ON THE RECORD

Civic Concern help

The cupboards at Northville Civic Concern are again almost bare. They have 160 families they are supporting and are nearly out of tuna, cereal, laundry soap, pet food and canned fruit or apple sauce. The organization can use more of everything.

They will be distributing July 9 and 23. Civic Concern is located at 42951 Seven Mile Road. Phone (248) 344-1033 for more information.

Bizarre Bazaar vendors

Crafters and vendors needed for the Third Annual Community Bizarre Bazaar to benefit Village Banking at the First United Methodist Church of Northville from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23 at the corner of Eight Mile and Taft roads.

For details and to reserve a space, contact Pat Breslin at fumbazaar@gmail.com. Learn more about Village Banking at www.FINCA.org.

Camp for grieving kids

New Hope Center for Grief Support, a Christian-based bereavement outreach center, is offering a two-day "KIDZ KAMP" for grieving children on Aug. 19-20 at historic Mill Race Village in Northville. The camp will offer many fun activities for children ages 4-12, including music, crafts, artwork, a scavenger hunt and memorial activities. Lunch will be provided both days.

Because of the generous support from the Hitachi Foundation, the camp is free, but space is limited.

For more information and to register, please contact New Hope at (248) 348-0115.

I-275 Metro Trail cleanup

Join the Friends of the I-275 Pathway for the third trail cleanup of the season from 9 a.m.-noon Saturday, July 10.

This trail day will focus on one of the worst sections for overgrowth — the portion that parallels M-14, just north of Hines Drive.

The group will meet in the parking lot of Trail's Edge Cycles, 15073 Northville Road (near Five Mile Road).

Bring work gloves and clippers, if you have them, and wear pants and long-sleeved shirts — poison ivy is a concern. Water and granola bars will be provided.

For more information call Dave Duffield at (248) 994-3074 or visit the Friends of the I-275 Pathway on Yahoo! groups or Facebook.

Parade attendees stand and applaud as Northville's Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 march past.

Changes planned at special ed schools

Parents upset about building conditions at OV

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

Following two formal complaints made by parents of special education students in Northville, some changes are being made at Old Village School on W. Main Street and Cooke School on Taft Road this year.

Four concerned parents of OVS filed a complaint with the State of Michigan Department of Education because administrators plan to move all but about 60 students from OVS to Cooke School in the fall. The parents say placing impaired students ages 3-26 in the same building violates the Michigan Administrative Rules for Special Education.

"As a parent, it is heartbreaking to learn that the very individuals charged with the special education and safety of our most vulnerable children have chosen to ignore our children's most basic needs and their rights. We truly have tried to be a part of the solution, working with NPS and RESA for over two years."

MARK JOHNSON, parent

FEDERAL COMPLAINT

A federal civil rights complaint was also filed with the U.S. Department of Education Office of Civil Rights in Cleveland, Ohio, by OVS parents.

This complaint alleges discrimination on the basis of disability. It alleges that the Northville School District discriminates against students with disabilities who attend OVS as it does not comply with accessibility requirements.

It also alleges that the school is not comparable to the district's other facilities with respect to the amount of classroom space provided for students and the efficacy of the heating, ventilation and air-conditioning system.

Planned changes to Cooke School include adding six toilet stalls for the 60 severely-impaired students Northville Public School intends to move into the Cooke educational facility. The majority of these students have toileting as a goal.

STATE COMPLAINT

The state complaint says these six toilet stalls are not sufficient to allow the students to meet their goals.

Senior transportation changes to save about $8,000 annually

Usage numbers, feedback to be reviewed as well

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

After a committee met several times earlier in the year, the city and township of Northville are now saving about $8,000 a year in the senior transportation program.

Jerry Mittman, one of the members of the committee that looked at changes that could be made, said the intent was to maintain or improve service while reducing costs and providing some revenue increase.

The changes took effect on July 1 — the start of the new fiscal year.

"The long-term goal is to assure the viability of this important resource for Northville seniors," Mittman said.

Following are the changes that will be implemented:

The event, presented by the Northville Chamber of Commerce, will take place from 6-10 p.m. on July 27.

Indulge in Northville's unique collection of restaurants as you sample their signature specialties. Eleven restaurants will offer samples of appetizers and entrée items along with cash bar specials for "crawlers."

Crawlers can use free shuttle transportation to each restaurant or "crawl" on their own.

Participating restaurants this year are Aubree's of Northville, Brann's Steakhouse & Grill, Buca di Beppo, Buckminster Public House, Edward's Café & Caterers, Five Restaurant, Gaucho Brazilian Steakhouse, Northville Sports Den, Poole's Tavern, Rusty Bucket Restaurant and Tavern, The Gathering Place and Wine Sync.

Free shuttle transportation — courtesy of Millennium Limousines and Independence Village of Plymouth — will be provided.

There will also be a Grand Prize drawing for gas grill, courtesy of The Home Depot.

Tickets are $30 per person ("crawlers" must be 21 or over) and are available at Gardenviews, Good Time Party Store or the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

"There are several new restaurants that are part of this year's Grub Crawl," said Jeri Johnson, member services director.

"These include Aubree's of Northville, Buckminster Public House and The Gathering Place."

She said the Chamber staff has also increased the number of shuttle vehicles to four this year to accommodate the large crowd.

This event is typically a sell-out, so don't delay in purchasing tickets.

Voters to decide on millage renewal for county parks

Tax supports operations, land acquisition, improvements

BY NATHAN MUELLER
STAFF WRITER

Oakland County residents will have a chance to show how much they value the county's parks when they vote on a millage renewal on the Aug. 3 primary ballot.

The renewal is for a 10-year period at a millage rate of .2415 mills, which equates to roughly $21 per household for a home valued at $175,000. The millage, which represents approximately 50-55 percent of Oakland County Parks' operating dollars, is also used for park improvements and land acquisition for the 13 county parks.

"This is an opportunity to preserve a parks system and natural areas for future generations," said Dan Stencil, executive officer for Oakland County Parks. "The parks system is an economic driver as people select where they want to live, work and recreate based on them."

Stencil said county residents have indicated in recent years they want to see more hiking, biking and walking trails in the county, and the parks have become more popular as people are staying closer to home to vacation.

"Recreating locally has become the trend," he said.

The 13 Oakland County parks take up more than 6,700 acres of land, with approximately 70 percent of it kept as natural areas. There are 68 miles of trails, and two parks, Catalpa Oaks in Southfield and Highland Oaks in Highland Township, were added in the last two years. Some of the parks contain campgrounds, nature centers, waterparks and golf courses.

The parks system serves 1.5 million visitors annually.

Lannie Young, Lyon Township supervisor, said having Lyon Oaks, a 1,043-acre park in the area, is a "real asset."

"It's very important because it is another amenity to bring people to our area so they can see what we have to offer," he said.

Projects planned for the next 10 years include increasing conservation efforts to protect natural resources, continuation of collaborative recreation planning assistance for local communities, providing web-based reservation and registration systems, instituting recycling programs at the parks and more.

Oakmont Northville resident honored as veteran of World War II

Family travels to Europe for week

BY PAM FLEMING
STAFF WRITER

Louis "Louie" Siembor may have been a soldier in 1944, but he can still talk about it like it was yesterday.

Siembor, 88, who moved to the Oakmont Northville retirement community on Seven Mile Road last September, recently returned from a trip to France where he was honored for his service during World War II.

To celebrate the 65th anniversary of the end of World War II, the Moselle River 1944 Association and the U.S. Veterans Friends, Luxembourg, decided to organize this International Friendship Week with activities in Luxembourg, France, Belgium and Germany. Siembor was also honored with a reception July 1 at Oakmont Northville that included a cake with an American flag depicted in frosting on the top, a poster displaying some of the photos taken during the trip and a portable microphone set up so that he could tell his fellow residents about the honor.

ONLY SIX FROM DIVISION

About 50 veterans were honored at several ceremonies the week of June 15-20 in Europe.

Siembor was a staff sergeant who served in the 10th Armored Division 61st Armored Infantry Battalion of the U.S. Army. There were only six men on the trip from his division, and Siembor was awarded a Legion of Honor medal from the U.S. Veterans Friends of Luxembourg. It has the words "Thank you America for our liberation" engraved on one side.

A June 19 ceremony took place with U.S. veterans of World War II on the bridge over the Moselle River in Malling, France. This is where current Northville resident Louis Siembor, third from right, crossed the Moselle on a pontoon bridge with his truck full of ammunition on his first night of combat in November 1944. He participated (with two other veterans) in throwing a wreath of flowers into the river in memory of all the soldiers who died there. The man on the left is the mayor of Malling.

"It is a beautiful medal," Siembor said. He also has a Purple Heart, as he was wounded during the war when he was hit by shrapnel and thrown against a wall, bruising his kidney.

His daughter, Kathy Wesner, and her husband, Mike, of Livonia, accompanied him on the trip and also attended the July 1 reception at Oakmont.

Besides tours that took them to towns the veterans had been to during the war, the organizers of the week planned a cruise down the Moselle River.

Townpeople of all ages stood along the bridge and along the bank, waving American and Luxembourg flags and singing, according to Wesner.

BORN IN DETROIT

Siembor was born in Detroit and lived most of his life in Wyandotte. His wife, Jean, died last September. He also has two sons, Jim of Allen Park and Bill of Novi, and four grandchildren.

A survivor of the Battle of the Bulge, Siembor was just 21 years old when he joined the Army. He remembers sharing food with the European citizens ravaged by the war in 1944 and said they especially enjoyed chocolate bars.

Louie Siembor, who lives at Oakmont Northville retirement home, shows off the Legion of Honor Medal he recently received in Europe at festivities for the 65th anniversary of the end of World War II.

"Many people told us they would have starved to death had it not been for the American soldiers providing food for them during the war," Siembor said.

Wesner said while they were in Europe that children were always involved in singing or escorting the veterans to lay a flower on a memorial because the people there want to be sure their children and grandchildren also never forget what these American soldiers did for them.

TRIP TO MALLING

On one day during the tour, Siembor was assigned to a group of veterans going to Malling, France. After seeing the town, he realized that this is where he crossed the Moselle River during the war.

The veterans were joined by the mayor of Malling and townspeople at a lunch organized in their honor. A large cake was brought out, with three smaller cakes on top and a 6-inch in diameter cookie for each veteran with a sugar tank and the veteran's name in frosting.

"Dad was so touched that he cried, as did we, several other veterans and the townspeople," Wesner said. "People hugged him, we all took pictures, and it was a very emotional moment. You better believe that cookie got wrapped personally by dad to bring home."

Wesner said her father put some polyurethane on the cookie to preserve it.

"I'm sure dad will never forget it (his recent visit to Europe)," she said.

PILLAR: Helping students transition from middle school to high school

The freshman year of high school is critically important to the future academic success of students, and Northville students are no exception. Poor grades and attendance can follow students throughout their high school career and beyond. Students transitioning from smaller middle schools to a large high school experience two significant changes at the same time: a school transition and a difficult stage in adolescent development. Physical changes, an increase in peer influence, and an increased need for independence can make the transition difficult. In addition, students who are shy or resistant to change may experience increased stress over a new year and a new school.

In order to ease this transition for students entering Northville High School, Northville Youth Assistance offers the PILLAR Program for incoming freshmen at Northville High School. The acronym PILLAR stands for Personal strengths, Introduction to NHS, Leadership, Listening Skills, Adventure education and Relationships. This two-week program, which offered at no charge incoming freshmen at Northville High School, strives to build participants' confidence and to help them be more comfortable in their new environment.

After a recent study, it was learned that students who participated in the PILLAR Program earned better grades and had better attendance than those who were recommended by their middle school counselors for the program but declined to participate.

Students have reported that they particularly enjoy the opportunity to tour the building and to work with teachers and staff they will later encounter as students at the high school. This year's staff includes Northville High School Assistant Principal Diana Hoffman, counselor Diane Costlow, Student Assistance Coordinator

Garage sale map makes bargain hunting easy

Garage sale treasure hunters now have an easy way to make the most out of their day. We've added an innovative garage sale mapping feature to our website — hometownlife.com — that allows users to not only see exactly where the best sales are taking place, but also create a custom map that makes getting to them much easier.

The days of writing down addresses and plotting a course from one sale to the next are over because our new feature does all the work for you.

To get started, simply go to hometownlife.com and click on the garage sale map located below the main carousel of stories.

A map showing the location of each sale will open in a new browser window. From there, users are able to select the sales they want to go to and generate a custom map that routes the easiest way from location to location. The garage sale map is proving popular with our online readers, too, as hits have tripled since its debut two weeks ago. That means anyone who wants to advertise a garage sale in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and Hometown Weeklies may do so with the added confidence of knowing a growing number of bargain hunters are turning to hometownlife.com to make sure they don't get lost along the way.

To place an ad for your garage, estate, rummage sale or auction, call our toll-free number: (800) 579-7355.

Garage Sales: June 28, 2010 - July 04, 2010

Mill Race celebrates Independence Day 1910

Suffragette protest marred event 100 years ago

Mill Race Village came alive with on Saturday visitors from the parade downtown. A Civil War encampment was set up beside the Yerkes house. Soldiers from the American Civil War Shooting Association demonstrated their weapons and talked about the food they ate and how it was prepared.

The Eclipse Vintage Base Ball team hosted the Woodstock (Ontario) Actives at Ford Field and feted them afterwards with dinner at the Cady Inn. Patriotic and Dixieland music drifted from the gazebo, played by the Keith Burton Quintet. "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" was heard as the Actives took the field.

Mayor Chris Johnson portrayed 1910 village mayor, Beach Northrop, as he spoke to the people gathered around the gazebo. He introduced Dan Puschell, portraying John S. Haggerty of the Wayne County Road Commission. Wayne County had just laid the first mile of pavement in the country and he was asking everyone to vote for the funds to pave more roads.

Just then a protest broke out among the women (who did not have the right to vote in 1910). Wielding protest signs, they were demanding the right to vote. Amidst boos from some men in the crowd, one unruly woman had to be escorted from the gazebo by the mayor. Daniel O'Connell of the King's 8th Regiment Detroit 1768-1785 demonstrated his weapons in thunderous volleys of smoke. Visitors enjoyed trying on his uniform and posing for pictures.

Various races delighted the crowd. Parents cheered on their children as they neared the finish line. Children scrambled to find a "piggy" for the piggyback race, giggles filling the air.

The event was sponsored by the Northville Historical Society, and research and scripts were provided by Linda Last. Submitted by Tillie Van Sickle

Library's summer reading programs

It's not always easy finding time to read over the summer. Librarians at Northville District Library have the answer. They want kids to "Make a Splash and Read!" and teens to "Make Waves at Your Library" by registering for Library Summer Reading Programs.

Eager readers, reluctant readers and new readers -- from babies and beyond -- can visit the library to register now for these free reading programs.

Adults can participate in the Read! Relax! Enjoy! program.

Summer Reading incentive games encourage participants to keep a reading log and earn prizes. Kids can enter a weekly prize drawing to win prizes by completing simple book reports. A variety of special programs and events are offered throughout the summer for kids, teens and adults.

"It's so important for children to keep reading over the summer in order to maintain the reading and writing skills they've achieved in school," said Julie Herrin, library director. "We want to provide a fun side of learning for kids by motivating them to read and earn prizes as they do it. We believe the library offers a positive, educational learning environment for children, especially when school is not in session."

The Youth Summer Reading Program runs through July 31. Teen Summer Reading ends Aug. 20 and the adult program ends Aug. 31.

For more information, visit the library's website: www.northvillelibrary.org or call (248) 349-3020. Library hours are 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday-Thursday; and 10-5 Friday-Saturday. The library is closed for Sundays through Labor Day.

Learn to ride

Schoolcraft College's continuing education department will hold a series of weekend motorcycle classes for those interested in hitting the streets on two wheels.

Using federal grant money, the school has held the program at Milford High School for several years. Vince Consiglio, who works for the school, said it didn't look like the money would be available this year, but the state allocated some money a few weeks ago for the program.

The class is open to anyone ages 16 and older and runs three days, including a Friday evening and all day Saturday and Sunday. Sessions run July 9-11, July 16-18 or July 23-25. The program costs $25, and students must provide their own gear: helmet, boots, gloves, long-sleeve shirt and long pants.

Motorcycles are provided.

Those adults who pass the class can waive the state license test to get a motorcycle license, although that test isn't required for all motorcycle riders.

"The skills that are taught in the motor safety class will enhance the riders basic ability to survive on the street and give them the legal cycle endorsement," Consiglio said.

Register by calling (734) 462-4452 or register online at www.schoolcraft.cc.mi.us in the continuing education section.

Be responsible

Don't drive and text even if cops can't prove it

Michigan's ban on texting while driving went into effect a week ago today.

The civil infraction is a primary offense, meaning someone can be pulled over for that reason alone. The fine for a first offense is $100, for a second offense, $200. It does not carry any points.

Some motorists think the new law is difficult to enforce. They believe a police officer won't be able to tell the difference between a driver who's texting and one who's dialing his cell phone to make a call.

They wonder how far a police officer and the court system will go to prove someone was texting, such as trying to get access to their cell phone records.

These motorists are missing the point: Texting is dangerous.

An 18-month study of long-haul trucks with video cameras found that when the drivers texted, their risk of getting into an accident was 23 times higher than when they weren't texting, according to a New York Times article.

Not only do texting drivers put themselves at risk, they endanger their passengers, other motorists and their passengers and pedestrians.

If you must read, write or send a text while driving, pull over and stop. Whether the new law is enforceable or not, it's the safe, responsible thing to do.

Honoring nurses, students

National Nurses Week is celebrated in all 50 states of the United States each year from May 6-12. This year, 2010 is designated by the International Council of Nurses (ICN) as The International Year of the Nurse. All nurses are enjoined to host gatherings to honor and celebrate our colleagues, speak at schools and civic meetings about the value of nurses, write about NURSES and NURSING to make the general public aware of the value of nurses in the United States and throughout the world. We are all acutely aware of the shortage of nurses, and how many nurses have left the profession, are getting too tired to handle the 12-hour shifts that is now commonplace in many health care facilities, or getting old enough to retire. The patient population likewise is getting older and sicker, so the demand for skilled care is even greater. The Philippines, a small country in southeast Asia is a steady source of nursing manpower. Hospitals periodically send recruiters in the Philippines, and entice nurses to come to the U.S. on a working or H-1 visa.

However, the gravity of the nursing problem has gone global. Because Philippine nurses are attracted to go abroad (U.S., Canada, U.K., Saudi Arabia, and other countries), the Philippines itself is in short supply of qualified nursing faculty to teach in their schools and colleges of nursing. Some Filipino nurses are now going "home" during their vacation, or after retirement, to teach at their alma mater. Such is the case in my College of Nursing, Mary Johnston College of Nursing, a department of the Philippine Christian University in Manila.

Last year, I participated in naming the theme for National Nurses Week. My entry was short and simple: "NURSES - Building a Healthy America." I thought of this theme for two major reasons: the aging population and their chronic medical problems, and the young people and the growing incidence of obesity among our young people. Was I surprised when my entry was chosen by ANA? In 2010 the theme is closely related to last year's: "NURSES - Caring for a Healthier America" Nurses do care for a healthier community. But how can we take care of our community when there is a dwindling supply of care providers?

It is my earnest hope that by hosting the "Open House and Nursing Career Fair" during Nurses Week, that we will inspire and motivate many young people, high school students, even elementary and middle schoolers, to consider a career or lifetime vocation in nursing. After serving as the first president of the Philippine Nurses Association in Michigan (in 1974), I made it my life mission to encourage, support, and provide avenues, for men and women who have the aptitude and compassion, to consider this career choice. I also continue to urge and nursing colleagues who have baccalaureate degrees to go back to school for a master's or doctoral degree, or even a teaching certificate in nursing, in order that they can teach full time, or even part time, at the schools of nursing or community colleges in their city or hometown. Even nursing faculty in Michigan colleges are aging, and most are approaching retirement age. We need qualified, experienced nursing educators to teach in the classroom and in the clinical setting, so our young nurses will learn the ABCs of caring and healing from seasoned practitioners.

Lacrosse: Glenn scores top All-Area position

Who picked the All Area team? Looks like the South Lyon and Huron Valley coaches were the only ones at the meeting. Northville had three players who were all conference this year: Kayley Dahring, Charlotte Peterson, and Rachel Jurczynszyn, yet only one made the all area team. Jurczynszyn was the goalie for Northville and backstopped their team for every game; faced almost 450 shots; stopped 280 of those shots; had over a 60% save average; had 27 shots saved against South Lyon on May 10th. Her total shots stopped in one game and for the season are, according to the MHSAA potential lacrosse goalie records. I can't believe this doesn't even merit an honorable mention nod for the all area team. Let's start looking east of Beck Road, too, when it comes to the girls All Area lacrosse team!

Were they only picking girls from two teams? Looks that way. One girl from Northville. Pitiful voting.

mimih10

Record sports writer Sam Eggleston replies: "Northville coach only nominated one player. We asked her for more but no response."

GUEST COLUMN

Michigan needs to be FIRST to learn

What is FIRST? It's an acronym: For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology.

Dean Kamen, the founder of FIRST, is an inventor, entrepreneur and tireless advocate for science and technology. Kamen is best known for inventing the product that eventually became known as the Segway, an electric, self-balancing human scooter. The vision of FIRST is "to transform our culture by creating a world where science and technology are celebrated and where young people dream of becoming science and technology leaders."

Tom Watkins

FIRST was founded in 1989. It is a non-profit, public-sector company based in Manchester, N.H., that designs accessible, innovative programs to motivate young people to pursue education and career opportunities in science, technology, engineering and math, while building self-confidence, knowledge and life skills.

School districts throughout Michigan are engaged in FIRST programs, from Armada, Belleville, Crestwood and Detroit to Zeeland.

Some of Michigan's top companies, including Ford, General Motors, Delphi, Chrysler, DTE Energy, Dow Chemical, Magna International and Stryker, are actively involved by providing coaches, mentors and resources. Community foundations and such notable Michigan foundations as Skillman, Dart, Gerber, Kellogg, Herman Miller and others also are contributors.

Our public and private colleges and universities, as well as our excellent network of community colleges, contribute their academic firepower as well.

The robotics team Frog Force 503 at Novi High School in Southeast Michigan perfected the philosophy of teamwork and cooperation while competing and winning the Chairman's Award, the highest award given by FIRST at the state competition.

Jeff Wong, a Frog Force 503 mentor, commented, "FIRST Robotics has made a huge impact on my son's high school experience, providing not only relevance to the topics taught in the classroom, but a real-world experience in designing and building a game specific-robot in a business-like atmosphere. Our team is set up just like a business, with design, purchasing, production and marketing departments. This provides hands-on experience as to how the business world works."

Magna International, the most diversified auto supplier in the world, was the sponsor of Frog Force 503 and invested time, expertise and lots of sweat equity and financial resources to create a real-life learning experience for approximately 55 Novi High School students. Those students who participated and made the travel team received a high school "letter" just like they would have in a sport.

John Lawrence, principal of Novi High School, said, "Students who are engaged in FIRST Robotics not only learn many different aspects of engineering and problem solving, but also learn many of the 'soft skills' necessary today to be marketable in a highly competitive global job market and economy."

Mitchell Wong, 17, who will be entering his senior year at Novi this fall and is helping build his and our state's collective future, has this to say about his FIRST Robotics experience: "Throughout our education, we are told that the material taught in the classroom is applicable in 'the real world.' Most students do not have the opportunity to apply said material, but FIRST gives us the opportunity to do so. The physics, mathematics, English and business skills we have learned are fully utilized through FIRST in 'real-world' applications."

The infectious excitement of the Frog Force 503 robotics team can be viewed on YouTube.

Across the nation, FIRST has more than 90,000 volunteers working with students and a network of over 3,500 corporations and educational and professional associations mentoring and assisting young people.

Its programs include: Robotics Competition, Technology Challenge, Lego League and First Place, an innovative and creative learning and development program designed to let everyone discover and explore all types of science, math and technology on his or her own terms and in an energetic environment.

Tom Watkins is an education and business consultant in the U.S. and China and served as Michigan's state superintendent of schools from 2001-05.

Wolverine Sightings

University of Michigan alumni and supporters were everywhere - from the Hamilton Room and Tallulah Wine Bar and Bistro in Birmingham to Oakland Hills Country Club in Bloomfield Hills - networking and raising scholarship and programming funds. Tallulah Wine Bar and Bistro was the destination for the University of Michigan Kinesiology Alumni Society Board and the Pat Maloy Scholarship Committee. The Wine Tasting event was held in honor of UM Sports Management Professor Bernard "Pat" Maloy who died of esophageal cancer in 2001. Maloy's former Sport Management students established the scholarship program to benefit incoming need-based Kinesiology freshmen who have been directly affected by cancer. (From front to back) University of Michigan Kinesiology Alumni Jon Zemke and Kristin Lukowski of Detroit and UM graduate Brian Scherle of Northville enjoy an evening of wine tasting to benefit the scholarship fund at Tallulah Wine Bar and Bistro in Birmingham.

TRANSPORT

The minimum age used to be 50 years of age to ride the senior transportation buses, with exception made for riders with special needs.

The new program is designated for riders age 60, with the same exception for those with special needs.

The service area has also been changed. It used to be up to a five-mile radius, except a 10-mile radius for medical appointments. Now bus drivers serve up to a four-mile radius, with an eight-mile radius for medical purposes.

An analysis of usage was done before changes were made.

Rider fees have also been revised. The former rate structure was $3 within a five-mile radius, with an additional dollar charged for each mile beyond five miles. The new fees are $3 within the city and township, $4 within a four-mile radius and $5 within an eight-mile radius.

The cancellation policy has also been changed. Before, cancellation fees were not routinely enforced. Now, they will be enforced after two cancellations.

GROCERY RUNS

Runs to local grocery stores used to be made two days a week, both in the morning as well as on an "as requested" basis.

Under the new policy, grocery runs are made two days a week, but one in the morning and one in the afternoon. "As requested" runs are encouraged to be eliminated or at least reduced.

The transportation schedulers used to work 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., with reservations taken from 9-11:30 a.m.

The schedulers now work the same hours, but their hours have been reduced by one hour per day.

Service days used to be Monday-Friday. Now, the service is not offered one day a month, normally the first Wednesday of each month.

Fuel-saving practices on the buses are also being encouraged.

The senior transportation program is a shared service between the city and the township. Traci Sincoc, director, Northville Parks & Recreation, and the transportation schedulers worked with the committee members on the program changes. "We're trying to make the program more fiscally responsible while still providing the same level of service we have in the past," Sincoc said.

Members of the Northville Senior Advisory Commission will review usage data and feedback on the program in general on a quarterly basis. To make a reservation in the Northville senior transportation program, call (248) 449-9934.

SPECIAL ED

In September 2008 a committee of parents, staff, and administrators from Northville Public Schools agreed that OVS was not appropriate for the current population.

Parents of OVS students, including Beth Bentley and JoAnn Johnson, say this will cause undue hardship to the current students at Cooke School.

The parents say if Northville Public Schools is unwilling to use space in existing buildings, the district should rent a building in another district for the OVS students or give up hosting of the Wayne County programs for students under 14 years of age and give up the approximate $600,000 incentive it receives from the county to host the program.

Additionally, the parents say Northville Public Schools receive approximately $90,000 in rent money from Wayne County RESA to use the facilities at Cooke and OVS.

They say those funds could be used to rent a different facility that would better meet the needs of the students at OVS without displacing the students at Cooke School and without having to change the educational goals and behavioral plans of the OVS students.

"As a parent, it is heartbreaking to learn that the very individuals charged with the special education and safety of our most vulnerable children have chosen to ignore our children's most basic needs and

JOHN HEIDER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Cooke School Principal Mary Meldrum escorts a group of Old Village School parents around on June 17 during an informational tour of the building. The school district plans on moving six Old Village classrooms to Cooke in the fall.

their rights," Johnson said. "We truly have tried to be a part of the solution, working with NPS and RESA for over two years."

The district is moving the severely multiply-impaired and the severely cognitively impaired students from OVS to Cooke. Dual-diagnosed students (those who are cognitive and emotionally impaired) will remain at OVS. Some Cooke students will also be moving to OVS. Some special education students also go to Hillside Middle School in the program. Some staff will move from OVS to Cooke as well.

Cooke is losing some classroom space, a computer lab, music room and student lounge in the changes. One classroom will be made into two.

ADMINISTRATION'S RESPONSE

Dave Bolitho, former assistant superintendent operations, said a committee met for two years about OVS building issues that included parents, staff, building administration and the central office.

"Cooke became part of the solution," he said. "I was surprised that there was such an uproar. We thought the benefits (of OVS) outweighed the issues with the building because it (the program) is in Northville."

He said the special education staff signed a petition this year that they favored staying at OVS.

Parents quit the committee and said the facility is unsafe because of the lack of emergency evacuation. He said, however, that this can be done in five minutes during fire drills, which is documented.

WHAT ELSE WAS DONE

Bolitho said money is being spent for a sprinkler system after a state fire marshal came to OVS.

"We had at least three visits by the state fire marshal," Bolitho said. "Each time, different things had to be modified (at OVS)."

He also said storage cabinets, a sofa, copy machine, wheelchairs and lift devices were moved from the hallways at the fire marshal's request.

About $17,000 was spent at OVS on doors alone, plus area of refuge signs to be used in the event of a building evacuation were purchased as were walkie-talkies and an emergency hallway light.

An updated floor plan of the building was also requested by the Office of Fire Safety.

"We have spent a lot of money because we want this building to be safe," he said. "Until proven otherwise, the building is safe."

SPECIAL SERVICES DIRECTOR

Lynn Mossioian, special services director, said River Rouge has special education students ages 5-18 together. And, Macomb County has a successful program with special education students of all ages under one roof.

"A lot of this (the complaints) is building issues," Mossioian said. "The staff (at OVS) is grieving that six classrooms are leaving and going to Cooke. They love being there."

Mossioian said OVS, built in 1916, is a historical building, and that's one reason district administrators don't want it torn down.

"This is a good decision (to move the students), a good plan, and the staff has been involved," she said.

She said a committee process led to the upcoming change.

"We're able to maintain part of the program at Old Village and look forward to the restructured program at Cooke."

Mossioian said Cooke was getting rid of the computer lab anyway; the music room is now going to become a classroom, with the music teacher coming to the students.

"The principals (of the two schools) are confident in their ability to make this a smooth transition," she said.

Bolitho, whose last day was June 30, said the district is involved in making physical changes to Cooke.

"We've tried all different angles in looking at the OV population," he said. "We may have to move the program to another school district (if complaints continue). These are good people (the parents complaining). We just can't do what they wanted, and it's caused a lot of frustration."

He said Mossioian has addressed the two complaints.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP POLICE REPORT

Warrant arrest

1 A 38-year-old Detroit woman was arrested for a misdemeanor warrant for a traffic offense at the Northville Township Police station at 41600 Six Mile Road at 1:02 a.m. on June 1. The woman was in the lobby to post bond for another prisoner when a dispatcher discovered she had the warrant out of Farmington Hills.

The traffic offense was for not having a valid license.

Malicious destruction

2 While on patrol at 3:05 a.m. on June 2 an officer noticed that a yellow sign that said "Napier Road" under a stop sign ahead warning sign had been tagged with green spray paint at Six Mile and Napier roads.

The sign was on west-bound Six Mile Road about ¼ mile east of Napier Road. The Wayne County Road Commission was notified of the damage to the sign by dispatch.

Larceny from auto

3 A 35-year-old resident of Clement Road told police that someone had gone through his vehicle between 6 p.m. May 29 and 7:30 a.m. June 1.

He then discovered that his other vehicle had been rifled through overnight from June 1 to June 2.

He also noticed that a duffel bag had been stolen over the weekend. The gym bag was valued at $60.

More larceny reported

4 A 53-year-old resident of Oak Leaf Lane told police that someone rifled through her vehicle between noon on June 1 and 7 a.m. on June 2 and stole a GPS unit and some assorted cash and coins.

The Garmin GPS unit was valued at $250 and was sitting on the dashboard.

She had about $15 in cash and coins in a small change purse in the vehicle.

Operating intoxicated

5 A 22-year-old Novi man was arrested for operating while intoxicated at 2:26 a.m. on June 3 at Northville and Seven Mile roads.

The man was pulled over when an officer traveling west on Seven Mile Road east of Silver Springs Drive saw that the man's vehicle was weaving.

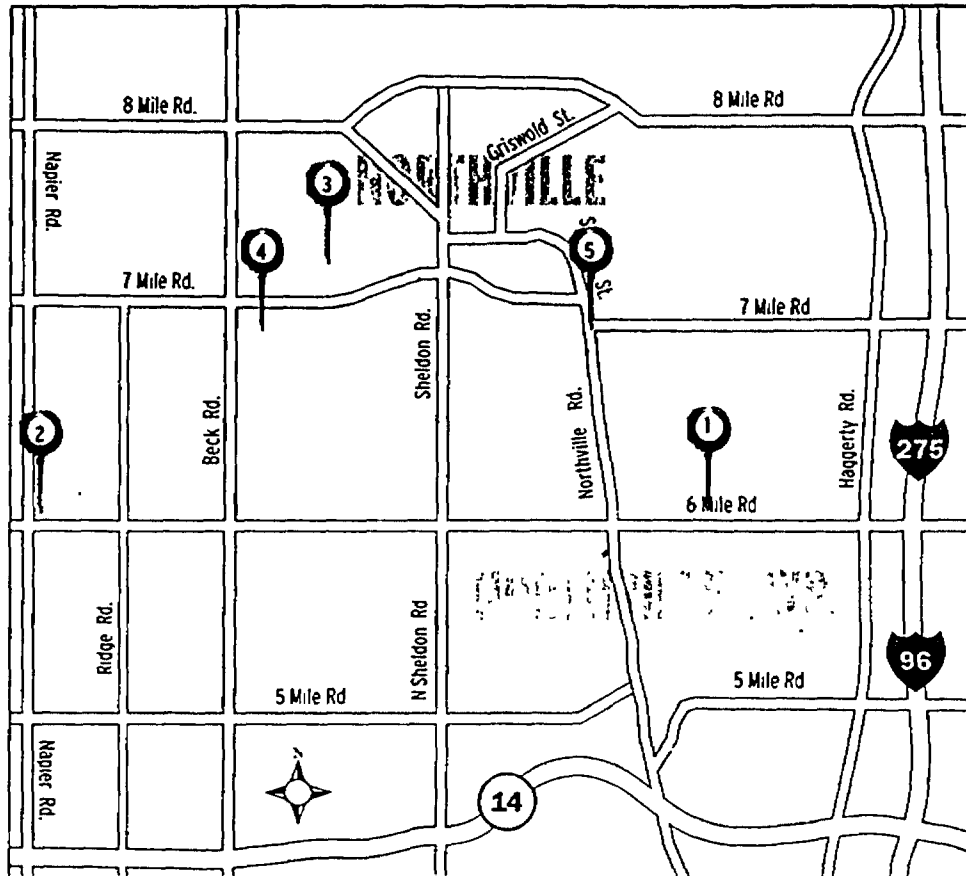

The officer also noticed that the vehicle crossed the fog line and that it came to a stop past the stop line at Seven Mile and Northville roads.

Police could smell alcohol on the man's breath. He said he had come from the Post Bar in Novi and was en route to drop off his two passengers.

He said he had consumed four-five beers.

His eyes appeared blood-shot and glossy.

Consistency nets Northville's Grigg top player honor

Lion Tubbs, Cougar Hawkins land spot on second team

BY SAM EGGLESTON
CORRESPONDENT

There are few things harder to decide in the world of covering high school athletics than an All-Area team. What factors should weigh more than others? Should a senior be picked over a freshman of the same, or slightly better, quality?

In the end, you have to turn to the intangibles. You have to consider what makes one player stand out from another on any given day.

It's not a single tournament — or even a state final — that decides who the better player is. It's a run from the start to finish. That's why this year's Player of the Year is Northville's Trevor Grigg.

Grigg, who has been All-State the past two seasons, has been unstoppable almost all season long. Not only did he record an All-Area-best 73.6 average over 18-hole tournaments this year, he was consistent in his play. He won the Birmingham Invitational with a 1-under-par 71 and won the East Lansing Classic with a 2-under-par 69. He also finished second at the East Lansing Invite, third at the District Tournament, fourth at the Regional Tournament and third at the KLA Conference Championships. To top it off, he finished tied for sixth at the State Finals with a 75 and a 69 in the two-day tournament.

"Trevor has been an incredibly consistent player over his four years at Northville," said his coach, Matt Stetson. "He graduates having won districts, regionals, the conference tournament, and over 10 individual tournaments total in his career. He has finished in the top 10 at the state tournament twice."

Trevor is a dominating player who attacks every course he plays. He is extremely long off the tee so he has the capability to birdie just about any hole.

Grigg's selection as Player of the Year is just another addition to his astonishing resume.

There's no doubt in anyone's mind that Mike Panek was in the running for the Player of the Year honors. His average over 18 holes this year was 74.3 and his play this season was recognized with honors at the league and All-State First-Team levels. In addition, he took second place at the state finals overall and led his Shamrocks to a Division 1 state championship. What's amazing is that Panek almost didn't play golf in his senior season after having a bad off-season showing. Luckily for Catholic Central, he changed his mind.

Tyler Manning, Novi

Senior Tyler Manning was one of the top players in the Kensington Lakes Activities Association this year, and he proved it not only with his tournament and dual-match play, but also at the conference championships where he secured the medalist position with a 69. This year, Manning recorded a nine-hole average of 36.78 and an 18-hole tournament average of 76.57 to secure his All-Area First Team nod.

Chris Cunningham, Milford

If there's one thing for certain, Chris Cunningham is a competitor. The senior from Milford not only led his team this season with his outstanding regular-season

Celebrating its eighth year, the Solstice Run in downtown Northville drew thousands of runners on June 26.

Northville Solstice run draws thousands

BY SAM EGGLESTON
CORRESPONDENT

How do you rate an event a smashing success? How about when you hope to reach the staggering goal of over 2,000 participants and that's exactly what happens?

The Northville Solstice Run, which celebrated its eighth year, was the draw for thousands of people to come to the city and township last Saturday. The event featured three major events—a 5K run/walk, a 10K run and a 10-mile run.

For some runners, like long-time distance harrier Doug Kurtis of Livonia, Northville's Solstice Run is a great race to add to the summer schedule. For others, like first-time runner Lauren Van Hamme of Novi, this was an all-new experience.

The races, which started at Northville Downs and snaked through the city and township streets, ended with some impressive numbers.

Turning in the best overall time on the 5K for the men was a 16:36 turned in by Scott Setzke, a 29-year-old runner from Wyandotte. For the women, an 18:44 was the best time and was run by 25-year-old Andrea Karl of Casco, Mich.

In the 10K run, the women were led by 18-year-old Amanda Lacertosa of Imlay City, Mich., with an impressive time of 42:22. The men were led by Andre Porinsky, a 25-year-old runner who took the top spot with a time of 34:03.

The 10-mile race, which was a new addition to the Solstice this year, was won by Boaz Chaboizoyo of Ypsilanti. He ran a 50:57 to win the event. Taking second place overall and first for the women was Nicole Blaesser of Rochester Hills. She ran the event in 59:38.

The top 10 men's finishers in the 10-mile event behind Chaboizoyo were: Robert Fergan of Livonia (1:00:44), John Nemens of Sterling Heights (1:00:55), John Sytniak of Ann Arbor (1:01:10), Cam McCord of Ann Arbor (1:02:29), Jeff Everett of Livonia (1:03:32), Mack Stillwagon of Romulus (1:04:04), Doug Kurtis of Livonia (1:04:19), Claudio Salas of Allen Park (1:04:24) and Michael Selke of Westland (1:04:28).

Jason Lerner, a standout cross country runner for the Northville High School program, took 12th overall with a 1:05:36.

The top 10 women runners that finished behind Blaesser were: Marybeth Reader of Bloomfield Hills (1:05:46), Dori Downey of Grosse Pointe Park (1:06:14), Heather Dye of Redford (1:09:22), Gwen Frederickson of Ann Arbor (1:10:51), Erin La Russo of Ypsilanti (1:10:59), Nicole Schramski of Wesley Chapel, Fla. (1:11:15), Julie Scordino of Canton (1:11:40), Elle Robinson of Novi (1:13:00) and Katie Bell of Boulder, Colo. (1:13:21).

In the 5K run, finishing first in their respective age groups were: Nicole Mosteller (22:13.3), Julia Schroeder (20:43.2), Emily Derusha (23:04.1), Andrea Karl (18:44.9), Jennifer Jackson (25:26.7), Kristi Matuszewski (19:50.3), Robin Mitchell (21:10.3), Dawn MacAddino (24:29.6), Marsha Eicholtz (22:47.1), Donna Smith (27:22.3), Grace Harrison (22:46.9), Cora Hill (31:27.8), Dee Crowe (44:18.5), Daniel Sims (18:58.2), Nick Renberg (16:51.2), Bennett Prudhomme (17:52.3), Scott Setzke (16:36.6), Christopher Imber (18:47.6), J. Sweeny (18:23.3), Eric Green (16:40.2), Adam Gomez (19:12.8), J.C. Collins (17:25.8), Larry Whittaker (20:23.5), Dale Yagiela (22:16.2), Monte Piliawsky (23:16.5) and Jerry White (28:31.3).

In the 10K run, finishing first in their respective age groups were: Amanda Lacertosa (43:22.9), Kate McClymont (44:10.9), Andrea King (48:42.1), Melissa Maynor (45:03.9), Cathy Sanborn (45:48.4), Mary Dorazio (43:06.0), Julie Winter (46:14.0), Gail Mroz (49:26.9), Constance Doughty (1:01:01.9), Donna Olson (46:24.0), Joann Wascha (1:11:38.7), Michael Higgins (48:16.6), Victor Allen (35:51.2), Alexander Townsend (35:29.9), Andre Porinsky (34:03.2), Thomas Szocinski (42:05.9), Matthew Sikora (37:46.9), Shawn Wehrly (41:04.4), Eric Pagac (41:14.1), Kevin Dailey (44:27.8), Ed Baas (46:11.3), James Patton (50:26.1), David Scarin (56:47.5).

Novi pommers bring home pair of camp championships

BY CHRIS JACKETT
CORRESPONDENT

Of more than 300 pommers, it was Novi's Taylor Boron who claimed the highest individual award at the Mid-American Pom summer camp.

Novi's varsity and junior varsity pom pon teams participated in the summer camp June 27-30 at Davenport University in Grand Rapids. Of 19 teams, more than 300 pommers attended, but Boron, a varsity captain, was granted the "Smile, Sparkle and Shine" award as the best overall individual, based on leadership, teamwork and pom technique.

"This is such a deserved honor for Taylor. Out of around 300 pommers, to be singled out for leadership, character and performance is just outstanding," Novi head coach Kristy Renaud said. "She is one of the best pom girls I have ever coached and she has one of the best work ethics I have ever seen. I am beyond proud."

Captains Alexa Boron and Taylor Boron led the varsity pom team to the coveted Grand Champion Award again this year. The team earned excellent ratings in the original routine, speed learning and high kick categories to accomplish this feat.

"Our varsity team had goals of precision, strength and showmanship going into camp. They met and exceeded each goal we set for them," Renaud said. "We feel we gave them a challenging and exciting routine, but it was their performance that made them successful. All the credit goes to their hard work this camp season."

Varsity team members include Kelsie Autterson,

Novi High senior Nick Regnier, who earned All-Area Player of the Year honors from the Hometownlife Weeklies last week, was named to the Detroit Free Press' Class A first team last weekend.

Hockey

Novi High School's hockey squad had an impressive 20-6-2 finish in March, which led to six All-State awards being handed out to Wildcats. Junior goalkeeper Michael Pesendorfer (2.39 GAA), junior defender Nolan Valleau (nine goals, 20 assists), junior forward Joey Ferriss (12 goals, 28 assists) and senior forward Tyler Perpich (24 goals, 20 assists) each earned first-team honors, while senior defender Alex Cova (four goals, eight assists) and senior forward Tyler Manning (14 goals, 17 assists) earned second-team honors.

Pom pon summer camp

The State Champion Northville High School pom pon program is proud to announce a new summer pom pon camp for girls that are entering 6th, 7th and 8th grades. This camp is especially designed for girls that would like to begin preparation for pom pon at the high school level.

Information will also be distributed regarding a competitive Northville Middle School pom pon team.

Participants will receive instruction from coaches and members of the Northville High School pom pon teams. Girls will learn two short routines and will focus on basic form, kicks and proper technique. Pom pons will be available for use each day and a light snack will be provided.

Camp dates are Tuesday, August 24; Wednesday, August 25; and Thursday, August 26 from 9 a.m.-noon each day at Northville High School. Cost for the clinic is $75 and participants will receive a free T-shirt.

state champions. Both teams had to defend their title at camp and they both did," varsity co-coach Erin Bartos said. "Varsity had a record high camp score for Novi pom of 96.3 out of 100 on their original routine. Both performances wowed the crowd and we were given great feedback from the judges and audience."

Captains Aditi Chadha, Delaney Ulle and Emma Weil led the Novi JV pom team to a title of their own, with a similar Grand Champion Award finish at the camp. Additionally, Novi JV won the "Peppy Pom" award for the team with the most spirit and enthusiasm.

"With only five returning members, our JV team had to work extremely hard to get their skills ready for camp," Renaud said. "The new JV coach, Elyse Bartos, worked with each girl individually to build up their strength, stamina and skill level. These girls are so unified and determined to succeed. It really showed in their performance."

JV team members include Gillian Auttersson, Laura Baumgarten, Amy Cao, Jenny Chang, Kristen Coury, Patricia Dixon, Chetali Jain, Brooke Laney, Kelsey Lewinski, Amy Liang, Rachel Murray, Annie Segal, Caitlyn Sultana, Drew Thomasson and Renee Weil. Elyse Bartos is the JV pom coach.

"The pressure is very high but the skill level and work ethic of the teams make the girls ready for the next season of competition," Renaud said. "We can't wait to see what these talented performers can do."

Five Novi varsity seniors - Alexa Boron, Taylor Boron, Kelsie Auttersson, Kimberly Powers and Jessica Dipaola - also entertained the crowd by performing a special high kick routine to a mix of Lady Gaga songs, including "Bad Romance," "Poker Face," "Paparazzi," "Monster" and "Love Game."

"Our senior class is the strongest group of pommers I have ever seen. They are all leaders and each has excellent skills," Renaud said. "They did a phenomenal job and did Novi proud."

Novi pom will be running a weeklong pom pon clinic for girls first- through eighth-grades Aug. 2-5. Cost is $75 per participant, with poms and T-shirts also available for purchase. Camp is 9-11 a.m. for fourth-grade and younger, and noon-2 p.m. for fifth-grade and older.

"We teach Class A style pom and stress the skills needed to make a team. We focus on strength, flexibility and pom form," Renaud said. "We also have a lot of fun teaching the girls warm up activities - the current team members do this. The girls learn and perform a full routine with kickline, along with a series of jumps."

Top athletes

Allie Chapekis (right) and Anton Travis (left) were selected as Athlete's of the Year for Meads Mill Middle School. Chapekis excelled in swimming as team captain, helping to break a school record as part of the 400 medley relay team and medaling twice at the state meet; in volleyball as a middle hitter and top defender; and in basketball, as the second leading scorer and top defender as a center/forward. Travis led the football team in touchdowns as quarterback and was a premier defensive player; the diving team placing 10th at the state meet; basketball as a forward excelling on defense; and track and field where he commonly placed first in high jump. They were both honored during the school's year-end Celebration of Success and will be attending Northville High School next year.

Novi's varsity pom squad earned the coveted Grand Champion Award at the Mid-American Pom summer camp again this year. The team scored excellent ratings in the original routine, speed learning and high kick categories during the championship performance.

play, but he led all Mavericks since golf was first taken up at the school. Cunningham set the Milford record with an impressive 18-hole average of 73.3 this season. He finished eight different tournaments with eight top 10s, six top fives and two medalists. He also earned himself the honor of being crowned the Oakland County Champion with a 72 this year. Cunningham finished the year as team MVP and All-KLAA and an All-State First-Team selection.

Connor Street, Detroit Catholic Central
It takes teamwork to win a state championship, and though Detroit Catholic Central senior Connor Street may not have finished in the state finals as high as his teammate Panek he still turned in some very impressive numbers. What's more is that Street was key in helping his team each step of the way this year, shooting an average of 76.7 over 18 holes, including a 73 at the regional tournament to help the Shamrocks earn a bid to the state finals. There, he shot a 76-76 to help his team secure the championship. His performances didn't go unnoticed, earning him First-Team All-State status.

Blake Bonatz, Northville
Blake Bonatz has a bright future at Northville. As a junior, he's already proven himself to be a leader, which makes us wonder what he's capable of next year. The focus, however, is the 2010 season and Bonatz did everything that was asked of him, winning the U of D Jesuit Sunday Shootout this year with a 69 before tying for sixth overall at the KLAA Conference Championship to earn All-KLAA honors. In addition, he medaled three times for the Mustangs to help his team to a 10-0 dual meet record. He finished the year with a 76.6 average over 18 holes.

SECOND TEAM

Brad Ferguson, Lakeland
Brad Ferguson led the Lakeland Eagles this season with an impressive 18-hole average of 78.

Cody Tubbs, South Lyon
A three-year starter for the Lions on varsity, Cody Tubbs played in 17 matches and finished in the top four in all of them. He led his team 12 times this year and shot in the 70s four times during tournaments in 2010. He also set the school record with a 31 over nine holes.

Bryan Hawkins, South Lyon East
Junior Bryan Hawkins had a strong year this season, turning in a nine-hole average of 39 to lead the Cougars. In addition, he earned a medal this season with a 72 at the Farmington Invitational.

Parker Millington, Milford
Milford's top junior was Parker Millington, who started the season on a tear and didn't stop. He shot an 18-hole average of 78.8 as one of the Mavericks' top performers and put up a nine-hole average of 39.7. He earned All-KLAA honors and tied for 12th in the Oakland County Championship.

Brandon Cameron, Northville
Northville senior Brandon Cameron played well all season, even leading his team during key tournament by taking a 71 and beating teammate Alex Bernstein in a playoff to earn medalist honors at the District tourney. He finished the season with All-KLAA honors and averaged 77.5 over 18 holes this year.

Charlie Green, Detroit Catholic Central
Though he's only a freshman, Catholic Central Shamrock Charlie Green is one heck of a player. His 70-70 at the state championship helped his team secure the Division I title and his 73 at the Regional Tournament and 75 at the District Tournament helped his team advance. This year, Green finished the year with an 18-hole average of 75.6.

A trailblazer descends into the Valley of Insight

It is an easy argument to make that most insights aren't the result of something you were thinking about, but something you reacted to that was connected to some, seemingly, insignificant event. Of course, the real trick is to recognize when you've descended into the Valley of

Insight and emerged unscathed and far wiser from the trip. My most recent journey came not by way of a philosophical dialogue with my academic and professional brethren, but over a light, family breakfast after having completed a morning run. I was the last one at the table, and after the usual morning pleasantries, my son asked if I enjoyed my morning run.

"Absolutely," I replied. "Between the cool morning air, the sun, the early morning calm and my music, it is completely relaxing."

In that 15-year-old-contempt-for-everything-that-preceded-his-birth-tone-of-voice, he said, "Dad, you can only listen to so much Motown, Rat Pack and James Taylor before it starts to get boring."

"Listen, beltless one, I have more cassettes in my collection than you know."

In, what can only be described as the quiet moment before the storm, he looked at me with eyes that had just seen the end of civilization and said, "Cassettes?"

"Well, duh," I said. "What else would fit in my cassette player?"

Through squinted eyes and clenched teeth, he said, "You mean to tell us that you've been running outside, where people can see you, listening to music through a CASSETTE PLAYER!!"

"Most of the music I recorded from my albums I have, labeled, on an individual cassette."

"Yes, son. You see back in the day, when artists could actually sing, they created a body of work. While most of their work was good, there were always those songs that you didn't want to hear, but didn't take away from the artist work. So those of us from that era would remove the ALBUM from its COVER,

My son grimaced, "...And we'd place it on the RECORD PLAYER, RECORDED his eyes and his head started to shake, "...We'd put a BLANK CASSETTE into the CASSETTE PLAYER/RECORDER,

"...Put the NEEDLE down on the album, press the red RECORD button on the CASSETTE RECORDER and tape the songs we'd want to hear onto the CASSETTE. When we came to a song we didn't want to hear, we'd press the PAUSE button on the CASSETTE PLAYER. Each side of a CASSETTE could run between 30 minutes of TAPE up an hour. I, typically, went with 45 minutes per side."

He snapped the wheat toast in half and said, "I don't believe I'm hearing this! You can download music from a website, into the music player we bought you for your birthday and you're STILL using a cassette player?"

"Well, I said, "Don't be so quick to judge. In an odd sort of way, music listeners from my era were the trailblazers for, what you now call, the individual playlist. We were limited by the technology that we had, but it was our way of getting around the problems we had with the 8 TRACK."

"The what?"

"Never mind, I said. "Just know that most advances occur because there were a group of people on the forefront trying to mold it into something that makes sense."

"Mold?"

"Hey, it's not easy being a trailblazer, y'know."

He stood up from the table, glared at me and said, "You're not my old man. You're an alien life form. And consistent with your inadequate technology, your time machine misfired and landed you here in the 21st century when you were supposed to be somewhere in the 1980's. I suggest you contact the mothership and let them know that you've been found out."

I turned to my wife, who had remained silent throughout the conversation and said, "Well, that's the burden and angst of being a trailblazer."

She took a sip from her coffee mug, leaned toward me and said, "Tell me, really, who are you?"

10 Taboos for Summer Attire in the Office

Anthony Balderrama, CareerBuilder.com
writer

When you discuss fashion, you have to acknowledge that no strict rules apply to everyone. For some professions, a suit is the de rigueur attire. In other industries, work clothes make more sense. And plenty of organizations fall somewhere between. During the summer, the rules get even murkier because everyone has his or her own idea of what's appropriate. And if you've taken a look around, you know some people really take liberties with their wardrobe.

Because we can't address every possible mistake for every workplace, we've put together some guidelines that work for many workplaces. Maybe only nine of the 10 tips apply to your company. Still, the bottom line is that you should put some thought into what you wear, because your wardrobe affects your professional reputation.

Here are 10 summer-attire taboos:

1. Flip-flops

Professional or dressy sandals are acceptable in many workplaces, and you know better than anyone if you work in such a place. Flip-flops and other recreational footwear are rarely acceptable for the same reason blowing a bubble with gum in a meeting is inappropriate: You look out of place and inconsiderate to your audience. Plus, that annoying sound of the flip-flop slapping against your heel will not make you any friends.

2. Bathing suits in any form

This tip might sound obvious, and hopefully it is. However, in case it's not, remember that sprucing up your bathing suit with a nice shirt, a belt, shorts or any other accessory will not fool anyone. If you're going straight to the pool after work, just change your clothes in the bathroom or a private office when the day is over.

3. Sunglasses indoors

You're not Bono. Yes, the sunlight is blinding when you walk outside or drive to work, but sunglasses don't belong indoors. People can't tell if you're paying attention to them when your eyes are hidden behind dark lenses, and everyone will wonder if your pupils were just dilated.

4. Shorts

Shorts automatically take the professional image down a notch, which could be a good thing for some places. For example, if you walk into a store that sells surfboards and wetsuits, you want to be greeted by someone in shorts and a tee, not a suit and briefcase. In most workplaces, however, wardrobes, and you might be tempted to sport one to work. Don't. From an aesthetic standpoint, tanks make people think of a six-pack of beer, not of a six-figure salary. A professional look should lean more toward the latter.

6. Apparel that smells like or carries remnants of the beach

Who doesn't love the beach? The sun, the waves lapping against the shore, the sand

7. Funny shirts or shirts from your vacation destination

Your "I'm Not as Thirsty as You Drunk I Am" shirt might make your best friends laugh, but your boss, colleagues and customers or clients will disagree. Clothing shouldn't announce itself, so steer clear of humor. And shirts bearing the name of your last vacation destination ("Mexico!" or "Missouri: The Show Me State") will probably make your overworked colleagues begrudge your time off.

8. Not being prepared

Even if you're allowed to be casual during the summer, have a backup outfit or piece of clothing to dress up your attire. If you're in jeans and a plain T-shirt and your biggest client calls a last-minute meeting, it wouldn't hurt to have a least a blazer or nicer shirt on hand. Being prepared is never a bad thing.

9. Anything see-through

Another tip that should go without saying, but just in case: Skin and undergarments should not be seen through the fabric you're wearing. Lightweight linen that's breezy and comfortable on the beach is inappropriate at work, not to mention uncomfortable for your co-workers.

10. Testing the limits

If your employer gives you wiggle room with the dress code by using words such as "appropriate" and "reasonable" to describe acceptable attire, use your brain. A ketchup-stained T-shirt, scandalously short shorts and dilapidated tennis shoes are acceptable in your personal life, but not at work. And you know that. So don't ruin summer wardrobes for everyone.

BBB: Beware of air conditioning scams

As summer temperatures heat up, your local Better Business Bureau is advising consumers not to get burned by air conditioning inspection and repair scams. While most air conditioning service and installation companies are reputable, as the humidity increases there are always a few companies that emerge each season with the goal of taking consumers money for unnecessary repair work or equipment sales. BBB encourages consumers not to give in to high-pressure sales tactics and to always do their homework before committing to spend any money.

"Air conditioners can be one of the more complicated aspects of maintaining your home," said Melanie Duquesnel, president and CEO of the Better Business Bureau Serving Eastern Michigan. "As such, scam artists will leverage that unfamiliarity of air conditioning to take advantage of the consumer. The best way to defend your pocketbook is by being an educated consumer. Always check out a company with your local Better Business Bureau before accepting any offers and never leave anyone servicing your air conditioning system unattended while at your home."

Advertisements for "free" air conditioner cleanings or tune-ups tend to pop up this time of year. BBB recommends that consumers be cautious of these opportunities. Complaints received by the BBB show a trend in these circumstances regarding recommendations for more costly repairs than are actually required, high-pressure sales pitches to replace existing units with brand new models, or significantly marking up the price for replacement parts. In other situations, dishonest repair people will remove parts or allow coolant to escape causing the air conditioner to not work properly so that the consumer believes a costly repair or the purchase of a new unit is needed.

"If someone is advertising an offer to clean or service your air conditioner for free they are most likely planning on trying to sell you something else while they are in your home," said Lee Weinstein, general manager for H A Sun Heating & Cooling Inc., a BBB accredited business since 1987. "There is a difference between sending a technician out to provide a free estimate or quote as part of the sales process, which many reputable businesses do, and trying to trick a consumer by allegedly offering a free service with the overall intent of gaining access to their home in order to defraud them or make a high pressure sales pitch. Anytime someone is faced with a pricey repair or new air conditioner purchase, we recommend getting at least three quotes before you make a final decision."

BBB recommends consumers take the following steps to ensure they are getting the proper service for their air conditioner problems:

- Troubleshoot: Before calling for service, check a few basic things out yourself first. Is your thermostat operating properly? Has the electrical breaker powering the unit tripped? Does your system have a winter power shut off switch that needs to be flipped? Are the air intake screens or filters on your outside unit dirty or blocked and need to be cleaned? Sometimes there are minor, inexpensive things you can do yourself to alleviate a problem and avoid paying for a service call or repair.

- Air conditioners are complex machinery, don't take them apart or try to repair them on your own or you could end up doing more damage which could result in a more expensive repair. Leave the servicing of your air conditioner to a licensed professional.

- Warranty Issues: Is your air conditioner still under manufacturer's warranty? Sometimes using unauthorized service companies or replacement parts can void your warranty. Be sure to check your owners' manual or warranty for any special conditions to avoid unnecessarily paying for any future repairs that might otherwise be paid for under the warranty.

- Start With Trust: Check out service contractors with your local Better Business Bureau at www.bbb.org or by calling (248) 223-9400. Make sure to use a BBB accredited business or at the very least, one that has a good rating with BBB.

- Written Estimates: Don't be satisfied with verbal promises. Demand a written estimate that notes what is wrong with your air conditioner, what the entire cost to repair or replace the unit will be, and the printed and signed name of the repair person. If they are recommending purchasing a new system, also require the estimate include its make, model, serial number, and system capacity.

- Obtain Multiple Quotes: Obtain more than one written quote before you allow work to be completed on your air conditioner or purchase a new one. Quotes should include a full description of the services and materials to be used so you can adequately compare them; this includes the air conditioner's size and units of energy (BTU) as well as the calculated cooling capacity of your home. Also compare all available warranties. Not all warranties are the same so they should be included in your evaluation process.

- Be Vigilant: Protect your home and your valuables by never leaving unknown workers alone in your home. Keep valuables out of sight and locked up when you have a contractor doing work. Avoid paying cash and write checks out to the name of the business rather than payable to the employee or another individual. Some unethical employees and subcontractors steal from consumers by convincing them to write checks directly to them rather than the company that was hired. Consumers are then still liable to pay the company they hired to do the work or face a lien against their property. A canceled check is a useful form of evidence to prove you actually paid your bill.

Make sure the business has a mechanical contractor's license with the State of Michigan. You can check to see if someone is licensed online at <http://www7.dleg.state.mi.us/bcclicense/> or by calling (517) 241-9288. Additionally, check that the company is insured against claims covering worker's compensation, property damage, and personal liability in case an accident occurs on your property. Call to verify the contractor's insurance coverage after obtaining the name of the carrier and agency. Ask the provider to send you proof of coverage for your records.

- Annual Inspections: Paying for an annual inspection with a qualified repair shop to check the compressor, moving parts, coolant levels, filter, and furnace blower can identify and resolve problems before they become expensive. Having work done before the peak summer busy season can be less costly than when air conditioning service technicians are in high demand.

The Better Business Bureau Serving Eastern Michigan is a nonprofit organization that fights fraud and promotes ethical business practices in the local marketplace through its business accreditation, consumer education, and dispute resolution programs. Contact your local BBB by calling (248) 223-9400 or by visiting www.bbb.org.

Find an agent you can work with well

Q: Do you have any suggestions on how I can hire the best real estate agent for buying or selling my home?

A: Sometimes it is more difficult to find out about a real estate agent than other professionals. But there are some things you can find out about your agent before you hire him or her.

First, ask the agent to provide a list of what they have listed and sold in the last year with contact information. Before you start calling the names, ask the agent if anyone will be "particularly pleased or particularly disappointed." When you contact these past clients, ask what the asking price was and then ask what the sales price was.

If you are the seller, ask if these past properties are similar to yours in price, location and other salient features. Obviously, you want someone who specializes in exactly what you are trying to sell. Another good question for sellers is "How long has the home been on the market?" Also, check to see whether the person that you are considering is licensed and if there have been any disciplinary actions or complaints. You may also want to check to determine whether they are a "Realtor and/or a member of the National Association of Realtors," and, whether they have received any awards as such. See if they have any additional credentials meaning they have taken additional classes or training such as a CRS (Certified Residential Specialist) or an ABR (Accredited Buyer's Representative). There is also such a thing as an SRES (Seniors Real Estate Specialist) which means that they have completed training aimed at helping buyers and sellers in the 50+ age range. Keep in mind that a "Realtor" means that he/she is a member of the National Association of Realtors and pledges to support its Code of Ethics.

Further, make sure that your real estate agent or broker is not a new boy on the block and has been in the business at least five years. You can check with the state in that regard. Obviously, you are looking for someone who is actively engaged in a particular area and price range, and, you want to know what knowledge of those two factors they can demonstrate and what kind of market presence they have. Check out your proposed agent's listings on line, either at their old site or at realtor.com, and whether they recommend you obtain an attorney.

Finally, make sure you can communicate with your agent and have a rapport.

Q: I am, of course, trying to find out when the bottom will reach in terms of buying property in the Naples area. Do you have any later or additional information?

A: The number of house closings and real estate sales in Naples has increased substantially over last year (2009). However, there are still a number of foreclosed properties that are enticing investors at very cheap prices. Typically, the foreclosed property is not in the best of condition and that, of course, brings down the "comparables" for real estate pricing in the neighborhood and/or the other units of the development. Some brokers speculate that this will be the last summer where bargains can be obtained in Naples and, for that matter, Southeast Florida, but that still is only a prognostication.
