DDA boundary expansion explored

■ Board members' goal to eventually make recommendation to City Council

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

The Northville Downtown Development Authority may expand its borders in the near future if city leaders can decide exactly which areas they want to incorporate.

At a joint meeting Monday night between the DDA Board and the Northville Planning Commission, members discussed seven areas surrounding the current DDA district.

"Let's put this on the front burner and decide if we want a DDA expansion," Greg Presley, DDA chair, said to the group at the start of the meeting. "We are asking for your help. Let's work together."

An expansion has been considered for several years and was recently brought up for discussion again by the DDA's Organizational Committee, chaired by Northville resident and Detroit attorney David Larsen.

Areas under consideration are: Area A — North Wing Street; Area

B — Civic Complex; Area C — Post Office; Area D — Mill Race Village; Area E — Ford Field and Ford Plant; Area F — Belanger/Foundary Flank; and Area G — Northville Downs.

The boundary expansion would provide two sources of revenue for the DDA — one from captured taxes and one from an operating levy allowed by state law.

Captured taxes would come from future increases in taxable value. The other taxing entities would not experience a decrease from current levels due to a boundary expansion. If approved next year, that year would be the base year from which captured taxes would be calculated.

The commercial property in Area E (Ford Field and the Ford Plant) was added to the DDA boundary in WHAT'S A DDA?

The Downtown Development Authority is a public body dedicated to improving the downtown. It was established under the state's Public Act 197 of 1975, which seeks to attack problems of urban decline, strengthen existing areas and encourage new private developments. Northville's DDA was founded in August 1978 and is funded through the collection of taxes through the vehicle known as Tax Increment Financing.

1993, but currently is subject only to the DDA operating levy. The DDA doesn't capture taxes from that area. If the city decides to capture taxes on that area, research will need to be done to determine the base values for 1993. Beginning next year, the DDA will also no longer be able to capture school-related taxes because of Proposal A.

EXPANSION PROS, CONS

The pros of expansion are that the DDA can have a proactive role in development of expanded areas, it can spend money there, it can provide a coordinated visual appearance to the area, and it would allow sponsorship of events in these areas.

The cons are that the affected taxing jurisdictions can exempt their taxes from capture, leaving the DDA with only the city of Northville portion of revenue. When DDA dis-

NHS Pompon Team to host variety show

■ Food drive also slated for Civic Concern

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

Members of Northville High School's Pompon Team are preparing for fun event that also has meaning.

They will host their first variety show, titled, "Having a Good Time," at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 22, in the school auditorium. The show will run about two hours and will include an intermission.

In addition to the show, they are also asking everyone to bring nonperishable food that is not outdated or personal care items to donate to Northville Civic Concern, a local food bank that assists more than 140 families on an ongoing basis.

"The team wants this to be an annual event," said Susan Evans, mother of one of the team members and one of the show's organizers.

"We hope that this will be a fun event for all ages. We were excited that so many different groups wanted to get involved."

The team is excited to be hosting its first show, which will be a great opportunity for local residents to see some talented performers.

Besides seeing the pompon team perform, the audience will be able to enjoy several different dance and musical numbers.

Participants will include the NHS Treblemakers, the high school's female choral group, Backbeat, the school's male choral group; the NHS dance

■ The general admission tickets are available for $5 in advance and $6 the night of the show. Tickets are currently being sold outside the school cafeteria during lunch hours and will be sold from 3-5 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 21, in the high school lobby. For more information about the show or tickets, call Evans at (248) 349-7725.

The pompon team has been practicing and competing since last May. During the show, they will perform traditional pompon routines as well as kick-line and hip-hop numbers. Their performance will also include routines from the Nov. 2 Eastern Michigan University competition.

Show organizers and the pompon team's Community Service Committee members thought the first-ever variety show would be a perfect time to help out the local food bank.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP POLICE REPORT

Alcohol, drug arrests

Three people were arrested for drug- and/or alcohol-related offenses at 1:42 a.m. Sept. 6 at Cass Benton Parkway and Edward Hines Drive.

One man was arrested for operating under the influence of alcohol. A male passenger was arrested for having an open intoxicant in the vehicle, possession of marijuana, and interfering with police. A female passenger was arrested for having an open intoxicant in the car and interfering with police. The man told police if the woman in the vehicle, his wife, said the marijuana was hers that he wanted to have the possession charge placed on him.

The arrests came about after an officer noticed a vehicle in the park after hours with its motor running and its reverse lights on.

Upon approaching the vehicle, police noticed a case of Budweiser in the back of the vehicle and beer cans all over the floorboard and underneath the seat.

The driver, who told police there were warrants out for his arrest, said the three were just drinking beer and walking around in the woods.

The man admitted to having consumed a dozen beers. Police found a bag with less than an ounce of marijuana in it and some rolling papers in the car.

Driving without license

A man was arrested for driving on a suspended license at 6:17 p.m. Sept. 6 at Haggerty and Seven Mile roads.

The driver was pulled over after running a red light while turning left onto Haggerty Road from Westbound Seven Mile Road. He knew why he had been stopped and told police he ran the light because he was the last car in a group of people traveling together.

Another man was arrested for driving on a suspended license at 2:09 a.m. Sept. 7 at Silver Springs Drive and Dorothy Gay Circle.

Police noticed a vehicle weaving in and out of traffic that also had improperly-tinted windows. When asked, the man denied that he was driving on a suspended license.

Another man was arrested for the same offense at 2:43 p.m. Sept. 7 at Seven Mile and Haggerty roads.

Police ran the man's plate while in a patrol car behind him at a stoplight, and it came back expired. The man also had multiple warrants out for his arrest.

Another driver was arrested for driving on a suspended license at 2:38 a.m. Sept. 9 at Eight Mile and Haggerty roads.

The man was pulled over because police could not read the paper license plate in his vehicle's rear window. He admitted that he was driving on a suspended license. A female passenger in the man's vehicle told police that she had smoked marijuana about a half hour before and had a small amount of marijuana in her purse.

The marijuana was discarded at the scene in the wet grass and crushed by an officer's boot. The woman was not charged for drug possession.

Another man was arrested for driving on a suspended license at 5:14 p.m. Sept. 9 at Haggerty and Six Mile roads.

This driver was pulled over when police ran his license plate while on patrol. A female passenger in the vehicle was also arrested on an outstanding warrant.

Another man was arrested for driving on a suspended license at 5:56 a.m. Sept. 10 at Seven Mile and Silver Springs Drive. Police pulled him over because he had a cracked, passenger-side taillight that was showing light to the rear.

More intoxicated driving

A woman was arrested for operating while intoxicated at 9:55 p.m. Sept. 6 at Cass Benton Parkway and Northville Road.

Police approached the woman's vehicle, which was on the grass at the base of the hill atop a rock. The woman said she had a tow truck on the way. She said she had driven the vehicle from the parking lot and up the grass hill to look for a disc she lost while playing disc golf. She was unable to locate the disc and drove down the hill, getting the vehicle stuck on the boulder.

Police also found some marijuana in the car, with the driver admitting that the substance belonged to her.

A man was arrested for operating while intoxicated at 1:16 a.m. Sept. 10 at Six Mile and Haggerty roads.

Police pulled the man over for driving 55 mph in a 45 mph zone. The man also had a suspended driver's license. Police found a half-full bottle of Captain Morgan rum in the car.

Attempted home invasion

Police responded to a forced-entry burglary attempt at a home on Woodcreek Boulevard at 11:05 a.m. on Sept. 8.

Police were dispatched to the residence after the home's burglar alarm went off. Police noticed pry marks on the front door frame and that the door was flexed at the top and bottom. The dead bolt was still intact, however, and nothing was missing from the home.

Fabric artist joins local shop

■ She designs, creates knitted, crocheted items

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

While some artists express themselves through oil, acrylics, metal or clay, Tina Sherfield does so through yarn.

The Plymouth Township resident is an award-winning creator of custom knitted and crocheted items. She recently began offering her product at Northville Gifts & Yarn at 124 N. Center St.

She not only has her unique fabric art for sale in the downtown Northville shop, but also wants to start offering knitting and crocheting classes at the shop. She's been teaching for more than 10 years.

"We'd like to offer beginning, intermediate and advanced classes," she said. "That's what's really going to be the bread-and-butter of my company. I want people to come in, sit and knit and be able to each other's company."

Each of her custom-made items are unique.

"Most of the pieces I have here are designs I have come up with on my own," she said. "I knit them just to see if I can."

Beverlee Lindeen, owner of the shop, called Sherfield at the drop of a hat after the designer who had items in her shop decided to pull her product. Sherfield brought over her inventory right away.

MORE THAN SWEATERS, VESTS

Her creations include more than just the traditional knitted sweaters and vests. She creates hats, scarves and even handbags.

One of her most creative pieces is a yarn headband that can also be worn as a bracelet. "We're going to hang charms from some of them, so they can also be worn as a necklace," Sherfield said.

"All of the handbags are my own designs, and they're made out of upholstery samples," she said. "It's recycle/reuse. A lot of

SCHOOLCRAFT CRAFT SHOW

Custom knitter and crocheter Tina Sherfield, whose business is called Silver Lining, will have a booth this weekend at Schoolcraft College's Fall Craft Show.

HOURS: 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

LOCATION: The school's Physical Education Building off of the east side of Haggerty Road just south of Seven Mile Road near the south parking lot.

BENEFICIARY: Proceeds from the event will fund scholarships.

ADMISSION: $2 per person. For more information about Sherfield's work or classes, call Northville Gifts & Yarn at (248) 380-7059.

my items are made from yarn that people have just given me. People will say, 'Here, you can have this. Just make something out of it.' That's how it all got started."

Sherfield is mostly self-taught, although she learned the basics of knitting when she was 8 years old. "I started crocheting between the ages of 8 and 15, and I started knitting in earnest in 1986."

In 1993, she won First Place/ Best of Show in the Knitters' Guild International Show in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Lindeen contacted Sherfield because Sherfield's sister, Julie Giordano, of Farmington Hills, is friends with her best friend, Barbara Davies, who works at the local UPS Store.

"We're going to be stocking some high-end yarn as well," Sherfield said.

She even designed a special hat for the local Red Hat Ladies. "It's really hard to find red hats," Sherfield said. Some of her designs come from magazines and books. "I've got a huge box of Vogue knitting magazines," she said. "That's my main inspiration." Designers who have influenced her include Kate Bassett and Donna Karen. She will make items on commission, and some of her handbags would be perfect for a Victorian Festival outfit.

Her late mother, Terry Giordano, was a seamstress and crocheted, and her sister, Julie, is an artist who used to have a gallery in Northville.

"It's in the genes," Sherfield said. "We all have a niche. Knitting gives me a personal high."

Jewelry

GOOD REASON TO FEEL BLUE

If you are looking for a diamond with a difference, take a closer look at "fancy diamonds." This term refers to diamonds that come in a variety of shades of red, yellow, blue, purple, green, and other colors. If you think that these diamonds are somehow less desirable than the traditional colorless diamonds that women, especially have come to adore, think again. In May of 2008, a 1.73 carat, pear shaped blue diamond sold at auction for $493 million. This price set a new price-per-carat record for any gemstone. While at the auction, the buyer of the blue diamond also snapped up a 6.26 carat pink diamond. When investors choose to pay record prices for colored diamonds, they must have a good reason.

A 1.73 carat, pear shaped blue diamond may not be residing in your jewelry case, but the fine jewels that are should be appraised and listed with your insurance carrier as part of your valuable assets. If you are thinking of purchasing a diamond of any color, whether for a very special gift or for yourself, it is absolutely vital that you seek the advice of a jeweler you can trust. We'll be happy to answer any of your questions about fine jewelry at WEINSTEIN JEWELERS OF NOVI. It's all about integrity, honesty, and quality at 41990 Grand River Ave. PH. 248-347-0303. We are licensed by the city of Novi to offer loans on jewelry. Our regular business hours are Tues. 10 a.m.-6 p.m., Wed. 11 a.m.-6 p.m., Thurs. & Fri. 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Sat. 10 a.m.-4 p.m., Sun. & Mon. we are closed.

P.S. The pear-shaped blue diamond mentioned above is graded as a "fancy vivid," which is the most intense color.

Northville Fire Department known as CPR training site

■ Cardiac arrest is most common cause of death

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

Debra Yake can testify to the fact that Northville Fire Chief Jim Allen takes saving lives seriously. Yake, an instructor with the Life Support Training Institute in Southfield for more than six years, said in less than two years Allen has helped attract more than 200 people in the area to take classes at the downtown fire station in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and first aid training. In fact, Northville has one of the most active training locations in the Metro Detroit area. "Last year we put 142 people through the program, and this year we have 122 so far," Allen said.

The CPR class is offered from 6-9 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of the month, and the first aid class is offered at the same time on the fourth Wednesday of each month. Cost is $40 per person for each class. Classes are not scheduled in December.

Lenda Steckel of Livonia, who works at Planet Fitness in Northville, is a recent student. "The owner and general manager want this training to be mandatory for everyone who works there," Steckel said. Like many public facilities, the workout center has an Automated External Defibrillator and wants employees to know how to use it in an emergency.

"I think it's really wonderful that an employer puts out the money for this," Steckel said. Although she hasn't experienced an emergency situation at Planet Fitness, Steckel worked for Northwest Airlines for 18 years, and said there were people at the airport who were in distress.

Allen said over the years members of the community have called the fire station to ask about a CPR class. "It had always been a hope of mine to offer such as class on an ongoing basis," he said. "I was taking some training at LSTI, and Debra's name came up as a CPR instructor. We contacted her, and she was willing to set this up. She's a resident of Northville, so it's worked out great."

CLASS OVERVIEW

In the CPR class, Yake teaches signs and symptoms of a heart attack or stroke; what to do for a conscious or unconscious choking victim; CPR for the infant, child and adult; and how to use the AED on a child or adult.

HEART ATTACK SIGNS

Signs of a heart attack include chest pressure or pain that doesn't go away with rest, shortness of breath, profuse sweating, lightheadedness or heaviness in the left arm that radiates to the jaw or back, heartburn or indigestion. To sign up for an upcoming CPR or first aid class at the Northville Fire Department, visit the city's Web site at www.northville.ci.mi.us or call (248) 449-9920 no later than a week before the class. The next classes will be Nov. 25 and 26.

"We also teach how to use CPR in coordination with the AED," Yake said. "That's very important. Death by cardiac arrest is the most common cause of death." In fact, she said by law facilities that have an AED must have personnel who are also trained in CPR. Allen said the city recently received a grant for the purchase of five AEDs in the city. They're available at the senior center, library, recreation center at Hillside, Allen Terrace senior apartments and city hall. Three are also on hand at the Northville Fire Department.

"A lot of the area churches are purchasing them," Allen said. Yake said they cost about $1,200 each. "They've come way down in price; they used to be over $2,000."

One reason AEDs are so important is that when a person suffers a cardiac arrest, there is still a lot of electricity in the heart.

"Nine times out of 10, the heart drops into two shockable rhythms — ventricular fibrillation or pulseless ventricular tachycardia."

In this type of tachycardia, the heart is probably pumping way over 150 beats per minute. "It's pumping so fast blood can't get in or out. But, if you can shock the heart while it's still in one of these two shock-able rhythms, you have up to a 94 percent chance of restoring the heart to its correct rhythm."

AEDs also have voice prompts.

"You can't hurt someone," Allen said.

The first aid class teaches general first aid principles; OSHA regulations, such as blood-borne pathogens; medical, injury and environmental emergencies.

WHO TAKES THE CLASSES?

"We are enrolling more and more people who have had a family member or loved one who passed away from a cardiac arrest and they didn't know what to do, or they have family members with heart issues or have survived a cardiac arrest themselves," Yake said.

"My grandfather died of a heart attack in a Detroit restaurant, and nobody knew what to do. And, both my mom and dad had heart attacks, and it was just a miracle I was there. That's why I'm so passionate about what I do."

Steckel said with a lot of grandparents baby-sitting their grandchildren these days, a lot of caregivers want to know what to do in an emergency.

"I'm so glad I took this class," Steckel said. "It builds your confidence level. You learn to put your fear aside and be proactive in an emergency. You have to help the person."

OUR VIEWS

Record relocating to South Lyon office

We're closing our doors at 104 W. Main Street next Wednesday and relocating our editorial and advertising departments for the Northville Record and Novi News to our South Lyon office at 101 N. Lafayette (northwest corner of 10 Mile Road).

The Record and the News will continue to remain vital sources for information in both communities, which the newspapers have served for 138 years and 53 years, respectively.

Both papers will be sharing office space with two sister Gannett publications that are equally well established in their towns - the South Lyon Herald (127 years) and the Milford Times (137 years).

Current economic times make consolidation a necessity for many businesses, and the newspaper industry is no different. But with technology such as e-mail, wireless Internet, remote servers, laptop computers, digital cameras and cell phones, the move will be seamless for our readership.

We'll still be present in Northville - at township and city meetings, chamber functions, high school sports events, festivals, etc. - and we'll continue writing the stories that make you want to read the Record each week.

Our phone numbers will remain the same (main line, 248-349-1700; fax 349-9832); our staff e-mail addresses will be unaffected; and, of course, our Web site will continue to be www.hometownlife.com.

So after 55 years at the same downtown Northville location, the Record will embark on its ninth move in 138 years while remaining committed to being your hometown newspaper.

IN YOUR VOICE

The following are excerpts from readers participating in our online forum for discussing issues. In Your Voices, on the Web at hometownlife.com.

■ Herrmann big winner in Northville Township race

Congrats to the winners of the Northville Township Trustee positions. Overall, it was fun to watch the yoting throughout the day. But I was deeply disappointed in Chris Roosen's professionalism at Northville High School. His lack of being able to control his emotions was very disturbing. To hear him swear and yell at someone for handing out other candidate's literature was highly shocking. It was totally uncalled for. I hope during this process he has learned from his mistakes, but I seriously doubt he has.

We have seen his lack of professionalism before when he wrote a very nasty letter to Mayor Kirksey of Livonia. You would have thought then that he learned his lesson, but obviously he hasn't based on his conduct at Northville High School. It seems Chris Roosen forgets that he is not representing himself. He is representing the residents of Northville Township. He now has 4 years to show us he has improved.

■ Bongiovanni: Family of patriots

Hello to all my adopted brothers and sisters. Most of you have been a part of my life since I was a little girl. I want you to know how very fortunate I feel to have been known and accepted as one of the family by Ma and Pa. I went to school with Angela, my sister went to school with Lucy, my brother with Eugene, and Joe has known my family forever. My nieces and nephews have been friends with their nieces and nephews since school. We were all blessed by knowing this family. I was also old enough to know Sam before he passed away. They are surely the past, present and future of Northville. My love to them all - Joanne

Since Bill sold the South Lyon restaurant, it has gone downhill. We used to eat there when it was Riffle's and have gone in only twice since it went to new ownership. They play music (boring) and the owner is not a nice person. My husband and I are looking forward to trying out the "new" Riffle's. I'm sure it will be great! We are South Lyonites but travel to Northville almost daily.

Thoughts from Barone

I would like to personally thank everyone who supported me in my recent bid for judge. Although the outcome wasn't favorable for me, I am proud that we ran a clean and positive campaign. I believe that our campaign was a true reflection of the character of everyone involved. I have been deeply touched by all of your cards, e-mails and letters offering your condolences and continued support. I owe a special debt of gratitude to everyone who worked closely with me on my campaign team.

You all worked incredibly hard and I am truly honored to have had such an outpouring of support. I would also like to thank the nearly 32,000 voters who voted for me on November 4. Your expression of confidence in me makes me proud to call our community my home. I also want to thank my primary election competitors, Martha Snow, Cam Miller, Jim Malinowski and Art Butler. Your competitive spirit before the primary and your support for me after the primary will never be forgotten.

Finally, I would like to congratulate my opponent, Jim Plakas, for his success. I wish him the best in serving this great community.

My wife, Maria, and I will continue to operate our law practice in the heart of this community serving the legal needs of our residents. We will continue to remain active with community events and worthy causes that make our area such a special place.

Crawford ready for Lansing

As your next representative to Michigan's House of Representatives from the 38th District, it is with great pride and honor that I look forward to fulfilling my role as your voice in Lansing. I have already been in meetings with those newly elected as well as returning legislators to begin the task of getting Michigan back to work once again.

To those who voted in this election, I thank you for your participation and for making your choice known. To those who worked so tirelessly on my campaign, some from as long ago as a year and a half, I cannot thank you all enough for your efforts. Your dedication and sense of purpose are deeply appreciated by me and my family as I embark on this new stage in my career in public service.

It is my intention to meet regularly in this district, both formally at local government meetings and informally at homes and businesses, not only to keep in touch with those who need to voice their collective opinions concerning a state about which they care so passionately, but also to keep my constituents informed as to what is happening in the legislature.

Again, to all my constituents, workers, supporters, donors and friends, I thank you so very much and promise to work as hard as I possibly can to serve you as your next representative.

Poenisch responds to letter

In a letter to the Northville Record last week, Cheryl Wilson took a statement I had made on brownfields out of context. She said I stated that I had "not made a decision on how I would vote". However, what I had said was I could not make a decision at this time "because I would first need to see all of the facts". Ms. Wilson implies that the trustees could vote no on the existence of a brownfield. The reality is the consent agreement binds us to a brownfield in some form. I believe they could sue us if we did not approve it.

Wake up, McCotter

Thaddeus McCotter was reelected this week with about 51 percent of voters supporting him. His leading opponent, Joe Larkin, received 45 percent of the vote, with two minor candidates splitting the rest.

This should be a wake-up call to Mr. McCotter. His messages to his constituents consistently brag about his refusal to work with the Democrats across the aisle. Until recently, he was firmly aligned with the Bush Administration policies, only breaking with Bush in the last few months after the president's approval ratings dropped so low that it has become embarrassing to be tied to him. Representative McCotter has been serving a tiny fraction of his constituents on the far right. The recent close election confirms that the 11th District is centrist right as is the United States as a whole.

In his recent victory speech, Mr. McCotter said, "The fundamental goal if re-elected is to serve your constituents whether it's a President Bush, a President McCain or President Obama, you look at the interests of the district and if some things are good, you vote for them and if some things are bad, you oppose them." In order to serve the interests of his district, Mr. McCotter should understand that his constituents clearly demonstrated that nearly half of them do not approve of his past practices as our representative. Like the rest of the country, most of us want to see a bipartisan approach to solving the complex problems our district, state and country are facing. This is an opportunity for Representative McCotter to show true leadership in Congress, by example and by influence. He can lead the other conservative Republicans in helping to shape policy instead of simply opposing it. We have many complex problems that affect all the residents of the 11th District. We cannot afford to have our representative in Congress continue to act based on narrow ideological beliefs which do not serve the needs of his district.

Novi fared well in election

On election day, my beautiful wife and I, alongside with my wife's 11-year-old daughter Emily, spent the entire day in front of Holy Family Church advocating for Kim Capello in his quest to become the next Oakland County commissioner. The voters from precincts 6 and 7 who vote at that location did indeed choose Capello, as did the majority of other voters in the other Novi precincts. Thus, Kim Capello will soon leave the local political scene where he served so faithfully and professionally for the past 16 years and assume a position in our county seat in Pontiac. There, he will be faced with a growing budget "task" that may require deep cuts to fill an approximate $20 million dollar hole. I'm positive that Mr. Capello's experience and knowledge will be extremely beneficial to all of us as the county commissioners grapple with that difficult burden.

Alongside my wife and I at Holy Family Church was Kathy Crawford. She was there to advocate for her husband, Hugh Crawford, in his attempt to become our new state representative. And, I'm happy to say, the voters decided to send Hugh to Lansing in January to represent us. Hugh's many years of service to our beloved City of Novi and his most recent years as our county board of commissioners representative has prepared him well to deal with the many difficult problems that face our state in general and our city in particular.

The voters in Novi showed their prowess and professionalism as they split their tickets to choose the best candidates regardless of their political party. And I congratulate Mr. Capello and Mr. Crawford for their well deserved, hard fought victories. I'm positive that every one of us will be better off because of these two men and their new duties in Pontiac and Lansing.

However, the real congratulations should go to the voters. You (we) came out in big numbers, well informed, well prepared, and exercised our right to vote - a right that many people died for in order to make it so; a right that some people take for granted. Congratulations to each of us. Whether your candidate was successful or not is not the issue. What's important is that the system worked, and worked well. We had honest, open and free elections. The people spoke. And a government of the people, by the people and for the people continued to flourish.

Record will be missed

It was with sadness that I learned that the office of the Northville Record will be moving to South Lyon.

It was always a nice small town thing to walk into the local newspaper office without an appointment and chat about the

Before agreeing to any plan, however, I would have to know what REIS thought the cost of the clean up would be, which taxing jurisdictions will be included, payback period, etc. I would be concerned that the developer does the clean up properly and for a good price. It made sense to me to lower the SEV on the base value of the property, so that the taxes collected on the incremental taxes are greater, shortening the payback period, and getting higher revenues for the township sooner. Before voting on a brownfield plan I would be sure it provided as much benefit to the township as possible.

Ms. Wilson also states that I had caved to the developer, because in April I was singing a different tune. What had happened between April and August were that three judges ruled against us, the legislature in Lansing would not fix the law, and the city of Northville would not agree to a 425 agreement. Based on that record, how would anyone think that suddenly things would change in a $100 million lawsuit? I have not changed my opinion on what I think is fair or right; I am just being practical and trying to find what is best for the township.

I agree with Ms. Wilson that we should consider second-story footage, because of the traffic it could bring to our roads, but I was disputing Mr. Lomske's belief about what the types of stores to be built. Nowhere in the consent agreement was there mention of a mall.

Also, I was subpoenaed because REIS was trying to intimidate or quiet the Citizens for Northville, and I wanted no part of that.

I was pleased that we have elected four fine trustees and I will continue to work for the betterment of a community I deeply care for.

Capello ready to serve

I am sure that everyone is as happy as my family and I that the election is over. No more sleeping judge television ads, stuffed mail boxes or telephone robo-calls. I personally apologize for the littered roadways filled with campaign signs. I want to take a moment to thank those who took the time to vote. I especially want to thank those who had the confidence in me and supported me in this last election. I will keep my campaign promise and remind Pontiac that there are residents in southwest Oakland County in need of county services and county benefits. Whether you voted for me or not, feel free to contact me with any concerns, comments or questions at (248) 380-5122.

Rethinking Edenderry street project

The issue regarding fixing the streets of Edenderry is on the agenda of the upcoming Northville township meeting. I am one of the residents who had mixed thoughts about it, yet reluctantly signed the petition in favor of the road repairs.

However, things have changed since some of us agreed to the repairs. At the time of signing, we were given to understand that Shadbrook residents would contribute to the cost. They have withdrawn their support. That could mean the estimates we were given could go higher.

Also, with the threat of job losses and confirmed pay cuts, paying our monthly bills is becoming increasingly difficult, let alone road repairs where we do not even get a tax break.

During the October meeting, apparently residents who wanted to withdraw their signed support for the street fix were given the option to withdraw.

I called Northville township clerk's office recently and informed them I had changed my mind too, and that did not want to support the road repairs petition any more. For all Edenderry residents who have second thoughts about this issue, notifying the township about your decision and being present for the next meeting is crucial.

Lack of participation could mean being saddled with a bill of approximately $15,000. With our current financial crisis, we certainly cannot afford to ignore our civic involvement.

Eight years (too long) of hell has ended. The Bush Doctrine, Bush's foreign policy of pre-emption, has brought us two wars, countless deaths, world hatred and now a financial crisis. DOWNED POWER LINES: Novi man trapped in vehicle

■ '99 Escort, his hair burned in freak accident

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

Last Thursday started out to be just an average day for Christian Orlando.

But then his 1999 Ford Escort and his hair caught on fire.

Orlando, a 22-year-old Eastern Michigan University from Novi, was in one of the vehicles hit by downed power lines on Beck Road between Five Mile and Six Mile roads in Northville Township about 3 p.m. last Thursday.

The accident occurred when a garbage truck struck a power line that crossed the roadway. The line caught on the truck, causing an additional six power line poles to fall in traffic lanes. Two additional power lines were leaning halfway in the road. These lines then fell on four occupied vehicles on Beck Road.

Orlando, who was not seriously injured, was on his way home from school when the emergency situation took place.

He said police and fire personnel were on the scene immediately to keep people from exiting their vehicles until the live wires could be removed. Emergency personnel said it was a miracle no one was hurt.

Orlando, who is studying international business and language with a focus on Japanese and enjoys hanging out with friends, astronomy and surfing the Internet, was alone in his car when the series of events started.

"I noticed a dump truck from a waste management company across the street. I watched him as he went across the street, and all of a sudden from the right I heard a splintering crack. I looked, and the electrical pole was splintering at its base maybe a few car lengths ahead of me. So, I slammed on my brakes to avoid getting crushed and actually watched it (the poles) domino in front and in back. I believe there were four cars that were trapped."

The Northville Township Department of Public Safety reported that nine vehicles were involved in the incident.

For about 30 seconds, Orlando didn't think much about it.

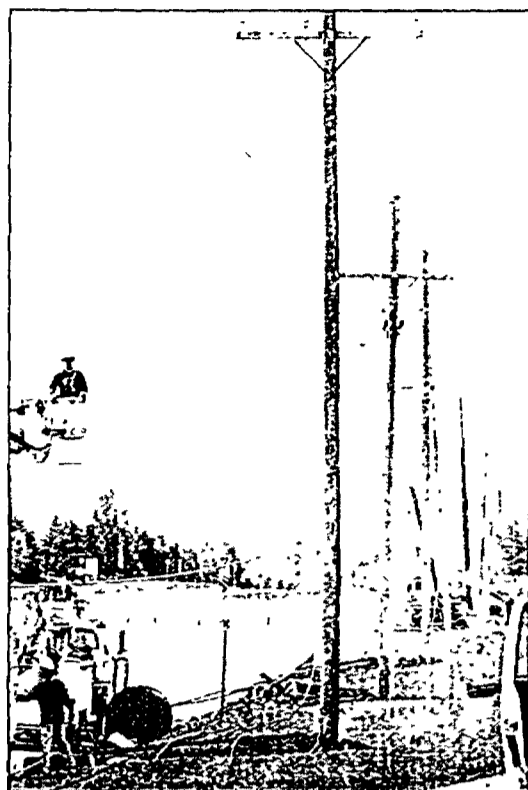

"I was just waiting for DTE to come out to turn off the power and release us," he said.

But, Orlando said according to DTE workers, once power is shut off, it goes back on after 30 seconds to test the circuit.

"When that happened, it lit up my car, burned several holes in the roof and the sides and actually managed to puncture through the top of the car, lighting the roof on fire and starting several fires inside the car," Orlando said.

"Things got a little interesting," he said. "Everyone is saying it's like something out of a movie."

He started slapping out the fires that had ignited some of his school materials. The electricity also set fire to the passenger seat.

"After that, I smelled burning hair and received a slight burn on my forehead from the extreme heat coming through the roof," he said.

He had to stay in his car for about 30 minutes until DTE Energy personnel gave him the go-ahead to exit his vehicle. After driving home, he later went to Providence Park Hospital in Novi, where he was examined and released.

Of the nine vehicles, six were damaged by the downed lines. Orlando's Escort reeks because of the smoke and its electrical functions are shot, but it's still drivable.

"This natural air-conditioning (holes in the roof of the car) is not so fun," Orlando said. "It's spending most of its days in the garage now."

Fortunately, his hair required only a slight trim. Beck Road was closed until about 3 p.m. last Friday.

"This will be an expensive but interesting story to tell my grandchildren some day," Orlando said.

SPOTLIGHT ON:
YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Presented by Andrea S. Vivian, D.D.S.

D FOR DENTAL HEALTH

It seems that recent research has found that vitamin D confers more health benefits than was once thought. The most recent finding shows that babies born to mothers with low vitamin D levels may be at increased risk for tooth enamel defects and early childhood decay. This is important because researchers found that only 10.5 percent of the women studied during their second trimester of pregnancy had adequate vitamin D levels. With this study in mind, women of childbearing age may want to be sure that they are eating foods that are rich in nutrients, including vitamin D. If necessary, supplemental vitamins/minerals may be considered, always keeping daily recommendations and intake limits in mind.

A very good lesson to remember is that prevention is key to optimum dental health for patients of all ages. Through good habits like choosing a dental-friendly diet and proper brushing and flossing, you have a lot of control over your dental health and that of your children. One of the most important services we offer is a plan for preventive dental care, including counseling on nutrition, the proper way to brush and floss, and recommendations for oral hygiene products and how to use them. For an appointment, please call us at 734-453-9413, 496 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Ste. 201, Plymouth.

PS Numerous studies indicate that vitamin D and calcium deficiencies result in bone loss and increased inflammation, which is a well-recognized symptom of periodontal diseases.

The awards from the National Association of Elementary School Principals and the U.S. Department of Education were presented at an Oct. 17 banquet in Washington, D.C. The honor was established in 1984 to recognize public and private school principals who make superior contributions to their schools and communities.

"I look at this as a coaching award," Anderson said that evening. "I wouldn't be able to achieve the things I've been able to achieve without the parents, wonderful faculty, my wife, and the kids."

Joining Amerman in 1992, Anderson grew up in Wisconsin and received his undergraduate degree at the University of Michigan.

After he and Holly married, they moved to Arizona for 10 years, where he continued his education.

Since Holly's parents are from Michigan, they wanted to come back to the Great Lakes state, so he completed his doctorate at Western Michigan University.

"I got my foot in the door (in education) in the little community of Yale in the Thumb area," Anderson said.

He chose education as a career because he enjoys learning new things and thought he could make a difference in children's lives.

"I still feel that parents, families and neighborhoods are important," he said.

Dr. Leonard Reznierski, superintendent of Northville Schools, said, "Being a school administrator is a combination of teacher, business manager, public relations expert, accountant, chief of police, counselor, handy man, education theorist, fortune teller and father confessor for all whom have the need, and he's all rolled up in one."

"Today's school administrator not only answers to the school board but also to the superintendent, the students, the parents and the faculty and, quite often, the media. There is so much to do in so little time ... You are expected to be in 20 places at once ... All of this takes enormous energy, great insight and understanding and a dedication and determination that will see the person through the trying times ... It is a task that few people fully appreciate and one that is often thankless and misunderstood. Yet, it is a vital job — a job whose efforts and ramifications are ready to meet the extremes of our society and all of our needs, a job that fully affects and attests to the future that we all talk about for our children."

Anderson's favorite quote on leadership is from Walt Disney, who was once asked what he did.

"He said, 'I'm like a bee — I go from flower to flower,'" Anderson said. "I have tons of talent in my building (at Amerman). If I can just open doors for those people, then I've done my job."

Tipping Point's 'The Dinner Party' starts Nov. 20

■ Neil Simon production opened in 2001

If you could use a little humor this holiday season, schedule an afternoon or evening to see the Tipping Point Theatre comedy "The Dinner Party."

Preview performances, which include a post-show discussion with the director and cast, are at 8 p.m. on Nov. 19, 20 and 21 at the theatre at 361 E. Cady Street in downtown Northville; opening night is Nov. 22.

Written by Neil Simon and directed by Christina Johnson, the theatre's executive director, the play will run through Dec. 28.

Performances will be at 8 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays; 3 p.m. on Saturdays (except Nov. 22); and at 2 p.m. on Sundays. Performances are not scheduled on Thanksgiving or Christmas.

"The Dinner Party" follows five people who have been invited to dine at a first-rate restaurant in Paris.

But, they don't know who the other guests will be or why they have been invited. Tossed together in a private dining room, they have a sneaking suspicion that this unorthodox dinner party will forever change their lives. The evening is filled with playful antics, sudden zaniness and masterful comic dialogue as the mystery unfolds. The original production opened on Broadway in 2001 and ran for 364 performances.

"The Dinner Party" marks Johnson's third time directing on the Tipping Point Theatre stage. An alumna of Albion College's Theatre Department, Johnson was a three-time nominee for the Irene Ryan Scholarship Award and served an 18-month apprenticeship with the Purple Rose Theatre in Chelsea.

Over the past decade, she has worked for dozens of regional theatres as an actress, director, stage manager and choreographer, including directing/choreographing Northville High School's productions for five years.

Comprising the play's ensemble cast are Wayne David Parker of Dearborn, Julia Glander of Ann Arbor, Aaron T. Moore of St. Clair Shores, Stephanie L. Stephan of Toledo, Ohio, Dave Davies of Warren and Karin Pearson of Northville. Moore and Davies both appeared onstage in TPT's production of

"Don't Dress for Dinner" and Stephan appeared in this season's opener "I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change." Parker, Glander and Pearson are making their TPT debuts.

TPT's season will continue next year with David Lindsay-Abaire's Pulitzer Prize-winning drama "Rabbit Hole" and "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged)."

Ticket prices range from $18 to $28. For more information, call the box office at (248) 347-0003 or go to www.tippingpoint-theatre.org.

Hufano receives Wilde Award for Best Supporting Actress

■ Tipping Point Theatre also earns honors

Actress Laurel Hufano, star of the Tipping Point Theatre's recent production of "Don't Dress for Dinner," recently received a Wilde Award, metro Detroit's annual theatre awards, for Best Supporting Actress for her portrayal of Suzette in the farcical comedy.

"Don't Dress for Dinner" played for sold-out audiences as the premiere production of the Northville theatre, and was brought back in June for a four-week run.

In addition to Hufano's win, Tipping Point received three nominations for its 2007-08 inaugural season. Nominees included "Don't Dress for Dinner" for best Local Professional Comedy; Gregory D. Stockbridge for Best Actor in a Musical for his portrayal of Sparky in "Forever Plaid: Plaid Tidings"; and Sarab Kamoo for Best Actress in a Comedy for her portrayal of Jacqueline in "Don't Dress for Dinner."

Hufano will return to Tipping Point's stage during the 2008-09 Season as a leading player in the comedy "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare (Abridged)." London's longest-running comedy, "The Complete Works ..." features three actors who bring the entire Shakespeare canon to the stage — all 37 plays in 97 minutes — with great hilarity and agility! The play will open April 22, 2009, and run through May 31.

The seventh annual Wilde Awards were presented at the Gem Theatre on Aug. 20. More than 220 local thespians came together to honor their contemporaries. Sponsored by Between The Lines, Michigan's weekly newspaper serving the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and allied communities, some 19 awards were presented, celebrating the very best professional productions and performances of the 2007-08 season.

GRANT AWARDED

In other Tipping Point Theatre news, the staff learned Sept. 9 that the theatre has been awarded a $9,000 grant from the Michigan Council of Arts and Cultural Affairs. The grant funds, which were applied for in May, will support the theatre's upcoming production of the drama "Rabbit Hole." The council received 310 applications, requesting more than $13.5 million for fiscal year 2009. All grant applications were evaluated through a process of peer review. Panels, consisting of arts and cultural professionals from throughout the country, evaluated and judged each application based on published review criteria.

Community Living Services - Turning dreams into reality

"Home Sweet Home!"

When you think of housing lately ... well, it has been just plain depressing.

Those of us fortunate to own a home are watching the value drop like a rock. And far too many Michiganders and Americans are losing their homes to foreclosure at a rate that is unmatched or unseen since the Great Depression.

Michigan has been leading the parade of the economic death march for longer than other parts of the country - but it seems everyone else is catching up quickly. Yet, like the guy complaining about not being able to afford a new pair of shoes until seeing the man with no feet, I feel lucky to still have my home, health care and income.

Attending a ribbon cutting ceremony of a new house being built to provide a home for people with disabilities snapped me out of my funk.

The opening of a new home that will provide people with disabilities the opportunity for greater hope and dignity was a burst of sunshine on an overcast gray day. It was a grand reminder that in spite of all the challenges at the national and state level, there are good things happening in our communities every day.

Homes like the one recently opened in Westland and celebrated with a ribbon cutting ceremony have also opened throughout the metro area. They have opened in Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Garden City, Redford, Birmingham, Bloomfield, Southfield, Novi, Northville, Detroit and Dearborn.

PEOPLE, MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Liberty Hill Housing corporation, ably led by its Executive Director Peggy Frankie, is a subsidiary of Community Living Services under the direction of Jim Dehem. Both organizations are headquartered in Wayne. With vision, drive and leadership, this dynamic duo has turned dreams of people with disabilities living in our communities a reality.

Yet, both Frankie and Dehem are quick to point out that every home that opens is the result of teamwork and a cooperative community spirit and determination from their partners in federal, state and local governments as well as non-profit agencies. Dehem praised Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano, the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Board, and local mayors and city councils that, together with local affiliates of the Association of Retarded Citizens (ARC), made "another dream come true."

ONE SMALL STEP FOR MAN, ONE GIANT LEAP FOR MANKIND

Just thirty years ago these same individuals were warehoused out of sight and often out of mind, at a great fiscal and moral cost, in vile, inhumane and costly state institutions.

These homes are monuments to how far we have come as a society in treating our fellow man. And it also shows how Liberty Hill, by leveraging federal, state and local resources, worked in partnership with such progressive leaders as Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano and Mayors William Wild of Westland and Hilliard Hampton Jr. of Inkster.

Mayor Wild captured the excitement of the day when he said, "It is great to see new homes and new people coming to our community to add value and take part in all the great attributes Westland has to offer our citizens." Mayor Wild's director of Housing and Community Development, Joanne Inglis, added, "It is great to partner with Community Living Services, the ARC and Liberty Hill to build quality homes for people."

Jim Dehem and I worked together in the late 1970s and early 1980s, helping to break down the barriers of discrimination by moving people with developmental disabilities back into their communities. Having sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, that were "wards of the state" return to their community is like watching the words of our Constitution - where all people were free to "pursue, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" - leap from concept to reality.

Watching the smile on Jim Dehem's face as men and women he knew, and that were institutionalized as teens and young adults, gathered to celebrate the freedom of a new home for their friends was like a floodlight illuminating the joy of the day. Dehem exclaimed, "This is another freedom step for people with disabilities."

While the homes may be brick and mortar to some, they represent a Neil Armstrong moment - "One small step for man, one giant leap for mankind" - to those that once suffered the indignities of being incarcerated in state mental health facilities and nursing centers.

There is much to give thanks for that takes place throughout the beautiful hometown communities that we all call home. Yes, "Home Sweet Home!"

We must retain John Dingell as chairman of Energy and Commerce

President Harry Truman, who had a knack for getting it right, supposedly once said that: "If you want a friend in Washington, get a dog." So when California Congressman Henry Waxman announced last week he was going after his fellow Democrat John Dingell's chairmanship of the powerful House Energy and Commerce Committee, I wasn't one bit surprised.

After all, power plays after an election is one of Washington's favorite games. Waxman has been chairman of the House Oversight and Government Reform Committee since the Democrats took back control of the House in 2006.

Waxman is 69, short (5 feet 5 inches) balding, mustachioed and widely regarded as sort of a liberal's Eliot Ness. He has earned sort of a "Lone Ranger" reputation for using his chairmanship's unique power of issuing subpoenas without committee consent to launch a bunch of embarrassing investigations into the Bush Administration.

He's been in Congress almost half his life, and over the years, has also quarreled with Dingell many times over many subjects. They crossed swords last year over Waxman's support for California imposing its own state air quality standards on autos. Dingell sensibly noted that the industry couldn't possibly make cars to meet 50 different air quality standards from 50 different states.

That spat summarizes it neatly.

Waxman is a fairly doctrinaire liberal, inclined to push the political and policy envelope as far as he can, while Dingell is the bulwark of practicality and centrist compromise.

Not only that, Dingell is as close to a living congressional legend as you can get. Now 82, his former 6-foot-3-inch frame hunched a bit with a new knee to go with his new hip, Dingell is the Dean of the House — the longest serving member, first elected back in 1955. This March, he will become the longest serving House member in American history. Nor is he a mere figurehead.

Today, he's ranked the fourth most powerful member of the House by Congress.org. When I ran a congressional office way back in the mid-1960s, Dingell was already a force to be reckoned with. I remember being at a big reception in one of the Capitol's high ceilinged rooms and seeing a commotion at the entrance.

Suddenly, in swept "Big John," towering over others in height, force of personality and rising influence. I've known him ever since.

Today he's just as sharp as ever, a reigning master of the complex, very difficult and enormously strenuous sausage-making activity that we call legislating.

At the end of the day, John Dingell is a consummate legislative craftsman. He takes it as the highest point of honor to pass complex legislation through his committee on time, on point — and, importantly, with just as much bi-partisan support as possible.

Take the Endangered Species Act, a law designed to protect imperiled species from extinction as a "consequence of economic growth and development untended by adequate concern and conservation." That's a subject guaranteed to provoke the fiercest possible debate — which it has done ever since the act was passed in 1973. Talk about achieving bipartisan support — John Dingell was the primary author of that bill, which passed on a vote of 390 to 12!

He wrote in 1990 the amendments to the Clean Air Act, including a program to control 189 toxic pollutants and expanded provisions to attain National Ambient Air Quality Standards. Dingell was the House sponsor, and the bill passed the House by a vote of 401-21. The Consumer Product Safety Act of 2007, equally complex, was passed out of the Energy and Commerce Committee 51-0 and out of the full House 424-1. You get the picture.

With Washington forever consumed by partisan bickering and political posturing, to craft such a record is an astonishing feat.

So how come Henry Waxman, whose district includes Beverly Hills, wants to dump Dingell, especially at this time? I'm sure much of it has to do with Dingell's long and effective advocacy of the auto industry. The Big Three haven't been popular in Washington — until last week, when people suddenly realized that the economy might lose millions of jobs if the car companies went broke.

And it's hardly a coincidence that the Speaker of the House is Nancy Pelosi, Waxman's fellow Californian, a liberal from San Francisco. I have no idea if Pelosi is aiding and abetting Waxman's strike for power, but there are no signs she is telling him no.

Waxman's statement announcing his run for the chairmanship noted that "the issues we confront are immensely difficult."

"We will need the very best leadership in Congress in our committee to succeed," he asserted.

That's exactly right. And that's why the nation — not to mention Michigan — would be best served by retaining John Dingell as chairman of Energy and Commerce. Yes, he may have a few miles on his chassis, but he has a proven record of bipartisan collaboration and when push comes to shove, of getting it done.

Artist creates Italian motif in local cafe

BY KELLY MURAD
STAFF WRITER

To go with the new concept of a cafe-style restaurant, the Mautone family wanted to incorporate their Italian roots into the design of Benito's Cafe, at 10 Mile and Novi roads.

"We were looking for a Tuscan-Italian atmosphere," said Jason Mautone, vice president of the Benito's Pizza franchise. "We had ideas of what we were looking for in a broad sense, but we needed a designer."

Designer Patricia McDonald introduced the family to Novi resident and artist Dianna Moses.

"I knew Patricia wanted stucco finish and old-world Italy, but it's hard to find anyone who's doing (stucco finish) this far north," said Moses, noting the material is more commonly used in homes in Florida. "It's a special product of my own creation."

Moses, whose experience is mostly with murals and wall finishes, said she spent the entire summer perfecting her work at the upscale cafe.

"There are two beautiful murals, one of a cafe street scene upon entering and one of an old metal fountain, all straight from the theme of Italy," she said. "The wall finish is hand crafted stucco along with hand sculpted brick painted to match the brick below."

The Novi location is the first Benito's Cafe. "All of our other units are carry-out and delivery, but we've always wanted to do something more than a pizzeria," said Mautone, noting the sit-down, friendly environment offers homemade pastas, panini sandwiches and soups, along with their regular and gourmet pizzas. "It's a bigger concept than what we're used to, but the most important thing is the product. You're going to get a small Italian restaurant-feel in here."

The 1,800-square-foot establishment, which opened at the beginning of October, is located in the same complex as other new businesses, Penn Station East Coast Subs and Novi Cleaners.

"The designs we did at this location far exceed what we've done at any other establishment," Mautone said. "We love to use people that are local. Dianna has an amazing talent, she won't do anything unless it's quality."

Moses, who has been painting for 12 years, learned from her sister and through hands-on training, but has never taken an art class.

"It's really word of mouth, once you do a good job, people speak of your work," she said. "I'm really proud of it. I look back at it like, 'I did that myself?'"

To contact Moses call (248) 275-4374 or e-mail her at designsbydianna@comcast.net.

Mustang swimmers 3rd at conference meet

BY JEFF THEISEN
SPORTS WRITER

The Northville swimmers picked up the pace when it mattered most to finish third at the KLAAS Kensington Conference meet Saturday at Salem.

Mustang head coach Brian McNeff was disappointed with his team's fourth-place performance at Thursday's division meet, which was also used as a qualifier for the conference meet. But he was much more pleased with how the Mustangs performed Saturday.

"We had a really good meet," he said. "We really bounced back from a disappointing division meet and swam like I knew we could."

"Some swimmers really stepped up in their individuals and in the relays to put in a great position to take third place."

Novi won the conference meet with 405 points. Stevenson took second with 299.5, and Northville was third with 237.5.

Jessica Weber claimed a pair of titles, winning the 100 freestyle (53.87) and the 200 freestyle (1:55.95).

"Jessica Weber also had a great meet and put herself in a position to be one of the top seeds at the state meet," McNeff said.

Weber was also part of the third-place finishing 200 relay team with Becca Myers, Shannon Lohman and Faith Miller; and on the fourth-place 200 medley relay with Rachel Brown, Kelly Burford and Lohman.

Other highlights included Myers with a third-place finish in the 50 freestyle (25.98) and Miller with a fifth-place finish (26.0) in the same event.

The four placers in each event earned All-Conference recognition.

CENTRAL DIVISION MEET

The Mustangs placed fourth at the division meet with 349 points. Novi claimed the title with 622 points, followed by Stevenson with 505 and South Lyon with 362. Salem finished fifth with 315.

Weber won the same events at the division meet, claiming first in the 100 and 200 freestyle.

Momentum can play a huge role in winning or losing in high school sports.

Northville (20-19-6) came out on fire against Plymouth in the district semifinals, only to see things switch completely in the Wildcats' favor as the Mustangs lost 25-20, 25-21, 25-23.

The Mustangs could do no wrong to start the first game.

Laura Taylor took over serve with a 1-0 lead and didn't stop until the Mustangs led 5-1.

Following an immediate side out, Danielle Borthwick served up an ace and three more points for a 10-1 lead.

After trading points, the Mustangs still clung to a 12-3 lead before Plymouth took its turn at getting red hot.

A 13-3 run gave the Wildcats their first lead of the game. The teams battled on to an 18-all tie before Plymouth took the lead for good and

Varsity Stallions tripped up by Bobcats

STORIES SUBMITTED

The Northville Stallions Varsity football team suffered a disappointing 41-20 loss Saturday against the rival Novi Bobcats after beating them earlier in the season.

The Stallions started the first quarter with a picture perfect offensive drive. Colin Bailey not only had three 1st down runs but scored the first TD with a 20-yard run into the end zone for a 6-0 lead.

Defensive tackles by David Moorman, Dominique Whitlow and Chris Markatoes stalled the Bobcats progress. But the Bobcats scored a TD and went onto an 8-6 lead.

A sack on the Bobcats QB by Jake Hansen forced a loose ball and Andrew Meacham recovered the fumble giving the Stallions good field position. A 12-yard pass from Hansen to Matt Janke moved the Stallions down the field for a 1st down. Bailey ran up the middle for a 10-yard gain and then ran up the middle again for a 20-yard TD and a 12-8 lead.

The Stallion defense worked hard to stop the Bobcats. Great tackling by Jake Cheslik, Connor Keady and Tyler Gozdro forced the Bobcats to kick a field goal, cutting the Stallion lead to 12-11.

The Bobcats started the second half with a pair of scores for a 27-12 lead.

Despite huge tackles by Janke, Christopher Patsalis and Meacham the Stallions looked flat. The Bobcats would score again for a 33-12 lead.

The last Stallions TD would come off an amazing run by Bailey who cut several times to evade the Bobcat defense. The kick by Hansen was good making the score 33-20.

The Bobcats had the momentum and would score one last time last in the fourth quarter ending this battle 41-20.

JV STALLIONS COME OUT STRONG, BUT BLUE JAYS PREVAIL

The Northville JV Stallions made the first strike nine minutes into the first quarter with a quick hand off from their quarterback Kyle Killeen to Connor Walters, who tore up 45 yards to score for the Stallions.

Despite a tough tackle from Brady Childers, the Blue Jays continued to move the ball and got on the board with 4:44 left in the first quarter.

The Stallions dug in and Connor Walters and Nick Jones had some nice carries down the field. Killeen completed a superb pass to David Weber to bring the Stallions to fourth-and-inches, but they couldn't push through the pack of Blue Jays.

The Stallions defense held tough against the Blue Jays. Keenan Moss brought down several Blue Jays back-to-back to keep them out of the Stallions end zone.

This game seemed to be all about defense and both teams struggled to move the ball down the field. Michael Toth made an impressive tackle late in the second quarter, and Brady Childers brought down a Blue Jay for a loss of yards to make it second-and-29 for the Blue Jays. Jordan Kitna ran the Blue Jays fastest ball carrier out of bounds went on to a 25-20 win. "We've done that and come back," Northville head coach Tom Teeters said. "We still made a lot of the mistakes that we've made all year. The little things that add up."

Northville started the second game with a 5-2 lead only to see it quickly evaporate into a 7-5 deficit.

Both teams took their turns making small runs, but the game was eventually tied at 21. Plymouth took control of the serve and never gave it back for a 25-21 win and a 2-0 advantage.

Plymouth took the early advantage in the third game with a 5-2 lead, but Northville turned the tables for an 11-7 lead. As with the previous games, the Wildcats rallied to victory. With Northville leading 23-22, Plymouth earned the final three points and moved on.

"Our digging started off strong, but after that, we just weren't able to dig enough balls to get to 25 before they could," Teeters said.

Kelly Maise led the Mustangs with 16 kills and 22 digs. Laura Taylor filled in for injured setter Shelby Temple and dished out 27 assists. Foucher provided 15 digs and 15 serve receptions. Season highlights include Maise setting a school record with 484 kills, Foucher with a 93.6 percent serve reception and Temple finishing with the third-most assist attempts with 1,934.

Teeters enjoyed his first year with the Mustangs. "It was fun," he said. "In that first year, you're just trying to get the most out of the kids that you can. That's always fun for me, win or lose, just trying to get the most out of them."

"We're all looking forward to next year. We just want to keep moving the program forward."

Keeping staph on the bench

BY SEAN BAK

Once again, staph infections have been all over the news this football season. From Tom Brady's suspected staph infection to Kellen Winslow's hospitalization with a staph-related illness, as the NFL season wears on, staph continues to become one of its prime-time players. Both situations erupted into minor fire storms with the Winslow debacle centering on whether or not the Cleveland Browns tried to hide the infection due to concerns that the franchise has had a problem with staph infections in the past. In a nationally distributed story, the New England Patriots were reportedly upset that Brady had not stayed in Boston to have his surgery performed by the team's physician. What I found particularly disturbing was the thinly veiled message being that Brady's choice of physician led to his infection.

The implicit vilification of Brady's surgeon is unfair and irresponsible considering the infection rate of any elective surgery is around 2 percent, regardless of geographic location of surgery, regardless of surgeon, regardless of time of day or a host of other unrelated parameters. It's not as if Brady's surgeon, who happens to be highly regarded by physicians, patients, not to mention the L.A. Lakers, christened Brady's knee with "staph juice" prior to the procedure. Staph is everywhere, on everything, from your pillow to your kitchen table. Indeed, one of the strains is named "epidermidis," reflecting the fact that it naturally resides on human skin. When a patient is unfortunate enough to contract a post-surgical infection, one of the first questions is always, "Why me?" Our answer is usually that we don't really know why this uncommon complication happens in an otherwise routine procedure but we know that in a certain small percentage of people, it will happen usually because of a small surviving staph colony on the skin of the surgical site.

While we have come a long way since the soil-infested battlefield surgeries of the Civil War, modern medicine has been unable to reduce the infection rate of surgery to zero. Antibiotics are routinely administered to patients just prior to surgical procedures so they are circulating at the time of the skin incision. Modern sterile techniques are instilled in medical students and healthcare personnel from day one of their careers much in similar fashion to drilling military recruits such that what is termed "aseptic technique" becomes second nature. Indeed, each surgical procedure begins with a draping procedure in which sterile cloths are used to isolate the surgical site. This is preceded by a washing of the surgical site with strong antiseptic solutions which reduce the presence of bacteria on the skin. An important point to understand is that skin can be cleaned but, unlike surgical instruments and drapes, it cannot be sterilized, hence there is always a small degree of bacteria present on the skin. In spite of these rituals and caution, when certain uncontrollable (and indeed, often unknown) factors are present, a bacterial infection is possible.

Just as in medicine, the focus in athletics should be on prevention and reduction of infections. The primary method is to increase awareness of proper hygiene.

Maintaining clean locker rooms, avoiding sharing of towels and proper care of wounds are all common-sense ways of infection prevention. Most importantly, if you have a wound, report it, treat it and don't "tough it out." Antibiotics may not always be necessary but meticulous care of the wound with ointments and dressings are. This is a growing problem not just in the NFL, not just in the high school locker room but in the community in general.

CC's Niko Palazeti runs against Novi in the playoff opener. Palazeti scored against Stevenson, but it wasn't enough as the Shamrocks lost 23-14.

CC can't overcome missed opportunities

BY JEFF THEISEN
SPORTS WRITER

Catholic Central failed to cash in on too many golden opportunities and was knocked out of the playoffs 24-13 Friday at Livonia Stevenson.

The Shamrocks (6-4) had the ball inside the Spartan 25-yard line three times and failed to score.

"We had to make plays and we didn't, and they did," CC head coach Tom Mach said. "Our hats are off to them. They came at us real hard and did a good job on both sides of the ball."

"We did have our opportunities, but unfortunately, we didn't make use of them."

The first drive proved to be a bad omen. CC appeared as though it was going to walk down the field, moving the ball 41 yards in three plays before a holding penalty pushed the ball back to the Spartan 24.

Mach called for a pitch run to the left, but the ball bounced off the running back and was recovered by the Spartans (9-2).

On the next drive, Mach attempted to go for it on a fourth-and-seven from the Spartan 25 but the pass was well defended, giving the ball back to the Spartans.

Stevenson cashed in the next drive, going 75 yards on 10 plays. Fullback Duran Onweumene scored on a blast up the middle from 16 yards out on the first play of the second quarter.

The Shamrocks were able to produce points on the next drive. Anthony Capatina took off for 57 yards around end and was tackled at the 2. Niko Palazeti bulldozed it in from there a couple of plays later for a 7-all tie with 9:24 remaining in the half.

"We were going outside," Mach said.

"They were stunting inside quite a bit."

"We were inches away from different things taking place tonight, but we just didn't get it done."

The Spartans took the lead right back with a 29-yard field goal by Jonny Myshock three minutes later.

After forcing a punt, the Spartans took over at their own 20 and took just five plays to go the distance. Wade Stahl had catches of 19 and 35 yards on the drive. Austin White ran in from the 5 for a 17-7 lead that stood into the half.

Stevenson got the ball to open the half and again methodically marched down the field. This 62-yard drive was done mostly on the ground. Stahl finished it off with a 6-yard run and a 24-7 lead.

The Shamrocks didn't go in panic mode and got back in the game with a score of their own. Steve Harding took a lateral pass 30 yards down the Shamrock sideline to finish off a four-play, 62-yard drive. The extra point bounced off the upright, leaving CC trailing 24-13.

The Shamrocks' last quality chance came on a long drive that lasted almost six minutes. CC faced a fourth-and-goal from the Spartan 5. The Shamrocks lined up with three receivers to quarterback Sam Landry's right, and his attempt to thread a bullet in failed, once again turning the ball over to the Spartans with 8:35 to play.

Mach explained going for the touchdown instead of kicking a field goal.

"We felt we were down there and it was hard getting down there," he said. "We were going to go for the touchdown and take care of the rest after if we got that opportunity."

The final Shamrock possession ended on a turnover on downs near midfield with :09 remaining.

"I was real proud of our seniors all year long," Mach said. "They showed a lot of guts. They gave us great leadership as the year progressed. I'm real proud of them."

Livonia Falcons take down JV Colts

SUBMITTED STORY

The JV Colts were the only Colts team to make the playoffs this year, but fell 41-20 at the undefeated Livonia Falcons on Saturday.

The Colts kicked off to the Falcons, who proceeded to march down the field achieving three first downs and then a touchdown with an extra point to lead 7-0.

When the Colts had possession, they made minimal yardage gains, with carries by Sean Smith and David Dillon. On fourth down, the Colts' Shane Gregory punted, sending the football long to the Falcon 43-yard line.

The Falcons offense was relentless, achieving four consecutive fourth downs despite several tackles by Justin Zimbo, and PJ Schnepf. The Falcons were on the Colts 10-yard line and were able to run in another touchdown and a 14-0 lead.

The Colts were unable to make headway during their next possession, and were forced to punt yet again. The time, however, a great tackle by the Colts' Leo Keyes stopped the Falcons' receiver.

The Falcons scoring machine went into action again, and made three first downs in a row despite excellent tackles by Owen Kipke. A perfect pass by the Falcons resulted in another touchdown, and the score was 21-0.

After exchanging possessions, the Colts made progress and several key first downs. A pass from Kipke to the Colts Alex Thomas set the Colts up for a touchdown, which was carried over the line by Zimbo.

A fake handoff brought in the extra point, and the Colts were on the board.

After halftime, the Falcons came back to score another touchdown for a 27-7 lead.

The Colts gained yards for two first downs. Kipke received the football after the snap on the Falcon 21-yard line, and then broke away from four Falcons' tackle attempts to score another touchdown.

Two more touchdowns by the Falcons had the Colts down 34-14, but the when the Colts took possession, Kipke passed again to Alex Thomas, bringing in six more points.

The Falcons were able to score yet again despite notable tackles by Mikey Grimes and Redding Haines, and the game ended with a clear Falcons victory, 41-20.

numerous times and Nick Jones rushed the quarterback to thwart their passes.

Late in the second quarter, a fumble was picked up by the Blue Jays behind the line of scrimmage and they scored their second touchdown and made the extra point, leaving the score 13-6 at the half.

The second half was all about defense and penalties. Both the Stallions and the Blue Jays blitzed their quarterbacks numerous times for loss of yards. A couple of encroachment penalties leveled the playing field.

With 4:38 to go in the game, the Blue Jays recovered a fumble and scored what proved to be the last touchdown and extra point in the game.

The boys ended the season by executing their own special play and ceremoniously bathing their head coach Dan Weber with the water cooler.

FRESHMEN STALLIONS WIN SEASON FINALE

The Northville Stallions freshmen finished strong by thumping the Eagles 28-18 and avenged a season opening set-back to the Eagles in early September.

The Stallions got off to a quick 6-0 start on a QB keeper from Ben Schmidt who reversed field and scored on a 54-yard run just two minutes into the game.

After a strong stance from the Stallions defense, the offense went to work again. Keyed by a 40-yard burst up the middle from Brennan Pelland, Stallion fullback Cameron Dixon pounded it in the endzone for a 1-yard touchdown. The kicking game again stood out in the contest as Jake Justice nailed the conversion kick for a Stallion 14-0 lead.

In the 1st quarter, the Stallion defense dominated the line of scrimmage with strong play up the middle from Diaz Saunderson, David Evans and Dixon. Late in the quarter, the Stallions forced a fumble by the Eagles and the loose ball was recovered by Jonathan Michalak to maintain the 14-0 lead.

In the second quarter, the Eagles fought back and scored on two long sweeps around the end to trim the Stallion lead to 14-12. The Eagles also attempted a PAT kick to tie the score, but Ryan Paddock burst through the line and blocked the kick to preserve the slim lead for the Stallions.

Late in the second quarter, backed deep into their own end, the Stallions were able to get the passing game going with a 36-yard completion from QB Steven Pennington to TE Jack Petersen and another 12-yard completion for a key first down from Pennington to TE Justice. The change of field position allowed the Stallions to hold onto a 14-12 halftime lead.

The second half saw the Stallion offense get off to another quick start.

After a drive down the field, Jake Justice took a handoff on a reverse and scampered for a 20-yard touchdown to increase the lead to 20-12.

The defense continued to hold strong throughout the second half and prevented the Eagles from threatening. This included strong play from Jake Gourd, Mitch Mulcahey, Shane Rankin and Peterson in addition to a key turnover forced by the Stallion secondary on an interception from CB Tejas Bedi in the fourth quarter.

Later in the final quarter, after the defense stopped the Eagles again, the offense took over with excellent field position at the Eagles' 30-yard line. Brennan Pelland took over pounding the ball on the ground behind very good blocking by the offensive line. Pelland capped the drive with a 10-yard TD run to give the Stallions a 26-12 lead and Justice again kicked the conversion for an insurmountable 28-12 advantage with 3:41 remaining in the game.

While the Eagles did answer with a quick TD to trim the Stallion lead to 28-18, the defense again stiffened in the end with key tackles on the outside from CB Tyler Hood and the games' leading tackler Pelland. The solid victory completed the Stallions' season and ended their campaign with a 3-5 record.

Coach Jeff Hood said, "The Stallion players showed a lot of heart and pride in their play to close out the season."
