RECORD Shakespeare show closing

Northville's Tipping Point Theatre will close its season with a zany, irreverent send-up of Shakespeare, "The Complete Works of William Shakespeare runs through June 7. Performances at the theatre at 361 E. Cady St. are scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday; at 3 p.m. Saturday; and at 2 p.m. Sunday. Ticket prices range from $18-$28.

"The Complete Works ..." is a coproduction between Tipping Point and Williamston Theatres.

Tickets are available by calling the box office at (248) 347-0003. Box office hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday - Friday; noon to 5 p.m. Saturday; and 90 minutes prior to all perfor-

Bear picnic

Just like the old song says, "The Teddy Bears are having a picnic." On Sunday, June 14, Mill Race Village will open for the season, and a special feature for that will be a Teddy Bear Picnic for 3- to 7-year-olds. Refreshments will be served and a costumed storyteller will spin tales. Participants are encouraged to bring their own special bears and to wear Victorian costumes if they wish. They should bring a blanket or towel to sit on.

The party will take place from 2-3 p.m., rain or shine. Admission is $1 per child. Reservations may be made by calling (248) 348-1845.

Highland Lakes residents protest purchase of hospital property

■ Resolution read at board meeting

BY PAM FLEMING

Residents from Highland Lakes Condominium Association — across the street from the former Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital property - are now protesting the township's proposed purchase of a good portion of the land. The residents are also not supporting a bond proposal to pay for the land that will appear on the August primary ballot.

Clem Tulley, one of the association's board members, read a resolution during last Thursday's board meeting explaining the residents' views on the matter.

They realize that the development, currently owned by developer REIS on Seven Mile Road between Haggerty and Northville roads, will significantly affect the residents and others living along Seven Mile Road. (REIS is a partnership between Real Estate Interests Group and Schostak

The residents also know township trustees will place a millage request on the August primary ballot asking Northville Township residents to fund the purchase of bonds totaling $23.5 million for the proposed 232.5

MAPLE HILLS LENDS SUPPORT

Residents from the Maple Hills subdivision supported the proposed millage to fund the township's $23 5-million purchase of a portion of the former Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital property at their annual meeting Monday night. "I'm pleased that Maple Hills (residents) unanimously decided to support the ballot proposal," said Mark Abbo, township supervisor. Maples Hills subdivision is near Six Mile and Winchester roads.

Although tables and chairs are now set up at Town Square, concert-goers are encouraged to bring their own foldable lawn chairs. Coolers are also allowed.

At the last Northville DDA board meeting, there was a lengthy discussion about whether vendors should be allowed at the concerts. But, board members decided that this might take business away from the many restaurants in downtown Northville that hope to attract people either before or after the concerts.

The Arbor Hospice Foundation's annual Art Dash fund-raiser on May 21 at the Inn at St. John's Golf and Conference Center in Plymouth raised almost $50,000 for Arbor Hospice of Northville. Guests enjoyed artist Aaron Bivins' live painting of his impressionistic piece "Flag and Flowers," drying the paper with a travel-size hair dryer just in time for someone to 'dash' for it only an hour later.

Art Dash raises more than $48,000 for Arbor Hospice

Local art patrons had a "dashing" good time while supporting Arbor Hospice at the eighth annual Art Dash. Thanks to the overwhelming generosity of the Northville community, The Arbor Hospice Foundation raised more than $48,000 to benefit end-of-life care and grief support services. "We are extremely grateful to our sponsors for their generosity along with those who participated and supported this year's event," said Gloria Danna Brooks, president and CEO of Arbor Hospice. "The money raised at Art Dash will help provide hospice care and grief support to hundreds of patients and their families."

More than 160 people attended the event on Thursday, May 21, 2009 at

The Inn at St. John's Golf and Conference Center in Plymouth which included a raffle, live auction and the opportunity for each couple to "Dash" for a piece of art of their choice.

Art Dash provides a distinctive opportunity for local artists to showcase their talent to art enthusiasts, while supporting Arbor Hospice's community programs and services. Sponsors of the event included Bortz Health Care of Ypsilanti, Community Financial, Randy and Donna Friedman, Hospice Pharmacia, HOUR Media, Jim Forbes/Gem Theatre, John & Ellie Mulder, The Palace Sports and Entertainment, Robison Dental Group, TFC Bank.

The Knickerbocker Group of Raymond James & Associates, INC., Uniquely Yours Flower Shop and Xuereb Snow, PC.

Since its inception in 2002, Art Dash has raised more than $385,000 for The Arbor Hospice Foundation, while raising awareness for the local art community.

Proceeds go directly back into the community to support Arbor Hospice's end-of-life care and grief support services for children, adolescents and adults throughout Western Wayne and Oakland Counties.

Donations to The Arbor Hospice Foundation can still be made by calling 734-794-5122 or by visiting www. arborhospice.org.

IT'S YOUR NORTHVILLE BUSINESS - Q&A WITH ROCKY'S

1. Tell us about your business, including types of services and/or products you feature.

We are a full-service restaurant - full wine list, full bar - serving fresh fish and seafood (always fresh, never frozen). We are moderately priced with a Northern Michigan lodge atmosphere.

2. How did you first decide to open your business?

After working for Chuck Muer for 18 years, I decided it was time to open my own restaurant.

3. Why did you choose Northville?

Chuck Muer owned the closed Northville Charley's on Seven Mile Road. I lived at Six Mile and Haggerty roads and thought this location provided a good oppurtunity close to

4. What makes your business unique?

We offer a large variety of fresh seafood, very seasonal (example: fried smelt); general manager on property 14 years; Chef Joe Gardner, nine years; and bartenders and waitstaff, 15 years.

5. How has it changed since you

We have added a new dining room which was converted from a outside patio. We expanded the bar area and added a raw bar with kettles for cooking with the guests, and we have added a raw bar cook/shucker, five nights a week and created its own menu. We have listened to our guests' needs and menu suggestions on menu ideas.

6. How has the recent economy affected your business?

There is no question that cover counts are down 10 percent this year to last year. Check average is down slightly -- the biggest area is the early week days but weekends remain strong. Diners are not dining out as often in the early part of the week.

7. Any advice for business owners?

Work your business. You don't know what's going on if you're not there. Maintain the quality of the product.

8. What's in store for the future of your business?

Keep producing quality food and service at a reasonable, affordable

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

Strengthening Your Core

s an adult's body continues to mature, it is even more impor-A mature, it is even mature that to stay physically active to keep the body and mind healthy. Personal trainers advise exercising all muscle groups, especially the core. While I was working out at the gym recently. it occurred to me that businesspeople need to take that same approach to stay professionally fit. Business professionals need to strengthen their core.

In the 2008 book titled "Leadership Communication," author Deborah J. Barrett wrote that as a leader's "perspective and control expands, you will need to improve your core skills" -- the core communication skills of writing, speaking, and strategy development.

In written communication, Barrett notes that leaders need to clarify their purpose, use correct language and format, and write clearly, concisely, and confidently.

No matter your level of professional fitness, working out your writing skills should be an ongoing activity. To improve your writing skills, consider working through practice sets in a grammar or vocabulary book that you can buy at any store or go online to an excellent site sponsored by Purdue University. Visit Purdue's Online Writing Lab (OWL) at http:// owlenglish.purdue.edu/.

Another way to improve your vocabulary and get your mind exercising is to practice crossword puzzles. If you are not ready to tackle the Sunday newspaper puzzle, start out simply with the "Easy Crossword Puzzle" books that you can buy at any dollar store. You can work on them in the evening or while resting on a lounge chair this summer.

Exercise your oral communication skills by talking more, especially in small groups or by practicing presentations. Several Toastmasters groups meet throughout the Detroit area. For example, Walsh College Novi campus is starting a new Toastmasters group for professionals. The informational meeting is Tuesday, June 23, from 8:15 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. at Walsh College, located just off Meadowbrook Road, north of Grand River Road in Novi. Email bmeller@walshcollege.edu for more information or visit www.toastmasters.org/find to locate a club near

According to Barrett, the key to communication strategy development is being able to effectively analyze the context for communication, analyzing audiences, and tailoring messages to different audiences. To build muscle in this area, get out and learn more about different people. Develop relation-ships while volunteering with nonprofit and community groups. You will build a larger network of acquaintances and friends, and help our community while you are

Just as with exercising your body, the more you workout your communication core, the more confident you will be and the better you. will perform professionally.

Keep doing those crunches!

Cancer Care: Resources that can help seniors after a diagnosis

Dear Savvy Senior My 62-year-old mother was just diagnosed with cancer and is feeling depressed, confused and doesn't know where to turn. What resources can you recommend that can help me help her?

Overwhelmed Daughter

Dear Overwhelmed. Being diagnosed with cancer has got to be one of the most difficult and shocking experiences a person can go through, yet 1.4 million Americans will experience it this year alone. Here are some tips and tools that can help you and your mom get more informed about her condition, and organize a plan for her treatment.

GET INFORMED

If you're like most people you're clueless about cancer. So your first step is to learn about your mom's specific type of cancer along with the treatment options, and thanks to the Internet it's easy to do. To get started go the National Cancer Institute (NCI) at www. cancer.gov and click on your cancer type in the A to Z list of cancers. Other good and reliable sites to visit are www.cancer.org, www.medlineplus.gov and www.mayoclinic.com.

CHOOSE A DOCTOR

After you know a bit about your illness, you'll need to choose a good doctor. The American Society of Clinical Oncology (www.cancer.net) provides tips on how to choose a cancer doctor (known as an oncologist), along with a searchable database to help you locate one. Also see www.vitals. com, a Web resource that will help you locate, evaluate and choose a doctor based on their training, expertise, consumer ratings and recommendations from other doctors. (Be sure the doctor you choose accepts your mom's health plan.) And to locate one of the 60 plus NCI cancer centers across the country see Cancercenters.cancer.

SAVVY SENIOR

RESEARCH ALTERNATIVE MEDICINE

If your mother is interested in learning more about herbs, supplements and other alternative approaches to fighting cancer, go to the National Center for Alternative and Complementary Medicine (www.necam.nih.gov). Also, check-out the complementary and alternative medicine guides from M.D. Anderson Cancer Center at www.mdanderson.org/departments/cimer.

FIND SUPPORT SERVICES

There are lots of programs and services available today that can help your mom with a wide variety of cancer-related

For example, there are counselors, social workers and cancer support groups that can help with depression, anxiety and other psychological issues; nutritionists and dietitians to help deal with nausea, loss of appetite, fatigue or mouth sores; and physical therapist, pain specialist, acupuncturist and massage therapist that can assist with pain and discomor cancer treatment centers usually offer a wide variety of on-staff support services. However, if your mom is being treated in a small clinic or she lives in a rural area, finding help may be more difficult. You can also visit the American Cancer Society Web site at www.cancer.org, type in her zip code and search for services

If you don't find any programs locally that meets her needs, there are also a growing number of Internet support services that can be very helpful too.

Some good ones to check out include: Cancercare (www.cancercare.org; 800-813-4673); American Cancer Society Cancer Survivors Network (www.acscsn.org); The Lance Armstrong Foundation (www. livestrong.org; 866-673-7205); and the Association of Cancer Online Resources (www.acor.

FIND CLINICAL TRIALS

At some point in her cancer treatment, your mom may decide to join a study of a new therapy. The Coalition of Cancer Cooperative Groups (www.cancertrialshelp.org; 877-227-8451) and the NCI (www.cancer.gov/clinicaltrials; 800-422-6237) are fantastic resources for learning about and finding clinical trials.

They also have questions you should ask before becoming involved in these medical experiments.

GET FINANCIAL HELP

If your mom's insurance is limited or if she doesn't have insurance at all, there are financial assistance programs that may be able to help her. See www.cancercare.org and click on "Get Help" then on "Assistance," or call 800-813-4673 to learn more. The NCI also offers financial assistance information on their Web site at www.cancer.gov/cancertopics/support - click on "Financial Assistance and Other Resources for People With Cancer."

France honors Northville WWII veteran with medal

Northville resident John Morgan was honored with the French Legion of Honor Medal on May 16. The Northville Record recently ran an article on another local resident, William Craft, receiving the same honor and offering some of his memories on World War II. It seems only fitting to give Mr. Morgan the same opportunity to describe his tour of duty in France. Editor

His son, Michael Morgan, said, "His 84th birthday was April 24 and he has more time to reflect on his duty in service while in France. During the period of December 1944 to May 1945, his division suffered over 1,000 killed, more than 5,000 wounded, over 1,000 missing in action, 63 captured by the enemy and over 4,000 non-battle casualties. Many of his friend's life ended in France. But he made many friends who returned with him. With both the good and horrific memories he had from battle, I am glad he helped in the liberation of France to end the wars of all wars."

in John Morgan's words

As General Kroesen [255th Infantry] had stated "War is a terrible thing ... the most tragic of man's legitimate endeavors. It is a waste of man, of property and of the future that must be spent in rebuilding lives and reconstructing culture. Nevertheless, given that truth, wars have been useful; they have settled things. For good or evil, they have other human pursuit and are rivaled only by religion and medicine in their impact. The future of our world, we the living of today who enjoy liberty and the pursuit of happiness, was guaranteed by the victories of World

As I reflected back in time, when I was a young man, I attempted to remember those faces and places I once knew very well many decades ago. It was at times it was difficult and very painful. I will attempt to describe my tour in France during World War II and how it affected my life. After basic training in Camp an Dorn, Miss., I was snipped out to the staging area in Camp Shanks, NY, because troops being assigned to the European Theater. All of us were very apprehensive about going but we were all there to serve our country because it was our duty. As part of the U.S. Army 63rd Infantry Division 255th Regiment, we were shipped out by Liberty Ships to the old port of Marseille, France.

Northville resident John Morgan was honored with the French Legion of Honor Medal on May 16.

As I entered the port I noticed many sunken and disabled ships from previous battles there. The wind and air were very cold as it hit my face. The bitter cold was felt by all of us (internally and externally) as we embarked onto the city. In Marseille there were no battles to be fought but we knew what lied ahead. We waited there until we took a long and cold boxcar ride to fight at the battles that were going on in the area of Oberhoffen, France.

Once we reached Oberhoffen, our division was sent to secure the city of Sarreguemines, France, which is north of Oberhoffen. Once in Sarreguemines we were instructed to relieve the existing rifle company. The Germans were on the outer parameter of the city. At night we could hear the sound of German Burp gun firing off. The instruction was given to not fire back as it was a ploy to find out where our troops were located. The Germans stayed in the outer woods and never approached the town.

I can remember another instance in the area of Sarreguemines in which a German reinforcement company accompanied by two Panzer tanks attacked our unit. The German company ran over our position but we did secure them with a counter attack. I remember the battles very well since I relived them in many of them in my nightmares after the war. I remember while in attack finding a bazooka and some rockets taking refuge in an abandoned pillbox. After being there a few hours in battle an American Sherman Tank appeared and their tank commander came over to us speaking French. They were French troops, our comrades and friends. One of my friends I was with spoke French so we all gathered together that night sharing rations and drinks. We also had succeeded in crushing the Germans back further. which we shared in this victory and toasted, "Viva La France!"

Our division was also assigned to liberate a small village [Riming] northeast of Sarreguemines. We arrived in the village going area-toarea securing the village with minor gun skirmishes and gun battles.

I can remember that while I was on night guard duty occupying a machine gun position. I heard a faint sound of bells approaching. The sound was getting louder as all of us on night guard duty were thinking the Germans were coming out of the woods. As it the bells got louder it was a sheepherder who we welcomed to pass by. Because of these battles in France, I was awarded Infantryman's Badge.

After that, our division crossed the Saar River into Germany. I spent the rest of my tour in head to head battle with the enemy, guarding bridges, clearing mines fields, performing demolition on bridges and other strategic points. For these and other instances I was awarded the Bronze Star.

Your Record is still here, but we need you

As many may have heard, the Observer & Eccentric closed its West Bloomfield, Troy, Rochester, Southfield and Mirror newspapers, with their final publication on May 31.

The Birmingham Eccentric was also on that list, but was revived to a once-a-week paper, after a groundswell of community support and pledges to boost subscriptions and advertising for that edition. It remains a wait-and-see proposition, but the company is willing to give it a try.

A South Oakland Eccentric paper will cover Southfield, Royal Oak, Ferndale and other south central Oakland County communities. The paper will be published on Sunday.

Many people are shocked and dismayed by the loss of the local papers. Many readers of the Northville Record have expressed relief that the paper remains open.

But, it can only survive with the support of the

We view the Northville Record's long-standing relationship with this community as a partnership. We depend on local advertising and home delivery subscriptions to survive. The community depends on the Northville Record to inform people about all aspects of Northville, from stories that affect neighborhoods and taxes, to spreading the word about fund-raisers, special events and incredible people who do incredible things.

The area has had a local newspaper since 1955, when the Northville Record opened.

Just as we've promoted the "buy local" concept in an effort to push local consumers to locally owned stores, we're urging folks to invest, to engage, in the Northville Record. Advertising budgets are tight, we know, and household budgets are also tight, but if we support each other, we'll make it through.

Here's what you can do to help the Northville Record. Urge merchants to advertise. Patronize local merchants who do advertise. Don't forget to tell merchants that you saw their ad in the Northville Record. Purchase an annual subscription to the paper. The newspaper industry is in transition with print and online editions. But that transition is incomplete. So if you read us free online that's fine, but it's important to pay for the print subscription - that's the only way we can afford to sustain that hyper-local Web site. Each issue of the Northville Record contains items that support local causes, local events, local people. We're here to shine the light on the good, to evoke conversations, to support local businesses and to provide a forum for healthy debate on local issues that affect you. We want to be around for many years to come. You can help.

For subscription information, call (866) 887-2737 or for local advertising, call Ed Fleming at (248) 349-1700, Ext. 229.

Open Meetings Act case dismissed

Soon we will have no newspapers left that report on the actions of our government and open meetings will be a thing of the past. Closed-door politics have returned to Northville Township. ### LETTERS

Thanks to Mike Ladwig

My thanks to Mike Ladwig for his thoughtful and succinct letter of May 21, lauding Nancy Darga. Councilwoman Darga truly treats spending our Northville money as if she were spending her own money, a trait we expect from our elected officials.

Nancy Darga's concern over spending $30,000 for petunias made sense. While another council member states, "I think the city needs to look as good as it can when people come into the city ... I think we should spend this much ($30,000) or more, to add color and beauty to the city."

In good times, yes. However, these are not good times. The city is looking to cut costs at every opportunity -- reducing city employees, reducing the number of police

People will not come into the city to see empty stores, even if we have flowers in abundance. We need businesses and we need to support those businesses!

Thanks again to Nancy Darga and Mike

Make government lean

It's no secret that Michigan pubic and. private sectors depend on each other for survival. Home values fall, businesses fail, tay revenue shrinks, and government stinks. Well, not all government stinks, but some services and processes take so long or have such inefficiencies built into them one might expect them to stink -- literally.

During this period of belt tightening we see federal, state, and local governments all cutting headcount or reducing services as they attempt to "make do, with less". However, anyone removed from the workforce, as well as some who are still in the workforce, knows that long-term organizational survival (private or public) is the result of process efficiency; efficiency in designing products and services that meet customer requirements, efficiencies in delivering products & services at acceptable costs, and efficiencies in leadership making informed and ethical choices about how to address the challenging fiscal tasks faced by almost every business and at almost every level of government.

But in my opinion, our leaders overlook an obvious resource that could make a huge impact on the efficiency of our government processes. And, because southeast Michigan has a rich background in manuacturing, in process design. When the processes of government run efficiently, the costs are usually contained or at least minimized for the services being provided. In business, we call today's efficiency experts Lean Six Sigma Black Belts or some variation of those terms. These are people trained in either the Toyota manufacturing system (the Lean component, i.e. process waste removal) or the Motorola and GE defect reduction methods (the Six Sigma component; i.e. almost zero acceptable defects) or some are trained in both.

Asking Lean Six Sigma Black Belts (LSSBB) to help improve government processes or possibly streamline existing services could very significantly reduce operating costs. Companies have used this approach to save billions and billions of dollars - probably over a trillion dollars since the beginning. When used by governments, services improve and the need to cut employees is reduced.

At this point of our sustained economic downturn, even qualified and experienced LSSBBs are unemployed and may be willing to volunteer for their governments, if approached and simply asked to help. Volunteering with the local government is an ideal networking opportunity and for practitioners of the Lean Six Sigma methodology, it would provide a great chance to keep their skills sharp and help out at the

So, as an unemployed Lean Six Sigma a government agency or department needs a process defined, measured, analyzed, improved, and controlled, I'll do it for free. Just e-mail your request. First come, first ichigan needs to reform, restructure and reinvent government at every level.

Is it fair to expect the presidential "tough love" being shown to the Detroit auto industry would also be applied to Michigan and other units government that have been equally resistant to change?

Two years ago, then presidential wannabe Barack Obama called the Detroit

automakers out. He told the Detroit 3 they must mass produce fuel-efficient cars — period!

The auto industry's refusal to act for so long has lest it mired in a predicament for which there is no easy way out. The auto industry is on a path that is unacceptable and unsustainable -- for their business, for their workers and for America" candidate Obama lectured the auto industry then.

Now president, Obama recently made good on his threat, announcing automakers would be required to meet much tougher emissions requirements. Given the fact that two of the former Big 3, Chrysler and GM, are now controlled by the federal government because of massive, multi-billiondollar taxpayer loans, it is no surprise they went along.

Yet, once again, it is the president's words of "change" that need to be analyzed, not just against this long fought auto issue but juxtaposed to how the state of Michigan has operated for decades as well.

Shouldn't we expect government to change at least in proportion to the change being thrust on the private sector that has historically paid the government bills?

Take the above quote and, as I do below. . replace the word "auto industry" with "state government." You will see there are some obvious parallels: "the state government's refusal to act for so long has left it mired in a predicament for which there is no easy way out" or "state government is on a path that is unacceptable and unsustainable ....'

How about when President Obama demanded that GM and Chrysler "restructure, modernize, and make themselves more competitive." Doesn't this seem like a reasonable request that also be made of our state government?

The president in a recent speech said, Year after year, decade after decade, we have seen problems papered-over and tough choices kicked down the road, even as foreign competitors out paced us. Well, we have reached the end of that road."

Does this also sound like how Michigan has been governed for far too long? Michigan's economic woes continue to mount. Our unemployment rate hit 12.9 percent in April, the state's highest monthly rate since hitting 13 percent in November 1983. Further, the state's "economic experts" reached a consensus that Michigan's unemployment could average as much as 14 percent this year and 15.3 percent in 2010.

In spite of this reality smacking us in the face, the governor and Legislature have yet to take sufficient action to address the mounting structural deficit or next fiscal year's annual budget shortfall that is predicted to eclipse $2 billion. This shortfall comes after using $1 billion from the federal stimulus money and $300 million in hard cuts as a tourniquet to address this fiscal years budget anemia.

Increasing taxes, even closing tax loopholes, without significant restructuring and reform of government at all levels would be the equivalent of thinking that raising the price of domestic cars would "fix" their structural problems!

THE TIME IS NOW FOR REAL CHANGE

It is time Michigan heeds the repeated calls the president has made of the domestic auto industry and his campaign mantra · "Change!"

We have watched the domestic auto industry shed jobs by the hundreds of thousands and diminish our tax base over the past decade or longer. Today it is no longer eroding. It has imploded.

The tiny particles of sand that our state leaders are attempting to build upon is the obliteration of the once solid automotive foundation upon which our government largess has been built.

Clearly, our units of government at every level must change their behavior in direct proportion to the change taking place in the private sector.

Michigan can not simply cut nor tax its way out of the disruptive, transformational, global change taking place. It will require a new vision, imagination and radical reform -- not just collecting more money to support yesterdays government structure.

President Obama has it right. Michigan, not just the auto industry, must "restructure, modernize, and make themselves more competitive."

The job search: When experience is necessary

f you are a recent graduate or a career changer with little to no work experience in the field you are targeting, how do you get around the 'experience required' obstacle? Volunteer – find an organization that accepts volunteers and ask to work on projects that will develop skills and experience in the areas that you lack. Keep examples of your work product to build a portfolio you can show to prospective employ ers. Network with other volunteers or

staff members as you build experience and skills to find real job opportunities and use your contacts to give you referrals.

Job shadow/Internship - find an organization that employs people in the kind of job you want to do. Ask if you can shadow someone for a day or two to learn more about the job. Offer to intern free of charge to gain experience, skills, and referral contacts.

Mine your past education and work - re-examine the courses and work you have done in the past and look for examples of knowledge, skills, tasks that you've already demonstrated that are related to your target. For example, if you are interested in journalism now, and had responsibility for writing an employee or customer newsletter in the past, add some examples of your work to your portfolio and be prepared to discuss how your process for writing the newsletter is similar to reporting.

Join Professional Organizations - become active in a local chapter of a professional organization related to your job target.

Join a committee that interests you and take an active role. You'll have a chance to learn more about the field, work closely with members who have established careers, and demonstrate your transferrable skills. You'll be able to network with your colleagues to find entry level positions that are in your chosen

Work as a temp - register with a few temporary agencies and ask to be placed in jobs or with employers related to your target job. Again, you'll be able to demonstrate your transferrable skills and work ethic, meet people with established careers and network with them for opportunities to break into the field.

Use your network - when faced with obstacles, often your best way around them is to use your network. Conduct information interviews with people you work in the field you are interested in. Learn the ins and outs of the job. Pick up the jargon. Ask to be referred to other people who can tell you more. Practice explaining how what you already know and are able to do relates to the demands of the job you desire. Ask what your gaps are and find out if there is a way to fill them with some short term training or practice.

Precede your resume - if your resume does not have the expected experience, try to talk with an employer first, then follow up with your resume. Research employers who have the kinds of jobs you seek and try to get a referral in to talk with a decision-maker in your field. Be prepared to describe how you will be able to get up to speed quickly to meet their needs. Leave your resume as an extended business card.

Ask for a trial period - propose a tryout period. Take on a limited project for a fixed fee and deliver your best product.

Don't expect employers to hire you and put you through an extended training and education period. It's not going to happen. Seek out the training, experience or knowledge that you need to do the job at least at an entry level. You need to be prepared to solve the employer's problem, not create more problems.

Northville's Szukaitis honored as Teacher of the Year

Wayne County RESA event held May 5

An admired and trusted teacher and colleague, Northville High School science teacher Scott Szukaitis is a Wayne County Regional Educational Service Agency (RESA) 2009 High School Teacher of the Year.

Selected from among nominees from Wayne County's 34 school districts, Szukaitis, along five other Teachers of the Year - two each at the elementary and middle school levels and one other at the high school level - were honored on May 5 at the Wayne RESA 2009 Celebration of Excellence in Education at Laurel Manor in Livonia. Teacher of Year candidates are nominated by their local school districts and those written nominations are then reviewed and scored by a formal screening committee.

"Scott sets himself apart as a teacher by connecting directly with students and understanding their individual learning needs," said Northville Superintendent Dr. Leonard R. Rezmierski. *Each and every day in his classroom he goes beyond expectations in terms of how he personalizes the high school science curriculum to offer opportunities for learning success for all students.

This recognition is well deserved. We are all - students, staff and parents - fortunate to have Scott as part of our team."

In particular, Northville High School Principal Rob Watson recalls an opportunity he had earlier this year to observe first-hand Szukaitis's outstanding commitment to his students.

A learning disabled student in Szukaitis's Michigan Natural Resources class was having tremendous difficulty processing one of the projects required for the class. The assignment called for students to identify an environmental issue and offer a solution, including citing articles, in a written report. The student's idea was to create a fire suppression system for the barn located at nearby Maybury State Park using a water tower to pull water from a local creek. It was an extremely innovative and well-thought-out concept. However the student was having great difficulty conveying his idea in writing.

"Sitting in the conference room outside my office, Scott worked side-by-side with the student as he drew a picture of his concept and explained how it would work," Watson said. "As I watched the assignment play out and the interaction between Scott and the student, I was at a loss for words.

"Scott directly connected with the student's strengths in a way that allowed the student to experience success and feel good about himself. It was a great reminder for me of the incredible difference we as educators can make in the lives of our students."

As a teacher, Szukaitis actively shares his passion for the environmental sciences with his students through experiences that enable them to see first-hand how they can make a difference. He regularly takes advantage of the school's proximity to Maybury State Park and Maybury Farm. Working in partnership with the farm's staff, Szukaitis and students in his Michigan Natural Resources and Advanced Placement Environmental Science classes develop, plant and maintain the 15,000-square-foot organic garden at Maybury Farm.

Skilled in global positioning system mapping, Szukaitis also works with his students to coordinate the planning and implementation of the popular corn maze enjoyed each fall by visitors to Maybury Farm.

In addition, Szukaitis has published numerous research articles and has served as a consultant to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the U.S. Forest Service.

A self-proclaimed member of the video game generation, Szukaitis is keenly aware of all the high tech distractions teachers must compete against in reaching students today. This is why he has thoroughly integrated technology into his teaching. In addition to the use of visuals, video, PowerPoint and multiple media in the classroom, Szukaitis's classroom is available 24/7. All handouts, lectures, review materials, MP3 sound files and other resources are available for students on-line for "any-time, anywhere" learning. And, while students use their textbooks as a resource, Szukaitis encourages students to take advantage of what he calls the "most powerful research tool man has ever known" — the Internet.

Technology presents creative ways to reach students with multiple learning styles while simultaneously providing external stimulus to capture and hold each student's attention," Szukaitis said. Today's classroom doesn't need to be a video game, but it does need to challenge the distractions present in students' everyday lives in order to capture and hold their attention."

Szukaitis's commitment to his students often stretches well beyond the traditional school day. As the boys' varsity track and field coach he oversees more than 100 athletes coordinating practices, meets and invitationals. In the offseason, he serves as an athletic coordinator for the high school Athletic Department supervising athletic events from cross country, to swimming, to hockey. In past years, he also has coached the high school's Science Olympiad Team.

"I believe students are motivated to try harder, both in the classroom and at home, and are more receptive to constructive criticism, when they feel that their teacher genuinely cares about their achievements as individuals," Szukaitis said. "As a student, I remember each of my former teachers that I saw in the crowd at an extra-curricular event of mine and I know how much it meant to me. I try to do the same for all my students.'

And he does, says Watson. "It is obvious both in and out-. side of school that students see Scott as someone who respects them, believes in them, and has their best interest at heart," Watson said. "For students, this kind of unconditional support can only translate into success in school, and in life."

value of real estate, saying the suggested price is unrealistic.

"Demand dictates price," Tulley said. "With little or no demand, the value of this property is significantly less than the township is proposing."

Mark Abbo, township super-visor, said the township has an appraisal that values the land at $30 million. As far as the current recession, Abbo said, "It is exactly the current economic situation that has created this opportunity for the township. We never had the opportunity before because the state was never willing to do that.'

Abbo said according toreports over the last month have shown that the economy seems to have "bottomed out."

"If there's any pain still to be seen from the economy, we hope that will turn around in the next year or so," he said. "The purchase of this property will benefit Northville Township for generations to come."

IS AGREEMENT ONE-SIDED?

The Highland Lakes residents believe a purchase agreement in the works between REIS and the township is heavily one-sided in favor of REIS, and that, in fact, purchasing this property relieves the seller of many responsibilities and allows REIS to retain prime property along Seven Mile and Haggerty roads for commercial development.

The residents also believe that the proposed purchase agreement gives all of the responsibility of the cleanup of the contaminated former psychiatric hospital property to the township, even though there is financing available through a brownfield redevelopment plan.

The township gains little, and, again, the seller is rewarded," Tulley said. He added that the cleanup won't begin until REIS begins developing the commercial property, which he estimates is realistically at least 10-yearsplus out.

"We made an offer to them to speak to them about what the proposal is all about, and it was turned down. We intend to share all information with our residents and let the voters make an informed decision about whether they should vote yes or no on this millage question."

MARI ARRA, Northville Township Supervisor

"The reason it's important for the developer to retain a good portion of the property is that enough critical mass is needed in order to create the tax increment financing for the brownfield to work," Abbo

CONSENT JUDGMENT INEQUITIES?

The association members also believe the proposed purchase agreement doesn't address many of the inequities of the consent judgment between the township and REIS regarding tree protec-tion, traffic and the size of big-box retail within the commercial zone.

"These items should have been negotiated, and an amendment to the consent agreement requested," Tulley

Abbo said the proposed purchase agreement reduces the commercial development by 50

The result is a significant reduction in traffic, and we save the rest of the trees," Abbo

Highland Lakes residents also feel that adding to the purchase price is the cost of security and maintenance of the property that will drain township resources, while the contamination and dangerous buildings are allowed to remain on the property. "We feel this (security and maintenance of the property) can be done very effectively and efficiently by township personnel," Abbo said, and that the cleanup can be done through the brownfield, under the direction of township staff.

"It cost the township more to maintain the property before REIS purchased it," Abbo said.

Finally, if the township were to purchase the property, the residents believe that the proposed future use of the property is unclear, and that it is also not clear if the community could sell the land later for development.

"Although we would like to support the purchase of the property from REIS, we request that the purchase agreement be renegotiated and the millage request be postponed," Tulley said.

Other Highland Lakes board members included Kathleen Connor, Joy Gaskin, Steve Lone, Cathy Baldwin, Judy Nakdimen and Maureen Osiecki.

"I would much rather see the township funds spent toward additional police protection than on the purchase of this property," Tulley said.

ABBO DISAPPOINTED

Abbo said he was disappointed that no Highland Lakes residents spoke to anyone from township administration before adopting their resolution.

"We made an offer to them to speak to them about what the proposal is all about, and it was turned down," Abbo said.

He said there will be more information forthcoming in the next few months on the proposal.

'We intend to share all information with our residents and let the voters make an informed decision about whether they should vote yes or no on this millage question," Abbo said.

Abbo said the intended use of the property is park land with trails and passive recre-

"This would eliminate any impact on the school district since no homes would be built on the property and would create enormous opportunity for future generations," he said. "The average resident would pay only $50 a year to fund the proposed millage (to pay for the property."

Claude Ely Award

Northville Mayor Chris Johnson presented the Claude N. Ely Award to Sue Ellen Hooper for her dedication to the Housing Commission at this year's Boards & Commissions Reception May 12 at the Northville Community Senior Center. Ely, who was known to his friends as "Pete," was the city's first mayor. He also served as the last president of the Village Council before the Village of Northville became a city. Ely died in 1958 midway into his second term as mayor, Johnson said while recently reading the centennial edition of the Northville Record, which was published in 1969, he noticed that more than 10 years after Ely's passing there were numerous references to "the late Mayor Ely" that reflected the respect the community had of his efforts. After he died, group of his friends got together to find some way to honor his memory. Since Ely had valued citizenship as an important quality in people, the group decided to name an award after him that would recognize outstanding citizenship to the community.

Long's 60th anniversary celebration Friday

Food, music, door prizes slated

STAFF WRITER

Times were a little different when Long's Plumbing Company started serving the Northville community 60 years ago.

George Orwell had just written the book "1984," and 45 rpm records were introduced.

Chairman Mao Tse Sung assumed power in China, and Johnnie Ray performed at the Flame Showbar in Detroit.

Tomorrow, Long's Plumbing Co. invites their clients and the public to a 60th anniversary Open House from 6-9 p.m. at the store at 190 E. Main St.

The event will include food, drinks, free chair massage, door prizes, music and more.

STARTED IN HOUSE

Jim Long's parents, the late Glenn and Lois, moved to Northville in 1944 and started the company in 1949.

They started out in a house at Horton and Baseline," Jim Long said. In 1954, they constructed an office, showroom and warehouse facility on Seven Mile Road. In 1964, they constructed a building where Edward's Café stood for a number of years on Dunlap Street. The large showroom highlighted plumbing fixtures and plumbing repair parts. In 1970, a portion of the showroom was dedicated to bath and kitchen remodeling, which laid the foundation for today's Long Kitchen & Bath Design.

In 1974, the building at 190 E. Main Street was constructed. Residential heating and cooling services were added in 1999.

"It was a real team effort with my mom and my dad," Jim Long said. "My dad made sure the work got placed, and my mom answered the phone and took care of the company books. As a young kid growing up, I never had a baby-sitter. I was at the warehouse and the plumbing yard. That was my playground."

STARTED FROM SCRATCH

They started the plumbing business from scratch after both being from farming communities and experiencing the Great Depression.

"It was a pretty aggressive move for them at the time," Jim Long said. "They built it into a viable business.

At the time, Glenn Long worked at Pontiac Motor making rifles for the war effort.

At the house he was renting, the landlord came in and did some plumbing remodeling, and my dad was intrigued by it," Jim Long said. "He was a great mechanic and could work with his hands."

THIRD GENERATION

Now Jim Long and daughter Allison Long, a Northville High School graduate who studied business management at Western Michigan University, run the company.

She is secretary/treasurer of the company and has worked fulltime with her dad for two years since college graduation.

is plumbing and mechanical piping. For instance, Long's Plumbing did the plumbing work for Northville High School and the new South Lyon East High School as well as the Northville District Library. The Longs employ pipe fitters and sheet metal workers and is an open shop (non-union) firm. They also have a sheet metal fabrication shop on Gerald Avenue in Northville.

"When I came on board, it was pretty much a mom-and-pop plumbing shop," Jim Long said. The business peaked a few years ago with 120 employees and now has just over 40.

"We're hanging in there," he said.

In 1982, he opened an office in Tampa, Fla., called JR Long, Inc., that he sold to three employees in 2005.

The Northville firm does commercial, industrial and institutional work, including school, municipal, industrial, food processing, retail, office and medi-

The most visible part of the

'We're lucky to have a lot of real good customers in town who have been with us for many years," Long said.

"We're fortunate that my parents chose Northville in which to start their business."

The business does not do plumbing for new homes, just remodeling work, with Long adding that remodeling one's kitchen and bathroom can go a long way toward getting a home ready for sale.

TRENDS MOYE AWAY FROM TRADITIONAL

Designer Karol Gore who works for Long's Kitchen & Bath Design, said homeowners are moving away from traditional designs to a more transitional or contemporary look these days.

"We still get some of it, but the Old World theme is not that prevalent," Gore said. "We're seeing a lot more clean and simple lines and a lot of glass."

Homeowners are becoming more creative with tile, as well, in greater depth than ever before, including wall features, not just backsplashes, but tile cover bathroom walls.

"We're doing a lot more tile on the walls," Gore said. "People like the function of it as well as the aesthetics."

Tub kits were the big thing as late as 2000, but Long's hardly ever receives requests for that bath format now.

"Tubs aren't the main draw," she said. Most people remove their tubs and are asking for walk-in showers." Gore said many people are requesting performance features in showers that used to be reserved for tubs. Those who do still want tubs are using them more for therapeutic than cleaning purposes. "We're seeing more air tubs (that blow air through the water instead of water) versus whirlpools," Gore said.

"It's a lot more relaxing - moré of an effervescent allover feel," she said. Long's has a combination tub that offers the best of both worlds - the air tub and the whirlpool.

"Men typically like the whirt-pool, especially after sports." Today, even heated backrests are available.

COLORS FOR TODAY Warm tones, capitalizing on the whole organic, "green" concept, are popular now in baths and kitchens. Browns and greens have consumed our industry," Gore said. "You will see some teals and pastels in glass tones." Customers are also requesting larger pieces of glass, such as 6 feet by 6 feet or 3 feet by 6 feet pieces as opposed to mosa-

Although she has no formal training, "Tve been creative my whole life," Gore said. "As a kid, I built dog houses and took wood shop, metal shop and drafting in high school and was a hair dresser. I was always hanging out with my dad when he was building things." She said when Long's hired her six years ago, her career exploded.

They saw something in me that I didn't see in myself and gave me the opportunity to grow," Gore said.

"She's very talented and has done a wonderful job for us," Jim Long said. "All of our designers are talented." Other designers at the shop include Lori Mounts, Kathy Gibbs and Priya Niskode.

Kyle Hunt, marketing director, for the company, noted that more people are interested in "green" bath and kitchen prod-

Northville tennis claims state title in doubles

The Northville Mustangs and Novi Wildcats both won big at the MHSAA State Tennis Championships. The two teams tied for fourth overall, with the Mustangs pulling off the upset to take home the state championship in doubles.

Northville's girls tennis team was ranked sixth all season, but were able to peak at the finals. It took a solid team effort to tie Novi for fourth place with 17 points. Midland Dow finished first, Ann Arbor Pioneer was second and Grosse Pointe South finished third, inching past Northville and Novi by one point.

We were so excited with our finish. A tie with Novi at the regionals and states is something that I didn't think we could achieve at the beginning of the season," said Northville coach Sandra Woolfall.

.In doubles play, senior Valerie Juan and freshman Mackenzie Powers were able to battle through the first two rounds only to have to play No. I Midland Dow in the third round. They were able to upset them 6-4, 6-3, and moved on to battle No. 3 Ann Arbor Pioneer. The final went three sets with Juan and Powers

Three Mustangs soar at girls track state finals

Two Northville High School athletes claimed all-state honors at the girls Division I Track and Field State Finals last weekend at East Kentwood

High School. Leading the way was senior pole vaulter Amy Reynolds, who cleared 11-2, good enough for fourth place. The top jump came from Rockford's Sarah Birkmeier, who set a new MHSAA finals record with a jump of 13 feet.

This was Reynolds' first all-state honor and she will be competing at the Midwest Meet of Champions and Jackson High School this weekend. Only the best seniors from Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Indiana get invited to the Midwest Meet, and coach Kerry Barnett is expecting a strong showing from Reynolds who boasts a season-high vault of 11-6% earlier this season.

Also joining Reynolds on the all-state team was sophomore Elizabeth Roach. Roach finished sixth in the high jump with a jump of 5-5. The winner jumped 5-8

Pole vaulter Michelle Steslicki was the other Mustang competing at the finals, finishing just outside of the top eight with a pole vault of 9-2.

The eight points earned at the state meet was one of the highest point totals for the team in recent years.

Mustang baseball team advances to regionals

A pair of strong pitching performances last weekend lead the Northville High 1111 School baseball team to a district championship and spot in the regional finals.

Senior David Uberti had four strikeouts and allowed only six hits in a 7-3 complete game win against Farmington Hills in the district final, and Kevin Fisher went the distance and struck out three in the opener, a 9-6 win against Novi. Fisher finished the season with a record of Kyle Breault hit a two-run home run, his 12th of the year, in the finals win. Senior Ryan Mullen had an RBI double and Dan Mills drove in two runs while Dylan Breault added an RBI.

In the opener, Bobby

Thomas hit a two-run home run to pad the Mustangs' lead, and Anthony Sergi went! 2-for-3 with three RBI and a stolen base. Senior Matt Deacon also added three RBI with a 2-for-4 performance at the plate.

The Mustangs will play Brother Rice on Saturday at Novi High School.

Smooth swings take linksters to states

A focused Northville High School golf team overcame howling winds and unfriendly course conditions to advance to the golf state finals.

Senior Wes Gates and junior Trevor Grigg led the way with a pair of 74s, pushing the Mustangs to a third-place finish at the regional finals last weekend at Taylor Golf Course.

"Our goal was to survive and advance to the state finals, and that's what we did," said coach Matt Stetson. "The course was long, the wind was up and the greens were fast, but our guys concentrated on hitting fairways and Senior Steve Brown shot an 82 while juniors Erik Goebel and Alex Bernstein shot 84 and 86, respectively.

Stetson said he didn't think it was the team's best performance of the year but "they did their job" by advancing to the finals.

Defense leads Mustangs to district softball title

The Northville High School softball team relied on a stingy defense and timely hitting to claim the district title last weekend.

Through two games, the Mustangs out-scored their opponents 11-1, including a 6-0 shutout of Farmington Hills Mercy High School in the district final. They beat Farmington High School 5-1 earlier in the day.

"We worked very hard on are hitting last week, and they showed that on Saturday," said coach Kary Couchman. The team played great as a whole."

Arastu hurdles to all-state honors

Northville junior Aliasghar Arastu proved he could match up with the state's best by taking home all-state honors in the 110-meter and 300-meter hurdles at the state meet last weekend.

Arastu finished second in the 300meter hurdles, .25 seconds behind East Kentwood's Deonte' Hurst, with a time of 38.26 seconds. He also finished seventh in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 14.83 seconds. In his third event, the 1,600-meter relay, the team posted 10th place finish, but was not good enough to earn all-state.

Northville totaled 10 points as a team, thanks to Arastu's accomplishments and some strong performances by other run-

The 3,200-meter relay team posted a season best with senior Jack Dalton completing a 1:57.6 leg and senior Noel Key running a 1:57.1.

Kevin Matay had a strong showing in the pole vault with a vault of 11-10.

Szukaitis said with several athletes come back next year, he hopes to build on the team's success.

Annual park cleanup day a huge success

More than 50 volunteers turned out at the Bennett Arboretum and Northville Recreation area in early May for Wayne County Commissioner Laura Cox's 5th annual Park CleanUp Day. The volunteers removed invasive plant species, weeds and debris, put muich down and planted 18 new shrubs. "It was a great turnout and we got a lot done," Commissioner Cox said. "Everybody was very enthused about making this park area better." Each volunteer received a pair of tickets to a Detroit Tigers game. ### Looking for great homes

American Association of University Women Northville – Novi is looking for a few great Northville homes to feature in its 14th Annual AAUW Home Tour. A highlight of the Northville Victorian Festival, the tour will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 19.

Typically homes featured are widely different in architecture and interior design, span three centuries of construction and reflect how families have adapt to 21st century living in a community with a Victorian village at its heart. Some feature attractions, to be announced later, are being added to the tour this year.

The home tour is the signature fund raising event of AAUW which directs its support to advance education in the local, national and international community. One of the ongoing local commitments is annual scholarship contributions to Schoolcraft and Oakland County Community College in addition to established endowments.

If you would like to discuss having your home on the AAUW Home Tour 2009 or would like to be a Home Tour volunteer, contact event Chair Dianne McCulloch at northvillenoviaauw@yahoo.com.

Art In Bloom

Take part in the growing cultural scene downtown as the The Northville Art House presents an all-media juried Floral Arts Show. Visitors will enjoy a unique and beautiful arrangement of mixed-media Floral Art created by local and regional artists. Exhibit will open with an artist reception on July 3, as well as be a special stop on the Country Garden Club Of Northville's Annual Garden Walk on July 8.

Deadline for submissions is June 15. For more information, contact Ellen Bennett at info@northvillearts. org or (248) 344-0497.

The rules of replacing and repairing damaged clubs

By Jeannie Myers

Everyone seems to know that a player may not start a round with more than 14 clubs. However, there is some confusion about when a club may be replaced during the round.

Rule 4-3 says that, "If, during a stipulated round, a player's club is damaged in the normal course of play, he may: use it in its damaged state for the remainder of the round, without delaying play, repair it or have it repaired, or if the club has become unfit for play, he may replace it."

The replacement may not unduly delay play and the player may not borrow any club from any other person playing on the course.

This leads us to two definitions.
What constitutes "normal course of play?" Obviously it includes making a stroke or practice swing, but also includes removing or replacing a club in the bag, using a club to search for a ball, leaning on it while waiting to play and accidentally dropping it. Normal course of play does not include throwing the club in anger, slamming it into the bag or intentionally striking something with the club.

Normal course of play does include using a club as a cane while climbing a hill, because that is considered a reasonable act. However, a club that breaks because the player has a habit of hitting the head of the club on the ground while walking to the next tee has not been broken in the normal course of play and may not be replaced.

Notice that the only time you can replace a club is when it has become unfit for play in the normal course of play. It has become "unfit" if it is substantially damaged, e.g., the shaft is dented, bent or broken, or the club head has become loose, detached or . deformed, or the grip has become loose. You may not replace clubs just because the grips have become wet. If the shaft of a player's club has become bent in the normal course of play, he has the right to try to repair it. If in the course of bending it back into its original shape, the player snaps the shaft in pieces, he may replace the club. A player may replace a club which has become unfit for play while practicing on the range during a suspension of play. And, in equity, a player may replace clubs that have become unfit because, while lying on the ground, they were damaged by a maintenance vehicle or a golf cart. For those of you who may become involved in a stroke play play-off, please notice that the play-off constitutes a new round, and you may replace any club, even it had been broken in anger.

A lost club may not be replaced

May 1st through Tine 21st

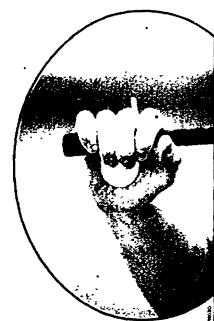

Reservations

because it has not become "unfit for play" during the normal course of play. And a player may not replace a club by borrowing one from another player playing on the course.

If a player does damage a club other than in the normal course of play, so that it is non-conforming or its playing characteristics have changed, it may not be subsequently used or replaced during the round. The penalty for using or replacing it is disqualification. Such is the unhappy fate of a player who misses a short putt, bangs the putter head on his shoe bending the neck of the putter, and then taps in the one inch putt with the damaged club.

Association of Michigan and also

HOW THE RANKING IS DETERMINED

The following formulas are used to figure out the Top 10 Northyille High School students:

Impossible.

1. GPA (Convert to a 4 0 scale - 7 semesters). Include only mathematics, English, science, social science and foreign language. Round GPA to three decimals then multiply by 250.

2. Combine either SAT (composite score divided by 1.6) or ACT (composite score multiplied by 27.779).

3. Total score is the GPA + SAT or GPA + ACT.

From Our Lady of Victory to valedictorians

■ Trio of former students tops at each of their high schools

BY NATHAN MENOLAN SPECIAL WRITER

Three former classmates at Our Lady of Victory (OLV) - Daniel McAree, Rebecca Guerriero and Stephen LaRouere - all agree it was hard work, not luck or coincidence that allowed them each to be selected as 2009 high school class valedictorians.

Paula Nemeth, new principal of OLV, said she was very proud and excited to hear of the former student's accomplish-

"We have a very strong academic and spiritual program. We not only share knowledge, it is our goal to guide our students in developing life skills such as perseverance, hard work, study skills, commitment, and compassion. We expect our students to perform at their best at all times, she said.

Nemeth added that it is students like these that help keep the school focused on continuing to grow and provide quality academic and spiritual programs and opportunities.

REBECCA GUERRIERO

Rebecca Guerriero attended the all-girl Mercy High School in Farmington, and chose to talk about the influence of all the friendships made during high school as part of her valedictorian speech.

"It's something you never forget, and will always have with you," she said. *Passion in what you do with your life, and not letting anything limit you is part of what I believe."

She was one of 15 students who earned a 3.95 GPA or higher during high school. They met with the principal and assistant principal to talk about their goals and inspirations, activities, volunteer work, and class load. After talking with teachers and other students for more input, the principals selected one class valedictorian and a salutatorian.

"I have four varsity letters: ice hockey, golf, forensics and Quiz Bowl," said Guerriero, who also wrote for the school newspaper. I'll be attending University of Michigan honors program this fall."

Special high school memories for Guerriero include her friends, the good food, movies, and the school uniforms

The strongest memory she'll take with her is 'Carpe Diem' the school's motto. Seize the day! A motto she says sums up her philosophy of life.

I can't say enough about my parents, Debra and Tim. Dad challenges me to think a little harder and stand up for what I believe in. Mom says go ahead and enjoy yourself, and the word 'doubt' is not in my vocabulary," Guerriero said. "I have two brothers, Ben and Nicolas."

She remembers her days at OLV and said there were 30 (plus or minus) students in her class. The school, she said, helped instill wanting to learn and to like books.

"Mercy made me comfortable learning," she said. "During my time here, I also was secretary general MUN (Model United Nations). We do what they do as far as economic committees, and all students are delegates representing a country."

Politics, sports, writing, speaking, and even drama costuming has been part of her life the past four years. Guerriero said she looks forward to the next four years of learning.

STEPHEN LAROUERE

Stephen LaRouere spoke to his graduating class at Catholic Central last month, reminding them of the great resources they received there in order to succeed in the future. "Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge" is the school's motto. LaRouere said. "I know our four years of high school helped us develop that skill."

LaRouere graduated with a 4.55 GPA. He will be attending Columbia University in New York, and will major in economics. He was on the varsity golf team all four years, and was selected team captain for the past two years. He also was student council co-president of the junior class, and sophomore class president.

"Going to Catholic Central was great. I met a lot of nice people there and many will be friends of mine for life," he said.

Another accomplishment he is proud of was becoming an Academic All American while in high school.

He took time to mention he likes comedy movies, rap and alternative music, some country, and says crab and shrimp

Stephen LaRouere (Catholic Central), Rebecca Guerriero (Mercy High School) and Daniel MacAree (University of Detroit Jesuit High School) were each named valedictorian at their respective high schools -- and each graduated from Our Lady of Victory in Northville in 2005.

are his favorite foods.

"My older sister showed me what I needed to be successful in school," he said. "Be committed, know who you are, and buckle down and study hard. I want to be a role model to my younger sister, so that if she ever looks at my decisions in life, she'll know what is best to do."

DANIEL MCAREE

Daniel McAree graduated from University of Detroit Jesuit High School, and was selected as one of six valedictorians from the graduating senior class. It's an all-male school.

McAree graduated with a 4.2 GPA, possible with advance placement and honors classes. A total of six graduates among the graduating class had A's all four years. They were asked to write a speech, but only one would be selected for presentation. McAree's was not chosen, but he was still a class valedictorian.

"It was definitely a lot of hard work there, but I buckled down and met the challenges," McAree said. "I'm truly better

He played up to three sports in a year, including hockey and soccer. The tough part in participating in more than one sport, he said, was balancing practices and homework.

McAree plans on attending Michigan State University and becoming an osteopathic doctor. He credits his parents for a great upbringing and is close to his older and younger sisters.

McAree stated his favorite things in live, choosing carefully: fettuccine alfredo, hockey, soccer, baseball, hip-hop music (at least for now), the Detroit Tigers and the

From his days at OLV, McAree recalls his K-8 classmates as a group of hard working students. He graduated OLV in What I'll remember most from high school is playing varsity hockey, especially because our team this year had 18 victories, the most the school has ever posted," he said. "I played center and also scored a few goals."

Aside from the sporting memories, McAree said the school's motto, "Men for Others," is something he will carry with him through life.

"Living for (others), and putting others first is something that will help me as I go through college and beyond," he said. "In high school you do what others tell you, but college is your own initiative."

Even though college life is more demanding than high school, McAree said that the college culture at MSU wouldn't define him, but rather he will form his own path and stay true to his

Garrett Quick receives ROTC scholarship to Notre Dame

Garrett Quick will be moving to South Bend, Ind. later this summer to start college at Notre Dame. The Northville resident received a full scholarship through Reserve Officers Training Corp (ROTC). The scholarship covers tuition, books, and lab fees. Quick gradu-ated from Catholic Central last month, and was a former student at Our Lady of Victory.

His parents, Chris and Geralyn, have lived in Northville the past 17 years. He has two sisters, Brett and Bryce, and a brother, Chad.

Quick plans on becoming a civil engineer, and eventually hopes to join the Army Corp of Engineers. He got the phone call three months ago informing him that he been selected. Quick had all of the paperwork submitted earlier this year in January. "I was quite excited to get the phone call informing me that I had been granted a scholarship," Quick said. "I learned about the ROTC scholarship program during a junior varsity academic awards banquet last year at school."

"I had the option of which school to apply the scholarship to - Michigan Tech, Purdue, or Notre Dame."

Attending Notre Dame with Quick will be his friend Dan Courtney, also an OLV student and a graduate of Catholic Central

Quick, who will turn 18 in July, listed some of his favorite things: James Bond movies, salads and rock music. He also is a Boy Scout, and is working on becoming an Eagle

The scholarship requires a fouryear army commitment. His ROTC weekly training, though rigorous, will not interfere with his college classes. His check-in date at Notre Dame is August 17.

BY ALISON BERGSIEKER ADVERTORIAL COORDINATOR

The simplest methods for treating back pain may actually be more effective than invasive surgical procedures commonly performed in

One Northville surgeon is partnering with a local rehabilitation center to offer patients an alternative option to surgery with a high suc-

Philip J. Mayer, M.D., a board certified and fellowship-trained orthopaedic spine surgeon with 30 years experience, has joined forces with Northville Physical Rehabilitation to offer a collaborative, non-operative treatment for patients suffering from back and neck pain.

Dr. Mayer has spent decades developing a specialized program that incorporates specific exercise treatments that strengthen and condition the supporting structures. The program is evidence-based and supported by the highest level of science possible.

"Most people with back pain do not require surgery," Dr. Mayer said. "There is strong scientific evidence based on high quality research studies that has shown that exercise-based, intensive spinal rehabilitation offers results superior to other forms of treatment with lasting value and fewer reoccurrences."

Dennis Engerer, PT and director of rehab at Northville Physical Rehabilitation, demonstrates a resistive neck device that strengthens the neck and all planes of motion.

Collaborative care

Northville Physical Rehabilitation, celebrating more than 24 years of growth in downtown Northville, began implementing Dr. Mayer's techniques in January.

*Dr. Mayer has some well documented and proven treatment protocols for neck and back patients that are all evidence-based," said Dennis Engerer, physical therapist and director of rehab. To have him on site is great because we can refer some of our patients that haven't responded to the typical treatment regimen directly to him next door.' The staff of 25 at Northville Physical Rehabilitation consists of physical and occupational therapists, physical therapy and occupational therapy assistants, personal trainers and exercise physiologists. "We have the staff, expertise and experience to treat a broad scope of diagnosis from simple sports-related orthopedic sprains/strains and joint replacements to longterm neurological d orders, such as multiple sclerosis or traumatic brain injury.'

The staff implements Dr. Mayer's protocols for back and neck injuries using the appropriate fitness equipment that isolates the muscles that support the spine. With Dr. Mayer located in the same building, he is easily accessible for patients and to the staff at Northville Physical Rehabilitation. "It's continual feedback between the patient, the physical therapist and the physician," Dr. Mayer said. "Most physical therapy groups run independently of physicians. My method melds very well with the philosophies at Northville Physical Rehabilitation."

Supported by science

A common risk of surgery in place of non-operative methods is the failure to relieve lower back pain symptoms and the potential for nerve damage. Spine fusions are a common practice among hospitals, and thus generate high revenue for health providers and implant manufacturers.

But many research studies support Dr. Mayer's conclusion that exercise-based rehabilitation can relieve pain over time without the need for operation.

We try to offer people treatment that is personalized and minimizes their risks while maximizing their success," Dr. Mayer said. "We are both very oriented toward patient outcomes. We really try to stay away from the politics of medicine."

Dr. Mayer brings a diverse amount of experience and credentials to Northville.

Dr. Mayer came to Michigan in 1989 to serve as head of the division of spinal surgery at Henry Ford Hospital. He later became associate clinical professor of both orthopedics and physical medicine and rehabilitation at Wayne State University. He's previously provided spinal surgery services for the Detroit Lions football team.

After graduating from the University of Louisville School of Medicine in 1971, Dr. Mayer did his internship and general surgery residency at the Medical College of Virginia.

He served in the United States

Navy as a lieutenant commander and general medical officer and later completed an orthopedic surgery residency at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry.

He then pursued fellowship training at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Harvard University and at the Duchess of Kent Children's Orthopedic Hospital and Convalescent Home, University of Hong Kong. Since 2005, Dr. Mayer has directed his exercised-based intensive spinal rehabilitation program and is happy to be a part of the Northville community.

This exercise-based rehabilitation program progresses slowly over an average course of treatment lasting two months at a frequency of two sessions per week," Dr. Mayer said.

"I use very little in the way of drugs but can provide medications if necessary. I've had excellent results with this program and find that exercise is the answer for most people."

Philip J. Mayer, M.D. is an Orthopedic Spine Surgeon with over 30 years experience. He is Board certified and Fellowship trained. Dr. Mayer is the former Head of Orthopedic spinal surgery at the Henry Ford Hospital, and Associate Professor of Clinical Orthopedies, and Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Wayne State University. Dr. Mayer has personally developed and managed a nonoperative rehab program since June 2005. Dr. Mayer offers a no nonsense, evidence based approach to evaluate and treat back and neck patients. When necessary, surgical intervention is recommended.
