Choir roles, the girls practiced three days a week from the beginning of the school year to prepare for the state auditions in October.

The girls performed in two trios singing "Rise up in Festive Song" before a grueling panel of judges, hoping for the best.

"All we have is a pitch pipe," Dause said.

Borthwick said the judges made no comment during their performances, quickly ushering them off the stage.

"They auditioned with people all over the state, including the UP," said Vickie Kopistiansky, Hillside Middle School choir teacher. "Our kids were among the best in the state."

Before trying out for the Michigan Honors Choir, the girls survived two Hillside choral auditions.

Kopistiansky said she only allows girls who've made the Hillside Middle School Select Choir to audition for the Michigan honor. Each of the girls is also a member of the school's honors choir.

In Kopistiansky's 12 years with the downtown middle school, she's sent girls to the State Honors Choir each year.

The girls credit their teacher for helping them reach their highest potential.

"She is the success," Dalrymple said.

Jumping for joy

When the girls found out Oct. 25 they were selected as members of the state choir, they were ecstatic.

"We were jumping up and down screaming," Donohoe said.

They found out 10 minutes before performance time at a Hillside Middle School pep rally.

"I made the announcement during the rally, so the whole school was able to applaud for them," Kopistiansky said.

The entire ensemble of about 111 girls practices from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturdays, preparing for the big event.

"We have to raise our expectations of ourselves," Donohoe said.

They will perform at the DeVos Place in Grand Rapids during a music education conference.

The girls will perform seven songs, five new.

"There are two songs that are not in English," Borthwick said. Selections will be performed in Latin, English and Philippino.

"It's beautiful when we sing it together," Dalrymple said.

The big moment

"It's hard, but it's worth it," Borthwick said.

"It's a commitment," Boss said.

All the girls agree the hard work is worth the effort. They all love to be lost in song.

"It clears your mind," Lovett said.

"No matter how you feel, there's a song to fit your mood," Boss said.

The girls will continue practicing as a large group on Saturdays and practice weekly with Kopistiansky.

They also gather at each other's homes to sing.

The girls are looking forward to performing for the large crowd – nervous, but excited, too.

For all the girls, the joy of performing is seeing the crowd's reaction.

"My mom always has tears in her eyes," Dalrymple said.

ALLERGY & ASTHMA

Presented by Michael S. Rowe, M.D., F.A.C.P., C.C.R.I.

EXERCISE-INDUCED ASTHMA

People who have exercise-induced asthma (EIA) experience coughing, wheezing, or chest tightness approximately 5 to 20 minutes into exercise. Patients with EIA typically have airways that are overly sensitive to sudden changes in temperature and humidity. During exercise, people often breathe through their mouths instead of their noses, which results in inhaling air that is colder and drier. Also, air pollutants, high pollen counts, and viral infections can make wheezing worse during exercise. While recommendations vary, experts often point to swimming as the best option for patients with EIA because of the warm, humid air, among other factors. They also recommend sports that require short bursts of energy in favor of those that involve continuous activity.

This helpful column is important for all who suffer with allergies. Call the ALLERGY & ASTHMA CENTER OF MICHIGAN to arrange for a consultation. We are caring and professional, and offer knowledgeable and sound advice. If you need to see a specialist, call for an appointment with Dr. Rowe. ## City: Soon to be real dollars

At the Northville City Council meeting Monday, the city's design consultant will present concepts for downtown improvements culminating two years of study by professionals and volunteers. Assigning dollar values to the favored plans soon will follow. It's time to remember the goal: revitalizing downtown for current and prospective visitors. Apart from being swept away with enthusiasm for the promise for amenities new and improved, the process should include a gut check by officials that these are dollars well spent for the community's long-term well-being.

Schools: Nothing beats music

There is no better time than the holidays to honor all of Northville's hardworking, musically talented students and their families. Working hard all year with band performances, choral concerts, special serenades and fundraisers, they make up a very important part of the Northville High School experience, bringing great enjoyment to the community. Just picturing the faces of downtown revelers as the marching band played festively during the lighted Santa parade was a joy! Thanks for all of your hard work.

Power on target

Phil Power – I was especially impressed with your article ("Tuesday was a turning point in our political history") in the Northville Record Nov. 9 edition. You are absolutely on target regarding the right wing crazies that threw out a smart and moderate medical doctor in exchange for a moody Bible college graduate and right wing fanatic in the 7th Congressional District. Your political insight is appreciated, so I finally got up the energy to write a one-way e-mail to thank you for your evenhanded expose of Michigan politics.

Luxury boxes not needed at the Big House

The recent election clearly signaled the public's desire for a change of course, both nationally and closer to home. In the University of Michigan Regent's race, the leading backer of private luxury boxes at Michigan Stadium, David Brandon, was soundly defeated. As alumni of the university and long-time season ticketholders, we hope U of M will reassess its $354.7 million luxury box plan. A scheme that is unpopular with fans would ruin our classic stadium forever and run a deficit for years to come. We agree that renovation and modernization is long overdue, but the time for building huge monuments to ego is over. Let's get back to common sense.

Turkey Shoot thanks

Northville Parks and Recreation would like to thank Brian Collins, meat department manager at Hiller's Shopping Center Market, and Vicki Iagnemma from Hiller's corporate staff for their continued support (Hiller's Market has been the sole sponsor of this event for 13 consecutive years) and Howard Daly for his assistance in picking up and distributing all of the prizes.

Lastly, thanks must go out to all of the youth and adult participating teams. Their contributions of canned goods and other non-perishable items exceeded expectations and were donated to the Northville Civic Concern for Thanksgiving week distribution

Voters wrong on incumbents

The post-mortem conclusion I have to the Nov. 7 election, made me wonder how could so many voters be so wrong. They certainly could not have voted for the incumbents based on performance. It must have been the sound bytes and/or the gender factor. From my perspective, Granholm and Stabenow ran one of the sleaziest campaigns I have witnessed in my lifetime. The lies and smearing they perpetuated in their ads should leave them both feeling void of honor.

Granholm will go on muddling through four more years of blaming others for her failings and Stabenow will disappear for six more years, emerging occasionally to march in parades while falling in lock step with the far left bidding of Harry Reid. The one saving grace is Granholm will be gone after four years.

What have you done to prepare for the holidays?

"Absolutely nothing. I'm absolutely behind. I take that back — I picked out my wife's Christmas gift early last night. I bought it locally, here in town."
Tony Piccoli

"I've done a lot of Christmas music listening. I haven't done a lot of shopping yet, but after Thanksgiving I plan to go out. We have a lot of decorations around the house. My sister will be coming home for Christmas."
Kaylee McDougall

"I've only got one Christmas present so far. I've got all the rest of my shopping to do. That's including the gifts that we do through church."
Barb Wilson

"My Christmas shopping is almost already done. We're planning where Christmas is going to be, and we're having it at my aunt's house. We might go to see the light show in Hines Park — I don't know when."
Jacob Smith

"Personally, not a thing. But I will be taking care of that today, buying decorations at the Greens Market."
Janet Bloom

"I got out all my Christmas recipes out so I could ask Mrs. Claus to bake my favorite cookies. I polished up my sleigh. I got Rudolph a brand-new, high-beam reflector light so he can do an even better job guiding our way."
Santa Claus

It's time to decide state's future

Thanks to an active behind-the-scenes campaign by parts of the business community, the current conventional wisdom in that whatever winds up replacing Michigan's now-repealed Single Business Tax will involve a $500 million business tax cut.

Maybe so. But, again ... maybe not. That's according to some 250 Michigan leaders who met last Monday in East Lansing and in Marquette. The town hall meeting — sponsored by the moderate think-and-do tank I founded, The Center for Michigan, and Michigan State University's Institute for Public Policy and Social Research — considered what should replace the SBT.

Phil Power

That's something the Michigan Legislature will shortly have to do for real. Earlier this year, they repealed the tax, effective at the end of 2007. What they didn't do was come up with a way to replace some or all of the crucial $1.9 billion a year it supplies.

They left that to a soon-to-be-summoned "lame duck" session of the outgoing legislature. But the organizers of the town hall meeting decided to see kind of decisions intelligent people might make when they had enough information to go on.

And surprisingly, after working over state budget and tax details, participants in 14 breakout groups overwhelmingly concluded Michigan is not in need of a tax cut. In fact eight groups concluded the state should raise taxes overall and increase the state's budget.

Why? Simply on the theory that improved state services — education, infrastructure and public safety — would be an excellent investment for our future. They'd also be the most efficient way to attract and retain good jobs and economic development.

Five other groups concluded that any SBT replacement should be "revenue neutral," neither raising more or less money than the $1.9 billion the business tax now yields.

Not a single group called for a tax cut — which may be less surprising when you consider the relentless propaganda designed to convince us — falsely — that Michigan is a "high tax" state.

And every single group called for a cut in state spending on prisons, by amounts ranging from $100 million to $500 million.

Participants met in breakout groups during the morning, after a presentation by Citizens Research Council Research Director Tom Clay, who warned that Michigan currently faces a billion-dollar-plus structural deficit that is bound to get much worse over the next decade unless something significant is done.

Advocates for various SBT replacement plans outlined their proposed reforms in an afternoon session.

Tax cut advocates have been arguing, more or less a priori, that cutting business taxes will inevitably produce more jobs and economic development. Critics counter that there is no evidence tax cuts by themselves lead to increased business activity and, even if they do, the kinds of jobs they would produce would be low-wage, low-skill, on a par with Mississippi's ... or those in Haiti.

One problem with the debate so far: It has focused on tax cuts without considering first what kind of state we want our tax system to encourage. In short, it has put the tax cut cart ahead of the horse. That's as in, the "what-kind-of-Michigan-do-we-want" horse.

Participants in last week's meeting were asked to pick what priorities they wanted for a healthy and prosperous Michigan future.

Top-ranked by far: A thriving economy and a good education system. In attempting to balance the state's budget, 10 of 14 breakout groups at the conference called for increasing spending on higher education.

Two of the groups simply busted the budget, proposing new General Fund spending of $10.5 billion and $13 billion. The rest balanced the budget by a variety of other tax and revenue increases, including up to $2.7 billion coming from extending the current sales tax to services such as haircuts and golf course greens fees.

Most at the conference were surprised at the degree of unanimity in opposing what had looked like a tax cut bandwagon.

One participant, however, questioned breakout session results in an email to me. "The breakout session I was in appeared to have all but two public employees. ... I would expect this group of this makeup to want more services and raise taxes. What about the business community?" she asked.

That's a fair enough question. The Center for Michigan invited everybody on its 1,350-member mailing list, sought invitees from co-sponsor MSU. It also made special outreach to the business community through Crain's Detroit Business, invited leaders of Michigan's top public and privately held companies, and held open registration to any member of the public throughout the entire fall.

We're going to do more of this. We are considering additional ways to take the town hall breakout exercise "on the road" to civic groups throughout the state to continue to build informed public opinion on state spending and tax policies.

I certainly don't claim the results from this one gathering are a definitive measure of overall public opinion in Michigan. That's one good reason to consider holding town hall gatherings like this in communities throughout the state, perhaps in collaboration with service clubs like Rotary or the League of Women Voters.

What I do know is that I came away enormously impressed with the civic-minded dedication of 250 Michigan citizens who spent an entire day struggling with some of the problems that will be faced by our elected leaders.

Events like this can provide much more informed — and useful — public input into some of the tough choices our leaders in Lansing will face as soon as the election champagne wears off.

Women look good for less at Consignment Clothiers

Some of the most beautifully dressed women in town shop at Consignment Clothiers of Northville. Those who buy at Consignment Clothiers get to wear the clothes they've always admired without paying mall prices.

Some of the items still have the tags on. But even those that have been worn look new. And everything is just a season or two old.

There's a huge selection of elegant evening wear, business suits, unique purses, trendy sports wear, jewelry, shoes and several racks of black slacks and jeans. It's all brand name women's clothing.

The only difference between Consignment Clothiers and a traditional store is the price. Sweaters and jeans start at $8 and dresses are $12 and up. All of the clothes are at least one-quarter to one-third off retail prices.

"Once people try us, they won't shop at full-price again," said Sherry Gorman who has owned and operated the popular store for the last 17 years, along with help from manager Lynn Bays and a large staff.

What makes Consignment Clothiers different than other used clothing stores is the huge amount of clothing that circulates through the store.

Several new racks of clothes are put out each day. The staff will yell out, "New merchandise" and ladies will rush over to pick out their favorites.

"The store is never the same from day to day," said office manager Peggy Switaj. "Some people come once a week to see what new things we have, other ladies stop by almost every day."

And all of the clothing is sold within 60 days, or it is pulled from the rack. So there isn't unwanted things to sort through. Every piece in the store is a newer item, and every piece is something that women would like to wear.

The nice clothing is the result of a choosy selection process. Consignors are welcome to drop off clothing Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. without an appointment. All of the clothing has to be clean, pressed and hanging neatly on hangers. And only the nicest, stylish pieces are selected. Staff choose name brands that still look like new.

Women love to bring their clothing for consignment, because the store splits the proceeds evenly, fifty-fifty. It's a much better deal than at other consignment stores. Nearly 17,000 consignors bring in clothes every month or every year. The best part about consigning clothes is clearing out a little storage space, and knowing that the clothes will be worn and enjoyed, instead of hanging in a closet collecting dust.

Both customers and consignors enjoy spending time at Consignment Clothiers. Many bring family and friends, even traveling a distance for the shopping trip. Several staff members work solely on creative displays. It's a large store with a lot to see.

"It looks like a boutique," said Peggy. "So it is a fun experience to shop here."

Plus there are sales every day. Seniors age 60 and over receive 10 percent off every Monday. Clearance racks always feature drastically discounted items.

During the holiday season many women are coming in for evening wear and festive party clothes. There's also seasonal sweaters and other fun clothing. It's an affordable way to look beautiful for holiday parties.

"You can buy a dress here and wear it to a party and everyone will tell you how much they love it – but they'll never guess how little you paid for it," said Peggy.

And it's the perfect place for Christmas shopping. A dollar stretches much farther at the specialty boutique.

Consignment Clothiers is located at 42947 West Seven Mile Road, a mile west of Haggerty in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center of Northville. The store is open 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. For more information call (248) 347-4570.

MUSTANGS CORRALLED

Northville falls to Novi in district play, 36-31

By Jeff Thelsen
RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Northville put up a strong second-half run, but couldn't overcome the hole the Mustangs fell in during the first half against Novi.

The Mustangs (12-9) fell 36-31 in district play Nov. 15 at South Lyon.

Novi sprung out in front with an 11-3 advantage in the first quarter. The lead grew to 19-8 by halftime.

Northville pulled together at half and trimmed the lead to 28-19 heading into the fourth.

The Mustangs outscored the Wildcats 12-8 in the fourth and pulled within three late, but it wouldn't be enough, and the Northville season came to an end.

Sarah Stern led the Mustangs with nine points and three steals. Chelsea Atzinger contributed eight points and snagged a team-high six rebounds. Jessica Boerger pitched in seven points.

"After we had lost earlier in the year a close one, we certainly thought we would be competitive with them, and we were," said Pete Wright, Northville basketball head coach. "It was kind of the theme of the year, we got ourselves in a hole early and had a hard time fighting back into it.

"The first four minutes were back and forth ... and then they ran 11 in a row off."

While losing seniors is always tough for coaches, Wright has the luxury of having most of the team back next year. Northville seniors are forward Jessica Boerger, guard Emily Pelts and forward Kristin Fiscus.

"You always hate to say goodbye to the seniors, but at the same

On the move

Getting back in the game

Sean Bak

When can I play again, doc? is probably the most common question I hear each day. The answer obviously differs from patient to patient. Some are very straightforward from Day 1, others we often don't know until the injury plays itself out over the course of weeks. Nonetheless, when caring for athletes, this is one of the most important questions I need to answer.

Common surgical injuries tend to have a fairly consistent time period before an athlete can reliably return to his or her sport. These time frames are based on well-researched healing times for the operations and our experiences with pro athletes who are always pushing the envelope of recovery. Anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) surgery is typically a minimum six months recovery period before intense conditioning can begin. Shoulder reconstruction for the labrum or rotator cuff usually requires a four to five month healing period. For the typical athlete, return to sport can occur at that time but for throwers and other overhead athletes (tennis and volleyball players for example) this is the earliest they can begin throwing or training and typically require three to six months of additional conditioning before they can return to their previous level. Pitchers who undergo elbow reconstruction (the so-called "Tommy John surgery" can count on their earliest return around their year anniversary of surgery.

Not all injuries are so clear-cut. In fact, the most common injuries we see are simple sprains, recovery from which can vary widely. Most sprains are loosely graded I, II, or III in order of increasing severity. A general rule of thumb for most shoulder, knee and ankle sprains is two weeks out for each grade, in other words, a grade III ankle sprain is a six week injury. Different people heal at different rates though and it is not uncommon to see a patient differ from the expected recovery by several weeks. When dealing with muscle and ligament injuries, what we look for when considering clearing an athlete for return are three things: 1) Full movement of the involved joint, 2) Strength nearly equal to the muscles in the opposite arm or leg, and 3) virtually no pain with activity. The final criterion is often the last to be met and is often what we are waiting on when an athlete is termed "day to day."

Athletes do have some control as to how quickly they recover. Obviously, maintaining a high level of conditioning helps injuries to heal more quickly. Get seen — early evaluation means early treatment and can translate into earlier return. In my practice, physical therapy has been one of the most potent tools in getting my athletes back on the field faster but the key is the timing of the therapy and knowing when an athlete simply needs more rest.

Without a doubt, the best way to return to play is to listen to your doctor. Many athletes fail to realize that the primary goal of sports medicine-trained physicians is to get them back as quickly (and safely) as possible. Every day we see patients who tried to get back too early and often set themselves back by several weeks if not longer.

'Stangs hockey wins Metro Invitational

Submitted to the Northville Record

This past weekend set the tone for what promises to be a great season for Boy's Northville Varsity Hockey. The Mustangs played in the Metro Invitational Tournament at the Novi Ice Arena against some tough competition, including the Novi Wildcats, Utica Eisenhower Eagles, and the Livonia Stevenson Spartans. Northville missed the chance to play the Wildcats by beating the Eagles and the Spartans, and taking the tournament undefeated.

Northville gained the lead early in Friday night's game against Eisenhower when senior forward Brandon Wales took a pass from sophomore defensemen Wes Gates and scored after a breakaway from the blue line. Utica responded with their first goal to tie the score. Strong offensive play by Northville and some big hits from seniors Anthony Deneau and Kevin Ruzylo highlighted the remainder of the period.

The second period was all about killing penalties, with both teams racking them up. Utica took advantage of a 5-on-4 to score about five minutes in. Senior forward Ian Jezak shot one home during a scramble in front of the net to tie it up again. The Mustangs pushed hard for the lead with some impressive cycling, smart passing and aggressive play, out shooting the Eagles at a ratio of about three to one, but were denied by Utica's strong goaltending.

Penalty problems continued into the third period, obviously due to the player's feeling out the new standard for penalty rules. Northville's penalty killing and senior goaltender Andrew Flynn's timely saves kept them in the game, until Utica scored with about four minutes remaining. Northville countered with intensity. With just over a minute left, the Mustang's pulled their goalie for

Mustang swimmers place 14th at state

By Jeff Theisen

The Novi girls swim team finished in 14th place Friday and Saturday at the Division 1 state tournament at Oakland University.

The 200 freestyle relay team of Meghan Kanya, Racheal Englert, Tanya Tereszczenko and Jessica Weber highlighted the meet for the Mustangs with an All-State finish of fifth place in 1:40.04. The foursome accounted for 28 of the Mustangs' 57 points.

Ann Arbor Pioneer ran away with the state title, earning 359.5 points. Holland was second with 221 points, and Farmington Hills Mercy was third with 159.5. Novi finished in 26th with 22 points.

Other finishes for the Mustangs included Weber placing 10th in the 100 freestyle (53.79) and 11th in the 50 freestyle (24.77). Emily Hopcian took 13th in the 100 butterfly (1:00.51) and the 400 freestyle team of Kanya, Englert, Tereszczenko and Weber finished in 11th (3:41.39).

"The girls swam great," said Brad Brockway, Northville swim coach. "Everyone swam well at the conference meet, and to be able to better most of those times was a great accomplishment.

"We knew that things would be different this year, but all the girls worked hard and swam great races, to finish second in the Conference and 14th in the State is a tremendous accomplishment."

the extra attacker. At only 35 seconds remaining, senior forward Steve Dawson found the net on the short side, sending the game into overtime.

The late goal fed Northville's momentum into both the first and second overtime. The mustangs stayed out of the box, but Utica didn't. Northville's depth on the bench and top-notch conditioning proved too much for Eisenhower. The Mustangs clearly dominated the play until junior forward T.J. Hohl scored the game-winning goal with only 1:46 left of the second overtime, sending Northville to the championship game with a 4-3 win as the Mustang crowd went wild.

The second game of the tournament was not nearly the nailbiter as the first, with Northville's stellar penalty killing and Flynn's continued strong goaltending systematically shutting down Livonia's seemingly constant power play opportunities. Northville scored early when Gates sent a nice pass to Deneau, who fired at the net, and senior forward Kyle Storey slammed the rebound home.

Late in the second, Wales carried the puck in down low to the post and dropped it back in the slot to Hohl's tape, who fired it on the far side to take a 2-0 lead. Sophomore defensemen Matt Kreager sealed the deal with another goal late in the third on the Spartan's empty net for a 3-0 win.

Head Coach Clint Robert was thrilled with Northville's first time win of the Metro Invitational, especially defeating two top ten teams in the Division 1 Conference.

"This win will give us confidence and momentum as we head into our season. I could not have asked for more the first two weeks of practice," he said. "This team has committed to focus and work hard. I am very proud of the way the guys played this weekend."

time we've got a lot of young girls on this team and we're looking forward to what they can do in the future," Wright said. "Hopefully we can build on what we did this year."

Wright said the team needs include more production from the outside shooters.

"We rely too much on taking the ball to the basket," he said. "We've got to be able to make a couple of perimeter shots."

At Lyon's Marketplace, 601 S. Lafayette in South Lyon, friendly staff combine personalized customer service with high quality food.

Lyon's Marketplace brings health into the home

By Kate Phillips
SPECIAL WRITER

In an era when a drive-thru window supplies many a family dinner, it is refreshing to find a healthy way to feed a hungry family.

At Lyon's Marketplace in South Lyon, the focus is on hearty, healthy food. It's the kind of food that can nourish growing children, provide energy for hard-working adults, and keep seniors feeling young.

The market is filled with the best nature can provide — from bright fruits and vegetables to fresh meats, breads, cheeses, groceries, sandwiches, soup and hot dinners.

"We buy the best products available," said Byron Muonio who owns and operates the specialty market with his wife Cami and their five children. "But we're interested in the quality, not the labels.

"Eating high quality food that is nutritious is so important. It's the basis of good health."

All natural meats

At Lyon's Marketplace the meat is all natural.

The delicious meats are actually healthier because the cows, chickens and turkeys are raised naturally, on farms, not factories. They eat grass, corn and an all-vegetarian diet, not animal by-products Since the animals are raised the old-fashioned way, they stay healthy. They aren't pumped with growth hormones so they don't need antibiotics to stay alive.

It's a matter of common sense that animals raised in a healthy way, like nature intended, will provide the nourishment humans need, without the chemicals, hormones and antibiotics that aren't needed. Studies are now showing that the hormones and antibiotics found in most meat are causing long-term health problems.

"I wouldn't want to eat meat filled with hormones and antibiotics, and I wouldn't feed it to my family," said Byron. "It's just a matter of common sense."

Byron Muonio only stocks choice beef, which is juicy and flavorful but still lean.

LYON'S MARKETPLACE

Location: 601 S. Lafayette, between Nine and Ten Mile roads in South Lyon
Phone: (248) 446-1822
Hours: 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Monday-Saturday

The chickens are Bell & Evans air-chilled chickens — top quality chickens which have been served in the White House for 30 years. The market also stocks Dearborn Sausage Company hams, kielbasa and hot dogs. A large selection of fresh fish is shipped several times a week for the ultimate in healthy eating. Meal starters like city chicken and stuffed peppers are carefully made with good health in mind.

The store is now taking orders for healthy, all natural turkeys and hams for holiday dinners. They'll also have a large selection in stock.

An experienced butcher, Byron still cuts meat himself, along with several other cutters. The professional cutting means that customers will great a great cut of beef that is lean but juicy. The cutters make lean ground beef and hand-shaped burgers.

Anything less than top quality is sent back. Lyon's is small enough that Byron can monitor all the meat that comes into the store, to make sure that it is choice grade, plus meets his own high standards.

Family-style prices

As parents of five children, Byron and Cami know that it is challenging for families to afford the cost of buying healthy food. Junk food is usually cheaper.

So Lyon's Marketplace is committed to making healthy food more affordable. They don't inflate prices just because the meat is all natural or the fruit is hand-selected.

The Muonios work hard to get high quality foods at reasonable prices so they can sell them at prices people can afford. The small size of the market allows the owners to go through every shipment of meat and produce, to make sure it is right, instead of paying a private label to make the selections.

Staples are priced low, everyday, so people can count on seeing the same price for things they always buy. Bananas are 29 cents a pound every day, even though the market sometimes sells them at a loss. Both Guernsey and Baramen's milk is sold at low everyday prices, even if it means the store just breaks even. Even Italian pasta is priced low — just as cheaply as store brands at larger places. While the deli carries high-end products and imports, it also has Butterball and Healthy Choice at lower-than-average cost for the cost-conscious consumer.

But the meat may be the best deal of all. The all-natural beef is priced at about the same thing customers pay for low-grade meat at discount stores. There's no reason not to buy the best, healthiest foods.

"When you walk into our store, I want you to be able to pick up your staples for a low price everyday," said Byron. "They are things everyone needs all the time, so I'm not going to jack up the prices.

"Families can't pay outrageous prices for healthy food. I price things so families can afford to buy good products and eat right."

A healthy deli

With good prices, and healthy food, customers come in droves to Lyon's Marketplace, even driving from out of town, and sometimes across the state. Many stop in three times a week for fresh produce and meat.

But an entire following comes in for lunch or carry-out dinner every single day. The customers love the huge deli area in the new location, which opened last January. A large brick fireplace warms the soul as the body is warmed by homemade chili or soup.

Fresh sandwiches are made on old-world style breads from the legendary Cantoro Bakery in Livonia. The breads are delivered fresh every morning. Others choose bagels from Detroit Bagel Factory.

Mario Ilardi, a South Lyon senior, comes in three times a week for the Lyon's Marketplace, 601 S. Lafayette in South Lyon, carries the freshest available products.

Cantoro bread, gourmet peppers and salami to make his own sandwiches at home, plus any groceries he needs. He knows Byron and all of the friendly staff members.

"Everything is so fresh and there's so many specialty items," Mario said. "And the service is excellent. That's why you keep coming back."

Those who want to make sandwiches at home can select from dozens of cheeses and at least 35 varieties of Dietz and Watson deli products, which contain no MSG and are gluten-free. They're top quality deli meats that make any sandwich nutritious.

The deli also prepares an entire slew of lunch and dinner items, which can be eaten in the deli, or taken home for the family. Tortellini salad, mini-calzones, pizza bread, egg rolls, stuffed pasta shells, spinach pie and broccoli salad are instant meals that will please anyone.

Plus, hot meals that are made by the staff at Lyon's Marketplace are as good as a home-cooked meal. Pot roast, corn beef brisket or roast chicken are perfect to pick-up on the way home on a busy evening.

These nourishing, ready-made meals cut out any need for the fast food drive-thru

Gift Guide result of many

The holiday season is our favorite time of year. We love the family gatherings, the music, the lights, the gifts, and the food that comes with this time of the year.

However, we have many friends and family members who dread the season. While we are sure they love the traditions, sights and sounds of the holidays, we know the gift-giving portion puts a damper on their holiday spirit. They stress over what to buy and where to find it We have compiled this year's Gift Guide with them in mind

It is our hope that after reading this special section, you will be able to find the perfect gift for everyone on your list.

A big portion of this section is devoted to toys. The ones featured here are the results of months of research. We searched high and low for the latest and greatest toys Then, we contacted the toy manufacturers and requested samples. Those samples were then reviewed, tested and played with by both children and adults. Only the toys that met our standards are featured.

While we consider this special section our gift to our readers, we couldn't do it without the help of many. First, we would like to thank the toy manufacturers and marketing persons for allowing us to test their products. Next, we would like to thank our coworkers who put up with the mess and the noise we create during the weeks of product testing. Finally, we would like to thank all of the children and their parents who helped us by playing with and evaluating the toys.

Gifts for children 3 and up

The "Pirates of the Caribbean Dead Man's Chest" Micro Pirate World Treasure Chest Playset is one of our favorites. The set includes five different scenes from the movie and 11 different activities — the spring-loaded platform and the clamping Kraken were our tester's favorites. It comes with four figures and three boats. Best of all, it all folds up into a treasure chest for easy storage and comes with a smaller chest to hold the loose pieces. Available at Toys-R-Us, ages 6+, from Zizzle, $19.99

Ian, 10, son of Gayle Shroyer, transportation

These action figures are 8 inches tall. Squeeze their legs together and their arms move. Quick Draw Jack Sparrow and Pick-Axe Slashing Maccus are well made and affordable. Ages 4+, by Zizzle, $4.99 and up

Measure the speed of a moving car, bicycle or a Hot Wheels car with the Hot Wheels Radar Gun. The working radar gun can be set for real-life speeds or Hot Wheels 1:64-scale speed. Digital numbers announce the speed. Requires 4 AAA batteries. Ages 7+, from Mattel, $29.99

Heelys, the rolling shoes, are a must-have this year. They are available in a variety of colors and sizes from a child's 13 to an adult 12. $65, For Feet's Sake in Milford, (248) 676-9080

What could be more fun than a video game that plugs into the TV and is shaped like the Mystery Machine? Our testers didn't want to give the Plug It In & Play TV Games back! Ages 5+, from JAKKS Pacific, $17.99

Let's Dance Barbie brings the choreography from the movie, "Barbie in the 12 Dancing Princesses" to life. The 15-inch tall doll uses infrared and radio frequency technology to dance with little girls. She can perform, instruct or follow the actions of girls wearing the two wrist bands and ankle bracelet. Her base is removable for additional playtime. Ages 3+, from Mattel $54.99

Derrick, 3, and Dominic, 2, sons of Kim & Toby Demetriou, printing

They'll learn to count in both English and Spanish with Leap Frog's 100 Hoops Basketball Counting Game. Rally sounds and encouragement will keep them playing and several different games will keep them counting. The hoop is easily attached to a wall, doorknob or chair. Ages 3-6, www.leapfrog.com, $24.99

Horse lovers of all ages need these adorable horse slippers from Timeless Toys. They come with a brief history of horses and are available in toddler, youth and ladies sizes. Our tester galloped around for hours. www.timeless-toys.com

Kyle, 3, grandson of Grace Perry, general manager

Ben, 5, son of Sam Black, editor

Matchbox Mega Rig Snow Monster Mission Playset takes kids on a mission through the arctic. The set includes exploratory vehicles, snow monster with glowing eyes and Matchbox action figures. Pieces combine and recombine for 30 different combinations. Our tester loved it. Ages 4+, Matchbox, $44.99

Look for more great gift ideas in the Dec. 14 special section.

Alex, 7, son of Nicole Stone, marketing director

Take building to the next level with Revvin' Riders by LEGO. This set comes with a special block that makes a roaring engine sound. It includes 360 pieces that can be used to create eight different models or combine with other sets for unlimited possibilities. The street bike and dirt bike can be built at the same time for racing. Our testers had no problem following the instructions. Ages 7-12, www.LEGO.com, $19.99

The Crystal Rainbow Castle takes just seconds to put together and folds for easy storage. Wave the magic (magnet activated) wand or push the button and the playset magically expands to 2 feet tall. There is plenty of room for My Little Pony characters (not included) to dance and play. It comes with a dining hutch, table and more. Ages 3+, from Hasbro, $59.99

Try virtual life

This year, children have many opportunities to pretend and play through life-simulation games. Here are two of our favorites:

Pixel Chix Love 2 Shop Mall allows girls to work, shop and hang out at the salon, pet shop, boutique and food court at the mall. The game teaches girls the value of money, since they have to earn it before they can spend it. Reasoning skills are also required and girls are asked to prioritize duties. Consequences teach them customer service and responsibility. The mall can be connected with other sets for additional interactive fun. It closes into a cute little handbag. Our tester said, "This is the coolest thing ever!" Ages 6+, from Mattel, $34.99

Designer's World lets girls design a collection of fashions, choose models, show it on the runway and then sell them in a growing list of markets. Our tester loved the game. Parents will love how small it is and how easy it is to plug into the TV and play Ages 8+, Tiger Electronics, $39.99

Gifts for children 3 and up

Cabbage Patch Kids Newborns need lots of love. Each one comes with a 4-in-1 carrier which can also be used as a car seat, rocker and feeding chair. Each is one of a kind and comes with a birth certificate and adoption papers. Ages 3+, from Play Along, $19.99

Sometimes boys want to be creative, too. They can with the Monster Trucks Custom Shop. The set comes with four trucks, paint and stickers. Decorate them to your liking, then pull them back and watch them race, roll and flip for hours of fun from Creativity for Kids. Ages 5+, $24.99

Snugglers turn an ordinary pillow into a snuggly friend. Simply insert a pillow and animals, Disney Princesses, Power Rangers and other figures come to life. These creations are perfect for keeping the child's pillow clean when traveling, watching television or going to sleepovers. They hold the pillow securely so it won't slip out. We washed it, according to manufacturer's suggestions, and it came out looking brand new. Our testers were begging for one. Ages 3+, from Play Along, $19.99

These little creatures have taken over the elementary and middle school set. Webkinz are stuffed animals with a secret code that lets you enter Webkinz World where your Webkinz comes to life and becomes your pet. By earning points through online games, kids can design rooms, buy virtual furniture and clothes, and take their virtual pet to the doctor. Each pet is unique, so even if more than one Webkinz Lion is adopted, for instance, each online counterpart will have different likes and dislikes from the other. Made by Ganz. $9.95, Diane's Doll House, South Lyon, (248) 486-0450

Gifts for children 3 and up

Kristen, 4, granddaughter of Barb Blevins, legal clerk

Let her relive the magic from "Barbie in the 12 Dancing Princesses" in this Interactive Dance Mat. Plug it into the AV jacks in the television and Barbie will teach her dance moves to 10 different songs from the movie. Folds for easy storage. Requires four AA batteries. Ages 4+, from Mattel, $29.99

Kayla, 8, niece of Candy Spiegel, special sections

Furreal Friends Cuddle Chimp is so lifelike, some of our co-workers were a bit spooked. This baby chimp cuddles, loves to have his feet tickled, drinks his banana bottle and goes to sleep. He was a huge hit with our testers. Ages 4+, from Hasbro, $29.99

Join SpongeBob, Squidward, Mr. Krabs and Plankton in a Krabby Patty adventure at The Krusty Krab restaurant! A lever flips the Krabby Patties, the dumpster and the safe open and the secret formula has a safe hiding place. The set includes 295 pieces and there is a SpongeBob comic strip on the box. The set is easy to put together and stays together for hours of fun. Ages 7-12, from LEGO, $19.99

They'll imagine leaping tall buildings and running faster than a speeding bullet in the "Superman Returns" Inflato-Suit. A battery-operated fan transforms kids into Superman for hours of make-believe fun. The fan, which attaches to the back of the suit, must stay on in order to remain inflated. Our tester liked it better with the fan off, but he did have fun watching it inflate. Requires four AA batteries. Ages 3+, from Mattel, $21.99.

Mark, 4, grandson of Susan Tiihonen, classified sales

Kids can create their own adventures with Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Fast Forward — just like in the new TV show. Michelangelo, pictured above, and friends have been transported to 2015 for all sorts of new adventures, new friends and new foes. A new movie and new toys are also coming in the spring. Ages 4+, from Playmates Toys, $5.99

Reanne, 6, daughter of Arlesa Szafranski, retail account executive

Dolls have reached a new level with My Scene Fab Faces Dolls. The dolls actually have moveable faces. Each button on the back features a different facial expression. They can be surprised, pouting, smiling, talking and more. Of course, they are dressed to the "T" in super-glam lace and glitter dresses. Our tester thought the only way she could possibly be any better was if she talked, too! Ages 6+, from Mattel, $19.99

Will, 7, son of Maria Stuart, managing editor

"Cars" fans will love the Fast Talkin' Lightning McQueen vehicle. This large car has animated eyes and a vinyl animated mouth. He is easily programmed to perform 15 different stunts and says more than 30 phrases — some of which will have everyone giggling. Requires four AA batteries Ages 4+, from Mattel, $34.99

Direct from the new movie, "Happy Feet," comes Tap Dancing Mumble. This adorable stuffed penguin has been the delight of testers from 4 to 44. Mumble talks, raps, sings and dances to his own music or a nearby stereo. He can't help it, his feet are just happy! Ages 4+, by Thinkway Toys, $29.99

Cameron, 8, son of Arlesa Szafranski, retail account executive

Recreate the action from "Pirates of the Caribbean: Dead Man's Chest" with the Isla Cruces Playset. The set features a collapsing ladder, trap door, catapult, pulley, and more for hours of fun. The mill wheel really spins while two characters fight on top. Push the release button and watch as the wheel rolls and the characters struggle to stay on top. The set is designed for 3¾ inch action figures, which must be purchased separately. Ages 6+, by Zizzle, $29.99

The G.I. Joe Sigma 6 Mission Scale Dragonhawk is a smaller scale set that encourages boys to create combat situations. The set includes the MIC-2 docking system, a fast-deploy system to launch the team's motorcycle, rotating propellers, and electronic lights and sounds. The manufacturer recommends ages 5 and up, but we think 8 and up would be more appropriate. From Hasbro, $34.99

Eden, 3, granddaughter of Barb Cloutier, accounting

Bitty Baby will stay as snug as a bug in a rug in this adorable new outfit from American Girl. The Let it Snow Snuggle Set features a snowflake sleep sak, stocking cap and fuzzy booties. A matching nightie for Bitty Bear, a soft-stacking snowman toy and the book, "Bitty Bear's Snowflake Dreams," are included. Bitty Baby is sold separately. Matching pajamas for girls and the American Girl dolls are also available. Ages 3+, www.amencangirl.com, $24

Josh, 8, son of Kevin Shroyer, transportation

7, 7, son of Ram president a publisher

Power Rangers Mystic Force has come up with a new version of must-have toys. The Deluxe Megazords, as seen on the popular T.V show, come in three different styles. Each one is completely different, so all three can be played with together. The Titan Megazord, pictured here, offers three modes of play. The five Zords can be played with on their own or combined to create the Megazord or a dragon. The parts easily twist and turn to create hundreds of different poses. Our tester gave this one a "double thumbs up" and said, "that was like my favoritest toy I've ever played with." Our advice: Get this one right away. We expect it to be extremely popular and will probably sell out. Ages 4+, from Bandai America, $39.99

Gifts for children 3 and up

Preteens will love these stretch chokers from High Wire Girls in Novi. $16 each, (248) 554-2323

Transformers Cybertron Primus changes from a giant robot into the home planet. The Cyber Planet Key activates multiple special elements including lights and sounds and projectile weaponry. This may be challenging for young boys. Ages 5+, from Hasbro, $49.99

Play-Doh is 50 and you can celebrate with the ultimate activity center with the Play-Doh Creativity Center. This box holds everything and fits over the child's legs for comfortable play. It can also be placed on a table. It includes 11 colors of Play-Doh, crayons, scissors, dishes, molds to make 42 different things including food, animals and faces, 15 cutters, a fuzzy pumper tool, a rolling-mold rail, an activity mat and more for hours and hours of fun. Perhaps the best invention is the new Pick-up Stick, which pulls Play-Doh out of the molds and makes picking up those little pieces a breeze. We had testers from 5 to 13 in love with this set. Ages 3+, from Hasbro, $29.99

The Easy-Bake Oven returns with new features for the next generation. No longer cooking with a light bulb, the new oven includes the MagiCool Pan Grabber that makes it easy to remove desserts from the oven and tells children when the pan is cool enough to touch. The oven also has a warming panel for melting chocolate, but our tester found the microwave works better. Ages 8+, from Hasbro, $24.99

Moon Sand is a unique material that can be shaped, squished and molded into any shape you want. The texture is similar to sand, but moldable like dough. It doesn't dry out and can be used over and over. It comes in a variety of colors and kits with molds and carrying cases. Clean up is simple — just pat it up and go. Ages 3+, Spin Master Ltd., $16.99

American Girl is bringing Molly to life in a new made-for-television movie airing on Disney Nov. 26. Extend the movie fun with Emily. Molly's English friend, and the newest doll in the American Girl collection. Emily is sent to America in order to escape the bombing of London during World War II. Emily comes with a new book, "Brave Emily," a sweater, scrapbook and more. Ages 8+, www.americangirl.com, $102

She'll have fun playing with plush Groovy Girls. The 13-inch dolls come in a variety of outfits. Additional outfits are available. Pictured here are Funky Roxanna and Spa Splendor Shauna, $15 each. PetRAGEOUS, the new line of cuddly pets, come with removable accessories. Pictured here are Giddi Horse and Snappy Napper, $17 each. Ages 6+, from Manhattan Toys, www.groovygirls.com and Diane's Doll House in South Lyon, (248) 486-0450

Little Mommy Play All Day Toddler Doll is an adorable interactive baby that talks, sings and moves. Feed her a cookie and she'll say "more, please," or "thank you." She says more than 30 phrases and smells of baby powder. A playset can be purchased separately for additional fun. Ages 3+, from Fisher-Price, $34.99

Be prepared

Most toys require batteries. Parents will also need wire cutters, scissors and a small Phillips-head screwdriver to retrieve the toys from their packaging and insert the batteries. — The Editors

The PollyWorld Rockin' Theme Park allows girls to bring the new "PollyWorld" movie to life. There is plenty to do in this amusement park. Polly can freshen up at the boutique, eat at the grill and shop at the music store. Then, she can ride the quick-drop guitar and the monorail that flips her upside down. But the coolest part is the stage. Put Polly on stage, lift the lever, and she comes up on top ready to perform in different clothes. Clothes, wigs and instruments attach with magnets, which is much easier for little hands. The set lights up and plays music. Other sets connect for more fun. Ages 4+, from Mattel, $39.99

Gifts the family will enjoy

Spalding's Never Flat Soccer Ball and Basketball use the latest technology to stay properly inflated. Both balls offer the professional quality athletes expect from Spalding. Their exteriors prevent air seepage while retaining the feel, durability and performance of the ball. The valves are covered with caps to prevent air leakage and to keep dirt out. Several sizes are available. $29.99 for the soccer ball, $39.99 for the basketball

Christopher, 15, son of Candy Spiegel, special sections

Sport stacking is the hottest activity the whole family will enjoy this year. The competitive sport is taking the nation by storm and is featured in many physical education classes. The concept is simple — stack up to 12 specially designed cups in predetermined formations as quickly as possible. It is fun and addictive — just ask our tester who competed for hours! The Speed Stacks StackPack includes 12 cups, a carrying bag, a mat for optimum performance, a precision timer and an instructional DVD with step-by-step instructions, tips and highlights. Speed Stacks come in a variety of colors and the battery is included. Ages 4 to 94, from Play Along, $39.99

What would Monopoly look like if it was invented today rather than in 1935? You'll find out in Monopoly: Here & Now. This is the same game America has loved for 70 years, but it has been updated with today's icons and today's prices. While the original properties were all located in Atlantic City, the new properties cover the country. Monopoly held an online poll earlier this year and let America vote on the places to include. Players can now buy, develop and sell places like Disney World, the White House, Times Square, Hollywood, St. Louis' arch and Fenway Park. Property values have been inflated to today's values and the money comes in larger denominations. The country's four busiest airports have replaced the railroads. The Community Chest and Chance cards now feature things like reality TV shows, insider trading, and identity theft. While the free-parking and jail spaces remain, the luxury tax has been replaced with credit card interest and the utilities are now for cell phones and Internet service. And, players get $2 million each time they pass go. The updated tokens include a Toyota Prius, New Balance Shoe, McDonald's French Fries, a labradoodle, Motorola RAZR and a laptop computer. Our only challenge was remembering how to make change for a $5 million bill. Other than that, it provided us with hours of fun.
Ages 8+, 2-6 players, Hasbro, $29.99.

The Magnum Countryside Stove and others like it can save up to 70 percent on annual heating costs. They burn wood pellets, cherry pits, navy beans or corn — the least expensive Michigan fuel. Heat a 2,100-square-foot home with corn for only $210 a month, and support local farmers while doing it.
Stoves start at $1,800.
Hearth pads also available from $225.

Give the perfect gift

By Candy Spiegel &
Cynthia Grochowski
SPECIAL SECTIONS

This year, give them exactly what they want — a gift card.

Since the creation of these small plastic cards, gift certificates have been gaining in popularity, both from givers and receivers. The National Retail Federation says gift cards are in the top three items on holiday wish lists this year.

Yes, gift cards have overcome their reputation as impersonal "ran-out-of-time-so-here" gifts and have become a coveted item. In fact, three-quarters of consumers say they will purchase at least one gift card this holiday season and many plan to purchase five or more.

Their popularity is understandable. Gift cards take away the stress some may experience when searching for the perfect gift. With gift cards, one never has to worry about getting the right size or color. Likewise, the recipient can use it to purchase something they really want.

Spoil her with a gift card to Gina Agosta Salon. Purchasing couldn't be easier. The gift card can be ordered online at www.agosta.com/womens.htm. They'll put it in this adorable gift bag for you and mail it to you.

Gift Cards Rule

- Consider the recipient. A gift card to a seafood restaurant probably isn't the best gift for someone allergic to seafood.
- Indulge them with something they may not purchase for themselves, like a trip to a day spa or dinner at a fancy restaurant. Just be sure the amount on the card is sufficient to pay for the services.
- Check for an expiration date. If there is one, inform the recipient so they can use it before it expires.
- Purchase extra cards to department stores for unexpected gifts.

Make it personal

Show the recipient you took the time to select the perfect gift by selecting a card to their favorite restaurant, hair salon, or specialty store.

Once the right card has been selected, spend a few dollars to dress it up with a gift-card holder. American Greetings offers hundreds of tiny bags, boxes, and cards specifically designed for gift cards. The holders are decked out in gems, feathers, and velvet and come in unique, traditional, inspirational and humorous designs. The boxes and bags have a place to write who the gift is to, so further wrapping is unnecessary. Cards offer sentiments like, "Something to help shorten your wish list," or "Spend a little Christmas on wonderful you" or "Sharing makes the holidays even more delightful."

If that still doesn't seem like enough, add a few gourmet chocolates, an ornament, or a small complimentary gift. The recipient is sure to love it.

Gift card suggestions

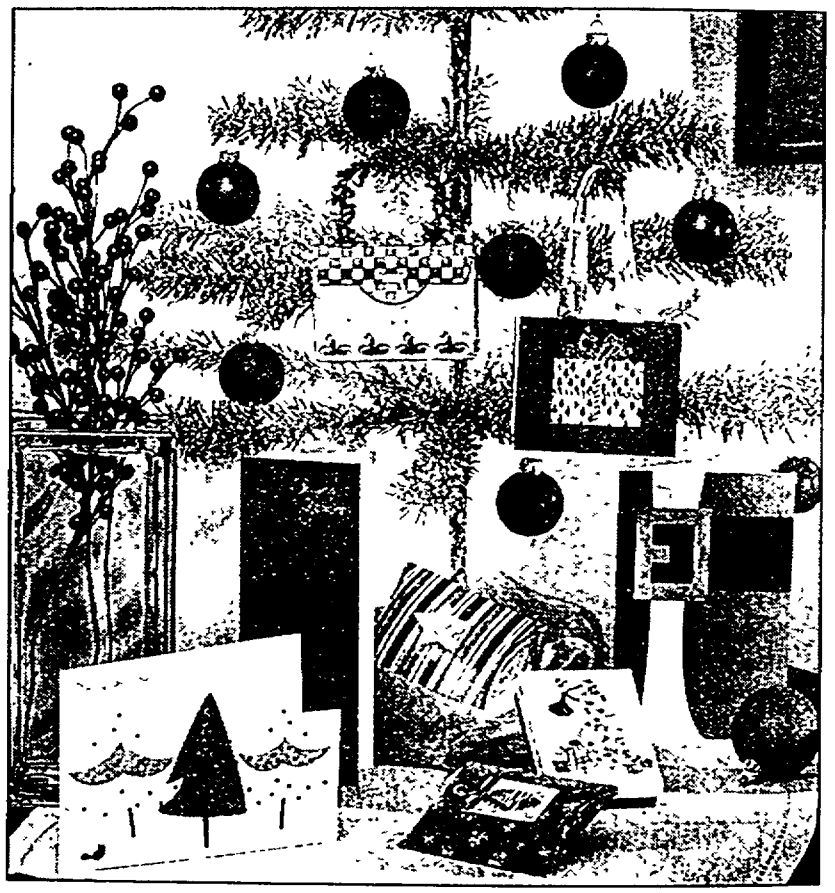
Gift cards are available for everything from fast food to furniture, so selecting the one that is just right is easy. Here are some additional suggestions.

Give a gift the whole family will enjoy with a certificate to play laser tag at Paradise Park in Novi. A $50 gift certificate costs only $45 during November and December and includes four games of laser tag, four drinks, a large pizza and 40 game room tokens. (248) 735-1050

Give a day at the spa with a gift card for the Mellieha spa package from Scapparé in South Lyon. The $150 package includes 3 hours of pampering with a Swedish massage, manicure, pedicure, and delicious lunch. (248) 437-1112

Give a $25 gift certificate from La Casa Del Rio Grande to enjoy two fajita dinners or other fantastic homemade Mexican fare at this New Hudson restaurant. (248) 446-7700

Surprise the family with a fresh cut tree from Middle Road Tree Farm in Highland. Pre-cut trees are $6 per foot. U-cut trees are $40. (810) 632-5520



Submitted Photo

American Greetings offers these adorable holders for gift cards. Each is embellished with gems, ribbons, velvet, glitter and other things for a handmade look. Prices start at just $1.99.

Skin as unique as she is deserves Bio Elements. Give her a gift certificate toward a customized package from Jan's Skin Spa in South Lyon, (248) 515-8987. Packages begin at $27.

Let them select the gift they need from Magic Kids Children's Clothing. From sleepwear to formalwear, it's all online at www.magickidsusa.com. Gift cards are available for $25, $50 or $100. Use the code MK26183 for discount pricing.

Save their computer with a $75 gift certificate to CCA Computer in South Lyon. This can be used to purchase Virus Spyware removal and cleanup. (248) 437-1304

Give the gift of health. A $159 gift certificate from HealthStyles buys a specially priced, three-month membership and three personal training visits at the South Lyon facility. (248) 486-1110

Try these hot picks for the tech on your list

If you don't want to spend hours listening to the guy at the electronics store drone on about what to buy this holiday season, go straight to the experts. The editors of the online electronics guide CNET have put together their top picks from the 2006 Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas.

Best in Show/Best of MP3/Audio

Creative Zen Vision: M ($330) In addition to a more luminous screen and a longer battery life, this 30GB iPod rival also comes with a voice recorder and FM tuner.

The M is compatible with a variety of video formats and a growing number of online music stores and subscription services.

Best of Cameras and Camcorders

Sanyo Xacti HD1 ($699) Since updated with the HD1a model, this super-compact camera records high-definition video, shoots 5.1-megapixel stills and comes with a plethora of in-camera functions like digital-image stabilizer, red-eye reduction and video editing. Its video-recording mode is perfect for portable media devices.

Best of Home Audio

Denon AVR-2807 ($1,100) A top-notch receiver is the glue that holds any home theater system together. The AVR-2807 offers 110 watts of power per channel and is able to deliver high-def signals through a HDMI cable. Audio, photo and video playback also are available with a Denon's compatible iPod dock.

Best of Car Technology

Pioneer AVIC-Z1 ($2,249) Pimp your ride with this 7-inch touch screen that packs a 30GB hard drive featuring Microsoft's Windows Automotive operating system. Bluetooth integration, navigation and media playback are equipped. The screen folds down for CD/DVD slot access, and a Pioneer iPod adapter puts all the controls into its interface.

Best of Home Video

Pioneer BDP-HD1 Blu-ray player ($1,500) Yes, Blu-ray is the next big thing in video format. This one features among the highest picture qualities in terms of pixels, giving the best possible play to Blu-ray discs, and bringing DVDs to newfound glory.

Best of Cell Phones and PDAs

Samsung ZX20 ($299) One of the first phones in the U.S. to support high-speed downlink packeting access networks, which offer unrivaled data transfer speeds, the ZX20 is a speedy marvel. A 1.3-megapixel camera with video, Bluetooth and digital media player are other perks of this all-in-one phone. It will truly shine as more HSDPA networks pop up.

Best of TVs

Samsung HL-S5679W HDTV ($3,999) This 56-inch DLP TV boasts a new light engine that eliminates rainbow effect — the trail of colors left in some instances — and produces a wider array of colors — and has a longer bulb life.

How to Heat Your Home for the Holidays

Without Breaking the Bank

Hot new alternative fuel stoves are the answer

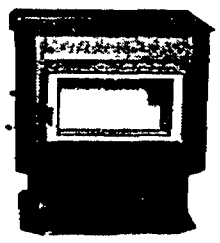
Shouldn't you be able to heat your home to the temperature you want without having to take out a seecond mortgage?

The hottest alternative to expensive foreign oil is corn!

Corn is a readily available, easily renewable resource that actually has a net positive impact on the environment. It is clean burning, and corn burning appliances are easy to use and require very little maintenance. The average home can be heated for $2-$4 per day. Visit our showroom to experience the MagnuM Countryside and Baby Countryside stoves.

MAGNUM



"Last year we spent $1400 on propane to heat our 1800 sq ft. ranch home. This year we plan on cutting that bill to less than $350. It's now 12 degrees outside and my house is a comfortable 71 degrees I only wish I found out about your product earlier."

Gifts for her

Uptown Threads is one of only two stores in Michigan offering Booty Bags. Made from the booty part of a pair of jeans, they feature beaded handles and rugged lining that softens over time. Each one is numbered and no two are exactly alike. Some even feature Brighton belts They come with a lifetime warranty and a portion of the profits goes to the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Uptown Threads in Milford. (248) 684-7346 $90 to $140

Hand-poured onsite, triple-scented candles will add a touch of beauty and warmth to the home. Candles start at $1.75, holders start at $12. Twigs and Berries, Milford (248) 658-2582

Remind her that she is your angel with a Willow Tree Collectible. $10 and up, Pat's Field of Flowers, South Lyon (248) 437-7997

Add a little glamour to her life with Xtreme semi-permanent eyelash extensions. The extensions come in a variety of colors and the treatment includes under-eye anti-wrinkle cream. $100, Absolutely Fabulous Permanent Makeup in South Lyon (248) 231-7134 www.fabulouspermanentmakeup.com

Croc shoes may look odd, but the comfort is incredible. Many nurses and others who are on their feet all day live in them. A variety of colors and sizes are available for children, men and women. Caution: There are many knock-off brands that look like Crocs but don't offer the same support or level of comfort. $29.98 each. For additional fun, adorn Crocs with Jibbitz. These little designs fit into the holes on the shoes and come in a variety of designs, including sports, animals, medical symbols and toys. *$2 each. # Have a picture-perfect holiday

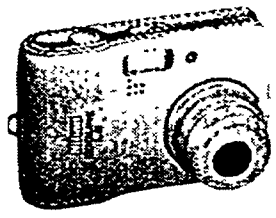
By Gregory Scoblete
CTW FEATURES

Whoever said you can't please everyone undoubtedly was born before the digital age. Holiday shoppers will find more than 300 digital cameras to choose from. There literally is something for everyone. The perennial question is which one and for whom?

"Digital camera makers have done a good job segmenting their models by individual consumer taste and ability," says Michael McEnaney, editor in chief of Picture Business magazine. "You'll see this on retail shelves with models broken out by price, style and functionality."



Nikon Coolpix L6 ($199)

Snapshooters

For casual photographers, there are plenty of sub-$200 digicams that pack enough pixels for near poster-sized prints alongside simplified controls.

Kodak's 4-megapixel C433 ($99) sports a 3x optical zoom alongside a 1.8-inch LCD screen and in-camera photo cropping.

Miserly battery life always has plagued entry-level digital cameras. Marathon photographers should consider Nikon's new Coolpix L6 ($199). This 6-megapixel camera can fire off up to 1,000 shots on a pair of Energizer e2 lithium AA batteries – that's double and even triple the number of images most cameras can capture. The L6 also offers a 2.5-inch LCD screen, 3x optical zoom and 15 scene modes.

Fashion Forward

Looking for an ultra-thin model that's still heavy on features? Try Sony's Cyber-shot T50 ($499). This 7-megapixel camera sports a large 3-inch touch-screen LCD that minimizes the amount of buttons on the exterior of the camera for a cleaner feel. This pocket-sized camera also can take better photos in low-light settings thanks to its high ISO sensitivity, which allows the camera to adjust to the amount of light present, and optical image stabilization that keeps photos sharp.

For night owls, Fujifilm's 5-megapixel FinePix Z3 ($279) sports i-Flash, an "intelligent flash" system that can measure surrounding light and adjust the intensity of the flash accordingly. The .8-inch thick Z3 also offers a scratch resistant, 2.5-inch LCD screen and 3x optical zoom lens.

Technophiles

If you crave the latest and greatest in digital photo technology, try on Nikon's new Coolpix S7c ($349). This 7-megapixel model offers built-in wireless networking with a year's free subscription to T-Mobile's wireless Internet HotSpots. This is only one of two cameras that can actually send photo e-mails directly from the camera, no PC required (the other is the Kodak EasyShare One). The S7c also can send images wirelessly to networked computers and printers, has an in-camera red-eye-removal function and can track individual faces in a scene to improve focus.

Kodak's V705 ($349) is another cutting-edge 7-megapixel camera that uses two lenses to offer wide angle shooting in a compact body. The camera's two lenses offer 5x optical zoom power with an in-camera photo stitching mode that uses multiple shots from its wide angle capture to create stunning panoramas.

Tough Guys

If you need your digicam to survive nature, consider the Stylus 1000 ($399) from Olympus. In addition to its tough weatherproof — but not waterproof — housing, the 10-megapixel Stylus actually is quite sensitive, able to capture images in low light thanks to its Bright Capture technology. In dim environments, it increases its light sensitivity to ISO 6400, which allows for pictures in extremely dark conditions.

If you need to go under water, try the Pentax Optio W20 ($299). This 7-megapixel camera offers waterproofing that allows it to withstand up to 30 minutes of continuous operation under 5 feet of water. It even offers underwater shooting modes to maximize the camera's exposure when submerged.

Hobbyist

Perhaps the most excitement this season will center on the digital single-lens reflex camera. These high-end models have dropped dramatically in price, bestowing the benefits of SLR photography — blazing-fast shot-to-shot times, more manual controls and an array of lenses to choose from — to a larger audience.

For first-time SLR owners, try Pentax's K110D ($599 with lens). Among the least expensive digital SLRs on the market, the 6-megapixel K110D can shoot up to five photos in a burst of 2.8 frames per second alongside a host of customizable controls, a 2.5-inch LCD and a compact design.

For more experienced users, Canon's 10-megapixel Rebel Xti ($899 with lens) is the latest model in its popular Rebel series.

It offers a series of dust-removal technologies — because dust can adhere to a sensor when changing lenses — and 3-frames-per-second shooting for up to 27 images at a time.

Another blazing-fast shooter is Nikon's D80 ($1,299 with lens kit), a 10-megapixel model that can burst at 3 frames per second for up to 100 images at a clip. It also offers a host of in-camera editing functions.

If you want the optical power of an SLR without the interchangeable lenses, you can outfit yourself with an "ultra zoom" model. Panasonic's 10-megapixel FZ50 ($649) offers a high quality image stabilization feature that keeps photos blur free when zooming to the end of its impressive 12x optical zoom lens. It can record movie clips as well.

Share the prints with one and all

Don't hog the holiday cheer. Once you've snapped your digital photos, you have to share the love. Epson's Ultra Hi-Definition RX580 Photo All-in-One offers lab-quality prints for less than $200. This printer uses Claria ink for the ultimate combination of photo quality and longevity. The photos are smudge, scratch, water and fade resistant and don't need to dry before handling them. It automatically adjusts for poor lighting conditions, skin tones and red-eye. And, it can be used to restore old, faded and discolored photos. You can print on multiple sizes of paper and directly to CD/DVDs. This printer can be used with or without a computer. It supports all popular memory cards, as well as PictBridge and Bluetooth. It prints quickly and is surprisingly quiet. Our testers were amazed at the abilities and print quality and have already asked Santa for one. For more information, visit www.epson.com.

Know cell-phone needs of recipient

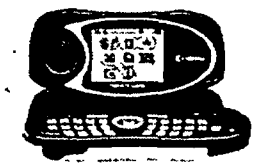
By Cynthia Grochowski
SPECIAL SECTIONS



Cell phones are high on the gift lists for people of all ages. Understanding the needs of the phone's user is necessary to select the right phone and calling plan when giving a cell phone as a gift.

Children

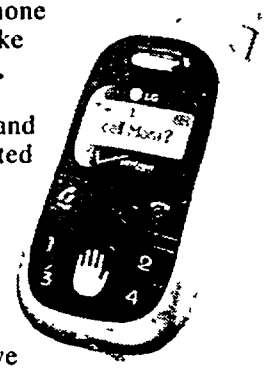
Designed for young children to use, the Migo LG digital phone from Verizon has four large speed dial keys for phone numbers like Mom, Dad, Home and Grandma, and one dedicated 911 key.



"This is the perfect 'first phone' for a young child," Steve Bloom of Wireless Zone in Howell said. "It's a great tool for parents as well."

The lime green and black Migo retails for $29.99 and features a built-in speaker phone, 10 built-in kid-friendly ring tones, and GPS capability. Text messaging, voice mail and Web browsing are not available on Migo.

Parents can purchase the Chaperone plan for their Verizon phones so Migo will text message them when their child takes Migo out of a pre-determined 'Child Zone'. A monthly subscription for Child Zone with Chaperone is $19.99.

Teens

Teens want to use a phone for text messaging with their friends.

"The Strobe Kyocera phone features a QWERTY keypad, just like the computer keyboard, which makes texting easier and faster," according to Jerry Gowan, a partner of Courtesy Communications in Hartland.

This midrange-priced Strobe for $179.99 is available through Metro PC, which has a monthly service plan suited for teens as well.

"The plan is $45 a month for 29,000 minutes of phone calls, text and picture messaging," Gowan said, "That is truly unlimited."

Metro PC offers the first month free with the purchase of a phone.

Metro PC does not require a credit check or the plan owner to be 18 years old. There are no activation or early termination fees. A text message is sent once a month to the phone when payment is due at a service center such as Courtesy Communications. Optional insurance plans at $4 a month are highly suggested for whatever phone is purchased.

The rapidly growing Metro PC coverage area currently includes Wayne, Livingston, Oakland and Genesee counties south to Ohio. Optional nation-wide coverage is available.

Elderly

A cell phone can be a lifesaver in more ways than one, hence their growing popularity as gifts for elderly loved ones on the Christmas list.

"Most phones now do well with large screen sizes and numbers, voice activation and speaker phone for louder volume," said Melissa Parker of Cartronics in Howell. "Plus the FCC requires E911 GPS for all phones being activated now."

The LGVX 3450 fits this bill for $29.99 with a new two-year contract.

Parker suggests adding them on the Verizon Family Share Plan for $9.99.

"Coverage is better than most prepaid plans offer, plus calling is free to other Verizon customers."

This is especially important for people wishing to remain independent but in touch, such as travelers, out of state residents or residents in nursing or retirement facilities.

If the elderly phone user can benefit from navigation assistance when traveling, a phone with VZW navigation capability is necessary.

The Motorola V325 is a good choice, especially since the $79.99 price features a $50 mail-in rebate with a two-year contract.

Add the navigation subscription for $9.99 a month or $2.99 for 24-hour period.

Most cell phone service centers will assist phone owners in setting up their phones with their personal preferences.

Video games: Not just for kids anymore

Adolescents aren't the only ones begging for the latest in gaming this holiday season. This year, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas for kids of all ages.

In reality, video games aren't just for kids anymore. With the majority of gamers falling between the ages of 18 and 36, it's no wonder the video game industry has blown past Hollywood in pure revenue-generating power. Here's an overview of the most anticipated systems this season.

Nintendo DS
NINTENDO, $129

Looking more like a PDA than a game machine, the DS continues to keep enthusiasts mesmerized by its dual screens, happily pounding buttons to a massive library of GameBoy, GameBoy Advance and current DS titles. The system really shines, however, during wireless multi-player competition.

Wii
NINTENDO, $249

For Nintendo faithful, the new Wii game system offers the ultimate bang for the buck. In addition to its debut game lineup, a virtual jukebox of past Nintendo, Super Nintendo, Nintendo 64 and GameCube titles can be played on this powerful, catchall machine. The cartridge classics can be downloaded from Nintendo's Web site directly into the system while GameCube discs fit into the existing media bay. For Internet multi-player action, a built in Wi-Fi feature keeps you connected 24/7 to Nintendo's WiiConnect service. And listen to this far-out notion: Nintendo is trying to get grandmothers and other non-gamers involved via the Wii's intuitive wireless controller. You heard right, rather than explaining the cluster of buttons to your Aunt Heidi, this innovative controller also reacts to motion like the swing of a tennis racket, the swoosh of a sword and other mimicked movements. Nintendo hopes this creative approach will invite all ages to play.

GameBoy Micro
NINTENDO, $99

When it comes to gaming beyond the living room, the GameBoy Micro has the market cornered for convenience and portability. Roughly the size of a calculator but packing the same power and features as the GameBoy Advance, the Micro is a sleek package. Dig out those old GameBoy Advance games and you're ready for action, Micro-style.

PlayStation Portable
SONY, $250

It may lighten your wallet more than the other portables, but can the others play movies, music and games? The PlayStation Portable is more like a mini entertainment system than a portable game machine. The 4-inch color screen is sharp and surprisingly easy on the eyes. And when you get tired of playing games, you can pop in a movie specially formatted and sized for the PSP. The system also supports Sony's memory stick technology. A 1 GB stick will hold two entire movies or roughly 250 songs. Rumor has it Sony will offer classic PlayStation One games for download around the same time as the PS3 launch in November. And because it's Wi-Fi equipped, wireless connectivity to the PS3 also is on tap.

PlayStation3
SONY, $499 (20GB), $599 (60GB)

The mantra for the new PS3 is power, power, power. The more computing power under the hood the easier to manipulate complex digital information. Sony, well aware of this, has fortified the PS3 with their Cell Engine: a new technology that distributes digital tasks to several processors in the name of speed and efficiency. The end result gives gamers the access to fluid animation, gorgeous graphics and deep, multi-faceted gameplay.

To complement all that muscle, the PS3 is Blu-Ray-ready. A Blu-Ray DVD disc holds five times more information than a regular DVD disc.

All that data translates into bigger and better games.

The system also comes Internet-ready and features Bluetooth wireless controllers. Two PS3 options are available – a stock model with a 20GB hard drive, and a beefed-up 60GB version with slots for the Sony memory stick and standard compact flash cards.

Xbox 360
MICROSOFT, $299 (CORE EDITION), $399 (PREMIUM)

While Nintendo and Sony have been putting the final touches on their next generation machines, the Xbox 360 has quietly been reaping the rewards of its first year on the market: The rewards being better quality games.

Often the first games offered for a fledgling system are not the best. More time on the shelf means more time for game developers to fully exploit a machine's capabilities.

With a growing number of quality titles, a hefty detachable hard drive and plenty of online play, the 360 is a heavyweight contender.

PERSONAL TESTIMONY -
The water in my town McAllen, Texas has the consistency of sludge
Very poor quality
And not really happy with how R.O
handles it I went to work to try and find a filtration system that met my requirements standards
Absolutely nothing not one thing UNTIL I saw an ad in our local newspaper for this eSpring Water Purifier checked it out thoroughly
(as I always do) and because it offered a 6 months no questions asked return policy in unhappy, I thought to myself, what do I have to lose, so I bought it tried it, loved it and now so that I never run out of clean delicious water ever again
I always have an extra replacement filter cartridge on hand
Amazing Product Superb

Condo law practice takes expertise

Q. I am buying a new condo and the developer has put a clause in his purchase agreement saying it is binding only after the seller signs the agreement and that it is an irrevocable offer. What do you think?

A. I think it is in violation of the nine (9) business day rule which allows a purchaser to withdraw from the condominium and, in my view, that agreement would be unenforceable. Too many purchasers sign agreements for the purchase of condos without obtaining the services of a knowledgeable condominium attorney to insure that the purchase agreement is in conformity with the condominium statutes and laws and then they are faced with the prospect of wanting to extricate themselves from the agreement and find that they may not be able to do so because of an unconscionable clause. You are best advised to seek redress at your earliest convenience.

Name
Last name

Q. The association was the highest bidder at its own sheriff's sale; but I am wondering, as a board member, what our next step is.

A. Normally, the co-owner will have a six month redemption period to pay back all monies due and owing to the association together with interest as a result of the sheriff's sale unless the unit is abandoned. That, of course, depends upon the terms of the foreclosure sale and/or judgment obtained. After the redemption period expires, the association has ownership of the units subject to any prior encumbrances on it but may have to seek a removal of the co-owner from the unit through court proceedings. You are best advised in general to consult with a condominium specialist in regard to your best remedies.

CREW regional conference set for Detroit

Detroit will host more than 200 commercial real estate professionals from 11 states in May 2007, when the annual Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW) Midwest Regional Conference comes to town.

Scheduled for May 3-5 at the Detroit Marriott at the Renaissance Center, the 2007 CREW Midwest Regional Conference will draw attendees from 16 CREW chapters in Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, as well as from the regional business community.

CREW-Detroit, one of the largest local chapters of the international CREW Network, worked for two years to win the event, says Joan Cleland, conference chair and president of Acquest Development, Inc. in Bloomfield Hills. CREW Network, a professional organization of nearly 7,000 commercial real estate women in the U.S. and Canada, is dedicated to advancing the success of women in commercial real estate. CREW members represent all aspects of the commercial real estate industry, including accounting, architecture, appraisal, acquisitions, construction, corporate real estate, development, engineering, finance, leasing, property/asset management, law, journalism, sales/brokerage and syndication/investment.

The conference will offer educational programming, networking events, panel discussions and offsite activities. A signature panel on Friday, May 4, will feature speakers from each participating regional chapter presenting waterfront development case histories, best practices and biggest challenges. Off-site activities will include tours of local attractions in downtown Detroit and southeast Michigan real estate opportunities, evening dine-arounds at local restaurants and daily "NetWalks" – morning walking and running tours of Detroit led by local CREW members.

Sponsorship options from $1,800 to $10,000 – which also include exposure at CREW-Detroit events and on its publications and Web site throughout 2007 – are available. For more information, contact Debra Osuch at (586) 731-3100.

For general information about the conference and CREW-Detroit membership, contact Norma Beuter, CREW-Detroit administrator at beuter@comcast.net or visit http://www.crewdetroit.org/07mwrc.htm for regular updates.

Commercial Real Estate Women – Detroit (http://www.crewdetroit.org), founded in 1986, is dedicated to advancing the success of women in commercial real estate by promoting networking, mentoring and professional opportunities among its more than 130 members. Local activities include monthly programs, a golf outing in June, the annual Impact Awards honoring southeastern Michigan commercial real estate projects that improve their communities, and community outreach work benefiting Alternatives for Girls in Detroit and First Step in Plymouth.

textiles and luggage

Kohl's Cash coupon may not be redeemed as price adjustments for prior purchases. Customer will receive a $10 Kohl's Cash coupon for the first $50 in purchases. An additional $10 in value will be added to the coupon for each additional $50 spent in that single transaction. Kohl's Cash coupon is earned on the amount of customer purchases after all applicable discounts are applied and before tax is imposed. Eligible customer purchases include sale-, regular- and clearance-priced merchandise, but excludes the purchase of Kohl's Gift Cards. Kohl's Cash can be earned but NOT redeemed on purchases of Kohl's Cares for Kids® merchandise or other charitable items. Kohl's Cash coupon may not be redeemed to reduce customer's Kohl's Charge or any third party charge account balances or redeemed to purchase Kohl's Gift Cards. Purchases made in store and online may not be combined to receive Kohl's Cash coupon. Kohl's Cash coupon will be forfeited for merchandise purchased that is subsequently returned. Return value of merchandise purchased with Kohl's Cash coupon that is then returned will be subject to adjustment. See store for details.

JEWELRY SALE prices and Bonus Buy prices effective through 11/25/06 unless otherwise noted. Percentages off regular prices or original prices, as shown. Actual Savings may exceed stated percentage off. "Regular" and "Original" prices reflect offering prices which may not have resulted in actual sales. Original prices may not have been in effect during the past 90 days or in all trade areas. Any event designated as a "sale" always excludes Special Buys, Trunk Shows, Custom-ordered Fine Jewelry, Pre-owned Jewelry, Jewelry Care Plans, Catalog/Internet Jewelry, items sold every day in multiples of two or more, and Value Right and Everyday Value items which are sold at our best price every day. Bonus Buys are excluded from any additional percents off or dollar off coupons. Jewelry photos may be enlarged to show detail. Diamond carat weights (CT.) represent the approximate total weight (T.W.) of all diamonds in each setting unless noted. Diamond solitaire weights may vary between .01 and .05 carat. Diamond total weights may vary between .01 and .08 carat. Some diamonds consist of fewer than 17 facets. Diamond sale includes only that jewelry where diamonds constitute the greatest value. Diamond accents may not constitute greater value than gold. Gemstones may have been treated and may require special care. 10K and 14K gold in our assortments. Available only at JCPenney stores with Fine Jewelry departments. Merchandise shown is representative of our assortment. Merchandise selection may vary from one JCPenney store to another.

NO INTEREST FOR 90 DAYS. Applies to each individual sales receipt of $150 or more for purchases made 11/24/06 – 11/25/06 on either a JCPenney consumer credit card account or a JCPenney Rewards MasterCard account (excludes Catalog/Internet transfers, factory ship orders and special order merchandise). No finance charges assessed on promotional purchases until promotion ends, but minimum monthly payments are required. If minimum monthly payments on your account (including optional credit insurance charges) are not paid when due, promotional terms may be terminated. Subject to credit approval. Standard account terms apply to non-promotional purchases and, after promotion ends, to promotional purchases. The APR on the JCPenney consumer credit card account is 21% (Residents of PR and USVI 19.8%). An APR of 24.99% (Residents of PR and USVI 23.8%) may apply to JCPenney consumer credit card accounts if payment is not made when due. Minimum Finance Charge is $1.00 (none for Residents of PR and USVI) for JCPenney consumer credit card accounts. Existing JCPenney consumer credit card and JCPenney Rewards MasterCard accountholders should see their credit card agreement for their standard account terms.

MANUFACTURER'S COUPON | NO DOUBLE COUPONING | EXPIRES 12/31/06

SAVE $3 on Century Cellars by BV Wine

When you purchase one 1.5L bottle or two 750ml bottles of CENTURY CELLARS™ by BV® wine

TO THE CONSUMER: This coupon is good for $3 savings when you purchase any one 1.5L bottle or two 750ml bottles of Century Cellars by BV wine. Limit one refund per customer. Offer valid only for residents of legal drinking age in AZ, CA, CO, FL, IL, MA, NJ, NV, NY, OH and WA. Void where taxed, restricted or prohibited by law. Offer not valid for employees of Diageo North America, Inc., alcoholic beverage wholesale or retail licensees or members of their families or households.

TO THE RETAILER: Diageo North America, Inc. will reimburse you for the face value of this coupon plus $0.08 for handling provided you and the consumer comply with the terms of this offer. Any other application constitutes fraud. Coupon is non-transferable, non-assignable and non-reproducible. Consumer must pay any deposit or sales tax. Cash value 1/20 cents. This coupon may not be reproduced, photocopied or printed in circulars without the express written consent of Diageo North America, Inc. To redeem coupons mail to: Diageo North America, P O Box 880050, El Paso, TX 88588-0050. All coupons must be received by March 31, 2007. After March 31, 2007, redemption requests may not be responded to. Invoices proving sufficient product purchases to cover coupons presented for payment and/or reports proving consumer redemption must be submitted on request. Failure to do so may, at our option, void all coupons for which no proof is shown. Use not consistent with these terms constitutes fraud and may void all coupons submitted. Coupons will be refused if submitted through agencies or clearinghouses not approved by us.

You may be taking calcium but are you getting calcium?

What you take

What you get

Why most calcium doesn't get absorbed

Medical professionals agree that most calcium supplements rely on stomach acid to break the product down so it can be absorbed. This inefficient process results in 85-90% of the calcium you take, never getting absorbed!

The pharmacist-developed solution

That's why a team of pharmacists developed NutraCal™, a special formulation of calcium, magnesium, Vitamin C and Vitamin D in a powder form that is already ionized for immediate absorption.

NutraCal™ is the only calcium supplement developed and approved by pharmacists.

Try NutraCal™ today, and feel the benefits of actually getting the calcium NutraCal™ is sugar free. It contains no fillers or artificial ingredients and is safe for use by children.

An Angel Of Mercy

Hamilton Exclusive

Last Chance!

Precious Moments

Shown actual size of 3¾" high

She's Sending Love From Above!

Dispensing a dose of "loving, caring and sharing" wherever she goes, this sweet angel of mercy has the perfect prescription for a smile!

Spread some tender loving care with "Sending Love From Above," an adorable nurse angel figurine inspired by Precious Moments® artist Sam Butcher and presented exclusively by The Hamilton Collection. From her tiny angel wings to the pearlized hearts she carries in her shiny nurse's bag, this cute little "care package" will touch your heart!

A numbered limited-edition collector plate trimmed with 23kt gold.

A sleeping Dachshund makes himself at home on his owner's bed. Ahhh... how luxurious it is to stretch out and dream wonderful dreams! This hilarious scene has been created by renowned artist Gary Patterson. Now, you can acquire "Bed Hog" as a porcelain collector plate exclusively from the Danbury Mint.

"Bed Hog" is limited to an edition size of 95 firing days. Each hand-numbered plate will be trimmed with a band of 23kt gold. The price is just $29.90 (plus $3.95 shipping and service).

No Obligation—No Risk.

You can acquire "Bed Hog" with our Guarantee of Satisfaction. If not delighted, simply return your plate within 30 days for replacement or refund. Order today!

Jessica Simpson knows what it's like to have acne. But more importantly, she knows how to treat it. That's because a while ago Jessica tried Proactiv® Solution for the very first time. She's been singing its praises ever since. Rather than a spot treatment designed to get rid of existing pimples, Proactiv® Solution is a Combination Therapy® System developed by two dermatologists. It uses prescription-grade active ingredients to heal existing blemishes, while it fights acne proactively by helping to prevent new breakouts before they start. Yet this 3-Step System is so gentle, Jessica's skin actually cleared up without dryness, redness or irritation. We believe Proactiv® Solution will have the same effect on your beautiful face. In fact, we guarantee it.

Complete system only $19.95
SAVE OVER 50%
off individual product prices.

2 Free Bonuses, a $20 Value.
Order now and get the Proactiv® Solution Refining Mask with its deep cleansing Sulfur formula that complements the 3-Step System. Plus, you'll get Face the Facts, a valuable guide with answers to your questions about acne.

60-Day Money Back Guarantee

Try it for 60 days. If you're not completely satisfied, send back the bottles within 60 days of delivery (even if they're empty) and we'll send you a full refund (less s/h). So do it today, and be on your way to more beautiful skin tomorrow.

HEAT UP TO 800 SQ. FT. USING LESS ELECTRICAL ENERGY THAN A COFFEEMAKER!

COMPACT, PORTABLE FURNACE BY ARBACO™ IS THE MOST EFFICIENT AND SAFEST HEATING UNIT ON THE MARKET TODAY – YOUR MODERN SOLUTION TO TRADITIONAL WINTER HEATING PROBLEMS.

Compact size:
Only 16 x 24, and 18 " high In oak veneer cabinet.

Discover the compact revolutionary zone furnace that safely and efficiently heats entire areas—providing primary heat for up to 500 square feet and secondary heat for up to 800 square feet!

It heats your room the way the sun heats the earth. Half of the sun's energy is infrared radiation! The heat from the Portable Furnace is safe and clean – free of pollution and does not use up the oxygen in the air.

Portable Furnace technology eliminates the need for furnace filters.

- NO BURNERS TO RUST, CORRODE, OR ADJUST.
- NO PILOT LIGHT TO WASTE ENERGY.

A fan quietly draws ambient (room) air into a plenum through the LIFETIME WASHABLE AIR FILTER; The air is gently forced through the heat exchanger and the temperature of the air passing through the unit is increased by approximately 115° Fahrenheit, then delivered back into the room through the exhaust grill.

SAFE TO USE ANYWHERE

This heating unit is safe enough to be housed in a real wood oak veneer cabinet, with casters for ease of mobility.

IT'S SO SAFE THAT IT WILL NOT START A FIRE OR BURN IF YOU TOUCH IT.

Due to its safe operating temperature, the Portable Furnace unit may be placed next to flammable materials with no safety clearance needed.

And, because of the reduced energy consumption, and the unit's high level of safety and comfort, Portable Furnace users agree that it is...

THE BEST VALUE AVAILABLE!

"My duplex is 800 square feet and with my Portable Furnace my gas bill was never over $20 a month."
L. Presley, Overland Park, Kansas

TEMPERATURE DIFFERENCE FROM FLOOR TO CEILING IS MINIMAL.

Unlike traditional systems, which may leave a differential of up to 18 degrees from floor to ceiling, the Portable Furnace heated air, using infrared absorption, does not concentrate near the ceiling. Heat stays down and evenly dispersed in the area where you and your family live.

In addition, the Portable Furnace does not remove humidity from the air. It actually helps maintain humidity levels. The even heating and higher humidity permit lower heat settings with more comfort, less condensation on windows and less static electricity.

In field tests for heating seasons, the Portable Furnace used an average of 35% less energy than conventional electric furnace/baseboard systems.

- EXTENSIVE 3 YEAR WARRANTY – INCLUDING LAMPS.
- NO MOVING PARTS EXCEPT THE FAN.
- TROUBLE FREE SOLID-STATE CONTROLS.
- ELIMINATES THE NEED FOR FURNACE FILTERS WITH LIFETIME WASHABLE AIR FILTER.
- USES ONLY 1500 WATTS. LESS THAN A COFFEE MAKER!
- DOESN'T DEHUMIDIFY!

ORDER TODAY AND ENJOY FREE SHIPPING TOO!

WHY USE INFRARED HEATING SYSTEMS?

- REDUCES FLOOR SPACE
- LOWERS ENERGY CONSUMPTION
- REDUCES MAINTENANCE
- CLEAN OPERATING SYSTEM

SAVE $50, OR MORE!
FREE SHIPPING
UP TO TWO UNITS
IF YOU ACT NOW!

The Portable Furnace by Arbaco™ is a great value and energy-saver. Respond to this ad now and we'll include FREE SHIPPING– PLUS you can get a 2nd Furnace at 50% savings– that's half-price!

PAY AS LITTLE AS $99 PER MONTH ON OUR ZERO-INTEREST INSTALLMENT PLAN

YOU COULD SAVE AS MUCH IN HEATING COSTS AS OUR LOW, NO-INTEREST MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN WILL COST YOU – AND IF YOU ACT NOW, YOU CAN ADD A 2ND FURNACE FOR HALF-PRICE AND ADD SAFE, EFFICIENT HEATING TO ANOTHER AREA IN YOUR HOME.

- CREDIT CARD ORDERS ONLY: A ONE-TIME ADMINISTRATION FEE OF $19.95 IS ADDED TO THE 3-MONTH PLAN; $29.95 TO THE 6-MONTH PLAN.

KMART ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE POLICY
Sale offers do not apply to clearance merchandise or items available through kmart.com. Sale merchandise is from specially selected groups unless identified as "all." Special Buy items are volume buys or special deals and are available in limited quantities, no rain checks available. Except as noted, rain checks will be issued upon request when advertised items are unavailable, or we may offer you a comparable-quality item at a comparable price. Price reductions are off everyday low prices unless otherwise indicated. Prices may vary in some stores due to local factors. Advertised prices are subject to state and local taxes, deposits and fees. We reserve the right to limit purchases to normal retail quantities. Shop these products at our Kmart, Big Kmart and Kmart SuperCenter locations. ©2006 Kmart® Corporation. Former ER star Noah Wyle

Q What has Noah Wyle been doing since leaving the TV series ER?
—Jon Elliott, Johnstown, Pa.

Since hanging up his TV scrubs, Wyle, 35, has been spending downtime at his ranch in the Santa Ynez Valley, Calif., with wife Tracy and their two children. TNT lured him away to star in The Librarian: Return to King Solomon's Mines, a new TV movie airing Dec. 3. "There is a scarcity of this type of movie on the air right now—movies that are just fun, old-fashioned popcorn flicks that you'd watch on a Saturday afternoon when you were a kid," he says.

—Donna Coons, Deadwood, S.D.

Somers, 82, just completed work on a Match Game video game, and she occasionally performs a club act in New York. TV's Game Show Network will air a Match Game special Nov. 26, featuring highlights from the show and guests. But Charles Nelson Reilly, 75, did not participate for health reasons, says a GSN spokesman. Earlier this year, Reilly's touring autobiographical stage show was made into a movie, The Life of Reilly, now being shown at film festivals

Brett Somers and Charles Nelson Reilly (with Match Game host Gene Rayburn, circa 1977) were popular panelists.

Q Zain Verjee on CNN's The Situation Room comes across as friendly and fun to watch. How did she get to CNN and what's her background?
—Gene H. McIntyre, Keizer, Ore.

While finishing her master's thesis in Kenya, Nairobi-born Verjee (whose ethnicity is East Indian) volunteered at the local radio station. "I ended up enjoying it so much, I stayed for four years," says Verjee, 32, who evolved from the radio entertainment beat to news after the 1998 embassy bombings in Nairobi. She came to the United States in 2000 and joined CNN as a correspondent for The Situation Room and other network newscasts. She also has published a children's book, Live and On The Air, about the experiences of a young girl who moves from rural Kenya to Nairobi to work as a broadcaster. Sound familiar?

Making the most of your leftover turkey

To make a lattice top for Turkey Pot Pie, slice puff pastry into strips and weave over the filling.

Thanksgiving demands a big bird on the table. After all, what's the weekend without turkey sandwiches? That's why, if you're like us, you're compelled to seek out a 20-pound turkey no matter how many people surround your table on the big day.

Everyone eats their fill, and then there are the inevitable leftovers. While turkey's great when it comes with all the fixings, it turns a little dull on its own. Maybe it's because we enjoyed it so much the day before, maybe it's because it dries out a bit overnight in the refrigerator. For whatever reason, we need to perk it up.

So here's a tasty farewell to dull turkey leftovers. Save the meat and bones on Thanksgiving, then wake up your taste buds with these easy dishes on the long weekend ahead.

by BRUCE WEINSTEIN and MARK SCARBROUGH
Photos by High Cotton Food Styling & Photography

Turkey Pot Pie

With frozen puffed pastry, you can make a fancy turkey casserole in no time, a warm comforting meal after the football games over the weekend.

- 3 cups 2% reduced-fat milk
- 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
- 2 teaspoons dried thyme
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 6 cups chopped turkey
- 1 pound frozen mixed vegetables
- 1 (17-ounce) box frozen puffed pastry, thawed

1. Preheat oven to 375F.

2. Place milk in a large saucepan, heat over medium heat, and add flour, stirring with a whisk until dissolved. Continue stirring until thick and bubbly.

3. Add Worcestershire sauce, mustard, thyme, onion powder, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Cook 1 minute, stirring constantly with a whisk. Add turkey and vegetables, stirring well; pour into a 13-by-9-inch baking dish.

4. Arrange 2 sheets of puff pastry, end-to-end and overlapped slightly in the middle, over top; trim off excess. If desired, cut excess dough into patterns or designs with cookie cutters and lay on top of pastry.

5. Bake about 50 minutes or until top is brown and puffed and filling is bubbly. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

Turkey Enchiladas

No need to make a complicated enchilada sauce with dried chiles and a dozen spices. With a bottle of purchased salsa and a blender, you can make the sauce in minutes.

- 3 cups bottled salsa
- ½ cup water
- 5 tablespoons chili powder
- 4 cups chopped turkey
- 2 cups (8 ounces) grated Cheddar cheese, divided
- ½ cup chopped fresh cilantro
- 6 (10-inch) flour tortillas

1. Preheat oven to 350F. Combine salsa, water and chili powder in a blender or a food processor; process until smooth. Pour ½ cup mixture into a 13-by-9-inch baking pan; set remainder aside.

2. Combine turkey, 1 cup cheese and cilantro. Lay a tortilla on work surface. Place 1 cup turkey mixture in center of tortilla, roll closed and place seam side down in baking pan. Repeat with remaining tortillas.

3. Pour reserved sauce over enchiladas. Cover with foil and bake about 45 minutes or until bubbly. Uncover and sprinkle remaining cheese on top. Continue baking about 5 minutes or until cheese melts. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Serves 4.

Turkey Vegetable Soup

Use a turkey carcass that hasn't been completely stripped of meat—although too much skin still adhering to it can make the soup oily.

- 1 leftover turkey carcass, with some meat still on the bones
- 3½ quarts water
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 2 celery stalks, thinly sliced
- 2 medium carrots, peeled and thinly sliced
- 1 medium rutabaga, peeled and diced
- 1 medium parsnip, peeled and thinly sliced
- 1½ teaspoons dried thyme
- 1 teaspoon dried rubbed sage
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper

Discuss These Recipes Online!
Post your comments on our new message boards at AmericanProfile.com

1. Place carcass, water and bay leaves in a large soup pot or Dutch oven. If carcass is not fully submerged, break it into pieces. Cover and bring to a simmer over high heat. Skim off foam, reduce heat to low, and simmer 1 hour.

2. Transfer bones to a large bowl using a slotted spoon. Discard bay leaves. Add remaining ingredients to broth; simmer, uncovered, about 1 hour or until vegetables are tender.

3. Remove meat from bones. Chop, stir into soup, and simmer 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Taste and add more salt if needed before serving. Serves 6.☆

Busy Building Buckets

On the chalkboard in his log house, cooper Jim Gaster has written his to-do list for the week: one 3-gallon primitive camp bucket, one flour barrel, six butter paddles . . . .

"This is what America used when it was growing up," says Gaster, 57, of Indianola, Neb. (pop. 612), who makes wooden buckets, flour barrels, powder kegs, washtubs, butter churns and yokes for carrying buckets of water.

A general carpenter for 25 years, Gaster was looking for a woodworking hobby when he made his first bucket in 1989. He knew there was a market for authentic wooden buckets among historic re-enactors, plus he liked the symbols of rural life because they remind him of his childhood on the farm homesteaded by his ancestors near Beemer, Neb. (pop. 773).

"He likes a challenge," says his wife, Marilyn, who handles the bookkeeping for the coopering business they call Beaver Buckets.

In warm weather, Gaster takes his shaving horse and hand tools from his shop and works on a hilltop surrounded by wide-open countryside. The secluded spot is quiet enough to hear the scraping of his drawknife as he thins a chunk of white oak into a stave, or side piece, for a bucket. A dozen staves are required to make a bucket, and they must line up snugly or the bucket will leak.

Gaster cuts a groove in each stave, joins them together to form the sides, and then works two metal bands around the bucket. Sometimes, he uses tree saplings for bands, which inspired the name for his business. "The little beavers chew the trees down and I use the shoots that come up," he says.

Gaster works four or five hours to create a bucket before sealing it with hot wax and adding a rope or metal bail for carrying the container. From crushed walnut hulls, he concocts a dark brown stain, which he applies to some buckets. A one-gallon camp bucket sells for $110.

"Each bucket has its own characteristics because each piece of wood is different," he says.

Gaster's craftsmanship is known from Hollywood to Washington, D.C., where his buckets and barrels appear in movies, including Seabiscuit and Master and Commander; and at the Smithsonian Institution and the White House Visitor Center.

His largest creation to date is an 1,100-gallon wooden water tower for the Littleton Historical Museum in Littleton, Colo. He also built five water and gunpowder casks modeled after containers excavated from the 1686 La Belle shipwreck off the Texas coast.

"We sent Jim detailed drawings because we wanted to reproduce these items," says Roy Garrett, of the Corpus Christi Museum of Science and History in Corpus Christi, Texas. "His skills are rare and very much appreciated. Our archaeologist was very impressed."

Gaster's tools and bucket designs are based on years of research at libraries, museums and antique shops. Among his

BRIEF SUMMARY (For full Prescribing Information, see package insert.)

INDICATIONS AND USAGE NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg is indicated for the treatment of the nasal symptoms of seasonal allergic and perennial allergic rhinitis in adults and pediatric patients 2 years of age and older. NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg is indicated for the prophylaxis of the nasal symptoms of seasonal allergic rhinitis in adult and adolescent patients 12 years and older. In patients with a known seasonal allergen that precipitates nasal symptoms of seasonal allergic rhinitis, initiation of prophylaxis with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg is recommended 2 to 4 weeks prior to the anticipated start of the pollen season. Safety and effectiveness of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg in pediatric patients less than 2 years of age have not been established.

NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, is indicated for the treatment of nasal polyps in patients 18 years of age and older. Safety and effectiveness of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, for the treatment of nasal polyps in pediatric patients less than 18 years of age have not been established.

CONTRAINDICATIONS Hypersensitivity to any of the ingredients of this preparation contraindicates its use.

WARNINGS The replacement of a systemic corticosteroid with a topical corticosteroid can be accompanied by signs of adrenal insufficiency and, in addition, some patients may experience symptoms of withdrawal, for example, joint and/or muscular pain, lassitude, and depression. Careful attention must be given to those patients previously treated for prolonged periods with systemic corticosteroids and transferred to topical corticosteroids, with careful monitoring for acute adrenal insufficiency in response to stress. This is particularly important in those patients who have associated asthma or other clinical conditions which for rapid decrease in systemic corticosteroid dosing may cause a severe exacerbation of their symptoms.

Recommended doses of intranasal corticosteroids are exceeded or if individuals are particularly sensitive or predisposed to, some of the systemic steroid therapy symptoms of hypercorticism may occur, including very rare cases of menstrual irregularities, cushingoid features, or suppressed reactivity. If such changes occur, topical corticosteroids should be discontinued slowly, consistent with accepted procedures for discontinuing oral steroid therapy.

Persons who are on drugs which suppress the immune system are more susceptible to infections than healthy individuals. Chickenpox and measles, for example, can have a more serious or even fatal course in nonimmune children or adults on corticosteroids. In such children or adults who have not had these diseases, particular care should be taken to avoid exposure. How the dose, route and duration of corticosteroid administration affects the risk of developing a disseminated infection is not known. The contribution of the underlying disease and/or prior corticosteroid treatment to the risk is also not known. If exposed to chickenpox, prophylaxis with varicella zoster immune globulin (VZIG) may be indicated. If exposed to measles, prophylaxis with pooled intramuscular immunoglobulin (IG) may be indicated. See the respective package inserts for complete VZIG and IG prescribing information. If chickenpox develops, treatment with antiviral agents may be considered.

PRECAUTIONS General Intranasal corticosteroids may cause a reduction in growth velocity, when administered to pediatric patients (see PRECAUTIONS, Pediatric Use section). In clinical studies with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, the development of localized infections of the nose and pharynx with Candida albicans has occurred rarely. When such an infection develops, use of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg should be discontinued and appropriate local or systemic therapy instituted if needed.

Nasal corticosteroids should be used with caution, if at all, in patients with active or quiescent tuberculous infection of the respiratory tract; untreated fungal, bacterial, systemic viral infections; or ocular herpes simplex.

Rarely, immediate hypersensitivity reactions may occur after the intranasal administration of mometasone furoate monohydrate. Extremely rare instances of anaphylaxis have been reported.

Rare instances of nasal septum perforation and increased intraocular pressure have also been reported following the intranasal application of corticosteroid compounds. As with any long-term use, treatment of the nasal cavity (patients using NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg over several months or longer) should be examined periodically for possible changes in the nasal mucosa.

Because of the inhibitory effect of corticosteroids on wound healing, patients who have experienced recent nasal septum ulcers, nasal surgery, or nasal trauma should not use a nasal corticosteroid until healing has occurred.

Glaucoma and cataract formation was evaluated in one controlled study of 12 weeks' duration and one uncontrolled study of 12 months' duration in patients treated with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg at 200 mcg/day, using intraocular pressure measurements and slit-lamp examination. No significant change from baseline was noted in the mean intraocular pressure measurements for the 716 NASONEX-treated patients in the 12-week studies as compared with 741 placebo-treated patients. No individual NASONEX-treated patient was noted to have developed a significant elevation in intraocular pressure or cataracts in this 12-week study. However, no significant change from baseline was noted in the mean intraocular pressure measurements in the 105 NASONEX-treated patients in the 12-month study, and again no cataracts were detected in these patients. Nonetheless, nasal and inhaled corticosteroids have been associated with the development of glaucoma and/or cataracts. Therefore, close follow-up is warranted for patients with a change in vision and/or a history of glaucoma and/or cataracts.

When nasal corticosteroids are used at excessive doses, systemic corticosteroid effects such as hypercorticism and adrenal suppression may appear. If such changes occur, NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg should be discontinued slowly, consistent with accepted procedures for discontinuing oral steroid therapy.

Patients should be cautioned not to spray NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg into the eyes or directly into the nasal septum.

Persons who are on immunosuppressant doses of corticosteroids should be warned to avoid exposure to chickenpox or measles, and patients should also be advised that if they are exposed, medical advice should be sought without delay.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility In a 2-year carcinogenicity study in Sprague Dawley rats, mometasone furoate demonstrated no statistically significant increase in the incidence of tumors at inhalation doses up to 87 mcg/kg (approximately 1 and 2 times the maximum recommended daily intranasal dose, MRDI, in adults [400 mcg] and children [100 mcg], respectively, on a mcg/m² basis). In a 19-month carcinogenicity study in Swiss CD-1 mice, mometasone furoate demonstrated no statistically significant increase in the incidence of tumors at inhalation doses up to 150 mcg/kg (approximately 2 times the MRDI in adults and children, respectively, on a mcg/m² basis).

Mometasone furoate increased chromosomal aberrations in an in vitro Chinese hamster ovary-cell assay, but did not increase chromosome aberrations in an in vivo Chinese hamster lung cell assay. Mometasone furoate was not mutagenic in the Ames test or mouse lymphoma assay and was not clastogenic in an in vivo mouse micronucleus assay, and a rat bone marrow chromosomal aberration assay, or a mouse male germ-cell chromosomal aberration assay. Mometasone furoate also did not induce unscheduled DNA synthesis in rat hepatocytes.

In reproductive studies in rats, impairment of fertility was not produced by subcutaneous doses up to 15 mcg/kg (less than the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis).

NASONEX®
(mometasone furoate monohydrate)
Nasal Spray, 50 mcg*

Pregnancy: Teratogenic Effects: Pregnancy Category C When administered to pregnant mice, rats and rabbits, mometasone furoate increased fetal malformations. The doses that produced malformations also decreased fetal growth, as measured by lower fetal weights and/or delayed ossification. Mometasone furoate also caused dystocia and related complications when administered to rats during the end of pregnancy.

In mice, mometasone furoate caused cleft palate at subcutaneous doses of 80 mcg/kg and above (less than the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis). Fetal survival was reduced at 150 mcg/kg (approximately 2 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis). No toxicity was observed at 20 mcg/kg (less than the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis).

In rats, mometasone furoate produced umbilical hernia at topical dermal doses of 500 mcg/kg and above (approximately 10 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis). A dose of 300 mcg/kg (approximately 6 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis) produced deaths in association, but no malformations.

In rabbits, mometasone furoate caused multiple malformations (eg, fetal heart pulsation, gallbladder agenesis, umbilical hernia) and especially at topical dermal doses of 160 mcg/kg and above (approximately 6 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis). In an oral study, mometasone furoate increased resorptions and caused cleft palate and/or head malformations (hydrocephaly or domed head) at 700 mcg/kg (approximately 30 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis). At 2800 mcg/kg (approximately 110 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis), most fetuses were aborted or resorbed. No toxicity was observed at 140 mcg/kg (approximately 6 times the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis).

When rats received subcutaneous doses of mometasone furoate throughout pregnancy, or during the later stages of pregnancy, 15 mcg/kg (less than the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis) caused prolonged and difficult labor and reduced the number of live births, birth weight and early pup survival. Similar effects were observed at 7.5 mcg/kg (less than the MRDI in adults on a mcg/m² basis).

There are no adequate and well-controlled studies in pregnant women. NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, like other corticosteroids, should be used during pregnancy only if the potential benefit justifies the potential risk to the fetus. Experience with oral corticosteroids since their introduction in pharmacologic, as opposed to physiologic, doses suggests that rodents are more prone to teratogenic effects from corticosteroids than humans. In addition, because there is a natural increase in corticosteroid production during pregnancy, most women will require a lower exogenous corticosteroid dose and many will not need corticosteroid treatment during pregnancy.

Nonteratogenic Effects Hypoadrenalism may occur in infants born to women receiving corticosteroids during pregnancy. Such infants should be carefully observed.

Nursing Mothers It is not known if mometasone furoate is excreted in human milk. Because other corticosteroids are excreted in human milk, caution should be used when NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use Controlled clinical studies have shown intranasal corticosteroids may cause a reduction in growth velocity in pediatric patients. This effect has been observed in the absence of laboratory evidence of hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal (HPA) axis suppression, suggesting that growth velocity is a more sensitive indicator of systemic corticosteroid exposure in pediatric patients than some commonly used tests of HPA axis function. The long-term effects of this reduction in growth velocity associated with intranasal corticosteroids, including the impact on final adult height, are unknown. The potential for catch-up growth following discontinuation of treatment with intranasal corticosteroids has not been adequately studied. The growth of pediatric patients receiving intranasal corticosteroids, including NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, should be monitored routinely, eg, via stadiometry. The potential growth effects of prolonged treatment should be weighed against clinical benefits obtained and the availability of safe and effective nonsteroidal or nonintranasal corticosteroid treatment alternatives. To minimize the systemic effects of intranasal corticosteroids, including NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, each patient should be titrated to his/her lowest effective dose.

In a 1-year clinical trial, 773 patients 3 to 11 years of age with allergic rhinitis were treated with mometasone furoate nasal spray, 50 mcg (100 mcg total daily dose) in controlled clinical trials (see CLINICAL PHARMACOLOGY, Clinical Studies section). Twenty-eight (28) patients 2 to 5 years of age with allergic rhinitis were treated with mometasone furoate nasal spray, 50 mcg (100 mcg total daily dose), in a controlled trial to evaluate safety (see CLINICAL PHARMACOLOGY, Pharmacokinetics section). Safety and effectiveness in children less than 2 years of age with allergic rhinitis and in children less than 18 years of age with nasal polyps have not been established.

A clinical study has been conducted for 1 year in pediatric patients with allergic rhinitis (ages 3 to 9 years) to assess the effect of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg (100 mcg total daily dose) on growth velocity. No statistically significant effect on growth velocity was observed for NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg compared to placebo. No evidence of clinically relevant HPA axis suppression was observed following a 30-minute cosyntropin infusion.

The potential of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg to cause growth suppression in susceptible patients or when given at higher doses cannot be ruled out.

Geriatric Use A total of 280 patients above 64 years of age with allergic rhinitis or nasal polyps (age range 64 to 86 years) have been treated with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg for up to 3 or 4 months, respectively. The adverse reactions reported in this population were similar in type and incidence to those reported by younger patients.

ADVERSE REACTIONS Allergic Rhinitis In controlled US and international clinical studies, a total of 3210 adult and adolescent patients ages 12 years and older with allergic rhinitis received treatment with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg at doses of 50 to 800 mcg/day. The majority of patients (n = 2102) were treated with 200 mcg/day. In controlled US and international studies, a total of 990 pediatric patients (ages 3 to 11 years) with allergic rhinitis received treatment with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, at doses of 25 to 200 mcg/day. The majority of pediatric patients (720) were treated with 100 mcg/day. A total of 513 adult, adolescent, and pediatric patients have been treated for 1 year or longer. The overall incidence of adverse events for patients treated with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg was comparable to patients treated with the vehicle placebo. Also, adverse events did not differ significantly based on age, sex, or race. Three percent or less of patients in clinical trials discontinued treatment because of adverse events. This rate was similar for the vehicle and active comparators.

All adverse events (regardless of relationship to treatment) reported by 5% or more of adult and adolescent patients ages 12 years and older who received NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, 200 mcg/day, and by pediatric patients ages 3 to 11 years who received NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, 100 mcg/day, in clinical trials vs placebo and that were more common with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg than placebo are displayed in the table below.

ADVERSE EVENTS FROM CONTROLLED CLINICAL TRIALS IN SEASONAL ALLERGIC AND PERENNIAL ALLERGIC RHINITIS (PERCENT OF PATIENTS REPORTING)

| | Adult and Adolescent Patients 12 years and older | | Pediatric Patients Ages 3 to 11 years | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | NASONEX 200 mcg (n = 2103) | VEHICLE PLACEBO (n = 1577) | NASONEX 100 mcg (n = 374) | VEHICLE PLACEBO (n = 376) |
| Headache | 26 | 22 | 17 | *8 |
| Viral Infection | 14 | 11 | 8 | 9 |
| Pharyngitis | 12 | *9 | *9 | *10 |
| Epistaxis/Blood-Tinged Mucus | 11 | 6 | 9 | 9 |
| Coughing | 7 | 6 | 13 | *5 |
| Upper Respiratory Tract Infection | 6 | 2 | 5 | 4 |
| Dysmenorrhea | 5 | 3 | 1 | 0 |
| Musculoskeletal Pain | 5 | 3 | 1 | 1 |
| Sinusitis | 5 | 3 | 4 | 4 |
| Vomiting | 1 | 1 | 5 | 4 |

Other adverse events that occurred in less than 5% but greater than or equal to 2% of mometasone furoate adult and adolescent patients ages 12 years and older treated with 200-mcg doses, regardless of relationship to treatment and more frequent than in the placebo group, included: arthralgia, asthma, bronchitis, chest pain, conjunctivitis, dermatitis, dyspepsia, earache, fever, symptoms of the jaw, nausea, and rhinitis.

Other adverse events which occurred in less than 5% but greater than or equal to 2% of mometasone furoate pediatric patients ages 3 to 11 years treated with 100-mcg doses vs placebo, regardless of relationship to treatment and more frequently than in the placebo group, included: dermatitis, nasal irritation, otitis media, and sneezing.

The adverse events, regardless of relationship to treatment, reported by 5% of pediatric patients ages 2 to 5 years who received NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, 100 mcg/day, in a clinical trial vs placebo, including 56 subjects (28 each NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg and placebo) and that were more common in the NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg than placebo, included: upper respiratory tract infection, 7% vs 0%, respectively. The other adverse event which occurred in less than 5% but greater than or equal to 2% of mometasone furoate pediatric patients ages 2 to 5 years treated with 100-mcg doses vs placebo, regardless of relationship to treatment and more frequently than in the placebo group, included: skin trauma.

Nasal Polyps In controlled clinical studies, the types of adverse events observed in patients with nasal polyps were similar to those observed for patients with allergic rhinitis. A total of 594 adult patients (ages 18 to 86 years) received NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, at doses of 200 mcg once or twice daily for up to 4 months for treatment of nasal polyps. The overall incidence of adverse events for patients treated with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg was comparable to patients treated with the placebo except for epistaxis, which was 9% for 200 mcg once daily, 13% for 200 mcg twice daily, and 5% for placebo.

Rare cases of nasal ulcers and nasal septal perforation were also reported in patients treated with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg, primarily in patients treated for longer than 4 weeks.

In postmarketing surveillance of this product, cases of nasal burning and irritation, anaphylaxis and angioedema, and rare cases of nasal septal perforation have been reported. Disturbances of taste and smell have been reported very rarely.

OVERDOSAGE There are no data available on the effects of acute or chronic overdosage with NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg. Because of low systemic bioavailability and an absence of acute drug-related systemic findings in clinical studies, overdose is unlikely to require any therapy other than observation. Intranasal administration of 1500 mcg (14 times the recommended dose of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg) daily for 28 days to healthy human volunteers was well tolerated with no increased incidence of adverse events. Single intranasal doses up to 4000 mcg have been studied in human volunteers with no adverse effects reported. Single oral doses up to 800 mg have been studied in human volunteers with no adverse effects reported. Chronic overdosage, with corticosteroid may result in signs or symptoms of hypercorticism (see PRECAUTIONS). Acute overdosage with this dosage form is unlikely, since one bottle of NASONEX Nasal Spray, 50 mcg contains approximately 8500 mcg of mometasone furoate.

Creating Gift Wrap

You've bought or made the perfect gift, but that's only the first step. Wrapping your present in a creative and unexpected way makes a gift even more personal, can be fun to do and, in today's "disposable" world, is kinder to the environment when you use materials that otherwise would be tossed in the trash.

"Think seasonally," suggests Karen Keenan, owner of Pamela Loring Gifts in Lee, Mass. (pop. 5,985). "Top your package with an old holiday ornament, spray of fall leaves, holly, or flowers—real or artificial."

If giving homemade breads, casseroles or other goodies, buy inexpensive plates, dishes and baskets at yard sales and flea markets for food containers. Top jars of your special preserves with material from your scrap box or by cutting pieces from a child's outgrown garment. Tag sales can yield other wrapping materials such as linens, fabric scraps, doilies and napkins.

"Get creative with paper," says Keenan, whose shop wraps dozens of presents daily. "Blueprints, maps, wallpaper, brown 'butcher' paper, sheet music, brown paper bags, aluminum foil and plastic wrap all work well."

Reuse newspapers, matching the section to the recipient's interest. Consider the sports pages for a sport fan, cartoons for a child, stock listings for a business diehard, and the food section for someone who loves to cook. Wrap a graduate's gift in the classified job ads, and use the real estate section to package a housewarming present.

To top it all off, recycle old ribbons in new ways. Cut them into "confetti" and put them inside clear plastic wrapping or glue them to the outside of your package. You can even wash out empty potato chip bags and cut them into strips, using the shiny side as a ribbon.

Double your gift by wrapping it in a related gift item. Tie a baby shower present in a cotton receiving blanket. Give a book in a reusable canvas bag; gardening tools in an apron; seed packets taped to a potted plant; or a kitchen gadget wrapped in a new dishtowel.

While gift bags are quick and easy, a present wrapped with personal flair is likely to be remembered long after the occasion, as is the giver.

INTRODUCING AN AMAZING NEW TECHNOLOGY FOR TURNING BAD AIR GOOD.

AND ONLY ORECK HAS IT.

THE NEW ORECK XL® PROFESSIONAL AIR PURIFIER WITH THE REVOLUTIONARY TRUMAN CELL™

Oreck has spent years developing the Truman Cell. This breakthrough technology seeks and destroys the bad stuff you might be breathing right now in your home. Could it improve the quality of your life? Without question. It's what makes the Oreck XL Air Purifier the best defense against bad air on the market today.

The new XL Tower Air Purifier with its 6-stage purification system is designed to handle the spacious areas of your home, where the family spends a lot of time together.

It can clean, freshen and circulate every cubic inch of air in an area as large as 1125 sq. ft. every single hour, capturing bacteria, molds, viruses, fungi, even cigarette smoke and other odors you don't want to live with. Including those caused by pets; cooking and toxic chemical fumes such as paint smells and off gases from new rugs, which can contain formaldehyde, a carcinogen.

It also removes allergens, including those which can cause or worsen asthma attacks. The XL will keep the air in your living room or play room or any other large space clean, fresh and circulating at all times.

It will do it quietly, thanks to Oreck's own Silence Technology®, while using as little energy as an ordinary light bulb. Plus, unlike other purifiers, the Oreck XL doesn't require costly replacement filters. It has a permanent filter that is washable. Simply rinse the filter as often as you like and it's as good as new. So try a new Oreck XL Professional Air Purifier risk-free. If you don't love it, you don't keep it.®

The XL Tower is 30" high and purifies an 1125 sq. ft. room every hour.

The XL Tabletop is 16.6" wide and purifies a 150 sq. ft. room 6 times an hour. Available in Silver/Marble and Black/Burl Wood.

Beaver Buckets owners Marilyn and Jim Gaster

historically authentic creations is an 1812-style wooden U.S. Army canteen and an axle-grease bucket for a Conestoga wagon. He also makes water dippers, washboards and 13-gallon barrels to age sauerkraut.

The Gasters' sons, Bryan, 30, and Jeremy, 27, have pitched in to help market their father's durable and enduring wares. Jeremy designed the company's website and Bryan, who lives in Denver, wrote and illustrated a step-by-step guidebook, How to Make a Coopered Wooden Bucket.

While mass-produced metal and plastic pails have replaced handmade oaken buckets in most homes, Gaster stays as busy as a beaver shaping pieces of wood into beautiful replicas of containers that served people for centuries.

"I guess you could call it Old World integrity," he says. "I take a lot of pride in my work."

Visit www.beaverbuckets.com for more information.

Gaster's wooden buckets and washboards are based on historical designs.

Medicare Part D Annual Enrollment begins November 15th! CALL NOW!

Call today to receive your FREE AARP MedicareRx Plans Enrollment Kit.

Enrollment for the AARP MedicareRx Plans is right around the corner – November 15th through December 31st.* Get coverage that's predictable, affordable, and simple to use. The AARP MedicareRx Plans were designed to protect Medicare beneficiaries from the rising costs of prescription drugs today and in the future:

- Predictable and affordable, flat copays – as low as $6
- Three plan options available in 2007*
- No annual deductible on two of our plans
- Our drug list includes every brand-name prescription drug, or its generic version, covered by Medicare Part D
- The only Medicare Part D plans endorsed by AARP

Looking for greater coverage?

The AARP MedicareRx Plan - Enhanced provides additional benefits within the coverage gap, with no annual deductible. This plan also includes an expanded list of commonly used drugs not covered by Part D, such as Alprazolam (generic for Xanax®) and Lorazepam (generic for Ativan®). Call us or visit our Web site to learn more.

Judi From raises dogs for the blind

Puppies in Training

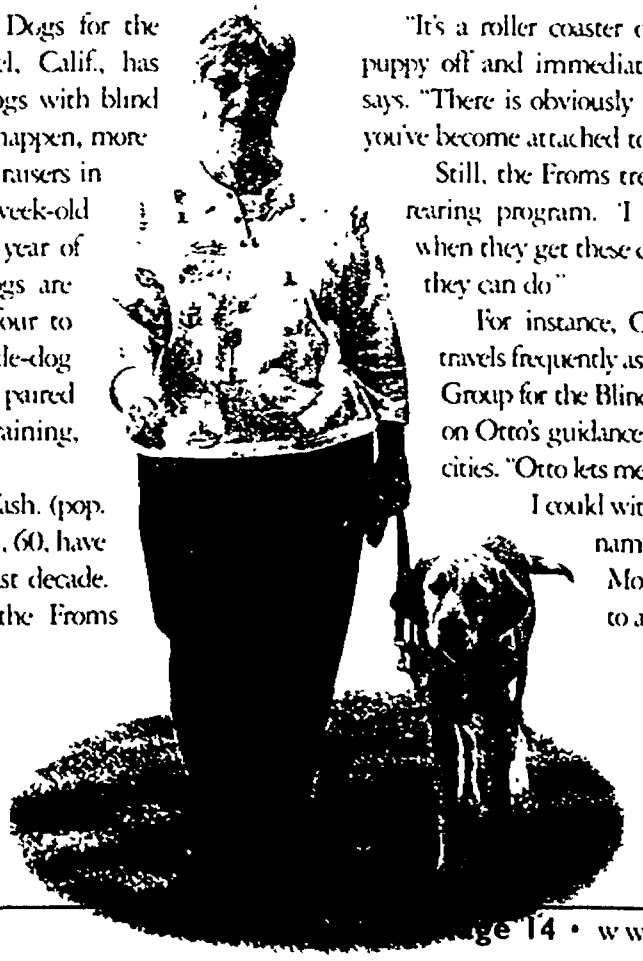
When Otto, a cream-colored Labrador retriever, saw Judi From after a nine-month absence, his whole body quivered with excitement. With his tail thumping wildly, the lab danced around From as she warmly petted him—and then tearfully told him goodbye.

During this typical "graduation" ceremony for Guide Dogs for the Blind, emotions flowed freely as puppy raisers, including From, said their heartfelt farewells to dogs that they were part of their families.

In its 64 years, Guide Dogs for the Blind, based in San Rafael, Calif., has placed more than 10,000 dogs with blind owners. But before that can happen, more than 1,000 volunteer puppy raisers in eight Western states take 8-week-old pups into their homes for a year of basic training. Then the dogs are returned to San Rafael for four to five months of intensive guide-dog instruction before they are paired with blind owners for more training, and eventual graduation.

From, 62, of Poulsbo, Wash. (pop. 6,813), and her husband Dick, 60, have raised 14 puppies over the last decade. After handing over Otto, the Froms received another puppy to raise the same day. Recently they worked with Othello, another Labrador retriever.



Dick and Judi From with Othello, a guide dog in training.

"It's a roller coaster of emotions when you drop one puppy off and immediately pick up another one," From says. "There is obviously some pain in giving away a dog you've become attached to."

Still, the Froms treasure the rewards of the puppy-rearing program. "I have seen people's lives change when they get these dogs," she says. "It's amazing what they can do."

For instance, Otto's new owner, Ed Reyes, 59, travels frequently as president of the Missouri Regional Group for the Blinded Veterans Association. He relies on Otto's guidance to board planes and navigate new cities. "Otto lets me move six to eight times faster than I could with just my cane," says Reyes, a Vietnam War veteran from Kansas City, Mo., who lost his vision 10 years ago to a degenerative condition. "I just put my trust in him and off we go."

Tami Gerenon credits Nicks, another Lab raised by the Froms, with increasing her mobility and confidence to travel, and keeping her safe. Gerenon, 38, of Vancouver, British Columbia, who has been blind since birth, didn't get a guide dog until she collided with a car backing out of a driveway. Now Nicks is her constant companion.

"Nicks lets me know if there is a car coming I don't hear," Gerenon says.

Reyes and Gerenon received their dogs for free and all training expenses were paid for by Guide Dogs for the Blind, which provides financial support for both raisers and graduates

"We are in touch with our graduates throughout the life of their dog," says Joanne Ritter, 53, the organization's director of marketing and communications.

When she takes on a new puppy, From meets twice a month with a local puppy-raising club for training support Sporting green capes labeled 'Guide Dogs for the Blind," the pups are taken on outings to accustom them to new surroundings, such as restaurants, malls and street traffic. Each month, From sends a report to help the organization evaluate the puppy's suitability for guide dog work, since only 50 percent of the pups pass the program's stringent requirements. Dogs that don't make the grade may be deemed better suited as search and rescue dogs, dogs to assist the hearing-impaired or loyal pets. Six of From's dogs have become guide dogs.

"I've seen people's lives change when they get these dogs," From says. "It's amazing what they can do."

Taking Othello to a grocery store helps acquaint him to the environment and become familiar with food aromas.

"I always told people I would raise guide dogs," says From, who grew up close to the Guide Dogs center. "But I never knew how until I found out about this program at a dog show.

"I love working with dogs," she adds, "and this feels like I am really making a contribution."

Finding Some "Me" Time

Time is a valuable asset

for any busy woman. So it's important to identify the time-robbers in your life, get rid of them, and gradually replace empty drudgery with activities that rejuvenate you.

To discover who or what is robbing your time, start by keeping a log of how you spend each hour for a day or two. Include things such as regular work, school, caring for kids, housework, food preparation, shopping, running errands and talking on the phone.

You may discover that you are allowing yourself to be robbed of time dealing with non-priority tasks or doing things for other people that they can do for themselves. You also may find that you're spending dangerously little time on activities that increase, rather than deplete, your energy. Once you see where your time is going, consider the following questions:

What are you doing that someone else could do? If a 13-year-old daughter knows her way around the Internet, she certainly can learn her way around the kitchen and master a few easy recipes.

What are you doing that could be left undone for now? No family ever collapsed for want of perfectly organized closets.

How are you allowing other people to determine your schedule? Just because the phone rings doesn't mean you have to answer it. Let an answering machine take calls so you can talk to chatty friends when it's convenient for you.

Do you run errands during high-traffic times of the day? Whenever possible, shop when others don't. (Tip: Shop for groceries on Tuesday mornings. The shelves have been re-stocked overnight so the food is fresher, and fewer people shop on Tuesdays.)

What's on your schedule that's not a top priority? If you'd rather take a photography class than serve as an officer in the Garden Club, give yourself permission to do so.

Ridding your life of time-robbers and reclaiming time for yourself not only will benefit you, but your family as well. After all, if you're tired and resentful because you never have "me" time, the spillover takes its toll on everyone. But when you honor your own needs for personal time, you're honoring others as well. After all, the way we treat ourselves affects the way we treat others.

Savory Supper

Slow-cooked meat, braised

in a savory sauce, is a superb dinner entrée during cooler weather.

Try the recipe for Texas-Style Beef Brisket with Panhandle Sauce, and you'll see what we mean. Sent in by Gail Van Osdell of St. Charles, Ill., the recipe can be prepared a day in advance and refrigerated whole. The next day, slice the brisket and place slices in a shallow baking pan, pouring the reserved sauce over them. Cover the pan lightly with foil and heat in a 300F oven for 30 minutes or until beef is hot.

"Over the years, I've tried quite a few brisket recipes, and this one is by far the best," Van Osdell says.

Serve the brisket with a side of rice or potatoes or with Marsha Baker's Butternut Squash Bake. "I'm always asked to share this recipe when I serve it," the Pioneer, Ohio, resident says.

To make the two cups of mashed squash you'll need for the recipe, purchase 1 ½ to 2 pounds of butternut squash. Cut in half lengthwise and place cut sides down in a roasting pan. Add water to a depth of 1 inch. Bake in a 375F oven for 30 minutes or until tender. Cool slightly and scrape pulp from squash.

As always, American Profile looks forward to receiving—and publishing—your favorite recipes each week and sharing them with our millions of readers across the nation.

RECIPE: Texas-Style Beef Brisket

Texas-Style Beef Brisket
with Panhandle Sauce

- 2¼ cups ketchup
- 1½ cups beer
- ½ cup packed brown sugar
- ½ cup white wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons chili powder
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 cup chopped onion
- ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 (5- to 7-pound) beef brisket, trimmed of excess fat
- 2 tablespoons liquid smoke

1. Combine ketchup, beer, sugar, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, chili powder, garlic, onion and cayenne in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes or until sauce thickens, stirring occasionally. Pour 2 cups of sauce into a bowl; cover and refrigerate.
2. Preheat oven to 250F. Brush both sides of brisket with liquid smoke and place in roasting pan. Pour remaining sauce over brisket, turning to coat evenly. Cover and bake 4 hours or until tender.
3. Remove brisket from pan juices, slice thinly across the grain. Heat reserved sauce and serve over sliced brisket. Serves 12 to 16.

RECIPE: Butternut Squash Bake

Butternut Squash Bake

- ⅓ cup butter or margarine, softened
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 (5-ounce) can evaporated milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups mashed cooked butternut squash

Topping:

- ½ cup rice cereal
- ¼ cup packed brown sugar
- ¼ cup chopped pecans
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

1. Preheat oven to 350F. Grease an 11-by-7-inch baking pan. Cream butter and granulated sugar. Beat in eggs, milk and vanilla. Stir in squash. Pour into pan. Bake 45 minutes or until almost set.
2. To prepare topping, combine cereal, brown sugar, pecans and butter. Sprinkle on topping. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer or until bubbly. Serves 6 to 8.

Parading a Horse-Drawn Christmas

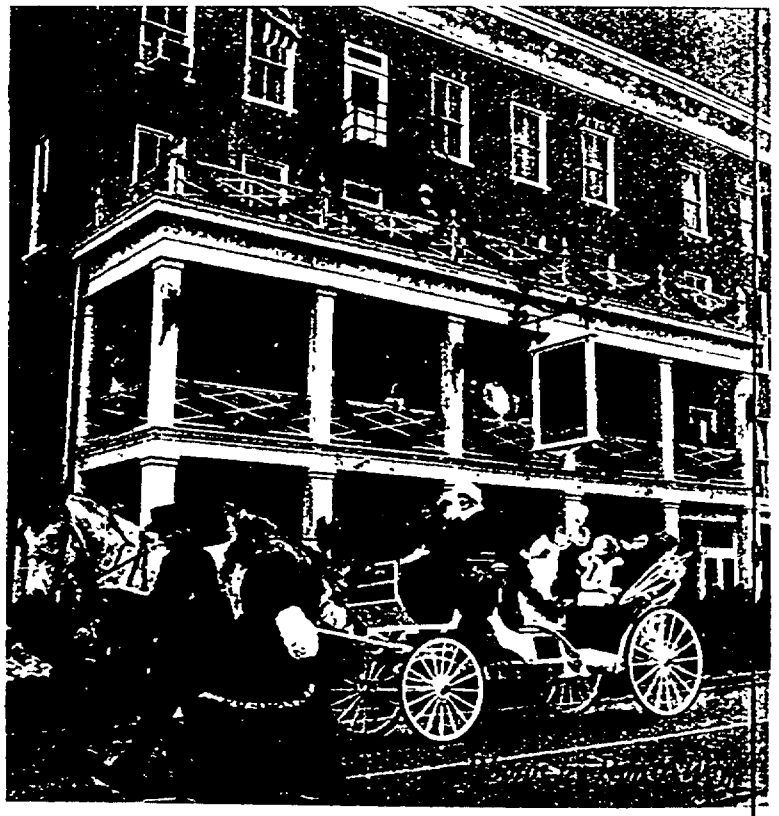
by LORI B. MURRAY

Young girls dressed as Santa's elves hand out candy canes,

Christmas carols blare from loudspeakers and spectators scurry to secure a good spot as America's largest horse-drawn carriage parade gets under way in downtown Lebanon, Ohio (pop. 16,962).

In its 18th year, the Horse-Drawn Carriage Parade and Christmas Festival offers the perfect nostalgic ride through an antique store-lined town that fills with horse lovers and Christmas revelers on the first Saturday of December.

"When it gets close to the parade, everybody is talking about it," says Ginger Blair, who works at Hardy's Bed & Breakfast Suites. "All 16 of our guests are coming to the parade, and (the next day) they will book their rooms for next year."



Mr. and Mrs. Claus ride in the Christmas parade's lead carriage.

Two parades—at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.—offer two different experiences. The daytime procession spotlights the unique features of all 120 carriages and their horses, while the evening parade features the carriages adorned with dazzling lights. To enhance the nighttime festivities, students at Lebanon High School sell candles along the parade route, adding to a spectacular display of lights as new and vintage carriages from Ohio and neighboring states roll through the streets.

"It was during the second year that somebody passed out candles near The Golden Lamb (Ohio's oldest hotel), and they lit them and sang 'Silent Night,'" recalls Emmor Baily, 80, who helped found the parade in 1987.

"The first year, we had 18 participants," he says. "It was 5 below zero that morning, and there were 6 inches of snow on the ground. The scenery was just beautiful."

As the years passed, so did the parade. One year, period costumes were added; another year brought bells, bows and lights, and each year the number of horses and carriages grew. Today, horses often are adorned with red bows and garland as they pull restored postal wagons, old-fashioned meat wagons and an array of other

Did You Know...

ILLINOIS—In 1885, Swiss immigrant John Meyenberg founded Helvetia Milk Condensing Co. in Highland (pop. 8,438) to make unsweetened evaporated milk. The company sold the milk under different names in different markets, but the popular "Pet" trademark was registered in 1895.

INDIANA—An archaeological dig at Angel Mounds State Historic Site in Evansville uncovered a pottery-making operation used by American Indians who lived in the area from A.D. 1100 to 1450. Pottery tools and masses of unfired clay were excavated earlier this year.

IOWA—Every August since 1987, the river towns of Le Claire (pop. 2,847) and Port Byron, Ill. (pop. 1,535), have held an old-fashioned tug-of-war with an unusual twist—the 2,400-foot-long rope is stretched across the Mississippi River. The Illinois team won the most recent contest, knotting the series at 10 victories each.

KANSAS—In 1956, cousins Louis and Shaol Pozez opened a shoe store in Topeka with a revolutionary approach: self-service. Today, Payless ShoeSource is one of the nation's leading shoe retailers.

MICHIGAN—Fennville (pop. 1,459) is nicknamed "Goosetown" because of the thousands of Canada geese that flock to the region each fall. Birdwatchers visit nearby Allegan (pop. 4,838) State Game Area for prime viewing.

MINNESOTA—Visitors to the Minneapolis Sculpture Garden are in for a big treat—a 5,800-pound spoon with a giant cherry poised on the end. Sculptors Claes Oldenburg and Coosje van Bruggen created the whimsical fountain sculpture, dubbed Spoonbridge and Cherry, which stretches more than 50 feet.

MISSOURI—In 1972, Johnny Morris began stocking fishing lures in his father's liquor store in Springfield and reeled in so many sales that he printed a mail-order catalog. Today, his Bass Pro Shops flagship outdoor store is the state's top tourist attraction.

NEBRASKA—Rock-paper-scissors may be child's play, but you have to hand it to David McGill, 30, of Omaha, who played and won $50,000 in the USA Rock Paper Scissors Championship in April in Las Vegas.

NORTH DAKOTA—"Man's best friend" is a chicken named Henrietta for Terry Morris, who lives near Bismarck (pop. 55,532). The friendly hen has logged 50,000 miles with Morris in her custom coop, favors Mexican food, and inspired the 2006 children's book Henrietta the Guard Chicken.

OHIO—Michael Neely, 14, of North Canton (pop. 16,369), coasted to first place in the stock division of the 69th annual All-American Soap Box Derby in July in Akron. The derby is called the "Gravity Grand Prix" because the homebuilt cars lack engines.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Guests stay in a Sears and Roebuck mail-order house at the Triangle Ranch Bed and Breakfast in Philip (pop. 885). The unassembled two-and-a-half-story, mission-style house arrived by train and was built in 1923 by H.H. Williams, whose great-granddaughter today owns the home.

WISCONSIN—One of the state's oldest houses of worship, St. Augustine Church in New Diggings (pop. 473), was built in 1844 and is now being restored. The wooden church was established by the Rev. Samuel Mazzuchelli to serve lead miners.

Festivities draw 70,000 spectators each December.

carriages. Lebanon, platted in 1802, is a fitting backdrop, and the festivities draw about 70,000 people annually.

"The parade and festival were created to encourage people into downtown Lebanon to discover the specialty and antique shops," says Sara Arseneau, executive director of the Lebanon Chamber of Commerce, which oversees the event.

"Saturday of the festival is one of our biggest days all year," says Joy Kossouji, owner of downtown's Golden Turtle Chocolate Factory. "The festival brings people from all over Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, and it is great advertisement for us."

In spite of all the hoopla, a sense of camaraderie prevails among participants. Most are devoted horsemen and women who haul their animals and buggies via trucks and trailers. On Saturday morning, the Lebanon Education Association serves breakfast to participants, a tradition that began in 1988 when Baily cooked 18 gallons of chili for the carriage owners.

Sue and Larry Baughman, of Utica, Ohio (pop. 2,130), have ridden in 14 parades. Two 3-year-old draft ponies pull their green and gold carriage. "It's hard to wash the horses and clean them up in this cold weather," Larry says. "But this parade is so well organized, we wouldn't miss it." Every year the couple enjoys the breakfast, and Sue takes time to shop downtown. "The people of Lebanon are very good to us," she says.

The parades are the heart of the festival and strong local participation reflects community pride in the festivities. "This parade is really about the spirit of Christmas," Arseneau says. "It takes the entire community to make it happen."

Aging is Natural. Giving Up on Your Sexual Health Isn't!

Hold onto the Best Years of Your Life!
Here's how one man did it!

Dear Readers:

Although this would otherwise be an embarrassing subject – I feel strongly about sharing a recent experience with others my age. Simply put ... I'm 47 years old and even though I'm in overall good health my body just doesn't respond sexually like it used to.

Recently, I found myself struggling to "perform". It was so difficult to remain firm. I began losing my confidence and my sex drive with it. I was feeling a great deal of pressure and embarrassment and my wife was beginning to think it was something she did or didn't do – it wasn't.

I wasn't comfortable discussing my situation with anyone – not even my doctor – so in a desperate attempt to find some help, I privately did some research on the web.

First, I found that many HEALTHY men experience a decrease in virility with age (sometimes it can even happen to men under 30). I wasn't alone! Good blood circulation is key to maintaining a strong erection and apparently there are a number of factors that can weaken it.

Armed with this new information, I began to search through the many "male enhancement" products on the net. I found a pill for everything and anything but among these various pills and patches – one product stood out – Maxoderm! Not a pill or a patch, Maxoderm is completely different! This surprisingly effective topical formula is delivered directly to the "source", where and when I need it most. Best of all Maxoderm is recommended by Leading Physican, Micheal A Savino, M.D., F.A.C.S. but you don't need a prescription to get it. I don't need to swallow a pill, prescription drug or not, or wear some kind of patch on my shoulder.

After trying Maxoderm just once, I could actually feel it working immediately! And it felt incredible! What a difference! I couldn't believe it - virility like I haven't felt in years! My driver's license says I'm 47 but thanks to Maxoderm, my wife says I'm 18 again! It felt great! I now know it's normal to experience some problems with virility as we age but Maxoderm let me deal with it naturally. No pills – no patches – and even better – no embarrassing appointment with the doctor.

Try Maxoderm. You'll feel it working immediately – then you can get back to living your life again.

Mattress sale prices good through Saturday 12/2/06 Mattresses not available in all cities or all JCPenney Stores. Availability of featured items will vary by store. Delivery charges apply to home deliveries and to customer pickups from the JCPenney Stores, where available. Patterns may vary from those shown.

NO PAYMENTS, NO INTEREST UNTIL FEBRUARY 2008. Must request at time of purchase. Offer applies to Furniture & Mattress purchases of $500.00 or more made 11/22/06-12/2/06 at a JCPenney Store (excludes Outlet store, Puerto Rico store, Catalog and Internet purchases, deposit on special orders and purchases on Personal Payment Plan accounts) on either a JCPenney consumer credit card account or a JCPenney Rewards MasterCard account. No finance charges assessed and no payments required on promotional purchases until promotion ends. Promotional terms apply for 15 months after promotional purchases are charged to your account (except as stated below). Thus promotional terms on special order or other delayed delivery merchandise purchases may expire later than 2/08. If minimum monthly payments on any other balances on your account (including optional credit insurance charges) are not paid when due, promotional terms may be terminated. Subject to credit approval. Standard account terms apply to non-promotional purchases and, after promotion ends, to promotional purchases. The APR on the JCPenney consumer credit card account is 21% (Residents of PR and USVI 19.8%). An APR of 24.99% (Residents of PR and USVI 23.8%) may apply to JCPenney consumer credit card accounts if payment is not made when due. Minimum Finance Charge is $1.00 (none for residents of PR and USVI) for JCPenney consumer credit card accounts. Existing JCPenney consumer credit card and JCPenney Rewards MasterCard accountholders should see their credit card agreement for their standard account terms.
