Tour de Ville

The inaugural Tour de Ville Bicycle Ride will take place Sunday, Sept. 14. Registration begins at 7 a.m. and the course opens at 7:45 a.m. Organizers, who say more than 200 bicyclists have already signed up, are still seeking participants.

The event is a joint effort between the Northville Rotary Club and University of Michigan Northville Health Center.

Riders may choose from a 10 mile, 35 mile or 70 mile course. All three routes start and end in downtown Northville, and travel along the well-paved, bicycle-friendly and historic Hines Drive.

Rider entry fee is $35. Registered riders will receive a T-shirt, a light breakfast and a free lunch. All routes will be clearly marked with direction indicators at essential corners. Route maps will also be provided in registration packets. Additional T-shirts may be purchased for $12 each, and extra lunches are $15. Tour de Ville jerseys are $90.

Enrollment numbers down a bit

Incoming kindergarten class considerably smaller than Class of 2014

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

Overall enrollment in Northville Public Schools is a bit lower at the start of this new school year, but there is good reason for it, according to Northville Public Schools officials.

According to Dave Rodgers, assistant superintendent of Human Resources, the district has 7,145 students in attendance based on the updated enrollment and attendance figures from the first week of school. That figure is 39 students lower than the 2013 fall count. Rodgers said that number may still change when the fall count day takes place at the beginning of October.

"On the surface, it may appear that the district is losing students. However, in order to understand the big picture of the district enrollment, it is first important to understand that the incoming kindergarten class (424 thus far) is 166 students smaller in size than the Class of 2014 (590)," said Rodgers.

Therefore, he added, "we have actually gained students across the grades which has closed that incoming kindergarten/exiting seniors differential down to 39 students."

At Hillside Middle School the number of students has actually increased from last year to more than 1,000 students this

Victorian Festival to take over Northville

Event is ode to city's 19th century beginnings

By Kurt Kuban
Staff Writer

The one saving grace about the end of summer around these parts is the annual Victorian Festival, which will take over downtown Northville this weekend.

Now in its 26th year, the annual ode to Northville's 19th century beginnings is a favorite of locals, many of whom will be out and about dressed in historical garb. The downtown streets will be taken over beginning Friday evening with the annual Victorian Festival Parade, which kicks off at 6:30 p.m. The route, which is the same as last year, begins near the post office at West Cady and Wing, and will then follow Wing to Main, Main to Linden, Linden to Dunlap, Dunlap to Hutton, Hutton to Mary Alexander and then back to Cady before ending where it began.

"Because of the number of school kids and their parents that participate each year, the Victorian Festival Parade is the most anticipated and attended parade in Northville," said Traci Sincok of the Chamber of Commerce, which organizes the festival.

In addition to the staples of the festival, including the parade, school and nonprofit group booths, and historically-themed events at Mill Race Village, there will be a number of new wrinkles to this year's event, including a carnival over at Northville Downs that actually begins on Thursday afternoon and runs through Sunday.

What's new

Elliott's Amusements of Mason, Mich. will have a carnival midway and rides at Northville Downs. The Ryde Park Carnival, as it is being called, is sponsored by Community Financial Credit Union and runs Thursday (4-10 p.m.), Friday (4-11

Chamber seeking Citizen of Year nominees

By Kurt Kuban
Staff Writer

The Northville Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations for its 2014 Citizen of the Year award. The chamber would love to hear from you if you know somebody who helps make Northville such a great community, who is civic-minded and goes beyond the call of duty – and who you think deserves some public acknowledgment for their efforts.

The award can go to a local business owner, public official, a coach or teacher, or just a neighbor who volunteers their precious time.

According to Traci Sincok, associate director of the chamber, there is a Sept. 26 deadline for nominations for this prestigious award.

There are a couple of criteria to keep in mind when considering who to nominate. The nominee must:

- » Be involved in actively supporting (through time, talent or financial support) an organization that improves the community.
- » Live or work in Northville.
- » Show concern for community, environment and family.
- » Be a role model for community youth and citizens.

Sincok said the award, which dates back to 1976, is a celebration to the dedication and commitment shown by so many who make Northville the won-

Eight Mile opens back up just in time for school

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

After three long months of detours and orange cones, Eight Mile Road between Beck and Taft roads is finally back open to motor and pedestrian traffic.

"It turned out good. We were happy to get it before the start of school," said Jim Persinger, the project inspector for Oakland County, who oversaw the project.

The improvements include a continuous left turn lane on Eight Mile from Beck to Taft. And as part of the overall project, the traffic signals at the Eight Mile and Beck Road and Eight Mile and Taft Road intersections will be updated as will the flasher at the Eight Mile and Napier intersection. The pedestrian crosswalks along this section of Eight Mile have also been upgraded to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

The total cost of the project is about $4.7 million, with $2.8 million coming from federal funds and the remainder ($1.9 million) shared by the Road Commission for Oakland County (RCOC), Northville Township, the City of Northville, Novi and Oakland County general government through the Tri-Party Program.

Officials from the cities of Northville and Novi along with Northville Township are both happy to see the project done.

"The City of Northville loves the project," said Public Works Director Jim Gallogly. "The road is much wider, and it has center turn lanes and nice wide approaches to each of the neighborhood streets."

Gallogly said the bike lanes were funded by Novi and Northville covering the cost of the extended sidewalk while Northville Township paid for an extended bike path.

"We also like the fact

JOHN HEIDER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

The construction barriers were finally moved aside on Eight Mile Road between Taft and Beck. The summer-long effort renovated the pavement and gutters along that stretch.

that we now have sidewalk all the way out to Beck Road which is our city limits," Gallogly said. "Last year, when Oakland County reconstructed Eight Mile Road west of Beck Road, they placed bike lanes on both sides of the road. That project, plus this project with the extended sidewalk, will now allow pedestrians to get to the main entrance of Maybury State Park."

He added this is good news for Northville, Novi and Northville Township as residents now "will be able to bike or walk to the park. This was nearly impossible before."

The contractor still has to do some pavement marking and minor cleanup work, but should be done in the next three weeks, according to Persinger.

City reaches parking agreement with Center Street developer

Nearby residents still concerned with arrangement for brewery

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

The City of Northville and the new development at 410 N. Center Street, home to the future North Center Brewing Company, have reached a deal on a shared parking agreement that includes addressing any future changes that may affect the demand for parking, which had been a sticking point all summer.

However, homeowners in the neighboring residential area are still concerned about the parking issues along North Center and its spillover effect. This is an issue that city officials said needs to be further addressed with the help of those involved, which includes both businesses and homeowners.

Shared parking agreement

By a 5-0 vote at its Sept. 2 meeting, the Northville City Council approved the shared parking agreements between the owners of 410 N. Center, 114 Rayson and 412 N. Center and a separate agreement with the building's owner, Dwayne White.

The agreement provides that the property owners at 114 Rayson Street and 412 N. Center will both provide four parking spaces, specifically for the pub's operations after 5 p.m.

According to Northville City Manager Patrick Sullivan, the agreement, between 410 N. Center and the city, provides that, if one or both of the existing parking agreements are terminated, notification will be provided to the city prior to any change in tenants or hours of

The developers of the N. Center Street building that is the future home of the North Center Brewing Company have a parking agreement with the city and their neighbors. However, nearby homeowners are concerned of spill-over visitors parking in their neighborhood.

This part of the agreement also prohibits any new use in the building, which exceeds the approved parking formula of one parking space per every 200 gross square feet of building area, unless sufficient parking spaces are provided as outlined in the zoning ordinance.

"This is the best agreement that we could work out on this. I think it goes over and above what the ordinance calls for. It's not perfect and I can't sit here and say there's never going to be a car sparked on the street or in an adjacent lot, but it's what our ordinance calls for in terms for providing shared parking," Sullivan said.

Sullivan said it's important that the deal provides some sort of assurance and notification of any potential changes to the parking agreement.

Negotiating process

This all started back late last summer when the Northville City Planning Commission approved a site plan for a new, two story building at 410 N. Center Street. The proposed use for the building was to be office and retail. Sullivan said based on the proposed office and retail uses, it was determined that the building needed 35 parking spaces and the site plan was approved with a 37 space parking lot.

But several months later, Sullivan said the city was notified of the building owner's intent to locate a brew pub on the first floor of the new building.

"The city responded that the brew pub use would increase the parking requirement and that additional parking would need to be approved prior to occupancy by the brew pub," Sullivan told the council. "The building owner subsequently asked for consideration of a shared parking arrangement pursuant to 17.01.13c of the City of Northville Zoning Ordinance."

City officials said for an agreement to be approved it would need to be notified in the event of change of use or hours of operation in the event that one or more parking agreements are terminated in the future.

This past spring, the City Council tabled consideration of the shared parking agreements and encouraged further discussion with the property owner to seek an agreement to deal with future changes in uses, and hours of operations.

Scott Marcus, a spokesman for the 410 N. Center development, was at the Sept. 2 meeting and said they are here to work with the city and residents to make the situation as smooth as possible.

"We are really committed to working with all residents down that street. If it becomes an issue we are going to be proactive with it," said Marcus.

Homeowners concerns

A group of residents that live along the adjacent streets like Grace and Lake streets attended the meeting as well and they all said more needs to be done as far as the whole parking situation is concerned, not just at 410 N. Center.

"What's the backup plan if the situation gets worse," asked homeowner David Marold at the meeting.

This group, which includes at least 10 homeowners from the neighborhood, said there are already public parking issues on their streets from the existing businesses on N. Center. They said cars are parked outside their homes all day that don't move and also don't allow for other s to park there. Additionally, they said safety issues have arisen for their families because of the over parking.

Mayor Chris Johnson and council listened to the concerns and said city administration would initiate a study and analysis of the parking situation in that area in the coming months. Surveys will be done and eventually later this fall a meeting will be held to offer up possible solutions to the parking concerns. Johnson said homeowner input will be fully considered in this process.

p.m.), Saturday (noon to 11 p.m.) and Sunday (noon to 5 p.m.).

Organizers wanted something new this year to appeal to teenagers.

“This is a new element to the festival this year. We really wanted to add something for the teen group. In the past, we didn’t feel like we had a good draw for the teens in the community. We think this will appeal to them,” Sincock said. “There will be rides for the little kids as well.”

Wristbands will be for sale during all four days, which allow an unlimited number of rides for that day. The cost varies by day: $15 Thursday, $18 Friday and Saturday and $10 Sunday. Single-ride tickets will also be for sale.

Also new this year will be the Art Fair presented by Handcrafters Unlimited, an organization locals may be familiar with because it puts on three arts and crafts shows each year at the Northville Community Center. Handcrafters will bring around 50 arts and craft vendors, including some with historical themes, who will be set up on West Main Street between Center and Wing and on North Center between Main and Dunlap. They will be selling everything from pottery and jewelry to artwork and clothing. There will also be several food vendors selling products like bread and locally-produced honey.

Art Fair hours will be 4-7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 12; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 13; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 14.

Sincock believes the Art Fair will give people one more reason to come out for the Victorian Festival.

“Handcrafters has been doing these kinds of shows for 30 years,” Sincock said. “It is their business to promote the shows. We couldn’t ask for a better partner to have. They will definitely attract more people to visit beautiful downtown Northville during one of the most exciting weekends of the year.”

Another new feature to this year’s festival will be the inaugural Tour de Ville bicycle ride, which is a joint effort of the Northville Rotary Club and University of Michigan-Northville Health Center. The event takes place Sunday morning, and includes a 10-mile, 35-mile or 70-mile course for bike riders. All of the routes will travel along historic Hines Drive. Rider registration opens at 7 a.m., with the course opening at 7:45 a.m.

D&D Bicycles of Northville is donating a 2014 Trek 1.2 C road bike to be raffled off in its store at the end of the ride. The bicycle is on display at its Northville store. Raffle tickets ($10) can be purchased at any of the five D&D Bicycles stores throughout southeast Michigan.

Lumbering theme

History plays a huge role in the Victorian Festival, and this year’s theme is “The Lumbering Industry”, which was a significant feature of the Victorian Era that largely contributed to the expansion and growth of not only Northville, but the area and state as a whole.

Sincock expects many folks to dress up in costumes that pay tribute to the lumbering era. In addition, one of the main entertainment features of the festival this year is the Great Lakes Timber Show, which is based in the Upper Peninsula town of Escanaba. The group will put on a number of demonstrations and exhibits Saturday and Sunday near the Hutton and Main intersection.

Wells Fargo will also bring back their stagecoach, which was such a big hit at last year’s festival.

History is always the main theme at Mill Race Village, and it will definitely be the case this weekend.

Most of the buildings will be open during the weekend, and many will have activities going on. The J.M. Mead General Store will also be open and actually selling items. The Interurban Waiting Station also has a new interpretive display.

On Sunday there will be many events in the Mill Race including:

» Children’s Games, 1-3 p.m. Banner Children’s games of the Banner Victorian Era, like croquet, stilt walking, hoops and more, can be played outside the Wash-Oaks School.

» Tall Tales, 1-3 p.m. Gifted story-tellers will retell the legendary tales of Paul Bunyan and others inside the Wash-Oaks School.

» Cake Walk, noon to 3:30 p.m. Strut your stuff to rag-time tunes and patriotic airs while you attempt to claim a delicious pastry in the New School Church.

» Arts and Crafts, noon to 3:30 p.m. Demonstrations of home arts and crafts will be on display in the Hunter House and Weaver’s Cottage.

» Used Book Sale, noon to 3:30 p.m. Friends of the Northville District Library will sell used books in the New School Church, which serve as Northville’s library for 72 years.

» Sweet Melodies, noon to 3:30 p.m. Sweet melodies from a bygone era will be heard from at the gazebo. A talented ensemble of musicians will play hammered and Appalachian dulcimers.

» Backbeat and Treble-Makers, 2-3:30 p.m. Northville High School’s award winning men’s and women’s choral ensembles will perform Victorian-era favorites at various venues throughout the Village.

» Annual Duck Race, 3:30-4 p.m. Northville Historical Society event ticket sales at the J.M. Mead General Store. Tickets will be on sale in the General Store for the following upcoming fundraisers that benefit the operation of Mill Race Village. For tickets to the following events, contact the Northville Historical Society at 248-348-1845, stop by the office at 215 Griswold or visit its website www.millracenorthville.org.

Music and other entertainment

There will be a Victorian Festival Saloon again this year over at the corner of Wing and Cady streets, behind Northville City Hall. On Friday night it will be open from 5:30-10:30 p.m. Admission is $2. The locally popular Shawn Riley Band will perform.

The music moves to the Beer Garden and the Town Square stage all day Saturday and on Sunday. Other musical performers include Jill Jack, winner of more than 35 Detroit Music Awards, who will perform from 1:30-4 p.m. on Saturday, and singer-songwriter Robin Horlock, who will perform from 1-3 p.m., on Sunday.

John Park, a juggling comedian known for spinning plates and this year juggling lumber-jack tools, will be back and perform his routines on both Saturday and Sunday. And the Barnyard Express Animal Show/Petting Farm will also be back and set up on Main and Center streets from noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday and noon to 3 p.m. on Sunday.

Sticking with the lumber-jack theme, over on East Main Street local wood carver Tom Fink will demonstrate chainsaw carving techniques and demonstrations of how to turn wood into sculptures from noon to 4 p.m. Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. Carvings for sale will be on site.

Michigan funnyman Joel Tacey will put on his high-energy, family-friendly juggling and comedy show from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. on Saturday over at the Varsity Lincoln Town Square Stage.

All in all there will be something for just about everyone at this year’s festival. The event has continued to grow and evolve since it first started more than a quarter century ago. Sincock believes it is the most anticipated, fun weekend of the entire year in downtown Northville.

“There is so much planning that goes into this event. We started booking shows and entertainment about a week after last year’s event ended,” she said. “This is a big deal for Northville. It is the community’s festival. Everyone looks forward to it. It is our celebration of our roots and what we’ve become.”

derful community it is.

“This award is an important one for us. Every year it recognizes someone who gives so much to our community. We think it is important to publicly recognize them. We’ve had some great people win the award – a real who’s who of our town,” Sincock said.

Last year’s winner – Michele Fecht – is a perfect example, according to Sincock. Fecht has been involved in the community for years. She served on the Northville City Council, was active in the Northville Historical Society and Northville District Library, volunteered in the schools and is a major cheerleader for the community in general.

“Michele was really surprised when we announced she had won last year. She was very deserving, just like so many others in Northville,” Sincock said.

John Genitti, who recently passed away, also won the award, along with his wife, Toni, back in 1990.

The winner will be named at the chamber’s annual meeting next month. The winner will be featured in the Holiday Lighted Parade this year and in next year’s Victorian Festival Parade.

Nomination forms can be picked up and then dropped off at the chamber office located at 195 S. Main Street. For more information, visit www.northville.org. Once all of the nominations are submitted, the chamber’s board of directors will select the winner.

With super hero capes on their back, Silver Springs teachers swoop into a Sept. 3 Leader in Me kickoff rally.

‘Superheroes’ swoop into Silver Springs

School hopes to motivate students to learn leadership skills

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

Now that it has gained Lighthouse status, Silver Springs Elementary is aiming to take its Leader in Me program to another level as students work to identify their “superhero” strengths over the next school year.

Silver Springs Principal Melissa Hunt said Silver Springs has written clear, concise goals to move forward with continual improvements with the implementation of The Leader in Me.

“This year, our goal is for each student and member of the Silver Springs community to develop lifelong leadership tools so that all can confidently contribute to a positive and progressive community,” said Hunt.

All of the Northville Public Schools elementary schools are implementing the Leader in Me process, which uses Steven Covey’s “7 Habits” to help students realize that they have control over much of what happens in their lives and how they can be true leaders. Hunt said the “7 Habits” empower students to stop and think about their choices and the different outcomes that may come with those choices.

Silver Springs leaders

Silver Springs was the fourth school in Michigan to receive Lighthouse recognition and only the 62nd school worldwide to achieve this status. This process has become a popular initiative for schools; neighboring district Novi is also using Leader in Me to transform their schools.

The first school-wide Leader in Me assembly at Silver Springs was held last week to introduce their new initiative.

Hunt said the goal of the assembly was to introduce, “our superhero theme, introduce the Superheroes of Silver Springs, and encourage student leaders to begin identifying their strengths or superpowers to serve as leaders this school year.”

The assembly theme emphasized to students that “leadership is a chain reaction” at Silver Springs.

According to Hunt, the school has a leadership recognition program for student leaders to feel appreciated and proud of their positive influence on others. Students, staff, and even community members are recognized for outstanding leadership with a “link.”

“The link is connected to a school wide chain that is hung throughout our hallways demonstrating that ‘leadership is a chain reaction.’ Our good choices influence others in our school, community and world,” Hunt said. “Last year, we had 3,226 links on our school wide chain. This year, our students set a goal for achieving 5,000

To help them find their superhero abilities, Hunt said students will be encouraged to identify their strengths and areas of growth through their goal setting process. Student sets academic and personal goals, and work with their teacher to create an action plan and then they share their action plans with their parents while monitoring their own goal progress.

One way students will become more proactive this year is through finding a leadership roles that fit their abilities in the school’s “Application Station” which is filled with applications for a variety of leadership roles throughout the school year.

“Students match their strengths with leadership roles at Silver Springs. All students find their ‘super power’ and serve our school as a leader,” Hunt said.

This year's kindergarten class was down 52 students from last year which is slightly better than the formula-based projections that account for a variety of factors including declining birth rates, Rodgers said of the expectations going into this year.

So what does this mean for NPS?

“Any difference in the overall student count from year to year impacts our funding based on the per pupil foundation amounts (from the state),” Rodgers said.

Even with challenges, NPS has brought on new teacher hires this year to fill in for retirees and address class size.

“Despite the overall drop in students, the district has maintained staffing levels and made an effort to reduce class sizes where possible.”

He said this is possible because of the support “we receive from the community, and the great work of our staff and administrators, Northville Public Schools and the community as a whole, continue to attract new families.”

Revived state fair’s attendance continues to climb

By Cal Stone
Staff Writer

Now that the butter cow has melted, the big top tent is gone and the carnival rides have left town, organizers of the Fifth Third Bank Michigan State Fair say this year's event brought in 92,000 attendees. "This year's fair exceeded expectations in every category," said Blair Bowman, president of The Suburban Collection Showplace in Novi, where the annual event is now held. "The only exception to this was our goal to reach a total of 100,000 in attendance, which we would've achieved had we not been cut short due to weather on Monday." Even with threat of bad weather Saturday and the short day Monday, total attendance was up 12,000 from last year. Some highlights were doubled attendance Friday and a record crowd of more than 30,000 Sunday alone. The fair area was expanded to the west, including thousands of new parking areas. Bowman said organizers will continue to expand the midway and features of the fair and are looking at long-term potentials.

This could include the addition of new facilities to accommodate both the space needs for the future of the fair, but also handling additional space needs for future growth of The Suburban Collection Showplace. "With the expansion of the fair, these additional crowds were handled with relative ease," Bowman said. "The overwhelming comment was on how the new expanded layout was better, bigger with more things to do and more fun." If the same type of growth patterns continue, Bowman noted, the fair should exceed 100,000 visitors next year. Fifth Third Bank has been the title sponsor for two years and it is anticipated that it will continue to that commitment for at least the next three years. Some of the key things added to this year's fair was the Kroger Michigan-made expanded pavilion; the Detroit Free Press cooking stage in the farmers market area; and the state fair superstar contest, "which was a huge hit and could not have had a better result," Bowman said. The winner of that contest, Alison Albrecht, will be featured in an upcoming Novi News article. Bowman said one of the best new traditions established is the urban and rural gold ribbon scholarship program, where more than $30,000 was given to youth applicants this year. He expects that that will continue to grow, thanks to help from Bright House, Guernsey Farms Dairy, C.F. Berger Creamery and the Shriners. Bowman said there were virtually no comments or concerns from fair-goers regarding the pricing structure. "With our new menu of approaches to individual tickets and performances and rides, it gave a very cost-effective opportunity for people to customize their experience at the fair – and it certainly seemed to work," he said. In Bowman's third year handling the state fair and with considerable growth each year, it is impressive to note that there were no incidents reported by the Novi Police Department at this year's event. "We will continue to work on this track record as we grow in future years," Bowman said. cstone@gannett.com

Yerkes Pond Dam project gets crucial fix

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

It didn't quite blow out, but a quick change in repair plans was needed to make sure the project to fix the dam at Northville's Mill Race Village didn't do just that.

To cover the costs in the change of plan, the Northville City Council, by a 5-0 vote, approved Tuesday a change order for the Yerkes Pond Dam Improvement Project to Birkenstock Construction in the amount of $8,711.50, increasing the contract amount to $135,374.

"The project was going well early on as planned, but then a problem was encountered," city of Northville Public Works Director Jim Gallogly said.

According to Gallogly, the design for the head walls involved chipping off approximately three inches of concrete and pouring a concrete cap over the exposed areas of the walls.

"As work progressed to the head walls of the structure, it became clear that the existing concrete walls were too soft for the proposed cap to adhere properly," he said. "A design change has been made by the project engineers, Rowe Professional Services Co., to address this problem. The change calls for chipping out approximately half of the old walls and connecting new reinforced concrete walls to the existing structure."

This past June, Northville awarded a construction contract for the rehabilitation of the Yerkes Pond Dam to Birkenstock of Southfield. Gallogly said the project is well underway, with most of the work to date being concentrated on the spillway of the dam.

The budget amount provided for the project is $170,000, according to Gallogly. The bid submitted by Birkenstock Construction was $126,662.50 and the engineering cost of $33,104 is within the budget.

"This leaves a small amount ($10,233.50) which is sufficient to cover the cost of this change to the project," he told council.

He added, "The current work on the spillway has resulted in savings, as the spillway work involved less effort than expected."

The overall project is expected to be done within the month.

Lotus Bank names Wasen CLO

Lotus Bank, a state-chartered, full-service commercial bank based in Novi, has named Gerald (Jerry) Wasen its chief lending officer. Neal Searle, president & CEO of Lotus Bank, made the announcement.

"We are so fortunate to be able to bring a top-notch professional like Jerry to Lotus Bank," Searle said. "His decades of leadership and banking expertise will enable us to continue providing outstanding service to our customers."

Prior to joining Lotus Bank, Wasen served as president and CEO of a northern Michigan community bank. He also served as an executive managing director and as an executive vice president of two Detroit-area banks.

Lotus Bank was established in 2007 by Indian-American business and medical industry leaders from southeast Michigan to serve the business and personal finance needs of the region with a special focus within the Indian community. It is one of the most well-capitalized banks in Michigan, with approximately $102 million in total assets.

Wasen is a longtime Farmington area resident with long history of civic involvement, including membership and leadership roles with the Farmington Downtown Development Authority, the Farmington-Farmington Hills Optimist Club and city of Farmington Employees Retirement Board.

MTEC SmartZone, MTU partner to create local businesses

Michigan's EB-5 Regional Center, a tool Gov. Rick Snyder championed to attract foreign investors and create jobs in the state, was among key initiatives discussed during a recent public forum at MTEC SmartZone Lakeshore Center.

The federal EB-5

visa program is designed to provide green cards and a path to citizenship for immigrants who invest in an enterprise that creates at least 10 direct or indirect jobs in Michigan. Investments can range from $500,000 to $1 million, depending on whether the enterprise is located in a rural or high-unemployment target area. Michigan is the second state in the nation to manage its own regional center for an immigrant visa program.

Several local and regional entities expressed interest in collaborating with the state to attract and retain international students and entrepreneurs to create more jobs. They include: MTEC SmartZone, Michigan Technological University, Northern Michigan University and the cities of Houghton, Hancock and Marquette.

"When you consider the global reach of this area and put it together with core competencies that exist at Michigan Tech and Northern, and the type of quality of life, spirit and the attitude of Houghton, Hancock and Marquette, it really is the type of welcoming environment to continue the tradition of excellence here in our state," Michigan Lt. Gov. Brian Calley said. "The tradition of excellence is really about having an environment for success for people with all different types of backgrounds, talents and interests."

According to Michigan Tech President Glenn Mroz, the university draws students from more than 60 countries each year. "These students call Houghton home, even after they leave," he said. "Having them be able to stay here and start a business or work for somebody else, is a great opportunity for them and the state of Michigan."

The EB-5 Regional Center serves as an investment partner and assists with identifying qualified visa candidates, underwriting projects, verifying investors and handling the compliance process. Since the center was approved by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services in late March, there has been a strong demand for visas.

"Michigan Tech has international students and MTEC SmartZone has access to funding and training programs to help create companies and jobs," MTEC SmartZone CEO Marilyn Clark said.

For more information about the EB-5 Regional Center and visa program, visit <http://www.michigan.gov/eb5>.

Know your fees on retirement accounts

Bank fees, credit card fees, resort fees – the list keeps growing and consumers keep paying more in fees.

In many cases, the fees are nominal and are more annoying than anything. However, in certain situations, bank fees and airline fees, to name a couple, are significant. A fee that could top them all – and one that is hidden – is charged on retirement accounts such as 401(k) and 403(b) plans.

Rick Bloom

A new study reports that over the course of someone's career, he/she could pay more than $100,000 in excessive fees.

I believe most people would agree that when it comes time to retire, having that extra $100,000 in their pocket is a good thing. So why don't more people do something about high fees? My reasoning is that people are unaware of the fees and believe they have no other alternatives.

My philosophy is, you must be proactive. You may be surprised to learn you have other alternatives.

If you are retired or no longer working at the company where you have a 401(k) or 403(b) plan and pay high fees, you need to move your money into an IRA. By directly transferring the money from your old employer-based retirement savings account into an IRA, there is no tax consequences and the money can continue to grow on a tax-deferred basis. In addition, you will have control over your investments, allowing you to invest without having to pay excessive fees.

The problem is knowing what fees you pay.

In salary-deferral programs, it can be difficult to know what you're paying in fees. If fees are coming directly out of your account and are a separate line item, they are easier to understand. Unfortunately, it's not that way with many programs. Some of these fees are hidden.

For those of you who are working and contributing to salary deferral programs, I recognize that it may be tough to have your employer change the plan. However, it's not impossible. When the employer finds out that the plan has excessive fees, many times it also wants to make a change – particularly, in a small business where the owner is contributing along with employees into the program.

Many remember that the government came out with new regulations regarding fees for retirement savings accounts. The government did come out with new regulations; however, the real question is it any easier for consumers to analyze a salary-deferral program? The answer is no.

The bottom line is the burden is on you. It's not fair, however, that $100,000 looks better in your pocket and that's what the focus should be. Good luck.

Oakland County launches online business directory

Oakland County businesses can become part of a free online registry to build their business locally while securing opportunities with some of Michigan's largest companies.

Oakland Business Connect is available to any of the county's 42,000 businesses, Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson said.

"We want Oakland County companies to be the first choice for other Oakland County companies looking for goods or services," Patterson said. "Growing businesses here means a stronger economy and more jobs."

By signing up locally, businesses can have access to the full range of services offered through the Oakland County One Stop Shop Business Center, including one-on-one confidential business counseling, access to workshops and seminars, custom mapping and access to financial counseling and capital. Retail, commercial and service industries would all benefit from registering.

"The whole point is for Oakland County businesses to get access to other Oakland County businesses," said Irene Spanos, the county's director of economic development and community affairs. "With over 42,000 businesses in the county, that's a lot of opportunity."

Businesses can register at OaklandBusinessConnect.com.

TALES FROM FORD MOTOR CO.

Hills author provides inside perspective

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

If you want a peek into the workings of the Ford Motor Co., just ask O.J. Nori of Farmington Hills, who published his first book on the automotive giant in 2007 and has a second book in the works. “What we have in this book is a true and factual portrayal from personal memory, spanning a period of greater than five decades,” the 90-year-old wrote in the preface of the first book, FORD — An Era Remembered.

The retired Ford employee takes the reader from his Detroit experiences during the Great Depression through the Lee Iacocca days and the start of mechanized processing. The first chapter, “Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?” documents the desire and demand in Detroit for jobs with the automaker, as well as how Detroiters lived during an economic depression that left families unemployed, without housing and hungry. “There were a lot of long lines of people looking for employment,” Nori said.

Throughout the Great Depression, Nori’s dad did odd jobs when he could find them. His grandfather, with whom Nori spent a lot of his time, was an out-of-work carpenter.

He recalls riding a streetcar — a 6-cent fare — with his grandfather, looking for work. But they had plenty of fun, too. “We would go to the moving pictures downtown,” Nori said, adding they each had a home-made sandwich wrapped in newspaper for their daily journeys.

When Nori’s grandfather stopped at businesses looking for work or especially when they stopped by Ford, the young boy was told to stand a bit away from the lines. Sometimes there were arguments and fists. Mostly, there was hunger and desperation.

“I remember men asking if they could have a nickel or an apple,” Nori said.

Finally, Nori’s family moved from Detroit to Dearborn. Bank rules in those days allowed an increase in the family’s payments for the house. But as a resident of Dearborn, Nori’s dad had a greater chance of being recalled to his Ford job.

Second book

While still promoting the first book, Nori is compiling his second that does not yet have a title. The efforts are family affairs. His daughter Terri types and edits, while his wife Marge helped get the first one published. That first effort left the family with a $5,000 loss and no book when the publishing company surprisingly closed its doors. “We kept calling them. Nobody would answer,” Marge Nori said.

When Nori finally went to the publishing company, he was shocked by the empty offices. “All of my papers were scattered all over,” he said.

The book was finally published, but the new company didn’t work in distribution. The family had 200 copies made, which they give away instead of selling.

The first book and the second one in the works is a labor of love for the company that became a significant part of Nori’s life. To this day, the Nori immediate and extended family are asked to drive Ford autos. “We can’t drive anything else,” said his daughter Terri Bresso, also of Farmington Hills.

In the first few chapters of the first book, Nori sets the stage for his eventual employment at Ford, which was a little iffy at first because he didn’t have a birth certificate with an embossed seal of the state of Pennsylvania, where he was born. He traveled back to his birth state, got what he needed and began working for Ford in the employment office, a position that eventually led to labor relations as his career grew.

Nori knew he would enter the armed services and wanted a good job to which he could return. He had taken commercial courses and worked for Detroit Edison. Interestingly, however, Ford was the only company that would hire a 17-year-old. He started his initial career working in employee insurance.

He then joined the U.S. Army for three years, serving at the 5th Service Command Headquarters in Birmingham, Ala. While there, he worked in processing and, by 1946, typed his own discharge papers.

Inner workings

The book literally throws the reader into the inner workings of Ford. But it also turns a spotlight on conversations and experiences with a host of well-known Ford Motor executives, including Henry Ford himself. Nori giggles a bit remembering that lots of folks thought he looked a bit like Ford.

Eventually, Nori was reassigned from his work in getting foreigners registered to work to the Ford parts division, where he was called on to interpret and work with labor contracts. “A lot of different things were happening,” he said. “I lived through it all.”

Nori also takes the time to include some fun moments, including with Jesse Owens, the four-time Olympic field and track gold medal winner.

While working out at Ford’s aircraft plant, Nori and Owens charged employees $3 to run against the star athlete. Owens got $2 and Nori $1. “They (employees) were so proud that they raced with Jesse Owens,” Nori said.

He also met football star Jim Thorpe, professional baseball player and manager Mickey Cochrane and even Elvis Presley. “I didn’t know Elvis Presley from a load of hay,” Nori said.

But while Nori was in Memphis, he saw a man walk into the Ford lobby. No one was waiting on him, so Nori asked him how he could help. “He wanted to buy two white Lincolns,” Nori said. No one could, however, miss watching all the young women come out of offices when they heard Elvis was in the building. “He was very nice. He was a gentleman.”

Nori also recalls for readers what happened inside Ford Motor when Henry Ford died.

“There was a lot of concern over who would take over when Ford died. His wife insisted it would be young Henry,” Nori said.

INDOMITABLE SPIRIT

Local family battling emotions, cost of living with muscular disease

By Brad Kadrich
Staff Writer

Erinne Williams and Kevin Yopek of Canton have the usual sibling relationship.

She learned her love of hockey from him and he taught her how to play video games. Now, according to Erinne, she “kicks his butt” at them.

There’s a sibling rivalry tinged with a touch of competitiveness surrounded by a love of family that’s normal in most relationships.

But their relationship is not a normal one, because very little about Erinne Williams is normal. While Kevin can play his hockey on skates in full pads zooming across the ice, Erinne’s version of hockey – and she’s a huge fan – is on wheels.

That’s because Erinne, struck young by a strain of muscular dystrophy called spinal muscular atrophy, has been confined to a wheelchair much of her life. The disease, which her family likens to amyotrophic lateral sclerosis but in children, has altered the lives of Erinne and her family in ways no family should bear.

Blending in

“I want to be a regular teenager, but I just can’t,” Erinne said, her voice hushed and raspy from a tracheostomy tube through which she has to breathe much of the time. “I feel a little like an outsider. I try to blend in as much as possible.”

Blending in, particularly at school, is tough enough. It’s a little more difficult when you travel with your own nurse and service dog (Latte, provided by Canine Assistants). It’s a battle Erinne, now a senior at Plymouth High School, has been fighting most of her life.

When she was born in 1997, Erinne “seemed perfectly healthy,” according to her mom Suzanne and that was the expectation. Considered an older mother at 36, Suzanne Williams had genetic testing done and everything came back normal. But when Erinne was about 7 months old, she hadn’t yet mastered gross motor milestones, like pulling up to standing and cruising along furniture, and she started losing the ones she had mastered – crawling normally and sitting up.

A worried mother, Suzanne started having her daughter tested, but the tests didn’t tell her much. Some doctors told her she was “expecting too much” and measuring her too closely against her siblings, Claire and Kevin, who had both learned to walk at a young age.

Wrong solution

Three doctors came back with the same diagnosis: A tumor on the spine. But Suzanne wasn’t buying it.

“It didn’t sit well with me, so we kept pursuing it,” Suzanne said of the tumor diagnosis. “There were clues to me that something was wrong. It just didn’t feel right.”

She took Erinne to see Dr. Michael Nigro, the doctor who runs the MDA program at Children’s Hospital. His diagnosis – spinal muscular atrophy – came almost immediately.

“I was numb,” Suzanne said. “I had no idea what SMA was and what her prognosis was.”

Suzanne Williams helps daughter Erinne Williams with her morning routine.

Turns out the prognosis wasn’t good. Doctors didn’t figure Erinne would make it to her eighth birthday and Suzanne was encouraged to just take her home and “love her for however long I would have her.”

So much for doctors and their predictions. Erinne celebrated her 17th birthday in May, though it certainly hasn’t been an easy road. She’s had pneumonia 21 times, 14 surgeries and 25 hospitalizations. She spent summer 2001 on life support due to unforeseen post-op complications and was not expected to survive. She was hospitalized for 101 days and spent 85 of those on a ventilator.

“She was just 4 years old. I was told that I needed to accept reality and that my daughter was never going to come back as the child she once was,” Suzanne wrote in her blog. “I was told to let her go. But I couldn’t – I knew it wasn’t her time.”

Ozzie fan

And it wasn’t. Erinne picked up Kevin’s love of hockey and is a huge Detroit Red Wings fan who asks her mother frequently to drive past the Plymouth home of retired goalkeeper Chris Osgood, her “favorite person in the entire world.” (According to Suzanne, “Ozzie” was Erinne’s first word after “mama” and “da-da.”)

She’s a defenseman, one of just four girls in her 50-player wheelchair hockey league (she was also the only girl chosen for an elite team). She now beats Kevin in video games to the point where “he hits the reset button” when he begins to lose, according to Erinne (it’s a charge at which Kevin only smiles). She’s fully integrated at school, where Plymouth High School staff and students accept her as a friend.

But she’ll never drive – “I really want my driver’s license, but it’s not going to happen,” Erinne said – and there are days when she can’t breathe on her own or feed herself. There are also days when she can and Suzanne loves those days.

“The days she can feed herself breakfast are good days, because there are days she can’t,” Suzanne said. “The days she can sit in her chair are a blessing, because there are days she can’t even get out of bed.”

Good and bad

Those are the days that are particularly hard on Suzanne, although none is easy anymore. A former director of a child care center for Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn with a degree in elementary education and early childhood development, Suzanne had to give up her job to take on the 24-hour-a-day care of her daughter (though she gets a nurse for 16 hours).

The physical strain of lifting and caring for her daughter has taken a toll on Suzanne’s body. She has three bulging discs in her back and suffers from spinal stenosis. While physically she’s a candidate for surgery, Suzanne won’t have it, because it would force her to change the way she takes care of her daughter.

But it has forced her to stop working and money is becoming a big issue. Erinne and Suzanne both get Social Security disability money and Erinne gets “a little bit of child support,” but income is at a premium these days.

“We are bare-bones,” Suzanne said. “There’s no room for extras.”

“Extras” don’t even figure into the equation. Taking care of Erinne is not only a physical battle, it’s a financial struggle, as well. Insurance doesn’t cover much of her care; for instance, the feeding tubes she uses cost about $200 a month. That’s just one example of an out-of-pocket expense.

Most of the machinery that dominates Erinne’s existence is powered by electricity, so Suzanne’s utility costs are high. The conversion van necessary to accommodate her wheelchair guzzles gas. Her medications are costly.

Helping out

Beverly Wheeler is a friend who’s trying to help with all of that. Wheeler, a Canton resident who met Suzanne six months ago through her daughter Sydney

Once Erinne is secure in her chair, she guides the chair, backward, through the hall to the living room.

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

(Sydney and Erinne are friends), noticed there was no curtain in the doorway leading to the hallway from the living room to Erinne’s bedroom.

So Wheeler made one. Since then, Wheeler has been a fixture in the Williams home, helping Suzanne help Erinne. She has seen the toll it has taken on Suzanne.

“I kept seeing more and more need and I have the background to help,” said Wheeler, a retired paramedic. “I think Suzanne needs my help more than Erinne does. Erinne gets help from elsewhere; Suzanne’s help comes from me.”

Wheeler’s daughter doesn’t have the limitations Erinne faces and can do more things. Wheeler said she sometimes feels a little guilty telling Suzanne about Sydney’s exploits, knowing Erinne won’t ever do those same things.

“Sometimes I feel I shouldn’t tell Suzanne what Sydney is doing, because her child can’t,” Wheeler said. “It makes me feel bad to share with my closest friend the things I can do, because her kid can’t.”

Suzanne, of course, pooch-poochs Wheeler’s concerns, because self-pity has never entered into the equation.

“One thing I’ve never done is ask God, ‘Why me?’” Suzanne said. “Erinne is a gift. I know she’s not going to be here forever, so every day is a gift. She has affected my life more than any other

HELPING ERINNE

The cost in both human and financial terms of caring for a daughter with spinal muscular atrophy is high for Suzanne Williams, a single mother taking care of her 17-year-old daughter.

Some examples of donations that would help include a full house, self-starting generator to help recharge the battery backup for the host of machines that dominate her daily life; hotel gift cards, because the home frequently loses power and the family is forced to retreat to a hotel; contractor time and home repairs, grass and snow removal and wheelchair ramp maintenance; help with utility costs; gas cards; and gift cards to places such as CVS, Target, Meijer, Costco, Vitamin Shoppe, etc.

said. “SMA has given me a lot of perspective on the things in life that are taken for granted.”

It’s the kind of attitude her brother admires. Kevin, now 23, said he loves how his sister takes every day and makes it the “best it can possibly be.”

Suzanne knows she’s going to lose Erinne and faces the fact head-on. She’s done the unthinkable things parents with terminally ill children have to do, like planning for the end. But that doesn’t mean she’s not having trouble facing it.

“In my mind, I’ve planned her funeral, but I just can’t imagine going through that,” Suzanne said. “I’m just trying to be there for her every day. I can’t imagine what my life is going to be like without her.”

OUR VIEWS

Remember the price we paid for freedom on 9/11

Thirteen years ago today, our lives changed forever.

Up until Sept. 11, 2001, we believed we were safe and secure from terrorism. That happened in other parts of the world, not the United States of America. Yes, Americans had been lost in terrorist attacks in the air, on land and at sea in places like Lebanon, Germany, Italy, Scotland, Kenya and Tanzania, but it was nothing like the losses experienced on 9/11.

We stood and watched as the tragedy unfolded. Many of us, after hearing that a plane had crashed into the North Tower of the World Trade Center, stood in front of televisions and watched in horror as the second one slammed into the South Tower. Our sense of security was further shattered when a third plane plowed into the Pentagon and yet another crashed in a field in Shansville, Pa.

The tragedy became our life 24/7 for more than a week. Within hours of the attack, we knew who the terrorists were and how it had happened. The photo of a New York City firefighter racing up the stairs of the North Tower as people fled the horror became the poster child of our new heroes, while the photo of Mohamed Atta became the face of terrorism.

It was the largest loss of life on U.S. soil since Pearl Harbor in 1941. It became our new Day in Infamy and a rallying point for patriotism. Firefighters raised the American flag over the rubble of the World Trade Center like the Marines over Iwo Jima in 1945. And just like FDR, George W. Bush addressed the nation and assured us that the culprits would be caught and punished and that we would go to the ends of the earth to stamp out terror.

That day in September, we learned a lot about ourselves and a lot about the world around us. After the Vietnam War, it took years for many to reclaim the right to wave our flag and be proud to be American. Thirteen years ago, we stood together and collectively waved our flag, sending a message to the world that even in the face of great tragedy, this is America and it remains the land of the free.

In 2001, President Bush had warned that the War on Terror would not be won in a day, a month or a year and it would not end until terrorism was eradicated. He was right. It took almost 10 years to hunt down and kill bin Laden, but others have stepped in to take his place. The War on Terror is like fighting the mythical Hydra. Each head cut off is replaced by two more. The names and faces of our enemies have changed over the years, but their determination to impose their twisted beliefs on others remains. We continue to fight the Taliban in Afghanistan and now face the challenge of ISIS, successor to Al-Qaeda, in Iraq.

In the years immediately following 9/11, we gathered annually to remember the tragedy and honor the dead. But as time goes by, the remembrances have dwindled. We have begun to slip back into our old ways, our old comfort zone. Our support for the War on Terror has declined. Life goes on.

We were committed then to stamping out terror, and we need to continue to be committed. Any weakness we show will give our enemies a new foothold, a new opportunity to inflict pain on us. On this Sept. 11, we need to once again acknowledge the sacrifices that have been made.

Firefighters, police officers and everyday people lost their lives that day and many thousands of our soldiers have been killed or injured since in the War on Terror. We can't return to our peaceful past, nor can we ignore the violent present. We know where we are going, and the road we travel on today was paved by the tragedy of 9/11.

Sometime today, pause for a moment to reflect on 9/11. Say a prayer for those who died and a prayer for those who allow us to remain free. And remember, we still are the land of the free and the home of the brave. No one can take that from us. No one.

Charters aren't true competitors

After reading Mr. Nowka's comments ("Charters create competition," Sept. 4) on charter schools creating competition, I had to respond.

In order to have "true competition," Charter Schools must be required by law to abide by the same rules that public schools are required to follow. So far they haven't. They must take all students that apply, regardless of special needs, behavior problems, and income of their parents.

Charter and religious schools tend to want to pick and choose their students. When you control your raw materials, then you control the quality of your final product. This is how the business world works and it can be applied to schools. If you take only the best students, then you will look very successful.

I want to thank the public schools for taking all the students and working hard to meet their needs. The top performance tiered schools that you are referring to are expensive charter schools, catering to the wealthy and picking and choosing their students. Also, as a taxpayer, I have rights, too. I don't want any of my tax dollars to go to a charter school business or a religious school.

Wealth disparity

While reading the two daily newspapers this past Labor Day, I noticed several stories and opinions about Rick Snyder's signing of the "Right to Work" (for less) bill passed by Republican lawmakers.

Naturally, the billionaire-backed Americans for Prosperity (for the rich) and the Mackinac Center, along with labor malcontents, highly laud Snyder's action.

I won't bother to comment on the first two organizations as they are obviously doing their masters' bidding.

I formerly served on the executive board of a local union. I have seen members who refused to support the union and only paid dues because they were required to. I have also seen these same people gladly accept the benefits gained by the negotiating committee. And, on many occasions, they were the first to run to the union for help when they got their teat caught in a wringer.

A separate, related article in The Detroit News tells of a new study that shows 40-percent of Michigan's working households are unable to meet basic survival needs. This should come as no surprise. As union membership has dropped, so has the lot of the middle class it created.

The Koch brothers, et al, sent their bought-and-paid-for politicians to Lansing to, among other things, weaken both public and private unions. And that is exactly what they have done.

The great wealth disparity in this state will continue as long as the "new" Republican party wears the crown in Lansing.

James Huddleston
Canton

Support for Schauer

Democrat Mark Schauer is not an unrecognizable name in Michigan politics as was Republican Rick Snyder, the business man who came from nowhere to become Governor of Michigan. Schauer has worked to improve schools in the state legislature and has stood up to special interests in Washington, D.C. He helped rescue Michigan's auto industry, worked to invest in public education, has fought to protect Social Security and Medicare.

As Governor, he and Lieutenant Governor Lisa Brown will continue to fight for Michigan workers, families and businesses. They will reverse the devastating cuts to our schools and colleges. They will repeal the Snyder pension tax and defend hard-earned pensions.

Vote Nov. 4 to protect the middle class and build an economy that works for everyone, not just the special interests.

Finding local news easier than ever at new Hometownlife.com

Radical change is not easily embraced so there was a bit of trepidation when the switch was flipped to launch our new website, Hometownlife.com last week. Would readers love it, despise it or even worse, be ambivalent.

The good news is that the launch definitely evoked a response. "The website and app look great ... Congratulations!" said one reader.

I'm grateful to say that reaction has been overwhelmingly positive thus far. Readers have discovered our apps for iPad, iPhone and Android and already 25 percent of our online traffic is from mobile users – a sure sign that the apps have hit the mark.

Our new homepage is bold, there is no doubt. Photos are vivid, headlines snappy and content is displayed in a fashion that is entirely new. For every 100 people who like it, there are a few who prefer the way it was.

"The new website is horrible," said another reader, while offering up her nephew to build us a new site.

I suppose you can't make everyone happy but I'm going to try anyway.

Readers who have complained have said finding the local news that matters to them isn't so easy these days. That sentiment is understandable given the overhaul of Hometownlife.com. But our readers should know this – there is still a dedicated home on our website for local news pertinent to every community O & E Media serves. That hasn't changed at all. In fact, for the first time there is a Community News module right on the homepage to make finding local content even easier. All you have to do is click on the name of the city that corresponds to the publication you want to read and it will take you to news from only that town.

If you want to read the South Oakland Eccentric, there is a page for that at <http://www.hometownlife.com/news/eccentric-south-oakland/>. If you want to find the Livonia Observer, the link is <http://www.hometownlife.com/news/observer-livonia/>. Links for all of our other publications are listed at the end of this column.

Bookmark the link that is important to you and all the local news you expect to find at Hometownlife.com will only be a click away with no need to navigate further. And that local front now includes everything in one place. News from city hall, local schools, sports, features and yes, police briefs about your hometown are right there and easy to find.

One fact is clear from the launch of our new website – our readers value local news and want to read about the people, places and businesses that make their hometowns unique. If you have an idea for a story, photo gallery or simply want help finding what you are looking for online, feel free to give me a call. My number is 313-595-1007 and I actually pick it up and enjoy talking to readers.

Northville grad makes it in Hollywood

Area native stars in new Nickelodeon television series

By Lonnie Huhman
Staff Writer

Northville native Cooper Barnes has made it in Hollywood. The 1997 Northville High School graduate will star in the new Nickelodeon series Henry Danger, which premieres on television this Saturday.

Barnes now goes by his middle name Cooper, so many will remember him as Nick from his younger years. This new opportunity is a culmination of a lot of hard work that started in Northville many years ago, he says.

It was a small role in a play at Mill Race Village that inspired Barnes to pursue acting. He was 8 at the time, but getting a positive reaction from the crowd stuck with him, he recalled.

"Afterward I said to myself, 'I want to do that more,'" he said.

And he did, both in school and on his own with friends doing their public access television show. After college, he moved to Los Angeles to pursue acting as a career. For 11 years now, he has worked in small parts and partnered up with friends to form a comedy sketch group. Eventually, he got a role in a show produced by Nickelodeon executive producer Dan Schneider.

That helped lead to his current starring opportunity.

Henry Danger is described as a multi-camera, scripted half-hour series created and executive produced by celebrated hit maker Schneider (iCarly, Drake & Josh) and Dana Olsen (George of the Jungle, Inspector Gadget). The half-hour sitcom follows the adventure of Henry Hart, who gets selected by the legendary superhero Captain Man (Barnes) to be his new sidekick, Kid Danger.

While keeping his new identity a secret from his friends and family, Henry must navigate a double life balancing the challenges of eighth grade with the crazy adventures of a crime fighter.

"This is really a new look at the superhero story from the sidekick's perspective," Barnes said. "There has been nothing like it, I think, and it should be a great show."

Viewers can expect some creative special effects.

The series will air on Nickelodeon at 8 p.m. each Saturday beginning Sept. 13.

The reception served as a prelude to the 10th anniversary Polish the Jewel Belle Isle Legacy Luncheon. Slated for 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 17, at the Belle Isle Casino, this milestone fundraising event, benefiting the Belle Isle Conservancy, will feature vendors from across metro Detroit as part of a silent auction. Each year, Polish the Jewel brings together Belle Isle's most prominent supporters, dressed in their finest shoes and chapeaus for an afternoon of networking in support of Belle Isle Park. Michigan's First Lady, Sue Snyder, will serve as this year's honorary chair. Tickets for the luncheon are available online at www.belleisleconservancy.com.

COMMUNITY BRIEFS

Free Fall Fair

MSU Tollgate Educational Center Farm will host a Free Fall Fair from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20, at 28115 Meadowbrook Road in Novi. Enjoy children's crafts and interactive events; bees, bugs, birds, bats and butterflies; catch a fish; climb onto a fire truck; go for a hayride; decorate a pumpkin; and enjoy live entertainment and free refreshments.

For more information, visit www.tollgate.msu.edu or call 248-347-3860.

Fall for Novi

Learn all that Novi has to offer in one convenient location at Fall for Novi, as city departments, Novi Public Library, local schools, health care providers and civic groups will be at the Civic Center (45175 10 Mile, between Novi and Taft roads) sharing valuable information, eco-friendly tips, health screenings and more from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20.

A few vendor booth spaces remain available for local health care providers. If you are interested in participating in this large community event, contact Sandy Fisher at 248-347-0421 or sfisher@cityofnovi.org.

For more information, visit www.cityofnovi.org or contact Stephanie Schuetzler at 248-347-0416 or sschuetzler@cityofnovi.org.

Novi Travel Fair

City of Novi Older Adult Services invites community members to discover travel opportunities near and far at the Novi Travel Fair at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18 at the Novi Civic Center, 45175 10 Mile.

Attendees will engage with local travel agencies as they showcase their sensational trips and answer questions about the many group travel day and extended trip offers.

Group travel is a great way to get out and see the sights without the challenges of going alone. The fair will highlight trips in a variety of price ranges. The Travel Fair is free to attend and door prizes and refreshments will be provided.

The Novi Older Adult Services hosts three travel fairs annually, including Jan. 29 and April 16, 2015. New trips are added year-round and information is available at the Novi Civic Center. Trip announcements are also made on the city of Novi Boomers & Beyond Facebook page.

To learn more, visit www.cityofnovi.org or call 248-347-0414.

Pistol safety class

The Novi Police Department will be offering a civilian pistol safety class from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 13, at the Novi Police Department Training Center (45125 10 Mile Road). The course fulfills both the classroom and shooting requirements to obtain a Michigan Concealed Pistol License.

Registration forms are available online at cityofnovi.org and at the Novi Police Department. Completed registration forms and the $150 course fee (cash or money order) may be returned to the Novi Police Department. Class size is limited, and all participants are subject to a criminal background check. Participants must be 21 years old, but do not have to be a Novi resident to attend.

'Rumpelstiltskin' live on stage

The Marquis Theatre, located in downtown Northville, is presenting "Rumpelstiltskin" live on stage through Sept. 21. The classic tale of a wily gnome who magically turns straw into gold for a very high price will be performed at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 13 and 20, and Sunday, Sept. 14 and 21. Tickets for all performances are $9 each. Management requests no children under the age of 3. Group rates and reserved seating for groups of 20 or more are available. Birthday parties and Scout days are available. For more information, call the Marquis Theatre at 248-349-8110 or visit www.northvillemarquistheatre.com or facebook.com/MarquisTheatreNorthvilleMi.

Art House is planned for 7-10 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18, at the Northville Winery & Brewing Co. Tickets are $35 each and include wine and cider tastings, hors d'oeuvres and the chance to bid on artist "altered" chairs.

For more information or to purchase tickets, visit www.northvillearthouse.org/events.

Oh, My Aching Back

Saint Joseph Mercy Health System, IHA and Anesthesia Associates of Ann Arbor have partnered to hold a pain symposium – Oh, My Aching Back – from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28 at Novi's Suburban Collection Showplace to address how to manage chronic back pain.

Former Red Wings player Chris Chelios will talk about the challenges he faces as an athlete both on and off the ice. Health reporter Lila Lazarus will emcee the event, which will feature presentations by a panel of expert physicians on how to work with your healthcare provider, rehabilitation methods, anesthesiology pain management and integrative medicine options such as acupuncture. Vendor and "Ask the Experts" tables will be available after the presentations and Chelios will be on hand for a limited time for autographs.

Cost is $15 per person and includes a boxed lunch. Pre-registration is required. Call 800-231-2211 or register online at www.stjoeshealth.org/pain.

Veterans Appreciation Night

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 of Northville would like to invite all current active duty service members and former service members to join it for two free drinks and appetizers 7-9 p.m. Sept. 19. All veterans are welcome; no membership is required. If you served in the U.S. Armed Forces, you are welcome to come celebrate freedom. VFW Post 4012 is located at 430 S. Main Street.

On the Road

Mark your calendars for Tuesday, Oct. 14, and join tour guides Kathy Crawford and Margi Karp-Opperer for a trip to The Player's Club of Detroit (Michigan historic site) and Cliff Bell's (historic supper club). The day will begin at 8:45 a.m. from the Novi Civic Center and continues until approximately 5

MUSTANGS END ON A HIGH NOTE

Zimbo, Cunningham make clutch plays to burn Vikings

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Northville wide receiver Terrell Cunningham admitted he didn't get enough sleep Friday night after the Mustangs' football game at Walled Lake Central was suspended because of thunderstorms and lightning.

Despite a 9 a.m. start Saturday, Cunningham appeared wide awake when he made the pivotal play of the game late in the third quarter in Northville's 43-28 victory over the Vikings.

With the score tied 22-22 and the Mustangs faced with a third-and-eight situation on their own 27-yard line, quarterback Justin Zimbo stepped up in the pocket and fired a pass over the middle and into a crowd of Central defenders.

Northville's 6-foot-7 senior tight end Ryan Roberts, the intended receiver, was unable to haul it in, but the ball grazed off his finger tips and into the awaiting hands of Cunningham, who got behind the Central secondary. The sophomore caught it in stride around the Vikings' 45 and wound up racing 63 yards for what proved to be the go-ahead touchdown.

The 5-8, 155-pound Cunningham had seen a similar play develop.

"I saw it earlier, it happened earlier on the 'will' (line-backer)," he said of Central's defensive coverage scheme. "I just saw it again and I took the shot ... and I got it. I was pretty surprised."

The state-ranked Mustangs (2-0) got a heroic effort from Zimbo. The 6-foot, 180-pound junior signal caller rushed for 208 yards on 22 carries, while hitting 10-of-13 passes for another 155 yards.

And it was his 44-yard TD run with 4:33 left in the game that sealed the victory.

"As the game went on, he got better and better," Northville coach Matt Ladach said of his quarterback. "We were real pleased with his play. We run a lot of counter-gap plays and we did that today. That was the play we had the most success on with Zimbo. Guys did a real good job."

With temperatures reaching 95 degrees just prior Friday's 7 p.m. game time, skies began to turn ominous. But

Henry shoots record 32 in dual win over S.L. East

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Katelyn Henry turned in a special round of golf Sept. 4 at The Links of Novi.

And it proved to be sweeter than the famous Oh, Henry candy bar as the Novi senior fired a 2-under par 32 to lead the Wildcats to a school-record 149-195 KLAA Central Division girls dual match win over host South Lyon East.

Henry's nine-hole round featured three birdies and only one bogey.

Meanwhile, Katelyn's younger sister Lauren, along with sophomore Alexa Hatz and junior Maya Grandstaff, each added 39 to eclipse the school record of 159 set in 2010.

The last time Katelyn Henry had played The Links of Novi was during her sophomore year.

"It was funny because that morning, my dad (Bob) was like joking around and he said, 'I think you're going to shoot 32 today, you're going to do great,'" Katelyn said. "And in the end, I ended up shooting that and that was funny. But, honestly, it was like any other day. I knew scores were going to be lower because the course is shorter."

Henry's short game was nothing short of magnificent.

"I had 12 putts, so I think that ended up helping me," she said. "I was hitting it pretty well, keep hitting it straight, not in any trouble, so that's always good."

Novi can't overcome early hole against Kettering, 42-29

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

It was an all-too-familiar script for the second consecutive week for the Novi football team.

The Wildcats, who fell behind 14-0 in the first quarter in a 42-29 season-opening loss to Brighton at home, fell victim to a two-touchdown hole once again en route to a 21-18 loss Saturday afternoon at Waterford Kettering. The game was postponed from Friday due to lightning and heavy rain.

Novi (0-2) pulled to within three points, 21-18, with only 4:32 remaining when quarterback Rohit Mogalayapalli threw a 21-yard TD pass to Jack Pinkerton to cap a 10-play, 83-yard drive.

After missing their second straight extra point, the Wildcats were unable to regain possession of the ball as Kettering (2-0) ran out the clock, marching 76 yards on 11 plays to end the game.

The Captains amassed 364 yards in total offense, with Austin Wood leading the way rushing for a game-best 189 yards on 21 carries to go along with one catch for 42 yards.

Wood, a 5-foot-9, 185-pound senior, was also the Captains' top tackler with eight solo and three assists as he helped limit Novi to 243 total yards.

After the Wildcats lost 33 yards following a bad punt snap over the head of Pinkerton that put the ball on the Novi 26, Kettering scored two plays later when quarterback Henry Mistrzak hit Danotiss Smith on a 18-yard TD pass with 7:25 left in the first quarter for a 6-0 lead. (The point-after kick failed).

The Captains then scored again with 15 seconds left in the same quarter on Smith's 11-yard TD run, capping a four-play, 60-yard drive that took just 1:41. Keiron Payne's two-point run made it 14-0.

Novi got on the board with 6:41 left in the second quarter on Emanuel Jackson's 41-yard TD run, but the two-point conversion play failed, leaving the score 14-6.

Kettering responded with another second-quarter TD, going 64 yards in seven plays, culminating in Payne's 1-yard TD run. Chandler Johnston's PAT with 3:03 to go in the half put the Captains ahead 21-6.

With 1:03 left in the third, Matt Sabo scored on an 18-yard run to cap a 10-play, 66-yard drive, but Mogalayapalli's two-point pass fell incomplete as the Wildcats trailed 21-12.

The Wildcats then forced Kettering to punt and got the ball back and scored to pull within three, but never got any closer.

Sabo was Novi's leading rusher with 99 yards on 20 carries, while Jackson added 59 on four attempts. Mogalayapalli was 14-of-19 passing for 144 yards, with Pinkerton and Devontez Jones his primary receivers with six catches apiece for 74 and 67 yards, respectively.

Defensively for Novi, Caleb Wright was the top tackler with seven solo and three assists, while Patrick Wojtylo added six solo and two assists.

Christian Durham was also in on six tackles.

course record-tying 5-under-par 67 during the final round of the inaugural Whistling Straits Intercollegiate in Sheboygan, Wis.

Buckley's final round propelled the freshman to claim medalist honors at the event with a three-round score of 216 (72-77-67).

Buckley, who qualified this summer for the Junior PGA Championship in Bryan, Texas, now shares the Irish Course record at Whistling Straits with Mike Frechette, who posted an identical round of 67 back in 2007. His mark is also the lowest for a Ramblers player since teammate Nick Dennis carded a 66 last season at Cleveland State Invitational.

"I'm absolutely thrilled for Garret," Loyola director of golf Kyle Stefan said. "To tie a course record speaks for itself and to get a win in his first start is a great accomplishment. Garret faced some adversity throughout the day and I think (assistant coach) Eric Ilic deserves credit for helping him progress through the round."

Try Tam's Tri

The third annual Try Tam's Tri, a 5K walk-run, 20K bike and nine holes of golf, will be Sunday, Sept. 28, at Hickory Creek Golf Course, 3625 Napier Road, Superior Township.

Check-in starts at 8 a.m., followed by the 5K run-walk at 9 a.m. You can participate all three, two or one event. The cost is $65 before Sunday, Sept. 21 or $75 through the day of the event.

Participation includes a free golf clinic at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 26, along with a gift pack and lunch the day of the event.

PREP FIELD HOCKEY

Novi squad is a contender again

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

If the early season returns are any indication, it should be another successful season for the Novi field hockey team.

The Wildcats posted an 8-3 record last year in Division 1 of the Michigan High School Field Hockey Association while outscoring their opponents 31-10. Novi, seeded fourth, reached the semifinals of the Division 1 tournament before losing 1-0 to eventual state champion Ann Arbor Huron.

As of Monday, Novi stands 2-0-2 in the division following a 2-2 draw against visiting Ann Arbor Skyline. Senior forwards Amanda Minnasale and Morgan Statetzny each scored a goal, while assists went to junior midfielder Willow Guenther and senior defender Natalie Trainor.

On Aug. 21, the Wildcats opened their season with a 5-0 win at division foe East Grand Rapids as Minnasale collected two goals and one assist, while Statetzny added a pair. Junior returnee Gina Salemi also notched a goal in the win, while junior goalie Katrina Kooman posted the shut-out.

On Aug. 25, Novi earned a 1-1 tie on the road against Division 1 runner-up Ann Arbor Pioneer as Salemi scored the Wildcats' lone goal from Minnasale.

The Wildcats then posted a 2-1 victory Aug. 28 at home against Bloomfield Hills Sacred Heart as Salemi and Statetzny each scored a tallied goal with Minnasale picking up an assist.

"So far, so good," Novi third-year coach Kevin Kilgore said. "Last two years we've been final four in the state and I don't see this year being anything really different. The girls coming back have been really committed to improving their skills individually and as a team. And once we kind of get going on all cylinders and trust each other on the field and really play our game, I think we'll right there at the end."

Novi lost 11 players to graduation and will certainly miss first team all-state players Megan Paul (Miami of Ohio) and Haley Notarantonio (UMass), along with second team choice Megan Murphy.

Also gone was honorable mention all-state selection Lizzy Malear, along with Kayla Burkhardt (Wittenberg University).

In addition to the return of Kooman, the Wildcats will be anchored on defense by seniors Alanna Clark (co-captain), Keri Masserant (co-captain) and Trainor.

Guenther returns in the midfield, with help provided by sophomore newcomers Shannon Murphy and Katie Fisher.

Minnasale, Statetzny and Salemi, along with sophomore Annie Fisher (Katie's twin sister), will provide the scoring punch up front.

"When we were looking at our roster for the year and the girls coming back, we really felt strong about our defense," said Kilgore, who is assisted on the bench by his wife Amy, who started the Novi program seven years ago. "Our goalie, Katrina Kooman, was a freshman on varsity and we have all seniors on the defensive line and we feel really good about that. And so we're just looking for kind of some stability or strength, somebody to really step up, through the midfield. We're constantly working together as a unit, game in and game out, to put a ton of pressure offensively on opposing teams."

"I'd say defensively we're pretty strong, but as a whole unit we're really strong and just offensively minded."

Whitmer's ground attack chews up CC defense

Shamrocks give up 470 yards in 44-27 loss

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Unable to stop the run for the second straight week, the Novi Detroit Catholic Central football team finds itself in a 0-2 hole to start the 2014 season.

The Shamrocks gave up 381 yards on the ground in a 44-27 setback at Toledo Whitmer in a game that was suspended near the end of the first half Friday night and completed Saturday afternoon.

It is Catholic Central's worst start since 1975, when it started the season 0-6 (the year before Tom Mach took over as CC's head coach).

CC's defense, which gave up 265 yards rushing in a season-opening 21-14 loss at Muskegon, had no answers for Whitmer's backfield combination of Malik Moore and Jamal Bell.

Moore rushed for 129 yards on 13 carries and three touchdowns, while Bell contributed 119 yards on 11 attempts and one TD.

Bell opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 47-yard TD run, but CC answered to make it 7-7 early in the second quarter on Alexander Bock's 5-yard scoring run (set up by Matthew Foreman's 26-yard kickoff return).

With 6:53 left in the second, Moore scored on a 12-yard TD run, but the two-point attempt failed. The Panthers scored again to make it 19-7 on Keenan Baker's 11-yard scoring run, but the extra point sailed wide.

Joe Fanning's 26-yard scoring toss to Cameron Hendershot with 2:11 remaining in the first half cut the deficit to 19-14 for CC (following Cole Gingell's second straight PAT).

The game was then halted by thunderstorms that ripped through the Toledo area.

The Shamrocks came back 18 hours later to take a 20-19 advantage when Blake Livingston, on his only carry of the game, scored on an 80-yard TD run with 3:58 to go in the third. (The point-after, however, missed.)

Whitmer (1-1) then took the lead for keeps, 25-20, with 1:09 left in the third when Zachary Smith hauled in a 36-yard TD pass from backup quarterback Shue Sanders. (The two-point-er failed.)

The Panthers tacked on two more TDs during the final quarter to put the game away as Moore scored on runs of 15 and 14 yards, respectively, with 8:38 and 4:08 remaining for a 37-20 advantage.

CC tallied its final TD with less than a minute left as Fanning connected with William Frush on a 47-yard pass. (Gingell converted the PAT.)

Whitmer outgained the Shamrocks in total offense, 470-389, and won the battle of first downs, 30-19.

Fanning was 14-of-26 for 202 yards and two interceptions. Bock, who sat out the opener with a hamstring injury, returned to the lineup to rush for 74 yards on 13 carries to go along with two interceptions.

Defensively for CC, Hendershot led the way with 16 tackles, including five solo and 11 assists. Tyler Laurentius added three solo tackles and seven assists, while Michael Harrington recovered a first-quarter Whitmer fumble.

BOYS SOCCER

Novi tames Lions on late goal, 2-1

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Novi found out Thursday night that nothing will come easy in the KLAA Central Division boys soccer race.

The Wildcats ran into a stubborn and determined South Lyon team at Meadows Stadium and couldn't obtain the game-winning goal until 12:34 was left, when senior forward Amissi Kajinake finally connected the dots after being set up by junior forward Eduardo DeOliveira.

With the 2-1 win, Novi improved to 2-0-1 overall and 2-0 in the KLAA Central, while South Lyon slipped to 2-2-3 and 0-2.

"I thought, first of all, South Lyon played very spirited," Novi coach Brian O'Leary said. "I scouted them and they looked way better tonight than when I scouted them. They actually played with a lot of energy. We knew what they were made of. We knew who their three best players were and they still hurt us.

"That number 10 (Gabriel Martinez), 12 (Michael Martinez) and 11 (Georgievski Hristijan) are all very good players. We knew that and we couldn't stop them. They gave us a hand full. They gave us a game tonight. Credit goes to them."

Novi wasted little time in getting on the board, scoring just 29 seconds into the match on Ryan Kobakof's goal from Tony Asimadu.

The Lions, however, answered quickly. With 32:37 left in the half, Michael Martinez found the back of the net off an assist from Erik Habkirk.

The score remained 1-1 through the rest of the half and O'Leary's talk at intermission struck a familiar chord.

"I thought very much like we panicked a little bit," he said. "We're tied and instead of trying to win in the framework of the teamwork, I'm going to try and win it by myself. It blew up in our face and we played worse. So the theme was, 'Don't panic, play as a team,' kind of stay together."

The Wildcats ramped up the pressure in the second half and finally broke the deadlock in the 77th minute.

"I was glad to see we scored that goal the way we did," O'Leary said. "I was fearing that one kid would be dribbling by four people and score and then reiterate that it was a good thing, but we did a real good job of stringing passes together from different locations on the field. And that was kind of what we talked about at halftime. You got to move the ball around and get it away from those real talented players they have. So I was glad to see we scored that way, but I don't think we played consistent enough that way, though."

South Lyon sophomore goalkeeper Jack Dalzochio found himself under siege from a wave of attacking Novi players.

"(Novi) came out ready to play that second half and it showed," South Lyon coach Brian Elliott said. "They're a solid team, well-coached, well-organized. I think we came out and pressure them as equally as they pressured us, but they had a couple of players, (Amissi Kajinake) and (Alan Rajkovic), that were real quick up top."

Novi outshot the Lions 16-6, including a 6-2 margin with shots on goal. The Wildcats also had nine corner kicks to South Lyon's two.

Meanwhile, the Wildcats used two goalkeepers, with Joey Carn going the first half followed by Tommy McMaster in the second half.

Stevenson pulls off 2-0 win against Northville

Shamrocks get past non-league foe, 1-0

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Livonia Stevenson made a pair of first-half goals stand up as the Spartans pulled off a 2-0 KLAA Central Division boys soccer victory Sept. 4 at Northville.

Stevenson, which improved to 4-1 overall and 1-1 in the division, got an own goal at the 35-minute mark of the first half when Brandon Eklund's free kick was headed in by a Northville defender.

Austin Rynicki then volleyed home a restart from Dominic Rea to make it a two-goal cushion just a minute before halftime.

Stevenson goalkeeper Turner Miller, making his first career starter, made five saves to earn his first shutout.

Alec Melucci had five saves for Northville (1-2-2, 1-1).

"It was a quality bounce back win for us on the road," Stevenson coach Ken Shingle-decker said. "Our back line and midfield really played well tonight. Turner stepped in and did a nice job in goal."

NORTHVILLE 0, PLYMOUTH 0: Manuel Kansey got his first start in goal Friday as the Mustangs (1-2-3) and host Wildcats (4-1-2) battled to a scoreless draw in a Kensington Conference crossover match that was called with 16 minutes remaining in the second half due to lightning.

"Manuel was a little nervous at the start, but he made a couple of nice saves and played well," Northville coach Henry Klimes said.

DETROIT CC 1, CLARKSTON 0: Junior Justin Murray's goal from senior Paul Wiedmaier with only 20 minutes left proved to be the difference Sept. 4 as Novi Detroit Catholic Central (4-1-1) turned back the host Wolves in a non-conference encounter.

Senior goalkeeper Peter Kirouac made three saves to post the shutout.

"I thought Clarkston defended very well. At the beginning, they controlled the midfield a little bit, so we got things under control and then we started to dominate," CC coach Gene Pulice said. "We possessed the ball, I would say, 85 percent of the second half and then finally we were able to cash in. We had four or five off the post or the crossbar, but we couldn't put the lime in the coconut. We finally capitalized on an error from them."

"Overall it was a well-played game by both squads. It was a well-fought battle."

"It was his first start. He played every minute of the game and did a fantastic job," Pulice said. "He came up big and won a lot of balls in the air with his head. And with the leadership of Champ Kozlowski and Chad Quick, with their communication, had a stellar game. Our goalkeeper Peter Kirouac had another stellar performance. He played an excellent game. He played the ball well in the air. It was World Cup."

LUTHERAN SOUTH 5, FRANKLIN ROAD 4: Sam Anderson scored a pair of goals, including the game-winner with only seven minutes remaining Sept. 4 as host Newport Franklin Road Christian rallied from second-half deficits of 3-1 and 4-2 to beat Novi Franklin Road Christian (1-2, 1-1) in a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division match.

"We had four or five off the post or the crossbar, but we couldn't put the lime in the coconut. We finally capitalized on an error from them."

GENE PULICE

Catholic Central soccer coach

Christian Lucas also added two goals, while Luke Konkel had the other for the Saints, who trailed 2-1 at halftime.

Micha Charlick scored twice, while Tanner Spires and Gavis Harris each tallied a goal for the Warriors.

"We had opportunities, but we got tired," Franklin Road coach Paul Coombs said. "It was very muggy."

NOVI 5, STEVENSON 2: Novi demonstrated quick-strike capabilities Sept. 2 as the host Wildcats (1-0-1, 1-0) struck for four second-half goals en route to a KLAA Central Division victory over Livonia Stevenson (3-1, 0-1).

The Wildcats broke a 1-1 halftime deadlock as Kent Maidens scored twice, including the go-ahead goal on a one-timer at the 44-minute mark. The play was started on Connor O'Leary's long throw-in that was flicked onto the foot of Matt Netter.

Just three minutes later, Netter headed home a free kick from Jake Geary for a 3-1 Novi advantage, followed by Maidens' second of the night on a diving header off a Tony Asimadu cross in the 52nd minute.

Stevenson's Brandon Navarro scored on a penalty kick to cut the deficit to 4-2 in the 65th minute, but Novi's Ryan Kobakof put it away on a direct free kick from the top of the 18-yard box with only 15 minutes remaining.

Stevenson jumped out to a 1-0 lead at the four-minute mark of the first half on Dominic Rea's goal off a corner kick from Sam Landefeld.

Novi scored in the 22nd minute after Asimadu beat a Spartans defender to the end line and made a pass to a charging Eduardo DeOliveira, who drew the keeper out and slotted the ball into the open net on a one-timer.

"I thought our three forwards - Asimadu, Amissi Kajinake and Alan Rajkovic - did a great job all night long of putting pressure on Stevenson's back line," Novi coach Brian O'Leary said.

Novi had the edges in total shots (10-7), shots on goal (7-6) and corner kicks (3-2).

Tommy McMasters and Joey Carn combined for six saves for Novi, while Stevenson used three keepers, starting with Austin Kaczmarek followed by Turner Miller and Adam Bixby.

NORTHVILLE 7, S. EAST 0: Senior Kyle Johnson notched a goal and two assists Sept. 2 as the Mustangs (1-1-2, 1-0) opened KLAA Central Division play with a victory at South Lyon East (0-3, 0-1).

Senior Dan Baldwin also scored twice for the Mustangs, who led 4-0 at halftime. Junior Troy Borawski and senior Manuel Kansy also added a goal each.

Senior goalkeeper Alec Melucci had to make just one save to notch his first victory.

FRANKLIN ROAD 5, LUTHERAN WEST-LAND 2: Gavin Harris had a goal and two assists Sept. 2 as Novi Franklin Road Christian (1-1, 1-0) opened Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division play with a win at Lutheran High Westland (0-1-1, 0-1-1).

Micha Charlick also collected a goal and assist, while Katie Larabell and Tanner Spires rounded out the goal scorers for the Warriors, who led 3-0 at halftime.

"We controlled the game the first 30 minutes, then hit and wall and ran out of gas," Franklin Road coach Paul Coombs said. "We only have 14 players. But I'm very excited about today. If we had more depth, we could have had the shutout. But we gutted it out and were determined to win."

Goalkeeper Daniel Weaver made seven saves for the Warriors.

"Paul Alex, our sweeper, was all over the place today," Coombs said. "He and Micha (Charlick) were the workhorses. They wouldn't let them come down the middle of the field easily."

MUSTANGS

not before Central quarterback Nick Krumm, who finished the game with a team-best 160 yards on 20 carries, scored on a 45-yard TD run with 8:06 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 advantage (following Ben Prestel's PAT).

Northville ran just five plays on its first possession before officials sent both teams inside the school. They waited it out until 8:30 p.m. before sending the teams and fans home for the night.

"It's tough," Cunningham said. "We're in the locker room. We sitting in there and it's hot. Everyone is sweaty."

Things, however, cooled off considerably when the game resumed Saturday morning as Northville took the ball at the Central 48 on a second-and-eight with 6:00 left in the first quarter.

The Mustangs, however, got stuffed on fourth-and-one, but evened the score at 7-7 thanks to Zimbo's 45-yard keeper that resulted in a TD with 1:53 left in the first.

With 4:00 left the second quarter, Zimbo hit Kevin Bak on a 9-yard TD and Nathan Lane converted the PAT to make it 14-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

Northville's Jack Ernst then recovered a fumble at the Vikings' 42. Five plays later, Zimbo connected on two straight passes, of 14 and 23 yards, both to Cunningham, which resulted in a 20-7 advantage with only 8.5 seconds remaining in the half.

After Central jumped off-side on the extra-point attempt, Northville elected to go for the two-point conversion and P.J. Schnepf's run made it 22-7 at intermission.

The Vikings regrouped at halftime and put two third-quarter scores on the board as Ethan Rodriguez scored on a 12-yard TD run, as well as the two-point conversion, followed by Parker Krupic's 81-yard TD run.

Then came the fateful tipped TD pass to Cunningham.

"I told coach (Joe) Rohrhoff that was a great play call," Ladach said, joking, referring to his offensive coordinator.

JOHN HEIDER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Northville junior quarterback Justin Zimbo (2) accounted for 363 yards in total offense.

"Sometimes in games you got to have luck on your side. In that case, the good Lord was looking down on us and we were the benefactors of that play."

Despite the sudden turn of events, Central refused to fold, getting a 3-yard TD run from Krumm, the 5-11, 190-pound senior. And after the Mustangs jumped offside, Central coach Bob Meyer elected to go for the two-pointer to take the lead.

But the Mustangs' interior defensive line held as Krumm was stopped just short of the goal line.

Clinging to a one-point lead, 29-28, Northville put together a 13-play, 84-yard drive, capped by junior fullback Alec Cop-pock's 2-yard TD run with only 7:10 left for a 38-26 advantage.

The Mustangs' defense then held and Zimbo put the game out of reach with a 44-yard touchdown run with only 4:33 remaining.

In the final quarter, Zimbo was at his best with 10 carries for 114 yards while hitting both passes for 12 more.

"That's probably the best team in the KLAA," Central coach Bob Meyer said of the Mustangs. "And we can't make the mental mistakes that we made and hope to stay in the game. The tipped pass ... it's going to happen. That's something we should still be able to overcome. But the turnovers, the penalties, the mental breakdowns ... we just can't have that and we had way too much. We probably had a quarter lost to it."

For the game, Northville had 411 total yards to Central's 359.

Michael Minick led the Mustangs' defense with four solo tackles and four assists, while Chris Patsalis added two solo (including a sack) and four assists. Lee Moore also had one solo and five assists.

But tackling throughout the game was an issue for the Mustangs, who gave up 346 yards on the ground.

"We talk all the time on how little things make the big differences," Ladach said. "In a lot of cases, we were in position and we'd reach instead of running our feet. So we got to do a better job with that."

Meanwhile, Cunningham will certainly get a better night's sleep after catching seven passes for 139 yards. The 9 a.m. start didn't seem to affect his play.

"It was definitely different," the wide receiver said of the 12-hour delay. "Most of the time, we're not even practicing. It's mostly after school, around 2:45 p.m., so it's different."

Meyer, whose team slipped to 1-1 overall, thought the play picked up as the game wore on.

"It's the first time we've had something like that," he said. "I thought both teams handled it really well. I don't think that was a factor in the game."

Again, we shot ourselves in the foot against very good football team. You just can't do it and hope to compete."

took a corner kick that actually bounced inside of the box, but the clear by the Crestwood defender was kept in by Roy Spencer, who fired the ball through the crowd and into the net for the game-winner.

In the third match of the day, Novi downed Troy Athens, 1-0, as Kobakof was taken down in the box and awarded a penalty kick, which he converted halfway through the first half.

"In the second half, our defense stayed very organized as Athens threw a lot of players forward, but could not get the equalizer," Novi coach Brian O'Leary said.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Plaetinck's first place sets tone for Novi harriers

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Junior Joost Plaetinck led the way Saturday as Novi emerged the team champion of the inaugural Ramblin' Rock Invitational boys cross country meet held at Willow Metropark in New Boston.

Novi paced the 10-team field with 33 points. Hartland (58), Livonia Franklin (97), Livonia Churchill (117) and Saline (128) rounded out the top five.

Plaetinck covered the 5,000-meter course in 16 minutes, 8 seconds to match his personal best set last year in the Division 1 regional.

"Joost ran a smart race, pushing the pace from the start," Novi coach Robert Smith. "By the end of two miles, he established a significant lead that proved to be too much for the rest of the field of 90 competitors."

Senior Nathan Hall was fifth in 16:47.

"Nate ran another great race," Smith said.

Meanwhile, sophomore Scott MacPherson (16:51) and senior Cameron Misko (16:57) took sixth and eighth, respectively.

"These guys both had break-out races today," Smith said. "It's awesome that they broke 17 minutes so early in the season. Having four guys running in the 16s in early September is really exciting."

Novi's fifth scorer was junior Adam Ditri, who wound up 13th in 17:10.

"Adam chopped off 39 seconds from his previous race," Smith said. "I'm hoping he joins his teammates in the 16s next week."

In an unusual format, the Ramblin' Rock allowed 10 varsity runners from each team with a chance to score.

Other Novi finishers included John Landy (17th, 17:18); Scott Beaton (19th, 17:33); Casey Croad (20th, 17:43); Sahisnu Malapati (21st, 17:45); and Collin Thomas (24th, 17:49).

"The intent is to help teams establish who their top seven runners are," Smith said.

Mustangs runner-up

Rockford edged Northville, 61-64, to earn the team title at Saturday's Bath Invitational, while Saline (73), Holly (86) and Livonia Stevenson (156) rounded out the top five in the 12-school field.

Saline's Logan Wetzel was the individual winners in 16:00.3.

Junior Conor Naughton paced Northville with a fourth-place finish (16:11.0), followed by senior Jason Ferrante, eighth (16:23.3); senior Nick Noles, 10th (16:29.9); sophomore Ben Cracraft, 16th (career-best 16:41.1); and senior Sam Kremke, 26th (17:15.6).

"Ben had a fantastic race," Northville coach Chris Cronin said. "He has been sharp in practice, so this result should not be a huge surprise. That being said, a 24-second career P.R. is impressive."

Senior Sean Flanagan (30th, 17:25.4); and junior Peter Martin (46th, 17:51.6) rounded out the Northville varsity contingent.

Lake Orion took the team title with 77 points, while Rochester Adams edged CC for third by two points, 85-87.

Smith, a junior, took sixth overall in 16:57, followed by junior Bailey Hopson, 11th (17:17); sophomore Mark Borek, 15th (17:31); junior Avery Felty, 26th (17:54); junior Alex McLaren, 29th (17:58); sophomore Brendon Canavan, 30th (18:02); and junior Matthew Fosdick, 49th (18:31).

"We ran well," CC coach Tony Magni said. "Of the seven guys we had there, only three had ever run varsity before.

Smith, Feltz and Hopson have been varsity the last couple of years, but Borek, Canavan, McClaren and Fosdick had never run varsity before, plus two of them are sophomores. We don't have a senior in our 20. They're all sophomores and juniors."

On Monday, CC defeated University of Detroit-Jesuit in a Catholic League Central Division dual meet at Kensington, 15-40, as Smith and Felty both ran 17:28, followed by Hopson (17:29), Canavan (17:29) and Borek (17:44).

Northville girls claim first at Bath Invitational

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Northville placed three in the top 10 to capture the Division 1 title at Saturday's Brett Clement Bath Invitational girls cross country meet.

The Mustangs, defending MHSAA Division 1 state champions, finished first in the 11-team field with 55 points. Saline (78), Traverse City Central (82), Rockford (104) and Hudsonville (154) rounded out the top five.

Sophomore Cayla Eckenroth and junior Lexa Barrott took second and third, respectively, to lead Northville, posting 5,000-meter times of 18:32.3 and 18:32.9, respectively.

Junior Emma Hermann also earned a top 10 finish in eighth (19:18.3), while sophomore Emma Smith, 18th (20:02.5); sophomore Taylor Gattoni, 24th (20:14.4); and junior Hailey Harris, 27th (20:28) also earned a medal by placing in the top 30. Sophomore Helena Bryans added a 39th (21:20).

"It was a great overall meet for us for our first big competition of the year, with the Michigan State Invitational this Friday," Northville coach Nancy

NANCY SMITH

The Northville varsity girls cross country team picked up another team title Saturday at the Bath Invitational.

Smith said. "The girls ran great for early in the season against some of the best in the state."

Hudsonville's Kelli Jackson was the individual winner in 18:18.9, followed by Eckenroth and Barrott.

"Cayla and Lexa ran together and pushed each other the entire race," Smith said. "This is a huge confidence builder for the team and showed them that we are a talented and strong team again this year. Gattoni ran a career P.R. by 50 seconds from last year."

Novi girls fourth

Senior Hannah Lonergan earned a top 10 finish Saturday as the Novi girls placed fourth in the team standings at the Ramblin' Rock Invitational held at Willow Metropark in New Boston.

Brighton edged host Salem for the team title, 40-45. Livonia Churchill (84), Novi (118) and Livonia Franklin (142) rounded out the top five in the 12-team field.

Salem's Lauren Arquette was the individual winner in 19:07, while Lonergan finished eighth for the Wildcats in 20:13.

Other Novi finishers included sophomore Hadley Peterson, 12th (20:29); sophomore Jacalyn Schubring, 20th (20:52); sophomore Jessica Lypka, 35th (21:43); and freshman Kacy Shaheen, 48th (22:17).

Sophomore Heather Blair and freshman Addison Lentz finished 58th and 59th, respectively, both in 22:50.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Northville Colts sweep three from Walled Lake Braves

Paced by the varsity's 27-0 victory, the host Northville Colts swept all three of their Western Lakes Junior Football League games Saturday at Tom Holzer Field.

Robert Johnson scored on touchdown runs of 20 and 50 yards, while Ryan Silberg caught another first-quar-er TD pass as the Colts varsity jumped out to an 18-0 advantage.

The Colts, now 2-0 in the WLJFL's North Division, added two more scores in the final quarter as Josh Porter booted a field goal, while Mick Farrell hauled in a TD pass from Jake Khoury.

Defensively, Khoury and Brian Tijan each recorded two sacks, while Jeffrey Varner had one.

Alex VanNocker recovered a fumble in the second quarter, while Ben Shuart added another fumble recovery in the third.

The loss dropped the Braves to 0-2 in the North Division.

COLTS 36, BRAVES 18 (JV): Nick Lauderback rushed for 150 yards and two TDs, while Jake Willerer added 85 with a score as Northville (2-0) downed Walled Lake (0-2).

The Colts led 16-0 after one quarter on Willerer's 58-yard TD run, followed by Lauderback's 81-yard jaunt. Willerer also converted both two-point kicks.

Lauderback also added a 1-yard TD run in the second quarter, while Brett Rankin scored on a 38-yard TD run in the third. Brett Rudolph completed the scoring with a 10-yard TD run in the final quarter. Kellen Gonda, Jordan Morgan and Ladach each recorded four tackles apiece to lead the Colts' defense. Jaelin Buge had 140 yards rushing and two TDs for the Braves. Carson Barringer also added a 31-yard TD run, while Robert Bethel paced the defense with five tackles.

COLTS 20, BRAVES 7 (FRESHMAN): Santino Petrola tallied a pair of fourth-quarter TDs on Saturday as Northville (1-1) defeated Walled Lake (0-2).

Cole McGowan and Jack Davis each added a one-point conversion run in the final quarter.

The Colts trailed 7-0 at halftime before getting within one, 7-6, on Massimo Porco's TD run. Also rushing for first downs were Dominic Bernadelli, Jack Davis and Hunter Ladach.

Dominic Polifrone and Matthew McLaughlin each recovered fumbles, while Jake Matigan, Jackson Pierson and Mason Stewart also stood out with their tackling on defense.

Novi Bobcats get best of Northville Stallions in sweep

The Novi Bobcats varsity won the turnover battle Sunday in a 14-12 Western Lakes Junior Football League victory over the host Northville Stallions in a North Division game at Tom Holzer Field.

The Bobcats are now 2-0 in the division, while the Stallions fall to 1-1.

Bobcats safety Troy Aikins recovered a pair of fumbles in the first quarter, including a return for a touchdown for a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter, the Stallions' Blake Nowicki intercepted a Bobcats pass and Enzo Rodriguez scored on a 55-yard TD run to even the count at 6-6. Xavier Felton then intercepted a pass and returned it 25 yards for a score to make it 14-6 at halftime (following the two-point kick).

Aikins returned the second-half kickoff all the way down to the Stallions' 3, but was denied a scored after being stripped by Rodriguez, resulting in a touchback.

In the final quarter, the Stallions pulled off a 27-yard double pass when Michael Williams pitched the ball to Rodriguez, who passed it to Nowicki. And with 1:30 left, the Stallions' Matthew Esqueda scored on a 1-yard run, but the Bobcats held on and the Stallions were unable to convert the two-pointer.

BOBCATS 8, STALLIONS 6 (JV): Ethan Cooper, who rushed for 75 yards on eight carries, raced 45 yards for the go-ahead TD in the final quarter to give the Bobcats (1-1) a win over the Stallions (1-1).

Key blocks by Evan Oegema, Jake Giddings and Gavin Parenti helped spring Cooper for the score, but the Stallions' Jayson Saad blocked the two-point kick attempt.

After a scoreless first half, the Stallions took a 6-0 lead when Krickoffer Stojanovski returned the second-half kickoff 75 yards for a TD, but the Bobcats' defensive front, led by David Barry, Jacob Brown and Malik McGhee, stopped the conversion attempt.

The Bobcats then got a two-point safety with only three minutes left as Aiden Shires and Jack Beno combined on the tackle in the end zone.

Trailing 8-6, the Stallions fumbled on their final possession, which was caused by Terry Newsome and recovered by Ben Dobos.

Defensive leaders for the Bobcats included Jacob Randall (seven tackles and a blocked punt) and Newsome (six tackles).

The Stallions' Johnny Metrusias also recovered a second-quarter fumble.

BOBCATS 26, STALLIONS 13 (FRESHMAN): In a rematch of last year's WLJFL Super Bowl, the Bobcats (2-0) got four touchdowns from four different players in a victory over the Stallions (1-1).

Scoring TD runs for the Bobcats included Bacari Scott, 18 yards (first quarter); Calvin Taulbee, 32 yards (second quarter); Cole Shires, 27 yards (third quarter); and Niko Krall, 10 yards (fourth quarter).

The Stallions scored all 13 of their points in the final quarter as quarterback Luca Prior, who passed for 96 yards on the day, hit Max Anderson on a 55-yard TD pass, followed by a 12-yard TD toss to Caden Besco. (Owen Ross also added a one-point conversion.)

Tackle leaders for the Bobcats included Niko Hertrich, Krall, Taulbee and Scott, who also had an interception.

Defensively, Grady Zoroya paced the Stallions with four tackles. He also had a 62-yard run.

GIRLS SWIMMING

Novi swimmers best in all classes

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

It was a total team effort Saturday as the host Novi girls swim team captured the second annual Best in Class Invitational in a tri-meet against Canton and Okemos.

The meet featured team scoring for each grade as coach Annette VanderMey's squad took all four divisions.

In the senior division, the Wildcats scored 95 points, followed by Canton and Okemos with 75 and 66, respectively.

Individual senior winners for Novi included Lindsey Vaughan in the 200-yard freestyle (2:14.54) and 100 backstroke (1:12.69) and Alysa Stark in the 1-meter diving (150.05 points).

The Wildcats' junior class scored 95 to take first, followed by Okemos and Canton with 79 and 73, respectively.

Novi's Dana Kilponen, Reanna Lotrey, Ava Bianchi, Maria Elkin and Alexandra Cortez hold their junior team championship trophy.

Among Novi's first-place juniors were Alexandra Cortez, 200 freestyle (2:02.8) and 100 butterfly (1:03.7); Ava Bianchi, 50 freestyle (25.85) and 100 freestyle (58.7); and Dana Kilponen, 100 backstroke (1:09.26).

Novi's sophomores scored a meet-high 108, followed by Okemos (95) and Canton (61), led by Mallory Mortlock, who captured the 200 and 500 freestyles in 2:09.68 and 5:41.12, respectively. Emily Mayoras also added a first in the 100 backstroke (1:04.41). The Novi freshmen scored 98, with Canton and Okemos scoring 66 and 57, respectively. Freshman first-place finishers for the Wildcats included Hanna Dong in the 100 freestyle (1:01.74) and 100 backstroke (1:09.82); Linda Wei, 50 freestyle (29.09); Samantha Kasanic, 100 butterfly (1:10.21); and Linda Ying, 100 breaststroke (1:16.46). Novi also captured all three relays events, which required a swimmer from each class. Mayoras, Ying, Cortez and Vaughan combined for a first in the 200 medley (2:00.92), while sophomore Idalia Moore, Ying, senior Zoe Psiakis and Bianchi took the 200 freestyle (1:52.78). Cortez, Dong, Mayoras and senior Alexa Mussio added another first in the 400 freestyle relay (4:00.66).

BOYS TENNIS

Novi nets another quad meet crown

Wildcats sweep all 12 singles matches

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

The Novi boys tennis team, led by a clean sweep of all 12 singles matches, earned a quad meet title at home Saturday.

The Wildcats, last year's MHSAA Division 1 state runner-up, scored 21 points, followed by Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, which finished fourth in last year's Division 3 finals, with 17.

Grosse Pointe South placed third with nine, while West Bloomfield scored one point to finish fourth.

Novi's singles contingent of senior Tim Wang (No. 1), last year's Division 1 singles champion; junior Koushik Kondapi (No. 2); freshman Alex Wen (No. 3) and senior Andre Liu (No. 4) each won in straight sets.

Wang allowed just eight games in three matches, while Kondapi yielded just one. Wen and Liu were equally impressive, giving up just seven and three games, respectively.

In doubles, Novi captured two titles as senior Ryan Fernandes and sophomore Aaskash Ray combined to win at No. 3, while juniors Sai Gotur and Abhishek Subash teamed up for a win at No. 4.

Fernandes and Ray needed three sets to subdue the duo from Cranbrook, 6-4, 5-7 (5-7), 11-9 (super-breaker), as did Gotur and Abhishek against the Cranes tandem, 6-4, 3-6 (10-6 super-breaker).

Novi's No. 1 doubles team of junior Maxx Anderson and sophomore Daniel Yu went 2-1, with their only setback coming in three sets against Cranbrook, 1-6, 7-6 (8-6), 10-3 (super-breaker).

The Wildcats' freshman duo of Robert Chen and Aditya Chitta posted a victory against West Bloomfield, 6-2, 6-2, before falling in straight sets against Grosse Pointe South and Cranbrook.

PREP VOLLEYBALL

Seaholm spikers capture Novi Invitational title

Birmingham Seaholm came away the victor, beating New Boston Huron in Saturday's championship final of 12-team Novi Invitational volleyball tournament.

The host Wildcats (11-3-1) reached the semifinals before being ousted by the eventual champion Maples in three sets, 18-25, 25-19, 15-9.

After defeating Rochester Adams, Ida and Livonia Churchill in pool play, Novi downed White Lake Lakeland in the quarterfinals of the elimination bracket, 25-12, 25-15.

Junior Paulina Iacobelli was the Wildcats' offensive leader with 42 total kills on the day. She also added 41 digs. Setter Christina Hudgens finished with 72 assist-to-kills, while Jordan Massab paced the defense with 48 total digs.

Mustangs go 2-2-1

On Saturday, Farmington Hills Mercy ousted Northville in the semifinals of the Saline Invitational, 25-13, 25-23, after the Mustangs downed Blissfield in the quarterfinals, 25-12, 25-17.

In pool play, the Mustangs split with Blissfield (18-25, 25-13), defeated Ann Arbor Pioneer (25-13, 25-15) and fell to Mercy (25-20, 25-17).

Emily Martin led Northville's hitting attack with 42 total kills on the day, while also adding 16 digs.

Other leaders for the Mustangs included Mackenna Strunk (19 digs, 15 kills, seven aces); Kiera Borthwick (27 digs, 43 good passes); Rachel Holmes (43 assists, 11 digs); Emily Hogan (35 assists); and Katie O'Malley (15 kills).

"Our young team gained priceless experience this weekend," said Northville coach Amanda Yaklin, whose team stands 6-4-1 overall. "Each set, from beginning to end, improved along the way. I was proud of their attitude and effort. We will go back to work in practice."

Henry said she averages a modest 200 yards off the tee.

"The course sets up good for me because of my length. I'm not very long," the senior added.

Katelyn also eclipsed her older sister Megan Henry's individual nine-hole school record of 35, which was set in 2010. Megan is currently a senior on the Lake Superior State women's golf team.

"I called her after I got off the course," Katelyn said. "I think she was happy for me, but I think she was a little upset. I don't think she thought I could do it (laughing). It's all good and fun."

Henry, who was playing with the first group, posted her round of 32 just before a rain delay.

"I saw her play a couple of holes, but I didn't know she was shooting that low," Novi coach Deb Harris said. "I saw her play her second hole, which she bogeyed. And then I saw her play the seventh hole, which she parred. That was about it. I only saw her play two holes, a shot here and there, and that was it."

Meanwhile, the second group had nearly completed the last hole, while the third group had just teed off on the last hole before the storm rolled through.

"So, of course, they were all adding up their scores, figuring out what they needed to shoot with those last two groups in order to break the record," Harris said. "It was kind of exciting for them to put some pressure on them. They were excited."

Freshman Abby Livingston and senior Claire Kalina contributed scores 41 and 44, respectively, for the Wildcats.

Katelyn Henry, who belongs to Walnut Creek, played this summer in the club championship. She also stayed sharp playing Livingston County junior tour events.

She is undecided on where she'd like to go to college or how golf fits into the equation. "I'm up in the air," Katelyn said. "I don't know where. If it's the right school ... I'm thinking about it (golf) more and more."

Also honored as the GMAR Realtor Active in Politics is Teri Spiro.

Patterson has been in the real estate business since 1996 and obtained his associate broker license in 1999. He is the immediate past president of GMAR and has been a GMAR director for the past six years. In that time, Patterson has served on numerous committees and councils and has been instrumental in developing association policy and advocating for education.

He has earned 11 designations that he considers vital to providing outstanding client satisfaction. He has been vice president and general manager of RE/MAX Classic for eight years, where he has developed and implemented a new agent training program. Patterson's knowledge and abilities have a wide-reaching effect as he is involved with the operation of four different offices in the Detroit area that encompass 140 agents.

Patterson had this to say about winning, “It was a shock. It is truly a great thing to have been nominated and then to have won along with all the people who have been before me and all the people who will be after me. It's a great honor, really.”

He has been involved with the Canton Chamber of Commerce for his entire 18 years as a Realtor and served on the Board of Directors from 2003 to 2010 and as chair in 2005 and 2006. When asked about his commitment to his community, he explained, “I live in the community, I want to be a part of the community, and I did have something that was of use to them. So, I became very active, very quickly.”

Patterson is also a member of the Canton Downtown Development Authority and a board member of the Partnership for the Arts and Humanities where his real estate expertise proved helpful in the securing of a historic 14-acre parcel that was formerly a Ford plant.

The Realtor Active in Politics award is presented to a Realtor who has encouraged, educated, identified and recruited individuals by contribution, investment and efforts in all levels of the governmental and political arenas.

Teri Spiro served on the former Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors from 1998 to 2002 and as president in 2001. She has made contributions to the Realtor Political Action Committee. She is with Coldwell Banker Weir Manuel.

RPAC aids in advocacy for the real estate profession by supporting legislators on real estate related issues. Spiro is ranked within the President's Circle of Golden R major investors and is in the RPAC Hall of Fame, meaning she has invested more than $25,000 to RPAC in her lifetime. She has served 20 years on the local RPAC committee, 10 years on the State RPAC Committee, chair for 2008, and 10 years on the State Public Policy Committee, chair for 2006.

She was a Michigan Realtors director in 2005 and 2006. For four years, Spiro has been a federal political coordinator to Congressman Sander Levin.

After being asked how she felt about receiving this award, Spiro stated, “I am happy and honored; there are several politically active Realtors in our association!”

For over 25 years, Spiro has been actively working on political campaigns. “As long as I can remember, I've been fascinated by the political arena. Supporting candidates and policies that are good for home ownership and mortgage policies is crucial to our industry, and the economy.”

She has organized fundraisers, coordinated door-to-door visits and hosted numerous meet and greets. Spiro has co-hosted events with national figures such as Elaine Chao, John McCain and Rudy Guiliani.

Caution called for on reverse mortgages

Q: I am advised by my banker that the Federal Housing Administration has imposed more stringent requirements on reverse mortgages, making them more difficult. Do you have any comments?

A: As the name suggests, a reverse mortgage is the opposite of a traditional home loan. With the reverse mortgage, you get cash instead of making payments to the lender. You can get a lump sum, a line of credit, or regular monthly income. The amount you borrow will be secured by your home so reverse mortgages are for homeowners with little or no debt on their home. Most reverse mortgages are Home Equity Conversion Mortgages which are offered by private lenders and insured by FHA, but borrowers must be at least 62 years of age. However, a reverse mortgage borrower still owns the home, which means they continue to have ownership responsibility. Reverse mortgages can be complicated and they require various fees and are only good for those who want to stay in their home as opposed to the flexibility of moving someplace else and are, of course, seniors.

Q: An attorney friend told me that some of these developers who sell new condos have entered into confidentiality agreements. Can you elaborate on what he meant by that?

A: I presume what he meant by that is that developers have been sued by condo associations for construction defects and deficiencies and financial irregularities. When a settlement is reached, the parent developer as well as the single entity LLC that probably developed the condominium project want a release from the association of any and all claims and want the terms of the settlement kept confidential even from the co-owners. I think that is improper, because purchasers of condos from these developers working through single entity LLCs will never know about the quality of construction that has occurred, particularly, when the same units are constructed in a new project. You are best advised to consult with an attorney who has knowledge of the litigation history of most developers in the metropolitan Detroit area.

10 Reasons the Buick-GMC Juggernaut Will Keep On Cruising

By Dale Buss

The feel-good automotive story of the year is emerging from the unlikelyst of brands at the unlikelyst of companies. Buick and GMC are keeping head above water and providing the only solid performances as the company endures an annus horribilis over the recall fiasco.

Buick and GMC continued to lead the company's sales charts through August, each posting increases of about 8 percent for the year to date while Chevrolet sales rose by just 2 percent and Cadillac sales eased by 5 percent.

"We've got a wonderful convergence of elements right now, all working together — and hence, our sales gains," Tony DiSalle, marketing vice president for Buick and GMC, told me.

Here are 10 reasons Buick and GMC continue to accelerate:

Great and timely products: While Cadillac has gotten attention for the 2013 North American Car of the Year, the ATS sedan, Buick arguably has more effectively overhauled its entire product line over the last few years, beginning with the Enclave SUV that was launched for the 2008 model year. Most recently, Buick has scored a direct hit with its new Encore compact SUV, a very timely entry in one of the industry's hottest segments. Encore sales through August were up 65 percent over its launch year.

Meanwhile, GMC has been playing a role in this regard as well, most notably with the new 2015 version of its Yukon large SUV, whose sales were up by 59 percent over 2013 sales of the old version. A new version of the GMC Sierra pickup truck has raised sales by 7 percent over those of the earlier version a year ago.

Bulls-eye advertising: The Buick ad campaign that launched earlier this year and expanded this month — in which consumers can't believe the slick vehicles in front of them were actually Buicks — has scored heavily for the brand. "It leverages consumers' misperceptions and reels them in," DiSalle said.

Working backward from the test: Major boosts for the brands have come from a recent spate of significant third-party evaluations of perceived quality levels in which Buick and GMC brands and products have outshone all or nearly all other domestic brands, including annual surveys by J.D. Power & Associates and the American Customer Satisfaction Index. Turns out brand managers have looked intently at how such things are graded and have made great efforts to satisfy those specific measurements.

Savvy dealers: Every automaker now is focusing on customer satisfaction at the dealership as one of the last frontiers for boosting sales and market share. But Buick/GMC dealers have found ways to excel — even faced with the challenge unique within GM of having to "dual" the brands in the same facility. "We have a huge focus on the customer at the dealer level," said Duncan Aldred, GM vice president for Buick and

The 2014 Buick Encore hit a segment sweet spot.

GMC. "The way we're treating our customers is top-drawer."

Passing under the recall radar: Buick and GMC have escaped nearly as much notice as Chevrolet has received in GM's radar mess.

Comfort in their own skin: There was confusion for decades about exactly how GM positioned the Buick brand, first vis-a-vis Oldsmobile and more recently compared with Cadillac. Sometimes GM executives would even insist that Buick was a second true luxury brand like Cadillac. But now brand stewards seem comfortable in Buick's true skin: as a "near-luxury" brand that holds down a vast swath of market real estate for GM and serves as the company's most important portal for moving consumers upscale, especially "conquest" customers.

Very little string-pushing: Buick and GMC are the GM brands that don't have to try to arm-twist consumers to buy electrified vehicles that they don't want.

Connectivity strategy: Buick has a strategy for breaking out of the pack: Soon it will offer high-speed 4G LTE connectivity across its model range, as GM makes this capability available across more of its product line than any other automaker by the end of this year. And Buick will be offering it as a standard feature.

The China factor: GM's design staff in China is increasingly designing Buick vehicles or features that end up in the U.S. market, beginning with the 2010 LaCrosse. The latest: a midsize crossover called Buick Envision that the brand is showing in China.

A promising pipeline: Beyond whether Envision shows up on American shores, Buick's U.S. lineup will add seven new or redesigned models over the next three years. And a beefier Buick lineup will mean only better things for the Buick-GMC juggernaut.

The 2015 GMC Yukon is bringing back the mammoth SUV.

6 job search tips

helping you regain your momentum

By Robert Half

When your job search drags on for weeks and you feel no closer to landing a job than when you first started, it's easy to get discouraged. But even if you aren't getting the callbacks you were hoping for, now is not the time to call it quits. To stay motivated and focused during this frustrating time, use these six job-search strategies to regain and maintain your momentum.

1. Treat the search like a job

Unemployment often leads to an aimless feeling. The lack of a routine is a major reason your motivation may be waning, as it's a constant reminder of your situation. The key is to treat your search like a real job. Wake up at a reasonable hour and get dressed. Create a schedule with set times for phone calls, emails, social networking and job board searches. Make to-do lists and check off each item as you complete it. After you've completed your to-do list for the day, "clock out" and take part in any leisure activities you enjoy.

In other words, conduct yourself as if a boss were looking over your shoulder. Stay focused on your daily tasks and avoid playing a quick game of Solitaire or Candy Crush when you're supposed to be working. Little indulgences may seem like some of the few perks of unemployment, but they can lead to listlessness and a dip in job-search momentum.

2. Put yourself out there

As important as it is for you to be connected online, you also need to make sure you're occasionally leaving the house. Not only will this help you get out of a rut, but it can also help make you more marketable. Sign up for a class or go to job fairs, workshops, conferences and seminars, where you can meet people and brush up on your skills. Join professional associations and attend their meetings, where you can learn about trends in your field. Volunteer your time and skills with a worthwhile organization, where you can work on your soft skills like written and verbal communications. All of these things will deepen your network and help you find the right job.

3. Be proactive

Don't wait for opportunity to knock. Instead, take the initiative and knock on opportunity's door. In other words, even if the companies you're interested in don't list any current job openings, contact them anyway and express your desire to work there. This extra effort demonstrates enthusiasm and initiative, and hiring managers may take notice.

4. Track your progress

When you start to feel like you're going nowhere, take some time to create a method to track the efforts you've made. Write up a list of realistic short- and long-term goals with regard to your job search, and work toward them every day. For example, decide how many applications you'd like to send out this week, or this month. Set a goal for the number of networking events you're going to attend, and for the number of new people you're going to talk to about your search. Then keep track as you move toward the goal. That way, you'll have a tangible way to prove to yourself that you've made progress, something that can help keep you motivated as you continue to look for a job.

5. Consider other work options

A full-time job with a check direct-deposited to your account is not the only type of work out there. You can also expand your search to include part-time and contract work or set yourself up as a consultant or freelancer. Maybe you can barter your skills in exchange for goods and services.

Signing up with a staffing agency for temporary or project-based gigs can also be a productive approach. It can bring in extra income while you're looking for full-time work. Even better, some part-time or temporary gigs can turn into full-time jobs or long-term contracts. Even if they don't, though, they'll still allow you to make valuable contacts that will help you in your job search.

6. Relax, recharge, revive

Allowing a job search to take over your life is a sure way to burn out. Give yourself permission to take a break from the search at night and on weekends. When you make a point to relax and recharge for a few hours at the end of the work day, you'll be able to start fresh the next day. A change of scenery and new experiences may give you a new perspective on your search and even your career.

The key to finding employment is to keep at it. Don't let a lull discourage you to the point of giving up. By following these job-search tips and persevering, you'll greatly increase your chances of finding full-time work that is satisfying and rewarding.
