Library budget hearing

The annual public hearing on the Northville District Library's operating budget for 2010-11 is scheduled for 7 p.m. today.

The meeting will take place in the library's Carlo Meeting Room and is open to all residents of the city and township. Following this hearing, the Board of Trustees will approve the operating budget for the fiscal year, which begins Dec. 1. The proposed budget incorporates severe cuts that will reduce library services. These cuts are necessary due to declining property values which have resulted in decreased revenue for the fibrary since 2008.

For this reason, the Board of Trustees has voted to place a request for a .2 (two-tenths) millage increase for five years on the Nov. 2 ballot. The cost to a homeowner of a $200,000 home (a $100,000 taxable value) would be $20. In addition to the decline in tax revenue, state aid for the library has also been cut by 40 percent and interest income is almost non-existent. Projecting to 2012, library revenue will be reduced by approximately $500,000 dollars from 2008.

Demand for library services is at an all-time high. Library visits have increased almost 60 percent over the past five years, and circulation has increased 91 percent over the same period.

The library is located at 212 W. Cady Street, one block south of Main Street, across from the Northville Post Office

All-media exhibit

DDA Board to decide how to spend extra dollars

Special meeting set for Sept. 9

BY PAN FLEMING STAFF WRITER

The city of Northville was lucky enough to receive a $685,880 federal transportation grant for its downtown sidewalk improvement program.

Now, city leaders have the muchenvied task of trying to decide how to spend extra money since $2 million worth of bonds have been sold for the project.

The city issued $2 million in Build America Bonds in January to pay for the streetscape project. The DDA's tax increment financing revenue will be used to pay the debt service on the bonds.

But it wasn't until June that the DDA staff was notified that the city was receiving the grant to be administered by the Michigan Department of Transportation.

In other words, official notification of the grant award didn't take place until after the bonds were sold. This means that because the enhancement grant is given as a reimbursement, the city will be able to use that money for new projects.

The city's Executive Committee had its monthly meeting on Aug. 9. The DDA staff discussed a list of potential projects for the downtown. Proiects recommended could all be addressed by the current subcontractors on the job.

PROJECTS BEING CONSIDERED

Projects under consideration include improving the alley ways on Center Street next to Rebecca's restaurant and Orin Jewelers; secondary intersection brick work; landscaping on the Hutton/Dunlap streets curve and Mary Alexander Court; downtown trees; additional induction lighting; railing on Center Street; mill and resurface Center Street from Cady to Dunlap streets; Mary Alexander Court resurfacing; and Jordan March, 12, of Northville Township, will be playing the role of Bobby DeLuca in the upcoming Michigan-made movie "Home Run Showdown" scheduled for release next year.

Northville boy captures role, will star in film 'Home Run Showdown'

Was selected from more than 1,000 auditioners

BY PAM FLEMING STAFF WRITER

Northville Township resident Jordan March, 12, was recently selected to star in the baseball movie "Home Run Showdown," directed by Oz Scott.

His parents, Ted and Dawn March, encouraged their son to go to the auditions earlier this summer after seeing a segment about it on WDIV-Channel 4 news. Jordan will be a seventh-grader at Meads Mill Middle School this

"It said they were calling all 9-to 12-year-olds," Dawn said. "My wife said, What do you think?'" Ted said.

The problem was, auditions were at 6 p.m. on Aug. 3. Jordan plays baseball for the Northville Tigers' G League, they were undefeated, and the final playoff game was also at 6 p.m. that day.

Naturally, his father, Ted, thought the game was more important, especially with more than 1,000 children auditioning.

Then, the next morning Ted's sister, Mary Wilkie, called, saying she'd heard about the auditions on the radio and that they had to take Jordan. Ted finally told Dawn to take Jordan, go to the auditions a little early and see what might transpire.

THERE WERE SIGNS "I woke up that morning, and God was tapping me on the shoulder, saying, You need to get him there," Dawn said.

"I said, "Why not?," Jordan said. Some of the children even had agents, and Jordan had no previous acting experience.

"He loves it," Ted said. "He told me the other day, 'Dad, I think I can make this a career.'

Ted said the people in the casting and production companies were incredible as far as making everyone feel comfortable.

'HOME RUN' PLOT SYNOPSIS

The movie, written by John Bella and Tim Cavanaugh, is about two Little League teams who take on their coaches' sibling rivalry and end up doing battle in a place the baseball world would have never expected - in the outfield of the Home Run Derby.

Jordan's been playing ball for seven years, and his baseball skills helped him land the job.

They called in an action coordinator, Mark Robert Ellis, and when he saw Jordan, he said, 'I can totally work with that kid," Dawn said. During auditioning, some children knew a lot about baseball but didn't do well reading their lines. Others could read their lines but didn't know baseball. Jordan did great on both

This painting from the Detroit Institute of Arts titled 'Cotopaxi' is an 1862 oil on canvas by American artist Frederic Edwin Church. The painting will be one of three installed on the east wall of Northville's Town Square on Main Street as part of the DIA's 125th anniversary celebration. The paintings are to be installed around the first of September and remain on display at least through November.

will be accompanied by an informational plaque with donor recognition.

INTERACTIVE MAP PLANNED

Communities and businesses participating in the project will be featured on an interactive map on the museum's website (www.dia.org) as well as be connected through social networks, including the DIA's 25,000-member Facebook, MySpace, Flickr and Twitter accounts.

The project will receive recognition through the DIA newsletter and other communication vehicles. Celebrating the richness and diversity of the muscum's extensive collection, the project's goal it to connect with audiences outside the traditional museum walls in a grand, open-air gal-

The artwork should be displayed in Town Square soon and remain up through November.

The DIA will be responsible for the installation, duration and removal of the works at no cost to the city or business.

The city of Northville was approached about participating in the project. DDA staff, members of the Northville Central Business Association and the Arts Commission met with DIA representatives to learn more about the project and discuss a location.

The initial work to be installed is titled "Cotopaxi" and is an 1862 oil on canvas by artist Frederic Edwin Church.

The painting will be installed on the east wall of Town Square on Main Street. MORE TO COME DDA staff and members of the Arts Commission asked whether there would be an opportunity to have more works of art showcased in downtown Northville. The group was interested in other American artists from the Victorian period, with the idea that the installation of the paintings could coincide with the Victorian Festival in mid-September.

Arts Commission members and several gallery owners have offered to participate in the development of an educational program centered on the paintings for elementary schools as well.

The DIA agreed to allow several additional installations and provided several additional landscape and portrait paintings from the Victorian era from which the DDA staff could select some.

The cost for each additional painting will be $500.

The other two reproduc-tions selected are "The Communicant" by Gary Melchers painted in 1900 and "Home Fields" painted by John Singer Sargent in 1885.

The group felt that hanging the three paintings together in a gallery setting would be a more powerful statement than a single painting," said Lori Ward, DDA director.

Also, after the exhibit was over, the DDA will own the two additional paintings and be able to move them to other areas of the city or trade them with other cities for different ones.

The board approved the $1,000 to be spent on the two additional works of art at its Aug. 17 meeting. The money will come out of the DDA's marketing budget.

Jordan March, 12, of Northville Township landed a major speaking role in the upcoming film "Home Run Showdown," which is being filmed in Michigan. Here Jordan plays catch in his backyard with his brother, Max.

Ted said. The movie is scheduled to be released sometime next year.

It's being filmed in Taylor, Milford and Toledo. Jordan will play Bobby DeLuca — one of the major roles in the movie. "There are four main characters, and one of them is a girl," Ted said. In the movie, Bobby's dad, Rico, is played by Dean Cain, who played Clark Kent and Superman in the former TV show "Lois & Clark: The New Adventures of Superman" (1993).

Matthew Lillard, who starred in the "Scooby Do" movie and one of the "Scream" movies, plays Bobby's uncle. Interestingly enough, both Cain and Lillard were born in Michigan, moving from the state when they were young.

Lillard took some cast members and their families to Lucky Strike in Novi for dinner and to play games on Aug.

A DAY IN HIS LIFE

Jordan will receive his lines via e-mail the night before a shoot. He'll go to the set, and breakfast will be catered.

"He'll go to wardrobe and makeup, and then they'll shoot," Ted said.

They just let him know what he'll need to know for that day," Dawn explained. The Marches have three other sons besides Jordan: Gar, 18; Max, 17; and Austin, The family was very involved with the Northville Stallions football team, but Jordan has to sit out this season due to his acting project.

They said he couldn't get hurt," Dawn said. "Once you commit to the filming obligation, he's under contract."

JOINS ACTORS' UNION

He's now a member of the Screen Actors Guild and will pay annual dues. Besides baseball and football, Jordan enjoys golf and pond hockey. He's currently being tutored by Angie Germain, and his favorite subject is social studies. He may have to miss a couple of weeks of school if his movie contract is extended.

Jordan said he didn't know what he wanted to do when he grew up before he got the part in "Home Run Showdown," so the experience has opened up a whole new world for him.

"It's been a very positive experience," Dawn said. "We're so fortunate that he was chosen from all of those kids. They got what they hoped they would in Jordan."

He'll get an agent after this movie, with more parts surely to come his way in the future.

District updates Old Village, Cooke schools transition

The following information was provided by Supervisors Arthur H. Fischer, Jr. (Old Village School) and Mary Meldrum (Cooke School).

As we conclude the summer session, this letter provides a final update to you regarding the transition of four Severely Multiply Impaired classrooms (SXI) and two Severely Cognitively Impaired classrooms (SCI) from OVS over to Cooke School for the fall of 2010.

Cooke Construction Project: The construction time line continues to be on schedule with a completion date of August 27, 2010.

Transition Planning: As mentioned in our last letter (Aug. 6), staff and administration have continued to collaborate this summer on the specific planning needs for our students. The areas of toileting/ bathroom use and building technology plans are now in place for the start of the new school year.

Bathroom Remodeling / Toileting Schedule:

The two remodeled bathrooms (boys and girls), located in the OVS wing will accommodate the OVS students. The SXI teachers will have the option of using the new restrooms for those students with toileting skill goals. The majority of SXI students will have a private changing area located within their classroom, which is consistent with the Cooke SXI classrooms. The toileting schedule is completed with input from all of the teachers that are moving to Cooke School. Adaptive equipment, potty chairs and a changing table will be in each of the restrooms for student use. The toileting schedule will be revised as needed once the school year starts.

Technology:

Students will have access to two computers within each of the classrooms:

· Existing Ronald McDonald grant purchased computer will move from OVS with touch screen and educational software previously installed.

· A new laptop for student and staff use, which is switch accessible.

• Epson Bright Link 450 WI-white board touch screen for small group and 1:1 instruction

All student customized switches will transition with the individual student.

The Cooke building is now wireless and each classroom is equipped with a desktop and laptop computer for student use. The laptop computer is hooked up to our new Epson projectors which will allow any white board surface to become interactive. This enables all students to become an integral part of the learning environment. Not only will there be a "pen" for students to use to interact with the board (which can be adapted for our students with more fine and gross motor needs), but switches can also be hooked up to the computers to promote more independent interaction. This layout will allow classrooms to utilize the laptop and projector for full group instruction and the desktop computer for more individualized one-on-one instruction.

Post Construction Tour Dates: Please mark your home calendars for one of the two post construction tour dates available to you. The first tour is scheduled at night on Wednesday, Sept. 8 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. The second tour is scheduled during the daytime on Thursday, Sept. 9 from 1-2 p.m. Both tours will start in the Cooke cafeteria.

We look forward to reaching this final stage of the construction project! We are also deeply grateful for the ideas, input and flexibility provided by staff members on multiple fronts, throughout the planning process.

On behalf of all of the staff members at OVS and Cooke Schools, we look forward to working together with you and your students in the upcoming school year.

District finalizing schedules

In light of current budgetary considerations, building principals and administrators are carefully confirming enrollment and class sizes in order to finalize recommendations regarding staffing and placement. This process impacts the scheduling of students into classes and may impact the number of classes at each grade level. As a result, students will receive their schedules/class placements as follows:

High School Schedules for all Northville High School students will be available via Parent/Student Connect on Monday, Aug. 30. Students who need to change schedules may do so beginning on Sept. 2. Although schedules will not be available until Aug. 30, registration will take place next week as previously scheduled for each class. Registration packets will include information about accessing Parent/Student Connect.

Transition Day

The Transition Day for the 2010-2011 School Year will take place Monday, Aug. 30 (new date) as follows:

8th grade: 8-10 a.m. 7th grade: 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. 6th grade: 1:30-3:30 p.m. Students and parents should report to the auditorium for a brief meeting and instructions upon arrival.

Students will turn in paperwork, receive their schedules, locker assignments and have their pictures taken. Students will also have the opportunity to walk their schedules, set up their lockers, and practice a few "dry runs" of their schedule at then own leisure. Students new to our school will need time to practice their schedule. Parents are welcome to accompany their son/daughter.

Students who miss Transition Day may pick up their schedule, planner and walk their schedule after Aug. 30. They will have their picture taken for their ID card on picture make-up day on Sept. 13.

Public hearing on Northville District Library budget set tonight

Millage campaign needs volunteers

BY PAM FLEMING STAFF WRITER

Residents in the city of Northville and Northville Township are encouraged to attend the annual public hearing on the Northville District Library's 2010-11 operating budget at 7 p.m. tonight at the library.

The library is located at 212 W. Cady Street across the street from the Northville Post Office.

Following this hearing. members of the Board of Trustees will approve the operating budget for the fiscal year that will begin Dec. 1, 2010. The proposed budget incorporates severe cuts that will reduce library services.

Because of this crisis situation, the Board of Trustees has voted to place a request for a .2 (two-tenths) millage increase ,, in full swing, with volunteers .

for five years on the Nov. 2 ballot. The cost to a homeowner of a $300,000 home (a $150,000 taxable value) would be $30.

Due to declining property values, tax revenues have been decreasing since 2009. State aid has also been cut by 40 percent, and interest income is almost nonexistent. Projecting to 2012, library revenue will be reduced by approximately 20 percent from 2008. A 20-percent decrease is also predicted for 2013, with a 19-percent decrease since 2008 expected for 2014.

About 96 percent of the library's revenue comes from property taxes. The Headlee Amendment rollback has reduced its 1 mili tax levy to .9573.

CAMPAIGN HEATS UP

The millage campaign is

es, service clubs and more. Literature will also be distributed at the upcoming Victorian Festival next month and at other Chamber of Commerce events.

The marking and public relations committee is being headed by Joe Corriveau, Bob Sochacki and Paul Snyder.

Mary Ellen King is chair of the Committee to Support the Northville Library Millage. Other members are Alan Somershoe, chair; Denise Staser, treasurer; and Jean Hansen, database.

To volunteer, contact Snyder at psnyder57@comeast.net.

Boy Scout collects items to aid Michigan troops overseas

BY PAM FLEMING

Mike Tolkacz will soon become an Eagle Scout. And, when he had to select a community service project, he decided to do something to help Michigan troops in Iraq in Afghanistan.

Contacting Michigan Military Moms, he led a drive this summer to collect personal care items and snacks for the soldiers.

Tolkacz, 16, lives in Novi and will be a senior at Catholic Central High School in the fall. He is a member of Northville Boy Scout Troop =777 that meets at the United Methodist Church on Eight Mile Road at Taft Road.

He also collected cans and bottles that led to $500 worth of deposit money to help pay to ship the packages to the troops.

I'd like to thank my family, the Michigan Military Moms, and our neighborhood leader,

Mrs. Patti Johnson, Tolkacz said.
Recently, he and a few other volunteers gathered in the lower level of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Northville to put together the packages for the troops. The boxes were later driven to Fort Dearborn in Hat Rock to be shipped by the Michigan Military Moms to their sons and daughters in military service.

HOW HE GOT THE IDEA

About a year and a half ago, one of the members of his and his family's church had a son in

"I helped her package boves for her to mail to him," Tolkacz said. "So, I started working with her when his patrol came home. Now, I'm working with Michigan Military Moms.'

The goal was to collect items for 150 boxes for his project. He had help from Scouts from Troop 721, including Brendan Hein from Troop 777; Mark Tolkacz, Mike's younger brother who will become a Scout next year; Adam Helmer from Troop 777; Joseph Schulte; and Josh Gage, who just finished his Eagle Scout project.

Items included shampoo, conditioner, socks, toothbrushes, tooth paste, batteries, Band-Aids, beef jerky, soap, hard candy, lotion, chewing gum. There can't be any pork, because it's being shipped to a strick Muslim community, Tolkacz said.

The military doesn't provide these types of things for the troops," he said. That's where the Michigan Military Moms come into play. "I think this is important because we need to show our troops overseas that we support them," Tolkacz said.

I know that when the troops came back from Vietnam, they didn't get a lot of support. We need to support these troops for what they are doing - fighting for our freedom."

For information about how to pack a box for the troops, contact Evona LaPere at (734) 818-7457 of

Northville Boy Scout Mike Tolkacz of Novi, a Catholic Central High School student, packages items for Michigan troops stationed overseas at Northville's Our Lady of Victory Church on Aug. 5. Tolkacz has been working with the Dearborn Military Moms to collect basic personal care items, batteries and snacks for the community service portion of his Eagle Scout requirements. Tolkacz is a member of Northville's Troop #777.

FREEDOM WALK THIS SUNDAY

The Michigan Military Moms will have its 2010 Freedom Walk this Sunday at Dearborn's Ford Field Park. Sign up begins at 11 a m , with the opening ceremony at 12 30 p m. and funch served immediately after the two-mile walk. A $10 donation is requested at sign up. T-shirts and other items will be available for purchase. This is the fourth annual walk. For more information, call (313) 671 5074 or visit www. michiganmilitarymoms org

Public hearing on Northville District Library budget set tonight

Millage campaign needs volunteers

BY PAM FLEMING STAFF WRITER

Residents in the city of Northville and Northville Township are encouraged to attend the annual public hearing on the Northville District Library's 2010-11 operating budget at 7 p.m. tonight at the library.

The library is located at 212 W. Cady Street across the street from the Northville Post for five years on the Nov. 2 ballot. The cost to a homcowner of a $300,000 home (a $150,000 taxable value) would be $30.

Following this hearing. members of the Board of Trustees will approve the operating budget for the fiscal year that will begin Dec. 1, 2010. The proposed budget incorporates severe cuts that will reduce library services.

Because of this crisis situation, the Board of Trustees has voted to place a request for a .2 (two-tenths) millage increase ,, in full swing, with volunteers .

Due to declining property values, tax revenues have been decreasing since 2009. State aid has also been cut by 40 percent, and interest income is almost nonexistent. Projecting to 2012, library revenue will be reduced by approximately 20 percent from 2008. A 20-percent decrease is also predicted for 2013, with a 19-percent decrease since 2008 expected for 2014.

About 96 percent of the library's revenue comes from property taxes. The Headlee Amendment rollback has reduced its 1 mill tax levy to .9573.

CAMPAIGN HEATS UP

The millage campaign is

es, service clubs and more. Literature will also be distributed at the upcoming Victorian Festival next month and at other Chamber of Commerce events.

The marking and public relations committee is being headed by Joe Corriveau, Bob Sochacki and Paul Snyder.

Mary Ellen King is chair of the Committee to Support the Northville Library Millage. Other members are Alan Somershoe, chair; Denise Staser, treasurer; and Jean Hansen, database.

To volunteer, contact Snyder at psnyder57@ comcast.net.

Boy Scout collects items to aid Michigan troops overseas

BY PAM FLEMING

Mike Tolkacz will soon become an Eagle Scout. And, when he had to select a community service project, he decided to do something to help Michigan troops in Iraq in Afghanistan.

Contacting Michigan Military Moms, he led a drive this summer to collect personal care items and snacks for the soldiers.

Tolkacz, 16, lives in Novi and will be a senior at Catholic Central High School in the fall. He is a member of Northville Boy Scout Troop =777 that meets at the United Methodist Church on Eight Mile Road at Taft Road.

He also collected cans and hottles that led to $500 worth of deposit money to help pay to ship the packages to the troops.

I'd like to thank my family, the Michigan Military Moms, and our neighborhood leader, Mrs. Patti Johnson, Tolkacz said.
Recently, he and a few other volunteers gathered in the lower level of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Northville to put together the packages for the troops.

The boxes were later driven to Fort Dearborn in Flat Rock to be shipped by the Michigan Military Moms to their sons and daughters in military service.

HOW HE GOT THE IDEA

About a year and a half ago, one of the members of his and his family's church had a son in the military.

'I helped her package boves for her to mail to him," Tolkacz said. "So, I started working with her when his patrol came home. Now, I'm working with Michigan Military Moms."

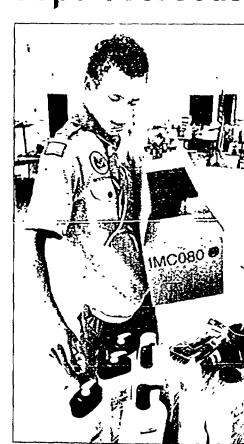

The goal was to collect items for 150 boxes for his project. He had help from Scouts from Troop 721, including Brendan Hein from Troop 777; Mark Tolkacz, Mike's younger brother who will become a Scout next year; Adam Helmer from Troop 777; Joseph Schulte; and Josh Gage, who just finished his Eagle Scout project.

Items included shampoo, conditioner, socks, toothbrushes, tooth paste, batteries, Band-Aids, beef jerky, soap, hard candy, lotion, chewing gum. There can't be any pork, because it's being shipped to a strick Muslim community, Tolkacz said.

The military doesn't provide these types of things for the troops," he said. That's where the Michigan Military Moms come into play. "I think this is important because we need to show our troops overseas that we support them," Tolkacz said.

"I know that when the troops came back from Vietnam, they didn't get a lot of support. We need to support these troops for what they are doing - fighting for our freedom."

For information about how to pack a box for the troops, contact Evona LaPere at (734) 818-7457 of

Northville Boy Scout Mike Tolkacz of Novi, a Catholic Central High School student, packages items for Michigan troops stationed overseas at Northville's Our Lady of Victory Church on Aug. 5. Tolkacz has been working with the Dearborn Military Moms to collect basic personal care items, batteries and snacks for the community service portion of his Eagle Scout requirements. Tolkacz is a member of Northville's Troop #777.

FREEDOM WALK THIS SUNDAY

The Michigan Military Moms will have its 2010 Freedom Walk this Sunday at Dearborn's Ford Field Park. Sign up begins at 11 a m , with the opening ceremony at 12 30 p m and lunch served immediately after the two-mile walk. A $10 donation is requested at sign up. T-shirts and other items will be available for purchase. This is the fourth annual walk. For more information, call (313) 671-5074 or visit www. michiganmilitarymoms org

Sophomore sails on schooner this summer

One of 11 students on trip by Michigan Tech Youth Programs

STAFF WRITER

Northville High sophomorfe Chris Davis had the chance to sail on a schooner this summer in the Great Lakes.

The trip from July 19-24 was part of the Michigan Technological University Youth Programs in Houghton and focused on learning about the biology of the lakes. The programs are pre-career programs for students, and Davis, 15, is considering majoring in biology in college.

The ship was called the Sailing Vessel Denis Sullivan, owned by Discovery World of Milwaukee, Wis. Eleven students went on the trip, and they didn't leave the ship for the duration of the journey.

The 137-foot-long ship with 10 sails is 10 years old and modeled after a schooner from the early 1800s. The group started in Bay City and sailed through Lake Huron, to Sault Ste. Marie and went through the locks. then along the Lake Superior shoreline until they reached the Houghton-Hancock area.

Students collected water and mud samples along the way. "We didn't see a lot of wildlife except the last day when we saw a bald eagle and a bunch of deer while going through the canal," Davis said.

PART OF THE CREW

Davis said the students were essentially part of the crew during the journey.

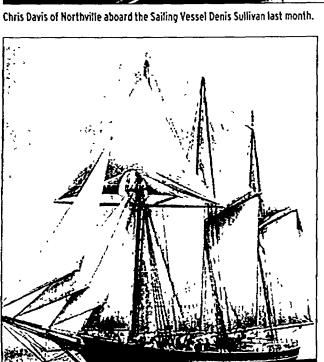

"If you weren't sleeping, you were on watch," he said. There were three watches, each five hours long. "So, you'd have five hours on, 10 hours off."

There was bow watch (front of the ship), helm duty (steering the ship) and boat

The instructor discussed the presence of Asian carp in the lakes and the fact that zebra mussels are going away only to be replaced by a much worse one, the coaga mussel.

They do everything the zebra mussel does," Davis iney eat plankton, leav ing little for the fish to eat."

LEARNED ABOUT SAILING Davis said he learned a lot about sailing on the trip as well. He also attended a genetic engineering and biotechnology camp at Michigan Tech after the sailing trip. The Sullivan joined other ships during the Tall Ships Celebration in Bay City the first couple of days, including the Bounty, which is in two of the Pirates of the Caribbean movies, and Europa, a ship from the Netherlands that sails to Antarctica every year.

He said it was a rewarding trip, and he learned about it from his father, Matt, who attended some Michigan Tech Youth Programs when

MTU'S SUMMER PROGRAMS

Michigan Tech's Summer Youth Programs offer over 70 handson career and adventure explorations for students in grades six-11. Other unique opportunities being offered this summer include a backpacking trip to Isle Royale, Mich , to study moose and wolf populations, a blacksmithing course where students make their own tools, and a course on 3D computer modeling that culminates in the design, building and testing of catapults, rockets and robotics he was in high school.

The idea is to expose young people to some experiences that might help them choose a career," Matt Davis said. "It's an immersive experience, so they get a flavor for a particular field."

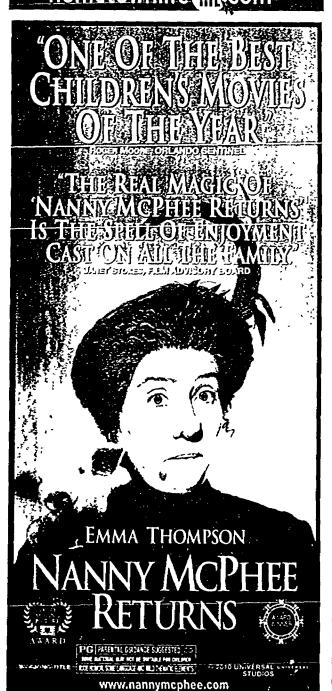

He plays French horn in the NHS band and recently attended Band Camp, plays tennis and plays rugby for the Northville Knights.

Davis plans to attend another Michigan Tech Youth Program next summer on Isle Royale, an island in Lake Superior. For more information, go $to\ www.youthprograms.mtu.$

Kalass enjoys new job as CEO of family service agency

Like many people at some stage of their life, Ann Kalass decided to leave the corporate world and broaden her horilittle over seven years, Kalass (pronounced kay' less) said Starfish offers more than a dozen programs that ben-efit more than 9,000 at-risk children and families at sites throughout Wayne and Oakland counties.

She joined Starfish just over three years ago after working in marketing management for Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn for 13 years.

She took a buyout and transferred her business expertise to a totally new area, rebuilding the agency's leadership

DRAMATIC LIFE CHANGE

I decided about four years ago that I wanted to make a dramatic life change," Kalass said. "I'd had a really fulfilling career at Ford. But, when I turned 40 I began to ask

WHAT GUIDES STARFISH

A woman was walking on the beach after a terrible storm. She noticed a young man ahead of her picking up starfish and throwing them into the surf. When she reached the man, she asked, "With millions of starfish on the beach, what difference can you make?" The young man smiled at the woman, reached down and picked up a starfish. Throwing it ir to the sea, he said, "It makes a difference to this one."

myself how I could make a greater contribution to the community."

Kalass earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and her master's in business administration from the Tuck School at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. She and her husband, Scott, who still works for Ford, have two daughters, Katie and Natalie.

"I think I reflected a lot on the lessons that I was teaching my children," she said.

She started attending some of Starfish's board meetings through a colleague. Three months after leaving Ford, she was running Starfish.

"The application of leadership and management I learned at Ford has been incredibly helpful," Kalass said.

Northville Township resident Ann Kalass, CEO of Starfish Family Services in Inkster, talks about the benefits the program offers families in meeting their children's needs.

Kalass developed a three-year strategic plan for Starfish, refocused the mission to early childhood development and led the initiative in acquiring three impressive grants. These included $25,000 from the Art Van Charity Challenge, $50,000 from PNC Bank and $125,000 from the Kresge Foundation.

'We've really made a recommitment of our mission around early childhood development and understanding how important the first five years are to children's longterm success," Kalass said.

"We have in our preschool programs throughout Wayne County about 700 children who are in our care." These are children whose families are below the federal poverty levels and have few resources.

INVOLVING PARENTS

Starfish is committed to the quality of these programs, to expanding services and also to engaging the parents of these children in getting them ready

"We want to educate parents so they understand that they are their children's most important teacher in life," Kalass said. She said foundations are interested in the area of early childhood education and parental engagement.

Both the Art Van and the PMC Bank grants are supporting a program Starfish calls Parent Empowerment that engages 50-75 parents largely from Western Wayne County. The nine-month program teaches parents the importance of reading to their children, language in the home, setting routines in the home, setting limits, the development of motor skills and more.

The program's instructor is Dr. Bob Sornson, a longtime administrator and educator in Northville.

FOUNDER FROM NORTHVILLE

The founder of the agency, Ouida Cash, who died about two years ago, also lived in Northville.

"I was actually brought in to succeed her," Kalass said. "This is the second generation connection to Northville."

Brownie troops from Northville have also conducted community service projects for Starfish, such as collecting books, providing arts and crafts items for the children and reading to the children. Schools have also helped with various projects. About 700 preschool children come daily to centers in Inkster, Livonia, Canton, Redford and Westland. "Children are given a quality, center-based preschool experience," Kalass said. Starfish is also a specialized provider of children's mental health services. They receive healthy meals and snacks and receive federal, state and county funding.

Starfish hosts a monthly luncheon to introduce volunteers, prospective donors and community partners to the agency.

Headquartered in Plymouth, Community Financial Credit Union has a team of 150 employees who serve members at eight branch locations in Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Novi, Gaylord, Hillman and Lewiston.

Community Financial named one of the best to work for

For the fifth consecutive year, Community Financial Credit Union has been named one of Metropolitan Detroit's 101 Best and Brightest Companies to Work For. The credit union was selected from more than 1,000 nominations and over 400 applications submitted by a diverse field of local companies who compete for the award presented by the Michigan Business and Professional Association (MBPA).

The winning companies exhibit exemplary human resource practices, recognize their employees as their great assets, and work with imagination and assurance to create an exceptional work environment. Participants are required to fill out an extensive survey, and winners are selected based on independent research that evaluates each entry based on key measures in various categories including communication, community initiatives, and employee education and development.

The selection, recognition and awarding of their year's 101 companies allows our organization to showcase their best practices. The honorees have clearly demonstrated why each of them would be an ideal place for employees to work. Companies that capitalize on their greatest resourcetheir employees-know how to attract and retain top talent," said Jennifer Kluge, MBPA executive vice president and chief operating officer.

We are very proud to be a five time winner," said Community Financial CEO Bill Lawton. "I want to acknowledge the commitment, mutual respect and exceptional level of member service provided by our credit union team for making this award possible."

The credit union conducts ongoing training and leadership development programs to maintain a talented and dedicated team. Team members and their families are provided with the resources they need to protect and enhance their financial security and to balance the priorities of work and personal life. Lawton said, "At the same time, Community Financial and its team are committed to enhancing the financial well-being of our members. I feel fortunate to work for a great company and with great people-focused entirely on helping others."

Membership in Community Financial Credit Union is open to anyone who lives, works, worships, volunteers or attends school in the Michigan cities, townships or counties of Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Novi, Alpena, Otsego and Montmorency. With more than 44,000 members, Community Financial provides financial services to members at eight branch locations and through a variety of automated and online services. For more information, visit the credit union website at www.cfcu. org or call (734) 453-1200 or (877) 937-2328, toll free.

Builder Compo celebrates 50 years

James D. Compo, Inc. of Farmington Hills is celebrating their 50th year in business. The company has offices in Northville and Brighton. This third generation family-owned business has built over 1,000 custom homes and completed over 5,000 remodeling jobs, attributing much of its success to the many referrals given by past clients who's expectations were exceeded in terms of design, craftsmanship, professionalism and value. Because of the amount of referrals that James D. Compo receives, it created a special referral program to reward its clients for their

Janet Compo, who founded the company with her husband, Jim, served as the first female president of the Builders Industry Association. For decades Janet handled the design end of the business while Jim ran the building side. Jim passed away earlier this year. Today, David Compo runs the general operations of the company as President while his brother Chris Compo serves as vice president and heads up Compo Custom Renovations, the remodeling division.

Since the inception of the company the focus has been on practical designs, custom tailored to the needs and lifestyles of the client. Practical layouts, low-maintenance and high-efficiency are just three of the 39 key features of Compo homes.

Over the years Compo has developed Ameri-Comp, a home inspection company, as well as Compo Real Estate Investments, a real estate arm designed to better serve their clients.

Since 1961 Compo has won numerous awards from the Building Industry Association of Southeast Michigan, the State of Michigan and other organizations. The company slogan -- "Homes are our Life" -- is carried forward in everything they do.

(non-debtor)

Rarely are there any black and white answers to legal questions. One question in particular relates to how should I title my property? As a joint tenant with a child? In my trust? In the name of a corporation or LLC? In my own name? It all depends on a series of questions.

The first series of questions that should be analyzed is the type of property you own. Is it your home? A bank account?

The second series of questions are directed to what are we trying to accomplish with the ownership. Avoiding probate? Concerns because of creditors?

The third series of questions relate to the tax consequences of the ownership. Will there be an acceleration of deferred income? Is a taxable gift being made? Are there any real estate tax conse-

Within each of these series of questions are multiple possibilities. A balance must give in, e.g. between whether the risk of loss to a potential creditor is heavier than the increase in real property taxes. This is why the answer depends.

Most people revert to the easiest method of property ownership and that is the "joint tenants with full rights of survivorship". It is the quickest, cheapest and easiest estate planning technique, but it does have its fair share of downsides.

Avoiding property is the principal reason people designate their assets as jointly owned. When the original owner passes away, the entire account or real estate becomes the sole property of the surviving joint owner. This is a simple method to transfer assets and avoid probate.

Designating someone as a joint owner is a highly effective method of defeating the claims of creditors of one of the joint owners. In other words, a creditor cannot attempt to seize person's people use joint ownership as a technique to insulate their assets from potential creditors.

Of course there are endless downsides to designating someone as a joint owner on your assets; most are discovered after answering the series of questions above. The three most common downsides are the family-squabbles, the gift tax consequences and the fraudulent conveyances that can result with joint owner-

Jointly owned property is source of much litigation when a family member dies. The original intent of the decedent is almost always to make someone a joint owner out of "convenience" and to avoid probate. This intent is not always followed and family lawsuits start flying. The sole owner (e.g. the surviving joint tenant) excludes the surviving family members from the property or does not feel as if he or she needs to share it with them. This pure ugliness can be avoided by exploring the series of questions.

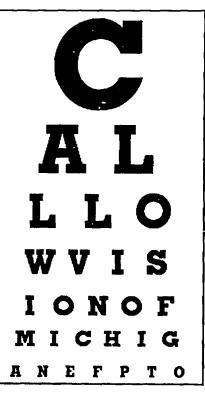

A taxable gift may result if a "taxable event" occurs with a jointly owned asset. If, for example, a child is designated as a joint tenant on a savings account, this is not a taxable event. If the child withdraws funds from the account, however, there is a taxable gift in the amount of the funds withdrawn. Whether the funds are used for the child or parent's benefit, ANY withdrawal by the child would be considered a taxable event. Although there may not be any gift tax owed immediately, it could become a serious issue in later years.

Finally, if someone attempts to "joint-up" their assets because of creditor claims, they may find that the transfer was an actual fraud upon their creditors. If that is the reality, the creditor could assert that the property owners engaged in a fraudulent conveyance. A court could simply unwind the joint ownership or it could enter severe sanctions upon both owners for defrauding the creditor. Protection of your assets may be your primary goal, but no one should ever attempt to change the title to any asset if there are known creditors attempting to collect a debt.

I realize that many people do not understand some of the complexities or downsides of property ownership. In the law, problems often rise from what can appear to be a benign decision. Attorneys do not always have all of the answers to the questions that are being asked. While a person's heart may be in the right place when they take certain actions, the unknown consequences may be far different than what they anticipated. Unfortunately, some people cannot fully appreciate the consequences of a decision until they have actually experienced it.

Classic car owner looks forward to Concours' new locale

Lee Barthel loves classic

In fact, the Northville resident owns 14 of them and hopes that he will be invited back to display one at the 2011 Concours d'Elegance of America car show.

July 31, 2011, will be the first time in 25 years that the show will change venues from the Meadow Brook Center in Rochester Hills and take place at St. John's Golf & Conference center on the boundary of Northville and Plymouth on the south side of Five Mile Road just east of Sheldon Road.

This change will be a boon to downtown Northville merchants, as many of the participants will be shopping in the city over the three-day

Barthel, who is in the roadbuilding business and owns Barthel Contracting, displayed a 1936 Pierce-Arrow in this year's event, which attracts car owners and lovers from across the country.

The classic is navy with gray interior. The car that inspired Barthel at age 10 belonged to his father's boss.

"It was a 1936 Pierce-Arrow just like this," he said. "Right after World War II, we went to Naples, Florida and visited him. When I saw that car I said to myself, 'When I grow up, I'm going to have a car like that.' So, ever since I was 10 I wanted a car like this."

HIS DREAM CAR SINCE A BOY

His family went to Florida in a 1939 Ford, which was smaller and not nearly as nice as the Pierce-Arrow.

Barthel said there are about four different hood ornaments on the Pierce-Arrows, which were made by a standalone company in Buffalo, N.Y., that went out of business in 1938.

He purchased the car, which was advertised in a magazine, in Auburn, Ind.,

We were at Meadow Brook Hall for 32 years, and it was a wonderful relationship," Moss said. "But, what the event was lacking was a hotel on site. That was a major factor. On-site dining facilities and air-conditioning were other factors. The main reasons for the change were logistical."

The Hilton Garden Inn is also located within a shuttle's distance south of Five Mile Road on Sheldon Road. Also, there were space considerations.

ST. JOHN'S STAFF EXCITED

Tonya Johnson, director of sales and marketing at St. John's Golf and Conference Center, is excited that the event is coming to Plymouth. Staff will be attending the national car show on Amelia Island, Fla., in January to get a feel for a large car show.

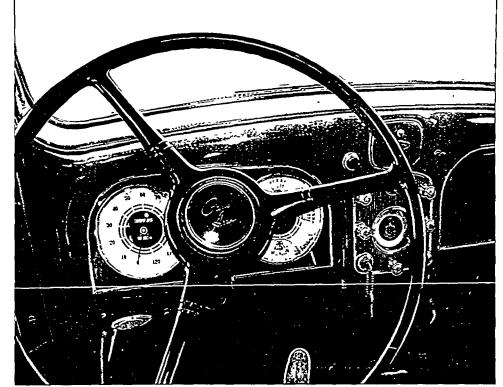

The cars will be parked on the golf course, and there may be a ride-and-drive event for the exhibitors who come to the show.

The public can attend for $25 per person, with tickets available the day of the event. About 10,000 attended this

Consolidation

Is now the time to combine Novi. Northville school districts?

Michigan has 550 public school districts ... and two of the best in the entire state are right here. (We won't waste time here proving that fact. But, if you doubt it, just take a look at the results of annual tests like MEAP and MME and you'll see where both Novi and Northville rank.)

Both districts' superintendents - Northville's Leonard Rezmierski and Novi's Pete Dion — will be leaving at the end of the 2010-11 school year, which may make this an opportune time for consolidation.

Let's take a look at the situation beginning with similarities between the two districts that are SCHOOL DISTRICT worth noting.

• Per-pupil state aid is $8,204 for Novi; $8,539 for Northville.

General funds are nearly identical at just over $65M each.

· Nonhomestead millages are 32 for Novi; 28 for Northville.

Both have between 400 and 500 teachers.

· Their taxable values are close ($2.146m for Novi; $2.621m for Northville).

Novi has eight schools; Northville has nine (plus it operates two special needs facilities for Wayne County).

• Enrollment is close: 6,164 students in Novi; 7,011 in Northville.

Their borders overlap' - some students live in one area and go to school in the other.

Obviously, unification of these two particular districts will mean change and that isn't easy. But we believe this change is worth considering because the end result will be a world-class district.

The challenges of combining two districts would be large and time consuming, but it's worth explor-

It will save taxpayers money as administrative

The consolidation of transportation, resource sharing and one headquarters are other examples of cost-

The idea of consolidation is by no means new. Although there have only been two in Michigan in the last decade, the state had well over 7,000 districts at one time. The 1964 School District Reorganization act brought that down, and the number has been around 550 for the past 40 years. In December 2004, Northville resident Tom Watkins, who at the time was the state's superintendent of public instruction, wrote a paper at the request of Kathleen Straus, president of the State Board of Education. In "Structural Issues Surrounding Michigan School Funding in the 21st Century," he presented at an alternative to consoli-

"One option that could be mandated legislatively is the creation of 'joint operating agreements' (JOA) that have a school district or ISO assume responsibility for administrative services for surrounding districts. This eliminates duplication of administrative costs that may be re-directed to teaching and learning. The JOA concept is borrowed from The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press that combined administrative operations for cost efficiency but retained distinct editorial and news functions. Similarly, local districts have the potential to combine payroll, transportation, curriculum development, special education, data systems, and other business functions while maintaining separate identities."

According to Watkins, a study was done in the mid-1990s that demonstrated an annual countywide savings of up to $10 million - but it was never implemented.

"Why?" asks Watkins. "Could it be that power, control, politics and adults trump teaching, learning, students - not to mention taxpayers?"

If one looks at just the financial aspect of consolidation, it appears to be an easy decision. But, as is usually the case, there are many other factors to consider. To that end, superintendents Dion and Rezmierski have both agreed to sit down with the Novi News and Northville Record on Sept. 16 to discuss the issue and the future of the two school

There is no quick answer to the question of consolidation — but in this current economy, we believe it is worth exploring.

Don't answer 'pirate' calls

Are your daily activities repeatedly interrupted by phone calls that, when you finally get to the phone and pick up the receiver, you get either silence, which one may perceive as a rude waste of time or even a threat, or you get asked for money, probably by your credit card number?

We call them "pirate calls," because they fly under the false flag of "no name received" or "private caller" on the caller ID,

They are anything but private. If asked, the caller may cheerfully explain that it is just a call center "identification." Maybe. Even if they give you a number to call back, you can't really know whether it is a scam center, a so-called "boiler room." Therefore, we have adopted a policy of never responding with money or credit card number and rarely even picking up the phone for any non-identifying

ID calls. In the first half of August, we received 23 "pirate" calls, 14 of them "private" and nine "Michigan" or "Massachusetts" or some other non-identifying ID. During the same period, we received only five honestly identified legitimate calls. With 82 percent of calls being "pirate," please excuse us if we don't run to the phone and answer you Just leave a message on the answering machine, and we can call you back. Don't expect our politicians to remedy the abuse of caller ID, they are among the "pirates."

loss, etc. These people are Americans who have no health insurance. They put up with the pain and discomfort. They would get it fixed. but money is short. They save money to keep the car running. They pay their bills, and they know what they have won't kill them

There are other people - like the woman who found a lump in her breast, or the man who quit smoking five years ago and now has a cough he can't get rid of, or the people whose feet swell up when they stand too long and they know their heart isn't working just right. They have no health insurance, and what if they get that first test and it's bad? Better not to know, so they just worry and pray.

Then there are fund-raisers! "Humpty Dumpty fell off the wall, so come eat pizza and they'll give 10 percent of your bill to help put Humpty Dumpty back together again Come eat pizza and help!"

But the worst is the jar on the counter at party stores, restaurants, etc. with a picture of a child, young mother or father, and a young note that says, "Please help.." You know the rest of the note.

Health care in America. It won't kill me! Please, God - not cancer! Fund-raiser, 10 percent will help. Help fill this jar. Only in America!

Bolitho mattered

Last month, the Detroit papers and the Northville Record announced David Bolitho's retirement from Northville schools effective July 1. It struck me that it was such a simple notice for such a complex educator who faced the most important issues of the time and mastered them.

In my opinion, there was no one more responsible for the resurgence of Northville High School in the 1980s than Principal Bolitho. No one worked harder or tonger at mopping up the mess from the 1970s and creating a safe, strong academic atmosphere for students and teachers like. The students and staff soon reaped many honors, property values soared, and the community responded by renovating the old school in 1985-86.

Later, at the board office, as assistant superintendent in the 1990s, it was his leadership along with others that led the community to build a beautiful new campus on Six Mile Road. A few years ago, the confidence teachers had in him allowed us to convince our colleagues to agree to accept a salary step freeze, thus saving the district millions. When the drastic cuts came for Northville last year, cuts that Bolitho had predicted would come, that surplus helped to allow the school year to continue uninterrupted, and we produced, once again, the top score in composite ACT for Wayne County and the second best score in the tricounty area.

Now, more sacrifices loom. High school teachers accepted the board's plan to teach one more class each semester, allowing the district to lay off a large number of staff. saving millions more. Difficult days may tie ahead, but the foundation laid by an excellent educator and his loyal teaching staff over the past 30 years will help us weather the storm. Many of his former staff join me in wishing him well as he leaves and give him a profound "well done" on his career here in Northville.

Northville: Declining property taxes big problem

I hope this was for the benefit of the community and the members of this committee and not the leader-

The revenue stream has already suffered from this effect for two or three years now. Most communities in the immediate area have already "learned" this with meetings open to the public, cuts in staff and services, and seminars for the elected and professional leaders.

This is really old news - and it is not going to get any better for four or five more years. If Northville is just starting now, hold onto your hats, it is going to be a bumpy ride.

This was actually a very well written article. It covered why municipal government revenues are dropping in Michigan (by the way, 27 states have the same problem, with 10 being even worse than ours) and why it will be a LONG recovery because of Prop A and Headlee.

City services and municipal government will never be the same. Get used to basic services only -- and the community has to decide what those are. No more "extras" like pensions, full-paid health care, cars and festivals that do not pay for themselves. Cities are finding it difficult to keep police and fire at current levels and libraries open.

Tipping Point Theatre announces Member Choice Awards

Tom Mahard, who played widower Gus Klingman, who stumbles into love in the romantic comedy "Southern Coinforts," won Best Actor on Sunday at Tipping Point Theatre Second Annual Members Choice Award Ceremony.

This celebration of the theatre's past season and a glimpse into its 2010-2011 All American Season was hosted by Producing Artistic Director James R. Kuhl. The event opened to musical selections from the upcoming 2010 winter musical, "Guys On Ice," performed on piano by Ryan Lewis.

Eight awards were presented in five categories, honoring the best of last season chosen by Tipping Point Theatre members. Last season, the theatre cast 24 actors, including the Sandbox play festival in June as part of the newly-named Northville Arts & Acts Festival (formerly Art in the Sun), as well as 18 different designers (set, costumes, props, sound and lights) and eight directors.

NORTHVILLE POLICE BRIEF

Stolen GPS units recovered

The Northville Township Police Department issued an alert message through its Nivle communications system at 12:29 p.m. on Tuesday about some stolen GPS units being recovered.

Over the weekend, police recovered several stolen units. The units were stolen between Aug. 15 and 16 from the southeast area of Northville Township.

"We have been unsuccessful in identifying a few of the owners of the units," police said.

Those who have any information or have neglected to report a theft are asked to contact the Northville Township Police Detective Bureau at (248) 349-9400.

LIVE. BREATHE. BUSINESS

Date: Third Thursday of month Location: Allen Terrace, 401 High St. 12:30 p.m. Pinochle انز عا Walsh College is serious business. A college is all about its students and helping them develop the tools to succeed. Walsh College students know better than most what they need, and they get it. Above all, Walch College students went to learn about business. Pay and all aspects of the college experience which don't help them learn about business are considered, well, professors-easily-and-readily. They want the business skills that can put them shead of the pack and enable them to climb a rung or two or more on the corporate ladder. They want to be taught by people who live and preatine the pusitiess world every day. And they are by CEOs CEOs CMOs partners in law CPA nims and other positions of preeting who share their stories and business-world insight as Walsh professors. Walsh studente take pride in learning the repes argue state's largest graduate ousiness scrool, where they can rub albove with many like minded students including the language of MBA candidates of any in Michigan. And, they all want to be able to work while they go to cohool-out of sheer-necessity. The luxury of putting their-career. on hold while they go back to school isn't an antion. But all this serious talk doesn't mean the Walsh-College experience isn't enjoyable. It is, but in a decidedly no nonsense way. Serious students. A college serious about helping them. Mustangs gridders return solid nucleus

Northville opens with Big Day Showdown game vs. Lakeland

BY SAM EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

Mark it on your calendars, folks. It's 2010, a mere 49 seasons since the last time a Northville High School football team has won a division championship. Back then, Ron Horwath was patrolling the sidelines and it was rare to see too many teams running anything but some variation of the I-formation set.

Fast forward to present day and Matt Ladach, the intense head coach of the current Northville Mustangs gridiron squad, is pacing the sidelines like a tiger trapped in a cage. His gaze is on the field as his players run through one of the several sets they will use this Hit harder. Run faster. Play with more heart. These are all hings Ladach will likely s in the coming weeks. But more importantly, he'll be preaching what matters most: Believing in themselves.

"It is our goal to win championships at Northville High School," said Ladach, "and that's what we intend to do."

Of course, there are a few teams that might have something to say about that goal.

Varsity Mustangs practice their handoffs during an Aug. 17 workout.

Yet, Ladach doesn't waiver from his intentions for the squad. Stevenson or not, Northville has their eyes on the prize.

'We return a solid nucleus of players from last season, and we are pleased with how our players have developed in the off season," Ladach notes.

His approach to this season, as is his approach to everything, is very business-like. It must be rubbing off on his players, many of which came back from summer break sporting less stories about the fun they had and more muscle

Volleyball team looks to tough opponents

Schedule chock full of teams with Division I college talent

CORRESPONDENT

The Northville Mustangs volleyball team isn't going to have it easy this year. The squad, led by second-year head coach Amanda Yaklin, will be facing several opponents with future collegiate volleyball players on their rosters by the time the post-season rolls around.

That means the Mustangs are going to have to get experience and get it fast if they want to compete in district this season and have any hope of advancing.

The hardest challenge will be competing against multiple Division I players in our district," said Yaklin.

Thankfully, Northville does return some very solid players who will prove to be key in helping the younger

The Northville Mustangs boys soccer team, unsurprisingly, comes to the 2010 season with a solid core of returning players and their sights set on defending the division title.

The squad, coached by Henry Klimes in his 20th year at the helm for the Mustangs, will be showcasing some impressive midfield play as well as some very strong defensive and goaltending.

Of course, every team has a weak-

KENT DINES, head coach

*I think our strengths will be in the midfield and we will have a solid defense and solid goaltending," said Klimes. "The offense will be a work in progress, but the talent and the pieces are here.'

Most notably returning to the roster this season is Fatai Alashe, who will be looked upon as a leader both on and off the field, while he is joined by standout returning players Dan Yutzy, Brendan Burdette, Brian Alumbaugh, Joey Zywiol and Nick Peper.

Joining them are some strong newcomers to the varsity program: Freshman Jimmy Fiscus and sophomore Ben Holbrook.

"It should be a fun season," said Klimes.

Northville finished first in the Central Division last season and lost to Salem in the semi-finals in the District playoffs. This year, the squad will be looking to repeat their performance in the division race and have a better run in the post season.

Mustangs return 13 to pitch, expect to be in the hunt

The Northville Mustangs boys soccer team, unsurprisingly, comes to the 2010 season with a solid core of returning players and their sights set on defending the division title.

The squad, coached by Henry Klimes in his 20th year at the helm for the Mustangs, will be showcasing some impressive midfield play as well as some very strong defensive and goaltending.

Of course, every team has a weak-

"I think our strengths will be in the midfield and we will have a solid defense and solid goaltending," said Klimes. "The offense will be a work in progress, but the talent and the pieces are here."

Most notably returning to the roster this season is Fatai Alashe, who will be looked upon as a leader both on and off the field, while he is joined by standout returning players Dan Yutzy, Brendan Burdette, Brian Alumbaugh, Joey Zywiol and Nick Peper.

Joining them are some strong newcomers to the varsity program: Freshman Jimmy Fiscus and sophomore Ben Holbrook.

"It should be a fun season," said Klimes. Northville finished first in the Central Division last season and lost to Salem in the semi-finals in the District playoffs. This year, the squad will be looking to repeat their performance in the division race and have a better run in the post season.

2010 could be a special season for Mustangs

BY SAM EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

Chris Cronin doesn't pull any punches when it comes to his team's goals. After 17 years of being a head coach at Northville High School, he's learned it's easier just to be straight forward with his team and the media.

"Our team goals never change," he said. "We want to win our division, win the conference, and make it as a team to the state finals."

After finishing fourth at the conference last year and fifth at the regional, the Northville Mustangs boys gross country team knows there is a lot of work to be done before any of those goals can be reached.

"In 2009, we had a lot of young talent, and other teams just simply ran better than we did," Cronin said. "This team has shown tremendous maturity this summer, and they are ready. 2010 could be a special year for us."

In 2009, the Mustangs were lead by an All-State runner in Frank Griffiths. This year, Cronin's team will rely on a pack of very good runners.

"Frank was a star, but this team isn't built that way," he said. "We have more depth this season, and this team likes the 'grind it out' race. We may not beat you to the mile, but we'll

Lead by senior captains Trent Johnson and Christian Guenther, the Mustangs have worked hard this summer in preparation for what they hope will be a return to the state finals as a team. Johnson was on the 2007 team that made it to the state finals, and he knows it's going to be hard. Guenther needs to follow up on his break out junior season that saw him run 16:51 at the regional.

In total, the Mustangs return nine varsity runners from the 2009 team. Senior Chad Cini is another runner to watch this season. He had strong cross country and track seasons as a junior, and he could be force.

"Chad's our best closer," said Cronin. 'He has the potential to become one of the State's elite runners.'

We also have some x-factors like seniors Ashwin Easow and Robert Singletary and freshman Dan Sims."

Cronin recognizes the strides his team has taken in the past year.

"I like this team's chances, but I realize that luck will have to break our way if they hope to make it to the state finals," he said. "Without a true superstar, we need to become the consummate team. That's not to say a star cannot emerge from this group, but we have a better chance if we come together as a team. Mustangs girls harriers have cornucopia of athletes

Largest roster in school history part of 2010 season

BY SAM EGGLESTON

One glance at the Northville Mustangs girls cross country team's roster and the first thing you'll wonder is if you're actually looking at someone's football line-up.

With 41 players stacked up on the list this year, it's a wonder that 10th-year head coach Nancy Smith doesn't need them to wear name tags to practice.

But Smith isn't complaining. The more, the merrier — especially with this gifted crew.

"From what I have seen so far this is the most talented group of young woman I have ever coached," said Smith. "I hope that each one of them realizes the potential they have and uses it to their advantage for a rewarding season."

That's quite the statement from a coach that has had some amazing athletes in her time at Northville — several of which went on to run at the collegiate level. But Smith watched as the youngest team at the state finals last year, featuring five freshmen and a sophomore, finished 21st among the state's elite.

Not only are each of those runners back, they are joined by a slew of other talented har-

Other returning runners who could also have an impact are sophomores Hallie Tyburski, junior Lisa Hamel and seniors Halen Mulchay and Sarah DeDona.

Freshman newcomers that are expected to immediately compete with the returning varsity runners are Rachel Coleman, Erin Zimmer, Nicole Mosteller, Grace Doolittle and Mary Boyd.

Other runners on the roster this year are: Castille Asmann, Katherine Coleman, Megan Donohue, Claire Goolsby, Brianna Hatcher, Annelie Herrmann, Miki Ishikawa, Alie Jezak, Julia Kassem, Erin Keiffer, Anna Kilar, Anastasia Morin, Emily Mosteller,

"Our biggest challenge this year will be focusing and training hard on a daily basis, staying healthy and being mentally strong in competition," said Smith. "If we can step up and conquer these areas we will be able to run with the best competition around and reach our ultimate personal and team goals."

It's not how talented a team is that matters, but rather what the member of that team go and do with that talent.

For the Northville Mustangs girls swimming and diving team, the key this year is taking their obvious talent and turning it into victories when they really matter.

That's why coach Brian McNeff, in his fourth year at the helm for the Mustangs, is focusing on getting his team a KLAA championship and an undefeated season.

"This will be a tough goal," admits McNeff. "We face a lot of very good teams that are both in our league and out. With Novi and Stevenson (in the KLAA) it is always tough, but I think we are a better team that we have been in the past and if we want it bad enough we can do it."

In order to reach that staggering goal, the Mustangs, said McNeff, are going to have to train hard.

To help make sure his team stays on the right path and focused on the goals ahead, McNeff is turning to the experience and leadership of his captains, Megan Blanchard, Jill Dobronski, Tori Hilmer and Faith Miller.

"They have done a great job of getting everything ready for the season," said McNeff. "I will depend on them to keep the girls together and keep them motivated tow ork towards our individual and team goals. Division I state title defense isn't even on coach Tom Mach's mind at this point of preseason

BY SAM EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

With decades upon decades of experience under his belt as the head coach of the Catholic Central Shamrocks, Tom Mach has gotten good at several things: Winning state championships, training football players and, of course, dealing with the media.

That's why Mach's teams always know that when they open up the fall preview section of any paper, no matter how well the sports writer knows their coach, they are only going to be reading the same things that their coach preaches to them each and every day at practice--one game at a time.

The first goal is to win the first game and get that experience, then to get better each week," sais Mach when asked about his season goals. "We're coming in with a little less

Last year the Shamrocks were simply unstoppable. They piled up a 14-0 overall record as they cruised unhindered to the state championship. They put up a 4-0 mark in the Catholic High School League. They relied on defense to do the dirty work while theoffense put up enough points to win, no matter who the opponent was.

Northville tennis squad needing experience

Mustang sophomore Nathan Albenelli warms up with a teammate during an Aug. 17 scrimmage.

Solid players make up core, but squad looking to learn fast

It's a strange thing to hear: Northville's tennis team is in a rebuilding year.

Under the guidance of Matt Stetson, who enters his seventh year at the helm of the Mustangs' program, Northville has been more than just simply successful - they've been downright scary good. Last year was no different, with the Mustangs finished 7-2 last year with a Kensington Conference title and a secondplace finish in the KLAA and an eventual 12th place finish in the state.

This year, however, the Mustangs are minus all four of their singles players from last season, including two first-team All-State players, and another four doubles players.

"Our biggest challenge, of course, will be replacing all of the lost talent," said Stetson. Northville still returns eight letter winners from last year's team and key names out of that list are juniors Anthony Rossi and Matt Satterfield and senior Phil Lee. This season marks the third on varsity for each of them.

According to Stetson,

NORTHYILLE BOYS TENNIS

Coach: Matt Stetson Last Year: 7-2, KLAA Kensington Conference champions, Secondplace KLAA finish, 12th in the state finals

Key Returning Players: Anthony Rossi, Matt Satterfield, Phil Lee Biggest Challenge: Gaining experience quickly

Rossi will likely take the No. 1 singles role this year while Satterfield will assume the No. 2 singles role. Lee will be playing at No. 1 doubles.

We are a little low on experience, but we still have some solid players throughout the team," said Stetson. "We have added a couple of players who should help: (sophomore) Matt Evasic, who played fall hockey last year, and freshman Veer Shah, who moved from Farmington."

Also on this year's team are: Nathan Albanelli, Drew Baldwin, Anthony Capretta, Bryce Groshek, Robert Hsu, Luke Jacobi, Alex Kim, Brian Manney, Trevor Page, Rahul Raj and Austin Weaver.

Lee, Satterfield and Hsu are the captains this year and

'It's going to be an uphill battle, but we won't have any seniors playing singles this year and it should be a good year to gain valuable experience.

NUIT STEISHIL, head coach

Northville sets their sights on competing for the division and the conference title, as well as fight for the 18 points at the regional tournament needed to qualify for the state

"It is going to be an uphill battle, but we won't have any seniors playing singles this year and it should be a good year to gain valuable experience," said Stetson. "We will be pretty good at singles and we hope to find the right combinations at doubles to have some depth."

Northville kicks off the season with three tournaments and then play the always-tough Novi Wildcats, after which, Stetson said, "we should know exactly what we have.

Sam Eggleston is a free-fance writer and former staff sports writer for the Northville Record and Novi News.

Mustang varsity tennis player Anthony Rossi, a junior, scrimmages against teammate Nathan Albanelli on Aug. 17 as the Northville team prepares for its fall 2010 campaign.

Teammates, rivals, friends

Hillside and Meads Mill Middle schools recently awarded choices for Athletes of the year. The choices for the girls were Allie Chapekis of Meads Mill (left) and Megan Buckingham of Hillside (right). The two not only competed ainst each other in volleyball and basketball but nave been teammates on travel softball and AAU basketball. Great friends since they met in the fifth grade, the two look to link up again as teammates and classmates when they enter their freshman year this fall at Northville High School.

How does one lose that belly fat? just follow this advice

Jeremy Daum

There are a lot gimmicks and gadgets out there that tell you how to rid yourself of that unflattering belly fat. As I always tell my clients, it is not rocket science, it is just science. This article will explain the risk factors, the signs of those unwanted inches on your waistline and how to take them

Hometown Weeklies | Thursday, August 26, 2010

1. Understand the risks associated with belly fat.

Belly fat is linked with cardiovacular disease, diabetes, and cancer. To see if your are more at risk, wrap a tape measure around your waist at the level of your navel (belly button). A measurement of more than 35 inches (women) and 40 inches (men) is considered to be unhealthy. 2. Exercise for weight loss.

Research shows that a combination of resistance training and cardiovascular exercise works better than cardiovascular exercise alone. Doing a combination of both is what I teach my clients and this can help burn almost twice as much belly fat than doing cardio alone.

3. Change your diet. Remember, we said that it's not rocket science, it's just science? The simple science is: Unless you restrict your calorie intake, you're not going to lose belly fat. Using a detailed health management program, my clients report that it is easier to eat less and burn more

If you are aware of these three things you can be on your way to slimming down that waistline!

Jeremy Daum, CPT, CES, PES, operates Forever Fit Personal Training at 215 E. Main Street, Northville, He can be reached at (248) 747-3037 or jeremy@foreverfittrainer.com.

Finesse

The 12U Finesse team went 48-7-1 on their season, including winning the Michigan USSSA State Tournament, and recently winning the Pony National World Series in Cary, North Carolina on July 22. At the very first practice back in the fall the girls set a team goal of World Series Champions. The hard work began on that day and the girls created a motto, 'ONE TEAM ONE DREAM.' Finesse started the Pony National World Series tournament strong; however, one flat game dropped the girls to the loser's bracket. With the constant threat of lose and go home, 100-degree weather, injuries and 38 teams from 11 other states standing in the way of the team goal, the Finesse team leaned on each other and out together a string of games/wins that would make any coach proud. Eight consecutive wins, including wins over last year's defending Pony champs and the New Jersey state champs, brought the local girls to the final game to meet the undefeated Delaware Express. The team goal was seven innings away, but it would only take five as the Finesse bats lit up the Delaware team for 10 runs. ONE TEAM, ONE DREAM' realized. The team is made up of girls from the Metro Detroit area. Northville resident and Hillside student Mackenzie Cahill is part of this team. Mackenzie came back from a late season injury and helped her team win the World Series by pitching 10 of the 13 games including the semi-final and final back to back after pitching three games the day prior in stifling heat. Mackenzie was 9-1 on the tournament including winning the last eight straight. Pictured (I to r, back) are Coach Payne, Kenna Payne (Plymouth), Mackenzie Cahill (Northville), Coach Nieto, Alex Favazza (Clarkston), Alex Sobczak (Birmingham), Sydney Jascoe (Walled Lake) and Coach Sobczak; (front) Blessings Amituanai (Brighton), Riley Hison (Macomb), Makenzie Nieto (South Lyon), Nicole Wojcik (Milford), Rachel Vieira (Clarkston) and Olivia Logan (Riverview).

$100,000 - $199,999 CAN PURCHASE A LOT OF HOUSE

Second of a four-part series on home prices.

BY JULIE BROWN OSE STAFF WRITER

Your $100,000 to $199,999 will go far in today's housing market in westem Wayne County, Farmington and Farmington Hills.

Realtor Bart Patterson sees variety in all price ranges, including $100,000 to $199,999. There are many pockets in the market right now because there's such diversity," said Patterson, vice president and general manager of RE/ MAX Classic, with offices in Canton, Farmington Hills, Novi and Milford. Sellers need to have realistic expectations, not looking for 2,400 square feet in a colonial at the lower price end.

"I think there's a lot of selection there," he said of the 100,000-199,999 range. That includes some bank-owned homes under 2,000 square feet.

An analysis of sales data for May 8 to Aug. 8 of this year was done by Realcomp II Ltd. of Farmington Hills, the state's largest Multiple Listing Service. The analysis of residential and condo sales was done by marketing manager Fran Green.

For homes/condos priced at $100,000 to $199,999, the Realcomp II data showed: 24 Plymouth homes on the market, 23 sold in the past three months; 47 Plymouth Township homes on the market, 35 sold in that time; 260 Canton homes on the market, 132 sold in that time; 306 Livonia homes on the market, 176 sold in that time; 37 Redford homes on the market, five sold in that time; 148 Westland homes on the market, 47 sold in that time; 29 Garden

City homes on the market, nine sold in that time; 35 Farmington homes on the market, 25 sold in that time; and 218 Farmington Hills homes on the market, 109 sold in that time.

Gary Reggish, broker/owner of . Remerica United Realty of Novi, said, "Right now, there is definitely a shortage of houses for buyers. Houses are selling."

Reggish, a Livonia resident, noted homes are selling for full price or above, especially bank-owned homes in need of repairs.

Three years ago, there was a wealth of product on the market," he said. The industry has worked through much of its Reggish, president of the Farmingtonbased Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors, did a computer search for Livonia homes at $100,000 to $200,000. You're still able to get some great deals," he said. For a Livonia home built 1960-80, as most were in that community, the average is selling at $158,000, including at least three bedrooms, 1% or more baths, a basement and a garage to accommodate generally two cars.

The average Livonia home Reggish describes is 1,500 square feet on up. It's on the market an average of 103 days, which is not a long time."

Realtor Nancy Austin of Keller Williams Realty, who covers much of western Wayne and south Oakland, sees encouraging signs in the local real estate market.

"We were extremely busy during the time of the Obama incentives, the tax credit. We were just on fire," she said. Interest rates and inventory are still

"We're not dead, but we're not as busy as we were," Austin said, "Prices are creeping up. It's not a rapid ascent. It's not going to be like it was five years ago when everything shot up, and that's probably a better thing."

Buyers look for a variety of architectural styles, Austin agreed, but all say, "I want a good deal.' We hear it every day." Austin said FHA (Federal Housing Administration) mortgages can help people into those homes, "at least for condos. Condos are tough to market." They're often in newer complexes that are not complete, so it's hard to arrange a mortgage and financing, she said. "If a condo complex is complete there are fewer problems," said Austin, who works from her Canton home. Like her colleagues, she's encouraged by a recent uptick in sales, boosted in large part by federal government tax incentives many took advantage of.

Board responsible for unit upkeep

Q: We have a number of units that have been vacated by owners through foreclosure and the bank is not taking care of the units. Our management company seems to too cheap to take any action. What can I tell them?

A: To the extent that you live in a condominium with attached units, the fact that the unit is not being taken care of may result in damage to other units, as well as the common elements. This is particularly the case in the winter if the water and/or heat are shut-off resulting in frozen pipes and other incidental problems. Moreover, the owner of the unit, whether it be a mortgage company or any other individual or entity, has a responsibility to maintain the unit regardless of whether it is occupied. In addition, the owner may be responsible for consequential damages suffered as a result of the failure to maintain the unit. You must remind your board of its obligations and that it could be held culpable if it does not take affirmative action in line with the comments in this response.

Q: At our annual meeting, we asked about a pending lawsuit. The attorney for the association refused to give us a response saying it was protected by the attorney/ client privilege. Do you agree?

attorney for the association represents the corporate entity, and, to the extent that there is litigation or legal issues with an individual coowner or third party, the attorney and the Board of Directors must maintain confidentiality under their fiduciary duty obligations to the extent that the disclosure of that information would be adverse to the interests of the association. Therefore, the attorney was correct in not pouring his heart out, so to speak, with respect to the issues and strategies of the case against the co-owner in the condominium. If he "poured his heart out," that may well be malpractice on his
