Racing at Pinnacle

Richard Rittelle is more at home on a race track than he is in his own home. At 68, the Salem Township resident with a Northville mailing address, has been racing for 40 years and is now one of the jockeys racing at the new Pinnacle Race Course in Huron Township. He and fellow jockey, Roy Brooks from Oklahoma, are the two oldest quarterhorse riders still racing.

Anti-annexation workers thanked

Time to move on with project

By Pam Fleming STAFF WRITER

Northville Township Supervisor Mark Abbo couldn't say thank you enough to those involved in thwarting the recent attempted annexation of 414 acres of the township to the city of Livonia.

Abbo expressed his gratitude at the monthly township board meeting Thursday evening at township hall. About 50 minutes at the start of the meeting was devoted to discussion of the

M. Abbo after developer REIS placed seven people on the acreage, the former Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital property, had them register as voters and file a petition to have the land annexed to Livonia.

The developer placed the people on the property under the guise of them providing security to the property. This occurred after REIS, a partnership between Real Estate interests Group and Schostak Brothers and Company, was not pleased with the townshipapproved plan for the development. Highwood The developer sued the township for $100 million, but reached an agreement with the township on the property on July 30, dissolving the lawsuit. Carol Poenisch of the Stop the Annexation ballot question committee took the podium first, giving a brief chronological account of the anti-annexation campaign

She talked about Laure Marrs, of Citizens for Northville, who moderated a town hall meeting on March 6 at the Highland Lakes Condominiums complex clubhouse, where a large crowd gathered to hear about what the developer was proposing, which was not in line with the township's ordinances.

In April, there was a great effort to try to obtain the passage of annexation reform legislation in the state which would have stopped the annexation. This included the delivery of more than 3,000 signed letters to the Michigan Senate.

The anti-annexation campaign kicked into full throttle in June.

"We had volunteers working in many directions," Poenisch said, including going door-to-door talking to Livonia residents, distributing yard signs, staging a rally during the Livonia Spree festival and attending a breakfast during the

Fundraiser Oct. 10 set to help orphans

By Pam Fleming STAFF WRITER

When Renu Sandhu visited an orphanage in her native India her brother helped establish, she knew she had to help.

Now the Northville Township resident is spearheading the first annual charity fundraiser "An Evening in Bollywood," to help Indian orphans through the Austin, Texas-based Miracle Foundation.

The event will be from 7:30-10:30 p m, Friday, Oct. 10, at Rock Financial Showplace in Novi. It will feature Indian food, a fashion show, music dance performances, and both silent and live auctions. Attire is black tie or Indian dress. Tickets are $100 each before Sunday, with tables of 10 costing $900. After Sunday, tickets will cost $125 each, with tables of 10 costing $1,150 VIP seating, which includes an auction preview are $1,500 for a table of 10.

Orphans receive all funds

All monies are 100 percent tax deductible and will go to the orphans of the Miracle Foundation "None of the ticket sales or donations will be used for administrative costs," Sandhu said.

The Miracle Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to empowering children to reach their full potential, one orphan at a time. This is accomplished by ruising the standard of living for children in orphanages in India, reducing the number of non-orphaned children living in orphanages and increasing the number of domestic adoptions in India. A group of women known as Spree at Eddie Edgar Ice Arena. Poenisch thanked Livonia resident Dianne Marietti, one of the volunteers who was heavily involved in the anti-annexation effort, for helping place signs in Livonia yards and attending every Livonia City Council meeting to pass on the anti-annexation message in her red Stop Annevation Tshirt.

"I really don't like the color red. but all of a sudden I was wearing it every day," Marietti said "My children are glad it (the primary election) is over," she said. "They called it the 'A' word, and they don't want to hear anything more about it.

Poenisch also thanked former Livonia Mayor Bob Bennett and former councilwoman Maureen Miller Brosnan for coming forward to protest the proposed annexation.

Township residents Fred Shadko of Taxpayers for Responsible Development received many thanks, as did Rhonda Weber, a Stop the Annexation volunteer.

Framed resolutions were presented to Rep. Marc Corriveau (D-Northville) for his role in trying to get legislation passed in Lansing, as well as Poenisch, Shadko, Weber and Marrs, although Marrs was not able to attend the meeting.

Abbo said he felt Livonia voters failed to approve the annexation because they responded to the plain with.

"I know that this is probably going to be viewed as one of the most contentious annexation fights in the state of Michigan," he said. 'The reason we got caught up in this was because of our culture. We try to help people, and we trusted people when we shouldn't have. Throughout this whole thing, we found out who our friends were and who weren't."

Abbo said when he woke up on the morning of primary election day he wasn't feeling very well.

"But, when the results started coming in about 8:15 that night, you couldn't wipe the snule off of my face," he said.

He said state Sen. Bruce Patterson (R-Canton Township) lost a lot during his efforts to try to get annexation reform legislation passed in the Michigan Senate. such as being removed from some legislative committees.

"I have made it my cause to see that that is reversed," Abbo said.

Corriveau said legislators took a lot of bumps during the effort but that there were also a lot of bridges built, such as the one between him and Abbo.

"I have drafted a letter now to the Senate leadership to get them to pass this legislation, since they now have no reason not to," Corriveau said.

Abbo also spoke of Poenisch's energy and drive as well as her positive, upbeat attitude throughout the anti-annexation campaign. He saw her as a key component to the campaign's success

"On the day of the primary election, she told me, 'Mark, we're going to win this," he said.

"We will forever be grateful to all of you for your efforts."

A few residents criticized the board for their actions regarding the property, including a man who lives right across the street.

"Here you are with your little celebration, patting yourselves on the back," he said. "We should never have been put in that position. It was wrong. You didn't win. It was the good people of Livonia who saved us

Another was concerned about looking out over a six-story senior housing complex, which he learned about after reading the agreement.

Township resident Steve Emsley said he thought the agreement was what the developer wanted in the first place.

"We struggled with this, but our hand was forced," Abbo said. "We're going to try to do the best we can under the circumstances."

sponsored a little boy named Manus through the Christian Children's Fund and wanted to meet him to see if he was receiving her support.

He was exactly as his letters had described and had indeed received the sponsorship money and letters from Monheim.

On May 14, 2000, the director of the CCF, Domadoor Sahoo, invited the women to his home for dinner. Nothing prepared the women for what they were about to witness. At Sahoo's house were 100 orphans.

Later that evening a little girl named Sheebani came and put her head on Boudreaux's knee. The girl was so tired that Boudreaux picked her up, and the girl literally pushed her body into Boudreaux's arms and fell asleep.

When Boudreaux went upstairs to find the girl's crib, she saw that the child's room had 30 wooden slatted beds with no pillows, mattresses or blankets. Boudreaux knew she had to do something and soon.

In 2007, she single-handedly raised more than $1 million for the foundation, which is one of a handful of American organizations allowed to organized domestic adoptions in Indian, with the agency currently having seven orphanages in its network.

Before establishing the Miracle Foundation, Boudreaux was an account executive for Fox Television and was in charge of new business development for and advertising firm.

Visit to Sooch Village

Sandhu, who is married, has a son and a daughter and has lived in Northville for five years, became involved when her brother, Nav Sooch, was the primary donor of the Sooch Village orphanage, which opened in India in March through the Miracle Foundation, and she was invited to the grand opening.

"I had no other purpose but to go and have fun," Sandhu said. "India has a caste system. I watched, and these children, most of which are in the lowest class, were speaking fluent English and going to normal schools. That just got to me. This organization is actually making a difference. I kept thinking. 'I just have to do something.'"

Every year in India, one million children are sent to live in orphanages, Sandhu said.

More than 25 million children currently live in Indian orphanages, and in 2006, there were less than 3,500 domestic and international adoptions in India.

Without support from the outside, these children will grow up uneducated and will likely end up on the streets, forced to commit crimes to survive.

The foundation is also looking for people to sponsor non-adoptable orphans at a cost at three levels of sponsorship --- $45, $100 or $200 a month --- with a minimum commitment of five years. Sandhu has adopted a little girl at the Sooch Village named Chikoo, who was born in February.

"You can develop a personal relationship with that child, and the Miracle Foundation will do all the arrangements for you if you want to go visit it," Sandhu said.

"We're breaking the cycle of poverty," she said. "We want to increase awareness."

Northville jockey likes racing at new Pinnacle Race Course

He's competed for four decades

By Pam Fleming STAFF WRITER

Richard Rettele may almost be more at home on the back of a horse than he is in his own skin.

At age 68, the Northville resident has been racing about 40 years and is one of the jockeys racing at the new Pinnacle Race Course in Huron Township.

He and fellow jockey Roy Brooks, from Oklahoma City, are the two oldest quarter-horse riders still racing.

Born to race

"My father, Joe, was a jockey, and I had four brothers who were all jockeys, too," Rettele said.

His father is deceased, but his brothers are still around, although they've all retired from horse racing.

Rettele's wife, Carol, trains quarter horses, and he trains thoroughbreds.

His daughter, Kim, works at a large quarter-horse facility, JEH Stallion Station, in Pilot Point, Texas.

Rettele was born in Baileyville, Kan., and started his career as a jockey just south of Omaha, Neb. He's also raced in Colorado, Oklahoma and Michigan.

Track opened July 18

Located about 30 minutes from Northville near the I-275 and Sibley Road exit, the family-oriented Pinnacle track just opened July 18, launching a new era of thoroughbred racing in Michigan. With the theme, "Horsepower Returns to Motor City," the race course was founded by Jerry Campbell of Jackson.

The inaugural season includes 63 days of racing through Nov. 2. with races beginning at 2:30 p.m. every Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

Sunday racing, which ended Aug. 24, will be replaced with Monday racing this fall, also beginning at 2:30 p.m. Parking and admission to the track are fraciewished minimum bet of $2 11 per race.

The $720,000 Michigan Sires Stakes series will take place Saturday, Oct. 18, which will feature Michigan-bred horses in a variety of divisions.

GIRL POWER: Downtown has really become female-friendly

About one-third local businesses owned by women

By Pam Fleming STAFF WRITER

When it comes to girl power, downtown Northville's definitely got it

In fact, about one-third of the more than 200 shopping, during establishments and service-oriented businesses are owned by women

This includes a restaurant, spa, apparel boutique, home décorshop, gallery, theater gift shop and law firm

"Northville is fortunate to have such a strong base of women-owned businesses," said Lori Ward, executive director of the Northville Downtown Development Authority. "They have played a huge role in establishing Northville as a premier downtown in Michigan - a great place to work, shop and dine!

DDA funds series of ads

On Aug. 14, downtown Northville women business own-ers gathered in the Town Square for an opportunity to meet fellow business owners and be part of a photo shoot for a Crain's Detroit Business advertisement. The ad will run in the Sept. 15

issue, that will focus on women in business

This ad will follow a series of ads that ran in the business publication's July 21, 28, Aug. 4 and 18 issues.

"We had a great response to the photo shoot, with about 40 of our women business owners participating," Ward said. "This was also a great opportunity to show off our new Town Square."

Due to the size of the ad, names of business owners and their businesses did not appear.

However, all of the ads were created and funded by the DDA. so there was no charge to any of the local business women. Ward said

School year offers chance for fresh start

After the three-day weekend before us, you may feel a difference in the atmosphere and attitudes in a community. The air will be a luttle crisper during morning commutes (driven in increased traffic with added concerns about large yellow buses), sports teams and players will put aside one pursuit for the start of new seasons in others, and "All Summer Long" will come to an end. Every conclusion is a chance for an optimistic approach to new

Every conclusion is a chance for an optimistic approach to new beginnings. We're hoping that the historical "bump" to the economy that marks the start of a new presidential administration repeats itself, a fresh start needed now more than ever as we bring to an end an eightyear period that sent a nation "from first to worst" in many ways.

For students in the district and their families, back to school time presents a clean slate of opportunity, with each classroom an unopened book waiting to be read. In general terms, the students, faculty and administration have established a respectable, better-than-average environment in which children may flourish. Teacher-to-student ratios, test scores, graduation rates and facilities and resources are in the better ranks among the state's schools, opportunities that families in many, many other districts would envy. We may question or challenge local authority on occasion, but we recognize that the potential here leaves no excuses for students to not put their best effort on the table.

We hope students, parents, teachers and the community-at-large will do what they've always done: Root for the home team, generate enthusiasm for programs both academic and extra-curricular, support local non-profit groups that are an equal partner with the school district, and carry on the spirit that keeps residents calling this community home. Before the weekend is over and the frenzy of fall begins, take a moment to appreciate what is offered, and let the season begin.

■ GUEST COLUMN: Northville Township Supervisor Mark Abbo runs through annexation issue

Pretty sad. I like how the one gentleman put it, here we are congratulating ourselves when in reality it was the residents of Livonia who saved us.

p nellesme starts foble to Principles? Integrity? That's what Abbo thinks he defended? The Annexation NO vote would have settled the "Developer" problem.

tempbox

The rhetoric about defending the economic development and residents was just that. The issues are decided - there doesn't seem much left to 'negotiate'.

Senate needs to learn to be a good neighbor

Many have undoubtedly heard the phrase, "good fences make good neighbors." I prefer "good people make good neighbors." Three weeks ago our neighbors in Livonia epitomized my preferred quotation when they voted in support of Northville Township by opposing the annexation of the Highwood property.

Because they made their voices heard, new development and new jobs will come to life where today only empty buildings stand. I have great hope the property can be developed in a way that will bring prosperity and new opportunity to Northville Township and its neighbors in a way that is sensitive to the development's impact on our local residents and resources.

I must also take this opportunity to reiterate the importance of passing common-sense annexation reform. In March, I was proud to work with colleagues in the House of Representatives from both sides of the aisle to secure broad, bipartisan support for my plan to protect communities like Northville Township from divisive, unnecessary annexations. It passed 101-8 because it is good public policy and because we set aside partisan differences and instead came together like neighbors to work together in support of the common good.

Unfortunately, despite admirable efforts by Senator Bruce Patterson, my bill has been stymied by a Senate that has been unwilling to tear down the fence of partisanship and hold a vote to send my plan to the governor's desk. I know the Senate can be a good neighbor to urban townships if my bill is allowed a vote. That is why I am calling on the Senate to stop holding up my bill and vote to reform the annexation statute to prevent another annexation from pitting two neighboring communities against one another.

While working to reform annexation I learned that we can accomplish more by working together. This applies as much to our state as we work to diversify our economy, reform government and create jobs as it does for local communities working to secure responsible development. I will do my part and continue to ask my colleagues in the House and Senate to set aside partisan differences and work together to create the pedestrian crossings I have seen are clearly designated with white parallel and broad perpendicular lines on the roadway. The slight change in the shading of the paving bricks is, in my opinion, insufficient contrast for a motorist or even a pedestrian to identify exactly what is or is not the crosswalk.

Secondly, just to keep from hitting the sign, curb, or even the clock, I'm sure we all remember there are a lot of things the motorist must do precisely at the "clock crossing point." The roadway is narrow, now made even narrower with the crossing signs, and there are turns in the road required to navigate around the clock. Additionally, once inside the cross-walk, the clock, its island and the high flower bed obstruct the motorist's view to the left. While the clock, island and flowers are definitely aesthetically pleasing, they prevent a motorist from clearly seeing pedestrians entering the cross-walk from the left and across the street. Additionally, if there is only one cross-walk, by law the motorist must stop before the first sign to yield to pedestrians crossing on the far side of the clock. A driver in the cross-walk while there are pedestrians in it is in violation. That's a long way, and a lot of obstructions in between, for a motorist to see diagonally across the road to the far side of the clock. Depending on where one is, I would say it is sometimes impossible to clearly see a pedestrian on the far side. Now add to this pedestrians crossing the road as if they are clearly visible and there is no oncoming traffic flow and you have a recipe for a disaster.

The third, and probably the most dangerous condition exists when a vehicle is proceeding west on Main Street and approaching the crossing point west of the clock. At the clock, on the north side is a loading zone in the middle of the cross-walk, or just before the west crosswalk if you assume are there two cross-walks. Somew, where a vehicle is in the loading zone, in addition to the previously mentioned obstructions on the left produced by the clock, island and raised flower bed, the motorist may have an obstructed view of pedestrians coming from the right - and all the while trying to avoid the generally larger vehicle parked in the loading zone, the signs and curbs and other distractions common to the clock area. When I was growing up, I was taught never to cross street from an area between

Safety Town thanks

Northville Parks and Recreation has concluded their 24th year of offering the prekindergarten children of Northville the opportunity to participate in the Safety Town program. Safety Town is a national program that teaches safety lessons through guest speakers, role playing, songs, videos and riding a vehicle through a "real" town.

This year, we were thrilled to see over 200 children participate. Safety Town continues to be a valued community tradition, and we are very appreciative of the involvement and support of our community.

Our special thanks to: Our teen volunteers; Community Financial - Northville for a generous contribution used for new supplies; Northville Township and city police and firefighters for attending the lessons and graduations; Northville Township Firefighters (IAF 3961) for providing the Safety Town participant T-shirts.

Keep an eye out for our Safety Town display at the Northville Victorian Festival. We will be located in front of the Northville Square on Main Street on Saturday, Sept. 13 and Sunday, Sept. 14 from noon to 4 p.m. Stop by and bring the kids to see a small snapshot of Safety Town and get those pre-kindergartners excited for Safety Town 2009.

Vote against embryonic stem cell research

Unfortunately, there is a small margin between the November election and my 18th birthday that will prevent me from voting. The most important issue, to me beyond the presidential election, is the referendum to lift the restrictions on embryonic stemcell research. I wish I could have a hand in voting it down. Since I can't, I urge other Michiganders to vote against this referendum for the following reasons: Embryonic stem cell research is already allowed in Michigan, but it can only be funded by private enterprise. This referendum will not lift restrictions on the research itself, but allow the government to use your tax dollars to fund it. Contrary to media hype, embryonic stem cells show little hope. Many of the patients who have received experimental treatments have died as a direct result. On the other hand, adult stem cell research, which has received less funding and far less media attention, is currently being used to successfully treat 72 separate diseases. The use of embryonic stem cells is morally questionable. Because an embryo is the first stage of life, its destruction is directly linked with the abortion debate. Adult stem cells carry no such moral implications, Researchers are studying embryos in Michigan right now, and will continue to do so after the November election. The question is, the way Michigan's economy is right now, is it right for the government to take your hard-earned money and spend it on research that is morally questionable and that has thus far shown itself to be ineffective, if not dangerous?

Judge. I sincerely believe that Joe Barone is the superior candidate and that his election will serve the best interests of the 35th District Court.

Joe is a man of outstanding character with a terrific reputation in both the legal community and in our community at large. Joe and his wife, Maria, have built a thriving law practice in our community from the ground up by providing quality legal services to many residents of our community. Joe treats his clients. the courts, his opponents, the police agencies and our court staff with the utmost respect. Joe appears in our court multiple times per week on average. Joe is intelligent and comes to court well prepared. He doesn't try frivolous cases. When Joe takes a case to trial, he wins.

Joe Barone has the temperament and demeanor to become an outstanding judge. Joe Barone is a team player which will be a critical trait as our new third judge will be counted on to help contribute to the efficient operation and administration of our Court.

Joe Barone has a history of dedicated volunteer activities and financial support for good causes in our community. While public service is not a requirement for the position, most citizens I know want and expect our local judges to be actively involved in good causes, on their own time, to better our community.

Judicial Canon 7 says that a judge should not publicly endorse non-judicial candidates. This is because judges are entrusted to serve as checks on the other partisan branches of government. Judges, like other citizens, have a constitutional right to free speech in judicial elections.

While judges have the right to endorse judicial candidates, there are many legitimate reasons why judges might not endorse a candidate for judge, particularly in the district where they work:

1. Ultimately, they have to work with whoever preyails, which I am fully committed to , do.

2. There is the personal risk of political repercussions when it is the endorsing judge's time to run for re-election.

3. Personally, I have always been reluctant to endorse because I find it a bit arrogant to think that my endorsement or that of anyone else carries any great weight.

Judges are elected officials and employees of the state, not the court. Chief Judge Lowe antici-

LEGISLATIVE

UPDATE

Energy bills must provide sensible standards at reasonable costs

The increasing costs of energy and the need to further Michigan's energy independence as well as find alternative energy sources are pressing issues. The Michigan Legislature must work to encourage private enterprise to pursue renewable energy, and we should reward cost-containment efforts. While renewable and alternative energies may not be the cure-all to Michigan's economic woes, nevertheless, Michigan has the highest electric rates of the Midwestern industrial states.

Two bills in the Legislature are attempting to address our energy concerns. House Bill 5524 amends Public Act 141 of 2000. The measure does the following: places a 10 percent cap on electric choice; calls for faster implementation of rate changes; establishes a statutory scheme for de-skewing rates (adjusting the rates that businesses and residents pay to more accurately reflect costs); establishes a certificate of need (CON) program for large expenditures; and imposes a generation surcharge.

In contrast to the House version, the goal of the Senate passed proposal, Senate Bill 213, is to use obtainable levels of renewable energy—such as using solar panels and wind turbines or capturing landfill gases—in a cost-effective manner. The Senate passed proposal provides Michigan residents with an income tax credit of $2.00 per month to offset any higher electric charges incurred so that citizens do not have to pay for the higher costs of the renewable energy. Energy providers must annually notify customers of the total charges assessed for them to comply and remind residents they are entitled to an offsetting income tax credit.

The integrated standard will allow electric service providers to either produce or purchase a percentage of the electricity they sell to retail customers in Michigan from combined renewable energy, cleaner energy, or through energy efficiency resources such as compact fluorescent light bulbs, smart meters and other devices by the end of 2015. Under SB 213, some of the cost to residents may be refunded through an income tax credit.

HB 5524 and SB 213 are in conference committee. The Senate and House have been negotiating critical aspects of these measures for the past several weeks and will continue to do so. I will vigorously work to ensure that sensible standards for renewable and green energy are passed, at reasonable costs to the taxpayer.

Your feedback is always welcome. You can contact me by e-mail at: senncassis@senate michigan.gov, or toll free at 1-888-38-NANCY.

A reasonable question

Why would any Northville Township resident in his or her right mind ever shop at a Northville Township mall developed by REIS?

Chuck Nichols Northville Township

Cross-walk confusion

While well intentioned and undentably convenient, the pedestrian cross-walk at the Northville city clock needs to be reevaluated. In my opinion, the cross-walk was not well thought out and in its current state is dangerous to pedestrians by giving them a false sense of security and encouraging them to cross with impunity. What is not clear to me is exactly where the crossing is located or how many cross-walks there are.

Is the pedestrian crossing located between the two signs located east and west of the clock? The signage seems to imply this. While I didn't measure the distance between the signs, it appears to be a 40- to 50-foot wide cross-walk; certainly not a typical pedestrian crossing for a city like Northville. Or are there are two smaller crossings, each one east or west of the clock? There are concerns with either condition that I will explain. Part of my confusion stems from the absence of crossing lines on the roadway as required by the definition of "cross-walk" in the Michigan Vehicle Code. Most of parked cars, or while obstructed or shadowed by any parked car. Unfortunately, this is exactly what the existing clock cross-walk is encouraging pedestrians to do.

This crossing needs to be reviewed by a knowledgeable pedestrian safety specialist and consideration given first to safety and traffic flow, with esthetics reserved. Otherwise, I believe jaywalking is safer for the pedestrian. At least most jaywalkers look both ways when crossing Main Street. The current cross-walk enables pedestrians not to.

Thanks, township for the support and water!

The Northville High School Girls Swim & Dive team would like to offer its thanks and gratitude to the Northville Township Fire Department and the Northville community for supporting our fund-raising car washes this summer. The Girls Swim & Dive team conducted two car washes at the Northville Township Fire Hall on Six Mile Road across from Northville High School, which were both big successes.

The firefighters graciously provided space, water (through a big fire hose) and even rest rooms for our use during the two Saturday events, June 7 and Aug. 16. They could not have been any more accommodating and we deeply appreciate their support. We couldn't have done it without you!

Both our car washes were soapy traffic jams thanks to the overwhelming support of the community. We would especially like to thank all those soccer parents who drove through and donated after your games at Millennium Park. Your generosity will go a long way toward keeping our team in the swim this

Barone best for 35th District Court

After a great deal of thought and reflection, I have decided to publicly endorse Joe Barone to be our new 35th District Court pated the challenges and pressures that this judicial election would pose to our court employees and instituted a policy for the court employees which was designed to keep the court out of the election as much as possible, while safeguarding each employee's free speech right. Two of our three judges (the judges who will work with the successful candidate) voluntarily abided by this policy during the recent primary, which was a hard fought campaign by a qualified field of candidates. One judge opted to exercise his right to endorse a candidate which resulted in an uneven playing field It created the false perception that the other two judges either endorsed the same candidate, or that they had no opinion on the race. For this reason, I am taking a stand to support Joe Barone, who I believe is the best candidate.

Love and Logic teaches positive parenting

By Chris Jackett STAFF WRITER

From the terrible 2s to the tiresome 20s, parenting has its hurdles.

Henry Ford Health System's Greg Oliver is offering help through the "Becoming a Love and Logic Parent" program.

Oliver, a psychologist and the program's director, brought the positive-parenting course to southeastern Michigan last year after he and Drs. Victor Gardner and Wiley Rosbury received training in Colorado for the national program.

"(We teach parents about) giving a problem back to the kid; not jump in, lecture and punish," Oliver said. "Get the kid to think how they're going to handle this, sharing control."

The eight-hour course is split between four two-hour Tuesday evening sessions at Henry Ford Health locations in Novi, Dearborn, Troy and Sterling Heights. The four Novi sessions begin Sept. 9 at Henry Ford Health's Columbus Center campus on 12 Mile Road, west of Haggerty Road.

'Most of the common problems are defiance, disrespect, backtalk and attitude. It's usually about homework and chores,' Oliver said. "What we avoid is the traditional punishment where the parent becomes a strict enforcer.

The kids are still held accountable, but the parents aren't seen as the bad guy. The kids learn from the problem and direct anger at (the problem) instead of the parent. The big 'not to do' is showing anger, adding drama to the situagroup discussions and viewing film created specifically for the course. As part of the $75-perparent registration fee, parents also receive a workbook complimenting the four-week course.

Oliver said the courses usually have between 10-15 parents each.

"It's a pretty even mix. Some parents come in that are still pregnant and want to get ready ahead of time. Middle school years are the most common," Oliver said. "We get a lot of good, positive feedback from the parents about how it's working at home."

He currently teaches the courses in Troy and Sterling Heights. while Gardner teaches in Novi and Rosbury in Dearborn.

With ongoing registration until the courses are filled. Oliver expects the program to continue growing. He said the program is sending three more psychologists to Colorado this year so more classes can be offered by the end

Northville's Class of 2007 posts 97.49 percent graduation rate

Under new state formula

Northville Public Schools posted a graduation rate of 97.49 percent for Northville High School and a district graduation rate of 92.66 percent for the Class of 2007, according to a Michigan Department of Education report. The district graduation rate also factors in students who completed their education in 2007 as part of the special education center program at Cooke School, which is operated by Northville Public Schools.

The release of graduation rates for the class of 2007 marks the first time that Michigan has used a "four-year cohort" graduation rate. In order to comply with the federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act of 2001, Michigan is moving to an accountability system in which a school's graduation rate includes only "ontime" graduates who earn regular diplomas within four years of entering high school. "We are proud that such a high percentage of our students graduate each year," said Northville Superintendent Dr. Leonard R. Rezmierski, "It is our ultimate goal as educators to ensure that our students have the knowledge and skills they will need to be successful in college and the workplace."

The class of 2007 graduation rates for high schools and districts were calculated by tracking individual students who enrolled in ninth grade for the 2003-04 school year, and graduated in 2007 with a regular diploma.

Continuing students, who were not reported as diploma recipients, were recorded for accountability purposes under the new standards as "off-track."

As a result, seniors who sought additional credits during summer school (after completing their senior year) were not considered "on-time" graduates. The only students exempt from the "fouryear cohort" are those enrolled in home school or private school, those who move out of state before graduation, or those who are deceased.

This new graduation rate calculation also meets the guidelines provided by the National Governor's Association (NGA). The formula has been adopted by all 50 states and is slated to be in place in at least 39 states by 2010. As more and more states implement the NGA standard, state-to-state comparisons of high school graduation rates will become more meaningful.

The use of the new formula will mean decreases in the graduation rates for most schools in Michigan. It also may mean that some schools will not meet the current NCLB target graduation rate of 80 percent. In the past, districts were allowed to count every student who earned a diploma, no matter how long it took them to finish.

There are a number of reasons why students may need more time to graduate. Some may benefit from a slower learning pace in order to master content and skills. Others may be recovering from an academic setback or poor life choice. And, others may be behind in courses or credits due to a long-term illness or frequent family moves. It also is important to note that under the new formula those students not included in a school's or district's graduation rate cannot be assumed to be dropouts. Under the new graduation rate calculations, on-time graduates.

those who need more time, and those who transfer out of state must first be counted before determining how many students have dropped out.

"Still, even one dropout is one too many," Dr. Rezmierski said. 'As part of our ongoing school improvement efforts, we continue to develop interventions and support systems that ensure all our students maximize their potential for success in learning with the goal of earning their high school diploma.

BACK TO SCHOOL: State mediator called in for negotiations

said, "not to mention substantial savings down the road because future pay increases to the teachers will always be behind one year."

Boomer stated they are looking for a fair and equitable contract. "That's what it comes down to for all of our teachers."

And because no contract has been ratified, the district is allowed to impose a three-month school calendar, running through Thanksgiving.

The calendar they imposed is not one the teacher's bargaining unit supports," Boomer said. "We'd like a full calendar; it's part of a full contract."

Dates to remember

The Board of Education voted at the Aug. 19 meeting to set districtwide school calendar dates through Nov. 28 as negotiations continue between the school district and the Northville Education Association.

Teachers Report/Professional Day took place yesterday, with Teacher Work Day slated today. More calendar dates set by the board are:

 Aug. 29 and Sept. 1 — Labor Day Recess

 Sept. 2 — Friday Day for Students

 Sept. 22 — Professional Development Day (No school for students.)

 Nov. 4 — Professional Development Day (No school for students.)

• Nov. 27 and 28 -Thanksgiving Recess

The board also selected the fall Parent/Teacher Conference dates for the district's six elementary schools, two middle schools and one high school. Elementary school conferences will take place Nov. 13 and 14, with students having a half day of school in the morning on both days and the conferences scheduled in the afternoon and early evening. Middle school conferences will be Oct. 7 and 9, with the high school conferences planned Oct. 14 and 16.

The Michigan Employment Relations Commission, the state agency that resolves labor disputes involving public and private sector employees, has ruled that districts have the right to implement a calendar before the start of school in cases where a contract settlement has not been reached.

The Wayne Regional Educational Service Agency Board of Education has also established dates for Wayne County districts, as required by Public Act 101, for the five-year period from 2008-09 through the 2012-13 school year. Winter break will be Dec. 20, 2008-Jan. 4, 2009, returning Jan. 5. Spring break will be April 10-19, 2009, returning April 20.

Savings suggestions

Boomer, a fourth grade teacher with six years service in Northville, said they'd feel good getting a timely contract and not have to worry about contract negations while school is underway.

Additional suggestions the teachers' bargaining unit offered is a calendar year that would provide for a one-week February break.

The state says a district only has to close for Presidents Day in February.

Boomer says most districts close down for an entire week, and Northville teachers have offered to do that.

"The reason we offered is because of the savings to our district. It cuts down on all the operational costs covering energy, bus service and food service," he said. A public survey done throughout the district on the subject of a February break showed families of Northville would be happy with a weeklong winter break, according to Boomer.

Another cost-cutting measure teachers offered is Early Retirement Incentive (ERI). Those at the top end of the pay scale would be offered a buyout that, according to Boomer, allows the district to hire a new teacher in at less money, if the position needs replacing.

Boomer closed out his list of money-saving measures mentioning a hot topic.

Northville does not allow children of their teachers and other district employees to attend school in the district.

"Livonia and Farmington have open enrollment, and Novi has just started. If, for instance, 100 additional children of employees were enrolled in the district, they would receive a large amount of money. Right now, per pupil the dollar amount is $8,543," Boomer said.

If the district is looking for more money, he added, open enrollment should be something to consider.

"Northville has a great education system," he said. "Some teachers may want the option of having their children attend Northville schools."

Negotiations ongoing

Northville Public schools officials and members of the teachers' union have met 10 times since negotiations began in March in an effort to reach a new collective bargaining agreement.

"We remain encouraged as negotiations with the Northville Education Association continue and are confident both parties will be able to reach a fair and equitable agreement," Wadsworth said.

Rezmierski said he's optimistic and genuinely hopeful that the district can reach a contract settlement with teachers and move on. "We're trying to be fair and equitable to everyone," he said. "The economy has caused a challenge across the board."

However, he's pleased where the district stands as far as the number of students attending Northville schools.

'Change is inevitable, but we're seeing more children coming to our schools," he said. "There's definitely a positive uptick in enrollment."

Summer's almost over; learning about to begin

It's time to store the beach balls and sandals and get out the backpacks and spiral notebooks.

With the Labor Day Weekend upon us, and school starting Tuesday in Northville, teachers like Angela Watts are preparing their classrooms for the 2008-09 school year

"I can't believe summer's already over, but I'm very excited to start the school year," said Watts, who teaches elective classes at Hillside Middle School.

Classes she teaches include physical education, keyboarding, study skills and performing arts. This will be her second year teaching at Hillside. Before that, she was the building substitute teacher at Hillside.

"I fell in love with this school," Watts said, recalling that her substitute teaching days were a great learning experience.

This week, she is preparing lesson plans for the upcoming semester, cleaning and preparing the classroom and getting materials ready for her students.

Students had a transition day on Monday, visiting the school and getting familiar with classrooms," Watts said. "They were able to come in with their parents, get their class schedule and find the various rooms." Fifth-graders had a chance to come to the school before the close of school last spring, but this was the first time they were able to come with their parents and see their class schedule.

"I'm really excited for the students to come back," Watts said. A resident of Plymouth, she graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 2006 and is working on finishing her master's degree in special education at the University of Michigan Dearborn.

"When I grew up, I loved babysitting, so teaching young children became one of my passions," she said. "I've also taught dance for eight years and love working with children. I really want to make a difference in my student's lives and have a positive effect on their education.

Beyond MEAP, ACT scores

Leonard Rezmierski, Ph.D., superintendent of Northville Public Schools, said he can hardly believe summer's almost over.

"I can still remember shaking hands at graduation and handing out candy at the July 4th parade,' he said, adding that a series of events is slated in each building this week in preparation for the new school year.

"We use this week as a time for teachers to interact with their colleagues and get up to date on any legal changes regarding state or federal regulations, including such issues as homeland security, Rezmierski said.

"We also use this week to discuss impacts on the curriculum," he said. Rezmierski said the vast majority of teachers have already been in and out of their respective school buildings for a while preparing for the school year.

Rezmierski said data is currently on file for the MEAP (Michigan Education Assessment Program) and ACT (American College Testing) scores for Northville students, and the district is still reviewing them.

"We use these results to see if we are right on the beam or off the mark," he said. "If we are not on the mark, we adapt our curriculum to meet the needs of the students. We're always tweaking our curriculum."

The district also looks at such data as how girls did versus boys. "You have to go 'inside' the scores," Rezmierski said. Year-toyear comparisons are also done with the various grades.

'These scores are a treasure trove of information," he said.

First day sets the tone

So, like it or not, summer's almost over, and next week the learning begins.

'We're delighted to welcome back our students and their families," Wadsworth said. "Our custodial and maintenance staff have done a wonderful job making sure the buildings are in fine shape, our busses and drivers are ready, and lunches will be served. And, the principals and teachers are looking forward to a great school year."

Rezmierski said next Tuesday, the first day of school, is one of the most important days of the school year.

"Each building has announcements and plans about how to welcome back students," Rezmierski said. "The whole system is started up, and this day sets the tone for the whole school year. It's a day of celebration. We're getting together and looking forward to the journey of the 2008-09 school year.

He sees the first day of school as a day of reconnecting.

"We're getting on with an important part of life in our society." Rezmierski said.

Sisters leave Northville to study in Japan

By Wensdy Von Buskirk CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Meryl and Leah Waldo do everything together, and now they're embarking on their greatest adventure to date - a year of study in Japan. The Northville sisters left Aug. 23 for Kansai Gaidai University in Hirakata. located just outside Osaka. Japan's second largest city.

The girls became intrigued with the idea of studying abroad while tutoring English to Asian students at the University of Michigan.

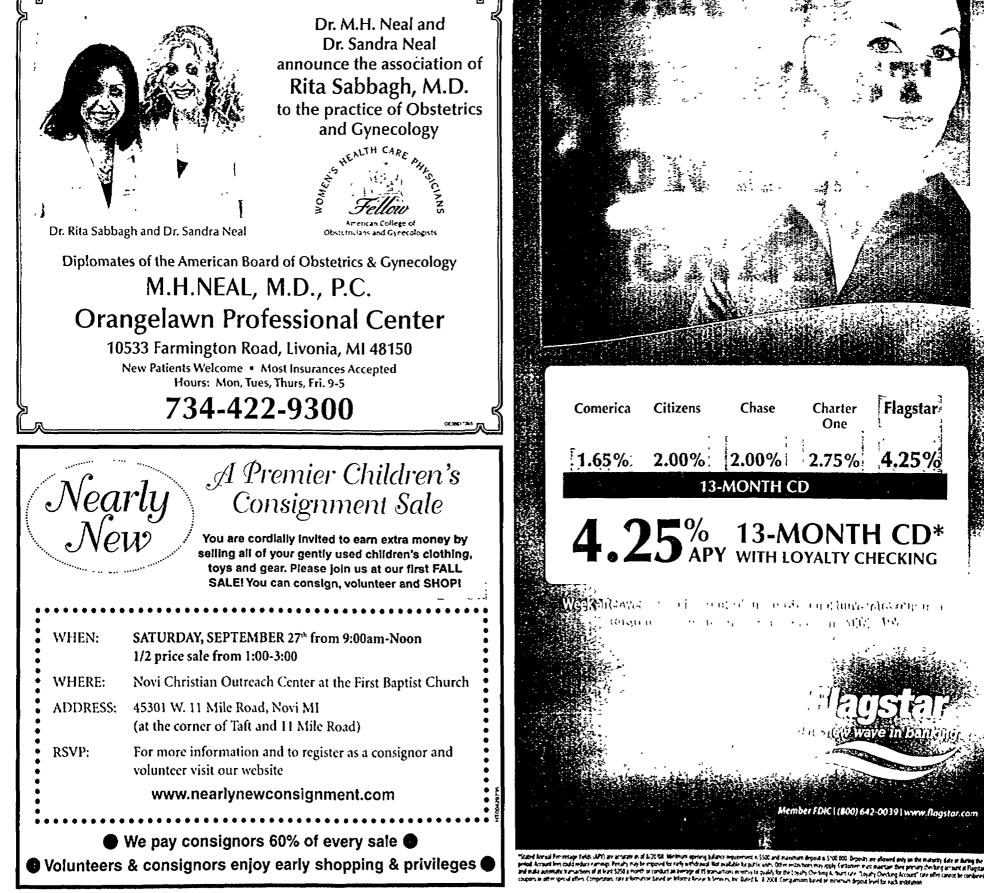

At Kansai Gaidai, they'll study written and spoken Japanese, as well as take electives in Japanese brushwork and pottery.

Meryl, 19, hopes to pursue a career in design, while Leah, 20, plans to work in the hospitality industry.

"A lot of Japanese people are moving into the area, especially in Novi," Leah said. "As I want to be a personal chef, or work in hotel management, that will help me cater to their needs."

Both Waldos recently graduated from Schoolcraft Community College - Leah with a degree in culinary arts and Meryl with an associate's in liberal arts.

Being homeschooled by their parents, Carol and Martin, helped them complete the rigorous requirements to study abroad,

"Being homeschooled taught us how to manage our time well as well as be diligent achieving our goals," Leah said. We learned to be more independent," Meryl said. "No one's going to tell you what to do when you reach a certain age. You have to make things happen

Northville publisher picks up on children's book with an important message

By Kelly Murad STAFF WRITER

Lucy has big hair, mismatched socks and eats toast with ketchup for breakfast. Lucy represents any child of the past, present or future who has been teased or bullied for being different.

"I recently ran into the guy who used to be my bully and it just hit home to me that children can bully each other but they're just normal human beings," said Maria Dismondy, Novi resident and author of the children's book "Spaghetti in a Hot Dog Bun."

Dismondy, 30, said she used some of her own childhood experiences to pen the book she hopes will empower children.

"My mom actually gave us spaghetti in a hot dog bun and we were teased about it, and I was always teased about my big hair," she said. "(The book) is really about having the courage to be who you are. Instead of changing who she is, Lucy con-tinues to be herself. She's kind of like a little Punky Brewster."

As a second grade teacher in the Plymouth Canton School District, Dismondy inspires kids in the classroom everyday, but she wanted to do more.

"As a teacher, I reach 25 kids a year, but I wanted to reach more," she said. "I'm going on my eighth year of teaching and I know children struggle with this all the time. I'm really excited to get the message out to children."

Although this is the first book Dismondy has published, she already has ideas for the second.

"I'd like to do another book about the same concept of bullying," she said. "I'd love it to be a series because I think she's (Lucy) such a great character." Even though it didn't take Dismondy long to write the book, it took about a year before it was picked up by Northville-based Nelson Publishing and Marketing. "I'm very wordy, so (the book) started off 1,900 words,"

Dismondy said. "It was cut down to half of that. You want to paint a picture, but I learned it was better to show through the illustrations than tell with the words.

And thanks to the talents of Plymouth resident Kimberly Shaw-Peterson, the colorful illustrations do just that.

The official launch of 'Spaghetti in a Hot Dog Bun'' was Aug. 16. The book is available for $9.95 at Barnes and Noble, Borders, Amazon.com and www.mariadismondy.com.

'The store's philosophy is all about empowering women to be healthy in their lifestyles," Dismondy said, noting the name "Lucy" is just a coincidence. Prior to the book signing, Mid American Studio of Farmington Hills is hosting a free yoga and child class at the Novi store.

As an aerobics instructor in her spare time at the Life Time Fitness in Commerce, Dismondy supports the lucy store's mission.

"I really like helping people feel good about themselves," she said. "I always set really high goals for myself and if I really set my mind to something, I can do it Dismondy dedicated the book to her husband of three years, Dave.

"He was such a big supporter." she said. "He comes to all my meetings, he's my financial advisor.'

Dismondy will be at Biggby Coffee, at 31208 Beck Road, 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 13.

IS GAME TIME

SPORTS

Northville varsity football players come off the field after a morning of practice. Northville starts its season tonight at home against Pinckney.

QB Matt Kreager returns to lead Mustangs' offense

By Jeff Theisen RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Matt Ladach has taken over the Northville football reins. He's hoping to change around a program that has struggled to get wins in recent years. He gets some help good arm strength, and he puts a nice touch on the ball - which makes his passes easy to catch. He has great vision, and his knowledge for the game is far beyond what one might expect from a high school quarterback." Working into the back-up of our go-to guys on offense. Kris runs solid routes, he blocks well, and he is an elusive runner." Joining him outside are Aaron

Brown, Trystin Scott and Ryan Gerblick (tight end). Ladach said Brown has had a great camp and Gerblick appears to be one of the best tight ends from the hard work of the linemen. The Wildcats struggled with injuries last year and had a tough time putting together the same line from one week to the next.

Ladach said the competition for line spots is still a work in progress, but it's creating some good matching beading down the

tion and might handle kickofts as he has shown the strongest leg in practices

Defense

Stopping the opposition was a huge struggle for the Mustangs last year. Again, injuries deplet

We are going to take away their bread and but ter plays, and we will force them out of their gameplan * Coach Darrel Schumacher has done a great job in coordinating our defense. He has a tremendous amount of knowledge and expenence, and we are fortunate to have bat in returning quarterback Matt Kreager, who missed almost all of last season with a back injury.

He's back and looking good in early practices.

I am very happy with the job Matt has done for us so far,' Ladach said. "He is solid in all aspects of the game. He has king roles are Dan narte Mills and Matt Deacon.

Ladach admits the offense is loaded with talent that is geared to passing, especially with Kris Baumgardner returning to the receiving role.

"Wide Receiver is a strength for us again this season," Ladach said. "Kris Baumgardner is one around.

The running game will be carried by a huge committee. In the mix at fullback are Jake Weddle. Pat Keady and Joe Hrika. Brett Smith, Kyle Galdes and Darius Whitlow are competing for carries final stretch of practices

The special teams will get an overhaul with the graduation of kicker-punter Max Bojovic leaving. Jake Robideau has the early lead on the kicking spot, but Kyle Hnatiuk, Dan Mills and Pat Keady are all in the mix. Hnatiuk has the lead for the punting posithe defense, making for a patchwork line. Linebacking tackling maniac Greg Hasse is also gone. leaving the defense with some huge holes to fill

Teeters takes over rebuilding Northville volleyball program

By Jeff Theisen RECORD SPORTS WRITER

Northville volleyball is in a rebuilding stage as new head coach Tom Teeters takes over the program. The Mustangs return just four players from last year's divisionwinning team.

Back are Shelby Temple, Claire Wixted, Kelly Maise and Elizabeth Foucher.

Though the team is thin on returning starters, they fill an array of spots on the floor.

Foucher will be the libero, Temple will set, Maise returns as one of the most talented outside hitters and Wixted will also provide a presence at the net.

With only three seniors on the team, the future is in the works for the Mustangs. The Mustangs will carry six juniors and three sophomores on the roster.

Teeters said he will keep the style of play as simple as possible until he can get to know the personnel better.

Goals will be to try and finish in the middle of the pack or in the upper-tier of the conference.

The conference will be loaded with several powerhouse teams. In the division is Novi, which finished in the final four at state last year, and fellow KVC pow-

Mustangs enter a loaded Central Division

By Jeff Theisen SPORTS WRITER

Things go from tough to tougher for the Northville girls swimming program.

Last year, the Mustangs won their division before finishing second to Livonia Stevenson at the WLAA meet

The two now are in the same Central Division of the KLAA But if that wasn't enough, two of the best teams from the KVC are also in the division

Stevenson finished second in the league and was followed by South Lyon in third Northville finished a very respectable fifth, with Novi placing 11th. Salem didn't crack the top 20 at state. but still managed to score 16 points at state.

Mustang team captain Jessica Weber swims during an August practice at Northville High.

Swimmers enter tough Central Division

monster Central Division. "Whoever wins that division is going to be one of the top teams in the state," Northville head coach Brian McNeff said. "Probably whoever finishes second or third will still have good teams."

But McNeff isn't backing down from the tough schedule. He just looks at it as good preparation for the final meet.

"In order to be the best you have to beat the best," he said. "It's right there in front of us. We don't have to go to big meets to see quality competition, it's right there in front of you." McNeff has reason to think big with his team with the returning of state-experienced Jessica Weber, Sam Curry, Becca Myers, Ashley Filipowicz and Kelly Burford.

Weber has been the standout in practices, but McNeff said there is one big difference from last year.

"It's going to be a different type of team from last year," he said. "We'll have some top swimmers, but if we're going to win meets, it's going to be because of our depth. That's something that we definitely improved on."

À lot of the depth comes from a large freshman turnout. Twenty him calling our defense." The line has one returnee in Adam Fuhrman. Mark Merlo will move up from the linebacking position. Stepping into bigger roles will be Derrick Burrell and John McNamara.

The linebacking spots will have a new look without Hasse and others being moved around. Ladach knows he cannot replace a tackling machine like Hasse, but he's looking for help from every position to make the defense better as a whole.

Moving in behind the line are Dan Stern, Kyle Buran, Keady, Josh Pratt, Weddle, Sean Sassaman, Chris Ciric, Scott Tomsa and Gerblick.

The defensive backs were one of the stronger positions last year, and Ladach sees much of the same this year.

Baumgardner returns as a three-year starter to the secondary. Hrika, Matt Deacon and Anthony Sergi are in the mix for the secondary.

Winning attitudes

Winning is something that can be helped by coaching, but it has to be learned by players. Ladach is adapting the FIST philosophy that Duke basketball head coach Mike Krzyzewski uses with his team and which helped the USA basketball team win the gold medal to help turn things around with the Northville program.

"I believe that there are five keys to becoming a champion: Hard work, doing your best, being tough, never giving up, and competing," Ladach said. "Each key represents one finger of the fist. Any one of those five keys is equally important, but all five of them together can make our team unbeatable.

"The challenge will be to get each and every player on our team to live it."

The challenges begin tonight at home against Pinckney. Both teams finished last year with one win. One team is going to walk away from their season opener by matching last year's win total.

Karen's School of Dance takes a great amount of pride in its designation as "Best Dance Studio in Huron Valley," as voted by readers of the Milford Times in the annual People's Choice Awards.

Seriously Fun

Training at Karen's School of Dance begins many career paths

By Sally Rummel SPECIAL WRITER

our dance-loving daughter or son may not make it all the way to ABC-TV's "Dancing with the Stars," but he or she may earn a full-ride dance scholarship to college, perform on a cruise ship or belong to a professional group such as the "Young Americans."

That's the experience related from Karen's School of Dance owner Karen Kern, who has been teaching dance at her own studio in Highland for 24 years.

"Parents don't always realize that there are some very real opportunities and benefits for their children who love to dance," says Kern. "Dancing is different from other disciplines in that there are levels for everyone, depending upon one's skill levels, dedication, etc."

In her 24-year career as a dance teacher and studio owner, Kern has seen hundreds of her students continue on in their own dancing careers, from earning hometown scholarships through the Huron Valley Council of the Arts, to performing in Los Angeles, Chinese and all sum the world.

"Our mission is to instill self-confidence, self-esteem, discipline, creativity and poise." — Karen Kern numerous overall Dance of America runners-up.

"I was surprised and honored with the Teacher of the Year' Award," says Kern, whose troupe also earned Top Elite Studio, Top Secondary Studio, as well as numerous choreography awards.

Whether you are dancing for fun or for competition, there's a place

Chicago and all over the world.

"Several of our students have performed with the Michigan State Dance Team and other well-known professional groups," says Kern. "Whether you're looking to pursue a professional career or just 'kove to dance,' there's a place for you at Karen's School of Dance.

Her progressive, technique-based dance programs have earned her students more national awards than any other local studio, while offering a well-rounded, enjoyable dance experience for young people of all abilities.

Students interested in competitive dance may want to audition for the studio's Dance Company, "Dance'Sations," which competes regionally and nationally up to four times per year.

Eighty-four students from Karen's School of Dance performed 100 dance numbers in national competition at the recent Kids Artistic Revue in Panama City, FL from June 28 through July 2, coming home with more placings than any other studio in the entire competition.

Major awards included First Overall Elite Senior Group, First Overall Secondary Group, Best Overall Production, Miss Junior Dance of America Rachel McAuliffe, plus Whether students dance for fun or competition, there are many benefits that result from their time spent in the studio. "Our goal is to instill self-confidence, self-esteern, discipline, creativity and poise," explains Kern.

Karen's School of Dance also takes a great amount of pride in its designation as "Best Dance Studio in Huron Valley," awarded by the Peoples' Choice Awards by The Press & Argus/Milford Times.

It's a commitment to local students that thrills her the most, because she is constantly reminded just how far these young people can go, after "taking their first (dance) steps" at Karen's School of Dance.

Registration is now taking place for Fall 2008, at the studio located at 1185 S. Milford Road. "There's never a registration fee!" says Kern's full-time manager, Maureen "Mo" Hoye, who handles the front desk with receptionist Nancy Moffitt. Registration continues through the month of October.

A new Fitness class is being offered this year for students interested in incorporating both cardio and strength training into their lifestyle.

for you at Karen's School of Dance.

NEW TEACHERS

Three new teachers have joined the staff for the 2008-09 dance year, including:

• Kimberly Kiplow, who specializes in Modern & Jazz dance, as well as all levels of Tap, Ballet, Lyrical, Performance Art/Acting, Yoga/Pilates and Fitness Classes.

• Lawrence Newman, an experienced ballet instructor who has trained and worked with some of the best ballet instructors and choreographers in the U.S.

• Earl Anderson, who has been dancing hip hop for the past 10 years, creating contemporary and innovative choreography.

These three talented instructors join a team of professional teachers that offer a complete program of dance instruction, including Tap, Jazz, Ballet, Pointe, Modern, Predance, Gymnastics, Jazz/Tap Combo, Boys Only and Hip Hop.

A huge studio boasting more than 6,000 square feet await the dancing feet of students in four large, themed dance rooms — ranging from a Parisian backdrop to a Disneytheme for younger students. Each room contains tinted viewing windows.

Parents are invited to wait for their dancer in a specific lobby area designed just for them, watching their child's progress on a closed-circuit TV or through the viewing window.

Dancers awaiting their turn in the studio have their own "homework room," where they can catch up on schoolwork, have a snack, watch TV or use a computer in between classes.

Students attend Karen's School of Dance from Highland, Milford, Novi, White Lake, Davisburg, Holly and Fenton. A total of 140 classes are taught Monday through Saturday during the school year. A Summer Dance Camp hones interested dancers' skills all summer long.

Studio hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. For more information, call 248-887-1807 or visit their Web site at: www.danceatkarens.com.

"At age 16, I took my first CPR class from our local American Red Cross chapter. My wife and I had our second child, Jared, two years ago. When Jared was one day old, I saw him choking. He was turning blue. I gave him back blows, just like I learned from the Red Cross. Jared coughed something up, and he was fine. For us, CPR is a family thing. My wife knows CPR, and I'm an instructor. What the Red Cross teaches you, it can save lives."
