Township gets grant for land buy

Award will lower purchase price on former hospital land by $2M

STAFF WRITER

A state board voted to award a $4-million land acquisition grant for Northville Township last week.

Actually, the award totals about $7 million, but there is a $4-million cap on awards recommended to the governor by members of the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund Board.

The board agreed to award Phase I of the funding next year, with the approximate $3-million balance to be awarded the following year.

With the awarding of the grant, developer REIS-Northville will receive a good portion of the grant and has agreed to lower the $23.5million purchase price on 51.01 acres the township is buying at the former Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital site by $2 mil-

Last August, township residents passed a millage that will fund the purchase of the former hospital property, which township leaders want to turn into a park.

"Coupled with the facts that the cleanup costs are supposed to be lower than expected and the interest rate on the bonds is going to be lower than predicted, the awarding of this grant represents a win-winwin for the township," said Mark Abbo, township supervisor.

Margie Banner, township trustee, and Grant Trigger from REIS-Northville drove to Lansing on Dec. 2 for the MNRTF Board meeting.

REIS-Northville is a partnership between developers Real Estate Interests Group and Schostak Brothers & Company.

Managing Our Future forums under way

BY NATHAN MENOIAN CORRESPONDENT

Northville public schools had $4.3 million in state aid slashed from their current budget last October, and administrators say the district is facing another $2 million in cuts for 2011-12.

To address what educational programs and services will have to be cut in order to cover the deficit, the Northville school district planned four "Managing Our Future forums. Two were held last week, one at Meads Mill Middle School, and the other at Hillside.

The purpose of each meeting is to find out what programs and services parents value most in the K-12 education of their children. Over 100 parents attended the Meads Mill forum, and the count at Hillside was near 90. Two more meetings were scheduled at Northville High School, Dec. 7 and 14, beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Each forum is structured with a variety of 20-minute presentations. An orientation talk is given by the superintendent, and then other administrators cover topics such as transportation and food service, high school programs, benefits, PTA Legislative Action Network, and other departments within the school district.

"We are fast and furiously" signing up bell ringers, and it's not too late for anyone who wants to volunteer," Moriarty said. Bell ringers take two-hour shifts. Judy Kohl signs up volunteers at Hiller's Market, the post office and Orin Jewelers. Those interested in ringing a bell can contact the Plymouth office at (734) 453-5464, ext. 24.

On Saturday, a competition will take place between the Northville Township and the Novi Fire Departments at the Six Mile and Haggerty roads Kroger from 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

They want to see who can bring in the most dollars with their bell-ringing," Moriarty said. "A fire truck will be on display, and the firefighters will be in their fire attire."

This time last year as of Dec. 1, we were at $61,823 in donations," Hull said. "This year, we're at $52,084, so we're about $9,700 lower."

Considering that a lot of people are unemployed, and those who are may not have received raises this year, that's not surprising.

Plus, with the stock market diving in 2008, many people are still suffering the consequences.

When we're emptying the buckets at night, we're seeing a lot of $1 bills, where last year we saw more $20, $50 and $100 bills," Moriarty said. "Money's just tighter this year."

"Plymouth and Northville residents are calling more frequently for assistance," Aren said. "Last year we had 467 families. This year, we already have 637 families in need."

The Salvation Army helps with food, utility bills, housing costs and other forms of assistance. A Faith Stimulus Grant for the newly unemployed from the Salvation Army territorial office in Chicago can also provide help with medical bills. The grant was matched by the Plymouth community United Way.

"We can provide up to $300 per unemployed person for medical costs, car repair or other needs," Aren said. "Everything is by a case-by-case basis."

"We have to stretch resources this year, so we're trying to compare lists with churches and other charitable agencies so the same families aren't being served multiple times and other families are falling through the cracks," Hull said.

The Adopt-An-Angel Program encourages local residents to purchase toys, clothing and even shoes for local needy children. Volunteers are asked to pick a child, and they will receive their first name, age, sizes and toy wishes and to spend about $50 and deliver the unwrapped items to the Plymouth Salvation Army office.

The parents then shop for their children from the Toy Town at the Plymouth office, so they can pick out items they think their child or children will like for Christmas.

Chicken donation helps feed area's needy

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Area agencies scrambling to feed a growing number of hungry, recession-ravaged families received a much-needed boost Thursday morning when a truck hauling 40,000 pounds of frozen chicken rolled up to a Canton distribution center.

In all, 21 agencies shared the gift from a nonprofit foundation called HEAR (Health, Education And Relief), a Chicago-based volunteer group also helping families in the Detroit area.

"We timed it for the holidays," said local HEAR director Mark McManus Sr., a Novi resident and chairman of Livonia-based New Horizons Computer Learning Centers.

HEAR bought the frozen chicken for a reduced cost from Tyson Foods and had it trucked in from the company's Springdale, Ark., headquarters to Norquick, a cold-storage, warehouse and distribution center in Canton.

"We're amazed by the generosity," said Ann Kalass, CEO for Inkster-based Starfish Family Services, which offers a wide array of family services in Canton, Garden City, Livonia, Dave Parker loads some of the 2,800 pounds of frozen chicken donated to Starfish Family Services. Starfish CEO Ann Kalass and client Chelsea Cloutier will take the load back to the agency.

Plymouth, Redford, Westland and other metro Detroit communities.

Starfish, alone, received 2,800 pounds of boxed, frozen chicken.

"It couldn't come at a better time than the holidays," Kalass said. "So many families are in crisis and struggling to find resources."

Kalass came to Norquick with Westland single mom Chelsea Cloutier, a Starfish client and Starfish Head Start executive board member whose 3-year-old son attends a full-day preschool program while she works and studies for a bachelor's degree she expects to receive in August.

"The holidays can be so stressful," said Cloutier, 25, studying business administration and finance.

Ed Hingelberg, a Plymouth City Commission member and operations director of Detroit-based Cass Community Social Services, said the 3,200 pounds of frozen chicken CCSS received will be stretched to feed as many needy families as possible by using it in soup, chicken salad and other meals.

"I can't tell you how much this helps us," Hingelberg said, standing with McManus outside Norquick on a gray, drizzly Thursday morning that somehow seemed a little less bleak after HEAR's food shipment arrived on Canton's north side.

"When the economy is down," Hingelberg said, "the need goes through the roof."

Cass Community Social Services provides help ranging from meals for the homeless to emergency shelter to vocational opportunities.

McManus said HEAR worked with another nonprofit organization, Northville Civic Concern, to seek out agencies needing food to help their clients. McManus helped oversee the frozen chicken distribution mere hours after he returned from a relief effort in Guatemala.

He said 100 percent of HEAR's donations are used to help people in need. Much more about the organization can be learned — and donations can be made — online at www.hearfoundation.org.

HEAR's shipment of frozen chicken came in 10-pound bags. Agencies received as little as 200 pounds and as much as 3,200 pounds.

McManus released a list of 21 recipients that included Active Faith food pantry of South Lyon; Blessed Hope Mission of

Lincoln Park; Cass Community Social Services; Central Detroit CDC; Faith Community Presbyterian Church of Novi; Forgotten Harvest of Oak Park; Fort Street Presbyterian of Detroit; Friendship House of Hamtramck; Grace Centers of Hope of Pontiac, Help's On The Way of Dearborn; Military Avenue Presbyterian Church of Detroit; Northville Civic Center; The Salvation Army in Farmington, Plymouth, Westland and Macomb; St. Christine's Soup Kitchen & Outreach of Detroit; St. James Catholic Church of Novi: Starfish; the Wayne County Family Center of Westland; and Western Oakland Meals on

Craig and Bonnie Butler know that photographs do more than capture the moment.

They create memories that last a lifetime. The couple used to operate their photography studio in their home and just moved Craig David Butler Studios to the Water Wheel Centre at 235 E. Main Street in Northville in April of this year.

"We've been in business since 2000," Craig

Rick Cox, owner of the building, told the couple the space at the Water Wheel Centre would be open at the end of February. We thought about downtown Plymouth, but it's so commercialized," Craig said. "We like the art feel that's downtown Northville. We're proud to be part of Northville." The Butlers' two daughters, Katie and Emily, attend Northville High School and are on the swim team.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

Craig's father, Harry, who went by H. W., was a wedding photographer for 35 years. "That's kind how I got into messing around in his darkroom," Craig said "doing some black-and-whites. I started using his cameras when I was in high

After high school, he wanted to become a photographer or artist, but his dad said, "The world will always need CPAs."

So, he got a degree in accounting, ended up with an insurance company, and 17 years later he was running a national division, selling specialty products to financial institutions all over

They put the marketing department underneath him, and he did some promo videos, pho-

Then in 1999, a relative asked if we could do a wedding," Craig said. "Because they liked it so much, and we enjoyed it so much, we decided that maybe this is something we should do."

BUSINESS FLOURISHES

Within a couple of years, the Butlers had 30-40 weddings on the book.

"I think our second or third year we had 53," Bonnie said. "It just really took off."

Shortly thereafter, the company Craig was working for was sold.

Once the wedding couples started having children, they returned to the Butlers for their baby photos because they had such a good experience with their wedding photographs.

Next came high school senior photographs. People tell us that we're different, and it's because we do cater to the customer," Craig said. Coming from a business background, we know how to treat people." Bonnie said when she and Craig got mar-ried in 1989, they were on a budget and hired a friend to take their wedding photos. Once they saw the photos, they wished they'd had the money to hire a professional.

"Our photos end up speaking miles," Craig said. "We like our brides and grooms to have fun, interact, and not even know we're there."

VIDEOGRAPHY, TOO

The Butlers also do videography at weddings. "We have the same philosophy with the videographies as we do with the photos, so we're rarely in people's faces," Craig said. "We don't do cheesy stuff."

Craig said they feed off the bridal parties. In other words, if they're goofy, the photos they take are goofy. If they're more traditional, the photos reflect that feeling.

We're in tune to the way they are," he said. "We try to capture some fashion poses and capture a lot of photojournalism in our wedding

TRENDY YET TRADITIONAL

The Butlers say brides and grooms today are looking for something different, creative, unique and unusual. Yet, they still gravitate toward the traditional shots as well - post-wedding groups, interaction with family and friends and intimate shots of the bride and groom.

Bonnie says they are able to obtain naturallooking shots through directed posing because they have fun with the couple.

Although Bonnie had taken a multitude of photographs over the years, she also had an accounting background and considers Craig the more artistic person in the business.

"I kind of moved into the accounting/marketing area," she said. "I second shoot with Craig. I have done weddings on my own, but I don't care to because I think Craig and I are such a great team because we feed off of each other. We bring two totally different visions to the day."

JOHN HEIDERISTAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

The Butlers also do same-day edits, producing video and still images of the wedding day at the reception. "It's a lot of pressure on Craig," Bonnie said. "I still don't know how he gets it done." Sometimes these include growing-up pictures and engagement photos.

CLIENT APPRECIATION EVENT

Every year the Butlers have a client appreciation event. This year's will be from 5-9 p.m. on

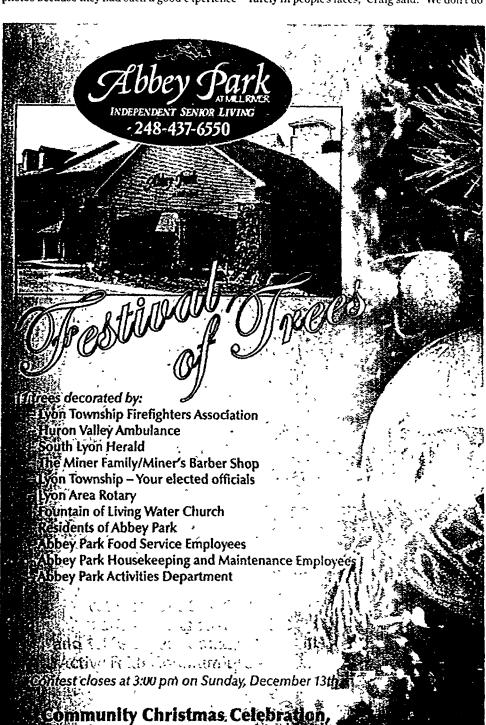

"Every couple who uses us for a wedding becomes a preferred portrait member, so they can come back once a year for a free session, Craig said.

They're developing something for their high school seniors called Club X, where people can come in and have photos taken with their friends. There's also a Baby Club for new par-

"We want to keep branching out," he said. Bonnie said the most rewarding thing about being a wedding photographer is that, "You know that you are giving someone something they will treasure forever."

Northville High School principal Rob Watson, right, and Hillside Middle School principal take turns discussing how the school district can save money by utilizing different block scheduling techniques during a public forum at Hillside on Dec. 3 about the financial future of the schools.

FORUMS

Other comments expressed concern over the district's handling of state funds

USE OF FUNDS

Some in attendance said they thought the district had mismanaged funds in asking the school board to approve administrative pay raises before state cuts were announced.

Ken Roth, school board president, said he was unable to discuss any of the negotiations that took place regarding the teachers' contractual pay raises, and as for the administrative pay raises, those discussions were under way months before state aid cuts were announced.

announced.
Northville's school superintendent Dr. Leonard Rezmierski said, "As of now, no decisions have been made about what programs, services, or staff persons will be affected. It won't be until January 2010, when the school board will make the tough decisions, based on recommendations from the administrative office."

That's why these meetings are so important, he said. "We need to hear from the community and are aggressively seeking their input on these very serious matters."

But it was evident at Hillside's forum, that transportation, food service, counseling, and extra curricular activities will likely be among the hardest hit.

If bus service were eliminated for all K-12 students, except those with special needs at Northville School District Superintendent Leonard Rezmierski discusses ways the district is looking at to save money during a public forum at Hillside Middle School on Dec. 3.

Cooke or Old Village, the district could save about $1 million. There are 65 bus drivers in the department.

Parents would need to drive their elementary and middle school students to each location, and that, undoubtedly, would cause traffic congestion and long lines in school parking lots.

Partial bus routes could be arranged, but each solution brings many problems. If just half the district's buses were in operation, students would be on buses longer while stopping at other schools before arriving at their facility.

One parent brought up an issue, calling it a hormonal concern. If fewer buses were operational, student age differences on those buses would give some parents cause for concern in gender-related issues.

FOOD CONCERNS

Food Service has an annual budget of $725 thousand with 48 employees. If that department is cut, all students will have to bring their own lunches, snacks, etc. The school would be unable to provide nutritious meals for the school population.

"Eighty-eight percent of our budget is staffing," Rezmierski said. "We're a people district, and these unfortunate cuts are going to change a lot of lives." Listening to a presentation on transportation issues, Rita Myers, a part-time bus aide in the district and kitchen coordinator at one of the schools, said she hopes the pending cuts will be across the board, and not so heavily stacked against a few. She's been working in the district six years.

"They're talking about my livelihood here. We gave up a lot on the last round of contract negotiations, including longevity, and took a pay cut—on top of our cost of living freeze. I don't mind sacrificing, but I don't think we should be the main ones," she said.

Tom Gallmeier, a Northville parent at the Hillside forum, said he doesn't think the state will be able to turn around the financial educational mess they're facing.

"I sent e-mails to our legislators asking them to reconsider the cuts to Northville. If you want a strong state you need a strong education, you just can't keep cutting."

Bright House, C-SPAN looking for student documentaries

Bright House Networks of Michigan is teaming up again with C-SPAN to encourage Michigan students to explore the national issues that are most on their minds by entering C-SPAN's 2010 StudentCam video documentary competition.

The national competition, supported by Bright House Networks is now in its sixth year. C-SPAN invites all middle school students (grades 6-8) and high school students (grades 9-12) to produce a five to eight minute video documentary.

Students for this year's competition will have the opportunity to produce a documentary on either of the following topics:

A) One of the country's greatest strengths; or B) A challenge the country is facing.

C-SPAN will award a total of $50,000 in cash prizes, which includes 75 student awards and 11 teacher awards.

"We are committed to supporting educational programs in our local communities, and this competition is a great program for students to not only become more familiar with the political process, but also learn more about documentary filmmaking."

COMPETITION GUIDELINES

Entries must represent varying points of view, and include C-SPAN video that supports the documentary's topic. Students, working alone or in groups up to three, can upload their entry form and videos directly online at www.stu-dentcam.org. Documentaries must be the original work of students; however teachers may provide guidance and critiques.

The documentaries will be judged by a panel of C-SPAN representatives and educators, and evaluated on a number of criteria, including the thoughtful examination of the competition's theme, quality of expression, adherence to the time limit, inclusion of varying points of view, and use of C-SPAN programming.

The deadline for entries is Wednesday, Jan. 20. Winners will be announced in March 2010, with winning videos to air on C-SPAN beginning in April of that year. Educators can register for updates and view competition details at www.brighthouse.com/studentcam.

StudentCam is sponsored by C-SPAN Classroom, www. c-spanclassroom.org, a free membership service dedicated to support educators' use of C-SPAN programming in their classes or for research.

Providence's Meyer named co-chair of Go Red for Women campaign

The American Heart Association announced Jean Meyer, RN MSN and Dr. Kavitha Chinnaiyan, MD as the 2010 event co-chairs for the Go Red for Women campaign. The campaign's premiere luncheon is slated for Feb. 24 from 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m. at the Detroit Marriott inside the Renaissance Center.

Heart disease is the number one health threat for women. This campaign aims to raise awareness and encourage women to understand their health risks. The co-chairs responsibilities include raising critical funds for research and education specifically for women's heart health and serving as local spokespersons at various events.

Meyer is the president of Providence Park Hospital in Novi. Prior to joining the Saint John health team, Meyer University in Bronx, NY. spent 15 years as the senior vice president and chief nursing officer at Saint Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis. Meyer focused her work on successfully collaborating with associates, physicians and hospital leaders in creating the highest and safest quality of care. She has dedicated her career to improving patient care through a high quality workforce, physician partnerships and effective operations. Her passion and vision is to do what is right for patient care.

Chinnaiyan is the director of advanced cardiac imaging education at Beaumont hospital. She received her undergraduate degree from Gulbarga University in India and continued her medical training at Albert Einstein College of Medicine of Yeshiva Chinnaiyan then continued her medical training at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Where she was the Chief Medical Resident. This led to a fellowship in cardiovascular diseases at William Beaumont Hospital, where she currently holds her position.

Go Red For Women is locally sponsored by Toyota, St.John Health Systems, Beaumont's Ministrelli Women's Health Center, The Autoclub Group, Comerica Bank, Federal Mogul Corporation and Right Management. # Northville OKs joint purchase of movie screen

GANNETT NEWS SERVICE

Dim the lights, pass the popcorn and let the and fall. entertainment begin.

Milford Township officials have approved an agreement to share the cost of an inflatable movie screen with South Lyon, Novi, Northville and Canton Township.

Northville and Novi officials have OK'd the plan as well, while the two remaining communities are expected to vote on it by the end

The agreement calls for the five communities together purchasing the screen and trailer for no more than $33,000 in total, or $6,600 each. The screen would be used

according to a pre-arranged schedule for special events such as the "movie in the park" program that Milford presents in the spring

Each community will be able to use the screen at least three times a year. It can't be loaned or leased to any other people or

The screen chosen for purchase is 24 feet wide and 13.5 feet tall, and can play DVDs or other video. Additional inputs are available for gaming or PC use. Audio can be transmitted through the speakers or FM radio.

Northville Parks and Recreation officials report that they spend about $3,100 for each time a movie screen system is rented.

"I want the residents to know that we're trying to find creative ways to develop partnerships with other communities," said Traci Sincock, director of Northville Parks and Recreation. "I think this collaborative program will benefit all of the participating communities."

Milford Township trustee Dale Wiltse questioned the expenditure. He had voted against it earlier this year.

"It seems like a lot of money for this use." Wiltse said.

However, fellow trustee Bill Mazzara noted the joint purchase will "pay for itself" in less than two years, since the township spends about $1,500 each time a portable movie screen is rented.

"This is an opportunity for residents to get something additional for their tax dollars," he said.

Township Supervisor Don Green said the agreement is based on the participation of five communities. Once the purchase is made, there will be no refund if one of the communities wants to drop out of the program. Any other communities interested in participating will have to wait for someone to drop out in order to come on board.

"And they will have to pay what we paid up front. (Those additional funds) can go to the municipalities or a maintenance pot," he said.

ing recommendations to Gov. Jenniser Granholm on park development and land acquisition projects across the state last week.

Lana Pollack, board chair, said $35.7 million was awarded for projects for next year.

Not all projects were funded for next year, as 175 applications totaling $108.3 million in park development requests were presented to the board.

FUNDING TO BE PHASED

Known as 09-174 Northville Township Linear Park Acquisition, the request was for the 51.01 acres to be purchased by the township to become a linear park that will be linked to the Wayne County Hines Parkway and Southeast Michigan Greentrails Network.

U OF M STUDENTS TO STUDY SITE

Hometown Weeklies | Thursday December 10, 2009

A graduate level urban planning class from the University of Michigan will be using the former state hospital site as a project for their winter semester class, according to Jennifer Frey, community development director for Northville Township. The class will begin in January and focus on data collection and developing and implementing a process for gaining public input. The final product will be a written document containing goals, objectives and findings. A team of five students will be assigned to the site. The team will act as consultants to the township. The project scope and details will be developed in the coming weeks. "I believe this will be a great opportunity for the students and the township," Frey said applications which received the "phased" funding on Dec. 2, one of which was the township's.

"What happens, I believe, is that we submit another appli-cation, but those that receive phased funding are approved first, and then consideration is given to the remaining applications," she said. REIS-Northville also put up $2 million, which was the required match for the grant application.

A steering committee has been formed to discuss what the township residents want to do with the newlyacquired land, which was to be purchased this week.

Members of the committee have said that with the awarding of this grant it will be easier to obtain other grants, such as one that would pay for the construction of a comfort station on the property. Forestry students could also study the land where the developer's logging operation last winter took place if it is left intact.

St. Mary tribute tree

The St. Mary Mercy Hospital Office of Development is continuing a holiday tradition this season with its Holiday Tribute Tree program. This program provides an opportunity for members of the community to honor the lives of loved ones, whether you would like to celebrate the birth of a child, an anniversary, recognize a member of the military or a cancer survivor, commemorate the passing of someone close to you, or honor a doctor or nurse who cared for your loved one as a thoughtful holiday tribute. Proceeds from the . Holiday Tribute Tree will benefit St. Mary Mercy's Transportation Services program, which provides van transportation for qualifying patients' travel to and from the hospital for procedures or treatments. $10 illuminates one light on the Holiday Tribute Tree; $50 sponsors a poinsettia; $100 sponsors an Angel; $500 will sponsor the Holiday Tribute Tree. For each of these gifts, a list of tributes will also be on display at the hospital. A commemorative tree lighting ceremony took place Dec. 8, marking the 50th Anniversary of St. Mary Mercy Hospital since its inception. For more information, contact the St. Mary Hercy Hospital Development Office at (734) 655-2980. St. Mary Mercy Hospital is located at 36475 Five Mile Road, at Levan, in Livonia.

OUR VIEWS

Winter driving calls for more cautious driving.

Snow will be here, so drive carefully

With snow on its way, it's time to prepare for winter driving.

That means remembering to slow down and drive at speeds under the posted limits when streets are icy and/or snow-covered.

Besides slowing down and paying attention, motorists should allow more space between their vehicle and other cars, extending the "three-second gap" rule when road conditions warrant it, according to police.

They should also clean the snow and ice off their windshields, mirrors, and side and rear windows before starting out to allow for clear visibility all the way around.

AAA and the Michigan Department of Transportation offer additional winter driving · Drive with your low-beam headlights illuminated.

 Accelerate and brake slowly and avoid abrupt steering maneuvers.

Watch for icy surfaces on bridges and intersections, even when the rest of the road seems to be in good condition.

 If you get stuck in snow, straighten the wheel and accelerate slowly. Add sand or salt under the drive wheels to help avoid spinning the tires.

 If your tires lose traction, continue to look and steer in the direction you want to go. If the drive wheels start to spin or slide while going up a hill, ease off the accelerator slightly and then gently resume speed.

· Look farther ahead in traffic. Actions by other drivers will alert you to problems and give you extra seconds to react.

· When changing lanes, avoid cutting in front of trucks, which need more time and distance than passenger vehicles to stop.

· Don't use cruise control in precipitation and freezing temperatures.

· Remember that four-wheel drive helps you to get going quicker, but it won't help you stop any · Apply constant, firm pressure to the pedal with anti-lock brakes. Keep the heel of your foot on the floor and use the ball of your foot to apply firm, steady pressure on the brake pedal.

· Always wear your safety belt and be sure children are properly buckled up. Don't text or talk on your cell phone while you are driving. · Allow sufficient room for maintenance vehicles and plows. Stay at least 15 car lengths (200 feet) back and, if you need to pass, go to the other vehicle's left.

LETTERS

Against anonymous opinions

For years we have always been told by your organization that a letter to the editor without a name would not be placed in the Northville Record. This requirement appears to have been dropped when it comes to the section under the heading In Your Voice.

I have taken the time over the years to answer a number of letters addressed to Letters to the Editor when I knew the writer's name and could secure and address from the telephone directory. Individuals who address comments to In Your Voice have made statements in some cases that are way off base. As a trustee, I would like to respond to them directly, as other trustees might, too.

As an elected official of the township, I'm willing, as are the other trustees, to answer questions good and bad that our residents ask. Each township trustee has a township e-mail address and can be reached by that process. I can't speak for each trustee, but I know for a fact they usually take the time to answer e-mails from our residents when they are addressed to their individual township e-mail addresses because they send their response to all trustees as a courichigan's government is sick - and new taxes without significant reforms are not the medicine to fix it.

New taxes with reform not medicine Michigan needs

Gov. Granholm is clearly attempting to mobilize the citizens to force another tax hike. She is using one people energized and generate heat on those antitax, legislative holdouts. Hence, the layoffs of state troopers and cuts to schools in general and an extra cut to schools in predominantly Republican, anti-tax districts.

The state is in economic free fall. In the end it will require, in this order, cuts, reforms and a new tax structure to fix it. We have cut and raised taxes but have not added the most important ingredient - reform.

Beyond reform there is another major flaw in the tactics and strategy by our state leaders in the following: it is a belief in government's legitimacy that allows a tax system to work. Today, Michigan's political leadership lacks the credibility that allows government to function effectively let alone the legitimacy to extract more taxes to protect a dysfunctional status quo.

The lack of legitimacy covers both political parties. Today, the majority of the voters see the state as broken and our elected leaders incapable of individually or collectively unable to fix it.

In order to raise or modify our tax system it is going to take the peoples' trust and belief that our government is effective, efficient and fair. Without these elements, which do not exist today, the average citizen feels no sense of duty to pay for what is seen as weak politicians, beholden to special interests, unwillingness to undertake necessary reforms to fix a broken and dysfunctional government.

It is the sense of fairness and legitimacy that allow government to function. This is being eroded, if not lost, in Michigan today.

In any system of government taxation, you will have the outliers complaining the system is unfair.

Yet, government is in trouble when wider and wider swaths of the citizenry feel the system is broken and those in charge are incapable of fixing what is wrong. That is where we are at today in Michigan.

John Cherry, Granholm's lieutenant governor who is running on her record to replace her, recently stated: "people are not happy with the capacity of state government to solve problems right now." I agree.

However, both the governor and lieutenant governor have concluded that they think a ballot drive may be the only way to create a tax structure that ensures stable funding for schools and other government services.

The irony is the voters have a built-in ballot proposal that is automatically on the November 2010 ballot. Under our state constitution, every 16 years the voters are asked: "Do you want to revise the state constitution?" If I were a protector of the status quo - I would fear what the voters will say on this question.

The citizens of Michigan will accept a change in the tax structure once they see the necessary changes and government reforms that will make our government efficient, effective and fair that have been avoided too long.

New taxes without reform is not the medicine Michigan needs.

IN YOUR VOICE

Northville Township residents protest proposed changes at Islamic center

Wow, an Islamic Center right next door and I never knew. Well, I am all opposed to putting up a parking lot with lights, and we all know that property values will drop when word gets out about the center, even though it's a house. But why not think smart and instead of putting in a parking lot, why not just put in an extended circular drive? If it's one of the homes I'm thinking of, they have all that room out front. By putting in a large circular drive they do not even need to go to the zoning board, and they can still accommodate the cars without ruining the look of the property, and it won't lower values based on the look from Eight Mile. Just a thought.

Northville Democrats urge all to vote in state's Supreme Court races

They say judges' decisions affect our lives

Northville Democrats say many residents don't even vote for Michigan Supreme Court judges. But, they should, because these judges make decisions that affect our everyday lives.

At the Nov. 11 Northville Democratic Club Town Hall Meeting at the Northville District Library, lawyers and politicians urged attendees to turn over their ballots in next year's election and cast their votes for the Michigan Supreme Court judges of their choice.

The speakers, organized by Fran Brenner, included Rep. Marc Corriveau (D-Northville); David Blanchard, an Ann Arbor attorney; Graham Teall, a Washtenaw County attorney; Lynn Shecter, a Bloomfield Hills attorney; and Jocelyn Benson, a Wayne State University law professor and secretary of state candidate in next year's election.

Teall explained that state Supreme Court candidates are selected at political conventions, but their political affiliations are not on the ballot.

DROP-OFF PERCENTAGE HIGH

In Michigan's history, there have been 33

Supreme Court judges since 1954, with eight incumbents being defeated. But, 17-34 percent of registered voters fail to vote for the judges.

'Our goal is to reduce this drop-off (percentage)," Teall said.

In 1998, Democrats conducted a pilot project in Northville in which six precincts were chosen in which volunteers walked and talked, made phone calls and worked the polls to encourage people to vote in the Supreme Court race.

'We need a grass-roots effort," Teall said.

CORRIVEAU: WHY IT MATTERS

Corriveau asked the group, "Why are we talking about the (Michigan) Supreme Court? Because it matters," he said. "It has an effect on our veryday lives."

The speakers said those who go to the polls and vote a straight ticket have not voted for judges or any proposals. Voters must review and vote on these as well. It's a two-step process.

SHOULD REFLECT OUR VALUES

"The Supreme Court should reflect our values," Benson said. She believes judges should uphold justice, equality, fair treatment and freedom. Benson said voters have the power to change who sits on the Michigan Supreme Court. The power of the vote is the most important tool we have," she said.

An Invisible Killer in Your Home

This is an invisible killer that is responsible for over 500 deaths a year, and over 15,000 people seek treatment from its poison. This poison is odorless, colorless, and is extremely toxic. This poison will kill you before you know it's even in your home. Thankfully, its poisonings are preventable. This invisible killer is called Carbon Monoxide (CO).

WHAT IS CARBON MONOXIDE?

Carbon monoxide is the result of incomplete combustion and can be released into the atmosphere by household appliances that are improperly installed or malfunctioning. Your home has many sources of CO. These include your furnace, gas stove, gas dryer, water heater, fireplace, automobile (in an attached garage), and spaces heaters to name a few.

EXPOSURE TO CARBON MONOXIDE

People who are exposed to CO poisoning experience symptoms similar to the flu

THE SAFETY ZONE

with the exception of a fever. These symptoms include; weakness, dizziness, headache (throbbing), nausea/vomiting, trouble breathing, and confu-

PREVENTION

Your best defense against CO poisoning, is a carbon monoxide detector. These detectors should be installed near laundry rooms, kitchens, and most importantly, sleeping areas. When purchasing a detector, be sure that is tested by a reputable agency such as underwriter laboratories (UL). Once you have installed your detector be aware of the difference between CO detector activation and smoke alarm activation and know how to properly respond to each accordingly.

ALARM ACTIVATION

If your Co alarm goes off, you need to determine if you are experiencing symptoms or not. If you are experiencing symptoms, quickly remove everyone from the residence and call 911. The Fire Department will respond and determine the cause of the CO leak and treat any victims for CO poisoning. If you are not experiencing symptoms and your alarm goes off, attempt to restart your detector. Turn off all your appliances including your furnace and call the Fire Department. The Fire Department will respond and determine the cause of the activation and advise you on what to do next.

The Northville Township Fire Department responds to numerous CO alarms throughout the year, but a majority of these alarms occur during the winter, because of the use of heating elements in homes. The Fire Department wants you to know that these alarms/poisonings are preventable just by purchasing and maintaining a CO detector. Don't be a victim take the steps to ensure a safe winter in your home.

Jason Raschke is a firefighter with the Northville Township Fire Department. He can be reached at jraschke@twp.northville.mi.us.or (248) 348-5807.

Hearing Aid Assistance for Seniors in Need

Dear Savvy Senior,

Are there any organizations that you know of that offer low-cost hearing aids to seniors on a very tight budget? Hard of Hearing

Dear Hard,

Unfortunately, there are millions of U.S. seniors with hearing loss that go without needed hearing aids because they simply can't afford them. Digital hearing aids are expensive, typically costing between $1,000 and $3,000 per ear, and most insurance companies including Medicare don't cover them.

But there's good news! Today, there are a number of organizations that offer hearing aid assistance programs to help those in need. Most programs have income requirements that you'll need to meet to be eligible, and they all require a hearing evaluation by an audiologist, which in most cases you'll have to pay for yourself. Here's where to look

LIONS AFFORDABLE HEARING AID PROJECT

Provided by the Lions Clubs International Foundation and offered through many local Lions clubs throughout the U.S., this program provides the opportunity to purchase new, behind-the-ear, digital hearing aids manufactured by Rexton, for $200 per aid. To be eligible, most clubs will require your income to be below 200 percent of the federal poverty level, which is less than $21,660 (or $29,140 for a family of two) in 2009. Contact your local Lions club to see if they participate in this project. To reach your local club, visit LionsClubs.org or call 800-747-4448 to get the number to your state Lions Club office, which can refer you to your community representative.

HELP AMERICA HEAR PROGRAM

Provided by the Foundation for Sight & Sound and the EarQ Group, this program provides free, digital hearing aids to individuals making less than $25,000 per year. All applicants must be referred by an EarQ hearing professional (call 866-432-7500 or see EarQ.com to find one) and pay a $75 non-refundable application fee. Visit Foundat ionForSightandSound.org or call 631-366-3461 for more information.

HEARNOW

A national non-profit program and part of the Starkey Hearing Foundation, HearNow provides new digital hearing aids to those in need, for practically free.

Your only costs are a hearing test by an audiologist and an application fee of $100 ($200 if you're requesting two hearing aids). To be eligible in the lower 48 states, your income must be under $18,403 (or $24,675 as a couple) with limited assets. To learn more call 800-328-8602, or visit Sotheworldmayhear.org/hearnow where you can download an application.

SERTOMA

This is a civic service organization that has over 600 clubs nationwide, some of which collect used hearing aids, have them refurbished, and distribute them to local, low-income seniors in need. Call 816-333-8300 or visit Sertoma.org to locate a club in your area. Next month, Sertoma is also launching Hearing Charities of America (HearingCharities. org), an affiliate program that provides hearing aids to those in need who don't live near a participating club.

AUDIENT PROGRAM

This nonprofit service helps people purchase new, digital hearing aids at discounts ranging between 30 and 75 percent. To be eligible, your income must be no higher than $27,075, or $36,425 for a family of two (the guidelines in Hawaii and Alaska are higher). Assets are not considered. Go to AudientAlliance.org or call 877-283-4368 for more information.

TRAVELERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA

They offer a scholarship trust fund to help pay for hearing aids to those who need assistance. There are no income or asset qualifications. Applications must be received each year by March 1. To download an application, visit www.tpahq.org or call 314-371-0533.

LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS

Depending on where you live, other hearing aid assistance programs may be available to you. Check with your Area Aging Agency (call 800-677-1116 to get your local number) or your state assistive technologies director (see www.ataporg.org for contact info.) to find out if there are any city, county or state programs or local nonprofits that can help.

Also check the local chapters of service groups such as Kiwanis, Knights of Columbus, Masons, Optimists, Elks, Easter Seals, United Way and Quota International. They, too, may offer assistance.

Savvy Tip: The Better Hearing Institute offers a comprehensive listing of hearing aid financial resources at BetterHearing.org - click on "Resources," then on "Financial Assistance."

If the Northville Mustangs wresting team needed any indication of how their season could play out, the Grand Blanc Invitational last week showed them it's going to be a scrappy one.

But scrappy is what the Mustangs are known for doing best, and proved so when they took second place in the tournament, finishing second behind Saginaw Swan Valley and ahead of perennial powerhouse Davison. Swan Valley is currently ranked first in Division III schools.

Drunken driver claimed life of Todd Schoenheide in April 2005

The Mustang wrestlers will take their memories to the mat this Saturday to honor a fallen teammate. Todd Schoenheide. NHS Class of 2006, is their inspiration as the grapplers host their third annual tournament in his name.

'He was the embodiment of the true athletic spirit with a dedication to excellence," remembers JV Head Coach Steve Minier.

The wrestling team rides on the spirit of their fallen teammate, who was killed by a drunken driver on April 10,

"It is hard to believe it has been over 3 years since the tragic events in 2005. We make every effort to keep him in our prayers and part of the program," said former coach, and NHS teacher, Jeff Balagna.

During his junior year, Schoenheide was killed less then one month after wrestling at the MHSAA Regionai Championship. An avid 17year-old cyclist, Schoenheide was returning from a Sunday afternoon bicycle ride to Ann Arbor with friends when he was struck at the intersection of Plymouth-Ann Arbor and Gotfredson roads.

Todd's father, Dale Schoenheide, appreciates the tournament. "I think it's pretty amazing that the NHS Wrestling Team has chosen to remember Todd in this way. It's a wonderful tribute to the caring, fun-loving person he was. He died doing one of his favorite activities because of a drunk driver. I'll always wonder what might have been." # Newly-formed local dance team earns high marks

■ Squad takes top-five spots in two different competitions

> BY SAN EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

There's a new team in town and they're definitely not afraid to just dance the night away.

The first-ever Northville Mustangs dance team was formed this year with the help of coach Tracy Kielb and 20 very eager athletes. The team, which has competed in two events so far this season, is earning high marks.

The Mustangs took two fourth-place finishes at the mid

America Dance and High Kick Championship, held at Eastern Michigan University earlier this year, and then went on to collect fifth and sixth place finishes at the UDA Great Lakes Dance Championship, held at Lake Orion High School, just two weeks later.

The Mustangs competed in the jazz and hip hop dance competitions during the Mid America Dance and High Kick Championship. The judges awarded the squad fourth place finishes in each of those events. They repeated their performances in the highly-competitive Great Lakes championship and were awarded fifth in the jazz competition and sixth for their hip hop routine.

The Mustangs dance team also participated in the Fourth Annual Oakland Dance Festival, held at Harrison High School two weeks ago, and were critiqued by dance instructors from the University of Michigan, Margrove, Western Michigan, Oakland University, Eastern Michigan and Wayne State University, among others. The team's jazz piece was selected to be performed at the Showcase Concert by the

Hockey falls to cross-town rival

■ Northville squad sees one of state's best teams in Novi

> BY SAM EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

It wasn't the game the Northville Mustangs boys hockey team had hoped to put up against their cross-town rivals, but it was the type of game that opened their eyes to what it takes to be one of the best teams in the state.

The Mustangs, coached by Jeff Hatley, fell to the Novi Wildcats last week, 7-1, in a contest that found the Mustangs struggling on several levels. The Wildcats-a team that Hatley said "may be the state's top team this season"--jumped to a 3-0 first period lead thanks to goals by Nolan Valleau, Brandon Juodikis and Tyler Perpich. They continued the onslaught in the second, adding goals from Matt Stemkoski and Perpich before landing three more goals in the final period off shots by Perpich, Stemkoski and Evan Dixon. Northville's lone goal came early in the third period when Robbie Thornborg won the face off, working the puck around and getting it to Brady

Milford's Johnson caps off career with 3rd title

SPORTS WRITER

Milford's Rachel Johnson capped her senior season in style with her third-straight 500 freestyle gold medal at the State Finals. She also showed her versatility with a runner-up finish in the 200 individual medley and earned All-American status for her times in both events.

Johnson is the 2009 All-Area Swimmer of the Year.

"Rachel's season was something out of the story books," said head coach Heather Lutz, "She set her goals at the beginning of the season and did all she could to reach them.

There is no other athlete on our team that has achieved that feat and I think it will be a very long time until we see that accomplished again. Rachel is deserving of every award and accolade she received since she has worked so hard to achieve them."

Some of accomplishments throughout the season include conference champion in the 200 IM (conference record), 100 backstroke (conference record) and as part of the 400 freestyle relay; set a pool record at the county meet in the 200 IM; was also county champ in the 500 freestyle; set Milford records in the 200 IM, 50 free, 100 breaststroke and 500 free; and broke Milford pool records in the 200 IM, 50 free, 100 butterfly, 100 free, 500 free and 100 backstroke.

Something important to Lutz and the rest of the team, was Johnson was also a vocal captain.

"As Rachel matured, she developed into a skilled leader as well." said Lutz. "She was almost like having an additional coach on staff. Rachel spent time talking with her teammates about how goal setting has helped her and role modeled the worth ethic it takes to succeed.

"She pushed the other girls in her lane beyond their limits and cheered at the side of the pool for everyone during meets. In addition, she demonstrated good sportsmanship with her competi-

Johnson leaves a record board with her name littered all over it and will take her abilities to the University of Toledo where she will continue to swim ??

FIRST TEAM

Katie Pohlman, Milford

The Maverick senior competed in four events at the Division 1 State Finals, the 50 free, 100 free, 200 free relay and 400 free relay. Both relay teams reached the finals. She was also part of the KLAA Conference champion 400 relay team and the runner-up 200 Rachel Green, South Lyon medley relay as a result of the effort she put into her training," said Lutz. "She dropped times meet after meet and was someone we could count on to score dual meet points or compete strong at any one of our qualifying meet.

One of the highlights for me was watching Katie swim state cut times at the KLAA Lakes Conference meet. It is wonderful to watch all that hard work pay

Haley Hilt, Milford

The Milford junior swam in three relays at the state meet, with the 200 and 400 free relays reaching the finals. She swam through a shoulder injury throughout the season but was a steady contributor regardless. She was also part of the conference champion 400 free relay team.

Despite her injury, Haley was a key contributor in both individual and relay events," said Lutz. "She typically swam sprint freestyle or breaststroke for us this season.

"At the state meet, Haley swam her lifetime best breaststroke relay split in the medley relay."

Morgan McGinnis, Milford

The sophomore also competed in all three relays for Milford at the state meet. She also was part of the conference champion 400 free relay team. She was called on to swim multiple events in all the major meets.

"Morgan's season progressed just as we had hoped," said Lutz. "She started off strong and continued to improve throughout the course of the season. Morgan can swim anything well, but she focused on sprint freestyle and backstroke.

"She had an outstanding conference meet and swam her lifetime best 50 freestyle split at the state

Paige Drazga, South Lyon

The junior finished fourth in the state in the 50 freestyle and earned an All-American consideration time of 23.87. She also scored in the 100 butterfly and was a member of the All-State 200 freestyle relay team and the 400 freestyle relay team that scored at the state meet. In addition, she was the KLAA Kensington Conference champion in the 50 freestyle and finished .... third at the conference meet in the Lyon record holder in the 50 freestyle and 100 butterfly.

"Paige was motivated this season to set new records and swim fast," said coach John Burch. "She also was a very good leader of the team. She is very motivated to have a successful season"

The freshman made quite a "Katie had an impressive season splash at the State Finals, capturing fifth place in the 100 free and eighth in the 200 free, earning All-State honors in both events. She is one of only three freshmen in the state to earn All-State honors in two individual events. She was also a member of the All-State 200 freestyle relay and the 400 freestyle relay team that scored at the state meet. She was also the KLAA Kensington Conference champion in the 100 freestyle and finished in third place at the conference meet in the 200 freestyle. Rachel is the South Lyon record holder in the 200 freestyle and 100 freestyle.

"Rachel is a very talented swimmer who helped our team greatly this season with her hard work and positive attitude," said Burch. "She is going to have a very successful high school career."

Monica Gironza, South Lyon

The senior capped a successful career with a fourth-place finish at the State Finals with an All-American score. It was her third All-American score of the season. She was the KLAA Kensington Conference runner-up in diving. Gironza is the South Lyon varsity record holder in both the six-dive and 11-dive events

"Monica injured herself last season and just missed the state meet, so to come back and have a career-high finish at the state meet is a great accomplishment," said Burch. "She has had a great career in South Lyon."

Maddy Kipke, Northville

The freshman claimed 10th place the State Finals in the 100 backstroke. She also qualified in the 200 freestyle.

"Maddy was a tremendous swimmer this year," said coach Brian McNeff. "She worked hard every day and led just about every set. She was unable to compete in the conference meet due to an illness, but she came back strong at the state meet and swam a 1:59.04 in the 200 free and a 59.88 in the 100 back."

Shannon Lohman, Northville

The sophomore swam in four events at the state meet, highlighted by a 16th-place finish in the 100 backstroke. She also competed in the 100 butterfly, the 200 medley relay and the 400 free relay. "She was All-Conference in the.

200 medley relay and in the 100. backstroke," said McNeff. "She was a very good all-around swimmer for us.

Faith Miller, Northville

Miller qualified for the state meet in the 200 free, 100 butterfly and 200 medley relay. She was also All-Conference in the same

"Faith was a huge part of our team this year and scored a lot of points for us," said McNeff. "She was a captain and a very good leader.

"She unfortunately got really sick the week before states and did not perform as well as she would have liked, but will be back next year to redeem herself."

Kali Twork, Lakeland

The Lakeland senior set a new bar for the program. She holds eight different records and is the first two-time state qualifier in school history. She has raised the bar for what team members can accomplish, and will be remembered how well she represented our team as an athlete, student and leader," said coach Erik Koppin.

Andrea VanderMey, Novi

The freshman burst onto the scene with a State Championship in the 100 backstroke, a thirdplace finish in the 200 IM, and a pair of fourths in the medley relay and the 400 relay. She was a large part in a fifth-place finish for Novi. She was KLAA Conference champ in the 100 back and the 200 IM and went undefeated in the 100 backstroke throughout

"Most athletes only dream of winning a state title, Andrea already has one and she is only a ninth grader," said head coach Scott Teeters. "She is looking forward to winning a few more as well as the challenge of competing at the national level with her club

Becca Berman, Novi

The junior showed a ton of versatility at the state meet, capturing third in the 500 free, fourth in the 400 free relay and seventh in the 100 butterfly. She was also Oakland County champ in the 100 butterfly and as part of the 200 medley relay.

"Becca is a worker and takes the sport very seriously," said Teeters. "She swam an almost impossible combination of events at the state meet, because the 500 came just one event behind the 100 fly. She jumped right out the pool and had just caught her breath and then she got right on the blocks for the 500, and then swam the very next event the 200 free relay. This takes an amazing amount of focus and

Meredith Cote, Novi

The senior placed fourth in the 500 free, the 200 medley relay and the 400 free relay at the State Finals. She was also sixth in the 200 IM for four All-State swims. Other highlights included a KLAA Conference title in the 100 breaststroke and a title at Oakland County in the 200 medley relay.

"She has really left her legacy on the Novi program, not only her fantastic swimming accomplishments but also her mentoring of the younger kids in practice and at the big meets on how to handle the added intensity," said Teeters. "Without her the Novi program would not have moved into the top-tier of state teams or have been team champions at the KVC and the KLAA Champions the last three years."

Maranda Buha, Novi

The Wildcat freshman placed fourth in the 200 medley relay, fourth in the 400 free relay and sixth in the 100 butterfly at the State Finals. She was also the KLAA Conference champ in the 100 butterfly. She was part of all three relays that set school records this year.

... "Maranda in one of Michigan's... up-and-coming stars," said Teeters. "She loves to compete and race to win. Not much intimidates

"I would not be surprised to see her develop into one of the top swimmers in the nation before she leaves high school. She just gets it."

SECOND TEAM

Ashley Little, Milford

The senior competed in the 100 backstroke and 200 medley relay at the state meet. She was a twotime qualifier in the backstroke. She was conference runner-up in the 100 back and as part of the 200 medley relay.

Corinne Caldwell, South Lyon

The sophomore was a state qualifier in three events, but only swam the 100 butterfly at the state meet so she could compete in all three relays. She was a member of our 200 freestyle relay that earned All-State honors, finishing in fifth place and was also on the scoring 400 freestyle relay team. At the KLAA Kensington Conference meet she finished in 5th place in the 50 freestyle and 9th place in the 100 butterfly despite being very sick on the day of the meet.

Kayla Nunez, South Lyon

The junior finished in 16 place in diving at the state championships. She is only the second diver in South Lyon history to score points at the meet (Gironza is the other). She also finished in ninth place at the diving Regional meet where the top 12 qualify for the state championship meet and she finished in fourth place at the Kensington Conference smile that endured anything. When wrestling practice became grueling, Todd was always there wearing a smile. A smile that never faltered, and a spirit that never faded. His spirit lives on to this day as we honor him at his tournament.

The Todd Schoenheide Invitational Challenge will take place at 9 a.m. Saturday in the main gym at Northville High School on Six Mile Road, east of Beck.

"We want to give back to a member of our Northville Wrestling family and honor Todd's memory each year," said Northville Wrestling head coach and teacher, Bob

The Mustangs will host the Brighton Bulldogs, Monroe Trojans, Saline Hornets, Marysville Vikings, and the L'Anse Creuse Lancers.

"It's a nice opportunity for us to bring different teams into Northville," explained Boshoven. "It's an opportunity for wrestler's friends and families, who wouldn't normally get to see them wrestle to come out on a Saturday and see some great competition."

Todd's father said, "Having a wrestling tournament and an athletic scholarship in Todd's memory is a wonderful tribute."

Scholarship. This $1,000 award is presented every spring to a Northville High School senior who shares one of Schoenheide's passions, either football, scouting or wrestling. "The Todd Schoenheide scholarship goes to a very deserving athlete in the school," said Balagna.

"He was a wonderful fun loving kid. He loved being a member of the wrestling team even though he lost more often than he won. His classmates & teammates have long since graduated, but they all were affected by his death," according to his father. "By remembering Todd, we are reminded that his life was cut short by a drunk driver. With the holidays almost here it's an important reminder for all drivers."

"I'm proud of these athletes for choosing to give back to the community by recognizing the dangers of drinking and driving," said Boshoven

Admission will be $5 Saturday at the door. Concessions and memorial Tshirts will be available.

"What a great event for the Northville community and wrestling family. It means a lot to the team and program to host a tournament in honor of Todd," says Coach Jeff Balagna. "The wrestling team has done a wonderful job reaching out to Todd's family, keeping them involved," added

"We provide everything a client needs for an efficient and effective IT system," said Kallakuri. "Flat-rate pricing offers the peace of mind that businesses are looking for, particularly in this economy where every dollar matters.

Many businesses recycle paper or plastic, but overlook the carbon "bigfoot" footprint in their IT departments. Tera Networks created Tera G, an initiative to help businesses find the "green" in their IT infrastructure.

Through Tera G, Tera Networks implements management practices that reduce IT equipment power consumption, saving clients time, money and resources. Tera Networks recycles clients' used and broken technology. It removes and destroys hard drives to prevent data loss and identity theft and sends the hard drive pieces and the remainder of the machine to an EPA-certified recycling company. This reduces the toxins and materials in landfills and, by the reuse of properly recycled materials, reduces the volume of raw materials required to produce new products. Tera Networks refurbishes salvageable systems and donates them to nonprofit organizations.

Most IT-related issues are resolved remotely through secure technologies. This reduces paper waste, travel time and helps clients save energy costs through a centralized power management feature. This same secure technology can be leveraged for clients to enable their staff to work remotely.

Walsh winter registration underway

Registration for winter courses that begin Jan. 4 is under way at all Walsh College campuses, with no appointment necessary on Walk-In Wednesdays. Students can enroll now in a new Master of Management degree program and a new MBA master's in finance dual degree program.

Walsh continues "Walk-In Wednesdays", where prospective students can meet with an academic advisor, review transcripts, and register for classes on a walk-in basis at the Troy, Novi, or Clinton Township campuses from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. For more information, call (800) WALSH-01, or e-mail admissions@ walshcollege.edu. The 33-credit Master of Management (MM) degree offered at the Troy and Novi campuses focuses on managing resources in a broad spectrum of management within for-profit and not-for-profit organizations. Human resources, financial management, marketing, information security, project management and communications are among the courses. Students can also select a management concentration of study. For more information and a list of courses, please visit www.walshcol-

A new dual master's degree program in Business Administration (MBA) and Finance (Master of Science in Finance) can be completed within a shorter timeframe than enrollment in each separate degree program. Students are required to take 22 classes for 66 semester credits required for both degrees. The distinctive MBA encompasses accounting, finance, management, and related disciplines. The MSF covers all aspects of finance, a blend of accounting, economics, and finance, and the study of economic theory. # Deck the halls: Interiors, exteriors get festive touches

BY JULIE BROWN OSE STAFF WRITER

Customers at Plymouth Nursery are eager to decorate for the holidays.

"Probably the hottest thing we've got going now are the evergreen porch pots," said Tim Parker, general manager at the nursery and garden center. Juniper, Fraser fir, boxwood and white spruce tips in the center combine for an attractive outdoor look at holiday time.

Customers like Michigan holly with red berries: "People are going crazy for those," said Parker, a Pinckney resident.

You can also keep things colorful in winter by putting evergreen branches in your hanging baskets, using materials to make the branches stand up. The LED lights are popular as they use a lot less electricity and burn more brightly.

"Because there's no filament they're cool to the touch," he said. "It's really a good value" due to lower energy Wreaths and green roping are still standbys for holiday decorating at Plymouth Nursery. There's a product, Wilt Proof, that dries out water and prevents it from escaping. Parker noted people can leave some decorations up throughout winter after using Wilt Proof.

"Some people are creative," he said of December decorating. "Some just want it done for them.

"It's still very strong," he said of December decorating. People like fresh greens, including for centerpieces: "Every body wants the smell."

At Plymouth Nursery, grapevine birdhouses filled with greens do well, adding fragrance to a home.

Nicki Wilson, who has the Decorating Den Interiors Canton franchise, sees a lot of interest in holiday decor. "The smell of it and the whole connotation of Christmas and holidays, I think," she said of the

She agreed centerpieces with evergreen boughs are great for December. some with candles. Colors vary.

"It can be whatever you want, Wilson said. "You can add gold or silver to make it more festive." Green, red, gold and silver are the traditional Christmas colors but not obligatory by any means.

'We've evolved. It doesn't have to be," she said.

Wilson sees more artificial than live Christmas trees in homes. People often like ornaments children made or others with sentimental value.

"I think everyone has certain holiday traditions that are always there," she said. Some go all out and some on budgets keep it simpler: "I think mostly people just do what's comfort-

She has a couple Christmas trees at her home, a family tree and the "pretty tree that does with the decor of the house." Wilson likes something Christmas-related in each room at the family home.

"I think that people will still deco-rate," she said, with more making do with what they have. She sees people borrow decorating ideas from parks and stores, but more for exteriors.

"If you put it up you have to take it down or find someone to do it for you," she added of holiday decorations, which sometimes stay up well into the New Year.

There are many options available for holiday decorating, and your choices will depend on your budgetand personal preferences, Wilson said. Here are a few budget - and eco-friendly - ideas:

 Old-fashioned garlands of popcorn and cranberries for your tree

·Wreaths, either evergreen or grapevine, decorated or not, hanging on your door or over the fireplace, or lying flat on your dining or cocktail

 Pine cones, evergreen sprigs, cinnamon sticks, fruits and nuts can be used to create a natural display in clear glass bowls, or artfully arranged on a tabletop or tray, or to decorate a wreath or tree.

Plymouth Nursery's hume to many festive outdoor decorations.

Ask real estate lawyer on foreclosure

Q: We are in foreclosure and the bank is taking back the home. I am wondering if they are going to pursue a deficiency if, in fact, the home is not worth what is left on the balance of the mortgage.

A: It, of course, depends upon the facts of your case, including the lending institution involved, the amount of any deficiency, and the ability of the bank to collect the deficiency from you by way of a judgment. Generally, banks have not been pursuing homeowners for deficiencies, but it is on a case by case basis and, you are best advised to retain a knowledgeable real estate lawyer to negotiate with the bank concerning this issue. You may be in a position to provide the bank with more available access to your home in consideration for a waiver of any claim for a deficiency and/or on the other hand, the bank may not be interested in foreclosing in the first instance, and, may be willing to work out a modified payment plan or new mortgage with you, given the various government programs depending upon your economic status.

Q: I understand that there is a new type of listing agreement being offered by buyers' agents which became effective in July 2008. Do you have any information on it? A: I presume you are talking about the Limited Service Agreement which became effective on July 1, 2008. Generally, an agent owes a client all of the minimum services prescribed by law, unless they enter into what they consider to be this Limited Service Agreement. In the agreement, a client may only waive the following three services that must otherwise be provided by a licensee acting as an agent:

1. Acceptance of delivery and presentation of offers and counter-offers;

2. Assistance in developing, communicating, negotiating and presenting offers and counter-offers; 3. Assistance with completion of a transaction after the parties execute a purchase agreement.

This is designed to give sellers and/or buyers, by way of example, access to multilists and other similar limited services without having the broker perform the usual services associated with the purchase or sale of a residence at a reduced fee. Be sure you read your listing agreement carefully before you sign it.

The Mercedes-Benz

GL350 BlueTec boasts clean-diesel technology under its stylish hood.

MERCEDES-BENZ GL350, BOSCH TECHNOLOGY SHOW DIESEL'S FUTURE

Advertising Feature

By Dale Buss

I've driven and written a lot about clean-diesel vehicles lately in these pages, because I really believe that the technology could become just as important as hybrid powertrains in the auto industry's accelerating drive toward a more fuel-efficient future.

Many of those miles have been spent in an impressive succession of 2007through 2009-model vehicles that Robert Bosch LLC, the auto-industry supplier, had outfitted with its own clean-diesel powertrains. More on that later.

But until last week, I hadn't experienced the ultimate diesel-driving experience: a long trip on the open road. We took the family to Grandma's house in Wisconsin over Thanksgiving weekend in the new Mercedes-Benz GL350 BlueTec, the clean-diesel version of this fantastic SUV, and the best attribute of this new type of powertrain came through with flying colors.

The fuel efficiency and range of the GL 350 BlueTec were superb, and so was its acceleration and overall performance in every aspect of the trip. The GL350 is impressive enough in any version. It's a seven-passenger vehicle that offers all of the best of what Mercedes-Benz has come to mean in the luxury segment.

The ride was comfortable without being marshmallow-y. Sunroofs above the first and third rows of seating welcomed in the (gloomy) November skies. The rain-sensing intermittent windshield wipers came in really handy while driving through Chicago, both coming and going, where there seems to be a permanent raincloud on the horizon.

With four adults in the vehicle, separate second-row climate controls also became something we couldn't get along without. I also can't say enough about the eight-speaker audio system with automatic speed-based volume adjustment; listening to Il Divo's Christmas album while rumbling across Indiana in the GL350 was magical!

But by far the best part of the experience was not having to stop every few hours for gasoline. Mercedes-Benz and other German luxury makes are touting the range of their clean-diesel vehicles as their most attractive feature, and so I was eager to test out this attribute with the GL350.

I wasn't disappointed. The vehicle has a mammoth 26.4-gallon gasoline tank to begin with. And even with four adults and way too much luggage in the vehicle for the whole time, over the course of a round trip that stretched out to nearly 1,200 miles, I only had to make two meaningful stops for diesel fuel.

All told, I figure I averaged

Inside, the GL350 BlueTec sports classic Mercedes-Benz

styling and amenities.

somewhere over 23 mpg on the trip, which is exactly what Mercedes-Benz says that you'll get – within a range of 19 mpg to 27 mpg on the highway for most drivers. That's a remarkable number for a vehicle with a curb weight of 5,423 pounds, further encumbered another 600 pounds of human cargo and a few hundred pounds of gear.

For me, then, the GL350 BlueTec passed the ultimate test of clean-diesel worthiness with flying colors.

Meanwhile, too, the Thanksgiving trip further validated what I had been experiencing in Bosch's diesel-powered vehicles over the previous several weeks in and around metro Detroit.

Successively, I drove a Honda CR-V, a Volkswagen Jetta, a Mercedes-Benz ML320, and a BMW X-5, and found each of them providing further confirmation that clean diesel could be a gamechanger in the U.S. car market—especially if it can find its way into more and more mainstream-market vehicles like the Jetta.

Obviously, green-oriented observers agree. The 2010 Volkswagen Golf TDI and 2010 Audi A3 TDI – both clean diesel passenger vehicles – claimed two of the five nominations as finalists for Green Car Journal's 2010 Green Car of the Year award. That means that vehicles using clean diesel technology supplied by Bosch have been named as finalists for this prestigious award for the second year in a row. Winners were to be announced at the Los Angeles Auto Show.

The Volkswagen Golf's and Audi A3's turbocharged direct injection (TDI) engines use the latest generation of Bosch clean diesel common rail system, capable of up to 1800 bar (nearly 30,000 psi) and multiple (up to five) pre- and post-injections through piezo-electric injectors.

"The fact that not just one but two diesels earned nominations this year, after the Jetta TDI won the 2009 Green Car of the Year, speaks volumes to the increased popularity of clean diesel in this country," said Bernd Boisten, regional president, diesel systems North America, Robert Bosch LLC. "More so than ever, Americans have come to recognize the numerous benefits that clean diesel vehicles offer."
