Cemetery
walk

The historic Oakwood Cemetery will come alive 3-6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 16, for the annual Cemetery Walk. "A Stroll Down Dunlap Street" is the theme for this year's event. Who are the pioneers buried at Oakwood Cemetery? Where did they come from? This year the event will focus on people associated with Dunlap Street, featuring exciting all new costumed characters. Discover Northville's roots and learn about the lives and the formation of this lovely town while enjoying a walk through time in this historic cemetery.

Tours are timed at 10-minute intervals. Refreshments will be served at the Northville Art House, located next to the cemetery. Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for groups of 10 or more and $15 day of event. Tickets are available at:

- Knightsbridge Antique Mall 42305 W. Seven Mile Road, Northville — (248) 344-7200
- Cady Inn at Mill Race Village, 215 Griswold north of Main Street in Northville — (248) 348-1845
- The gate of Oakwood Cemetery beginning at noon Sunday, Sept. 16.

This event is sponsored by the Northville Historical Society and is a fundraiser for Mill Race Historic Village. To learn more about the early settlers of Northville, visit the archives at Mill Race Village from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Thursday and Friday. Call (248) 348-1845 or visit www.millracenorthville.org to learn more about the village and upcoming events.

Help recognize someone deserving of 'Citizen of Year'

By Kurt Kuban
Staff Writer

Do you know someone who often goes above and beyond the call of duty for the Northville community? Someone who is civic-minded and bleeds Northville through and through? It could be a business owner, a philanthropist or just a neighbor who volunteers their precious time.

Well, if you do, the Northville Chamber of Commerce wants to hear from you. The chamber is currently taking nominations for the 2012 Northville Citizen of the Year.

According to Traci Sincok, associate director of the chamber, the Citizen of the Year award dates back to 1976. She said the award is a celebration to the dedication and commitment shown by so many who make Northville the wonderful community it is.

Over the years, winners have ranged from well-known public officials and business owners, to simple residents who volunteered their time for a great cause — or, more likely, many causes — in the community.

Please see NOMINATE, A9

NORTHVILLE CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

The nominee must:

- Be involved in actively supporting an organization that improves our community.
- Live or work in the Northville community.
- Show concern for community, environment and family.
- Be a role model for community youth and citizens.

Nominations should include the name of the individual and a brief outline of the reasons (s)he qualifies for Citizen of the Year status.

Nominations must be made by Sept. 28 to the Northville Chamber of Commerce office, 195 S. Main Street. For more information, contact Traci Sincok at tracisincok@northville.org or (248) 349-7640 or visit www.northville.org.

KARA PURTELL

This female mallard duck was found in the stream at Ford Field shot with two darts.

'Disturbing': Northville residents save duck shot with darts

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

A simple Saturday morning walk for Barbara Funke and her son through Ford Field in downtown Northville took a turn towards the unexpected when they found a duck that had been shot with two darts.

On Sept. 1, Funke and her son saw the female mallard duck with the two darts sticking into its flesh and decided to do something before it was too late.

"It was a very disturbing sight," Funke said. "We had to do something for it because it didn't look like it was doing well."

Of course, they had to capture it first, and that was no easy task. A group of people gathered around them as they tried and soon someone came back with a net, which eventually her son used to get a hold of the young and scared duck.

Before they took it to the veterinarian, they wanted to get proof of what they believe was animal cruelty, so without a camera they quickly got the duck over to Kara Purtell's Northville photography studio and snapped a shot of the darts in the duck's wing. For Purtell, this was something new and important.

"We hope the photo will help catch who did this. Maybe someone will recognize the darts used," Purtell said. "It's a horrible thing."

While taking a snapshot, Purtell said the duck seemed very lethargic. Soon afterward the Funkes took the duck to Breckenridge Veterinarian Clinic in Novi. There Dr. Morris Christlieb got to work on it by first getting the darts out of it.

Christlieb said one dart had fully punctured the flesh of the wing and chest area while the other didn't yet it was still hanging there. He got them out safely and administered antibiotics.

He said the clinic does see cases like this once in awhile and attributes it to misbehavior by some young kids. This is what concerns Funke because her

Winners looking ahead in race for McCotter's unexpired term

Republican Kerry Bentivolio credits his victory in last week's special primary election to growing grassroots support in the 11th Congressional District.

David Curson, who ran unopposed on the Democratic side of the ballot, expects to do some door-to-door campaigning and some mailings to defeat Bentivolio in the general election Nov. 6.

Bentivolio, a war veteran, reindeer farmer and former teacher who lives in Milford, won the Republican primary with 10,280 votes. Bentivolio will face Curson of Belleville, who received 11,451 votes, Libertarian John Tatar of Livonia and U.S. Taxpayers Party of Michigan candidate Marc Sosnowski of Dearborn Heights in the general election. The winner Nov. 6 will complete the unexpired term of Thaddeus McCotter, who resigned July 6, serving through the end of the year.

On Wednesday, former state Sen. Nancy Cassis of Novi finished second to Bentivolio with 8,804 votes; followed by Livonia residents Carolyn Kavanaugh, 2,654; Steve King, 1,715; and Ken Crider, 1,208.

Northville voters favored Cassis, however: The former state senator earned more votes than Bentivolio in both the city (184 votes to 149) and the township (810-798).

Bentivolio credits door-to-door campaigning in western Wayne County. Bentivolio estimated that he has visited 1,500 homes. He also had volunteer help from members of cincts in Livonia, Milford and Novi.

Don't amend constitution

Bentivolio agrees with voters who believe the cost for the special election was expensive and costly, but he also believes that the situation calling for the special election was so rare that it didn't merit spending more money to amend the state constitution to change it.

"You have to look at the history of American politics, and this is such a rarity," Bentivolio said. "It is one in thousands of elections. Why should we spend money to change the constitution when that may never happen again?"

Curson was not surprised with the low turnout. "Most people were infuriated with the election and the huge waste of money," Curson said. "It's too bad that there could not have been a consensus candidate rather than spending $650,000." Curson was referring to the Republican runoff between the five candidates.

Bentivolio said Wednesday's win reinforced his earlier primary victory, now that he is running in both the old congressional district to finish McCotter's term, and the new district for a two-year term.

Candidate optimistic

Curson congratulated Bentivolio on his election victory, and thanked Bentivolio for his military service. Curson, who served in the U.S. Marines, said that while they both served in the military, their political views "couldn't be more different."

The polls were nearly empty all day at Northville City Hall for the Sept. 5 special primary election. Precinct poll workers Edie Paradausk (left) and Jan Paver weren't bothered by any voters around noon. By that time, only 18 voters had cast ballots in person at city hall.

Curson was asked if he was concerned about running in a district that often votes Republican, but he said he was confident he would prevail.

"I don't get into anything that I can't win," Curson said.

Curson said the election in the old 11th District will be confusing to voters. "It will be a different kind of campaign because it's a confusing election," he said. "If I put a sign up in my yard in Belleville, people will think I'm running against John Dingell. If I put up a sign in Dearborn Heights, they will think I'm running against John Conyers, and if I put one up in Canton, they will think I'm running against Dr. Syed Taj."

That's because those congressional candidates are running in three recently redrawn districts, redrawn due to the new counts of the U.S. Census. Dearborn Heights is not part of the old 11th District.

Curson said his experience in the UAW in negotiating disputes between workers and management trained him well for Congress. Curson said he would work on the jobs bill, and veteran and health care issues.

Bentivolio calls himself a "Ronald Reagan-style Republican," and would cut government spending and regulations. Bentivolio remembers helping out at the 1980 Republican National Convention, furnishing old apartment buildings to assist and accommodate lodging needs for Republicans in town. Hotel space was scarce, Bentivolio said, for that convention.

Bentivolio has gathered the endorsements of Gov. Rick Snyder and Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson, the latter of whom supported Cassis's write-in campaign in an earlier primary in the new 11th Congressional District, along with tea party groups.

Bentivolio points out that as the only candidate on both ballots, should he win both elections, he will accumulate more seniority than the incoming freshmen congressmen in January.

"I will already have a staff on board, will be familiar with the bills on the table and have a chance to maximize that opportunity voters would give me," he said.

Homes, sweet homes

AAUW benefit tour shows local residences in style

By Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Northville has some great homes, five of which will be featured on the 17th annual American Association of University Women Northville Home Tour.

The Northville-Novi Branch tour will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Jane Hecker of Northville Township is co-chair with Karen Zyczynski of Novi as chair.

"The mission of the organization is to advance equity for women and girls," said Zyczynski. "Our annual Home Tour raises the money so we can do this. It's key to making it possible for us to continue our support for all our projects."

Hecker echoed those thoughts.

'Major fundraiser'

"It's our major fundraiser for the year. We provide scholarships for high school seniors from both Northville and Novi," Hecker said. AAUW also supports the Mercy Education Project in Detroit, as well as area community college scholarships.

"We support their graduation events," Hecker said of the Mercy Education Project. AAUW supports "Let's Read Math" for local second and third grade students. Novi sessions are in the fall, Northville sessions in the spring.

"That's basically what we are funding, our projects," Hecker said. "This is our 17th year and we probably have 400 people that attend."

The local AAUW also supports "Remember the Ladies," Zyczynski said. Members work with Northville and Novi elementary media specialists to place books on women in history in local schools.

There are five houses on the tour this year, spanning three centuries. "Originally, it centered on the Victorian homes, mostly in Northville," Hecker said. Now, more different styles of homes are featured, including a Victorian home on Main Street and more modern styles.

That makes the tour more appealing "in terms of possibilities for themselves," Hecker said.

Some of the homes have interesting floor layouts, collections such as quilts or other memorabilia. "Those are part of the things that are interesting to us to feature the homes," she said.

The residents typically are not home the day of the tour. "There's a script our hostesses follow." One home is owned by a woman who has her own dance studio.

"We talk with them extensively." A script is prepared for the hostess, Hecker said.

"People can go in any order," she said. The co-chairs appreciate sponsor support.

'Great day'

"It's a great day for some wonderful causes.

We appreciate the people who participate," Hecker said.

The featured Northville homes in the city and township reflect how families have adapted to 21st century living in a community with a Victorian village at its heart.

Funds generated by the organization are used to promote equity, education and development of opportunities for all women in local, national and international communities. Tickets are on sale for $20 at:

District looking for help to man media centers

Media specialists limited due to budget cuts

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

Even with less staff and an ongoing need for technological upgrades, Northville Public School media centers look to use volunteer help and hard work to help maintain these modern libraries as dynamic places of learning.

The school district's media centers have seen staffing changes in the last several years due to budget constraints, which led to the elimination of media specialists at all of the school buildings. And with technology, each building, including their media centers, are growing outdated by the month.

There are three less media specialists at the middle and high school levels and this past year the elementary level saw a cut back to just one specialist to direct all six school buildings.

However, because the

media center is considered so crucial to education, the school board decided to hire on paraprofessionals at all of the school buildings to help fill the gap. And in regard to technology it's why the district is going to the voters in November and asking for a technology bond, so it can both upgrade the classrooms and also its media centers.

Help is still needed though and this is why the elementary schools are looking for volunteers to assist with day to day things like stacking shelves and working with students. Anyone wanting to help can contact the school's main office or media center specialist.

The media center is the modern version of the library. Not only do they still have a wide variety of books, but also computers, audio/visual and other electronic resources that make it a 'media center'.

Assistant Superintendent for Instructional Services Robert Behnke said student use of the media centers works with what they are learning in the classroom. He said it's the district's goal to maintain the success they have with the centers as well as try to improve them.

"It's an integration of technology and different media into the work of the classroom," Behnke said of the importance. "It's an essential resource for learning."

Media specialists Shannon Torres and Rebecca Blaharski have taken the lead in continuing this work. At the middle schools and high school, Torres has helped adapt the centers to the new International Baccalaureate program and constantly keeps the information databases up to date.

Torres said it's her role to help the students learn about the tools available to them. In sixth grade a student will be introduced to the databases and from there their information literacy is improved each year.

She said because technology is progressing so quickly they are always working to stay on top of things. Torres helped co-author a grant that has funded iPads for a select few classrooms to see how it might work on a wider level. She said another way the district has kept up is by introducing Moodle, which is a content management system utilized in various middle and high school courses.

"We are here to support the students by helping them navigate a wide variety of tools and information," Torres said. "I'm optimistic we are going in the right direction."

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL BRIEFS

White Pine Circle sidewalk

At the request of the Neighborhood Association of White Pine Circle and the Northville Township Police Department, Northville High School Principal Robert Watson reminds students and families that the sidewalk on the east end of the high school that connects with the subdivision is now private property. In essence, this means if you are not a resident of White Pine Circle, you no longer can use that sidewalk to travel between our building and the neighborhood. This includes drop off and pick up. Being on the pathway will be considered trespassing by the neighborhood association.

Charter open house

Plymouth Scholar's Charter Academy, 48484 N. Territorial in Plymouth, will host an open house on Tuesday, Sept. 25, from 6-8 p.m. Staff members will be on hand to present information about the school. The meeting will include an informal question-and-answer period.

NHS alumni golf outing

There will be a Northville High School Alumni Golf Outing on Sunday, Sept. 22, at Hickory Creek Golf Course, 3625 Napier Road (at Ford). The 18-hole scramble will begin at 9 a.m. The cost to play is $85 per player or $320 per foursome, and includes golf, cart, range, food at turn, prizes, and dinner. Dinner only tickets are available for $25.

For more information, e-mail rtalbot19@yahoo.com, call (734) 751-8030, or visit <http://northvillehsalumnigolfouting.com/regform.html>.

The tournament is in memory of Robert Regenhart, class of 1966, who died in Vietnam on March 17, 1969. All net proceeds will go to a deserving NHS golf team member (male or female) and to donate and maintain a plaque to Northville VFW in Bob's name. The event is open to all former and current NHS students.

Akhil Alluri, 15, of Northville Township is putting a golf injury to good use. "I was golfing and I took a big swing," the Northville High School sophomore recalled. "My knee came out." He damaged ligaments. As a golf team member at NHS, Alluri took being sidelined hard. He came to realize others have it far worse, however, and decided to do a golf benefit to help others. "I realized what I had was nothing," the teen said. "I wanted to do something local. I wanted to give back to the community." The golfathon fundraiser will support the Children's Miracle Network, working through Beaumont Hospital. Alluri's goal is to raise $5,400 and he has about $3,500 to date. He'll golf 54 holes on Saturday, Sept. 15, at the Northville Hills course, walking rather than using a cart. It'll be broken into three segments with breaks in between. "It's going to be extremely tiring," said Alluri, son of Srin and Anuradha, noting it's roughly 21 miles. He also has a brother in seventh grade at Meads Mill Middle School. "He has been Akhil's right hand in this whole process," said dad Srin Alluri. "It took him two months to accept there are other things he could do," his dad said. "The first couple of months, it was tough on him," but their son acquired a larger world view. The teen's now back on the NHS golf team, with his dad noting a good doctor helped strengthen the boy's leg. "I should be able to do it," the 15-year-old Alluri said of the day on the course. His golf teammates are supportive. "Their parents have donated a good amount of money, too," he said. To make a contribution to Children's Miracle Network directly before and after the event, please enter "Golfathon" for the mail code at www.beaumontchildrenshospital.com/giving/cmn.

Scout earns his wings with bridge project

Shunhe Wang, a sophomore at Northville High School and a Life Scout in Troop 903, recently completed his Eagle Scout project, a foot bridge in Maybury State Park. He started planning the project in January and started fundraising at the same time by going to different companies, hosting a can drive, and getting involved in a fundraiser with Noodles & Co. There were two big donations — the Friends of Maybury donated half the expenses, and Home Depot donated $100. His bridge, which spans a small creek, replaced an older bridge that was in disrepair, and also didn't meet ADA requirements. A total of 40 volunteers, including members of his troop, assisted him on site during construction, which took two days and was completed at the end of April. "I am very proud of this accomplishment," said Wang, who is class treasurer at NHS.

Political leadership fellowship

The Michigan Political Leadership Program (MPLP) at Michigan State University (MSU) is distinguished as one of only a handful of multi-partisan leadership training programs in the nation. Graduates take with them the knowledge and skills needed to make sound public policy decisions and to be effective leaders of the future. Applications are sought from individuals who are interested in enhancing their leadership and political skills in order to better serve communities, constituencies, or causes. The program is administered and supported by MSU's Institute for Public Policy and Social Research in the College of Social Science. To apply for a MPLP Fellowship you may download an application from our website at www.ippsr.msu.edu/MPLP and mail the completed application along with supporting documentation to Program Administrator, Linda Cleary, Michigan State University, Michigan Political Leadership Program, 509 East Circle Drive, Room 321, East Lansing, MI 48824-1111. Applications must be received no later than Friday, Sept. 21 for consideration. Should you have any questions regarding the application process or the MPLP Program please contact, Linda Cleary, program administrator, at clearyl@msu.edu or by phone at (517) 353-0891.

Go fly a kite

Fly into Fall Kite Day at Maybury State Park will take place from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, Sept. 15. The event will take place in the concession building — enter on Eight Mile Road, one mile west of Beck Road.

Kites will be provided free to the first 50 registered kids. They will be able to color their new kite and then fly it in the soccer field. There will also be a kite flying demonstration by Kites &

Fun Things, out of Plymouth. The free event will also include a nature walk and craft activities.

Please register in advance by calling Maybury State Park at (248) 349-8390. Registration is required. A Recreation Passport is required for vehicles entering the park. The Recreation Passport has replaced motor vehicle permits for entry into Michigan State Parks and is available when renewing your license tabs at the Secretary of State or any park office.

Snyder appoints local

Last week Gov. Rick Snyder reappointed Wolfgang Mueller, of Northville, to the Michigan Unarmed Combat Commission. Housed within the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs, the 11-member commission regulates professional boxing and mixed martial arts events. Mueller was one of several appointments to the commission.

“These individuals are greatly committed to ensuring the integrity of professional boxing and mixed martial arts in the Great Lakes State,” said Snyder.

Mueller is an attorney with Olsman, Mueller, Wallace & MacKenzie, where he specializes in wrongful conviction and police misconduct cases as well as construction site litigation. Previously, he worked as an automotive engineer for Chrysler Corp. Mueller is a second-degree black belt in the Korean martial art of Tang Soo Do, and serves as an instructor at Boliard’s Martial Sciences Center in Canton. He received bachelor’s and master’s degrees in mechanical engineering from Michigan State University and the University of Michigan – Dearborn, respectively, and earned a degree from the Detroit College of Law. Mueller will continue to represent licensees in mixed martial arts.

Appointees will serve four-year terms that expire June 5, 2016, and their appointments are subject to the advice and consent of the Senate.

‘Tinkerbell’ auditions

The Historic Marquis Theatre in downtown Northville is holding auditions for Tinkerbell Visits Storyland at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 23.

Those interested will be asked to sing Do-Re-Me from The Sound of Music, and to recite a poem or monologue that you provide (no longer than 90 seconds). There is no audition fee.

The Marquis Theatre is located at 135 East Main Street. For more information, visit northvillamarquistheatre.com.

Locals crash the Fash Bash

(From left) Northville business owners Dr. William Demray, Denise LeBloch, Orin and Tina Mazzoni (who own Orin Jewelers in downtown Northville), and Denise Jenkins were among the many people from around the region who attended the Fash Bash last month at the Detroit Institute of Art. The DIA’s Founders Junior Council (FJC) teamed up again with Neiman Marcus to host the party/fundraiser. Fash Bash was held, for the second time since 1970, at the DIA. And although the weather put a little crimp on the outdoor festivities, nothing impeded the fun. Live “pop artists” from Skincognito Studio complemented the DIA’s counterparts.

United Way is scheduled Thursday, Sept. 20. The Emergency Food Assistance Program provides low-income Plymouth and Northville residents with canned and non-perishable items.

All recipients must be pre-registered. This is a supplemental food program that may be used in addition to other assistance programs. Bridge Card holders automatically qualify, but need to pre-register. Recipients not currently on governmental assistance (food stamps, ADC and general) must provide documentation including proof of income and residency before receiving food on distribution days.

Distributions continue the third Thursday of each month from 9:30-11 a.m. at St. Kenneth Catholic Church in Plymouth.

For information and to register, call Pat at Plymouth Community United Way (734) 453-6879, ext. 2, or send an e-mail to pat.vandusen@pcuw.org.

Dems to meet

The Northville Democratic Club will hold a membership meeting from 7-8:30 p.m., Monday, Sept. 17 at The Cady Inn at Mill Race Village on Griswold in downtown Northville. Agenda includes Get Out the Vote efforts, and visits by candidates and office holders. For more information, contact Barbara Moroski-Browne at barbmrbrowne@gmail.com.

Popcorn Give Away

The Third Annual Northville Democratic Club Victorian Festival Popcorn Give Away will take place Sept. 21 during the parade at the law office of Sandra Hughes

O’Brien, located on the parade route at 302 W. Main, corner of Main and High Streets.

NDC members will be giving out 500 bags of free popcorn. For more information, contact Barbara Moroski-Browne at barbmrbrowne@gmail.com.

Farmers Market

The Northville Farmers Market will continue Thursdays, Sept. 13, 20 and 27 from 8 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Northville Downs parking lot (corner of Seven Mile and Sheldon).

Hosted by the Northville Chamber of Commerce, the Farmer’s Market is features more than 125 Michigan-made and Michigan-grown products, including vegetable plants, herbs, seasonal and organic produce, berries, local honey, bread & bakery items, seasoning mixes, dog food, homemade pasta, jams and jellies, salsa mix, flowers and flowering shrubs, garden art, jewelry, juried artisans & crafters, furniture, and much more. They also offer casual lunch food service, cold drinks and shaded picnic tables.

The market is open every Thursday through Oct. 25.

The Farmers Market also features the popular Chefs at the Market series (9-10 a.m. every 3rd Thursday) and events such as:

- Master Gardeners (weekly 9 a.m. to noon)
- Fresh food collection for Northville Civic Center begins in July
- Weekly search for the “TOP BANANA”
- Coloring pictures always available
- New cars on display weekly from Tom Holzer Ford and Varsity Ford
- Knife, scissors, and garden tool sharpening

Future sewer work likely to raise rates for residents

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

A big sewer project planned to be constructed in the next several years could have sewer rates for Northville City residents increasing in the near future.

This will come from the plan dictated in the Final Order of Abatement 2096, which is an agreement the City of Northville has with the State of Michigan establishing certain corrective actions for Northville's sanitary sewer collection system.

The city council approved a recommendation by the public works department, which came after the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality asked Northville to sign the document that was requesting a third amendment to the Final Order of Abatement. Jim Gallogly, the City of Northville Public Works director, said it essentially revises the schedule in which to perform the corrective actions outlined in the original documents.

"Target dates have been shifted back to better meet the reality of tasks," Gallogly said of the changes.

He said back in 1988 the City of Northville entered into an agreement with the state to deal with excess flow issues for its sanitary sewer system. The agreement has been amended twice before.

The planned project for Northville is scheduled for 2015-2016, Gallogly said. It will involve partnering with other communities in Wayne County and constructing a large stilling basin to hold sewage during peak times and release it during off peak times.

He said the city has been saving money for this and now have around $850,000 for it in the budget.

The price will probably increase once the project is bid in several years though, according to Gallogly. He said Northville will have to address this by either saving more for it now or waiting, but it will eventually be reflected in the sewer rates.

However, nothing will change until that time, he added.

Currently, Gallogly said Wayne County is proceeding with the flow monitoring requirements for communities in the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley Regional Sanitary Sewer system. He said the county is collecting flow data for a period of 12 consecutive months and once this data has been obtained and analyzed, a system wide approach to capacity issues will be developed with each community contributing its share of the cost of required improvements.

He said the communities they would partner with include Garden City, the City of Plymouth and Livonia. He added they need to be part of this because Northville is currently exceeding its peak capacity.

NOMINATE

"Let's face it, people who do good work aren't frequently recognized for it. We have a lot of people in Northville who are so dedicated to this community. This is one way to recognize those people," Sincok said.

In addition to being recognized at the chamber's annual meeting, which will take place 5:30-7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Inn at St. John, the Citizen of the Year will also have a place of honor in next fall's Victorian Festival parade.

Last year's winner, William S. Demray, who has owned Preservation Dental at the corner of Griswold and Main for 35 years, will be in next week's parade.

The chamber will accept nominations until Sept. 28. Nominations should include the name of the individual and a brief outline of the reasons (s)he qualifies for Citizen of the Year status.

There are a couple of criteria to keep in mind when considering who to nominate. The nominee must:

- Be involved in actively supporting (through time, talent or financial support) an organization that improves the community.
- Live or work in Northville.
- Show concern for community, environment and family.
- Be a role model for community youth and citizens.

Nominations should include the name of the individual and a brief outline of the reasons (s)he qualifies for Citizen of the Year status.

Nominations can be dropped off to the chamber office at 195 S. Main Street. For more information, visit www.northville.org. Once all of the nominations are submitted, the chamber's board of directors will select the winner.

Tickets for the annual meeting are $35. The event includes a strolling dinner and cash bar. Reserve a spot by contacting the chamber at (248) 349-7640.

"It really is a nice event. Not only is there great food and a nice program, but we also recognize the Citizen of the Year," Sincok said.

DUCK

family has dealt with animal cruelty before when some teenagers shot two horses at their farm.

"It's not an accident by the way this looks," she said.

They were able to get the duck back to the stream at Ford Field and it did swim away with some other ducks, but Funke hopes she and her son don't see something like this again on another morning stroll.

Anyone with information about the incident should contact the Northville Police Department at (248) 349-5100.

Money manners

Northville investment manager to give financial tips

By Julie Brown
Staff Writer

The “Investor Education in Your Community” education program and content excerpts have been presented to over 20,000 Michigan residents through libraries, community centers, community colleges, Fortune 500 companies and media webcasts.

Mark B. Robinson

Thousands of additional state residents have heard or viewed IEI-YC content through recurring interviews on CBS Radio (WWJ Newsradio 950) and news features with news anchor and Business Editor Murray Feldman on WJBK Fox 2 News. The program is made possible by the Michigan Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation, and the Investor Protection Trust in Washington, D.C. The new “Mind Your Money Manners” series is being offered by the Novi Public Library starting Sept. 26. Developer/lead presenter Northville resident, CIMA AIFA (Certified Investment Management Analyst/Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst), will be featured in sessions at the Novi library. “Mind Your Money Manners” presentations will be initially offered at six participating libraries simultaneously on: Sept. 26, Oct. 10, Oct. 24, and Nov. 7.

“What we are looking at is the often-strained relationship we have with money,” Robinson said. The series was developed by Robinson in collaboration with Michigan State University Extension. MSU’s expertise combined with his is “a collaborative effort,” he said. “We are using technology to disseminate this information to the far corners of Michigan,” he said. The earlier “Your Money in the Balance” has been done more in urban and suburban areas, which the distance learning element will address in “Mind Your Money Manners.” That will reach rural and outstate areas. “It’s going to be drilling down a little bit deeper in household accounting,” Robinson said. “What are our liabilities? What’s our income relative to our expenses?” That will enable participants to look at spending behavior, “so that we start improving our net worth or balance sheet.” Often, investment programs start with the assumption you have a half million dollars, he said. This will be more corrective and introspective, “understanding a bit more about why they are where they are.” Terms used will be basic, Robinson said. Those who have a troubled relationship with their money are encouraged to attend. “It’s getting people prepared for taking care of their future self,” he said. “We have some great initial partners like the Novi Public Library.” Kelly Masters, spokeswoman for the “Investor Education in Your Community” program, said the Novi library is one of the launch partners. “The program is exceptionally well received. It’s completely noncommercial, objective, and exceptionally high content delivered in a way that normal people like you and I can understand,” she said. The program began almost seven years ago. The new series “Mind Your Money Manners” offers additional presentations to further residents’ knowledge. “This particular series of presentations is just being rolled out,” she said. The Plymouth District Library will host a different series, “Your Money in the Balance,” along with Royal Oak, Huntington Woods, and Bloomfield Township libraries. In addition to Novi, others hosting “Mind Your Money Matters” are Howell, Sterling Heights, Wyandotte, Grand Rapids and Marquette libraries. “We’re trying to cover the four points on the compass, if you will,” she said. All are free to attend, but you’re asked to pre-register with the hosting library. That’s helpful with providing sufficient materials. All the information is available on Facebook at www.facebook.com/investoreducation. # Tree ordinance modified in light of recent tree removals

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

In light of some recent tree removals, the City of Northville is now in the process of modifying its Tree Preservation Ordinance in order to better clarify what’s expected of an applicant wanting to remove a tree and what role the city will play. According to one of the clarifications, the Building Department will now have the authority to order the removal of dead or diseased trees considered to be hazardous or in danger of falling on persons or property and are deemed to be a public safety hazard. Northville City Manager Patrick Sullivan said the planning commission had been reviewing the ordinance and fee schedule over the last several months since the city saw two different situations that involved trees being cut down. One situation dealt with a new house built and the other a pool. Both fell under an exemption in the ordinance. With the new house, the builders were allowed to remove some trees without a permit, which is allowed for plots under 15,000 square feet. And because the application for the pool was approved by the city, the homeowner was allowed to remove the trees within the construction area. In discussing these cases, the planning commission decided to look at the ordinance and make some recommendations to the city council. Sullivan said these are really just clarifications. “In light of some recent building projects and tree removals that have taken place in the city they (planning commission) thought they should look into that matter,” Sullivan told the city council, which approved the first reading. Sullivan said the commission reviewed the entire ordinance and, specifically, the permit exemptions section pertaining to recorded lots less than 15,000 square feet. They also reviewed what should happen after the building official determines there are no feasible or prudent alternatives available to removing a tree. And it looked at the fees, fines, and penalties schedules, which was recently modified by the city council. Out of this came the recommendation to redefine some areas, one being that a tree must be measured at 4.5 feet above existing grade for an official diameter measurement. In addition, to must make clear what is a dead and diseased tree. In the case of tree removal, the ordinance would state if there is no prudent alternative to removing the tree an applicant must get a tree removal permit and is responsible for replacing the tree or mitigating it by contributing to the city’s tree fund. The ordinance will also refer to the city’s fee schedule, so applicants are aware of the costs. If the ordinance is violated, a person may be fined not more than $500 per tree or per ordinance violation. It states that every act or violation and every day upon which a violation occurs it will be considered a separate offense. The building official is responsible for enforcement and the determination of violations. Second reading and possible approval could come on Oct. 1.

Squatter uses ‘sovereign citizen’ defense in trespassing case

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

A bench warrant has been issued for a 49-year-old man, originally arrested for living in a Northville Township home he did not own and who has since been described as using a ‘Sovereign Citizen’ defense. On Aug. 30, 35th District Court Judge James Plakas issued the warrant after Rex Kosinski failed to appear for the first day of his jury trial on the charge of entering into a home on Grand Vista Drive without the owner’s permission, which is a misdemeanor. Kosinski had been out on bond. According to Northville Township Detective Sergeant Kevin Bias, the case started in 2010 after the Northville Township Water Department began noticing water usage at a home that was known to be unoccupied because it was in the process of foreclosure. Officials from the department along with the police eventually went to the home and discovered Kosinski living there, which he said he was in the process of buying from the bank. This turned out to not be true after the homeowner, who was still in the redemption period of the foreclosure, said Kosinski did not have permission to be there. The police acted after that. Kosinski, who was found in the home with three other individuals, had been stealing the utilities until they were finally shut off and he was ordered out of the home. Bias said Kosinski argued and used language that made the department think of the Sovereign Citizen movement. Sovereign citizens take the position that they are answerable only to common law and are not subject to any statutes or proceedings at the federal, state or municipal levels, Bias said. After waiting an hour for Kosinski to appear in court, Northville Township Prosecutor Greg Demopoulos made a request for the warrant and a $25,000 cash bond. Plakas issued it, but set the bond at $10,000. Bias said the bench warrant has been put into LEIN or the police warrant database. However, the department will not actively pursue him because the charge is a misdemeanor, but will rather wait until he is picked up in the future.

Underage drinking

A late night drive led to three teenagers being cited for underage drinking. On Sept. 2, a Northville city police officer spotted another vehicle going westbound on Eight Mile Road near Center Street. The officer reported that considering the time of night, the car appeared to have five people in it and that it was a holiday, decided to follow. The suspect vehicle then sped up and appeared to be trying to lose the officer through a residential neighborhood, and finally stopped at Lake Street and Carpenter Avenue when four passengers got out and ran. The driver stayed behind and police reported smelling alcohol on him. He was underage and blew a .09 blood alcohol content on the Breathalyzer, which led him to be charged with unlawful underage blood alcohol level. The police eventually caught up with three of the other passengers and cite them for underage consumption. The fourth could not be identified and was not found.

Condom thief

Northville Township police arrested a 41-year-old Southfield man Sept. 7 after he left Meijer without paying for six cases of Trojan condoms. According to reports, a manager at Meijer contacted police after we witnessed the man leave exit the store with the condoms, valued at $71.94. When the officer arrived at the store, the man had fled the scene. However, near the area of Eight Mile and Haggerty, a Livonia police officer caught up to the man and was questioning him. Initially the man said he made a mistake and didn’t pay for the condoms. He then changed his story, saying he stole them so he could resell them to a gas station. He was handcuffed, and transported to the Northville Township Police Department, where he was booked and given a Sept. 26 date in 35th District Court. The officer returned the condoms to the store.

Felony arrest warrant

The Northville city police arrested a 52-year-old Northville man wanted out of Plymouth for a felony warrant for intimidating stalking. On Aug. 30, Northville was contacted by Plymouth City Police about the warrant and were told that he in lived in 110 block of Fairbrook Street. Northville officers served the warrant by going to the man’s residence and arrested him after he answered the door. He was later turned over to Plymouth.

Vandals caught

Video surveillance at CVS in downtown Northville captured two male subjects spray painting a sidewalk near the location. Still unidentified, it was reported on Aug. 25 the subjects had walked into CVS and then one eventually came back out. It was then that he began spray painting the walk with a black paint in the shape of a turtle.

Fox Run’s generosity exceeds $1 million mark

Caring for each other is what residents and staff members at Fox Run, an Erickson Living community in Novi, do best. On Friday, Sept. 14, the community will host the 9th annual Benevolent Care Gala in support of the community’s Benevolent Care Fund. The fund provides confidential financial assistance to residents who, despite careful planning, can no longer afford to cover the full cost of their care.

“Historically, we raise at least $100,000 at our galas,” said Fox Run Philanthropy Manager Marianne Mikkelsen. “We anticipate reaching that goal again this year, bringing us well over one million total dollars raised.”

Held at the community’s Belmont Clubhouse, guests will be taken “On Safari” as they enjoy a gourmet dinner and live entertainment from Jim Coviak and Friends percussion ensemble, the Timberline Dancers, and the Tommy James Band.

Throughout the gala, guests will participate in a silent auction of specially prepared gift baskets which include gift certificates for personal training sessions, workout equipment, and dinner for four with chauffeured transportation in a 2012 Cadillac.

This year’s gala will also include the first-ever “Home for Life” raffle which will contribute significantly to the event’s financial success. The winner will receive a handcrafted Victorian-style dollhouse, created over a period of six weeks, by members of the Fox Run Hobby Shop. “We are hoping to sell a lot of tickets,” said Paul Benivegna, the president of the Hobby Shop. Tickets are currently on sale at Fox Run for $5 each or six for $20. “The dollhouse is a real testament to the residents at Fox Run,” said Fox Run Community Resource Manager Andrea Lewis. “We don’t just see each other as neighbors, employees, or co-workers. We are family. Ticket sales for the dollhouse are going strong and I believe a large part of that has to do with the fact that it was built, with love, from our Hobby Shop.”

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi can often make a winning difference at the application stage. And, if an appeal is necessary they have won several hundred cases before a court date is even set.

Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

In addition to practicing only Social Security disability law attorney Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the

50th anniversary

Richard and Pat Allen of Northville Township celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 8. The couple, who have lived in the township for 38 years, celebrated the milestone a couple weeks ago surrounded by friends and family at Boyne Mountain. Richard is a long time township planning commissioner and a member of the Northville Township Historical Society. He is also a former township trustee and past Chamber of Commerce Northville Citizen of the Year. Pat is on the Mill Race Board of Directors, and helps plan the upcoming Cemetery Walk. The couple have two sons, Jim and Steve, a daughter in-law Renata, and two grandchildren, Simeon and Sammy. They both remain quite active and enjoy walking and kayaking. They are also members of the United Methodist Church.

Firiit-Griffith

Andrea Jane Firlit and Nathan William Griffith, both of Northville, are engaged to be married. The bride to be is the daughter of Ann and Jim Firlit of Northville. She is a 2006 graduate of Northville High School and a 2010 graduate of Hope College with a nursing degree. She is currently in her final year at the University of Detroit-Mercy in the MSN program to become a family nurse practitioner (will graduate May 2013), and employed at Providence Park Hospital as an RN in cardiac specialty care. Griffith is the son of Roger and Laura Griffith of Dundee. He is a 2006 graduate of Harry D. Jacobs High School in Algonquin, Ill., and 2010 graduate of Hope College, with a degree in business management and psychology. He is currently employed at Young Innovations in Chicago, Ill. and relocating to metro Detroit. The couple met their freshman year at Hope College. A March 2, 2012 wedding is planned at The Inn at St. Johns in Plymouth.

Neihoff-Noide

Mr. & Mrs. John Neihoff of Northville Township would like to announce the engagement of their daughter, Alison Lauren Napolitan Neihoff to 2nd Lt. Byron David Nolde, son of Mr. & Mrs. Edward Turley, of Metamora, Mich. and Mr. Bart Nolde of Durham, N.C. The couple met at Central Michigan University during their junior year. Alison, a 2007 graduate of Northville High School, will be graduating from Central Michigan University in December of 2012 with a degree in special education. Nolde is a graduate of Central Michigan University, and an officer in the United States Army, planning to make this his career. They are planning a December 2012 wedding.

OUR VIEWS

Well done

Beautification winners know how to show off civic pride

There are many reasons why Northville is such a desirable community — why people want to live here and do business here. Among them are a top notch school district, a wonderful, walkable downtown with interesting shops and businesses, beautiful neighborhoods, excellent recreational opportunities and natural resources (think Hines Park) — just to name a few.

But at the heart of the community and what makes it tick are the people, of course. We watch out for our neighbors, and we care about what's going on in town. There is a great deal of civic pride here in Northville. We're not telling you anything you don't already know. People who live here and work here know it.

If you want an example of this civic pride in action, look no further than the recently announced 2012 beautification award winners. Recognized by the beautification commissions of both the city and township, this year's winners include a mix of businesses, residences, churches, organizations and governmental entities like the Northville Police & Fire headquarters, and Northville Township Hall.

The list of township honorees this year includes: Applebee's Restaurant, Deadwood Bar & Grill, George's Senate Coney Island/Bushwood, Maxion Wheels (Hayes Lemmerz), Hidden Spring Veterinary Clinic, Hiller's Market, Mason Pro, Northrop-Sassaman Funeral Home, Northville Police & Fire headquarters, Northville Township Hall, Oakmont of Northville, Papa Vito's Restaurant, P.F. Chang's China Bistro, Rusty Bucket, Sunrise Assisted Living, Top of the Cone/Northville Car Wash & Oil.

City winners are: Allen Terrace, Angela Carson, Asher Citgo, Corriveau, Elizabeth's Bridal, Epiphany Kitchen, First Presbyterian Church, Good Time Party Store, Kelly and Kelly, Northville Car Wash, Northville Chamber of Commerce, Northville City Hall, Northville District Library, Northville Garden Club Park, Northville Lumber, Northville Town Square, Our Lady of Victory Church & School, Pizza Cutter, Preservation Dental, Starbucks, The Rotary Well, Tipping Point Theater, Wagon Wheel, Yerkes House at Mill Race. New Hope Grief Center received an honorable mention.

All of the winners will be recognized at a Tuesday, Sept. 18 luncheon at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. The annual luncheon is held in conjunction with the Northville Rotary's weekly meeting.

The Record listed all the winners in last week's edition, but we wanted to thank them for their efforts. Taking care of one's property seems like a no-brainer, but there are some communities where it isn't as much a priority. And you know it when you drive through.

Julie Mantay, chair of the City of Northville Beautification Commission, summed up the reason the group's have been doing this for 23 years.

"You always want your community to look beautiful. It enhances the community," she said. We couldn't agree more.

Thank you to all the winners. Thank you for setting the example and showing such wonderful civic pride. The community is better because of your efforts.

Lucky to live in Michigan

Kurt Kuban's opinion column ("As summertime slips away we should be thankful we live in Michigan") in Thursday's paper was excellent. I couldn't agree more. Without question, Michigan is the most underrated state in the nation when it comes to travel destinations. We would love to see more articles like this to remind the community of how much there is all around us, and how lucky we really are.

Yes, I do own a ski shop, but there is nothing that gets under my skin more than a weather forecaster who makes snow and cold temperatures sound like a punch to the gut. Instead of bringing everyone down (which the evening news seems to do these days), they could use it as a perfect opportunity to share that forecast as good news. There is so much to do, not just during the summer months, but during all four seasons in this state. Downhill skiing, cross country ski wine tasting events near Gaylord, snowshoeing in the national forests of the U.P., snowmobiling, building a skating rink in the back yard, sledding at Hines Park, sled dog driving near Traverse City, or even just sightseeing in all of the towns that are nearly abandoned during the winter months. The Great Lakes look amazing with frozen waves.

With child obesity at all-time highs, there's no reason parents shouldn't be encouraging their kids to get out of the house during the snow months. I'd imagine the calorie burn of dragging a sled uphill 25 times in an afternoon is pretty impressive. Cross country skiing is so cheap and accessible to rent, and it happens to be better cardio than swimming.

I can't tell you how much interest we've been getting on Great Lakes surfing. Kuban mentioned the ocean-level waves in Lake Huron. This summer, I've taken our family to Grand Haven and St. Joseph on Lake Michigan and had some of the best surfing conditions I've ever experienced, not to mention there are no sharks, jellyfish or mouthfuls of saltwater.

People in this state have taken a beating financially, are laughed at nationwide because of the reputation of Detroit, and are desperate for a sense of pride again. That's probably why we're the best sports city in the nation, regardless of outcome. I've always joked that you never hear anyone win an "All-Expense Paid Trip to Michigan" on the game shows, but it's their loss. Let's get the word out, get people active, and start turning around the doom and gloom mentality in this area.

We really do live in a jewel of a state. Thanks again for that awesome piece.

Sale a 'win-win'

The annual garage sale that benefits both the Northville Historical Society and the Mackinac Island Honor Girl Scouts was a success once again due to the support of all of those who donate and those who leave with something they can't live without. It is a win-win for all parties involved. People don't know where to get rid of their excess items, and others who are looking for things they need, find it to be a great exchange. College students are always thrilled to outfit their apartments and enable them to better afford ever rising tuition costs.

Every year, we never know what will be donated for sale. We get everything from valuable antiques to garage sale leftovers — yet someone will come along that can "repurpose" any item and turn it into something useful.

We have gotten everything from a sailboat to a fancy fur coat; a vintage reclining hair dryer to a '70s Corvette tire; a lamp of jade to a coin operated video arcade; chicken raising equipment with the coop to a portable basketball hoop; equipment for exercise or sports to lumber to build kids' forts; decorations for any holiday to an aquarium of bamboo that did pay; a chair for any occasion or room to a full size weaving loom; wheelchairs made of antique wicker to lighting fixtures that don't flicker; a pottery kiln to fire a pot to dining room sets by the lot; clothes and books both new and rare to couches by the dozen or the pair; tools for your basement or trunk to just good ol' plain junk.

If you can imagine it, we have probably had it at one time or another over the last 14 years. We gather all year long and the second week in June we put up our canopies and prepare for rain and the onslaught of people looking for a bargain. If your organization is not one of many that we disperse the leftovers to, feel free to contact us.

So remember you can drop off your donations year round at Mill Race Historical Village and the Society will store your items until the sale next year. The Girl Scouts always move all stored items and set up the opening day of the sale. The sale runs Monday-Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. so it's available to people with any kind of schedule.

Win at any cost

In a recent letter to the editor, a writer accused the Republicans of "gerrymandering" the state to their advantage — just like the Democrats always do when they have the political power. Both parties are guilty of drawing election districts to their advantage when they can do so.

He also attacked former Congressman Thad McCotter who has been cleared of any wrong doing in the petition fraud incident. He was the victim, not the perpetrator. The question is who put his staff up to it? You can figure out your own answer.

The writer also states that the Republicans should have vetted Palin, McCotter, and Ryan before supporting their candidacy. Let's do some vetting. Let's see, Palin was a very successful and very popular governor of Alaska. She is educated and has business experience. Any unbiased observer would have to see that she has more qualifications to be president than Barack Obama.

McCotter? He has been an effective and highly admired representative of his district in a career that spans the Wayne County Commission, the State legislature, and the U.S. House. If it weren't for the petition snafu, he'd be easily re-elected.

Ryan is another outstanding congressman with a strong record of serving his constituency. He would make a far better vice president than Joe Biden.

Let's vet Joe Biden. Wasn't he the guy accused of plagiarizing someone else's work and using it as his own? Why, yes. He's that guy. What is it with these Democrats? Win at any costs is their eternal motto.

Awareness is the first step in reducing crime

Northville morning brings reflections on happiness

The task was simple enough, go pick up a pizza for the kids and a couple steaks for the last night of vacation. The local pizzeria and Gabe's Country Market are across the street in Maple City so I expected a quick trip. My three-year-old son Mark went along for the ride. After placing a take-out order, we walked across the street to Gabe's. For those who haven't been, Maple City is a very small town a bit south of M-22. Most visitors are either on their way somewhere else, or stopping for provisions before heading back to a cottage or resort. One sees more Illinois license plates on BMWs, Mercedes and Range Rovers along M-22 than anywhere else in Michigan. That's why the 1980s Buick with a missing front quarter panel looked so out of place as we approached the market. I didn't think much of the car or the unkempt man standing a few feet away from us minutes later — I was desperately trying to stay a step ahead of Mark and get what I had to get before the boy did something bad. I was looking at steaks when Mark raced directly down the aisle lugging a humongous jar of pickles. Parsnips and potatoes caught his eye next and I quickly told the butcher that I'd take the two ribeyes on top. I grabbed a bottle of Leelanau Peninsula wine and headed to the front counter with Mark at my side and Buick man lurking a pace behind. I paid with cash; a move I soon regretted. The local pizza place was a bit busier than I anticipated. It took another 15 minutes or so before we headed out for our vacation destination with pizza, steaks, wine and all the makings for smores. My neck tensed with a glance in the rear-view mirror. Buick man was behind us. He should have been gone 15 minutes ago, I thought, as I turned right, then left, then left again, on the way back to the cottage. It was just the second time in my life that I felt impending danger. The first was about 15 years ago when my dog woke up barking madly at 3 a.m. I went to the door-wall and saw the glow of a burning cigarette hovering five feet away. My course of action was simple and effective. I let out Bartleby and he did what a 100 pound dog is supposed to do under such circumstances. This situation wasn't nearly as clear cut. Thoughts of the Cheshire, Connecticut, home invasion murders that occurred in 2007 raged in my mind as I drove on. In that case, a mother and her two daughters were murdered after thugs targeted them while grocery shopping. They followed them home and committed unspeakable acts before carrying out their murderous plan. Sometimes being in the news business causes people like me to over think such situations. But I had a child with me, no weapon and didn't even know the location of the nearest police. One thing was certain — there was no way I was going to lead that Buick back to my wife and our

The smile seemed to spread across my face on that Sunday morning as I sat reading my New York Times with the cool Michigan breeze fluttering the pages and the rising sun warming my body. I began to wonder, what brings happiness into ones life? At that moment, with my hometown of Northville not quite awake, just an occasional jogger and dog walker strolling by, quiet jazz wuffed by my ears and my first sip of coffee rushed over my smiling lips — as I sat outside my favorite bookstore coffee shop, The Next Chapter — I became consciously aware, I was happy. No, not in a giddy, tickled, ecstatic, break out the band and party hats happy — but content, gratified, joyful, this is truly nice, happy. Simple pleasures truly are the best. We are living in a hyper-competitive, fast-paced, technologically driven, disruptive, knowledge economy where ideas and jobs can and do move around the globe effortlessly. Our jobs, values of our homes and 401(k)s not to mention the promises of a pension can — and have disappeared as we dutifully played by the rules. As my older brother Ed reminded me, in this economy, all jobs are temporary. Sure, one needs a certain amount of money to bring security and contentment. We need to squirrel away enough to get past the need for food, shelter, safety, on Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs. The basis of American psychologist Abraham Maslow's theory is people are motivated by unsatisfied needs, and that certain lower needs need to be satisfied before higher needs can be addressed. Maslow believed the need for love, belonging, security, self-esteem, and self-actualization were ultimately more important than the need for food, sleep, and even sex. He developed a theory of a hierarchy of human needs, of which the highest were the need for "self-actualization" through creative and productive living. As the old saying goes, money does not buy happiness. This truism is reinforced in the book, "Happy Money: The Science of Spending," by Elizabeth Dunn, an associate professor of psychology at the University of British Columbia and Michael Norton, an associate professor of business administration at Harvard Business School. The satisfaction of our basic needs is quite necessary. Yet, not meeting higher level needs of love, belonging, a sense of satisfaction with yourself and giving to others can make us cranky, physically and mentally unstable and down right evil. So, on a blue sky-soaked Sunday morning in my beautiful hometown of Northville — as the oppressive triple digit heat broke — I was happy, sitting alone, reading my newspaper knowing that I love and I am loved. It would be nice if we could bottle these precious moments. I took pleasure in simply savoring it. As Bobby McFerrin reminds us, note by note, "Don't Worry, Be Happy" (www.youtube.com/watch?v=d-diB65scQU). Simple pleasures truly are the best. Enjoy life, it is not a dress rehearsal.

Approximately one-third of U.S. women will have a pelvic health problem by age 60. This includes stress urinary incontinence, pelvic organ prolapse, abnormally heavy menstrual periods and uterine fibroids. These conditions become more common with age. Pregnancy, childbirth or being overweight can stretch and weaken muscles that support your pelvic organs. Dr. Makeia will discuss pelvic health, symptoms, diagnosis and treatment options.

other two children. I remembered passing a large family reunion on the way to the store — the type of gathering with volleyball, bocci and plenty of people drinking beer in close proximity. With the Buick still following close behind, I turned into the driveway, shut off the van and waved out the window at the people playing volleyball. The Buick slowed to a crawl, then took off like a shot.

As my heart rate slowed, I began feeling silly about the whole thing. I had absolutely no proof the guy was a degenerate hell-bent on mayhem so what was I freaking out about? The truth is having children changes everything. As Mark thought about pizza, a campfire and smores, I couldn’t shake the feeling that my family had just avoided imminent danger. I told the story to a friend in law enforcement and he said following gut instinct is usually the way to go. He reminded me that I could have simply gone back to the grocery store and asked to use the phone (I didn’t have a cell phone on me at the time) or driven back to Traverse City if I was that concerned. He also said being aware of your surroundings and calling for help at the first sign of trouble are two of the most important things anyone can do. Everyone would be wise to follow that advice.

Niman Ranch Cattle are True Angus!

Niman Ranch raises livestock traditionally, humanely and sustainably. The secret to producing the finest tasting, all-natural beef is to begin with the highest quality breeds. That's why 100% of Niman Ranch cattle are true Angus. The cattle are raised on pasture and finished on a vegetarian grain diet. This combined with raising the cattle in a low stress environment, are the contributing factors to the rich marbling and delicate flavor that puts Niman Ranch beef head and shoulders above the rest.

Lacrosse team finishes strong season

The Northville Travel Lacrosse 5th/6th grade Orange team recently concluded a very successful season at the Mid West LAX Bash weekend of June 2-3. The team entered the tournament with only three losses for the season. The Orange team played six games in the two-day tournament, competing for their division championship. A tough loss in the final game left the team runner up to a very good Hartland team. Team members are Brandon Adams, Zach Downey, Benji Eckerle, Noah Eckerle, Blake Evans, Ryan Figueroa, Elijah Gash, Brendan Hale, Conner Hein, Abe Khoury, Eric Lebryk, JohnMarco Melucci, Sean Richard, Cole Rorabacher, Anthony Salamone, Danny Scorzo, Nolan Scott, and Alex VanNocker. The team coaches are John Alexander, Brian Bielski, and Mike Comben.

to-head spring between Sims and Rockford's Drew Woznick, which ended with the Rockford harrier edging ahead by just 0.4 seconds. Sims finished in 16:06. "Dan races so consistently, and today was no exception," said Cronin. "He ran another smart, tactical race, and it just came down to the sprint. As the season progresses, he'll put more speed in his legs, and I suspect the outcome might be difference next time out."

Next in for Northville was Jason Ferrante, who ran a 16:59 for 13th overall.

"Jason really stepped up for us today," said Cronin. "He looked strong throughout the race and his finish was terrific."

Northville's third, fourth and fifth runners finished within 10 seconds of one another with Drew Kanya running to 16th in 17:08, followed by Rick Momoi in 19th in 17:12 and Sean McCullough running a 17:18 for 21st.

At the KLAA Invitational, the Mustangs were led by Nick Dufrense, who ran to 25th in 17:39. Not far behind was Conor Naughton, who took 28th in 17:44. Both harriers earned medals for their performances.

Next in was Trevor Lerner (18:10; 41st), Nathan Tajer (18:20; 49th), Thomas Smith-er (18:36; 57th) and Sean Coleman and Tom Deeds (18:50, 63rd and 64th, respectively).

Pom gives back

The Northville High School Pom Pon teams recently combined efforts with members of the community to collect food for Northville Civic Concern. While serving those in need, the 46 members of the varsity and junior varsity pom teams also held a clinic for the youth in the community. In addition to giving back to their community through a service project, the pom teams find fun and friendships while giving back to the youth in the community. The fall pom clinic has been a tradition at Northville for more than a decade. The coaches and team members feel it is important that our student-athletes understand they are leaders and must set an example for others to follow. Not only do they enjoy spending time teaching their love of pom to youth in the community, they gain a sense of helping and gain leadership skills needed to be successful in life.

Northville volleyball team continues success Squad wins Lakeland tourney

By Sam Eggleston

Success for a team tends to lead to more success, and the Northville Mustangs volleyball team is on a run right now with victory after victory coming their way.

The team, coached by Amanda Yaklin, opened up the KLAA season with a 3-0 victory over South Lyon East last week before going on to win the Lakeland Tournament two days later.

Against South Lyon East, the Mustangs put together a dominating 25-6 victory in the first set and then subbed in their younger players to give them much-needed game experience. They did well, pounding out wins of 25-20 and 25-15 in the second and third sets to secure the victory.

The rested starters then went into the Lakeland Tournament last Saturday and put together an outstanding performance to earn the crown over a tough North Farmington squad.

"This is a great win for us in so many ways," said Yaklin. "The girls battled back to win after a first set loss in several matches. It shows how our team

ON TAP

The Northville Mustangs volleyball team will be back on the court when they visit Novi today at 6:30 p.m. before playing in the Roosevelt High School Invite Saturday. The team will then host Salem on Tuesday and Livonia Stevenson next Thursday with 6:30 p.m. start times for both matches.

can come to together in adversity. The teams we played are very competitive and should help prepare us for our conference play."

The team opened the day with an easy victory over West Bloomfield, 25-15 and 25-15, before dropping their first set against Rochester, 25-17, and then rebounding for a 25-13 win in the second set.

Northville then played North Branch, ranked in the top-10 in the state in class B, and split with them with a loss in the first set, 25-22, and a win in the second, 25-19.

Northville finished in second in their pool behind North Branch, which swept their other opponents, and ended into the playoff bracket with a bye in the first round and a fourth seeding.

The tournament found the Mustangs dropping their first set, 25-18, against Divine Child to open the playoffs but came back to win the second, 25-21, and then dominating the third, 15-7. The team then went on to play top-seeded host, Lakeland, and won the first set 28-26 after an early lead and the Eagles working their way back into the game for a near-victory. Northville took the lead once again early in the second set and had to hold on as they beat Lakeland, 25-20, to advance to the finals.

Northville lost the opening again against North Farmington, 25-23, but won the second 25-22. In the final match, the Mustangs jumped to a 5-1 lead but North Farmington came back to tie it, 8-8. The Mustangs remained vigilant, however, and came away with the victory and the tournament championship, 15-13.

Invitational last week at Willow Metro Park.

The Mustangs varsity took first in their race with 37 points while Salem took second with 49 and Brighton was third with 86. The junior varsity team took first with 21 points while the Salem JV was second with 38 and Brighton was third with 86.

"The girls all ran season-best times and continue to show improvement from week-to-week and that is all I can ask for," said coach Nancy Smith of the varsity team. "This is always a great race as we get to see the strength of the teams in our conference. Salem, like us, is a great pack-running team, but our girls held on in the finish to break their pack up, which secured the win."

Northville ran nine runners in the top 28 finishers with five of them under the 20-minute mark. Leading the way, unsurprisingly, was Taleen Shahri-gian, who placed third in 18:54 while Rachel Coleman took fifth in 19:23.

Right on her heels was Erin Dunne, who ran to sixth place in 19:33 while Nicole Mosteller was 11th in 19:56 and Alison Robinson ran a 19:56 for 12th. Other medalists included Erin Zimmer (20:01; 16th), Emma Herrmann (20:09; 17th), Hailey Harris (20:30; 23rd) and Julia Kassem (20:40; 24th).

In the junior varsity race, Northville was led by sophomore Mirai Kobayashi, who captured her first individual win of her career with a 21:52. Next in w skate Knoth with a 22:16 for third place with Chloe Smither running to fourth in 22:30, Alex Draybuck in fifth in 22:41, Alex Rodriguez was eighth in 22:53 and Annelie Herrmann was ninth in 22:30. Finishing 10th overall was freshman Marie Zimmer, who ran the race in 23:01.

"I was happy for Mirai," said Smith. "She ran with confidence and continues to get better each week. This is her first season running cross and she looks great."

The Shamrocks' defense gangs up on a Moeller running back.

Catholic Central falls to Moeller

Squad isn't worried about second loss

By Sam Eggleston
Correspondent

It looks like the state of Ohio might just have the Detroit Catholic Central football team's number this year. For the second-straight week, the Shamrocks played a team from south of the border and took a loss, dropping their record to 1-2 on the season.

After falling to Toledo Whitmer last week, the Shamrocks took on the No. 12-ranked team in the country in Cincinnati Moeller and fell, 61-33.

But take a walk on the practice field at Detroit Catholic Central this week and you'll notice the Shamrocks aren't letting the loss get them down.

"Something we stress with the kids is a '24-hour rule,' and that means 24 hours to celebrate a win or dwell on a loss," said Shamrocks assistant coach Michael Mach. "We think that's a good policy to account for the nature of human emotions and then let everyone know it's time to move on to the next game."

The Shamrocks learned plenty about their own team as well as what it takes to be one of the top-ranked teams in the country last Saturday.

The Detroit Catholic Central team put up a strong fight in the first half of the contest, pulling within one point in the second quarter when Anthony Darkangelo snagged a pass and bolted for a 46-yard score to make it a 20-19 contest. Unfortunately, Moeller's offense proved too much, scoring four unanswered touchdowns—one before

ON TAP

The Detroit Catholic Central Shamrocks football team will be back in action when they host Niagara Academy of Ontario tomorrow at 7 p.m.

halftime and three to open the third quarter, to generate a 47-19 lead.

The Moeller was led by Keith Watkins, who had 177 yards on the ground and four touchdowns while Joe Eramo had two touchdowns—including one from 80-yards out - with 102 yards rushing. Quarterback Spencer Lacovone threw for 233 yards and two touchdowns and Gus Ragland pulled in seven passes for 100 yards and a score.

"From a physical standpoint, at the end of the day, this is a very simple game— it comes down to blocking and tackling," said Mach. "We definitely need to become a better tackling team, defensively. There were plenty of plays where we had an opportunity to make a play defensively and simply missed a tackle. That definitely needs to get better going forward, especially given the physical nature of our league that is coming up. Also, this is sort of unprecedented territory for our program in terms of points given up, so we're going to keep it real simple, focus on the basics, and rebuild our kids' confidence from the ground up."

The Shamrocks were led by Darkangelo, who ran for 117 yards and two touchdowns while quarterback Garrett Moores threw for 197 yards and two scores.

"We're always going to be a run-first team but we have a very talented quarterback in Garrett Moores," said Mach. "He's a first-year starter as a senior but he's got a very high ceiling. Garrett is about 6-feet-4-inches and a very athletic kid. He made some mistakes trying to make a big play that wasn't there but he made some really nice plays in a situation where we were throwing probably more than is comfortable within the framework of our offense."

The Shamrocks recovered three fumbles in the game, but gave the ball away four times, including a 29-yard scoop-and-score fumble recovery that was returned for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The loss stung, for sure, but Mach said the team has other things to focus on than two losses to Ohio teams.

"When we come back on Monday, it will be worthwhile to remind our players that all of our benchmark goals —Central Division title, Catholic League title, and state title— are still within reach," he said. "We're 0-0 in the league, and still have a margin of error for getting to six wins. We just need to go out and start turning this thing in our favor, one game at a time."

On an option play Northville QB Joseph Hewlett is sent for a rolling hit by a South Lyon Lion during their Sept. 7 game in Northville.

MUSTANGS

South Lyon head coach Mark Thomas talked about the difficulties his offense experienced during the first half.

"I think our center kind of got nervous and had four bad snaps over his head, and three of them turned into points and that's 21 points right there," said Thomas. "We were running the ball OK, but our defense had a hard time. Northville's a good team, no doubt about it. They've won the past couple of years and that's who you have to go through to win the league."

Hewlett added his fifth touchdown of the game on the Mustangs' initial drive of the third quarter with a 4-yard swing pass to Bailey before making his exit. Hewlett proved to be a dual threat against the Lions, completing 13 of 19 pass attempts for 257 yards to go along with 106 yards off 16 carries.

"First of all, Joey's a tremendous worker – he plays basketball and football has been on his mind since we ended the season last year," said Northville head coach Matt Ladach. "He's a great athlete, a great kid and he's done so many things in the offseason to prepare himself. He's filling big shoes – our quarterback the past two years has done a tremendous job and with Joey stepping in, we haven't missed a beat."

Mustangs back-up signal caller Jake Hansen threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Conway to begin the final frame, but South Lyon (2-1 overall, 0-1 KLAA Central) was able to sneak in one last score before the end of the game.

Following a pivotal run by the Lions' Dylan Millar to move the chains on 3rd and 1, sophomore quarterback Anton Skupin heaved the ball over the middle of the field, where an opportunistic Oostmeyer hauled it in for a 45-yard touchdown catch. South Lyon however, would fail to convert on the point after.

Millar was a key part in the Lions' offense, finishing 14 rushing attempts for 111 yards. Garcia completed 4-11 passes for 58 yards while Oostmeyer led all South Lyon receivers with 57 yards off of two catches.

On the Northville side, Hansen caught three passes for 116 yards before taking over at quarterback. Conway added 55 yards off of three receptions, all of which went for touchdowns.

Defensively, R.J. Holloway, Nathan Priebe and Hewlett each had four stops apiece.

"It was a team effort and I'm proud of them," said Ladach. "We have 82 guys on our roster and each player did his job in practice this week. We played as a team tonight and that's what enabled us to have this victory."

WELCOME BACK!

Here are things you can do to make this school year the best one yet.

- 1) Plan to do your best. Just like mom and dad make plans to complete a project, you need to succeed in the classroom. Schedule home work time. Find out when big projects will be due.
- 2) Extra Credit! Make your teacher really notice you by doing a little extra work.
- 3) Be a friend not a bully. You will have loads of new friends if you are a friend first.
- 4) Pick Me-Pick Me! Get involved. Maybe it's an extracurricular activity, club, or event.
- 5) Feed your mind and body! Kick-off your day with a healthy breakfast followed later with a nutritious lunch. It will help you be your best all day long.
- 6) Rest-Work-Play! After all is said and done, make sure to get plenty of rest and add some playtime in your school week.

Now go and have a great semester in school!

BULLY ME!

Do You Get Bullied?
If you say YES...Well this story is for you.

One day it was recess time at school. I was playing Zombie tag with my friends. Everything was going smooth until... a bunch of big kids arrived and started bullying me. I was so frustrated because they ruined my playtime. The bullying not only affecting my playtime but is also affecting my learning at school and home.

I have to find a way to stop this bullying. Then I got the perfect idea. So the next day I was waiting for the big bullying kids to arrive and start the bullying.

Here they come. A gang of three. I put on a stone face and said "Okay bully me!" As soon as they started bullying, I started thinking about lunch, math, waking-up tomorrow, Friday's skating and all other good things. I never paid any attention to the bullies. Finally they were so frustrated about my positive behavior, they left and never came back to bully me. So long bullies!

Back to school: College students need to heed fire safety

By Julie Brown
O&E Staff Writer

When Tom Kiurski sent his daughter to Central Michigan University a few years back, he had concerns of any normal parent.

As the training coordinator for the Livonia Fire Department, Kiurski was also keeping an eye out for dorm fire safety. Their daughter, 20, lived in a CMU dorm her first two years and is now in a sorority with 14 young women.

"We talked about the different ways out," he said of her dorm. "We brought an extra smoke alarm with us." The university also had a working smoke detector, which Kiurski appreciated.

Students are back to school, and for those starting college fire safety may not top the list. It's usually their first time away from home for an extended period, Kiurski said, and they haven't had the time older adults have had to learn about fire safety.

"It's not on the top of the radar screen," he said.

He recommends parents review fire escape planning at home before leaving for school. "It does have to be specific," he said of the escape plan, so he also recommends a quick review upon arrival at the dorm of ways out to safety.

"I think they have gotten better, yes," Kiurski said of colleges/universities and fire safety. Alarms are often retrofitted into buildings with sprinklers added as well. Fire departments lack authority to mandate sprinklers in older buildings, he said, and cost is an issue for schools with adding sprinklers.

"We try to educate. I think they're making steps toward safety," he said.

If you're sending a student off to college this fall, include some fire safety planning in talk of friends, classes and social get-togethers. Kiurski noted most dorm students have a meal plan, so shouldn't need to cook much in their room.

Most college fire deaths are off campus, he said, where it's tougher to maintain safety standards.

College students living away from home should take a few minutes to make sure they are living in a fire-safe environment. Kiurski echoes these safety tips from the National Fire Protection Association, including looking for fully sprinklered housing when choosing a dorm or off-campus housing.

- Make sure your dormitory or apartment has smoke alarms inside each bedroom, outside every sleeping area and on each level. For the best protection, all smoke alarms should be interconnected so that when one sounds they all sound.

- Test all smoke alarms at least monthly.

- Never remove batteries or disable the alarm.

- Learn your building's evacuation plan and practice all drills as if they were the real thing.

- If you live off campus, have a fire escape plan with two ways out of every room.

- When the smoke alarm or fire alarm sounds, get out of the building quickly and stay out.

- During a power outage, use a flashlight.

- Cook only where it is permitted.

- Stay in the kitchen when cooking.

- Cook only when you are alert, not sleepy or drowsy from medicine or alcohol.

- Check with your local fire department for any restrictions before using a barbecue grill, fire pit, or chimenea.

- Check your school's rules before using electrical appliances in your room.

- Use a surge protector for your computer and plug the protector directly into an outlet.

Reader favors pit bull as pet

By Robert Meisner
Guest Columnist

Q: I am a frequent reader of your column, but take issue with you concerning your comment regarding the exclusion of certain breeds of dogs. I think you are wrong to imply that pit bulls are dangerous.

limitations

on pit bulls

in condos

only cause

more pit

bulls to wrongfully

end up in

shelters. Do you agree?

Robert Meisner

A: Thank you for your e-mail. I appreciate the fact that you read my column, but the gist of my column was that community associations through their bylaws, and municipalities through their ordinances, have the right to pass enforceable prohibitions on dog breeds, whether or not you agree with them. I have two dogs, i.e. beagles, a granddogson who is a Golden Doodle, and as a kid, a cocker spaniel. I was merely answering a question which is my job as an experienced community association lawyer. Your gripe is not with me, but with the municipality or community association that respectfully feels differently than you.

Q: Can you give me any basic information about what the stimulus plan of President Obama has done for the benefit of homeowners?

A: One example is the refinancing opportunities under the government's Home Affordable Refinance Program (HARP). Your current mortgage loan may be eligible for a refinance under the program. Some benefits of refinancing under this plan include refinancing up to 150 percent of the loan-to-value ratio, and no need for an appraisal on some single-family homes. Also, the mortgage insurance companies have agreed to transfer the insurance, which was not the case before. However, to be eligible for HARP, you have to be current on your mortgage payments with no late payments in the last six months and, no more than one late payment in the last 12 months. Your existing loan has to have been sold to Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac on or before May 31, 2009, and, your mortgage must not have been previously financed under HARP. In any event, you should check with a qualified mortgage lender to give you the full details as to whether you qualify.

How to get that computer to send your resumé to a real person

Interview with a resumé expert

Debra Auerbach,
CareerBuilder Writer

When you submit a resumé online, do you ever wonder where it goes, who reads it and -- if you're lucky -- how it gets picked? In today's electronic world, many companies use keyword-search software or applicant-tracking systems in their hiring process. These systems scan resúmes for keywords related to the open position to find the most relevant ones for the next round. This helps companies, especially large ones, sort through a high volume of resúmes quickly and efficiently.

Knowing that your resumé may meet a computer system before it meets a human, how do you get it noticed? The following Q&A with Ramsey Penegar, executive-resumé consultant, career strategist and certified resumé writer for cbResume.com, provides helpful tips on how to make your resumé stand out to a computer -- and a company.

Q: Now that most resúmes are submitted/reviewed online, what implications does that have for how a resumé is written?

Penegar: Now that the majority of resúmes are submitted and reviewed online rather than in print, there are new things to consider in writing a resumé. Will your resumé be viewable online? Will it look the same as it did on your computer when prospective hiring managers read it? Job seekers need to keep in mind that format, keywords, search optimization and file type are all just as important as content, good grammar and correct spelling.

I ensure that clients have two versions of their resumé. [One is] the utilitarian text version for easily posting to Internet job boards or online applications. Since the majority of businesses use Microsoft Word over other word-processing programs, send your resumé in a file format their system will open. The Microsoft

Word version is formatted using universal fonts to ensure that the recipient can read the resumé.

Q: Why is it important to include keywords from the job description in a resumé?

RP: An effective resumé has a tight focus and is targeted to the job or job types the client wishes to seek. This targeting includes keywords from the job description to improve search rates. Keywords are usually the hard skills, industry-specific qualifications and job-specific terms or phrases that employers look for in a job candidate. If your resumé doesn't have the keywords that match their job requirements, your resumé may hit the "no" pile early in the process.

Some companies search Internet job boards and resumé databases using keywords to find job candidates, while other companies use this technology to streamline their hiring process. If your resumé doesn't contain the right keywords, your resumé may be rejected even if you have all the experience and other qualifications. As a job seeker, using the right keywords in your resumé is crucial if you want to land the interview.

Q: How can you integrate keywords so they sound natural and not forced?

RP: The best way to incorporate keywords into your resumé is by writing concise action statements regarding your achievements, skills and experience and implementing the keywords naturally within those bulleted statements. An effective resumé is achievement-focused, not task-based. Start each statement about your career achievements with an action verb, followed by a keyword and ending with specific facts and figures resulting from your actions.

Simply creating a list or block of keywords may work to snag hits on the software seeking those words. However, if your resumé lacks a professional, aesthetically appealing look, doesn't explain why you are the ideal candidate or how you benefited your previous employers, you still won't get the interview.

Q: What types of keywords should job seekers include in their resumé?

RP: The best keywords can be found right in the job descriptions and ads of the jobs you want to land. Evaluate 10 job postings with similar titles and make a list of the five to 10 most frequently used words throughout all of them. These are the words you should use in your cover letter and resumé.

Here is a list of general skills and qualifications to consider as keywords:

- Degrees or certifications
- University or college names
- Job titles
- Product names
- Technical terms
- Industry jargon
- Job-specific buzzwords
- Company names
- Professional organizations
- Technology

Q: What are some pitfalls of relying too much on keywords?

RP: Integrating keywords is only one important aspect of developing an effective resumé. Too many buzzwords can be overkill, and a long list of keywords on a Word document will not land you any interviews. Remember that keywords are primarily for the computer software scanning your resumé; the written content is for your human readers. Quality is of utmost importance in your resumé.

Q: What other ways can a job seeker get his resumé noticed by an employer?

RP: Make certain [that] your resumé is visually appealing by using appropriate formatting and white spacing as well as correct spelling and grammar. Your resumé is more likely to be read if it's appealing to read. Don't clutter your resumé with irrelevant or outdated information and, ideally, keep it to two pages or less. College students or those with fewer than five years of experience may use a one-page resumé.

A job search should be directed in the same manner as a sales or marketing campaign. Use all [of] your resources, connections and networks. Get your resumé into the hands of people who can help you in this quest, including friends, family, colleagues, alumni or professional association members, acquaintances at Chamber of Commerce and other business community events and job fairs. Promote your resumé online using LinkedIn, Facebook, Twitter and even your own professional blog. Rather than sending your resumé to a company or job posting cold, conduct research to find out the name of the person who would be most interested in your resumé, and get the resumé into her hands. Taking the time to develop and work your job-search plan will help you to achieve better results faster.
