Did you know...

The Victorians were known for their love of word games? Victorians excelled at riddles that relied upon double meanings and the sounds of the words themselves. Jokes and guessing games were expected to mildly embarrass and provide a good laugh for all. Here's a riddle for you:

I dig out tiny caves and store gold and silver in them. I also build bridges of silver and crowns of gold. Sooner or later everyone needs my help, yet many are afraid to let me help them. Who am I?

(A dentist, of course)

It will turn west on Main Street to Linden, north on Linden to Dunlap, east on Dunlap to Hutton, south on Hutton to Main, west on Main to Center, south on Center to Cady, and west on Cady to return to the Community Center lot.

ANNABELLE ROAD

With a big-as-the-room sound, the ability to rock the doors off the toughest clubs, the heart to keep a crowd hanging on every note and the party going till closing time, Annabelle Road blows in from the intersection where rural and urban sensibilities meet. Tapping Motor City's rich musical well by way of Butcher Holler, this barnstorming band fuses the best of rock and country seamlessly to their polished originals. Mass appeal is guaranteed from the rockers to the honky tonkers. It's trucker hats and big hair in a chopper shop. Moonshine on steel wheels. If you're ready to rock out on a Carrie Underwood-meets-Johnny Cash-by way of-Skynyrd trip, do not miss the opportunity to

VICTORIAN CHURCH SERVICE HELD BY FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF NORTHVILLE

In the 1800s, missionaries and preachers traveled to the west tending to a large number of people. For the most part, these preachers traveled on horseback or in one-horse drawn buggies and became known as circuit riders. With great commitment and personal sacrifice, these circuit riders rode the wild terrain (prairies, mountains, seashore) spending months away from their homes and families. They held worship services wherever they could: in bars, saloons and under the shade of trees. The First Baptist Church of Northville invites everyone to attend their Victorian Church Service at the Festival Saloon at 10 a.m.
